

CONVENTION

Delegates In Demo Action

Mitchell County's delegation was prominent in 24th Senatorial District action at the State Democratic Convention in San Antonio, Monday through Wednesday.

The local delegates, named by Governor Price Daniel and conservation coalition fused in the Precinct 1 convention here in July, joined with the Daniel - conservative control at the state convention.

Charles C. Thompson, banker and lawyer, chairmaned the Mitchell County delegation. Other delegates were Mrs. Thompson, Frank Kelley, Mrs. James E. Payne, Dr. and Mrs. H. Jene Steakley.

Kelley was named to the convention's credentials committee on nomination from a 24th District caucus.

Chairman for the 24th delegates was Ed Connolly of Abilene, state executive committee member elected Texas Democratic vice chairman at the convention.

In addition to Kelley, the 24th District delegation named the following to convention posts: J. Carter King of Albany, vice chairman of the district delegation; Senator David Ratliff of Stamford, committee on permanent organization; Mark McLaughlin of Snyder, committee to nominate party officers; French Robertson of Abilene, platform and resolutions committee; Leo Acker of Post, canvass committee.

Re-elected State Democratic Chairman at the convention was Jim Lindsey of Texarkana. Mrs. Max Brooks of Austin was renamed vice chairman.

Liberals demonstrated on the floor at the convention's final hour and charged Governor Daniel of "renegeing" on a convention agreement when Daniel forces did not honor two executive committee members nominated in Senate district caucuses.

Scouters at Lake Camp Dedication

$6,600 COST OVER 2 YEARS

New Uniforms Approved For Two School Bands

New uniforms for Colorado High and Junior High bands are upcoming.

School trustees Monday night authorized purchase of the uniforms by unanimous vote.

Cost will be spread over a two-year period and will amount to approximately $6,600.

Here's the way the purchase deal will work:

Approximately 53 new uniforms (complete) will be ordered for Colorado High Band, providing new attire for the band's present personnel by January.

Twenty additional High School uniforms will be bought next school year.

Pants now worn by the High School band will be augmented by additional purchases for approximately 90 Junior High band members, now without any type uniform.

The Junior High uniform will be completed with corduroy shirts and cummerbunds.

Band Directors Dwight Tomb and Warren Thaxton, Supt. Frank Wilson and school board members have been studying the possibility of uniforms for the two bands since last spring.

The decision to purchase new High School uniforms and then utilize part of the present uniforms for attiring Junior High bandmen came after first studying a proposal for purchasing only new uniforms for Junior High.

However, cost of 90 complete uniforms for Junior High alone was estimated at approximately $6,300 — just $300 under the cost of 73 new High School uniforms, plus the pant-shirt-cummerbund uniforms for Junior High purchased over a two-year period.

Board members were told the new High School uniforms should be designed and made to last seven to 10 years.

Dr. Oscar Rhode, chairman of the board, named Willie Landau, men's store owner and member of the board, as a special representative of the board to assist the band directors and superintendent in purchase of the new uniforms.

Board members, before voting for the uniform purchase, said the question resolved itself down to whether it was best to change High School uniforms now and utilize at least part of the old attire for Junior High, trimming the total cost.

Or, purchase Junior High uniforms now and wait until later to change High School uniform.

In other business Monday night, the school board:

Named County School Supt. Roy Davis Coles as auditor for the Colorado Independent School District. Coles will be paid a sum of not more than $500 to make the district audit before December deadline in compliance with new state law and to set up new accounting system for the district.

Hired Mrs. Mike Burt, wife of Magnolia Petroleum Company land office employee, as a teacher in first grade at Primary School.

Hired Phillip Conaway, local resident, as physics and chemistry teacher in Colorado High.

Authorized the superintendent to go ahead with expanded testing program — achievement, maturity and vocational tests — for Colorado High seniors. Major portion of the cost will be by $100 gift from Congressman George Mahon, who is donating the $100 for the advancement of all seniors instead of placing it for an individual scholarship award.

