Voters Saturday Decide Fate Of Hospital District

A total of 115 absentee ballots point to a large turnout of voters Saturday when the community's hospital future is decided at the polls.

The election will determine whether the Colorado City Hospital District is created within Precincts 1, 2 and 3 to assume ownership and operation of the now city-owned Root Memorial Hospital and Valley Fair Lodge.

Seven voting places within the three precincts will open at 8 a.m. Saturday and close at 7 p.m.

Here are the voting boxes and election judges:

Courthouse, Colorado City — R. B. Baker.

Civic House, Colorado City — Wayne Griffin.

Buford, Buford Methodist Church — T. T. Smith.

Westbrook, Agriculture Building — Pent. Hines.

Spade, Agriculture Building — Robert Bolin.

Carr, Bailey Chapel Church — Mrs. Ted Jackson.

Cuthbert, Cuthbert Store — Mrs. J. C. Womack.

Voting in the Saturday election will be qualified voters within Commissioner Precincts 1, 2 and 3 who are also taxpaying property owners. In addition, they must be residents within the county for six months.

Taxpaying property owners include persons with any property listed on current applicable tax rolls — including land, buildings, vehicles and any other real or personal property.

The election will climax a citizen's movement that began last fall when Charles Root, owner of Root Memorial Hospital, died.

sentatives and Senate passed legislation authorizing the creation of the hospital district, subject to approval by voters of the three precincts.

A special volunteer education committee — with J. S. (Jay) Craddock Jr., Bob Reilly, Bill Randle and Paul B. Hunter in leading roles — has furnished speakers for more than 30 different groups and organizations in recent weeks in an effort to rally support for the district.

One of the final gatherings in this campaign will be a Town Hall meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in Medallion Room of Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative.

Any citizen with a question about the proposed hospital district is urged to attend this meeting, according to Craddock.

Free rides to the polls Saturday will be furnished by Jaycees in a get-out-and-vote effort. Persons desiring the free transportation can phone RA 8-2351.

Absentee voting ended Tuesday with 115 ballots cast.

EASY MARKING FOR HOSPITAL BALLOT

Voters in Saturday's hospital district election will have an uncomplicated ballot to mark.

It will list only two propositions and voters should mark out the proposition they do not favor, leaving the unmarked proposition stating the way they vote.

For instance, voters favoring creation of the hospital district will mark out the AGAINST proposition. Those voting no to the hospital district will mark out the FOR proposition.

Here is the way the propositions will appear on the official ballot:

PROPOSITION

For the creation of Colorado City Hospital District, providing for the levy of a tax not to exceed 75c on each $100 valuation, using Mitchell County values and Mitchell County tax rolls, and providing for the assumption by such district of all outstanding bonds and indebtedness thereto issued by any city or town within the district for hospital purposes.

Against the creation of Colorado City Hospital District, providing for the levy of a tax not to exceed 75c on each $100 valuation, using Mitchell County values and Mitchell County tax rolls, and providing for the assumption by such district of all outstanding bonds and indebtedness heretofore issued by any city or town within the district for hospital purposes.

Wolf Band, Twirling To Begin

Colorado City band, better known as "The Black Knights of Precision" during marching season, has its first rehearsal Monday at 8 a.m. for the ensuing school term.

Dwight Tomb, band director, said all members of the organization are expected to be present for the rehearsal in high school band hall.

Rehearsals will continue daily weekdays from 8 to 10:30 a.m.

Miss Vickie Baucum of Texas Tech, Lubbock, will begin twirling classes also Monday at 8 a.m. at Colorado High tennis courts, according to Tomb.

Miss Baucum is a national recognized teacher and champion twirler who will teach classes for band students in grades 6 through 12.

Tuition for the one-week twirling course will be $10, Tomb said.

Trio From Twelve Entries For Cotton Queen

Three of the nine Colorado City contestants in the Mitchell County Cotton Queen contest, Friday night, are Peggy Guitart, at left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Guitart, Linda Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell, and Vickie Bodine, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Truman Bodine. Mitchell County Cotton Queen will be chosen during the contest at CHS auditorium by five out-of-town judges. Contest for girls of Mitchell County, all students or recent graduates of high school, is sponsored by the Family Living Committee.

For School Tax Man Farrar

Job To Terminate

Nick Farrar's service as tax assessor for Colorado Independent School District will terminate Sept. 1.

Resolution declaring the termination was voted by school trustees Tuesday after noting that Farrar returned an unsigned contract for the year 1967-68.

The board, in its resolution, stated: "That since the contract tendered to Mr. C. N. Farrar for position of tax assessor-collector and business manager for the Colorado Independent School District for the contractual period Sept. 1, 1967 - Aug. 31, 1968 was returned unsigned, that the services of Mr. C. N. Farrar be terminated on Aug. 31, 1967."

Several weeks ago the board had instructed the superintendent to submit a new contract to the school tax official. At that time, the board asked the superintendent to spell out specific duties for Farrar under the new contract.

The board's decision to propose a new contract to Farrar followed reports of friction between the school tax office and Supt. James G. McMath.

There also has been discussion among school officials of separating certain school business duties from the tax office and centering them in the school administration offices of the superintendent.

The contract proposed to Farrar, and which the board noted as returned unsigned, called for an increase in salary to $6,500 for the 1967-68 contract. During the last year the pay was $5,400.

Fund to Aid Seriously Ill Buford Man

Buford Baptist Church is sponsoring a benefit fund to aid Kenneth Hoover, young Buford man, in a Temple hospital.

Hoover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hoover, was to undergo surgery today (Thursday) for an internal bleeding condition.

He has been ill for several weeks and his serious condition has required large number of blood transfusions.

"Money donated to this fund will be applied to hospital medical expenses," R. Y. Hammond told The Record.

Persons and organizations desiring to contribute to the Kenneth Hoover Fund can deliver their money to City National Bank, Hammond said.

Grid Workouts Monday

8 Lettermen Returning For Wolves

Colorado High Wolves

start workouts Monday in preparation for their 1967 District 5-AA football campaign.

Workouts will be twice daily, beginning at 8:00 in the morning, and 8:00 in the evening.

