Leaders Join In Movement For Second Bond Issue Congress Gathers To Write Finis To Coolidge Regime

Reunions of Old Friends Feature Opening Session

Battle-scarred leaders of election re-assembled to close administration; hold short session

Relief Is Worry

Farm relief to be placed before house soon, is belief of leaders; to hear Coolidge today

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—The seventh congress re-assembled today to write the last chapter of the Coolidge administration.

Opening ceremonies in both the senate and house were brief routine serving only to dispose of formalities and to bring together again the warriors of the campaign. At noon, Vice-President Dawes in the senate and Speaker Longworth in the house presided over the reunions of the friends on the floor with the hope for order and the concluding session of this congress, which must end on March 4, had started. Within an hour the houses had adjourned for the day.

Scout Council To Hold Annual Meet

Scout leaders from over South Plains to gather for annual meeting and election of officers

R. J. Murray, president of the South Plains Council, has announced the annual meeting of the South Plains Area Council Boy Scouts of America, to be at 2:00 Wednesday afternoon, December 12, at the City Hall. Judge C. M. McMillan of Lubbock, Dr. A. E. Arfield of Amarillo, and W. G. McMillan of Lubbock have been named as a nominating committee to make nominations for officers and members of the council to be elected at the meeting.

John W. Hood of Stalon, Rev. I. G. R. Williams of Lubbock, and E. E. Dickson of Spur have been named as a committee on program and resolutions.

At the annual council meeting reports of the various officers and standing committees for the year are to be made. Plans and programs for the next year are to be worked out. The annual election of officers also takes place at this meeting. The South Plains Council has had a very successful year in many respects and is looking forward to the development of a bigger and better program in 1929.

Use of Adrenalin Brings Revival of Dead's Heartbeat

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Partial success crowned efforts of a negro of San Antonio surgeon at a local hospital Sunday when they revived a patient after death and kept him alive for three hours by the use of adrenalin, in the first experiment ever attempted in San Antonio.

Fred Douglas, negro, died Sunday as the result of a bullet wound over the right eye, received Saturday night in a fight. Under the direction of a leading surgeon, who declined to permit the use of his name, internes and attendants fought for the life of the negro for three hours. Four injections of the drug, the most powerful heart stimulant known, were used in the attempt. At the first injection the heart failed to renew its functioning but after the third it reacted. A fourth injection was used and although the heart showed response to the drug, the man failed to regain consciousness.

Youths Get Terms In State School For Shooting Cars

Judge Nordyke sentences 3 boys to training school for firing at cars in Canyon Saturday

Three boys, Albert Anthony, 13; J. B. Morris, 14, and Floyd Shireman, 14, who live just east of Lubbock, were sentenced to serve terms in the Texas State Training School for Boys, at Gasterville, for an indefinite period, or until they become 21 years of age, following a speedy trial before a jury in the county court Monday afternoon.

The boys were tried for shooting a small rifle into passing automobiles on the highway east of town at the canyon, Saturday and were found guilty by the jury. The sentence being given by Judge Charles Nordyke late Monday afternoon. They were alleged to have fired at a number of cars in an effort at shooting the highway east of town at the canyon, Saturday and were found guilty by the jury. King's Condition Causes More Worry

Crowds Continue to Swell Outside Royal Palace; Condition Said to Be Unchanged Monday

LONDON, Dec. 3.—(AP)—Four of the five doctors who have been called into consultation on the illness of King George tonight signed a bulletin stating that the condition of his majesty's heart still was causing anxiety.

Although this was the disquieting feature of an otherwise favorable report, the ever-growing crowds that gathered outside the palace to await the evening bulletin found little in it to lessen their anxiety. Some comfort was obtained, however, from the fact that the physicians made their report after only a normal time for examining their patient.

SHERMAN MALCHEN

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Dec. 3.—With 2200 bitter, frozen miles ahead of them, the advance guard of Commander Richard E. Byrd's expedition sailed southward today to establish a base at the edge of the Antarctic ice barrier from which they will make the last great tremendous effort in the conquest of the South Pole by ship and airplane.

Fifty men and Commander Byrd were on the supply ship Eleanor Bolling when it left Dunedin towing another ship to the South Pole region. From Dunedin they go 1,500 miles by boat into the dreary wastes to the Ross Ice Barrier, as shown on the map. The party will establish a base in the Bay of Whales and remain there while the Eleanor Bolling returns to Dunedin for the remainder of the personnel and equipment.

Tech Judging Crew Win 8th Place In Chicago Contests

Local Boys Show Up Good In International Show; 23 Colleges Entered; Team Completed For 1st Time

Winning higher honors than such well-known colleges as Iowa State, Texas A. and M., Missouri, and others, the Texas Technological college stock judging team of six took eighth place in the stock judging contest held at the Chicago International Exposition, Saturday. It was learned here Monday.

A total of 28 senior universities and colleges from the United States and Canada entered the competition. Of individual judging, B. C. Carmichael, of the Texas Tech team, tied for first place in the horse judging event, topping the field of several hundred college students who were competing.

Salvation Army To Bring Santa Claus To Lubbock's Poor

There is a Santa Claus, and Louise Vandever, who has not lost faith, probably will be willing to prove to any doubting Thomases of Christmas Day that old St. Nick does not forget the good little girls whose fathers are cripples and whose mothers are in bad health, for the Salvation Army is now negotiating with Santa to make one visit in Lubbock on Christmas Eve.

Loosee thinks enough of Santa but she isn't taking any chances, on being overlooked this winter so Sunday afternoon while she was sitting by her feeble fire, she wrote the old man a letter and sent it in care of the Salvation Army. Which was exactly the thing to do because Santa didn't even know that Louise lived here and now her name is near the top of the rolls.

