Gits to Ford disclosed

Carter, Ford meet face-to-face

By The Associated Press

Two men, candidates for president, meet face-to-face tonight to debate their plans for America before an audience that may number 100 million people.

And as President Ford and Jimmy Carter prepared for their confrontation, a U.S. Steel Corp. lobbyist disclosed more details of past associations with Ford when he was a member of the House, including overnight stays at a company-owned house at Disney World in Florida and vacations together in the Caribbean.

It also was announced today that lobbyist William Whyte's son, Roger, has been working for more than two years as an advance man on the staff of Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Ford and Carter have taken vastly differing routes in their efforts to attract voters, Ford staying in Washington, campaigning out of town only to appear at his alma mater in his home state of Michigan. Carter criss-crossed the country to shake hands and make speeches.

And the candidates crammed for tonight's debate in fashions apart, and were to go to Philadelphia during the day for their debate scheduled to begin at 9:30 p.m. EDT.

Their running mates were in the field, Republican Sen. Bob Dole heading for southern California and Democratic Sen. Walter Mondale in Michigan.

In a statement issued early today, Whyte said Ford's overnight stays at Disney World in 1972 and 1973 were in addition to three Ford-Whyte golfing weekends at the company lodge in New Jersey, paid for by U.S. Steel.

In addition, the company said, Ford and Whyte took four Caribbean vacations together in the past 15 years. On two occasions they were guests of another couple, and on two others they rented a home with two other couples and shared expenses.

Whyte's son, Roger, earns $15,000-$16,000 a year in a job that Rockefeller spokesman Hugh Morrow says he got "strictly on his own merits." Morrow said Rockefeller's chief advance man, Joseph Canzeri, spotted young Whyte when he was working as a volunteer in the White House advance office and hired him. He said Canzeri didn't know Whyte was the son of William Whyte until afterward.

The White House had no comment on the report of U.S. Steel's role in the Florida stays. But earlier this week, Ford spokesmen said there was "no evidence of wrongdoing" in the New Jersey trips.

In his statement, Whyte said he had been friends with Ford for more than 20 years and that "to my direct knowledge, Congressman Ford shared the use of U.S. Steel overnight accommodations, as my personal guest, on five occasions over the last dozen or so years."

A company spokesman said he did not know whether U.S. Steel paid Ford's travel expenses but that the company did pay for Ford's lodging in all five instances.

There have been questions raised that Ford might have violated the code of ethics of the House of Representatives, adopted in 1968. It prohibits members from accepting a "gift of substantial value, directly or indirectly, from any person, organization or corporation having a direct interest in legislation before the Congress."

For weeks the two presidential nominees have prepared for tonight's debate, the first of three. Each has studied thick briefing books.

Ford has rehearsed with stand-ins who threw questions at him and critiqued his answers. Carter has crammed largely in solitude.

At the same time, both have tried to play down the amount of work they were doing in preparation for the confrontation.

"I've not lost any sleep," Carter replied when recently asked about his upcoming debate with the Republican President.

Lady Bird 'hurt'

Mrs. Carter tours Texas, LBJ Library

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Jimmy Carter's wife, Rosalynn, toured the Lyndon B. Johnson Library today with the former president's widow, who earlier told reporters she was "distressed, hurt and perplexed" by Carter's statement about her husband in Playboy magazine.

Shortly before Mrs. Carter arrived, Mrs. Johnson was asked by newsmen for comment on Carter's remark to a Playboy interviewer that Presidents Richard Nixon and Johnson engaged in "lying, cheating and distortion of the truth."

She said that she had told her staff that if anyone sought her comment, "They could say I was distressed, hurt and perplexed."

Mrs. Johnson confirmed that the Democratic presidential candidate had called her after advance reports of the Playboy interview were released.

"I felt it was very nice of him to call me. He told me he had said a great deal of nice things about my husband on his travels along with all the other Democratic presidents," Mrs. Johnson said.

At that point she broke off her conversation with reporters by walking with her daughter, Luci Nugent, to greet Mrs. Carter. She took both of Mrs. Carter's hands in hers, but the two did not embrace.

After a brief tour of the library exhibits, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Nugent and Mrs. Carter went into seclusion for 20 minutes to have coffee.

Asked by reporters afterward if they discussed the Playboy interview, Mrs. Carter said: "We didn't say Playboy one time."

Earlier Mrs. Carter said at a news conference that the debates with President Ford— starting tonight—would not affect the outcome of the election.

Mrs. Carter held a brief news conference at the Governor's Mansion just before a public reception. Well-wishers lined up around two corners of the mansion's grounds waiting to shake her hand as she stood in the receiving line with Gov. and Mrs. Dolph Briscoe.

"I think there will be substance to the debates. I don't think they will determine the election one way or another," Mrs. Carter said. She laughed as she related reports that President Ford had been practicing before mirrors for the encounter with her husband.

"Jimmy hasn't had time to do that. He's been out campaigning," she said.

"Mr. Ford is going to be surprised by what Jimmy knows."

In response to a question, she said she knew of no surprise statements that her husband was saving for the debates.

She said she spoke with Carter over the telephone this morning.

"He asked if I was still getting questions about the Playboy interview. I said, 'Yes,'" she said.

She said that Carter told her of calling Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson to discuss his remarks in the Playboy interview that Johnson, along with former President Richard Nixon, had engaged in "lying, cheating and distorting the truth."

Mrs. Carter said that statement —which Texas Republicans and some Democratic friends of Johnson have criticized—was lifted out of context in newspaper articles summarizing the interview.

"I just know he wasn't talking about Johnson—he was talking about the Vietnam War... He told Mrs. Johnson those statements were taken completely out of context," Mrs. Carter said.

Witnesses connect Hicks with drug smuggling ring

DALLAS (AP) — Two government witnesses have connected former Big Spring auto dealer Joe Hicks with a narcotics smuggling ring in testimony at Hicks' federal trial.

Dale Everett Morris, a convicted narcotics smuggler, testified Wednesday that he bought 20 kilos of illegal drugs in Bankok, Thailand, and Bogota, Colombia, for Hicks.

Hicks, his wife Janet, and Charles Lidge Bolts are standing trial on charges of conspiracy to import and distibute illegal drugs in the United States.

Fifteen persons were named in the drug indictments. Eight defendants have pleaded guilty and four are still at large.

Norris testified Wednesday Hicks paid all his travel expenses, set him up with connections and gave him the money to buy drugs on his 20 overseas trips.

But he said Hicks never delivered on his promise to pay him $1,000 a month plus a share of the profits. He said he only made $10,000.

A customs inspector testified she found eleven bags of suspected cocaine sewn in coat linings and pinned in suit pants when Norris, a former truck driver, was arrested at the Miami airport on Sept. 6. 1975, with 2.2 pounds of cocaine.

Morris is now serving two years in prison for importing the cocaine.

When asked why he did not come forward earlier, Morris testified he feared for the safety of his family.

He said on the stand Mrs. Hicks gave him money used to buy the narcotics but on cross-examination, elaborated that the money was in an envelope.

"She would give me large sums of money to take to Mr. Hicks. And I'm sure she didn't know what the money was for. But she would send money to Joe through me," Morris said.

He added that Hicks had told him that he had told his wife about "parts of the operation."

The witness also testified he had been to Bolts' Dallas home "either to take narcotics or pick up narcotics or pick up money."

Blue voter cards are now required

The red plastic voter registration cards which were issued prior to this year will not be valid for the November 2 general election, Mrs. Zirah Bednar, county tax collector said.

"Everybody has to have the blue paper card to vote in the November election," she said.

She said that in the May and June primaries, voters could use either card to cast their votes, but the Texas secretary of state's office has said that only voters must reregister this year.

The blue cars may be obtained by filling out a new voter registration card at the tax office in the courthouse, at the Young Democrats booth at the Howard County Fair or at the County Democratic Headquarters 4th and Runnels after Friday.

Reregistration must be accomplished by Oct. 1 to allow the voter to vote in the November election.

She also said that people who have moved since registering to vote may jeopardize their vote if they do not update their registration by Oct. 1.

Carter tours Texas, quote may help him

HOUSTON (AP) — Democratic presidential candidate Jimmy Carter visits Texas Friday and a co-chairman of his Texas campaign says the candidate's comments in a Playboy Magazine interview might actually help him in the state.

Carter will campaign in Houston and Dallas and his combined time in both cities is expected to be less than six hours.

He will speak at a noon rally in downtown Houston and then move on to Dallas for a late afternoon speech and a fund-raising reception before departing for the West Coast.

Calvin Guest and Bob Armstrong, co-chairman of the Carter Texas campaign, said Wednesday Carter will return to Texas and that his vice presidential running mate, Sen. Walter Mondale, also will campaign in the state.

Armstrong, state land commissioner, was asked about Carter's "adultery in my heart" statement to Playboy.

"What you are really seeing, maybe uniquely for the first time, is a candidate who is willing to be absolutely candid, absolutely open," Armstrong said. "The fact that he agreed to do that interview showed strength.

"I don't know whether we are ready to accept that kind of candor as a nation. We'll just have to see whether it makes a difference. It should have a positive effect because it is time for people to level with us."

Guest, state Democratic Party chairman, said Carter's remark to the Playboy interviewer that one committed adultery in his heart if he looked lustfully at a woman was "perfectly biblical."

"It is in the Bible, in Matthew, the Sermon on the Mount ... I think we do have a man who is very honest and candid," Guest said.

County tax rate is going down

GAIL — Borden County taxpayers received some good news this week. The county tax rate is going down 15 cents, from $1.10 to 95 cents per $100 valuation.

Jim Burjett, county judge, said the lower rate was possible because the county had overbudgeted for some of its expenditures.

In other business, the commissioners appointed Mrs. Cora Shaw to replace Mrs. Pauline Clark as alternate judge for election precinct No. 3.

County demos launch drive

Howard County Democrats will open their headquarters here Friday at 4 p.m., kicking off the official drive to elect Democratic candidates in November.

The headquarters is located in the old Texas Electric Building at the corner of 4th and Runnels.

According to County Democratic Chairman Raford Dunagan, tentative hours for the headquarters will be from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily except Sunday.

Volunteers will be on hand to register voters until Oct. 1, and also will accept donations and provide information on Democratic candidates.

The Howard County Young Democrats will also use the building for their headquarters.

The phone number for the headquarters is 267-1686.

Farabee speaker for Ag Day barbecue

An address by State Senator Ray Farabee, D-Wichita Falls, will highlight the yearly Agriculture Appreciation Day activities Friday.

The day will begin with a farm tour, sponsored by the county extension office, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, the Soil Conservation Service, Farm Bureau and other agriculture agencies.

Following the tour, the barbecue will be served at the Howard County Fairbarn from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. All area farmers and ranchers and their families wil' be guests, but others should obtain tickets from the Chamber of Commerce office until 10 a.m. Friday.

The Chamber's Ambassador Club will serve as hosts for the luncheon and Dr. J. Gale Kilgore will provide musical entertainment.

Thefts rise 11 per cent

Overall crime rate higher

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thefts increased 11 per cent and violent crimes declined 6 per cent as the overall U.S. crime rate edged upward during the first six months of this year, the FBI reported today.

Of the seven crime categories measured by the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports, theft was the only one showing an increase nationally. But that 11 per cent jump boosted the overall crime rate 3 per cent, compared with the same period in 1975.

The FBI statistics are based on the number of crimes reported by 9,160 state and local law enforcement agencies. Other studies, however, have shown that the number of crimes reported to police is far lower than the number actually committed.

Atty. Gen. Edward H. Levi noted that the 3 per cent overall increase is much less than the 13 per cent surge in the first half of 1975, compared with the same period a year earlier.

"While the trend is encouraging," he said, "there remains a net increase in serious crime — a clear reminder that all segments of the criminal justice system must continue working to solve the problem."

Nationally, the FBI reported that murder was down 12 per cent, rape and assault each declined 1 per cent, robbery dropped 10 per cent, burglary dropped 5 per cent and motor vehicle thefts fell 3 per cent.

The sharp increases in theft occurred in all population categories and in all parts of the country.

The exception was a 5 per cent increase in rape and a 4 per cent increase in assault in Western states.

Murder and robbery declined in all population categories, but rape increased slightly in medium-sized and small cities and assaults rose from 1 to 5 per cent in cities of 100,000 or less.

Among the nation's largest cities, Chicago, Los Angeles and Philadelphia reported fewer crimes in the six-month period, compared with the same period a year ago, while New York and Houston reported overall increases.

The number of crimes dropped from 109,978 to 104,629 in Chicago, largely because of decreases in rape, robbery, assault and burglary. But murders increased from 408 to 423.

