Raging Fire Levels Lyman's Auto Supply

Lyman's Auto Supply burned to the ground Saturday, March 13 in an inferno of roof asphalt, oil and chemical supplies that kept Wellington firemen at work throughout the night in a 25 m.p.h. wind that covered much of Wellington with thick, black smoke.

Firemen received the fire call at 5:26 p.m. Saturday and did not leave the scene until 11:20 a.m. Sunday. Rubble was still smoking and fire chief Danny Gray was still intermittently hosing down the debris Wednesday morning.

The fire apparently began in the roof, Gray said, although no specific cause has been determined. "Locating the fire was our biggest problem," Gray said. "Smoke was so thick that you could see only 3 or 4 feet inside the building. We could feel the heat from above the ceiling in the middle of the building but no flames were visible."

Wellington Volunteer

Firemen donned air masks and entered the building to try to locate the fire, but smoke was so intense that it was impossible for firemen to reach it. Gray said that volunteer Eddie Davis said that at one point he saw the fire in the ceiling while firemen were trying to reach oxygen and acetylene bottles that were stored near the rear of the building.

Twelve to 20 bottles of oxygen and acetylene were stored in the shop.

"Two or three firemen were trying to get the bottles out, but the smoke was too heavy," Gray said.

About 40 minutes after firemen received the fire call, the bottles began to explode and the fire raced through the floor level of the building.

"At one time I thought we might be able to save the building," Gray said, "but when we lost the oxygen bottles that was all we could do."

"If we had had a portable power saw, we might have been able to chop through the roof and

P.E. Starr, Area Leader, Dies Friday

P.E. Starr, church leader, banker, landowner and benefactor to many institutions and individuals, died at his home 1411 Childress Street at 5:30 a.m. Friday, March 12, after a long illness. He was 98 years of age and had lived in Collingsworth County 79 years.

His first home here was at Quail, where he began his farming career. He continued to expand his holdings, later acquiring farms in other parts of the county and adding livestock operations.

Concern for conservation of the land caused him to take a place of leadership in introducing new grasses and crops, and in other ways building and conserving the land. For his outstanding work, he was honored twice, in 1960 and 1961-62.

He liked to recall that his career began with a horse and $100 his father gave him as a wedding present in 1903.

Mr. Starr was a director of Wellington State Bank 38 years, and for many years president of the board, a position he held at the time he retired more than 20

LYMAN'S AUTO FIRE

A blazing fire consumes the building and contents of Lyman's Auto Supply and threatens the neighboring building (center top) Saturday evening. When firemen arrived on the scene, thick black smoke was pouring out of the roof, but flames were not visible, (upper left).

Later the flames broke through the roof (upper right). When oxygen bottles exploded the fire swept through the floor level of the building and lapped out windows (lower left). At the height of the fire, the building's roof and west and south wall collapsed (lower right).

First Golf Team Goes to Tourney

Wellington's first fully organized high school golf team will play in the first round of District 2-AA UIL tournament in Clarendon Monday, March 22, with both boys and girls teams competing.

These have individual Rocket golfers who have competed in the past, but not as a team.

The second round will be played on Thursday, April 1 at Shamrock.

Teddy Martin, golf pro at Wellington Country Club volunteered to work with the golf team. The girls coach is Linda Brewer, boys are coached by Eddie Hankins and Brian Hill.

We have a lot of beginners and they are looking all right for beginners. We are hoping to build a stronger team for the future," declared Martin.

The Rockets have two team members with tournament experience. Heath Ingram who has played on junior division state level, and Brent Long.

One Rockette will be missing from the girls team, Sandi Seale, who had an appendectomy.

In the girls division, Melanie Pendleton will play as a medalist. Team members are Sandi Cobb, DeeAnn Williams, Carla Nunnelle, Shanna Urban and Leesa Hitchcock.

Others who have been working out and who will attend the tournament as spectators are Deanna Hinson, Debbie Hitchcock and Sandi Seale.

In the boys division, Ingram will play as a medalist and also on the team. Other members are Long, Eddie Langford, Darrell Nash and Scott Shepard.

C-C Plans Business Promotion Meeting

A meeting to discuss promotion of local retail business is slated as the first project of Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce under the leadership of the new president, Tommy Hudson. First plans were announced in the directors meeting Monday night, March 15.

Plans are being made, and this will probably be a morning meeting, from 8 to 9 a.m. in the Heritage Room. The date will be selected, but should fall within the next two weeks, Hudson indicated.

The new president has said that promotion of retail business will be pushed throughout the coming year.

All merchants are urged to attend the upcoming meeting and to bring up any ideas they may have or any promotional programs they may be familiar with.

An industrial team is due to be named at the April meeting.

Publication of new brochures to publicize and advertise Collingsworth County is another upcoming project, and Hudson named Charles Darter, Dorothy McGill and Virginia Robey to this committee. They will report the cost of brochures using a large amount of color work and discuss the types of brochures available in the April 12 meeting.

