State Orders Paving On Brownwood Highway

COMMISSION WILL SPEND $195,000 ON LINK OF 14.5 MILES

The Texas State Highway Commission has advertised for bids and ordered paving the unsurfaced 14.5 miles of road between Cross Plains and Brownwood. Contract which is expected to be awarded within the very near future, possibly at the May meeting of the body, has been estimated to cost $195,000, however, it is possible that this figure will be upped when the final agreement is sealed.

Letters were recently received by Brown and Callahan county authorities advising that on April 16 the commission authorized paving of 279 from the end of the present pavement, which stops at Brownwood Lake, a distance of 14.5 miles.

The state highway engineer was directed to complete plans and specifications and to receive bids for surfacing at a total estimated cost of $195,000, Green wrote.

This is Cross Plains and Brownwood's No. 1 highway project and has held that status for many years. The highway commission voted last year to take over maintenance of the strip as a state highway.

For many years a "bottleneck" prevented the highway from being paved. This was in the form of outstanding county bonds used for building structures and rendered to state specifications. The state refused to assume these bonds.

Last year this "bottleneck" was surmounted by the state taking over the strip without prejudice to Brown county's claim for state assumption but without the state agreeing to assume the bonds.

Paving the highway will shorten the distance on an all-paved route to Abilene and points north and west from Cross Plains and points south and east by several miles.

At Cross Plains, the highway links with the 36th Division Memorial Highway from Abilene.

Pearson Asks Second Term as State 107 Representative

L. R. Pearson, of Ranger, this week announced his candidacy for re-election to a second term as State Representative from the 107th District, which comprises Callahan and Eastland counties.

In the 49th Legislature, Pearson was a member of five major committees, including the Committee on Revenue and Taxation. This committee held the line on new tax bills and defeated every tax-raising measure submitted.

Also, Pearson introduced and piloted through the Legislature House Bill 110, giving the District Court authority to appoint a receiver for unknown and non-resident mineral and royalty interests in land for the purpose of executing an oil and gas lease thereon. This legislation has already resulted in the drilling of a number of wells in the oil belt section which otherwise could not have been drilled due to inability to locate the royalty or mineral owners.

When asked by the editor of the Review if he expected to announce a platform, Mr. Pearson replied: "I think the people are fed up on political promises. My only promise is, if re-elected to a second term, I will make a desperate effort to be reasonable and sensible. The 50th Legislature will probably be the most important in 100 years of Texas Statehood. It will be a re-conversion session—the first since V-E and V-J Days. A wide variety of legislation will no doubt confront the next Legislature. It would be next to impossible to embrace it all in a so-called platform. With a healthy balance now in the general fund—the first in over 20 years—I see no necessity for any new tax bills. I will support legislation which is beneficial to Texas and the 107th District, and will oppose measures which I consider detrimental. If in doubt, I will resolve the doubt against the bill. That, briefly, will be my policy."

2 ARRESTED AFTER PASTOR'S AUTO IS STOLEN SATURDAY

Thieves invaded Cross Plains last Saturday night, stealing a 1938 Plymouth sedan owned by Rev. D. L. Barnes, Methodist pastor, from in front of the Telephone Company, on Main street. The automobile was located around two o'clock Sunday morning on the Cross Plains road, a half-mile from this city where it had wrecked. A 1938 Chevrolet passenger car stolen in Brownwood the same night was found abandoned near the cemetery here. Two youths were taken into custody in Comanche Monday afternoon in connection with the theft here.

Sheriff W. A. Peterson, who was in town at the time of the theft, and his staff of officers investigated the theft and accumulated evidence that led to the apprehension in Comanche county of Robert Chaney of Comanche and Arthur Cloud of Missouri. Both youths, said to be 19 and 20 years of age, were brought here and charged in Judge J. G. Aiken's justice court with theft of property valued over $50.00 and bond set at $2,000 each. They were later removed to Baird.

The sheriff believes the same persons were involved in both the theft here and of the Brownwood car, abandoning the Chevrolet after the gears had apparently jammed. It is believed the culprits then came to town, located the parked car with keys in it and were returning to Brownwood when the Plymouth was overturned, almost totally damaging the body.

