Rescue Ships Rushed To Crew's Aid

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Four ships converged today on an area about 870 miles southwest of Kodiak, Alaska, where 42 crewmen jumped overboard from a sinking freighter into the icy waters of the North Pacific, the Coast Guard reported.

The Coast Guard said one of the vessels which went to the rescue, the Igaharu Maru, radioed she had picked up "some bodies" and "two men were reported to be alive."

There was fear that others who jumped from the sinking Pan-Oceanic Faith into the sea could not survive the cold for long.

Reports from the rescue ships were scant, the Coast Guard said, and the names of the other three ships on hand were not immediately available.

All 42 men aboard the freighter were reported to have jumped when the 459-foot vessel suddenly sank shortly before dark.

In New York City, the owner of the ship, the Panoceanic Tankers Corp., identified the master as Capt. John F. Ogles, of Alevandria, Va., a master for the company since 1961, and the chief engineer as Harry K. Bradley, of Glendale, Calif.

Navy, Coast Guard and other North Pacific seafarers estimated a person rarely survives more than an hour in the cold water without proper clothing. They said the cold saps the body temperature away within minutes.

The Coast Guard said the sinking was so sudden the crewmen did not have time to launch the ship's two lifeboats or two life rafts.

A Navy search plane from Adak, Alaska, and a C140 Military Air Command jet Starlifter dropped seven small rubber life rafts to the crewmen bobbing around in life jackets, the Coast Guard said.

The pilot of the Navy plane radioed that he saw several men climb into the tiny craft.

Both planes remained in the area to direct rescue operations of at least a half dozen ships headed for the scene, including the Coast Guard cutters Dexter and Storis.

Another Coast Guard C130 rescue plane from Hawaii was en route with survival gear.

The Pan-Oceanic Faith first radioed a distress call at 2:55 PDT, saying 20-foot waves were sweeping over her decks and filling No. 1 and No. 2 holds with water.

The message also said the ship's engines were failing, and she was in danger of sinking. The 23-year-old vessel, owned by the Pan-Oceanic Tanker Corp. of New York City, was en route from San Francisco to Yokohama, Japan, with 10,200 tons of fertilizer.

Coast Guard district headquarters said radio reports from the scene were infrequent, and radio contact was difficult because of the storm.

Troops Beefed To Meet Red Threat

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American Navy planes today attacked and left burning a sprawling military compound near Haiphong where Russian missiles and helicopters are uncrated and assembled.

It was likely that Soviet technicians work in the base, which previously was on the Pentagon's restricted target list.

U.S. headquarters said all-weather Intruder jets hit the base before dawn Monday and returned for a second predawn strike Tuesday. Pilots reported that flames and secondary explosions lighted the night sky.

Heavy new strikes on North Vietnam and the loss of an American jet to a Communist MIG21 in a dogfight was paralleled by sharp ground fighting and the movement of more American troops north to meet the threat of renewed North Vietnamese attacks below the demilitarized zone.

U.S. Command also announced that a U.S. Air Force C130 transport with a crew of five and 18 passengers has been missing between Da Nang and Hue since Sunday. All 18 passengers are believed to be American servicemen, the headquarters said.

A spokesman said there was no information on the cause of the crash, but the weather in that area had been bad for several days.

The U.S. Command said a 4,000-man Army brigade has been shifted into the 1st Corps area, raising American manpower in South Vietnam's five northernmost provinces to about 100,000 and releasing another Marine regiment for duty closer to the DMZ.

As late as last spring, only about 40,000 Americans—two Marine divisions—were stationed in the 1st Corps area.

The missile and helicopter assembly site attacked Monday and today is in an area containing about 70 military barracks and other buildings. It is about three miles from Haiphong, between the city and the MIG airfield of Cat Bi, which also was bombed for the second today.

Pilots from the carrier Constellation said the flames from the burning military base could be seen 20 miles away. The helicopter assembly area was first hit one day after American pilots discovered six Russian choppers on the ground west of Hanoi and destroyed them. The choppers included two M16 models which are the biggest such aircraft in the world, capable of carrying 120 troops or transporting the 40-foot SAM missiles which Russia supplies for the North Vietnamese antiaircraft defenses.

Although bad weather over parts of the North cut missions to a below-normal 94 on Monday, the air planners poured in strikes heavily where the weather permitted and struck far above the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

Air Force strikes on the two rail lines from Hanoi to Red China brought out harassing flights of MIG21s, the most advanced attack planes in the North Vietnamese armory.

One flight of MIGs bored in on a mission of slower F105 Thunderchiefs bombing the Quang Kien rail causeway 39 miles northeast of Hanoi. The MIGs shot down one Thunderchief and the pilot was missing. No further details of the dogfight were announced by the Air Force.

The Thunderchief was the 695th U.S. combat plane lost over the North and the 26th shot down by MIGs. American pilots are credited with 85 MIG kills and another 12 probables.

Progress In Truck Strike

By BEN DE FOREST
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A high official said today behind-the-scene maneuvering has brought progress in the violence-plagued steel haulers' rebellion.

Entering a negotiating session, William J. Hart, Pennsylvania secretary of labor and industry, declared: "When we left here last night we had nothing, absolutely nothing, to be optimistic about. Today, we'll have some good news."

He did not elaborate.

Hart and governors' representatives of six other states met for the second day in a row trying to find a solution to independent steel haulers' revolt against the Teamsters Union.

The strikers want the union to negotiate a separate contract for independent steel haulers, granting higher pay and provisions that would pay for the time truckers wait at mill loading docks.

Shots were fired into two trucking firm buildings near Middletown, Ohio. Police said no one was injured in the shooting, which apparently came from passing cars.

Labor mediators sitting on the seven-state panel were to present recommendations to Teamsters officials and the striking truckers at today's session. The panel sat for 12 hours Monday, hearing both sides.

