FORT WORTH AND DALLAS MEN INSIST THAT DIRECT ROADWAY TO PLAINS HUB IS ESSENTIAL

R. J. MURRAY ELECTED HEAD OF ASSOCIATION AT IMPORTANT MEETING AT SPUR WHERE WEST TEXANS GATHERED YESTERDAY

More than a hundred representative business men along the route of the Old Fort-Worth to Roswell Highway met yesterday at Spur for the expressed purpose of creating and perpetuating a Continental route by which the metropolitan centers of Northwest Texas could reach the great objective of the Southwest-Lubbock!

The meeting was sponsored by the Stamford Chamber of Commerce and great credit is due individually to Hamilton Wright, Secretary of that organization.

The meeting was held in the First Baptist church with Mr. Easterlin of Stamford as Chairman.

In creating a permanent organization for securing a permanent highway from Dallas and Fort Worth, Col. R. F. Penick was elected President, W. K. Dickinson, vice-president, and Hamilton Wright, Stamford, Secretary-Treasurer.

Lubbock was the objective of the meeting—the demand for a permanent and short route to Lubbock being the sole aim of securing the proposed designated State Highway.

E. J. Murray, S. E. Cone and Gurnett Reeves together with a representation of business men from Hockley and Cochran county were present and tried in vain to have the organization recognize the new Highway project to include those counties.

While the most important meeting of the Highway committee will be held at Stamford the 17th of March, many important committees were appointed yesterday. Porter A. Whaley, Manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was one of the principal speakers at the meeting and told of the advantages of the great Lincoln National Forest in New Mexico as a recreation ground for Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas, and by the most accessible route the proposed new State Highway would afford.

The consensus of the entire meeting was evolved into having a reach and more accessible route to reach Lubbock from the more populous regions of Texas. The route Westward of Lubbock would not be considered after McEwen of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce and Boswell of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce stated that it was the idea of those cities to provide a nearer and more direct route to the Western metropolis-Lubbock.

With the appointment of J. E. Griffin of Lubbock, Goodwin of Breckenridge and Haney of Stamford as advertising committee of the proposed Highway the meeting was adjourned to meet in Stamford March the 17th.

Tried 24 Years To Gain Good Graces Of Wife, Fails

HOUSTON, Feb. 17.—W. H. Ward tried for 24 years to "make up" with his estranged wife before he filed suit for a divorce. The Wards were married in 1892 and separated three years later. Ward said they had lived together for a while since then but not long. He begged his wife continually to live with him but she refused, he declared.

ASSISTANT ENGINEER STATE HIGHWAYS APPOINTED

AUSTIN, Feb. 17.—C. A. Schutze was today named assistant to State Highway Engineer L. W. Kemper and will do office work in the highway department. Schutze will be succeeded as superintendent of aid projects by A. T. Faber, of Houston.

LYNCH DAVIDSON TO OPEN CAMPAIGN IN MARCH

DALLAS, Feb. 17.—Lynch Davidson, of Houston, candidate for governor of the State of Texas, will formally open his speaking campaign during the early part of March. A. A. Allison, Davidson's campaign manager announced today.

Davidson has invitations from several towns over the state for him to open his campaign in their city, but as yet it is undecided where the opening address will be made.

Aged Couple Put Out of Home by Irate Relative

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Feb. 17.—In a downpour of rain and while little groups of the curious looked on, an aged man and his wife were ejected from their home here Wednesday morning.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vieweg, parents of Mrs. Alberdina Frank, pretty 24 year old wife, who conspired with lover, C. L. Davis, to kill her husband, E. L. Frank, in order that they might marry.

While the wife gathered her belongings she paced the rooms cursing and shouting. "You needn't be weeping about leaving the baby," he cried to Mrs. Vieweg. "That's just sympathy stuff you're pulling. I'll take care of him."

Church Built in '44 At Dallas Will be Abandoned Soon

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 17.—The Bethany Presbyterian church, organized and built in 1844, is to be abandoned and a new one erected. The church and denomination are the oldest in Dallas. The first pastor, Rev. J. Gilmore Smith, now lives in Wheeling, W. Va.

BIRTH RATE BEATS DEATHS IN TEXAS

By United News AUSTIN, Feb. 17.—A comparison of figures in statistics by the bureau of vital statistics of the state board of health today showed a ratio of almost two births to every death recorded in the state the past year.

There has been a considerable increase of reporting of births and deaths the past two years.

TIA JUANA BORDER WILL BE CLOSED DURING NIGHT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The United States border at Tia Juana, Mexico, will be closed hereafter daily at 6 p. m. to 8 a. m. effective immediately under an order issued Wednesday by Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Andrews to Collector of Customs Lewis H. Schmitt, at Los Angeles, Calif.

Four indicted TIA JUANA, Mexico, Feb. 17.—Murder indictments charging four of the seven men held here in connection with the "shame suicides" of the Thomas-Petec family of four were returned Wednesday. Three of the men were freed.

Among those who were indicted on the murder charge are Zenalob Llanos, former chief of police of Tia Juana and Luis Amador, proprietor of the Oakland bar.

Those freed were Juan York Sang, manager of the Nacional hotel; Salvador Espinosa, taxi driver and Francisco Navarro, bartender.

The indictments were signed by Federal Judge Uris. Llanos and Amador were specifically mentioned as the authors of outrages against the Petec girls and were additionally charged with rape and violence on two counts.

They were ordered held in the Court without bail. Refugio Alvarez, a barkeeper, was charged with violating one of the girls and Francisco Gonzales, a policeman, was charged with being an accomplice in that he assisted in carrying out the nefarious designs of Llanos and Amador.

Llanos, Amador and Alvarez may be sentenced to death, or to serve 15 years each at Tres Marias island off the coast of Lower California. If the court hearing his case is lenient, Gonzales may get off with a five year sentence.

AGREEMENT IS TENTATIVE ON REVENUE BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Senate and house conferees on the revenue bill have reached a tentative agreement on surtaxes and corporation taxes but they were still deadlocked after an all day session Wednesday on the most important points of difference, estate, admissions and automobile taxes.

House conferees have agreed tentatively to the senate's reduction in surtaxes on incomes between $20,000 and $100,000 and to the upper body's repeal of the capital stock tax of 81 per cent with an increase from 12 1/2 to 13 1/3 per cent in the straight corporation tax to offset loss of revenue by the capital stock tax repeal.

Agreement on these sections was expected and probably will stand. The house has also agreed to several administrative changes made by the senate. Beyond these concessions, however, house conferees refuse to go at present.

NATIONAL FORESTS GRAZING LAW PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Secretaries of Interior Work and Agriculture Jardine Wednesday sent to the senate public lands committee a joint letter stating the department's views on grazing law, together with two bills in which they proposed to carry out their policies in this matter.

The bill proposed by Secretary Jardine for the regulation of grazing in the national forests provides for the issuance by the department of ten year nontransferable permits for grazing in the forests.

Unlike the Stanford bill, this measure would not give the committee a vested interest in the land and could be revoked if the rules and regulations laid down by the department are violated. The bill also provides for local grazing boards to be composed largely of stockmen appointed by the secretary of agriculture.

The bill proposed by Secretary Work does the same thing for the unreserved public domain as the Jardine bill does for the national forests.

Republican Primary Planned At Dallas Meeting

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 17.—Detailed plans for the initial primary effort of Texas Republicans were worked out at a meeting of the state headquarters committee here. A political calendar has been sent to every county organization and follow up bulletins are going out prior to important dates on the calendar. A preliminary convention in May will be one unique feature.

GERMAN BROADCASTERS SEEK AIR RELATION WITH AMERICA

BERLIN, Feb. 17.—German amateur broadcasters will seek between 9 p. m. Friday (New York time) and 8 a. m. Sunday (New York time) to reach America for the first time in a general test using wave lengths between 20 and 100 meters.

CHOOSES DEATH RATHER THAN DIVORCE

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 17.—Declaring that she could not face the disgrace of a divorce Mrs. Lois Glass, 28 today shot and killed herself at her home here.

The woman's husband, Lloyd U. Glass, told police that he had informed his wife that he intended filing suit for divorce from her.

A note was found beside the body of the woman explaining her action.

PROHIBITION LAW MAY BE SUBJECT LEGAL TEST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The prohibition issue may be brought to a climax within the next few months by the verdict of a special governmental commission which would determine whether the six year trial has proved the success of the national dry law.

Wet and dry leaders in the house have united in support of a bill introduced by Representative Celler, New York democrat, calling for an inquiry into every phase of dry enforcement by a presidential commission.

"I am for the bill," said Representative Unshaw, Georgia democrat and outstanding dry advocate. "I do not fear a fair and full inquiry into this subject or any other cause I ever championed."

Representative Hill, Maryland republican, and leader of the wet bloc, said he would support the measure unless the impartial features of the investigation were eliminated.

Celler's bill proposes the appointment by the president of a commission of seven members, two of whom would be women. The commission would hold executive hearings in various parts of the country under the guidance of the assistant secretary of the treasury, or some one designated to act as an ex-officio member. Persons who had been affiliated with either wet or dry organizations would be ineligible for membership.

Celler defined the scope of his bill as follows: "The effect of prohibition on business, industry and labor, its relation to vital statistics, including its effect on social and moral conditions in various communities throughout the states, together with its effect on family relations, crime drug addiction, public attitude toward law, and increased drinking among young persons."

Modification Sought

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—A petition signed by 1,600 citizens of Wyoming seeking modification of the Volstead act to permit light wines and beer, was read to the senate Wednesday upon presentation by Senator Kendrick, democrat, Wyoming.

"No more representative citizens can be found anywhere," Kendrick said. The petitioners claimed the Volstead act was unsatisfactory and asked the senate to amend it "to end the deplorable conditions of crime and disrespect for law."

UNEMPLOYMENT IS BIG EXPENSE TO GREAT BRITAIN

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Great Britain paid $29,000,000 in unemployment doles in 1925. Sir Arthur Steele Maitland, minister of labor announced in the house of commons Wednesday.

LEADERS FEAR LATE RULINGS BE ENFORCED

JUAREZ AND CHIHUAHUA INSTITUTES WOULD BE INTERRUPTED

JUAREZ, Mexico, Feb. 17.—Although the mayor of Juarez had received no order from Mexico City, local Baptist leaders here Wednesday were fearful that the school in Juarez and the college in Chihuahua along with other schools throughout the republic conducted and sustained by the denomination would be closed.

In the college at Morelia are the children of the Governor of Michoacan, and his action in the closing of that Baptist institution will be watched. An American woman is at the head of it and a missionary is a teacher.

Even in school and colleges where Mexicans are entirely in charge, composing the faculties, the closing policy of the government will be the same, it is believed, as they are looked upon as branches of a religious corporation.

It is believed the theological school at Saltillo, Coahuila, will not be interfered with. In the college at Torreon, Coah, there are no Americans.

Guaymas, Sonora, and Culiacan, Sinaloa are other large centers where colleges are located, and there is a college, secondary or primary school in nearly every large center of the republic, it is said.

Best legal talent in Mexico has been employed, but has been unable to halt the government order, under the constitution, it is said.

TEE PEE MANAGERS TO MEET RULES LABOR BOARD

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 17.—Texas & Pacific officials declared today that they intend to abide by the ruling of the railroad labor board in Chicago in the dispute now on between T. & P. railway and members of the three rail unions, whether the ruling be favorable or adverse to the management.

R. E. Edrington of Cleveland, representing the engineers declared today that the controversy was fundamentally a question of seniority and of protecting the advantages of laboring conditions won by the workmen during their long struggle for better working conditions.

