

BEAM

By J. W. King, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bond are opening their new theatre building on Thursday night, September 12, by showing "The Southerner".

Mr. and Mrs. Bond have spared no expense in building a very beautiful theatre building. We know of no town the size of Loraine that has a theatre building to equal it. In fact few larger towns have nicer show buildings.

Although their new screen, drapes and a few other minor items have not arrived they will have everything in readiness for the opening night. The screen and drapes and seats for the balcony will be installed as soon as they are received.

Mr. and Mrs. Bond are to be congratulated on their progressiveness and willingness to provide Loraine and territory with the very best theatre building and pictures.

Loraine people should turn out in large numbers for the grand opening next Thursday night. Mr. and Mrs. Bond will appreciate a full house for their opening. Loraine people should show their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Bond by attending the show on opening night.

Although the heavier rains of this week missed Loraine the moisture received was greatly appreciated and will benefit crops greatly. The cool weather which accompanied the spell helped a lot.

Mosquitoes are still plentiful around these parts and we are of the opinion that city officials should make every effort to find and treat the breeding places.

J. F. Graham Buried Today

Funeral services were held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Baptist Church for J. F. Graham, Rev. Montgomery of Sweetwater officiating.

James Ferdinand Graham was born August 19, 1879, at Lafayette Springs, Mississippi. He died at his home September 3, at 5:30 a. m.

Mr. Graham came to Comanche, Texas, at the age of 23. He was married to Della Huckabee in 1908. He and his family have made their home on a farm north of Loraine since 1930.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Della Graham, and the following children: Tom, Joe, Elwood, Stanley, Modess, Lawrence, Bobbie, Clay and Donald Graham, and Mrs. Annie Browning. Five grandchildren and three brothers and two sisters also survive.

Methodist Church

John W. Price, Pastor

Church School at 10 o'clock each Sunday. Marshall Bruce, Superintendent. If you are not now attending elsewhere we give you a cordial invitation to worship with us.

Morning worship at 11 o'clock, the pastor bringing the message.

Youth Fellowship at 7:30. Evening worship at 8 o'clock, the pastor preaching.

Prayer Meeting at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The period of Revivals is over, we are facing our fall church program. This would be a good time for every Methodist and all other Christians to resolve to be present for every service of the church. No church can be effective with only a small percent of its membership active or present. Be present Sunday for ALL services.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hughes of Brownwood spent Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Blair. They, with Mrs. Blair, went to Midland Thursday and visited her son, Thurman Pylant and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerrell Pullman of Fort Worth spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Preston.

Read In More Homes In The Loraine Territory Than Any Other Newspaper

The Mitchell County News

The Mirror Through Which The Public Views The Community As It Is Week by Week

VOLUME 16, NUMBER 16.

LORAIN, TEXAS, SEPTEMBER 5, 1946

Subscription Price $1.50 per year

Light Rains Are Welcomed Here

Although a large part of the Loraine territory received good rains during the week the town itself received only a quarter inch shower Monday. Showers fell both Monday and Tuesday in various sections of the territory, some places reporting as much as an inch and more of moisture.

Where sufficient moisture fell it will be of great benefit to both cotton and feed crops.

The moisture received this week was the first in most of the territory for more than a month.

BAPTIST W. M. S.

The general meeting of the W. M. S. met at the church Monday evening with a Mission program brought by the members of the Annie Armstrong Circle. Those having parts were: Mmes. J. L. Pratt, D. W. Haralson, Dee McCollum, Edward Brown, and H. L. Leach.

The Annie Armstrong Circle will meet with Mrs. Edwin Hallmark on Monday afternoon, September 9, and the Lottie Moon Circle will meet with Mrs. L. G. Baker at 7:45 Monday evening.

All ladies are asked to bring a gift to next week's meeting for Ruth Gonzales, daughter of Bro. Gonzales, the Mexican Missionary of the District. Ruth is to enter college this fall and our W. M. S. wishes to send a box of gifts to her at this time.

Henry Beighs left last week for Christoval, where he will spend a few weeks for his health.

PLAYBOYS ENTERTAIN AT MIDLAND

The Mitchell County Playboys a local musical organization, who accompanied the Rodeo tripper from Colorado City last Friday, entertained the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon Friday noon at the Seabrook Hotel.

GIVEN AIR MEDAL POSTHUMOUSLY

The Air Medal has been posthumously awarded to 1st Lt. James E. Nunn, fighter pilot who went down over Indo China November 9, 1944, and who, until recently, had been on the AAF's "missing in action" roster.

Lieutenant Nunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Nunn of the Valley View community, was a 1939 graduate of Colorado City high school and a former student in John Tarleton College, Stephenville. He joined the air corps in May 1942, and was trained at Santa Ana, California; Ryan Field, Tucson, Arizona; Marana, Arizona, and Chandler, Arizona. He was sent to China as a pilot of a P-38 in October of 1943 and was credited with the destruction of seven Japanese planes.

The air medal was presented to his parents, who had two other sons in service during the recent war, with a citation which read in part: "For meritorious achievement from December 21, 1943, to September, 1944, as pilot of a fighter type aircraft flying from bases in China, Lt. Nunn and his companions inflicted heavy losses on the enemy in material and personnel in actions over China, Indo-China, and Thailand. On many flights they were fired upon by enemy ground installations and hostile aircraft and flew many missions through adverse weather and over rugged and poorly charted areas."

Because of the vastness of the territory over which he was flying and because of poor communications in the interior of Indo-China, both the family of Lt. Nunn and his flying companions had held through the long months the possibility that he might be alive and isolated from any manner of getting word to the 14th AAF. Letters reaching the family from him in his squadron state that it was believed Lt. Nunn was having trouble, and lost contact with the squad.

Recently the War Department informed the Nunn family that their eldest son has now been listed as "killed in action."

Panther Reported At Large Here

A panther is roaming through this section of the country, according to reports from a train crew who saw it by the railway tracks about a mile east of Loraine Tuesday morning.

The train bearing the crew that saw the panther did not stop in Loraine, but when it reached Colorado City they telephoned R. L. Hestess about it.

Local hunters went to the place where the panther was reported seen and found his tracks on the Richburg farm just east of the J. E. Price place. They searched the neighborhood but found no trace of the animal. Tuesday night some hunters from Roscoe joined in the hunt with a pack of dogs but they failed to run it down. Jack Bagwell also had some dogs in the hunt and he said they picked up the trail where he was reported seen and trailed it across the railroad north but lost the trail.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hallmark visited in their son's home Tuesday night and while returning home saw two huge eyes gleaming in the road. They kept driving toward the object and when they got near it, it turned out of the road, jumped a ditch and went into the Lester Jarratt pasture. When it turned they saw it was the panther. It is about three feet tall and about five feet long, and is either black or brown. Hunters went to that vicinity Wednesday morning.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Appendectomy patients the past week were Neta Vaughn of Midland, who is a sister to Herman Crockett, and Victoria Loe on September 3.

Frank Martin spent several days in the hospital for treatment of an infected face caused from bruising a pimple.

Barbara Combs was taken to the hospital Thursday night after being run over by a car. 14 stitches were required to close a wound in her foot. She also suffered fractured bones. She was taken home the first of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Alexandra of Odessa are the parents of a baby daughter, Jeanette Marie, born last week.

JACK RICHEY'S HOST PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richey were hosts for five tables of progressive 42 on the lawn at their home Tuesday night.

At the refreshment hour, tables were spread with colorful lunch cloths and a picnic plate of sandwiches, olives, potato chips and chilled Dr. Peppers and Cocoa Colas were served.

Those present were Messrs. and Mmes. Tommie Horton, John Horton, Bob Horton, Virgil Walker, Butch Swafford, Wright Hock, Price Hall, Garland Cary, and Vernon Hock of Colorado City.

Mrs. Lily Bennett and Byron made a business trip to Lubbock Tuesday.

Mrs. Carl House Died Sunday

Last rites were said for Mrs. Carl House at the Methodist Church Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock with the pastor, Rev. J. W. Price, officiating, and Mrs. W. R. Martin in charge of the music.

Mrs. House, the former Winnie Evelyn Hendricks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hendricks, was born August 20, 1917, in Hill County, Texas. She was converted and joined the Methodist Church when 13 years of age. She was married to Carl House November 27, 1936, at Loraine. While her husband was in service she was employed at Lockheed Aircraft Corporation in Burbank, California, until March 1944, when her health failed. She has been ill since that time and died at her home here September 1, at 1 P. M. While in California, Mrs. House made her home with her sister, Mrs. Ernie W. White and Mr. White, who were formerly of Abilene. Mr. and Mrs. White came to Loraine six months ago to be with her sister and had been at her bedside since that time.

Her husband, Carl House of Loraine, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hendricks of Cuthbert, two sisters, Mrs. W. R. Payne of Snyder, and Mrs. Ernie W. White of Odessa, two brothers, O. G. Hendricks, Jr. of Midland, survive her.

Palbearers were Charles G. Rogers, Robert E. Lee Porter, Jr., Richard Thomas, Ernest Griffith and Harold Bennett of Colorado City, and Howard Moore of Midland.

Relatives attending the funeral were Mrs. B. C. Aaron, Mrs. Jeff Bratcher, and Mr. Earl Bratcher of Artesia, New Mexico; Mrs. Bill House, Bob House of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Boyd House and sons of Electra; Mrs. W. H. Rogers, Mrs. Murry Rogers, Mrs. Kenney Reese, Miss Pat Reese, Charles G. Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. L. Porter, Sr., and Mrs. N. A. Rogers, all of Colorado City; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moore and Bill Moore of Midland.

Friends from out of town attending were Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Winter, Mrs. Felix Raines, Mrs. Herbert Stribling and Frances Beights of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dunn, Mrs. Estel Fisher, Eva Jane Fisher, and Mr. and Mrs. N. Burleson of Cuthbert; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lewis, and Mrs. E. E. Payne of Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Witt, and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Witt of Dublin, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Witt and children of Stephenville spent last week end in the R. D. Lefevre home.

Guests in the home of Mrs. C. H. Thomas Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Broadus of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Thomas and family, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thomas and family, and Mrs. H. B. Broadus of Colorado City, and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Putman of Odessa.

Baseball Game Here Sunday

The Maverick baseball team will be in Loraine Sunday afternoon for a return game of baseball with the local team. The game is called for 3 o'clock.

Manager Jennings says he will have his regular in-field lineup for Sunday in addition to Lack Coffee as catcher. Lack, you remember, is a hard hitter and an all round good player.

Lack of some of the regular lineup last Sunday caused the local team to drop their game to Colorado City 8 to 2.

Baseball fans are reminded that only two more games are to be played this season. If you want to see a good baseball game you had better go Sunday.

Mr. Jennings is to be commended for managing the team. He has done a good job at that as well as being the main pitcher for the team. He has been out several dollars of his own money to keep the team going and we should all appreciate it.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED AT LEGION MEETING

The new Post Commander, Ray Preston, at the meeting of Veterans Post No. 555 Tuesday night named the following committees for the new year:

Membership: Jack Walker, Butsie Hall and Albert Hiser.

Sick: Dr. Dale Johnson, John Mulroy and Charlie Hamilton.

Entertainment: Bill Martin, J. W. Price, and R. B. Cope.

Chow: Bob Horton, Ed Preston, Tharon Henderson.

Executive: Albert Hiser and J. W. King, Sr., who will serve with the officers of the Post.

PRE-NUPTIAL PARTY HONORS MISS STEWART

A gift party honoring Billie Jean Stewart, who is to be married Sunday, September 8, to Douglas F. Parker of Lubbock, was held at the home of Mrs. J. B. Mahon Saturday afternoon. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Mahon were Mmes. Lester Webb, Evert Henderson, Harry Hallmark and Wiley Walker.

Mrs. Mahon greeted guests and showed them into the dining room where others in the house party presided at the refreshment table.

Melba Mahon played piano selections during the afternoon. Mrs. D. W. Haralson and Mrs. Truman Nix gave readings.

Dorothy Jean Hallmark and Jean Walker presented and registered gifts in the bride's book.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Rev. Jones of Trent will preach at the 11 o'clock hour at the Baptist Church Sunday. Evening services have been changed from 8:15 to 7:45.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Phillips and daughters Revel and Lonet attended the funeral of Mrs. Tom Patterson at Rising Star Tuesday. Mrs. Patterson was a sister to Mrs. Phillips. She had been in ill health the past three months.

New Theatre To Open Thursday, September 12th

The new theatre building is finished with exception of a few odds and ends and will be ready for use the first of next week.

The new building will seat 400 in the main auditorium and 150 in the balcony.

The new building is 35 by 110 feet and is constructed of concrete tile, with a plastered front and triangular marquee. The inside of the building is finished beautifully in rough plaster with very beautiful lighting fixtures. The foyer is large and will be decorated with heavy drapes as soon as it can be received, and the aisles will be laid with

The opening night in the new building has been set by Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bond for Thursday, September 12. For the opening picture they have secured "The Southerner" which is an outstanding action picture.

NEW NURSE EMPLOYED AT JOHNSON HOSPITAL

Miss Afton Smith of Ranger has accepted the position and assumed duties this week as head nurse in charge of the Johnson Hospital. Miss Smith comes to Loraine from Ranger where she served on the nurses staff for eight years.

The hospital, owned by Drs. Bruce and Dale Johnson, recently made an addition of ten rooms to the building, including a large glass enclosed operating room. Other modern equipment installed enables the staff to better serve the public in any medical or surgical need.

Others on the staff are: Mrs. John Mulroy, who will continue as anaesthetist, Mrs. Dale Johnson as operating nurse, and Mrs. Bennett Blair as night nurse. Mr. Mulroy is in charge of the laboratory.

READY CLASS MEETS

The Ready Sunday School class met with Mrs. Tommy Horton Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Kenneth Butler and Mrs. Earl Phillips cohostesses.

Mrs. Buck Taylor had charge of the program with Mrs. Woodrow Pratt bringing the devotion.

al, Mmes. Wright Hock, Price Hall, Lanthus Brame, and Edward Brown giving parts on the program.

During the business session officers were elected for the new year as follows: President, Mrs. Tommy Horton; Vice President, Mrs. Lloyd Wiggins; Secretary, Treasurer, Mrs. Woodrow Pratt; Reporter, Mrs. Lanthus Brame; Teacher, Mrs. D. W. Haralson.

Ice cream and cake squares were served to Mmes. Edward Brown, Woodrow Pratt, Lloyd Wiggins, D. W. Haralson, Lanthus Brame, Price Hall, Wright Hock, Kenneth Butler, Earl Phillips and Tommy Horton.

MRS. ELMER LEE HAYS IS HONORED TUESDAY

Mrs. Earl Phillips, assisted by Mrs. O. C. Lucas and Irma Jean Lucas were hostesses at a gift party for Mrs. Elmer Lee Hays in the Phillips home on Tuesday afternoon, August 26.

Mrs. Phillips greeted guests and invited them into the dining room where Irma Jean Lucas and Eloise reston served punch from a crystal service over a refector surrounded by a wreath of fern and pastel flowers.

Elaine James toasted the bride, Irma Jean Lucas read a poem, Dishpan Philosophy, and Mildred Carpenter gave a toast to the girls left behind.

Geraldine and Nadine Jackson presented gifts and Lois Finley registered them in the bride's book, which was presented the honoree by Peggy Phillips.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Gray of San Angelo spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. W. J. Coon. On Sunday Mrs. Coon joined them for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Dorn and daughters in Colorado City.

JUNE TROTT, BOBBY MORRIS OWENS WED IN MORNING RITES AT WINTERS

Several Abileneans were in Winters Saturday to attend the morning marriage of June Trott daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Trott, and Bobby Morris Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Owens all of Abilene.

