Sanford Is Loser

Yanks Get 3rd Series Win, 5-3

By LEO H. PETERSEN
UPI Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)— Rookie Tom Tresh crashed a three-run home run in the eighth inning today to give the New York Yankees a 5-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants and a three-games-to-two lead in the World series.

Tresh's dramatic wallop into the lower right field stands capped a sudden explosion that wrecked the Giants just when it seemed that San Francisco pitcher Jack Sanford was nearing a brilliant hurling effort.

Sanford, who shut out the Yankees in the second game of the series last Friday, struck out 10 Yankees today and, until the eighth, the only runs he had given up were scored on a wild pitch in the fourth inning and a passed ball in the sixth.

In fact, Sanford had just struck out three straight batters, two of them in the seventh inning and one to start the eighth, when the roof fell in on him.

Kubek Hits Single

A crowd of 63,165 saw Tony Kubek open the winning rally by grounding a single into right field. Bobby Richardson followed with a single to left that moved Kubek to second and brought Tresh to the plate.

Tresh, a brilliant switch-hitting rookie whose father also played in the major leagues, then stunned the Giants with his three-run homer that sent Sanford into the showers and down to defeat.

The victory went to Ralph Terry, who pitched all the way for the Yankees and allowed eight hits. It was the first series victory of Terry's career after four such defeats. Terry struck out seven Giants.

Jose Pagan scored the first two Giant runs. He singled in the third, took second on a sacrifice by Sanford, and came home on a double by Chuck Hiller. And then he rapped Terry for a home run in the fifth inning.

Another in Ninth

The Giants got another run in the ninth when Willie McCovey singled and, one out later, came home on Tom Haller's double. But Terry got Pagan on a ground ball and pinch-hitter Ed Bailey on a fly to end the game.

Sanford ran his string of shutout innings against the Yankees to 12 until Tresh scored in the fourth inning on Sanford's wild pitch. Richardson scored the other Yankee run in the sixth inning on a passed ball by catcher Haller.

Pagan, slender shortstop from Puerto Rico, got the Giants' off to a good start in the third inning when he singled, moved to second on a sacrifice, and scored on a double by Chuck Hiller, grand-slam hero of the fourth game.

Castro Tells Cuban People Of The Red 'Military Technicians'

Reiterates Charge US Is Preparing Invasion

By ADOLFO G. MERINO
United Press International

MIAMI (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro told the Cuban people Tuesday night for the first time that Russian military "technicians" are stationed in their country.

In a speech broadcast by Radio Havana, Castro reiterated the familiar charge that the United States is preparing to invade Cuba. He said "it is for defense that we got these weapons and those technicians."

He scoffed at reports that he is importing Soviet weapons and thousands of Russian "technicians" to defend his revolutionary regime against the Cuban people.

Castro's appearance at a mass meeting welcoming President Osvaldo Dorticos back from New York interrupted his negotiations with New York attorney James B. Donovan for the release of 1,113 captured Cuban invaders.

Donovan hoped the negotiations, which have been reported approaching a satisfactory conclusion, would be renewed today.

U.N. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson was a particular target of Castro's anti-American diatribe.

Castro apparently was stung by Stevenson's response to a speech by Dorticos at the United Nations in which the Cuban president plugged the Castroite line about U.S. "acts of war" against Cuba. Stevenson said the speech contained "unparalleled calumnies, slanders and misrepresentations."

The premier denounced Stevenson as a "cynic," and said he was "highly discredited at the United Nations."

Dorticos and his official party returned to shortage-plagued Cuba loaded down with bundles from U.S. department stores.

Directors of CoC To Get Report Of Charter Revision

Directors of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will meet at 10 a.m. tomorrow in the chamber conference room at City Hall to hear a committee report on by-laws and charter revision.

Changes in the by-laws and charter were made necessary, Chamber Manager E. O. Wedgeworth said today, to conform with the chamber's reorganization into an independent operation.

Clinton Evans is chairman of the by-laws committee and will present the changes to the directors at tomorrow's session, Wedgeworth stated.

Following actions by the directors the new by-laws and charter will be presented at a general membership meeting for final approval. Date for this meeting has not yet been set, Wedgeworth said.

It will be necessary, too, to have the by-laws and charter completed in time for the annual directors' meeting in Coronado Inn Tuesday, Oct. 23.

Annual membership meeting of the chamber is set two nights later on Thursday, Oct. 25, in the Robert E. Lee Junior High School cafeteria.

The theme of the program at the annual membership meeting will be a tie-in with Pampa's 60th anniversary celebration, Oct. 25, 26 and 27.

Principal speaker at the membership banquet will be Dr. Guy B. Newman, president of Howard Payne College at Brownwood.

The program will have a 60th anniversary musical theme with a presentation dealing with the history of Pampa and Gray County. The program is being arranged by Warren Hasse, Joe Whitten and Jerry Whitten.

A crowd of 450, including delegations from neighboring towns and cities, is expected to attend the annual banquet.

Letters went out to members today asking them to make their banquet reservations as soon as possible. Tickets will be $2.50 per plate.

'Stop Asking' He Says

Rogers Gives Answer About 'Federalization'

Congressman Walter Rogers has an answer for those persons who feel the federal government is getting too large.

The answer? "Stop asking Washington for everything you want!"

Congressman Rogers spoke at yesterday's meeting of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce and discussed "too much federalization," among other topics, at the meeting.

The Congressman reported also on the status of the bill which would require registration of arms, the Cuban situation and communism in the government.

A capsule report on his comments in those fields follows:

Arms registration . . . the bill "doesn't have a chance of passing . . . it is unconstitutional . . ." he has fought it.

Federalization: "Bureaucracy has grown because the people have demanded it . . . most effective way to stop the growth of federal government is to stop asking for the federal government to do everything you want." (an example: resolution to abolish poll tax through constitutional amendment. He opposed it as encroachment upon states' rights. Amendment has been approved by legislative branch and sent to states for ratification. He thinks it will pass as only five states have poll tax.)

Cuba: He introduced bill to withhold foreign aid to those nations shipping goods to Cuba. He also would have such ships' cargoes confiscated if they dock in a U.S. port. Rogers says Cuba's economy is decaying.

Communists in Government: He offered to push for more money and power for FBI if needed to effectively fight this menace. FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover informed him country is in best shape in this regard it has ever been in . . . more money, power not needed.

Rogers was introduced at the meeting by Jaycee Eddie Polnac.

Male Students Stage Riot At Texas College

COMMERCE, Tex. (UPI)—Some 700 male students at East Texas State College, bent on avenging a campus prank with a gala panty raid, were dispersed early today by gunfire and a thorough wetting-down by the local fire department.

The demonstration, described by police as a near-riot, was touched off Tuesday when male seniors dunked a pretty coed in a campus lake for not wearing her beanie, a traditional thing for freshman at the school.

About 100 girls gathered and threw several seniors in the lake. The boys regrouped and a wild dunking party ensued.

Police said the boys decided Tuesday night to stage a panty raid on two girls' dormitories.

Police from Commerce, the school, and neighboring Greenville, Sulphur Springs and Paris combined with the local fire department and the Texas highway patrol in dispersing the students.

Four boys were arrested, police said. No injuries were reported.

Commerce Fire Marshal Robert J. Woosley said the demonstrators numbered about 700.

"It didn't cool them off when we hosed them down," Woosley said. "They were just like a bunch of cattle, bawling and yelling and going on."

The only stipulations in connection with the demonstration calls are that they must be made during the hours of the open house and that they must be placed from the telephone building where the tours are being held.

Other highlights of the open house will be specially guided tours of the new long distance equipment, a Voice Mirror which allows a person to hear his own voice just as it sounds on the

Uniform Shysters Warned About By Local CoC

Business and professional people in the Pampa area who use uniforms were cautioned today by Wynn Veale, Secretary of the Solicitors Review Board of the Chamber of Commerce, to be on guard against bogus uniform salesmen and their bargain offers.

According to Veale, this field has long been plagued with fraudulent operators who accept deposits on the purchase of uniforms but who never deliver anything. These impostors display impressive looking catalogs and order books and induce sales through "Two-for-One" or other bargain offers. However, since they are not authorized to represent or to take orders for any uniform company they merely pocket the deposits received and hurriedly move on to the next town. Victims of these petty swindlers sometimes wait for weeks before they realize that they have been duped. Thus, they not only lose the money given to such petty thieves, but are inconvenienced by their waiting for uniforms which never arrive.

Veale suggested to local doctors, dentists, nurses, receptionists, beauticians and others using uniforms that they can avoid victimization in this swindle by avoiding unknown salesmen and by dealing only with uniform salesmen of known reliability. If in doubt, they may call the Chamber of Commerce which, through its membership affiliation with the National Better Business Bureau, may assist them in ascertaining the reliability of any particular sales person or firm.

It's Pay Off Day For Those Who Want Deductible Pension Funds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Today was pay-off day for doctors, lawyers and other sef-employed persons who have clamored for 11 years for the right to set up tax-deductible private pension funds.

Unless President Kennedy vetoes a tax relief bill for them by midnight, it will become law. If he vetoes it, Congress is set to override him and enact the measure into law anyway.

The decision on the pension bill was a top issue as Congress pushed for adjournment by the end of the week. But deadlocks on an agricultural appropriations measure and a public works bill still had to be resolved.

The House was set to stamp final approval today on an appropriations bill including $100 million that Kennedy asked for purchase of United Natons bonds. The purchase was authorized in a bill passed earlier.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee called a closed meeting to consider a House-passed resolution backing up the President in a firm stand on Berlin. Approval was expected.