The controversy arose first in 1916 and has been a matter of discussion ever since between the organizations and the railroads, Edrington said. A vote is to be taken in Dallas Thursday that will decide final action to be taken in regard to the proposed strike.

Father Wounded In Attempt To Save His Son

BRECKENRIDGE, Feb. 17.—London J. Vick is dead and his reason, J. M. Vick is in a serious condition as the result of a double shooting here in a suburban store last night. George Blackburn, 40, is being held in connection with the affair. It was said the elder man was shot in an attempt to prevent the shooting.

For twenty-five years Mrs. Harriet Fisher Andrews, of Tranton, N. J., has been the president and manager of an avial factory which is the largest concern of its kind in America.

Lovely Shower For Miss Robertson Given by Slaton Friends Tuesday Afternoon

One of the most charming affairs given for Miss Muff Robertson since the announcement of her engagement to Kenneth Kimbro early in the month was a miscellaneous shower Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. M. A. Pember of Slaton. Mrs. S. H. Adams, and Mrs. E. A. DeLong were joint hostesses with Mrs. Pember.

Women Included In Municipal Golf Memberships

Much interest is being taken in the Municipal Golf course which is being reclaimed and improved at the present time. This interest is not among the men alone, for many women are equally enthusiastic. In the new rules governing the association each membership purchased by a man carried with it privileges for a lady. Likewise a membership bought by a woman will give the privilege of inviting a friend. This is proving very popular with those athletically inclined, both the ones who have not memberships in the country club and those who have. The course at the county park offers the advantage of nearness to the town, and is a little shorter to play than the one at the country club, an asset in the opinion of most of the women players.

With the beginning of spring the links will be tempting, and many women will take advantage of the liberal offer to become members. Several of the college women are interested, and many more are expected to join before the first of March. Benches will be placed near the greens and other attractions will be added as soon as plans can be made.

Mrs. Chipley Hostess to Luncheon Club Wednesday

Mrs. H. D. Chipley very delightfully entertained the Wednesday Luncheon Club at her home on Broadway yesterday. Her home was charmingly decorated with sweet peas and carnations. Creamed chicken in pattie shells, fruit salad, olives, hot buttered rolls, coffee, whipped cream, pink and white brick cream, and angel-food cake were served.

In the games Mrs. W. E. Bush won high score and received a colonial lady puff box. In the general cut Mrs. Elmo Wall was given an Italian pottery bud vase. The next meeting of the club will be held with Mrs. E. L. Dohoney. The guest list included Mrs. Robert Higgins, Mrs. J. H. Jenkins, Mrs. May Dorsey, of Hico, Mrs. I. C. Enoch, Mrs. Amos Howard, Mrs. W. D. Cullum, Mrs. W. E. Bush, Mrs. Earl Sproula, Mrs. Thomas Stone, Mrs. E. L. Dohoney, Mrs. John Moore and Miss Anna Chipley. Luncheon guests who did not play were Mrs. Elmo Wall and Mrs. Fred Spikes.

Mrs. James R. Dow had as her guest her mother Mrs. R. E. Maddux of Farwell, and accompanied her home Wednesday.

Mrs. Trent Entertains Musicians Monday Evening

The music teachers of Lubbock were delightfully entertained Monday evening by Mrs. Dana Harmon Trent, in her home, 2017 Main street. The principal object of the meeting was the perfecting of plans for the Music Festival to be held in Lubbock, March 24, 25, 26, 27.

A social hour was also greatly enjoyed, and a contest held consisting of pictures illustrating the names of magazines. Mrs. Carl Scoggin was awarded the prize. Refreshments of salad in orange cups, sandwiches, olives, coffee, cream and cake were served to the following: Mrs. J. L. Ratliff, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Mavis Neal, Miss Mary Dunn, Miss Annie Owens, Miss Margaret H. Huff, Miss Daisy Baskin, Miss Ruth Dunn, Miss Lucy Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scoggin.

American Women Anxious to be Presented At Court

BY CHARLES M. McCANN, United News Staff Correspondent LONDON, Feb. 17.—Approximately 400 women soon will be scrambling as vigorously as the social amenities will permit for 24 invitations to meet King George and Queen Mary at this season's royal courts.

The scramblers will include women who have achieved or aspire to social eminence. The privilege they seek is waiting for hours in their motor car in front of the Buckingham Palace for the brief moment during which they would be led before their majesties, have their very own names uttered aloud in the royal presence while they perform a meek and graceful courtesy.

That is what happens to an American woman when she is presented at court. American embassy officials already have received nearly 200 applications for presentation. At least 200 more application will be received before the courts take place in May and June.

Presentation to the king or queen of St. James is a mark of social attainment in every American city from New York to San Francisco as well as in British cities. This year eight unofficial American women are to be presented at each of three courts by the American ambassador and Mrs. Alanson B. Houghton. These courts will be held at Buckingham Palace. In addition all the wives and relatives of members the American embassy staff will be presented as well as relatives of American diplomats in other countries who happen to be in London.

Colonial Dance to be Given at Elks Club Tonight

Great preparations are going forward for the Colonial Ball to be given at the Elks Club this evening sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary. Many of those attending will appear in Colonial costumes and masks although this is not obligatory. A good time is assured all who attend, as the Tech Toradors Orchestra will furnish the music and excellent entertainment is being provided.

One of the features will be an old fashioned square dance with Mr. and Mrs. Temple Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spikes, Mr. T. E. May and others as the dancers. Any who will join in this dance are requested to telephone Mrs. N. L. Peters, 638-W and tickets will be provided. The minnet will also be danced, and possibly other special dances.

Invitations have been issued to all the south plains towns to attend the ball and a large crowd is expected.

Guy McAfee leaves today for Dallas, where he goes on business. PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stone will leave today for points in New Mexico where they will stay for about ten days.

Art Exhibit at High School Next Week

An Art Exhibit of fine arts prints will be held in the High School Auditorium Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

The exhibit is being loaned the school free of charge for the benefit of the School's Picture Fund and it is planned to obtain a number of pictures for the different rooms. This Exhibit embraces reproductions of recognized Art Treasures of the world and they possess a charm that appeals to all. Nothing adds more to the improvement of a school room or a home than good pictures. Their influence is refining, uplifting and lasting.

WITCHER AT BEDSIDE OF CHILD CAUSES JURY RECESS

The Lubbock county grand jury recessed yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock and will not be in session again until Friday morning.

The recess was prompted by the necessity of District Attorney Witcher being at the bedside of his eight-year-old daughter, Mary, who underwent an operation at the Ellwood Hospital at three o'clock. The operation was successful despite the serious condition of the child, a formation of pus about the appendix making the operation most difficult, according to Dr. G. G. Castleberry, the attending physician. Work that has been completed by the grand jury to date will not be reported until today as the attorney did not have time to write the indictments.

Home Dressmaking

By FRANNIE HULAND
(Copyright 1925 by Pen-Art Service, Inc.)

New Details, Smarter House Fashions and use of fast color may be employed for its development.

The details add immeasurably to the interest and novelty of the apron which calls for 2 1/2 yards of plain and 1-3 yard of figured material. The sides are slashed at the hips, the lower edges being gathered and attached to the upper edges with a piping of self-material.

The printed fold at the lower edge serves both to lengthen the apron and trim it. This, however, may be omitted, if preferred. The diagram shows how to neatly finish the large armhole. As the shape is irregular, the bias fold is best. One may use the bias binding that comes already made, or take a strip of the material, cut on a perfect bias and turned under on both edges and pressed. Turn under the armhole of the apron and bust, then fasten the binding over it leaving a margin of about 1-16 of an inch from the edge. Bust down the lower edge, pinning it first to keep it smooth and flat. Hem the upper edge with invisible hemming stitches, then either hem

An Apron With Giver Neck Treatment

The reverse, V-shaped neck and slashes at the sides date this apron as very new. It will prove an interesting model to copy.

Women who love dainty aprons will love no time in copying this attractive new model. It is made of plain gingham trimmed with cretonne, but any two fabrics that will wash well will be suitable. Pattern No. 245, cut in three sizes, small, medium and large, will be mailed, postpaid, upon receipt of 15 cents. Be sure to give correct name and full address desired when ordering. Write name and address plainly. Send orders to Pattern Editor, this newspaper.

Silk Prints Combine With Solid Colored Bordering

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY

It is possible for anything, so long as it is new and different. The styling of the new silks is as fraught with new interest as are the fabrics themselves. Two outstanding points in the making of these novelty silks are appealing effects and long fanciful sleeves. A third interesting feature is the trimming of bold patterned silks with solid colored borderings, facings and pipings.

The handsome afternoon gown in the picture emphasizes all of these style points. The graceful side drape also bespeaks the last word in styling as does the bow of wide velvet ribbon, for there is pronounced for velvet ribbon a pronounced vogue as millinery trimming as well as dress embellishment. Bordered silks are being made up effectively in two-piece luncheon suits, the border finishing the front of the blouse rather than the skirt.

MANY DEAD IN SNOW WRECKED MINING TOWN

DEATH TOLL MAY REACH 100; FLAMES BREAK OUT IN WRECKAGE

By United News
BINGHAM, Utah, Feb. 17.—A devastating snow slide swept down Bingham Wednesday crushing homes beneath its tremendous weight and burying scores of inhabitants.

The avalanche descended from the mountain side with such suddenness that only a few persons had time to flee from its path. Late Wednesday 18 bodies had been recovered from the debris that was left of six houses which were demolished by the force of the onrushing snow, ice, earth and rock.

Fifteen others were dug out alive. Rescue workers said they believe at least 50 more persons were entombed by the avalanche.

The snow slide followed a 24 hour precipitation which had blanketed the mining village and surrounding mountains to a depth of 10 inches, the second heaviest snow storm in the history of the community.

Fires breaking out in the demolished homes hampered the work of rescuers.

Many workers had not yet left their homes for the nearby mines when the disaster occurred.

The whole side of the mountain which slopes upward at a sharp angle back of the village suddenly began slipping.

Before the alarm could be spread the avalanche was coming. It was racing down into Sap Gulch at a high speed, carrying everything before it, crushing dwellings and churches and picking up huge rocks and other debris with its blunt nose.

There was a deafening roar as the weight of the sliding mass wrecked buildings and uprooted trees.

Eye witnesses to the disaster said it was all over in five minutes.

Several houses in the bottom of the gulch are buried under thousands of tons of snow. Hope of saving those who may be entombed faded as fire began breaking out in the ruins of the homes.

Most of the houses were heated with crude coal stoves which were upset as the avalanche demolished the frame buildings.

F. A. Wardlaw, superintendent of the Utah Delaware Mining Co., is apprehensive that the death toll may reach 100. Emergency calls were sent to Salt Lake City hospitals for doctors and nurses, and the town is being ransacked for blankets and medical supplies.

The bodies are being taken down to the town's only undertaking establishment in sleighs, it being impossible to get up the mountain side on automobiles on account of heavy snow.

Many people are moving out of Sap gulch in fear of another slide. Every available man, woman and child has been rushed to the Bingham district in an effort to save as many as possible. Hot coffee and sandwiches were given to the squads of miners as they took a few minutes rest after several hours of frantic digging. The great business of extracting copper from the largest copper mines in the world momentarily is forgotten in the effort to save human lives.

The town police force report no disorder and say none is feared.

Mining officials have turned over every tool that can be used to expedite the removal of the huge wall of snow.

The cries of prisoners could be heard by those first arriving on the scene. Screams were heard from the little cabin of Mrs. Kirby who has long operated a boarding house here. Then the flames burst forth and there was silence. It is believed she burned to death.