It is other little children, who probably will not receive visits from St. Nickolas, will write to the Salvation Army, their names will be entered on the rolls also, according to an announcement made yesterday from headquarters of that organization. Louise's appeal reads: "I am writing you a letter telling you what I want you to bring me Xmas. I am a poor little girl and my Daddy is crippled. Mother is in bad health and I want you, Santa, to bring me a doll, a pair of shoes, a dress and a pair of stockings and some candy and apples, oranges and nuts of every kind. Santa I am a good little girl. Will close."

Reports On Work Of Societies In Church Are Made

W. M. S. of First Methodist Church Spends Over $1,200 During Year; Charity Work Is Reported

Business sessions were conducted by the two missionary societies of First Methodist church yesterday afternoon, showing excellent work that is being done by women in this congregation.

A financial report made in the W. M. S. showed that more than $1,200 had been spent by the society during the year and that some money is left in the treasury to begin the next twelve months. The number of visits made, flowers sent to the sick, food and clothing and other necessities sent to the poor were listed in reports made by each of the four districts in the society. More than fifty women were at this meeting.

Work Among Mexicans There was an excellent attendance at the Mary Helm meeting over which Mrs. C. P. Carlock presided. Mrs. E. O'Sullivan led the devotional and social service. Women in this auxiliary are planning to pack a Christmas box to be sent to a Mexican girl who is in school and is being cared for by these women. Another box will be packed and sent to the mission-ary in a hospital. Reports showed that these women have recently walled the Mexican Methodist parsonage and church here with sheet-rock. Other reports were heard and routine business discussed at this meeting.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barker

Copyright by NEA Service, Inc.

About the question of sleeping and keeping the children warm and covered in cold winter nights, there is much to be said. Like everything else, it is up to our own good judgment, for homes are different, children are different, weather is different, and climate, too, plays a great part.

There exists a certain popular idea about "hardening" children. That is, not allowing them to become accustomed to too many bed-clothes at night, and shoving up all the windows regardless of cold and wind.

I've seen parents do this who wouldn't have thought of sleeping in such rooms themselves. I have gone into bedrooms at night where there were sleeping children, when it was all I could do to endure the cold with my street wraps on.

The coldest days and nights of the year are ahead of us now. We face three or four months of our bitterest weather.

A wise mother is going to think this thing out now. First, of all, there should be plenty of warm, light bed-clothes. This is important. Heavy bed-clothes are not always warm, and they are never healthful. Blankets should be made of wool. Comforts may be cotton-filled, but cotton is likely to lump in places, leaving other parts thin or entirely empty between the child's covers. The ideal comfort is wool, or fleeces filled. Eiderdown is ideal but very expensive.

Nightgowns should be loose and warm. For winter they should be made of soft, fleecy material, such as outing flannel, or the flexible knitted fabrics made for the purpose. Ready-made sleeping garments with feet, for children, cannot well be improved upon.

For the little babies, sleeping bags are very practical. These can be made of small blankets folded double and sewed up the sides. Snappers can be put at the top, covering the shoulders, allowing enough space for the head. This is better than a draw-string. There should be plenty of room to tuck about inside the bag.

Blankets should be fastened to the bed if children toss. Tapes can be sewed on the corners and tied to the bars at the side.

The air of the room should be fresh and cold, but never bitter and never blowing on the bed or around the head. Attractive bedroom screens may be made cheaply by covering a clothes-horse with cretonne. The sides and head of open beds should be lined.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY NINA HELENA RUBINSTEIN

The need of glasses frequently in early youth testifies to the abuse we give our eyes. It has been stated by a prominent authority that if every man and woman in this country were to spend 10 minutes a day toward protecting his eyesight and strengthening his vision, glasses would soon become obsolete, or virtually so.

One prominent authority claims that eyes are at their best only when they are in motion. That eye strain develops when the eyes are still. Certainly from investigation and experience I know that exercise helps to strengthen the eye muscles, and have at times seen cases where glasses have been completely discarded. I am giving you here some tried and tested eye exercises:

1. Close your eyes, lean your elbows on a table, close the fingers and cup the palms; place base of your hand against the cheek bones. Shut out all light and thing of something dark. If you would do this for half hour a day, you will be amazed to find how rested and strengthened the eye muscles would become.

2. Focus your eyes, either upon a large window or door, or an imaginary square frame. Let your eyes travel slowly from one to the other of each of the four corners of this frame. Repeat this a dozen times. The last exercise consists of placing a central point, either a finger or a pencil, about 15 inches away from the tip of your nose. Keeping your eyes on this point, swing your head slowly from right to left. Be sure that your line of vision is not disturbed.

Blinking rapidly is another splendid way of resting the eyes. Throwing the vision from an object close at hand to one far distant is also excellent. Ten minutes daily will do wonders.

There comes a time in every young housewife's life when, if the jelly doesn't jell, and the children all have the measles at once, and the husband has a grouch, and the plumbing leaks, the maid leaves and she can't get a woman for cleaning she wonders what in the world she's getting out of this business, anyway, and why in the world she, who can speak three languages, write and make a good living in an independent career, is "doing work" that just any moron can do.

The fact that she has been unable to find that ideal moron does not bother her. This is the time that the housewife begins to think of such things as community kitchens and nurseries, and wonder why the world of commerce and industry doesn't make it possible for women to bear children and carry on wage-earning, "self-expressive work," too.

All these questions which we wonder about here at home have been and are actually being worked out by Soviet Russia.

NO DISCRIMINATION The fact that eight per cent of the all-Russia Soviet, the chief governing body of the nation, corresponding to our Congress, are women and that women chairmen of provincial and city Soviets, corresponding to our governors, and mayors are so common that a Mrs. Ferguson of Rome wouldn't cause a ripple over there, is not nearly so interesting to the world of women as these facts—

That—Russia has no job discriminations against married women," as Maurice Hindus puts it in an article in "Asia"

"They, too, may do whatever work they are fitted to perform, whether in the teaching or medical or engineering professions or in industry. Neither a school board nor a factory manager nor anyone in charge of hiring workers has a right to refuse a woman applicant a position just because she is married or even because she is enceinte."

