King Umberto On Way To Exile In Portugal, Ends Throne Struggle

ROME, June 13 (AP)—The royal palace announced today that King Umberto had left Italy for exile in Portugal.

A spokesman at the Quirinale

Palace press office said the king's four-soned Savoia Marchetti plane, which took off from the Campino airport, would go "direct to Lisbon."

Thus the king ended his three-day struggle with the cabinet over whether a republic triumphed in a plebiscite ten days ago.

Earlier in the day, it had been reported that the king would go to his estate near Pisa to await the supreme court's ruling on plebiscite irregularities which, he contended, made the court's announcement of a republican victory "indefinite." But the finality of the fearful farewells at the airport indicated even before the official announcement that he was leaving Italian soil.

The rejected monarch's moves came as Premier Alcide De Gasperi was granted new powers as acting chief of state in a temporary compromise solution of Italy's political crisis.

Military personnel at the airport refused to discuss the king's destination but farewells, marked by cheek-kissing and in several cases tears, looked final.

Queen Marie Jose and her two children went to Portugal aboard an Italian cruiser last week, soon after it became apparent that Italy had voted to overturn the royal house of Savoia in favor of a republic.

Umberto's father, tired old King Vittorio Emanuele III, went into exile in Egypt on May 9, clearing the throne for his son for a month.

Kurdish Republicans Pledge Allegiance

TEHRAN, June 13 (AP)—The Iranian Foreign Office announced today that followers of Ghazi Mohammed, leader of the so-called Kurdish Independent Republic, had "pledged renewed allegiance to the Iranian Central Government" at a meeting in Tabriz.

The development followed by 48 hours the announcement of an agreement which the self-proclaimed Azerbaijan Autonomous government recognized the authority of the central government, thus settling a dispute which had divided Iran since last November.

Farmers Withholding Bumper Wheat Harvest

HUTCHISON, Kas., June 13 (AP)—Combines rolled over the golden waves of the plains country today as farmers rushed a better-than-average wheat harvest amid growing resentment over the government's price policy.

As the harvest fanned out over Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, stories from the wheatland grew more optimistically. Yields were better than had been expected even a few weeks ago.

Recent rains had done it. And then a hot sun had spurred the harvest on a week or two ahead of schedule. Along the Kansas-Oklahoma border combining is "in full swing."

The big question was how much of the wheat would be stored on the farms.

At Garden City, Kas., farmer Walt Mercer gave one indication. He delivered one bucket full of his grain to an elevator. The rest of his wheat, making 20 to 25 bushels to the acre, he is storing in bins on

RESTAURANTS ALLOWED TO RAISE MENU PRICES

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—OPA opened the way today for higher restaurant prices.

But in doing so, the agency followed only in part a recommendation of the senate banking committee, which voted to wipe out ceilings on meals made up of foods on which there are no price controls.

OPA issued an order which simply allows new menu prices to reflect the full amount of any higher costs stemming from the removal of price ceilings on food items.

The order is effective immediately, but it will have little effect on restaurant prices right away.

The reason is that there are not many food items exempt from price controls at this time.

But OPA officials said the new regulation means the cost of dining out probably will go up sharply if ceilings are stripped from meat, poultry, eggs and dairy products. The senate committee has recommended removal of these controls July 1.

Under the OPA order, restaurants may raise their prices for any meal, individual food item or beverage, if the major ingredient is exempt from price control at all other sales levels.

For example, if meat ceilings are discontinued, a restaurant could hike its prices for a steak dinner if it had to pay more for the meat.

The same would hold for an order of eggs or chicken or a glass of milk, if ceilings on these items are removed.

In calculating the amount of increase, restaurants start with the actual cost of raw food exempt from ceilings and add to that their present percentage mark-up.

Evatt Proposes Assembly Act On Franco Issue

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—Accepting a United States compromise plan, Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, of Australia, chairman of the UN Security Council sub-committee which investigated Spain, proposed today that the Spanish question be referred to the General Assembly for its action.

Dr. Evatt opened the Security Council session with an announcement that the sub-committee had approved modifications of its recommendations as suggested by Herschel V. Johnson, acting United States delegate.

The sub-committee had recommended that the General Assembly call upon the United Nations for a complete break with Generalissimo Francisco Franco if he still is in power in September.

The United States modification would allow the General Assembly to take "such action" as it deems appropriate under the circumstances at the time.

This would leave the way open for action less drastic than a diplomatic break if the assembly decided upon a more moderate course.

Coke County Votes Soil District Set - Up

Farmers and ranchers of Coke county went to polls at Robert Lee last Saturday to give overwhelming endorsement to the proposal for creation of a soil conservation district in that county, according to information received here by E. J. Hughes, district conservator.

The vote carried, 141 to 5, totals reported by S. E. Adams, election superintendent, revealed. Election reports will be made to SCS headquarters at Temple, during which time the newly formed district will proceed with organization.

Directors will be selected from Coke county farmers and ranchers. That directorate will formulate policies and plan preliminary surveys.

The new district includes all of Coke county with the exception of that portion now in the North Concho district.

License Suspended

C. J. Thompson, Colorado City, picked up Wednesday evening on Highway 80 by members of the city police force on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants, was fined $50 and court costs in county court this morning. In addition, the motor vehicle operator's rights of the accused were suspended for six months.

Anti-US Leader Reported Arrested

BUENOS AIRES, June 13 (AP)—Travellers from Asuncion, scene of a brief, but bloody revolt Sunday, have reported the arrest of Gen. Bernardo Aranda, described as a leader of anti-United States sentiment in Paraguay, and 26 of his staff officers upon orders of Paraguayan President Higinio Morinigo.

Morinigo's action was interpreted as an effort to obtain the good will of Washington in fight against his political opponents. Further evidence of this was seen in the fact that he asked for the resignation of Augustin Vaila, his finance minister. Vaila is the author of a book which accused the United States of warring on the Axis only in order to obtain territory.

Decision on future steps toward acquiring paving for the city was set for the city commission's next regular meeting — on June 25 — after Wednesday's special meeting closed without any deal, made on a projected 50-block surfacing job.

Altogether four paving contractors were present Wednesday, in response to the city's notice to bid, only one bid was turned in, and that was not opened since it was submitted several minutes after the deadline.

Representatives of the contractors indicated that their difficulty was in the handling of paving certificates in the financing of the work. They had consulted with financial institutions, they said, and found no assurance that the certificates would be entirely acceptable.

Present were officials of these firms: Hensley & Smith, Abilene; W. L. Johnson, San Angelo; Gaylord Construction company, Big Spring; and Hoffman & McQuirter, Midland. The last-named firm submitted the late bid.

Representatives for Johnson and Hensley & Smith said they had been unable to get agreements, in writing, as to the ironclad acceptability of the certificates, hence would not make a price.

Two members of the commission, George Mims and Iva Huneycutt, were out of the city and could not attend the meeting. The others agreed that a final decision on the paving should be held open until the next regular meeting, when it can be discussed as to future policy on the paving. Another method of asking bids might be followed, or the work might be ordered as a city project.

Murder - Suicide Verdict Returned

DENISON, June 13 (AP)—Justice of Peace E. A. Wright has announced a coroner's verdict that George Cuchener, 54, fired the shots that took his own life and killed Mrs. Lena Cuchener, 77, his mother; Mrs. George Cuchener, 47, his wife, and critically wounded George Cuchener, 24, his daughter.

Miss Cuchener remained in a critical condition today, attending at the hospital said. She was shot in the head, the bullet remaining in her brain.

A Dallas brain surgeon, Dr. Elbert D. Errico, was called to Denison in an effort to save Miss Cuchener's life.

The shooting took place at the Cuchener home here Tuesday afternoon. Police said they were still unable to piece together events which led up to the slayings.

OIL OFFICIAL DIES

DALLAS, June 13 (AP)—George G. Gibbons, 57, executive vice president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association, died at a hospital here this morning from complications resulting from a streptococcal infection.

House Bankers Approve Loan To Britain

Sizzling Battle Expected On Floor Before Ratifying

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—The house banking committee today approved legislation ratifying the $3,750,000,000 British loan. The vote was 20 to 5.

The legislation, already approved by the senate 46 to 34, now goes to the house floor, where opponents promised a sizzling battle.

Banking committee members said the bill probably would reach the floor a week from Monday.

The committee vote came after long hearings, during which the administration told congress the loan is essential to take the shackles off world trade, to encourage international economic cooperation and to aid world peace.

Without the loan, the proponents argued, Britain would be unable to participate in the Bretton Woods world bank and currency stabilization fund, and this ambitious attempt at international economic cooperation would fail.

This view was supported by the American Bankers Association, United States Chamber of Commerce and a number of other organizations and individuals.

Chinese Factions Waging Fight

NANKING, June 13 (AP)—China's fifteen-day truce between warring Nationalist and Communist factions appeared to be reduced to a scrap of paper today.

The government's tightly-controlled Central news agency reported Nationalist troops were driving ahead in Manchuria and had frustrated attempted landings by Communists near Tsingtao, where US Marines have one of their strongest North China garrisons.

Chinese press dispatches said without other confirmation that martial law had been proclaimed in the Shantung Peninsula seaport.

While deep concern was shown over the situation in Tsingtao, US General Marshall's headquarters said it had failed to halt negotiations for a permanent settlement of China's civil war.

A spokesman at the capital said that General Marshall was "continuing with regular affairs" although no attempt was made to hide concern over reported heavy fighting within scope of American Marine garrisons.

Bus Driver Holds Up Bank, Captured Few Minutes Later

FORT WORTH, June 13 (AP)—Police Chief R. E. Dysart Thursday said a shirt-sleeved bus driver carrying a death threat note took $1,500 from a teller at the Continental National bank here shortly before noon Thursday and was captured by bank officials and a policeman a short distance from the bank.

All the money, in $20 and $100 bills, was recovered in a search of the man at police headquarters.

In the presence of bank officials, city officers, newspapermen and Chief Dysart, the man made an oral confession. He gave his name as Horace Anderson Collins, 30, of Fort Worth, and stated he was an extra driver for a motor-coach line operating between Fort Worth and Dallas.

He blamed the robbery on pressing financial troubles and said he owed $600 or $700 to loan companies, and that his wife is in a Fort Worth hospital recovering from major surgery. He said he had three children.

Flag Day Proclamation

Following is a Flag Day Proclamation issued today by Mayor George W. Dabney:

"It was on June 14, 1777, that Congress resolved 'that the flag of the United States be 13 stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be 13 stars, white on a blue field, representing a constellation; and thus our National Banner is 169 years old, on Friday, June 14.

