

Bank Deposits Total $1,227,907 As Year Ends

That each of Collingsworth County's four banks is in good financial condition was shown this week with the publication of statements of condition in accordance with the calls by the State Banking Commission and Federal Reserve Banks as of the close of Business December 31, 1940. While the total deposits of the four institutions, $1,227,907.85, is slightly below that for the same time a year ago, it is materially above the deposits here for either 1938 or 1937.

Deposits for December 31, 1939, stood at $1,273,893.72, the highest figure for the last three year period. This is approximately $18,000 above the deposits for December 31, 1940.

This year's deposits, on the other hand, stood approximately $137,000 above the deposits for 1938, and $194,000 above those for the same period of 1937.

Combined assets of the four institutions now totals $1,533,157.42, as compared to $1,576,114.02 for a year ago. Both these figures, however, are below the 1937 total asset figure of $1,724,214.50.

Of the present assets, loans and discounts account for $685,378.74, as compared to $710,064.73 a year ago.

Of the total deposits, $1,061,540.87 accounts for demand deposits, while time deposits are $78,139.62. Of the remainder, U. S. government deposits, state and political subdivisions deposits accounted for $52,985.95. Demand deposits a year ago were $1,106,544.45 and those of two years ago $952,302.00.

Undivided profits were higher this year than a year ago, as the total at this call was $52,991.15, as compared to $36,430.13 a year ago and $31,020.31 two years ago.

Nazarene Revival Will Open Sunday

Rev. and Mrs. L. W. Conway will conduct revival services in Wellington beginning Sunday, Jan. 12, and continuing through Sunday, Jan. 26. Rev. Hadley A. Hall, pastor, announced this week.

"Rev. Conway is a forceful speaker and a fine singer," Rev. Hall stated. "He has traveled extensively in the evangelistic field and his broad experience, together with his outstanding ability, has made him one of the successful evangelists of the Church of the Nazarene. If you love old-fashioned, John Wesley type preaching, you will love and appreciate Rev. Conway."

"Mrs. Conway conducts children's services preceding the evening service. We invite the children of Wellington to these services."

"The public is cordially invited to attend these services. You will find a warm welcome and friendly spirit at the Church of the Nazarene," the pastor continued.

A special Rally Day is being planned by the Sunday School for the closing Sunday. This event will begin at 9:45 a. m.

The regular children's services will begin at 7:00 p. m. and the preaching services at 7:30 p. m.

Land Use Planning Board Luncheon Set For February

One speaker from the State Extension Service headquarters to explain the working of a Land Use Planning Board, and one Collingsworth farmer to tell what the county can get from such a board, is scheduled on the program of the luncheon planned for members of the local Land Use Planning Board at a meeting February 20, it was announced following a meeting of the board late last week.

Guy Beasley, Master Farmer of this county, has been named as the county farmer to speak. The speaker from the extension service (Continued on Page Ten)

Petition Asks Hearing On Soil Conservation District

A petition bearing the names of 70 farm owner-operators of this county was presented to W. K. Cottingham, county agent, Tuesday asking a hearing before the State Soil Conservation Board relative to securing a Soil Conservation District for this county.

The petition was circulated by the County Land Use Planning Board, after discussion had been made of the proposed district by a number of farm and business leaders in this county. A committee appointed by the Wellington Rotary Club, headed by Dr. E. W. Jones, requested that the petition be circulated.

"We are sending this petition to the State Soil Conservation Board as soon as a map of the county can be prepared," Mr. Cottingham said Tuesday night. A date for the hearing will be set by the Board and an announcement of this will be made to the people of the county, he pointed out.

"There was quite a lot of enthusiasm shown over this petition, and a number of men here who own land but do not farm it personally indicated they would like to sign up if they were eligible."

The petition read: State Soil Conservation Board of Texas Petition For Organization of Proposed Collingsworth County Soil Conservation District. To the State Soil Conservation Board, City of Temple, State of Texas:

Pursuant to the Texas Soil Conservation Law, as enacted by the 46th Legislature, known as House Bill No. 20, the undersigned land owners, all of whom hold title to lands lying within the territory hereinafter described, respectfully represent:

FIRST: That there is need, in the interest of the public health, safety, and welfare, for a soil conservation district to function in the territory hereinafter described.

SECOND: That they propose as a name for said district, the Collingsworth County Soil Conservation District.

THIRD: That the territory proposed to be organized as a district includes substantially the following: Collingsworth County and any adjoining area that the voters care to include.

WHEREFORE, the undersigned petitioners respectfully request that the Board duly define the boundaries for such district; that a referendum be held within the territory so defined on the question of a soil conservation district in such territory; and that the Board determine that such a district be created.

Signing the petition were S. E. Smith, Wallace O'Rear, C. S. Graham, W. C. Starr, P. C. Cummings, George W. Creed, G. T. Stephens, C. A. Amerson, W. T. Helbert, E. M. Trew, Bert Weaver, J. B. District Legion Social Meets Here Jan. 16

Wellington will play host to more than 350 Legionnaires and Auxiliary members Thursday evening, January 16, when the Frank King Post and the Auxiliary Unit entertain with the District Social. This is a regular monthly event, held in various towns over the 18th District.

"This is really an honor for the Wellington Post," Ernest Lewis, post commander, said. "It has been more than a year since we've entertained this group, and we're going to make them really feel at home."

Present at this time will be the District Legion Commander J. M. Johnson of Canadian, and the District Auxiliary President, Mrs. Hupp Clark of Pampa.

Official hosts for the occasion will be Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Larsen and Mrs. Paul Starr.

This meeting will open at 7:30 o'clock with a dinner. Immediately following this a short business session will be held and short talks on Child Welfare will be given by various district officers. Dancing will follow, and will make up the entertainment for the remainder of the evening.

Already two committees from the Auxiliary are working on plans for the event. These include the foods committee, with Mrs. Austin O'Neil as chairman, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Maddox, Mrs. Joe Thompson and Mrs. Ola Wall. The reception committee is headed by Mrs. Henry.

Plans in detail are being worked out this week by the Post and Auxiliary and will be announced next week.

Guy N. Wood Injured In Wreck

Guy N. Wood, minister of the Church of Christ in Wellington, received a fractured knee cap and bruises Thursday, December 26, near White Bluff, Tenn., when a car driven on the wrong side of the road crashed head on into the one in which Mr. Wood, his father, G. E. Wood, and his brother, Earl Wood, were riding.

Mr. Wood stated that he did not realize the seriousness of his injury, and although he wired Mrs. Wood of his father's injury, no one here knew of his own until he arrived here Wednesday, January 1.

He entered a local hospital for (Continued on Page Ten)

Terraces Show Their Worth To Aberdeen Man

"I gathered two bales of cotton on land that was terraced to one bale on land that was not terraced—on my own farm or that of my neighbors," C. R. Preuit, who farms north of Aberdeen, told W. K. Cottingham, county agent, recently, bringing out that he is a solid believer in this form of soil conservation.

