TOPEKA, Kas., Jan. 6.—Thus far twenty are known to have perished in the wreck on the Rock Island between the California and Mexico express and a stock train near Willard, Kan., early this morning. Only a few of the dead have been identified. The bodies are being held here to await identification and the injured are being cared for in the hospitals at this place. The cause of the wreck has not yet been announced.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 6.—Rock Island California and Mexico express, known as train No. 3, which left Chicago Monday night at 11:30 for the West, collided head on shortly after 1 o'clock this morning at Willard, Kan., west of Topeka, with a cattle train.

The whole passenger train was demolished.

At least thirty persons were killed and every person on the train injured. A relief train that left Topeka for the scene has returned to that city with the dead and injured.

Two Cars Filled With Passengers Demolished and at Least 20 People Killed

Most of the Victims were in the Two Forward Cars and Were Homesteaders Taking Advantage of the Low Rates to Oklahoma and the Southwest city at 10 o'clock last night twenty minutes late. At the time of the accident the train was running at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The train carried many persons for Oklahoma, who had taken advantage of the homesteaders' rates that closed yesterday.

TWO CARS DEMOLISHED
TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 6.—H. G. Parsons, a reporter for the Topeka State Journal, who was on the wrecked Rock Island train, arrived at Topeka at 8 o'clock this morning after driving overland from the scene of the collision. Parsons escaped with slight injuries.

THIRTY INSTANTLY KILLED

Parsons says at least thirty persons were instantly killed, while several others were fatally and a large number slightly injured. Two cars filled with passengers were demolished, both locomotives were destroyed and four carloads of stock were torn to pieces. Dozens of dead animals were strewn over the right-of-way.

The stock train was drawn by one of the big "mogul" engines, while the express engine was one of the newest and fastest in the service. The impact of the two locomotives was something terrific and was heard for miles.

The force of the collision drove the tender of the passenger back through the baggage and mail cars, telescoping the forward passenger coaches and literally tearing them to pieces. The victims were terribly mangled and many were burned by escaping steam.

Passengers on the sleepers were thrown from their berths by the force of the collision, but none were seriously hurt. Every assistance possible to the injured was given by a hastily organized relief corps from the uninjured passengers, and the victims were taken care of in the best manner possible until the relief train with surgeons and nurses arrived from Topeka.

OFFICIALS HEAR NOTHING

The general Rock Island officials in Fort Worth know nothing of the details of the wreck, as it occurred on the Kansas division of the line, and particulars of the collision are reported to the Topeka office.

The ill-fated passenger which was train No. 3, left Kansas City at 9:40 p. m., instead of 9:40 a. m. It pulled out of Topeka at 11:50 p. m., and a few minutes later crashed head on into a northbound freight, running thirty miles an hour.

THE WRECKED TRAIN

Passenger train No. 3 was made up of two sleepers, a tourist sleeper, cafe-observation car, chair car, day coach and baggage and express cars. It was a through train to Los Angeles and San Francisco via El Paso.

In Fort Worth it was thought the wrecked train was the Golden State Limited, but this is a mistake.

While the dispatches received here detailing the wreck state that the entire train, except the sleepers, was reduced to wreckage, Rock Island officials are not inclined to believe that such is the case.

NOT IN THIS DIVISION

At the office of the superintendent of the railway mail service the information was given out that no reports would be received here regarding the mail clerks in the wreck of the Rock Island train. That portion of the country is in the seventh division. Assistant Superintendent Cate read the report published in The Telegram extra and expressed the opinion that two or three mail clerks who were on the train were in great danger and were either badly injured or were killed.

GORMAN WANTS AN EXPLANATION

Senator Introduces Resolution Asking for More Information on Panama

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—Senator Gorman yesterday introduced the following resolution:

Resolved, That the president be requested, if not in his judgment incompatible with the public interest, to inform the senate:

1. The date when and the circumstances under which the United States intervened for the first time, and each succeeding time, with the military force in the internal affairs of New Granada, or Colombia, under the treaty of 1846, whether such intervention was on the initiative of the United States or by the request of New Granada or Colombia, or in consequence of any official representation of either, and also to transmit to the senate copies of the letters or notes in the department of state and of the orders by the navy department relating to such intervention.

2. Also to inform the senate whether or not the United States has been asked by New Granada or Colombia, or any of its representatives either the guarantee of the neutrality of the isthmus or of the sovereignty of New Granada or Colombia over the same, and if the United States has been so asked, dates and circumstances thereof, and to send to the senate copies of the letters or notes in each case conveying the application and what was done thereunder by the United States.

3. To inform the United States in which, if any, districts on the isthmus of Panama referred to by the president in his last annual message, the United States intervened by the employment of military force solely on its own initiative and uninvited by the government owning the isthmus and also to inform the senate of the circumstances in cases which required such intervention and transmit copies of the orders issued by the navy department for such purpose.

4. And also that he will inform the senate of the dates when circumstances under which the United States has intervened in the internal affairs of New Granada, or Colombia by military force in aid of a revolt or rebellion or disturbance of the peace there or to suppress such revolt, rebellion or disturbance.

5. And also to inform the senate which words, if any, in the treaty of 1846 authorized the United States in the opinion of the president to enter by military force and uninvited into the territorial jurisdiction of New Granada or Colombia, in order to prevent the interruption or embarrassment of free traffic across the isthmus.

Mr. Gorman asked for immediate consideration of the resolution, but upon Mr. Allison's objection the matter went over.

FROG WITHOUT BRAIN

Biologist Exhibits Unusual Specimen to Teachers' Institute

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Jan. 6.—A brainless frog is one of the wonders exhibited in the biology department at the state science teachers' convention here. It is shown by Professor Wilder of Cornell, who is a specialist on brains.

Four years ago Professor Wilder extracted the cerebrum of the frog, which has lived and flourished without it. The cerebrum, the professor explains, is about half of the entire brain of the frog, and it controls the special senses and voluntary muscles. He placed the frog on a cylinder and rolled the cylinder. The frog, without sense, still struggled to keep its balance.

When not performing before biology classes the frog is kept in a specially made glass jar and provided with water, food and air.

WEALTHY GIRLS TO CARRY HOD

STAMFORD, Conn., Jan. 6.—Fifty young women, the daughters of wealthy parents, attending Rosemary Hall Seminary at Rock Ridge, Greenwich, have set themselves the task of building a chapel. They have been engaged for several days in loading rock on to a wagon and hauling it to the building site. Girls are acting as teamsters, as loaders and as receivers at the stone pile, which is growing rapidly.

As soon as the weather will permit the girls will dig out the pit for the foundations, mix the sand and mortar, carry the hod and do whatever else the actual work of building may demand. In a word, the chapel is to be their work and theirs alone.

Fifty girls in their short blue skirts, white sweaters with the letter R in front and hatless went after the first load of stone, one couple driving the team and the others riding on the wagon or on the backs of horses.

Some of the stones were so large they took two or three girls to lift them into the wagon. Those who saw them were almost shocked when their action revealed fingerie not intended for the eyes of others.

Every day after the school sessions the girls, attired in high rubber boots and with the sleeves of their sweaters rolled well up, went after rocks.

The result is a huge pile of stone to be seen near the seminary, where it will remain until the weather is such the girls can begin building the structure.