The Rev. L. L. Trott, pastor of the Winters Baptist church and brother of the bride, read the double ring ceremony at his home.

The ceremony was read before a fireplace, which was arranged as a miniature rock garden and fish pond reflected in a mirror. The mantle, which extended the full length of the room was centered by a large mirror, in front of which was banked fern and white mums, flanked by tall white cathedral tapers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an off-white wool suit with sky-blue accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations and she carried a white Bible. For something borrowed, she carried a white lace handkerchief that her cousin carried at her wedding. For something old, she wore a gold brooch, belonging to her sister-in-law.

Mrs. Eleanor Scrivner, of Loraine, was the bride's attendant. She wore a blue wool suit with black accessories and carnation corsage. The bridegroom's attendant was Joe Scrivner of Loraine. Helen Love Smith gave the wedding music and also played accompaniment for Virginia Trott to sing Because.

A wedding reception followed the ceremony. The bride couple cut the first slice from a two-tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The bride's table was overlaid with white damask, and was decorated with fern white mums and white tapers. Appointments were in crystal and silver. Beryl Owens, sister of the bridegroom, served cake and Louise Cooper ladled punch. Doris Trott, sister of the bride, presided at the bride's registry.

Mrs. Owens is a graduate of Loraine high school and received a B. S. degree in education from McMurry college, where she was editor of the Totem, college yearbook, for two years, president of the Press club, and an officer in the Delta Beta Epsilon sorority.

Mr. Owens is a graduate of Baird high school. He served five years in the Army Air Forces, 34 months in Africa and on the European continent. He is now a pre-dental student at Hardin-Simmons university.

Mr. and Mrs. Owens are on a wedding trip to Rudosa, N. M. Upon returning, they will live at 466 Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Trott and Mr. and Mrs. John Owens attended the wedding from Abilene. Also present was the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. E. W. Wristen of Baird.

Addition Made Recently To Johnson Hospital

The Johnson Hospital here, owned and operated by Drs. Bruce and Dale Johnson, is one of the nicer small hospitals in this section. The hospital was established in 1938 by Dr. Bruce Johnson and was operated by him until a short time ago when his brother Dr. Dale Johnson, upon his release from service in army hospitals where he received much valuable experience joined him in practice here.

Recently ten additional rooms were built onto the hospital, which included an operating room of modern design. New equipment was also added.

The hospital now has in training a laboratory technician and a student nurse. Other student nurses are wanted at the hospital for training.

SEPTEMBER 5 1946

Editor's Note: While Winchell is on vacation, Jack Lait is acting as guest columnist.

Recriminations, Reflections—

Ruthless, rapacious James Caesar Petrillo seems hell-bent to wreck the nightclubs of New York, which cannot meet his latest demands and live. . . . Petrillo hasn't been getting his name in the papers lately, and has apparently decided to see to that. . . . I have long observed this egomaniac. . . . His union, though in the AFL, is autonomous and he is its absolute duke. . . . He defies economic laws as he defies the nation's laws, which he now is doing flagrantly and blatantly — and he loves it; he loves that sensation of dictatorial arrogance: "Hah—I'm bigger than all America. Nothing can touch Petrillo. The world can't live without music—and I own the music. I have millions of dollars and don't account to anybody. My voiceless fiddlers and drummers and horn-blowers worship me. Congress passes a special law just against me—and that law I break. . . . So this is a republic. . . . No king. . . . What a laugh!"

Meyer Davis, the society maestro, wires me a lengthy defense of James Caesar Petrillo, who, he says, "has absolutely no jurisdiction over proposed raises in N. Y. nightclubs." He adds, "There is too much honey about Petrillo, just because he is colorful." If that's what's the matter with Petrillo, I'm color-blind. I'm also dumb. But I retain my sense of smell!

The dynamic six-footer, Walter E. Smith, is in town again, third time in two weeks he's flown hither. . . . "I got a nap in the plane," he tells me. "I hadn't been to bed in four days and nights." . . . Smith, whose hair is pretty white, is only 40. But he does more things than anyone I've ever known. . . . With in the year he has bought and converted a Hollywood cafe into Tom Brennan's run the morning breakfast broadcast there into a national sensation, had it filmed for a feature; promoted rodeos, signed Gene Autrey for five years and will publish his biography; bought a hotel and cabanas in Palm Springs; tied up "Pappy" Boyington for his book and picture rights, and has a $150,000 Warner offer on the latter; organized a company to publish a magazine devoted to western movies; incorporated a company to produce Nils T. Grandlund's picture, "Rhythm Ranch"; bought Chesterton, favorite in the Hambletonian, for $40,000, highest price ever paid for a trotter, to add to his large stable; founded the association which converted Santa Anita to trotting; conducts the largest enterprise in the West making aluminum furniture and luggage. . . . And nobody can play harder than he—or work half as hard.

Durocher, says Lew Parker, acts as though he were fighting Joe Louis, not St. Louis!

Lt. Col. Gregory (Pappy) Boyington's book is finished and in the hands of the busy Walter E. Smith, who seems to have about eight hands. Not only will Smith publish, but he'll do the movie himself, as an independent, perhaps as a road-show entry. Admiral Nimitz has offered Smith any feet facilities required for the screen adaptation. The title, first time announced anywhere, is "Where Are We Now?"

Even Stalin's spies don't know — Margaret Truman's calls from Missouri to Washington are person-to-person — and the person is Marvin Coles, counsel for the merchant marine!

Gwendolyn Stone is a beautiful and talented dancer. . . . She has appeared in several west coast revue creations and in films, including "Night and Day." . . . No one seeing her would imagine that she is a deaf mute and has been since childhood. . . . She picks up rhythms with her feet, via vibrations. . . . She takes direction and cues by unfailing lip-reading.

Santa Fe Skyway is carrying specialized cargoes, including perishables. . . . No schedules will be made. . . . Flying personnel will be mostly veterans, 11 of whom have signed on. . . . One plane has refrigeration equipment, which weighs only 1 per cent of the gross tonnage and can register 120 degrees below zero.

Marie Windsor, Utah beauty, who took over Broadway via stage and radio, is an outstander in Hollywood. . . . Ben Bogues and Casey Robinson, who bought Hemingway's "Short and Happy Life of Francis Macomber" for peanuts ($85,000 worth) are aiming at an Oscar. . . . Pat O'Brien is trying to interest movie money in a screen biography of his pal, Mayor Bill O'Dwyer, Pat to play him. . . . (With Abbott and Costello playing the role of two other guys named LaGuardia?)

Postwar Confusion Exists in Orient

Courteous Japs Kow-Tow To Victorious Americans

By BAUKHAGE

News Analyst and Commentator.

WNU Service, 1616 Eye Street, N.W., Washington, D. C.

Recently, I had two experiences which melded.

I ran into my colleague, Kenneth Romney Jr., son of Kenneth Romney Sr., sergeant at-arms of the house of representatives. Young Romney recently has taken up his duties in radio again after a belated discharge from the military service, the latter part of which was spent with the "cloak and dagger" boys, the Office of Strategic Services.

Baukhage

Casualty, he told me how he landed in Shanghai. He had been serving in China. Shortly after V-J Day he was ordered, along with some hundred other American officers and soldiers, to Shanghai. It was known there were no Chinese troops in the city. Shanghai had been in Japanese hands since the beginning of the war. The civilian population had become none too co-operative.

Hence, the Americans (even the "cloak and dagger" boys) arrived in full battle dress. Their plane landed, and little brown men came forward toward them. The Americans had their rifles at "ready." Some fired. But the Japs, undeterred, came forward, bowing deeply, smiling. It was a Japanese ground force, ready and anxious to service the American planes.

Later came Jap officers with a whole fleet of limousines. The Americans were guests, not conquerors. The conquered enemy were hosts—not just the conquered. They offered to find accommodations and the trimmings. A little confusing, the Americans thought.

Commentator Has Full Mail Bag

For one whole week, I saved all the things that came to me by mail which I hadn't asked for—except personal letters. I have just counted them, and there are 233 separate pieces in all. The total number of pages I am expected to read adds up to nearly a thousand.

The one on top is "the back of the book" from Omnibook. A collection of amusing stories. But Omnibook itself is better still and I believe I have every issue, beginning with Vol. 1, No. 1.

Next comes "News From Sweden," a mimeographed collection of feature paragraphs from the American-Swedish News Exchange. I recall when the Swedish minister here consulted me about the founding of such a publicity bureau, back before we got into World War I.

The next is one of the UAW-CIO regular releases, and then the CIO News, a 16-page weekly, printed, I suppose, for their membership.

Then one of the valuable National Opinion Research surveys put out by the University of Denver. This one is a poll of American opinion on the Germans and Japs and how we think they got that way.

More Business Weeks, and "Program Information" from my own American Broadcasting company. A printed letter from the Payroll Guaranty association with an enclosure on "civilized cats, mice and cheese." The American Food Manufacturers' association handout saying the feed shortage is over.

General Motors sends me the ninth in a series of production reports. (What could have happened to the other eight?) The release from the National Planning association announces that Leon Henderson and the official of a big corporation have been added to their board of trustees—and if you want to know about the distribution of fats and oils by the department of agriculture, you can have my copy of the second interim report from the Committee on Small Business pursuant to H. Res. 64.

Or Maybe You'd Prefer Rail Loadings

Maybe you'd rather have freight loadings of the week from the Association of American Railways, or perhaps you want to bid on the purchase of 15 or fewer Landing Ship Tanks (LST) type vessels? Or perhaps you'd prefer some all-wood American flag, or a BK steel barge for dry or liquid cargo? No? Well, no harm in making the offer.

Next exhibit is "News From France" from the French Information service. I'll admit I asked for that, along with the attractive magazine, "La Republique Francaise." Here's the state department's weekly bulletin which is Part Three of that interesting series on the present status of German youth. I was planning to write an article on that subject myself, but they tell me the magazines are overbought on Germany. Won't buy another thing.

but that was, after all, the Orient—China, another world. . . .

Now the scene shifts to Washington again. I witness the meeting of a husband and wife. Plenty of such meetings these days, still. It was touching. The man had dropped out of the Far Eastern skies. It seemed only yesterday that I had heard he was in a city in the Netherlands Indies where the American corporation he represented had one of its great plants. He was the first American to visit it since the territory had been won back from the enemy.

But had it been won back? When I heard his story, I wondered. It seems that when he reached the gates of the American-owned plant, he found a Japanese on guard. He identified himself. In a few moments, a smiling and bowing Japanese officer, still wearing most of his uniform and speaking understandable English, appeared.

They began a tour of the property, the Jap most deferential but offering no word of explanation or apology for the fact that he, a late enemy, was in charge and not in jail. In fact, the Jap was very loquacious on the subject of the excellent work that he and his helpers had done to put the plant back into repair and operation.

He showed my friend the various places where the buildings and machinery had been damaged—evidence, he pointed out, smiling, of the excellent marksmanship of the American air force. He demonstrated with particular pride how excellently the repair work had been done, obviously expecting (and receiving) well-deserved praise for the technical skill the Japanese repairmen had shown.

Very nice, of course. But American industry still reaps no benefit from that plant, and although the Japanese gain no profit therefrom, this American property is still, literally, in the hands of the enemy.

Two U.S. Notes Presage Firm Stand in New Rifts

FOREIGN AFFAIRS: U. S. Stays Tough

If the Russians sought to test American temper on their aggressive postwar diplomacy, they received ample indication that this country would stand fast on a sufficing of its principles. Even as the state department peppered Russia and its satellites with strong notes, four U. S. cruisers, six destroyers and the giant aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt hovered in the Mediterranean, joining the British fleet in an impressive show of strength.

Yugoslavia—Strongest U. S. action was taken against Tito's Communist-dominated Yugoslav government for shooting down two unprotected American transport planes which strayed off their course while en route from Austria to Italy.

Lashing Belgrade for shooting at the defenseless planes of a friendly nation, the U. S. demanded release of fliers of the stricken craft within 48 hours or threatened referral of the case to the United Nations with Yugoslavia charged with aggressive acts. Ridiculing Belgrade's reference to the incidents as "unhappy accidents," the U. S. stated the attacks were deliberate.

Convinced that the U. S. wasn't fooling, Tito ordered release of the fliers and hastened to tell American newsmen that he had commanded his armed forces to desist from further attacks on planes.

Dardanelles—With the Russians backing up their demand on Turkey for joint control of the Dardanelles straits connecting the Black sea with the Mediterranean with a show of military strength in the surrounding territory, the U. S. warned Moscow that an assault upon Turkish soil would be considered a threat to world peace. While rejecting Russia's proposal for joint control of the vital waterway with Turkey, the U. S. indicated its willingness to participate in a conference to revise existing regulations and expressed agreement with the Soviet on these points:

1. Merchant ships of all countries should be allowed to use the straits.

2. Warships of the Black sea powers should always be allowed passage through the straits.

3. Special permission should be needed for passage of the warships of other powers through the straits.

Poland—Charging irregularities in counting ballots, censorship restrictions and persecution of non-Communists, the U. S. note to Warsaw accused the Russian-dominated government of violation of its commitments to hold free and unfettered elections.

To achieve such elections, the U. S. said, fullest freedom must be given to such parties as the Polish Workers, Peasants, Labor and Socialists. Further, representatives of those parties must be granted positions on electoral commissions; local results must be announced, and adequate appeal provided for election disputes.

MOBILIZATION: Plan Ahead

Warning that the U. S. will have little time for preparation before the next war, army and navy members of the services' industrial college issued a 37-page report outlining tentative plans for economic mobilization in event of hostilities. Elaborate groundwork for M-Day would be laid during peacetime under the plan. Handed by the President, a national security council would formulate diplomatic and military policy; a resources board would develop policies for controlling wartime economy; a central research agency would co-ordinate scientific work, and a civilian plans board would fit together the activities of the various groups.

TAKE ME ALONG, PLEASE . . . While Leo Peters of New Hyde Park, N. Y., checks the motor of his 1911 Ford for the motorcade of ancient automobiles to Detroit in revival of the Glidden tours, a nosy house takes a gander at what's going on. Dobbin probably has some interesting thoughts about the gas buggy that squeezed him out of things.

NEWS REVIEW

Two U.S. Notes Presage Firm Stand in New Rifts

FOREIGN AFFAIRS: U. S. Stays Tough

If the Russians sought to test American temper on their aggressive postwar diplomacy, they received ample indication that this country would stand fast on a sufficing of its principles.

Even as the state department peppered Russia and its satellites with strong notes, four U. S. cruisers, six destroyers and the giant aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt hovered in the Mediterranean, joining the British fleet in an impressive show of strength.

Yugoslavia—Strongest U. S. action was taken against Tito's Communist-dominated Yugoslav government for shooting down two unprotected American transport planes which strayed off their course while en route from Austria to Italy.

Lashing Belgrade for shooting at the defenseless planes of a friendly nation, the U. S. demanded release of fliers of the stricken craft within 48 hours or threatened referral of the case to the United Nations with Yugoslavia charged with aggressive acts. Ridiculing Belgrade's reference to the incidents as "unhappy accidents," the U. S. stated the attacks were deliberate.

Convinced that the U. S. wasn't fooling, Tito ordered release of the fliers and hastened to tell American newsmen that he had commanded his armed forces to desist from further attacks on planes.

Dardanelles—With the Russians backing up their demand on Turkey for joint control of the Dardanelles straits connecting the Black sea with the Mediterranean with a show of military strength in the surrounding territory, the U. S. warned Moscow that an assault upon Turkish soil would be considered a threat to world peace.

