Crime Rate Fresh Issue In Campaign

By The Associated Press

The FBI's new report on the nation's crime rate has been injected into the 1972 presidential campaign.

After the report was issued Thursday, Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern asserted: "Under the Nixon administration, the basic problems behind high crime rates have not been solved. They have worsened."

While President Nixon did not respond to McGovern's comments, two administration officials did. Presidential assistant John D. Ehrlichman contended that McGovern was "dramatically haywire" in his crime figures.

The report, the FBI's Uniform Crime Report, said serious crime in the country was up 1 per cent for the first six months of this year compared to the same period in 1971.

But McGovern said: "This does not come close to telling the whole story. For every crime that is reported, there are two that are not reported, according to President Johnson's Crime Commission."

The South Dakota senator, who cut short his campaign plans to relax today at his farmhouse at St. Michaels, Md., said crime has increased 33 per cent and drug addiction has doubled in the last three years.

Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst, in a speech to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, attacked critics of the crime-reporting system.

"The myth-makers have decided that since the figures just do not bear out their point of view anymore, they will tell us that the figures are mistaken," Kleindienst said.

"They tell us that a lot of crimes are not reported to the police, and the answer to that is that this is nothing new—some crimes have always gone unreported."

Flying back to Washington from Los Angeles with Nixon, Ehrlichman disputed McGovern's report that serious crimes increased 33 per cent over the last three years.

Asked by newsmen what the figure should be, Ehrlichman said there had been a 20-per cent decline. But with more questioning, it developed that McGovern and Ehrlichman were talking about two different sets of statistics.

However, questioned by newsmen, Ehrlichman checked and reported that the 1969-72 hike in the number of serious crimes had been 19 per cent. "McGovern's statistic was misleading as well as wrong," he said.

Two More Win Certificates

Two other Big Spring High School seniors, Debra Irwin and Betty Looney, have won certificates in the 1973 National Merit Scholarship competition.

The first was Marie C. Boadle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Boadle, recently named a semifinalist in the competition.

The certification means that, academically, the girls are finishing in the upper five per cent of their classes.

Debra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Irwin of 407 Dallas St. Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Looney, 612 Colgate.

China, Japan Establish Diplomatic Relations

SHANGHAI (AP) — Japan and China signed an accord for diplomatic relations today, writing finis to the warfare and hostility that have separated them since the 1890s. Japan plans to close its embassy in Taiwan.

The Japanese and Chinese premiers, Kakuei Tanaka and Chou En-lai, issued a joint statement in Peking then flew to a staged but tumultuous reception in this port city which 35 years ago felt the Japanese military boot.

TAIWAN SILENT
The joint statement announced that Japan recognized the People's Republic of China as the sole legal government of China. Negotiations will begin soon on a treaty of peace and friendship to replace one Japan signed in 1952 with Chiang Kai-shek's Republic of China on Taiwan.

There was no official reaction from the Taiwan government.

News of the accord was generally well received in Japan.

Japanese financiers and businessmen have expressed hope Taiwan will not stop economic relations with Japan.

Within hours after the statement was signed with Chinese writing brushes and toasted in champagne in Peking's Great Hall of the People, Tanaka's treatment, which had been warm but not effusive, underwent an extraordinary change. Several thousand gaily dressed dance, song and music groups from communes, universities, government offices and youth organizations deluged Peking airport with noise and color in a sendoff strikingly different from the coolly correct reception Tanaka received on arrival Monday.

BEAT DRUMS
Tanaka made the two-hour flight to Shanghai with Chou in a special llyushin 18 and received a welcome here perhaps more exuberant than the Peking farewell.

Three thousand boys and girls beating cymbals, waving flowers and doing spirited dances greeted the two leaders. The throbbing beat on an enormous drum dominated the din.

Chang Chun-chiao, chairman of Shanghai's Revolutionary Committee and a Cultural Revolution associate of Mao Tse-tung's wife, led the official greeters.

Unlike Peking, where the streets were empty, crowds of people, some of them five deep, lined the Shanghai avenues in the center of town.

The two prime ministers checked into the Ching Kiang, a 14-story guesthouse reminiscent of the splendors of Shanghai's past when foreigners made the city their commercial and trade center.

FAREWELL BANQUET
Tanaka and Chou later motored off to visit a rural commune and were to have a farewell banquet tonight.

In 1937, the Japanese military forces moved into Shanghai after bombarding the city. Chiang Kai-shek's troops put up a spirited resistance but were no match for the Japanese marines.

In 1949, Chinese Communist troops marched into the city in the wake of Chiang's fleeing troops. The proclamation of the People's Republic in October of that year resulted in two Chinese governments, each claiming to be the legitimate ruler of China.

Chou and Tanaka signed their new agreement in a seven-minute ceremony in the gold and green eastern room of the Great Hall of the People.

In a six-point joint communique, China renounced its demand for indemnities from Japan, which invaded China in 1937 and laid waste to the country.

TRADING TIES
Japan recognized Peking as "the sole, legal government of China."

The Chinese reaffirmed that Taiwan, seat of Nationalist China, is an "inalienable part" of their territory. Japan said it "fully understands and respects this stand of the government of China."

Foreign Minister Masuyoshi Ohira of Japan told newsmen that the Japanese-Chinese peace treaty signed in 1950 had "lost its validity" due to the new agreement.

Diplomatic relations with the Nationalists can no longer be maintained and the Japanese embassy in Taipei will "have to be closed in the not distant future," Ohira added.

TO MARRY — Shioichi Yokoi, left, 67-year-old former Japanese army sergeant who returned to Japan after hiding in Guam jungles for 29 years, is engaged to marry. Officials in Nagoya, Japan, said Yokoi's engagement to Mihoko Hatashin, right, 44, was arranged by members of the two families.

REVENUE SHARING County And City Await Divvies From Congress

Federal revenue-sharing funds are expected to be approved by Congress and signed by the President, the Associated Press has informed The Herald. Amounts of the shares for individual counties and cities have been announced to the nearest thousand.

Under the bill, Howard County will receive $239,000. The City of Big Spring will receive an amount of $378,000. City and County officials were not available for comment when the announcements were made.

The City is expected to amend its new 1972-73 budget to include capital improvements in the way of streets and curbing, with a view of eventually providing this service throughout the entire city. Sewer service for areas within the city limits, which have yet to receive sewer service, is expected to be budgeted also.

Other amounts announced to be issued in the area were Midland Co., $310,000; Midland, $491,000; Scurry Co., $251,000; Snyder, $81,000; Tom Green Co., $239,000; San Angelo, $817,000; Ector Co., $536,000; Odessa, $848,000; Taylor Co., $402,000; Abilene, $1,313,527.

Gangland-Style Slaying In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Benjamin Earls, 32, and John Lewis Sullivan, 28, were charged with murder Thursday in the Sept. 15 gangland-style slaying of Tommy Frank Hanna, 23, of Dallas.

Hanna was driving a car when four men jumped from another car, firing pistols and a carbine. Police said Hanna's car was riddled with "too many bullets to count." They believe the killing stemmed from drug traffic in the city.

Earls and Sullivan were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Robert R. Cole and held under bonds totalling $72,500.

POWs Beset By Political Controversy Over Return

By The Associated Press

The three American pilots freed by North Vietnam spent their first day home in military hospitals in three parts of the country today, still beset by political controversy over their return.

Air Force Maj. Edward Elias and Navy Lt. (j.g.) Mark Gartley and Norris Charles, dressed in freshly tailored service uniforms and wearing their combat decorations, arrived at Kennedy International Airport in New York Thursday night. They were greeted by family, friends and a delegation of ranking military men.

VERBAL WAR
The trio separated from their escort of antiwar activists and, after a highly charged exchange between Gartley's mother and a Defense Department officer, headed for military hospitals in New York, Alabama and California.

Mrs. Gartley, whose son was a prisoner for four years, objected to the immediate assignment, saying she wanted him to spend a few days with his family.

The three POWs had rejected offers to turn themselves over to U.S. government officials at various points along their journey, which included stops in Peking, Moscow and Copenhagen. One of the three, Maj. Edward Elias, said aboard the plane that he felt they had fulfilled the conditions of release set by Hanoi by remaining with their accompanying peace group.

Elias, 34, an Air Force officer held prisoner for five months, joined his family and flew to Maxwell Air Force Base in Montgomery, Ala., aboard a military C9 medical-evacuation plane, the Defense Department said.

The other two men are Navy Lt. (j.g.) Mark Gartley, 24, a prisoner for four years, and Navy Lt. (j.g.) Norris Charles, 27, captive nine months.

Gartley went to a family reunion at the U.S. Naval Hospital at St. Albans in New York City, the department said. Charles met with his family in New York and then flew to a naval hospital in San Diego aboard another C9, officials said.

RECAPTURED
Cora Weiss said she and the other three chaperones, David T. Dellinger, 56, Richard A. Falk, 41, and the Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., had been deceived by Elias. She said the major had indicated antiwar sentiments in Hanoi only to change his attitude once they departed.

"We have just witnessed a recapture scene, one incarceration replacing another," Mrs. Weiss said after the three men and their families drove away from the airport in government cars.

Gartley's mother, Mrs. Minnie Lee Gartley, broke down aboard the airplane when she failed to convince a Defense Department officer to let her take her son on a prearranged vacation.

DIDN'T CRY
"I didn't cry when you told me four years ago that my son had been captured in Vietnam, and I haven't cried since until tonight," she told the officer, Roger Shields.

"Your son is also an officer in the U.S. Navy," Shields interjected. He also told her that Gartley was being promoted to full lieutenant.

Officials' Trial Set For January

ABILENE — The plaintiff in the Mini-Flick Theater Club suit Thursday morning withdrew an application for a temporary injunction to prevent "illegal" harassment.

U.S. District Judge Leo Brewster slated the trial on the $450,000 suit against local officials for the January session of federal court.

City Attorney James Gregg said the proceedings took nine minutes. Held in custody until the trial were six 8 millimeter films and two projectors.

Judge Brewster allowed the plaintiff's attorney 30 days to file a brief and set the following 30 days aside for the defendants to file a brief in reply.

Represented by John Cole, a Dallas attorney, Jack Bert Kirk of Odessa, operator of the theater, is seeking $300,000 in punitive damages and $150,000 for future loss of business. Defendants are Police Chief Vance Chisum, City Manager Harry Nagel and County Judge A. G. Mitchell.

Attending the hearing with local officials was representative of the State Attorney General County Attorney W. H. Eysen Jr., Gregg and the three Big Spring defendants appeared at the trial.

LAMESA'S PAT RODGERS
... breaks wild horses

WON'T NAME THEM Schoolgirl, 13, Breaks Horses

By MARJ CARPENTER

LAMESA — You've heard the old saying "Wild horses couldn't drag me to that affair."

Lamesa has a petite 13-year-old girl that wild horses aren't going to drag anywhere. Because 4' 10" 100-pound Pat Rodgers breaks wild horses. She's worked with horses so many years that she can't remember the first one she tamed, but knows that she has broken wild horses without any help since she was nine years old.

She started out before that working with her father, Harold Rodgers, who breaks wild horses in his spare time. He also works in the oilfields.

The family lives just south of Lamesa east of the Big Spring highway. Pat attends the eighth grade at Lamesa's Middle School.

Pat claims that the average wild horse takes about three days to break if you work with him enough hours. "You just have to kind of talk to them and touch them and tell them everything's all right until you get them where they're not spooky. Then teach them to get used to being ridden." Very simple. If you're Pat Rodgers.

Her little brother, Wayne, 9, is already breaking Shetlands. Her little sister, Wendy, 8, also helps.

Her father is from DeKalb and her mother, Mary Ann, is from Victoria. They've both been around a lot of horses," Pat stated.

Her dad is also a former rodeo performer and she wants to be. "I wanted to enter bull riding but they said I had to be 16." She shrugged, "That's silly when I've ridden bulls for years."

She had to be satisfied with running for junior rodeo queen.

Pat really likes to spend time with horses. When asked if she named them when she broke them, she thoughtfully stated, "No, that would make them harder to give up." Then she smiled her big smile and added, "But I like to talk to them and work with them. They're easier to talk to, sometimes, than people."

Human Depletion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said today the time has come to give human beings a tax depletion allowance as generous as the one provided for oil wells.

They introduced a bill to permit individuals to deduct a minimum of 10 per cent of their earned income each year and up to 23 per cent for those in physically hazardous occupations. There would be an annual $1,000 limit on the deduction.

The oil depletion allowance is 22 per cent.

The allowance for individuals would be granted in consideration of the "physical, mental and emotional stress incurred in connection with the production of income during that year."

"Every job has its costs," Mansfield told his colleagues. "The manual laborer may be physically depleted before the office worker; white collar workers may be psychologically depleted before the statutory age of retirement; the assembly-line employee may be dehumanized long before his statutory retirement age."

Howard Pig First In Lubbock Show

A 228-pound barrow shown by Guy James of the Coahoma 4-H Club took over-all barrow grand champion at the Panhandle South Plains Fair at Lubbock Thursday.

James' barrow was competing with 250 barrows from all over Texas in the open show. With the prize goes $1,200.

Before entering over-all competition, the barrow was recognized first medium weight champion crossbreed.

Also placing in medium weight crossbreed were barrows shown by Summer Shaw, Knott 4-H, with third and Donna James, Coahoma 4-H, with fourth.

In the heavy weight division, Patty Peugh of the Knott club received a second place for her hog.

Danny Peugh of Knott showed a sixth place and Cindy Shaw of Knott an 8th place heavy weight Duroc.

Arrick Is Named To Bank Position

John Arrick, an employee of the firm the past 18 months, has been named an assistant cashier of the State National Bank, John Currie, executive vice president has announced.