"Think Fair Chairman,"

Hudson urged the directors.

The man or woman to head the 1982 Collingsworth County Fair will be named at the April meeting and then department chairmen will be secured. A business promotional program for Fair Week has been approved, with Bill Hatch as chairman. The Fair is held the first week after Labor Day each year.

Present at the March 15 meeting were Darter, Jean Reynolds, Howard Muddock, Miss Robey, Hudson, Guy Blanchard, Jerry Duncan, Guy Owens, Don Reeves, Walter Clements, Billy Jackson, a guest, and Margaret Vines, chamber secretary.

Tennis Team to Spearman Tourney

Wellington High School boys and girls tennis teams will be represented at the Quana tournament Friday and Saturday, March 19 and 20, coach Ronny Williams announced.

Because the spring break continues through this week and some of the team members are out of town, Williams will not have a full team at Quana.

Among the other schools participating will be Seymour, Electra, Memphis, Paducah and Childress.

Wellington players met both Childress and Quana in a triangular meet last week, emerging with first place honors.

Next week, Friday and Saturday, March 26 and 27, the team will enter the Spearman Tennis Tournament. Among the other teams competing there will be Gruver, Panhandle, Canadian, Sunray, Pampa junior varsity, Borger junior varsity and Dalhart.

years ago. He was the last survivor of a group of men who, by will power and hard work, were responsible for the bank's growth during early difficult years, including the depression of the 1930s, when Mr. Starr assumed even greater responsibilities.

Although he was successful in many activities, Mr. Starr's greatest love was for his church, the Church of Christ. He taught an adult Sunday School Class many years. Over a long period of time, if he was traveling on Sunday, he stopped at 11 a.m. in whichever town he might find himself, to attend church services.

He was a donor of many gifts to Westview Boys Home and to Abilene Christian University.

Mr. Starr was a member of the Masonic Lodge for more than 60 years, first at Quail and then at Wellington. He was worshipful master a number of times and held several offices in the Grand Lodge of Texas. He was a past patron of the Order of Eastern Star.

Moreover, he was a benefactor to many individuals in Collingsworth County. Some he helped to get a start in life, others were young people whom he assisted through college, regardless of ethnic origin, or whom he aided through a difficult period in life. Only those closest to him were aware of the extent of these gifts.

Paul Eubank Star was born August 31, 1883, in Morgan County, Ga., the son of James Penn Starr and Emaline Whittier Starr. He came with his family to Vernon as a small child, and to Quail in 1903.

He was married to Annie Lee White of that community Dec. 17, 1903 at Quail. They moved into Wellington in 1916, and she died Sept. 10, 1935.

He married Mrs. Eva Davis of Shamrock at Childress January 16, 1946.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday, March 14, at 3 p.m. in the Church of Christ, with Gaylord Cook of Spearman, and Garell Forehand, minister, officiating.

Burial was in Memorial Gardens under the direction of Guy Owens Funeral Home.

Pall bearers were Paul Fielding, Melvin Seale, Aubrey Spear, John Coffee, Alvin Horton, Elmer Hiett, John Hodge of Erick, Ok., and Dr. Jean Wilson of Dallas.

Surviving Mr. Starr are his wife; one daughter, Mrs. Ola B. Hunter; two step-daughters, Mrs. Virginia Allen of Canyon and Mrs. Johnnie Wiles Collins of Denver, Colo.; one step-son, Tom C. Davis of Colorado Springs; 11 grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren and one great grandchild.

He was preceded in death by one son, John Herman Starr; and two daughters, Mrs. Pauline Small and Mary Alice Starr.

He was the last survivor of 14 brothers and sisters.

control the fire," Gray said. "But all we had was axes and the tar on the roof was several inches thick and we couldn't chop through it. We had to pull our men off the building when we began to think the roof might collapse."

After the tanks exploded and fire covered the building, the roof did collapse along with the south and west walls of the building.

Firemen later pushed in the remaining walls to keep them from falling into the street.

In addition to the tanks, the parts house and shop contained motor oil cans, batteries and battery acid, aerosol paint cans, ether cans, pressurized freon cans, gasoline additives, diesel fuel conditioner, brake fluids and naphtha parts cleaning solution, all of which contributed to the blaze.

The small cans exploded throughout the night, some shooting high in the air.

"The building had a lot of insulation and that kept the fire in the roof for a long time," Gray said.

Owner Lyman Daniel said he and customer Kevin Needham left the store just before 5 p.m. and neither smelled any smoke at the time. Daniel said he had been home about 30 minutes when Tammie Hernandez called him from City Grocery and told him that his store was on fire.

"The firemen really did a good job," Daniel said. "They did everything they could and they worked some long, hard hours. The Volunteer Ambulance crew stood by to assist and hospital chief of staff Dr. K.N. Kumar alerted the hospital in case there were any injuries. Danny Gray cut his hand and Bob Barton got a bump on the head. We really appreciate everyone who helped in so many ways."

