Chest Clinic To Hold Here Wed.

Dr. Sim Hulsey, a chest specialist of Ft. Worth, will hold a chest clinic and give the tuberculin skin test to children Wednesday afternoon, April 24th, from two to five o'clock. The clinic will be held in the First Baptist Church. Forty years or more ago, little was done to prevent infants and children from becoming contaminated with tubercle bacilli. Today the number of open foci of tuberculosis, both in cattle and in man, is relatively small. Area testing of cattle and slaughter of the positive tuberculin reactors has greatly reduced possibilities of contamination of infants and children with the bovine type of tubercle bacilli.

The contact child is one who has lived in intimate association with a person known to have an active tuberculosis infection. The tuberculin skin test reveals whether or not the tuberculosis germs are in the body. The test is harmless. It is approved by the White House Conference on Child Health and Protection by State and city health departments, tuberculosis sanatoria and scientific medical organizations. The test is made by placing a drop of liquid called tuberculin within the upper surface layer of the skin, either by a tiny scratch or by injection. This is harmless. If the spot becomes red and slightly swollen within two or three days, it means that live tuberculin germs are somewhere in the body. The small red reaction area disappears and leaves no scar or other effects. Tuberculin is a colorless liquid made with exactness and extreme care in laboratories under government supervision. It is thoroughly sterilized by heat and by filtration and contains no germs.

Do not confuse tuberculin with "injections" or serums. If the tuberculin test is positive, it means only that living tuberculin germs are in the body. It does not tell how many there are, or if any damage has been done. If the test is positive, the child's chest should be x-rayed to be certain that no harm is being done in the lungs. If the x-ray, following the tuberculin test, shows any damage, a careful examination should be taken of every member of the household to learn if the child is being exposed to an open case of tuberculosis.

Fire Dept. Makes Two Calls This Week

The fire department was called out twice this week. Tuesday they were called to John Brookman's home on corner of Ave. C and 5th street, to extinguish a small blaze that had originated in the garage. There was very little damage.

Wednesday evening about 6 o'clock the department was again called out to the home of Chester Howard, on East Second street. Most of the furniture had been removed from the building when the fire department arrived, but by quick and efficient work they confined the fire to the roof and back of the house.

He presented Misses Clara Mae Jenkins and Maxine Gilbow in a very clever little tap dance number. Jack Gant gave two renditions on the piano. ### Betty Anne Bakery Has Larger Quarters

Mr. Reger, proprietor of Betty Anne Bakery has leased the Samson building and plans to occupy it May 1st.

Mr. Reger states that despite the depression, his business has enjoyed a steady increase which has overtaxed the capacity of the building which he now occupies. He attributes this to the fact that merchants and housewives are becoming educated to the fact that, after all, the local baker has no peer in supplying the local market with fresh bread of uniform quality and texture.

The building occupied by Betty Anne Bakery will be occupied by the City Barber Shop.

An estimated crowd of 5,000 treasure hunters thronged the streets of Burkburnett Saturday as the local Treasure Day Club staged its second Treasure Day party for neighboring communities and residents of this city.

Traffic was halted for blocks as the immense crowd assembled at the corner of Main street and Ave. C for the main events of the program.

Starting early Saturday morning, the Treasure Day crowd gathered rapidly and by early afternoon the business section of the city virtually was packed with visitors. It was the largest crowd ever assembled in Burkburnett, and the merchants reported the largest business day in the history of the city.

Program Presented The Treasure Day program, which included musical selections by the Cowboy Band, was supplemented by an unusual array of bargain offers by merchants of the city.

Stores offering special Treasure Day bargains were obliged to double their sales forces to take care of the business rush.

T. D. Harper, a farmer living on Route 3, Wichita Falls, was all smiles when his name was called.

Club Grows Rapidly More than 2,500 persons from Burkburnett and surrounding communities have been listed in the Treasure Day register as Treasure Day club members, and the book shows that visitors from more than a half dozen towns and cities in Oklahoma are attending the weekly Treasure Day events in Burkburnett. Predictions are that registrations eventually will exceed 5,000.

Arrangements for this week's affair have been completed, and visitors are promised a unique entertainment for next Saturday.

That enthusiasm among the rural neighbors has been growing rapidly is shown in the fact that scores of persons from the far edges of the Burkburnett trade territory come to the city during the week and inquire of the Treasure Day programs.

Revival Services Closed Sunday At Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church closed a very successful revival Sunday. There were seventy-one additions to the church during the two weeks revival, with more than fifty of these coming by baptism.

For Sunday the pastor will bring an appropriate Easter Message at the morning hour, and for the evening hour he will speak on the "Meaning, Responsibility and Privileges of Church Membership." All members of the church are urged to be present, and a cordial invitation is extended the general public.

Farmers To Combat Prairie Dog Menace

A few of the local farmers and cattlemen have been troubled with Prairie Dog colonies developing on their property and have decided to combat these animals by using a poison grain bait, according to Jack Everheart.

This poison can be bought at a very reasonable price and as the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that these animals do at least an average of $2.00 worth of damage each year on the average range per acre.

As these pests are becoming more widely spread each man that has a colony on his place is urged to put forth some effort to control them, at it will be impossible for control measures to be effective unless all cooperate in the control measures.

A free land is one in which one per cent of the voters can issue bonds to mortgage the property of the other 99 per cent.

DUST STORMS

Scientists and the weather men have a new problem to solve or at least one that is new to a large area lying east of the Mississippi river. They are puzzled over the severe dust storms which during the month of March originated in the states of Kansas, Nebraska, Wyoming and the Dakotas and swept as far east as Pennsylvania. Dust clouds in the Middle West were so dense at times as to interfere with auto traffic and created a new problem for housewives.

Burkburnett citizens acquainted with these unusual storms will be interested in the attempts of science to explain them, even though they are disagreed as to their actual cause. Some contend that the denuding of over 5,000,000 acres of forest trees since the World War has brought them on. Others contend that they are the direct result of a drouth through Middle Western states during the past two years. Still others contend that permitting vast tracts to lie idle through government rulings, instead of planting them to grains or pasturage, provided the dust for these far-reaching and unusual storms.

Already the damage they have created is estimated in the millions of dollars. Its effect on crops already in the ground in areas that were swept by the winds cannot be estimated. What effect it will have on this year's crops cannot, of course, be foretold. The seriousness of the dust storms is not being minimized, however, and unless an abundance of rain falls in the states most affected the situation is going to be of grave concern to the entire country.

FOOD PRICES

Those Burkburnett citizens who are complaining of rising food prices will find no solace in the statement of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture that by July 1 they will be fully 11 percent higher than they are now. Meats and meat products, they add, may advance as high as 30 percent. This may be good news for the farmers and stockraisers, as Sec. Wallace points out, but not to housewives who have to pay the food bills. The increase in the cost of living hits industrial workers especially hard since wages have not shown any increase whatever. Food prices have outstripped the workers' pay. The result is that food buying is beginning to show evidences of reduced volume. Consumers can't buy food if they haven't the money to pay for it, so they will naturally curtail their purchases. When this is done it means a decline in consumption. So it goes right back to where it started from. High prices won't help the farmers if the consumers quit buying the things they produce.