Coach Truman Nix and his staff will have eight returning lettermen from the 1966 squad. Last year's team turned in an even record of four wins, four losses and two ties, and finished tied for third in the six team district.

Along with the experienced varsity players are some outstanding prospects coming up from last year's B and freshmen teams.

Returning lettermen are quarterback Randy Parker; halfbacks Dan Steakley, Mike Maines, and Ralph Lindsey; Macca Findley, a fullback; and three linemen, Johnny Matthews, Sammy Parham and Rusty Steakley.

Other good prospects for filling varsity positions include seniors Glenn Hunter, Gerald Graves, Kerry Campbell, Carl Webb, Rennie Lamb, and Jim Ty Maddox. And Juniors Leslie Ellis, Kenney Key, Keaton Grubbs, Mike Garrett and Sammy Majors.

Co-captains this year will be Glenn Hunter and Ralph Lindsey.

Coach Nix anticipates a strong backfield (five of the eight lettermen are backs), but he also points out he will be starting the season with an inexperienced line.

The Wolves have retained only one varsity offensive lineman, a tackle, Sammy Parham. However, Nix rates Parham as one of the best linemen in the district.

Running abilities of Dan Steakley and Lindsey are expected to combine well with the skilled ball handling of Parker. "Dan is one of the best running backs of any classification in the state," said Nix.

Lindsey, a potential power, jumped from 136 pounds last year to 175 now, with an increase in speed.

Nix expects a tough secondary to be the key to a strong defense this year. Three of the four secondary are returning lettermen.

"Macca Findley and Benjie Lamb could develop into the finest linebackers we've had in a long time," he said.

Working under Nix in the High School football program are coaches Doug Chitsey, Buddy Everett, Caddo Matthews, Joe Paty and Dell Riley. Also assisting for the summer workouts are two new Junior High coaches, Ron Anderson

Bird Dog Field Trials Are Set

The Permian Bird Dog and Sportman's Club has selected Colorado City as the site of its Fall and Spring Field Trials.

Club President John O. Puckett of Big Spring reported that land has been secured for the trials on Francis Winn's ranch, South west of Colorado City. Ten sections may be available for use if necessary.

The trials, sanctioned by the Amateur Field Trials of America, will be conducted October 28-29 and February 17-18. The fall trials will be preceded by a drawing for positions at the Villa Inn Restaurant at 8:00 p.m. October 27.

Puckett revealed that Colorado City was selected because of the land available, and the fact that this is good quail country.

Those wishing to enter dogs are welcome, and all the public is invited to watch, Puckett said. Riders on horses will enjoy the most advantageous view of the events in addition to receiving a good day's riding.

For those without mounts a gallery wagon will follow as closely as possible.

Lunch will be served on the grounds each day at a low cost. "We hope this to be the largest field trial we have had," said Puckett.

Other details, including the types of braces to be running, will be released by the club at a later date.

4 Library Terms Near

Appointments Coming Up For County

Commissioners Court will soon be making four appointments to Mitchell County Library board.

One-year terms of Mrs. Austin McCloud, George Womack and Mrs. Floyd Coffee expire this month. A fourth member of the board, Mrs. O. L. Simpson, has resigned.

"So, commissioners will not only name board members for the terms expiring — from now on all appointments will be for three-year periods — but also as a replacement for Mrs. Simpson."

When the board was organized last year, terms were set at 1, 2 and 3 years for the first appointments so that board appointments would always be staggered in future years.

Terms of Mrs. Harry Dockrey and Mrs. Rex McKinney will not expire until 1968. Mrs. John Chinn's term ends in 1969, the same period of Mrs. Simpson's appointment.

COMMISSIONERS COURT has filed formal request with Joe Nelson, director of Board of County and District Indebtedness, State of Texas, for the county's use of return in the state's lateral road funds.

The amount Mitchell County is scheduled to receive this year is approximately $21,690.

It will be used for construction and improvement of county lateral roads.

COMMISSIONERS HAVE authorized opening of bids Aug. 22, at 2 p.m., in the Courthouse for the purchase of a motor grader for Precinct 3.

The county will trade in a Model 180 Gallon grader in the deal which will cost probably more than $15,000.

AN INCREASE in Mitchell County's pro-rated share for salary of District Attorney Weldon Kirk's office secretary in Sweetwater has been authorized by Commissioners Court.

In the new schedule — first increase for the DA's secretary in years — Mitchell will pay $98.80 per month instead of the previous $90.

Nolan county pays 50 per cent of the secretarial salary. Mitchell pays 30 per cent and Fisher County, 20 per cent.

Loraine Lovelies Enter Cotton Queen Contest

These four girls from Loraine are among the 12 Mitchell County Cotton Queen contestants to be staged in Colorado High School auditorium Friday night at 8 p.m. From left, they are Sharon Byrne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Byrne, Sharon Sanford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frand Sanford, Gail Richard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richard, and Kay Givens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Pierce Givens. Girls will model cotton sports clothes and will be interviewed by Porter Richardson, master of ceremonies. Winner will compete in the regional contest at Stamford, August 25. Regional winner will be entered in the Maid of Cotton contest during State Fair, by Rolling Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

Principal Hunt Again

With Walter Black's Resignation

Supt. James G. McMath has just filled a school principal's post and now he has the same task to do over again — at a different level. Walter J. Black, who has been principal of Hutchinson Elementary School, has resigned to accept a position with Forsyth school system.

Black will be a principal at Forsyth school, which includes grades five through 12. He is the second Colorado City principal to resign in recent weeks. Earlier Joe D. Burehard, principal at Colorado High, submitted his resignation to accept a position in Austin public schools. As an assistant principal at an Austin junior high, he will be able to continue work toward his doctorate degree.

Wallace Price, who has supervised American schools in South America and served last year as assistant high school principal in Texarkana, checked in this week as new Colorado High principal.

The resignation of Black left two vacancies on the Colorado City faculty for the coming fall term. In addition to the Hutchinson principalship, there is an opening for eighth grade math teacher.

and Cullen Davis. Both are recent graduates of Abilene Christian College.