CLASH IS REPORTED BETWEEN JAPANESE AND THE RUSSIANS

UNCONFIRMED STORY OF TROUBLE BETWEEN THE FORCES AT SEOUL LEADS TO RUMOR THAT WAR HAS BEEN DECLARED

AMERICAN MARINES ARE LANDED

Report That Large Force of Japanese Is Ready to Land at Masanpho—Believed That Russian Response Has Been Given to Japan

NOT TO SUPPORT JAPAN

PARIS, Jan. 6.—The French foreign office has received a dispatch from Seoul, Korea, giving the circumstances leading to the landing of the American marines. It says the Korean army was seriously dissatisfied, chiefly because the pay was in arrears, and was threatening to engage in an outbreak at any moment. The American minister, as a precaution, asked for marines, which were landed.

Two British warships, two Russian and one American warship are in the harbor at Chemulpo.

NOT TO SUPPORT JAPAN

PARIS, Jan. 6.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Paris edition of the New York Herald says he is authorized to state that Admiral Evans has been instructed not to allow the movements of his warships to be such as to encourage the construction that the United States is supporting Japan.

The correspondent says that the action of the Washington government is sincerely appreciated, the conviction in some quarters, and the nature of the reply remains undisclosed. There is every indication that further negotiations will take place.

COTTON SLUMPS

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Cotton slumped 19 to 23 points shortly after the opening today, on the strength of war rumors.

WHEAT JUMPS

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Under excited bidding by shorts and the frightened rumor of a clash between Russian and Japanese troops, May wheat jumped 23-3c today.

MARKET EXCITED

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Speculative stocks and the staple took a tumble today on war news and the feed stuffs went higher, and the end is not yet. On account of the news coming in mid-day the market has not had a chance to right itself to conditions, but there is excitement of every character and it is hard to tell at this hour which will be the trend. If the news is confirmed, the break will be more general and the ad-

JAPANESE READY TO LAND

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The Herald this morning publishes the following from its correspondent:

CHIEFOO, Jan. 5.—Eight thousand Japanese are reported as being ready to land at Masanpho. Their landing probably means war.

A regiment of Cossacks is expected at Port Arthur and the reserves are being moved from Blagovestchensk to Isitihar. The position of the troops in Manchuria is being rearranged, but their location is being kept secret. Stores are accumulating at Port Arthur and military telegraph wires run in all directions. There is a greatly increased vigilance among the port officials and military. Meanwhile the utmost gaiety prevails, with balls, masquerades and theatricals.

The Novi Krai emphatically affirms that "Manchuria is henceforth Russian and will never be surrendered. At present the Russo-Japanese negotiations regard only Korea and will end most favorably for Russia if the latter keeps a powerful fleet at Port Arthur and 200,000 bayonets in Manchuria and warns Japan that any expectation of success over Russia is an idle dream."

LANDING OF MARINES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The navy department is in receipt of two cablegrams from the commanding officer of the United States steamer Vicksburg at Chemulpo, dated the 4th and 5th instant respectively, as follows:

"After consultation with the American minister we are of the same opinion. Aspect of affairs very grave at Seoul. There is much fear of riot by Korean soldiers. I have completed arrangements to send company of marines overland by railroad at critical moment; also about thirty-five men and field gun from this vessel at Chemulpo if deemed necessary."

The second message is as follows:

"Two officers and thirty-six men left at 10 a. m. for Seoul. The remainder of guard is prepared if any demand. There is little change in the situation."

REPLY RECEIVED

TOKIO, Jan. 6.—It is believed the Russian response has been handed the government, but the delivery was zealously vance on grains will be greater.

About noon a telegram was received from San Francisco stating that war had been declared. This message was repeated across the continent as fast as the wires could carry it, and it struck the exchanges at 12:30 o'clock. Wheat made an advance of 2½ cents, corn a cent and oats a half. Cotton had opened about 11 points off and during the morning had fluctuated about the opening figures. As soon as the war news was received it started to slide and before a stop was made it had broken sixty points. There was a break all down the line in stock. All securities were affected.