The reason why there isn't any more bachelors, is because there isn't a moon every night. The reason why so many people don't have minor motor troubles attended to is that they feel themselves into thinking that they will adjust themselves. BOOST TEXAS

TEXAS occupies all of the continent of North America except a small part set aside for the United States, Canada and Mexico. Texas owns the north half of the Rio Grande, one of the few rivers in the world with one bank wet and the other dry. TEXAS is bounded on the North by 25 or 30 States, on the East by all of the oceans except the Pacific, on the South by the Gulf of Mexico and South America, and on the West by the Pacific Ocean and the rest of the World. Underneath TEXAS they have, at this writing, been down only 8,000 feet or so for oil, and up in the air TEXAS has in Guadalupe Peak, 9,500 feet above sea level, the highest hill in the United States east of the Rockies.

"TEXAS is so big that the people in Brownsville call the Dallas people Yankees, and the citizens in El Paso speak of the residents of Texarkana as being 'effete Easterners'. It is farther from El Paso to Texarkana than it is from Chicago to New York, and Texarkana is closer to Milwaukee by airline than it is to El Paso. (Try this on your Rand-McNally.) The United States with TEXAS left out would look like a three-legged Boston Terrier.

The chief occupation of the people of Texas is to try to keep from making all the money in the world, and at that the wealth of TEXAS increased 539% between 1900 and 1927. At one time TEXAS was so wild that not even the Law of Gravitation was obeyed, and the chief pursuit of the TEXANS was Indians and Mexicans. But now it is crop records and oil production. It is so healthful in TEXAS that out in Eastland a horned frog lived 30 years sealed in a corner stone without food, air or water.

TEXANS are so proud of the Lone Star State that they cannot sleep at night. If a TEXAN's head should be opened the map of the State would be found in his brain. The word "TEXAS" is of Indian origin and means "Friends", and the TEXAS people are that way, unless you take a slam at their State.

If your front gate is not at least 18 miles from your front door, you do not belong to society as constituted in TEXAS. Down on the King ranch the front gate is 150 miles from the front porch and the owner is thinking of moving the house back so as not to be annoyed by passing automobiles. Other TEXAS landlords have whole mountain ranges on their ranches, and one TEXAN has 40 miles of navigable river in his farm. If the proportion of cultivated land in TEXAS were the same as in Illinois, the value of TEXAS crops would equal that of the other 47 States combined. If all the people of the United States were to move to TEXAS, it still would be no more densely populated than Massachusetts. TEXAS has land enough to supply every man, woman and child in the world with a track 20x200 feet, and have enough left over for all the armies of the world to march around five abreast.

To move the TEXAS corn crop would take a string of box cars longer than the distance between New York and San Francisco. If the 1,500,000 tons of sulphur mined in TEXAS annually were in the hands of his Santanic Majesty, they would solve his fuel problem. If all the cotton grown in TEXAS were baled and built into a stairway, it would reach the Pearly Gates. If the 255,557,000 barrels of oil produced in TEXAS in 1928 were made into gasoline it would run a well known make of light car through-out eternity. If all the hogs of TEXAS were one hog, he could dig the Panama Canal in three roots and one grunt. If all the TEXAS steers were one steer, he could stand with his front feet in the Gulf of Mexico and his hind feet in the Hudson Bay, and with his horns punch holes in the moon, and with his tail brush the mists off the Aurora Borealis.

Explain F. H. A. To The Farmers

Washington, D. C. April 15—Special advisory committees in every state are now actively engaged in explaining the Better Housing Program of the Fed. Housing Administration to the farmers of the country, the Administration announced today. North Dakota and Montana completed the roster, field representatives of the Farm Section reporting that committees in these States had just been organized.

Practically every element in each State interested in improvement of farm conditions is represented on these State Advisory Rural Better Housing Committees, it was stated. Analysis of the personnel of these committees showed 47 agricultural engineers, 47 directors or supervisors of vocational education, 44 extension service directors, 38 home demonstration agents and a large representation of farmers unions, granges, cooperatives, State federation of women's clubs, State agricultural commission, relief commissions, editorial associations, bank associations, chambers of commerce and Federal Housing Administration officials.

These State-wide committees aid in the organization of rural Better Housing Committees and in the education of the people in these countries, as to the aims of the Federal Housing Administration's program it was stated. Farm Building Days and Farm Improvement Days have been held or are being planned for hundreds of countries in every section of the country, the reports of the farm field representative show.

The urgent need for improvement of farm conditions, especially of the farm home, is revealed in a rural housing of 17,918 Indiana farm homes by the Department of Agricultural Extension of Purdue University, report of which was made to the Administration.

In this survey it was shown that 95 per cent of the homes need a safe method of sewage disposal, 55 per cent need paint, 41 per cent need more adequate screening, 31 per cent need major repairs of replacement, 28 per cent need foundation repairs, 25 per cent need more closet space and 14 per cent have no kitchen sinks.

Under the Better Housing Program, the farmers of the country can obtain modernization credit from banks or other lending institutions for repair, alterations or improvement of their properties for home or farm equipment which is permanently installed. The maximum credit which can be exhausted for modernization is $2,000 for each property, at the discretion of the lending institution, which is insured by the Federal Housing Administration against loss up to 20 per cent of its total modernization credits. As losses on this character of credit are less than 3 per cent, this is regarded as practically an absolute guarantee against loss.

This simple, economical prescription contains valuable herb and medicinal ingredients that strike at the cause. You may be a long time sufferer, and may have tried many remedies—but do not give up hope before you discover what this Doctor's private prescription can do for you.

English Classes To Take Up Debating

The last six weeks of English started off with much debating. English IV class was a scene of much upheaval Tuesday morning. The walls were ringing with loud voiced remarks and laughter.

The question of debate was: Resolved that the American Settlers treated the Indians unjustly.

The affirmatives were Ada Marsh and Geneva Seidlitz. The negatives were Ruth Vogel and Marian McClarney.

The "looker-oners" seemed to drive much amusement from the seemingly "catty" remarks made by the contenders.

There are supposed to be two sides to every question. Let's hope the evidence is evenly distributed toward off "fights".

We're Not Just Joking Elder

Ruth Miller is really "running around in circles."

Bill Wells is now known by the becoming name of "Jack Frost".

Ada and Ruth (twins) seem to be getting the blame for many things of which they are innocent—(poor girls).

Scotty says he is getting it over with before basketball season. (We wonder why?)

Elva Stimpson doesn't even know the days of the month.

Rosalie McCall has lost her (B?F???) Chuck Morrison.

Ruth Vogel seems to be giving Rosie the "run around".