The coaches remind all athletes that they must have a physical examination before working out. All those expecting to suit out should check by Rhode Cowan Clinic this week after 5:00 p.m. Coach Nix said.

The Wolves will stage their first intra-squad scrimmage on Saturday, Aug. 19, the end of the first week of practice. Colorado City will scrimmage Lake View of San Angelo here Tuesday, August 22.

Friday, September 1, the Wolves meet Eldorado in San Angelo for another practice game.

According to a poll of coaches at the Texas Coaches School last week, Winters is picked to lead the grid 5-A, with Colorado City second. However, Texas Football magazine which carries complete Texas schoolboy listings as well as those of college and pro football, ranks Anson first, aiming for its first state playoff berth since 1960.

Third last year at 7-2, Anson sees improvement with a first rate backfield among 4 offensive and 6 defensive returnees. Winter, the magazine states, traditionally has found sweet success, now counts five team speed as a factor that could lead to contention.

Colorado City, according to the magazine, is expected to run behind Winters. Among 3 offensive and 4 defensive regulars, C- City owns good backfield speed but must patch its line it points out.

If you think there ought to be a better way...

we do, too.

Of course, there is a better way. A new no-frost refrigerator-freezer never needs defrosting. So it's not really just a better way, it's doing away entirely with a messy, irritating job. True, no-frost models cost a little more to operate. But think about it next time you're defrosting . . . well worth it, you'll say.

Weevils Stay Heavy Locally

Boll weevils were reported heavy in older Mitchell County cotton this week.

Boll worm activity also was reported light to medium, particularly in irrigated fields, according to County Agent Bobby Lemons' report.

Weevil damage was observed on all farms being checked in the continuing insect survey. Punctured square damage ranged from 2.5 per cent to 33 per cent, Lemons said.

The agent said several cotton producers were using low volume chemicals to control weevils. He emphasized that five sprayings on 5 to 7 day intervals are necessary to lower the weevil populations.

Damage from boll worms has been light to medium in Mitchell County fields and egg laying has been light. About 1 to 10.5 per cent square and boll damage was observed in the latest check.

Fleahoppers were reported medium to light. Some cotton square borers, plant bugs and salt marsh caterpillars were also observed.

Heavy aphid population was noted in one field, but beneficial insects also were heavy in this particular field.

Overall, beneficial insects were reported in light to medium count. These included hooded beetles, flower bugs, lady bugs and lace wing flies.

Doing something about the weather

Everybody talks about the weather. Jack Biros does something about it.

Jack is one of 58 dispatchers with El Paso Natural Gas Company. These men control and coordinate operations of the Company's pipelines, plants, and wells throughout El Paso's 11-western-state service area so that the right amount of gas is delivered to all communities at the right time.

When cold weather strikes, the volumes of gas needed to heat homes and other buildings jump many fold in a few hours. By studying weather predictions and business activity, Jack and the other dispatchers constantly gear operations to meet changing demands.

Production requirements are allocated to the most appropriate fields, whether located in Canada, the Rockies, New Mexico or Texas. Compressor stations, scattered over thousands of miles, and extending from the Canadian border to the Southwest are operated in unison.

Jack's skills and those of the other dispatchers in making the greatest possible use of the flexibility of El Paso Natural's system are among the reasons that the West has assured supplies of natural gas.

EL PASO NATURAL GAS COMPANY

Through its pipelines El Paso Natural serves Texas and ten other western states.

Candy Curlee, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tandy Curlee, and Joyce Godwin, right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Godwin, are two Colorado City contestants in the Mitchell County Cotton Queen competition to be held Friday evening at eight in high school auditorium here. Each girl in the contest is sponsored by an organization interested in the cotton industry.

Outdoors In Texas

By VERN SANFORD

In the apportionment of Federal Fish and Wildlife Restoration funds, derived from the excise tax on the sale of outdoor equipment, Texas receives maximum participation.

This is money, actually paid in by sportsmen on the purchase of guns, ammunition and fishing equipment. It is collected by the government and apportioned with a formula devised by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Out of the total distributed during a recent two-year period, some $14,000,000 went for wildlife work and about $6,000,000 for fisheries. Texas was one of four states receiving the maximum $695,100 for wildlife and $276,200 for fisheries. Others were Alaska, California and Minnesota.

When the program was initiated 25 years ago, the maximum available to any state was $150,000. This increase is just one indication of the growth of hunting and fishing as a participation sport.

Federal money is matched on the basis of 75 percent Federal to 25 percent State. Texas for the most part, has been able to use its entire apportionment in providing for better hunting and fishing. As a result Texas today has an outstanding wildlife and fisheries program, under the direction of biologists of the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

This has been largely responsible for the tremendous comeback of wildlife in Texas, and for providing the best fishing the state has ever known.

Basically it also has provided for a great deal of research which doesn't always appear on the surface.

But what is evident is the wonderful expansion program in management areas. Today these management areas are scattered widely over the state.

For instance, in the Big Bend Country of West Texas the P&W Commission owns and operates something like 100,000 acres of deer country. It is bordered on one side by the Big Bend National Park and on the other side by the Rio Grande.

Here wildlife is managed by the best known practices. In this connection each year a number of Texas sportsmen get free hunts, permitting them to take off the surplus game and keep the wildlife in balance.

Landowners in the area, watching progress of the management work, now are including wildlife in their plan of operation. As a result West Texas today has more and better deer than at any time in this century.

Another of these projects is in Kerr County. Here, for nearly ten years, hundreds of Texas hunters have had the privilege of free trips to get their deer.

Down on the Texas coast, at Big Hill Bayou near Port Arthur, and a Sheldon, just out of Houston, resting and feeding grounds for waterfowl have been provided with the use of these funds.

Great strides in fishery management have been made particularly in the eradication of rough fish. A number of impoundments have restored game fishing to the fullest degree with complete kills. Other larger impoundments, through selective kills, have been able to up-grade their fishing.

It must be remembered that Texas has no large natural lakes. Every major lake in Texas is the result of a dam across some stream. Many of these are in Central and West Texas, where, a few years back they were practically devoid of game fish.

In fact, some historians say that black bass were not found west of the Colorado until the present century. This is easy to believe because there was no water to support them.

