Plains Communities Survey Human And Property Losses From Storms

FLOODED TOWN AGAIN IN FEAR OF OVERFLOW

Roaring Springs Citizens Checked in Efforts To Repair Losses

TWO PERSONS KILLED

Olton, Flagg and Running Water Communities Are Hard Hit

Special to The Record News

FLOYDADA, Texas, June 7.—Citizens of Roaring Springs, 30 miles east of Floydada in Motley county, were stopped in their efforts to repair the damage done by the flood that occurred in that city Wednesday night caused by heavy rains on adjacent hills when a second rain visited the town Thursday night and added to the $50,000 damage to business houses and dwellings.

Although not as serious as the first rains, the second deluge added to the consternation of the citizens and many made preparations to move to the hills near the town.

Reports reaching here from Q. A. & P. employes state that the water reached a level of eight feet in some of the business establishments and every firm in the town suffered some loss from the flood.

Water rushed through the top windows of the school gymnasium doing considerable damage there. One man was caught in the rise from Dutchman creek and washed several hundred yards through the streets of the town but was injured only slightly. Small business houses were washed from their foundations and a 1,000 pound safe caught in the rise was washed through the Main street while the 200 foot bridge over Dutchman creek belonging to the Q. A. & P. Ry. company was completely washed out, stopping all transportation facilities.

CAPITAL HEARS RASKOB PLANS TO QUIT POST

Apparently Authentic Rumor Says Chairman Will Resign

NEWS ON DEFICIT

Demo Executive to Tell Party Standing at Dinner Monday

Special to The Record News

WASHINGTON, June 7.—A report, bearing earmarks of authenticity, is current here to the effect that at the Democratic dinner here Monday night John J. Raskob will formally request that ...e be relieved from his duties as chairman of the Democratic National committee. This, it is intimated, will be based on the fact that he plans to re-engage in active business and as he divested himself of his business connections to become chairman of the national committee, when requested to do so by Gov. Alfred E. Smith, just about a year ago, he feels there is a like obligation to his business associates to reverse that policy.

In that connection, it is indicated, Chairman Raskob will have a highly important announcement to make regarding the party deficit. According to last accounts this had been reduced to less than half a million dollars and should he be planning to relinquish his control of the party it is unlikely Chairman Raskob would do so without a definite statement as to when the deficit will be completely wiped out.

While none of the leading Democrats who could be reached tonight were in a position to confirm or deny the rumor, several admitted having heard the report. All of them were loyal to the party in the bitter campaign last fall and unhesitatingly paid tribute to the ability of Chairman Raskob. While not one of them would think of joining forces with his enemies there were several who frankly admitted that should he see it to retire of his own volition it might make Jouett Shouse's task of party reorganization somewhat easier.

OY, SUCHA SIGHT!

Russian Crown Jewels Melt and Run Down Radiator

NEW YORK, June 7. (UP)—Mrs. Rebecca Barasch' suspicions were not aroused until the Russian crown jewels melted and ran down the side of the kitchen radiator while she was preparing supper.

For the next three days Mrs. Barasch immersed herself in the Rogues' gallery at police headquarters. She studied thousands of faces, seeking three open, honest refugees' countenances who sold her the Russian crown jewels last week for $900 cash.

The police today arrested Stefano Anillo, 34, Frank Russo, 36, and Emanual Fallaccana, 30. All denied any connection with the Romanoffs, paste jewelry or Mrs. Tarasch but they were locked up on charges of grand larceny.

"Oy," said Mrs. Barasch, "such a sight when they melted!"

GOERNER FREED ON MURDER CHARGE

CALDWELL, Texas, June 7. (AP)—Ed Goerner, Bastrop county farmer, tonight was acquitted of a charge that he murdered his wife after the jury had deliberated one hour.

Charged with killing his wife in their Bastrop county home April 22, 1927, Goerner stoutly maintained his innocence. The state relied on circumstantial testimony and emphasized suspicious circumstances. Mrs. Goerner was shot to death.

Arguments were completed late today amid a fanfare of oratory, the case given to the jury, and a verdict tonight made possible.

Defense attorneys argued there were no witnesses to the killing, and pointed to Goerner's testimony his house was robbed. Goerner also testified a tramp had been in the neighborhood for several days before the tragedy.

ROY ADAMS CASE GOES TO JURY

CORSICANA, Texas, June 7. (UP)—The legal battle over the life of V. Ray Adams, Bartlett farmer charged with the murder of Orville Mathews, Dallas bank employe, was expected to end late tonight, with the case going into the hands of the jury probably about 10 p. m.

Attorneys for the state, demanding the death penalty, began arguments to the jury this afternoon after Judge Hawkins Scarborough had charged the jury in points of law involved in the case.

A host of spectators, crowding the courtroom to capacity, were prepared to "sit it out" tonight, expecting a speedy verdict after the jury gets the case.

The shooting resulted from an argument over a $2,000 election wager on the Mayfield-Connally senatorial race. Mathews was stakeholder. After the election Adams, the winner, went to the Republic National bank where Mathews was employed and asked for his money, only to be told that it had been paid to a mysterious Clyde R. Vest, who later was found to have obtained the money on spurious credentials. In the argument which followed Mathews was shot.

The state contends that Mathews was running when he was brought down by the bullets from Adams' gun. Adams is pleading self defense.

JUSTICE TAFT IN HOSPITAL TO RECUPERATE

Aged Jurist's Condition To Be Observed For Bladder Trouble

OPERATION UNLIKELY

Former President Suffers From Over-Exertion, Doctors Say

WASHINGTON, une 7. (AP)—Chief Justice William Howard Taft of the supreme court was removed to Garfield hospital here today for observation because of gall bladder trouble.

At the hospital it was said tonight that his condition was satisfactory and that he was in no danger.

Doctors Francis R. Hagner and Thomas A. Crayton, his personal physicians, announced that the chief justice was suffering from over-exertion as the result of a trip to Cincinnati.

Doctor Hagner said he believed an operation would not be necessary but that the patient must have complete rest for several days to recuperate.

The chief justice returned today from a visit to relatives in Cincinnati and planned to continue on to his summer home in Canada but decided his physical condition was not satisfactory. After an examination his physicians ordered him to Garfield hospital.

The supreme court recessed Monday for the summer after an arduous winter session in which the chief justice and his associates almost cleared their docket for the first time in recent years. Mr. Taft, who will be 72 years old in September, was active throughout the drive to hand down opinions on all cases possible and left Monday night for the trip West.

Editor Sees Little Hope To Cut Wheat Surplus

DODGE CITY, Kan., June 7 (UP)—Farmers in the Western Kansas wheat belt have invested a vast fortune in harvesting machinery and attempts to govern the surplus of the grain by reducing acreage must meet with failure in the opinion of Jesse Denious, publisher of the Dodge City Globe.

"It is folly to ask these Western Kansas farmers to sacrifice the one crop they know they can produce after spending the money they have spent to experiment with crops they aren't sure can be raised," the publisher said.

Denious suggested campaigns to widen uses to which wheat is put as a means to increase damand for the over-produced commodity.

WADE LONG ACTIVE IN CIVIC WORK

Special to The Record News.

FORT WORTH, June 7.—Homer D. Wade for the past three years manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce today announced his resignation to accept the general managership of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce to which position he was today elected.

The election of Wade to the Dallas post was somewhat a surprise since he was not an applicant for the post although it has been known for several days that his name was being strongly considered by the Dallas directors in case they decided to pass up applicants and seek a man for the job.

Veteran Executive

Wade has perhaps been in active chamber of commerce work longer than any of the outstanding commercial executives of Texas. He entered the field in Waco in 1908 relinquishing the post of city editor of the Waco Times-Herald to become manager of the Waco Young Mens' Business league which by the way was the first such organization of the kind in Texas. He resigned this post four years later to go to Stamford as secretary of the chamber of commerce there. He was closely identified with Stamford during the early development period of that city, serving seven years as chamber of commerce secretary, one year as city manager and six years as Washington representative of the Swenson interests.

In 1923 at the Plainview annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce he was elected as assistant manager succeeding W. T. Wheeler to the post. He served in this capacity with

Triple Shooting May Cost a Third Life

DAVENPORT, Iowa, June 7. (AP)—Mrs. Anna Fisher today was in a critical condition, wounded by her jealous husband who last night also killed Mrs. Claude Wilson, his sister-in-law, Salt Lake City, and then took his own life.

The husband, Loyal R. Fisher, 48, a Davenport policeman, died from a revolver wound in his head.

J. D. Cantwell, county coroner, said the shooting was the result of jealousy over what Fisher considered unfaithfulness of his wife and belief that his sister-in-law was influencing Mrs. Fisher to turn against him.

Mr. and Mrs. Babe Ruth Effectively Balk Newest Effort to 'Bury' Star

NEW YORK, June 7. (US)—Many times they've tried to "bury" the Babe.

When his "dogs" were ailing, the rumor hounds said that he had slowed down to a walk. A cold was exaggerated into pneumonia, a glass of beer was made to seem like a distillery, a bet on the races and his fortune was gone.

But year in and year out Babe Ruth bobbed up hitting home runs as of yore.

Today, however, it was announced by an evening newspaper that the Babe had an ailing heart—so ailing in fact that he would never be able to play ball again.

To which the Babe replied.

"I expect to be at the stadium in a few days to see the Yankees play and I will be in uniform taking my swings in 10 days."

Dr. Edward King, the Babe's physician, reported to Miller Huggins, manager of the Yankees:

"Babe is suffering from slight muscular heart trouble and is not in a critical condition. He should return to the game in about a week."

And then, to make it unanimous, Mrs. Ruth said:

"If he were seriously ill, I would know it. But I know Babe is all right. He is improving fast and will be in uniform in a few days, I am sure."

Policemen as Well as Women Change Their Minds, Jay Walkers Learn

CHICAGO, June 7. (US)—Mr. Jay Walker today found that women are not the only ones to change their minds.

A few months ago both Commissioner of Police William Russell and Captain Frank J. Matchett, head of the traffic department said:

"Let 'em hop, skip and jump—it keeps 'em healthy."

Today more than 100 extra traffic officers were on duty in the loop to halt the "hop, skip and jump" habit.

Yes, sir. A few months ago the local authorities got a big "kick" out of Commissioner of Police Whalen's plan to make the gothamites stop and go with the lights.

"It's not practical," declared Captain Matchett. "Chicagoans hop, skip and jump their way through traffic and it speeds it up and keeps them healthy."

Today Captain Matchett, joined by Commissioner Russell said:

"The habit of crossing streets at any time has slowed up traffic. Enforcement of the traffic ordinances will bring an easier flow of transportation. Also it will protect the pedestrian. Too many accidents result from careless crossing."

There was widespread confusion in the loop this morning as the police began, or attempted, to slam the lid on the "hop, skip, jumpers." Constant tooting of police whistles drew enormous crowds because no matter the hurry a loopite will nose in on a police call.

ROMAN CHURCH PACT SIGNED

Pealing of Bells Greets Ratification

VATICAN CITY, June 7. (AP)—Pope Pius tonight stood solemnly affirmed as ruler over a temporal state such as his predecessors had governored prior to 1870 although his by agreement is less in extent. Joyful pealing of church bells throughout Rome made public at noon the glad tidings that Premier Mussolini and Cardinal Gasparri had exchanged ratifications of the Lateran treaty, ending the strife between the Holy See and the Kingdom of Italy.