While rejecting Russia's proposal for joint control of the vital waterway with Turkey, the U. S. indicated its willingness to participate in a conference to revise existing regulations and expressed agreement with the Soviet on these points:

1. Merchant ships of all countries should be allowed to use the straits.

2. Warships of the Black sea powers should always be allowed passage through the straits.

3. Special permission should be needed for passage of the warships of other powers through the straits.

Poland—Charging irregularities in counting ballots, censorship restrictions and persecution of non-Communists, the U. S. note to Warsaw accused the Russian-dominated government of violation of its commitments to hold free and unfettered elections.

To achieve such elections, the U. S. said, fullest freedom must be given to such parties as the Polish Workers, Peasants, Labor and Socialists. Further, representatives of those parties must be granted positions on electoral commissions; local results must be announced, and adequate appeal provided for election disputes.

MOBILIZATION: Plan Ahead

Warning that the U. S. will have little time for preparation before the next war, army and navy members of the services' industrial college issued a 37-page report outlining tentative plans for economic mobilization in event of hostilities. Elaborate groundwork for M-Day would be laid during peacetime under the plan. Handed by the President, a national security council would formulate diplomatic and military policy; a resources board would develop policies for controlling wartime economy; a central research agency would co-ordinate scientific work, and a civilian plans board would fit together the activities of the various groups.

In other words, certain belligerent elements in Russia are quite willing to risk war now, and certain elements in England believe a showdown is better now than later. In a charged atmosphere like this, one spark can cause tragedy.

However, this observer's experience in watching foreign affairs convinces him that seldom does any nation provoke an incident if it knows that incident means war; thus the best way to prevent war is to let a prospective belligerent know he will get it in the neck if he sticks his neck out.

In other words, if Russia knows categorically and definitely that she will be at war with us if she becomes an aggressor against the United Nations, then the chances are 100 to 1 Russia will risk no war.

COULD HAVE STOPPED HITLER

To illustrate: If Adolf Hitler had known he would have been at war with France and England when he sent his troops into the Ruhr and Rhineland he never would have given them marching orders. As it was, fearing war, he gave them two sets of orders, one to advance and the second to retreat if the French resisted. Likewise, Hitler never would have sent his troops into Austria if he hadn't known the Allies were unprepared. He was right as later events proved.

Under new law, 71-year-old Representative Hutton W. Summers (Dem., Tex.), chairman of the House Judiciary committee, who is retiring after 17 terms, appears eligible for the largest pension if he wants it.

By paying in $2,674, Summers can receive approximately $6,300 yearly. If he ups the ante on back payments, he can increase that amount only slightly, because congressmen received only $7,500 yearly pay during a large part of his tenure.

With a similar $2,674 payment, Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, defeated for Democratic renomination in the Montana primary, can draw about $4,900 yearly. A like amount is available for Sen. Henrik Shipstead (Rep., Minn.), also defeated.

CONGRESSIONAL PENSIONS

Careers End but Not U. S. Pay

WASHINGTON. — Although their careers as lawmakers on Capitol Hill are over, many of the congressmen who won't return in January can remain on federal payrolls by qualifying for pensions.

At least 57 congressmen have ended their service, 36 of them quitting voluntarily and 21 having been defeated in their campaigns for reelection.

Beginning next year, congressmen who have served long enough and pay the minimum assessment will start drawing retirement pay as do other former federal employees. It will range from $1,500 to upwards of $7,500 a year.

Retiring congressmen who have reached the age of 62 and have met the other qualifications can start getting the checks with the start of 1947. Younger men must wait until they are 62.

Pension provisions of the new congressional reorganization law show that some of the national figures who have gone down to defeat in this year's primaries can have old age security if they meet requirements.

Briefly, these requirements are that they have served six years and that they deposit with the retirement fund a minimum back payment of $2,574 to cover the last five years. If they wish to make larger back payments, they can obtain pensions up to three-fourths of their total average pay while in congress.

RUSSIA'S BIG MISTAKE

WASHINGTON. — If the Soviet government had deliberately set out to make mistakes it couldn't have made more than it has piled up in the past year. In the one year that has passed since V-J Day, Russia has won the ill will of her neighboring countries in Europe, has lost virtually all her friends in the United States and has turned most of the world against her.

In considering our present strained relations with Russia, this is all-important. It indicates that time is running on our side, that Russia's own policies are playing into our hands, and that war can be avoided.

One year ago Soviet Russia was considered the great savior of the world. In Europe, the Russians were given credit, far more than the United States, for liberating the occupied countries, were even hailed by some as the pioneers of a new world order. In the U. S., most Americans had a genuine admiration for the heroism of the Russian people and looked forward to a period of friendly co-operation.

Today that good will has vanished. In all of Russia's satellites, with the possible exception of Finland and Czechoslovakia, the Soviet is extremely unpopular, even hated. Romania and Bulgaria would bolt Russia in a minute were it not for the Red army. Hungary and Austria, which Russia hoped to win over, voted overwhelmingly against the Soviet. In France the strong Communist upsurge now has hit the downgrade. Even in Yugoslavia, where Tito is supposed to be supreme, the Russians are not popular.

Most interesting fact is that the countries nearest the Russians usually dislike them most. Thus in more distant France, there is more pre-Soviet sentiment than in the adjacent Balkans.

Finally, in the American-British zones of Germany, Germans are fearful lest the western allies eventually evacuate and Russia walks in.

U. S. STOCK GOES UP

Thus the world has turned against an aggressor nation. Thus also, the world has turned toward a nation which has no selfish axes to grind and which is attempting to co-operate with the rest of the world.

This is what Secretary of State Byrnes has sincerely tried to do at Paris; and as far as this observer could ascertain, his patient, fair-minded policy is paying dividends. Part of the world, once ready to sing Russia's praises, has veered toward the United States.

Therefore, the No. 1 point of American policy should be to work things out within the family of nations; to put Palestine and other controversial problems under the United Nations; not to let the British drag us into separate alliances. This is our greatest danger. If we become the tail of the British kite, we can be crushed into war with Russia — exactly where the British foreign office imperialists want us. But as long as the smaller independent nations of the world are convinced of our unselfish motives, as long as we remain aloof from both sides, our strength as a world leader is secure.

TENSION INCREASES

However, this alone may not head off war with Russia. As this is written, censored diplomatic dispatches from the Far East report three days of rifle skirmishing between American and Russian troops along the Korean border. This is the first time U. S.-USSR troops have deliberately fired at each other. Another censored dispatch from London reports the British general staff meeting daily to plan strategy for defending the British lifeline in the Near East.

In other words, certain belligerent elements in Russia are quite willing to risk war now, and certain elements in England believe a showdown is better now than later. In a charged atmosphere like this, one spark can cause tragedy.

However, this observer's experience in watching foreign affairs convinces him that seldom does any nation provoke an incident if it knows that incident means war; thus the best way to prevent war is to let a prospective belligerent know he will get it in the neck if he sticks his neck out.

In other words, if Russia knows categorically and definitely that she will be at war with us if she becomes an aggressor against the United Nations, then the chances are 100 to 1 Russia will risk no war.

COULD HAVE STOPPED HITLER

To illustrate: If Adolf Hitler had known he would have been at war with France and England when he sent his troops into the Ruhr and Rhineland he never would have given them marching orders. As it was, fearing war, he gave them two sets of orders, one to advance and the second to retreat if the French resisted. Likewise, Hitler never would have sent his troops into Austria if he hadn't known the Allies were unprepared. He was right as later events proved.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALION

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

CIO'S WAGE BOOST POLICY FORCES INFLATION ON US

WASHINGTON. — Phil Murray called in his CIO union directors for what was supposed to be a re-planning of the economic, if not the political line—and who would not? The news behind the news, is becoming so plain it is beginning to show through. The transparency of recent events has been rather obvious.

Consider, for no more than a few moments, the salient news of the day upon which the CIO directors were gathering together their belongings to attend the supposed re-planning. The Packard Motor company reported its first half-year results upon that day. As CIO is primarily an auto workers union, no report could be more important for Mr. Murray's consideration. It showed this:

Packard netted a loss on operations the first six months of this year of exactly $2,590,158. Last year it earned $1,064,450 in the same period. The loss this year was attributed by the company to the auto and steel strikes for higher wages (increases were granted to the extent of about 20 per cent). Packard was typical of the motor and steel industries. Thus, under ordinary circumstances you would expect a depression, or recession, or at the very least certain strongly deteriorating economic consequences to flow from losses.

DREW ON RESERVES

These were avoided because the company used its reconversion funds and reserves to hold its final net profits at or near the usual figure. If dividends had been cut, the amount of money going out to stockholders would be less and consequently there would be that much less to be spent in the flow of the economy. The companies, then, have paid great sums for the strikes, mostly from their reserves and funds, but the economic consequences of the strikes have luckily been avoided because they had this money available.

But on the very day preceding the foregoing of the CIO leaders, the OPA announced a price increase for automobiles, on the apparent ground that the companies could not be expected to make money at the old prices in view of the increased cost of labor, materials and what not. The prices of Packard were increased more than the average. It's cheapest car was moved up in the list price from $1,510 to $1,624 (about $114, or 7.5 per cent), while its highest list price auto was jumped from $2,654 to $2,863 ($209, which is about 7.9 per cent).

Here then is where we are. No ledgerhead (and I do mean ledgerhead) is necessary to figure it out. Several price increases have already been granted. Another is reported to be in prospect, although I do not have any information concerning that. The forces of inflation are so strongly and unmistakably at work no one can pretend to avoid or ignore them. But Packard stock is still selling around $9 which is hardly inflationary. We have had strikes, losses, have eaten up reserves, have increased costs of materials and workmanship, have held some lines, and some of the CIO leaders have thought the way out is to start the thing all over again with more strikes for another wage increase, which will help force an other price increase — a process which would surely be ruinous because it would spread economic waste as if by whirlwind.

CONTRAST WITH RUSSIA

The AFL could give the CIO bosses some interesting information which should serve as a warning. The Labor Monthly Survey for August has collected recent news reports, penetrating the Russian censorship, and shows these facts: Average wage in a Stalingrad steel plant as late as this July was $64 a month and in a tractor factory $82 a month. The AFL composer of that collection of material on Russian wages and prices reported "Automobiles, radios at home, bathtubs, vacuum cleaners and other things the American worker enjoys daily are nothing but dreams."

PRIMARY 'VICTORIES'

Results in the primaries were not so startling as many commentators tried to indicate. Take Missouri, for instance. This is a state with an historically inquisitive nature. Mr. Truman won there, defeating an opponent in a district adjoining his own. The defeated opponent, Rep. Roger Slaughter, signaled the tragedy by a sharp denunciation of what he called "an alliance" between the CIO political action group and the Democratic national committee.

"No."

"What are you up to you going?"

"Places ladies of their presence."

"I'm willing to fight for tonight."

She had a secret seamer side, the score.

"We won't go into it."

"Here."

"How do you know?"

"I looked."

"You came here."

"Yes, yes—but come home with me."

The grotesque scene, her bright searching gaze, pushed her forward, crushing arrogance.

Duke McCale, privy guarding the wedding Bigelow mansion. He is more serious than the bride and groom-to-be, Vallancourt, and Victoria. There is current that McCale is discussing the situation his secretary and he are dining at a fashion. They are impressed by charm of the club's Sharf Lynn. Sharf goes to join a big, handsome, haincourt!

CHAPTER

The flash of a sparks went by their looked out of the corner and saw that a hair the color of s passing. He recognized. It was Karen saw him, but gave recognition. Her straight ahead in a at the table where with the torch singu ately walked toward

"That your Kare pered.

"Uh-huh."

"Well, I do hope trouble."

If there was, it well-bred and close reached the table a ly to Vallancourt amazed, shaken. He Lynn once, blindly, girl only sat there, her mouth a sulky took something from handed it to Sharf. at Curt, a long, s dering look, and t lincourt made, and t her, but Sharf ca drawing him back. fied in the alcove.

"It was then that ing around to the s his second shock of five tables away, a corner, sat. St. There was a row c in front of him as ordered them all a he did not seem to eyes were sunken prematurely cadav glittered with a amusement that wa

Ann Marriot g hand in an imp "Let's get out of h

Murder in Plain Sight

by GERALD BROWN
W.N.U. FEATURES

Duke McCale, private detective, is guarding the wedding presents at the Bigelow mansion. He senses that old Miss Adelaide Bigelow is afraid of something more serious than theft. He meets the bride and groom-to-be, Veronica and Curt Vallancourt, and Veronica's mother, Sybil, and her brother and sister, Stephen and Victoria. There is a sinister undertone that McCale is quick to catch. He discusses the situation with Ann Marriot, his secretary and fiancée, while they are dining at a fashionable night club. They are impressed by the beauty and charm of the club's featured singer, Shari Lynn. Shari goes to a table and joins a big, handsome man—Curt Vallancourt!

CHAPTER V

The flash of a million golden sparks went by their table. McCale looked out of the corner of his eyes and saw that a tall woman with hair the color of spun sugar was passing. He recognized her immediately. It was Karen Bigelow. She saw him, but gave no glance of recognition. Her eyes were fixed straight ahead in a cold, hard glare at the table where Vallancourt sat with the torch singer. She deliberately walked toward them.

"That you Karen?" Ann whispered.

"Uh-huh."

"Well, I do hope there'll be no trouble."

If there was, it was remarkably well-bred and closely held. Karen reached the table and spoke quickly to Vallancourt. He looked amazed, shaken. He turned to Shari Lynn once, blindly. But the Lynn girl only sat there, utterly relaxed, her mouth a sulky sneer. Karen took something from her bag and handed it to Shari. She looked once at Curt, a long, searching, smoldering look, and turned away. Vallancourt made a move to follow her, but Shari caught his hand, drawing him back. He almost stumbled in the alcove.

It was then that McCale, swiveling around to the startled Ann, had his second shock of the evening. Not five tables away, almost hidden in a corner, sat Stephen Bigelow. There was a row of empty glasses in front of him as though he had ordered them all at one time. Yet he did not seem to be drunk. His eyes were sunken in that face so prematurely cadaverous but they glittered with a cold, sardonic amusement that was frightening.

Ann Marriot gripped McCale's hand in an imploring gesture. "Let's get out of here."

"Maybe the fun is only just beginning," he said, rising with alacrity.

On the steps, a slight altercation was taking place. Karen Bigelow, swathed in ochre wool, was trying to restrain a slightly bedraggled, fustily dressed woman. McCale saw that it was Sylvia Bigelow, bulging out of a sheath of satin.

Karen was saying, "You mustn't go in, Mother Bigelow, you just can't. Let me take you home."

"Get out of my way!" the older woman said.

"I can't let you go in. Besides, he's not there, Sybil. He really isn't there."

"How do you know?"

"I looked."

"You came here to see him?"

"Yes, yes—but he isn't here. Come home with me, Sybil."

The grotesque Sybil hesitated a moment, her bright feverish eyes searching Karen's face. Then she pushed her forcefully aside with crushing arrogance.

The Trail Becomes A Little Plainier

"Let me by," she said, her voice rising hysterically.

There was a limousine at the curb. Karen walked to it, moving like a sleepwalker. She got into it without a backward glance. It rolled away into the dark.

"Well, well," McCale spoke as they settled back into their taxi. "I am more than ever convinced that there is a nigger in the Bigelow woodpile."

"I should say so," Ann smiled wearily. "As our good pal, Rocky, would say—everyone seems one leap ahead of a fat."

It was still quite early. Another night, they might have gone on to one or another of the nightclubs, but McCale was in no mood for it. He knew Ann's evening was probably spoiled, though she said nothing. He reached for her hand, expecting more of her incurable flippancy, but she, too, seemed sunk in a thoughtful depression. When they drew up before the apartment house where she lived, she kissed him lightly before they got out, made no remark when he told the driver to wait. As he fitted her key into the outside door, she spoke.

"Drink?"

"No."

