"Marrying Brakeman" Jailed After Detective Stories Read By Police

(By Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19. — A man identified by police as George W. Perry, alias Frank J. Moran, known as the "marrying brakeman," wanted in Eagle River, Wis., for the murder of Cora Belle Hacket was in city prison here tonight because the man "with the best memory in the police department" likes detective stories.

Moran, as he was known here, is business agent for the International Brotherhood, a communist organization, and figured in an automobile collision recently. Inspector James Johnson and Richard Hughes went to Moran's office to get his version of it. While talking to him Johnson, the man with the good memory, took mental notes.

"Bald head. Deep chin dimple. Ear lobes close to neck. Scar under right eye. One eye covered by cataract." These were the notes tucked away in the detective's mind.

Yesterday Johnson was reading a detective story magazine, all about Perry and the six women he had "married," only one of them legally, all about the murder of Cora Belle Hackett, July 6, 1930, near Lac Du Flambeau, Wis., and a photograph of Perry was in the magazine.

"Where have I seen that face?" mused Johnson, all last night he pondered on it. Today it came to him in a flash. Out he went to "Moran's office and arrested him.

Authorities in Milwaukee were notified and police here were instructed to hold Moran and advised officers were en route to take him back to Wisconsin.

Moran has a wife here, Maria Guitterres, a native of the republic of Salvador. She refused to believe the things said about Perry and the man denied all knowledge of Perry, the murder or previous marriages.

Unemployment Problems And Working Conditions Talked

Annual Convention Of State Federation Of Labor Under Way At El Paso; Capitalists And Politicians Are Denounced For Setting Up False Issues In U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

EL PASO, May 19.—Problems of unemployment, working conditions for women and organization were discussed at meetings of various state labor unions here today.

The annual convention of the Texas State Federation of Labor recessed temporarily to give affiliated groups opportunity to thresh out individual matters.

A plea that organized labor stand firm against attacks from radical capital and unscrupulous persons was brought to the convention of the allied printing trades council of Texas by J. W. Parks of Dallas, president of the State Federation of Labor.

"Seldom has organized labor been confronted with more serious conditions of unemployment," he said. "We have weathered such conditions in the past, and will do so now, but we must stand together."

He denounced capitalists and politicians who set up false issues before labor to divide it and get its votes, and named the Ku Klux Klan, the "monkey question" and prohibition as examples of such issues.

"Must Organize"

"We must organize and allow nothing to disturb our solidarity," he said. "If we vote always with our economic welfare in mind we will have nothing to fear from big business or any one."

R. B. Gragg of Austin, state labor commissioner, told the same meeting that women and girls throughout the state were working for star-

But he was not one of the escaped men. However, the man still refused to give his name.

WAYNOKA, Okla., May 19.—James Taliaferro, Amarillo, engineer of the Santa Fe crack train, The Missionary, bound from California to Chicago, was killed tonight when the locomotive and six baggage and refrigerator express cars overturned 26 miles southwest of here.

Six passenger coaches did not leave the tracks, according to the railroad's agents at Waynoka and Quinlan. A few passengers were reported shaken up, but not seriously injured.

Weather Wins First Victory

Air Maneuvers Scheduled At Chicago Today Suspended As Fog Keeps 650 Planes, Massed At Dayton, Aground

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 19. — The common enemy of all aviators — the weather—had won its first victory over the nation's concentrated air forces tonight as 650 army planes, massed at Dayton suspended their flight to Chicago for maneuvers tomorrow.

The city ordered "defended" by the huge air fleet was covered by fog and drenched by rain all day. Twenty five individual ships carrying staff officers got through safely but the reports the officers sent back to Brig. Gen. B. D. Foulois at Dayton caused him to suspend movement of the large units.

Chicago's opportunity to see the nation's entire fighting force of the air depended entirely on the weather, Brig Gen. Foulois said. If possible the corps would make an early morning hop here, halt briefly for servicing, stage the demonstration down the lake shore and fly back to Dayton.

The city that had planned two weeks for the air show as a climax to its ten-day period of jubilee looked to the weather man for encouragement and got this non-committal announcement:

"Partly cloudy in Chicago and vicinity tomorrow. Thunder showers probable between Chicago and Dayton."

U. S. General Is Buried Alive In Stone Age Cave

Robert Dunlap And Two Farmer Folk Object Of Frenzied Rescue Efforts In France

(By The Associated Press)

TOURS, France, May 19.—Buried alive in a cave in which men of the stone age once lived, Brigadier General Robert H. Dunlap of the United States marine corps was the object tonight of frenzied rescue efforts although hope that he had escaped death virtually had been abandoned.

An avalanche from a hilltop overlooking the Loire river engulfed today both the general and two farmer folk—man and wife—with whom he had been friendly.

It was estimated tonight two or three days may elapse before the imprisoned trio can be reached. Mrs. Dunlap, who with her husband, was preparing to visit the historic tower of Cinq Mars La Pile, nearby witnessed the tragedy and was in a state of near collapse tonight.

Brigadier General Dunlap only a few weeks ago was transferred to Tours to perfect his studies of the French language. He and Mrs. Dunlap took particular delight in their acquaintance with the farmer, Denis Briant, who lived in one of the rock hewn cave dwellings that survive the troglodyte age.

The officer and his wife were at the Briants' home today when, from a nearby barn where Madame Briant was engaged in her housework, they heard her scream. Simultaneously there was a thundering roar as the top of the precipice above their home began to split and topple over.

The two men rushed to Madame Briant's assistance but before they could reach her they were themselves engulfed as the avalanche increased in volume.

The condition of the late cashier's mother, Mrs. W. M. Copeland, who has been critically ill, was unchanged. Despondency over his own poor health and his mother's condition was given as the cause of the man taking his life.

A suicide verdict was returned by a justice of the peace following an investigation of Mr. Copeland's death.

Books of the bank are in good condition, the county attorney and bank officers said today.

Bill To Allow Boxing Downed Under Ruling

Measure Becomes Dead Issue As Action Invoked Tuesday In House; Favored Amateur Championship Contests

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 19. —The bill to legalize amateur boxing became a dead issue in the legislature today when the 72-hour ruling, prohibiting consideration of house bills on second reading 72 hours before adjournment, was invoked against it. The bill had been pending on the suspension calendar for weeks but proponents were unable to get it up until late this morning.

The bill would have permitted non-profit associations to stage championship amateur boxing contests and charge admissions. Under the present law it is a felony to charge admission to a boxing exhibition. Contestants under the bill would have been rewarded with medals or trophies. An attempt to amend the bill by repealing the statutes prohibiting professional prize fights was partially blamed for the delay in the vote. The Amendment was offered by Representative McCombs of Dallas who claimed professional prize fights were not as brutal as wrestling matches and that the average wrestling match made the Dempsey-Tunney fight look like a "pink tea affair." The amendment was ruled out of order.

The point of order against consideration of the bill after noon was made by Representative Forbes of Weatherford, militant phoribitionist and prize fight and Sunday motion picture show opponent. Forbes said he was prepared to fight "to the last ditch" against the bill, terming it the opening wedge to bring back professional boxing. He claimed the amateur boxing bill was a "wolf in sheep's clothing."

Extra Session Rumblings Are Heard Tuesday

Believe That Agreement Can Be Made On Appropriation Measure Before Session Is Brought To Close

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 19.—Rumblings of a special or an extended session were heard frequently in capitol corridors today as the legislature settled into the home stretch leading to adjournment at noon Friday.

Two proposals were pending in the senate, one calling for an extension to May 29 and the other proposing that the houses stand recessed from May 22 to June 22 and resume deliberations on bills not acted upon at the end of present session. Doubt was expressed by several members in both the house and senate that either proposal would get very far, it being reported there were 80 members in the house pledged to oppose any extension.

Agreement Seen

While several regarded a special session as likely, it was generally believed it would not be called before next fall if the appropriation bills were disposed of by the end of the regular session. Representative Sanders of Nacogdoches, chairman of the house appropriation committee, said he believed agreements would be reached on the appropriation bills in time for action before Friday noon. The house today suspended the 72-hour rule to permit consideration of senate bills on second and third reading. With the adoption of the suspension approx-

Hawkins Trial Is Moved Here

Change Of Venue Is Granted Man Charged With Slaying Of Father-In-Law; Case To Come Up In September

The third trial of Joe Hawkins, charged with the murder of his father-in-law, S. M. Hawkins, will be held in Lubbock during the September term of 99th district court, District Attorney Durwood Bradley announced yesterday.

Mr. Bradley was advised yesterday by Judge Kenneth Bain, of the 110th district court, that the defendant's motion for change of venue had been granted and would result in the removal of the case from Floyd county where it was last tried.

Hawkins first trial at Crosbyton resulted in a conviction and a sentence of 50 years in the penitentiary for the defendant. The jury's verdict was reversed by the court of criminal appeals. The second trial held at Floydada, resulted in a mistrial because the jury was unable to agree.

In both trials District attorney Bradley aided in the prosecution.