"This Flag Day is the first in five years that the Stars and Stripes have waved in Peace—the Peace that the Flag itself symbolizes. Our National Emblem flies also, from Tokyo to Berlin, as a victorious one, and we ought to thank God that it waves in a Victory that represents the defeat of tyranny and oppression.

"In war, we Americans followed our flag unhesitatingly into dangers, giving our resources and our lives to defend and protect it. In Peace, we need more than ever to resolve that the principles it signifies—Bravery and Honor and Purity—shall stand staunchly to demonstrate to all the world that this country, under God, will ever be a leading nation for what is fair and what is right.

"So that we may do our part in honoring our Flag as such a symbol, I hereby call on all citizens of Big Spring to mark Friday, June 14, as Flag Day; to use the occasion to honor our emblem and the principles it represents; to display the Flag properly; and to join in a Flag Day program at our park amphitheatre on Friday night at 8 o'clock."

G. W. DABNEY, Mayor of Big Spring.

Maritime Peace May Be Announced Before Deadline

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—Capt. Granville Conway of the War Shipping Administration indicated today that negotiations for an agreement to avert the maritime strike have been reduced to a matter of wording.

"There is a dispute over the wording of four or five things," Conway told reporters as signs pointed generally to agreement on major issues.

CIO President Philip Murray spoke likewise: "Some issues need further clarification."

These developments followed the statement by a government conciliator that "there's a good chance" for settlement today. The all-coast maritime strike is set to start tomorrow midnight.

The conciliator made this statement to a reporter privately after a joint session of East and West Coast operators and union leaders representing the CIO-dominated committee for maritime unity.

CIO President Philip Murray and CIO General Counsel Lee Pressman sat in on the meeting, held at the Labor Department.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John W. Gibson, handling the negotiations for the government, was asked whether "everything is buttoned up yet" on a settlement.

"When it's buttoned up, we'll announce it," Gibson replied.

One of the union leaders, asking that his name not be used, told reporters: "The government's proposal has neither been accepted nor rejected (by the unions), because we do not know yet what its final form will be."

Capt. Grenville Conway, head of the War Shipping Administration, likewise was asked whether a settlement had been reached.

"Not yet," he replied.

The conciliator who said "there's a good chance" for a settlement during the day, added that the CIO National Maritime union, biggest union in the CMU, has not formally approved a WSA proposal to put into effect a 48-hour week for seamen and a wage increase of $17.50 a month.

Red Cross Nears Garment Quota

Local chapter of the American Red Cross is within sight of its objective to make 330 dresses for shipment to overseas needy but needs the co-operation of local women to finish the project.

The material for the last hundred garments has been cut at department headquarters. Some one is needed to piece the dresses together, according to Mrs. Moree Sawtelle, director.

Women can accomplish that mission either at the center or by calling for the garments and taking them home. In either case, they should act immediately, if the Red Cross hopes to meet the June 30 deadline, says Mrs. Sawtelle.

The director hopes to have the work on its way overseas by the last day of the month.

Bogus Checker Fined

M. H. "Buddy" French, who entered a plea of guilty to the charge of passing a bogus check, was fined $1 and costs in justice court this morning.

Flag Day Observance Scheduled At Program

A special ceremony in observance of Flag Day will be held in connection with the second weekly amateur program of the season at the city park amphitheatre Friday night.

The program is scheduled to begin at 8 p. m., with Dan Conley as master of ceremonies and Neal Barnaby in charge of the flag raising and lowering. Color guards will be furnished by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who arranged the program jointly with the chamber of commerce.

Colors will be advanced by the color guards while Charlene Tucker sounds "To the Colors" on the bugle, and Miss Tucker will then sound "Reveille" as the flag is raised.

Conley will lead the audience in singing "America" after which Walton Morrison will give the invocation. Martelle McDonald will deliver an address after the amateur numbers.

In the amateur series, Roy Dwayne Smith and his mother, Mrs. Lola Smith, will present a magician's act. A trio composed of Mable Smith, Leslie Cathey and Janice Yates will sing, accompanied by Mrs. Ann Houser.

Conley will again lead the audience in a community singing period, which will be followed by saxophone solos by Roy Rogan, and vocal solos by Marion Beam.

Beginning with Friday night's program prizes will be offered to winners in the amateur series. Judging will be on the basis of applause from the audience, with $5 offered for first place, $3 for second place and $2 for third.

Jet Planes Set Cross-Country Speed Record

MARCH FIELD, Calif., June 13 (AP)—Pilots of three jet-propelled planes today held an unofficial record of 11 hours, nine minutes flying time for a round trip from March Field to Andrews Field, Md., a distance of approximately 4,550 miles.

Three of the four P-80 Shooting Stars that left here at 4:37 a. m. (PST) yesterday were back at 7:21 p. m. One had to give up at Tinker Field, Okla., on the way east after accidentally dropping his wing tanks.

Average speed west to east was 479 miles an hour, the average east to west 414 mph, and the total average 446 mph.

One of the chief purposes of the round trip flight was to test pilot fatigue. The three who completed the trip, Flight Leader Col. Leon Gray of Casa Grande, Ariz., Maj. Robin Olds of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Lt. Jack Richardson of Oklahoma City, showed little effects of the test. They had a 55 mph tailwind going east and a headwind of the same force coming back.

MIDLAND, June 13 (AP)—The three P-80 jet fighter planes in a round-trip transcontinental flight broke all records yesterday flight spent less time in Midland than any had on the itinerary.

It was exactly 18 minutes from the time the first plane touched the ground until the last plane took off. Refueling of the planes was accomplished in only 14 minutes.

Oatmeal Named Ideal Hot Weather Dish Because Of Food Value, Versatility

Summer time brings the need for food that is nutritious and adaptable to many meals and in-between-meal snacks. Very few foods meet these requirements as well as oatmeal. It truly is the "round the clock" — round the calendar — energy-building food.

It goes without saying that doctors, dietitians and many housewives recognize the value of a hot oatmeal breakfast to start the day in the summer time. Such a hot breakfast provides skin surface evaporation that gives the human body an overall comfortable and cooling effect. Yes, they call it "climatic body conditioning." Oatmeal also provides the nutrition and lasting energy so necessary for those happy active summer days. Oats contain more protein than any other cereal, and abundant amounts of Vitamin B1, iron and phosphorus. Try it tomorrow with brown sugar. Your whole family will like this "breakfast with a bounce."

Then, for those in-between-meal snacks that children love so well, oatmeal cookies ring the bell, because of their delicious flavor and energy building qualities. The more they eat, the more energy they pile up.

For lunch and dinner, oatmeal again provides an important ingredient in many hot and cold dishes—from meat loaves to breads, to desserts. So, plan your menus to include some of the following recipes:

OATMEAL BREAD (2 loaves)

1 cup uncooked oatmeal
2 cups milk
1 yeast cake softened in ½ cup water
¼ cup molasses
2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon melted shortening
4½ cups sifted flour

Pour hot milk over oatmeal and let stand until lukewarm. Add yeast, molasses, salt, shortening and half the flour; beat well. Stir in remaining flour; cover and allow to rise in warm place. When light, pour into greased bread pans about 9 x 5 x 3 inches; let rise again. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees F. for 15 minutes; reduce heat to moderate, 350 degrees F. and continue making for 35 minutes.

OATMEAL GINGER COOKIES

¼ c. molasses
3 tbsps. shortening
¼ cup brown sugar
2 tbsps. milk
1 cup pastry flour
1 cup oatmeal
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. soda
1 tsp. ground ginger

Heat the molasses, shortening, sugar and milk combined. Sift together the flour, soda, salt and ginger and add with the oatmeal to the first mixture. Cool and then roll on a well-floured board, cut into cookies and bake on an oiled pan about 15 minutes in a moderate oven—350 degrees F.

OATMEAL MUFFINS (12 large muffins)

1 cup left-over oatmeal
2 tablespoons honey
2 tablespoons melted fat
1 cup milk
1 egg, grade B
2 cups sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder

Combine oatmeal, honey, shortening and milk with well-beaten eggs; pour into sifted dry ingredients. Mix quickly until moistened but not smooth, about 20 seconds. Turn into hot greased muffin pans. Bake until brown, about 20 to 25 minutes, in hot oven, 400 degrees F.

MEAT RING

2 lbs. ground lamb
2 beaten eggs
2-3 c. oatmeal
1 c. milk
1 c. chopped onion
2 tsp. green pepper
2 tsp. chopped parsley
2½ tsp. salt

Combine ingredients; mix thoroughly. Press into oiled 8 in. ring mold. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour. Fill with parsley buttered potatoes. Serves 8.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Painter Criticizes AAUP's Procedure

AUSTIN, June 13 (P) — Censure of The University of Texas administration by the American Association of University Professors stood parried today with two charges against the association's procedures.

University of Texas President T. S. Painter in a formal statement yesterday criticized the action as "unfair" because of:

1. Failure of any AAUP committee to conduct an on-the-campus investigation of the University situation.

2. Failure of AAUP to afford the University an opportunity to comment on the investigational report prior to formal action.

Dr. Painter described both failures as departures from "usual procedures."

In placing the University on its list of "censured administrations," the AAUP council in Chicago Sunday had explained its actions as resulting from "attempts by a politically dominant group to impose its social and educational views on the University."

On that specific charge Dr. Painter made no comment.

For A Quick Meal

Even the most inexperienced lady of the kitchen finds macaroni and cheese her best friend in menu planning. This tasty dinner dish calls for plain everyday foods. It is easy to make, quick to bake, and quick to disappear from the dinner table. A tasty basic recipe for macaroni and cheese is a good foundation for many elegant meals. Folks who dote on the teasing flavor of onion will like adding two tablespoons of minced onion to the sauce. When the sauce is smooth and satiny add one cup of grated cheese and gently fold in the macaroni. Place in a casserole and bake in moderate oven until cheese melts to a golden brown.

Arabs To Unite

BLUDAN, Syria, June 13 (P) — Rival Arab factions in Palestine were directed by the Arab League today to reconcile their differences and unite under an executive committee headed by the Grand Mufti of Jerusalem, implacable foe of Jewish immigration into the Holy Land.

Chinese Prefer War To Extension Of 15-Day Truce

NANKING, June 13 (P) — An authoritative Chinese source who would not permit the use of his name said today that the government "naturally wants peace more than anything," but would prefer war rather than extend the present 15-day truce with the Communists.

"The economic drain of continued delay, month after month, is a great price to pay for avoiding open conflict," he declared. "The government would be taking all the risks in continuing the war; it has control today, and it might lose. But the nation cannot go on month after month in a state of semi-warefare."

