Sister Of Three Desperadoes Warns That "You Will Never Take Them Alive," As Hunt Widens In Scope

Ozark Mother Expresses Wish That Her Boys Will Commit Suicide Rather Than Die At Hands Of The Law

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 4.—Aware an encounter possibly will mean a fight to death, hundreds of officers tonight pressed throughout the southwest a search for the killers who slew a sheriff and five of his posse to effect escape from the Young farmhouse near here Saturday.

"You will never take them alive," was the warning to police from Mrs. Albert Conley, sister of Harry, Paul and Jennings Young, who with an unnamed relative are sought from Missouri to the Mexican border as the ruthless slayers.

Mother Wishes For Death

A 62-year-old mother's wish that her sons would end their own lives followed the desperadoes in the flight which authorities believe took them through Oklahoma and into Texas.

"I hope they will kill themselves. I'd rather they would do that than have the law kill them," said the mother, Mrs. W. H. Young, at whose farm house in the Ozark hills the killings took place. Mrs. Young and eight others are under arrest while the hunt is on for the slayers.

Lived At Houston

The brothers had been living at Houston before their return to the home of their mother a few days ago. Police were so informed by Mrs. Conley who recently lived at Houston, too, where her husband was a printer.

Police expressed belief the slayers escaped in pairs aided by Jess Moore, known as a petty law viola-

(By The Associated Press)

MONCKS CORNER, S. C., Jan. 4.—Two depositors in the branch of the Peoples State bank of South Carolina, today held up the assistant cashier and took an amount almost equal to their deposits.

They surrendered several hours later and told Sheriff C. P. Ballentine of Berkeley county they had hid the money in a wood where, they said, it could not be found.

About $2,000 Taken

Approximately $2,000 was taken by the men, S. H. Miller, 36, and Blease Woodward, 20, members of prominent Berkeley county families.

"They said," Sheriff Ballentine asserted, "they had that much and more in the bank. They could not get it any other way and they decided to get it the way they did."

American Insults Blamed In Attack

"Arrogant, Provocative Attitude" Of U. S. Consul Cited By Japs; Apology Offered

(By The Associated Press)

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Jan. 4. — The apologies of the Japanese government were conveyed to the American consul-general today for the attack by three Japanese soldiers last night on Consul Culver B. Chamberlain.

At the same time Lieut. Col. Matsui, member of the staff of General Shigeru Monjo, Japan's Manchurian commander, expressed opinion that Mr. Chamberlain was attacked because he had treated Japanese soldiers "as if they were Chinese."

At a preliminary hearing on the incident conducted by Japanese authorities it was brought out that the three men who set upon Mr. Chamberlain as he stepped from an automobile bearing the United States flag and coat of arms, blamed the American's "arrogant, provocative attitude" for the trouble.

After being treated for his wounds — which included two deep gashes in his face — Mr. Chamberlin continued on his way from Mukden to Harbin. He is taking up his post there after a vacation in America.

Two privates in the army and a Japanese interpreter, temporarily engaged because of his knowledge of Chinese, were

Indian Revolt Brings Report Of Two Deaths

First Clash Between British Police And Nationalists At Allanhabad Fatal; Gandhi Is Again In Prison

(By The Associated Press)

BOMBAY, India, Jan. 4. — The renewed struggle between India's nationalist millions and the British government, brought to a head with the arrest of Mahatma Gandhi, drew its first blood today.

In a clash between police and nationalist demonstrators at Allahabad, two men were killed, one of them trampled to death. Many others were arrested.

Government Armed

The British government armed itself for the renewal of the fray with drastic new ordinances, one of which authorized a declaration that the working committee of the all-India national congress was an organization wholly without the law, and could be so treated.

At Cawnpore, city of a tragic reputation for successive outbreaks and disorders starting with the Indian mutiny, police armed with lathis (staves) twice charged crowds of demonstrators, and throughout India there was great tension and anxiety, for many more clashes between the forces of the government and the unyielding believers in Mr. Gandhi's policy of non-violence were expected to follow.

Commands Issued

Meanwhile, in his cell at Yereda jail near Poona, the Mahatma issued a set of commands to the Indian people, directing them to withdraw every form of cooperation with the government, to discard every trace of violence, and to boycott every article of British goods, for "the boycott is the weapon which will bring England to her knees."

The government showed its strong

Steps Against Mine Union Are Being Taken In Field

PINEVILLE, Ky., Jan. 4. —(AP)—Steps to halt activities of the National Miners union were taken by police raids in Bell county today and by announcement in Harlan county that the union would not be allowed to hold meetings there. The union called a strike January 1 in the coal fields of southeastern Kentucky.

Eight persons, including five women, were arrested and ordered given a hearing tomorrow before County Judge George Vanbeber on criminal syndicalism charges. In Harlan county Sheriff John H. Blair announced "the National Miners union, as far as I'm concerned, is an outlaw organization and they'll not be allowed to hold a meeting in Harlan county while I'm sheriff."

SHAWNEE, Okla., Jan. 4. —(AP)—Orville Burch, Seminole youth, whose flight by airplane after robbing the McLeod bank ended in his capture at Fort Smith, Ark., said today he would plead guilty and ask the mercy of the court. His arraignment is expected tomorrow.

He told authorities of his desperate anxiety for his girl wife, soon to become a mother, and said that he was without funds.

Youth Charged After Attempt To Rob Sunday

Max Lee Fann Faces Burglary Charge As Result Of Affair At Bray Plant; Wounded By Alert Nightwatchman

Max Lee Fann, 18, being treated at Lubbock sanitarium for gun shot wounds, was charged Monday afternoon with burglary of Bray Tailoring plant, 2430 Nineteenth street. An attending physician said between 40 and 50 shotgun shot took effect in the youth's face, nose, cheek, lips, chin, right shoulder, right hand and right foot.

R. J. Candler, nightwatchman at the Bray plant, about midnight Sunday opened fire with a shotgun on a man who attempted to enter the building. Fan reported at the hospital for treatment several hours after the alleged attempted burglary.

Candler was employed at the plant at a previous burglary December 21, in which clothing valued at $150 was reported stolen. The nightwatchman said he fired once at the man.

"Let Him Have Lead"

According to the story told yesterday by Candler, he was sitting in a dark corner of the room with a shotgun in his hands shortly before midnight Sunday when a window in the back of the plant was crashed out.

"When I saw a dark form climbing in through the window, I let him have the lead," the nightwatchman said. "He fell from the window and as he ran around the corner, I shot at him again, below the waist line."

The complaint against Fann was filed in Justice H. K. Porter's court by Chief of Police John Lemond, who earlier in the day had visited the youth at the hospital. Officers are holding a gun allegedly dropped by a fleeing man near the cleaning plant.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 4 — A federal court jury convicted S. E. J. Cox, spectacular promoter, Mrs. Nelly Cox, his wife, and three other persons today on one or more counts of mail fraud in the preorganization activities of the Universal Oil and Gas company.

The jury, which received the case last Thursday night, found Cox guilty on nine of twenty-four counts. Judge Vaught announced that those convicted and those who pleaded guilty as the trial opened would be sentenced Saturday morning.

Mrs. Cox was found guilty of a scheme to defraud and of conspiracy.

Levee Guards Are On Alert

Attempts To Dynamite Levees Combatted; Hope Held That Dykes Will Stand Up Under Raging Torrents

(By The Associated Press)

GLENDORA, Miss., Jan. 4.—Hope spread through the Tallahatchie river flood zone tonight that major levees would hold the river's crest and more attention was focused on providing fuel, food, drinking water and medical care for the thousands marooned.

Scores of guards armed with shotguns were posted, ready to shoot anyone attempting to dynamite a levee to divert water pressure while hundreds of convicts kept up fresh sandbagging of the overflowing dykes.

Glendora was less threatened by breaks than other sections. The greatest danger today was about the Swan Lake, Webb, Sumner triangle of Cassidy's Bayou in Tallahatchie county and up the river about Asa and Mimms. Jones Frederic plantation, just south of Glendora, still was in peril from overflows.

Big Spring Thieves Know What They Are After And Know Where To Look For It

(By The Associated Press)

BIG SPRING, Jan. 4.—Holdup men here apparently are wise to the tricks of their prey.

Joe Woods, cafe operator, becoming fearful of a holdup, decided to carry his money in his shoe. A masked man approached Woods today as he opened his cafe and said only "take off your shoes." The robber got $15.

Operators of a tire store hid their money last night in an old tire. The store was entered last night. Nothing was bothered except the casing and its contents of $135 in cash and checks.

Masked Man Flashes Pistol In Pinson Drug Robbery

(Special to The Avalanche)

SLATON, Jan. 4. —Approximately $400 worth of merchandise was taken from the A. Kessell department store here during the night, but a large cotton sack of goods was dropped by the robbers in their flight. Entrance was gained through the front door.