After hearing the various recommendations the conference adjourned at 1 p. m. to meet tomorrow at 4:30 p. m. when a digest of the plans will be presented by Mr. McKelvie as head of the standing committee which held a brief session this afternoon.

Excavation For Federal Building To Take 3 Weeks

Excavation work for the new federal building probably will be completed within three weeks, Louis Boos, in charge of the construction work, said yesterday.

Removal of dirt was started last week by H. A. McDaniels of Lubbock, who was awarded the excavation contract on a bid of about $3,500.

Favorable weather conditions and the lack of rock under the soil has enabled the work on the project to progress satisfactorily, Boos said.

Postpone Development Of Water System Expansion

City commission yesterday decided to postpone development of an extension to its water supply system, located on Fourteenth street, until later in the season.

"Marathon" Contests" Are Opposed By Legislators

AUSTIN, May 19. (AP)—Both branches of the Texas legislature today had voted against "marathon" contests.

The provisions of the bill were drawn to cover marathon dances, extended bicycle races and other physical and mental endurance contests.

Plaintiff In Libel Action Tells Version

Tears Halt Testimony Of The Chief Witness When Details Of Shooting Unfolded In District Court Here

Depositions Read

Lubbock Man Seeks $200,000 Damages For Alleged Libel In "History Of XIT Ranch" By J. Evetts Haley

IN A HUSKY voice and with tears in his eyes Fred Spikes yesterday afternoon in 99th district court told of the death of his two brothers, John and Dick Spikes, who were slain by a band of men at Mesa Redonda, N. M., January 21, 1902.

Spikes, who is asking $200,000 damages of J. Evetts Haley and the Capito Reservation Lands for alleged libel in Haley's book, "History of the XIT Ranch," was the chief witness for the plaintiff yesterday.

Tears Halt Testimony

His testimony was halted at times by his weeping.

Following the conclusion of Spikes' evidence, the plaintiffs' attorneys announced that the "plaintiffs rest." Spikes was not cross examined by defense counsel.

Defense testimony was opened with the reading of questions and answers in depositions taken in the case. Four had been completed when court recessed for the day.

Details of the fatal shooting of his two brothers and his own wounding were described by the plaintiff. He told of the returning of his party to Mesa Redonda on the day of the trouble. The first intimation he had of the presence of any men, other than his own party, was when 12 or 15 men appeared from behind a bank, he said.

Fell From Horses

When shots were fired John and Dick fell from their horses and he was wounded in the back as he rode away, Fred Spikes related.

Asked by G. E. Lockhart, his attorney, if he had returned to the scene of the shooting after it had happened, Spikes said no.

"Why did you not go?" asked his attorney.

"I was afraid that I would be waylaid and killed," he replied. He said that he was afraid "they would kill my brother's family also."

Spikes said he was unable to recognize any member of the band.

"How close were they when they

Lockhart Asked To Return To Austin

G. E. Lockhart, member of the state legislature from this district, who is engaged in a lengthy court trial here, was asked in a telegram yesterday from a personal friend and fellow legislator in Austin, to return there today and to vote on the proposed constitutional agnendment on the road bond issue.

The message said the bond issue vote was to be taken at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

"We have already voted three times on this," he commented. "I don't see much use in trying it again. The last time the vote was only 95 for the bond issue amendment. It takes 100 votes to pass it."

The bond issue plan, Mr. Lockhart said, "is the only way to build roads."

Lubbock county, he pointed out in conclusion, would have its "million dollar bond issue taken up."

More Than 400 Women, Including 11 Americans, Presented At Royal Court

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, May 19.—More than 400 women including 11 Americans tonight were presented to King George and Queen Mary in the first court of the season. Their majesties sat on their great golden thrones in the ball room of Buckingham palace.

Great crowds assembled outside the palace to get a glimpse of the debutantes and matrons as they lined up in glistening limousines some hours ahead of time.

Some of the excited debutantes spent their time during the long wait smoking or reading. Others opened the windows of their cars and talked to the onlookers and one of them was seen knitting.

Shortly after 9 o'clock the signal was given and the automobiles moved slowly toward Buckingham palace, which was gala dress for the occasion with flowers everywhere.

As the king and queen approached the ball room the lord chamberlain walked backward in front of them. King George was wearing a scarlet uniform and the queen's costume was of pink chiffon with pearls and diamonds in her corsage and pearls embroidered in her train. She wore a diamond tiara on her silver hair.

Snake's Neck Broken And Somebody Will Pay $250 For It, Says Trainer

(By The Associated Press)

BROWNSVILLE, May 19.—A broken snake's neck is going to cost someone $250 if "Snake" King is successful in collecting.

The snake trainer said here today that one of two pythons that escaped in Chicago recently and was recaptured, arrived in Brownsville with a broken neck. King was preparing to sue a railway company for $350.

He explained that the reptile was worth much more than that amount to him but that $350 was the maximum that could be collected.

King said if the snakes had been poorly packed and had managed to escape, he might have overlooked the snake's broken neck but he declared emphatically they were properly boxed and could not have got out.

"I believe," said he, "that someone saw the large boxes marked 'snakes' and thought they contained booze. Whoever he was probably decided the boxes were marked 'snakes' so no one would bother the shipment. When he tore open the box, and really found a snake, he left in a hurry without bothering to nail the box shut again."

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

NO WONDER men are less gallant than they once were purported to be. Over in Waterford, Ireland, the other day a young woman, who had just entered a bus, slapped the face of a young man who offered her his seat and exclaimed, "How dare you insinuate that I am a weakling."

* * *

There's one thing some women have got to learn and that is it is just as well for men to think they are weaklings whether or not they are. Just because of women like that the rest of us have such a hard time keeping men gallant.

* * *

SCORE FOR US

WE LIKE to find that sometimes Lubbock is up with the rest of the world, particualrly New York. In Walter Winchell's column the other day he quoted a story saying that it is making the rounds up there. And the story made the rounds here several seasons ago. It follows from Mr. Winchell:

* * *

A woman tiffed with friends over a bridge game. So she wrote to Mr. Work, the expert, who rates $300 or more for advice when he is lecturing. She asks him: "Is it proper for a player to complete the cut of the deck, or should the dealer complete it?"

* * *

Mr. Work responded that it was purely an optional rule, to be settled before the game by the players. He also enclosed his bill for $25. The woman was incensed. She went to see an attorney about the "exhorbitant fee."

* * *

The lawyer counseled: "Had you not asked Mr. Work for a personal reply by enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope, he would have answered you in his column in the paper, so $25 is not too much for a specialist's opinion. Pay him, or he can sue you. And before you go, madam, my fee is $10."

* * *

FLOWER EXCHANGE

MRS. FRANK WINN, 1314 Avenue M, wants to exchange chrysanthemums for snapdragons or geraniums.

THE REAL THRILL

TEN American debutants were received by King George and Queen Mary in historic Buckinham palace last night in the first of the social season's four court presentations. Nine American women will participate in the second presentation tonight and news of these presentations has been wired over the world.

* * *

And yet, small town West Texan that I am, that news gives me no particular thrill.

* * *

Ignorance of what society really means may be my general trouble but the idle life devoted exclusively to play appears about the most boresome existence imaginable. Clothes, parties and things of that sort are all right at times but not for all time. Stories of society and its activities have never aroused my interest as much as a story I listened to one day last week from a young woman who is homesteading a ranch out in New Mexico.

* * *

This young woman, Ethel Travis, is pioneering. She is doing a thing that most of us cannot do because we lack the background that is necessary. She's been teaching in the Bledsoe and Morton schools for several years and now instead of moving into larger schools, she is retiring to the practically uninhabited interior of New Mexico to live on a section of land in order that she may own it. Somewhere out there Miss Travis has found enough youngsters to form a school district and for the next three years expects to teach this school in order to make expenses.

* * *

She was in here last week and in response to my question concerning the proximity of her section to a town, said that one isn't so far away. "What do you mean by far away?" I then asked, and her reply was "Oh, fifty miles or so. That isn't far."

* * *

But she has always lived on a ranch. She knows the life and has a few head of cattle. In a few years I'm expecting to hear that she has a ranch out there somewhere and that she is making good. Living quarters are to be erected on her section this summer. A well is to be dug and then she will move in.

* * *

All of us can't be ranchers but she probably can and her plans were thrilling to listen to. These plans are not idle dreams, either, for she knows far better what it means to live out in that remote section than I do. It is the thing with which she is familiar.

* * *

Her story thrilled me more than all the stories of society put together. All these people make up the world but my interests are with those who are pioneering.

Twelve Counties In North Panhandle Have $8,500,000 Available In Bonds For Highway Paving; To Start Soon

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, May 19. — Twelve counties in the North Panhandle have $8,500,000 available in county bonds for highway construction.

By the time this amount has been matched by the state for the improvement of state highways, and the federal government gives aid on national highways, the fund will reach $20,000,000 A great deal of it will be spent this year, contracts already totaling more than $600,000. New paving contracts, which will represent the major part of the expenditure, have been let.