Mr. Preuit added that he had been terracing his farm for several years, building a few terraces each year. He plans to continue this until the entire cultivated land is terraced.

At present he is farming 320 acres of land.

Boxing Tourney Announced

Wellington's second annual Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament has been scheduled for Friday and Saturday, January 31 and February 1, John Lee, boxing coach of Wellington High School, announced Saturday.

Teams from all parts of the Panhandle have been invited to participate, and while those in charge of the tournament are unable yet to determine the exact number of schools who will send representatives, they pointed out that both Amarillo and Plainview will enter contestants.

"We can assure you that this tournament will be better and larger than the one last year," Mr. Lee said. "The best boxing talent of the entire Panhandle will be present, and these school boys can offer you the same thrill that you'd get from professionals."

Five sessions, each consisting of fights in eleven weights, will be held. The tournament will get under way Friday afternoon. The other sessions will be held Friday night, Saturday morning, Saturday afternoon, and Saturday night. The last session will consist of the finals in each weight.

"We wish to ask the people of Wellington to give us the same splendid support that they did last year," Mr. Lee requested.

Further announcements of the tournament will be made as the plans are worked out, those in charge stated.

Houselog Will Entertain Singers On January 12th

The regular county singing will be held at Houselog Sunday, January 12, it was announced here this week.

The new books will be used at this time. E. L. Hively will be in charge of the arrangements.

Wellington 50 Years Ago Recalled As Well Sinks Under Street

Shades of the days when Wellington was a new town came back abruptly Tuesday morning when a heavily loaded Walker-Smith Wholesale Grocery Truck broke through the pavement in front of the Mish Dukeminier Feed Store and one wheel dropped into the well which 50 years ago served the O'Neil Hotel.

Although the well was filled up more than 30 years ago, after which the present street was laid, and later paved, the earth which filled the well had sunk approximately 25 feet. City officials were unaware of this and only a few people here knew of the existence of the old well.

The truck broke through about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, and in order to get the wheel out, it was necessary to jack up the back end of the truck with house jacks. The truck was heavily loaded at the time, as deliveries were being made to local stores.

Lee O'Neil, son of the owners of the O'Neil Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. O'Neil, recalls that the well was dug by hand about 50 years ago.

"That well was around 70 or 80 feet deep. I know, for I used to have to draw water out of it by hand," he said.

Later a windmill was put up over the well, then about 1908 or 1909 it was filled up.

The O'Neil Hotel was located west of the well, on the lots now occupied by the Hatch Dry Goods Co. and Harrell's.

AAA Delegates Meet Wednesday

Community delegates to the county AAA convention went into session Wednesday morning in another effort to select a county AAA committee to administer the 1941 Farm Program here.

These delegates, along with alternates, were chosen at a series of meetings held Tuesday, January 7. Selections made at these meetings include Community One: Homer Ingram, delegate; A. J. Peters, alternate; Community Two: Wayne Johnson, delegate; C. L. Lowry, alternate; Community Three: Lee Minyard, delegate; Clyde Brown, alternate; Community Four: C. C. Taylor, delegate; George Groves, alternate.

The delegates were still in session as The Wellington Leader went to press Wednesday.

Community House Bonds Approved

Bonds for the proposed Wellington Community House have been given preliminary approval by the Attorney General, Luther Gribble, city attorney, announced recently. These bonds, amounting to $20,000 were approved by city voters during the summer.

At present plans and specifications are being prepared by Lawrence Kerr, architect for the project. (Continued on Page Ten)

Know Your School Day Is Planned

"A Know Your School" day, designed to acquaint all town citizens with the Wellington high school and its working, has been announced for February by J. L. Beard, superintendent. The exact date has not been set.

"This is a day for the parents, and for the entire town to become acquainted with the work and the faculty of our school," the superintendent said.

On this day visitors will be shown through all the class rooms, where displays of work will be on exhibit.

Myret Henry Moves Location

Myret Henry has moved his electric tire welding equipment to Gillettine's Service Station and will continue to operate his shop in that location, it was announced Wednesday by R. L. Gillettine, owner of the station. This station is located on the southeast corner of the square.

Farm Pay Here Nears $300,000

REP. ENNIS FAVORS of the 122nd district, will stop in Wellington Friday for a brief visit with residents here before going to Austin for the opening of the state Legislature.

Rep. Favours Will Visit Wellington On Way To Austin

Hon. Ennis Favours, State Representative from the 122nd district, will stop in Wellington Friday as he, Mrs. Favours and their baby are en route to Austin for the opening of the 47th session of the Texas Legislature.

Mr. Favours represents Collingsworth, Donley, Gray and Wheeler counties.

He did not indicate at what hour he plans to arrive here, but he did say that he expects to contact friends while here.

"I feel like this session of the Legislature will be a harmonious one, as all of the legislators that I have communicated with in person or by correspondence seem to be very anxious to cooperate with Gov. O'Daniel," he predicted.

"I also believe that during the 120 days allotted to the regular session of the Legislature the teachers' retirement fund will be met in a satisfactory manner by transferring three and one-half million dollars a year out of the General Revenue Fund into this fund until same is equally matched by the state, and that the old folks will be cared for together with the blind and destitute children by an omnibus tax bill."

"I am advised that one-half of the members in the Senate and the House have committed themselves to raise the truck load limit to somewhere between twenty and thirty-five thousand pounds."

New Members Are Added To Agriculture Assn.

Three new members were added to the Collingsworth County Agricultural Association Tuesday, according to Gibbs Glenn, president, Tuesday afternoon.

These include W. S. White, E. C. Alexander, and Homer Ingram. An active program of work of the Agricultural Association will likely begin within a few weeks, Mr. Glenn said.

Farm conservation money for this county under the 1940 AAA program neared the $300,000 mark this week with the larger portion of all checks due here already received and distributed.

To date, a total of 2,896 checks amounting to $296,952.19 have come in, according to members of the office staff of the local AAA office.

Of this group, 374 checks for $33,178.83 have been received during the last week. These checks, with others arriving between Christmas and New Year, represent principally payment on those applications on which all soil building units had not been completed, and which were not sent off until after December 1.

Altogether, slightly more than 3,000 checks are to be expected for this county, and while the exact amount is not known, it was pointed out that it can be expected to exceed the $300,000 mark.

While this represents the bulk of the checks, C. V. Griffin, administrative officer in charge of the local office, pointed out that there is no cause for worry on the part of those whose checks have not yet come in, since payment is being made from the state office to all other counties of the state at this time also.

New Year's Basket Is Gift Of Girl Scouts Of City

A new year's activity of the Girl Scout troop of Wellington was the taking of a New Year's basket to an elderly friend of the group.

