LOCAL LYCEUM COURSE, INSTEAD OF IMPORTED TALENT, WILL OFFER FIRST NUMBER TO PUBLIC FRIDAY, OCT. 30

Definite plans for the presentation of the Community Lyceum Course, consisting of five numbers, undertaken by three local organizations, the Music Study Club, and the Pep and Fellowship classes of the First Christian church, have been worked out, it is announced. This local Lyceum will take the place of the usual imported numbers and it is believed the idea will meet with the commendation and hearty support of all lovers of music and high class entertainment.

The opening number of the Community Lyceum Course will be given October 30. In this number the committee will present the Music Study Club in a program which cannot fail to be of universal appeal, adapte as it is to the special setting given it by the spirit of Hallowe'en.

The program will demonstrate the fact that musical composers are no exception to the rule that, everyone—old and young alike—are fascinated by the supernatural; and that in it has been found inspiration for much of the world's best music. In the various numbers, witches, elves, gnomes, nixies, and fairies will live their fantastic lives expressing with realistic vividness the pictures of fairy lore and it will not take the musicians ear to discover these fascinating characters.

One number "In the Hall of the Mountain King", may be used in illustration of what may be heard in a program of this nature. Here Grieg, the great Norweigian composer, pictures a part of Henrik Ibsen's fantastic drama "Peer Gynt". The theme is wierdly descriptive of the uncouth antics of the mountain gnomes as they circle, jeering and mocking, around Peer Gynt. As the dance proceeds, the excitement increases and drunk with hatred and malice, the gnomes whild in a frenzied orgie around their terrified victim. The denouement occurs at the final crash, which represents the destruction of the Hall at the magic sound of the bells of a distant church.

The Music Study Club numbers in its personnel about thirty members including the best musicianship the town affords and this number is being eagerly anticipated.

Funeral For Three Infants Held Same Week

Little George Arnold Pillow, seven months old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Pillow, died at ten o'clock October 13. The funeral was held at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Foster's little son, John Robert, who was born October the seventh, died on Wednesday, October 14. The funeral services were held at the home on Thursday afternoon.

Wallace Ralston Green, little son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Green, died October 8 and was taken to Vega on Friday where the funeral services were held.

Pittsburg Pirates Win National Championship

Pittsburg of the National League won the World's championship in baseball from Washington of the American League in a seven game series that required the entire seven to settle the issue. The National League champions defeated the redoubtable Walter Johnson in the seventh and deciding game at Pittsburg Thursday by the score of 9 to 7. The game was played under difficulties owing to wet weather, the muddy conditions doubtless causing the heavy score. Johnson, who had already won two games in the series, remained on the mound throughout, although hit heavily. Washington piled up a lead of four runs in the first inning but the fighting Pirates were not to be denied.

Big Crowds of fans have "attended" each game of the series at the Corner Drug Store, where the games were received, play by play, over the radio.

Local Problems Considered by the C. of C. Luncheon

The labor situation, the local lyceum, a report on the county's exhibits at the fairs, and the local parking problems as it affects farmers trucks were the subjects handled at the weekly luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce at the City Cafe Monday.

Dr. Overton who, with Walter Dunlap, had just returned from a trip into New Mexico, made a detailed report and, as is his wont, poked a lot of fun at his partner on the trip. The latter was given an opportunity to "defend himself" but declined the privilege, stating that he was willing to stake his own reputation against that of the Doctor's, and let it go at that.

Mrs. H. L. Broadwell, Mrs. H. D. Reed and Miss Floyd Wilson were present, and Mrs. Broadwell submitted the proposed plan of the Music Study Club, and the Pep and Fellowship Classes of the First Christian church for a local lyceum this winter, details of which are given in another column of this issue. Mr. Parker, in offering a motion that the organization heartily endorse the lyceum, stated that aside from any other considerations the men folks should remember that the ladies feed us and look after our material welfare and it would be highly improper, in his opinion, not to say downright imprudent, to fail to enthuse over most anything the ladies want at any time. The motion carried unanimously.

Secretary Moss reported on results obtained at the Abilene and Wichita Falls fairs with the county's exhibits. He said that the individual exhibits were simply immense and took the majority of the ribbons offered at both places but that the grain sorghum stuff had been damaged in transit and a heavy cut was sustained therefor in the judging. He said that the Dallas Fair exhibit had been bolstered with additional material and he hoped for better results there.