There were no speeches and the simple ceremony required less than half an hour. One text had been signed by King Victor Emmanuel and the other by Pope Pius XI. The accord recognized sovereignty of the pope and the status of Catholicism as the state religion in Italy. After signing, the cardinal and premier talked together for 15 minutes.

Finance Minister Mosconi then gave the cardinal a check for 750,000,000 lire (about $39,000,000) representing the first payment of the financial convention arranged at the time the treaty was drawn up in February.

Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, read a letter from the pope saying that his first act would be to send a benediction to the king blessing him, his consort and all members of the royal family and bestowing a special benediction upon Chevalier Mussolini.

Outside the vatican the conclusion of the signing was marked by opening the historic bronze doors to the right of St. Peter's which had been half closed, according to the Italian custom of mourning, since 1870. A company of Swiss guards appeared with fixed bayonets on rifles instead of the spears they have carried for so long. A large crowd gathered to watch these outward manifestations and to cheer the entrance and exit of the premier, the first he had ever made to the vatican.

"Seven Wives, and This One Is First To Kick About Beating," Man Says

With one eye wreathed in purple and an ear somewhat askew, the seventh wife of a 40-year-old Wichitan Friday morning signed charges of aggravated assault against her husband.

"He may have gotten by with that with the others, but I'm not used to it," she explained to L. V. Abernathy, assistant county attorney, who took her complaint. The husband had undertaken to administer discipline, she declared, and although he sought the assistance of no weapon, his fists were grounds for the assault charge, she maintained, exhibiting her bruises for evidence.

"This is my seventh wife and the first kick I've ever had," the disgusted spouse protested. "What's getting into women, anyway?"

Wichita Legion Post Leads State In Membership in Excess of Quota

Membership reports to be given by American Legion posts comprising district 13 of Texas in the convention in Vernon June 8 and 9 will show the Pat Carrigan post of Wichita Falls with a greater proportionate excess over its quota than any other post in Texas, according to J. F. Friberg, adjutant.

State officers early this spring set a mark of 400 to be attained by the Wichita Falls organization for the year. The local membership now totals 475, and will reach 500 before the end of June, Mr. Friberg stated. Reports at Vernon will show the entire district with approximately 85 per cent of its quota of 2,000 members, it was said.

Officials of the Vernon post stated Friday that preparations have been completed for the two-day session Saturday and Sunday, when it is expected that more than 200 members of the Legion and its auxiliary will be present. The 13th district includes Montague, Clay, Archer, Young, Wichita, Baylor, and Wilbarger counties. The principal speaker to be heard in convention assembly is Rufus Scott, state commander.

Candidates from Wichita Falls, Burkburnett and Electra are among the 15 or more who will be put on the rack Saturday night for initiation into the society, 40 and 8. A team from the Wichita Falls voiture is scheduled to conduct the ceremony.

A large number of local Legionnaires will go to Vernon at noon Saturday to participate in the parade and street stunts which will open the meet Saturday afternoon.

WICHITA BUILDS MANY HOMES

City Compares Well With Others, Report Shows

Wichita Falls compares favorably with other Texas cities in respect to the number of residences and apartments constructed last year, according to the 1928 housing report of the United States department of labor, copies of which have been received by city officials at the Memorial auditorium.

Accommodations for 222 families, involving an expenditure of $900,788, were built in Wichita Falls last year, the report shows. Among cities of this size, Waco and Port Arthur each built fewer residences and apartments than this city. Although Galveston and Beaumont reported a larger number, officials here attribute part of the increase to hotels built in those cities last year.

Radio Joins Search For Missing Youth

Karl Gardner, 18-year-old son of Mrs. William Delaney, was reported still missing late Friday night. He disappeared from his home at 905 Taylor street early Tuesday morning, after promising to return in 15 minutes.

The battery for which he was going was never called for, according to employes at the battery station where he had left it to be recharged. A Ford car and a motorcycle, used by the youth for delivering packages for Spoonts drug store No. 1, are still at his home.

A radio broadcast of his disappearance in an effort to locate the boy or find someone who had seen him since Tuesday failed to bring any results, officials of station KGKO stated. Several friends of Mrs. Delaney living out of town called in to ask if the boy reported lost was her son, but none could give any information concerning him.

At the time of his disappearance, Karl was wearing a pair of overalls over his riding pants and boots. His hand was bandaged as a result of a small injury which occurred while he was riding his motorcycle. The youth is about five feet six and one-half inches tall and is decidedly blonde and of a fair complexion.

All new patrons must erect the new regulation mail box which will also go into effect on July 1. The new type box is somewhat larger than the old type. Boxes must be placed along the route to the carrier's right, Mr. Maricle stated.

The Week's Prize Simplified Baking Recipe

A Joy to Inexperienced Housewives

Cake Mixing Time, this enticing CHOCOLATE ROLL, 8 minutes

Mrs. Taylor Thompson pleased with her Chocolate Roll, says: "'Kitchen-tested' flour insures perfect results."

An Adventure in "Kitchen-tested" Baking

It's 98% certain that you can make a Chocolate Roll like this, due to a new way in baking. Of the first 100 women who tried it, 98 succeeded perfectly. And the two who failed blamed their own mistakes, not the recipe!

By the development of an utterly new type of flour—Gold Medal "Kitchen-tested" Flour—baking has been simplified amazingly for housewives. And the cause of most baking disappointments banished.

"Kitchen-tested" means that every batch of this flour has been tested in an oven just like yours, before it goes to you. Tested for uniformity of result with home recipes.

RECIPE .... Chocolate Roll

3 eggs, ¼ tsp. cream of tartar, ½ cup sugar, 2 tbsp. cocoa, 2 tbsp. GOLD MEDAL "KITCHEN-TESTED" FLOUR, ¼ tsp. salt, ½ tsp. vanilla, powdered sugar.

METHOD: 1. Beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold a point, adding cream of tartar while they are foamy. 2. Gradually add half the sugar, beating it in. 3. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. 4. Add remaining sugar to egg yolks and beat thoroughly. 5. Sift cocoa, flour and salt together, add to yolk mixture and beat thoroughly. 6. Add vanilla. 7. Fold into egg white mixture. 8. Line a baking sheet with well greased wrapping paper and spread mixture over paper not more than ½ inch thick and bake. 9. When baked, remove from oven, turn upside down on towel or cloth sprinkled with powdered sugar. Remove paper quickly and while cake is still hot, roll loosely in towel as for jelly roll, but without adding filling. The towel powdered with sugar can be rolled in with the cake to prevent roll sticking together. 10. When cake is thoroughly cooled and just before serving, unroll and spread with filling. Roll again and place on platter for serving. 11. Serve with hot chocolate sauce. TIME: Bake 20 minutes. TEMPERATURE: 325° F., very moderate oven. AMOUNT: 6 servings. SIZE OF PAN: 8 x 11 inches. NOTE—For more servings this recipe may be doubled, 5 eggs may be used instead of 6 eggs in this doubled recipe. Filling for Chocolate Roll: 1 cup whipping cream, 2 tbsp. powdered sugar, ½ tsp. vanilla. METHOD: Whip cream very stiff, add the sugar and vanilla and spread on chocolate roll as directed. Hot Chocolate Sauce: 1 sq. unsweetened chocolate, 2 tbsp. light corn syrup, 1 tbsp. butter, ¼ cup boiling water, 1 cup sugar, ½ tsp. vanilla. METHOD: 1. Melt chocolate over hot water. 2. Add corn syrup, butter and, very slowly, the boiling water. 3. Add sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved. 4. Bring to boiling point and boil 5 minutes. 5. Add vanilla and serve over chocolate roll.

CABINET TALKS ARMS POLICY

Britain Expected to Make New Proposal

WASHINGTON, June 7. (US)—President Hoover and his cabinet today began the formation of a definite American policy to deal with the delicate armaments and reparations situations.

The two questions were of such importance that they occupied the full attention of the cabinet to the exclusion of all else save a brief discussion of prohibition.

An expected imminent pronouncement from the British government on proposals to reduce armaments, and the signing of the reparations agreement brought these two questions sharply to the fore.

On the first the United States is expecting a counter proposal from Ramsay McDonald, the new British premier in the Labor government. In it the United States expects that he will agree to enter a conference with the United States, but will evade an acceptance of the plan outlined in President Hoover's Memorial day address.

Speaking for the stronger of the sea powers, American officials expect Premier MacDonald to reply that while willing to discuss reductions it must be done with full consideration of British requirements and the relative strength of the British navy at this time. In such a situation, this government, it is understood, will proceed at once to the construction of 15 cruisers and one aircraft carrier, which has been temporarily held up.

The United States also expects the British to urge a conference to discuss freedom of the seas, as a condition precedent to the discussion of armaments.

With the signing of the reparations agreement the president, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Secretary of State Stimson are particularly concerned over the extent to which this country will be called upon to participate in the absorption of securities. A definite policy will await a personal report to the president from the American experts on the reparations commission.

The prohibition question was reviewed in brief. The president detailed his message to congress in which he urged a joint commission to study the transfer of prohibition enforcement from the treasury to the justice departments and progressed being made by his special commission on law enforcement and the study of crime.

Teacher Killed When Car Hits 'Hitch Hiker'

SALEM, Ohio, June 7. (INS)—William Harley, teacher in the Mt. Pleasant, Pa., High school, was killed on the highway near Damascus last night when he was hit by an automobile driven by Alex Weigenecker, who brought the injured man to a hospital here where he died. Harley was "hitch-hiking" to Chicago. Weigenecker said he was blinded by the lights of another approaching automobile and ran into the teacher. The Mahoning county coroner is investigating today.

California Protests 'Wide Open Border'

WASHINGTON, June 7. (INS)—A strong protest against the reported request of Mexicans for a "wide open border" at Tia Juana and Mexicali, Mexican gambling and resort towns, was delivered to Secretary of State Stimson today by Representative Swing, Republican of California. He has an appointment with President Hoover Monday on the same subject.

The California-Mexico border between the resorts is now closed at 6 p. m. at Tia Juana and 9 p. m. at Mexicali.

The Mexican ambassador, it is understood, has asked the state department why the border at these places is not kept open 24 hours a day, as at other points and on the Canadian line.

She Builds Fire Under Beau to Evict Him

LOS ANGELES, June 7. (US)—When her boy friend refused to get up and go home, Mrs. Eva M. Wheat built a fire under him.

As a result she was in the county jail today charged with arson.

According to Mrs. Wheat, who runs a rooming house, one of her gentlemen friends called on her Wednesday night and then committed the social error of going to sleep on the davenport. When it came time for him to go home she attempted to rouse him and failed.

She decided to use strenuous measures and, setting fire to a newspaper, shoved it under the davenport.

The flames caught other papers on the floor and soon the room was filled with a merry blaze. Neighbors called police. By the time the officers and the fire department had arrived the gentleman friend had awakened, put the flames out and was preparing to go home.

We Women

By BETTY BRAINERD

Once Upon a Time

Nowadays—what with pasteurized milk, anti-toxins, psycho-analysis and play-schools—more advanced parents tend to think with self-pity of their own childhood and of the unenlightened upbringing they received.

How, the more rabid of them wonder, did the race manage to survive an era which regarded illness and insanity as dispensations of Providence, in which only the most elemental ideas of sanitation prevailed, and education too often consisted of a knowledge of Greek verbs and too seldom of a knowledge of the human body, mind and emotions?

The modern parents look at their little Willies, Bobbies, Janes and Marys, nourished on bottled sunshine and carefully calculated calories, and their souls are filled with complacency at the thought that their children may benefit by a great scientific inheritance.

