CISD approves 12 percent tax hike

By Ray Mayo
Editor

A 12 percent increase in taxes for Colorado Independent School District taxpayers was approved by the CISD board of trustees Friday morning during a special meeting.

The increase will change the tax rate from 77 cents to 89 cents per $100 evaluation for 1986 but will not bring in additional revenues for the district because of declining oil values.

Dr. Billy Bridgford, board president, said the district is looking at $221,996 less in tax dollars this year and that to have the same amount coming in this year as last would have raised the effective tax rate to 98 cents. The maximum the board could have raised the tax without public input was $1.01 per $100.

Last year's rate of 77 cents brought in tax revenues of $2,150,635. This year's tax rate is expected to generate $1,928,639, said Supt. Charlie Uselton.

During budget hearings this summer, the board agreed to make cuts in this year's budget and to use surplus funds to make up the difference in the amount of tax revenue rather than to adopt the effective tax rate of 98 cents.

Board member Dwayne Harris made the motion to adopt the resolution authorizing a tax rate of 89 cents and Eddie Gregory seconded the motion which was approved unanimously by other board members Floyd Lee Ritchey, J. C. Britton, Kathy Bassham and Brenda Aguillon.

In other business, the board accepted the resignation of Kelley Elementary School first grade teacher Marilyn Davis whose husband has accepted the pastorate of Grape Creek Baptist Church near San Angelo.

The board approved the appointment of Deborah Elizabeth Rodgers to replace Mrs. Davis. Mrs. Rodgers has a bachelor's degree from Angelo State University in San Angelo with a major in elementary education and minors in English and kindergarten. This is her first teaching assignment.

Local 4-H clubs to observe week

Some 95 4-H members in Mitchell County are planning special activities and events in observance of National 4-H Week, Oct. 5-13.

"In celebrating National 4-H Week, we recognize that 4-H is truly a people development program," said Debbie Christian, county extension agent. "4-H helps young people develop skills that will be useful in the real world. It helps them discover their strengths and weaknesses. It exposes them to activities in a variety of career fields. And, most importantly, 4-Hers learn and have fun doing it. And families can add to the fun by learning and growing together.

"Learning doesn't stop with the 4-H member and family," she said. "Volunteer leaders learn new skills while sharing their expertise with young people. Through a network of volunteer leaders, state land-grant universities, state and local governments and the U.S. Department of Agriculture, 4-H has been able to stimulate youth to develop life skills."

In Mitchell County, some 30 adult volunteer leaders work with 95 boys and girls 4-H clubs. Programs are conducted in 3,150 counties nationwide. In addition, some 82 countries around the world reach approximately five million young people in programs similar to 4-H.

Westbrook students get dose on drugs

Westbrook School students heard about drug abuse Thursday afternoon during a program presented by Crime Prevention Officer Vince Ariaz of the Colorado City Police Department.

Ariaz told the junior high and high school students that drugs have become an epidemic in communities all over the United States, both large and small.

Ariaz said the drugs are affecting age groups starting from nine years of age, recalling one nine-year-old boy who died last week in Hereford from a cocaine overdose.

Ariaz said that the best films and the best speakers cannot make anyone decide what to do about drugs, that the decision is up to each individual.

Ariaz also addressed the students about driving under the influence of alcohol. He said that several years ago, alcohol was declared to be a drug since alcohol destroys the enzymes in a person's body. He said that if a child is born without the enzymes destroyed by the parent due to alcohol addiction, the new born child will probably be born an alcoholic, too.

Ariaz told the students that driving while under the influence is a serious problem, so serious that the age for purchasing alcohol has been raised to 21.

In 1983, he said, there were 35,370 traffic accidents recorded in Texas resulting in 1,006 deaths and 17,262 injuries, adding that half were as a result of teenage drunk drivers.

"Having a driver's license in the state of Texas is a privilege and not a right," he said.

He said that someone under 1. years old that is arrested for DWI can loose their license privilege to obtain a license until they reach the age of 21.

Assisted by Mitchell County Sheriff's Deputy Tony Pantoja, Ariaz displayed drug paraphernalia confiscated from persons arrested for possession in Mitchell County through the years. Ariaz also showed a film based on drug overdose.

