FRESH CLASH THREATENS BRAZIL'S NEW PEACE

Appointments Of Pastors Culminate North Texas Methodist Conference

NEW MINISTER NAMED TO FILL BURK PULPIT

Wichita Falls Pastorates Remain Unchanged In New Roster

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Seven Young Clerics Are Ordained in Impressive Ceremony

Methodist churches in Wichita Falls will retain their present pastors, under the direction of the C. A. Spragins, present presiding elder, during the coming ecclesiastical year, according to appointments at the North Texas conference in Greenville, made public by the Associated Press Sunday night.

Ministers to all five churches within the city, including Rev. Daniel Barron, assistant at the First Methodist church, were sent back to their post by order of the conference, dispatches said.

In Burkburnett, Rev. B. A. Allan was appointed to succeed Rev. Miles B. Hayes, present pastor. Ministers at Iowa Park, Electra, Archer City were retained.

The announcement of the appointments closed the annual North Texas conference in session since last Tuesday.

At the morning church services prominent visiting pastors filled pulpits and in each case addressed large congregations.

Reading of the appointments tonight followed a sermon by Dr. Carl C. Gregory, pastor of the First Methodist church of Dallas.

The afternoon session was taken up with devotional services and work of the cabinet with Bishop Boaz.

Directing laymen of the Oak Lawn Methodist church of Dallas voiced a protest when they believed that their pastor, Dr. D. Emory Hawk, was to be made presiding elder of the Dallas district, but their fears proved to be unfounded.

However, a new presiding elder will have to be appointed in this district, it was stated, to succeed Dr. O. T. Cooper, who has served the four-term limit. Dr. R. G. Good of McKinney also is to be replaced because of the term limit.

Memorial services in the afternoon included the roll call of members who have died during the year. They were: J. F. Alderson, P. C. Archer, J. L. Morris, S. M. Ownby and Collin McKinney. Biographies of these members will be printed in the conference Journal.

Impressive services were conducted for the ordination of seven young ministers, including Roy Alderson, E. P. Broyles, E. L. Craig, J. D. Barron, L. K. Bones and T. E. Harris. The conference lists 260 preachers, about 50 of whom are super-annuates.

Ministerial appoints were announced as follows:

Dallas district—Frank M. Richardson, presiding elder.

Dallas churches—Brandon Avenue, G. D. Durham; Brooklyn Avenue, W. F. Buckner; Centenary church, J. W. Slagle; Coch-

Officer Shot in Raid During Indian Fiesta

BANNING, Calif., Oct. 26. (AP)—Death joined the solemn dance to the dead on the Morongo Indian reservation, four miles from here today and brought to an inglorious end a week of fiesta.

Condido Hopkins, federal prohibition agent, and Oscar Olsen, a special officer, invaded the fiesta, walked past the grotesque effigies of departed ancestors, and went to Indian John Hyde's house in search of liquor.

A dozen Indians were in the house. They resented the intrusion of the white man. A shot rang out and Olsen dropped, struck in the heart.

CAMPAIGN FOR JOBS TO OPEN

Croxton to Seek Employment in Midwest

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Regional work of the president's emergency committee for employment will go forward tomorrow when Fred C. Croxton of Columbus, Ohio, arrives to begin the campaign for jobs in the Great Lakes and midwestern states.

While Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of the committee, was in New York, appealing for cooperation of industry, government bodies and the public, the working organization here continued to gather information on the situation throughout the states.

When the chairman returns Tuesday, Secretary E. E. Hunt expects to be able to show some concrete results of the campaign. In the meantime offers of assistance are being accepted from welfare organizations.

In that connection, Senator Glenn Republican, Illinois, in a statement today said he had learned in conferences with President Hoover and members of his cabinet that the federal government had a thorough and systematic program under way to relieve unemployment.

Federal building and construction projects, Glenn said, are being speeded up to the point where the amount of government money expended during this fiscal year, ending June 30, 1931, will aggregate more than three times the total of the money expended by the government in the last three fiscal years.

Woodcock to Personally Study California Field

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26. (US)—Col. Amos W. W. Woodcock, director general of the national prohibition bureau at Washington, is to conduct a "personal investigation" of liquor conditions in the southern California district.

Woodcock's visit here follows on the heels of the recent "prohibition school," conducted on orders of Washington as a preliminary to launching the "most smashing drive in the history of prohibition."

'Baering' Down On The News

With
ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

The reason for the Brazilian revolt shows that South American wars are getting more conservative if they must have a reason.

During the last election orders were given to chuck out all Democratic votes. They have those things down there too.

Now, a Democratic vote is something like a monkey's child. Not much to look at. But it's all his own.

We treat Democratic votes with respect up here. We always add them. Sometimes, we get real respectful and multiply them.

So Brazil elected a Republican. And that causes trouble anywhere.

Brazilian admiration of American men is shown in the slugging, shooting and looting in Sao Paulo.

They should also admire American women and get some alimony along with it.

War is war, and so is peace. King Boris got married in Italy and took 5,000 soldiers along with him.

Now, 5,000 soldiers isn't even a huddle when Mussolini is around. He furnished 15,000 more soldiers just to make the affair real private.