Dead Identified
BINGHAM, Utah, Feb. 17.—The identified dead in today's slide follows:
Lloyd Nelson, Thomas Dobeck, Fred Madison, Roy Holliday, Thomas Tibbey, aged 5, son of Arthur Tibbey, Mrs. J. B. Cole, Jose Antonio and wife.

Relief Is Offered
SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 17.—Authorities and newspapermen here were working frantically in an attempt to learn the full extent of the Bingham snow slide disaster, and to supply relief to the stricken village.

The village has only limited connections with the outside world in normal times and in its present state of paralysis communication was almost impossible.

The telephone company here was attempting to handle all of the emergency calls and news stories of Bingham's misfortune over one wire which could be operated only intermittently due to unfavorable weather condition.

APPEAL TO SUPREME COURT WILL BE MADE BY VERA, COUNTESS OF CATHCART, IF LAWS WILL PERMIT

By United News
NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—An appeal from the department of labor's exclusion of the Countess of Cathcart unquestionably will be taken to the courts, according to those informed as to the opinions of the countess and her lawyers.

As the intermittent protest which has been going on against the detention of the countess at Ellis Island ever since it became known that the Earl of Craven, her former partner in moral turpitude, had been admitted in the United States, rose to a shrill crescendo of feminine voices, it was learned that the countess and her attorneys planned to fight Secretary Davis' decision with what seemed their only weapon—application for a writ of habeas corpus pending the court appeal.

William A. Deford, chief counsel for the countess who made a vain protest against the ruling of the immigration authorities before Davis at Washington, said Wednesday night that he was awaiting a copy of the secretary's order. From what Deford said and from the fact that Lady Cathcart already had promised to fight the case, it will be likely that the case would be taken to the federal court here within the next 24 hours.

Confined at Ellis Island, which is virtually cut off from the outside world in the evening, the Countess of Cathcart was temporarily inaccessible to the press.

Feminine protagonists in New York however, were bitter in their condemnation of what they alleged was discriminatory action against the British noblewoman. Chief among these were the club women who visited the countess Tuesday afternoon and at the same time protested to Immigration Commissioner Curran against the original exclusion of the countess after she had admitted being involved in an act of "moral turpitude," when she eloped with the Earl of Craven to her estate in 1922.

Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, of the Civic Club, Ruth Hale, president of the Lucy Stone League, and other women earlier in the afternoon had wired Senator Borah at Washington asking him to have the senate demand from the department of labor instant production of records which would show:

"What other persons had been barred from the country for the same sort of 'moral turpitude' which had excluded the countess."

"What persons guilty of similar conduct had been admitted to the United States in the mean time."

"What method immigration officials and the department of labor employed to determine which divorcee or co-respondents guilty of adultery should be allowed to enter and which should not."

No reply had been received from Senator Borah when news of the adverse decision of Secretary Davis arrived. "Pluffy" which he acquired while serving with a Canadian outfit during the war, and announced that the United States probably would have to get along without him henceforth. His lordship still feels that the United States government played him a mean trick, although he is not eager to talk about it, as he was when he first arrived in Canada after flight from a department of labor warrant for his arrest. He is "decidedly fed up with the entire proceedings." Until Friday, Craven will remain in Ottawa and then will go to Montreal to meet Lady Craven. They will return to Bermuda from Halifax.

Colonels E. McNeil, D. S. O., and R. F. Parkinson, D. S. O., met Craven when he arrived. Soon after the first of a flood of invitations to society functions began to reach the Earl. Society leaders announced that the Countess of Cathcart would be quite well received if she visited Ottawa.

Lighting System At Texarkana Was Club Project
By United News
TEXARKANA, Texas, Feb. 17.—A new white way lighting system has been completed on Broad Street consisting of 61 lighting brackets attached to steel trolley poles.

It was a Kiwanis project and the installation was made by the Southwestern Gas and Electric Co. The system is about half in Texas and half in Arkansas, and the cost of lighting is divided between the two cities of Texarkana in Texas and Texarkana in Arkansas.

Rubber-topped tables, which it is claimed eliminate clutter, minimize crockery breakages, do not cool food so rapidly as marble, and are practically non-slippery, are being tried in London restaurants.

JOHN BOSWELL ON BRIEF TOUR OF THE PLAINS

John L. Boswell with the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, formerly with the Board of City Development of Plainview spent Wednesday evening and night in Lubbock following the meeting at Spur Wednesday at which a highway association was formed to promote the hard surfacing and advertising of the highway between Lubbock and Dallas.

Boswell is well known in this section having been connected with the Board of City Development of Plainview for several years and having worked in the interest of the entire Plains section while serving in that capacity. The Dallas Chamber of Commerce has become in closer touch with the Plains since Boswell has been connected with the organization.

Boswell will attend the district meeting of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Littlefield Monday. He will visit Lubbock again in the spring when the Texas Commercial Executives Association meets here he stated Wednesday. This meeting is expected to be one of the best meetings the association has ever held. Negotiations are being made to bring out the most successful chamber of commerce executives in the United States here to serve as the principal speaker of the session Boswell stated.

AVIATOR ENDS 8,000 MILE FLIGHT AT CAPETOWN
By United News
CAPETOWN, Feb. 17.—Alan J. Cobham arrived here Wednesday at the end of an 8,000 mile air journey from London.

Cobham flew to Egypt and thence progressed above British territory all the way from the Mediterranean sea to the southern tip of Africa. Last year the flyer made a round trip flight from London to India as a trail blazer for the England-to-India air route.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN THREATENS WIFE OF CHARLES PONZI
By United News
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 17.—Mrs. Charles Ponzi, wife of the financial wizard, is on the verge of a nervous breakdown, Ponzi told Sheriff W. H. Dowling when he made an unofficial visit to the court house here Wednesday.

Ponzi and his wife, now under bond, will plead not guilty to the charges when they are arraigned in criminal court next Tuesday, Ponzi said. Their trial is expected to be held early next month.

PERSIAN CROWN PRINCE OFFICIALLY PROCLAIMED
By United News
ALLAHABAD.—Mahomed Reza, aged nine, eldest son of the new Shah of Persia, King Pehlevi, has been officially proclaimed crown prince, and presented the learned doctors (Ulema), members of the cabinet and members of parliament at the palace.

Cobham gave a banquet in honor of the prince, and the members of the diplomatic corps gave a reception.

The little prince will receive an income of 56,000 pounds a year. His father, formerly a Cossack named Ritza Khan, succeeded to the throne by general consent, replacing the true shah, whose continued absence from his kingdom and lack of interest in state affairs caused a widespread discontent. As King Pehlevi he receives an income of 120,000 pounds a year.

Dreaded An Operation
Dallas, Texas.—I had all manner of aches and pains peculiar to women. My doctor said an operation was my only chance for recovery. An old lady advised me to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and the Golden Medical Discovery. Dreading an operation, I decided to take her advice and I am mighty glad I did, for I say to any woman, do not hesitate if you have any feminine trouble, take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and the Golden Medical Discovery if you need a general tonic.—Mrs. Lulu Ferguson, 2015 Cockrell St. All dealers. NO PEACE TO THE WICKED—"And he said unto his brethren, My money is restored; * * * and their heart failed them, and they were afraid, saying, * * * What is this that God hath done?" Gen. 42:28.

FARMS AND FACTORIES.

Many students of the trend of industry believe that as a result of ever-increasing congestion in the great center of population, the next few years will witness an increasing movement of factories to less crowded sections.

This movement is, in fact, already going on, and many large manufacturing plants are now located in comparatively small towns. As a complement of this, it is also believed that farmers will gradually come to live more and more in organized communities, when good roads shall make it possible to go to and from their farms with greater facility.

Under such a combination of conditions, agriculture and industry would be brought into closer contact, to the benefit of both. In fact, as Henry Ford suggests, with the growing use of machinery and electricity on the farm, less labor will be required, and a part of the farmer's time may be employed in industrial pursuits.

Something of this sort may be the ultimate solution of the farmer's problems, through increasing his earning capacity and consequently his standard of living.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN PERSONAL AND PUBLIC RESPONSIBILITY.

There is more good common sense laying around unused than any other one thing. This is peculiarly true in public matters. Privately men will make intelligent inquiries and very practical observations but draw back and remain silent if their conclusions are put to the test. When single tax was mentioned to a Smith County farmer he looked puzzled and asked what it meant. When briefly told that it meant the exemption of personal property and improvements from taxation he brightened up and said, "Why I have believed in that for twenty years." He no doubt had talked it over with friends but if an eyebrow was lifted he shut up. It is so easy to keep silent.

A manufacturer asks "Why hasn't the single tax made more progress?" The single tax idea has made marked progress where those who believe in it have been outspoken and persistent in their demands. That same manufacturer asks who is opposed to the single tax. The opposition is small. The chief obstacle to its adoption is due mainly to ignorance of what it means. The responsibility for this ignorance rests on those who understand but do nothing for it.

Then there is very considerable number who understand but take the attitude of the banker who said, "Why should I worry, I can get mine anyway." He was getting his and was content regardless of any moral obligation to the public.

Whether to believe or not believe in the single tax is a matter for each man to decide. The first thing of importance is to understand it. Maybe the following quotation from Henry George may help to that end. It is not by any means the last word yet it expresses the idea and may stimulate serious inquiry. George says:

We propose to abolish all taxes save one single tax levied on the value of land, irrespective of the improvements in or on it.

What we propose is not a tax on real estate, for real estate includes improvements. Nor is it a tax on land, for we would not tax all land, but only land having a value irrespective of its improvements, and would tax that in proportion to that value.

Our plan involves the imposition of no tax, since we already tax land values in taxing real estate. To carry it out we have only to abolish all taxes save that which now falls on buildings or improvements, leaving only that part of it which now falls on the value of the bare land, increasing that so as to take as nearly as may be the whole of economic rent, or what is sometimes styled the "unearned increment of land values."

PUSHING AUTO SALES

As the country approaches the theoretical "saturation point" for automobiles, manufacturers are striving more intently than ever for quantity production and sales.

Not only have marked price reductions been announced recently, but more and more liberal installment terms are being offered by certain large concerns, so that anyone may now buy an automobile upon making a nominal cash payment.

Whether this forcing of sales is a healthy development in the industry is open to serious question. A leading financial newspaper characterizes it as a "progressive straining of the credit mechanism", and declares that it is time to call a halt.

While the installment plan has been a wonderful device for the expansion of many lines of business, economists are largely of the opinion that it is being carried too far and that unless it is checked there may be serious consequences to the business structure of the country.

NIGGER IN THE WOODPILE

When it was announced that the big eastern railroads had agreed with the railroad brotherhoods upon a law which both would force Congress to pass, we had our suspicions. When that law was presented to Congress for its rubber stamp, we found we were right. For some reason the brotherhoods have induced the railroads to accept the Howell-Barkley Bill which Congress repudiated last session upon the almost unanimous demand of an outraged public.

When Congress passes this Watson-Parker Bill, thereby approving the conspiracy between the railroads and their employes, the public will lose all protection in the matter of keeping down railroad wages to a reasonable or fair level.

The Railroad Labor Board is the only government body which ever had the nerve to make the big Eastern railroads to understand who was IT, and make the railroad brotherhoods accept a reduction in wages, therefore these railroads and their men are forcing Congress to kick it out.

Instead of a courageous, independent board representing the public and having a responsibility to the public to keep expenditures within reasonable and just limits, we are now going to get a temporary, pusillanimous outfit selected by politicians only. Whenever a strike is actually threatened, their sole business will be to settle the strike on conditions that will most likely keep the politicians in power. In other words, we are going to get a political instead of a judicial board of arbitrators.