LBJ Confirms Space Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson made a new appeal to the Soviet Union today to abandon "competitive spacemanship" and join with the United States in a cooperative effort to explore the heavens.

Johnson renewed his offer of collaboration after signing a proclamation declaring formally in effect the international treaty barring nuclear weapons and military bases from outer space.

The President said: "The first decade of the space age has witnessed a kind of contest. We have been engaging in competitive spacemanship. We have accomplished much, but we have also wasted much energy and resources in duplicated or over-lapping effort."

"The next decade should increasingly become a partnership—not only between the Soviet Union and America, but among all nations under the sun and stars," he added.

The treaty, now ratified by the United States and 12 other nations, including the Soviet Union and Great Britain, is considered a milestone in efforts to insure the peaceful uses of nuclear power in the world.

It prohibits any nation from claiming sovereignty in space or using celestial bodies such as the moon and planets for military bases. It also calls for the reporting of space exploration and research for the benefit of all mankind.

Johnson signed the treaty Jan. 27 and the Senate ratified it 88 to 0 April 25.

Beside the big three signers, Canada, Denmark, Sierra Leone, Finland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria, Niger, Japan and Australia have ratified the treaty.

Before Johnson signed the proclamation in today's ceremony in the East Room, Soviet Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, British Ambassador Sir Patrick Dean and diplomats from 10 other nations put their signatures on documents attesting their governments' ratification of the space treaty.

Dobrynin noted—as did Johnson and Rusk in their remarks—that this month marks the 10th anniversary of the launching of the first Soviet sputnik.

UF Again Up A Thousand

It was almost uncanny, that United Fund Campaign progress board.

There it was, another gain of approximately $1,000 during a 24-hour period. This brought the total up to $14,697 — an average of approximately $1,000 per day since the campaign kicked off two weeks ago.

Campaign leaders noted that the pace continued somewhat slower than had been hoped at the outset. Still, nobody could remember when the pace, even though slow, had been as steady for a period of two weeks.

If it should continue at the same rate, the goal would be reached, of course, but it would require some 40 days. A 15-day campaign had been talked, but it was quite evident this week that much more time will be needed to raise the $39,605 needed to support operations of six participating agnecies.

Still, the goal continued as a realistic figure because much contact work remains to be done. And if it continues at the same rate for the next 25 days, the goal will be reached. It could come sooner, of course, if the work pace quickens.

Cuts May Bring Outraged Protest

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The extent to which members of Congress, many of whom have called for cutbacks in federal spending, want to practice economy in politically sensitive areas is getting a good test this week.

If their reaction is anything like that of the nation's governors, outraged protest is likely to ring out on Capitol Hill.

The Johnson administration asked the 50 governors to comment on what would happen if up to half their federal highway funds were held back. Virtually all governors responding so far have strongly protested such a move would cripple their road programs.

The administration is under congressional pressure to cut federal budget spending by about $5 billion if it wants to see its 10 per cent income tax surcharge bill passed. Holding back the highway money wouldn't affect the budget since the funds are held in a separate pool of gas tax revenue which cannot be spent for any other purpose. But withholding the funds could have a dampening effect on the economy.

Congressional reaction to cutbacks is likely to emerge when Congress takes up this week three items that reach into every state and every congressional district—public works, military construction and the pay of federal workers.

In the first such test, the Senate rejected 60 to 12 Monday a proposal by Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., to cut back new starts in the public works program. Debate continues today on the $4.7 billion measure, which includes funds for the Atomic Energy Commission as well as the so-called "pork barrel" projects.

Williams said his proposed cut would have affected about $395 million in projects.

The House, meanwhile, takes up a budget-busting omnibus measure to raise postal rates and the pay of federal employes. Final action is expected Wednesday on the measure, which eventually could cost three times as much as the new revenue it will produce.

The House Armed Services Committee planned to question Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara today about a 30-day Pentagon freeze announced last week on nearly $50 million earmarked for military construction projects.

Two House Appropriations subcommittees planned to meet to see where money earlier appropriated for Treasury-Post Office and legislative affairs can now be rescinded.

Buddhist Rift Eases

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's militant buddhists apparently have reached a compromise with the government in their month-long argument over the government's support of a rival moderate Buddhist faction.

Thich (Venerable) Tri Quang, the longtime government foe and leader of the politically ambitious militants, ended a protest vigil in front of Independence Palace after 13 days. But in a face-saving move, the monk told a news conference: "Our struggle is not over at the present time."

The militant Buddhists were up in arms because Premier of State Nguyen Van Thieu signed a decree recognizing a rival Buddhist sect as the official Buddhist church of South Vietnam.

Student Dies During Waco Initiation

WACO, Tex. (AP)—A Baylor University student died early today during an initiation ceremony held by the Baylor Chamber of Commerce.

John Everett Clifton, 19, of Crosby, Tex., collapsed while the 10 initiates were running in place, participants in the initiation reported.

Tom Nance, a student and a counselor for the organization, said the initiates earlier had been required to drink a mixture of laxatives.

Clifton was given mouth to mouth resuscitation at the scene and during the ambulance ride to the hospital. He was pronounced dead on arrival at 3:15 a.m.

An autopsy was ordered.

Baylor President Abner McCall said, "All at Baylor University are shocked by the tragchief concern and prayers are for his family. Until we can ascertain facts of the matter, we will have to reserve judgment as to the cause."

Baylor is a Baptist denominational school. The youth's parents are Mr. and Mrs J. E. Clifton.

Clifton was a sophomore, an accounting and business major, and would have been 20 on Oct. 27.

Present were 38 members of the university's Chamber of Commerce and three others in addition, to the initiates.

The death occurred on a farm 15 miles west of Waco.

The Chamber of Commerce is a school service organization.