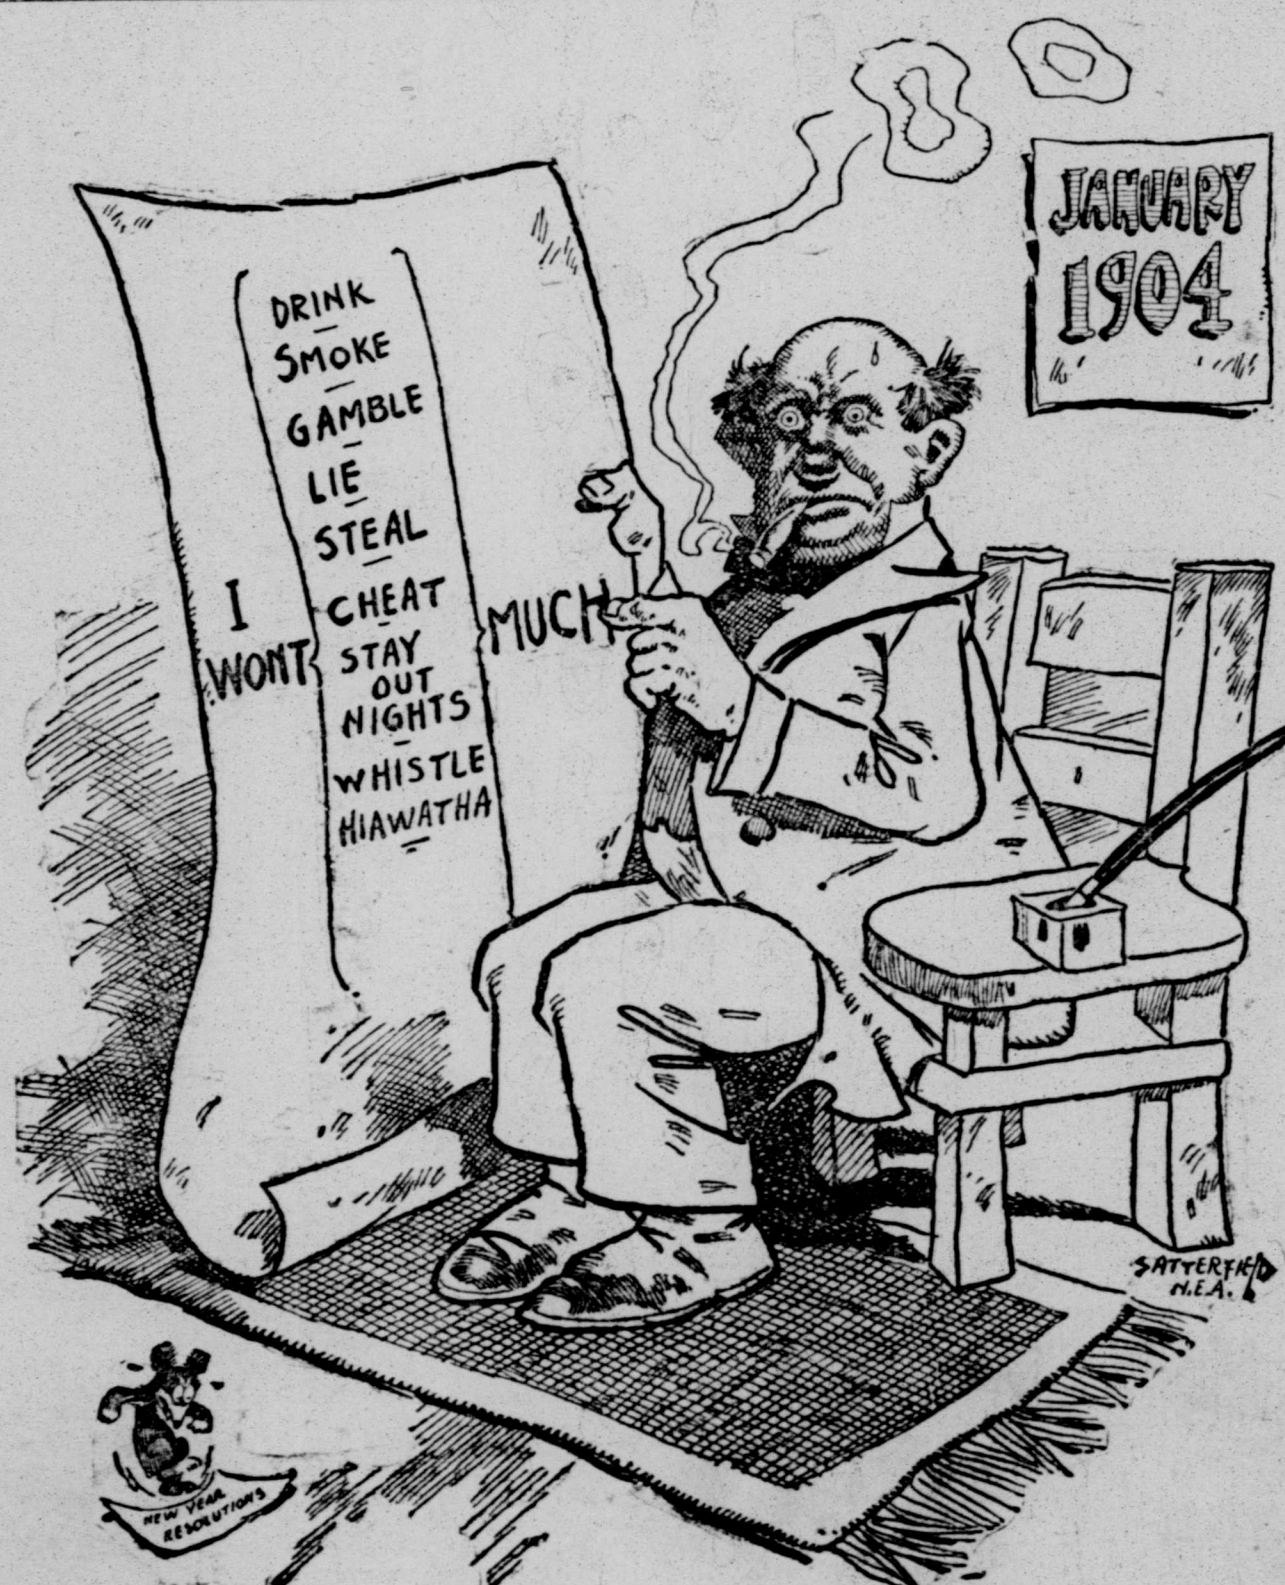

A dispatch from Washington states that a cable has been received advising that there has been rioting between the Japanese and Korean soldiers at Seoul and the interests of the Americans are threatened. The Washington government is taking every precaution to protect the Americans.

THE TREATY IS SIGNED

Consul-General Skinner's Mission to Abyssinia Successful.

JIBUTIL, French Somaliland, Jan. 6.—The United States expedition to Abyssinia, under Consul General Skinner of Marseille, which arrived at Addis Abeba December 21, has successfully carried out the principal features of the mission. A treaty between the United States and the Empire of Ethiopia, opening for the first friendly commercial relations, has been negotiated and signed. Emperor Menelik has also given his formal acceptance of the invitation to participate in the St. Louis exposition.

As a personal tribute from Emperor Menelik to President Roosevelt, Mr. Skinner has been charged to deliver to the president two lions and a pair of elephant tusks. Each member of the party was tendered a decoration, the acceptance of which is held in abeyance, owing to the official character of the expedition. The closing audience granted by Emperor Menelik to Mr. Skinner and the leaders of the American escort was of a particularly cordial character.

Today's Market Quotations

Latest and Most Complete Report Printed in North Texas

NORTH FORT WORTH, Jan. 6.—Today's receipts of cattle fell a little short of Monday's and Tuesday's run, and with a proportionately smaller run of steers, the market ruled about steady with yesterday on this class of cattle, with cows selling a little slow and bulls and calves at steady to strong prices.

Medium fed steers averaging 1030 pounds sold at $3.25 with several bunches of lighter weight at $3.15, and a range in sales between $2.70 and $3.25. Four choice quality cows averaging 945 pounds brought $2.50, with a top on best car lots averaging 970 pounds at $2.50 and the general bulk of range stuff at $2.10 to $2.40. Medium butchers were easy at yesterday's prices, the big end changing hands at $1.75 to $1.90, with a few light, common, thin, canners selling as low as $1.25.

A few choice calves touched $4.25, with the average medium quality around $3.00. Bulls sold fully steady, the best bringing $2.50, with the feeder kinds at $1.70 to $2.25.

The postponed meeting of the live stock exchange was held yesterday afternoon.

Very little business outside of the regular routine was transacted, the only matter brought up for discussion being the new rule regarding solicitors employed by the commission houses. After a general discussion by the members present it was decided to reduce the number of traveling solicitors from nine to five and each commission house was ordered, under heavy penalty, to file with the secretary a list of their traveling representatives with name and postoffice address. These names will be posted on the main bulletin board in the lobby of the exchange building.

In connection with the regular meeting yesterday a directors' meeting was held and Charles L. Ware was elected a director, vice Sam Davidson, vice president and director of the exchange, resigned. An election for vice president will be held at the next regular meeting.

STOCK YARDS NOTES

"The Fort Worth hog market leads, others follow," is the motto of S. R. Overton of Hennessy, Ok., who is now a regular shipper to the local market. Mr. Overton has tried them all and after figuring out his net proceeds he gives this market the credit due it and says that in the future his shipments will all come here. Today he had in a consignment of choice 235-pound hogs which he sold at $4.92½, the top price for the day.

"Grass is a little short in Jeff Davis county," says J. W. Merrell of Fort Davis, "and all now depends on the spring rains. If we do not get any rain until the first of June some losses will be sustained by the cattlemen. In that country we have no trouble getting through the winter, but it is the spring months that tell on our stock. In a few places the ranchmen are a little overstocked, but no difficulty would be experienced if it comes in the early spring. Nearly all of our young cattle are bought by the ranchmen of the far northwest country in the spring, so that at this season of the year the bulk of the stock is made up of breeding cattle, principally cows. It is these that suffer most in the spring about calving time. No effort whatever is made in Jeff Davis county to raise feed for cattle, as the climate is too dry and besides the elevation is too great. All of my ranch is located at an altitude of 5,500 feet, while there are others still higher. There are no sheep in that part of the country, and the cattlemen have everything their own way." Mr. Merrell states that during the next month there will be several big shipments made from that part of the state.

A slump in hog values and unfavorable conditions at other points forced a slow opening on the local market this morning, with trading dull at a decline of 5c to 10c from yesterday. While the bulk of the supply changed hands on the morning market, there was a bad feeling among both buyers and sellers and a part of the run was carried over for afternoon trading. All weights shared in the decline, but choice medium to heavies had the call in both price and demand.