"What are you up to? Where are you going?"

"Places ladies don't grace with their presence."

"I'm willing to forget I'm a lady for tonight."

She had a secret yen for the seamy side, the substra, the obscure.

"We won't go into that now," he said. He turned her head toward him. "Here."

He kissed her hard on the lips, noticing her complete calm indifference. She was angry.

"Thanks ever so."

"Oh, Lord," he groaned, "don't go giving me your impersonation of Bette Davis now. I'm going to the Print Club to see Jerry Tate."

"Oh, all right. Go ahead. I know what you're like when you smell blood, you hound." She searched his face quickly. "Does it look that bad, Duke? I seem to have been feeling it myself all evening, though I've tried to tell myself it was my proximity to you and one of your fabulous hunches."

He nodded slowly. "Yeah. Something tells me there is something very dirty afoot. It's only breaking out in little places here and there, but there's bound to be an explosion of some kind in the offing. I'm short on information, baby, and a little late on the scene. What I do, I've got to do quickly."

"Well, go ahead, but be sure when you pass the Old Howard to stay on the other side of the street."

She laughed, dismissing him with a return to her old facetiousness.

"You are a jealous wench," he chided her, closing the door on her retreating figure.

"Uh-huh."

"Well, I do hope there'll be no trouble."

If there was, it was remarkably well-bred and closely held. Karen reached the table and spoke quickly to Vallancourt. He looked amazed, shaken. He turned to Shari Lynn once, blindly. But the Lynn girl only sat there, utterly relaxed, her mouth a sulky sneer. Karen took something from her bag and handed it to Shari. She looked once at Curt, a long, searching, smoldering look, and turned away. Vallancourt made a move to follow her, but Shari caught his hand, drawing him back. He almost stumbled in the alcove.

It was then that McCale, swiveling around to the startled Ann, had his second shock of the evening. Not five tables away, almost hidden in a corner, sat Stephen Bigelow. There was a row of empty glasses in front of him as though he had ordered them all at one time. Yet he did not seem to be drunk. His eyes were sunken in that face so prematurely cadaverous but they glittered with a cold, sardonic amusement that was frightening.

Ann Marriot gripped McCale's hand in an imploring gesture. "Let's get out of here."

"Maybe the fun is only just beginning," he said, rising with alacrity.

On the steps, a slight altercation was taking place. Karen Bigelow, swathed in ochre wool, was trying to restrain a slightly bedraggled, fustily dressed woman. McCale saw that it was Sylvia Bigelow, bulging out of a sheath of satin.

Karen was saying, "You mustn't go in, Mother Bigelow, you just can't. Let me take you home."

"Get out of my way!" the older woman said.

"I can't let you go in. Besides, he's not there, Sybil. He really isn't there."

"How do you know?"

"I looked."

"You came here to see him?"

"Yes, yes—but he isn't here. Come home with me, Sybil."

The grotesque Sybil hesitated a moment, her bright feverish eyes searching Karen's face. Then she pushed her forcefully aside with crushing arrogance.

The Trail Becomes A Little Plainier

"Let me by," she said, her voice rising hysterically.

There was a limousine at the curb. Karen walked to it, moving like a sleepwalker. She got into it without a backward glance. It rolled away into the dark.

"Well, well," McCale spoke as they settled back into their taxi. "I am more than ever convinced that there is a nigger in the Bigelow woodpile."

"I should say so," Ann smiled wearily. "As our good pal, Rocky, would say—everyone seems one leap ahead of a fat."

It was still quite early. Another night, they might have gone on to one or another of the nightclubs, but McCale was in no mood for it. He knew Ann's evening was probably spoiled, though she said nothing. He reached for her hand, expecting more of her incurable flippancy, but she, too, seemed sunk in a thoughtful depression. When they drew up before the apartment house where she lived, she kissed him lightly before they got out, made no remark when he told the driver to wait. As he fitted her key into the outside door, she spoke.

"Drink?"

"No."

"What are you up to? Where are you going?"

"Places ladies don't grace with their presence."

"I'm willing to forget I'm a lady for tonight."

She had a secret yen for the seamy side, the substra, the obscure.

"We won't go into that now," he said. He turned her head toward him. "Here."

He kissed her hard on the lips, noticing her complete calm indifference. She was angry.

"Thanks ever so."

"Oh, Lord," he groaned, "don't go giving me your impersonation of Bette Davis now. I'm going to the Print Club to see Jerry Tate."

"Oh, all right. Go ahead. I know what you're like when you smell blood, you hound." She searched his face quickly. "Does it look that bad, Duke? I seem to have been feeling it myself all evening, though I've tried to tell myself it was my proximity to you and one of your fabulous hunches."

He nodded slowly. "Yeah. Something tells me there is something very dirty afoot. It's only breaking out in little places here and there, but there's bound to be an explosion of some kind in the offing. I'm short on information, baby, and a little late on the scene. What I do, I've got to do quickly."

"Well, go ahead, but be sure when you pass the Old Howard to stay on the other side of the street."

She laughed, dismissing him with a return to her old facetiousness.

"You are a jealous wench," he chided her, closing the door on her retreating figure.

"Uh-huh."

"Well, I do hope there'll be no trouble."

If there was, it was remarkably well-bred and closely held. Karen reached the table and spoke quickly to Vallancourt. He looked amazed, shaken. He turned to Shari Lynn once, blindly. But the Lynn girl only sat there, utterly relaxed, her mouth a sulky sneer. Karen took something from her bag and handed it to Shari. She looked once at Curt, a long, searching, smoldering look, and turned away. Vallancourt made a move to follow her, but Shari caught his hand, drawing him back. He almost stumbled in the alcove.

It was then that McCale, swiveling around to the startled Ann, had his second shock of the evening. Not five tables away, almost hidden in a corner, sat Stephen Bigelow. There was a row of empty glasses in front of him as though he had ordered them all at one time. Yet he did not seem to be drunk. His eyes were sunken in that face so prematurely cadaverous but they glittered with a cold, sardonic amusement that was frightening.

Ann Marriot gripped McCale's hand in an imploring gesture. "Let's get out of here."

"Maybe the fun is only just beginning," he said, rising with alacrity.

On the steps, a slight altercation was taking place. Karen Bigelow, swathed in ochre wool, was trying to restrain a slightly bedraggled, fustily dressed woman. McCale saw that it was Sylvia Bigelow, bulging out of a sheath of satin.

Karen was saying, "You mustn't go in, Mother Bigelow, you just can't. Let me take you home."

"Get out of my way!" the older woman said.

"I can't let you go in. Besides, he's not there, Sybil. He really isn't there."

"How do you know?"

"I looked."

"You came here to see him?"

"Yes, yes—but he isn't here. Come home with me, Sybil."

The grotesque Sybil hesitated a moment, her bright feverish eyes searching Karen's face. Then she pushed her forcefully aside with crushing arrogance.

The Trail Becomes A Little Plainier

"Let me by," she said, her voice rising hysterically.

There was a limousine at the curb. Karen walked to it, moving like a sleepwalker. She got into it without a backward glance. It rolled away into the dark.

"Well, well," McCale spoke as they settled back into their taxi. "I am more than ever convinced that there is a nigger in the Bigelow woodpile."

"I should say so," Ann smiled wearily. "As our good pal, Rocky, would say—everyone seems one leap ahead of a fat."

It was still quite early. Another night, they might have gone on to one or another of the nightclubs, but McCale was in no mood for it. He knew Ann's evening was probably spoiled, though she said nothing. He reached for her hand, expecting more of her incurable flippancy, but she, too, seemed sunk in a thoughtful depression. When they drew up before the apartment house where she lived, she kissed him lightly before they got out, made no remark when he told the driver to wait. As he fitted her key into the outside door, she spoke.

"Drink?"

"No."

"What are you up to? Where are you going?"

"Places ladies don't grace with their presence."

"I'm willing to forget I'm a lady for tonight."

She had a secret yen for the seamy side, the substra, the obscure.

"We won't go into that now," he said. He turned her head toward him. "Here."

He kissed her hard on the lips, noticing her complete calm indifference. She was angry.

"Thanks ever so."

"Oh, Lord," he groaned, "don't go giving me your impersonation of Bette Davis now. I'm going to the Print Club to see Jerry Tate."

"Oh, all right. Go ahead. I know what you're like when you smell blood, you hound." She searched his face quickly. "Does it look that bad, Duke? I seem to have been feeling it myself all evening, though I've tried to tell myself it was my proximity to you and one of your fabulous hunches."

He nodded slowly. "Yeah. Something tells me there is something very dirty afoot. It's only breaking out in little places here and there, but there's bound to be an explosion of some kind in the offing. I'm short on information, baby, and a little late on the scene. What I do, I've got to do quickly."

"Well, go ahead, but be sure when you pass the Old Howard to stay on the other side of the street."

She laughed, dismissing him with a return to her old facetiousness.

"You are a jealous wench," he chided her, closing the door on her retreating figure.

"Uh-huh."

"Well, I do hope there'll be no trouble."

If there was, it was remarkably well-bred and closely held. Karen reached the table and spoke quickly to Vallancourt. He looked amazed, shaken. He turned to Shari Lynn once, blindly. But the Lynn girl only sat there, utterly relaxed, her mouth a sulky sneer. Karen took something from her bag and handed it to Shari. She looked once at Curt, a long, searching, smoldering look, and turned away. Vallancourt made a move to follow her, but Shari caught his hand, drawing him back. He almost stumbled in the alcove.

It was then that McCale, swiveling around to the startled Ann, had his second shock of the evening. Not five tables away, almost hidden in a corner, sat Stephen Bigelow. There was a row of empty glasses in front of him as though he had ordered them all at one time. Yet he did not seem to be drunk. His eyes were sunken in that face so prematurely cadaverous but they glittered with a cold, sardonic amusement that was frightening.

Ann Marriot gripped McCale's hand in an imploring gesture. "Let's get out of here."

"Maybe the fun is only just beginning," he said, rising with alacrity.

On the steps, a slight altercation was taking place. Karen Bigelow, swathed in ochre wool, was trying to restrain a slightly bedraggled, fustily dressed woman. McCale saw that it was Sylvia Bigelow, bulging out of a sheath of satin.

Karen was saying, "You mustn't go in, Mother Bigelow, you just can't. Let me take you home."

"Get out of my way!" the older woman said.

"I can't let you go in. Besides, he's not there, Sybil. He really isn't there."

"How do you know?"

"I looked."

"You came here to see him?"

"Yes, yes—but he isn't here. Come home with me, Sybil."

The grotesque Sybil hesitated a moment, her bright feverish eyes searching Karen's face. Then she pushed her forcefully aside with crushing arrogance.

The Trail Becomes A Little Plainier

"Let me by," she said, her voice rising hysterically.

There was a limousine at the curb. Karen walked to it, moving like a sleepwalker. She got into it without a backward glance. It rolled away into the dark.

"Well, well," McCale spoke as they settled back into their taxi. "I am more than ever convinced that there is a nigger in the Bigelow woodpile."

"I should say so," Ann smiled wearily. "As our good pal, Rocky, would say—everyone seems one leap ahead of a fat."

It was still quite early. Another night, they might have gone on to one or another of the nightclubs, but McCale was in no mood for it. He knew Ann's evening was probably spoiled, though she said nothing. He reached for her hand, expecting more of her incurable flippancy, but she, too, seemed sunk in a thoughtful depression. When they drew up before the apartment house where she lived, she kissed him lightly before they got out, made no remark when he told the driver to wait. As he fitted her key into the outside door, she spoke.

"Drink?"

"No."

"What are you up to? Where are you going?"

"Places ladies don't grace with their presence."

"I'm willing to forget I'm a lady for tonight."

She had a secret yen for the seamy side, the substra, the obscure.

"We won't go into that now," he said. He turned her head toward him. "Here."

He kissed her hard on the lips, noticing her complete calm indifference. She was angry.

"Thanks ever so."

"Oh, Lord," he groaned, "don't go giving me your impersonation of Bette Davis now. I'm going to the Print Club to see Jerry Tate."

"Oh, all right. Go ahead. I know what you're like when you smell blood, you hound." She searched his face quickly. "Does it look that bad, Duke? I seem to have been feeling it myself all evening, though I've tried to tell myself it was my proximity to you and one of your fabulous hunches."

He nodded slowly. "Yeah. Something tells me there is something very dirty afoot. It's only breaking out in little places here and there, but there's bound to be an explosion of some kind in the offing. I'm short on information, baby, and a little late on the scene. What I do, I've got to do quickly."

"Well, go ahead, but be sure when you pass the Old Howard to stay on the other side of the street."

She laughed, dismissing him with a return to her old facetiousness.

"You are a jealous wench," he chided her, closing the door on her retreating figure.

"Uh-huh."

"Well, I do hope there'll be no trouble."

If there was, it was remarkably well-bred and closely held. Karen reached the table and spoke quickly to Vallancourt. He looked amazed, shaken. He turned to Shari Lynn once, blindly. But the Lynn girl only sat there, utterly relaxed, her mouth a sulky sneer. Karen took something from her bag and handed it to Shari. She looked once at Curt, a long, searching, smoldering look, and turned away. Vallancourt made a move to follow her, but Shari caught his hand, drawing him back. He almost stumbled in the alcove.

It was then that McCale, swiveling around to the startled Ann, had his second shock of the evening. Not five tables away, almost hidden in a corner, sat Stephen Bigelow. There was a row of empty glasses in front of him as though he had ordered them all at one time. Yet he did not seem to be drunk. His eyes were sunken in that face so prematurely cadaverous but they glittered with a cold, sardonic amusement that was frightening.

Ann Marriot gripped McCale's hand in an imploring gesture. "Let's get out of here."

"Maybe the fun is only just beginning," he said, rising with alacrity.

On the steps, a slight altercation was taking place. Karen Bigelow, swathed in ochre wool, was trying to restrain a slightly bedraggled, fustily dressed woman. McCale saw that it was Sylvia Bigelow, bulging out of a sheath of satin.

Karen was saying, "You mustn't go in, Mother Bigelow, you just can't. Let me take you home."

"Get out of my way!" the older woman said.

"I can't let you go in. Besides, he's not there, Sybil. He really isn't there."

"How do you know?"

"I looked."

"You came here to see him?"

"Yes, yes—but he isn't here. Come home with me, Sybil."

The grotesque Sybil hesitated a moment, her bright feverish eyes searching Karen's face. Then she pushed her forcefully aside with crushing arrogance.

The Trail Becomes A Little Plainier

"Let me by," she said, her voice rising hysterically.

There was a limousine at the curb. Karen walked to it, moving like a sleepwalker. She got into it without a backward glance. It rolled away into the dark.

"Well, well," McCale spoke as they settled back into their taxi. "I am more than ever convinced that there is a nigger in the Bigelow woodpile."

"I should say so," Ann smiled wearily. "As our good pal, Rocky, would say—everyone seems one leap ahead of a fat."

It was still quite early. Another night, they might have gone on to one or another of the nightclubs, but McCale was in no mood for it. He knew Ann's evening was probably spoiled, though she said nothing. He reached for her hand, expecting more of her incurable flippancy, but she, too, seemed sunk in a thoughtful depression. When they drew up before the apartment house where she lived, she kissed him lightly before they got out, made no remark when he told the driver to wait. As he fitted her key into the outside door, she spoke.

"Drink?"

"No."

"What are you up to? Where are you going?"

"Places ladies don't grace with their presence."

"I'm willing to forget I'm a lady for tonight."

She had a secret yen for the seamy side, the substra, the obscure.

"We won't go into that now," he said. He turned her head toward him. "Here."

He kissed her hard on the lips, noticing her complete calm indifference. She was angry.

"Thanks ever so."