So certain are the brotherhoods that they are going to stuff this measure down the throat of Congress that they are not trying to hide their hand. Part of them are already demanding an increase in wages which will amount to $500,000,000 per year. Even if none of the other brotherhoods should make similar demands, this would mean an increase of 10 per cent in freight rates since the railroads would certainly immediately claim confiscation and compel the commissions to increase their rates.

If any congressman feels that he owes a duty to anyone outside the railroads or the brotherhoods he will never vote for the Watson-Parker Bill, until it is amended so that the President's so-called fact-finding board is made a permanent affair composed of high-class men representing only the public interest, with all the power that the Railroad Labor Board now has to compel witnesses to testify and open up their books and records, and whose findings and decisions will be made public and not concealed as they will be under the "star chamber" proceedings proposed in the present bill and above all things one to whom anybody, including the public, can go without anybody's consent.

It sure looks like the farmer gets it in the neck in any sort of deal.

FARMERS LEARN NEED OF PURE SEED

The need of pure seed, as a theory, has long been recognized by farmers but the practice of the theory has been much slower in coming. An interesting work has been undertaken by the Purdue university experiment station among the farmers in Indiana which is bearing fruit. Purdue has been showing the agriculturalists just what is the difference between pure and impure seed, a task which it has undertaken to perform so far as possible.

The modern and complicated machinery of the modern seed plant has made the purification of seed a fine art and there is little excuse for planting seed that is half weed seed.

Albert A. Hansen of Purdue, reporting on the Indiana campaign, says, "Is the pure seed work in Indiana getting results? In an attempt to answer this question, a survey was organized among our county agents. It was found that in 77 counties a greatly increased demand for better seed has been noted since the pure seed work was started. The conclusions were based on inquiries among local seed dealers and representative farmers, increased demand for certified seed and seed testing, and inquiries received from farmers regarding sources of good seeds and means of interpreting data on the seed law tags.

"Since good crops are impossible without good seed, it is felt that the pure seed extension work in Indiana has been well worth while."

Good seed means good crops. Indiana's example has been followed and preceded in other states and it is now the farmer's own fault if he does not plant pure seed. Experiment stations are demonstrating and the big seed houses are putting into effect the results of experiment station findings and backing pure seed legislation, both state and federal, and following these laws to the letter. More than that, they are endeavoring to weed out seed firms which do not follow the strict letter of the law and try to foist bad seed on the country.

Concentration is the cure for brain-jazzing. Most of us get our training in the daily grind of the business world. It requires will power to make your brain do your bidding.

France has adopted a public income tax declaration, under oath, with penalties attached for perjury. This was made necessary because of the large number of people who have escaped taxation entirely.

Mr. Arthur Sweetser, an American who has been with the League of Nations since its organization, predicts that the United States will assume full membership in about seven years. Mr. Sweetser is very modest in his views.

SO THINK WE

We think the Tech Matadors are having rather bad luck in their games at Abilene, but possibly their rabbit's foot will take a twist for the better before the final games are played.

We think now is the best time in the year 1926 for a tree planting campaign to be launched.

We think that while the big building program will possibly not begin before later in the year, there is at this time more building being done in Lubbock than possibly any other town in the Southwest.

We think the building program of the Lubbock Independent School District is beginning at a good time, and this job will furnish employment for quite a number of men, just when they are very badly in need of the work.

We think just because Baltimore has upheld whipping in school will possibly not be any indication that the Marylanders will be very much smarter.

We think that most men are not very successful when they enter into a new field of business after they are forty years of age. It is usually better to keep improving on the work that they learned earlier in life.

We think it should be the endeavor of every person to live so as to make life less difficult for our friends.

We think the ground hog comes out in February, and in Texas the road hog comes out in April and confines looking for victims the balance of the year.

We think that about the most amazing thing is that a newspaper does not make any more mistakes than they do. Possibly people in any other line of business, who have as many chances to make mistakes, might register up many more.

We think that there are always many men in a community that are really not appreciated in accordance with their real value to the town in which they live.

We think the main trouble with a large percent of the people who live in Lubbock is that they really do not know the old home town.

We think the fellow who invented the writing of music would be thoroughly shocked if he should hear some of the "hot Mama" stuff that is put out by the "composers" of today.

We think a habit is hard to get rid of, and it would be much easier to leave it off to begin with, than to try to break it up.

We think it will probably be good news to our many readers that the government has decided not to print any more $10,000 bills. It doesn't make so much

When is the Child Old Enough to Obey?

A child is "old enough to obey" when he begins to show intelligence. When John Henry was eight months old, he began pulling the table-cloth as babies have done, I presume, since that article was invented.

I recall the days when this cousin Lloyd used to visit at our house and stand spreads and table cloths had to be folded back and movable articles put up high up high and very high—for Lloyd could climb! I remembered that when Lloyd was older he used to throw himself on the floor and bump his head in a spasm of rage. At fourteen Lloyd refused to attend school; at sixteen he was staying out until eleven every night.

I decided that John Henry must be kept from forming habits and must be an obedient child.

So when he again reached for the table cloth I said, "No, no," very firmly and when he persisted I cried hi into his high chair. He eried but I took no apparent notice of his wails. But as soon as the anger faded from his voice I turned his attention to something interesting and placed him on the floor again. One day I had to repeat this treatment three or four times in succession. On hearing the words, "No, no," he would lay his head down and give a pathetic little wail. Then he would look up and smile and reach for the table cloth again.

But it did not take long for him to learn to respect the meaning of "No, no," nor to learn that he could be happy even if he couldn't always do as he wished. Although he was very active, it was never necessary to move things out of his reach and he was a very happy, lovable child.

His cousin had a baby walker in which he could skate all over the house as fast as a man could run, and his poor, overworked mama would skate right around after him putting his spreads back on the tables, picking up the pieces of pieces of china, remaking the beds and so forth. By the time he had awakened from his nap, she would have the house in order ready for him to start all over again.

"But what can I do?" she would ask helplessly. "He is not old enough to be made to mind."

I had sent her John Henry's outgrown baby carriage and she slammed that around the house and smashed it up. Later both she and I had to have new carriages for our second babies.

When Lyle was two John Henry and I visited at his home. At breakfast Lyle picked up his plate and gave it a Babe Ruth slam right over his shoulder. It landed in the warming oven—also for the plate! Everybody laughed; he was not old enough to be made to mind! The next morning he threw a pail which landed upside down like a cap on the head of John Henry's head. No thought of restraining him ever seemed to occur to either his father or mother. John Henry was unharmed. It was "a cute trick," and the child was "so active!"

It is reported that the weather man has taken up the practice of diversification, and gave us a change in weather yesterday.

That one car was seen driving with one eye open last night, and was making more than the law allowed, but the law did not happen to see him so he got by.

That a number of folks are going to get caught up for driving across the school grounds, if the practice is not stopped. Chief May says he is going to tighten up, and make the boys pay for the sign posts if they do not slow down a bit.

That there is a probability of several more candidates announcing the fact that they have been strongly solicited to run for office, and after much consideration have decided to make the great sacrifice.

That Lubbock is going to have more conventions meet in this city this coming summer than any other city of its size in the west.

That Littlefield is going to entertain the West Texas Chamber of Commerce District meeting in great shape, and she is also going to try to put over some good propaganda toward the election of a president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce next spring.

That Colonel Lee, President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce starting out soon on another tour of the South Plains in an effort to put over his hobby—"diversification."

That Lubbock will make an effort to have a new court of civil appeals located in Lubbock and we are sure that we will get the support of all of the South Plains counties in this effort.

SCISSORED EDITORIAL

A LITTLE SERMON
A little sermon on town-building from the Palestine Herald:

Some one has said that an undesirable citizen is one who wants to live in a progressive town, but is not willing to help make it so by putting up any of his time to public matters. Towns that have the greatest co-operative spirit are those that have the greatest number of its people working in harmony to put things over.

There are men in Denton making comfortable livings or better who have never given a moment's thought or as much as a dollar in cash toward making it a better and more attractive town. They are willing to receive the benefits of others' work and others' contributions in cash and effort and count themselves fortunate in living among such forward-looking people. They fail to catch the vision of what the town would be if they and others like them also put their shoulders to the wheel and contributed a dollar or two now and then toward the better things of which they are beneficiaries. In other words they think it "more blessed to receive than to give." They are wrong.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

FOREVER
Forever is a long time, the life of moon and stars,
A longer life than churches know, or prison gates and bars,
And I have vowed to love her forever and a day,
A vow that knows no changing or crumbling or decay.

Forever is a long time, the life of sea and tide,
No calendar can mark it, no seasons can divide,
It has no bitter ending, let life bring what it may,
My love must last forever, forever and a day.

Though buildings fall in ruins and earthly splendors fade,
Though death shall separate us, still stands the vow I made;
Though fashions change and fancies sweep all charms we know away,
Our love must last forever, forever and a day.

UNUSUAL BUT TRUE

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Because their associations headquarters was raided by detectives and described as a "gambling joint" New York and Brooklyn waiters are wrathful, and have applied for a supreme court injunction restraining Police Commissioner McLaughlin from further interference.

BRADFORD, England.—The tyranny of the pressing iron may be brought to an end by experiments now being conducted at Bradford technical college. "We are attempting to discover how to make a woven cloth which will not bag at the knees when made into trousers" A. R. Tindall head of the institution announced.

BUENOS AIRES.—The town of Belen in the province of Catamarca has lost its police force, all but the chief of police, resigned after waiting five months for their pay, which never came. Finally the chief also walked out.

SHORT SKIRTS CAUSE SLUMP IN TEXTILES

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Short skirts are responsible for the slump in the trade of woolen, cotton and silk materials, P. H. Witheridge, chairman of the Fore Street Warehouse Company, told shareholders at an annual meeting here.

"Seven yards of 44-inch material were once required to make a woman's dress," he said, "while now two or three yards of material about fifty inches wide are all that are necessary. That partly explains why there has been a continuous reduction in the demand."

LUBBOCK TEAM GETS SUPPORT ABILENE FANS

BRILLIANT PLAYS OF MATADORS SEEN BY THE SPECTATORS

Special to the Avalanche
 ABILENE, Feb. 17.—Again breaking the spell of losses that has marked the initial season for the Matador Cagers, they romped away from the Simmons University quintet to the score of 30 to 26 in a fast game at the Simmons gym here today.

It was a good game from start to finish, and the Matadors received hearty cheers from the sidelines despite the fact that all of the fans were expecting a Simmons victory, and the "root for the home team" influence was expected to be felt. It was Abilene's good sportsmanship marked by the willingness of local fans to recognize brilliant play from an opposing team that entered into the support given the Matadors.

Official Leaguer Is Mailed Out

AUSTIN, Feb. 16.—The February number of the Interscholastic Leaguer, official publication of the University of Texas Interscholastic League, has been printed and is being mailed out to high schools over the state, according to League officials. In addition to the general news of League contests, this issue carries a directory of all county and district officers of the Interscholastic League as well as a list of late bulletins put out by the organization.

Thirty-Two Texas High Schools Signify Intentions of Entering State Girls Basket Ball Tournament

CISCO, Feb. 17.—Thirty-two Texas high schools have signified their intentions of entering the state girls' basket ball tournament to be held in Cisco March 18, 19 and 20. Officials of the Southern A. A. U. state that this is the largest number of teams to have ever entered a state tournament and that twelve teams have entered that have never before participated in the annual tournament. Every section of the state will be represented in the meet. Only the outstanding teams from each section will compete in the state tournament and unusual competition is anticipated.