In Los Angeles, 111,403 crimes were reported in the 1976 period, down from the 112,813 a year ago. Philadelphia listed 36,923 this year, down from 39,419 a year ago.

The FBI said New Yorkers experienced 314,000 crimes in the six-month period, up from 264,958 a year ago. Murder, rape and assault declined, but robbery, burglary, theft and vehicle theft rose sharply.

In Houston, the total was up from 42,692 last year to 48,457 this year and most of the increase was in the category of theft.

Connally heads list of speakers at fete

COLLEGE STATION — Many of the eyes of Texas and the academic community nationally will focus on Texas A&M University Oct. 4 when the state's first public institution of higher learning formally marks its 100th anniversary.

Former Gov. John B. Connally heads an array of prominent representatives of the private and public sectors scheduled to speak at the university's 10:30 a.m. centennial convocation and related events throughout the day.

More than 300 colleges, universities, learned societies and professional organizations will have delegates attending Texas A&M's centennial activities and marching in the convocation's processional in the 9,000-seat G. Rollie White Coliseum.

Connally will deliver the main centennial address, noted W. Clyde Freeman, Texas A&M's executive vice president for administration, who is acting in behalf of President Jack K. Williams during his recovery from heart surgery.

"Gov. Connally is the ideal person to speak at this milestone occasion for Texas A&M because he was instrumental in making the resources available at a crucial period for the univeristy, enabling it to begin or enhance many of the programs which figure prominently in its recent growth and progress," Freeman noted. "On a broader scale, he has long been a staunch supporter of public higher education and, for that matter, higher education generally."

The former Texas governor will be joined by representatives extending centennial greetings from various bodies: from the students — Fred McClure, student body president; the alumni — May Thompson of Dallas, president, Association of Former Students; from the faculty — Dr. Betty Unterberger, vice chairman of Texas A&M's Academic Council; from the delegates — Dr. Lee Smith, president, Southwest Texas State Univeristy; from the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System — Harry Provence of Waco, chairman; from the state — Secretary of State Mark White; and from the nation — Cong. Olin E. (Tiger) Teague of College Station.

Warm weather farmer's hope

Cotton farmers here hope for warmer weather the next several weeks so bolls will mature, D. W. (Bill) Fryrear, location leader at the U.S. Big Spring Experiment Station, said today.

Recent wet, cool weather is benefiting insects not the cotton, he explained.

"The plant is just not developing," Fryrear said. "The insects can keep working on it.'

"We have prospects for a pretty good cotton crop, provided we get some fairly warm weather in the next few weeks," Fryrear said.

He predicted, though, that less than last year's crop will be produced. Parts of the county did not get sufficient rain when cotton plants needed moisture.

Keep your own debate score

WASHINGTON (AP) — Want to keep your own score of tonight's debate between President Ford and Jimmy Carter?

Want to compare notes with the experts?

Here's how.

Five leading university debate coaches will judge the debate for The Associated Press.

You can score the debate yourself, using the same kind of scorecard the experts are using, and compare your results with theirs, when they are reported in Friday afternoon's edition.

The judging panel is using a scorecard modeled after the form used by the American Forensic Association for student competition.

Prof. James J. Unger, director of forensics at Georgetown University in Washington, prepared the accompanying ballot and the instructions for its use. Unger, whose teams have reached the final round of every major national debate tournament, is a graduate of Harvard Law School and will serve as one of the panelists.

The other panelists are:

Dr. Barbara O'Connor, chairman of the Department of Communications Studies at California State University, Sacramento. She directs one of the largest speech programs in the nation.

Dr. Donn Parson, director of forensics at the University of Kansas. His team won the national intercollegiate debate championship in April.

Prof. William Soutworth, director of forensics at the University of Redlands in Redlands, Calif. His teams have the most successful record in the Far West.

Prof. Melissa Maxcy Wade, director of forensics at Emory University in Atlanta. She is director of the largest debate tournament in the South.

The debate scorecard uses a point system of evaluating Ford and Carter on each of six aspects of their performance.

In addition, each of the panelists will briefly explain his or her evaluations.

Here is the Associated Press ballot you can use to score tonight's debate between Jimmy Carter and President Ford:

Three escapees caught in Stanton

Three escapees from a Louisiana juvenile detention home, driving a stolen car, and leaving a trail of thefts and burglaries behind them, were collared in Stanton Wednesday.

State highway patrolmen Bill Jennings and David Jones arrested Michael Hugh Butler, 18, Randall Mark Sutton, 19, and a 15-year-old juvenile around 11:30 a.m. Wednesday. All three had been inmates at the Louisiana Training Institute, Scottslandville, La., a juvenile detention center for habitual criminals.

According to Jennings, the three made their getaway from the institute and travelled to nearby Monroe, La. where they stole a 1976 Oldsmobile Cutlass.

From there they set out through Texas, said Jennings, getting fuel by syphoning gas from other cars, or by filling up at gas stations and driving off without paying.

The trooper reported that the escapees dined at a Sambo's Restaurant in Dallas, and ran out on that bill.

Jennings also learned that the escapees were suspected of burglarizing a grocery store in Louisiana. At the time of their arrest the car they had been driving was full of cigarettes and other items thought to have been lifted from the store.

Local law enforcement officers became aware that the three were in the area around 11 a.m. Wednesday. A hitchhiker, William Roy Byrd Jr., Dallas, reported that three young men driving a blue Cutlass had picked him up on IS 20 outside of Big Spring.

Byrd asked the driver of the car to stop so that he could cash a check at the Americana Motel. When Byrd returned, the car was gone, carrying his duffle bag with $200 worth of clothes and toilet articles in it.

Jennings and Jones followed the suspected path of the car, and spotted it in downtown Stanton. When the escapees saw the Troopers, they took off.

The patrolmen followed them through Stanton at 80 to 85 miles-per-hour, according to Jennings. In desperation, the three thugs abandoned the Olds on a golf course, and fled on foot.

With the help of Patrolman Wade Turner, Jennings and Jones were able to catch them. The three are now in the Martin County Jail, awaiting extradition.

Butler faces local charges for speeding and fleeing from a law officer. Bond for all three was set at $10,000 by M. L. Gibson, Martin County justice of the peace.

Ace to address AFA meeting here

Steve Ritchie, formerly a major in the Air Force, and the USAF's only Southeast Asia ace, will speak Friday, Oct. 1 at the quarterly Air Force Association meeting at Webb Air Force Base.

The meeting will be held at the Officer's Club starting at 12 noon with a buffet luncheon at 12:30 p.m.

Ralph Brooks, president of the AFA Chapter, 318, urges a large group to attend the event.

Ritchie, who is now with Coors Company, made aviation history when he knocked down five MIG-21s during his second tour of duty in the Vietnam conflict.

He then became the Air Force's first and only pilot ace since the Korean War and the only American pilot ever to shoot five Soviet MIG-21s.

He has a BS degree from the Air Force Academy and was a starting back on the 1962 and 63 Falcon football team.

He has travelled over 200,000 miles speaking to over 100,000 people as an ambassador for the US Air Force. He is totally committed to the free market and stoutly defends the free enterprise system against those who would swap it for something else.

Cattlemen rejoicing

In Washington, Thursday, Independent Cattlemen's Association's president, T.A. Cunningham and vice president Roy Wheeler, joined Senator Lloyd Bentsen and Congs. Jake Pickle and Omar Burleson in witnessing the results of many months of hard work spent in reforming the present state taxation laws.

Both the Senate and the House agreed to the Conference Report on the Tax Reform Act that included revision of the present estate tax law which is causing the liquidation of many farms, ranches, and small businesses for no other reason than the payment of Federal Estate Tax.

This act will repeal the existing exemption of $60,000 and replace it with a $30,000 credit, which in 1977 is the equivalent of a $120,667 exemption. By the year 1981, a tax credit of $47,000 will phase in providing an exemption equivalence of $175,625. This act will also allow agricultural lands to be valued according to what the land will produce rather than at fair market value.

T.A. Cunningham stated, "The people in agriculture and small business in Texas should pay special thanks to Sen. Bentsen and Cong. Jake Pickle and Omar Burleson, for these men were ever so instrumental in the passage of this much needed legislation.

Viking finds ice at Mars poles

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Viking 2's discovery of frozen water at the north pole of Mars raises the possibility that some form of life may be locked beneath the icy surface, scientists say.

Crofton B. Farmer, an atmospheric scientist at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here, said the discovery announced Wednesday constitutes "another shred of evidence" that conditions on the red planet may once have been suitable for life.

As a result, he said, future searches for traces of Martian life may turn to the planet's north pole.

The discovery by Viking 2's orbiter counters theories that Mars' polar regions are composed mostly of frozen carbon dioxide gas, with only traces of water. Water is generally considered a basic ingredient for the evolution of life.

"I think this shows a much stronger possibility for past life than for present life," said Farmer. "I think future tests will now hold more significance in detailed studies of the polar regions."

Viking 2's orbiter discovered water by using an atmospheric spectrometer to measure the absorption of infrared light by molecules at the planet's north pole, Farmer said.

Tobias Owen, an astronomy professor, said the presence of frozen water at the Martian north pole may mean that organic molecules — the building blocks of life — or actual life forms are frozen in the Martian icecaps "much like on earth where we have dug prehistoric creatures out of the ice."

Farmer said he believes that great quantities of ice were melted by volcanoes erupting sometime in Mars' past, sending rivers cascading across the planet's surface, cutting wide channels.

From there, water probably was absorbed into the Martian soil, Farmer said, where it is now locked in permafrost. Most of the water that dissipated into the air probably condensed at the north pole, while the rest boiled off into space, he speculated.

Farmer said this theory is supported by the discovery by Viking 2's lander of the rare gases krypton and xenon. They indicate that the Martian atmosphere was once dense enough for water to flow on the surface.

"But whether that was 100 million years ago or three billion, there's just no way of telling yet," said Tobias Owen, an astronomy proessor who supervised the rare-gas test. 4

Tremendous talent coming here

A few weeks ago, a reader phoned the Big Spring Herald's Action-reaction column and asked why there were no big name concerts in Big Spring.

THIS PARTICULAR reader was probably talking about rock concerts, and the answer was that perhaps after the new Howard College Coliseum is ready, someone will try to promote some.

But if this reader had been talking about any other kind of concerts, the answer could have been:

Yes, Big Spring has them, and such top names and talent that it would be hard to believe could come to this small West Texas town.

Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall, vice president and membership drive chairman of the Big Spring Concert Assn., came to the Herald to tell me that this reader should be aware of the upcoming concert season here.

It will have names and talent of a variety to please any concert lover, except perhaps the hardest of rock fans.

THE SEASON will open, unbelievably, with the Polish National Radio Orchestra on Oct. 28. This 110-piece orchestra could not be brought to Big Spring except for the cultural endowments between the U.S. and Poland which help underwrite the tour.

AFTER THAT incredible start, the season gets even better. Next come the Four Freshmen on Jan. 31, and they are exceptional performers with a great range of popular music. I have seen them before, and they are terrific.

On Feb. 25, George Morel will bring his classical guitar to Big Spring. Classical guitar makes wonderful listening that I think even a rock musician would find fascinating.

The season ends March 7 with the Ronnie Cole Jazz Trio. There couldn't be more variety.

The non-profit Big Spring Concert Assn. has been here for many years, and President Charles Parham, music minister at First Methodist Church, says that Mrs. Kuykendall has been one of the leaders in keeping it strong. Last year's president was Charles Beil of First Federal Savings and Loan.

CHARLES PARHAM

JEAN KUYKENDALL

CHARLES BEIL

The association has brought names such as the Boston Pops, the Texas Boys Choir, the New Orleans Philharmonic and Fred Waring (three times) to Big Spring — plus it has an agreement with its Midland counterpart which enables Big Spring members to also hear the four concerts each year in Midland.

AND THE PRICE? Unreasonably reasonable. An adult general admission membership good for eight concerts is only $12. A student pays only $5. Reserved seat memberships are $16 and $8. The membership drive begins Sept. 26.

"For those interested in live stage entertainment from jazz to musical comedy to classical," says Parham, "that's the audience we're trying to provide entertainment for."

Fast to adapt

Around the rim

James Werrell

I guess the readers of the Big Spring Herald have heard plenty of stories of northerners who have ventured into the land of West Texas with its sparse ethereal beauty (read that: barren waste) to live.

HAVING BEEN here a little over a year, though, I have become pretty blase about the experience. While my friends and relatives from the north country rubberneck the hundreds of pickups with gun racks ("just like in 'Easy Rider' "), I stare straight ahead.

When they go ga-ga over our fine citizens attired in western hats, boots and pearl-buttoned shirts ("wow, real-live cowboys"), I don't bat an eye.

