Exhibits Of Wichita County Fair Draw Praise As Judging Progresses

AWARDS MADE IN POULTRY CATTLE SHOWS

Swine Department Draws Interest in Winning Duroc Entries

CROWDS CONTINUE

Division Booths Hold Center With Varied Displays

The second day of the Wichita county fair was filled with various activities. Judging in the poultry department, which was started Thursday morning, consumed the greater part of the afternoon. Dairy and beef cattle awards were made, awards were announced in the educational exhibits, and rabbit judging was completed.

Friday night's entertainment, presented to another immense crowd, was in the hands of Burkburnett visitors and sponsored by the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce, with President J. M. Alexander presiding.

The program opened with numbers from the Cowboy band, directed by E. L. Nichols. Then the Boden twins, Margaret and Marion, gave a tap dance. Miss Margaret Baker and Mary Moody entertained with a ukulele duet. "Mrs. Rastus at the Telephone" was the title of R. T. Reagan's reading. A song and tap dance was presented by Mary Emma Hodges, followed by a harmonica number from W. H. Brown. Miss Catherine Houser offered a ukulele song, and the program was closed by the American Legion Hickville band, directed by Lee Copeland.

Judge J. W. Ridgway, national dairy cattle judge, of Fort Worth, who formerly judged the dairy and beef cattle at Iowa Park fairs, stated that the county should feel proud of the progress made in dairy and beef cattle exhibits, as the classes shown were closer and the animals had better quality. A complete list of awards and comments by Judge Ridgway will be published Sunday.

Rabbit Show

Judging in the rabbit show began at 1 and closed at 6 o'clock Thursday. One hundred and fifty head, including all the main breeds were exhibited. Officers of the rabbit association wish to thank breeders in North Texas and Northern Oklahoma for cooperation in making this department a success. The quality of the animals was good and the colors all that could be asked. Judge Russell Middleton of Amarillo, has judged at rabbit shows over a wide area and he spoke with praise of the entries in this exhibit.

The swine department was attracting attention Friday. G. H. Black, Wichita Falls, Rt. 3, Call field, had an interesting entry of five head of Durocs. Mr. Black won the blue ribbons on Durocs at the Wichita county fair last year at Iowa Park. His herd sire, "King Reveler" was included in this entry.

Cafe Hijacker Gets Ten-Year Prison Term

AMARILLO, Texas, Oct. 9. (AP)—Convicted on a charge of robbery with firearms in connection with the hijacking of a downtown cafe Sept. 16, R. C. Moss was given 10 years in the penitentiary by a Potter county jury today.

Moss entered at the dinner hour and took $125 from the cash register. His face criss-crossed with tape, Moss entered the cafe and sat at the counter several minutes before the robbery.

Sterling Disclaims Galveston Martial Law

HOUSTON, Oct. 9. (UP)—Gov. Ross Sterling said here today that he has no intention of declaring martial law at Galveston, one of four Texas ports where union dock workers have been on strike for more than a week rather than accept lowered wages.

Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, commander of the 63rd cavalry brigade, said at Tyler yesterday that he was "holding himself in readiness for transfer to Galveston." He commanded martial law forces at Galveston in a similar port strike during 1920, and now commands East Texas oil field martial law forces.

Tax Penalty Suit Speeds To Decision

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (AP)—A three-judge district court late today unanimously denied an application for a writ of mandamus to compel the Travis county tax collector to accept payment for delinquent taxes and issue a receipt in full without payment of the penalties and accrued interest.

The suit was in the nature of a test case to determine constitutionality of a law passed at the last special session of the legislature releasing the penalties and interest on all delinquent taxes provided the taxes were paid before Jan. 31, 1932.

Judges sitting in the case were J. D. Moore, C. A. Wheeler, and W. F. Robertson. They held, in effect, that the law was unconstitutional.

Atty. Gen. James V. Allred who defended the Travis county tax collector, said a transcript would be prepared immediately and the case appealed to the third court of civil appeals tomorrow.

Allred said he would join in a motion to advance the case in endeavor to obtain an early decision. A quick appeal from the finding of the court of civil appeals to finally adjudicate the case was planned.

Contention was made by the attorney general that the law was unconstitutional because the legislature did not have authority to release past obligations to the state. He admitted however, the legislature could release penalties and interest to accrue in the future.

3,000 WELLS REOPEN TODAY

Oklahoma Fields Resume Flow at 7 a. m.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 9. (UP)—Oklahoma's 19 flush oil fields, closed more than two months by Gov. William H. Murray's drastic declaration of martial law, will be opened tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock with the executive's demand for $1 petroleum still unrealized.

Improved conditions in the petroleum industry, the proration of the vast East Texas field and the pleas of operators that they be allowed to flow their wells led the governor to the decision. More than 3,000 wells once more will start producing, still under military jurisdiction.

The opening of the fields comes with oil prices ranging from 46 to 70 cents a barrel.

"But this doesn't mean that I've given up the fight for $1 oil," Murray said tonight.

"I predict that the price of oil will go to $1 within 30 days," said Cicero I. Murray, in charge of military law over the fields.

The governor still holds one threat over the oil industry—the operation of state-owned refineries and filling stations. He already has completed plans for organizing the Oklahoma Gas company, holds options on two refineries and can start selling "Bill Murray Gas" to the public within a short time, he said.

Oil men and bankers of the state were united tonight in praising the governor's decision to open the fields, closed Aug. 4.

Judge Studies Quinn's Appeal for a New Trial

NEWKIRK, Okla., Oct. 9. (UP)—The motion for a new trial for Earl Quinn, sentenced to death for murdering two Oklahoma school teachers, was taken under advisement late today by Judge John S. Burger after defense attorneys had challenged admissability of testimony offered in the rum runner's trial.

Defense Attorney James Mathers attacked testimony of Mrs. M. M. Patton, Muskogee, who identified Quinn as the man who attacked her before the bodies of Jessie and Zexia Griffith were found on a lonely road near Tonkawa. They had been shot to death.

Mathers also contended the jurors were allowed to read newspaper accounts of the case while the trial was in progress.

Child Health Parley Opened in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 9. (UP)—Gov. William H. Murray today opened a two-day child health conference in the house of representatives chamber at the state capitol.

More than 100 child health workers from all parts of the state gathered here for the Oklahoma conference on child health and protection. Purpose of the conference was to apply in the state findings and recommendations of the national child health conference at Washington.

Price Slump and Dry Weather Jolt Farmers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (INS)—Prices of farm products have suffered a further serious slump, the bureau of agricultural economics said today in its monthly survey of the agricultural situation.

Crop conditions were fairly good but the far west and northwest suffered severely from lack of rainfall and during the past month much of the south has had too much dry, hot weather.

NEGRO PAIR INDICTED ON NEW COUNTS

Accused Slayers of Nodurft Plead Not Guilty in Court Here

34 BILLS RETURNED

Special Venire of 200 Men Drawn for Trial Here Oct. 19

Indictments charging criminal assault and robbery with firearms were returned by the grand jury Friday afternoon against Richard Johnson, alias Robert Folk, and Richard Brown, alias Johnnie Brown, negroes, in connection with the killing of A. N. (Ted) Nodurft of Fort Worth here on Sept. 9, and the attack upon and robbery of his fiancee, a Wichita Falls girl, by his slayers.

The bills returned against the two blacks were included in 34 indictments returned Friday by the grand jury as a result of three days' investigation. They followed indictments for murder previously returned against Johnson and Brown, and upon which the defendants entered pleas of not guilty when arraigned before Judge Allan D. Montgomery in the 30th district court Friday.

Special Venire Drawn

Oct. 19 was set by the court as the date for the trial of both men, and Mrs. A. B. Eichelberger, district clerk, drew a special venire of 200 men to provide jurymen for the case.

Secret indictments were returned by the grand jury Monday, it was learned, charging the two negroes with murder. The defendants were brought from the Tarrant county jail Friday morning by Sheriff Perry Browning, Deputy Sheriff Ben Howle, and City Detective George Garrett. Local officials indicated that the two accused men will be held in the Wichita county jail pending trial.

Cedric Taylor was appointed by the court to represent Brown after Mr. Taylor's name was drawn from a hat in which had been placed the names of 10 prominent criminal lawyers. The other defendant told Judge Montgomery that he might be able to employ counsel. Mr. Taylor stated to the court that he will ask change of venue, and a hearing on this application was set for next Monday morning. The attorney also indicated that he may ask for a continuance of the case.

Three Indictments Against Each

Johnson and Brown have been held in the jail at Fort Worth since their arrest here about three weeks ago. The offense with which they are charged occurred on Sept. 9. Nodurft and his finance, a Wichita Falls young woman, were accosted by two negroes while sitting in Nodurft's car on a side

The navigation district is the administering unit of Houston's port and ship channel. Colonel Ball is popularly known as the "father" of the port.

Although 12 state witnesses, including Gov. Ross Sterling, testified against the venerable, 73-year-old attorney, Judge Langston King ordered a verdict of not guilty. Colonel Ball's friends surrounded him and shook his hand when the jury returned the verdict.

Macks Even Standing as Cards Flop

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—The wild flight of the Martin bomber and his fellow Red Birds of prey was abruptly halted today.

The homecoming of the Cardinal squadron was completely spoiled by the sudden return to form of Lefty Grove, who stopped the spectacular Pepper Martin for the first time and led the Athletics to an 8 to 1 victory in the sixth game of the world series.

The triumph enabled the world champions to draw level with their rivals for the second time, each now having three games, and forced the series to the seven-game limit for the first time in five years.

It was a crushing jolt to the home forces, who came home in the full flight of an inspired dash toward the championship, Martin nothing less than a national hero and their enthusiasts out in full force to cheer the anticipated downfall of Connie Mack's crew.

Instead of seeing their favorites duplicate the startling pace they maintained in the East, a near capacity crowd of 39,401 fans saw the Cardinals virtually go to pieces, at least for the day. They saw the young right-hander, Paul Derringer, "blow up" under fire for the second time with a streak of wildness. They groaned as the St. Louis defense cracked wide open at critical junctures, and they were stunned as their week-long idol, Pepper Mar-

COSTLY LIVING OF AL EXPOSED

Government Seeks to Prove Huge Income

CHICAGO(Oct. 9. (UP)—If Alphonse Capone is rich enough to be a moviesque Florida playboy, then he certainly must have an income worthy of taxation, the government attempted to prove it his tax fraud trial today.

Since Capone has paid not one cent of the $215,000 the internal revenue department claims he owes, federal prosecutors introduced a series of witnesses who told:

How his Chicago henchmen telegraphed him more than $70,000 during the winter he spent in Florida in 1928.

How he bought a $40,000 mansion at Palm Island, near Miami, and how he built a $6,000 swimming pool adjoining it.

How he had an eight-room suite at the Chicago Metropole hotel and how he gave a $3,000 party for his gangster friends after the Dempsey-Tunney fight.

Through all the testimony ran the names of Jake Guzik, the Capone beer collector; "Machine Gun Jack" McGurn, one of the Capone "exterminators"; Ralph Capone, "Scarface Al's" bootlegging brother, and Charles Fischetti, less prominent Capone cohort. These worthies said the witnesses, visited Capone in Miami, drank his whisky in Chicago and were present at most of his little sprees.

Miss Ann McNeil and Miss Katherine Gaines of the Miami Beach Western Union office, who came 1,500 miles to say less than a dozen words, identified money order transfers which showed Capone was telegraphed $73,500 from Chicago during his six months Florida stay in the spring of 1928.

MacRamsay Smith, clerk, and Fred S. Avery, white-haired promotion manager of the Metropole hotel in Chicago, agreed that Capone was a perfect gentleman. He had a suite of five rooms, said they, and always paid his bills in cash, "like any other gentleman."

The bills usually ran from $1,000 to $2,000 a month until the night that Gene Tunney and the celebrated long count beat Jack Dempsey. Capone celebrated with a party that cost him almost $3,000.

"The bill included entertainment, food and everything but the liquor," said Avery, who added that the party was so hilarious it lasted for two nights.

Capone indicated how worried he was over his possible 32-year prison sentence when approached timidly by Paul Reimary of Keil, Germany, who is walking around the world for no reason at all. Reimary wanted Capone's autograph.

"Nothing doing," growled Capone, "there's too much heat about signatures around here now."

Loaded Lumber Craft Burned With Cargo

CALUMET, Mich., Oct. 9. (INS)—The lumber carrier, Charles E. O. Bradley," bound down the lakes from Duluth, Minn., with a valuable lumber cargo, burned to the water's edge near the portage canal entry today, according to a radio coastguard dispatch here.

No casualties were reported in the message.

The boat was owned by the Blobgett line of Duluth.

