Sixth grade ecological field tour

Eighth year for tour

On Tuesday, April 18, the annual Sixth Grade Ecological Field Tour was held at the Edwin Sawyer ranch. This was the eighth year that this educational experience was sponsored by the Edwards Plateau Soil & Water Conservation District.

The entire sixth grade from the Sonora I.S.D. was taken by buses to the Sawyers' ranch for a day of instruction and "hands-on" learning experiences. Range and watershed management were taught by Dr. Charles Taylor and Nick Garza of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station near Sonora; brush control was taught by Dr. Jake Landers of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in San Angelo; wildlife management was taught by Mary Humphreys with Texas Parks and Wildlife in Sutton County and Dr. Dale Rollins with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in San Angelo; and soil and water conservation was taught by Tom Payton and Virgil Polocek with the Soil Conservation Service in Sonora.

The noon meal was provided by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Sawyer, and was prepared at the site by Jim Stephen and Sam Caldwell.

Following the meal, the students were taken to Sonora Wool and Mohair where Preston Faris, Sutton County Extension Agent, sheared a sheep for them, and Glen Fisher, warehouse manager, gave them a tour. The students were shown wool and mohair from local producers, and were told about these fibers and their uses.

The directors of the Edwards Plateau Soil and Water Conservation District wish to express their appreciation to all those who helped make this another successful field tour. This is an extremely worthwhile educational and fun-filled activity for our youth; however, it requires the cooperation of many individuals and agencies. And a special thanks to the Edwin Sawyer family for their generosity which enables this kind of activity to continue.

National nurses week observed May 1-6

The week of May 1 through 6 is National Nurses Week and May 6 has been declared National Nurses Day in honor of those in the nursing profession. The Texas Department of Health wants to take this opportunity to recognize the vital role that Public Health Nurses play in maintaining health standards in their communities.

In some rural areas of the state, the Public Health Nurse is the only health care provider available. Without these individuals, many rural residents would lack even basic health services. Texas Department of Health nurses provide important care to individuals from conception through old age.

The goal of Public Health Nursing is to promote wellness through education and preventative services. This year's chosen national theme, "Nurses Change Lives", is truly an appropriate one for Texas Department of Health nurses—they do, indeed, change lives. Prenatal care, immunizations, nutritional instruction, control of communicable disease, WIC, health screenings, and annual exams for women of child-bearing age, are among the many services provided which have made it possible for more Texans to live a better and healthier life.

To better acquaint you with "your" clinic, Maria Carrasco, RN, Field Office Coordinator and clerk, Dorothy Jimenez, cordially invite you to come by during the week of May 1 through 5 to visit. The office is located at 106 Wilson, next to the Senior Center.

Changes proposed for hunting

A reduction in the white-tail deer bag limit in some areas and lengthening the 1990 spring turkey season are among regulation changes proposed for the 1989-90 hunting seasons in Texas.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials presented the proposals in an Austin meeting of the Parks and Wildlife Commission on April 13. The proposals will be aired in public hearings across the state during the week of May 15-19, and the commission will consider the changes for adoption in early summer.

The white-tail deer season was proposed to be November 4, 1989 through January 7, 1990, in most of Texas.

The spring turkey gobbler season is proposed to be increased from twenty-three days to approximately thirty days with proposed dates of April 7 through May 6, 1990.

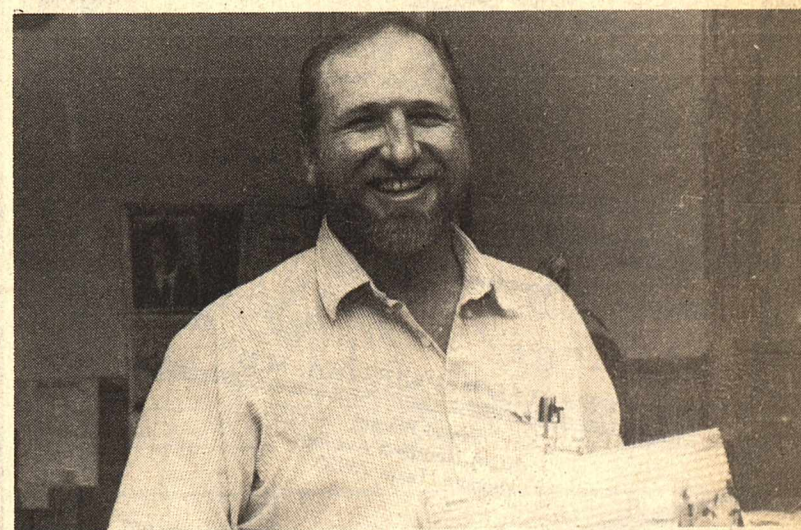

White-tail hunting regulations are proposed to remain unchanged in the popular deer hunting regions of the Edwards Plateau, South Texas and Trans-Pecos.