"The nation's economy is being disarranged to the point where nothing will be left unless there is a settlement soon. That is why the government prefers to fight it out if an immediate peaceful settlement is not possible."

A Chinese Communist source said his party had asked extension of the truce as one price for continuing to negotiate on a permanent settlement. This could not be confirmed in Communist Headquarters, however.

Four-Man Delegation Attends US 87 Meet

A delegation of four men left early today for Denver, Colo., where they will represent Big Spring at the US Highway 87 Association's national convention.

Making the trip were J. H. Greene, Texas vice-president of the association, Wiley Curry, V. A. Merrick and Joe Pickle. Communication from other points along the No. 87 has indicated several important matters will come before the first post-war convention, the local delegation reported.

Practically all cities on the route have expressed interest in increased tourist development, and wide-scale plans are expected to be made at Denver.

Two Directors Due At Lions Meeting Here

At least two directors of Lions International are due to participate in the district 2-T and state Lions convention to be held here Monday and Tuesday.

One is Herb C. Petry, Jr., international director from Texas, and the other is Lic. Francisco Doria y Paz, mayor of Mexico City, D. F.

Doria is due to make the featured address of the convention at an International Night program Tuesday at 8:30 p. m., open to the public.

Appointed to the international directorate last year, Doria had served previously as governor of the Mexico City district. He is a lawyer by profession, being general attorney of the Industrial Chambers of Textile Factories. Previously, he was general attorney for insurance companies of Mexico.

He was born in Linares, Nuevo Leon, Mexico and received a doctor of laws degree from the national university. He is a member of the national bar association, and many other associations. Doria is a widower and father of two children and is a former officer in the Mexican reserve.

New Drug Shipped To Save Vet's Life

SAN ANTONIO, June 13. (AP) — In an effort to save the life of a veteran reported critically ill in Laredo, approximately five million units of the new drug—streptomycin—were shipped last night from Brooke General hospital, Fort Sam Houston.

The ex-serviceman, Edmundo Nona, was reported by doctors to be suffering from typhoid fever.

Livestock Sales At Brisk Pace

Big Spring livestock sales continued to move at a swift pace Tuesday and Wednesday, with facilities remaining open far into the night at both the West Texas Livestock Auction and the Big Spring Livestock Auction company.

The market was fully steady with prices bid on choice butcher calves and yearlings at both sales. In their Tuesday sale the West Texas Livestock Auction company moved approximately 2,200 head of cattle, with 18 cars already shipped to Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana and other points. Cows with calves brought up to $117.50; fat butcher cows, 11.50-14.00; stocker heifers, 14.75; stocker steers, up to 15.85; fat butcher calves up to 17.25, the ceiling and butcher bulls 12.00.

At the Big Spring Livestock Auction company Wednesday butcher bulls brought 13.00; fat cows 14.50; choice butcher yearlings from 16.00 to 17.25, the ceiling; fat calves, 13.90 to 16.00, depending on the flesh; stocker steers 14.75 to 15.50; stocker heifers from 13.75 to 14.50. Approximately 950 head were sold.

A small run of hogs moved at the ceiling price.

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP) — Death dropped the name of Bankhead from congressional rolls today for the first time since Grover Cleveland sat in the White House almost 60 years ago.

Sheriffs Searching Cave Find A Home

WACO, June 13. (AP) — Waco deputy sheriffs investigating a large cave in the "Tater Hill" area near McGregor, found the cave to be the home of Sul Ross, 63-year-old negro.

Ross said his house burned a year ago. He found an abandoned storm cellar and with a little shovel work turned it into a one-room residence.

of his family to serve on Capitol Hill in that long span, died late yesterday in the US Naval hospital at nearby Bethesda, Md. He never completely rallied from a stroke he suffered three weeks ago.

He was 73 when death came and the Senate immediately recessed to honor his memory. Colleagues paid tribute to the important legislative roles he had filled since first coming to the Senate in 1930.

Accompanied by associates of many legislative years, Bankhead's body will start homeward late today for funeral services Friday at Jasper, Ala., where he will be buried in Oak Hill cemetery.

Son of a senator, brother of a speaker of the House and father of a former representative, Bankhead was perhaps best known on Capitol Hill as an advocate of farm legislation, particularly measures affecting cotton.

Neighbors Plant Corn For Unlucky Farmer

AULT, Colo. (AP) — Walt Miller lost many valuable days in his fields during the fatal illness of his wife and after her death the care of three children put him far behind in his planting.

Then one morning, 14 neighboring farmers drove up to his house with a dozen tractors, a four-horse team and a two-horse team and swarmed over his 80 acres.

By nightfall, his land all had been worked over, several acres of corn had been planted and the remainder was ready for seeding.

Ex - GIs Turn Tables, Honor Children With Dinner at Headquarters Restaurant

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Because Father's Day this year is dedicated to the American Veteran, and because we'd heard that a particular group of fathers were going to reverse the process and give a party for their children in honor of the day, we went off to observe that party.

The Headquarters Restaurant, recently opened in New York, is owned and staffed entirely by veterans. John Schwarz and Marty Snyder, two of the owners of the restaurant, were head service man and chief chef respectively for the headquarters of General Eisenhower in Europe. What more logical than that upon their return to this country they should set up a restaurant which employed only veterans?

The party we looked in on was given for several of the small fry of the veteran daddies at Headquarters. They had a wonderful time ordering just exactly what they wanted for their lunch, and the fathers had a wonderful time, too — taking orders and serving the youngsters.

Our favorite of the lot was small Joe Snyder who, asked what he'd like to eat, lifted a finger high above his head and with a twinkle in his eye shouted "One meat ball!"

Meat Balls
1 pound chopped beef
1 slice bread
Water
1 egg
1 medium onion
Salt and pepper
Cook the onion gently in a little fat until it is delicately browned. Meantime soak the bread in water to cover. Squeeze the water from the bread. Mix beef, bread, egg and onion. Season with salt and pepper. Shape into balls, place in baking pan and bake in 400 degree oven until meat reaches the degree of doneness you like. (For grown-ups, Headquarters adds a bit of finely minced garlic to the original mixture.)

Children at this Father's Day party ordered creamed chicken in patty shells. Marty Snyder says they like their chicken plain creamed — no pimiento or other fancy additions.

Creamed Chicken
2 cups cooked chicken, cut in fairly large pieces
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 cups milk or cream
Salt and pepper to taste
Melt the butter. Remove from stove and blend in flour smoothly. Add milk, return to stove and stir constantly until thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add chicken and simmer over very low flame until chicken is heated through.

Let Daughter Try Culinary Skill During Summer

Now that school is out for the summer, it's time to let young daughter do some of the cooking. Colorful foods that capture the imagination will spur her efforts onward.

Edible tepees made from cold meats are especially intriguing to the younger generation. Slices from a mildly spiced sugar and clove pork loaf of the table-ready meat variety fill the bill in this case. Roll the sliced meat in a cone shape and fasten with a tooth pick. Fill with cottage cheese and stand up on the plate. Tooth picks to look like prop poles complete the realistic effect.

Broiled table-ready meat tepees are also within range of the young cook's ability. Since we've pledged ourselves not to waste bread, a dressing that uses up stale bread might be used in place of the cottage cheese filling. Shape and fill the tepees, then lay

Making Pastry Tube

You can use writing paper or fresh clean wrapping paper to make a pastry tube. Sheets should measure about 8 1/2 by 11 inches or 9 inches square. First cut sheets diagonally in two. Hold one long point of paper in each hand and wrap around to make a cornucopia with a very sharp point. This point should come in the middle of the longest side. Cut off point to make a tiny opening. The three corners of the triangle pieces of paper should come together at the open end where they can be turned in several times so that the cornucopia will hold together firmly.

them on a baking pan. Brush with melted fat, and broil about 3 inches from the source of heat until lightly browned, about 3 to 5 minutes. Turn and broil on the other side until lightly browned also, again about 3 to 5 minutes.

Crisped carrot sticks and plump pimiento olives complete the plate arrangement — young daughter's imagination will give them their rightful place in the picture.

Village Wants Freedom

CAMPIONE, Italy, June 13. (AP)—This tiny gambling-supported European playground, where king and commoner are equal at the roulette table, wants to free itself from Mother Italy's apron strings. Campione is one of the strangest communities on the continent. It is a pimple on the shore of Lake Lugano, surrounded by Swiss territory. Less than two miles square, its population of 1,000 is almost completely dependent upon the large gambling casino which nets $1,000,000 annually.

King Boris of Bulgaria once played there. Queen Wilhelmina of Holland was the only member of royalty who visited and never tried her luck.

The casino is owned by a private syndicate in Rome, but it has been a municipal bonanza to Campione, which is debt free and has only two per cent unemployment.

Six members of the municipal council work for the casino and supposedly see that it pays its proper share of taxes. Mayor Feliz Tagliaferri is secretary of the casino and is one of the leaders of a movement to obtain complete administrative freedom for Campione while leaving the community still under Italian political shelter.

"If we could get our independence we could make Campione greater than Monte Carlo," he said.

This ambitious program crystallized after Campione's citizens revolted against the German puppet government in northern Italy in January, 1944.

It was the least bloody revolution in history. They simply locked up six government policemen and created their own army of seven men. Hitler was occupied with more important problems at the time — and because any invited foreigners must have a Swiss visa to reach Campione — the flaming patriots won their rebellion.

Campione now wants to keep its liberty because it has its own postal system and its currency is the Swiss franc, the soundest money in Europe. It therefore is refusing to pay taxes to Italy.

The first straw hats in America were imported from England. The manufacture of straw hats in this country dates back only to the middle of the 19th century.

Spring Showers

Bridal Parties, Showers, Require Ingenious Planning

SHOWERS TODAY: You don't have to be weather prophet to predict "showers today." For there's always "a new crop of brides coming along, to say nothing about babies, new home owners, travelers, and even groom-to-be! And what fun it is to observe anniversaries, both wedding and birthday, with showers instead of the usual gift-wrapped packages!

HOBBY SHOWERS: A smart idea in planning showers is to build around a hobby, his, hers, theirs, no matter what the occasion. S'pose it's gardening. This is the time for garden books, hats, gloves, choice bulbs and seeds, garden tools. If your garden is at its best, make it an outdoor party, planning around a Sunday night buffet supper for the two of them. A small overall-clad boy, pushing a wheelbarrow, might bring in the gifts.