In Division No. 4

The counties lie in the northeast part of the Panhandle, in road division No. 4, and the completion of the program will form a connected network of highways from Randall and Potter counties north and east to the Oklahoma line. Completion of the work will give three paved routes between Amarillo and Oklahoma, ranging from 115 miles over state highway No. 75 to approximately 160 miles over the more northern route by way of Stinnett, Spearman and Perryton.

Between four and five million dollars already had been spent by half a dozen of these counties before the present program got underway.

Division No. 5 to the south of the 20 counties in the Amarillo division has more than half a dozen counties with similar construction programs under way and the Panhandle and South Plains region promise to lead the state in highway construction during the next three or four years.

Gray county leads the group in the amount of money available and contracts under construction and pending. The county recently voted $2,255,000 in bonds. More than $600,000 of that amount already had been spent, $164,276.64 is under contract and more than 12 miles of paving will come up before the next session of the state highway commission.

Wheeler county, with a bond issue of $1,000,000, has four contracts under way that total $166,000. Hutchinson county's bond issue was $1,200,000 and much of it is still available, although the county has 15 miles of paving. A $13,127 project was recently completed.

Carson county, where bonds in the amount of $1,000,000 were voted several years ago, is nearing the completion of its roads with considerable money left over. A $17,000 contract is ready for state acceptance.

In Potter county, where the original bond issue was more than $1,000,000, about $3,000,000 is still available and a $22,000 contract is under way.

Bond issues and contracts in other counties include:

Hemphill, available $700,000; under contract $55,914; Ochiltree, bonds $700,000, recently completed $23,935; Roberts, bonds $300,000, under contract $88,749; Randall, bonds $250,000, under contract $30,793; Handsford, bonds $240,00, recently completed $26,455; Lipscomb, available $450,000, no contracts; Moore $250,000 available, no contracts.

Carson has 64.7 miles paved, Potter 56.6, and Randall 14 miles.

Hoover Would Save Millions

Governmental Economy Program Seeks To Save From Between $125,000,000 And $150,000,000 Next Year

WASHINGTON, May 19. (AP) — President Hoover expects to save between $125,000,000 and $150,000,000 next year in his government economy program.

Representatives of all administrative branches, including the smallest commissions, will motor to the president's Rapidan mountain retreat before the program outline has been completed. Two departments, interior and war, already have had their budgets scanned in the first of the week-end conferences.

In the war department a decision to abandon between 20 and 30 army posts and concentrate military activities will be the major change.

Since President Coolidge's economy program centered in the interior department, officials of that branch could find ways of saving only about $4,000,000 next year. They look for more substantial reductions in the two following years, however, bringing the total for three years to about $17,000,000.

The need for strict economy in government operations was realized keenly by President Hoover soon after income tax returns began to show a heavy falling off as a result of the business depresion.

The chief executive ordered that no public project which furnished employment be halted.

Three of the largest and most expensive of the government departments are scheduled for examination during the next three weeks. Treasury, postoffice and agriculture bureau heads have been instructed to be ready to discuss their activities with the president at the Rapidan.

Truck Drivers Continue Trip

Nine Stopped And Are Made To Reload Trucks With 10 Bales Of Cotton Each; Is First Action Under New Law

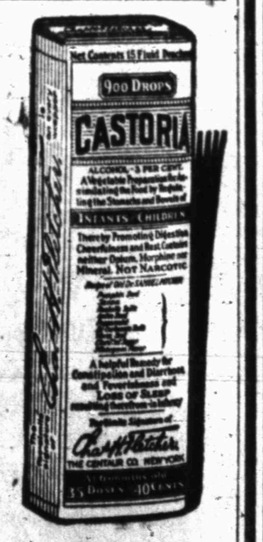

FORT WORTH, May 19. (AP)—The nine truck drivers who were stopped here yesterday while taking a consignment of cotton to Houston were permitted to continue today after reloading the trucks with ten bales each.

When stopped by state highway officers, the trucks were loaded with 158 bales of line cotton. Each truck carried from 16 to 22 bales, it was stated.

No charges were filed against the men because the arrests were made in the city limits of Fort Worth, it was said.

It was believed to have been the first arrest under a new law, signed last Wednesday by Governor Sterling, which prevents trucks carrying more than 20 bales of compressed or 10 bales of uncompressed cotton.

Castoria... for CHILDREN'S ailments

ARE you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or for the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish spell, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so.

You can tell from the formula on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

On Lubbock's Hospitality

WEST TEXAS has always been known for its hospitality.

In the early days of this section when vast ranches dotted the range and it was three weeks between houses, visitors and strangers were always welcome at any place they stopped. Their horse was fed and they were offered food and rest for as long as they desired to remain.

"Howdy Stranger," was a universal greeting in West Texas.

Not so long ago, officials of Lubbock and Chamber of Commerce leaders realized that this old spirit of the west was waning due to the rapid advancement in the development of this section. They determined that western hospitality should not fall under the march of progress as has many other phases of the old west.

The "Howdy Stranger" expression and idea was refreshed in the minds of Lubbock people. Lubbock soon became known for its fine spirit of hospitality and visitors began to take notice of the friendliness of its citizenship. Word spread over the state and surrounding area of Lubbock's hospitable reputation.

The past week, approximately five thousand Texans, the majority of them West Texans, found that Lubbock was living up to her reputation. Visitors on every hand complimented the fine spirit shown by Lubbock's citizenship, city officials, police, C. of C. leaders, hotel, cafe and service station employes.

"It was one of the smoothest conventions I have ever seen," one of the directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce declared as the final activities of the convention were brought to a close.

And Lubbock continues to make further claims toward the title of "The Friendly City," thanks to a wonderful citizenship.

This week, West Texas golfers gather here for their annual tournament and May 25 will find approximately 600 retail merchants and secretaries here for their state gathering. A fortnight later, officials and members of the Texas League of Municipalities meet in convention here. Later on the district convention of the American Legion will convene in this city. Fall will find more conventions, the annual South Plains Fair, the West Texas Press association, the State Federated Women's clubs and several other organizations gathering in Lubbock for conferences.

Lubbock has ample opportunity to prove its reputation as a hospitable community.

NEW GOSPELS OF DIET

Man is what he eats. Such is the contention of a food expert who sees in diet the supreme test of national greatness. "The manifest destiny of the race," he says, "is more a matter of dinner than of democracy." This is a striking way of putting it, though perhaps exactness has been sacrificed to rhetoric. He lays great emphasis on the right kind of food, and discourses learnedly on protein, vitamines and the other elements familiar in the jargon of the modern dietician. But "the right kind" appears still to be more or less a matter of opinion. It would be interesting to learn if the general health of the race has really improved since we began to fuss so much over what we eat.

Many gospels of diet have come and gone within the memory of living men. There are fashions in food as in other things. Is the prune essential to health and happiness? Are breakfast cereals the most potent conservers of digestion? What are the virtues of vegetables; spinach and parsnip particularly? Are coffee and tea a blessing or a bane? Should milk and eggs grace the table at every meal? These questions will be answered by the experts variously. Almost everyone has some exclusive remedy for human ills. Yet any number of offensively healthy persons go on eating pretty much what they like.

More milk seems to be the main contention of this adviser. There is no doubt that milk is healthful. But there are thousands who drink it seldom and show no evil results. May not a heroic race be bred on other fluids? The Italians are signally sound physically, and a large part of their menu is bread and wine. Those who regard pork and veal with aversion should not go to Germany. But the Germans are stout men of their hands too. The tradition of the Yankee farmer—fried salt pork, baked beans, raised biscuit and the like—causes each particular hair on the head of the dietician to stand on end like quills upon the fretful porcupine. And yet New England bred a sturdy stock in the old unregenerate days.

Dogmatizing is dangerous in most cases. Good food unquestionably is a benefit to the individual or the Nation. But what is good is still a matter of debate, despite the experts.

Little girls are punished for making faces. But not when they grow up?

If dancing makes the feet larger we soon will be a broad-shouldered nation.

Practical Health Problems

FISH TAPEWORM

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

An increasing number of infestations of the human being by fish tapeworm is being reported in medical literature. There are many diseases transmitted to man through the medium of insects, fish and animals.

Recently Drs. I. Pilot and I. M. Levin accumulated the records of 21 cases of children infested with fish tapeworms and noted the not at all surprising fact that 16 of the 21 children were Jewish.

The reason for the preponderance of Jewish children in such cases is the popularity of gefuelte fish as a dish in the Jewish cuisine. This dish is made by mixing practically raw fish and properly flavoring it. Indeed, a great many cases among adults have occurred in the housewife who testes the fish during the course of preparation to make sure that it is properly seasoned.

Twenty years ago, Dr. A. S. Warthin predicted that the numebr of cases of this condition would increase because of the infestation of fish in the Great Lakes with tapeworms brought to this country by natives of Scandinavia.

The fish commonly used in the preparation of gefuite fish are lake trout and pike, Buffalo fish and carp. Fish from the Canadian lakes of northern Minnesota have been shown to be infested.