Taking the basket were Peggy Ruth Ream, Johnnie Wiles, Betty Louise McDonald, Marian Taylor, Sylvia Cross, Helen Langford, and Mrs. Ben Hurst and Mrs. J. V. Langford, sponsors.

City State Bank In New Building

The City State Bank moved into its new quarters Wednesday morning, January 8. This building is located three doors south of the old location, which it has occupied since its founding in 1910.

This new banking home is one of the most modern in the entire Panhandle, and many of the latest features, both in banking houses and in general architecture have been incorporated in the building.

W. H. Goforth With Oklahoma City Company

W. H. Goforth, former district clerk, has accepted a position with a loan, insurance and real estate firm in Oklahoma City, friends here learned early this week. Mr. Goforth did not give details of his work except to say, "I think this is just what I'm looking for."

He and Mrs. Goforth left Wellington for Oklahoma City immediately after his term of office closed January 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Goforth have lived in Wellington for the last 30 years, and both have been residents of the county for a longer period of time.

"We think we'll like our new home very much," they wrote their daughter, Mrs. Jones Singley, this week.

McKinney Case Opens Wednesday

A special session of district court was called for Wednesday morning, January 7, to try the case of Claude McKinney versus Collingsworth County. This case was held over from the regular term, which closed in December.

Mr. McKinney is asking $1634 which he alleges is due him from the county for the safeguarding and boarding of prisoners charged with vagrancy.

Judge A. S. Moss is presiding over the case.

Miss Laura Helen Ford Is Married Sunday To M. V. Vandivere

Miss Laura Helen Ford of Wellington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ford of Dodson, was married Sunday, January 5, to M. V. Vandivere of Wellington, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Vandivere, also of this city. The rites took place in Phillips, Texas, at 4:45 p. m., and were performed by Rev. Henry West, a former pastor of the Baptist Church at Dodson.

The bride's parents are long-time residents of Collingsworth County. Her mother was born and reared here, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Dollie Gardner, with whom the bride was making her home, has been a resident since 1902. The bride's father has lived in this county since he was a small child. B. F. Ford of Wellington is her paternal grandfather, and has also lived here for many years.

The bride attended school at Dodson, and was graduated from high school there in 1939. Since graduation she has been employed at several Wellington business firms.

The groom's parents have lived in Wellington for many years. The groom has attended Wellington schools, and played football with the 1933 Skyrocks. At present he is employed at the City Bakery.

The bride wore her mother's wedding dress which was made of satin broadcloth. Ecu embroidery added attractive touches to the dark brown color of the dress which had been remodeled to street length. Her accessories were tan and blue.

Accompanying the couple were Miss Lois Crossland and Harmon Elliott. After a week's wedding trip to Wichita, Kansas, the couple will be at home in Wellington.

Co-Workers Club Elects Officers For Year 1941

Members of the Co-Workers' Club met on Thursday, Jan. 2, 1941, for the purpose of electing officers. Officers for this year will be: president, Mrs. S. F. Hughs; vice president, Mrs. Bill Aubrey; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Jap Smith; reporter, Mrs. Fred Kersten.

The club was first organized on January 31, 1940. Mrs. Hughs was hostess to the group, and there were ten members present. Officers elected at this time were: Mrs. E. D. Clay, president; Mrs. Hughs, vice president; Mrs. Vandivere, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. H. Loving, reporter.

During the past year, the group has had a membership of 22 persons. Meetings are held twice a month on the first and third Thursdays.

Work done by the club during the last year has been that of quilting quilts, presentation of a gift to the Odd Fellows. Fifteen quilts have been made during this time.

DODSON

By VIVIAN WORRELL

The influenza that is sweeping the country has taken its toll in our community. There have been no deaths, none we have heard of, but a great many of our citizens around here have had the influenza, and are reported to have been in bed sick for several days.

We are sorry to report the closing of one of our places of business here. We learned this week that the Hotel Garage and Grocery was closing its doors, and that the operators, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hodel, were leaving for the plains. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Hodel and family much success at their new home.

Miss Edith Akin returned Sunday to Bethany, Okla., to continue her studies at the Bethany Peniel College.

SAMNORWOOD

By MRS. C. W. FRITTS

There is a number of people who are ill with influenza and sore throats.

Belva and Bobbie Fritts have been ill for several days with influenza.

Supt. E. G. Sanders took his son and daughter, Larry and Nadine, to Canyon Saturday. They are in college there.

Ervin Kersten of Wellington, Quentin and Walter Fritts took Miss Mae Jean Fritts back to Canyon Sunday. She attends college there. The group also visited their niece and cousin, Mrs. Tommy Jo Miester, in the Northwest Hospital in Amarillo, en route to Canyon.

Jam And Jive In Jelly Dress

Home-made jelly was the inspiration for the color of this velvetene date dress, which is itself an inspiration for suiting out in a jam session. Concord grape, the flavor favorite, inspired the rich purple of this junior fashion number, which has bodice and sleeves etched with trumpet in grape design. These swing skirted frocks also come in jelly shades of cherry, mint, crabapple and kumquat.

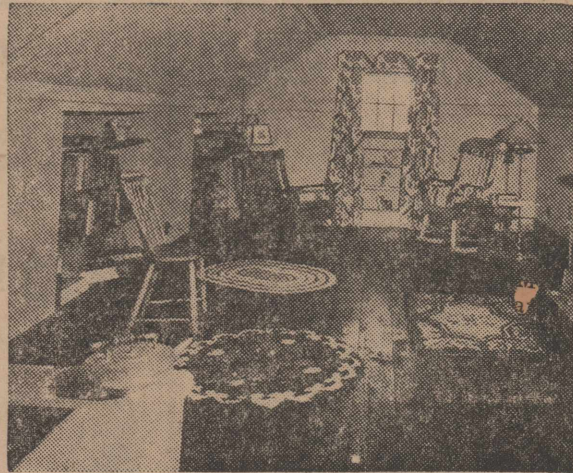

Remodeling Your Attic

You may have a charming, well-designed house, the envy of all your friends, and still be dissatisfied with it because it doesn't contain quite enough space for the comfort of your family. Perhaps it's a bedroom you need for the boys, a playroom for all the children, or a quiet spot for reading and study, and you just don't know what to do about it. Most houses built twenty or more years ago have an attic, for then an attic was considered just as important as a front door.

The attic can be made into a livable room by merely applying wall board to the inside of the wall studs and filling the pockets thus formed with some insulating material that comes in batt form. The ceiling may be allowed to run into the peak of the roof, or a new false ceiling may be hung as shown in the "before" and "after" pictures in this column. Any one of a number of wallboards may be used for this purpose. Most of them are produced with a sufficiently interesting texture so that they need no further decorating unless you wish. The joint formed where two boards meet may be concealed by a wood strip painted to match the woodwork, or sealed with a band of tape.