"In industries, such as the textile, in which women predominate a network of nurseries has been established to make possible the proper care of babies during work hours."

"This state of affairs naturally raises the question—whether the Russian woman, under the burden of her new privileges and responsibilities, is not becoming too independent, too aggressive, too ambitious, too intelligent, and thereby debasing and perhaps killing romance."

"And is the Russian woman really a happier human being because of her new equalities? The new social scheme may eventually bring to Russian women a great rapture, but it will not be without the cost of a great agony."

The question, too, for women everywhere—not merely those of Russia.

The Morning Avalanche Menu for the Day BREAKFAST—Grape fruit sections, cereal, cream, broiled cottage ham, bran and raisin muffins, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Scalloped mushrooms, shredded pepper and cabbage and beef salad, whole wheat bread, baked quinces, milk, tea.

DINNER—Braised beef with cabbage and tomato sauce, baked squash, cottage cheese salad, apple charlotte, milk, coffee.

One pound round steak, 1 small head red cabbage, 2 cups stewed tomatoes, 1 tablespoon butter, 2 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt.

Any lean piece of beef can be used and should be cut about 2 inches thick. Cut meat in two-inch cubes and brown quickly on all sides in a hot frying pan. Add 1 cup of hot water and simmer over a low fire, closely covered until tender. Remove meat from liquid and save stock to use for soup. In the meantime cook shredded cabbage in boiling water 10 to 15 minutes. Drain and add vinegar. Spread over a hot platter and arrange pieces of meat over cabbage. Heat tomatoes and rub through a sieve. Blend butter and flour until perfectly smooth and stir into sifted tomatoes. Heat to the boiling point and pour over meat. Season with salt and pepper and re-heat in the oven before sending to the table.

Business Map of Texas Shows Area In Good Condition

The map of Texas business published in the December issue of the Texas Commercial News shows Lubbock in the "good" section for the third month in succession. The city is included in the "good" section which now extends south to San Angelo and west as far as the state line and El Paso. The December map shows a broadening of the good area east of Lubbock to include Crosbyton. The map is compiled by E. H. Brown, Texas business analyst, from numerous commercial reports received from all parts of the state.

Other areas of Texas shown in "good" sections include a small section of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, a narrow strip extending from Orange to Freeport, and a third section extending from Texarkana through Dallas and Fort Worth to Waco. The balance of the state is shown as only "fair" except for a narrow strip from Vernon to Amarillo which is denoted as "quiet."

December's building total mounts to $1,000 Monday December's building total was doubled Monday, with the issuance of two permits for $200 each, to Lawrence Bacon. The permits call for the erection of two five-room brick veneer residences, one at 1809 Sixteenth street and one at 507 Avenue M. F. L. Jones being named as contractor on both jobs.

These bring the total for December to $10,000 one other permit having been issued Saturday for $500. The year's total now is within less than $2,000 of another hundred thousand dollars on the four-million mark, being at $3,998,192 for 653 permits.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them before they start with Creomulsion, an emulsified croceote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and inflames the membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs croceote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to croceote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the croceote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Scurry County's 9th Annual Poultry Show Opens Thursday; Over 1,000 Birds Entered; Petaluma Man to Talk

Interest Is High In Show; Judge Bruton Is To Act As Judge In Exhibits; Six Counties Entered

SNYDER, Dec. 3.—Judge Walter Bruton knows all over West Texas as an expert of poultry judging will be in charge of the Scurry county Poultry Show that opens Thursday for a three day session. Last year 499 birds were entered in the show while all indications point to more than a thousand birds this year. Supt. B. L. Base states that entries have already been received from Garza, Fisher, Mitchell, Borden and Dawson counties and the management are hoping to have the largest and best show ever held here. The present show is the ninth to be held here. An added attraction of the show will be the possible appearance here of Charles Weeks, Petaluma, Cal., who has made such a wonderful success of the One-Acre-Colony there and who will co-operate with county farmers in establishing a five-acre colony for this county. If Mr. Weeks is unable to get here in time for the show, he has promised to be here within the next two weeks.

Flower Planting Is C. I. A. Plan For Next Spring

DENTON, Dec. 3. (AP)—Ten thousand panes and as many tulips, blooming alternately, will make the campus of the College of Industrial Arts beautiful during the entire year. Fancies have been planted in tulip bulbs, and will bloom during the winter until the tulips bloom in the spring. Fred W. Westcott, director of the department of Rural Arts and chairman of the committee on campus beautification, has had charge of the planting of the flowers and bulbs. Other projects, such as a sunken garden, a new pool and a fountain, have been planned for the campus and will be built during the present school year.

TO FRAME CONSTITUTION
At the last meeting of the Student Council a committee was appointed to draw up a constitution and by-laws to submit to President Horn for his approval. The first Student Council which was organized soon after the college opened its doors has been mislabeled thus necessitating the framing of a new one. If Dr. Horn approves the wording it will then be printed in the Torch, the school paper, in order that the entire student body may see it and at a convocation to be held early in January they will be given a chance to ratify it.

Members of the committee as appointed by the President, Jack Madrox are Scott Pike, chairman, Ethridge Egan and Hal Yoder.

ALUMNAE HOLD MEETING
The executive members of the Technological college alumnae association, met in a business session Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Buckner.

January 11 has been set as the date for a general get-together for the entire alumni of the college at a place to be announced later. Officers of the association are E. M. Barnett, president; Mrs. T. E. Buckner, vice-president; Mary Hope Westbrook, secretary; C. W. Ratliff, editor of ex-students magazine, and H. B. Carroll, alumni representative to athletic council. Announcement has been made of a meeting of the Pre-Med club next Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in room 315.