Ariaz will be in Loraine Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week presenting drug education programs to students.

RIBBON CUTTING ceremonies were conducted Wednesday at the .. Nut House at Fort Wood. The business, part of Nutty Acres, Inc. is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Linden Solomon and Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Finch.

Dedication

During the dinner, recognition was given to L. O. Schaffer for his 37 years with the fire department.

Guest speaker for the evening was Bob Murphey. The humorist paid tribute to the city and county as well as Mrs. Bassham for the fire station project and challenged the city to take on another project to benefit the town.

The speaker was made possible by donations from Buena Vista Harrell, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Woody Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hoback, Mrs. Charlie Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fuller, Texas Electric Service Co., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Plagens, First Western Savings and Lona, First National Bank, City National Bank, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Piland, Pete McKinney and Jim Baum.

Piland, a member of the finance committee, said following the dinner that special thanks should be given to Shirley Delaney, Joy Piland, Carolyn Shaw, Anne Alford, Ray Anne Carlock, Debbie Guelker, Kathy Bassham, Brenda Tarter, Max Shaw, Mike Burt, Woody Anderson, Jerry Hammond, Robert Alford, Raymond Fuller, Tom Carlock, Radio KVMC-KAUM and the Colorado City RECORD for their assistance in making the dinner a success.

The fire station is located on 11th Street, behind the school administration building. It replaces the existing fire station at city hall and has room for eight pieces of firefighting equipment. The new building is also equipped with offices, a meeting room and living quarters for the three paid firemen.

McBath didn't look much different lying in the coffin his daughter had provided for him with his money.

He had tried to hold on to every cent, so Ellen had plenty to spend when it came time for funeral arrangements. The coffin was a plain brown - $400 cheaper than the water-sealed gold one next to it in the display room.

Ellen said McBath would have wanted it that way.

You could have propped the old man up - chaise-lounge style, - in his casket and he'd have looked the same as he did sitting in her living room. The corpse was wearing a black, pinstriped suit as it rested eternally, the same one McBath rested in while setting in her solid green chair.

Before driving over to Ellen's, he'd get out of his pajamas and put on the suit. He had black, shiny shoes to match, and a black fedora with a black ribbon and a red feather. The bow tie was usually red, also.

For two hours, McBath would sit in the same chair looking dead, but well dressed. People didn't so much talk to him as they did at him. It was the same on the day of the funeral.

"You never took your medicine the way you were supposed to," Ellen would scold the remains. "You could have lived another 10 years. You just did this to get back at me."

McBath, as always, said nothing.

During his mortal years he thrived on the fussing. His own wife, Norma, had died a decade earlier. Being fussed over brought back some of the attention he used to get from her. At home he'd sit alone in his easy chair and listen to radio preachers threaten him. He seemed to appreciate that attention, also.

When McBath came driving up in his Pontiac, his daughter always reacted the same way. "My gosh, look at that. What'll you bet he hasn't taken his medicine?"

McBath would shuffle up the walk, somehow keeping his hands clapsed together. He'd knock, even when the door was open and only a storm door barred his entrance.

"Come on in, don't just stand there," she'd say. But McBath would never be able to work the latch. Ellen would start cursing, then she'd unhinge it for him.

McBath liked to light his pipe while Ellen fussed. It gave him something to do with his hands and face. After the pipe was lit and the first puff of smoke entered his lungs, he'd cough gently, lean to one side, and replace the lighter in his right coat pocket. The ritual was repeated with almost every puff.

Only about 25 people showed up for the funeral. Most were old men you could find any other time, poaching in the barber shop, or sitting in the shade on a bench at the courthouse.

They sat in a room full of folding chairs and talked about McBath as if he wasn't dead. "You're too tight for your own good," one of them said. "Yeah, has anybody checked his pockets?" The old men would laugh softly, then cough.

Ellen told them he wouldn't take his medicine. That he washed his dishes without soap. That it was a wonder he hadn't expired well before his 80th birthday, instead of just short of it.

