U.S. DOUBLES DRAFT CALLS

Abe Fortas Named To High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson today named Abe Fortas — quoted two days ago as saying he wanted no government job "from president on down" — to be a justice of the Supreme Court.

Fortas, 55 and a Washington lawyer, will succeed Arthur J. Goldberg, who formally resigned Monday to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations as successor to the late Adlai E. Stevenson.

Johnson said Fortas was his first choice for the high court vacancy.

Fortas is a close friend and unofficial adviser to the President. His service to presidents — official and unofficial — dates back to New Deal days.

The appointment was Johnson's first to the Supreme Court. The White House sought only two days ago to puncture speculation that Fortas would take the job.

Johnson said today that Fortas told him time and again he would not accept any government appointment. But Fortas finally agreed, he said, that a call to the court is not one that any American can reject.

Mahon Reveals Funds Request To Top Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will ask Congress for a substantial emergency appropriation — perhaps more than a billion dollars — because of rising costs of the war in Viet Nam, the House was told today.

Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the Appropriations Committee said the additional money would be in excess of $1 billion if the fighting continues to escalate.

Mahon did not say when the President would make the request.

Mahon made the statement as the House sent to the Senate an emergency measure providing temporary financing for federal agencies whose appropriation bills for the present fiscal year have not cleared Congress.

On funds, Johnson today said that while he is President "the amount will be spent which is necessary for the security of our people." He said this would be done with the "greatest economy."

Planes Stage Direct Attack On Red Troops

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. warplanes made their first announced direct attack on North Vietnamese troops in North Viet Nam today. They strafed an advancing Communist force to protect a downed pilot until he could be lifted to safety by helicopter.

The action 65 miles north of the border followed by 24 hours the first American aerial strikes at Soviet-supplied missile bases in the Hanoi area.

Military spokesmen said five U.S. Air Force F105 fighter-bombers were lost on the strikes Tuesday. Pilots reported they destroyed one missile site and damaged another about 40 miles northwest of Hanoi.

The spokesmen said three of the jets were shot down by conventional ground fire and two others crashed after colliding near their home base as they returned from the raids.

Planes involved in the action against the North Vietnamese troops were Navy fighter-bombers from the carrier Midway, a spokesman said. Newsmen were told mechanical trouble forced down a Navy A4 Skyhawk during raids on a group of bridges. The pilot parachuted.

North Vietnamese soldiers moved up a hill toward the plane but were held off by rocket and cannon fire of a half-dozen Navy Skyraiders, the spokesman said. Casualties, if any, among the troops were not determined.

A U.S. Air Force helicopter picked up the pilot. He was reported in good condition.

Governors Summoned

Here was the scene today at the National Governors' Conference under way in Minneapolis. President Johnson in Washington summoned the governors to the nation's capital Thursday for an in-depth briefing on Viet Nam.

No Reserve Unit Mobilization Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson announced today that monthly draft calls will be more than doubled — from 17,000 to 35,000 — in order to help increase the U.S. military forces in South Viet Nam from 75,000 to 125,000 men.

Governors Called To Washington

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — President Johnson is asking the nation's governors to fly to Washington Thursday for an in-depth briefing on the Viet Nam situation.

Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada, chairman of the National Governors' Conference which ends its business sessions Thursday, told a reporter he is checking with his colleagues on the practicability of making such a trip.

Sawyer said any announcement of plans would have to come from the White House.

AWAIT WORD

Prior to the Presidents' report on Viet Nam, the governors were expecting him to announce an enlarged draft on American resources and manpower.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told the governors as much Tuesday night in carefully screened words at the black-tie dinner that marks the social peak of their annual conference.

Humphrey cautioned the governors that the decisions Johnson will announce at a Washington news conference today will touch the lives of thousands of American families.

"NOT FALTERING" Humphrey pledged the governors that "we are not going to falter" in opposing an effort by aggressors in South Viet Nam to "demonstrate that murder and terrorism — and not peaceful coexistence — is the path of eventual Communist triumph."

The governors were to take a look at the Johnson administration's anti-poverty program today.

Humphrey exercises general supervision of the program, but it was up to Sargent Shriver Jr., director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, to answer to the governors for what several of them regard as its shortcomings.

OPPOSE ACTION A majority of the governors vigorously opposed the House action which all but eliminated their veto over projects in their states.

The governors acted on two issues by unanimous consent Tuesday.

They adopted a resolution calling for a study of the possibility of returning to the states a portion of the revenues the federal government collects, and approved a report calling for a comprehensive highway study.

GOAL SPECULATED In advance of the conference, there had been much speculation about a possible goal of 200,000 men in Viet Nam and an order for the muster of reservists and National Guard units.

"After this past week of deliberations," Johnson said, "I have concluded it is not essential to order Reserve units into service. If that necessity should later be indicated, I will give the matter careful consideration, and I will give the country due and adequate notice before acting."

Johnson made only a passing reference to the mounting cost of the war in Viet Nam. He said Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara "will ask the Senate Appropriations Committee to add a limited amount to present legislation to help meet part of this new cost."

Johnson indicated that a supplemental defense appropriation measure, involving more money, would be sent to Congress next January.

"These steps, like our actions in the past," he said, "are carefully measured to do what must be done to bring about an end to aggression and a peaceful settlement."

Housing Bill With Rent Subsidies Waits Signing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only late use of 375,000 such units. Subsidies would not be paid to private landlords in business for profit.

While the congressionally approved legislation went along with the principle of subsidies, a new departure advocated by the President, it changed the application significantly. The original proposal was designed to help those with income too high for low-rent public housing but too low for privately built homes and apartments at the going rates.

A family receiving the subsidy would have to pay 25 per cent of its income for rent. The subsidy would then make up the difference between this payment and the rent needed to obtain adequate housing in the specified kind of project. If the family's income increased, the subsidy would decline or be eliminated entirely.

MAJOR PROGRAM The bill, given final congressional clearance by a 251-168 House vote Tuesday, provides new money and authorizations for the major government housing programs over the next four years.

The rent subsidy proposal makes available $350 million over a four-year period to help some of the families eligible for public housing.

In effect, the program would provide an alternative for publicly financed housing developments for such persons. Eligible low-income families — the standards would vary from place to place — who are occupying substandard housing, or are elderly or handicapped, or have been displaced from their homes by governmental pre-emption or natural disaster, would be eligible for the subsidies.

NONPROFIT GROUPS The money would help pay a fair rent for accommodations in structures owned or to be built by churches, cooperatives or other nonprofit or limited-dividend organizations. It was estimated the subsidies would stimu-

Supreme Court Will Hear City's Water Case

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court agreed today to hear arguments in a writ of error, City Attorney John Burgess said today. He said the next step in the lawsuit would be to get a new contract to supply water to Big Spring State Hospital.

The high court consented to review an April 7 decision of the third Court of Civil Appeals here that the city's 1937 contract to furnish the hospital water for 10 cents per 1,000 gallons is valid.

"This means they have granted our application for a writ of error," City Attorney John Burgess said today. He said the next step in the lawsuit would be to get a new contract to supply water to Big Spring State Hospital.

"We will probably next receive notice of a date for oral arguments," Burgess said. The arguments will probably be scheduled in the fall, he said.

For about five years the city has been attempting to get the state to renegotiate the 28-year-old contract, contending that costs have risen. The opinion of the appeals court noted that the cost of water supplied the hospital is about 34 cents per 1,000 gallons.

The state attorney general had previously held that negotiations were in order only if they afforded "a new and adequate consideration to the state."

The Third Court of Civil Appeals ruling had upheld a prior decision by the 53rd District Court in Austin, which affirmed the state's position in the water suit.

Burgess had previously said that if the application for the writ of error to the Supreme Court was not accepted, the case would be ended.

The city filed the lawsuit against the state in 1963.

Boy Gunman Is Outpatient

DALLAS (AP) — An Austin youth confined as a juvenile delinquent after peppering a Dallas home with bullets Feb. 10 has been released from a private sanitarium here.

Juvenile Court Judge Lewis Russell transferred the youth, Charles Burns, 15, to custody of Austin authorities with a recommended plan for outpatient care.

Police arrested young Burns after he fired a dozen .22 caliber rifle bullets from outside into the house of John F. Burns, no relation, and triggered five more shots down a hallway inside.

Burns said he discovered the Austin youth outside his home that evening and the intruder shouted: "I'm coming in after you." Burns shot back with a .38 caliber pistol.

Neither was wounded. The bullets hit chairs, lamps and the ceiling.

Richard Sweet, a welfare case worker, said the youth's parents advised they no longer could pay to keep him in the sanitarium.

OUTPATIENT BASIS A psychiatrist reported the youth had responded to treatment and soon could be cared for on an outpatient basis, Sweet said, and the case worker therefore recommended that Russell release the youth.

An Austin judge ordered psychiatric observation of the youth earlier in connection with an auto theft charge and he ran away, coming to Dallas.

AOSTA, Italy (AP) — Nearly 26,000 cars have driven through the Mont Blanc tunnel in the first week it has been open to traffic.

Senate Passes Health Care, Forwards Bill To Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate passed and sent to President Johnson today the Social Security-health care bill establishing broad health protection as a matter of right for all Americans over 65.

Its final passage climaxes a fight that began in 1935, with the writing of the original law, to include health care for the elderly benefits under Social Security.

The House passed Tuesday, 307 to 116, the compromise version of legislation embodying the greatest single expansion of Social Security ever voted. The health-care portion ends a generation of effort in Congress to write such a provision into the Social Security System.

HELD UP The Senate took up the measure Tuesday but held up the final vote until today so that some absentees could be on hand.

Sponsors said they were certain Johnson would sign the bill this month, probably Thursday or Friday, so that the increases in present Social Security benefits can come in September.

The $6.5-billion bill contains broad new health protection available to all 19 million Americans 65 or over as a matter of right and at small cost.

Barry Due Neck Surgery

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Former Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona undergoes surgery today to correct an old injury to vertebrae in his neck.

The operation was scheduled at the Neurological Institute of St. Joseph's Hospital where the 1964 GOP presidential candidate has undergone tests. Goldwater has been plagued by chronic back pains for years.

Beauty Pageant For Texas Title To Open Tonight

FORT WORTH (AP) — The Miss Texas Pageant opens tonight with first round competition in swimsuit, talent and evening gown divisions.

A record 66 beauties will vie for the chance to go to Atlantic City in September.

Preliminary talent and swimsuit winners will be disclosed each night but the names of evening gown winners will be kept secret.

Puerto Rico Bill Signed By LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has signed a bill extending until Sept. 30, 1966, the time for submission of a final report by the U.S.-Puerto Rico Commission on the status of Puerto Rico.

The measure also raises from $250,000 to $465,000 funds available to the commission for its studies of all factors having a bearing on the future relationship between the United States and Puerto Rico.

INCREASES CHECKS It also increases all present Social Security checks — for retirees, disabled persons and family survivors — by 7 per cent, retroactive to Jan. 1. Checks going to 20 million beneficiaries will be increased.

Everyone is guaranteed an increase of at least $4 a month. An individual who has been receiving the present retirement minimum, $40, will get $44. One who has been receiving the maximum, $127, will have his check increased to $135.90. Couples in which the wife also is of retirement age get 50 per cent above the single person's figure in each case.

The pay-roll tax is increased to help pay for the benefit expansions.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Most Moms Will Go For Kid Day

Dear Heloise: I'm a busy mother of several small children. Two of my neighbors and I have a marvelous co-operative working.

We each have a "kids' day" one day a week. On that day NOTHING else is planned (except a Heloise "top clean" before 9 a.m.).

We have nursery school at our house for our own and two other neighbors' pre-schoolers.

that's marked "Fiberglass" (that's what you call fiberglass) in your washing machine to launder with any article of clothing.

