Vote Is Likely To Fall Short Of 500,000

Wartime Run-Off Fails To Arouse State Electors

IN A LUSTRELESS run-off primary in which statewide interest was barely sparked by a last minute duel by judicial candidates, Democratic voters of Texas yesterday paved the way for an elective term for Attorney-General Grover Sellers; called from foreign military service Lt. Col. Gordon Simpson to replace Judge Richard Critz as associate justice of the State Supreme court; defeated for renomination one veteran congressman and threw scares into two others before late tabulations gave them new leases on their jobs.

Copyrighted returns to The Avalanche-Journal from the Texas Election Bureau, statewide cooperative vote tabulation organization, at 1:30 a. m. today (Sunday) indicated that the state probably polled short of 500,000 votes—as compared with 751,022 in this year's July 22 primary—the lowest statewide total cast in many years.

92 Counties Complete

The bureau's 1:30 a. m. tabulation, last to be issued until sometime this afternoon, included reports from 234 of Texas' 254 counties, of which 92 were complete. The tabulation showed the following totals:

ATTORNEY GENERAL

Grover Sellers	249,228
Jesse Martin	198,412

SUPREME COURT

Gordon Simpson	256,259
Richard Critz (incumbent)	182,145

CONGRESS

Seventh District

Tom Pickett	20,054
Nat Patton (Incumbent)	15,514

Ninth District

J. J. Mansfield, (Incumbent)	12,990
L. J. Sulak	12,376

Seventeenth District

Sam Russell (Incumbent)	16,071
Clyde Garrett	12,713

Lt. Col. Simpson, of Tyler, former East Texas district and appeals court judge who for 18 months has been an Army trial judge advocate in Africa and Italy, turned out to be the day's best vote-getter as he retired from the State Supreme court bench the aging Judge Richard Critz of Georgetown. Simpson's campaign, run by his friends, provided the only dash of pepper in an otherwise drab election. Critz had claimed Simpson was the candidate of the CIO's Political Action committee, which Simpson's friends denied, countering with bitter attacks on the efficiency of the incumbent.

Appointment Aids Sellers

Attorney General Sellers, serving as the state's lawyer by virtue of appointment of Gov. Coke R. Stevenson after resignation of Gerald C. Mann in late 1943, handily defeated former State Senator Jesse Martin, of Fort Worth. Martin, too, had claimed CIO approval for Sellers, which was denied. Much of Sellers' strength came from the fact that he was the appointee of Governor Stevenson, currently the state's most popular official.

In the 15-county Ninth district's congressional race, State Senator L. J. Sulak, of LaGrange, took an early lead—which he held until after midnight—over the crippled but colorful "Joe" Mansfield, of Columbus, veteran of 28 years in the national capitol. However, early this morning the Sulak lead faded and Mansfield, chairman of the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors who is able to move about only by wheelchair, apparently remains, as he has for so many years, a probable "lifetime fixture" in the Congress.

"Cousin Nat" Gets Gate

Nat Patton, of Crockett, a former state senator, also was banished to the sidelines under vigorous assault by District Attorney Tom Pickett, of Palestine, in the 12-county Seventh congressional district. Patton, a typical oldtime East Texas politician — complete with black hat, black bow tie and long hair—has had as his chief claim to glory the fact that he greeted the U. S.-touring Queen of England as "cousin," a term which he invariably uses when greeting strangers and old acquaintances. He has served six terms.

Bushy-haired Sam Russell, seeking a fourth term from the 12-county Seventeenth (Abilene) Congressional district, beat off a challenge by the man he replaced, former Congressman Clyde Garrett, of Eastland. Russell resides in Stephenville.

Whether or not Lt. Col. Simpson, a former president of the Texas Bar association, will be able to take his bench next January still remains a question, although his campaigning friends insist that he will be back in the U. S. by October and will be out of uniform in time to take his place.

EGYPT WANTS FREEDOM

CAIRO, Aug. 28. (AP)—Premier Mustafa Nahas Pasha indicated today that after the war Egypt would seek amendment of the 1936 treaty with Britain so as to give Egypt "complete freedom."

Robertson Beats Love For JP Post As Lemond Wins Constable's Race

AN apathetic Lubbock electorate that nevertheless exceeded the popular estimate when it racked up 6,266 votes, Saturday nominated Walter Davies county judge, Grady Harrist county sheriff, V. J. Farris commissioner of county precinct 4, D. W. Robertson precinct 1, place 1 justice of peace, and John W. LeMond precinct 1 constable.

It also contributed a long lead to Preston E. Smith over Jack Douglas for state representative from the 119th district, and gave margins to Grover Sellers for attorney general and Lt. Col. Gordon Simpson for associate justice of the supreme court.

Smith Winner Over Douglas

Preston E. Smith, Lubbock theater owner, yesterday won the Democratic nomination as representative to the state legislature from the 9-county 119th district, polling on conclusive, but as yet incomplete, returns a total of 8,573 votes to 6,726 for his opponent Jack Douglas, Lubbock insurance company executive.

Smith next January will succeed in the office Corp. Hop Halsey, of Lubbock, currently serving with the Marines in the South Pacific, who served two terms but was not a candidate for re-election this year.

Reports Are Conclusive

Reports were available early Sunday from seven of the nine counties involved, four of which gave complete totals on the race. There was no run-off election held in Dawson county, which in the July 22 primary gave Smith a 2 to 1 preference over Douglas and then eliminated candidate, George Neill of Terry county. No reports were available from Yoakum county, where phone circuits were out of order.

Smith, who lives with his wife and four-year-old son, Michael, at 2520 Twentyfirst street, was making his first political bid. He has been a resident of Lubbock since 1930 and is a graduate of Texas Tech. Before moving here he resided in Gaines county, where his parents still reside.

Few Votes Out

Following is the legislative race tabulation, with election judges in the incomplete counties — Crosby, Gaines and Lynn reporting less than 100 votes per county yet to be tabulated.

County	Smith	Douglas
Lubbock	3,670	2,535
Terry	1,016	994
Hockley	1,512	1,573
Cochran	426	415
*Crosby	346	222
*Gaines	792	529
*Lynn	811	458
Yoakum (no report)
Dawson (no election)
TOTALS	8,573	6,726

Garza Picks Percy Printz For Sheriff

POST, Aug. 26 (Special)—Sheriff Lon Cross of Garza county was defeated for re-election in a run-off with Percy Printz today. Printz polled 573 votes to Cross' 542 votes.

The sheriff's position was the only county race voted on, others having been decided in the July primary.

The county gave Jesse Martin 598 votes to Grover Sellers' 429 in the attorney general's race and Gordon Simpson, 602 votes over Richard Critz' 384 votes in the race for associate justice of the state supreme court.

Lynn County Elects Two Commissioners

TAHOKA, Aug. 26 (Special) — Lonnie Williams was re-elected commissioner of precinct No. 2 and Thad Smith was named commissioner of precinct No. 4 in the only two run-off races in Lynn county today.

Williams polled 319 votes to defeat Lewis Kenley while Smith has 224 votes to L. C. (Les) Crews' 129.

Japs Bemoaning Fate Dealt Truk

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor

New air blows within 750 miles of Tokyo were announced by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz yesterday while the Japanese radio bemoaned the fate of the great garrison at Truk, isolated in the central Carolines by the American advance across the Pacific.

The aerial target was two islands in the Volcano (Kazan) group. Ten Japanese planes intercepted. Three of four were shot down. Two attacking Liberators were damaged.

Constant Raids Cited

"Constantly raiding enemy planes come night and day" to Truk from bases "within a stone's throw" of the by-passed stronghold, Tokyo radio said, sometimes bombing "continuously for seven hours." The exhaustion of our pilots and the loss of aircraft are inescapable."

Cut off from their source of supply, the broadcaster reported, troops are turning wastelands into truck gardens to keep from starving.

Japanese could shed the same tears for a dozen other once mighty garrisons, fanned out around Truk from Rabaul, 780 miles south, to Jaluit and Wotje, around 1250 miles east in the Marshalls.

In the last seven months U. S. bombing raids have steadily crept westward over more than 20 island groups in the 2,000-mile long Caroline chain from Kusaie to Palau.

Palau, potential American stepping stone to the Philippines and Japan's gateway to the Carolines, was bombed by 17 Liberators Friday, Tokyo reported.

One Man Killed In Brownfield Wreck

Howard P. Lowe, about 31, of Lovington, N. M., son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Lowe of 2626 Twentieth street, was reported killed about 11 o'clock Saturday night in a traffic accident between Brownfield and Meadow.

Two men were believed in critical condition from injuries received in the accident. They were in a Brownfield hospital. Their names were not available.

Details of the accident were lacking. It was reported that the car driven by Lowe was in a head-on collision with another vehicle, and that a third car ran into the wreckage.

Lowe's wife and their two children received emergency aid in Lubbock General hospital. They were to be released later in the night. The children were reported not seriously hurt. Also treated in the hospital were Miss Evelyn Salyer, of Lovington, and Mrs. R. L. Hopson, of Carlton, Tex., and her two-year-old daughter. Their injuries were not considered serious and they also were to be released.

All were occupants of the Lowe car. They had been visiting the Lubbock Lowes.

SWITZER RITES SET

DALLAS, Aug. 26. (AP)—Funeral services for Mrs. D. S. Switzer, 87, Texas music teacher for more than 60 years, will be held Monday in Weatherford. She died yesterday. Mrs. Switzer was a former vice president of the Music Association of Texas.

Six Officials Named In Hockley Voting

LEVELLAND, Aug. 26 (Special)—Hockley county nominated three commissioners and three other county officials today in the second primary. C. D. Bass defeated Harper Brown 1,632 to 1,558 for district clerk; Z. O. (Zack) Lincoln received 1,846 votes to 1,357 for Ollie Smith in the race for county judge and for county treasurer, O. T. (Butch) Gravitt was the winner, 1,694 to 1,492, over Mrs. Leona Chisum.

Voting in the commissioners' races was: precinct 1—Tom Price, 493, Joe Mears, 366; precinct 2—Bill Carter, 433, Oscar Heath, 345; precinct 4—Jim J. Hobgood, 463 and W. B. Dowell, 540.

For representative, 119th district, Jack Douglas received 1,573 and Preston E. Smith, 1,512.

Grover Sellers led Jesse Martin, 1,506 to 1,265, for attorney general and Gordon Simpson received 1,646, Richard Critz, 1,067 for associate justice of the supreme court.

Congress Concerned Over Effects Of WPB Upheaval

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP)—An upheaval in the War Production board's high command resulted tonight in expressions of congressional concern lest it hinder both war output and reconversion, and a declaration by Senator Johnson (D-Colo) that WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson is being "ditched" permanently.

Nelson has left on a mysterious mission to China with his status when he gets back an open question, Executive Vice Chairman Charles E. Wilson has quit, and President Roosevelt has lifted Lt. Cmdr. J. R. Krug, a former WPB executive, out of the Navy and installed him as acting chairman.

"Presumably," said Johnson, "Mr. Krug is the new head of the WBP, the most powerful and important civil office in America. I wish we knew more about him and his viewpoints."

The Senate War Investigating committee plans to find out something about him Monday. It wants to know particularly whether he intends to push a reconversion program which Nelson initiated.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) declared himself deeply disturbed by "the confusion now obvious in executive responsibility for final production to win the war and for the desperately important tasks of swift and effective reconversion."

And Senator George (D-Ga.) called for clear-cut action from WPB to permit a gradual shading of war production into peacetime output.

Nelson's theories of permitting some civilian production from plants and materials not required for war operations were described by George as "very, very sound."

Nazis Racing From France

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 26—The German flight in France appeared to be spreading rapidly tonight as Allied armies liberating the country from the west and south made wholesale advances and drew to within 200 miles of a junction.

Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's American Seventh Army began a drive up the wide Rhone valley and struck eastward to within five miles of the Italian frontier and by tonight had wrestled more than 9,000 square miles from the Nazis.

Spread All Directions

Allied armies invading from the west were striking toward Alsace and Lorraine deep into eastern France, and from the shattered Seine lines were driving northward toward the Luxembourg and German borders.

The Germans were fleeing along a wide front in the north but making bitter rearguard stands, while in the east the speed of the American armored stabs fanning out beyond Troyes indicated slight enemy resistance.

Similarly, Allied columns driving north from the southern invasion beachhead apparently found little opposition, and were reported well beyond captured Grenoble in territory now cleared of Germans and controlled by French patriots all the way to the Swiss border.

Nazi Debacle Mounts

It was these columns and those striking southeastward from Troyes which were reported less than 200 miles apart.

The magnitude of the German debacle in the south was indicated by the fact that a party of war correspondents, including Edward Kennedy of the Associated Press, drove clear to the Swiss border in a jeep well ahead of the advancing Army in territory conqueered by the French Maquis patriot forces.

The Allied advances were described as considerably greater than yet announced and the German situation far more critical than had been generally believed.

French Army forces continued their methodical reduction of the German holdings in Marseille and Toulon, the two great southern ports where organized enemy resistance remained.

The Germans contended they had thrown armor into a battle to stave off the American efforts to bottle up the Rhone valley es-

Pugh Found Guilty In Burns Slaying

TAHOKA, Aug. 26. (Special) — L. B. Pugh was convicted of the murder of Con Burns, Lynn county deputy sheriff, by a 106th district jury that recommended 25 years in the penitentiary, it was announced this morning.

The jury, of which Oscar Roberts was foreman, deliberated six and a half hours.

Defense counsel had not indicated this afternoon whether they would ask a new trial. The statutory two days in which it is are allowed to file the motion will not elapse until Monday.

Pugh, 39, was accused of having shot the 64-year-old deputy to death after they had had words on an O'Donnell street in June.

Prosecution was conducted by District Attorney Rollin McCord, assisted by Calloway Huffaker, district attorney-elect.

Sixteen Killed When Two Bombers Collide

LONDON, Aug. 26. (AP)—Fourteen American airmen and two civilians, a woman and a child, were killed today when two American heavy bombers collided over Hitchin, Hertfordshire.

One plane exploded in the air, and the other crashed. Four crewmen escaped by parachute. The two civilians were killed, and two others were injured when a bomb from one plane fell into a bungalow.

Bulgar Withdrawal From War Due Soon As Adolf's "Balkans House" Collapses

By WADE WERNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The Germans' Balkan front caved in tonight as Bulgaria ordered Nazi troops out of the country and Romanians seized the Carpathian mountain passes and did battle with their former allies who were trying to escape the Russian onslaught.

(The Bulgarian domestic radio, in a broadcast recorded by the U. S. Federal Communications commission, said that German troops in Bulgaria already had been disarmed by Bulgarian forces and confirmed that Bulgaria had approached the United States and Britain for terms on withdrawing from the war.)

Bulgaria's formal withdrawal from the war was expected hourly, but the Moscow radio indicated she already was as good as out, announcing that she had adopted an attitude of strict "neutrality" and planned to disarm any Germans who did not leave the country peaceably.

Bulgarian ability to enforce this position was an open question but there have been reports of extensive withdrawals of German forces from that country in recent weeks, so that those remaining might not be able to put up resistance.

Bucharest Firmly Held

The broadcast Soviet statement, most concrete of the many current reports concerning the Balkans, said Bucharest was firmly held by the new pro-Allied Romanian government, that the old premier, Gen. Ion Antonescu was under arrest in King Mihai's palace, and that Romanian troops now held the Carpathian mountain passes that had been the German's strongest line of hope for defense against the Red Army.

An earlier report from the Italian Fascist agency Stefani via the Swiss Telegraph agency had said Antonescu had been assassinated in the coup that turned Romania from the German to the Allied camp Wednesday.

Reds Reconquer All Bessarabia

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sunday, Aug. 27.—Russian troops yesterday reconquered Bessarabia, reaching the Danube waterway from the Prut river down to the Black Sea, while other Soviet forces struck westward into the Carpathian mountains in pursuit of an enemy fleeing toward Hungary and leaving behind scores of thousands of captives and great quantities of war material.

Moscow's nightly bulletin announced that at least 61,000 prisoners were taken in a 24-hour period, including five Romanian divisions numbering some 30,000 men. The Romanians surrendered with all their arms, and equipment.

Marines Land At Port

A midnight supplementary communique said that Soviet Marines landed at Valcov, Black Sea port at the mouth of the Danube, and joined land forces in seizing huge stores of material in that town. The Germans threw away their arms and fled across the Danube, the bulletin said.

The old fortress town of Ismail, farther upstream, also fell to the Red Army, which now controls a 75-mile stretch of the lower Danube.

Swiftly exploiting one of the war's greatest victories, the Russians on the seventh day of their lightning offensive aimed at trapping entire Nazi armies in the Balkans had killed or captured nearly 275,000 Germans and Romanians, and were hacking to pieces the remnants of 12 encircled Nazi divisions southwest of fallen Chisinau, now far to the rear of advance units driving toward Bucharest.

To Be Reorganized

Most of the Romanian prisoners probably will be reorganized into their usual divisional strength of 6,000 men and hurled against the retreating Germans at the order of King Mihai's new pro-Ally government, whose declaration of war against the Reich has sped the collapse of the Balkan front.

Other Romanian units already have seized the Carpathian mountain passes leading from Romania to Hungary via Transylvania, a Moscow statement said, thus aiding the Russians in their annihilation of entire Axis divisions.

Most of the 350 towns and villages captured yesterday were in the Carpathian foothills above the Galati Gap, the bulletin disclosed.

On Estonian Front

Russian gains also were made on the Estonian front beyond fallen Tartu, 100 miles southeast of Tallinn, Estonian capital, and on the front northeast of Warsaw, where Berlin said a great battle was raging above the Bug river near Wyszkow, 27 miles northeast of the embattled Polish capital.

Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky's Ukraine Army captured 150 places west and south of Roman on the Czernowitz-Bucharest railway, including Buhusi, 18 miles southwest of Roman and 12 miles west of the Siret river, as Soviet units began ascending the foothills of the Transylvanian Alps.

Farther south in the area north of Focsani, western anchor of the Galati Gap, the Russians swept up 200 villages including Adjudu, 28 miles north of Focsani. Another route through the mountains leads west from Adjudu.

To the southeast, Gen. Feodor I. Tolbukhin's Third Ukraine Army cleared the Germans from a winding 60-mile stretch of the Danube between the Prut and the

Nazi Fliers Lose Fight Incentive

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 26—American heavy bombers, operating on a schedule of 100 sorties per hour since 8 p. m., Friday night, joined tactical air units today in a series of smashing assaults at Germany's oil production centers as well as supply depots and communication in France.

The bombers lent a massive hand to the ground troops rapidly obliterating the Nazi Seventh Army and driving closer to the Reich borders.

Enemy air opposition in the past 24 hours was slight after a brief flareup in the preceding three days.

Few Nazi Fighters

From the heavy bombers over Germany, the mediums over northeastern France and fighters and fighter bombers over the Seine the reports were identical—few if any Nazi fighter planes anywhere. The bombers reported flak over Germany ranged from light to intense.

Some 1,500 heavy bombers and escorting fighters ranged over a wide area of Germany battering vital oil targets for the third day in succession, and a smaller force of Flying Fortresses and Liberators teamed with Allied warships' heavy artillery in a final assault to wipe out the stubborn German garrison holding out in the port of Brest at the tip of Brittany.

The Tactical Air forces threw hundreds of fighter bombers into non-stop sweeps all across northern France blasting at some 40,000 Germans caught in the Seine trap and hunting down others on the northeast side of the Seine fleeing toward Germany.

Parisians Taking Yanks To Their Hearts As 'Lights Go On Again'

By ROBERT RICHARDS
United Press War Writer

PARIS, Aug. 26.—German resistance which was still blazing when we rolled into Paris at this time yesterday seems to have been wiped out today except for a pocket here and there and the French awoke this morning to find themselves free but a little hungry.

Now that the excitement of the battle is over, the people of Paris are beginning to realize their hunger and weariness. I have yet to hear one of them ask an American for food, but they are standing on the street corners this morning watching with wistful eyes the trailers which jeeps are towing into town, loaded to the brim with food.

Their Eyes Light Up

Their eyes light up with anticipation when an American GI—and by now there are Yanks on every street corner—breaks open his K rations.

Paris is not starving, but it is mighty close to it. One Parisian told me that if we had waited a month longer to take the city from the Germans the food situation would have been acute.

But don't get the idea that the Parisans are idly standing around goggling at incoming American food supplies. Like the big, warm-hearted city it is, Paris has taken the Americans to her heart.

Parisians Kiss Yanks

An American soldier can't walk a block without having a Parisian—man, woman or child—dash up and plant a kiss on his cheek. The GI's are doing all right on the love front, too. They had only been in town a few hours last night, but walking along the street to my hotel to go to bed, every jeep I passed had two heads in it, close together and you could hear girls softly laughing in the darkness.

One soldier let out a mighty roar:

"Oh, it was never like this in Mississippi, brother!"

It was never like this anywhere—a city under the conquerors heel for four years — a battleground yesterday—today free to do all the simple things of liberty. It was somhow a rite to turn on the electric lights, to let the electric refrigerator run all night instead of the one hour the Germans allowed during the occupation, to wear the tricolor and hoist the flag, to greet one another without fear of the lurking gestapo.

City Seems Far From War

The lights came on in Paris with a burst of brilliance. I had not seen so much illumination since I left New York.

Except for the troops in the streets, the city upon which I gaze from the balcony of my room in the Grand hotel might be a million miles from the war. A Parisian bicycles slowly along with a long loaf of bread under his arm. Others stroll past as if sightseeing. They are completely relaxed.

The red, white and blue-striped civilian authomobiles which the French forces of the interior used to wage their bloody battle with the Germans are now furnishing rides for pretty women. Their drivers no longer have tommy guns slung around their necks.

The Parisians derive a warming satisfaction from the flood of American soldiers who have followed the French armored troops into town. When we rolled in with the French armor yesterday the old men and women were constantly whispering to me:

"This is fine but where are your people. How far behind are the Americans and when will they get here."

Now they are here and the Boche is already a bad memory. It is good to be a Parisian today after what must be the biggest 48 hours in the history of the city.

News Briefs

A public hearing on the 1945 proposed county budget will be conducted by county commissioners court Monday, at a semi-monthly court meeting. It is an increase of $19,627.23 over the proposed budget for 1944, since provisions must be made for replacement of machinery and other equipment that has been frozen long months, when reconversion to civilian requirements makes such buying possible. The 1945 budget was estimated at $14,440.66.

Miss Mazie Coon, 604 Ave. S. Texas Technological college August geology graduate, recently accepted a position with the Humble Oil Refining company in Houston. She will work in the statistics department and will work directly with the estimates of reserves on properties held by the company. Miss Coon was named outstanding geology student of Tech this year and was presented the annual West Texas Geological Society merit award.

Installation ceremonies for 1944-45 officers of Booker T. Washington negro post of the American Legion are scheduled Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock in Mt. Gilead Baptist church, 1608 Ave. A. Perry Jackson will begin his second term as post commander. Other newly elected officers follow: first vice commander, Sherman Dielrick; second vice commander, Willie Harris; adjutant, Sam Crawford; finance officer, George List; chaplain, Rev. E. W. Criglar; sergeant-at-arms, Frank Wilson; judge advocate, Oscar Iles; and historian, Seth Dunn. Refreshments will be served.

Lubbock Marine Eats First Chicken Dinner On Guam; He And Buddy Run Into A Flock

BY SERGEANT BILL ALLEN
Marine Combat Correspondent

GUAM, Aug. 14. (Delayed)—Chicken for dinner was the unusual result of a Jap sniper hunt conducted here by Marine Private Conridge C. Thomas, of Lubbock Tex. and his buddy, Private First Class Roy H. Mardia of Lebanon, Ky.

Thomas and Mardis were in a group of 10 Marines sent to flush out a Jap sniper, hidden in a thicket 150 yards from a motor transport center. The two men zigzagged toward the clump of trees believed to conceal the sniper.

Several Shots Heard

Then Thomas and Mardis disappeared in the thick undergrowth. Their companions heard several shots. There were a few minutes of silence. Then there was a strangle rustling of brush and rapid running of feet.

Presently, Thomas and Mardis emerged from the thicket. They were hiding something under their coats and were strangely uncommunicative as to what took place in the brush. They admitted having gotten a Jap sniper, but refused to explain further.

Secret Is Discovered

Later, their secret was discovered. The two Southern Marines were found by a fire with chicken spitted on the points of their bayonets.

Private Thomas grinned. "Ran into a flock back there in the hills after we shot that sniper," he explained. "Guess all Southerners like chicken, and when we saw these babies we didn't let the chance pass."

His buddy, Mardis, said: "They'll taste pretty good with this sauce of bouillon powder and salt we got from our K rations."

Thomas and Mardis then ate the first chicken dinner served in the battle for Guam.

Blanks Available For New Gasoline Books

Application blanks for new basic A gasoline ration books, which become valid Sept. 22, are now available at the Lubbock War Price and Rationing board, Frank Ford, chief clerk of the board, announced Saturday. A few of the filling stations have blanks for the convenience of customers.

The new books will be mailed out and will not be issued over the counter, he said. Motorists are cautioned to fill out applications properly to avoid delay in receiving books.

Lubbock automobile owners are urged to get their applications to the board as soon as possible to avoid a last minute rush in processing and mailing. The chief clerk estimated that 12,000 to 15,000 books would be issued in the county.

The form calls for the name and address, description of motor vehicle and signature of applicant. The old A book cover, properly signed, must be attached to the applications, but a tire inspection record is not necessary.

The trial of Jim Thomas, 50-year-old convict charged with murder of Dr. Roy E. Hunt of Littlefield, will be called Monday morning by Judge C. D. Russell in the Hale county courtroom at Plainview.

Dr. and Mrs. Hunt were slain Oct. 26 in their Littlefield residence. Dr. Hunt was shot in the head. Mrs. Hunt was bludgeoned over the right eye so savagely her skull was broken.

A confused tangle of bonds held the bodies together in bed—rope and heavy packing twine, a lamp cord, neckties, a leather belt and a metal clotheshanger.

Found By Small Daughter

In the wan light of that early Tuesday a little girl was destined to discover the chamber of horrors. She was Jo Ann, a daughter of the Hunts. She was only 5. Orphaned by a double-blow she could not understand, she crept from a closet where a masked man had anaesthetized her into drugged sleep, took a horrified glance into her parents' room, ran back to her bedroom and grabbed up her sister Jane, then 2, and fled in flimsy nightclothers to the residence of a neighbor.

Thomas was arrested the day afterward, at Galveston.

He told officials who brought him to Lubbock and held him here continuously, that he had been in Galveston the day of the slayings, and the day before. He said he was with a "married woman," that it would not be "'chivalrous" to give her name. He didn't. He signed no statements. He has maintained his innocence all along, through repeated questioning.

Widespread Investigation

"I can't tell you anything that would help me," he was quoted as having once said.

Investigation into Thomas' background in crime and into all ramifications suggested by such a case became statewide, and branched into other states.

A reward of more than $13,500 was posted, most of it having been subscribed at Littlefield, population 3,817.

Governor Stevenson issued a proclamation calling on every resource of law enforcement agencies in running down every tenuous thread of evidence. The area press made demands.

Search For Pistol

At Amarillo, the Canadian river was diverted from its quicksand course in attempts to locate a pistol an Amarilloan said had disappeared from his desk when Thomas was known to have been in Potter county. The weapon was not found.