The question of parking trucks on Main street was brought up by A. Herbst, vice-president of the First State Bank & Trust Co., who said he had talked to several men from across the New Mexico line who objected to parking on side streets. This precipitated a general discussion regarding the width of the street, the need for widening it, and ways and means of satisfying the city's friends from out-of-town. Mayor Ireland said that trucks with overhanging loads were so long that there was not room on the streets for them without serious danger of accidents and that while he favored doing anything in reason to meet the demand of the farmers, at the same time there was a serious traffic problem involved that prohibited any hasty action. After considerable discussion Ralph Barnett, A. Herbst and Rex Tynes were appointed on a committee to thresh out the matter and report back.

The diners had the pleasure of hearing a few remarks from J. R. Davidson of Aurora, Nebr., a non-resident property owner here on a business visit. Mr. Davidson expressed his keen appreciation for the friendliness he had found here on every hand and for the many courtesies extended him.

Next week the luncheon will be held at the Stockman's Cafe, with a special program.

J. H. Head Goes For An Operation at Temple

J. H. Head left Thursday morning for Temple, Texas, where he will enter a Sanitarium for an operation. Mr. Head was accompanied by the Rev. Thurman Morgan of the Christian church.

Stores Will Close For Tulia Football Game Friday, October 23. "Pep" Meeting 16th. Coach Riggs Pushes Practice

All the business houses of Hereford are planning to close during the football game between the Tulia High School Hornets and the Hereford High school eleven, Friday, October 23, according to Prof. Humble, business manager of the local high school athletic association. Even the Garages, and filling stations will close as well as other business houses of the city. Heretofore the garages and filling stations have deemed it necessary to stay open most of the time, but they state that those wishing gas or repairs will have to come before three o'clock or wait until after five, because they are determined to see that annual battle.

This is the only time that Prof. Humble plans to ask the business firms to close, and he is eager for every door to be closed during the game so that the side lines will be filled with enthusiastic boosters. This promises to be the feature game of the season, because the teams are pretty evenly matched, and there is a crtain amount of rivalry that will make every athlete do his stuff.

Farmers who are in town to trade on Friday, October 23, are asked to get their merchandise before three o'clock, because every business house will be closed on that date from 3 to 5 o'cock. The high school students will give a parade through the business district just before the game is called.

The Hereford High School students will hold a big "pep" meeting between acts at the Star Theatre Friday night of this week, in order to create more interest in the game. M. L. Pickett, manager of the local picture show, is giving a line party for the High School football squad on Friday evening and every member of the team will be given a free pass to the show.

Prof. Humble is making an effort to get most of the high school students to attend the "pep" meeting. "I don't want anyone to get excited when we start giving yells right there in the show" Mr. Humble stated, "because we are trying to work up as much interest as possible for the Tulia game" "Beat Tulia" is the slogan that has been adopted by the Hereford High School, and stickers are being prepared for the cars of the city with this slogan printed on them.

People who attend the local picture show Friday evening will not only get to see Jackie Coogan in his feature picture "The Rag Man", but they will also get to hear the high school pep squad give some snappy yells that will be used in the Tulia game.

Coach Riggs is putting his men under strenuous training for the clash and everything points to a real battle. The Hereford boys will go into the game after the decisive defeat handed them a week ago by the crack Canyon eleven, and they will fight every minute of the game on this account. Tulia is still in the race for state honors, and will do everything possible to retain her standing. Hereford has the lightest team in her history, but has an exceptionally fast backfield. While Coach Riggs has not given out any information, it is believed that he will probably use the over head play against the heavier Tulia aggregation.

Hits Crane With Gun Butt; Charge Penetrates Lungs

While shooting some cranes out of the grain field on the ranch of Joe Mitchell, south of Hereford Monday afternoon about six o'clock, Lois Gary, 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Gary of Dimmitt, shot himself and died in a few minutes. He lived only long enough to say "I have shot myself" to one of Mr. Mitchell's sons, who ran to him after he heard his scream following the shot. Rev. W. R. Hill, who was passing the ranch on the road to Dimmitt, made a record run in his car for a physician but the boy was dead when the doctor arrived, although he too made every effort to reach him in time.

It appeared to those in position to have an opinion that the young man was running after a crippled crane and struck at it with his gun but, the weapon being discharged and the load entering his breast and ranging up into his lung. His gun, with empty chamber and broken stock, lay near his body. Another theory advanced is that the boy might have stumbled and fallen over the maize stubbs in the field.