Eighteen Wellington Volunteer Firemen worked the fire with all Wellington units, including two pumpers, the country rig and van. Shamrock and Memphis volunteer firemen also responded to the call with 10 firemen and a pumper truck each and both stayed about 3 hours at the fire.

Firemen stayed at the location Monday because high winds continued to whip smoke from the smoldering roof asphalt.

A West Texas Utilities power pole adjacent to the building caught fire and WTU killed its 138,000 Kv transmission line at the top of the pole, then later killed its 7200 Kv distribution line that was hung on a lower crossbar. After the lines were killed firemen began to spray the pole with water and put it out before the lines could go down.

"We kept the lower distribution line on as long as possible because it's the line that feeds the city water well pumps and we had four pumper trucks pulling water out fast," WTU manager Tommy Hudson said.

But fire chief Danny Gray had a word of warning to onlookers: "This is just an example of why onlookers should stay away from a fire. If a line had fallen on a water hose, electricity could have traveled down the hose and through the trucks and electrocuted everyone within 3 or 4 feet of the hoses. There could have been several deaths."

"I also want to emphasize that it is against the law for a person to drive over a fire hose," Gray said. "Several people drove over our fire hoses during the fire. They not only endangered firemen but they also endangered themselves—a loose hose under pressure can be very dangerous. In the future drivers will be ticketed and fined for driving over a fire house."

"I do want to thank the Sheriff's Dept. for their efforts in controlling the crowd," Gray said. "They did a good job of keeping people away from most of the scene."

Firemen had to spray down the roof of the old Oldsmobile building now occupied by Benny's Used Cars several times to prevent it from catching fire. A northeast wind blew the flames across the street and toward that building.

Insurance company fire investigators were on the scene Wednesday trying to determine the cause of the fire.

1928 Tornado Pinpoints Location for Salesman

John Carter Goldsborough, 77-year-old retired salesman now of Charlotte, N.C. who was trying to learn which town he had stopped in one afternoon more than 50 years ago when it was struck by a tornado, now has his answer.

It was Wellington.

He thought it could have been Wheeler.

Mrs. Macy (Ruby) Sanders furnished the most conclusive information to The Wellington Leader, which she also passed on to Mr. Goldsborough, and to Margaret Bigger of Charlotte, who is helping him in his search.

"As I well remember, it hit Wellington on May 16, 1928," Mrs. Sanders said.

At that time she was married to the late John Bullington who was working on the J.L. Burt house on Haskell Street that afternoon.

She was the mother of a four-day-old girl. That child is now Mrs. Raymond Horton. Mrs. Sanders' sister, Mrs. Clarence Littleton, then Ethel Gardner, was staying with her sister, but she had to leave to get their brother who was attending East Ward School. The car, which she parked at the curb, was blown against the house and back into the street.

"We were almost blown away. Everyone I guess was in their dugouts," she remembers. "I knew a bad storm was coming, but with a four-day-old baby I couldn't go anywhere."

"It blew the compress completely away. It was two blocks from our house and the hotel (that Goldsborough remembers) was on the northeast corner of the square. It was a two or three story building and was damaged, but I can't remember how bad." This was the Wellington Hotel. Several houses in town and in the county were damaged or blown away. Some of the business houses were damaged.

As further proof that this was the storm the North Carolina man was hunting, Mrs. Sanders continues: "My present husband was raised in Wheeler and lived there during the 1920s and 1930s and he said it wasn't Wheeler, as they hadn't had a storm like that in Wheeler."

"My daughter, who is Mrs. Fay Horton, is 54 years old now and I also had a little girl 2 1/2 years old at the time. She is Mrs. Billie Seitz. They've heard me tell it so many times when they read this in the Wellington Leader, they knew what storm it was and that it was in Wellington."

Another who remembered the storm vividly was Mrs. James (Ruby) Havron.

She recalls that she was staying with a friend near Dodson, but they saw the tornado as it struck Wellington.

She was so impressed that she wrote a poem about the storm.

Her family's house was badly damaged.

Overcomers Due at Fellowship

The Overcomers, a gospel singing and musical group from Hollis, will appear in a program at the Abundant Life Fellowship Church Friday, March 19, beginning at 7 p.m.

This is the second appearance of the group in the Wellington church, and they are returning by popular request, said Mrs. Clinton Norman.

Members are Joe Cantu and Manuel Cantu, Jr., who play guitars; Jimmy Cantu, drums and Mary Pollard, piano.

The Cantu brothers are already well known in the Dodson-Wellington area, as they attended school in Dodson, Mrs. Norman said.

West Texas Granted Interim Rate Increase

West Texas Utilities Company has been granted an interim rate increase for power sold to its wholesale customers.

The increase was approved by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, effective February 26, 1982, and will remain in effect until final resolution of a rate application filed last October by WTU.

The interim rates granted will result in an increase of $3.5 million, or 8.1 percent, annually from 14 rural electric cooperatives, one municipality, and one investor-owned distribution system.