Merchants were being contacted here Thursday for merchandise display and show card lettering courses beginning here Sept. 29.

The courses, sponsored by Chamber of Commerce merchants committee, will be taught by University of Texas.

He arrived here Wednesday to make preparation for the courses that will be taught four nights a week over a two-week period.

The courses are being sponsored here by the Chamber of Commerce for merchants and their employees.

AGRI-BUSINESS

Area Conference Again Set Here

This West Texas area's second annual Agricultural Business Conference is scheduled for Colorado City late in February.

Plans for the conference were initiated here Tuesday morning at a parley of local Chamber of Commerce members and representatives of Texas & Pacific Railroad and West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Colorado City was the scene of this area's 1958 conference, first of its kind, jointly sponsored by the local chamber, WTCC and T&P.

Decision to schedule the 1959 area conference here was due to the fact that the Colorado City program was the best attended of three such conferences last February in West Texas.

In the planning session here

Late Fall Pre-Yule Feature

Chamber of Commerce is planning a retail trade promotion for late fall and pre-Christmas seasons with hundreds of dollars in free merchandise bonuses for Colorado.

At the same time, the committee authorized distribution of special identification blanks to local firms as an aid in identification of bad check writers.

The new shopping promotion will feature special coupons which will be redeemable for cash purchases in local stores.

COMMITTEE members decided upon the coupon bonus plan after studying several proposed trade programs and compiling suggestions obtained from a special Chamber of Commerce questionnaire mailed in August to local firms.

Questionnaires were mailed to more than 100 Colorado City firms, requesting those businesses to designate their choice of programs outlined in the questionnaire or list new proposals.

The merchants committee named a sub-committee of Bob Ridley, J. C. Penney manager; Willie Landau, Landau's Men Store; Walter Rogers, Western Auto Associate Store; Roy Fox, Colorado City Record co-publisher, and Ernie Larmer, Chamber of Commerce manager, to work out full details for the coupon-bonus program.

Sub-committee report is scheduled within the next two weeks. The shopping program will be presented to all merchants after the report and final action by the merchants committee.

THE BONUS program is proposed for approximately eight weeks in November and December as a special attraction during late fall and Christmas shopping season.

Shoppers, if the bonus plan is carried out, will not be required to purchase anything or even register. Bonus coupons — redeemable in merchandise at local stores — will be provided free in a unique manner, though, to shoppers visiting local firms.

The bonus plan is being proposed to replace the cash and card days program sponsored by Chamber of Commerce and local merchants in 1956 and 1957.

IDENTIFICATION blanks the merchants committee will distribute to local firms are recommended by Texas Department of Public Safety as an aid in tracing passers of bad checks.

Sherrif R. E. (Dick) Gregory Jr. suggested the blanks. See BONUS, Pg. 7

A breakdown on the membership teams reveals that Toby Dearen's team is in the lead with 71 members. Runner-up is Bob Rely's team with 46 and third is Toby Womack's crew with 37.

Every year . . . at great expense in time, money and love . . . we turn out another fine crop of young men and women . . . trained and schooled and ready to take their places in the adult world. And every year the big cities get most of them.

It's very generous of us to go to all of this trouble and expense to furnish high grade personnel for city use

Of course, we could use nearly all of them here at home, if we should develop a selfish streak some day. The money we spend out of town every year, if most of it was spent here, would provide many, many more job and business opportunities for our young people.

It would make the grass a good deal greener for most of us older characters, too

"TO MAKE A MOUNTAIN OUT OF A MOLE-HILL"

*Author's Name Below

There once was a man who suffered from indigestion. Everytime he read an ad about how to relieve it, he bought a different patent medicine. He hated radio and television because the announcers reminded him of his stomach-aches. He tried their remedies too, but still suffered.