Nightwatchman Wicker discovered the glass was broken in the door, on his round about 2 o'clock. The last time he had shaken the door, after midnight, everything was all right, he said.

Check today placed the loss at $400. There were no clues.

Believe Confederate Aided In Hijacking

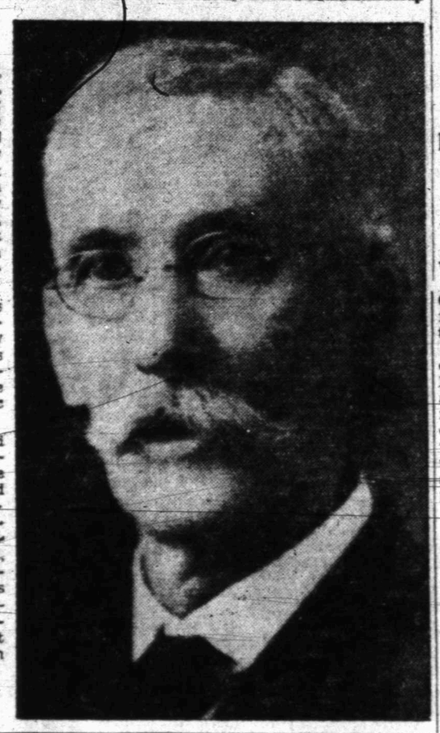

A heavily masked man, who late Sunday night held up the Pinson Drug store No. 1 at Sixteenth and Avenue Q, had not been arrested late yesterday. The hijacker escaped on foot, with a companion, and about $15 in cash from the store.

Bob Wayland and Bert Pinson, owner, were in the drug store at the time of the hold-up. A man believed to have been companion of the hijacker, came into the drug store, stayed a few minutes, and left just before the masked man came in. He displayed a revolver.

Pinson described the robber as being above average height and

Death Claims West Texas Pioneer

Sam Pollock, 85, of San Angelo, last surviving merchant of the Ben Ficklin flood which virtually destroyed that first seat of Tom Green county August 23, 1882, and eliminated it as a rival of San Angelo, died Monday in Dallas.

Mr. Pollock was one of West Texas' most widely known Masons and funeral services today will be under Masonic rites.

The pioneer died while on a holiday visit to a niece in Dallas. He and Mrs. Pollock observed their golden wedding anniversary Nov. 11, 1931. Now crowded by the business district, their residence in San Angelo has been at the same location since 1882.

Bulging Bins Of Farm Board To Give 40,000,000 Bushels To Relief; Democrats Shout Their Opposition

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The senate voted today to take 40,000,000 bushels of wheat from the farm board's bulging bins and distribute them to the needy.

Its action climaxed a day in which criticism of the administration's relief policies resounded through the senate chamber and committee rooms. In one of the latter, Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, whose name is linked with speculation on Republican presidential possibilities, denounced the Hoover program as "vicious."

Dole Charge Hurled

The senate acted, without a roll call vote, after a vigorous debate Democratic leaders asserted the appropriation of wheat was the equivalent of a dole, firmly opposed by President Hoover. The vehicle of action was a resolution by Senators Capper, Republican, Kansas, and Wheeler, Democrat, Montana. It had the approval of the farm board which nevertheless contends it should be compensated for the wheat. Testifying before a senate manufactures sub-committee in hearings on proposals for unemployment relief by direct federal appropriations, Pinchot launched upon a caustic criticism of the administration's program of relief through local charitable contributions.

"It takes money from the little fellow," he said. "It doesn't take it from the big fellow. It is an attempt to get by without increasing taxes and letting the big fellows come in to share the load."

Several Attacked

Without prompting by the committee, Pinchot went on to speak his views against the "Republican machine" which he blamed for defeating his state unemployment program; against Secretary Mellon for not lending a million dollars for the state unemployment fund; and against Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, for saying Pennsylvania can take care of her own problem.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, joined in the committee hearings for direct federal assistance, urging a special agency to take care of

Lenz Stages Brilliant Comeback To Trim 3,385 Points From The Culbertsons' Commanding Lead

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 5. (Tuesday).—Sidney S. Lenz and Commander Winfield Liggett, jr., cut 3,385 points off the lead of Mr. and Mrs. Ely Culbertson in their contract bridge match at a nine-rubber session ending early this morning. The plus of Culbertson's side with 21 rubbers left to play in the 150-rubber match became 16,835.

Lenz and Ligget won six rubbers during the session, making the rubbers for the series stand 71 for Culbertson and 58 for Lenz.

It was the biggest swing of any of the 17 sessions for Lenz's side. But the session's gain has been exceeded several times by Culbertson and partner.

The gain offered little hope that Lenz could win the match. But it did give him optimism as regards his aim of making more points than Culbertson and partner during the rubbers in which Liggett will be opposite him instead of Oswald Jacoby, his first partner in the match.

Snowfall Here Near 3 Inches

Skidding Mercury Is Reported From Wide Section; Canyon Gets Seven Inches Of Snow; Plains Covered

FAST on the heels of the new year, snow and freezing temperatures slipped into the Panhandle of Texas and the north side of the South Plains Sunday and Monday and rain into the remainder of the state.

About three inches of snow fell in Lubbock, starting at 5:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The large, moist flakes came down in heavy flurries, after rain and sleet had held sway since Sunday night. The mercury is slated to drop lower today and cloudy weather also is forecast.

Canyon Is Covered

Canyon was covered with seven inches of snow at 10 o'clock last night, and the flakes still were falling. The section west, north and east of Lubbock also reported snow and lowered temperatures. The heaviest fall was in Olton, where five inches blanketed the ground. Plainview received four inches. Whiteface had about an inch of snow.

Snow also was reported in Littlefield, Levelland, Brownfield, Floydada, Muleshoe and Crosbyton. Reports of rain came from Lamesa, Matador, Tahoka and Post. Garza county was visited by a hard rain at noon Monday and roads in that section were reported difficult. Lightning accompanied the rain.

Mercury Drop Steady

Monday was one of the few days when the mercury fell steadily all day. The high temperature, the South Plains Pipe Line company reported, was 42 at 1 a. m. yesterday. The low was 32 degrees, registered first at 7 o'clock and each hour afterward until 10 o'clock last night. Here's the way the mercury skidded Monday: 1 to 4 a. m., 42 degrees; 5 and 6 a. m., 40 degree; 7 and 8 a. m., 39; 9 to 11, inclusive,

Fear Is Felt For Safety Of Woman, 2 Children

UNEASINESS was felt here at 1 o'clock a. m. Tuesday for Mrs. Herman Seeds, 2324 Third street, who left Happy for Lubbock at 3:20 Monday afternoon in an automobile.

Mr. Seeds telephoned officers at Happy, Kress, Tulia and Plainview seeking to locate his wife, but had no word of her at 1 o'clock. She should have arrived in Lubbock shortly after 7 o'clock, the husband said.

Mrs. Seeds, her two children, William Allen, 2, and Mary Jo, 4, and her mother, Mrs. W. P. Jones, left Lubbock at 11 a. m. Monday and arrived in Happy four hours later. Mrs. Jones continued by train to Canyon, where she is to enroll in West Texas State Teachers college.

Seeds was informed by Mrs. Jones last night from Canyon that a hitch-hiker was picked up on the outskirts of Lubbock, that the man, who first said he was going to Tulia, decided to come back to Lubbock and that he was in the Seeds car when the return trip was started.

Mrs. Seeds had about $26 in cash, her husband said.

The transient whom Mrs. Seeds and Mrs. Jones picked up acted queerly, the latter told the husband last night. He told the women, Mrs. Jones said, that he had been working at Littlefield, but that he was going to Tulia where he had work. His home was in Plainview, they were informed.

When the women reached Tulia, the hitch-hiker informed them that he would go on to Amarillo. Mrs. Jones gave her daughter $23 in cash at Happy and the hitch-hiker saw the exchange of money. Later he decided to make the return trip to Lubbock. Mrs. Jones said she did not know his name.

The women drove to Happy in four hours and inclement weather should not have made driving much longer on the way back, said Seeds last night. He said the distance was about 85 miles.

First Test Case Of Texas' Reduction Law Filed Monday

FRANKLIN, Jan. 4. (AP)—An injunction suit, the first test case under Texas' new cotton acreage curtailment law, was filed here today by T. L. Tyson, Robertson county attorney, against Fred L. Smith, farmer.

The suit alleged Smith was making arrangements to plant more cotton this year than the statute permitted, the law forbidding the planting in 1932 of more than 30 per cent of the acreage on which cotton was grown in 1931.

Sinclair And Prairie Oil Merger Soon Is Expected

TULSA, Jan. 4 (AP)—Tulsa oil and bank circles heard persistent reports today that the prolonged delay over merger of the Sinclair and Prairie Oil companies had ended and that the deal would be consumated this month.

