Director 'Guarantees' Problems Will Be Gone

WASHINGTON (AP) — Budget director David A. Stockman is guaranteeing that the setback the Reagan administration suffered at the hands of the Republican-dominated Senate Budget Committee will be reversed swiftly when Congress returns to work.

Three Republicans sided with the panel's Democrats last week in providing the votes needed to reject a budget blueprint drawn to meet the specifications of President Reagan's tax and spending proposals.

But Stockman, appearing Thursday at a White House briefing, said, "I would guarantee to you here today" that the problem that led the three Republicans to vote against the plan will be solved quickly.

He offered no details, but his comments echoed those of Sen. William Armstrong, R-Colo., who voted against the budget plan.

"In all likelihood, we're going to be able to put it together with very little difficulty," a vacationing Armstrong said by telephone from Florida. Both houses of Congress are on a two-week recess that ends April 27.

Armstrong was joined by Sens. Charles Grassley of Iowa and Steven Symms of Idaho in rejecting the budget proposal. They complained that the Reagan package would not guarantee the balanced budget that the president says his economic program will produce in 1984.

The administration has to come up with more than $70 billion in additional budget savings for 1983 and 1984 to balance the budget, but so far has resisted outlining specific cuts.

Meanwhile, a top Treasury Department official predicted that the administration's economic policies would moderate inflation and that interest rates should moderate later this year.

"We anticipate as the year continues we'll see further evidence... that prices are no longer surging upward because we have changed policy," said Beryl W. Sprinkel, undersecretary of the treasury for monetary affairs.

"If we continue to get stable, moderate growth of money, I expect that on average, interest rates are going to continue on downward," he told a news conference Thursday.

The administration predicts that if its policies are followed, inflation will drop from a 12.4 percent rate in 1980 to about 7 percent in 1982.

Reagan's anti-inflation proposals include cutting the federal budget and urging the Federal Reserve Board to maintain a steady, slow growth of the nation's supply of money. He also has called for tax cuts that he contends would stimulate real economic growth.

On Thursday, Treasury Undersecretary Norman B. Ture, a principal architect of Reagan's proposal to reduce personal income taxes by 30 percent over three years, said he never suggested a compromise on the tax-cut plan during a meeting last week with House Budget Committee Chairman James Jones, D-Okla.

The discussion set off a

Census Figures Show Senate District 31 May Be Enlarged

State Senatorial District 31, represented by Senator Bill Sarpalius of Hereford will probably be one of three senatorial districts in the state to be expanded by the legislature according to figures received from the 1980 Census.

Districts 31, 28, and 30 showed an increase in population over the past decade, but still are under the 458,980 population figure which has been deemed the ideal size for a state senatorial district by the legislature.

Sarpalius' district grew from 368,160 to 412,068 during the 1970s, an increase of 11.9 percent, but still 10.2 percent below the ideal figure.

District 31 is 3.6 percent black and 14.5 hispanic. Deaf Smith County, which is in District 31, was shown by the Census to be 1.9 percent black, 40.7 percent hispanic, and 57.5 percent other, which includes all non-blacks and non-hispanics.

Deaf Smith County's population as shown by the 1980 Census is 21,165, an increase of 2,166 persons over the 1970 Census, or an 11.4 percent gain.

A breakdown by county of the rest of Senatorial District 31, with 1970 figures in parentheses followed by 1980 figures includes:

Armstrong, (1,895) 1,994, an increase of 99 persons or 5.22 percent.

Bailey (8,487) 8,168, a decrease of 319 persons or 3.76 percent.

Carson (6,358) 6,672, an increase of 314 persons or 4.94 percent.

Castro (10,394) 10,556 an increase of 162 persons or 1.56 percent.

Collingsworth (4,755) 4,648, a decrease of 107 persons or 2.25 percent.

Dallam (6,012) 6,531, an increase of 519 persons or 8.36 percent.

Donley (3,641) 4,075, an increase of 434 persons or 11.92 percent.

Gray (26,949) 26,346, a decrease of 603 persons or 2.24 percent.

Hansford (6,351) 6,209, a decrease of 142 persons or 2.24 percent.

Hartley (2,782) 3,987, an increase of 1,205 persons or 43.31 percent.

Reagan, Mexican Head Conference Promoted

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — Gov. Bill Clements says a June meeting of the governors of U.S. and Mexican border states will provide a basis for binding agreements when the presidents of the two nations meet later this year.

President Reagan and Mexican President Jose Lopez Portillo were scheduled to meet last week. But the meeting was postponed because of the assassination attempt on Reagan.

"I can guarantee you that President Reagan is not going to ignore what we in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and California feel and know about this border situation," Clements said.

The governor made the comments and promoted an upcoming conference between officials of the two countries during a visit to El Paso Thursday.

Clements said energy will be one of the primary issues at the June conference between governors of the four U.S. border states and the six Mexican border states.

Clements spoke with optimism several times of what will transpire at the meeting, where the governors also will consider such issues as pollution along the border, illegal aliens, drug traffic and business development.

The governor also said that the United States must keep in mind the needs of Mexico as well as its own needs in business and government.

He gave the speech on Mexican oil to a meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which has been discussing relations with Mexico.

In particular, the governor emphasized Mexican oil supplies, which he says have the potential of equaling world powers such as Saudi Arabia.

"To state it quite simply, Mexico has oil, and while we need it, there is much more we have to take into account," Clements said. "We must start with what Mexico needs and wants."

"What they don't want is to simply be a crude oil supplier for the rest of the world," he said. "What they do want is to use their tremendous oil reserves to build the foundation for lasting growth and prosperity."

Clements also dedicated the city's new foreign trade zone, which recently was approved by the Commerce Department.

The trade zone is a 60-acre tract near the El Paso International Airport along the site of the old Butterfield Overland Trail.

Miners Found Dead

REDSTONE, Colo. (AP) — Rescue workers found the bodies of 15 coal miners early today, a day and a half after an explosion ripped through the Dutch Creek No. 1 mine in the Colorado Rockies, a spokeswoman for the mine operator said.

The discovery of the 15th body just after sunup today concluded the search for those killed in the explosion Wednesday afternoon, said Marvin Meyers, personnel director for Mid Continent Resources Co., which operates the mine 30 miles west of Aspen.

The cause of the explosion was not immediately known, but there was speculation that the miners might have hit a methane gas pocket, which triggered the blast. Miners say being near a methane exposure in a mine shaft would be like being in an exploding gun barrel.

Nine bodies were discovered in the main tunnel just before midnight Thursday, and five more were found about three hours later in a branch corridor about 1,000 feet from the first group, said spokeswoman Mary Boland.

Meyers said the last miner, identified as Kelly B. Greene, 25, of New Castle, was found 3 1/2 hours after rescue workers found the second group of bodies.

Ms. Boland said Mid-

Continent President John Reeves was with the rescuers who discovered the first nine bodies, and he reported that the victims appeared to have been killed instantly by the explosion.

The first nine victims were identified as Kyle Cook, 33, of Silt, Colo.; Richard Lincoln, 22, Glenwood Springs; Loren Mead, 35, Rifle; Ronald Patch, 34, Carbondale; Terry Lucero, 28, Glenwood Springs; Glen Sharp, 31, El Jebel; John Ayala, 40, Carbondale; John Rhodes, 29, Carbondale, and Robert Ragle, 29, New Castle.

Meyers released the names of the five other victims: Thomas Vetter, 24; William E. Guthrie, 32; Daniel Litwiller, 21; and Hugh W. Pierce Jr., 20, all of Glenwood Springs; and Brett Tucker, 30, Carbondale.

He said the bodies were being removed from the mine district office to Farnham Richardson Mortuary in

District Office May Be Completed Soon

The new office of the Deaf Smith County Tax Appraisal District may be ready for occupancy in as early as two weeks according to the district's chief appraiser Fred Fox. When the new office, located on the first floor of the Old Central School, is opened all tax business within the county will be handled through it.