Then, if you desire, they may be painted or even covered with wallpaper. Low bookshelves may be built into the wall to make practical use of the space running back under the eaves, or, if this is needed for storage, cupboards may be installed there. If the space is to serve as a bedroom, hanging closets may be built on either side of the end window, with a window seat between them. Most attics have windows in the end walls where the roof goes to a peak, but if not, it is not a difficult matter to install them. Sometimes dormer windows are needed. These may be installed by making a hole in the roof through which the dormer can project. This will involve cutting one or possibly two rafters. The cut rafters should then be made fast, by inserting a horizontal member between the adjoining solid rafters on both sides and nailing the cut rafters to this member.

These reclaimed attic rooms often have immense charm because of their slanting walls, odd nooks, and irregular shape.

RIVERSIDE

By MRS. J. H. WHITE.

We are beginning a New Year, and as some one has said, we are all in the same boat together. We will all go up or down together. Let's all be pushers for our community, county and nation.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Graves are moving back north of the river. The way they talk they are real boosters for North Riverside, so we welcome these good people back into our midst. We see, too, that they are driving a new car.

Mrs. Sam White of Artesia, N. M., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Henard of Bean Hill community. Mrs. White and Mrs. Henard visited in the J. H. White home Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. White will be remembered by all the pioneers as she and her husband were among the few in the early 1890's who were pioneers of Collingsworth County.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bowen of Wellington visited in the Marvin Seal home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elzie White of Wellington made a short visit to Riverside Sunday afternoon. Accompanying them was J. L. Anderson, Jr., of Shamrock, who is Mrs. White's nephew.

We hear there was an old fiddlers contest held at Bill Seals' Saturday night, but have not learned the winner as there were several contestants.

Richard Beal is moving into this community. Best luck, Mr. Beal. Carl Seymour is moving to the Cottonwood community.

The family of John Pritchard is all sick. Two of the Kirk Thomas girls are sick, two children of Mr. Winters' are sick and one little Admire girl is sick.

Personal

LILLIE

By MRS. G. D. THOMAS

On the account of so many having influenza in our community and because of the weather conditions there was only a small attendance at Sunday School and Church.

Lillie community was blessed with a snow Sunday night and it is still snowing Monday morning. It seems winter is here.

Grandma Davidson has been confined to her bed for several days after a heart attack. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Miss Ada Lee Iadney entertained several young folks Tuesday night with a New Year's party. All reported a good time.

Several farmers in our community are going to try tractor farming the coming year. Those who purchased tractors last week were Charles Graham, Mack Horton and Mr. Bradley.

John Crow of Abernathy and Dock Crow of Slaton, Texas, were in our community Sunday hunting.

There are some members in almost every home in our community who have influenza. At this report there are none of them seriously ill.

Deck's DIDACTICS

By H. D. W.

I have been wanting to do something for the FHA boys and the FHT girls for some time. I have picked out a movie and I want all of you to see it as my guests. The name of the picture is "The Westerner." I think you will enjoy it. In fact I am confident that any Texan would enjoy it. It is based on the life of Judge Roy Bean, who was law west of the Pecos. It may not be accurate historically, but it is interesting.

A truck fell in a well right in the middle of East Avenue Tuesday. The well was dug in 1891 to furnish water for the Wellington Hotel, which was operated by E. T. O'Neil. Later it was filled up. Still later brick paving was laid across the ground. But the well was 75 feet deep and about 6 feet across; so there was plenty of room for the earth to settle as the years went by. When the hind wheel of the truck crashed through the pavement, there was a hole underneath 25 feet deep.

Paul Starr certainly was having a good time in the barber shop Monday pronouncing Australia like the President did. It sounded like Australasia. The barbers said that Paul and the President were wrong. Mr. Starr was willing to bet and the barbers, having no money, were forced to shut up. But I think the barbers were right.

The dictionary says that Australia is pronounced "Os-tral-ya." Australasia on the other hand is a portion of Oceania, which lies between the equator and latitude 47. It has a population of 8,000. Oceania, if you care to know, is a vague application for lands of the central pacific, sometimes including Australia, New Zealand, etc.

I have no criticism of the President's pronunciation even if he made a slip of the tongue. The speech was understood undoubtedly by both Hitler and Mussolini.

Old Betsy is going out the back door of The Leader office this week. (She is the Babcock press on which this paper has been printed since 1909.) As if to shame us for turning her out in her old age, she never ran smoother. The voices of your mother and your wife mingled together as they cheerfully talk over cooking breakfast while you lie in a half-dream in bed could be no sweeter than the lullaby that Old Betsy has been singing to us this week.

In case you don't know it, Old Betsy is a part of you. Faithfully, she has recorded the birth of approximately half the population of Collingsworth County. Cheerfully, she has announced your marriage and those of your friends. Enthusiastically, she has noted the graduation of thousands of Collingsworth boys and girls. Sincerely she has paid tribute to your loved ones when they were laid to rest.

Editors have come and gone while Old Betsy did her stuff. It was all the same to her—Tom Durham, L. L. Ladd, Claude Wells or the writer. In fact no one knows yet whether or not she was a virgin when Tom Durham first knew her. Tom told the folks in Collingsworth she was, but Old Betsy said nothing. Evidently she trusted the printers, believing that they were gentlemen and that they wouldn't tell. She has known a lot of printers from King Stephens, superintendent in the government plant in Washington, to J. E. Bills, night foreman of an Amarillo paper, to Duard Scott, a Dodson merchant. Betsy could even tell you about Charlie Benson, editorial writer on the Fort Worth Star Telegram. She could come back to more recent days and tell you of the success of Jimmie Gillentine over at Hereford or of Budge Harle, who is city editor of the El Reno American. Betsy knew all of these and many more capable boys and girls.

Betsy knew about the well in the middle of the street in which the truck fell this week just as she knew about the well on the southwest corner of the courthouse lawn.

Betsy could chuckle over her memories just as she could sigh. There was the time she was about to print the picture of a prominent Wellington society lady under the heading "prize sow." It was the old heading which the printer left in until a new head could be written. It was used the week before over the picture of a mother hog. It would have suited Betsy just as well to have it used over the picture of the society lady. Betsy was impartial.

Canadian Cabby

Because army conscription took heavy toll from the ranks of Windsor, Ont., cab drivers, women are now being recruited to run taxis. Gladys Collins, 25, above, was first applicant to be approved.

Betsy has had quite a bit to do with your schools, churches, and roads. She had something to do with the fact that you have a sewer system instead of an outbuilding that Amarillo folks wanted when the light went out. She had something to do with the installment of the water system, the gas system, and all the improvements that we take for granted. Betsy took all of them in stride, for she ran on fuel oil, gasoline, and electricity without a change of pace.