When my sister-in-law tries to eat a tamale with the shuck on it, I just chuckle and say, "Aw shoot Debby, you act like you never been outta Ver'-mont."

When the skies and the inside of my mouth turn red with dust, I've learned to say, "Well, kinda nasty out. Nothin' like last year, though," instead of, "holy — ! This is amazing ! I've never seen anything like it! Shouldn't we call the police or something?"

While my friends up north are saying, "What's happenin' brother. Give me five," I am (sometimes) saying. "Howdy, looks like we'll have some weather today."

I CAN now drink the water here without gagging, and I love the heat. I am thinking of buying (me) some cowboy boots, and can almost eat fried okra.

I have drunk tequila with a worm in it, and Coors costs much less than a dollar a can (the going price in Boston, according to a brother-in-law).

I now understand when friends say "deal" they are talking about pickles not cards. My friends still make fun of my Italian car, but I am looking around for a '57 "Chibby" Bel-Air.

In the long run it's pretty easy to blend in if you put your back into it. But some smell "Yankee" a mile away. It would probably take 20 or 30 years to pass as a real Texan.

As I said, I am getting pretty blase about the whole thing. But the other day my visiting brother and I were sitting in the middle of a field waiting for some doves to fly in.

THE SUN was about to go down, and we could see for a hundred miles in all directions. There was barely a tree (is a mesquite a tree?) in sight, and cacti, scrub brush and yucca surrounded us.

My brother turned to me and said, "Boy, you know this is really weird. Here we are, two guys from Cincinnati, Ohio, sitting in the middle of West Texas, hunting dove."

I thought a minute and replied, "Boy, you know that really is weird."

Washington leaking

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Last week's House Ethics Committee hearings in which Daniel Schorr was asked to reveal the name of the person who gave him the Pike CIA Report was a big flop. The reason was that Mr. Schorr refused to tell his source and the committee, which had spent $150,000 trying to find the culpable person, was still left in the dark as to how the report got into Mr. Schorr's hands.

A FEW OF the committee members questioned Mr. Schorr's patriotism and others raised constitutional issues of Congress' "right to know." But what wasn't mentioned during the hearings is that trafficking in and passing on of top secret and classified information is an essential part of running the government and one that very few people in Washington would like to see abolished.

This is how the system works.

Every morning when I come to work I find a batch of top secret documents under my door. My secretary goes through them and throws most of them away, considering them "junk secrets" that I wouldn't be interested in. Then she briefs me on the ones that she believes might have some merit.

"Here's a classified document from the Pentagon saying the Soviets have developed a new laser-guided bulldozer that could destroy every mobile home in America."

"Isn't the Pentagon going up on the Hill tomorrow to testify on its new defense budget?" I ask her.

"YES, THEY ARE, and they've been inundating the media with top secret material on Soviet military strength. Everyone in town is on their list."

"I don't know if I should use this or not. I don't want to endanger my country's defenses."

"There was a covering letter with it," she says. "It reads, 'While this information has been classified Top Secret, we would like to remind you that the First Amendment gives you full protection to use it.' "

"They must be pretty desperate to get their budget. What else do you have?"

"I have a classified report from the CIA revealing their covert operations at Disneyland."

"Why would they send us that?" I ask.

"It was subpoenaed by Congress last week and if we print it, the CIA can say, 'You see what happens when we give the House of Representatives secret information.' "

"THEY'RE NOT very subtle," I say. "The CIA is going to have to come up with a better ploy than that if they expect me to play their game."

"I didn't think you'd buy it," she said. "Oh, by the way, we just got a confidential transcript of Henry Kissinger's talks with the King of Morocco."

"I wonder who sent it to us?"

"I don't know," she replies, "but there is a note on the top which says, 'If you use any part of this transcript, I'll tap your telephone. Best to your wife. H.' "

"As these Great Debates begin, both candidates appear to be quite confident . . . ."

Scandal uncovered

Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Government investigators have uncovered a major scandal involving alleged bribery, sexual impropriety and misuse of Federal Energy Administration funds.

THE CASE, which has been simmering for months under a tight lid of secrecy, reads like the plot of a Harold Robbins novel. We have pieced it together from government documents and interviews with sources close to the investigation.

It centers on the FEA's Atlanta regional office and its former director, Kenneth Dupuy, who has already been forced to resign as a result of the probe.

Dupuy and members of his Atlanta staff are now under criminal investigation for allegedly giving extra fuel allocations to gasoline distributors in return for gratuities. All deny criminal wrongdoing.

FEA investigators have established that Dupuy often used the apartment of William Corey, a gasoline and diesel fuel distributor, for trysts with a girl friend. The woman also was carrying on an affair with Corey, investigators found.

At about the same time, Corey's firm, U.S. Transport, Inc., had its gas and diesel fuel allocations substantially raised by the Atlanta office that Dupuy headed. Sources close to the case told our associate Jack Cloherty that some of the allocations were awarded to gas stations and truck stops that existed only on paper.

Dupuy has been in trouble at FEA before. In 1975, FEA administrator Frank Zarb reprimanded him for poor judgment. Dupuy had accepted transportation from an oil company to attend its Florida convention, where he stayed two days at the firm's expense.

Dupuy was also charged at that time with misusing government money. For example, he and his secretary often junketed outside his region, and a number of times he traveled to his Mexia, Tex., ranch, allegedly at government expense. In addition, investigators charged that he stuck Uncle Sam for personal expenses such as cab rides, rental cars and long distance phone calls.

Although he was reprimanded for accepting the convention trip, Dupuy was officially cleared of fiscal abuse charges. But FEA investigators on the case charged it was a white-wash.

The top brass at the agency were afraid to take on Dupuy, sources told us, because they believed he had powerful Republican political connections. Indeed, Sen. Strom Thurmond, R.-S.C., had been pushing Dupuy for the No. 2 job at the agency.

The Dupuy case seemed safely buried until Rep. John Dingell, D.-Mich., the chairman of the House Energy and Power subcommittee, got wind of it.

THE CONGRESSMAN called in FEA chief Frank Zarb and demanded that the probe be exhumed. The revived investigation, our sources say, turned up more allegations of misuse of federal funds. Dupuy, faced with another disciplinary action, decided to resign.

The continuing investigation also unearthed evidence of the Atlanta region's coziness with various oil men. At least three other Atlanta FEA officials accepted gratuities from gas and oil distributors. They included free tickets to sporting events, weekend fishing trips, free trips to oil industry conventions, and innumerable expensive lunches. One Atlanta FEA official even bought a car from an oil man at a substantial savings.

In each case, investigators found, the firms received higher allocations from the Atlanta office.

Dupuy's subordinates in Atlanta told the investigators that their boss encouraged this close relationship with the industry people they were supposed to regulate.

The results of the FEA investigation, Zarb told Cloherty, would probably be turned over to the Justice Department for possible criminal action in the next few weeks.

FOOTNOTE: DUPUY'S lawyer admitted that his client used Corey's apartment, but insisted that no favors were given Corey in return. He said there was "not anything to" bribe allegations. Dupuy was not regional administrator, he claimed, when the higher fuel allocations were awarded Corey. He said that the travel abuse charges against Dupuy were "piddly junk," and that he was cleared of them. Dupuy resigned, he said, because of harassment. Corey declined comment.

HIGHFLYING BANKERS: British and French officials at the World Bank have pushed through a proposal permitting bank employes to fly the controversial Anglo-French supersonic Concorde on trips abroad. The scheme is costing the bank, supported in part with U.S. public funds, thousands of dollars in extra traveling expense.

A Concorde flight to London, for example, costs $450 more than an economy ticket on a regular airline. World Bank employes have taken the Concorde more than 175 times to such faraway places as India and Bahrain.

A bank spokesman told us the Concorde program is only a six-month experiment. But World Bank president Robert McNamara, say our sources, is dubious about the experiment, which has thus far outweighed any savings realized from the faster flights.

Coffee, cigarettes can cause rapid heart

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: For a number of years my heart has had the habit of starting to beat very fast. This has started happening more often of late and my doctor has put me on Lanoxin. Can you explain the cause of the rapid beat? What does Lanoxin do to ease the rapid beat? — Mr. S.H.M.

This sudden, periodic quickening of the heart rate is most often due to nervousness or excessive use of tobacco or coffee. But since your attacks have become more frequent, perhaps some other factor has entered the picture, such as elevated blood pressure or increased thyroid gland activity. Either could exaggerate the effects of other stimulants (like tobacco or coffee).

Lanoxin is a brand of digitalis, which helps stabilize the heart rate. I suggest a complete review of your habits and lifestyle as well as checks on your thyroid condition.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor told me I have a hernia in the lower esophagus, which I understand is in the throat. I have been having some heartburn lately and he says this is why. He does not recommend surgery.

I thought you could feel these hernias, a bulge or something. I can't seem to do this with mine. Where would I be able to feel one? And what is the best treatment? — H.R.

You wouldn't be able to feel a hiatal hernia, which is the common medical name for this. I believe this is what your doctor refers to. The esophagus extends from the throat area to the opening of the stomach. It is at this stomach opening where the hernia (enlargement) occurs, and this is under the chest structure, the ribs chiefly. An X ray will reveal the problem.

Heartburn is one of the classic symptoms, because the weakened muscles allow stomach juices to reflux (back up) into the gullet.

Surgery is the treatment of last resort because there are so many other effective ways of dealing with this kind of hernia — weight reduction, smaller feedings, raising the head of the bed at night and others. It's discussed in detail in my book on hiatal hernia — available to readers for 35 cents, in care of the Big Spring Herald, plus a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. A combination of some of the methods will allow one to live with the problem. Surgery is considered only when these methods fail.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you please settle this matter which has been disturbing me? Can a blow on the breast cause cancer? I have to know. — Mrs. T.H.

Many women worry about this needlessly.

Dr. Philip Straz, an authority on the subject of breast cancer, says in his book, "Early Detection," that there has never been an authenticated case of this leading to breast cancer. He notes, however, that when breast cancer is present, an injury may call attention to it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would poor circulation cause my legs to tire so easily? I can just make it sometimes when shopping. Also lately one leg and ankle has blotches. Years ago I had a stroke, so I walk with a cane and did fine until lately. Also, I get very dizzy at times. I am 74 years old. — Mrs. A.B.

Everything points to poor circulation — the tiredness, the leg blotches, the dizziness.

I suggest a reevaluation of your status. There are medicines that can help improve your circulation and perhaps eliminate some of the problems you have. Leg ulcers that won't heal are a prime symptom of poor circulation. They should be reported.

If the blotches are on a leg left partly immobile from your stroke you should look to exercise of the limb to ease circulation problems in it.

My answer

Billy Graham

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: How can we tell when God does not want to grant us what we pray for? I have prayed and worked for two things for some time without any result. — L.M.

DEAR L.M.: It has often been said, with a great deal of truth, that when God answers prayers He sometimes says "Yes," sometimes says "No" and on occasion says "Not yet." However, it sounds as though you have not had any of those three answers, but rather have shared the experience of the psalmist who cried out to God: "Be not silent to me" (Psalm 28:1). Many Christians sometimes find that they pray to God but do not receive an answer of any kind — there is nothing but silence.

There are certain conditions laid down in the Bible regarding answers to prayers, and if our prayers are being met by silence, it may be because the conditions are not being fulfilled. "Ye ask, and receive not, because ye ask amiss" (James 4:3).

A very important consideration is your motive for asking. The only thing in your mind should be that God's will be done, whatever that will may be. He has a plan for your life and He cannot allow anything to happen that would interfere with that plan.

Armed with this assurance, you should tell God that you realize that He knows what is best for you and that you are perfectly willing to accept His answer whether it be "Yes" or "No." Sometimes we want a particuluar answer so badly that we convince ourselves that God will grant it, but He may be waiting for that complete submission to His will. Take your request to God and leave it with Him, for Him to answer in whatever way He desires.

If you find it hard to adjust your mind to that way of thinking and praying, remember what Paul said: "Be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God" (Romans 12:2).

Appeals court backs decision

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — An appeals court in Sweden has upheld a lower court ruling that a six-year-old Swedish boy was fathered by Jimi Hendrix, the late American rock music star.

The ruling handed down on Tuesday is not binding in the United States.

According to court testimony, Hendrix met Eva Sundqvist, now 32, while touring Sweden in 1967 and saw her again when he returned from Stockholm in 1969.

Mailbag

Dear Editor:

We have received your paper for about 20 years and now we find you must have lost our house. We never get a paper unless we call in and ask that one be bought out. Last month alone we missed seven or eight days and we called in 16 days, three times on Sundays.

Now, Mr. Cox was sort of upset about sports coverage. We did not even get a paper. We sent your bill for the full amount and received the same.