Jail or Deportation Faces Wealthy Youth

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26. (US)—Facing a forced return to Germany if he again escapes going to prison, Washington Spiegelberg, 23, member of a wealthy New York family, is to go before Judge Carlos S. Hardy tomorrow for sentence on check charges and as a probation violator.

Spiegelberg, who is the nephew of a former New York judge, was arrested here in 1927 on charges of issuing checks without funds. Recently he was re-arrested after having assertedly passed several worthless checks on downtown merchants.

Gene Howe, Flustered Over Tea With Mary Garden, Orders 42 Frock Coats

AMARILLO, Texas, Oct. 26. (AP)—There isn't a frock coat on sale in the entire Panhandle of Texas, so far as is known, so 42 of them were ordered yesterday by telegram from Chicago by an Amarillo clothing store.

Gene Howe, Amarillo editor who is to entertain Mary Garden at tea at his home Monday, Nov. 3, announced Friday that the men who had been invited would not be admitted unless they were dressed in proper style.

"It will be the most embarrassing experience of my life when I meet Miss Garden and will have to answer her questions as to my knowledge of music," Howe said today. "I dread it thoroughly, but Mrs. Howe is much pleased over it, as the tea, if it is not interrupted, will be the high light in her social career. She is afraid I will write something that will offend the opera star. She is fearful that Miss Garden will not come to our tea. I am fearful that she will."

Howe, it was recalled, precipitated a furor several seasons ago when he asserted in an editorial that the diva was "so old she teetered" and criticised an opera performance in Amarillo in which she sang. The singer made a pointed rejoinder and vowed never to visit Amarillo again. Recently, however, business men of the town effected a truce and obtained her consent to sing in concert in the Panhandle city next week.

PROBE OF LAND FILES FAILS TO REVEAL FRAUD

Suspended Official Calls Report a 'Ridiculous Whitewash'

CHARGES REVIEWED

Wilbur's Administation Of Oil Shale Holdings Given Praise

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Charges by Ralph S. Kelley that the interior department had permitted oil companies to get wrongful posession of valuable oil shale lands in Colorado, were said today by the department of justice to have been unsubstantiated by a study of government files and testimony of persons named in the accusations.

Meanwhile, Kelley issued a statement characterizing the department of justice report as a "ridiculous whitewash" and asserting that it "reeks with misstatements and misrepresentations."

Kelley Veteran Official

Kelley, for six years in charge of the Denver field division of the interior department, charged Secretary Wilbur and former officials with permitting oil shale lands to be illegally taken under government grant.

Kelley resigned Sept. 29, he said, in protest against the administration of the oil lands. Secretary Wilbur refused to accept the resignation and suspended Kelley pending an investigation which the cabinet members requested the justice department to make.

The investigation of Kelley's charges was made by Seth W. Richardson, an assistant attorney general. His report was transmitted to Wilbur today by Attorney General Mitchell.

Wilbur Upheld

In an accompanying note to Wilbur the attorney general upheld the interior department's administration of the oil shale lands.

"In looking through this report and the attached documents," he wrote, "I should say that there is more evidence to support the conclusion that you and your department have been exceedingly strict and exacting in resisting claims for patents than that you have been too liberal."

Richardson reviewed in detail each charge made by the former field agent and said records showed

Final Campaign Week Bodes Demo Gains Amid Crumbling Party Lines

By EDWARD L. RODDAN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (US)—In a maze of tangled issues, jumbled alliances, party bolting and conflicting claims of rival managers, the congressional campaign today swung into its final week.

Out of the confusing welter of claims and counterclaims the only admitted fact is that the Democrats will make substantial inroads into the Republican majorities in senate and house. Election returns on Nov. 4 will reveal if this swing will give the Democrats control of congress.

Regardless of the outcome, the campaign has given the country the gaudiest political show imaginable outside of a presidential year.

Party labels are being cast aside like worn-out garments to such unprecedented extent that party chieftains in both camps are willing to admit that anything may happen between now and election.

Bolter List Grows

The list of bolters exceeds even that of 1928 when the hectic contest between President Hoover and Al Smith saw an unusual crumbling of party lines.

In Massachusetts, a group of followers of the late Senator Henry Cabot Lodge are seeking the defeat of the Republican candidate, William M. Butler. Somewhat nettled by this disaffection, old guard leaders are hoping it will be offset by the desertion of Boston Democrats from the standard of Marcus A. Coolidge, Butler's opponent.

New Jersey offers the consoling spectacle from a Republican standpoint of Dwight W. Morrow being swept to overwhelming victory on a platform calling for a vote of confidence in the Hoover administration. At the same time Morrow stands for repeal of the prohibition amendment.

MORAN JAILED TO SAVE LIFE

Police Guard Safety Of 'Orphan' Gangster

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. (UP)—George "Bugs" Moran, orphan of the underworld, gangster without a gang, was jailed tonight by kindly authorities who hoped thereby to keep him from being murdered.

He was arrested at a Bluff lake resort, hurriedly arraigned in special court session on charges of vagrancy this afternoon, and then lodged in the safe, if somewhat uncomfortable, jail at Waukegan, north of Chicago, in lieu of $20,000 bond.

Col. A. V. Smith, state's attorney, asked the high bond so Moran would be assured of remaining alive in jail instead of following the deadly trail all the other enemies of "Scarface Al" Capone have taken.