This fabric is just what it claims to be—Glass! You CANNOT put an article of clothing (such as nurses' uniforms—that you write me about) in with this material and then wear it again. Heaven help you if you do.

This fiberglass breaks the same as a glass dropped on the floor, and those little glass fibers get into your washing machine and into clothing. When you put on the garment, the small glass fibers cause friction and trouble for you.

If this has happened to you so that you have to see your doctor about it, be sure to tell him that you washed your clothing in the washer with something made from fiberglass.

salt on the cut side, putting the potato back together, rolling it in foil and then baking it? Yummy! Garlic potatoes with no garlic buds. . . . Potato Man

Yes, I did . . . twice this week. And it's great. Thank you, sir. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: When sewing on buttons, especially on heavy material, place a fine-toothed comb between the button and the material.

The needle goes between the teeth of the comb.

This is a good way to keep the thread equal for each stitch, and the buttons will not be sewn on too tightly. . . . Mrs. R. H. Bebbart

In this way, our little ones receive guidance at the BEGINNING of their social development. Learn to be away from mommy, and to play with other youngsters.

Too, they have the benefit and variety of a sizeable number of toys to enjoy. They are "visitors" some days, and have "guests" on other days.

On the moms' side: When there's nothing else on the agenda, it's a lot of fun. No fights! No cross moms!

Then, there are those FREE days each week.

Our wee ones are very happy children who aren't in trouble in our neighbors' yards when out playing, or running into danger's way!

And, mommy misses them when they are away, and welcomes them home with open arms, and they say "hello" with a big hug.

Isn't this wonderful? We don't really know how we got the idea, but we were blessed with it, so I just had to pass it along to you. . . . Anne Gillis

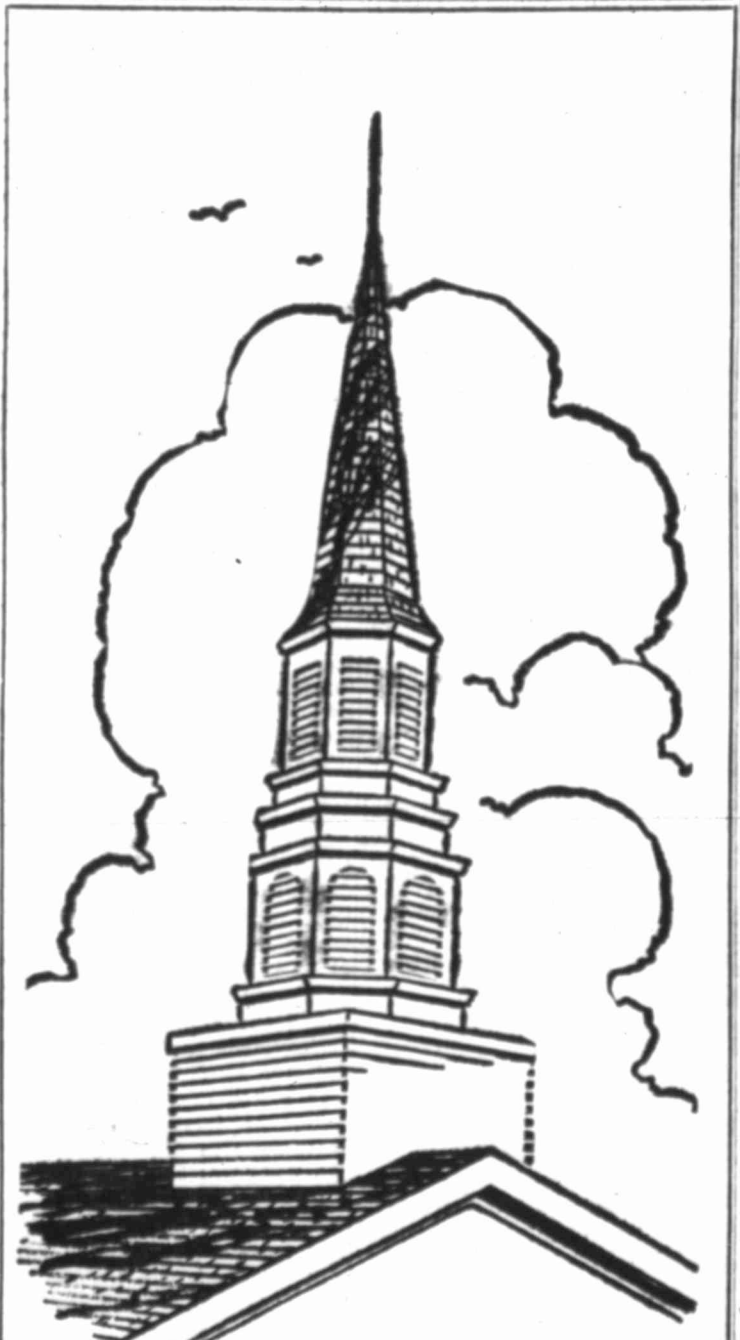

Financial Report Given To Lodge

A financial report was given during the Tuesday evening meeting of the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 153. The 36 members met at the lodge hall with Mrs. LaVerne Rogers, noble grand, presiding.

During the business session, Mrs. Homer Petty, financial secretary, presented the quarterly report. It was also announced that 21 visits to the sick had been made during the week.

A get-well card was sent to Mrs. Irene Dempsey, at the home of her son, Dr. Edwin Dempsey, Odessa.

NSA Offers Credits For New Course

Plans to sponsor a business and English course at Howard County Junior College were made during the Tuesday evening meeting of the National Secretaries Association.

Members met for a salad supper at the Webb AFB pavilion with Mrs. Bill Stone presiding.

Mrs. W. A. Bryans, education chairman, announced plans for the special course to begin at the fall semester. She said that a minimum of ten interested people would be required and that college credits would be offered for the course.

Mrs. Robert L. Logan was welcomed as a guest.

Auxiliary Has Supper

A salad supper was held during the Monday evening meeting of the Eagles Auxiliary. The group met at the lodge hall with Mrs. Tommy B. Stephens presiding.

During the business session, the members heard reports from the Big Spring delegates who attended the July 24-25 district convention in San Angelo. Members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dalton, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Warren, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Littlejohn, Mrs. Gladys Ogle, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy H. Stephens, Sgt. and Mrs. Pat Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cochran.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

Well, at least three ladies know are having a peachy time today.

Mrs. H. F. Schwarzenbach, Mrs. Malcolm Patterson and Mrs. Morris Patterson are out at the Patterson ranch today—prepared to peel and preserve peaches in the same assembly line fashion they used last year to produce all those jars of chow-chow. Be nice and you might be on their gift list.

No gift could have been more welcome yesterday to Mrs. Charlie Dublin than the opportunity to see her great-grandchild, a 2½-year-old doll who bears the impressive name of Benson Alfred Ernst Bentzin. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bentzin of Phoenix Ariz., and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kemper. Mrs. Bentzin, the former Dorothy Jean Kemper, flew here with the baby to show him off a bit to Mrs. Dublin who is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Horace Garrett.

Mrs. Donald D. Van Meter got her husband off to Fort Hood where he'll spend two weeks with the Army reserve. Keeping her and Laurel company is her niece, Margaret Ann Montante of Los Angeles, Calif., who will remain here until Laurel returns to the West Coast for school this fall.

The summer has been hard on some of the women. Several may have taken drastic steps to get a little rest. Mrs. C. C. Jones is recuperating from surgery at Howard County Hospital Foundation, and Mrs. Bob Clark is doing the same at Medical Arts Clinic and Hospital. Mrs. C. C. Choate, who had a room right down the hall, probably went home today.

The Jim Zikes are due back today from Ruidoso, N. M., where they met his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Zike of Roswell, N. M. Said something about it not being a holiday—I was going to reroof the cabin, I think.

On the other hand, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Ramsey are going to forget their chores next month. About Aug. 7, they'll be with a group at Red River and will rendezvous Aug. 17 with Mr. and Mrs. Dee Jon Davis in Las Vegas, Nev.

Good trick if you can do it, and Kay Loveland has. She's not only "getting away from it all"—she's "getting with it," too. She sends a card from the Kasbah and says Tangiers is a fascinating place. Kay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rosene, is touring with a couple of friends from Washington, D. C., and has already seen the sights in Lisbon, Madrid and Seville, and was on the way to Granada when she dropped the card in the slot.

Tom Ernest, former junior high school principal here, was in town not long ago and stopped long enough to coffee with R. E. McKinney and other friends. He is teaching in El Paso now.

Mrs. J. E. Hogan and her daughter, Mrs. Boone Powell Jr. of Abilene, are spending a week at Laitly Lodge near Kerrville.

The Bill Hensleys got to catch up on the news when they accompanied their daughter, Kandy, here to participate in a wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Choate and their daughter and family, the Raymond Phillipses, left Saturday morning for Hugo, Colo., to enjoy a bit of ranch life with the Dan Capanskys. It's the same trip they have taken for many years and never tire of. They'll be back Aug. 2.

Back already are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Maneely and daughter, Cindy, who had a good trip to Glasgow, Ky., and Zanesville, Ohio, to see his brother and sister-in-law, the Stanley Maneelys. Also, they were in Coshocton and Parma, Ohio, with other relatives.

Getting together with the family has always been a favorite pastime in the summer but it was really something special when the three daughters of the Walter Andersons got together for the first time in six years. Glad to see each other were Mr. and Mrs. Rex Schropp and children of Houston, Mrs. Roy P. Eastland and children of Amarillo and Mrs. Norwin M. Smith Jr. and daughter of Lubbock.

I'll tell you about some other things Sunday. Call me.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jeffcoat are visiting relatives in Seminole.

TOPS Announce Monthly Loss

A total of 18 pounds was reported loss during the Tuesday evening meeting of the TOPS Pound Rebels. The 14 members met at the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company with Mrs. Walter Goodwin presiding.

Guests were Miss Francis Bartlett, Miss Guynn Molzahn and Miss Darleen Fairfield. It was announced that Miss Joy Bell will be queen for the month of July.

The next meeting will be Aug. 3 in the conference room of the chamber of commerce office.

Rebekahs Announce New Committee Slate

New committee members were appointed during the Tuesday evening meeting of the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284. The group met at the IOOF Hall with Mrs. A. J. McCall, noble grand, presiding.

An arrangement committee, for the Oct. 2 district association meeting to be held in Big Spring, was appointed consisting of Mrs. Earl Wilson, Mrs. J. R. Petty and Mrs. Henry Rogers.

Mrs. McCall also selected the August refreshment committee. The members will be Mrs. W. N. Wood, Mrs. C. B. Sullivan and Mrs. Alva Porch.

A. F. Gilliland, team captain, announced that there will be a practice session Thursday evening.

Refreshments were served to 33 members by Mrs. Emmett Hull, Mrs. Early Sanders, Miss Shirley Lee and Mrs. Wilson.

Youth, 15, Breaks Arm That Was Severed And Put Back On

BOSTON (AP) — Everett Knowles, 15, has broken one of the most important right arms in medical history. The frisky, freckle-faced teenager, whose arm was cut off more than three years ago by a wheel of a slow work train but was then successfully re-implanted, fell recently from a stone wall — and landed on the still highly sensitive arm. The Associated Press has learned that the boy was then rushed to the Massachusetts General Hospital where some of the surgeons who performed the original operation re-examined the arm. They worked late into the night a week ago Tuesday and found that the arm had been broken less than an inch from where it had been torn from his body in the freight yard accident.