In the process, the eggs of the tapeworm, passing through the bowels, get into the water. They burst in from nine to 12 days when they hatch out and are then picked up by a form of vegetation, which, in turn, is eaten by the fresh water fish. The larvae pass through the stomach wall and develop into a worm-like structure, which lodges in the organs and muscles of the fish.

If the raw or poorly cooked fish is then eaten the adult tapeworms form in the intestines of man, fox, cat, bear or any other animal that happens to eat the fish. Young children are apparently easily infested.

The treatment of tapeworm infestation in the human being involves essentially the giving of a cathartic mixture followed by a preparation of a drug called aspidium which causes the death of the tapeworm. It is then passed promptly out of the body.

Safety Demands Payment

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Senator Robert B. Howell of Nebraska insists, not only that Uncle Sam should stand for every cent he has coming to him under the terms of his present agreements with his European war debtors, but also that it behooves him to settle his own bill as fast as he can, for American participation in the world conflict.

Senator R. B. Howell

As had generally been expected, European maneuvering for cancellation, or at least further reduction of America's war-time loans to foreign governments was an important feature of the International Chamber of Commerce's recent session in Washington.

Senator Howell has no illusions on this subject. He says frankly that, sooner or later, he has no doubt Europe will euchre the United States out of the greater part of the sums due her, even on the very easy conditions of the settlements accepted by the Washington government with those of the allied powers. What he does contend is that America has every right to make defaults in the payment of these perfectly legitimate obligations just as uncomfortable as possible for the defaulters.

• • •

UNCLE SAM'S liquidation of his personal war indebtedness is a matter which naturally did not figure in the International Chamber of Commerce's conversations, for the reason that his borrowings were internal. That is to say, he owes the money to himself. Nevertheless, he issued bonds for it. A comparatively small number of Americans hold them and the whole population has to be taxed to pay them—interest first; then principal.

This subject, though not touched on by the international chamber, was the theme of considerable debate at the Atlantic City gathering of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which by a few days preceded the international meeting.

Indeed, in that it materially affects taxes, the government's handling of its internal indebtedness problem is of the utmost consequence to American business and the American people generally.

Cash was so plentiful for nearly a decade prior to October, 1929, that little fault was found with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon up to that time for proceeding at a very brisk rate with his debt retirement program. Since then, however, suggestions have been multiplying that there is no need for such haste.

• • •

FOR EXAMPLE, among prominent advocates of a more leisurely policy is as notable a financier as President Melvin A. Traylor of the First National bank of Chicago, who is held by many critics to have made the ablest address delivered at the international chamber's conference, a member of the committee on organization of the Bank of International Settlements at Basle, Switzerland, and something of a Democratic presidential possibility.

Included in the notes I took during a talk with Mr. Traylor in Chicago last March I find this paragraph:

"I have never believed that the theory was sound that this generation should pay the entire burden of our participation in the last war. There is much to be said in favor of the argumnet that while we are prosperous we should pay heavily. But it seems to me now, when we no longer are in that state, that we should, so far as within law is possible, provide for a slower amortization of our debt, with a consequent lifting of the burden of taxation. In my opinion, this alone would contribute more to a restoration of business activity than any other single step that could be taken."

• • •

SENATOR HOWELL has an entirely different idea. The senator is not a bank president, but it is recognized on Capitol hill that there are not half a dozen experts in the country who understand the war debt situation, domestic and foreign, as fully as he understands it.

"In a military sense," says the Nebhaskan, who, by the way, is an Annapolis graduate, "the United States never has entered a war prepared. We never shall. Military preparedness is inherently impossible under such a government as ours.

"In a financial sense, we never have entered a war unprepared. That is to say, we never have entered a war 'in the red,' as we are today—16 billions 'in the red.'"

• • •

"NOW A NATION can be militarily strong," continued the senator, "and yet, if it is financially weak, it will lose, in a war with a nation reasonably comparable with it in potential strength, if the latter, though militarily unprepared, is financially strong.

"This will happen because the militarily strong nation, lacking the wherewithal to maintain its strength, will weaken rapidly. As its strength wanes, its rival's will increase.

"Since it is practically certain that war never will find the United States militarily prepared, it is, for us, an absolute military necessity to be financially prepared. Otherwise we shall be prepared in no respect whatever, and one day war will catch us unexpectedly and we shall lose."

• • •

"SIXTEEN BILLIONS 'in the red,'" said the Nebraskan with much emphasis, "is not financial preparedness.

"We are in danger while we remain on the wrong side of the ledger.

"National safety demands the speediest possible wiping out of our debt.

"It is sound economics, besides."

THE UNIQUE "MAGANA."

The singular object known as the "Magana," or the "Clock of the Magician" consists of 13 carved beams, each supporting a bronze bowl projecting from the sculptured wall. Above there are 13 small windows from which hammers were once let down to strike the hours. The clock has long fallen silent, according to the popular Oriental legend, due to an evil spell cast upon it by the magician Sidi Maimun. The Mohammedan religious day has 13 hours, which explains the unusual feature of the clock. Just the same, the old guardian of the Bou Ananiya, who in vain warned me of the still potent evil spell, declared with pride that the "Magana" has no equal in the universe.

GENERAL PICHEGRU

The French general Charles Pichegru (1761-1804) who was a teacher of Napoleon I, for a whole year had only one hour of sleep a day (1792-93). This period coincides with Pichegru's campaign on the Rhine, when the exactions of the heroic campaign left the leader practically no time to sleep. Pichegru within a year was promoted to the rank of colonel, brigadier and general of division in rapid succession.

THE SMALLEST FISH

The Pandaka pygmea fish, found in the creeks of the Philippine Islands, is probably the smallest backboned creature known to science. It averages 6-16 of an inch in length, with a maximum length of 7-16 of an inch. The small, slender body is transparent, and the eyes are the only visible features.

CHAPTER 46

With the realization that he had escaped the death which had been prepared for him, Dick's mind returned to the danger which threatened Alison. He had no idea how much time had elapsed since her departure; the outer room into which he looked was almost in darkness. He took out his watch and was just able to read the time. It was quarter-past-four.

One thing was quite plain, that there was no time to be lost. But, though he had averted the danger of suffocation, he was as far as ever from escaping from his prison. To attempt the door was hopeless, it was fastened with a bolt at least an inch in diameter. The hole in the wall was far too small to allow his body to pass, and there was no means of reaching the roof. He stood for a moment in thought and then an idea struck him. He had a small pen-knife in his pocket, and with this he began to attack the mortar between the bricks surrounding the opening. It was softer than he dared hope, and after a while he succeeded in removing one of the bricks. Three or four more, and he would be able to squeeze through.

It was maddeningly slow work but in the course of an hour he had contrived to widen the hole enough for him to crawl through into the outer room. Almost exhausted as he was by his recent experiences, the climbing of the gate seemed to him an insuperable obstacle. It was, however, an easier task from inside than from without; the battens to which the planks of the gate were nailed afforded him some sort of foothold. Painfully he clambered up, poised himself on the top, and prepared to descend. Then his bruised and torn hands relaxed their grasp and he fell heavily to the ground outside.

He lay for a few moments, half-stunned, then wearily picked himself up. A faint twilight still covered the moor, across which swept the rearguard of the gale, angry biting squalls, bringing a stinging sleet with them. He bent his head and staggered forward into the teeth of the wind.

His purpose was clear. He must reach Wells, and there get into touch with Dr. Weatherleigh on the telephone. He would know Alison's plans— the road she proposed to take on her return journey. Then the police could be told to look out for the car, and to take her to some place of safety—if only, by the time they were warned, it was not too late!

Dick dragged himself on, forcing his will to overcome the utter weariness of his limbs. Suddenly, ahead of him he saw a pair of lights. He stopped and peered anxiously towards them. There were no houses in that direction, he felt sure. Could this be some of the gang, returning to dispose of his body? He left the road and lay down behind some gorse.

The lights drew nearer and very soon Dick's ears caught the sound of a horse's hoofs. They drew nearer still, until Dick could make out the outlines of the advancing vehicle. It was the trap in which he had driven from the station the previous night.

Dick stepped from his hiding place, and tottered towards it. A cheerful hail greeted him, and he heard the voice of the landlord of the Anchor and Hope. "Is that you, Mr. Penhampton?" he said. "We've been terrible anxious about you since you didn't come back to catch the train. Thought you'd got lost in the storm, mostlike. Hearing you talk to old Gaffer Dule last night I thought as how you might have come over this way. Jump in, sir, and I'll drive you back."

Dick approached the trap and clambered wearily in. Then, for the first time, the landlord noticed his condition, and uttered an exclamation of concern. "Why, whatever have you been doing of, sir?" he inquired.

"Had an accident," replied Dick briefly. "Fell down one of those old shafts, and had a devil of a job to get out. Now I must get into Wells as fast as ever you can drive."