His daughter wiped her eyes with Kleenex and talked of what she'd do with the inheritance money. It was owed to her, after all, for all the years of cleaning and fussing over a stubborn old man who never once even said thank you.

The old men agreed. "You did an awful lot for him," they kept saying. "You ought to take a trip to Europe with it."

"I just might do that," she told them. "There's nothing to stop me."

She didn't though. She left the money in the bank and let it draw more interest for a few years. Then she died, leaving McBath's money to her own daughter, who promptly spent it.

McBath would not have wanted it that way.

HAS THIS EVER HAPPENED TO YOU?

Even a minor fender-bender can cause whiplash, spinal misalignment, pinched nerves, and muscle spasms, which, if undetected and uncorrected, can make your body susceptible to arthritis, joint degeneration, disc degeneration or other serious problems.

Auto Accident?

Most Insurance Plans Cover Chiropractic.

Following any auto accident, no matter how minor, it is important -- and makes good common sense -- to get a chiropractic checkup.

We offer free consultation and spinal function test. If x-rays and treatment are indicated, automobile, liability, no-fault, and/or group health insurance usually cover the costs in full.

County Oil News

Mrs. W. M. Keck Jr., has filed first production figures on two oil wells in the Sharon Ridge Field, Mitchell County. The wells are designated as the No. 10 Coleman Ranch and the No. 5 Coleman Ranch "A".

The wells are located three miles northeast of Cuthbert. The operator has 160 and 130 acres leased in the H&TC Survey.

The wells indicated potential to pump oil at the combined rate of 25 barrels per day, plus a combined 55 barrels of water. Total drilling depths were 1,840 and 1,854 feet, respectively. Production will be from perforations in the "1700" Formation, ranging from 1,675 to 1,745 feet into the wellbore.

Production figures have been revealed for a work-over operation at the No. 3 J. F. McCabe "C", a developmental well with Marshall & Winston Inc. as the operator. Drillsite is 18 miles southeast of Colorado City ina 160-acre lease in the H&TC Survey.

The well showed ability to pump 22 barrels of oil per day, plus 99 barrels of water from perforations in the Odom Formation at 6,808 to 6,910 feet. Marshall and Winston originally completed the well Nov. 9, 1981, and the total depth was 7,230 feet. The operator plugged the well back to 7,140 feet.

Drilling operations at the No. 7 Edmondson are nearing projected total depth of 1,850 feet. Mrs. W. M. Keck Jr., is the operator. The well was spudded Sept. 12, and is located five miles north-east of Cuthbert in the Kirkland & Fields Survey, Sharon Ridge Field.

The same operator has scheduled testing for potential at the No. 11 Coleman Ranch. The well is located in the Sharon Ridge Field, three miles northeast of Cuthbert.

The well was spudded August 24, and has been bottomed at 1,850 feet.

D. L. Ray Inc. is testing for potential at two developmental wells in the East Iatan-Howard Field, Mitchell County. The wells are designated as the Nos. 8 and 9 Cone, with drillsites eight miles southwest of Westbrook in the T&P Survey. The ventures were spudded late in March of this year, and have been bottomed at 3,400 feet.

Local Delta Kappa Gamma members attend meeting

Members of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, an honorary teacher's organization, met in Lamesa Saturday, Sept. 13 for their biennial area planning meeting.

Among the approximately 150 members attending from a 24-county area were Betsy Aycock, Janie Lou Greenlee, Janet Mayo and Earline Sellier, representatives from Beta Epsilon chapter of Colorado City.

There are 3,000 chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma with more than 165,000 members in 13 countries. Members of Delta Kappa Gamma are expected to exemplify the pursuit of excellence, whether it be in the fields of academics, personal relationships or professional ethics and responsibilities.

The 21 chapters gathered in Lamesa were engaged in training sessions for new chapter officers and committee personnel. The theme of the workshop was a quotation from Henry David Thoreau, "You have built castles in the air...Now put the foundations beneath them."

Characterized by personal growth seminars and music, the workshop also included a luncheon address by the state president, Carolyn Larrison of Anahuac. The small group sessions were led by state committee members. Mrs. Greenlee led one of the workshop sessions.

