South Plains Area Leads In Low Tax Rates

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

CITIES and towns of the South Plains area have the lowest average municipal tax levies of any region in Texas.

Sharing in this distinction is Lubbock, which is further credited with the largest per capita ownership of taxable property, as shown by municipal tax rolls, of any city above 20,000 population in the state.

These facts are contained in a compilation of municipal financial information from 457 cities and towns reported by the Texas League of Municipalities in its official journal.

Record Advantageous

This record is highly advantageous, according to municipal financial authorities, because one of the first questions usually asked by any business or industry which contemplates investment in any town or city is: "What is the tax rate?"

As to Lubbock, the compilation shows the present tax rate of $1.25 on the $100 of assessed valuation to be lower than that of any Texas city of comparable or larger population. The average rate for 18 other cities of more than 20,000 population in 1940 was $1.65.

As to the South Plains and adjacent areas the average rate in 32 cities and towns was $1.20, or 23 per cent lower than the $1.48 in the state as a whole. Of those 32 municipalities, 24 have rates lower than the average in cities and towns in their same population class.

Adjusted Rate Explained

The "adjusted" rates of these South Plains communities show them to even greater advantage, in comparison with other towns and cities, than the actual rates.

The term, "adjusted rate," may require explanation.

In most towns and cities, property is not taxed at full value. In Lubbock, for example, property is carried on the tax roll at a theoreitcal two-third of actual value. Thus, a piece of property actually worth $10,000 should appear on the tax roll at a value of $6,667. The present $1.25 rate on the $100 of assessed valuation

HOW TO HELP IN ANTI-POLIO DRIVE—Those anxious to join in making Lubbock as safe as possible from polio during the polio prevention cleanup campaign during the coming week can help most by co-operating in the effort to rid the city of health hazards like those pictured. Two of the self-identifying photos show examples of the numerous outdoor privies still to be found in many sections of the city. They should be disinfected thoroughly with kerosene or lime at least once daily. Junk and trash heaps, like the one pictured, lower left, provide harborages for rats, mice and vermin, and should be eliminated. Uncapped garbage cans, like those shown, upper right, attract and provide breeding places for flies, mosquitos and other insects which are believed by health authorities to be the worst carriers of polio.

House Approves Farm Price Bill

WASHINGTON, June 12 (INS)—The House passed today a stopgap bill to continue government price support for farm products until June 30, 1950.

The bill now goes to the Senate, where Republican leaders plan to pass next week a long-range farm program bill reported by its agriculture committee.

GOP leaders of the two Houses are in disagreement over the legislation, but passage of some kind of bill is classed as a "must" before adjournment of Congress. Otherwise government price supports will end Dec. 31.

Price Supports Set

The House action apparently scuttled hopes of Senate Republican leaders for enactment of the long-range farm program.

Passage of the stopgap measure followed two days of debate. Republicans under leadership of Rep. Hope (R-Kan), chairman of the agriculture committee defeated all amendments except those approved by the committee.

The bill provides for price supports of 90 per cent of parity for six basic commodities, cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, rice and peanuts. The parity formula is in-

Holy Land Truce Claimed Broken

By MAX BOYD
Associated Press Staff Writer

CAIRO, June 12—Both sides charged continued violations of cease-fire orders today and threatened to blow up Palestine's two-day-old truce.

Both Arabs and Jews marked out "don't tread" front lines which appeared to criss-cross and invite dispute.

Count Folke Bernadotte, the UN truce-maker, flew with his top aides to Amman, Trans-Jordan, Jerusalem and Damascus, Syria, to take a first-hand look at the powder-keg situation. His observers were busy at Tel Aviv, Haifa and elsewhere checking equally dangerous spots.

Warnings Are Given

An Arab league representative routed Bernadotte from bed at 4:30 a. m. and handed the mediator a note saying "the Arab governments reserve the right of quick action in reply to criminal Zionist attacks.

Israel's army chief of operations already had voiced similar warnings in a statement to newspapermen and threatened reprisal air raids on Arab capitals.

HST Vetoes Bill To Permit Rate Fixing

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—President Truman today refused to sign a bill letting railroads and other carriers get together on fixing rates with Interstate Commerce commission approval.

The President slapped a veto on it, in line with his opposition to previous, similar legislation.

The measure he rejected today, known as the Bulwinkle bill, would have exempted the carriers from anti-trust prosecution for making such rate arrangements.

Senator Reed (R-Kan) said he may ask the Senate Tuesday or Wednesday to try to override the veto.

Columbia Bursts Bonds Again, Threatens $43 Million Plant

BY GEORGE L. SCOTT
INS Staff Correspondent

PORTLAND, Ore., June 12—The raging Columbia river swept tonight up to the last dike protecting the $43 million Reynolds Metal company aluminum plant northeast of Portland.

Water four feet deep poured over a low spot in Campbell road and on toward the dike.

Engineers did not estimate how long the levee, strengthened with sandbags, will hold off the pressure of 10 square miles of flood water.

The Army engineers pushed a "flank attack," however, against flood waters rushing through Columbia slough into lowlands formerly protected by the road.

A dredge was sent to the mouth of the slough to build a plug and keep river water from sweeping in while other crews strove to strengthen the plug from the land side.

At the same time the engineers undertook to throw a dam across the backwater at the Union avenue bridge, built this week to replace a roadway washed out May 31.

Unless these operations are successful the flood will crowd through the slough until the water there, now four feet below the river level, is as high as the Columbia itself. The lake now forming is separated from the disaster-laden stream by the main Columbia dike.

The flood has covered thousands of acres of Portland's northern outskirts by bursting open one "back door" dike after another while the levee along the Columbia itself has held.

One ray of hope was seen in reports that the Columbia river has stopped rising downstream from Umatilla, Ore.

New Crest Expected

The Columbia at Vancouver, Wash., stood at 29.9 feet today, and it is expected to rise to 30 feet tomorrow and 30.2 Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The latter figure would equal the first crest. The stream is bank full at 15 feet.

Weather forecasters at Spokane, Wash., forecast that the Columbia above Grand Coulee dam will begin falling. It has been stationary the last 24 hours at Boundary, Wash., the first time in two weeks that it has failed to rise or fall there in that length of time.

'Arms Of Law' Often Prove To Be Haven For Lost Youngsters

By R. C. HANKINS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

When the kids' tantrums rub like files on your nerves, don't threaten them with the police.

A child's trust of constituted authority can speed his recovery by the parents, in case he becomes lost.

If he is afraid of anyone in uniform he is likely to become incoherent when the policeman, seeking names and addresses of parents, asks questions.

Scarcely a day passes without one or more policemen turning nurse. Children become separated from their parents in a big downtown store. Or they get out of the automobile where they were left when a pareht dashed briefly inside a store.

They end up at the police station.

There they need a strong constitution. Patrolmen, detectives, stenos and officers go on a buying spree. Candy. Peanuts. Gum. Sometimes balloons. Perhaps other toys. Clothing, even, if the par-

FRIENDLY ARMS OF THE LAW—This is what often happens when lost children are taken to the police station. Prowl Car Patrolman Lynn Campbell, above, of 1712-A Tenth, has a youngster himself, so it was the work of only a moment to quieten the fears of 25-months-old Kathleen (Kathy) Pugh when she became lost Saturday. Maybe an "all-day sucker" that suddenly materialized helped, but this is how the mother, Mrs. Gale Pugh of 2905 Ave. J, found her daughter five minutes after Campbell and Robert E. West, another patrolman, took her to the police station—sound asleep. (Photo Courtesy Captain of Detectives Pat Davidson).

Parrish Promises To Continue Fight On Price-Raising Bill

STATE Sen. Sterling J. Parrish, seeking a second term as representative of the 24-county district in the upper house of the legislature, yesterday pledged a continuation of his opposition to the passage of legislation which would raise prices on many articles used by every man, woman and child in Texas.

Only one of the four Senate candidates to state his position on the so-called "Fair Trades act," which would place a "floor" under retail prices of numerous articles used by practically every citizen of this state, Senator Parrish said that upon return to the legislature he "will renew my efforts to defeat the passage of this iniquitous measure," and "will use every legitimate means at my command to see that it is never enacted as a law . . ."

Opposed Earlier Bill

Senator Parrish pointed to his record in the last legislature, during which the Senate Journal shows that he worked and voted against the passage of the price-raising measure which was backed by one of the most powerful lobbies in recent Texas legislative

Cleanup Drive To Open Monday

PREPARATIONS for a polio prevention cleanup campaign during the coming week were completed Saturday, spurred by the declarations of medical and health authorities that cleanliness is the best protection known against the disease.

Co-operating in the drive to eliminate conditions which might contribute to the spread of the disease are the city, ministers, chamber of commerce and the medical profession.

Move Is Precautionary

As plans were completed, Mayor W. H. Rodgers emphasized that the preventive steps are not due to anything that suggests epidemic conditions in Lubbock, although two cases of polio were reported recently. The campaign, he explained, is precautionary because more cases of polio have been reported in Texas during recent weeks than at any time in years.

Many ministers, according to city health authorities, have agreed to refer to the campaign during their services today. Literature dealing with polio prevention will be distributed in many churches.

Starting Monday, several additional trucks will be put into ser-

Continued Hot Weather Over South Plains Area Forecast

Continued hot weather was forecast for Lubbock and the South Plains today and Monday, following up Saturday's blistering 99 degrees, the Weather bureau station reported at midnight.

The heat wave was temporarily broken late Saturday when scattered thundershowers and wind hit the Lubbock area and somewhat cooler weather was forecast for part of the Panhandle today, but no major changes were seen.

No heavy rainfall was reported over the area last night, although Abilene and Big Spring reported rain. Readings over the state continued high with Presidio reporting 108 degrees.

Tire Firm Grants Wage Hike; New Auto Price Boosts Made

(By The Associated Press)

ANOTHER company-wide wage increase settlement and price boosts by two more automobile manufacturers featured the labor-management picture Saturday.

The Firestone Tire and Rubber company granted its 23,000 CIO production workers an 11-cents hourly wage boost.

Nash-Kelvinator announced it would hike the price of its Nash automobile from $75 to $90.

General Motors announced a price increase for its entire truck line—the boosts ranging from $10 to $110. A company spokesman attributed the boost to higher manufacturing costs and improvements.

The Firestone agreement may set the pattern of wage increases in the rubber industry. The settlement was the first among the big four rubber companies. The CIO United Rubber Workers union had sought 30 cents.

"Union representatives accepted the 11 cents because it is our belief such an increase will not justify any increase in prices and because we believe it will help bring about some measure of stability in our economy," said L. S.

Separate Talks With Russians Rejected

President Calls On Moscow To Put End To Policy Of 'Open Aggression'

BY ERNEST B. VACCARO
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERKELEY, Calif., June 12—President Truman challenged Russia today to prove its desire for peace by ceasing its tactics of "coercion" and "open aggression."

In blunt language, the President said the Soviet government's refusal to work with its wartime allies for world peace and recovery was "the most bitter disappointment of our time."

He flatly rejected any separate conference with Russia on differences affecting other countries. He said "no nation has the right to exact a price for good behavior."

Faith Is Asked

The door "is always open for honest negotiations looking toward genuine settlements," Mr. Truman declared.

He invited Russia to show its good faith in Greece and Korea.

In a major foreign policy speech at University of California commencement exercises, the President asserted in his frankest review to date of this country's position:

1. The United States refuses "to play fast and lose with man's hopes for peace" by making "deals" with other gerat powers at the expense of weaker nations.

2. The "cleavage" that exists today is not between Russia and the United States, but "between the Soviet Union and the rest of the world."

3. Russia and her satellites should withdraw their aid from guerrillas in Greece and permit north Korea to unite with South Korea.

The world lives today "in a twilight period, between a war so dearly won and a peace that still eludes our grasp," the President said.

The reason he added, "lies largely in the attitude of one nation, the "Soviet Union." Mr. Truman said the United States is always willing to negotiate international differences when they are susceptible to negotiation but he said "there is nothing to negotiate when one nation habitually uses coercion or open aggression in international affairs.

Most Aid Cuts Are Restored

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 12 — The Senate Appropriation committee voted $4,000,000,000 for the European recovery program late today—restoring most of the slashes made by the House.

The commitee voted unanimously to put the vast aid program on a 12-month basis instead of the 15 months approved by the House.

The effect of the action is to give the Economic Cooperation administration a total of $5,055,000,000 instead of the $5,300,000,000 asked by the administration.

Angry Voices Heard

Senator Bridges (R-NH), chairman, said the committee's decision represented an increase of $950,000,000 over the House approved figure for ECA.

While the commitee was unanimous on shifting the program from 15 back to a 12-month basis, there was strong disagreement over the total amount to be given ECA.

Reporters outside the committee room could hear angry voices. Bridges said later some committee members wanted more money for the European aid program—others wanted less. But he declined to discuss wha thad gone on in the dispute.

Vandenberg Makes Plea

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, had led the appeal for restoring the House cuts. He appeared personally before the appropriations group to plead for carrying out the full program authorized by Congress.

In cutting the foreign aid appropriation and spreading it from 12 to 15 months, Bridges said the

Lubbock Residents Smash All One-Day Water Use Records

All records for water consumption in one day in Lubbock were broken Friday when 16,907,000 gallons were pumped from city wells, City Engineer John Ruhmann reported Saturday.

The previous record for any day was 13,434,700 gallons on June 28, 1947. The previous peak for this year was 12,700,000 gallons last June 9.

Despite the heavy demand, the city engineer said, an ample reserve was available. He estimated that at least 5,000,000 more gallons could have been pumped if the need had existed.

Some isolated cases of low pressure were reported, he said. These were due to inadequate distribution facilities in localized areas, and not to lack of producing capacity.

Liquor Violation Case Expensive

Officers of the Sheriff's department in a liquor raid yesterday afternoon set a Lubbock man back about $2,000 it was announced last night.

D. C. Turner was arrested by Deputies Frank Mitchell and Leonard Lott, on East Broadway, the department reported. Approximately 28 cases of whiskey and 60 cases of beer were confiscated, they said.

In the county court of Judge Walter Davies, the accused pleaded guilty of liquor law violation and was fined $300 and costs, according to an arresting officer.

The liquor was valued at about $1,600.

Three Burglaries Reported

Three burglaries and several theft complaints were under investigation here Saturday.

Mrs. Jake Sodd of 1650 Ninth said a burglar unlatched a front door, entered her residence and ransacked the purses of several guests when she was giving a party for women friends in her back yard Friday night.

Only a small amount of money was taken, but Mrs. Marvin Robinson of 1700-block Eighth lost her purse, driver's license and money.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this:

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Harris Meat Packer Demands Fire Probe

HOUSTON, June 12 (U.P.) — A key figure in the Harris county grand jury's extended probe of illegal horse meat sales said today he wanted a complete investigation of the fire which destroyed his house last night.

The man was L. C. Boeker, owner of the Superior Meat Co., and holder of the contract to supply meat for the Houston public school cafeterias this term.

"I asked the sheriff's department last night to find out what caused this fire," Boeker said. "I'd hate to accuse anyone unjustly until I have proof."

Threats Said Received

Boeker told newsmen previously he had received threats by telephone and mail soon after the grand jury began investigating the sale of horse meat for human consumption and after a state laboratory test revealed horse meat in school cafeteria lunches.

"Burning my house was not mentioned in any of the threats I received," Boeker said.

He said he was working in his office about 8:30 p. m. when he received a call that his house was on fire. He said he rushed home, but everything was destroyed. The residence was a five-room frame bungalow.

"The records of my packing house and restaurant were not destroyed," he said. "Only my farm records were lost."

He said the loss was partially covered by insurance. Also destroyed were an adjoining building housing refrigeration equipment, a garage and another smaller building.

Civil Service Examination For Policemen Scheduled June 19

Chief of Police Lewis Kittrell announced Saturday that a civil service examination for apprentice policemen will be given at 2 p.m. June 19.

Philadelphia Rose Bush Thief Nearly Caught Spade Handed

PHILADELPHIA, June 12. (AP)—A week ago Walter Hoff awoke to find three of his large and expensive rose bushes missing.

When he regained his composure he chained wires to the roots of six remaining bushes and attached the wires to a basement switch. A tug of the bush would ring a bell.

For six nights Hoff slept undisturbed.

Then early today the rose bell rang.

Lubbock, Area Growth Impressive

Visiting Officials Shown Progress

Growth of Lubbock and the South Plains area in volume of retail sales, construction permits, bank deposits, farm income and other business indices, has been so rapid in the past three years that it's unbelievable in the North and East.

"It has to be seen to be believed," S. W. Papert, of Dallas, president of the Texas Daily Press League, said here Saturday. "For that reason I had to bring the managers of the New York and Chicago offices of our organization to Lubbock to see for themselves.

"I've been watching the remarkable growth of this area for a long time," Papert said, "but I just couldn't get the boys in the North and East to believe all I was telling them, so I just got them to come along with me on this trip."

Accompanying him to Lubbock Friday and Saturday were Lowell W. Brown, vice president and manager of the New York office; and Don B. Milliken, manager of the Chicago office.

Trio "Key Figures"

They are key leaders in an organization representing 50 daily newspaper markets in Texas and New Mexico, whose purpose is selling these communities to manufacturers and advertising men on the markets of these areas.

"We must be kept intimately in touch with all developments within these markets," Papert said. "In our libraries in New York and Chicago, we keep all possible data on Lubbock and the South Plains area so that we have statistics on this market at our fingertips."

Papert said his offices receive all sorts of inquires about Texas and often get requests for aid in locating some individual or business. He said his organization has aided in securing data for locations of small factories and industrial plants.

"Our organization is a service to the town and the territory and it's much like having a branch of the local chamber of commerce in the larger cities of the nation," he declared.

The Texas Daily Press League, which has been organized 26 years, has offices in Dallas, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Memphis, Oklahoma City, Denver and Mexico City.

While in Lubbock, Brown, manager of the New York office, is to make arrangements for entrance of a son, Irl Brown, in Texas Tech this Fall. Young Brown spent the Summer in Lubbock last year as employe of the advertising department of the Avalanche-Journal. He is an outstanding New York basketball player.

COULDN'T BELIEVE IT—Lubbock and the South Plains area are growing so rapidly that the people of New York, Chicago and other Northern and Eastern points can't believe it. Executives of the Texas Daily Press League, who have been representing The Avalanche-Journal in the national advertising field for more than 20 years, couldn't believe what they had heard, so they had to come down here to see for themselves. Lowell W. Brown, left, vice president and manager of the New York office, is pictured with S. W. Papert, Dallas, president, center; and D. B. Milliken, right, manager of the Chicago office, as they looked at a layout of building construction now going on in Lubbock. The layout of pictures recently appeared in The Avalanche-Journal. Discounts On Texas Wheat Hits Growers

FORT WORTH, June 12. (AP)—Texas wheat farmers are suffering heavy financial losses through failure to grow high milling quality protein wheat, G. E. Blewett, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Grain and Feed Dealers association, said today.

Blewett explained that Kansas City and northern markets are discounting southwest wheat 12 cents a bushel under prices paid for the grain of northwestern Kansas and Nebraska.

He declared that, because of the milling qualities, it has been almost impossible to sell Texas wheat of the Chiefkan, Early Black Hull or Red Chief varieties, all popular in Texas, except through export channels.

Type Change Urged

"The Texas farmers must change their types of wheat or some of these days we may not have any appreciable export outlets and this low quality milling wheat will sell at heavy discounts," he stated.

He described as popular of the premium point with mills the Westar, Comanche, Wichita, Pawnee and Triumph varieties.

He declared that it would not cost the Texas farmers any more to plant or combine the "desirable" varieties, and that "careful surveys show" they will produce "as much or more than undesirable strains."

"Texas has a possibility of producing 200,000,000 bushels of wheat," he stated, "and the soil and climate conditions that produces the highest protein of any winter wheat growing state in the union.

Designing and building the equivalent of a 10-story structure in the open sea called for all the ingenuity and skill of the country's best engineers. Utilizing carefully controlled directional drilling, as many as seven oil wells can be drilled from this structure.

Your need for oil is today so urgent that the oil industry is searching for and producing oil in locations once considered impractical for exploration and production. The most spectacular of these locations is in the open Gulf of Mexico, where Humble and other oil companies hope to find beneath the Continental shelf some of the oil you need.

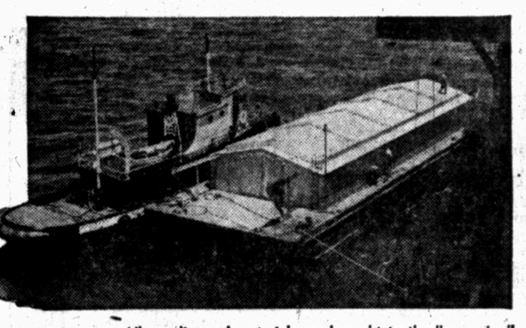

To prove this region, and to produce oil from it, calls on the best engineering skill and scientific knowledge available in the United States, and requires the investment of huge sums of money.

The Humble Company now has off-shore drilling operations under way in water 50 feet deep, eight miles off the coast of Louisiana. The drilling rig rests on what can be best described as the tenth story of a building, with the first four stories under water. The structure is built to withstand the worst weather the Gulf develops.

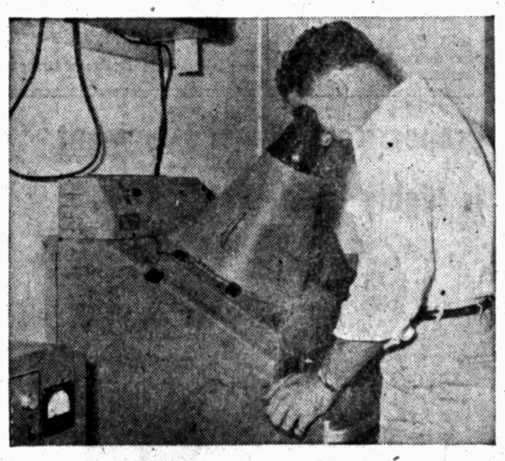

On this platform are living quarters for the crew, which will work around the clock in shifts. There is storage space for all the materials needed to meet foreseeable drilling conditions. And, above all, the structure has been designed to provide a safe home for crew members beyond reach of the ocean waves.

You are asking for more oil than ever before in history, and the oil companies' decision to risk drilling in the open Gulf is a good example of how the oil industry is doing everything that possibly can be done to provide you with more oil.

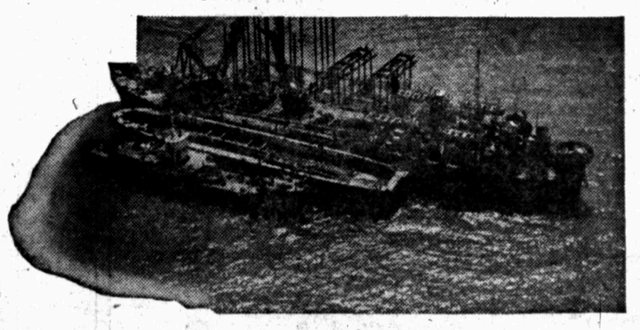

You can help this effort by making your personal demands for petroleum products reasonable, by cooperating with programs designed to conserve oil products for the uses to which they are best adapted, by the exercise of patience as the oil industry acts to meet the need.

All supplies and materials are brought to the "sea-going" drilling rig by boat. Here a tug maneuvers a barge loaded with drilling mud into position for unloading.

Every late device is utilized to speed up this effort to supply you with more oil. This radar charts the movements of boats, enables the operator, by radio, to tell them where they are and give them a course to and from port. It makes a valuable contribution to safe navigation, especially when a sudden fog rolls in.

The barge, Cap, a converted LST, is anchored about 25 miles from the large structure as construction begins on one of several smaller drilling platforms to be erected off the Louisiana coast.

Unpainted Ties On Cotton Are Suggested To Avoid Penalties

Reported price penalties by eastern cotton mills because of stains on cotton from painted ties apparently had not affected staple from the South Plains, it was said here yesterday in cotton circles.

Reports from El Paso setting out that several cotton merchants there had been penalized $2.50 a bale by a company that operates eight or ten mills in the east, brought the suggestion to farmers and ginners there that they use unpainted ties.

Could Lose $1 Million

It was feared that growers in that territory stand to lose approximately $1,000,000 on the 1948-49 crop unless the situation is remedied. Most of the 1947-48 crop has already been marketed there, it was said.

The mills assert that paint from the ties stains the cotton to varying depths in the bale, and that most of the stained staple must be discarded because the stains cannot be removed.

Local cotton circles are well acquainted with the reports, but no one was found here who had taken a price penalty because of the stains, or knew of anyone who had taken a loss.

No Complaint

One firm had marketed 5,000 or more bales without complaint, it was said.

It was pointed out that cotton dealers, ginners, and compresses have for several months been engaged in an educational campaign in the production and distribution industries seeking to offset any potential damage or penalties.

The situation was attributed to the probable use of old ties, some of them repainted over rust spots. One source said no such trouble had ever been encountered before, thus leading to the belief that use of old ties due to material shortages during the war may be the answer to the problem.

Solution Sought

The Texas Ginners association and other processing and distribution groups are seeking to find a solution to the problem before it becomes too widespread, several sources said.

The El Paso reports point out that the American Cotton Manufacturers association has circularized the trade urging purchase only of cotton not bound with the stain-creating ties, and that "now is the time to force such a protective clause in purchasing new crop cotton."

Stains Not Removed

Otherwise, the bulletin to the trade said, "you may be faced with a heavy penalty for finished goods which show blemishes caused by this asphalt base paint." The mills assert the stains cannot be removed, and show through in the finished product.

The report continues that the National Cotton council has assigned one of its staff members to the project on a full time basis, and will seek to get at the cause of the trouble.

Lubbock Pilot Is Interviewed After Flying Jet In Japan

Capt. Neil Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Graham of 922 Thirty-second, was interviewed recently in Japan as one of the first jet plane pilots to arrive at Yokota, Japan.

GRAHAM

Capt. Maxwell Marvin of Elmira Heights, N. M., who is obtaining data concerning some of the world-wide air force bases and detachments for use on the weekly radio program sponsored by the air force over Mutual Broadcasting system, interviewed Graham and Capt. Robert Quint of Victoria, Kas., both P-80 pilots of the 82nd Recon squadron.

According to information received here, Graham was the first pilots to fly a jet plane over MacArthur's headquarters.

He has been at Yokota about one and one-half years and was joined there by his wife about a year ago. He has been in service since 1941.

Westbrook Pegler Invited To Run Raymondville Newspaper

RAYMONDVILLE, June 12 (U.P.) Columnist Westbrook Pegler was the object of an invitation today to run the weekly Raymondville Chronicle for awhile.

Publisher Carl R. Miller said to Pegler in an editorial: "If you had been a country editor and had written all those things about Eleanor and Franklin supposing they were your neighbors, you would have had your eyes scratched out."

Miller told Pegler he wanted him to come down to hammer out a few columns.

Counselors, Helpers To Attend Day Camp

A day camp for volunteer camp helpers and counselors of the City Recreation department will be conducted from 10:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. Thursday at the barbecue pit in Mackenzie State park, Mrs. Gladys Sims, camping director for the recreation department, announced.

Older boys and girls from last summer's city recreation camps are urged to attend, said Mrs. Sims.

Mrs. Sims plans for leaders "to learn camping while camping" at the day camp.

A bus is to pick up volunteer leaders at the following places and times: Burns park, 9:30 a.m.; Carlisle park, 9:40 a. m.; Wagner park, 9:50 a. m.; Pioneer park, 10 a. m., and Community Center, 302 Sixth, at 10:15 a. m. Leaders will be returned to their respective parks at 5 p. m.

Bidault Expected To Quit French Cabinet

PARIS, June 12 (AP)—Premier Robert Schuman probably will win parliament's approval for the six-nation accord in Germany, but it may cost his middle-of-the-road government the services of Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

Most political observers agreed today that Schuman will win when the national assembly votes on the accord, probably on Tuesday, although his majority is expected to be small.