Dr. R. O. Peters, of the Lubbock Sanitarium staff, is to lecture on "Problems of Internae Life."

LETTER SWEATERS BANNED
A statement has come from the Student Council that all wearing of sweaters with the home town school letter emblazoned across the front or anywhere on the sweater must stop. If the letter is removed of course the sweater can continue to be worn, but if because of sentiment of pride the wearer does not wish to remove the sweater he or she must leave the garment at home. This restriction also holds true where varsity letters from schools other than Tech are represented on the campus. The purpose of the ruling is to help to create a greater spirit for Tech, and members of the Council think this to be one step in that direction.

TO GIVE FILM SHOWING
A picture show, "Separating Facts From Fiction" is to be shown at the Engineering auditorium tonight at 7:30 o'clock. The work of the engineers in laboratories and proving grounds of a larger automobile concern will be features of the picture. "Horseless Cars" — showing contrasts in traffic conditions 25 years ago and today, a modern automobile factory and heat treatment of steel will also be shown as well as an engineering laboratory's experiments on heat-treatment of auto steels.

WILSON IS APPOINTED

AUSTIN, Dec. 3.—(AP)—B. F. Wilson, judge of the county court at law, Houston, today was appointed by Governor Moody judge of the 81st district court to succeed Judge Walter E. Monthie, elected mayor of Houston Saturday.

Hornets Take Lead In City Basketball League Race

International Clubs Vote To Oppose Amendments To Present Draft Rule

Super Service Quintet Tramples Wholesalers In Fast Contest To Assume Commanding Lead In Race

Montgomery Ward Girls Win From Telephone Operators In Opening Contest Of Night's Program

The Super Service Hornets assumed a menacing position in the City Basketball League last night by trouncing the Wholesalers' quintet 21 to 9 in the fastest game seen in the high school gymnasium this season. Taking the lead at the outset, the Hornets swarmed all over their opponents in a flashy exhibition.

Led by Watkins, forward, Mansell, center and Kerr, guard, the winners grabbed the basket from close range. Mansell's long shots from the center of the floor featured the Hornets' attack.

Super Service now leads the men's division of the League with the National Guard five which defeated Montgomery Ward last week. The Wholesalers had previously won from Piggly Wiggly.

The Montgomery Ward Girls, donned in their blue uniforms, nosed out the Telephone Girls in the opening contest of the evening.

Taking the lead in the opening quarter, the Salesgirls played a strong defensive game and emerged with the long end of a 11 to 9 score.

Snyder Seeks Game Between Champs

SNYDER, Dec. 3.—Snyder High school officials have invited the Anson and Odessa schools to decide their bi-district games in the new $10,000 athletic stadium here Saturday. Snyder is practically midway between the two cities who are anxious to play the game where the location means the greatest drawing card.

Amarillo Players Are Investigated

SHERMAN, Dec. 3. (P)—Records of Amarillo high school football players formerly with the Sherman Bears were under investigation here today by two men giving their addresses as Lubbock. Amarillo high was winner in District No. 1 of the Interscholastic League.

Gear Named Head Of Western Loop

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 3. (P)—Dale Gear of Topeka, was re-elected president of the Western League at the conclusion of its annual meeting here today. S. F. Burch of Omaha was elected vice president.

Strolling Down Sports Lane With Allan Carney

Perhaps there's no one job that details a sports scribe which is capable of bringing forth as much adverse criticism as that of naming an all-star football eleven. Fans insist that we be neutral in our selections, and if we are and fail to name their favorites, another howl goes up.

Which reminds us that it won't be long now until something will be known concerning the fate of the Tech application.

The eligibility of Tech as a candidate for admission into the major athletic group of the Southwest stands ready for inspection.

Coach Frank Bridges Simmons University coach has afforded considerable amusement by the attitude he has shown toward the heavy schedule the Cowboys have gone through this season.

A Little Aid, a Little Twist—and a Touchdown!

The simplicity of getting started on a long run for a touchdown is shown in this glimpse of the recent Southern California-Washington State game. All it took was a bit of blocking, a few twists of the hips, and tailback MacDonald of Washington State was off on a 90-yard run through the entire Trojan team for six points.

The Southwest Conference eleven but went down before two members of their own conference. As a matter of fact, Bridges drove his charges just as hard for the computer with Tech as any other game on his schedule.

Since the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association meets on the same day that the Southwest Conference officials gather in Dallas, Coaches Freehand and Payne will just about have their hands full.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3. (P)—Greater skill in defense and a decided reduction in the number of set-up teams have kept the total points accumulated by this season's college football eleven down to considerably below the bumper crop of 1928.

Constantly we are finding new and better ways of doing things

THE new Ford was a good car when it was first introduced. It is a better car today. Constantly we are finding new and better ways of doing things. Ceaselessly, untiringly, our engineers are working for the improvement of the car. Every new idea that seems to promise advancement is studied and tested in every conceivable way.

Not only in the laboratory, but out on the road in actual running. As soon as we are sure of its value we put it into the car.

The result is an automobile that is always new. There is no such thing as saving improvements for a yearly model designed to speed up sales or capture a passing fancy.

No matter when you buy a new Ford—in January, May, August or December—you know that it embodies every latest development that has proved sound and good.

You know more than this. You know that in design, materials and workmanship it is the best car that can possibly be made at a low price. The deciding thought behind every move is not sales or profits—but "What will give the most service to the public?"

Our whole effort is toward simplicity—to give you complete, well-rounded performance with the least amount of machinery and without sacrificing quality anywhere along the line. You cannot make a complicated car at a low price without cutting corners somewhere.

The new Ford is a truly great car because it brings you a proved, sensible balance of every essential feature of an automobile. No one part has been over-developed at the expense of another.