Now there are new and larger developments in East Texas. So the whole state is benefiting.

CONVERSATION CORNER

WONDER how starry-eyed poets ever used to wax romantic over summer before prosaic scientists invented air-conditioning?

Yet, literature is full of delicate lines of praise for summer. "Shall I compare thee to a summer's day?"

Wonder how the writers of lyrics for music found summer so enticing B.A.C. (Before Air Conditioning) became almost universal? "Summer time and the livin' is easy..."

Matter of fact, summer must have been a very sticky season along about the time Virgil advised "Steep thyself in a bowl of summertime."

He could not have meant the punch bowl, because he lived before the ice cube. Maybe he meant the swimming pool or bay and somebody translated it improperly into "bowl."

PLENTY of us, born before mechanical cooling and refrigeration, can remember well all kinds of signs of summer.

Remember the old ice wagon where every kid in the neighborhood loved to grab ice shavings?

Remember when only the finest theaters in the big city were air-conditioned? Sitting through two shows at the Palace in Dallas just to keep out of the heat?

Remember when shower bath time in the spray of the lawn hose was the favorite of all little youngans — and some big uns?

Remember sitting on the burlap bag on top of the hand-turned ice-cream freezer on the back porch, late afternoons? Watermelon parties?

IN THIS enlightened age there are other signs of summer we all have with us in these new, modern times.

You can tell the season is "steeped in a bowl of summertime..." when you go to town in search of a cool dress to supplement the by-now limp wardrobe and find the stores are full of winter coats with fur!

You can tell it's hot as blazes when you feel like a scorched ironing board... and find "Back to School" teasers everywhere you go.

You can tell it when the water bill jumps "high as the elephant's eye" and the light bill does ditto.

SUMMERTIME is when iced coffee tastes better than the steaming cup.

It's when women settle for lightbread (bought) for Sunday dinner rather than re-light the oven.

Summertime is when the second pair of the children's canvas play shoes get holes.

It's when the grass is always greener on the neighbor's lawn no matter how often you water yours.

Summertime, especially August, is when every woman under 90 decides every day that she hasn't got a thing to wear... and starts feeling to quote an old-fashioned song, like "The Last Rose of Summer."

SO, gentlemen, when the little women puts on her shopping shoes, watch it!

"Cause that's a very good sign... that she's your tootsie-wootsie, in the good ole summertime."

(That last quote is by somebody or other who swiped the tune to "That Good Ole Baylor Line." Same way somebody else had the nerve to swipe the tune of "Eyes of Texas" for some words that went "Working On the Railroad.")

CLOUD NINE is headed for the J. G. (Moose) Montgomery house at 975 East 16th St.

Daughter Glenda's husband Captain Wayne Wicker is expected home from Viet Nam after a year's duty there with Army transportation forces. The captain will meet his wife and their three-year-old daughter Stacey here at the Montgomery home.

Meantime, younger Montgomery daughter, Sharon, wife of Mickey Redwine, is spending this week with Glenda and Stacey up at Newport News, Va. Sharon, Glenda and Stacey are expected here this weekend.

Sharon, you'll remember is secretary to the coordinator for Title One, Lubbock Public Schools. Her husband Mickey is a senior in Texas Tech, studying engineering with business his double major.

ISABEL RATLIFF (Mrs. Harry) is home from Houston after a month's visit in the home of Caroline (Mrs. Hubert) Ratliff's mother Mrs. Jackson. She was there to welcome new grandson Robert Bradley to this world.

Hubert drove her home and visited briefly here.

Isabel was saying, too, that Peggy, wife of Bob, and Mrs. Grady Furlow, Jr., of Lorraine were in Austin Thursday and Friday for a State Teachers meet. That Ruth (Mrs. E. L.) Latham has been guest of her first son Louis Latham Jr., and his family at Hobbs, N. M. And that Ed and Velma Owen went to Stillwater, Okla., for the wedding of their grandson.

HEAR TELL that on a recent day when Esther Grubbs Thomas (Mrs. Mont) now of Dublin joined her family for a reunion here, there were EIGHT members of her family singing in First Methodist choir, the Sunday they celebrated.

Betty Grubbs Garrett, wife of J. C., directs the choir. Also in the choir that day were her husband, their two sons, A-2C Pete Garrett of Travis AFB, Mike Garrett; Johnny Grubbs and his son Keaton; Gary Grubbs, son of Walter and Viola of Abilene; and Hazel Grubbs Walston (Mrs. Dayton) of Austin.

Grubbs family heritage must be the singing heart.

GRUBBS FAMILY visited in homes of Johnny and Lottie Grubbs, Betty and J. C. Garrett and Nelda Garrett.

Joining Esther, our former county treasurer, were first daughter Hazel and her husband Dayton Walston, their son Bill and his wife, all of Austin; second Walston son A-3C David Walston of Sheppard Field AFB, Wichita Falls.

Here from Lubbock were Gilbert Grubbs, his wife and their daughter Linda; from Abilene came Walter Grubbs, Viola, son Gary, and Viola's mother Mrs. Lydia Willett.

The John Grubbs daughter Beverly Grubbs, of University of Texas, Austin was here. A-2C Peter Garrett brought with him A-3C (Miss) Terry Roberts, also of Travis AFB in California. Terry spent a week here as guest of Betty and J.C., Pete's parents.

SEEN LATELYS were Dan Martin of Midland... The Harold Bonays... G. D. Foster... and a bit later, G. D.'s wife Montie, looking cool and lovely in pastel pink.

Saw Mayme (Mrs. Ed) May, Mrs. Ernie Simpson... Willie and Selma Landau... Mildred Free (Mrs. A. A.) and Ed Thrift, on the shopping scene... Paul Boyd Hunter.

Saw for the first time in years, the former Lillian Hendricks of Lorraine who lives with her husband and family in Abilene. She's a slender, smart, silver-haired beauty. Saw her in Penney's at Westgate in Abilene and promptly forgot her married name. Do remember she had just put her sweet sixteen daughter on a plane for a California visit.