It is natural for parents to look back and deplore the shortcomings of their youth when times were more casual and easygoing.

But—Willie and Bobby and Jane and Mary—1929 models—have missed much, much as they have gained.

They have missed a great deal of the poetry of life so lavishly and unconsciously showered upon their forebears of 1880. They have missed the lamplight and the crackle of woodfires and the lullabys sung by a mother in a low rocking-chair. And they've missed the great thrill of "Once Upon a Time."

For modern parents have discovered that all the ancient fairy-tales with their talk of witches, Prince Charmings, dragons and cruel stepmothers are harmful to infant minds.

To take their place we have the Bedtime Story croaked by a loudspeaker in the living room.

Cinderella and Goldilocks, the Beast who loved Beauty, have crept away, forgotten. And in their stead our babies lisp of Corpuscles and Complexes.

And our babies, grown up, will tell their babies a strange story. How once upon a time the earth was inhabited by an extraordinary race of pathological subjects who believed in various scientifically undemonstrable phenomena. And their babies will stammer excitedly, "N-no! Mama!"

And all strange and far-off things will be put under the microscope of rationality—and that is a thing perhaps as fantastic but not as beautiful as all the land and talk of make-believe.

Betty Brainerd will be glad to help her readers with their problems. Send a self addressed stamped envelope to her in care of this paper.

Lodie Pitman, seven-year-old son of a mountaineer miner near Asheville, N. C., never has been to school but can read the newspapers and the Bible. His grandmother taught him.

DIX ADVISES MEEK HUSBAND

Dorothy Tells How to Curb Extravagance

How Can a Meek Husband Curb His Wife's Extravagance?—Present-Day Status of the Old Maid—When Is It ... to Change Jobs?

Dear Miss Dix—I am a traveling salesman. Have a fine position and am next in line for promotion, but my wife wants me to quit and do something else. She wants a home and a car, but I am not able to give her these things just now. I am unable to save anything because of the way she spends. We have one child, but she complains of the trouble of taking care of it. She doesn't want to keep house and she lives in a boarding house so she won't have a thing to do but look sweet.

When I return home over weekends I am told of all baby's bad habits and what a terrible time she has had looking after him. Then she has seen dresses, shoes, hats that she wants, yet I have not spent a dime for clothes for the last year and am beginning to look like a tramp.

She doesn't seem to understand that I can't afford certain things and I haven't the nerve to tell her. What can I do? —T. E. D.

Answer: Brace up and try to act like a man instead of a mouse. You are a coward, without the spunk to make your wife behave herself, and she knows it and takes advantage of it.

In her heart of hearts she has a contempt for you for it, and some of these fine days she is going to decide that you don't make enough money to suit her and that you are not much of a man, anyway, and she will divorce you on some pretext or other and marry some other man who offers her a better make of car than you can give her.

Don't deceive yourself for a moment by thinking that you are making your wife love you by being so good to her in indulging her in the things you can't afford and that she thinks how sweet and self-sacrificing you are to wear patched shoes so that she can have a 47th pair of embroidered sandals. She isn't reacting that way to your unselfishness. She is thinking what a poor sap you are to let her work you. And the first time she will ever have any real respect for you will be when you read the riot act to her and make her begin shouldering her end of the matrimonial bargain.

You can spoil a wife in the same way you can a child, and it works out in just the same way. Did you ever see a child that was pampered and indulged that was contented and happy? You never did. It is always pevish and fretful and restless, wanting something it can't get.

That is the way with a spoiled woman. Take away all work from a woman. Put her in a hotel or a boarding house or give her half a dozen servants so she has nothing to do but amuse herself. Give her an unlimited shopping ticket and you will make her neurotic and disgruntled and miserable.

Who are the women who are always deciding that their hard-worked husbands are not their affinities and that some other men are their soul mates? Who are the women who fill the doctors' offices and sanitariums? Who are the women who run off after every fake religion and new cult? They are the morbid, discontented, disgruntled, idle women whose foolish husbands thought they were being kind to them in giving them nothing to do.

And who are the happy, healthy, contented women? Every time they are the busy, hard-working women. The women who earn their own livings. The women who cook and sew and scrub and wash and rear half a dozen children.

The reason for it is obvious. We can't be happy unless we have our self-respect, and no woman can respect herself when she knows that she is not doing her part in life, that she is cheating on her husband and her children. And no utterly selfish person is every happy because his desires are insatiable. He wouldn't have as much as he wanted if he had the whole world.

You have made a frightfully bad start with your wife, brother, but if you are ever to have any happiness you must retrace the steps you have taken. In the first place you must refuse to let your wife boss you. Don't give up the good job you have because of her whim. Stick to the work you have fitted yourself to do and stay with the firm in which you have a good chance for promotion.

Then yank your wife out of that boarding house and put her to work in a home. If she had something to do to keep her busy, she wouldn't have so much time to look around the stores and see how much finery she wanted. And then make her a definite allowance and make her live within it. Refuse to let her run you in debt.

Of course, she will weep her eyes out and have hysterics, but she will know that you are right and that you are asking nothing more of her than she should give.

And man who lets a wife ruin him with her extravagance is a weakling and a fool. And it gets him nowhere, even with her. Did you ever know of a woman who stuck to the man she had ruined?

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—Isn't this world modern enough to accept the fact that some girls choose to remain unmarried? Why must people think it is because we lack beauty, brains, personality or what-have-you? Are our families and friends being quite fair in so judging us? I don't like housework. I hate cooking, but I do like business. It takes character and sense to hold down a good position, and yet if I don't marry my family and friends will think there is something wrong with my get-up. What do you think of us, the bachelor maids from choice?

—A GIRL WHO IS NOT INTERESTED IN BOYS.

Answer: I think that whether a girl marries or stays single is absolutely and entirely her own affair and that it is nobody else's business. Also, I think that she has quite as good, if not a better, chance of leading a full, happy and interested life as if she had married.

Nobody will deny that an ideal marriage is indeed the holy estate in which men and women are happiest. But ideal marriages are about as rare as hen's teeth and the average marriage offers no prospect so alluring that it justifies a girl in grabbing the first man who comes her way on the theory that a bad husband is better than none at all.

In the olden days, when every door of opportunity was shut in a woman's face and she had no chance of making a living except by doing the most menial work and when a woman had to be chaperoned until she was 80 years old if she was single and her only road to any liberty was through the matrimonial gates, it was obvious that every woman would marry if she possibly could and that if she didn't marry it was because she was so unattractive that neither by hook nor crook could she catch a husband.

But all of that is changed. Women can support themselves now quite as well as the average husband can do it. They have just as much freedom as a man and can go and come as they please. So the stigma has been removed from the old maid.

Nobody is foolish enough nowadays to think that the reason a woman doesn't marry is because she couldn't. They know it is because she doesn't want to. Because she prefers certain single blessedness to a chance of possible wedded wretchedness. Because she likes office work better than kitchen work. Because the man of her ideal never came by and she would not lower her standards.

Nobody looks down on an old maid. On the contrary, among the most sought-after women in society are unmarried women who are well dressed, well educated, who keep up with the times and who are genial and kindly and companionable.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—Do you think it advisable to change positions when you have no fault to find with your present position except that you have been there a number of years and things have got rather monotonous and the work has become more or less mechanical?

—LILIAN.

Answer: It is only advisable to change positions when you find that you have gone into the wrong sort of work, something for which you are not adapted and which is uncongenial to you. We only do good work when we do work that we like and in which we find pleasure. It is a bad thing to change your position often, because it makes employers feel that you are unsteady and not to be relied upon.

But why let your work get monotonous? Why not put pep in it by studying it and trying to become an expert in your line? Personally, I can't imagine any work becoming dull to me. I would always be on my tip toes trying to see it in a new light and get another angle on it and attempting to do it better.

Mary Martha Class Of First Baptist Has Lovely Party

Groups four and five of the Mary Martha Sunday school class of the First Baptist church were entertained Friday with a lovely luncheon by the leaders of the groups, Mesdames H. E. Man and Joe McBee, at the home of Mrs. Robt. Carswell, 1606 Elisabeth street.

The house was profusely decorated with flowers of all hues, and the dining room was particularly lovely with the table laid with an Italian cutwork cloth over pink, and an enormous center of pink and orchid sweet peas.

After the luncheon, an informally pleasant afternoon was spent with games and contests. Several prizes were given.

Covers were laid for Mesdames Jerry Schaefer, O. K. West, T. F. West, J. E. Shaw, B. V. Martin, W. E. Floyd, C. M. Duncan, L. E. Hudgens, M. C. Vanston, T. M. Savage, Harris Roberts, Joe Catter, Fred Morris, Robert Carswell and the hostesses, Mesdames Man and McBee.

Oh, These Women

By LEOLA ALLARD

NEW YORK, June 7. (US)—She was very little and just "free years old."

She was leaning on her chair, watching her mother eat a delectable chocolate pudding, covered with whipped cream and with cherries here and there.

"If you'll dive me jes a lil bite," said the child, "I'll do to bed."

"No," said the mother firmly and bit unsympathetically.

"Jes a tiny bite?"

"No, and go away and don't bother me. You have had your dinner."

"But I didn't have choc-late pudding!"

"Go away now."

The mother looked the other way and the child took the pudding, turned it upside down and dropped it on the table. Glass and pudding flew in several directions. Then she walked quietly away.

Nobody ate any chocolate pudding, but somebody got spanked and put to bed.

I've often wondered what male hairdressers had that other men didn't have that permitted them to be hairdressers.

Yesterday one of them was water-waving dexterously. Thinking to see if he had another expression the lady he was waving told him the story which I told you the other day about the Scotchman, Irishman and American who were having a party, each to bring something. The Irishman brought whisky, the American gin, and the Scotchman brought his brother.

The hairdresser smiled and said: "Isn't it funny, they always make jokes about whisky?"

So it's not what they have that makes them different.

The best argument offered for giving them the vote was that women would clean up politics. It merely increased the number of white collar men and the laundry bills grew bigger.

"It's so easy to get along with women," said the grocery clerk. All you have to do is to let them have their own way.

A lady calling upon her mother held a tiny silky haired poodle close to her nice new coat. Lulu Nethaway, the little girl in Wahoo, Neb., looked at the dog—she was a little girl then, and said to her mother's caller: "What a nice baby. It looks exactly like you, Mrs. Jones!"

ESME ALONE ON WATER WAGON

Other Diplomats to Keep Liquor Flowing

WASHINGTON, June 7. (INS)—Very few—if any—of the foreign embassies and legations in Washington plan to follow the British example of "going dry," it developed today.

A day of diligent inquiry among the diplomats found virtually no support for the position taken by Sir Esme Howard that he would not request permission from the state department to import wines and liquors.

A very few of the diplomats for some time have generally refrained from serving liquor at big, official functions.

Carlos Davila, the Chilean ambassador, served no liquors at the formal dinner given for Vice President Curtis and his sister, Mrs. "Dolly" Gann—the dinner that settled the momentous question of where Mrs. Gann was to sit at diplomatic functions.

However, all the embassies and legations serve liquor at private affairs, and it was said today that this custom will not be abandoned even by the British.

Whether the few that have discontinued serving liquor at large formal functions did so out of respect for volsteadism, or out of respect for the capacity of some of the American guests, is not apparent. A large dinner can consume considerable liquor. At one such recently, given by a Latin-American diplomat, 20 cases of champagne were used, in addition to other liquors.