HITS WEEKEND TRIPS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., said Tuesday that if President Kennedy would stay in Washington more he would see what a "mess" the Democrats are making of Congress.

But, he charged, the President is only using the White House as a stopover between weekend vacations and political junkets.

Any hope that Kennedy might have had for killing the pension bill with a pocket veto after Congress quit vanished when the lawmakers last week halted their adjournment rush and settled down to wait for tonight's deadline on the bill.

The legislation would permit self-employed persons to claim tax deductions on one-half of the amounts they contribute to funds for their own retirement. Contributions would be limited to 10 per cent of income with annual ceiling of $2,500.

Exiled Cuban Tells Pampans To . . .

'Shake Off Lethargy Toward Communism'

An exiled Cuban last night admonished Pampans and all Americans to shake off their lethargy and complacency towards communism before it is too late.

The plea came from Dr. Nicolas Gonzalez de Mendoza, native-born Cuban attorney who was expelled from Cuba in 1960, just four months after his American-born wife and three children fled from the island to the United States.

Dr. Mendoza spoke before an unusually large audience of Top O' Texas Knife & Fork Club members in the Robert E. Lee Junior High School auditorium. The address followed a dinner in the school cafeteria.

Dr. Mendoza talked of the Soviet buildup in Cuba and the delivery of Cuba into the hands of Communism by Fidel Castro.

"This hasn't happened in some far away place," Dr. Mendoza said. "It has happened just 90 miles away from you.

"The takeover of the United States is the goal of world communism and the United States had better take a firm stand on its own against the threat of Communism instead of getting the consent of some foreign power every time a vital decision has to be made."

Dr. Mendoza told of the complete takeover by the Castro government and the enslavement of the Cuban people under a police state, moulded and guided by the Communists.

"The United States is the only hope of the world," Mendoza said. "History shows that wherever the United States has taken a firm stand there has been no war.

"If the United States falls to communism then the entire world falls."

The speaker said the Cuban people do not have a chance of overthrowing communism from within. They have been disarmed by the government and are under the iron fist of a police state minority group that has rendered the masses helpless as slaves, he added.

"And so I say, America, be careful of that law requiring federal registration of firearms," Dr. Mendoza said. "That's how Castro disarmed Cuba in order that a small group of men could rule the country without fear of armed retaliation."

Dr. Mendoza said the American people have only to look at the record to see that once communism takes over it is absolutely impossible to get rid of it from within.

In a direct reference to any dependence on the United Nations, Dr. Mendoza said:

"You cannot expect an organization, in which the loudest voice is your enemy, to protect you."

The speaker charged that the American people refuse to face the full cognizance of the real danger that exists from infiltration within the country and a Soviet base being built "at the very back door of your country."

Dr. Mendoza said that Americans ought to come to the full realization right now that the Communists have a blueprint for American take-over without war just as long as Americans sit idly by and allow it to infest the country hour by hour, day by day and week by week — and in places where it is least suspected.

"Communism doesn't need a majority to take over the United

Foreign Commentary

By HENRY RAYMONT
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States scored a major diplomatic success with the unanimous recognition by the hemisphere foreign ministers that Russia's military presence in Cuba constitutes a threat to all.

Hitherto, this point — the central objective of U. S. diplomacy in Latin America since 1960 — had not been accepted by such large countries as Brazil, Chile and Mexico.

The big step forward of the conference was to weld together different views into a common posture based on the premise that "the Sino-Soviet intervention in Cuba . . . is an attempt to convert the island into an armed base for Communist penetration of the Americas and subversion of the democratic institutions of the hemisphere."

The Latin American diplomats feel that U. S. success was due largely to the personal ability of Secretary of State Dean Rusk in conveying to the visiting ministers the Kennedy administrations's sense of urgency about the Soviet-backed regime of Premier Fidel Castro.

One minister described Rusk's handling of the two-day closed conference at the State Department last week as "brilliant." Another said he was "very comforted" to see that leadership has passed into the hands of such "a clearminded and highly intelligent man."

Accomplished Much

Other diplomats said that under the secretary's direction of the meeting they had gone much further than they had planned when they arrived in Washington.

In a communique issued after the meeting, the foreign ministers agreed that "new developments" in Cuba may make necessary collective military action under the real treaty of 1947, to intensify anti - Communist security measures and to appeal to all non-Communist nations to stop using their vessels for Soviet bloc trade with Cuba.

While the ministers, meeting informally, took no concrete decisions, the communique was seen by many as a tacit endorsement of President Kennedy's warning that the United States may be forced to act in self defense and in defense of hemispheric security if the Soviet military buildup in Cuba continues.

The statement also seemed to lay the ground for new collective action in the economic and security fields which the United States will seek to implement through the council of the Organization of American States, possibly next week.

The diplomatic officials cautioned, however, that the endorsement of a declaration without enforcement powers did not preclude new difficulties for Washington should the Latin American countries be called on to undertake drastic measures against Cuba.

Strong "Hands Off Policy"

There is still a considerable body of public opinion in the hemisphere, they noted, that favors a "hands off" policy toward Castro even though sympathy for his regime has taken a sharp slump since his overt acceptance of communism nearly a year ago.

The ambivalent mood of the Latin American public seemed to be reflected in the hurried assurances by top Brazilian, Chilean and Mexican officials that the Washington meeting had changed nothing in their policy toward Cuba.

President Adolfo Lopez Mateos expressed a widespread Latin American sentiment when he said he did not consider the present Cuban situation constituted a threat to his country. But he did not rule out a drastic change in their attitude if there were evidence that Moscow was supplying Cuba with offensive weapons.

While the ministerial communique and the Mexican president's statement are in part virtually identical to Kennedy's own position, they also reflect strong opposition to any idea of a U.S. invasion of Cuba under present circumstances.

Insisted On Insertion

Significantly, Brazil and Mexico again insisted in the insertion in the communque of a reaffirmation of the principles of non-intervention and self determination.

Accordingly, one of the most important features of the ministerial meeting was that it served notice to the Moscow and Havana governments that the decision of unleashing a war over Cuba was up to them.

The hemisphere nations seemed prepared to "freeze" the present international estimate of the Soviet - Cuban alliance by isolating the island; but they would jointly and forcefully act to counter any new move that would endanger hemispheric security.

As for the internal Communist rule, the Latin American nations still remain divided.

While Brazil, Chile and Mexico shy away from any attempt to topple Castro, a majority of countries are quietly siding with the United States in favoring indirect support to democratic elements among the Cuban exiles in their effort at rebuilding an anti-Castro underground in the island.

Only four or five nations such as Guatemala, Nicaragua, Peru or Paraquay seem prepared to endorse a foreign military invasion of Cuba at this time.

FROM PIONEER DAYS—Pirogue cut from a walnut log, 21 feet long, was found in a bayou in Knox County, Ind. The dugout is believed to have been made by either an Indian or a pioneer French trapper. Local sportsmen say the pirogue was used in the area more than 100 years ago.

The Lighter Side

On Ingredients Of 'Scrapple'

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Members of Congress are striving mightily to tie up the loose ends of the current session and I want to help them all that I can.

In casting about for some way to be of assistance, I ran across a loose end that Rep. Hastings Keith, R-Mass., had left dangling in a House commerce subcommittee hearing some weeks back.

The hearing involved the "fish flour" controversy and several witnesses made the point that a food which some people might regard as unappetizing is not necessarily unwholesome.

One of the examples cited was scrapple, which was where Keith left the loose end.

"I have always wondered what was in scrapple," Keith mused, "but I never dared find out."

Drops Topic

The other congressmen must have shared his fear because the subcommittee did not pursue the matter further. I, however, am made of sterner stuff.

Never being one to quail when duty called, I set about to learn what I could of the ingredients of scrapple.

If this happens to be one of the loose ends that has been delaying the adjournment of Congress, I am now in a position to supply the binding information.

My authority on the subject is Charles P. Rigg of New Castle, Del., who kindly sent me some scraps of scrapple literature along with his own observations. His credentials, I might add, are the very best.

Rigg noted that he is more than 80 years old, giving credit for his longevity to "the blessing of the almighty" and the fact that he has eaten scrapple for 70 years.

Hard To Beat

It's hard to beat a combination like that.

I was impressed by the seemingly infinite number of ways that scrapple can be prepared; or, if you prefer, disguised. They include baked scrapple, scrapple tomato scallop, scrapple sticks, poached eggs on scrapple, scrapple biscuit roll and something called apple-scrapple.

The variety of preparation apparently is exceeded only by the variety of the ingredients, which include pork stock, corn meal, pork skins, boned pork heads, chopped pork, wheat flour, pork liver, pork fat, pork hearts, pork guilet meat, pork diaphragm meat, pork spleens, pork kidneys, salt and spices and water.

It is, I assume, the water that gives scrapple its distinctive flavor.

Rigg said that "it can be eaten as the main dish at any meal," but it sounds to me more like a dessert.

"How will they take over? They will take over by deceit. They have never taken over anywhere except by deceit. The island of Cuba was delivered to them by Fidel Castro on a silver platter through deceit."

Dr. Mendoza pleaded with his listeners to be cognizant of what is happening around them.

"Keep on the watchout," he said. "Some of the greatest errors being committed are committed with the best of intentions through ignorance. Remember, too, that you are not fighting Fidel Castro next door in Cuba — you are fighting world communism."

And then Dr. Mendoza said: "Don't join up with those who say 'rather Red than dead'."