So, hooray, we did get three papers in a row last week. Then Sunday came around again and there was no paper.

Can you do anything about this? I'll look to see if you print this, if we get a paper.

'Everyone' knows Reed

with Marj Carpenter

A. E. (Skeeter) Reed has more friends than most people have acquaintances. When I asked if anybody knew Skeeter, whose father had once owned a store across the highway at Fairview, I got call after call after call.

I WAS thrilled over each call with some coming from Ackerly, some from Stanton and some from Big Spring. Just the fact that I had that many readers was enough to brighten my day, considerably.

Finally, Skeeter himself called because he was beginning to get as many calls as I was. He recalled that his father, W. E. Reed actually was in two different stores at that location.

"It was right out there by the Fairview gin where the road used to turn to go toward Lamesa. We moved up there about Depression time. Dad died in 1949.

"When we first got to that area, we farmed about five or six miles north of Fairview and the drouth got us quick about 1930-31. We went broke in nothing flat.

"We picked cotton and all of that. Then one store burned down out in that area. I think it belonged to Ed Witt. He decided not to build back and we ended up renting the other one.

"Dad was left with us kids to raise. Mother died when I was two. He had a wooden leg too. He had an accident when he was about 14 and then got TB of the bone and lost his leg shortly after he married. He sure never had an easy life."

Skeeter thought about it a moment and added, "But we were happy out there at Fiarview. Would you believe there used to be a skating rink out there? It was a big deal.

"We went to school at Fairview and also at Bisco, up between Fairview and Vealmoore.

"I remember when we moved in that store, it had so many cracks in it, that Dad split up City Service oil cans and tacked them over the cracks. The walls were full of City Service Oil Cans.

"THAT'S THE kind of oil we sold so that's the kind of cans we tacked up. It's kind of ironic. City Service Oil turned into Cosden and I've worked for Cosden 25 years. I guess I just had that City Service Oil grained in me.

"People used to come in that store just to see the oil cans on the wall. We later sold it and it was moved away. Then we moved across to the other side of the road and opened up the store there.

"I remember gas wars where gas would get down to eight cents, that wouldn't even pay the tax now."

Another man called in who remembered the two stores at the location in even earlier years when John Williams ran one and W. A. Langley the other. Langleys still farm in the that area. Williams also has survivors in the Big Spring area including Mrs. Floyd White and the Newton brothers.

The gas war got so fierce that time that gasoline finally went for a nickel a gallon. They wouldn't allow you to get more than your tank would hold. One old-timer recalls that they would fill up the tank, go home and siphon the gasoline into a barrel, then go back and fill up again.

THAT'S THE way it was in the old days. Gas got down to a nickel. The sand would blow. The cotton picking was hard. And the salaries were scant. Oil cans covered the cracks.

Out near Fairview. People out there must have been the hardiest around. Because they have all survived and thrived. That's why I have so many Fairview stories — out when I'm ridin' fence.

Award goes to Burleson

WASHINGTON, D.C. — In a recent ceremony on Capitol Hill, Rep. Omar Burleson, (D.), of the 17th District of Texas received the "Guardian of Small Business" award presented by the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB).

Rep. Burleson qualified for the NFIB "Guardian" award by voting on the side of small business 84 per cent of the time during the 94th Congress.

NFIB president Wilson S. Johnson, in conferring the award on Rep. Burleson noted, "We initiated our NFIB evaluation system to give special recognition to those legislators who support small business and who have the courage to stand up and vote against the pressures of big labor and big business: the small businessman's greatest competitors for the ear of Congress."

Johnson continued, "NFIB polls its 464,000 member firms nationwide every six weeks to determine the membership's opinions on specific issues and establish the organization's legislative position. NFIB regards a 70 per cent or higher rating on key small business issues as worthy of the 'Guardian' award. Too many congressmen go back home claiming to support small business simply because they voted for a Small Business Administration appropriations bill. We feel our membership deserves to know how their representatives voted on each of the issues which are of direct importance to small business."

"I hope our 2,200 NFIB members in the 17th District will take note of Rep. Burleson's voting record and realize they have someone in Washington who is aware of the problems facing small business.

Cystic Fibrosis deadly disease

Of diseases killing children, lung diseases rank second only to cancer. They affect millions of children across the United States and include cystic fibrosis, asthma, chronic bronchitis and bronchietasis.

"Because of the seriousness of these conditions, all parents should be aware of the signs of lung-damaging diseases in children," stressed Mr. Charles M. Laurent, president of the Lone Star Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

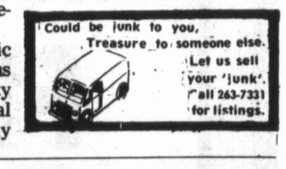

Signs of children's lung-damaging diseases include recurrent wheezing; persistent coughing with excessive mucus; penumonis more than once; excessive appetite with poor weight gain; and clubbing (enlargement of fingertips).

Additional signs for cystic fibrosis, the most serious lung disease, are a salty taste to the skin, nasal polyps and persistent, bulky diarrhea.

Mr. Laurent said that any child with one or more of these signs should be examined by his or her physician or at a Cystic Fibrosis Center specializing in the diagnosis and care of children with lung-damaging diseases.

In Texas, Cystic Fibrosis Centers are located in Houston, Dallas and Antonio. Funds to support these research and care programs are raised through the Foundation's annual "Kiss A Baby Campaign."

More information may be obtained from your local Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's Chapter.

Simplification needed in any new tax law

By OMAR BURLESON, M.C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — The Congress finally enacted a new tax bill this past week. It has been in the making for more than two years. It is called "reform" but it depends on who is defining the term.

A part of reform certainly should be a greatsr simplification of the tax code. Starting with this premise, it is not reform at all but a further complication of our tax laws. It will doubtless be welcome by tax attorneys and accountants. It will take years to have full interpretation and to know the effects. As a matter of fact, the Internal Revenue Service has not yet completed rules and regulations applying to the revision in the tax laws of 1969.

Even the sophisticated Wall-Street Journal gave up last week in efforts to write an editorial on the bill. It finally editorialized to the effect that because of the complexities and technicalities involved, the measure should be rejected. The report accompanying the bill contained 646 pages of explanation but about every section is subject to interpretation and application to the taxpayer.

In legislation of this kind, it becomes a matter of trying to balance the good against the bad. In other words, it is not all of one or the other. In legislation of this sort and, as for that matter in other major legislation, seldom is it found to be a matter of clear choices. The acceptable and the objectionable must be sorted and weighed on its merits. How does it affect people? How does it affect our overall economy and does it bring about fairness insofar as possible? These are the things looked for in reaching a decision.

For instance, the estate and gift tax section is an improvement on the present law which has not been updated since 1942. Under present law, there is a $60,000 exemption on the estate of a deceased. This is brought up to $120,000 and increased to $175,000 in five years. The surviving spouse will be allowed $250,000 or one-half of the estate tax free, whichever is greater. Other benefits are provided.

An objectionable feature is what is called an appreciation tax thought, in fact, it is a capital gains tax imposed on the heirs to the estate when they sell the property. The value on which the appreciation is based is set on next January 1.

This is a feature never included in our tax code but the concept has been around for many years. It amounts to the heirs paying a tax on property on which a tax has already been paid.

Another highly objectionable feature is another attack on intangible drilling costs. The supporters of this provision call it closing a "loophole."

Former coach sues board at Stanton

STANTON — Former Stanton High School coach and classroom teacher, Harold G. (Bill) Sears has filed a civil action suit against the Stanton Independent School District and several board members and administrators.

The suit, filed in District court in Midland is styled Harold G. Sears vs. Stanton Independent School District, Billy Mims, J. N. Woody Jr., James Richard Doggett, Gerald Hanson, Tommy R. Newman, Delbert W. Dickenson, Russell McMeans and Lloyd Wayne Mitchell, Jr.

The suit asks for a declaratory judgment claiming his civil rights have been violated as secured by the First and Fourteenth Amendments. It also asks for a preliminary injunction ordering the plaintiff be reinstated immediately to his position as teacher and coach in the defendant district with all benefits attendant thereto.

The lawsuit also requests a permanent injunction reinstating him to his position and enjoining the defendant from harassing or intimidating the plaintiff because of his exercise of constitutionally protected activities.

It further requests $30,000 in compensatory damages and an order afforing the plaintiff all back salary with six per cent interest. It also requests attorneys fees and court costs.

He was hired as head basketball coach, a teacher and assistant football coach for the 1975-76 school year. The suit maintains that in September and October of 1975, he sustained an injury or injuries which resulted in hospitalization and surgery.

The suit turtner maintains that "while seeking medical attention and while in the hospital and thereafter at a time unknown to plaintiff, defendant SISD, alledged that plaintiff had resigned as a coach, and shortly thereafter, and over his written protest, the school board later rescinded his contract as a teacher." The lawsuit also claims he was denied a hearing.

San Angelo sued for $1.8 million

SAN ANGELO — A $1.8 million damage suit has been filed in U.S. District Court here against the City of San Angelo by Ervey Dominguez, who maintains he lost out in competition for a garbage collection permit at Lake Nasworthy.

Dominguez was one of two men who applied for a city permit to collect garbage at the lake. Dominguez says he has been collecting garbage on an individual basis at the lake since 1971 under an agreement with the city.

Dominguez maintains he was not notified when the city cancelled his permit and decided to solicit bids.

Wycliffe meet set

A Wycliffe Associates dinner meeting will be held at Howard College Tuesday, Oct. 5, at 7:00 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting is to encourage interest in and support for Wycliffe Bible translators.

Wycliffe, an interdenominational mission of over 3,300 members, specializes in Bible translation among tribal groups who speak unwritten languages. Wycliffe is now working in over 600 languages in 26 countries.

Wycliffe translation teams live among the tribespeople, learn their languages, develop alphabets, and teach reading and writing. Their goal is to translate the New Testament into all unwritten tongues. Upgrading health and agriculture and teaching simple industries are also part of the translators' outreach.

The Wycliffe Associates program will feature an excellent multimedia presentation of the work of Wycliffe and a missionary speaker who will describe his own experiences in helping to make God's word available to people who speak unwritten languages.

The dinner is complimentary, but reservations are necessary. One should call Mrs. Ted Phillips, 263-2782 by Oct. 1.

Local auto accidents down by two per cent

By JAMES WERRELL

The number of local auto accidents has decreased two per cent from last year's total at this time.

Recent statistics tallied by the city show a total of 1,023 auto accidents through August, as compared with 1,049 for this period in 1975. March and July ranked as this year's worst months for collisions with 140 each, though no month registered less than 100 wrecks in the city.

"Part of the decrease may be due to STEP (Selective Traffic Enforcement Program) which was started here in July of 1975," said Susan Thomas, city traffic engineer. "Officers concentrate on what people violate most. Here the most common violation is speeding. It used to be running traffic signals," she added.

Though speeding is the most common traffic offense, resulting in more tickets for local citizens, violations of ignoring traffic signals doubled over the month of July.

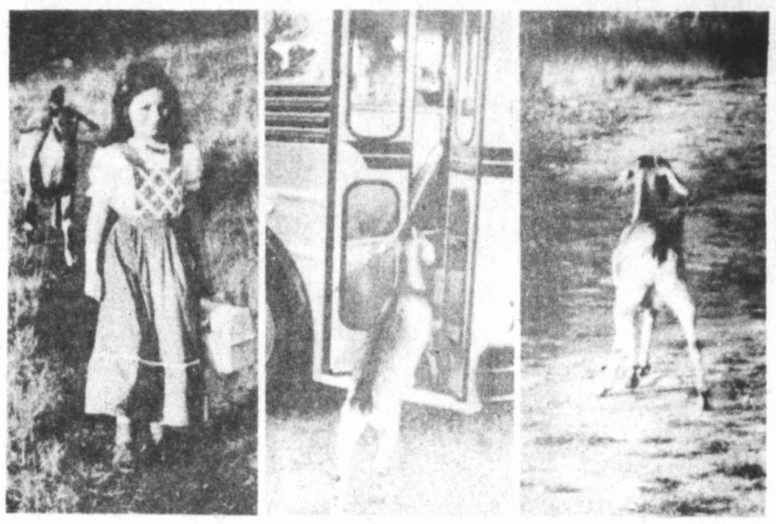

"We will be watching this situation more closely in the near future," said Thomas.

There is a direct correlation between violations and the number of accidents, according to Thomas. More speeders being pulled over may account for part of the decrease in collisions, she says.

The history of traffic accidents in Big Spring for the last five years is an interesting one. In 1971 the total was only 1,196 for the year. This jumped to 1,316 in 1972, and 1,429 in 1973.