Fox reported the appraisal district is "well within its budget" following a called meeting of the board Wednesday evening. Much of the time at the called meeting was used in discussing the employment of an accounting firm for the district during its first year of operation.

The board decided to employ Cornell & Company of Amarillo, the firm which currently serves the Hereford Independent School District Tax Office.

"The board felt that Cornell's experience with various taxing entities would be beneficial this first year," Fox said. "Their help will come mainly in setting up a maintenance fund for the district, and auditing the fund in December."

Fox said that the district

South Plains Residents Voice Disproval Of MX

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — The MX missile system is an undesirable neighbor that would take too much agricultural land out of production and use money that could be spent to feed the hungry, a group of South Plains residents has told an Air Force panel.

The panel was in Lubbock Thursday for one of 16 hearings scheduled in four states that may become the system's home.

Federal spokesmen say the preferred site for the 200 missiles and 4,600 launch sites is in Nevada and Utah. But an alternate plan would based the system between Dalhart, Texas, and Clovis, N.M.

About 125 South Plains residents attended the afternoon session, and about 90 showed up for the evening meeting. Most of those attending expressed their disapproval of the Texas-New Mexico proposal.

"We're not against the MX system per se," said Carl King, spokesman for the Texas Corn Growers Association. "We're not against it if it's necessary for deterrence, but we are against using agricultural land (as a site for the system)."

About 10 protesters picketed the meetings, wearing signs that read, "Help Unborn, Abort MX" and "No MX."

"I ask that we scrap the entire system altogether," said Regina Foppe, a Catholic nun from Lubbock. "We should replace it with a project to feed our 500 million starving brothers and sisters."

The Air Force earlier held meetings in Austin, telling those who attended meetings there that the MX system is a necessary deterrent to an increased Soviet military threat.

Public hearings will be held in Amarillo on April 20, and in Dalhart on April 21.

Oilmen Sentenced To 14-Month Terms

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Two Texas oilmen have been sentenced, to 14 months in federal prison after pleading guilty earlier this month to charges of illegally increasing crude oil prices.

John T. Troland and David W. Ratliff, both of Abilene, also were fined $10,000 each in the Thursday hearing before U.S. District Judge James Ellison.

Troland is board chairman and Ratliff is president of West Texas Marketing in Abilene. The men admitted falsifying the certification of 77,500 barrels of crude oil.

Shotgun-Wielding Men

Rob Bank at Chico

CHICO, Texas (AP) — Officials have declined to say how much money two masked men carrying shotguns got away with in their robbery of a bank in this small Northwest Texas town.

The men made eight employees and eight customers of the First State Bank of Chico lie on the floor while they forced the bank president to open a vault and fill a pillowcase with money. The robbery occurred shortly after noon Thursday.

Two Chico residents followed the robbers' car for several miles, but lost sight of the brown, late model Oldsmobile when it turned down a dirt road.

No one was hurt in the robbery and no shots were fired, officials said.

Texas Rangers, Wise County sheriff's officials and FBI agents are investigating the robbery.

Chico is located about 40 miles northwest of Fort Worth.

Eight Die in Fire

At K.C. Apartment

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A fire in a 10-story mid-town apartment building early today claimed the lives of at least eight elderly residents, according to police.

Budget

flurry of congressional claims — and White House denials — that the administration might accept a one-year tax cut plan instead of the three-year proposal pushed by Reagan.

Reagan has said he is not willing to compromise on the multiyear tax-cut proposal.

Stockman, meanwhile, insisted that a new study by the Congressional Budget Office demonstrates that the president's program will maintain a "safety net" of protection beneath the nation's neediest citizens.

"We welcome the CBO study because we think it demonstrates that the president's safety net is still intact," he said. Critics of the president's program said the study demonstrates how the cuts in social programs will hurt the needy.

But Stockman said the study, which evaluated the cuts proposed in welfare, school lunches, food stamps and public jobs, said 96 percent of the people living at or near the poverty line would "not experience any serious reduction in spendable income."

He also he conceded that spendable income would decline slightly — as much as 5 percent — for half of the group, about 47 percent.

Fifteen percent of the people living on up to 150 percent of the poverty line would experience a gain in spendable

Officers said 27 people were known to have been injured.

The fire in the Westport Central Apartments was discovered shortly after 2 a.m. and was reported under control about two hours later.

Officials released a statement saying the fire was contained to the first floor, but the entire building was filled with smoke and the second floor suffered extensive heat and smoke damage.

Six of the victims, police said were found between the second floor and the ninth floor. Two bodies were found just outside the apartments. Police said all of the victims appeared to have died of smoke inhalation.

Authorities said an estimated 184 people, most of them elderly, lived in the apartments.

The cause of the fire was not known.

Senate Approves Land

Titles for Families

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Senate has approved a proposal to allow three Leon County families to own the land they have lived on for more than 50 years without, presumably, knowing they lacked legal title.

"We've taken action as swiftly as possible to resolve this problem that has weighed heavily on the minds of the Jessie Johnsons, the Ray Benges, the McDamases and others for quite some time. I am pleased that the Senate has acted with due speed in this matter, without prolonging the issue and the anguish felt by those families," said Sen. Kent Caperton, D-Bryan.

The issue was first publicized when Rep. Senfronia Thompson, D-Houston, accused the General Land Office of trying to take away Jessie Johnson's land.

Johnson, 81, bought 120 acres in Leon County in 1928 and finished paying for it 40 years ago, but the state still owns it because of a 140-year-old defect in the original seller's title.

Caperton's proposed constitutional amendment would authorize the School Land Board to issue patents — or titles — if a person acquired school land without knowing the title was defective, had held the land in good faith for 50 years prior to November 1981 and had paid taxes on the land.

Caperton's amendment was sent to the House on a 28-0 vote Thursday. It would go on a statewide ballot in November 1982. It differs from House proposals by Ms. Thompson and Rep. Jim Turner, D-Crockett, in that their amendments call for a 1981 vote.

Stockman Guarantees Setback to be Reversed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Budget director David A. Stockman is guaranteeing that the setback the Reagan administration suffered at the hands of the Republican-dominated Senate Budget Committee will be reversed swiftly when Congress returns to work.

Three Republicans sided with the panel's Democrats last week in providing the votes needed to reject a budget blueprint drawn to meet the specifications of President Reagan's tax and spending proposals.

But Stockman, appearing Thursday at a White House briefing, said, "I would guarantee to you here today" that the problem that led the three Republicans to vote against the plan will be solved quickly.

He offered no details, but his comments echoed those of Sen. William Armstrong, R-Colo., who voted against the budget plan.

"In all likelihood, we're going to be able to put it together with very little difficulty," a vacationing Armstrong said by telephone from Florida.

TI Airlines Files Suit

Against Continental

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Texas International Airlines has filed suit against the management of Continental Airlines and the newly formed Continental Employees Association, accusing them of conspiring to block the Houston carrier's takeover bid.

The suit filed Thursday in U.S. District Court here claimed Continental, its president, A.L. Feldman, the airline's directors and the CEA had violated federal securities laws by seeking to entrench themselves and prevent TIA from taking control of the airline. A Continental spokesman immediately denied the charges.

Vietnamese Fishermen Fear KKK

HOUSTON (AP) — Vietnamese fishermen, saying they fear what could happen to them if they are still working in Galveston Bay after a May 15 deadline, have filed suit asking the federal government to protect them against the Ku Klux Klan and others.

The suit seeks injunctions against the Klan and asks for federal deputies and the possible assistance of the U.S. Coast Guard in the bay where tensions have run high between local fishermen and refugees of the Vietnam war who settled here.

Klansmen said they welcome Thursday's lawsuit because it "shows we're effective" and takes the issue to court where the Klan says it will "expose these Vietnamese for the parasites they have become upon our society."

The Vietnamese complain they have been victims of "intimidation, harassment, threats, violence and other illegal actions ... to obstruct them from fishing in Galveston Bay."

Two Vietnamese boats have been burned in recent weeks, and Klansmen have held rallies, burned crosses and mock boats and ridden "patrol boats" in the bay carrying guns and wearing robes.