He worried, because he thought he might have ulcers. One day he said to himself, "I will consult a physician." The physician examined him, prescribed the particular medicine that could help him most, and he got better.

Moral—Wasn't he the foolish one to wait so long before consulting his physician?

The blanks, for firms who want them, will provide for identification of and written records of presenting checks. Name, address, description, occupation and employer, driver license number and auto license number can be filled into the blanks by the firm.

Then, if a check is bad, the store will have a bonafide record and identification that will allow officers to make a thorough tracing of the individual.

FRIDAY IN SAN ANGELO

Wolves Open Season Against San Angelo

Wolves will battle the "big boys" Friday night. Colorado High's 1958 football team makes its first bid against a Class AAAA school Friday when they journey to San Angelo to play the Bobcats in the season opener.

Coach Homer Jefferson's Wolf pack will be a decided underdog against the more experienced Bobcats, who boost 17 returning lettermen and four regulars from the '57 season.

Jefferson and his aides — Bob McMillan and Rondeau Gurley — have attempted to mold a sprinkling of lettermen, squad men and sophomores into a solid grid machine.

Several changes have been made in the starting offensive lineup this week as the game time approaches. Jefferson will place two sophomores and three juniors in the starting eleven with six seniors completing the group. Of the starting eleven, only five are lettermen.

Welter was given the starting quarterback role after his performance in the scrimmage Saturday against the Abilene Junior Varsity. He moved the ball well as the Wolves scored one touchdown to the Abilene team's one TD.

Several changes will be made in the defensive lineup in an effort to stop San Angelo's weird assortment of offensive formations.

In the line, Shoemaker will be shifted to a tackle post and Weaver moved into the center guard slot. Bob Caffey, 182, who has been switched to fullback on offense behind Richardson, will play a defensive end opposite Schoolcraft.

The four linebackers in the 5-4-2 defense will be Lujan, Richardson, Lemons and sophomore Alex Campbell. Halfbacks will be Womack and Welter.

Jefferson reported two boys quit the squad this week with two more joining. Deciding to quit were Danny Fisher and Steve Smith while Truman Stinson and Buddy Compton joined the team. Stinson, a senior, will be counted on at a halfback position.

Lucky Merket, letterman halfback, will miss the San Angelo game and possibly the Ballinger tilt next week due to illness.

Wolves' starting line will average 172 pounds while the backfield tips the scales at an average of 148.

San Angelo's weights will be about the same as the Wolves'.

Heading the Angelo squad is a potential all-state tackle, Emery Martindale, 200. He was a 2AAA All-District selection last year.

Joining Martindale in the line will be lettermen at every position with end David Senter, 160, and tackle Ronnie Cosper, 190, as the other top performers.

The Bobcat backfield featuring small, speedy backs, will probably be Bobby Lowry, 160, at quarterback; Charley Starkey, 155, and Tommy Ford, 160, at halfbacks; Verlin Kelley, 185, or Wedge Turner, 160, at fullback.

Coach Bob Herral's experience team includes 21 seniors 18 juniors and only one sophomore.

The Wolf squad will travel via chartered bus furnished by the Quarterback Club for the 8 p. m. contest.

Temperatures above 125 degrees F. will cause blisters on the skin.

Looking For Bobcats

Kenny Simmons, left, and Raymond Weaver, will start at the tackle positions for Colorado High Wolves Friday night in their grid debut against San Angelo High Bobcats. Simmons, 194, and Weaver, 184, are both two-year lettermen.

FROM HOUSTON TO EL PASO

Ex-Wolves Play At Five Colleges

Seven ex-Colorado City football players will be performing on five different college grid fields this fall.

The list of ex-Wolf stars reveals two players at the University of Texas, two at McMurry College and one each at Texas Western College, Rice Institute and University of Houston.

Two seniors among the bunch are Arlis Parkhurst and J. B. Padgett of University of Texas. Parkhurst, who has earned two varsity letters, is currently running at center on the No. 2 Texas unit. He's 6-2, weighs 210.