You get remarkable acceleration and smoothness at all speeds. You get speed of 55 to 65 miles an hour. You get uncommon power and hill-climbing ease. You get reliability and economy of operation that will save you many dollars in the up-keep of your car.

You get more than this... a fully enclosed, silent six-brake system—four Houdaille hydraulic shock absorbers—Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield—the full and immediate advantage of many improvements developed exclusively by the Ford Motor Company.

Arrange now to see the new Ford and know the thrill of driving it. Judge it not only on acceleration, power and speed, but also on safety, comfort, ease of control, reliability, economy—on its long life and the security of its trade-in value.

You will know then that today, more truly than ever before, there is nothing quite like the new Ford in design, quality and price.

GOOD CHEER

It is impossible for us to be happy always but at least we can contribute to individual and general good by being cheerful. Joy is contagious. The sight of a smile in good spirits induces the observer to cast aside cumbersome care and rejoice despite existing conditions.

To be sure a genuine smile is better than a forced one but any kind is superior to the grimace of worry or intolerance which disfigures the countenance of so many men and women. When we force a smile we simply are keeping our troubles to ourselves; and that is a splendid idea since few there are who are interested in these woes because everybody has problems of his own.

The unhappy faces one sees daily are depressing because they clearly show the struggle of their possessors with complexities, and their discouragement at not being able to disentangle themselves. This state of mind is expressed sometimes by a scowl, other times by drooping features and figure and by listless, discouraged eyes. A smile would camouflage all this and prove cheering to the passerby. It also would mean the revival of cheer for the depressed, because when the frowny opportunity comes our way, it passes by the doorstep of him whose disposition is more inviting. It doesn't matter particularly that the smile is assumed.

Failures really are stairs to the landing of success and after many of them we should find it in our hearts to laugh the pain of laborious ascent away, feeling ourselves near to our goals. To permit irregularities of this sort to discourage us is to prove ourselves of poor caliber. It is only natural, of course, that we deplore such a circuitous route to our destination, but the good things of life do not come easy, hence one must abide by the rules of the game, and the primary precept is to prove ourselves of good caliber. It is only natural, of course, that we deplore such a circuitous route to our destination, but the good things of life do not come easy, hence one must abide by the rules of the game, and the primary precept is to prove ourselves of good caliber. But success and happiness also entail a philosophical viewpoint. Without cheerfulness and hope life is monotonous, harassing and unsuccessful.

A BUSY SEASON

It is always in order to predict a busy session of the legislative assembly right after the general election. Perhaps the hope that the body will devote itself to business is father to the thought, and members as a rule, enter upon the discharge of their duties with that purpose in view. And although legislative bodies frequently suffer in public esteem because of alleged laxity in attending to business or neglecting important matters while giving consideration to subjects having little bearing on the state's general welfare, we recall no gathering of the lawmakers of this state for a profitable session.

Many subjects of legislation are now being discussed and the probabilities are the program will be interesting and far-reaching. Judged by newspaper comment, it is apparent that legislation affecting the state's highways will occupy an important place on the calendar. Various and sundry suggestions have been made and still are being made for improvement of the highway system, from which the members ought to be able to evolve a plan that will prove a solution of the most pressing of the many problems with which we are confronted.

The $350,000,000 state-wide bond issue proposal of Chairman Sterling of the Highway Commission appears to be growing in public favor, and while it may not be adopted by the legislature, more than likely it will form the basis of whatever proposal that body may submit to the people for approval. Roughly, Mr. Sterling's idea contemplates a connection of the highway system constructed and paid for by the state out of the proceeds of a bond issue, and a 2c gasoline tax, which he thinks will be entirely sufficient to pay interest and retire the indebtedness as it falls due. Out of the money so received he would reimburse counties that have already built or provided for construction of first-class roads, thereby relieving them of the odious tax levied and collected to take care of local bonds.

Other proposals have taken form and it is possible many more will find their way into the legislative hopper, but of all suggestions so far made Mr. Sterling's seems to be the most popular because of its economical feature. And after all, when all plans are studied closely, the principal difference lies in the amount of tax proposed to be levied to carry out the idea. The public, of course, is extremely anxious to have this matter settled for all time and will cheerfully submit to a reasonable tax imposed for that purpose alone. We do not believe that continuance of the policy of applying a portion of revenues derived from the gasoline tax to the school fund meets popular approval. The schools should and must be supported liberally, of course, but a tax levied on motor traffic for their benefit is class legislation, therefore intolerable.

This is but one of the major problems the legislature will have to deal with and it is to be hoped that it will not turn aside until all have been given the attention their importance demands.

A Washington Bystander

BY KIRKE L. SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.-Out on "I" street, huddled in among more modern structures that crowd for room in this passing residential section of Washington, is a plain little red brick church. It is scarcely more pretentious than Jourdan's Meeting House, near Chalfont St. Giles, not far from London, where William Penn, founder of the Pennsylvania colony and the Quaker faith in the new world, lies buried.

Like its prototype the Washington gathering place of the Hixite Quakers is a house of worship reduced to utter simplicity. It boasts no steeple or stained glass, no organ, pulpit, choir loft. Less than 300 persons can gather together for worship within its walls. It has but its modest benches, eased a little in these softer years with green cushions and a central table about which the worshippers gather.

Yet it is here that the thirty-first president of the United States and the first president of Quaker faith probably frequently will attend after March 4 next.

And therein lies matter of grave concern for the friends of the congregation who carry forward in this humble house of God the simple services begun on this site more than 125 years ago. They know that when the heavy-set figure of Herbert Hoover comes again amongst them to worship, as he has often come in the past, a train of curious minded folks will follow him and overcrowd the peaceful little meeting house.

Hoover's Favorite Church. There is another Quaker church in the city, but of more orthodox fashion. The Hoovers have at times attended there; but the leanings of the president-elect are more toward the utter simplicity of the Hixite Quakers and it has been more usual for him to attend the little "I" street meeting house or the other Hixite gathering at Sandy Springs, in Maryland, 20 miles or more away.