But there are persistent rumors that Bidault will resign the foreign ministry and take an ambassadorship. Bidault obviously was exhausted by this latest battle against the combined bitter opposition of the Communists and the De Gaullists.

Most Texans Favor Program Of Military Training, Poll Shows

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, June 12—Not only do a large majority of Texans favor a year's military or naval training for non-veterans, but most of them also think a training camp nearby is a good thing for the community.

However, when one actually gets down to it, only about half the local residents personally like having such a camp close at hand.

These facts about public opinion in Texas become both interesting and important when one considers that Texas, with such old-line establishments as Fort Sam Houston, Randolph Field, and Kelly Field, plus newer posts and air bases, has become one the largest military training areas in the world. The Corpus Christi naval base also largest of its kind, adds further distinction to Texas as a training center.

Many Liked State

While Washington grants appropriations for building the country's Armed Services and considers the draft (two years' training for men between 19 and 25 years old), Texas, land of sunny climate and ideal training conditions, wonders if it will be playing host to even more of the boys in khaki.

Since the end of the war, it has become the vogue among many outsiders to complain about Texas. Things even got so bad that, as a gag, a Madisonville club conducted a contest in which veterans were to write letters on the subject of why they hate Texas. The winner was recently awarded a grand tour of the state.

The Poll decided to find out how Texans themselves thought men from the rest of the country felt about the Lone Star State. Results were that over one-half of the people in Texas say the men who were stationed here during the war "thought well of Texas."

But Texas veterans—who heard all the gripes inside the barracks walls—were, as a group, among the least convinced that public opinion about the biggest state is favorable. In fact, as the table below shows, the veterans were pretty much divided on whether outsiders like or disliked Texas.

Interviewers for The Texas Poll recently found that opinion on these four topics vary only slightly between men and women, veterans and non-veterans, and families of veterans. The questions:

"Do you thing Congress should or should not pass a law to require every able-bodied young man, (who has not already been in the armed forces), to take military or naval training for one year?"

Collection Of Marine Shells Is Donated To Texas Tech

A collection of marine shells gathered over several years by Lt. and Mrs. R. W. Thompson of San Francisco, Calif., has been donated to Texas Technological college and will be placed on display at the college's biology department soon, W. M. Whyburn, president of the college, has announced.

Lt. and Mrs. Thompson, whose niece, Miss Vada Belle Tomlinson, graduated from Tech in the class of '41, gathered the shells in Samoa, while Lt. Thompson was stationed there with the Army Air Force. A duplicate collection of the shells is at Smithsonian Institute, a gift of the Thompsons also. In a letter to Pres. Whyburn, Mrs. Thompson said she sent the entire collection to Smithsonian Institute about seven years ago, asking that the duplicates be sent to Texas Tech after complete classification.

She informed Pres. Whyburn that a mass of corals collected during her residence in Samoa will be received at the college when the Institute finishes classification. The coral collection is considered extremely valuable since many of the coral reefs from which the collection was taken were partially to completely destroyed during World War II.

Horse Meat Being Sold As Cube Steak, Tenderloin In Buffalo

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 12. (U.P.)—Erie county health commissioner Berwyn F. Mattison said today the health department had recently discovered butchers were selling horsemeat as cube steaks and tenderlions.

However, he said a new sanitary code, which goes into effect Tuesday, would halt the practice. Under the new code, butchers selling horsemeat as beef or other meats would be liable to a fine and revocation of their license.

HERMOSILLO, Mex., June 12 (U.P.)—The top floor and tower of the government palace here were destroyed last night by a wind-whipped fire which began in a nearby boarding house.

No one was injured. Twenty-five firemen rushed here from Nogales, 175 miles north, to help quell the blaze. The palace, capitol building of the state of Sonora, contained centuries-old archives on the first floor.

Body Of Woman Is Located In Swamp

WAYCROSS, Ga., June 12 (U.P.)—The body of a woman slain four years ago has been found in the Okefenokee swamp, Sgt. C. C. Underwood of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, announced today.

Underkood identified the body as that of Mrs. Dave Walden, 19, of Columbus, Ga.

Muscogee County Sheriff E. F. Howell of Columbus, said Dave Walden of Houston, Tex., and Johnny McVeigh of LaGrange, Ga., had admitted slaying Mrs. Walden because she knew too much about a Phenix City, Ala., dope and liquor ring.

The two men also are charged with dope ring slaying of Johnny Frank Stringfellow of Columbus, Ga., whose skeleton was found in a lime pit near St. Augustine, Fla., several months ago.

A searching party headed by Capt. W. C. McLemore, director of the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, found the body of Mrs. Walden in the Baker county, Fla., corner of the huge swamp Friday.

Two previous expeditions had failed and the search had to be abandoned for several weeks because of high water.

Two Plains Soil Meetings Slated

Plans have been announced here for two public meetings of two soil conservation districts in this area, when special soil conservation films will be shown and specialists will discuss certain phases of conservation in the areas involved.

The first is to be held Thursday night, July 1 at Levelland, for the Hockley County Soil conservation district. The other is to be held on Friday night, July 2 at Tahoka, for the Lynn County Soil conservation district.

Board Meetings Held

Calls for the meetings followed regular June sessions by the board of supervisors in the districts involved. Assisting in the plans were Marshall W. Howard, district conservationist here, and Louis Dawkins of Plainview field representative of the state soil conservation board.

Members of the board of supervisors present at the Hockley county meeting where plans were outlined for the public session, were H. T. Harrell, secretary, who presided; C. D. Boyd of Ropesville and B. Forman of Anton.

The board gave approval to applications from C. E. Myatt, C. E. Davis, Mrs. T. N. McAllie of Lubbock (J. A. Pence, farm operator), W. L. Whorley of Windom (J. A. Hofacket, operator), Dr. C. M. Phillips (M. W. Hart, operator), Arthur Newman and O. W. Dalton.

Agreements Approved

Co-operative agreements and soil conservation plans were approved by the supervisors on several farms in Hockley county district. These included John A. Perrin, Alton Lawson, C. H. Price (Floyd Taylor, operator), R. A. Taylor (Floyd Taylor, operator), J. M. Marcy, C. M. Phillips, Mrs. F. C. Bailey (Jim Wilman, operator), and C. B. Ward.

Members of the board present at the Lynn county meeting were R. L. Littlepage as chairman, P. O. Cabbiness of O'Donnell and Arthur Hagens of Wilson.

Applications were approved for Claude Harper, 242 acres, and Mrs. E. E. Calloway, 400 acres.

Co-operative agreements and conservation plans were approved on the following Lynn county farms: W. P. Freeman (W. A. Tadlock, operator), C. H. Haire, C. A. Haire, J. H. Haire, Paul W. Haire, M. C. Strattman (R. L. Taylor, operator), Dr. A. C. Surman (Pete Ethridge, operator), Arthur Patterson, Jerry Harston, and Forest Jones (Sam Cox, operator). This brings the Lynn county list of co-operators to 388.

Tech Graduate To Teach In Aspermont High School

Mrs. Patsy Jones Aaron of Fluvana and Aspermont, who was the first woman to graduate in animal husbandry from Texas Technological college, will teach mathematics at Aspermont high school next year.

After a year at Aspermont, she plans to enroll in veterinary medicine at Cornell university. The 19-year-old graduate was reared on a ranch near Fluvana, and received her BS degree from Tech in June of this year. She is the wife of James Aaron, a Texas Tech graduate also, who is soil conservation director for the Aspermont district.

Slaton's Population Believed Near 6,500

SLATON, June 12 (Special) — A population survey conducted this week by the Slaton Slatonite, based on the presumption that the number of people in Slaton have increased in proportion to the increase in public service company revenues, indicate the present population of the town to be between 6,200 and 6,500. The Slaton population was set officially at 3,876 by census takers in 1940.

The survey revealed that the city water department shows an increase in revenue from 1941 of 73.6 per cent, while the postal revenue for the first five months of 1948 shows an increase of 60.3 over the first five months of 1940. The West Texas Gas company shows an increase in the number of gas meters from 736 in 1941 to 1,082 at the present time, an increase of 73.6, the Lubbock county weekly noted.

Ruled out of the survey were telephone company statistics, because, as the Slatonite explained, the company is unable to supply the demands for telephone connections, and figures would not present a fair picture of the growth of Slaton.

Texas Construction Boosts Record Mark During Week

AUSTIN, June 12 (AP) — Texas' record - smashing construction this week added another $18,335,504 to boost the 1948 accumulative total over the $400,000,000 mark.

The Texas Contractor, construction publication, reported the week's non-residential awards at $14,105,699, residential awards at $2,914,020 and engineering at $1,315,785.

The non-residential total included nearly 11 million dollars worth of business buildings and 2 million dollars worth of schools.

Residential work included 220 residences costing less than $7,000 each and 80 more expensive residences. There were no apartments or duplexes started during the week.

Abilene Goes 366 Days Without Traffic Death To Set Record

ABILENE, June 12 (U.P.)—The city of Abilene has gone a full year—and a long one of 366 days at that—without a traffic death.

The 366th day was passed yesterday, a record no Texas city of comparable size has approached. Only three cities in the nation — Schenectady, N. Y., Malen, Mass., and Evanston, Ill.—have better safety records.

Safety organization officials throughout the nation sent wires of congratulations to city officials as did Gov. Beauford H. Jester and the Texas Department of Public Safety.

MANY YOUNGSTERS HAVE CARS COMPLETED

South Plains Youths Are In Whirl Of Building Activity As Soap Box Derby Date Draws Nearer

Approximately 250 South Plains youngsters are now in the throes of a building campaign—the construction of Soap Box Derby racers for the first Avalanche-Journal - Chevrolet Soap Box Derby to be staged on East Broadway hill on Monday, July 5.

Reports coming into Derby headquarters in the showroom of Kuykendall Chevrolet company reveal a large number of the youths, ranging in ages from 11 to 15 years, already have their racers built and many more have theirs practically completed.

Some of the boys have had to build their cars minus wheel and axle sets, but Roy Finley, Derby director, reported Saturday 20 more sets of wheels would arrive Monday for distribution, leaving only about 12 sets of wheels needed to round out the entire lot of 250 cars.

Finley also announced arrival of 122 more cans of lubricating oil from the Shell Oil company to be given to each contestant as he calls for it. One hundred cans of oil have already been distributed. Finley said he had also been advised by the B. F. Goodrich company that a shipment of 100 axle nuts was on the way to provide boys who have lost axle nuts with replacements.

Exchange Club Active

Members of the Lubbock Exchange club, who are co-sponsors with the Avalanche-Journal and Kuykendall Chevrolet company in staging the first race in Lubbock, are engaged in a contest, calling on sponsors and boys each week to check on the progress of their cars, and to keep interest at a high pitch until the racers are completed.

Time, date and place for preliminary inspection of the racers will be announced in next Sunday's Avalanche-Journal and all contestants are urged to have their cars as nearly complete as possible for the first preliminary inspection.

As each car, sponsored by a firm or individual, can have the name of the sponsor painted on the side of the car, the responsibility for painting of the sponsor's name rests with the sponsor and the boy.

Race Course Layout Drawn

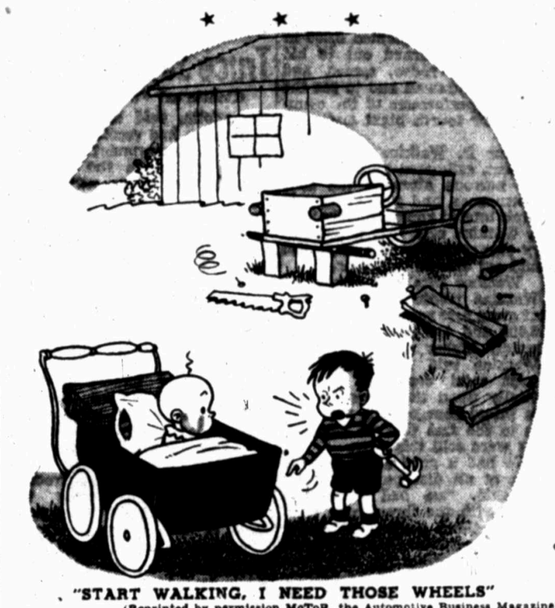

C. J. Griggs, member of the Exchange club, is drawing plans for the race course layout and spectator positions and D. D. (Buddy) Humphries, local contractor and also an Exchange club member, is building the ramp and other needed equipment for the race course at cost.

Finley said five other Derby races had been scheduled in Texas. They are: San Antonio, June 27; Fort Worth, July 18; Amarillo and Pampa, July 25.

He also said that a full list of prizes for the local winners would be announced in a few days, which will give added incentive to the youngsters to work harder on their racers.

Final entries in the Derby, replacing withdrawals, were announced as follows:

Sherrell Manning, 13, son of G. N. Manning, 1614 Fifteenth; Richard Lowery, 12, son of N. M. Lowery, 2302 Ave. T; Phil A. Nichols, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Nichols, 1923 Twenty-third; Cecil Marquart, 11, son of Cecil Marquart, 2208 Ave. T; Jack Tipps, 11, son of Mrs. J. J. OVER 175 FEARED DROWNED

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, June 12. (AP) Competent authorities said today they believed more than 175 persons were drowned when the Danish passenger vessel "Kjoebenhavn" struck a mine and sank yesterday in the Kattegat. It still is impossible to determine the exact number. Divers have started checking the vessel's cabins for the dead. Ten bodies have been brought ashore from the ship's interior.

2,544 Enroll In Summer School

Enrollment in all classes in the Lubbock Public school's free summer session has already topped the total enrollment for both semesters last year, with 2,544 students and adults enrolled in the regular classroom work, enrichment courses, and the pre-school for beginners, according to a survey made this week in the office of Supt. R. W. Matthews.

More parents are enrolling six-year-olds in the pre-schools being held in all elementary schools of the city since they have learned that it is not necessary that a child attend the full six-week period, principals said.

Vacations and Bible schools in the churches of the city had kept some children from registering during the first week, but there is ample benefit to be gained from the pre-school in the four remaining weeks of the first semester, school authorities stated. Enrollment at the beginning of the second week of summer school for the six-year-olds who will enter the public schools for the first time this fall had reached 525, a little better than half of the 1,029 children enumerated in the school census last April.

Adults also are realizing that they can still register in the courses being offered for their benefit, Floyd Honey, Senior High principal said. Since adults usually set out to work on projects they may begin this week if they choose in such courses as art and crafts, woodwork, either of the two home beautiful workshops, typing, shop, radio, or agriculture. Two hundred and sixty-two students and adults are enrolled in the enrichment courses.

Enrichment courses being offered for students alone include the elementary school band, chorus, a summer playhouse, recreation, and tennis. Students are reporting for the elementary band at 1 p. m., at the Senior High, and two periods, 8 to 12 in the morning and 1:30 until 3:30 in the afternoons are open for those interested in the school choruses of both Junior and Senior High schools.

Lt. Commander Lee J. Delworth, recruiting commander of the Albuquerque district, which includes western Texas and the Panhandle of Oklahoma, announced today that it is desired to call 5,900 naval reservists to one year's active duty, at their own request, with full pay and allowances.

Volunteers must not have more than two dependents and must be qualified in accordance with instructions for active duty.

The following ratings of class V-1, V-2, V-3, V-6, O-1 and O-2 are eligible for recall to active duty: radioman, aviation electronics man, aviation machinist's mate, yeoman, storekeeper, machinist's mate, electrician's mate and boiler technician in pay grades two, three and four; and aviation electronic technician in pay grades one through five.

Volunteers must sign a statement that they will remain on active duty for a period of one year, and at the end of that period they may at their own request enlist for one additional year, if funds permit. Men will volunteer for general service and those assigned to sea duty will receive sea pay, when applicable.

Any naval reservist in the above ratings desiring active duty should contact the local recruiting station at room 206, postoffice building, for full particulars on applications.

Swim Classes Held At Pool

Reminder that any boy, girl or adult who wants to learn to swim may take free swimming instruction at the city pool in Mackenzie State park was given Saturday by A. C. Hamilton, superintendent of the City Recreation department.

The pool is closed to the public daily from 9 a. m. to 12 noon for the "Learn to Swim" program for all age groups. Only charge for instruction is the regular admission price, of 9 cents and 25 cents.

Can Delay Lessons

Classes are scheduled so that anyone can start any day and if necessary go on a vacation and resume where they left off upon return.

Schedule of classes, which meet Mondays through Saturdays, follows: 9 a. m. to 10 a. m., 12 years up; 10 to 11 a. m., 6 to 8 years; 11 a. m. to 12 noon, 9 to 12 years.

Two qualified Red Cross instructors are on duty each morning.

During the last week, an average of 125 students received instruction daily. Twice that number can be accommodated in classes, it was announced.

A temporary chlorinator has been installed so the pool can be kept clean. Four samples of water are taken to laboratories to be tested for bacteria each day.

The pool is drained on Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Despite rain the first week in June, total attendance at the pool has been 9,578, including those in classes and others entering.

WORLD'S SMALLEST 'LOUD SPEAKER' IS DEVELOPED

A Minnesota firm, Telex, Inc., has scored an electronics scoop with the development of the world's smallest "loud speaker"—so small it can be hidden by a dime or a vest button.

Heralding the day of the "wrist watch" radio, the miniature device is part of a revolutionary new hearing aid, the Telex "99." It makes it possible for the hard-of-hearing to wear the receiver recessed in the earmold inside the ear opening for the first time. For information see E. W. Soviets Do Abrupt About-Face, Call Off Rail Block In Berlin

By LYNN HEINZERLING
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, June 12. —The Russians did an abrupt about-face today and called off an hours-old rail traffic block which would have cut off food and coal from 2,000,000 Germans in Berlin's western sector.

The end of the crisis came when the Russians advised American freight trains could move normally again from western Germany to Berlin. The first freight train from the American zone moved into the Russian one from Helmstedt on the British one border an hour later.

By late tonight two trains, one British and the other American, had arrived in Berlin.

Meeting Set

The Russians gave no explanation of their order or its withdrawal, and gave no assurances for the future.

British and American transport officials are scheduled to meet with Soviet transport officers next week. Observers believe the Russians then will raise again their demands for "rail reforms."

Meanwhile, the German Communist press beat the propaganda drum and hinted Germany could hope for a reduction in Russian reparation demands. Russia already has cut demands from Finland, Hungary and Romania. It was Russian demands for reparations from Germany which proved the initial hurdle in attempts of foreign ministers to reach agreement on Germany.

U. S. Troops Alerted

Allied observers interpreted today's hints as another step in trying to create counter-propoganda against the Marshall aid plan for western Germany.

Today's crisis came to a boil shortly after noon. The Russians had refused to permit the Americans to move a freight train in the American sector freight yard at Anhalter. Railway officials had alerted American troops to move the train with their own switch engines and to take over the necessary signal towers, if needed, to accomplish it. An order was sent out to the U. S. Army constabulary to seze the signal equipment if no settlement was reached.

Soon afterward the Russians issued the order to free the train.

Inefficiency Charged

The Russians insist it is inefficient to send trains from Western Germany to British and American marshaling yards in Berlin for breaking up and consignment to their destinations in Berlin. They contend it would reduce "congestion" to break up the trains in the Soviet zone and switch them directly to their final destination at Berlin.

Last Wednesday, the Russians ordered switch engines used by the Americans in Berlin sent to different stations in an effort to remove them from American control. This order was countermanded by the Americans and military policemen were put on the engines to guard them.

These guards were removed this afternoon after the Russians had given assurance that no attempt would be made to remove the engines.

The Russians, in attempts to tighten restrictions, have demanded that all freight from Western Germany, including that destined for the western powers, be completely documented and itemized.

The British and Americans are prepared to document and furnish itemized statements of all freight destined for German sources, but refuse to furnish an itemized account of their military freight, including supplies for their Berlin communities.

American officials regard this Soviet campaign as just another effort to harass the Western Allies.

Liquor Violation

said someone cut a front screen, entered his residence, tracked mud completely through the house, but apparently took nothing.

A bedspread reported stolen from the back yard of Mrs. Ralph Gray, at 2505 Thirty-second, was recovered a brief time later by two police patrolmen, L. W. Fristoe and Virgil Stephens. They said a negro woman, of 1800-block Ave. B, said she had found the property "in the alley."

Tires Stolen

A tool box filled with a set of socket and box-end wrenches, as well as other types, was reported stolen from A. M. Johnston of 2124 Twenty-seventh. Johnson valued the tools at $50.

A tire, wheel and $40 radio were reported stolen from the automobile of Dale Ford of 2102 Tenth, when it was parked in 2400-block Fifth. Dial Baxley, a fireman of No. 3 station, said a wheel and tire valued at $25 were stolen from his car parked at Fourth and College.

William F. Harrelson, 32, of Lubbock posted $600 bond on a drunk driving charge filed in county court after pleading innocent. He allegedly hit a parked automobile.

Bond Is Set

Cleo Burks, 35, a negro, pleaded innocent of aggravated assault after a fight in the negro section of Lubbock. Police said force was required in his arrest.

Bond of $1,500 was set by D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, for Grady L. McDougal, 27, on a charge of theft over $50. The charge, sworn to by Dep. Sheriff Leonard Lott before District Attorney Lloyd Croslin, accused McDougal of theft of a hot water heater and a kitchen sink May 10, from A. L. Walker of Lubbock county.

McDougal's brother, Ernest, 20, similarly charged, and Grady were brought here Friday night from Plains by Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton and M. D. Rogers, a Texas ranger. They are farmers of Yoakum county, and are under investigation of theft in several other counties, officials said.

Investigation Continues

Sheriff Hugh White, of Swisher county, and Sheriff Ted Andrews, of Hale county, obtained statements from the two men yesterday in connection with thefts in those counties. Additional charges were expected to be filed Monday, an officer said.

The two sheriffs, accompanied by Horton and Rogers, carried out an investigation at Brownfield and Lubbock Saturday.

A charge of theft over $50 was filed against W. W. Hoffman, who is held in Lynn county to await grand jury action on a burglary complaint. It was sworn to by Captain of Detectives Pat Davidson before E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, and filed in the justice court of C. E. Lynn. The charge accuses Hoffman of theft of $170 worth of property from H. H. Sampson, a bridgeport student of Texas Tech. Part of the property had been recovered, and Davidson said the suspect made oral admission of the offense.

Police said they had fined Ray Richard Selby, 24, of Levelland $45 in connection with four charges: Drunkenness, negligent collision, no valid operator's license on his person, and with having defective brakes on his car. The charges grew out of a collision late Friday afternoon in 1000-block Tenth, when Selby's car struck a parked automobile, police said.

Beating Is Probed

The sheriff's department and police were investigating two cases of assault last night.

A woman, about 30, of Avinger addition, mother of three children, complained to officers of the sheriff's office about 11 p. m. that her husband had beat her with a flat iron, threatened her with a knife and then cut up her clothes.

Neighbors said the attack occurred about an hour before that time, and that they could hear the children screaming. The screaming brought assistance from one of them, Captain of Detectives and Dep. Sheriff Carl Francis were told.

The woman had undergone an operation recently, performed on her leg, and she said that she was struck there with the iron.

Officers were seeking her husband, whom she said had not been working for two or three days.

A complaint was expected to be filed Monday in connection with a knifing in Queen City negro residential section of Lubbock, last night, according to police.

A negro woman reported that her husband had cut her on the ear and hand with a knife following an argument. She was treated at Chatman hospital and released, police records showed.

Cleanup Plans Ready

vice by the city health department to handle increased volumes of trash and garbage.

Quiet Drive Planned

Officials asked those with such materials which need hauling to call the city health department at the city hall, telephone 9371.

A letter from the chamber of commerce is to be mailed to business men asking their co-operation.

Sponsors emphasized that the campaign will be conducted quietly. There will be no meetings or rallies. No committees have been appointed as yet.

The hope is that each individual will attend to his own premises, making certain that everything that might attract or serve as a breeding place for flies, mosquitos, other insects, rats and mice is removed. These pests are believed to be among the worst carriers of polio. Everyone also is urged to chop weeds.

Special attention also will be devoted to outdoor toilets in the effort to make sure that all are disinfected thoroughly with kerosene, lime or other materials at least once daily.

The city DDT spraying equipment will be kept in operation throughout the week in the drive against flies, mosquitos and insects.

Officials said more vigorous measures will become necessary if there should be widespread laxity in cooperating with the voluntary campaign.

They cautioned also that polio in epidemic proportions probably would necessitate a ban of public gatherings of all kinds.

DEATH RATE REPORTED ON INCREASE AT HOUSTON

HOUSTON, June 12 (AP) — Dr. Frank K. Laurentz, city health officer, reported today that Houston's infant diarrhea death rate is climbing rapidly.

Laurentz, directing the city's greatest anti-polio campaign in history, said diarrhea and dysentry have claimed 45 lives this year as compared with only 19 for the same period last year.

TWO KILLED IN CRASH

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore., June 12 (INS)—A 34-year-old MacDoel, Calif., farmer and his nine-year-old son were killed today when a Southern Pacific passenger train crashed into their pickup truck at MacDoel. The father, Don H. Harden, died instantly in the wreckage. Jimmy, the little boy, was knocked 50 feet by the impact and crumpled into the steps of the MacDoel depot.

SERVICES ARE SET

ODESSA, June 12 (AP) — S. A. Hostetter, 62, who cheated a ten-year prison term here yesterday by slashing his throat as the judge started to pass sentence, will be buried here Monday. Hostetter, an oil field truck driver, was convicted on a charge of assault with intent to murder Francis Bell, [illegible] married Hostetter's divorced wife.

Truman's Challenge

to regain a sense of security is an end to Soviet obstruction and aggression," he added.

Mr. Truman said the United States is not struggling against Russia "for any territory or for economic gain."

"We have no hostile or aggressive designs against the Soviet Union or any other country," he emphasized." We are not waging a "cold war".

Russian Acts Listed

He said the United States proved its peaceful intentions by (1) dismantling the greatest military machine in history; (2) Demobilizing the armies that swept across Europe and the Pacific; (3) Proposing to share its secrets of Atomic power under proper guarantees for its peaceful use, and (4) Contributing nearly twenty billion dollars in loans and grants to other nations.

Russia, he said, has (1) Rejected participation in the European recovery program; (2) Maneuvered "for delay and for propaganda effect in every international conference; (3) Used its veto "excessively and unreasonably" in the United Nations; (4) Used indirect aggression in eastern Europe and "extreme pressure" against others in the Middle East, and (5) Intervened in the internaitonal affairs of other countries through Communist parties "directed from Moscow."

U. S. Course Stands

Man's hope for peace, the President said, "is too sacred to be trifled with for propaganda purposes, or selfish advantage, by any individual or nation."

"We are interested in peace—not propaganda," the President said, and added that the United States is "determined to keep strong for the sake of peace."

Its course, he said, will remain unchanged.

"I do not propose that we shall be turned aside by those who would see us fail."

Flood Toll Rises

backed up by the Columbia, is expected to reach 30 feet Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, .05 of a foot above the previous high.

Body Recovered

Meanwhile, authorities recovered the body of H. M. Skaggs, 41, of Portland, driver of an electric company truck. He lost his life when the water burst through the Denver avenue roadway and dike north of Portland May 31.

The body was found floating 150 yards north of the break that cost him his life.

37 Lives Claimed

The flooding Columbia and tributaries have claimed 37 lives in Oregon, Washington and Idaho during the past three weeks.

Damage has soared past the $100 million mark and may double that figure before the flood recedes.

Havoc is now underway in suburban territory north and east of Portland. More than 200 homes, the $6 million Portland-Columbia airport, four golf courses and 8,000 acres of rich truck gardens and dairy land have been submerged. Water is from 6 to 16 feet deep.

Third Crest Due Today

This latest disaster was launched early Friday when the backed-up waters of Columbia slough north of Portland ripped out a drainage district dike and raced six miles upstream behind the main Columbia dike.