WAGE EARNER'S PLAN

There is an alternative to bankruptcy. Relief from constant harrassment by creditors and threats of suits and garnishment of bank accounts can be found by the filing of a Wage Earner's Plan in the federal district court under Chapter XIII of the Bankruptcy Act.

A debtor can request the court to stop all suits and garnishments during a three - year period while he pays into the court each month sufficient money to satisfy all of his debts over this extended period of time.

A Wage Earner's Plan has certain adantages over bankruptcy:

There is no stigma of having avoided one's debts. Every creditor is paid in full.

A debtor is taught, under court supervision, to reserve a certain amount each pay day to go to his creditors; and he is not allowed to purchase anything on credit during the time the plan is in effect.

A debtor is allowed to keep his mortgaged property unless the court decides it is too expensive for his income.

A person who has filed bankruptcy within six years and is again being pressed by his creditors, may file a Wage Earner's Plan. The law does not permit him to go into bankruptcy within this six - year period.

It is also possible to pay less than the full amount of one's debts. If a debtor simply does not have enough money to live on and still pay his obligations in full, it is possible to pay 50 per cent or 60 per cent of the amount he owes to each creditor and then receive a discharge of the balance by the court after the Wage Earner's Plan is completed.

The debtor pays enough to the court trustee over a three - year period to cover all his debts, court costs and attorney's fees. Most plans provide that interest be cut off as of the date the petition is filed in court; and a debtor may save enough on interest to cover the costs.

In Kansas City, Kansas, there are 2,000 active Wage Earners' Plans. In Birmingham, Alabama, there are over 7,000 plans in effect. These proceedings are relatively unknown in Texas, and few persons are presently taking advantage of Wage Earners' Plans.

Engineers Tour Cabot Operations

Over fifty representatives from more than a score of Panhandle industries toured Cabot Corporation's Machinery Division Tuesday night as part of the monthly meeting of the Panhandle Chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers.

The guided tour was conducted by Cabot's Machinery Division officials and included inspections of the Ordnance, Derrick and Assembly, Machine, and Fabricating operations.

According to Lee S, Vickers of Austin, Membership Representative of the Texas Safety Association and a special guest at the area safety meeting, this tour and dinner meeting was the largest such area gathering of professional safety men which he'd attended anywhere in Texas. Also present at the October meeting of the Panhandle Chapter was Victor O. Shawgo, president of the Texas Safety Association and Industrial Relations Manager for Southwestern Public Service Company in Amarillo.

Arrangements for the visitation to Cabot's highly diversified operations west of Pampa were made by W. D. Forsha, manager of manufacturing, and by Jack Oliver, division personnel manager. Following the guided tour which lasted well over an hour, the safety group had its dinner meeting at Poole's Steak House. The program for the meeting consisted of Dr. James M. Killian's popular slide film and tape recording presentation "Prevention of Low Back Pain."

Pampans who are members of the area association of the American Society of Safety Engineers include Harold R. Andrews and Wilson C. Puryear of Celanese Corporation of America, Thomas K. Chisholm, Don M. Conley, S. J. Meador and Jack Oliver of Cabot Corporation and William M. Ledbetter of the Skelly Oil Company.

Film Shown Firemen At Skellytown

Twelve members of Skellytown's Volunteer Fire Department reviewed the American Petroleum Institute's documentary film "Analysis of a Bulk Storage Tank Fire" at their regular meeting on Monday evening.

The film deals with the disastrous bulk tank fire which occurred in Kansas City in 1959 and which is the subject of study by the A.P.I. in safe fighting of similar petroleum storage fires.

The 30-minute film was followed by an hour - long discussion by volunteer firemen and was directed by Fern D. Berry, President of the Skellytown Volunteer Fire Department.

The film was shown in Skellytown as part of the project "Operation Stake - Out" which is being conducted by the Panhandle Chapter of the American Society of Safety Engineers at the present time.

This project envisions the showing of this outstanding study in fire fighting to all Panhandle Area City and Volunteer Fire Departments during 1962-63. Panhandle Chapter representatives who met with the Skellytown group were Tom Chisholm of Cabot Corporation and John Gentry of Celanese Corporation.

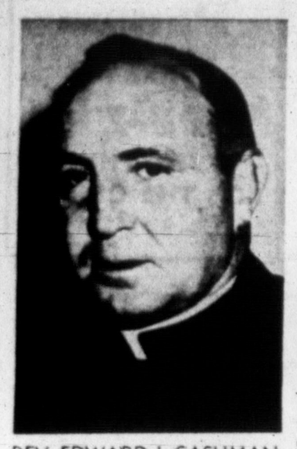
Annual DCCW Convention To Meet In Catholic School



REV. EDWARD J. CASHMAN, C.M.
. . . St. Vincent dePaul Priest Moderator

MRS. R. M. BARRETT
. . . St. Vincent dePaul Parish Council President

The Amarillo Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will hold its 26th annual convention next week, Oct. 17 and 18, at St. Vincent de-Paul School, Mrs. Walter E. Kale, of Phillips, DCCW President, presiding. Mrs. Fred Neslage, is Convention Chairman.

The Pampa Deanery Council, whose Prest Moderator is the Rev. Edward J. Cashman, C.M., of St. Vincent dePaul Church, will be host to the convention. An attendance of delegates and visitors from 62 parishes and missions is expected. His Excellency, John L. Morkovsky, S.T.D., Bishop of Amarillo, will be represented during the convention by Msgr. A. M. Bottoms, Chancellor of the Amarillo Diocese. Msgr. Francis A. Smyer, Pastor of Sacred Heart Cathedral in Amarillo, will be Convention Moderator.

The Diocesan Council, which consists of affiliates from five Deaneries: Amarillo, Lubbock, Plainview, Levelland, and Pampa; and is affiliated with the National Council of Catholic Women, was established in 1936 under the direction of Bishop Lucey, who is now Archbishop of San Antonio.

The Pampa Parish Council, which is made up of all women's organizations within St. Vincent's Parish, was established in 1937, with the late Mrs. Gene Finkbeiner, its first president. Presiding this year over the Parish Council is Mrs. Robert M. Barrett, of 616 N. Wells.

WHAT IS THE COUNCIL, AND WHAT ARE ITS FUNCTIONS?

The Council on all levels seeks to carry out the directives of the Bishops of the United States to bring all Catholic women's organizations into a unity of purpose in their service as a lay apostolate of Christianity.

Through its standing committees: Catholic Charities and Foreign Relief; Confraternity of Christian Doctrine; Family Life and Adult Education; Libraries and Literature; Organization and Development; Public Relations; Social Action, Legislation and Immigration; Rural Life; Spiritual Development; and Youth, it strives in its spiritual and material undertakings to benefit not only the Catholic Laity, but also the community — local, national and international.

In addition to their work within the parish, and also as a part of their service, members of the committees on the parish level take part with other church and civic groups in the works of the American Red Cross, the Cancer Society, the Welfare Index, the Girl and Boy Scouts, and other community projects. Through the Libraries and Literature Committee, books are donated to the Public Library. In recent years the Parish Council sponsored through local service clubs, a drive for beds for the Children's Home in Panhandle. Refugees and migrant workers have been aided, and non - citizens among them assisted in obtaining visas and registration cards.

Among the national and international programs sponsored by the Council in co-operation with the Bishops' Relief Service, are aid to Indian and Negro missions; the "Feed - a - Family Plan"; "Help-a-Child Program"; the "Madonna Plan," which builds clinics and provides food for destitute mothers and their children; the Pope's Storeroom, which provides new clothing for the needy, particularly displaced persons; and the annual Thanksgiving Overseas Clothing Drive.

The Order of Martha, an additional committee in the Amarillo DCCW, provides Liturgical vestments and linens and sacred vessels for home and needy Missions in the United States.

Senior Center Corner

By MRS. C. A. WAGNER
Senior Citizens Center

This past Thursday was the birthday party for those having birthdays in October. The girls outnumbered the boys. Mr. A. H. Burgin was the lone man, among the six women, including Mmes. W. R. Hamilton, F. M. Heaston, Stella Reynolds, Olie Staton, Verda Adair and Bertha Johnson. Each received nice gifts from the Altrusa Club.

Mrs. Martha England and A. H. Burgin received the door prizes.

We were so happy to have the F. M. Heastons with us again. They have been absent for so long, due to Mr. Heastons illness. He is looking good, but still rather weak. It was such a nice fall day. Glad he was able to venture out. They have been regular attendants since the club was organized six years ago.

Mrs. F. Trimble has her brother, R. W. Gordon of Elk City, Okla. visiting her for the winter. Hope he enjoys the center.

Mr. B. C. Rogers is leaving Friday for a months visit with relatives in Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee. He says fox hunting is no good this fall over Miami way, where he lives on a ranch.

House guests of the C. L. Adams, last week were Mrs. Adams' two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Robinson of Maysville, Okla., Mrs. Bill Braymer of Abiline, and Mr. Robinson's mother, Mrs. Ruby Robinson of Borger.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mosley and daughter Mrs. Frank Converse had the pleasure of attending the ordination service of their grandson, and nephew, Joe Vaughn last Sunday at the Friendship Baptist Church in Amarillo. Rev. Vaughn is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cleo Vaughn of Amarillo and grew up there. He has a wife and two sons and is attending seminary school in Fort Worth at the present.

Thought for the week: The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much, (James 5-16). Let us Not forget to pray for peace.

Love and best wishes, Mrs. Wagner.

Women's Club Primer — Be Your True Self

Any woman who has ever belonged to a woman's organization (and what woman hasn't?) knows that —

If you speak up in meeting you're likely to end up by heading a committee.