The "grand dragon" of the Texas Klan, Louis Beam, called another rally in the bay area for May 9 and said "only a fool can expect these Texans to give up their birthright without a fight."

The Vietnamese say the Klan has warned them to get out of the area by May 15 of the Klan would be forced to "take matters into its own hands," according to the suit.

Asked what would happen if the refugees were still in the bay after that day, Beam said, "I'm not a prophet or a seer. Violence is possible, but it is avoidable at this point."

The class action suit was filed by the Vietnamese Fishermen's Association, which represents 58 fishermen owning 51 boats in the bay area.

They are among about 2,500 Vietnamese who settled on the Texas coast after the fall of Saigon in 1975.

Resettlement agencies placed the refugees along the coast on the assumption that its warm climate and fishing opportunities would be familiar to the Asians. But instead of a peaceful coexistence, there have been clashes between the natives and the newcomers for the past two years.

"We came to this country seeking a land of freedom where we could raise our families in peace," said Nguyen Van Nam, a former colonel in the Vietnamese army and now president of the refugee group. His wife and two young daughters accompanied him at a press conference called to announce the federal civil suit.

Native fishermen claim the Vietnamese overcrowd prime shrimping waters, violate game laws and threaten to wipe out certain shrimping areas by over-fishing. The Vietnamese say they are just trying to make a living and want to obey local laws.

"My wife over there and my children and the others — they worried. They scared," Nguyen said.

Previously he and most of the members of his association agreed to leave the area if they could sell their boats, but Nguyen said so far not a single one has been able to do so. He said if the vessels are not sold by May 15, they will continue to shrimp in the bay as before.

"I don't know from today to May 15 we can sell our boat or not. But I think in near future I will get out from this area. I keep my word what I promise," he said in halting English.

An attorney for the Vietnamese, Morris Dees, said the refugees will not sell out for cut rates just because of the Klan's activities.

"None of our clients will leave this area with a gun to their heads or with an armed patrol boat patrolling the back of their houses like they did Col Nguyen's home recently, shouting threats to his family," he said.

Miners

Glenwood Springs

Some of the miners' families were huddled around campfires near the gate at the mine road entrance when someone ran up shouting, "They're all dead! They're all dead!"

Relatives of one miner jumped up, their bodies racked with sobs.

There were 22 men inside when the blast occurred Wednesday afternoon. Seven men made it out immediately after the explosion, which officials have said could have been caused by methane gas. Three were hospitalized for burns, bruises and shock.

Delaney said rescuers had been moving slowly because of "rather conservative" federal rescue procedures that require crews to "build a path of clean air" as they approach an accident site.

Crews with breathing equipment moved down the sloping tunnel in front of miners who were rebuilding the ventilation system and shoring up the corridor with timber. They also had to pump out water which had seeped in from water pockets inside the mountain.

The mine contains methane monitors to detect potentially dangerous levels of the colorless and odorless gas. But some miners would adjust the monitors so they wouldn't register actual levels, allowing the men to work longer hours and earn overtime, said Charles Corey, president of the Redstone Workers Association. The independent union represents the workers at the Dutch Creek mine.

Debbie Powe, sister-in-law of one of the missing miners, Eugene Guthrie, said, "Eugene would talk about the mine and the methane gas, but he was not really fearful. I think he respected it. He knew what the hazards were."

income, he said.

There would be no change for 34 percent.

"There will be a few isolated cases where adverse impacts will occur," he said. But he also said that the study "misses a major point" when it omits any effect for what the administration says will be improvements in inflation, interest rates and unemployment if its program is enacted.

The CBO study said at least 20 million to 25 million people, most of them living below the poverty line, would see their incomes cut as a result of Reagan's proposed reductions.

It said that 51 percent of the estimated 16.5 million families with income up to 150 percent of the poverty line would lose under the cuts in four programs under study.

But it said that for most families, the loss would be a few percentage points.

Income for a family of four living at 150 percent of the poverty line amounts to $12,615.

Lone Star Club Members Host Annual Guest Day

Lone Star Study Club held its annual Guests' Day Tuesday at the Ward Parlor of the First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. John R. Stevenson presented a program to members and their guests concerning the origin of the Passion Play.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mmes. Dale Tinnin, Mrs. Arthur Dettmann, John Jacobsen Jr., and J.C. Williams.

Mrs. Stevenson told of the origin of the Passion Play in Oberammergau, a village in Germany, Bavaria which is 42 miles south, southwest of Munich.

The people of this village made a pledge to God to always glorify the name of Jesus as God had saved them from a plague that was sweeping across Europe. They chose the Passion Play as a way to do this.

Mrs. Stevenson and Mrs. F.L. Naylor were able to see the Passion Play this past summer when they were on tour of Germany. Mrs. Stevenson bought slides of the play and returned home with them. No one is permitted to take pictures of the plays. The story of each slide was narrated during the program.

Refreshments were served from a table which was decorated in the Easter motif.

A brief business meeting was held before the program with Mrs. Jacobsen presiding. Members and their guests at the meeting included Mrs. L.N. Cox, Miss Naomi Spann; Mrs. F.O. Naylor-Miss Karen Spann; Mrs. W.H. Goettesch; Miss Carrie Mae Doak; Mrs. Ray Suit-Miss Pet Vaughn; Mrs. V.E. Dodson-Miss Mildred Dorter; Mrs. Jim Bookout-Mrs. R.W. Eades; Mrs. J.J. Durham-Mrs. Irving Willoughby; Mrs. Arthur Dettmann-Mrs. D.C. Kinsey; Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr.-Mrs. R.H. Cocanougher; Mrs. Mildred Elliott-Miss Hilda Havens; and Mmes. S.S. Williams, G.W. Newsom, C.B. Womble, Jim Higgins, Dale Tinnin and J.C. Williams.

The next meeting will be May 12 with Mrs. Durham, Mrs. Goettesch and Mrs. Williams.

Special Tablecloths

Grace Simms and Mrs. Clarence McBroom display the white lace tablecloths which will be used at King's Manor for Easter Sunday dinner. Mrs. Simms, manor resident, donated the cloth and Mrs. McBroom and other women of the Palo Duro Baptist Church attached the lace borders. The cloths will be used for special occasions.

Rudds to Perform Musical Recital

Rebecca and Elizabeth Rudd, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rudd, will perform a violin recital Monday at 7:30 p.m. at Deaf Smith County Library Heritage Room sponsored by the Hereford Music Club. Cindy Vaughn and Michael Dunning are accompanists.

Rebecca is a junior at Texas Tech State University and is majoring in music education. She has been a student of Dr. Virginia Kellogg in Lubbock for the past four years. Rebecca started playing the violin in the fourth grade and has been studying for 10 years. She played in the school orchestra program and in the All-State Orchestra during her last year of high school of 1978-79. She also played in the WTSU Concerto Festival for Young String Artists.

Elizabeth is a graduating senior of Hereford High School and is also studying under Dr. Kellogg. She has been playing violin for eight years in the school orchestra program beginning her fourth grade year. Elizabeth played in the WTSU Concerto Festival for Young String Artists.

Bach, Nardini, Mendelssohn, Viatti, Dvorak, Handel and Mozart will be performed at the recital and all patrons of the arts are welcome.

Lubbock PTA Plans Drug Abuse Seminar

The Lubbock Parent Teacher Association city council will sponsor a free drug abuse seminar April 24 at the Monterey High School.

The seminar will be held from 8:30 a.m. - 4 p.m. Guest speakers will be Sue Rusche, Dr. Carlton Turner and Brigadier General Robinson Risner.

Ms. Rusche is the author of manuals used nationally for forming parent peer groups. Turner is the project director for the National Institute on Drug Abuse marijuana project. Risner, a former prisoner of war at Hanoi who has made his focus the youth of America, is the executive director of the Drug Abuse Research and Education Foundation.

The seminar is in conjunction with the Texas War on Drugs Committee.

According to Ross Perot, chairman of the committee, illegal drugs are the number one criminal and social problem in Texas and is estimated to be a 50-60 billion dollar-a-year business.