Gin at Old Glory Destroyed by Flames

STAMFORD, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Baldwin gin burned at Old Glory, 25 miles northwest of Stamford Wednesday night. Loss was about $25,000. A small fire was discovered Wednesday, but it was thought to have been extinguished. It seems this rekindled in the night and the fire spread.

RAIL AND BANK PROBLEM GETS CONSIDERATION

Difficulties of Utilities and Finance Houses Entertwined

BANK FUNDS IN PERIL

Decline of Bond Values Shoves Securities Off Of Market

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—A plan with a double purpose—to strengthen the finances of the railroads and help hundreds of small savings banks—is the next objective of President Hoover.

The president is greatly encouraged over the unity of action that has developed behind his project for improving credit conditions and now is seeking a means of stabilizing railroad bonds.

Mr. Hoover feels the emergency $500,000,000 credit corporation will go far in restoring the normal processes of credit in those sections of the country where there has been stress.

Related Situations.

The railroad situation and that of the small banks are inextricably related. As demands for commercial loans slackened, many savings banks, particularly in the West, invested their funds in these securities. Life insurance companies followed a similar policy.

But railroad earnings fell off to such an extent that unless they improve materially by the end of the year, the bonds of many carriers must be removed from the list of securities which state laws make eligible for savings banks investments.

In addition the market value of the bonds has depreciated. The banks in many instances can not dispose of them without a loss.

Both Injured

As the situation stands, it threatens to deprive the banks of an important avenue of investment and to take away from the roads their principal source of financing.

Alert to this condition, the roads early in the summer applied to the Interstate Commerce commission for a blanket increase of 15 per cent in freight rates. Extensive hearings and argument followed. The commission now has the case under advisement.

What the government can do to improve the situation was a topic

Cannon Expense Files Ordered Opened to Probe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Federal law won over the rules of the house of representatives today in a decision that cleared legal paths for grand jury action on the political activities of Bishop James Cannon Jr.

Justice James Proctor of the District of Columbia supreme court halted a criminal trial to order William Tyler Page, clerk of the house, to produce original reports of 1928 anti-Smith expenditures filed by the organization's treasurer, Miss Ada L. Burroughs.

Page accepted the judge's decision. Assistant District Attorney John Wilson, prosecutor, immediately announced he would hold the grand jury in special session Saturday to receive the campaign reports from Page and close the inquiry.

Price Wins Inning in Impeachment Trial

AUSTIN, Oct. 9. (UP)—Attorneys for J. B. Price, aged judge of the 21st Texas district, drew an admission today from a state investigator that there is nothing on the face of a sheriff's fee account to apprise the judge that it is incorrect.

From a state auditor another admission was drawn that there is a difference of opinion between a house attorney prosecuting impeachment charges against Judge Price and District Attorney Henry Brooks of Travis county, who is to prosecute similar cases against sheriffs, as to what fees are proper.

Price is charged with gross negligence in approving accounts for alleged excessive fees claimed by sheriffs.

The trial wrangled and dragged its way onward through the day.

'Old Scrapiron' Will Be Hard to Stop

Dedication of New Athletic Field Slated for City's 50th Birthday

17-Acre Tract and Grandstand Seating 8,700 Assured for Coyotes by Opening of 1932 Season

Dedication of Wichita Falls High school's new athletic field and stadium, completion of which is assured before the opening of the 1932 football season, will form one of the major attractions on the 50th anniversary celebration of the city's founding, civic leaders said Friday. Plans are already being made for the observance of the city's birthday, and the provision of a fine athletic field will make possible athletic contests here which have long been desired by sports followers.

Land for the field, 17½ acres between Fifth and Roberts streets and Van Buren and Sunset boulevard in the northwest section of Wichita Falls, was deeded to the Wichita Falls school board at a special meeting Friday. Arrangements were also completed for the transfer of the steel grandstand at Call field to the new grounds. The stands will seat 8,700 persons.

Grading Starts Soon

Work of sodding and grading the field will start within a short time under the supervision of city employes, and work of moving the stands can start as soon as labor is available, according to J. L. Hair, Wichita Falls contractor. Practically all of the labor in building the stands and preparing the field will be supplied by the various relief agencies here through persons applying to them for aid. So far as is possible, persons given help by charitable institutions will be required to pay for this assistance through labor at the new athletic field.

The project for an athletic field was launched by the Kiwanis club and carried to a successful conclusion by that organization. The objective committee of the club, composed of Dr. F. R. Collard, chairman, W. R. Creamer, Walter Robbins, Jim Gant, J. L. Jackson Jr., Dr. R. H. Peterson and Dr. J. B. Nail, caused the program to be made the chief goal of the club for the year. Final negotiations were handled by Grover Bullington, as

300 TO RIDE GRID SPECIAL

Coyotes to Lead Wichitans Into Childress

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

The parade will start from the Hamilton building at 8:15 o'clock, led by the high school band and pep squad. It will break up at the depot and the special train will pull out at 9 o'clock, over the Fort Worth and Denver. The special will stop puffing at Childress at noon. Then there will be another parade, to the Childress hotel.

All of which are mere developments leading up to the real show—the first conference game of the season in the class A district No. 2, between Holton's Wichita Falls High school Coyotes, and Ballard's Bobcats of Childress high. The boys will line up on the Fair park gridiron in Childress at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon for the first kick-off, and what will happen after that depends on the stuff the boys have in them.

Leave Childress at 6:30

After the Coyotes have finished polishing off the Bobcats, or after the Bobcats have mauled the Pack—as the case may be—the crowd of several hundred Wichitans enrolled for the special will leave Childress at 6:30 o'clock, the time set for the special's start on its homeward trip.

Over 300 Wichitans, including the band, pep squad, members of the team, scores of students and grown-ups, will board the special train this morning, and probably that many more will make the trip to Childress in cars.

Yesterday afternoon—and last night—the Coyotes put the finishing touches on their strenuous week of practice. In the afternoon the team was worked about 30 minutes on punting, a short while on Childress plays, and then home man-

NERVOUSNESS DISPLAYED BY ACCUSED MAN

Officer Tells of Defendant's Actions During Hunt For Victim

'DIDN'T HELP MUCH'

Girl's Sweetheart Unable to Remember Her Eyes, 'Ace' Testifies

SINTON, Texas, Oct. 9. (AP)—The state rested its case late today in the trial of Newton Yarberry, charged with murder in the slaying of Dorothy Dorcas Symons, pretty 18-year-old Aransas Pass choir singer while the defense deferred presentation of its testimony as Judge T. M. Cox considered its motion for an instructed verdict of acquittal.

The state rested its case with the testimony of Sheriff Frank Hunt who told of the investigation and subsequent arrest of Yarberry.

Hunt related the finding of the choir singer's body in a rude grave of mud and seaweed near the Aransas Pass breakwater.

Sheriff Hunt was regarded as the ace of the prosecution's witnesses.

Yarberry Evasive

He said that Yarberry, several hours before the finding of Miss Symons' body, appeared nervous and evasive and disinclined to discuss the disappearance of the girl.

Later, upon Yarberry's arrest, he "kinda hung his head," the sheriff testified.

In the first interview with Yarberry, while the search for the girl's body was still in progress, Sheriff Hunt said the defendant "didn't help me much with her description and said he didn't know the color of her eyes."

Earlier state testimony had shown that Yarberry had been Miss Symons' sweetheart for nearly two years.

Didn't Deny Meeting

Sheriff Hunt added that Yarberry "didn't deny meeting the choir singer at the postoffice in Aransas Pass the night of July 30. That was the night of her disappearance.

In describing the body, when it was found Aug. 1, Sheriff Hunt said "She was covered with shell mud, sand and seagrass and lying in the edge of the water."

Footprints near the improvised grave corresponded with measurements taken of Yarberry's shoes, the officer testified.

Previously Dr. Walter Noble, appearing for the state, testified that his examination of the girl's body had led him to believe she had been choked and drowned, though he could not swear to that as a fact.

The defense brought out on cross-examination that Dr. Noble had never before examined the body of a person supposedly drowned.

Thomas A. Edison Sinks Into Stupor

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 9. (UP)—Thomas A. Edison is slowly losing ground and is in a stupor from which he can be aroused only with difficulty, his physician, Dr. Hubert S. Howe, said tonight.

The noted inventor spent a "quiet and comfortable" day, a bulletin said, but his condition was considered no better than it was this morning.

Dr. Howe said Edison aroused sufficiently this morning to take a few spoonsful of nourishment.

"He may remain in a stupor for weeks," the physician said. "I do not believe he will die suddenly. But I would not be surprised if I receive an emergency call at any time."

Manchurian War Threat Brings League Call

GENEVA, Oct. 9. (UP)—An urgent session of the League of Nations council was summoned today to open next Tuesday in a desperate effort to end the threat of war in Manchuria.

The session was requested by China because of the recent hostilities between Chinese and Japanese forces in Manchuria and the dispatch of Japanese warships to the principal Chinese ports. The rapidly increasing anti-Japanese agitation in China also has added to the threatening situation.

HOUSTON GANG MEMBER SLAIN

Del McCabe Dead, Scrivnor Captured

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 9. (AP)—W. S. (Shilo) Scrivenor, Texas gangster captured here yesterday after his companion, Del McCabe, was slain by a detective, today signed a waiver of extradition and agreed to return to Texas. He is sought there for questioning in connection with two murders at Houston and numerous Texas robberies.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 9. (INS)—Police today were notified by Kansas City authorities that J. C. Shores, captured here last night after officers had shot and killed his companion William Case, is wanted in Houston and Dallas, Texas, in connection with several gang killings and a bank robbery.

Shores is known in Texas, police here were told, as Shilo Scrivnor. Case was known as Del McCabe.

The slaying followed an attempt by Case to shoot Police Officer Loren O. Miller when the detective sought to question the two men about ammunition and guns in their rooms at a hotel.

Case fired at Miller, wounding him slightly in the hand. Miller returned the fire, his bullets striking the gunman five times and almost instantly killing him. Shores surrendered without a fight.

Fingerprints of the two men were sent to Kansas City, Mo., for a check, as well as to Washington, D. C.

No charges have been filed as yet against Shores. Police Chief Henry Alber said he would await further word before deciding what was to be done with the prisoner.

SHOOTING ENDS LONG SEARCH

HOUSTON, Oct. 9. (INS)—A long hunt that had spread from the Mexican border to St. Louis ended today in Des Moines, Iowa, when the body of a man killed there by officers last night was identified as Del McCabe, alleged member of a Texas gang that is blamed for several slayings and a long string of robberies.

The hunt for the members of the gang became intensified a month ago when Jack Jones, held for the murder of John Cherris, gave police a 25-page statement in which he cleared up a long list of heretofore unsolved robberies and paved the way for the solution of at least two gang slayings.

Jones confessed his implication in the murder of Cherris and named his brother, "Keggy," and Barney McGanegal as the other two implicated, a statement later confirmed by McGanegal.

Two days after the murder of Cherris, "Keggy" Jones and his wife were killed in their apartment here in what police believe was a gang faction's reprisal for the death of Cherris. It was the slaying of his brother that led Jones to make his confession, he told police.

With the information given by Jones, police launched a wide search for other members of the gang, including Del McCabe and Shilo Scrivnor. Then came the word of the death in an automobile accident near St. Louis of Cherris' wife and the severe injury of four other persons, one of whom was McCabe's wife.

Texas officials went to St. Louis to question the suspects but they were released when it was found they could give the officers no information as to the whereabouts of the alleged members of the gang.

Rumor said McCabe and Scrivnor were to pass through Texas this week en route to Mexico, and police guards were stationed to watch all roads, but there was no trace of the fugitives.

The latest word received in Texas was the report today from Iowa that the two men had been identified there.

Stephens County Club Boys To Compete in National Show

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Oct. 9.—Eight 4-H club boys and a herd of dairy cattle which won ribbons at principal state fairs in the Middle West this year will represent Stephens county next week at the National Dairy Show in St. Louis.

County Agent J. A. Killough believes that Miss Eunice Hopkins, home demonstration agent, will be the only woman at the national show as coach of a boys' demonstration team. She will accompany Milford Brown and Wesley Ensey to the show to compete with dairy demonstration teams from over the nation. The two Stephens county boys won the right to represent Oklahoma by placing first at the State Dairy show here last May.

Milford Brown has another distinction. He won three free trips to the national show, one as a member of the state demonstration team one as a member of the Oklahoma judging team, and one as the exhibitor of a prize winning cow at the state fair.

The Stephens county dairy herd, which has been showing at Muskogee this week at the state free fair, is being shipped to St. Louis after showing at state fairs in Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma City and Tulsa.