If you aren't present at the meeting when officers are elected you run the risk of being made treasurer — the job women hate the most.

If you move that refreshments be done away with, you'll be regarded as subversive.

If you have the temerity to suggest that each member give a dollar, instead of raising money by a bazaar, bake sale, silver tea, or benefit bridge, you'll be voted down in short order.

If you find the speaker boring, you just put an interested look on your face and set your mind free to planning a week's menus, or mentally rearranging the living room.

If you suggest increasing the dues as the simplest way of meeting the budget and the question comes up for discussion, there will be plenty of it — all negative.

If you think you can beat the argument, "This is the way we have always done such-and such," you're sadly mistaken. (That's an absolutely unbeatable argument.)

If you make any suggestion that necessitates taking money out of the treasury you have automatically prolonged the business meeting by half an hour. (Women can't agree to spend $.98 in less time than half an hour.)

If you want to resign from the organization you have to come up with a convincing reason in order not to be suspected of being lazy, high hat or a misfit.

LOOK TOWARD SPRING

It's later than you think. If you start right now, you'll have barely enough spare time to get garden tools and furniture ready for the outdoor season.

First Baptist WMS Installs New Officers

The W.M.S. of the First Baptist Church met recently for the installation of new officers for the coming year. Mrs. Carroll Ray led the installation program. As her theme she used fruit as the symbol for the offices to be filled and how they can be made to bear fruit for Christ.

Shelhamer; Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Paul Turner; Stewardship, Mrs. Bill Chafin; Publications, Mrs. Lida Ramsey; Social, Mrs. Homer Taylor; Publicity, Mrs. John Gikas, Enlistment Chairman, Mrs. L. B. Franklin; Y. W. A leaders, Mrs. Gordon Bayless and Mrs. Henry Stephens; Sunbeam leaders, Mrs. Monroe Moore; Circle chairmen, Mmes. R. L. McDonald, Charles Bailey, Lee Moore Sr., Dean Crow, Jerry Lunsford, M. F. Williamson, Ed Cantrell, W. R. Morrison, Cline Walsh, A. D. Acherman, and night circle chairman, Miss Lula B. Owens.

A social hour preceded the program where approximately 70 members and guests were served.

Men read newspapers more than women because they don't have time to get all the news over the phone.

Dear Abby....

This Woman Is Far From Being Your Friend, Lady

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Is there really such a thing as "platonic friendship" between a married man and the wife of another man when they act in the following manner? Always sitting as close to each other as possible. Holding hands under the table. Playing "footsies." (He got MY foot once thinking it was hers.) Kissing hello and goodbye at every opportunity with a lingering kiss.

I would like to know because the husband is mine and the woman is supposed to be a good friend of mine. I have refused invitations to be with this couple and I don't invite them here, but we have mutual friends and meet elsewhere occasionally. Am I being childish? My husband says I am.

AVERAGE WIFE

DEAR AVERAGE WIFE: If this is a "platonic friendship," then Webster is wrong. Your husband is making a fool of himself. But be patient. Avoid your "good friend" and do it conspicuously. If she asks what's the matter — tell her.

DEAR ABBY: My father says he likes to eat dog food. He says it is the same as ground beef and as pure as anything you can buy at the meat counter for humans. Can you please tell me what is the matter with him?

RUBY

DEAR RUBY: Dog food may be "pure"—but it is intended for dogs. I hope your father doesn't start chasing cars.

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl at school who is giving me a problem. She is trying to horn in on me and my best friend. There is nothing wrong with this girl, but she doesn't know when she isn't wanted. She "saves" two places for us at the lunch table every day so she can eat with us. She waits at my locker or my girl friend's so she can walk down the hall with us. How can we get rid of her without hurting her feelings?

TROUBLES

DEAR TROUBLES: We all have to put up with people who like us more than we like them. Be a little more patient and understanding.

CONFIDENTIAL TO MR. AND MRS. J.: Let the boy invite as many of his own friends as he wishes. The party you have planned is stressing the BAR instead of the MITZVAH!

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self - addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

In August 1961, the first of the Ranger moon probes was orbited, but its second-stage Agena engine failed to kick it into deep space. (Not until Ranger IV in April 1962 was impact on the moon to be achieved.) On Oct. 11, AF Maj. Bob White, flying the X-15 rocket plane, forerunner of the Dyna-Soar space glider, set an altitude record of over 41 miles. (In July 1962, he was to reach almost 59 miles and become the nation's first winged astronaut.)

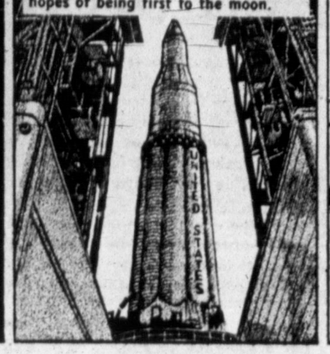
By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

First flight of the tremendous Saturn booster — eleven feet taller than the Statue of Liberty — also took place in October. Its eight first-stage engines developed over one million pounds of thrust. Upper stages were dummy. Saturn's complete success raised U.S. hopes of being first to the moon.



But an American had yet to circle the earth. Two steps brought that day closer: orbiting of an unmanned Mercury capsule in September and the two-orbit flight of Enos the chimpanzee on November 29. NASA then announced that no more unmanned tests would be necessary and revealed the name of the chosen astronaut—Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr. He would be launched into orbit early in 1962.

Wall Street In Review

NEW YORK (UPI)—The drastic decline in the market during the early part of the year overdiscounted a possible pause in the economy as well as the excessively high price-earnings ratios, even of the many glamour stocks, says International Statistical Bureau, Inc.

However, the market is naturally waiting for an appraisal of the trend during the next 12 months. As soon as it becomes obvious that we are not at the beginning of a major recession, ISB says, the market will begin to tend higher.

Investors Research Co. believes there is now further foundation to support the assumption that the leaders of the summer recovery will lead the next leg of the 1962 recovery. Aircrafts, autos, oils, utilities, airlines, radio and television, and electronics could add substantially to their July-October gains.

W. I. Lafourette of Shearson, Hammill & Co. says that while it is difficult to visualize much more than a continuation of the recent narrow trading range for the short term, feels that the present provides a good opportunity for bargain hunters and that a good number of stocks in such groups as oils, electric utilities, aerospace and televicsion broadcasting offer attractive purchase opportunities at present.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Yes, Virginia, there really is a Troy Donahue.

He is big and strong and has the rare ability to make the most glamorous and exciting events seem colorless and flat, something like the New York Yankees.

For us kids, though, ABC-TV reached the penultimate in ecstasy a week ago Tuesday night when it moved Troy into the "Hawaiian Eye" series with Connie Stevens.

It was a natural transition, Donahue having previously served in a series called "Surfside 6," which was a "Hawaiian Eye" set in Miami and was the worst thing that happened to Florida since Castro.

In his new role, Donahue plays a hotel social director, which gives you an idea of what even the producers think of him.

And, Tuesday night, in what could have been a sharp tale of a young hoodlum's attraction to a stolen violin, Donahue's ludicrous intrusions as a quasi-private eye stripped the story of all warmth.

In addition to a fight with a hoodlum in which his tie stayed firmly in place, our social director was, as always, another of those slick, empty, icy, impersonal machine-made products of the Warner Bros. people factory. You know the girls: Capri pants and a blank expression.

Donahue recently said, "I despise the intellectuals. I'd rather be a bum on a beach than a highbrow intellectual all over Europe."

Well, the beach is only 10 miles from Hollywood, and the rest should take care of itself. But Tuesday night, he was involved in a story that at least pretended to a slightly intellectual touch.

It seems that Donahue, as social director, arranged a violin concert. After the concert, the violinist's Stradivarious is placed in the trunk of a taxi which is stolen by three young hoodlums out on a lark.

The least criminal of the three, a Hawaiian boy professionally etched by actor Marc Romaunt, does not know the value of the violin but feels pulled to it, remembering his dead father's attraction to the instrument.

There was a fine scene in which Romaunt goes to his father's old friend, a violin teacher, who suspects something is wrong when he hears the instrument's tone.

Everything moved except when Donahue was around. It is sometimes difficult to tell whether he is alive except that he makes motions.

But for us kids, we think that, outside of Dick Clark, Troy and Connie are the greatest — really people to be envied. I man, if you can be a disc jockey or a television star, there's really nothing better, is there? The whole world is peachy, and everybody's happy.

Troy Donahue is the best actor since Gardner McKay.

The Channel Swim: Ed Sullivan's Nov. 4 salute to composer Richard Rodgers on CBS-TV will originate in Carnegie Hall . . . Marilyn Monroe and Robert Mitchum star in NBC-TV's Saturday night movie, "River of No Return," Oct. 20.

Exceprts from Euripedes' Greek tragedy "The Bacchae" will be aired Sunday on CBS-TV's "Look Up and Live" . . . Premier Ahmed Ben Bella of newly independent Algeria will appear on ABC-TV's "Adlai Stevenson Reports" Sunday.

NBC-TV's Dick Powell Show for Oct. 23, in which a tuna fisherman learns his lovely stowaway is wanted for murder, was coauthored by Cecil Smith, television critic of the Los Angeles Times; the stars are Carolyn Jones and Harry Guardino.

The Danish flag is said to be the oldest of any nation.

Texas, Oklahoma To Battle Saturday

By PAUL FREEMAN
United Press International

The University of Texas, No. 1 in the nation, and the surging seven-ranked Razorbacks are picked to roll up double-figure margins in their games this weekend.