Cisco is making plans to entertain the three or four hundred girls who will take part in the meet. Randolph College has been requested to turn their girls' dormitory over to the girls during the duration of the meet. Numerous private homes will be tendered for the entertainment of the visitors who may not care to go to hotels. Everything possible will be done to assure comfort and courtesy to the visitors.

TERRIBLE CAGER MACHINES DEVELOPED BY CLUBMEN FOR BATTLE AT COLLEGE GYM THIS EVENING; FIGHT EXPECTED

This evening at eight o'clock at the Tech College gym, members of the Lubbock Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs will vie for cager honors and all indications are that the game will be one of the best entertainment features provided by the clubmen as a joint activity.

Walter Myrick Judge Raley and James Goodman, team managers, met in the office of Mr. Goodman yesterday morning when they made final plans for the game and laid down some rules to be rigidly enforced throughout the evening.

Terrible Machines
 According to reports from the training camps of the two clubs machines of terrible power have been developed by the trainers, a wealth of material being eliminated in selecting from the club rosters those individuals carrying the largest amount of weight, fighting ability and endurance.

Shock Troops
 I. C. Enoch, who played with the University of Mississippi for two years, will center for the Rotarians, and will be opposed by Hry Davidson, of the Kiwanis Club, who hails from Lookout Mountain, Tennessee, and possesses some of the atmosphere of his native land. Members of the Rotary club claim that Hay was never at the top of Lookout Mountain, and that at the time Kiwanians claim they saw him there he was on the opposite side of the little hill looking over.

Flying forward will be, for the Rotarians, N. L. Peters, who hails from the Brazos-Bottoms, of Texas, and who has colorful history attached to cager developments in the early history of the state. Peters will be supported by Bill Meason, from across the Canadian, who had

Rotary-Kiwanis Basketball Contest Called At Texas Tech. Gym. This Evening At Eight O'Clock

The game that will be master of all sporting events will be called this evening on the Tech floor beginning at 8 o'clock when the Rotary-Kiwanis tilt will be played.

Reports from both training camps indicate that the contest will be one of the most unusual and characteristic affairs of all sporting circles in the history of Lubbock. Both teams having a large field from which to pick material from.

Judge Raley, mentor of the Rotary quintet, states that he has in Sled Allen the best football basketball player in the southwest. In a recent rehearsal of the Rotary club Joe Nislar proved to be a sensation in that he was able to rush to his goal without any hesitancy or having to go through the "unnecessary" drilling to approach the goal.

Raley refuses to make any statement as to the lineup that he will use but was of the opinion that the opposing club would be taken by surprise when the initial signal is sounded for the game.

Judge J. H. Goodman, however, states that he has a gigantic defense wharf in Pink L. Parrish and "Babe" Hunt at guards and "Hay" Davidson at center. Just who will play forwards for the Kiwanians will be withheld. The Kiwanians are counting largely on their strong defense while the Rotarians count on their fleet forwards in the victory.

The purpose and proceeds that will come from the game will be placed towards the deficient athletic fund. The game promises to display some of the most perfect physiques in Lubbock aside from a world of fun in watching some of Lubbock's most efficient athletes in action.

The game will start promptly at 8 o'clock at the stock judging pavilion of the Texas Tech College.

Steer Track Man Has A Special Shoe

AUSTIN, Feb. 16.—Clyde Littlefield, track coach of the University of Texas, has one man on his team this year who can not wear shoes of an ordinary size. It is necessary to order a special pair of track shoes every time this one man needs a pair.

John Andrew "Tiny" Gooch of Ennis is the man who comes in for the special attention, for Gooch wears a size 12 shoe. For the past four years, since Gooch was a freshman, Littlefield has had to get special footwear for this man, who also tips the scales at 218 lbs. and is 6 feet 6 inches in height.

Texas' largest athlete is a shot putter and discus thrower in whom Littlefield in pinning much confidence this year.

"Bud" Sprague of Dallas, an athlete in Texas several years ago, was a freshman with Gooch and he also had to have shoes of size 12. Although Sprague is not quite as large as the other giant, he tipped the scales around 200 pounds, however. Sprague was a football player at the University before he left the school and entered West Point, in 1925. Sprague was a regular tackle in his first year on the Army eleven, and his playing was rated as excellent at the close of the season.

DELANEY WILL MAKE 12 ROUND BATTLE WITH MCTIGUE

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Jack Delaney whose recent sortie into the heavyweight ranks brought him a few dollars but little credit has wisely decided to return to his own class and will fight Mike McTigue at Madison Square Garden on March 15.

Mike has been waiting around rather wistfully for another bout with Paul Berlenbach, which the champion has declined to give him. Accordingly with both the Irishman and the hard hitting French-Canadian thinking themselves logical contenders for the light-heavyweight title, it was natural to match them and Tex Richard did so.

Jack and Mike will go 12 rounds, provided the Bridgeport boxer's rights does not stop proceedings before that time. However, the Dubliner has never been knocked out and the beat may drag through the entire 12 rounds and be rather a dull affair.

DENTON TEACHERS VICTORS OVER SAN MARCOS

DENTON, Feb. 17.—Denton Teachers College defeated San Marcos in a hotly contested basketball game here Wednesday night by a score of 37 to 29.

Captain Hayes of Denton was high point man with fifteen points while Myracle, also of Denton scored fourteen points.

Tilden to be Met By Borotra For Championship

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—Jean Borotra, the blithe and bounding basque, who bears the title of world's indoor tennis champion, meets "Big Bill" Tilden to whom all tennis titles are possible, in the fourth round of the national indoor championships at the seventh regiment armory Thursday.

The match is the most important of the tournament, for Tilden, if he wins, as he probably will, can defeat all the others without extending himself.

Borotra won his way through the third round by defeating Dr. William Rosenbaum, 6-2, 6-1.

Vincent Richards, Francis T. Hunter and Rene Lacoste, the French star, also won their third round matches without difficulty. Richards beat Maurice Ferrier, the Swiss ace, 6-2, 6-1, Hunter defeated H. C. Brunis, 6-2, 6-1 and Lacoste, after a hard struggle, emerged victorious over William Aydelotte, 6-3, 8-6.

Jacques Brugnon, Captain of the French team, who is likely to reach the semi-finals, won from Ernest Kuhn, 7-5, 6-1.

In doubles Richards and Hunter, Olympic champions defeated Donald Stralain and Maurice Ferrier, 6-2, 6-3.

COUNTESS VERA MAY BE COMPELLED TO LEAVE SATURDAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—Vera, Countess of Cathcart, must leave New York Saturday unless the federal courts in New York grant her a writ of habeas corpus enabling her to carry her case to the supreme court.

Secretary of Labor Davis late Wednesday upheld the decision of the New York immigration officers excluding the British noblewoman for admitting a misdemeanor involving "moral turpitude."

The decision of Davis came after many hours of consultation with other officials of the department on the recommendation of the board of review which Monday heard arguments in behalf of the countess by William A. Bedford, New York and Wilton J. Lambert, Washington, her attorneys.

The case is now out of the hands of the department of labor. It is expected that counsel for the countess will seek a writ in the New York courts. In this case, she may be permitted to enter the country on bond, probably about $500, and await the action of the courts. Meantime she may transact her business and return to England before action is taken.

Fire Escapes Must Be Placed About Dallas Schools

DALLAS, Texas, Feb. 17.—Twenty Dallas schools will be closed by injunction unless they are equipped with fire escapes immediately.

T. C. McDaniel, deputy state fire marshal, who was in Dallas today declared.

He said that the Dallas school board had treated the matter of the fire escapes too lightly and that unless they were erected within a reasonable limit of time the schools would be closed.

He pointed out that if rural and small town schools could afford the fire escapes that Dallas should by all means be able to comply with the fire regulation.

BODY OF WEEK-OLD BABY FOUND NEAR SAN ANTONIO

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 17.—The body of a week-old baby, boy wrapped in a sheet and old papers was found on a dairy farm near here late Tuesday by Jose Prado, as he was driving the cows from a thicket to the dairy where he worked.

Prado declared that he had heard what he had thought to be cries of a "night bird" in the thicket Sunday and Monday night. He is positive now that it was the death wails of the infant that attracted his attention.

A laundry mark on the sheet the baby was wrapped in is the only clue that police have to work.

A cigarette made with P. A. burns better

P. A. makes one of the finest cigarettes a fellow ever smoked. It rolls easier because Prince Albert is crimp-cut and stays put. Doesn't blow all over the place. For the same reason, a P. A. cigarette burns better . . . doesn't die the instant you lay it down.

Try rolling 'em with P. A. Me-o-my, what a smoke! Cool as a cucumber. Fragrant as locust blossoms. Sweet as a melon. Never a tongue-bite or a throat-itch, because the Prince Albert process took a firm stand on that matter right at the start of P. A.'s career.

The more you know about rolling cigarettes, the more you appreciate this better cigarette tobacco. Yes, Sir—Prince Albert for home-rolled cigarettes every time. Get yourself a tidy red tin or a toppy red bag of P. A. before you do another thing!

Incidentally, if you want to get genuine pleasure out of a jimmy-pipe, pack it with P. A. Many a man has learned that he can smoke a pipe (and enjoy it) with good old P. A. for packing. There's a P. A. sunshine shop just around the corner! Get going, Man!

LABOR UNIONS CONVENTION TO BE SOLICITED

At least a dozen members of the local labor unions will attend the state convention of the Texas State Federation of Labor which convenes at Houston April 19, and will make an effort to bring the convention to Lubbock for 1927.

F. O. Kelly, secretary of the Lubbock unions, who has been assured the hearty co-operation of the chamber of commerce and board of city development in the entertainment of the convention, will take a delegation of at least a dozen Lubbock members of the union to the Houston convention to make the fight for the 1927 convention and that he will be successful in at least presenting Lubbock's claims for the convention in a manner that will be attractive to the delegates is assured.

Mr. Kelly is one of the recognized officials of the union in Texas, and will be given the support of a number of other prominent labor organization members throughout West Texas in making the fight for the entertainment of the convention in Lubbock in 1927.

1200 Would Attend
The convention would bring at least 1200 delegates to Lubbock, Mr. Kelly said yesterday. Hotel accommodations for this group would be available by that time as the Hotel Lubbock, a six story building, will be completed before the time for the 1927 convention, members of the board of city development in making plans to ask for the convention declared.

Would Aid Unions
The entertainment of the state convention of Texas labor unions in this city would be made an advantageous proposition for the organization as a whole, in that with the development of new industries in this section and the subsequent increase in man power employed, anything that would tend to place these men in closer contact with the labor organizations would be valuable to it, it has been pointed out here.

DAMAGE SUIT AND MURDER CASES REVERSED

AUSTIN, Texas, Feb. 17.—The supreme court today reversed and remanded the case of Willis vs. city of San Antonio, a damage suit growing out of personal injuries sustained by Mrs. Willis when she fell over an obstruction left in the street by a repair crew. Reversal was had on the court's instruction for a verdict for the city.

FASHION NEWS

By HEDDA HOYT
(Written for the United Press)
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Trousers are again coming in style. Firstly, because they are slenderizing and secondly, because women are tiring of jumper frocks with plain or pleated skirts. Let this not infer that jumper frocks of two piece type are on the wane. They are as popular as ever but newer models have the trouser skirt effect. Up to this date we have not seen a gown which actually has trousers replacing a skirt but skirts are fashioned to appear like trousers. They are divided both in front and at the rear with self material extending between the division. Sometimes huge tucks act to give the trouser effect. Again braid or other trimming extends perpendicularly up the front of the skirt to form the trouser effect. And still again a divided apron front does the work. In Paris divided skirts are called culottes.