Snyder bank deposits are up by a little over half a million dollars over this time last year, according to statements issued this morning in response to calls from regulatory agencies.

Loans were up correspondingly.

Deposits in the two Snyder banks amounted to $28,848,949.92 as of Oct. 4, the date specified in the calls for statements of condition. The call came for Sept. 20 last year and at that time, deposits here amounted to $28,279,441.32.

The Snyder National bank, as of Oct. 4 this year, showed deposits totalling $18,174,583.47 and loans of $10,797,730.42.

The West Texas State Bank for the same date had deposits totalling $10,674,366.45 and loans of $5,499,373.36.

Two years ago, total deposits in both banks were a million dollars below the current total, while loans were only about $200,000 below this year's third quarter figures.

Nixon Is Favorite Of GOP Brass

By RELMAN MORIN
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice Presdient Richard M. Nixon has topped a nationwide Associated Press poll of Republican leaders who were asked to name their favorite for the GOP presidential nomination next year.

However, the strongest potential ticket would be composed of Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California, those participating in the survey replied. A Nixon-Reagan combination ran second.

Associated Press bureaus submitted a three-part questionnaire to the state chairmen and members of the GOP National Committee in all 50 states. About half replied.

The questions and results were:

1. Whom do you favor for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination?

Nixon—46 per cent
Gov. George Romney—26
Rockefeller—14
Reagan—7
Others—7

2. Which Republican has the best chance of defeating President Johnson?

Nixon—41 per cent
Rockefeller—25
Romney—23
Reagan—11

3. What combination of candidates for president and vice president would offer the strongest ticket?

Rockefeller-Reagan—40 per cent
Nixon-Reagan—25
Nixon-Sen. Charles Percy—11
Romney-Reagan—11
Others—13

As expected, much of Nixon's support came from Republican leaders in the South and Southwest but he had votes in some Midwest and Far Western states as well.

Some of those who participated in the survey indicated that while they consider Nixon the GOP's best qualified candidate, they have misgivings as to whether he can win. He lost the presidential election in 1960 and the race for governor of California in 1962.

Safety Measures Lag, Says Panel

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy panel formed after a disastrous aircraft carrier fire has found many safety measures lay behind the times and tempo of operations.

Adm. James S. Russell, head of the panel, suggested a number of improvements even before his group's final report is forwarded later this month to Navy chiefs, sources report.

The improvements include installing additional firefighting and damage control equipment as well as changes in its design and location aboard the ships.

Russell also proposed that safety instructions be spelled out clearly in booklets for the crews.

The Russell panel was created in August soon after 131 Navy men died in a fire that almost gutted the carrier Forrestal standing off North Vietnam. Russell came out of retirement temporarily to handle the job.

Sources familiar with the group's preliminary findings said the Russell panel concluded that many safety measures on the carriers were based on the experience of World War II.

These days, carriers are on station longer than formerly and conduct more sustained operations.

The safety precautions have not kept up with the pace of operations and the times, sources said the Russell group found.

The panel leader has told his superiors he was impressed with the level of experience of commanding officers and command pilots, that key officers were well-chosen, and that the deck crews were well-motivated, even though they work as much as 15 hours a day.

In response to inquiries, the Navy said: "There are some areas where improved techniques and operations can be inaugurated at the local level.

"These center primarily around a revitalization of damage control techniques, weapons handling and storage, and training of personnel."

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor, who has three daughters, 15, 13 and 10, has me terribly upset.

They seem to be a nice family, but the mother went to work recently and the girls are home alone most of the time. There are all kinds of boys flocking at this house, inside and out, running, hollering and wrestling with the girls.

The oldest is the quiet type. She stays in the house most of the time with her boy friend. I hope I am wrong, but it sure doesn't look very nice, and the neighbors are talking. Everyone seems to know but the parents. They must not even have any suspicions because they're not the type to put up with such goings-on.

Should I call them? Or should I mind my own business?

WORRIED NEIGHBOR

DEAR WORRIED: You and the other neighbors could be wrong in your suspicions of the "goings on," but do unto others. If they were your daughters, wouldn't you want to be told in time to head off trouble?

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with "PAST 70," who feels that every announcement or invitation is a bid for a gift. And it's too bad that many are not sent because they feel as "Past 70" feels. Sometimes they are sent just to let friends know what is "going on" in the family.

If there is no gift in my heart, of if I feel that the acquaintance isn't close enough to justify a gift, I write a personal note of good wishes. That much I can do for a total stranger. And some of my nicest "thank yous" have come in response to a note I took the time to write.

If they just wanted a gift, I will have politely put them in their place. And if they wanted me to know of a wedding, graduation or a new baby, I let them know that I was glad to have been informed.

KAY J. S.

DEAR KAY: You are right, of course. But you would be amazed at the number of people who find it easier to send a gift than write a personal note.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I just finished reading the letter from the 17-year-old girl who signed herself "FAT AND LONELY."

She had had only two dates in her life because she was fat. She met a popular guy at a party, but he only wanted to take advantage of her. He told her to "get wise, that any fat girl can be popular if she will just give in a little."

Abby, to think that this girl was actually considering it, makes me sick. Being "popular" is a sickness among teenagers today. That girl wouldn't become "popular" if she gave in — she would become "known." And who would want to be known for such un-Christian acts?

Somehow, I think this girl will make the right decision. She wouldn't have asked for your help unless she knew that what she was considering was wrong. I am only 16, and I know it's wrong. I know many other things in this world that are wrong, too, but it's really a wonderful place to live if you live for the right things.

School Fires Smoker Of Marijuana

NICASIO, Calif. (AP) — Residents of this tiny Marin County village Monday night fired their veteran primary school teacher-principal because she had said openly she had smoked marijuana for 18 years.

Mrs. Garnet E. Brennan, 58, had broken the law, they argued.

She said she would appeal.