"Oh, Lord," he groaned, "don't go giving me your impersonation of Bette Davis now. I'm going to the Print Club to see Jerry Tate."

"Oh, all right. Go ahead. I know what you're like when you smell blood, you hound." She searched his face quickly. "Does it look that bad, Duke? I seem to have been feeling it myself all evening, though I've tried to tell myself it was my proximity to you and one of your fabulous hunches."

He nodded slowly. "Yeah. Something tells me there is something very dirty afoot. It's only breaking out in little places here and there, but there's bound to be an explosion of some kind in the offing. I'm short on information, baby, and a little late on the scene. What I do, I've got to do quickly."

"Well, go ahead, but be sure when you pass the Old Howard to stay on the other side of the street."

She laughed, dismissing him with a return to her old facetiousness.

"You are a

MOURNING DOVE and WHITE-WINGED DOVE OPEN SEASONS 1946

MOURNING DOVES

OPEN SEASON — NORTH ZONE: Sept. 1 to Oct. 30, both days inclusive. Shooting hours, one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

SOUTH ZONE: Oct. 20 to Dec 18, both days inclusive, except in Cameron, Hidalgo, Starr, Zapata, Webb, Lavaca, Dimmit, LaSalle, Jim Hogg, Brooks, Kenedy, and Willacy counties where mourning doves may be hunted only on Sept. 13, 15, and 17, from 4 p. m. to sunset, and from Oct. 20 to Dec. 18, from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset.

BAG LIMIT: Not more than 10 per day and not more than 10 in possession.

Unlawful to take white wings or Chachalaca South of U.S. Highway 83 in southern tip of Texas marked on the map as "Game Sanctuary."

No hunting permitted in game refuges and game preserves.

A hunter may not have more than 10 a day of either or both species (white wings or mourning doves) in the aggregate.

White-winged Doves

OPEN SEASON: Sept. 13, 15, and 17, inclusive.

SHOOTING HOURS: 4 p. m. to sunset.

BAG LIMIT: Not more than 10 per day and not more than 10 in possession.

Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission.

GAME SANCTUARY

Shotguns must be permanently plugged to three shell capacity.

Shotguns may not be larger than 10 gauge

Loneta Phillips returned Tuesday after a two weeks vacation trip to points in Mississippi, Louisiana, and Tennessee, making the trip with a cousin and family.

Oby D. Scott arrived last week from San Antonio, where he received his discharge after a year and a half in the army, 13 months of the time in the Pacific.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Jackson over the week end were his brother and wife from Wichita Falls.

Helen Haymes and Frances Smith of Munday are spending this week with Melba Mahon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hegg and son of Abilene were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Honea, Monday.

Louis Bowers and John Holliman of Ozona are visiting in the F. M. Williams home this week and attending the rodeo at Colorado City.

Mrs. R. W. Hall and Marvin and Garland and Richey Cary spent from Thursday until Sunday with Mrs. Hall's daughter, Mrs. Bill Spence and family at Dalhart.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mahon and sons Bryan and Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Muns and Mrs. J. S. Muns attended a buffet birthday supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Muns in Sweetwater Thursday night, the occasion honored Mr. Mahon and Claud Muns on their birthdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Walker and Jean, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Butler and Kenny Sue visited relatives in Midland Saturday night and Sunday.

Don Narrell left Saturday for Fort Worth to enter T. C. U. Classes are to begin September 9. Don will play on the TCU football team and started practice September 3.

Edwin Hallmark of Beaumont spent from Saturday until Monday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hallmark. Mr. and Mrs. Hallmark met him in Abilene and carried him back Monday to take the train.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Caswell and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Nance of Midland spent Sunday and Monday with Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hart.

Mrs. Nora Jones met her sister, Mrs. W. H. Gayle of McCamey, at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. S. Cotton in Sterling City and visited with them from Thursday until Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Reeder of Abernathy spent the week end here with her mother, Mrs. S. J. Norman.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Briens over the week end were their daughter, Mrs. J. R. McMillan and husband of Shreveport, La., Mr. and Mrs. Horace Glen Love of Colorado City.

Mrs. W. S. Thomas returned Sunday night after two weeks' visit with her daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd House and family at Electra, and Mr. and Mrs. William Simmons in Spearman.

Ebbie and Joe Graham left last week for Pontotoc, Mississippi where they attended the funeral of their uncle.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Burdine of Midland spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Martin.

J. V. Dixon and sons of Los Angeles, California, are visiting in the Marshall Bruce home and with other friends here this week.

Mrs. K. L. Taylor returned Saturday night after undergoing major surgery at a Dallas hospital.

Mr. Beverly Lydie of Detroit, Michigan, visited Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Hart Thursday.

Mrs. Allen Nelson returned to her home in Clyde Wednesday after spending several days with Mrs. W. E. Dickenson and Miss Lillie Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Page and Beverly of Lubbock spent from Saturday until Monday with her mother and sister, Mrs. Sallie Clement and Mrs. G. K. Baker.

Reta Beights of Midland spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Beights.

CASWELL REUNION

The home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Caswell of Landers was the setting for a family reunion on Sunday, September 1. Their twelve children were present with their parents for the first time in twelve years.

At noon a covered dish lunch was served. The afternoon was spent taking pictures, playing 42 and visiting.

The children present were Messrs. and Mmes. Carl Caswell and family, C. H. Williams and family of Dunn, Floyd McCann and family of Calexico, Calif., Lemuel Caswell and family of Lorraine, J. C. Ferguson and family of Ralls, Foy Yarbrough and family of Lorraine, George Caswell of Odessa, Mitchell Caswell and family of Lorraine, Herman Johnson of Roscoe, Arley McAdams of Judsonia, Arkansas, Silas and Leonard Caswell of Lorraine. A granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Mitchell of Colorado City, and a friend, Carl Jones of Ralls, were also present. Twenty-nine grandchildren and one great-grandson were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Faulkenberry left today after spending a week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Faulkenberry and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brown. Garland return to school at A. and M. and Mrs. Faulkenberry will teach at Calvert.

Mr. and Mrs. Olan Griffith of Big Spring spent Saturday night and Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bennett.

Mrs. W. E. Bryant and Mrs. C. L. Woods of Jacksboro were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crosby Sunday.

Roy Price of Midland spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Price.

MEET THE KID WHO'S TOPS
—READ—
LITTLE REGGIE

Thank You Friends

Kindly pardon the delay, but I do wish to sincerely thank my friends who supported me in the race for County Clerk. By your vote you have elected me to the office, and I shall faithfully serve you to the best of my ability.

Sincerely,

Gilbert Leach

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Morgan of Santa Ana, California, are visiting his father, O. K. Morgan, and Mrs. Morgan.

Mrs. Marion Rhodes and Marion Ellen and Mrs. Noble McGee and Sherry left Sunday for San Antonio to visit their sisters and to meet S/Sgt. Marion Rhodes, who will receive his discharge there the last of this week. He arrived in the States last Friday from Yokohama, Japan, after spending 19 months in the Pacific.

Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall visited with Mr. and Mrs. Scott Robertson in Lamesa Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Grauke and children of San Angelo, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clark and Patty Sue, and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Clark and Judy of Lubbock spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Richey. Mrs. Laura Clark returned with them to her home in Christoval after spending two weeks in the Richey home.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bennett of Colorado City are the parents of a son, Thomas Burdine, born August 31.

Otis Muns spent the first of this week in Fort Worth and Dallas on business.

Concrete Building Tile

5x8x12 and Fractional Sizes

Suitable for all types of Buildings

$100 per Thousand

Home Builders Supply

One Block West of Sweetwater Auction Barn

Sweetwater, Texas

CHROME SPOT LIGHTS and FOG LIGHTS.

COTTON SCALES, 160 pound capacity.

GOODYEAR TRACTOR TIRES, Front and Rear. The tire that has proven first for thirty-one years.

NEW CHEVROLET CARBURETORS, original equipment in exchange $10.50

GOOD STOCK OF PISTON RINGS for Car and Tractor

We will be glad to serve you in your car needs.

Tartt Auto Supply

Select the POPULAR
BRANDS

WE DELIVER ANY TIME DURING THE DAY
CALL 82

WHITE EVERLITE

Flour 50 lb 3.35
25 lb 1.79

1 POUND, 3 OUNCE CAN

Beans & Barbecue .25

Thrill Tamales lb .19

LAMPO

Hot Sauce 10 oz Jar .35

RIBBON CANE

Syrup gal. 1.25
1-2 gal. .65

LIBBY'S

Tomato Juice 47 oz .30
Pt 2 oz .15

WHOLE

Green Beans No 2 .20

Dill Pickles Qt .42

All Sizes Light Globes

School Supplies

WE HAVE COTTON SACKS

Evert Henderson Gro.

Phone 82

Let's get squirrelly!

THE squirrels have the right idea when they store their food for winter. But we've beat them at their own game; we can can, freeze, brine and dry as well as store ours.

THE best plan is to consider all the various ways and choose those suited to your family needs. You'll add zest and variety to winter menus.

BESIDES giving you a wide choice in meal planning, you also get more real enjoyment out of eating food you have preserved yourself!

FREEZING is the SAFEST WAY TO SAVE FOOD

Lorraine Cooperative Ass'n.

Phone 124

August B. Hackfeld, Mgr.

Lorraine, Texas

olph Grauke Angelo, and Clark and Mrs. M. of Lubbock and Sunday turned with Christoval weeks in the old Bennett the parents ardine, born

the first of Worth and le

y

The tire

quipment
$10.50

Tractor

35

79

25

19 35

25

65

30

15

20 12

The Mitchell County News
Published in the interest of Loraine and its trade territory.
Published Weekly on Thursday
J. W. King, Editor and Publisher
Mrs. Roy Baird, Society Editor

MEMBER 1946
NATIONAL EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Published in Loraine, Texas, and entered as second-class mail matter May 23, 1931, at the Post Office in Loraine, Texas under the Act of Congress March 3, 1879.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character or reputation of any person, firm or corporation, which may occur in the columns of The Mitchell County News will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the publisher.

Advertising Rate: Local readers ten cents per line. Classified advertising, one cent per word each insertion with a minimum charge of 25 cents for first insertion. Display advertising rates will be furnished on application.

Subscription Rate
In Mitchell and Adjoining Counties
One Year$1.50
Three Months40c
Outside Mitchell and Adjoining Counties
One Year$2.00
Three Months60c
In Advance

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I signed a statement before my discharge that my disability existed prior to my enlistment. Does this bar me from receiving a pension?

A. No. Under Title 1, Section 105, Public Law 346, 78th Congress, any statement of this nature which you may have made at discharge is considered null and void.

Q. Are insurance benefits received by the parent considered as income?

A. In determining dependency, amounts received by the mother or father from any insurance under the War Risk Insurance Act, or the World War Veterans Act of 1924 as amended, or the National Service Life Insurance Act as amended will be disregarded.

Q. Under what circumstances are parents considered dependent?

A. Dependency will be held to exist if the parents do not have an income sufficient to provide reasonable maintenance for themselves and members of their family under legal age or otherwise dependent by reason of mental or physical incapacity.

Q. I am in receipt of peacetime benefits for disability incurred prior to December 7, 1941. Why am I not entitled to wartime benefits for this period?

A. Since the World War II did not start until December 7, 1941, veterans with disabilities incurred in service prior to that time are not entitled to wartime benefits unless their service falls under the provisions of Public 359, 77th Congress, which provides that wartime rates would be authorized if the disability was the direct result of armed conflict or was received while the veteran was engaged in extra hazardous service including such service under conditions simulating war.

Typical Texas hospital scene showing student nurses at laboratory test work. The Texas League of Nursing Education, in cooperation with other state agencies, has called for the enrollment of 2,000 student nurses in September to help avert a shortage that threatens hospital bed space, which already is 23 per cent below capacity in the nation because of a dearth of nurses. (Above picture made at Harris Memorial Methodist Hospital, Fort Worth.)

USED FAT SALVAGE CHIEF HOPE FOR MORE SOAP AND SUPPLIES

World Scarcity of Fats and Oils Means That Kitchen Grease Saving Is Principal Source of Additional Supplies

Hundreds of letters are received every day by the Department of Agriculture and the American Fat Salvage Committee regarding the relation between fat salvage and soap. "It takes a week or even two to save a pound of used cooking grease," these letters say, "and that is a lot of work." "Where," the writers continue in the next line, "is the soap my used fat is making?"

When a housewife turns a pound of used cooking fat over to the meat dealer, she enables industry to make six bars of laundry soap that it otherwise could not make, according to the figures released by Washington experts.

One pound of used fat salvage is enough to help make approximately one large box of packaged laundry soap—the kind that is currently hard to get—or six bars of toilet soap.

On the basis of these figures, if a housewife turns over to the meat dealer one pound of used cooking fat, she makes for herself two weeks' supply of packaged soap, or eight weeks' supply of laundry bar soap. It is pointed out by The American Fat Salvage Committee.

Further, if it had not been for fat salvage, consumers would either have gotten thirteen per cent less soap in 1945, or the government would have had to divert food fats to the manufacture of soap. During representatives in all larger communities.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hall and Ruth Ann, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Riden and Mrs. Dan Butler visited in the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hankins and Mrs. R. E. Bennett and Earl Jackson in Lubbock last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Hall remained and are spending this week in the Hankins and the J. B. Coots home in Dalhart.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wemken of Hermann visited in the E. O. Leggett and W. M. Mahoney homes Sunday.

1945, the statisticians say, salvaged household fat supplied enough fats to produce approximately half of the toilet bar soap, all of the yellow bar soap, about 25% of the heavy duty packaged laundry soap, or twice as much as was needed to produce the fine fabric packaged soaps.

By-Products Too
All this in addition to the by-products of soap making, that help make paints, printing ink, fabrics, cellophane, electrical appliances, linoleum and hundreds more everyday necessities.

These figures mean that while soap was one of the shortest commodities last year, it would have been practically extinct if it had not been for the used cooking fat salvaged by American housewives. Every time a woman falls to drain used fat from her frying pan, skim soup, render down table scraps and raw fat cut from meat before cooking, she is throwing hard-to-get soap out of the window.

"American women can help themselves get more soap, and help the famine areas of the world get more food fats and oils simply by conserving all fats and oils, turning every drop of used cooking fat over to the meat dealer for four cents a pound," The American Fat Salvage Committee says.

FOOTBALL ROADS DANGER TO FANS

Football fans suffer even more than the players, says Thomas N. Boate, special service director of the National Conservation Bureau.

According to statistics compiled by the accident prevention division of the Association of Casualty and Surety Executives there are more deaths and injuries to spectators in traffic accidents going to and from the games, and from other causes, than to the brawny young athletes on the gridiron.

The most heavily attended games lie in the weeks just ahead, Mr. Boate says, but they need not be marred by tragedy if the fans will exercise precautions:

"Allow plenty of time to get to the game," he suggests. "Don't join the mad rush to be first out of the stadium after its over. If you are drinking don't drive—let someone else take the wheel. Try to avoid driving home immediately after the game when the traffic congestion is heaviest, and wear warm clothing as a comfortable shield against cold weather and against catching cold."

KILL RED ANTS! You can easily rid your premises of Red Ant Beds with Durham's Extermo Ant Balls at a cost of less than 5c per dozen. Six Balls 30c and 12 Balls 50c at your druggist or at

LORAIN DRUG

SCALP TROUBLE! You must find DURHAM'S RESORCIN the best preparation ever used for itching scalp, loose dandruff or falling hair or purchase price promptly refunded. Large bottle only 75c at

LORAIN DRUG

VETERANS POST
No. 555
Loraine, Texas
Meets each First and Third Tuesday night.
All veterans are invited.