Investigation files became bulky, then unweildy.

Thomas, a short time before the slayings had been released on parole from the Texas penitentiary for surgery to correct a leg condition caused by bullets from the gun of Baxter Honey, a guard, at the Maitland Jones estate, in a gun duel here the morning of July 26, 1942. He was indicted April 10. Venue was changed from Olton to Plainview on Judge Russell's own motion of Aug. 7, and his bond continued at $25,000.

Employs Counsel

Upon his arraignment, Thomas said he had employed George McCarthy of Amarillo and Curtis Douglas of Pampa as his counsel. District Attorney Harold M. Lamont of Plainview said a week ago that George Dupree, prominent Lubbock attorney, would assist the state as a special prosecutor.

FBI records list Thomas variously: as J. C. Thomas, Jim C. Thomas, James C. Thomas, and James Clyde Thomas. He was charged with robbing a poker game here in 1941, while free on $1,500 bond, he engaged in the gun duel and hand-to-hand fight with Honey. Both men were shot in the legs and, ammunition exhausted, hammered each other with gun butts in a grim fight in the darkness that brought no words from either. Both recovered. Thomas was indicted for assault to murder and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, Oct. 19, 1942. His sentence became effective Feb. 19 and he was delivered to penitentiary authorities March 1, 1943. He was granted a parole from the penitentiary March 13, to Rev. E. H. Gibson, chairman of the Galveston county parole board.

FBI Records Cited

FBI further lists his record: Three years in Texas penitentiary on April 18, 1917, for theft; full pardon granted Jan. 31, 1918.

Investigated Feb. 25, 1931, at Hastings, Neb., in connection with bank robbery, kidnaping and assault with intent to murder, and sentenced to 25 years in Lincoln, Neb., state prison May 9, 1931, for "bank robbery and other crimes." (He served 10 years of the sentence).

March 12, 1942, described as a fugitive wanted for robbery with firearms; jailed by Texarkana Highway patrol.

March 18, 1942, taken to Lubbock to face robbery charge (growing out of the poker game hijacking); no disposition been made in that case.

Investigated in other offenses, including the tariff act, Aug. 7, 1930, at El Paso.

Suspected In Keeton Attack

He was suspected of having anaethetized Mr. and Mrs. Lonro Keeton, young Lubbock pair bound in 1939 in their residence with adhesive tape and robbed. Nebraska prison officials said Thomas had a working knowledge of anaesthetics.

Officers checked circumstances of Thomas' parole. In Austin, records of the state board of pardons and paroles contained a letter from Dr. M. D. Hanson, medical supervisor at the Huntsville prison. Dated May 12, 1943, it told the state board "This inmate is now an invalid in the prison hospital and will be in no condition to escape or leave the hospital at Galveston. If he doesn't receive surgical aid, in my opinion, he will not live more than a few months."

Newton Assault Case

Another case having to do with the ill-fated last year and a half of the lives of the 36-year-old physician and his 26-year-old wife will be called in Plainview the week of Sept. 5. Dr. W. R. Newton of Cameron will be tried a second time for assault with intend to murder Dr. Hunt the early morning of May 21, 1942, near Littlefield.

Dr. Hunt said in the first trial, at Olton, that Dr. Newton shot him twice and that Mrs. Newton was a witness. Dr. Newton was given a seven-year penitentiary sentence, but the court of criminal appeals reversed the conviction March 15 and remanded the action for a new trial. In June, the court denied a state motion for rehearing. The higher court said evidence was improperly admitted in the Olton hearing. Venue in the case was moved to Plainview Aug. 7.

Wife Also Charged

Mrs. Newton faces a similar charge. Her trial was called Nov. 15, and Judge Russell moved venue to Hale county on his own motion.

Thomas is under $25,000 bond, never posted, and Newton posted $20,000, his wife $15,000.

Lubbock Navy Officer Cited For Courageous Service In Saving Ship

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 26.—Thomas J. McWilliams, Lt. (jg) 31, Lubbock, Texas, received a commendation and ribbon bar, an award of the Secretary of the Navy, for courageous services, at the Naval Training Center's weekly review. Capt. Beverley R. Harrison, commanding officer, made the presentation.

Lt. McWilliams, son of Mr. and Mrs. William D. McWilliams, San Benito, Texas, and husband of the former Miss Sara Sue Stewart, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Allen T. Stewart of Lubbock, Texas, while commanding officer of the United States Armed guard aboard the S. S. Robin Sherwood during convoy operations from Wales to Newfoundland, worked untiringly for a period of five days distributing weight to prevent the ship from rolling over when ballast shifted aboard his vessel, causing her to lose steerageway, by his efforts and tenacious devotion to duty he attributed greatly in bringing the vessel safely into port.

Lt. McWilliams who graduated from Texas Tech college with a BBA degree, enlisted in the Navy, July 21, 1942 at Denver, Colo., spent 17 months as an Armed Guard officer during which period he made six trips to England and one to North Africa.

Prior to enlisting, he was employed in the statistical department of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co., Denver. Campaign badges awarded include American Theater, European-African.

Yanks In Philippines To Get Relief Money

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP) — A monthly allotment of $10 relief money may be sent to each American prisoner of war in the Philippines under an agreement the State department has negotiated with the Japanese through the Swiss government.

Refugee Allied POW In Switzerland Freed

LONDON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Allied prisoners of war who escaped into Switzerland from Italian and French camps now are able to join up again with Allied forces who speared to the Swiss border of France.

Airmen, however, who bailed out or were forced down over Switzerland on missions taking them over that area cannot rejoin. They were presumed to have been on belligerent missions and were interned. They are allowed outside Swiss camps on parole but are not attempting to leave the country.

The prisoners of war from Italy and France entered Switzerland as refugees, and were not given paroles.

Prospects Bright For Returning Texas Vets To Find Jobs Aplenty

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

When Johnny, jr., comes marching home to Texas, chances are bright he'll have a job waiting for him.

In 1918, Johnny, sr., was cheered, banqueted and forgotten too soon. Today far-reaching and far-sighted public and private organizations are busily preparing for the war-to-peace transition.

War workers themselves are helping, and the trek back to farm and kitchen has started. As war projects close, many released employes decide against seeking similar jobs although 350,000 are still available. Many women are becoming housewives again and glad of it, many men are returning to their plows, figures compiled by the United States Employment service indicate.

Centers To Be Hard Hit

Communities hardest hit will be the larger war centers, and these cities are the ones now working hardest on post-war projects. The committee for economic development is conducting extensive surveys in Dallas, Fort Worth and all large cities among both employes and employers to determine jobs needed compared with jobs available. The CED goes further: it is creating new industries to absorb today's skilled workers and the men now at war but who will soon be looking for jobs. It will not, however, actually place men in jobs.

In Fort Worth, for example, the CED has found cause for optimism: 1084 firms reported they would need 72,978 persons within a year of the war's close in contrast to 29,604 employed in 1940. The city has 102,000 in its labor force today. Shrinkage the first year will be only about 2,600 and projects now assured will more than absorb this number.

Dallas Prospects Bright

The Dallas CED has mailed 50,000 questionnaires and although it is not ready to release figures, Nathan Adams, chairman of the industrial committee of the chamber of commerce, indicated prospects are bright despite closing of major war industries.

Released for the first time Saturday are these figures: 20 post-war industries, needing one half million square feet of building space, already have said they were ready to open factories in Dallas as soon as buildings were available and priorities obtained on materials, chamber of commerce officials stated.

Dallas has approximately 35,000 men and women in the armed services. Over 1,000 are being released each month and are being absorbed by industry. Nationally, the draft is taking about 140,000 a month and the armed services are releasing between 45,000 and 50,000. So far, jobs have been available for all who seek them, even those physically handicapped by injuries.

Releases To Be Gradual

Release of veterans when peace is signed will be gradual, giving industry a chance to retool and get into production and have jobs ready for them, according to C. E. Fritts, chief veteran placement officer of the USES. The only rough period might be the early months when there will be places for men to work, but nothing for them to work with, pointed out L. H. Smith, executive director of the Dallas veteran service center. Salesmen will have potential products to sell, but it will take time for the factories to produce the items. The gradual release of the veterans, plus the government's "GI bill of rights" will smooth this period, he predicted.

Veterans will be given opportunities to take college courses, or vocational training courses, at government expense. Hundreds of thousands of today's soldiers have not finished college.

A local problem is housing, says Orville W. Erringer, area WMC director. Rentals are too high for incomes of ex-soldiers, many newly-married.

The North American Aviation layoff is a national guinea pig and is being watched closely to see how a major cutoff will react on a community. So far, 3,300 have been released. Over 2,000 quit to seek other jobs, anticipating layoffs. Of this total, 2,200 have obtained statements of availability, leaving 1,100 who apparently are in no hurry to go to work. Of the 2,200, 38 per cent have been referred to new jobs; 14 percent have been actually hired; 24 per cent are still dickering with recruiters. A large proportion are either not looking for work, or have returned to kitchens and farms or non-essential industry, says John Ross, labor market analyst of the USES.

Post-war jobs depend much upon what the women decide to do. In 1940, 59,788 women were working in Dallas county. Now 101,788 are working, an increase of about 42,000. About 30,000 are expected to quit working, leaving 12,000 to be absorbed.

Smaller Texas communities have lost in population and in number of operating businesses during the war. Returning veterans and war workers will boost potential customers, open new stores and industries, create their own jobs.

Dog Twice Saves Life Of Abilene Soldier In France

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP) — A heroic dog is with his Texas master in a hospital in England through orders of Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, the British information service has reported.

The story:

Thanks to Gen. Montgomery, who understood the bond between a boy and his dog, "Sergeant Fleabite" sits beside Pvt. Roy L. Mantooth of Abilene, Tex., in a hospital in England.

The "Sergeant" — a Pomeranian spitz — twice saved his master's life in the battle for St. Lo and was later on the stretcher when the 28-year-old private was moved from the front with shrapnel wounds.

Montgomery visited the hospital in France, saw the boy and his dog and personnally ordered that they be allowed to remain together right back to England.

Trained Together

"I wouldn't take a million dollars for Fleabite," said Mantooth. "I had him in South Carolina at camp. We trained together and he learned to head for a foxhole during shelling. That's how he saved our lives. I and Pvt. Glenn Smith from Ohio were watching the enemy behind a mound of dirt with Fleabite lying between us. Suddenly I felt Fleabite race across my shoulders. That's what he used to do when he heard an 88 mm shell coming before we did. So I went right after him, Smith taking off in the opposite direction. After I hit the foxhole I looked back. That screaming minnie had hit right where we were lying.

"Another time Sergeant scented a bunch of Jerries creeping up on us. His warning enabled us to get in first with hand grenades."

Defendants To Appeal 'Usury' Case Verdict

AUSTIN, Aug. 26 (AP) — Notice of appeal was on file today by 30 defendants from a final judgment entered by Dist. Judge J. D. Moore late yesterday permanently enjoining them from charging usurious interest rates.

Jury verdict in the case was given in 98th district court June 20. The defendants allegedly operated 90 loan offices. The judgment upheld validity of the state's new injunction law against habitual usurers.

Big Post-War Road Program Planned

AUSTIN, Aug. 26. (AP)—Should the war end immediately and materials become available the state Highway department could submit to contractors' bids plans for road improvements costing approximately $40,000,000.

And 30 days later additional plans for about $20,000,000 more in badly needed road work could be offered for bids.

The Highway department's planning program—expedited because construction work has slowed materially during war years—has reached this stage, State Highway Engineer Dewitt C. Greer declared today.

Although Congress has not acted finally on legislation which would give financial aid to the states in post-war road building, state highway officials generally expect some form of federal assistance to be forthcoming.

Even if it is not, there are many road improvements that necessarily must be made and Texas has been saving some of its highway funds for this purpose. Since construction necessarily has been curtailed during the war large portions of state highway funds have been invested in short term federal bonds. This investment totals $30,000,000 and can be converted quickly into cash when needed for construction.

Paris Bureau Of UP Is Reopened

BY HENRY T. GORRELL
United Press War Writer

UNITED PRESS BUREAU, Paris Aug. 26—We brought dusty typewriters our of hiding today and formally reopened the Paris bureau of the United Press at No. 2 Rue des Italiens.

This dispatch is being written on a typewriter which surely would have long since traveled to Germany had not Emilio Herrero, Spanish employe of the United Press Paris staff, not concealed it with the other typewriters and vital office records in his home.

The Germans stole the fine mahogany desks but Ralph Heinzen's old office retains its red and green magnificence and the office where the late Ed Keen, for so many years U. P.'s European vice-president sat in dignity is almost untouched.

Ernie Pyle In Group

As we jeeped across the Pont Neuf over the Seine, Richard McMillan, Ernie Pyle and I had tried to guess what we would find of the old quarters at 2 Rues des Italiens, close by the opera and in the heart of the grand boulevard section.

The bridges over the Seine were intact but we had to crawl past barricades of trucks, tree branches and cobblestones. Some fine old buildings were scarred by the schrapnel but in the main the damage was not great.

Near the bureau were several burned out German tanks which the French had destroyed with champagne bottles filled with petrol. Halting the jeep in front of number 2 we found ourselves surrounded by scores of French women, old men and children who wept with joy and insisted on kissing us over and over.

From the door rushed the caretaker's wife, immediately recognizing McMillan, who had spent many pre-war years assigned here.

"Ah, you have returned at last!" she exclaimed. "Vive l'Amerique."

Brownfield Man In First U. S. Outfit To Fight On Chinese Soil In Present War

By ALBERT RAVENHOLT
United Press War Writer

ON THE BURMA ROAD, West of the Salween River, Aug. 25.—The first Americans to fight on Chinese soil in this war are units of a United States anti-aircraft gun outfit on Mount Sungshan, who pour thousands of rounds of explosive shells daily into Japanese trenches and pillboxes in support of Chinese infantry trying to liquidate a mountain road block to Burma.

In what some of them call "battle clouds"—they're nearly 5,000 feet above the angry Salween river—these GI's are giving valuable support to the Chinese assault teams.

Near Enemy Fortifications

Their guns are only a few hundred yards from the enemy fortifications on an opposite mountain peak. Last week they broke up a Japanese counter-attack against a series of fortifications just captured by the Chinese. They cut to bits the enemy columns trying to get back up the slopes they had just lost.

Firing through slits in their log and mud bunkers and from breastworks built by the Japs and later enlarged by Chinese troops, this outfit finally has come to grips with the enemy after sweating it out for 27 months in the China-Burma-India theater.

During the past three weeks they are credited with knocking down two Japanese planes confirmed and two more probables.

Knocked Down Zero

"The Chinese gave us credit for another Jap plane the other day," said 1st Lt. William H. Fulford, of Montgomery, Ala. "A Jap plane came in close last week trying to drop medical supplies. The boys climbed out with everything we had—Bren guns, tommy guns, rifles and pistols. Later the Chinese found a Jap Zero shot down on the next ridge."

Cpl. Buster Beck, Brownfield, Texas, was just cleaning his gun prepatory to the next Jap attack when I met him in the log-protected trench. Nearby were Cpl. Thomas N. McGuire, Omaha, Neb., one-time mayor of "Boys Town," and Pvt. 1/C. Frederick Lucio, Bronx, N. Y.

They said their main trouble was with enemy knee mortars. The Japanese fire had punctured the water jacket of their gun the day before, and they had plugged it with a wooden stick.

Down below, the brown thread of the Burma road snakes through the ground mists. Blue and purple mountains and the mighty gash of the Salween resemble a relief map magnified to life size.

The men say that two thirds of the time, the mists hang close to their position and it is impossible to see to fight.

Sledge-Hammer Blows On Nazis Mounting In Mighty Crescendo

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Events of this August week-end were so obviously snowballing to a crisis for Germany in Europe that speculation was rife as to whether total Nazi collapse might be only weeks, not months, away.

In France, Allied forces were swiftly weaving the struggle into an old familiar pattern that spelled German defeat a quarter century ago. German evacuation of all France west of the Somme-Marne line was so certainly in progress under pulverizing Allied attack that Nazi commentators admitted the retreat.

SIMPSON

And even that line, the last short of German frontiers, was gravely menaced. Two vast and powerful American forces and a reborn French Army were converging for a junction in the plains of France southeast of liberated Paris.

Their meeting would do more than close the trap on remnants of the Nazi occupation troops in France south and west of that Allied line. It would aim an immediate flanking threat at the Somme-Marne front before the Nazis even reach it. It would expose the Rhine itself to Allied assault.

Allied Spearheads

It is that way the most dangerous Allied spearheads are thrusting up the Loire, the upper Seine and the Rhone under a significant headquarters news blackout as to their exact position.

Romanian surrender has brought no pause by charging Russian forces already knocking at the Galati gateway to the Danube valley. Bulgaria is too clearly on her way out of the war to be a factor of consequence. Hungary is rocked by political convulsions. There are intimations that a Nazi retreat from the whole Balkan peninsula already has set in.

The outline of a total encirclement of Germany probably long ago envisioned in Russian-Allied strategy councils is taking shape. It remains only for events in Finland, Norway and Denmark to complete its meshing around the shriveling greater Reich of Hitler's soap-bubble dream.

Legion Plans 'Young American Party'

Members of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion will be hosts at a "young American party" Monday night at 8 o'clock in the home, 910 Texas avenue, according to C. A. Hubbard, commander.

Guests are to include boys who represented the post during a "boys' state" event in Austin, winners of school and other oratorical awards, members of the junior baseball team and Boy Scout chairmen. Parents of the boys also have been invited to attend, as well as members of the Legion auxiliary. Refreshments will be served.

Flame-Throwers Used On Tanks In France

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP) — Tank - mounted flame - throwers, which hurl a blaze 450 feet long, are being used with "deadly effect" against German strongholds in France, the British reported last night.

The 41-ton weapon, named the "Churchill Crocodile," was introduced to the Nazis on the Normandy beaches, and has proved to be the most powerful flame-thrower in the world, the British agency said. It even throws lethal blazes around corners.

HERRIOT SAID ALIVE

LISBON, Aug. 26 (AP)— Edouard Herriot, 72-year-old former president of France, still is alive somewhere in France although the Germans several times have reported him dead, Jules Sauerwein, a French newspaperman, said here last night. Sauerwein fled Paris before the patriots began their attacks against German occupying forces.

Assessment Plan On Cattle May Change

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)— Revised federal income tax regulations for assessing the value of breeding cattle is expected to be given final approval and announced by the Bureau of Internal Revenue within the next few days.

Representative Fisher (D-Tex), after a conference with BIR officials, said details were unavailable now but that generally speaking the regulations would formally authorize use of the "constant value method" of assessment as sought by the cattle industry.

The "constant value method" plan was developed years ago by the livestock industry to show the variation in numbers of cattle valued at a constant price, such a price representing either the first per animal cost of his herd to the stockman, or his estimate of its normal conservative value.

During the past two years the BIR had ordered some of its regional offices to try out new systems of assement in which the individual animal was reassessed annually in line with changing market values. The livestock industry fought for a continuation of the constant value plan.

Church Worker For 50 Years To Be Honored

LORENZO, Aug. 26. (Special)— Mrs. W. P. (Bunch) Fullingham's 50th anniversary as a Sunday school teacher will be commemorated by members of her class at the First Baptist church at 12 o'clock noon Sunday, Sept. 3.

Mrs. Fullingim, who has taught in the Baptist church here 15 years or more, began teaching Sunday school in San Saba and formerly taught in the Floydada and Estacado churches. Former members of her classes in other towns are invited to the celebration.

Lunch will be served in the basement of the church followed by a program in the main auditorium.

Churches' Convention To Be In San Antonio

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Aug. 26 (AP)——Southwestern Christian churches will hold their 1945 convention in San Antonio.

The selection was made last night by the final business session of the annual meeting here which also elected the Rev. Mortimer A. Hawk of Albuquerque as 1945 convention president.

The convention includes churches in Idaho, California, Arizona, Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas and New Mexico.

Heavy Floods Develop In Northern Kansas

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 26. (AP)— Unprecedented August floods developed along northern Kansas rivers today in the wake of widespread heavy rains.

"A very bad overflow" hit the Blue river, a moderate flood was brewing along the Republican and the Kaw threatened to approach disastrous flood levels of last April.

Democrats Turn Attention To Party's State Session At Dallas; Roosevelt-Truman Club Growing In County; Big Meeting Planned

With Saturday's run-off primary election behind them, Democrats of Lubbock county this week will turn their attention to the approaching state convention at Dallas, Sept. 12.

Indications are that the state party confab will be one of the stormiest in history with two factions already "choosing sides."

Pro-Roosevelt leaders, who organized themselves into a Roosevelt-Truman club here two weeks ago plan to send a regular delegation to Dallas although none of them were named in the Lubbock county convention here on July 29 in which the antis steamrolled a "select" list of delegates for the Dallas convention.

Club Is Growing

Pro-Roosevelt leaders over the state claim enough delegates to control the convention and thereby revoke the action of the May convention at Dallas which instructed the electors to vote for some other person than Roosevelt for president.

The Lubbock County Roosevelt-Truman club will have a membership of between 5,000 and 6,000 persons by the time a county-wide meeting is held either late this week or next, W. W. Campbell, president of the club, said Saturday.

"People from all over the country are rallying to our case daily and we had to have some more membership pledge cards printed in order to supply them all, Campbell added.

To Set Meeting

Date of the big county-wide meeting will be set this week, J. O. Jones, chairman of the executive committee of the club, said Saturday.

Practically every member of the County Democratic Executive committee is in favor of the Roosevelt-Truman ticket, L. C. Ellis, chairman, said Saturday after a meeting of the group here Friday. Several members were absent but Ellis said he felt sure they favored supporting the party nominees.

Homer L. Pharr, selected a member of the Texas electorial college by the May convention and one of eight electors of the 23 members who plans to vote the Roosevelt-Truman ticket, disclosed Saturday that he has "been nearly covered up with literature" since party friction has increased.

Might Be O'Daniel

One of the letters from John F. Crooker, Houston attorney, included a statement which he sent for electors to sign prior to the Dallas convention, binding themselves to vote "as instructed by the May convention." The statement also said "In selecting Democrats whose political philosophy is in harmony with that of our regular state convention, we have in mind such men as Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, Senator Walter F. George of Georgia, our own Governor Coke Stevenson, our own Senator W. Lee O'Daniel, former Governor Mike Connor of Mississippi and former Governor Sam Jones of Louisiana."

Byrd has since declared he is not a candidate but Crooker, in a public interview, stated the 15 electors would vote for him regardless.

How many of the anti-Roosevelt deelgates would attend the Dallas convention has not been indicated. The regular delegates named in the county session were: Geo. A. Simmons, Geo. W. Dupree, Dean A. H. Leidigh, E. L. Klett, James O. Cade, Powell McWhirter, Durwood Bradley, Jeff Watson, J. D. Hassell, W. O. Fortenberry, H. H. Van Aken, Joe H. Bryant, W. L. Morrison, Mark Halsey and Harry Holcomb.

Final Recreation Programs Set

The summer program sponsored by the city recreation department will be brought to a close Thursday with activities starting at 9:30 a. m. and continuing until midnight, according to an announcement Saturday by Mrs. Grace Dyess, superintendent.

Major activities will include a city-wide field meet in Mackenzie State park from 9:30 a. m. until 3 p. m.; a swim meeting in city swimming pool in Mackenzie park from 3 until 5:30 p. m.; and a community dance and floor show featuring the best talent from all parks in the Texas Technological college gymnasium from 9 p. m. until midnight.

A community dance and program for negroes is scheduled for negroes in Pleasure Gardens from 9 o'clock until midnight.

For Mexicans, an open air program in the playfield adjoining Mexican park from 9 until 10 p. m. will include selections by the Augustin Solelo orchestra and native dances in costume.

In preparation for the field events, Mrs. Dyess announced, elimination contests are scheduled in each park Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday night, in most instances from about 8 to 9:30 p. m. First place winners will qualify for final contests in Mackenzie Thursday.

Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, children are to assemble with their respective leaders in various parks. Transportation will be furnished to Mackenzie.

Mrs. Dyess asked each child to prepare a sack lunch to be served during the noon hour. Soft drinks will be provided free.

Supervising the field events will be A. C. Hamilton and Miss Julia Wilbanks, members of the recreation department staff. Judges will be T. M. Cox, Jay Kerr and Spider Dillon.

In the swim meet, separate divisions of competition will be provided for juniors, intermediates and seniors among both boys and girls. Jerry LeMond will supervise the meet. Judges will be Jack Alderson, Jerry Crawford and Marion Manderson.

The Seven Aces will play for the dance in the Tech gym. An added feature of the program there will be the presentation of certificates to champions in city-wide tennis, badminton and softball.

Brewster Accused Of Trying To Incite Row

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP) — Ralph A. Bard, under secretary of the Navy, asserted today that the Brewster Aeronautical corporation has sought "to incite a controversy between the workers and the Navy department" by failing to make payments on $1,500,000 of retroactive wage adjustments.

He made the assertion in a letter to Preston Lockwood, president of Brewster, which he signed as acting Secretary of the Navy in the absence of Secretary Forrestal.

Skeptical Nazis Get Proof Of War's Turn

WILMINGTON, Del., Aug. 26 (AP)—The Army disclosed today that German prisoners captured in Normandy have joined others captured in Africa at a prisoner of war camp at Fort Du Pont.

Col. John J. Harris, commanding officer, said the Africa Corps veterans hadn't believed what the, heard about the Normandy campaign and that when the newcomers arrived they asked:

"How come?"

Safety, Books Are Topics For Clubs

Miss Clara Pratt gave suggestions for safety in the use of electricity when she spoke to Sunshine Home Demonstration club Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. T. A. Baber. Members answered roll call with helpful household hints.

Present were Mesdames C. H. Brown, Floyd Lee, O. H. Scott, J. H. Beasley, Melvin Young, H. K. Hicks, Clyde Sanders, J. R. Bridges, C. S. Trammel, J. H. Scott and T. C. Scott.

Monroe Home Demonstration club met in the home of Mrs. E. J. Exum Thursday for a program on "The World's Best Seller."

Taking parts were Mrs. George Hunter who gave a summary of the book, "A Return to Religion," (Link), Mrs. W. H. Emory gave the history of the Bible and Mrs. Earl Hobbs spoke on women of the Bible. The Twenty-third Psalm was repeated by the group.

Others present were Mesdames W. O. Fortenberry, John Harrell, E. W. Smith, L. L. Watson, P. B. Justice, E. B. Hobbs and D. G. Hobbs.

The club will meet Sept. 8 in the home of Mrs. Fortenberry. Miss Pratt will give a demonstration on washing and dry cleaning.

AGENCY LIQUIDATED

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP)— President Roosevelt today ordered liquidation of the division of central administrative services in the Office for Emergency management, which has 1,500 employes in Washington and 2,200 in the field. The personnel will be absorbed into other government service.

Staking Of 7,500-Foot Wildcat Test In Lynn County, Northwest Garza Completion Are Week's Highlights

STAKING of location for a 7,500-foot wildcat in central-west Lynn county, was the outstanding oil development of the last week on the South Plains.

The discovery for commercial petroleum production in northwest Garza county, which has been testing for several weeks, was officially completed.

In Gaines county, outposts to two lower Permian producing districts were announced, and two interesting explorations in that county were abandoned and plugged as dry.

