Flood Threat Hangs Over Texas Today

By The Associated Press

South and South Central Texas, beaten by spring storms and floods, then scorched by summer droughts, faced new flood threats Monday after rains of up to 8½ inches.

The Weather Bureau warned of low land flooding by noon Tuesday along the San Antonio River from Falls City south. The river is expected to reach 10 feet Monday night at Falls City, and 16 feet, or 4 above flood stage, by noon Tuesday.

Residents southeast of there were warned to protect livestock and homes. Those in low areas sure to be flooded were advised to leave at once.

The river meets the gulf at Austwell, Goliad, about 45 miles downstream from Falls City, is the only other large town on the river.

Rains up to 5 inches over the lower Colorado River watershed brought a 1½ foot rise on Lake Travis. Numerous creeks were overflowing or running bankfull in Central Texas but no flooding was expected on the Colorado.

Nixon, in Gonzales County, reported the 10 inch rain. Gonzales, where it has been raining steadily since 6 a.m. Sunday, had received 7.30 inches. The Guadalupe River at Gonzales was gauged at 9.2 feet and still rising, but it must reach 22 to 23 feet to flood lowlands.

Rains continued Monday over much of south and east Texas. Laredo, San Antonio, Waco, Houston, Beaumont, Lufkin, Palacios, Beeville, Alice, Cotulla and College Station reported precipitation Monday.

Officials warned of possible lowland flooding along the Medina and its tributaries. One family was marooned on a ranch near the town of Medina, 50 miles northwest of San Antonio.

Escondido Creek in Karnes County rose swiftly after up to six inches of rain hit the area. Lowland residents were cautioned.

Most of the thunderstorms Sunday were in the eastern half of the state as a cool front moved through. The front lay roughly along the coast Monday, slowly drifting seaward.

Skies over north and west Texas had only a few high clouds. Predawn temperatures Monday ranged from 45 degrees at Dalhart and Amarillo to 78 at Corpus Christi.

The San Antonio River was expected to crest at Falls City within 36 hours with possible flooding.

A farm road was closed by 3½ feet of water. Kenedy had 5.85 inches yesterday and Nordheim, also in South Texas, more than 8 inches.

AS STUDENTS ENTER SCHOOL

Fight Breaks Out In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Little Rock High School officials withdrew the eight Negro students who entered Central High School today.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Eight Negro pupils walked quietly, and without hurrying, into Central High School today — while the crowd's attention was diverted by another incident—and then a swirl of snarling men and screaming women tried to break through police lines.

Police fought them off, clubbing two men, and apparently pulling a gun on another.

Nobody got through.

Pupils coming out of the school said three of the Negro boys who entered school had "blood on their clothing" and fights had broken out inside the building.

The students told reporters the "Negroes were chased through the halls when classes changed" and were attacked by other students.

The initial violence outside the school was a frightening sight. Women burst into tears and a man, hoisted up on a wooden barricade, roared: "Who's going through?"

"We all are," the crowd shouted. But they didn't.

The drama-packed climax of three weeks of integration struggle in Little Rock came just after the buzzer sounded inside the big 2000-pupil high school at 8:45, signaling the start of classes.

Suddenly, on a street leading toward the school, the crowd spotted four Negro adults, marching in twos, down the center of the street.

A man yelled, "Look, here come the niggers."

They were not pupils. One appeared to be a newspaperman. He had a card in his hat and was carrying a camera.

I jumped into a glass-windowed telephone booth on the corner. The scene was clearly visible. As the crowd surged toward the four Negroes, they broke and ran.

But they were caught, on the lawn of a home nearby. Whites jumped the man with the camera from behind, rode him to the ground, kicking and beating him. They smashed the camera.

This, obviously was a planned diversionary movement to draw the crowd's attention away from the school.

While I was dictating what I saw, someone yelled—

"Look, they're going into the school."

At that instant, the eight Negroes—three boys and five girls—were crossing the schoolyard toward a side door at the south end of the school.

The girls were in bobby sox and the boys were dressed in open shirts. All were carrying books.

They were not running, not even walking fast. They simply strolled toward the steps, went up, and were inside before all but a few of the 200 people at that end of the street knew it.

Some did see the Negroes, however.

"They've gone in," a man roared. "Oh, God the niggers are in the school!"

A woman screamed. "Did they get in? Did you see them go in?"

"They're in now," some other men yelled.

"Oh, my God," the woman screamed. She burst into tears and tore at her hair.

Hysteria swept the crowd. Other women began weeping and screaming.

A tall, gray-haired man in a brown hunting shirt jumped on the barricade, with others holding him. He yelled, waving his arms:

"Who's going through?"

"We all are," the people shouted.

They broke over and around

Small Girl Injured Here In Accident

A small girl who was run over by a car in east Snyder yesterday afternoon was said to be improving today.

The girl is Nancy Cox, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Cox, 1511 Avenue E.

The attending physician said that Nancy's condition "is better today."

She was taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bell ambulance following the accident about 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon at Sixteenth Street and Avuenue E.

She was struck by a car driven by Dary Lee Beauchamp, 18, of 2009 Avenue V. He was driving a 1950 Chrysler.

The girl was unconscious for sometime following the accident, T. L. Steele, Snyder police chief, one of the investigating officers, said.

Hoffa Trial Set Oct. 15

NEW YORK (AP)—A. U. S. District Court judge today set Oct. 15 for the wiretap conspiracy trial of James R. Hoffa, a vice president and aspirant for the presidency of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Two others indicted with him are scheduled for trial at the same time.

U. S. Dist Judge Sylvester J. Ryan fixed the date at the request of U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams.

Hoffa's attorney, Sol Gelb, told Judge Ryan he intends to move for a "trial date continuation for a long period of time."

"It is impossible for Mr. Hoffa to receive a fair trial now, while the atmosphere is saturated with prejudice," Gelb said.

LIBRARIAN SELECTED—Miss Doris Nesbitt, right above, is shown being greeted by two members of the Scurry County Library Board after Miss Nesbitt was appointed head librarian here this morning. Head Librarian For County Is Selected

Miss Doris Nesbitt, assistant librarian at Midland County Library, this morning was employed by Scurry County as head librarian at the new county library.

The county commssioners court employed Miss Nesbitt upon recommendation by the county library board.

The new head librarian will be here in about a month, after giving notice to the Midland library.

Mrs. Arthur Blanchard, chairman of the library board, said no other employes for the library will be named until Miss Nesbitt comes here. All applications will be turned over to her. The board, however, is still accepting applications for other positions. The written applications must be mailed to Mrs. Robert B. Patterson, secretary, at 110 Milburn.

There has been no definite word concerning just what other positions there will be at the library. There will probably, however, be at least one employe who will be a librarian-bookmobile driver and another who will be an assistant in charge of cataloging.

Miss Nesbitt holds a bachelor of science degree in library science from Louisiana State University, which she received in 1942. In 1935, she received a bachelor of science degree from Texas State College for Women, Denton, where she majored in business administration and education. She has since had special training through classes and workships in the library field, dealing with special services such as radio, public relations, art, film, business library service, and personnel.

Soon after Miss Nesbitt graduated from LSU, she was a teacher-librarian for three years. She then became cataloger-bookmobile librarian for Wharton County for one year. Later, she was for two years secretary-librarian for the Houston office of Schlumberger Well Surveying Corp. After that time, she was general assistant in the Texas State Library. As librarian in 1944-46, she organized the Howard and Waller County libraries.

For two years, Miss Nesbitt was reference librarian in charge of reference and circulation for the Missouri State Librarian, and for another two years she handled references and documents for the Phoenix Public Library. Since 1954, she has been assistant librarian at Midland in charge of cataloging.

