Trojans Lose to Hughes Springs Friday 6 to 0

By C. PARR II

Hughes Springs Mustangs defeated the Talco Trojans 6 to 0 before an estimated 800 school-boy fans at Mustang field Friday night. Coach Bob Wright's bi-district champs were sparked by Bobby Martin and Willie Williams in their great running and passing attack. Bobby Martin returned two punts for 40 and 20 yards. Williams hit some beautiful passes but the receivers just couldn't hold. The Trojan line held the Mustangs to a minimum of yards on the ground while the secondary took care that only two passes were completed.

The Mustangs took all their spirit from Witt, a speedy back from last year.

The Trojans opened the attempt receiving on the south end, took a series of downs and punted. In turn the Mustangs punted and Talco took over. The Trojans fumbled and the Pones were on the march. They set up two first downs and finally Witt reached paydirt around left end.

Showing spirit, the Trojans marched upfield to the 10 yard line and a tally seemed sure, but the line held and the Trojans were left stranded in the first period.

The second half opened with the Trojans kicking to the Pones. The two teams marched up and down field, first the Trojans then the Mustangs, then the Men of Troy saw yardage come their way. Again they reached the narrow margin but still could not tally. The Mustangs took the ball and went down to the 15, where the gun sounded and the game ended 6-0.

George Sawyer, former punter at Humble Lake, who retired two years ago and moved to Longview, recently suffered a light stroke, according to information obtained at the Humble fish fry at Talco on Thursday of last week.

Humble Employees Entertain With Big Fish Fry

Talco division of Humble Oil and Refining Co. employees threw a big fish fry on Thursday evening of last week, when more than 650 were served.

Among out-of-town invited guests were Humble employees from Tyler, London, Hawkins, Picton, Van and Carthage.

The menu consisted of great slabs of fish cooked to a golden brown, potato chips, ranch style beans, onions, pickles, bread, tea and coffee.

Tables were arranged and lights strung in trees in the Camp near Bachelors Quarters. The line formed on the left and at times it was a block long.

More than 325 pounds of dressed fish were cooked and served hot to the big gathering. And they were good fish, too, from Humble lake north of Jolntown.

Like all lakes, fishing becomes poor in them after a number of years' growth of certain vegetation in the water, and "rough" fish increase at the expense of game fish. It was decided to drain the lake to kill vegetation and remove the Buffalo, Carp and Shad and restock the lake with Bass, Perch and Catfish.

The lake was drained two weeks ago and the fish for this fish fry placed in a Bogata frozen food locker until needed.

It was a most pleasant gathering and no one was allowed to make a speech. Neighborly visiting followed the full and satisfying meal.

Coats Well Gets South Offset

Due for commission test, Morris Coats No. 1 Pewitt, Banks survey, Paluxy discovery ten miles east of Talco, pumped initially at the rate of sixteen barrels per hour. Casing is perforated at 4,506-36 and 4,538-42 feet. On a fee tract immediately south of the discovery, Paul Dewitt has started and is drilling below 2,000 at a confirmation test. Location is in the W. A. Dundas survey.

Miss Daphna Murphrey of Wills Point, was a week end guest of Miss Merl Flanagan. James Miles and Bill Ellis of Overton, were Sunday guests.

Two Hurt When Car Side-Swipes Bridge Banister

Lee McAfee and Jess Blalock of Talco, narrowly escaped death on Friday night when the McAfee car in which they were returning to Talco from Bogata, got out of control, side-swiped the banister of a bridge on Highway 271 near the Bogata deep well and pump house and crashed into a branch fifteen feet below.

Blalock was considerably bruised and was taken to a Mt. Pleasant hospital for observation. McAfee suffered small cuts over one eye but was back on the job Saturday at Hall Lumber Co., where both men are employed. The car was practically demolished, as was the bridge banister.

"We were driving along at 45 or 50 miles an hour, talking, when the right hand wheels left the pavement. When I attempted to pull back on, the rear right wheel hung on the side of the pavement and when it did come on it threw the car nearly crossways of the road, and I lost control," Mr. McAfee told this reporter.

Paving at that point just northwest of the bridge is about five inches above native dirt level.

Harry Stracener, Humble employee, has been transferred from Talco to the Gladewater district and his family has moved to that city. The Straceners have resided at Talco for six years, coming here from Longview.