The mule deer season for Panhandle counties is proposed to be November 18 through December 3. The Trans-Pecos proposed season would be November 25 through December 10. As in the past, the mule deer bag limit would be two mule deer, no more than one buck, antlerless by permit only.

As in the past, archery season for mule deer and white-tail deer is proposed to be October 7 through November 5.

A public hearing will be held by the Parks and Wildlife Department at the Sutton County 4-H Center in Sonora on Thursday, May 18. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. All interested persons are urged to attend and comment upon the proposed statewide regulations.

Happy winner . . .

Employers must authorize leave for military training

DEAR COMMISSIONER NABERS: Do I have to approve leave for a new employee who is a member of the Reserves and has received orders for a two week training period? If I am obligated to hold his job, do I have to pay him for the lost time from work? Finally, does it make any difference that the employee did not join the Reserves until after he began working for me?

F.G.
Midlothian, Tx.

DEAR F.G.: According to a publication entitled "Job Rights for Reservists and Members of the National Guard" published by the National Committee for Employer Support of the Guard and Reserve, an employer is required by federal law (Chapter 43 of Part III of Title 38, U.S. Code) to grant a reservist leave to attend military training. It makes no difference when the employee joined the Reserves. An employer is not obligated to pay for time lost because of military training.

This pamphlet is normally available from your local TEC office and answers questions employers most frequently have concerning veterans and reemployment rights. You may also call the National Committee at 1-800-336-4590 or contact the area office in Dallas, Texas at (214) 767-4987 for a copy. Also, if you are interested in having a copy of the statute itself write to: U.S. Department of Labor, Labor Management Services Administration, Washington, D.C. 20210, and ask for the Veterans' Reemployment Rights Statute.

DEAR COMMISSIONER NABERS: As the owner of a small business, do I have to provide maternity leave?

J.B.
Rockwall, Tx.

DEAR J.B.: Maternity leave is not required by law in Texas. This basic rule is subject to the federal Pregnancy Discrimination Act which would apply to employers who have fifteen or more employees. The Act does not require an employer to have a maternity leave policy, but if the employer choose to provide employees with disability or leave benefits, it cannot exclude pregnant employees from these benefits.

Mary Scott Nabers represents all Texas employers. If you have any questions you want answered, please write Commissioner Nabers at: TEXAS BUSINESS TODAY, 614 TEC Building, 15th and Congress, Austin, Tx. 78778.

HEALTH CARE

by Scott Gilmore, Hospital Administrator

Swimming the perfect exercise

Swimming can be a whole lot more than just a quick splash in the pool. In fact, many experts recognize swimming as the "perfect" exercise.

Why? The main reason is that by exercising all the major muscles--legs, arms, back and abdomen--swimming can tone and strengthen your entire body without undue stress to any one area. Unlike most dry land activities, water has a cushioning effect that reduces stress on bones, joints and muscles. It also helps loosen stiff joints. Swimming is particularly beneficial for the elderly and people with joint problems because it allows them to enjoy exercising without discomfort.

If performed at the proper intensity for 20 to 30 minutes, swimming becomes an aerobic exercise, thereby conditioning your heart and lungs.

In addition to the physical benefits, swimming can relieve tension, increase your energy level, lift your spirits, and even improve your self image. Best of all, almost anyone can participate, regardless of age or physical condition.

In 1962, Gertrude Ederle became the first woman to swim the English Channel.

HOME EC BRIEFS

Money and second marriage

Conflicts of financial interest almost always occur in a second marriage when former spouses and children are involved. The impact is usually felt when children have special needs not provided by the usual child support monies--such as braces, glasses, or winter clothing.

Conflict over money in stepfamilies can be explosive and threatening unless obligations are understood and accepted from the outset. Two emotional pitfalls can lead to financial tension in a second marriage: resentment of monthly obligations to make child support payments, and resentment of the high cost of rearing children from birth to 18 years. Whether the children are yours or not, providing for them is part of the responsibility and reality of a second marriage.

Dealing with your spouse's or your own "past life" in a new marriage can be difficult at times. The less you dwell on and resist the expenses stemming from a previous marriage, the better off you'll be.

If you find it hard to put the past in its place, consider joining a self-help group (or a support group) where members are experiencing similar feelings and situations.

The Stepfamily Association of America in Baltimore is one such organization. Many communities have local affiliates of this group.

