APPROPRIATION PROVIDES FOR 150,000 ARMY

Fund Set Aside by Congress Authorizes Strength of Less Than Fixed Last Week.

Number Cut at Suggestion of President-Elect Harding, Who Believes Size Sufficient.

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Provision has been made in the annual army appropriation bill for an army of only 150,000, at the suggestion of President-elect Harding, Representative Anthony of Kansas, chairman of the house appropriations sub-committee, which drafted the measure, said tonight in announcing that the bill was ready to be reported to the house.

The proposed army of 150,000 which compares with the present army of about 213,000 men, and with the army of 175,000 men fixed in a resolution recently adopted by the house and senate was suggested by Mr. Harding as a proper maximum, Chairman Anthony said, at the recent conference which he held with the president-elect at Marion. Mr. Harding, according to Mr. Anthony, expressed the belief that an army of 150,000 men, together with the reserves, national guard and other available forces, should provide sufficient military establishment for the nation in time of peace.

The army appropriation bill, which probably will be submitted to the house tomorrow, carries appropriations totalling $328,000,000, which sum represents a reduction of $62,000,000 from the appropriation for the present year, and a cut of more than half in the estimates amounting to $690,000,000 submitted by the war department.

The drastic cut in the appropriation, Chairman Anthony said, was in no way connected with disarmament discussion, but resulted from the conviction of committee members that "the army has been living too high."

The sub committee went over the measure today, making final revisions and the net result was an elimination of about $2,000,000 from the total of $230,000,000 which the committee several days ago was reported to have agreed on.

The most drastic of the appropriation cuts, Chairman Anthony said, was in the amount provided for the pay of civilian employes of the army and war department. The decrease decided on by the committee, he said, would reduce the number of such employes by one-half and mean the dismissal of from 30,000 to 50,000.

Nearly all construction would be eliminated under the bill and keeping within its provisions, Mr. Anthony said, would mean that the war department must dispose of at least half of the present army camps.

The committee, Mr. Anthony said, felt that the American troops in Germany would be withdrawn in a few months and this influenced it in framing the bill. Testimony before the committee, he said, showed that the expenses of maintaining the troops on the Rhine to Dec. 1, amounted to $270,000,000, of which Germany has paid only $30,000,000.

"As far as we know," the chairman added, "the war department is making no effort to make Germany pay up."

Salaries paid to civilian employes in the vocational training department last year reached about $1,400,000, Mr. Anthony said, adding that the amount which could be expended for this item under this bill would be limited to $50,000.

The bill would direct the war department to sell 10,000 of its 40,000 reserve motor trucks and 20,000 of its 38,000 surplus horses and mules, which Mr. Anthony said were found to be costing the government $9,000,000 a year for feed and care.

PALM BEACH VISITED BY NEXT PREXY

Harding Calls at Fashionable Winter Resort for Brief Time.

By Associated Press.

PALM BEACH, Fla., Jan. 27.—President-elect Harding paid a visit to the fashionable colony here today on his vacation trip along the coast of Florida.

Changing his plans at the last moment, he spent several hours ashore and did not board his houseboat "Victoria" until evening, for the last lap of the southward journey to Miami. The Victoria will leave tomorrow and is expected to reach Miami, Saturday.

Eluding a crowd which had gathered at the docks of the winter resort hotels, Mr. Harding went ashore this evening at the cottage of Joseph Ritter, a friend of Henry P. Fletcher, a member of the Victoria's party. After a private luncheon there, he played golf at the Country club and afterwards was a guest at a dinner at the Everglades club.

More than $10,000,000,000 of the bonds and other securities held in trust by the treasury, which totalled $12,308,849,043.34 2-3, acting Treasurer Allen announced, consisted of evidence of the indebtedness of the allied nations. The presence of the two-thirds of a cent in the figures was explained by treasury officials as due to a bond in the state of Tennessee for $1,666.66 2-3, held by the treasury for the secretary of interior, as part of a number of Indian trust bonds, purchased for the benefit of Indians from the proceeds of the sale of government lands to them.

The last count of the treasury's cash and securities in 1913 showed a grand total of $1,426,422,051.48 2-3, of which the total cash was $199,231,911.90

WAGE CUTTING CONSIDERED BY RAILWAY HEADS

Executives of American Rail Road Lines Will Discuss Reductions in Salaries at Meeting Today.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—General wage reductions on the larger railroads all over the country will be considered tomorrow by the labor committee of the American Association of Railway Executives in an effort to solve what railroad officials say is a precarious transportation situation. The meeting will make definite recommendations to the association, with a view to bringing the matter before the United States railroad labor board.

W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania lines and Chairman Fod, the labor committee arrived to convene the committee. Tomorrow's meeting will be held behind closed doors, but it was predicted by railroad officials that the committee's recommendations would be for some sort of reduction in wages.

The committee's meeting is held in accordance with a resolution adopted by the association on January 7. The resolution "brings to the attention of all member roads the necessity to observe all rates of pay and working conditions as now established by the United States railroad board until the same are changed by orderly process." Meanwhile, the subject was referred to the labor committee, for early consideration and report as to the appropriate action in accord with the transportation and keeping with changing economic conditions.

Failure of increased rates to earn the expected revenue, decrease in business, the present large payroll, and high operating expenses, were given as the reasons for probable action before the railroad labor board to cut wages.

"Many railroads are in bad financial condition," declared Samuel O. Dunn, advisory counsel to the Association of Railway Executives today. "This is due to a decline in business and failure of the rates to earn the revenue expected. Railroads, during September, October and November, 1920, when they did their heaviest business, failed to earn the large net returns expected.

"The roads have made reductions in their forces, necessitated by the decline in business. They are operating as economically as possible and they found no way out except to reduce the payroll. The 1917 payroll of $1,700,000,000 is today increased to $3,700,000,000 and as a result many roads in bad financial condition. Beginning with November, there has been a decline in business until the freight movement is now less than two-thirds of what it was three months ago. Apparently there is no way out except to reduce wages."

U. S.-ENGLISH SHIP COVENANT IS EXPLAINED

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Officials of the International Mercantile Marine company, headed by P. A. S. Franklin, president, today gave the shipping board, sitting as an investigating body, their story of their 20-year agreement with the British government, stipulating that they "pursue no policy injurious to the interests of the British mercantile marine of British trade." This agreement was brought to the notice of the board last week through an address by Senator Jones of Washington before the National Mercantile Marine association.

President Franklin reviewed the history of his company and vigorously defended its policies, which he characterized as being "100 per cent American, all times." He presented a list of shareholders to substantiate his statement that 94 per cent of the company was owned by Americans, "in the United States," and offered other papers to show the "Americanism" of his managing officials, none of whom, he declared, were foreigners.

Questions by the board developed that 87 per cent of the more than 1,000,000 tons of shipping operated by the International Mercantile Marine was registered abroad and was subject to requisition by those foreign governments in case of war. Attention also was directed during the course of the hearing to the clause in the agreement specifying that a majority of the directors of subsidiary companies in England must be British subjects.

WICHITA FALLS OFFERS GRAHAM CO-OPERATION

Local Business Men Visit New Oil Town to Attend Chamber of Commerce Dinner.

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Jan. 27.—The co-operation of Wichita Falls, of its citizenship, of its city government, and of its Chamber of Commerce were offered the people of Graham tonight by Mayor Walter Cline, who headed a delegation of 25 or 30 Wichitans, who attended the Reorganization dinner of the Graham Chamber of Commerce, and who spoke of the mutuality of interests between the two places.

Mayor Cline spoke at length of the problems which the people of Graham will be called on to face—problems common to all oil towns. He spoke especially of the problems they will meet in providing water, sewer, school, playground and other facilities. He also spoke particularly against a movement for the breaking up of the courthouse square into business lots, a movement which was unanimously turned down in a standing vote taken.

He told them that in the inrush of people they would get a number that they would be better off without, but urged his hearers to make full use of the vision and energy of the newcomers, at the same time remembering that the old timers were the backbone and mainstay of the community.

Faith In City

Faith in their town he urged upon them as a cardinal principle in townbuilding. He warmly complimented the citizenship of Wichita Falls, telling the Graham people that nowhere was there a citizenship which pulled together more smoothly and unselfishly, and gave more freely of their time and money for the city's good.

In the reorganization of their Chamber of Commerce, and in the name of the directors of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, he offered the services of Hubert Harrison the general manager of the local chamber, an offer which was received with a rising vote of thanks.

C. C. McDonald, following Mayor Cline, urged the Graham people to have a first regard for their local schools, keeping them to such a point that they will not have folks moving away to educate their children.

Others from Wichita Falls who spoke included E. S. Goodner, E. T. Riley and A. C. Easley.

Four hundred Graham people attended the meeting, which started with an excellently prepared banquet. Albert W. Kay, brother of Judge John Kay of Wichita Falls, was toastmaster. The address of welcome was delivered by Mayor F. F. Graham. Other Graham speakers included: Milton McConnell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; R. D. Lincoln, Judge W. T. Spinson, M K. Graham, Edgar Kemp, J. T. Kayser, Dr. Duncan, W. E. Hook, Prof. H. D. Cogdill, Fred Arnold and Dr. Griffing.