The very liberalism of this wing of the Quaker faith now arises as a problem of utmost delicacy for the Friends of the "I" street congregation to deal with. There is no set order of services to their worship; no definite presiding officer to guide the spiritual communion of their gatherings. An elder sits at the head of the table when they meet. Invariably a period of 10 minutes or more of silent and self-search meditation precedes any spoken word. Then he who will among the congregation may arise and testify as the spirit moves him. That is all. Heretofore there has arisen almost never any question of decorum, of watching over the motives that might inspire those who would speak, or of searching into the right of any comer to enter and join in the worship.

HEALTH QUESTIONS FOR THE TEACHER TO ASK

BY DR. MORRIS FISHER

Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and Hygeia, the Health Magazine. Nowadays it is realized that the health of the school teacher is a definite relationship to the quality of her work, to the response of her pupils and to the finances of school administration. The child learns more by example than by rule.

It is not worth while for a teacher to tell children to stand tall when she herself slouches with her stomach forward. In the great campaign for health as a fundamental factor in life, the National Educational association has placed mental health and physical health on a par.

In preparing health questions for teachers, the magazine Hygeia has listed signs of health and health habits which will be useful for any one interested in his own evaluation. Here are the questions:

Signs of Health. Can you work and play without being more than naturally tired mentally or physically at bedtime? Are you rested when you get up in the morning?

Are you free from persistent trivial worry? Have you any confiding in other people? Is your weight within 10 per cent below or 15 per cent above the average for your height and years?

Does your posture indicate health and efficiency? Are your arches normal and are you free from pain in your feet and legs? Are your muscles resilient? Is your vision either normal or corrected by glasses?

Can you hear ordinary conversation at 16 feet? Is your skin clear, color good? Is your hair glossy, but free from excessive oil (not brittle and dry)? Are your teeth either sound or filled?

Are you free from constantly recurring infection, including cold? Are you free from constant or recurring pain? Are you eating some dark bread daily? Do you drink six glasses of water every day? Do you average at least eight hours sleep every night? Do you eat sweets in moderation and only at the end of a meal?

Do you eat only at mealtime? (Fruit may be excepted.) Do you eat two vegetables, exclusive of potato, every day? Is one of these an uncooked vegetable (celery, lettuce, cabbage, etc.)? Do you eat fruit at least once a day? Do you eat one of the following every day: meat, milk, cheese, nuts, fish, egg?

Do you take your meals regularly? Do you eat slowly? Do you take a full bath at least twice a week? Do you clean your teeth at least twice a day? Do you have bowel movement each day (without a cathartic)? Do you average at least an hour out of doors every day? Do you exercise vigorously at least one-half hour every day (either outdoors or in)? Do you take at least 30 hours each week for recreation, social activity, reading, etc. (in addition to the daily exercise)? Have you a vital and satisfying interest outside of your work? Do you have your bedroom window open at night? Do you endeavor to maintain your best standing and sitting posture? During business hours do you wear comfortable walking shoes? Do you have a thorough physical examination once a year? Does your dentist examine your teeth twice a year? If you have physical limitations do you know them and live with them? Question-Is chlorine in drinking water dangerous?

Answer-In the case of the amounts of chlorine used to make drinking water safe against water-borne disease, it is not harmful.

AIR MAIL LOSSES DECLARED NOT EXCESSIVE

By W. IRVING GLOVER Second Assistant Postmaster General

Warren Irving Glover was born at Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 2, 1893. He was educated in the public schools of that city and as a youth entered the employ of a commission merchant in New York. He continued as distributor in the wooden trade until 1906 when he organized a real estate concern in New York, N. J. He was elected a member of the assembly of that state, serving from 1906 to 1907 being speaker in 1907. He was appointed third assistant postmaster general in 1921 and has been second assistant since 1923. His home is in Englewood, N. J.

Harmed from fire to which air mail is subjected is no greater than that attendant upon transportation of mail by railroad and steamship.

A number of letters have been received at the postoffice department urging that steps be taken to provide for the safekeeping of mail containing checks, securities, or other valuables, and expressing the fear that unless something is done promptly that insurance rates on air mail will soar to such heights as to render it practically impossible for the carrying of valuable mail.

The fear, as well as the apparent propaganda on the subject, can be ascribed to the unusual amount of publicity received when Pilot Hopson crashed in Pennsylvania, on October 17, and his plane was destroyed by fire. It so happened that he was carrying a large shipment of diamonds and considerable publicity attended the difficulty of recovering these gems from early visitors at the scene of the wreck. The recent sinking of the Vestris, in which 1,007 sacks of mail were lost, can be cited as an amount far larger than the total of all mail destroyed by fire during the ten years of operation of the air mail service. I might point out that in one fire just outside of New York less than a year ago a mail car was destroyed in which was being carried a far greater amount of mail than has been lost in a similar manner during the entire operation of the air mail. There are a number of like incidents.

In response to the suggestion for providing fireproof compartments for valuable mail, I have replied that several years ago the department conducted an exhaustive research into the subject and that the conclusion was developed that no asbestos or chemically treated substance was available which would withstand the terrific heat of a gasoline and oil fire sufficiently to protect the contents from destruction.

It is not an impossible experience to be accused by a "panhandler" for a quarter to buy breakfast. It has turned out sometimes that he is a motor tourist. Car and family are parked in a free camp on the outskirts of the city. Not much more than a few dollars' worth of food and supplies are in the car. He is on the way. It's a funny country that can produce that sort of thing. Some are grown up. Most are not. And who can tell the "short and simple plannings of the poor" from those of the rich?