Expected home from California this week are Betty (Mrs. Frank) Ginzler, daughters Carol and Marsha, and son Carl. They've been guests of Betty's parents for about two months this summer and Carol's been attending classes during the summer college term.

Good Impression

Those are good things I keep hearing about Frank Brownfield, the new vocational agriculture teacher at Colorado High.

Of course, just about the time he gets here... then off to Dallas he goes for an ag workshop where he is being honored with a 15-year service pin.

I'm betting we will continue to hear fine reports about his leadership in agriculture here.

The Brownfields — Frank and his dad earlier made a good mark on our town with rebuilding and remodeling a full block downtown that includes Anthony's, Richburg's, Sears and Jernagin's.

Reduction Of Tillage Helps Soil's Moisture

Proper amount and kind of tillage increases the moisture that is available to crops, according to A. K. McCauley Jr., chairman of the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District Board.

Tillage should provide the right soil physical conditions for the plant throughout the growing season.

"In row crops only about 20 percent of the soil is needed for the seedbed. The remainder, or about 80 percent of the soil, controls the water intake rate," states William E. Larsen, Soil Scientist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

With the use of herbicides to control weeds, much tillage can be eliminated.

According to Larsen, with herbicides to control the weeds, the purpose of tillage becomes threefold: to prepare the soil for fast, accurate mechanical planting at the proper depth; to create a soil condition that enhances seed germination; to improve the condition of the soil for rapid water intake and to reduce compaction.

Too much tillage tends to make the soil particles smaller and in turn makes the pore spaces smaller. The smaller pore spaces cause a slowdown of the movement of air and water through the soil.

Thus soil retains water longer on the surface and is slow to warm up in the spring. It becomes crusty when it dries.

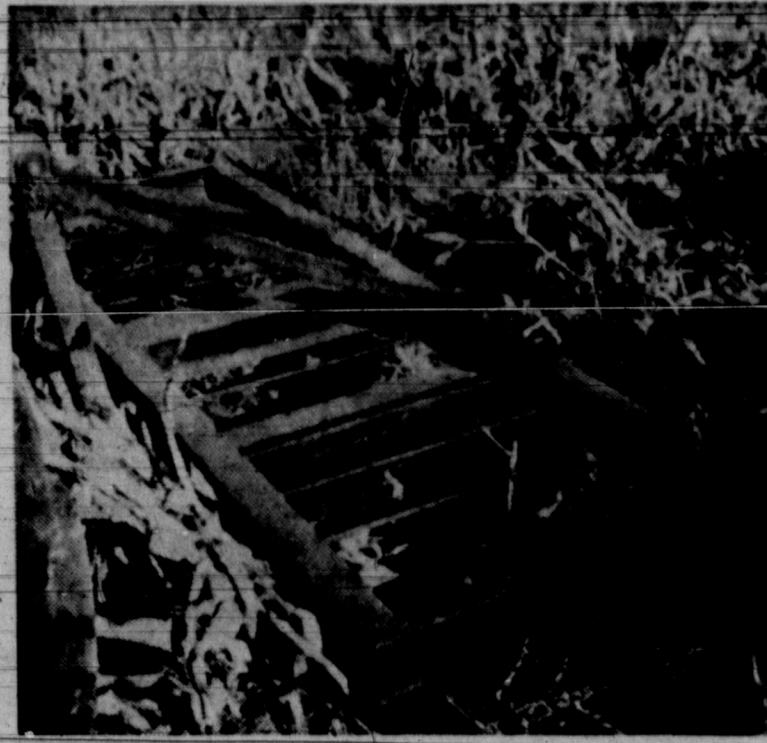

A rough soil surface absorbs water quickly. Less rainfall runs off and more water becomes available for the crops. The many small pits and depressions trap water and give it time to soak in.

Larsen found that a sandy loam soil plowed with an offset disk took in water at the rate of 0.9 inches per hour. The same soil disked and then harrowed smooth took in 0.2 inches of water per hour.

"Each situation is different and each farmer must check to see if some of his tillage operations can be changed without reducing the yield of the crops," said John I. Kazda, Soil Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service here in Colorado City.

"Each tillage operation that is eliminated cuts the cost of making the crops and increases the profits," he emphasized.

Burleson Examines Deficit

Advocates Cut In Non-Military Expense

By OMAR BURLESON
U. S. Congressman
17th District

It would be a refreshing change if all of us at the Federal level, and particularly the President of the United States, would simply say, "We are in a mess and there are a lot of things which are going to have to be done to get out of it. Much of it we don't like, and the people will not like, but it is necessary in the interest of our Nation."

At 8:30 on Thursday morning of last week at a White House conference, the President laid before the Chairman of Committees of the House of Representatives including Members of the Appropriations and Ways and Means Committees, the fiscal situation now immediately facing us.

Unless certain things are done, it is estimated there will be a $29 billion deficit in fiscal year 1968. This is the period from June 30, 1967 to the same time next year.

To reduce the deficit, the President says, there must be a 10 percent surtax in income. This simply means that when corporations and individuals determine the amount of tax we now pay under present rates, 10 percent will be added. Those with incomes under $5,000 will not be affected. As an example, a family of four with $10,000 income would pay $120 extra in taxes if this rate is enacted by the Congress.

Another proposal is to raise $7.5 billion. In addition, the President says that Federal employees' salaries should not be raised beyond the 4 1/2 percent recommended in the Budget, and that to raise it to the extent now being proposed in the Congress would cost another billion.

He also recommends the sale of $2 billion in securities held by those Federal Agencies such as the Farm-ers Home Administration, Small Business Administration, Veterans Administration, and so forth.

This reduces the total estimated deficit to $18 1/2 billion, and ways will be looked for to reduce this in actual spending, with the hope it may be brought down another $4 1/2 billion, coming up with a deficit of not more than $14 billion. This would be the amount which would have to be borrowed to carry on the Government operation at the present level.

Non-defense expenditures in government now run about $61 billion. Approximately two-thirds of this sum are fixed expenses, such as debt (over $14 billion); veterans compensation and insurance pensions ($5 billion); public assistance ($1 billion); farm price supports ($2 billion); medical payments out of general revenues (over $1 billion), and others.