Refer to Railroad

Several of the speakers referred to the extensions of the Wichita Falls and Southern and what it meant to the town.

The meeting was preliminary to the reorganization of the Graham Chamber of Commerce. A budget of $20,000 and a membership which would include all business men and women in the city is the aim of the campaign. Among the things which are planned in the work of the year are the building of a new city hall and community house, roads improvement and the stimulation of interest in farming.

Honaker No. 1 Reported 500 Feet in Oil With Sand Barely Touched

Oil was reported rising in the hole of the East Wichita test in late reports coming to Judge Nicholson Thursday night—rising to a depth of four or five hundred feet above the sand, from which the showing was obtained. The sand has only been penetrated a few inches, according to the reports reaching Judge Nicholson.

The East Wichita No. 1 Honaker, wildcat, just east of the city, has encountered an oil showing at 2,540 feet, and has one or two hundred feet of oil standing in the hole, according to reports reaching here early Thursday. The striking of a showing in the test was confirmed by Judge E. W. Nicholson, secretary of the company.

Reports here Thursday concerning the test occasioned considerable surprise in local circles, as it was not commonly known that drilling had been resumed at the test, which was supposed to have been abandoned at a depth of 2,200 feet several months ago. The test was visited by numerous local operators Thursday. Reports of those returning indicated that an oil sand had been struck, several operators returning with samples of the oil.

Showing Encountered Thursday.

According to Judge Nicholson, drilling was resumed at the test three weeks ago. The sand, he said, was struck at the 2,540-foot depth Thursday morning and the drilling was stopped with the sand only drilled into three or four inches. Judge Nicholson stated that C. A. Williams, the driller of the test, estimated that 100 to 200 feet of oil was standing in the hole at an early hour Thursday evening. Both Judge Nicholson and Mr. Williams expressed the belief that the well will show commercial production.

The test has from the beginning been drilled with cable tools. The casing is set to within a few feet of the sand and no water trouble has been experienced, Judge Nicholson stated. The test will be drilled further into the sand today.

Figures on Exchanges.

The history of the drilling of the East Wichita well has been one of the most notable of wildcat development in Wichita county. The company was originally capitalized at $100,000 two years ago. Due to the fact that a large part of the stock of the company was held by local citizens, the stock of the company from the first found its way to the boards of the local oil exchanges. Actual drilling started on the 500-acre lease on April 24, 1919. From the time the drilling started until June, 1920, when the contract for a 2,000-foot depth had been completed, the stock of the company was above par on the local boards. The subject of numerous rumors from time to time, the stock of the company fluctuated from below par to as high as three to one.

Drilling Resumed.

At 2,000 feet the drilling contract expired and the stock of the company experienced a sensational drop. Attempts to raise additional funds to drill deeper were unsuccessful. Drilling stopped in June, although the rig never has been removed from the lease. Recently a contract was made with C. A. Williams to drill deeper in consideration for part of the acreage. The reported strike Thursday follows three weeks of drilling.

According to Judge Nicholson, the test to date has cost $125,000. W. R. Honaker, on whose land the test is located, is president of the company.

"SHIMMY" AND 'OTHERS' ARE BARRED HERE

Reform Wave Strikes Amidships During Exclusive Dance at Kemp.

The reform wave—and some are of the idea that it was a tidal wave at that—hit the Wichita Falls dancing world Wednesday night at the Kemp hotel, with casualties so far reported as two girls, and several of the masculine portion of the crowd ruled off the floor for what the chaperones decided was improper dancing.

In addition to this, a number were firmly warned by members of the floor committee, or chaperones in attendance that a continuation of the contortions in which they were indulging would result in a like decree at their expense.

It is understood that the management of the Kemp hotel is standing squarely back of those who are holding out for the proper dancing, and against the shimmy, cootie walk and other wiggles and woggles which have been in general circulation for some time past. In fact, that announcement was made on behalf of the management at the beginning of the dance, but some seemed to take neither the committee, the chaperones, nor the management seriously in this respect, with the results above chronicled.

It is also understood that the hotel management has gone so far in its stand for proper dancing that H. J. Foerster, in charge of the ball room, has stated that one of the dancing clubs could not have the floor again until they had made proper security for the behavior of those present while on the floor.

PIPE LINE RUN REDUCTION CUTS TEXAS AVERAGE

Lone Star State Falls From First Producer in November to Third in December.

California, Where no Restrictions Are Imposed, Takes Rank as Leader for Month.

BY B. N. TIMMONS,
Washington Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Restriction of oil production in Texas and Oklahoma, due to refusal or inability of pipe line companies to handle all the output, resulted in California, where there have been few restrictions, taking a big lead over the two Southwestern states in December, the monthly report of the geological survey today showed. The December production for the three states, which yield three-fourths of the nation's oil supply, was: California, 10,032,000 barrels; Texas, 9,266,000, and Oklahoma, 8,742,000. The California figure was a new high water mark for a single state's single month production.

In November, Texas led, with a production of 9,473,000; California produced 9,340,000, and Oklahoma 9,028,000.

In the north central Texas field restriction manifested itself more in an expected failure to make a large gain, rather than in a reduction, these fields actually producing for the month 6,749,000 barrels, as compared with 6,711,000 in November.

In South Texas, however, the production fell off from 2,702,000 barrels in November to 2,517,000 in December.

In Oklahoma, the production fell from 9,028,000 in November to 8,742,000 in December.

Only California showed a large increase in production in December, though the relatively small production states of Wyoming, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and New York showed small gains.

Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Louisiana, Illinois and Montana showed losses.

Imports of oil to the United States during December amounted to 12,845,482 barrels, a decrease of more than a million barrels, as compared with December, but increased more than 8,500,000 barrels, as compared with December, 1919.

Consumption of domestic and imported petroleum in the nation during December estimated to have been 47,000,000 barrels, decreased about a million barrels as compared with revised figures for November and stock increased more than a million barrels.

A gain of 2,500,000 barrels was made in stock on Oklahoma and Kansas central north grade, and more than 250,000 of the Gulf coast grade. Smaller gains are recorded for stocks of other domestic grades except California and North Louisiana, there being a loss of 342,000 barrels in stocks of California grade.

APPOINTMENT OF HERRING IS CONFIRMED

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 27.—After three hours of executive session today the senate confirmed the appointments of J. A. Herring of Houston as a member of the prison commission and J. N. Gallagher of Waco as a member of the commission of appeals. These were the only appointments made by Governor Neff that were not confirmed by the senate in the first executive session last week.

Senator Dorough of Bowie proposed placing the management of the Texas state railroad under the management of the Texas railroad commission in a bill introduced today, explaining that this road has been a losing proposition since acquired by the state. Senator McMillin of Whitewright proposed urging congress to pass the bill now pending carrying an appropriation of $100,000,000 to aid the states in highway building. He pointed out that Texas would receive approximately $6,000,000 from this fund.

The senate committee on state affairs made a favorable report on the public utilities bill late this afternoon. The bill was recommended without any amendments. This bill proposes to place the control of public utilities under the jurisdiction of the railroad commission.

Senator McNealus of Dallas introduced a bill creating a state athletic commission to control boxing exhibitions in Texas.

Consideration was given in the house today to the concurrent resolution by Lee J. Rountree of Brazos and Lee Satterwhite of Carson, proposing the calling of a constitutional convention to meet the first Monday in December. Before definite action could be taken on the bill, the time allotted for consideration had expired.

The inheritance tax bill proposed by J. T. Smith of Travis, proposing to extend the provisions of the present law, was voted down, as was the house joint resolution by John Davis of Dallas proposing to reduce the poll tax from $1.75 to $1.25, and allowing only native born or naturalized citizens the right of suffrage. Consideration of the bill by P. B. Horton of Dallas extending the provisions of the blue sky law to an unincorporated joint stock corporation went over until tomorrow. The bill providing for the appropriation of $500,000 for the construction of an apartment house for the members of the legislature was engrossed after a spirited debate. The bill came up on a favorable minority report and was adopted after the substitution of an amendment regarding members of the legislature and their families. The house concurrent resolution offered by R. A. Baldwin of Lubbock, which provided for an inquiry into various state departments in order to ascertain the abolishment of certain offices, was voted down on the final roll call.

The resolution was reported unfavorably, with a minority report, by the committee on the grounds that the compilation of the report would entail useless expense, as a similar report was made last year.

Governor Neff's message was greeted in the house with an outburst of applause, and various representatives expressed themselves as being in full accord with the views of the governor.

Yelping Puppy Stops Ferry in Hudson River

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—A yelping puppy on a cake of ice floating down the Hudson river today halted the Fort Lee ferry, Edgewater, in distress while a rescue was effected.

After Captain James Brannigan had maneuvered his craft alongside the cake, First Mate Gerard Barry descended a ladder flung over the rail. The ladder broke, Barry plunged into the stream and reappeared with the puppy in his arms.

Hauled aboard, Barry descended into the engine room with his new pet, which he promptly named Icicle.