One choice bunch of 238-pound hogs, shipped in by S. R. Overton of Hennessy, O. T., topped the market at $4.92½, with the bulk of sales being made at $4.77½ to $4.87½. A few extra heavy hogs were offered and in most cases sold about steady to 5c lower. Pigs and lights were of short quality, and sold weak at the opening decline. A small drove, averaging 123 pounds, brought $4.77½, with a low price of $4.50.

Choice sorted hogs are quoted at $4.85 to $4.95; mixed packers at $4.75 to $4.85, and pigs and lights at $4.50 to $5.

The first consignment of sheep during the new year at the local yards were received yesterday and sold on the late afternoon markets at strong prices as compared with the last few shipments sold at the yards.

One bunch of 282 average quality Texas sheep, weighing seventy-four pounds, sold at $3.50, with one medium quality fifty-pound lamb at the same price, and three rams at $2.50. Packers and commission men are offering all encouragement to Texas farmers to raise a better grade of sheep and put them on heavy feed before marketing them, as the demand is mainly for the heavy fed mutton.

DAVE GAY DIES OF WOUND FROM PISTOL BULLET

Eunice Ferrell Was Arrested
Again This Morning
on the Charge

Dave Gay, who was shot in a rooming house on lower Main street on the night of December 27, died this morning as a result of the wound Eunice Ferrell, the woman who was arrested at the time and released on a nominal bond, has been rearrested, and her bond fixed by Justice Rowland at $1,000. She failed to make the proper security.

It will be remembered that on the night of December 27 Gay was shot while attempting to open a door in one of the rooming houses on Main street. Within the room was the woman, Eunice Ferrell. She surrendered to the officers. What had occurred prior to the shooting did not develop.

Gay's wound was dressed by Dr. Withers at the time, and then an effort was made to have the city physician's office take charge of the case, but as the man had been serving a term on the county road, and had just been released, the city physician decided it was a case for the county physician and he would not take the matter up.

Salvation Army Reports a Case of Destitution in This City
Which Should Be Looked After at Once

A woman aged 66 years, living in the open air, has subsided on bread and water for two weeks, and is today in a destitute condition.

Captain Cumble of the Salvation Army reports to The Telegram a case of five persons who are in absolute want and who need the attention of the charity inclined. They are on East Tenth street, just about at the point where that thoroughfare stops. There are five, a woman aged 66 years, her daughter, a widow with three children, all young, one of them 2 years old being an invalid who has never walked a step. The Salvation Army has helped them for some time. At that time they were in a house. They have been unable to pay the rent and in consequence have been put out in the open air, and they have nothing upon which to subsist. The mother of the children has been washing at 50 cents per day to try to keep the wolf from the door.

GIRLS AT HOME
Home is paradise. If it isn't it should be. Girls, what are you doing to help keep the flowers blossoming and the fields of paradise green?

There can be no paradise where there is not the spirit of willing—yes, eager helpfulness among the girls of the home.

Perhaps some girls have never set themselves deliberately at work to figure out just how they can be helpful. Remember that to keep a house in order is one of the mother's greatest burdens, and then answer these questions—they may suggest ways of saving many steps for weary feet:

Do you make your bed or does mother make it?

Do you keep your dresses hung in the closet or wardrobe, or are yesterday's garments hung up by mother after you are in school?

Do you collect your soiled linen and take it to the laundry, or does mother prepare your linen for the tub?

Do you darn your stockings and mend your own clothing? Do you sometimes sew on a button for your father and the boys?

Do you iron those pretty ruffles of which you are so proud?

Do you press out your ribbons?

Do you attend to your bath and brush your teeth and file your nails without being told to do so?

Are you prompt at meals?

Do you wash dishes?

Do you learn all you can about your mother's kitchen duties?

Do you dust?

Do you straighten a picture when it is awry?

Do you hang up your coat and hat and put away your gloves and over-shoes?

Do you replace the books you read?

Do you fold the papers you glance through?

Do you turn down a rug that some one has turned up at one end?

Do you do your best to remedy whatever wrong you see?

Do you take interest in your paradise?

The girl who can answer all these questions without a twinge of conscience at the remembrance of some duty left undone is doing her part toward making home a paradise.

THOMASON MAKES VALUABLE HAUL

Trunk Full of Clothes Which Are Identified by Baird Officer as Property Stolen in Town of Baird

Deputy Sheriff James Johnson arrived here from Baird this morning in time to identify a lot of property recovered last night by Detective James Thomason which was stolen from T. E. Powell of Baird.

Last night Detective Thomason made a raid and arrested Otis Mayes, C. W. Glasscock, Halie Hall and Dollie Hall. He has been watching the young man, Mayes, for several days, and when he swooped down on the crowd he found a trunk full of clothes which he believes to be stolen.

The goods were marked so that it shows they were from Baird, and the officers there were communicated with, the result being the hurried trip of Deputy Sheriff Johnson to this city. Glasscock is a bartender. He is held on a vagrancy charge. The charge against Mayes is theft, and the two women have been released on bond.

As soon as Deputy Sheriff Johnson examined the stuff recovered he identified it as belonging to Mr. Powell, a merchant in the town of Baird. In the trunk were the following articles:

Four pairs buck gloves, 2 pairs undressed kid gloves, one dozen ties, 3 pairs Clapp's patent leather shoes, 26 pairs of gentlemen's hose, 2 pairs suspenders, 3 pairs fancy white hose, 2 pairs of drawers, 2 pairs Scriveners elastic drawers, 4 suits underwear, 1 blue suit underwear, 7 blue undershirts, 17 negligee shirts, 2 overalls, 27 linen collars, 3 woolen shirts, 5 pairs pants, 3 coats, 1 white shirt, 1 pair pants with suspenders, 4 Stetson hats.

This morning Officer Sobe Maddox went with Mr. Johnson and they found several other articles, among them hats. These hats had Mr. Powell's name on the sweat leather.

The young man will, no doubt be taken back to Baird to answer the charge made against him.

NO INSPECTION OF OPERA HOUSE IS MADE HERE

Chief Maddox Says He Knows Conditions and the House Is in Safe Arrangement at the Present Time

"I have not made a special inspection of the Greenwall opera house since the Chicago fire, because I have not considered it necessary to go over the work I am doing every day of the year, and looking for trouble just because of a safety spasm which has struck the country," so spoke Chief Maddox of the Fort Worth fire department when asked if he had made a recent inspection of the Fort Worth opera house. The newspaper reports from all over the country, as far away as New York and as near by as Dallas, state that since the Chicago fire there has been an inspection of public halls made. The Telegram asked Mr. Maddox about it. He continued:

"I consider Mr. Greenwall the most extraordinary theatrical manager I have ever seen. There is no manager of a public hall in this country who exercises as much care, who endeavors to make his place as safe and who works in such thorough harmony with the fire department on such matters. His house is kept in first-class shape all the time and I am in it every week looking about to see what facilities there are for the protection of the people. The exits are all marked in plain language. They can be seen from any part of the house and there are sufficient exits for any crowd he may have in there. The doors to these exits push out, they can be opened with a touch and they are never barred or bolted when there is a crowd within. Mr. Greenwall has shown that he wants to make the place safe and I am in and out of there every week and take notice of every precaution. I know the condition of the house and I am not making a special inspection."