Then in 1974, possibly with the advent of the fuel crisis and less driving, the total dropped to 1,392. But the drop was short-lived. In 1975 the total rose to an all-time high of 1,636.

Unfortunately, traffic accidents resulting in injuries are on the increase. The figures for this year through August are up 26 per cent over last year at this time.

KID WANTS TO BE A SCHOOL KID — Mary may have had a little lamb, but first grader Niki Gilbert of Port Angeles, Wash., has a goat named Willow that follows her to school — or at least to the bus stop. Willow regularly follows Niki down the path from her rural home and waits with her for the school bus. Willow finds the path back home and waits for Niki's return.

600 new members goal of club

Membership enlistment and involvement are keynotes of the year for Russell DeVore, governor of Lions District 2A-1. He laid out his challenges and goals Wednesday noon in his official visit to the Big Spring Downtown Club.

Invitations to membership, he said, let men know they are needed and give them an outlet for service in their communities. DeVore also put emphasis on membership retention through involvement. Failure to put men to work results in frightful attrition among new members, he said.

Goal for the district is 4,000 at the end of the club year, which means 600 new members are needed. Extension workers are aiming at eight new clubs (one already has been chartered).

DeVore also urged Lions to put renewed priority on display of the Lions International emblem to let people know that Lions practice charity and promote welfare of the public good. He also urged all-out support of Ebb Grandstaff, Ballinger, in his candidacy for third vice president of Lions international.

. Record attendance has marked the first two district gatherings, he reported. Other dates pegged were the cabinet meeting Oct. 9-10 at Buchanan Dam; mid-winter conference in Colorado City Jan. 29-30 and the district convention in San Angelo April 22-23-24.

Youngsters read to rock and roll

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It won't be Dick and Jane helping youngsters learn to read in some classrooms this fall, but rock 'n' rollers like Fleetwood Mac, Paul Simon and the Doobie Brothers.

The pounding reverberations will be used to teach the basics of reading. Taking the place of traditional primers will be the hip lyrics of contemporary pop music performers, from Simon to Harry Chapin to The Four Tops.

A program called HITS — High Interest Teaching Systems — is bringing the Top 40 into the classroom in the hope of motivating students whose reading skills are structurally weak.

"It works great, it's a really nice approach," said Natalie Lucas, a special education instructor at Tustin High School in Orange County. "I think it works so well because the kids love it."

Compared with the traditional ways of learning the fundamentals of reading, it is little wonder the kids love HITS.

Instead of sitting in a circle, awaiting their turns to read aloud, HITS students make themselves comfortable, plug in their earphones and listen to a half-hour of their favorite music.

At the beginning of each tape, a disc jockey introduces a song and instructs the students to follow along in their workbooks. They hear words already familiar to them, and see the words printed in their workbooks.

As the students hear the words of their favorite songs, they learn how the words are put together, said James Coffey, director of the HITS program.

"Using the words of the songs, students learn word analysis, consonants and spelling patterns," Coffey said. "On the upper level, they can build up their comprehension skills."

WAC's may soon be only history

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Women's Army Corps, for 34 years the only Army that female soldiers have known, may soon be history.

The House of Representatives, after hearing a committee report that called the separate distinction for more than 40,000 WACs "a vestige of the time when women were not treated equally," voted overwhelmingly Monday to do away with the special women's corps and to integrate fully women into the Army.

The bill, which also eliminates sex distinctions in the promotions of officers and other military policies, passed by a 343 to 4 vote. It now goes to the Senate.

"The Army has arrived," said Air Force Lt. Col. Lucille Dion, acting executive secretary of the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Armed Services, in reporting that the Pentagon backs the legislation.

"This would be another step forward for women in the armed services," Lt. Col. Dion said. "It's a logical step."

Created by Congress in 1942 as the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps, the small band of women had to wait until later to be rid of the "auxiliary" tag.

Newcomer's work on cats

The Newcomers Handicraft Club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. John De La Rosa, 3200 Auburn.

Members and guests worked on plaster of paris cats covered in scraps of calico. A short business meeting followed the demonstration. Refreshments were served by Mrs. De La Rosa.

Mrs. Edward Gormley was welcomed as a guest, and Mrs. Howard Johnson was welcomed as a new member.

For their meeting, members will meet for lunch at Furr's cafeteria on Oct. 6. Guests are welcomed. Interested newcomers should contact Mrs. Larry Simmons, 3-3982, or Mrs. Fidel Perez, 3-6429.

Cosden vet talks safety

Safety consciousness should be a constant attitude, whether one is on the job, at home, or driving. This philosophy was advanced by Jimmie R. Wood, safety supervisor for Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, when speaking to the Desk & Derrick Club, September 20 in the Petroleum Building lobby.

Restricting his presentation to a discussion about testing and monitoring equipment such as that used in a refinery, Wood demonstrated to the group a few of these sophisticated electronic tools. Among them was an explosimeter. This instrument detects flammable vapors in the atmosphere, gauging them along with the percentage of oxygen present. Wood also displayed a monitoring device which is utilized to monitor for hydrogen sulfide. Devices for measuring noise levels also interested the group.

In a question-and-answer session, Wood highlighted some of the daily demands made of safety personnel. Inspections prior to entering any vessel, clearances required before welding is done, training programs, and the continuous promotion of safety awarness were discussed.

Wood, who is a 17-year Cosden veteran, entered the safety department in 1970, becoming safety supervisor in 1974. He is a member of the American Society of Safety Engineers, represents the company in the Texas-Oklahoma Fire & Safety Group of National Petroleum Refiners Association, and teaches a class in industrial safety and health in the evening program at Howard College.

Helen Hurt introduced the speaker and his wife following the welcome by Mrs. W.E. Barnett. Mrs. John Rains announced Mrs. W.H. Kay as attendance awardee. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stan Ballou.

Foster parents elect officers

Howard County Foster Parents Association had their monthly meeting Tuesday, Sept. 21.

Elections for the 76-77 year were held. They are president, Mrs. Donna Van Ness; vice president, Tim Winn; secretary, Mrs. Cindy Overton; treasurer, Mrs. Debbie Prestin.

Board of directors will be Mr. Boyde Roper, Mr. James Van Ness and Mr. Robert Pinner.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Dolly Wilkins, counselor in the Big Spring Elementary school system. She spoke on the ABC's of guiding the child by Rudolph Dreikurs, M.D.

Her talk opened many areas of thought in caring for a foster child or for one's own children.

Civic, art club meets

The A.B. Dement Civic and Art Club met in the home of Mrs. Ula Walker with the president of the organization presiding.

The purpose of the meeting was to elect officers for the coming year. Lillian Reed, current president, announced her resignation due to her health but said that she would remain in office until a new officer is chosen.

New officers will be announced at the next meeting to be held September 28 in the home of Mrs. Mae Turnipseed. The hostess of the Saturday meeting served a delicious menu, said members. The meeting closed with the club motto.

Refuses to be son's laundry service

DEAR ABBY: Our son, Jimmy, a junior in college, has just informed his father and me that he is moving out of the house to live on campus, just 30 minutes from here. He plans to share an apartment with another college student.

We can't understand why he wants to move. He has a lovely big room here, with all the privacy in the world, and it's free. He says he wants "total independence."

Jimmy has always worked and saved his money so we know he can handle it financially. He's a good boy, makes good grades and has never given us any trouble.

He says after he moves, he hopes he'll be welcome to come home for dinner maybe once a week. We assured him he'd be welcome for dinner anytime. Then he asked if he could bring his dirty laundry home for me to do. I said, "No, not as long as you're living somewhere else."

Was I wrong? My husband agrees with me, but my sister doesn't.

BUFFALO MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I'm with you. A totally independent person shouldn't rely on his mother for laundry service.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I plan to adopt a baby without friends and relatives knowing it was adopted. We feel that we would be shielding the child from the many embarrassing questions and remarks to which most adopted children are subjected. We plan to announce my "pregnancy" three or four months before we actually bring the child into our home.

Could you please tell us where we could buy some "padding" that actresses wear to make them look like they are carrying a child? Thank you.

FUTURE MOTHER

DEAR FUTURE: Frederick's of Hollywood has foam rubber fannies that look (and feel) like the real thing. Maybe they could come up with a foam rubber tummy.

DEAR ABBY: Where did the custom of kissing a lady's hand originate? And what is the purpose of it?

MADE A BET

DEAR MADE: It originated in France. And I suppose it's as good a place to start as any.

DEAR ABBY: Here is a suggestion for parents to help safeguard their daughters during their courting days. First, make a rule that your daughter cannot go out with a young man unless he comes to the house so you can meet him first.

When he shows up, the mother should entertain him while the father goes outside and takes down his license number and a good description of his car. Color, model, etc. During the evening, if the daughter has any trouble with him, she could say, "My father took down your license number and will call the police if I am not home at the time they specified." This is foolproof protection for any girl.

THINKING AHEAD

DEAR THINKING: And what happens if a creep with evil intentions shows up in a taxi?

DEAR ABBY: We would like to have your advice on this problem. Our friends and two lawyers say that we are wrong in trying to control the disposition of our estate after we are deceased.

We want to put our money (approximately $100,000) into a trust fund or something similar for each other so that we can't get the principal, only the interest. Thus, we would be protected in our old age if we should become incapable of managing our affairs. When we both die, our two children will be able to get the interest, but not the principal—which they don't need because they have a good income now.

When we die, they will get the interest from it for the rest of their lifetime. Then, when they pass on, the principal will either be divided up among their children (our grandchildren) or left there for the interest, whichever way our children decide is best.

Do you think that we are wrong in wanting to do this? Or, what would your advice be? Thank you.

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: It's your money, not your lawyers' or friends'—so I advise you to plan for the disposition of your estate in a manner that will please YOU.

Dean Oliver beating youth at own game

DENVER, Colo. — Dean Oliver beat the kids at their own game — again!

The eight-time world champion calf roper from Boise, Ida., at age 46, emerged first in the average payoff in calf roping over the weekend at the Pendleton Roundup in Oregon, winning over men half his age for $1,917 in prize money. The win moved Oliver to sixth in the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association calf roping standings this season with $20,021.

Oliver, who also won three all around titles, won his first calf roping crown in 1955; he still wins at a sport in which most men his age are content to sit on the fence and watch. Although he doesn't compete as often as he once did, his winning average is one of the highest in rodeo.

At Pendleton he cinched the average win with the fastest time of the contest — 10.1 seconds — in the final go-round. His total time on three calves was 41.2 seconds.

Nearly 50,000 spectators viewed the rodeo, which ran Sept. 15-18, paying winners nearly $57,000. Other first-place winners included Doug Vold of Avondale, [illegible] $1,499 in saddle bronc; Russel McCall of Redmond, Ore., $1,217 in bareback riding; Doug Brown of Silverton, Ore., $1,991 in bull riding; Pat Nogle of Grass Valley, Ore., $2,191 in steer wrestling; Walt Arnold of Silverton, Texas, $2,854 in steer roping.

The West Texas Fair rodeo in Abilene ran concurrently to Pedleton, paying winners nearly $22,000.

First-place winners there included Sandy kirby of Greenville, Texas, $756 in bareback; Darryl Jones of Lubbock, Texas, $746 in saddle bronc; Don Gay of Mesquite, Texas, $1,044 in bull riding; Roy Cooper of Monument, N.M., $1,756 in calf roping; Del McKenzie of Austin, Texas, $529 in steer wrestling; Ray Lapan of Riverside, Calif., and Bucky Bradford of Sylmar, Calif., $629 each in team roping.

Division Standings:

ALL AROUND CHAMPION — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $74,917.
SADDLE BRONC RIDING — Monty Henson, Mesquite, Tex., $28,190.
BAREBACK BRONC RIDING — Joe Alexander, Cora, Wyo., $40,383.
BULL RIDING — Don Gay, Mesquite, Tex., $30,424.
CALF ROPING — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $29,266.
STEER WRESTLING — Tom Ferguson, Miami, Okla., $42,289.
TEAM ROPING — Leo Camarillo, Oakdale, Ca., $24,931.
GRA BARREL RACING — Jimmie Gibbs, Valley Mills, Tex., $18,451.

Students back

SPRINGLAKE — Ten students expelled for "insubordination" at Springlake-Earth High School were reinstated Monday.

High school principal Bob May expelled the students, all, boys, for three days for alleged defiance of a school board policy on hair length. May had ordered the students to leave school and get haircuts. When they reportedly refused to comply, he expelled them.

The expulsion occurred Wednesday, Sept. 15. The school practice is for May to make checks on male students hair lengths each Wednesday morning.

May said that the regular hair length checks were not made Wednesday because students were having school pictures taken. The checks were to be made today.