If she goes in for cooking, there's the kitchen gadget shower, the covered dish luncheon, tried and true recipes, made up and written up for "testing." Laundry, pantry, and game room showers are good for any new home owners. And it does so help the invited guests to know what to bring. Do "they" like camping, sports? Make it a fish-fry, a barbecue, a picnic, or a hobo party, with guests arriving in appropriate costume to add fun to the occasion. If they're going on a trip, why not a progressive dinner, with a different course served as the group "progresses" from house to house, food being appropriate to the places to be visited.

GOOD IDEAS: Then there's the shower built around an idea. The book shower, for instance—budget books, book ends, a favorite volume of verse, a kitchen diary, baby books, books on the places to be visited, these might well be gifts. She's interested in flower arrangements. And baskets. What homemaker ever has enough baskets? Sewing baskets, clothes hampers; market and cleaning baskets; picnic and garden baskets; flower, sandwich, bread baskets. An idea to work on for a blessed event, too! Sewing showers—built around equipment for the gal who likes to sew or a sewing party at which everyone sews on something, lunch cloths, dish towels, tea napkins, or baby clothes!

FOOD OF COURSE: The time of day the shower is given doesn't matter. You may serve luncheon, breakfast, buffet supper, brunch. Or stop with simple mid-afternoon or evening refreshments. It isn't necessary to go to a great deal of expense. Interesting food and table settings, in keeping with the kind of shower—that's all that's necessary. For showers are given because of our love for a person. An intimate thing, this shower business. One's heart should be in it. Otherwise, let there be—no showers today.

Old-fashioned flat-irons become quaint book ends when bedecked with small gay decals or stenciled posies. Add a ribbon bow on the handle and use one as a door stop.

Odds On Champion In Louis-Conn Go Whittling Away As Event Approaches

Joe insists He Will Be Ready To Go All Way

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 13. (AP) — Joe Louis will box just 24 more rounds before he takes on Billy Conn in Yankee Stadium next Wednesday, and he feels in grade-A fighting shape right now, regardless of what one doctor had to say about his high blood pressure and assorted other ailments.

Joe gave off this bit of steam today as he went back to work with a six-round sparring scuffle after his usual Wednesday vacation from training. And for the first time since he pitched his camp on May 4, the Bomber's usual easy-going way let off some sparks as he got around to the statement of Dr. Vincent Nardiello, a New York State Athletic Commission physician, after his workout Tuesday.

"Hmph," he hmph-ed, "that statement's kind of silly. After all, Doc Walker said I was okay, didn't he. And he's examined me for a dozen fights before. He knows me better than anybody. How can Doc Nardiello know me as good as Doc Walker?"

After a week of watching the spurns stake out claims on the Bomber's physiognomy with their punches, the chief conclusions you draw are that he's easy to hit, that he's far slower than he was in '41 when he flattened Billy in 13 rounds, that he's planning to joss several large hooks at Conn's tummy next Wednesday, and that he's figuring on fighting a front-moving style to keep Conn going backward.

Joe contends he's in just as good shape as he was for his return go with Max Schmeling — when he took sweet revenge for the only defeat of his professional career — and that his legs are ready to carry him 15 rounds with no complaints, if it has to go that far. He points out that he's being doing road work 17 weeks.

The full name of Marquis de Lafayette, the French general who served in the American Revolution, was Marie Joseph Yves

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Jack Jacobs, the Oklahoma university gridiron luminary, recently attached his autograph to a Washington Redskins contract and club officials jubilantly went into nips-ups over his acquisition, calling him "the best of all Indian players, including Jim Thorpe."

Whether George Marshall believes that or whether he's beating the tubs for the cake of customer traffic would be information hard to extract from the wet-wash earl.

Jacobs is a good hand at chunking the pig hide. He'll provide welcome relief for the aging Sammy Baugh in that department. And he's a fair-to-middling hand at carrying the mail.

But he'll be no ball of fire in the professional ranks, in the opinion of this corner, until he improves his temperament. We saw him play several games for the Fourth Air Force team a couple of years ago and he wasn't getting along with the common herd.

There were whispers of disension on the club and reports said a lot of that ill feeling was caused by Jacobs. When he was in the game, some of the others refused to block for him. Others wouldn't even go on the playing field.

Garth Mann, the red-haired Texan who hurled a no-hit, no-run baseball game for the Sacramento-San Francisco Seals recently, always had trouble in going the distance in Seal Stadium at San Francisco at the time he was with Oakland.

The Dallas product is a half-pint and the winds which blow through the Seal plant from off the bay are powerful enough to upset Mann's equilibrium.

Spanky Ballinger, the former WT-NM leaguer, is currently hitting .300 for San Diego but he's playing second string to Len Rice.

Larry Drake, one-time Big Spring outfielder, hit a grand slam home run for the Sacramento-San Francisco Seals recently.

The junior partner in that "Me and Paul" pitching combination of other years—Paul Dean—has joined Sherman, incidentally, after being out loose in the Southern Association.

Wink's one-time second sacker, Blas Monaco, who was considered an aging ball player when he was taking pointers from Jodie Tate back in the late 30's, spent a few weeks with Cleveland this year but has been farmed out.

Blas, an Indian, played the 1939 season in Jorge Pasquel's Mexican league, which was enough. The Mexicans began making overtures to him again this year but

College Shell Race On Lake Washington—

Can High Beat Excell Low Beat?

HOT CREW—University of Washington oarsmen who will play host to the intercollegiate rowing regatta—and also try to win it—are (left to right) Bob Jones, stroke; Grant Bishop, David Thompson.

SEATTLE, June 13 (AP) — It keeps! Intercollegiate rowing regatta on Seattle's scenic Lake Washington June 22.

The unbeaten Wisconsin Badgers, who licked the best of eastern crews over the spring distances this spring, are coached by Alan Walz, a Manhattan college graduate who will be pitting his style against the more widely accepted slow beat, long stroke system installed by University of Washington graduates at six of the eight schools entered in the race.

After First National Title Wisconsin has a heavy crew—it will average 193 pounds—that Walz contends is as good in the sprints as in the distance events. His sweepsters proved their superiority all spring and a Badger victory here will give the school its first national title in its 65 years of crew competition.

The race was billed here as a feature of the maritime conference of the International Labor Organization. It was felt that with the accepted national championship race, the four-mile Poughkeepsie regatta on the Hudson river, off until 1947, a sprint counterpart could be staged here.

When the books finally were closed, the following crews had entered: California, Cornell, Wisconsin, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Harvard, Rutgers, the University of British Columbia and the host school, the University of Washington.

Walker Switches To Pittsburgher After A Visit

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J., June 13. (AP) — Among those who have been watching Joe Louis and Billy Conn train on alternate days at their nearby camps up here in the New Jersey hills there is a mounting conviction that Joe will have to get Billy very quickly this time or lose his title.

Among the managers and former fighters and other boxing characters who watched the challenger box yesterday there was scarcely a vote to be found for the champion except one or another hedged with the provision "x x x unless Joe hits him in the first few rounds."

Mickey Walker was so impressed with Conn's workout that he did a complete backflip. On Tuesday the old toy bulldog picked Louis to win. Yesterday he picked Conn.

It is difficult to escape the thought that Conn has a great chance this time. Conn looks good in every respect, whereas Louis continues to show such indifference to the thought that some of the boys are beginning to suspect he is "covering up," though they can't think of any reason why he should conceal his wares.

So dead certain is Billy that he can trim Joe over the 15-round route that he now apparently is thinking up ways and means by which he might score a knockout. That, of course, is the way he would like to win.

Yesterday he dropped his usual jabbing and hooking to the head to concentrate on dealing out heavy jolts to the body. For minutes on end he bowed his neck and thundered them in. Even then his opponents found it very difficult to tag the elusive Billy. If Louis weakens at any stage next Wednesday night he likely will get a fine going over about the middle.

'Y' Gym Night Slated Tonight

Trusting that there'll be no more house moving in the vicinity of the gym nor any disruption of electrical power caused by the migration of such domiciles on wheels — as was the case last week — the YMCA's "gym night" will go on as scheduled this evening at the high school gymnasium.

Some 15 or 20 persons were all set to indulge in their usual Thursday night round of athletics last week when the lights of the fieldhouse went out. Ultimately, it was learned that the wiring had been fouled up by a house being rolled up the street.

Doors of the gym will open around 7:30 this evening and the lights, it is hoped, will go on.

Miss Arsh Phillips, athletic director, said that volleyball would be played by the patrons reporting.

son, Bob Wills, John Anderson, Ted Gibson, Bob Bergeron, Dave Roderick and Bob McFarlane, bow.

the event, bringing only their oars. Washington will furnish the shells from the collection in the Husky shellhouse where George Pocock, master shellbuilder, turns out the cedar stogies. There will be a draw for shells, so Washington will not necessarily be racing in a familiar craft.

As a matter of fact, Coach Al Ulbrickson has been having his three boatloads test all the shells for seaworthiness in recent trials. Normally Washington would be a favorite in any crew race entered by the school which is the cradle of the modern Hiram Conibear style of rowing. But this year Wisconsin is the favorite, and Ulbrickson was caught unprepared.

His crewmen didn't hold their first-turnouts until March, and of those reporting, only one had previous experience in a shell. The boys were just rowing for the fun of it until the June 22 regatta was announced.

Clubbers Move On San Angelo Saturday Night

Manhattan Club's mushball contingent invades San Angelo Saturday to try and do what Coaden's Oilers weren't able to accomplish last week — inflict a defeat upon the powerful Carr-Powell club of the Concho city.

Billy Parker, Manhattan skipper, has recruited a strong lineup for the Angelo expedition. He's counting on using L. D. Cunningham in the box, and is trying to borrow Lewis Heuvel from the Forsan team to fill in at short stop.

The Clubbers will seek to solve the slants of Roy Weeks, a classy hurler who pitches for the Coahoma Stanolind Oilers sometimes.

J. D. Brown, an Abilene boy who made an appearance on the mound here for Manhattan a few days ago, may also make the trip. Parker will receive the slab-man's offerings, no matter who pitches. Other starters will be Charley Reed, 2b; Sonny Busby, 1b; Billy Mims, rf; Howard Smith, lf; Melvin Simmons, cf; and Leamon Bostick, 3b.

The Manhattan, now in fourth place in Mundy league standings, have won 45 decisions in 54 contests to date.

Play In Church Softball Loop In 4th Round

Play in the YMCA Church softball leagues, now in its fourth round, gets underway at 6 o'clock this evening with games on the Salvation Army senior and junior diamonds and the South Ward field.