Local officers of the Beta Epsilon chapter are Janet Mayo, president; Marian Craddock, first vice president; Margaret Rees, second vice president; Kathy Wilson, recording secretary; Kitten Arthur, corresponding secretary; Earline Sellier, treasurer; and Betsy Aycock, parliamentarian.

Bird honored by legislature

A Senate resolution, passed during the recent special session of the Texas Legislature, honors Coke County resident Ulmer Bird, his wife Josephine and his poetry.

Bird, 85, who lives in the small community of Sanco, "is truly among the state's most treasured assets and is specially deserving of legislative recognition," the resolution states.

Bird was a cowboy, newspaper editor, teacher and preacher and since his retirement has devoted all his time to his favorite endeavor, poetry.

Bird was born and reared in Coke County and attended Harvard University. He preached in Methodist pastorates before volunteering to serve as chaplain in the United States Army in 1944. After the war, he returned to Sanco with his wife and preached in the Methodist Church before retiring to study and write. This year 35 of his poems were collected and published under the title "Our People".

"Our People" is a translation from the names of the Indian tribes that populated the watershed valleys of the Concho River during Coronado's exploration of the area and includes poems bird wrote while attending college in the East and those written in succeeding decades about the Indians, early settlers, cowboys and current residents.

"An accomplished writer of prose and poetry when the centennial of the state was celebrated, it is truly fitting that the Texas Senate pay tribute in this sesquicentennial year to Ulmer Bird," the resolution states.

Upton completes field training

Cadet Oren K. Upton, son of Charles and Louree Upton of Colorado City, has completed a U.S. Air Force ROTC field training encampment at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

Field training, attended by cadets normally between their second and third year of college, gives an opportunity to evaluate each student's potential as an officer, according to an Air Force spokesman.

The summer's curriculum consists of orientations on jet aircraft, career opportunities, human relations education and equal opportunity training. Physical fitness and survival training is also emphasized.

The field training is four weeks, but cadets in the two-year ROTC program receive an additional two weeks of instruction in the development of air power and the contemporary Air Force.

Upton is a student at Angelo State University, San Angelo.

WIND STRIPCROPPING is becoming a very important conservation practice in Mitchell County. Grass strips are being sown on the terrace tops while the terrace intervals are planted to cotton, grain sorghum, or wheat. If properly installed, the grass strips protect the growing crops and suppress wind erosion. These strips were planted on the Dwayne Harris farm. These strips will be one alternative a farmer can use to meet Conservation Compliance.

Wolves hold on to 13-7 win over Coahoma

By Tony Franco
Sports Editor

COAHOMA–Friday's 5AAA football clash between arch rivals Colorado City and Coahoma wasn't an offensive showcase but at the end it was Colorado City's defense that got tougher to give the Wolves a 13-7 win for their first victory of the season.

The Pack, now 1-3-1 and 1-1 in district, rose their defensive might for one final stand to subdue a late Coahoma rally.

After allowing Coahoma 140 first half yards, the Wolves only surrendered 22 in the second half. Defensive stars were Michael Swann, Ricky Arispe, Steve Smith, Beau Rees, Larry Mayes, Corey Flanagan and Jerry Hulme among others.

Wolves final stand happened with 2:51 left in the game that stopped Craig Wallace on fourth and two on the Colorado City 22.

Besides a second quarter score it was the only Coahoma threat of the ball game.

The Wolves came up short on at least two good drives, but two key plays carried Colorado City past the lone Coahoma drive.

"Ralph Gonzales was the one we counted on and he produced," said coach Tom Ramsey. "Both offenses stopped themselves, but it wasn't a turnover game."

Colorado City turned the ball over just twice compared to eight times in a 32-7 loss to Ballinger the prior week. The Wolves were fortunate enough to recover five other fumbles of theirs–mostly on snaps from center.

Gonzales gained 82 yards on 19 carries to lead all runners.

The Wolves struck first after Edwardo Melendez recovered a fumble on the Bulldogs first play at their own nine.