DEATH SENTENCE GIVEN NEGRO IS FIRST IN YEARS

Old-timers in Wichita Falls in discussing the death sentence of Floyd Ray, negro, recalled that the first death sentence pronounced in Wichita county was in 1892, and on a negro man, Doc Brotherton, charged with killing his wife. At this time R. M. (Butler) Moore was sheriff of the county, and I. Knight was deputy sheriff and jailer.

Brotherton remained in jail for more than two years, and finally the day of execution was set, and a gallows was built on a hill overlooking Horseshoe Lake, back of the courthouse. The governor's reprieve, received by Mr. Knight only a short time before the execution was scheduled to come off, deprived the county of its first chance to have a legal hanging.

Four years later on the occasion of the famous bank robbery, February, 1896, Judge Lynch took matters over, and two white men paid the death penalty for murder and for bank robbery. A mob hanged these men to a telephone pole on the corner of Seventh and Ohio.

In 1916, a second negro also charged with killing his wife, was sentenced to be hung, but his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

Baby Vamps and Others Can Take Lessons on This

Tom Bergin, who is managing this Ford "giving away" for the benefit of the European relief fund, could give confidence men and vamps, both baby and regulation models, lessons in luring any day in the week. His methods in drawing the cash away from the dear public, for the fund to feed Europe's starving babies, are reminiscent of the stunt that was pulled on Tantalus in the lower regions of the earlier days.

Tom first of all has that Ford all nice and shiny, in the window at Tipton's, where all the coke hounds, and other members of the elite of Wichita Falls hang out, with the bally-hoo man announcing the fact that the Ford starts all by itself, and is guaranteed to run the first 5,000 miles on the reputation, following which the proud to be possessor will have all his upkeep bills paid for life by Lina A. Boyd.

When Tom gets the crowd with it's tongue (collectively, we are speaking) hanging out, he produces the magical bunch of "shares," and the fun starts. Tom will let a fellow draw a ticket for 67 cents, think of it, a "share" in a real honest to goodness car "that made walking a pleasure," for only 67 cents. If one "share" so cheap is good, two are better. So the customer takes another one, Tom lets this one go for 54 cents. Then still more encouraged the customer gets reckless and draws two more. And here is where Tom gets in his big work. The last two are $9.99 and $9.98, respectively. The way that man lends them on is a shame. But he's sure rolling in the coin for the empty tummies in Europe, so trot out more victims, we says.

BUSINESS GIRLS GIVE FOURTH OF 'Y' BUDGET FUND

One-fourth of the money that has been contributed to the Wichita Falls Y. W. C. A's. 1921 budget to date has been given by the business girls and women, according to the partial report s available Thursday night. More than one thousand dollars has been contributed by the girls and women of the business world, and $3,362 has been turned in by the few men's committees that have reported.

Nine women's committees reported their "beats" as one hundred per cent subscribed. Other chairmen reported splendid success, with the girls and women everywhere expressing their pleasure at this opportunity to subscribe to the fund to run the Y. W. C. A. for the coming year and there were many who told the workers of what the Y. W. C. A. had meant to them in the past two years, when they had come to Wichita Falls strangers.

Only very limited reports have been made by the men's committees, Miss Kerr, the treasurer, who is receiving the cash as it comes in reporting the following:

Fred Weeks and M. J. Bashara, American National Bank building, $1,641.50.

Harry May and J. S. Walker, retail grocers, $103.50.

I. H. Roberts, Rotary Club, solicitation by letter, $355.00.

Burton Stayton and C. C. Randle, merchants, $680.00.

Horace Robbins and Stanley Field, merchants sub-committee, $103.00.

Will Daniel and J. M. Bland, Morgan building, $446.00.

Miscellaneous, $37.00.

The business women's committees reporting 100 percent subscriptions, follows:

Cravens & Co., Evelyn Coffield, chairman.

Howell Store, Minnie Mae Peyton, chairman.

Kimberlin's, Mrs. Gross, chairman.

Suggestion Box Open at Y. W. C. A.

Today a Suggestion Box is to be inaugurated at the Y. W. C. A. for the purpose of receiving suggestions that the girls and women who make use of the Association may have to offer. The box is placed in the hall, where it will be noticed by all coming to the association rooms, and to the cafeteria.

Any criticisms, or suggestions of changes or new institutions in the Y. W. C. A.'s service to the public will be welcomed. It is not necessary that the communications be signed, it is stated, and all communications will receive the careful attention of the staff and board, and if at all feasible the suggestions will be carried out. Any compliments for the work will also be welcomed, it is stated, for the association is but a group of individuals, working to one end, and as individuals they appreciate praise, if praise is due.

Marvin Jones to Continue Effort For Vaccination

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Congressman Marvin Jones of Texas today said that he would continue his efforts to have the department of agriculture adopt the blackleg vaccine perfected by the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Kansas.

Mr. Jones said that although the government continues to distribute the old serum practically all the cattlemen in Texas have abandoned it and are buying the Kansas vaccine. Mr. Jones in a speech to the house during the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill, said that department of agriculture officials told him the Kansas vaccine was not adopted because the formula for the serum had not been patented, though the officials admitted that it is far superior to that now being distributed by the government.

"It seems strange that the department would continue to use the old form of vaccine when practically all the stockmen who have handled stock in great numbers, have discarded that form and are using the newer and better form," Mr. Jones said. "I cannot see any reason, simply because the inferior form happens to be a little cheaper, why the government should continue to use it, and believe that whatever money is expended by the department it should be expended in investigating and using the better form of serum."

MISSIONARY ORGANIZATION TO BE COMPLETED SATURDAY

A new missionary organization, to be made up of younger girls in the First Christian church, is expected to be completed at a meeting to be held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Hendrom, 1715 Elizabeth street.

Pool Sharks to Entertain

The two good looking gentlemen pictured herewith are none other than our old friends and pool sharks Mel Bernstein and Ad Friedman, two of the best end men that blackface comedy has produced in recent years. Both of these clever boys will dispense music and merriment at the Elks' Minstrels next Monday and Tuesday night at the Wichita theater and we assure you they will be a riot.

The diamond on Mel's expansive shirt front will be there also. Mel calls this "The Oil Mans' Pride," and we believe it to me worthy of the best efforts of any high jacker. Patrons of the Elks' performance are requested to wear their motoring goggles as a protection to their eyes.

By the way reserved seat tickets go on sale this morning at 10 o'clock, and those desiring the best seats for either performance should get their reservations today for the Wichita Theater.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE IS ATTACKED

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The methods of the department of justice agents in all parts of the country during the radical raids of the winter of 1919 indicated, in his opinion, "a thorough scheme of action" planned at Washington, Jackson Ralston, an attorney of this city today told the senate judiciary committee. Mr. Ralston was one of the lawyers who signed a report charging the department of justice with illegal practices in its conduct of the raids.

Attorney General Palmer, Ralston declared, was "played upon by the growing bureau of investigation, which was trying to justify its existence by advertising a radical outbreak that never took place."

In reply to a question of Senator Sterling, republican, South Dakota, whether in his opinion sufficient apprehension of a radical uprising had existed at the time to justify extreme action by the department of justice, Ralston said:

"The public had been carefully trained by the department of justice through the bureau of investigation, to believe that there was a great danger. They advertised advanced uprisings on specific dates, which failed time after time to materialize, until the whole matter became a joke."

Ralston added that some of the bombs alleged to have been sent prominent persons, never had been produced.

DEMOCRATIC SOLONS FAVOR DISARMAMENT

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Bipartisan support for the naval disarmament movement was given in the senate today during discussion of Senator Borah's disarmament resolutions.

Senator Borah's plan for an official determination of the value of big ships in the American naval program was endorsed by Senators McKellar of Tennessee and King of Utah, democrats, while Senator Borah spoke at some length in behalf of his project.

The disarmament discussion was interjected into the senate tariff debate, but without any attempt to secure a vote. While the senate discussion was in progress the house naval committee postponed indefinitely the hearing of General Pershing on disarmament, scheduled for tomorrow, because of continued illness of Representative Butler of Pennsylvania, committee chairman.

Senator Borah declared that if the people of the United States, Great Britain and Japan could give voice to their opinions, he felt confident that they would speak for an agreement to reduce naval building. He added he would discuss later the suggestions from Elihu Root and others for postponement until after the inauguration of the new administration of action on his resolution looking to a naval disarmament agreement between the three powers.

COLBY RETURNS TO DESK AFTER LONG VACATION

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Once again at his desk at the state department after nearly two months of travel, Secretary Colby today told of the impressions gained from his official visits to Brazil and Uruguay and his official visit to Argentina.

"It was a broadening experience, one that I wish all my fellow countrymen might have," Mr. Colby declared. "Without exception, I found the three republics evincing the utmost friendship for the United States, as well as a profound understanding of the situation with respect to the rest of the world in which this country finds itself, now that the war is over.

"I know no better way of expressing my admiration of the people of those countries than by saying that they are delightful, progressive, enlightened—in short, worthy in more than one respect of the emulation of North Americans."

He said the outstanding feature of all his official and unofficial receptions was the "enthusiasm for, and understanding of, President Wilson," who, he added, was, perhaps, "better appreciated in Latin-America than in the United States."