The three-man school board voted unanimously "to continue dismissal on the basis that California law requires that all students be taught the basic principles of good citizenship, and that primary among the attributes of good citizenship is respect for the law. If one feels a law is improper, adequate means exist to amend it."

Board Chairman Wilfred LaFranchi said Mrs. Brennan, a veteran of 30 years teaching—five in this tiny school of 47 pupils—had been dismissed for "immoral conduct." He said the phrase was unfortunate but that the California education code required it.

"For a teacher to repeatedly violate a law of the state constitutes immoral conduct, in our view," he said.

The board took no action on the case of Mrs. Brennan's assistant teacher, Jeff Pflugrath, 25, of nearby San Angelmo, who like Mrs. Brennan had signed an affidavit last Friday supporting the use of marijuana, although he said he doesn't use it himself. The board decided there was no admission of immoral conduct in Pflugrath's case.

The two teachers were among 46 individuals who last Friday signed affidavits filed in San Francisco Superior Court by Attorney Molly Minudri, asking an arrested judgment in the case of Melkim Melkomian, a Mill Valley mechanic convicted of "aiding and abetting the sale of marijuana," a felony in California.

Mrs. Brennan said she had used marijuana regularly for 18 years, perhaps one or two smokes an evening but never during school hours.

She said it wasn't habit forming and that she would use no more until it is legal to do so.

When word of this got out, the board met Sunday and suspended her. It set the public hearing on her suspension for Monday night.

Court To Rule On Gas Refunds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed Monday to decide this term if the Federal Power Commission (FPC) may order natural gas producers to make refunds under temporary certificates that contained no specific refund conditions.

The FPC took the case of the Supreme Court when the U.S. Circuit Court in Denver ruled last December that it did not have such authority.

More than 30 contracts for the sale of natural gas from fields in Texas signed in 1960 and 1961 are involved. Producers had obtained temporary contracts that generally called for sales at 18 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

In March 1964 the FPC approved permanent certificates on condition the producers charged no more than 16 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. It then ordered refunds for the difference, about $200,000 in all.

The circuit court in Denver upheld the grant of the permanent certificates with the 16 cents price condition. But it ruled that the FPC did not have the right to order refunds because there was no previous warning.

At the same time the United Gas Improvement Co. of Philadelphia and the Brooklyn Union Gas Co. asked the court to review the 16-cent in-line price, saying it was too high. The court agreed to do this.

Companies which challenged the order refund are Sunray DX, Sohio, Texaco, Gulf, Sun, Edwin L. Cox, Lamar Hunt, Humble Oil & Refining Co. and the Union Producing Co.

President Proves Readiness To Meet Critics Head-On

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's resolute readiness to meet critics of his Vietnam policies headon is reflected in the choice of Chicago for the 1968 Democratic National convention.

It's difficult to imagine any location more convenient than the International Amphitheatre on Chicago's South Side for those Black Power advocates eager to demonstrate against the war and scream, "Hell no, we won't go!"

Chicago was selected because of its convenient location for the Labor Day weekend gathering of the National Conference for New Politics—the "new left" which is strongly anti-Vietnam.

It seems a safe bet that many who were there last Labor Day will be back in Chicago when the Democrats meet next Aug. 26.

Many of this group are not well heeled financially and fewer could have been expected had the Democrats picked Miami Beach or Houston—the other two main contending cities—for their convention.

The choice was, of course, actually made by Johnson. All the usual protocol was followed for an ostensible choice by a site selection committee. That is the way it is done.

But when the main purpose of a party national convention is to renominate a President, his wishes are ascertained and followed.

All the elements that entered into Johnson's nod for Chicago are matters of speculation. They have not been disclosed.

Some presumably were political.

Florida has a Republican governor, Claude Kirk Jr., who reputedly would be receptive to his party's vice presidential nomination. Republicans are meeting Aug. 5 in Miami Beach.

Kirk was also active on behalf of Miami Beach's bid for the Democratic meeting. Johnson hardly wanted to do anything which might add to Kirk's lustre within or outside the state.

The Democrats in Texas have long had factional differences. This could have entered into a decision against Houston.

On the political side, Illinois has a Democratic governor and Chicago a Democratic mayor. Yet it is in the Midwest where there was a marked Republican resurgency in 1966 and which certainly will be a battleground in 1968.

It may be, too, that one thought that entered into Johnson's consideration is the contrast between the plush Miami Beach Gold Coast and the stockyards area of Chicago.

Perhaps he expects some of this contrast to go across to the country in the news coverage of the two conventions. The Democrats have always pressed the claim they are the party of the common people.

For certain, Johnson was quite aware of the potential for anti-Vietnam demonstrations in Chicago. Everyboy else was.

It has been clear for months that the party convention would be a focus for protests against the war—outside the convention hall for certain and perhaps within it. Current efforts to elect "peace delegates" to the convention are laying the ground for demonstrations within the hall.

Col. Jacob M. Arvey, the Illinois national committeeman, acknowledged some concern while here for the national committee's meeting.

He told reporters he was not much worried about civil rights demonstrators—"I'm much more worried about these anti-war demonstrators, but I'm sure Chicago authorities can cope with them."

Johnson obviously feels he can cope with them too. At least he has picked for the convention the very city the antiwar crowd probably would have picked if the selection had been theirs to make.

Junior Editors Quiz on MAYFLOWER COMPACT

QUESTION: Where was the Mayflower Compact signed, and why was it so important?