Miss Nesbitt is a member of the Texas Librarians Association and American Librarians Association. She is a member of the Daughter of the Republic of Texas. She has served as secretary of the Midland Historical Society. Her published writings in the library field have included program planning reports in Missouri magazines. She is a staff contributor for "Show-Me Libraries."

SEVERAL BURNED

Blast Traps 11 In Mine

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—A thundering explosion today trapped 11 men deep in the Marianna mine of Bethlehem Mines Corp.

Hours later some of the trapped men reported via an emergency telephone line that all 11 were alive, but several had been burned, a police report said.

Bethlehem officials reported shortly after noon that mine officials on the scene report they know that six of the men definitely are alive, although some of them may have sustained serious burns.

The fate of the other five is not known.

Police said the explosion occurred in a side portal of the mine about 7 a.m.

Rescue workers were assembled from other mines in this coal rich region 30 miles south of Pittsburgh.

The mine is near the small community of Marianna about 14 miles southeast of Washington Bethlehem Collieries is a subsidiary operation of Bethlehem Steel, and a primary producer of coking coal.

Cause of the explosion was not determined immediately. There was no fire.

The mine was not scheduled to work today because a ventilating fan was not operating. The men inside were reported to be foremen and group leaders probably engaged in inspection work. They had been scheduled to come out at 8 a.m.

The shaft where the explosion occurred is a new one, opened last July 1.

A cage which is used to carry men up and down the vertical shaft was blown out of the opening by the force of the explosion. Some debris fell on cars in adjoining parking lot.

A few miners showed up at the pit expecting to work. They were not aware that the shift had been canceled.

State Police set up roadblocks around the mine shaft to keep spectators away from the scene of rescue operations. Crews arrived quickly equipped with masks, blankets and other devices needed in the work.

Capt. Frank Garnow of the State Police said the rescue workers thought their best chance of reaching the trapped men was through another opening some distance away. That would depend on conditions the crews find underground, where rock and coal often are dislodged by such explosions.

T. J. Crocker, a Bethlehem Mines official at Johnstown, said: "There are 11 men at the bottom of the shaft. We know something happened but don't know what as yet."

New Probe Is Planned

AUSTIN (AP)—The Senate Investigating Committee organized today for another probe into the downfall of ICT Insurance Co. and within minutes was promised an out-of-state mystery witness who would tell all.

"His testimony will be rather revealing," Sen. Charles Herring chairman, told the five-man committee which announced plans to take up where the previous Senate ICT investigation left off.

"I have no desire to suppress anything but I can't say who he is or where he lives, since he is out of state and we cannot subpoena him. It will be rather embarrassing for him to appear but we have hopes he will be here."

Herring said the witness would be heard as soon as possible probably a week from Friday, because of what he said was the witness' "fluctuating desire to come to Texas."

Captain Deep In Debt, Wife Says

MOUNT VERNON, N.Y. (AP)—An Air Force captain sentenced to life imprisonment for trying to sell A-bomb secrets to Russia was described today by his wife as having been in a panic about debts.

"He must have been desperate—pushed against the wall," Mrs. Dorothy French told reporters. "I think something must have snapped."

Her husband, Capt. George H. French, 36, was convicted last week in a secret court-martial trial in Louisiana of attempting to sell data about aircraft handling of atomic bombs to Russia for $27,500.

Mrs. French, who with the couple's three daughters has been staying with her mother here, said that her husband had owed more than $8,000 in gambling debts. She said he was an habitual poker player.

Mrs. French, who married the airman in 1941, said yesterday that he was a gambler, "not the race track type, but a devoted poker player."

"I was told he was deep in debt, well into the thousands of dollars."

In Washington, an Air Force spokesman said French had contracted a string of loans in connection with the gambling debts.

French's court-martial and life sentence were disclosed last Saturday with an announcement that he had asked the Russians to buy atomic secrets.

The Air Force said French had been tried in secret at Barksdale Air Force Base, near Shreveport, La., by a seven-man court-martial. His family here heard of the trial after the conviction was announced.

Mrs. French said she wrote to her husband about the gambling but that he denied it.

"All he told me," she said, "was 'stick by me. I am in trouble and I will need you.'"

Mrs. John French, the captain's stepmother, said his father knew he was in trouble over gambling.

"Two and a half years ago he borrowed $2,000 from my husband to pay gambling debts, and paid back only part," she said.

"In March he asked for $1,800 from his father, but his father didn't have it. Then in April, I think it was, a letter came from the Bank of Puerto Rico saying he'd taken out a loan of $1,200 and hadn't made any payment."

SPOT MUSE

AUTUMN MADE it's appearance today right on schedule. According to the calendar, fall arrived officially shortly after midnight, and local weather substantiated the calendar this time. The minimum temperature in Snyder last night was a brisk 50 degrees, lowest reading of the season.

IT LOOKS as if it will be many weeks before the new county library can open. The commissioners court hired the head librarian today and she will be here in about a month. But no books have yet been purchased, and they will require cataloging after purchase, which will take much time.

Laborer Dies After Fight

HOUSTON (AP)—A laborer who "picked a fight" with off-duty Detective Joseph Eckenrode early today was killed when his head struck a concrete ramp after Eckenrode knocked him down.

Police Chief Carl Shuptrine said he planned "no action" against the officer, since it appeared that Eckenrode was only defending himself.

The dead man is Huron Sanford, 35, who engaged Eckenrode in a fight outside a night club.

Ten witnesses said Eckenrode made every effort to avoid a fight with Sanford, and struck Sanford only after the laborer had hit the officer several times and refused to leave Eckenrode alone. Eckenrode hit Sanford twice.

Count Is Awaited In Haiti Election

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Haiti today tensely awaited the counting of ballots in yesterday's national election, hopeful that whoever becomes president can bring peace to this land of turmoil.

But even as the counting began, partisans of ex-Sen. Louis Dejoie threatened to burn down Port au Prince if he is defeated for the presidency.

Both Dejoie and his bitter political enemy Dr. Francois Duvalier claimed victory in the election of a president for the next six years.

A third candidate, Clement Jumelle, called on voters to boycott the election. He charged there was fraud.

The Ministry of Justice announced from a million to 1,300,000 of Haiti's 1,600,000 eligible voters cast ballots. This would indicate few heeded Jumelle's call.

Women were eligible to vote for the first time.

For all the violence that has plagued Haiti since last December, when the first of a succession of five governments was heaved out, the voting was peaceful.

Provisional President Antonio Kebreau said there was only one fatality. A soldier shot down a voter who attacked him in the southern town of Jacmel. Minor incidents were reported at two other points.

Kebreau, who seized power June 14 as head of a three-man military junta, maintained order with 2,500 well-armed soldiers and police.

First results are expected to be known this afternoon. No definite trend will be available before Wednesday due to long delays in reporting tabulations to Port au Prince.

Duvalier, 48, a Negro doctor pledged honesty in government. He said he would seek U.S. and U.N. aid in developing the nation's agricultural and natural resources if elected.

Duvalier charged that supporters of Dejoie were using large sums of money to buy votes.

Partisans of Dejoie reiterated charges that the military junta had rigged the elections for Duvalier.

Dejoie, 61, is a mulatto plantation owner. He promised economic and industrial progress. He asserted he already had lined up 90 million dollars in U.S. capital to aid this impoverished country.

Ike Says Inflation World Wide

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today appealed to the free world's finance ministers to fight inflation, lest global prosperity turn into a depression "and all the evil consequences we know so well."

Eisenhower addressed the opening session of the boards of governors of the World Bank and International Monetary Fund, convening here for their 12th annual meeting with delegates from 64 nations.

He warned that inflation has become "a worldwide phenomenon today," and must be recognized as "a threat to sound economic growth."

The problem calls for wise and courageous leadership in every country, the President declared.