More than $15 billion will be spent to complete contracts for obligations entered into in prior years. An additional $8 billion goes to pay Federal employees' salaries.

If the steps recommended by the President are taken, and the other estimates are about as set out in his recommendations, this leaves only $12 billion over which he can exercise much discretion in the year ahead.

Congress needs to cut to the bone non-defense appropriations. It will have to do so if it sells the American people on a tax increase.

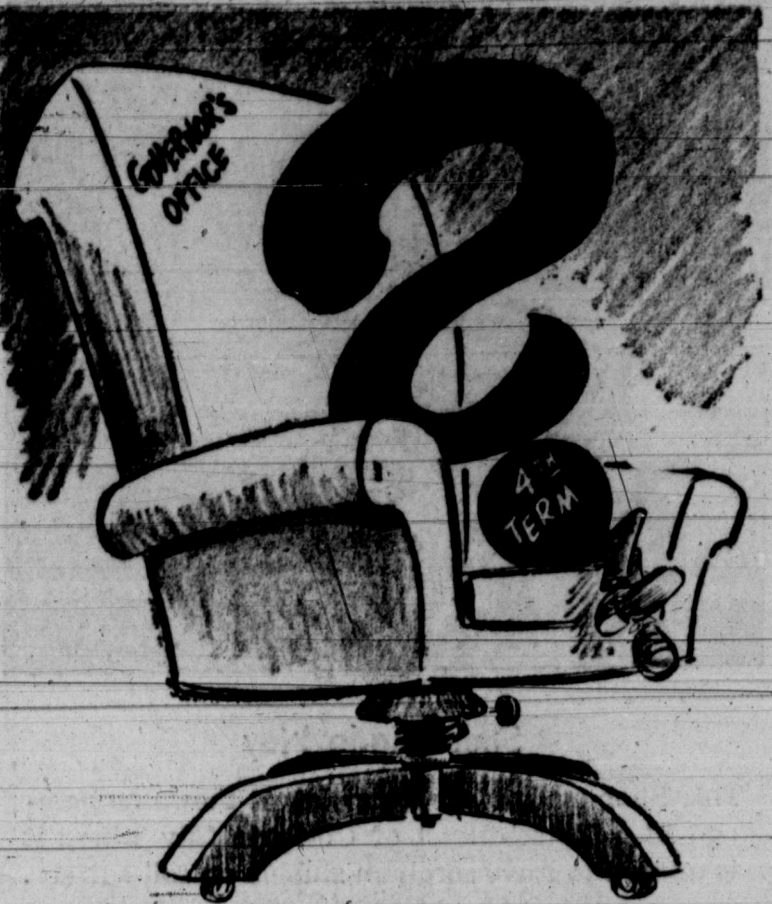

For some reason there comes to mind Horatio Alger's boy in "Bound To Rise." You may remember that Harry wrote to his father about losing his job in the cobbler's shop. He joined Professor Henderson, the ventriloquist, as his helper. Professor Henderson could throw his voice into a trunk, and from inside came the shout, "Let me out, let me out, or I shall die." The Professor also sold a little tin gadget that you put in the mouth, which, with practice, enabled anyone to throw his voice. Some of you will remember these sold at the traveling show or ordered from an ad.

One of these gadgets was tried out on Grandma one time, but all she said was, "Let you out of what, for Heaven's sake. Stop mumbling."

Our government is throwing a lot of money around in some pretty empty places and none of it is coming back. We mumble around over these huge figures, with everyone knowing that much more could be done to give us a safe fiscal condition, but the political ear is tuned in on so many programs of a popular nature that expenditures continue to climb upward. The cost of the Viet Nam war is greater than expected, and it continues to spiral.

A huge deficit erodes savings, pensions, annuities and affects all income except that of a purely speculative nature. Most of us would like to be "let out," but the lesser of evils has got to be faced.

State Highway Engineer Steps Down

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association
One day after receiving a 40-year service award from the Texas Highway Commission, State Highway Engineer Dewitt C. Greer announced his retirement.

Greer reached the mandatory retirement age of 65 on July 27. He was named to the post by the Commission, to stay in the job until the end of the year.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, acting as governor while Connally hunts in Africa, called on Greer at his office to present him with a framed copy of a proclamation making August 4 "Dewitt C. Greer Day" in Texas.

A celebration commemorating the Highway Department's 50 years is slated for September 26. A highlight of the celebration will be presentation to Greer of funds donated to endow in his honor a lectureship at the Texas A&M Civil Engineering Department.

Greer, a graduate of A&M went to work for the Highway Department in 1927 and became its top administrator in 1940. During his tenure as chief engineer, Greer has supervised the investment of more than $4,000,000 in a highway system that's grown from 20,359 miles to more than 68,000 during the past 27 years.

A former president of the American Association of State Highway Officials, Greer now serves on the organization's executive and legislative committees and has received its two highest honors for contributions to highway progress. In 1965, Texas Christian University made him an honor Doctor of Laws. Texas A&M gave him its Distinguished Alumni Award in 1966.

SUCCESSOR NAMED — Succeeding Greer on January 1 will be Asst. State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall who has been with the Department since 1928 except for the World War II years when he served in the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and four years he spent as Engineer-Manager of the Texas Turnpike Authority, supervising the financing, design and construction of the $58,000,000 Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike.

Dingwall served as the Department's supervising urban engineer in Houston, overseeing construction of the Gulf Freeway — the first major freeway built in Texas. He has been assistant state highway engineer since 1958.

In other Highway Department activity, Hal Woodward of Coleman was sworn in as chairman of the Highway Commission, and Herbert C. Petry Jr. of Carrizo Springs took the oath to begin an unprecedented third six-year term on the Commission.

Woodward, who succeeds Petry as chairman, was first named to the Commission in 1955.

AGENCIES — A deed has been signed by the School Land Board giving the United States the minerals under 47,895 acres in Guadalupe Mountains National Park. Two days of hearings, October 17-18, have been scheduled by the Texas Water Rights Commission on proposed cancellations of un-posed cancellations of unused water rights for diversion of water from the Rio Grande, indicating that the Commission will apply the newly passed Water Rights Adjudication Act to Rio Grande rights first.