The use of marijuana, cocaine, prescription pills and heroin continues to rise in the state which is a major transshipment area of illegal drugs because of coastlines, borders and airports.

Today, one out of eight high school seniors in Texas is a daily marijuana user and four out of 100 12-year olds have experimented with marijuana in the past month, Perot stated.

"We are pleased to have the PTA join this effort on a state-wide basis. The involvement of the PTA will enable us to organize every school in Texas on a classroom-by-classroom basis to train both parents and children about the dangers of drugs," Perot said.

The California legislature named a large lake on the California-Nevada border Lake Bigler, in honor of Gov. William Bigler (1814-1880), but the people ignored the official name and continued to call it Lake Tahoe, an Indian term meaning "big water."

Stephens to be at Full Gospel Men's Meeting

Martin and Eileen Stephen will be this month's guests at the Hereford chapter of Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship meeting Saturday.

A buffet supper will be served for $3.65 per person beginning at 7 p.m. The meeting will begin at 7:45 p.m. at the Hereford High School cafeteria.

Martin Stephen is a member of the "Singing Cameron Family" which appears frequently on the television show, PTL Club.

The Scottish couple are from a Presbyterian background and present a message in song, testimony and teaching.

Many of their songs are composed by themselves and other members of the Cameron Clan. After they had travelled with the Camerons for four years, they were led into full-time ministry in February of 1975.

"In this age of materialism and professionalism, the Lord is using them to bring a breath of the Holy Spirit to His people and many are saved, healed and baptised in the Holy Spirit through their ministry," a spokesman for the Hereford chapter said.

Special Holy Week Invitation

7:30 p.m. Good Friday night, Immanuel Lutherans invite the community to take part in the youth led Tenebrae, extinguishing the candles drama, and observe the Christian Passover, using Matzo, pancake like unleavened bread, and passing the Cup around the Seder table, at Park and Ave. B.

Doyle Vogler and Kirk Jones are in charge of the youth led Tenebrae worship, which includes over a dozen young people. Pastor Ed Brown is to share a message, on "Why This Friday is so Good."

Easter, known as "Resurrection Sunday," the greeting used by Christians for almost two thousand years, as we first see each other, is "He is Risen." The answer used is: "He is Risen Indeed!" How about using this greeting wherever we go on Easter-Resurrection Sunday? ask pastor Ed.

As a community service, the famous movie, "THE HIDING PLACE" is to be shown without charge, Sunday night, 26 April, in the church building, at 7:30 p.m. The community is welcome. The movie lasts 2 hours 15 minutes.

The basement remodeling project continues, with the kitchen part now mostly completed. The church basement is a designated fall out shelter, and is available as a tornado shelter, and has been used as such.

Esther Springer's family thanks the community for the love and support shown during her illness and funeral. Immanuel congregation is helping channel support for Esther's interests in serving the community. "Her main concern was in sharing the teaching of God's forgiveness and love in Christ to all who come repentant," says pastor Ed. She particularly wanted to reach out to those of Hispanic origins.

A team of youth and a youth counselor, Michael Klein look forward to the Youth Leadership workshop in Austin in May. Mary Weinhold, youth staffer, trained to help youth groups, is to be invited here for the third week in June.

Ann Landers

A Horror Lover

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'll be 30 next June, and I finally found someone to love who loves me back. He's a good, honest, hard-working guy who treats me with respect and decency. He wants to marry and have kids, and I want to marry him.

We agree on a lot of important things, but there's one trouble. He loves horror movies and wants me to go with him. I hate them.

My dad is a Methodist minister, and he questions the values and sanity of anyone who can stand such films. I guess I've been ingrained with my folks' ideals, but I don't want to lose a good man over what could be a foolish prejudice. Is it normal or healthy to enjoy horror films? Can you help with expert advice on the subject?—Dilemma in Denver

DEAR DIL: I have not been to a horror movie since I was scared out of my wits by Lon Chaney in the "Hunchback of Notre Dame" (1930).

How people can enjoy this sort of thing is beyond me—but they do. And it doesn't mean they are unhealthy or abnormal.

Let him go to these ghastly films alone. To rule him out as a husband because of this one difference in taste would be foolish.

DEAR ANN: Two years ago my then-20-year-old brother went to New York on vacation. He has been there ever since.

My parents thought it was a good idea for him to try being on his own. They gave him a car and financial assistance.

Barely a month goes by that Mike doesn't call and ask for money to pay the rent, or get his car out of the garage, or buy clothes or pay for voice or acting lessons.

My mother is against sending him any more financial help, but Dad is afraid if they stop, Mike will get desperate and resort to crime. My parents are not rich and have had to make many sacrifices over the past two years. Mike is the kind of person who won't change the oil in his car until the engine stops.

Should they continue to support him, or should they cut the supply line and let him tread water on his own?—Ohio's Prodigal Son

DEAR OHIO: Mike didn't get the way he is when he left home for New York. The qualities you are describing were developed a long time ago. If your parents continue to support Mike, he will never be able to make it on his own. The only help I'd OK now would be a ticket home.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We are expecting a baby and don't know what to do about the name. The one I really wanted has already been used by a relative, who has the same last name as ours. So, it's out.

Several friends are expecting babies, too. If they use a name we were considering, should we be polite and not use that name—or should we go ahead and use it anyway?

Also, we want to send birth announcements. Someone suggested we work from the wedding guest list, so no one will feel slighted. What do you say?—St. Pete

DEAR PETE: Name the baby anything you want. I do think you are wise, however, not to use the same name as a relative whose last name is identical to yours.

At Wits End

By ERMA BOMBECK

Stories about children who are geniuses absolutely intrigue me. I read about a little girl recently who, at the age of seven months, was reading off the diaper box. At age three, she read an instruction booklet out loud covering the 1040 tax forms, and one night when she was two, she met her Daddy at the door by reciting Shakespeare with a childish lisp, "Is thy name Robert a fair name? I'll have no father if you be not him."

That's putting it on the line. I read of another child who was 2½ years old, spoke five languages, played the guitar and built his own computer out of the telephone in his mother's kitchen.

I think I got a Christmas newsletter from them last year. In fact, there are 2.5 million youngsters in this country who are certifiably gifted. Thirty-five of them lived on our block. It was very intimidating and I played the game as long as I could. Whenever all the mothers got together, the first liar didn't stand a chance.

If I said my child had "slept dry" for three nights, another mother said her child had not only stayed dry, but had sat up with two bedwetters who needed help to get through the night.

If my child played "Theme From Dr. Zhivago" on his nose, the next mother informed the group that her toddler was guest conductor for the Cincinnati Symphony next season.

After awhile, I just couldn't keep up. They discovered my child couldn't speed-read when he was busily tracing his finger back and forth across six or seven books a minute--and the books were upside down.

They discovered he had indeed mixed his own formula for his bottle--but he was seven years old at the time.

Things really came to a head one day when I was in the supermarket and asked my child to put a loaf of bread in my basket. He said he couldn't remember which one was mine and a mother of a genius said, "You can't miss it. It's the one with your brother in it."

Did you know that Einstein failed his entrance exams at Polytechnic Institute in Zurich? At times like that, it's nice to think about.

Submarine Vets Of WW II Sought

The Texas Chapter of the U.S. Submarine Veterans of World War II is trying to locate all submarine veterans who served on U.S. submarines or in submarine relief crews during World War II between December 7, 1941 and December 31, 1946.

This year the Texas Chapter's State Convention will be in Galveston, May 1-3. All submarine veterans and their families are invited. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of submarine veterans are requested to notify them of this reunion of shipmates.

The following weekend, May 8-10, a regional convention will be held at Checotah, OK.

In September, the National Convention will be in Sacramento, CA. For more information, contact Mr. J.A. "Jim" Woodall, Texas State Secretary, P.O. Box 1368, Galveston, TX 77553 or call (713) 765-7910 or (713) 763-8897.