"It is a call that must be heeded, for inflation not only destroys the savings, pensions and insurance policies of the frugal, its aftermath can be a depression which saps the strength and vigor of government, of industry and of people," he said.

He called attention to great economic strides made the world over.

"Investment, productivity and trade have expanded on a scale and at rates not previously known," he said.

"The task ahead, it seems to me, is to strengthen those policies that foster healthy economic growth.

"We must have growth that does not endanger stability; we must have stability that does not throttle growth."

The President had interrupted his Newport, R. I., vacation to address the colorful assembly of some 500 bank governors, alternates, delegates and observers. He received warm applause.

Eisenhower called on the financial leaders to consider carefully whether their programs of expansion and investment are too large.

"We cannot successfully put a continued overload on our resources," he cautioned. "Rising prices have confirmed this economic axiom."

"For those of us charged with public responsibilities this means conscientious efforts to limit government demands on the economy—a difficult task in this day of heavy defense outlays, he said.

"To central bankers we must look for conscientious efforts to maintain credit policies that are consistent with sound economic growth. To fail to do these things is to ask the economy to carry more than it can.

"It will react to this pressure through rising prices. If unchecked this leads to reaction and downturn and all the evil consequences we know so well."

In an oblique reference to the problem of rising wage costs, blamed by some in this country for persistent inflationary pressures, Eisenhower suggested that the nations consider whether the sums they pay themselves are rising in step with the goods and services they produce. If so, he said, there is no impetus to rising prices.

"But if our efficiency does not increase, if our productivity does not rise, we as nations will tend to fall into the costly error of overpaying ourselves for the work we do," he said.

"Along that road, as so many countries are again discovering, lies the spur to further inflation."

FIGHT BREAKS OUT

the wooden barricades, rushing the policemen.

About a dozen policemen were at that corner of the street.

They raised their clubs. Some grabbed men and women and hurled them back. Two chased a dark - haired man who slipped through their line, like a football player. They caught him on the schoolyard, whipped his coat down his arms, pinning them, and hustled him out of the yard.

Another man, wearing a construction worker's hard hat, suddenly raised his hands high in front of a policeman.

It was only a dozen yards or so in front of the phone booth. I couldn't see whether the officer had a gun in the man's stomach, but he stopped running, abruptly and went back.

Two men were arrested.

A cavalcade of cars carrying Arkansas State Police wheeled into the street from both ends.

They came inside the barricades and order was restored for a moment.

The weeping and screaming went on among the women.

A man said, "I'm going in there and get my kid out."

An officer gritted, "You're not going anywhere."

Two ambulances rolled up. Nobody was in them.

Suddenly, another roar — and cheering and clapping — came from the crowd. A white pupil, carrying his books, came down the front steps.

He was followed by two girls. In the next few minutes, other students came out. Between 15 and 20 left the school within the next half hour.

Each time they appeared, the crowd clapped and cheered.

"Come on out," they yelled. "Don't stay in there with the niggers. Go back and tell all of them to come out."

Inside, it was reported, the eight Negro pupils were in the office of the principal.

"There's not much education going on inside there now," one of the boys who came out told reporters.

A moment later, two policemen raced into the building. When they came out, they were holding a girl by both arms, rushing her forcibly toward a police prisoner's wagon.

For an instant, it looked as though the crowd would try to break the police lines again to rescue her.

But they put her in the car and drove swiftly down the street, past the barricade at the south end.

Screams, catcalls and more yelling broke as the car, whipping dangerously close to the people and the barricades, raced down the street.

A man, distraught, came sprinting after it. "That's my kid in there," he yelled. "Help me get my kid out."

But the car was gone.

Soon afterward, four white pupils ran down the steps of the school and across the street. Policemen were chasing them.

One of the boys said they had caught a Negro boy outside the principal's office.

"We walked him half the length of the building and we were going to get him outa there," they said.

They refused to give their names.

On the streets, at both ends of the school, clusters of troopers took up stations, reinforcing the police.

The crowd heckled them, hurling insults and some obscenity.

"How you going to feel tonight when you face your neighbors," a man shouted.

The people called the police "nigger lovers" and insulted them.

The officers stood, poker-faced, making no move nor response.

Farm Loss Is Foreseen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government farm officials see a possibility gains made this year in reducing surplus wheat under the soil bank may be lost next year.

Farmers retired nearly 13 million acres of the 55 million allotted for wheat this year. They are being paid 230 million dollars. This cut the crop enough to permit use of some of the past surpluses.

Two factors point to a sharply increased crop in 1958.

One is a lagging farmer interest in the soil bank program. Fewer farmers are signing agreements to retire land. Officials say possibly fewer than five million of the 55-million-acre allotment will be retired. This would mean a 1958-crop acreage nearly 20 per cent larger than this year.

The second factor is weather conditions for winter wheat are much more favorable than they were a year ago.

Rains have replenished soil moisture in a broad winter wheat area which a year ago was suffering from drought. Production prospects are better in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado.

600 Hit By Influenza On Aggie Campus

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—At least 600 of Texas A&M's 7,400 students had influenza today.

Dr. C. R. Lyons, superintendent of the school hospital, said specimens have been sent to the State Health Department for fests, but no positive reports of Asian flu were reported.

At Fort Worth, a Texas Christian University official said the virus epidemic which struck 400 students last week as about over.

Dr. J. G. Flowers, president of Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos, where a heavy outbreak of influenza was reported last week, said the worst of the seige appeared over. Classes were suspended Friday after some 500 of the 2,300 students became ill. Flowers said classes would resume today.

Houston officials continued classes Monday. About 10 per cent of their pupils were absent Friday, roughly twice normal. However, health authorities said no Asian flu had been confirmed.

The Health Department said last week Asian flu cases had been confirmed in at least a half dozen Texas communities and suspicious cases reported in a number of others.

More than a dozen communities were hit by outbreaks which appeared to strike school children hardest. A number of high school football games were called off last weekend.

San Marino, a tiny republic of 13,000 people in the heart of Italy, has remained independent for 17 centuries since 302 A.D.

Torture Story Proves False

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—A seriously burned 11-year-old white boy admitted today he made up a story that a gang of Negro youths had set him afire, police reported.

The boy, John Somma, was burned yesterday while fooling with matches around a barrel containing flammable liquid, police said.

He said at first that four or five youths had pinned him to the ground in front of the Capitol, poured a flammable liquid on his head and lighted it.

Today, in Albany Hospital, the boy said he had "wanted to get the kids in trouble."

He said he had been punished several times for playing with matches and did not want his family to know what he had done.

He suffered second- and third-degree burns of the face and the hospital said his eyesight might be impaired. However, his condition was described as good.

District Attorney In Travis Co. Gets Flu

AUSTIN (AP) — Dist. Atty. Les Procter came down with the flu today—just as the Travis County grand jury probe into the ICT collapse neared its climax.

Also laid out with the bug was David McManus, Procter's assistant.

It wasn't known at once how the illnesses would affect tomorrow's scheduled grand jury resumption of the ICT investigation.

Knowledge Is Put To Good Use

By ANNETTE DAVIS
(For Jane Eads)

WASHINGTON — In a campus-like setting in northwest Washington, 115 science students from 60 colleges and universities are getting a chance to put their book learning to practical, paying use.

At the Diamond Ordnance Fuze Laboratories, an Army research center for electronic devices, the students get a taste of working in a government laboratory, and—equally important—the government gets a chance to evaluate their possibilities as future scientists.

The lab's summer student aid program is one of several in Washington to encourage young people in science careers and to recruit budding scientists for government projects.

Miss. Pricilla Edson, a junior in mathematics at Duke University, had a summer job renting apartments before she heard of the program. Now she is working on a mathematical analysis of optical properties of film deposits.