In senior boys competition, East Fourth Baptist and First Methodist get together on the Army's senior field at 6 o'clock. Two games will be unreeled at 7:15 p. m., with Airport Baptist and the Y clashing on the senior diamond and Salvation Army and First Christian on the junior soil.

Prairie View Baptist and YMCA, First Baptist and First Methodist and East Fourth Baptist — and Catholic meet in girls' competition on the South Ward field. The fireworks begin at 6 o'clock.

East Fourth Low and Airport Baptist Junior boys clash on the Army's junior diamond beginning at 6 o'clock.

Tuesday's results: SENIOR BOYS — Airport Baptist 10, First Methodist 6; East Fourth Baptist 11, First Christian 10.

GIRLS — YMCA 15, Catholic 8. Trophies for the winners have been ordered by the Y officials.

Umpires Walk Out But Game Goes On At Lamesa; Lobos Lose, 14-1

LAMESA, June 13. — Borger's Gassers went on a scoring rampage in the fourth and ninth frames to annex a 14 to 1 victory over Lamesa's Lobos and a sweep of the series behind the steady hurling of Buck Tinsley here Wednesday night.

A crowd of 1337 watched the Lobos end their home stand in a dismal setting as the Gassers pounced on the slants of Callen McPike and Andy Giles for 15 hits, including a home run by Whitey Warren with one on and doubles by Royce Dossett and Bus Ross. Warren duplicated his Tuesday performance by driving home 4 tallies.

Tinsley notched his 5th win as he fanned 4, walked 1, and spaced the Lobo bingles. Three double plays, two of them started by the Borger hurler, throttled three Lobos threats.

Joe Fortin, Lobo right fielder, got the only extra-base blow off Tinsley, a double that drove in the Lamesa run.

Umpires Atkins and Sigler failed to appear at the park, and Lamesa's Carlos Berry worked behind the plate with Borger pitcher Upton at first base and Lobo twirler Jack Haupt at third.

Lamesa business manager Olan Wise said that the league arbiters checked out of a local hotel two and one-half hours before game time. Deputy Sheriff Truman Cotten and Ed Hatch went to the hotel to accompany them to the game, and it was learned that they had left. Wise said that the umpires "asked for police protection, and it was furnished."

The Lobos have released pitcher John Gray outright, and have signed William Mumm, a rookie right-hander from Covington, Kentucky.

Ramsdell Clouts Homer But Loses

By The Associated Press

Home runs and heavy hitting helped Texas league teams along last night. Pitchers came in for their share of glory also with two shutouts reported in the five games played.

The almost-in-the-cellar Shreveport Sports split a doubleheader with the loop-leading Fort Worth Cats, 6-6 and 4-2.

Second-place Dallas staged a 11-hit and six-run attack on the Beaumont Exporters to win, 6-0. San Antonio, in third place, kept up its circuit standing by coming from behind to win 2-1 over the Tulsa Oilers.

Houston took the finale of a three-game series with Oklahoma City, 3-1.

Ragged hitting by the Sports counted for the first game loss to Fort Worth. In the second game, Willard Ramsdell not only pitched the event but pounded out a second-inning home run.

The 6-0 victory for Dallas was highlighted by a homer in the sixth and Hal Hirschon's round-tripper in the final frame with one on base.

Two base hits, by Rube Naranjo and Ray Coleman drove in runs and paved the way for the San Antonio victory. Lefty Clarence Iott, making his mound debut for the Missions, struck out 10 Tulsa batters.

Clarence Beers halted the Oklahoma City Indians with three hits in the Houston win. Gene Czaplicki belted a home run in the third inning with Beers, who had doubled, on base.

Today's schedule:
Dallas at San Antonio.
Fort Worth at Houston.
Oklahoma City at Shreveport.
Tulsa at Beaumont.
(All night games.)

HENDERSON NEARS EAST TEXAS LEAD

By The Associated Press

Henderson drew a deep breath in the top seat of the East Texas league last night as Paris took a 11-10 defeat from Jacksonville. Yesterday the Red Peppers lack only .004 for a first place tie.

Henderson kept up its average with an 8-2 win over Sherman. Highlighted by Jim Hogan's three-hit hurling.

The Paris-Jacksonville affair was a 10-inning battle with each team garnering 11 hits.

Third place Tyler broke loose in the last few innings to beat Greenville 7-1.

The Texarkana Bears nipped the Lufkin team 10-9 in a wild affair.

Bums Turn Back Cards On City's 300th Birthday

By The Associated Press

There was joy in Flatbush today. In the hearts of some 2,786, 000 Brooklyn residents there was nothing but forgiveness for their dead Dodgers who were due back home from their weary and nearly disastrous Western invasion.

And why not? Hadn't their beloved Bums presented their faithful followers with the most desirable birthday present imaginable by whipping the hated St. Louis Cardinals for the first time in five meetings this season right on Brooklyn's 300th anniversary?

For a time, it appeared the Dodger faithful would have to go to bed without their birthday present as the ninth inning opened with Brooklyn trailing the Cards 7-6. But Pistol Pete Reiser, Brooklyn's most explosive weapon, led off the frame with a double and before the round was over, the Dodgers had kayaked the Cards 10-7 to safeguard their slim lead.

In the National league's only other game, the Cincinnati Reds handed the New York Giants their fifth straight defeat 3-2 to drop the Polo Grounders to within a half game of the last place Philadelphia Phillies.

Once again Bobby Feller, the Cleveland Comet, proved his greatness when he cooled off the terrific Boston Red Sox 7-2 enabling the Indians to become the first Western club to defeat Joe Caggin's American league leaders in 19 games at the Hub.

While snapping the Red Sox's 12-game winning streak, rapid Robert struck out 10 to boost his season total to 236 for the 124 innings he has hurled while winning 10 and losing four.

Detroit's Tigers made it three in a row over the New York Yankees last night by coming from behind to shade the Bronxites 6-5.

In a brilliant pitching duel, the St. Louis Browns, Jack Kramer bested Washington's Bobo Newsum 1-0 in 10 innings as outfielder Joe Grace tripled to drive in Hank Held with the only run of the game.

Rain washed out the Pittsburgh-Boston and the Chicago-Philadelphia contests in the National league as well as the Chicago-Philadelphia game in the American Circuit.

Burton May Be Open Surprise If Wind Blows

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP) — No matter who wins the open golf championship at Cleveland, Craig Wood already holds one record. He has held the title longer than any golfer in history—since 1941. And if the wind keeps blowing off Lake Erie, look for Dick Burton to come a lot closer to the leader than otherwise. The Briton has had more experience on windswept courses, where scores are blown sky high. The score card for the first "match" baseball game between the Knickerbockers and the New York nine at Hoboken 100 years ago bears the notation: "Davis was fined six cents for swearing."

SHORTS AND SHELLS

Charles Rannou, French chef at Billy Conn's training camp, claims that preparing meals for Billy and his force is the easiest job he ever had after working in hotels in Paris and New York. With a half dozen former St. Louis players on the Braves' squad, its no wonder Boston scribes are calling them the "Cape Cod Cardinals."

BANG!

H. L. Stallard reports "one for the book" in a Memorial Day game between Clinchco and Coeburn, Va., in the Tri-County semi-pro baseball league. The first three Clinchco batsmen in the opening inning got safely on base and the fourth cleared them off with a homer. The next three again loaded the sacks and, socko, another homer. The ninth batter, just to be original, hit for the circuit with no one aboard.

Veterans, Redcaps Win Muney League Contests

Favorites came through in Muney softball league play Wednesday evening at the city park, with the improved Veterans of Foreign Wars trouncing ABC, 8-2, and Doc's Redcaps running roughshod over Dub's Garage, 13-0.

Billy White toed the slab for the Vets and rationed out four hits but had to wait until the fifth and final inning for victory, when his mates tallied six times to put the decision on ice.

Each contingent pushed a brace of markers across in the initial canto.

D. R. Gartman, who shouldered the pitching burdens for the service club, sailed along on serene waters until the ex-GI's began to hunt him in the fifth round. Johnny Burns and LeRoy Woods both found him for safeties by tapping into the infield and the heat was on.

Hunka Stewart forced Burns at third but Jake Anderson followed with a smash and Doc Malone cleared the hassocks with a double.

Malaise, Patterson, Holmes and Lawrence registered base blows for the losers.

The Redcaps used two big innings to make mince meat of Lige Brothers' Garage troupe. They broke the barrier with a quartet of runs in the first frame and chased six runs across the dish in the sixth just to make certain things went their way.

Bill Greider hurled all the way for Doc's nine while Skelly Shelton came through with two doubles to lead the hit parade. Greider cut down 11 of the opposition on strikeouts.

The Vets return to action in tonight's second contest, meeting the ever-dangerous Big Spring Motor club. ABC tries to get back on the glory road by playing Forsan's Couden Pipeliners in the 7:30 opener.

Archers Invited To Meet Today

Archers and would-be archers who desire to enter into competition have been invited to meet at YMCA headquarters at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Jack Thompson, the city's leading bow-and-arrow enthusiast, will work with Y officials in organizing a club for summer activity.

The meeting is for men and boys, only. The girls will session later with Miss Arsh Phillips to talk over plans for the summer.

Part of the equipment to be employed will be furnished by the Y, but members must furnish their own arrows, according to Bill Daves, general secretary.

No arrangements have yet been made for a range but Daves said he thought one could be set up on South Gregg street.

A grenadier originally was a soldier who carried and threw hand grenades.

Air Force Caravan Due To Give Exhibit Of Once - Secret Devices

The largest Air Force caravan sent out from any air field to date, carrying an extensive exhibit from Randolph Field, goes on display on Main Street in front of the court house starting at 12 noon Friday.

Caravan and personnel arrived here Tuesday and began arranging the show for the public, who of course, will be admitted without charge.

The caravan is composed of three large tractor trailers, two 2 1/2-ton trucks, a sound truck, jeep and staff car.

Personnel will exhibit a Norden bombsight, an operating Link Trainer, a cutaway B-29 engine showing all moving parts, a P-63 mockup showing the pilot's instruments, complete electrical and oxygen systems, a P-63 nose section with 37 mm. cannon and 50 caliber machine guns synchronized with the propeller, a panel of instruments from a captured German plane and other one-time secret gadgets.

There'll be an auxiliary supercharger on display, a B-24 instrument panel, bomb racks and bomb releases, a mockup fuel system, personal equipment including a desert and tropical subsistence kit, and Arctic kit, ocean and jungle kits.

One of the trucks carries a complete mobile air force weather station.