Mr. Colby said that in his discussion of Western hemisphere questions with government officials of the three nations he found that South Americans were well informed on questions now uppermost in the United States, including tariff revision.

"In Argentina, particularly," he added, "I found no disposition to attribute American consideration of tariff schedules inimical to countries shipping farm products to the United States as inspired by desire for commercial welfare. On the contrary, the men at the head of affairs in Argentina understood the motives of American lawmakers who are sponsoring the measures, and are not apprehensive of the outcome. Also they understand, through experience with their own congress, that a measure introduced is not necessarily a measure adopted.

"In my talks with men of affairs, I undertook particularly to explain that this country was under great financial pressure caused by the war and that whatever tariff measures might be passed would result from the absolute necessity of raising money to carry on the affairs of the nation. I found them sympathetic and not inclined to place a false construction on our acts."

Secretary Colby said he had found no evidence that the Argentine government was contemplating the imposing of retaliatory tariffs on American imports into Argentina in case the Fordney tariff measure becomes a law.

CALOMEL HORROR TOLD BY DODSON

You Don't Need to Sicken, Gripe or Salivate Yourself to Start Liver.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated. You feel headachy, your stomach may be sour, your breath bad, your skin sallow and you believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start liver and bowels.

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling splendid. It is perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate.—Adv.

Rotarians Told Why Boosts Are Good for City

The general spirit of optimism and push and the attitude of its people to "boost" instead of "knock," is the first thing which is missed in going away from the city, and the first thing to make one glad to be back at home after an absence, John W. Bradley told his fellow Rotarians at their Thursday luncheon at the Kemp. Mr. Bradley had just returned from an extended trip to the market.

"It is a great thing to live in a town which you can honestly feel is just a little bit better than others you are in," he said. A general optimistic feeling, and belief that the worst of the year commercially was right at the beginning, prevails in the wholesale markets, Mr. Bradley said.

Judge P. A. Martin talked to the Rotarians in favor of amendment of the present suspended sentence law to remedy its present abuse, talking along the line of argument which he presented to the Bar association recently. Judge Martin spoke on the subject at the request of President Roberts. Judge Martin favored the amendment of the law to correct its defects, and not the repeal of the law, stating that the principal was a good one, and citing instances which have come to his knowledge while on the bench in support of this theory.

Dan Daniels, a Rotarian who has been in "foreign" fields for several months, gave an account of his wanderings for the benefit of his fellow Rotarians.

Temple Bray and Prof. Frank F. Loew furnished the entertainment numbers, selections on the piano—MissBray playing during the luncheon and Professor Loew as a feature of the after program.

PRO OFFICERS HELD.

By Associated Press.

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN INSIST ON TULSA SLEEPER

Wichita Falls oil men are insistent in their requests for Tulsa-Wichita Falls sleeper service, and the matter is being reopened with Katy officials, according to J. W. Chatham Jr., secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Chatham believes that the service will finally be obtained.

According to the head of one of the local oil offices, for a company which also has an office in Tulsa, no less than nine companies with offices here and in Tulsa constantly have men going back and forth between the two cities.

As it now stands, these men go to Fort Worth over the Denver and over the Frisco to Tulsa. They are routed in this roundabout way by reason of the saving of two hours over the journey via Northwestern and connecting lines to Oklahoma City, and in order to avoid a midnight change at Denison if they leave here on the Katy to that point. A sleeper handled over the Katy and Frisco lines is preferred by the oil men.

Local oil men attribute the hesitancy of the Katy in putting on this service to fear that it would cut down travel over their line via Oklahoma City. This line is not used by oil men in traveling to Tulsa, they said. Mr. Chatham bases his belief that the service would be secured on the assertion that it has been the policy of the Katy to co-operate in every way with the oil men of Texas.

CANADA HAS GOOD OFFER FOR RICKARD

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Three propositions to hold the proposed Dempsey-Carpentier bout for the heavyweight championship of the world in Canada were made today to Tex Rickard, one of the promoters, by Charles F. Graham, representing a Canadian syndicate.

Mr. Graham first proposed that the Canadian syndicate handle the fight any way Rickard suggested and then offered three specific propositions: The Canadian syndicate would buy Rickard's right, title and interest in the venture; would go into partnership with him, or would invite him to stage the fight in Canada and guarantee Rickard agaist loss.

Mr. Graham said there would be no difficulty staging the bout in Canada and that the proposed date, July 2, would be satisfactory. He further promised that excellent training quarters would be provided for the two pincipals, and that an arena would be erected outside Montreal of any size Rickard thinks necessary.

Mr. Graham said there would be no difficulty in raising money necessary to insure financial success in Canada. The amount in cash, he said, would be deposited in a bank. He told Rickard that a Canadian syndicate was ready at any time to make a cash deposit of $100,000.

Rickard said he would give an answer in two weeks. He explained that he was uncertain as to the status of Charles B. Cochran of London, and William A. Brady, his partners, but that he stood ready to buy the interests of both. He was waiting for a definite answer from Cochran, Rickard said.

Pagan Filipino Shimmy Will Not Pass Censorship

MANILA, Jan. 27.—The mountain province native's "shimmy" must go from the Philippines if a bill filed with the secretary of the senate by Senator Lope E. Santos becomes a law. According to the wording of Mr. Santos' presentation, the officials of non-Christian tribes, the inhabitants of settlements and rancherias and the children going to school will be prohibited from appearing in public wearing only the now customary garment.

Anyone who should violate this proposed law would be imprisoned for from 30 days to five years. If the offender were a school student, disciplinary action would be taken by the superintendent. The bill would go into effect two years after it was passed. During the meantime each province must have bought and distributed clothing at cost to the mountain province people who now find a one-piece draping sufficient.

Senator Santos said the appearance in public of half-naked pagans is a shameful exhibition and is capitalized by opponents of Philippine independence as demonstrating Filipino incapacity for self-government. He said that to force them in this way to wear clothes would be more effective than to educate them in schools to do it.

He said that the experience with pagans taught him that when school children go back to their tribes they forget what they learn about society. Senator Santos is the author of another bill now pending, which proposes to allot Filipino names to the pagans.

Burlesons Have Hard Time With Horse Carriage

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Postmaster General Burleson let it be known today that he intends to stick to his horse carriage to the end. Now that he has been having some hard luck with his famous carriage just before retiring to private life in Texas, he does not intend to give it up.

Burleson has eschewed automobiles all during his public life. Twice recently, the Burleson carriage has been in smash ups. Two weeks ago the carriage with Mr. and Mrs. Burleson in it, was struck by an automobile. Their coachman, William Collins, suffered a broken leg and other injuries at the time, and was sent to a hospital.

The other night the carriage was the victim of another automobile, though Mr. and Mrs. Burleson were not in it. John H. Kinney, who was employed as driver until Collins recovers, was alone in the carriage. Kenney was uninjured.

A vendetta not between families, but between two Egyptian villages, which started about 150 years ago over a dog, has recently been ended in the courts by the imprisonment of several persons on each side. Many deaths have resulted from the prolonged quarrel.

LAKE ROAD MARKS EPOCH.

Opening of the paved Lake road, a stretch of four and seven-tenths miles, marks a quiet epoch in Wichita county's progress. It is the first long section of county paving in the original two and a half million dollar system proposed, to be completed.

In spite of many apparent delays, the work is steadily going ahead now. It will be halted soon unless the county sells more of its unsold bond issue. But there is sufficient money in the treasury to run the work for the good weather that ordinarily will slip in between now and March, when more bonds may be sold, it is hoped.

The Lake road cost the county $15,725 per mile. Its entire expense was $162,150. The government will pay $88,241 of this total.

JURIES DO DUTY.

Wichita County petit juries in recent criminal trials have not hesitated to give long sentences in an effort to check the wave of crime spirit and prevent its getting a beach to beat upon here.

The death penalty was assessed this week for the second time in local court history.

One culprit found guilty merely of complicity in murder, was given seventeen years in the penitentiary. Other instances could he cited.

THE TREND OF POPULATION.

The tendency of the inhabitants of the United States to gravitate from the country to the city or town, which of late years has been so generally remarked and so universally deplored, is proved in no uncertain fashion in a report recently issued by the census bureau. Of the total population 51,394,295 are living in rural districts and 54,314,476 in urban territory. These figures work out at a percentage of 48.6 for the former and 51.4 for the latter, as against percentages of 54.2 and 45.8 respectively, for 1910, so that in the ten-year period the town shows a net gain of 5.6 per cent.

With a population which is ever on the increase, there will be more and more need of those food supplies which the country districts produce, and therefore the problem is to change the trend of residence and make it go the other way. It is true that in a not very remote past country life, and especially life on the farm, was extremely dull, dreary and monotonous, and just because of that the gayety, amusement and social attractions provided by the town proved an irresistible lure alike to the younger members of the farmer's family and to his hired help, with a consequent inevitable loss both of rural poulation and of producing power. Indeed, even now there are certain preeminently agricultural states in which the inducements to stay on the farm are surprisingly meager. As recently at September of last year The Post commented editorially on a survey of farm homes, prepared by the department of agriculture and other agencies, in which the lot of farm women in particular was shown to be most unenviable.