Professional Directory

COLORADO CITY

J. P. Majors

Mitchell County's Oldest Jeweler and Optometrist
Quality Watch Repairs
AND Correctly Fitted Glasses
At prices you can afford to pay.

Visit our store when in COLORADO CITY

Dr. R. D. Bridgford

DENTIST

X-RAY

Office in Root Building
Colorado City, Texas
Phone 484 Res. Phone 522
Calls Answered Day or Night

COLORADO CITY

ABSTRACT CO.

Office: Ratliff-Worrell Bldg.

MAYME T. DOZIER, Mgr.

LORAIN

K. L. Taylor, Agent

GENERAL INSURANCE

If You Want To BUY, SELL OR TRADE
See

J. C. Hall

Notary Public in Office

THOMPSON & GRIFFITH

Attorneys At Law

Colorado City, Texas

Practice in all Courts

FIRE & HAIL INSURANCE

AND

CAR INSURANCE

SEE

WOODROW PRATT

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Haralson and sons, Hal, Dale and Ken, visited her sister and brother, Mrs. J. W. Ware and Perry O. Barber and their families in Ft. Worth and Dallas last week. Hal remained in Ft. Worth and returned by bus Monday.

Mrs. D. R. Smith spent the first of this week with her daughter, Mrs. Loal Brown and family, in Odessa.

Mrs. J. E. Spikes, Mrs. Fay McCollum, and Gladys Spikes Gypsy Ted McCollum and Mr. and Mrs. Burr Brown visited in the Howard and Mart Spikes homes in Benjamin Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. J. L. Johnson returned Thursday night after spending two weeks with her daughters, Mrs. Bill Cates and family at Thalia, and Dell Johnson in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Mrs. W. W. Eaves and son Jimmy of Plainview, and Miss Mary Kent of Crane visited their sister, Mrs. H. L. Leach and family last week.

STOCKMEN SAVE!

Our 75c bottle of DURHAM'S PINK EYE PRESCRIPTION contains four times as much powder as most $1.00 brands and is absolutely guaranteed to relieve Pink Eye—or your money back.

LORAIN DRUG

Go By Bus LORAIN to
LOS ANGELES
Only $22.90 Plus Tax
COMBS DRUG STORE
Telephone 66
AMERICAN BUSLINES

For—

STAPLE DRUGS

POULTRY REMEDIES

FOUNTAIN DRINKS

and

GIFTS

COMBS DRUG STORE

Radiator Service

CLEANING & REPAIRING

All Work Guaranteed

Located in Peterson's Garage

J. J. BRASIER

Announcing—

The opening of my new Radio Repair Shop.

ALL WORK GUARANTEED

Wilson's Radio Service

DUDLEY WILSON
Across from Post Office in SWEETWATER

Sherwin-Williams Paint

WALL PAPER

PIPE FITTINGS and WELL SUPPLIES

HIGGINBOTHAM BARTLETT CO.

ALBERT HISER

Reynolds Electric Motor Service

Phone 721 Days 2435 Nights

MOTORS REWOUND AND REPAIRED

FACTORY BUILT AIR CONDITIONERS

COMFORT AIR WASHERS

ELECTRIC FARM AND RANCH MACHINERY

114 Cedar Street, Sweetwater, Texas
Mr. Reynolds, Owner

Congratulations

To Mr. and Mrs. Percy Bond

On Opening Their

New Theatre

In Loraine

Air Conditioning - Lighting

Furnished by

Kirschbaum's

COLORADO CITY, TEXAS

Texas Boys Win

Carson

Barton

McLendon

TOP HONORS for Texas in the 1946 model car design competition of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild went to Jean Carson of Borger, who won the state junior award, and Charles D. McLendon, of Longview, who took senior division honors. Young Carson's model also received a regional award as the best junior in the states of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma. Because he is the son of a GMC truck dealer, Craftsman's Guild rules require a duplicate award to the next highest ranking boy for state junior honors. This was received by Dan K. Barton of McAllen, while Robert Eskridge of Little Rock, Ark., was named a junior co-regional winner. Carson and Eskridge will attend the national convention at Detroit, Mich., to compete for university scholarships. The Craftsman's Guild is an educational foundation sponsored by General Motors to encourage development of handicraft and craftsmanship among teen-age boys.

TWO GOOD REASONS

There are two good reasons why our Bank advertises. First, in order to tell the people the advantages we have to offer them. Second, it is to build up a good, strong, reliable, helpful bank.

We are anxious to be of service, to meet the banking needs of our customers. The stronger our Bank the better our position to render service. That's why we are talking to you each week. We feel that our interests are mutual. If you are not already a patron of our Bank, we invite you to join us. In union there is strength.

FIRST STATE BANK

A HOME OWNED SERVICE INSTITUTION MEMBER FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM AND FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

Congratulations

TO MR. AND MRS. PERCY BOND ON THE COMPLETION OF THEIR NEW THEATRE BUILDING IN LORAIN

MR. AND MRS. BOND HAVE SPARED NO EXPENSE TO GIVE LORAIN ONE OF THE NICEST THEATRES IN WEST TEXAS, AND WE ARE ALL PROUD OF THE FACT THAT THEY HAVE FAITH ENOUGH IN OUR TOWN AND COMMUNITY TO BUILD SUCH A NICE BUILDING HERE. MR. AND MRS. BOND DESERVE THE PATRONAGE OF ALL THEATRE GOING PEOPLE IN THIS SECTION AND WE ALL URGE EACH OF YOU TO JOIN US IN ATTENDING THE THEATRE ON THEIR GRAND OPENING NIGHT, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12.

This Advertisement Sponsored By The Following Business Firms and Individuals of Lorain, Texas

D. F. BUTLER & SONS
Grocery & Market Phone 50

W. C. HOUSE & SON
Grocery & Market Phone 60

McGEE GROCERY
Phone 84

HIGGINBOTHAM-BARTLETT COMPANY

FAY'S BEAUTY SHOP
Phone 27

WEBB'S SERVICE STATION
Phone 14

LORAIN GARAGE
M. C. Carpenter & Son

CHAMNESS WELDING SHOP
Phone 100

LORAIN TELEPHONE CO.
Varnell Templeton

LORAIN COOPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

HACKFELD BROS. & SON
Grain and Seed Dealers

CHARLES W. LAWRENCE
(Former Lorain Citizen)

EVERT HENDERSON GRO.
Phone 82

RICHARD CAFE
Phone 127

THE J-C OIL COMPANY
Phone 180

HENDERSON CAFE
"Home of Good Eats"

JOE BRYANT CAFE
"A Good Place To Eat"

THORNHILL-PRESTON
DRY GOODS

LORAIN CLEANERS
W. E. Stribling

PRESTON'S CAFE
"A Homelike Place To Eat"

J. B. MAHON MOTOR CO.
Chrysler-Plymouth & GMC

TARTT AUTO SUPPLY
Parts for Cars, Trucks, Tractors

COMBS DRUG STORE
Phone 66

COLORADO APPLIANCE
S. A. Martin

PRATT SERVICE STATION
Texaco Products

MR. & MRS. W. P. MAYES
Sinclair Station

LORAIN DRUG
Prescription Druggists

R. H. PHILLIPS GEO. &
SERVICE STA. Phone 148

HALL & SMALL
SERVICE STATION

LEGGOTT LAUNDRY
Phone 72

TURNBOW BLACKSMITH
& WELDING SHOP

J. W. MOORE
Ice, Coal, and Feed Grinding

WALKER MOTOR CO.
J. L. Case Tractors- Pontiac Cars

LORAIN FURNITURE CO.
Furniture and Hardware

CO-OPERATIVE GIN ASS'N.
Frank Crownover, Mgr.

PRODUCERS GIN CO.
Ben Bowlin, Mgr.

CRAGHEAD HATCHERY
Garvis Craghead

MARTIN'S MENS STORE
Fortune Shoes

MOTE AUTO SUPPLY
Phone 155

AL PETERSON GARAGE
Auto Repairing

J. J. BRASIER RADIATOR
SHOP

COON & PRATT
Grain Dealers

GUITAR GIN
Clyde Smith, Mgr.

J. J. DONNELL
MAGNOLIA STATION

HOWARD PRESTON
SERVICE STATION

OLEN MAYES
Butane Gas Dealer

GULF STATION
Glen Coon

JOHNSON HOSPITAL
Phone 47

C. M. DUKE
Phone 182

CLAUD WOODS LAUNDRY
Phone 44

FIRST STATE BANK
K. L. Taylor, Cashier

K. L. TAYLOR AGENT
Insurance

FRED E. ISON
DRY GOODS

THE REVOLUTIONARY PLOW

GRAHAM-HOEME PLOW

10--BIG FEATURES--10

SELF-SHARPENING POINTS — NO SIDE DRAFT
EXTRA LIGHT DRAFT—NOTHING TO GREASE
PLOWES ALL TYPES OF LAND WITHOUT ADJUSTMENTS
PREVENTS EROSION BY WIND AND WATER
BUILT TO LAST A LIFETIME CUTS PLOWING COST IN HALF—DOUBLES SUB-SOIL MOISTURE

FOR SALE BY

WALKER MOTOR CO.

Wayland Roberts Marries Miss Archie L. Caffey

Archie Lee Caffey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Caffey of Colorado City, and Wayland Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roberts of Lorraine, were married Sunday evening at 6:30 in the home of the bride's parents with Rev. Bradford, pastor of the First Baptist Church, reading the double ring ceremony.

The couple stood before the fireplace which was surrounded by greenery entwined with white gladiolas and asters, making a background with tapers in candelabras centering the mantle. Miss Frances Merle Cooper sang Because and Oh, Promise Me. Mrs. James Payne played traditional wedding music during the ceremony.

Mrs. Ross Dixon, Jr., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore navy dress with a shoulder corsage of pink asters.

Leon Duke of Lorraine was best man. Ushers were Ross Dixon, Jr., and Morris Caffey.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a sheer grey wool two-piece dress with black accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid corsage. She wore a string of pearls, a gift from the groom.

The bride is a graduate of Colorado City high school and attended college for three years. Mr. Roberts graduated from Lorraine high school and attended John Tarleton college until he enlisted in the Army Air Forces, where he served two and a half years. He received his discharge in January, 1946.

Following the wedding a reception was hosted by the brides parents. The dining table was laid with lace cloth and the large three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was cut by the bride and groom. Maxine Roberts and Mrs. Rose were seated at the refreshment table serving fruit punch and cake. Mrs. Mitt Geiger presided at the registry.

Those attending the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Caffey; Jack, Bob and Morris Caffey; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Roberts and Maxine; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brinkley and Panny Bell; Finis Shurtleff; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Dixon, Jr.; Mrs. D. Gary; Mrs. Murphy; Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Geiger; Frances Merle Cooper; Mrs. James Paul Cooper; Leon Duke; Bonnie Ruth West; and Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Wilson of Brownwood.

School Opened Monday Morning

The Lorraine Public Schools opened Monday morning with a total enrollment of 392, 123 in high school and 269 in grade school. This was 15 less than enrolled on the first day last year, according to Superintendent G. W. Parish.

The school lunch room the first two days of school fed more than 300, which was far more than ate at the lunch room at the opening of school last year.

Football players were issued suits and started practice Monday afternoon. The team is light and Coach Dickenson is having difficulty filling some important places on the squad, especially the tackle positions. Most of the boys have had considerable experience and even though they are light, expect to make a good showing this fall. Their first game will be with Stanton, at Stanton, on September 20.

Cheese Soufflé—When Meat is Scarce

Here's the answer for today's meal and many other days ahead—golden-brown Cheese Soufflé that's a picture of deliciousness as it comes out of the oven. Light as a summer breeze and so easy to make with this tested recipe, it is also a perfect substitute for meat. Serve the family's favorite vegetables and round out the meal with fresh fruit and iced tea or coffee. The family will never miss the meat and you'll win new honors as a cook.

Light as a feather, it melts in the mouth

CHEESE SOUFFLÉ

4 tablespoons Spry
5 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
dash of cayenne
1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup grated yellow cheese or smoked cheese 6 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon-colored 6 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Melt Spry in saucepan, add flour, salt, paprika, and cayenne and blend well. Add milk gradually and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add cheese and stir over low heat until cheese is melted. Remove from heat. Add beaten egg yolks, and blend thoroughly. Fold in beaten egg whites. Pour into 1 1/2-quart Spry-coated casserole and place casserole in pan of warm water. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 40-50 minutes. The soufflé should have a golden-brown crust on top. Serves 6.

GRAND OPENING

LOREX Theatre

LORRAINE, TEXAS

IN NEW BUILDING

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 12th

SHOWING

"The Southerner"

COME HELP US CELEBRATE THE OPENING

BOBBY SOX

By Marty Links

"Dad, can I establish a drawing account on my weekly allowance?"

CROSS TOWN

By Roland Coe

"Until you learn the difference between a zinnia and a weed you can keep that hoe out of my flower bed."

NANCY

GOODNESS, THIS HEAT IS AWFUL

WOW!... WHAT A NICE COOL BREEZE COMING UP HERE

I MUST GET SLUGGO

By Ernie Bushmiller

MUTT AND JEFF

By Bud Fisher

LITTLE REGGIE

By Margarita

JITTER

By Arthur Pointer

REG'LAR FELLERS

By Gene Byrnes

VIRGIL

By Len Kleis

SILENT SAM

By Jeff Hayes

THE PSYCHIATRIST AND THE WORLD

"Psychiatry may play an important part in world peace, United Nations World Health Organization is told."—News Item

Doctor (looking at the battered world) — Now just relax and be perfectly candid with me. I want to find out what's the matter with you.

World — Can you find anything that ain't?

Doctor — It's all a matter of psychiatry, I think; just a matter of reviewing your past life.

World — Reviewing my past will be no help, doc. It only makes me feel worse.

Doctor — Just leave that to me. Now we've got to find out what has made you get the way you do. Did anything ever happen to you as a child? Did you ever fall out of your high chair?

World — I couldn't say for certain. But I've been falling out of it ever since!

Doctor — I ask that because I observe many bruises on your head.

World — You should see the ones in some other places!

Doctor — Was your home life marked by violence at any period?

World — Sometimes I don't feel that I had any home life; it seems that I was always on horseback or on an army truck.

Doctor — Did you as a child feel frustrated, unable to express your desires?

World — One time when I showed up with gun powder, which was really a lovely plaything, they bawled me out sumpin' awful. I got licked for that, too.

Doctor — Clear as a bell! They filled your young mind with the feeling of frustrations. Your natural development was thwarted. I'll bet they even objected when you played with poison gas.

World — Yep. What a row they made. I remember they said I would come to no good end and might even wind up as the kind of boy who would throw atom bombs.

Doctor — Just as I thought! You were never allowed to express yourself fully! You became an introvert, a duplexvert and possibly a nincomvert.

World — Yeah! Ain't parents awful?

(This settles everything. The psychiatrist promises to fix him up in no time. All he has to do is to let himself go, shake off all inhibitions, regard himself as master of his fate, take some new vitamins, and come in every Tuesday between wars.)

Four Years Later

"Cuadacanal invaded four years ago this month."—News item.

From the dead of Tanembogo, From Tulagi's sandy graves And through Lunga's battered palm trees

And from shallow, fetid caves Come the voices of our heroes Like a challenge tensely hurled.

"What about them lofty speeches? 'How's about that better world?'"

Gaunt, gray ghosts of valiant young sters— Kids who made the sacrifice— Sir beneath the palm fronds asking

"Cancha make it worth the price? What of goals for which we battled? What of dreams that made us glad? And the world can merely whisper, 'Would we had the answer, lad!'"

QUITE A GIRL!

"SITUATION WANTED — Young woman, eager to be world citizen, seeks work abroad, preferably on continent. Secretary, script writer, radio actress, charm lecturer, fashion model. Attractive, educated, alert to unusual. Box 425 Q."—Saturday Review.