"You were lucky to get out at all,

Delving Into Background Of Cattle Industry Brings Fame And Fortune To J. Evetts Haley; Working On History

Delving into the background of the cattle industry, which he learned first hand as a cowboy, has brought fame and some fortune to J. Evetts Haley, a member of the history department of the University of Texas. He is working now on a history of the late Colonel Charles C. Goodnight, known as the "daddy" of the Panhandle and of the cattle industry in this section.

At the same time he is starting work on a history of the Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers association, having been made official historian of that organization March 19 at the Corpus Christi convention.

Punched Cattle

Young Haley "punched cattle all over the Midland country," he said in discussing his work. Born at Belton, in Bell county, his parents came to West Texas when he was a boy.

"I was reared around Midland," he said. "Attended high school there, punched cattle and got my first taste of this work."

He attended West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon and was graduated in 1925. Then he attended the University of Texas and received his M. A. degree a year later.

"I did not begin the professional side of historical research until I had graduated from Canyon," he said. "I was made field secretary of the Panhandle-Plains Historical society and served in that capacity for about two years."

It was during that time that the Capitol Reservation Lands engaged him to write a history of the XIT ranch, the most famous historical cattle ranch in West Texas.

This work consumed about two years. It brought young Haley back to his earlier work, that of a cowboy and range rider. He went and talked to old-time cowboys of the range and gathered their stories about the half century of the XIT. Having lived on the ranch he naturally knew something about its traditions. But he gathered together the pieces to make the whole picture.

An incident in this history forms the basis of a suit now being heard in district court concerning the Mesa Redonda of New Mexico, then a territory, and the long struggle between cattle rustlers and the large ranch owners and their cowboys.

From the position of field secretary to the history department of the University of Texas was the next step. This opened a wider field for historical and investigation.

While with the Panhandle group young Haley assisted preparing and publishing two v for that organization. The b the first one he has publishe

Texas Rangers To Face Racketeers

Texas Legislators Decide To Play Safe In Plans For Law Enforcement By Increasing Force Of Rangers

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, May 19—It will be ranger vs. racketeer in Texas if legislative plans pan out, and if the wily racketeer decides to move to Texas.

Both branches of the legislature have voted to increase the ranger force, but neither has yet concurred in the other's plan.

The senate voted to increase the force by 30 members, thus running the total to 62. The house decided the force should be made up of 46 members. Legislators thus indicated there was quiet a demand for an increase in the force.

Legislators talked about the gangster and the racketeer of Chicago when the house began consideration of a proposal to increase the Texas ranger force. Representative Harry Graves of Georgetown stated Chicago had declared war on the gangster, and urged that Texas should play safe, and be prepared in case Chicago's underworld characters, fleeing to another clime, chose to try Texas.

Members of the house said the gangster wouldn't make a stand against a Texas ranger.

During the discussion it was brought out that Texas had provided for a ranger personnel of 36 men, but at the time there were but 32 in the service. Members were also reminded, should the increase in the personnel be made, the practice of handing out commissions would be stopped.

In addition members were told that W. W. Sterling, adjutant general, said the rangers were the only means of preserving law and order in Texas oil fields.

Pistol Dealers Are To Be Taxed

AUSTIN, May 19. (AP)—The house today passed a bill to levy an occupation tax of $10 a year on dealers in pistols and revolvers. Such dealers have been escaping the high sales tax by "leasing" the weapons for long terms, according to Rep. Turner of Madisonville, author of the bill.

A bill to establish an agricultural experimental station in East Texas was engrossed but a motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill failed.

The house passed a bill to place companies and corporations dealing in securities who do not come under the banking and insurance laws, under supervision of the state banking department. The bill has been passed by the senate.

Match Play To Begin Friday; Finals Sunday

Prizes Announced For Winners And Runners Up In All Departments Of Tournament As Local Concerns Donate

While the tournament proper does not begin until tomorrow, officials of the Lubbock Country club, host member to the West Texas Golf association in its seventh annual tournament, announced yesterday that a special qualifying round for Lubbock players would be held this morning. All Lubbock golfers who plan to enter the tournament are requested to register with the officials at the club house this morning and turn in an 18-hole score. Tomorrow those who qualify in the preliminary round today will enter the qualifying round with the visiting golfers.

It is thought that more than 50, perhaps 100 local golfers will enter the qualifying round today. Due to the enrolling of the Meadowbrook Golf club as a member of the W. T. G. A. and the consequent addition of local men to the register it will be necessary to hold this initial qualifying round, officials said.

Entrance fees and entries from five additional clubs were received yesterday, swelling the number of club entries to date to 24. It is thought that at least ten more member clubs will send entries, waiting until the last minute to file entries. Lamesa, San Saba, San Angelo, Post and Midland entries came in yesterday.

Among the early arrivals for the tournament were Bob Scott of Colorado City and Ellis Cowden of Midland, both of whom played over the Country club course yesterday.

Prizes Announced

An imposing list of prizes for winners and runners up in the tournament was announced yesterday by Wesley Read, president of the Lubbock Country club. Approximately 300 golfers are expected to enter the tournament here. After the qualifying round Thursday, four flights of 32 players each will enter match play.

Preliminary matches will be held Friday and Saturday, with finals in all flights and for the W. T. G. A. championship slated for Sunday at the Lubbock Country club.

Nineteen prizes for the champion, consolation winners and runners up in each flight, for medalist and for the driving contest winner have been subscribed by as many local firms. Approximately $300 in prizes will be awarded, President Read stated.

Medalist Prize

The medalist in the qualifying round will receive a large silver loving cup, fully engraved. The winning team will be presented with a silver and mahogany plaque. To the winner of the W. T. G. A. tournament will go a large silver trophy, a statuette figure of a golfer in driving position. Other prizes are as follows:

First flight: runner up, silver sandwich tray; consolation winner, leather golf bag; consolation runner up, silver beverage mixer. Second flight: winner, silver pitcher; runner up, silver loving cup; consolation winner, glasstone bag; consolation runner up, toilet set.

A gold wrist watch will be awarded the winner of the driving contest.

The following firms have subscribed donations of prizes and money for prizes for the tournament: Anderson Bros., jewelers; Nislar Hardware Company; Hemphill-Wells Company; Bowen's Drug stores; Wylie-Jarrett Drug company; J. C. Penney company; Sherrod Bros., hardware; City Drug Store; Carter Houston company; Meinecke Bros., hardware; Hogan and Patton, Lubbock Hotel; Avalanche-Journal Publishing company; Hilton Hotels of Texas; First National bank; Citizens National bank; Lubbock National bank and Rothenberg-Schloss Cigar company of Kansas City, Mo.

Wanderling Will Make Plans For Local Entry In New Panhandle Loop

Lubbock will have organized baseball this season; its team a member of the National Baseball association, with a professional team and a schedule of 100 games, half of which will be played at home—provided a sufficient number of Lubbock business men show enough interest in offering support to the proposed organization.

The Panhandle Professional Baseball league has already been organized, with Lubbock, Amarillo, Pampa and Plainview comprising the league. Teams in each of the three other towns have already been organized and are ready to start training. The clubs in Plainview, Pampa and Amarillo have been underwritten by business men and league fees already accepted.

To Play Night Games

Harry Wanderling, a power in the Western League, Western Association, who helped to organize the West Texas League in 1928 and who has recently organized the East Texas League, arrived in Lubbock yesterday to take over the local situation. He holds the franchise for a professional baseball club here and will act as manager of the team. With long years of professional experience behind him and with quite a record as an organizer and manager, Wanderling has been especially recommended for the local job by J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas League and president of the newly founded Panhandle League.

Wanderling interviewed various leading Lubbock business men yesterday and reported that it had been suggested by the local men that a stock company be formed which shall own and control the Lubbock team. At the end of the season the team and all park equipment, including lights that will be installed for night play, will be turned over to the stock holders who shall use it again next season. Wanderling himself will provide a team, bringing to Lubbock an outfit which he says will win. All local baseball players will be invited to try out, though it is not likely that more than two or three will stick. Raymond Marshall and Ed Hambright are likely prospects for positions on the local team.

Only night games will be played in the Panhandle League, with the possible exception of Sunday night. The schedule calls for opening games between Lubbock and Plainview in Plainview on June 10 and 11, with return games here on June 12 and 13. Fifty games will be played at home, with the gate receipts being split on a 50-50 basis, Wanderling stated.

Wanderling will continue his investigations today, returning to Amarillo probably toward the latter part of the week to report his findings. It is believed that the league will be a success this season, founded as it appears to be on sound principles and with experienced baseball men backing the project.

Sad Sam Burton, Jimmy Kitts Offer Cage Course Here As Part Of Coaching School Conducted By Wade, Phelan

"Sad Sam" Burton, famous all over the Southwest as coach of basketball at West Texas State Teachers college at Canyon, will offer a course in basketball theory and playing at the Wallace Wade-Jimmie Phelan coaching school here in August, Coach Pete Cawthon of Texas Tech announced yesterday. It has been previously announced that Jimmie Kitts, nationally popular high school basketball coach of the Athens High school Hornets, would offer a brief course for high school coaches attending the school here. Kitts will confine his lectures to two days, holding open principally for high school mentors.