Aiello Lies in State

While the hard-boiled Moran fretted and grumbled in his cell, the body of his millionaire partner, Joe Aiello, lay in state in a $11,200 silver bronze casket. Funeral directors obliterated as best they could the 72 machine gun bullet holes which had riddled the body.

Moran was morose. He knew nothing about the murder of Aiello by two nests of machine-gunners in Chicago last week, he said.

"Aiello was a double-crosser," Moran explained. "I kicked him out about eight months ago and I haven't seen him since."

When a detective asked Moran if he were "satisfied" over the slaying, Moran smiled.

Capone Blamed

The murder of Aiello was charged to Capone, who started this summer to remove all his rivals in the rich Chicago illicit liquor trade. Moran, Aiello and Jack Zuta were his chief competitors. First Zuta was killed in a southern Wisconsin summer resort, then Aiello was murdered, and Moran, said underworld information, was next on the Capone murder list.

Moran was arrested last week before Aiello was murdered. He was released on bonds totalling $60,000, then his partner was killed and Moran disappeared.

"Bugs" Boastful

"I'm not afraid of Capone or anybody else," said Moran when police told him they had arrested him merely to make sure he did not meet Aiello's fate. "You don't need to worry about my safety. Bugs Moran takes care of himself."

"Well, I don't care to have you make a battlefield of Lake county," replied Smith. "I'll have you and every other gangster arrested as often as possible."

Smith said unless Moran raises bond he will be held in jail awaiting trial indefinitely "for his own good."

Harry Payne Whitney, Capitalist And Sportsman, Claimed by Death

Scion of One of America's Wealthiest and Most Famous Families Succumbs to Pneumonia

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (UP)—Harry Payne Whitney, internationally famous millionaire sportsman, died tonight at the age of 58.

His death, which occurred at his residence on Fifth avenue, resulted from a complication of diseases, one of them being pneumonia. He had been in ill health for a year, but his illness took a critical turn only 10 days ago.

With him at the end were his wife, the former Gertrude Vanderbilt, famous as a sculptress and patron of the arts; his son, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, and his daughters, Mrs. G. MacCulloch Miller and Mrs. Barklie McKee Henry.

Famous at Polo

While Whitney's name was widely known for his sporting activities, particularly in horse racing, he was no less prominent in the banking world. He was a director of the Guaranty Trust company and head of the Whitney Realty company.

Up until about 1914 he was famous as a polo player and for the last 15 years had been one of the leading breeders of polo ponies and race horses in the world. He was a member of the famous "Big Four" polo team in 1909 and was on the international polo team from 1909 to 1914.

His horses have raced on both American and English tracks and he headed the list of winning owners for several years. He was vice president of the Saratoga association for the improvement of horses and vice president of the Westchester Racing association.

Puritan Ancestry

In addition to his horse racing interests, he was active in yachting. His other hobbies included the breeding of dogs and tiger hunting.

He came of Puritan ancestors, the first of the line, John Whitney, having settled in Massachusetts in 1635.

His father, William Collins Whitney, was secretary of the navy under President Cleveland. He was educated in private schools and was graduated from Yale in 1894. He attended the law school of Columbia university but dropped out to enter his father's business.

In 1896 he married Gertrude Vanderbilt, daughter of the late Cornelius Vanderbile, and at that time his father settled a fortune on him. When Cornelius Vanderbile died he left more than $8,000,000 to his son-in-law.

Oil Investor

Whitney was associated with the late Daniel Guggenheim in mining activities at one time, and was an investor in the Sinclair oil enterprises, including Teapot Dome.

He was a director of the Metropolitan Opera company and a member of many British and American clubs, including the automobile, Brook, coaching, jockey, Knickerbocker, university, lawyers, Meadowbrook, Metropolitan, New York yacht, polo association, racquet and tennis, riding, Royal Thames yacht, Hurlingham, turf and field, Piping Rock and whist.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

ILLINOIS BANK HEAD KIDNAPED

Capitalist Spirited From Palatial Home

GALVA, Ill., Oct. 26. (AP)—Earl Yocum, bank president and Galva's wealthiest citizen, was believed kidnaped last night from his baronial estate on the outskirts of the town in a daring coup that has aroused this staid farming community to fever pitch.

Although his disappearance was veiled in mystery, Sheriff Carl Nash of Cambridge county, when told the banker was last seen leaving the grounds in the company of two strange men who had lurked about the estate through the evening, pronounced it a kidnaping for ransom.

Scores of armed citizens, accompanied by officials, combed the prairies, towns and highways of Henry county but were unable to find trace of the banker or his purported abductors.

Mrs. Yocum told police her husband had driven his two small daughters to a moving picture show in Galva about 7 o'clock. He returned alone shortly after 7, she said, and as he left his garage was accosted by two men who asked the direction of a home in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Yocum said her husband volunteered the information and led the men down the driveway toward the street. When he had not returned at 9 o'clock she called the police.

The Yocum girls, questioned later, said a dark small sedan containing two men had been parked in the shadows near the Yocum estate as their father drove them into the town.