* * *

ANSWER: On November 21, 1620, the salt-caked little ship Mayflower anchored in the harbor of Cape Cod near today's city of Provincetown, Mass. (1, 2). Aboard were the Pilgrims, a group who had come from England to the New World seeking religious freedom. The first act of these sincere and courageous people, after arriving in Cape Cod, was to draw up an agreement or compact between themselves. In the quaint words of the famous document, "... to combine ourselves together into a Civill body politick ... to frame such just and equall Lawes ... as shall be thought most meete and convenient for ye generall good of ye colonie; unto which we promise all due submission and obedience." Here was a clear statement, the first ever made in America, of a plan for self government, one based on just and equal laws, which all agreed to respect. The signing of this document in the dark little stern cabin of the Mayflower is therefore regarded as a tremendous step in America's progress.

Opera Star Has Advice For Youth

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Eileen Farrell, whose voice has been termed "a Niagara of song," is an operatic star who enjoys herself as much in her own kitchen as she does on stage.

"I've never served a packaged meal in my house," she said with warm pride.

"I do think I'm a good cook. I bake my own bread. I suppose I'm not a good cake maker, but I'm a heck of a good pie maker."

All summer as she has done for years, Miss Farrell spent happy quiet days cooking for her husband and two children at their Maine retreat, sometimes herself catching the fish she prepared for their dinner.

But now the nation's concert halls are calling her. Between October and next June she will give some 30 concerts and perhaps make a few television appearances.

At 47 the dramatic soprano is still in superb voice—and wants to stay that way. So she's lightening her schedule, despite the outcries and demurrers of program managers.

"You can only do what you're physically capable of," said Eileen, who likes for people to call her by her first name.

"I only want to do the roles that are to my advantage—that lie in my voice range and are good for me."

Eileen has always been one to go at her own pace. She first studied music under her mother, a church organist. She sang over the Columbia Broadcasting System radio network for seven years before essaying operatic roles

It wasn't until she was 40 that in 1960 she made her Metropolitan Opera debut in Gluck's "Alcestis." But her long and arduous preparation paid off. The audience rewarded her with an ovation and summoned her back for 22 curtain calls.

Having graduated from popular music herself, Eileen has a sympathetic feeling for today's young pop singers, some of whom she feels are ruining their voices by overstraining them as the result of poor vocal techniques.

"I'd like to teach them—to be helpful to them," she said. "Ten years from now they won't be singing because their voices will be gone. But, with help, 10 years from now they could still be singing as well as ever.

"The voice isn't simply an instrument you carry around with you. You're dealing with something that is alive and has to be taken care of."

This is her advice to any youngster aspiring to an operatic career:

"Don't try it at all unless you are willing to do the hard work involved and sacrifice many personal pleasures. Life doesn't just dump success in your lap. It may give you a marvelous break, but once you've achieved success the hardest work of all begins—to stay successful."

Travis 8th Has Best Local Record

As the football season nears the midway point, Travis 8th grade is the only undefeated, untied team among senior and junior high school gridiron units in inter-school competition.

The young Blue Devils sport a perfect 3-0 record and have run up 54 points while holding the opposition scoreless.

A 7th grade team, the Lamar Colts, also has an unblemished record in three outings. The Colts have scored 60 points while allowing their intramural foes only six points.

Another full schedule of activity is on tap this week with the high school varsity journeying to Levelland for its second district game. The junior varsity will host Midland Lee in a 7:30 p.m. battle Saturday.

Lamar 9th grade hosts John Glenn Junior High of San Angelo in a tilt set for 7:30 p.m. Thursday on the High school field. The Lamar and Travis bands will perform at halftime for the benefit of local fans.

The other three Junior teams are slated for action Saturday night with Travis 8th grade meeting Goliad in a 6 p.m. battle in Big Spring followed by a 7:30 p.m. clash between Travis 9th grade and the Toros. On the same night, Lamar 8th grade will be at Sweetwater for a 7:30 p.m. test.

On the 7th grade scene, the Lamar Colts tangle with the Travis Packers in a 4 p.m. tussle followed by a skirmish between the Lamar Cowboys and the Travis Giants. Both contests will be held today on Lamar turf.

Held For Trial

CLOVIS, N. M. (AP) — A Clovis man has been bound over for trial on charges of involuntary manslaughter in the Sept. 1 shooting death of Dorothy Beavers, 23, of Lubbock. Justice of the Peace Susie Mitchell heard testimony Monday that Eugene Foster, 26, had been twirling a 22-caliber pistol when it went off. No trial date was set.

TECH BRAND — Mike Patterson, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Patterson of Snyder, helped put the TT (Texas Tech) brand on the Longhorns in the Raiders' Southwest Conference opener with the University of Texas Longhorns in Austin a couple of weeks ago. Despite last week's upset by Mississippi State, Mike and the other Raiders hope to leave their brand on the Aggies next Saturday as they resume action in the SWC. Mike, a junior, is a regular at defensive tackle for Tech.

SPORTSCUTTLE

Boys and girls, it looks like them Snyder Tigers have as good a chance as anyone to win the district 3-AAA football crown.

Their performances against Big Spring and against Lamesa were as impressive as any showing by any other team in the league.

For the season, Brownfield perhaps appears to be a shade stronger than the other elevens. However, five other teams, including the Tigers, are about equal in strength with the Cubs — Dunbar, Lake View, Sweetwater and Lamesa.

The Cubs already have disposed of Lake View and they get to play the other four at home. However, they must come here to challenge the Tigers.

Snyder also seems to be favored by the schedule. Dunbar and Lake View have to face the Tigers in Tiger Stadium. Lamesa already has been defeated here. Of the stronger teams, only Sweetwater will have the homefield advantage against the Bengals. Other remaining road trips for the Tigers are against the two "weak sisters" of the district — Levelland and Littlefield.

Dunbar, with two wins under its belt, still has to journey to Lamesa, Brownfield and Snyder. Lake View, with one loss in district play, still has to go to Dunbar and Snyder. Surprisingly strong Lamesa hosts Dunbar, but still must go to Brownfield. Sweetwater, also with one loss, must go to Lake View, Brownfield and Lamesa.