In charge of the caravan will be Major John R. Pennington, who completed 54 combat missions in B-24's in the Southwest Pacific and returned each time with all engines running and with not a single wounded man. He wears a Legion of Merit, DFC, Air Medal with six clusters and six battle stars.

Other personnel with the unit include Capt. Allan W. Shaw, Lt. Jay O. Jeffries, W-O Daniel E. Boynton, M-Sgt. Edward Laugherty, Irvin Kwiatkowski, Douglas U. Hobbs, Raleigh F. Doss, Tex Tullios, Elmer Fletcher, Durward H. Stockton, and Clarence A. Bragg and T-Sgt. Frank Imholz.

M., formerly of Big Spring. He was a brother of Mrs. E. L. Barrick of Big Spring, Mrs. James Brooks of Big Spring was a niece.

New Anesthetic Found For Horses

CHICAGO, June 13 (AP) — A new anesthetic for horses which removed virtually all the danger of injury in the veterinary surgery has been developed by army veterinarians at Fort Riley, Kas., the Journal of American Veterinary medical association reported today.

In instances where the new formula has been used, the Journal said, it was noted that the "excitement" stage which had been present in animals heretofore was either negligible or absent, thus reducing danger of injury both to the animal and attendants.

Animals which normally were vicious and nervous lapsed quietly into comas without the usual accompanying periods of floundering and thrashing about, the Journal added.

The new formula, the Journal said, consists merely of the addition of pento barbital sodium to the solution already commonly used as an anesthetic for horses—solution based on chloral hydrate and magnesium sulphate. The ingredients were placed in distilled water and injected into the jugular vein.

Charles Butterworth Killed In Accident

LOS ANGELES, June 13 (AP) — Film comedian Charles Butterworth died early today of injuries received when his automobile skidded 50 feet and hit an electric light pole, police reported.

The actor died in an ambulance just as it was arriving at General hospital. Attendants at the hospital said he had incurred severe head injuries.

Officers said his automobile, a foreign-made car, was almost completely demolished. There were no other persons in the car.

Farm And Ranch News

By WACIL McNAIR

Livestock sales here this week are keeping pace with the dry weather, and prospects are that ranchers will continue to cut their herds more and more if rain does not come soon. However, the situation here is not yet as serious as that facing stockmen in the San Angelo area. Sales facilities there have been worked over-time on extended regular schedules and extra sales, as large numbers of both cattle and sheep were unloaded during the past two or three weeks.

Hollis Yates, 4-H club boy from the Cauble community, is scoring repeated successes in his self-initiated hog breeding business. Three of his pigs were purchased by the Texas Electric Service company here for use as prizes to 4-H club members at the 1946 electric show. Last week the company bought two more from young Yates for their show in Lamesa.

Prospective purchasers of aerosol insecticides should read labels carefully on containers before purchasing, says Paul Gregg Jr., assistant entomologist for the A & M college extension service. No formula for use by the general public of an aerosol containing more than three percent DDT has been approved by the USDA's bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, and aerosols containing larger amounts of DDT may be harmful to humans and not any more effective for killing flying insects.

Labels which indicate that the aerosol has been manufactured under a license issued by the USDA assure a purchaser that the formula also has been approved by the department. After a great amount of experimentation to arrive at a proper and safe formula to go into these aerosol containers, entomologists found that the gas should contain pyrethrum for most effective use against insects. However, many brands offered now contain small amounts of DDT in addition to the pyrethrum. Such aerosols containing pyrethrum with small amounts of DDT, or containing pyrethrum alone, are nearly perfect for use in enclosed places as killers of flying insects. Gregg says that while aerosol will kill many crawling or immature insects, its use against them is wasteful and uneconomical.

Aerosol insecticides are composed of millions of tiny insecticide particles which continue to float about in the air for many minutes. An entire room of average size is filled with these little particles when the gas is released for only a few seconds from the container. Any insect flying about the room is almost certain to be hit by these microscopic particles.

Governors Of Texas—

"Little Dickey" Defeated Powerful Houston To Become Fifth Governor

AUSTIN, June 13. — Supporters of Sam Houston said the name, "Little Dickey Rummels" would never be written in Texas history books. They failed to count on the temper of these times and "Little Dickey" defeated Sam Houston to become the fifth governor of Texas.

Hardin R. Rummels, governor from 1837 to 1859, was nominated for governor in the first convention the Democratic party ever held in Texas. For the first time in the brief history of the new state, national politics took precedence — state's rights, slavery, secession.

The old warrior fought bitterly to preserve the union. A member of the Senate whose term was to expire in 1859, Houston became a candidate for governor. Rummels meanwhile was lieutenant governor under Pease.

Campaigning for Houston was the noted Judge Wilcox of San Antonio. One of the talks preserved from that campaign was made by Judge Wilcox at a barbecue in Lockhart. Tears streaming from his eyes, he told of Houston's proud exploits and said: "When the history of Texas is written and the school books published for the children, the name of Sam Houston will appear on many pages for their edification and instruction. 'But ladies and gentlemen,' he cried, 'do you suppose the name of Dick Rummels will ever appear on the pages of those books, or that Little Dickey will ever be heard of?'"

A better prophet was Col. "Wash" Jones, speaking for Rummels at the same meeting. Yes, the history books would honor Sam Houston; but "when the writers come to tell the truthful story, they will have to write down that Hardin Richard Rummels was the same Little Dickey Rummels who beat the great and illustrious Sam Houston for governor by many thousand votes." Rummels' majority was 32,552.

Many Texans believed the Union should come first; Rummels was not among them. In his inaugural he said, "Year by year the South is becoming weaker, the North growing stronger. I do not hesitate to believe that the determination of Texas will be to assume the guardianship of her own destinies, and to bid adieu to a connection no longer consistent with the right, dignity and honor of an equal and independent state."

During Rummels' regime, rifles flamed from the Red River to the Rio Grande — Rangers' rifles. The histories say, "There was more fighting in Texas in 1858 and '59 than at any time save for the Revolution year of 1836."

Deciding federal troops incapable of handling the Indians, Rummels put Ranger Chief John S. "Rip" Ford in charge of increased Ranger forces, to "cooperate" with the Bluecoats. A typical episode was the terrible battles of Antelope Hill on the Canadian river in the spring of 1858, leading historians to write that the combats were reminiscent of the days of chivalry because of the splendid horsemanship and the shields and spears used by the Indians. Ranger rifles were less colorful, but more effective.

During his administration there was a wave of lynch law against cattle rustlers. And he had Mexican troubles, too, although not officially. A brazen army from the south led by Juan Cortina made extensive raids on the Lower Rio Grande valley. Rummels called on Ford to put Cortina in his place. The fighting, although unofficial, was full-scale. And the Mexicans were routed.

Into this atmosphere of smoke and gunfire, a rumble of thunder was sounding from afar. The flames of the coming civil war were creeping closer. Houston came back in 1859 and was elected governor by a large majority over Rummels. But in his vaudeville, Rummels advised strong resistance against invasion of state's rights; declaring "if these influences could not be peacefully overcome, they must be forcibly met."

Rummels returned to the farm. In 1861 he came back to serve in the Secession convention.

Water Babies Remain Well-Groomed With New Hair-Dos, Accessories

By BETTY CLARKE

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor You don't have to be a drip at the beach — not if you plan one of the new aquatic hairdos that will keep your hair looking sleek and well-groomed in spite of a high dive or an unexpected wave.

At a recent New York showing of "Hairdos for Water Babies," a number of specially created aquacrafts were suggested. Models displaying their seaworthy hairdos in a setting of sandy beach and tropical palm trees.

These new under-water coils covered many attractive hair styles from the shoulder-length bob to the ear-tip length. Plastic bows and ribbons and other pretty hair decorations worn by the models should be popular for girls who may find that bathing caps don't always keep their hair dry.

You can take a dip in the ocean or pool in one of these tight-to-the-head hair styles reminiscent of the Gibson Girl era, and still be in the swim for an evening date. This was proved by models who changed from bathing suits to evening dresses without disarranging so much as a single hair. In the quick-change operation, the plastic ribbons were replaced with taffeta bows, flowers and jeweled clips.

One hairdo was arranged of side rolls and a neck bun. Another was parted in the center from forehead to nape of neck. The two sections of hair then were individually bound with rubber bands, each twisted and pinned into a roll of curls on either side.

If you like braids you can try the back-braid variation. Sweep all the hair to the back of the head and braid down the back from crown to neckline. Tuck two or three little plastic bows down the back of the braid.

Of course a girl can't jump from water to dance floor if her hair isn't clean. A dirty head of hair will only look worse after it becomes wet and it will take longer to dry. If it has been immersed in salt water, so much the worse.

During the summer months, hair should be washed often. Dry shampoo isn't a good bet if you plan to dunk your head in water. It will cause your hair to become more unmanageable because it may be sticky.

Use a conditioning liquid shampoo that is as effective in salt as in plain water. This will give your hair luster and sheen that will still be apparent after a swim.

Plan to spend some time on the beach lolling in the sunshine if your hair is wet. This way it should dry within the hour. Then you should be all set for an evening date with a glamor hairdo that can be brushed out and combed back neatly into the same hairdo.

When exposing your hair to the sun, it is wise to remember that it should be in the sunshine only long enough to dry it. It isn't wise

Broadway—Jack O'Brian

Costello And His Buddy

NEW YORK. — Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, the film funny men, came back to Broadway for a few days' vacation between pictures ostensibly for a rest, but actually to make it known that they had stopped their public brawling.

About a year ago it looked very much as if Abbott and Costello, the hottest comedy team in show business, were about ready to split up. Lou didn't like Bud, and Bud didn't like Lou, and neither was very shy about telling anyone about it. They weren't speaking, and they weren't speaking so loudly that they woke up most of Broadway and Hollywood.

They were, at the time, playing at the RKO Theater. Both were giving their salaries for the three weeks' engagement to the Lou Costello, Jr. Foundation, a fund they both set up to institute recreational and educational opportunities for underprivileged youngsters. Abbott said the only reason he would play out the RKO date was that the money was going to a good cause. Costello said that after the three weeks were up, he didn't ever want to see Bud again. The team, which was earning a million and a half dollars a year before taxes, appeared headed for the rocks.

They didn't reckon with a few persons and corporations interested in the situation, however. A film company, anxious about a hefty investment in a long-term contract with the lads, took the attitude that since its pictures starring Abbott and Costello were cleaning up incredible grosses, a splitup was impossible. There was a radio sponsor, too, who had a neat, tight contract calling for the services of the low comedy buffoons over a long term. A gang of radio and film executives called meetings with Abbott and Costello. There were lengthy conferences and what looked to be an impossible task somehow was accomplished. The boys went back to Hollywood, grumbling a little in each other's directions, but they went.