Water Rights Commission has found that directors of Brazoria County Water Control and Improvement District No. 8 have failed to comply with the law by appointing directors to fill vacancies for which there is no unexpired term of office; by not holding annual elections for directors; by assessing taxes which are not equal and uniform; by not appointing a board of equalization; by collecting too much from the District for services and expenses; and by not calling a special election to fill vacancies.

Board of Insurance put the new driver penalty point system into effect on August 1. By levying $6,439,362 in penalties on drivers who had wrecks or serious traffic offenses during the year just ended, the Board was able to cut average rates by one per cent.

PRICE-FIXING — State of Texas has filed a price-fixing suit against five big drug firms.

Suit, entered in federal court at Dallas by Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin, seeks triple damages totaling about $12,000,000 from the producers of aureomycin, terramycin and tetracycline products. Drugs involved are used to treat both human and animal diseases and as animal feed supplements.

According to Martin, the federal government already has an anti-trust suit pending against the same firms: Charles Pfizer and Co., Inc.; American Cyanamid Co.; Bristol-Myers Co.; Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp.; and the Upjohn Co.

Martin alleges that the drug manufacturers charged state and local governments "unreasonably high" prices for the antibiotics through a conspiracy to limit their manufacture and sale.

Furthermore, the attorney general contends, the firms' actions inflated prices to retail druggists, wholesalers, private hospitals and the consumer.

Martin estimated more than $3,000,000 has been spent by state and local governments alone between November, 1953, and November, 1966, to buy antibiotics for use in public-supported hospitals, schools and other institutions and health or welfare programs.

Other states are contemplating similar suits, Martin said, and state attorneys general will discuss the case at their conference in Portland, Ore. on August 29.

HEALTH GRANTS — Seventy-eight health facilities have applied for federal Hill-Burton construction grants of more than $34,500,000, about twice as much as is expected to be available for Texas.

New 1968 Texas State Plan for Construction and Modernization of Hospitals and Related Medical Facilities now is available for review at the State Department of Health.

Hill-Burton Act provides funds to help finance construction and modernization of general hospitals and long-term facilities, diagnostic or treatment centers, rehabilitation facilities, tuberculosis hospitals and public health centers.

Fresh Aid For States' Air

Senator Cites New Pollution Bill

By RALPH YARBOROUGH

United States Senator

The Senate has approved, by a vote of 88-0, a bill designed to reduce the pollution and filth polluting our air — the Air Quality Act of 1967.

I co-sponsored this act with Senator Muskie of Maine, to authorize the spending of $375 million over the next three years to help our 50 states combat the increasing danger by pollution of our air with chemical and organic agents Sulfates, nitrates, carbons, metals and automobile exhaust-fumes are gradually poisoning our environment.

The bill now awaits action by the House of Representatives. It provides that the Department of Health Education, and Welfare will send to the states its research findings and its suggestions for industrial standards. Within 27 months each state must submit a plan to keep grime and poison out of our cities' air.

If a state fails to act, or sets standards and then does not enforce them, the federal government can substitute its aid. In other words, it is up to the states to exercise their responsibility and their states' rights, and only if they fail will the federal government take action.

The Public Health Service lists 20 Texas cities with varying degrees of air pollution problems. It rates these cities, but admits that these ratings are rather uncertain. Houston, Austin, El Paso, Lubbock, Odessa, and Wichita Falls are among the cities cited by the PH.S.

Unfortunately, Texas has not done much to prevent pollution. Our state government has sought new industry but has not insisted that these new companies control gases and waste particles that go into the air as by-products of their operations. Nor have we searched for ways to reduce automobile exhaust pollution.

Texas is the 10th most urbanized state in the United States. Yet, of 41 states with air pollution programs last year, Texas ranked 33rd in per capita spending.

Until recently air pollution was foreign to Texas. Even today it is easy to breathe the sweet cedar-scented air of the Hill Country or the fresh air of our rural areas and forget that pollution has become a real danger.

Our state, with a population of nearly 11 million people, spent less money to control pollution than Hawaii, which has less than a million inhabitants. Texas invested only $48,000, with an additional $58,000 in federal funds in 1966 for pollution control. Compare that with New York which spent a half million dollars. . . . New Jersey, $700,000. . . and California with a $2 1/2 million clean air program.

The federal government has made several grants to Texas cities this year for pollution control. Houston received $198,000; San Antonio $107,000; Lubbock $15,000; Dallas $36,000 and the Texas Air Control Board received $57,000.

In declaring Cleaner Air Week for October 22 through 28. . . President Johnson notes that "Of all the dangers our advanced civilization has created. . . none is more serious than the pollution of our air."

The Air Quality Act of 1967 provides for new funds and additional research programs. Texas must improve at the state level, however, if we are to leave our children a safe and healthful environment in which to live.

Sermon of the Week

Inner Strength

By REV. LARRY LAKEY

Pastor, First Assembly of God

Paul, in Philippians 4:13 writes a very profound truth, a truth that he not only tells the church at Philippi about, but a truth he has found real in his own life: "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

This has always been a precious scripture to me, and I have learned to lean on it many times. I have given it to others, to help them to see that they do not walk alone.

One day as I was reading the Amplified New Testament this scripture took on even a greater meaning for me. The Amplified reads "I have strength for all things in Christ Who empowers me — I am ready for anything and equal to anything through Him Who infuses inner strength into me, that is, I am self-sufficient in Christ's sufficiency."

Every day when I hear the news or see it in print, I am made more aware that this world is full of trouble. Men seemingly cannot find the answer to their problems, they cry for peace and more war breaks out. It's wonderful to know that in times like these, when there seems to be no answers for the problems we face, that there is one who can give us strength and help.

Paul said he had been in many different situations, he now knew how to live with plenty, and he also had learned how to be abashed, or to live without.

Why could Paul say this? Because he had become acquainted with the creator of the universe. He had inner strength infused into him from day to day. He was made sufficient in Christ's sufficiency.

Today many people are suffering from "cave-in." A cave-in is caused when the outward pressure is greater than inward force. The dictionary says, cave-in is to cease to resist; to become "forceless or disorganized."