The reports, coming from persons high in the councils of both parties to the merger who declined to be quoted directly, were followed by denials from Tulsa, Independence, Kas., and from New York, that any statement was authorized at this time.

Leonard Pearson Free Of Charges

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.— (AP) — The United States today withdrew its appeal to the supreme court to test the action of a lower federal court in quashing an indictment returned at Amarillo, Tex., in May, 1931, against Leonard L. Pearson.

Pearson was named temporary receiver of the estate of A. A. Timian, who went bankrupt in Lubbock. An indictment against Pearson charged he concealed assets amounting to $80.

The trial court quashed the indictment on the ground no demand had been made on Pearson for the money and that the government had failed to prove he had refused to pay it.

First Methodist Circles Name Officers

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

THIS call of the Sanders Aid Sunday school for books and magazines to go in their circulating library should receive a hearty response from people of Lubbock. There are few homes in which good magazines do not accumulate and these should be passed on to other people to read. Most people have some good books that they have read and that are now lying in book cases. Even if these are regarded with considerable attachment, many of these will do a lot of good if placed in the Sanders library.

Mrs. J. T. Hart is acting as librarian and has the books and magazines in her home, which is on north Avenue H, near the people for whom this reading material is intended. Right now, particularly, there are many people who want good reading material who are not able to buy it.

This should not be considered an opportunity to dispense with a lot of trash. Books that are not good reading are not wanted in the library. Those sponsoring the reading circle are expecting it to appeal to youngsters of that district and give them some ideals. However, please don't give them a lot of stories with poorly disguised morals. Somehow, I have a feeling that these stories with morals are almost as bad as stories that are decidedly demoralizing. And there are plenty of good interesting books in the world in which the author has no idea of "preaching."

Most good magazines are interesting several months or years after publication. If you think that isn't true, pick up some magazine for last July that you haven't seen before and read it.

Magazines, particularly, that can be used in this library should be placed there instead of burned. These things can be taken to Mrs. Hart's home at 316 Avenue H or they will be delivered by a committee of which Mrs. A. T. Biggers is chairman, if she is notified.

CHATTER

PURELY personal likes and dislikes: Cold rainy days in the winter always start those lines, "The day is cold and dark and dreary . . ." running through my mind. Spring rains start me to singing "It isn't raining rain to me" . . . Exchange newspapers always look more interesting when they are piled on the desk of the news director, C. W. Ratliff. Even when busy, I usually stop to look through one or two there . . . Two diamond rings or more on one finger always look ostentatious to me . . . for that matter, two rings of any kind except the traditional engagement and wedding ring . . . When angered, I get so mad it makes me sick but the next day I can't remember what it was all about. People who hold grudges are mysteries to me . . . I always read classified advertising sections of big newspapers, real estate and all, even though I'm not interested in buying anything . . .

Picture shows of domestic difficulties are usually very tiresome but I can see a good comedy twice and like it—even the slap stick variety . . . Bands or orchestras in churches always ruin the service for me and I prefer any sort of an organ to a piano for religious services . . .

Once I like a person, I seldom change my attitude although there are few people to whom I take an instant liking . . . There is no food I dislike more than liver . . . I like to sing when I work although I can't remember the words to more than a half-dozen songs and I don't suppose I know more than one verse of any song . . . If the melody is pretty, I had just as soon listen to a song in Greek or Chinese as English . . . Modern verse has very little charm but I like silly jingles and the poetry written by such men as Tennyson, Shelley and Longfellow . . . I have no patience with a lazy person and no morbid curiosity concerning dead or sick people . . .

There are few things that can arouse more of my sympathy than a hurt dog . . . People who violate confidences, particularly those that are necessary in many businesses, have none of my respect and the same things holds for people whom I consider gossipers. I believe I have less tolerance for those two things than for many things that are considered utterly criminal . . . There are few people whom I consider true Christians and some of these seldom attend church . . . I like a person with a good sense of humor and yet I'm frequently told that I have none . . .

Few things give me more pleasure than "puttering" around in a garden and I like to plant things whether or not they are going to work into any sort of a beautiful landscape scheme . . . I like to clean a dirty room but I hate to simply pick-up things on the surface . . . I have a "phobia" about railroad crossings . . . I never cry and have no patience with women who weep . . . Fads in clothing mean little to me and once I become attached to a dress or a hat I wear it regardless of the current fashion. Moreover, I'm perfectly comfortable when so costumed. I like to speculate about the professions of strangers that pass in railway stations or in restaurants . . . I never expect to buy a fur coat . . . One of my desires is to spend a Christmas in Havana and another is to visit Australia . . . Argument is an entrancing pastime . . . I dislike highly polished and colored fingernails . . .

Sanders Union Sunday School Is To Foster Circulating Library; Donation Asked From Lubbock People

Good books and magazines are being sought from Lubbock people to go into the Sanders school library at this time. The Sanders Union Sunday school is fostering the enterprise.

First announcements of this library were made the latter part of November and since then about fifty volumes have been donated. However, in the Christmas rush people forgot about the appeal and an additional one is being made now, according to George Dupree, superintendent of the school, and others who assist there. The Church Women's Federation was told of this library at a meeting in November and several promised books at that time.

Good books are sought, Mr. Dupree announced. Magazines that collected during the last few months contain good reading material and will be welcomed, he said.

Mrs. J. T. Hart, 316 Avenue H, is librarian and will receive books and magazines at her home. If there are donations that cannot be taken to her, the books will be called for if word is called to telephone 1092, it was announced.

This library is to circulate in the Sanders school district.

Cold Insurance

He carries it with him, ready for just such times. That little box of Bayer Aspirin. If he catches cold, what of it? Bayer Aspirin will stop it. If his throat feels sore, he will end the soreness with one good gargle made from these tablets.

Dangerous complications can follow the neglect of "a common cold!" Every case of tonsilitis began with "just a sore throat!" It's a wise plan to take aspirin after any undue exposure to bad weather, or whenever there is any chance that you've caught cold. If it's genuine aspirin it can't possibly hurt you; and how it does banish the aches and pains caused by colds, neuralgia, neuritis, lumbago, and even rheumatism.

Bayer Aspirin will insure your comfort through the worst cold season. The more susceptible you are to colds, the more you need it. Does not depress the heart.

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

Interesting Peoples

Among the other "interesting people," so many of whom newspaper men are continually meeting, is George Zaharias, wrestler. George plays the part of the fow villain in the plot. The crowd hates and boos him—and pays him $25,000 a year.

The Shanty

They laughed when J. Francis "Shanty" Hogan reported for training last spring at San Antonio. The only bigger thing than Shanty in the town was the hotel where the Giants slept (or where some of them slept, at least). He weighed 390 pounds, most of it around the waist. And the other day when they published the National League averages, lo! the name of Hogan led all the catchers in fielding with an average of .996. He made two errors out of 525 chances.

The Strangler

In writing of interesting people, there comes to mind Strangler Lewis and some remarks he made recently on the "new holds" in wrestling. Mr. Lewis says the newfangled airplane spin was used widely 20 years ago. They called it an overhead slam then.

The Howley

Consider Dan Howley, who should have been congressman, president, chautauqua lecturer, comic strip artist or Chinese interpreter, but who is honestly devoting his attention to the management of a ball team known as the Cincinnati Reds.

The Duffer

Then there is John Q. Duffer. He was interesting last year when he tried to putt the then new larger-lighter golf ball, and twice as interesting when he set out to describe the silly thing. Judgment must be reserved somewhat, however, on old John Q. until his opinions are aired concerning the now new larger heavier pellet he will try to putt in good old 1932.

The Mack

Some attention must be paid to Connie Mack, in a consideration of people who interest you. Mr. Mack saw his 1931 ball team take up the bat and perish by it, yet he says slugging will decide the world championship in 1932, and he'll be darned if he'll try to teach his boys to steal bases.

The McGraw

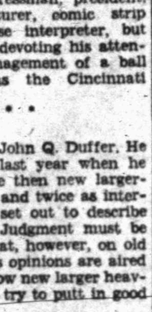

How can John J. McGraw help but interest you when he holds a long, solemn conference with Phil Ball, owner of the St. Louis Browns, in the course of which he tries to persuade Ball to kiss and make up with Judge Landis? This, from McGraw!

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

The $15,000 prize money for the Agua Caliente open championship, Jan. 12-16, will be cut up 25 ways . . . a little something for everybody . . . the first prize will be five grand . . . from this figure the prizes range down to $350 for tenth place . . . besides there are a number of awards of $200, $100 and $50 . . . "In addition to the money prizes for professionals," says Agua Caliente professional Leo Diegel, "suitable awards of course will be made for the leading amateurs." . . . Why, to be sure, Leo, to be sure! . . . A little something even for the amateurs!