Thus the schedule seems to favor Brownfield and Snyder if there is such a thing as homefield advantage. And when these two collide it will be on Tiger turf.

Of course, football always has a few surprises. Littlefield and Levelland could knock off some of the higher rated elevens. As of now, none of the teams is completely out of the picture.

Levelland Game Tickets On Sale

Tickets to the Snyder-Levelland football game to be played Friday night at Levelland are now on sale at the school administration building here.

The tickets sell for $1.50 each for adults and 50 cents each for students.

Cooper Heads Prep Poll

DALLAS (AP) — Abilene Cooper in Class AAAA, Ennis in AAA, Jacksboro in AA and Seagraves in A are becoming static in leading the Texas schoolboy football rankings of the Dallas News.

So are some of the second and third place teams but generally from two on down the changes come regularly.

Cooper stayed No. 1 without trouble last week with a 47-0 victory over Odessa. Ennis remained on top in Class AAA by strapping LaVega 36-0.

Jacksboro crushed Boswell 49-19 to hang onto No. 1 in Class AA and Seagraves beat Farwell 7-6 and kept in No. 1 in Class A mainly because the No. 2 team, Spur, was defeated.

San Angelo, defending Class AAAA champion, and Grand Prairie fell out of the rankings with Carrollton Turner and Amarillo moving in.

Rockdale, Lake Highlands and Carthage took the count in Class AAA, replaced by Seguin, Kermit and Pine Tree.

Only Bastrop fell out in Class AA with Del Valle making the rankings for the first time.

Clifton and Santa Anna faded from Class A with Merkel and Sonora gaining their spots.

The rankings by classes:

AAA—Abilene Cooper, Port Arthur, Brazosport, Dallas Bryan Adams, Odessa Permian, Victoria, Longview Spring Woods, Carrollton Turner, Amarillo.

AAA — Ennis, Wichita Falls Hirschi, Nacogdoches, McKinney, Brownwood, Odessa Ector, Dumas, Seguin, Kermit, Pine Tree.

AA—Jacksboro, Daingerfield, Brady, Mineola, Bishop, Phillips, Plano, Decatur, Denver City, Del Valle.

A — Seagraves, Archer City, George West, Keller, Three Rivers, Troup, Tidehaven, Spur, Merkel, Sonora.

LONBORG SPARKLES AGAIN

Sox Win 3-1, Narrow Gap

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals still have to drive 27 nails.

Manager Dick Williams of Boston said it before Monday's game, and the statement was still pertinent after the Red Sox defeated the Cardinals 3-1 in St. Louis and sliced their World Series deficit to three games to two.

The Cardinals got the 27 outs they needed, but in between some of them the Red Sox scored three runs and that was all Jim Lonborg needed.

Lonborg, the prime candidate for the American League's Cy Young Award, missed matching his second-game shutout when Roger Maris homered with two out in the ninth inning.

He still wound up with a three-hitter and a record for allowing the fewest hits in two consecutive Series games. He stopped the Cardinals on one hit last Thursday.

Now it's up to Gary Waslewski, a 26-year-old right-hander, to keep the Series alive for Lonborg to come back in the seventh game. When the teams resume here Wednesday, Waslewski will be opposed by Dick Hughes, the loser in Lonborg's first victory.

Any postponements because of rain might entice Williams to switch to Lonborg for the sixth game, but right now the man is Waslewski, who pitched three perfect innings of relief in the third game. He was 2-2 during the season.

Lonborg, who previously this year has pitched with just two days rest twice, isn't afraid of the seventh game, in which he would tangle with Bob Gibson, St. Louis' two-game winner.

"I can go in the seventh game," he said while treating his precious right arm with ice. "The body needs the rest, but the mind can come back. The mind can do wonderful things. It really can get you up.

"I think the fact that they beat us two in a row put some doubts in our mind, but this game reaffirms our belief that we can beat them."

So far, however, only Lonborg has been able to beat them. The 24-year-old right-hander never was in trouble Monday, and after the Red Sox picked up a pair of runs in the top of the ninth even Maris' home didn't bother him.

The only other hits he allowed were singles by Dal Maxvill in the third and Maris in the fourth.

"I thought when I came into the game I was psychologically ready, and I thought I could beat them," said the Red Sox ace who pitched for the third time in nine days and the fifth time in 16 days.

"I didn't feel any pressure. As soon as I walk across the white line, it's just another game. Then once the game started, I had a lot of confidence that I could get them out because my pitches were working."

Lou Brock was one of the batters against whom his pitches were working. Brock is 8-for-12 against the other Boston pitchers but 0-for-8 against Lonborg.

While Lonborg was stifling St. Louis again, the Red Sox were making a little more progress than they had in the previous two games—even if two of their runs were unearned.

Singles by Joe Foy and Ken Harrelson sandwiched around Mike Andrews' sacrifice and Mike Shannon's error on the bunt brought Boston its first run in the third inning.

It came off starter Steve Carlton, a 22-year-old lefty who was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth inning after allowing just three hits.

The Red Sox added a clinching pair of runs in the ninth. After they loaded the bases against Ron Willis on a walk to George Scott, Reggie Smith's double and an intentional walk to Rico Petrocelli, Elston Howard blooped a single off Jack Lamabe into right field.

Scott raced home and Smith followed when Maris' throw to the plate was wild.

When Maris's countered with his homer in the bottom of the inning, it was too little.

Trojans Hold On, But Cougars Slip

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Southern California, with a trengthened grip on the top spot in The Associated Press football poll, faces perhaps the toughest opponent on its schedule Saturday, playing Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind.

The Trojans, who received 36 of the 50 first-place votes from a panel of sportswriters and broadcasters, held a safe margin over second-place Purdue, which received 10 first-place votes while North Carolina State got four.