Padgett, who has earned one varsity numeral, is 6-1 and 200. He's third man at right guard for the Steers.

The only other senior is Don Flippin, 6-2, 185, an end at McMurry College in Abilene. He's on the second unit for Coach Tommy Ellis.

McMurry also has Richard Compton, 6-0, 175, who was an outstanding quarterback last year for the Wolves. He has been switched from QB to halfback and will probably see plenty of action on the varsity despite being a freshman. He was the only player on the '57 Wolf team to receive a football scholarship.

Both boys were on the 3-AAA All-District team last season.

Snyder also lost two big sophomore linemen in Jimmy Don Robinson and Charles Gladson. Gladson is out with a hip injury for the season and Robinson plans to devote full time to studies.

Mickey McGrey, stocky 210-pound fullback on the Tiger team last season, has been switched to a right guard position to strengthen the Snyder line.

Snyder Loses 2 All-District Grid Players

Snyder High School football team received a setback this week when two of their top linemen quit the team.

They are center Bill Rinehart, 190, and tackle Gene Williamson, 185. One quit to get married and the other just lost interest in the game, according to Snyder sports-writers.

ANNUAL CONTEST

Pick the Winner In Grid Guessing

It's football guessing time again. Record begins its annual grid guess game for this week end's tilt.

First prize is four tickets to the Ballinger vs. Colorado City High game in Ballinger Sept. 19. Second prize is a one year subscription to the Record while third and fourth place winners receive two movie passes each.

Key game, of course, is the Colorado City vs. San Angelo game. List your estimate of the score here and then circle the winning team on the other games.

The top game in the area matches Sweetwater against Breckenridge. It may take a little second guessing to figure the winner there.

The other three games involving District 3-AAA teams all appear evenly matched. That is Lamesa at Midland; Dover at Snyder; Lake View at Kerrville.

Only one college game is on the contest this week. That involves McMurry and Sul Ross, with McMurry probable favored.

Entry blanks should be mailed by 8 p. m. Friday or brought to the Record office by 5 p. m. Friday. Winners will be announced next Thursday.

Ruidoso Downs to Close This Sunday

Ruidoso Downs closes its racing season this weekend with a three-day program.

The Downs passed the $8 million dollar mark in mutual handle last weekend.

Highlighting Friday's races is the "Village of Ruidoso Downs", a 5 1/2 furlong allowance for sprinters.

The longest stakes race of the season is to be contested on Sunday, final day of the season.

Oak St. Nips Buford to Reach Finals

Oak Street Baptist is Church League softball finals while First Methodist and First Baptist were to battle Thursday night for the other position.

Oak Street, defending league champion, won its way into the playoff finals by downing Buford Baptist in two straight games Monday and Tuesday.

Oak Street whipped Buford 5-3 Monday night and then came back Tuesday to whip the Buford crew 5-1 behind the two-hit pitching of Gene Parham.

Lon Crosby won the Monday game for Oak St. with a little relief from Parham in the final frame. Don Williams handled the Buford twirling.

Tuesday night, Bennie Flowers hurled for Buford against Parham.

First Baptist won their game easily against First Methodist, 9-1 Monday night. But Tuesday night, Methodist hurler Bennie Franks held the Baptist to four hits as the Methodist team won 8-6.

In the Tuesday game, First Baptist took a 4-0 lead in the initial frame and increased that lead to 5-0. First Methodist racked up seven runs on four hits. Three of the runs came on a wild pitch by Vinson.

The two teams in the finals will play a five-game series beginning Monday night.

Editorially Speaking

Best Deal In Years For The County

For the most part, the talk in the wake of Mitchell County's tax re-evaluation program has been fair and objective.

Property owners have sought to view the program for what it is intended to be an equalization program on a soundly rated foundation of appraisal.