Watch Avalanche For Own Stories Of N. Y. Parley

Coach P. W. Cawthon of Texas Tech has returned home after representing Tech at the American Coaches convention and the National Intercollegiate Athletic association meeting at New York City.

CAWTHON

Purposely he kept a complete notebook of the happenings that transpired, and indiscreetly he left this notebook where the prying eyes of a reporter could find it.

The reporter sought and gained permission to use the contents for an exclusive story for the Morning Avalanche and tomorrow morning's issue will carry the first of perhaps a series of articles dealing with the "inside" business of the conference. The conference, or the most interesting parts of it, were barred to the press and so far as the Morning Avalanche knows, no other paper in the nation will carry the details which this paper plans to print.

Among the outstanding features of the articles will be selections from a lengthy report made to the conference by Lou Little, chairman of an investigations committee which was appointed a year ago. Little is head coach at Columbia university. He has gained statistics which tell "the other side" of the so-called "over-emphasis" of football, and, believe us, there are some interesting points.

A. Denville, the new Conservative member of Parliament in England, has announced that he will give his parliamentary salary of $1,800 to local charities.

Drown Salutes Westerners In Final Banquet

Gold Footballs Are Awarded To Letter Men And Coaches When Westerners Meet In Last Social Together

Members of the 1931 Lubbock High school Westerner football team, district and bi-district champions of Districts 1 and 2, Coaches Weldon Chapman, Burl Huffman and Swede McMurry of the high school and Coach P. W. Cawthon of Texas Tech were feted last night by Leroy Drown, manager of Hotel Hilton, at an oyster dinner at the hotel.

Westerner lettermen and Coaches Chapman and Huffman were awarded gold footballs at the close of the dinner and speech session as a token of esteem and appreciation for them on the part of Lubbock business men. The campaign for the awards was carried on in The Plainsman's column of the Daily Journal. Twenty-three awards were made.

It was the final social get-together for the district champions of 1931 and concluded a series of three dinners and banquets honoring them. The first was held at the home of Captain Bob Crawford, the second at the Lubbock hotel.

Team Members Talk

Last night's affair was an exclusive "invitation" dinner, strictly informal and highly gratifying. With Coach Chapman acting as toastmaster, each of the players was introduced and asked to "get anything off his chest that might happen to be there." Those members who concluded their high school gridiron career with the close of the late season expressed, to a man, their deep regard for their coaches, for the citizens who have supported them, for each other and for the remnants of the team which must serve as a nucleus for next season's lineup.

An honor guest, Coach Cawthon spoke briefly of his experiences in New York last week while attending the American Coaches Convention and National Intercollegiate Athletic Association meeting and recounted humorous sketches in connection with his work as college coach. Immediately following the dinner he took a train for Greenville where he will be honor guest at a banquet honoring Henry Prnka's Greenville High school Lions tomorrow night.

Awards Are Made

In the absence of The Plainsman, who evidently did not get his shoe laces pressed in time for the engagement, Collier Parris, sports editor of the Morning Avalanche and Daily Journal, delivered the gold football awards to the following letter men:

Will Ed Watson, end; Rosser Abbott, tackle; Melvin Griggs, guard; Captain Bob Crawford, center; Cotton Welch, guard; Bert Williams, tackle; Dalton Blagg, end; O. H. Britton, quarterback; Cecil Merrill, halfback; Mack Scoggin, halfback; Gene Barnett, fullback.

Louis Spears, tackle; Bill Davidson, halfback; Elmer Calhoun, tackle; John Bell, end; Gene Brown, end; Charley Crenshaw, quarterback; Chester McCarty, center, and R. L. Stovall, fullback. Gold footballs were also awarded Student Managers Denman and Chandler, and to Coaches Chapman and Huffman.

Eight members of the regular team of 1931 received high school diplomas at mid term and have signified their intentions of enrolling at Texas Tech. They are Captain Bob Crawford, Bert Williams, Will Ed Watson, Cotton Welch, Melvin Griggs, Rosser Abbott, Mack Scoggin and Cecil Merrill.

Germany's Pride Looks Ready And Fit For Battle; Hopes To Meet Jack Dempsey After Scrapping Walker

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 4. (AP) — Max Schmeling arrived here today from Germany on a business trip that he hopes will net him $1,000,000, although his business isn't what it used to be.

The heavy champion boxer of the world, looking as fit and ready for conflict as the day he battered down young Stribling in Cleveland last July, is here for a title match with Mickey Walker in Miami, Feb. 25, and, he hopes, an engagement with Jack Dempsey, the comeback king, in June.

If Dempsey returns to the heavyweight wars by June, and success still clings to the Schmeling banner, Max hopes to settle his differences with Jack Sharkey in some prominent ring by September. On these plans, despite the depression that has hit the fight business, the champion bases his hope of the $1,000,000 bank account by the time he sails again for Germany in the fall.

McMurry Grid Team Not To Elect Captain; Fear Jinx

ABILENE, Jan. 4. (AP)—To escape a five-year jinx the McMurry college Indians will play the 1932 football season without a captain.

Ovid Donaldson, chosen captain of the 1927 squad, dived into shallow water before the season opened and died from a broken neck.

Clyde Park, 1928 captain, broke a leg in the final game. Howard Miller, who led the team in 1929, had a narrow escape in an automobile wreck.

In 1930 Buck Osborn was injured in the first game and could not return to the lineup until midseason.

Captain Bob Fulkerson of the 1931 squad suffered a wrenched knee in the last game of 1930 and was handicapped throughout last fall.

"I don't want to put any of my players at a disadvantage in 1932," Coach R. M. Medley said. "We simply will not elect a captain."

Residents Have To February 1 To Pay Their Poll Taxes

Lubbock county residents have until February 1 in which to pay poll taxes or to receive exemptions.

County residents whose names are not on the tax rolls can pay their poll tax. A man may pay his own poll tax and that of his wife, too, or only his own if he wishes, W. H. Carpenter, deputy collector, pointed out. At the same time a woman may pay her own poll tax and not that of her husband.

Exemptions will be granted for persons who will be 21 years of age before the elections but who are not 21 January 1, this year, and for persons over 60 years of age.

Marion Harmon, star tackle for Southern Methodist university, injured himself without going on the field. He twisted his shoulder pulling a jersey over his head.

Mr. Hearst's Suggestion

ALTHOUGH he is probably the most powerful individual in America today and although he has made an unparalleled success in the publishing business in this country, The Morning Avalanche rarely looks to William Randolph Hearst for leadership in politics—or in anything else, for that matter.

But when the great chain publisher took up the cudgel for John Nance Garner as a Democratic Presidential possibilty we could not help but breathe an appreciative 'amen'. Mr. Hearst may be wrong about a lot of things, as many people firmly believe. But in offering the name of Congressman Garner, Mr. Hearst has offered the name of a man whose type is sorely needed in high public office.

Hard-working, practical and at times almost blunt, Mr. Garner is probably closer to the people than any man whose name is today coupled with Presidential possibility. Further, he is not an overnight national character. He has spent more than a score of years in a minority party, all the while becoming more and more of an American leader in politics and in legislation.

Mr. Garner boasts no high sounding characterizations of "a great internationalist", "the great engineer", or "the man of the pee-pul", which we believe is in his favor. He is great simply because he is a successful leader who works at the job.

A PRACTICAL IDEA

Announcement of a nation-wide movement, with representatives in Lubbock and other cities throughout the country, for the purpose of increasing interest of students in high schools and colleges in the study of government, has been received from Washington.

The organization, which will be known as The United States Society, will be non-partisan and non-political and will confine its activities to the free distribution of current materials on governmental affairs. The national board of advisers of the Society consists of former President Calvin Coolidge, Elihu Root, Newton D. Baker, John Grier Hibben and Owen D. Young. Local chairman will be announced shortly.

David Lawrence, who has accepted the national chairmanship, announced its purposes in an address before the recent meeting of the Political Science Association of America.

"Our object," he explained, "is to develop from among the youth of America informed leaders for the nation. Conditions are changing so rapidly that textbooks quickly grow out of date and must be supplemented by a constant flow of current information presented comprehensively and without political motive. The plan includes the free distribution of materials for debates as well as class-room discussion and the organization of model Congresses in the high schools and round table conferences in the colleges. Prizes will be awarded to the schools and colleges making the best record in the use of the materials and in the development of parliamentary bodies.

"In every state of the union, delegates will be selected on the basis of school records in debate and a model state legislature will be convened in every state capitol at least once a year. From these 48 model legislatures, delegates in turn will be selected to come to Washington to participate in a model Congress. The expense of these activities as well as the furnishing of books, pamphlets and other documents dealing with governmental topics will be borne entirely by the membership of the Society. None of the officers of the Society will receive compensation for their services and none of the publications of the Society will be sold.