The students receive a starting salary of $225 a month. They are recruited, under Civil Service regulations, from colleges and universities across the country. A few who have shown ability in science are taken directly from high school.

For most, it's their first chance to put academic knowledge to practical use. However, some of the trainees, like David M. Freifelder, a Ph. D. candidate in physics at the University of Chicago, are spending a second summer in Washington.

David, whose home is Waukegan, Ill., told me he likes the freedom at Diamond to do independent research. This summer he is working on a device to replace a tube in a fuze. He says it will cost 1-75th the amount of the present device used by the government.

The supervisor, Dr. Charles H. Klute, had this to say about the student program: "It not only suppports the students financially, but the work here will advance them professionally. When they go to look for a job, they can say they've had experience."

Another advantage, he says, is the scope of the training. "College textbooks present ideal cases. We never have ideal cases. Ordinarily, a student wouldn't encounter the variety of methods used here until much later in his career."

The man behind the program, Lt. Col. John A. Ulrich, commented: "We need young blood to maintain the quality of our staff. Something the old-timers may be stumped and these young people bring in new ideas."

Out of an average turnover of 25 persons a year, half of the replacements are recruited from former student trainees.

Dingoes are fierce, wild dogs of Australia.

NEW DISTRICT DIRECTOR—Artie May Burkett of Haskell, was elected as the new District Director of District 7 of the Business and Professional Women's Club in their conference held here over the weekend. Miss Burkett replaces Miss Zaida Brown of Snyder, at the end of the current year. She will be under Miss Brown's training for one club year before being placed in the office. (Lee Watson photograph)

Local Women Attend District Meet In Hamlin

Mrs. Frank LeFeuvre, president of the Snyder P-TA City Council, and Mrs. Harold P. Brown, vice president of Scurry, Fisher and Kent Counties, attended a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Board of Managers of the Eighteenth District in Hamlin on Sept. 18.

Mrs. T. A. Swenson of Tyler, State Representative, was the feature speaker. Mrs. Bob Herren of Haskell, president of the district, introduced Mr. M. H. Galbreath of Girard, who opened the session with a prayer. Reports were given by district vice-presidents, chairmen, officers, and city council chairmen.

Mrs. Swenson emphasized the objects of the P-TA work and outlined the qualities of P-TA leadership. She presented the three B's of Parent-Teacher work: Belong, Believe and Build.

Twenty-one members of the board were present for coffee in the home of Mrs. M. L. Smith, and were guests of the Hamlin schools for luncheon in the cafeteria.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

THE GESTURE THE SANTA FE Railway Co. made Saturday morning toward the Snyder Quarterback Club probably prevented several cases of ulcers.

The QB Club was in no position to cough up $900 to pay off a debt which is what she would have had to do except for the kindness of the Santa Fe.

In case you missed our story in Sunday's paper, the railroad company didn't hold the Quarterback Club to the miminum of 650 fares for the special trains to Borger and Dumas, taking only the actual fares sold.

We fell 134 shy of the minimum, leaving a dollar deficit of slightly over $900.

The club had only about $600 in its treasury but had borrowed enough to pay off the train debt. The railroad company, however, came to the rescue and wrote off the balance the club owed from the trains.

In all probability, the fine behavior of the fans and students on the two rains had something to do with the Santa Fe's gesture. The railroad officials on the train couldn't seem to offer enough praise to the Quarterback officials for the good conduct displayed on the two trips.

The entire community was benefitted by the unexpected move of the railroad company as the QB Club can now go ahead with its yearly projects of sponsoring various sports activities in the local school system.

Team Play Pays Off

In all our days of covering football games, we've never seen such a team effort displayed as was displayed by the Tigers in Friday's game at Dumas. Everybody got in on the act.

The Tigers scored five touchdowns and the TD's were split up between five players. Twelve backfielders got into the game and all carried at least one time, all finishing in the plus column. The latter may have set some sort of a record in 3A football.

Then on defense, no one stood out above the others. The tackles were evenly divided with 24 Tigers getting at least one tackle. We don't have an actual account of it but it's possible that all Tigers playing defense got at least one tackle. A total of 30 players saw action Friday but some, I believe, didn't play on defense.

Anytime you can hold a team scoreless you've played a bang-up defensive game and the Tigers certainly pooled their efforts well Friday night.

While we think all the Tigers getting into the game did right well, we'd like to point out the performance of one fellow who almost missed the game — halfback Jimmy Allen.

A Determined Kid

Allen was sick in bed with influenza (not Asian flu) when the team left for Dumas Thursday. He was virtually counted out as playing in the Dumas game.

But Jimmy got better overnight and he crawled aboard the special train Friday for the trip northward. The train didn't arrive in Dumas until 6 p.m., only two hours before game time.

Upon arrival in Dumas, Jimmy rushed over to the hotel where the team was staying, donned his uniform and was ready to board the Tiger bus for the football field before 7 p.m.

We'll let the rest speak for itself.

Offensively, Allen carried four times against the Demons and gained 36 yards, an average of nine yards per carry. Defensively Jimmy got in on seven tackles. And then he kicked three of five extra point attempts.

Not bad for a fellow who was not even expected to suit out the day before the game.

This is the kind of spirit that prevails on the Tiger football squad.

We took another beating in the forecasting game the past weekend. We certainly under estimated the SMU Mustangs and Texas Longhorns. Except for a tie game, the SWC batted 1.000 in their season openers Saturday.

Of course one game doesn't tell too much but it looks like a banner year in the SWC. When the team ticketed for the cellar (SMU) beats a team that is favored to go to the Rose Bowl (California) you can see the going may get a little rough in the Southwest this season.

Outside of the SWC, two other major teams played out-of-state teams and emerged victorious, Hardin-Simmons over Tulsa, 14-0; and University of Houston over Miami, 7-0. Eight wins and one tie in nine intersectional games isn't bad for one weekend.

Who says the state of Texas doesn't have the best overall power in football.

Others pictured were winners or runnerups in their respective flights. Donald Scott Wins Round Robin Title

Donald Ray Scott added another golfing honor to his credit yesterday by capturing the "Grand Championship" trophy in the 1st annual Snyder Country Club Round Robin tournament.

Scott won the title with a net of 67. He fired an even par 70 to go with a three-stroke handicap. Scott's 70 was easily the best gross score of the day.

But the smooth-stroking Scott edged Howard Crenshaw by only one stroke for low net. Crenshaw shot a 78 to go with a 10-stroke handicap, giving him a net of 68.

Scott and Crenshaw were awarded electric clocks for their efforts.

C. V. McClatchey, R. V. Corbell, Bill King and Leon Autry tied for third place, each recording net scores of 70. Dr. R. J. Kidd and Dan Warren were next in line with 71s.

McClatchey and Kidd shared second low gross honors of the day, each shooting 77s.

Jackson, Hill Take Offense Leads In SWC

DALLAS (AP)—Charley Jackson of SMU, who roamed for 127 yards against California, and King Hill of Rice, who passed for 144 against LSU, led the Southwest Conference in offense today.

Jackson took a 21-yard lead over Jimmy Shofner of TCU, who gained 106 against Kansas, in ball-carrying.

Hill completed 8 of 13 passes in Rice's 20-14 victory over LSU. The second best passer was Billy Dunn of SMU, who completed five of eight for 53 yards as SMU beat California 13-6.

While Hill lost three yards rushing, his 141 yards net still gave him the total offense leadership. Jackson is second with his 127 rushing. He did no passing.

Buddy Dial of Rice, who caught four passes for 104 yards, tops the receivers.

Texas A&M, in its 21-13 victory over Maryland, showed the best balance. The Aggies took the lead in defense, by allowing Maryland only 126 yards rushing and passing, and were second in offense with 341 yards. Rice was first in offense with 415 yards.