But the advances of science are quickly changing these unfavorable conditions. The trolley and automobile, an improved postal service, labor-saving equipment, co-operative laundries, creameries, trading centers and recreation halls, accessible hospital facilities and an adequate public health nursing service, and even wireless telegraphy and the picture show, are being gradually brought to the rural districts, so that soon the reproach of hardship and dullness ought to be removed from country life. It will be the part of enlightened statesmanship—local, state and federal—to help along these processes of modern development, to the end that an increasing and contented population may find duty and pleasure happily linked together in the rural homes of America.—Washington Post.

In the Mail Bag

In view of the nation-wide drive that is on for the purpose of restraining by national act the Puritan sabbath, I desire to occupy a little of your space. It is now quite generally known that there are forces at work in this country who are seeking to get control of the civil power for the avowed purpose of compelling men in matters of conscience. This is manifested chiefly in the growing demand for more Sunday laws, and their stricter enforcement.

Every true American will be opposed to such legislation because it is religious legislation. As a Sabbath day, or day of rest, Sunday is itself religious. All laws requiring cessation from business or labor on that day must, therefore, be religious.

Because such legislation is religious it is unconstitutional. The constitution declares that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." The making of a Sunday law is, therefore, the first step toward an establishment of religion. A union of church and state was brought about in the fourth and fifth centuries by this very means. And all Sunday laws now upon our statute books are relics of this union.

A Sunday law violates man's natural rights—the right to liberty in the choice of one's religion, and of one's own time for rest, religious devotion and labor. As is well known, there are religions—the religion of the Jews, the Seventh-day Baptists and the Seventh-day Adventists—which do not recognize Sunday as a day of rest; and there are yet other individuals who, not having any religions, observe no weekly day of rest. No man who observes a certain day, and no set of men who observe a certain day, has a right to compel another man to observe that day.

The state has no more right to compel him to labor, and to say when he shall labor. Rest presupposes labor, and naturally follows it. And a compulsory labor law ought, logically, to precede a compulsory rest law. The one is as proper a subject of legislation as the other. But both are out of place in a civil government, and either means slavery and oppression. Such legislation should therefore be repudiated by every true American.

Sunday legislation implies an unwarranted assumption of power of man in both civil and religious affairs. It is not the province of the civil power to direct men by law in religious things, nor is it proper for it to treat as a crime any act of honest trade or toil whenever performed. Religious matters should be left to each individual soul and to God; and only crime, and not sin, should be treated as crime. Not honest trade and toil, but oppression and persecution have been the bane and the ruin of civil government in all ages.

Sunday laws make a crime of an act performed on Sunday that is considered perfectly legitimate on any other day. It is the day rather than the deed, therefore, that is in question. Crimes are not determined by the day upon which they are committed.

A Sunday law, moreover, is contrary to the law of God. A Sunday law enjoins as a day of rest a day which the Divine Law includes among the six working days. As men have no right to attempt to enforce the worship enjoined in the law of God, they certainly have no right to attempt to change the law of God, and to enforce worship that is not enjoined in it, and that is contrary to it. To attempt to do so is neither Christian nor constitutional.

For congress to enter upon a course of religious legislation, requiring certain classes of citizens to cease doing business on Sunday, would be contrary to the express terms of the constitution, a flagrant violation of one of the most sacred principles upon which the national government was founded—that of religious liberty, with its consequent separation of church and state—and would presage a revival of ecclesiastical domination and religious tyranny and oppression in this country.

BUSHNELL'S ANIMATED CARTOON MOVIES OF NEWS EVENTS IN EIGHT REELS

Editorial Digest

THEY DON'T BELIEVE IN GHOSTS.

Revival of the old Ku Klux Klan of the south to conduct a nation-wide campaign in the interest of "Americanism" and "law and order" quite evidently must make such progress as it can without the support of the American press. While some papers admit the justification of some of the purposes of the proposed organization, the movement as outlined by its promoters receives neither welcome nor encouragement in editorial columns. However, laudable its aims, the verdict is unanilmous that there is no place in present-day America for the "Invisible Empire" of the reconstrutcion period.

"The American people today," the Worchester Telegram (Rep.) is certain, "want no secret body whose announced purport is to inculcate respect for American institutions." These institutions contain within themselves "means for teaching and enforcement of the principles of Americanism," and "for any secret organization to assume to take over this enforcement is not only an anachronism, but it is, instead of American, un-unAmerican."

Regarded merely as an 'adventure," the New York Herald (Ind.) believes it is 'traveling the wrong road," on which it will find "impassable barriers," because: "No matter what the character of the individuals behind this new movement of an old order, the very Americanism which they seek to exalt by their own rules and methods will not suffer their assumption of rights and functions which belong singularly to government regularly constituted, lawfully represented and duly exercised."

It is this inference that 'the government stands in need of a national secret order or society in order to enable it to function efficiently," as the Lynchburg (Va.) News (Dem.) expresses it, that is attacked by most writers. The News feels, too, that the adoption of the name of the old Southern "Klan" is "unfortunate," because, while "the Ku Klux Klan performed a service of priceless and imperishable value to the South," and proved "an unconquerably defensive force," it was inevitable that in the discharge of that service the name should have become "freighted with sinister meaning," and therefore, for the sake of "race tranquility, it ought not to be revived, even though for what may seem a good purpose."

While the New York Tribune (Rep.) does not regard the revival of the old order "seriously," it nevertheless suggests a justification for the proposed movement, and even hints at the possible success of "a nativist uprising" against the "pestiferous crew who are aliens at heart," and who have been "striving to undermine principles which are dear to every American." Possibly the natural effect of the doctrine of "the rightfulness of using force to overthrow" is a corresponding determination to use force to defend and to uphold." The Knoxville Sentinel (Ind Dem.) also regards as "foolishness" to talk of reviving "the ghostly and grisly white-sheeted phantoms of the past," but it agrees with the Herald that the movement is not wholly unwarranted or without chance of limited success.

"When we reflect," says the Sentinel, "that many localities in the country in recent years have been made hotbeds of many varieties of secret, criminal and alien organizations that have advocated every species of propaganda in the name of American liberty, from sabotage and arson of private property up to the overthrow of our form of government by violence, and, in fact, the destruction of all organized government, the state of the public mind that can harken with equanimity . . . to the suggestion of reviving the secret Klan of the Sixties may be better appreciated."

Further, the Sentinel thinks, while the plan will have no appeal in the "homogeneous South," it may "impress and fire the imaginations of the elements appealed to in the North and West where the native American elements are so frequently subjected to scenes of indignity and insult at the hands of alien organizations."

But "the Ku Klux Klan is a step back through the centuries, . . . an attempt to resurrect the methods of medieval terror," which the Jersey City Journal (Ind.) thinks might have been "potent in the Fourteenth century, but man has traveled far since then." Now it is "a challenge to the orderly administration of justice" to tolerate which the Buffalo News (Rep.) believes "is to invite mob rule."

JOURNALISTS OF GERMANY MAY BE SENT LEGATIONS

BERLIN, aJn. 26.—At a meeting of the main committee of the riechstag today Baron Von Rheinbaben, former Prussian minister of state and finance, proposed that newspaper correspondents be placed on the staffs of German embassies in foreign countries to support German views and culture by keeping in touch with the foreign press.

JAPANESE SAY DIPLOMACY IS UNDER 2 HEADS

By Associated Press.

TOKIO, Jan. 27.—Allegations abroad that Japan is controlled by militarists, which have formed the basis of numerous interpellations in the diet recently, culminated today in a comprehensive declaration by Baron Fujimura in the house of peers to the effect that until the so-called Mizumachi case was explained to the satisfaction of the peers the accusation that Japan's diplomacy is conducted under two heads, one the foreign office and the other the war department, must stand.

The Mizumachi case grew out of a letter Colonel Mizumachi, sent by the war department to Chen Tao, on the Korean-Manchurian frontier, dispatched to British missionaries concerning atrocities alleged to have been committed by Japanese troops in South Manchuria, warning the missionaries to keep out of politics and asking them what the British people would think if Japanese Buddhists should incite the Hinoods of India to revolt.

Baron Fujimura called attention to the strong anti-Japanese sentiment in China, due to the belief of the Chinese that Japan was ever pursuing an aggressive policy, an impression which, he said, was strengthened by Japan's launching what he characterized as an unjustified military expedition to Chen Tao.

Both Viscount Uchida, the foreign minister, and Major Tanaka, the war minister, repudiated any responsibility for the communication of Colonel Mizumachi. The foreign minister emphatically asserted that the unsatisfactory condition of Chino-Japanese relations was not due to the policy of the present government.

The war minister explained that Colonel Misumachi had been dispatched to the Chen-Tao district to prevent misunderstandings by the foreign missionaries and the press correspondents concerning the Japanese troops, which had been sent to suppress outlaws.

Japanese officers now in China are there solely for the purpose of acquainting themselves with conditions there, and not to interfere in diplomacy, he said.

Youth Held on Robbery Charge

By Associated Press.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Jan. 27.—Everett Boydston, 15 years old, is being held here by Mayor Arnold following the alleged robbery last night of Mincy Baxter, 13 years of age, of 20 cents.