They strongly re-implanted that break itself was no different than what could happen to any one else, and probably will mend just as easily," he said. Knowles said until the fall last week, he had been able to lift as much as 15 pounds with the arm. He said he has no real use of his fingers. He can move them only slightly. Since the first operation, he has undergone a series of others to try to regain full use of the arm and hand. Tendons have been connected and nerves repaired. Just last month a one-inch piece of bone was placed inside the palm of the hand to keep his thumb in better position. His arm was in a cast when he fell. Knowles blamed the cast for the break. He said he did not think the arm would have broken had the upper arm and shoulder not been forced to bend against it.

Fun Club Reports Due

Fun Club fitness reports will be issued this week to all youngsters who have taken part in the Citywide Summer Recreation program. In addition, children will receive swimming classification reports in order that parents may have an appraisal of their swimming abilities.

"This will help parents not to over-estimate the swimming abilities of their children," said Jim Gilbert, director of the program. "Ratings will be from non-swimmer to good."

The reports of physical fitness are based on tests designed by Dr. Thomas K. Cureton of the University of Illinois and are in line (though perhaps a bit more stringent) with the President's fitness program. They are designed to test the strength of the major muscles in the abdomen, legs, upper arms and shoulders, and flexibility of the shoulders and lower back. Although the YMCA is a completely separate program, Gilbert pointed out that many youngsters will continue their training there in order to improve their fitness or keep it at a desirable level.

FOUND BROKEN

It was on May 23, 1962, that the doctors had performed what is believed to be the first operation in which a human limb was successfully re-joined to the body. Since then there have been several others.

The hospital confirmed today that young Knowles will have to remain hospitalized for several weeks because of the break and a knee injury also suffered in the fall. Knowles said he and some friends had gone out for the evening and were sitting on damp grass on the side of a monument in his hometown of Somerville, near Boston, when he slipped and fell.

He said, in an interview, he dropped about 12 feet to the pavement and as he hit, thought, "My God, the arm."

"I knew I had hurt it because I couldn't straighten it out anymore," Knowles said. "Actually

Sidewalk Deletion Denied; Kasch Bid Is Accepted

City commissioners denied petition to allow a variance of the city's requirement for sidewalks in the Colonial Hills subdivision Tuesday night at their regular meeting. The subdividers had requested that sidewalks not be required in the subdivision because of hilly terrain. Commissioners voted the denial, then decided that in the future the planning and zoning board will be allowed to make exceptions in the case of terrain not suited to sidewalks.

In other business, the commissioners denied an application for on-premises consumption of beer to Alton Bagwell, after 11 residents of the area near his "Bar-B-Q House, 411 W. 4th, protested the licensing. They said beer sales at the place would cause noise, and objected also on general dislike of beer sales.

Bagwell said, "I don't run a beer joint, I run a restaurant. The only reason I applied for a license was that a number of my customers have expressed the desire to have beer with barbecue."

The body voted to accept a bid of $11,990 from A. P. Kasch and Sons for the new steam boiler and lines in the basement of City Hall, in conjunction with the plan to establish a Civil Defense command post there. The Kasch bid was the lower of two bids. The other, $12,616 was by Hester Sheet Metal. Both firms are local.

Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson asked permission to transfer the city employee group life insurance policy whenever an acceptable arrangement could be made with another company. He said the rate for the present policy had gone up 81 per cent since it was taken out some years ago. The commissioners approved.

Upon recommendation of the Parks and Recreation Board, the commissioners okayed lighting of the Gregg Street archery range, at an estimated cost of $235, with a provision that some form of switch be provided so that the range would not be lighted for long periods of time. Several other recommendations by the parks board were tabled until they could be studied.

R. L. Beale, Texas Electric Service Co., told commissioners that a new way of billing the city for its 1,621 lights would save the city several dollars per month, and allow better lights. The city's monthly rate would be $4,043.40. Under the old rate it is $4,050. But, he said, there would be a greater variety of lights, many of higher candle power, at about the same cost as presently charged. The commissioners authorized Mayor George Zachariah to sign a new light contract as soon as possible.

T.P. Development Co. appealed from the planning and zoning board refusal to change Colorado Hills zoning from "neighborhood service" to "multi-family." Commissioners told the company's representatives that they would call a public meeting Aug. 24.

R. Clyde Hollingsworth was selected as the city auditor for 1965-66. Director of Public Works Ernest Lillard's proposals for the city's annual summer seal-coat street program for 109,000 square yards were approved. The city will use equipment belonging to W. D. Caldwell. "Fox's Liquor Store," 208 N

Surgery has been delayed for George Zachariah, Cosden official and mayor of Big Spring, at the Methodist Hospital in Houston.

He had been scheduled for surgery Tuesday to correct an aneurism, but it was said that the surgeons decided to delay operation until later. No date has been set. Associates here said that the mayor is in good spirits.

Annual Meet Of Co-Op Set Aug. 3

The annual membership meeting of Lone Wolf Co-op Electric in Colorado City will be held Aug. 3, at 6 p.m. in the Co-op auditorium, according to James Hull, manager. Refreshments of cokes, coffee, doughnuts, and cookies will be served until 7 p.m. when the business session begins. Cokes will be served by the FFA boys of Lorraine, and their advisor, Raymond Holt.

Master of ceremonies will be Dr. Charles W. Jarvis, a well-known dentist from San Marcos. Dr. Jarvis has attended several universities and has a B.S. degree in engineering and a D.D.S. degree. He believes in the humorous approach to life, and his presentations are loaded with humorous stories, jokes, anecdotes, but at the same time carry a message of human relations, public relations, spiritual reward and success.

Guest speaker will be one of the pioneers of rural electrification in Texas and the South. He is J. R. (Jim) Cobb, general manager of Texas Electric Co-operative, Inc. in Austin. Cobb holds degrees from Louisiana State University, in agricultural and electrical engineering, and has wide experience in rural electrification.

The short business session will include financial reports from cooperative officials and the election of three directors for three year terms. The three directors whose terms expire are Gwan Strange, Linden Solomon and Martin Murphy. All three have been nominated for re-election.

Door prizes will be given to each member registering, and other prizes will be given at numerous drawings during the meeting. Retail value of the prizes is $1,500.

The annual meeting will mark Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative's 26th birthday. The cooperative was organized Aug. 7, 1939 for low cost power to people in rural areas.

High Jury Awards Cause Higher Insurance Rates

If Odessans were shocked at the recent automobile insurance rate increase, they haven't seen anything yet -- wait until next year when they get their insurance bill. D. Darby Hammond, executive director of the Southwestern Insurance Information Service in Dallas, said today.

Hammond said a recent jury trial, the result of a two-car collision in which the plaintiff sued for $3.2 million will undoubtedly increase the automobile insurance rates, not only for Ector County residents, but also those policyholders in Howard, Midland and Scurry counties. Ector and the other three counties are lumped together into one rating territory.

The insurance association executive said the jury, after many hours of deliberation, found for the plaintiff in the amount of $410,000. But, minutes before the jury could return its verdict, according to newspaper accounts, the case was settled for $275,000.

"The current premium for automobile insurance coverage averages $60. If you divide that $60 into $275,000, you will find that it takes the premiums from 4,583 policyholders to pay this jury award," Hammond pointed out. "This is a striking example of where the insurance premium dollar goes. Most of the policyholders in this rating territory, who will have to pay for this verdict, have not had an accident themselves."

We have been emphasizing to all policyholders and the public that excessive jury awards boost rates on all kinds of insurance. The public should be aware that exaggerated and padded claims result in additional cost to everyone."

The Columbia Law Review estimates that only 48 per cent of the award ever reaches the claimant. About 36 per cent of the award goes to the lawyer said Hammond, and 16 per cent for expenses.

Change Rules For All-Stars

To The Editor: With the Little League games almost over, I'd like to appeal to everyone on making some changes in the rules for all-star games.

First of all, if a boy is good enough to be picked for an all-star game, then he should be good enough to play in the game. If the rules were made so each boy would have to play at least three innings in the game, it would save a lot of little broken hearts. If all teams had to do this, then they would still be on an equal basis. We know some are better than others, but each team has their best. The infield wouldn't have to be changed too much, therefore leaving their best defensive players in. If we had enough people to agree to this, maybe the ruling could be passed in Texas anyway.

Sincerely, MRS. A. T. BREWER Knott Route Big Spring, Tex.

For the past seven years she had made her home in Big Spring with her son, Earl Snodgrass. She was a member of the Big Spring Northside Church of Christ.

Mrs. Snodgrass was a former resident of Winters. Paul Wallace, Brownwood Church of Christ minister, will officiate at services, with burial in Northview Cemetery, Winters.

Survivors include two sons, Earl Snodgrass, Big Spring, and Henry Snodgrass, Abilene; one sister, Mrs. Lonie Abram, Oklahoma City; one grandson, one granddaughter and one great-granddaughter.

Jar Of Money — $12,590 — Found

CANTON, Ill. (AP) — Parents of three young boys who found a jar of money last week have filed a court declaration that the jar contained $12,590. The FBI is checking the bill's serial numbers to see if any of the money was stolen. Attorneys say if the money isn't claimed within one year, the money will rest with the finders.

Pollution Suit Is Continuing

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Completion of a salt pollution suit in 32nd District Court appeared at least two days away when court recessed here Tuesday evening.

C. W. Guthrie, Big Spring oil man and defendant in the suit, was on the stand at the end of the day. He testified as to location of salt water disposal pits.

Ben Ellett, who brought the action, had testified earlier that he considered the water wells on his farm as being polluted, whereas he said they previously had produced good water. Bill Browder, Midland, attorney for Ellett, had questioned Guthrie, and Gil Jones, Big Spring, attorney for Guthrie, had examined Ellett. Court officials estimated that testimony may be finished today and that the case could be concluded Thursday. Judge Ralph Caton, Big Spring, is hearing the case for Judge Austin McCloud, who disqualified himself since he had previously represented the defendant in legal matters.

DEAR ABBY

Majority Decides

DEAR ABBY: We are a group of ten church members who have been meeting in each other's homes once a month for the past eight years. After lunch we spend the rest of the afternoon studying our religion. Two years ago a woman joined our group. She has never yet had the luncheon in her home and tried many times to change our meetings from luncheons to just coffee and cookies. When I asked her when she could take the luncheon, she told me that it was impossible for her to entertain as her dog is very jealous and she has to give him tranquilizers whenever she has company. Kindly advise what you would do in a situation like this. Most of the ladies feel we should ask for her resignation, but no one will speak up. Since I am the president, I am...

ON THE SPOT
DEAR ON: If the majority of the women want a luncheon meeting, then it should remain a luncheon club. And if this woman wants to be a member, she should take her turn at having the luncheon. Otherwise, drop her and leave her free to sit and hold her dog's paw.

DEAR ABBY: After three daughters I finally had a little boy. My husband was wild with joy, but he's going overboard to make sure his son will be "all boy." He won't allow the baby to have a teddy bear or any stuffed toy to cuddle. (He says no son of HIS is going to play with dolls.) The boy is only eight months' old and his father roughhouses with him so fiercely that I'm afraid he'll hurt him. If my husband sees me "rock" or cuddle the baby, he has a fit. He reads your column right after the sports page, so maybe you can tell him he's wrong. I can't.

TRULY WORRIED
DEAR TRULY: All babies

Viet News Boosts Commodity Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Two markets that are closely following American decisions on the Viet Nam war are commodities and gold.

In recent days many commodities have risen in price or world markets. And increased demand for gold has sent its price to a three-month high. Part of the involvement of these markets in the news from Washington and Saigon is the traditional effect of any greater military effort on defense materials and monetary reserves.

But this time there are special reasons and complications: Monetary problems and policies of the United States and the rest of the world; and U.S. stockpiling of a multitude of commodities that war can either use up fast or make unavailable because of disrupted delivery routes.

TOUCHY SUBJECT
Even without Viet Nam, gold has been a touchy subject. The market has been weighing the successes of the United States in balancing its monetary payments with the rest of the world against a stubbornly held opinion in the Yankee quarters that the British pound aren't as attractive for reserve purposes as is the metal itself.