Darrell Royal's top-ranked Longhorns have a 13½ point edge to live up to when they meet Oklahoma at neutral Dallas. The Hogs are chosen by 19½ over Baylor at Fayetteville Saturday in a Southwest Conference tilt.

Texas Christian is an 11-point choice to beat Texas Tech at Fort Worth, in the only other conference game on the seven-contest slate this Saturday.

In other non-conference games the Rice Owls are a shaky two-point choice over Oregon at Houston and Texas A&M is rated five points worse than Florida at Gainesville, Fla.

Good News

Texas got some good news Tuesday when first-string end Sandy Sands returned to practice for the first time since being injured in the season opener. Royal said both Sands and All-America fullback candidate Ray Ponge may see action against Oklahoma.

Arkansas coach Frank Broyles, as usual, was dissatisfied with Tuesday's drill. "We didn't have the zip we had last week," Broyles said. Broyles said Baylor's pro-type offense is a worrisome thing. "We have to alter everything we learned last week for them," he said. Arkansas mashed TCU last week.

And at Baylor coach John Bridgers made noises like "We can't afford to give that (Ken) Hatfield boy any daylight," as the bears sharpened the running game in a lengthy drill. Hatfield scampered 70 yards to a touchdown with a TCU punt last weekend.

Works on Defense

Coach J. T. King put his Texas Tech Red Raiders through an 80-minute defense-oriented drill and said his team will be in pretty good physical shape for TCU.

TCU drilled on passing and goal-line defense.

The Texas Aggies held a general polishing workout and welcomed quarterback Jim Keller back to practice. Keller missed the Texas Tech game with a leg injury last week.

Rice coach Jess Neely fretted over the way his sophomore-studded backfield failed to move the ball on the ground. Neely worked the Owls on all phases of the ground attack.

Ohio St. Faculty Okays Rose Bowl

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)— The Ohio State University football team, stopped at the goal line last year by the faculty council in a bid for a trip to the Rose Bowl, has the council's approval to play in the post-season classic.

By a stand-up vote of 36-20, the faculty council late Tuesday approved the athletic council's unanimous recommendation that the team be allowed to make the trip to Pasadena if invited. The stand-up vote came after efforts to have a secret ballot failed.

The 1962 football team now has to win the Big Ten championship for the second consecutive year in order to be invited to the New Year's Day classic.

Debate at the council meeting was long, but not so heated as last year when the group voted, 25-25, in oppostion to the 1961 Big Ten champion Buckeyes accepting an informal invitation to the game.

The earlier decision set off a noisy demonstration on the campus and a march by students on the downtown area. The campus seethed with resentment for several days before demonstrations ended.

Sooners Game Roster Shows 23 Texans

NORMAN, Okla. (UPI) — When Oklahoma meets Texas in their traditional Dallas duel next Saturday, there will be plenty of Texans on the field — on both sides.

Oklahoma's roster shows 23 Texans. Six of the 11 players who started the first two OU games are from Texas, including the entire backfield.

First off, there's Monte Deere, the 172-pound senior who has been the No. 1 quarterback for the Sooners so far this season. He's from Amarillo.

The halfbacks who started the Syracuse and Notre Dame games are Paul Lee of Terrell and Gary Wylie of Whitesboro. Powerful 205-pound Jim Grisham of Olney is the first team fullback.

On the first team line, left guard Jimmy Gilstrap is from Abilene and starting right tackle Duane Cook hails from Amarillo.

Among the top alternates, quarterback Norman Smith calls Monahans home, and fullback Joe Don Looney, hero of the Syracuse game, is from Fort Worth.

But the trek across Red River hasn't all been in the Sooners favor. Heading the list of Oklahomans in Texas is Longhorn coach Darrell Royal, one of the Big Red's all-time quarterbacking greats.

Sports Briefs

CAPTAINS BRUINS

BOSTON (UPI) — Center Don McKenney, the National Hockey League's 11th-ranked active scorer, has been named captain of the Boston Bruins for the second straight year. McKenney is starting his ninth year with the Bruins.

WINS BACK HONORS

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gary Wood, a junior quarterback from Cornell, has been named Ivy League back-of-the-week for directing his team to an upset victory last Saturday over Harvard. He completed eight of 12 passes for 116 yards, including one touchdown toss.

MEET IN 10-ROUNDER

LONDON (UPI) — Promoter Jack Solomons announced Monday night that featherweight Gene Fosmir of Rockaway, N.J., will meet Britain's Billy (The Kid) Davis in a 10-round bout at the Empire Pool, Wembley, Oct. 16

Comments, Scout Report Featured At QB Meeting

Otis Holladay, Harvester football coach, treated the members of the Pampa Quarterback Club to an array of football comments sprinkled with humor at the group's weekly meeting held Tuesday night in the Pampa High Cafeteria.

Also, the organization of Harvester boosters decided to sponsor a bus or buses to carry fans to the Pampa-Monterey game. (See story elsewhere on this page.)

"It (Tascosa game) was the most disappointing football game I've gone through in my life," commented the head mentor. "Our boys were ready both mentally and physically for the game."

Not Thinking

The football mentor went on to explain, "Our kids were just not thinking under pressure as they should. The team made mistakes they should never make — mistakes they don't make in practice."

Two of the things that Holladay cited as major mistakes made by the team were that the line was standing straight up and didn't crash across line of scrimmage and the linebackers were not moving properly. "Our defense hurt us most," he commented.

Football Philosophy

Holladay then turned to football philosophy giving two approaches that coaches use. He first talked about the "soft touch" brand of coaching. This method, according to Holladay, is based on "selling" football to the players. Abe Martin of TCU is an advocate of this type of coaching. The other method, "driving it into them," practiced by such successful coaches as Paul Bryant of Alabama, involves drilling football into the players.

The coach went on to describe "Bear" Bryant's philosophy of football — "Blood and guts and nobody smiles" — which is less enjoyable to coaches but often produces the best results.

Of these two different ways "of getting kids into mental and physical condition to play a ball game with poise", Holladay stated that he and his assistant coaches have been students of the first philosophy up until this week.

Win Easy Ones

"You can win the easy ones, but your not ready for the hard ones," he gave as his reason for now leaning to the second philosophy of coaching. Holladay went on to label the El Paso Bel Air and Phillips games as the easy ones. "We will gradually change back to the tough approach."

Commenting on his rebuilding program at Pampa High, he admitted "that it was hard to change a group of boys that had lost years and years into a winning team." He stated that it was very difficult to "change entire attitudes, ideas, working habbits, and playing habits in a short period of time."

Good Chance

However, the head mentor, when questioned about Pampa's chances of defeating Monterey replied, "We have a good chance to beat them, especially if our kids get out there and move and keep their poise."

Referring to the practice session held Tuesday afternoon, he commented, "We accomplished more today in our practice session than in any other one this season."

Several questions were asked of the coach from those attending the meeting. One of the questions, "Are you making any changes for the game?" was answered, "Yes, we are adding two or three changes in our offensive game. However, we are not adding many new plays until we get our basic plays going."

Poor Timing

He also cited the team's poor timing as a reason for not making many changes. "One reason we don't have our timing down perhaps is because of the changes we have made. However, we feel that there were advantages in every change made."

One Harvester booster questioned, "Why does Pampa use the four man defensive line?" Holladay explained the "numbers" defense of which 15 to 20 different defenses could be derived from. "It is the easiest to teach in a short period of time to inexperienced players," Holladay remarked.

Scout Report

Following the comments by Coach Holladay, each of the coaches from Pampa Junior High and Robert E. Lee gave a brief summary of their team's last game and the upcoming game. Randy Roten commented on the Shockers.

Following a scouting report by Coach Norman Phillips on Monterey, the film of the Pampa-Tascosa game was shown.

Rugged Scrimmage Held By Harvesters

SHOCKERS VS HARVESTERS, 3:30, WINNER GOES TO LUBBOCK, was the message written on the black board in both the dressing rooms of the Shockers and Harvesters Tuesday afternoon.

"I meant it, too," stated Coach Otis Holladay, to a large group of football backers present at Tuesday night's Quarterback Club meeting, in telling of the afternoon's practice session. "Until 4:00 I thought the Shockers were going to Lubbock."

The scrimmage of the Harvesters against the Shockers was in preparation of Pampa's Friday night game with Monterey of Lubbock. The message was on the board when the two teams reported for practice.

"We accomplished more today in our practice session than in any other one this season," Holladay reported on Tuesday's drills.

The Harvesters spent Tuesday afternoon scrimmaging the Shockers and the last 30 minutes working on team defense.

Coach Holladay was pleased with his team in that "they showed more determination today." He singled out Donny Ayers, Howard Reed, and Dee Wright as players standing out in Tuesday's practice.

The team will sharpen its defense and offense Wednesday afternoon and work in shorts Thursday afternoon, according to Holladay.

Several fans were on hand to watch yesterday's scrimmage.

Tickets Now On Sale

Tickets are now on sale for the Pampa-Monterey football game in the business office of the Pampa Junior High according to Weldon Trice, Pampa Athletic Director.

The game, slated for 7:30, will be played Friday night at Lubbock's Lowry Field. Tickets for the game are 1.50 for adults and 50 cents for students if purchased in Pampa. The student tickets will be 75 cents at the gate in Lubbock.

REJOINS PRO TEAM

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Fullback Bill (Cannonball) Cooper has been taken off the injured list and placed on the active roster of the San Francisco Forty Niners. To make room for Cooper the Forty Niners asked waivers on fullback C. R. Roberts.