We think if a lot of our readers have been real wise they can pretty soon send their Christmas socks and ties and stockings and handkerchiefs to some one else and make them happy Christmas. Other folks do it, and why not you?

We think it is alright to make right hand turns on red lights provided you will observe the following rules. First: Come to a full stop before starting to make the turn. This is the intention of the rules. Second: Do not cut in ahead of traffic crossing on the green light. Third: Do not cut in ahead of pedestrians who are crossing on the green light. And we offer one more. Use common sense, and observe the golden rule. never known.

Lubbock To Have Complete Business College In Future

Dallas Man Purchases Lubbock Business College's Plant Here; To Expand And Improve Courses

Lubbock is to have a business college just as complete and modern as any to be found in the southwest according to H. G. Harrow, formerly of Dallas, who with an unnamed associate has just purchased the Lubbock Business College plant here from A. L. King.

Mr. Harrow has had fifteen years of experience in the line of work with which he will be affiliated here and he comes to Lubbock with the determination to place the school here on a class with similar establishments anywhere.

Spur Man Is Associate
His associate is a business man of Spur. Abundant capital is available for the school.

"We will specialize on scholarship of our faculty," Harrow, who is a graduate of Howard Payne college, and therefore awake to the interests and needs of West Texas, said. "We will grade on a college basis. Courses in modern business practices are to be given. It justified by the demand a department of telegraphy will be installed.

"We recognize that Lubbock is a school town and we will do our part in keeping it such," Mr. Harrow pledged.

Several announcements in relation to improvement in the school are expected to be made in the very near future.

meeting stating at the outset that it had been called to discuss the proposed bond issue of a million dollars. "I am wondering if it is advisable to vote a million dollar bond issue," he said, "and I want to hear expression from everyone, whether for or against. We want frank discussions on it."

M. O. Abernathy said that the petition is now being circulated throughout the county to pave the state and federal highways and that the county commissioners had studied the question as to whether or not an ad valorem tax shall be annually levied upon the property of said county, subject to taxation, for the purpose of paying the interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof at maturity.

We further pray your Honorable Court that at said election there shall be submitted to the resident property taxpayers voters of the county the question as to whether or not an ad valorem tax shall be annually levied upon the property of said county, subject to taxation, for the purpose of paying the interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption thereof at maturity.

We further pray your Honorable Court that the proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds to the extent of $978,000, if necessary, be expended in the construction, maintenance and operation of paved roads and highways, or in aid thereof, in Lubbock county, as are now designated or may hereafter be designated, in accordance with the amount set opposite each of the designated sections or units of road construction, or so much of said amount as may be necessary, to-wit:

Texas State Highway No. 7, via Slaton, Lubbock and Shallowater, $75,000.
Texas State Highway No. 9, via Slaton, Lubbock and Moore, $218,000.
Texas State Highway No. 53, via Idalou, Lubbock, and Wolfarth, $275,000.

Lubbock-west to the county line on Lubbock-Levelland road, $110,000.
From Idalou via Beeton to county line on Idalou-Silverton road, $100,000.

Total, $978,000.
Bonds shall be issued, sold and delivered to and only when the State Highway department shall ask the county to deposit in escrow its one-third of the cost of the construction of each of said highways or sections thereof.

Senator-elect Parrish declared, "One thing everyone should take into consideration is the cold facts of the cost. The citizens of Lubbock county are contributing large sums of money to the state for building good roads and if good roads are not built here, then this money will continue to be used on good roads in other counties." He was referring to the present automobile license tax, part of which goes to the state highway department. The Sterling plan, he said, would call for the state constitution to be amended before it can be put into effect.

Charles F. O'Neal called attention to the fact that California had been voting bonds to build paved roads for many years and that citizens could travel on pavement in Texas, Mexico, to Vancouver, Canada.

O'Neal said he was for the proposal and that practically every cent of those who voted for Saturday's bond issue would go to this one. "Fifteen minutes later I heard there was another petition being signed Saturday night went to Mr. Abernathy's office and signed it."

J. J. Clements said, "I'm for the highways. Believe the people are very well acquainted with good roads and also feel like we should call this election immediately. I think that 90 percent of all who voted for the other one will vote for this one."

George Bean declared "I'll vote for this one."
Utilities Company for Bonds
As representative of a large corporation, H. L. Allen, of the Texas Utilities company stated, "My company is heartily in favor of paved highways, and would like to see them."

Luman Trial

Lubbock, where he died. The case was transferred on the court's motion to Dawson county by District Judge Gordon B. McGuire and this was the third time that the case had been called for trial but on previous occasions had been continued by the defendant.

Attorneys Are Pleadant.
The state is represented by T. L. Price-of-Post, district attorney of the 18th judicial district, Dayton Moses, attorney for the Cattle Raisers' association of Texas, who was secured as special prosecutor by the citizens of Post, A. W. Gibson county attorney of Dawson county and Leon O. Moses county attorney of Garza county. While the defendant is represented by Murchison and Davies of Haskell, Garland and Young and Roach of Lamesa and A. R. Anderson of Post.

The case is expected to take about four days to try and there are about 200 witnesses present.

Congress

about the farm relief problem, wondering whether to attempt to get it started now under President Coolidge or await the extra session promised by Hoover after he takes office in March with a reinforced republican congress. Meanwhile a farm bill declared acceptable to Mr. Coolidge was ready for introduction by Chairman McNary of the senate agriculture committee.

The senate will get down to work Wednesday on the Swing-Johnson bill to construct an irrigation-flood control-power dam on the Colorado—a job that gives promise of relieving weeks to complete. The house will open fire before the end of the week on the first of the bills appropriating the billions necessary to run the government during the approaching fiscal year.

It was a happy crowd for the most part which returned again to the senate and house chambers. Congratulations far outnumbered regrets because the majority of those up for reelection in the last campaign survive republican ranks came back intact to the senate but there were about 35 casualties in the democratic ranks of the house and half a dozen in the senate.