Bucs Rehire Murtaugh

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Danny Murtaugh who, as acting manager put new life into the Pittsburgh Pirates after the midseason firing of Bobby Bragan, was named manager today for the 1958 season.

The announcement of Murtaugh's appointment was made at a morning news conference called by the general manager, Joe L. Brown. Terms of the one-year contract were not disclosed.

Murtaugh succeeded Bragan Aug. 3 after Brown dismissed the fiery skipper for what he called the "general welfare of the club."

The genial 39-year-old Irishman accepted the managerial post for the balance of the season with the understanding it was only temporary.

Since Bragan's dismissal, the Pirates have been playing nearly .500 ball and the pitching corps, especially Bob Friend and Ronnie Kline, seemed to gain new confidence after a dismal start.

Players Say Thanks, Coach

DALLAS (AP) — SMU's football players thanked Coach Bill Meek for working them so hard after that 13-6 upset of California Saturday.

Meek is a tough taskmaster. He came to SMU as head coach this spring with folks telling him the reason football had fallen to such a low estate at the school was that it had too many players who didn't come to play.

The young coach put the candidates for the team through the roughest workouts anybody around here ever had seen. "I had to know who wanted to play," he said grimly.

SMU wasn't supposed to have much. It was thin in experience and manpower and was picked last in the conference.

Saturday it was an underdog.

But the rugged conditioning had built two teams of virtually equal strength. Meek used his first unit to test California, learn the intricacies of its defense and offense. Then in went the No. 2 unit.

"The No. 2 unit came through and was the difference in the ball game," he said, pointing out that it had set up the touchdown that put SMU ahead.

After the game some of the players said, "Coach, we sure want to thank you for working us so hard."

Atlanta Takes 3-0 Lead In Playoff

NASHVILLE (AP)—Atlanta goes into the fourth game of the Southern Assn. playoff finals tonight with a chance to make it a four-game series after winning its third victory over Nashville yesterday 7-6.

Billy Reynolds belted a ninth-inning home run with two out yesterday to give the Crackers victory.

Nashville must now win four straight games in the best-of-seven series to prevent Atlanta from playing in its third Dixie Series with the Texas League champions in four years.

One of the leading 2-year-olds in France is Neptune, an American-bred owned by Mr. P. A. B. Widener. He is among the first crop of Crafty Admiral.

DEADLINE NEAR FOR OBTAINING SEASON TICKETS

Season tickets to Tiger home games are still available but tomorrow is the deadline for purchasing the season ducats, Art Nicholas, school business manager, revealed today.

An estimated 1,500 season tickets have been sold, Nicholas said. Anyone desiring season tickets may get them at the school business office in the administration building.

Price per season ticket is $6, good for four Tiger home games.

Tickets to Friday night's game with Big Spring here will go on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office Wednesday morning at 8. These tickets will sell for $1.50.

All permanent seats on the west side of Tiger Stadium will be reserved.

A total of 1,600 tickets, 1,100 reserved and 500 students, have been sent to Big Spring. All of the Big Spring tickets are for the East side.

Nicholas also wishes to remind those who have already purchased season tickets but who haven't picked them up to do so as soon as possible. They may be picked up at the school business office.

TWC-WTS In BC Opener

By The Associated Press

Texas Western had a hard time beating stubborn North Texas 14-13 in Border Conference football last week.

Arizona State scored four first half touchdowns, then coasted to a 28-0 victory over Wichita.

Hardin-Simmons ignored its role as a two-touchdown underdog and dumped Tulsa 14-0.

West Texas State slapped down Texas Tech 19-0.

Arizona, losing the ball six times on fumbles, had to turn back repeated Brigham Young drives to salvage a 14-14 tie.

New Mexico A&M lost to University of New Mexico 25-7.

This week Texas Western and West Texas play in the first of the conference games.

Arizona State clashes with Idaho. Arizona is a definite underdog to Missouri.

New Mexico A&M is expected to drop its second in a row to California Poly.

Houston Seeks Clincher Tonight

HOUSTON (AP) — Tom Hughes takes the mound for Houston tonight in what will be the last game of the Texas League playoffs if the Buffs beat Dallas.

CLINCHERS COULD COME TONIGHT

Yankees, Braves Just About 'In'

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Only the formalities of crowning the New York Yankees kingpins of the American League and the Milwaukee Braves rulers of the National League remained to be take. care of today.

These details could be settled tonight when the Chicago White Sox play Kansas City and the Braves meet St. Louis.

The Yanks assured themselves of at least a tie for the AL flag yesterday when they whipped the Boston Red Sox.

If the Cards lose one of the three-game set with the Braves, they can start counting their second-place money.

The White Sox kept their faint hope alive yesterday by stopping the Cleveland Indians 9-5.

The Braves clubbed the Chicago Cubs 9-7, but the Cards stayed with them by halting Cincinnati 7-5.

Among the also-rans, Brooklyn defeated Philadelphia 7-3, and Pittsburgh vanquished New York 5-1 in the National League. In the American, Baltimore edged Washington 6-5, and Kansas City won a double-header from Detroit 4-3 and 2-1.

The Yanks walked to their victory over Boston. Four of their five runs were forced in through walks. Until the sixth inning, it was a close ball game.

Ted Williams had hit a home run in the fourth—the first hit of the game—and the Yanks had tied it in the fifth. Then, with two out in the sixth, Tony Kubek and Jerry Lumpe singled.

Red Sox starter Dave Sisler—who had a 5-0 lifetime record against the Yanks—suddenly lost all semblance of control. He walked in succession, Enos Slaughter, Joe Collins, Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald, forcing in three runs.

Along came George Susce and issued a pass to Mickey Mantle, forcing in the fourth run. Yogi Berra grounded out to end the parade.

Williams finished his day's chores with a .383 batting average, which virtually assures him of the batting championship. Mantle went hitless in three trips to the plate and his mark dipped to .365.

The White Sox, Braves and Cards won their games the hard way.

The Sox presented Billy Pierce with his 20th victory, but the little left-hander slipped in the back door. He was behind 3-2 when he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth. The Sox went on to score four runs in that inning, so Pierce got credit for the game.

The Braves employed half a dozen pitchers against the pesky Cubs and had to overcome deficits of four and three runs. Rookie Don McMahon, fifth of the parade, got credit for the triumph, although he needed help from Joey Jay after walking a couple of pinch hitters with one out.

The Braves were behind right up to the ninth when Eddie Mathews hit a home run to tie it. Then Hurricane Bob Hazle bashed another homer in the 10th and the ball game was over.

It took a six-run uprising in the seventh by the Cards to cut down Cincinnati. Still, the Redlegs weren't finished and they began to wake up again in the eighth, only to have relief pitcher Bill Muffett choke them off.

Big Series Opens Tonite In Milwaukee

By JOE REICHLER

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The desperate St. Louis Cardinals prepared to clash with the league-leading Milwaukee Braves in the first of a three-game do-or-die series tonight, knowing that one slip could mean the end of the pennant dream.

The Braves, leading St. Louis by five games with only six remaining to play, can clinch their first National League championship with a victory tonight. Manager Fred Haney, who refused to admit the Braves are "in" until it becomes officially so, has entrusted the clinching assignment to Lew Burdette, his fidgety right-hander.

Burdette (16-9) will be opposed by Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, the erratic left-hander, transformed from the biggest disappointment to the hottest hurler on the Cardinals. Although he has an 8-10 record, he has won seven of his last 10 decisions.

Except for Haney, the Braves are convinced they have the flag in the bag.

"There's no doubt in my mind now," said Warren Spahn after yesterday's 9-7 triumph over Chicago, the Braves' sixth victory in succession. "We're in. The Cards are dead. One more big one. . . . and it's all over."