Boys from this county who will compete in the national show are Wesley Ensey, Carrol Wilson and Milford Brown of Marlow; John Sharp, Gene Ely and Jim Sharp of Duncan; Wayland Pearson of Velma; and Paul Thompson of Comanche.

Bottled Manuscript Tells Story of War Disaster to Ship

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Oct. 9. (INS)—A manuscript found in a bottle was revealed here today as the possible SOS message from the crew of a ship torpedoed by a German U-boat during the world.

The message, rendered almost indecipherable by water and age, was tossed up on the beach of this resort city in a half gallon bottle, similar to those used for emergency water rations by the United States navy.

A lifeguard picked up the bottle, covered with sea growth. The note it contained asked aid for a ship 150 miles south of the Azores.

"SOS . . . Send help 150 miles south of the Azores. Wireless out," the note read.

It was signed "L. Com. J. D. Halliday."

A Lieutenant Commander J. D. Halliday, naval records disclosed, was second in command of the City of Mobile, blown up by a U-boat or mine at sea in June, 1918.

Halliday now is in command of the Isthmian lines vessel Birmingham City and is due to dock today at Portland, Ore.

Cattle Theft Charges Filed Against Two

Charges of cattle theft have been lodged in Archer county against J. H. Cagle and Henry F. Cagle, according to Sam B. Spence, district attorney.

Prolonged investigation by Sheriff Fred McDaniel of Archer county and O. M. Wylie, assistant district attorney at Archer City, resulted in the filing of complaints, it was said. The theft of two animals from Tom Wingo and a Mr. Brunson near Mankins on last April 29, and of two cattle from a Mr. Davis near Holliday, are alleged in the charges.

Howard Asks Ruling On Refund of Penalties

Information from Attorney General James V. Allred has been requested by Arthur C. Howard, county tax collector, as to whether the state will refund interest and penalties now being collected under the old tax law if the new measure, temporarily remitting interest and penalties is declared valid.

Mr. Howard addressed the request to George H. Sheppard, state comptroller, and has been advised that the question has been placed before the attorney general for a ruling.

JOBBERS PLAN SECOND TOUR

13 Towns on Schedule for Tuesday Trip

A second group of contact trips to confer with business men in towns of this section will be staged Tuesday by the manufacturers and jobbers division of the chamber of commerce, according to a decision of the membership at a meeting Friday afternoon in the chamber offices.

The second trip follows one week after the initial tour, which, according to the personnel, was marked with remarkable success and will result in much good to the manufacturing and wholesaling concerns of Wichita Falls.

A tentative itinerary for the second group of trips was selected as follows: Petrolia, Charlie, Byers, Iowa Park, Electra, Harrold, Oklaunion, Davidson, Burkburnett, Devol, Terral, Ryan and Ringgold. Towns in addition to these will be visited if possible, it was said.

The meeting Friday was exceptionally well attended, according to C. H. Thompson, the chairman. Those present expressed enthusiasm with the results of the first trip. Indications were that a much larger number of the membership would go on the second group of tours.

The plan of contact trips is to substitute small groups for a single large delegation on good will tours. Each small group visits one or more towns and every merchant and business man is visited. His opinions and criticisms of Wichita Falls and the manufacturing and wholesaling facilities here are solicited. Heretofore, large delegations have formed into a single good will group and visited a large number of towns, giving a brief program of entertainment as it passed through.

'Morning After' Hangover Moves Ardent Wet to Give Dime to Drys

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (UP)—The first contributor to a $100,000, fund being raised by the national prohibition board of strategy was a well-known Washingtonian, but it now appears it was all a mistake.

This man, who is a familiar figure at cocktail parties and bierabends, stalked into his office one morning to find a letter signed "Ernest H. Cherrington," and written on the stationery of the board of strategy. Cherrington, in case you don't know him, is an outstanding dry and chairman of the board.

The letter referred to our hero's "active and unfailing interest in the great cause of prohibition," and asked him to send in a dime in the board's campaign for a million of 'em.

Highballs the previous evening had blunted his customary acumen, and at the same time put him in a receptive frame of mind for such an appeal. As quickly as you could say Wayne Wheeler he dashed off a reply, saying he wished prohibition had been in force last night, and that he would gladly give four dimes if Dr. Cherrington would cure his hang over. Enclosing a dime, he mailed it.

A day or two later he received an acknowledgement (genuine) saying:

"Put this down as a matter of historic interest to your grandchildren—your dime was the very first one received in our campaign for a million or more!

"Dr. Cherrington is out of the city but when he returns he will be shown exhibit A. We hope there are a million more in your frame of mind!"

Our hero proudly exhibited this letter and resolved to read it to his grandchildren, when and if. Now he'll have to tell them as well that the original letter was written by a "drinking dry" associate at an adjoining desk in his own office and was a thinly-disguised hoax.

People who may have shouted "How about our beer, Herbie" and such like things when President Hoover was at the ball game at Philadelphia Monday, wasted their breath. Not a word of it—nor a single "boo"—was audible where the president sat, even though it was audible elsewhere in the stand.

Fifty counties in Mississippi received $1,844,691 more from the state than they turned into the treasury last year.

Gangster Sought in Sweetheart's Death

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (UP)—Frank McErlane, whom police call the "gun crazy" gangster and whom they credit with being the originator of the "one way ride" was hunted today in connection with a slaying which shocked a city long used to ruthless gangdom slaughter.

McErlane's sweetheart, Marion Miller, who had a record as a shoplifter, was found dead in McErlane's expensive automobile. She had been shot four times. At her feet lay two dead dogs, riddled with bullets from the same gun used to kill the woman.

There were two theories about the slaying. One was that enemy gangsters attacked McErlane in his car, killed the woman and dogs and took McErlane away on one of the "rides" which he himself made famous. The other theory, considered by police the most plausible, was that McErlane and his sweetheart quarreled and that he killed her and the dogs.

PAN-AMERICAN LEAGUE URGED

Chadbourne Proposes Permanent Group

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Formation of a permanent league of American republics to sponsor commercial cooperation was advocated today by Thomas L. Chadbourne, author of the Chadbourne sugar production control plan.

In an address delivered before the fourth Pan-American commercial conference he outlined five purposes of the proposed organization:

1. To ascertain the obstacles in the way of a Pan American customs union and how to remove them;

2. To study the effect free trade would have on commerce between the United States and each of the Pan American countries; what public works are advisable in the next ten years in Latin America, and what would be necessary to finance them.

3. To study the possibility of increasing Latin American employment on American ships in Pan American trade;

4. To study means of making mandatory the study of Spanish and English in the schools of America and Latin America, respectively;

5. To study the public debt of each Latin America republic, looking to a final refunding by the republics desiring it.

Chadbourne proposed that the group be composed of one man of affairs from each of the countries in the union to deal with the commercial subjects listed. A separate group of educators to deal with the cultral, educational and language questions above.

Milk Fund Report Made to Lions

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 9.—A number of important discussions were made at the Lions club luncheon Thursday including announcements concerning the bank opening jubilee. G. R. Davidson reported that plans were under way to hold a big trades day celebration or jubilee when Electra's new bank opens. Representatives from all civic clubs have been selected, Mr. Davidson announced, and the Lions club committee is composed of Dr. R. R. Ramey, H. A. Decker and E. V. Haltom.

F. M. Baker, free milk committee chairman, reported that the maximum number of undernourished school children were being furnished milk, and one of the dairies had aided in the project by reducing the price of the milk which is given these children. The free milk project is jointly sponsored by the Lions and the Rotary clubs. Miss Lucile Jackson is supervising the distribution of the milk.

H. T. S. Totten was in charge of the entertainment features and presented Miss Letrice Wofford and Misses Dorothy Landrum, Catherine Minderman, and Mina Cobb in popular song numbers. E. E. Rogers, high school principal, introduced Capt. Morris McDannald of the Electra Tigers who made a talk in which he thanked the Lions and Rotary clubs for their splendid cooperation in backing the school and the football team. He also paid tribute to Coach Harvey Stanford and the Tiger team.

Dr. R. R. Ramey, president, presided at the luncheon, "Hear Those Lions Roar" and "Old Black Joe" were given as the opening numbers, and Rev. C. R. Nichol, visiting Lion who is holding a revival at the Church of Christ, brought the invocation. B. C. Davis, Wichita Falls, was a visitor also.

MANKINS, Texas, Oct. 9.—A spirit of cooperation, courage and hope was shown in the meeting Thursday evening of the Mankins P.-T. A. held in the auditorium of Mankins high school.

The membership drive closed with a very successful outcome. The enrollment now totals 73 which doubles that of any past years.

Greer County Boy Wins State Honor In Club Contest

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Oct. 9.—Another honor has come to Carl Neumann, member of the Ozark 4-H club of Greer county. He was adjudged second outstanding boy in club work in Oklahoma during the 4-H school at the state fair in Oklahoma City the past week.

Placing second in the leadership contest is a remarkable achievement, in view of the fact that there are 40,000 club members in the state.

In recognition of his accomplishments, he was invited to appear before the Oklahoma City Chamber of Commerce at its weekly luncheon meeting. He talked on various phases of club work.

But winning distinction is nothing new to this youth. Already he had won a scholarship awarded by the Oklahoma Bankers association and will enter Oklahoma A. & M. college at the beginning of the second semester. He also was awarded a trip to the International Livestock show in Chicago last December. He is president of the southwest district federation and was chairman of the executive committee which had charge of the 4-H club department at the recent state fair.

A number of team and individual premiums were won by Greer county club members at the fair.

PROHI AGENTS HURT IN BRAWL

To Officers Sent to Hospital After Raid

BALTIMORE, Oct. 9. (AP)—Two prohibition agents were so badly injured they were sent to a hospital and two others less seriously hurt in a raid on a Low street saloon early today.

The disturbance was quelled by a detachment of police called by one of the agents who escaped during the melee. Three men with police records were arrested as a result of the fight and another, known to the agents, is sought.

The fight started when the four agents entered the saloon without a warrant and advanced to the bar to seize evidence. They were attacked by 50 patrons wielding beer bottles. After Agent Ival Hatton had been floored by a bottle, the other agents drew pistols and some of the patrons followed suit. No shots were fired.

The assault on the agents was the latest of a series which has led federal prohibition officials to appeal to state authorities for protection during raids.

Two Young Men Held in Slaying

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 9. (AP)—Two 23 year old men were charged with the hold up slaying of Erwin Canada, druggist, in complaints filed in the court of Justice of the Peace John Shook today.

William B. Bryan and George M. Scott were charged in murder complaints signed by Raymond South, investigator for the district attorney. Mrs. Norlean Canada, the widow of the slain druggist, was listed as a witness.

Canada was shot down when he resisted an armed man Sunday night. He had just closed his drug store and was walking to the street car with his wife when a tall man accosted him. The druggist resisted and struck the man with a milk bottle. The other hit him with a pistol, and a second bandit sitting in an automobile fired the shot which took Canada's life, according to the widow.

Court Cautions on State Truck Law

HOUSTON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly today cautioned officials of Robertson county, as well as of other counties, to desist from enforcing certain provisions of house bill number 335, which placed the regulation of trucks under the supervision of the railroad commission, until final action is taken upon the bill by the three-judge federal court.

A petition alleged that T. L. Tyson, county attorney; V. C. Box, sheriff, and Lee Josey, constable, all of Robertson county, and Luther Guynes and O. L. Mounts, two special agents for railroads, were enforcing a provision requiring a permit be obtained from the railroad commission for all trucks.

IF the autumn morning is crisp and clear, serve Shredded Wheat Hot. It's simple enough. Just pour hot milk over the biscuits instead of cold. You can't serve a better way. It doesn't cool while you're serving it—hot milk holds its warmth.

If the day promises the warmth of Indian Summer, serve Shredded Wheat with cool milk. Just heat the biscuits to retain their crispness, and add bananas or other fruit, if you like, then serve with milk or cream.

Which ever way you serve Shredded Wheat, the result is the same. A delicious, healthful breakfast, easily served and warmly appreciated by every member of the family.

Cardinals Fail Miserably in 8-1 Loss

tin, went hitless for the first time in the series.

The law of averages and the great Grove finally brought down Martin.

Perhaps it was inevitable. It seemed too much to expect that Martin could continue the record-slashing streak he had maintained through five games.

Still it was a terrific anti-climax, as the "wild horse" failed completely to do any of his celebrated tricks after being cheered, feted, toasted over the radio and presented with everything available, including a shotgun and a rifle, before today's game.

Martin popped out weakly twice, connected solidly only once, on a fly to Haas, and then walked in the ninth on his final turn at the plate. The Pepper's hitless day cut his average to .571 for the six games, still sensational enough for a rookie outfielder, but below Babe Ruth's record of .625, for the first time, as the Cardinal star failed to break any of the marks now in his grasp.