Not all of the diplomats and attaches in Washington are wealthy men. Some of them are in quite modest circumstances, and liquor costs money, even abroad.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the Methodist board of temperance, prohibition and public morales, commenting upon Secretary of State Stimson's statement that no pressure is being exerted on the diplomats to "go dry," declared that "if Secretary Stimson opposes embassies going dry he will find himself in an embarrassing position."

Cristero and Federal Troops Hold Battle

MEXICO CITY, June 7. (UP)—Mexican federal troops and rebel cristeros were fighting today in the mountains of Jalisco where the insurrectionists were driven after a defeat at Lavilla.

CONTRACTOR SAYS IT HAS FILLED HIM WITH NEW ENERGY

"Sargon did such a good job reconditioning and strengthening my whole system that I'm in better shape today than I've been in years.

"Five years ago I had a bad spell of illness that left me in a terrible condition. I was so weak and run down, I couldn't do a day's work.

J. B. JOHNSON

My entire system was full of poison and I kept going down all the time. I took all kinds of medicine and treatments, but just couldn't seem to get my strength back.

"A friend of mine kept after me to give this new Sargon treatment a chance to restore my health. Sargon had completely overcome his troubles, and he said he didn't see any reason why it shouldn't do the same for me, so I finally began taking it.

"I'm ready to say now that Sargon is the finest medicine I ever took in my life and it has made me a well man! It cleared my system of poisons and built up my strength and energy to where I can do as much work as any man of my age. It's a real pleasure to be able to stay on the job all day and then, in the evening, hustle along home feeling great, instead of being all tired out like I used to.

"Sargon Soft Mass Pills keep you regulated perfectly and are an important part of the treatment.

"I've even persuaded my wife to start taking Sargon and it has already done her worlds of good. We recommend this fine medicine to all our friends and are more than glad to pass the good word along.

The above straightforward statement was made recently by J. B. Johnson, well known contractor, who lives at 2015 Denney Road, Fort Worth, and is highly regarded by his friends and neighbors.

Sargon may be obtained in Wichita Falls by the Renfro Drug Co., Eighth and Scott streets, No. 1 main store, and Seventh and Indiana, No. 2; in Electra from Lough's Drug store; and in Burkburnett from Burkburnett Pharmacy.—Adv.

Stresemann Insists On Evacuation of Rhine

PARIS, June 7. (INS)—The delegates completed signing at 6:05 o'clock.

As the signing progressed an orchestra in an adjoining tea room struck up:

"I Can't Give Anything but Love, Baby," and everyone laughed.

PARIS, June 7. (INS)—The reparation totals owed by Germany to the nations who were victorious in the world war, and the debts of the allied nations to the United States were lumped together in indistinguishable totals in the experts' report on reparations which was signed late this afternoon at the Hotel George V.

The report proper comprises approximately 18,000 words, to which is added an annex on the report. A special memorandum attached to the report explains how Germany, as the chief debtor nation, may obtain the benefits of any leniency on the part of the United States in the matter of war debts.

The experts' report accepts the offer by the United States government to forego collection of the final 10 per cent of the cost of the American army of occupation in Germany, the balance being payable over a period of 37 years. The American-German mixed claims, according to the report, are payable over a period of 57 years.

The report explains that the experts have attempted to substitute peace psychology for war psychology, and to convert Germany's political debt into a commercial debt, in so far as is possible, probably by abolishing the existing controls system set up under the Dawes plan, and substituting the international bank of payments.

'LAME DUCK' BILL ADOPTED

Measure to Abolish Short Session Voted Again

WASHINGTON, June 7. (INS)—The "lame duck" amendment to the constitution abolishing the short sessions of congress was adopted for the fifth time by the senate today and sent on its way to the house. Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, is its author.

The bill would eliminate sessions in which many senators who have been voted out of office remain in service for three months by changing the termination of service of the president and vice president and the date of starting congress.

Under the amendment which takes a two-thirds vote for enactment, congress would assemble Jan. 2, and presidential and vice presidential terms would expire on Jan. 15.

Three times the amendment has been adopted by the senate only to fail of action in the house. Again it was adopted by the senate but the house failed to vote two-thirds for its adoption.

The vote was 64 for adoption and 9 against. Those who voted against the measure were Senators, Bingham, Dale, Greene, Hastings, Metcalf, Patterson and Waters, Republicans, and Blease and King, Democrats.

Paroled Youth And Wife Held in Jail

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 7. (INS)—Julian Howard Hopkins, 22, Huntington youth, who recently was paroled from a Pennsylvania state reformatory, is being held in jail here today charged specifically with complicity in the burglary of two dry cleaning establishments here.

His wife, Pearl, 20, is also being held. Considerable speculation was aroused because of their arrest. The chief of detectives here said Hopkins was wanted in Scranton, Pa., for questioning on a "big job," but refused to elaborate on his statement.

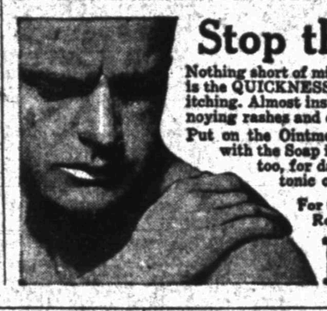

Police refused to allow newspapermen to see either Hopkins or his pretty wife.

It is understood here that Hopkins was implicated in a plot to blow up a large Scranton silk mill. He will not be returned to Pennsylvania, it was said, but will be tried here on the burglary charges.

The Crime of Stupidity

EIGHTY feet under the surface of the Hackensack river, in New Jersey, a dozen men were working in a high-pressure caisson laying the foundations for a bridge.

Something went wrong with the machinery and the air pressure went down. The men had known when they went to work that there might be trouble. The men they had relieved told them that a valve somewhere was leaking, betraying itself by a soft, insistent sizzling sound. So the men worked with a dull foreboding of disaster.

Presently the disaster came. The air pressure got too low. Into the caisson poured tons of soft, gummy mud and silt from the river bottom, trapping the workers horribly.

Hours later relief workers got to them. Six were dead, and five more had to be taken to hospitals. Now three or four investigations are under way to discover why it all happened.

Little stories like that aren't uncommon these days. We can't do anything, from building a bridge to laying a water main, without calling a lot of complicated and expensive machinery into play; and nearly always this machinery is of a kind that can bring disaster if anything goes wrong.

That, probably, is the inevitable penalty we pay for having such an intricate civilization. We are forever inventing machines to help us in our work, but unfortunately we are not always quite up to our inventions. Whenever a machine passes into the control of a man who is careless, inattentive or stupid, there is apt to be trouble.

In the old days a man had to have a certain amount of malice in order to let loose a catastrophe on his fellows. Now he can do far more damage simply by being negligent. Carelessness can be the greatest crime in this era of machinery.

All of this, of course, is just another way of saying that we have not yet got the training, the experience or the general knowledge to handle our machines properly. Engineers have a way of speaking of "man power failure" in explaining accidents. The phrase is significant. We fail our machines oftener than our machines fail us.

And this, in turn, means that stupidity and incompetence are the greatest perils that we can possibly face. Nothing else can do us so much harm.

The age of machinery has brought and is bringing incalculable benefits. In a dozen ways it is setting us free. It is making possible the dawning of a new era.

But we haven't quite mastered it yet. If we don't succeed in doing so, it may turn out to be a fearful curse instead of a blessing.

Good News for Anglers

AMERICAN anglers will be gratified to know that the departments of the interior and commerce have made an agreement whereby a fish culturist from the latter department will see to it that the streams and lakes of our national parks are kept full of fish.

In most parks the fishing is good enough already. But the presence of the government expert means that it will stay that way. Streams and lakes will not be allowed to become depleted. In some cases new varieties of fish can be introduced; in others, the stocks that are already present will be increased.

All in all, it looks pretty nice for the angler. The great sport of fishing is going to be preserved—as far as our national parks go, anyway.

Finding Out About Steel

THE first steel skyscraper ever built is now being torn down in Chicago. Put up in 1887, it is now out of date, and is being removed so that a bigger structure can take its place.

Experts from the American Institute of Steel Construction are watching the demolition with great interest. For years there has been considerable discussion about the way a building's steel framework will endure the changes wrought by passing years. Some experts have thought one thing, some another; no one has been quite certain.

Now, however, they are going to get a chance to find out. Steel from this pioneer skyscraper will be put through all kinds of tests, so that the experts can tell definitely just what, if anything, has happened to it. The new knowledge thus gained will prove of great value in future steel construction work.

It Is Watermelon Time

THIS is news "that is news." Watermelon time is here. Advices from the watermelon sections of Texas indicate that rains are not expected by the experts to affect the Texas watermelon crop. Growers of the Texas watermelon dominate the Texas market. That is, they sell millions of melons to home buyers and supply the home market. In Texas the per capita consumption of watermelons is almost staggering to the mind.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, June 7.—The president of the Princeton club is a Harvard graduater. A newspaper in New York is conducting a "better lawns and garden contest.

Jim Tully, the writer, and his wife, were in town last week, prior to sailing for Europe. One of the ways Mr. Tully got rich was by writing about how poor he was.

The legal lineups in the imminent battle between the Book-of-the-Month club and Mr. Macrae of Lutton's sound like a couple of football teams. For the glory of Macrae, the opposing team consists of Root, Clark, Buckner, Howland and Ballantine.

Strange, indeed was the death of Charles E. Snyder, head keeper of reptiles in the New York Zoological gardens. Snakes, he once said, were the gentlest of creatures, and he should have known, having devoted much of his life to a study and care of them.

But while out catching a few rattlers in the Ramapos, one snake sank its fangs into his thumb, and Snyder died.

In the Ramapos and the Catskills, not far from New York, there may be found not only rattle snakes but a few specie of wild animal life. Photographers have discovered and photographed bears, wildcats, foxes and wild birds rarely seen in this section of the country.

If anybody thinks the city of New York is conceited about its greatness as a metropolis there's another think coming. A conceited man feels that the world should know about his greatness without boasting about it.

Yet the merchants association of New York has issued a booklet, to be broadcast throughout the nation, setting forth the facts of the city's greatness. Some of the facts show that in this city a baby is born every four minutes and six seconds, 14 couples get married every hour, 3,800,000 tons of food are consumed in a year, not to mention 2,659,682 quarts of milk and 7,000,000 eggs daily; more than 190 persons pick up the telephone receiver every second; there are 5,233,000 telephone calls made a day and there are in the city $288,000,000 worth of churches showing how religious we are, or how rich we are. I don't know which.

Once in a while the newspaper boys about town want to know how to pronounce a name. They call up Sam McFarland, chairman of the house committee of the Newspaper club, and he helps them out. He has made it his business to know how to pronounce the difficult names of notables.

Here are a few examples of correct pronunciation:

Hilaire Belloc, first name pronounced Ben'ny; Heywood Broun, rhymes with spoon for no reason at all; Karel Capek, Chop'ek, accent first syllable; Walter De La Mare, rhymes with stair and stresses like Delaware; Lostoievsky, Law staw yev 'skee, with accent on "yev"; St. John Ervine, Sin jun Ervyne, with accent on "sin" and "er" (no joke intended there); Arthur Guiterman, Geeterman, with hard g; Don Marquis, Mar' kwis, though a lot of people think the last name should be pronounced Markee; Michael Pupin, Pu-peen, accent on last syllable.

They say that one of the best preserved and least altered of the century-old houses of New York is in the West 22nd street in old Chelsea. It was built in 1827 by an English cotton manufacturer named Gargill on a lot purchased from Dr. Clement C. Moore, author of "Twas the Night Before Christmas."