According to evidence introduced today in an investigation conducted by Mayor Arnold, Mincy Baxter, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Baxter, was going home from his father's store when he met young Boydston and was asked by the latter for the loan of 15 cents. Being refused, according to statements of young Baxter and of Milton Taylor, 12 years old, who was walking home with the Baxter boy, a fight followed during which the Baxter boy was forcibly parted from 20 cents.

On the strength of testimony introduced before Mayor Arnold, Eugene Blakeney, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Blakeney, is being held on an alleged charge of pistol carrying and a similar charge is filed against Everett Boydston.

Boydston's mother is a widow, who supports herself chiefly by washing.

R. W. Morgan, county juvenile officer, is expected to arrive Friday morning to take charge of the case.

A TWIN BED LECTURE.

Mr. Doveleigh brought home a new jazz record and invited Mrs. Doveleigh to dance with him. Much to Mrs. Doveleigh's surprise, Mr. Doveleigh proved altogether too proficient especially in agitating the chemise, commonly known as doing the shimmy.

So that was the shimmy you was doing with me tonight, was it? And where did you learn to do the shimmy? I suppose at one of those directors' meetings you have at the office evenings. I suppose after the reading of the minutes, the next business on hand is to start the phonograph and shimmy!

Or maybe you learned it at one of those many conferences you are always having? I SAW IT AT A SHOW. You saw it at a show! You SAY you saw it at a show, but how do I know you did? It sounds likely. I can readily believe, knowing how clever you are, that all you need to do is to see some one do the shimmy once in a show and immediately you know all about it. Yes, I believe that. We hear ducks in Jersey. You must think I'm an awful nit-wit. But don't fool yourself. Just because I'm quiet and don't say much . . . What do you mean by groaning like that? I say, just because I don't say much you think you can pull the wool over my eyes. But you can't fool me. You didn't learn the shimmy by attending conferences at the office. OF COURSE YOU DIDN'T. There, I knew it. I knew you'd own up to it. Wrong doing will always out. As Lincoln says: "You can fool some of the people all the time," but I'm not one of them. You've fooled me long enough. I'm on to you now. Instead of working nights, you're out doing the shimmy.

And with who, answer me that, with who? You should Say "With Whom." Never mind what I should say—it's what you should say. Who taught you to dance so disgracefully? I THOUGHT I WAS A GOOD DANCER! See, there you go. Instead of priding yourself on being a good husband and provider, you boast of how you can shimmy. That's the kind of a man I've married. Oh, why did I live to see the day? BECAUSE I'VE BEEN FEEDING YOU REGULARLY. You've been feeding me! I like that. I earn everything I get twice over.

Anybody can get her room and board and aprons to wear if she's willing to work like a dog, like I work for you, whi'e you're out learning to do the shimmy, very well, if it's all right for you to shimmy, it's all right for your wife. OH FORGET IT. I won't forget it. I'm going to learn to shimmy, too. You're not going to put it over on me. I didn't see anything in the marriage license that allows you to go out and shake the shimmy while I stay home and shake the rugs.

Injunction Is Granted Against Power Company

A temporary restraining order against the Wichita Falls Electric company was issued Thursday by Judge Ed Napier in Seventy-eighth district court pending trial of the injunction suit filed against them Thursday by F. O. Harrell, asking that they be restrained from carrying out a threat to cut off electric service to his home.

In the petition Harrell set out that he is furnished with electricity at his dwelling at 2167 Avenue G through wires connected with a meter at his house. He says that he has lived there since September and that he has never used the current for purposes other than lighting.

The same wires, he asserts, after passing through his residence, connect with three other men's dwellings and that all electricity consumed by them is measured by his meter, although each has a meter in his house.

Harrell claims that the defendant company recently presented him with a bill for $43.70, representing the charge for electricity which he has consumed since September. He charges that it is "unjust and not owed" and also alleges that his bill represents the cost of the power used by the three other men and himself.

He further claims that he owes only $3 a month for the electricity which he has used, or a total of $12 for the entire period since he moved into the house. This, he says in the petition, he is ready and willing to pay.

When he explained this to the defendant company, it was set out, they threatened to cut off electric service entirely and remove all wires and the meter.

He is a married man with a family, the plaintiff asserts, and if the defendant company is allowed to carry out its threat, it will wreak irreparable injury to him which cannot be reckoned in dollars and cents.

LOCAL YOUTH APPOINTED TO NAVY ACADEMY

William Myers Hayes, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hayes, 1203 Eighteenth street and a member of the graduating class of Senior High school, has been appointed to the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, according to telegraphic information received Thursday by the Record News.

The appointment comes as the result of a persistent struggle of the young man to achieve a goal for which he has been striving since childhood, according to friends and acquaintances. He has lived in Wichita Falls for the past ten years and is a popular student at the High school where he is well known for his interest in all activities and as a member of the Ranger staff.

Young Hayes said that he expects to take up his work at the Naval Academy in August. He will become a member of the Annapolis class of '25. Lucian W. Parrish, representative from the Thirteenth district made the appointment.

Business Women Contribute $30 To Relief Fund

Twenty-nine dollars and twenty-five cents was added to the local subscription to the European Relief Fund by the luncheon given Thursday for the Business Women's Club of the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. C. J. Coyne, director of Charlotte Kemp hall serving the luncheon at the hall and turning the proceeds to the fund. The Y. W. C. A. throughout the country is assisting the drive with their "Invisible Guest" plan, which will have its culmination on February 1, when the cafeterias throughout the country will give their profits, some of them their entire receipts to the fund to feed the starving children of Europe. The money received from this will be turned to the county chairmen and credited to the county quotas.

The Wichita Falls cafeteria receipts will be materially swelled by the pennies that have been put in the boxes at the cafeteria, and on the Travelers' Aid desk at the Union station. The boxes were placed several weeks ago, and the public has been gererous in its response, it is reported.

He'll Ask You

The inquisitive reporter almost went in over his depth to find a question of public interest and ended up with one that has been brought to light in connection with some of the recent dances. "Do You Think the 'Cootie Crawl' Should Be Ousted From Polite Society?" was the question asked four young men selected at random from the pedestrians on Indiana Avenue at the Eighth street corner.

Les Haney, teller at a local bank, was the first to be questioned. He said, "When some people do this dance it is all right. Others make it vulgar—worse than shimmy. To my notion it is not the dance in itself but the dancers that are bringing it into public disfavor."

Along came Glenn Burnett, private secretary to C. C. Cabiness, unburdened himself of the following:

"No. It is wholesome amusement. It is a natural outgrowth of the 'cootie scratch' familiar to ex-soldiers. If danced in the proper spirit, it is harmless."

I. G. Balyeat, investment broker: "If the young people get any enjoyment out of it, it should be tolerated. It is not as difficult to execute as the 'tango' of yesterday and much less suggestive."

This represents only one side of the question. If possible, four young ladies will be questioned tomorrow as to their opinion. This is necessary because in dancing the fair partner must, to a certain extent, follow whether she approves or not.

Approximately $100 was realized by the Ladies Aid society of the First Methodist Church North, from an oyster supper given Thursday night in the basement of the church, according to reports of members.

Tickets for the supper were sold by the members of the girls Epworth League.

BRITISH LABOR COMMISSION CONDEMNS "BLACK AND TANS" IN REPORT ON IRELAND

Recent photo from Dublin showing Black and Tans, with revolvers drawn, guarding veritable Sinn Fein arsenal found in cycle shop after its discovery.

The report of the labor commission sent by the British government to investigate conditions in Ireland and presented on the commission's return recently is a scathing denunciation of the government's methods in dealing with the entire situation. Discussing the work of the "Black and Tans," the Royal Irish constabulary, the report says that "in the Black and Tans and auxiliaries the government has created a weapon which it cannot wield; it has liberated forces which it is not at present able to dominate." It adds that "by no means a negligible proportion of the Royal Irish constabulary as at present constituted are men of intemperate habits utterly unsuited to their duties."

BODY OF W. E. DUNN SENT TO CEDARVILLE

The body of W. E. Dunn, 27 years of age, who died Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock following a short illness, was shipped Thursday evening to his home, Cedarville, Tex., by the Merkle-Lunn Undertaking Co. Mr. Dunn, who was engaged in the drug business [illegible]rville, became suddenly ill a few days ago while here on a visit with his sister, Mrs. Allwood, 2209 Ninth street.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at Cedarville.

NEGRO WOMEN HASTEN TO PAY VOTING TAXES

Negro women are outnumbering white women, two to one, in paying their poll taxes to date, according to the records in the office of the county tax collector. There are no actual figures available for the number of taxes paid by women at this time, but the clerks in the office are witness to the preponderance of negro women that are paying for the right of full enfranchisement.

The Civic League has been waging an informal campaign for the payment of poll taxes by the club women of Wichita Falls, and the women interested in civic betterment affairs, urging that they qualify to vote in the city elections, and that they pay their poll taxes regardless of the fact that there is no important election in prospect for this year, as a matter of pride in their citizenship and in recognition of their responsibility, but with only three days left it appears that the urging given to the white women is meeting with little result.