The body was brought to Hereford and prepared for burial at Dimmitt by the E. B. Black Undertaking Co. the services occuring at 5:00 p. m., Tuesday, conducted by the Rev. W. R. Hill of the Baptist church of Hereford. The young man had the name among those who knew him best of being an exceptionally fine character. He had been helping harvest the crop on Mr. Mitchell's ranch for the past two weeks, and had made an admirable reputation as a faithful worker.

This deplorable accident should call attention to the need of care and thoughtfulness on the part of hunters during the coming season.

A deal in city property was recorded this week wherein Ralph Barnett becomes the owner of the B. F. Guthrie home on North Main street. It is understood that Mr. Guthrie plans to rent until spring when it may be possible that he will build.

The Carrison Evangelistic Party tent meeting closed last Sunday night after a successful run of two weeks. The meeting did a lot of good here and the revivalist seemed pleased with the results accomplished.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church is giving a social in the basement of the Methodist church Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. Every one is invited from 12 to 30 years. All the young people of this age are requested to be there.

LABOR SITUATION PROMISED RELIEF THROUGH IMPORTATION OF MEXICANS. WEATHER IS HAMPERING HARVEST

E. Renfro, Long-Time Resident, Passes to Reward

Death claimed another pioneer citizen of Hereford this week when E. Renfro, sixty-seven years of age, succumbed Sunday to ilness which had weakened him over a period of months. Mr. Renfro had been in faltering health for over a year and had never fully recovered from the shock of his wife's death, which occurred in April two years ago.

Funeral services were held from the First Christian church on Tuesday, October 13, at 2:30 p. m., the Rev. Thurman Morgan officiating. Burial was given in the Hereford Cemetery. A tremendous outpouring of friends and aquaintances attested the esteem in which Mr. Renfro was held in the community.

E. Renfro was born April 27, 1858, at Trenton, Mo., where he lived continuously until his removal to Hereford in 1902. He first engaged in ranching and the cattle business but after moving to town trade din land and conducted an automobile business until the last two or three years, when he retired from active business pursuits.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. E. E. Adams, and one brother, S. A. Renfro, both of Trenton, Mo., and five children, Criss, John and Eugene, and Mrs. R. C. Johnson and Miss Mabel Renfro.

The Brand joins the large circle of friends and acquaintances who mourn with the bereaved family in their misfortune.

Weather, crop and labor conditions have been the all-absorbing topics of conversation here of late and will doubtless continue to ursurp the limelight until the harvest is over.

Weather conditions have been distressing the past few days, with foggy mornings and occasional rain and hail streaks. A heavy rain and hail storm descended here Wednesday, amounting to .65 of an inch. The ground was white with hail for an hour or so. It was only a narrow streak, however, and did not effect much treritory. Thursday morning was again threatening but in the afternoon the sun was striving to break through. The continued wet and foggy conditions are preventing farmers from getting into their fields and is causing some pessimism.

Meanwhile the farmers are anxious about the labor supply when it does clear and are beseiging the Labor Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, who have been working hard to obtain an adequate supply of Mexicans from across the line.

Around fifty laborers have already been imported and some sixty more are expected here from New Mexico by Saturday of this week. Practically everyone can be assured hands some time next week, according to Dr. John W. Overton, who is handling the labor situation, because one labor bureau in New Mexico has promised from 150 to 200 men for next week. Most of these men are engaged in work there, and are promised for Deaf Smith county just as soon as they are available.

A wage scale has been worked out for Deaf Smith county, which will be of convenience both to the farmers and to the laborers. The price for heading feed has been set at $2 per acre with a house and coal furnished by the farmers. Shocking is fifty cents per acre with house and coal also furnished. The wage scale was adopted for the convenience of all, and it is hoped that the farmers will aedhere to the prices so that there will be no misunderstandings.

Nine States Besides Texas Send Students to Hereford School This Year. Reports Every Six Weeks Hereout

This week will close the first six weeks of school, including Institute. The first regular report will be made next week. The reports are scheduled to b made on Wednesday following the close of each six weeks. There may be a slight delay in getting out the first report as much initial work must be done in getting the cards and the registers ready. However, they should be issued on Thursday if not on Wednesday. Parents are urged to ask for the reports and examine them carefully.