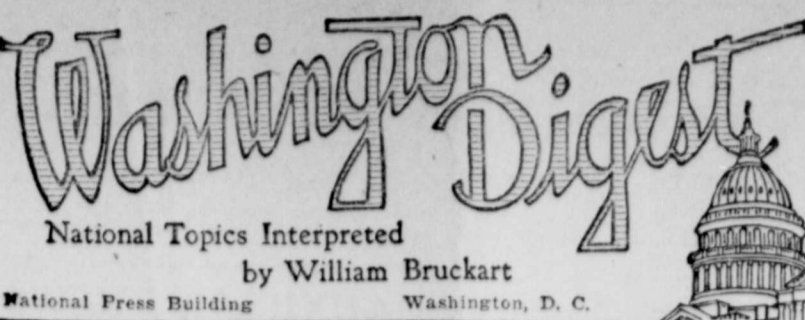

There seems to be something very peculiar about Ada being so embarrassed while sitting in the Marchman.

Harlen Boyd doesn't seem to like CIA girls, maybe Marian is going to be a NTSTC "gal".

NRA Up to Supreme Court

Washington.—It appears that at last all of those questions as to whether the national industrial recovery act is constitutional are going to be answered by the Supreme court of the United States. That is, they will be answered by a Supreme court decision unless the moving spirits in NRA decide again to dodge the issue as they once have done.

Sometime ago W. E. Belcher, an Alabama lumberman, ran afoul of a national recovery administration code ruling and he was promptly prosecuted. Lower courts decided adversely to the government, however, and the NRA lawyers decided to appeal. They wanted a Supreme court decision. But before the case reached the stage of argument before the highest court in the land, the Department of Justice suddenly withdrew the petition and announced its refusal to prosecute Mr. Belcher any further.

There immediately was set up a far-flung cry accusing the NRA and the Department of Justice of being afraid of a constitutional test. Legal brains of the Department of Justice stood pat and offered no explanation, but NRA brain trusters let it be known that they preferred to avoid a test at this time because of the imminent expiration of the industrial recovery act. They pointed out that the law expires June 16 and that congress is now engaged in consideration of a revision. The implication was that the NRA believed a test in the Belcher case was a waste of time and money because of the probability that a Supreme court decision would not be handed down until after the present law was no longer operative.

Now, however, the NRA authorities think they have found the right kind of a case for a constitutional test. They have announced they will fight to have the act declared constitutional in a case in which the Schechter Live Poultry market of Brooklyn, N. Y., is accused of violating the poultry code. So instead of trying out the constitutional question on boards, the brain trusters are seeking a decision on the hen.

The whole situation is regarded by observers as being much confused and no one seems to know exactly what is behind the sudden reversal of position on the part of NRA and the Department of Justice lawyers except a good many folks think the NRA could not stand the gaff of countrywide editorial criticism. It is true that after abandonment of the Belcher case was announced, nearly every important metropolitan newspaper in the country printed editorial comment about the action and little of it was favorable to the NRA. Examined from this viewpoint then, there are some who believe the administration was goaded into a constitutional test of NRA.

Politically, the Department of Justice's determination to avoid a test in the Belcher case already is having repercussions. Barbs and backbiting are coming not alone from Republican antagonists but from among Democrats in congress as well. Senator Hastings, a Delaware Republican, and Senator Clark, a Missouri Democrat, joined in an effort to have Attorney General Cummings reverse his position and urged upon the head of the Department of Justice the necessity for clarification of legal questions involved. The administration's position also has drawn fire from Republican Leader Snell in the house and there are in that body also certain of the so-called progressives who have charged that President Roosevelt is unwilling to face the music in the Belcher case.

Economically, the decision to refrain from pressing the Belcher case for final adjudication by the Supreme court has caused a wave of uncertainty to permeate the business structure. What the end is going to be, even Donald Richberg, number one man in NRA, has avoided saying. Since he has not enunciated policies his subordinates are afraid to move. Consequently, according to some of the letters now going out from the NRA to business interests, the whole question of codes and their enforcement frankly can be said to be up in the air.

If the NRA can be said to be up in the air, the agricultural adjustment administration can be said to be a rudderless ship. There is no longer any doubt that AAA policy is confused, not to say floundering about in helpless fashion. It has reached the stage where delegations and individuals are arriving in increasing numbers to wait on the doorstep of Secretary Wallace and Administrator Davis for advice as to what the program is.

It ought to be said just here that Mr. Wallace and Mr. Davis are showing signs of irritation and that is always significant. It was only the other day that a group of farm organization leaders came in to Washington to tell Mr. Wallace how the Department of Agriculture must do something to enable farmers in the areas that were drought stricken to plant crops. They pointed out the necessity for quick action because crops must be planted within the next few weeks. They did not stop there, however, but added points of criticism about AAA policy. This so irked Mr. Wallace that he announced abruptly that the interview was closed.

The secretary was quoted by members of the delegation as having inquired whether the Roosevelt administration had not done more for farmers than any previous administration. He was reported also to have said he did not like the attitude or the spirit which the visitors displayed in their conversations with him. The result was that the farm leaders went away from the vast building housing the Department of Agriculture with a decidedly bad taste in their mouths and the prediction is heard frequently now that these men will cause much trouble for Mr. Wallace hereafter by telling their stories among the home folks.

I think it is generally conceded that economical and political numskulls may be found in positions of responsibility among farm organizations but after all they serve as something of a leadership for groups that speak for agriculture and when Mr. Wallace becomes angered by their criticism of his administration, serious trouble for him lies not so far ahead. Such circumstances as the one just mentioned usually are accepted as indicating a thin skin on the part of a public official and that condition is nearly always fatal—it ruined Herbert Hoover.

Around the halls of congress, also, there is increasing criticism of Mr. Wallace and it is of a character to undermine him if it continues. When such stalwart Democrats as Senator George of Georgia describes a cabinet officer as being unfit for the office he holds, the situation as regards that individual necessarily becomes precarious.

The controversies that are centering around Secretary Wallace naturally are having their reaction on his legislative proposals. It is my understanding that considerable difficulty is faced by the amendments to the adjustment act which the secretary desires to have passed at this session of congress. These amendments are described by the secretary as being designed to strengthen the adjustment act and accord the AAA more power in enforcement. It seems, however, a certain bloc in congress holds the conviction that there is already sufficient power in Mr. Wallace's hands and those members are growing resentful toward proposals delegating more authority to him.

The recent house-cleaning which resulted in elimination of certain of the brain trusters in the Department of Agriculture and its stepchild, the AAA, had a wholesome effect on relationship between the Department of Agriculture and congress as a whole, yet in some quarters it appears, the house-cleaning did not remove all of the stigma with which oppositionists have stained the administration's farm policies.

With reference to the house-cleaning, it should be said just here that another move is in the making. Prof. Rexford Guy Tugwell, the present undersecretary of agriculture, is slated to be dehorned insofar as farm recovery policies are concerned. When President Roosevelt gets his hands on the five billion voted in the public works relief bill, Professor Tugwell will be given charge of something like nine hundred millions to spend in a way that is variously described as "scientific." His job will be to sort out lands that are productive from those that are mediocre or without value at all in agriculture and to find uses for those which should not be used as farm lands.

I believe it is not too much to say that conditions in the NRA and AAA have added to the "honeymoon" general uncertainty concerning the political and economic outlook of the administration. In this connection it should be mentioned that the Republicans are showing signs of life. For instance, Republican Leader Snell took a shot at President Roosevelt the other day that indicates a forthcoming deluge of criticism of him personally for the first time since he entered the White House.