DAMAGING BARRAGE SHATTERS WINDOWS, RIPS ROOFS, CROPS

Storm Breaks More Than 150 Windows At Cross Plains School Buildings Monday

A hail storm, believed to be one of the worst in history of this little city, did thousands of dollars worth of damage here Monday afternoon. The stones, some of which approached hen-egg size, started falling in barrage-like proportions shortly before four o'clock and continued for more than half an hour.

Greatest damage was done to crops, particularly orchards near Cross Plains, where fruit was knocked from trees and leaves and limbs ripped destructively. Gardens, many of which were nearing maturity, were laid flat. Automobiles parked outside took a terrific pounding and those without steel tops suffered many punctures.

At Cross Plains school buildings more than 150 windows were shattered and damage was also reported to the roofs of the five buildings. Virtually every home-owner within the city had some loss to report Tuesday morning in discussing the storm. At the Fred Tunnell place, where screens had been temporarily removed for repair, the barrage of hail took an expensive toll. Insurance adjusters moved on the double Tuesday and Wednesday in an endeavor to place an estimate on the total damage, however, as the Review went to press their figures were not complete.

Farmers and ranchmen in the Cross Plains country report damage done exceeds the ability to estimate. Accompanying, or immediately following the hail, was a rain of slightly more than one inch. S. E. Bond, local weather observer, measured 1.08 inches in his gauge which is kept at the Citizens State Bank building.

Notwithstanding the fact that damage from Monday's storm was by no means the most destructive hail ever suffered by this community, old timers are generally agreed that the worst hail in history fell here on June 1, 1897, when crops were further matured and the intensity of the storm was somewhat greater and covered a greater area.

Prominent Rowden Man Laid To Rest Sunday Afternoon

Funeral services for William Grover Gibbs, 59, who died in an Abilene hospital Thursday night after an illness of 10 days, were conducted from the Rowden Baptist church Sunday afternoon with Rev. Fate Hedding, pastor, and close friend of the deceased, officiating. Interment was made in the family plot of the Admiral cemetery.

Mr. Gibbs, a long time resident of the Rowden community, was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gibbs, pioneer Callahan county couple. He had been a member of the Rowden Baptist church since 1909 and was an active worker in church and community affairs.

There being no cemetery in the Rowden community, few funerals have been held from the little Baptist church there, although it is one of the oldest and most historic in the county. The funeral Sunday afternoon was the second ever held from the beloved little church, the only other being that of Mr. Gibbs' father-in-law, the late George W. Miller, who passed away some 10 years ago.

Mr. Gibbs was married to Miss Leila Miller, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, in 1912, and the couple purchased a place one mile south of the present Rowden store, where they made their home through the intervening 34 years. To the couple were born two sons, both of whom as well as the widow survive. They are: Vonelle Gibbs and Granville Gibbs, both of Abilene. Other survivors include: one grand daughter, little Miss Leila Baud Gibbs, of Abilene; four sisters, Mrs. Mattie Holley, Abilene; Mrs. Jane Anderson, Weslaco; Mrs. Emma Sikes, Clovis, New Mexico; and Mrs. J. F. Coffey of Cottonwood, as well as a number of relatives and a great host of friends, who thronged the church building far beyond capacity Sunday afternoon and bedecked the casket in a huge floral tribute, as a final parting salute to a man widely beloved and deeply respected.

Pallbearers were nephews and nieces served as flower escorts.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bryant, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bryant, Jr., of Phoenix, visited friends in Cross Plains last week.

Clarence O'Dell Fatally Injured In Car Accident

William Clarence O'Dell, 39, former resident of Cottonwood, was fatally injured in an automobile accident at Rhythe, Calif., Sunday, April 28. He, with his family, made their home at Santa Maria, Calif. Detailed information of the wreck was unavailable, according to Floyd O'Dell, who left Monday for California.

The son of Mrs. John O'Dell, formerly of Cottonwood, now living in California, Mr. O'Dell was employed at a ranch as foreman.

Survivors include the wife, one son and two daughters, his mother and two brothers, Robert of California, and Floyd of Cottonwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Moore of Cottonwood, parents of Mrs. O'Dell, also left for California Monday to be with their daughter, the former Rubell Moore.