Inflow of water into the new flood area has been so great that water levels in the Columbia and Williamette rivers were reduced one-tenth of a foot over night.

Both rivers were 15 feet above flood stage with the third and possibly the highest crest due to sweep down stream Sunday.

Known deaths in the Vanport disaster area reached five with the recovery of a woman's body. No identification had been made.

22 On "Critical" List

Red Cross officials said their "critical" Vanport list, which totaled 121 at the first of the week, had been reduced to 22 missing persons. This list has been checked in every possible way. Identification of the latest victim will shrink the list to 21.

A body identified as that of Ronald D. Nelson, 20, of Elgin, Ore., was found floating in debris lodged against Bonneville dam.

Henry Witten, a wheat farmer at Waterville, Wash., was killed in the same cloudburst that drowned two central Oregon ranchers between Condon and Fossil.

Richland, Wash., atomic plant center, was weathering another high crest from the upper Columbia. The government's Hanford plutonium works are out of danger.

Men Battle Waters

Falling water of the Snake river was expected to offset the high waters from the upper Columbia.

Critical conditions maintained below Portland on the Columbia, Kelso and Longview, Wash., kept 1,200 men on the dikes, working in three shifts, to meet the threat of the highest crest yet to surge against these water-logged levees.

Rain of the past two days has aggravated the battle of the dikes. Engineers say the overall picture is the worst in the past two weeks of sustained crisis.

Limited rail and highway traffic was moving between Portland and Vancouver.

Despite the flood, Portland's rose festival floral parade went forward today under drab skies. The big parade was shifted to the east side of town to avoid conjestion on bridges over the swollen Williamette river.

HOUSTON MAN CLAIMED

HOUSTON, June 12. (AP)—Charles W. Plowden, 72, Harris county treasurer since 1937, died last night in a Baytown hospital. He suffered a heart attack two weeks ago while visiting his daughter, Mrs. W. H. Bridges, in Baytown.

Parrish Takes Stand On Bill

history.

Reiteration of his stand against efforts of out-of-state manufacturers and jobbers, and a few Texas retailers seeking to avoid competition in business, Senator Parrish, engaged in insurance and farming, outlined his views and his record on the proposal as result of an invitation to all four local Senate candidates to state their views, issued by The Plainsman, Avalanche-Journal columnist. Nothing has been heard from the three lawyers seeking the office: Kilmer Corbin, of Lamesa; and Dudley Brummett and Ralph Brock, both of Lubbock.

During the last session of the legislature, persuasive and well-heeled lobbyists resorted to all the tricks and wiles of the lobbying trade in an effort to pass the bill. Estimates insist the bill's passage would force Texans to pay all the way from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 more per year for scores of products such as toothpaste, shaving cream, astringents, some cosmetics and many other aids to normal living. The price-raising bill was defeated, but probably will be brought up again next year, since representatives of the lobby are known now to be contacting legislators and prospective legislators regarding their positions on the proposed law.

Senator Parrish set forth his continued opposition to the price-raising legislation in a letter to Chas. A. Guy, Avalanche-Journal editor and author of The Plainsman column. The letter reads:

"Some days ago you invited, through your column, various candidates for the State Senate to make their views known concerning the 'Fair Trades act.'

"I had thought, of course, that my views on this legislation had been made well known during my first term as your State Senator. You know, of course, that I am now completing my first term as your Senator and that I have consistently voted against and worked against the passage of what is known as the 'Fair Trades act.' This record has been written by me in the Senate Journal, a publication that is open for inspection to the world.

"For fear, however, that some may not have had access to this record and in order that all may know my views, you are at liberty to inform every voter in the Thirtieth Senatorial district that if I am elected to a second term as their State Senator I intend to renew my efforts to defeat the passage of this iniquitous measure and to use every legitimate means at my command to see to it that it is never enacted as a law on the statute books of this state.

"It is my sincere belief that the passage of this proposed act would cause an almost immediate increase in the prices of merchandise to the consuming public thereby raising the cost of living and contributing to further inflation. My obligation, both as a citizen and as State Senator, to the general public of this district impels me to fight this legislation.

"I trust that the above is plain enough that all may understand. May I express to you my appreciation of your bringing this matter to public attention? In my opinion you have rendered a service to the people of the District by so doing.

"If there be any other proposed legislation upon which my views are not known to you, you may be assured that I will, without qualification, make those views known publicly.

"Yours very truly,
"Sterling J. Parrish, State Senator, Thirtieth Senatorial District of Texas."

Wage Hike Granted

Buckmaster, union president.

The rubber industry hiked prices on an average of 5 to 7 per cent earlier this year.

The Firestone agreement was reached just a day after 125,000 CIO workers at the General Electric company were granted an eight per cent wage increase in a company-wide settlement.

The Nash price boost came just a day after the Packard Motor Co. increased its prices and granted a 13 cents hourly wage increase to its CIO-United Auto Workers employes.

Ford Motor Co., the only one of the big three companies still negotiating with the union, has announced plans to increase prices.

General Motors and Chrysler granted pay boosts but so far, Chrysler has kept its list prices unchanged. General Motors has left its passenger car prices as before the settlement.

Other developments included:

John L. Lewis brought up the question of a new contract for the first time in his negotiations with the soft coal operators. He was reported to have been vague on demands but to have told operators they were licked and might as well give up now and "pay the bill." The sessions were recessed to Monday.

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime union said in New York that the maritime unions were preparing to strike at the expiration of their contracts June 15. However, President Truman instructed the justice department to seek an 80-day injunction to avert the strike.

Fate Of Draft Bill Hinges On Committee Vote Slated Monday

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP)—The fate of draft legislation in this session of Congress hinges on a House Rules committee vote expected Monday. One man may swing it.

If that committee decides to give the bill the legislative right of way, Congress still may be able to complete action on it before the scheduled recess next Saturday.

Area Tax Rates

is levied against the $6,667 figure. But if the rate is computed on the basis of a 100 per cent valuation, it "adjusts" down, in the case of Lubbock, to 84 cents on the $100.

Area Average Low

The average adjusted rate in the 18 Texas cities of 20,000 or more population is $1.26—42 cents, or exactly 50 per cent more, than in Lubbock.

In towns and cities of the South Plains as a whole, the average adjusted rate is 69 or 23 cents less than the 92 cents average for the state as a while.

Included among those South Plains localities are Dickens, with an adjusted rate of only 12 cents on the $100, and Ropesville, with 15 cents.

The ratios of real value at which property is assessed for taxation varies widely among cities. San Antonio, Port Arthur, San Angelo, Brownsville and others make the assessment at full value. Houston assessed at 70 per cent, Dallas at 65, El Paso at 85, Amarillo at 80. Several cities drop as low as 25 per cent.

Total Compared

In Lubbock, the total of assessed valuations this year is, in round figures, $54,600,000. This is based on assesments at two-thirds of real value, indicating that the total actual value of property on the tax roll is approximately $81,900,000.

Arriving at estimates of real values in other Texas municipalities by the same process, the results show that Lubbock, which officially ranks 15th among Texas cities in population, moves up to 12th position in taxable wealth.

It moves ahead of Port Arthur, Wichita Falls and Laredo, which were credited with larger populations than Lubbock in the 1940 federal census. Taxable wealth in those cities are shown to be: Port Arthur, $45,572,000; Wichita Falls, $60,800,000 and Laredo, $32,000,000.

Lubbock Leads

Similar figures for some other cities are: Amarillo, $109.000,000; Abilene, $58,000,000 and San Angelo, $63,700,000.

In per capita wealth, as shown by the tax rolls, Lubbock is placed ahead of all Texas cities above 20,000 population.

The Lubbock per capita of $2,580 compares with $2,350 for Houston, $2,510 for Dallas, $2,100 for Fort Worth, $2,300 for Austin and Corpus Christi, $1,900 for Amarillo, $2,200 for Abilene and $2,480 for San Angelo.

The following table gives 1947 tax and financial information of South Plains towns and cities as reported by the league of municipalities, including assessed valuation in round figures, percentage basis of assessment, actual tax rate and adjusted tax rate: (Listings in order of 1940 population).

Farm Price Program

tended to fix prices for farm products at levels comparable to prices farmers must pay for products they need.

As far as basic commodities are concerned the bill would simply continue the present law except that the cotton support level is made 92.5 per cent of parity.

Price supports for milk and milk products, hogs, poultry and eggs would be at 90 per cent of parity, but the secretary of agriculture could boost the price on these commodities if he deemed it necessary as a stimulant to production.

Complications Loom

Supports for commodities such as dried peas and beans, soy beans, and flax seed, would range from 60 per cent of parity to the high support level in effect now. Potatoes produced in 1949 would be pegged at 90 per cent of parity, and those produced in 1949 would be allowed to drop to 60 per cent.

The price support program for wool would be continued at the present level.

The future course of the legislation is complicated by the threat of Sen. Maybank (D-SC), to offer in the Senate an amendment repealing federal taxes on oleomargarine.

The House trounced the dairy lobby several weeks ago and passed overwhelmingly a bill to repeal the oleo taxes. No action has been taken on the legislation in the Senate.

WALLACE PARTY BANNED

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 12 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace's Progressive party was denied a place on Oklahoma's July 6 primary ballot today by the state Supreme court. The court ruled that the Progressives did not constitute a political party under Oklahoma election statutes.

6,000 See Final Rodeo Program

Old Man Weather took a final poke at the fourth and final night's performance of the ABC-Boys' club rodeo Saturday, but despite the "bad break" an estimated 6,000 or more persons turned out to bid Gene Autry, rodeo, screen and radio star, farewell and to see the top rodeo performers of the country vie for fourth night and final money.

Arthur B. Watkins, ABC club president, estimated that 30,000 or more persons attended the four performances, and said gross gate receipts totaled approximately $42,000. Watkins said that a preliminary survey indicated the project would net $12,000 this year.

Weather Hits Attendance

Watkins pointed out that last year gross gate receipts were about $56,000 and the net was proportionately higher than this year.

Watkins said the lower gate receipt total could be blamed partially upon the lower admission prices charged this year and also to the fact that no reserved seats were sold this year.

"We had a good show and we aren't at all disappointed," Watkins said, "we had some bad breaks with the threatening weatner for three performances, but we are ready to begin mapping our rodeo program for next year. We feel that we will be able to offer as good, and possibly a better program in 1949 than this year."

A full program of rodeo events were presented Saturday night with the exception of calf roping, the finals of which were held Friday night. Performances were on a par with those of the other three nights.

Performer Is Hurt

The only apparent serious mishap occurred on the last ride in the bull riding event when Jim Schumacher, of Phoenix, Arizona, was thrown and injured by a brahma bull. At West Texas hospital, where he was taken for emergency treatment, Schumacher was found to be suffering from a severely cut lip and bruises. Four sutures were taken in the lip wound and he was released.

The 'slick' turf was blamed for some of the slow times last night, but did not detract from the usual thrills.

One of the highlights of the program came when Gene Autry, featured attraction of the four-night program, flew over the stadium in his plane after making his appearances in the final show early. He was to return to Hollywood for his regular radio program tonight.

Final night results are as follows:

Bareback bronc riding—Manueal Enos and Bill Hancock split first place money, Larry Finley, second, and Jim Like, third.

Saddle bronc riding—Jim Like, first, Bart Clennon, second, and Gene Pruett, third.

Steer wrestling — Charlie Colbort, first, 7.4 seconds, Buck Jones, second, 8.2, Tod Wattley, third, 10 and Dub Phillips, fourth, 10.9.

Bull riding—Tod Wattley, first, David Shellenberger, second, and Jim Shoulders, fourth.

Champions and winners in the rodeo were:

Bareback bronc riding — Bill Hancock, first, Jimmy Schumacher, second, Tater Decker, third, and David Shellenberger, fourth.

Calf roping—Latham Riley, first, 65.8 seconds, Herschel Romine, second, 67.1, Shoat Webster and Jack Shaw, tied for third, 70.1.

Saddle bronc riding—Larry Finley, first, Gene Pruett, second, and Jim Like, third.

Steer wrestling — Buck Jones, first, 25, Dub Phillips, second, 28.6, and Jim Like, 31.7.

Bull riding — Jim Shoulders, first, David Shellenberger, second, and Tod Wattley, third.

Truce Said Broken

Bernadotte, said in a statement tonight he had received from the Egyptian government four complaints in which the Egyptians alleged they were attacked by Jews. One alleged attack was northeast of Gaza. UN observers at Tel Aviv were ordered to investigate.

Violations Charged

Bernadotte arrived in Damascus the Syrian capital, this afternoon and was received by President Al Sayed AJ Kuwalty. An official dinner party will be given in his honor tonight.

Officers of Israel's forces at Haifa declared the cease-fire order was being violated the second day by Syrians firing on Ein Geb, Jewish settlement on the eastern shore of Lake Galilee. An official communique from Tel Aviv said the Arabs were "heavily attacking" the settlement at noon today.

Farther north, Jewish official spokesmen said, the Arabs "still were launching heavy attacks" against Mahnayim and Kfar Szold at 5 p. m. tonight.

Attacks Authorized

An Amman dispatch said joint headquarters of the Arab armies had given commanders in the field authority "to severely counterattack" in event of "organized Jewish attacks." They were instructed to ignore "individual incidents," but the orders apparently left it to the commanders to draw the line.

Copies of the order were said to have been sent to Bernadotte and the Jewish agency.

The Amman headquarters said Jews attacked the Syrians in the Nazareth district, on the north side of the Arab triangle in central Palestine last night, and also attemoted a raid on Beersheba from nearby settlements in southern Palestine.

New Route Opened

Muhsen Bey Berazi, acting foreign minister of Syria, told correspondents in Damascus that the Jews had resumed firing on the Syrian line at 2:30 this morning.

The Syrian complaints apparently arose from three thrusts which the Syrians said they made on Armistice eve in which they claimed the capture of 13 Jewish villages and the killing of more than 260 Jews.

"It may now be revealed," said a Tel Aviv communique, "that the defense army of Israel succeeded in opening a new supply route to Jerusalem a few days before the cease-fire order came into effect.

Truce Is Shaky

Israel already had served notice it expected free communication into Jerusalem if it opened a route before the truce.

In Jerusalem today, however, an Arab legion divisional commander told Bernadotte he was prepared to prevent this with artillery if necessary.

Despite the shaky position of the truce, Count Bernadotte visited Jerusalem for five hours today and dispatches from that city said he had succeeded in calming the tense atmosphere somewhat. He saw both Jewish and Arab officials there.

Tel Aviv dispatches said other sectors, aside from the north, were apparently quiet.

British Aid Asked

The mediator planned to fly to Rhodes on his current trip and establish headquarters for his more far-reaching peace-making efforts. Then he planned to return to Cairo Tuesday to begin talks with Arab representatives in an effort to induce them to sit down at the same table with Israel representatives at Rhodes.

It was not considered likely that such a conference could get under way in less than a week.

In London, the British foreign office announced that a "formal request" had been received from Bernadotte for the use of British ships and aircraft in transport work only in supervising the truce. The British had not yet given their answer.

American officials in Washington indicated the United States would comply with a request for naval patrol vessels, small aircraft and additional Army, Navy and Air officers to help maintain the truce.

The first group of French observers was due in Cairo tomorrow.

Haven For Children

ents don't come in soon and claim a very young little fellow.

Most of the children favorably react to the attention. Some, however, have not been told that the police are friendly. So there is fear in their eyes, sobs in their throats.

Most of the patrolmen have children of their own, and they take turns trying to make the lost child's stay pleasant. Usually the child, no matter how timid, is having himself quite a time before long.

Attitude of parents is as varied as reaction of their children.

Mrs. Gale Pugh of 2905 Ave. J missed her 25-month-old daughter Kathleen Saturday afternoon on crowded Broadway. She had turned her back only a moment, but her daughter mingled with the crowd and got away. Another woman found the chubby little girl and turned her over to Patrolman P. H. Crow. Crow called the police station. W. S. Deaton, dispatcher, radioed for Robert E. West and Lynn Campbell, prowl car patrolmen, to go to Crow's corner and bring the child to the station.

Mother Calls Station

Only a moment, it seemed, after the patrolmen and the child reached the station, the mother telephoned. But before she could drive the short distance to the station, the little girl was asleep—in Campbell's arms. Campbell has a son, Lynn, only 29 months old, so he knows the right formula. An all-day sucker had materialized suddenly from somewhere. It was clutched in a relaxed little hand when the mother walked in, worry in her eyes, her face flushed.

"Did she cry?" she asked.

"Not a bit," she was told.

The worry ebbed from the mother's eyes. She gathered up her child, still sleeping in the policeman's lap, thanked the officers and left.

Threatens To Whip Child

Patrolman Mark McCurry brought a little girl into the station not so long ago. It was so young it scarcely could talk. It was a full hour later, officials said, when the mother came in.

"Do you have a ladies rest room?" she snapped. "I'm gonna whup 'er good. I'll teach 'er. I put 'er out in front of that store and told 'er to wait for me!"

McCurry is still mad!

Incidentally, the mother didn't even offer any appreciation, officials said.

J. Solon Lea, magistrate of the corporation court, said that incident wasn't unusual."

"We had one little fellow, only 18 months old, in here three Saturdays in a row," he said. "The first time, a man found her wandering several blocks away, near the Santa Fe depot. He risked suspicion by picking her up. One of the biggest fall crowds of the year was in town.

"She was back the next Saturday, and the next.

Advice Is Offered

"On the last occasion, the mother showed up later—much later. 'Oh, I missed her about an hour ago, but I figgured she'd be down here at the police station—she was the other times,' she said."

The woman got an admitted "dressing down."

Sometimes the police ask aid of commercial radio stations and the press to restore lost children.

Sometimes they have nothing but descriptions to broadcast—for the child is so afraid of a man in uniform that he cowers and cries when questioned.

So—

Teach your child to feel that the police are friendly. And teach him the name of his parents and their street address.

He too may get lost sometime.

Foreign Aid Funds

House actually allowed ECA $3,200,000,000 on a 12-month basis. Included in this figure was $150,000,000 for aid to Japan and Korea.

The Senate committee lifted this $150,000,000 out of the ECA funds and placed it in the program for government and relief in occupied areas.

TAFT, DEWEY MAKE STRONG BID

Top GOP Leaders Study Moves To Determine Party Nominee

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 12.—All ranking GOP chieftains are watching today for signs of a coalition with power enough to name the Republican presidential nominee.

Both Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, are seeking such a coalition. They are the front-running possibilities and together control more than a majority of the delegates in the convention which assembles in Philadelphia June 21.

Stassen's Role Watched

Every independent GOP leader and all the "favorite sons" are weighing each party development to determine whether it connotes a future coalition that could name the winner.

The coalition that would instantly settle the nomination would be between Taft and Dewey. While they are on cordial personal terms, neither has made any move toward the other. Each is casting out bait, hoping to gain the additional strength necessary to win the nomination.

But a Taft-Dewey coalition is not impossible if there is a deadlock in Philadelphia.

There is considerable speculation about Harold E. Stassen, of Minnesota, now in third place in number of delegates. Few GOP strategists think he can win; most believe he is certain to lose and hence are watching to see whether he will throw his strength to Taft or Dewey or to a "dark horse."

May Back Taft

Many observers declare Stassen will support Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, of Michigan, eventually. But some insiders deny this. They hint he might help Taft in order to defeat Dewey with whom he has conducted a feud throughout the primary contests.

Many leaders are watching for a move by Gov. Earl Warren, of California. Most strategists expect him to remain neutral between Taft and Dewey in hopes of being the compromise choice in event of a deadlock.

But observers recall that in 1944, Warren threw his support to Dewey and the New Yorker won. However Dewey was certain of that victory before Warren withdrew from the race.

The Pennsylvania delegation, supporting Sen. Edward Martin as a "favorite son", might hold the balance of power. Its 73 votes, if cast for Taft or Dewey, could start a band-wagon movement.

But the Pennsylvania delegation is reported badly divided. Gov. James Duff is said to favor Vandenberg as a "dark horse" but would support Taft or Speaker Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts before going to Dewey. He is on the outs with Dewey.

Some of the other "favorite son" states might start a stampede if they all joined either Taft or Dewey. But at the moment, they are badly divided in second choices.

Illinois, supporting Gov. Dwight H. Green as a "favorite son", will throw largely to Taft on the second ballot. Indiana, supporting Rep. Charles Halleck, will divide between Taft and Dewey, awaiting signs of the winner. New Jersey, supporting Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, will give its bulk to Vandenberg or Stassen but is divided.

Massachusetts, supporting Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, will throw its 35 delegates to another favorite son, Martin, in hopes of making him the "dark horse" nominee. Delaware, after a vote for former Sen. John Townsend, will scatter its 9 votes. Tennessee will give Carroll Reece, GOP chairman, a vote and then go largely to Taft.

It could be that Stassen can settle the issue . . . if he can deliver his delegates. But most Republicans will keep a weather eye on Taft and Dewey. If they ever get together, they are certain to name the next Republican presidential nominee.

D. E. Nored Assumes Duties As State Game Warden For Area

D. E. Nored has assumed his duties here as state game warden in an area covering six counties in this vicinity, it was announced yesterday.

Nored, who recently finished the game warden school at A. & M. college, is to have supervision of Lynn, Garza, Lubbock, Hale, Crosby, and Floyd counties.

He pledged full cooperation with federal agencies that are concerned with fish and wildlife, and with anyone in the territory who desires to stock lakes or other preserves with fish or available wildlife.

Nored will maintain an office in the Federal building in connection with other similar agencies, and can be reached by mail at Box 621, Lubbock, he said.

The plane then struck a 12,000 volt power cable and burst into flames. Dobson and Leslie leaped to safety.

The plane was bound from Los Angeles to El Paso.

Hogan Shoots Blazing Golf To Add US Open To Triumphs

Wee Ben Shoots 8 Under Par

LOS ANGELES, June 12 (AP)—Ben Hogan, winner of almost every other honor in golf, captured his biggest tournament today—the United States Open championship.

Stunning a record crowd with a par-breaking performance, Hogan won the championship with a 72-hole score of 276. Par is 284.

The mechanical man of golf, refusing to crack when the pressure came in the final stages, wrecked the par 71, 7,020-yard Riveria Country club championship course with today's performance.

Breaks Open Record

Shooting final rounds of 68 and 69 to go with his first round 67 and second round 72, Hogan steadily and carefully chopped down hopes of his nearest rival, Jimmy Demaret.

Demaret finished second, matching Hogan's rounds of 68 and 69.

Hogan broke the U. S. Open tournament record for 72 holes, a 281 registered by big Ralph Guldahl at Detroit in 1937. He also fractured the 54-hole score, too, which was 211.

An estimated 25,000 fans watched the triumph of the 35-year-old transplanted Texan from Ft. Worth, who now calls Hershey, Pa., home.

Slamming Sam Snead, who led the field going into this final challenge, dropped back with rounds of 73 and 72.

Wins $2,000

This was Hogan's course. He won the last two rich Los Angeles Open tournaments over it in 280 and 275, stripping its par by 13 shots.

He became the first man to win in the same year the U. S. Open and the PGA championships—one medal, the other match play—since Gene Sarazen turned the trick in 1922.

The win was worth $2,000 in cash to Hogan. Demaret got $1,500.

Jim Turnesa of Elmford, N. Y., was third with rounds of 71-69-70-70—280. He pocketed $1,000.

Bobby Locke came next, with 70-69-73-70 for 282, and Snead finished fifth with 69-69-73-72 for 283—a sad finish for the fans who wanted Old Sam to win this one.

Has Great Record

The defending champion, Lew Worsham, knocked two balls out of bounds on the seventh hole, and himself out of the running. The gallery gave him a roar, however, when he bowed off the final hole after sinking a 60-foot putt.

Tonight there was celebration for Hogan's first U. S. Open victory. He's won most every local and sectional open; he tried once and lost the playoff for the Masters title; he was captain of the Ryder cup team; he has been golf's top money winner, the Vardon trophy winner.

For the others—the 49th Annual U. S. Open comes up next year at Ardmore, Pa.

Jack Harden, El Paso, Tex., 72-73-73-78—296.

Iverson Martin, Graham, Texas, 73-73-80-76—302.

TITLEHOLDER POWER—Tony Zale, right, who recaptured his middleweight championship Friday night with a three-round knockout of Champion Rocky Graziano, left, shows one of the reasons why he won. Graziano pivots from the force of Zale's left hook to the head and hits the deck, while the challenger watches him. It was the third meeting of these two leather-slinging middleweights and, while not as bloody as previous meetings, proved just as thrilling to the $400,000 crowd. The KO was administered in Newark, N. J., at 1:08 of the third canto.

Kovaleski Leads Texas Net Play

DALLAS, June 12 (AP)—Two out-of-state entrants dominated play in the Texas sectional tennis tournament at the Dallas country club today as the tourney entered final rounds.

Fred Kovaleski of Hamtramck, Mich., gained finals in men's singles and doubles, and Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., gained the finals in boy's and junior singles.

Kovaleski stopped a teammate, Bob Galoway, in straight sets, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1, in the singles and teamed with Bernard Bartzen, another team mate from San Angelo, Texas, to win a semi-final doubles match from Ed Braswell and Paschall Walthall, 6-0, 6-1, 6-3.

Richardson, top-seeded in boys' singles, dumped Michael Welch, El Paso, 6-3, 6-4, to enter the finals in that division, then turned back third-seeded Dick Osburn, 6-2, 6-4, to enter junior singles.

Baldridge, Stamford Split Doubleheader

STAMFORD, June 12. (Special)—The Baldridge Bakers of Lubbock split a doubleheader with the Stamford Cardinals in a Texas Softball League twin bill here tonight.

Roy Weeks outpitched Loy Hubbard in the first game to eke out the 1-0 victory, but Bill Kizer turned around in the second game to outpitch Mill Mickler to give the Lubbock crew a 3-0 shutout.

Both Hubbard and Weeks were chary with their hits tonight, each allowing but two safeties. It appeared that the game might go into extra innings, but an unearned run in the sixth gave the home the victory.

With two down, Williams singled and then completed the tour of the bases on two consecutive Baldridge errors to score the winning run.

In the nightcap, the bakers tallied once in the first inning and twice in the third to clinch the game behind the steady hurling of Kizer. Each team again was tied for hits, both getting four safeties.

Miss Only Two Out Of 300

Read, Turner Lead Texas Skeet Shoot

HOUSTON, June 12. (AP)—Col. Pete Read of San Antonio, and J. T. Turner of Houston, took the lead in the main event of the 16th annual Texas skeet championships by missing only two targets in 300 tries.

Read and Turner paced the field of 120 entries in the all-bore championships. Only one of some 50 shooters who finish tomorrow has a chance to beat or tie them.

Culbreath Has Chance

He is Lieut. H. H. Culbreath of San Antonio, who smashed 174 of his first 175 targets. If he should break all of his remaining 125 shots he would win the all-bore title.

If Culbreath fails Read and Turner will stage a shoot-off.

Currently tied for second place at 297 are Grant Ilseng, Houston; R. R. McDonald, Houston, H. F. Ehler, Dallas and D. W. Conway, El Paso.

Janice Jenkins, Dallas, apparently unseated Ann Martin, San Antonio, defending state women's champion, with a score of 98 on 100 targets, one ahead of Miss Martin.

Perfect Score Shot

It was considered unlikely that other competitors tomorrow could overtake leaders.

George W. Glass, Jr., Midland, had a perfect 100 to lead the junior boy's championship division, and Charles Prentiss, Jr., Fabens, held an 87 in the sub-junior boys class.

Johnny Holder, Waco, and Bob Buford, Austin, with 98's, were second to Glass, while Billy Martindale, Jacksonville, with an 86, pressed Prentiss.

Pampa Blanks Loboes, 6-0

LAMESA, June 12 (Special)—The Lamesa Loboes found the Pampa Oilers a little tougher than the Lubbock Hubbers last night, bowing to the three-hit hurling of Foster White as the visitors took the opening game of the series, 6-0.