The volume of mail being received on Capitol Hill tells its story as well. Members of the house and senate are beginning to inquire of each other what their political course should be in view of the type of inquiries that are now being received.

Through many months, the personal charm of the President has seemed to prevent expressions of a critical nature and certainly has held off complaints from the business section of the country. Certainly those who have money invested were not being told about future plans. It seems now, however, that the "honeymoon" for which Mr. Roosevelt asked has ended and that henceforth it will be a battle of realities.

The most direct attack upon the President and upon the New Deal came from Representative James Wadsworth, a New York Republican. Mr. Wadsworth stressed uncertainty. In fact, he called it one of the three or four major "evils" of the administration.

Iowa Park Woman Dies of Pneumonia Week After Husband

Funeral services for Mrs. Minnie Curran, 51, of Iowa Park, who died Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock in a Wichita hospital, were held at the Presbyterian church of Iowa Park at 4 o'clock Monday evening. The Rev. E. S. Lowrence, pastor, conducted the services. Burial was in the Iowa Park cemetery under the direction of Owens & Brumley Funeral home of Burkburnett.

Mrs. Curran was buried beside her husband, J. J. Curran, who died last Sunday of pneumonia, the same illness which led to Mrs. Curran's death. It is said that the dust storms which have been raging for the past two months, contributed to the death of both Mr. and Mrs. Curran.

Women, we are informed, are a snare and a delusion. That's probably the reason why men are so fond of hugging a delusion.

PEEP.... through your own keyhole!

Here's a fascinating game. Take a peep at the floors in your home.

What do you see? Are they even, sound, and solid? Or do they squeak with your tread, and show wear, tear, and years of hard knocks? Scared floors can spoil the entire appearance of an otherwise attractive room.

If your floors are too badly worn, laying a new one will pay for itself in every-day satisfaction. Scraping, sanding, or staining the old wood floor that is not too far gone will put the room "back on its feet."

The National Housing Act makes it possible for responsible home owners to borrow amounts up to $2,000 for modernization. The financing cost is low. There is no "down payment." The loan may be repaid, monthly, out of your regular income... over a period up to 5 years.

There were ten ladies present including little Miss Martha Jo Oyler who came as a visitor and we are sure some day not far distant she will be a member of the society. We wish that more children would get the Missionary Spirit instilled into their lives early, because they are to be our Missionary Society of tomorrow. —Reporter.

It was announced that a Hide Tanning Demonstration will be held at the home of Mrs. C. C. Burrows of Iowa Park (near the Experiment Station) on Saturday, April 20. Mr. M. K. Thornton,

Big Special Day At Calvary Baptist Sun.

Sunday, April 21st, is Easter Sunday and the Calvary Baptist Church is planning a big day at the tabernacle on the corner of Avenue B and College streets. Sunday School will start at 9:45 as usual and preaching services at 11 o'clock. In the Bible school all classes will study the 14th chapter of the Gospel by John and the subject for the morning sermon will be "Knowing Jesus". At the close of the morning services there will be dinner served on the ground for all present. This special feature is planned in the interest of all who do not have the means to provide something extra for themselves. No matter how poor you are whether you have good clothes or not you are urged to be present and enjoy the day with us. Anyone desiring to send a portion of food it will be appreciated.

Easter is a time when we celebrate the most glorious event that ever happened in all the history of the world. And nothing could be more appropriate than spending it in the House of God.

The little silly forms of observing Easter has long since destroyed the respect that people once held for the day, and so today the most popular way of celebrating the day is to desecrate as much as possible.

You will find something at our services Sunday that you will enjoy, and something that you will appreciate the rest of your life. There will be no clod formalities, no high powered choirs to bore you with some freakish Easter Cantata, but it will be singing the old time songs that stir your heart and the preaching of the old time gospel of the resurrected Christ. Don't let the lack of clothing or anything else keep you away, but come and enjoy a feast of good things, both for soul and body. No matter what your faith or your circumstance may be come and be with us and we will spend the whole day in services that will be long remembered. We are planning a Baptismal service that night and the observance of the Lord's Supper.

AUXILIARY NEWS

Saturday, May 25th, will be Poppy Day in Burkburnett. On that day the women of Oscar Frye Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary will distribute little red poppies on the streets to be worn in honor of the World War dead. The observance here will be part of the annual nation-wide observance of Poppy Day, during which millions of Americans will pay tribute to the memory of the war dead by wearing memorial poppies.

Poppy Day activities here will be directed by a committee from the Auxiliary headed by Mother Majors, chairman. Other members of the committee are Lena Porter, Mable Johnson, Hattie Golden, Vivian Hayes, Annabelle Marchand. A large corps of volunteer workers will be organized to carry out the distribution of the flowers.

The poppies which will be worn here have been ordered from the Veterans Hospital at Legion, Texas, where they have been made by disabled World War veterans. The poppy making has provided employment for needy veterans through the winter and spring months, enabling them to help support themselves and families. Public response on Poppy Day will determine how soon and how extensively this work can be re-opened.

In exchange for the poppies, the Auxiliary women will ask each person to make a contribution for the welfare of the war's living victims, the disabled veterans, the widows and the fatherless children of veterans. This money will be used entirely in the welfare work of the Legion and Auxiliary, the bulk of it in the work of the local Post and Unit.

MAKE BIG MONEY

The Pontiac Motor Company Offers You An Exceptional Opportunity to Establish a Permanent and Profitable Local Business

The success of the 1935 Pontiac is one of the sensations of the automobile industry. In many cities all over the country, Pontiac dealers are reporting a 300 to 500 per cent increase in business over last year, and sales for the whole country are over twice of what they were a year ago. Hundreds of Pontiac dealers in communities the same size as Burkburnett are making big profits.

Pontiac Sixes and Eights are easy to sell, because Pontiac's list prices begin as low as $615—and because Pontiac offers the public the newest and finest features that it wants: big, triple-sealed hydraulic brakes, the sensational solid steel "Turret-Top" Fisher Bodies, silver-alloy bearings, sealed chassis, and many others too numerous to mention here.

I will be glad to give a special demonstration of one of these cars to local men who would like to get into a new and profitable business. One ride will convince you that you can make big money as dealer for this fast-selling car. Experience is desirable, but not essential.