In this home gathered at various times the literary, social and stage celebrities of the time. William Cullen Bryant, Parke Goodwin, N. P. Willis were among the famous to enjoy hospitality in the place. Mrs. Edwin Forrester, when hostess, smoked "little white segars," presumably cigarets—before the days of blindfold tests and such.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

MR. TWITCHELL ON IMPROVING PUBLIC PARKS

PHILLIPS

Mr. Elmer Twitchell today came out warmly in favor of what he called the "biddle-ing" of New York City's Central Park. "All this criticism of the city officials for allowing the Casino to be operated as a de luxe lounging place for the best people is the bunk," declared Mr. Twitchell. "The whole trouble with our parks today is that they are not exclusive enough. Anybody can get in."

"Walk through any park today and what do you see?" demanded Mr. Twitchell. "A lot of ordinary people, that's what; people of the sort you could meet in the subway, on a trolley car or any other old place. Central Park in particular is fairly teeming with persons who have no social position. Probably nine out of every 10 people you meet on park benches cannot trace their ancestry back to the Mayflower. I spent an entire afternoon this week rowing in the park lake without bumping a single boat occupied by a Daughter of the American Revolution!

"It is high time Mayor Walker and Park Commissioner Herrick took firm steps to make Central Park the sort of place a discriminating citizen would care to frequent. The new Biddle casino is a step in the right direction, but it is merely a step. The park will never be what it should be until it is made more exclusive from end to end. The way to do this is to post attendants at all the entrances and keep out undesirables.

"A charge should be made for seats on park benches. At present they are always crowded and you can never sit on one with the assurance you will be sitting with somebody of influence and position. I favor leasing benches in the best locations to bench-holders just as boxes at the opera are leased to box-holders. The others could be let out at $15 or $20 a day. You would be surprised to see what a difference this would make in the class of people sleeping on our park benches.

"The situation with regard to rowing on Central Park lake is disgraceful. All you have to do to get a rowboat is to ask for it. The attendant doesn't take your name or make the slightest inquiry into your ancestry. This means that anybody can go rowing. It is heartbreaking.

"I am writing to Mayor Walker urging that the boathouse be renovated by Urban and that all the boats be upholstered in green velour. I would let only the really worth while people have a rowboat.

"Conditions on the bridle-path are very bad. People are allowed to ride without any references. There have been complaints from the horses in some cases. And look at the people you see feeding pigeons and squirrels! In most cases they are mere nobodies."

Here Mr. Twitchell broke down and sobbed softly. "Is that fair to the pigeons?" he cried. "Is it fair to the squirrels?"

OF COURSE YOU KNOW IT

Show the children how to like vegetables

The appetizing wonder of a dash of sugar added to the water while cooking

A NEW way has been discovered by four famous cooking authorities to help children like the healthful vegetables. "Children as a rule," say these experts, "do not like vegetables. Especially carrots and spinach, so rich in vitamins and so healthful. A dash of granulated sugar added to the water in which these vegetables are cooked, makes an entirely different and more appealing thing of them."

These experts point out that the addition of sugar in correct amounts, and the use of only a little water in cooking, enhances and develops the piquant vegetable flavors. Sugar adds a freshness of flavor both to vegetables that are slightly wilted and to canned vegetables, and it increases the food value of the vegetables. Just try these two new recipes and notice what a difference in flavor the sugar makes.

BUTTERED CARROTS—Cook five or six medium-size carrots tender in boiling water to which a dash of sugar has been added. Slice and reheat in a pan with 2 teaspoons of butter, 1 level tablespoon sugar, pepper and salt. Let the carrots simmer 10 minutes in this butter dressing.

The wonderful thing about sugar as a flavorer is that it makes food so tasteful and delicious that children and adults will eat enough. Use a dash of sugar in cooking most vegetables, fruits and meats. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute. (Adv.)

APPROPRIATION BILL SLASHED

Senate Carves Funds To Lower Total

AUSTIN, June 7. (AP)—The senate had reduced the $12,793,696 departmental appropriation bill by $18,240 when it knocked off until Monday at noon day. Items totaling $51,000 were cut out and $33,760 put in.

Many of the larger departments, such as highway, education, land office, game commission, insurance commission, prison system and railroad commission, were yet to be considered.

Today's amendments cut the salary of the state health officer from $6,000 back to $4,500, the amount at present. It was discovered his salary is fixed by statute and cannot be altered. The $2,500 item for the board of health and expenses was cut to $1,500 annually and the chief clerk and accountant was cut from $2,400 to $2,000.

Sen. Margie Neal lost her amendment to give the bureau of child hygiene section $2,000 in stamps each year of the biennium. Sen. A. J. Wirtz of Seguin and others pointed out that an allowance of $6,000 each year for stamps had been given the whole department and that in addition to this there was another item of "postage and expense" for $1,000 annually.

Allowances for six field inspectors for the bureau of food and drugs was reduced from $12,600 to $10,800 annually. Salary of the director of hygiene laboratories was cut from $4,000 to $4,500. The salary of the director of bureau of child hygiene was increased from $3,600 to $4,000 and a secretary with a salary of $1,800 annually added. Allowance for traveling expenses for the bureau of labor statistics was cut from $12,000 to $10,000 annually.

FIREPROOF FLOORS FOR INSANE ASYLUM

AUSTIN, June 7. (AP)—Fireproof floors for the Terrell State hospital for insane were provided today by the house through adoption of an amendment by Rep. T. R. Bond, Terrell, to the eleemosynary bill calling for an expenditure of $33,500 in 1930.

Granting of today's appropriation brought aid to the Terrell hospital for 1930 to $516,320 and for the next year to $492,820.

In addition, the house voted to give $1,500 to the Rusk State hospital for purchase of additional land in 1930.

TOBACCO TAX BEFORE COMMITTEE

AUSTIN, June 7. (AP)—The house committee on revenue and taxation had before it for consideration today a bill by Rep. James W. Harper, Mount Pleasant pastor, imposing a state occupation tax on tobacco.

Cigars sold at retail for not more than five cents would be subject to a tax of $5 per 1,000. Higher priced cigars would be assessed on a graduating scale.

COMMITTEE REJECTS UTILITIES BILL

AUSTIN, June 7. (AP)—The senate state affairs committee today rejected the bill by Sen. Walter C. Woodward proposing regulation of public utilities. The vote was 7 to 4.

In an address before a joint session of the legislature Tuesday Governor Moody urged rigid regulation of utilities.

Senator Woodward said he would bring the bill out on a minority report.

The dead: William J. Welch, 28, of Norristown, the pilot and Francis O'Brien, 18, of Conshohocken, the passenger.

Welch was making the concluding trip of a day spent in taking up passengers when the plane went out of control. Welch righted it once but almost immediately it went into a dive and crashed. COULDN'T SLEEP, SO MUCH PAIN

Lady Says She "Hurt Nearly All Over" and "Nerves Were All on Edge."

New Albany, Ind. — "About ten years ago, I was just about rundown," writes Mrs. David Brock, of 1102 West Main St., this city. "My back and limbs ached; in fact, I hurt nearly all over. I had bad, sick headache spells, and my nerves were all to pieces.

"I could not sleep at night; could hardly have any rest at all. I was barely able to get around to do my work. I kept up just because I was a mother with five little children to care for.

"I read about Cardui. I thought it might help me, so I bought a bottle and began to take it.

"It was such a benefit to my health. By the time I had taken the first bottle, I felt so much better. My husband insisted on me giving Cardui a fair trial, so I kept on until I had taken several bottles, and at last found myself a well woman."

Thousands of other women, who had been in a run-down, suffering condition, have reported that after taking Cardui they recovered good health. Get a bottle, today.

Bill Williams Discourses On 'Ascending'

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 7. (UP)—Be a snob if you would get up in the world, is the advice of a man who has ascended—not through the pull of balloon gas or airplane motor—but through push. And he has rolled a peanut ahead of him with his nose all the way.

Bill Williams, master professional ascender from Rio Hondo, Texas, adds that although a lot of educators and others in the country, some of whom never have been higher above sea level than the observatory in the Woolworth building, where they rode by lift, are denouncing a Boston professor for advising his graduating class to hold their noses high in order to "secure a sure cinch on success," "The Prof" is right.

"Where would I be today, Frinstance, had I not lifted by nose higher than the Texas prairie country where I worked as a plasterer?" asked Bill as he autographed another peanut for a tourist.

"There are too many plasterers in the country now," he went on. "My wife found that out and she made up our mind that I ought to get snobbish. I did. I stuck my nose up in the air and left Rio Hondo."

And here, you find Bill Williams at an altitude of 13,000 feet. Now, who's right—Bill Williams and "Prof." Rogers, or the rest of 'em that advise mingling with the mob?

Williams, who has propelled peanuts up 18.6 of the scheduled 22 miles of the present push to the peak, and has until Monday night to attain the desired height in 22 days. Also, like the Bostonian, advises marrying the daughter of the boss instead of his stenographer, as part of his success system.

"From what I read in the papers you're not nearly so likely to make the boss sore if you do that," he explained.

The Best theater was partially destroyed and the old Union church was blown from its foundation. The new residence of H. A. Although very little rain fell in Olton proper, the wheat crop in a large area north of town was destroyed by a heavy downpour. Practically every windmill in this immediate vicinity was blown down.

LARGE PART OF PLAINS SUFFER

LUBBOCK, Texas, June 7. (UP)—With two persons killed, seven injured, and property damage running into thousands of dollars, residents of the South Plains region today were occupied in cleaning up the debris resulting from the severe wind, rain and hail storm which swooped down on the lower Panhandle late last night.

Houses were demolished, windmills blown down, and thousands of acres of crops were either pounded into the ground by the hail or uprooted by the high winds. The farming communities of Flagg, Running Water and Olton suffered most from the disturbances.

J. S. Snipes, Running Water, and S. A. Cassaday, of Flagg, were killed. Several persons, including the wife and three children of Snipes, were injured, none very seriously.

The tornado blew six houses away at Flagg and a number of automobiles were tossed about at various points.

The town of Lockney, in Floyd county, reported hail stones as large as baseballs in its vicinity, and considerable damage to crops and property. A number of windmills were blown down.

Wade took over the reins from Whaley and retained the entire staff personnel of the organization intact continuing the work of the chamber without a jar. The growth of the organization which developed from a small nucleus in 1918 until it attained the proportions of the largest regional chamber of commerce in America, has been continued under Wade's administration.

The oil and gas bureau with headquarters in Wichita Falls was added to the organization and other departments were expanded. The membership is at present at its greatest strength in the entire history of the organization and its influence and power has become statewide. Its greatest demonstration of strength was recently shown in the case of the river bed validation bill introduced by Sen. C. C. Wade's outstanding work has been in a legislative capacity. POWER PROBE CALLED ABUSE

Electric Light Association Ends Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 7. (UNS)—The convention of the National Electric Light association came to a close here today after Bernard F. Wendeck, a New York attorney, told the assembled delegates that there was no cause for the abuse that has been heaped upon the power industry because of the revelations concerning its publicity campaign and the purchase of newspapers by the International Paper company.

Wendeck also declared that the senator who started the investigation into the publicity practices of utility corporations and had introduced into the senate a resolution calling for a probe of all mergers involving a capital of $20,000,000 or more than had been made in the last five years.

"This investigation," Wendeck said, "will cost the companies and public millions."

He added that the public would find that the power interests had been guilty of no wrong doing when the investigation of the pamphlet written by S. S. Wyer and published through the Smithsonian institution had been concluded.