WHEAT IS NOT SUFFERING YET

Major J. J. Jarvis Says Dry Weather Has Not Destroyed Prospects

Major J. J. Jarvis this morning, discussing the need of rain over the country, said that wheat was in bad condition and needed rain in most sections. However, he believed that wheat would not be seriously damaged if it failed to rain for some time yet.

Some farmers believe contrary to Mr. Jarvis' views, and say that wheat is in very fair condition and will do well, even better now that winter is here, if it does not rain for some weeks yet.

Cattlemen claim that grazing would be very seriously injured if rains should fall at this time; that it would have a tendency to rot what grass there is.

MUSICIANS ALARMED JAPAN'S ARMY PRAISED

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—In the revision of the city building ordinances for the protection of the theater patrons in Chicago, the musicians will demand that attention be given to the orchestra pits. At least two exits from each pit will be one request. The musicians are also considering asking that more room be provided for them and that less wood be used in the construction of their quarters.

Charges that the pit of the burned Iroquois theater was dangerous have been made at a meeting of the executive committee of the Federation of Musicians. A communication was addressed to Coroner Treager, asking that he summon members of the Iroquois orchestra to the inquest. The musicians, it is believed, are in a position to throw much light on the conditions in the front part of the house at the time of the fire. A committee was appointed to confer with Mayor Harrison.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 6.—The business men's club has tendered a farewell banquet to General Frederick Grant, who goes to Chicago to assume command of the department of the lakes.

In the course of the banquet the hope was expressed that he would some day pass from military to civil life to head a republican ticket for president, a wish in which he good naturedly acquiesced. The banquet was attended by seventy-five representative Texans, and as many army officers. Federal Senator Adolph Heber-wish of Mexico was among the speakers. A glowing tribute to Japan and the Japanese army by Captain H. E. Fly, Twenty-sixth infantry, was vociferously applauded by the military officers in attendance. Captain Fly, who fought by the side of Japanese soldiers in the Boxer campaign, said that Japan was a military power of great strength and that Russia "will have no walk-over in case of war with the Japanese empire."

THE LATEST IN RAILROAD NEWS

LOVETT'S APPOINTMENT
The announcement comes from Houston that Hon. R. S. Lovett is soon to withdraw from the law firm with which he has been connected for many years, to become the legal head of the Harriman interests, with headquarters in New York City. It is said the new move has a bearing on the presidency of the Houston and Texas Central.

For some years, Mr. Lovett has been the legal adviser of the Harriman interests in the South, and the Southern Pacific-Rock Island deal was manipulated by him. As a phase of this gigantic deal Mr. Lovett was some months ago elected president of the Houston & Texas Central, but in view of his recent promotion his resignation as president of the Central will be forthcoming.

THE BROWNSVILLE ROAD
President B. F. Youkum of the "Frisco," also connected with the St. Louis, Brownsville and Mexico road now under construction, is authority for the statement that the line will be in operation between Sinton and Houston by July 1.

No work has been done on this link of the new road, and the statement made by President Youkum indicates that construction on this part of the line will commence soon. Construction has been pushed vigorously on the Brownsville-Sinton branch of the road, which is also to be ready for operation July 1.

President Youkum also stated that by fall trains on the new road will be running into Galveston, but this may be done by track arrangement with one of the several lines between Houston and Galveston. It is believed that the track arrangement will be made with the Santa Fe.

The building of the new road is the beginning of a great railroad to extend from Houston to the City of Mexico, which is to be several hundred miles shorter than any other route reaching the republic from the United States. The line is projected from Brownsville to Tampico, thence across the mountains direct to the City of Mexico.

President Lott has been instructed by President Youkum to make the overland trip from Houston to the City of Mexico as early as possible. It was stated in this paper some time ago that such a trip was in contemplation, but then it was not intimated that it would be made for some time yet.

It is believed in railroad circles that when President Lott has made a personal trip over the proposed route into and through Mexico, a report will at once be made and the construction of the line commenced without unnecessary delay. It is also said that behind this new enterprise is the great "Frisco" system proper, and that when the road has been completed its operation will be in the hands of the "Frisco."

There is another report current in Texas that the "Frisco" is also behind the construction of the Trinity and Brazos Valley road, and that President Youkum has given orders for the extension of that road from Cleburne to a connection with the Fort Worth and Rio Grande near Granbury in Hood county; also that the line will be built south from Mexico to Houston to a connection with the new "Frisco" line recently chartered to build from Houston to Sabine river.

STORY LOOKS IMPROBABLE

There appeared in the newspapers under a Guthrie, O. T. date line of January 3 the announcement that in the incorporation of the Texas, New Mexico and Western railroad to be constructed from Dallas, Tex., to Deming, N. M., the people of Oklahoma see the culmination of their hopes that a Missouri Pacific extension will be pushed through that territory from the northeast to the southwest, where a connection would be made with a western outlet.

The dispatch further says that the project is backed by the Gould interests and is intended to parallel the Fort Worth and Denver City road. There is certainly an error in the statement that the road is to parallel the Denver road if it is projected to run from Dallas to Deming, N. M. In the first place the Denver road does not run in the direction of Deming, but on the contrary, penetrates the country to the northwest instead of the southwestern territory. If the new Oklahoma road is to parallel any road in building to Deming it would be the Texas and Pacific, which is itself a Gould property. Therefore, it would be out of the question for such a thing to be done. In Texas very little consideration is given the report that the Texas, New Mexico and Western will ever be built.

The Oklahoma dispatch concludes with

"The Gould extension, chartered from Peru Junction, Kas., southwest through Oklahoma to a Texas connection, is already surveyed as far as Guthrie, and was to have connected with the Fort Worth and Denver, had the Gould people succeeded in getting control of the latter. It is stated now that the Oklahoma-Gould road will connect with the Texas, New Mexico and Western, giving the Gould interests still another short cut to the southwest."

A TOWN LOT SALE

Arrangements are being made to have a town lot sale at London, a station on the Dallas extension of the Rock Island, which is located half way between the cities of Fort Worth and Dallas. The date has not been fixed, but it will be announced within a short time, and it is expected it will be largely attended. The town has an artesian water supply, and the Rock Island people expect to see it build up very rapidly.

MR. BURT'S SUCCESSOR

It comes as almost a certainty that E. H. Harriman will succeed to the presidency of the Union Pacific, as he did to the presidency of the Southern Pacific, upon the retirement of C. M. Hays nearly two years ago.

Mr. Harriman is now president of the Oregon Short Line and the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company, and it has been his fondest hopes to eventually be at the head of all the properties which he controls.

L. S. Thorne, general manager of the Texas and Pacific, has also been mentioned in connection with the presidency of the Union Pacific, but it is not thought that Mr. Thorne is being seriously considered in connection with the appointment.

The retirement of Mr. Burt as president of the Union Pacific comes in the nature of a surprise.

PIKE'S PEAK ELECTRIC LINE

Electricity will soon supplant steam as the motive power on the famous road—the Manitou and Pike's Peak. General Manager C. W. Sells has employed a New York engineer, who is at work on a new storage system, which may solve every problem connected with an electric line from Manitou, 7,000 feet above the sea, to the summit of Pike's Peak, 14,143 feet altitude. The inventor has perfected a successful working model. He expects to be able to electrify the road in May or June, this year, in time for the tourist travel. The air on the peak is so charged with natural electricity as to materially interfere with the operation of the trolley cars; hence the experiment with an entirely new system.