Grove was invincible. He held the Cardinals to five hits, gave only one pass, struck out six batsmen and looked very much like the lanky southpaw who swept through the American league this season with a record output of 31 victories.

The Cardinals manufactured their only run on a double by Flowers and a single by Frisch.

The A's right-hand ace, George Earnshaw, who has almost completely baffled the Cardinals for two years, will hurl the deciding game tomorrow.

Earnshaw and Burleigh Grimes, heroes of successive two-hit victories in Philadelphia, likely will be the opposing sharpshooters. At any sign of weakening by either Grove and Hallahan will likely be called on.

The Cardinals booted and passed away the sixth game with the worst exhibition they have given. A wild throw by Third Baseman Jake Flowers on a bounder by the first man up in the fifth, Jimmy Foxx, paved the way for Derringer's downfall.

The A's might not have tallied without the aid of this error, but as it was they combined a pair of hits with four bases on balls to roll up four runs.

At the expense of big Jim Lindsey, in the seventh, the Athletics enjoyed another weird round-robin. They put over another cluster of four runs on three hits, one pass, one hit batsman and a muff of a short fly by Chick Hafey with the bases full.

His companion then was attacked by the two negroes, who also took her engagement ring and wrist watch. About 10 days elapsed before the two defendants were apprehended here.

Each of the two negroes now is named in three indictments on each of which the death penalty is provided as a possible punishment.

Among the remaining indictments returned Friday are those against four men rounded up at Burkburnett and in this city about one month ago on charge of forgery after more than a dozen Burkburnett merchants reported having cashed bogus checks.

FAIR EXHIBITS WIN PRAISE

Judging Near Completion at Iowa Park

Mr. Black has been growing quality hogs for the past 20 years. He was herdsman for the Tri-Clover Stock farm, Streetman, Ill., for two years. The Tri-Clover farm is the home of "Rion Cherry," a $10,000 hog. Mr. Black breeds only registered Durocs and sells breeding stock, both young and old.

"Live-at-Home" Booth

A fact of interest was noted in the exhibit made by Jesse Van-Horn, farmer two miles west of Iowa Park, on the Electra-Iowa Park highway. For the past two years Mr. Van Horn has shown poultry, chicks and sheep, but this year he has entered two pens, four each, of registered Hampshire hogs. Mr. Van Horn remarked, "That he had decided to raise some good hogs along with other things."

The "live-at-home" booth, carried many entries of interest. Mrs. H. Rambo, Valley View, had an exhibit of 27 varieties of canned fruits, and had three other fruits that she did not consider of sufficient quality to enter. This entry did not include any canned meats, which is permitted in this contest.

Mrs. G. Goetze, Clara, had an entry including 31 different varieties. Mrs. J. H. Watts entered 43 different kinds of fruits and vegetables. This exhibit was placed in the home demonstration building and attracted much favorable comment.

Agricultural Judging

Judging in the agricultural department was finished late Friday afternoon. G. H. McDowell, superintendent of the Texas experiment fair, was superintendent of all agricultural exhibits. Judges were J. Ray Quimby, superintendent of the Texas experiment farm, at Chillicothe, and G. R. Warren, county agent, Graham, Young county. Many visitors were attracted to these displays, and the varieties exhibited by the community exhibitors were commended favorably.

The agricultural building also housed a special exhibit by the Texas experiment farm, No. 16. This exhibit included specimens of everything grown on the farm that could be kept in a state of preservation. The entry was grouped around a very large pumpkin, centrally placed, and one especially attractive exhibit was a bunch of Denton bearded wheat.

Child Wins

Among interesting exhibits in the juvenile department, under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Davis, the blue ribbon quilt award was received by Little Miss Mary Marshall Huff of Wichita Falls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Everts, and granddaughter of Phy Taylor, a pioneer citizen of Wichita Falls. The design was the "Double Wedding Ring," and was pieced when Mary Marshall was 11 years old. The workmanship is excellent and the general effect of the quilt was beautiful, with nicely blending colors.

Little Miss Neva Joy Can, 9 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Cain of Iowa Park, in a free for all contest in white layer cakes, won the blue ribbon in the domestic science awards.

Hoover Turns to Railroad Bonds

of much speculation—and disagreement—today among observers.

Rate Hike Considered

Since the key to the problem seems to be increased earnings, the discussions constantly turned to possibility of the commission's approving the advance in rates. It was pointed out, however, that, in view of the commission's quasi-judicial status, the administration could hardly use its influence to bring about a decision favoring the roads.

The requested increase aroused a storm of opposition.

There was discussion, too, of possibility of the creation of a railroad revolving fund by the government which would, in effect, guarantee the redemption in full of railroad bonds upon maturity.

The fund would be used to make loans to roads whose condition is intrinsically sound. Adequate security would be demanded. The sum of $300,000,000 was mentioned as the size of the revolving fund.

Amendments Possible

Another avenue of approach approach which Mr. Hoover may be investigating is that of having state banking laws so amended that the rail bonds may remain on the eligible list.

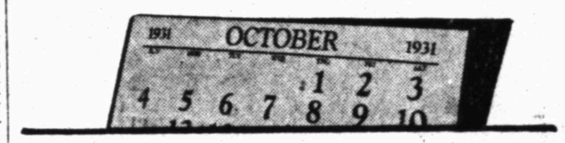

The president is seeking advice from government officials, bankers and railroad men. Meanwhile, the organization of the credit pool is going forward at a rapid rate.

Its machinery was perfected today in New York and it is to be incorporated tomorrow. Soon afterward, the $500,000,000 fund will be put to work providing credit in exchange for assets which cannot now be liquidated.

TWO HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Car Turns Over on Road To Charlie

Two women were painfully injured early Friday night when the automobile in which they were riding overturned on the Charlie road about eight miles from Wichita Falls. The women were rushed to the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital here, where it was learned that their injuries were not serious.

Mrs. S. D. Parchman, 2123 Princeton, received a severe scalp wound. Mrs. Z. W. Harvey, 1605 Cole, received bruises and lacerations about the legs. Both were considerably shaken up as a result of the accident, according to hospital authorities, but were able to be removed to their homes. Three other women in the automobile were unhurt.

Mr. Harvey was driving another machine about a mile behind the automobile containing the women. He saw the car overturn as it took a curve in the road. He lifted Mrs. Harvey and Mrs. Parchman in his car and sped toward town after calling an ambulance. He was met about three miles from the city and the injured women were transferred to the Merkle ambulance.

The ambulance returned to the scene of the accident for the other women, but found them unhurt. Mrs. Parchman was said to have been driving the car.

Washes woolens and blankets!

WHEN you wash with hard water there's a dirty ring around the edge of the basin, but that's not suds. It's scum. The hard water is doing that. It's mixing with the soap to form a dirty curdle. Can't wash woolens and blankets in that water.

Soften the water with Melo. Then add soap. The water is now a very fine cleansing agent and the soap is much more effective. Melo did that. Get a can today at your grocer's.

BRITISH WOMEN IN BIG ROLES

Election Campaign Draws On Fair Sex

LONDON, Oct. 9. (AP)—Great Britain's women as candidates, campaign workers and voters, will play a decisive role in the coming general election to determine the life of the national government.

The Labor party is expected to run from 20 to 25 women for the house of commons and the Conservatives and Liberals about a dozen each, while the number to represent independent groups has not been decided. In the 1929 election, 69 women candidates were put forward by all parties and 14 were elected.

The most prominent of this year's candidates are Lady Astor, American born M. P., who is standing for re-election as a Conservative; Margaret Bondfield, former minister of labor, who seeks her old post as a Laborite; the Duchess of Atholl, who held a cabinet post in the last conservative government, and Megan Loyd George, daughter of the Liberal leader, who is campaigning on her record as a staunch supporter of her father.

Political organizations are being besieged by women and girls who are eager to lend a hand in boosting candidacies of their favorite nominee. Most of them will be used in the routine work of distributing campaign material but the most talented will stump the country on the battle front.

Among the most tireless campaign workers of this and past elections is Ishbel MacDonald, daughter of the prime minister. She is carrying the fight for his re-election into the enemy's camp in Seham harbor which once sent him to parliament and now rejects him.

The female vote was credited largely with turning Stanley Baldwin's conservative government out of power in 1929 and elevating Ramsey MacDonald's Labor ministry.

The Hornbecks have been living at Liberal, Kan., for several years where A. V. has been connected with a newspaper. After visiting the W. E. Musser family here and relatives at Wichita Falls they will go to Delta county, Colorado, where Hornbeck and a partner have purchased the Tribune which they will conduct.

Olney Refuses Aid to Men Who Won't Work

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Oct. 9.—As a result of plans adopted last night by officials of the Olney Chamber of Commerce, reorganization of the Olney community chest was postponed until after cotton picking is over.

"We realize there will be some special cases that must be cared for before that time, but we are closing the doors of the chest to all able bodied persons at this time when farmers are having difficulty gathering their crop. This action is necessary because a large number of those we helped last winter have persistently refused to pick cotton 'because they could not make any money that way,'" Jack Williams, secretary of the chamber, said today.

ANSON STUDIES NEW GAS RATE

Mass Meet Backs Council In Move

Special to The Record News.

ANSON, Texas, Oct. 9—At a mass meeting of Anson users of gas at the courthouse the assemblage voted to endorse the proposal of the council in determining a proper rate for gas and passing a city ordinance establishing the rate. Petitions were circulated among the crowd and signed to give the council something to work on.

Dr. E. M. Wood, mayor, presided at the meeting, and talks concerning the steps taken to date and the gas situation in general in this section were made by Dr. Wood, Judge J. F. Lindsey and Judge Otis Miller.

The mayor is to appoint a committee to investigate costs of investment in the Anson plant and operating expenses with the view of arriving at the proper rate to be set. The council is to pass the ordinance prescribing the rate, and ask the public not to pay more.

It is expected that the gas company will either collect the usual rate or attempt to cut off meters, which action will be enjoined by the city. Finally, the matter will have to be settled by the railroad commission which has jurisdiction over utility rates. The gas company will be asked to have representatives in a meeting in which the rate is to be fixed to show why the rate is not just.

The two organizations are directed by E. N. Smith, and it has been arranged to give a credit of one-half point to the students for their work.

The Beam in the Eye

EVER SINCE Adam Smith obtained for economics general recognition as a social science, the "law of supply and demand" has been a point of anchor for economists, a favored phrase with politicians, a catch-word with every street corner sage, and a covering blanket for much ignorance.

Elocutionary declaration of the "law" has proven far more easy than its application, or explanation, however. Generally speaking, it appears quite simple that one should place upon the table only as much food as will probably be consumed. It seems equally plausible that in far-reaching phases of production and consumption, an approximate balance would be maintained. But the economic congestion with which the world is painfully writhing today points a glaring failure of the much-discussed law to produce such a balance. The human equation again has blocked the levelling processes which economic principle says should occur.

Within the limits of natural supply, it is rightly assumed that such goods would be produced as exisiting humanity would normally consume. Yet we have today the paradoxical situation in which a "surplus" of unsold commodities exists without the actual needs of humanity having been met. The old law is upset, not by overproduction, but by under-consumption. The latter condition, however, is not a natural one; it exists, not because the demand for produced goods is lacking, but because those who gladly would provide consumption have no means of obtaining the desired commodities.

Between the work of production, to which man gives himself naturally, and the equally natural processes of consumption a disturbing factor has asserted itself. This is the excessive devotion of modern society to individual gain, before which the greatest common good inevitably falls. Men naturally and normally would produce desired goods; as naturally would they be consumed, for of that cycle consists all the natural physical total of living. Yet between those two fundamental elements has risen the barrier of selfishness, breaking up the natural flow of materials through the cycle which best would serve the whole of humanity.

The most conspicuous and damaging application of that disturbing influence today is seen in the idleness of millions. Less human labor is required now for the production of given quantities of goods than in earlier times, because of labor-saving machinery. The demand for labor consequently, should be divided into smaller portions in order that the supply might be utilized. But what of the monetary elements in such a transformation? Monetary scales are arbitrary; have always been arbitrary, designed to serve the needs of their makers. It is difficult to believe that the intellingence which produces scientific miracles almost every day would prove unequal to the task of revising our economic formulae to meet exisiting needs.

The distressing congestion of today would be quickly relieved by normal consumption. There is no unwillingness to consume. When the short-sightedness born of individual selfishness gives way to humanitarian perspective, the old law of supply and demand will resume its helpful flow.

English Textile Workers

THE textile workers in England's Lancashire district seem to have established, once more, their reputation for being fair.