COUNTRY TORN BY WARFARE IN DANGER AGAIN

Tense Political Situation Promises Renewal Of Bloody War

VARGAS HAS CLAIM

Southern States Demand Army Leader Be Given Presidency

PONTA GROSSA, Brazil, Oct. 26. (AP)—Getulio Vargas, generalissimo of the Brazilian revolutionary armies, was invited today to assume the presidency of Brazil. The invitation was from the military junta controlling the federal government at Rio de Janeiro.

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 26. (US)—The peace brought to Brazil by Friday's overthrow of the government of President Washington Luis is tonight threatened by the divergent ambitions of the three revolutionary factions.

So tense is the political situation, as indicated by dispatches reaching this city, that it is feared the country, already torn asunder by three weeks of bloody civil strife, is about to be plunged into a new conflict.

The claim of the central revolutionary junta in Rio de Janeiro, which ousted the president by a bloodless coup d'etat, to authority to establish a provisional government is bitterly contested by military leaders of the south and north, whose soldiers spilled their blood on the battlefields in the same cause.

Vargas Ambitious

Dispatches from Porto Alegre, southern revolutionary headquarters in the state of Rio Grande do Sul, and Porto Grossa, Parana, field headquarters of the southern revolutionary armies, indicate that Getulio Vargas, governor of Rio Grande do Sul, is the choice of that section of the country for the vacated presidency.

Vargas' claim for the office of chief executive is far stronger than that of any other of the aspirants. He was defeated in the last general elections by Dr. Julio Prestes—an election, which Vargas' supporters charge, was carried by Prestes only through fraud.

The southern governor now regards himself as the logical choice for the presidency of a provisional government.

Stragetic Position

He is in a peculiarly stragetic position. At the head of an army variously estimated between 50,000 and 100,000 men Vargas is in control of Rio Grande do Sul, Santa Catharina and Parana. His troops have also occupied the southern section

Wichitan Hijacked By Trio at Ohio Street Underpass

Held-up at the entrance of the Ohio street railway underpass, Joe Brown, plumber, 312 Lamar was robbed of $35 by an unmasked trio, two men and a woman, about 10:45 Sunday night.

According to an account given Police Chief Frank Burns, Brown faced a drawn revolver when he alighted from his car after a minor collision under the pass. Brown said he was driving on the right coming toward town when the other car, going in the opposite direction, crowded in and made the crash unavoidable.

One of the three occupants of the other car drew a gun and demanded money after a dispute about the crash, he reported.

Police were seeking an adequate description of the machine and its occupants in an effort to trail the hijackers.

Officers Seek to Identify Man Held at Ralls as Theater Bandit

Sheriff W. G. Bralley, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Moody, cashier at the Majestic theater, and George Garrett, deputy sheriff, left about 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon for Ralls where they will seek to identify a man held there as the one who hijacked the Majestic theater here Friday night.

Information in possession of local officers indicated also that the man in custody at Ralls may prove to be one of those who last week kidnaped Garrett from his post in the Country Club Estates and carried him 27 miles into the country before releasing him.

According to reports from Ralls, the man held there was slightly wounded Saturday afternoon when he initiated a pistol duel with officers who sought to place him under arrest.

Approximately $160 was taken from the box office of the local theater Friday night shortly after 9 o'clock when a lone bandit thrust a pistol through the small opening at the cashier's desk and demanded Mrs. Moody's surrender of all cash on hand.

of Sao Paulo and are now in a position to strike at the city of Sao Paulo. In addition, Vargas is said to have the support of northern revolutionary leaders in the states of Parahyba and Minas Geraes.

His claim on the presidency was affirmed in a manifesto issued at Porto Grossa by Col. Gors de Monteiro. It said:

"Rebels in Rio Grande do Sul, Minas Geraes, and Parahyba will not recognize any other president."

North Dissatisfied

From the far north come other ominous dispatches. Gen. Juarez Tavora, commander of the revolutionary armies that swept the "elbow" states of Rio Grande do Norte Parahyba, Pernambuco, Alagoas, and Sergipe, has now definitely announced that he will not accept the orders of the Rio de Janeiro junta.

Tavora, now in the state of Bahia, has announced his intention of marching on the state capital, Bahia, and seizing the city "for the purpose of guaranteeing compliance with the objects of the revolution."

The military commander of Bahia already telegraphed Tavora that he is holding the city at the order of the junta and will surrender it only upon their command.

Whether Tavora will support Vargas or propose himself for the presidency is a question that is causing much speculation. The northern and southern revolutionary movements were largely independent of each other and there is no reason to feel that they will now be coordinated.

One Ray of Hope

The one ray of hope was an advice from Curityba stating that the last federal forces in the state of Sao Paulo have capitulated to the southern revolutionists and that the cessation of hostilities decreed by the central junta is now country-wide.

In the capital, Gen. Tasso Fragoso, Gen. Menna Barreto and Admiral Isaias Noronha, who engineered Friday's coup and now comprise the governing junta are still endeavoring to whip a provisional government into shape before the claims being pressed from the north and south become overwhelming.

Dispatches from the capital are meager, a strict censorship having been imposed. They state that the new government has decreed a temporary dry law, permitting the sale of no alcoholic beverages other than beer. Street gatherings have also been prohibited.

While ex-President Washington Luis still remains a prisoner in Fort Capocabana, the whereabouts of Dr. Julio Prestes remains as yet a mystery. Dispatches last night stated that Prestes had been taken prisoner in Sao Paulo as he was about to flee the country by airplane. Today's advices declared that Doctor Prestes is still at large in the interior of Sao Paulo.