Because parenting is a lifelong obligation no matter who lives under whose roof, children need money and care. You will want to provide day-to-day care, but don't forget to provide for your children and current spouse in an up-to-date will and adequate insurance. The more complicated the family situation is, the more likely money matters will be complicated too. Families may deal us a measure of pain, but they also provide a bounty of pleasure and pride.

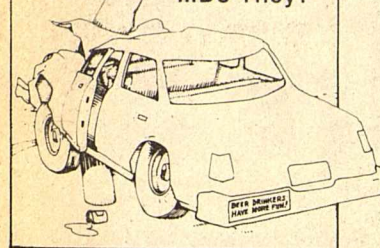

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

Texas Tidbits

The legislature of the state of Texas directed that a university of the first class be established. The location was left to a vote of the people. Austin, Tyler, and Waco were serious contenders for the new University of Texas. Waco lobbied that it was "free from the distractions and corrupting political influences of a political capitol," but the vote went to Austin nonetheless.

Just about a year later, on November 17, 1882, the cornerstone for the first building -- "Old Main" -- was laid. A speaker said it was the culmination of the dreams of the heroes of San Jacinto.

Trio completes training

Frank M. Adkins, and Thomas and Donna Adkins, of Adkins Plumbing and Septic Service have successfully completed the Septic Certification Program, a seminar presented at the 1989 International Liquid Waste Haulers Equipment and Trade Show, and each has received a Certificate of Achievement.

The program offered in-depth information on the workings of septic systems; tank specifications; installation and evaluation of soil absorption systems; land application; utilization and proper disposal of septage; and troubleshooting and maintenance of customers' septic systems.

The show is held annually for liquid waste hauling and sewer/drain cleaning companies. It offers equipment exhibits along with educational seminars which promote professionalism in the industry.

Over 3,700 individuals from 1,540 companies attended the ninth annual show. The Adkins were among the 472 persons receiving the Certificate of Achievement for completing the program.

The show was held March 3-5 at the Opryland Hotel in Nashville, Tennessee.

How long is a stop payment valid

Editor Note: State of Treasurer Ann W. Richards each week answers questions about personal finance and state government. These questions are compiled from various letters to the State Treasury. Answers are not intended to take the sound advice of reputable financial advisers or other professional counselors.

If you have a question, write: Ask Ann Richards, P.O. Box 12608, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

I have been shopping around over the past few months for a low rate on a car loan. I have found that the credit unions in my area seem to have better rates than the banks. Why is this? Are credit unions a safe place for my money?

Credit unions were originally set up during the Depression. Workers at a company or plant pooled money to make loans for fellow workers.

Credit unions today are usually housed in the same building as the sponsoring business or in a building provided by that business, which saves on construction costs and rent.

Also, as nonprofit corporations, they do not pay income taxes.

These factors help keep the overhead low, enabling credit unions to offer loans of even small amounts at very attractive rates.

Accounts are insured up to $100,000 at both state and federally chartered credit unions through either the Texas Share Guaranty Credit Union or the National Credit Union Administration.

I put a stop payment on a check three months ago. Do I have to renew my request, or will the bank honor it indefinitely?

In Texas, stop payments are in effect for six months, unless they are renewed in writing. This rule applies to any bank, credit union or savings and loan in the state.

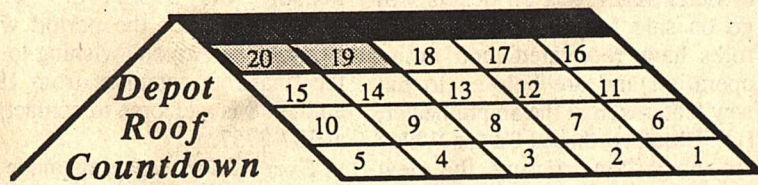

If the check is written against an account in another state, you will need to ask the bank for its policy to stop payments.

BRONCO TAILS

News from Sonora High School
by Cynthia Kepler

Once again, SHS students proved that they're of state caliber. Our rodeo team got to Fort Stockton this weekend and really showed everybody who's the best. Those qualifying for state are: Trey Wardlaw, Bulldogging; Trey Wardlaw/Decky Spiller, Lewis Baker/Blayze Sykes, Tooter Jones/Mack Wardlaw, Team roping; Wheelless Baker, Barrels and Poles; Anna Balch, Barrels and Poles and Tooter Jones, Bareback. The State rodeo will be held in June-best of luck and have a safe end of season!

State U.I.L. meet for academic, speech and drama will be this weekend. We have one more person joining the nine mentioned last week. Mr. Macon, journalism sponsor, received word last week that Allison Schwinning placed 4th in Headline Writing. She will be attending as an alternate. Best of luck to all those participating. We want to bring home a State championship.