"This is one of the most important undertakings in the field of education which we have witnessed in America and it is timely now because of the widespread interest in the functioning of representative government throughout the world."

Believing staunchly in practical education and feeling that the best way to have well informed leaders in the future is to train them in the present, The Morning Avalanche endorses the principle of The United States Society.

If our schools in Lubbock and over the nation are the places of learning we all hope and believe they are, they will be able to serve admirably in this regard.

Practical Health Problems

DISEASE ATTACKS FINGER NAILS

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, And of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

THERE are certain conditions of work in which the finger nails are destroyed. They separate from the nail beds and come off. Most of these cases seem to occur in laundry workers.

One woman reported that her nails came off following the use of patent washing powder consisting largely of soda. Several women lost their nails following occupation in a position which involved washing the paste from labeled bottles. An investigation indicated that new employes who were apparently healthy developed black spots under their finger nails within 48 hours after beginning work. Within a few days the nails came loose from their nail beds and fell off. The nails grew in again in from four to six months.

Of course, it is fairly simple for anyone who has a tendency to softening and destruction of the nails associated with the occupation in which they happen to be employed to prevent this disturbance by wearing rubber gloves while at work. More and more it is being learned that the skin may be extremely sensitive to various chemical ingredients in certain cases, and that in such cases, even though the majority of people do not have any trouble, a few people who are especially sensitive will suffer irritations and even the loss of tissue following exposure.

The finger nail is a fairly resistant tissue, consisting mostly of Keratin. Ordinary care includes protection of hang nails forming at the edges, the proper use of antiseptics to prevent infection, and a sufficient amount of oil or grease to keep the tissue fairly soft and viable.

Today manicuring has become a profession in which the competence of the workers varies greatly from the poorest to the best. The average woman can take care of her nails quite satisfactorily with a small amount of attention each day. This does not mean the dyeing and the other fashionable fripperies indulged in by professional manicurists. The average finger nail does quite well if left largely alone. Manipulations with drugs, chemicals and unknown cosmetics to meet the needs of fashion are responsible for a considerable amount of annoyance and illness.

McFadden Continues Fight

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Say whatever else about him folk may, Repreventative Louis T. McFadden of Canton (Pa.) is putting up, against almost unbelievable odds, a single-handed fight unprecedented in congressional history.

Louis T. McFadden

It is so extraordinary a performance as to be difficult to account for rationally.

Probably no one will need to be reminded that McFadden is the lawmaker who accused President Hoover of "selling out" the country when he granted his war debt moratorium.

He likewise surely will be recalled as having declared that this suspension of European repayments to Uncle Sam, while at the expense of the American public generally, is to the particular advantage of American bankers who have loaned money abroad since the armistice.

THE double-barrelled character of this charge was such as to arouse the violent indignation alike of enormous political and of equally formidable financial forces, without creating for the Pennsylvanian any compensatingly friendly alignment to stand back of him.

Even Republicans who do not like the president were horrified at McFadden's attack on him, as damaging to the party.

Democrats were, and still are, afraid to support the indictment's author, lest he fail to make good his accusation. Besides, high finance has friends in Democratic as well as in G. O. P. managerial circles.

Progressive insurgents from both old-line groups are suspicious of McFadden, having always deemed him an ultra-standpatter.

A STANDPATTER, indeed, the Pennsylvanian has been—but not invariably a very amenable one, to the voice of standpat authority.

Perhaps this in part explains the present situation.

A man of exceptional ability, during 10 years as chairman of the house of representatives' powerful committee on banking and currency, the Keynote State congressman has seen numerous instances of what he considered short sightedness and crass stupidity among financiers of vast reputation.

Seeing them, it has been his custom to comment on them with more freedom and pungency than tact.

COMMENTATORS suggest it as a possibility that resentments bred thus may have been responsible for the failure of big money's custodians to come to the rescue of enterprises with which McFadden himself has been associated—enterprises which have been in undisguised straits in the last year or two.

It is as a corollary of this suggestion that the same commentators are wondering whether counter-resentment at big money's indifference to his interests' difficulties may not have had its share in inspiring the Pennsylvanian's denunciation of the White House and international banking, in connection with the moratorium.

Regardless of his motive, there can be no question as to Representative McFadden's courage or of the vigor with which he continues to follow up his offensive—an offensive which those against whom it is directed seem curiously hesitant to meet in a toe-to-toe encounter according to parliamentary rules.

HIS DEMAND for an investigation, that he may offer proofs which he says he possesses, in substantiation of his charges, is strangely ignored.

He has been notified, it is true, that his recommendations of appointees to postmasterships in his congressional district no longer will be regarded. "For obvious reasons," as expressed by Presidential Private Secretary Walter H. Newton, he has been dropped from the list of eligibles for social invitations to the White House. Early as it is, preparations already are afoot for a furious campaign to prevent his renomination at Pennsylvania's April primaries.

His accusations, however, have gone unanswered, except for a brief initial outburst of strong language—and even this the G. O. P. managers hastily hushed, up, upon the threat of Representative John E. Rankin, a Mississippi Democrat, to join the Pennsylvanian in pressing for an inquiry otherwise.

McFADDEN, on the other hand, is far from having subsided.

Finding congressional publicity inadequate, he has turned now to the radio, beginning with a broadcast raking his fellow Pennsylvanian, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon over the coals, for delay (so the representative asserts) in his "immediate duty" to collect "practically a billion" of unpaid taxes.

How badly orthodox Republicanism wants to retire him from public life may be judged from the enthusiastic reception it has given to announcement of Mrs. Gifford Pinchot's candidacy against him at the spring primaries.

MUSIC

If you listen, you will hear a strange, sweet music in life. Sit in your arm chair alone in a room, and listen to the clock. Listen to nothing else. Soon you will hear a simple rhythm. The sound is not just one tick after another, measured and exact—but a regular beat and flow of sound.

Listen to life everywhere and you will hear that rhythm. You cannot miss it if you really lean over and cock your ear. Lie on your back in the grass beneath a tree. The sounds of the little people that live close to the earth will make music. That green landscape becomes a widespread symphony.

Look about you at the lives of all the people you know. You will hear or see that strange music. It is not all discord, not all a haphazard, higgiety-pigiety of sound. It may be a light song, or it may be a deeply tragic one, but something is there for you to hear—if you only will wait a while—and use your ears—and listen!

It is there and it is yours, if you have but the patience to seek it. It may amuse and tickle you to laughter. It may come crashing in like those immense green waves that thunder on our ocean shores. But it is there in all our lives and you cannot miss it.

Scientists say that certain stars are not as distant as formerly believed. Sort of taking off the high hat.

American women spend $2,000,000,000 a year on cosmetics, which seems a great sum when you observe the men they catch.

EXPLANATION OF LAST SATURDAY'S CARTOON

THE NEW YEAR—When Julius Caesar arbitrarily fixed the length of the solar year at 365 1-4 days he exceeded it by 11 minutes and 14 seconds. Pope Gregory XIII in 1582 ordered 10 days suppressed to correct the error, and the addition of a day each fourth year except centenary years that are not divisible by 400.

The first Julian year began on January 1, 46 B. C. Between then and the beginning of the Christian Era there were only 11 intercalary days, and the astronomical surplus of the year 1 B. C. will forever remain unaccounted for.

The retardation of 29 hours, 9 minutes, and 54 seconds, at the end of 1931, then consists of the surplus of 1 B. C. (5 hours, 48 minutes, 46 seconds), the surplus of 1929, 1930 and 1931 (17 hours, 26 minutes, 18 seconds) and 331-400 of the intercalary day in the year 2000 (1600-1931) (19 hours, 51 minutes, 36 seconds) less the adverse portion of a day which will be omitted in the year 4000 (13 hours, 56 minutes, 46 seconds).

Thus the astronomical year 1932 began at 9 minutes, 54 seconds past 5 A. M. on January 2.

MAD MARRIAGE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

GYPSY McBRIDE, 19, typist in a NEW YORK office, is delayed at work on the morning when she is to meet the boat bringing ALAN CROSBY home from a year and a half studying art in Paris. Gypsy is so eager to meet Alan she does not take time to check the figures she has typed before handing in her work. CLARA HOWARD, also an employe, knows that Gypsy has slighted her work.

Gypsy has known Crosby since the days when both of them lived at the same cheap rooming house and is greatly interested in his success. Crosby's study abroad was made possible by a scholarship. The couple are not engaged but there has been an "understanding" between them and Gypsy is sure he will be as fond of her as when he departed.

She reaches the pier just as the gangplank is lowered, sees Crosby and calls out his name.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER II

There was no sign of recognition on Alan Crosby's face. He came down the gangplank slowly. His gray topcoat was tasteful, inconspicuous. The gray felt hat lowered over his eyes had the faintest touch of the picturesque in its tilt.