If she could only do the laundry and give bird calls!

A West Haven, Conn., man, John Spahenberg, has developed the winner of a chicken-of-tomorrow nationwide elimination contest. It weighs almost four pounds at the age of 14 weeks. Now if something will be done toward smaller potatoes we may get a good chicken pie.

Voice of Old Time Ball Fans

This makes us feel old, wizened wrecks: Those views of Tyron Cobb in specs.

"OPA Raises Price of Bread"—headline.

What goes? We thought OPA was for keeping down the costs of living. First it authorizes the smaller loaf; now it ups the charge. We have an idea for a profitable business: A detective agency, protecting bread boxes in any home.

John R. Steelman has refused to approve another wage raise for "mter workers. His reply in effect is to you!"

SEWING CIRCLE PATTERNS

Side-Buttoned Frock Flattering

Pattern No. 1538 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 40 and 42. Size 14, 3 1/2 yards of 35 or 39-inch.

Send your order to:
SEWING CIRCLE PATTERN DEPT.
530 South Wells St. Chicago 7, Ill.
Enclose 25 cents in coins for each pattern desired.

Pattern No. _____ Size _____
Name _____
Address _____

A GREAT VALUE MOROLINE QUALITY PETROLEUM 10¢

SOIL-OFF

Cleans painted surfaces like dusting

No Mixing! No Rinsing! No Water! No Drying!

+ Seals paint pores
+ Disinfects—Deodorizes
+ Removes yellow discoloration + Refreshes color

all in one operation

America's Finest Liquid Paint Cleaner

SCALLOPED side closing makes a striking trim on this smart daytime frock. Wide extended shoulders are comfortable, and accent a neat trim waist. Wear it everywhere with assurance—your audience is sure to approve.

No baking failures BECAUSE YEAST GOT WEAK

New Fleischmann's Fast Rising Dry Yeast keeps for weeks on your pantry shelf

If you bake at home—you can always depend on New Fleischmann's Fast Rising Dry Yeast to give you perfect ringings... delicious bread... every time you bake!

Ready for instant action—New Fleischmann's Fast Rising keeps fresh and potent for weeks—lets you bake at a moment's notice! Don't risk baking failures with weak yeast—get New Fleischmann's Fast Rising today. At your grocer's.

TENDER-CRISP AND FRESH PROTECTED

ftering designed for sizes nd 42. Size 14, 3 1/2

ATTEN DEPT.
Chicago 7, Ill.
n coins for each

Size

ROLINE
ETROLEUM 10¢
NO JAR

OFF
d surfaces ting
No Rusting!
No Drying!

Paints
Paint Cleaner

TWEAK

st keeps

MAN'S
ING
AST

SH!

P

ED

CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT

AUTOS, TRUCKS & ACCESS.
Quick Sale—10 only, 20 H. P. WIS-CONSIN 4 cylinder air-cooled gasoline engines—$150 each one of all. Also recomended "Jeep" engines at $131.
H. ORR Rockdale, Texas.

ale auto seat covers, $15 val., plaid fiber, satherette trim, 1,000 models. Sedans
1.95. Coupes and front seats, 2-drs.,
3.45. Shipped c. o. d. postpaid. Lubbeck Seat Cover Co., 1911-N. Lubbeck, Texas.

BUSINESS & INVEST. OPPOR.
FOR SALE—New modern courts, Hotel, large lobby and 11 rooms, 16 cabins, 3 g.
ages, 1 1/2 miles from Highway 60.
GLADYS BRYANT
Box 1015 Clovis, New Mexico.

BUILDING MATERIALS
FOR SALE—Concrete block machines and mixers make over 1,000 blocks per day for 3/5¢ per block. Very low price and easy to operate. Standard size blocks.
Phone 3-7704. JOHNNIE ANDREWS, 1121
Oak Knoll Drive, Fort Worth, Texas.

FARMS AND RANCHES
FOR SALE
Ideal stock farm, 290 acres, 1/2 timbered and 1/2 prairie grassland, 30 acres cultivated. In corn. Ranch style rock home, 4 rooms, modern, bath, butane gas, windmill, running creek, 50 pecan trees, barn and sheep shed. A real bargain at $75 net acre. Immediate possession. O. K. MOORE, Rt. 1, Ireland, Texas. SEE: J. W.
ALLEN, Brown House, Hamilton, Texas.

ARIZONA DAIRY
Includes cows, real estate, equipment $200.
100 gross, $50,000 net. Price $50,000.
Terms on real estate, bargain.
OEO. FINDLEY
218 Ariz. Title Bldg. Phoenix, Ariz.

FOR SALE
57 acres, 2 miles cove, near pavement and elec. 4 room box house, good water, $20 per acre. Write BOX 68, Lockesburg, Ark.

FOR SALE
278 acres road black land, 7 miles out on paved Glen Rose highway, 140 acres in cultivation; balance good grass. Good improvements. R. E. A. service, $50 per acre.
MARSHALL KAY
Box 676 Stephenville, Texas.

FARM MACHINERY & EQUIP.
ALIDA RED CEDAR POST make want sale, carload lots, low prices. Write Hugh Chisholm, Bonners Ferry, Idaho.

HOME FURNISHINGS & APPL.
REPAIRS For Stoves and Oil Stoves—Ranges, Boilers—
Furnaces Water Heaters
Every Kind and Make at REPAIR SUPPLY COMPANY
A. G. BRAUER ST. LOUIS, MO.
ASK YOUR DEALER OR WRITE US

INSTRUCTION
EDUCATIONAL SERVICE for the physically unable to attend school. Write to C. B.
RIDDLE, P. O. Box 442, Washington, D. C.

Buy U. S. Savings Bonds!

DOUBLE ACTION
for Baking Success!

ROYAL
S. A. S. PHOSPHATE BAKING POWDER
Contains No Cream of Tartar

Try
ROYAL
S. A. S. PHOSPHATE BAKING POWDER
Low Cost!
Double Action!
No Bitter Taste!
Grand for All Baking!

ROYAL
S. A. S. PHOSPHATE BAKING POWDER
Contains No Cream of Tartar

change to CALOX for the tonic effect on your smile

Efficient Calox works two ways:
1 Helps remove film... bring out all the natural lustre of your smile.
2 A special ingredient in Calox encourages regular massage... which has a tonic effect on gums... helps make them firm and rosy. Tone up your smile... with Calox!

Made in famous McKesson Laboratories, 113 years of pharmaceutical know-how

WNU-L 36-46

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered
Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—in risk of exposure and infection—throw heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become overworked and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by medical units everywhere.
Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS

Improved Uniform International SUNDAY SCHOOL

LESSON

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
Released by Western Newsleader Union.

Lesson for September 8

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

JESUS AND SINCERITY OF SPEECH

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 20:16; Proverbs 26:23-28; Matt. 26:49-73.
MEMORY SELECTION—Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor.—Ephesians 4:25.

God is truth, and therefore any kind of lie is evidence of godless-ness. Satan is the father of lies (John 8:44) and the father of all lies.

I. The Prohibition of Lying (Exod.
20:16).

This "thou shalt not" of God has to do primarily with perjury; that is, the telling of an untruth in court.

This is one of the worst forms of lying, because it may result in the one against whom it is practiced losing his liberty, his life or his property, or the destruction of his good reputation.

It is obvious, however, that the commandment covers all forms of lying, whether in business, in social contacts, in the home, or in the church. We might do well to consider what the Bible has to say about whisperers, talebearers, backbiters and others (see Lev. 19:16; 11 Cor. 12:20).

II. The Purpose of Lying (Prov.
26:23-26).

Sometimes as one hears the continuous stream of lies which flow from the lips of some men, one is apt to feel that it is just a bad habit of careless talking which has become a part of the life.

There is, however, a real purpose behind the lies of men, and that is to deceive in order to get gain or advantage, or to cover up hatred.

How much of all this there is in the world today—yes, and in the church. Those who profess to be the followers of Christ use the devices of the devil in their relations with fellow members of the church.

Christian workers who wish to appear greater than they are, or to look greater than others, use deceit and lying. With what results?

III. The Punishment of Lying (Prov.
26:26-28; Matt. 26:75).

One lie leads to, in fact calls for, another, and soon the liar has dugged a pit so big that he stumbles and falls into it. He is like one who starts a great stone rolling, and lo, it rolls back on him and crushes him. Yes, in due time he is shown up before the entire congregation (v. 26).

Then, too, the lie does harm to others. No matter what its nature —a half truth, or a truth used to deceive, or an outright falsehood—it bears awful fruit in the life of the one toward whom it is directed, or whose name is involved
(v. 28). Once started, it is often impossible to stop. One cannot ever catch up with a lie.

But there is also a horrible and bitter fruitage of lies in the life and the heart of the liar. Lies do "come home to roost," and they make the heart and life of anyone who has a vestige of decency and honor left, miserably unhappy. Consider Peter (Matt. 26:75).

It is of the utmost importance that we stress before children and young people the awful results of lying, as well as its sinfulness. Lying and deceit are so commonly accepted in our day that many regard it as all right—if you don't get caught.
But the fact is, you always do get caught by God—yes, and by your own lie.

IV. The Practice of Lying (Matt.
26:69-74).

Sadly enough, the constant lying of the world seems to have infected
the minds and hearts of Christians.
Instead of being cleansed from this worldly defilement they carry its awful tendencies into the church.

The great lie within the Church,
and one of Satan's prize exhibits, is the falsehood of modern religious liberalism (so-called), which is essentially a denial of real New Testament Christianity. Jesus said (v. 42) that if God is our Father we will accept him as the Christ. The one who speaks sweet words about the example, the manhood, and the leadership of the Master, and who denies him his place as God, is clearly in mind here as the follower of the father of lies.

Someone has suggested that the great spiritual problem of our day is not the conflict between the Church and the world; nor is it to determine how the Church can best serve in the world, but rather what to do about the world which has gotten into the Church. How did worldliness get into the Church?
The members brought it there after they had gone out and warmed themselves at the world's fire, and fellowshiped with the world in un-godly living.

The denials made by Peter seem almost unbelievable in the life of one who had been in immediate fellowship with the Lord, and who had seen his glory. We have here a revelation of the fact that "the heart is deceitful above all things, and temporarily wicked; who can know it?" (Jer. 17:9).

Kathleen Norris Says:

Does Your Family Go to Church?

—Bell Syndicate.—WNU Features.

"I don't know why God is so good to us," certain obscure mothers say, their faces radiant as they contemplate the safe arrival of Tom's son, the happy marriage of lonely 30-year-old Sister Annie.

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

THE beauty of the old days when everyone went to church was that religion gives people a code
—a rule by which to live and by which to judge their own actions and those of others.

Without religion it is hard to hold young persons to moral law. Their natural question "Why?" has no answer.

Some years ago, the 17-year-old daughter of a friend of mine secretly rented a small Park avenue apartment and entertained her friends there while her mother thought she was merely dining and visiting with perfectly nice school fellows. Her expenses and the apartment were shared by a boy of 18. To all of her heartbroken parents subsequent reproaches she only partly answered why "why?"

Why shouldn't she spend Granny's legacy that way? Why shouldn't girls and boys live together if they wanted to? Why should she tell her father and mother anything? What was there to be ashamed of? She really did not know the answers.

At first glance youngsters do not see the connection between decency and religion. Religion itself—as demonstrated by many of its ex-ponents—has done little to connect the two. Rituals, long sermons, incomprehensible formulas, greedy concern for interest, capital, bequests, collections, money-making schemes have clouded the light.
Our children see only these, and they decline to believe the great mystical and unproven truths upon which all real religion is based. If the lives of the teachers were different, then their effect upon our children's lives would be different.

Greed, Stupidity Hide Glory.
As it is, they are too often cheated out of their birthright of belief, partly because the blinding glory of faith is dimmed by so much human stupidity, partly because their parents have gone that same road before them and have decided that religion is merely a profitable business into which certain men enter;
a "good thing" if you happen to be that unthinking, hypocritical sort of man, willing to fool along murmuring things you don't believe or practice to women who don't believe or practice them either.

But, thank God, under this heavy crust of age-old accumulated human stupidity, there works continually the yeast of saintliness.
The world is full of unseen, recognized saints, who have probed further than this mere outer seeming, who have discovered the magic of the word, and who are quietly spreading it with every word they speak and every contact they make.

Such persons may be the humblest of mothers and fathers, working all their lives for food and shelter for those they love, but their boys and girls will grow up strong in true morality, believing that they must keep their hearts and their lips clean, that they must pay what they owe, that they must keep their word, and give to those in need, comfort the sorrowing, forget self in service.

There is no more to it than that.
Only—somehow we don't find that unless we find God. It is belief in God, in our service to God, in the shortness of our term here and the necessity of making every moment of it valuable, that inspires this sort of teaching and this sort of conduct. American children have not been deprived of moral teaching; it floods over them all during their home and school years. They have been deprived of the one thing that makes that teaching valuable.

Will be a Settlement.
They are like busy workers who have no employer. The humble true believer learns of God through the life of his expiating son, believes that it matters whether he is honest or not, truthful or lying, cruel or kind. There is a great employer, and eventually there will be a settlement.

And acting blindly on this belief for a few years he begins to see that it works. Problems in his out-ter life smooth out; the generous thing, the forgiving thing is suddenly and surprisingly the happiest possible thing.

"I don't know why God is so good to us," certain obscure mothers say, their faces radiant as they contemplate the safe arrival of Tom's son, the happy marriage of lonely, 30-year-old sister Annie.

You never hear that phrase except from believers. They see the surface-scum of human frailty in their leaders; they know of the wars, the slums, the selfishness and dishonesty of the so-called "Christian civilization." Everyone sees that.

But they see further, too. They see that faith and the rule save young lives. The very leaders themselves may be lost. But the children to whom they taught love of God, and love of neighbor, are the only safe children in the world. Rob your children of everything else for which you are working and straining, but give them faith.

Potatoes for Breakfast
From a caloric standpoint, potatoes make an excellent substitute for bread. In addition, they contain many valuable vitamins and minerals. Fresh from the garden as they are at this time of year, they have a high vitamin C content and they are a good source of vitamins B and G. Farm families have served potatoes boiled or fried for breakfast for a long time, but few urban homes have adopted the practice. Potato pancakes make a good breakfast dish.

THE President's committee,
headed by Sen. Carl Hatch (D., N. M.) which observed the atomic bomb tests at Bikini, and the military evaluation board of the joint chiefs of staff have submitted their first report on these naval experiments in atomic energy.

After reciting the results of the two blasts, the President's committee tersely said: "The tests at Bikini strongly indicate that future wars employing atomic bombs
may well destroy nations and change present standards of civilization."

This reporter, as one who witnessed the Bikini experiment, is firmly convinced that unless there is a change in thinking, a veritable revolution in the minds of the American people regarding the future of atomic energy, and specifically the atomic bomb... unless there is an end to our monopoly of this tremendous force, we may keep our secret for a few short years, but we shall gain the hate and envy and suspicion of the entire world.

There is no alternative... either
we share the secret of the atomic bomb and not only outlaw it internationally as a weapon of war, and outlaw war itself, or we surely are headed toward a third world war
of annihilation. This nation and no other nation can protect itself against atomic power merely by outlawing it as we have outlawed poison gas. There is a defense against poison gas. Within a few years other nations will have mastered the secret of the manufacture of atomic bombs, and against these bombs there is and there will be no
defense.

No matter how holy we may be in our determination not to use this absolute weapon aggressively, we will continue to reap the distrust
and suspicion of every other nation.
We have used it against Japan. Why would we not use it again? Such is the reasoning of worried realists
everywhere.