Heath Takes Tory Reins

LONDON (AP) — Edward Heath took control of Britain's Conservative party today at a critical stage in British politics, signaling a furious onslaught on the embattled Labor government.

Heath's two declared rivals, Reginald Maudling and Enoch Powell, withdrew from the race. The withdrawals came after Heath, on a first ballot of Conservative members of the House of Commons, won 150 of the 298 votes cast Tuesday.

BOWS OUT
The party's new rules required the winner to poll both a majority and 15 per cent more than the runner-up. Although he had the majority, Heath lacked the 15 per cent because Maudling polled 133 votes. But the latter bowed out and promised to fully support Heath. New trials emerged for Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Laborites, who rule with a majority of only three votes in Commons.

need to be rocked and cuddled. And they also need something THEY can cuddle in return. (This is how one learns to give and receive affection.) Your husband's roughness could cause the boy to turn to his mother for "protection." (This is what makes genuine "sis-sies.") Boys need tenderness from their fathers to teach them that "real men" can also be gentle, sensitive, and loving. A man who has been denied "love" from his father often grows up to be the type who asserts his "masculinity" by beating his wife and tyrannizing his children.

DEAR ABBY: I am going to bring my problem straight out. I am married to one man and am in love with another. He is my husband's best friend. You see, these two fellows grew up together and before we were married the three of us went everywhere together. This fellow goes everywhere with us, but he never has a date. When we go dancing, he dances with me. We became friendly at these times. I feel myself falling deeper and deeper in love with him, Abby. I think he feels the same about me although neither one of us ever came right out and said it. If I started to avoid him, my husband would wonder why. How can I control my heart? FORBIDDEN FRUIT

DEAR FORBIDDEN FRUIT: You can control your heart by controlling the situation. If you don't know a girl with whom to pair up the extra man, ask HIM to find one. Tell your husband that now that you're married, there is a crowd, and you want to be ALONE with him. And should you find yourself faced with temptation, keep your eyes off him and no dancing!

'Great Race' Director Gets Morale Lift

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — At the recent Moscow film festival "The Great Race" managed to win third prize in a field of turgid dramas brimming with social significance.

This is a noteworthy achievement for a movie that bears no message outside of a fervent plea for woman's suffrage. The award also comprised a boost in morale for Blake Edwards, the boyish third-generation film maker who conceived, helped write and directed "The Great Race."

Offhand you wouldn't think that Edwards needed such encouragement. Besides his current hit, he had a pair of solid winners last year — "The Pink Panther" and "A Shot in the Dark." But, like all creators of comedy, he suffers doubts as to whether his efforts are appreciated.

"It is a product of our system thinking that comedy is viewed in a frivolous way," he complained in his sumptuous office in Goldwyn Studios. "People feel that it is a much lesser achievement than drama. I knew that thinking would prevail at Moscow."

"I was supposed to go to the festival. Then the 'Great Race' showing was moved ahead and I couldn't get there in time. I was still going with Jack Lemmon when I read a report on the picture from Tass; it said grudgingly that people laughed, but the picture was not to be taken seriously."

"I canceled my trip. I've got enough troubles with critics here."

"But then I got reports on the showing from Jack, Dorothy Provine, George Stevens Jr. and others at the festival. They said the audience roared, and it was the only film to sell out the 6,000-seat house. They had to show it four times. Then came the award. "I think my whole attitude toward comedy will be different now. I'm not going to make any more excuses, to myself or anybody."

Nor should he. Although he looks like a movie juvenile — which he once was — he has the movie-making finesse of an old pro.

His grandfather was J. Gordon Edwards, who directed the first "Cleopatra" and other Theada Bara films. His father is Jack McEdwards, studio production manager who now oversees his son's films. Born William Blake McEdwards in Tulsa, Okla., the boy grew up in the movie world, went to Beverly Hills High School, later truncated his name when he tried for an acting career.

Lynda Bird Plans To Return To U.T.

AUSTIN (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson, President Johnson's older daughter, definitely will return to the University of Texas as this fall, officials of her sorority say.

Lynda Bird joined Zeta Tau Alpha when she attended the university as a freshman and officials say she will move into the southern colonial style sorority house blocks from the campus. There has been no White House announcement of Lynda's college plans.

When her father became President, she transferred her history studies to George Washington University. Her onetime University of Texas roommate, Warrille Lynn Smith of San Antonio, stayed with her at the White House and joined her at George Washington for a semester.

Lynda has frequently said she wants to get her degree from the University of Texas, where her mother was graduated.

Mrs. George Covert, a Zeta alumni and member of the corporation in charge of the sorority house, said a 9 by 14 foot room which had been planned for additional office space would be used by teams of Secret Service agents guarding Lynda Bird. The alumni decided inside quarters would be more sightly than a temporary trailer parked by the sorority house curb.

LIVED IN DORM
"She lived in the dormitory when she was here before, but she spent weekends at the sorority house," Mrs. Covert said. Lynda will know all of the other 35 girls in the house since most pledged about the same time she did. "We have tried to make it a very everyday thing, as much as possible," Mrs. Covert said, of the plans for Lynda to stay in the house. "I think younger people accept things more matter-of-factly than adults."

Farm Legislation To Prompt Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration appears to be facing possibly its toughest battle of this session of Congress in pushing for House passage of farm legislation.

An omnibus farm bill approved by the House Agriculture Committee earlier this month is expected to be taken to the House floor early in August. The measure appears now to be short perhaps a dozen or so of the votes needed. Some opponents say that a vote next week would see the measure defeated by perhaps 30 votes.

Even friends of the bill concede not enough votes have been assured for passage despite the fact Democrats have an overriding majority in the House.

Friends and foes agree the situation could change by the time a roll call vote is taken.

FOR, AGAINST

There are many factors going

Tourist Signs Are Put Up

Twenty restaurants, service stations, motels and hotels are displaying "Tourist Information" signs at their places of business along with brochures telling the traveling public about things to see and do in Big Spring and Howard County.

Chamber of Commerce manager Carroll Davidson, and the tourist and information committee, began putting out the signs this week to let tourists know information is available.

The signs, with 100 brochures have gone to firms having personnel enrolled in the recent tourist information school sponsored by the chamber of commerce along with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

"The signs, measuring 24 by 30 inches," Davidson said, "are $3 each. The brochures are free. Others interested in supplying information to tourists may inquire about details at the chamber office. Those who run out of brochures may ask for more."

The folders, with tourist information on them, cover such items as Webb Air Force Base, golf courses, scenic drive, Sand Hill Crane feeding area, the big spring site, lakes and fishing, oil fields, city park, Veterans Administration Hospital, schools, churches, Cosden refinery, carbon black plants, country clubs and many other sites, along with a map with sites numbered to show access.

Water District Demands High

Demands upon the Colorado River Municipal Water District continue strong, O. H. Ivie, general manager, reported today.

Daily deliveries continue to hang at the 52,000,000 gallon level. Last week the peak day came with 57,000,000 gallons pumped in one day, a new record for CRMWD.

Odessa is setting the pace, exceeding its former records, and prospects are that it will use 700,000,000 gallons during the month. Big Spring is continuing ahead of July a year ago, but has not passed its previous peaks. Snyder also is drawing at a brisk rate. If the remainder of the week is hot and dry, the district may touch a billion and a half gallons for the month.

Still Checking Into Burglary

Investigation into the burglary of the Caldwell Electric Company is still under way, Sheriff Aubrey Standard's office reported today.

It was said that the copper wire stolen from the company last weekend was valued at about $1,000. Chief Deputy Lindy Oldfield said that a lead which could be of help in the investigation is being checked out.

Club Hears Of Railroad

Optimists heard about the unique Chihuahua al Pacifico railroad which connects Presidio with Topolobambo on the Pacific.

Bruce Frazier, who was one of the first observers to make the trip even before the road was completed, told of his experiences when he addressed the Optimists at their weekly meeting Wednesday morning. He gave a history of the road, outlined some of the tourist attractions, and displayed pictures.

Van Perry, president, named Truett Newell, Jim Barrett, Bob Boadle, Paschall Odum, Jack Price and Bill Codzow as the committee on the family night picnic. Slim Broughton, lieutenant governor, listed his schedule for next week. On Aug. 3 he will be in Lamesa for a breakfast, and in Midland for lunch. The following day he will return to Midland for a breakfast and luncheon meetings with other clubs there, and then will be back here Aug. 7 to conduct a zone meeting at Cosden Country Club. Two new members and a guest were introduced at the meeting.

WEIGH COST

Many lawmakers will weigh carefully an estimate made by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., that the measure would cost the government $19 billion, largely in grower subsidies, over its proposed four-year period.

Naturally, this sharp division within agriculture over the legislation confuses many congressmen from urban areas.

Also on the minus side is the fact that the measure carries a cotton program that has very little producer support. Such grower backing as it does have comes largely from California. The possibility that the measure might be amended on the floor to tighten production controls would alienate even this support.

Many urban lawmakers are worried over an attack being made on the wheat provisions — claims that it would add a new broad tax to the consumer food bill.

A factor which supporters must overcome is the argument that failure of Congress to pass the legislation would not leave farmers without federal programs for the commodities covered by it. Laws now on the books provide programs for cotton, wheat, feed grains, and dairy products — the major commodities covered by the new legislation.

Also on the minus side is the desire on the part of some city Democrats to show that they exercise a degree of independence of President Johnson. Some of these lawmakers say they are getting tired of being labeled rubber-stamp congressmen.

A vote against the farm bill would give expression to their desire to show independence. On the plus side is the fact that the grain programs contained in the bill are liked by Midwestern growers because of the large amounts of government subsidies going to them for reducing acreages. These payments are being touted as major contributors to economic welfare in the midwestern grain states.

The measure carries extension of a wool stabilization program which has been warmly received by sheep men in the West. Many lawmakers from this region are expected to vote for the measure for this reason. Of course, the biggest plus factor is the power and influence of Johnson himself. Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has said that the President will use that influence when the time comes to bring Democrats into line behind the bill.

Damage Case Retrial Due

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Supreme Court reversed lower court decisions Wednesday and ordered a new trial in a suit for damages, brought by the City of Port Arthur against former directors and trustees of a Jefferson County water district.

The high court, in an opinion by Associate Justice Robert W. Hamilton, rejected opinions of the trial and civil appeals courts that the two-year statute of limitations barred legal action by the city.

Hamilton said that statute never applies to incorporated cities, such as Port Arthur.

In the suit, the city asked for $5,000 each from Harrell G. Tillman, D. D. Tillman, Mack Hannah Jr., Hamilton Paul, Emily Bridges, Isaac Prejean and Frank Boutte, alleging they had "violated and breached various statutory duties" of the district before it was annexed by the city.

The city contended in March 1962 that the Tillmans allegedly defrauded the water district in February 1959, only 10 months before the city annexed the district in December 1959.

Had the period between the alleged act and the annexation been longer than two years, the statute of limitations would have applied against the district, Hamilton said, but actually only 10 months had "run against the water district."

Fed Mothballs, Zoo Bear Cub Succumbs

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A 4-month-old black bear cub has died in a local zoo after he was fed mothballs by vandals, police say. The cub was born at the zoo this spring.

Released On Bond

Eddie Lee Long, arrested and indicted in Taylor County for DWI second, posted $1,500 bond here on Tuesday on request of the Abilene authorities. He was released from custody.

Former Model

She is 26 and a former model. He runs a fish and chips shop. "The birth is an occasion of great joy in which we all share," said Prime Minister Keith Holyoake. He said that he would see that the Lawsons get adequate housing, nursing help and anything else they need.