To Start Tests

Lamb county's possible discovery for production of petroleum encountered granite, and is due to start making tests of the sections between 5,300 feet and 6,400 feet, which have shown considerable signs of oil and gas.

D. D. Feldman, Dallas operator, staked location for his No. 1 C. O. Edwards, 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 312, block 3, EL survey, about five miles west and slightly north of Tahoka, in central-west Lynn county.

Drilling to the scheduled destination of at least 7,500 feet is due to start by Oct. 1. Feldman had a block of 12,344.45 acres surrounding the drillsite. Informed sources reveal that several operators have taken protection in the block.

Garza Well, Producer

Honolulu Oil corporation and Devonian Oil company No. 1 Payton, section 1421, TT survey, 14 miles northwest of Post in northwest Garza county, has been officially completed and put on production.

During a 24-hour pumping test the well produced 131.11 barrels of oil plus 30.35 barrels of sulphur water. The production came from the zone between the bottom of the 5½-inch casing, which had been cemented at 3,545 feet, and the plugged-back total depth at 3,565 feet.

The project was drilled to a bottom of 3,768 feet, and then plugged-back by degrees to the present total depth. The section which was shutoff had considerable water.

Offset To Discovery

Shell Oil company, Inc., No. 1 C. E. Coombes, 660 feet from the south and east lines of a 213-acre lease in the Southeast quarter of section 492, block G, CCSD & RGNG survey, in northwest Gaines county, is a due west offset, and 1,320 feet, removed from the discovery well of the Russell field, which produces from the Clear Fork, lower Permian.

Drilling to the pay zone is due to start immediately. The bottom of the hole when completed will be around 7,800 feet. The three producers which have been added to the field since the initial producer was completed, are south and southwest of the discovery Shell's No. 1 Leaverton, completed early in 1943.

To Drill To 7,800 Feet

Amon Carter and Phillips Petroleum company No. 5-B A. L. Wasson, 1,760 feet from the east and south lines of section 49, block AX, psl survey, is a southwest extension effort for the lower Permian producing sector of the Wasson area in north Gaines county.

This development is to drill to 7,800 feet, and will try for production in both the Wasson "deep" zone, around 6,600 feet, and the Wasson "72" formation, at about 7,600 feet.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1 Riley, section 79, block H, D&W survey, six miles west of the Cedar Lake pool, in northwest Gaines, has been abandoned as dry, after drilling to a total depth of 5,276 feet, in the San Andres lime.

Some Shows Encountered

Immediately prior to plugging, the well tested the Yates section between 3,200-3,300 feet. Nothing developed. Some oil shows have been encountered in the lower section of this hole, but testing did not show enough oil to overcome the more abundant amounts of sulphur water which accompanied the petroleum indications.

The Texas company No. 1 Brown, league 311, Gaines county schoool land survey, in southeast Gaines, has been abandoned on a total depth of 5,650 feet in lime. No oil signs were found, and there were evidences of sulphur at the bottom.

To Run Casing

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Jackson, section 119, block A, Thompson survey, in southeast Lamb county, had cored through six feet of red granite, to a bottom of 7,185 feet, and was due to run a string of casing and start making tests of the zones between 5,300 feet and 6,400 feet, in the Permian lime, where considerable indications of possible commercial oil and gas production had been shown by cores and drill stem tests, while the exploration was being drilled.

Woodley Petroleum company No. 1 Bird, section 66, block 7, Thompson survey, in south-central Lamb county, had reached 2,270 feet in anhydrite and redrock, and was drilling ahead. This test is contracted to 7,250 feet to test through the formations which have shown oil in the Humble wildcat, to the southeast.

Good Well Indicated

Stanolind No. 1 Harless, section 24, block A, Thompson survey, a due north outpost to the initial producer in the Smyer pool, in central-east Hockley county, was on a total depth of 5,864 feet, in the Clear Fork lime, and has set a string of 5½-inch casing at 5,790 feet ith 150 bags of cement, and as waiting for the plug to cure.

On a core at 5,844-64 feet, the recovery was ten feet of dolomite, with good oil stain and good porosity. Indications are that this test will make at least as good a well as the two projects in the field which have already been completed.

Stanolind No. 1-B Cobb, a one-location east flanker for the lone producer in the Yellowhouse field, in central-west Hockley county, and in labor 15, league 718, State Capital lands, was bottomed at 4,673 feet in lime, and was running tubing and rods, preparatory to making a pumping test of the oil producing zones which have been encountered.

Shows Oil Streaks

Most of the formation between the bottom of the oil string at 4,566 feet, and the present total depth, had shown oil in streaks.

On a recent swabbing test the well made an average of two and three-quarter barrels of oil per hour for 17 hours, with a cut of five per cent basic sediment and two per cent water.

Official completion was reported from the two wells which have been finished in the Chipley area in east-central Cochran county, about five miles north of the main Slaughter field, and approximately two and one half miles northwest of the farthest north extension which had been completed as a producer, prior to the finding of oil in the Chipley district.

Pumps 188 Barrels

San Andres Production company No. 1 Clouser, labor 18, league 62, Midland county school land survey, the discovery well for the extension, pumped 188.90 barrels of oil in 24 hours, on official Railroad Commission test, after treating with 9,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 600-1. The pay section is at 4,860-75 feet.

Cherry & Kidd No. 1 D. A. Lewis, a due east stepout from the San Andres discovery, and in labor 19, league 62, Midland county school land survey, injected a total of 15,000 gallons of acid, by stages, and make a 24-hour pumping potential of 184.23 barrels. The pay zone was at 4-863-78 feet.

Honolulu Oil corporation No. 1 Hertel, section 264, block D, Gibson survey, about six miles north of Tokio, in northeast Yoakum county, was making hole below 5,120 feet, in lime. It was expecting a soft streak around 5,300 feet, which might yield oil.

To Go To 7,600 Feet

Skelly Oil company No. 1 Hodges, section 446, block D Gibson survey, in central-west Yoakum, about six miles west and slightly north of Plains, had progressed past 4,914 feet in lime, and was going ahead. This development is due to drill to around 7,600 feet to explore through the Permian formation.

Stanolind No. 1 Locke, section 96, block M, EL survey, about 14 miles west of Lamesa, in west Dawson county, had reached 5,012 feet, in dolomite and was coring ahead. This exploration has cored for a considerable section. The latest cuttings have been porosus dolomite, with signs of water. Slight oil staining was found above the current level, but none of it was of any quantity.

Richmond Drilling company No. 1 Nelson, section 34, block M, EL survey, in northwest Dawson, had reached 1,975 feet in redrock, and was going ahead. It is a 5,500-foot wildcat.

Progress In Other Tests

Shell No. 1 Sparks, section 3, block B-13, psl survey, in southwest Gaines county, had progressed below 8,590 feet, in dolomite, and was continuing. No appreciable oil showings have been found in this test, unofficial sources report.

Humble No. 1 Doss, section 9, block A-24, psl survey, about six miles south of Seminole, in south-central Gaines, had penetrated under 8,148 feet, and was drilling ahead in lime.

Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 Jones, northwest Gaines wildcat to 7,600 feet, two miles west of the Wasson field, and in section 59, block AX, psl survey, had made hole below 6,401 feet, in lime and was continuing.

Flows 3,744 Barrels

Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation No. 1-7 University, section 20, block 13, University survey, two miles south of the southwest side of the Fullerton pool, where the oil comes from the lower Permian between 6,800 feet and 7,500 feet, has been completed as a new wildcat discovery from the Silurio-Devonian zone, which is between the Permian and the Ordovician, for a daily flowing potential of 3,744 barrels of 40 gravity oil.

The production was through perforations in the casing at 8,460-8,600 feet. The pay section was washed with 1,000 gallons of acid.

This development is classed as a major discovery for West Texas. Its showings will likely cause a widespread drilling campaign over various sections of the area in efforts to find more production in that zone, which has been found to yield oil in a few widely scattered sections of the Permian Basin.

Application Is Filed

Stanolind Oil & Gas company has filed a formal drilling application for No. 1 E. L. Slaughter, to be 440 feet from the north and east lines of labor 49, league 101, Jeff Davis county school land survey, in north-central Cochran county. This test had been previously announced as an 8,500-foot exploration. The drilling application calls for a 9,000-foot hole.

Drilling is to start during next week. The test is on a block of 5,700 acres which Stanolind recently acquired.

The Texas company No. 1 Tunnell, section 451, block 1, EL survey, in southeast Lynn county, is still trying to recover stuck drillpipe. Total depth is at 5,783 feet in lime.

Phillips No. 1-A Bartley, section 1372, block L, EL survey, in east-central Lynn, had reached 4,457 feet, and was drilling ahead.

Demos' Convention Planners To Meet

AUSTIN, Aug. 26. (AP)—A subcommittee on arrangements for the state Democratic convention at Dallas Sept. 12 will meet at Dallas Tuesday, executive Committee Chairman George Butler of Houston announced here.

The committee, headed by J. A. Phillips of Houston, with John J. O'Hern of Laredo, vice chairman, will perfect the physical details of the session, which will be held at Fair Park auditorium.

Executive committee sources believed three contesting delegations would be heard by a credentials sub-committee in Dallas on Saturday, Sept. 9, preceding the convention, but no definite announcement has been made.

Price Dispute Ties Up Shrimping Fleet

GALVESTON, Aug. 26 (U.P.) — The isle's shrimping fleet was tied up today and fresh shrimp had virtually disappeared from the local market, reportedly because of a price dispute between a newly-chartered union and major shrimp dealers.

The dealers refused to clarify the situation, merely reporting that the trawlers were tied up because of "unfavorable fishing conditions" in the gulf.

The new union, the Texas Fishermen's association, reported through President C. D. McMillan, however, that the tie-up resulted from failure of the dealers to increase prices, which he said are considerably below the ceilings fixed by the OPA.

Wage Stabilization Rules Apply To Gins

Operators of cotton gins in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana, who employ less than nine workers, must make application to the Eighth Regional War Labor board before paying wage rates in excess of those rates paid prior to August 17, 1943. Wage Stabilization rules now apply to all cotton gins regardless of the number of persons employed.

"It has been brought to the attention of the legal division of the War Labor board that some operators of cotton gins are offering wage rates to ginmen and others in excess of the rates previously paid," said A. Langley Coffey, regional attorney of Dallas. "On August 17, 1943, the National War Labor board removed cotton-ginning employees from the exemption provided for in General Order No. 4. Employers of 8 or less workers are no longer exempt from securing board approval for adjustments," concluded Coffey.

Soldier Drowns While Fighting Forest Fire

CASPER, Wyo., Aug. 26. (U.P.)—Searchers today were looking for the body of a soldier stationed at the Casper Army Air field, who was drowned accidentally Thursday in Ten Sleep lake while helping to fight a fire in the Big Horn national forest.

Army authorities identified the soldier as Pvt. Adrian L. Champion, son of Mrs. Martha E. Champion, Mineola, Tex. He was a member of a military police unit at Casper, which was dispatched to the scene of the blaze.

Gallup Poll Finds Agricultural Belt On Side Of Dewey

Roosevelt Has Lost Hold On Farmers In Midwest; Domestic Bungling Is Blamed

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 26 — American farmers today represent one of the mostly strongly Republican groups in the voting population.

In terms of percentage shift away from Roosevelt, their defection since 1940 has been among the largest found for any occupation group in the country. If the presidential election were held today Thomas E. Dewey could expect to carry the vote of all farmers outside the South by nearly 2 to 1.

GALLUP

Those are the highlights of the Institute's latest, balloting among farmers on the Dewey-Roosevelt election. Their reaction, when asked how they would vote if the election were being held at this time, follows:

All Farmers

Dewey	55%
Roosevelt	45

Mid-West Farmers

Dewey	62%
Roosevelt	38

Among the farmers of the South, however, the President continues to have majority support, although there has been some defection since 1940. The Southern farm vote in today's poll is 66 per cent for Roosevelt, 34 per cent for Dewey.

Dewey's favorable position among farmers outside the South explains the Republican strategy of making an extraordinary effort to encourage a large turnout of farmers at the polls in November, to offset the activities of the pro-Roosevelt Political Action committee in getting out the labor vote in the cities.

The trend of farm sentiment over the last eight years is shown in the following table. The percentages are given in terms of the vote for Roosevelt.

	PER CENT FOR FDR 1936	1940	Today
Mid-West Farmers	56%	45%	38%
All Farmers	59	54	45

Reasons for Defection

The drift away from Roosevelt on the farms has been reflected in Institute polls for several years.

Long before the present political campaign, the Institute began conducting studies to answer the all-important question of why farm sentiment outside the South has turned against the New Deal.

To do this, interviewers for the Institute went out and talked to farmers personally—a true cross-section of farmers in all sections producing all the various kinds of crops and foodstuffs—wheat, corn, hogs, cattle, cotton, milk, fruit, etc.

These interviews revealed three principal farm complaints against the Roosevelt administration.

First, farmers accuse Washington of wastefulness and extravagance in allocating public funds for non-military projects. Typical farm comments included: "Squandering money on every project . . . too many costly bureaus eating up salaries which the taxpayers have to pay . . . finances being handled on too loose a set-up."

Second, farmers are critical of the administration's management of domestic affairs, and of what they consider excessive regulation and red-tape imposed by Washington, especially on farmers. "Too much government control . . . too many irritating little rules . . . Washington bureaucrats try to dictate to us . . . They don't need to tell us farmers every little thing to do."

Third, there is bitter farm criticism of President Roosevelt's labor policy, especially as regards labor unions. Farmers interviewed continually stressed the objection that "Roosevelt is coddling the unions." Other criticisms were: "He can't seem to stop strikes . . . Labor unions get a free hand while farmers are regimented . . . This is just a labor government."

Public 'Way Ahead Of FDR On Idea Of Military Training

When President Roosevelt recently put to the public the problem of post-war military training for the nation's youth, polls had already shown the public favoring such a proposal by a majority of nearly 2 to 1.

Approval by the public of the military training proposal about nine months ago provides another indication that the American people are often ahead of their leaders in accepting proposals which they deem in the interests of the nation's welfare.

Another nation-wide survey is now being conducted to see whether the President's statement on the program has increased public sentiment for it.

Maquis Women Came Out Of Hills To Party For Yanks

BY KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH AMERICAN FORCES, Southern France, Aug. 20 (Delayed) — In years to come a score of American soldiers will spend many evenings telling their children and grandchildren about their dance with Maquis women who came out of the woods and hills to pitch a welcome party.

I got the story from Sgt. Stan Swinton, Ann Arbor, Mich., formerly on the staff of the Associated Press and now a Stars and Stripes writer. He talked with the doughboys the next morning when they were still blinking their eyes and wondering if it wasn't just a beautiful dream.

Lived Like Robin Hoods

This is how it happened:

High on a hilltop sits the village of Beaumont, surrounded by timber in which the Maquis — Free French of the interior who have been fighting three or four years as woodsmen — lived like modern Robin Hoods.

The grateful Beaumont villagers wanted to do something for the doughboys. They had seen movies showing how much Americans like to dance.

Voila! That was it. They would give a party and dance.

The 20 officers and men of an artillery and engineers outfit were willing, but where would they get the girls?

Maquis Women Came In

So the villagers sent word into the hills and sure enough the Maquis women came. The bartender of the little tavern where the dance was held moved the chairs off the floor and laid his Sten gun on the bar where it remained all evening — with the drinks passed back and forth over it.

The orchestra was a single accordion — but it was plenty.

And the women! When they came in they laid pistols, maps and bandoliers aside, disappeared a few moments and then reappeared in the little tavern door.

What a transformation! They also had laid aside their heavy fighting clothes. They had put on slips made of the purest parachute silk, from parachutes which the Allies had dropped months ago, and then had donned the pretty print dresses their femininity never would quite permit them to part with during their years of living and fighting in the woods.

"Was Wonderful Party"

"It was a wonderful party — especially Yvonne," said Lt. Bob Silva, Kansas City, and Lt. Robert Dean, of Philadelphia nodded in agreement, adding:

"She put her guns and maps in a purse and just danced. She was beautiful. She had beautiful hands, too, except where she cut her finger lifting a machinegun."

"You would never know she had been fighting Krauts for three years," said Lt. Neil McPhail, Cincinnati." "It was wonderful."

"They all danced . . . As soon as you would finish dancing with one another would come up," said Lt. Clark Depury, Tampa, Fla.

Until after midnight they danced —The Maquis girls as delighted as the doughboys. The burly Maquis bartender grinned happily and watched the villagers who were smiling, too.

Then it ended. The girls went in and changed their clothes. They put away the parachute slips and the print dresses. They donned their fighting clothes, picked up their pistols and maps and hand grenades and went back to the woods to harass the retreating Germans.

Still dazed, the doughboys returned to their jobs of keeping the Germans retreating.

Then the bartender picked up his Sten gun from the bar and disappeared into the night.

The dance with the Maquis women was over.

Grid Camps Open In Texas Friday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Twelve thousand guys in moleskins hold autumn in their hands this week as the Texas schoolboy gridiron legions begin the long march that leads to stadiums of roaring throngs where champions are made.

Friday is the day—the start of the twenty-fifth Interscholastic League campaign.

More than 600 schools will be at it, 104 of them aiming at the high and mighty of the great sheep country — San Angelo's terrific Bobcats.

Others Not Worried

The others of the schoolboy field won't be worrying about Jewell Wallace's juggernaut of the prairie; they will be dashing nito the race for district, bi-district and regional championships. Only the Class AA division, made up this year of 105 teams, plays to a state title. The Class A schools determine regional crowns while Class B and six-man football battle to bi-district titles only.

San Angelo can't be considered in any other light than the favorite to repeat with the championship. Fifteen lettermen, including George Graham, that gorgeous fullback; Ken Carley, fleet halfback, and a line anchored by such worthies as Vernie Horner and Dennis Doyle, means San Angelo may be even better than last year.

It will be no wild sashay to the finals, however. Not only will the opposition be tough but they'll all be "laying" for the Bobcats. There were many who didn't believe what was said about them before last year's campaign opened. They found out too late. They believe it this year.

Amarillo In 1-AA

In the upper bracket of the race you will find veteran-packed teams at Amarillo, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Ysleta, Highland Park (Dallas), Denison, Masonic Home and Paschal of Fort Worth, and inside San Angelo's own district is a strengthened Odessa eleven, and Odessa gave the Bobcats quite a fight last year.

In the lower bracket Breckenridge comes up with 19 lettermen, including six starters from last season among whom is Richard Rowan, All-State end. Waco has eleven lettermen back, Marshall boasts 13 and down at Brackenridge (San Antonio) the critics are boosting George Forehands Eagles to a title-contending spot.

Other Strong Teams

Port Arthur appears the team to beat in District 14 where Goose Creek's Ganders held sway last season in a parade to the state semi-finals. Goose Creek can be strong again with its six lettermen including Ted Hunt, a fine back.

Lufkin, a finalist last year, doesn't look up to it this time but still must be figured as a power in East Texas. There are seven lettermen, including passer Harmon Carswell, while 18 of last year's squad return.

NTAC Gridders Set To Open Scrimmage

ARLINGTON, Tex., Aug. 26 (AP) With a week of light training, including passing, blocking drills and conditioning exercises behind them, the 73 candidates for the North Texas Agricultural college football team next week have their first scrimmage sessions.

The Aggies, who open the schedule Sept. 23 with Tulsa university at Tulsa, will be light and relatively inexperienced this season. The unit now running as the tentative first team averages only 177 pounds in contrast to a 203-pound average last season.

At the end positions, Fred Reuter of New York weighs 175 pounds, and G. H. Blackwood of San Angelo High school, is a 165-pounder.

A. M. Davis of Laverne, Okla., and J. L. James of Collinsville, likely looking tackles, each weighs 200 pounds.

At the guard posts, W. M. Brooks of Ennis and H. F. Harper of Itasca weigh 160 and 185 pounds respectively.

In the backfield, quarterback J. B. Rogers of Austin High school weighs 169; C. G. Hall, transfer from Texas Tech, is a 185-pound left halfback; A. D. McClintock of Haskell, the right halfback, is a 165-pounder, and at fullback, W. F. Reynolds of Wichita Falls, weighs 180.

These boys are certain to be among the mainstays of the squad. They will be augmented by such players as Jesse Burditt, 160-pound back from Abilene who played with the Texas Aggies last season; A. B. Bryan, 185-pound center from Bryan; M. H. Pelovitz, 200-pound guard from Sommerville, New Jersey; and W. V. Deeley, a 210-pound end from San Francisco, who formerly played with St. Mary's university.

Quotas Of Small Arms Ammunition To Rise

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP) — Rep. McKenzie (D-La) has revealed that quotas of small arms ammunition for hunters have been set by the War Production board and more liberal allowances may be expected with the collapse of German resistance.

McKenzie said the WPB is drafting an order to grant the following allotments this season to each hunter: 100 rounds (four boxes) of shotgun shells; 150 rounds (three boxes) of .22 cartridges, and 40 rounds of center-fire cartridges.

The quotas will be issued, McKenzie said, only to licensed hunters who sign official WPB certificates at ammunition dealers.

By mid-September, McKenzie said, the WPB expects to have 65 per cent of the normal supply of small arms ammunition in the hands of dealers.

Lubbock Grid To Have Busy Season

By MACK TURNER
Avalanche-Journal Sports Editor

Lubbock will challenge any other city in the nation of the 50,000 population bracket to it's claim of being the most football minded city in the country, and points to ten organized teams to support the claim. The thundering hoofs of thousands of football stars will be heard this week, and many have already started training grinds, but Friday will be the signal for starting in this city.

TECH TICKET SALE

Season ticket sales for all home games of the Texas Tech Red Raiders will go on sale Friday morning at the Texas Tech gymnasium office, it was announced Saturday. Mail orders for tickets should be addressed to Morley Jennings, Athletic Director, Texas Tech. The Red Raiders play LAAF, Oklahoma A. and M., Southwestern university, New Mexico U., Southern Methodist and SPAAF at the Tech stadium this season.

All but two of the ten schedules have been either completed, or nearly so, but E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director at Lubbock High school, is still seeking games for his Black and Gold Cowhands, hoping to build his schedule to afford eight games for each team.

Some Schedules Complete

The Lubbock Westerners and Texas Tech Red Raiders had completed their schedules early in the spring, and are only awaiting the kickoff. Evidently South Plains Army Air Field is ready to stand on it's present schedule as complete.

Lubbock Army Air Field has an eight game schedule, but the foe for one of these dates is somewhat in doubt. Two teams have been contacted, but the final selection has not been made.

The foes of Lubbock teams will present one of the strongest lineups in the Southwest, with such schools as Texas A. & M., the bowl stars of Tulsa university, Oklahoma A. & M., Rice, Texas Christian (who appears twice on Lubbock schedules), Southern Methodist, West Texas State Teachers, New Mexico, Norman Navy Zoomers, Southwestern of Georgetown (also twice on the schedules), North Texas Aggies, tough Marine bolstered eleven, and many others.

The Westerners face just as rugged a test in their own class, and have five of tough District 3-AA foes on the slate, including the state champion eleven from San Angelo, and Odessa, another team rated to be in the state fight.

Heavy Home Slate

The schedules show 32 games scheduled for Lubbock, but overlap on the three-way matching of Texas Tech, Lubbock Army Air Field and South Plains Army Air Field, but the filling of the schedules for the Cowhands is expected to swell the figure of games in Lubbock to more than 35 games.

The first football game on the schedule will bring together the Lubbock Westerners and the Odessa Bronchos on the night of Sept. 15. From that point on, it will be an almost continual show of fireworks until the December 2 clash at Tech field between the Red Raiders and SPAAF, which closes the finale on the schedules.

The teams at both Army bases have already started workouts, with good turnouts on both squads, and some highly promising material being shown. The Westerners have started limbering up lightly, but under Interscholastic League rules, no football action may be taken before Sept. 1. But that date will find the team ready.

Along with the Westerners will start the Cowhand teams and four teams in Junior High, with coaches lined up for all teams. George Philbrick, who joined the staff last spring in time for spring training, and Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst, who piloted the Seminole Indians to a Regional title last year, will be the Cowhand coaches.

The four-man staff at the Junior High was rounded out during the summer with the signing of Bob Parker lineman with the powerful Georgia Tech Bulldogs, and who was last year in the preflight training position at Texas Tech, where he was the head of the mathematics department.

Russell Wimberley and Curtis Barrett will return this season, and Roy Morris, former Hardin-Simmons star, was added during the summer, to round out the junior high staff.

At Texas Tech, Coach Dell Morgan will again be assisted by Polk Robison, and the two will call out the football boys Friday, getting the jump on the start of school by about two weeks. The prospects at Texas Tech remain in doubt, and will until Coaches Morgan and Robison "see the color of the eyes and number of noses" that answer the football call.

LAAF will again be led by Sgt. G. B. Morris and Sgt. Albert Wirtz, who piloted the team last year to a peak from which they could lay claim to any mythical titles that lay within their reach.

A new face in the Lubbock coaching picture will be at SPAAF where Lt. Ray M. Truitt will take over as coach. Truitt is a product of Marshall college, and played later with the Detroit Lions in the pro ranks.

There may not be any champions on the Lubbock grid, but fans can be assured that they will see plenty of football, and chances are very good to see plenty of GOOD football.

Tech Equipment Gets In For Grid Drills

The Texas Tech Red Raiders will take on the field Friday for the first real football workout since the fire last spring destroyed the field house and part of the west stands at Tech Stadium.

Summer football camp was held to only workouts because of the lack of padded equipment, but new football equipment has been received, and will be ready for the first day's workout. Everything but shoes have arrived, and Coach Dell Morgan has been assured these are already enroute to Lubbock, and expected early this week.

Just how many will answer the call for football practice remains unknown, but Coaches Morgan and Robison are expecting a good turnout for Friday.

City Bowlers Meet At Hilton Monday

Plans for the approaching bowling season will be formulated Monday night at a meeting in Hilton hotel.

Officers of the City Bowling association will be elected at the session, opening at 8 o'clock, R. B. Glass, local bowling enthusiast, announced Saturday. Members of the City Commercial league will meet at the same time to organize and make plans for the new season.

All bowlers are urged to attend, Glass said.

LAAF To Field Veteran Eleven

Approximately 45 men turned out for football practice at LAAF and included among them are 13 stand-out players of last season. Last year LAAF was tied with Randolph Field for Army Air Forces Central Flying Training Command honors, having lost only one game.

Although it's a little early for predictions, Coaches G. B. Morris and Albert Wirz are pretty confident and expect to whip in shape a team that will better last season's record.

"Old timers" who will put in a 1944 gridiron appearance at LAAF this year include Sgt. Lawrence H. Dixon, husky 180-pound back; Sgt. James Williamson and Sgt. Robert V. "Bobby" James, both backfield men, the latter a three-year letterman while attending Abilene (Texas) Christian College.

Three Good Tackles

Three prominent tackles are working out with the team again this year. They're Sgt. Ernest Schattel, S/Sgt. Lewis B. Amaon, and Sgt. Elvin R. Lyon. End men of last season include Cpl. Marshall Q. Cauley, 170-pounder, varsity letterman while at Daniel Baker College and former Texas Conference man; Sgt. William M. Schmidt and Sgt. Arthur H. Starbuck. Sgt. Arnold E. Teusink and M/Sgt. David C. Clark, last year's heavy-hitting centers are back and getting in shape for this year's team.