At the same time, County Commissioners Court has attempted to guide the re-evaluation project with practical, common-sense approach — both while looking over the shoulder of the professional appraisal engineers and in reckoning with bonafide complaints from property owners.

The equalization board hearings last week in Courthouse pointed up the twin responsibility on the part of county officials and property owners. Short tempers were an oddity, not the common approach.

In a program so huge, with more than 13,000 individual property items inspected and catalogued, there has bound to have been some mistakes. And we trust the majority of those were brought to attention and corrected in the good atmosphere of the equalization hearings.

The Record has long believed — and has stated it before — that the county has been in need of a thorough, systematic equalization survey in the interest of fair taxing, equal responsibility and good government.

That's what this 13-month re-evaluation program by Pritchard & Abbott and the Commissioners Court has provided.

It is the best thing in county government for years and years.

Growth Problems

Spiraling enrollment for Colorado City public schools is a good reminder we live and do business in a growing community.

Growth and progress has marked our city even during lean agricultural years when many West Texas communities, not blessed by diversification, were hurt tremendously.

Now, this fall, our public school enrollment is pushing near the 2,000 mark.

It is a record that reflects progress, but it also focuses the fact that our school building problems are not all solved.

Classroom facilities, more and more, are being utilized to the limit here. And Colorado City, like every growing community within the state and nation, may face even a new building program within the next few years.

We should direct our interest to that possibility, not shy away or hide from it.

Adult Suggestions

City Parks and Recreation Director James Poe is attempting to expand the crafts programs this fall at City Recreation Center. For adults, too, not just for children and teenagers.

However, he is in need of suggestions, especially in the field of adult crafts.

The director is asking that adults interested in participating in crafts this fall contact the City Recreation Center, RA 8-2072, and list their suggestions for the types of crafts they desire.

It is a good way to help expand a popular, beneficial community program and, at the same time, make sure it is the kind of program the actual participants like.

PHILOSOPHER HAS

Hard Time With Responsibilities

Editor's note: The Shinnery Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek tries some international thinking this week, but not very successfully.

Dear Editor: I have no idea how it got here. It's hard to explain, like how some men got to Congress or how some women got married, but yesterday morning I was out here on my farm walking around not doing anything when I found a copy of a newspaper caught on a fence post and when I worked my way over to it and opened it up I discovered it was a copy of the London Daily Telegraph.

How a London paper got out here on this Shinnery farm is beyond me. Could have fallen out of an airplane or been dropped out of a car by some tourist, but if you think too hard on some things you get no where, most newspapers aren't made to think about, just to read, so I opened it up and read it, and what appealed to me was an editorial on the United States.

According to it, "the internal stability of the United States is of paramount concern to her allies," and the paper went on to say that "the American people are not yet accustomed to thinking in terms of their world responsibilities." It argued we ought to.

Now I can go along with this British paper's concern with our internal stability, in a financial sort of way, but when it comes to thinking in terms of world responsibility, I don't see how we can swing it.

That is, after a man gets through thinking about his immediate responsibilities, then his city and county responsibilities, then his state and federal responsibilities, he hasn't got over 10 or 15 minutes left for the rest of the world.

I know when I get to thinking, for example, about whether I ought to grow more of this or less of that, I ought to be thinking in terms of world responsibility, but actually what I'm thinking about is which one of 'em can I make the most money out of and how much will that lack in meeting my family responsibilities.

In fact, I could give more attention to my world responsibilities, would be glad to, if I could bring my family around to taking the same viewpoint. But the trouble with this country is that most families think they come first, whereas any world thinker knows English families ought to come first, or Egyptian families, or Indian families or any other kind.

I recognize we've got responsibilities to other parts of the world, but just for once I'd like to find somebody in the other parts who figures he's got some responsibilities toward me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Cotton Programs In New Farm Law

Farm program administrators in Washington this week are trying to solve the farm law puzzle which the 85th Congress tossed into their lap just before leaving town.