White allowed the Loboes only three scattered singles, Walt Buckel getting two of them and Eddie Skrabacz nicking White for the other.

Meanwhile, the Oilers were spoiling the 1948 debut of Bill Jones with an attack that was good for three runs in the third, one in the fifth and two in the ninth.

R. C. Otey opened the game with a walk and went to second as Bob Bartholomew grounded out. Earl Harriman singled Otey home and then came in on Jack Riley's double. Tony Range went out and Riley took third on a wild pitch, from which point he scored on Bob Belford's single.

Harriman led off the fifth with a homer to add another run to the Oiler total.

Team Meets Big Spring At Chapman Field Today

Legion Squads Set For Play

Both the "A" and "B" squads of the American Legion Junior League program swing back into action again this week, with the "A" team scheduled to play Big Spring American Legion this afternoon at 3 on Chapman Field.

The "B" Squad gets into action Tuesday afternoon against the Spur American Legion nine in a game at 4 p. m., on Chapman Field.

This afternoon's meeting between the Big Spring and Lubbock squads will be the second of the season. The Lubbock nine visited Big Spring June 4 and came out on top, 11-0, behind the one-hit hurling of five pitchers.

This performance, in which both the pitchers and the batters showed about equal ability, stamped the Lubbock team as one which holds promise of being a leading contender for regional honors. In two games with Morton's American Legion nine, the Lubbock boys broke even, winning at home and losing last Sunday at Morton.

Several of the Legion players earned their letters at the high school this spring and have grown up in the Legion program during the summer. They have one of their better-balanced nine, with good hitting and a staff of five good hurlers.

The mound corps is particularly strong, without much choice as far as starters is concerned. Jack Martyn, Jim Wilson, Hulin Fowler, Jimmy Hamilton and Jack McCabe have all shown ability and the depth is reassuring to Coach Fred Taylor.

Norman Banty and Jack Cook give good protection behind the plate, with Dorrance Guy, Jimmy Richards and Garnet Reeves patrolling the outer garden well.

The infield also is strong, with five men seemingly assured of starting. Jesse Fullerton, Charles Galey, Bob Brown, Bill Tatum and Jack Whitehead are guarding the infield and doing a good job of it.

H. J. McCabe, commander of Allen Brothers Post No. 148, which sponsors the program, with financial support from the Ford Auto company through the Lubbock Auto company locally, also assists Coach Taylor with the team. Both have assured members of the "B" squad that positions are not clinched on the first team and that any boy showing ability will be given a chance to trade places.

The "B" squad also has strength, with such pitchers as David Clark, Jimmy Sexton, N. D. Stevens, Mack Taylor and Morris Taylor. The catchers are Tommy Yelvington and Bob Sexton, the infielders are Mackey Lawrence, Neil Sykes, Don Adkisson, Johnny Tatum and Harmon Greene and the outfielders include Tom Brown and Jim Freeman. Coaching this team are Mack McCullough and Garland Head.

Shooters Invited To Attend Skyline Gun Club Meet Today

A "Protection Shoot" will be run off this afternoon beginning at 2 at the Skyline Gun club's shooting range on College Avenue, with Lubbock and vicinity shooters invited to attend.

The tie between C. D. Blair and Art J. Johnson, who ended the last registered shoot deadlocked, will be fired off at 4 p. m.

During the afternoon J. O. Dudley of Floydada will give a shooting exhibition and the Lubbock shooters will entertain shooters from Amarillo and Brownfield.

The American Niagara Falls are about 10 feet higher than the Canadian Falls.

Giants Trounce Cards As Reds Down Boston

ST. LOUIS, June 12 (AP)—The New York Giants exploded for five runs in the seventh inning today to come from behind and defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 7-5 in the first of a three-game series.

Johnny Mize, who sent the Giants off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning with his ninth home run of the season, opened the big inning against Jim Hearn with a double. Billy Rigney capped the rally with a double which drove in the winning runs. The blow came off Murry Dickson, who had relieved Hearn. Dickson was charged with the defeat.

RAIN HALTS PHILS

PITTSBURGH, June 12 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirate-Philadelphia Phils ball game was called in the third inning because of rain today. The game was halted twice by heavy showers. The Phils were leading 6 to 1 at the time.

Zale, Robinson Title Bout Seen

CHICAGO, June 12 (INS)—Promoter Irving Kovin today guaranteed $150,000 to world's middleweight champion Tony Zale for a title defense against Ray Robinson, the present welterweight champion, in Chicago this September.

The offer, made to Sam Pian, Zale's manager, was contingent upon Robinson's successful defense of his welterweight crown against challenger Bernard Docusen of New Orleans in Chicago next Thursday, a fight also being promoted by Kovin.

To his Zale-Robinson offer, Kovin added $10,000 "to be presented Zale upon signing the contract."

Meanwhile Jack Laken, manager of Chuck Taylor, who lost to Robinson the last time Sugar Ray defended his welterweight title, is trying to arrange a Zale-O'Neill Bell title fight in Detroit this July or August.

Laken, in Chicago to see Pian, said a group of wealthy Detroit attorneys are backing the proposition and stand ready to deposit $75,000 immediately with the Michigan Athletic commission. Laken recently purchased Bell's contract.

Boynton Returns For Fifth Wrestling Show

Olan Boynton, who seems to like Lubbock, although he lives in Amarillo, will make his fifth consecutive appearance in Sled Allen's wrestling arena this week, opposing George Lopez of Tampico, Mexico.

It will be the main event of the evening and is scheduled to be two out of three falls with one hour time limit. In the semi-final, Frankie Hill tangles with Jack Wentworth and Sammy Kohen meets Pat O'Dowdy in the preliminary.

Lopez asked for the shot at Boynton, which accounts for the Amarillean's appearance here this week. The Amarillo fireman has been riding a long winning streak here, but Lopez has the ability to break it if he is feeling right.

Hill is a strong boy type, as is Wentworth, and the semi-final should be a fine wrestling exhibition. Both men have made good showings in the local arena and are popular with the fans.

Winner Of Derby And Preakness Adds Third Crown

Calumet Farm's Citation Wins $100,000 Added At Belmont

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Calumet Farm's Citation streaked to an easy victory in the $100,000-added Belmont stakes today and became the eighth horse in history to achieve the triple crown.

The King Ranch's Better Self was second, six lengths behind, with W. L. Brann's Escadru third.

The Calumet champion equalled Count Fleet's record for the stakes by touring the mile and a half in 2:28 1/5.

Heavily backed by the crowd of 43,046, Citation paid $2.40, $2.30 and $2.10. Better Self paid $3.70 and $2.10. Escadru paid $2.10 for show.

Arcaro Gets Triple Crown

The Warren Wright speedster was piloted by Eddie Arcaro, who became the first jockey to ride horses to two triple crowns. Arcaro guided Calumet's Whirlaway to Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont victories in 1941.

The Glenn Riddle Farms' Faraway matched strides with the Calumet flash until the pack hit the backstretch and then he started fading.

That was when Better Salf and Escadru started moving up.

Better Self beat out Escadru by half a length and then strung out behind in order were: C. V. Whitney's Vulcan's Forge, A. J. Sackett's Gasparilla, William Helis' Salmagundi, Belair Stud's Golden Light and Glen Riddle's Faraway.

Citation Equals Count Fleet

Count Fleet's record for the stakes, equalled by Citation today, was made in 1943.

Previous triple crown winners were Sir Barton (1919), Gallant Fox (1930), Omaha (1935), War Admiral (1937), Whirlaway ,1941) Count Fleet (1943) and Assault (1946).

It was just another romp for the Kentucky Derby and Preakness champion.

"He's the greatest horse I've ever seen, let alone ridden," Arcaro said.

"I shouldn't have let him win by so much but I couldn't take any chances for that kind of money."

Boosts Total Earning

Going into the race with total earnings of $467,000, Citation boosted his 1948 money-winnings to $389,020. With a two-season total of $544,700, the Calumet flyer now is just $16,461 behind Whirlaway, another Wright horse which holds fourth place in the world's cash collecting list.

Citation needs only $35,175 to catch up with King Ranch's Assault, the biggest one-year money-winner. Assault, the last triple crown champ in 1946, earned $424,-195 in his three-year-old campaign.

LUBBOCK HORSE PLACES

SILVER CITY, N. M., June 12 (AP)—A new track record was set in the feature race of the day for the City of Bayard allowance purse of $200 at Silver Park today. Baldy Hancock, owned by J. H. Cooper of Lubbock, Texas, finished second in the 220-yard race and paid $3.80, $3.30.

Between The Lines . . .

By Joe Kelly

Any question left in anyone's mind that the Lubbock Hubbers have run into a double portion of bad fortune should be swept away by the recent turn of the wheel. As of the present writing, the Hubbers are perched precariously on the lip of sixth place and it wouldn't take much of a twitch to flip them over the hurdle. The way Lamesa trimmed them three straight it seemed as though the Loboes owned them.

At any rate, the Hubbers have dropped 11 of their last 15 games and they do not look like a team that would grow stronger, rather than weaker, any longer. Their demise began when they went on a road trip to Clovis, Albuquerque and Pampa beginning May 28. At that time they were in second place, two and a half games behind Pampa, the same distance ahead of Borger. They were playing winning ball. Then they dropped two out of three to Clovis, two out of three to Albuquerque and the entire three-game series with the Oilers.

They returned to Lubbock to win two of three from Pampa and went on the road again, confident that this time they'd win. Since then they have dropped three straight and show signs of not being able to pull themselves together.

Looking over the pitching records, we were surprised to find that, during the 15-game stretch, starting hurlers had gone the limit in seven of the games. Three of these were victories for Bob Ramsey, Cotton Russell and Bob Clodfelter, the three leading Hubber hurlers. The other four were losses for Russell, Clodfelter, Alexander and Bobby Layne. In three of the games, two hurlers were used. In two of the games, three pitchers hurled. In two games, four chuckers saw duty. And in one game, five men went on the hill.

To show that hurling plays an important part, the games that were won were games in which Clodfelter allowed six hits for three runs, Russell gave seven hits for four runs and Ramsey allowed eight hits for two runs. In the four losses, Alexander gave 16 hits for 13 runs; Clodfelter, 13 hits for 11 runs; Layne gave up 8 for 7; and Russell gave up 7 for 5. We won't even go into the other losses.

Layne didn't do too bad a job in pitching his inaugural game. He struckout more batters than any other Hubber pitcher, but hurt himself with eight bases on balls. In addition, he gave up two home run clouts that definitely lost him the game. He scattered eight hits in fair shape, but two of those hits scored three of the seven runs. The Hubber front office was well satisfied with his initial start and Lubbock fans can be sure that he will be around for some time.

The Hubbers have run into play-er trouble on the road. Virgil Richardson was sick for the first Lamesa game and Chick Fowler twisted an ankle in the second tilt. Don Moore and Floyd Walker are good men, but hardly outfielders. For that matter, any time you break up a unit, you are hurting a team, even if it is in a losing streak. We aren't looking for too much at Abilene, but we do expect to see the Hubbers win at home. Their record this season indicates they will. So far they have won 14 at home compared to 10 losses, while winning 11 on the road against 15 losses.

We were glad to see Tony Zale eliminate Rocky Graziano from the middleweight picture, at least for the time, being. Zale has been nothing but a credit to the game, while Graziano certainly has brought no welcome aroma to it. We didn't think that Zale would win, even though we hoped he would, so his victory is even more pleasing. Bert Kahn told us three or four days before the fight that Zale would win and he named the round. What he didn't us was that he talked to Joe Vella by phone and Vella told him the smart boys were riding with Zale. Makes it easier for some people to pick a winner, doesn't it!

When you watch the Lubbock American Legion baseball teams in action this summer, you will see nines that were equipped largely through the Ford company's baseball program, which is working in conjunction with the American Legion. It's still the legion program, from start to finish, but Ford had set aside money with which to help. Locally, the Lubbock Auto company is assisting. They bought uniforms two years ago and are buying them again this year. They also help with the expenses on the road trips. It makes a pretty unbeatable combination and you folks with time on your hands could do worse than watch the boys play.

Rawls Captures Texas Golf Play

HOUSTON, June 12 (AP)—Betsy Rawls of Austin won the Texas Women's Public Links Golf championship here today with a close 2 and 1 victory over Mrs. H. W. Tyson, Houston lefthander.

Miss Rawls, tournament medalist, finished the morning 18-hole round with only a one up advantage, but increased the lead to three holes at the end of 27 holes.

The first four holes on the final nine were halved. Mrs. Tyson cut her deficit to one on the 15th with a 30-foot stroke that bounced into the air before plunking into the cup.

On the 16th, however, Mrs. Tyson missed her only wood shot of the day. Miss Rawls won the hole to move out in front again by two holes.

A few minutes later she clinched the championship with a 15 foot putt on the 17th green.

Other results:

First flight—Mrs. Bill Holmes, Dallas, defeated Mrs. Charles Neill, Austin, 3 and 2.

N., after signing up. Both boys are following in the footsteps of their coach, Warren B. Woodson, who is a Lieutenant Commander in the Reserves.

Gordon Sparks Tribe To Down Yanks Twice

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—With Joe Gordon, former New York Yankee star, leading the way, the Cleveland Indians swept both ends of a double header from the world champion Yankees today 7-5 and 9-4 to increase their first place American League margin over the runner-up Philadelphia Athletics to three and a half games. A crowd of 68,586 saw Gordon blast three home runs, two in the second game, to account for six runs batted in. The double win gave the Indians three straight in the current four-game series which ends tomorrow.

Gordon started Frank Shea toward his sixth setback in the fourth inning of the nightcap by blasting his seventh homer with Walt Judnick aboard. The star second baseman made it 3-0 with his eighth four-bagger in the sixth and contributed a run-scoring single in the Tribe's big six-run seventh.

Gordon's opening game homer came with one on and gave the Indians a 5-4 advantage in the seventh. The league leaders, however, required a two-run flurry in the ninth to nullify a Yankee marker in their half.

Kramer Favored In Tennis Play

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., June 12 (INS)—Second-seeded Jack Kramer, figured as the man to beat in the 21st annual National Professional tennis championship, advanced easily in the first round today.

The Montebello, Calif., star turned back Mickey Gornto of White Plains, N. Y., in straight sets, 6-2, 6-1, 6-2, at the west side tennis club.

Francisco (Pancho) Segura, scrappy Ecuadorian, who is seeded second in the foreign draw, ousted Martin Buxby of Great Neck, N. Y., 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

Sunbeamers Split Games With Crane, After Losing First

The Blue-bonnet - Sunbeamers nine, who have been surging from victory to victory, tonight fought for 14 innings to beat the Crane oilers, but finally went down 1 to 0, but came back in the second game to down the Oilers 2-1.

The game turned out to be a pitchers' duel between Red Denham of the Oilers and Jackie Neel of the home team. Denham ended up with 31 strikeouts and Neel 28.

The big moment of the game came in the top of the 14th when Frank Holt, Crane centerfielder hit a homer over the left field fence.

But the second game showed no let up between the two teams and Bluebonnet came back behind Teague and Havens and scored two runs in the first inning, and held the Oilers until the sixth when they made one run, and did not allow them any more.

American Women Court Players Win Wightman

LONDON, June 12 (INS)—America's women tennis players swept through four concluding matches against England today to retain the Wightman Cup by a margin of six to one.

A capacity crowd of 4,000 saw the Duchess of Kent formally present the trophy, which has been held by America without a break since 1930.

The heavily favored players from the United States ran into only one surprise in the seven matches which started yesterday, and that was when they dropped their opening day doubles to the British.

Opener Ends Doubt

But the American girls left no doubt about the eventual outcome today, when Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont, of Wilmington, Del., made the lead three matches to one by winning the final day's opener from Mrs. Betty Hilton, 6-3, 6-4.

It then fell to Louise Brough, the United States champion from Beverly Hills, Cal., to clinch the victory by defeating Mrs. Jean Bostock, 6-2, 4-6, 7-5.

Finish With Sweep

This was the toughest match of the entire competition as the British woman fought back to take the second set, then ran up a final set lead of 5-4 before Miss Brough settled down and won three games in a row to end it.

In the day's concluding matches, Doris Hart, of Miami, defeated Joy Gannon, 6-1, 6-4, and the Dupont-Brough doubles team turned back Mrs. Kay Stammers Menzies and Mrs. Hilton, 6-2, 6-2.

Lose Opening Doubles

In Wednesday's opening play the stage was set for the ultimate victory when Mrs. Dupont defeated Mrs. Bostock and Miss Brough won from Mrs. Hilton.

The doubles loss on the first day by Miss Hart and Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd, of La Jolla, Cal., to Mrs. Molly Blair and Mrs. Bostock was the first setback suffered by Americans since 1939.

SEEK GOLF ENTHUSIASTS

PETERSBURG, June 12 (Spl.)—Petersburg's golf enthusiasts were busy this past week in an effort to secure 40 memberships in a proposed Petersburg golf club, the grounds for which were recently obtained on a temporary lease. Leaders spearheading the move explained that at least 40 members will be needed, as it would take this number to properly finance such a plan and keep membership fees at a reasonable figure. Plans call for a permanent organization meeting with election of officers sometime this week.

ENDURANCE RACE BANNED

Methodist Church Leading In City Softball League

Play in the City Recreation Department softball leagues is progressing satisfactorily, with the Methodist church nine leading the City League standings and the Sanders Motor company nine leading the Industrial League.

In the Gang Softball League, the Hubber Juniors last week beat the Carlisle Indians, 18-2, then lost to the Red Caps 14-6. Kenneth Crawford pitched the Juniors to victory in the first game, allowing the losers only four singles, while Don Sharp had three hits in five trips to the plate, the same as Crawford, for the victors.

Jackie Burt and H. T. Hillin each hit two home runs apiece as the Red Caps turned on the Juniors.

The Eagles beat the Bullfrogs 5-3 in another good Gand League game, with James Green hitting a grand slam homer for the victors to give them the victory.

Illini's Star Quarter-Back Signs Contract With Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis., June 12 (INS)—Perry Moss, Illinois' star quarterback, signed a contract today to play with the Green Bay Packers of the National Professional football league.

Packer Coach Curly Lambeau said Moss, who led the Illini to their startling upset Rose Bowl victory over U.C.-L.A. in 1947, had spurned an offer from the San Francisco 49ers of the rival All-America conference to sign with the Packers.

Moss, who played at Tulsa university before transferring to Illinois, is 21 years old, stands 5 feet 10 inches and weighs 170 pounds.

Lambeau said he will use Moss, a native of Tulsa, as relief for Packer Quarterback Jack Jacobs.

Meeting Tuesday Will Decide League's Fate

SWEETWATER, June 12. (AP)—A meeting scheduled in San Angelo on Tuesday may decide whether the Longhorn Baseball League will finish the season with six or eight clubs.

Following a meeting of club owners and business managers here today, League President Howard Green said it "appears that the loop will end the season with eight teams."

Two Clubs Weak

He pointed out, however, that nothing will be definite until after the San Angelo meeting.

Both San Angelo and Del Rio are reported suffering financial setbacks in loop competition. General Business Manager Bill Lacy of Del Rio assured the directors today that his team can last through the season financially.

Both Or Only Six

At the Tuesday meeting, Green said, it will be decided whether San Angelo can maintain a club in the circuit for the remainder of the year. Green said that if not, the league will have to be reduced to six teams, with Del Rio also leaving the loop.

The San Angelo meeting will be at 10 a. m. Tuesday at the Naylor hotel.

Other business at the session included Ballinger agreeing not to move its franchise to Roswell, N. M., this season. Representatives of the Ballinger club indicated they would take such action next year.

Hubber Hitting Averages Show Richardson And Russell On Top

Russell Has 6-2 Hurling Average

Big Virgil Richardson retained his top batting spot for the Lubbock Hubbers according to averages released yesterday, even though the Hubber first baseman slipped from his .406 average to .388 during period of June 2-8.

And Cotton Russell, the 18-year old Ft. Worth schoolboy hurler, continued to top the pitchers appearing in complete games with six victories against two defeats.

Again this week all the Hubber regulars finished the statistic's period hitting over the .300 mark with the exception of Shortstop Jackie Wilcox. Wilcox slipped a few points down to .230, his lowest mark this season.

Among the occasional hitters, Frank Cobo continued to lead the way, although he also slipped. Cobo had a .545 average, by far the best on the team. Floyd Walker, who also had a good average for the games in which he had appeared, climbed from .375 to .377.

Royce Mills remained at the same level again in the pitching department, four victories and one defeat, although not appearing in a single complete game.

Clodfelter Is Second

Pressing Russell for the lead on the Hubber staff is Bob Clodfelter, with five victories and three losses. Bob Ramsey, with a three and three record, is the only other pitcher to show at least a .500 record. The other hurlers, Marvin Alexander, Frank Cobo, Jackie Sullivan, Doug Condit and Kermit Altizer, all have minus records.

In the league itself, the big five among the hitters were Bob Crues of Amarillo, R. C. Otey of Pampa, Ray Bauer of Clovis, Tommy Fox of Borger and Eddie Carnett of Borger. Their averages, all over the .400 mark, respectively were .419, .413, .413, .407, and .405.

Crues continued to lead the home run hitters with 28 through last Tuesday in 44 games. If he keeeps up this pace throughout the season, he will wind up with approximately 84 homers, or 17 more than Bill Serena had in 1947.

Gordon Nell of Borger is second in the homer parade with 17; Fox of Borger and John Bottarini of Clovis each have 13; Chich Fowler of Lubbock and Eddie Skrabacz of Lamesa each have 12; and Bauer of Clovis and Carnett of Borger each have 10.

Driggers Leading Hurler

Avon Driggers of Pampa remains the leading hurler in the league with nine victories against one defeat. Joe Budny of Amarillo and George Matthews of Clovis each boast records of eight victories and two defeats, while Clayton Fries of Borger has seven and two.

Henderson To Make Fifth Pro Appearance In Elizabeth, N. J.

Bill Henderson of Levelland and Cliffside Park, N. J., will make his fifth professional appearance in the ring Tuesday night, when he fights an as yet unnamed opponent in the Twin City Bowl at Elizabeth, N. J.

Henderson, in a letter to the Avalanche-Journal, said that a stablemate, whose home is in Elizabeth, was fighting on the main event. He did not say whether he would fight a prelim four-round fight, or whether it would be a semi-final six-rounder.

Recent Visitor Here

The South Plains fighter spent almost two weeks in Levelland and Lubbock having treatment on his right hand, which he injured in his professional debut. He badly hurt the middle knuckle and it gave him considerable pain. Just before his scheduled fifth fight, the knuckle hurt him so much in a workout that the fight was cancelled.

Henderson returned to Lubbock, found that it wasn't serious and underwent treatment. His knuckle remained swelled, but did not cause him further pain. In his letter he says that he has had no trouble with it since returning to the gym.

The Levelland Larruper won his first two pro starts by knockouts, his third by a technical knockout and his fourth by decision. If this is a four-round fight, it may be his last, provided he makes another good showing.

Battle For Rookie Honor Seen

Top Rookie Award Selection Is Tough

By PAT ROBINSON
INS Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 12—There is going to be quite a battle this season for the honor of being named rookie of the year.

There are more than a score of fine new players gracing the Major League diamonds, although some of them under a strict interpretation hardly can be called rookies.

For instance, Gil Coan, the Senators' outfielder, has been up and down and many would bar him from consideration.

However, the rookie crop is better than it has been in years and there are enough classy youngsters in sight to make the picking of the best a tough job.

As of today, Richie Ashburn, the Phillies fleet-footed outfielder, appears to be leading the pack, but he will get stiffer competition as the season rolls along.

His own teammate, John Blatnik, may offer a strong challenge and Curt Simmons, the Phillies' sensational young lefthander, may move up into the picture as he gains confidence and experience.

Herman Wehmeier of the Reds is another youngster who deserves consideration. The right hander has done remarkably well and will be better.

The Giants insist their Whitey Lockman must be considered, and on playing ability, he should be. But many refuse to consider him a rookie because he was with the Giants before the war.

Al Kozar, the Senators' second baseman, certainly figures in the picture as does George Vico, the nimble first baseman of the Tigers.

Henry Schenz, the Cubs' second baseman who was leading the National League in doubles the last time we looked at the figures, must be placed in the running for top honors. And no less an authority than Bill McKechnie, the sage of the Indians, is authority for the statement that the Cubs' John Rush has everything it takes to make a Big League pitcher.

Baseball men generally agree that all departments of the game have been stepped up since the war with the exception of pitching.

Judging by the great number of phenomenal high school pitchers around the country, this situation will be remedied in a year or two.

Indeed, there are some fine young rookie pitchers now displaying their wares in the Majors. The Braves have one in Vernon Bickford.

The Athletics have an ace in Lou Brissie, the left-handed war hero. Old Connie Mack also appears to have another coming star in Outfielder Don White.

Many experts think the best of the lot is the Indians' left-hander, Gene Bearden, who, like Brissie, is a wounded war veteran.

The Yanks believe their Frank Hiller, who hasn't had much chance so far, will be heard from before long.

Walsh Signs Contract With St. Benedict's

ATCHISON, Kan., June 12. (U.P.)—Roy M. Walsh, director of athletics and physical education at Parks college of Aero Technology, East St. Louis, Mo., today was named head football and basketball coach of St. Benedict's college here.

Walsh signed a two-year contract at an undisclosed figure. He will take over his duties here July 1. The new coach succeeds Marty Peters, who resigned June 1 after holding the post 11 years.

The new Raven mentor is 29 years old and a 1942 graduate of Notre Dame university, where he played football under Elmer Layden and Frank Leahy from 1939 to 1942.

No Traits Of Dictator Can Be Seen In DeGaulle's Behavior

By RELMAN MORIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

For the first time in their mutually acrimonious history, Gen. Charles DeGaulle and the French Communists are political bed fellows today, a fact that reaffirms the truth of the old axiom.

Neither DeGaulle nor the Communists approve of the plan to unify western Germany.

The general's political party, the French People's rally, is the strongest opponent of Communism in France. Vice Versa, DeGaulle is the man whom the Reds hope is least likely to succeed.

Lined Up Together

Nevertheless, and for totally different reasons, they find themselves lined up together today on the German issue. Together, they may be strong enough to bring about the dissolution of parliament and to cause a general election and a new government.

And so the question again arises in the minds of millions of people, on both sides of the Atlantic: Is Charles DeGaulle another dictator-in-the-making?

The answer, I believe, is "no." And I would hasten to emphasize that that is a strictly personal opinion, not shared by all the correspondents who watched him, during the war, and came to know him.

DeGaulle is an odd combination of a soldier, a mystic, a college professor, a technician, historian and an idealist.

Not A Politician

What he is not is a politician, meaning a man who understands and practices the art and strategy of maneuvering his way into power and then holding on to that power, by fair means or foul.

Compromise is the essence of politics—and DeGaulle has demonstrated, over and over again, that he will not compromise on matters of principle. In London during the war, the clang and clatter of his Cyclopean battles with Winston Churchill could be heard all the way from Ten Downing street to the East End docks. At Casablanca, he clashed, almost on sight, with President Roosevelt.

In every instance it was because DeGaulle—who, after all, represented nobody but the few Frenchmen who had escaped the German occupation—insisted that France was still a first-ranking power, an ally, and should be treated as such.

Resigned

Again, immediately after the war, remember that he came to power in Paris. But when the rest of the French government declined to approve his plan for a centralized regime, with greater power concentrated in the hands of the premier, he did not compromise. He resigned.

DeGaulle has an inexorable singleness of purpose. And once he sets his sights on an object, he will not look the other way—even for power.

That trait alone would disqualify him as a potential dictator. He won't make deals. He won't trade horses. And if he owns a backscratcher, he has never been known to use it.

Doesn't Kiss Babies

Nor has he ever kissed any babies. Those homey little acts that are supposed to win the heart—and the vote—of the common man are not for Charles DeGaulle.