There has been a total of 3,700 poll taxes paid, up to the close of business Thursday. This accounts for only one-third of the voters of Wichita county.

With but three days left in which to pay Wichita County Water Improvement District No. 1 taxes, there is still a total of $35,973.95 to be collected, or an average daily collection of $11,991.31, according to figures made public Thursday by Deputy Tax Collector V. W. Meadors, who is in charge of the district collections.

Out of a total assessment on the entire property of $80,526.49 only $44,552.54, or a little more than one-half, has been collected since December 1.

Deputy Collector Meadors has called attention of tax payers in the district to the fact that after January 31, all who have not made their payments will be assessed with an additional tax of 10 percent on their total assessment for delinquency.

A rush in all three branches of tax collection is anticipated during the last three days.

London's streets, if placed end to end, would form a road long enough to stretch across Europe from the North cape to Constantinople.

OPPOSITION TO AUDITOR'S BILL IS MADE

Opposition to a bill recently introduced in the lower house of the Texas legislature which would give county auditors control over the finances and through this over the operations of irrigation and other improvement districts was expressed at a meeting of the directors of Wichita County Water Improvement District No. 1 Thursday.

As was pointed out in this meeting, such a bill would allow an auditor, presumably knowing nothing of the building of an irrigation project, to indefinitely hold up the building of such a project, although the action which he might disapprove would be approved by the men composing the board of directors, elected by the taxpayers, and acting on advice of engineers.

Again, in the case of the Wichita county districts, they would have to deal with the auditors of two counties, it was pointed out, and perhaps three.

J. A. Kemp, president and G. Clint Wood were not present at the meeting on account of absence from the city. T. B. Noble, J. S. Bridwell and N. H. Martin were present. C. H. Clark, a member of the board for district No. 2, also was present for a portion of the time.

The bill was introduced by a member of the legislature from Tarrant county, and reported favorably from the committee. It is understood to have been strongly supported by the county auditor from Tarrant county, and to have the endorsement of county auditors over the state generally.

Copies of the bill have been sent members of the boards for the two irrigation districts by Representative B. F. Johnson.

THEATERS TO OPEN SUNDAY FOR STARVING

The local committee directing the campaign for funds for the relief of starving children in Europe are counting heavily on the proceeds of the Sunday moving picture shows to be given at the Olympic and Majestic theaters, according to Tom B. Smock, acting chairman of the local committee. One show will be given in each theater, both starting at 3:30 p. m.

"We would have been pretty much at sea in our local campaign if the management of the theaters had seen fit to call off the shows, as he was urged to do by certain local pastors," Mr. Smock said in discussing the matter.

H. S. Ford, manager of the Dye Ford and Rogers theaters here, who is donating their houses for the benefit performances, stated that his decision to hold the shows, after they had been called off following the disapproval of these local pastors, was due to the insistence of a number of local business men that the shows be held—these men pointing out that the shows given would certainly not be a violation of the Texas law, and that the cause for which they were being given, the relief of a starving portion of humanity was certainly a worthy one.

No admission will be charged for the shows. The theaters will be given free, the films will be furnished free by the film exchanges, and the musicians, operators and employes of the theaters will give their services free as their donation to the fund.

This movement is not only statewide, but is nationwide, those directing the campaign point out.

It is estimated that film exchanges will have an expense of $200,000 in putting out pictures throughout the United States. Herbert Hoover, head of the relief campaign, asked amusement industries of the country to help in this way, and they at once responded. It is expected to raise between seven and eight million dollars in this way. Texas is to raise $200,000. Theaters throughout the country are donating their playhouses for Saturday morning and Sunday afternoon.

The notification of this movement on the part of the theaters of the state and country received by the local theaters from their film exchange reads:

"For God and man in connection the Hoover relief fund for starving children of Europe, the motion picture interests are giving free performances Sunday in all cities of Texas. Every dollar donated goes to the relief fund. All preliminary expenses are paid by us. Surely, if Jesus Christ could cure the blind, the sick and the halt on Sunday, we are justified in our plan of saving these little lives."

FORDNEY BILL THEORETICALLY BEFORE SENATE

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The Fordney emergency tariff bill was theoretically before the senate today but was discussed only in a speech by Senator Simmons, democrat of North Carolina, and in a brief debate on sugar items.

During the session, Senator Ransdell, democrat, Louisiana, entered an emphatic denial to published statements, which, he declared, had sought to link his name with the big sugar interests.

Senator Simmons' speech of more than two hours was directed at what he termed the iniquities of the proposed legislation. He charged that congress would be exceeding its power in enacting such legislation and asserted that its provisions were confiscatory in that they would compel consumers to pay tribute.

The North Carolina senator also took Senator McCumber, republican, of North Dakota, to task for his attitude on wheat production. He argued that Mr. McCumber was supporting legislation which not only increase the price of bread and cereals, but would place the United States in a position to suffer retaliation at the hands of Canada, from which Mr. McCumber has said "the dangerous wheat importations come."

Senator King, democrat of Utah, asked during the discussion whether it would not be proper for the government to "take care of the unemployed with a pension, if it were going to take care of the wheat farmer and the Louisiana sugar grower." He declared that congress should never establish such a precedent, and asserted that the losses of other lines of trades were equally as important.

Mention of Louisiana sugar brought from Senator Ransdell the declaration that if congress could do anything to relieve the agricultural industry, it ought to do so. He said he did not believe present conditions would last forever and the farmers should be tided over in the emergency.

The debate then turned into an open forum on sugar, and Senator Penrose, chairman of the finance committee, followed yesterday's tactics in asking a recess, thus keeping the bill before the senate as unfinished business.

CULBERTSON SEES BRIGHT FUTURE HERE

Increased prosperity for the Southern states through the offer of the presidency of the Foreign Trade Financing Corporation, a $100,000,000 enterprise, through the offering of the presidency of the corporation to W. P. G. Harding, now governor of the Federal reserve board, was predicted in New York by J. G. Culbertson, president of the Wichita Motors Company, according to a New York dispatch to one of the North Texas dailies.

The comments by Mr. Culbertson and others expressing themselves in this connection, are quoted as follows:

"The selection of a Southern man for the presidency of the Foreign Trade Financing Corporation is a great compliment to our section of the country. I feel confident that Texas and the Southwest will take an active interest in the corporation."

Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., said:

"The acceptance of the presidency by Governor Harding would, of course, meet instant and universal approval, though the community can ill spare him from his work on the Federal reserve board. Governor Harding has rendered a conspicuous service to the banking system of the whole country, and as head of the new corporation he would find further fields of usefulness."

William C. Redfield, formerly secretary of commerce in the Wilson administration, made the following comment:

"I know of no banker whose selection for the important post of president of the Foreign Trade Financing Corporation would under present conditions give greater confidence and satisfaction than that of W. P. G. Harding. He has added to a long and successful banking experience a fruitful and unselfish service in the Federal reserve board. In this work he has shown such vision and courage as have commended him to financial and commercial interests throughout the land. The new corporation and the country are to be congratulated on obtaining his invaluable services."

REJECT INTERNATIONALE

'WHITE WAY' CELEBRATION IS PLANNED

Wichita Falls will stage a great celebration, the greatest of its kind in its history, within the next 60 days

That decision was made at a meeting Thursday night of the committee recently appointed to formulate plans for proper ceremonies in connection with the turning on of the city's new white way, now in the process of construction. It developed at the meeting that it would probably be 00 days before the new system would be ready to turn on, due to the unavoidable delay in obtaining material.

With the announcement of the delay, the committee, which is headed by E. C. Dosch, decided to take advantage of the opportunity and with the added time make the date of the passage of Old Man Gloom in this city a memorable one in the history of Wichita Falls.

Instead of simply a night affair, it is planned to make the occasion an all-day celebration, in which the city will act as host to the surrounding section and during which the city will be made to look its best, with every merchant given the opportunity to display his wares to both the home and outside trade territory.

Excursion rates, if possible, will be obtained by means of which outside citizens will be able to take in celebration at reduced rates. J. W. Chatham, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, a member of the committee, stated that he believed the special rates could be obtained on all railroads entering the city.

The celebration will be well advertised. Part of the funds recently raised by the Retail Merchants association for the purpose of advertising the city and its businesses will be used to bring the occasion before every resident of Northwest Texas and Southeastern Oklahoma. Under present plans the day, in addition to being a general celebration, will be utilized as a trade event by local merchants.

Plans for entertainment during the day are as yet largely formulative. It was the consensus of opinion of the committee that every form of amusement possible should be brought to the city for the occasion. C. F. Carter, publicity manager of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that local lumber men had agreed to furnish all lumber needed for the construction of outside vaudeville stages, dance floors and the like. O. W. Hines, local undertaker, has agreed to furnish a hearse and other equipment and officiate at the burial of "Old Man Gloom."

Other entertainment features call for bands, night and day aeroplane stunts, and contests of various kinds.

In brief, everything will be done to make the day a fit celebration for a city which has been too busy for the last two years to open its gates and act as host to its own citizens and its neighbors.