In its application, WTU had asked for a $4.3 million increase to become effective December 15, 1982. The FERC initially suspended this increase for five months, which would have delayed the effective date of the new rates until May 16, 1982. Granting the interim rates has the effect of shortening the suspension period and allowing lower rates to go into effect subject to refund.

The FERC decision follows closely the increase in retail rates granted by the Public Utility Commission of Texas effective February 12. Together, the increases are expected to provide an additional revenue of $15.3 million on an annual basis, with $11.8 coming from retail customers and $3.5 from wholesale customers. The original cases filed by WTU were designed to produce $32.2 million in additional revenues.

"Our dances are free to all of our visitors who don't square dance."

The second in the series of square dance lessons will be March 22. Six couples have signed up but more are needed. Nicky Boone of Hollis is the club caller and instructor.

Employ Older Workers Week Set March 14-20

WACO-National Employ the Older Workers Week has been designated for March 14-20, 1982. As a part of this designation, the public is reminded of the great contribution that the older workers have made through the years.

The Senior Texans Employment Program is active in Collingsworth County, training older workers at the Collingsworth County Library, Family Service Center, Wellington Ind. School. The workers here are Mrs. Rhuia Ketchum, Mrs. Erma Fay Kersten, Mrs. Leona Elliott, and Mrs. Marie Gollighugh. These older workers have spent the last year learning new skills, sharpening old ones and providing services to others in Collingsworth County.

The Senior Texans Employment Program (STEP) is calling on all businesses to honor their older workers in some way during this week.

In addition, STEP calls on private industry to open its doors to employing more older workers. According to STEP director, Keith Perry, Mrs. Lynn Wright, Mrs. Virgil Patterson, Mrs. Fred Cox, Mrs. Bill Hatch, Mrs. Cal Hurst and the hostess, Mrs. Blanchard.

"Older workers in Texas have proven themselves through many years of hard work to be dependable and trustworthy."

STEP is an older worker employment and training program administered by the Farmers Union Community Development Association, Inc., and is jointly funded by the Texas State Legislature and the Department of Labor through the Texas Department on Aging.

Library Notes

Betty Long of the Amarillo Public Library, who works with Panhandle Library System was here Tuesday, Feb. 16 and told Wellington Librarians Rhia Ketchum and Erma Faye Kersten that within a few days they can expect a packet of large print books for those with vision problems, and another packet of Spanish Language Books for the Spanish speaking.

After the shipment of books published within the last two or three months was received recently, Mrs. Kersten and Mrs. Ketchum pooled their trading stamps and acquired a set of book shelves on which to keep them.

Mr. and Mrs. David Haynie from Lewisville and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cope, Adam and Leigh Ann from Estelline were weekend guests of Mrs. E.P. Haynie.

Some estimate that the average life of a car should be around 70,000 miles, around the sixth year. Major repairs often occur around the 45,000 mile mark, then repair bills drop off again.

Harding College Acappella Chorus of Harding, Ark., gave a concert at the Southwest Church of Christ, Amarillo, Sunday, March 7.

She is also the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Alexander of Dodson, who attended the performance. They also spent the night with their son, Ruel Alexander and family.

Mrs. Tommie Boston Chosen Retired Teacher of the Month

Mrs. Tommie Boston, 1001 Childress Street, is the March Teacher of the Month, chosen by the county unit of the National Retired Teachers' Association.

This article is an excerpt of an account of Mrs. Boston's life which was written by Lois K. Ratliff, and which was made available to the Wellington Leader for the sketch.

Her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. T.B. Starkey came from Montague County to Collingsworth County in 1891, about the time the county was organized. On their place was the Lake Creek School, one of the forgotten places of the county.

When Tommie was 10, her family moved to Wellington and she attended school until they moved back to Plymouth three years later. (Bill Boston was the principal. He would become her husband. The other teacher was Doris Leggett.)

At age 17, she was teaching school at Buck Creek, and taught until she married Mr. Boston who had just returned from service with the Army of Occupation following World War I. He was a teacher and coach and for 7 years he taught in Wellington and Groom.

The Bostons lived at Perryton, Shamrock, Groom and Goodnight, as well as Wellington.

They were in the grocery business, furniture business and then became farmers. Mrs. Boston is remembered by many as a dealer in antiques, an occupation she continued at their farm home at Goodnight. She even ran the farm herself after the death of her husband. The antique business finally gave way to her present love and now she has become "The Doll Lady" to many people.

Her collection, rivaling that of any in this area, has many dolls from foreign countries. Even more interesting to many people are the dozens and dozens of dolls she has made.

The lovely little figures wear the finery of another era, and the Doll Lady herself has stitched yards and yards of ribbon and lace on velvet, satin, silk, linen and cotton.

Her unusual talents also include woodworking. She made her own loom to revive the art of weaving and among the many items of interest in her home is a replica of an old sea chest which she made.