Arrick was born in Big Spring Sept. 20, 1948, and attended public schools here, graduating from the local high school in 1966. He was active in sports, student council work, Explorer scouting and served as sports editor of the school annual staff his senior year in high school.

After graduating from high school, he attended Howard County Junior College two years, earning an Associate of Arts degree.

While attending HCJC, he was active in various campus organizations and served as president of the Geological Club in 1967-68. He was also head Physical Education director at College Heights Elementary School for two years and coached the College Heights area athletic teams organized through the YMCA.

He continued his education

at Texas Tech University, receiving a Bachelor's degree in Finance with a minor in Banking in December, 1970. He began working for the State National Bank here March 1, 1971.

His wife, the former Sidney Carr of Big Spring, graduated from Texas Tech in May, 1971, and is presently employed by the Big Spring Independent School District, where she serves as an elementary school teacher.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Arrick are members of the First United Methodist Church and spend much of their time working with youth organizations. During the summer months he served as manager of a Little League team. In addition, he was a member of the board of directors of the National Little League. Presently, he is coaching a Gra-Y youth football team for the YMCA.

Mr. and Mrs. Arrick make their home at 615 Steakley.

Second Charge Is Levied Here

Douglas Ray Bolding, 21, of a local hotel was charged in a second felony, forgery and passing, stemming from the Tuesday night burglary of RBC Construction Co.

The complaint filed with Peace Justice Walter Grice alleged Bolding gave Larry Herben an RBC check Tuesday.

Today Bolding was in county jail in lieu of posting bonds of $5,000 each set by Grice and Peace Justice Jess Slaughter in connection with the check and burglary.

Lamesa Delays School Action Until 1973

LAMESA — Lamesa schools will postpone any action on changing their system of semesters until next September when it is required by state law, according to Alton Cannady, school superintendent.

The board recently agreed to go on the three semester system next year as required and to avoid at this time changing to a four semester system.

This is in keeping with what most Texas schools are doing about the requirement that they change over by the next school year.

The requirement will force schools to have their students attend the same 180 days as they now attend, but will change to three 60-day semesters instead of two 90-day semesters.

This will change the reporting system and will again throw examinations in a period after the Christmas holidays which many schools had worked to avoid in recent years.

The state says that schools may offer a fourth semester but that the state will only help fund three of them.

Lamesa like many other area schools, currently offers summer school with a tuition required.

Lamesa schools are not planning to make any financial changes or building ventures prior to the possible changing of the school finance system like some schools in West Texas.

The Lamesa schools used a $2.25 million dollar bond issue in 1970 to build them a Middle School and update other buildings.

They currently are expressing pride in their one-year old vocational program which is being utilized by 500 of their 1,000 high school students. Their vocational department includes three units of home economics, two of vocational agriculture, one cosmetology, one vocational occupational education, one of distributive education, one of industrial cooperative training and two CVAE including texture fabrication and small engine and appliance repair.

Funding Request For CJC Plan Totals $1,270,323

AUSTIN — Permian Basin Regional Planning Commission's "1973 Criminal Justice Plan," just received by Gov. Preston Smith's Criminal Justice Council, cites a need for $1,270,323 CJC funding for 18 projects in 1973.

The plan, submitted by William R. Corbett, the commission's criminal justice coordinator, lists the projects in order of emphasis. Viewed as most important is implementation of the regional law enforcement radio system, estimated to cost $665,000, with $498,750 to come from CJC.

Other projects would provide technical equipment for regional law enforcement officers, a public defender project for the region, continued law enforcement officer training, improvements to the regional teletype network, a microfilm record system for the Lamesa Police Department, a management studies in small police departments, a Reeves County detention facility, Dawson County jail remodeling and continued support for the Midland Police Department's crime prevention unit.

Proposed projects of lesser emphasis are Ector County's three-tier project, Midland organized crime prevention unit, an investigator for the Ector County district attorney, office equipment for the Midland County district attorney, a regional records and information system, a regional bail bond study, a student subsistence program at the University of Texas at the Permian Basin and a Howard County juvenile probation project.

Local support to match CJC funding for the 18 projects is pegged at $507,023, in cash or kind.

CJC previously has funded 15 planning and action projects in the Permian Basin region a total of $425,651. Local matching contributions, cash or kind, have totaled $253,084.

Counties in the Permian Basin region are Andrews, Borden, Crane, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Glasscock, Howard, Loving, Martin, Midland, Pecos, Reeves, Terrell, Upton, Ward and Winkler.

CJC expects to receive a block action grant of $29,161,000 from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, Department of Justice, for fiscal 1973.

In addition, it will have available some three million dollars from the state's criminal justice planning fund, which comes from a court-cost levy in criminal cases imposed by the 62nd Legislature.

These funds must be apportioned among local governments in all the state's 24 regional councils. The amount available for governmental units served by Permian Basin Regional Planning Council depends on the urgency and validity of applications.

REFUSED TO TESTIFY

Army Clears Names Of 167 Negro Soldiers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has exonerated 167 black troopers punished in 1966 for refusing to testify against fellow soldiers who were under investigation for a frontier shooting in Brownsville, Tex.

Secretary of the Army Robert F. Froehke ordered dishonorable discharges against the men changed to honorable. The 167 were members of the 1st Battalion, 25th Infantry, an all-Negro unit.

President Theodore Roosevelt in 1906 ordered the men punished for their "conspiracy of silence" in connection with the shooting that history came to record as "The Brownsville Affray." Froehke declared the only documented case of mass punishment in the Army's history a gross injustice.

Officials said no attempt will be made to determine if any of the men are still alive and noted the action ruled out any back pay and allowances for their descendants.

A Pentagon spokesman said that while Froehke's action won't do the men any good now, the "secretary felt the record should be cleared and did so."

According to history books, at about midnight, Aug. 13, 1906, some 16 to 20 armed men rode on horseback through the streets of Brownsville, firing wildly into the homes of whites. One resident was killed and several others injured.

The shooting followed a fight between a black soldier of the 1st Battalion and a white merchant, which resulted in the town being placed off-limits for the battalion, quartered in nearby Ft. Brown.

The incident drew national attention and President Roosevelt ordered an investigation.

The townspeople claimed the riders were Negro troops from Ft. Brown, but a series of military inquiries and a county grand jury failed to establish the identity of any of the men involved. No soldiers would give evidence against their comrades.

When the troops persisted in their silence, Roosevelt on Nov. 3, 1906, ordered 167 privates and noncommissioned officers "discharged without honor from the Army" and "forever debarred from re-enlisting in the Army or Navy" because of the "conspiracy of silence."

Representing Lamesa at the meeting will be R. A. Noret, Henry Norris and Chamber Manager Art Roberts.

The highway extends from Raton, N. M. to San Antonio going through Amarillo, Lubbock, Lamesa, Big Spring, and San Angelo.

The group is currently attempting to obtain Interstate status for the highway after it leaves Lubbock. It has been named an interstate highway to that point.

Also expected to be discussed is the proposal that the funds in the U.S. Highway trust fund be changed to a mass transit system fund. Most of the organizations in the Midwest are apparently against this proposal.

Los Angeles Hires Coyote Trappers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Los Angeles County employs a lot of different people to do a lot of different jobs. Now the Board of Supervisors has approved a new title: coyote trapper.

The board voted unanimously to join the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in hiring two trappers for the remainder of the current fiscal year at a cost to the county not to exceed $13,000.

"Many sheep raisers in the Antelope Valley are losing 250 to 300 lambs each season," chairman Warren Dorn said. "Cattle and poultry producers also are suffering heavy losses and many pets are being destroyed in foothill areas."

Dawson's Cotton Growers Frown On Legislation

LAMESA — Since cotton is the main economy of Dawson County, the Lamesa Cotton Growers do not hesitate to express their feelings on current legislation.

In their annual meeting last week, they went on record as being opposed to the existing trailer brake law, air pollution controls and on-the-job safety laws while voicing favor of legislative efforts to effect competitive rate insurance.

The executive board which is headed by Eddie J. Carpenter, president of the growers group, was instructed to inform legislators of the local feelings.

Carpenter is the son of the late Ed Carpenter of Big Spring, former state legislator. During a brief discussion of the items, it was noted that the air pollution control laws alone would cost Dawson County over one million dollars. One agriculturalist noted that the existing requirement of the Texas Air Quality Board would cost $25,000 to $30,000 this year.

Edwin Thomas was elected to the board to replace Bob Brown. Don Peterson was named to serve an extra year in order to re-establish the order of election. Other board members in Precinct 1 are Glenn Toombs and Richard Woodward.

Waylon Bell was elected to succeed out-going director Jack McBride in Precinct 2 with Tom Boyd named to serve the extra year. Bob Hale and D. L. Adcock Jr. also represent that precinct.

In Precinct 3, Bill Weaver was re-elected for two years to serve along with Artis Pace, Donovan Phipps and Bobby Warren.

Henry Vogler and Bill Harris were re-elected from Precinct 4 to serve with Jesse Stephens and Joe O'Brien.

Otosclerosis

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I was told after an ear balance test that I have otosclerosis, and the left ear is so bad I can hardly hear out of it. I was also told I had it seven years ago, but my doctor would not agree to a stapedectomy operation at that time.

Please tell me what otosclerosis really is. I am 49 now. Would the operation be advisable at this time? I've been thinking of it very seriously. — Mrs. E.B.

Otosclerosis is caused by a growth of bone inside the ear — there's this tiny linkage of three bones that carry sound vibrations from the eardrum to the inner ear.

Overgrowth or thickening of these bones can prevent them from moving freely — and if they can't move freely, they can't carry those vibrations, and without those vibrations being transmitted to the auditory nerve, you can't hear. Or can't hear very well.

Several million people have this trouble to greater or lesser degree, but as common as the condition is, the cause is not known. (Of course, infection causes some cases.) In some instances the condition appears to run in families.

The operation called stapedectomy restores hearing in 80 to 90 per cent of cases, by freeing the linkage so the tiny bones can move properly again and transmit sound. The ear specialist must, of course, first make sure your loss of hearing is not due to degeneration of the auditory nerve, as the operation naturally cannot do anything about that.

Without knowing the reasons involved, I cannot speculate as to why your doctor did not recommend the operation years ago. Techniques in use today are very effective, and I recommend you consider it now. Your age is not a factor.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I've had all sorts of noises and ringing in my ear for over a year, and now it is in the other ear. My doctor gave me pills, but they didn't help. Is there anything to do for it? Will it damage the ear? What causes those noises? They keep me from falling asleep at night. — Mrs. V.B.

Such noises won't damage the ear — but MAY indicate that some ear damage has occurred. High blood pressure also can lead to ear noises. So can some drugs. No single remedy will suit all cases.

I suggest you send 15 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for my booklet, "Ear Noises, Their Causes and Cures." It also contains some suggestions on how to stop being annoyed by the noises in cases in which complete cure of the noises is not possible.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband, 68, has a testicle that is as large as an orange and dark red. It is hard. I read an article that said it was a tumor and

Hair(y) Test

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A woman in the U. S. Steel building almost got the supreme test for her hair spray's holding power. Firemen rushed to the building when women claimed they smelled smoke in the women's room. Firemen found no smoke, but "We think the girls were smelling hair spray," said Battalion Chief Joseph Mullen. "It was kind of a deodorant smell. One of the girls was still spraying when we got there."

Fearless Forecast Of Shows To Die

By JAY SHARBUTT

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Only one chore lingers after the hurly burly of the television premiere week: The Fearless Forecast of 1972, which predicts which new series may succeed or succumb in the months ahead.

The forecast is drawn without reference to rating charts or tea leaves and is strictly a personal guess. Here it is:

SUNDAY — CBS: "Anna and the King," doomed. "M-A-S-H," may linger a full season, but a questionable starter next fall. "Sandy Duncan," replacement imminent in midseason.

MONDAY — CBS: "Bill Cosby," will catch on and prosper. ABC: "The Rookies," lousy stories, good acting and too early to call.

TUESDAY — CBS: "Maude," probably will fold due to high sound level, despite good writing and acting. ABC: "Temperatures Rising," ratings lowering and funeral probable.

WEDNESDAY — NBC: "NBC Wednesday Mystery Movie," will struggle along for a year, but with a 50-50 chance of a second season. "Search," with us for a long, long time. ABC: "Paul Lynde Show," one season and out. "Julie Andrews Show," on and on if she can stand the pace. THURSDAY — CBS: "The Waltons," a good chance of survival if shifted in midseason to a less fearsome time slot (the opposition is Flip Wilson and Mod Squad). ABC: "The Men," doesn't look like a long ranger.

FRIDAY — NBC: "Little People," Brian Keith will just have to settle for the rigors of two years in Hawaii; the show will be around for at least that long and probably longer. "Ghost Story," only the Shadow knows. "Banyon," one year at most.

SATURDAY — CBS: "Bridget Loves Bernie," will last the length of the old-style Hollywood marriage — three years. "Bob Newhart," no worries until someone steals his telephone. ABC: "Streets of San Francisco," good acting and great scenery will keep it going at least two seasons.

One new show, ABC's "Kung Fu," wasn't included in Saturday's soothsaying because it won't join the lineup until next month. Regular sports events, specials, news and commentary programs also weren't included because they've got their own thing going.

Noisy Room

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

NOISE: (Q.) The noise in my room is so terrible that I am going crazy. The room is right over the kitchen. It is midnight now, and my mother and father are down there talking about eating out. My father just got a sandwich. I can hear the TV.

We just moved into this house. It is new. The room was built specially for me. My mother said it would be wonderful. What I didn't know was that I could hear everything that goes on in the kitchen, from my mother fixing breakfast at 6 in the morning to the TV blaring at 11 at night.