Southern Cal had 462 votes to Purdue's 385. Notre Dame rose from seventh last week to fifth with a 56-6 pounding of Iowa, setting up the big battle this Saturday.

Purdue, rising from fourth to second with its victory over Northwestern, faces Ohio State, 1-1, this week. Georgia, moving up from fifth to third by beating South Carolina, meets Mississippi, 1-2.

UCLA, scared by Penn State before winning 17-15, fell from third to fourth in the balloting. The Bruins meet Pacific Eight opponent California, 3-1, Saturday.

Colorado, moving up from eighth to sixth by beating Iowa State 34-0, faces a major test Saturday when it meets Missouri, which got strong honorable-mention support in the poll. The Tigers are unbeaten with three victories.

Alabama, rising from ninth to seventh by beating Mississippi 21-7, meets Vanderbilt, 2-1. Nebraska, down from seventh to eighth after a close victory over Kansas State, meets winless Kansas.

Ninth-rated North Carolina State, flush with its victory over Houston, meets Maryland, 0-2, while Houston, down from second to 10th after losing is idle.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses and points on a 10-9-8 etc. basis:

1.	Sou. Calif. (36)	462
2.	Purdue (10)	385

Wilt Inks 76er Pact

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain ended his stubborn holdout today, signing with the National Basketball Association's Philadelphia 76ers for what is believed to be the highest salary ever paid an athlete, it was learned.

Neither the terms of the contract, nor its length were immediately known, but The Associated Press learned it may gross Chamberlain upwards of $250,000.

It has been reported that Chamberlain earned more than $200,000 last year in salary with the 76ers. He worked under a one year contract in 1966-67.

Chamberlain, who led the 76ers to the Eastern title over Boston and an eventual NBA championship victory over San Francisco, will be starting his ninth season in the league.

Grid Club Meeting Set

Wives of club members, mothers of football players and anyone interested are invited to attend the meeting of the Snyder Quarterback Club, set for 7:30 p.m. today in the high school cafeteria.

Coffee, cokes and cookies will be served to all.

Members and guests will see a film of Snyder's triumph over Lamesa in the District 3-AAA gridiron opener and hear scouting reports on this week's opponent — Levelland.

Coaches in the school system will give reports on their various teams.

Jerry Rice, club president, will preside over the meeting.

"They didn't louse it up."

"Buick started off with a classic design and they stayed with it—for good reason. The simple sculptured look was unique at the time and it still is. I'm glad they didn't louse it up by changing it."

Joe Meyer, Stockbroker.

British Motorists' D-Day Coming

By GRANVILLE WATTS
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP)—Monday was a day for British motorists—the start of a tough new law aimed to trap and punish drivers who drink to excess. H Hour was Sunday midnight.

The regulations enable police to carry out spot roadside tests with breathalysers—a term now used in Britain for various types of breath testers.

If the tests show positive, drivers can be hauled off to a police station for blood and urine analysis.

Anyone found with more than 80 milligrams of alcohol in 100 milliters of his blood faces a 100-pound ($280) fine or a four-month jail sentence, or both.

In an effort to protect motorists, tavern keepers are selling a do-it-yourself breathalyser. For the price of a large gin, 70 cents, a driver may be able to find out whether he's sober enough to pass the new regulations.

The motorist breathes into a tube filled with chemically treated crystals.

The crystals, like the ones in the police breathalysers, turn green on contact with alcoholic fumes. If the level of green rises above a certain mark, you're in trouble.

The reaction of Britain's 14 million drivers to the new law varies from one of dark gloom to a wait-and-see attitude.

Historian A.J.P. Taylor looks on the breathalyser as a sinister machine to be regarded with suspicion and alarm.

"Drunkenness must be crushed, but not at the price of enslaving men to a machine, and this is what the breathalyser means," he says.

"If we are to become the slaves of a machine for the purpose of road safety, why should it stop there? We shall be told by a calculator what it is best for us to eat and drink. Our marriage partners will be chosen by a bridealyser. And some of us will not be allowed to marry at all."

One brewery is taking a less dismal view of the law. "It could well mean that people will drink more at home, so we don't really lose," said a spokesman for the Watney brewery group.

Its salesmen are under orders to carry pocket breathalysers and to switch to other forms of transport when they pass the danger mark in drinks.

Architect of the new law is a woman who doesn't even drive—Barbara Castle, transport minister.

Mrs. Castle, who is 55, contends that the breath tests can prevent 18,000 to 32,000 road casualties a year. The total last year was 392,457.

A newspaper cartoon shows her telling Home Secretary Coy Jenkins: "You've got to let out from prison on parole all our criminals, in order to make room for all our motorists."

Happy Celebrates Sixtieth Birthday

HAPPY, Tex. (AP) — This Swisher County town celebrated its 60th birthday Aug. 26. The celebration included a barbecue, skydiving exhibition, baseball game, pony express and bicycle races, parade, art exhibit and western dance.

Happy was moved from its original location, two miles east of the present site, when the Santa Fe railroad was extended south from Amarillo soon after the town was founded. The town got its name from Happy Draw, so called by early-day cowboys their stock.

WE CAN TAKE ACTION

Unused Abilities

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Snyder Daily News is sponsoring a Dale Carnegie course as a means of training and developing community and area leaders. This article is one in a series written by Warren Quinlan, director of the Dale Carnegie Training Program in West Texas.)

By WARREN QUINLAN

Persons never really fail. Most simply QUIT trying to reach their objectives.

When low morale sets in, our level of self-motivation drops proportionately, and the mental picture we have of ourselves shows negative.

Emerson once pointed out important truths about self-reliance, when he said, "There is a time in every man's education when he arrives at the conviction that envy is ignorance: that imitation is suicide; that he must take himself for better or worse."

The person we admire most accept themselves for their better habits which they have acquired. Life has proven to them they are happier when they are first-class themselves instead of being a second-class someone else.