The investment required is surprisingly small. If you are not satisfied with your present income... if you want the security of a permanent and solid business... if you would like to be associated with a successful and fast-growing Division of General Motors, investigate this rare opportunity. ### Rabbit Creek

April 14, 1935
Thursday the sad news was to the Owens family residing at 3:30 P. M. that Mr. Frank Hollingsworth, who lived one-half mile south of Rabbit Creek passed over on the Great Plains. It was a great shock to the friends here in the Rabbit Creek neighborhood. Mr. Hollingsworth was one of the big pioneers, coming to Rabbit Creek as a tent town. He owned a grain farm just south of Randlett. Thursday morning Frank had motored up to town and remained until nearly noon. When he arrived home his wife and daughter had lunch ready, and he sat down and ate a very hearty dinner. After eating his meal he got up and went out of doors, but soon returned to the house and when he came in he told his wife that he felt very bad and started to his bed. When he got to the bed he dropped on the bed dead. Dr. Dice was called and when the doctor arrived he had already passed away. Dr. Dice pronounced the cause of his death was a heart attack, caused by high blood pressure. He leaves behind to mourn, a devoted wife and two daughters. One of his daughters lives in Iowa and the other daughter was at his bed side when death came. He was shipped to his old home town, somewhere in Iowa, for burial. Mr. Hollingsworth was well thought of and loved by every man, woman and child who knew him. The Rabbit Creek neighborhood joins in with the writer in sending to the bereaved wife and daughters and other relatives, heart felt sympathy of the losing of the husband and father. May God be in their home and with the continually through all of their great loss.

A. L. Willis, one of Burkburnett's most prosperous farmers on the Texas side, was also courting in our county seat last week. Mr. Willis had a suit against a Mr. Bennet Hatcher about renting land, but the district court adjourned before Mr. and Mrs. Bennett's case came up. They will have to wait now until the next term of court in July or September.

The Rabbit Creek school pupils had a double header ball game Friday afternoon with Taylor Store, both boys and girls. The girl's score was 14 to 4 in favor of Rabbit Creek and the boy's score was 4 to 10 favor of Taylor Store.

Mrs. D. C. Jones and her daughter, Miss NoQuinda, enroute from visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Keeble Jones, called at the Owens family residence a few minutes late Saturday evening.

Well, the wind, sand, dust and everything else is still blowing at this writing. By all appearances the good old State of Texas, for the past week, has an overproduction of sand and dirt, so today (Sunday) she is trying her best to send as much as she can back to Oklahoma and other Northern States.

The big frost which came Friday night sure did play hokey with the young spuds and beans over on this side. It bit down every potato that was up to any size, but the young corn didn't seem to be hurt.

Mrs. D. C. Jones, Miss NoQuinda Jones, Mr. Jack Clay and his mother and Mr. Jack's brother-in-law, a Mr. J. L. King from Stratsford, Eastern Oklahoma, called on the Owens family Friday afternoon. Mr. King and wife and their three sons are visiting Mrs. King's father and mother, Mr. Clay and other relatives. Mr. King stated to the writer that back in Eastern Oklahoma they have lots of rain and quite a lot of cotton is planted and already up. Crops are looking fine back east.

Last Tuesday and Wednesday Mr. John Ashton had his 40 head of fine sheep sheared. He got Mr. J. L. Lamberneck to do the work. Believe me J. L. sure knows his onions when it comes to getting that heavy coat of wool off Mr. Sheep. J. L. is an expert at the business. He sheared the whole flock in just a little over a day. He could cut the wool off in less time than he did, but Mr. John Mouser, Bro. John's hired man, couldn't pick the cackle burs out of the wool fast enough. Say boy, it will take a half dozen men picking the burs out to keep J. L. busy shearing. He is the fastest and best sheep shearer that has ever been in this country.

Mr. Si Linksey and Mr. Johnny Mouser were witnesses for Mr. A. L. Willis of last week up at Walters.

Mrs. Ed Owens and Mrs. Johnny Mouser motored down to Mrs. Jess Kinnaird's Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Tobe Hardin and Mrs. Martha Nails called on the Owens family late Friday evening and spent a few minutes visiting.

The grain crops over on this side of the big pond is beginning to look very bad due to so much wind and dust. The last big dust storm of last Thursday left what is called a silt. It was from one inch to one and one-half inches deep all over the ground here and in some of the houses it was 2 inches deep. It has made it very hard on horses and cattle out in the pastures.

Mr. John Ashton has around 25 or 30 acres of the finest wheat in the county that covers a big territory, but its true this wheat is up at his new home place. He will make wheat if it doesn't rain a drop until harvest time.

The Kinnaird brothers, Theodore Jess and Henry received a message early Sunday morning from Ardmore, Okla., stating that their uncle, Mr. Jack Mitchell, had passed away. All three brothers left early Sunday morning to attend the burial.

Last Thursday night Mrs. D. C. Jones gave a birthday party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Walker Hatcher's son, Owen, age 18 years. About 40 attended the party and afterwards everybody went over to Owen's parents and Mr. and Mrs. Hatcher served the crowd with cake and berries. Everyone enjoyed a fine time.

The Rabbit Creek school 4-H Club gave a wiener roast Friday night down on the river. Over 40 were present and every one had a fine time. —HAWKEYE.

The quickest way for a doctor to lose a favorite patient is to tell her that it was only a "minor operation."

Believes Tires Revolutionize Farming Today

Just as it revolutionized the trucking industry a number of years ago, the pneumatic tire is revolutionizing agriculture today, in the opinion of Jim Alexander, local dealer for The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.

"Use of pneumatic tires on tractors and farm implements has ushered in a speeding up of farm operations enabling the farmer to do considerably more work with his equipment at an appreciably lower cost," Mr. Alexander declared.

"Goodyear placed the Farm Implement tire on the market two years ago as a modification of the Goodyear Airwheel tire for airplanes, and in this short time it has gained wide acceptance among farmers because of its many advantages over steel-wheeled equipment. In addition to lowering fuel and oil costs, Farm Implement tires reduce rolling resistance, release more power for useful work, increase the comfort and health of the operator, minimize breakage and repair costs by lessening vibration and widen the tractor's scope of usefulness by permitting its operation across lawns and on highways where steel wheels with lugs are prohibited.

"New tractors especially designed for pneumatic tires are being placed on the market as a result of the whole-hearted acceptance by farmers of this new development. The new models are lighter, faster and more efficient and do all the jobs requiring engine power on the farm, including the short medium speed hauling jobs for which up to this time horses have been kept by practically all farmers.

"Trucking operations, formerly conducted on solid tires, were speeded up immeasurably by Goodyear's introduction of the pneumatic truck tire and in the next few years farm operations, too, will be speeded up more than seems possible at the present time," Mr. Alexander concluded.

Pontiac Dealership To Be Located Here

Expansion of the business volume in Burkburnett by many thousands of dollars annually was in prospect today with the arrival today of Frank Williamson, District Manager of the Pontiac Motor Company with headquarters in Dallas.

Mr. Williamson, the direct factory representative of one of the largest divisions of General Motors, came into Burkburnett for the express purpose of establishing a dealership here for the new Pontiac six and eight cylinder cars. These cars, since their initial public showing at the New York automobile show in January, have leaped into nationwide popularity and are establishing sales records two and three times those of a year ago.

Mr. Williamson is here to make contacts with local business men who are in a position to capitalize on the possibilities offered by a dealer franchise with his company. Dealerships in other cities the size of Burkburnett, Mr. Williamson said, are in many instances responsible for the sale of 100 new cars a year. Such volume would mean a gross annual business of approximately $95,650.00 and would add an operation of that magnitude to the business turnover of Burkburnett. As soon as the proper local man or men is located, the dealership will be set up and the sale of Pontiacs started here at the earliest possible date, Mr. Williamson said. He stated further that the reason his company is extending its dealer representation to many dealers the size of Burkburnett is because of the unusual profit possibilities offered by such dealerships at the present.