(Mrs. Boston has 5 children: Rose Mary, and her husband, Dr. George Kollmar, are medical missionaries in Colombia; South America; (Mrs. Kollmar formerly taught in Wellington); W.M. Jr. (Billy) is an accountant in California; Tom Ben is an oil broker in Dallas; Joan is married to a retired Army major; The Dayton Carrells live in Austin; and Mrs. Boston's youngest son, James Robert (Jimmy) is with the Texas Employment Commission in Tyler.)

Mrs. Boston is a walking history book for her county. She is presently working on a 36' x 36' map with section lines marked. On it she is listing in each section the names of the old settlers who lived there and the names of the present owners.

Dorotheans Study "Members Of the Christian Church"

The Dorothean Group of First United Methodist Church met Thursday, March 11, in the home of Mrs. Barney Glenn.

The program, "Who Are Members of the Christian Church?" was under the direction of Mrs. J.B. King. Bringing out that all believers and followers of the Christian Faith are members of the Family. The program centered on the women's organizations in all churches. Women of all races and denominations have the same goals, Mrs. King said. These are to help the sick, helpless, bereaved, lost and lonely.

To serve on church committees whenever needed is part of this work.

"Whoever they are, wherever they are, women are an important part of any church membership. We are all members of the Christian Global Family," Mrs. King concluded.

Mrs. Clyde Alexander of Dodson visited with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alma Alexander, in Hollis Wednesday, March 10. She also visited with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thomas in Hollis.

GEORGIA BARTLETT

Autograph Party Honors Former Area Resident

An autograph party honoring Mrs. Georgia Bartlett, author of Fantasy Flowers, will be held Sunday, March 28, from 2:00-4:00 p.m. in the Reception Room of the administrative building of Abernathy Schools. The public is invited.

Coming to Abernathy in 1959, Georgia Bartlett has taught second and third grades in the Abernathy Schools, and is presently teaching individualized art in an innovative art program at Abernathy High School. Mrs. Bartlett graduated from Westview High School, near Hollis, Oklahoma, and married Frank Bartlett, also from Hollis. She received her Bachelor of Science degree from Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, and has also attended Texas Tech University. The Bartletts have two children, Frank Jr. and Virginia, both graduates of Abernathy High School.

Specializing in painting florals, Mrs. Bartlett also likes painting landscapes, especially those with flowers in them. She strives for dramatic effects in her florals and emphasizes color value to obtain a dimensional quality in the canvases.

Fantasy Flowers, dedicated to the Bartlett grandchildren, Cody Bartlett, Matt and Heidi Weaver, is Mrs. Bartlett's second book, having published "Painting Poppies" in 1980. Susan Scheewe Publications, Inc. in Portland, Oregon, published "Fantasy Flowers", and is a company that has specialized in tole and method painting books, but now is entering the fine arts field of book publication.

Announced as a new book by Scheewe Publications in the March 1982 issue of "Tole World", "Fantasy Flowers" is now receiving national magazine coverage.

For individuals purchasing "Fantasy Flowers", the author states in her book, "It is a really great pleasure to share with you my love for flowers. God created so much beauty when he encompassed it in a blossom. I hope your paintings will not only be a joy to you (in the painting) but bring joy to others in the viewing."

Letters From The People

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express my feelings concerning a decision facing the voters of Collingsworth County on election day. It is the decision to legalize "Bingo". I have read your articles concerning this issue and I have obtained a copy of the "Bingo Enabling Act" from Mr. Bob Bullock, Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts.

It is clear to me that the issue the voters are faced with is not simply "Bingo". We are being asked to legalize "gambling" in this county. It is apparent that this issue has attached itself to, and very neatly I might add, to our senior citizens and our school children by implying that this vote would be "for them." It has been explained that unless "Bingo" is legalized the PTO will no longer be able to utilize a "Bingo booth" to raise money at its annual carnival, nor will our senior citizens have the pleasure of a "Bingo" game as recreation. In short a vote against "Bingo" would be a vote against children and the elderly. I believe this to be a blatant attempt to camouflage the truth. A vote against legalizing "Bingo" is not a vote against children or the elderly, but it is a vote against one of the most immoral enemies of our society, gambling.

As usual we are being handed the sugar coated, velvet covered box containing the poison we are expected to swallow. We are told that this "Bingo Act" will cover "non-profit organizations" only. If the voters will obtain a copy of the "Bingo Enabling Act" by making one toll-free call to 1-800-252-5555 they will learn that this "Act" covers not only the nondescript "non-profit organization" but will include the "Fraternal organization, Religious society, Veterans organization and Volunteer Fire Departments."

We will be opening our entire county to this immorality. I realize that immorality is an outdated word in our present society yet I believe that it is very appropriate. Any game of chance that encourages a man or woman, especially with our present economic problems in this country, is in my opinion a particularly sinister evil.

One need not look very hard to discover that any community, legalizing gambling of any kind is very shortly faced with all kinds of attending social problems. One need only read the national crime statistics in cities where gambling has been legalized to see its devastating effects.

It has been my impression that the citizens of this great state have for many years fought the encroachment of gambling into our society. Now is no time to stop. I encourage the voters of this county to vote against "Bingo" or any other game of chance that would allow gambling to gain a foothold in this community.