The new law calls for changes in programs affecting corn, cotton, rice, oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums. It sets up a whole new set of rules and regulations for growers of those commodities.

Agriculture Department officials have not, so far, been able to make an estimate of how much the new program will cost, or how much it may add to already large surpluses. It may be weeks before an official interpretation of the law is available.

It is, at best, a make-shift program involving many compromises. Congressmen we have talked with do not agree on just what the program is intended to do. They voted for it because they felt it was the best that was proposed.

The new program abandons efforts, after many

HALE-AIKEN PROPOSALS

Education's Expansion Likely Key Issue Before Legislature

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
How best to educate Texas children — and how to pay for it — will be a key issue in the upcoming legislative session.

Problems were spotlighted when the Hale-Aiken Committee made its first report. Included were 12 recommendations for improvement or expansion of public education.

Several proposals reflect the concerns of the times. In an age of mounting traffic death tolls and almost universal availability of high-speed cars to teen-agers, state-supported driver education was urged.

In the face of widespread reports of the superiority of educational systems in other countries, the committee recommended state aid for classes for the "academically gifted." It also proposed increasing the school year from a minimum 175 days to 180 days plus five days for teacher training.

Other proposals were to provide state support for (1) more principals, (2) assistant superintendents in large districts, (3) pre-school teaching of children unable to speak English, (4) larger allowances for maintenance, (5) replacing school buses and paying drivers (6) buses for city children living more than two miles from school, and (7) state and local services.

It also suggested basing teacher-pupil ratios on current attendance rather than figures for the year before and urged the setting aside of TV channels for future educational use.

Final decision on other recommendations was postponed until Sept. 15. These include raising the minimum pay for teachers $595 a year (from $3205 to $3800) and releasing state property taxes to allow for more local district collections.

Hale-Aiken Committee is a 24-member study group of lawmakers and private citizens set up by the last legislature to study public schools and make recommendations to the 1959 session. Grass-roots discussion has been going on for nearly a year in cities and counties over the state. Proposals being made now result from sifting and weighing of hundreds of ideas urged by educators and interested citizens.

Committee members are not blind to the likelihood of stiff legislative resistance to the additional money spending called for by most of the proposals. Cost of the state minimum foundation program for the present school year is estimated at $349,416,000. H-A Committee's "enrichment" suggestions could add from $50,000,000 to $150,000,000 to that figure.

Most lawmakers already are feeling financially gloomy because of a predicted $140,000,000 gap between state revenue and cost of present programs — without any kind of improvement anywhere.

One committee member suggested that, while all the proposals might not be put into effect right away, they could serve as "a pattern for years to come."

WHAT, NOT HOW—Greater emphasis on what to teach, rather than how to teach, will be reflected by this year's college graduates majoring in education.

A law passed in 1955 requires future teachers, beginning with the 1959 grads, "cultural subjects," 20 per cent to have 40 per cent of their credits in subjects they will teach, 40 per cent in "cultural subjects," 20 per cent in education courses.

State Board of Education called attention to this change at its September meeting.

Board also hit a lick in its unrelenting battle against plans to dip into principal of the permanent school fund for current expenses. Its resolution warned of possible "tragic consequences."

Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar was authorized to prepare recommendations for Texas participation in the newly passed federal aid to education program. Texas would be eligible for some $9,000,000 to bolster the training of teachers, scientists, mathematicians and other kindred purposes.

PHOTO FINISH — Race for speaker of the House seems stalemated with likelihood that the winner will not be known until all 150 members convene and vote in an all-exits-barred showdown.

Both Rep. Joe Burckett of Kerrville and incumbent Speaker Waggoner Carr of Lubbock claim a majority. But each says he does not have permission from the signers to show all his pledge cards.

There are rumors that several House members, wanting to be agreeable, pledge support to both candidates, never dreaming the contest would be so close as to bring a "judgment day."