As Season's First Blizzard Crippled Buffalo

The first blizzard of the fall season swept in from the west to strike Buffalo, N. Y., with mid-winter fury, piling up snowdrifts five feet deep, blocking roads and crippling all transportation service for hours. This picture shows conditions in Lackawanna, a suburb. The abandoned bus was only one of a number that could not be removed.

Olustee Solves Labor Problems With Wide Development Program

Special to The Record News.

OLUSTEE, Okla., Oct. 26.—Improvements in and around Olustee this fall and the past summer, have given many employment who would have had to remain idle. Olustee has just completed a water filtering and softening plant and extension of water mains that cost $24,000. This gives the town an inexhaustible supply of water, enough for a town many times the size of Olustee.

The bridge at Olustee, across Turkey creek, is being replaced by a modern steel and concrete bridge at a cost of $50,000. The old bridge is a landmark for it was built over 30 years ago, just after it was decided by the supreme court that Greer county belonged to Oklahoma instead of Texas. However, Olustee is now a part of Jackson county, which was later cut from Greer county.

Broad Highway

The road to and through Olustee that will cross this new bridge across Turkey creek will be one of the main state highways and also one of the routes to Carlsbad cavern in New Mexico. The road will have a width of 100 feet. All the few curves will be broad and sweeping. From Olustee to Quanah, Texas, this road will parallel the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad on the north with no rail crossings. Grading on this highway, is now under construction and the abutments to the bridge at Olustee are almost finished.

Bond issues aggregating $44,000 have been voted for a new school building which is nearing completion. Part of the grades have already moved into the west wing of the new building. The new building is connected with high school building, by a hall with the superintendent's office between the two. When all equipment has been placed and the entire job completed, Olustee's school plant will represent an expenditure of $70,000. A large auditorium and gymnasium are in the center of the new building with the grade rooms on the east and west.

Gas Line Opens

The piping of gas into Olustee by the D. & O. Utilities Inc., has given work to many local men. The gas was turned in the latter part of August. The company maintains a store at Olustee with all gas appliances.

Olustee already has an electric system with W. H. Byrd an electrician. Olustee business men are now looking forward to the next improvement for the town, which will probably be a sewer system. In all of the improvements for the town, the past summer, the school board and town council have seen to it that local labor has been used as far as possible.

A few landlords in the Olustee district have furnished employment to their tenants after their crops were laid by, which helped them considerably.

Vote Campaign In Final Week

hostility of the "regular" Republicans.

The campaign in Illinois has been brought to fever pitch by the bolt of Mayor William Hale Thompson of Chicago from the candidacy of Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick. A lifelong Republican, Thompson has come out for the Democratic candidate, J. Hamilton Lewis, in the red-hot senatorial race.

Perhaps the chief source of worry to the old guard leaders is Ohio where the anti-dry platform of Robert J. Bulkley, the Democratic nominee, may carry him to victory over Senator Roscoe McCulloch. With Senator Fess of Ohio now in the saddle as Republican national chairman, the loss of his home state would prove a sad blow to party prestige.

Walsh Embattled

Another hot spot on the political map is Montana where despite the Democratic trend, Senator Thomas J. Walsh is fighting the battle of his long political career to stave off the rush of his Republican rival, Judge A. J. Galen. Walsh is finding his dry and league court views a heavy handicap.

While the election of Secretary of Labor Davis to the senate is admitted, the gubernatorial contest in Pennsylvania is attracting nationwide attention. Gifford Pinchot the Republican nominee, has been deserted by some of the most influential party leaders of the state. This has been offset in part by the fact that William B. Wilson, former Democratic candidate for senator, has come out for Pinchot.

REPORT CLEARS LEASE CHARGE

Interior Department Absolved of Complaints

that only about three per cent of the shale lands owned by the government had been patented and that oil shale had no commercial value and would not have until the supply of petroleum in this country was exhausted. What its ultimate value would be, he said, was problematical.

Charges Without Basis

"The investigation, therefore, which has been made by the department of justice has been unable to substantiate in any material particular the complaints and charges made by Kelley," Richardson reported. "As he states, the records and files should disclose the existence of the evils of which he complained, but they do not.

"The cases to which Kelley has directed specific attention, present, in the files and records of these cases, no evidence of improprieties or irregularities, and certainly no basis for a charge of either wrongful or corrupt administration.

"The condition, therefore, presented by such files and records is entirely harmonious to the physical computations which have been presented in the figures with respect to oil shale acreage. The government oil shale lands have not been lost or dissipated. Approximately 97 per cent of them still belong to the government.

"In the Colorado fields 87 per cent of the oil shales are still owned by the United States and the overwhelming majority of the acreage already granted has been granted on the recommendation and with the approval of the applicable field division." (Kelley's office).

Kelley Sells Story

The department said the investigation showed that after being summoned to Washington last July, Kelley contracted with the New York World to furnish it with a "story containing charges against the department of interior and various officials thereof."

The Denver field agent, it continued, did not report to the department until Aug. 5 where he remained until Sept. 1 when he "absented himself without permission," until he resigned.