HEADS LADIES PGA

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Mickey Wright of San Diego has been chosen president of the Ladies professional Golfers Association for 1963. Ruth Jessen of Seattle was named vice president; Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N.M., secretary and Marilynn Smith of Jupiter, Fla., treasurer.

Bus Chartered For Friday Tilt

Pampa's Quarterback Club is sponsoring a chartered bus or buses to Lubbock for Harvester fans who wish to attend the Friday night game, according to Forrest Hills, president of the organization.

The price for the round trip ticket is 6.88. The bus will return to Pampa after the game. Several people have already made their reservations to go on the bus to see the Harvesters play. For your reservation on the bus (or buses) call either Forrest Hills at MO 4-7591 or Lee White at MO 4-2525.

Class A Leaders Idle This Week

By United Press International -

Four of the state's rated Class A schoolboy football powers are idle this week, but top-ranked New London's Wildcats will go after their sixth consecutive triumph and second in district play.

Coach Gene Shannon's high-geared Wildcats, who have run up 194 points to 20 for five foes, will meet the Judson Blue Devils at Judson. The Devils sport a 2-2-1 season record and won their district opener last week 38-8 over Hawkins while New London beat Hallsville 44-8.

Second-ranked Rotan, third-rated Idalou, seventh - ranked Baird and ninth-rated Bloomington will rest this week.

Fourth - ranked Pettus faces probably its toughest test of the season this week when the Eagles meet the George West Longhorns in a district opener. George West knocked Poth out of the unbeaten ranks for their third victory in five starts.

First Draftee

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Jay Berwanger, University of Chicago halfback, was the first player selected in the National Football League draft of 1936. He was chosen by the Philadelphia Eagles.

Giants, Yankees Resume Series

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 1962 World Series, delayed first by the playoff for the National League pennant and then by a day of rain, will be resumed — weather permitting — in Yankee Stadium today with the Yankees and Giants all even at two games each.

And the same two pitchers — righthanders Ralph Terry of the Yankees and Jack Sanford of the Giants—were scheduled to go at it to determine who will be leading when the Series resumes in San Francisco Friday. Thursday will be an open day for travel.

The weather—which kept some 40,000 waiting in Yankee Stadium Tuesday for an hour and 11 minutes before the postponement was announced—was supposed to clear today so the fifth game could go on as scheduled at 1 p.m., EDT.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, who has the only say on a World Series postponement, waited until the situation was hopeless Tuesday before he finally called off the game.

"I realized all the problems concerned — transportation and tickets among them—and finally had to give up when all the advance favorable weather forecasts did not hold up," Frick said.

Managers Agree

The two rival managers, Ralph Houk of the Yankees and Alvin Dark of the Giants, agreed the game should have been postponed. They also agreed the postponement gave neither team any advantage.

"I'm not changing my plans at all," said Houk, who will go with the same starting lineup, including Terry.

"Neither am I," said Dark, sticking with Sanford, who beat Terry, 2-0, in the second game at San Francisco last Friday.

Terry said it made no difference to him, for the extra day's rest "might help me."

Tri-City Boxers Sponsor Meet

The Tri-City Boxing Club opens its season this Saturday night by hosting boxing teams from Amarillo, Shamrock, and Dumas in a four - way meet. Starting time is 8 p.m. in the National Guard Armory.

Kenneth Woods, replacing Jim Olsen as coach this season, invites any boy wishing to participate in the boxing club to contact him at the work out gym at 411 Hill Street. The squad works out weekdays starting at five p.m. The club furnishes all equipment except shoes and sweat shirts.

42 Boys

By Tuesday afternoon 42 boys had joined the Pampa boxers. Coach Woods is well pleased with the large turnout. There still is room for more boys who wish to box.

The local boxers will hold bouts every Saturday night during the season in the National Guard Armory, except for October 20 and November 10 when the boys will be fighting out of town.

In this Saturday night's meet with Amarillo, Shamrock, and Dumas, 20 bouts are slated. The main event of the night will pit Manny Perez against Dicky Wills. Perez was Texas State Champion in his class last year and went to the finals in Chicago.

Tickets for the bout will be on sale at the door. Adult tickets are $1.00 and student tickets 50 cents.

Flush Today, Flat Tomorrow

Life has gotten pretty complicated in the last 20 or 30 years of our swiftly changing times.

The $10,000 house of father's day that would cost 25 or 30 to build now-a-days is one example of change, and the distressing success of fast-buck operators in inflating damage claims to outlandish proportions — and collecting on them — is another. High taxes that drain away the dollars that once could be saved for that "rainy day," together with the spiraling cost of living, make temporary loss of income a far more serious misfortune than it used to be.

These are but a few of the more urgent reasons why independent insurance agents over the nation have decided it's high time for every American to get his insurance policies out of the safe or the shoebox under the bed and give them another look. Another reason is that they've dreamed up some new type policies that might do a fellow more good for less money.

To dramatize this need, they have established November 4-10 as "Protection Week," time to check up on whether insurance that may have been adequate once is good enough today. You might ask yourself, for instance:

Would the insurance on your house replace it if it burned down tonight?

How about the furnishings, furniture and household equipment?

Are the liability limits on your car and house insurance high enough for these days of fancy damage awards?

Will you get enough to live on if accident or illness interrupt your earning power?

Have you protected your business adequately against a crooked employe?

Are there holes in your insurance program — insurable hazards you have failed to cover?

These, according to the experts, are six common shortcomings in insurance protection — and each of them is a disaster for somebody every day! And, they say, there are many other types of failure in insurance planning that occur almost as frequently. The half-dozen given, however, should be enough to cause anyone to observe Protection Week — and see what he has got in the way of protection-for-today.

The Success Factor

Success sometimes occurs when someone of ability takes hold on unimportant job and makes it important by his own genius. Failure occurs when someone having little ability takes hold of a good job and reduces it to his own mediocrity.

Cuba Won't Go 'Way!

After the commotion in Mississippi has receded into the mists, after the World's Series is over and the last word has been written on the magnificent six - orbit ride of Astronaut Walter Schirra —and even after Khrushchev, on his UN visit, makes or fails to make a deal to relax Berlin pressures — Cuba will still be right where it has always been, 90 miles from territorial US.

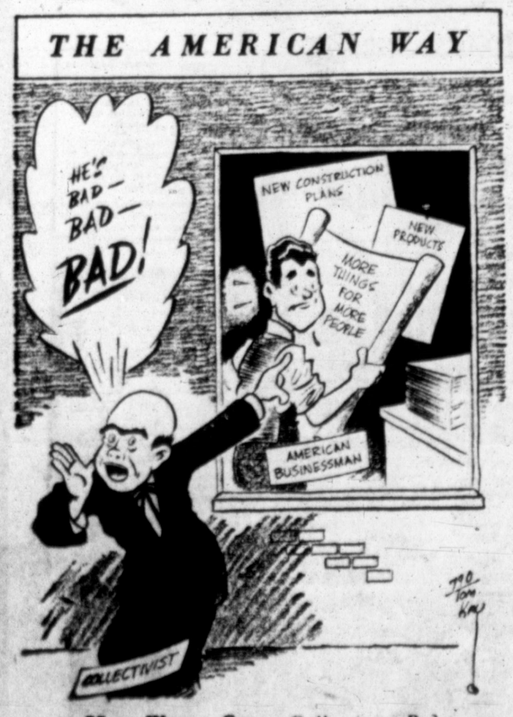
Terrifying now, as a mighty, 40,000 square mile Sino-Soviet invasion base, it will grow even stronger day by day — at least until mid - October. About that time, according to the White House, there will be some discussions about denying US seaports to the ships of our allies and other nations that are engaged in speeding Red arms, materiel and men to this island fortress which we allowed a verminous bandit to seize for the Kremlin.

Meanwhile, confusing advices from on high are that Secretary of State Rusk told the recent Western Hemisphere Foreign Ministers' Conference in Washington that we had decided to close our ports to such ships, after Under Secretary of State Ball had told Congress that only Soviet ships had carried arms to Cuba since July. Yet the US Maritime Commission reported that 163 free world ships — 76 of them with cargoes from Communist countries — went to Cuba in June, July and August.

And Americans, who had read in their newspapers of the Administration's strenuous efforts to persuade our allies to stop ferrying Russian munitions to Cuba, heard the British Chancellor of the Exchecquer saying on a US television program that we had not asked his country to withhold its ships from the Cuban arms run—but probably would if we did request it.

What is the explanation of this apparent desire to distract our attention from Cuba and the continuing vacillation in facing this Soviet challenge? Is it possible for responsible statesmen to believe that Khrushchev is creating this vast fortress to aid Castro? Or are the free world leaders agreed on the "better Red than dead" philosophy?

THE AMERICAN WAY



How Wrong Can a Collectivist Be?

Pull Up A Chair

By Neal O'Hara

In a survey of thousands of homes, a nation - wide diaper service asked mothers how their babies' names were selected. Of those queried, 9 per cent sought especially a name that could not be converted into a nickname. In that field a favorite was Brian, one of the few that met that qualification. . .The good old days indeed: New York's famed Delmonico's restaurant in 1834 (then far downtown in Manhattan) had a "Bill of Fare" which listed "Regular Dinner" at 12 cents, and then carried the a la carte items as follows: "Cup of tea or coffee, 1c; soup, 2c; hash, 3c; corned beef and cabbage, 4c; beefsteak, 4c; pork chops, 4c; liver and bacon, 5c; roast mutton, 5c; fried eggs, 5c"—and then the bill of fare really got expensive, to wit: "Ham and eggs, 10c; hamburger steak, 10c; roast chicken, 10c."