Much time and thought are being given in an effort to keep the parents informed as to the standing of their children. The interests of the child will be served best by a close co-operation between parents and teachers. The regular reports show the grade of work that is being done according to the best judgment of the teacher. It is hoped that conferences at home and at school will be held over the reports and that improved work will result. The cause of every unsatisfactory report should be sought and a remedy found where possible.

The school enrollment for this year reflects the changed conditions that are found in the Hereford community. While it is not as large as was expected by some, it does show that numbers of new families have moved into this section since last year. In the high school thirty seven students were enrolled for the first time in the local schools, though not all of them have moved in recently. These come from many different parts of Texas and from several other states.

Six states are represented in the high school enrollemnt besides Texas. Part of these and three additional states are represented in the Central School student body. The reports from Central School may not be complete, with the probability that they are too low. The nine states sending students to the Hereford schools this year are: Oklahoma, California, Arkansas, New Mexico, Illinois, Nebraska, Indiana, Colorado, and Missouri.

In the last issue of The Brand a news item from Fort Worth gave the names of a number of Hereford teachers woh had enrolled as members of the Texas State Teachers Association. As this list was not complete, the names of Hereford teachers who have enrolled to date will be given below. As will be seen from the list of members, the high school teachers show a one hundred per cent enrollment in the Association. Central School teachers are only a little short of that record. Doubtless this year will show the largest enrollment of Hereford teachers in several years.

Membership in such an organization is one evidence of professional interest and growth. It also shows the teacher's willingness to contribute to theimprovement of schools in the entire state as the sole and only purpose of the organization is to make Texas schools the best possible. The Texas Outlook, the official publication of Texas teachers, is sent to every member each month, and should make the teacher who reads it a better teacher.

The following teachers in the local schools have enrolled as members: Misses Fern Axtell, Mary Bradly, Fae Braselton, Mae Morrison, Sallie B. Brown, Ela Aikman, Clara Mae Glenn, Jenette Rogers, Audrey Rogers, Velma Read, Catherine Wilson, Beulah Williams, Mrs. Garrison, Mrs. Black, Travis M. Dameron, J. F. Riggs, C. W. Humble, C. H. Dillyehay.

A number of the above named teachers are planning to attend the state meeting at Dallas on Thanksgiving. On the program will be found the names of educational leaders from all parts of the United States, including the United States Commissioner of Education and others from New York, Chicago, Denver and other centers of education.

—C. H. DILLEHAY.

Hereford Breeders Show Stock at Sweetwater

Hereford breeders of Deaf Smith county are busy getting their animals ready for the big Sweetwater sale which is scheduled for October 30. Some twenty of the choice Herefords from this county have been consigned to the sale. Most of these animals won ribbons at the Deaf Smith county Hereford show, the Tri-State Exposition and the South Plains fair at Lubbock, and are in fine shape for the Sweetwater sale.

Read the Special Saturday Ads of Grocery Stores!

THE SATURDAY SPECIALS

The grocery merchants of Hereford are advertising Saturday Specials each week in The Brand that are worthy of close study and consideration by every reader of the paper. They are offering genuine bargains in every line of eatables used by the housewives of this community that deserve a heavy patronage. Read these grocery ads and save money.

Only the fact that The Brand has been crippled this this week by shortage of help in the mechanical department prevented other lines of business from joining in this general offering of Saturday bargains. It is hoped to remedy this trouble in a few days.

Watch for the Saturday Specials! They mean real savings to thrifty buyers!

A short while ago her granddaughter and little child from Chicago were here visiting her and while here they had a picture of the four generations taken—mother, son, granddaughter and great-grand-child.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Randall of Amarillo took supper Friday night with Mrs. Minnie Walker.

Mrs. Ruth Galley and children returned Monday night from their trip to Iowa. She reports that it was raining as they left Iowa. She spent the week end at Newton. It was also raining Monday morning when she left Newton, so this is not the only place it rains.

Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Lockmiller were visiting Mrs. Walter London one day lately.

Mr. and Mrs. John Renfro were at W. T. Smith's Sunday evening.

Mrs. Minnie Walker was not very well the first of the week. Mrs. Margaret Hinton stayed with her Monday night, helping her with her work.

The home of Mrs. Tice is quarentined for scarlet fever. The youngest child, Augusta, has it. The boys are out of school. She is better at this writing.

Lester Galley has been laid up a few days with a sore hand which is rather inconvenient when there is so much work to do trying to save the crop before frost comes.