Co-coach Morris and W/O Leonard C. McDonald will resume their old positions as guards. Morris, who weighs in at 190 pounds, played at Texas Tech College before coming into the Army. McDonald was assistant football coach for the Colorado City (Texas) High school.

Others Look Good

Among the military personnel who have shown up for practice and give promise of having what it takes are: In the backfield . . . Pfc. Raleigh R. Brock, S/Sgt. Curtis C. Slemmons, Pvt. George W. Shook, and Cpl. George W. Tate, Jr. Most of these men have played on high school teams but few of them have had varsity or professional experience, with the exception of the ones designated. Potential guards include Pvt. Goodwyn Cates, who was a member of the All-City and All-Star teams in Atlanta, Ga., in 1944, just before he was inducted; Pfc. Homer K. Wilson; S/Sgt. Raymond D. Lloyd, and Pvt. Glynn A. Lovvorn. Men who are showing up well at the tackle position include Pt. Isaac W. White, who lettered at Texas Tech; Pfc. Arthur E. Clark; Pfc. James R. Brown, jr.; Cpl. J. E. Saunders, and Pfc. Joe D. Wright. New LAAF end men include S/Sgt. Melvin C. Billings, Pvt. Steve A. Radulovich, Pfc. Donald C. Halterman, Sgt. Michael Hulkow, Pfc. Wallace D. Long, Pfc. Arvis C. Lambert and Pvt. Charles E. Sharpit.

Rice Owls Scheduled To Start On Monday

HOUSTON, Aug. 26 (AP) — The annual fall football grind will get under way officially at Rice Institute Monday but most of the squad will not report to Coaches Jess Neely, Joe Davis, Cecil Grigg and Bill Wallace until Tuesday afternoon.

Drill is scheduled Monday for all Naval trainees. About 40 of the squad come in this category. About 15 civilians, all freshmen, will be on hand Monday.

Prospects that Rice will field a strong contender for the title are bright. With George Walmsley, fleet freshman from Baytown, available, Jess Neely expects to have the fastest backfield in his five years at Rice.

While the Owls in a normal year could not be called an experienced team, Neely has a dozen lettermen from 1943 available and can start a holdover at every position except left tackle and left halfback. Most of the dozen who lettered were freshmen last year.

The team should not be too light with the starting line averaging around 190 pounds.

Major problems of Neely and his assistants will be to develop a passer.

Women Resume Series In Softball Playoff

The South Plains Army Air field WACs will be out for their second victory in the women's softball league playoff Monday night when they again face the Avalanche-Journal ten.

The girls in khaki trimmed the Newsies in the opening blast of the scheduled three-game series Wednesday night, 9 to 7. If the newspaper lassies win Monday night a third contest will be unreeled for the title Tuesday night.

The Monday tilt is carded for 7:15 p. m. on the softball diamond at 23rd street and Avenue W. The Avalanche-Journal team was winner of the second-half title and the WAC's were victors for the first heat.

SETS TRACK RECORD

CAMDEN, N. J., Aug. 26 (AP) — Bon Jour, the lightweight in the field of nine handicap stars, set a new track record of 1:49 for the mile and one eighth in winning the $50,000 added Trenton Handicap before an estimated crowd of 22,000 at Garden State park today.

Junior Baseball's Playoff Days Set

With the second half championship as well as the league championship hanging in balance, Hemphill-Wells' Cats and Bill Dean's Service, top nines of the National Junior baseball loop, will decide their status Tuesday night at Chapman field.

In the windup of the second half schedule last week, the Cats wound up on top of the ladder with a margin over Dean's of only a single game. The possibility of a tie arose, however, with the scheduling of a game for Tuesday night which was previously postponed.

A victory by the Deanmen would bring the second half to a tie, requiring a playoff for the championship, which will be held, if necessary, on the same diamond Thursday night. In either case, whether the Deanmen are victorious in the battle for the postponed game, but not in the second half playoff, or whether the Cats are successmul in stretching their lead to two games on Tuesday, a battle for the championship of the entire league will be decided at three on Sunday afternoon at Chapman field. However, if Bill Dean's boys come out ahead in the contests Tuesday and Thursday nights, they will automatically become champions of the National league.

American Play-Off Necessary

Delicate Dell Morgan's Kiwanis Cards, previously winners of the first half in the American junior loop, and "Stoney" Wall's Rotary lads, victorious in the second half home stretch, are set for the season's crucial battle—the contest for the league championship—which is scheduled for Wednesday night at the Chapman field diamond.

Cawthon's Pro Club Wins Over Soldiers

ABILENE, Au. 26—Scoring in every period, the Brooklyn professional Tigers rolled to a 34-to-13 victory over the Army All-Stars here tonight in the first game ever played in Texas by a pro team, under professional football rules. The All-Stars were able to match the skill of Coach Pete Cawthon's veteran pro eleven.

Services Take Bulk Of Sport Equipment

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP) — The armed services now are purchasing fully 90 per cent of all sports and game equipment produced in the United States—and civilians will have to be content with their present meager supply yet awhile.

Summarizing data collected from the Army and Navy, the Office of War Information disclosed today that the War Department annually buys enough baseball equipment to outfit 50,000 regular teams and twice as many softball outfits. Navy purchases could field 11,000 hardball and 22,000 softball teams.

Sports and recreational equipment bought by the services range from baseball bats, footballs and boxing gloves to cribbage boards, sets of dominoes and jigsaw puzzles.

The whole program is costing about $38,000,000 annually, OWI reported. Total new supplies each year represent about one baseball glove for 17 soldiers; for the Navy, the average is one in 28.

Correction Made In Deer Hunting Laws

Open season for mule deer in Texas will be over a six-day period from Nov. 20 to 25 instead of dates previously announced, Roscoe Parks, state game warden, said here Saturday.

Limit for the season for the mule deer, commonly known as the black-tail deer, is one and hunting will be permitted only during daylight hours. Only bucks with pronged horns will be taken.

Dates for open season on white-tail deer are the same, with the bag and seasonal limit likewise one buck with at least one pronged horn. Aggregate limit for all species of wild deer is two, Parks said.

Two Cubs Close Year With Major Leagues

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP)— Two veteran major league ball players have finished their 1944 season with the Chicago Cubs.

Jimmy Foxx, one time American League home run leader, left the Cubs coaching lines today to become manager of the Portsmouth, Va., Club, a Cub affiliate, for the balance of the season. He will fill in for Bill Steinecke, who is to join the New York Yankees.

Outfielder Ival Goodman, who was injured in a game at St. Louis Wednesday when he ran into a wall, will be unable to play any more this season.

SPAAF Gridders Build Fast Club

Speed and more speed is the byword of the South Plains Army Air Field grid squad these days, with Lieut. Ray M. Truitt, coach, bearing down in daily scrimmages in an effort to get the Commandos ready for the highly touted Amarillo Army Air Field team which invades Tech Stadium less than a month from now.

With a light and inexperienced batch of enthusiastic youngsters to pit against nine of the best teams in the Southwest this year, Truitt is driving his charges hard even at this early date in an effort to be ready for the opening kickoff Sept. 24.

Expects Scrapping Team

Although the Commandos will suffer with lack of weight and experience against such rugged foes as Southwestern of Georgetown, the 1943 giant killer, North Texas Aggies, another Sampson of the gridiron last year, and T. C. U. and others, the "kids" will give the fans their money's worth every time," Truitt predicts.

Backfield coaches assisting Truitt are Ed Kalfain, former ball toter from San Francisco University, and Gene LeRoy, speedy Dennison college and pro player for the Cincinnati Bengals. Both players will also see lots of action with Kalfain counted on for some of the punting and passing and LeRoy starting as wingback.

Although it is still early, some of the best prospects in the first scrimmages are John Persons, 190 pound back from Oklahoma City University, a hard driving ball carrier, and Herman Ciripompa, tiny climax runner.

'43 Veterans Back

Among the veterans from the 1943 squad who have stood out so far are Eugene Shainen, consistent replacement for All American Marion Rogers, and Joe Eager, former Louisiana Tech back who will handle some of the passing assignments.

Rangy Bill Fowler is considered a bright prospect at end along with several other fine looking promising wingmen.

The main weakness will be lack of reserves, Truitt says, but expects more gridders to report during the coming week with several men returning from furloughs.

Bible Pleased With Fine Forward Wall

AUSTIN, Aug. 26 (U.P) — From one end of the line to the other Coach Dana X. Bible believes the 1944 University of Texas football team is shaping up nicely, but as for scoring strength—"well it'll take a few weeks to tell about that."

Not only does the forward wall have reserves two and three deep, but it has power and experience in such men as Harold Fischer, 190-pound guard of San Antonio; Jack Sachse, 210-pound center of Electra, and 240-pound Jimmy Plyler of Corsicana at tackle.

Both Fischer and Sachse have two Texas letters and played last fall with the Marines at Southwestern. Plyler was a regular on last year's championship squad.

Also with Longhorn experience are guards Jim Kishi, Houston, and Phil Bolin, Wichita Falls, and tackles Ken Merritt, Dallas, and Harlan Wetz, the 295-pound kickoff artist from New Braunfels.

Hubert Bechtol, a Texas Tech frosh last year, and Jim Fortenberry, Greenwood, Miss., loom as fine end prospects. A line averaging about 205 pounds can be easily assembled.

As for the backfield, candidates are gridiron strangers, but the material is available.

Among them are Jack Halfpetny and Bobby Layne, Dallas. Donald Deere, Aggie letterman last year from Breckenridge; Franklin Crow, Texas reserve end in 1943 from Corpus Christi; Al Martin, former Santa Clara, Calif., frosh; Tom Milik of Carteret, N. J.; Bruce Scott of East Bernard, and Duke Bolen, a Texas Christian letterman last fall.

Both Crow and Deere are track artists of good ability. Layne, who tossed the Longhorns to the Southwest Conference baseball title, may be groomed for passing.

As last fall, majority of the men are under Navy training at the university. That naturally creates speculation as to whether they will get to remain here the full season. Too, the Navy is requiring that all players be passing all subjects for football eligibility.

In any event, however, Bible says the Longhorns will be fighting to keep their Southwest title.

Australia now has 800,000 troops under arms.

American Loop Gets Tighter As Detroit Blanks Browns, 5-0

DETROIT, Aug. 26. (AP) — With Stubby Overmire holding the Browns to six scattered hits, the Detroit Tigers blanked St. Louis 5-0 today, to make it two in a row over the league leaders. Rudy York drove in three runs with a pair of home runs.

Frog Gridmen Show Power In Workouts

FORT WORTH, Aug. 26. (AP)— The TCU Frogs went through their first full-fledged scrimmage Saturday afternoon and even Coach Dutch Meyer found reason for a few smiles during the two hour workout.

The big White team, comprised of the most likely starters, rolled to several touchdowns over stiff opposition offered by a rugged, hustling second and third string. Pass slinging Joe Kucera, who played for Rice last year, and halfbacks Bob Ruff and Jesse Mason sparked the first team's attack.

Scotty Rainey, who played for Technical High school of Fort Worth last fall, was the best looking second stringer of the day. Scotty a back, connected with many passes against the first team and he also picked up quite a bit of yardage through the middle and around the ends on running plays.

Sinkwich Signs For Season With Lions

DETROIT, Aug. 26 (AP)—Fireball Frank Sinkwich, former Georgia All-America halfback who played his first season of pro football last year with the Detroit Lions, appeared unexpectedly today to sign his 1944 contract on the opening day of the club's training camp at Grosse Ile, Mich.

Sinkwich is the 13th veteran and the 51st player to sign with the Lions this season.

NO CHICAGO SERIES

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP)—There'll be no Chicago city baseball series this fall between the Cubs and White Sox.

For the second consecutive year the National League team will not challenge the Sox, Manager Charlie Grimm announcing many of his players are injured and also they desired to return home at the end of the regular season.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP) — The weakest field to enter the National Tennis championships in many years may produce the best chance for a foreign triumph since England's Fred Perry beat Don Budge in the 1936 final.

Nelson Holds To Slim Golf Lead

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP)—Byron Nelson gave the $42,500 All-American field a chance to catch him today as he skidded over par for only the fourth time in 56 rounds of 1944 golf, but his pursuers couldn't do anything about it.

So, at the third-quarter post in golfdom's biggest prize event, the Texan transplanted at Toledo held a two-stroke edge over the 122 professionals and seven amateurs awaiting tomorrow's final round.

Nelson slipped to a 73 today, and finished with a 54-hole total of 211, five under par. Deadlocked in second place with 213 were Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia, last year's winner, and Pvt. Buck White of the Army and Greenwood, Miss., the 1943 runner-up who lost the title to McSpaden in a play-off. Nelson won the event the first two years it was contested, 1941 and 1942, so both victors and one who tied for the laurels are right back in the thick of the fight again.

The winner picks up a bundle of war bonds worth $13,462.50, and the second placer $5,000 in bonds. Should Nelson or McSpaden finish 1-2-3, each would eclipse the all-time money-won record of $19,600 cash set by Sam Snead in 1938.

Duration Women's Champion Betty Hicks of California clung to her lead in the feminine chase with a 236 after soaring to an 80 today, but it became a three-way race as Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia carded 78, and Georgia Tainter of Fargo, N. D., hit par-76 to tie at 238, two shots behind the leader.

Redskins Nose Past Fliers, Win 7 To 3

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26. (AP) — The Fourth Air Force of March Field, Calif., made and took advantage of all the breaks but the last one as it lost the opening major football game of 1944 before 50,000 fans in Memorial Coliseum last night. The ponderous Washington Redskins came up with a 7 to 3 victory.

The Army Fliers, expertly coached by Paul Schlisser, and in tip top physical trim, had the better of everything but the final score. They outplayed the National Leaguers for three full periods, despite the ever-dangerous passes of Slingin' Sammy Baugh and the sensational running of Steve Bagarus, once of Notre Dame.

But in the fourth period Indian Jack Jacobs fired a quick and hard pass to his right. Mike Micka of the Redskins intercepted it, fumbled it, picked it up, and ran the yards for a touchdown. Joe Aguirre, ex-St. Marys, added the extra point.

The Fliers tackled superbly and they rushed Baugh as he went back to throw. They covered the pass receivers well, too.

Bill Dudley, former University of Virginia great, got off several spectacular runs. So did Jacobs. The March Field line was outcharging the Redskins forwards most of the time.

The Redskins' T formation wasn't much of a puzzle to the Fliers.

Big Ernie Smith, who played at the University of Southern California a decade ago, contributed the Fliers' three points. He kicked a placement in the second period from the 12-yard mark after the Army had advan

Postwar Farm Policies To Stress More Aggressive Export Program

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26—Postwar agriculture policies now being formulated by the Roosevelt administration would establish a more aggressive export program designed to push extra production into world markets instead of allowing it to pile up in this country under government ownership.

These plans do not envision the return of the rigid production control programs of the thirties under which attempts were made to reduce farm production to the country's own needs and to the small quantities which could be sold abroad at our prices which, in the case of most products, were above world levels by government action under the programs of the thirties huge surpluses were accumulated by the government.

Two-Price Plan Due

Instead, the United States would employ a broad two-price system under which production not needed at home would be priced to meet competition in world markets.

Those drawing up the policies believe it will be possible to maintain domestic farm production at a level considerably higher than before the war, but possibly not as high as that reached during the present war. They believe it will be necessary to maintain a high level of industrial employment and hence a broader domestic demand.

Further, pricing of our products in foreign markets to meet competition would allow larger quantities of such basic commodities as cotton, wheat, tobacco, lard and pork products, and possibly citrus and dried fruits, to move into world markets.

Few Production Limits

Broadly speaking, limits of production would be only those dictated by farming practices which would protect the soil and other natural resources from injury, and by the availability of funds to finance the two-price system.

The two-price system could be handled in one of two ways, and a combination of the two. Under one, the government would assure producers parity or near parity prices on their full production. The export portion would be sold at cut-rate prices, with the government taking the loss. Under the other, producers would be assured parity or near parity prices on the domestically - consumed portion of the production. On the extra production, they would take whatever it would bring in the export market.

The plans envision, of course, the maintenance of "ever-normal" granary reserves of such basic products as cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco, and possibly some other products, as a protection against drought, war or other emergencies.

Thunder, But No Rain Follows Snake Dance

HOLBROOK, Ariz., Aug. 26. (AP) —Lightning flashed and thunder roared over Shungopovi mesa minutes after the Hopi Indian snake clan completed its supplication for rain, but no showers fell from the heavens.

Reports from the isolated mesa on the Hopi reservation today said the snake clan of neighboring Shipaulavi mesa would renew the ritual tomorrow.

None of the 17 Indians who danced with poisonous rattlesnakes was bitten at Shungopovi. The red men placed the reptiles in their mouths and entwined them about their bodies as they danced to a chant by 15 members of the antelope clan.

WAYNE MORRIS DECORATED

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26 (AP) — Mrs. Patricia O'Rourke Morris was informed today that her husband, Wayne Morris, the former actor, has been awarded the Distinguished Fly Cross for "distinguishing himself by heroism and extraordinary achievement" in attacking and destroying enemy aircraft in the Bonin islands group last June 15.

Husband Of Lubbock Woman Visits 'Tropical Paradise'

Mrs. Johnnie Smithee, of the information division of the Lubbock district Office of Price administration, has received a vivid account of a recent trip to "Little Muggin" capital island of the Gilberts, from her husband, First St. Gordon M. Smithee who is stationed with a medium bombardment squadron on the islands.

His account of the trip follows, in part:

"It was a typical day when we departed on our trip to the capital island of the Gilberts. Several small islands came into view as we progressed on our journey, little coral hills upon which waved lazy cocoanut palms.

SMITHEE

"It was not until late in the afternoon that we finally arrived at our Gilbert paradise. The waters surrounding the island were filled with small sailboat and outriggers. Many fishermen came alongside our boat to ask for cigarets, and in exchange we were carried ashore. Ours was a large outrigger equipped with a sail which was lowered to make room for the four of us who went ashore. I noticed their catch consisted of several large tuna, the largest approximately two and one-half feet in length and weighing possibly 40 pounds. The two natives were rather elderly men, clad in weather-beaten canvas which was wrapped around them and supported by a GI belt. They were friendly and courteous to the extreme and insisted on carrying us the remaining distance from the outrigger to the shore on their backs."

Greeted By Large Crowd

A large crowd had gathered at the water's edge to greet them. Among the crowd was their host, C. Korenerio, native school teacher. He greeted the group in perfect English, Sgt. Smithee said.

The home of their host, he said, was a small one room building made of small slats lashed with tiny rope made of cocoanut leaves. This was one of the few tin-roofed buildings on the island. This little house was "neat with its spotless mats on the floor, the white table cloth on the table and the neat arrangement of what little furniture there was—two chairs and a cabinet on which was a clock, a lantern and several china cups, saucers, plates, knives, forks and spoons."

Beside this small house was a large thatched roofed structure which served as the class-room, he said. There was the spotless appearance of the other building.

Toured "Tropical Paradise"

Late in the afternoon they were taken on a tour of this "tropical paradise," the group proceeding down the wide white road. Small huts were on either side of the road and in them were women caring for young babies, all waiting for the men to return from the day's fishing.

There were two churches, Protestant and Catholic, of stucco and beautiful.

They visited the home of the magistrate. From a flag pole flew the flag of Great Britain. They were entertained lavishly that night by native singers and dancers. The choir, made up of children of the island and directed by Korenerio, sang in English "God Bless America," "America," and "Abide With Me."

The group slept in the school house that night and were surprised to learn they had no need for mosquito bars. There are no mosquitoes on the island. The next morning they were awakened by the squealing of a pig and the barking of a dog. The dog was chasing the pig into a pen for slaughter so "these people might treat us to a feast." The pig was killed, cleaned thoroughly and thrown into a spotless pan of boiling water which was heated by fire in an earthen pit.

Feast Was "Something"

The feast was "something," Sgt. Smithee said. "A row of taro leaves was spread on the floor and on it was spread our meal of boiled pork, tender and well seasoned with the salt water in which it was boiled and the root of the taro plant called poi, cocoanut milk.

While on the island Sgt. Smithee tried his luck at deep-sea fishing. "My catch was a small red spotted fish that fought like a 40-pound tuna but hardly weighed two pounds."

Sgt. Smithee is the son of Rev. and Mrs. J. Taylor Smithee of Route 3, Lubbock. He entered the service May 7, 1941 and was sent to Fort Bliss for assignment. He was transferred to the air corps and sent to Tucson, Ariz. After Dec. 7, 1941, he was sent to California where he remained until Oct. 12, 1943, when he sailed for Hawaii. He has served at Hawaii, Tarawa and Makin island, where he is now stationed.

He attended Texas Technological college in 1938 and also attended Wayland college and Baylor university. When he entered the service he was assistant manager of Woolworth's store in Abilene.

His wife is the former Miss Johnnie Womack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Womack of Quitaque.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Party Is Denied Broadcast Time

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP) — The War department withdrew today its previous agreement to give the Socialist party an opportunity to broadcast a political address to troops overseas.

The Socialist party had contended that President Roosevelt's speech at Bremerton, Wash., Aug. 12 was a political address and had asked equal radio time for a similar broadcast. Friday morning the War department announced this request would be granted but tonight acting Secretary of War John J. McCloy said this decision had been overruled.

"It has been called to my attention," McCloy said in a statement "that a decision was made by an Army agency to grant time to the Socialist party for an overseas rebroadcast to troops on the basis of that party's contention that the President's report at Bremerton was a 'political address' within the meaning of title V of public law 277.

Report "Not Political"

"I have reconsidered this decision. The War department determines that the President's report was 'not political' and accordingly no time will be granted to the Socialist party on such basis."

Officers in the War department bureau of public relations said the original decision to grant the Socialist party request was made in the office of Col. Robert Cutler, soldier vote coordinator for the War department and the secretary of war's representative on the United States War Ballot commission.

Cutler himself refused to say whether his decision had been approved by the secretary of war or any higher civilian official of the department, referring questioners to Major General A. D. Surles, director of public relations. Reached at his home, Surles said "I don't think the secretary was aware of the situation."

Mr. Roosevelt's Aug. 12 speech was made on his return from an extended tour of the Pacific. During the trip he visited Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and Alaskan military posts.

German Gunboats, Other Vessels Sunk

LONDON, Aug. 26 (AP) — Four German gunboats, two heavily-armed escort vessels, and one "R" boat were sunk today in a series of channel and North sea actions involving American, British and French light naval craft, the Admiralty announced tonight.

The Allied ships returned to harbor without casualties or damage.

A summary of previous actions off the coasts of France, Belgium and Holland since Aug. 13 showed at least 50 enemy vessels were sunk; set on fire, or badly damaged by British ships in about a dozen actions.

Von Kluge Due To Attempt Stand Along Somme And Marne Rivers

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

For the second time within a few days Allied air observers report that Field Marshal Von Kluge, German commander in chief in France, is carrying out movements above the Seine indicating he's preparing to make his next stand along a line based on those historic battle-barriers, the Somme and the Marne rivers.

The corollary to this, of course, is that a heavy Nazi withdrawal is in the making from the Seine and from the channel coast immediately above the mouth of that river. The Hitlerite position along the Seine no longer is tenable.

Report Makes Sense

This report makes sense because Von Kluge may be expected to give battle at least along the Somme unless his forces are in utter route. He naturally would hold on the Marne too, if possible, but his ability to make much of a showing there is questionable in view of the threat presented by General Patton's armored forces below Paris.

(The Stockholm newspaper Dagen Nyheter published a report today that Von Kluge had been killed. There was no confirmation in either Allied or Axis official quarters of the report which the newspaper said was based on information from Germany)

European observers believe that one of Von Kluge's chief missions in holding on the Somme is to protect launching fields for the flying bombs.

Hitler Depending On Robots

The robots certainly represent one of the secret weapons upon which Hitler has been depending to break Allied morale. German propagandists also continue to urge the public and the army to give the government more time to get other weapons into production.

Observers generally look for huge rocket bombs which probably will be fired from the mountains within the Reich itself. If and when these new horrors come on, the little robots can be dispensed with, and the Pas de Calais coast no longer will be so essential to Hitler's program.

Bulgarian Demands

man military mission to Romania, and other Germans in Bucharest have been interned, Moscow said, and "Bucharest is firmly held by the new government of Gen. Sanatescu," although the Germans were still shelling the city with anti-aircraft guns—the only artillery they had—and were bombing the military barracks.

Transylvania Defenses

Pointing the way to the next likely Balkan development, the Russians said German and Hungarian forces were "feverishly erecting defenses" in Transylvania in the territory Hungary took from Romania in 1940 under a Hitler "award."

Authoritative sources in London said there was no information indicating any quick crackup of Hungary, but that on the contrary the Nazis could be expected to stiffen the Hungarian spines now that Hungary's old enemy, Romania, is no longer in the Axis.

The German foreign office professed to be watching Bulgarian developments with icy calm, but German broadcasts beamed toward Bulgaria displayed more concern, pleading with Bulgarians to remember that this was not the first time Germany had faced an apparently "hopeless" situation and concluding:

"Dear listeners, you should not be afraid the new German weapons will come into the picture too late."

Bulgaria Serves Notice

According to Moscow, however, the Bulgarian government on Friday notified the Germans that they would have to get out of the country immediately because Bulgaria had adopted the policy of "complete neutrality."

Bulgaria never went to war against Russia, and her opposition to Britain and the United States has been only on paper, but she has occupied portions of Greek and Yugoslava territory.

Spanish broadcasts during the day said Britain and the United States were offering Bulgaria "magnanimous" terms, but other sources said she certainly would not be allowed to keep any of her spoils.

The Ankara radio said all Germans already had left the Bulgarian capital, Sofia. Moscow disclosed that Ankara was the scene of the Romanian-Soviet negotiations also.

Moscow broadcast said the Romanian turn-about had been received with tremendous enthusiasm in Bucharest and elsewhere.

September Passenger Car Tires Reduced

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP)—The Office of Price administration tonight cut the September allocation of passenger car tires 350,000 casings under the August level, but increased the heavy truck and bus tire quota to 120,000, up from 85,000 for this month.

In reducing the passenger tire allotment from 1,950,000 tires to 1,600,000, OPA explained that reserve inventories built up last winter for the summer months have been used up.

Iceland President Greeted At Capital

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26. (AP) — When the president of Iceland, Sveinn Bjornsson, visited the capital Friday, it fell the lot of two Texas Democrats officially to welcome him to the seat of the national legislature.

Speaker Sam Rayburn greeted him on the House side and Chairman Connally of the Senate Foreign relations received him a few minutes later at the other end of the building.

Nazi Debacle In France Mounts

cape route, but they admitted the Americans were "trying to intercept our movements in the direction of Lyon."

"The elimination of the German Seventh Army as a fighting entity has decided the battle of France," declared supreme headquarters in warning the little duchy of Luxembourg and the French frontier provinces of Alsace and Lorraine that they soon "may become a theater of war."

"What there is left of the Germans in northwest France is hanging like meat on a butcher's hook, waiting to be cut down," said a high officer at British field headquarters.

Southeast of Paris there was brisk fighting on the northeast bank of the Seine between the American bridgeheads at Corbeil and Melun as the enemy strove to delay the American advance.