Betsy knew the short grass, the wheat land and the cotton farmers. She noted the wet years as well as the dry years—the years of huge racks of corn and maize north of the railroad tracks, the years of fat hogs and cattle. She saw cotton sell for 45¢ a pound, and she saw it sell for 4¢. She saw the wet years and the high prices go, and she saw the dry years and the low prices come. She watched the foreclosures and the dust storms. She saw some of the farmers move from the land, and she saw others stay. She watched one generation of Collingsworth boys march off to war in 1917, just as she watched their sons get ready in 1940. And all through all these things, Old Betsy did the work she was created to do.

Now Old Betsy must go herself. She does not complain. Instead she just does her job—smooth and well. And as she sings her swan song to each of these and to all of those that she has known in the years gone by, to you Americans, it seems that she is saying with an almost forgotten poet:

I do not know beneath what sky,
Nor on what seas shall be thy fate.
I only know it shall be high.
I only know it shall be great.

Donnie Sisemore Buried January 1

Funeral services for Donnie Mae Sisemore, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Sisemore, were held Wednesday afternoon, January 1, from the Buck Creek Baptist Church. Rev. R. H. Goodnight was in charge of the services.

The child died early Wednesday morning after having been ill for several days of pneumonia. She was born July 13, 1937 in this county and at the time of her death she was three years, five months and seventeen days of age. Pall bearers for the service were Palo Cummings, W. A. Anthony, B. M. Shields, and J. R. Roberts. Flower bearers were Thelma McGuire, Mrs. Travis McGuire and Miss Dorothy Grigsby. Hymns included "Safe in the Arms of Jesus."

Survivors include the parents and these brothers and sisters: Julian, Rachel, Riley, Willie, Mary June, Frances, Bobbie Joe and Tommie Rae.

Interment was in the Wellington Cemetery with the Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

Ernest Tate of the Lutie community suffered painful injuries to his right hand recently while working on his car. He was brought to Wellington for medical treatment.

Income Tax To Hit Lower Brackets In 1941

If you are single and have a gross income amounting to $800, you'll pay income taxes this year. This is but one of the new regulations which go into effect under the Revenue Act for 1940, the collector of internal revenue has reported, with respect to the liability of individuals for the filling of income tax returns.

Amount of gross income—not net income—now determines liability.

Single individuals, or married individuals not living with husband or wife, having a gross income of $800 or more are required to file returns covering the calendar year of 1940.

Also required to file such returns are married individuals living together having a combined gross income of $2,000 or more.

The net income is no longer to be used in determining the liability for the filing of a federal income tax return, it has been pointed out. The liability of a citizen or resident of the United States to file a return is dependent upon his status as a married or single person, and the amount of his gross income. Therefore, every citizen or resident of the United States will be required to file a return for the taxable year 1940 if his gross income in 1940, regardless of the amount of his net income, comes within the amount specified for his particular status.

A return must be filed even though, by reason of allowable deduction from gross income and of allowable credits against net income, it develops that no tax is due.

In filing returns, Form 1040A should be used for gross income of not more than $5,000 derived from salaries, wages, interest, dividends and annuities. Form 1040 should be used for gross income from salaries, wages, interest, and annuities of more than $5,000; or if any part of one's income is derived from other than salaries, wages, interest, dividends or annuities.

March 15, 1941 is the deadline for filing 1940 income tax returns with the collector of internal revenue. Failure of individuals subject to make returns to file returns will subject them to penalties prescribed by law.

Defense Training Course Opens

The National Defense Training course, sponsored by the National Government through the state Vocational Agriculture Department, has begun Tuesday morning, Jan. 8, in the Quail School with Coyce Dodd as instructor.

Approximately twenty boys reported for class at the first meeting.

The first class is in woodworking and will continue for a period of two months. The courses to follow include auto mechanics and elementary electricity.

Members of the woodworking class will not only learn the technical side of such work, but actual instruction work will be done. This will include painting of houses, shingling roofs, building other closets and kitchen cabinets and the constructing of work benches and benches for the school. Residents of that community wishing to have work done were requested to contact Mr. Dodd or the national agriculture department at the school, which is in charge of this work. The work will be done without cost other than the furnishing of the required materials.

Mr. Dodd, who came to this county in the late summer from California, is widely experienced manual training work. In addition to actual experience, he has had manual training for two years in high school and two years in attending college.

Miss Carolyn Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Ellis, was a local hospital Friday of last week. She was ill of influenza.

Successful tests of a new serum cure typhoid fever are reported from Cuba.

Miss Erisman Is Kiwanis Speaker

Miss Rose Erisman, county home demonstration agent, was speaker before members of the Kiwanis Club at their regular luncheon meeting Friday, January 3.

Miss Erisman outlined before the group facts concerning her work, and gave statistics to back her statements. Continuing, she told them of plans which she has for her work among the women and girls of the county during the coming year.

Other visitors to the meeting were Bert Weaver, Miss Clarice Harper and Miss Edna Joyce Gribble. Paul Bell was admitted as a new member to the club.

J. L. Beard, superintendent of schools, was in Austin the first of this week attending a meeting of school superintendents from all parts of the state. He was accompanied by Fred Pepper. J. D. Wilson, superintendent of the Paducah schools, also joined the party.

Cedar Now Used In Shelterbelts

WICHITA FALLS. — "Over 144,000 Red Cedar are being dug at the Plainview Nursery for planting in Texas shelterbelts," reported W. E. Webb, State Director of the Prairie States Forestry Project. Due to unusually favorable weather, planting of Red Cedar in Collingsworth County is already underway.

Better survival is expected from these Red Cedar than in previous years, stated Mr. Webb, as these trees have gone through a hardening process which has put them in excellent condition for handling and setting in the ground. In past years, these trees had to be hauled long distances and often it took three to six weeks from the time they left the nursery until they were placed in the ground. Everything possible was done to keep the trees dormant even to placing them in cold storage, but even this failed. To eliminate this loss from handling, the trees are going to be dug at the Plainview Nursery twice weekly and placed in the ground before the week has gone by. Seventeen thousand cedar will be planted in shelterbelts in Collingsworth County.

This year early experimental plantings indicate that the locally grown Red Cedar will give much better results, declared Mr. Webb. Trees planted in October and early November are in excellent condition due to the presence of plenty of soil moisture. Very few show any signs of dying.

Later on a good many thousand Southern Yellow Pine will be planted in Texas shelterbelts. Some Southern Pine will be delivered to the Shelterbelt Project by E. O. Sieck, Director of the Texas Forest Service and 6,000 Western Yellow Pine will be received from the National Forest Nursery at Monument, Colorado, for planting in Collingsworth County shelterbelts.