Yesterday's victory over the Cubs, after trailing 4-0 and 7-4, acted like a tonic to the players. It sort of opened up a valve, letting loose all their pent up emotions and restraint which they had kept bottled up ever since they moved into first place in early August.

"Tomorrow night's the night," exclaimed catcher Del Crandall, a happy grin lighting up his face. "Yeah," agreed Henry Aaron, the club's big gun. "That's the game I've been waiting for all year. This is the chance for us to do it all by ourselves, with no help from anybody else."

MRS. ELEANOR ROOSEVELT ENDORSES AMAZING NEW HEARING INVENTION

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has now joined other prominent Americans and people from all walks of life in praising a revolutionary new hearing device called "The Listener." "It certainly heralds a new day for the hard of hearing," said Mrs. Roosevelt recently.

Continuing, she added: "If people only knew what a revelation and a joy The LISTENER is, they would not for a moment hesitate to wear one. This is the first hearing aid that exactly fits my needs. I didn't realize a hearing aid could be as good as this."

So widespread is the interest in this remarkable new electronic hearing achievement, the makers have prepared an illustrated booklet giving full details. Those interested may obtain a free copy from:

SIX WINS, ONE TIE

SWC Has Best Week In History

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Off to its finest intersectional start in history, the Southwest Conference continues against outside foes this week.

SMU, which made an unexpected contribution to the near-perfect record with a 13-6 upset of California, plays Georgia Tech at Atlanta.

Texas, which rose to a 26-7 victory over Georgia, hosts Tulane at Austin. TCU held to a 13-13 tie by Kansas, takes a crack at Ohio State. Arkansas, 12-0 winner over Oklahoma State, engages Tulsa at Fayetteville.

Texas A&M, conference champion, whipped Maryland 21-13 in a somewhat ragged showing; Baylor was pushed to the limit to beat Villanova 7-0, and Rice put on a great finish to nip LSU 20-14.

Six victories and a tie in seven games was the best the conference ever did in one week.

While SMU, Texas, TCU and Arkansas are fighting on the intersectional front, two other members will play neighbors. Texas A&M travels to Lubbock to engage the conference's nonparticipating member, Texas Tech.

Baylor meets Houston at Waco. Houston last week knocked over Miami 7-0.

All other teams were supposed to win, but the Methodists had looked mighty thin on experience and ability before the season started.

Billy Dunn, who was the No. 4 quarterback and lettered as a defensive halfback last year, and Charley Jackson, a hard-running halfback, were the big guns for SMU.

A&M found Maryland a tough team and kept themselves in trouble most of the time with penalties. They finally cashed in on a poor Maryland punt for the deciding touchdown and added an insurance score on another bad Terp boot. Roddy Osborne came through in the clutches, scoring a touchdown, passing for one and blocking an extra point try to keep his team ahead.

Baylor had to stop three drives that penetrated the 20-yard line. Baylor's passing attack proved to be something of a dud but the Bears could move on the ground, 269 yards worth against Villanova.

Mike Dowdle and Walt Fondren led Texas to an opening victory for new Coach Darrell Royal and Rice showed devastating ability to move the ball, with King Hill as the engineer.

TEXAS AGGIES SCORE TOUCHDOWN—Roddy Osborne Texas A&M quarterback, No. 12 in the black jersey, plows through the Maryland defense from the yard and half line to score for the Aggies in the first quarter of the intersectional tilt in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Loyd Taylor converted for the Aggies. (AP Wirephoto)

OFT-POSTPONED

Atomic Device Set Off Today

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—A relatively small atomic device was fired at 5:30 a.m. today from a 500-foot tower on the Yucca Flat testing grounds. It was the oft-postponed "Whitney" shot, 22nd in the 1957 series.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the energy yield was more than half of nominal, which means the blast would have the equivalent of something more than 10,000 tons of TNT.

Persons watching the explosion from Angel's Peak, some 40 miles from the detonation point, estimated the power at around 15 kilotons or 15,000 tons of TNT. The nominal bombs dropped on Japan in World War II were rated at 20,000 tons.

Newsmen were not permitted to view this test from the site itself.

A brilliant yellow flash was followed by a fireball which flared a deep red-orange color, with a purple glow tinging the rising mushroom cloud.

As the cloud rose rapidly, the stem appeared to be drawing up a considerable quantity of dirt.

The AEC said 16 scientific experiments were conducted with this test. Twenty - five aircraft flew training and data-gathering missions but there was no other military participation.

The device detonated today was designed by the University of California's radiation laboratory at Livermore.

Another test, code - named "Charleston," previously planned for today, has been postponed for technical reasons, the AEC said.

It will be a more potent blast, fired from a balloon 1,500 feet above the test site.

Forest Fires Hit Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A hot, dry wind from the east fanned half a dozen forest fires in Oregon today, forcing a halt to logging and hunting in western Oregon.

A late heat wave sent the mercury up to 98 degrees in southern Oregon yesterday, where the worst of the fires raged. One spread rapidly over 1,000 acres east of the coastal town of Bandon, and another, believed controlled earlier, came to life again. It has burned 900 acres near the coast, 50 miles south of Coos Bay.

Inland, a 100-acre fire in the Willamette National Forest, 18 miles east of Oakridge, delayed a southbound Southern Pacific passenger train three hours.

Scores of grass fires broke out. Across the Columbia River from Portland, a fire burned 300 acres of brush east of Vancouver, Wash. destroyed a home and threatened 300 others in a suburban area before firemen brought it under control.

Oil Operator Dies Sunday

HOUSTON (AP)— Gaither Jones, 72, died yesterday after a long illness. The oil operator got his start in Beaumont where he went to school.

Services were held today.

Jones, born in Nona in Hardin County, started in the oil business as a roustabout at 17. He worked in the Beaumont oil field at the time Capt. Anthony Lucas brought in the Spindletop well.

In 1907 he went to work for Gulf Oil Corp. Two years later he was named head of the company's treasury department for Texas.

In 1921 Jones became an independent operator. Five years later joined Humble Oil. In 1931 he resumed his career as an independent operator.

Most of his operations were in Louisiana where he sold the LaFitte Field south of New Orleans to the Texas Co. in the 1930s.

Traffic Argument Ends In Gunfire

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A traffic right-of-way argument ended in gunfire in a shopping center parking lot [illegible] was shot in the leg. Edwin [illegible] was arrested on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

Smith, an electronics engineer, told police he was backing out of a parking space when Souza drove by. The two cars narrowly missed colliding, and the dispute was on.

Charles D. Davis, a witness, fainted when he saw the shooting. He was taken to Emergency Hospital for treatment of a bump on the head.

Injured Hummingbird To Get Its Hum Back

DALLAS (AP)— A hummingbird injured in the rain Saturday is having its hum restored today.

The tiny bird was found on a highway, wet and weary, with an injured wing.

The three children of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kunz—Mitzi, 5, Larry, 11, and Bill, 14—took the bird home in a shoe box, kept it warm and dry and took turns feeding it honey from a bottle cap.

Kennedy Is Boosted

SNYDER BUSINESS NEWS

MANY MODERN facilities are planned for the new cleaning plant of Highland Park Cleaners, Big Spring highway, now under construction just north of the firm's present location. Here, S. S. Steinberg, owner, checks plans as work gets underway on the new building. Steinberg also announced a building-remodeling program for a new super market on the Big Spring highway. (Lee Watson photograph)

SUPER MARKET ANNOUNCED

Ground Broken On New Plant For Highland Park Cleaners

A progressive Snyder cleaning establishment broke ground a few days ago for a new plant, and with the new building it will have several more firsts for Snyder in the cleaning industry.

It is Highland Park Cleaners, now located in the 3700 block of the Big Spring highway, building its new plant about 50 feet north of the present establishment, according to S. S. Steinberg, owner.