Members of the committee present were: E. C. Dosch, chairman; C. F. Carter, C. B. Montgomery, A. D. Allen, J. W. Chatham Jr., C. C. Randle, J. E. Sharp, E. D. Nevin, P. A. Rogers and R. W. Watkins.

EUROPEAN NEWS SENDS WHEAT DOWN

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Conflicting inferences drawn from an estimate of the probable carry-over in the four chief exporting countries had much to do with a depression in wheat prices today and also with a substantial rally. The close was firm 1-4 to 1½c net higher, with March 1.64½ to 1.64 3-4 and May 1.54 to 1.54½. Corn finished 1-4c off to 3-8c advance oats unchanged to 1-8c lower and provisions down 2½ to 2c.

According to a leading crop expert here, the United States, Canada, Argentine and Australia are likely to have a total of 17,000,000 bushels in excess of immediate requirements at the end of the crop season, July 1. At first these figures were generally construed as a decided bearish factor, together with unsettled political and economic conditions in Europe, led to a sharp decline in prices. Later, however, it was pointed out that the average carry-over in pre-war days was 250,000,000 bushels. On this basis, one of the largest firms in the trade took the ground that the prediction was bullish, not bearish. Export buying of wheat and flour had meanwhile developed and the market at last showing a notable bulge.

Corn and oats governed by wheat, touched a ne wlow price record for the season, but later recovered.

Downturns in hogs had a depressing effect on provisions.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Purchase of $60,000,000 of the Pennsylvania Railroad company 15-year 6½ per cent gold bonds was announced today by Kuhn, Loeb & Co. The bonds will be offered at public sale at 99¼ and accrued interest, yielding about 6.58 per cent interest.

Associated with Kuhn, Loeb & Co. in the underwriting are various banks, banking houses and trust companies of this city, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and Pittsburgh.

STERLING DEMAND IS UP 3 3-8 CENTS

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—There was a further advance today in remittances to London, the rate for demand sterling rising at midday to $3.87¼. This was an advance of 3⅜ cents over yesterday's final rate and a gain of nearly 25 cents on the pound sterling from the low quotation early this month. In the first week of February, 1920, British bills registered the lowese quotation in their history, demand bills on London then falling to $3.15.

Montreal discount in this market today fell below 10 cents. Only a few weeks ago it was as high as 5¾ per cent.

MARKET IS IRREGULAR BUT STRONG

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Interest in today's dull, irregular and professional stock market was at all times overshadowed by the strength of British exchange and new corporate financing, especially the Pennsylvania railroad company's $60,000,000 offering.

Demand bills on London rose to 389 3-8 the maximum quotation since the middle of last year and 71 3-8c above their low record of last February, when international credits here suffered their greatest collapse.

The Pennsylvania issue, which is to take the form of a public subscription, is regarded as of prime importance in financial circles because of its probable influence upon the general investmene situation.

The stock market reflected the usual cross currents resulting from the operation of pools. Prices in many instances reacted when traders sought t oconvert paper profiils into cash. Exceptions to this tendency were shown by oils, notably Mexicans, which registered best prices in the later dealings, the list closing with a strong tone.

Sales, 500,000 shares.

All of the day's call money was negotiated at 7 percent. Recent quotations for time funds, bank acceptances and mercantile paper also were unchanged.

Pennsylvania railroad general fives and four and a half at losses of 3 1-4 and 2½, were the features of the irregular bond market. Liberty issues also inclining towards lower levels with several prominent industrials.

Total sales, par value, $11,175,000.

United States 4s lost half percent on call.

STOCK EXCHANGE SUSPENDS TRADE IN RUSS RUBLES

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Trading in the 4 per cent certificates of the imperial Russian government, having a par value of 2,310,000,000 rubles, was suspended today by the New York Stock exchange. It was explained that interest charges on the bonds had not been paid since the soviet government gained control and that underwriters of the bonds had no information as to when the interest payments would be renewed.

TRADING IN COTTON SHOWS STEADINESS

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27.—Quite steadiness marked the trading in cotton today and prices were higher from the opening. In the last few minutes of the day on reports of something of an improvement in the spot situation, both locally and in the interior, the highest levels were reached. The close was at net gains of 34 to 53 points.

For a while, around mid-season, The ring was very quiet but steadiness continued on reports of more American mills, both north and south resuming work. At one time, prices were decidedly off from the early high levels and down to within ten points of yesterday's close but a little later the market rallied strongly.

Heaviest trading came toward the close when it was obvious that professional traders who had been playing for a reaction from the advance were being forced to cover.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The cotton market was higher today on reports of improving trade conditions in Manchester and of a better spot demand in the south.

Several private cables were received reporting a better tone in Lancashire and some trade buying in Liverpool as well as covering. These advices were accompanied by reports of improving conditions in India where recent riots have subsided and the early buying was promoted by the firmness of foreign exchange. After showing net advances of 28 to 34 points, the market eased under continued March liquidation. There was not much southern selling, however, while sellers of March were buyers of May and July, and the market was firm during the afternoon on the reports of a better demand for low grades in the south, moderate trade buying and expectations of a comparatively firm showing by Liverpool again tomorrow. The better spot advices came from New Orleans and Little Rock and were colored by the fact that few southern selling orders appeared around the local ring after the first half hour. Bombay advices stated that the stock exchange, bullion and cotton markets there had been re-opened on January 25.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK.

FORT WORTH, Jan. 27.—Steady prices were paid for most all classes of cattle today, but the yards cleared late because of poor train service. The steer supply and many calves came in after the early market. Receipts were 2,200 head. Trade was featured by the sale of a car of choice light calves at $11.

Hog values were generally steady, an outside buyer paying $9.40 for a few head, while packers secured the best run for $9.25. The bulk sold around $8.50 to $9.10. Pigs steady at $5.00 to $7.75. Receipts were 1,350 head, but only 350 arrived at a seasonable hour.

Nothing was offered in the sheep pens.

DAVENPORT IS PREPARED FOR OIL REPORTS

County Attorney John Davenport, who, since his return from Austin, has been conducting an investigation in behalf of local oil men to ascertain the most effective course to be pursued in winning their fight to procure an adjustment and reduction of tax assessments, announced Thursday that he is ready to render a report of his findings and offer suggestions for future action by the oil men.

In commenting upon the existing situation as affecting the local oil operators, Mr. Davenport said:

"Tax valuations on their properties have been assessed too high and it at present amounts to nothing more or less than a confiscation of their property by the county.

"As county attorney, I am in a position to better ascertain the true state of affairs than practically any other person, not directly or indirectly connected with the tax assessor's or tax collector's office, and for this reason the oil operators, who certainly have been imposed upon, have asked me to find for them any remedy in equity to which they might have recourse in overcoming the present tax burdens.

"In my report at their meeting, which I expect them to call at an early date, I will advise them to go (and I have found that they can) into a court of equity and ask for a cancellation of tax assessments on grounds that it amounts to practical confiscation of property.

"If the court grants this request and cancels the assessments, it will then be up to the tax assesor to reassess their property on a reasonable basis."

No meeting of oil men has been set, although it is expected that one will be called within a short time.

BETHLEHEM DECLARES DIVIDEND

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Directors of the Bethlehem Steel corporation today issued a preliminary report of the corporation's operation for 1920, and declared the regular dividends on both classes of preferred stocks for the current year, payable in quarterly installments. A regular quarterly dividend of 1¼ per cent on both classes of common stock also was declared.

Total net earnings of Bethlehem for 1920 amounted to $37,351,554, against $37,441,219 in the previous year. Net income of $14,450,837, compared with $15,356,860 in 1919.

Orders on hand at the end of 1920 amounted to $148,287,000, as compared with $251,422,000 at the corresponding time of 1919. New business booked during the year amounted to $168,296,000.

In a statement issued by President E. G. Grace, the opinion was expressed that the "low point in the iron and steel industry had been reached, and that from now on production would increase, depending upon the rapidity with which all interests recognize the necessity of a return to more nearly normal conditions."

Caddock Warns Against Lewis' New Headlock

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Wrestlers, especially those seeking a contest with the present heavyweight champion, "Strangler" Lewis, must develop a defense for the champion's famous headlock, said Earl Caddock, who was defeated by Lewis in a match in New York last Monday night for the title, chiefly by application of the deadly headlock.

Caddock said he felt none the worse for the punishment he received in this encounter with Lewis in the headlocks clamped on by the champion, and that the hold is no more deadly than the toe hold or double wristlock. He was on his way back to his farm in Walnut, Iowa.

"Mamma," I said, "Let's Take Dick's Advice and Sell the Store."

"You know how mamma is," said the father. "She's lived right here so long it was hard to coax her to sell out and go to live at Dick's place.

"But I finally got her to consent to sell if we could get the price we wanted. She insisted that I couldn't find a buyer, though. Guess that's why she finally said yes. She thought no one would pay our price.

"Well, I went ahead then. I knew what the place was worth and I put an ad in the Record News, giving all the facts about the business, just what we were making out of it.

"Inside of two days I had a buyer. Surprised? Say, you should have seen mamma's face. But she had agreed to sell, you know, and she couldn't back down.

"I knew about Record News Want Ads before. I've used them often and always got results. I knew the Record News would help me sell the store, and it did."