These evergreen rows though slower growing than the rest of the belt, are the best trees in the shelterbelt to give complete protection all the year around. After they set their roots into the ground and begin to draw on the soil for food and water, they really begin to grow. Just to keep them from being covered up, baby them the first year and these evergreens will give you some real comfort and joy in the future, stated Mr. Webb in closing.

PROSPERITY'S HERE

If all the figures are correct—and there is no sound reason to doubt them—prosperity is no longer around the corner, but is here.

Of course, the thought at once occurs that the country is lifting itself up by its bootstraps. In other words, by piling up debts for national rearmament, it is spreading a lot of money around. But the fact remains that this same money is making airplane and munitions factories hum and these in turn are having their effect upon many other lines of industry. The backwash of this reaches far and deep.

Federal Reserve Board figures show a steady business climb. Building permits in more than 200 cities reached a top figure for November. Retail sales of automobiles have not shown the usual winter slump. Tens of thousands of men have been taken out of the ranks of the unemployed. All this has also been reflected in the better Christmas business enjoyed by the shops.

Thus a great deal of good comes out of evil. It is not a good thing that a peacefully inclined nation has to spend enormous sums to build a vast amount of war material. A great deal less money would have equipped the country with better schools, libraries, hospitals, peace-time institutions of all kinds.

But war or defense against war is always an expensive luxury. War always costs more than peace. So does defense against war.

Maybe something permanent will come out of all this. Maybe, now that the wheels of industry have begun to turn, they will continue to do so, even after the rearmament program has been completed.

Depression in many troubled years seemed to be like a disease. It was "catching." Let's try to make this new prosperity "catching."

"TOO LATE" MEANS DEFEAT

One of the ablest living military commanders is General Douglas MacArthur, former chief of staff of the United States Army, now retired, but still active as head of the Philippine Army. He recently wrote the following letter in response to an inquiry by the Manila Daily Bulletin:

"You have asked my opinion as to whether the time has come for America to give continued and further aid to England in the fight for civilization.

"The history of failure in war can almost be summed up in two words: Too Late. Too late in comprehending the deadly purpose of a potential enemy; too late in realizing the mortal danger; too late in preparedness; too late in uniting all possible forces for resistance; too late in standing with one's friends.

"The greatest strategical mistake in all history will be made if America fails to recognize the vital moment, if she permits again the writing of that fatal epitaph: Too Late.

"Such co-ordinated help as may be regarded as proper by our leaders should be synchronized with the British effort so that the English-speaking peoples of the world will not be broken in detail. The vulnerability of singleness will disappear before unity of effort. Not too late; not tomorrow, but today."

WHAT DOCTORS COULD TELL

American medicine, as an authority recently observed, has a weak spot. It is not a weakness affecting the patient—the sick man or woman anxiously seeking a return to health. The weakness lies in the fact that the medical profession has been so busy fighting disease in experimental laboratories as well as at the bedside of the ill, that it has found little time to tell the public of its tremendous achievements. But an amazing story could be told.

The undeniable record is there for all who wish to read it. And it tells, through the figures, a dramatic and inspirational story of an endless battle against disease and suffering and death.

That battle has won victory after victory. In the period of a century and a half, in this country, the life expectancy of man has nearly doubled—from 35 to 62 years. During that time, typhus, once one of the greatest killers, has all but disappeared. Smallpox and diphtheria, dreaded specters not so long ago, have been robbed of their terrors. Other great scourges—typhoid, diabetes, tuberculosis—have been brought under control, and their mortality rates steadily reduced.

That is what American medicine has done. And all over the land, in countless laboratories and institutes, for the most part privately financed and managed, the doctor's and the scientists are fighting, day and night, the scourges which have not yet been conquered.

Medicine is not an industry. But, like industry, it has rendered its greatest service to the people under a system which places no brakes upon the achievements of the individual, and which encourages any man, in any field, to develop his talents to the utmost.

According to a life insurance company, the economic value of an 18-year-old boy is $25,654, but we do not know of anyone who is in the market for a boy at that price.

Manufacturers of reducing compounds have long been living on the fat of the land.

There is more employment now, but there will never be enough soft jobs to go around.

Wood, Too, Is Vital To Defense Of United States

WASHINGTON.—U. S. farm woodlands are now producing about two billion cubic feet of wood a year, but improved management could multiply this by three.

That's the assertion made at the recent annual meeting of the Society of American Forestry in Washington. General range of discussion at the convention covered the points of forest cultivation, the proper way to cut trees and the enormous use of wood in the national defense program.

Field Marshal Hermann Goering, it was pointed out, places wood second on the list of Germany's war necessities. The United States still has an advantage over Germany in lumber supply, despite U. S. waste-fulness and German conservation. This country has about five acres of forest per capita to Germany's one acre per capita.

In the present defense program the United States needs huge quantities of wood for the erection of army cantonments for its drafted army, for the building of pontoons and for containers for the shipment of explosives. In addition, wood is required for the charcoal in gas masks and plywood for the manufacture of trainer planes.

Lacking vital resources, Germany has invented ways of making them from wood, which the United States could emulate if the necessity arose. It has long been known that German chemists extract from wood a useful motor fuel. As the crop of beet root has not been sufficient for the sugar needs of Germany, a method has been invented whereby they get edible sugars from wood.

There have been many jokes about German wooden suits, but the fact is that from cellulose procured from wood clever chemists have created synthetic wool and cotton.

R. D. Garver, director of the United States Forest Service's survey, estimates that full development of American forest lands could provide work for an additional 2,000,000 men a year. He says that back in 1936 American forest resources gave directly or indirectly about 4,000,000 year-long jobs.

He urgently warns against cutting timber unwisely, says more forest growth is a real necessity if all present and future requirements are to be met.

In old countries like Germany and France there are still extensive forests because under conservation laws when matured trees were cut, young trees had to be planted, so as to keep up the acreage and even increase it.

ODD BITS OF NEWS

N. B. Milton of Chicago reported the theft of his car to police, and stated that on the back seat of the machine was a package containing two tarantulas and ten black widow spiders.

A judge in Newark, N. J., gave Harry Garfinkle the right to pay two dollars a week on a judgment of $104,720.

In over 20 years service as constable, Tom Smith of Ozona, Tex., has never carried a gun, made an arrest, nor served a paper.

Booked on a begging charge in Chicago, Patrick Murray told the court that the reason he wore rubber gloves was to protect himself from germs on money he handled in his day's work.

F. W. Knapp, dog catcher of Topeka, Kan., announced recently that two public dances would be held to raise money for the dogs of poor parents who cannot afford to buy licenses.

Albert Sengstock of Des Plaines, Ill. in court for reckless driving, explained that his false teeth became loose and lodged in his throat, and in trying to dislodge them he lost control of his car.

Before Justice Harry Mills of Oroville, Calif., another Harry Mills swore out a warrant charging a third Harry Mills with breaking into a cabin and stealing blankets.