Thank you for your attention in this matter.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — After more than a year of haggling, debating, closed-door politics and state and federal court battles, Texas finally has both congressional and legislative redistricting plans under which to conduct this year's elections, and it appears that the May 1 party primaries will take place as scheduled.

Shortly after a three-judge federal panel in Austin handed down a new plan for congressional districts, federal judges in Dallas decided that the Texas House and Senate plans could stand virtually unchanged.

The court approved the Senate plan as it was passed by the Legislative Redistricting Board, and changed only a few districts contained in the House plan. That action cleared the way for the Democrats and the GOP to go ahead with their primary elections, and the filing deadline for congressional and legislative races — which had been pushed back to March 19 — were moved forward again.

The final ballot line-ups have now been finalized, although the redistricting confusion prompted some incumbents and potential challengers to stay out of the campaigns.

AFL-CIO Endorsements

And as the political season moved forward, several political groups announced their endorsements in the statewide races.

Meeting in Austin, the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education (COPE) announced its support for a slate of Democratic candidates that includes incumbents U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Comptroller Bob Bullock and Railroad Commissioner Jim Nugent.

The labor officials also endorsed U.S. Rep. Jim Mattox for attorney general, Jim Hightower for agriculture commissioner, former Travis County Commissioner Ann Richards for state treasurer and both Garry Mauro and Rockdale Rep. Dan Kubiak for land commissioner.

Missing from the labor leaders' endorsements — and not surprisingly — was an endorsement for governor.

Although Railroad Commissioner Buddy Temple seemed to get the warmest reception at the Austin meeting, COPE withheld an endorsement for governor until after the primaries.

That action partly resulted from the squabble that occurred in 1978, when labor leaders endorsed former Gov. Dolph Briscoe while rank-and-file union members supported former Attorney General John Hill.

Failure to endorse a Democrat, however, cannot be seen as support for Republican Gov. Bill Clements. One AFL-CIO official reported his group probably would support "anybody but" Clements.

Meanwhile, Hightower, Kubiak and Mattox also garnered endorsements from the West Texas Democrats, an organization with membership throughout the Panhandle. That group also supports Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong for governor and former Waco Rep. Lane Denton for treasurer.

Bell Refunds

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. apparently has struck out in its attempt to delay refunds on excessive rates it implemented late last year.

A state district judge has ordered Bell to make those refunds totaling $21 million by April 11, even though the phone company contends it should be required to refund only $600,000.

Bell implemented a temporary rate increase totaling $246.8 million in October 1981 while the Public Utility Commission was considering a rate hike request of nearly twice that amount.

The PUC, however, granted only a $243.7 million increase and ordered the refund.

Bell has appealed that decision, but the district judge's decision will mean that each Bell residential customer will get roughly a $2.60 refund.

If history holds true, Bell probably will be before the PUC again soon seeking even more increases.

Fire Ants

Agriculture Commissioner Reagan Brown has announced that Texas will receive $900,000 in federal funds to fight fire ants.

Those funds will supplement some $1.5 million in state funds that will be used to fill requests from 86 counties for pesticides to kill the insects.

Brown recently was criticized for "overselling" the state's program to help farmers purchase Amdro and the effectiveness of that chemical in controlling fire ants.

State Rep. Dan Kubiak said Brown got more counties involved in the program than the state had funds for.

Brown admits that there still isn't enough funds for all 86 counties, but says some "very promising new chemicals" are on the way.

Parimutuel Betting

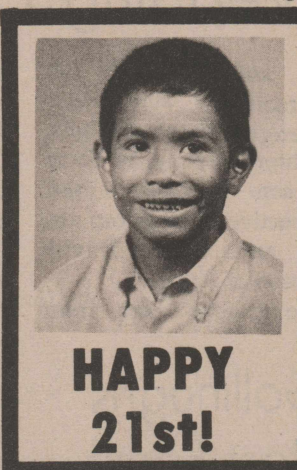

It appears that at least some Texas voters this year will once again be asked to express their opinions on the issue of parimutuel betting on horse races.

The GOP has decided to put the issue on its May 1 primary ballot as an "opinion question," and the Democrats may do likewise.

During the last few decades, Texas voters have voted on the betting issue dozens of times, most recently in a nonbinding referendum in 1978.

This year, the Republicans are using that and four other "opinion" issues to attract more voters to its primary. Democrats were contemplating the same idea.

Next, they'll be offering

THOMAS ROLL CALL REPORT

Your Congressman's Votes
Reported Each Week

WASHINGTON--

Here's how area House members and senators were recorded on major roll call votes March 2-10.

HOUSE

WATER By a vote of 311 for and 50 against, the House passed a bill to settle a water claim brought against the government by the Papago Indians of Arizona. The 14,000 member tribe would be guaranteed water from federal sources in Arizona and the city of Tucson, and the government would set up a $15 million trust fund to indemnify the Indians for past federal abuses of their water rights. The bill (HR 5118) was sent to the Senate.