Wright attends TPA seminar

Bruce Wright, R.Ph., of Big Spring attended a continuing education seminar concerning "The Pharmacist and Antibiotic Therapy." The seminar was held Sunday, Sept. 19, in Amarillo and was sponsored by the Texas Pharmaceutical Association. Pharmacists received current information about recent developments in antibiotic therapy.

Other lecture topics included proper physician and patient counseling about the safe and effective use of antibiotic drugs.

Wright earned five hours of continuing education credit for participating in the seminar.

MEDIHC placements are high in state

A husband and wife working as technicians in the operating and emergency rooms of a Nacogdoches hospital; the nurse who provides care for women at the Harris County jail; a medical photographer in Houston's world-famous Texas Medical Center are just a few of the 2,648 Texans who are applying their military experience to a variety of civilian health careers throughout Texas.

These men and women found their civilian niches through job counseling offered free by Texas Project MEDIHC, one component of a nationwide program called Operation MEDIHC (Military Experience Directed Into Health Careers).

Harvey and Heidi Holder both were emergency technicians in the Army. Upon discharge, they went through Texas Project MEDIHC to find their jobs in Nacogdoches. Louis Ulsh followed her four-year tour in the Navy with nursing school; then MEDIHC helped her locate the position with Harris County.

Being listed in MEDIHC's Health Manpower Roster provided the break for Charles Norman when he left the Navy after five years as a medic and medical illustrator. Now he does medical photography for several Houston opthalmologists.

Texas Project MEDIHC, which was the pilot venture six years ago for the entire nationwide Federal-Stae cooperative program, is a joint effort of The University of Texas Health Science Center's School of Public Health; the Department of Defense; and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The Project provides free counseling to both military personnel about to leave the service and to veterans at any time after discharge. Counseling includes both job placement and information about further training in health careers.

Texas ranks second among all states in MEDIHC placements. Some 70 per cent of all applicants have entered the civilian health field in either jobs or educational programs.

MEDIHC counselors, located in Houston, San Antonio and El Paso, work constantly to bring employers and MEDIHC applicants together. For example, the Health Manpower Roster, published every month, is mailed to more than 1,500 health care employers in Texas.

It lists veterans with health-related skills in such diverse fields as administration, biomedical engineering and instrumentation, dental assisting, nursing, office and clerical services, plant operation, supply and warehousing, photography, etc.

Interested employers, military personnel, or veterans can contact one of the area offices: Houston (713) 792-4461; El Paso (915) 568-5523; and San Antonio (512) 221-4233.

Mo-Pac refused track inspection by Amtrak

DALLAS (AP) — The Missouri Pacific Railroad, on whose tracks an Amtrak derailment occurred Monday, has refused to allow Federal Railroad Administration (FRA) vehicles to inspect its tracks in the past year.

A Missouris Pacific spokesman in St. Louis said the derailment "bears no relation whatsoever to the refusal to let their inspection cars on our tracks."

He said, "It is well known that Missouri Pacific has among the best maintained tracks in the United States. The argument with the FRA is over whether they will pay for the operation of their cars, so we can protect them against liability, or whether they will pay for liability insurance."

An FRA spokesman said the dispute over liability nevertheless has prevented any FRA inspection of Mo-Pac tracks.

The FRA has sued the Missouri Pacific in St. Louis to get the right to inspect that railroad's tracks. The suit is now on appeal by the railroad since a district court ruled in favor of the FRA.

The Amtrak derailment occurred a mile west of Hawkins, in Wood County, Monday, injuring eight persons seriously enough to require hospital treatment.

A team of investigators is exploring the cause of the derailment.

The lead cars in the train did not leave the tracks, but the four rear passenger cars derailed, slid down a 20-foot embankment and overturned.

The train's engineer told investigators Monday that the tracks appeared to buckle a few seconds before the engine went over them.

An FRA spokesman said the inspection cars can detect any fractures in tracks or other safety problems. If any are found, the FRA would issue violations to the rairoad, which would have to repair the deficiencies or run trains at a lower speed on the tracks.

'77 cars get better mileage

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency says the new 1977 model cars are getting better mileage per gallon of gasoline and that 11 of 13 auto makers already meet a 1978 mileage requirement.

The EPA said Wednesday that 1977 model cars will yield 6 per cent better gasoline mileage than 1976 cars and 34 per cent better mileage than 1974 models.

The agency, which said foreign cars are leading the way, found that 1977 model cars tested in its laboratory averaged a theoretical 18.6 miles per gallon of gas, or one mile per gallon better than the 1976 models tested a year ago.

The figure exceeds the 18.0 miles per gallon federal fuel economy standard which will go into effect with 1978 model cars. There was no federal requirement for 1977 models.

Only Ford's and Chrysler's 1977 models did not meet the 1978 standard, the EPA said. The other 11 automobile manufacturers equalled or bettered it, and seven manufacturers, all foreign makers, met the 1980 standard of 20.0 miles per gallon. They are BMW, Nissan-Datsun, Toyo Kogyo-Mazda, Toyota, Volkswagen, Audi and Fuji-Subaru.

The improved mileage is the result of better engines, new engine combinations and changes in the average weight of cars, the EPA said. Slightly more than half the improvements resulted from better engines and new engine combinations, the agency said.

Here are the top performers:

—The diesel-powered Volkswagen Rabbit with an aerage 44 miles per gallon. The 90-cubic-inch Rabbit diesel averaged 39 miles on its simulated city driving and 52 miles on the simulated highway cycle.

—A four-cylinder Toyota Corolla with a 71-cubic-inch engine averaged 41 miles per gallon.

—The Volkswagen Dasher diesel, 40 miles per gallon.

(The Rabbit and the Dasher diesel models will not be available in this country until next summer.)

—The Mazda 808 with a 78 cubic inch engine, 38 miles per gallon.

—The top American finisher, the Chevrolet Chevette with a 98-cubic-inch engine, finished fifth with 36 miles per gallon.

All of the top finishers had manual transmissions. The top finisher with an automatic transmission was the Chevrolet Chevette, which averaged 30 miles per gallon.

The biggest over-all improvement by a manufacturer came from Mazda, which improved the mileage of its line by an average 19.2 per cent. The EPA said 11.4 per cent of that improvement came from changes in vehicle weight an in the mixture of models being offered for sale, and the remainder came from changes in the engine and in new engine combinations.

General Motors also made a large improvement overall, EPA said, increasing its average by 10.4 per cent. The agency estimated that 6.4 per cent of GM's improvement came by reducing vehicle weight and the mixture of cars being sold.

American Motors posted a 4.8 per cent improvement and Chrysler's average went up by 0.5 per cent. Ford's dipped by 1.4 per cent.

Carbon black plant closes

SEAGRAVES — The City Services Company carbon black operation, located between Seagraves and Seminole, is being closed, effective at noon today.

Carbon black is used in the manufacture of plastics, leather, insulation and cosmetics.

About 40 employes will be affected by the shuttering of the plant.

The decision was made to close the operation, company officials said, to avoid further civil penalties following a judgment entered Sept. 21 for Gaines County. The decree bars the company from violating the Texas Clean Air Act, legislation which prohibits release of particulate matter and visible emissions in excess of specified levels.

Vietnamese mother, 'orphan' reunited

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — A Vietnamese mother who left her seven children in an orphanage while the Communists advanced on Saigon says "I am so happy I don't know what word you can use" over a court decision returning one child to her.

"I am exciting and nervy," said Doan Thi Hoang Anh, 33, in a telephone interview Wednesday from Great Falls, Mont., where she lives with four of her children.

"It's like losing a son. We were hoping for a miracle," was the reaction of John Nelson, 33, the 6-year-old boy's foster father for the last 18 months. "We're happy we've had a year and a half with Ben."

Iowa Supreme Court Chief Justice C. Edwin Moore wrote in the unanimous decision that "the Nelsons have rendered exceptional service in his (Ben's) behalf. Under this record, someone must be hurt."

Ben, whose real name is Doan Van Binh, is one of seven brothers and sisters who escaped capture in the final days of the Saigon regime. Their mother left them in a Friends of Vietnam Children orphanage with a request to get them out of the country, according to court records.

Their father had just been killed, and the court noted, "It was only after an incredible ordeal Anh and the children were to escape the same fate."

Miss Anh, as she is known in Great Falls, fled Vietnam and entered the United States as a refugee on Aug. 5, 1975.

She said she never gave the orphanage permission to have her children adopted. When they arrived in the United States, she traced them through the Denver office of the orphanage sponsors.

The Nelsons contended that Anh had abandoned her children and that Binh's best interests would be served by his being left with them.

But the court said Anh was "a woman of extraordinary courage, perseverance and full compassion for her child."

The court also said there was evidence the Nelsons had caused Binh to avoid contact with another Vietnamese family in Forest City, where they live, "... in effect causing him to reject his cultural and racial roots."

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1976

SECTION B SECTION B

THROUGH the fieldglasses

By Darin Reagan

Let me make this perfectly clear. I am not making excuses for the Steers' defeat at the hands of Snyder, nor am I blaming the officials. Heaven forbid I should sound like Darrell Royal.

But Tuesday night at the Quarterback Club meeting, about 80 people, including myself and expert-spotter-wife saw a game film that was unbelievably full of officiating errors.

Eight major blunders stood out like ugly on striped apes. They were:

1) An illegal procedure on a Snyder punt. There were only six men on the line, when the rule states that there has to be at least seven men.

2) On another Snyder punt, everyone but the cheerleaders had their backfield in motion. As the punt was snapped there were at least three Tigers who were standing up, looking around and moving about.

3) And on another punting play, there was a blatant clipping call that was completely ignored by an official not five feet away from the action.

4) An illegal crack-back block was not called, and again, the official was right there.

5) A late hit call on a pass play was also ignored.

6) And on another pass, a defender hit the receiver after the ball was dead, and the action was over.

7) Another clip went un-noticed.

8) And perhaps the most blatant and unbelievable error was the interference against Del Poss on the goal line at the end of the game. The pass was perfect, and Poss was ready to catch the ball, and all the defender could do was lower his head and hit Poss before the ball arrived.

Again, this is not to make excuses for the Steers. They should have won the game without any of those penalties helping them. They know why they lost. They just didn't play to win.

But the point here is this. An adequate officiating team would not have missed or ignored half of those infractions. I guess that only means one thing.

Robbins can be thankful for small favors. There is bad news from the Steer camp today. First the bad news . . . 12-15 players are out with the flu, including a few coaches. Now the good news . . . the Steers don't play a game this week.

The theory is that there is some "bug" going around and hopefully will have gone elsewhere by the time the Steers are playing Abilene High next Friday in Memorial Stadium.

Signs are uncertain. Longhorn fullback Mike Abreo has been out for more than a week with a case of the flu.

★★★

Speaking of the Abilene game, the Steers will probably be wearing their new black jerseys by that time . . . maybe. They were ordered back in May to be delivered by August. Yeah, well good luck.

By the way, Steer scouts indicate that Abilene will be the fastest team that the locals will see all year. To beat the Eagles, the Bovines must keep the ball more of the time on offense, and must contain the outside game, as the AHS'ers are capable of breaking the long on at any time from around end.

★★★

Even though the varsity is idle this week, there is ample football action in Big Spring tonight.

The ninth graders, the Toros and Brahmas, will be squaring off against the Coahoma JV's in Bulldog Stadium at 7:30, while the remaining 9th-grade gridders will be holding the fort against the Snyder team at 7:30 in Memorial Stadium.

Goliad Jr. High, whose 7th graders are unscored upon, only has one game tonight.

The defensive-minded 7th graders are idle, and the 8th grade team plays Sweetwater at 5:30 on Blankenship Field.

The Runnels Jr. High teams both see action tonight in Coahoma, as the 7th and 8th grade teams battle at 4 and 5:30 p.m., respectively.

★★★

A few minutes before Super Bowl X, Dallas Cowboy president Tex Schramm entered the team's dressing room and presented an envelope to wide receiver Drew Pearson.

It was from the original Drew Pearson's secretary. She had written that the original Pearson would have been proud of the Cowboy with his namesake and the manner in which he had progressed.

She also sent Cowboy Pearson a St. Christopher medal that was the late Pearson's and that had his name engraved upon it. That Pearson used to wear it whenever he traveled. The present day Pearson now wears it everywhere he goes.

When the Cowboy Drew Pearson was born in 1951, his father named him after the late Washington-based investigative reporter whose syndicated column, "Washington Merry-Go-Round", appeared in newspapers throughout the country.

★★★

Quote for the day: "I'm for the upperdog. I was for the underdog because I was one. Now I see the pressures that are on the upperdog.

"The average fan cannot appreciate the pressure and emotional peak you must reach each week to keep from getting knocked off your perch at the top." — Bart Starr

(Editor's Note: This was obviously said long ago.)