He is a lonely man who holds himself aloof in public. Usually he is brusque, cold and unbending. If he has any sense of the value of publicity, which is doubtful, he scorns it. He doesn't like to have his picture taken, and I have seen him simply rise, without a word, and walk out of a press conference. He had said all he wanted to say and he wasn't bothering with the amenities.

His mental powers are unquestioned. History may show that he had an almost clairvoyant vision of the future of Europe.

But my personal opinion is that it will never record against his name the word—"dictator."

Four Men Leave For Cruise On Naval Vessel In Caribbean

Four men left Lubbock Saturday morning for a two weeks' training duty cruise and another was to leave early today for two weeks' training duty on shore at New Orleans, said Lt. Marvin Hunter, who has charge of the Naval Reserve recruiting office in Lubbock federal building.

Solon Charges Peru Violated Air Pact On Braniff Line

WASHINGTON, June 12. (AP)—Rep. Patman (D-Tex) said today Peru has "failed to live up to its solemn agreement" in an air compact with the United States.

Unless the Peruvian government permits Braniff international airways to land in that country, he said, the United States should bar Peru from obtaining financial aid through the export-import bank.

Patman inserted his statement in The Congressional Record.

He said that on May 22, 1946 Braniff International airways, was granted permission by the Civil Aeronautics Board to operate a flight to South America.

Pact Is Signed

On Dec. 27, 1946 Peru signed a joint air transport agreement with the United States providing for reciprocal rights for airlines operating between the two countries.

Under the agreement the ministry of aeronautics of Peru issued Braniff a permit to operate to that country and to points further south, Patman said. On July 24, 1947 this country reciprocally granted a permit to Peruvian International airways to operate into this country.

Patman said Braniff purchased DC-6 four-engine aircraft, constructed radio stations, employed additional personnel and invested some $4,000,000 for such service.

"Yet," he continued, "only a few days before Braniff airways was ready to initiate its first scheduled service as far as Lima, Peru, the government of Peru suspended the Braniff permit, under the pretense, so they stated, that they had no previous knowledge that Braniff airways was going to serve Havana, Cuba, en route to Lima, and that it would thus compete with their own airline, Peruvian International airways."

The record is clear that Peru had full knowledge of the route Braniff intended to follow said Patman.

Modern Times Square Masher Still Uses The Same Old Line

By HAL BOLYE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, June 12 — The handlebar moustache and the high button shoes have long since made their exit. But the masher is still just as much a part of the seenery as he was when Casey went to bat.

And just like Casey—he's still striking out.

The grownups still call a masher by his nineties monicker. That would be too old-fashioned for the teen-agers, who have a new word for everything. They call him a wolf.

Favorite Hunting Grounds

Times Square is one of his favorite hunting grounds in New York. He still favors the knife crease in the pants, but he's traded the peg-tops for slacks and the checkered vest for a high-decibel sport coat. The straw hat is gone. His locks are curried with super-octane pomade and bared to the night winds.

You can see these curbstone playboys hovering at every corner under the lights of the Great White way. They're more mobile than in grandma's time, moving along through the crowds and falling sidewalk lockstep with any passing cuties.

Same Old Line

Their repartee is as brilliant and original as ever.

(1) "What's your hurry, Babe?"
(2) Where you going, Dreamboat?"
(3) "Where you been all my life, Honey?"

These are three typical replies they get:

(1) "Get out of town."
(2) "Beat it, small change."
(3) Scram, stupid. I'm try'na breathe."

These answers usually leave the mashers drifting slowly astern with a wilted look. Nothing curbs their romantic dreams quicker than an ice-conditioned comeback. And the modern girl packs a vocabulary that grandma was too timid to use.

Scorching Retort

Occasionally one of these streetside swains reaches deep into the masher's primer and pulls out the greeting that was old when Mark Anthony was ringing Cleopatra's doorbell:

"Haven't we met somewhere before?"

I heard a would-be wolf mumble this one to a blonde on Broadway. He loped off looking like a rained-on poodle when she snapped:

Final Cub-Dad Pow-Wow Being Conducted At Camp Near Post

The final of two Cub-Dad Pow-Wows is being conducted this week-end at Camp Post near Post and the third and final of summer Scout camps for the entire South Plains council area will open today and end next Saturday.

Dr. C. C. Schmidt of Lubbock is director of the Cub-Dad Pow-Wow. A camp fire program was scheduled Saturday night. Indian dances were to be presented. A hike, and worship service will be conducted this morning. Camp will be broken following the noon meal.

This week's Scout camp, like the two previous camp periods of one week, will be for troops from any of the 20 counties in the council.

A swimming pool is to be constructed at the camp before next sumer, through authorization given by the executive board of the South Plains council recently. At the same meeting, John Lott was named chairman of the Camp Post development commitee. He is to select others on the committee.

Lamesa School Bids To Be Opened July 1

PRICE CUT SOUGHT

OOTACAMUND, Madres Province, India, June 12 (AP)—The United Nations economic commission for Asia and the Far East (ECAFE) called today for reduced rice prices. Burma introduced the resolution with the backing of Ceylon and Britain. The United States opposed it.

LITTLE FUN SEEN AT CONVENTION

Texas Democrats As Confused As GOP On Traveling Plans

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 12—Texas Democrats can't seem to get together—even on which train they will ride to the national convention at Philadelphia. Maybe they'd better hitch hike.

The Republicans are in about the same shape, with their national convention less than 10 days away.

These major factors emerged today from the confusion in both delegations on whether there is or isn't an "official" train to carry the politicos to their respective conventions:

1. Democratic National Committeeman Myron G. Blalock of Marshall said there is no "official" Democratic special to Philadelphia because only the delegation itself could designate such train, and it has not.

Jester In Own Party

2. State executive committee Chairman Robert W. Calvert of Hillsboro said a Missouri-Kansas-Texas train leaving Dallas and Fort Worth June 8 is the official convention special by designation of the 'commitee at its January meeting.

3. Blalock and some other members of the Democraitc delegation will ride the Missouri Pacific to Philadelphia. Gov. Beauford H. Jester and some of his close friends will travel together in a special bedroom car attached to the Katy Democratic choo-choo.

4. There is no "official" Republican train. One group of delegates will travel by Katy, another by Missouri Pacific, but R. B. Creager, of Brownsville, Republican national commiteeman, said personally he would fly.

Calvert and Blalock agreed on this: Any delegate or alternate can take any route he chooses to the Democratic convention.

"They can go on horseback if they want to," Calvert cracked.

Blalock said this would be a fine opportunity for the goodtime boys and girls to stay at home. He was referring to folks who have no official business.

"They will find there's a lot of work and not much fun up there," he warned. "The accommodation situation in Philadelphia, from the pleasure standpoint, is tough."

Some of Blalock's friends were saying privately they felt the executive committee encroached on his prerogatives as national committeeman, when it assumed responsibility for making national convention arrangements. They said he was still national committeeman, and that it has always been the duty of the national committeeman to make such plans.

Blalock, who has been ill, has announced he would retire at the end of his term. The Brownwood convention named Wright Morrow of Houston to succeed him. Morrow will ride on the Jester train to Philadelphia, a Katy official said.

Some members of the executive committee said it had acted in the feeling that Blalock was too ill to be bothered with such details, and that no encroachment was intended.

Blalock is still national committeeman until the national convention names his successor.

George C. Hopkins, chairman of the state Republican executive committee, said at Dallas that he knows of no "official" train carrying the Texas G.O.P. delegation to Philadelphia.

Hopkins said he would travel by Katy, leaving Dallas June 17.

One railroad official said that Jim McMullen of Fort Worth was taking reservations for a Missouri Pacific train to the Republican convention, signing letters as "chairman special train committee Republican party."

Argentina Is Planning Large Network Of Warehouses, Plants For World Food Trade

By BEN F. MEYER
Associated Press Staff Writer

HAVANNA, Cuba, June 12—Argentina is planning a vast network of warehouses, cold storage plants, and processing factories to create new and bigger markets for Argentine goods in the United States, Europe and Latin America.

Diego Luis Molinari, Argentine senator and economist and one of President Juan Peron's special ambassadors on the project, discussed the program on a recent visit to Havana.

Trade facilities are being planned now for Cadiz, Spain, to serve Europe; at New Orleans, on the U.S. Gulf coast, for the rich United States market; at Matanzas, Cuba, for Cuba and the Caribbean; and in the Republic of Panama.

The program is one of the most ambitious of its kind ever undertaken by any government.

The idea is to build facilities for the future marketing of Argentina's increasing production. Already Argentina is one of the world's greatest food producers. Today it has a market for all the tremendous quantities of meat, grain, vegetable oils, lard and other products it can produce. But it is looking toward the future, when marketing may be more difficult, and Argentina's production much greater.

The Matanzas, Cuba, plan gives a pretty good idea of what is in prospect.

Dr. Jorge Leonardi is at work on it in Havana under Molinari's direction.

Matanzas is on the north coast of Cuba. It has a fine harbor, and is what the economists call a free port. This means that other nations may send their goods to Matanzas in transit or for processing, without paying customs duties. It is only when the goods from the free port are put on the Cuban market that duties must be paid.

One of the main benefits of a free port is that it enables a foreign nation to store vast amounts of its products in the port for indefinite periods, without having to pay out large sums in customs duties.

Marshall's Aid Is Sought In Obtaining Mexican Laborers

By BO BYERS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 12.—Gov. Beauford H. Jester today released copies of his letter to Secretary of State George Marshall asking him aid in securing 10,000 laborers from Mexico to pick the Texas cotton crop.

The governor also authorized a statement from his office commenting on a letter written by Jay C. Stilley of Dallas, executive secretary of the Texas Cotton Ginners' association, about the effect on the wage scale for pickers if Mexican nationals are not allowed to enter Texas.

Mexico currently bans contracting of its labor for use in Texas because of alleged discrimination against Latin Americans. Jester's statement emphasized his position that negotiation of wage scales is a matter in which neither the governor's office nor the Texas Good Neighbor commission will take part.

Wages Relatively High

Shying clear of Stilley's predictions about "sky high wages" if Mexican workers are not made available, Jester said: "The state government of Texas is not interested in depressing the wage scale of any workers at any time."

To Secretary Marshall, the governor wrote:

"I am taking the liberty of asking your good offices in presenting once more to the government of Mexico the reasons for allowing Texas farmers to contract for Mexican nationals to assist in harvesting the cotton crop on the western and northern plains of Texas this fall.

"Various other states of the United States are allowed this privilege, but the government of the Republic of Mexico has to date declined to approve contracts with Texas farmers."

Jester said he has been assured by the manager of a co-op cotton gin in Haskell county in Northwest Texas that the wages paid are "relatively high."

Discrimination Is Denied

"The farmers of that area pay $2 per 100 pounds for 'snapping' cotton and by "snapping" cotton a harvest hand can gather 300 to 900 pounds a day, so that the wage will probably average about $10-$12 per day," the letter to the Secretary of State continued.

The governor said he also had been assured that "the people of this area do not discriminate against Mexicans, 'discrimination' being the reason advanced by the Mexican government for not allowing Mexican nationals to enter Texas as farm workers."

He conceded it is true that "a certain decreasing number of owners of small cafes in certain towns in West Texas have put up signs indicating they have a policy of not serving Mexicans, exercising the ancient legal prerogative that 'a man's house is his castle.'"

To Go To Mexico City

Jester said this was similar to the way that "home owners in Mexico do when they put up signs on their doors announcing their refusal to admit persons of a category to which a majority of the people of the United States happen to belong . . ."

The governor asked Secretary Marshall to inform the Mexican government that cotton farmers in Northwest Texas desire 10,000 Mexican national cotton pickers for the fall harvest and will pay them good wages.

Meanwhile, Stilley told reporters in Austin he will go to Mexico City next week to make a direct appeal to the Mexican government to remove its ban.

"The (ginners') association will ask Mexico to whitewash Texas on the discrimination issue this year and give us a clean bill of health," he said. "Then, in turn, we have promised that the association will notify the communities of all incidents of alleged discrimination.

"If the community does nothing about it, we are perfectly willing for the Mexican government to blacklist that community next year."

Stilley plans to see Ambassador Thurston in Mexico City and ask his help.

In a recent private bulletin to association members Stilley warned that if Texas fails to secure workers from Mexico, "the damndest fight for cotton pickers and the highest wages ever paid will take place in Texas in 1948."

Victor Jory Has To Take Many Beatings

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, June 12 — The screen fightingest man was at it again this week.

Victor Jory, the mug they love to slug, was being pummeled by Joel McCrea when I visited the "South of St. Louis" set. The poor guy was being bounced all over the barroom and finally was told by McCrea to "get out of Texas and never come back!"

Covered with makeup blood and his own sweat, Jory walked out of the scene to complain that he is always fighting in pictures.

These screen scrapes can't be faked, either. In his long and violent career, Jory has broken his collar bone (twice), five ribs, a thumb and a toe, and suffered endless slashes, bumps and bruises. He was also wounded with blank cartridges by Errol Flynn. "He had all of a railroad baggage car to aim at," moaned Jory, "so he shot me in both hands."

"The only time I really enjoyed myself was slapping Elizabeth Bergner every night for two years in 'The Two Mrs. Carrolls,'" the actor remembered. "She couldn't strike back."

Jory's worst memory was when he was working for an overrealistic director on a Devil's Island film. He was to do an escape scene in a swamp and when he showed up at the location, he found two large crocodiles. Jory demanded that the beasts have their jaws taped and be restrained with piano wire from swimming after him. The director agreed.

"When I started swimming," Jory recounted, "I saw the crocodiles coming after me. Then they started yawning those big mouths. I broke Weissmuller's record getting out of the water, and I broke Mel Patton's record chasing after that director."

Employment Commission Finds Record Number Of Jobs In May

AUSTIN, June 12. (AP)—The Texas Employment commission last month found more jobs for Texans than in any previous month since World War II.

Nearly 62,000 persons were placed in gainful employment during May, TEC reported.

Harvesting of vegetables and citrus fruits and cotton chopping provided jobs through TEC for 19,500 farm workers. Farm job figures were expected to jump ten fold under labor demands of the wheat harvest and continued cotton chopping.

In comparison with April, May figures showed farm jobs up 82 percent, total jobs up 28 percent.

FLAG CAUTIONS

SINCE Monday is Flag Day, it seems timely to quote from a text taken from the Flag circular issued by the War department. Thoughtlessly, at times we permit disrespect to be shown to the flag of the United States of America. Here are cautions:

Do not dip the flag to any person or any thing. The regimental flag, stateflag, organization, or institutional flag will render this honor.

Do not place any flag or pennant above or, if on the same level, to the right of the flag of the United States of America.

Do not let the flag touch the floor or the ground or trail in the water.

Do not use the flag as drapery in any form whatsoever. Use bunting of blue, white and red.

Do not drape the flag over the hood, top, sides or back of a vehicle or train.

Carry the flag aloft and free.

Do not put lettering of any kind on the flag.

Do not display, use or store the flag in such a manner as will permit it to be easily soiled or damaged.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

"WE need a new respect for work and independence and personal integrity in America and in the world. Only when a man understands this will he be happy and ambitious, taking pride in work well done and scorning unearned and underserved 'rights.' He will understand that each man is indeed master of his fate, pilot of his soul, and with this realization will come, indeed, the best years of his life." (Taylor Caldwell).

SCATTERINGS

A MORE carefree life is in store for motorists, with a number of gadgets on the market to solve problems which ruffle the tempers of travelers. One is an automatically lighted cigaret dispenser. By simply pressing a lever, the man at the wheel can supply himself with a fag ready for smoking. The dispenser holds 23 smokes and at the touch on the lever feeds one cigaret into a trough where it is pushed against the lighter for ignition . . . Golf knickers, which hadn't seen the light of day since the time of the flapper and the Charleston are staging a return. Yes sir, Pop, not to be outdone by Mom in tin-type styles, has rummaged through the attic and brought out the knickers, or plus fours as they used to be called, for hot stuff on the golf course. . . . Designers G. Howard Hodge says after a woman reaches 35 she should accept flattering hats that make her appear ten years younger. Select hats that do something for you, not to you, he cautions.

Wonder how many tons of tablets, crystals and powders are consumed daily by the American public to correct what the radio announcers euphemistically refer to as "acid indigestion?" . . . The happiest marriages, as shown by statistics, are those of engineers, ministers, teachers managers and office workers generally. The reason is given that the happy couples cooperate in aims and efforts under conditions of moderate prosperity . . . THIS fall will see milady's fashions in a golden haze. Tones of brown, rust, toast, banana yellow and biege will be seen most frequently. Compelling shades of Mexican blue, Panama brown, Guatemala green, Nanking blue, glace chocolate, Bavarian wine, Roman red and smoky shades in mauve, taupe and absinthe are in the offing . . . Ladies' fans are staging a comeback . . . In many homes preparations are being made to "brighten the corner" where he is—Father, of course. Through the Coral Doors

Howdy Folks:

Seems that the ABC Rodeo has not held all the spot light this week. I sat on the steps of Decorators Studio and watched the prancing horses and seasoned cowboys parade by and as soon as it was over I thought I'd see what was going on behind those Coral doors. Well, you'd think the girls were running a marriage bureau from the amount of wedding presents they were wrapping.

Many of the brides-to-be are being smart, they are taking advantage of the special priced La Mirada pottery service for four, assuring themselves that they can feed the husband—then many friends are filling in, both on the pottery, crystal and silver. Incidentally, the girls not only have a wonderful stock of China, Linens, and Silver to choose from but a very bountiful selection of Swedish and Finnish crystal.

Many new pieces are making their appearance as a result of Fredda's trip East. I was delighted with a pair of French pots—very colorful in Cranberry and Turquoise, an important accessory for mantle or buffet.

Some Italian pottery tomatoes in a luscious shade of red make might attractive casseroles on a summer table. These along with a huge Shell are also fruits of Fredda's trip.

Although James is in Cuba, and the gals have no men folk to uncrate furniture, they have managed to put several lovely new pieces on the floor. Of particular interest is a small commode in rich mahogany with satinwood inlay.

A pair of gracious 18th Century end tables made their appearance this week, too. Beautifully finished with embossed leather tops—and large enough for good size lamps.

New pieces in the Golden Hued Dirilyte have just been received. I know you'll be interested in knowing that you can obtain oyster forks and jelly servers in the Regal and Empress patterns from the Decorators Studio.

Looks like I'm going to do some uncrating myself, so I'll sign off until next week—Be looking for you at 1202 Avenue N.

Mrs. Eleanore Stevenson of Slaton is announcing the marriage of her daughter, Miss Loretta Jean Stevenson, and Jack A. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan R. Shaw of 1912 Dixie Drive, which was read June 6 at 8:30 a. m. in the garden of the bride's home. The wedding altar was arranged against a background of fern, lemon leaves and huckleberry entwined in a grape arbor. Roses and greenery and added interest and flanking the setting were tall vases of white gladioli.

Mrs. Clyde Shaw and Mrs. Lloyd Swann sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Johnnie Pearl Peebles, violinist.

Rev. W. F. Ferguson read a double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her mother, wore a white gabardine dressmaker suit with white accessories and carried a white Bible topped with white carnations. Employers Troubled By Growing Drive For Union Welfare Funds

By FRED W. PERKINS
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Employers are more concerned now about the growing campaign for union welfare and retirement funds than any other phase of their labor relations.

That is shown by testimony in three weeks of hearings just ended by the congressional joint committee on labor-management relations.

This is the "watchdog committee" set up by the Taft-Hartley law to observe its operation and recommend changes. The committee has voted against suggesting any amendments this year.

Others To Follow Lead

The drive of John L. Lewis for a United Mine Workers welfare fund, which now collects $50 million a year through a tax on coal production and will go higher if this leader wins his current battle, is the main reason for the general apprehension among employers, big and little. Testimony indicated they expected other labor unions to follow the lead of Mr. Lewis.

It was pointed out that manufacturers who agree to such plans risk a competitive handicap in prices of their products.

Some witnesses wanted the law changed so that the National Labor Relations board would have to reverse its recent decision in the Inland Steel case requiring the employer to bargain on this issue. Committee members showed much interest in this suggestion. Spokesmen for smaller employers wanted strikes for welfare funds made illegal. Some sentiment appeared for absorbing the entire welfare-fund idea in the federal social security system, with higher and uniform retirement benefits.

Impressed By Demands

The committee apparently was impressed by demands for a penalty against unions charged with forcing violations of the law by employers—mainly in connection with efforts to set up the prohibited "closed shop" under another name. The only disagreement on this question, among employers, was over the penalty. Removal of bargaining rights from an offending union and use of court injunctions with money penalties were suggested.

Another subject that drew much committee attention was a proposal to regulate or prohibit mass picketing. This subject was cut out of the original legislation because Senator Robert A. Taft (R.-O.) feared it would make a federal police force necessary. He wanted to rely on state and municipal laws, some of which have not proved effective.

Law Can Be Used

However, an examiner for NLRB recently came up with a finding that the Taft-Hartley law itself can be used against mass picketing, by holding the union liable for the pay of employes prevented from entering their working places. Authorities say this was not the intent of Congress, and Robert N. Denham, general council of NLRB, suggested a specific amendment would be desirable if this method were used.

Union leaders led by AFL President William Green took the stand that they will be satisfied only by complete repeal of the law. They were supported by Senator James E. Murray (D., Mont.) and other Democrats.

Under the law, the joint committee must make its final report and quit in January. Rep. Gerald W. Landis (R., Ind.), who if re-elected will be chairman of the House labor committee in the new Congress, said today he and some other members thought the joint committee should be continued.

Judge Quotes Himself In Giving Decision On Lewis Injunction

By BOB HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Who was it who said "there is no such thing as a benevolent despot?" The mystery was cleared up today.

Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, issuing an injunction against John L. Lewis a week ago, used three quotations.

One was, "power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely." The judge attributed it to Lord Acton.

Answer Is Found

The third was, "there is no such thing as a benevolent despot." Goldsborough didn't say who said it.

Reporters consulted "Bartlet's Familiar Quotations" and other reference books. It wasn't there. They asked the congressional library. No result. The New York public library and Columbia university were brought into the search. No one could find it.

A lot of people said the quotation sounded familiar but they just couldn't remember where they heard it.

A reporter telephoned Judge Goldsborough half a dozen times but he was never in.

Finally the judge was located.

T. Alan Goldsborough was quoting T. Alan Goldsborough.

He said he first used the words many years ago in granting an injunction sought by the brewery workers union against the AFL and the teamsters union.

The reporter looked it up. Sure enough, in a decision written on Oct. 6, 1939, Judge Goldsborough accused the AFL and the teamsters of "usurping authority" and then said:

"May the court make the added observation that both reason and history are conclusive that there is no such thing as a benevolent despot."

Goldsborough grinned at the reporter and said, "perhaps I was too modest in not claiming authorship."

Trade Restrictions Of Canada Explained

AUSTIN, June 12 (AP)—Unpopular restrictions against U. S. imports were forced on Canada as a temporary solution to put that country's trade back in balance, K. W. Taylor, Canada's deputy minister of finance, told agricultural leaders here last night.

Taylor said Canada had simply run acutely short of U. S. dollars and that imports from the U. S. were far exceeding exports to the U. S.

In years past, he said, the gap was bridged by dollars from Canada's exports to Europe but "much of what we send to Europe now is either on credit or outright gifts. We cannot pay you with European I. O. U.'s."

Taylor said Canada's surplus in 1947 was decreasing at the rate of 70 million dollars a month. During the past four months it has been gaining 20 million dollars a month. This he attributed half to improved exports and half to the import restrictions.

The restrictions have shut out of Canada many U. S. manufactured and agricultural products, including out-of-season fruits and vegetables. Citrus fruits are under a limited quota.

Taylor said the restrictions are definitely unpopular with Canadian citizens and will be removed as soon as possible.

"Exactly when will we take off the restrictions? It's literally impossible to say," he said, "except that it will be as soon as we can . . . as soon as Canada's working capital will permit. It will be in our interest as much as yours."

Taylor said the purpose of his visit here was to explain Canada's position to Texans. With him was F. S. Grisdale of Ottawa, deputy chairman of the wartime price and trade board. Grisdale plans to spend the week end in the Rio Grande valley conferring with agricultural leaders there.

Life Takes Turn For Better As Blind Negro Woman Given Job

Sarah Crawford, negro woman who lives in Carver Heights, lost the sight of both eyes seven years ago when she was struck by a stray bullet during a shooting in her neighborhood.

Life has not been too pleasant for her since.

Now, thanks to the state commission for the blind, Sarah has a pair of artificial eyes, a good job as department head in a grocery store near where she lives, and despite total blindness is "seeing" some of the brighter things in life for the first time since the accident.

Her story was told here yesterday by Henry C. Spieler, of Wichita Falls, area representative and placement counselor of the state commission for the blind, who has helped Sarah get back into gainful employment.

Spieler was assisted in his efforts by the ministerial alliance in the negro quarter. He said that all churches in the section had joined in raising a fund for rehabilitation of the accident victim.

Through Spieler's help and the help of negro leaders Sarah is now in charge of the confection and cosmetic department of Stein's No. 2 store at the corner of Eighteenth street and Ave. A, in the negro section. She handles candies, drinks, tobaccos, and a small line of cosmetics.

And, Spieler said he was told by the store owner that "she is doing a good job and has a new outlook on life."

$250,000 Road Bond Election Set In Dawson County Tuesday

LAMESA, June 12. (Special)—Residents of Dawson county go to the polls this Tuesday to vote on the issuance of $250,000 in county road bonds for the building of the Dawson county segment of the proposed Broadway to the Big Bend highway.

If the election carries, the bonds will be issued to mature over a period of 30 years and will bear a rate of interest not to exceed 4 per cent.

A new tail sign for trucks and buses is designed to expand safety and courtesy of the road. The driver presses a button, when the road ahead is clear, and the electric sign flashes an "okay—pass" to cars behind.

CHURCHILL SPEAKS

LONDON, June 12. (AP)—Winston Churchill said today British recovery never can be attained under a Socialist labor government, "dependent of the generosity of the capitalist system of America." "We are not earning our own living or paying our own way and the government does not hold prospects of our doing so in the immediate future," Churchill told a conservative party rally.

Frances Clark Weds Paul Conrad Nail; Live In Houston

Miss Frances Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederic V. Clark of 2117 Thirty-second, became the bride of Paul Conrad Nail of Houston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kraus of 1805 Texas, in a double ring ceremony read by Rev. Hubert F. Bratcher at St. John's Methodist church Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The wedding scene included baskets of pink and white flowers, palms and white candles. Miss Imogene Webster, organist, offered "Stardust," Kemas club song, "Thine Alone," "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "Clair de Lune" and played Schubert's "Serenade" as vows were repeated. Rex Webster, soloist, sang "Because" and "O Promise Me," accompanied by the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ankle length dress of bridal white in cherub-skin crepe styled with a net inset forming a yoke effect and extending diagonally through dolman sleeves. The lower part of her full sweeping skirt was accented with triple net insets. She wore a high coronet of braided crepe which held a fingertip veil and carried a prayer book topped with an orchid and stephanotis.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Jerry W. Beavers of Amarillo, matron of honor, and Miss Bobby Kraus and Mrs. John M. Clark of Amarillo, bridesmaids. Misses Mary Lynn and Fredda Kay Carter, were candlelighters.

Mrs. Beavers' dress of glacier pink cherub-skin crepe was designed with a full gored ankle length skirt adorned with lattice work insets. She wore matching mits and a braided halo and carried pink rosebuds. The bridesmaids wore sea nymph green crepe dresses made with lace trimmed yokes, ruffled semi-ballerina skirts and puffed sleeves. Their elbow mits, braided headdresses and bouquets of pink gladioli matched.

The candlelighters were dressed in white dotted swiss and the flower girl, Cheryl Clark of Amarillo, wore white organdy and carried a ribbon basket.