Mahatma Gandhi, scheduled to address them, was warned he might be lynched. His boycott movement in India is largely responsible for the depressed condition of the English textile industry. Due to him, many textile workers have been without jobs for months and months.

But Gandhi went through with it—and the unemployed textile workers cheered him to the echo.

During the American civil war the blockade on southern cotton almost ruined these same Lancashire textile workers. But while England's upper class openly favored recognition of the Confederacy, the textile workers were ardent supporters of the union. British aid for President Davis would have revived the textile trade. But the textile

Political Protection

THE legislative investigating committee that is trying to uncover some of New York City's more scandalous municipal secrets pops up now with evidence that the late Arnold Rothstein, "big shot" gambler of nation-wide notoriety, conducted many of his operations under the sheltering wing of Tammany hall.

Whether or not this particular charge is finally substantiated, there is nothing about it that need surprise any one. Whenever any racketeer attains the proportions that Rothstein attained, it is a perfectly safe bet that he has a quiet little understanding with some one in high authority. Underworld "kings" simply don't exist without protection. The only surprise possible in this case would be to learn that Rothstein didn't have any high political connections.

To Ruth Etting

You trim a poignant song with fauntless art,
And sway the mob with your uncanny skill;
Your rapt delivery clutches at the heart—
And brings to one and all a priceless thrill;
We live with you the spirit of the song,
We breathe with you the beauty of the air—
And time turns back and we must trail along,
Remembering a sweet and lost affair.

A simple song—a simple tale to tell—
Of heartbreak and the sadness of romance;
But there is magic hidden in your spell—
And we are captives underneath your glance;

You reach the second chorus—"go-to-town!"
And all the stars in heaven come tumbling down.

By Way of Report

Charles Gray Shaw, the collitch professor, who bagged all that free exploitation by calling whistlers "morons," visited this desk two weeks ago. He wondered if we would oblige with a blurb for the jacket of a book he was collaborating on with a girl student.

We told him we were sorry, but oh, so busy. He appeared to have a fine sense of humor, for he quipped and joked breezily. He was weary, he said, of professoring for 30 years.

But what we started out to say—was that—$10 will get him $1,000—if he can look us straight in the eye and deny the fact that while waiting for our answer—he whistled and whistled and whistled and not on key!

He paused at a table and said: "Isn't she beautiful?"

"Yeh," one of us replied, "she's gorgeous!"

Conrad then leaned over and whispered: "I'm going to marry her. She's a good girl!"

"How do you know she's a good girl?" he was queried.

"Because," he said seriously, "she's never been to the Club Napoleon or Reuben's!"

Crossword puzzlers, anagram addicts and backgammon fiends can thank Miss Libby ("Three's A Crowd") Holman for something new in indoor sports. Miss Holman delighted a group of listeners with it the other midnight. There is no name for the new diversion—as yet. Let's call it Name-Juggling.

This much is certain. You merely link the last name of a prominent person (or any person's name, for that matter) with the first name of another person. And it gets funnier if you keep adding names, titles of shows, books, movies, expressions, proverbs, etc.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

BLANK MONEY OF LIBERIA—Liberia, a republic in West Africa founded by liberated American negro slaves, has come recently under the critical notice of the League of Nations for it is one of the few countries in the world where the institution of slavery still flourishes.

The country has had some amusing experiments with many branches of its system of government. But its most bizarre experiment has been of a fiscal nature. In 1904, when President Barclay came into office, it was decided to print an issue of paper currency. As the population was overwhelmingly illiterate, printing on the banknotes was dispensed with. Instead, the different denominations were distinguished by pictures of different domestic animals such as chickens, calves, pigs, etc.

THE GIRL WHO WON

By May Christie

Young and vivacious Nollie Day, public stenographer at an exclusive New York hotel, is befriended by the wealthy Mrs. Judson, a widow. One evening, Nollie goes to the theater in place of Mrs. Judson, where she meets handsome Tony O'Brien. She reveals her own identity but Tony does not hear her. Later in the evening she refrains from repeating her explanation for fear that Tony would lose interest when he learned the truth. Next day, Tony telephones and learns Mrs. Judson has gone abroad. Disbelieving the report, he comes to the hotel. He looks at Nollie without recognition but she believes it is because he has discovered her masquerade. Before Nollie can reach him, he disappears. Nollie secures a new position as secretary to Jack Brilling of Galbraith & Co. Miss Galbraith, Brilling's fiancee is jealous when Brilling takes Nollie to dinner and warns Nollie against overstepping. Brilling tells Nollie he loves her.

Miss Galbraith enters the office just as Nollie frees herself from Brilling's embrace. Nollie is discharged.

Mrs. Judson gives Nollie a letter Tony had written her abroad. Intending to help Nollie and set the matter straight, she phones Tony to learn he has left on a vacation.

Mrs. Judson asks Nollie to become her secretary and visit her ranch.

Nollie accompanies Mrs. Judson to a garden party and meets Rhoda Vane.

CHAPTER XXV

Nollie and some of the guests in the big house in Westchester crowded around the crackling wood fire while the "seeress" told their fortunes.

"One by one, please. I play no favorites. Rhode Vane, you're out of turn."

The golden-headed siren tossed her head. She looked ready to fly into a tantrum.

Nollie heard her whisper to a man nearby: "It's all nonsense, of course. Just a stunt to put herself forward."

But at that moment, no one in the group was taking any interest in Rhoda.

They all wanted to know what lay in their immediate future.

It was Nollie's turn. She seated herself shyly in front of the "seeress."

"O-oh, such an interesting, clever hand! And I see money here—and love!"

"Naturally," commented one of the men, "considering the young lady's looks, isn't that logical sequence?"

"Certain women will never like you," proceeded the fortune teller, paying no attention to the interruption, "blondes particularly will never take to you, because of your success."

"What kind of success?" asked Nollie softly, skeptical but curious. She was a little embarrassed at this unusual attention focussed on herself.

From such a smart crowd, too. Ah! she was in a new "milieu."

"Success with men, my dear," explained the seeress amiably. "Gentlemen may prefer blondes, as a rule, but when you come along, they're out . . . and there's one in particular in your hand right here who won't like it at all."

"A blonde?" inquired a bystander.

"Yes. She'll make trouble for this girl if she gets half a chance to."

"Over a man, needless to say?"

"Of course."

"Curiously enough," proceeded the prophetess, scanning Nollie's palm, "there have been mighty few men in your young life, to date. But you have a very strong attraction for them. You just wait."

A pause. Then: "Your life has changed tremendously quite recently. See that sharp twist in your fortune line. And it's going to change again quite soon. You're in for an interesting, not to say a strenuous time of it."

"There's a dark man, too, coming into your life. But you don't always get your proper cues. You're uncertain what to do—not sure enough of yourself."

"And what should I do?" asked Nollie timidly, but much interested.

"Grab what the gods give, and don't permit other people interfering. And where women are concerned, don't trust them too much."

That roused a "Bravo!" from the male element in the audience.

"And what about money coming to me?" Nollie was still skeptical.

"Oh, money's not in your immediate future, but it's in your hand, all right. After a variety of ups and downs, you're win," conceded the palmist.

Again Rhoda Vane thrust herself forward.

"If you can't take me now, I'm going off and play poker."

Nollie withdrew, giving the tall blonde her chair. Rhoda did not even thank her.

The nice boy said to Nollie: "Wait. Let's hear what the fortune teller has to say about her hand. I bet it'll be spicy."

Apparently it was. So much so that the palmist whispered some of the items to Rhoda.

The tall blonde tittered. She said: "I'm not ashamed of anything. You can speak out loud."

"Well, you've a nerve! I've never seen such a collection of men and—shall we say flirtations?—in any one palm!"

"And what of that? Aren't we put into the world to have a good time?"

Some of the men applauded that, while Rhoda inquired if the prophetess didn't see "one tall, dark, magnetic young chap?"

"Oh, several of them," conceded she, "but I think there's one too many for your peace of mind. And right there you'll meet your Waterloo!" Everybody laughed.

Rhoda's lip curled. She tossed her head in a prima donna manner.

"If I take a fancy for any one—which I seldom do, if the truth were known—you betcha life he falls for me," she claimed arrogantly.

"Now, now—a dare to fate," chided one of the group, "you're tempting the high gods when you talk that way, Rhoda."

"I always get what I want, if I want it hard enough. But I'm rather blase, if the truth be told."

"That so Then have a care. Don't set your heart on any one man too much, or he may slip out of your fingers."

Rhoda was nettled. She withdrew her hand. She rose. "It's all bunk, this foretelling the future any how," she said peevishly.

She came over to the two men who were standing with Nollie.

"Come on and get up a poker game. This kind of a jamboree bores me."

Next morning, Mrs. Judson and Nollie and the chauffeur and the car were on the road betimes.

The sun shone. The world was very green and fresh, for it had rained over-night. White clouds drifted on the horizon.

"You're quite a 'grand success' at the party," commented the widow. "That fair-headed lad—Tommy What's-his-name—was trying to pump me about you."

"So?" Nollie flushed a little.

"Oh yes. He said he thought you the prettiest girl he'd ever seen. And he fished for an invitation to Redwood."

"You didn't give it him?" Nollie startled.

"Well, that kind of a youth will always do what he wants to do. He's got a couple of cars. I daresay he'll drop in."

The air blew fresh against their cheeks, for the windows and glass front of the limousine were open.

"There'll be nobody but ourselves and the servants to begin with. I'll be glad of a rest," confessed Mrs. Judson.

The drive was glorious along the asphalt roads that led to the Canadian border. Presently, as the sun grew hotter, there was an enchanting odor of pine and balsam.

A lake came into view. They sped along its side. The road rose, twisting into still more beautiful vistas.

On purred the car. Tall trees cast shade over the route. Ferns and wild roses edged its borders.

They stopped at an inn for lunch. Suddenly Mrs. Judson said, tentatively: "What do you think I've gone and done! I've invited that Rhoda Vane to Redwood for a week! I didn't want to, but it seems there's a man in the vicinity she's crazy about—so she persuaded me against my better judgment."

Collingsworth Housewives Unite In 'Live-at-Home' Program

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Oct. 9.—Never in the history of Collingsworth county has a movement to "save the surplus" of farm products been followed so unanimously as has been the case during the past few weeks. Hundreds of women in this county have united in a "live at home" program and thousands of cans are now stored in cellars and upon pantry shelves in all sections of Collingsworth county, according to Miss Parslee Brock, county home demonstration agent, who has directed much of the canning work which has been accomplished.

"There has been an unusually abundant supply of fruits and vegetables during the past season," Miss Brock says, "and it is probable that the canning program might have been carried forward upon an even larger scale had there been sufficient funds available to the women for the purchase of jars, cans, pressure cookers, and other needed materials."

It is believed that pantries in this county have never before contained such a variety as well as quantity of products as are to be found in the homes, especially in the rural districts. The coming program has, by no means, been confined to women identified with home demonstration work, as large numbers of women in all sections of the county who are not included in any club group have followed similar programs during the late summer.

According to information furnished by Miss Brock, 36,428 glass jars have been sold in Collingsworth county this season. There were 89 pressure cookers sold in the county, together with a total of 6,750 tin cans. It is probable that even larger numbers of jars, cans and cookers have been purchased by Collingsworth county people than are shown in these figures, as numerous citizens of this county residing in border areas do much of their buying in cities outside the county, including Shamrock, McLean, Memphis, Childress, Hedley, Hollis and Vinson, Okla.

Q.—Did the Four Horsemen, Stuhldreher, Crowley, Layden and Miller, ever go through a season undefeated while they were playing at Notre Dame?—J. H.

A.—The Four Horsemen were members of the Notre Dame squad in 1922, 1923 and 1924, but the appellation of Four Horsemen was affixed to them in 1924. In 1922 Nebraska defeated Notre Dame, 14 to 6. Therefore, the Four Horsemen in the year of 1924 went through the season undefeated after they became known as the Four Horsemen.

CROWELL WINS HARD-FOUGHT GAME FROM ARCHER CITY, 13-0

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

Cogitations on a familiar theme: Wichita Falls 31, Childress 6. Breckenridge 52, Electra 0.

The Coyotes SHOULD whip the Childress Bobcats by the above score. They have it in them. We base our prediction on their capabilities. Whether they will bear down and fight like they should fight, is another matter.

We give Childress a touchdown. There are some parts of the Coyote defense that are weak, and we cannot help but believe that the Bobcats are going to be so stewed up over this game that they'll take advantage of those weaknesses and rush over a counter.

The Pack can score five touchdowns over the Childress eleven if they go in there with the determination to do it. We have implicit faith in the football ability of that bunch of boys. But we are not so sure that they will hustle all the way and make those five touchdowns. They can do it, however, IF THEY WILL.