HE HAS A MEAN JOB

Pennsylvania Member of Committee on Elections an Old Hand

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Martin Edgar Olmsted, chairman of committee on elections No. 2, hails from Harrisburg, Pa. There are three election committees in the house in order to expedite the decision of contests and they are distinguished by numbers. Olmsted gained a great deal of publicity last year from the fact that he assisted in making the Butler record. Congressman Butler of St. Louis, is the only man in the history of the government who has been unseated twice in one congress. Olmsted wrote the second report depriving the Missouriian of his seat, salary, rights and privileges. He is a bitter partisan and his action for a time threatened to reduce his popularity. At least with the democratic side of the house, Olmsted's committee will have charge of the Butler contest in the present congress.

This Pennsylvanian is one of those that hide their ages in the record of congress, where most of the members set down that fact among many others. He says he was born in Ulysses, Pa., and leaves it to the reader to guess the rest. He began his public career early in life as a state tax collector. He afterwards became a lawyer, Lebanon Valley College last year conferred upon him the honorary degree of doctor of laws. He is serving his fourth term in congress.

IDENTITY OF VICTIMS IS NECESSARY

Definite Charges Must Be Lodged in Order to Make Legal Prosecution of Any One Responsible for the Fire

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—"Make every possible effort to ascertain the identity of some person who died in this corner."

States Attorney Dineen has made this request of Coroner Truesher as they stood at the end of the building gallery passage where, before a locked exit, more than thirty of the victims of the Iroquois disaster were found. In this request, repeated at every point where bodies were found, States Attorney Dineen gave the key to one of the gravest questions that will confront the grand jury in fixing the criminal responsibility for deaths.

It will not be sufficient for the purposes of a criminal prosecution for the coroner to show that the locked door was responsible for thirty deaths, even if the responsibility for the locked door is fixed. In order to sustain a prosecution for manslaughter it will be necessary for the coroner to determine the identity of one or more of the individuals whose deaths the door caused.

It will not be sufficient to show that the three steps leading out of the first balcony to the main staircase caused over a score of persons to fall and die. The identity of one or more of these persons must be proven in court before a charge of manslaughter can be sustained.

Appreciating the technicalities of law, which require minute proofs, the state's attorney cautioned the coroner to make special efforts to ascertain the identity of persons who died at each of the exits.

Tonight—Black Patti Troubadours.

Thursday night—West's Minstrels.

Friday matinee and night—Paul Gilmore.

Saturday matinee and night—The Lilliputians.

There should have been a larger audience at Greenwall's opera house last night to attend the performance of "Rosemary." It is a pretty play, a play abounding in that human interest which unites mankind in a bond of brotherly love. The man of forty loves the maid, but he knows her secret and the secret of her lover. He has assisted them in an elopement, and while they are guests under his own roof, he discovers that he has a strong affection for the maid. He wants to declare it, and she unwittingly shows a fondness for him. But his honor, the honor of an English gentleman, is stronger than the love, and he makes a personal sacrifice, to the end that she may wed the man of her choice. The play has a peculiarly. The first three acts are within three days in the month of June, 1838. The last act is fifty years later. Those who were laughing, joyous revelers upon the date of the coronation of Queen Victoria, which is the particular incident of the first, second and third acts, pass away in the meantime, except the central figure of the piece, who has in fifty years become old and gray, just turning 80, and the last act is by him and him alone. He has the stage to himself, and devotes the entire act to a soliloquy, as the memories of the past present the persons he has known so many years before.

Mr. Kyle as Sir Jasper Thorndyke is the English gentleman whose honor is stronger than his love. He has a good voice, a fine stage appearance and a natural ability which stamps him at once the finished actor. His wit is wit, his heroic speeches are spoken in the finest tone, and his manner of meeting every emergency is a manner which cannot fail to please. His soliloquy in the last act is well said, and it holds attention throughout. His make-up for the change of fifty years is magnificent. Miss Helen Prindle is the young lady whose charms win the hearts. She is a delightful little body, a sweet voice, magnificent hair, which falls about her shoulders, and a sweet mouth, which says sweet things. Innocence is shown in her every action and every word. Mr. Weber is truly the bookworm and professor, a man of determined ideas, and much a crank. George Gaston has the character of a retired captain of the Royal Navy. The captain, when excited, loses control of his voice, and his talkative wife is ready on every occasion to "finish it for him."

The play is a delightful one, and cannot fail to please on any stage. It is clean, no horse play, no overdrawn features, and the costuming of the early years of the century is carried out nicely.

BLACK PATTI TROUBADOURS
America's greatest aggregation of Afro-American Thespians will be the attraction at Greenwall's opera house tonight.

Black Patti's lyric triumphs in all the leading music cities of Europe and America are without parallel. She is one of the most popular prima donnas in the world, and has probably sung before the largest and most distinguished audiences that ever assembled to applaud a cantatrice.

PAUL GILMORE
Many men know how to get a wife, but not all men know how to treat and keep her. There is no room for argument on this point, no more than there is that all men should know how to treat a woman. The youth, the young man, the husband, the father, and the confirmed old bachelor, each will find it will be worth his while to study the method of Lord Lumley, the dear Mummy in "The Mummy and the Humming Bird," which Mr. Paul Gilmore will present here on Friday matinee and night, Jan. 8, at Greenwall's opera house.

"THE LILLIPUTIANS"
In the performance of "Gulliver's Travels," as given by the "Royal Lilliputians," which will be the offering at Greenwall's opera house Saturday matinee and night, Jan. 9.

MCINTYRE AND HEATH
It promises to be a jovial time at Greenwall's opera house Monday night, Jan. 11, when McIntyre and Heath, the two celebrated minstrels, will appear with their own company, and exploit their own sketches, called "The Man From Montana," a thing which has made them famous. In fact, James McIntyre and Thomas K. Heath are credited with being not only the oldest minstrel team in existence, but their comical mannerisms of the darky are said to be something good to hear.

WEST MINSTRELS
"Music and mirth" is the watch word of Manager Ricaby in the program as presented by the popular Wm. H. West big minstrel jubilee, which will make its annual appearance in this city Thursday night, Jan. 7, at Greenwall's opera house. This company is now the largest and most pretentious organization of its kind in America, carrying as it does sixteen great singers, six well known comedians, three European novelty acts and twenty skilled musicians.

PRINT SHOP GRADUATE
Congressman Hepburn of Iowa Grew Up With the Country

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Rugged William Peters Hepburn of Iowa, chairman of the important committee on interstate and foreign commerce is an Ohioan. He was born at Wellsville in 1823. Eight years later he was taken to Iowa, then a territory, and he has grown up with the country.

He is one of the best type of the American statesman. Big and broad, both in stature and intellect, fearless, a terror in debate, he has many of the qualities that go to make up the ideal congressman. With the possible exception of Littenfeld there is no man in the house who is such a force in a rough and tumble debate.

His power of denunciation is a marvel and his sarcasm would burn holes through ship armor. When a fierce political debate is on Hepburn is the man to have in reserve. There's wreckage on every hand when he gets through. The colonel is 70 years old, but doesn't look it, and there's not the slightest indication of age in the vigor with which he performs his congressional duties.

Colonel Hepburn is interested this winter in securing some pure food legislation. His committee has jurisdiction over everything that enters into interstate commerce. His plan is to prohibit the shipment of adulterated food from one state to another. A bill to that effect introduced by him was passed by the house last winter, but died in the senate. A similar bill is being urged by him this session and will be passed, unless the senators display extraordinary indifference on the food question.