The Baruch report to the United Nations, without question, should be adopted. And the United Nations should ban the bomb, and to keep it banned, should organize an international inspection or police force to make certain there is no evasion
at all.

'Golden Rule' Cited
Speaking on the atomic bomb and atomic energy recently, Secretary
of Commerce Henry Wallace said:
"We have all heard of the golden rule. Some of us say that it is a beautiful ideal, but not very practical. I say that Christian morality,
not as practiced during the last 1900
years, but as Jesus himself taught it, has finally become the most practical thing in the world."
"The golden rule means that we look at things from the other fellow's point of view as well as our own. If every nation in the world could, for one week, drop its selfish, hateful, maneuvering and adopt the golden rule, we would work out an international moral code that would permit us to use atomic energy safely so as to unlock for us one door after another to abundance
and joyous living."

The scientists and physicists who discovered and successfully manufactured the atomic bomb are the most international-minded people in the world. They have real international co-operation and international thinking. International peace will not come until the rest of the peoples of the world have this same feeling of co-operation. Scientists are aware of the horror they have created in the atomic bomb...
they are aware of the danger of the Frankenstein boomerang... and no group has been more vocal than they in urging that their secret,
now our secret, be given to all the nations and that international control for protection be set up in the United Nations.

The committee report pointed out that the bureau of ships is studying the results of the Bikini tests and says, "undoubtedly they will point
the way towards changes in ship size, design and structure." The report further says that such changes in ships can offer increased immunity from flash and blast effect, but such changes will not protect manpower from the catastrophe of deadly gamma and neutron radiation.

This reporter believes that once
atomic energy is let loose in war,
there will be no need for navies.
There will be nothing for them to protect, no cities, no navy yards, nor harbor installations. Neither will there be any need for armies.
For war with atomic bombs will mean a war of extermination of civilian populations. The wisest minds now working in our military establishment can see no adequate defense, not even much chance of minimizing the terrible destruction which would ensue even by going deep underground.

The Home Town Reporter

in WASHINGTON
By Walter Sheod
WNU Correspondent

WNU Washington Bureau,
1616 Eye St., N. W.

Atomic Bomb Must Be Outlawed to Save World

THE President's committee,
headed by Sen. Carl Hatch (D., N. M.) which observed the atomic bomb tests at Bikini, and the military evaluation board of the joint chiefs of staff have submitted their first report on these naval experiments in atomic energy.

After reciting the results of the two blasts, the President's committee tersely said: "The tests at Bikini strongly indicate that future wars employing atomic bombs
may well destroy nations and change present standards of civilization."

This reporter, as one who witnessed the Bikini experiment, is firmly convinced that unless there is a change in thinking, a veritable revolution in the minds of the American people regarding the future of atomic energy, and specifically the atomic bomb... unless there is an end to our monopoly of this tremendous force, we may keep our secret for a few short years, but we shall gain the hate and envy and
suspicion of the entire world.

There is no alternative... either
we share the secret of the atomic bomb and not only outlaw it internationally as a weapon of war, and outlaw war itself, or we surely are
headed toward a third world war
of annihilation. This nation and no other nation can protect itself
against atomic power merely by outlawing it as we have outlawed
poison gas. There is a defense against poison gas. Within a few years other nations will have mastered the secret of the manufacture
of atomic bombs, and against these
bombs there is and there will be no
defense.

No matter how holy we may be in our determination not to use this absolute weapon aggressively, we will continue to reap the distrust
and suspicion of every other nation.
We have used it against Japan. Why would we not use it again? Such is the reasoning of worried realists
everywhere.

The Baruch report to the United Nations, without question, should be adopted. And the United Nations should ban the bomb, and to keep
it banned, should organize an international inspection or police force
to make certain there is no evasion
at all.

'Golden Rule' Cited
Speaking on the atomic bomb and atomic energy recently, Secretary
of Commerce Henry Wallace said:
"We have all heard of the golden rule. Some of us say that it is a beautiful ideal, but not very practical. I say that Christian morality,
not as practiced during the last 1900
years, but as Jesus himself taught
it, has finally become the most practical thing in the world."
"The golden rule means that we
look at things from the other fellow's point of view as well as our
own. If every nation in the world
could, for one week, drop its selfish,
hateful, maneuvering and adopt the golden rule, we would work out an international moral code that would permit us to use atomic energy
safely so as to unlock for us one
door after another to abundance
and joyous living."

The scientists and physicists who discovered and successfully manufactured the atomic bomb are the most international-minded people in the world. They have real international co-operation and international thinking. International peace will not come until the rest of the peoples of the world have this same
feeling of co-operation. Scientists are aware of the horror they have created in the atomic bomb...
they are aware of the danger of the Frankenstein boomerang... and
no group has been more vocal than
they in urging that their secret,
now our secret, be given to all the nations and that international control for protection be set up in the United Nations.

The committee report pointed out that the bureau of ships is studying
the results of the Bikini tests and
says, "undoubtedly they will point
the way towards changes in ship
size, design and structure." The report further says that such changes in ships can offer increased
immunity from flash and blast effect, but such changes will not protect manpower from the catastrophe of deadly gamma and neutron
radiation.

This reporter believes that once
atomic energy is let loose in war,
there will be no need for navies.
There will be nothing for them to protect, no cities, no navy yards,
nor harbor installations. Neither
will there be any need for armies.
For war with atomic bombs will
mean a war of extermination of civilian populations. The wisest
minds now working in our military establishment can see no adequate defense, not even much chance of minimizing the terrible destruction
which would ensue even by going
deep underground.

THE President's committee,
headed by Sen. Carl Hatch (D., N. M.) which observed the atomic bomb tests at Bikini, and the military evaluation board of the joint chiefs of staff have submitted their first report on these naval experiments in atomic energy.

After reciting the results of the two blasts, the President's committee tersely said: "The tests at Bikini strongly indicate that future wars employing atomic bombs
may well destroy nations and change present standards of civilization."

This reporter, as one who witnessed the Bikini experiment, is firmly convinced that unless there is a change in thinking, a veritable revolution in the minds of the American people regarding the future of atomic energy, and specifically the atomic bomb... unless there is an end to our monopoly of this tremendous force, we may keep our secret for a few short years, but we shall gain the hate and envy and
suspicion of the entire world.

There is no alternative... either
we share the secret of the atomic bomb and not only outlaw it internationally as a weapon of war, and outlaw war itself, or we surely are
headed toward a third world war
of annihilation. This nation and no other nation can protect itself
against atomic power merely by outlawing it as we have outlawed
poison gas. There is a defense against poison gas. Within a few years other nations will have mastered the secret of the manufacture
of atomic bombs, and against these
bombs there is and there will be no
defense.

No matter how holy we may be in our determination not to use this absolute weapon aggressively, we will continue to reap the distrust
and suspicion of every other nation.
We have used it against Japan. Why would we not use it again? Such is the reasoning of worried realists
everywhere.

The Baruch report to the United Nations, without question, should be adopted. And the United Nations should ban the bomb, and to keep
it banned, should organize an international inspection or police force
to make certain there is no evasion
at all.

'Golden Rule' Cited
Speaking on the atomic bomb and atomic energy recently, Secretary
of Commerce Henry Wallace said:
"We have all heard of the golden rule. Some of us say that it is a beautiful ideal, but not very practical. I say that Christian morality,
not as practiced during the last 1900
years, but as Jesus himself taught
it, has finally become the most practical thing in the world."
"The golden rule means that we
look at things from the other fellow's point of view as well as our
own. If every nation in the world
could, for one week, drop its selfish,
hateful, maneuvering and adopt the golden rule, we would work out an international moral code that would permit us to use atomic energy
safely so as to unlock for us one
door after another to abundance
and joyous living."

The scientists and physicists who discovered and successfully manufactured the atomic bomb are the most international-minded people in the world. They have real international co-operation and international thinking. International peace will not come until the rest of the peoples of the world have this same
feeling of co-operation. Scientists are aware of the horror they have created in the atomic bomb...
they are aware of the danger of the Frankenstein boomerang... and
no group has been more vocal than
they in urging that their secret,
now our secret, be given to all the nations and that international control for protection be set up in the

LOREX Theatre

Loraine, Texas

THURSDAY—FRIDAY
SEPTEMBER 5—6

No Time For Comedy

James Stewart, Rosalind Russell

Cinderella Jones

Joan Leslie, Robert Alda
Those rapturous two from Rhapsody in Blue!

SATURDAY

SEPTEMBER 7

Gun Town

Kirby Grant, Fuzzy Knight

MIDNIGHT

SOMEWHERE IN THE NIGHT

FOX NEWS

Each

SUNDAY & MONDAY

SUNDAY MATINEE

2:00 P. M.

NIGHT SHOWS

7:00 o'clock

SATURDAY NIGHT

7:00 P. M.

THE NEWEST

THE BEST

ATTRACTIONS

COMING

TO THIS THEATRE

You See The Best Here!

SUNDAY—MONDAY

SEPTEMBER 8—9

The Virginian

In Technicolor

Joel McCrea, Sonny Tufts, Barbara Britton

Thrill to the story that thrilled millions!

TUESDAY—WEDNESDAY

SEPTEMBER 10—11

CLOSED

TO MOVE

TO NEW BUILDING

THURSDAY—FRIDAY

SEPTEMBER 12—13

GRAND OPENING

IN NEW BUILDING

Showing

The Southerner

Always Comfortable
And the Best In Entertainment

H. E. Thomas

Grocery

Phone 198

RED & WHITE STORE

JACKSON WHITE SWEET

Corn No 2 Two For .25

3 POUND PACKAGE

Mothers Oats .39

NEW WHITE

Flour 50 lb 3.35
25 lb 1.85

GOBLIN

Hominy No 2 .12

Kraut No 2 1-2 Can .22

3 ROLLS

Toilet Paper .25

Chili Armour's Star Can .38

HOME MADE

Pork Sausage lb .45

PLAINS GOLD

Creamery Butter .80

Pressed Ham lb .60

James Jarratt Market

Classified Ads

For Sale—160 acre farm 7 miles northeast of Loraine, $40 per acre. T. G. Jean. 15-2p

For Sale—Service Station and grocery. Howard Preston 1p
For Sale—25 young hens. L.
E. Crutcher. 1tp

For Sale—Windmill and tower and 3 rim galvanized tank and tower. Lillie Nelson 1tp

For Sale—Dandy 2-wheel trailer. Tom Ray. 1tc

For Sale—317 acres, 90 acres in cultivation, rest in pasture, fenced—sheep proof, fair improvements, plenty water, 2½ miles south Lutheran Church.
Wilmon Tartt. 1tc

Want to buy good used Thor washing machine. Mrs. Dale F.
Johnson. 1tc

Want to rent unfurnished house
J. D. Mulroy. 14tc

Lost—600x16 All State tire, newly recapped, mounted on a GMC wheel. Reward. Jeff Davis
2tc

Strayed from D. E. Hester farm one brown Jersey cow branded 7x left side, should be fresh now. Notify Dr. W. L.
Hester. 15-4p

We buy poultry every day—hens, fryers or roosters. When you have them to sell get our prices. Howard Preston Gro. 94p

Mr. and Mrs. Gray Taylor and Rena Louise and Deverle, and Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Thornhill attended the Baptist association meeting at Snyder Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Martin and children and Mrs. Ella Sadler were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Edgar, Sat. at Sweetwater Sunday afternoon.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our heartfelt thanks to our friends and neighbors who were so kind to us during the illness and death of our loved one. We especially want to thank those who assisted in any way to make our burden lighter; for the floral offerings; and the business men of the town who closed for the funeral.

Carl House
Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Hendricks
Mr. and Mrs. Ernie White

Mr. and Mrs. Obrian Hart and son of Crane visited the first of this week with his grandparents
Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hock. Guests in the Hock home Monday were Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hagar of Sweetwater.

Uncle Sam Says

For vacationing no month in the whole year is more popular than August with my countrymen from coast to coast. As I stroll the beaches, I see many fellows like Mr. Thrifty sitting under an umbrella to shade himself. You'll notice his umbrella is made of United States Savings Bonds. There are millions of Mr. Thriftys who are finding a peaceful shelter under an umbrella of Savings Bonds.
U. S. Treasury Department

FORTUNE

SHOES FOR MEN

MARTINS MENS WEAR

Plymouth-Chrysler Cars G. M. C. Pickups and Trucks

SALES AND SERVICE

SERVICE ON ALL CARS Blocks Rebores, Valves and Seats Refaced

1-4 speed GMC—Chevrolet Transmission Front and Rear Spring for GMC and Chevrolet Pickups Rear Springs for GMC and Chevrolet 1½ ton trucks.
2nd and 3rd speed Clutch Synchronized Gear for GMC and Chevrolet Transmission
We are receiving parts now—come in and perhaps we can help you out.
GMC Floor Mats for GMC Cabs

J. B. Mahon Motor Company

Phone 219

Guests in the home of Mrs.
F. H. Baumann Monday night were Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Sharp and family and her mother, Mrs.
Mary Norek, of San Antonio,
Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rannefeld,
Mrs. Arthur Gabler of Roscoe,
Mr. and Mrs. Gus Baumann and sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Baumann and children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Boyles of Sweetwater visited in the H. S.
Combs home Sunday night. Visiting in the Combs home this week are Mrs. L. R. Herd of Odessa, and Bennie Combs of San Angelo.

Guests over the week end with A. E. Jarratt were all of his children. Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Frazier and Mr. and Mrs. William Jarratt of Galveston, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Jarratt and children and John and Dudley Jarratt of Anson, and Marie Jarratt of Roscoe.

WET WASH

HELP-YOUR-SELF WASH

PLENTY SOFT HOT WATER

COOL BUILDING

WASH IN COMFORT

PLENTY ROOM FOR PARKING

WE PICK UP AND DELIVER
EVERY DAY

Leggotts
Laundry

PHONE 72

New Arrivals

IN ABUNDANCE

for Fall

COAT SUITS, Cardigan style, all wool, pleated skirts, one button jacket with two pocket trim on coat, rayon lined jacket $22.50

COAT SUIT, 3 piece, mannish tailored, wool and rayon, solid gray with hairline stripe, deep box pleats on skirt, 3 button front, twin pockets, Top Coat to match in three-quarter length Suit $22.50 Top Coat $22.50

COATS, box style, wool and rayon, browns, blacks, and greens $21.98

SKIRTS, Honey Miss Junior, sport wear, 100% wool, novelty plaids and pleats $8.98

SWEATERS by Barbara Lynn,
Army & Navy, 100% wool, 8 button front, red, white and blue trim $5.98

Fred B. Ison
Dry Goods

OUR VALUE

Sweet Corn No 2 .14

NO. 2 CRYSTAL PACK

Spinach .18

LUSIAN

Yams No 2 1-2 .27

ADAM'S, SUGAR ADDED

Orange Juice No 2 .27

1½ lb GRANULATED SOAP

Silver Foam .29

Brooms 1.00

ALL BRANDS

Shortening lb .35

2 POUND PACKAGE

Velveta Cheese 1.10

HOME MADE

Brick Chili lb .40

Sliced Bacon or Ham lb .65

W. C. House & Son
Grocery & Market

PHONE 60

WE NOW HAVE WHITE

Flour 25 lb 1.75

PURE WHITE

Coconut Box .39

CAN CAMPBELL'S

Vegetable Soup .15

15½ OZ. GOBLIN

Pork & Beans .15

NO. 2 LIEANO

Turnip Greens .10

¼ POUND WITH GLASS

Schillings Tea .30

Summer Sausage lb .45

Pure Pork Sausage .43

Steak Short Cut lb .38

SEE US FOR ALL YOUR SCHOOL SUPPLIES

D. F. Butler & Sons

Grocery & Market Phone 50