"It's wonderful, I can't believe it. I'm so excited I can't really describe how I feel," Mrs. Lawson said. "My 5-year-old daughter Lee Ann is absolutely thrilled. As for my husband, I think he's flabbergasted."

Resident's Father Dies In Borger

Floyd Arbia Childress, father of Mrs. Happy Hickman, died Tuesday at 1:45 p.m. in Borger while visiting a son. Funeral is pending at Hammer Funeral Home in Atlanta, Tex.

He was born in Russellville, Ark., Sept. 17, 1895, and made his home in Bloomburg in recent years. His wife preceded him in death May 26 of this year.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Mattie Hynes, Monahans; five sons, John D. Childress, Wyoming, Roy L. Childress, Goose Bay, Labrador, Billy Childress, El Paso, Arbia W. Childress, Odessa, Lev Childress, Borger; two daughters, Mrs. Hickman, Big Spring, Mrs. Ruby Dell Fisher, Amarillo; 24 grand-children and 15 great-grandchildren.

Outpost, Re-Entry Projects Listed

An outpost to the WAM (Fusselman) field in Sterling County, a wildcat re-entry in Howard County, and oil shows in a Dawson prospector were reported this morning.

Shell Oil Co. will dig the No. 2 F. M. Hildebrand as an outpost to the WAM (Fusselman) field in Sterling County. The project is five-eighths of a mile southwest of the two well field. Prospects will be checked at 8,740 feet, and is located 13 miles southwest of Sterling City, and 2,600 feet from the south and west lines of Section 4-7-H&C survey.

Mario Oil and Gas Co. will test the lower Wolfcamp at 7,550 feet in the No. 1 White, a hole drilled and abandoned by Ruth-erford of Houston in March, 1952 at a total depth of 7,491 feet. The site is seven miles west of Vincent and five-eighths of a mile northeast of the Vealmoor NE (Wolfcamp) field. Location is 660 from south line and 1,980 from west line, Section 36-25-H&C survey.

Texaco No. 1 United Presby-terian Church unit is bottomed at 11,400 feet and taking a drill-est. Operator tested the 10,962-11,032 section with tool open one hour. Recovery was 30 feet of oil, 270 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut mud, and 180 feet of oil-cut drilling mud. The 15 minute initial shut-in pressure was 4,254 pounds, the flowing pressure varied from 147-214 pounds, and the one hour final shut-in pressure was 4,421 pounds. Drillsite is 1,980 from south and east lines, Section 8-36-5n, T&P survey.

Ray (Shorty) Snyder received word late Tuesday that his brother, Maurice, 77, died unexpectedly at his home in Lands-downe, Pa., earlier in the day.

Of a family that originally included 10 sons and daughters, Ray is now the only surviving member. Maurice is survived by one son, an instructor at the University of Richmond.

Ray will be unable to attend funeral services. The Ray Snyders' son, Dickie, is scheduled to fly home tonight for a three weeks' leave from his military duties at Fort Knox, Ky.

Kitchen Bid Opening Set

The Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools has set 10 a.m. Aug. 17 as the time for opening bids on kitchen renovations at the state hospital here.

Proposals will cover changes in kitchens for buildings 501 and 505. Plans and specifications may be had from the chief of design and construction, 4405 N. Lamar Blvd., Austin.

Minor Accident On Blotter

One traffic mishap was reported in Big Spring Tuesday, when a car at 1515 Eleventh Place, owned by Mrs. Mary Phillips, 1710 Morrison, apparently rolled into the street, colliding with a station wagon, according to police.

The station wagon, owned by Mrs. Loyce Denton, Sterling City Route, was traveling west on Eleventh Place, officers said. Both vehicles received minor damage.

Texas Judges Favor Proposed Amendment

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas judges favor a proposed constitutional amendment to be voted on Nov. 2 which would provide for mandatory retirement of judges, two lawyers and three non-lawyers would investigate cases of alleged disability or misconduct and recommend action to the Texas Supreme Court. The high court alone would have authority to remove judges.

The proposal also provides for removal of judges who are permanently disabled or of those "unworthy of public trust." Judge Solomon Caseb Jr. said in a statement that the proposed amendment confers no benefits upon judges "except those every citizen enjoys from a thoroughly vigorous and honorable judiciary."

"But these public benefits as well as natural pride in our own calling are our only motives in advocating this amendment," he added. Caseb heads the bar's judicial section.

An unsalaried judicial qualifications commission of four judges, two lawyers and three non-lawyers would investigate cases of alleged disability or misconduct and recommend action to the Texas Supreme Court. The high court alone would have authority to remove judges.

Swim Sessions Slated At Y

Regular class instruction will end with Friday classes at the YMCA for the summer, and starting time for the fall is set for Sept. 13.

However, there will be recreational activities, particularly in recreational swimming during the interval.

Jim Gilbert, physical education secretary at the Y, said that recreational swimming would operate on the following schedule: elementary, Monday through Saturday at 9:30 a.m.-11:30 a.m.; junior high, Monday through Saturday at 1:30 p.m.-3:30 p.m.; families, Friday 7 p.m.-8:30 p.m.; adults, Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 5 p.m.-7:30 p.m. (except 7 p.m. on Wednesdays).

Outpost, Re-Entry Projects Listed

An outpost to the WAM (Fusselman) field in Sterling County, a wildcat re-entry in Howard County, and oil shows in a Dawson prospector were reported this morning.

Shell Oil Co. will dig the No. 2 F. M. Hildebrand as an outpost to the WAM (Fusselman) field in Sterling County. The project is five-eighths of a mile southwest of the two well field. Prospects will be checked at 8,740 feet, and is located 13 miles southwest of Sterling City, and 2,600 feet from the south and west lines of Section 4-7-H&C survey.

Mario Oil and Gas Co. will test the lower Wolfcamp at 7,550 feet in the No. 1 White, a hole drilled and abandoned by Ruth-erford of Houston in March, 1952 at a total depth of 7,491 feet. The site is seven miles west of Vincent and five-eighths of a mile northeast of the Vealmoor NE (Wolfcamp) field. Location is 660 from south line and 1,980 from west line, Section 36-25-H&C survey.

Texaco No. 1 United Presby-terian Church unit is bottomed at 11,400 feet and taking a drill-est. Operator tested the 10,962-11,032 section with tool open one hour. Recovery was 30 feet of oil, 270 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut mud, and 180 feet of oil-cut drilling mud. The 15 minute initial shut-in pressure was 4,254 pounds, the flowing pressure varied from 147-214 pounds, and the one hour final shut-in pressure was 4,421 pounds. Drillsite is 1,980 from south and east lines,

Service Featured At Eddie's Texaco

With service as a feature along with the main job of dispensing Texaco products, Eddie's Texaco Station at Marcy and Birdwell Lane strives to keep customers once gained, and to get new customers, with dependable service.

Cecil E. Harris, owner, an experienced salesman, attended two special schools before opening the new station. His experience has given him a keen insight into people's desires and respect for dependability. He attended the Texaco Training school for five weeks. He is also a graduate of United Delco's basic tune-up school.

Eddie has won Texaco's Star Dealer award for integrity and service to customers. The plaque reads:

"Texaco Star Dealer Award for integrity and service to customers. In recognition of his service to the motoring public Cecil E. Harris is named Texaco Star Dealer in accordance with his pledge to serve his customers with integrity and to provide them courteously with the high quality of service that made him worthy of this award."

"We handle Texaco products first, but along with the products goes service which includes custom wash jobs, Marfax lubrication, complete brake jobs, including installation of shoes, and adjusting; repair any size flat and put on new U.S. Royal tires; install mufflers; tune up engines, and service electrical systems; install shock absorbers in the Columbus line; wheel balancing; new windshield wiper blades; radiator hoses; air filters; fan belts, and service starters," Eddie says.

S&H Green Stamps are given with the sale of products and service as a bonus.

A free safety check for customers has been featured after 5 p.m. This includes inspection of exhaust, shock absorbers, wheel bearings, universal joints, and cooling system. This will enable the customer to have the best service possible for his automobile, and to know whether major work is needed.

In addition to these special services, a telephone call to AM 3-6606 will have your car serviced and ready when you need it.

Creighton Tire Co., 601 Gregg, has been Big Spring's Seiberling tire headquarters for more than three decades. The firm handles the famous Sealed-Aire tires for passenger cars and trucks, besides tires for tractors and heavy equipment. Wacker Stores Get Ready For School Supply Needs

It's just a little over a month before school starts, and the mothers are beginning to think about many items needed by children for that time.

The Wacker Store in Big Spring at 1103 Eleventh Place is well equipped to take care of almost every one of those school needs.

It is always a pleasure to go in the store and look over the thousands of items displayed and make selections for school needs, for the home, and for personal use.

The Wacker Store carries a big line of children's wearing apparel, including dresses, lingerie, and many other items.

When it comes to school supplies there is a big supply of paper, including writing, tablet and typewriter papers; pencils of all kinds; inks, pens, drawing materials, colored pencils, carrying cases for books and other materials, lunch boxes, and many other items.

Then the mothers, and school children, may find all kinds of books, color-by-number sets, games, and educational materials which may be supplementary to school work.

If household items are needed there are all kinds of cooking and kitchen utensils, household hardware, lamps, small electrical fixtures needed around the house by the handy man, some door and cabinet hardware, decorative items, and others.

A fine selection of women's and girls' cosmetics, hair needs, such as combs, curlers, nets, hair sprays; mirrors — hand and wall — plus men's shaving needs.

The men and boys will also find some of the tools needed around the house, yard and garden. The Wacker Store carries a good line of garden tools, fertilizers, and other items often needed to keep the lawns and gardens looking their best.

Jones Motor Co. Handles Famous Dodge Autos

Most buyers look for service and dependability when it comes to choosing a new car. Dodge owners have long realized the importance of a warranty that protects against defects in the most important part of any automobile — the power train.

The Chrysler-built Dodges carry just such a warranty to insure protection against failure for five years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first. If the owner produces evidence of normal service, as called for in the warranty, he can have trouble corrected in the service department of any dealer in the United States. The warranty goes with the car if sold before the end of the time period.

Included are the engine, transmission, differential, and other parts that keep the car in steady motion.

Jones Motor Co. at 101 Gregg has a big supply of Dodges and Darts on the lot and in the warehouse now, and salesmen are ready to talk trade. The "better-than-ever" Dodges are rolling all over West Texas and any one thinking of buying a new car is asked to talk to any owner.

A Devotional For The Day

What can separate us from the love of Christ? (Romans 8:35, NEB)
PRAYER: Our kind and loving Father, we do not ask for the easy way, but we seek strength to endure the hardships that may overtake us. We ask in the name of Christ, who suffered upon the cross for our redemption, and taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."
 (From the 'Upper Room')

Full Disclosure

Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois is a persistent man. He has introduced, for the fourth successive session of Congress, his so-called "truth in lending" bill.

The purpose of the bill is perfectly straightforward. It would require the lender to supply the borrower with a statement of the total finance charge in dollars and cents and with a statement of the finance charge expressed in terms of a true annual rate on the outstanding balance of the debt.

Small loan companies and retailers who derive a substantial portion of their profits from installment loans have led the opposition to the Douglas bill. One of the arguments in stock has been that it is impossible (or at the least very difficult) to state the financing cost in simple annual interest rates. The answer to this is that the businessman in setting his charges works backward from an annual rate, wherefore it would be almost as simple to figure the interest rate forward as backward. Another argument is that customers "don't care" about interest rates.

In answering this argument Douglas cited case histories of effective interest rates on furniture, personal loans and college tuition loans ranging from 18 per cent to 229 per cent a year. He said that borrowers emphatically denied that they would have borrowed the money if they had known the full cost interest and other charges made on the loan.