Best man was Bill Kight and ushers were Howard Schmidt,

MRS. PAUL C. NAIL

Reception Is At Residence

The reception held following the ceremony was given in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Carter at 2804 Twenty-eighth. Parents of the bride and bridegroom and members of the wedding party assisted with hospitalities. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and decorated with white candles and a double wedding ring cake embossed with pink roses. Spring flowers and greenery were arranged in receiving rooms.

Out-of-town guests were from Amarillo, Memphis and Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. Nail will be at home in Houston where the bridegroom is employed by Dale S. Cooper, Consulting Engineers. After the reception, they left on a wedding trip to Galveston.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Lubbock High school and Mr. Nail is a graduate of Texas Technological college where he was a member of Kemas social club. The bride will graduate from the college this summer

Helen Flowers Weds Daineese Michael

Miss Helen Flowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burt Flowers, and Daineese Michael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nat Michael, were married Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents. Rev. H. Hall of Ralls read a double ring candlelight ceremony before an arch covered with woodwardia fern and topped with silver wedding bells tied with white satin ribbon. Palm and baskets of white gladioli encircled the arch.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a dressmaker suit of white gabardine with navy blue accessories and carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid. For something old she chose a strand of pearls belonging to the bridegroom's mother. Something borrowed was a handkerchief belonging to her mother, and for something blue, she wore blue earrings.

In Bridal Party

Clyde Flowers, brother of the bride, lighted candles, and Jean Loftis of San Diego, Calif., served as best man. Miss Abye Jo Flowers, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a tan crepe dress with a yellow gardenia corsage.

At a reception held after the service, the bride's table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a two-tiered wedding cake topped by a minature bride and bridegroom. Miss Jean Moore of Lorenzo and Miss Dorothea Fae Flowers of Dallas assisted with hospitalities. Relatives and close friends attended.

After a trip to points in New Mexico, the couple will make their home in Lorenzo. For traveling the bride chose a dressmaker suit of gold gabardine with gold and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride and bridegroom are both graduates of Lorenzo High school.

American War Hero Who Went To Israel Killed Near Jerusalem

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Col. David Marcus, an American hero of World war II and supreme commander of Israeli's military forces on the Jerusalem front, has been killed in the Holy Land fighting.

The 47-year-old, West Point-trained officer was felled Thursday night—a few hours before the Palestine cease-fire order became effective.

Decorated By U. S.

A former New York City official, he was twice decorated by the United States government during the war.

He saw service in nearly every theater of operations, helped draft the surrender terms for Italy and Germany, and was legal aide to the U. S. delegations at Dumbarton Oaks, Yalta, Tehran and Potsdam.

News of his death came from David Ben Gurion, Israel's prime minister, and was announced yesterday by New York representatives of the provisional Jewish government.

First Recorded

It was the first death officially recorded by the Israeli government of a former high-ranking U. S. Army officer although several former American soldiers have died in Palestine while serving with Zionist troops.

Ben Gurion's message said that Marcus was killed at his post "in the hills of Jerusalem" while he was "trying to open the road to get food through to the people of Jerusalem."

A colonel in the U. S. Army in World war II, Marcus won the Distinguished Service medal and the Bronze star.

In the invasion of France, he parachuted into Normandy.

He was with a U. S. tank column that entered the Dachau concentrational camp in 1945.

The horror he saw there, friends said yesterday, confirmed his belief in the need for a Jewish homeland.

Born in Brooklyn, Marcus war graduated from West Point and commissioned in the infantry. He resigned from the Army in 1926.

Under Mayor F H. LaGuardia from 1933 to 1940, Marcus served as New York City commissioner of correction. He was an assistant U. S. attorney in New York City from 1929 to 1933.

The outbreak of war, however, brought him back to uniform. Besides his service in the field Marcus served in the War department's civil affairs and war crimes divisions.

The British embassy in 1946 decordated him with the Order of the British Empire "in recognition of the distinguished service performed . . . in cooperation with British armed forces during the war."

Marcus resigned from the Army early last year. After practicing law a short time, he went to Palestine last January to serve with Jewish forces.

During a brief return trip to this country last April, he told a news conference that the morale of the Haganah, the Jewish armed force, was the "best of any troops in the world—bar none."

Given adequate arms, he said, they could easily defeat the Arab nations.

The Israeli government's tribute said, in part:

"During the short time of his being with us—too short, alas—he succeeded in making outstanding contributions to the building up an perfecting of our war machine which has secured for him a place of honor in the momentous phase of our history . . .

"As a man and a commander he endered himself to all those who came into personal contact with him . . .

"His name will live forever in the annals of the Jewish people and we feel confident that American Jewry will be proud of its great and gallant son who has given his life for the liberation of Israel."

Suit For $15,767 Damages Is Filed As Result Of Car Mishap

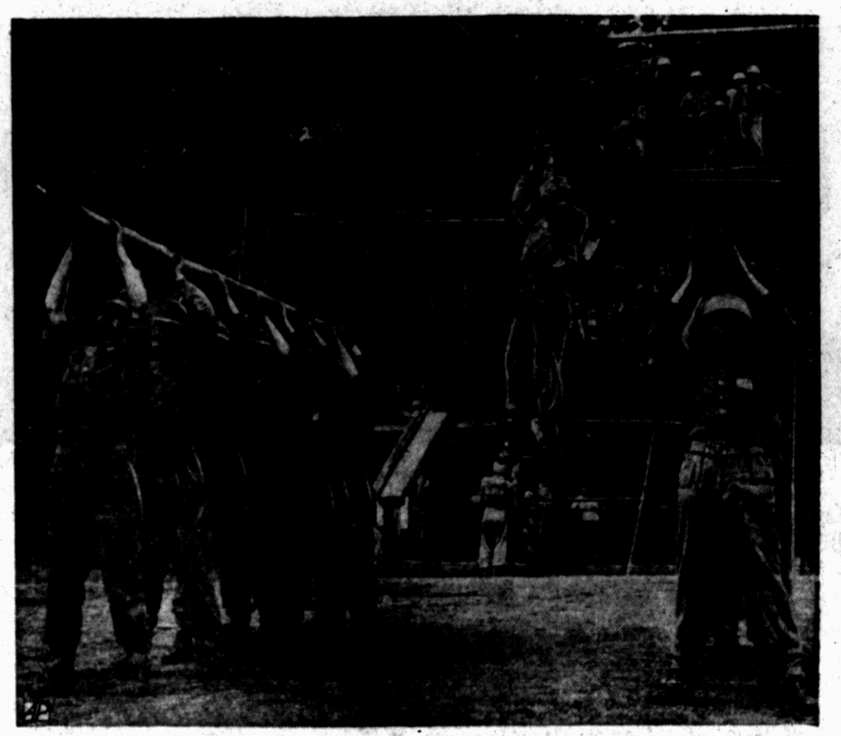

Judgment of $15,767 in damages was asked in a suit filed Saturday in Judge Dan Blair's 72nd district court.

Doyle Morse, the plaintiff, sued J. B. Morrow as outgrowth of injuries suffered at 9 a. m. Nov. 11 by his son, 11-year-old Carlton Doyle Morse, when struck allegedly by the defendant's car on the south edge of Lubbock.

The petition was filed by Attorney C. L. Harris and the law firm of Smith, Cunningham and Boling.

COUNTERFEITER NABBED

FRANKFURT, June 12. (AP)—A German counterfeiting ring possessing $45,000 in American military scrip has been arrested, the Army announced today. This was the first report of counterfeiting of the so-called "new" military scrip introduced several months ago after discovery of counterfeiting of the old scrip.

Civil Rights Program Seems To Be Dead Duck In Congress Now

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The civil rights program. Remember it and all the heat is caused? Looks like a dead duck now.

Just about a miracle is needed to get even one of President Truman's civil rights proposals passed before Congress finishes up next week.

Asked Provisions

Last February Mr. Truman, in a 4,000-word message to Congress, asked for a number of civil rights laws. Laws that would:

Help put an end to lynching; see that people are not kept out of jobs because of race, color or religion; kill the poll tax in seven southern states where it has to be paid before a person can vote; and protect everyone's right to vote.

Those laws would be of particular benefit to negroes. But Mr. Truman's program so infuriated his own southern Democrats in and out of Congress that:

They threatened to quit the party if the rest of the country's Democrats nominated Mr. Truman for re-election.

Split Threatened

The heat was terrific. For a while it seemed Mr. Truman's Democratic party would fall apart. Maybe it will yet, over that issue.

When the storm first hit him, Mr. Truman said he would not retract an inch. In recent months he hasn't said anything to push the program.

Meanwhile, in Congress — or, rather, in the Senate, since there's no limit on debate there although there is in the House—southern Democratic senators warned:

If any civil rights bills hit the Senate floor, they'll filibuster them to death.

GOP May Act

But now there's talk they may try to bring at least one civil rights bill—an anti-lynching bill—out next week.

Pronto, the southern Democrats warned again: They'll filibuster if the Republicans try it.

But Congress is trying to finish its work next week. It still has some very important bills to pass.

If the Republicans let an anti-lynch bill out on the floor, a long southern filibuster would upset the applecart.

So—the Republicans may try one of two things:

1. Not bring out an anti-lynching bill, explaining they can't let all the other important bills be sidetracked by a filibuster.

2. Bring it out, let the filibuster start, and then drop it—thus killing it for this session—to get on with their other work.

At Least Tried

Then, at least, the Republicans can say they tried. For there's a problem both sides will have to keep in mind.

In the next couple of weeks both Democrats and Republicans hold their conventions to nominate a presidential candidate and draw up a platform, pledging what they'll do if elected for the next four years.

But four years ago both parties, in their conventions at Chicago, pledged in their platforms to do something about civil rights if elected for the four years beginning in 1944 and ending this year.

Both parties have had a chance to keep their pledges on civil rights—although neither has done so yet—for the Democrats controlled Congress from 1944 to 1946 and the Republicans from 1946 to 1948.

Platform Vague

The Democratic platform of 1944 was pretty vague on the subject of civil rights. The southerners were pretty sore that year, too, for they opposed the re-nomination of Henry Wallace as vice president. Wallace had taken a strong stand on the negro question.

The Democratic platform said:

"We believe that racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens and share the rights that are guaranteed by our constitution. Congress should exert its full constitutional power to protect those rights."

The Republican platform pledged the party much more specifically to do something about civil rights between 1944 and 1948. It said:

The Republicans pledged their "sincere efforts in behalf" of an anti-lynching law: they said they'd try to wipe out the poll tax, but by constitutional amendment, not by congressional law.

And—the Republicans "pledged" establishment of a fair employment practices commission to see that people were not kept out of jobs because of race, color or religious belief.

POURED IN THE SAME MOLD—In Hollywood for screen parts, blonde models Joy Lansing, left, and Pat Vaniver discovered (or somebody with keen eyes discovered) that they have the same measurements. They're both 5 feet 6 inches tall, weigh 115 pounds, and have a 36-inch bust, 33-inch hips and 23-inch waist.

Egyptian Transport Again Is Sighted Off Tel Aviv Coast

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 12. (AP) —A Jewish military spokesman said tonight the Egyptian transport El Amira Fawzia, involved a week ago in a sea fight off Israel, was seen again today approaching the coast south of Tel Aviv.

"Our navy signaled her that if she entered Israel territorial waters it would be regarded as an act of war," he said. "She signaled back she was aware of the truce order, and veered off."

Ten Bound For Israel Halted

NEW YORK, June 12. (AP) — State department agents last night seized the passports of 10 American citizens, and refused them permission to sail on a steamer bound for the Middle East.

The 10, including one girl, had booked passage for Haifa, Israel.

Departure of the streamer, the Marine Carp, was delayed more than eight hours while agents "screened" 31 passengers of military age bound for Haifa, Alexandria and Beirut.

Of the group, 21 were allowed to sail.

Returned To Homes

A State department spokesman here said the action detaining the 10 Americans was taken "in accord with" United Nations decisions on Palestine and the "truce agreement" between Arabs and Jews.

Those not allowed to sail were permitted to return to their homes.

A maritime commission spokesman quoted the State department as saying no man or woman between the ages of 18 and 48 would be allowed to sail for Haifa—and that no man between 18 and 46 would be allowed to sail for Beirut or Alexandria.

Last month, the Marine Carp was boarded by Lebanese authorities at Beirut and 69 Haifa-bound passengers, including 41 Americans were taken off the ship.

WANTS BRITISH SHIPS

LONDON, June 12 (AP) — The foreign office reported today that Count Folke Bernadotte has filed a formal request to use British ships and planes to help supervise the Palestine truce. A spokesman said the request was made to the embassy in Cairo. He assumed Bernadotte, the United Nations mediator, wants the transport for use by U. N. observers.

State Masonic Leaders Invited To Attend Service At New Lubbock Temple June 21

Preparations went steadily forward Saturday in efforts to attract wide attendance for the June 21 laying of the cornerstone of a $225,000 Masonic Temple being erected adjacent to Lubbock hotel.

Invitations had gone out to 40 lodges of seven West Texas districts, and to all grand officers of the three Masonic bodies, as well as others prominent in Masonic circles throughout the state. Not less than 1,000 Masons are expected to attend.

Lodge Owns Temple

The new Temple, north of the hotel, will be owned by, and is being financed by, Yellowhouse lodge 841, Lubbock Chapter 248 and Lubbock Commandery 60.

Yellowhouse lodge will be opened at 4 p. m. June 21, and immediately thereafter Most Worshipful Horace K. Jackson, grand master of Masons in Texas, assisted by the grand lodge officers, will open a representation of The Grand Lodge of Texas. Masons assembled will march to the site of the new Temple and there the grand master will level the cornerstone.

At 6 p. m., in Mackenzie State park, just east of the fairgrounds, there will be an old-fashioned West Texas barbecue served to all Masons in attendance.

Masonic Program Set

Immediately afterward, there will be a Masonic program, and an address by the grand master.

Letters also sent out by the Committee on Masonic Education and Service of The Grand Lodge of Texas say, in part:

"This will be an outstanding meeting, attended by good fellowship and Masonic inspiration, and the Masons of Lubbock are sparing no expense in making this an outstanding and long-to-be remembered meeting.

"All district deputy grand masters and masters of lodges receiving this letter are requested to give this meeting wide publicity in their lodges and in their districts, thus insuring a large attendance.

To Make Reservations

"The grand master sincerely desires to meet the district deputy grand masters, and the masters, warders and secretaries of the lodges in the districts receiving this letter."

The Masonic bodies here wrote that hotel reservations would be made for all grand officers and others who were specially invited, and suggested that those invited try to arrive a day before the ceremonies.

"We hope to make this the greatest meeting of Masons ever held in West Texas," the invitation committee headed by H. J. McClellan, secretary of Lubbock Masonic bodies, wrote.

Answers Are Received

Answers that they would be here had been received from several, including R. W. Hugh M. Craig, deputy grand master, of Fort Worth; W. O. L. Cheaney, grand junior steward, of Santa Anna; Paul Turney, member of the committee on work, of Sonora; and W. L. Brown, E. G. warder, of Amarillo.

Invitations also had been mailed to the following district deputy grand masters and officials of lodges in the West Texas area:

Church Rental, Red Rose, Is Due Today

LANCASTER, Pa., June 12. (AP) —One red rose—the annual rental price for the ground on which stands the Zion Evangelical Lutheran church, Manheim, will be paid tomorrow at the "colorful feast of roses."

The custom began in 1772 when Baron William Henry Etiegel levied a rent of "one red rose each year forever" upon the struggling congregation—then too poor to pay a ground rental.

This year the rose will be claimed by an heir of Baron Stiegel, Mrs. Elizabeth Vantassel Dannehover, Westfield, N. J.

Historians say that Baron Stiegel believed the people of Manheim who labored in his famous glass works should be a religious people. He contributed land for a church and fixed a price for its rent, believing that the people should be willing to give financial aid to their church.

But the people were unable to pay even the nominal fee and the baron decided upon the rose payment.

Finally the baron went to prison for debts and the benefactors forgot their bargain. But the custom was revived nearly 50 years ago.

TO WITHDRAW PLANS

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 12 (AP)—American aircraft which have been standing by on Cyrus island for the past several weeks to evacuate Americans from the Middle East if necessary will be withdrawn because of the truce in Palestine, Air Force headquarters announced today.

AMAZED AT QUICK ACTION OF MERTOX

"For the past ten years I have been troubled with severe gas pains which seemed to press against my heart and made it difficult to breathe. I had a pain under my heart that was almost unbearable at times," writes Mrs. Alma Cummings of Waco.

"My food would not digest and soured on my stomach. I had bad dizzy spells and when these attacks occurred I felt all puffed up. My appetite has greatly improved and I can now eat lots of things that I couldn't eat before taking this wonderful medicine.

"Since taking Mertox I feel like a different person. It certainly is wonderful to get up in the morning and do a day's work, without that tired, worn-out feeling. I certainly was amazed at the quick action of this medicine."

You can get Mertox from any Texas druggist at the new REDUCED price.

Deep Projects In Gaines County Hold Attention; New Producers Reported In Cochran, Hockley And Hale; 7 New Anton-Irish Tests

DRILLING is to be started immediately on a slated 12,000-foot wildcat in south-central Gaines county, which is due to test into the Ellenburger.

That venture will be Shell Oil company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins. It is about 12 miles south of Seminole, and 1,983 feet from north and 665 feet from east lines of section 8, block A-23 psl survey.

The exploration is adjacent to the Robertson field, where the present production is from the middle Permian lime between 5,900 feet and 6,400 feet.

Reaches 10,308 Feet

The Texas Company, Humble Oil & Refining Company and Ralph Lowe No. 1 Jenkins, southwest Gaines county development to 12,000 feet, and 662 feet from south and 660 feet from west lines of section 4, block A-25, psl survey, had reached 10,308 feet, in an unidentified dolomite, and was making more hole.

W. H. Black Drilling company No. 1 Wentz, also in southwest Gaines, and 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 8, block A-25, psl survey, and contracted to dig to about 12,000 feet, had reached 4,035 feet in anhydrite, and lime, and was making more hole.

Other Gaines Projects

Union Oil Company of California, No. 1 T. C. Weltner, in west-central Gaines county, and 1,980 feet from south and 662 feet from west lines of section 16, block A-12, psl survey, had penetrated past 6,791 feet in dry lime, and was making more hole.

Argo Oil Corporation No. 1-N Jones, in northwest Gaines county, 10 miles southwest of Denver City, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 496, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, had cored to 7,844 feet in lime, with some shale streaks and some anhydrite inclusions, and it was to core ahead. This project is contracted to go to 9,600 feet.

Fishing For Lost Tools

Cities Service Oil Company No. 1 Proctor, 10 miles northwest of Seminole, and 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 355, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, had reached 5,136 feet in dry lime, and was fishing for lost tools. It is to make more hole as soon as the current trouble is remedied.

Honolulu Oil Corporation, No. 1 T. S. Riley estate, in northeast Gaines county, and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 123, block G, WTRR survey, had drilled past 2,275 feet in redbeds and anhydrite and was making more hole. It is contracted to explore to around 7,500 feet.

To Go To 5,000 Feet

McAlester Fuel Company No. 5 Bice, one mile east of the nearest production in the Adair field, in northeast Gaines county, and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 10, block C-31, psl survey, had reached 4,669 feet in dry lime and was drilling ahead. It is to go to about 5,000 feet to test the Adair field pay section in the San Andres-Permian

Bankline Oil Company No. 1 F. L. Butler, small discovery from the San Andres, in southeast Terry county, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 12, block C-39, psl survey, had found that the pump was in bad order, and that was causing the well to fail to produce as it should.

Yield Had Declined

The pump was pulled, repair, and re-set. Operator is planning to run an official potential test in a few days.

This project had at one time shown for between 25 barrels and 50 barrels of oil per day, swabbing, plus some water.

That yield had declined to about five barrels of oil per day recently. It is hoped that the repaired pump will cause the well to get back up to at least 25 barrels of oil per day.

Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 1 Hinson, slated 12,000 foot prospector in northeast Terry county, 10 miles northeast of Brownfield, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 91, block 4-X, psl survey, had reached 5,510 feet in dry lime, was making more hole.

Progress In Other Tests

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 John G. Givan, scheduled 7,000-foot wildcat in northwest Terry county, two and one half miles southeast of the nearest completed oil wells in the Slaughter field and 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 13, block D-11, psl survey, had reached 3,275 feet in anhydrite and redbeds, and was continuing.

J. W. Murchison, et al, No. 1 Ellwood Fouts, scheduled 7,500 foot prospector in southwest Yoakum county, six miles southwest of Plains, and 660 feet from south and west lines of section 575, block D, John H. Gibson survey, lost the hole on a total depth of 4,370 feet in lime, when a string of 9⅝ inch casing which had been set on bottom collapsed. The rig has been skidded over a few feet, and a new hole is being started.

Hole Loaded With Oil

C. U. Bay, et al, No. 1 Ralph Gardner, in southwest Cochran county, five miles southeast of Lehman, and 440 feet from north and west lines of lease in F-O subdivision 2, league 131, Carson county school land survey, had loaded the hole with oil, and was due to treat with acid, and then test, in a few days.

The project is bottomed at 4,978 feet, and has a string of 5½ inch casing cemented at 4,863 feet. That zone was cored and the specimen from it had considerable porosity and some bleeding oil. The venture is expected to be completed as some sort of an oil well, and a new discovery in the near future.

Swabbing To Test

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No. 1 Maston, eight miles southeast of Bledsoe, in southwest Cochran county, and 660 feet from north and west lines of labor 18, league 152, Randall county school lands survey, had tested for water from all the section below 5,000 feet.

It is now plugged back to that point and is swabbing to test, and see if it can make any oil, and also to determine if the water has been eliminated. So far no oil has been developed, and at the end of the week the chances for the project being completed as an oil well were rather slim and scant.

Shows Some Free Oil

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1 Dorothy L. Slaughter, et al, four and one half miles south of Lehman, in south-central Cochran county, and 440 feet from south and west lines of the lease in league 114, Potter county school land survey, was testing on open hole at 4,851-4,951 feet.

That horizon had been acidized. It has shown some free oil—but up to now the operator has not run any official guages on the oil yielding ability of this possible new field opener.

A report should be available within the next week, which will show what sort of a petroleum producer this prospector is destined to be.

To Take Official Test

An official completion test is due to be taken in the next few days at the new oil discovery in East-Central Hockley county, at Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1-13 Ellwood estate.

This development, located three and one half miles north of Smyer, and three miles west of the Smyer oil field, had tested for between 200 barrels of 250 barrels of oil per day, swabbing, with only a small amount of water.

The production is coming from perforated section at 5,875-5,905 feet, and from open hole at 5,917-6,014 feet, both in the Glorieta, middle Permian.

To Run Potential

Those intervals have been treated with acid. The well is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey.

As soon as a pump can be rigged up, the official Railroad Commission potential test will be run, and the well, which will be classed as a new field opener, will be put on production.

New Hockley Producer

Brown and Wheeler No. 1 Devitt, central Hockley county petroleum prospector, two miles south of Levelland, and 440 feet from south and west lines of labor 6, league 29, Rusk county school land survey, was swabbing to test, cleanout, and try to completed as an oil well and a new discovery.

The section making oil is at 4,852-85 feet, where 4,000 gallons and 6,000 gallons of acid, had been injected. On the last test reported the well had swabbed at the rate of about five barrels of fluid per hour, mostly oil.

Plugged Back To 4,885

This development had water between 4,885 feet and the total depth drilled of 4,939 feet. It is now plugged back to 4,885 feet. It is due to be completed as some sort of an oil well in the near future.

Honolulu and Signal Oil and Gas Company No. 1-24 Ellwood, slated 11,500-foot wildcat in southeast Hockley county, about four miles north of Ropesville, and 660 feet from north and west lines of labor 24, league 5, Wilbarger county school lands, had progressed under 8,962 feet in dry shale, and was continuing.

Shut Down For Orders

In south-central Hale county, and a stepout from the discovery for commercial oil production from the Cisco lime section of the Pennslyvanian, to open the West Petersburg field, Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 T. E. Lutrick, was shutdown for orders on a plugged back total depth of 8,065 feet, in lime.

It treated the sections at 8,007-25 feet, and at 8,030-42 feet, with 5,000 gallons of acid, through perforations in the casing.

The well was swabbed down, after the acid, to 700 feet of bottom, and then water and a small amount of oil and was gas was bailed out.

This project is located 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 17, block D-8, EL&RR survey.

Floyd County Projects

In southwest Floyd county, about four miles northeast of Petersburg, and to the east of the recent discovery for commercial production made several weeks ago at the General American Oil company, et al, No. 1 A. F. Byrd, Lario Oil & Gas company No. 1 Mayo, 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 18, block K, TTRR survey, had reached 6,155 feet in shale, and was drilling ahead.

H. E. Chiles, et al, No. 1 Strickler, 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 19, block K, TTRR survey, had reached 6,143 feet in lime and shale, and was coring.

Completion Is Indicated

Bob Donnell, et al, No. 1 Carmichael, 1,980 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of the lease in section 18, block K, TTRR survey, was bottomed at 6,005 feet in the Pennsylvanian lime reef, and had a string of 5½ inch casing cemented at 5,980 feet.

The section left uncased has shown considerable heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud, on drillstem tests, and had flowed out some of the fluid on one head while the drill pipe was being pulled from one of the investigations.

This project has a chance of being completed as an oil well. Operators are due to drill the plug

Prairie State Farmers Plant Millions Of Trees As Shelterbelt In Past 15 Years

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, June 12—Out in the prairie states farmers have planted more than 300,000,000 trees in 15 years. They are the states where settlers once complained there was nothing but a barbed wire fence to break mile-a-minute winds from the north pole.

Now, says Louis P. Merrill, regional soil conservation director for Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma, the interest in tree wind breaks "is greater and keener in many localities than ever before."

Need Is Emphasized

Blinding dust storms in many of the Plains states this spring have emphasized the need for more trees.

The Abilene Reporter-News says its area has undergone the most prolonged drouth in 30 years. The four-year rain deficiency since 1944 is almost as great as a normal year's fall of 25.17 inches.

Harry Holt, Reporter-News farm editor, says that other parts of the southwest are even drier. Irrigation projects have failed. Farmers had a difficult time planting wheat in West Texas this year. The drouth has forced livestock off some ranges until half the normal number remain.

Swept By Sandstorms

Some sections have been swept by roaring, choking sandstorms. Farmers and city people alike dread them. They're an awesome phenomenon.

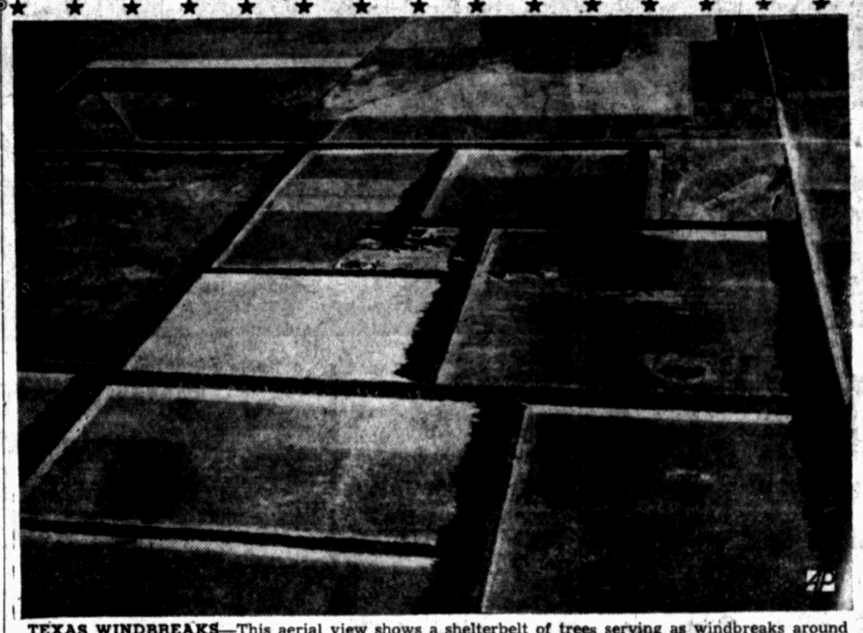

When sandstorms become prolonged and severe, you have a dust bowl.