"Druing the past few years," according to Mr. Williamson, "many Pontiac dealers in towns the size of Burkburnett have been enjoying a healthy and profitable business despite the fact that we had but one line of cars, our Straight Eight. This year, the addition of two lines of lower-priced Sixes has given our dealers a wider market and, consequently, the opportunity of increasing their sales and profits.

"Our low-priced model lists for only $615, which is enabling our dealers to compete successfully in the low-price field where over 90 percent of all motor cars are being sold today. That low price is a big factor in the increased sales which we and our dealers are enjoying. Another is the fact that the Pontiac is recognized everywhere as being the most beautiful car on the road today. And when you combine a low price, outstanding good looks and real economy of operation, you have a winner. The net result is that we can now establish dealerships in new localities the size of Burkburnett with complete assurance that they will be successful and pay a satisfactory income to the dealer."

"When questioned as to the qualifications necessary to obtain a Pontiac dealer franchise, Mr. Williamson said, "The ideal man, of course, is one who has had experience as a dealer and who has relatively small amount of capital that is necessary to get going. But in many instances, we have given the franchise to men who were sales managers for other dealers and even "star salesmen" with satisfactory results. In other cases, we have established connections with men totally inexperienced in the automobile business but who wished to make a good investment.

"Instances of this nature are a convincing example of the growing confidence in the business future of the country. Such people, because of the low return of uncertainty over the future of stocks, bonds, etc. are investing their money in dealerships because they realize that such a disposition of their funds will, ably managed, give them a higher and more permanent return than the normally safe channels of investment. When such a person approaches us, we find him some man thoroughly trained in the automobile field who is competent to manage the dealership on a mutually profitable basis. The latter may be a sales manager or executive of another dealer, either locally or in a neighboring town, who wants to branch out into full responsibility in cooperation with the man who wants to invest his money.

"In operations of this kind, we maintain a special department for the sole purpose of assisting our dealers in successful management and selling, and many of our dealers about the country testify to the efficiency and value of this department's assistance.

"I am here to interview all interested residents, either with or without money, or with or without experience. I plan to stay at the office of the Burkburnett Star, and am hopeful that before I leave a satisfactory local arrangement can be made."

A Record

Since beginning regular practice the high school boys baseball team has made great improvement. In losing the first game of the tournament some may be led to believe that they had just another team.

Such players as Kenneth Simmons, Harvey Bentley, Russell Cope, and Alvin Bills would make a good team with any kind of pitching. But it was the pitching in the Valley View game that was nothing less than a record. Neil Peters pitched a game that would have been a credit to Dizzy Dean. He walked one man and without an exception the rest of his team mates. Several errors gave Valley View 5 runs. Kenneth Simmons hit a terrific home run far in the cold north wind, but found no one on at the time. Final score was 5 to 3 in favor of Valley View.

Although the boys lost they should receive credit for the smart ball they played. The work of Russell Cope behind the bat was great. His head work was a controlling factor for the great pitching of Neil. Then the heavy work of Kenneth, Harvey and Alvin made the Valley View boys look helpless.

Other players playing their last game were: Dan Hofacket, a good first baseman and a heavy hitter; Buck Willett, second base, and Tommy Harms, short stop.

Those eligible for another year are Rike Pevey, Laverne Patton and Russell Cope.

GIRLS BASEBALL

The high school baseball girls went to the finals and were defeated by Iowa Park. They drew a by and had to play only one game before they went to the finals. They defeated Fairview 22-14 Friday afternoon. They won second place in the tournament.

Former Teachers Are Visitors Here

On Monday, April 1, we had with us two former teachers; Mr. Gene Forman, who is now in Denton and Miss Estelle Hayes.

Mr. Forman taught school here for some time, and we were delighted to have him with us again. At the present Mr. Forman is working in Denton as a car salesman, with Grace-Barrow Chevrolet Co.

Miss Hayes taught Home Economics here for three years, and we were more than glad to have her visit us again. She is now teaching in Waxahatchie.

Again the season has arrived when most of the talk over backyard fences is about the wash on another neighbor's line.

Assembly Program

The student body of the Burburnett High School had an assembly program April 3, and had the pleasure of hearing Doctor Chancellor and Mr. Trussel speak.

Others on the stage were Rev. Hayes, Mr. C. J. Duncan and Miss Dorothy Hagard.

Mr. Trussel told interesting things about the faculty, which they would not have told on themselves, especially Mr. Duncan, Miss McClure and Mr. Hill. He sang two songs "Stand By Me" and "His Eyes on the Sparrow," accompanied by Dorothy Hagard.

Doctor Chancellor spoke on "My Old Man," which was enjoyed very much by the student body and faculty.

Brother Hayes invited the public out to the meeting, being held by Doctor Chancellor. We are sure everyone will receive a very hearty welcome.

Volley Ball

The volley ball girls met Thursday to complete plans for making money.

The girls have about $35 to apply on their sweaters and are planning to get $10 or $15 more. They will pay the rest themselves. The sweaters will cost about $150. They will be black coat sweaters with an eight inch orange B on the left side.

The Senior Play

Dress of Home Ec Girls Judge

On Tuesday afternoon in the high school auditorium the dresses made by girls in the first and second year clothing classes were judged to select representatives of Burburnett Home Economics Department to attend the State Homemakers Rally held at Corpus Christi April 24-27.

The judges were Miss Lillie Mae Armstrong, teacher of home economics at Fairview, Miss Virgie Duke teacher of English at Clara, and Miss Rebecca Park, who teaches home economics at Clara. They used the same score cards to make their decisions that will be used at the rally. After some deliberation they selected Mildred Kreager for first place in the first year class.

Her dress is a plaid searsucker with a green piquet coat. Polly Wiggins, who made a dainty blue plaid prime school dress trimmed in organdy ruffling, won second place. Marjetta Owens, who placed third, made her dress in the lb. clothing class last semester. Her dress is a novelty brown printed cotton material with a brown crepe kerchief.

In the second year clothing class the tailored garment together with accessories are judged. Margaret Turner was selected for first place. Her dress is a two piece yellow linen trimmed in brown and her accessories are brown. Ruby Bills, who made a pink linen and wore white accessories, won second place. Claudia Mae Bowman, who placed third, made her dress in the 2lb. clothing class last semester. Her dress is a chinese red made of a sheer woolen crepe and she wore black accessories.

Virgie Lee Skipwith has previously been chosen to represent the third year class. Her afternoon dress is made of black satin. Virgie Lee, together with the winners of first places in the first and second year clothing classes, will represent the clothing department at Corpus Christi next week.

Assembly Program

Monday, April 14, the Choral Club from Hardin Simmons University honored us by coming over and singing for us. The girls quartet and the girls sextet also sang. The boys quartet sang some numbers also. A group of boys from the University presented a play, "Cleopatra." It was enjoyed immensely by everyone. Gordon Suits, one of the boys from the University played the accordion during the intermission and also sang.