Three plays later, Gonzales made a quick dart through the left side from one yard out. Ismael Silva's kick made it 7-0 just 1:02 in the game.

A Silva to Reggie Gardner pass moved the Wolves to midfield on their next possession, but it stalled on an off sides penalty.

Colorado City's next possession never got going as it began with the Wolves bobbling the snap from center. Both teams had trouble fielding kicks in the first half.

Gonzales looked good in an early second quarter drive but it ended on a missed 24 yard field goal attempt by Silva that sailed wide right.

Coahoma then drove 80 yards to tie the game. All the yards came on the ground except for a 15 yard halfback pass from Wallace to quarterback James White. White had thrown down field in similar plays earlier.

Wallace and Dee Jon Douglass rushed for most of the drive but White kept for a big 13 yard gain and a first and goal.

Wallace bulled over from the four at 1:24 of the second period and kicked the PAT.

Silva suffered an interception by Stacy Ream just before the end of the half.

Besides the one scoring drive the Wolves gave up only 60 yards in the first half.

Behind Gonzales' running and two Cary Ritchey completions to Rees out of the backfield, the Wolves opened the second half by going 50 yards from their own 34 to the Coahoma 7.

The drive was marred by three fumbles recovered back by the Wolves. Melendez and Ritchey recovered them back, but the drive ended on a wide right 22 yard field goal attempt.

On their third possession of the third quarter, Ritchey connected with Larry Mayes at the Coahoma 25. Defender White's unsuccessful dive cost dearly as Mayes completed a 50 yard score down the right sideline.

Silva's PAT kick hit the right cross bar.

Merkel comes back to win in volleyball

The Merkel Badgers took control of the district 5AAA volleyball race in a hard-earned, comeback 12-15, 15-11, 15-9 win over the Colorado City Wolves here at "The Pit" Tuesday night.

Merkel already owned a 15-10, 16-14 victory over the Clyde Bulldogs, who are the only other team competing in 5AAA volleyball.

Colorado City and Clyde meet Tuesday with 0-1 district records. The loss to Merkel dropped the Wolves to 2-8 for the year.

Merkel coach Patti Jones credited "teamwork" for the Badgers win. "All ten of them stood out," said Jones.

Particularly Stacy Newberry with her all-around playing and Amber Whisenhunt with timely serving.

The Wolves appeared well on their way to victory after taking the first game but could not continue their near flawless play while the first game loss made the Badgers a more determined club.

With Christy Mitchell serving, the Wolves took a 2-0 first game lead on Merkel errors. The Badgers' Caroline Lally made a service ace and tied the game with another serve scored on a spike by Newberry. Newberry's serving sparked Merkel to five unanswered points and a 5-2 lead.

The Wolves remained close but could not serve well enough to regain the lead until Holly Tarter served for two points to cut Merkel's lead to 8-7. From there Becca Mann served for an 11-8 Wolves lead. Denise Lowrance spiked for one of the points on an Amber Stephens set.

Serving carried the Wolves to the first game win as Merkel failed to return nine serves. Merkel never lead again in the game though it took a diving save by Mitchell to hold a 13-12 Colorado City lead. Mann closed out the game by serving for the last two points.

Merkel errors again gave the Wolves a lead in the second game but again Newberry ignited the Badgers with a spike. With the Wolves leading 4-0, Newberry's spike with Whisenhunt serving began four Whisenhunt service points that tied the game at 4-4.

A spike by Tarter set by Misty Strain put the Wolves up 6-5 but a Newberry spike again rallied the Badgers. It made it 6-6 with Sheri Riney serving. Merkel went on to lead 11-6 and Newberry served for three of the points. Michelle Dudley and Riney spiked for two of them.

Tarter's serving cut Merkel's lead from 12-8 to 12-11 with help from a spike by Mann set up by Stephens. Diem Tran served to end the Colorado City rally and the game.

A diving save by Newberry helped the Badgers to a 4-0 lead in the final game. After a dink by her made it 6-2 for Merkel, Strain cut it to 6-5 with three service points–one on a dink by Mann and one on a spike by Tarter.