Employment Program to Aid In Summer Jobs for Teenagers

WASHINGTON

Secretary of Labor Raymond J. Donovan announced that an estimated 850,000 to 900,000 economically disadvantaged youth, 14-21, will be hired this summer under the U.S. Department of Labor's Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP).

Donovan said that $799 million is being apportioned among the 476 state and local governments serving as prime sponsors under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). An additional $14 million will be available for jobs for Native American youth from tribes and reservations.

"This summer jobs program represents a sound investment in the disadvantaged youth of our nation," Secretary Donovan said.

"By providing them with useful summer job experiences," Donovan added, "we help these young men and women prepare themselves for productive adult lives."

"President Reagan, in his budget message, described the summer jobs program as one part of the nation's safety net for the truly needy."

The Secretary said the number of jobs set aside for disadvantaged youth this summer would total approximately 1.6 million to 1.8 million through a variety of sources, including the federal government's own summer aides hiring program, the National Alliance of Business, and the programs of community based organizations, all aided by the United States Employment Service and its 2,560 local Job Service offices.

The areas receiving the largest summer jobs allocations are New York City, $34 million; Chicago and Cook County, $30 million; and Los Angeles and Los Angeles County, $24 million. The Secretary pointed out that the extent of unemployment and poverty in each area governs that amount of funds allocated.

This is the 16th year of the program. It has served more than 10 million youth.

Under SYEP, youth get experience in a variety of job settings. These include X-ray, laboratory, medical, and dental assistants; library, teacher, museum, and legal aides; maintenance helpers; lifeguards; clerks; typists; junior coaches and counselors; and trainee positions in such skills as sheetmetal shaping, boiler-room operation and warehousing.

SYEP projects include community beautification, tree planting, and neighborhood clean-up, construction of bike and hiking trails, developing historical information, and weatherizing houses of low-income families.

Last year's summer program provided jobs for about 80,000 youth at approximately 165,000 worksites. The jobs were available during late June, July, August, and early September.

Summer program participants are recruited from families determined to be "economically disadvantaged" on the basis of total family income.

New Bill Would Help Stop Convenience Store Robberies

"Manager killed at convenience store." "Missing clerk found dead." "Manager found dead in street near store."

"Shocking headlines like these are much too common these days," Senator Walter Mengden, Republican from Harris County, said. "The Department of Public Safety statistics show that 5,105 convenience store robberies were committed in Texas in 1980. Almost half of all commercial robberies and about one-fifth of all robberies in Texas occur in convenience stores," he noted.

"It's time to fight back against these crooks who are terrorizing convenience store employees and customers and looting cash registers like they were a kid's piggy bank," Senator Mengden added.

"I have introduced Senate Bill 1205 to help put a stop to these crimes," he said.

"All this bill does is apply common sense to make convenience stores less convenient for criminals," Senator Mengden continued.

"By installing silent alarms or telephones behind the counter, putting in safes to hold spare cash, prohibiting the counting of huge amounts of cash in public, and protecting employees against personal liability for their own injuries or for money lost during robberies, we can help tip the scales against the crooks and in favor of law-abiding property owners, workers, and customers."

"The minor cost of these protective measures will be more than offset by the savings in lost revenues, totaling over $1.8 million in 1980, and by an increase in patronage from folks who won't go in convenience stores now, for fear they'll walk into a stick-up," Senator Mengden said.

"More importantly," he added, "we'll reduce the number of senseless murders of innocent people, whose only crime is that they're working for a living or shopping for a few groceries."

"I invite store owners, store employees, and the public to join me. This is not just a battle against thugs and common criminals. It's a battle for a safer and freer community for all of us," Senator Mengden concluded.

The Newspaper BIBLE

DON'T GET DISTRACTED; FOCUS ON HIM!

Jesus said to all, "Anyone who wants to follow Me must put aside his own desires and conveniences and carry his cross with him every day and keep close to Me! Whoever loses his life for My sake will save it, but whoever insists on keeping his life will lose it; and what profit is there in gaining the whole world when it means forfeiting one's self?"

"When I, the Man of Glory, come in My glory and in the glory of the Father and the holy angels, I will be ashamed then of all who are ashamed of Me and of My words now."

"But this is the simple truth--some of you who are standing here right now will not die until you have seen the Kingdom of God!"

Eight days later He took Peter, James, and John with Him into the hills to pray. And as He was praying, His face began to shine, and His clothes became dazzling white and blazed with light.

Then two men appeared and began talking with Him--Moses and Elijah! They were splendid in appearance, glorious to see; and they were speaking of His death at Jerusalem, to be carried out in accordance with God's plan.

Peter and the others had been very drowsy and had fallen asleep. Now they woke up and saw Jesus covered with brightness and glory, and the two men standing with Him.

As Moses and Elijah were starting to leave, Peter, all confused and not even knowing what he was saying, blurted out, "Master, this is wonderful! We'll put up three shelters--one for You and one for Moses and one for Elijah!"

But even as he was saying this, a bright cloud formed above them; and terror gripped them as it covered them. And a voice from the cloud said, "This is My Son, My Chosen One; listen to Him." Then, as the voice died away, Jesus was there alone with His disciples.

Rose Bats Phils by Pirates; Montreal Blanks Chicago, 7-0

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Life at 40 is treating Pete Rose just fine these days.

Rose belted two doubles and a single Thursday night while Mike Schmidt drilled a solo homer as the Philadelphia Phillies beat Pittsburgh 5-3 to sweep a three-game series from the Pirates.

The Montreal Expos blanked the Chicago Cubs 7-0 and the St. Louis Cardinals topped the New York Mets 5-1 in the only other National League games.

Rose, who turned 40 on Tuesday, has 13 hits (including five doubles) in 26 at-bats this season. He needs 61 hits to set the all-time NL hit record, now held by Stan Musial with 3,630.

"I think it's my best hitting start ever," said Rose, playing his 19th season. "It might seem impossible, but I think I might swing the bat even better in the next weeks."

Phillies Manager Dallas Green isn't so amazed. "Pete had a good stroke when I pitched to him. He hit home runs off of me," said Green, a pitcher for Philadelphia in the 1960s. "He's got one thing on his mind right now and with the way he's going, he might set the record before May 29," the day the players say they may strike.

Pirates Manager Chuck Tanner, meanwhile, isn't too worried about his team's slow start.

"We came in here and hit the ball hard at people. Pretty soon they'll start falling in," said Tanner, who noted his 1979 world championship team also got off to a 1-4 start.

Dick Ruthven, 2-0, had a shaky first inning. Pittsburgh leadoff hitter Omar Moreno reached on an error, stole second and dashed home on Jason Thompson's single. Pirates sparkplug Bill Madlock, who collects fine wines in his spare time, collected a fine hit — one of his three — after a Mike Easler single to make it 2-0.

Ruthven then mixed his pitches well until Tug McGraw retired the Pirates in order in the ninth to gain his first save. It was the 700th game for McGraw, one of only 18 pitchers to make that many appearances.

Schmidt's second homer of the season cut the Bucs' lead to 2-1 in the second. Rose doubled home a run in the third and, moments later, slid past catcher Steve Nicosia on Luis Aguayo's hit to put the Phillies ahead 3-2.

Singles by Gary Matthews and Garry Maddox — who had three hits — opened the Philadelphia fourth against loser Don Robinson. Matthews scored when Nicosia fielded Larry Bowa's bunt single and threw wildly past third.

Pittsburgh pinch-hitter Willie Stargell's RBI single made it 4-3 in the seventh. It was only the second at-bat this season for the veteran slugger, who says it might be another week or two before he recovers from a lingering injury. Maddox's two-out triple and a wild pitch by Pirates reliever Eddie Solomon in the eighth ended the scoring.

Expos 7, Cubs 0

Scott Sanderson used to be able to count his RBIs on one hand. "I don't think I ever had four in a season, let alone in one game," he said after his batting prowess — a run-scoring double in the second inning and a three-run double in the fifth — powered Montreal past the Cubs.

Sanderson was more than correct. Going into this season, he had two RBIs in his entire big-league career.