Members voting "yea" saw the bill as the best means of resolving the long-pending water claim.

Reps. Samuel Hall, D-1, Ralph Hall, D-4, Jack Brooks, D-9, Jake Pickle, D-10, James Wright, D-12, Jack Hightower, D-13, William Patman, D-14, Richard White, D-16, Henry

Gonzalez, D-20, Tom Loeffler, R-21, Abraham Kazen, D-23, and Martin Frost, D-24, voted "yea."

Reps. James Collins, R-3, Phil Gramm, D-6, Bill Archer, R-7, Jack Fields, R-8, J. Marvin Leath, D-11, Charles Stenholm, D-17, and Ron Paul, R-22, voted "nay."

Reps. Charles Wilson, D-2, Jim Mattox, D-5, Kika de la Garza, D-15, Mickey Leland, D-18, and Kent Hance, D-19, did not vote.

CHILE The Senate confirmed, 83 for and 12 against, the nomination of James D. Theberge as U.S. ambassador to Chile. Theberge, a former Georgetown University professor and Marine Corps lieutenant, was ambassador to Nicaragua under President Ford. Most senators opposing his confirmation were liberals protesting the Reagan Administration's moves toward closer ties with the right-wing military dictatorship that rules Chile. But opponents also included conservatives who linked Theberge's Nicaraguan tenure with the left-wing overthrow of the Somoza dictatorship.

Senators voting "yea" favored Theberge's nomination.

Sens. Lloyd Bentsen, D, and John Tower, R, voted "yea."

A Word on the Word with Jim Powell

In Vietnam, He Was Running from Death

Jon Ford of Clinton, Pennsylvania, was in the Marine Corps during the Vietnam War. In his own word, he was "running from death" until he found some words that changed his life.

"A lot of my friends got killed," he explains. "I almost got killed. I was supposed to be on a truck that got blown up. I started running from death, and I ran to everything in the world you could possibly do."

Then, one day, someone gave him a Bible.

"I read in John, Chapter II, where Jesus said, 'I am the resurrection and the life; he who believes in Me shall live even if he dies.'"

And, I realized that death was going to be a blessing instead of something to dread."

P&WL Sends Boat Owners Questionnaires

AUSTIN--During March, 1,500 Texas boat owners will receive postcard questionnaires from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Officials asked that recipients complete the simple prepaid forms and return them as soon as possible.

The department survey is aimed at estimating the numbers of boaters who launch their craft at private boat ramps along the Texas coast. This information will assist them in setting fishing regulations for redfish and spotted seatrout according to Finfish Program Director Gary Matlock.

Recipients are randomly selected by computer. An additional 1,500 cards will be sent each month for several months, Matlock said.

Irish of Shamrock Celebrate St. Pat's Day March 19-20

BY BILL HOWE
SHAMROCK, (Special) "Remember When", theme of the 36th annual St. Patrick's Celebration, Mar. 19 and 20, recalls the memory of George Nickle, an early day postmaster lonesome for the green of his native Ireland, who named the post office serving this dry and sandy spot in the Eastern Panhandle, "Shamrock."

Nickle's spark of inspiration shortly after the turn of the century ignited an idea in the late 30's that gave life to Shamrock's famed Irish doin's on the nearest weekend to March 17.

It was the late Glen Truax, Shamrock High School bandmaster, who convinced the members of Shamrock Boosters Club that a town with such a fine old Irish name should capitalize on it with an annual St. Patrick's Day Celebration so colorful it would attract thousands of visitors and worldwide acclaim.

And so it is that every Shamrock citizen, regardless of his actual lineage, becomes a real Irishman once a year, grows a foot taller overnight and stalks the earth as a giant. It's his day and he feels it!

The thousands who crowd into Shamrock, population 3,000, for the 36th St. Patrick's Celebration, will respond to the theme and "remember when" it all began in 1936. It'll be a great day, begorra!

As the pace of celebration preparations quickens, turning green appears to be the major concern of local citizens. The Shamrock Texan's staff works day and night to produce a 60-page special edition devoted to the Irish Party on green newsprint, city officials have donned their green underwear (a tradition to mark the occasion), and even the beard of The Texan's editor appears to be taking on the color of the Emerald Isle.

Irishmen by the score, most sporting Donegal beards, with collens on their arms, are bound for Shamrock to join in the shenanigans honoring the good St. Patrick and to "remember when" in their own particular way.

Heidi Allen of Pampa, last year's Miss Irish Rose, with U.S. Congressman Jack Hightower as speaker and Robert Laycock as emcee will open the celebration Friday night, March 19, at National Guard Armory. The meal prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Doug Rives will be served by members of Shamrock High School's Junior Class.

The Irish start celebrating in earnest Saturday, March 20, when the colorful, hour-long street parade led by the green-clad Shamrock High School "Pride of the Irish" Band, under the direction of Pat Daniel, thrills thousands gathered along its line-of-march. Governor Bill Clements of Texas will ride in the parade as honorary Parade Marshal.