Although Sonora won't be represented at the State athletic meets in May, SHS students fared very well at golf, tennis, and track meets this past week. The golf team ended up 6th in the Region which is a great improvement over last year. Congratulations guys! Sean Peek also played and represented SHS well in the Region tennis meet. In track results are: Luis Lira-5th, Long Jump; 3200 M-4th, Alberco Capuchina; and 1600 M-6th, Ector Castilleja. We're proud of all our athletes for their OUTSTANDING performances this year!

Student Council elections will be held Thursday. The outgoing officers are: Decky Spiller-President; Keith Wallace-Vice President; Jesse Lynch-Secretary and Kim Cooke-Treasurer. Congratulations to these officers, Coach Snodgrass and all the members of the Student Council for a job well done. Those running for positions next year are Keith Wallace and Sammy Sentena-President; Lewis Baker and Chacho Cahill-Vice President; Christi Spain and LaDonna Snyder-Secretary, and Shanna Patton (unopposed)-Treasurer.

Students are now in the process of pre-registering for next year. For the first time, students are being given the opportunity to take Vocation Agriculture and Science courses. These courses are designed to benefit those who are considering going into agriculture or animal science. A note to all the students-don't be afraid to take challenging courses. These courses usually do a very good job at preparing the college bound student.

Other goings-on this weekend. The Senior Class will be taking their senior trip to San Antonio Sea World this Saturday. This is one of the last chances these seniors will function as a class, so have fun.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes will also be having a fun weekend. On Sunday, they will be going to Roosevelt for church services and a picnic. This group has grown this year and sponsors have been pleased with the attendance and general attitude of the group.

Tryouts for Band auxiliary units will be held after school Tuesday, May 9. The auxiliary units are the "spice" of the band, bringing color to the halftime performances. Also chosen will be the 1989-90 drum majors. Everyone is invited to watch the tryouts.

All of the different classes are getting excited about the last month of school. Seniors are looking forward to graduation and turning in their senior research papers (although I don't know how eager Mrs. Graham is to grade them). Juniors are starting to assume leadership positions and accustom themselves to the role they'll play as seniors next year. Sophomores are looking forward to being upperclassmen (finally) and all the new classes such as the ever-popular chemistry. And Freshmen? Well, they're just looking forward to not being freshmen any more. By next year, all this will be old hat to them.

And that's the way it was at SHS this week. We're all very proud of the student body-SHS is really a top notch school!

West Texas Utilities announces their new Gatekeeper Program

West Texas Utilities Co. has announced its participation in the Gatekeeper Program. The program is designed to assist vulnerable older people who need help but may be unable to get it for themselves.

"We have long been active supporters of programs like the United Way, volunteer fire departments, and other community programs," said Glen Churchill, president and chief executive officer of the electric utility. "Our employees also participate in the Neighborhood Crime Watch in our communities. The Gatekeeper Program offers us an opportunity to further serve West Texans."

Each year the elderly population grows. In fact statistics show that people over 85 make up the fastest growing segment of the U.S. population. Many of them are healthy, active people involved with family and friends, church or community groups.

But many others are not that fortunate. They live alone and have little contact with others. If they become ill or unable to function independently, they can easily go unnoticed and unattended. According to Churchill, the Gatekeeper Program seeks to help remedy the problem by using meter readers and other customer service representatives who may have contact with the elderly in the normal course of their jobs.

Nancy Johnson, WTU supervisor of residential audit services, recently conducted training sessions for those employees throughout the company's fifty-two county service area. The training taught the Gatekeepers to recognize certain signals in the elderly such as a change in appearance or behavior, or signs of confusion or disability.

When the employee sees a warning sign, the local agency for the aging is contacted. The agency takes it from there.

They contact the elderly person, assess their needs, and get whatever help is required from the appropriate health or social service organization.

In discussing the company's reasons for participating in this nationally recognized program, Churchill pointed out that it is a logical extension of what company employees do in their normal line of work. He added "the Gatekeeper Program is a way to help our neighbors, customers and friends."

Older Texans, Senior Centers to be recognized during May Texans over the age of 60 and the local senior activity centers which serve as the focus for many of their major life activities will be officially recognized in May by the State of Texas.

Separate proclamations signed April 18 by Governor William P. Clements, Jr. declared May as Older Texans Month and the week of May 14-20 as Texas Senior Centers Week.

May has also been designated as Older Americans Month by President George Bush.

Clements, in his Older Texans Month proclamation, said, "The most tangible links between our past and present are the 2.3 million of us over the age of 60."

"The elders who nurtured us in our childhood, counseled us in our young adulthood and remained our valued friends in maturity are deserving of our sincerest expression of gratitude."