Some farmers hope the trees are insurance against this dust bowl threat. They remember the 30's when whole sections were made as barren as the Sahara. Some want trees for windbreaks to protect growing crops even when there's no threat of sandstorms. Some just want to look at trees.

The popular conception of the "shelterbelt project" as a wall of trees from Mexico to Canada was a product of imagination born in dust bowl days, says Merrill. No one in authority ever thought of the project that way.

Plan Has Spread

The "windbreak" plan—a term preferred by conservation authorities—as part of a coordinated soil conservation program has spread to the Rio Grande valley in Texas, northeastern Arkansas and the Gulf coast prairie region of Texas and Louisiana.

TEXAS WINDBREAKS—This aerial view shows a shelterbelt of trees serving as windbreaks around fields on the J. H. McDougal farm, 18 miles north of Vernon, Texas. The trees were planted in 1919.

The plan has reached even to California, where citrus growers have established 2,000 miles of protective plantings for their orchards, and to Wisconsin, which has nearly 6,000 miles of such plantings.

No signs of a continuous shelterbelt have appeared across the nation. Tree planting has been a matter for individual farmers. In some cases, attempts have been made to place the program on a conservation district basis.

Abandoned At Lubbock

Generally the projects are a success, farmers say.

But in some areas, notably that around Lubbock, the program has been abandoned. Dry weather, insects and diseases have done away with most of the trees.

Talks with farmers and conservation men show that the program, where practical, has put more money in the farmer's pocket, but windbreaks certainly are no cure-all.

Says Merrill: "The planting of tree windbreaks is one practice of many used for control of wind erosion in localities to which they are adapted."

The federal shelterbelt project was started in 1933 to provide jobs as well as stop wind erosion. At first it was run by the U. S. Forest Service and reached the tree-planting stage in 1935. It came to an end as a shelterbelt project in July, 1942, when it was turned over to the U. S. Soil Conservation service.

The idea really goes back further than dust bowl days.

New Planting Hampered

Merrill says new planting is being hampered by the scarcity and hight cost of labor, cost of the tree plants and the frequent sale of farms. Windbreaks require several years to pay their way."

Between 1935 and 1942, the government furnished the trees as well as the labor.

Now the Soil Conservation service has several nurseries and some states provide trees at low cost. Some farmers buy their plantings from commercial nurseries and occasionally a district will poll its money to buy in wholesale quantities commercial trees run from $20 to $35 per thousand in the Nebraska area.

Mechanized tree planters, designed by the Conservation Service, are in use on the Northern Plains and their use is spreading. A mechanical planter with a crew of four can plant 1,000 trees an hour and will complete a half-mile belt in a half day. Such a belt, half a mile long and five to seven rows wide, takes up four acres of land. It requires about 1,000 trees per acre.

Millions Are Needed

Ross A. Williams, chief of the forestry division of the Conservation Service in the Northern Plains states, says that the area will need 28,315,000 trees to bring the program up to date in 1948, but only a little more than 6,000,000 trees will be available for the section, which includes Kansas, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Wyoming and Montana.

Soil and weather conditions have made tree planting useless as crop and soil protection in a few areas.

A cooperative check by the U. S. Forest and Conservation Services in 1944 showed 90 per cent of the plantings made by that time were doing the job expected of them while only two per cent had failed completely. Failure in most instances was due to livestock damage where the farmers wailed to protect the plantings—often after a change in farm ownership.

Two new oil wells completed in the territory during the week, were:

Anton Oil corporation No. 1 C Roberts, located 660 feet from south and east lines of section 32 block DT, HE&WT survey, made a daily pumping potential of 280.14 barrels of 29.4 gravity oil, pumping from pay at 5,595-6,010 feet. The oil was cut with four-tenths of one per cent water. The pay had been treated with 8,000 gallons of acid.

Anton No. 3 L. Lusk, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 15, block D. T. HE&WT survey, made a 24-hour pumping potential of 276.83 barrels of 29 gravity oil, with six-tenths of one per cent water, from pay at 5,652-6,010 feet, which had been injected with 8,000 gallons of acid.

Stanolind No. 4-B Lee Irish had reached 5,946 feet in lime, and was making more hole.

Three Stepouts To Sawyer Producer In Lea Area Started

Drilling operations have started at three stepouts to the recently completed heavy flowing producer from the Devonian, to open the Crossroads fields in Northeast Lea county.

That discovery, Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A Sawyer, was finished for a daily initial production of 3,744 barrels o 42.6 gravity oil, lowing through a three-quarter inch tubing choke. The pay section at 12,115-215 feet had been washed with 1,000 gallons of acid.

It is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 27-9s-36e.

Stepouts Are Staked

The stepouts are:

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1-C Santa-Pacific, located 660 feet from south and west lines of section 26-9s-36e, had reached 2,805 feet in anhydrite, salt and shells, and was making more hole. It is one half mile east of the new field opener.

Skelly Oil company No. 1 U. D. Sawyer, 660 feet from north and east lines of section 33-9s-36e, had penetrated to 4,195 feet in lime, and was fishing for bit cones. It is one quarter of a mile south and three quarters of a mile west of the Mid-Continent discovery.

Mid-Coninent No. 1-B U. D. Sawyer, 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 34-9s-36e, and a one location diagonal southwest stepout from the initial producer in the Crossroads field, had spudded and had reached 1,145 feet in shale and redbeds, and the end of the week, and was continuing.

Mid-Continent No. 1 Dessie Sawyer, 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 27-9s-36e, and one quarter of a mile due west of the discovery, was building derrick and should be making hole within the next week.

All of the Crossroads projects are due to go to betwten 12,000 feet and 12,500 feet, to explore into the Devonian, the production formation in the Mid-Continent No. 1-A Sawyer.

NEW YORK, June 12 (U.P.)—Ex-GI Harry C. Crawford, 25, and his blonde, blue-eyed German baroness hurried back to South Dakota today in a 1936 Ford.

Crawford came here to meet Baroness Sissi Von Hacke, 24, yesterday at LaGuardia airport when she flew in from Germany. They plan to be married as soon as possible. Crawford has to be back at the South Dakota State School of Mines and Technology where his classes start again Monday.

The couple met in Germany in 1945 and were married in February, 1946. But when the officiating clergyman discovered Harry was an American and Sissi a German he tore up the wedding papers. Then Harry was shipped back to this country.

Since then he has been working to bring her here. Now that she's here, he thinks she'll be the first baroness ever to adorn the campus of the South Dakota School of Mines and Technology.

Former Governor Of Georgia Claimed In Atlanta Hospital

ATLANTA, June 12. (AP)—Judge Hugh Manson Dorsey, 77, who served two terms as governor of Georgia, died in a private hospital yesterday.

He was elected governor in 1917 and was relected for a two-year term in 1919.

Dorsey gained national recognition in 1913 when he led the prosecution against Leo M. Frank, who was convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, a factory worker. Shortly after Frank's death sentence had been commuted to life imprisonment, Frank was taken from jail and lynched by a mob.

Forty Mexican Aliens Nabbed

CHICAGO, June 12. (U.P.)—Police today seized 40 Mexican nationals and an American citizen who admitted bringing them north from Texas in a false-bottomed truck after they were smuggled across the border.

Police officials said they would turn the aliens, together with all evidence, over to federal immigration officials to determine whether the Mexicans were smuggled into the states as part of a nation-wide gang operation to provide cheap labor for farms and factories.

Leaps From Window

Three squads of officers seized the Mexicans, 39 men and a woman, in a four-story building on the near west side shortly before dawn today. Another man escaped by leaping out a window.

Also seized in the raid was Reynaldo Sanchez, 30, and his wife, Victoria, 25, who said they were American citizens.

Sanchez admitted that he brought the Mexicans north from San Benito, Tex., in his red semi-trailer truck which was found parked near the west side building.

The truck had a false flooring built several feet above the true floor. The upper portion was loaded with cantaloupes. The Mexicans had crouched or sprawled in the area beneath the false floor, he said.

Was Paid $175

Sanchez said that a man whom he named as "Alfredo" paid him $175 to bring the aliens north and scatter them in farm and factory areas. He was to receive $800 more when the trip was completed.

He told officers that Alfredo came north in the truck. Police believed that he was the man who jumped through the window.

Sanchez did not know when or how the Mexicans had been brought across the border. He said that "this was my first trip in the business."

They arrived last night, he said, and planned to use the west side building as a headquarters from which they would disperse the aliens throughout northern states.

He said that he had stopped the truck at "different places" along the route to allow the aliens to eat and drink.

However, Lieut. Harold Enger, who led the raid on the building, said it appeared that the aliens had subsisted mainly on cantaloupes for the entire trip.

"The bottom part of the truck was filth," he said. "It was covered with cantaloupe rinds and excreta. There was a little water available but not much. It looked to me as though the truck didn't stop once on the way up here."

LAW SAID INVALID

ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 12 (AP)—The Taft-Hartley labor law ultimately will be found unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme court, Sen. Wayne R. Moore (R-Oge) predicted last night at the 51st annual convention of the American Federation of Musicians (AFL).

ROYAL INSTRUCTOR—Mrs. Tamaki Uemura, above, an ordained Presbyterian minister and president of the Japanese YWCA, says that she expects the family of Emperor Hirohito of Japan to embrace Christianity soon. She has been instructing Empress Magako and her three daughters for some time. The Emperor and Crown Prince Akihito do not attend the classes.

Man, 87, And Fiancee, 84, Put Off Their Wedding Until Fall

MEDIA, Pa., June 12. (AP)—Eighty-seven-year-old William H. Hawkins, of Ann Arbor, Mich., and eighty-four-year-old Elizabeth Burton have decided to put off their wedding until fall.

"It's not that we changed our minds," Mrs. Burton said, "William has to have an eye operation this summer and we thought we would put off the wedding until fall."

Mrs. Burton, of Swarthmore, Pa., telephoned the marriage license bureau today to ask if she and Hawkins would have to apply for a new license if they waited until September to wed.

She was told they would.

Old-Fashioned Peakaboo Letterdrop, Joy Of Small Towns, Is Now On Its Way Out

By VERN HAUGHLAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 12—The old-fashioned peekaboo letterdrop, a special joy of small-town Americans, is on its way out. In its stead is coming a strictly modern device that takes half the fun out of mailing a letter.

This wouldn't have happened if Gilbert Stanley Underwood hadn't visited the Herkimer, N. Y., postoffice some weeks ago.

Underwood is chief architect for the Public Buildings administration, which designs and builds federal buildings, including postoffices. He gave a reporter this description of what went on at Herkimer:

Pants Recognized

"The mail had just arrived, and the clerks had started to sort it. Many townspeople were waiting to get the mail from their boxes.

"Everyone seemed to know everyone else They seemed to know the clerks, too. For one man after another would step up to the letter-drop, push back the flap, peek through, recognize the pants of the nearest clerk and say:

"'Hey, Joe, give me my mail—I'm in a hurry.'

"I never imagined the letterdrop would be put to such use," Underwood said in amazement.

Underwood also noted that people with letters to mail were not content merely to drop them through the slot.

No, indeed, he said. They would shove them through with such force the letters would overshoot the mail receptacle and land on the floor.

Wasting Time

"Handling mail to impatient customers and picking letters off the floor were time-wasting nuisances to the clerks," said Underwood.

So back in Washington, Underwood designed a letterdrop so cunningly beveled on the inside as to cut off the view entirely.

And no letter can overshoot the mail box, no matter how hard it is dropped into the slot. Each letter just slides upward over the beveled surface, kerplunk into the container.

You'll find non-peek letterdrops in all new postoffices, and Underwood said they'll gradually replace the old slots in the other buildings.

The Herkimer letterdrop?

It's still there, but the clerks have covered it with canvas—to prevent peeping and to keep letters from sailing through the air.

Democrats, Slightly Confused, Name Republican As Delegate

DANVILLE, Va., June 12 (AP) There was a slight mixup at the Democratic mass meeting here last night to choose delegates to the party's state convention.

Among the 21 delegates elected was Austin Jones, a member of the Danville Republican steering committee.

"It was all a mistake," a member of the Democratic delegation said. "We didn't know Jones was a Republican."

Jones thanked the Democrats for their confidence, but declined the nomination. After all, he said, "they might end up backing Truman."

Exercise Urged As Beauty Hint

By PATRICIA CLARY
United Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, June 12—Sonja Henie's recipe for health and beauty is set-ups in the morning, not at night.

"Every woman should exercise regularly," says Miss Henie, who is living proof that a woman can be athletic and still be charming. "It's fun and it's good for you, too.

SONJA HENIE

"If she doesn't go in for some sport like tennis, swimming, riding or skating, she should at least take long walks. And she should do 10 minutes of setting-up exercises every day. In the morning, not at night.

"That's the trouble with so many women—setting 'em up at night."

Miss Henie, starring in Universal-International's "The Countess of Monte Cristo," has muscles of steel, but they're camouflaged in the softest curves a man could hope for.

Keeps In Training

The routines Miss Henie performs on ice are so strenuous and exacting they can be done only after spartan training and she must keep in top physicial condition. But her training has only enhanced her beauty and daintiness, giving her skin the warm glow of health and her figure slimness and grace.

Miss Henie doesn't believe in dieting, but she's strong for well-balanced meals.

"I drink a quart of orange juice and a quart of milk every day," she said. "I never take very much sugar except when I need quick energy, and then I gulp six to eight teaspoonsful dissolved in a glass of milk.

"When I'm tired after skating I lie down for 15 minutes with my head on the level and my feet up on pillows and I cover my eyes with pads of cotton soaked in witch hazel."

After this brief rest, Miss Henie is ready for a whirl around the Hollywood night spots.

Her Husband Is Texas Oil Millionaire

Jane Withers Runs Household On Budget Of $500 A Month

By VIRGINIA MacPHERSON
United Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, June 12—Jane Withers and her millionaire Texas husband, Bill Moss, peeked into the budget today and decided they couldn't afford dinner at the Derby.

It's have to be canned baked beans and chocolate pie at home, announced the ex-movie brat.

They're Old Fashioned

And that, says the Mosses, is how they aim to stay out of the divorce courts.

They're not exactly in what you might call the budget brackets. Miss Withers still has most of the fortune she earned as a child star back in the '30s. And everybody knows ho wrich Texas oilmen are.

"But I'm old-fashioned," the broad-shouldered Moss explained. "People out here live too expensively. And the secret of any marriage is security. So we're saving our money and struggling along like any newly-married couple."

Well, not like any, exactly. Every month he gives Jane a $500 check. A lot of married couples figure they could stay out of the divorce courts if they had that much. The Mosses are working it in reverse.

Pays All Bills

Jane gets no more until the first of the next month. And out of her $500 she pays $185 rent, $20 cleaning and laundry, her beauty shop bills, clothing, all the food they eat, etc.

And the be-dimpled Miss Withers, who had maids and cooks and all the pin-money she needed as a bachelor gal, trots out to the markets and haggles happily over the price of carrots.

"I've found one store is cheaper for meat and groceries and another is better for canned foods," she beamed, the light of discovery in her eyes. "I save five or six cents a day that way. I also wash my own hair, cook all the meals myself, and make the beds."

Was His Idea

Moss admits this budget business was his idea in the first place. But he didn't count on Jane going into it so frenziedly. If he feels like splurging for a night-club, does she rush for her coat?

Nope. She checks the household accounts. And they don't step out until she's figured out whether they can afford it or not.

"It's backfired once or twice," Moss grinned. "I used to get a haircut every week. Now, our budget won't stretch that far. I eat lunch at the studi. instead of at some expensive restaurant."

Serious About It

He's really serious about budgets. William Moss Productions is now turning out a movie called "The Big Cat." All about people in a depression who have to scrape by on pennies.

"Now we have a baby on the way," Jane added. "Maybe twins. So we're chopping a big hunk out of that $500 for it. I was sort hoping I could save enough on the grocery bills to buy an automatic dishwasher . . . But I guess that'll go for diapers and things now."

The budget being what it is, the movie queen washes the dishes and her millionaire dries 'em.

Girl Recovering From A Snake Bite Without Aid Of Doctor

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 12 (INS) — A 13-year-old Chattanooga girl is recovering from a snake bite today without what her grandfather called "a doctor's meddling."

Inez Posey was bitten on the leg while swimming Wednesday but was not taken to a physician for treatment. Her grandfather J. W. Posey, a Dolly Pond, Tenn., snake handler, took her to the Dolly Pond Church of God which uses snake handling ceremonies.

The girl's ankle was badly swollen. The congregation prayed for her for about two hours. Afterwards, she said that she was "much better."

Wear Gown Wired For Sound, Gals, And Wait For Wolves

HOLLYWOOD, June 12 (AP) — Wear a dress that's wired for sound, gals, then wait for the wolf calls.

That's the advice of Ilyana, the designer. She says it's not tiny waistlines, or exaggerated hips that make male eyes pop, but the seductive sounds of swish, rustle or crackle in the material.

Whispers Of Taffeta

"The melodic whisperings of yards of taffeta over the female form are more effective than gallons of subtle perfume," is the way she put it.

"Men like women who wear materials that make tantalizing sounds. Taffeta, faille and underpetticoats of double buckram are as effective for snaring a male as a steel trap."

Even bathing suits and simple housefrocks will rustle by next year, she predicts, while the males rustle for the cash to pay for them.

Two Theories

Ilyana, who designs for the movies, and personally for such charmers as Lauren Bacall and Evelyn Keyes, has two theories for male liking for ear-appeal as well eye.

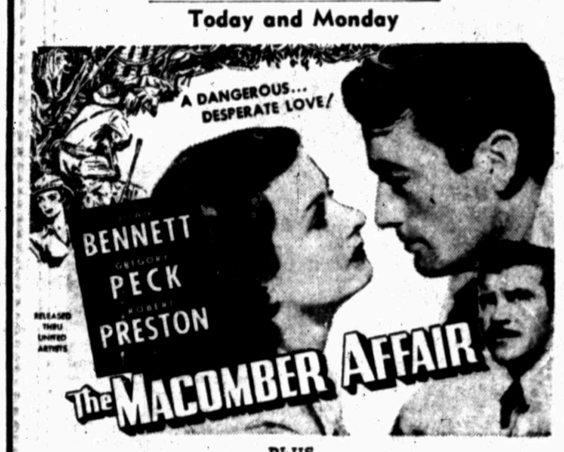

One is that the swish of a dress proclaims femininity as unmistakably as leather heels on a sidewalk announce a masterful male. The other is sort of psychological. She says it's the same thing that made Gypsy Rose Lee so successful fumbling under yards of noisy gown for the pins that hold her costume together.

Actress Lucille Ball Suffers Wrenched Shoulder In Collision

LOS ANGELES, June 12 (AP) Actress Lucille Ball suffered a wrenched shoulder last night when a car driven by her husband, Desi Arnaz, collided with another at a southside intersection.

Actor Francis Lederer and his wife were passengers in the Arnaz car, but only Miss Ball was injured.

Hollywood On The Loose...

Filmtown Facts And Fancies

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, June 12.—Exclusively yours: Eleanor Powell, the greatest tap dancer of them all, may play a straight dramatic role without dancing a step in her next picture.

Producer Lester Cutler is anxious for her to take the change of pace in a big role in "Hope of Earth" and negotiations are under way. Eleanor, in private life the wife of Glenn Ford, is anxious to return to the screen after a three-year absence, during which she became a mama. But she hasn't given up dancing entirely. She's been on two long personal appearance tours, packing 'em into theaters and night clubs, and is planning another tour late this summer.

JOHNSON

Larry Parks and Betty Garret deny those break-up rumors. Both are hoping that a baby will be on the way soon. . . . Vincent Price is trying to talk UI into letting him do a sympathetic role for a change. He'd like to do Ibsen's "The Wild Duck." . . . Mr. Blandings finally has his dream house. Cary Grant just bought a new home in Beverly Hills, checking out of his dressing-room apartment on the RKO lot.

SAFETY IN NUMBERS

HOW confusing can the censors get: For a scene in "The Unafraid," Burt Lancaster was supposed to be picked up on the street by a beautiful-looking doll. After reading the script, the Johnston office sent Prexy Harold Hecht of Norma Productions a note saying:

"Having Burt picked up by one girl is too obvious. Make it two girls. It will appear more acceptable."

Here's a baby-sitter story with an O.Henry Twist. Virginia Grey told it to me between scenes of "Miraculous Journey." Virginia was born in Hollywood while her father was playing one of the Keystone Kops for Mack Sennett. When papa and mama would go out for an evening, Virginia would be left in custody of a young actress, also working for Sennett, who was grateful for the 35 cents. The baby sitter was Gloria Swanson!

LANDOWNERS

BETTE DAVIS and William Grant Sherry will soon be the owners of a 600-acre ranch near Santa Barbara. . . . Fred MacMurray's Twin Valley dairy farm, in northern California, is having a birthday. Pals laughed when Fred sat down beside a cow. But now the farm earns as much money as Fred does in Hollywood.

Now it's glamor in a wheel chair. Valli will wear a mink cape in her wheel-chair scenes for "Weep No More."

Christine Cooper, New York radio and television actress, will be screen tested at Eagle Lion. . . . M-G-M is planning to co-star Mickey Rooney and Wallace Beery in "Gentlement Be Seated," story of famed ministrel leader "Honeyboy" Evans. The studio bought the story back in 1936. . . . Eddie and Ida Cantor sail for a tour of Norway, Denmark and Sweden aboard the Stockholm July 3.

Now it's "Hollywood's Best Hair - Dressed - Atcresses," picked by the Beauty Operators of Los Angeles. The list: Lina Romay, Gene Tierney, Rita Hayworth, Claudette Colbert, Brenda Joyce, June Allyson, Joan Crawford, Esther Williams, Claire Trevor and Jane Wyman. In the male department, I guess Bing Crosby's toupee would win by a hair over Charles Boyer's.

Retired Michigan Lawyer Gives Vast Estate To University To Aid "Underdog" Students

By JOSEPH V. RAITI
INS Staff Correspondent

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 12—Generations of University of Michigan students will reap the benefits of a lonely millionaire's sympathy for the deserving "underdog."

The late Crapo Cornell Smith left the school an estate of more than a million dollars to be used as "gifts, loans, scholarships and rewards of merit" for its students.

Previous to his death last March, Smith had lived for 11 years in virtual oblivion among the 3,800 men students in Michigan's student union. His frugal way of life had provided not the slightest indication that his wealth was so extensive.

"Tired Of City Life"

Stemming from an illustrious and wealthy Michigan family, Smith retired from his law practice in Detroit in 1937 and sought complete withdrawal from his former life.

He told University of Michigan President Alexander Ruthven he was "tired of city life." Ruthven arranged for him to live in the Michigan union's guest section.

There in the "hotel" part of the union he lived in a double room with both for the next 11 years. His death failed to warrant a notice in the Michigan Daily, student newspaper, until the million dollar endowment was disclosed in the reading of his will two months later.

Shying away from personal recognition even in death, he stipulated that his name must not be connected in the future with the fortune which he left to the university.

The elderly bachelor left the Michigan campus not more than a half dozen times in the years he resided there. He spent most of his time reading, sunning himself in the courtyard and sitting in the lobby of the union, carefully observing the students.

He probably had a better understanding of college students than most of the college personnel. He watched them live and his sympathies lay with the unfortunates who struggled with limited means to work their way through school.

Smith spurned the usual competitive examination process for scholarships and recommended in his will that "private inquiry or close observation be used as the basis for making decisions."

He stipulated also that, aside from rewards for merit and scholarship, all arrangements between students and the board of regents be strictly confidential, Smith wrote:

"I do so wish any selected student regarded as a beneficiary of 'charity' but rather to afford a fair opportunity to a worthy young person."

Manager Was Close Friend

He elaborated that "illness, misfortune or accident along with exceptional ability and extraordinary prospects for further progress should be the criteria in giving assistance from the fund."

The Michigan union manager, William Kuenzel, was the 79-year-old bachelor's only close friend. Smith would stop at the manager's office regularly for an informal chat and "talked for hours if you let him."

Kuenzel provides most of the information about the tall, grey-haired old man who lived unheeded for so long on the campus from which he had graduated in 1896.

Kuenzel and his secretary attempted time after time to convince Smith he "should get out and enjoy life." But Smith's usual retort was "I've lived my life, I'm just biding my time."

The retired lawyer-millionaire had traveled extensively and had visited Europe more than a dozen times. His most frequent topic of conversation was modern living as compared with life in his younger days, with emphasis on moral attitudes.

Smith was a grandson of the late Henry H. Crapo, former Michigan governor. The family estate still stands in a now deteriorated section of Detroit and is said to be a "museum" of relics from an earlier period.

Strict governmental control of all wireless transmitters and receivers has been instituted in the Belgian Congo.

Our Flag Symbolizes World Hope; Army Caste System Again Under Fire

A WISH FOR ALL

Long May It Wave!

TOMORROW is "Flag Day." So from a relatively few buildings, and in front of an even smaller number of homes in the U. S., the American Flag will be on display.

In a few neighborhoods and communities, there will be programs based on the Flag. Some newspapers will mark "Flag Day" with editorials. The radio networks may make some reference to the event.

But, by and large, the day will pass unmarked as busy Americans, hurrying, worrying, go about their little lives.

If it were in our power to have a wish come true this Flag Day, our choice of wish would be both quick and easy. We would wish that every American could see one American Flag which flies, proudly, but serenely, at a point some 5,000 miles away; and we would wish, too, that all those who saw this Flag could catch its full meaning.

Before the great building in Frankfurt, Germany, which was the once proud headquarters of the I. G. Farben combine, there stands a giant flagpole. Atop this pole—and marking the GHQ of the U. S. occupation in Germany—there flies an American Flag. It is a big Flag which can be seen from a long distance.

This American Flag at Frankfurt does more than mark our occupation headquarters in a fallen land. It marks a bit of ground in Europe which today is as much American ground as if it lay within the confines of our country. Bathed in the blood of better men than most of us who are left, the Flag at Frankfurt is a symbol of American power. Even more, it is a symbol of hope for the people of Germany—and for the people of all the world who hope for freedom and a better way of life.

Not even the Flag over the Capitol at Washington means as much today as the Flag at Frankfurt, because the Flag in Washington symbolizes only domestic U. S. A., while that at Frankfurt stands as a reminder of the strength, the unselfish leadership, the great hope of all Americans that some day the whole world shall be as free and as open for decent men as is our own country.

The Flag at Frankfurt is the Flag of tomorrow. It is the Flag of peace, of plenty, of democracy—a beacon to all mankind.

It is the over-all symbol of a new world. It is the responsibility of all Americans to keep it flying!

A Cotton Problem

AN ARTICLE about cotton growing in California, appearing in the June 9 issue of the Southwest edition of the Wall Street Journal, might justify study of and revisions in long-range planning in all cotton-producing areas.

The Journal reports that California, which produced 772,000 bales of cotton last year, anticipates 1,000,000 bales this year and 2,000,000 annually by 1953.

That's a lot of cotton—particularly so, considering that over-production normally is the biggest headache of cotton producers. Also to be considered is the fact that California cotton, being closer, could be shipped to huge markets of the Far East more cheaply than from other areas in the U. S.

This does not suggest that California cotton will put other producing areas out of business. But other areas, such as the South Plains, are going to have to take steps to meet that new competition.

The sooner they start trying to find out what needs to be done, and then doing it, the further ahead they are likely to be.

Around 98 per cent of the treaties and agreements that have been entered into between and among nations since the year 1 might as well have been signed with crossed fingers in disappearing ink.

—"What is the Largest Possible Number?"—Title of magazine article. Offhand, we'd say it was the number of ways a woman can answer a question without saying yes or no.

Many a man makes a contribution to the church and thinks he has religion.