Jesus' Valuation Of Personality

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 12.

Text: Luke 14:1-14.

At a time when every day's newspapers carry fresh tales of wars and slaughter all over the world, it is particularly timely to consider the valuation Jesus placed on human life, or personality.

"How much is a man better than a sheep?" Jesus asked. Yet every day masses of our fellow-men are being driven or led to slaughter just like sheep.

Contrast with all this the emphasis Jesus put on the value of human life, or the value of personality. In His own way He was in conflict with those who valued their own ideas of religion and of orthodoxy more than kindness and helpfulness toward their fellowmen.

A ruler of the Pharisees—a good church member, as we might say today—had asked Jesus to his home on the Sabbath Day, and while He was there, there were others who were spying on Him. Whether this man, prominent among the Pharisees, had invited Jesus there that they might thus spy on Him is not clear; but Jesus was there, a guest in his home. It has been suggested that this Pharisee was himself breaking the Jewish Sabbath law in thus having a feast on the Sabbath Day.

At any rate, among the company, or as one who was brought in, was a man who had dropsy. Jesus realized that these narrow-minded people, knowing His reputation for healing, were questioning whether or not He would heal the man. So He took the initiative and asked them, "Is it lawful to heal on the Sabbath Day or not?" They ignored His question, but Jesus went ahead and healed the man, who went away.

Jesus, realizing the thoughts of the company at the table, asked them a further question, "Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fall into a well and will not straightway draw him up?" Again, they did not answer. But silence evidently did not indicate consent or approval of the fine act of healing Jesus had done.

What is the highest thing in personality? Jesus here suggests that a very high thing—if not the highest—is humility. The more a man feels the height of great standards, the more the glory of the moral law appears to him, the less he will be disposed to overvalue himself. The finer a man's spirit, the keener his perceptions, the more inevitable is it that his attitude is one of humility toward God and toward his fellowmen. So, along with this lesson of humility, Jesus taught the lesson of kindness and service to others.

Blessedness in life, according to Jesus, comes not from what we do for those who can recompense us, but in what we do for those who are in need. It is the things we do without hope of reward that constitute our real expression of what we are and what we value most.

I SAW

By V. A. R.

Real winter weather, the kind we talk about we used to have, swooped down—and left everyone thoroughly uncomfortable after so many warmer days. As folks adjusted themselves to the temperature, I SAW

Mrs. F. F. Watson making purchases preparatory to killing hogs.

Little Jerry Adams, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mart Adams, all dressed out in a fuzzy hood and snow pants to keep herself warm.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Williams wheeling their young daughter down the middle of the street.

Mrs. Joe Grigg and Mrs. Paul Jensen enjoying a "coke" together and admiring an attractive display of goods.

Oma Roberson taking her young sister, June Ann, with her as she drove around on some errands one Sunday.

Mrs. Ott Sisk with her coat pulled up tight around her neck to keep out the cold.

And Paul McKinney on the same day also trying to keep a little cold out by hunching up his shoulders and ducking his head.

Quite a group of men watching the efforts to get a big truck out of its predicament when one back wheel crashed through the middle of the street into a hole, and speculating on what caused it all.

W. R. Franks had it easy then, for he could watch the whole thing from his store and not have to get out in the cold.

BRIEF TOPICS

Dr. H. R. Wilson of Pittsburgh recently obtained a divorce from his wife when he testified that she had sold her wedding ring for less than its cost and had refused to accompany him to a Rotary convention.

Burdette Garrard, ticket seller at a Spencerport, N. Y., bus terminal, has erected a scratching post, five feet, six inches high, for the convenience of bus passengers who want to scratch their backs.

Steve Clements of Hollywood, who does knife-throwing scenes for the movies, charges $15 to throw at an extra, $25 at a featured player, and from $50 to $100 to throw at a star.

A police dog was put in jail in Texarkana, Ark., when two men contested its ownership.

Abe Tinker, CCC worker of Susanville, Calif., rents his Sunday suit to his comrades at $1 a day. The suit has made 18 trips to San Francisco, 12 to Los Angeles, and around 50 to Susanville.

Ernest Faulkner, motorist, sued Abram Olander, pedestrian, in a Peoria, Ill., court on the grounds that he suffered $1,000 worth of worry because his car hit Olander.

By mistake Moe Mamek broke into a jail yard at London, O., and explained to the sheriff that he was hungry and thought the fence surrounded a canning factory.

Albert Rich of La Salle, Ill., has collected samples of soil from every state to use in the construction of a relief map of the United States.

Edward Lee Hayes, Negro, of Sacramento, Calif., wanted to "make an impression," so he petitioned a judge to allow him to change his name to "Tiamnge Kilfailnogi Suhfbonpreidskysngs."

A man wrote Sheriff M. L. Sells of Sioux Falls, S. D., that he wanted his wife back, but he wouldn't pay her fare back home because he thought it the duty of the man she ran away with to bear the expense.

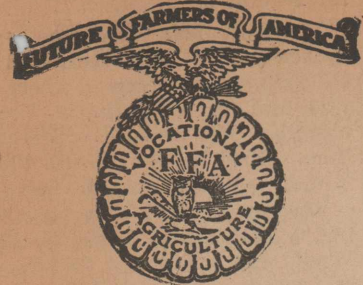

Elected chairman of the county board of supervisors 22 times, C. J. Calusa of Coluba, Calif., now holds the title of "most elected man in the state."

Paul Dunbar was "sort of mad" at his wife. That was why, he told Indianapolis police, he tossed beer bottles through the window of her beauty shop.

In Lookout, Calif., fire interrupted the volunteer firemen's annual benefit ball by burning down the dance hall, a war house, and 1,000 cords of wood.

Ring In The New Year

WELLINGTON

Hog killing time is over for the vocational Ag II boys who have been killing hogs for local farmers. Thirty boys have killed about 60 hogs this fall. These boys filled enough hogs and cut them up to be able to complete the butchering job on hogs without any assistance. We thank the local citizens for co-operating with us and allowing the boys to kill the hogs in order to get real practical training in butchering.

Miss June Jarrell is making our chapter a real little Sweetheart, but the boys felt that they also needed Miss Mildred Stafford to go along with June and make it a pair. Mildred was one of the Sweethearts last year. No wonder the FFA boys go up and down the halls humming "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

The Agriculture boys are getting along nicely this year with their farm training program. Each boy must carry a project in order to get real, practical training along with his studies in agriculture. The department is proud of the progress that is being made toward getting more and better breeding livestock into the community. More cash crops are stressed in the vocational agriculture classes.