Do you see yourself depicted in these definitions? Does everything get you down?

It would do everyone of us good in these days in which we live to look at Paul's writing in Philippians 4:13.

Remember, God is able to infuse inner strength into you. His word declares "My grace is sufficient."

Taxpayers Quiz

For Income Tax

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — The amounts I claimed for business travel and entertainment expenses are being questioned. What records do I need to back them up?

A — Generally speaking, you must be able to produce records to establish each of the following: (1) the amount of the expense; (2) the time and place; (3) the business purpose, and (4) the business relationship of those entertained.

A receipt or other documentary evidence is required for each travel or entertainment expenditure of $25 or more, with certain exceptions. IRS Publication No. 463, "Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses," outlines the rules for deducting these expenses. You can get a free copy by sending a post card to your district director.

You may want to look over this publication before you have your audit interview. It will also be helpful in maintaining your expense account records current.

Q — I just sold my house and had to pay a penalty on my mortgage since I paid it up early. Can I deduct this penalty when I file my tax return next year or do I add the penalty in as a cost of selling the house?

A — The penalty for paying off a mortgage before the due date is considered an interest charge and should be included with your other interest payments when you itemize deductions. This penalty is not to be included with your selling costs.

Q — I have my own business. How much can I put aside each year for retirement?

A — You may put as much as $2,500 a year into a plan or 10 percent of your "earned income," whichever is less. However, only one half of this amount can be deducted. For tax years beginning after December 31, 1967, the full amount of the permissible contribution can be deducted.

If you do create a retirement plan for yourself each of your full-time employees with three or more years of service must be included.

Sketching The Issues

For Amendments On Texas Ballot

First publication of proposed Texas Constitution amendments to be voted upon next Nov. 11 is in this edition of The Colorado City Record.

Fourteen additional amendments will be on the 1968 ballot — one year from this fall's election.

Eight of the 20 amendments are of interest mainly to special groups (eg: legislators or state employees). Eight others would provide local governments with new powers or duties. Only four of the group directly affect most Texans.

Amendments to be voted on this year will appear on the ballot in this order:

• No. 1, House Joint Resolution 3, to permit counties to put all tax money in a single general fund rather than dividing income in specified amounts among separate funds for earmarked purposes as is now required.

• No. 2, HJR 37, allowing cities and other governmental units within hospital districts to levy taxes for participation in mental health and mental retardation community centers.

• No. 3, HJR 17, reviving the veterans land program and authorizing a total of $400,000,000 in bonds to finance continued purchase of farm and ranch land by veterans, including those who have served in Southeast Asia during present hostilities.

• No. 4, HJR 6, authorizing counties to pay medical, doctor and hospital bills of county law enforcement officers injured in line of duty.

• No. 5, HJR 12, authorizing a $75,000,000 state revenue bond issue for the development of state parks and recreational areas. Bonds are expected to be financed by a small admission fee.

• No. 6, HJR 24, permitting state officers and employees to hold non-elective positions under the state or U. S. governments where there is no conflict of interest and where the state might benefit.

That's all for '67. Top interest in these amendments doubtless will center on the park bond proposal and the veterans land amendment.

Hospital mental health and mental retardation groups will emphasize the importance of Amendment No. 2 to the new community center approach of treating mental patients close to home.

Calling the 1967 election for Veterans Day and a Saturday, undoubtedly, was to assure a large voter turnout for the land fund amendment. A substantial campaign to urge its passage already is taking form.

Gov. John Connally is the principal backer of the parks bond issue. Last December he unveiled a 10-year plan for acquiring and developing 150,960 acres of recreational lands and historical sites. This would more than triple present state park acreage and upon a variety of new facilities for outdoor recreation.

Only opposition to the amendment to date has been based on the $1 a car park-entry fee, initially proposed by Connally to finance the vast program; and scattered complaints that facilities included in the governor's master plan do not adequately serve some areas of the state.

He is expected to spearhead an intensive fall campaign — supported by parks recreational and outdoor groups — to put over the bond issue.

The veterans land amendment would add another $200,000,000 to state bonds previously authorized and through which 35,300 veterans have purchased farm and ranch properties at low interest rates spread over a 40-year pay period.

This amendment would raise the amount which could be borrowed under the program from $7,500 to $10,000. The program was initiated in 1949. Additional bonds were approved by voters in 1951 and 1956. Amendments to enlarge the bond authorization were rejected at elections in 1963 and 1965. Opposition came mainly from Dallas and Houston.

Proponents emphasize that while thousands of veterans have benefited from the program, it has cost the state no money and actually has turned a profit of $2,500,000 a year while providing an expanded land market.

Opposition has adopted the argument that it is not the function of the state government to engage in the loan business and that veterans have had plenty of time to participate. Some also contend that "cheap money" invites purchases of land not needed and which will not be put to productive use.

Amendment No. 2 specifies that the legislature, in providing for creation of hospital districts, does not have to require that the districts assume full responsibility for community mental health and services. It would permit cities and counties to levy taxes and issue bonds for such services. Subdivisions within existing districts would be authorized to do so unless statutes expressly prohibit.

An attorney general's opinion held that the constitution does not allow political subdivisions within the boundary of a hospital district to levy taxes for medical and hospital service. Under that ruling, cities and counties located in such districts were restricted from participating in establishment of community health centers. Therefore, only hospital districts could establish such centers, a key part of the mental health program.

Amendments No. 3, No. 4 and No. 5 are self-explanatory and apparently non-controversial.

Amendment No. 6 is aimed primarily at permitting educators, who are paid from state funds, to serve on federal advisory boards.

In mills and factories across the country, they never stop working. By night as well as by day, the wheels of commerce grind out the goods we need as a nation.

It's a twenty-four hour job, this business of production, and it's a vital job — to you, your family, your town, our whole country. Like most vital jobs, it can't be stopped.

Faith is a vital job, too. It isn't simply something that God gives you, free of charge, on Christmas and at Easter. You have to work for real faith. You have to earn it. You have to keep at it.

Fortunately, to help you gain and sustain this vital faith, you have the Church to guide you. Start attending every Sunday and there absorb the wonders of God's teachings.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four good reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