Scarves of the moment are huge colorfully bordered squares which add a color note to the pastel hued frock. The newest way of wearing these is to knot one corner about the neck allowing the remainder of the scarf to fall from one side of the neck to the hem of the gown. Many scarves are 58 inches wide by 58 inches in length. Crepe de chene or georgette is the material used and modernistic patterns are newer than the familiar floral prints. Purple, blue, yellow and wine are chosen colors, the center of each scarf being of solid color with the border forming the contrasting colors. Besides the modernistic patterns are Navajo designs, Chinese and other Oriental motifs.

Green in a light, yellowish green shade is the newest bright color to make its appearance on Fifth Avenue. It is the shade many felt hats are taking as well as frocks, tunics and evening wraps. So unusual is this shade of green and so startling that only those who are sure of it's becomingness should attempt to wear it. A touch of this shade however, will enliven any ensemble. Dark-haired women or women with neutral hair and grayish-green eyes are often lovely in this vivid, crisp shade and as Spring advances we shall doubtless see much of it.

Mail Plane Wrecked by Horse

Old Dobbin was held responsible for the wrecking of one of Uncle Sam's air mail planes while he was grazing on the Des Moines field when the westbound ship from Chicago was landing. Pilot John Biffle escaped unhurt, but there was not much of the plane, and not enough of the horse to photograph after the propeller hit him.

Grandfather Seeks Rockefeller Cash For Daughter

By United News
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 17.—Determined to see that Anita Oser the little Swiss miss born to his daughter and her riding master-husband, doesn't miss getting her share of the Rockefeller millions, Harold F. McCormick has entered federal court here to champion his granddaughter's rights.

The dispute over $8,000,000 worth of stock in the Standard Oil Co., of Indiana has been in progress for several months. McCormick Wednesday filed briefs with the federal court here pointing out that little Anita probably will outlive any other persons who might be permitted by law to obtain the fortune.

The briefs constitute McCormick's rebuttal to the motion of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, former wife of the harvester king to dismiss certain bills of complaint filed by McCormick.

The $8,000,000 was set aside as a trust fund for relatives of John D. Rockefeller before his daughter and Harold F. McCormick were divorced.

After the divorce the fund came into litigation. The appearance of a new possible heir adds further complications.

Anita, now two years old, is the granddaughter of Edith Rockefeller and Harold McCormick. Her parents are Mathilde, the McCormick's younger daughter and Max Oser, the Swiss riding master, whom she married following a sensational international courtship.

Mandamus Petition Granted American Book Company

By United News
AUSTIN, Feb. 17.—The supreme court today granted the motion of the American Book Company for permission to file petition for mandamus against State Superintendent Marrs to compel the latter to recognize the validity of last October contracts by the state text book commission for two book speller series and a multiple general science. The court later will set a date for submission of the mandamus when argument will be had.

The attorney general in the interim promises to institute action to set aside the awards and hold the contracts void. The contracts are estimated to be worth $600,000.

TWO PLAYS PRESENTED AT SOCK AND BUSKIN MEET

At a regular meeting of the Sock and Buskin club Tuesday night Dr. Plueger presented two short plays portraying family life. The first play was entitled "His Second Wife" and the setting was a breakfast table and a very cranky husband. The second was played by Miss McGee and the husband by Dr. Plueger. Miss McGee played the part of the stupid maid and kept the club in laughter with her words and actions.

The second play was entitled, "Rosalie." The setting was a similar family home as the first play and another stupid maid. The husband was expecting a distinguished caller and they were rehearsing in receiving him. The maid was drilled in learning how to go to the door and announce the guest. When the bell rang she refused to go until she was given a raise and other privileges. The climax came in the discovery that the bell was rung by a man who had the wrong number. The same cast played in this play as in the first.

Both plays were well acted and went well with the club. They, "Her Picture," directed by Miss D'Ann Sammons will be presented next Tuesday night.

WEST TEXAS TEACHERS EX-STUDENTS MEET TODAY

There will be a meeting of all the ex-students of the West Texas State Teachers College today at 12:45 in room 207. All students who have ever attended the college are requested to attend. Important matters to be discussed.

ARCHITECTURAL CLUB MEETS TONIGHT

Regular meeting of the Architectural club will be held tonight at 7:30 in room 214. All architectural students are requested to attend.

COLLEGE FROLIC ENLARGED

Two more acts have been added to the program of the college frolic which will be staged at the Lindsey theater tomorrow night. Over 75 students will take part in the gigantic entertainment and the public is assured of their money's worth. Dress rehearsals will be held today and tomorrow and everything will go off in the finest form.

STUDENTS ATTEND PANHANDLE-PLAINS HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING

Two Tech students, O'dell Rieger and Ralph Fikes, attended the meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society meeting which was held in Canyon last week. These boys are majoring in history and are making extensive study in the history of this section of the state. They report a good meeting of the society and a number of good speakers attended. Among the notable speakers was Mrs. Phebe K. Warner of Claude. She is the most noted writer and lecturer of the Panhandle. T. D. Hobart of Pampa was another speaker on the program. He told of the old trails and drives of the pioneer cattlemen of the plains. Several other old timers related tales of the olden days.

DELEGATES RETURN FROM STATE CONVENTION

The Tech delegates have just returned from the state YMCA convention which was held in Austin last week. Both men report a wonderful trip and a convention that was very beneficial. Over 700 students attended from the schools of the state. Speeches and open forum occupied most of the time of the convention. Several of the most influential men in the organization were heard from the platform. The convention was brought to a climax with a large banquet on the roof garden

BLOOD AND SAND FROM EL TORO

"Thru the desert sands I come to thee. Verily, shiek, thou art a man of grit!"

Yes, and what's more, several Lubbockites were very men of grit by the time they got to places of relief yesterday afternoon.

We were told yesterday that in California, it was a very uncommon thing to discuss the weather—because it was so much the same. Well, this be as it may; but we'll wager a two-by-four toothpick to a peanut-shell that if some Californian should visit the Plains during this month, he'd be able to talk of nothing else.

The Lubbock Hi put out a dandy good paper yesterday, we think. Tech's getting some competition along that line now; but the Farmer lads out at the old school say that their edition is to be the prize one. It should—they have a whole string of registered stock out at the old barn; and they might well be a whole "line" to a sling. They say, though, that they have a lot of "horse sense, too." Have at it, then, laddies, and let's see what you can do!

Experiences sometimes change the aspects of things a whole lot. Along about the time we enrolled for a course in Chemistry, everything "rosy" to be sure; and when we read a nice little poem extolling the virtues of that study, and then turned to our text and read the dangedest article about the terrific smells and excruciating to be experienced in a laboratory, we didn't know what to think. We do now. And if this were something along the same order as College Humor or Judge (so they tell us—we don't read 'em.) we'd proceed to tell part of what we think. Part of it, we reiterate, because that ammonia and some of its antics when it goes to fighting with some other stuffs is—well, terrible!

Press Club last night. Journalism at its best is the general topic for study in the club, we understand. Think we'll go out for it O maybe we could get on an office-boy around the dumpy. Reckon?

The Westerner asks a fool-ish question. As if we didn't know why a dead hen is better than a live one! That's very simple—a dead hen will lay where you put her, of course.

One of the prettiest sights, though that a hard win can conjure up is not on the ground, or very near it, but the flag flying fullmast in front of the administration building. Well, as far as that goes in front of the Engineering building, too. But it's closer to the former.

While we were supposed to be studying—and reciting—Algebra yesterday morning, we happened to glance out at see it. The wind had it stretched taut, and every star was shining and every stipe show-

Floyd County Gins Have Turned Out 14,358 Bales

LOCKNEY, Feb. 17.—Floyd county gins have ginned 14,358 bales to date 5,550 bales have been ginned in Lockney alone. This is approximately 8000 bales less than the 1924 crop which was 22,500 bales. Due to the low price cotton has been coming in very slow and many farmers will not try to pick, but will prepare their land for the 1926 crop. It is believed that about 500 more bales will be ginned in the county this season. Many farmers are cutting the cotton acreage, and will plant small grains and sorghum instead.

Floyd Schools Best Says State Rural Inspector

FLOYDADA, Feb. 17.—"Floyd county has the best rural schools of any western county I have visited," is the remark of J. S. Rasco, state rural school aid inspector, on his return from an inspection of Floyd county rural schools. "I also find that of 77 teachers there are 25 male teachers, which is quite out of the ordinary," he said.

Out of 20 rural schools asking for state aid 19 claims were granted, amounting to $7,150.

During the past year three new teachers' homes have been built, making a total of fifteen homes or one half as many homes as there are rural schools.

Tentative Program West Texas C. of C. At Littlefield

STAMFORD, Feb. 17.—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce has just released the following tentative program for the South Plains district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to be held at Littlefield February 22. We are especially anxious for you to see the motion pictures we shall show during this convention on hog production, poultry raising, dairying, exhibits and the Mineral Wells convention.

The banquet will be a short one but full of life and energy and some real messages are to be delivered. Each town is to have a one-minute speaker.

Trusting that you may be able to attend, also that you are beginning to consider your plans for the eighth annual convention at Amarillo in 1926 which is to be our very largest and best meeting and of special importance to our members on the South plains.

JOINT EASTERN STAR MASONIC MEETING AT BROWNFIELD

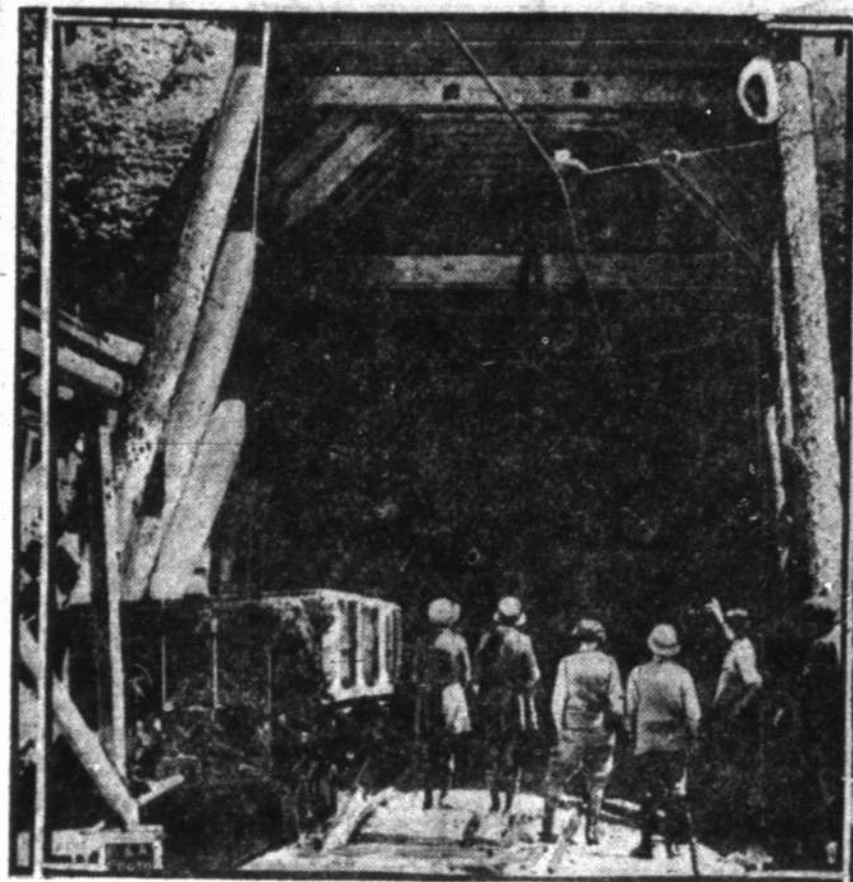

BROWNFIELD, Feb. 17.—The Masonic Lodge of Brownfield will have an interesting program on Feb. 22nd, the Order of the Eastern Star will join in the participation and the program will be given for the Masons and their families. The program is as follows:

Address, George Washington, the Mason—By Morgan L. Copeland.
Address, George Washington the American—By Judge H. R. Winston.
Address, Masonry—By Jesse D. Cox.
Mixed Quartette, Arranged by Eastern Star.
Address, Eastern Star History—By Mrs. F. M. Ellington.
Address, Eastern Star Work—By Mrs. A. M. Brownfield.
Eastern Star Drill—By the Order.
Refreshments will be served.