Hepburn's appreciation of the print shop as an educator was given in a biography, approved by him, which says he was "educated in the schools of the territory (Iowa) and in a printing office." In the civil war he gained the rank of lieutenant colonel. He was a delegate to three national conventions and twice a presidential elector at large from Iowa. This is his ninth term in congress.

CAUSES LEGAL TANGLES
Question of Priority in Death at Iroquois Disaster Suggested.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—As a result of the Iroquois theater disaster in which whole families perished and lines of legal descent were made so complicated as almost to defy tracing, the probate court faces a season of intricate litigation.

The question of priority of death of the fire victims is the issue on which many of the estates may be hung up in the courts for months and years before they can be distributed. Probate Judge Cutting says that he anticipates that in hundreds of estates this issue will have to be determined before the estates can be adjudicated.

Closing of Chicago Theaters Works Hardship on Many.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The closing of the theaters by order of the mayor is causing a daily loss of thousands of dollars to the hotel and restaurant keepers in the downtown district. It has also thrown a great many restaurant employees out of work, and in many places it was stated that more help would be laid off if the theaters remained closed.

Restaurants which have catered to the theater trade in the past now find that they are operating at a loss.

Even the streets are soon deserted after nightfall, and the traction companies feel the decrease of business. Livery stable owners report a considerable falling off in business.

A MODERN MAID OF ORLEANS

Kaiser Deeply Interested in Work of a Beautiful American Actress for the Members of the Jewish Race in Europe

BERLIN, Jan. 6.—The German emperor is keenly interested in the crusade against anti-Semitism which Miss Nadage Doree, the young American actress, is conducting in Europe. Miss Doree, herself a Jewess, born in New Orleans, and possessing a large circle of wealthy relatives among Wall street circles in New York, was so horrified by the outrages perpetrated on her people at Kishineff that she threw up a successful theatrical career to come across to Europe and inaugurate a regular campaign against Jew-baiting, underwritten by the colossal difficulties of her task.

EUROPEAN MONARCHS AND ANTI-SEMITISM

Miss Doree's first step was to invoke the aid of the great monarchs of Europe on behalf of the oppressed Jews of all European countries. Her first appeal was made to the German emperor, who very promptly sent an exceedingly sympathetic reply, stating that he highly appreciated the noble motives underlying the crusade against anti-Semitism and wishing her success in her efforts. The Kaiser added that he admired the pluck of an American girl coming alone to Europe to achieve such a formidable task. The emperor's reply was followed by the Kaiser's kaiser dubbed Miss Doree the "modern maid of Orleans," an allusion to her American birthplace and the resemblance of her self-imposed mission to that of Joan of Arc, and this appropriate designation has stuck to her ever since.

Another appeal addressed to King Edward VII produced an equally friendly reply from that monarch, while Queen Wilhelmina of Holland evinced genuine enthusiasm and asked whether she could render any practical assistance in the campaign for the humane treatment of Jews. President Loubet, too, replied in sympathetic terms.

ANTI-SEMITIC EMPERORS

Two emperors, however, remained deaf to the appeal to which the generous Kaiser responded with such ready sympathy. Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, whose Jewish subjects endure endless sufferings from anti-Semitic persecutions, directed his court chamberlain to reply that "this apostolic majesty regretted he was unable to comply with Miss Doree's request." An appeal addressed to Nicholas II of Russia and placed in the czar's hands by a friendly diplomat whose sympathies Miss Doree had contrived to enlist for her cause, remained unanswered.

AMERICAN GIRL'S CAMPAIGN

Miss Doree inaugurated her practical campaign by writing a book entitled "Gelta," which is a powerful appeal for justice to Jews, written in the form of a fascinating and exciting novel dealing with the intricacies of Russian political intrigue. "Gelta" has run through twenty editions and has been translated into German, French, Russian, Dutch and Hungarian, so that a total of over 1,000,000 copies have been circulated throughout Europe. Another book, with the striking title "Jesus' Christianity Interpreted as a Jewess," was an appeal to the churches of Europe on behalf of persecuted Jews. The German emperor accepted copies of both these books and expressed his pleasure at having read them. In addition to these books, Miss Doree has written several manifestoes in simple, impressive language, which have been circulated by millions among the common people of all European countries. Just at present Miss Doree is busy superintending the distribution of a manifesto to European Christians, recalling that Christmas is a time of peace and good will towards all men and pointing out that the persecution of Jews is incompatible with the Christian idea of Christmas. This manifesto is being distributed by willing helpers at the doors of churches in over 500 European cities.

The next step in the campaign will be the delivery of addresses before public meetings in the principal towns of Germany. The leading citizens of Hamburg, Frankfurt-on-Main and other German towns have invited Miss Doree to address meetings arranged by them, promising packed audiences in the largest halls at their disposal. When Germany has been covered Miss Doree, who is a brilliant linguist, will continue her oratorical campaign in other European countries.

AMERICAN DIPLOMATS HOSTILE
Miss Doree has experienced much generous help and sympathy from all sorts and conditions of men, from the Kaiser downwards, except from American diplomatic representatives in Europe. "American diplomats," said Miss Doree to your correspondent, "have been cold and hostile. They are all anti-Semites. As an American girl I am ashamed to say that they are worse than European bureaucrats. The wife of one American diplomat, for instance, told me that I was a social impossibility because I was a Jewess. That is typical of the treatment which I have experienced from American diplomats in Europe."

WEATHER FORECAST

"There is a probability of rain this afternoon and tonight and very likely will be followed by a clearing tomorrow. There is also likely to be a change in the temperature, but not greater than 10 or 15 degrees. This change will most likely occur in the early morning," said Mr. Reeder, the official forecaster, when asked about the future weather conditions for the next twenty-four hours.

The weather in the eastern states is moderating. In New York and the coast states north of there the thermometer is still hovering around the zero mark. In the Ohio valley states it is between 14 and 20 degrees above zero. In Florida and the southeastern states they are still having a touch of the cold wave, but it is nearly spent. This morning at Tampa the thermometer's lowest point was 34 degrees above.

FORECAST

For Texas east of the 100th meridian, issued at New Orleans—North, tonight probably rain; colder in west portion. Thursday, fair except probably rain in east portion; colder.

South—Tonight and Thursday, probably rain; colder except in the east portion.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

There is a slight depression of the atmosphere over the Rio Grande valley section this morning and as a result cloudiness has increased over the southern and eastern portion of Texas and in the lower Mississippi valley section. There was no precipitation, however, during the past twenty-four hours except in the extreme south portion of Texas where a light rain is falling this morning.

Low temperature continues over the eastern half of the country, and generally throughout the northern, Western and Rocky mountain states, although it has risen 10 to 15 degrees generally. On the whole it is considerably warmer in Texas.

GEORGE REEDER,
Official in Charge.

JAPAN BUYS CRUISER

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—In addition to the third class battleship Captain Pratt, the second class cruiser Chacabuco, according to a Herald dispatch from Valparaiso, Chile, also has been sold to Japan.

The Chacabuco was originally built for Japan, but Chile bought her when war was feared with Argentina. The negotiations have been carried out through an English firm.