We allow the Coyotes only one point after touchdown. Perhaps we are lenient at that. The Wichita Falls team is sadly lacking in this department. Benny Withrow, great halfback, has only one weakness. He cannot place kick. On a kickoff he ranks with the best of them; but on a place kick for extra point he boots 'em right and left, but rarely true.

That's my prediction then, mates. Wichita Falls 31, Childress 6. Here's mud in yer eye—to the glory of the Coyotes. For the first time in several seasons we wax enthusiastic over the Coyotes, and do it sincerely. We have faith in them. The citizens of this town have faith in them. NOW IT IS UP TO THEM TO LIVE UP TO THAT FAITH!

The Other Scuffle

In case you can't make the long trip to Childress, a chance to see the Breckenridge Buckaroos awaits you over at Electra today. We foresee a top-heavy victory for Breckenridge, which is not anything out of the ordinary, and which will surprise no one, not even the Electrans. But the Tigers will come out of that game knowing a whole lot more football than they did before. The Bucks of the Oil Belt—that great section of Texas that produces such splendid football teams—are plenty powerful this year.

As for the World Series

Gabby Street is a mystery to me. With Grimes ready to go after three days of rest, it is hard to understand why a manager should want to start Paul Derringer in a game that could have won the world's championship. Lefty Grove was plenty good yesterday, but we believe Grimes would have been just as good. Street's foolish act in starting Derringer saps all our confidence in the Cards and reduces to exactly nil our hopes of them winning today's game, and the title.

True, Gabby has two great men to start today—Grimes and Hallahan. But the A's have Earnshaw, and the A's, we believe, are just a little bit the better money club than the Cards, with the exception of Pepper Martin. And Martin, after doing the lion's share of the Cardinal's winning, hit the rocks yesterday, and may do it again today.

Oh, Gabby, why didn't you start Grimes? And if you just had to start Derringer, why didn't you get him out of there sooner in the fifth inning when he was walking in one run after another—leaving him out there to suffer, and making the fans suffer just that much too. Gabby, I know what's the matter with you. You've been running around with Carl Williams!

PASSES MAKE SOLE COUNTERS

Archer Lads Hold Visitors Scoreless First Half

Special to The Record News.

ARCHER CITY, Texas, Oct. 9.—Holding a five-pound advantage in average weight, and approximately the same measure of superiority in experience and drive, the Crowell Wildcats wrested a hard-earned, 13 to 0, victory here Friday afternoon from a snarling, stubborn Wildcat pack representing Archer City High school. It was the visitors' second successive victory in district No. 3, class B conference competition this fall, the Seymour Panthers having fallen before the Crowell attack in an earlier game.

Crowell was generally favored to win by a much larger score, and the ability of the Archer City lads to make the game as close as it was came as a distinct surprise.

Friday's brilliant demonstration of versatile, aggressive football by two well-oiled and efficient machines was witnessed by a crowd of about 800 persons who were racked with nervous tension during the scoreless first half. From the first whistle, play remained near the center of the field. Each team spurted frequently with promising attack, only to spur the opposition into a furious defensive which renewed the deadlock.

Cooper Snatches Pass

Only in the third quarter did the tide of battle turn, as the superior weight of the visitors and better use of the forward pass crowded the Archer City eleven closer and closer to its own goal line. The locals stemmed the advance, however, and again brought the play to midfield. There it was, late in the third period, that a slippery and fleet-footed halfback named Cooper snatched a short, quick pass from Mullins, eluded a flock of opposing tacklers, and galloped all of 45 yards for the first touchdown. Try for point failed.

Maintaining its advantage over a tiring Archer City line, the Crowell attack kept the ball in the local's territory during almost all of the fourth quarter. The visitors consistently baffled the Archer City defense with a reverse play which apparently was headed off-tackle, but which usually ended with a short, accurate flip over the line to Cooper. Toward the last of the closing period, with the ball again deep in Archer city territory, Mullins shot a quick pass into the hands of this same Cooper, who darted eight yards more for the count, and added the extra point with an accurate boot.

During the game Crowell amassed a total of but six first downs, while the Archer City battlers had to be content with a zero score in that column. Such advances as were made during the first half were short and scattered thrusts at the line. Larkin, local halfback, and Fleming, left end, made occasional short dashes for yardage, but the advance was always short-lived. Hays, Archer City center, distinguished himself with a powerful defensive battle.

Todd Stars

Aside from Mullins and Cooper, who monopolized the limelight with their forward passing act, the Crowell eleven revealed another star in J. Todd, tackle. This husky lineman ranged widely to either side of his position to stop Archer City plays at the line of scrimmage. Archer City's defeat Friday gave them a record of two victories and one loss in the conference standing. Munday and Megargel High schools have been defeated by the locals.

The line-ups:

CROWELL (13)	Pos.	ARCHER CITY (0)
Crowell	L.E.	Fleming
J. Todd	L.T.	Fish
Gibson	L.G.	Brewer
Allen	C.	Hays
Smith	R.G.	Threatt
Womack	R.T.	Wright
Carter	R.E.	Beavers
D. Todd	Q.B.	Strahan
Mullins	L.H.	Kinder
Cooper	R.H.	Larkin
Middleton	F.B.	Horaney

Vernon Crushes Seymour, 62 to 0

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Vernon Lions crushed Seymour Panthers in a practice game here Friday afternoon by the score of 62 to 0. The Seymour team opened up with a rush and made two first downs in rapid succession, Chilton, Johnson and Coy brushing ends for long runs.

The Lions rallied and held the Panthers and forced them to kick. From then on the Lions kept the visitors fighting with their backs against the goal line most of the game.

During the first quarter Thompson stepped round end for 23 yards, placing the ball on the 5-yard line. On the second play he carried it over for the first counter. In the second quarter Thompson again placed the ball in scoring position with a broken field run for 53 yards. When the half ended Vernon had the Panthers 25 to 0.

Weir kicked off to Hughes of Seymour who fumbled on his own two-yard line. He tried to pass to Johnson and Parker intercepted the pass and went over the line for a touchdown. When the fourth quarter opened the score was 49 to 0 and Coach Weir sent in 10 third team players who scored two more touchdowns during the last period.

Harrison, Seymour end, was the outstanding star on the defense. He was the only Panther who was able to solve the Lion attack and smear any of the plays. For the Lions the offensive work of Thompson and Christian stood out and in the last half Gardner, substitute quarter, made some brilliant broken field runs.

Decatur Whips Graford By One Point, 20 to 19

Special to The Record News.

DECATUR, Texas, Oct. 9.—Decatur Eagles opened their conference season with a 20 to 19 win over Graford High here today. The game was hotly contested throughout. The playing of Capt. Roach Brown, Bowen and Clay was outstanding for Decatur. Capt. Roach scored all of his team's points by brilliant pass receiving and great open field running. Captain Friend starred for the visitors.

Modern Athletic Field And Grid Stadium Planned Here

KIWANIS CLUB FOSTERS MOVE

Work on Project to Start Immediately

chairman of the stadium committee, and Eli Morgan and Paul Pearson.

Fine Field

The tract of land can be easily reached from almost any section of the city, and ample parking space will be available when the stands and field have been completed. The land was donated by J. L. Hair, Eli Morgan, the J. A. Kemp estate and Miss Mary Clark. An agreement was made with Mr. Hair, who is donating 14 acres of the land, that he is to have supervision of all construction work and the removal of the stands from Call field at a salary of $1,500. The salary will be payable over a period of five years, and has been guaranteed by the chamber of commerce.

The grandstand at Call field was purchased from John Turbeville and the Texas-Oklahoma Fair association for $5,000, which will be paid from 50 per cent of the net receipts from high school athletics, the period of payments to extend over as many years as necessary to discharge the obligation.

Formal resolutions thanking members of the Kiwanis club for their interest in the welfare of the schools and the many individuals who aided the project were adopted by the school board at its meeting Friday. Members of the board at the meeting were W. L. Robertson, Mrs. W. W. Silk, Luther Hoffman and Rhea Howard.

When completed, the new Coyote athletic field will be one of the finest in this section, according to those who have studied plans for the field. H. D. Fillers, superintendent of schools, said Friday the field will prove to be one of Wichita Falls' greatest assets, and predicted that crowds of 15,000 or more will be attending games within a few years. The Coyotes at present have a field near school which is used for practice, but which is without stands for patrons. Most of the Coyote games have been played at Athletic park, and the team never has had a true "home" field.

"The farsighted generosity and loyal spirit" of the donors of the land was praised by Grover Bullington in presenting the deeds to the tract to the school. Mr. Bullington also expressed appreciation to Mr. Turbeville for his "liberal part in the transfer of the grandstand."

Leopards Trounce Paris High, 32-0

The Leopards of Washington high resumed their winning ways Friday right where they left off last year. They defeated the Paris negro high school team, 32 to 0, in a rather ragged game. The Paris team offered a stubborn defense at the start and the first quarter was scoreless, but early in the second quarter, Bush diminutive right half for the Leopards, intercepted a pass and ran 70 yard for a touchdown. Soon afterward Dooley ran 20 yards with another intercepted pass for the second touchdown. In the second half the Paris defense wilted and four more touchdowns were scored by the locals. Both sides fumbled often. The Paris team's disinclination to punt on fourth down, regardless of the distance to be gained, helped the Leopards.

The Leopards apparently have not nearly as strong a team as they had last season, but it was enough to dispose of the first opposition.

Chillicothe Whips Megargel, 74-0

Special to The Record News.

CHILLICOTHE, Texas, Oct. 9.—Megargel High school offered but little opposition here Friday afternoon to the high-powered Chillicothe Eagles, the latter scoring almost at will to compile a total of 74 points while blanking their opponents.

First-string players were used in little more than one-fourth of the game by Chillicothe. Both forward passes and running pays were perfected with monotonous regularity.

Chillicothe and Crowell will mix it in an important class B league battle here next Friday. Chillicothe High school is seeking a game with some high school aggregation for Armistice day.

Hollis Whips Frederick In Night Game, 25-6

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 9.—Hollis High school's football team defeated the Frederick Bearcats here tonight 25 to 6. Hoyle of Frederick plunged through the line late in the final period to avert a shutout.

Abernathy and Burgett scored touchdowns for Hollis in the first quarter and in the second, Graham and Burgett scored. Burgett's last counter was registered when he fell upon a blocked kick-off behind Frederick's goal line.

Quaid, end, and Billingsley shone for the Bearcats, Quaid's tackling and pass snaring comprising the outstanding individual performance of the game.

Estelline Beats 'B' Team of Childress, 32-6

Special to The Record News.

ESTELLINE, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Estelline Bear Cubs trimmed the Bobcat B team from Childress, 32 to 6, on the local field today. The Cubs went wild from the start on passes and end runs that the heavy Childress boys were unable to stop.

Bowie Smothers Bellevue, 46-0

Special to The Record News.

BOWIE, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Bowie High school football team won its first conference game here Friday by smothering the Bellevue eleven under a 46-0 score.

Bowie won the argument almost without effort. The home team pushed over 28 first downs, while the visitors could claim but three. Three times only did the Bellevue outfit hold the locals for downs.

The sensation of the contest was a 55-yard run for a touchdown by Latham, Bowie back. Latham, on receiving the ball, broke off tackle, pushed through the Bellevue secondary defense and raced down the field to set the ball on scoring ground.

Willett, substitute half for the locals, took off laurels with numerous sweeping end runs and effective off-tackle plays.

The splendid playing of Faulkner, Schultz, Garrett, backs, and Lyles and Shaver, linesmen, was inadequate protection for Bellevue against the Bowie team.

Haskell Bows to Frosh Of Christian College

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Haskell High school Indians submitted to a thorough trouncing here Friday afternoon in a pre-schedule encounter when a heavy aggregation of Abilene Christian college freshmen ran wild to pile up a score of 46-0.

Light and inexperienced, the high school players had little success in checking the rushing attack of the collegians.

Haskell will open its class B league schedule next Friday when the Anson High team plays here.

Bonner, Parr, Burns and Powell In Semi-Finals of County Golf Tourney

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Oct. 9.—J. H. S. Bonner of Wichita Falls, medalist, weathered two rounds of match play with a steady brand of golf and with two of his fellow townsmen and Jack Parr of Electra advanced to the semi-finals today in the Wichita County golf tournament.

Along with Bonner and Parr were L. T. (Bobby) Burns and Phillip Powell, both of Wichita Falls. The quartet will meet Saturday morning in the semi-finals, Bonner playing Parr and Burns meeting Powell, and the 18-hole finals will be played Saturday afternoon.

Bonner today won his first round match over Earl Denny of Iowa Park, 4 and 3, and swept aside R. A. King of Wichita Falls in the second round by the same score. King had defeated Neal Hall of Burkburnett in the first round, 3 and 1.