Laugh it up

Aggies and Cougars

By the Associated Press

There's never been any love lost between the Texas Aggies and the Houston Cougars. This lack of affection for each other will be on prominent display Saturday night in Rice Stadium.

"I know Houston will be very emotional about the game, and I think Texas A&M will be too," Bellard said.

There are several underlying reasons for bitterness in this important Southwest Conference football clash expected to draw some 70,000 fans for the 7:30 p.m. kickoff.

The Aggies and Houston met in some grim struggles when the Cougars were an independent. A&M owns a slender 6-5-3 edge.

Aggie students in the 1950s took particular delight in calling Houston "Cougar High" as the school struggled for a place in the collegiate football world. A&M could always count on a heated welcome in Houston and "Poor Aggie" chants if things went the Cougars' way.

Add to this maelstrom Houston Coach Bill Yeoman's perpetual miff over losing defensive coordinator Melvin Robertson to Aggie Coach Emory Bellard and you have the makings for a donnybrook.

Houston and Southern Methodist are tied atop the SWC standings with 1-0 records but both took fearful whippings last week from Florida and Alabama, respectively.

The Aggies are 14-point favorites over the Cougars, who must stop 250-pound fullback George Woodard.

Woodard gained 177 yards last week against Kansas State.

The game also will feature the starting debut of freshmen running backs David Brothers and Curtis Dickey of the Aggies.

There'll be some heat on the field at Texas Stadium where North Texas State, a fledgling independent, takes on SMU.

NTSU is an eight-point choice to knock over SMU which fired Eagle Coach Hayden Fry in 1972. Ironically, Fry scheduled the game while he was athletic director at SMU.

Fry also scheduled the NTSU-SMU game in 1974, won 7-6 by SMU.

Arkansas faces something of a jinx going into the Tulsa game in which the Razorbacks are 17-point picks. Arkansas has not won its first two games of a season since 1971.

Of course, Arkansas has done that this year. But what happened in 1971? Tulsa shocked the Porkers 21-20 in Fayetteville. Arkansas is currently riding an eight-game winning streak.

'Monumental moment'

U.S. boxing tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — You knew this was going to be a big announcement when Howard Cosell walked into the room.

But then, promoter Don King deals only in big announcements.

King summoned Cosell and a few other friends and associates, including his bankers, for a less-than-intimate brunch at the posh 21 Club Wednesday to announce his latest creation, the United States Boxing Tournament of Champions.

He used old films of some of the classic fights of the 1940s and 50s involving boxing greats like Jake LaMotta, Tony Zale, Sugar Ray Robinson, Marcel Cerdan and others to recall the sport's glory days. Then he explained his plan for resurrecting that glory.

Throwing adjectives as if they were jabs and multi-syllable words around like uppercuts, King described his plans for the tournament to crown American champions in every weight classification.

"This is a monumental moment for boxing," he said. "This tournament will revitalize boxing. It will contribute something meaningful and constructive to (the country's) prosperity and longevity."

The tournament, which begins in January, will be televised by ABC, which explains Cosell's interest. The purses will total over $1 million, which explains the bankers' interest.

"They will prevent any 'trickeration' with the money," explained King.

The matchups of eight fighters in each weight division for the single elimination tournament will be arranged according to ratings devised by Ring Magazine. And the whole affair will be under the general direction of James A. Farley, Jr., president of the New York State Athletic Commission.

King, who described everyone involved in the venture as having "impeccable integrity," said the tournament would restore enthusiasm for boxing's lighter weight divisions. "Most Americans do not even know the champions of the lighter weight classes," said King. "That's because all the reigning champions reside outside of the United States."

The tournament would produce winners in each of eight classes ranging from featherweights to heavyweights. By winning their divisions in King's tournament, they would be recognized as American champions and challenge for the world titles.

Only one division is currently ruled by an American. That, of course, is the heavyweight class where champion Muhammad Ali defends his crown next Tuesday nigh at Yankee Stadium against challenger Ken Norton.

King, who promoted so many of Ali's fights, is out of the picture for the Norton bout. But the champion did endorse King's latest venture.

"I'm waiting to fight the winner," Ali said when he heard about the tournament. "Whoever he is, I will fight the winner!"

Oakland air raid in Houston, Tex.

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Oiler defense, after de-fanging the monster Buffalo running game last week, will try to defuse the Oakland Raider aerial bombardment Sunday in the Astrodome in a National Football League matchup of unbeaten teams.

The Oilers, 2-0, will go into the game armed with the American Football Conference's No. 1 defense against the rush and pass and they may need it against the pass-minded Raiders, who lead the AFC in passing.

"We stopped O.J. (Simpson of Buffalo) and that was the key to our victory," Oiler Coach O.A. "Bum" Phillips said. "It was a credit to our defense but I don't want to play him again."

Instead, the Oilers must go against the 2-0 Raiders, who are coming off a 24-21 victory over Kansas City last Monday night.

The Raiders will present a different problem for the Oiler defense, which has held its two opponents to an average of 70.5 yards per game rushing and 138.0 yards passing.

This week, the Oilers must contend with quarterback Ken Stabler and his stable of sleek receivers, including Casper and Cliff Branch.

Phillips said he didn't think Houston's 27-26 victory over the Raiders when the Oilers scored the winning TD after time ran out would have any lingering effects this season.

"I'm glad we won that one last year but it was just one of 10 victories and the fact we won 10 means more to our football team than just that one victory," Phillips said.

"We'll have to really force them," Phillips said. "We'll have to stop their running game and put great pressure on the passer."

The Oilers, with an improved running game, will also take the AFC's leading rusher into the game in Ronnie Coleman, who has rushed 41 times for 216 yards for a 5.3 average.

Oiler defenders have not allowed a touchdown in their first two games, shutting out Tampa Bay 20-0 and limiting the Bills to a field goal in last week's 13-3 victory.

Oakland rallied in the final seconds to whip Pittsburgh in its regular season opener and then held off Kansas City's fourth quarter charge Monday.

Kickoff is at 1 p.m. CDT.

Watson likes himself very much this year

HOUSTON (AP) — Bob Watson considers 1976 as his best season as a major leaguer and his most recent performance supports his claim.

Watson drove in two runs and collected three singles in the Houston Astros' 5-2 victory over the Atlanta Braves Wednesday night.

"This may be my best season ever as a team player," said Watson, who hiked his season RBI total to 98.

"I hit the ball consistently harder last year but this year has probably been my most rewarding season as an allaround player."

First inning singles by Watson and Cesar Cedeno and Jose Cruz's grounder accounted for three Houston runs off losing pitcher Frank LaCorte, 3-10.

Houston added two more runs in the fifth off RBI singles by Watson and Cruz, giving rookie Joaquin Andujar his ninth victory in 19 decisions.

Andujar, who picked up his first career victory over Atlanta, limited the Braves to six hits and struck out six while regiseering his ninth complete game of the season.

"I had a good slider and used my breaking pitches well and that is why I picked up more strikeouts than usual," said Andujar. "The biggest thing is throwing strikes."

The Braves' two runs came home in the second inning on Dale Murphy's run scoring double and an error by Astros third baseman Enos Cabell.

"For us to come back from a 43½ game deficit last year to a 22 game deficit this year is a tremendous improvement," said Watson. "If we can finish at .500 we'll finish in third place."

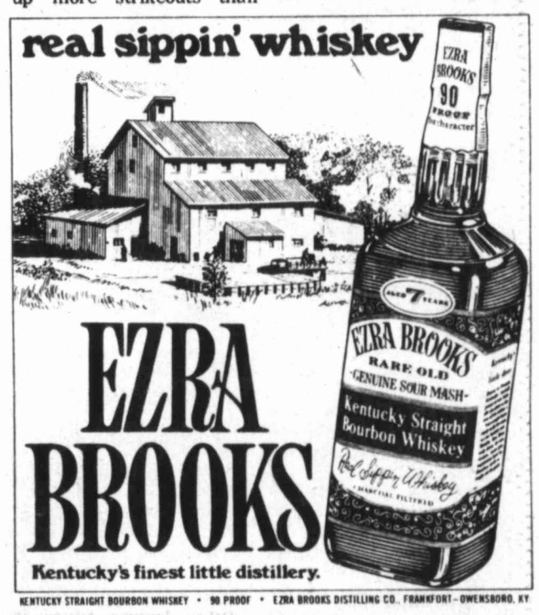

The victory cut Houston's magic number for clinching third place in the National League West to four games.

DALLAS COWBOYS

DALLAS (AP) — The spiritually healed Baltimore Colts put their 11-game regular season victory streak on the line against the Dallas Cowboys Sunday in a battle of National Football League unbeatens.

The Colts, buffeted by a feud between the front office and Coach Ted Marchibroda, have swept aside New England and Cincinnati with brilliant performances from quarterback Bert Jones.

"I think the situation helped give them their enthusiasm back," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry.

Marchibroda "resigned" after verbal conflict with club president Robert Irsay and vice president Joe Thomas. Then Marchibroda came back after strong player support.

"Ted felt front office interference in his running the football team on the field," said public relations director Barry Jones. "No one is speaking about the situation any longer. Hopefully, the turmoil is over. It did provide a rallying point for the club like Coach Landry said."

Landry has paid his usual proper respect to an upcoming opponent, saying, "Baltimore is very aggressive. They play with a lot of enthusiasm. It will take a great effort to beat them...They really play football and hustle."

Landry said Jones is "one of the brightest young quarterbacks I've seen. He has a great arm and great poise. I met him once and he is an outstanding young man."

Jones was perhaps the most outspoken of the Colt players who stood behind Marchibroda.

"Bert was at the point where he felt he was in a financial situation where he did not have to depend on football for a living," Barry Jones said. "He said he would play out the year then asked to be traded if Marchibroda wasn't the coach."

The Cowboys have been devastating in victories over Philadelphia and New Orleans.

"Baltimore should help us evaluate just what kind of a team we have," Landry said. "Potentially, it could be the best team we've had. But to be honest with you I don't know how far along we are."

Dallas quarterback Roger Staubach leads the NFL in passing. He has been particularly effective operating out of Dallas' spread formation.

Both teams made the NFL playoffs last year with Baltimore being knocked out in an early round and Dallas advancing to Super Bowl X.

The Colts lead the overall series 4-2. Some 60,000 fans are expected for the 3 p.m. CDT nationally televised kickoff.

NOT SO FAST — SMU's James Wright (93) grabs TCU's Gerry Modzelewski (32) during action in the SMU victory 34-14 two weeks ago in Fort Worth. Wright is expected to take up much of the slack caused by injuries to three linebackers in this Saturday's contest against the tough North Texas State University Mean Green.

Air Force grid action

83rd takes command

Unlike many of college football's top ranked teams, the 83rd Flying Training Squadron lived up to its preseason ranking during the rain-delayed opening week of intramural football.

The varsity laden intramural squad, picked as the favorite to unseat defending champ Sturon, manhandled Organizational Maintenance, 28-0. Rookie signal caller Mark Van Ellis picked the OMS secondary apart with four scoring strikes to Jack Rudigar.

Rudigar dominated the OMS defenders by either bulling his way to the ball or just leaving them in his wake on fly patterns.

Van Ellis added extra-point passes to Chip Ambrose and varsity standout Dick Legas for a 26-0 bulge. The 83rd's defense wasn't satisfied with a shutout. The tenacious swarming defenders dropped the OMS quarterback in the end zone for a safety and the final 28-0 win.

Second-ranked Sturon showed that they have the people to defend the championship by drubbing the Medics, 20-0. Curtis Marshall threw a pair of touchdown passes and scampered 20 yards for a third score in the lopsided victory.

Sturon's first scoring drive ended with Marshall's pass to Denis Fritz. Former Air Force Academy letterman Tom Peterson hauled in the extra point conversion. Norm Skelly pulled in two Sturon aerials in a row to add seven more points.

Lonnie Allison ended a grueling defensive struggle between Supply and the 2050th Communications Squadron by throwing a perfect strike to Earl Rice. Supply's last gasp toss secured a 6-0 victory and the third shutout of the young season.

In last week's only other game, Rick Holderby rallied the Civil Engineers to a 13-7 victory over OMS. J. J. Jones pulled the trigger on a scoring pass to Robert McCarthy for an early 7-0 lead. Then Holderby led CE upfield and hit Art Harvey for the score.

The point after failed and CE still trailed, 7-6. Late in the game Holderby put CE on top with a touchdown pass to P. T. Moore. Eric Deerle added the extra point.

Next week's action will feature CE vs. Comm., and OMS vs. the Medics on Monday; the Medics vs. Field Maintenance and the 3389th vs. OMS on Tuesday Supply vs. Sturon and the 83rd vs. CE on Wednesday; with Sturon vs. the 83rd and the 3389th vs. CE on Thursday.