Fleet Calloway is out of school for a few days helping Mr. Botts with his feed. Clarence Botts is out of school also helping.

THE GREATEST THING IN THE WORLD
(By W. R. Hill, Baptist Pastor)

Golden Text—Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love.—I Cor. 13:13 (Am. Ver.)

Lesson Text—If I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I am become sounding brass, or a clanging symbal. And if I have the gifth of prophecy, and know all mysteries and all knowledge; and if I have all faith, so as to remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. And if I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and if I give my body to be burned, but have not love, it profiteth me nothing. Love suffereth long, and is kind; love envieth not; love vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up, doth not behave itself unseemly, seeketh not its own, is not provoked, taketh not account of evil; rejoiceth not in unrighteousness, but rejoiceth with the truth; beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth al things. Love never faileth; but whether there be prophecies, they shall be done away; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall be done away. For we know in part, and we prophesy in part; but when that which is perfect is come, that which is in part shall be done away. When I was a child, I spake as a child, I felt as a child, I thought as a child: now that I am become a man, I have put away childish things. For now we seem a mirror, darkly; but then face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know fully even as also I was fully known. But now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; and the greatest of these is love. (I Cor. 13, Amer. Std. Vers.)

This letter of Paul, containing some of the highest mountain peaks of Divine revelation, was written to the Corinthian church from Ephesus. Two of the very greatest passages of the entire Bible are found in this single letter to a missionary church which was founded through the aid of the contributions to missions of "the churches of Macedonia." These two great passages are the fifteenth chapter, treating so gloriously the subject of the resurrection of the dead, and the thirteenth chapter, treating the wondrous theme of christian love. Paul deals here with the highest kind of love. There are several kinds. In the King James translation of the scriptures the word "Charity" is used. That word is now used in a restricted sense, meaning the love manifested in deeds of mercy to the unfortunate and needy. It came into use through the Vulgate or Latin translation of Jerome in the fifth century. The Roman language had no word for this spiritual love nearer than the Latin word "caretas". So "charity," the translation of the Latin word "Caretas", was put in the King James version of 1611 A. D.

There are several kinds of love, and the Greek language of the New Testament uses two: "phileo", meaning love provoked by passion or emotion, and "agapae", meaning a choice based on the worth and character of the one loved. One has written the following, "There is love of man for woman, the theme of the novelist; there is love of mother for child, the theme of motherhood; there is love of man for man, the theme of fraternity; there is love of man for God, the theme of religion; and there is the infinitely greater love of God for man, the theme of salvation."

In this chapter Paul declares that devotion and affection for God, and fellowmen to be the final solution of all problems of the church and the individual. "Rising on the wings of inspired utterances he pours forth, as from the sunlit mountain heights, this glorious hymn to christian love."

I. Enumerates many things that fail unless prompted by love. 1. Loveless words are mere noise. If one could speak with all the languages spoken by men, and his words came not from a loving heart, it would be meaningless. Even should one be able to use the language of the angels in heaven and selfishness was his motive, it would be as void of music as if symbols were being smitten together. Goodspeed's translation puts it "but have no love, I am only a noisy gong, or a clashing symbal."

2. Loveless knowledge and faith amount to nothing. He puts it strong, using the rhetorical figure of hyperbole, and says that if he had all wisdom and all knowledge, and had the faith that could "move mountains," lacked love he would be just plain "nothing." The people in the Corinthian church excelled in human wisdom and in spiritual gifts, and greatly needed this admonition.

3. Humanitarianism and even martydom, without this spiritual gift of love, is worthless. We are all disposed to lionize the "big givers" and the martyrs. To live a loving and useful life is greater than to die a martyr's death. The "supreme sacrifice" for right and truth justly deserves our commendation, and it ordinarily accompanied is by love. The writer is using the wel known Hyperthetical Argument all along here. That is to say, using a supposed case to magnify a truth. The motive and the heart is greater than the deed, and really determine the quality of the deeds.

II. Paul tells some of the things that love will not do.

1. Love is not impatient. It will suffer long for its goal and its object.

2. Love is not unkind. Unkindness is a monstrous sin. We should be kind to every thing that has feelings.

3. Love is not envious. How easy for us to begrudge the prosperity and gifts of others. Love will make us conquer envy.

4. Love isn't vain and pompous. How easy for us to want to have a great name. Let those desiring such in an unworthy way remember Ananias and Sapphira's sad result. And King Herod is a warning to such as are proud.