With the announcement of the new cleaning plant, Steinberg also announced a building and remodeling program for a new super market.

In addition to outstanding services offered by Highland Park Cleaners now, Steinberg will equip the new plant for even additional services. One will be a cold storage vault of reinforced concrete for storabe service to customers, the only one in Scurry County in a cleaning establishment.

Also at the new plant, he will have the only true drive-in service in Snyder for cleaning, Steinberg said, explaining that the building will have a drive-in window which customers can use. There will also be an extra service in a "night depository," in which customers can deposit their clothing after hours.

The new building will be 25 feet by 90 feet in size, larger than the firm's present location. It will be of masonry construction with glass across a large portion of the front, with the remainder squared off for the drive-in window. The building should be ready by about Dec. 1, Steinberg said.

Recently, Steinberg has an engineer from Walter Hartel Co. of Minneapolis, a leading firm in the field of designing, to work with him on designing the new plant.

"We've had faith in Snyder and in the Big Spring highway business center since we came to Snyder," Steinberg said, adding, "We're continuing to grow with Snyder."

Steinberg said Highland Park Cleaners scheduled the building program in connection with its constant aim to keep abreast with the times in the cleaning industry. Ever since he opened the business here several years ago he has added new equipment and processes from time to time.

One new process is the Tergit Fog System, in which a new chemical is sprayed in a fog on difficult spots on a garment. The chemical breaks down the adhesiveness of the soil in the spot, allowing the usual cleaning method to remove the spot along with other soils.

"We don't just use the old spray spot system, which is the method most use and which we used for many years, but we added this for better quality service for our customers," Steinberg said. If it were the same as the common spot spraying, the firm would not have installed the expensive equipment required for the Tergit Fog System.

Ever since it opened here in 1950, Highland Park Cleaners has been a member of the National Institute of Cleaning.

Throughout the seven years in the cleaning business here, Highland Park Cleaners has offered up-to-date service. Expert tailoring is done, as well as professional hat blocking by the firm's personnel. Reweaving and dying at Highland Park Cleaners is made to look like new, and alteration work can even include re-sizing and re-shaping. Trained personnel do rapid work in cleaning.

Steinberg will rework the building in which the cleaning plant is now located for a modern super market to be opened there by J. R. Beadle and Sterling Parker. He will add 48 feet to the back of the building, making it 50 feet by 122 feet in size, and partitions will be removed in the building for the new super market.

The super market will have refrigerated air conditioning and all new fixtures.

Along with the two building programs, provisions will be made for plenty of parking space. The front parking area will be resurfaced, and parking areas will be paved both south of the new super market for 80 feet and between the super market and the new Highland Park Cleaners location.

The super market is expected to open about Dec. 1.

Steinberg expects to have completed within two to three weeks a 20 by 50-foot dental clinic building just south of Burgess Pharmacy on the Big Spring highway for Dr. Pat W. Brecheen, new dentist in Snyder. That building of masonry and steel, will have a white stone front.

Downtown Lions Club Slate Chili Supper

The Downtown Lions Club will hold a Chili Supper next Friday night at the high school cafeteria.

The supper will be held just prior to the Tiger-Big Spring football game scheduled for Tiger Stadium Friday night.

Starting time for the supper will be 6 p.m. The football game will start at 8.

Adult prices for the supper is $1, children tickets 50 cents. Each ticket will be good for "all you can eat."

There will be a drawing of door prizes at 7:30 p.m.

Mine Absenteeism

VIENNA, Austria (AP)— Communist Czechoslovakia has cracked down on absenteeism in its coal mines, ordering 30 miners to trial and evicting dozens of others from state homes. The Prague youth newspaper Mlada Fronta said 217,692 manshifts have been lost so far this year from absenteeism in the Ostrava coal fields, largest in the nation.

Wolves Get Water Bath

BIRMINGHAM, England (AP) — The wolves on Birmingham's dark roads had better beware while the bewaring's good.

Female vigilantes are after them.

Mrs. Kelly Osborne, organizer of the unofficial female protective association, says she and her friends got tired of being accosted by ardent male motorists at night. Here's how she fixes 'em:

"I bought a water pistol last week and have already used it once. One motorist stopped me three times so I whipped out the pistol and let him have it. He shot off like a startled rabbit."

No wonder. The gals' pistols are loaded with a harmless but powerful smelling disinfectant.

CENTRAL TIRE SERVICE—One of West Texas most complete tire services is provided by Central Tire Service, above, located at Avenue T and Twenty-fifth Street. New tire sales for all types of vehicles, passenger cars, trucks, and tractors, and a complete tread service on all types of tires are provided by Central Tire Service. (Lee Watson photograph)

Central Tire In Snyder Has Complete Retreading Service

One of the most expensive factors in the operation of motor vehicles is the wear to its tires, but that expense can now be reduced to only about half the cost of replacing old tires with new ones.

Stanley Noah, owner of Central Tire Service, located at Twenty-fifth Street and Avenue T in Snyder, offers a complete retreading service for all sizes an types of tires for passenger cars and trucks which enables motorists to replace the tread on their tires at only about one-half the cost of purchasing new tires.

"In most all cases the body, or carcass, of a tire is still almost as good as new even after the original tread has been worn thin and slick," Noah said.

"A motorist is actually spending money needlessly if he throws away the good tire carcass just because the tread has been worn off," he said.

Central Tire Service has a large and completely modern tire retreading department which specializes in use of Gates Cold Rubber retreading.

A chain of inspections carefully made before and during each tire retreading job assures that the retread is being put on a good, sound tire body — one that will last as long with the new retread as it did with the original factory tread, or in many cases longer.

Before any retreading job is started, the tire is carefully inspected for breaks and puncture holes. If any are found, that tire is not retreaded.

After the first inspection, the tire is then buffed to a perfect roundness so that the new tread can be applied smoothly and evenly. Another complete inspection of the tire is made at this point, to assure that no separation of rubber from the cord of the tire exists, and again the tire is inspected for breaks and holes.

At this point, too, the tire is balanced by adding extra rubber on the light side of the tire, if it is found to be out of balance.

The balanicng prior to addition of the new retread assures that the tire will be more perfectly balanced than it was originally at the factory.

After the new retread is applied another complete inspection of the tire is made to determine that the rubber completely adhered to the tire body, and to assure that the like-new appearance of the tire is backed by a like - new quality.

Noah invites anyone who has tire problems of any type to inspect his plant and facilities, and to watch the process of retreading.

Rice Exports Double

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States more than doubled its rice exports in the year ended Aug. 1. The Agriculture Department reported foreign shipments during the year totaled 26,268,000 bags of 100 pounds. This compared with 12,827,000 bags the previous year. Exports were equal to 55 per cent of last year's crop.

24 Injured In Train Wreck

PEABODY, Kan. (AP)—The Rock Island Railroad's Twin-Star Rocket, headed from Minneapolis to Houston, piled off the rails at the south edge of Peabody early today. Twenty-four were treated at hospitals for injuries.

Initial examination of the injured showed only one in serious condition. Wallace Hutchinson, 63, Wichita, Kan., had a possible skull fracture.

There was no indication of the cause of the wreck.

The Rocket ran into trouble about 100 yards north of the point where the Rock Island and the Santa Fe cross on the south edge of Peabody.

Most of the injured were in two passenger coaches which landed athwart the crossover and on their sides. Both rail lines were blocked.

Mrs. Earl Bray, Enid, Okla., said she was half asleep in the first passenger coach and her 12-year-old son Allen was asleep beside her.

"There was a terrific bang, bang, bang," she said. "The car toppled over. I was riding about five seats back and landed in a corner. I got up but was too weak to stand and they carried me out of the car. I thought for a time it was the end of the world. My son landed across the aisle."