According to tradition the fez was originally imposed upon Moslems in order that in their prescribed prostrations in prayer the touching of the forehead to the ground might not be impeded by a hat brim.

Tunnel Through Continental Divide

Work has begun on the six-mile tunnel which is to penetrate the Continental Divide in the Colorado Rockies. The undertaking will be completed in 1927, and the cost will not be far from $2,000,000. The tunnel will permit twelve-month railroad operation. Previously snow blockades frequently prevented the operation of trains.

LUBBOCK WILL GO 500 STRONG TO LITTLEFIELD

Two bands, at least five hundred citizens, the Tech College mascot, and all of the good will of the entire city will be Lubbock's contribution to the district convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Littlefield on February 22nd, according to an announcement made yesterday by committeemen from the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the board of city development working on the proposition.

Dude Germany, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, has assumed the responsibility that rests on that organization and has made ample preparation to meet all of the requirements. "The Junior Chamber of Commerce has but one thing to do with regard to getting ready to invade Littlefield—and that is all of the work involved," Germany said yesterday, and stated that with the committee composed of Daddy Dickinson, Chas. Guy and Judge Raley already started into the work there is little or nothing to worry about.

Jed Rix, chairman of the committee from the board of city development that will work with the Junior Chamber of Commerce in making plans to have Lubbock well represented at the Littlefield meeting, is assisted by W. W. Royalty, and Roscoe Wilson. While Rix denied charges that this committee is to do the "head work," and leave the remainder to be done by the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee, members of the latter organization have declared this will be the case but at that they are fortunate as the board of city development could have selected no better team of organizers than the trio above mentioned.

Rix was former president of the chamber of commerce and in all matters pertaining to organization and execution of plans is expert, with Wilson and Royalty sharing credit for possessing equal ability in this direction.

At any rate Littlefield will know she has at least one neighbor, and if Chas. Guy has to barbecue calves instead of chickens to take care of the crowd at the dinner hour it will be alright.

Lubbock and Littlefield have been on the friendliest of terms throughout the years that have elapsed since a group of Austin capitalists surveyed a plot of land in the heart of the great Yellow House ranch and started the arduous task of building a city, and at the district convention there will be ample evidence of the continued prevalence of this spirit of co-operation between the businessmen of the two cities.

Lubbock shares with Littlefield the numerous advantages that are exclusive on the south plains, and the hundreds who attend the district convention there will have occasion to become better acquainted with the force of development that is back of Littlefield, Lubbock and other south plains.

GO 5,000 MILES FOR 10 SECONDS OF FILM

Nearly 8,000 miles for scenes that pass by on the screen in ten seconds is but one of the necessities that accuracy demands in the production of pictures. And being a stickler for detail, Frank Lloyd, who produced and directed "Winds of Chance," now showing at the Lindsey Theatre, is said to have sent a cameraman and two assistants from Hollywood to Chilkoot Pass, Alaska, to get the ascent of a number of packers up the steep slope of the mountain in the heavy snows. The at some places on the Pass was thirty feet deep when the scenes were made and identical to the hazards of the crossing in 1898 just before a snowslide killed forty-nine men who were making their way to the summit on the first leg of a trip to Dawson and the gold fields.

Chilkoot Pass rises to a height of nearly 7,000 feet and was and still is a decided barrier between the flats on which old Dyea and the present Skagway are built, and the upper Yukon, Dawson and the Klondike region.

BURLINGTON OFFICIAL NOTIFIES HOPKINS THAT HE'S GLAD TO COME

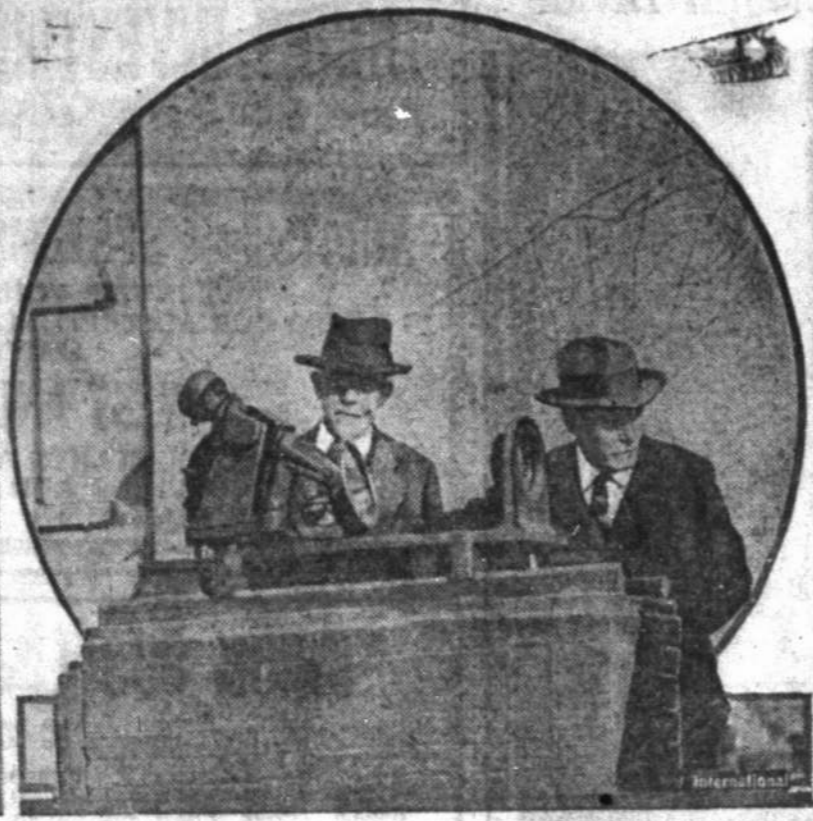

Judge W. D. McKay has accepted the invitation of the Plainview Chamber of Commerce to attend the annual banquet of the body which will be held at the City Auditorium February 23. Judge McKay, who is well known here as an official of the Burlington railway is tax and land agent of the Fort Worth and Denver Railway.

Secretary Matur Hopkins announced this morning that John Rowell is expected to time a visit to home folks so that he can be here for the banquet.

The Junior band of the Chamber of Commerce, consisting of seventy-five youngsters, will make its debut that evening under the direction of Professor F. Hilsfeldt. The old guard, the Chamber of Commerce Band, will also be out. The boys have been working hard to get in shape for the band contest at the annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Amarillo this year and will have some extra good numbers for the banquet.

A male quartet is also being arranged. Mr. Hopkins feels that with State Press, J. J. Taylor of the Dallas News, Mike Thomas, Dallas cotton broker, and the other good numbers that have been announced, that the Chamber of Commerce will have one of the best programs ever presented here at a similar gathering. Slaton High School Working On First Year Book

SLATON, Feb. 17.—Slaton High School will publish a high school year book for the first time in five years according to Jack D. Wester, principal of the school. The book will be a pictorial history of this year's school work, and will contain many interesting pictures and incidents in the hundred pages which it includes.

The book is to be printed upon enameled paper and handsomely bound as it will be, it will be a credit to the school system. Mr. Wester said, "We are working the high school annual and the weekly newspaper, along with our regular English work, giving the students not only a chance to study journalism through actual application, but training in the use of business English as well. The book is to be called the Tigers Lair, honoring the athletic name under which Slaton high does battle and although the book will be devoted to the entire school life, athletics will have a big place in its content.

"The issuance of this book," said

Wester, "will be accomplished only with the expenditure of $1,000. We have been pursuing two methods in the raising of the money; we have sold advertising to those who were anxious for advertising in the book, but most of the money has been raised through class activities. Various carnivals, entertainments and shows have netted us the majority of the $900 which has already been raised, and we have the other $100 in sight.

Ardie Mae Dickson is are editor. Alton Young is business manager, and Wilson McKirahan is editor-in-chief of the annual. Quite a number of the students of the senior high school are on the staff of the annual, and through their work have practically all of the work arranged for the book's publication. The Tigers Cage a weekly publication, is being used to a great measure in compiling material for the year book, as a great deal of the material used in the weekly will be used in the annual. Edda Benton is editor of the weekly and Weldon Walters is editor-in-chief. C. W. Wilkes is acting as sports editor for both the weekly and the annual.

LUBBOCK TO BID FOR HARDWARE CONVENTION

Armed with all necessary information showing Lubbock's ability to entertain the 1927 convention of the West Texas Hardware & Implement Dealers Association, B. Sherrard and a group of other local hardware men having membership in the association will go to the Amarillo convention of the association this spring where they will bid for the 1927 convention for Lubbock.

Lubbock favored by hardware men throughout the territory in which the association has membership, and last year a great deal of comment was made on the possibility of bringing the 1926 convention to Lubbock, but an effort on the part of Mr. Sherrard to bring it to Lubbock was not successful.

It is believed that since Lubbock will have by that time greatly improved hotel facilities and in fact every advantage for the proper entertainment of the delegates, her candidacy for the 1927 convention will be met with hearty approval, and that the hardware men will be pleased with the invitation that will be extended them by the Lubbock delegation at the Amarillo convention is not doubted.

The Lubbock board of city development, chamber of commerce, retail merchants association and the businessmen of the city will give the Lubbock hardware men every possible support in seeking the 1927 convention.

Floyd Poultry Men Will Show Fowls At Fort Worth

LOCKNEY, Feb. 17.—Several Floyd County Poultry fanciers are grooming their fowls for the South Western Exposition & Fat Stock Show which will be held in Fort Worth in March. Colemand & Smith of Lockney who are extensive breeders of Patridge Wyandottes are preparing to send a string of winners, their birds have been to Fort Worth, Dallas, and the leading shows of the South and always come back winners. Jake Shoaf, a bantam fancier is also planning on entering several of his Patridge Cochins Bantams.

Hereford Farmer Nets $1,000 Off of Cream and Eggs

HEREFORD, Feb. 17.—"I have been selling cream, eggs and poultry here for the past five years, but I never dreamed that my sales for a year was more than half that amount," was the comment of H. Behrends, a practical diversified farmer, living south of Summerfield, and a firm believer in the live at home plan. He had just finished keeping an accurate record of his produce receipts for 1925 and found that the income from this source was only a few dollars less than $1,000.

At the beginning of 1925 a local produce man asked Behrends if he had an idea of the amount of produce he was marketing. Of course this "tiller of the soil" had to answer in the negative. Behrends went home and started keeping his produce receipts, and found that they doubled his estimate. Keeping accurate records on the amount of produce sold from a farm, is the best method a farmer has to check up on his live at home program, is Mr. Behrends' conviction. Often the farmer does not give the cow, the sow and the hen enough credit for financing the board bills of the home.