Headline in the Denver Post: "Mayor Takes Stand On Trash." . .In Britain the lively Teachers Union proposes that the school week be reduced from five to four days a week in areas of great shortage, but so far the Ministry of Education has spurned the idea.

Today's favorite gag: "I wish we'd get a few shipwrecked sailors washed ashore," mused the cannibal chief. "What I really need is a dose of salts.". .Although the word "thermos" is trade - marked and owned by American Thermos Products, the same word has become a generic term in the U.S., a federal court has ruled, and a rival company (Aladdin Industries) may use the word "thermos," too, so long as it is preceded by "Aladdin."

As any art expert will tell you, although modern pigments are more permanent, oils more binding, and varnishes far superior to those ancient materials, the works of the relatively modern painters do not stand up with the old masters' in the matter of durability and longevity. . .Old Dr. Samuel Johnson once said: "It is better to live rich than to die rich."

Thoughts while shaving: 1. There really was a strong sense of camaraderie during World War II. We still recall that one major New York company included in all advertisements for its brand of mayonnaise a recipe of its ingredients and amounts for housewives who might be unable to purchase that particular brand because of shortages. . .2. In the entire realm of the printed word, the typographical error can occur anywhere—and undoubtedly has. Personally, however, we cannot recall ever having detected a such an error in the daily program of a race track. . .3. Wonder if, in the hinterlands, they will have those expressions we remember from the home town of our boyhood days. When a fellow said he was "all bunged up," that was the equivalent of being "bushed" today. And if a person said something or someone "gave him the willies," that meant it made him nervous. . .4. Then there's today's simplified slang. Such as those employed in the aircraft industry being referred to as "tin benders." That about explains it, at that, doesn't it?

Country editor speaking: "Space travel has its limitations. After flying millions of miles, the cosmonauts still don't know what Niagara Falls looks like.

Barnett's Tapes of Phone Talks with Kennedys To Be Used in His Fight to Test Federal Police Powers

ROBERT ALLEN

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON—Governor Ross Barnett is fusing a new bombshell in his stormy fight to test the federal government's police powers in the strife - torn school integration showdown involving Negro student James H. Meredith.

He is going to toss out an explosive report of his long - distance telephone conversations with President Kennedy and Attorney General Robert Kennedy on the fateful day they ordered troops to Oxford to restore order on the University of Mississippi campus.

Tape recordings of these private phone conversations will be turned over either to the Senate Judiciary Committee, which is now investigating the Oxford debacle, or the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, where Governor Barnett's lawyers have until October 12 to answer contempt charges.

Senate investigators who have discussed the recordings with aides of Barnett report that the conversations will shed a completely different light on the chain of events that led to the President's decision to dispatch upwards of 16,000 troops to Oxford to quell the rioting.

They reveal that the Governor, who made the recordings without the knowledge of either the President or the attorney general, was informed by a group of lawyers that there is no legal bar to his making their contents public.

In their counsel, the attorneys particularly stressed that the recordings were made in the governor's office and involved "Unsolicited" calls. Also, the recording device was not directly attached to the phone.

It was pointed out that the Justice Department now permits reports containing information obtained through plane recordings to be passed on to other federal and state police agencies.

ALL THE WAY — Legislators close to the governor contend that airing these conversations will either help the 64-year-old segregationist purge himself of contempt, or give him a big assist in his legal fight to determine the limits of federal police powers versus state police powers.

Already, Governor Barnett has told aides he is prepared to take his case to the Supreme Court and to go to jail to bring a showdown on this constitutional issue.

The governor did not appear at the New Orleans hearing where he was found in civil contempt. The defiance of the court was deliberate. It is part of his strategy to force the Justice Department to arrest him in Mississippi.

That arrest, when and if it occurs, will trigger the legal showdown Barnett is pushing for.

Should the New Orleans court ultimately rule that the governor has not complied with its orders to admit Meredith, the governor faces a possible $10,000 daily fine and imprisonment. Legal briefs for this and other possibilities were prepared by the governor's advisers more than nine months ago. The only thing they weren't prepared for was the violence that erupted the night of September 30.

Note: Assistant Attorney General J. Walter Yeagley, of the Justice Department's Internal Security Division, is making an on-the-spot probe to determine whether any Communist "agitators" were involved in the rioting.

ASSESSING THE RECORD — President Kennedy is blaming himself for some of the painful setbacks that featured this year's session of Congress.

He now recognizes that he sent up too many messages to Congress, and threw too many legislative proposals at the House and Senate.

The President voiced these newsworthy conclusions at a post-mortem legislative meeting with Democratic congressional leaders.

He also said he plans to limit his proposals to seven or eight next year.

"I believe Congress has made an outstanding record of achievement this year in passing my trade and tax bills," reported the President. "However, I wonder if we are going to get this across to the people since our legislative defeats on medicare and the Department of Urban Affairs made the big headlines."

"You sent us too many baskets of assorted legislative 'oranges, apples and other fruit,'" declared Senator George Smathers, D-Fla.. "We had so much to chew on that we had to throw some of it away."

"We recognize that now," replied the President, pointing to his legislative aides. "We flooded you with too many messages and proposals. It will be different next year. We will limit the number of proposals to seven or eight; maybe less."

"If you do that, Mr. President, we will be able to pass both your medicare and Department of Urban Affairs," declared Speaker John McCormack. "In one way, the defeats of those bills were victories. I believe we have aroused tremendous public support for both measures and they should pass next year if we hold our present majorities in both houses."

The President said he planned to go all - out in his campaigning to keep the Republicans from taking over in either branch of Congress.

"What about Oxford?" asked Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn..

"It was a tragic chain of events and errors," replied the President. "Governor Barnett did not keep his word to help us maintain order, and the U.S. Marshals were inexperienced and blundered in their use of tear gas. It was a very sad day."

It's Up To You

by HOWARD KERSHNER L. H. D.

One of the phenomena of our time is the great lack of understanding of economic problems. The late Charles E. Wilson was a genius in the field of industrial production and a capable Secretary of Defense. He is praised rather than criticized, however, for having introduced the "escalator clause" which automatically increases wages as the cost of living rises.

To make large numbers of people immune from the damage and suffering caused by inflation is to reduce resistance to that evil. Moreover, if some persons receive automatic increases in income as inflation progresses, others who do not have such protection bear more than their proportionate part of the suffering. Is it right for some to be immune while others bear their burden as well as their own? To illustrate - if a worker's pay is increased from $20 to $25 per day apart from any increase in his production, he finds himself suddenly in a position to buy more but since no more is being produced, that causes a rise in prices. Consequently, his neighbors whose wages have not been increased are now able to buy less. Being on the escalator, he is in a position to exploit his less fortunate neighbors.

Some say that the answer is to put his neighbors, that is to say everyone, on the escalator. If that is done, then everyone has more money, but there are no more goods to buy and prices rise. That means another cost of living increase in wages immediately followed by a price rise and so the inflationary spiral becomes an explosion. The sad truth is that some can ride up on the escalator only because others cannot, and that it really is a device for enabling the stronger pressure groups to exploit their fellows.

Another error that is now generally accepted in industrial relationships is that workers are entitled to most, if not all, of the gains resulting from increased man-hour output. A worker may be, and often is, responsible for such increased efficiency and in that event, of course, he is entitled to the gain. But, it is more often true that the improvement results from more efficient and more costly tools and equipment. In this case, the people who deny themselves the pleasure of consumption in order to save and invest their money in such tools and equipment are certainly entitled to consideration in distributing the benefits resulting from increased man-hour output. These savers are the forgotten men of our time and the tendency is to give it all to labor—in fact, more than all of it has been given to labor of recent years, for wages have risen far faster than man - hour output. The public has also been forgotten. As more efficient means of production are achieved, prices should be lowered in order to expand markets, raise the standard of living and supply more good jobs.

SACRIFICE

Responsible Parent Watches Schooling

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph.D.

The daughter of a friend of mine began her schooling in Southern California. Shortly after she started school, her father visited the principal and asked to see the books which were being used in her grade. It took only a few minutes of reading to notice such expressions as "common man", the "wonderful United Nations," "the unfortunate people do not have such a large, strong government as ours" and on and on.

Normally a child just beginning school would not be subjected to this type of propaganda so quickly, but this man's daughter had been taught to read and write before she started to school and she started in the third grade. During the balance of that school year the self-responsible citizen studied the home work of his daughter, advised her about books she could read which counteract the emphasis on mediocrity peddled in the public school.

During the following summer vacation this man visited the professional clergymen who were responsible for the operation of parochial schools. He even joined a new church so that he might listen to the sermons preached by the minister, who was the administrative head of one of the parochial schools. After many hours of research, he made a decision and placed his daughter in one of the parochial schools, realizing that he would still have to continue to pay taxes for the government controlled compulsory education system.

The next year this man, his daughter, and son, who is not of school age, moved to another city in another state. He was advised that the government controlled compulsory education system in this state was of a superior grade and he was unable to find a satisfactory parochial school so his daughter enrolled in the public school. Shortly thereafter he realized his daughter was being subjected to the typical world government socialist propaganda, misinformation and a constant harassment by teachers who were not in sympathy with the child's love of learning. For the last month of that school term his daughter attended a very small public school in a neighboring state because the teachers in the small school in the small village taught reading, writing, arithmetic and the history of the United States as well as providing some instruction in the meanings of words, and they did not apply the double standard to their interpretations.