There are six people in my family and there's somebody down there all the time. I can't study. In school I'm half asleep. I'm going crazy. Is there anything I can do? How about soundproofing? Or should I sleep outside with the dog? It's cold out there. — Dead Tired and Going Crazy in Connecticut.

(A.) Too many homes, apartments, motels and other buildings today are designed to be beautiful and charming but not quiet. Yours seems to be one of them.

Talk to your parents about your idea of soundproofing. Your builder can probably install a deeper carpet and sound-absorbing walls and ceiling. You can also get screens and baffles that will tame a lot of sound.

Also your parents could make a rule: No TV in the kitchen after supper.

I agree with you that you need peace and quiet so you can study and sleep at home, and be alert in school.

HE STOPPED: (Q.) I went out with Tim about two months. Then he stopped going out with me. He didn't say why. He is going out with another girl now. I really love him. Can you help me decide what to do? Should I wait and hope he'll come back to me? — Hurting in Pennsylvania.

(A.) I am sorry but you really have nothing to decide. Accept it and going on from there will make you a stronger person.

Hardly 'Overplayed'

A great deal of confusion still surrounds the case of Gen. John D. Lavelle, who by his own admission exceeded Washington directives in air operations over North Vietnam. Lavelle, then commander of the U.S. 7th Air Force, sidestepped the "protective reaction" air strikes policy in force at the time, and had false reports prepared on operations conducted by his command against North Vietnamese targets.

After extensive hearings, members of the Senate Armed Services Committee apparently are near agreement the responsibility for the unauthorized raids goes no further up the chain of command than Lavelle himself, although no final report has yet been issued. The senators apparently are still in the dark on some aspects of the case, after having heard Lavelle testify he believed his actions were understood and condoned by his superiors.

But the reaction of Adm. Thomas Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is even more difficult to understand. Moorer, the nation's top military man, opined Tuesday the Lavelle affair has been overplayed, although he doesn't believe it has hurt the military.

How can the incident be "overplayed," when it involves falsification of official reports and countermanning of the highest official policy by a commander in the field? That goes to the heart of civilian control of the military, adherence to the chain of command of the military itself and the interposition of strictly military judgments into the field of foreign affairs.

Gen. Thomas Ryan, chief of AF staff, took a firm view that Gen. Lavelle was alone responsible for exceeding his orders. Yet, he said he did not think this warranted court martial. The big issue now seems to be whether Gen. Lavelle will get his retirement at a promoted lieutenant rather than major general. When one considers the consequences the act of one AF captain caught recently with a couple of pounds of marijuana and sentenced to prison, and that of misdirecting the military might of command, something seems seriously out of balance.

Give Yourself A Treat

You still have opportunity this evening and Saturday evening to attend the showing of "Oklahoma!" the refreshing, vivacious and melodic Broadway musical.

This has been put together by the Big Spring High School choral department with remarkably deft touch. It is little short of amazing what these young people have done in staging, acting, production, costuming, orchestration and in several other ways.

If nothing else, seeing their interpretation of "Oklahoma!" will quicken your faith in our young people. They're accomplishing things we wouldn't dreamed of tackling. They're battling in the big leagues.

And besides, you'll more than get your money's worth.

Diverse Sections

Around The Rim

Charles Teague

The fate of humankind rests delicately in a balance of two sections of the genius population.

ON THE ONE hand we have the scientists, the dedicated theoreticians who maintain the high ideals of humanitarianism, slaving over test tubes and Bunsen burners, reading gauges and noting reactions.

Their justification for tremendous expenditures in scientific research is that mankind must progress in the learning of its environment and itself, thereby allowing application of "saving techniques."

They want to prolong the human life, eliminate disease, accidental injury, famine, any idealistic project which lends itself to eventual overpopulation of the earth.

Some fatalists such as myself contend that by over-populating, cramming tens of billions of tons of human flesh into a protected environment provided by a doomed city, carefully planned to insure healthy psychological growth and maturity, futurists will have initiated a mouse-like complacency which ends in the cul-de-sac of smiling, giggling, non-violent human vegetation.

Such a prediction stems from a point of view surpassing even the ironic, considering that the aggressive, searching nature of mankind will bring upon itself the destruction of the aggressive, searching nature of mankind.

THERE IS SOME HOPE, though, lying within the black-marked group of geniuses on the other side of the balance.

Here we find the militarist, sparked by the same aggressive nature, call it the killer-instinct if you like. (I have no objection personally to the idea that to be human is to be a killer.)

The militarists are in eager, hungry pursuit of efficient, clean killing techniques, something that will absent a substantial population of human flesh from the earth, leaving no adverse environmental effects for the conqueror to worry with.

It's right here in this killing instinct where I find the redeeming factor, the solution to the population explosion.

IT'S NOT A solution we need to implement, by such means as rounding up the thirstiest-for-blood killers we can find and saying, "Here's a weapons stockpile, go out and kill!" It's a built-in mechanism, one that will probably manifest at the proper time, not by legislation, but by pure maddened wrath — with the result that vegetating influences such as environmental control and mass hypnosis will be demolished.

Tough For Demos

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The plight of Democratic candidates for the House of Representatives and the United States Senate is a gloomy one. Many of them have found it necessary to draw away from public support of Sen. George McGovern, the party's presidential nominee.

THE "NATIONAL Observer," a weekly newspaper published at Washington, reports that less than half of the Democratic candidates for congress and for governor are supporting Sen. McGovern publicly and that privately the expressions of dissent are even stronger. These figures are based on a survey of the candidates themselves.

It was found that out of the 426 Democratic candidates for the House, only 212 back the national Democratic ticket openly, and that nine of the 18 candidates for governor do so unequivocally and for the record. Among the 33 candidates for the Senate, 17 support the ticket without qualification.

The "National Observer" survey reveals that 30 Democratic candidates are stating publicly that they do not endorse Sen. McGovern. There are 61 candidates who refuse to say where they stand and 51 in all who back the McGovern ticket enthusiastically.

INDICATIONS are that the individuals running for Congress and for Gov. are mindful that they will not get any advantage this year from the usual Democratic "Straight ticket" voting. The net result is that Democratic candidates through the country realize they must make an extra effort to win votes on their own. In presidential campaigns, members of congress have generally felt that by boosting the top of the ticket they would benefit. It has often happened that a Democratic or Republican congress has been elected on the "Coattails" of a successful presidential candidate.

SO THIS campaign is full of instances in which Democratic nominees say very little publicly about Senator McGovern. They even at times show their friendliness for President Nixon's policies in the hope that some voters will feel inclined to regard them as supporters of Mr. Nixon.

MANY REPUBLICAN voters are likely to try to give Mr. Nixon a majority in both houses of Congress, and attempts are being made to get "straight ticket" voting wherever possible. The President himself is not campaigning for a Republican congress as such and is merely asking for "a new majority." He has had the help of several Democrats during his present term. He believes that, if he is reelected, he will have a similar backing even if he doesn't get a Republican majority. But certainly a president can make more progress if his own party is in control of the chairmanships of committees and the management of legislation in both houses of congress.

THE CONGRESSIONAL election on Nov. 7 is going to be a tough one for many Democratic candidates. Raising funds for their own campaigns already is a problem in certain areas of the country where Nixon sentiment is strong. But there are plenty of Democrats who have had a good record and who will win reelection to the House or the Senate because they have managed to familiarize their constituents with the issues they have fought for in the last several years.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I read your column where you stated that when a man lusts in his heart he has committed sin. That may be true, but what about the women and girls role? The way women dress today with hot pants and miniskirts, they seem to be giving men the "come-one." Men are often arrested for rape, but what about the women who deliberately tempted them? I would appreciate your comment on this, J. J. L.

The Bible is not oblivious of this problem. Paul wrote to Timothy saying, "I will therefore... that the women adorn themselves in modest apparel." 1 Timothy 2:7. While Christianity is not a system of rules and regulations, the Bible tells women not to flaunt their bodies, not to wear gaudy apparel, and not to tempt men by immodesty. The styles of today seem rather daring and immodest to me, but there is a redeeming principle at work, and that is: the human body, being imperfect, is probably less tempting and attractive when uncovered, than when covered. I am quite sure that a modest covering of the female body has both psychological and spiritual advantages. Some even say that the rash of scanty clothes and semi-nudity for women was created by homosexual designers for the purpose of making the female figure less attractive. But, I don't know whether this can be documented or not.

With most girls and women, seriously doubt if they are trying to "tempt" men. More than likely, they are trying to keep in style, instead of luring men.

A Devotion For Today..

WASHINGTON — Establishing the identity of George McGovern — what kind of man he is, what kind of candidate — is an effort that thus far has failed. In the primaries appearing as a bold spirit defying the old political taboos and thereby winning the votes of the young and the disaffected, he is today appealing to voter groups — Jews, Catholics, ethnics — in the pattern of the old politics.

THE CONFLICT between the McGovern of the heroic past and the McGovern hard pressed in a presidential campaign is a principal reason for the failure. If only, his television people are saying, we could buy half-hours of television time early next month we could put him over as an independent courageous figure who embodies the American dream.

It is a campaign unlike any other in my long experience with American politics. The reason, in my opinion, is that more than ever the small screen in perhaps a hundred million homes dominates the American view of America.

MCGOVERN'S CHIEF film maker, Charles Guggenheim, has made a first-rate half-hour film of the life of the candidate. It shows his simple background in South Dakota, the dust storms and the poverty of the '30s, the earnest young man's brief experience in the ministry. Then he's a bomber pilot in World War II, with dramatic shots of the hazards of enemy fire and forced landings.

His rise in politics in a normally Republican state is shown in conjunction with the two Kennedys who give him their warm praise. He is administrator of Food for Peace, flying around the world to try to alleviate hunger. As early as 1965 he spoke out against the war in Vietnam and his words ring with sincerity.

WHAT COMES through is the picture of a good man, an idealist, a man without a mean or a sly bone in his body. As Guggenheim, a successful film maker with many documentary awards to his credit realizes, what is lacking is the image of a stern man, even an angry man indignant over the bombing and the toll of Vietnamese lives it takes, indignant over the trickery and deception of big money on the Republican side.

PRESSED TO sell half-hour periods, as against the five-minute and 30-second spots, the networks responded with time in late October or early November on the eve of the election. This was felt to be of little avail in "selling" the McGovern all too few people know. NBC came through with a take-it-or-leave-it offer for a half-hour on Sept. 26.

CBS tends to stand on the proposal made by Frank Stanton before the Democratic Platform Committee of eight free time one-hour periods to be divided between the two candidates. ABC has not yet responded to the McGovern appeal.

That candidate time should be a casualty in the tangle of money and politics is hardly to be wondered at. Politics so far as television goes is a creature of the ad agencies, beer and corn flakes.

THAT THE Republican candidate has an enormous advantage is obvious. He can command television time for the performance of the conspicuous tasks of his office. His identity has long since been established.

Letter To The Editors

Currently, we have a situation existing in our community that is unpleasant to all sports fans. Specifically, we are speaking of the fact that our Big Spring High School Steers have not won a football game this Fall. Just about everyone loves a winner and just about everyone finds it very easy to support a winner. It is very, very easy to condemn and criticize a losing situation and it is equally as easy to look upon a losing situation with distaste and criticism.

Although this country is currently experiencing a great difficulty, we still have the greatest nation in the world. We could not have obtained our greatness by accepting defeat. Throughout our history, we have had instances where we have lost a number of battles only to return through perseverance and pride, to eventually win our wars. We have had a number of patriots who have made heroic statements in the time of adversity in attempting to overcome overwhelming odds.

WE REALLY don't think we as citizens of our community would abandon our local vital organizations if they were in trouble and in dire need of help. It is true that our football record this year shows no wins and three losses. It is also true that the Big Spring Steers have not "given up" in any of these contests.

A loss or defeat is not an easy thing to accept. Certainly, the manner in which the participants of a contest conduct themselves and the effort they expend during the contest can help "save the wounds" of a defeat. Much too often, we lose the perspective of just what is involved in a Friday night game. Our first consideration should be toward the players involved in the game itself.

With this in mind, let's consider just how many sacrifices and how much hard work the players themselves have put into representing the community. A rough estimate would be that the players have averaged 2½ hours per day, not just during football season, but during the entire school year. The figures out to 450 hours expended each school year by those players who choose to play football and represent their school.

IT APPEARS THAT young men who spend that much time working toward a common goal should be complimented for the aches, pains and sweat they have expended during the year, whether they play a game or not.

We think it takes quite a bit of courage and fortitude for young men to stay with a program where they have to work as hard as a football player must work to be able to compete. There are countless other activities that they could become involved in.

We feel that if everyone in the community would stop to realize that these young men have too much time invested, and absorb too many aches and bruises, to contribute anything less than 100 per cent effort in each football game that they play. It is very possible that if each true sports fan of the community would have done just a little bit more in the way of supporting the Big Spring Steers, we might have won the three games we have lost. Our football team, school and community have seen some times when we have lost a few football games in a row, and each time this has occurred, we have had a group of young men, supported by the school and the community, who have come back and won victories that all involved were proud of. The football team itself cannot accomplish this alone.

IF EACH ONE of us gives as much personal effort as each of the players do then we will have a successful season. We have not mentioned the coaching staff because, although they are a vital part of the football program, they are paid to do their jobs. They need encouragement and support also, but the only reward that the players get is the feeling of gratitude from a school and community that appreciates their hard work and effort.

'AND THE PRESIDENT SAYS HE'S TIRED OF RUNS!'

Sure Can't Feel 'Boom'

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — There is something to that complaint you hear increasingly that "while the government might be right in claiming the economy is improving, I sure can't feel it in my own case."