TALCO RESIDENTS ARE ON THE MOVE

Last week a round of moving took place. Ray Buchanan bought a lot in Gieger Heights to build a new seven-room FHA home. He sold the house in which he was living to W. A. Thurman. Mr. Thurman moved into his house.

Marvin Owings moved into the house vacated by Mr. Thurman and Ray Buchanan moved into the Marvin Owings house. Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Jones moved into their new home on Gieger Heights Friday. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Rosson moved from the Humble Camp to a lease directly west and near Talco proper.

Talco Postoffice Shows Increase In Third Quarter

Postmaster George Barber informs The Times that sales at the Talco Postoffice were $52 greater for the third quarter this year than the same quarter in 1948.

Postal receipts are a very good barometer of business conditions generally in the area served by that particular postoffice. We doubt if there are many small town postoffices in this area that show such an increase.

Those who are interested in Talco should buy all their stamps and money orders at the Talco office. We must maintain our second-class classification. It means better salaries for employees and better mail service.

Trojans-Tigers Clash Friday

By C. PARR II

Talco Trojans will play host to the Mt. Pleasant Tigers on Trojan field Friday night for the annual Home Coming at which the old rivals have always clashed.

The Trojans can only boast the county, and Sidney Cooper of Arkansas. Ten grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were held at 3 p. m. Sunday at Dalby Springs, under direction of Rev. Mark Wells of Talco. Burial followed in the Dalby Springs cemetery.

bi-district championship last year and one win against three defeats this season. The Tigers have won two in succession, including the 13-7 win over the Jefferson Bulldogs Friday night. You will recall the Trojans were waylaid by the Bulldogs in the opener 20-0, but the Trojans have come a long way and expect to be in full power with the exception of Bobbie McCuller, who may be out. All in all the Trojans seem to be in top shape for the tussle. Game time, 8 o'clock, Trojan Field, Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Jones went to Ft. Worth Monday to attend the opening of the new bank building where their son, Jerry, is employed.

October blew in with a swirl of falling leaves and 45 degree temperature last Saturday. It was the first open day of the squirrel season, and pay day. Average frost date is Nov. 11, but it came October 18 last year. Earliest killing frost on record here was Oct. 9, 1917.

This is National Newspaper Week, when newspapers of the nation are supposed to toot their own horns and tell how valuable they are to the communities in which they circulate, the state and nation. Our advertisers took over this week, leaving us no space for such promotion. Perhaps it is better. Some weeks, like our last edition, we wonder what we will use to fill up the paper, and this week we still wonder how we will get it all in.

Two Men Injured When Plane Falls

Alex Weatherbee Jr., 23, of Paris was in satisfactory condition at the Sanitarium of Paris after a plane in which he and Redus Price, 21, were riding crashed Sunday morning just off the U. S. Highway 271 Red River bridge.

The hospital reported Alex had fractured bones and cuts about the face and injured shoulder. Redus already dismissed, suffered a dislocated left elbow and cuts about the head and body.

Alex Weatherbee Sr., reported the two boys had been flying his son's PT-19 above the clouds and had apparently lost their bearing.

"They came down through the clouds, but a low ceiling had rolled in and they were 200 ft. above the ground before they could see clearly," Mr. Weatherbee said.

"They followed the river to the bridge. They started a climbing turn and the motor went dead." "Alex riding in the front cockpit saw a field and started for it," Mr. Weatherbee related. "The ship was stalling and the left wing hit the ground before he could land."

The accident occurred about 11 a. m. in a field east of U. S. 271 across Red River.

Bagwell No. 1 Evans Makes Small Well

Stratton Drilling has abandoned completion attempt at No. 1 Allen, Beckness survey, mile southwest of Bagwell. The well tested fresh water at 1,800-04 and 1,810-12 at the Goodland-Paluxy contract and then pumped water with sulphur odor in testing through perforations at 1,793-99 feet.

Same operator's No. 1 Evans, same survey, and 1,000 feet northeast of the Allen failure, was being figured good for twenty-five barrels of oil per day on pump. Pay is from 1,773-89 in a lime section.

A million Texas voters will (or should) think twice before they vote $7,500 pay for a $1,200 job for Legislators.