Crosby stood half a head above his neighbors. His features were clear-cut, pleasing, and there was an air of distinction about the young man. He had dark eyes and fair skin. His eyes roved the crowd at the foot of the gangplank.

"Alan!" Gypsy cried again.

He heard her. A smile lighted his face and he hurried toward the girl. Gypsy ran to meet him, flung herself into his arms.

"Oh, Alan—I'm so glad you're back! I'm so glad that you've come at last!"

She was clinging to him. Alan's face became a misty vision. Gypsy winked back the tears. She pressed her cheek against Alan's coat and felt the rough, wooly fabric. Slowly, breathlessly, she lifted her head. And then—

"Gypsy" Crosby's voice came cheerfully, heartily. "This is a surprise—I didn't expect to see you here! Say, you're looking great!"

"So are you, Alan!"

The girl's face was radiant. A slight hesitation, then Alan's kiss landed somewhere between Gypsy's right ear and forehead.

"Why, you haven't changed at all!" he grinned. "Same turned-up-nose. Same crop of freckles! No sir, haven't changed a bit." He held her off at arm's length and gazed down at her.

Gypsy loved his teasing. She knew she hadn't a turned-up nose though Alan had always said so. She didn't mind the freckles which once they had quarreled over.

"Alan—are you really glad to see me?"

"Why, of course I am. Of course, dear! Gosh, but it's good to be home and know I'm going to stay a while. Say—maybe I'd better have a look at what's happened to my bags—"

She had to take rapid, short steps to keep up with him. The panorama of noise and confusion, opened luggage, chattering impatient travelers and unhurried inspectors became glamorous now that Crosby was by her side.

"Oh, look, Alan! Look at that woman over there with the funny little monkeys!"

Crosby followed her glance, nodded. He was searching for a well-worn trunk and traveling bag.

"There's a man from India. The one with his head all wrapped up in a turban. Did you meet him, Alan? He looks as though he might be a prince. Or a sultan maybe! No, that's wrong—they're in Turkey, aren't they? Oh, it must be thrilling to cross the ocean on a boat. You've got to tell me all about it, Alan. And, oh, there are a thousand things I want to talk to you about! I don't know where to start—"

Gypsy stopped, aware that the young man was not listening. He had turned and Gypsy's eyes widened as she followed his glance.

Alan was looking far down the pier. A woman stood there. She was dressed in sleek, rich black and her shoulders were wrapped in a luxurious fur scarf. Even Gypsy knew that the costume, the tiny black hat were Parisian. The woman was smiling. She turned so that for an instant Gypsy could see her clearly.

There was a fleeting impression of pale skin and red gold hair. A perfect nose and exotic lips. For the barest moment the woman faced them. Then she raised one gloved hand, waved and disappeared.

"Why—why who—why, Alan—!"

Letters To The Editor

Lubbock Man Urges Moratorium For Nation's Home Owners

Editor, The Avalanche: Congress has voted almost unanimously for a twelve month moratorium for Germany. She was considered our worst enemy in the late World war. She caused millions of our fine young men to be slaughtered on her battle fields and now after 13 years we are voting her a year's delay in paying her war debts.

We would like to enter into further discussion of this but will put it off for another time. Now we want to congratulate our chamber of commerce for the many good things they have done for this city and country, such as locating Tech college and bringing the Denver railroad here. These, with many other things, are worthy of praise.

Now there is another thing this splendid body can now do that is as important, if not more so than any they have yet done.

There is a condition existing here that the most farseeing could reasonably contemplate. That is the loan situation. There are many loans now being closed out. When these loans were made they were made on a basis of forty to fifty percent of the value of the property on which the loans were made. The owners of most of them have paid on them for several years and now in this unprecedented depression to close them out because the owners cannot pay on them is, to say the least, a great wrong.

If Germany, who was our greatest enemy, can have a favorable consideration, why not the home owners have some kind of moratorium until conditions improve. Many of these whose homes are now in jeopardy were old men and women and did not go to war to save the country for democracy, they stayed at home and grew crops to feed the soldiers who sacrificed their lives in what was at that time thought to be the only safety for the country.

Now we think if the chambers of commerce will use their good offices they can induce the loan companies to give some kind of moratorium on these loans. If the amounts paid on the loans could be reckoned as interest, these would show in most cases to have received from six to nine percent on the principals of these loans and the owners would still have their homes and be ready to resume payment on them as soon as conditions improve.

We can conceive of no greater crime than to make the home owners of any state or nation fewer by any law that can be enacted. When banks all over the county are failing and their failures are causing many to be unable to meet their payments and all classes of mercantile businesses are failing, how can the borrowers of these loan companies be expected to pay?

We suggest as a remedy that they apply the payments as interest payments and grant more time before foreclosures are attempted. We feel sure these borrowers do not want to repudiate the debts but they can ill afford to see their homes with all equities swept away from them at this time and under the present conditions.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Relieve Headache And Quiet Nerves In Three Minutes

When you have one of those violent, nerve-racking headaches, from inorganic causes you can get soothing relief in three minutes with "B.C." a reliable, pleasant acting remedy.

"B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most reliefgiving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time.

"B. C." should also be used for the relief of muscular aches and pains, common colds and neuralgia; for reducing fever and quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." wherever drugs are sold in 10c and 25c packages. (Adv.)

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 4. (AP) — The new year started with the cotton market developing a decidedly easier trend. The decline was due to unfavorable foreign news and to decided weakness in stocks. Prices opened half a dollar a bale down and continued to ease off all day with only small rallies. The close was barely steady at the lowest showing net losses for the day of 20 to 25 points, or more than a dollar a bale.

Liverpool cables were poor and political news from India was depressing. Private cables reported Liverpool 4 penny points worse than due with hedge selling and Bombay liquidating. Manchester cabled that political news was restricing business.

The market turned rather easy near the end and made new lows on active months in sympathy with stocks, March dropping to 6.32, May to 6.38 and July at 6.54 or 20 to 25 points below the previous close. The close was right at the bottom.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 4. (AP)—Cotton was lower today under southern selling combined with liquidation and some local and western selling.

The selling seemed to be influenced by the weakness in wheat and stocks and reports of unsettled political conditions in India. March contracts sold off to 6.32 in the late trading or 22 points lower and closed at that figure, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 18 to 22 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 7 to 15 points in response to relatively easy cables which reports of banking troubles in South Carolina, naturally had rather an unsettling effect on sentiment.

Search Intensified

Search for the Youngs, directed to southern Texas by the finding of a wrecked automobile Sunday near Streetman, was intensified tonight by the announcement of Detective Lieut. Claude Beverly that he had learned Harry had been seen at Houston this afternoon.

Young, the Houston police officer said, had attempted to locate his bride of three weeks. Texas rangers and border patrolmen joined city officers in the search for the brothers, for whom total rewards of more than $2,000 have been offered by state, county and city.

Some of the killers are believed by M. L. Woolsey, a policeman, to have passed through Quapaw, Okla., late Saturday night. He said that G. B. Kinder, proprietor of a drug store there, had identified Harry Young through a photograph as a customer who inquired the distance to Tulsa and asked about the killing here.

Authorities here expressed doubt that Charles Floyd, notorious Oklahoma killer, was one of the outlaw garrison of the Young farm house. The proprietor of a Kansas City tire shop identified the Oklahoma gunman as the driver of a car that came to his establishment Sunday. Another man who apparently had been wounded sat in the car.

More than $2,000 today had been pledged toward a fund for assistance of the widows and orphans of the six slain officers. Arch McGregor, a business man, gave $1,000. Three of the victims were buried today.

Stocks Are Depressed To New Average Low For Bear Cycle In Monday Trade

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 4. (AP)—Moderate offerings falling on a market thinly supplied with buying orders depressed stocks to a new average low for the bear cycle today.

Except for a fractional recovery around noon, the market made little compromise with heaviness and ended the day with the 90-stock composite off 2 points to 60.1 against the December 17 minimum of 61.3. Bonds lost their zest for the advance, being especially heavy in the later dealings, coincident with a sag in U. S. governments. Wheat, corn and cotton were off.

That section of Wall street opinion which had been hoping for better things with the advent of a new year felt the market's action was not particularly significant in view of the small turnover, since only 1,515,946 shares changed hands.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP)—The Democratic congressional policy committee will meet Wednesday to give final approval to the party's tax programs.

Working quietly, party leaders in the house and senate have drafted a tentative bill designed to make the added taxation burden as light as possible on people of small income.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 4. Matthews Rites Read On Monday

SLATON, Jan. 4.—(Special) Funeral services were held here this afternoon at the First M. E. church for Mrs. Ella Matthews, 54, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Forrest, of this city, who died Sunday night in a Lubbock hospital.

Mrs. Matthews had been in New Mexico for sime time on account of her health. She became worse and relatives decided to bring her here. On reaching Lubbock her condition became more acute and she died there.