The explanation is revealed by distinguishing between quality and quantity, a distinction that often was ignored in the past but which everyone will be forced to make in years to come.

The worker, for example, is told his buying power during the past two years increased faster than the rise in prices, but he finds it hard to believe. Life doesn't seem much better to him.

Could the explanation lie in the way that money is earned? Union and management leaders think so, and so they are trying to improve the quality of jobs by brightening the work environment and varying the workload, which should then result in the quality of goods being improved, thus contributing to the quality of life.

Any change that the plant makes, however, must not exclude considerations of air and water quality. And the cost of money borrowed to make these changes will depend on the quality of the company's credit.

But while quality is a rising concern, most government studies measure only quantity or production or dollar value. They do so precisely, it must be conceded, and it is agreed among economists, they do so without political bias.

It is only recently that measurements of quality have been attempted. Still in the developmental stage, they are imprecise and quite apt to be subjectively stated and interpreted.

Quantitative measurements haven't become irrelevant, but they are certainly less so in a world that has learned gradually that productive restraint as well as productive aggressiveness is a factor in progress.

The quality of air has actually improved in some cities as pollution restraints, physical and legal, became effective, although urbanologists maintain that the over-all city environment has deteriorated.

But over-all, there is so much change in economic society that quality often is victimized by necessity, and even choice, especially where services are involved.

The housewife returns from the supermarket, convinced that she has picked up at least a couple of bargains by her astute shopping, but is still vaguely distressed. The missing ingredient that bothers her is, perhaps, service.

The meats were laid out abundantly before her, for example, but she couldn't find a butcher to grind some fresh hamburger. Nobody could tell her where the cinnamon was stocked. She had to wait 20 minutes at the checkout counter.

Losing Bike Race

Hal Boyle

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE

(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — If you aren't careful, bicycling can turn into a matter of keeping up with the Joneses.

I bought a three-speed English bike a few months ago because I thought it would be a nice, undemanding way to get healthy. But I got into a rat race with my bicycling neighbor.

I was proud of my bike, which is bright red and has skinny tires. It looks very fast. The first day I rode it, a red-haired kid hailed me to the curb.

"Nice bike," he said, smiling a little. "Three-speed, huh?" I grinned agreement. "Three-speed is out," he said.

"If you're going to bicycle, man, you got to have the right equipment. One of those 10-speed, aluminum-framed jobs with center-pull brakes and brown rubber tires. My pop has one. Made in Switzerland. It's like a fine watch. Fast. Light. Expensive, too."

My own bike suddenly felt big and clumsy and harder to pedal. I ran into his father a few days later. He was wearing a biking outfit with special green-and-red-striped shoes, red-visor cap and a racing jersey.

And he was astride a lime green bike with at least 10 speeds and brownish looking tires and no kickstand. "No kickstand?" I asked, a slight sneer on my face. I conspicuously clicked mine with a heel.

"That's right," he said pitifully. "Speed, you know. Weight."

I removed my own kickstand that night. Also the fenders.

I got a little toolkit with special aluminum sprocket wrenches and hung it from my seat, like my neighbor. I got a skinny, painful little seat with no padding and replaced the heavier, regulation seat.

I got some turned-down handlebars, wrapped them with friction tape that leaves the palms of your sweaty hands black. I thought I was ready — or, at least, as ready as you can be if you don't have $150 for one of those superfast bikes.

But the other night I was out riding around with a small light bolted onto my handlebars. I saw a beam bobbing up and down in the distance. It was my neighbor. He had this little light clipped to his leg.

"That light's no good for real bicycling," he said bluntly. "You got to have one like this. I ordered it from Yugoslavia."

And he rode off, his 10-speed aluminum-alloy gear sprocket making a fine, expensive whirring noise in the darkness. He had reflectorized stripes on the back of his cap.

CALL HOU 1587 Sour

Reception To Mark Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McClenny will be honored on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary Sunday with an open house in their home on Chapman Road in Sand Springs. Friends of the couple are invited to call between the hours of 2:30 and 5:30 p.m.

Hosting the affair will be their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon G. Cordsen of Fort Collins, Colo., and their children, Ben Cordsen and wife, Mary, of Estes Park, Colo., Richard Cordsen and Jim Cordsen. Richard, a student at Colorado University at Boulder, and Jim, who is in school at Fort Collins, will be unable to attend.

Members of the house party will be Mrs. Lehman Draper, Sweetwater; Mrs. George Draper, College Station; Mrs. Don Draper, Odessa; and Mrs. Verlin Knous and Mrs. Melvin Brown, both of Big Spring.

Mr. McClenny, who was born July 20, 1896, near Breckenridge, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. S. McClenny.

Mrs. McClenny, the former Janie Lora Draper, was born Oct. 28, 1901, near Douglasville in Cass County. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Draper.

The couple met while attending business college in Abilene in 1920 and were married by the late Rev. S. H. Young on Oct. 1, 1922, in her parents home four miles north of Lorraine.

Their first home was in Tuscola, and a few months later, they moved to a farm north of Cisco. In June, 1927, they moved to Lorraine where they resided until Sept. 29, 1934, when they moved to Big Spring. In April, 1970, they moved to their present home in Sand Springs.

Mr. McClenny was City Secretary for the City of Big Spring from February, 1944, until retirement Jan. 1, 1967.

For the reception, Mrs. McClenny will wear a gold, long-sleeved dress with mandarin collar. She will be presented an orchid corsage, and Mr. McClenny will receive a gold boutonniere. Mrs. Cordsen and members of the house party will wear corsages of gold pompon mums tied with gold ribbons.

The refreshment table, laid with a gold cloth, will feature a crystal punch service and silver coffee service at either end. The silver creamer and sugar bowl will be an anniversary gift to the couple. Centering the table will be an arrangement of gold and bronze chrysanthemums interspersed with mixed fall flowers in shades of gold and yellow.

MR. AND MRS. C. R. MCCLENNY

Mr. and Mrs. McClenny have been members of First Methodist Church since 1934. Also, they have been active in the Masonic Lodge and Order of the Eastern Star for 30 years. He is a member of Staked Plains Lodge 598, Big Spring Chapter, Royal Arch Masons; Big Spring Council of Royal and Select Masters; Big Spring Commandry 31; and president of the board of advisors for the Order of Rainbow for Girls. Mrs. McClenny, now a member of Big Spring Chapter 67, is a past matron of Lorraine Chapter 570, and her husband has served at OES past patron three times.

Tells Meaning Of Rebecca Rituals

The "pageant of colors," explaining why various colors were chosen to represent degrees of Odd Fellowship, was read by Mrs. Lee Thackrey for John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge No. 133 Tuesday at the IOOF Hall. Mrs. Thackrey said the three links used in Odd Fellow and Rebekah rituals represent truth, love and friendship.

Mrs. W. E. Rayburn presided. Assisting with the program were Mrs. Jones Lamar, Mrs. Everett Hood, Miss Juanita Hamlin, Mrs. U. S. Beechly, Mrs. Grady Beck, Mrs. Mable Rodrick, Mrs. LaVerne Rogers, Mrs. W. C. Cole, Elra Phillips, J. C. Pye, Mrs. Jessie Barker and Mrs. Jim Ferguson.

Members reported 23 visits to the sick. Donations of $10 were sent to the home for the aged at Corsicana and a children's home in Ennis. Mrs. D. S. Churchill was a guest and Mrs. Thackrey and Miss Hamlin announced they attended initiation services Monday evening for Snyder Lodge No. 294.

Bryant Harris' Have Houseguest

GARDEN CITY (SC) — Mrs. A. C. Harris of San Antonio is visiting her son and family, the Bryant Harris'.

Mrs. Glen Kingston and sons have returned from Gail where they visited her parents, the Garland DoYLES. Other guests were the Larry DoYLES of Gail and the Lonnie DoYLES of Arlington.

Fred Cox of Tulsa, formerly of the Garden City area, is recuperating from an illness in a Tulsa hospital.

Jessie (Shorty) Gray has returned home following surgery in a San Angelo hospital.

Investors Club Names New Slate

New officers were elected for Market Challenge Investment Club Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Jack Irons, Compress Lane.

Mrs. M. A. Porter will head the slate as president, assisted by Mrs. Mary Reed, vice president; Mrs. Bob Moore, treasurer; Mrs. J. R. Asbury, secretary; Mrs. Maria Hogue, stock reporter; and Mrs. Ralph Caton, assistant treasurer.

Installation is scheduled Oct. 24 at K. C. Steakhouse. Jim Reese of Midland, a representative of Eppler, Guerin and Turner brokerage firm, will be guest speaker.

Prior to Monday's meeting, members met for dinner at Carlos Restaurant.

Women's Group Begins Study

A study about faith and justice began Tuesday for Women's Society of Christian Service at First United Methodist Church. The introductory session of the four-part examination of "Grace at Point Zero," a book by Loren E. Halvorson, was held by Mrs. H. E. Thompson and Mrs. Harrel Jones.

Subsequent studies are scheduled at 9:30 a.m., Oct. 3, 10 and 17 at the church, and all women are invited to attend.

During the business portion of Tuesday's meeting, Mrs. Dale Vaughn was elected president of the group. She will be assisted by Mrs. Julian Patterson, vice president; Mrs. W. N. Norred, secretary and publicity; and Mrs. H. C. Ernsting, treasurer.

Mrs. Reeves Moren and Mrs. Lanny Hamby were presented special memberships and pins for outstanding service to the group. A luncheon was served following business.

Jim Del Davis' Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Del Davis, 12561 Waterfall Way, Dallas, announce the birth of a son, Bart, at 7:25 p.m., Sept. 26 in Presbyterian Hospital, Dallas. The infant weighed 8 pounds, 15 ounces. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fryar, Route 1, Big Spring, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Davis of Pilot Point.

Women Continue Sewing Projects

Individual handcraft items were continued by members of Newcomers Handcrafts Club Wednesday in the home of Mrs. James Watson, 1205 Douglas. The women are making lap robes for residents in local nursing homes. They plan to complete them at the next meeting, 9:30 a.m., Oct. 11 in the home of Mrs. David Logan, 2917 Macaulan.

Finances Involving Women Detailed By Local Attorney

Financial situations involving women were discussed by John Ferguson, a local attorney, when he was guest speaker at this week's meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club. The program was arranged by the finance committee, headed by Mrs. Cass Hill, and the speaker was introduced by Mrs. A. G. Eitzen.

"Texas is one of seven states that has a community property system," said Ferguson, "and under this, if a woman has a savings account before she marries, it is hers after she marries, but the interest it draws after marriage is community property."

Expressing the opinion that Texas has a fair community property system now, Ferguson said that until 1963, the husband had management of all community property but not the wife's separate property. Since 1967, a wife has had the same rights as a husband in the community property system. She can freely make contracts and has no disabilities.

During the business session, Miss Helen Willard was named chairman for the local observance of National Business Woman's Week, Oct. 15-22. During this week, the local club will have a dinner during which a program will be given concerning amendments to be voted on Nov. 7. Tentative plans call for another dinner with the B&PW Club of Colorado City.

Two new members, Mrs. Betty Lloyd and Mrs. Robert Dillard, were welcomed. The dinner meeting was held at Coker's Restaurant.

First Baptists To Host Local Interfaith Rally

BY MARJ CARPENTER

An interfaith rally, hosted by the First Baptist Church, will begin next Sunday, Oct. 8, with Gil Strickland, Dallas, as the speaker for the "Meet Jesus" week. He will be assisted by Voe Gray, who will be in charge of the music.

Strickland, one-time newspaper reporter who has become one of the most effective ministers in the Southwest, will be re-enforced by a number of other personalities and special activities.

There will be a meeting of the Sunday School at First Baptist at 10 a.m. Oct. 8, preceding the opening worship at 11 a.m. All evening services are at 7:30 p.m. except for the one on Friday, Oct. 13, when the Big Spring-Midland football teams will be honored with a special after-game fellowship.

The Monday, Oct. 2, service will be Youth Night and begins with a pizza supper at 6:15 p.m. for the young folk. Cindy Crisp, Odessa, Miss West Texas, will be present to give her testimony.

Tuesday, Oct. 3, is All in the Family night, beginning with a hot dog supper and magic show by "Bodine" (Gil Strickland). At the 7:30 p.m. service, Banky Stocks, Kent rancher, will tell about his experiences.

Good Neighbor night comes up Wednesday, Oct. 4, with a dinner at 6 p.m. in Fellowship Hall, followed by a concert at 7 p.m. by Voe Gray. Wayne Watts, Wichita Falls business and oilman, will tell of his Christian faith at the 7:30 worship.

Thursday is God and Country night, honoring all government and civic leaders, who will also be honored at a reception after the service. Another highlight of this will be the appearance of Cleve McClary, former lieutenant who won the Bronze and Silver stars in Vietnam and who has been featured on many of the Billy Graham meetings.

The Fifth Quarter after-game program will replace the services at the church. It is scheduled for the HCJC gym, possibly around 10:30 p.m. and with the Shilos, a three-piece music group from Baylor furnishing music.

Saturday there will be a "meet Jesus" music program, with the Shilos also participating, at the church.

A number of other churches are participating in the effort, and many of them are furnishing counselors to serve in connection with the services.

LEADERS AND MEMBERS of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints from all over the world, including many from this area, are traveling to Salt Lake City, Utah, to attend sessions of the 142nd semi-annual Mormon World Conference.

Sessions of the conference will begin Oct. 6 and conclude on Oct. 8 with the general session on Sunday being broadcast via television and radio to all parts of the free world. It can be viewed here in Big Spring on Oct. 8, 1972, over television channels 7 and 11, from 9 to 11 a.m.