Parr Beats Clark

Jack Parr won his first round match with G. G. Clark of Iowa Park, 5 and 4, and then disposed of F. T. Johnson of Wichita Falls in the second round by the same score. Johnson had eliminated James Griffin of Iowa Park in the first round, 5 and 4.

Bobby Burns smeared John Marriott of Electra in the first round, 5 and 3, and threw James Parr of Electra for a 2 up loss in the second go-round, the latter providing one of the most outstanding matches of the day. Parr had eliminated M. E. Thompson of Burkburnett in the first canto, 7 and 5.

Phillip Powell was the only Wichitan to encounter rough sledding. O. J. Kidwell carried him 19 holes in the first round before Powell finally triumphed 1 up. In the second round Powell beat L. W. McCrory of Wichita Falls, 3 and 2. McCrory had gone into the quarter-finals with a 2 up win over C. F. Johnson of Iowa Park.

Semifinals and finals in the second flight, and the two consolation flights also will be reeled off Saturday, according to Bill Strachan, referee and starter of the tournament. Two rounds in the second flight were completed today, with V. R. Munden, Iowa Park; R. E. Van Horn, Iowa Park; J. S. Creager, Electra, and Saxon Judd of Electra surviving to enter the semifinals.

Munden beat James Stewart, Iowa Park, 3 up, in the first round, and then trounced Horace Banks, who had drawn a bye in the first round, 3 and 2. Van Horn, after winning from T. J. Waggoner Jr., of Wichita Falls, by default in the first round, disposed of L. B. Slaughter of Electra, 2 and 1, in the second. Slaughter likewise had drawn a bye in the first round.

Page Defeated

Unleashing an overhead attack in the closing period, Newcastle finally got into gear and scored its touchdown by that route. Coop hurled to Allen, who sprinted another 20 yards across the line.

Graham made many substitutions.

Olney Cubs Lace Burkburnett, 52-0

Special to The Record News.

OLNEY, Texas, Oct. 9.—A hard fighting Burkburnett High school football team went down before Albert Acker's Olney Cubs here today, 52 to 0.

In the second period long runs by Graves, Rue, Elmore and Duckworth, mixed with successful passes and line plunges, ran the total 33 as the half ended.

Burkburnett stood the Cubs off for the entire third quarter without a score. Fine line play by Bryany, Leake, and Smith and the ground gaining of Captain Sayer accounted for the stand off. In the fourth period the Cubs came to life and scored three touchdowns, two of which came on pass interceptions and one on a long run by Duckworth. George Gilmore intercepted and ran 45 yards to a score and on the last play of the game Wright intercepted a toss meant for a Burkburnett man and ran 20 yards for the score. Alvord Defeats Justin Team, 13-0

Special to The Record News.

ALVORD, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Alvord Bulldogs upheld their record as an undefeated and unscored on team by turning back the strong Justin Tigers in a 13 to 0 fray at Justin today. An Alvord B. team was unable to hold the Tigers in the first quarter but after the A team took the field two touchdowns were punched across before the half ended. Durett went off tackle for the first, Copeland kicking the extra point. Later on an end around play Copeland raced 20 yards for the second marker. In the second half the strong Justin forward wall aided by a very slow field prevented any other scoring and the last half was fought out on about even terms. The Bulldogs have played four games this season without being scored on running up a total of 118 points.

Walters and Ryan Play Scoreless Tie

Special to The Record News.

WALTERS, Okla., Oct. 9.—The Walters Blue Devils and the Ryan Cowboys battled through four quarters to end the game in a scoreless draw here today. Ryan threatened seriously in the third quarter when they drew up within seven yards of the Walters goal line and then failed to complete a pass which fell behind the line. Again in the fourth quarter the cowboys took the ball to the Devils' four-yard line but were unable to give the necessary punch to put it over. The game was featured by the field running of Gilcrease and Cruce, Ryan backs. The Walters team was seriously weakened by the absence of Coleman, quarter, who is out with tonsilitis.

Fairview Eleven Gets Best of Iowa Park, 32-0

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Oct. 9.—A bunch of scrappers from Fairview invaded Iowa Park today and won a 32 to 0 decision over the local Hawks. It was a walk-away for Fairview, despite the stubborn resistance offered by the local lads. Cochrane's 45-yard sprint for a touchdown after receiving a pass was the outstanding run of the day. Brantley got away for a 20-yard run to the goal line, also after receiving a pass. Smith was also a consistent gainer for Fairview. Fairview's aerial attack could not be solved by the Hawks.

Albany High Wins Over Baird, 44 to 7

Special to The Record News.

ALBANY, Texas, Oct. 9.—by the score of 44 to 7, Albany High school won its third straight victory, defeating Baird High school here today. Todd and Bumpers starred for Albany. The lone marker for Baird came as result of an intercepted pass followed by a 60-yard run.

ALTUS GETS SWEET REVENGE

Defeats Weatherford After 10 Long Years

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Oct. 9—Altus High school avenged 10 years of reverses at the hands of Weatherford, Texas, High school here Friday afternoon when the Northerners were downed by the score of 6-0 by virtue of a successful forward pass executed early in the first quarter.

Prior to Friday's thrilling battle, Altus had been flattened nine years consecutively by the Weatherford High school football machine. Last year's game was a scoreless tie.

Shortly after the opening of play Friday Ellis shot a hard pass to Anderson, who completed the maneuver for a 20-yard gain and a touchdown. Near the end of the game, Altus again pressed to within 10 yards of the enemy's goal, but could not muster the punch to put the ball over. During the entire game, Weatherford failed to penetrate Altus territory past the 20-yard line.

The locals rolled up a total of 17 first downs Friday, while the visitors scored but seven. Aside from Ellis and Anderson, the Altus stars were Little in the backfield and Baccun and Austin, linemen. Dunaway, Smith and Beall distinguished themselves in the Weatherford play.

Friday's game gave Altus three conference victories, Snyder and Frederick already having been defeated. Games with Mangum, Erick and Hollis will complete the locals' conference schedule.

Henrietta Eleven Wins Over Saint Jo, 18 to 0

Special to The Record News.

SAINT JO, Texas, Oct. 19.—Henrietta High school staged a successful invasion of Saint Jo Friday afternoon, inflicting an 18 to 0 beating upon the local high school gridiron warriors in a battle which never had the appearance of being one-sided.

Saint Jo, with a light team, resorted to forward passing, and used that mode of attack successfully for much yardage. Two such flips fell into the hands of Henrietta backs, however, and resulted in touchdowns.

Jackson of Henrietta was the most damaging performer, from the locals' standpoint. He raced 75 yards with an intercepted Saint Jo pass for the first touchdown. Later he broke loose from a scrimmage play and cantered 50 yards for a marker. The visitors' third counter was made by Sims, who ran 30 yards after snatching a Saint Jo pass from the air.

Olustee Team Whips Tipton High, 7 to 0

Special to The Record News.

OLUSTEE, Okla., Oct. 9.—Olustee High school opened its conference season here Friday afternoon with a 7 to 0 victory over last year's conference champions, Tipton High school, in a brilliant battle waged before a banner crowd.

Miles, flashy halfback and key man in the locals' offensive machinery, grabbed a short punt about the middle of the fourth quarter, side-stepped a squad of tacklers and carried the ball 40 yards to place it within four yards of the Tipton goal. The visitors braced, and it required four desperate plunges at the line by Andreas, local fullback, to ram the ball across. Miles flipped a short pass to F. Daniels to add the extra point.

suvers were worked over. The team's showing in the latter department didn't please Coach Holton, and the squad was herded back to the school building last night for an hour's skull drill.

Band and Pep Squad

The team was not the only organization that worked hard yesterday to make this first game a wow. Miss Ollinger's girl pep squad went through a long drill, practicing their yells and marching formations. Ninety-six girls were on hand, and most of them will make the trip to Childress. Tom McCarty, on another part of the field, marched his 36-piece high school band through its various formations.

And oh yes—the skirts didn't arrive. Meaning the skirts of the new uniforms ordered for the girl's pep squad. But they'll rustle around the clothes closet and dig up enough skirts to get them by the Childress game, and anyway they'll have the red sweaters with the large "W" on them, and the black "tams."

Jack Gentry, regular Coyote center ill with a cold Thursday, was back on duty Friday but didn't see any action. Raymond Allen, great center prospect, continued to man the position, and in all likelihood will get the call Saturday. Powell was used at quarterback yesterday. Both Powell and Warren likely will be used at the position. It's also a toss-up between Hawthorne and Daugherty at the fullback post. The other positions seemed well taken care of.

The probable lineups:

WICHITA FALLS	Pos.	CHILDRESS
Brandon	L.E.	Pierson
Lastus	L.T.	Tucker
Reynolds	L.G.	Kennedy
Allen	C.	Marshbank

Sandies Defeat Lawton, 19 to 6

Special to The Record News.

AMARILLO, Texas, Oct. 9.—The Lawton, Okla., Wolverines were crushed here today, 19 to 6 by the Golden Sandies of Amarillo.

The Wolverines played a heady brand and tied the game at 6-all in the second quarter. The Sandies could not untie it until the fourth quarter when two drives netted two touchdowns.

Newberry, half for the Wolverines, was perhaps the best player on the field. His mail-toting was outstanding. The visitors also contributed one of the game's stars in Reese, a line-backing halfback if there ever was one. The Sandies played with machine-like precision and produced no individual stars.

Abilene Seconds Whip Stamford High, 33-6

Special to The Record News.

STAMFORD, Texas, Oct. 9.—The "B" team of the Abilene High school invaded Stamford today and defeated the local high school eleven, 33 to 6. Baker made the lone local touchdown after a number of lateral passes and end runs in the second quarter.

Drink Water in Bladder Inflammation

Most of the people writing in regarding kidney weakness really have an inflammation of the bladder. The surprising thing about bladder trouble is that often the pain will not be in the bladder at all, but will be reflexed, appearing as backache, ache between the shoulders, or neuritis, and the patient will not have the slightest reason to suspect that the bladder is the true cause of the pain. Any one who suspects kidney trouble should have a urinalysis made by a competent laboratory to determine whether the real cause lies in the kidney or bladder or is some other condition.

For example, inflammation of the bladder is a constant source of distress in the lower back and chronic inflammation of the bladder will show more pains in the back than in the bladder itself. Bladder irritation is easily mistaken for many other diseases.

The bladder is a small sac in which the liquid waste from the kidneys is kept until it is passed from the body. When the fluid stored in the bladder is overloaded with poisons, the delicate membrane lining the bladder often becomes irritated and inflamed by them and cystitis or bladder inflammation develops. The irritation may be due to some specific infection which reaches the bladder through the blood stream, the urethra, or the kidneys. A common cause of cystitis is prolapsus or sagged organs, which produce a mechanical irritation by pressing on the bladder. Prostatic disorders, closure of the urethra, stones in the bladder, typhoid fever, tuberculosis, injury from a blow, etc., may produce cystitis. In some few cases the trouble arises from bacteria which enter from the use of an unclean catheter.

The common symptoms of bladder inflammation are such that they lead many patients into believing they have kidney trouble. Probably the main symptom is a desire to empty the bladder frequently, especially at night, thus disturbing the rest. Emptying the bladder becomes more and more painful, and in time the act may cause the small blood vessels in the lining to bleed. Pus is also frequently found. After some time, the chronic irritation may cause the growth of polypi.

In severe cases the neck of the bladder contracts and this organ cannot be completely emptied, with the result that the liquid is kept in the bladder and decomposes, adding to the wastes already present and aggravating the condition.

In some chronic cases so much mucus is eliminated that the popular name has been given of catarrh of the bladder.

One with a tendency to this trouble should avoid garlic, onions, asparagus, spices, and all alcoholic drinks for these may increase any bladder inflammation as they contain irritating substances which must be eliminated by way of the bladder.

A patient with cystitis should use a great deal of water to drink; in fact, the best treatment is a straight distilled water fast. This is just exactly opposite of what the patient usually feels like doing, but the best results follow the use of quantities of water as the water keeps the bladder comparatively clean of irritating material and dilutes the poisons to such a degree that they do not irritate the lining of the bladder to the same extent that they would in more concentrated form.

A very good temporary treatment in acute attacks is the hot sitz bath which in most cases brings immediate relief from the intense pain. The use of hot towels over the bladder is also good, while a hot enema as warm as possible will also sooth and help to alleviate the feeling of fullness and tenderness in the bladder.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Eating Between Meals

Question—Miss Fern writes: "Please tell me how to break the habit of eating between meals continuously as I am always hungry and am trying to reduce."