Whisenhunt returned the favor for Merkel by serving for four straight and a 10-5 Badger lead. Five Colorado City errors gave Merkel it's last five points–including three off target spikes as Whisenhunt served for the last two.

The evening began with the Colorado City freshmen putting on a passing, setting and spiking show in a 15-5, 16-14 victory. Also victorious were the junior varsity Wolves, who edged the Badgers 4-15, 15-6, 16-14.

Seventh graders still undefeated

In Colorado Middle School football action Thursday at Coahoma, the seventh grade Wolves remained undefeated with a 16-0 win of the Bulldogs, who won the eighth grade contest 6-0.

"These young men love the game of football," said coach Chuck Claxton of the seventh graders, who have yet to give up a single point.

"The defense played superb. They did a good job of being around the ball."

Jason Stone and Kevin Green led the Wolves' rushing attack of 182 yards offense.

Stone carried nine times for 76 yards. One carry was a 35 yard touchdown run and Stone added an extra point run. Green carried 11 times for 85 yards and got the other score on a 30 yard run. Green also ran for the other extra points.

"The running backs did a good job of running the ball."

Also chipping in were quarterback Shayne Anderson with nine yards on two carries, Cade Proctor seven yards on three carries and Mark Monroe five yards on one carry.

Claxton said Chris Molina, Derrick Cain, Jesse Gonzales, Rudy Melendez and Joe Ramirez did a good job blocking in the offensive line and that Anderson ran the option excellently.

Stone also made an interception.

The eighth grade Wolves are still searching for win number one and their first points following the loss to the Bulldogs.

"The defense played the best game they've played all year," said Claxton. "These young men played their hearts out. They have improved 100 percent since the first of September."

The Wolves gained 152 yards–48 of them came on 13 carries by George Ramsey. Marty Phillips added 42 on nine carries.

Claxton said Avan Ceballos, Bryan McGowen, Jason Lawson, Bobby Silva and James Cook did a good job of protecting the quarterback. Scott Galey completed three fourth quarter passes to Wendell Iglehart for 62 yards.

Rene Silva made an interception for the Wolves.

THANK YOU

The Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce wishes to thank each and every person who assisted in producing the 1986 Mitchell County Fair. It was a tremendous success thanks to the hundreds of volunteers in Mitchell County.

An incredible number of people donated countless hours to prepare the barn and fair grounds, take and return entries, work concessions and gate, clean up, sponsor events and booths....and the list goes on.

The Chamber of Commerce would like to take this opportunity to publicly extend a personal thank you to each and every person who contributed to the great success of this special event. Without your willing assistance and support there would be no fair.

Thank you for investing your time and money in Mitchell County's future through your Chamber of Commerce.

Wells is hostess to Loraine Club

The North Loraine Extension Homemakers met in the home of Mrs. Roy Wells on Wednesday, Oct. 1 for a regular meeting. Mrs. Lola Fay Bennett, president, presided.

The meeting opened with the group reciting the club creed and the club prayer in unison.

The roll call was answered with "what love means to me". Mrs. Wells was responsible for a short game during recreation time.

During the business session, the council and treasurer's reports were heard. Members also were reminded of their responsibilities at the Brown Bag noon luncheon on Oct. 7 at the C. C. Thompson Room. In addition to that, the club has a part in sponsoring the county-wide health program on Oct. 23.

The health program this year deals with Alzheimer's disease and a special group from San Angelo will present the program which is open to the public.

Debbie Christian, county extension agent, brought the program on "Family Care Giver". She divided her subject into eight categories - marriage, the child bearing years, pre-school age, school family, teenagers, launching out, middle age years and aging years.

"Compromise and sacrifice are the keys to a comptabile and happy family," she said. "Giving, receiving and caring are necessary."

The First State Bank of Loraine sponsored the club's booth at the county fair. The winner of the club quilt in the booth was Chasiti Hamilton from Colorado City.

The hostess served refreshments to Debbie Christian, and members Mrs. J. E. Price, Mrs. Hubert Meadow, Mrs. T. L. Holman, Mrs. Jack Linam, Mrs. C. H. Hamilton, Lola Fay Bennett, Jimmie Jacks and Effie Wheeler.