The signing of Burton and Kitts to teach basketball courses at the school here completes a faculty of athletic advisors that would be hard to beat anywhere. The combination of Wade and Phelan, head coaches at Duke University and the University of Washington respectively is one that is outstanding and bids to bring coaches from all parts of the United States to Lubbock for the school, August 3 through August 15.

Coach Burton's West Texas Buffaloes have been the outstanding cage teams in the T. I. A. A. the past ten years, winning championship nearly half of the time. They recently closed a highly successful season to win the T. I. A. A. championship. Jimmie Kitt's Hornets have twice won the national high school title and have been prominent in high school and amateur basketball tournaments for the five years of Kitts' service.

Joe Turnesa Leads United States Entry In Leeds

LEEDS, Eng., May 19. (AP)—Joe Turnesa turned in a record breaking 69 for the Sand Moor course today to lead the qualifying round of 170 in the $5,000 Ledes professional tournament but his co-player from America did not fare so well.

Joe Kirkwood, trick shot artist of New York, seemed safe enough with a 74 but Horton Smith and Craig Manero, with 76's, will have to play much better tomorrow to possibly qualify for the select 32. Will Hunter, the fifth member of the American team, with an 84, practically had himself putted himself right out of the tournament.

Tied behind Turnesa in second place were Bert Hodson, the well known British professional, and Marco Churio, the Argentine star who played so well at Southport, with 70's.

Rev. S. F. L. Bernays' of Finchley, England church, has banned Saturday weddings.

American Lions And Rainbows Win Opening City Loop Games

Avalanche-Journal Team Held By Combination Club And Publishing Pitchers Hit Over Lot; Dillard Wins

Lubbock's city baseball league opened its season yesterday with two games drawing fair sized opening day crowds. The Rainbow team defeated the Santa Fe aggregation, 5 to 4, on the Tech field, and the American Lions, a combination of the American Legion and Lubbock Lions, defeated the Avalanche-Journal team, 15 to 10, at the park at 22nd Street and Avenue T.

Bill Davidson, heretofore known as one of the best sand lot hurlers in the city, blew completely up yesterday and loafed on the job to walk as many as three batters in succession at one time and gave away a 10 to 10 win to the Legion-Lions. Timely batting by the Lions knocked [illegible] off the hill and then jumped on Bumpas. Lefty Capps went in to finish the game in the fourth. Leach and Hopper did the battery work for the winners.

The game at the Tech park resembled a baseball contest in a number of ways. Manager Bill Hargrove's Santa Fe boys had one big inning, the fourth, to drive in four runs, but the Rainbows scored twice in that frame after having gained a 3-run lead in the third to win the game. Cooper and Ratliff for the Santa Fe club allowed only three hits, Ratliff being touched for a single bingle in the two innings he worked, but numerous errors paved the way for more runs than should have been recorded. Each team committed five mistakes on the defense. Dillard went the route for the winners, giving up four hits in five innings.

Only one game is scheduled for today. The Texas Utilities team will meet the Wholesalers on the Tech field at 6 o'clock this afternoon.

Voight To Fourth Round In England

BY FRANK H. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

WESTWARD HO!, DEVON, Eng., May 19.—George Voigt today advanced to the fourth round of the British amateur golf championship as the sole survivors of the delegation of fifteen American golfers.

The shaky manner in which Voigt today eliminated J. R. Abercrombie, middle aged Liverpool business man, 2 and 1, caused his championship stock to drop several points.

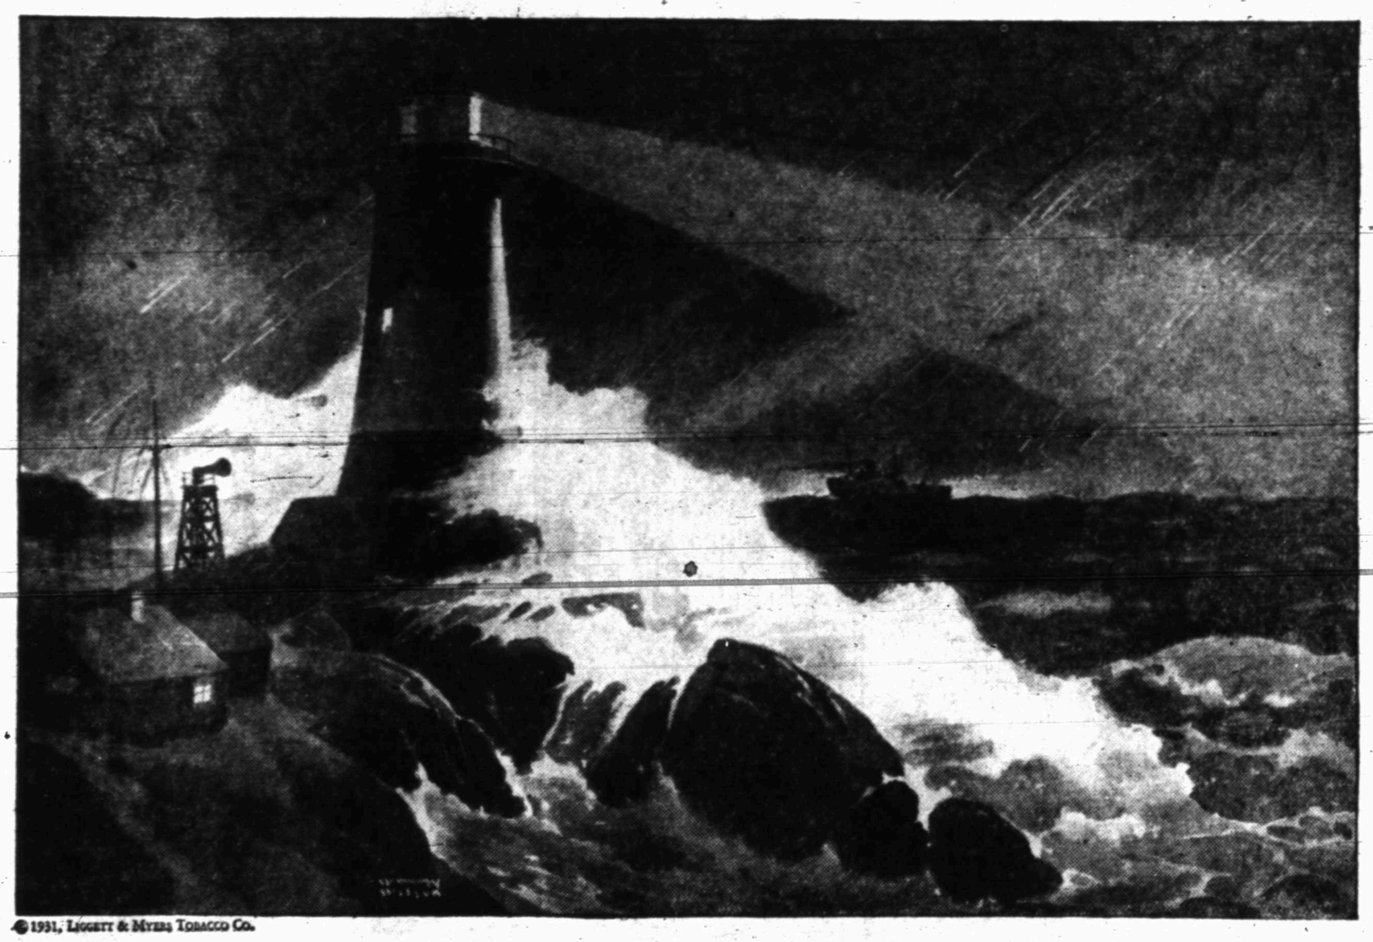

With the field reduced to 32, Voight faces two matches tomorrow, the first against Bernard Darwin, the golfer-writer, and the second, if he wins, probably against Young Syd Roper, who put up a great fight against Bobby Jones at St. Andrews last year.

If Voight dispatches both he will be in the quarter finals among the last eight tomorrow night.

St. Louis golf fans are making a determined effort to bring the 1931 P. G. A. tournament to their city.

'Up in this bird's nest of a turret, or breasting the tides of a crowded city street, one welcomes the company of a good cigarette. And a good cigarette means good tobaccos. What smokers taste in Chesterfield is the aroma of riper, milder, better tobaccos, blended and cross-blended to bring out their finest flavor and fragrance.

FOR NINETEEN years, our Research Department has kept intimate touch with every new development of Science that could be applied to the manufacture of cigarettes. During this period there has been no development of tested value or importance to the smoker which we have not incorporated into the making of Chesterfield cigarettes.

JUST DRAGGED AROUND, WEAK

When In This Condition, Kentucky Lady Took Cardui and "Improved So Much."

"I believe it will strengthen and build one up, and help in many ways," writes Mrs. J. R. Clark, of Hopkinsville, Ky., in referring to Cardui, a medicine long used by women and which helped Mrs. Clark as described below:

"A few years ago," she says, "I was in a very weak, run-down condition. It is hard to describe how bad I felt. I know I was sick, for I did not feel like doing my work. I just dragged around. I was getting nervous, and knew I must do something to keep from getting sick in bed.