The report reviewed Kelley's refusal to aid in the investigation, said papers Kelley charged had been destroyed were in the department files, that a case Kelley said had been decided for the government really had been a decision against the government and that former Secretary Work, former Assistant Secretary Finney and other officials had acted properly and in good faith in handling the oil shale patent cases.

Suits Cited

Kelley's charges that politics influenced the department in its decisions were described as unfounded and Richardson said Kelley's allegation that Secretary Wilbur favored oil companies was untrue. He cited a number of suits filed against Wilbur by oil companies to compel the secretary to relax orders pertaining to them.

The report said Kelley's method of computing the value of oil shale land by multiplying the theoretical ultimate production by the theoretical value shows "the basic lack of judgment in controversial matters possessed by Kelley."

German Mine Disaster Claims Lives of 100

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany, Oct. 26. (AP)—The coal mine disaster at Maybach colliery yesterday appeared tonight to have taken at least 100 lives.

Ninety bodies lay in mortuaries, while all hope was given up for 11 men known still to be underground.

Coming before Germany's flags were hauled up from half mast mourning for the 262 victims of the recent Alsdorf mine explosion, the Maybach disaster fell on the nation as a stunning shock. The Saarbruuecken disaster was not only the second major calamity to hit the German coal fields within a week, but it also was the third within four months.

Wichita Falls Co-operating In Forum Flower Carnival

Co-operation is the one thing for which the women of the forum are most grateful in their plans to make the flower carnival, Oct. 31-Nov. 1, one of the most successful of the annual autumn events. D. L. Fritz was first to express his generosity in his gifts; then James King loaned the King building at 1012 Scott street; the Texas Electric Service company donated an electric range; E. F. Riley gave a handsome cedar chest to hold the linens presented by forum members and many other merchants will make contributions.

The Wichita Cleaning and Dye works, Nunn Electric company, Panhandle Refining company, Marcle Feed company, Kinney Shoe company, Wages and Philco Radio company are firms who have taken space for booths in addition to those already named and Mrs. Thomas D. Moore is carnival buyer for the forum.

Mesdames R. G. Scheurer and Guy Raley who are in charge of the tea room as chairmen of the health and home and civic departments of the club, have announced their chairman to serve on Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Scheurer will have charge of the tea room Friday and has appointed Mrs. Charles Pogenpohl chairman of food with Mesdames V. E. Wratten, W. A. Morgareidge, C. A. Rogers, T. E. Lucey and Miss Bandy as her committee. For decorations, Miss Ethel Chamberlin and Mrs. Ed Gardner are appointed. Mrs. L. L. Boardman is appointed day chairman of the tables with Mrs. Wm. Nolte evening table chairman. Junior Forum girls who will assist Friday are Misses Wilma Brown, Reba Rae Brown, Camille Avis, Marietta Hunt, Lee Ellen Boardman, Helen Clayton, Dolores Peavey, and Miss Bandy.

Mrs. Guy Raley who has charge Saturday, has appointed Mrs. Harry ten Brink chairman, with Mesdames John Martin, S. A. Covington, O. B. Albritton, Ed Napier, Ed Peterson, B. D. Donnell, J. V. C. T. Christensen, G. N. Cooper, Ralph deShong, W. C. Cole, C. C. Collier, W. W. Cook, P. P. Langford, T. T. T. Reese, R. D. Bone. As chairman of the Junior Forum girls in the evening, Mrs. Lloyd Taylor will have assisting her Misses Dolores Peavey, Roberta Shaw, Mary Alice Johnson, Dorothy Lee Taylor, Charlotte Joiner, Lucile Elkins, Marjorie Bright, and Mary Tancred.

Mrs. Ann Barker has appointed Kay Cason as chairman of cold drinks Friday and Saturday evening and Miss Cason has chosen Misses Marguerite Sheldon, Elizabeth Hines and Frances Marie Krauss to serve with her.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Busy people don't hear many things in an office, but one night recently when the efforts of several were being directed toward collecting news on ball games, we jumped in our chair as a young man slung down a phone. "Gee, that was an intelligent woman," he said, pushing back his hair. "She knew all about that football game."

We knew then that the old saying "Pride goes before a fall" was a true one, for several friends had talked us into believing we were intelligent. We do not know a thing about a football game, though we get so excited over one even when we see it on the screen that we can't keep quiet. Evidently we have no intelligence.

But speaking earnestly, it is a strange thing that different 1930 minds measure intellect differently. When it comes to the old fashioned type of educated person, culture is the main thing. Some of them find it hard to realize that often a man or a women goes through life without knowing art or music or the little mannerisms of family life that makes it beautiful, but yet are great successes because they are keenly intelligent.

There are more single track minds in the world today than one would dream. We dare make that statement. There are men and women who know their own lines thoroughly and who are so concentrated on them they find nothing interesting in the other persons' viewpoints. The lovable people we meet, and those whom all of us wish we were like, are those who find every life full of interest.

We know a woman who knows all about cooking and she doesn't think that any person who does not like to keep house and a recipe cabinet has much sense. (She does not say intelligence.)

And we know numbers of girls whose thoughts are full of the pretty things they wear and the boys with whom they have dates and the plain and studious girls to them are simply "sticks."

Slang is as good a thing to express observation as the nice and cultivated adjectives. We have known many whom we termed "nuts."