Funeral and interment will be in California.

Omar Burleson States Platform

Omar Burleson of Anson, candidate for Congress, 17th District of Texas, has issued the following statement which he says will constitute the basis of his platform.

Two years in Washington, D. C., in a position which afforded direct daily contact with Congress, convinces me that reform in Congressional procedure is necessary to meet the exigencies of our time. The committee system has paralyzed itself until it is cumbersome and celerity in its attempt at legislation. Further observation on the part of the entire nation shows us to be strangled in Bureau and department directives, orders, and regulations which are tantamount to law. It is physically impossible for Congress, the source from which all law should emanate, to even intelligently become familiar with the provisions of all orders, regulations and directives issued.

Experience gained as an Agent of the F. B. I. opened to me the strength and the weaknesses of our Security system and Federal Law enforcement. Apathy toward National Security in peace-time is the force which would close the barn door after the horse has fled. Why are doing before they are ready to do it? An idealistic attitude on the part of this country in the past has caused untold suffering.

As a former county judge, I believe I have an understanding of local and State Government which should give me insight into the continuous problems arising. Serving as Chairman of the Texas Welfare Association, I naturally became familiar with our welfare program at its inception. Comparative progress has been made, but there must be work and understanding to obtain maximum benefits.

As a former member of the Freight Rate Equality Federation, I became familiar with the inequities existing in rates between the industrial Northeast and the agricultural South. Southwest. The tariff issue is one of the oldest political abuses of this nation, and the greatest opportunity of our existence is upon us to secure a protected market for our products. Farm born and a farm owner, I think I have experienced those problems common to the average farmer. The farmer, an droncher have been heard in Washington; he was saved from ruin by the farm program. He should be heard from now on in matters furthering the program in protecting his market and in receiving the benefit of adjusted freight rates.

Three years service in the U. S. Navy in several parts of the world should have given me an understanding of the veteran and his interest in life.

Predicated upon the foregoing, I offer the following as the basis of my platform:

1. Reduce the 48 Standing Committees of the House of Representatives to at least half and provide expert and specialized sources of information for regular open hearing in order that legislation may be expeditiously handled and that the public may know what transpires in those committees. Likewise reduce the 33 Standing Committees in the Senate for a like purpose.

2. Provide the strongest internal security measures for counter-espionage and protection against sabotage; provide operation and give intelligence services to determine the actions and policies in foreign countries; provide stringent measures to protect the confidences of this Country against those elements inimical to it.

3. Return to the States their just rights and responsibilities. But in any program, whether it be education, social security, farm or other worthwhile enterprise in which the Federal Government participates with funds, Federal control should not attach, and no obligations upon the State should be imposed.

4. Place full faith and confidence in the U. N. O. Although it is limited by reason of the veto power, it is our greatest hope for world peace.

5. If compulsory military training is enacted into law, determine the feasibility and practicability of administering the program through our senior and junior colleges, with specialized vocational training for those not candidates for regular college courses, in order that the youths education may not be interrupted and that he may be brought under more favorable moral influences.

6. Remove regulations, orders and directives from private business as rapidly as possible commensurate with the general welfare.

7. Opposed to the theory and practice of socialization and believe that an offer of Federal controls in private business is an offer of a "meat of potage" for individual liberty.

8. Subscribe to the principle that no individual or group should be allowed to usurp the power of the majority.

9. Insure equality and uniformity of pensions and other social security benefits and work for a more economical administration.

10. It is not enough to simply understand the Veteran's rights in matters of hospitalization, rehabilitation, education, and disability compensation—it is necessary to understand the veteran himself. I have that understanding.

11. Equality should be obtained between the industrial Northeast and the agricultural South and Southwest by adjustment of discriminatory freight rates; securing a better protected market for what the farmer and rancher has to sell.

Cross Cut P. T. A. Fetes Ball Teams At Formal Banquet

On Friday night, April 26, the Cross Cut P. T. A. entertained members of the basketball teams and their friends with a formal banquet at the school house.

The room was decorated with red and white streamers and red and white tablecloths, which carried out the Cross Cut colors.