County Court to Hear Dairy Petition Monday

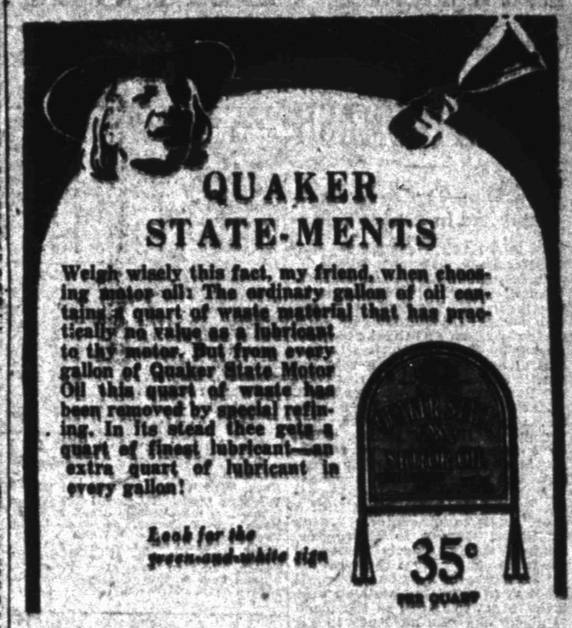

Members of a committee of bankers and dairymen, headed by Luke McCrary, will appear before the county commissioners court Monday afternoon in behalf of the employment of a dairy expert for Wichita county, John F. Marrs, county judge, announced Friday afternoon.

The committee was appointed by the Wichita county bankers association after the enactment of a new law, empowering the commissioners to appropriate not more than $1,000 to such use. Leaders in the movement indicate that they will ask the county to go into the work on a smaller scale, but the bankers association has made known its willingness to offer financial backing to any development in the dairy industry in the county which might follow the adoption of the plan.

LAPAN BATS AND WILTSE PITCHES SPUDDERS TO 4 TO 3 WIN

FITZ HAMMERS CIRCUIT SMASH

Jim's Men Cop 3 Straight, And 2nd in Last Inning

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

Our Spudders have resumed their winning ways. A last-inning rally, the second in consecutive games, was launched yesterday by Jim Galloway's men and thanks to great hitting by Pete Lapan, it was successful and the Spudders won the fourth contest and the series from the Panthers. The score was 4 to 3.

Harold Wiltse bested Dick Whitworth in a pitchers' battle, due mainly to Lapan's hitting, aided by a home run by Howard Fitzgerald and the southpaw's own batting, and some glittering support.

With the score 3-all, Bud Stapleton opened the home ninth with a short single to left-center. Swenson sacrificed, Grimes to Harrington. Sullivan was purposely passed to get to Lapan. Perhaps that was the logical move, for Pete had delivered twice previously. But walking anybody to get to Lapan in the pinch is about like passing Ruth to get to Gehrig. Well, anyhow, Pete smashed one of Dick Whitworth's high fast ones to deep left center for two bases and Stapleton sped home with the winning run.

Lapan's Great Day

It was Lapan's third hit and second double of the pastime. In addition to driving in the winning tally Pete also scored a run, when Wiltse smashed a single. Fitzgerald's homer accounted for the other score.

Only two of the Cats' three runs were earned, and Wiltse deserved the decision, as he shaded Whitworth in their duel. Although both clubs hammered eight hits each, the smacks of the homelings were harder hit and more opportune. Wiltse passed only one run and was master of the situation at all times except in the second when two hits netted a run and the sixth when three blows scored a tally.

Benton, starry shortstop, out several days with an injured toe, was back in the lineup and the infield play of the Spudders was noticeably more snappy, with that superkeystone combination of Pete and Rabbit functioning with usual machine-like precision.

Fast Defensive Work

Stapleton gathered some wild tosses in from the dirt, Swenson also flashed some fast infielding, despite an error that allowed a run, and Fitzgerald roamed far in the gardens.

Joe Bonowitz was the Cat batting leader, driving home both earned runs with two hits. Benton and Rensa, with Lapan, were the only other athletes to get two hits, or more.

Panthers Score in Second

Grimes doubled to left and scored on Bonowitz' hit to the same territory for a run for the Panthers in the second but Turgeon and Benton completed a double play that helped prevent further scoring.

The Spudder battery tied the score in the third. Lapan doubled to center for the first Spudder hit, after the preceding seven locals had been retired in order, and scored on Wiltse's single to center.

Bennett opened the fourth with a single to center, advanced to third on infield outs by Stapleton and Swenson, and tallied on Sullivan's hit to left, to give the Spudders the lead, 2-1.

Error Lets Cats Tally

An error gave the Panthers a tally in the fifth. Bonowitz led off with a base on balls. Freitag hoisted to Bennett. Stapleton made a fast play on Harrington's grounder to force Bonowitz at second. Rensa beat out a roller to Swenson, and Harrington scored and Rensa went to third on Wally's throw over Stapleton.

The Cats tallied in the sixth. Moore started it with a single through short. Urban sacrificed, Swenson to Stapleton. Cox singled past Turgeon, advancing Moore to third. Swenson threw out Moore at the plate on Grimes' bounder. Bonowitz singled to center, scoring Cox.

Fitzgerald's circuit smash over the left-field wall tied the score in his half.

The Spudders left last night for Fort Worth, where they play one game today before starting a swing around the southern half of the wheel. They do not return home until June 21.

World Record Set In Century Sprint

CHICAGO, June 7. (AP)—Eddie Tolan, sensational negro sprinter from the University of Michigan, and George Simpson of Ohio State, raced to a world's record time of 9:5 seconds in winning their preliminary heats in the 100 yard dash in the National Intercollegiate Athletic association track meet here today.

College Body Sanctions Foot Starting Blocks

CHICAGO, June 7. (UP)—The National Collegiate Track and Field association, at its annual meeting today, voted official sanction to foot starting blocks.

The committee decreed "that athletes be permitted to use rigid wooden foot-blocks without springs that may be quickly placed."

It was decreed also that the use of hand blocks shall not be allowed, and that the use of tenth-second watches should be encouraged.

Record Entry List for Race Here Tomorrow Claimed by Promoters

The largest number of entries ever signed for an event, the largest number of starters ever accepted on a half-mile track, the longest stock car race ever held on a half-mile track are the three main factors in making the 100-mile speed duel of Sunday assume national importance, according to the promoters. The largest crowd to ever attend a race here is expected in view of the unusual advance interest that is being shown.

Wingy Williams, the world's only one-armed driver took the race held last year on Armistice day in a Whippet roadster. Wingy is again entered and determined to duplicate his win in a decisive manner. His physical handicap does not in any way affect the speed which he gets from his mount nor does it handicap him in getting around the curves. He will drive a new car tomorrow.

Robert Whiting of Austin has entered his fast Chevrolet and can be counted upon for a good race. Whiting took a 75-mile event held in Harlinger earlier in the season. Another Chevvy under the hand of Earl Hovendon of Duncan, Okla., is being counted on for a big time performance.

Hudson and Essex cars will be used by Smith Miller and Matt Ward both of Oklahoma. This team of drivers hold many cross country records as well as endurance drive victories to their credit. They took third and fourth places in a 75-mile Houston event and made the distance without a stop at the pits during the entire race.

Carl Mayfield of Oklahoma City, a professional driver of repute is bringing a Buick roadster for the day's race and with many stock car victories to his credit feels that he can duplicate past acts on the local track.

Rivalry between the drivers is very keen with each one keyed to the highest pitch as he waits for the starter's flag. The flag will be given them promptly at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. Extra arrangements will be made to speed up the handling of the crowds both on entering and leaving the Fairgrounds.

The track has been thoroughly conditioned and has been greatly helped by the rains this week. The first group of cars to compete will be early arrivals from out of town cities. Twenty of the entries will be called to the line today for their qualifying time trials. A speed of 58 miles per hour for 5 miles must be maintained in order to qualify, the balance of the entry list will compete in time trials Sunday morning. Positions on the starting line will be determined by drawing lots Sunday.

You Can't Check 'Em Out

Those oldtimers were and are a hardy lot. You can go back more than 30 years to the starring days of Snake Ames, Pudge Heffelfinger, Brinck Thorne, George Adee, Jackson Reynolds, Shep Homans and a flock of others and find them still riding along the crest.

Pudge Heffelfinger is now running for congress from Minneapolis, and his reappearance before the public recalls the fact that he must be ranked as one of the greatest all-round athletes that ever played. Unless I am mistaken again, he is the only man who ever won four major Ys at Yale—football, baseball, crew and track.

It was in the harness of football that Heffelfinger made his greatest bid. He still holds his place as one of the two all-time All-American guards, with Truxton Hare of Pennsylvania, usually accorded the other spot. Heffelfinger was a line wrecker in his day, a 190-pound guard, with the speed of a halfback, who was all flame and fire through every game. He had brains and courage to help out any situation.

Some of the moderns thought Heff was over-rated, along with other oldtimers, until he returned to Yale one fall whe nearing 50. At this age he came close to wrecking an entire Yale line composed of young giants around 200 pounds who were from 20 to 21 years of age. Not only that, but in the neighborhood of 50 he was the fastest lineman on the field swing into interference from the guard's position. He could have made almost any big football team in the country when he was somewhere between 45 and 50, with only a little training.

Eddie Glass, another great Yale guard, has amazing arm strength, Heffelfinger had the strongest pair of legs that football has seen. They drove his body like a catapult. These legs gave him speed and power combined, and his big body was strong enough to stand the shock which his leg drive brought about. Heffelfinger was a star football player 40 years ago, and his return to political action will be an interesting event to all the old guard.

Half-Strides

More than 900 golfers will attempt to qualify on Monday for the pleasure and privilege of playing explosion shots out of deep bunkers two weeks later at Winged Foot.

If Connie Mack can't win the A. L. pennant with the start he has this season, he might as well take up golf and see what he can do about stopping Bobby Jones at Pebble Beach.

If Connie can't win this summer he will discard his entire outfit again, as he did in 1914, and build a new machine around Jack Quinn, the 46-year-old kid.

"How do you play a chip shot from a bunker?" asks a reader. Usually by chipping it about 10 inches at a time until it finally emerges.

Senor Paulino says that if Herr Schmeling actually intends to slug him on the jaw he had better have his right hand insured, because it will be of little use.

Schmeling should acclimate his right hand for Paulino's jaw by slugging a hydrant with his bare fist.

In regard to the new golf ball, the duffer will at least get a chance to hit a few brassie shots into the air after bumping them along the ground for the last eight or 10 seasons, hoping they will run through some trap.

No one yet has been able to explain why a golf ball runs so much faster toward a bunker than it does toward the green.

The Yankees discovered this spring that it is hard work winning a ball game with eight runs, when the other side scores nine or ten.

Checking California

After the f. Western showing in track and field athletics at Franklin field, there is now another California shadow falling across the Eastern right of way. This shadow is made by California's star crew, with most of the survivors from the crew that won 11 straight races last summer from the best people on any water.

Just at the moment it seems to be up to Columbia and Cornell to give the Westerners an argument. The odds are against them both, but neither is outclassed. Columbia has the speed to win if it can build up the stamina for a four-mile test. Cornell seems to have the stamina, if it can build up the speed. Columbia and Cornell are well matched. Both are strong and fast, but they are both meeting an exceptional body of oarsmen who have been hard to keep in sight.

The far West has run up a remarkable series of records in its Eastern invasions, with her track teams, her crews and the Stanford football squad. If California wins again the net two-year result will be in the nature of a sweep, not to say a mop-up. Yet there is proof enough that California oarsmen will have to do more than drift for part of the route.