The boys are encouraged to raise a pig, calf, sheep or some other cash crop to go along with cotton to make a more balanced program on his farm. The Agriculture boys will have a varied project program this school year. Under the supervision of Ronald Davis, agriculture instructor, various members of the department plan to hatch 450 baby chicks to be fed out for sale; plant 150 acres of grain sorghum; feed 55 head of lambs for sale; carry 13 brood sows from which to raise pigs. In addition, several boys are getting a few good individuals of all types of breeding sheep, hogs and beef cattle. Besides raising the above mentioned livestock and crops, the boys will do at least 10 to 20 odd jobs around their farm or home to make it a more desirable place to live—building new sheds, planting grass lawns, repairing screens or windows, filling in yards, repairing gates, planting trees, repairing fences, building terraces, butchering hogs, and many others. These jobs are outside of the regular class projects.

If things turn out as planned, citizens will notice a change in the appearance of farms and homes of Wellington Future Farmers. Athletics has its place in the Wellington Future Farmer Chapter. Three fast stepping teams of agriculture boys will enter the high school intramural basketball contest. The teams are of about equal strength and will be fighting to win the championship. The regular Wellington FFA team will be picked from these three teams. This team will play matched games with FFA teams from other schools. Wednesday night the All-Star FFA team selected from the three intramural FFA teams will meet the Childress FFA team here. The Childress boys will also furnish a few other numbers on the program.

Much interest is on foot about the plans for our annual Father and Son FFA Banquet to be held February 21, 1941. A radio program will be carried out to furnish programs for all chapters at the same time.

Off on a solo spree, this 200-ton locomotive broke loose from its roundhouse in Chicago, backed down a dead-end track and toppled onto one of the city's main South Side streets, narrowly missing a street car. The engine itself was fairly well battered up, but no one was hurt.

Social Security Coverage Defined

All employment except for specifically excluded types of work is covered under the old-age and survivors insurance provisions of the Social Security Act, according to Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo Social Security Board field office. For instance, he said, cooks, maids, butlers, chauffeurs, and gardeners, who are employed by private families, are not covered. If these same workers should obtain jobs in hotels, restaurants, service stations, or in other commercial or industrial establishments, they would be covered by this Federal insurance system.

Covered employment, generally speaking, is a job in a factory, shop, mine, mill, store, office, American ship, national or State bank, building-and-loan association or other place of business.

Jobs not covered are, in general, as follows: Agricultural labor; domestic service; Government work; work for an educational, charitable, or religious non-profit organization; work on railroads (this is covered by the Railroad Retirement System); work in the fishing industry; work as a newsboy; certain kinds of professional work; work performed for a son, daughter, spouse; or for a parent if the child is under 21.

Reed pointed out that in order to qualify for monthly old-age primary insurance benefits, a worker (a) must be 65 years old or over; (b) must have worked on a job or jobs covered by the Social Security Act; and (c) must have received a certain minimum amount of pay from such jobs during certain periods of time.

The amount of pay he must have earned to qualify for benefits is $50 or more in each of a certain number of calendar quarters. The quarters in which a worker earns $50 or more on covered jobs are called "quarters of coverage," with the quarters beginning January 1, April 1, July 1, October 1.

Dipped Range Cattle In Better Winter Condition

"My cattle are going into the winter with twenty per cent more flesh on them than in previous years," S. W. Norwood of Samnorwood told W. K. Cottingham, county agent, recently in discussing the beneficial results of dipping range cattle for the eradication of lice.

Mr. Norwood dipped his cattle twice last spring, using wet table sulphur and cube. Seventy-five head of cattle were dipped. At that time, they were losing weight, even though they were being fed daily. After they were dipped twice, they began putting on weight again.

Mr. Norwood told the county agent that he plans to continue dipping his cattle when necessary. For dipping, he enlarged a hog dipping vat at a small cost. He used 250 pounds of wettable sulphur and 25 pounds of cube in 2,500 gallons of water.

Pampa Beats Out Quails In Last 15 Seconds Play

With a lead of one point fifteen seconds before the game ended, the Quail Quails saw victory slip from their hands when an accurately pitched goal gave the game to the Pampa Harvesters by the score of 25 to 24. The game was played Thursday evening at Pampa.

At no time during the game was there more than three points difference in the scores of the teams.

This was considered one of the best games that either team has played this year.

The game will be returned at some time during this season, but the date has not yet been set.

Housekeeping Aid Women Work In Flu Epidemic

With the project only a few weeks old, already sixteen women from the WPA Housekeeping Aid Project in Wellington are helping in homes where members of the family are ill with influenza, Mrs. C. B. Jones, supervisor, stated Tuesday.

"This epidemic caught us before the women were thoroughly trained in the work they are to do, but with help needed so badly in so many homes, it would have been foolish for us not to have helped," Mrs. Jones said.

In further explaining the work of the project, Mrs. Jones pointed out that the nineteen women who are now being trained in the Housekeeping Aid center are not to become trained nurses. "This is not our purpose," she said. They are, however, given a thorough training which will enable them to go into homes where there is sickness or other need, and perform efficiently all phases of housekeeping—cooking, mending, cleaning, laundering—along with simple nursing.

"They are just what the name implies, 'Housekeeping Aides,'" Mrs. Jones added.

At the cottage center, they will learn in addition to these things, many other things that will help them in their own housekeeping, including the reconditioning of closets, refinishing of furniture, re-upholstering, and the building of cabinets from orange crates and other boxes.

In the work which the women are now doing by assisting in the homes, they are checked twice daily, Mrs. Jones said. This group includes four colored women who are aiding families in the flats where there is illness.

Reeves Child Buried Jan. 4

Joy Willene Reeves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Reeves of Amarillo, formerly of near Wellington, died January 2, after having been ill with the flu for about two weeks. She was 14 months of age.

Funeral services were conducted at the Independence Church, east of Wellington Saturday, January 4, at 1:30 o'clock. Elder L. Stonecipher was in charge.

The child was born in this county October 27, 1939, and at the time of her death she was fourteen months and five days of age. Mr. and Mrs. Reeves have lived in this section all their lives, and are widely known throughout the entire area. Six months ago they moved to Amarillo to make their home.

Surviving are the parents and these grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Reeves, all of this county.

Pall bearers for the service included uncles of the child and flower girls were aunts. Hymns included "In the Sweet Bye and Bye" and "How Beautiful Heaven Must Be." Burial was in the Independence Cemetery.

Rotarians See Magic Program

A program of magic, given by Jimmie Bowen and Ben McClure, high school students, entertained members of the Wellington Rotary Club at their regular luncheon Tuesday. The boys were assisted by W. F. Decker.

Pulling yards of cloth, then an American Flag, then a live rabbit and finally a live pigeon out of a box which Rotarians had previously seen was empty was the first of the magic acts. This was followed by such tricks as turning a playing card into a match box, and causing cigarettes and handkerchiefs to disappear.

Pink Sullivan was program chairman for the occasion.