Now this farmer is preaching the cow, the sow and the hen for every farmer in the county. He tells them just how much the live at home method means to his bank account. County Agent R. O. Dunkle is urging other farmers to keep a record of their produce sales, so that an accurate check can be made on their income.

STOCKS, GRAIN AND COTTON GOSSIP Furnished by Penner & Beane

New Orleans Cotton Letter Prospects of a spell of bad weather and shrinking stocks and New York gave the cotton market a steady tone today and prices were a shade higher. A favorable review of condition for preparation and report of rapid progress in that work from the weather bureau coupled with slack spot demand, small exports and less favorable domestic dry goods news encouraged selling at the start. The most that these influences did was to bring on some liquidation in October. There was also reports that some of the big spot houses were selling out part of their March holdings and buying May. The market took the selling in old and new crops well and demand at all times was equal to the supply. Best prices of the day were made in the afternoon. Bad weather, if it develops, coupled with tightness of March ought to help the market as shorts in March New York have not many days to get out.

Cotton Summary New York—Memphis says: Very little spot cotton is now moving. Mills out of market, shorts appear to have filled requirements. Boston reports sale 1800 bales ton mills, Fall River, during past Egyptian uppers to the first one cut-week, according to daily news record.

Liverpool cables: Reactionary buying offset hedge and straddle selling. Good business with India manufacturers well engaged. Fair demand Egyptian.

Stock Opinions Orvis Bros.—Not very serious declines likely with money steady around 4-1-2 per cent. Stocks also seem to be in strong position and the absorption power of the market is still great.

Hornblower & Weeks—We would look to the electrical stocks for evidence of the start of the next rally, with evidence of the same nature supplied by American Can, Consolidated Gas, American Telephone and Harvester.

Stock Letter NEW YORK—During the first hour heavy selling was directed against the equipment shares with Baldwin and American Locomotive suffering the most. It is expected that the 1925 report of the American Locomotive will be even unfavorable than Baldwin. There were several strong specialties, particularly Consolidated Gas on prediction of the coming increase in the dividend rate and the market as a whole was more free from bearish pressure. General Motors was a feature of the impressive strength but the particular outstanding was Hudson Motors which stock had been afforded excellent support all through the recent declines. The market lost considerable of its activity and after mid-day developed a dragging tendency. However, the consistent strength of Hudson Motors had a beneficial influence on the market and before the close was over considerable short covering and good buying came into the market. Among the high priced specialties American Can was again featured and sold at new high levels. Railroads for a time came in for Wheat—In the absence of all developments of a stimulating nature, the wheat market takes its color from the action of Liverpool and that market is dominated by pressure of Argentine sorts, together with a very indifferent demand. It seems proper that our prices should sympathize with Liverpool, inasmuch as North America still has a surplus of around 200,000,000. Recently the outward movement has been around seven million weekly and it is questionable if this volume will be maintained, inasmuch as shipments from southern hemisphere are increasing but if the exports shipments continue at the rate of 7,000,000 weekly, it would dispose of 130,000,000 between now and the first of July. Export trade, as made public, remains very disappointing, today's business reported as 25,000 durums. Domestic milling demand is not, as yet, enough to be a factor in prices. Cash wheat is irregular, winter varieties being steady to a cent higher relatively, while spring sorts were weak and three cents lower compared with the May. Whether or not the assumption that the export trade dominates the situation be true it is none the less a fact that the market itself is distinctly in need of some new factors to revive interest. As yet we don't uncover anything suggesting permanently higher prices.

Michigan Lawyer To Lecture To Law Students

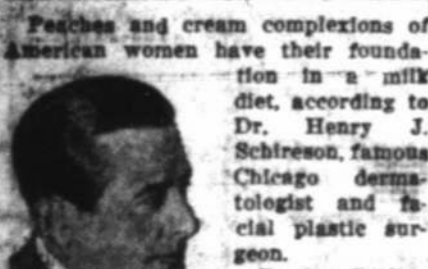

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 16.—During the week of March 22 to 26, Prof. E. R. Sanderland of the University of Michigan School of Law, will deliver at the University of Texas a series of lectures dealing with modern procedural problems. Professor Sanderland has for many years been recognized as one of the foremost authorities on American procedural law, according to faculty members of the University School of Law. His writings and lectures have given much impetus to the nationwide movement for the simplification of procedure. He spent the summer of 1924, and the following half year or less, in England studying at first hand the modern English system of procedure. His subjects are: "A Century of Law Reform in England," Monday 22; "Modern English Practice," Tuesday, March 23; "The Problem of Jurisdiction," Wednesday, March 24; "The Problem of Trial by Jury," Thursday, March 25; "The Problem of Appellate Review," Friday, March 26.

Parker Re-Elected Boy Scout Head

HEREFORD, Feb. 17.—G. A. F. Parker, pioneer banker and a devout worker in the Boy Scout movement, was re-elected chairman of the Hereford Boy Scout Council, which position he has filled very creditably for the past year. Parker announced that last year's work went off so good that he intended to keep the same bunch of appointees in office for the coming year, and that he believed a greater work could be accomplished during 1926 than was possible for the first year of the organization.

At the meeting it was decided to send a good delegation to the annual meeting and banquet of the Boy Scout Council of the Panhandle area at Amarillo next Monday, Feb. 22. A. O. Thompson was selected to represent Hereford on the nomination committee which will meet Monday morning for the nomination of officers and directors of the Panhandle Council. Rev. Thurman Morgan, T. D. Moss and Rev. W. R. Hill, were selected to work up a good crowd to go from here to the Amarillo meeting.

Be a Milk Tippler, Says Dr. Schireson

Peaches and cream complexions of American women have their foundation in a milk diet, according to Dr. Henry J. Schireson, famous Chicago dermatologist and facial plastic surgeon.

Doctor Schireson has won fame by beautifying motion picture, musical comedy and vaudeville stars and many society women of America. He transformed Panny Brice's nose, rejuvenated Eva Tanguay's face, removed sixty-four pounds of adipose tissue from Truly Shattuck in one operation, straightened the cross eyes of the leading lady of Stager's midlets, and has performed other corrections for making people young and beautiful.

"Doctor Schireson has one infallible prescription for the attainment of beauty. It is: 'One quart of milk a day, one hour of sunshine, and rest and libitum.'"

"Beauty specialists and cosmetic makers," says Doctor Schireson, "would be driven out of business in a few weeks if all the women of America would drink their quart of milk a day."

"Babies and children have complexions of angels for the reason that they are fed largely on milk. Milk used externally or internally is a beautifier. Anna Held, I believe, was the first actress who adopted the milk bath. While this was a novelty at the time, and her press agent undoubtedly made the most of it, the principle in itself was sound. But a beauty secret of even more value is the daily quart of milk taken as a part of the diet."

"The milk-fed girl is easily distinguished by the velvety texture and the healthy color of her skin. Milk is a wonderful body builder, because it contains every structural element of life in a way, an elixir of life."

"Authorities agree that milk is the most nearly perfect food but it is an extremely delicate one as well. Heat is used to kill all bacteria and the essential of absolutely pure and sterile milk. One of the advantages of evaporated milk, which is simply fresh cow's milk with sixty per cent of the water removed, is that it is entirely sterile and is more easily assimilated than ordinary market milk."

"Milk is mentioned forty-seven times in the Bible. The Promised Land of the Israelites was said to flow with milk and honey and Ovid graded milk as second only to nectar, the drink of the gods."

Under one of the "blue laws" of Puritan days which had never been revoked in modern times, a man was sentenced in court at Brockton, Mass. the other day to answer to a charge of blasphemy.

Two Claimants of Clark Millions

Here, left to right, are Mrs. Addie Clark Miller of Denver and Mrs. Alma Clark Hines of Orrick, Mo., two of the three women who claim a portion of the $50,000,000 estate left by the late William A. Clark, copper magnate and former senator from Montana. These women assert Clark married their mother in Missouri in 1889 and deserted her a few years later.

Swenson Well Is Spudding In Near Crosbyton

CROSBYTON, Feb. 17.—One of the last wells along the caprock to be spudded in is the Swenson No. 1 about twenty-five miles South East of Crosbyton. This well is now below the 1300 foot level and progress seems to be good.

It is very strongly intimated that other wells will be begun in this territory in the near future and if good production of gas is secured, the South Plains will be relieved of the only handicap of industrial development. Varied resources are only awaiting cheap fuel for development.

GULF REFINING COMPANY BUILDING AT BROWNFIELD

Special to the Avalanche BROWNFIELD, Feb. 17.—Another building project is now under way in Brownfield that will help swell the building permits. This time it is the Gulf Refining Company, who have purchased property and are constructing a wholesale plant that will cost near $25,000.00, it will be a credit to the town.

HEREFORD PEOPLE HEAR A. & M. AGENT

HEREFORD, Feb. 17.—"Farmers must learn to live at home and cut the expenses just as much as possible, if they are to succeed in this section," was the message John R. Edmonds, district agricultural agent of the A. & M. College, left with the local people after spending Monday and Tuesday in Deaf Smith county, inspecting the work that County Agent R. O. Dunkle is doing here. Mr. Edmonds predicts a great future for the poultry industry in this territory.

Edmonds was shown a number of diversified farmers here, and was also taken to a number of places where calves are being fed on home grown products for the market.

DEPEW SEES POLITICAL MILLENIUM

By PAUL R. MALLON
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Political Washington went into hysterics when word was transmitted from New York that Chauncey M. Depew, shrewd student of national affairs, had pictured in a speech the possibility of Calvin Coolidge and Al Smith, running as President and Vice-President in 1928 on a non-partisan ticket.

Depew said the present is the most wonderful age of non-partisanship in politics in his 70 years of experience.

In Congress the two parties are working together in strange harmony. Upon the tax bill and the world court issue in the Senate—the only two important problems that have been voted upon in either house—the Democrats combined and compromised with the Republicans at every turn.

But though all this is true, there is no indication that the Democrats would scrap their party and advocate Mr. Coolidge for a third term.

Likewise the Republicans showed no desire to ditch Vice-President Charles G. Dawes (although some Senators secretly would like to) and hail Al Smith, the Tammany Democrat, as a running-mate for the present chief executive.

The distance between the White House and the Capitol became the subject of facetious debate in the Senate recently when Senator Jim Reed, Democrat, Missouri said:

"The White House is about one mile from here and with reasonable expedition a man can travel from that immediate vicinity to the Senate in less than fifteen minutes, as the Vice-President well knows."

This brought a laugh at the expense of Dawes, then sitting in the chair, as members recalled a day last March when he made a desperate rush from his apartment at the Willard Hotel to the Senate just too late to assure confirmation of the nomination of Charles B. Warren as attorney general.

A moment later Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, whose fables and negro stories some day will be collected into an important volume of humor, said:

"The Senator from Missouri said that the Vice-President well knew how long it would take to come from the White House to the Senate. I want to ask him how long it would take to go from the Vice-President's chair to the White House?"

This recalled the alleged presidential aspirations of the Vice-President, and Reed replied:

An Event Of Interest To All The South Plains

BETTER HOMES EXPOSITION

Lubbock, March 15th. to 19th.

Spring is a time of the year most appropriate for getting new ideas about home—about making home more lovely—more inviting. It is a time of the year when one wants a change—wants prettier things for inside the home—wants recreation from the harrowing tasks of ordinary housecleaning and house keeping.

The Better Homes Exposition will be one of the greatest educational events for "BETTER HOMES" staged in the Western part of Texas.

Under the Direction of Mrs. Florence Austin Chase of Los Angeles, Calif., sponsored and financed by "The South Plains" Daily Newspaper—