The whole affair was enjoyed by everyone who heard them. And we hope that they will come back some other time and sing for us again.

Denton

The choral club left Burburnett last Friday morning at eight. From there it went to Wichita where it changed its bus. It arrived in Denton about 1:20. The club ate lunch in town and then went to the college where it registered for its rooms. The girls were lucky enough to get the Fitzgerald, the senior hall, and the newest one. Of course, the college and everything concerning it was perfectly lovely.

The girls ate dinner in Breckenridge Hall Friday at 6:15, as they did all the meals, and a dance was given afterwards for them.

On Saturday morning the contests were held, class C first, B and then A.

On Sat. afternoon they were permitted to swim in the gymnasium, play tennis, golf, or anything they cared to. All the guests were given tickets to the picture show, "Evergreen" given Saturday night.

They left Denton Sunday morning at 9:30, ate lunch in Decatur and arrived home at 2:10.

Spanish Banquet

The Spanish pupils of Burburnett High School had their annual banquet Thursday night, April 11, at the Mexican Inn in Wichita Falls. After a delicious dinner of Mexican food the following program was enjoyed by pupils and guests: The Welcome Address, I. V. Thornton; The Translator, Dan Hofacket; The Breeze, Juanita and the Isle of Capri, Jackie Kirsh, Katherine Houser, Margaret Griffin, Claudia Mae Bowman, Melba Clark, Mary Emma Hodges accompanied by Ruby Louise Bishop, Piano Solo, Ruby Louise Bishop; Ganta, Pauline Browning, accompanied by Ruby Louise Bishop; Dreamy Mexico, Barbara Crissey; Greetings from Checholaviva, Mrs. Andrade; Mexican Dance, Thelma Gene Armstrong; Mexican Violon Solos, Mrs. Genaro Gonzales.

Spring Football

The squad has been divided between Wayne Rose, who has the string line and Capt. Avis Finch, who has the regular back field. Wayne Rose's team is called the Ramblers and Capt. Finch's team is called the Trojans. There is a contest between the two teams and the losers are going to take the winners to Lake Kemp on May 10.

The squad has a wonderful spirit and have settled down to real blocking and tackling. Capt. Finch has been shifted from center to the quarter back post and is doing a nice job of blocking. Capt. Finch will play offensive quarter and defensive center. Rose is improving on his defensive work and should be able to handle one side of the line by himself. Majors on the other side of the line is improving over last year, but he still needs lots of hard work. If the two boys keep improving the Bulldogs should have the best wing men in the district next fall.

The outstanding man at the tackle positions is J. W. Kent. Kent is doing fine work and is improving nicely. J. W. has everything to make a good tackle; he is big and fast. Wade Johnson is still working hard and is handling himself in an improved way. Johnson has to have lots of hard work. Ralph Stewart is another man that looks good at tackle and is doing nice work at center.

Kenneth Whitten, Cecil Cook, Clifford Duke, Thomas Lowery are looking good at the guard position. Eldon Maney, Millie Shoefstall, are doing fine work at their positions.

Vocational Agriculture

The Vocational Agriculture boys, with their teacher, J. D. Everheart, are nearing the end of their course that is as far as the school year is concerned, but not by far, finished with the completing of their work on projects.

Most of the boys are now planning for their future dealings with agriculture and how they shall apply their vocational agriculture course with their vocation. Several boys have figured on going to college this year and take up some form of agriculture. There are various fields of agriculture to choose from and the field is not as much crowded as is other lines of vocations.

The main job up to date is the process of poisoning prairie dogs in order to save grass and value the land more highly.

Laughs of The Week

Mr. Strong: Can anyone tell how the earth is divided?
Willie: Between them that it and them that would like to it.

Margaret: The directions rub the surface down with wool.

Van: I'm not sure, but I think it came from the fleece of sheep.

A little man bought two tickets at the theatre box office, allowed by his wife and eleven children, started to enter.

"Here," shouted the doorman, "where are the other tickets?"

"What other tickets?"

"Why for this crowd?"

"Do you not advertise under twelve with parents free?" the movie fan asked.

"But these are not under twelve," came the protest.

"Count them," retorted the doorman, "and you will find there are eleven, we left the others at home."

"To govern is to sit on a cigar on a heap of gunpowder in a glass house besieged by a mob equipped with sharp stones," said Mr. Hill expressed his leadership.

Doctor: When did you expect that your husband was right mentally?

Mrs. Jones: When he shot the hall tree and began feeling on the floor for apples.

"John," cried the mother, into the house this very day have some errands for you to do."

"Why, Mother?" exclaimed "I want to grow up to be an abiding citizen. Dad says the code forbids child labor."

Mr. Reeves: Can you give an example of wasted energy?
J. T.: Yes sir, telling a lying story to a bald-headed man.

"Oh, doctor," cried a woman, "I am dreadfully afraid. The ghosts of my departed come and perch on the top fence posts all around my house when dusk is falling. I can't see a couple dozen spoon spoons at top of the posts, waiting, waiting! What shall I do?"

"Sharpen the tops of the fence posts," replied the doctor.

Bill: Can you think of anything worse than raising cats and dogs?
Sam: Yeah, hailing taxis.

Mr. Reeves: My wife says my pockets last night.

Mr. Blackwell: What did she say?
Mr. Reeves: About the way any explorer, enough material for a lecture.

Johnnie: Washington sure have had a great memory.

Mr. Westerfield: Why do you think he had a great memory?

Johnnie: Well, they built a monument to it.

Mr. Culpepper: Ah, sweet you would look beautiful in simple gingham dress.

Wife: What makes you say that?
Mr. Culpepper: I just saw your dressmaker's bill!

Tex: I'd like to marry your daughter, sir.

Mr. Smith: Cur! Isn't it a long time you have been traveling company?

Tex: Yes sir, I've been gone your daughter for three years.

Bernice: Won't you join me in a cup of tea?
Coley: Don't be ridiculous. I know both of us can't get of those little cups.

Waiter: It must be kind of difficult to eat soup with a mustache.
Marvin: Yeah, it's quite a bit.

Loyd W. Which is the more important, a man's wife or his children?

Mr. Creighton: Well, he has lots of places a man can get out his wife.

Back in grandmother's favorite implement was a yarn. Now, in daughter's is a golf ball.

Rites Held For W. Hollingsworth

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Walters, Okla., yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock for W. Hollingsworth, who passed away suddenly Thursday afternoon in his home south of Randlett. Hollingsworth was one of the pioneers of this country, here with his family in February, 1907 and settling on the land where he has resided until his death.

Hollingsworth was born on March 10, 1897, near Centerville, Iowa, the son of Mrs. Nellie June Doggett, also known as Mrs. Pansy, the wife of B. Parker, residing in Allamore, Okla., and Vivian, who was his mother. He was a good man, a hard worker and there are many who remember his cheerful greeting and friendly smile.

His most wonderful thing in this life was to have a wife who you know understood him, who you know understood his eyes and who you know in his voice was in the grasp of his hand.