RULES OF THE ROAD

Have you ever had the awful experience of driving down the street in your car and nearly hitting a kid on a bicycle who was going lickety-split and ran right out in front of you? It happened to me just yesterday and besides adding a few more gray hairs it prompted this column on bicycle safety-Parents when you present your kid with a bike, PLEASE take him/her for an eye examination to check for good visual acuity, color perception, depth perception and peripheral vision. Then go over the rules of the road from Seymour Safety Bikers Guide.

1.) Obey all traffic regualtions, signs and signals.

2.) Observe all local laws pertaining to bicycle operation.

3.) Drive with traffic, not against it. Drive single file. Stay on the far right. Remember the right side is the right side!

4.) Watch out for drain grates, soft shoulders and other road hazards.

5.) Watch out for the sudden opening of car doors, or for cars pulling out into traffic.

6.) Don't carry passengers or packages that interfere with your vision or control.

7.) Never hitch a ride on a truck or any other vehicle.

8.) Be extremely careful at all intersections, especially when making a left turn.

9.) Use hand signals to indicate turning or stopping.

10.) Protect yourself at night with proper lights, reflectors, and retro-reflective material.

11.) Drive a safe bike; have it inspected to insure good mechanical condition.

12.) Drive your bike defensively. Watch out for the other person.

12.) Give right-of-way to pedestrians and motor vehicles.

Freshmen, JV are victorious

A last minute comeback and a 45 point blowout gave Colorado High School two victories in freshmen and junior varsity football games at Wolf Stadium Thursday.

In the first game, the CHS ninth graders held the Big Spring Steers to a net of 25 yards enroute to a 45-0 win for the Wolves. The Pack held the Steers to a negative 12 yards through the first three quarters but a 37 yard Big Spring move in the final period gave Big Spring plus yardage and two of their three first downs.

The Wolves gained 171 yards and eight first downs and now stand at 2-3--breaking a three game losing streak.

The offensive line allowed Tracy Edwards to go untouched for a 19 yard first quarter touchdown. Ken Land's point after pass to Rick Westbrook made it 8-0 with 6:03 left in the period.

A second Steers punt looked like it was going to roll dead at the Big Spring 30. Ray Rivera picked it up on the run though, stiff armed a defender and ran down the right sideline for Colorado City's second score. Rivera's PAT kick made it 16-0 with 3:51 left in the opening period.

An interception by Gabriel Ornelas set up the Wolves third score. Facing fourth and one at the Big Spring 17, the Wolves opted to throw and Land found Stan Bradbury for the score. Rivera's kick made it 22-0 in the first quarter, which also included a fumble recovery by Frank Selvera.

A 35 yard punt return by Rivera kept the ball deep in Steers territory. It resulted in John Phariss and Danny Barrera tackling a Steer in the endzone for a safety and a 24-0 lead with 4:58 left in the half.

The Wolves went up 30-0 at 1:55 of the second period on a 50 yard interception return by Rene Silva. Adon DeLoera made a key block on the score.

One of DeLoera's many defensive plays was a block of a quick kick in the third stanza. On the next play, Land hit Westbrook for a 19 yard score. Rivera's kick made it 37-0 at 6:44 of the period.

Rivera ended the scoring by keeping around the left side for 14 yards at 2:21 of the third period. Pat Tillis ran for the extra points. The third period ended following a fumble recovery by DeLoera caused by Abel Arellano's hit.

The game ended with the Wolves at the Steers' three yard line. Among the top defenders for the Wolves were DeLoera, Danny Luera, Kevin Monroe, Silva and Barrera.

Following four consecutive losses that included two one-point defeats and another loss by a margin of one score the junior varsity Wolves got their first win by scoring twice in the final two minutes to beat the Coahoma Bulldogs 19-13.

Coahoma outgained the Wolves 195 yards to 181 and had a 14 to 9 edge in first downs. The big play game saw the Bulldogs twice take the lead with help from Colorado City penalties.