The Douglas bill has a better chance of passage this year since its principle has been endorsed by President Johnson in these words: "The cost of such credit must be made as clear and unambiguous as possible, eliminating all possibility of abuse. The antiquated legal doctrine, 'let the buyer beware,' should be superseded by the doctrine, 'let the seller make full disclosure.'"

The bill makes no attempt to regulate or control the rate of interest or the cost of credit. All it requires is an honest statement of the total cost of borrowing.

Access For Everybody

Under the auspices of the United Nations, a 46 majority of 62 participating countries has started on the humpy road to ratification of a long-needed international treaty or convention. It would establish as international law, subject to compulsory arbitration, the right of landlocked nations to access to the sea.

The convention, if supplemented widely in the future through bilateral treaties, should help the foreign trade of 21 countries. Most of them are in Africa, with several each in Europe and Asia, and only two, Paraguay and Bolivia, in Latin America.

As anything that contributes to freer international trade is a boon to the American economy, the United States is a favorably interested party in this treaty negotiation. No concessions will be required of this country, of course, for it has no landlocked neighbor.

The main beneficiary of this new concept in international law will be central Africa, also one of the world's regions most in need of facilitated foreign trade to stimulate internal economic development and social and political progress.

Prompt universal ratification and implementation of this international convention, which will be open to signatories to the end of this year, is too much to expect. But even a majority agreement on a beginning formula is promising for significant improvement in international trade.

All peoples should be concerned with the contribution it can make to world peace, for disputes over access to the sea has caused localized wars in the past and no war is easily localized these days.

David Lawrence Kennedy And The Military

WASHINGTON—Up to now, the late John F. Kennedy has been eulogized and memorialized to such an extent that he has been ranked as a great President in the minds of many people. Unfortunately, that image is unwittingly being tarnished now by some of his closest friends and advisers who served with him. For, in their attempt to tell the story of Mr. Kennedy's many frustrations in decision-making, they are portraying him as in many respects a bewildered and wavering personality.

ODDLY ENOUGH, one of the biographers says Mr. Kennedy was, about to replace Secretary of State Rusk because of the latter's "reluctance to decide" questions. President Johnson last week publicly repudiated such an impression as he reiterated his confidence in Secretary Rusk.

Published chapters of two forthcoming books—one by Theodore Sorenson and the other by Arthur Schlesinger Jr.—place emphasis on Mr. Kennedy's disillusionment with his own military advisers over the attempted invasion of Cuba by exiles at the Bay of Pigs in April 1961. Now that the late President's intimate friends have come out with some of the facts, Merriman Smith, the UPI reporter at the White House, and others feel free to comment also. Mr. Smith writes about a private talk which he and a small group had with the President aboard an airplane a week after the Bay of Pigs invasion:

"FAR FROM being tearful, he (the President) thundered at the Joint Chiefs of Staff, then at himself for being overly impressed by the invincibility of the judgment of generals and admirals."

Then Mr. Smith quoted Mr. Kennedy as having said heatedly: "Never again will I accept the advice of a general or an admiral simply because of his rank, because the judgment of a civilian may be just as sound and even better on matters in which these men are supposed to have such expert knowledge."

BUT THERE IS something even more significant in the stories of Mr. Kennedy's reaction to the Bay of Pigs invasion. The late President may not have had enough background to understand the vocabulary of the military men or their reluctance to criticize civilian advisers ranging from State Department officials to the U.S. Ambassador at the United Nations, who uttered some last-minute words of restraint that are said to have influenced Mr. Kennedy considerably.

IN RECENT YEARS the Secretary of Defense has been interposed by act of Congress between the chiefs of the military forces and their Commander-in-Chief in the White House. This does not mean that theoretically members of the Joint Chiefs cannot go to the White House if they wish, but it is usually upon invitation. A chief of one of the armed services may have doubts about a President's policy, but he could not go to the White House without involving himself in complications with his own associates in the other armed services.

IF THE LATE President Kennedy had maintained such personal contacts from day to day with the individual members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, he never would have had any difficulty in understanding what they recommended with respect to the Bay of Pigs invasion.

The Joint Chiefs, to be sure, "approved" a theoretical plan of invasion by Cuban exiles, but the success of the operation depended upon forces beyond the control or command of these same high officers. No American military commanders were permitted to have a controlling voice in the conduct of the operation. Otherwise, somewhere along the line, they would have insisted that, unless adequate air cover could be provided, no such expedition should be undertaken by the exile group. With effective air support, there might have been a different outcome of the invasion at the Bay of Pigs. (Copyright, 1966, New York Herald Tribune, Inc.)

Serenity Overhangs LBJ-Congress Dealings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The umbrella of tranquility always stands above relations between the President and Congress and keeps them from getting overheated.

That must be the impression of anyone who came of age in the past 12 years which have been a rather tranquil time in dealings between the man in the White House and the men in the Capitol.

But it wasn't always that way. It wasn't that way under the presidency of Franklin D. Roosevelt and of Harry S. Truman who had some monumental battles with Congress.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower is the one who raised the umbrella from the moment he took office in 1953. His policy was simple: Don't say anything to irritate the men on the hill.

THIS PRETTY much deprived them of a chance or a reason for firing back at him. President John F. Kennedy continued the policy and President Johnson has made a big production of it, and a successful one.

In these first seven months of his first term Johnson has been enormously free of criticism except for some advice by Republicans on how to win the war in Viet Nam.

Johnson plays all the angles to avoid criticism. For example, in the way he announces a decision.

One of the very best ways to cause yourself misery, if you were president, would be to let information leak out on a decision you had made before you announced it.

IT WOULD give the critics—ranging from the truly concerned to the disenchanted, the discontented, and the garrulous—a chance to open up on you before you made a decision known.

Johnson has done just the opposite by making surprise announcements, and the absence of criticism shows it has worked well for him.

For example: there was praise from all sides when he suddenly revealed he had plucked Justice Arthur J. Goldberg off the Supreme Court to make him U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

The generally high regard for Goldberg can be considered the main factor in this wide public approval. But there was another: once the announcement was made, criticism couldn't have meant much.

BUT JOHNSON could have expected screams about letting the court alone if, in order to learn public opinion, he had leaked a hint of his Goldberg appointment beforehand.

And, once it had happened, for ever after some residue of this discontent would have clung to Johnson and Goldberg.

This kind of trial balloon business—leading information on a pending decision to take the public pulse—is an old technique of politicians and presidents but Johnson has done little or none of it.

Real You Is A Bunch Of Numbers

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — In these times, when you are known by the numbers you keep, it's heartening to know there are forces at work to slow the trend. It needs slowing.

Your friends may know you as Jim or Alice, but the real you is a bunch of figures.

To people you never meet and machines you never see you are coldly remembered with numbers. It starts with your birth certificate number and ends with another certificate.

AT BIRTH, your father kicks through with his hospitalization insurance number, a real mouthful: Group No. 4929.784; certificate No. 565-26-4650; code No. 556-684, plus 030153—the date he joined.

In school, you have student body cards and lockers, all with numbers.

If you don't have it by then, you get a Social Security number—mine is 565-27-4650. And a work permit number. And a number on the time clock that, when translated, riddles your paycheck like Swiss cheese.

Driving a car gets you into the big time. Your driver's license is numbered 354031 597737995 4948583. That's more than the world's population, but machines like to think big.

THE LICENSE plate is posted for all to see.

The friendly banker that financed that car knows you as loan No. 7434943 and would you please put that on all your checks in payment.

Insurance-wise you are policy 584-5839-55738-6753. These companies are very important institutions, obviously.

Friendly banker 11-756 over 594 has assigned you a checking account number. But he doesn't look it up to inform you about that overdrawn account. The machine that guards your fortunes spits out the dunning letter, imprinting your name and address—including the zip code for the mailman.

There is an advantage to this: It does relieve you from blushing when walking into the bank. Machines don't stare.

TO GASOLINE companies, book and record clubs, magazine publishers and mail order houses you are a set of hyped-up numbers. Stores know you similarly at billing time.

To the telephone companies you no longer live in Paducah or wherever, but now you are Area Code 319. You may not know the number you are calling, but the operators ask you for the code anyway. She thanks you and says she's Operator 69.

If you were in the service, tradition has it you never forget that number. It was 394408—no, 340894—no, 4983—

Oh, well, you still have a number. Mrs. Rosenthal, my wife, calls me 565 for short.

Sometimes she even calls me Harry.

(Today's column by AP's Harry F. Rosenthal substitutes for Hal Boyle.)

To Your Good Health Don't Kiss Babies On The Mouth

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Am I being overly cautious when I disapprove of people kissing my baby on the mouth? Older children can be told to turn their heads so that the kiss lands on the cheek, but not an infant.—MRS. A.B.

You are right in being cautious. Babies have enough trouble without additional exposure to infections.

The mouth and nose area, being warm, moist mucous membranes are excellent breeding places for germs. Or parking places. The nose, particularly, is a "carrier" region for staphylococcus or the "staph" germ, which is responsible for many skin infections and sometimes more serious problems.

The scores of common cold and flu and adenovirus germs congregate in the nose, mouth and throat regions. If somebody, unknown to himself, is starting to come down with a cold, there probably is no readier way of giving the germs to a baby than by a kiss on the mouth.

My favorite place is the back of the neck, but an ear, cheek or forehead is better than the lips, and gives a baby half a chance of avoiding casual germs. Just drying out will destroy a good many germs; lack of a warm, moist area (such as the mouth or nose) will at least retard proliferation of the germs.

I suppose the reason we have so many mouth-kissers is that some of them haven't stopped to think about the consequences. Some, no doubt, are the kind of people who think that they could not be carrying any germs.

Dear Dr. Molner: We have a disagreement about white spots on the fingernails. I say they are bruises but a friend claims they are the result of anemia. I thought white nails, rather than just white spots, indicate anemia.—B.A.

Unusual paleness of the whole nail may (but not always) be a sign of anemia. Some interference with circulation, for just one instance, can be involved.

The small white spots usually indicate minor injury to the nail bed.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is powdered skim milk as good for old people as fresh milk?—R.C.P.

There are two things to keep in mind here: The difference between skim and whole milk; and the difference between fresh and powdered milk.

The main difference between whole and skim milk is removal of much of the fat from the latter. The skim milk has about half the calories of whole milk. Most of the Vitamin A is lost, because that is in the fat. But the protein, sugar and mineral content (calcium is one of the extremely important minerals) remains about the same.

The difference between fresh or powdered milk is very slight so far as nutrition goes.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, Acne—The Teenage Problem. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Dr. Molner answers readers' questions in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim Sooner Than We Think

When you turn on your hydrant these days and get all the water you need or feel like you can pay for, it's a mighty comforting feeling. Things were not ever thus, although Big Spring came into being because of its supply of water.

THE SPRING which gave the community its name naturally was the first source of water. Indians and centuries before the white man came upon it. Cabeza de Vaca undoubtedly visited the springs some 400 years ago, but it remained for Capt. R. B. Marcy, exploring for the U.S. Army, to chronicle clearly for the first time a white man's description of the spring.

IN TIME buffalo hunters made it a focal point of their forays, and when the Texas and Pacific was in a race with the Southern Pacific, the spring became a convenient source of water for locomotive boilers. The company built a pump house on its brink and for years boosted water over the hill and into Sulphur Draw through which the railroad had pushed in its haste. A community came to life, and the inconvenience of hauling water in barrels and later by tank wagon gave way to a private venture of piping water to town. At first clay tile pipe was used, and this ruptured from the pressure, so cast iron was employed.

FOR A TIME this sufficed, but as the village grew, so did water demands. So wells were drilled above the spring. This increased the output but dried up the spring. Still the demand for water mounted, and more wells were drilled. One theory was that if a little hole would produce a certain amount of water, a larger one would produce more. So a big hand-dug well was sunk, but the theory wasn't sound.