But then people's impressions are different of many different things. For instance we heard a man talking the other day in a cafe—we think he had imbibed a drop or two, and he kept saying "Well the Mississippi is not impressive; it's so quiet and slow."

We have seen it rushing through crumbling banks and throwing fierce waves against the abutments; we have seen it when the ice was crackling and great floats tumbled over another, gigantic crashing and rumbling filling the air, and we have seen it when its broad brown bosom seemed quiet and yet the sailboats went whirling down the stream.

It is not so much what one sees, at last, as how one sees.

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Oct. 26.—The marriage of Miss Mary Margaret Stultz, daughter of Mrs. Nell Powers Stultz of Mangum, and Price Edward Britt of Marlow took place at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the First Methodist church with Rev. A. P. Johnson, pastor, reading the double ring service in the presence of many relatives and friends.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Charles Blickensderfer, organist, gave a program of pre-nuptial music including Schubert's "Serenade" and "Liebestraum" by Liszt. Miss Helen Jacobs sang "When Song Is Sweet" and a chorus of mixed voices from the Cecilian Music club sang the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin," and "O Perfect Love."

The bride, who entered on the arm of her uncle, L. G. Powers of Hobart, was beautifully gowned in a misty blue chiffon. Her cape veil of blue tulle was held in place by clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of briarcliff roses and valley lilies.

Her attendants, dressed in pink chiffon, were Miss Anne Fritsche, maid of honor; Miss Jerry Young and Miss Pauline Briley, bridesmaids; Mrs. Du Mont Harrison, matron of honor; Du Mont Harrison Jr., ringbearer, and Annette and Juanita Powers, flower girls.

Mr. Britt was attended by Stuart Simpson of Marlow as best man, and the ushers were Harry Bettes and Eli Doolen.

The bride was born and reared in Mangum. After her graduation from the local high school in 1929 she attended Oklahoma College for Women at Chickasha where she majored in voice and was a member of the Be Si Ta sorority.

Mr. Britt was born and reared in Marlow where his father, John W. Britt, has been mayor for several years. He received his education in the schools of Marlow and the school of engineering at A. & M. college at Stillwater where he belonged to the Chi Beta fraternity. He is employed by the state highway department.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding and the reception were Mr. and Mrs. John W. Britt of Marlow, parents of the bridegroom, and his two sisters, Mrs. J. D. Ferrell of Pampa, Texas, and Mrs. Hardy McBee of Duncan; Stuart Simpson of Marlow; Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Powers and Miss Dorothy Green of Hobart; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hamilton of Altus; C. P. Endorsed by Nurse

"Just a few words of praise of your medicine. Nothing gave me relief and health as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did. I am a practical nurse and was so rundown that I was unable to work. I used to suffer agonies at times and would have to lie down the biggest part of the day. After two bottles of Vegetable Compound I felt better. Now I have used ten bottles and feel fine. I recommend it to many of my patients."—Mrs. Florence Johnson, R. R. #3, Chetopa, Kansas.

Texas Mother Solves Problem

"MY little daughter, Geraldine, caused me many anxious moments," says Mrs. W. H. Owin, 1405 Wall Street, Dallas. "She was bilious, feverish, didn't want to play or study.

"She suffered a lot from colds until I heard about California Fig Syrup and decided to give her some. Fig Syrup helped Geraldine remarkably. She is now strong; able to avoid colds, has a good appetite and digestion; is quite the picture of health as you can see."

For over 50 years, California Fig Syrup has been helping bilious, headachy, weak, constipated babies and children. Doctors by thousands recommend this pure vegetable product. Children love its flavor. It acts gently to open the bowels in colds or children's diseases. It cleanses a child's system harmlessly and in a hurry. Bowels become regular with its use and remain so, because they are toned and strengthened by this wonderful combination of pure fig syrup and elixir of senna.

Look for the name California when buying. That marks the genuine.

Officers Interrupt Old Time Fist Fight

Arrival of the constabulary spoiled a perfectly good afternoon's entertainment late Sunday afternoon for a large crowd of spectators who had assumed ring-side positions while two local men staged a real, old-fashioned fist fight in the middle of Eighth street near the Hearn hotel.

The two combatants, more evenly matched in punching skill than in weight, according to members of the constable's department who made the arrests, had staged a battle sufficiently thrilling to attract a large circle of onlookers when they ran afoul of the law. Voluble protests from the dispersing fans attested the caliber of entertainment which had been provided.

Both participants were released on bond to appear for preliminary hearing on charges of affray Monday morning, it was said.

NEW PASTOR TAKES PULPIT

Rev. Claude De Witt Speaks At Grace Methodist

"Preachers have been given the same mission that Christ had in the world, to preach, teach, to show what the Kingdom of God is like and what it means to be a child of God," Rev. Claude DeWitt, newly elected pastor of the Grace Methodist church said in his initial sermon Sunday morning.

"Some people have the idea that religious problems are only those connected with the church but every problem of life can be termed a religious one. The mission of Jesus was to help solve these problems and to help each individual life," Rev. Mr. DeWitt said.

"The responsibility of a minister is to aid his people in realizing the need of God in their lives and the responsibility of each person is finding out how the Master can help him and applying this aid to his daily needs," the speaker pointed out.