In his tribute to senior centers, Gov. Clements lauded them for offering "an open door" to all seniors who need services such as meals, transportation, physical fitness programs, volunteer opportunities and creative activities.

The governor urged all older Texans to visit senior centers in their communities and take part in the activities there.

The Texas Department on Aging maintains a network of more than 500 senior centers in all areas of the state. Seniors or others who want to find out more about these senior centers may call the Department on Aging at 1-800-252-9240.

Mari works on Say Anything

Contributed article
Mari Elena, mother of three-year-old Paul Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pablo H. Martinez, and granddaughter of Ernest Castro of Sonora, worked on the movie Say Anything, released in mid-April.

Say Anything stars John Cusack of Hot Pursuit and The Sure Thing, also John Mahoney and Ione Skye.

The movie is receiving great reviews. Mari felt the film would do well before it's release. "I was impressed by writer, director Cameron Crowe and was confident. I learned the most from working on this film than others. The cast was super nice and talented."

Crowe's last hit movie, Fast Times at Ridgemont High, also proved that his strong ideas are presented well in his teen movies.

"It's definitely a movie that offers advice and lots of laughs!" said Mari.

Public Notice

On March 14, 1989, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company filed with the Public Utility Commission of Texas an application which proposes to revise its Toll Restriction Tariff in Section 21 of the General Exchange Tariff. The Commission received the application as Docket No. 8700.

Hunters dream

Betsy Knight, sixteen year old daughter of Game Warden Rodney and Kathy Knight, bagged two turkeys during the spring hunt which are the envy of all turkey hunters.

The turkey on the left sported five beards while the turkey on the right had three. The birds, killed within twenty minutes of each other, were hunted on the D.A. Genini ranch south of Sonora. Contributed photo.

Organization calls for appointed commission

Thirty-seven farm and ranch groups, the end of April, called for an appointed state agricultural commission to make rural Texans equal partners in the state's economic recovery.

The broad-based, grassroots organization, unprecedented in modern Texas history, was announced by Jimmie Powell, president of Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association; Wes Bonner, president of Texas Cattle Feeders Association; and S.M. True, president of Texas Farm Bureau.

"Our message is simple. Texas needs leadership in the Texas Department of Agriculture that understands the economic health of rural Texas is based on the ability of agriculture to change and adopt new technology. We know that an appointed commission could and would make that happen. Farmers and ranchers would benefit. Small town business and rural communities would prosper. Overall, the state and its citizens would be better off. It's the right thing to do," the spokesman said.

The appointment of an agricultural commission or commissioner has been standard practice in thirty-nine states. Of the top ten agriculture-producing states, Texas would be adopting the same approach as California, Nebraska, Minnesota, Kansas, Wisconsin, and Indiana.

"The time has come in Texas for a change. The people in agriculture in this state, by and large, want a change. We are pleased to announce the formation of this group representing all types of agricultural leadership," the spokesman stated.

Organizations joining the rural revitalizations effort include: Blackland Cotton and Grain Assoc., Cotton and Grain Assoc. of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, El Paso Valley Cotton Growers Assoc., Gulf Compress, High Plains Vegetable Assoc., Independent Cattlemen's Assoc., Independent Cotton Ginners Assoc., Livestock Marketing Assoc. of Texas, Lone Star Corn Growers Assoc., Plains Cotton Growers Assoc., Rio Grande Valley Sugar Growers, Inc., Rolling Plains Cotton Growers Assoc., St. Lawrence Cotton Growers Assoc., South Texas Cotton and Grain Assoc., Southwest Texas Meat Packers Assoc., Texas Agricultural Cooperative Council, Texas Agri-Women, Texas and Oklahoma Watermelon Growers Assoc., Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assoc., Texas Assoc. of Cotton Producer Organizations, Texas Cattle Feeders Assoc., Texas Cattlewomen Assoc., Texas Citrus and Vegetable Assoc., Texas Citrus Mutual, Texas Cotton Ginners Assoc., Texas Cotton Assoc., Texas Cottonseed Crushers Assoc., Texas Division of Assoc. Milk Producers, Inc., Texas Farm Bureau, Texas Federation of Production Credit Assoc., Texas Forestry Assoc., Texas Pecan Growers Assoc., Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Assoc., Texas Vegetable Assoc., Trans-Pecos Cotton Assoc., and Valley Co-op Oil Mill.

Bids must be received by the undersigned prior to 10:00 a.m., May 30, 1989, at which time the bids will be opened in open court at the Commissioner's Courtroom on the 1st floor of the County Courthouse in Georgetown, Texas.