5. Love is not easily made "mad" is not "selfish", is not haughty, is not suspicious of others, is not pleased with unrighteousness.

III. But love is not merely negative, it is a positive power.

1. Love is the champion of truth. Of course this included vealed truth as found in the B Let us who love God be jealous his Word! It also includes scien truth. Love is a friend of all tr but it wisely insists on kno

No one was near him at the time of the accident but it is thought that the gun fired when he struck at a crane he had shot. All he was able to say was that he was shot. ### THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON whether a theory is a truth or not. Love is happiest ("rejoiceth") when truth is believed and practiced.

2. Love is patient and trustful and peresevering.

IV. What gifts we now have are inferior to those in store for us in Eternity.

1. They are imperfect at their best. We know what we do know only in part, and see as through a smoked glass. We understand as children now.

2. In eternity we will know fully and see "face to face".

3. Even faith and hope will only last through Time. Faith will become knowledge and hope will become realization. Love will continue forever.

Love is the golden girdle that holds gracefully in place all the comely garments of the soul. Let us magnify Grace by giving Love an opportunity to grow. Love will reward us a thousandfold. As we love we are like God, for "God is Love."

A GOOD CITIZEN

A good citizen is one who supports his Government, as well as the forces for the upbuilding of his "Home Town." We want the co-operation of every citizen of this community in increasing the efficiency of the power and light facilities in every direction, for only by the co-operation of our efforts and by the support of our patrons can the Texas Utilities Company succeed.

The public requires service to the end that the community may grow, develop and prosper. Without the service furnished by a proper, adequate, up-to-date system of electric power and light no community can develop as it should. You are interested in the prosperity and consequent growth of your electric power and light system in order that your community growth and development may not be retarded.

As a Public Servant, with a whole community to serve, the Texas Utilities Company recognizes that it has a public trust to discharge. It realizes that while the company and the public have mutual obligations, the rights of the public must come first.

Crazy--
Like a Fox!

John Doe has the reputation of being one of the best dressed men in Hereford. We heard a citizen remark last week that "John was crazy to spend so much on clothes."

Knowing all of the facts we will say: "Yes, John is Crazy—like a fox." We happen to know that John spends less for his clothes than Mr. Citizen who was talking. How do we know? Well—we regularly clean, press and sometimes dye a suit for Mr. John. He is one of our best customers. And he says: "It's the best money I spend. My suits look new until they are gone."

Economy in the Long Run

Any housewife ought to consider well the cooking and wearing qualities, the fuel economy and the appearance of the range she buys. Remember that it is a lasting purchase—you are buying for a long time. No purchase for the home is more important than the kitchen range. You cook on it three times a day, every day in the year. Your peace of mind and the health, energy and contentment of your whole household depend on the better cooking that a New Majestic Range will enable you to do every meal.

It is false economy to buy a cheap kitchen range that wears out quickly and often makes the best cooks fail. The only true economy is economy in the long run. Therein lies the economy of the Majestic. It cuts down fuel and repair bills and its long life of never-failing efficiency makes it cost less per year than any other range in the world.

Remember—It's One Week Only!

AND THEY LIVED —

"Why she would be the last person on earth I'd tell even if I had known the camp story at the time," he declared.

"You mean to tell me that your brother hadn't told you then?"

"No, and not even later except by his look of astonishment and a few questions he asked when he saw Anne an dI told him she was the girl to whom I'd been engaged. It's true he set me to thinking, (I know him so well) and in a flash it all came back to me. Then I, too, recalled the ugly tale at camp.

"She said you thought her face was familiar the first time you'd ever met."

"By Jove!" he exclaimed, "did she even remember that?" Then a puzzled expression swept over his face, as if he were trying, piece by piece, to figure things out.

Then he shook his head.

"What's the matter?"

"Nothing, he replied slowly, "it's just that I'm sorry she thought my brother or I would ever say anything about her that was the least bit unkind."

From what he had said and the varying emotions that played on his face, I began to understand the situation that, up to this time, had been such a complicated affair. It was plain to me now that Anne, seeing Curtiss with his brother and having a guilty conscience, figured that being his brother, he would tell Curtiss about her disgraceful behavior at the Camp and so she imagined that if she told the story first, the sheer nerve of it would keep anyone from believing any bit of scandal that might leak out. Poor Anne! She might have known that two such men would have shielded her name.

"——then Curtiss, you didn't fall on your knees when she gave you back your ring and cry?" I teased. He laughed outright.