The day served to bring under one roof again old friends who went forth in the recent national campaign under different colors. But if certain wounds from the election strife were left, they were not revealed in the warm handshakes of the day.

Curtis and Robinson Meet
Senator Curtis and Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, who fought for the vice-presidential post, were among the first to greet each other in the senate. As leaders there of their respective parties, they found themselves together on the committee appointed by Vice-President Dawes to inform the President that congress was in session.

Heflin of Alabama, democrats.
Simmons and Heflin were smiling and if any hard feelings are held against them by their colleagues they were not displayed. The veteran Simmons went about the chamber on both sides of the aisle shaking hands. He stopped to speak a few words to Robinson, the running mate of Governor Smith whom Simmons fought so hard. They shook hands warmly.

Reaching the chamber just ahead of the opening, Senator Norris who supported Governor Smith, scolded himself as customarily beside Senator Borah who went up and down the land campaigning for Herbert Hoover.

Stock Judgers

Missouri, ninth; Ontario, tenth. Tech's team ranked fifth in cattle judging; eighth in horse judging; eleventh in sheep, and twelfth in hogs. Their high man was Ronald C. Tom, of Lubbock. J. A. Jackson was ninth in horse judging, and sixth in individual judging of cattle. J. H. Burroughs was seventh in judging hogs. The other member of the team was Vaughn Corley.

Coach Ray C. Mowery, of the Tech team, wired the information of the team's standing to W. L. Stangor, head of the animal husbandry department of Tech, Monday, Stangor declaring that the showing made by Tech's team in this, its first year of this competition in this world-leading event, was highly gratifying to all members of the faculty.

The team is expected to arrive back in Lubbock some time Wednesday.

Plane Tragedy

Daily Markets

KANSAS CITY LIVESTOCK
KANSAS CITY, Dec. 3. (P-U. S. D. A.)—Cattle trade around the 11-market circuit was featured by packers utilizing the opportunity furnished by more liberal receipts to reduce price levels on fed steers; steady prices were maintained on the few loads of highly finished steers and yearlings available; but the rank and file of beef steers ruled unevenly lower; medium weight and heavy steers at several points received a setback of 25 to 50c. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 89,900 against 73,238 last Monday and 106,232 a year ago.
Hogs were on a steady to 15c lower basis, the decline influenced by the relatively narrow shipping at most centers. Total offerings were around 146,000 an increase of 26,000 over a week ago but 5,000 less than the same day last year.

FORT WORTH LIVESTOCK
FORT WORTH, Dec. 3.—(P-U.)—Today's receipts of both cattle and calves were liberal but the general trade appeared about steady. Slaughter steers, caked on grass, $11.25, others $9.00-$9.50. Light yearlings top $12.00—others $10-$11.25. Fat cow top $6.50; low cutters $5.25; bulls 15 to 25c lower, sausage bulk $6.00-$6.75; 14 cars good young stock cows sold at $8.50; seven cars good while face 2 year old steers $11.00; desirable heavy slaughter calves $10.00 to $10.50.
Hogs steady to 10c lower; butcher top $6.85; best truck hogs $8.70. Sheep steady; fat wethers 25 to 50c higher; good to choice chorn fat wethers $6.00; 12 deers good to choice short fat lambs $12.50.

NEW YORK STOCKS
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—(P)—The stock market was confronted with a heavy accumulation of week and selling orders today, in contrast to the heavy buying of recent Monday, and liquidation continued fairly generally throughout the day carrying most issues down 1 to 15 points. The bulls staged a vigorous rally in the last hour, which succeeded in diminishing many losses and wiping out a few. A sprinkling of issues made headway, about a dozen reaching new high ground.
Selling was a continuation of profit taking that set in late last week, when the federal reserve statement and the return to 10 per cent call money gave the bears considerable cheer. The movement was intensified by expectation of a heavy increase in stock exchange member loans as of Nov. 30, but a few held out the unheard of increase of $51,923,262, which was announced after the close, bringing the total to the record figure of $6,391,644,394.
The stock exchange total, which includes more sources than the Federal Reserve compilation, is more than $1,000,000,000 greater than the record reserve figure announced last week, and is an increase of more than 50 per cent over the exchange total as of Nov. 30, 1927, when member loans broke through the $4,000,000,000 mark for the first time.
Call money renewed at 8 per cent, and mounted to 10 before the close. Only three times previously this year has that rate been reached—July 2, Oct. 1, and last Friday. The Federal Reserve bank announced a further drain on credit in the form of a U. S. treasury call of $1,548,300 tomorrow. Bankers expect further earmarking of funds for foreign account, and look for little call money available under a few per cent until after Nov. 1.

WEATHER
The weather map early today was dry and cold over the cotton belt. At Lubbock the weather was partly cloudy to clear, the central belt was mostly fair and the eastern belt mostly clear. Forecast, Eastern belt: Partly cloudy and generally slightly warmer. Western belt: Generally unsettled and cloudy except in Arkansas where fresher weather is predicted in the south portion with temperatures 24 to 28 degrees.
R. E. STRONG, Mgr.

Due five to seven penny points lower Tuesday. Sales 6,900 of which 4,000 were American. Receipts 22,000 of which 14,800 were American. Middling cotton 107 1/2.

SUMMARY
Market down about a dollar a bale from Saturday's close, continued profit taking and hedge selling causing the decline to approximate 75 points from the high of the recent upward movement. The influence of the coming final government crop estimate is being felt. Today the Giles Bureau issued figures of 14,210,000 bales against 14,285,000 a month ago and some selling came as the result. Norman Mayer & Co. wired today, "Market declining on long liquidation. May have some further decline before bureau but expect higher prices later."

NEW ORLEANS: Weekly reviews of domestic cotton goods markets say trade has been stimulated by colder weather.