"I had heard so much about Cardui, I decided to try it, and I haven't regretted it.

"I improved so much. I felt like a new person. I often wonder why we suffer when there are such good remedies as Cardui. I am glad I found it so that I can recommend it to others."

Let this recommendation help you get started on the road to better health.

Cardui has been in use by women for more than fifty years. E-111

Cotton Rallies Follow Opening Decline — Livestock Improved Tone In 11-Market Circuit — Grain Little Change In Prices Tuesday

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, May 19. (AP)—Cotton was fairly active today with rather broad price fluctuations. The general tone was steady except in the late trading when the market broke sharply and closed 7-11 points down for the day.

Lower cables than due and favorable overnight weather caused an easing in prices of 11-12 points in the first hour but as stocks were fairly steady and the weather map indicated some unsettled weather, the market recovered later in the morning. Shorts covered owing to the improved technical position and by the time demand was satisfied prices had advanced 19 to 20 points from the lows.

After mid-session prices dropped sharply in sympathy with weak stocks and made new lows 28 points under the highs as stop-loss orders were uncovered. Covering caused a rally of 6 points at the end and the close was steady at net losses of 7-11 points.

Port movement 2,377; for wek 8,697; for season 8,704,674; last season 8,471,134; exports 17,121; for week 43,697; for season 8,062,689; last season 6,253,972; port stocks 3,394,089; last year 1,729,772. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 45,622; last year 66,031. Spot sales at southern markets 9,530; last year 2,986.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—An opening decline in cotton was followed by rallies, further weakness and a partial recovery on the closing rally in stocks. The general markets closed steady at net declines of 6-13 points.

Part of the early buying was attributed to the firmer technical position following recent declines, which led to some buying for a rally as well as covering. Houses with continental connections were sellers here at times during the day and there may have been some selling on the reported failure of the cotton mills in Alsace.

Local Markets

These prices are furnished us by the following Lubbock business firms: Lubbock Poultry and Egg company, delivered Lubbock; Dairy Products—Bell Ice Cream company and Mistletoe Creameries; Grain—S. E. Conner Grain and Seed company, following prices being asked by Lubbock grain dealers. Cottons—Blocker Cotton company. All prices subject to change during day.

Brakes Are Applied To Stock Market Decline After Issues Touch New Lows

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, May 19. (AP)—The breaks were applied to the stock market's decline today.

Although many prominent issues touched new lows during the irregular price movement, strenuous selling pressure was absent and enough short covering and investment support filtered in to give the list a steadier tone. The composite embracing 90 issues closed unchanged, despite the break by the utility group to a new 1931 minimum.

The market was dull on the numerous rallies, but the upward movement filled as much time as the declines. Rails showed to much better advantage, notwithstanding the poor April earnings statement by Union Pacific. The weakest section in the decline of the last hour was the amusements and merchandising issues, but there was a flurry of covering at the close. Sales totaled 2,800,000 shares, the largest volume since May 1.

United States Steel Common opened an eighth lower, crossed par in a morning rally, but eventually broke to 97, a new low. The final quotation was 98 5-8, off 3-8. Many other leaders registered new minimums at one time or another.

American Tobacco closed 1-3 points lower.

Texas corporation profited by covering when the directors cut the quarterly dividend from 75 to 50 cents instead of omitting the payment entirely, as had been rumored.

Three Ride Flaming Plane To Earth; Escape Unhurt

ALBANY, Ny. May 9. (AP)—A pilot and his two passengers rode a flaming airplane a thousand feet to the ground at Lathams late today, landed upside down in a field and crawled out of the wreckage just before the gasoline tank exploded. The ship was destroyed but they were unhurt.

Jack McManus had left Utica for Rooosevelt field in the plane, a new one, and George Kaplan and Harry Jones, both of Utica, went with him.

Approaching the Albany airport the pilot saw flames licking along the fuselage. He was making 90 miles an hour and soon the fire was roaring. MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REPORT

KANSAS CITY, May 19. (AP)—Although the shipping demand continued narrow for the better grades of medium and heavy steers, there was an improved tone around the eleven market circuit in the lighter kinds. Yearlings ruled steady to 25 higher, while prices on weighty steers did not drop below Monday's closing levels. Good Texas steers showing a good deal of finish and weighing 1049 lbs. secured 7.75 at Kansas City and straight grassers were quoted downward from 6.10. ## Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, May 19. (AP)—Cash grain slow; prices little changed.

Quotations, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Wheat No. 1 ordinary hard 80 1-2@81 1-2.

Corn, No. 2 mixed 66@67; No. 2 white or yellow 69@70.

Oats, No. 2 red 35@36.

Barley No. 2 nominally 84@85.

Sorghums, No. 2 milo per 100 lbs. 1.33@1.35; No. 2 kaffir 1.23@1.25.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 19. (AP)—Frosts predicted for tonight extending from Canada down into northwest Kansas put backbone into grain prices today. There were also estimates that Australia's 1931 wheat acreage would show 30 per cent reduction compared with last year. Foreign crop reports indicated backward conditions in many countries, especially Russia, where spring seeding was admitted to be a fortnight to three weeks behind schedule.

Wheat closed unsettled, 3-8 to 1 cent higher, corn 1-4 to 1 1-8 up, oats 1-8 to 1-2 advance, and provisions unchanged to 30 cents down.

Threatened frost over part of the corn belt likely to delay planting gave independent strength to corn. Oats was affected largely by the action of corn and wheat.

The provision market as a whole was fearfully affected by official reports indicating little prospect that either foreign or domestic demand would improve during the next five months.

Closing indemnities — wheat, July 80, 80 3-4@81; Sept. 80 1-4 81@81 1-8; Dec. 83 1-4, 84 3-4. Corn—July 54 3-4@55; 56 1-8; Sept. 55 1-2, 56 3-4@57-8; Dec 46 1-2@49 1-4.

Libel Suit

opened fire?"

"It looked to me like about as far as from here (the witness stand) to the back of the court room."

After recovering from his injuries, Spikes said he returned to Crosby county. Later he came to Lubbock and in 1910 moved to Floyd county where he lived until January, 1912, when he returned here.

He said he married the widow of John Spikes, his brother in November, 1903.

Spikes said he first learned of the publication of the "History of the XIT Ranch" when told of its presence in the library at Texas Technological college by Guy M. Witt. He read a copy of the book, he said, reading a part of two chapters, in particular the one which referred to the "Spikes brothers."

"Hard To Describe"

Questioned as to how he felt when he read the chapter, Spikes said, "it was hard to describe. I just wanted to sink through the floor."

Since then, he testified, "there never has been a day that I have not thought about it." Reading the article caused him to be "put to bed for about two or three days," he said.

Mr. Spikes called the article "a slander against me and my family."

It was on the advice of his wife and his sister, Mrs. Temple Ellis, that he "went to see a lawyer," about "stopping publication of the book," he testified.

Mental anguish and suffering "worse than anything I ever went up against in my life," was caused, he said.

He said his nervous system was deranged, and he had a "tendency to feel that no one wanted to have anything to do with me." Since first learning of the book's existence, in May, 1930, he said he had "put over one little deal." His income, he said, was about $400 as compared to an average of $4,000 to $5,000 a year before.

Pictures Introduced

Pictures of the scene of the slaying were identified and introduced into the record.

Spikes denied that he ever had stolen a calf or a cow; that he was ever connected with a gang that had stolen cattle or that he had ever been a member of a gang which had had as its objective the stealing of cattle.

Depositions from the following witnesses were read: M. B. Goldenberg, former manager of a ranch in New Mexico; John W. Graves of Amarillo, W. I. Gatlin, formerly an employe of the LFD and "Long S" ranches; J. E. Bryan, Belen, N. M. All testified they knew the Spikes brothers.

Following reading of parts of two chapters of the "History of the XIT Ranch" five South Plains stockmen and business men who have known the plaintiff for many years, testified as to their knowledge of his reputation. In each case they gave a "good reputation" for honesty and sobriety and described him as a "peaceful, law abiding citizen."

Witnesses were: W. S. Posey of the First National bank; France Baker of the Citizens National bank; W. P. Fullingim of Lorenzo; L. O. Burford, and W. K. Dickinson.

"Yes, I read the book," France Baker, who said he had known Mr. Spikes for about 11 years, testified.

"Did the reading of the book hurt his reputation with you?" he was asked.

"No, it did not," testified the witness.

W. P. Fullingim said he had known Mr. Spikes in Crosby and Lubbock county for 34 years. Mr. Fullingim told of having heard stories of trouble of the Spikes boys in New Mexico.

L. O. Burford told of having heard "talk about the Spikes brothers."

W. K. Dickinson admitted he had heard the early day version" of the purported troubles in New Mexico.

Fred Spikes went on the stand at 10:35 in the morning and had completed the story of his life up to the slaying of his brothers when the noon recess came.