So the other day, a big soiree was held by Abbott and Costello, and the lads appeared emitting a warm glow of mutual affection.

But there still is little real affection between them. Their new compatibility is based on the same rich contract which keeps them together on screen and radio.

When the contract ends in a few years, a new one will have to be arranged. And if the chilly feeling doesn't change, a new contractual friendship also will have to be figured out. So go back to your corners, boys, and come out smiling. But not fighting. The contract says it can't be done. Not for a few years yet.

STRAN-STEEL

For the past few months you have been reading and hearing of America's most talked about building, the Stran-Steel "Quonset 24." We are happy to announce that one of these nationally known all-steel structures is being erected locally.

The "Quonset 24," 24 feet wide by any length you wish, in sections of 12 feet, is a three-quarter-arch-rib building framed with Stran-Steel nailable framing members. Fire-safe, weather-proof, and adaptable to many farm and industrial uses, the "Quonset 24" is economical to buy and maintain. Because of the patented nailing groove in Stran-Steel framing members, attachment of exterior steel sheathing and interior collateral materials is a quick and easy process. See this amazing building today. Then see us for details and prices.

Stran-Steel "Quonset" buildings are products of Stran-Steel Division, Great Lakes Steel Corporation, a unit of National Steel Corporation

New Strapless Bathing Suits Eliminate Striped Tan, Give Smooth, Brown Color

TAN IS WHAT YOU MAKE IT. . . With a sun screen lotion.

If you have plenty of courage, a good pair of shoulders and a semblance of a bosom, you can afford to wear one of the new strapless bathing suits.

That isn't all you will have to do, however, to get a good tan. You should arrange to take the sun gradually in small doses at first, later graduating to longer sessions that will brown you evenly but not painfully.

A good idea is to start on the 15-minute-a-day program for a week, then try it in half-hour sessions for the second week. Later, you should be able to spend hours in the sun without fear of being scorched.

Make sure you use a lotion before you start your sun bath. A good sun screen lotion will keep the skin soft and lovely because of the ingredients in it that deflect the burning rays of the sun.

You don't have to coat yourself with oil concoctions that might better serve as salad dressing. New sun lotions are milky white and not only offer protection but can serve as a powder base as well. This way you can do a smooth makeup job for the beach and still be protected from sunburn.

It is wise even after your tan is well established to continue using the lotion. Often after days of careful tanning, it will take just one day of sitting in the sun without lotion protection to cause the skin to redden, blister and peel.

Legs should be smooth and completely defuzzed before you attempt to tan. If you can possibly avoid it, don't use a razor to remove unsightly hair. It may cause a heavier growth.

If possible use a wax or other depilatory that will remove hair for a longer period of time. You will notice your legs will be smoother with this method.

To be perfectly groomed on the beach, remember to pedicure. Match toe and finger nail polish, remove callouses and smooth out the little bumpy spots on the backs of heels.

Justices Are Not Super-Natural

A lot of commentators have had things to say about the Supreme Court in recent years, and now members of Court are having their inning.

Justice Jackson fired a blistering attack on Justice Black, cabling his comments on a personal "feud" all the way from Nuernberg, where he is tied up in the war criminal trials. While his charges that Justice Black had participated in decisions in which a former law partner was counsel is extraordinary, his frank discussion of the "feud" is almost startling, considering the demeanor which the high court always has cultivated.

As a result of the blast, congressmen are joining the verbal fray with appeals for both men to resign, or for an investigation, or for a change in court rules.

Just what will come of the matter is difficult to predict—probably little or nothing. It does illustrate, however, that there is nothing super-natural about the men who are on the bench. They are human and are subject to the same frailties as their fellow men. Apparently some are subject to indulgences in personalities as well as principles.

Although the rulings of the court are the last word, the latest outburst should explain in part how inconsistencies creep into these rulings. These change because the personnel change, and men look at the same thing differently.

What Will They Do With OPA?

The end of June looms sharply ahead, and with it a critical decision on a major national issue—the OPA.

For well over six months now congress has been embroiled in a bitter battle over alteration and even extension of the price control act. House and senate action to date has been bitterly assailed by administration leaders, including the president. Chester Bowles, former OPA head and now economic stabilizer, and Paul Porter, OPA chief, have cried out loudly that revisions of the act have emasculated it. Some venture the president might even veto a bottled OPA measure rather than take responsibility for it, although he will be put in the precarious position of having nothing as an alternative.

Extreme pressure has been brought to bear on both sides of the issue. As a result, some vital points have been eliminated from control.

What would happen if the OPA were discontinued now is a matter of conjecture. There are those who think that it would be the answer to unrestricted production and a rapid readjustment to normalcy. We would like to believe this, but in consideration of the multitude of people who live from the proceeds of their labor, we cannot justify the hope. Those who trade or produce can, in a measure, stay up with a rising spiral. Those with fixed wages cannot, for no matter how rapidly wages rise, they always would be behind prices. Thus, any gains in this direction would be purely imaginary. In the end the boom and bust program might have a direct effect on the nation's economy than a more gradual process of adjustment.

Thus, it seems that it is vital that congress come up with an acceptable measure extending the life of OPA, including in it many adjustments to erase some gross inequities and obstacles.

The Nation Today—James Marlow

Status Of Labor Bills In Congress

WASHINGTON, (P) — If President Truman's veto of the Case Bill has you scrambled on the problem of the President, Congress and labor—here's the story.

Months ago, when the country was suffering badly from strikes, Rep. Case (R-Ed) offered a bill in the House to put some blocks on labor. The bill has borne Case's name ever since.

The House members changed and patched the bill until it was the most restrictive labor legislation ever passed.

It went over to the Senate and might have died there if the coal and railroad strikes had not aroused Congress. The Senators hauled out the Case bill and began to patch it up some more.

Right in the middle of the patching came the rail strike. Mr. Truman marched up to the Capitol and asked Congress to do two things:

1. Pass immediately, an emergency law to prevent strikes in industries seized by the government. This would be temporary law to end six months after the present wartime emergency ends.

2. But he said he thought a good, long-range law that would solve labor disputes in peacetime was badly needed.

In order to do a good job on the long-range, peacetime law, Mr.

Truman asked congress to start now to study the whole labor problem.

The Senators ignored this second request—long study for a permanent law—and rushed through their own patched up version of the Case bill. The House okayed the Senate version. The bill went to Mr. Truman.

This was the bill he vetoed yesterday and he gave a number of reasons why he thought the Case bill not only would not solve labor problems but might increase them or cause new ones.

He repeated his request, as he vetoed the case bill, for Congress to make a thorough study of labor problems and come up with a bill which in his view might help in labor disputes.

It would seem now that the Case bill was a dead duck and labor wouldn't have to worry about anything like that in a hurry. Not so. And here is why.

The House passed the emergency bill, just as Mr. Truman asked, on the very same day he asked, May 25. The Senate got to work on it, after passing the Case bill, and toned down the emergency bill.

The only thing holding it up now is a delay in the House. Before the emergency bill goes to the White House, the Senate and the House must agree on

June Weddings In Berlin

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

(For Hal Boyle)

BERLIN, (AP) — The American Occupation army has brought the tradition of the June wedding with it to Berlin.

And wedding bells here are followed by honeymooners in European glamour spots that most American kids could have only dreamed about—the Riviera, St. Moritz, Paris and Vienna.

Far a year now, American boys and girls have been meeting in the occupation forces. Late calendars of two chaplains at Omgus (Office of Military Government, US) were crowded with wedding ceremonies. Army travel officers are stamping permits for June marriages and honeymooners.

Senior Chaplain Maj. Arthur F. Weaver (Protestant) of Washington, Ind., and Executive Chaplain Capt. Maurice E. Powers (Catholic) of Los Angeles, expressed the same view:

"It's great to see these kids who back home would be lucky to manage a trip to Niagara Falls, or maybe New York or Chicago, charting honeymoons to places which were once the playgrounds of only the wealthy international set—Switzerland, the Riviera, Austria, Rome, Capri, Bavaria, Scotland, and others. They'll be getting georgious honeymoons they'll remember all their lives. Under regulations here, each couple first must go through a civil ceremony according to pre-1933 German law, then a religious ceremony performed by an army chaplain. The Chapel wedding have all the frills of home—gowns, veils, flowers and receptions.

Couples usually fly on their honeymoons by army transport routes but Lt. Dutee Smith of Trumbull, Conn., plans to take his bride, Staff Sgt. Geraldine Sanders of St. Louis, Mo., on a jeep ride through the European theater.

"We're going to see Denmark, Paris, the Riviera and as many other places as we can see in two weeks in our surplus army jeep," said Smith, officer in an army Post Exchange.

Police Training

HOLDENVILLE, Okla. (UP) — Police Chief Tom Liddell has announced plans to employ World War II veterans under the on-the-job training benefits on the Holdenville police force. Holdenville's chief is the second Oklahoma police head to institute the on-the-job program for GIs for police work. Seminole was the first city to adopt the plan.

WHEAT TO URUGUAY ... BUENOS AIRES, June 13. (AP) —Argentina has announced that in response to a Uruguayan request Argentina would send 50,000 tons of wheat to that neighboring country.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Connally, Vandenberg Don't Agree

WASHINGTON. — The Senate Foreign Relations committee discovered in a secret session last week that Chairman Tom Connally of Texas and Michigan's GOP Senator Vandenberg didn't seem to have got along too well during their recent peace trips abroad.

The committee was debating the important St. Lawrence waterway project which for 12 years has gathered dust in a committee pigeonhole.

Connally is opposed to the St. Lawrence waterway and complained bitterly that the legislation is in the form of an international agreement, requiring a majority of both the House and Senate in order to become law, instead of the two-thirds necessary for a treaty. The gentleman from Texas knew, of course, that he could muster a two-thirds vote to defeat a treaty.

Senator Vandenberg listened to the findings of his European traveling companion for a few moments, then interrupted.

"You know perfectly well it is proper to present this as an agreement," said the senator from Michigan. "Furthermore, I can remember more than one occasion when you've brought something in as an agreement because you knew well it would not pass as a treaty."

Senator George Gets Mad

At this, Connally hit the ceiling. Months of resentment over being forced to sit in Vandenberg's shadow at Paris and London welled to the surface. Tom accused Vandenberg of insulting him and demanded a retraction. Other members of the committee finally broke in to keep the peace, but the retraction never came.