Kenneth Chambers acted as Toast Master for the evening. A toast to the Cross Cut P. T. A. was given by Miss Evelyn Houshelt. Response by Mrs. Roy Stambaugh. A toast to the Cross Cut P. T. A. was given by Charlie Houshelt.

A vocal solo was offered by Miss Adele Crutcher. A story, by Ello-wayne Byrd, vocal solo by Norma Jean Byrd, reading by Joetta Jones, Class Room Echoes by Rex Chambers and speaker of the evening was Broderick Jones.

A menu of fruit cocktail, pear salad, fried chicken, gravy, cream potatoes, English peas, pickles, carrots, olives, hot rolls, iced tea and pie-lamade was served to the following: Misses Evelyn Houshelt, Norma Jean Byrd, Adele Crutcher, Ello-wayne Byrd, Joetta Jones, Joan Bryson, Ella Faye Phillips, Billie Jean Wright, Charlie Mae Watson, Billie Frances Hill, Patsy Horton, Louise Oliver and Joyce Strickland.

Mrs. W. J. Gray has returned here after visiting in Shreveport, La., a week.

program with expansion of soil conservation, farm to market roads, and improved farm living.

I believe in the United States of America. I believe in those principles which have made this country great and take them as my political rule and guide. Without changing those principles, our time demands more efficient procedure reorganization of our committee and faster moving operation. A system, along with placing a shadow of law where it belongs by abolishing needless bureaus, is the greatest step toward that accomplishment.

The next years will be crucial. They will require the most careful efforts and judgement on the part of those who represent us in Congress. This definite promise I make you: to give unstintingly of my time, my energies, and my talents to meet every responsibility with courage and determination; to exercise my best judgement and to account to you for my actions.

OLD SETTLERS SEEK PERMANENT SITE TO LOCATE GATHERINGS

A three-man committee, Ernest Frank of Baird, Fred Stacy of Denton and Morton Whitney of Denton, appointed by executives of the Callahan County Old Settlers Reunion Association met at Denton, Monday morning to discuss and locate a site suitable for a permanent reunion ground.

The Association is desirous of locating on a site centrally in the county and preferably on Highway 36 that will accommodate travel from every direction.

While no definite commitments were made, the committee tentatively chose a site east of the Rowden store and north of the highway on what is known as the H. R. Tabor place, recently purchased by H. P. Moon.

Heretofore the Old Settlers Reunion has been held at various places in the county, last year at the Cross Plains picnic grounds on Turkey Creek. The reunion is always held in August and the committee hopes to perfect plans and have the gathering on a permanently situated site this year.

DR. GEO. W. COX URGES EATING OF HEARTY MEAL AT BREAKFAST

AUSTIN—Because the time that elapses between the evening meal and breakfast the next morning is considerably more than that between other meals, an adequate breakfast is necessary to good health. Even during sleep normal body processes continue to burn fuel. Breakfast is needed to replace that fuel loss as well as to furnish energy for the morning's activities, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"Eating no breakfast or a poor one results in irritability, fatigue and a mid-morning let down. A mid-morning snack will satisfy hunger but furnishes little of the protective foods the body needs. It serves also to dull the appetite for the next meal," Dr. Cox warns.

"The many individuals think of breakfast as coffee and a doughnut grabbed while dressing for work or school. It has become a compromise between reaching work and school on time and a desire to catch that extra 'forty winks,'" Dr. Cox added.

An adequate breakfast furnishes one-fourth to one-third of the day's food requirements. Milk, fruit and whole-grain cereal and bread makes a good simple breakfast easy to prepare and serve. In addition it is well to include frequently an egg, some type of breakfast meat and waffles or pancakes.

"Once we have taken time to plan and prepare a good breakfast, we also need time to relax and eat it properly," the doctor said. "Only five or ten minutes more time is required to eat a good breakfast that can give added vigor for the day's activities as well as add much to good general health and a cheerful disposition."

Rising Star Tile
Receives Approval
After Severe Test

A specimen of concrete tile manufactured in the plant of The Rutherford & Steel Co., at Rising Star, owned and operated by Charles Rutherford and George Steel, has been submitted to the Southwest Laboratories in Fort Worth recently and a report from the testing firm reported the tile to be Grade "A" for building material.