A SURE THING

It is said that nothing is sure except death and taxes, but that is not altogether true. Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption is a sure cure for all lung and throat troubles. Thousands can testify to that. Mrs. C. B. Van Metre of Shepherdstown, W. Va., says: "I had a severe case of Bronchitis and for a year tried everything I heard of, but got no relief. One bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery then cured me absolutely." It's infallible for Croup, Whooping Cough, Grip, Pneumonia and Consumption. Try it. It's guaranteed by W. J. Fisher, druggist, and Reeves' Pharmacy. Trial bottles free. Regular sizes 50c and $1.

DENVER ROAD HAS NO WATER

Difficult to Obtain Sufficient Supply for the Shops
at Childress

H. C. Van Buskirk, general master mechanic of the Fort Worth and Denver City railway, is here today on business. Mr. Van Buskirk said that conditions along the Denver road up in the Panhandle, other than the "water" situation, were in very good shape, but that the Denver was having considerable trouble in getting a suitable water supply.

There has been scarcely any rain for many months in the extreme north part of the Panhandle, which has had the effect of cutting tank water extremely short. In fact, the Denver road has been without a supply for a long while, except that which is being hauled to Childress daily from different points along the line. On this account the water situation is a serious one with the Denver road at Childress. Over 150,000 gallons of water are necessary to keep the shops, engines, etc., at Childress, going.

Mr. Van Buskirk said that there was water at Childress, but it was not of the character which could be used for steam purposes, hence the difficulty to get available water for engine and shop purposes.

From this serious condition of the Denver's water service in the Panhandle, it would appear that the company made a great error when it removed the shops from Fort Worth.

It may yet become necessary to bring them back to Fort Worth.

CODY AND BAILEY ARE OWNERS NOW

Change in the Management of the Wild West Show Explained

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Speculations about a change of interest in the "Buffalo Bill" Wild West have been set at rest by the announcement of a new deal between J. A. Bailey, sole owner of the Barnum and Bailey show, and Colonel W. F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill"). The death of "Nate" Salsbury a year ago made imperative a change in the management and proprietorship of the Wild West, and this change involved the purchase of the Salsbury interest by Colonel W. F. Cody before the expiration of 1903 and the beginning of the next show season, because Mrs. Salsbury could not take the active part in the control of the business her husband was supposed to have exercised. The old agreement was dissolved, by consent of all concerned, and a new equal partnership formed between Messrs. Cody and Bailey. The new firm will be known as Cody and Bailey, and the Wild West exhibition will be continued on the same general lines as in former years. At present it is in winter quarters in England, where it will make a tour again next summer. The year after the field of its activities will probably be transferred to the continent.

Colonel Cody took a train last evening for his estates in Wyoming, where he will remain until spring, when he will return here and sail for London to resume his duties as head of the institution bearing his name. J. A. Bailey will remain here in the city, continuing, as usual, to discharge his work as sole manager of the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, which, by the way, has no connection with the Wild West. It is said officially that the largest three tented shows in the world, in which Mr. Bailey is an owner, are not associated in any way, except that he holds a half interest in the Wild West, an interest in the Forepaugh and Sells Bros. show, and is the sole manager of the Barnum and Bailey shows.

HISTORY IS RETURNED

Valuable Copy of McCall's History Returned to Georgia Library

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—On demand of State Librarian Wellborn of Georgia, Miss Dixon, librarian at the University of Chicago, has returned to the Georgia State library a copy of McCall's history of Georgia, which was stolen from the Georgia library some time ago.

Miss Dixon says that the university purchased the book from Noonan & Lovett, newsmen in Atlanta, Ga. They advertised it for sale and as it is rare and of great value, the university immediately ordered the copy.

The book was missed and traced to Chicago. William Hunter, a former porter in the state library of Georgia, has been arrested on a charge of having stolen the book.

Here's the last item:

COLFAX, Wash., Jan. 6.—Joe Richardson, a hanger-on around saloons, lost a bet and his life here last night while attempting to win a bet that he could drink twenty glasses of beer. Richardson had been drinking whisky and other liquor all day and in the evening made a bet that he could drink twenty glasses of beer. He swallowed seventeen in quick succession and then fell dead at the bar of the Oxford saloon. Coroner Crawford was notified, but after viewing the remains and learning the circumstances concerning Richardson's death, decided an inquest unnecessary.

Richardson was once a well-to-do farmer, but took to drink and lost all. He had been acting as porter around saloons for several years. He was 51 years old and had no known relatives. He will be buried by the county.

HELP IS WANTED FOR ALL KINDS OFFSPRING WORK

Railroads and Ranchmen Need Laborers for the Opening of the Warm Months—Demand
Is Active Here

"More laborers are hired for railroad work out of Fort Worth than any city within a radius of a hundred miles of this point," said an employment bureau man this morning, who has been in that line of work for several years.

"Even now the bureaus cannot supply the requests made upon them by the various railroads for help. When the season for extra gangs is fairly opened up, and that will be by the 15th of the month, I am sure we will have to go to other cities in search of men."

Fort Worth is truly becoming a center for people seeking employment. The many railroad extensions that were made by railroads last year will need extra gangs to keep them in condition and to ballast the track the coming season.

Then it the custom to lay old steel when an extension is made by a road, and after the track has settled for six months or a year to take up the old steel and lay heavier steel in its stead. This means the employment of hundreds of men the coming spring for this particular kind of work.

Ranchmen are beginning to seek help for the spring work, and they, too, are becoming cognizant of the fact that desirable men are somewhat hard to secure. Many men that formerly were glad of the opportunity to accept the employment offered them by the ranchers are now working on the railroads up in the territories or have drifted southward for the winter.

Even when it comes to domestic help a scarcity prevails. Domestic in private families can hardly be gotten. Cooks, nurse girls and men for all kinds of work are hard to procure, even when special inducements in the way of increased wages are offered.

"The problem of supplying plenty of help is quite serious now, but I don't know what it will be, if the demand for help of that class continues and the supply keeps on diminishing," said another one of the employment bureau people, who makes a specialty of supplying domestic help.

When such a condition prevails in this city and vicinity at the present time and the season has not yet opened it surely is a most healthy indication of the prosperity of the people of the community.

NOTES AND PERSONALS

Sixteen employees of the Rock Island system here who bought lots in the Washington Heights addition to North Fort Worth last December have received warranty deeds to their lots. Many of the men are contemplating the erection of neat homes during the spring.

L. M. Brown, chief clerk in the passenger traffic department of the Cotton Belt at Tyler, accompanied by Mrs. Brown, is in Fort Worth today.

C. S. Hutchins, trainmaster of the Cotton Belt, headquarters at Mount Pleasant, is in the city. Mrs. Hutchins is also here.

THE CITY DOCTOR WILL NOT ALLOW AN IMPOSITION

The general public within and without the city of Fort Worth evidently thinks the city maintains a city physician to attend to any one who might happen to be injured, sick or wounded, whether that person is a proper charge upon the municipal authorities or not, the City Physician Chambers refuses to allow the city to be imposed on.

Last night, about 10:30 o'clock, a man who was injured at Saginaw by a Santa Fe train, was brought to the city. He was put on a cot at the Santa Fe station, and Dr. Chilton dressed his injuries. Some one telephoned Dr. Chambers to take charge of the man as a city case, and the physician refused to do so. He said that if the man was in need of immediate attention, he would have his assistant, Dr. Mullenbax, attend him. When informed that the injuries had been dressed, Dr. Chambers answered that the man should be cared for by the county or by the railroad. The accident happened outside the city.

Late in the night the man was removed to the infirmary on instructions from the railroad people.