Bruce and Nancy are two such persons. For a long period of time, however, life was anything but sunny and down-hill. Each believed that life in West Texas had more to offer than they were receiving, and each was determined to discover a deeper fulfillment by trying to apply more of the God-given talents they possessed.

As each in his own way went through a process of self-examination, Bruce revealed that he lacked a high level of self-confidence. On too many occasions he failed to display the type of self-trust that lets others know he was in full control of himself and his job. Books on self-improvement gave him the "naked facts" but, now he needed the right set of "clothes" to fit the facts.

When Nancy talked, no one listened. She couldn't explain why her mind switched itself off whenever she tried to express herself without preparation. Thinking out thoughts on her feet, to Nancy, was a near impossibility.

Bruce and Nancy didn't feel capable of selling either themselves or their ideas to others. Like many of us, they ALMOST possessed enough self-confidence, verbal skill, and personality to achieve these skills, but the invisible disadvantage between almost and achieving placed them in an "also ran" position with others. Bruce was passed over for promotion, and Nancy was just another member at their club.

To illustrate, streamline, and even ventilate basic truths with success-minded adults, we should apply appropriate analogies.

Since Bruce and Nancy enjoyed golf, they understood the single-minded devotion necessary to be a good golfer.

"Study any low scoring golfer," we suggested, "and you will notice how he constantly corrects little faults to improve his progress with himself and not others.

"Both of you will benefit by applying four proven principles of a good golfer in your efforts to improve yourself and use your abilities more effectively.

First, take the time to set a definite goal, like a score, in writing and inspire yourself with a deadline to achieve that goal.

Second, accept your past successes as temporary. Elevate your standard, like the golfer, to do even better. When you reach your new plateau, don't rest on your laurels.

Third, regardless of discouragement, don't recognize the possibility of defeat. Pay the price with enough time to think through your obstacles . . . don't throw your clubs away!

Lastly, cash in on your thinking. Think success, act success, and follow through on your plan, regardless of obstacles or unforeseen difficulty.

Throughout the practice of this acheivement-plan, Bruce and Nancy developed hidden abilities to be themselves, AT THEIR BEST, in any situation. Now they can apply many of their latent skills which lay submerged, by using more of the abilities they weren't using. They're receiving more from their community.

Yes, we, too, can take action by allowing ourselves to be trained to gain the invisible advantage of applying our dormant, unused abilities.

Funds For Mexico

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Salvation Army Monday presented to its Mexican counterpart a check for $5,000 to aid the flood victims of Hurricanes Beulah and Fern. The brief ceremony accompanying the presentation was conducted on the International bridge linking Laredo and Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

Fair Booths Are Placed

There were several attractive booths entered in the community and eductional divisions of the Third Annual Scurry County Fair.

Hermleigh won first place in the community booths, and Fluvanna was runnerup. Third place went to Union, and Dunn was awarded fourth place.

In the educational booths division, the Inadale 4-H Club copped top prize among 4-H Clubs, and runnerup honors went to the Country Citizens. Among FFA entries, the Snyder entry was judged best, followed by Fluvanna and Ira. In the Young Farmer class of the educational booths, Hermleigh won another blue ribbon, followed by the Upper Colorado Soil Conservation District and the Fluvanna Young Farmers.

The rabbit show attracted 47 entries, 10 exhibits and 13 covies. A couple of the exhibits — three trios of New Zealand Reds and four trios of New Zealand blacks — were shown by Dale Estes of Lubbock. He was judge of the show.

T. B. Green took blue ribbons with his senior buck and senior doe in the White Flemish division. Max Rainwater copped first place in the Black Dutch division, and his father, Red Rainwater, won first in the Blue Dutch Division.

Bill Lockhart, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Lockhart, 2712 Twenty-fifth Street, won blue ribbons with his Senior Dutch Doe and with his California buck.

There were several nice looking New Zealand Whites included in the Rabbit show. In this category, Teddy Tutor won blue ribbons with his junior doe and junior buck and with his senior buck. Six of his seven rabbits won ribbons. Teddy, 10, is the son of Millie Tutor, 108 Canyon.

Children's Clinic Set

MIDLAND — The Children's Service League of Midland will sponsor an evaluation clinic for cerebral palsied children on Monday, Oct. 16, at the Midland Cerebral Palsy Treatment Center.

Hours of the clinic will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The clinic is located at 2111 West Ohio Street.

Dr. E. T. Driscoll will be the examining orthopedic surgeon, assisted by a pediatrician, neurosurgeon and dentist. There will be no charge for the examinations.

Parents of cerebral palsied children in the Snyder area are invited to bring their children to the clinic. Any unscheduled children will be cared for when they arrive at the clinic.

Bill Introduced

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., has introduced a bill which if passed would provide up to $250 for cemetery lots for veterans.

Chief Brown reads rocks

Charles "Chief" Brown probably knows more about one valuable layer of rock than anyone else in the world.

An El Paso Natural Gas Company geologist, Chief is in charge of the development of gas reserves in the Pictured Cliffs Formation which lies far below the surface of the San Juan Basin in northwestern New Mexico.

Chief keeps exact data on the location and performance of each well tapping this gas-bearing sandstone. He knows the depth and thickness of this sandstone throughout the San Juan Basin. Carefully analyzing information, Chief recommends where further drilling should be carried out and which wells should be reworked to keep natural gas in abundant supply.

Other employees apply detailed knowledge of every producing formation in fields ranging from Canada through the Rocky Mountain area to New Mexico and Texas.

Chief Brown's skills along with those of the other 5,400 employees of El Paso Natural Gas Company — whose backgrounds range from chemistry through electronics to geology — are among the reasons that the West has assured supplies of natural gas.

EL PASO NATURAL GAS COMPANY

Through its pipelines El Paso Natural serves Texas and ten other western states.