Rev. W. F. Ferguson, pastor of the First Baptist church, assisted by Rev. C. E. Pyke, pastor of the M. E. church, were in charge of funeral services. Burial was on Englewood cemetery.

destitute miners and their families because they are not within reach of local assistance in many instances.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, in the debate on the wheat resolution insisted that this proposal amounts to a "dole" just as much as do federal appropriations for unemployment relief which the president describes with that word.

Given Red Cross

The bill which now goes to the house, would turn the wheat over to the American Red Cross or other charitable organizations designated by the president for distribution. The cost of the wheat would be charged against the revolving fund of the farm board.

The discussion of the dole brought a declaration by Senator Wheeler that "I am against a dole but the dole is credited with saving England from a revolution and if the conditions and affairs continue in this country it will be necessary for the United States to appropriate money out of the treasury to save America from a revolution."

Seven Charged In Violations Here

Liquor charges were filed against seven persons Monday and three others probably will be charged today following raids and arrests made Saturday and Sunday by county and city officers.

Mrs. O. C. Colby, A. B. Richards and A. L. Robinson, charged with possession of intoxicating liquor for purpose of sale, were released on bond yesterday. Bonds of Robinson and Richard were set by Justice H. K. Porter at $1,000 and that of Mrs. Colby at $500. Clyde Bennett, charged with sale of intoxicating liquor, made $1,000 bond also set by Judge Porter.

Complaint charging violation of the prohibition law also were filed against Homer Rents, Tom Ely and Jack Denton. Bond for Denton was set at $1,000 by Justice Porter.

Three Mexicans, arrested early Sunday in a raid near Lubbock, probably will be charged with manufacture and possession of whisky today, the sheriff's department indicated.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 4. (AP)—Dragged down by the undertow from Wall street securities and by adverse action of the cotton market, grain values suffered material losses today.

Rain and snow that for at least the present relieved anxiety concerning domestic winter and spring wheat crop prospects tended to quicken the downward tack. Announcement that reduced freight rates on grain had been set aside by the United States supreme court was received too late to have any immediate market influence.

Wheat closed nervous at about the day's bottom level, 1 1-4@1 5-8 lower than Thursday's finish, corn 1 to 1 1-4 down, oats 3-4 to 7-8 off and provisions showing five to 25 cents decline.

County Declares War On Disorder

Conviction and heavy fines assessed against three negro women in county court Monday afternoon were hailed by county officials as first steps in breaking up alleged disorderly conduct in the Flats, negro section.

A fine of $200 and 20 days in jail was punishment set for Ida Johnson and Lola Simmons, both charged with keeping and aiding a bawdy house. Mary Lee Foster, charged with vagrancy, was fined $70 and court costs, amounting to about $30.

County Judge E. L. Pitts informed the jurors in the cases—all tried together—the county appreciated the verdicts given. Vaughn E. Wilson, county attorney, and William H. Evans, assistant, prosecuted the trio. L. Wesley Read was jury foreman.

Judge Pitts Monday called the criminal docket Monday. Several criminal cases are to be tried this week in county court.

"Shorty" Edwards charged with simple assault was found guilty by Justice H. K. Porter at a trial in justice court Monday. Edwards was fined $1 and costs. Evans represented the state.

Vaughan Gives Postal Report

Receipts Total $114,134.44 For '31; December Thought Record Month; Decline Seen Compared To 1930

Lubbock postal receipts for 1931 exceeded $114,000 and the last quarter of the year, ending Dec. 31, was highest for the twelve-month period, Postmaster John L. Vaughan said Monday.

Total receipts for last year, $114,134.44, were $13,159.18 below the all-time high mark set in 1930. Lowered income for 1931 will cause the postoffice to lose only $100 in salaries for 1932, Vaughan said. He also added that the same size staff which was employed in 1927 had been maintained through the peak year without increase and that he did not believe his force would be cut now.

Receipts of last December were $12,084.19 and $14,294.51 in 1930. The business last month, however, was considerably heavier than during any previous Christmas rush season. Many patrons did not use insurance on the packages, nor send them by special delivery and as a result the total was less.

The three-month period ending with the year accounted for $31,010.24 of the receipts, approximately $2,000 more than any other quarter of 1931. December, as usual, was high month.

Receipts by months:

January, $10,444.54; February, $9,190.28; March, $9,525.58; April, $10,254.14; May, $9,563.38; June, $9,239.62; July, $8,306.14; August, $7,972.97; September, $8,637.55; October, $10,404.54; November, $8,521.01; December, $12,084.19.

Bus Fares In City Slashed

Rearrangement Of Schedule Is Made; Fare Is Cut From 10 To Five Cents; Tokens Must Be Turned In

Effective this morning, five cent bus fares in Lubbock will be started, W. A. Izard, manager of the City Bus Lines, said Monday night. A new schedule of busses was made Sunday.

Bus fare has been ten cents or 15 tokens for $1, and in announcing the new price, Izard also said the tokens are being redeemed at the office. They are being redeemed at the office, but must be brought in before January 10.

Three Round Trips

Only one bus now is in operation, Izard said. It makes three round trips hourly to Texas Technological college, starting at 6:36 a. m. Last run is made at 10:18 p. m., but if there is demand for operation any longer, Izard said the final trip would be moved up an hour.

Under the new schedule the bus makes two trips west on Main and one west on Fourteenth street hourly and two trips east on Sixteenth and one east on nineteenth hourly.

John Standish, "the millionaire from Indianapolis," salesman for the company, smiled broadly when he heard the verdict of acquittal in his case. The two others, acquitted were James L. Woolson, an office worker, and F. J. Lingemann, Milwaukee salesman.

Wagon Load Of "Pippins" Will Tempt Lubbock Theatergoers In "The Apple Cart" Which Comes Here January 18

Eve had only one apple with which to tempt Adam in the garden of Eden, but there are a whole wagon load of pippins with which to tempt the theatregoers in Bernard Shaw's "The Apple Cart" which is to be presented at the Senior High school auditorium at 8 o'clock on the evening of January 18.

As nonsensical and topsy turvy as "Alice in Wonderland" and yet with a very definite appeal to the intelligent theatergoer, Shaw's latest opus offers a variety of possibilities. It combines predictions for the political future of England and America together with the amusing situations and witty dialogue that only Shaw can write.

Bernard Shaw has written many plays, forty-four in all, but he has never written a play before that has had the wide appeal to the theatre going public both here and abroad that "The Apple Cart" has. First produced in Poland, it had a long run there and in Germany, and was later presented by the New York Theater Guild and is now on tour by arrangement with the Theater Guild with A. M. Oberfelder.

The play will be presented here by an excellent cast, most of whom are English and who can present a Shaw play as it should be presented. Headed by Boyd Irwin, the English Star, the cast includes, Ann Berryman, Douglas Walton, Bram Nossen, Norman Pusier, Ruth Belmors, Daisy Belmore, Henry Hall and others. Paul Irving, nationally known as both an actor and director, is directing the production.

Two Fires Result In Damage To City Homes Over Weekend

Home of E. E. Brown, 1945 Avenue N, was practically destroyed by fire of undetermined origin at 2:41 a. m. Monday. The loss was covered by $2,350 insurance, Chief W. E. Twitty of the fire department said.

A farm home, about two miles west of the city limits, was damaged by a fire late Saturday night. The fire department was called on Tech avenue, Chief Twitty said, but they were unable to locate the blaze. Later it was learned the fire was about two miles from town on the Brownfield road.

Lions Club Bachelors Have Surprise Program Outlined

The banquet will replace the Tuesday luncheon. Dinner will be served and the entertainment program will consist of two humorous addresses and music. Besides Kucera, other committee members are Charles Reynolds, Dr. Walter Howard, Vernice Ford and J. W. Jackson.

Milk Bottles Being Stolen

City Officers Casting About For Way To Put A Stop To Petty Thievery; Ordinance Is Not Obeyed

Thefts of milk bottles and milk again has become so prevalent in Lubbock that officials and dairy owners are casting about for means of halting the petty thieving.

An ordinance, passed some time ago, regulating purchase of milk bottles by grocers and others, is not being generally obeyed, although it carries a penalty of fines from $1 to $100, City Manager W. H. Rodgers said Monday. Bottles have a trade or cash value of five cents each.

Every dairy or creamery delivering milk in Lubbock is reporting loss of bottles and milk, it was said Monday. One firm placed its daily loss of bottles at two dozen. Thefts occur in every part of town in which milk is delivered. Bottles are stolen more frequently during early morning and late evening hours.

Persons charged in connection with milk bottle thefts will be prosecuted, Rodgers said, but he pointed out the difficulty of catching anyone in the act. The city manager himself has lost several bottles of milk.

Dairymen yesterday said the thefts had increased rapidly the last two weeks. In recent conferences with Rodgers, possibility of purchasing new milk bottles with imbedded identifying metal plates was considered.