Everyone is invited to tune in and listen to the talks given by the general authorities of the church. President Harold B. Lee will preside over the conference for the first time. He was called to preside over the Mormon Church earlier this summer, shortly after President Joseph Fielding Smith passed away.

Also present at the conference will be the members of the Council of the Twelve Apostles and the other general authorities of the church.

EVANGEL TEMPLE Assembly of God, 2205 Goliad, will conduct a special communion service with the theme centered on the subject of "Divine Healing" at 9:45 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 1.

Pastor Calvin will preach on "Christ the Healer" in the morning worship service. Communion will then be served to the congregation with individual prayer for each ill person present.

Recording artists Wesley and Dorothy Pearce will minister in music in the evening evangelistic service at 7 p.m. The Pearces are from Canada. They write many of their own songs and play the electronic organ, an $1,800 instrument, and electric guitar. This will be the third Sunday evening the Pearces have sung at Evangel Temple.

The public is invited to attend these services.

PRAYER BAND CIRCLE members express regrets upon losing their chairman, Mrs. Beatrice Person, who now resides in Fort Worth. She sent back words of encouragement to the circle.

The new chairman, Mrs. Faye Warner, presided at the last meeting. Devotion was led by the chairman and Mrs. Christine Green.

A new member, Mrs. Kathryn Morris of Webb Air Force Base, joined the circle. The mission lesson was brought by Mrs. Mary Ivery on "Faith and Goodness." Chairman Warner added the thought that "Anything we try to accomplish without faith in God is impossible." The meeting was closed with the thought, "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord."

Refreshments were served on Tuesday at the Veterans Hospital by the new circle chairman and Mrs. J. Baucham. A letter of thanks was sent to the circle by the hospital director, Jack Powell.

MORE THAN 3,000 college students from 82 Texas campuses will gather at Park Cities Baptist Church, Dallas, Oct. 6-8, for the 53rd Texas Baptist Student Convention.

Kenneth L. Chafin, pastor of South Main Baptist Church, Houston, will keynote the convention theme, "Responding to His Lordship."

A one-man art exhibit by Robert Harper of Richmond, Va., and performances by singer Cynthia Clawson of Dallas and the Baptist Student Union summer missions fine arts team will also highlight the convention.

Harper, art director for the SBC Foreign Mission Board's Commission magazine, has one-man shows in Israel, Austria, Africa, Brazil, Costa Rica, Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore and Vietnam.

His first one-man show on foreign soil was on the battlefield in 1969 for troops in South Vietnam.

He was commissioned in 1970 by the U.S. Defense Department to prepare a series of paintings for the permanent gallery of the Pentagon in Washington, D.C.

Other program personnel include John Westbrook, consultant for the National Student Ministries of the Southern Baptist Convention; Jimmy R. Allen, pastor of First Baptist Church, San Antonio; James M. Dunn, secretary of the Texas Baptist Christian Life Commission; Herbert Howard, pastor of Park Cities Baptist Church; and Don Blackley, minister of music at Shiloh Terrace Baptist Church, Dallas.

Special interest conferences will deal with the BSU Student-to-Student program, the Missionary Journeyman program of the SBC Foreign Mission Board, the U.S.2 program of the SBC Home Mission Board, the Texas Baptist Inevitable program and the mission opportunities in the Rio Grande River Ministry.

The students will select mission fields for the BSU summer missions program and set a goal to finance it.

THOUGHT PROVOKER

Luck is what happens when preparation meets opportunity.

IRISH SONGS will be presented nightly at the five day revival at Baptist Temple Oct. 4-8 when Wesley and Margaret Boyd furnish the music. The evangelist will be Ralph Langley, pastor of Willow Meadows Baptist Church in Houston.

Baptist Temple Hosts Revival

A five-day revival meeting preceded by two days of intensive visitation will be held at Baptist Temple, Oct. 4-8, according to the Rev. James Puckett, pastor.

Ralph Langley, pastor of Willow Meadows Baptist Church in Houston, will be the preacher. In addition to the evening worship services, there will be Bible study at noon Thursday through Saturday with members bringing covered dishes.

Visitation will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday and Tuesday.

Assisting in the revival will be Wesley and Margaret Boyd, formerly of Belfast, North Ireland, now headquartered in Oklahoma City.

Mrs. Boyd is a concert pianist and they will present "Songs of Ireland and the British Isles." He is a graduate of the John Patterson School of Music in Belfast.

The Rev. Langley is a graduate of Baylor and of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, where he earned his PhD degree. He was in the youth movement among Baptist people a generation ago and was among those who started the Willow Meadows church, which has grown to 3,500 members.

He also has served as associate minister of First Baptist in Opelike, Ala., and Seventh and James in Waco. He has been pastor at Central Baptist in Malone, University Baptist in Coral Gables, Fla., Wilshire Baptist Church in Dallas and Willow Meadows in Houston.

San Marcos Chili Fest

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — More than 50 chili cooks who think they are Texas' best will compete for the state title here Saturday at the Third Annual Republic of Texas Chilympiad.

The three-day chili fest actually begins today at Aquarona Springs as contestants gather to argue over cooking spaces and set up their elaborate cooking apparatus. There will be a classic car show and a street dance also.

Contestants will begin cooking at 11 a.m. Saturday and the judging will start at 3:30 p.m.

There will be another street dance Saturday night, followed Sunday by an air show put on by the Confederate Air Force which features some 40 World War II combat aircraft.

Chilympiad sponsors say Chief Fulton Batiste of the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation, who was last year's winner, will be on hand to defend his title.

Some of the other chili cooks include Harvard O'Neill of Dallas, who adds snails to his chili; Gary Hahne and his Brazos Barrister team from St. Mary's Law School in San Antonio; "Shotgun" Wright of Dallas, Enrique Vasquez, the armadillo chili king of Uvalde; Albert S. Agnor of Marshall; John C. Redmond of Fort Worth, who ran his chili recipe through a computer, and Robert Marsh of San Antonio, who says his chili is a "watered down version of Ozark yellow dog stew."

Farmers Get Break On Trailer Brakes

AUSTIN (AP) — Farmers got a break on trailer brakes Thursday.

A Senate committee also eased regulations for towing boats.

Changes to a 1971 law on trailer brakes had been sought almost since the law went into effect. Gov. Preston Smith even considered calling a special legislative session on that topic this past summer.

Farm groups particularly wanted changes.

A bill sponsored by Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville was approved for floor debate Thursday after numerous amendments, including a proposal by Fort Arthur Sen. Roy Harrington to exempt boat trailers from having lights if they are used only in the daytime.

The amendment specifies that if the directional signal on the "towing vehicle" can be seen, a signal light is not needed on the boat trailer.

All farm trailers would be exempt from the lighting requirements if they also are pulled only during daylight and are visible for 1,000 feet. This, in effect, would prevent movement of such trailers in rainy or foggy weather.

The new proposal also removes the 30 miles an hour speed limit on farm trailers and exempts the trailers under 15,000 pounds gross weight from the 1971 law, which required a brake on each wheel. The proposal, however, re-

Gen. Taylor Says War Winding Down

HOUSTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor says the Vietnam war is winding down rapidly.

The former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said he believes it "very unlikely" the war could be ended by negotiation.

Taylor, the U.S. Ambassador to Vietnam under former President Lyndon B. Johnson, said the Vietnamization policies of President Nixon are working in all phases—militarily, economically and administratively.

Taylor was in Houston to address a private study club and to promote his book, "Swords and Plowshares."

The bidding:
South 1♦ Pass West 3♣ Pass East 3NT Pass 4♦ Pass 4♥ Pass 4♠ Pass
Opening lead: Ace of ♠

A well conceived bidding campaign landed North and South in a sound contract of six diamonds with the latter becoming the declarer. Although an adverse division in trumps as well as dummy's side suit posed problems to South during the play, he managed to overcome an early disadvantage and ultimately salvage his contract by placing an unbearable amount of pressure on East which forced the latter to surrender the fulfilling trick to declarer.

When South opened the bidding with one diamond, North's hand became worth 19 points in support and he flashed an immediate slam signal by making a jump shift to three clubs—which call is, of course, unconditionally forcing to game. South, with a bare minimum and stoppers in the unbid suits signed off at three no trump. His partner was not ready to quit yet, and bid four diamonds to confirm his excellent fit for opener's original suit.

Since South had announced a minimum on the previous round, he took this opportunity, on the way to game, to show the ace of hearts. This was all North needed to hear and he proceeded without further ado to six diamonds.

West opened the ace of spades which was ruffed in dummy. Declarer tested the trump situation by leading over to his king and back to the ace, but East showed out on the second round, discarding the six of spades.

South tried to set up the club suit by cashing the ace and king and then ruffing the next round with the nine of diamonds. West overruffed with the jack. A spade was returned and trumped with the six of diamonds as East followed suit with the seven of spades. Another club ruff with the queen of diamonds established dummy's long club.

A heart to the king put North in to cash the nine of clubs on which East discarded the nine of hearts and South the seven. The ten of diamonds was led and placed East in an untenable position. If he parts with the king of spades, South can discard the ten of hearts and take the last two tricks with the queen of spades and the ace of hearts.

If East gives up the jack of hearts, South sheds the queen of spades. A heart to the ace, now drops the queen and enables declarer to take the last trick with the ten of hearts.

Goldwater Feted At Midland Club

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — "I would sure hate to go back to the Senate and not find John Tower there," Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., said Thursday night.

Speaking at a $25-a-plate dinner to raise funds for Midland County Republicans, the former GOP presidential candidate also plugged the candidacy of his party's nominee for Texas governor, state Sen. Henry Grover.

"Grover is the best chance Texas has had to become a two-party state," Goldwater asserted.

The sellout crowd of 450 diners likewise heard him aim gibes at Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern, former Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark and Pierre Slininger. Goldwater accused them of "continuing the war in Vietnam by extending hope that if McGovern should be elected, the United States would surrender unconditionally."

Council To Talk About System

Considering a resolution on a proposed law enforcement radio system appears on the agenda for County Commissioners Court 9 a.m. Monday.

Other items are the regular conference with Marvin Hanson, acting road administrator, and approving bills.

Make It Three

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I do volunteer work with two wonderful women one day a week. It's not very glamorous work, and they are very dedicated, and I admire them tremendously.

One of the women invited my husband and me to her home for dinner. My husband wasn't too thrilled about going, but I got him there, and thank goodness, he was cordial. It was a small party, just the two volunteer workers, their husbands and us.

After we got home my husband told me to never subject him to another evening like that! He said he'd never spent such a boring evening—the women came on strong, like a couple of women's libbers, and he felt sorry for their poor henpecked husbands. (That wasn't my impression. I thought the women were fun and entertaining, and the husbands seemed very proud of them.)

Abby, I know I should invite these nice people to my home, but I'm afraid my husband wouldn't hear of it. My problem is, I can't face them every week knowing I should reciprocate. We are quite socially prominent and they know we entertain a lot, and I'm sure they wonder why I haven't invited them back. Should I beg my husband to please let me have them? It's terribly embarrassing. How should I handle it?

IN A QUANDARY

DEAR IN: Reciprocate by inviting the women over some afternoon, sans husbands. DON'T "beg" your husband to be a host to these nice people. His snobbish attitude would probably show, which would be more humiliating to your guests than not being invited at all.

the kids. They're the victims.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very bright, quick-witted 32-year-old son who is an expert at putting people down with his sarcasm. There are times when we all wish we had that talent, but it grieves me to see him constantly use it on his little four-year-old daughter. How can a child cope with a 200-pound man, eight times her age? She is such a sweet, sensitive little thing who adores her father and longs for his approval.

I am sure he loves her, too, but I feel the cutting edge of his sharp tongue against this helpless child as keenly as I felt it years ago when my own mother often ridiculed and humiliated her children, leaving scars on all six of them.

My own son was never subjected to this type of cruelty, so he doesn't know how it feels. I do. Thanks.

ANONYMOUS

DEAR ANON: Since you are "grieved," and legitimately so, I suggest that you tell your "bright" son how you feel about his cruelty. Unburdening yourself to me will not benefit your grandchild.

DEAR ABBY: Occasionally someone corrects my pronunciation of a word. This makes me very angry. Everyone mispronounces a word occasionally. I think anyone who corrects a person is rude and ignorant. What do you think?

MIAMI

DEAR MIAMI: It depends upon the circumstances. To correct someone publicly is rude and unkind. But a private correction is a courtesy.

Problems? Trust Abby. For a personal reply, write to ABBY, BOX 69700, L. A. CALIF. 90069 and enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: I just attended a bridal shower where one woman brought her seven-year-old daughter. (The only child there.) The mother planted the little girl at the guest of honor's feet while she opened her gifts. There were lots of pictures taken while the shower gifts were opened, so of course this child got in every one of them!

The mother of the child has relatives all over town so there was no excuse for taking her along. What with these pushy mothers? Or am I the oddball?

ANOTHER MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Pushy mothers have been with us since Eve gave Adam the rib. Just try not to hold it against

Smith Submits New Plans For Legislative Session

AUSIN, Tex. (AP) — Many legislators undoubtedly were already home for the weekend when they learned Gov. Preston Smith was piling on more work for the last half of the special session.

In a special message Thursday afternoon, hours after lawmakers had quit for the week, Smith added four more subjects to his list of seven items he wants the legislators to handle.

ELECTIONS

They haven't finished any yet, and Monday will be the 15th day of the 30-day session.

The new topics include an appropriation of $365,000 to finish paying debts run up in the May and June Republican and Democratic primary elections and guidelines and money for the governor to handle state financial emergencies.