For Phils to lose 10

Pirates still dreaming

By the Associated Press

The numbers are against them, and those numbers are getting worse each day. But the Pittsburgh Pirates are not yet ready to throw in the towel.

"Maybe we'll have to win our last 10 in a row and the Phillies will have to lose 10," said Pirates outfielder Al Oliver. "It's not logical, but it's still possible."

Each day, however, the possibility grows more and more remote. The Pirates took another step towards elimination Wednesday when they dropped a 4-3 heartbreaker to the Chicago Cubs on a run-scoring single by Joe Wallis in the ninth inning.

That loss, coupled with Philadelphia's 9-4 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, sank the Pirates six full games behind Philadelphia in the National League East. The Phils have 12 games remaining, the Pirates just 10.

Team leader Willie Stargell agreed, however, that there's no point to the Pirates rolling over and playing dead.

"We've just got to keep playing, that's all," said Stargell. "We've come too far for me to say anthing else. Our attitude just can't change. No matter what the outcome, we can't say we lost because we didn't put forth an effort."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers topped the San Francisco Giants 3-1, the Cincinnati Reds edged the San Diego Padres 4-3, the New York Mets beat the Montreal Expos 4-2 and the Houston Astros defeated the Atlanta Braves 5-2.

The Pirates have lost seven of their last 11 games, including three of thier last four — each in heartstopping fashion. On Monday, Mets rookie Lee Mazzilli hit a two-run homer with two-out in the ninth to beat Pittburgh 5-4. They lost the second half of a doubleheader Tuesday 2-1 to Chicago on a two-out single in the 13th inning.

And Wednesday it was Joe Wallis' single off relief pitcher Kent Tekulve which drove home Jerry Tabb from second for a 4-3 decision. Tabb, a pinch-hitter, had walked to start the ninth and taken second on a sacrifice. After Rick Monday was intentionally walked, Wallis delivered his game-winning hit on a 3-1 count.

Phils 9, Cards 4

Philadelphia erupted for eight runs in the eighth inning to beat St. Louis. Dick Allen's two-run single off Cards relief ace Al Hrabosky snapped a 4-4 tie, then Bob Boone added a two-run single later in the big eighth-inning outburst.

Mets 4, Expos 2

Jon Matlack, 16-9, scattered eight hits and got last-out relief help from Skip Lockwood against Montreal. Veteran second baseman Felix Millan drove in two runs for the Mets.

Astros 5, Braves 2

Bob Watson and Jose Cruz drove in two runs apiece for the Astros, who have won three of their last four games in their bid to clinch third place in the NL West.

Dodgers 3, Giants 1

Right-hander Don Sutton became a 20-game winner for the first time in his career when he stopped the Giants on six hits to raise his record to 20-9. Sutton, who compiled 19-9 records in 1972 and 1974, struck out five and walked four in posting his eighth straight victory.

Reds 4, Padres 3

Cincinnati became the first team in National League history to have seven pitchers post 10 or more victories in one season when Don Gullett raised his record to 10-3 by beating the Padres.

No decision yet on anti-trust laws

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House sports committee has held its final hearing with the panel's leaders saying no decision has been made on whether to recommend that baseball be subjected to the nation's antitrust laws as are the other sports.

Chairman B.F. Sisk, D-Calif., and the vice chairman, Frenk Horton, R-N.Y., said the committee will meet next Wednesday to begin the formulation of any recommendations for its report to Congress, which will be made in January.

Sisk and Horton talked to newsmen Wednesday after hearing Marvin Miller, executive director of the Major League Players Association, and Rep. John Seiberling, D-Ohio, recommend that Congress strip baseball of its special immunity from the antimonopoly laws.

Miller said there could be a major labor confrontation in baseball when the current collective bargaining agreement expires in three years if the sport is permitted to keep its immunity from the antitrust laws.

He said the owners might try to unilaterally reverse the gains made by the union because they know they could not be sued in court.

Sisk said the hearings held by the Select House Committee on Professional Sports have "made me wonder if any sport should enjoy an immunity to the antitrust laws. The immunity may have been used as a prop — a prop that is not necessarily needed."

Sisk said informal discussions with others of the 13-member committee indicated to him that some want to take away baseball's immunity while at least one "strongly felt we should not touch it."

Horton said there was a real need for a continuation of an oversight committee for sports because there is no panel in the Congress that covers such a wide range of subjects such as antitrust, labor, immigration, gambling and violence in sports.

Horton said many letters have been received asking the committee to expand its study from baseball, basketball, football and hockey into golf, tennis, soccer and auto and dog racing, among other sports.

The House sports committee, which heard nearly 80 witnesses in 26 hearings and accumulated a record of more than 2,000 pages, was created last spring after baseball refused to put a team into the nation's capital, which has been without a club since the Washington Senators moved to Texas in 1971.

Sisk and Horton were members of an ad hoc congressional committee which attempted unsuccessfully for five years to persuade baseball to replace the Senators.

The two congressmen said many times during the hearings that the committee's primary purpose was not to pressure baseball into putting a team into Washington but to study the affect of the law on sports.

Perry embarasses Angels with speed

ANAHEIM (AP) — Gaylord Perry, the old man of the Texas Ranger pitching staff, said he didn't want to embarrass himself.

So the wily 38-year-old veteran did something about it: He hid the team's radar gun which is used to time the velocity of pitches.

Then Perry went out Wednesday night and embarrassed the California Angels by restricting them to three hits. At one point he retired 18 hitters in succession in hurling the Rangers to a 2-1 triumph.

Perry has made such an impression with Ranger management this year that he was given a two-year extension on his contract and now is helping pitching coach Sid Hudson work with the young arms on the staff.

He also goes out there every four days himself and shows the younger generation just how it's done.

If the radar gun had been used Wednesday night, it would have probably caught Perry's fast one at around 88 miles an hour because that's where it has been all season.

That ranks him as about the fastest thrower on the Ranger staff.

"If the kids know an old man can throw that hard they'll want to do the same," said Perry, 14-14. "It gives them something to strive for and we've got some good-looking young arms on this team."

Perry surrendered a two-out run-scoring double to Tony Solaita in the first inning as California drew first blood but then Perry did not allow another hit until pinch-hitter Mike Easler singled with two out in the eighth.

The only other Angel safety was a ninth inning single by Jerry Remy.

Meanwhile, the Rangers collected 10 hits off loser Gary Ross, 8-16, and reliever Sid Monge with Roy Howell leading the way with a run-scoring double and two singles.

Howell's double drove in Mike Hargrove with the tying run in the fourth and the Texans won it in the seventh when Lenny Randle walked, went to second on a sacrifice, to third on an infield out and scored as Gene Clines beat out a bouncer to deep short.

The teams conclude the fourgame series tonight with Paul Hartzell, 7-4, opposing Tommy Boggs, 1-6, of the Rangers.

Your Daily HOROSCOPE

from the CARROLL RIGHTER INSTITUTE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There are opportunities in the early part of the day to make definite plans with those of whom you very fond. However some adverse aspects could develop later if you are not careful. Be astute.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can reach a fine agreement with persons who can assist you to grow and develop. Control your temper at all times.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) A new plan is needed where your regular work is concerned, so take steps in that direction. Improve your appearance.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan recreation for the weekend and then put your personal affairs in order. Be more affectionate with mate and be happy.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Make definite plans for the future and include whatever will make your life more interesting. A new project needs more study.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Try to cooperate more with allies and you will have more success in the future. Clarify your ideas with the aid of an expert.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Do whatever will bring you the goodwill of one in high position, and who can give the backing you need. Be more practical minded.

LIBRA Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Take time to measure how far you have progressed in a new business interest. Plan the right kind of social life you want to enjoy in the days ahead.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have the knack for getting at the truth in any matter and this can be most advantageous to you today. Try to please your mate.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Take time to show your friends that you are devoted to them. Once your work is done, engage in the recreation you enjoy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Handle civic work you have to do early in the day and get excellent results. Consult a business expert for advice you need.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Look at all angles of a matter that arises today and you will know how to handle it. Don't neglect to pay an important bill.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Study monetary matters well and become more successful. There are many needed repairs to make in your surroundings.

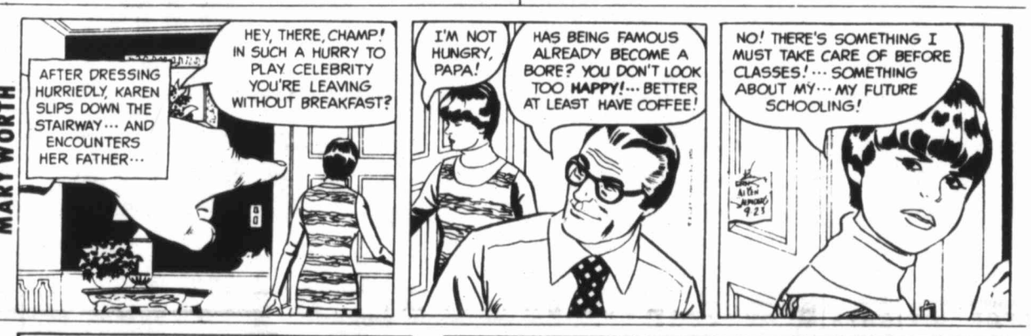

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he or she will want to cooperate with others and can thus live a most harmonious life. Ideal chart for the designer, the artist and the musician. Be sure not to neglect good spiritual training early in life.

Legislative meeting set for Oct. 4

The meeting between the Legislative Action Committee and a team of Air Force officers will be Oct. 4 instead of Oct. 1.

The meeting is to discuss the environmental impact statement and answer questions before the public hearing which will most likely be Nov. 3 and 4 at the Big Spring High School auditorium.

The Air Force has originally suggested Oct. 4 for this pre-hearing meeting, but the Legislative Action Committee decided Tuesday that it would prefer Oct. 1 so congressional aides could be present.

Col. Harry Spannaus, wing commander, attempted to set up the Oct. 1 date, but the Air Force team had another commitment for that date.

Adolph Swartz, Century Club president, announced late Wednesday that Monday, Oct. 4, will be the date of the pre-hearing meeting.

Col. Spannaus said that if the team from Air Training Command comes on Oct. 4 it can be available for questions in the Big Spring area for several days.

Also coming up will be the Permian Basin Planning Council's review of the Webb AFB environmental impact statement on Sept. 30.

Family crusade begins today

The College Park Church of God, 603 Tulane Street, will be hosting a Family Crusade, beginning today at 7 p.m. The pastor, the Rev. O. D. Robertson, has invited the Rev. and Mrs. Ernest M. Smith of Weatherford to conduct the crusade.

The Rev. Mr. Smith, a pastor of 35 years experience, is a seasoned worker in youth camps and child evangelism. He and his wife are now totally involved in Family Crusades, attempting to reach the entire family with the gospel.

The sermons are illustrated with electronic and chemical demonstrations and optical illusions, and the action songs and choruses led by Mrs. Smith are illustrated by visual aids. Smith promises something of interest for each member of the family, and Pastor Robertson invites all to attend.

Services will begin each night at 7 p.m. through Sunday, Sept. 26.

Local women at meeting

Mrs. E.P. Driver and Mrs. Harry Jordan of Big Spring attended the advisory council meeting of the Big Country area of the American Lung Association of Texas held in San Angelo last weekend.

Business conducted by the council concerned the 1976 Christmas seal campaign and special events fund-raising for the area.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Mrs. Diana Ham of Odessa, teacher for the Odessa Asthma Program who talked on "Breathing Easier With Asthma."

Special guests for the meeting were school personnel involved in the asthma programs in San Angelo and in Odessa.

Ted Hogan of Crane, area chairman, presided at the meeting, and Don W. Hensley gave a report on recent action taken by the American Lung Association of Texas board of directors. Hensley, who chairs the fund-raising committees at both the area and state levels explained new campaign goals for 1976.

Credit union loans recipes

Cakes and breads are specialty

Webb Credit Union, usually busy with financial interests, took time off Tuesday morning to make several of the recipes they submitted to readers. Shown in the center of the table is a chile-powdered cheese ball, perfect for easy entertaining and best with wheat crackers.

Their specialty seems to be breads and cakes, possibly because living around all that dough has gone to their heads. A rich Italian Cream Cheese Cake will provide the spectacular finish to any meal.

Doris Badgett holds up a fluffy Lemonade Pie, "the easiest thing you'll ever make in your life," she says.

Other delicacies around the table include Butterscotch Brownies, Plum Cake, Georgia's Orange Slice Date Cake, Italian Cream Cheese Cake and Eight Egg Cake.