Frenzied Efforts At Crossing

The ragged remnants of the Germans remaining on the southwest bank of the river at its mouth were frenziedly trying to cross in daylight as Canadian and Belgian troops closed inexorably in for the kill.

But all the German efforts were of a sporadic nature born of the knowledge of their ultimate futility.

Only the harried survivors of the Normandy debacle and a handful of divisions of the once-mighty 15th Army guarding the rocket coast stood before the Americans, British and Canadians surging across the Seine over at least six bridgeheads northwest and southeast of Paris.

The British in a spectacular 40-mile forced march in six hours forced a crossing of the Seine at Vernon, 10 miles northwest of the strong American brideghead at Mantes, and turned loose another powerful force against the Germans scrambling from their channel forts.

Nazis Waste Planes

The German air force, possibly sensing that the game is up in France and these forces may have trouble even reaching Germany, threw its planes into some of the greatest aerial battles since D-day and lost 93 Friday, most of them in northwestern France.

Few enemy planes were sighted today, indicating that the groggy German air force on longer can keep up such furious infighting.

The big port of Le Harve was being abandoned by land and sea, huge convoys were on the move from Rouen and Dieppe toward Amiens and Reims, and pouncing Allied war planes shot up 56 more tanks and 549 vehicles in the last 24 hours.

The Germans, with the Seine bridgeheads threatening them with encirclement, were pulling out of the formidable channel fortifications from which they expected to drive the invaders back into the sea, and from the robot roosts from which bombs have been hurled at England.

Robot Attacks Dwindle

The Allied drive menacing Pas-de-Calais, nest of the flying bombs, coincided with a lull in the attacks on London and southern England, indicating that already this thrust might be paying dividends.

There was every indication that the Germans, filling the air with guesses of Allied intentions, were unaware where the next heavy blow might fall, and official silence on the progress of the fighting beyond the Seine was calculated to add to their confusion.

The all-out battle for the huge port of Brest was begun. Infantry attacked after hundreds of bombers and naval forces headed by the famous British battleship Warspite had hammered the fortifications.

This port on the tip of the Breton peninsula has been under siege for more than three weeks.

Russian Front

Kiliya rivers, capturing the ancient port and fortress town of Ismal, and another river town, Reni. Bolgrad, 25 miles northwest of Ismail, also was captured.

The seizure of Reni put Tolbukhin's men only 12 miles from Galati, eastern anchor of the Galati Gap defenses guarding the roads to Bucharest and the Ploesti oil wells.

The lower Danube river is the southern border of Bessarabia province which Romania ceded to Russia in 1940 and then took back again the following year when she joined Germany in the war on Russia.

Ismail's fall was announced by Premier-Marshal Joseph Stalin in an order of the day. It is a town of about 27,000 population, and was a Turkish stronghold before its seizure in 1790 by troops under the famous Russian general, Count Suvorov. The massacre which followed that battle was one of the bloodiest in European war annals.

Valuable Port

The capture of Ismail will give the Russians a valuable port for bringing in supplies from Odessa, 120 miles to the northwest.

Berlin said German and Romanian forces were fighting inside Bucharest, and Moscow told of battles in other areas between the two erstwhile Axis partners.

Hints of a new Soviet breakthrough on the front northeast of burning Warsaw in Poland came meanwhile from Berlin broadcasts which said that the Russians had hurled more than 150,000 men into a new offensive, supported by masses of tanks and artillery.

The Romanian campaign was developing more and more into a Nazi rout, dispatches said, with the Germans acknowledging that their troops were fleeing from the Russians and also beset by Romahians.

Moscow quoted a Soviet information bureau statement that the Romanians had seized the passes in the Transylvanian Alps.

If the Romanians can plug those flight channels the Red Army will pull off a victory perhaps surpassing that at Stalingrad where Field Marshal Gen. Freidrich von Paulis' Army of 330,000 was killed or captured.

Stevenson Reported In Butler's Camp

DALLAS, Aug. 26. (AP)—William H. Thornton, chief of the Dallas News Austin bureau, said in a dispatch published today by his newspaper that Gov. Coke R. Stevenson will stand behind State Chairman George A. Butler of Houston for re-election at the state Democractic convention Sept. 12.

MULESHOE, Aug. 26. (Special)—J. C. (Buck) Buchanan was the winner over Guy Nickels in a nip-and-tuck race for sheriff, tax assessor-collector, the only Bailey county contest in the second primary today. Buchanan received 567 votes to Nickels' 535.

Close Treasurer Race Marks Cochran Vote

MORTON, Aug. 26 (Special)—P. E. Adams won a close contest for Cochran county treasurer over Mrs. M. A. Connell, 461 to 445 in the runoff primary today.

The county gave Preston Smith 426 votes to 415 for Jack Douglas for representative, 119th district.

J. R. Ward received 337 votes to defeat L. M. Baldwin, who was given 286, for commissioner, precinct 1. J. L. Winder was the winner in a write-in vote for justice of the peace, receiving 261 votes to 247 for Creed Watkins and 74 for J. L. Smith. P. L. McAlister was nominated constable with 486 votes to F. F. Roberts' 98.

Vote in the state races was: For attorney general—Sellers, 409, Martin, 417; for associate justice of the supreme court—Critz, 283, Simpson, 499.

Birdwell Is Elected Sheriff Of Gaines

SEMINOLE, Aug. 26. (Special)—Deputy Sheriff Soon Birdwall was elected sheriff of Gaines county over Deputy Sid Hargrove in today's runoff primary. Nig Moore was elected commissioner of precinct 4 over Black.

Two small boxes had not reported and would not change the totals in the races.

Other totals were: Attorney-general: Sellers 604; Martin 710; associate justice: Critz 416; Simpson 823; legislature: Douglas 529; Smith 792.

Two Commissioners Are Named In Hale

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 26. (Special)—R. E. Wilson was elected commissioner of precinct No. 2, Hale county over the incumbent, R. A. Daugherty, and Julian B. Smith was named commissioner of precinct No. 4.

Rodeo Champs Crowned Here

Another large crowd, numbering approximately 5,000, Saturday night witnessed the last of four performances of the Boys club benefit rodeo held at the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds, sponsored by American Business club.

Fast time was registered in the bulldogging contest with Joe Thompson of Roswell, N. M., carrying off first place honors with a time of 8 4/5 seconds, the best of the four shows.

Royce Sewalt of Priddy, Texas, was first place winner in this event for the four performances, however. Billy Breen of Tucumcari, N. M., was second; Richard Gentry of Lubbock, third; Bill Towns, Wellington, fourth.

Bulldogging Contest

Champion in the bulldogging contest was Clyde Weir of El Reno, Okla., he was followed by Earl Moore, Cuervo, N. M., second; Joe Thompson, Carlsbad, N. M., third; Jess Like, Kim, Colo., fourth.

Crowned champion bronc rider of the show was Bill Linderman of Red Lodge, Mont. Behind him were: Paul Gould, Deming, N. M., second; Ernie Barnett, Del Rio, third; Leo Thorne, Deming, N. M.

In the Brahma steer riding, Slick Ware was crowned champion. He was followed by "Fuzzy" Garner, Canute, Okla., second; Clayton Hill, Canadian, third; "Hoss" Allen, Pecos, fourth.

Calf Roping

In Saturday night's show, Jack Skipworth of Clovis, N. M., carried off first honors in the calf roping contest, tieing his calf in 14 seconds flat. Other winners in this event were Phil Williams, second; Buddy Fort, Lovington, N. M., third; Royce Sewalt, Priddy, fourth.

Behind Thompson in the bulldogging contest were Jess Like, second; Andy Curtis, El Reno, Okla., third; Hobert Flowers, Duncan, Okla., fourth.

Winners in the bronc riding contest were: Ernie Barnett, Del Rio, first; Paul Gould, Deming, N. M., second, Bill Linderman, Red Lodge, Mont., third; John Spruiel, fourth.

Brahma Steer Riding

Brahma steer riding honors went to Slick Ware, Oklahoma City, followed by Syl Roan, Elk City, Okla., second; Fuzzy Garner, Canute, Okla., third; John Spruiel, fourth.

A crowd of 2,500 witnessed a matinee performance Saturday afternoon of the streamlined rodeo presented by Beutler Bros., world-famed producers of rodeos, of Elk City, Okla.

More than 19,000 people saw the four performances, with Friday night's crowd, estimated at 7,000, being possibly the largest to see a rodeo in Lubbock. The net proceeds from the rodeo and the concession stands, operated by the Lubbock Lions club, will go to the Lubbock Boys club fund.

Congratulations To:

Lt. and Mrs. Richard William Carson, 2605 Ave. L, on birth of a son weighing 7 pounds 6 ounces, at 5 a. m. Saturday in Lubbock Army Air field station hospital. The father is stationed at LAAF.

Aerial Assaults

on the continent indicated the German Air force had lost its desire to fight after three days of desperate attempts to ward off aerial blows falling on the retreating German troops.

About 250 American Liberators based in Italy bombed the Otopeni airdrome nine miles north of Bucharest in support of Romanian government forces defending the capital against German attacks.

Allied airmen destroyed 114 German planes in the air and on the ground during all operations from the west in the past 24 hours, against a loss of 78 Allied planes.

This left pilots who in the past 24 hours destroyed or damaged 106 tanks and 768 motor vehicles unhampered to continue their blistering attacks on German troops, armor and transport.

Koonsman Wins In Close Dickens Race

SPUR, Aug. 26. (Special)—Johnnie Koonsman was re-elected Dickens county sheriff and tax assessor-collector, receiving 961 votes to 922 for Fred Christopher in the second primary today.

For commmissioner, precinct 1, K. W. Street was the winner, 334 to 216, over C. P. Aufill. For commissioner, precinct 3, W. H. Hindman received 604, C. A. Denson, 355.

In state races the vote was: For attorney general — Sellers, 877, Martin, 779 and for associate justice, supreme court, Critz, 579 and Simpson, 974.

Rain Falls Over Most Of Plains

Cotton and late feed crops which were hanging on the ropes in some sectors were saved by rains Friday afternoon and night which covered, in varying degree, the greater part of the South Plains.

Generally crops are in fair condition, reports indicate. Cotton appears to have held up well under the blistering weather of the last month. Prospects are good in most sections for late feed, now that new moisture has been received.

.72 Reported Here

Three inches were received in northern Hale county and in east Crosby county. Rainfall three miles north of Petersburg was estimated at three inches, and 1.75 inches were recorded at Abernathy.

Crosbyton received .30 but a report said that probably two inches fell about 11 miles east of there. Crops in Crosby county have been in serious need of moisture. In southwest Crosby county, however, there has been enough precipitation to put cotton and feed in excellent condition.

Heavy At Matador

Matador recorded .75 and Roaring Springs received over an inch Friday afternoon. The parched Spur area was refreshed with .57, but the moisture was too late to be of utmost benefit to cotton. Feed, however, is expected to react favorably. Dickens reported 1 inch. Lorenzo and Post each reported .25. Ralls got a shower.

Approximately a half inch fell at Slaton. In this section most cotton will produce one-fourth bale an acre, agricultural observers predict. Early feed is considered fair.

West of Lubbock rain was lighter. Showers fell at Levelland, Brownfield, Muleshoe, Shallowater, Anton and Ropesville. Sudan and Littlefield each received a half inch.

Good rains were reported from Meadow, Wilson, Tahoka, O'Donnell and Southland. Good feed and cotton crops are reported from these places. There is a light worm infestation in the Meadow community.

Other reports: Seminole, a fourth to a half; Lockney, .25; Post, .25; Plainview, .15; Hale Center, no rain; Amherst, no rain.

SPAIN QUITS VICHY

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Aug. 26. (AP)—The Spanish government has withdrawn its recognition of Vichy, it was announced tonight.

Boys and Girls marching back to School from a summer of play, must be reminded anew of dangers that lurk at street corners and cross roads.

Parents will have to remember to caution them, that though there may be less traffic on the streets and highways now than before the war, there are no fewer hazards to life and limb.

Young America must be kept on the alert against accident. Young America must be guarded, for American Youth is the Future of Our Country.

Market Reports The Nation Over . . .

Wall Street . .

STOCKS TURN DOWNWARD

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Stocks generally turned downward in the past short market week as thoughts of a sudden ending of the European war continued to inspire light selling by those who feared industrial reconversion difficulties at home.

There were exceptions throughout the 5-day stretch, especially among utilities and other stocks that stand to benefit immediately by the return of peace. Rails never got anywhere in particular although they maintained their balance fairly well in the face of the anti-trust action filed against 47 roads. The wrangle in the War Production board aroused some apprehension because of its threat to transition plans.

Volume dwindled from Monday on and this brought in a little investment nibbling Friday although trends generally ended with a sidewise motion. Principal securities markets in the United States and Canada recessed today, as they did last Saturday, and will Sept. 2 and through Labor Day.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down .5 of a point at 84.9 on the week.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Following early declines today of 40 cents a bale on profit-taking the cotton market moved upwards on mill buying and covering, which met a scarcity of offerings. Steadiness was influenced by the pending action on the price-raising Bankhead cotton proposals.

Futures closed unchanged to 25 cents a bale higher.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 26 (AP)—Cotton futures advanced here today on trade buying and week-end covering. Closing prices were steady, 10 to 30 cents a bale higher.

	High	Low	Close
Oct.	21.57	21.49	21.56
Dec.	21.40	21.30	21.40

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 26 (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16 inch cotton at ten designated southern spot markets today was 5 cents a bale lower at 21.59 cents a pound. Average for the past 30 market days was 21.56. Middling ⅞ inch average 20.44.

BY, OF, and FOR THE PEOPLE

ON MORALS

Editor, The Avalanche: The hope for future world peace lies with us. We must tap the wells within ourselves so that we might give of ourselves morally, intellectually, and spiritually. There must be a development within the people of the entire earth. The world's peace problem will not be solved by a few men sitting around a table—the best place to start is right here at home.

We must take care of our children. This is the most important undertaking we have to face. Thousands of people drink up dollars on Saturday nights and a few drop quarters in the church collection baskets on Sunday morning. So long as we permit this condition to exist we cannot have success with our children. Children know that if our democracy were an success we would not permit such conditions to exist. The only way in which we can prove democracy successful is by setting a good example.

The juvenile delinquents think it smart to mimic certain adults who are not good models. Such a situation is bad for our state and to our nation.

I say to you that no day belongs to you. Every day of your life belongs to your nation and your God. We are responsible for every day wasted. We have the problem of providing suitable recreation for our young people, but we also have the problem of learning to set a good example for them to follow. If we can't live the virtues upon which our country is founded, all is lost.

We have to fight for these things right now. Our boys expect to return to the homes and churches they left. America's future lies in her youth. If we can't bring our children to perpetuate the ideal reform on which our country is founded we have lost. Democracy involves more than the Statue of Liberty. It involves the thing for which that Statute stands. We can't say to our children they must do this or that—We must set the good examples. Our churches should be packed. Democracy is Christianity throughout the world. Christianity is the only answer to worldwide peace. We have always had international law, but never any organization that enforced it. There is no way to enforce any contract except through the honor and integrity of those who make it. No organization is better than the people that comprise it.

What are you doing? Now is the time we should increase our capacity to serve, and put out the kind of product our forefathers expected of us so we can return to the way of life Christ died to bring to us.

Yours truly,
C. R. Styles,
Lubbock.

Diplomatic Trick By Japs Denied

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP) — The State department declared today that Japanese peace envoys in the immediate pre-Pearl Harbor period never raised any question about the disposition of American naval forces.

The department issued a statement in comment on assertions made by Rep. Magnuson (D-Wash) in his home state.

The representative told the Seattle Post-Intelligencer there were reports both in Washington and on the Pacific coast that "the Japs made a 'patsy' out of the State department, contriving to have our fleet bottled up in Pearl Harbor where it could easily be dealt a death blow,' in 1941.

The State department's statement:

"At no time did Kurusu during the course of his visit here in 1941—or did any other Japanese representative—raise a question with this government that the disposition of our naval forces in the Pacific was likely to prejudice the success of the conversations then taking place between the two governments.

"Furthermore the State department did not at any time raise this question with the Navy or War departments."

Saburo Kurusu was the special Japanese envoy who came here for "peace talks" in 1941.

Protest Reported

Magnuson's account of the reports he had heard was that Kurusu protested to Secretary Hull that American naval operations in the Pacific were giving militarists in Japan reason for blocking Kurusu's peace efforts.

"I do not know whether this story is true or false, and I don't venture to speak for or against it," Magnuson continued, "but I do not think the charge should be answered promptly in Washington.

"The report on the West coast, and I've heard it in Washington, too, is that Kimmel (Adm. Husband E. Kimmel) was instructed to draw in the fleet, curtail air patrols and do everything else possible to dispel the notion that America was about to attack Japan. The report is that Kimmel was instructed to take all measures necessary to insure that the Japanese consulate at Honolulu would report to the Japanese government that the fleet did not contemplate any immediate action, which is—so the story goes—why some shore leaves were granted.

Woman's Report On Drunk Backfires

DALLAS, Aug. 26 (AP)— The woman called police and told them a drunk had passed out in her yard.

Officers went to the residence, found a drunk woman lying on the sidewalk in front of the house.

At the city jail she said:

"There's been a mistake. I was the one that called police in the first place. I got mad at my husband when he passed out in the back yard, called police, and went to the front yard to wait for the officers. But I guess I'd had a little too much to drink, too."

Desulphurization Unit To Be Constructed

DENVER, Aug. 26 (U.P.) — The go-ahead signal for the installation of a gas desulphurization unit at Monument, N. M., was in the hands of Charles Enew Johnson & Company today.

The War Production board office in Denver announced its approval of the project, which will cost $325,000.

Alsace-Lorraine People Warned

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower broadcast an order today to the French in Alsace-Lorraine bordering Germany telling them that already they are in the "rear area of military operations" and may soon be in the theater of war, the British radio said.

The order from Eisenhower's headquarters, which also was addressed to the people of Luxembourg, said:

"The elimination of the German Seventh army as a fighting entity has decided the battle of France. The survivors of the Normandy battle, and a handful of German divisions north of the Seine can at best fight a series of delaying actions on their retreat into Germany.

War Approaching Area

"The areas in which you live are already today in the rear area of military operations. Very soon they may become a theater of war.

"In view of these facts I give you the following notice:

"One: The rear communications of the remnants of the German army retreating into Germany will be subjected to bombing as devastating as that which preceded and accompanied the Allied campaign in Normandy. The people of Alsace, Lorraine, and of the duchy of Luxembourg are hereby warned that everyone who lives or works in the camps of factories working for the Nazi war machine must from now on reckon that they may be exposed to high level or low level air attack at any hour of the day or night. Take all precautions to protect yourself.

"Avoid Work For Nazis"

"Two: The Germans may attempt to force you to build emergency earthworks and fortifications. Such constructions will be areas of special danger. Therefore, in order to prevent useless civilian casualties, keep away from them, take refuge in the countryside. Take with you food, water, and warm clothing. Keep away from the Germans, and from everything that may be a target for air attack.

"Three: The people of Alsace, Lorraine and of the duchy of Luxembourg are further warned that the Germans, in their desperation, may become guilty of crimes and atrocities. All perpetrators of such will be brought to trial. You are asked to make careful note of the circumstances in which crimes and atrocities are committed. War evidence will be accepted by the Allied judicial authorities when the time for settlement arrives."

Young Texas Mother Cleared Of Charges

BELLEVILLE, Ill., Aug. 26. (U.P.) —Mrs. Dorothy Mae Knight, cleared yesterday of charges of operating a confidence game, today is on her way home to Fort Worth, Texas.

The charges against the 17-year old girl were dismissed when her mother, Mrs. Howard Teague, made restitution on seven worthless checks, totaling $104, which were cashed by Mrs. Knight.

When she was arrested last Monday, Mrs. Knight, mother of a 15-month old daughter, told police she was about to marry a Scott field soldier in a bigamous ceremony. Her arrest, she said, kept her from keeping an appointment that same day to apply for a marriage license.

Harris County Gasser Shatters Earth's Crust

HOUSTON, Aug. 26 (AP) — Gas pressure has shattered the earth crust at the site of an old gas well in the Bammel field in northwestern Harris county, geysering hunks of dirt the size of Army jeeps high into the air.

With a terrific roar dirt was spouting today for hundreds of yards. Signs were posted warning sightseers to keep away from the well.

The eruptions, continuing at frequent intervals for several days were at the location of the former blazing well on the F. M. Corzelius lease where fire raged for eight months before being extinguished.

It is estimated that domestic airlines will fly 897,000,000 ton miles in mail, passenger and cargo by 1950.

Bradley Dewey Assails Nelson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP) — China-bound Donald M. Nelson was the target of a biting new blast today as evidence multiplied that when he returns he may not remain long in his chairmanship if of the War Production board.

The new attack, close on the heels of Charles E. Wilson's sharp criticisms when he resigned as executive vice chairman, was made by Rubber Director Bradley Dewey, saying that remarks Nelson made about the rubber program constituted "typical Washington sniping."

Dewey was alluding to the WPB chief's testimony before the Senate war investigating committee in which Nelson, commenting upon Dewey's decision to retire Sept. 1 because the rubber program was completed, remarked that the program "was completed—all but getting the tires." Dewey said he never stated the tire producing job was done, merely that synthetic rubber plants were producing.

Krug's Authority Broader

The new storm broke as J. A. Krug, assigned by the President to take Wilson's place while Nelson is in China, gave pointed indications that his authority is much broader than originally believed.

Krug told reporters that his authority included hiring and firing, that he was "starting a new deal from here on out," that he would "kill any sniping."

Monday the 37-year-old acting chairman, a WPB power expert and onetime manager of power for the Tennessee Valley authority, will be called before the Senate's war probing group in a closed session to clear up three points: (1) The extent to which Krug is in sympathy with Nelson's plan, (2) to proceed with putting Nelson's policies into effect, and (3) how far he intends to battle opposition to his course.

First Bankruptcy For A Year Is Reported

AUSTIN, Aug. 26. (U.P.) — Activity of Texas business during July today was traced in reports from the University of Texas Bureau of Business research.

The reports showed:

Fifty-eight new corporations were chartered with capital stock of $1,541,000.

The first bankruptcy in a year was reported, the concern, which was unidentified, recording $8,000 libailities to $6,000 assets.

Crude oil production, 2,067,300 barrels, was more than one-fourth greater than the comparable month in 1943.

Consumption of electricity was 7.9 per cent higher than in July, 1943, and industry took 22.2 per cent more power.

Postal receipts in 45 cities totaled $2,726,030, about $700,000 more than July, 1943.

Texas cement plants reduced June output to 454,000 barrels from 541,000 in May.

Improvement Sought In Racial Relations

HOUSTON, Aug. 26 (U.P.) — W. Don Ellinger, Dallas, acting regional director of the Fair Employment Practices commission, today called upon Mayor Otis Massey to enlist the aid of Houston's biracial committee to improve race relations here.

Massey said Ellinger's request would be submitted to proper authorities. Ellinger told Massey the FEPC's only sphere of activity was war industry and federal agencies and its main objective was to see that war production was not interferred with by discrimination as to race, religion or national origin.

Tom Harmon, Elyse Knox Are Married

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 26 (AP) Before 500 guests who crowded the St. Mary's student chapel, Elyse Knox, Hollywood film actress, and Lt. Tom Harmon, Army flier and former University of Michigan all-America football player, were married here this morning.

Outside the chapel, some 800 persons stood during the ceremony, waiting for a glimpse of the couple as they left the chapel.

New School Building To Be Ready For Occupancy About Thanksgiving

The new school building now under construction in northwest section of the city will not be ready for occupancy until about Thanksgiving. Consequently, all students assigned to that district will attend an afternoon session at the K. Carter school until their own building is completed, R. W. Matthews, Lubbock public school superintendent, announced Saturday.

The new district, which will run north of Fourth and west of Avenue T, is being carved out of the K. Carter area, the superintendent said, and will mean changes in the school zone.

Students of grades one and two of the K. Carter district will attend school from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and be dismissed for the day. Students of the new district, grades one through five, will attend from 12:30 p. m. to 5:30 p. m., occupying the rooms left vacant by the aforementioned grades dismissed earlier.

One room in Junior High school will be set aside for sixth grade students of the Northwest section, who will attend a full day session, Matthews stated.

Boundary Line Moved

Other zone changes in Lubbock Independent school district moves the boundary line between George R. Bean and George M. Hunt from Twenty-second to Twenty-fourth. West border of the Dupre school district which was south of Twenty-third will now be west to Ave. W. All other zones remain the same.

A small increase in gross enrollment of schools is anticipated this year if scholastics and actual enrollment follow a pattern of former years. Gross enrollment last year was 8,389, yet scholastics were only 8,264. Scholastics for 1944-45 school term, which opens Monday, Sept. 4, number 8,311.

"We have had many teachers to resign the last two weeks, but at this time practically all the places have been filled," the superintendent said. He added, however, that there was a definite shortage of men teachers for Senior High school.

Meeting Set Thursday

Preparations for the opening of schools will get underway at 8 a. m., Thursday when the superintendent meets with all principals at Senior High school building.

All new teachers employed in the Lubbock system for the first time are instructed to meet with Miss Dorothy Lomax, supervisor, and Miss Grace Padley, director of guidance, in Senior High school building Friday.

There will be a general faculty meeting in Senior High school auditorium at 9 a. m. Saturday followed by a meeting of principals and teachers in their respective buildings at 10 a. m.

May Consult Guidance Teachers

Guidance teachers may be consulted at 11 a. m. Saturday at Senior high school by students in need of schedule changes. Supt. Matthews pointed out that no school building would be open Saturday for enrollment of new students because of the faculty meeting.

Pupils entering elementary schools for the first time may contact principals in their respective buildings Friday from 9 a. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Thompson To Be In Office

Beginning Monday and continuing through Friday, Carroll Thompson, principal of Junior High school, will be in his office for the purpose of classifying and enrolling new students.

The office of Floyd Honey, Senior High school principal, has been registering new students the last week and will continue through Friday. There will be a special examination Thursday for high school students who were ill or who for some other reason could not take the examinations in May, Honey announced.

Books will be issued to Junior and Senior High school students, who have already enrolled, beginning Monday through Friday. Book rooms at both schools will be open the five days.

To Operate 10 Busses

Lubbock Independent School district office said 10 buses would be operated this year, but it was possible that three could be eliminated after the Northwest building is completed. Supt. Matthews indicated that bus students may be re-routed as it becomes necessary during the year.

All pupils in grades one to six attend grade schools in their respective districts and all in grades above six, attend Junior and Senior High schools.

School zones this year, including all changes, follow:

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL
Grades 10, 11 and 12 for the entire district, except some special 10th grade work in Junior High.

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL
Grades 7, 8 and 9 for entire district; also a few irregular students slightly below or above regular Junior High school grades.

Houston Police Begin Drive On Gambling

HOUSTON, Aug. 26 (U.P.) —City police today had begun a drive against gambling at Houston sporting events.

Ten men were arrested for soliciting bets at a baseball game at Buff stadium last night, and Capt. J. R. Davidson said the police force was prepared to follow up with more arrests wherever such activity was found.

The drive will cover all sports, "including football," he stressed.

CRUSHED TO DEATH

TYLER, Aug. 26 (U.P.) — Violent death came to Mrs. W. M. Williams, 36, last night when the wheels of a lumber truck passed over her head after a collision involving her automobile and the truck. Mrs. Williams was thrown out of her car by the impact and she rolled under the truck's wheels.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

PRIVATE FLINCH was late for the parade.