Dewey Regains Lead Over Stassen In Latest Poll

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., June 12 — With only one week to go before the Republican convention, the final Institute survey reveals that Governor Thomas E. Dewey has recaptured the lead from Harold E. Stassen as the choice of rank and file Republicans for the nomination.

The New York governor, comfortably in the lead from the last election up to mid-April, has regained most of the ground lost following the Nebraska and Wisconsin primaries. Stassen likewise maintains the strong runner-up position he consistently has held except for six or eight weeks this Spring when he took the lead in the race.

GALLUP

Today's poll among representative G. O. P. voters in every section of the country mirrors the very latest changes in public sentiment. It reveals the shifts in voter preferences brought about by the Ohio and Oregon primaries and by the highly publicized Dewey-Stassen radio debate on Communism. Interviewing for the survey covered the period between May 27 and June 7, and final interview ballots were being counted as late as noon on Wednesday.

In the final survey Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg holds third place, at the same level as in May but a few percentage points higher than in April. General Douglas MacArthur, down one point is in fourth position. Senator Robert A. Taft is in fifth place, but up a few points from the May survey. Governor Earl Warren and Speaker Joseph W. Martin hold sixth and seventh places, respectively.

Obviously today's results are not a forecast of the nomination. The final decision is up to the delegates, and the views of rank and file voters of the party may or may not be important to their decision.

Today's final standings do not reflect the popularity of the men among the nation's independent voters nor among those Democratic voters who might decide to shift their allegiance this year. The figures represent only the relative popularity of the candidates within the ranks of the Republican Party.

NATIONAL standings of the candidates most prominently mentioned for the nomination, with comparisons for May 14 and April 25, were found to be as follows:

	April 25	May 14	TO DAY
Dewey	29%	24%	33%
Stassen	31	37	26
Vandenberg	10	13	13
MacArthur	16	12	11
Taft	9	8	10
Warren	2	2	2
Other and No Choice	2	3	4

Over the last four years the relative popularity of Dewey and Stassen has been subject to wide changes. In 1945 the New Yorker was far ahead as the candidate choice of his fellow Republican voters.

During 1946, however, he slumped sharply, while Stassen's popularity enjoyed a rise just as marked; at one point the two were in a virtual dead heat. But Dewey quickly leaped out in front after his impressive victory in the New York Gubernatorial race in November, 1946, and he held a big margin over Stassen until this year's Spring primaries.

Stassen's victories in Wisconsin and Nebraska focused the national spotlight on his campaign for the presidency. With a burst of strength he climbed rapidly to the top and stayed there about two months. While losing ground in recent weeks, Stassen today is far more popular, with Republican voters than he was last winter.

The sharp changes in relative popularity of the two leaders may be seen in the following trend based on Institute polls among Republicans covering the last three years:

	Dewey	Stassen
May, 1945	59%	15%
May, 1946	35	34
Dec. 1946	52	17
July, 1947	50	15
F[illegible], 1948	38	15
March	34	15
April	29	31
May	24	37
TODAY	33	26

In the Institute's final popularity poll four years ago Dewey was the choice of 38 per cent of Republicans, followed by John W. Bricker, 12 per cent and Stassen 6 per cent.

In 1940, Institute surveys showed Dewey leading for more than a year right up to a few weeks before convention. But Wendell L. Willkie, in a dramatic last-minute surge, finally pushed ahead of him as the rank and file choice.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

NEED som new bedsheets? Some of the towels are pretty well worn and have to be replaced?

So you look through the papers and say to yourself and your husband how terribly expensive housekeeping has become and here you'll have to spend almost $50 for just a few things that would have cost about half as much ten years ago.

I am sure you are having that kind of experience right now, because there is hardly a day at this time of year—the season of universal spring cleaning and refurbishment—that the average housekeeper does not discover the greatly dilapidated state of many of her things.

At least I presume that your house isn't much different from mine and that all wives are just about alike—at least basically.

So when my wife gave me a list of things that needed renewal this morning I showed her a little magazine issued by the Waldorf-Astoria in New York.

"How would you like to have to take care of that kind of house?" I asked her.

The little magazine printed an interview with a Miss Foley, the head housekeeper.

She spends $275,000 a year for replacement of linen alone—while seven years ago her annual expenditure for linen was $100,000.

Miss Foley bought 30,000 pieces of furniture when the hotel opened some years ago.

Miss Foley supervises 200 day maids, 65 night maids, 26 assistant housekeepers and 240 window cleaners, upholsterers, wall washers, housemen and other employees engaged in housekeeping chores.

And don't you ever think for a moment that every one of those employees isn't just as much of a human being, with all the temperamental quirks and foibles, as your own maid or what-have-you.

BY the way, as long as we are on the subject of statistics, let me quote a few from President T. A. Ready's hotel report.

RESENTMENT IS BITTER

Veterans Snubbed

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Back in 1928, four Methodist churches in San Francisco decided to pool their resources and erect a $2,500,000 building, including a hotel and a house of worship, to be known as the Temple Methodist church.

Members scraped together $1,000,000 in nickels, dimes and dollars, signed notes for the rest, and the first service was held Easter, 1930. However, hard times set in, creditors foreclosed in 1937, forcing the pastor, Dr. Edgar Lowther, and his flock to move out.

PEARSON

In 1942 the Reconstruction Finance corporation bought the church-hotel building and turned it over to the Public Buildings administration, which used it to house various government offices.

But the present pastor, Orman Roberts, and his parishioners never abandoned their hope of regaining their house of worship, and with the help of Reps. Dick Welch and Franck Havenner of California, the Methodist congregation finally won congressional consideration of a resolution enabling it to lease the church they once owned.

Pastor Roberts offered to pay $100,000 down and $3,000 a year rent if the government moved out. But Rep. William Whittington of Mississippi had a different idea.

"We will be setting a bad precedent by acting as landlords of a place of worship," Whittington told the public works committee. "Let's either sell the church to these people for the $100,000 or give it to them."

Rep. John Blatnik of Minnesota, a war-decorated paratrooper, Frederick Muhlenberg of Pennsylvania and others supported Whittington. Commented Rep. Harry McGregor of Ohio: "The government is spending millions to fight Communism. What better way to fight Communism than to keep our churches flourishing? I think we can well afford to lose a few dollars on this deal."

So it was decided to sell the Temple Methodist church outright for $100,000 to its former owners, with no strings attached. There wasn't a single dissenting vote.

Dust Off Doolittle Report

Now that the draft and a big Army are on the way back, the Doolittle report and the caste system should be taken out and dusted off. What officers don't always realize is that enlisted men resent the special privilege system—sometimes bitterly.

Most officers in the Pentagon, for instance, don't realize that G. I.'s are griped over the $65,000 underground officers' club which is open to officers for play during duty hours. What was once underground storage space has been converted into a sports palace, lavishly equipped with modern facilities for bowling, basketball, badminton, volley ball, handball and ping-pong. Devices for exercising flagging muscles and a heat room for sweat baths also have been installed.

Those who prefer less strenuous sport can sip socktails in the "pink room" in a setting of soft lights and pastel hues. Like any up-to-date cocktail lounge, it is furnished with a television set, streamlined bar and adjoining kitchen.

This luxury is open to a membership of 908 officers, divided among the services. Other officers can join by paying a small fee, but enlisted personnel are strictly barred—except for a handful who work in the club. The latter draw their basic salary from the taxpayers, but are paid extra out of the club's fund which is collected from officers' mess funds.

"We have to keep in physical shape in case of another war," explained Maj. Gen. L. C. Craigie, president of the club's board of governors. "Senator McKellar made a statement the other day that we should keep in physical shape."

G. I.'s agree. But the fact that officers can take time off in the middle of the afternoon to play handball, while they can't, is one reason why there aren't more voluntary enlistments in the Army.

CHARLIE Halleck, who used to be one of the best-liked members of Congress when he was an ordinary young representative from Indiana, has now risen to the esteemed job of House Republican majority leader and can give lessons on how to "wih enemies and alienate people."

Halleck recently kept three representatives of veterans' organizations cooling their heels two hours in his outer office, then gave them the here's-your-hat-what's-your-hurry treatment.

His callers—John Williamson of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Francis Sullivan of the Disabled American Vets and Robert McLaughlin of Amvets—wanted to find out why the House leadership was blocking various vet measures, and brought with them a pamphlet, written by Gen. Bonner Fellers, former publicity adviser to General MacArthur and now veterans' adviser to the Republican national committee. The pamphlet boasted what the G. O. P. Congress had done for ex-servicemen.

"You could drive a ten-mule team through some of the loopholes in this document," asserted Williamson. "Actually, this Congress so far has been noted for what it hasn't done for veterans. General Fellers apparently had such a tough time making up a list of accomplishments that he included the Army-Navy merger bill. That didn't help war vets, and there's a question that the merger has done the Army and Navy any good.

"In fact, when you get down to cases," continued the VFW spokesman, "this Congress has done absolutely nothing about even the most urgent kind of veterans' legislation, such as bills for the relief of widows, orphans and disabled vets."

Halleck grunted impatiently as he looked through the Fellers booklet: "We can't do everything. It's $500,000,000 for this, and more millions for something else, and $300,000 for federal aid to education . . ."

He stopped suddenly and looked at Williamson, inquiring: "I understand the vets want that, also."

"Yes, sir," replied the VFW spokesman. "My organization is for the education bill."

The G. O. P. leader promised to "take up" the widows-orphans-disabled vets question with the Republican steering committee, jumped up, opened his office door, and "invited" his callers out.

An old-timer can remember when the castor oil was heated in the tablespoon and given to him to swallow.

"THE STILWELL PAPERS"

Japs Could Have Invaded Coast

"THE STILWELL PAPERS," by the late Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, edited by Theodore H. White; (Sloane).

GEN. JOSEPH W. STILLWELL despised the Chinese army high command and had plenty of disgust left over for other wartime leaders. "Vinegar Joe" referred ironically to President Franklin D. Roosevelt as the "world's greatest strategist," to Lord Louis Mountbatten as a "freshman" and to numerous British and American military men in various uncomplimentary terms.

Publication of The Stilwell Papers shows that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek was merely foremost among the late U. S. general's many hates. Stilwell's journal and letters were edited and arranged for the book by Theodore H. White, a correspondent who covered the Burma campaigns and Stilwell's struggles in China and India.

Japs Could Have Landed

The Pearl Harbor attack found Stilwell as senior tactical commander in California. He was appalled by the confusion of the mainland U. S. Army men and the Navy. He believed that "had the Japs only known, they could have landed anywhere on the coast, and after our handful of ammunition was gone, they could have shot us like pigs in a pen."

It was when he began dealing with the British in India and the Chinese army that his indignation reached its height.

Chiang Was "Peanut"

Stilwell referred to Generalissimo Chiang as "Peanut" and accused him of continuous obstruction. Referring to the Chinese troops under his command in October, 1942, Stilwell wrote:

"The junior officers are pretty good; the men are good; even the division commanders will do. But someone has got to push them up front and Peanut must keep his goddam hands off."

When Stilwell was finally relieved at Chiang Kai-Shek's demand, the general wrote to his wife: "The politicians are in full command, so this kind of monkey business is to be expected. Some of the boys here were confident that F.D.R. would stand up to the Peanut. I felt from the start that he would sell out."

Arnall's Second Book

"WHAT THE PEOPLE WANT," by Ellis Arnall; (Lippincott).

GEORGIA'S ex-Governor Arnall has come up with a second book, which is frustrating because of what it leaves unsaid. It is a disappointing successor to "The Shore Dimly Seen."

Arnall had a chance to tell the full stories of two fascinating political maneuvers, one of which vitally affected the nation, the other Georgia.

Arnall, privileged by President Roosevelt to announce that FDR would run for a fourth term, says Roosevelt said specifically Wallace was the man he wanted for running mate. Then he brushes away the whole 1944 Democratic convention by saying that Georgia voted for Wallace twice; that Wallace would have won instead of Harry Truman if the vote had come after Roosevelt's acceptance speech, and that's all.

Gives Straightaway Account

As for the Georgia affair, which saw supporters of Herman Talmadge seek to oust Arnall from his office in the gubernatorial row of 1947, the wire services did a much more informative and dramatic job. Arnall gives a straightaway account, describes the affair as an attempt to see if Fascist tactics would work, and declares he took no part in the legislative maneuvers which preceded the effort to force him from the capitol. Certainly he was aware of those maneuvers which resulted for a time in a dual governorship, but he does not elaborate.

In what is perhaps one of Arnall's more timely observations he writes: "Before Henry Wallace made his foreign policy speech in Madison Square Garden, the United States had no foreign policy. His criticism stung somebody into action and a policy was evolved. Perhaps that is his function. . . ."

Curiously, and much like a man planning to run for office again, Arnall advances the tenet that most Democrats are good, most Republicans bad.

The book contains some trenchant remarks on American life, along with truisms included in speeches by all who call themselves conservative liberals.

Legend Of Henry Ford

"THE LEGEND OF HENRY FORD" by [illegible].

THE story of a man who made half a dozen fortunes is in itself interesting enough, especially to envious Americans, and we have it here, in summary.

But the story doesn't stop there, for riches, like poverty, do something to their maker, and Sward devotes much space in his long book to the effect on Ford and on us of the literally uncounted millions which lined his vaults as his Model T and A and V-8 lined our highways.

Was Natural Tinker

Born on a fairly prosperous farm in 1863, Ford was a natural tinkerer, and after a few false starts in Detroit, he with a handful of associates founded the Ford Motor Co., in 1903. In his factories production was streamlined, and on one 1925 day he turned out 9,000 Model T's, or one new car every 10 seconds, a record never equalled before or since. In 1921 he produced more than 1,000,000 autos.

While Sward credits the industrialist with memorable accomplishments in and out of manufacturing, he claims also that he was hard on dealers, let Detroit pay welfare bills which, Sward thinks, were chargeable in part to Ford; would not voluntarily aid Michigan banks in the depression; stuck by Harry Bennet for years; and sometimes through Bennet, took the side of, or at least agreed with, Fr. Coughlin, Fritz Kuhn, Gerald L. K. Smith.

Money talks, says Sward. Nobody has to listen, of course, though it's an old American custom to credit the man who is a big success in one field with omniscience in others. Many people thought, and think that the brains which developed the tin lizzie were still working efficiently when Ford opposed alcohol, tobacco, divorce, unionism, intervention in Mexico and Europe; when he complained of the cow wasting its time in pasture, and the lazy pig fattening in the sty, and the bunk in history.

Stevenson Story

G. B. STERN has written an odd book in No Son of Mine (Macmillan). It is a novel, yet it has considerable biographical material of Robert Louis Stevenson in it. The reason for this is that the story is about a character who, because he resembles the famous author gets the notion of passing himself off as Stevenson's nonexistent son. It is one of the most unusual tales in some time and interesting addition to the extensive literature about imposters, both fictional and actual.

Amusing Book

"THROW ME A BONE, or What Happens When You Marry an Archaeologist," is an amusing book by Eleanor Lothrop, who not only married an archeologist, but spent her honeymoon digging up ancient graves all over Chile. Although you won't get any very scientific information about Chile, or archaeology either, for that matter, you probably will get a chuckle or two. The very nice illustrations are by John O'Hara Cosgrave II. (Whittesley.)

OFFER IS REJECTED

NANKING, June 12 (AP)—Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi, former minister of defense, today turned down Chiang Kai-Shek's offer to become supreme commander of government troops against Communist forces in Central China. Official sources said Pai, once Chiang's deputy chief of staff, felt he wouldn't have clear-cut authority over the entire central area.

Post To Vote On Bond Issue

POST, June 12. (Special) — In a called meeting Wednesday the Post city commission voted to hold a called election Saturday, July 3, on the issuance of $400,000 water works improvement and extension revenue bonds and $200,000 sewer improvement and extension revenue bonds.

The commission had been considering the purchase of the two units in combination as a self-supporting project for the past year, and a Lubbock engineering firm has tentatively set the evaluation at approximately $500,000. Commissioners learned that the two units could be purchased for approximately $315,000.

No Tax Increase

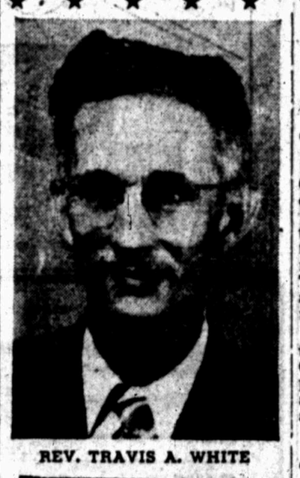

It was explained that the purpose in voting $600,000 is that only approximately $450,000 can be issued at this time. The extra money that can be raised above $315,000 will be needed for the necessary extension of the sewer system.

There would be no increase in taxes for Post residents if the election carries, as the bonds are not taxable, commissioners said. The revenue bonds would be issued against the two properties, which would pay themselves out over a period of time, with Post people simply paying their water and sewerage bills to the City of Post instead of the two companies now owning the units.

According to a statement issued by Mayor John Herd Thursday, the only reason for attempting to buy the water Works from the Community Public Service company is in order to acquire and support the badly needed sewer system and extension. He said it is necessary to acquire the water works in order to get the revenue bonds, and revenue from the water works will be needed to support the sewer project.

REV. TRAVIS A. WHITE

MRS. TRAVIS A. WHITE

First Christian Church To Hold Services In New Sanctuary Here

They will worship for the first time in a recently-completed sanctuary, and will hear the first sermon by a new pastor, the Rev. Travis A. White, who with his wife arrived from Little Rock, their former home, Thursday.

Mr. White succeeds to the pastorate vacated by Dr. Hallie G. Gantz, who took over a similar post at the First Christian church at Tulsa on May 1 after ten years as pastor here.

Construction Completed

Work was started on the new church plant, at Broadway and Ave. X, in early war years, but because of restrictions on building materials during the war, only the educational annex could be completed and the congregation has been worshipping in a semi-basement auditorium.

Construction was resumed on the sanctuary several months ago, and was recently completed to bring total cost of the entire structure to approximately $250,000.

It was announced by Geo. P. Kuykendall, chairman of the board of deacons, that old pews will be used in the sanctuary for a few weeks pending arrival of new pews that have been on order since last October. These are expected in late July or early August.

Resigned At Little Rock

The new pastor resigned from a similar post at Little Rock, where he had spent five and a half years with the First Christian church there. During this ministry 665 were added to membership of the church, and when he resigned resident membership was 1,205.

All indebtedness on the church property was paid during the time, a parsonage fund of $14,000 was raised, and a substantial beginning was made on a program of future development.

The new pastor will not, however, face a debt-raising campaign here. Church officials have announced that the new plant here was paid for as it progressed, and that the property now is practically debt-free.

During Mr. White's ministry at Little Rock, missions and benevolent contributions by the church were trebled, and the church accepted an assignment to maintain Rev. Paul D. Kennedy, of Vigan, Ilocos Sur, Philippine Islands, as the church's minister abroad.

Several young people were ordained into full time service. These included Rev. Lester McAllister, now serving as national director of young people's work; Rev. Paul B. Kennedy, associate minister of First Christian church, Seattle, Wash.; Rev. Harvey Lord, missionary to Philippine Islands; and Margaret Kennedy Cherryhomes, missionary to China.

Mr. White has served in numerous capacities in the church Brotherhood, and inter-denominational activities. He was chairman of the Arkansas Board of Missions for four years, member of the board of trustees of Phillips university, member of the local church life committee of the Home Missions Planning council, was president of the Greater Little Rock Ministerial alliance, and a member of the organization committee of the United Youth council of that city.

He also had served as chairman of the board of Goodwill Industries, and as secretary-treasurer of the Arkansas chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

The Whites have two sons, Travis, jr., age 13, and Ned, 9, who are to spend several weeks this summer with relatives on a farm near Paris.

Several Students At Tech Seek Jobs Durina Summer

An estimated 150 men, most of whom are veterans of World War II, have applied for jobs in the assistant dean of men's office at Texas Technological college.

"Among these are men who are qualified for book-keeping, selling, boiler operating, radio repair work, electrical work, drafting, motor repair work, cooking, surveying, photography work and sports directing," Francis Bearden, assistant dean of men, said, adding that almost all of the men were experienced in their line of work.

All employers who have need of part-time workers in any field are asked to contact Mr. Bearden in the Recreation hall at Tech.

Two New Petroleum Pipelines May Ease Nation's Fuel Pinch

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, June 12 — Gas transmission has no monopoly on the post-war boom for interstate pipeline construction.

Industry spokesmen long have placed at least partial blame for petroleum and petroleum products supply and demand problems on transportation difficulties and have counted on proposed pipelines to play a major role in meeting the situation.

Two companies last week began flowing petroleum products through initial links of postwar lines.

New Lines Are Opened

Sinclair Refining company opened a line from Houston to Arlington, Texas, with spurs to Fort Worth and Dallas. The line is the first leg of a planned project from Houston to St. Louis and East Chicago.

Magnolia Petroleum, an affiliate of Socony-Vacuum, opened a 650-mile crude oil line from Corsicana to Patoka, Ill., where other lines relay the crude to East St. Louis, East Chicago, Trenton, Mich., and Buffalo.

The Magnolia line has a capacity of 100,000 barrels a day. Sinclair's line with present pumping facilities can carry 25,000 barrels of gasoline, kerosene, heating and diesel oils daily.

Other companies reportedly constructing or planning such lines include Gulf, Texas, Shell, and Standard of Indiana.

Each such source of transportation is expected to play an important role in averting feared summer gasoline and winter heating fuel shortages in areas remote from production areas.

New Production Marks Set

The American Petroleum institute's weekly statistical report continues to give optimistic pictures on production.

For the week ending June 5, API says, new all-time high marks for crude production and crude processing were established.

Production was placed at 5,475,000 barrels daily, 24,150 above the previous week and record. Daily average refining operations totaled 5,736,000 barrels of crude, an increase of 21,000 over the previous record.

Observers had feared late planting resulting from bad weather might have been threatened by a gasoline famine which might have resulted in heavy food loss.

Gasoline shortages for the summer months still are anticipated however, in big city and tourist regions.

Distribution Plans Studied

With this in mind, Secretary of Interior Krug has ordered a public hearing June 18 on a petroleum industry plan to regulate distribution to prevent such shortages.

Krug has authorized the National Petroleum council, through district committees, to put the plan in action if adopted.

The committees would make recommendations for voluntary industrial adjustments in refinery yields of supplies most in demand and for distribution of products more effectively.

Tidelands:

Advocates of state ownership of submerged tidelands saw little encouragement Thursday in the Senate Judiciary committee giving a tentative 6 to 5 vote of approval to a bill they supported.

The pessimism results from a fear that time is running out.

Republican leaders hope for Congress to adjourn June 19 and it is questionable whether the Senate can take action by then.

Even with Senate approval to the bill, similar to one passed by the House, President Truman could pocket-veto the plan after adjournment. He vetoed a similar bill last year.

Policy Clarification Asked

The Philippine government's oil commission has recommended to President Quirino abandonment of a government monopoly on oil exploration and urged that private companies be allowed to participate.

After a 23-day shutdown resulting from a wild gusher the Leduc oil field in Alberta, Canada, has resumed partial production.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb) chairman of the Senate Small Business committee has asked the State department to clarify its policy on Mexican oil developments.

An independent oil operator recently testified the department is blocking the flow of supplies and oil well drilling equipment into Mexico.

Meanwhile the Mexican government oil monopoly, Pemex, announced oil bearing sands have been struck in a deep test drilled six miles southeast of Reynosa, near the Rio Grande.

Court Ruling Studied

State notes:

Richfield oil has announced its California Cuyama valley wildcat well has penetrated a body of oil sand at approximately 3,000 feet.

Oil company and government officials are studying the possible effect of a Los Angeles federal court ruling whereby exclusive dealer contracts between Standard Oil company of California and 7,000 independent service stations were held invalid.

Western Natural Gas company and Associated have completed a wildcat gas well for an open flow gauge of 25,000,000 cubic feet daily in the San Juan basin area of southern Utah.

The Kansas Corporation commission has ruled that gas distributors in Eastern Kansas must supply fuel to new home construction but may refuse service to new users if there appears to be a shortage of supply.

Sinclair-Prarie is testing its first offset to the discovery well at southeast Newcastle, Oklahoma, the well flowing 814 barrels of oil in 24 hours.

The Texas Railroad commission has placed the state's well completions this year at 3,000 for oil and 258 for gas, as compared with 2,265 and 248, respectively, for the same period last year.

Most Men Like French Bathing Suits, But Not On Wives Or Sweethearts, Is Claim

By DOROTHY HEESAKKER
United Press Staff Writer

CHICAGO, June 12 — Patricia Stevens, an authority on beauty, said today that men like French bathing suits, but not on their sweethearts or wives.

Miss Stevens, who runs a school for models, said she doubted that the diaper-type raiment ever would become commonplace.

"Men are conservative," she said. "They don't really want bathing suits too skimpy."

Would Make Fuss

She said a man might steal an admiring peak at the new look in beach garb, but "just imagine the fuss he'd make if his wife tried to wear one of those things."

"Some of them are so small I understand you ban buy them in little packages about the size of an envelope," she said.

Miss Stevens, a beautiful blonde, said that the scanty French swimming attire is "too frank."

"It's like a strip tease without stripping," he said.

Technical Objections

There are technical objections, too.

"For one thing, there are very few girls who can wear the new suits, because they bring out all the figure faults", Miss Stevens said.

"And nobody could wear one for swimming. They just won't stay on, I'm told."

Anyway, she said, the average girl looks better in a dress than in a bathing suit.

But with some, she acknowledged, it's just the other way around.

She helped judge a beauty contest recently in which the contestants first appeared in evening gowns and then skinned down to their bathing suits.

Do It So Seldom

"It was very interesting," she said. "Some of them you would hardly recognize."

A lot of girls who look good in French bathing suits wouldn't get a second glance in street attire, Miss Stevens said.

760-Mile Speed Said Made By Red Plane

LONDON, June 12 (AP) — The Daily Mail said today the Russians have developed an experimental jet plane with a "top speed approaching 760 miles an hour."

"Intelligence reports," the Mail said, show "Russia's jet-propelled warplanes already number several hundreds, and that the rate of production is being stepped up."

The newspaper said Russia has about a dozen different types of jet planes in squadron or experimental use, including a four-jet heavy bomber.

The paper said many people on both sides of the Atlantic think Britain made a mistake selling 50 Rolls-Royce turbo-jet engines to Russia about a year ago. It said Russian technicians, "clever copyists," no doubt are learning much from these.

The average man's heart beats 72 times a minute nad three billion times in a lifetime.

Young Actors Disagree About Their Show Having To Go On

LOS ANGELES, June 12. (AP)—What's that business about "the show must go on" and upholding the finest tradition of the theater?

The show didn't go on last night at the Musart theater. Fourteen members of the cast of "City of Angels" quit shortly before the opening performance. They declared that Producer John O'Harris failed to equip his production with lights, costume and crew to present it to best advantage.

The young thespians said the presentation would be a "reflection upon our professional integrity and below the potential of the play itself."

Playwright John Bright, former film writer, and director Anthony Quinn, stage and screen actor, said they agreed with the cast.

Producer O'Harris said he and Quinn had disagreed and opening night had been postponed for a week.

A new steam-electric locomotive, that is expected to use 50 per cent less coal than present-day units, is one of four new-type railroad locomotives now under development by electrical engineers.

THINGS KEEP Electrically
That just about sums up the advantages of electric refrigeration. "Things keep." Yes, everything keeps with electric refrigeration. Milk stays cool and wholesome . . . cooling salads, vegetables and fruits stay crisp and tasty in an electric refrigerator. All foods keep better all the time . . . protecting your family's health day after day.
In fact, electric refrigeration is just about the homemaker's best friend. If you don't have electric refrigeration . . . make sure you have it for the hot summer ahead. And remember, cheap electricity in the area we serve is at your service for better living electrically.