In addition to the widow and two daughters, he is survived by two granddaughters, Marilyn Jean and Richard Frank Hudson; two sisters, Mrs. Grace Larimore of Centerville, Iowa; three brothers, Will Hollingsworth of Okemah, Okla., and Hervy and Fred Hollingsworth of Broken Arrow, Okla. The old friends who attended the funeral were Judge Jere Enid, Mrs. Mike Voegeli of Okemah, Okla. Mrs. Hollingsworth and daughters accompanied her to Centerville for burial.

—A Friend

should be taken each week. The chest should be sponged each morning. Start with tepid water, and gradually lower the temperature as tolerance for it increases. Follow with a brisk rubbing with a rough towel, until the skin is ruddy.

TEETH—Teeth should be brushed morning and evening. Powders are better than creams. Use a gargle and mouth-wash of a pleasantly flavored alkaline preparation.

SMOKING—Smoking is permitted in moderation in the open air. Inhaling the smoke of others should be avoided. It is as harmful as smoking.

Fresh Air

GOOD REST—In a well-ventilated room indoors is better than a sleepless night outdoors.

Amusements

Avoid anything that causes mental excitement, such as playing cards too intensively. A couple rubbers of bridge in the evening is unobjectionable.

Most amusements that involve exercise are apt to be too strenuous. However, golf (avoiding the long drives), croquet, and quoits are permissible. Walking is best.

President was signing the War Department Appropriation Bill, the House passed by a vote for a 367 to 15 against, the McSwain Bill designed to take the profits out of war. The amendment levying a 100 per cent excess profits tax was retained in the bill as finally passed but a provision permitting the drafting of all men between 21 to 45 for armed service was stricken out. The Senate Munitions Committee expressed their gratification with the adoption of the tax amendment for now there is no question concerning the constitutionality of any tax amendments that the Senate may approve. This committee advocates the confiscation of all profits in excess of 3 per cent and all salaries over $10,000.

SECURITY BILL

Thursday, April 11th, the House began its debate of the Social Security Bill after the adoption Wednesday of a rule, the interpretation of which is sure to become a controversy before the debate is ended. Champions of the revolutionary old-age pensions and unemployment insurance bills declared that the rule will permit the offering of their bills as amendments. Congressional leaders however, declared that there was no intention of gagging the House and expressed their confidence that they could muster enough votes to defeat all such amendments. Their intention is to ask that all points of order be dismissed in order that a vote may be had. However, the final interpretation will depend largely on the strength of those offering amendments for if their following looms dangerously large a strict interpretation is almost certain. Friday at a press conference the President outlined his views on the bill. He was firm in his stand that the Federal Government should not bear all the burden of the old age pensions. He argued that such a step would necessitate the organization of a large bureau to administer the fund and that this is very undesirable. At the same time the President made a vigorous defense of the proposed unemployment insurance features of the bill which have been meeting with so much opposition on the Hill. He declared that old age pensions and unemployment insurance went hand in hand and would ultimately solve a major portion of the problem of balancing the budget. While the President was defending the bill, Congressman Sam B. Hill ranking Democratic member of the Ways and Means Committee, was explaining to the House that the excess funds to be built up will be used largely for governmental financing and for the elimination of tax securities when the funds are not needed.

THE PRESIDENT RETURNS

President Roosevelt arrived back at the White House late Tuesday and immediately began to gather up the reins of the government so that he might personally accelerate his legislative program. The most important thing awaiting his return was the Works Relief Bill and he signed that at 4 P. M. Monday, while on the train to New York to attend the funeral of his cousin, the American Minister to Canada. At the same time he made allocations of $125,000,000 to the F. E. R. A. and $30,000,000 to the CCC, both of which were practically without funds to continue their operations.

Further details of his plans for the expenditure of the $4,880,000,000 were withheld and at the press conference Tuesday, it was stated that no definite plans concerning the organization had been perfected as yet. The signing of the huge War Department Appropriation Bill was his next move and then arrangements were made for a conference with Speaker Byrns and the Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee to try to speed up action on the still pending social security bill. The conference was held that night and the conferees emerged from the White House with the comment that the President was favor of the bill as it now stands. Wednesday the President announced that he planned to double the CCC and also that he planned to expend most of the Works Relief fund before July, 1936.

Your wife will know why we buy from Western Electric

As the world's best purchasing agent, she applies the same rules of thrifty buying used by the Bell System.

A special study based on 3,000 separate items of telephone equipment and supplies indicates this fact: Western Electric, as supply unit of the Bell System, sells to Bell operating companies for a fourth less, on the average, than the lowest price offered by independent supply firms.

This of course does not mean a saving of a fourth on every item bought from Western Electric. Some supplies... paper, paints, poles, for example... range from 5 to 17 per cent under usual market prices. Others, such as telephones, cables and switchboards, show similar variations in the amount saved.

But the important point, clearly indicated, is that Western's prices are appreciably lower to us than open market prices.

As one of the 24 associated companies of the Bell System, we buy most of our equipment and much of our supplies from Western because we get bargains there, because we get uniform quality and the assurance of exact performance... and because Western Electric parts are so designed that future improvements and developments will fit into and work with equipment already in use.

These factors help us materially in achieving the Bell System policy of good telephone service at fair cost to the user.

How Does It Sound To You?

The twenty-fourth annual report of the Georgetown Water and Light Plant shows that the total net income above operation was $30,435.31. If credit is taken for the free service (furnished the FERA, Chamber of Commerce, usual municipal requirements, park and street lights) the total net income was $37,917.31. The electric utility is valued at only $124,000.00. Georgetown has a population of 3,583; yet "Citizens of Georgetown will be gratified when they compare their bills for utility service with those of friends in other cities served by private utilities, even in cities up to 25,000 in population."

We Have The Same Opportunities . . . .

Burkburnett, with a population of 3,281, has the same opportunity to save its citizens money. In fact the establishment of the local light plant has already saved the community much money, besides keeping it at home. The Georgetown plant has been operating for several years; whereas the local plant has been running only since 1933; but our opportunities are as good. Every citizen should support his municipal light plant with all the loyalty of which he is capable.

1. Dry cornstarch rubbed into grease stains on cloth absorbs the grease and can be brushed off carefully, repeating the treatment until the spots disappear?
2. Plants love bottom heat and if house plants droop from no apparent cause and refuse to thrive, watering them solely by pouring warm water into the saucers every day will sometimes give them the new vigor?
3. Clear, warm water will remove milk or cream from cloth if applied immediately?

RECIPES

Whipped Cream
To insure stiff whipped cream add a little gelatine. The best proportions are one teaspoonful of gelatine soaked in two tablespoonfuls of cold milk for five minutes, dissolved over boiling water and cooled, added to one and one-half cups of cream and beaten stiff.
Two thirds of a cup of powdered sugar, one teaspoon of vanilla and a few grains of salt may be added, if desired.

Meringue

To make a light, tender meringue that will not fall, place the egg whites to be used in a bowl in the refrigerator. When chilled, beat until stiff and dry. Then add two teaspoons of granulated sugar for each egg white used and return to the ice to chill again.
Spread the meringue over the pie when partly cooled, and brown quickly in a hot oven.