Miller Huggins would like to trade a few home runs for a pair of pitching arms that keep the other fellows from hitting so many singles and doubles.

Baer Facts

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

NEW YORK, June 7.—The battle between Tex Guinan and Mabel Willebrandt goes into the archives of hysteria.

Mabel tried to put the bee on Tex. And when you put a bee on Tex you can bet that the bee is going to lose its honey.

At present, Tex is capering in a roadhouse of the Spanish type.

Proving there is many a Spanish onion in a Spanish shawl.

Mabel has resigned successfully.

We will say that Mabel tried to legislate Tex out of her happy wigwam.

Tex has always run midnight universities where students burned the midnight oil.

And the midnight oil burned the students.

We do not claim that Tex ever sold liquor in her flea-bags and nocturnal drums.

We do not say so because of the advice of our attorney. Our attorney had nothing to do with it.

We do not say so on the advice of our chemist.

Anyway, the long weary battle between the Amazonians of the front pages is over. Tex's name is still in electric lights while Mabel is spelling hers out with toothpicks.

Tex claimed that justice triumphed. Still Mabel's tenure of office has resulted in much confusion among the suspected elite.

It has gotten so that a bartender doesn't know where to go to get his license.

Being an average citizen of the bowlegged type with a stream-line chassis and red ears, we are for law and order if you cannot avoid them.

But figures from the department of compulsory justice show that there are 27,575 dry violations for the first six months of 1928.

We can do better than that. Still prohibition is only an infant industry. Our home boys might do better if congress would put a prohibitive tariff on Canadian booze.

Tex has nothing to do with that. We were in the halls of equity when 12 good men, and what, decided that Tex has nothing to do with the sale of paints, oils and varnishes.

We were there when Tex kissed the 12 good men. Tex is true to her juries.

And Tex is still taking the suckers like a 10-ton truck takes your fenders.

Men may come and men may go, but the saps run on forever.

It was getting so that Tex had to carry a vanity case. She could always powder her nose, using a polished police badge for a mirror.

Now her little playmate, Mabel, has gone and Tex reigns supreme on the throne of moronishness.

It was a beautiful battle while it lasted. Some day, we hope the girls meet again under snappier circumstances.

VERNON GOLF MEET HALTED

Green Belt Tournament Indefinitely Postponed

Special to The Record News

VERNON, Texas, June 7.—The fourth annual tournament of the Green Belt Golf association, which was to have been held on the Hill Crest Country club links at Vernon starting Monday, has been postponed. No definite dates have been set. They will be named at a meeting of the executive committee soon.

Continued rains here this week had left the Hill Crest course in poor condition for the play, making the postponement necessary. R. R. Gilliland of Quanah, president of the association, ordered the postponement.

It was at first agreed to hold the tournament the week of June 17 but later was decided to leave the date open for the present.

Two Youngsters In Golf Finals

Lavender Meets Connor Today for Amateur Title

DALLAS, June 7. (AP)—Dennis Lavender of Abilene, and Lanham Conner of Dallas, long-driving, straight-shooting members of the younger school of golfers, today fought their way to the finals of the state amateur tournament at the Brook Hollow club.

The two, who waded through the strongest field ever to play for the title, will meet tomorrow in a 36-hole struggle for the crown, with Lavender a slight favorite to take state honors to West Texas for the first time in the 23 years history of the association.

Both eliminated formidable rivals in their semi-final matches this afternoon. Lavender pulled through with a 2 and 1 victory over the veteran former champion, Charles Dexter of Dallas, while Connor, an outsider in the betting, overwhelmed the usually brilliant Glenn Crissman of Orange, 6 and 5.

Connor was only one over par for the 13 holes in which he stopped Crissman, and Lavender was but three over perfect figures in his 17-hole victory over the elongated Dexter. Close to 1,000 spectators followed the two matches.

Al Singer Knocks Out Kid Roy in First Round

Health And Diet Advice

Peritonitis

The peritoneum is a strong membrane with a smooth surface lining the abdominal walls and covering many of the internal organs, such as the stomach, spleen, liver, duodenum, small intestine, transverse colon, sigmoid flexures, rectum, uterus, etc. The peritoneum serves to hold these organs in position by its folds, some of which are known as the mesentery and the omentum.

Usually, inflammation of the peritoneum is secondary to an inflammation of some of the organs coming in contact with it, or it may become inflamed as the result of a perforating ulcer or external injury.

Primary peritonitis is much more rare and is supposed to be caused by the germs or toxins from some other disease being carried by the blood and lymphatics to the peritoneum which becomes inflamed.

When the peritonitis is caused by simple inflammation of other organs, it is not usually dangerous and the primary disease should be treated. Peritonitis is often fatal, however, when it is caused by a perforating ulcer from the stomach, duodenum or appendix. The severe cases begin with an intense pain in the abdomen, accompanied by collapse, chilly feelings and rigor. The patient usually lies on the back with the thighs drawn up and the shoulders elevated to produce the greatest amount of relief. Breathing is usually very light because of the pain produced by moving the diaphragm. There are a few cases where the nervous system seems to be dulled by the toxins and the pain may also be absent. The abdomen becomes tense and swollen, the pulse rapid and wiry, ranging from 110 to 150 per minute. The temperature may rise rapidly to 104 or 105 degrees. Vomiting usually occurs early and violently. The urine may be highly colored and scanty. The face becomes pinched and eyes sunken. The face usually assumes a brownish, livid or lead colored tone. These conditions usually indicate a fatal case unless the disease is quickly recognized and the right treatment used immediately. Every hour of delay greatly increases the risk of death which sometimes occurs with great suddenness.

Chronic peritonitis is not as serious as the acute stage and it shows but slight symptoms at the start. It is frequently caused by a local adhesion around the appendix, gall bladder, spleen or colon. An x-ray study under fluoroscope is of great value in determining the position of these adhesions. Chronic peritonitis may also develop from inflammation or serious exudations from the neighboring organs and always results in serious adhesions. Patient usually complains of intestinal indigestion and gaseous distension. Many of these adhesions can be benefitted by manipulative treatment once the inflammation has been reduced by the fasting regime.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Starches

Question—J. L. K. asks: Generally speaking, what are the starches?

Answer—The grain and those vegetables classed as "tubers" which grow under the ground.

Boils and Carbuncles

Question—M. M. writes: "Some time ago I had a large carbuncle on my neck, and since then have had several boils. I would also like to know how to rid my face of whiteheads and large pores."

Answer—You can overcome the tendency toward boils and carbuncles by following a correct fasting and diet regime, instructions for which I will be glad to send you. The enlarged pores and whiteheads can be overcome by washing the face very carefully morning and evening with hot water and some mild soap. After rinsing the face, apply ice or very cold water. Also avoid the use of too many fats in your diet.

Glands and Overgrowth

Question—Mrs. F. F. B. asks: "What makes some people grow abnormally tall, and have very large bones? Is it because they eat too much of food containing certain elements, or do the glands have something to do with it?"

Answer—It is natural for some people to be very tall, and does not seem to be due to any special foods. If the growth appears after maturity, it is usually caused by some disorder of the ductless glands, usually the pituitary.

Nail Biting

Question—Mrs. J. H. asks: "Can you suggest some method of making my little boy stop biting his fingernails? He seems to be in good health except a little nervous."

Answer—As far as stopping this unsanitary habit of biting the fingernails is concerned, the cure is quite simple. Dip the child's fingers several times daily in a solution of alum water. This will keep the alum on the fingers all day long, and after a few days the child will become disgusted with the puckery taste of alum which he gets every time he puts his fingers into his mouth. This little cure always works.

Jury Trying Woman Slayer Is Dismissed

NEW KIRK, Okla., June 7. (UP)—Hopelessly deadlocked, the jury in the Mrs. Olive Wilson Broets murder case was dismissed shortly after noon today. It had deliberated 24 hours.

Mrs. Broets was charged with murder in the fatal shooting of W. M. Murphy in a Blackwell hotel room, April 9. She testified Murphy mistreated her. The state charged she was "insanely jealous of Murphy's wife, Mrs. Trellis Brewington Murphy of Wichita, Kan.

An early jury ballot stood eight for acquittal and four for conviction. She was placed in the county jail this afternoon to await a new trial, the date of which had not been set.

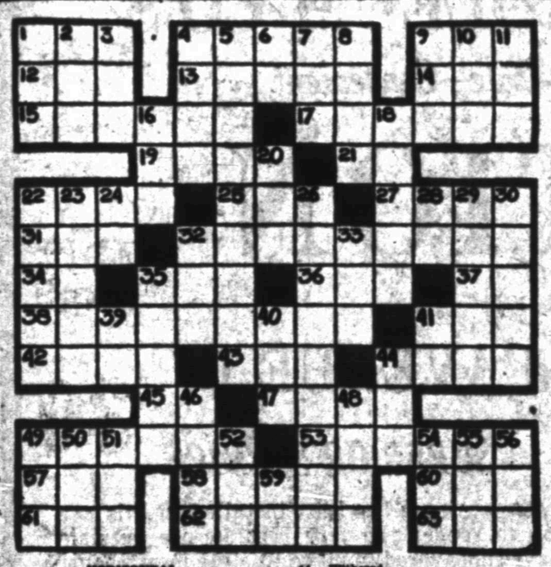

House Votes Fund To Fight Florida Fruit Fly

AUSTIN, June 7. (INS)—The house passed today the Hornaday bill appropriating $18,000 to be expended by the commissioner of agriculture in payment of inspectors in connection with the enforcement of the quarantine against the probable entry into Texas of the Florida fruit fly.

Capone Said to Have Given Charity $1,000

PHILADELPHIA, June 7. (UP)—Alphonse "Scarface" Capone, serving a year sentence in Holmsburg prison for carrying a gun, was said to be the contributor of $1,000 given the children's hospital fund by an unnamed patron.

EARLY ACTION ON FARM BILL

Committee Report Reaches Senate Hopper

WASHINGTON, June 7. (AP)—The joint conference committee report on the farm relief bill reached the senate late today from the house where it earlier had been approved and Senator McNary of Oregon had it made the order of business in the senate.

This action assured quick senate consideration of the compromise measure, which was agreed on by a committee composed of members from both branches after the disputed export debenture plan sanctioned by the senate had been eliminated.

How soon the senate would reach a vote was conceded to be contingent on the attitude taken by advocates of debentures. Proponents of early enactment of the bill into law expressed confidence, however, that a margin of votes would be available to prevent any deadlock between the two branches on the bill. It would authorize an appropriation of $500,000,000 to be made available for use toward ameliorating the distressed condition of the agricultural industry.

Senator McNary announced that he would call the bill up for consideration tomorrow.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, June 7. (AP)—The cotton market today was irregular, rallying from opening declines on renewal of the recent buying movement, before easing in the late trading on the favorable view of the detailed weather reports. October contracts after selling up from 18.73 to 18.95, declined to 18.73 and closed at 18.76 with the general market closing steady at net declines of 4 to 6 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 1 to 7 points in response to relatively easy cables from Liverpool and unfavorable Manchester trade advices. The offerings were comparatively small, and were quite readily absorbed by covering together with some trade and commission house buying. After showing net advances of about 3 to 14 points during the middle of the day, prices turned easier.