Subjected to high pressure, the tile stood 94,340 pounds before collapse, which is considered above average. A brick standing a 40,000 pressure test is approved for construction.

The report also states that material used in the concrete tiles complies with Association Testing Standard Material specifications and will be accepted by any architect for any class of building.

The Rutherford & Steel Co. are gratified with results of the test, as will people of surrounding territory. The plant at Rising Star will greatly aid people of this area to purchase building material of that kind in this vicinity.

Their advertising appears on another page of this paper.

Cross Plains, TexasCalhoun Explains His
Form for Congress

Calhoun of the 17th Congressional District.

Congress, in which I represent you, will have members of such great ability to overshadow all others.

The great over-all issue of the war, the lack of democracy within unions, the lack of control of all our labor troubles.

I am for making unions responsible on their contracts. I am for making union officials subject to the anti-racketeering and anti-trust laws, from which they are now exempt.

I am for requiring the democratic control of unions by the rank and file of on-the-job members. The lack of democracy within unions lies at the root of all our labor troubles.

I am against creating any more tribunals to decide labor disputes. We already have too many boards and commissions. What we need are fair laws for our present courts to enforce.

Outside the great legislative issues, this district needs a congressman who will do its chores in Washington. It needs an ex-overseas GI who will give the bureaucrats a jolt when the veterans aren't getting their rights. It needs a man who knows Congress and Washington like a book, and who won't have to stay up there two years before he gets started.

It needs a Congressman with enough education, experience and sound judgement to fight the cleverest opponent, and with enough courage to fight the un-American.

BUY SEED THAT HAVE PROVEN CONSISTENTLY

GOOD OVER THE YEARS

We are now accepting bookings on our seed and offer you Grades No. 1's; No. 2's, and Pee Wees. These seed will be more uniform in size than ever before; and of very good quality. Come in and book such as you need; and know that you will have the size you want when it is time to plant.

Poor Stands Prevent Large Yields

TREAT YOUR SEED

This year more than ever we should guard against poor stands. The guaranteed high prices for peanuts this fall will justify growers to use pre-caution so buy treated seed wherever you buy. You can treat your own seed, but we have special equipment for seed treating, and can probably do it more economical.

Report of Experiment Station

Peanut experiment station tests—from the Experiment Station at Stephenville, and from Georgia Experiment Stations, as well as growers from this area who have been planting treated seeds for several years—prove that treated seeds will help to assure maximum yields. Tests show that 2% Ceresan is probably best adapted for this and surrounding counties, however, we will be equipped to treat seed with either Ceresan or Arason.

Growers We Want To Buy Your Peanuts

We've surely appreciated buying peanuts from you growers of the Callahan County area for the past year—and look forward to buying your crop this fall. We'll always be glad to discuss any of your peanut problems or help you in any way that we can!

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, will gladly be corrected if brought to the attention of the editor personally at the office, Eighth Street, Cross Plains, Texas.

Entered as second class mail matter at the Postoffice at Cross Plains, Texas, April 2, 1906, under act of March 3, 1879.

PERSONS WISHING TO RESTOCK FISH SHOULD PLACE ORDERS SOON

Farmers and others who depend upon state fish hatcheries for supplies to restock their home waters should place their applications direct with headquarters. The procedure, says R. E. Callender, game management specialist for the A. & M. College Extension Service, is for the applicant to write to Marion Tootle, chief aquatic biologist, Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, Austin, for standard application forms. After filling out the forms they should be returned to the office of the commission. As a rule, Callender says, forms are not available at the offices of county agricultural agents, although it now is permissible for agents to submit names of those desiring fish. In that case the game commission will send forms to individuals named, provided accurate mailing addresses are given.

Callender also announces that a limited quantity of game preserve protective signs now are available.

Mrs. L. W. Westerman visited Mrs. Charlie Childs in San Angelo the past week end. Mr. and Mrs. Childs are moving to Baird to make their home within the near future.

Maximum Production of Peanuts Urged

In view of the present food situation special efforts should be made to increase peanut yields per acre, according to E. A. Miller, agronomist for the A. & M. College Extension Service. Peanuts rank high in food value and there is a big need for full production.