"Well, it's nice to see you soldier," said the sergeant in a well-modulated snarl. "We had so feared you had signed a separate peace."

SCATTERINGS

FROM five to fifty, the female of the species seems to be wearing bows in her hair and right pretty she looks too! There also seems to be a rash of combing a long bob into a chignon around a "rat" . . . The suggested title for a book in the making about the life of Army nurses seems apropos: "Goodness And Mercy Shall Follow." The WACs showed a sense of humor when they nicknamed their sky pieces "Hobby hats." . . . There is a whole segment of our feminine population who have not only never owned a hat, but never worn one. That's the 16 to 20 year olds. . . . But hatlessness in general has been the vogue for the past seven years. All of which likely is not interesting nor important to anyone except the hat designers.

Now that the Boys club is at long last a reality, we are wondering if anyone has decided that it is time a similar program for girls would be a worthy undertaking. . . . As we understand the purpose of a boys' club, rehabilitation plays a big part. That being so, don't you think an unbalanced situation might result? We mean, if nothing is done for girls and interest continues to be centered on boys . . . Why hasn't someone looked into the possibility of a YWCA being built in downtown Lubbock? That would go a long way toward remedying a situation where a town doesn't provide a recreation center for girls.

AN ex-Techsan, Lt. Thomas B. Forbes, who recently returned from England after completing 65 missions, visited here last week, accompanied by his bride, an English girl. The couple has gone to visit his parents, who live on a ranch near Dickens, but will return for a longer visit this week. . . . Lt. Forbes, enlisted with the Royal Canadian Air Force and went to England where he transferred to the U. S. Army Air corps. He is a navigator-bombardier. . . . He flew to the United States and his bride came by boat and they met in New York to make the trip to Texas . . . Numbers of Lubbock people who want to do something patriotic for their country would gladly donate blood for plasma and we are wondering about the possibility of bringing a Red Cross mobile blood donor unit here. Judging from stories over the country, the plasma banks are far from full . . . If you were wondering during Crosby's program Thursday night where you had heard the name Igor Gorin, rest your mind because he is the handsome young Russian baritone who appeared on the Tech artists course last spring. Thursday night after he had spoken rapidly in his native tongue to one of the girls on the program, and someone asked for a translation it was explained, "Oh, that's what is known as a Russian advance."

A friend who is stationed in the China - India - Burma theater writes the American soldiers are pleased, although surprised, that the many Indians speak such good English. One lad from Brooklyn (a "dese, dem, thoid and boid" fellow) asked a young Indian boy who was down on the line one day, "Hey, do you speak English?" "Yes, the little fellow answered," better than you do." . . . It may be foolish to daydream this far ahead, but when a rich-voiced radio baritone suddenly burst into "I'll Be Home For Christmas" the other night, we couldn't help but wonder if some of the boys really will be home . . . Wonder why someone hasn't thought of streamlining college diplomas, making them neat affairs that might be encased in a folder, small and compact, rather than the large ones that are impossible to file away in a drawer and of very little use unless you need to hang them on your office wall to impress business callers.

Someone defines an old maid as a person who grows more particular—and less desirable—each year. But we like the motto said to hang on a wall in the home of a maiden lady: The regret over what I have missed is swallowed up in the relief at what I have escaped . . . By the way that appears in a book which the Doaks, the Dunns, Mrs. Gordon Dickinson, Joe Bryant and other preachers' children might like to read. It's "Papa Was a Preacher," written by Alyene Porter, a Dallas resident and it is an hilarious document.

NEW paper restrictions take a pinch here and a pinch there from weights of various types of paper, to save the precious basic materials. Tablets, notebooks and such everyday writing papers will be cut a little more. School drawing paper will be lighter. Some types of magazine and book paper have been reduced again . . . Men have been known to go 63 days without food, a week without water, but they usually die in less than 10 days if totally deprived of the sleep that restores energy and rebuilds frayed nerves. An ancient form of Chinese torture was to keep prisoners awake constantly. They usually lose their reason after the fifth or sixth day. So perhaps you had better heed the warning and set a sleep quota.

Engagements And Weddings Continue Of Prime Interest In Lubbock

Vows Read In Church At Plainview

PLAINVIEW, Aug. 26 (Special) —In a double ring ceremony performed at 8:15 o'clock Friday evening in the First Methodist church in Plainview, Miss Bettye Jo Cardwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cardwell of Plainview, became the bride of Charles F. Cathey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Cathey of Lubbock.

Rev. T. Edgar Neal, pastor, read the vows before an altar decorated with palms, tall baskets of white gladioli, ferns and candelabra holding cathedral tapers.

Mrs. Charles H. Dean, organist, played "Theme" from Tschaikowsky's 5th Symphony, "The Lord's Prayer" by Mallotte and "Because" preceding the ceremony. She accompanied Mrs. R. H. Knoohuizen who sang "At Dawning" and "Through the Years." During the ceremony "Indian Love Call" was played softly. The traditional wedding marches were played for the processional and recessional.

Father Gives In Marriage

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned princess style with a sweetheart neckline, a deep chantilly lace yoke and puffed sleeves and a full skirt falling into a long train. She also were long lace mitts. Her three-tiered veil of imported English Heathcoat illusion was held in place by a coronet of pearlized orange blossoms. She wore a strand of pearls and carried a white Bible topped with white orchids and a shower of tuberoses.

Miss Mary Myrtle Knoohuizen of Plainview, maid of honor, wore a white organdy dress with a sweetheart neckline, puffed sleeves and a full floor length skirt. Her headdress was of yellow malines and yellow daisies. She carried a bouquet of yellow daisies tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Emma Jo Armstrong of Plainview and Miss Jean Ann Miller of Hutchinson, Kansas, were bridesmaids. Their dresses were of white organdy fashioned with basque waists, puffed sleeves and floor length skirts. They wore white horsehair braid picture hats. Each carried a bouquet of yellow daisies tied with white satin ribbon.

Charles Akers, ARM 3/c of Lubbock, stationed in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, was best man. Ushers were Bill Barnett of Dallas and Stanley Cathey of Lubbock. Junior ushers were Earl Lockhart, jr., of Lubbock, Fillmore Hendrix, jr., and Lewis Kiker, jr., of Plainview.

Mrs. Cardwell, mother of the bride, wore a sky blue shadowed chiffon floor length dress. Her corsage was of gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore a floor length dress of black and white jersey with a corsage of gardenias.

Assist In Reception

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for members of the wedding party and close friends. A three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple and encircled at the base with bride's roses and tuberoses was served by Mrs. T. Edgar Neal from a table covered with a white net cloth over white satin. Mrs. E. E. Baum served at the punch bowl. Assisting in the dining room were Miss Jo Hal Wofford, Miss Reta Jane Norman and Miss Flora Katherine Wallace. Miss Patsy Smith of Ralls was at the register.

Other members of the house party were Messrs. and Mesdames R. W. O'Keefe, L. W. Kiker, M. A. Dunn, Earl Lockhart, Raymond Knoohuizen, Tom Boyd, V. V. Beck, F. W. Hendrix, George Branham, M. B. Hood, W. J. Stuckler and W. H. Ballew.

After the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to points in New Mexico. For traveling the bride wore a red gabardine suit, a white blouse and black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Lubbock High School and from Colorado Women's college, a junior women's college in Denver, where she was active in several clubs, and was a member of Zeta Sigma Pi, honorary social science fraternity. She received the B. S. degree in elementary education from Texas Technological college this month. She did choral work at Tech and was a member of the Book Reviewers club and Ko Shari social club.

The bridegroom attended Lubbock High school and was graduated from high school in New Mexico. He attended Denver University and Texas Technological college where he majored in business education. He was a member of the Tech Centaur social club. He is now engaged in business with his father in Lubbock, where the couple will make their home.

IN THE PICTURES—August brides are pictured in today's society. Upper left, is Mrs. Robert E. Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Peek of Lubbock and the former Claudine Peek whose marriage was read in Avon Park, Fla. Center picture is of Mrs. Charles F. Cathey, who was Miss Bettye Jo Cardwell before her Friday marriage in Plainview. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cardwell, former Lubbock residents, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Cathey of Lubbock. The couple will be at home here after a wedding trip. Mrs. Lewis C. Cox, jr., the bride at the upper right, was Miss Sherley Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Shepard of Lubbock, before her marriage read Wednesday evening at the home of her parents. Lower picture is of Mrs. Yantis Tilden Wright, the former Miss Irene Crim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Lindsay of Lubbock. The bridegroom's parent's Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wright, live at 2223 Twentieth.

Betty Cross Is To Wed Sept. 15

MRS. D. D. CROSS, 3001 Twentieth, was hostess with a tea given late Thursday afternoon at her home to announce the engagement of her daughter, Miss Betty Jane Cross, to James Garnett Morris of Houston. Guests called between 5 and 7 o'clock.

Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw stood at the head of a receiving line made up of the hostess, the honoree, and Miss Cross' paternal grandmother, Mrs. W. S. Cross.

Miss Jean Renner showed callers to the living room where Miss Rachel Stewart presided at the bride's book. In writing their names they used a pearl-handled pen that belonged to the honoree's great-grandmother.

During the afternoon, musical numbers were played by Mrs. Amos P. Bond and Miss Virginia Belle Gamble.

Mrs. Ed Bassel and Miss Anne Birkman invited guests to the dining room where Mrs. Allen T. Stewart presided at the punch bowl and was assisted in serving by Mrs. R. E. Stroup and Misses Rebecca Ann Bradshaw and Mary Menon Stangel.

The serving table was covered with a white marquisette cloth and centered with a bride's bouquet of white roses. Crystal appointments were used. Favors were tea napkins which bore the lettering "Betty and Jim, Sept. 15."

Bowls of red roses were arranged in the receiving room.

Simmons-Peek Vows Read In Florida

Before her marriage read Aug. 15 in Avon Park, Fla., Mrs. Robert E. Simmons was Miss Claudine Peek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Peek of 2404 Fifteenth. For the ceremony, she wore an aqua blue dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. H. C. Hastings of Florence, S. C., was maid of honor and Lt. John I. Defrancesco was best man.

Guests were Lt. Simmons' crew members and their wives. After the ceremony, a dinner was given in the couple's honor at the Jacaranda hotel, where they will make their home after a trip to Miami and Palm Beach.

For the past year and one-half, Mrs. Simmons has been employed as a typist in the base hospital at Lubbock Army Air field. Lt. Simmons' home is in Freeport, Ill. He was a student at Iowa university before entering the service. He received his wings at Pecos Army Air field.

Irene Crim Is Bride Of Yantis Wright

In a 7 o'clock ceremony read Friday at St. John's Methodist church by Rev. Bill Fleming, Miss Della Irene Crim, daughter of Mrs. W. A. Lindsay, 1919 Ave. Q, and Yantis Tilden Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wright, 2223 Twentieth street, were married.

White gladioli banked the altar. Miss Peggy Ann Johnson, accompanied by Miss Janice Lindsay, sister of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Indian Love Call." Traditional wedding marches were played.

Miss Dorris Crim, sister of the bride and maid of honor, wore a dress of watermelon pink with black accessories and a white rose corsage. Miss Jane O'Neall, bridesmaid, wore a dress and accessories similar to those of the maid of honor.

Misses Betty Rountree and Betty White were usherettes.

Mother of the bride wore a gray wool dress with black accessories and a corsage of dark red roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a black dress with fuchsia accessories and a rose corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of the bride's mother. A two tiered wedding cake and an arrangement of white gladioli centered the lace covered serving table.

The bride and bridegroom are graduates of Lubbock High school, and at present he is employed by Walsh Oil company in Sundown. The couple will live in Levelland. For traveling the bride wore a brown moire taffeta suit with brown accessories.

Wedding guests were from Littlefield, Muleshoe, Abernathy, Fort Worth and Dallas.

Dessert-Bridge Party Honor To Mrs. Ehr

To honor Mrs. D. G. Ehr on her birthday, Mrs. A. R. Dorsch was hostess at a dessert-bridge given in her home at 1723 Thirteenth street Friday afternoon.

Purple phlox, fern and candles were used to decorate.

Guests were Mesdames H. D. Wilson, M. R. Bullington, J. R. Stroh, W. A. Saunders, R. J. Gamalski and J. F. Cox.

Eight-Year-Old Is Birthday Honoree

Ira Patterson Becomes Bride Of Roy Magarity In Home Vows

• • •

MISS Ira Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Patterson, 1710 Twenty-third street, became the bride of Roy Magarity, AMM 1/c, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Magarity of Tulsa in a double ring ceremony read Tuesday night at 8:45 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Faulkner, 3012 Twenty-first street, by Rev. Jeff D. Welch of Central Baptist church.

Mrs. W. B. Crooks, pianist, offered a prelude and accompanied Mrs. Mary Weber who sang "Indian Love Call."

The bride descended the stairs with her father by who she was given in marriage and joined the bridal party who stood before an altar of palms lighted by white tapers. She wore a white net wedding gown and fingertip veil of bridal illusion attached to a halo of red rosebuds. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli and red roses and something old was a strand of pearls while something

Well Folks:

Grandpa Nosey must be slipping or maybe I just like going to the Decorators Studio, 1302 Ave. N. I rushed in Thursday to see what was new and upon being informed that it was not Friday I looked around and then returned Friday to drink in the whole situation.

I found that Fredda had returned from New York. She seemed glad to be back in Lubbock but was a busy person trying to catch up with her work. If you are having problems with your decorating, call and make an appointment with her because she is out of the Studio most of the time taking care of clients. After visiting the furniture, carpet and fabric houses she is more familiar with the possibilities of the merchandise that is available.

There was an extensioon coffee table in Frosted Oak that really took my eye. It folds into a small table or lets out and makes a grand large table. Also there was a new tray table in the same wood that is ideal to carry from room to room for small nick-nacks of food and drinks.

An old French tea set in Candy Pink color is lovely for tea sippers. Other old pieces are six Limoge tea plates in Jade and rust colors, a pair of Iran candle sticks in brilliant colors and a pair of Magenta candle sticks from England.

The girls are always glad to have you drop in for a visit. If you love beautiful pieces for your house or just like to see them, go in the Studio for a look.

Yours till next week,
Grandpa Nosey,

Couple Is Married In Phoenix Church

In a twilight service read August 19 in the Chapel of Light of Central Methodist church in Phoenix, Ariz., Miss Francys Chance, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Chance, 2124 Fourteenth, became the bride of A/S Chesley O. Whadford, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Whadford of Payette, Idaho. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Charles S. Kendall, pastor.

Gladioli, greenery and white tapers in cathedral candelabra decorated the altar.

William Lester, soloist for station KOY and the Blue Network sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. Mary Hamilton at the organ. She also played traditional wedding marches.

The bride wore a white linen suit with a sweetheart neckline and bracelet length sleeves. Her accessories were white. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid. For something old, she wore a wedding band belonging to her maternal grandmother. For something borrowed and blue, she wore a bluebird pin which belonged to Miss Louise Chance, her sister and maid of honor. In her shoe she wore a six pence which had been given to her by a brother, Lt. (jg) Edgar Chance.

A/S John King of Washington state served as best man.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High school and attended Texas Technological college. The bridegroom is a graduate of New Plymouth High school in Idaho. He has been in the Army Air corps since 1941 and in cadet training since January, 1944. Before being sent to Williams field in Chandler, Ariz., here he is stationed at present, A/S. Whadford was stationed at Texas Technological college with the preflight detachment. The couple is at home in Mesa, Ariz.

Gantz Home Scene Of Wedding Vows

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Frances Arline Farmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlo J. Farmer, 2323 Twenty-fifth, to F/O W. E. Stephens, jr., of Johnson City, Tenn., which took place August 19 in the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. G. Gantz with Rev. Gantz reading the ceremony.

Cadet nurse Letha Mae Farmer, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. First Lt. John H. Carter of Big Spring Army Air field was best man.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High school and has been employed in Lubbock for the past year. Until Sept. 1, when the couple will leave for a trip to the bridegroom's home, F/O and Mrs. Stephens will live in Big Spring where he is stationed.

Guests were Mrs. Shirla Eddy of Tulsa, Okla., sister of the bride, Miss Flora Jane Louder, Miss Marinell Thompson, Miss Eloise Gill and A/C Leo Thornebeck and A/C Ken Jones of LAAF.

Birthday Supper Held To Honor Mr. Barton

A buffet supper was given Friday night to honor J. A. Barton on his 70th birthday in his home at 1304 Ave. L. Mesdames Allen Dorsett and C. R. Barton were hostesses.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Royalty and J. C. Street. George W. Foster, R. D. Shaw, Mark Barton, Rush Dickinson, Allen Dorsett, Clarence Barton and son, Donald, and Rev. C. E. Lynn.

Stuart McCallums Already Are Boosters Of Lubbock's Climate And Cleanliness

Included in Lubbock's list of new residents are Capt. and Mrs. Stuart McCallum and seven-months old son, James Stuart, who make their home at 2209 Twenty-third. Capt. McCallum is Company commander of the Army Specialized Training program at Texas Technological college.

Already the couple are enthusiastic boosters of Lubbock's cleanliness and climate. A sufferer of sinusitis, Capt. McCallum had experienced difficulty in breathing at times in New Orleans, where his station was before he was transferred here. That's why he is pleased with a high altitude. He is a native of Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. McCallum is an Emporia, Kas., girl. Her time now is mainly devoted to her home and baby but for seven years she was a professional dancer and produced shows in New York City and for the Royal Palm club in Miami, Fla. She is the former Livonia Warren.

"When I was at home before coming out here, I talked with a number of friends who had visited here. They assured me I would love to live in Lubbock and they certainly were right. There is a newness, a sparkle that we find very exhilirating, especially after having been in New Orleans which is directly the opposite in climate, buildings and home," the officer's wife said.

TAHOKA BRIDE—Mrs. John H. Boyd was Miss Lenore Anglin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Anglin of Tahoka, before her marriage to Pvt. Boyd of El Campo, which was read Friday, Aug. 18, in the home of her parents by Rev. H. A. Nichols. The couple formerly attended Texas Technological college and last year the bride taught in the Uvalde schools. They went to South Texas for a short wedding trip.

Mrs. Justin Adams To Address Group

An address by Mrs. Justin L. Adams of Crosbyton, president of 14th District of the parent-teacher association, a forum led by Mrs. James G. Allen and reports of committee activities will highlight the Lubbock Parent-Teacher council School of Instruction Tuesday at First Presbyterian fellowship hall. Those interested in child welfare and officers of all parent-teacher units are invited to attend the sessions from 9 to 11 a. m. and 1:30 to 3:30 p. m.

Mrs. George Lemon, 14th District vice-president, will preside at the morning session. The program will be as follows: invocation, Dr. J. M. Lewis; group singing, directed by Mrs. Elois Elliott; address, R. W. Matthews; president's message, "Setting the Stage for Tomorrow's Play," Mrs. Adams; highlights of the national parent-teacher convention, Mrs. H. F. Godeke.

Those to take part on the forum, "Challenges Today and Tomorrow," led by Mrs. Allen will be Rev. John A. Winslow, "Modern Youth and Their Religion"; John W. Wilson, "Cooperating Agencies and the P-TA"; Miss Dorothy Lomax, "Home and School Team Work"; and Mrs. Grace Dyess, "Maintaining Balance Through Recreation."

Committee reports will be given by Mrs. F. B. Malone on war activities; Mrs. Alex McDonald, membership; Mrs. Acie Cope, hospitality; Mrs. A. W. Young, radio; Mrs. W. D. Benson, jr., publicity and publications; Mesdames T. D. Gray and T. F. Wiesen, recreation and lunchroom survey; Mesdames Percy Spencer and George Lemon, parliamentary procedure and education for home and family life; Miss Grace Padley and Mrs. C. A. White, mental health and social hygiene and health and summer round-up; Mesdames George Berry and M. C. Butler, goals for juvenile protection and high school service.

Mrs. C. M. Finley is chairman of the hostess committee for the day.

Purpose of the school is to give an understanding of the objects and purposes of the parent-teacher movement and to acquaint workers with their duties and responsibilities.

TRY THIS AMAZING BARCEL RECIPE TO TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Right in Your Own Home, You Can Lose Pounds of Excess Weight Without Starvation Diet or Strenuous Exercise

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy — no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcel Concentrate. Pour this into a bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful (twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears —how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Perhaps you are overweight due to over indulgence in food or the wrong kind of food. With the Barcel home recipe method, you do not have to starve yourself or go hungry. Just follow the simple instructions given on the label and you should get satisfactory results quickly. The very first pint you make up should show results.

LOSE UGLY FAT WITH BARCEL

Why not slim down your figure without a lot of fuss and bother? Try the Barcel way. Wear your streamlined frocks and slacks gracefully. Remember, if the very first bottle of Barcel doesn't show you the sensible way to lose weight, your money will be refunded.

Get Barcel at Mark Halsey Drug Store and all other druggists.

Frenship School To Open Monday

Opening exercises of Frenship Rural High school will be conducted at 11 o'clock Monday morning in the Wolfforth Baptist church, Supt. G. L. Farrar said.

Chas. A. Guy, editor of the Avalanche-Journal, will speak, and there will be community singing.

The school's 16 teachers have been contracted; enrollment will be approximately 375 out of the district's scholastic population of 450, and bookkeeping and shorthand are being added to commercial subjects, Farrar said.

Lunch Program Adopted

The faculty: G. E. Johnson, high school principal; L. M. Hargrave, vocational agriculture; P. W. Pattillo, speech and mathematics; W. A. Appling, commercial; Mrs. Eaton, high school English; Miss Rosa Jo McDuff, home economics; J. W. Bennett, grammar school principal; Miss Eleanor Bailey, seventh grade; Mrs. E. H. Boulter, sixth grade; Miss Winnie Altman, fifth grade; Mrs. Helen Lamkin, fourth grade; Mrs. L. R. Holden, third grade; Mrs. H. C. O'Neil, second grade; Mrs. Murl Austin, first grade. Johnson will coach basketball, but the school will not resume football, Farrar said.

Leslie Howard's Will Is Filed For Probate

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26 (AP)—The will of Leslie Howard, late British film actor lost at sea more than a year ago, was filed for probate today, leaving most of his California property to his widow, Ruth, now in England.

Howard died when a plane flying him between Portugal and England was shot down, June 1, 1943, supposedly by the Nazis.

The will filed here disposes of property valued at $11,732. Chief item was a house in Beverly Hills which the actor left to a former secretary, Violet Cunningham. The rest of the estate consisted of cash and personal property.

Girl Scout Events Reported In City

Twelve girls from Troop 2 with Mrs. C. R. Cagle, their leader, visited the textile building at Tech this week as part of the work on their Weaving badge. They were conducted on the tour by Miss Lucille Finley who explained to them the different weaving processes and showed them the looms used by Tech students.

Girls making the trip were: Maxine Boyd, Dixie McGehee, Dorothy Yates, Sheila Jondahl, Gloria Trigg, Virginia Ann Butler, Billie Catherine Weiss, Alice Quellia, Mary Ann Holt, Carolyn Bledsoe, Betty Louise Formby, and Gloria Snell. They were accompanied by Miss Nora McMurry, a Tech student, and Mrs. C. R. Cagle.

The girls will continue meeting regularly on Tuesday afternoon at the Junior High school after school starts. Their next meeting will be in the form of a swimming party at Mackenzie State park, followed by a picnic lunch in the park.

On Home Nursing

Other activities of Girl Scouts this week have included the completion of a home nursing course by several girls from Troop 14 at K. Carter school. Mrs. Jack Morris, one of the leaders of Troop 14, instructed the girls and activities included instruction on bathing a patient, making hospital beds, diets for invalids and how to follow a doctor's orders.

Girls who completed this course and who are to receive their Home Nursing badge are: Nancy Dealey, Martha Kate Gillespie, Ann Bentley, Dorothy Faye McCartney, Martha Ann Somers, Juanita Hamilton and Bobby Jo Roberts.

Troop 14 will be a Junior High school troop this year and will meet on Tuesdays at the Junior High school with Mrs. S. E. Gillespie as leader.

Wilson Couple Is Wed In St. John's Church

Miss Evelyn Brieger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Brieger of Wilson, and Carlton Schaffner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schaffner of Wilson, were married Thursday evening at 6 o'clock by Rev. E. Herber at St. John's Lutheran church in Wilson.

Miss Ila Mae Schaffner of Tahoka, cousin of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She wore a two piece aqua suit with brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Pvt. Buddy Brieger, USMC, brother of the bride, was best man.

The bride is a graduate of Roosevelt High school and the bridegroom is a graduate of Wilson High school. After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Wilson.

Guests attending the wedding were from Wilson, Southland, Slaton, Tahoka and Lubbock. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Jacob Mueller of Westhoff and his great aunt, Mrs. Henry Mueller, of Moulton, were also present.

Lt. William Luce And Washington Girl Wed

Word has been received here of the marriage of Lt. William F. Luce, USNR, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Luce of Lubbock, and Miss Clotilde Cunningham, daughter of Mrs. Austin Cunningham of Washington, D. C., which took place Thursday in St. Mary's chapel in the Washington cathedral.

The bride is a former student at Radcliffe college, Cambridge, Mass.

Lt. Luce is a graduate of the engineering division at Texas Technological college, has a master of arts degree from A. and M. college and studied one year toward his doctorate at the University of Michigan. Prior to going into the service, he was a government engineer, serving in Alaska.

After the Hawaiians had established themselves as a republic, they voluntarily had their islands annexed to the United States as a territory in 1898.

Frank Hodges Marries Miss Eleanor Cooney

Announcements of the marriage of Miss Eleanor Belmot Cooney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Parks Cooney of Glenside, Pa., and Frank Laurel Hodges, AMM 1/c, son of Mrs. Sam T. Hodges of 2204 Twenty-fourth and stationed at the United States Naval Air station, Willow Grove, Pa., has been received by relatives and friends.

Mr. Hodges is a graduate of Lubbock High school and was a student at Texas Technological college when he enlisted in the Navy in July, 1942. After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Jenkintown, Pa.

Red Cross Rooms Will Be Open All Day Soon

Beginning with Monday, Sept. 4, the Red Cross rooms, Sixteenth and Ave. J, will be open daily from 9:30 until 4 o'clock and Monday nights betwween 7 and 10 o'clock.

This will give volunteer workers an opportunity to fold the 39,000 surgical dressings in the August-September allotment and the 48,000 bandages received for the October quota.

"We are making the announcement early in order to give women an opportunity to schedule their activities to allow a certain number of hours a week at the Red Cross," said Mrs. Morley Jennings, co-chairman with Mrs. Roscoe Wilson of surgical dressings.

From Lou To Louella

DEAR LOUELLA: Pauline Lokey is in College Station visiting Don McInturff, an A&M student. She attended the regimental ball with him Friday night. Pauline's mother accompanied her as far as Dallas . . . Lt. C. J. Grognet, a former Tech pre-flight, now stationed in Hobbs, had Dodo Brizzell as his date for a formal dance in Hobbs Saturday night. Dodo and Ruth Genelle Spikes are escorted here by two Army engineers, Frank McElwrath and Boen Swinney. Both boys live near Corpus Christi . . . Temple Joyce McAfee will be a freshman at Gulfpark college, Gulfport, Miss., this fall . . . Wanda Jo Ribble will be a student at Christian college, Columbia, Mo. . . . Ben T. Wells, a pre-medical student at Baylor, has been home . . . Carlon Land, spring graduate of Lubbock High will be a Tech freshman in September, and a cute one, too.