The advance to 18.79 for July and 19.12 for December attracted considerable realizing and the day's weather reports were considered favorable over the greater part of the belt. This caused some local selling, and the lowest levels of the day were reached in the late trading when July sold at 18.57 and December at 18.90. The close was 2 or 3 points up from the lowest on covering. Part of the early buying was attributed to bullish crop advices from the Southwest which commented on the unfavorable effects of recent rains and reported a heavy emergence of boll weevil in Texas for the period from March 1 to May 31.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, June 7. (AP)—After fluctuating aimlessly during the early part of the session cotton developed an easier trend later today on liquidation by recent buyers. Although there was considerable demand before mid-session it tapered off and during the afternoon active positions fell off under the liquidation. October selling to 18.68 compared with 18.87, the day's high. The option closed at 18.70, or 9 points net lower. The general market closed steady at net losses of 6 to 10 points.

The lows of the day were made in late trading when July sold at 18.72, October 18.68 and December 18.81, or 19 points under the highs. Final prices were 2 points up from the lowest with active months showing net declines of 6 to 10 points.

A private report estimating the increase in acreage at 4.40 per cent was issued during the day but had no effect on trading.

DUN'S REVIEW

NEW YORK, June 7. (AP)—Dun's review tomorrow will say:

After the recent change in speculative aspects, there has plainly developed a closer and wider interest in strictly commercial movements. The underlying importance of trade trends is receiving more recognition now, following a prolonged period during which this phase had relatively small influence in certain quarters, and the comparative stability of conditions remains a point for favorable comment. There is a clear distinction between the unevenness due to extreme variations in the weather and fundamental weaknesses in the economic structure and the former element chiefly accounts for such restriction of activities as has lately occurred. With abrupt changes in temperatures over a large area of the country, a steady flow of goods to consumers has been prevented, and concessions in selling have appeared in some retail circles. It is evident from returns of railroad freight traffic, however, that distribution of commodities continues notably heavy.

Weekly bank clearings $13,004,394,000, an increase of 0.1 per cent over a year ago.

Collapse of Chicago Pool Stocks Unsettles New York Trade

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, June 7. (US)—Collapse of pool stocks in Chicago unsettled the market here today. Belief that further restrictive measures might be taken if the advance proceeded too rapidly influenced profit taking in the more active shares, but a few special stocks moved higher under the influence of individual developments.

U. S. Industrial Alcohol gained seven, American Commercial Alcohol 2⅞, Water Works 9⅛, and Commercial Solvents jumped over 38 points. Radio dropped over 3 points, Commonwealth Power 21, but other losses were confined to a point or so.

Steel gained fractionally while other standard industrials held to a very narrow range. Rails were fractionally lower on the average also. Turnover remained at the 3,000,000 share level. The money market was tighter but the call rate held at 7 per cent.

Chicago caused trouble again. Bankers out there called more loans on pools that had been working in the wilder stocks, mainly those of radio companies. This influenced hasty profit taking in some of the stocks on the market here. The further cleaning out was welcomed by the banking fraternity. It was regarded as evidence that no runaway tactics would be permitted in the market and whenever pool work threatened to become to enthusiastic the brakes would be applied.

It is the hope of the banking fraternity that further quiet correction of the market can be accomplished this month. The banks statements, Thursday, revealed that the New York reserve bank had loosened the credit reins and in the event that the market was kept orderly, it was felt, further steps to ease money rates would be taken.

The tobacco deal was said to be coming along nicely. Official announcement was looked for either tomorrow morning or early next week. It will outline the basis of exchange of new stock for shares of tobacco products, Union, United and others. A Morgan executive is to head the new company. The Morgan interests were reputedly working on another merger and their plans influenced buying in Fleischmann, Postum and others. Interest of the Fleischmann family in the company, it was claimed, had been negotiated for and when taken over arrangements would be made for formation of a huge wholesale and retail food organization.

Tidewater Associated was active. Directors met and an early announcement is expected of decision to offer one and three quarters shares for each share of the old Tidewater outstanding. Indian Refining's further rise evidenced knowledge of increasing earnings. It is learned that an offer was made recently by one of the large independent companies for a share exchange of stock with Indian. So far it has not been accepted. American Commercial Alcohol's advance was helped by reports of buying for merger purposes. U. S. Industrial Alcohol skyrocketed at the same time. It is pointed out that the government could have no objection, for the fewer companies there are holding the permits to make commercial alcohol the better pleased the Washington officials will be.

Rails hesitated with others but continue the subject of most favorable opinions in the best banking circles. New Haven is mentioned in particular as the improvement in operation and the resulting betterment in earning power has surprised even the most optimistic insiders; net revenues have shown a 100 per cent increase this year and further gain is forecast. With the Pennsylvania interests holding working control, it is pointed out, there should be further increase in both freight and passenger traffic. Current estimates indicate that the net may run as high at $14 a share this year.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, June 7. (AP)—Prices were unchanged on the cash grain market here today with especially good demand for all classes. Exporters were taking wheat and barley actively. Threshed sorghums were again meeting good inquiry with the prospect that larger receipts of these grains may easily be sold.

Exporters were bidding around $1.09 for, ordinary No. 1 wheat; $1.10@1.11 for soft red mixed, and 65 to 66c for No. 2 barley delivered gulf ports.

Mills were bidding $1.10½@1.11½ for No. 1 ordinary hard wheat; $1.11½@1.12½ for 12 per cent protein; $1.15@1.18½ for 14 per cent, and about $1.20 for 15 per cent—all basis delivered Texas common points.

Dealers quoted as follows, basis delivered Texas common points: No. 2 mixed corn, $1.02@1.05; No. 2 white or, yellow corn, $1.07@1.08; No. 3 red oats, 53@54c; No. 2 milo, per 100 pounds, $1.45@1.48; No. 2 kaffir, $1.35@1.37; milo heads, per ton, $21.00@23.00; kaffir heads, $19.00@20.00.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 7. (AP)—Faced by heavy selling to realize profits and by indications of a bumper harvest in Kansas, wheat prices today lost all of a new advance. Earlier, the market had risen to above any recent top level, with big buying stimulated by attention to farm relief developments and because of suggestions from important sources that with government support wheat would go as high as $1.75 or $2 a bushel.

Closing quotations were unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to ¼c lower. Corn closed at ⅛ to ⅝c net advance, oats unchanged to ¼c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 13c.

Authoritative estimates received near the end of the day indicated that Kansas is about to harvest a yield of wheat 40,000,000 bushels more than has been generally looked for. The total output of Kansas wheat will be 173,500,000 bushels, according to these estimates, and will be hardly 4,000,000 bushels less than last year.

Inasmuch as Kansas is the largest producer of wheat in the United States, the figures were deemed especially significant.

Advances in corn today were relatively well maintained, unfavorable weather over the corn belt being a factor. Oats followed corn.

Provisions averaged higher, sympathizing with the action of grain values and of the hog market.

ELECTRA, Texas, June 7.—W. A. Ashbill was installed as president of the Electra Lions club at the annual installation of officers Thursday night at a banquet at the Marriott hotel.

Other officers include G. J. Gillis, first vice president; W. M. Austin, second vice president; Ray Cox, third vice president; Wayne Gillespie, secretary-treasurer. Obligation was administered by Ben Tipton.

The meeting opened with the invocation by Rev. Hugh Anderson. The program consisted of special songs by L. D. Carroll and Miss Leatrice Wofford, dance selections by Miss Helen Slaughter, several numbers by Cleero Bently and his one-piece band, after which the new officers were introduced, followed by the farewell address of retiring president, Rollo Davidson, and address of acceptance by W. Married women teachers are preferable, says Prof. I. D. Weeks of Aberdeen, S. D., because women want a home of their own.

RAMSEY GIVEN 5-YEAR TERM

Plea to Judge Made By Former Bible Teacher

In a special session of the 30th district court, called and adjourned within a hour, Judge Allan D. Montgomery Friday morning revoked a five-year suspended sentence against E. G. Ramsey, 52-year-old former Sunday school superintendent, and re-sentenced the prisoner to a straight five-year term in the state penitentiary. The revoking of the suspension put Ramsey under a seven-year sentence, a two-year term having recently been imposed at Abilene.

The former Sunday school leader was convicted of swindling by passing a $110 hot check here. He was found guilty of forgery at Abilene, the charges against him there having been pending at the time of his conviction in the 30th district court here.

The prisoner took his sentence without emotion, but entered a plea to the court to intervene for his parole and to help him get work suitable to his physical condition at the prison. Judge Montgomery told him he would consider the matter of the parole after at least two years of the sentence have been served, and that the penitentiary officials would undoubtedly consider his physical strength in assigning him work.

Ramsey will remain in the Wichita county jail until Bud Russell, penitentiary agent, makes his next trip to this county.

Chest Directors Hear Reports of Activities

Reports from Miss Katherine Henricle, secrtary of the Children's Aid society of West Texas, and from Mrs. Fred T. Datson, in charge of the Day Nursery, were given at the meeting of the board of directors of the Community Chest in the directors room of the City National bank at 10 o'clock Friday mroning according to Miss Myrle Neely, executive secretary of the chest.

Miss Henricle stressed the point that a greater number of children were being given to the Children's Aid society for care than ever before but that fewer babies were received for placement, due to the fact that mothers were being persuaded to keep their babies with them.

Mrs. Datson of the Day Nursery reported a total enrollment of 81 children during April and of 74 during May, with an average attendance of 54 during the last month.

Miss Neely reported a balance of $11,937.34 in the chest on June 1, with disbursements to recipient organizations amounting to $4,717.90, leaving a balance of $7,219.44 for this month. She urged that all subscribers pay their pledges for June.

Oneal Urges Game License Bill In Talk to Oklahoma Solons

Ben G. Oneal, president of the Wichita Falls chapter of the Izaak Walter league, has returned from Oklahoma City, where he spent several days in the interest of a bill now before the legislature of that state which would permit non-residents to hunt in the Red river bed by payment of an annual license fee one-sixth of the amount now charged by the state of Oklahoma for non-resident hunting license.

The measure was drawn up by the attorney general's department at Mr. Oneal's request, and was introduced in the senate by the president pro-tem of that body and the chairman of the senate's fish and game committee. The chairman of the fish and game committee of the house, with three other members, introduced the bill in the lower house. The senate referred the proposed measure to its fish and game committee, which invited Mr. Oneal to discuss its provisions. That committee, unanimously recommended its passage. The matter was to come before the fish and game committee of the house on the following day. Assurances were given that the measure would have strong support in the lower body, Mr. Oneal said.

Under the present laws, non-residents are required to pay $15 to hunt within the state of Oklahoma. The bill now under consideration would provide for the issuance of a season Red River license for $2.50.

SCHOOL BOND VOTE TODAY

County Line to Pass On New Building

Opposition to a $7,000 bond issue for the County Line rural school district, developed within the past few weeks, will probably result in a heavy vote and a sharp contest in the bond election to be held at the school house Saturday, according to information in the hands of Mrs. W. D. Hines, in charge of the office of Burl Bryant, county superintendent.

One faction within the district has been backing a movement to merge the district with the Electra schools, rather than to rebuild the school destroyed by fire several months ago, Mrs. Hines explained. At a recent mass meeting, a small majority of the voters decided in favor of the election for the bonds and the reconstruction of the building, she added, but the opposition to such a program remains strong.

The polls will open at 8 o'clock Saturday morning in the church building which has been used for school purposes since the fire, and will close at 7 o'clock in the evening. If the bond issue is voted, the money will be used for the immediate building and equipment of a school building for use next fall.

Mrs. Aubrey Schang, the child's mother, had asked for a support order of $2,000 annually but the court cut it to $1,200.