Except for a couple of small pockets, there was no potable fresh water to be found in wells in the township, so the city went searching. First more wells were drilled up the draw from the original sites, and the Section 17 lease, as it became known, helped for a while.

THEN CAME the oil boom in the late 20's, and it was apparent that a much larger supply was imperative. This led to the location and development of what was known as the Section 33 lease, a prolific if limited source.

This was produced from a syncline (an underground bowl) and was demonstrably capable of steady depletion. Once more the city went looking. In the mid-30's, with the aid of Public Works Administration funds, the city developed two small lakes (Moss Creek and Powell Creek) and although erratic as the weather, they did prove to be life-savers.

SUCH WAS the situation at the end of World War II, and everyone knew that more water had to be found. The answer ultimately was Lake J. B. Thomas, the reservoir brought into being through the joint efforts of Big Spring, Odessa and Snyder (acting as the Colorado River Municipal Water District). Despite prolonged drought, the big lake still contains 50 per cent of capacity and the reserve is reassuring. However, if the past contains any lesson, it is that the demand for water grows and grows and grows.

SOME OF THESE days, sooner than we think, Big Spring and all other cities in this part of West Texas will have more water. This is why it is so urgent that the Texas Water Commission give the green light on an application for a new lake on the Colorado River near Fort Lee. This is the issue reduced to its simplest and purest terms. —JOE PICKLE

Holmes Alexander Peaceful Uses Of The War Machine

WASHINGTON—In their hymn of hate against our industrial-military complex, peace-mongers like Professor Seymour Melman complain that we squander money and talent to kill but never to cure—it is the lament of ignorance.

Some of the biggest death-dealing firms in the nation are at work at lifesaving, time-saving, city salvation and crime control.

AEROJET GENERAL, which sells merchandise of annihilation to the Defense Department, has also undertaken the extirpation of juvenile delinquency. North American Aviation, which manufactures the fastest, most altitudinal military aircraft in the world, is working to unsmear the urban traffic meales. Companies whose products are a skull-and-bones to Communism are contributing push-button systems by which society, at long last, may be able to make the punishment of culprits fit their crimes. And firms that profit from the dirtiest work of all, germ warfare, are toiling also to bring us sweetness and light in domestic relationships.

ONLY A BEGINNING has been made in this kill-into-cure diversification by the weapons industry, but the Senate Labor-Welfare Committee is learning about it from its chief innovator, Governor Edmund (Pat) Brown of California.

The Governor has negotiated four $100,000 contracts with California-based war and space companies which have undertaken to dig him out from under domestic problems that are common to all States and cities—pollution, conglomeration, crime. Sixty-five large companies entered bids at Brown's invitation to do civil improvement work, and 16 offered sophisticated plans on waste disposal alone.

ONE FIRM, United Technological Center, knows how to mix a newly-developed chemical compound with sewage and thereby make it easier to dispose of the waste at the city treatment plants. Another firm has a photosynthesis process which is a by-product of work on desalinization. Still another firm, versed in waste-management of toxic gases at the rocket test sites, knows how to take pollution out of the air.

MASS TRANSPORTATION, in a program submitted by North American Aviation, talks of moving people and goods with "individual aircars from home to office, hands-off control of all vehicles on freeways, automated pipeline movement of produce from farm to home in hours, continuous flow of mail from dropbox to destination . . . all and more are feasible."

Crime can be fought by computers. A study by Aerojet General would store data of case histories so that judges and parole boards could mete out socially-useful decisions. "Imprisonment," says Brown, a former prosecutor, "has no effect at all on some men. They return to crime the minute they walk out the gate . . . the systems analysis approach can help us sort out these men."

PROFESSOR MELMAN, a social nihilist, finds in his new book, "Our Depleted Society," that the building of a "colossal military power" has reduced America to a prospect of "no future." But, in fact, this military colossus can be made to save us from ourselves while warding off the enemy. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Richard Starnes The Bay Of Pigs And The CIA

WASHINGTON — The disaster at the Bay of Pigs has been illuminated during the past few days by the recollections of two of John F. Kennedy's principal aides, and by a published interview with the former CIA official who was the chief architect of the invasion.

Theodore C. Sorenson and Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., now disgorging high-priced memoirs in Look and Life, respectively, agree in general — after the debacle Mr. Kennedy felt he had been deceived on key points regarding the invasion, and he reproached himself for trusting the "experts."

BUT THE interview with Richard M. Bissell Jr., the principal planner of the operation, copyrighted by the Washington Evening Star, reflects none of Mr. Kennedy's pre-invasion doubts. It is, indeed, a good specimen example of the self-serving, how-let's-get-my-side-of-it interview with a wounded bureaucrat. Bissell professes to believe that the invasion would have had "a damned good chance" of success if air support had not been withdrawn at the last moment.

The Bissell interview contains only one notable insight — the fear that if the invasion were cancelled (a move which Mr. Kennedy was sorely tempted to make) the Cuban exile force ("the most powerful military force between Mexico and Panama") might run riot throughout Guatemala, Honduras or Nicaragua.

BUT THE TRUTH — a truth that is amply documented and scandalously ignored — is that Mr. Kennedy would not have succeeded in calling off the invasion even if he had tried. The CIA, according to unchallenged testimony that is on the public record, told invasion leaders a few days before the scheduled landing at the Bay of Pigs that it was possible the invasion would be called off by Washington.

If that took place, the CIA's mysterious "Frank" (who was the chief training officer for the invasion force) told exile leaders that they were to take their CIA shepherds prisoner and go ahead with the planned landing.

THIS ACCOUNT of contingency treason is contained in interviews with three of the leaders of the ill-fated Brigade 2506. The interviews were taken by Haynes Johnson and published in his meticulously documented book, "The Bay of Pigs." Mr. Johnson taped interviews with the three invasion leaders separately. All agreed in the essential points — "Frank" came to them, warned them that an attempt might be made to call off the invasion, and instructed them how to frustrate Mr. Kennedy's order if it came.

OF ALL THE revelations about the shabby double-dealing that led to a humiliating defeat for the United States, the planned betrayal of Mr. Kennedy is the most shocking. But equally shocking is the fact that this sensational imputation of disloyalty to a high CIA officer has been completely ignored by Congress, which finds time to investigate everything, and by President Johnson.

The only conclusion that the sensible observer can draw is that the power of the elephantine, unaccountable CIA is now so great that no organism of government dares challenge it, however compelling the circumstances may be. (Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Billy Graham

Lots of people go to church. But do you think that all of them know what it is all about? I am told that about ninety per cent of adults belong to church or synagogue, but it doesn't seem that too many of them are dedicated to their belief. Do you agree?

Someone has said, "Nothing is easier than to use the word 'God' and mean nothing by it." The reason not to be conveyed by cold words or metal type. We learn about God from experience: a prayer answered, a conscience probed, or an assurance of forgiveness in response to faith.

Unless our faith can be defined in terms of actual experience, church will have little meaning for us. The early disciples said: "We cannot help but proclaim the things we have seen and heard." It is when our faith rings with the sound of experience that it becomes real. Wesley said, "My heart was strangely warmed." Augustine said, "I found rest in Him." Luther said, "It's the personal pronouns that count." Paul said: "I live by the faith of the Son of God who loved me and gave Himself for me."

In this sense I agree with Jean Paul Sartre when he said in effect: "Only that which is experienced is really real."

EVANGELINE TRIO
To appear at First Church of God Thursday

Church To Host Trio In Concert Thursday

The Evangeline Trio, from the Warner Pacific College at Portland, Ore., will appear in concert at the First Church of God, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday. The Rev. V. Ward Jackson, pastor, said the group will present varied sacred selections followed by a group of "fun" songs in the church fellowship hall.

The trio has been on tour since June 15, and the first concert was given at the International Convention of the Church of God at Anderson, Ind. Since that time they have appeared in Ohio, West Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Alabama, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas. They will go from Big Spring to Las Cruces, N. M., and then to Arizona and California before returning to their college in Oregon.

Members of the Evangeline Trio are Marydith Hooker, Portland, Ore., a 1964 Rose Festival princess; Jay White, Walnut Creek, Calif.; Betty Weiks, Seattle, Wash., accompanist; and Betty Buckee, Eugene, Ore.

"The tour was planned to give the Warner Pacific College students with the educational opportunity of seeing the country and applying their musical talents, and to enable church groups, with which Warner Pacific is affiliated, to become familiar with the quality of education offered to Warner Pacific College students," Rev. Jackson said.

The college was established in 1937, and the four-year liberal

Increase Due City Program

The Citywide Summer Recreation Program is in its final week of operation and seems assured of a 20 per cent increase in cumulative participation.

Attendance at the fun clubs and playground activities last week exceeded 1,000, and if this level holds for the current week, the attendance will top 7,500 for the season, said Jim Gilbert, who has been coordinating the program.

During this week the program is virtually the same except that youngsters have been trying to complete handicraft work they have been working with for several weeks.

All areas have held up well in attendance, and the Bauer playground program has been drawing about 150 weekly.

The bidding:
East 1 South West North
Pass 1 Pass 3 Pass 4 Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠ South took an unnecessary finesse in today's hand and, as a result, his four-spade contract went on the rocks.

West led the king of hearts and East signaled, encouragingly with the seven. West continued with a small heart to his partner's ace; however, South ruffed the next round with the queen of spades.

Trumps were drawn in two rounds and the ace of clubs was cashed. The closed hand was entered by leading another spade to the eight, so that declarer might take a club finesse. East was in with the queen of clubs and he shifted to the jack of diamonds. South played the queen; however, West produced the king for the setting trick.

Declarer considered himself, to be the victim of bad luck in having lost both finesses. In point of fact, however, he had not given himself the best chance. When the hearts are stripped out and the trumps have been drawn, South can improve his prospects slightly by forgoing the club finesse altogether.

It is suggested that declarer cash dummy's ace and king of clubs. When the queen falls on the second round, the contest is over for the club loser has been eliminated; however, that is not the entire point of the play. Even if the queen does not drop, South will be able to end play his opponent if West has the missing honor for, when the jack is led the next time, West has no convenient exit. A diamond return is into the ace-queen and any other lead presents the declarer with a ruff and discard.

If it develops that East has the queen of clubs, then South has lost nothing since the finesse also would have failed, and he still has the diamond finesse available as a last resort.

It may be observed that, if East switches to a diamond at trick three instead of continuing the hearts, South is almost certain to fail on the deal, provided that no one exposes his hand to declarer's scrutiny. South is obliged to take an immediate finesse in diamonds and, when that loses, a club finesse becomes inevitable for, with only six cards in the suit, a play to drop the queen runs distinctly counter to the odds.

It's Auction Time For Ship In Lake

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — How do you auction off a ship lying under water?

This is the way it will be done Wednesday when the Prins Willem V, a 58-foot Dutch ocean-going diesel cargo ship lying at the bottom of Lake Michigan, is auctioned off.

Prospective bidders will assemble atop one of Milwaukee's newest and tallest downtown buildings commanding a splendid view of the harbor. The auction will start at $27,000.

Experienced divers will be available on request to assist potential buyers.

SANK IN 1954

The Prins Willem V was insured for $2 million. It sank Oct. 14, 1954, after colliding with a towed oil barge. It is lying on its side in about 75 feet of water four miles east of the Milwaukee harbor entrance. Sporadic efforts have been made to bring the ship to the surface. The ship's sealed cargo was insured for $750,000.

At first it was believed that the highest point of the sunken ship was 31 feet below the surface and thus a hazard to navigation. As such it became U.S. government property with the ship owners relinquishing title.

The Army contracted with Max Eugene Nohl, a Milwaukee deep sea diver, to clear the wreckage to a safe depth of 40 feet. The terms gave Nohl title to the Prins Willem.