Rebecca Bradshaw, who will be a junior at University of Missouri, will leave here Sept. 10 in order to arrive at the university in time for rush week. . . . Imogene Bell is home after visiting several weeks in Dallas . . . Mary Ann Dykes will come home today after spending sometime with her sister, Mrs. Joe Coursey, jr., in Odessa . . . Betty Floyd and Marion Chandler are vacationing at the V-C-Bar ranch near Lake City, Colo., with Marion's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Chandler. They will return to Lubbock Sept. 1. . . Mrs. Bill Terminello, the former Ermadell Floyd, will leave in a few days for Perryton where she will teach public school music . . . Francys Peters will come home Sept. 1 from Mineral Wells where she has been staying with friends.

Here And There

Julian Ward, former high school student here, is attending the University of Southern California. His mother is visiting him there . . . Billy Tucker, a pilot of a C-47 in Italy, writes friends of the sights he is seeing. He has visited Vatican City . . . S/Sgt. and Mrs. Raymond Johns were married six years ago today, and 30 minutes after their wedding, S/Sgt. Johns' friend, Robert Lee Stone, county agent in Tahoka, married Edna Mae Wilde. The Johns are spending this week-end in Dallas with relatives. . . . Betty McDonald will be a student at Colorado State Teachers college, in Greeley, this fall . . . R. M. Groves, stationed in Amarillo, spends almost every week-end here. He will go to radar school after finishing training in Amarillo.

Ruth Taylor received eight letters Wednesday from Bob Pinkston, now serving in the Navy in the South Pacific. . . . Dana Faye Ware is making plans to attend the next semester of school at University of Missouri . . . S/Sgt Joe Bill McCaskill, Lubbock High graduate, is visiting here after service in Italy . . . Martha Parnell returned home Thursday after spending the summer in Washington, D. C. From Washington, she and Eugenia Harper went to New York where they spent several days. Martha will teach speech and English in Iraan High school this fall . . . T. S. Cranford and his uncle, Raymond Reasonover, who hadn't seen each other in a long time, had a reunion in Hawaii last week-end . . . According to those who follow the record of Cadet John Joseph Snyder, "Philadelphia Playboy," he's fast meeting Lubbock girls—too many to name . . . Leon Walton of Del Rio has recently been here to see Rue Copeland.

* * *

SO MANY are vacationing, especially in New Mexico . . . Dorothy Stinnet is again going with Bill Branch since she is back from Ruidoso . . . Frances Hawn will be back from N. M. Monday . . . Bee Bailiff is home from Wichita Falls and Quanah . . . After spending a month here, Mrs. Horace Huckaby, the former, Frances Gordon, will return to California soon where her husband, Sgt. Huckaby, is stationed . . . Margene Fry is home from Colorado City where she spent several days . . . Recent visitors of Carlsbad Caverns were Nita Gibson, Ida Bell Morrison, Marguerite Lipps, Alice Helms and Mrs. Billie Thompson and Mrs. Bobbie Fisher. . . . Lt. George Hase, who has been stationed in North Africa and England, is back in the States and on his way here to marry Anita Stephenson.

Interesting gifts are being sent to wives and girl friends of men serving in different war theaters. . . . F/O Bill Bryant who graduated from SPAAF last October, has sent his wife, the former Thelma Mason, a necklace and bracelet made of Sicilian coral and mother of pearl, a black lace mantilla from Corsica and a tea set and doilie from Rome. She is expecting a box from him which contains camsos and hose from Rome. F/O Bryant was in the invasion of Southern France . . . F/O Don Fox, also a SPAAF graduate, has sent Doris Waddill pictures of London which show damage done there by robot bombs . . . Mrs. Roy Griffin, the former Miss Margaret Schroeder, has received a cameo bracelet and cologne from Italy which were sent by her husband, Lt. Griffin. Hollywood On The Loose...

Ingrid Bergman Is Popular Because She Acts Natural

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26—Everybody in Hollywood likes Ingrid Bergman. For her naturalness on and off the screen. But particularly off the screen. There's where it really counts with the studio folk. As one of her co-workers told me, "She has no affectations — not even little ones."

Ingrid Bergman

We found Ingrid wearing pink horn-rimmed glasses as a serious minded young psychiatrist in her new movie "The House of Dr. Edwardes."

Ingrid shook hands like she meant it. "Come into my little house," she said. The "little house" turned out to be her dressing room very plain.

She was easy to talk to. And that Bergman smile is just as warm in person as on the screen.

She was wearing a trim suit and a perk tam. Only incongruous note was flat-soled tennis sneakers with laces around her ankles. "I always wear low shoes,' she said, "I'm so tall you know—5 feet 8."

Movie queens on the tallish side do not usually bring up the subject in the presence of the press. We told La Bergman so.

• • •

THEY HAD HER ON A BOX

"THAT'S silly," she laughed, "they're always standing me nearest the tallest extras on the set to make me look smaller. And I wear narrow-shouldered clothes. Why, just the other day, for a scene with Gregory Peck they said, "Have Ingrid stand on a box. She's not tall enough." It was wonderful. Usually they have the man standing on a box. Or wearing high-heeled shoes, like Charles Boyer had to wear in 'Gaslight'."

There was the time Ingrid reported for work at M-G-M. They gave her a dressing room. It was dusty. So she took a broom and a dust cloth and went to work. "They thought I was crazy," she said. "Sometimes I can't understand Hollywood."

Everyone had such nice things to say about Ingrid Bergman that we just had to ask her, "Don't you ever get temperamental—blow up and throw things?"

No, she couldn't remember ever having thrown anything. "I've seen people blow up on the set, though," she said. "They look so funny when they get hysterical that I've never tried it."

There was one thing that did irk her a little though. But it was really more of a joke than anything else. "Every time I start a new picture they call me in for make-up tests. They try 20 different shades and then they settle on the same make-up I've always worn. Why, I wear the same make-up I wore when I made my first pictures in Sweden."

Speaking of pictures, Ingrid said that of the nine she has made in Hollywood she liked "Gaslight" and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" best. She didn't like "Casablanca" so well. "I didn't have much to do," she said.

• • •

LIVES TWO LIVES

WHAT picture did her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, like best? "I don't know," she said. "Really—I must ask him sometime?"

As you probably have heard; Ingrid has drawn a chalk line between the studio and her private life. She does not permit photographs of her 5-year-old daughter. She doesn't talk about her husband, who is now a resident doctor at Los Angeles County Hospital. She does not permit "at home" photographs.

Oliver And Hardy In 180th Picture

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26 (U.P.) — Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, in their 18 years as a comedy team, have been shown on the screen in their underwear 51 times.

They've been hit by 125 buckets of water, fallen off 61 ladders, been kicked in the pants 537 times, elsewhere 298.

Entertain 3 Generations

To the average man, losing his pants once in a lifetime would be a calamity. But records that Laurel and Hardy have kept of the movies that have entertained three generations of youngsters show that they have been despoiled of such garments no less than 32 times in line of duty.

They've lost their shirts 52 times, not counting unfortunate adventures outside the films.

In the 179 pictures they have made together—their 180th, "The Home Front," is coming up soon —they have wrecked an average of three suits of clothes apiece per film for a staggering total of 1,074. On all occasions the pants were a total loss, 976 coats were beyond repair, but only 13 vests had to be discarded.

Rough On Derbies

Under the head of further destruction come 47 automobiles, all of ancient vintage and ready for the scrap heap. Lately they've laid off cars, because under war conditions audiences are more likely to groan than laugh when even a decrepit jalopy is wrecked.

Pies have taken a beating from the comics, although in recent years they have laid off this sure-fire laugh-getter.

Berry Pies "Squish" Better

They figure they have destroyed nearly 3,500 pies in their long career. Custard and cream pies used to be favorites, but a shift in technique brought berry pies into their own. They "squish" better and are more runny.

And in all their 18 years they have never had a serious argument and have never had one scene snipped from their comedies by a censoring board.

Record Enrollment At Tahoka Schools Due

TAHOKA, Aug. 26. (Special).—Tahoka public schools will open Monday with the largest enrollment in their history.

A contract recently was made with the Draw school whereby all Draw students will attend Tahoka schools; and, in addition, all students from Edith, Dixie, Three-Lakes and West Point will attend here.

Registration of students has been in progress a week. Classwork will commence Monday. Principal Leo Jackson said more than 300 students had enrolled in high school.

The school board recently voted to use the additional $4 per capita allocated from a surplus to raise salaries of teachers $10 a month. The board is composed of Truett Smith, president; John Slover, vice president; Wynne Collier, W. C. Wharton, Prentice Walker, John Price and Dr. Emil Prohl.

Supt. W. T. Hanes said a "complete and qualified faculty" had been contracted.

News From The Boys Serving In The Armed Forces Of Uncle Sam

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 26.—Pfc. Pryor Hammons, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Pryor Hammons, sr., is back home after serving two years in the Marines with a paratroop division, eleven months of which have been overseas. He recently received his medical discharge. Pfc. Hammons hastened home in response to a message that his brother, Cpl. Robert W. (Babe) Hammons was killed in a plane crash at New Bern, N. C., for whom funeral services were held here this week. Pfc. Hammons participated in two major battles in the Pacific along with minor engagements. He saw action at Bougainville, Vella Lavella, Choisel and Treasude island landings. He is wearing two stars on his service ribbons, denoting the two major engagements. He returned to the States in February this year and had been a patient in the Naval hospital at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif., where he received treatment for a bone injury in his right leg until his discharge.

HAMMONS

Lt. Donald B. Jaynes, husband of the former Miss Genelle Corley of Wolfforth, has reported to the American Air Force Traning command's Lockbourne Army Air base to attend the Central Instructor's school for B-17 Flying Fortress pilots. Prior to his assignment, he was a combat pilot in the European theater of operations where he earned the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal with three Oak Leaf clusters.

ALBANY — Funeral services were conducted here Monday afternoon for Aviation Cadet Wm. Spencer Barstow, 24, only son of Mrs. Jonnie Le-Mond Barstow of El Paso and Lubbock, who was killed in an airplane crash Aug. 17 at Hemet, Calif. Rev. John A. Winslow, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church in Lubbock, officiated. Cadet Barstow, son of the late Herbert S. Barstow, one of the founders of Barstow, Texas, formerly resided here and attended elementary school here. He graduated from Lubbock High school and had an appointment to West Point but an automobile accident curtailed his plans. He attended Texas A. & M. college and Texas College of Mines and for the past three years worked in a shipbuilding yard in California. He entered the Air Corps in September, 1943 and was selected as a fighter pilot, being in his final phase of primary training at Ryan field when he crashed. His mother and a sister, Mrs. Oscar Slaton, jr., of Lubbock survive.

BARSTOW

AN AIR FORCE SERVICE COMMAND Station, "Somewhere in England," Sgt. Eddie W. Goodgion, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Z. Goodgion, Route 3, Lubbock, has completed a course designed to bridge the gap between training in the States and soldiering in an active Theater of War. His next station will be one from which America's fighting planes take off to smash the Nazi war machine. He was promoteZd to staff sergeant upon completion of the course.

S/Sgt. John F. Hobgood, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hobgood of 2101 Twenty-second street, has been awarded the Air Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters for "exceptionally meritorious achievement" while engaged in bombing operations over enemy occupied Europe. Sergeant Hobgood, a gunner with the bomber group known as "Hell's Angels," has been stationed somewhere in England since early June. He expects to complete his required number of missions in time to spend Christmas here with his parents. He is a former student of Texas Technological college. He recently was promoted to staff sergeant.

HOBGOOD

PORTLAND PORT OF EMBARKATION, Portland, Ore. The promotion of Clinton D. Green, military police detachment, from private first class to corporal, has been announced by the commanding officer of this division. Son of Mrs. Mary M. Green, 1317 Seventh treet, Corp. Green's wife, Ethel O. Green, resides at 1405 Avenue F. He was employed by the Economy Mills before entering the service on Nov. 20, 1942.

Pvt. Raymond Halford, sop of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Halford of 608 Avenue A, has been overseas about four months and is serving with an Army Air Forces ground crew in India. He was stationed in Africa for a short time. He has been in the service about 18 months and was stationed at Lubbock Army Air field for several months, being transferred to North Carolina before going overseas. He attended school here and was employed by Coca Cola Bottling company prior to entering the service.

HALFORD

KEESLER FIELD, Biloxi, Miss. —Pvt. Herbert Woodrow Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson of Wolfforth, Tex., recently entered the B-24 Liberator bomber mechanics school here. After 17 weeks of training Private Jackson will be assigned to active line duty or sent to a gunnery or factory school.

15TH AAF IN ITALY—T/Sgt. John N. McDonald, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. McDonald, reside at Lubbock, Texas, Route 3, has been awarded a Distinguished unit citation ribbon, to be displayed on the right breast. The sergeant is a crew chief of 24 months experience overseas with the hardest hitting P-38 Lightning Squadron of a Fighter Group in the 15th Air Force, cited for its outstanding performance in aerial combat over Styr, Austria, April 2, 1944. The Lightnings, on that date, added a brilliant aerial victory to their aggressive record, by beating off numerically superior enemy aircraft which attempted to attack the bomber formations. "It is unquestioned," reads the citation, "that the success of the mission was due to the superior combat efficiency of the pilots, together with the professional skill and devotion to duty of the ground personnel of the group." Twenty of the seventy Kraut planes were destroyed without loss of a single P-38.

Lt. and Mrs. J. H. Kimmel, jr., and daughter, Karen, of Alamogordo, N. M., are visiting Lt. Kimmel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kimmel, sr., 2115 Broadway. Lt. Kimmel is stationed at the Alamogordo Army Air field.

AN EIGHTH AAF BOMBER STATION, England.—2nd Lieut. Young Newsom, 25, husband of Mrs. Frances V. Newsom, 2308 Tenth street, Lubbock, Texas, has been awarded the Air Medal, as recently announced by the Group Commander, Col. George L. Robinson, Los Angales, Calif. Lt. Newsom is a pilot of a Flying Fortress. His Air Medal citation read, in part "for meriterious achievement during six heavy bombardment missions over Germany and German-occupied Europe." Lt. Newsom's father, Mrs. Carson C. West lives at Sonora, Texas. Before entering the AAF, he was a draftsman for the City Engineer of Lubbock, Texas. He graduated from Texas Technological college in 1943.

NEWSOM

1st Lt. William R. Selby, a graduate of Texas Technological college, is scheduled for overseas duty when he completes his combat training as flight engineer at the Great Bend Army Air field, Great Bend, Kans. Lt. Selby entered the AAF in 1942 and prior to this time was employed as assistant manager of the Lubbock Municipal airport.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Alderson of Shallowater, have four sons and a nephew, who made his home with them, in service overseas. T/Sgt. Jack W. Alderson, 23, is with the U. S. Ninth Air Force somewhere in France. He has been overseas since last October. Sgt. Elijah B. Alderson, 28, the nephew, is a radioman with a field artillery battalion, somewhere in France. He has been overseas since the first of this year. Pfc. Paul C. Alderson, 27, is a supply clerk in the U. S. Army Air Forces somewhere in Italy. He served overseas a year and came back to the States for a year before returning to overseas duty in July of this year. Pvts. Jeff D. Alderson, 21, and Van E. Alderson, 19, were called into the service last Jan. 25. They received their training at Camp Wheeler, Ga., and are now somewhere in Italy, where they have been since July.

VAN E.

Upon completion of preflight training, Aviation Cadet Belvin A. Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Simmons of Bula, was sent to Laredo Army Air field, Laredo, where he recently was graduated from the Army Air Forces Flexible Gunnery school, and received the rating of aerial gunner. He will continue his training as navigator or bombardier in another training post.

TWELFTH ARMY AIR FORCE, Italy—Capt. Glen T. Maltby of Muleshoe, Texas, is pilot of a Twelfth Air Force P-47 Thunderbolt fighter-bomber, now blasting communications, motor transports and gun positions in support of Allied ground troops in the Mediterranean theater. Capt. Maltby attended Clovis, N. M., High school and was engaged in farming before entering the service. He was awarded the Air Medal in November, 1943. His father, Glen T. Maltby, sr., resides on route 2, Muleshoe.

TEXAS BROTHERS MEET IN MARSHALLS—These two brothers from Tahoka, both serving in a Marine Air Wing, met at a Marshall Islands base in time to celebrate the first anniversary of their joint enlistment in the Marine Corps. Cpl. William C. Harvick is at left. Sgt. Robert L. Harvick is right. (Associated Press Photo from Marine Corps).

FORT BENNING, Ga.—Headquarters of The Infantry School has announced the promotion of William C. Wood, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wood, sr., 2418 Twenty-second street, Lubbock, Tex., to the rank of first lieutenant. Lt. Wood was graduated from Lubbock High school and attended Texas Technological college. As a civilian, he was a newspaperman in Fort Worth, Texas. In February, 1943, he entered the military service at Camp Wolters, Tex., and after taking his basic training, attended officer candidate school. Since receiving his commission as a second lieutenant in November, 1943, he has been assigned to duty in the training literature and visual aids section of The Infantry school. Lt. Wood is married and makes his home at 1805 Wildwood Ave., Columbus, Ga.

QUANTICO, Va.—Second Lieutenant Elbert Willie Lavender of 2101 Twenty-eighth street, Lubbock, Texas, has been graduated from the fifth basic aviation ground school for officers at the Marine Corps school here. Lt. Lavender received his batchelor of science degree at the Texas Christian University at Fort Worth, Texas, and was owner of Luby's Cafeteria in Lubbock before enlisting in the Marine Corps. His wife, the former Virginia Andrew resides in Fort Worth. Lt. Lavender is the son of Mrs. Minnie Lavendar of 1116 College Avenue, Fort Worth, Texas.

LAVENDER

QUANTICO, Va.—Second Lieutenant Walton Connell Newton, 29, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac O. Newton of Seymour, has graduated from the Marine Fifth basic aviation officer's class here. A graduate of Trinity university, San Antonio, he was employed as a radio announcer for station WGN, Chicago. He announced many baseball and football games in Chicago. His wife, Ramona Mitchell Newton, resides at 2218 Sixteenth street, Lubbock.

AN EIGHTH AAF BOMBER STATION, England — The promotion of Delbert W. Woolfe, an aerial photographer at this Eighth AAF B-17 Flying Fortress station, from the grade of sergeant to Staff sergeant was announced by his base commander, Colonel Elliott Vandevanter, jr., of Washington, D. C.

Sgt. Woolfe, 22, is the son of Mrs. Bert W. Woolfe, former resident of Trinidad, Colo., now living at 501 Smithland Ave., La Junta, Colo. He is the husband of the former Miss Helen Ball, who is living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Ball of 1924 16th St., Lubbock, Texas.

WOOLFE

The youthful flier, who holds the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters for "meritorious achievement" during numerous bombing attacks on Hitler's war machine, is one of the highly trained AAF photographers who brings back the evidence of what the bombers have done to their objective. The pictures are used as a basis for studying results which will aid in the planning of future attacks.

A veteran of eleven months combat duty in England, Sgt. Woolfe's camera has brought back the black and white proof of the destruction dealt to such vital targets as the heavy industries in Berlin and Munich, the aircraft factories in Warnemunde and Leipzig, the marshalling yards at Munster, synthetic oil plants at Celsenkurchen, docks and shipyards of Enden, airfields and oil refineries at Paris and Bordeaux, and installations on the Normandy coast in support of Allied invasion forces.

A former bookkeeper for the J. C. Penney company store in Augilar, Colo., Sgt. Woolfe left his job to enlist in the AAF in May 1941. After receiving advanced photographic shooling at Lowry Field, Colo., he trained in air and ground photo work at Lubbock Army Air Field, Texas; Pendleton Field, Ore.; and Pueblo Air Base, Colo., before being sent overseas.

MEETS JACK BENNY—S/Sgt. Hubert Carrico, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Carrico of Amherst, is shown shaking hands with Jack Benny, popular radio comedian, when the Benny troupe recently toured camps in New Guinea. Sgt. Carrico, graduate of Amherst High school, is a radio technician in the Fifth Air Force and has been in New Guinea two years of the four years he has been in the service. He was stationed at March field before going overseas. Sgt. Carrico reported to his parents that the boys in New Guinea "really got a big kick out of Benny's show."

CHANUTE FIELD, Ill. — Sgt. Morgan R. Slaughter, husband of Mrs. Zella Slaughter, 2306 Tenth, Lubbock Tex., has completed training as an airplane instrument mechanic in a school of the Army Air Forces Training command here.

Capt. Mina D. Watkins, former staff member of the West Texas hospital and medical advisor for the Lubbock draft boards, is now eye, ear, nose and throat doctor at Moore field near McAllen, where he has been stationed ever since he went into the Army Medical corps late in 1942. A graduate of Texas Tech, Capt. Watkins graduated from Baylor Medical college in 1936 and interned at the U. S. Marine hospital at Baltimore, Md. He is a son of Mrs. G. H. Watkins, 2405 Main street. He is married and he and his wife reside at 1212 North Sixteenth street, McAllen.

WATKINS

At Biggs field, a station of the Second Air force on the Mexican border near El Paso, where thousands of heavy bomber combat crews are being sent overseas to bomb strategic enemy strongholds, Arlis J. Foster was recently promoted to the rank of sergeant. He is the son of Lynn J. Foster, 2101 Avenue L.

DAAF, Deming, N. M.—Among the recent promotions at Deming Army Air Field, Deming, N. M., Jake Lee Currey was advanced from First Lt. to Captain, it was announced by Col. Milton M. Murphy, commanding officer. At DAAF, Capt. Currey holds the position of pilot, oxygen officer and airdraft maint. off. His home is in Wilson, Texas, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Currey, Route 1, Wilson, Texas. Before entering the Army, he was engaged as a student and attended Texas Technological college, Lubbock, Texas.

Burl H. Kizer, machinist's mate, third class, whose wife and two-year-old daughter reside at 2815 Ruby street, has been serving with the Navy SeaBees in the Pacific since October, 1943. He has been in the Gilbert islands and is now in the Hawaiians area. Kizer received his boot camp training at Camp Peary, Va. and later was stationed at Davisville, R. I., Gulfport, Miss., and Port Hueneme, Calif. He was employed by the Mid-Central Fish company here prior to his enlistment in the SeaBees. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kizer, Star route, Hale Center.

KIZER

S 2/c Leonard Haley, 32, son of Mrs. R. L. Jones of 2201 Avenue H, is somewhere in the Pacific, in the U. S. Navy. He attended Lubbock schools and was trained at San Diego. Before induction he was employed at the Tuco power plant at Abernathy. His wife and three children live at Abernathy, and were visited by the seaman in April.

HALEY

Arch Joel Lair, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lair of 2206 Twenty-eighth street, is attending school for aviation ordnancemen at the Naval Air Technical Training center in Memphis, Tenn. Lair was a student in Texas Technological college two years before enlisting in the navy in September of 1942.

BROTHERS-IN-LAW MEET—Sgt. Robert J. Ritchie, above left, and Fire Controlman Edward F. (Buddy) Miller, right, U. S. Navy, brothers-in-law, recently met at a Mediterranean port after trying for many months to get together. Sgt. Ritchie is with the 36th division and made the initial landing at Salerno. He was recently awarded the Bronze Star for gallantry in action. Sgt. Ritchie's wife, the former Mildred Miller, resides with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Miller, 3420 Avenue R, who are also parents of Controlman Miller. Miller enlisted in the Navy in February, 1942, and has been on convoy duty since last March.

1st. Lt. Austin B. Penney, serving with the petroleum department of the Army Engineers, is somewhere in the Pacific theater of war. Lt. Penney, who spent seven years in the Dutch East Indies with the Standard Oil company before entering service, returned to the United States in 1942 and entered service. He took his basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. and was sent from there to officers school of engineers, where he graduated May 12, 1943. He went overseas early this year. Lt. Penney is a son of Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Penney, 1405 Nineteenth street. His wife, the former Miss Marie McKelvey, is residing with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McKelvey, 2001 Thirtieth street.

GULFPORT ARMY AIR FIELD, Miss.—Melvin E. Johnson, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Johnson, Lubbock, Texas, has been promoted to the grade of corporal at this Third Air Force bomber base maintained for the training of 10-man crews for B-17 Flying Fortresses. Selected for an intensive training course as a gunner, Corporal Johnson is attached to Squadron "S" of the 328th Army Air Force Base Unit. Before entering Army service, he was employed by the West Texas Tree Surgeons at Lubbock, Texas.

Pvt. James W. (Jack) Cleveland, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Cleveland of Slaton, has been with the air corps in England for 16 months. His parents received a letter from him last week, the first word they have had since the invasion of France. He said he would like to have hot tamales, chili and soda crackers more than anything else. Cleveland has been in the service two and a half years and is a graduate of Slaton High school.

CLEVELAND

Pvt. Roscoe W. Dudley, 19, son of Mrs. C. C. McCormick of Wilson, who formerly lived in Lubbock, has been overseas since Jan., 1944. He is somewhere in the Southwest Pacific. He received his training at Camp Fannin, Tyler and Fort Ord, Calif. He was stationed for a time in New Caledonia before going into combat areas. Pvt. Dudley attended the Lubbock Public schools before going into the army.

DUDLEY

Harold P. Malone, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Malone of Lompoc, Calif., and former residents of Shallowater, was appointed flight officer when he completed the Army Air Forces Advanced Flying school training at Williams field, Chandler, Ariz., recently. Flight Officer Malone's wife, Mrs. Joyce L. Malone, lives at Redlands, Calif.

Roy E. Mitchell, 19, machinist's mate, third class, in the Navy SeaBees, is now serving in New Guinea. Son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Mitchell of route 4, Lubbock. Mitchell graduated from Lubbock High school and was engaged in farming when he went into the SeaBees in the fall of 1943. He received his boot camp training at Camp Peary, Va. His wife is residing with his parents while he is serving overseas.

MITCHELL

CAMP WOLTERS—Pvt. Marvin Wesley James, 24, husband of Eris Rose James, 1407 Ave. D, Lubbock, has arrived at this infantry replacement training center to begin his basic training as an infantryman. He has been assigned to a battalion stressing rifle use.

Pvt. George H. Williams, jr., 20, son of Mrs. Margaret H. Williams, 1918 Seventh street, recently spent a 15-day delayed furlough with his mother en route to the West coast. He was recently transferred from the Eighth Air Force to the Fourth Air Force and was sent to the West coast for reassignment as an airplane and engine mechanic specialist on P-38's. Pvt. Williams has been in the Army since April 1 this year and received his basic training at Sheppard field. He attended Lubbock High school and was employed by Lockheed Aircraft company in Dallas two years prior to his enlistment.

WILLIAMS

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy—Veteran of two years overseas service, First Lieutenant Benjamin D. Strawn recently was presented with the Legion of Merit by Corps Commander Major General Geoffrey Keyes, for exceptionally meritorious services during the Sicilian campaign. Strawn now serves on the Fifth Army front in Italy. From August 1 to August 17, 1943, the officer, a combat engineer platoon leader, organized and operated a bridge train and supply dump. He improved methods of loading Bailey bridge supplies, and so increased the flexibility of the bridge train, that it was possible to assemble necessary bridges at their sites in record time. This service in support of combat operations helped speed the Sicilian victory. Lt. Strawn is the son of Mrs. Edith M. Strawn, 1612 Avenue Y, Lubbock, Texas. He has attended Texas Technological college, in Lubbock.