"I never heard such rot."

"She said you did and you see I wasn't very thrilled over being—second choice," I said pouting, but when I saw he was about to reassure me by taking me in his arms, I stopped my pretending and flashed him a smile instead. "Let's stop talking about it, I feel sorry for her, "I declared.

"You would, you wonderful, wonderful girl!"

Again he tried to take me in his arms but I jumped up, and raced down the beach. He followed and we laughed happily as we ran. Reaching the cottage, he turned to me and said, "You needn't run. It won't do you any good for I'm going to pursue you the rest of my life. Besides, your father has invited me to stay for dinner. Furthermore, you'll have to dine with me alone for he's gone to town with friends."

"Does he know, I mean——er—" I stammered.

"If you mean does he know how I adore you. Yes. Because I told him so and moreover, young lady, I have his permission to win you, if I can, so you see you haven't much chance."

I made a terrific face at him and darted aside.

After dinner, we waked on the porch.

Atlantic Beach is always entrancing whether at noontide, twilight or dawn. But there was a poignant beauty about the water tonight. Like a broad ribbon of pale gold, the moonbeams kept tryst with the capacious waves and they flung their golden hair about them and danced madly while Florida stars looked down.

We stood motionless, beguiled by the delecate loveliness of the sight.

For one moment, there was silence between us. A breathess expectancy—a rapture known onl yto lovers who stand alone on majestic heights while the winds of the world rush by.

"Curtiss."

"Yes, darling."

"I was just wondering about something."

Silence.

"Yes can I know what it is, sweetheart?"

"I don't know. I've an idea though that you'd disapprove."

"Please, Sallie."

"Well, I was just wondering, Curtiss, if ——"

"If what, sweetheart?"

"Well, if you'd mind VERY much if I showed you the lady in the moon—"

"You adorable little minx!" he cried and gathered me cose in his arms.

The Meaning of the Word "BANK"

A bank is an establishment for the deposit of money; the office where money transactions are made. "Bank" —to defend; to fortify.

By depositing your money in a banking establishment; by the transaction of your affairs through the bank, you defend your funds and fortify your future against every emergency.

Is not such a connection worth while?

D. 1925, in a suit, numbered on the docket of said court No. 1419, wherein The First State Bank & Trust Co., of Hereford, and the National Stock Yards National Bank are Plaintiffs, and J. F. Beginning at an iron stake 100 vrs. E. and 700 vrs. S. of a stake set by W. D. Twitchell for N. E. cor. Sur. No. 1, Block 0-3;

Thence S. 4511 vrs. to iron stake and 2 pits, for S. W. cor. this Sur.;

Thence E. 2255.5 vrs. to an iron stake and 2 pits;

Thence W. 4513 vrs. to the place of beginning.

That Plaintiffs acquired their title to said lands through and by virtue of a decree rendered by the District Court of Castro County, Texas, in favor of plaintiffs against defendant J. F. Waldrip, who had acquired the title thereto, both through a regular chain of title from the State of Texas, and by and under the five years Statute of limitation in that he and those under whom he claimed had, prior to the filing of this suit, and prior to the time plaintiffs procured said decree, against him; had and held adverse peaceable possession of said lands, and paying taxes thereon, and claiming to be the owners there of, under deeds, duly registered, and that said possession was actual and visible, continuous and not interrupted.

That the defendants are asserting and claiming some rights, titles, interest and estate to said lands, that plaintiffs do not know just what rights, titles, interest or estate the defendants are asserting or making, but that plaintiffs' title is superior to any rights, titles, interest or estates the defendants or either of them have in or to said land.

That said claims of title, interest, and estate to said land casts and creates a cloud on plaintiffs' title thereto.

Plaintiffs pray for recovery of the title to said lands from defendants, that they be quieted in their title thereto, and that defendants' rights, titles, interests, estates and claims in and to said lands be cancelled, annulled and removed as clouds on plaintiffs' title.

Herein Fail Not but have before said Court, at its aforesaid regular term, this writ with your return on, showing how you have executed the same.

Gum-Dipping, the Firestone extra process, impregnates and insulates every fiber of every cord with rubber—insures greater safety and comfort over rough and sandy roads—builds extra strength and flexibility into the sidewalls—an exclusive feature that adds thousands of miles to the life of a tire.

Come in—let us save you money by equipping your car with a set of these wonderful tires—prices are still low.