The present ordinance regulating purchase of the bottles requires stores selling milk to give a ticket with the bottle and requires that no bottles be purchased except when a ticket is presented again.

Two Bandits In Amarillo Sought

AMARILLO, Jan. 4. (AP)—Police today were looking for two men who pistol whipped and robbed a woman.

The masked bandits took $115 in cash and five diamond rings, roughly valued at $1,500, from Mrs. Florence Walton, proprietor of a local road house. They beat her into unconsciousness and left her bound, blindfolded and gagged in an old lake bed half a mile away.

Mrs. Walton was attacked as she stepped from her automobile, after a visit to the postoffice. After she slumped under the blows, the bandits took her to the lake bed where they beat her unmercifully, police said. So terrific were the blows that the handles were jarred from the pistol butts. She will recover from the beating.

Lubbock County Woman Dies At Home Near City Monday

Mrs. Ellen Adams, 65, resident of Lubbock county six years, died at her home, three miles north of Lubbock, at 5:20 o'clock Monday afternoon of pneumonia.

Funeral services probably will be held here Tuesday afternoon, with burial in a local cemetery. The Sanders funeral home will be in charge.

Mrs. Adams is survived by four sons and daughters, all of whom were attending their mother at her death. They are Dick and Elmer Adams of Lubbock, Miss Annie Adams of Lubbock, and Mrs. H. Powers of Baytown.

The Y. M. C. A. flag captured near Ostend by the Germans in the World war, has just been presented to the Y. M. C. A. branch at Scarborough, England.

MAD MARRIAGE

by LAURA LOU BROOKMAN Author of "HEART HUNGRY," etc.

Gypsy stopped, stared up at Crosby. She noted the answering smile with which he received the signal. This was no stranger; this lovely creature was someone Alan knew.

Fear, gripping and terrifying, fastened itself about Gypsy McBride's heart.

"You—you know her?" she asked tremulously.

Crosby's brow lifted. "Know who? What are you talking about?"

"The woman in black—the one who waved? She's beautiful!"

The young man was casual, too casual, a person of more experience might have said. He laughed easily. "You're seeing things, Gypsy. There are a dozen women around here wearing black. None of them very beautiful, though, to my mind. I don't know which one you mean!"

The chill about Gypsy's heart half melted. Then it congealed again.

"I mean the beautiful woman who just went away," she said. "She was standing there. Wearing furs and a little black hat. She waved to you, Alan."

Now it was Alan who seemed confused though he tried elaborately to hide it.

"Oh, you must mean Mrs. Langley," he said carelessly. "At least it sounds like her. Funny—I didn't see her wave. Just a passenger I met on shipboard. Sorry I didn't get around to say goodby. She'll think me rude."

Another day Gypsy might have doubted. Today she so wanted to believe the explanation.

"Don't worry! She'll understand. Maybe I just imagined she was waving at you .I've been so excited today it wouldn't be a wonder!"

It was 20 minutes before she and Alan had reached the street and another 10 before they were in a taxicab.

"Where to, Gypsy?"

"Same old place—Mrs. O'Hare's. You're invited to lunch. Oh, you must come!" she went on as Crosby seemed to hesitate. "You must, Alan! She's expecting you."

He gave the driver the address and settled back.

"Well, that's darned nice but you see—!"

Gypsy silenced him. "Not another word," she declared. "It's settled. Why, I'd lose my happy home if I failed to bring you. You just ought to hear the way Mrs. O'Hare talks about you. Honestly, she calls you a genius!"

Crosby grinned. He covered Gypsy's hand with his own.

"I'll make her my press agent," he said. "All right, I'll come! And now how about you, Gypsy? Tell me all about yourself!"

"But there's nothing to tell! I want to hear about you."

They laughed like youngsters. Partly it was excitement and partly embarrassment. After nearly two years of separation they were finding, as have so many others, that the really important subjects were elusive. They talked of inconsequential things—the day, which was sunshiny for late February, traffic the tower of a new skyscraper, a chewing gum advertisement glaring down from the heavens. Crosby was enthusiastic about everything.

"You are glad to be back, aren't you?" Gypsy sighed happily.

"Bright girl! So you've noticed it?"

She didn't mind his laughing at her, Anyhow, Alan was always teasing.

"And you're really glad to see me?"

"Of course I am. You're a sweet kid, Gypsy. Coming all the way to the boat to meet me!"

"You — you don't think I've changed, do you, Alan?"

"Madam, you don't look a day over 40! I give you my word for it you don't look a day older."

She chose another subject.

"Tell me about the trip. Tell me about that woman—what was her name?—the one you said you talked to on the boat."

"Oh, nothing very exciting about the trip. We had a little rough weather the second day. There were lots of nice people on board."

"Yes, but I mean the one who was so beautiful! You know. Mrs.—I can't remember what you called her."

"Oh, I guess you mean Mrs. Langley. She's just an American woman who happened to be coming home from Paris. We sat at the same table."

"Must be rich, isn't she?"

"Oh, I don't know."

"Where's her husband?"

"Say—you seem to be unusually interested. She hasn't any husband. She's divorced. That's all I know about her. Is that enough?"

* * *

He was annoyed. Not for the world would Gypsy have had that happen. She sat very still, lashes lowered. Then she heard his voice.

"Now I've hurt your feelings! I'm sorry. Forget it, will you, Gypsy?"

"But there's nothing to forget! Everything's all right—really!"

Crosby kissed her. This time on the cheek and tenderly. Almost immediately the cab stopped.

"Why, we're here!" exclaimed the girl. "Does the place look familiar?"

"Certainly does. Oh, oh—new curtains! Gypsy, you shold have prepared me for the shock. New curtains! Gypsy, you should have preyesterday that I left."

She ran up the steps ahead of him but before she could push the bell the door opened. Mrs. O'Hare in her best blue silk, her black hair glorified by bobbing ringlets, appeared in the hallway.

"Mr. Crosby!" she cried. "My, but it's grand to see you home again!"

"Thank you, Mrs. O'Hare. It's fine to see you."

"And your old room is waiting for you," the landlady went on crisply. "It's had fresh paint and a new carpet since you saw it last. But never mind about that now. Dinner'll get cold! Come in and let me take your hat and coat. Everything's ready, Gypsy. Come right on to the dining room!"

There was a heartiness about Mrs. O'Hare which swept all else before her. Crosby and Gypsy found themselves in the rear dining room. Other guests crowding about them.

"It's a surprise!" Gypsy explained. "Mrs. O'Hare wouldn't let me tell you. All of the other roomers are here."

Hasty introductions followed. The hostess led Alan to the head of the table. "You're to sit here, Mr. Crosby," she said. "Gypsy you take this chair on the left."

The young man hesitated.

"I wonder—would you mind if I made a telephone call?" he asked.

"Why, certainly not. You remember where the 'phone it."

The others found their places and the seconds dragged as, with unusual formality, they stood waiting. Two fiery circles burned in Gypsy McBride's cheeks.

It must have been nearly five minutes before the young man returned to his place beside Mrs. O'Hare.

"I'm terribly sorry," he said soberly, "but I must ask you to excuse me. Something unexpected has come up. It's—it's a business matter. I hope you won't mind?"

The young man smiled winningly. A minute later he was gone.

RANCHMAN DIES

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 4. (AP)—F. A. Gray, 32, ranchman near McCamey, died in a hospital here early yesterday from a fractured skull sustained Dec. 29 when he fell from a cliff near Rankin while hunting wolves. Burial was made yesterday afternoon at Ozona. Surviving are the widow, parents and four brothers, all of Ozona, and three sisters.

TWO ARE DEAD

DEL RIO, Jan. 4. (AP)—Dave Bolner, 33, and Douglas Irving, of Del Rio, were dead today, victims of accidental shootings over the weekend. Bolner was shot accidentally by a hunting companion on a ranch in Uvalde county, and Irving was injured fatally while attempting to remove a lodged cartridge from a small caliber rifle.

REPORT FAVORABLE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4. (AP)—The senate judiciary committee today reported favorably the nomination of W. I. Rampendahl as United States attorney for eastern Oklahoma.

Treating symptoms won't stop the cold-infection from multiplying internally.

Colds must be driven out from within, otherwise you risk dangerous complications which often begin with a slight cold.

School Destroyed By Fire On Xmas

SHALLOWATER, Jan. 4. (Special) Because a fire of unknown origin Christmas day, destroyed the Pep school in Hockley county. Miss Elizabeth Lupton, principal, and her sister Miss Jean Lupton, a teacher were unable to resume their work.

The Pep school was built in 1925 at a cost of $35,000. It was of brick. None of the books were saved. The building was partly covered by insurance.

No steps have been taken to rebuild. It is reported here a temporary four-room building will be built for classe work. Later it is to be used for a teacherage, if built.