STRAWN

Second Lt. Joseph P. Morgan, former Texas Tech student and husband of the former Betty McBride, 2626 Twenty-second street, was a member of the latest class of Flying Fortress pilots to be graduated from Hendricks Field, Sebring, Fla. He entered the service here in April, 1939, and won his silver wings and commission in March, 1943, at Moore Field. He is the son of J. O. Morgan, of Vernon.

WE'RE MOVING!

In a very short time now, the Jo Ann Shop will move into its new home—from 909 Broadway to 911 BROADWAY. This new Jo Ann Shop, we have been assured by our store engineers, will be the most modern and most beautiful ladies ready-to-wear shop in this entire section of the country. Mirror walls, glass balcony rails—a real dream store to afford the proper background for those nationally famous and beautiful Jo Ann clothes.

Until our new store is ready, we are going to be quite torn up in our present location. We hope you'll bear with us—overlook the noise and the disarrangement for the next week or so, for awhile confusion may reign around us, the great daily shipments of beautiful fall coats, suits, and dresses will continue to be unpacked and placed on sale.

You'll continue to enjoy your Jo Ann shopping. The beauty of your Jo Ann clothes will be ample compensation for the small inconvenience.

Then, when our formal opening is announced, about 10 days hence, how very proud you'll be that you can classify yourself as a customer of the Jo Ann Shop—one of the most beautiful stores in the states.

Thank you VERY MUCH and shop with us often. We'll be open for business as usual, despite the building going on around us, tomorrow.

FDR Presses For Lend-Lease Extension; Huge U. S. Food Surplus Is Admitted

What's All The Rush About?

Ten Months Term Still Remains

NO ONE has reason to believe that Americans have any expectation or intenting of discontinuing lend-lease aid to allied and collaborating nations until victory in the present war is complete. Naturally, victory will not be complete until Japan surrenders.

No one ever has been justified in supposing that the United States will withhold any help from any nation which might aid in expediting overwhelming defeat of the Japs. Certainly, nothing of this kind ever has been suggested in congressional or other responsible quarters.

Therefore, a degree of curiosity may result from the President's statement to Congress the other day that lend-lease aid should be continued until both Germany and Japan have fallen. Why does he bring that subject up now when present lend-lease agreements still have more than 10 months of effectiveness? Why all the rush?

The suspicion undoubtedly will be that England is anxious to get the United States on the dotted lines of continued lend-lease commitments before Germany collapses. The charge actually has been made that England is attempting to insure that the enormous flow of materials—almost wholly of a kind intended to re-establish the British in a favorable economic position in the post-war world—will continue in undiminished quantities after victory in Europe is complete. Whether there is basis of fact for these charges and suspicions, few people can pretend actually to know.

Fortunately, the indications are that neither Congress nor the American people will allow themselves to be high-pressured by Mr. Roosevelt, or anyone else, into an approval of long-range, blank check lend-lease pledges.

There is no reasonable question, when the time comes, as to their approval of all the help the British, or any other nation, might need in aiding the United States to finish off the Japs. But lend-lease help to build up Britain's post-war economic position might be something else.

Neither Mr. Roosevelt, nor anyone, has presented convincing reasons for revisions or extensions of present lend-lease agreements. Unless and until such reasons are shown, it will, and should, prove difficult to persuade Congress that departures from agreements now in effect, and with nearly a year to operate, are either desirable or wise.

Post-War Transportation

A FEW of those who are most enthusiastic in their views of the future of aviation predict the day is drawing near when the commercial airplane will supplant railroads, buses and trucks as a mode of transportation.

Significantly, the view is not shared by the real experts in commercial aviation. They do predict that the airlines will take many passengers and much other commercial cargo now handled on trains, buses and trucks. But they also expect that travel of all kinds will be increased so enormously after victory that all transportation facilities of every kind will be required to handle it for a long time.

The people most closely connected with commercial aviation definitely do not believe that the airplane will drive other forms of transpotration to the scrap heap. On the contrary, they expect that increased business will require important expansions of railroad and motor transportation facilities during the post-war period. While no one denies that rivalry will be keen among aviation, railroad and motor systems for many types of business, the expectation is that each will supplement the others—each with fields of business in which it will be supreme—in the handling of the nation's and the world's transportation.

Supporting this view were some figures reported on Wall street not long ago. The report showed that the cost of moving a fully-laden 10,000-ton Liberty ship from San Francisco to Australia would cost about $200,000. To transport the same cargo by airplanes would cost millions. The movement of a 50-car freight train round trip between New York and San Francisco would require about $4,500 worth of fuel. The same job, by airplane, would cost nearly a million dollars.

Of course, no one pretends to know what the long-range future of commercial aviation may be. The time might come, conceivably, when present modes of transportation will be relegated to the prairie schooner class by the airplane. But first and foremost those who aren't selling the future of rail and motor transportation short are the foremost experts in aviation.

"We could never starve the Japs to death by blockading them," says a military official. The best way to stop the Japs from eating is to kill them.

The One Minute Sermon

OUR PLEDGE

We pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

Ernie Pyle Salutes RAF Officer With Super-Human Courage

Heroic British Pilot Freed From Trap In Plane

By ERNIE PYLE
Special Correspondent

ON THE WESTERN FRONT (By Wireless)—We had sent one soldier to the nearest aid station as soon as we discovered the wounded British pilot, trapped for eight days in his plane. He had to drive about six miles.

Just a few minutes after the other soldiers finished tearing two holes in the sides of the plane, a medical captain and three aid men popped through the hedge and came running.

The doctor knelt down and sized up everything in a few seconds. He asked an aid man for morphine. The pilot willingly held out his right arm, and the doctor stuck a needle into the bend of the elbow. The pilot never flinched, but looked on almost approvingly.

ERNIE PYLE

"You're in good condition," the doctor said to him. "This is just to make it easier for you when we start to pull you out. We'll wait a few minutes for it to take hold."

While we were sitting there on the ground beside the plane, waiting for the morphine to take effect, the pilot said:

One of the soldiers, touched by the remark, blurted: "Good God, leftenant, you aren't delaying us. This is what we're here for. We're just sorry we've been so long getting you out."

The pilot momentarily closed his eyes and put his hand on his forehead. And then, as if in resignation at his own rudeness in bothering us, he said:

"Well, I don't know what I should do without you."

So incredibly strong was that pilot's constitution that the morphine never put him out.

• • •

Pilot Helps Rescuers

They waited about 10 minutes. Then two soldiers took off their web belts and looped them around the pilot's armpits. The medics on the other side said they had hold of his trapped foot and could gradually free it.

"It's my back that's weak," the pilot said. "All the strength seems to be gone from the small of my back. You'll have to help me there."

They pulled. The pilot, although without food for eight days, was tremendously strong, and he reached above his head to the plane's framework and helped lift himself.

The belts slipped, and the soldiers took them off. They knelt and lifted his shoulders with their hands. They had padded the jagged edges of the torn aluminum, over which they would have to slide him, with the heavy rubber of his collapsible lifeboat.

• • •

THE doctor said, "We'll be as easy as we can. Tell us when to quit."

And the brave man said, "Go ahead. I'll stand it as long as I can."

They pulled again. The pilot made a face and exerted himself to help them. They slid him slowly a few inches through the hole, until he suddenly called: "Whoa-whoa-whoa-whoa! My back! It's stuck to the ground. We'll have to break it loose slowly."

They surveyed the possibilities awhile, trying to figure a less painful way of getting him out. There wasn't any. He said:

"I can't raise my behind at all. If you could slide something under me to carry the weight."

• • •

A soldier went running to the next field, looking for a board. We waited. In a few minutes he came back with a short, thick board.

The pilot reached up with his strong arms, made a face, and lifted himself a little from the ground, and the doctor said the board underneath him. Then the doctor, still kneeling, lifted one end of the board.

Gradually the pilot came out. Twice he had to stop them while they rearranged his injured leg. He said it was twisted. But apparently it was largely the agony of suddenly straightening out a cramped knee that had lain bent for eight days.

• • •

AT last, in a sort of final surge, he came clear of the plane. They crawled backwards with him, on hands and knees, struggling to hold his back off the ground. You could see that he was steeling himself fiercely.

"Quick! Slide that litter under him," the doctor called.

The pilot said, "My God, that air! That fresh air!" Three times in the next five minutes he mentioned the fresh air.

When they finally laid him tenderly onto the canvas litter and straightened his left leg, you could see the tendons relax and his facial muscles subside, and he gave a long half-groan, half-sigh of relief.

And that was the one single sound of normal human weakness uttered by that man of great courage in the hour of his liberation.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

WHEN I read that story about the world's greatest mathematical calculating machine that uses 500 miles of wire; 3,000,000 wire connections; 3,500 miltiple relays with 35,000 contacts; 2,225 counters and tiers of 72 adding machines, I was simply overwhelmed.

This new invention will solve practically any known problem in applied mathematics—yes, it may even solve the problem of how to balance our budget, how to pay our national debt, and how to make out my next income-tax return.

I marveled at the ingenuity of its creator, Commander Howard H. Aiken, USNR, I marveled at man's ingenuity—and I marveled at his complete failure to solve such an apparently simple problem as peace and good will among men.

• • •

Every day the human mind creates something so wonderful that it passes all ordinary understanding.

Every day men talk about a new world without wars, and with love and universal friendship our common lot.

And every day bombs are bursting and cannons are booming and men are dying and women are suffering and beautiful creations centuries old are being destroyed—all in the name of love and peace.

• • •

WHEN will there be a man not to create a giant machine, but to recreate that tiny spark in the human soul that will not force peace upon the world but that will make the world keep peace because it loves peace?

That new machine will make figures more simple. It will go into trillions and quadrillions when now our daily diet is but billions.

Oh yes, we have done wonders materially. We are enjoying ever greater comforts, ever greater ease. We call it progress and civilization.

But all the inventions and all the machines in the world don't do us a bit of good a long as a man or a nation with greed and hatred and cruelty in his heart can make an instrument of war out of every instrument of science.

• • •

We prattle about religion and we sing mechanical Sunday hymns to everything that is good and noble.

But on Monday and every other day of the week, we put the Bible on the shelf and give our lives to ledgers and adding machines and maps.

I get so sick and tired of our statesmen and writers who develop grandiose schemes for a post-war world. They make me think of a doctor who tries to cure a wound by pasting a plaster on it.

Peace is a million years away unless mankind is taught to think not with its mind but with its soul.

OPA, WFA Are "Crossed Up"

(Washington Merry-Go-Round)

BY DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—While OPA Administrator Chester Bowles was warning that we might have to continue rationing for a while after the war, an official of the War Food administration was admitting in a secret Senate hearing that the nation had tremendous stocks of food on hand.

Most startling of all was the admission that Great Britain now has food stocks "roughly 3½ or 4 times what might be considered normal operating inventories." This is food largely sent from the USA.

This revealing testimony was drawn out, during sessions of the Mead committee (formerly Truman), from Lt. Col. Ralph Olmstead, a deputy director in the War Food administration.

PEARSON

Republican Senators Ferguson of Michigan and Burton of Ohio did most of the cross-examining. Col. Olmstead at times was hazy about details, but the senators gave him a tough cross-examination. One of the most significant revelations was Col. Olmstead's admission about eggs. He said:

"In terms of eggs that we wouldn't be able to merchandise through normal channels of trade in this country, I would say there is about a year's supply of eggs as consumed under wartime conditions abroad. I am not sure they will be consumed under peacetime conditions."

Senator Burton: "You have a 2½ months' supply which you need in your business, and then in addition you have another year's supply?"

Olmstead: "Yes, sir."

Olmstead: "I wish I knew."

Burton: "Are you still buying eggs?"

Burton: "How does that happen?"

Olmstead: "Production dropped off."

Ferguson: "Did the hens find out about this surplus and quit on you?"

Olmstead testified that the War Food administration has a tremendous surplus of eggs already in the dehydrated stage, and is looking around desperately for means of marketing them. He said that the dehydrated egg situation was so tough they were finding it was a question of having actually to go out and persuade various countries to take them off our hands. WFA is now trying to get the Russians to accept several million cases of dehydrated eggs by pointing out their nutritional value.

SOLDIER VOTE

WITH all the controversy about the soldier vote, it looks as if the GI Joes would really vote this year as never before. Certainly the Army and Navy are outdoing themselves to give the boys the chance. There is no South Pacific isle or piece of North African desert where the American soldier will not get a chance to vote if he wishes.

U. S. ballot authorities have now circulated postcards not only to men in the Army and Navy, but to personnel in the Red Cross, Society of Friends, women's auxiliary services and the USO, asking whether they want ballots sent to them.

However, Army-Navy officers report a certain amount of lethargy on the part of troops. Maybe this will change as the election approaches. Another factor which most people don't realize is that an increasing proportion of servicemen are under 21, therefore can not vote.

BYRNES TO RETIRE

LITTLE Jimmie Byrnes, for years one of the most popular members of the Senate, plans to resign as War Mobilizer just as soon as a war demobilization bill gets through Congress.

Ex-Justice Byrnes, who went out to Chicago thinking he had FDR's nod as his running mate, is not sore at the President, but he is hurt. Byrnes quite understood that he might not be the best Vice Presidential candidate in the world, due to the opposition of negro and labor voters. However, he did feel that the President should have told him definitely and frankly before Byrnes went to Chicago.

Byrnes undoubtedly could have another appointment to the Supreme court when there is a vacancy. There is little that his chief at the White House would not do for him.

But little Jimmie plans to go back to South Carolina, mingle with his old friends, and take life a bit easier. After he left the Senate, he strolled down the streets of Spartanburg one day doing a little shopping, and he confessed that he never felt happier than when he was retired from the pressure of half a hundred people asking him for jobs.

So now he plans to go back to Spartanburg and just be an ordinary citizen once again.

CAPITAL CHAFF

IN HIS Bremerton speech, FDR announced he planned to settle war veterans in Alaska after the war. This will be greeted by lusty jeers from GI Joes who have had to live through the raw, wet winds on the Aleutians or 75 degrees below zero along the Alaskan Highway . . . Actually, there are some beautiful lands in Alaska, chiefly in the southeastern Panhandle. However, they are not militarily important and almost no troops have been stationed there . . . German prisoners in the USA are entitled to a maximum of two bottles of beer per day — if they pay for it — and if it does not exceed a ration allotment. This is provided for under the Geneva treaty regulating war prisoners, whereby prisoners are entitled to the same right of purchase as American soldiers . . . Some of the big oil companies, led by Pennsylvania's J. Howard Pew of Sun Oil, already have started gunning for the Anglo-American oil agreement, generally considered one of the most constructive steps ever taken for economic world peace.

SEES THE COUNTRY

FOLKS who saw two men perched on top of the President Roosevelt's special locomotive, as it moved slowly across the broad plains of Oklahoma recently, will be glad to know they were only looking at a newspaper man and a railroad employe trying to keep cool.

Newsman Merriman Smith and a railroad employe had been invited by the engineer to sit in the cab of the locomotive, but decided it was too hot in there. However, they had to wait until the train stopped before going back to their Pullman cars, so stayed on the top of the cab as the train mosied along at 25 miles an hour.

Few know it, but the Presidential Special travelled at this slow pace at Roosevelt's own request.

"I have been shooting up and down the country at 90 miles an hour for 11 years," Roosevelt told train officials. "Now I'd like to have a chance to take it easy and look at some of the scenery I've been whizzing past."

NOTE — The President's car is usually last on the train, sways and swings as it hits cross-country curves.

You may have observed that those who claim not to believe in hell are the very ones who raise a lot of it.

Overheard: "I have a pang in my conscience. Instead of buying a $25 War Bond last week end, I bought a planked steak."

"It has recently been learned that centuries ago American Indians lived on a communistic basis." Perhaps they were the original Reds.

"Fish do not shrink to any appreciable extent after being removed from water."—Nature note. On the contrary.

"Boomerang" Is Amazing Story Of The War

Fantastic Episode Of U.S.S. Scimitar Is Related In Book

ONE OF the most fantastic episodes of the war in the South Pacific is the story of the crew of the U. S. S. Scimitar, officers and sailors all fresh out of training school, who captured the Japanese destroyer the Hokeydokey, and used it to destroy an entire Japanese convoy.

CHAMBLISS

The full details of this amazing adventure are told in "Boomerang" by Commander William Chambliss. Commander Chambliss was one of the only two seasoned navy men on the Scimitar. But what the others lacked in sea-going experience, they made up for in other ways.

Marston, the gunnery officer, had been a prosperous banker before the war. For his vacation he had done a bit of duck-shooting. When a Japanese plane threatened to bomb the ship, he brought it down with one shot. When the skipper, who knew how limited his gunnery practice had been, asked how he had done it, he explained, "The theory of shooting down a plane from the surface is just like shooting ducks. Only with the duck, you just get one shot."

These there was Ensign Bull, a former commercial photographer. He was the one who suggested they camouflage the ship with palms and spray lacquer on the leaves to preserve them — the same way he had done with plant props in his work. It was through this disguise that the Scimitar was able to surprise and capture the much larger Hokaidoze.

The story of "Boomerang" should make a rousing movie and has, in fact, already been bought by Twentieth Century-Fox.

STRANGE ADMIXTURE

WHEN you read "I Never Left Home" (Simon and Schuster), Bob Hope's story of his trip abroad to entertain the troops, you will realize that the old gag about every comedian wanting to play Hamlet has more than a grain of truth in it.

For here is a strange admixture of Hope's zany brand of humor and some serious stuff about our boys overseas. It is a tough hurdle from the ridiculous to the sublime, but Hope manages it with a minimum of trouble. And in between the fun and fact there is a good spectator's view of the war, proving that the man many consider to be the No. 1 comedian of the airways is not too bad a reporter.

Chronicle Of Trip

"I Never Left Home" purports to be a chronicle of the trip Hope took to Britain, Africa and Sicily along with Frances Langford, Jack Pepper and Tony Romano. But, of course, it is just Bob Hope running around the war theaters with his troupe, putting on shows when all were dog-tired and dirty, running into a bit of Hollywood at every stop, and having a whale of a time wearing himself out.

And if you haven't got your copy of this little tome, let this reassure you. Between the gags, Hope lets everyone know that when you visit the American boys on every battlefront, you are seeing the greatest bunch of kids in the world—well fed, well cared for, and just a bit anxious to get the job done and get back home. The home front doesn't realize, Hope reflects in one of his serious moments, just what these kids are doing, or else they wouldn't have such a ho-hum attitude toward the war.

UNCONCLUDED HISTORY

AS WILLIAM CAMERON admits rather ruefully, the theme of "The Day Is Coming" (Macmillan) rather overshadows its characters. Nor is that surprising in a novel which crams 51 years of social history in its nearly 600 pages.

Arthur Cullen was a boy in London's respectably poor East End. Through the uncle of a pub keeper's daughter, he came under the spell of William Morris and the Socialist League. In the craftsmen's guild of Morris' disciples, Arthur became a metalsmith by trade, and a dweller in experimental Utopia.

Economical Conflict

The conflict of Cameron's story is economical rather than personal, and during the Cullens' dwelling in the idyllic Cotswold village co-operative, even that is missing. But the experiment went broke, Arthur, the pub keeper's daughter and their three children returned to the East End, to poverty, to the workhouse, and eventually to

Answer to Previous Puzzle

FOUR YEARS AGO, Hans WAS IN OUR SHOES

HANS is a German. Four years ago, he felt the way many of us feel today. He thought the war was as good as won.

He had reason to think so. Far more reason than we have. France was his. England was bloody after Dunkerque. The German Army seemed invincible.

But the war wasn't almost over. And now it is our armies that are on the march. It is our bombers blasting German cities. Victory is in our grasp. It's up to us to see that we don't let it slip through our fingers the way Hans did.

Most of us know that this is the military crisis of this war—the time when our fighting men must give everything they have, not once in a while but hour after hour—day after day.

For this is the financial crisis of the war just as surely as it is the military crisis. Millions of dollars' worth of equipment is being destroyed in battle. The money to replace it must come from us, and come quickly.

If every last one of us here at home will try to match the constant, day-to-day drive of the men who fight our battles, we'll raise that money.

The way to do it is to put every cent we can possibly invest into U.S. War Bonds. Not some of us. All of us. Not once in a while during a drive, but regularly . . . every pay day.

Can we do the job that Hans couldn't do? Can we—voluntarily—keep making sacrifices when Victory seems just around the corner? The answer is up to you.

And here are 5 more reasons for buying Extra War Bonds!

1. War Bonds are the best, the safest investment in the world!
2. War Bonds return you $4 for every $3 in 10 years.
3. War Bonds help keep prices down.
4. War Bonds will help win the Peace by increasing purchasing power after the War.
5. War Bonds mean education for your children, security for you, funds for retirement.

Politeness Is Almost "Killing" For Yanks Hiding Behind Tractor

When the driver of the tractor came up to get something out of it, Sergeant Rubin said politely:

"I hope you don't mind our using your tractor for a shield. We were sort of caught out in the open here."

Sergeant Rubin's mother, Mrs. Gussie Rubin, lives at 1342 Donaldson avenue, San Antonio.

Cameron admits to a background somewhat similar to Arthur's sons, but, unfortunately, he poses no better answer than they to the problems posed. A preoccupation with the material, to the exclusion of personal values, perhaps indicative of the period and the class, renders his novel photographic rather than interpretive. It is interesting, occasionally absorbing reading, a solid history of an era not yet concluded.

Japs Tighten Hold On Philippines In Face Of Allied Invasion Threat

By RUSSELL BRINES
Associated Press War Editor

The Allied march toward the Philippines apparently has produced two diverse methods of tightening the archipelago's internal administration, behind the warnings of the controlled Manila press that attack is imminent.

Puppet President Jose P. Laurel reshuffled his cabinet last week. This evidently was an attempt to strengthen cabinet efficiency for the problems of public relief and internal order that the return of warfare will create.

Two Ministers Added

Two new ministers were added and two others changed positions, said Japanese broadcasts heard by U. S. government monitors. None of the men involved has demonstrated blatant pro-Japanism. The usual heavy Japanese hand seemed to be missing from the reorganization.

But behind the scenes the Japanese apparently tightened their block-by block surveillance of the populace. The brutal gendarmerie, the military police, long have kept close watch on the Filipinos through "neighborhood associations." Families are compelled to belong to these organizations, and all members face gendarmerie retaliation for anti-Japanese acts occurring in their neighborhoods.

"Comrade Group" Organized

The subdivision evidently was made smaller by the organization of "comrade groups" among widespread civilian defense societies. Each group is composed of five members, headed by an "instructor," probably a Japanese military official or a Filipino the Nipponese feel they can control. All members will be under close scrutiny.

This evidently is advance preparation against sabotage when the Allies hit. The Japanese name for these groups, Keibodan, can be translated as "defense police."

The need for stronger governmental relief measures was underlined by a recent Manila announcement that 54 soup kitchens had been opened in the capital to "help the poor tide over the emergency."

Laurel Gave Up Ministeries

In the cabinet reshuffle, Laurel gave up two ministries he had been holding concerrently with the presidency. One, home affairs, went to Justice Minister Teofilo Sison, formerly an associate justice of the supreme court. The second, economic affairs, now is held by Pedro Sabino, formerly secretary of the Japanese-sponsored economic planning board.

Quintin Paredes, former resident commissioner in Washington, became the new justice minister. His old position, minister of public works and communications, was filled by Jose Paez, director of the Philippines Red Cross (Japanese-organized) and prominent in civilian defense.

The controlled press once boasted that the archipelago was too strong to be attacked. Now this is the theme: "It is lucidly clear that the Allies intend to strike at the Philippines."

Mexican Star To Act In First English Film

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 26. (AP)—Cantinflas, Mexican comedian said today he will leave September 3 for Hollywood to complete arrangements for his first English language picture, for which he has been contracted by RKO studios.

The comedian said he hopes to be able to take along his dog, "Otchi Cheraye," a sister of Russian Ambassodar Constantine Oumansky's dog, "Wulong."

Reachi announced that the newest picture starring Cantinflas, "Grand Hotel," brought in all-time high box office receipts for Mexico the first week, 220,000 pesos ($55,000, U. S.)

Two Republicans In Front In Planning Event For Truman

LAMAR, Mo., Aug. 26 (AP) — Lamar, population 3,000, is getting set to put on one of the biggest shows of the Democratic national campaign—thanks to a couple of Republicans who had to swallow their politics to get it started.

They're arranging a surprise party for Sen. Harry A. Truman next Thursday to let him in on a little secret—he was nominated for the vice presidency by the Democrats at Chicago last month.

Senator Truman was born in this county seat community May 8, 1884, and Mayor Guy Ross and Raymond River, president of the chamber of commerce, both Republicans, have been leaders in angling for the town's most famous son to return here for his acceptance speech.

The fact that the senator already has heard about his high honor hasn't troubled the home town folk. They're laying plans for a formal notification ceremony with all of the trimmings, including several thousands out of town visitors.

The broadcast will start at 9:30 (CWT), with a five minute notification speech by Senator Tom Connally of Texas.

Historic Fort Brown, Which Probably Saved U. S. From Invasion, Is To Be Abandoned

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Historic Fort Brown, born during one war, has been ordered abandoned in the midst of another.

The fort, for which Brownsville was named, was declared a surplus military installation by the Army and will be abandoned Sept. 25, the Eighth Service Command announced today.

Fort Brown was formed in 1847 by General Zachary Taylor, later president, and was named for Major Brown, killed in action there. It would have been one hundred years old in less than three years and the city was planning a celebration.

It has the unique distinction of probably having saved the United States from invasion when the nationed, weakened by Civil war, was threatened by Emperor Maximilian. The Yankee general who said "war is hell" was rushed to the valley with an army of 50,000. Maximilian did not invade.

Troops from Fort Brown fought the last battle of the Civil war—thirty days after the war ended. Confederates who hel l Fort Brown met federal troops which had landed at Port Isabel and fought a bloody battle near Brownsville. Neither commander had heard of the Confederate surrender. Ironically, the Confederates won this last battle a month after they had lost the war.

The nation's warrior presidents served at Fort Brown, as well as most of the famous generals. They included Taylor, Gen. U. S. Grant, Robert E. Lee, Jeff Davis, Gen. John Pershing. Gen. Lew Wallace, who wrote "Ben Hur," was stationed there for a while.

Gorgas Worked There

But Fort Brown contributed more than military deeds to the country's history. U. S. Surgeon General William Crawford Gorgas developed his theory of the cause of yellow fever and malaria while he was stationed at Fort Brown's hospital, the oldest in South Texas. Later Gen. Gorgas went to Cuba and then the Panama Canal Zone, where his battle against disease did much to make construction of the canal possible.

Fort Borwn has been leveled by fire, besieged by bandits, and razed by hurricanes but today is larger than at any time past, leading many Brownsville citizens to urge that it be converted into a veteran's hospital, or tuberculosis hospital, in case abandonment is deemed necessary.

It is the second border fort to be abandoned in recent months, the first being Fort Ringgold at Rio Grande City.