Bobby Jones Has Nothing On Reeves

"Cow Pasture Pool Special" — Antiquated Putter — Given Lubbock C.-C. Official By City Manager Rodgers

Bobby Jones has his favorite club, the famous "Calamity Jane," but he has nothing on Garnet Reeves, of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Reeves yesterday was presented with an iron which he claims is destined to become famous. He calls it the "Cow Pasture Poll Special." The club was given to the chamber of commerce publicity manager by W. H. Rodgers, city manager, following a brief formal ceremony.

True to its name, the club carries out the "cow pasture" motif throughout. An antiquated putter is mounted on a shaft of natural mesquite, about four feet long. Knots and thorns are very noticeable to the person who tries its balance. The club was prepared by the Lubbock fire deaprtment especially for Rodgers, but was passed on to Reeves because the city manager said there was little chance for improving his game with the instrument.

"Looks like a great club," Reeves said, eyeing the thorn-bearing mesquite handle suspiciously. "I think I ought to enter the West Texas golf tournament this week."

Guy Casey Is Honored Here

Member Of Lubbock Fire Department Given Banquet At Nineteenth Street Station; Twenty-Five Attend

Honoring Guy Casey, member of the department, on his birthday city officials, firemen and friends gathered around the banquet table at the Nineteenth Street fire station last night. Twenty-five were present.

Mayor J. J. Clements presided as toastmaster and each man was called on for a talk. The work of the department was praised by speakers.

Advancement Cited

Fire Chief W. E. Twitty cited the rapid strides being made in fire fighting and pointed out that merely putting the most water on a fire was no longer considered a fire department's best efforts. "Members of a fire department must know chemistry, engineering, physics, hydraulics, electricity, architerture and mechanics, nowadays in order to be good firemen," he declared. His remarks indicated the department was in need of a well informed fire fighting engineer.

Besides the honoree and Mayor Clements those present included: City Commissioners John Roach, George Benson and D. N. Leaverton, City Manager W. H. Rodgers, City Light Superintendent John Graham, Chief of Police John Lemond, City Building Inspector J. A. Pressley, A. B. Davis, B. Sherrod, Spencer Wells, J. D. Hassell, Roche Newton Arthur Casey, Luther Bynum, C. W. Ratliff and Firemen Pat Hood, Cecil Casey, Roy Spence, A. H. Parrick, Everett Hood, Mose Hood, Mark Long, Floyd Martin, Glenn Smith, T. S. Cranford and J. D. Johnson.

At the close of the meeting, a moment of silent tribute was paid to L. H. Simpson, first chief of the department who died recently, and Newell Bryan, assistant chief who died while fighting a fire about two years ago.

imately 400 house bills were sent into the discard. Included in the bills was one to strengthen the oil proration powers of the railroad commission and another to legalize amateur boxing.

Bitterly Opposed

The oil proration bill was introduced in a last minute effort to improve oil conditions. It was bitterly opposed by operators in the East Texas field.

Representative Davis' boxing bill was under consideration when the 72-hour ruling became effective. The motion to suspend the rule did not apply to house bills. Davis' motion to include pending business in the suspension was ruled out of order. The bill would have authorized non-profit organizations to stage championships and charge admissions. Contestants would have been rewarded with medals and trophies, cash prizes being barred.

An amendment by Representative McCombs of Dallas to repeal the anti-prize fight statutes was ruled out on a point of order. McCombs termed the Dempsey-Tunney fight as a "pink tea affair," compared to the average wrestling match.

Report Adopted

A free conference report increasing the personnel of the state highway patrol from 50 to 100 men was adopted by both houses. The report also provided that 20 license and weight inspectors could be used in patrol work, bringing the total personnel to 120 officers and men.

A last minute effort to bring up the highway bond issue resolution will be made tomorrow, Representative Hubbard of New Boston said. The resolution to permit the electorate to vote on the $212,000,000 bond issue constitutional amendment has failed of submission twice, the last time by only five votes. Several who supported the bond issue on previous occasions were reported to have switched over and indicated they would vote against it.

The house passed a senate bill to establish a state criminal insane hospital, adding an amendment to establish the unit in connection with the main prison plant at Huntsville. Other senate bills passed and sent to the governor were: Validing surveys of towns and cities to eliminate vacancy suits.

Authorizing the governor to lease prison land for drainage ditches and irrigation purposes.

Making throwing of "stink bombs" in public places a misdemeanor.

Wage Earners To Fight Cut

President William Green Of American Labor Federation Speaks At Convention Of Trainmen At Houston

HOUSTON, May 19. (AP) — President William Green of the American Federation of Labor today told the Brotherhood of Railroad trainmen in convention here that it is "the solemn duty of the wage earners of the nation to resist with all the power they possess the attempt of those banking interests who are seeking to enforce reductions in wages."

"Many representatives of labor," said Mr. Green in reiterating previous statements, "believe that a group of powerful banking and financial interests are attempting to enforce a general reduction in wages. They interpret statements recently made by banking representatives in favor of wage reductions as evidence of this fact.

"Not Coincidence

"Labor regards the wage reduction arguments offered to the public by the reprenentatives of these financial institutions in consecutive order as more than a coincidence. Reports have reached the headquarters of the American Federation of Labor that some bankers have refused to extend credit to manufacturers unless they reduced wages. This is coercion of a most reprehensible character."

Pointing out that the president, the secretary of the treasury, and many "large employers of labor" had made "strong declarations in opposition to wage reductions," the labor head insisted reduced wages, with the consequent lower standard of living, could exert only a negative effect.

He cited the bituminous coal industry as an industry where wages had been "reduced below a subsistence level" and said that industry was, nevertheless, "on the verge of bankruptcy."

"Poor Doctors"

"It is most extraordinary that bankers should demand that other industries become deflated, that wages be reduced and, as a result, employers and workers be reduced to the distressing, miserable economic level reached by the bituminous coal industry. Bankers have proved themselves to be mighty poor doctors in treating the economic ills of bituminous coal industry. They should not be permitted to prescribe for other industrial patients."

Concerning the view of some that declines in commodity prices should be considered in fixing the pay of labor, Green declared the "decline . . . does not correspond with the reduction in earning power which labor has sustained due to unemployment, either wholly or in part."

It was the responsibility of management, the federation president said, to "find ways and means of reducing commodity costs without reducing wages."

"Reduce production costs but build and strengthen the consuming market. Keep wages high and costs low."

Green said it was "gratifying" that many "influential employers of labor are standing with labor" and declaired "the greatest earning period in the history of industial America covers the time when wages were at their peak."

BACON HINTS

When cutting the rind from bacon, use scissors instead of a knife—it is much easier. Cook the bacon in the oven—it cooks evenly on both sides with no turning and the odor is also confined to the oven.

A COLLEGE COLUMN

By MARSHALL FORMBY, TECH CORRESPONDENT

AGGIES TO ELECT

Following a report of nominating committees, members of the Aggie club of Texas Technological college will elect officers for next year at a meeting tonight in the aggie building. Officers are selected twice each year and the next election probably will be in the winter term, next year.

Jim Williams is the retiring president.

LENO CLOTH WOVEN

Some leno cloth recently was woven in the textile department of the college. This was the first of this kind of cloth to be woven here and was designed by Winnifred Wardell, senior student in the textile department.

ENTERTAINED WITH PICNIC

Approximately 60 students attended the annual home economics picnic Monday evening at Boles ranch, southeast of Lubbock.

Ethel Green, home economics student, was chairman of the student committee preparing for the event. Mrs. Edna Buster was faculty advisor.

CHATFIELD WITHDRAWS

SPEAKS TONIGHT

Rev. O. A. Beckman of the St. Josephs Catholic church of this city will speak to the "Y" membership in room 312 of the administration building at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The speaker's talk will concern the element of Catholic faith. Students and faculty members are invited.

ENTERTAINS SENIORS

Dr. Jack Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, entertained Tech Presbyterian seniors last night with a picnic at Boles ranch.

WEAR NO SHOES

"Ride" in grammar school are not the only ones who go to school barefooted as several Tech boys attended school that way yesterday!

Newly initiated members of the "T" club organization of Tech lettermen, were made go to classes sans shoes with a basketball shoe around their neck. The students recently were received into the club after lettering on last winter's basketball team.

According to Aud Darr and Harvey Dunn it wouldn't be so bad if every one attended school that way.

TO POST NAMES

Names of students who have not returned grad books probably will be posted today, Registrar E. L. Dohoney indicated last week. He asked that all students return these books as soon as possible.

If the books are not returned a fee of $1 will be charged for a new one.

SMOKER IS TONIGHT

New officers will be elected at a Pre-law club smoker tonight. About 30 members are expected to attend and several important speakers will appear.

James Whitesides is president; Mendell Hughett is vice president; Solon Clements is secretary and reporter.

TO BE READY SOON

The annual catalogs of Texas Technological college will be ready for distribution about June. The bulletin will contain special information on subjects offered at Tech and announcements for next year.

More than 10,000 copies will be mailed out.

Nurses of Germany and England are exchanging visits.