If and when the two candidates sit down together and compared notes there

BIBLE COMMENT

Story of Joseph Is for Parents

Probably the most brilliant short story ever written is the story of Joseph — 10 chapters in the book of Genesis.

It is another episode in the life of Jacob. Here we find an old man, repentant of his sins and trickeries, but having visited upon him in his own large family the sins and deceptions of his own earlier life.

Joseph, the youngest of his 12 children, was Jacob's favorite. Jacob made this feeling all too apparent. It aroused jealousy in Joseph's brethren, resentment against the special favor that his father showed him.

Joseph seems to have been unconscious of their hatred. When Jacob sent him to see how his brothers were faring as they tended to their flocks, he went with no apprehension of danger. The brothers plotted to kill him. It isn't necessary to go into the details of the story here — how they hrew him into a pit and then sold him to the Ishmaelites, killed a goat and dipped Joseph's coat of many colors into its bright blood so they might go back and tell Jacob he had been killed by a wild beast.

The brothers little realized the tragedy they were storing up for themselves or the part they were going to play later when famine came upon the land. Then the brother they sold into slavery would have their very lives and destinies in his hand.

The story shows the foolishness of parents showing special favor to any child, a tragic mistake that allows discord and strife to develop within the family.

FATTER WELFARE CHECKS — An across-the-board increase of $5 per person in checks to the aged, needy, blind and disabled begins Oct. 1.

Gov. Pate Daniel said the increase was made possible by liberalization of the Social Security Act during the last session of Congress.

Under the new formula, maximum monthly checks to the aged will be $65, for the disabled, $63.

LABOR LAW ARENA — Another legislative slugfest, for which ammunition is already being stacked, is foreseen in the area of labor union regulation.

Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, longtime champion of restrictive labor laws, has announced he has some more in mind. He said his proposals were prompted by abuses reported to him by union members. Parkhouse said he would sponsor bills to (1) provide state regulation of union pension funds, (2) prohibit union assessments for political campaigns, (3) require disclosure of union spending and (4) correct practices whereby, according to the senator, union leaders prevent some members from getting work.

Jerry Holleman, State AFL-CIO president, stated that organized labor would welcome state regulation of pension funds. The other proposals, Holleman said, are taken care of under existing law.

WATER WELLS IN REVERSE — State Highway Department will try out a plan of digging wells to put water into the ground, rather than take it out.

Purpose is to drain the "wet weather lakes" which sometimes block highways for days or weeks at a time.

Hometown Appeal For Local Sales

By JOE ED BOATRIGHT
Record Advertising Mgr.

A dealer of imported automobiles has demonstrated what could be done on the local level to supplement national advertising.

The Chicago dealer for Rolls-Royce and Bentley autos invested approximately $2,000 to buy a full page advertisement in a local paper.

At the end of the week an official of the automobile company reported that the single advertisement had sold $100,000 worth of his cars.

He added that "more than likely another $350,000 in sales" would result from the same advertisement.

Of course this is a spectacular example of what can be done with local newspaper advertising. However, it should be a reminder to local dealers in Colorado City or any size city that even the best national advertising does not create maximum sales.

The manufacturers of Rolls-Royce have been publishing some excellent advertising in national media. It has helped to develop interest in the automobile and, no doubt, resulted in a trickling of local sales.

But, as the Chicago dealer proved, a local, more select, more urgent medium was needed to transform interest into action.

A potential customer will "think about" a product almost indefinitely before he makes a purchase. Certain conditions have to be established before his thinking materializes into action. The local newspaper is ideally suited to this task of directing an interested prospect to the point of purchase.

The size of the newspaper page makes it possible to give complete details on any product. Only the local newspaper records information on the local dealer and the conditions of purchase.

The local newspaper, better than any other medium, is able to slant appeals to the special characteristics of a local market.

Only the local newspaper is able to cover the local community completely, selecting all potential prospects, bringing them to Colorado City shops.