John Watson, Sunday editor of the Topeka (Kan.) Capital, also was riding in the first coach, along with his wife.

"It started jumping along, apparently hitting the ties," he said.

The diesel locomotive dragged one mail and baggage car about 33 yards beyond the crossing. The locomotive remained on the rails. The mail and baggage car skewed crosswise but was upright atop roadbed.

Another mail and baggage car flipped over on its side and skidded down a 15-foot embankment.

One other passenger coach turned over on its side along the right-of-way north of the crossover. Three more ran off the rails but remained upright. The last three cars stayed on the tracks, the rear one stopping just south of the Peabody station.

Texans injured were Mrs. Barbara Hanson of Houston; Herbert Lee of Dallas, Mrs. Harold Wilson of Brownwood; Mrs. Robert Smith of Kerens; Mrs. F. E. Long of Dallas; Mrs. W. R. Lloyd of Dallas; M. E. Collins of Waxahachie and A. B. Foster of Clyde.

Larcey Martin of 1025 Taylor, Waco, Tex., and Terrell Alexander of 208 Bowers, also of Waco, were returning from St. Cloud, Minn., where they had taken a patient transferred between Veterans Administration hospitals. Both said their only sensation in the wreck was "a lot of bumping" that shoved Alexander forward in his bed.

Sound asleep when the wreck occurred, Mrs. W. C. Windsor of Tyler, Tex., returning from a visit at Booneville, Mo., said she was thrown to the floor but unhurt.

PICNIC SCHEDULED BY FARMERS UNION

Alec Dickie, president of the Texas Farmers Union, will be main speaker tomorrow night at a picnic of the Scurry County Farmers Union in Towle Memorial Park.

Farmers Union members and their families will take dishes and spread them together at either the picnic pavilion or the exhibit barn in the park, depending on the weather, beginning at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

Entertainment will be by the Vittio Quartet of Rotan.

The Scurry County Farmers Union will furnish coffee and cold drinks at the picnic, according to Grady Williams, president.

Specialist Has Advice On Spanking Children

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Fred M. Taylor, a Houston, Tex., child specialist, said yesterday parents should be sure unruly children don't have subtle brain injuries before they reach for the rod.

"An outstanding inability to be quiet, impulsive loudness, short attention span and striking shifts are typical behavior manefestations of the injured children," he said in an interview.

He said the injury could have been inflicted by a bad trauma in the head, premature birth, a brain infection or other ways.

German Ship Is Lost In Storm

LONDON (AP) — The Hamburg owners of the German sailing ship Pamir said today they presumed the four-masted bark had been lost in the storm-lashed Atlantic.

The owners held out hope, however, that some survivors of 86 aboard might still be found.

The sailing vessel vanished Saturday after radioing that she had lost all her sails about 550 miles southwest of the Azores.

The owners said 62 cadets, of whom 25 were on their first trip, were aboard the vessel. There were 17 regular crew men and 7 officers. This made a total of 86 persons aboard.

The finding of two empty lifeboats and a raft previously had raised fears the vessel had gone down.

Rescue planes and ships crisscrossed the mid-Atlantic without finding a trace of the four-master that had weathered many a storm in her 52 years at sea.

Her operators held out hope that the Pamir had survived the storm kicked up by Hurricane Carrie. It was pointed out the lifeboats and raft could have been ripped from their lashings.

The Pamir, carrying barley from Buenos Aires to Hamburg, radioed Saturday night that she was sinking about 600 miles west of the Azores.

The ship was listing at 45 degrees and all sails had been stripped away.

U.S. Air Force planes reported last night that they had spotted two lifeboats and a raft, all empty.

One battered lifeboat bore the name "Luebeck," the West German city where the 3,102-ton was registered.

The ship was operated by Zerssen and Co. of Luebeck as a grain carrier and training ship for the German shipping industry. It carried a number of maritime cadets.

In New York, the Coast Guard reported last night that its cutter Absecon, a Canadian destroyer escort and three merchant ships had reached the Pamir's last reported position. Other ships were on the way there.

Dogs Attack Woman, 56

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An Oklahoma City woman was in a hospital today after being attacked by two large boxer dogs.

Mrs. L. C. McCaslin, 56, was bitten numerous times yesterday. Her clothing was shredded.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Farris said Mrs. McCaslin and a friend, Peggy Fletcher, 15, were horseback riding when the dogs began nipping at the animals.

Miss Fletcher said the dogs frightened the horses and that Mrs. McCaslin dismounted and tried to scare the dogs off.

The dogs jumped on the woman. The girl said the dogs worked as a team in fighting Mrs. McCaslin.

The dogs' owner, who told police they had been vaccinated for rabies, was ordered to keep them confined 14 days for observation.

Leghorn Hen Sets Record For Laying

FLEMINGTON, N.J. (AP)—Meggi O'Day, the Mickey Mantle of the poultry world, has added another championship to her list of titles.

The little Leghorn hen laid another egg yesterday, her 354th in 357 days, to break the old record of eggs laid in a one-year span.

The previous record of 353 eggs in 365 days was established in 1949-50 by a Leghorn from the J. A. Hanson & Son farm in Corvallis, Ore. Meggi has seven more days to go to increase her margin over the old title holder.

Meg is shelling 'em out as a participant in the Hunterdon County egg laying contest, supervised by Prof. Clarence S. Platt of the Rutgers University College of Agriculture. Platt says she probably will continue her daily production until the end of the month.

When Meg failed to lay Aug. 14, she already had established a record by laying 284 eggs in 284 days without a miss. Since last October, the other days she has skipped an egg were last Nov. 3 and again Aug. 20.

Meg and 12 of her sisters were entered in the contest by the Stern Brothers hatchery in South Vineland.

Girl, 9, Walks Away From Electric Shock

DENVER (AP)—Gretta Bohlmann, 9, got up and walked away yesterday from a 7,600-volt shock, three times that used in electric chairs.

She is under treatment at Porter Hospital today for burns of the left hand and arm, chest, stomach and thigh.

Restaurant operator Phillip Frye said he found Gretta walking away after she suffered the jolt in a high-voltage shed at a shopping center where she brushed against a transformer.

Frye went to investigate after the electricity went off at his cafe.

4 Killed In Honduras Voting

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—The Liberals of Dr. Ramon Villeda Morales, the popular "Little Bird" of Honduras' masses, today appeared a landslide winner in yesterday's violence-marred elections.

At least four killings were reported in clashes between political partisans in two provincial towns. Elsewhere voting was orderly and the military junta's promise of a free election appeared fulfilled.

A constitutional assembly chosen in the balloting will meet Oct. 21 to form a new government replacing the junta that has ruled for a year.

The assembly can declare itself a president. If the Liberals win two thirds of the seats they could hand the presidency to Villeda Morales, former ambassador to Washington. He missed election by a slim margin in 1954.

On the other hand, the assembly could call instead for congressional and presidential elections. Villeda Morales says he prefers this course.

There has been dissension in the Liberal party. Apparently Villeda Morales counts on the people to elect him over any other Liberal who might enter the race.

On the basis of early returns, the Liberals were expected to win about 40 of the assembly's 58 seats.

A Liberal party victory had been expected. Abraham Williams National Reformist leader, and Gen. Tiburcio Carias, former dictator and head of the Nationalists, privately conceded the Liberals would win.

Williams is a presidential aspirant. Carias wants the presidency for his son Gonzalo.

Official reports said four men were killed and nine persons wounded in outbreaks at two small towns.

Two men died and seven persons were wounded in fighting at Vado Ancho, near the Nicaraguan frontier. Liberals, barred from the polls, took control and locked up the commandant. The military junta sent troops to the town to place the commandant under arrest.

Two men were shot to death and two others wounded in what was described as a personal gunfight at the polling place in Maraita, about 30 miles from Tegucigalpa.