Also included was a request to make the Texas Film Commission—sort of a pet project of the governor—a permanent division by law of the governor's office. It now exists by Smith's executive order and could be easily abolished by another governor.

The state has already paid $2,150,000 to finance primary elections, but Smith said, "spiraling costs of printing and supplies, a dramatic increase in the number of counties conducting Republican primaries for the first time, the increased hourly pay for workers passed in 1969, and in addition, an unusually large voter turnout drove the over-all cost beyond expectations."

POWER PLAY

Smith said three bills already had been written to give the governor enough power and money to allow him to take care of budget emergencies. No specific amount of money was mentioned for the fund which the governor would draw on if he thought an agency needed it on an emergency basis before the fiscal year ends Aug. 31, 1973.

Smith says unless the governor has such emergency power he would have to call a special legislative session every time an agency ran short because of unexpected occurrences which drain its budget.

Predictions

By DON COOPER
HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

The Big Spring Steers are enjoying a welcome open date; however, there will still be a lot of football action in this area tonight.

Stanton's surprising Buffaloes will be hosting the rugged Rankin Red Devils. Stanton has run up a 3-0 record on the basis of its strong defense (ranked number two in District 7-AA) and potent offense (which ranks third in the district).

The Buffaloes should make it 4-0 tonight on the basis of a strong ground game spearheaded by Dwayne McMeans and a strong aerial attack featuring Paul McAlister. Stanton 21, Rankin 7.

COAHOMA-LAKE VIEW: The Bulldogs are potent on offense. However, they have lacked consistency on defense having lost twice this season. Both Sonora and Colorado City rallied in the second half to defeat the Bulldogs. Lake View won't. Coahoma 20, Lake View 14.

SANDS-IMPERIAL: The Mustangs are using a lot of freshmen and sophomores this year. They may be talented; however, they lack experience and there aren't enough of them. Imperial 35, Sands 14.

FORSAN-O'DONNELL: The Buffaloes know what to do to win. This week, they will be fired up from the loss to Imperial. Look for the Buffaloes to stampede O'Donnell, 24-14.

ARKANSAS-TULSA: Three poor games in a row would be too much to believe for Frank Broyles' talented crew. Also, the 21-20 loss to the Hurricanes last year rankles the memory of the Porkers. Arkansas, 31-10.

TEXAS-TEXAS TECH: The Red Raiders are extremely confident that they can knock off the Longhorns this year. The Longhorns were not impressive against Miami and the Raiders were impressive against New Mexico; however, almost anyone can be impressive against New Mexico. Texas, 21-17.

TEXAS A&M-ARMY: This ought to be the second rout in a row that Army has been on the wrong end of. Army hasn't done this poorly since the Little Bighorn. Texas A&M, 35-7.

OKLAHOMA-CLEMSON: Are you kidding? The Sooners by whatever score they want.

MIAMI-MINNESOTA: This ought to be a great game. The last time these two teams met was in pre-season and the Dolphins won by one point. Miami should do it again. Miami 21, Minnesota 20.

Other games:
Borden County 28, Whittarral 0; Colorado City 14, Hamlin 7; Rice 21, Georgia Tech 17; SMU 34, Virginia Tech 17; Notre Dame 31, Purdue 6; Nebraska 41, Minnesota 13; Southern Cal 42, Michigan State 17; UTEP 28, New Mexico State 10; LSU 35, Wisconsin 13; TCU 40, UT-Arlington 13; Louisiana Tech 20, Abilene Christian 17; Colorado 33, Oklahoma State 14; Dallas 27, Green Bay 17; Kansas City 28, Denver 13; New York Jets 27, Houston 3; Pittsburgh 21, St. Louis 17.

Thomas Checks In With County Probation Office

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Chargers haven't seen much of running back Duane Thomas, but the elusive athlete has given one indication that he'll be spending some time here: He checked in with the county's probation department.

Kenneth Fare, the department's chief officer, said Thomas was assigned a probation officer Thursday.

Dallas traded the elusive, talented ball carrier July 31 to the Chargers, and he wants a new contract from Chargers owner Eugene V. Klein to boost his present salary of $20,000 a year.

Thomas was placed on probation after pleading guilty in Texas to possession of marijuana.

Czars Of Pro Leagues Oppose Legal Gambling

NEW YORK (AP) — The chief executives of the five major professional sports leagues are opposed to legalized gambling on team sports and a district attorney who agrees with them says, "the effect of legalized gambling is beyond the competence of rhetoric to describe."

The top executives of baseball, basketball, football and hockey gathered together with two representatives of the National District Attorneys Association Thursday and expressed their joint opposition to any extension of legalized gambling in their sports.

The venture marked the first time the sports officials presented a united front on the matter, although each has stated individual opposition previously.

Present at a news conference to release a joint statement were Bowie Kuhn of major league baseball, Pete Rozelle of the National Football League, Walter J. Kennedy of the National Basketball Association, Robert Carlson of the American Basketball Association and Don V. Ruck, vice president of the National Hockey League, representing President Clarence Campbell.

Carol Vance, president of the NDA, said his organization endorsed the commissioners and "is unalterably opposed to any further extension of legalized gambling."

"We are convinced that legalized gambling will ruin the integrity of team sports . . . and increase the possibility of scandal as a bed partner," the Houston district attorney said. "From our many investigations into organized crime, there is no question that the national crime syndicates would welcome legalized gambling as a bed partner."

The commissioners and New York City's Off-Track Betting Corp., has proposed that the public does not profit from legal betting in OTB operations.

Rozelle said that he did not claim to be an expert on legal betting but he also has to describe, said he viewed it "great reservations as to whether the politicians who operate poor" who gamble, even though they have the most to lose because they won't have money for food, rent and utility payments.

Introducing the Hornet Hatchback. It sure doesn't look like an economy car.

Model illustrated, $2399.00, equipped with special trim package, sports steering wheel, slot-style wheels and Polyglas tires, optional at extra cost. Prices subject to change without notice.

And it sure doesn't act like one. The big 6-cylinder engine makes it fly. The steering is quick and precise.

When you need extra cargo space, the back seats fold down so you can load up through the hatch for a long vacation.

You see, the Hornet Hatchback is really a sports car with room to travel in.

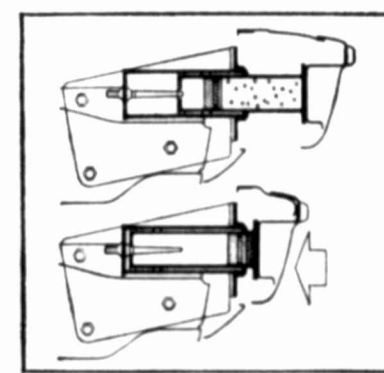

A car that does everything a sports car should do. It moves like one, handles like one, but it doesn't cost like one.

It comes standard with a piece of equipment no other economy car has.

The Buyer Protection Plan.

Only American Motors makes this promise: The Buyer Protection Plan backs every '73 car we build and we'll see that our dealers back that promise.

The new energy absorbing bumper system on Hornet telescopes the front bumper as much as 3 inches and returns to normal after repeated 5 mile per hour barrier impacts. It's one of the most advanced systems in the industry.

Buckle up for safety.

AMERICAN MOTORS BUYER PROTECTION PLAN
1. A simple, strong guarantee, just 101 words! When you buy a new 1973 car from an American Motors dealer, American Motors Corporation guarantees to you that, except for tires, it will pay for the repair or replacement of any part it supplies that is defective in material or workmanship. This guarantee is good for 12 months from the date the car is first used or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. All we require is that the car be properly maintained and cared for under normal use and service in the fifty United States or Canada, and that guaranteed repairs or replacement be made by an American Motors dealer.
2. A free loaner car from almost every one of our dealers if guaranteed repairs take overnight.
3. Special Trip Interruption Protection.
4. And a toll free hot line to AMC Headquarters.

MEET O'DONNELL

Forsan Looking For Winning Touch

FORSAN — The Forsan Buffaloes will attempt to get back on the winning track tonight as they host O'Donnell. The Buffaloes are 1-2 on the season.

After opening the '72 slate with a convincing 32-14 win over Stanton B, the Buffaloes lost a close one to heavy favorite Roscoe by a 14-6 margin and then were trounced by Imperial, 39-6.

Mike Murphy will open at quarterback for Jack Woodley's Buffaloes; however, Woodley will use sophomore Landon Soles quite frequently in the contest. Both Murphy and Soles also see duty on the Forsan defensive unit. The running game will be handled primarily by a pair of seniors, Tommy Brumley and Robert Wash give the Buffaloes good size and speed in the backfield to complement the passing of Murphy and Soles.

The leading targets for aerials from the Buffalo quarterbacks are split end Bob Highley and tight end Rudy Holguin. Flanker David Moreno also provides a dependable target.

Two Buffalo linemen will return to action tonight. Tackles Phillip King and Richard Pitts will see action after missing the Imperial game because of injuries. King is a 210-pounder and Pitts weighs 205. King will start at his normal right tackle spot on offense. Pitts will not start; however, Woodley said he would see a lot of action.

O'Donnell was defeated two weeks ago by Stanton, 27-6. The Eagles boast size and speed; however, the heavily junior and sophomore team lack experience and are considered a year away from being a top contender in District 5-A. There are only three seniors in key positions on the team. One of the seniors is 6-0, 200-pound Mike Rodriguez, considered to be a blue-chip prospect. Rodriguez was an All-District guard last season.

The other two seniors end Ronnie Cosarez and defensive end Melton Williams. Cosarez is seeking his third letter with the Eagles.

STANTON HOMECOMING

Buffaloes Face Rankin

STANTON — The Stanton Buffaloes return home tonight to meet the Rankin Red Devils. The Buffaloes bring an unblemished record into tonight's fray, including last week's 35-2 shellacking of the Wink Wildcats.

Stanton has proved to be strong through the air and on the ground. The Buffaloes boast District 7-AA's second leading ground-gainer in halfback Dwayne McMeans and the district's leading pass-catcher in split end Paul McAlister.

Quarterback Rick Wilson and halfback Mitchell Irvin also are ranked in the top 10 runners in the district.

McMeans, a 175-pound senior, rushed for 146 yards and two touchdowns against Wink last week to boost his second total to 317 yards in three games. McMeans was named "Back of the Week" by the Stanton coaching staff for his performance last week and will be counted on by Head Coach Bill Young to provide the Buffaloes with a strong inside-running attack against Rankin.

McAlister, a slender 165-pounder, has held the lead in district statistics for two straight weeks. McAlister is the favorite target for Wilson's aerials. He averages 20 yards per catch, and although he has not caught a touchdown pass in the three games played this season, he has set up several Buffalo scores with his grabs.

Joining McMeans and Wilson in the backfield will be 138-pound fullback Larry Jones and 150-pound halfback Irvin.

Over-all, the Buffalo offensive unit is ranked third in the district with a 345 yards-per-game average. In total yardage, Stanton is second in the district with 1,035 yards in three games. The Buffaloes have picked up 788 yards on the ground and 247 yards through the air.

The Buffalo defense is spearheaded by defensive end Duane Clary, a 175-pounder. The line has good size with 195-pound Roger Gutierrez operating next to Clary. On the other side of the line, left end Steve Cook weighs in at 190 pounds and tackle Ronnie Dickenson is a 175-pounder.

Jimmy Stewart had the low score for Big Spring. Stewart fired an even-par 73. Robin Brunner and Brian Berleson had 74 to pace Midland.

Big Spring will face Odessa High at the Odessa Country Club course Oct. 4. Then the Steers will return to the Big Spring Country Club course for a match with Permian Oct. 5.

COYOTES HOST WHITHARRAL
GAIL — The Borden County Coyotes put their perfect 3-0 mark on the line tonight as they host Whitharral. Kickoff for the eight-man contest is 8 p.m.

Borden County defeated Smyer, 24-16, last week for its third straight win. The other wins by the Coyotes include a 42-0 romp over Wellman and a 38-6 wallop of Dawson.

Starting in the offensive line for the Coyotes will be ends Roy Don Henley and Steve Lockhart, guards, Roby Rios, Audrey Brummett and center Joe Hancock.

The Coyote backfield will include quarterback Randy Crittington and halfbacks Randy Hensley and Garland Williams.

Midland Takes Golf Match

Midland High claimed first place honors in a three-team golf match at Big Spring Country Club golf course Wednesday afternoon. Midland's linksters teamed up for a 298 total to take the meet.

Big Spring was second with a 304 total. Midland Lee was third with a 315 total.

The lowest score recorded during the day was a five-under-par 68 by Lee's Steve Whiteside. Whiteside was the fourth-place finisher in the Texas State Jr. Championship Tournament in 1971.

Jimmy Stewart had the low score for Big Spring. Stewart fired an even-par 73. Robin Brunner and Brian Berleson had 74 to pace Midland.

Big Spring will face Odessa High at the Odessa Country Club course Oct. 4. Then the Steers will return to the Big Spring Country Club course for a match with Permian Oct. 5.

Lee Lurking Two Shots Off QCO Pace

BETTENDORF, Iowa (AP) — Lee Trevino lurked just two strokes off the pace of a pair of youthful, long-shot leaders today as officials attempted to complete the storm-interrupted first round of the $100,000 Quad Cities Open Golf Tournament.

Jack Lewis, 25, and Don Iverson, 26, a pair of non-winners on the pro tour, posted four-under-par 67s Thursday several hours before a violent storm — and the threat of a tornado — forced suspension of play with some two dozen pros still on the the 6,501-yard Crow Valley Golf Club course.

Gibby Gilbert, with a 68, and Trevino, completed their rounds moments before play was suspended.

Players who were still on the course will complete their rounds Friday morning before the start of the second round in this event that is being played as a major tournament for the first time.