A lot of folks wouldn't mind working out their own salvation if they could get time and a half pay for working.

What some of those foreign nations need is not so much money devaluation as a stiff devaluation of their "isms."

Don't blame human nature for everything. Although it is old enough to know better, a lot of it is just plain cussedness.

Men who plan to "take it with them" are due for a good break. Underclothes are now being made that will protect money from fire.

Editor's Hunting Dog Killed Sunday

This editor lost his big Irish setter last Sunday when a fast car hit him on the highway in the eastern part of Deport. Buck Mathews found the dog and notified us. Death appeared to have been instantaneous, for which we are glad.

Sport had been our hunting dog for eight years, and was a good one, as many friends who borrowed him and followed him afield will testify. He did everything that any quail hunter could expect of a good bird dog.

He was a gentleman among dogs, wasn't quarrelsome, but would fight when necessary. He always "honored" another dog's point, and never attempted to creep in and steal it.

Now that he is gone we can't refrain from recalling some of his characteristics and accomplishments. Outstanding was the occasion when he prevented the editor from being struck by a snake, as he crowded our legs to push us out of danger, placing his own body between us and the snake.

Upon another occasion he started across the ice in a creek near Cuthand to retrieve a quail we had shot down after flushing it from his point. It was a cold January morning with the ground frozen, but the ice broke under his weight, dropping him into ice-cold water. He fought his way to the opposite bank, found the bird and started across the ice in another place. It broke with him a second time, but he held on the quail, broke ice to the bank and delivered the dead bird to his master.

We've seen him retrieve dead quail out of briar patches the average short-haired bird dog would not enter, and hunt over frozen ground, leaving bloody tracks, sharp ice having cut his feet.

Upon one occasion he was bitten by a dog suffering with rabies. To save him his owner ordered the usual Pasteur treatment take by humans, and he suffered no impairment of any facilities which made him a good bird dog.

Sport, like most hunting dogs, was very affectionate. Every opportunity he would nuzzle his master's hand for a friendly pat on the head and look up into his face with those beautiful brown eyes that tried to talk.

So long, old fellow, and if there is a dog heaven, may you find a master who will be as good to you as I tried to be.

A London publisher says: "Socialism is workable only in heaven, where it isn't needed, and in hell where they've got it."

Gulf Storm Brings Wind, Rain Here

This area caught the tail end of the Gulf hurricane that lashed the Texas coast Monday and Tuesday, causing millions of dollars damage to ungathered rice and cotton crops.

Less than two inches of rain fell the two days, and Tuesday night there was considerable wind that did some damage to open cotton in this area. Because it was already wet when the high winds came, not so much was blown out.

The hurricane which sent waves to the top of Galveston's seawall, expended itself as it traveled inland thru East Texas and into Arkansas.

RIGHT PARTY

A young woman political worker was helping to take a pre-election poll of the voters.

"May I see the gentleman of the house?" she asked of a large woman who opened the door.

"No, you can't," answered the woman.

"But I want to know the party he belongs to," pleaded the girl.

"Well, take a good look at me," she said sternly. "I'm the party!"

This Paper Prints Better Pictures Than Big Dailies

"I want to thank you for that nice picture of my daughter you recently printed," a local citizen and subscriber, said to the editor. "It was also printed in two large Houston newspapers, but you did a better job," he added.

All the pictures we print, where we order the engravings, are better than those printed on large perfecting presses of the dailies for the very simple reason that no engraving of over 65-screen will stereotype. This newspaper prints direct from the original engraving which we order 85-screen, which gives us 30 and a fraction per cent more detail or that much better picture.

Occasionally some one will give a picture to a large daily and then send us a "mat" from the cut the big newspaper makes, to save the cost of engraving. When they do so they save a small charge we make to pay the engraver, but they sacrifice by 30 per cent the better engraving we can print if the order is placed direct with this newspaper.

May we urge that when you have a picture made to go in the newspaper that you also order from the photographer a "black and white on slick paper" from which to make the engraving. Colored photographs or those on pebble paper will not make good engravings. If you can't remember the above quotation, just tell him you want one picture your editor will use to make a cut or engraving and he will know what to print for you.

Highway Patrol Honors Newsmen

Newspapermen over a 10-county East Texas area had the law on their side Tuesday in an observance of National Newspaper Week.