"Just because I got two hits today doesn't mean I'm going to continue that way for the rest of the year," he said. "But if I can keep on working at it, my hitting might help us win a few extra games."

The Expos will be very happy, thank you, if he continues to pitch the way he did for the rest of the year. In six shutout innings, he silenced Chicago on five hits.

He hadn't pitched since a March 25 exhibition game because of shoulder problems. "The shoulder felt fine," he said reassuringly. "I was getting a little tired, not so much my arm but my body. After all, it had been close to a month since I last pitched."

Cardinals 5, Mets 1 Keith Hernandez and George Hendrick hit two-run homers and Darrell Porter contributed a solo blast while Bruce Sutter chalked up his second save with 22-3 innings of one-hit relief for St. Louis against the Mets.

The homer was Porter's first in the NL after eight seasons in the American League. He hasn't found the transition difficult. "Baseball is baseball where ever it is played," he said. "The distance is still 60 feet, 6 inches to the plate and you do the best you can."

Oakland Keeps Streak; Tribe, Tigers Win Tilts

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

"I'm getting pretty tired of this 'Billy Ball' stuff," says Billy Martin, manager of the Oakland A's.

It's become the buzzword of the American League this season. What it means is heads-up, go-for-broke ball. And has it ever worked so far!

The unbeaten A's 5-1 victory Thursday night over California was their eighth. That's one short of the team's longest winning streak since it arrived in Oakland in 1968 and two short of the modern-day major-league record for victories at the start of the season.

So what could be bugging Mr. Martin?

"Billy Ball?" the Oakland manager — and director of player development — snorted. "I'd rather have it called A's ball. It's the same way we are playing in the minor leagues."

And that's the way he hopes the A's will be playing tonight, when they play their home opener against Seattle. They'll find a most remarkable sight — the first full-priced sellout in the Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum since the 1975 World Series.

"We are bringing the baseball fan out of the closet," said Martin. "It's just great. I never thought we'd get a sweep in Anaheim. I didn't think we would sweep four in Minnesota, either."

"That's what makes baseball such a great game."

In the only other AL games, Cleveland beat Milwaukee 1-0 and Detroit defeated Toronto 2-0.

Matt Keough, who pitched a five-hitter for his second complete game (and Oakland's seventh of the season), said the A's goal this year is "to prove that last year wasn't a fluke." That's when Martin, in his first year as Oakland's manager, guided the A's to a second-place finish in the West.

Keough gave up a first-inning run on Fred Lynn's single, Oakland tied it in the fourth on Wayne Gross' single, then the A's broke it open with three runs in the sixth off rookie Mike Witt.

Rickey Henderson singled, Dwayne Murphy beat out a bunt, then Henderson scored when first baseman Rod Carew fielded Dave Revering's grounder and fired it wildly past second. Gross' grounder to Carew moved Revering to second — Murphy held third on the play — and both runners scored when Tony Armas doubled down the left field line.

Indians 1, Brewers 0
Just how far back Cleveland pitcher Wayne Garland has come since shoulder surgery three years ago is a matter of debate.

"He pitched nine innings and won 1-0," Milwaukee Manager Buck Rodgers said after Garland, in his first appearance of 1981, spun a six-hitter. "That's a pretty good indication he's back ... He kept us off-balance and had us popping up or beating the ball into the ground."

But Garland cautioned: "I'm not going to say I'm all the way back yet. I've had too many ups and downs the last few years to say everything's fine."

Five years ago, when he played out the option year of his contract with Baltimore, he was 20-7. Since joining the Indians in 1977 he's 25-41.

Bo Diaz got him started on the right foot this year with an RBI double to right-center in the second inning after Mike Caldwell had walked Toby Harrah.

Tigers 2, Blue Jays 0

While Garland was throwing 86 pitches, 64 of them for strikes, Milt Wilcox was throwing the ball all over the place for Detroit — but he and relievers Kevin Saucier and Aurelio Lopez threw enough strikes to silence Toronto.

"I threw about 136 pitches and I think about 130 of them were balls," Wilcox said. "But I made the pitches when I had to and the guys in the bullpen came in and did the kind of job they're supposed to."

He allowed just three of Toronto's four hits and struck out six batters, but he walked seven, too. "Pretty bad," Wilcox said. "I can't remember walking that many batters in my career."

It was his second victory of the year. Each has come against Toronto and each time Dave Stieb has been the loser.

Boxing, Sports Fans Bid Last Farewell to Joe Louis

By PATRICK ARNOLD
Associated Press Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The time had come to say goodbye to The Champ.

From around the country came the fighters and the hangers-on who are part of the boxing world, entertainment personalities and some non-celebrities whose lives somehow may have been touched by Joe Louis.

The farewells were made today in this city that had been home to the former king of heavyweights in his retirement and, later, his illness. The sports pavilion of Caesars Palace, where Louis had watched many prize fights in recent years, was the setting for a memorial service. The eulogy was to be delivered by the Rev. Jesse Jackson while Frank Sinatra and Muhammad Ali were to be among the pallbearers at the service.

The sports hall was draped in black bunting and Louis' coffin was placed in the center of a boxing ring for the services and public viewing Thursday at which more than 5,000 persons filed past the coffin to pay their last respects.

The public viewing began a memorial observance to be culminated Tuesday with Louis' burial at Arlington National Cemetery in the gentle green hills of northern Virginia. President Reagan waived armed forces regulations that normally would have barred Louis from being buried in the nation's most historic national cemetery.

Other pallbearers Friday were to be World Boxing Council heavyweight champion Larry Holmes and fight promoter Don King, while the honorary pallbearers included many boxing stars of yesteryear — Jersey Joe Walcott, Sugar Ray Robinson, Floyd Patterson, and Billy Conn.

In waiving the regulations allowing Louis to be buried at Arlington, Reagan was quoted by a White House spokesman as saying, "Joe Louis wore the uniform of the United States and was paid $45 a month as a sergeant" in World War II.

"He (Reagan) thought Joe Louis had served his country honorably," Deputy Press Secretary Larry Speakes. It's obvious that Joe Louis, at the prime of his career, when he could have been earning many thousands of dollars, served his country."

Louis, 66, died Sunday of cardiac arrest. He had been in ill health since 1977 when he suffered a stroke and underwent heart surgery.

He had worked at Caesars as a casino host since 1971 and had remained on the payroll as a goodwill ambassador.

Louis gained the heavyweight title in 1937 and wore the crown for 12 years, longer than any other champion.

His greatest boxing victory helped destroy Nazi claims of Aryan superiority when he knocked out Germany's Max Schmeling in the first round at Yankee Stadium in June 1938. Louis' first loss as a fighter had come at the hands of Schmeling two years before.

Schmeling said in Hamburg, West Germany that he could not attend the funeral. But a large floral wreath bearing his name stood before the ring where Louis lay in repose.

McEnroe Eyes Title In Jack Kramer Open

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John McEnroe, who has been playing a lot of tennis for the past few years, says he's concerned about "burning out," but that he knows the cure.

"As long as I can get up for matches, I'm OK. If not, I'll quit," he said Thursday night after a 6-3, 6-2 victory over John Austin in the $75,000 Jack Kramer Open.

McEnroe said he's feeling better since he's lost some weight.

"I went from 180 pounds down to 159 and I hope to stay this way for a while," he said.

Asked why he was playing in the tournament, which carries a relatively small purse including a $15,000 first prize, McEnroe replied: "We're supposed to play one small tournament a year and I'd rather be here than in any other."

In other second-round matches Thursday, third-seeded Brian Teacher downed Robert Van't Hof 6-0, 6-3, and No. 4 Bill Scanlon beat Mark Edmondson of Australia 6-1, 6-3. Unseeded John Lloyd of Great Britain gained the quarterfinals of a tournament for the first time in almost two years, whipping Hank Pfister 6-4, 3-6, 6-1.

Rockets, Kings Face Critical Tests in NBA Playoffs Tonight

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

The Kansas City Kings are survivors, the Houston Rockets are strugglers, and both face critical tests tonight in their improbable drives through the National Basketball Association playoffs.