Trevino, the British Open champion, No. 2 money winner on the tour this season and the heavy favorite to take the $20,000 first prize, was tied at 69 with Craig Dear and Martin Roesink, a native of the Netherlands now living in Shreveport, La.

Of the six leaders, only Trevino and Gilbert have won four titles.

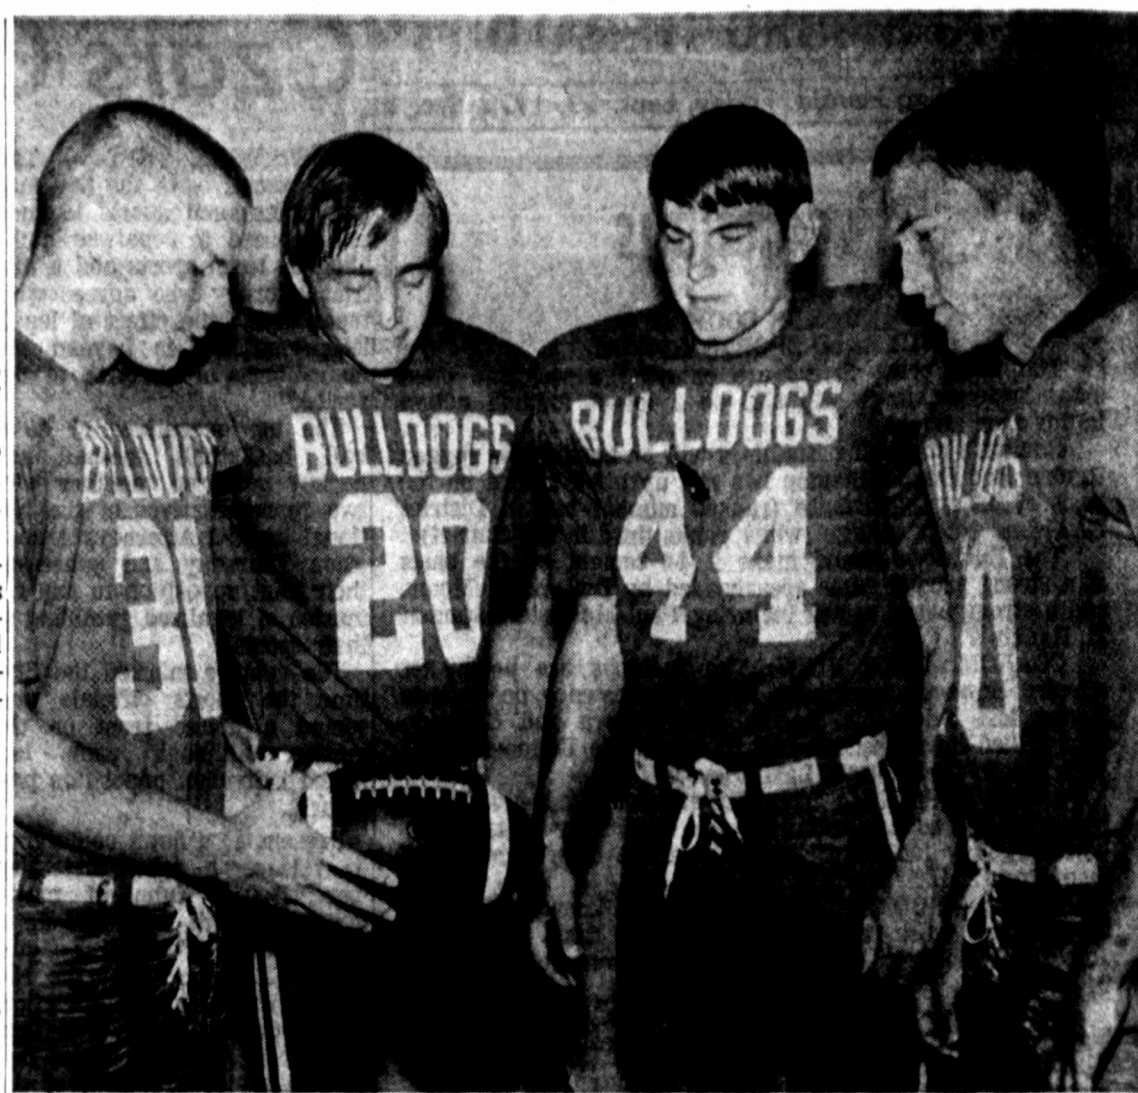

Deane Beman, who won the Quad Cities last year when it was played as a satellite, was five strokes back at 72.

Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Gary Player are not competing.

The short, stocky Lewis has won only a little over $4,000 this season.

Iverson, now in his fourth full season on the tour, is having his best year. He's won over $20,000, much of it with a first place finish in a satellite at Shreveport.

Four of the six black players entered — Charles and Curtis Sifford, Jim Dent and George played only a few holes and Curtis Sifford had a 79. All reported injuries. Most had been the recipients of petitions from local minority groups not to compete.

SEEK FIRST WIN

Bulldogs Face Chiefs

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs return to the grid wars tonight following an open date last week as they travel to San Angelo to take on the Lake View Chiefs.

Coahoma, pre-season favorites in District 7-AA, goes into tonight's contest with an 0-2 mark. The Bulldogs lost their season opener to the number one team in Class A ranks Sonora by a 21-20 margin. The second game of the season was against Colorado City, a 3A team, and the Bulldogs defeated the Wolves in the statistical battle; however, Colorado City took the scoreboard battle, 27-18.

Lake View was defeated by Odessa Ector, 16-6, last week and Coach Chuck Smith is making some personnel changes in preparation for the Bulldogs.

Smith is putting more bulk into his forward wall as Monte Eady, a 210-pounder, and Chuck Avants, a 220-pounder, will take over the right side. Eady had been playing wingback and Avants will take the tackle spot on the same side.

Don Hal, a 175-pound junior, will take over the duties at fullback while Robert Riles, a 170-pound sophomore, will see action at Eady's wingback post.

This is the final non-conference game for the Chiefs. They will go into District 3-AAA competition Oct. 6.

Coahoma's wishbone offense will again be directed by senior Roland Beal. The Bulldog's defensive machine has Eddie Padron, Freddie Franklin and Tim Tindol joining Beal in the backfield. The number-one serve is sophomore Putt Choate.

Defensively, Coahoma will have Glenn Washburn, Robbie Tindol, Kyle Kiser and David Higgins in the line, Joe Elmore, Steve Fraser and Choate at linebackers, while Beal, Troy Kerby, Steve Stone and Padron man the secondary posts.

AIR BATTLE EXPECTED

Rice Owls, Jackets Collide

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Undeclared Rice and once-beaten Georgia Tech fighting for a spot in the national college football poll, collide Saturday in what Owls Coach Al Conover says "might be the longest game in history."

Conover, in his first year at the Rice helm, noted that both clubs rely considerably on the passing game — his club almost exclusively.

The Owls upset crosstown rival Houston 14-13 and defeated Clemson 29-10, while Coach Bill Fulcher's Jackets rebounded from a season-opening loss to Tennessee with impressive victories over South Carolina 34-6 and Michigan State 21-16.

"We've watched films of their game with Michigan State, and any team that beat the Spartans is a good one," Conover said. "We're very impressed with their offense, and it's obvious they have an aggressive defense."

Fulcher, also in his first year at Tech, says his squad has to forget about the Spartan victory.

"This is a new week with a new opponent. We have to concentrate on Rice," he said.

The teams will square off at 2 p.m. EDT before an expected crowd of 50,000 in Grant Field. Tech is a 13-point favorite.

The Jackets, however, must contain one of the nation's top passers. Rice's Bruce Gadd currently ranks third in the nation, completing 19.5 passes per game, including 31 of 47 for more than 300 yards last week against Clemson.

Gadd's key target is wide receiver Edwin Collins, who set a school record 10 catches against Clemson.

Rice's top running threat is John Coleman, who punched out 159 yards in two games. The Owl kicking game, however, is outstanding. Mark Williams booted three field goals against Clemson and had 13 last year.

Tech's offense is keyed by quarterback Eddie McAshan, a senior who has had a stormy career with the Jackets. Last week he hit on a 77-yard touchdown pass on Tech's first offensive play and was the Associated Press college back of the week for his effort against Michigan State.

SEASON SEALER — Oakland A's captain Sal Bando jumps for joy as he reaches to shake hands with waiting Reggie Jackson after scoring eighth and winning run in yesterday's game with the Minnesota Twins. The run clinched the Western Division American League title for the A's. Twins catcher George Mitterwald (15) leaves the scene of the happy action.

Oakland Clinches West Crown

A's Rally To Drop Twins; Yanks Trim Tigers, 3-2

By The Associated Press

The happy Oakland A's and desperate New York Yankees were at opposite ends of an emotional see-saw today as baseball's 1972 season headed into its final regular week of play.

The A's, wearing the American League's West Division crown, were happy that they hadn't backed into the title and the Yankees, still nursing an outside shot at the AL's East title, were grateful that they hadn't backed out of their chance for the other division championship.

Oakland wiped out a seven-run deficit and clinched the West with a pulsating 8-7 victory over Minnesota while the Yankees, peering at the fate of instant elimination, fought back for a 3-2 victory over Detroit.

The Tigers' loss, combined with Boston's 3-1 victory over Kansas City, moved the Red Sox 1½ games ahead of Detroit in the AL East scramble. Each team has six to play including a season-ending three-game series against each other.

The Yankees, almost doomed by that last-week schedule, are third, 3½ games behind with five to play, and idle Baltimore slipped to fourth place, four behind with five to play.

In the only National League game played Thursday, Philadelphia topped Pittsburgh 2-1 as Steve Carlton became the eighth pitcher in major league history to strike out 300 batters in a season.

Oakland fell behind 7-0 in the first 4½ innings against the Twins but battled its way back, finally tying the score on Angel Mangual's two-run single in the eighth inning.

In the ninth, leadoff batter Sal Bando was hit by a pitch and then circled the bases on Dal Maxvill's double for the winning run.

"I've had hits before," said Maxvill, batting .222 since coming to the A's from the St. Louis Cardinals last month, "but this was one of the most important hits I've ever had. I guess you could say the most important."

Mike Epstein's 26th homer of the season started the A's comeback and he was one of the happiest players in the dressing room.

"What a way to win it!" said Epstein. "We came from behind. We didn't back in!"

Although no one could accuse the A's of backing in, New York very nearly backed right out of their race in the East. But Roy White's 12th inning homer gave the Yankees the victory and kept them mathematically alive.

Had Detroit beaten the Yankees, New York's chances would have ended simply because it would have given the club 72 losses and either Boston or Detroit would mathematically be assured of finishing with a better record. Which one did would depend on next week's three-game series.

But New York hung on and eventually beat Mickey Lolich, dealing the Tigers' chances a tough blow. In order to catch Boston, Detroit will have to win two more games than the Red Sox of the six that both teams have left.

The Yankees did it with solo homers by Thurman Munson in the eighth inning, relief pitcher Lindy McDaniel in the ninth and finally White in the 12th.

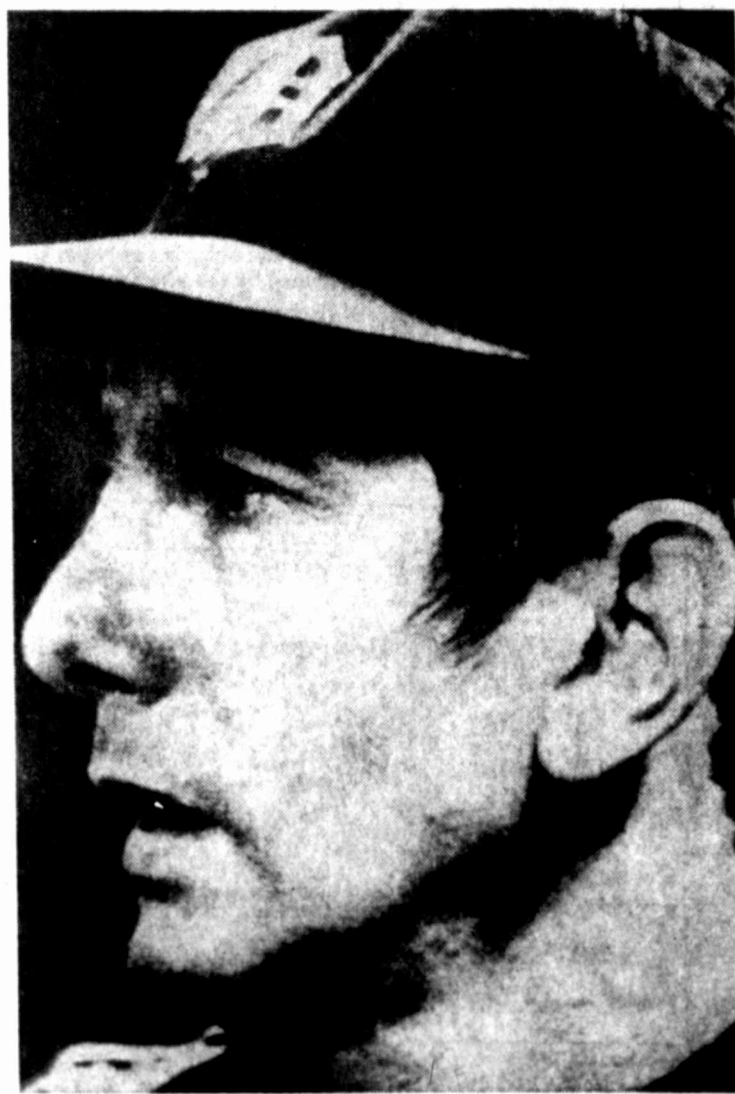

The loss left Lolich with a 21-14 record—4-8 since the All Star Game. "The last half, I've lost a lot of heartbreakers," said Lolich, "but this one is probably the toughest."