National Guard Armory will be the scene in the afternoon of the Donegal Beard Judging the Miss Irish Rose Pageant and announcement of the winners in the various divisions of the St. Patrick's Celebration Parade.

Saturday afternoon at High School Auditorium, Bill and Frankie King will host the popular Old Fiddlers' Contest, which draws top competition annually from throughout the southwest. "We've put together a show this year that no true son of the auld sod will want to miss," the Kings said.

Free lunches will again be provided for all participating band members at High School Cafeteria.

The popular team-roping event at Brashears' Rodeo Arena northwest of town, under the direction of Truman Brashears and Clois Hanner, is expected to attract top rodeo hands from a wide area.

The annual St. Patrick's Celebration Dance at National Guard Armory Saturday evening will feature the music of the Electric Cowboy Band from Amarillo, and teen dancers at Jaycee Gymnasium will be entertained by the music of Heartbreak Pass of Dumas. Both dances will begin at 8:00 o'clock and continue until 12:00.

Shamrock's Ministerial Alliance, headed by the Rev. Jeff Messer of Eleventh Street Baptist Church and the Rev. John Hooser, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lela, will host the Flatland Blue Grass Singers of Lubbock, a versatile musical group that all will enjoy, at High School Auditorium beginning at 8:00 p.m. Saturday.

The legend of Shamrock's St. Patrick's Celebration grows, and although Truax has passed on, his memory will live forever in this quiet stop along Interstate Highway 40.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY 4-H CLUB NEWS

Busy Bells, Green Clovers and Sunshine 4-H Clubs met Friday March 12, for a weather study project.

This came just before the week of March 15-21, proclaimed by Governor Bill Clements as "Tornado Preparedness Week."

This was on the regular meeting date of the Busy Bells and the program was devoted to tornado study. Former County Judge Zook Thomas discussed "Protecting Oneself If A Tornado Strikes."

First, watch the clouds, and heed warnings, he urged. Use caution, as panicking can cause one to be hurt.

He stated that it isn't too likely one would ever be hit by a tornado, he added.

The former county judge named some of the public emergency shelters, to which people could go in case of a tornado.

These include the basement or first floor hallway of the courthouse, various church basements away from windows, the high school basement and bank vaults give good protection. Should one be caught in a tornado in a strange town, the first hallway of a large office building, away from windows was suggested.

As for their homes, Judge Thomas told the girls to open windows and stay away from them, to get under something heavy.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT REPORT

by Nancy Bigby

by Nancy Bigby
County Extension Agent

Dieting--it's becoming a "national obsession." Many of us spend a lot of money on fad diets, pills, supplements, and books in hopes of losing enough weight to become more attractive, healthier, sexier and younger looking.

If some one would invent a diet where you lose ten pounds in one day, I would pay any price. But these desires to lose weight quickly actually can be harmful to your health. Dieting is only successful when you are able to keep off extra pounds over a number of years.

If you are battling a weight problem and are concerned about good health, attend the Panhandle Economic Program, "Who's Being Fooled About Weight Control." It will be held Wednesday, March 31 from 9:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Hilton Inn in Amarillo. Various topics include:

-Diet: Helpful or Harmful, Mina W. Lamb, Ph.D., R.D. Nutritionist Professor Emeritus, Texas Tech University.

-How to Control Your Weight-The Sensible Diet, Mary Sweeten, Foods & Nutrition Specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Assisted by Susie Brietling, CEA in Dallam County and Alby Peters, CEA in Moore County.

-Dressing to Enhance Your Figure & Personality, Becky Saunders, Clothing Specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

-Exercise for Good Health, Marie Bonifield, RSVP.

-Perception-A Matter of Success, Robert E. Guide, M.D.* Cardiologist, Amarillo.

Consumer Shopping For Your Personal Weight Control Plan, Special Panel of Resource People.

This is an excellent opportunity to learn a sensible and safe way to diet and will be well worth a trip to Amarillo. If you have any questions or would like to make reservations call the County Extension Office, 447-2313 or come by my office on the second floor of the Courthouse. Save March 31 on your calendar and I'll be seeing you in Amarillo.

paintings in oil, water color and acrylic mediums.

"We encourage local exhibitors to pre-register as soon as possible, as spaces will be limited," said Mrs. Murphree.

Assisting Mrs. Murphree and Cheryl Brown, director, are John and Patsy Dodge, woodcraft and art shop owners.

One exhibitor will be Roseylee K. Palmer, chairman of the fine arts department of Frank Phillips College, Borger, who will have a number of her works in the show and sale. The theme of her paintings is western.

She has exhibited at WTSU, the state capitol in Austin, the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame at Hereford and galleries at Taos, N.M., Amarillo and Lubbock, the Carson County Square House Museum and Lake Meredith Aquatic and Wildlife Museum.

Those wanting registration forms should contact Cheryl Brown, director of the Wellington Satellite Center.