The Kings and Rockets, who posted 40-42 records during the regular season, are each just one game away from becoming the first sub-500 teams in 14 years to reach the next-to-last round of the playoffs.

Kansas City, leading 3-2, hosts the Phoenix Suns in one Western Conference semifinal while Houston visits the San Antonio Spurs in the other, which is tied at three victories apiece. In tonight's other game, the Philadelphia 76ers, leading 3-2, try to wrap up their East semifinal at Milwaukee against the Bucks.

The Kings have the homecourt advantage for the final time tonight against the Suns, but one more victory is all they need to complete their stunning upset of the Pacific Division champions, who won 57 games in the regular season and were heavily favored in this series.

"It's hard to survive and we shouldn't be surviving now," said Kings Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons, whose team has played this series without star guards Phil Ford and Otis Birdsong, both of whom are injured. "We never had a team this wrecked by injuries. We should have laid down like good people and died. But we're not going to. We have a lot of character on this team."

"We've done what we needed to do. We went out (to Phoenix) and split the first two games and won our two home games. So we still have the edge, and we're hoping to close it out at home."

The Kings will again use their makeshift backcourt of Scott Wedman and Ernie Grunfeld, and Fitzsimmons will try to get as much mileage as possible out of his top six remaining players. But in Wednesday's 101-89 victory at Phoenix, the Suns' reserves outscored the Kings' substitutes 44-10. Phoenix also outrebounded Kansas City 52-35, giving hope to Coach John MacLeod that his Suns might be on the rise.

"We reacted better to their offense," said MacLeod. "We had less jumping around defensively and that helped us on our rebounds. They had been making all their shots. Possibly things are starting to turn."

The homecourt has been anything but an edge in the other West semifinal, the Texas shootout between Houston and San Antonio. Each team has won twice on the other's court, as well as once at home, to set up tonight's decisive seventh game.

"Our middle name all year has been struggle," said Rockets Coach Del Harris. "We never do anything the easy way."

Since tonight's game is between ing played at San Antonio, the Rockets are hopeful the homecourt disadvantage will continue — and the Spurs are wary.

"The homecourt keeps meaning nothing in this series," said San Antonio Coach Stan Albeck. "This is getting ridiculous."

Paul Griffin, who, with Mark Oberlander and Dave Corzine, has had the task of trying to contain Rockets center Moses Malone, said: "If we lose three games at home in a playoff, we don't deserve to win the series. There's no way you should lose three games at home."

And George Gervin, who has averaged 29 points per game for the Spurs in this series, added, "It's about time we took advantage of our fans screaming for us to put it away. We have been a strong home team in the regular season and I think it's time to get it back."

Marques Johnson's back is a prime concern of the Bucks. Johnson suffered back spasms in a workout on Tuesday and managed just nine points in Wednesday's 116-99 loss at Philadelphia, leaving the game for good with 1:35 to go in the third quarter. That was a far cry from his series average of 22.4.

"It's got to be all right," said Johnson. "We've got to win two games now and I'll have to play."

The 6-foot-7 Johnson will once again be guarded by 7-footer Caldwell Jones, who did a good job against him Wednesday. But it was hard to tell how much of Johnson's sub-par performance was due to his injury and how much to Jones's defense.

"You'll get a better perspective after our next game," suggested Johnson.

McGraw managed the New York Giants to 10 National League pennants and three world championships. Few men have enjoyed as much success and acclaim as "Little Napoleon," who was elected to baseball's Hall of Fame in 1937.

McGraw was a fierce man who wanted to win every game, especially those in April. He used to start the Giants' spring training in early February, hoping to get a head start on his competition once the season started. But it didn't always work.

In 1916 the Giants won 26 consecutive games, a major-league record, and had another winning streak of 17 straight. But the Giants only managed a fourth-place finish behind Brooklyn, Philadelphia and Boston. McGraw felt that the reason for finishing fourth was the team's poor start, losing 10 of its first 12.

Two years later, in 1918, the Giants got off to a great start, winning 18 of their first 19. But New York's "money in the bank" ran out. The Giants finished 10½ games behind the Cubs.

HOT & NOT — In 1914 the Pittsburgh Pirates won 15 of their first 17, yet finished in seventh place, 25½ games behind the Boston Braves. The Braves that year had started slowly and were in last place in mid-July but rallied to win the pennant and sweep Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics four straight in the World Series, thus the "Miracle Braves of 1914."

In 1951, the New York Giants of Leo Durocher won the two of their first three but then lost 11 straight. Durocher brought up rookie Willie Mays from the minors, and the Giants later went on a 16-game winning streak and won 52 of their last 63 games to tie Brooklyn on the final day. Bobby Thomson's "Shot Heard 'Round the World" won it for New York in the third and final playoff game.

Since then, three teams have opened the season with 10 wins in a row. The 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers won their first 10 and 22-of-24 and went on to win the pennant by 13½ games. The 1962 Pittsburgh Pirates won 10 straight but finished fourth. The 1966 Cleveland Indians also jumped out to a 10-0 start but finished fifth.

Getting a quick start

"I can't get it into their thick heads that games in the spring are as important as those in late summer. In fact they're more important! Once you have that lead, it's like money in the bank."

— John McGraw, manager, New York Giants.

From 1902 to 1932, John McGraw managed the New York Giants to 10 National League pennants and three world championships. Few men have enjoyed as much success and acclaim as "Little Napoleon," who was elected to baseball's Hall of Fame in 1937.

Strange Leads T of C; Trevino One Shot Back

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — The last four holes at the La Costa Country Club measure exactly one mile and comprise one of the toughest finishing sets in golf.

"Usually, you can figure if you play them about one over you haven't lost any ground," Tom Watson said before opening defense of the title he has won the last two seasons in the $300,000 MONY Tournament of Champions.

But Watson, who won the Masters last week, played those four holes 2 over par Thursday in the first round of the T of C and lost six shots to leader Curtis Strange.

"Just something that happened," shrugged the 26-year-old Strange, who became the first man in the history of the exclusive tournament to birdie all four of the finishing holes.

It completed a 6-under-par 66 that gave him a one-stroke lead over Lee Trevino and eight over Watson, who struggled to a 74 and then headed for the practice tee and a long workout.

Trevino, a four-time runner-up in this elite tournament that brings together only the winners of PGA Tour titles from the last 12 months, birdied three of the last four holes which he called "as good as any finishing holes I've ever played."

Bruce Lietzke, who finished second in this tournament the two previous times he's played here, had a 68 as Strange's partner in the cool, breezy weather. He was tied with Bill Rogers, also 4-under-par and only two strokes back in the chase for a $54,000 first prize.

"A fantastic finish," Lietzke said of Strange's closing burst. "Curtis wasn't playing all that well for the first 10 holes or so, then he put on an absolutely fantastic finish."

Tied at 69 were Canadian Dan Halldorson, Howard Twitty, Ray Floyd and Tom Kite.

Jack Nicklaus, who chased Watson to the Masters title last week, matched par 72.

"Nothing to write home about," he said. "I was playing pretty decently, had it 3-under-par after 12 holes, then couldn't finish the round. I drove it into the rough three times, couldn't get the ball on the green and made bogey."

Strange, 26, winner of two titles last year, also had some problems in the early going, but some excellent putting helped.

He dropped birdies putts of 20 and 30 feet on the frontside, made one bogey and saved par with a 20-footer.

He got to 2-under with another 20-foot putt, then soared into the lead with the brilliant burst over the last four holes.

Strange scored from about eight feet on the 15th hole, chipped in from the front fringe on the next one and converted putts of 15-20 feet on the last two.

"I just wish I could have kept on playing, gone right on to the next 18," said Strange, who matched the course record with 31 on the back nine.

Who Am I?

In my sport, I'm known as the best. I was a three-time All-America player in college. They sent my uniform to the Hall of Fame, too. I've gone to the final selections for two U.S. Olympic teams. And I was a No. 1 pro draft pick.