EASILY CLEARED

The navigational hazard turned out to be a gangplank. A few strokes of a diver's knife and Nohl had fulfilled the contract. After some litigation he collected nearly all of his $50,000 contract figure.

Nohl and his wife were killed in an automobile accident in Arkansas in 1960. A corporation formed by his heirs contracted with Samuel L. Whitemitz, a Chicago industrial auction firm, to sell the ship and cargo on an "as is, where is" basis.

The 715-ton cargo consists of printing machinery, chemicals in steel drums, leather, hides, television picture tubes, musical instruments, outdoor motors, slide projects and other items of U.S. manufacture. The cargo, sealed and packed for export, is presumed to be undamaged.

Killer Patrol Used By Reds

PANMUNJOM, Korea (AP) — The United Nations Command in Korea charged the North Korean Communists today with a series of armistice violations, including a clash 900 yards south of the demilitarized zone.

U.S. Maj. Gen. William P. Yarborough told the Joint Military Armistice Commission North Korea sent "an armed killer patrol across the military demarcation line" July 19 and the patrol "threw hand grenades at our soldiers in direct and flagrant violation of the cease-fire."

Yarborough, the senior U.N. Command delegate to the truce talks, also said that four armed men from North Korea opened fire on South Korean police agents and killed two of them July 18 in the Songchu resort area 5 miles north of Seoul.

"Two of your armed thugs were captured in the incident," he told North Korean Maj. Gen. Chung-kook Park denied the charges and said the United States had manufactured the incidents.

Historical Meeting Set

Ed Fisher, chairman of Howard County Historical Survey Committee and his sub-committee chairmen have been invited to attend a regional meeting of county historical survey committees in Kermitt, Aug. 3.

Howard is one of 14 counties invited for the morning workshop in the First National Bank at 10 o'clock.

Following the meeting, at noon, these committee chairmen will join the presidents, executives and chairmen of Tourist Committees of the Permian Basin Chambers of Commerce to discuss the tourist aspects of the RMPS program to Record, Appreciate, Mark, Preserve and Survey Texas history. John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, president of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, is the member in charge of Region 16 of which this county is a part.

Selections Made For Hereford Sale

Forty bulls and 10 cows were selected Tuesday for sale at the annual Howard County - South Plains Hereford Association Auction this winter.

Bill Reed, Sterling City, made the selection from herds in a number of ranches. A tour of the ranches was conducted by the association. This coming week, a few more animals will be chosen for the sale from herds in other parts of West Texas.

Dr. G. T. Hall Ranch provided the largest number of bulls. Two pens of three bulls each, two singles and four heifers were chosen from this herd for the sale.

Reed selected 32 single bulls, three pens of three bulls each, and the 10 heifers in the course of the tour.

Jack Buchanan and his father, Sam Buchanan, will offer seven single bulls, two females at the sale. Charlie Creighton will consign two single bulls, a pen of three bulls and two heifers.

Other consignors include Raymond Green, Brownfield, one bull and two heifers; P. H. Coates, Big Lake, three bulls; George Wallace, Sonora, four bulls; Leland Wallace, three bulls; James Coates, three bulls.

Forty attended the tour and it terminated with a luncheon in Big Spring.

On hand to help out with the tour were Loy Acuff, president of the association, and Jimmy Taylor, secretary.

Genealogical Workshop Set

The South Plains Genealogical Society, whose 218 members come from 17 West Texas counties and New Mexico, will present a two-day research workshop, Aug. 6-7, 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. each day, at the Municipal Garden & Arts Center, 4215 College Avenue, Lubbock.

Everyone interested in genealogical and historical research is invited to attend, announced Mrs. R. P. Swofford, president of the organization.

Reference books, maps and other materials helpful in tracing family lineages will be supplied from the library of the genealogical organization and by its individual members. No formal program is planned in order that those attending may use as much time as possible in research among the historical materials provided for the two-day event. Lineage charts, family group sheets and other record forms will be available for purchase.

Among the books for use will be some 40 DAR Lineage Books from a recent extensive gift of books to the South Plains Genealogical Society by Lubbock's Nancy Anderson Chapters of the American Revolution.

Road Number Hearing Set For Thursday

AUSTIN (AP) — A six-county South Texas delegation wants a single state highway number for the 207 miles from San Antonio to Zapata.

The Texas Highway Commission said the request, from Duval, Jim Hogg and Zapata counties, is one of 15 items docketed for a public hearing Thursday.

Spokesmen for the counties have discussed Texas 16 as the highway designation, the commission said. Texas 16 originates at Texas 254 between Graham and Mineral Wells. It runs 318 miles to Interstate 10 at San Antonio.

Other requests scheduled for consideration include completion of a 15-mile freeway, Texas 225, from Interstate 610 in Houston to Texas 146 in Pasadena. It would cost the state an estimated $19 million to complete the freeway. Only 4 miles have been built.

Also on the agenda are requests for $5 million in improvements on US 281 in Jim Wells County, several farm roads in Deaf Smith County, a $48,000 pedestrian tunnel under Texas 50 at the East Texas State University campus in Commerce, a $30,000 extension of Texas 83 to a proposed toll bridge over the Rio Grande near Rio Grande City and a $750,000 high-water bridge over the Trinity River in Walker County.

Romania's Communism Free Of Kremlin Control

BUCHAREST, Romania (AP) — Romania is scoring points in its policy of maintaining a national communism free of Kremlin control.

When Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Soviet party chief, endorsed the policy before the Romanian party congress, he formally put an end to Soviet efforts to make Romania toe the Moscow line. The action left the impression that such countries as Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria also might break loose and get away with it.

SUCCEEDED CHIEF
The Soviet endorsement was a personal triumph for Romanian party leader Nicolae Ceausescu, a Communist intellectual. He was the right-hand man of former president and party leader Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej. When Gheorghiu-Dej died last March, Ceausescu took his place at the head of the party.

Under his guidance, Romania is following in the path of Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia without leaving the Soviet bloc or abandoning the ruthless application of Communist theory.

The Communist party statutes and the national constitution have been amended to stress Romania's sovereignty and independence. All reference to the "guiding role" of the Soviet party has been removed and the party organization has been remodeled on the Yugoslav pattern.

Compulsory military service has been cut from two years to 16 months. The army command has been purged of its Moscow-trained leadership. A relatively young and hitherto inconspicuous officer, Gen. Ion Gheorghe, was promoted over the heads of higher-ranking men to chief of staff and deputy defense minister.

George is close to Ceausescu. Unlike some of his colleagues, he resisted when Moscow proposed integration of the military commands of the Warsaw Pact nations.

Unlike Yugoslavia, Romania remains a member of the Warsaw Pact, the Communist counterpart of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. But no longer can the Russians count on the Romanian army in all circumstances.

Aug. 19 Stays For Launching

HOUSTON (AP) — Problems that popped up during a simulated Gemini 5 launch at Cape Kennedy last week were being solved today and a space center spokesman said the target date of Aug. 19 still looks good.

The simulation was to iron out any kinks in the Titan 2 rocket and the two-man Gemini spacecraft. Two defective fuel cell sections turned up. Both were replaced.

A launch erector which would not lower on the Gemini 4 flight, refused to raise after the Gemini 5 test. Astronauts Gordon Cooper, 38, and Charles Conrad, 33, were taken from the spacecraft by a crane.

The faulty electrical switch in the erector has been replaced, the spokesman said, and the erector is working properly again.

Stray radio signals that crept into the communications loop from Houston will be eliminated by cutting the mission control center here out of the launching operations, he said.

Meanwhile, engineers and technicians were pushing hard in training and simulation exercises preparing for the eight-day space mission. It will be the longest manned space flight attempted unless the Russians beat their five-day record between now and Aug. 19.

Leo Eugene Nix, charged with DWI second offense, has posted $1,000 bond and been released. He was transferred from the city police station to the county jail Monday.

Pentagon Eyes 'Realistic Goal' In Viet Nam Buildup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon thinking now tends toward the view that an 8 to 1 ratio, rather than the often-quoted 10 to 1 ratio, is a more realistic goal for a manpower advantage needed to deal with Communist insurgents in South Vietnam.

Even an 8 to 1 ratio would indicate a far greater input of U.S. troops than seems in prospect. The indicated buildup need under this formula would come to perhaps 650,000 more men. If a 10 to 1 ratio were applied, it would point to a requirement for about 900,000 more troops in South Vietnam.

FAR SHORT
American troops there now or due soon total about 83,000 and indications are that about 100,000 will be added by the end of this year. Both figures are far short of filling the 8 to 1 ratio.

Calculations for troop strength needed to handle the guerrillas have been lowered because of the rising number of Communist troops, coupled with their bigger fighting units.

The basis for this seeming paradox is the theory that the more the Viet Cong insurgents get away from hit and run tactics and the more men they field, the easier it becomes to hit them.

The 650,000-man increase on the 8-to-1 ratio is based on the current estimate that about 165,000 Communist troops are opposing about 500,000 Vietnamese troops, plus the 83,000 Americans there or expected shortly and several thousand Koreans, Australians and New Zealanders.

NEAR 700,000
It also takes into account a 100,000-man increase in South Viet Nam's forces. Over-all, that would bring the anti-Communist military forces in Viet Nam close to 700,000.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said last week the current ratio of about 4 to 1 is unacceptable. He did not specify an acceptable ratio and has avoided any figure of that sort.

Officials say increased mobility furnished by U.S. helicopter units and added firepower supplied by U.S. jets could be credited with enough impact to hike the 4 to 1 troop ratio to the equivalent of perhaps 6 to 1.

This would still leave a deficiency of about 300,000 men.

Auditions Set By Dr. Hoggard

Dr. Lara Hoggard, conductor of the Midland-Odessa Symphony Orchestra and Chorale, today issued an invitation to persons throughout the Permian Basin to tryout for the orchestra for chorus and announced that auditions will begin Monday, Aug. 2.

Arrangement for an audition appointment should be made immediately by contacting Mrs. Bill German, executive secretary of the association, at MU 2-0621 or P.O. Box 4274, Midland.

Dr. Hoggard reported that last year's 72 piece orchestra and 74 voice chorus represented not only Midland and Odessa, "but essentially the entire Permian Basin as well, with other members coming from Andrews, Kermit, Big Spring, Monahan, Lubbock, Seminole, Rankin, Lamesa and Lovington, N. M."

Annual Calf Tour Planned Saturday

Howard County annual calf tour swings into action Saturday at 8:30 a.m.
The calf tour is an event each summer in which 4-H Club members, agricultural leaders and others make visits to the homes of all 4-H Club boys and girls who are grooming calves for the show circuit this fall and winter.

This year, 20 boys and girls are feeding a total of 36 calves. All are Herefords with one exception. Johnny Middleton is feeding both a Hereford and an Angus.

Herbert Helbig, county farm agent, said that a highlight of the annual calf sale will be a demonstration program at the R. E. Haney farm during which proper clipping of head and tail, washing, showmanship and feed miking will be carried out by competent instructors. All 4-H Club members are urged to attend this demonstration.

At noon, the group making the tour will have lunch at the Big Spring City Park.
The tour gets under way at the McClain store in Knott at 8:30 a.m. The first calf to be inspected is the Hereford being fed by Lawrence Long.

Linda and Larry Shaw will show their two calves at 8:50 a.m. At 9:10 a.m., the tour will be at Dero Shaw's home.

Mike McClain will be host at 9:30 a.m.
From 10:15 a.m. to noon will be spent at the Haney farm where the demonstrations will be carried out.
After lunch at the City Park, the caravan will visit Nan and Tim Whittington at 1908 Settles and inspect the two Herefords these youngsters are feeding.