Peace did not long prevail, however. Another opponent of the waterway lost his temper — Senator George of Georgia.

George demanded more time to study the bill — despite the fact that he has already had weeks to study the present bill and 12 years to make up his mind on the general project. His colleagues considered this unreasonable and he was voted down.

It is indicative of the frayed nerves of Senate members these days that the usually reserved George then lost his temper completely and refused to vote on the bill at all.

Instead he launched into an attack upon the State Department for drafting the agreement with Canada.

"It's about time the State Department stopped going around agreeing to dozens of things the Congress may never want to do," exploded the gentleman from Georgia.

"The time is coming," he continued, "when the question of isolation must be redefined. I am tired of a policy which requires large portions of our country to be given away to others."

George then asked to be excused and stalked angrily from the room.

NOTE — Every President in recent years has supported the St.

Lawrence waterway, including not only Franklin Roosevelt and Herbert Hoover, but Republican nominee Governor Dewey. For several years, also, it was planned to pass the St. Lawrence waterway as an agreement requiring a majority vote rather than as a treaty.

Capital Chaff

Secretary of the Treasury Vinson didn't know definitely that the President had decided to make him chief justice until 10 minutes before the announcement. . . . Vinson did his best to prevent John Snyder from being appointed head of the International Bank, and argued so hard on this that his ammunition was all gone to block Snyder's appointment as Secretary of the Treasury. . . . Snyder literally pleaded with O. Max. Gardner to remain as Under Secretary of the Treasury. He also asked Gardner to persuade other Treasury officials to remain.

Gardner worked on this last week-end, with no success. . . . The power lobby had a big day last week when the Senate appropriations committee cracked down on cheap federal power for the people of Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma. The man who led the fight against cheap power was Senator Elmer Thomas, who campaigned in Oklahoma in 1944 on the claim that he had never dealt with a lobbyist in Washington. This year, Thomas has been so busy cocktailing with lobbyists and speculating on the cotton market that he doesn't know what's going on in his own state — among other things that he won't be reelected.

What the British did not count on was the intelligence section of the War Department, to which Secretary Byrnes referred the foreign office note. Army intelligence made a confidential analysis of the possibilities of Arab uprisings and found them to be nil. The British, according to this secret report, had about 100,000 troops in Palestine, plus about 70,000 armed Jewish partisans. As a result, the War Department advised the State Department to reject the British memo.

Faced with this rebuke, the foreign office has now backed down, has sent another note to the State Department, agreeing to the opening of negotiations for admission of 100,000 Jews to Palestine. (Copyright, 1946, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Merry-Go-Round

Now that George Allen and John Snyder have been moved out of the White House, a new power in the President's entourage is handsome Commander Clark M. Clifford, also from St. Louis. Clifford now is even doing some of Truman's ghost-writing. . . . Congressmen turned thumbs down on Claude Bowers, US Ambassador to Chile, as speaker for the Roosevelt Memorial session of the House and Senate July 1. Instead Ambassador John Winant, a Republican, will pay tribute to Roosevelt. Bowers is a Democrat.

George Allen, who is out to become the Thin Man of the administration, has already lost 14 pounds. . . . Stuart Berkhardt, head of the alcohol tax unit, is being named assistant director of the Bureau of Internal Revenue. . . . Richard Saxe of the Federal Power Commission leaves for Europe soon to work on reparations problems. . . . The Hungarian prime minister, a leading Soviet sympathizer, will visit Washington before the end of the month. . . . French Communists, working in a united front with French cap-

Palestine Worries British

It will be vigorously denied, but the British foreign office has been moving heaven and earth to avoid carrying out the recommendations of the Anglo-American committee of inquiry on Palestine.

Latest British diplomatic side-step was a shrewdly drafted secret memo to the State Department, expressing a "sincere" willingness to permit the immediate immigration of 100,000 Jews to Palestine if, and it was a very big if, the US furnished two and a half divisions of well-equipped troops to prevent an Arab uprising.

This latest foreign office memo was one of the cleverest ever received at the State Department. Knowing the status of the Draft Extension Act in Congress and the acute manpower shortage in the US Army, the British counted on War Department refusal to furnish the troops plus the administration's fear of asking a hostile Congress to send 40,000 American soldiers to Palestine.

What the British did not count on was the intelligence section of the War Department, to which Secretary Byrnes referred the foreign office note. Army intelligence made a confidential analysis of the possibilities of Arab uprisings and found them to be nil. The British, according to this secret report, had about 100,000 troops in Palestine, plus about 70,000 armed Jewish partisans. As a result, the War Department advised the State Department to reject the British memo.

Faced with this rebuke, the foreign office has now backed down, has sent another note to the State Department, agreeing to the opening of negotiations for admission of 100,000 Jews to Palestine. (Copyright, 1946, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

A Nation Divided

COMMUNISTS have held part of northwestern China since 1935. During the war their armies and guerrillas spread Red control over other areas. Later as the Russians withdrew from Manchuria, Communist armies took over. Now Nationalists and Communists are fighting for all this disputed territory.

There is an ancient momentum in China toward civil war which is gathering force again after an eight-year slow-down for a defensive war against Japan. In the ten months since Japan was disposed of, nothing big enough has happened—either inside or outside of China—to halt that momentum. It rumbles on, oiled with suspicion and fear, toward open and hopeless fratricidal fighting which could involve one-fifth of humanity—if it could be restricted to that.

For 4,000 years there has been a rhythmic pattern of revolt in China as the peasants (4 out of 5 Chinese are farmers) rose in support of movements which gave them a chance to wrest from the minority the means of making a better living.

The Current Cycle
The turning point in the current cycle came in 1929, when Chiang Kai-shek and his Kuomintang outlawed the Communists who had helped them overthrow the old, corrupt Republic. Chiang chased the Communists to the far northwest, where in well guarded isolation they regiminated around 100 million peasants, itching to get land away from landlords.

In the meantime the Kuomintang, still controlling the central Chinese government, drew its support increasingly from bankers, landlords and merchants. It readily recognized that something had to be done to help the peasants, but it could proceed with economic reform no faster than its principal support would let it.

During the war against Japan, the hostile Communist and Kuomintang regimes cooperated to an extent, but it was at best a truce.

Race for Manchuria
When Japan went down, both sides jumped to fill the power vacuum created in North China and Manchuria. As the Communists were already close by they beat the Kuomintang to the draw in most cases.

Leaders on both sides saw the danger of civil war and met to talk about a peaceful settlement which would go far beyond the immediate threat and be based on a broad democratic coalition. In this they had the earnest assistance of the United States in the person of Gen. Marshall, the president's special envoy. But both camps contain men who are cynical, headstrong, or both. While strong-arm Communist generals were jumping the gun in the field, die-hard Kuomintang elements tried to undercut the coalition proposals.

Neither side trusted the other, from bitter experience. The Kuomintang government looks for help from the United States. At the same time, the Communists in areas close to Soviet Russia, cannot be expected to refrain from looking hopefully northward. They may have got some help, but nothing like the help America gave Kuomintang China to fight Japan.

Help in Breeding Trouble
Such outside help influences the Chinese situation profoundly. The Kuomintang, hoping for more help, may see no practical reason to divide up its present control with a rival Communist regime which it fears and distrusts. On the contrary it may figure that the danger of civil war tends to stimulate such help.

The Communists likewise see no compelling reason to knuckle under to the Kuomintang—which still has its secret police and insists upon taking over Communist controlled areas before talking politics. The Communists show every sign of digging in next to Soviet Russia so that their welfare will become an important Soviet concern.

If we and the Soviet Union had an intimate and detailed understanding about all this, the two Chinese factions might then figure it more profitable to agree. But we do not.

In the meantime some of us suspect the Russians of wanting Manchuria, and some Russians suspect us of wanting to make an American colony out of all China. In such atmosphere, both Chinese factions figure it safer to look to their own defense first and talk about peaceful unity afterward.

Other road ain't nothin' but trees—but this one's the scenic route—plum full of purty gals pitchers on sign boards!

YEARS OF PLENTY RECORDED ON TAX COLLECTIONS AND DELINQUENT ROLLS

The years of plenty since 1941 have inscribed themselves indelibly on the tax records of Big Spring, a survey of collections and delinquent rolls shows.

Tax collectors, who had to be content with payments far short of the total rolls back in the 30's, have been taking full advantage of increased incomes brought on by the war, and for the most part tax payers have been willing to cooperate while the means are available.

Delinquent totals for the City of Big Spring have been reduced from $75,004.35 in 1941 to $22,097.48 as of March 31 of this year. In addition, almost 95 percent of the current taxes have been collected by the March 31 deadline and a few have been trickling in since with the penalties added. Those who fail to pay their current assessments by the end of July will be transferred to the delinquent books, but this year if probably will be only a small part of the total roll.

The city tax department credits two conditions with a major part of the increase in payments: (1) Money is more plentiful; and (2) Real estate activity is increased. When property is sold, taxes usually are paid up at some stage of the deal.

Delinquent figures from 1941 to date for the city are as follows: $75,004.35 in 1941; $80,005.42 in 1942; $58,999.75 in 1943; $55,787.77 in 1944; $38,183.64 in 1945; $22,097.48 in 1946. Figures for each year are taken on March 31, end of the fiscal year. Total city roll now is approximately $121,000. Delinquent rolls of the Big Spring independent school district have decreased from $54,488.16 in 1941 to a current total of $27,283.36. In 1942 the total was $45,488.30; $43,904.33 in 1943; $42,491.87 in 1944; and $35,897.67 in 1945. Collections on the current roll this year are approximately 94 percent of the $134,231.80 total.

Cumulative figures on delinquent taxes owed Howard county are not kept, and none of the annual audits of county books contains a schedule showing the total tax accounts receivable by the county, hence any estimate of the amount is pure conjecture.

Imagine me!
giving little Judy a permanent!

You can do it, too, in 2 to 3 hours at home!

What fun! And everyone's talking about the lovely, lasting waves and softly curling ringlets you get with a Toni home permanent. It's easy to do... and so inexpensive! If you can roll up hair on curlers, you can give a wonderfully successful Toni permanent—a wave that lasts and lasts! You'll love the looks and feel of your Toni wave! Hair is softer, lovelier and easy to manage, for this is a creme cold wave... with a creme waving lotion that imparts luxurious beauty to the hair. The Toni Wave Kit contains everything you need for a glorious wave! Preparations are like those used in beauty salon-type permanents, are laboratory-tested. Wonderful even for children's baby-fine hair! So get your Toni Kits... today! If you aren't thrilled with the results, Toni will refund purchase price. $1.25