An appreciation barbecue for representatives of 46 newspapers in the 12th District, Texas Highway Patrol, was held at noon Tuesday in Tyler, district headquarters.

Capt. Guy Smith, commanding officer of the highway patrol district, and his fellow officers planned the affair. Trick pistol shooting exhibitions and a pistol match for the visiting newsmen were the entertainment.

The affair was combined with the patrol district's regular monthly meeting, and the officers provided transportation for many of the guests.

This editor had an invitation and regretted he couldn't attend. He's not much of a pistol shot anyway, but would take on any of the typewriter pounders with a shotgun or a deer rifle.

The Texas Press Association, an organization maintained by and for Texas newspapers, was organized in 1880 in Houston.

Mrs. Mauldin Buried Tuesday at Cuthand

The funeral of Mrs. Amanda Alice Mauldin, 63 of Cuthand, was held Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. D. A. Smith officiated at Cuthand Church, with burial there.

New Comfort and Beauty is afforded by these Modern Awnings of scientific, patented construction. They are "ventilated" to give you COOLED shade and much lower room temperature than is possible with any other kind.

Slats-O-Wood Zephyr Awnings start air-conditioning at the right place by keeping the sun out and letting the breeze in. They insulate the window glass and prevent it from generating heat. With air passing freely through their staggered arrangement of slats, a thermo-syphon is created which pulls fresh air into the room at the bottom of the window and pushes stale air out at the top.

Watch Your Fires While in Woods

Hunters and others should remember that summer rains have increased the amount of vegetation in the woods. As this material dries out in the fall winds, the danger of forest fires increases.

While driving through or near wooded areas, be sure and use the ash tray in your car. If you smoke or use a warming fire, be sure your match and everything you light with it is dead out. Sportsmen can enjoy many more happy hours of hunting by observing these few precautions. The true spirit of sportsmanship calls not only for adherence to the game laws, but also for care with matches and fires in the forest. Fewer fires mean better hunting.

Third Oil Test Drills at Bagwell

The No. 1 Sameul and David Busbee wildcat test, a half mile south of Bagwell, reported down to 1,460 feet Sunday afternoon. The well, a half mile east and a little north of the No. 1 Evans, is being drilled on a 10-acre tract in the B. Gooch survey on U. S. Highway 82. The Busbees, operating as the Busbee Lumber Company, are having the well drilled to a scheduled depth of 1,850 ft.

Meanwhile, the Evans well is reported as still on pump and awaiting a bailer. The well began showing fresh water, following pumping of the oil every six hours. A bailer will be used in an attempt to clean the hole.

Riled Up Over Argument Mechanical Picker Throws Men Out of Work

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur, seems a little mad this week, but he'll get over it.

Dear Editor: More and more, I been readin about mechanical cotton pickers and how the day ain't far off when most cotton except a little around the turn rows will be picked by machines, and the other afternoon while I was wanderin around out here enjoyin the October sunshine I stumbled on a copy of a newspaper which I picked up and took home with me and after supper I looked it over and noticed an article by a man opposing the mechanical cotton picker on the grounds it would inrow a lot of people out of work.

Now this ain't the first time I've encountered such an argument or the first time I've had something to say about it, but such a contention still floors me. In the first place, while most farmers don't grow cotton for the benefit of cotton pickers but mainly to try to make a profit at it, which we won't go into whether they do or not, even if the aim of the farmer was to provide work for cotton pickers, and if a mechanical picker could do the job cheaper than hand pickers, it would still be better to use the machine and pension the pickers. Of the two, pickin cotton by hand or lettin a machine do it while the pickers watched, I believe most pickers would take the latter. It's easier and more fun and they can do it in the shade.

But what riles me up is that some smart bird is always contending the farmer ought to hold back on progress just to give work to somebody although you don't see many of these city people arguin against mechanical refrigerators so more ice men will have work or many city editors throwin out their type-settin machines so more printers can have work.

It turns me up to have some city man tell a farmer what he ought to do in the way of goin broke so somebody else can have work to do. Personally, you wouldn't say my farm out here is a model of efficiency, but any time anybody has a idea on how I can save some labor, mine or the hired kind, he's welcome to develop it. The farmer has enough to do tryin to feed the world without furnishing it spendin money too.

Yours faithfully, A. A.