He dropped birdies putts of 20 and 30 feet on the frontside, made one bogey and saved par with a 20-footer.

Rookie O'Meara Leads Tallahassee

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Rookie Mark O'Meara hadn't been putting well so he went out and bought a book on positive thinking. He says his reading inspired quick results.

O'Meara, a 24-year-old native of Goldsboro, N.C., birdied five of the last six holes Thursday to card a 7-under-par 65 and take a one-stroke lead over Dave Eichelberger in the opening round of the $100,000 Tallahassee Open.

The PGA rookie currently ranks 25th on the tour money winning list with $42,426. His best previous finish was fourth in the Bay Hill Classic.

O'Meara used his torrid finish to move ahead of Eichelberger, who recorded a 6-under 66 over the 7,124-yard Killbuck Golf and Country Club course.

Five golfers — Jerry Heard, Bob Murphy, Cesar Sanudo, Darrell Kestner and Mike Donald — were bunched at 67, two shots behind the leader. Overall, 59 of the 144 players broke par on the first day of the 72-hole tournament.

O'Meara got hot at the 566-yard par 5, 13th hole with a birdie. He parred No. 14 and then closed the round with four straight birdies. He sank putts of two, five and six feet on holes 15 through 17 before sinking a 10-footer on 18.

Eichelberger, who has three tour victories including the 1980 Bay Hill Classic, Marjorie Gestring of the United States won the gold medal in springboard diving at the 1936 Olympics at the age of 13.

Linebacker Dwight Douglas Lewis of the Dallas Cowboys was named for two famous generals, Eisenhower and MacArthur.

POLLY'S POINTERS Polly Cramer

=Wireless electric blanket=

DEAR POLLY - Is there any way to take the wires out of an electric blanket that no longer works? The blanket is still very nice, but the wires make it stiff. - MARY B.

DEAR MARY - You might open one end of the blanket, cut the stitches that hold the wires and then pull them out the open end. Restitch the open end and catch with a few stitches here and there so it stays in place. - POLLY

DEAR POLLY - I am now using more attractive and more economical drawer liners. They are inexpensive new or used terry towels folded in the bathroom drawers. This saves buying and cutting paper lining that has to be replaced often. The towels absorb spilled powder, any stains from uncapped lipsticks and so on. We like them so well that we do the same in our powder room - KARL

DEAR POLLY - I have saved the Pointers over the years and finally have them all organized in a notebook. One that I especially like and have used is for cutting bag leaves in a nylon net pouch bag to drop in canisters of flour, etc. that are a temptation to bugs. I no longer have to worry about the bag leaves breaking up in the flour or cornmeal. - D.J.C.

The Speaker Reports by Bill Clayton

AUSTIN—One of my goals during the 67th legislative session is to make the current laws relating to campaign financing more defined and understandable. Many of the current articles in the Texas Election Code addressing this issue have become ambiguous and the actual intent of the language has become lost. House Bill 1903 is an omnibus campaign reporting bill which I have authored and which I firmly believe will be a step in the right direction. The changes made in the bill relate to the making, accepting, and reporting of political contributions and expenditures. Under current law, candidates and office-holders must file periodic campaign statements which list all contributions received and all expenditures made. House Bill 1903 requires that each statement list the date, amount and purpose of each payment that is not an expenditure if the payment is made from a contribution. The question of when a candidate accepts a contribution is another gray area in the current Election Code. House Bill 1903 seeks to clarify this matter by specifying the exact procedure for accepting or rejecting a contribution. A contribution received but not accepted is not required to be reported. However, a candidate must make a decision on accepting the contribution before the end of the reporting period during which the contribution was received. If such a determination is not

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Extra weight affected him

DEAR DR. LAMB - In one of your columns you mentioned a relationship between vasectomies and fatty cholesterol in the arteries. My husband had a vasectomy nine years ago. Last summer we found his cholesterol count was 360.

After losing 30 pounds under doctor's orders, and staying on a low-cholesterol diet, his cholesterol count is now 225 and he's feeling great. He's 46 years old.

Would you explain why a vasectomy might cause a cholesterol build-up? Will he have to remain on a low-cholesterol diet from now on?

DEAR READER - We don't know that a vasectomy really does cause an increase in cholesterol levels in men, even though it was observed in monkeys. The monkeys were on a diet that contained about twice the level of fat and cholesterol as we usually consume.

The theory is that because the sperm cells are trapped and must be absorbed, they behave like a foreign body. This stimulates the body's immune system which in turn stimulates an increased production of cholesterol. Remember that is just a theory, not yet proven.

I suspect that those 30 pounds of extra fat your husband was carrying had a lot more to do with his high cholesterol count. I want to use his example to point out what diet can do for some people in terms of lowering cholesterol levels. Those occasional stories claiming that diet is not useful in this regard are uneducated bunk.

In the individual who has a high level, as in your husband's case, a proper diet may be very important in lowering levels. It doesn't work for everyone but it sure works for a lot of people.

DEAR DR. LAMB - About two years ago I began to notice spots before my eyes. They move in the same direction my eyes move. When I keep my eyes still I do not see them.

An eye doctor told me the spots were floaters. I don't know what they are. These floaters play tricks on me. There are times when I see one from the corner of my eye, like someone is coming from behind me, only to realize that it was a large floater disappearing into the corner of my eye. It startles me. I'd appreciate it if you would explain floaters.

DEAR READER - Your eyeball is filled with a gelatinous material. As you get older, areas inside it may liquefy. As light rays pass through this area they cause distortions or spots. Also, spots can occur where this gel (vitreous) separates from the retina layer at the back of your eye or with a retinal detachment. Showers of spots can occur from a hemorrhage in the eye. You can have fixed floaters from a spot (early cataract) in the lens of the eye.

In many cases they are harmless other than the annoyance they cause, but everyone who develops floaters must have an examination to be sure what the real cause is. Some of my readers tell me that a blue-tinted piece of plastic over the printed page makes floaters less bothersome while reading.

The Consumer Alert by Mark White Attorney General

AUSTIN—Choosing professional services is among the most difficult choices consumers must make. Often consumers lack good comparative information on which to base sound decisions, and they are forced to pick out the name of a professional or service company and hope for the best.

Trying to find a lawyer can fall into this category. While some lawyers and legal clinics now advertise, potential clients must usually find a lawyer first and then consult with a lawyer about fees, various types of legal work performed, and other professional information.

To locate a lawyer appropriate for your needs, a referral from a trusted friend, relative or colleague, or an advertisement can get you started. You can also check with the lawyer referral service of your area bar association found in your local phone book. It provides names of lawyers nearby and can often refer you to one or more directories containing information on local lawyers.

Once you have the names of a few lawyers, think about some of the questions that will help you decide if you've found the right one or if you should continue your search. An attorney should be able to answer the following questions to your complete satisfaction before you make your selection:

-Is the lawyer experienced in handling your type of case or problem, and what proportion of the practice is devoted to handling similar matters? If your problem is a criminal matter, does the lawyer routinely handle criminal cases?

-What is the price range for your type of legal problem?

-If there isn't a standard fee, what is the hourly rate?

-Is there an initial interview or consultation fee, and if so, how much is it?

-What arrangements may be made for payment of the fee?

Once you've chosen a lawyer, plan for your appointment carefully.

LET FAITH BE YOUR GUIDEPOST AT THE CROSSROADS

Have you come to a fork in the road? Are you confronted with a major decision which you must make and make wisely, in order to travel the road of greater benefit to yourself and your loved ones? Each of us must at some time decide whether to move, to change jobs, to begin a new life in a different area, or some such question of far-reaching consequences. As others before you have done, let your faith in God give you the wisdom, strength and resolution to make the correct choice. Beginning this Sunday, go to your Church and trust Him to point your footsteps in the right direction for all concerned.

Have you come to the Red Sea place in your life. Where, in spite of all you can do, There is no way out, there is no way back. There is no other way but through?
— Annie Johnson Flint

"But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering, for he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed."
— James 1:6