Several things are necessary for maximum production:

At least 25 to 30 pounds of shelled seed or 45 to 60 pounds of unshelled seed should be planted per acre. A good stand is necessary for good production, and it doesn't pay to economize on seed.

The shelled seed should be chemically treated to insure good germination. The treatment protects the seed against molds and fungi in the soil. At the Stephenville Experiment Station, shelled seed treated with three ounces of two percent ceresan gave a three year average stand of 73.9 percent as compared with 22.9 percent stand from untreated seed. Arasan and spergon also increased germination considerably and may be used at the same rate as two percent ceresan, but ceresan gave the most outstanding results. Five percent ceresan should not be used as it has seriously injured the seed in previous experiments.

At the Stephenville station 200 pounds of 4-12-4 produced the highest average yield of nuts and hay and gave the highest net profit over cost of fertilizer—$13.88 per acre. The next best results were obtained from 180 pounds of 20 percent superphosphate—$12.32 increased profit per acre.

The Question of Plant Food

Since the problem of what commercial fertilizer to use on which vegetables often arises J. F. Rosborough, horticulturist for the A. & M. College Extension Service, offers the following suggestions on the subject:

Commercial fertilizers from most seed stores are 10-5, and 6-8-4. For leafy crops such as lettuce, mustard, spinach, Mr. Rosborough says 6-8-4 because the higher percentage of nitrogen will stimulate growth of the foliage. For crops, such as beets, carrots, cabbages, and turnips, 4-12-4 is probably best. For tomatoes, pers, as well as eggplant, a mixture is recommended. If one fertilizer is to be used for vegetables, a 5-10-5 would be the best choice.

Mr. and Mrs. Italian have a little daughter, Susan, visited Mrs. S. C. Barr and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McDermott last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cox and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McQuinn were in Eastland Sunday.

An Open Letter

For 37 years, through two wars, eras of drouth and depression, through oil booms, periods of prosperity and years of normalcy, we have endeavored to give people of the Cross Plains area a well-rounded family newspaper, dedicated to the upbuilding of every worthwhile endeavor and the perpetuance of institutions and traditions which enrich the American way of life.

Looking backward, we feel that although we often failed in our purpose, our objective was what it should have been, and here and now re-dedicate our efforts to this long-established policy.

We realize full well that although our very best efforts are put forth at all times, we will make mistakes and sometimes disappoint. For these shortcomings we beg forgiveness and ask your indulgence, however, with your cooperation they will be less frequent. We, therefore, urge your continued loyal support by: reporting items for publication, giving us favorable mention to non-subscribers and possibly suggesting that they too, should "Take the Review", by permitting us to supply your printing requirements, and by offering helpful suggestions at all times.

Please accept our profound gratitude for your innumerable acts of friendliness in times past and gone.

FARMERS REPORT ON WINTER COVER CROPS DUE BY MAY 15, 1946

May 15, 1946, is the final date for Callahan County farmers to report winter cover crops to the County AAA office if they are to qualify for payment under the 1946 AAA program, says B. B. McPherson, County Administrative officer. Form 45-812-30 is to be used by farmers in reporting the average of small grain qualifying as a cover crop and the pounds of seed of Austrian winter peas and vetch planted in the fall of 1945. Receipts showing the number of pounds of vetch seed purchased must also be filed with the report.

The practice of growing winter cover crops, especially Austrian legumes, has proven to be one of the most beneficial of the several soil and water conservation practices for which AAA payments are offered under the 1946 program. Callahan county farmers who planted vetch and Austrian winter peas last fall report that these crops afford excellent protection for the land from wind and water erosion during the winter months, and at the same time enrich the soil by the addition of nitrogen and organic matter. Small grain also is also good protection for the land but does not have the soil-building characteristics of the leguminous plants. A great many more Callahan county farmers are planning to seed vetch and Austrian winter peas in the fall of 1946.

In gratitude for things home demonstration work has brought them an in keeping with the theme, the Callahan County Home Demonstration club women and 4-H club girls are going to give gifts to help rebuild some of the many homes that were wrecked during the war in other parts of the world.

Recent reports from Europe indicate that famine is wide spread among many people so the club women are sending food to this area.