It was made even tougher because of Boston's victory over Kansas City.

"One less game to go," said Red Sox Manager Eddie Kasko, after John Curtis had out-duelled Dick Drago. "It's as simple as that."

Drago permitted the Sox only five hits but two of them were doubles by Reggie Smith, who scored twice, and another was a clutch, two-out single by Doug Griffin that chased home the first Sox run in the second inning.

In the only National League game, Carlton spun a six-hitter and struck out 11 to beat Pittsburgh for Philadelphia. It was the 26th victory of the season for the Phillies' ace-left-hander and gave him 302 strikeouts. The only other National League

HIS TIGERS TRAIL BY GAME AND A HALF — Detroit Tigers manager Billy Martin watches nervously as his team went through their warm up drills before Thursday night's game with the New York Yankees. The Tigers went on to lose to New York 3-2 to go 1½ games back of the Boston Red Sox.

Coahoma 'B' Wins, 25-0

COAHOMA — The Coahoma B-team romped to a 25-0 win over the Colorado City B-team Thursday night behind the strong passing of Jody Bennett and an outstanding defensive performance.

Coahoma's first touchdown came on a four-yard run by Ricky Patterson. Gary Roberts tackled on the two points to give Coahoma an 8-0 bulge.

The second Coahoma TD came on a 45-yard pass from Bennett to Dan Mitchum. The PAT failed and Coahoma led, 14-0.

The final Coahoma touchdown came on a 35-yard pass from Bennett to Brad Millican. Marcelina Chavez added the two points on a pass from Bennett to run the score to 22-0.

Stevie Wolf capped the scoring on a 15-yard field goal to make the final margin 25-0.

Cited for outstanding defensive performances were Bennett and Randy Gee. Both players had intercepted passes.

The next game for the Coahoma B-team will be Oct. 5 when the B-team will meet the Big Spring Sophomores.

Green Leads Runnels To 16-0 Win

Elroy Green scored two touchdowns to lead Runnels Junior High to a 16-0 win over Coahoma Junior High here Thursday night.

Runnels opened the scoring in the first quarter when the Yearlings capped a 55-yard, five-play drive with an eight-yard run by Green. Jesse Doss tackled on the points after with a run.

With 2:58 left in the third quarter, Green took a pass from Doss and turned it into a 76-yard touchdown. Doss ran for the two points to make the final margin, 16-0.

BS Sophs Slip By San Angelo, 28-22

The Big Spring Sophomores took a 28-22 win over San Angelo Thursday night in a see-saw battle which saw the lead change hands several times. The winning touchdown came for the Sophs on a one-yard run by Doug Robison.

Robison's touchdown had been set up by an 89-yard kickoff return by Andre Hurrington. Hurrington had taken the kick at the Big Spring 10 and raced to the San Angelo one-yard-line before being dragged down. Robison scored on the first play from scrimmage.

San Angelo opened up an 8-0 lead in the first quarter only to see the Sophs roar back on a six-yard run by Hurrington and a run for the two-point conversion by Robison to knot the score at 8-8.

San Angelo took a 16-8 lead in the second quarter before Robison scored on a 10-yard run with one second remaining in the first half. The run for two points failed and San Angelo took a 16-14 bulge into the half-time intermission.

In the third quarter, Hurrington scored his second touchdown on a 20-yard run. The try for the extra point failed and the Sophs held a 20-16 margin.

San Angelo pulled out in front

SCORES ARE MEANINGLESS Bruins Take On Ducks

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Coach Pepper Rodgers' UCLA Bruins, who found the Michigan Wolverines too large, try the smaller Oregon Ducks on for size tonight in a Pacific-8 Conference game.

The Bruins, 2-1, rate as two-touchdown favorites over the 1-2 Ducks, who last Saturday suffered their second worst defeat ever, 68-3 at Oklahoma. The Bruins, meanwhile, fell from sixth to 15th in the AP college poll with a 26-9 loss to Michigan.

Rodgers says those scores are meaningless when Pacific-8 teams meet.

The Bruins-Ducks clash starts off a busy weekend for the collegians involving all Top 20 AP teams.

The game matches the wish-bone rushing talents of UCLA's Kermit Johnson and James McAlister against the dangerous passing of Oregon's Dan Fouts.

The Bruins outweigh the Ducks by an average of 216 pounds to 210 on offense and 210 to 207 on defense.

The Bruins couldn't move the big, strong Michigan linemen and the Wolverines controlled the football, preventing UCLA from exploiting the talents of McAlister and Johnson, who is averaging six yards a carry.

McAlister has a highly respectable 4.8 average despite playing with numerous aches and pains.

"No one on our football team played well," Coach Dick Enright of Oregon says of the game at Oklahoma, where the Ducks surrendered 609 yards rushing. "Oklahoma is a great football team and I mean great."

Fouts, who has completed nearly 55 per cent of his passes, lost one of his leading targets, sophomore tight end Russ Francis, with a hairline fracture of the left ankle against Oklahoma. But Greg Specht and Bob Palm still are around to catch his passes.

UCLA quarterback Mark Harmon was shaken up and sidelined early in the Michigan game but he'll start for the Bruins ahead of Rob Scribner, who led his team with 90 yards rushing against the Wolverines.

Dallas Gets Nod Over Pack

NEW YORK (AP) — Are the Dallas Cowboys riding for a fall?

The Cowboys have won 12 consecutive regular season and playoff games in the National Football League. They go after No. 13 Sunday against the Green Bay Packers, once a nemesis of Dallas teams.

Dallas hasn't been overly impressive in its two victories so far this season. Nevertheless, the Cowboys won—and that's what counts.

The Pack, meanwhile, isn't back—at least not back to the hazy days of Vince Lombardi. Green Bay is, however, greatly improved over last year. If Scott Hunter stays healthy, the Packers could pull some surprises this season.

Without further delay, except to swiftly mention that last week's 6-6-1 showing left the two-week slate at 16-9-1 for 640, here's the latest Fearless Football Forecast:

Dallas 24, Green Bay 17—The Cowboys do seem destined for a fall, but this isn't the week. Or is it? Anyway, the Dallas defense should be the difference.

Minnesota 21, Miami 20—If the game was in Florida, the pick probably would be the other way around. With Frank Tarkenton scrambling for the Vikings and Bob Griese performing for the Dolphins, it should be a dandy game.

Washington 17, New England 10—The Redskins continue to win under the quarterbacking of Billy Kilmer, with Larry Brown grinding out yardage on the ground. The Patriots were upset winners last week. They won't be this time.

Cleveland 31, Cincinnati 28—Look for a minor upset here. The Bengals are unbeaten, but the Browns just may have found the quarterback they've been looking for in Mike Phipps.

Los Angeles 20, Atlanta 17—The Falcons never have beaten the Rams in regular season play. They won't this time, either, even though Roman Gabriel's status is uncertain.

Mustangs Set For Imperial

ACKERLY — The Sands Mustangs will be going for their first win of the season tonight when they face Imperial at 8 p.m. in Mustang Stadium.

Randy Cheatham will get the call for Coach Bob Davis' crew at quarterback. Joining Cheatham in the backfield will be the talented freshman Frosty Floyd and Dennis Armstrong at halfback and David Zant at fullback.

The ends will be Kenneth Schuelke and Victor Rodriguez. The interior line will be comprised of tackles Arlis Kennedy and Bobby Wigginton, guards Silberio Cantu and Keith Nichols and center Andy Anderson.

The Mustangs are 0-2 on the season with losses to Lubbock Christian and Ropes.

Same Gin Gets First Bale
 LAMESA — The first bale of cotton in Dawson County has been ginned at the Echols Patricia gin for two years in a row.
 This year, the first bale was brought in at 5 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 7 by Charlie King. The 440 pound bale produced 700 pounds of seed during ginning and came from 2,200 pounds of handpicked cotton on the King Farms six miles southwest of Lamesa.
 It was planted on pre-watered irrigated ground on April 16, using Bightmaster 4-5 seed. It was pulled by five hands off 11 acres, taking two days.
 Last year, Carl Garrett had the first bale off the Cason Echols farm, ginned at the same gin and planted on April 28.
 Agricultural experts in Dawson County still maintain that the outlooks for a bumper crop are still excellent with ginning to apparently begin early in irrigated sections.
 However, they claim that some crop damage is done every day that the temperatures remain low. The first 20 days of September were vital to fiber development and boll maturity and the cool days retarded the rate of lint development and also delayed the maturing process of the cotton.
 In 1971, the crop was severely damaged by cool weather and rain in late September and early October. However, this year's crop is more mature than the 1971 crop was at the time that it suffered the damage, the experts hopefully point out.

New Beef Palace To Be Unveiled
 DENVER, Colo. — A mammoth new Hall of Education with Beef Palace, Equine Center and Auction Arena — all under one roof and encompassing 240,000 square feet — will be unveiled to visitors and exhibitors at the 67th annual National Western Stock Show, January 12-20.
 The $3 million, two-level Hall of Education also will include the sheep, hog, poultry, rabbit, wool and seed shows, plus Children's Ranchland, commercial and educational exhibits, as well as a large cafeteria.
 The Beef Palace has stalls for 775 cattle and the Equine Center has space for 510 horses. The Auction Arena seats 400.
 The construction, which is scheduled for completion by December 15, is the result of a $2.5 million fund drive which general manager Willard Simms reports is still $100,000 short of its goal.

'Gun Play' Story Is Checked Out
 Sheriff's deputies from Howard, Sterling and Glasscock counties were unable to locate a Greyhound bus in which "gun play" was reported near the Forsan turn-off about 11:30 p.m. Thursday.
 Jim Owens, manager of the Central Greyhound Lines here, said he had not heard about the reported incident.

Directors Named For Farm Bureau

COLORADO CITY — Ninety-five members of the Mitchell County Farm Bureau met Saturday and selected directors for the coming year with officers to be elected in October.

Re-elected directors were Tommy Fuller, D. M. Smith, Wayne Oliver, Alton Raschke, Travis Turner, and Fred Warner.

Holdover directors include Merrell Blasingame, B. B. Byrne, R. B. Golden Jr., W. H. Redwine, C. N. Stubblefield and Dewey Turner.

Military Science Exhibition Set

LUBBOCK — The Department of Military Science at Texas Tech University will sponsor a free exhibition at 11 a.m. and 12 noon Saturday at the Panhandle-South Plains Fair.

The exhibition by Texas Tech Army ROTC students will feature techniques of repelling, rope climbing and the slide for life, "all of which should be of tremendous interest to fairgoers," according to Capt. E. G. Fish II, adjutant for the ROTC unit.

Knights Templar Meet Saturday

The Knights Templar Lodge 31 here will be the scene Saturday of a school of instruction. The program will begin at 2 p.m.

Commanderies due to be represented in District 9 include San Angelo, Snyder, Midland, Sweetwater, Alpine, Monahans, Pecos, Odessa and El Paso.

Ervin Daniel, the local commander, anticipates a good turnout. Dinner will be served at 6 p.m.

All Sir Knights are being urged to wear their uniforms, if possible, but to be in attendance, in any instance.

Doris Huibregtse On TEA Council

Mrs. Doris Huibregtse, a business instructor at Howard County Junior College, has recently been appointed to a long range planning committee for the Texas Education Association. She will be attending the annual convention in McAllen Oct. 6-7.

This committee will have the responsibility of guiding the Association in its efforts to fulfill the needs of Business Education throughout the State.

Laird Rates Negotiations Fastest Way To End War

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin Laird says negotiation "is the fastest way" to end the Vietnam war and that both public and private talks will continue.

He dismissed as speculative a broadcast news report in New York that secret negotiations in Paris had produced a full or partial peace settlement.

"I have nothing to report," he told a news conference Thursday. "Other than that we will continue to use the private as well as public negotiation channels."

MISSING IN ACTION
Should the talks fail, he said, President Nixon's "vietnamization" program will provide for complete total termination of American involvement with one reservation."

That reservation, he said, is charges pending against them as far as the Department of Defense is concerned.

The secretary told newsmen and a subsequent luncheon audience that proposed cutbacks in defense spending could jeopardize national security and lessen chances of achieving world peace.

HIGHER PAY
And he vigorously defended upgrading pay rates for military personnel which, in the case of the recruits, has more than tripled to $288 monthly since 1968.

"I'm not making any apologies for the increase in personnel cost," he said. "We should expect young people who serve their country to be compensated on a comparable basis with other young people choosing other professions and pursuits."

The nation's weapon systems, he said, rank behind men and women "as our most important asset in the Department of Defense."

Laird defended continued use of U.S. airpower in Vietnam as an effective means of "making it more difficult for the enemy to transport men and material into combat areas."

But, he added, "the decisive battles will have to be fought on the ground and the South Vietnamese have been doing very well."

Moody Stock Sale Okayed

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The sale of some $200,000 worth of capital stock in the National Investors Life Assurance Co., Inc., has been approved by U.S. District Court Judge James Noel.

The United Kingdom insurance firm is owned by W. L. Moody and Co. Bankers (Unincorporated) and Shearn Moody Jr.

Moody and the bank, according to the joint application made for the stock sale, own 2,858,200 shares of the firm. The joint application for the sale approved by Noel Wednesday was made by all parties concerned.

R. Bruce Laboon, attorney for E. O. Buck who is temporary receiver for the bank and Shearn Moody, told the court that negotiations for the sale of the stock started before the Securities and Exchange Commission filed its injunction suit against the bank last Sept. 6 alleging violations of the Securities Exchange Act.