He continued to search for a parochial school which would meet his standards and during the summer vacation talked with many clergymen in his community. He finally found a new parochial school which had only been in business a short time. He talked with the principal of the school at length and convinced himself that the principal of the school was neither a member of the socialist conglomerate nor was he in sympathy with the confidence game principles of all forms of socialism. Two weeks after school started his daughter brought home a publication which was full of the standard socialist hog wash. The common man was on the scene as usual and this publication designed for school children stated, it is the sole duty of the Supreme Court to interpret the Constitution of the United States- a statement which is absolutely false and has no foundation in fact. It is the duty of the Supreme Court to interpret laws which have been enacted Constitutionally. There was also contained in this publication a statement to the effect that the United Nations Organization had brought the Korean war to a peaceful conclusion.

The self responsible parent took it upon himself to obtain a copy of the publication and mailed it to a man who had experience in finding discrepancies of this kind in publications and requested a written evaluation of the publication. Armed with this written critique, the responsible parent visited the principal of the school and pointed out the obvious left wing slant of the publication which was being presented to the students. The principal of the school took the matter seriously and stood fast to statements he had made to the parent during many interviews and conversations and the publication is no longer used in this fine parochial school.

The self responsible parent spent many hours finding out how he could assure himself of the quality of his daughter's education. He deprived himself of many hours in front of the television screen because he believes the education of his children is more important than his own enjoyment of television programs. He deprived himself of many hours of recreation and relaxation because he believes the education of his children is important and has had the experience of being himself a victim of progressive compulsory government controlled education.

I challenge anyone to openly criticize the attitude and the actions of this self responsible citizen, who is actually not in a financial position to send his daughter to a private school, but who believes the money well spent now will save a great deal of money and unpleasantness later. These were the actions of a self respecting, self reponsible human being who believes in freedom, the right of an individual to own property, and to make decisions concerning his own future and the future of his children.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.

Question No. 21: "Is it true that gift is contrary to the law of the universe?"

This is a statement made by Emerson in his "Uses Of Great Men," but because Emerson said it, it does not make it true.

It is undoubtedly a law of nature that man if he is to really develop and live must live by the sweat of his brow. If he puts forth no exertion, he perishes. To that extent gift is contrary to the law of the universe, if it interferes with a man developing his own faculties.

Our gifts to foreign nations are of the universe. It doesn't develop all mankind, the whole race. It doesn't make people individually responsible.

If the questioner wants to get the proper interpretation of gift being contrary to the law of the universe, suggest that he get from the library Emerson's essay on "Uses Of Great Men." He will have a much better understanding of the meaning of this statement after reading this. In this statement Emerson says: "Man is endogenous, and education is his unfolding." That means that man must develop his own mental faculties, and, therefore, he develops his whole life.

'Trial De Novo'

The Final Article In A Series On Proposed Constitution Amendments

(Constitutional Amendments — Last of a Series)

Today—Trial de Novo

By KYLE THOMPSON
United Press International

AUSTIN (UPI)—The proposed "trial de novo" amendment to the state constitution has drawn a host of opponents who contend the proposal will upset the balance of power in state government.

It is the only amendment of the record number of 14 to be submitted to voters on Nov. 6 that has drawn organized statewide opposition. Those who oppose it include Gov. Price Daniel, leading attorneys and judges, and citizens in general.

This amendment deals specifically with the method of appeal from actions, rulings and decisions of any administrative agency, executive department or political subdivision of the state.

Its prime support is from legislative leaders, with the administrative and judicial branches of state government generally lined up in opposition.

Legislative Power Extended

If the amendment passes, the legislature would have the power to force the courts to hear by a completely new trial (trial de novo) decisions of any administrative agency or subdivision of the state.

The trial court would take new evidence, apply trial court methods of reaching a decision and ignore completely the decision or ruling of the administrative agency "as though there had been no proceedings at all before the agency."

The courts could not decline jurisdiction "even though such action on the part of the courts involves administrative or executive rather than judicial powers."

Opposes Amendment

A group known as the "committee to preserve local self government" has organized statewide opposition to the amendment.

Daniel told the group Sept. 27 that the amendment was "a great mistake." He said its passage "would lead to the worst type of confusion and delay in reaching proper administrative decisions."

Dr. Abner V. McCall, president of Baylor University, is active in the opposing group because he said he is interested in "preserving what I call front-yard government." McCall is chairman of the opposing committee.

The Texas Association of School Boards and School Administrators on Oct. 1 overwhelmingly passed a resolution opposing the amendment. Several judicial leaders, including Associate Supreme Court Justice Meade F. Griffin have spoken out against the proposal.

Other Dangers Cited

George E. Murphy, president of the Texas Municipal League, said approval of the trial de novo proposal would force "closing of everything but the city jail" in Texas. He said it would "virtually destroy municipal government in Texas."

Opponents contend the amendment would strip the Railroad Commission and other powerful state agencies like the Texas Water Commission, Highway Commission and Insurance Commission of much of their power.

Proponents say the governor and administrative branches at all governmental levels have taken over lawmaking through control of boards and commissions. The resolution calling for the amendment was sponsored by Rep. Dewitt Hale of Corpus Christi.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Zogi Revue Must Move Every Night

Thursday night the dazzling Zogi Revue, with all its fast moving routines, will be playing in our theatre. The next night it may be more than 200 miles away, repeating the same performance on a different stage.

Every day is moving day for the Zogi Revue. C. A. Frank, business manager, emphasizes that "All the work is not on the stage." The on-stage professional polish of more than a quarter century experience overshadows the mechanics of setting up and tearing down a show.

According to Frank, the process of setting up, playing, packing and moving a Revue of this size is an intricate job. An organization of many skills and talents is required.

At show time, the curtain goes up and the show goes on with a smoothness and polish and with such apparent ease that the audinece is never aware of the hours of preparation and the back stage work that continues until the final curtain.

Back stage, if one were permitted to see, is a beehive of activity as dozens of crates, trunks and cases are unloaded. There are drapes to hang, lights to install and adjust, costumes to unpack, illusions to assemble, certain props to buy locally. . .a thousand and one little details must have attention. Not one can be overlooked if the show is to go on.

Despite the variations of stages from town to town, scenery, show props and illusions must look as if they had been picked up bodily and set down on the new stage without so much as a hair out of place.

Some featured acts to be presented when the Zogi Revue appears here under the sponsorship of the Evening Optimist Club on Thursday night at 7:30 p.m. at the Junior High Auditorium are the European Flower Garden, the $15,000 Houdini Trunk Mystery, The Hindu Sack Mystery. The Floating Lady and Prince Zogi in person.

WHEELS NEED BALANCING? — If they do, bring them in to Hall Tire Company, 700 W. Foster, today and Leymond Hall and crew will fix you up in short order. Leymond, shown here with the Alemite Electronic Wheel Balancer, is owner of Hall Tire Company and he believes in SERVICE when his customers call. (News Photo)

Have Your Tires Trued, Wheels Balanced At Hall Tire Company

Does your car have that rock and roll motion that would put Elvis Presley to shame? Does it feel like you're driving over a washboard instead of a smooth, concrete highway?

It does? Then the best place for you to go, my friend, is to Hall Tire Company, 700 W. Foster, right away!

Leymond Hall, genial proprietor of this high-service organization, can fix you up right away if your car needs wheel balancing, tire truing or front end alignment.

The Alemite Electronic Wheel Balancer at Hall Tire Co. gives letter-perfect wheel balancing to insure you a more comfortable, "bump-free" ride. That, plus, longer tire life make the nominal cost of having your wheels balanced at Hall Tire Co. more than "worth the money."

And while you're at it, why not let Hall Tire Company true your tires? This gives you double assurance that you will have a glass smooth ride when driving the family automobile.

Perfectly round tires wear longer, ride better, and give more motoring pleasure.

That's why it is important to have your tires made perfectly round at Hall Tire Co., which is also "Seat Cover Headquarters," located at 700 W. Foster, MO-5-5755.

How often have you or your friends noticed vibration, shimmy or tire slap? Those slap - happy tires cause vibration, bounce, shimmy and make motorists tired.

Hall Tire Co. has installed the Tru - O - Matic tire rounding machine to help you solve this problem.

Tire truing — making tires perfectly round — is another great step forward in the search for a perfect automobile ride.

This fits naturally with a wheel balancing job and, really, both are necessary if you are going to get a good ride out of your tires.

Drive into Hall Tire Co. soon and have your tires made perfectly round. It takes only a short while to have a tire trued. . . made perfectly round. . .at Hall Tire Co. Have all four tires on the ground and your spare tire trued!

While you have your tires trued for smoother riding, look at Hall Tire Co.'s tremendous stock of seat covers, covers that will fit your car! This firm has one of the largest stocks of seat covers in the Panhandle and one of the largest stocks in the entire state, too. That means you can select your seat covers from several that will fit your car.

All seat covers at Hall Tire Co. feature the latest patterns. They are made to add more beauty to your car than ever and to prolong the life and good appearance of the automobile's interior.

Have Leymond Hall, owner and operator of Hall Tire Co., show you the new seat covers designed to fit the make and model of your automobile.

Hall says, "It takes skill and experience to fit a seat cover correctly, and we insist on the right fit. If the covers are not fitted correctly motorists do not get all the wear they are buying.

Hall stresses care both in fitting seat covers and in truing tires. He said care in both processes means extra miles of tire wear and seat cover wear for motorists.

Come in, talk over tire and seat cover problems with Leymond Hall. He can help you.

And discuss problems in winterizing your automobile, too. Have Leymond point out the right weight of oil for your car. . . Have him lubricate your automobile and get it set for winter driving with anti-freeze. He can tell you why the right oils and greases are just as important as anti-freeze in winter motoring.