Answer—I would suggest that you stuff on green vegetables whenever you are hungry as they are not fattening and will reduce your hunger for more fattening foods. Do not use oily dressings on them.

Clubbed Fingernails

Question—G. T. asks: "What causes my fingernails to be clubbed at the ends? I had pneumonia once and heard that this is the cause."

Answer—Any bronchial trouble or heart trouble which interferes with the breathing during the period of youth may cause a clubbing of the fingernails.

Nephritis

Question—Vera writes: "I recently started on your orange juice fast for Bright's Disease. Just before I started on the fast I had a urinalysis which showed albumin and hyaline casts. I also had a high blood pressure of 190. After five days of the orange juice diet the blood pressure is now 165, and the dropsical condition is better. There is little albumin but no hyaline casts. Is this a good indication, and what are these casts made of?"

Answer—You seem to have had quite an improvement in so short a time, and, if you have broken the fast, it would probably be a good plan for you to repeat short fasts at intervals of about a month apart. The hyaline casts are composed of protein substances which seep through the small tubules of the kidneys and take their form. They indicate that the kidneys are not functioning properly, and usually indicate Bright's Disease. I feel sure that you will notice a still greater improvement if you will adhere to the instructions.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (AP)—After showing considerable firmness during the greater part of today's trading, cotton eased off during the last hour under increased southern selling and liquidation.

December contracts which had sold up from 5.76 to 5.96 or about 17 points net higher, closed at 5.78 with the general market closing steady, net unchanged to 3 points lower.

The opening was steady 6 to 8 points higher on overnight buying orders which may have been encouraged by the fairly steady showing of Liverpool. This initial bulge met considerable realizing and local selling probably in anticipation of the usual week-end increase in hedging and prices eased off some 8 to 12 points during the first few minutes.

Offerings were absorbed by continued trade or commission house buying on scale down orders, and prices firmed up during the middle of the day. Southern selling developed later, however, and there was a renewal of liquidation in the last half hour which carried prices back to about the earlier low levels with October closing at 5.65 and March at 6.08.

Futures closed steady, unchanged to 3 points lower. July 6.46@47. Spot quiet; middling 5.80.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 9. (AP)—Although cotton developed good trading today and showed an advancing tendency early, prices ruled somewhat erratic and irregular later. The close was 3 points up. Hester's figures showed the crop movement for the week was larger than for the corresponding week a year ago and mill takings smaller than last week and last year. Port receipts today reached 222,030 bales.

Liverpool is due tomorrow four penny points up.

Futures closed steady at net advances of 3 points.

Railroad Stocks and Bonds Feature Securities During Irregular Session

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 9. (US)—Railroad stocks and bonds provided the feature of strength today in the securities markets. Among stocks generally there was a decided tendency toward irregularity though without much net change evident at the close.

Railroad shares, and bonds, moved up to new highs for the present recovery, which has attained rather substantial proportions for four days' movement. Volume of transactions expanded above the 3,000,000-share total, but profit taking was noticeable in abundance and prices, excepting among the railroad list, made little or no progress.

At the same time the market continued to display signs of increasing general interest, though some of the more important interests originally identified with inaugurating the upturn were somewhat less enthusiastic as widespread public participation became evident.

The whole market community continues highly puzzled by the turn of events. While every one, with the natural exception of the relatively few remaining bears short of stocks, welcomes the change in sentiment, there is still a disposition in really important quarters not to overemphasize the importance of current developments until the prospects and trend are more clearly defined. There is at the same time little disposition to embark once again on large scale bear activities.

Buying of the railroad stocks was maintained on a vigorous scale and various of these issues enjoyed sizeable further advances. They were all influenced of course by the growing feeling that relief for the railroads forms an integral part of the administration campaign for alleviation of the prevailing depression.

Many rumors were current again to account for the persistent demand for railroad shares and bonds. It was hardly likely, it was argued, that the president would embark upon a prosperity-revival program without active interest in the railroad industry. Therefore, the Interstate Commerce commission according to the market enthusiasts will grant the roads either all or a substantial portion of their rate increase demands. Furthermore, the wage question was to be settled satisfactorily to the roads.

Obviously, all roads will benefit by the rate increase if granted or a wage reduction. The railroad managers seemingly would more happily accept a wage cut but this requires long drawn out negotiations, and in the meantime railroad credit might be further hurt. Anyway the market was enthusiastic even though volume of freight shows no pick-up and the immediate benefits will accrue almost entirely to railroad bonds.

That the banking administration efforts to revive confidence have been successful to date cannot be disputed. Skeptics remain in large number, their attitude being mainly one of waiting for further developments before jumping into the market on a long term investment or speculative program.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 9. (AP)—Heavy selling, largely ascribed to efforts to realize profits for recent speculative buyers, led to material setbacks in grain prices late today. Irregularity of the stock market contributed to the pressure on grains which were also bearishly affected by reports of big new sales of Russian wheat to Great Britain. In explanation of the increased selling here to realize profits, it was pointed out that wheat had made almost 5 cents a bushel advance this week.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1@⅝ cent lower; corn ¼@1c down; oats ¼@⅜c off, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 10 cents.

Offerings of wheat from new owners eager to collect quick profits became of larger volume than the market during the last hour could readily digest. The result was a tumble of 1⅝ cents a bushel from the day's top point, but rallies were in progress when the final bell cleared the pit. Earlier the market had shown a notable upward trend, accompanying persistent buying credited to a nationally known trader. The late rallies were associated with estimates that export purchases of North American wheat today totaled 1,000,000 bushels, mainly Canadian.

Corn and oats developed weakness simultaneously with wheat price downturns. Despite lower quotations on hogs provisions averaged higher on account of an unusual percentage of light weights in hog arrivals.

Closing indemnities—Wheat: Dec. 47⅝@⅜c, 49@49⅛c; May 51⅝@52c; 53¼@⅜c; July 52⅜c, bids.

TAX LEADERS HOLD MEETING

Written Suggestions Asked By Mytinger

The chamber of commerce taxation committee held its first conference Friday afternoon in the offices of the chairman, J. C. Mytinger.

The group discussed at length plans for a solution of tax problems here, but failed to arrive at a suitable program of procedure, according to Mr. Mytinger. Each member of the committee was instructed to forward his ideas relative to tax revisions to the chairman in a letter.

A second meeting of the group will be called during the next week, after opinions of the committee members have been received, Mr. Mytinger said.

The committee was recently appointed by J. L. Jackson Jr., president of the chamber of commerce. The group has been instructed to take the lead in working out revisions believed to be necessary in the tax system. Chief among the aims of the taxation group is to bring about a more economical system of assessment.

Temple to Give Radio Program

Entertainers of Temple, Okla., will broadcast a guest program on the junior chamber of commerce period over KGKO here Saturday night, it was announced Friday by Paul Hines, radio chairman.

A number of Temple citizens will accompany the entertainers here, headed by Roy Dolman, president of the Temple Chamber of Commerce. A brief address and several musical selections are included on the program.

The Temple male quartet, composed of Charles Rodolph, the Rev. M. F. Bell, Elmer Gandy and Harve Kendrick, will present four numbers, "Be a Man," "Talk About Jerusalem," "Scandalize My Name," and "Sunset, I Am Going Home." Mrs. E. B. Rush will sing two vocal solors, "Fiddle and I," and "Hour of Memory." Piano accompaniment will be played by Mrs. J. R. Gossett. A violin obligato will be played by Harold Knox.

Otho Mooney will deliver a three-minute talk in behalf of Temple and the citizenship of that town.

The program is one of a series of junior chamber of commerce broadcasts that are being turned over to cities of this section. The broadcast will be on the air from 7:30 to 8 p. m.

Heavy Importations of Oil Blamed For Present Depression in Industry

Wichitans Buy South American Gasoline While Own Refineries Fight to Survive, Hines Tells C. C. Council

Oil importation and lack of patronage of local refineries and oil companies are ills that contribute largely to the adverse condition of the oil industry, members of the chamber of commerce business council were told by speakers at the organization's luncheon program Friday noon.

The program was under the direction of the oil and gas committee of the chamber of commerce. Speakers were Harry Hines, manager of the Deep Oil Development company; Roy B. Jones, president of the Panhandle Refining company; and Tom F. Hunter, president of the North Texas Oil and Gas association. E. H. Eddleman, chairman of the oil and gas committee, conducted the program.

Heavy Crude Imports

Operations of big companies, described as contributing nothing to Wichita Falls, are responsible in a large measure for adverse business conditions here, it was charged. One such company, Mr. Hines declared, has a representative here who maintains his desk in his bedroom. Most such companies do not maintain offices here, the speaker added.

Figures were cited by Mr. Hunter to show that foreign crude and crude products have placed the oil industry in a most precarious position, threatening bankruptcy for independent refiners, oil men and small locally operated oil companies.

The solution to the oil problem, he said, is in the enactment of laws placing a prohibitive tariff on oil products from foreign countries.

Imports in 1930, he cited, were 108,000,000 barrels, while domestic producers curtailed production 104,000,000. The first half of 1931, the speaker continued, imports reached 44,500,000, while curtailments totaled 44,000,000.

At least two of the largest importers of foreign crude, he declared, are shipping oil produced in Venezuela to Wichita Falls for sale. Importers of oil, it was added, are responsible for the taking of $35,000,000 per day out of circulation, and that such companies were in hand with utility interests, which takes annually $2,000,000 in excess profits from Texas.

Mr. Hines described the practice of ignoring local companies as "ruinous."

Home Support Needed

"A very large percentage of our citizens are purchasing brands of gasoline that are manufactured by some of the so-called big companies which do nothing for our city or district but take our money," the speaker declared. "They do not operate here, nor do they maintain any local organization to speak of. They are not interested in anything we have to sell, or in maintaining any families in our city.

"How any citizen can ignore our local companies is beyond my understanding. Such practice is ruinous, and we as citizens should start and maintain a movement of closer cooperation with one another."

The speaker declared himself to be confident that the oil industry will bring Wichita Falls back quicker than any other, and that oil will lead the nation to recovery from current business conditions.

Mr. Jones cited figures to show the importance of oil to this section. He described 1930 as a normal year, and said the Panhandle Refining company then employed 140 persons with a pay roll of $370,000. The district contains 13 refineries, it was said, with seven plants here, two each at Burkburnett and Electra and one each at Olney and Iowa Park. "This year, I am sorry to say," he declared, "is not a normal year. All those refineries face the possibility of going out of business."

POPE TO NAME NEW CARDINALS

Consistory to Be Held in December

VATICAN CITY, Oct. 9. (UP)—Pope Pius XI will hold a consistory in the first half of December and, according to authoritative sources at the Vatican palaces, Monsignor Pietro Funasoni-Biondi, Apostolic delegate to the United States, will be made a cardinal.

The sacred college of Cardinals is now reduced to but 55 members, owing to deaths during the past two years and to the fact that the pontiff has not created any new cardinals during 1931. Of these 55 members, 26 are Italians and 29 are foreigners. There is generally a majority of Italians.

There are 70 places available in the sacred college so that the Pope will likely create a number of new cardinals in the coming consistory.

Unlike other members of the deer tribe, both sexes of the Barren Ground caribou have horns, although the horns of the female are shorter than the males'

RURAL SCHOOLS MAY CLOSE

County Institutions in Need Of Tax Funds

Almost one-half of the county schools are facing a serious shortage of funds due to the split tax law and deliquencies in tax payments, with the result that several schools may have to close for at least one month, according to information given by County Superintendent J. A. Hood after a meeting of the county school board Friday morning.

Members of the board decided in Friday's meeting to let each district solve its own financial problems. Some of these districts, it was declared, have pressing obligations which must be met. It was recommended by the board that such districts close for 30 days and allow the children to pick cotton. Such a plan would be designed to release tax payments during the next four weeks for payment of the most pressing delinquent bills.

Wilburn to Speak at Christian Services

Rev. James Wilburn, graduate of Eugene college, Eugene, Ore., will be the guest speaker at First Christian church Sunday morning in the absence of Dr. Howard T. Wood, who is attending the International Convention of Christian churches, Wichita, Kan. The subject of the sermon will be "Glorifying in the Cross." Rev. Mr. Wilburn is a young minister and a forceful speaker.

This is the second Sunday of the nine-week loyalty campaign to be carried out this fall by the church, and a large audience is anticipated. The evening service will be a musical program under the direction of Mrs. W. J. Holmes, choir director. A program of unusual interest has been prepared, and the general public, friends of the members of First Christian church, are invited.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Clarence C. Campbell, indicted Friday morning by the October grand jury on a charge of passing a forged instrument, entered a plea of guilty before Judge P. A. Martin in the 89th district court during the afternoon, and was given a two-year suspended sentence.