Facing fourth and eight at the Colorado City 24, the Bulldogs completed a pass and a roughing the passer call on the Wolves made it first and goal at the three. Coahoma punched it over and kicked the PAT for a 7-0 lead at 2:22 of the opening period.

The Bulldogs then forced the Wolves into punting but the punt was fumbled and Alan Howell recovered for the Wolves at the Coahoma 44.

A 27 yard completion from Chris Perkin to Mark Russell gave the Wolves a first at the 14. From there Bo Alvarez carried five times. The fifth was a oneyard score straight over the right side with 6:15 left in the first half. George Rivera's PAT kick made it 7-7.

The Wolves fumbled away their last possession of the half after a Russell interception at the Colorado City 22.

An offsides penalty on the Wolves kept alive Coahoma's first drive of the second half after a stop by Victor Luera and Sammy Garcia forced a fourth and two. A personal foul on Colorado City gave the Bulldogs a first down at the Wolves' 13. A three yard run at 2:24 of the third period gave Coahoma a 13-7 lead. The point after kick sailed wide right.

Perkin's fumble recovery in the final minute of the third period began a series of turnovers that carried late into the fourth quarter. After another Colorado City fumble recovery, Rivera was intercepted by the Bulldogs.

Rivera and Bubba Bailey hit a Bulldog running back and Heath Watlington recovered for the Wolves at the Coahoma 25 with 4:01 left in the game. A 13 yard run by Perkin made it first down at the 11. Facing third and 14 at the 15, Perkin found Russell in heavy traffic for a 13 yard completion at the 2. Perkin carried over the right side for the score, but it appeared the Wolves would have to settle for a tie when the extra point snap was fumbled with just 1:52 remaining in the game.

Pat Ridge, Watlington, Howell and Perkin made defensive plays to hold Coahoma and give Colorado City one more shot.

After two incompletions that made it fourth and seven at the Bulldogs 34, Perkin hit Russell in stride with a perfect spiral at the goal line with just 10 seconds remaining in the game to give the Wolves their first win.

Watlington, Hal Morren, Luera, Bailey and Ridge were among the top defensive standouts.

"Big money" scams illegal

By Jim Mattox
Attorney General

The ads make it sound like easy money. "NOW! As an independent mailer you can earn BIG MONEY in your own advertising business. We will pay you $100 for every one hundred pieces of mail you process--just by following our simple instructions."

All you have to do is send a nominal sum, usually between $10 and $40, and they will teach you how to make money at home. And since the ad promises that the job will have qualities that many people want--independence, prestige, being your own boss--it's not surprising that many people fall for the old envelope stuffing scam every day.

Chances are if you send your money to a company that promises to teach you how to stuff envelopes for big bucks, what you will get is an instruction sheet that describes how to get others to send you money for the same scam. The instructions will look something like this:

"Place a classified ad in a national magazine or tabloid that has a high response to its classified ad section. You may use the example below as a model for your ads.

Amazing Profits! Selling information by mail. Earn Big Money without leaving your home. For details, send a self-address stamped envelope to (put your name and address in this space).

What the instructions don't tell you is that placing such an ad can get you in trouble with the U.S. Post Office, local criminal prosecutors, or my Consumer Protection Division.

Some operations have begun to send envelope stuffing offers, as well as other business opportunity advertisements, through the mail. But whether the come-on is read in a classified ad or arrives in the mail, people who actually send in money and then place an ad will end up competing with others who have fallen for the same trick, not to mention the company that placed the original ad. But whether the scam is pitched via on the mails or through classified ads it amounts to the same thing--deception.

One of the biggest warning signs for this kind of fraud or deception is the statement that in order to get more information about the job or opportunity you must send in a fee. Anyone who wants money before giving you this kind of basic job information is someone to avoid. Regardless of the "guarantees" that accompany the ad, if you answer one of this type by sending your hard earned cash, you are very likely to get burned.

If you have had a problem with envelope stuffing, any other business opportunity solicitation, or any other consumer problem, please contact your nearest Consumer Protection Office. Consumer Protection offices are located in Austin, Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, McAllen, Lubbock and El Paso. The Attorney General's Office is the people's law firm. We're here to help you.