In discussing the cordiality of his greeting in Wichita Falls, Rev. Mr. DeWitt asked that the new relationship of the pastor and congregation be entered into with confidence and in the mutual spirit of love.

Rev. M. DeWitt succeeds Rev. W. D. King who was transferred to a pastorate in Oklahoma City. He comes here from Watonga, Okla.

Announcement was made of a reception to be held for Rev. Mr. DeWitt and his family Wednesday evening in the church parlors to which members of the church and their friends are invited.

Fine Arts Department To Present Unuusal Program

Members of the fine arts department of the Woman's Forum will give their first joint meeting at the clubhouse Tuesday afternoon, beginning promptly at 3 o'clock. The drama department, Mrs. H. F. Weldon chairman, will present Mrs. W. M. Mitchell in an interesting talk on drama and drama will be expressed in a reading by Miss Mary Hamilton who is known by all readers of this and nearby cities as a real artist in her line.

George Chapellier of Brussels will arrive from Oklahoma City Monday with his splendid collection of paintings which will be hung on the walls in the auditorium and about which he will give an interesting gallery talk. Mr. Chapellier is collector of many masterpieces and will exhibit among other paintings Gilbert Stuart's "Charles James Fox," and Romney's "Lady Hamilton." The portrait by Stuart is said to be one of his best and everyone will be interested in the "Lady Hamilton," particularly on account of the recent popular novel based on her life. The oldest picture Mr. Chapellier has is a "Holy Family" painted on a panel, 400 years ago by F. Parmigiano and his "Lady of the Medici Family," painted to adorn a chapel 350 years ago is quite interesting.

A number of Flemish artists will be represented in the collection and quite a number of modern artists. Mr. Chapellier's talk will be a striking feature of the afternoon.

Mrs. Wm. Young has arranged a delightful one-act play entitled "Trees." Mrs. Floyd Randel and Miss Elizabeth Tribble have done the drawings for the number. Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., will be the accompanist with the following singers: Mesdames W. L. Parker, C. Y Tully, Walter Priddy, and C. H. Evans. Mrs. T. M. Chicago's Pistol Club
An Unsung Hero
Mr. Bob's Mountain
The Air-Rail Car

By EMILE GAUVREAU

Chicago's aristocratic suburb, Evanston, has organized the Business Men's and Women's Pistol club to fight crime with a "shot for a shot." The mayor of the town is giving the club "enthusiastic support," as well as the chief of police.

"Members will be taught methods of disarming bandits and other crooks," assures Chief of Police Freeman. It has probably escaped the notice of these Chicagoans that many a man donned in the robes of justice, or in control of the law and order of the city, is a bandit and a crook. Not a few old scores will be settled that way. Arming citizens never proved a wise solution to the crime problem. A "pistol club" will quickly turn into a "pistol city."

Braving a furious storm on the Indian ocean to save an ordinary seaman's life is heroism of the kind that books are written about. This is exactly the heroism that a nameless medical student displayed when the freighter he was on was radioed for the services of a surgeon. The freighter responded, and after a night of lashing seas and rain, drew up in sight of the tramp steamer Nichtensteg. Because of the pounding waves, the medical student had to get into a lifeboat, was hurled out of it, saved from drowning by a boat hook, pulled aboard, operated on the seaman and saved his life.

When tribute is paid to men and deeds of courage, men whose names are known to us, let us remember those "unknown soldiers" of human service who walk among us unnoted and unglorified, whose reward is the memory of a good deed done rather than the fatuous words of some general or governor.

Interesting news during these days of business depression. Mr. Charles V. Bob, New York's missing promoter, it is revealed, was spending more than $1,000,000 a year in overhead expenses of his Broadway office. Less than one-third of that would have been enough. His schemes cost millions to the public. Now he has fled, undoubtedly with enough to live on. A mountain near the South Pole has been named after him because of his interest in the Byrd expedition. The mountain of his misdeeds, however, is the one the people will remember.

In Germany a long cigar-shaped railway coach driven on rails by a 400-horsepower airplane motor and propeller tears along at a speed of 100 miles an hour. The inventor hopes to replace long, heavy trains with it, cutting airplane and automobile competition. It will never have any effect on airplane travel, which, in a few years, will make 100 miles an hour seem like a snail's pace.

H. G. Wells, pretty good on prophecies, tells a London audience there will be another world war in eight years. It will break out in the Near East, he says. It might happen next year. It is as close as that. Men and women, he asserts, should organize and tell their governments: "Look here; if you get us into war, we don't play. We won't fight, we won't work, we won't pay taxes."

Not much chance of that so long as it is considered glorious to fight.

At any rate, England will not be caught napping. At Aldershot the war office reveals its newest monsters of destruction. New giant tanks, like steel crabs on wheels, crawl over gaping craters, stretching out long steel claws, overcoming all obstacles. Inside the tanks men receive orders by radio. Science will make the next war most interesting indeed.

Alabama farmers are urged to plant fall gardens as a drouth relief measure.

From England comes the news that paper has been invented which stretches like rubber. Just the thing on which to write snappy stories.

A man who left an estate of $100,000,000 made his fortune in the canned soup business. And now his beneficiaries are in the gravy.

A Question of Incomes

THE pastor and parishioners of a Chicago church not long ago amused themselves by entering into a general discussion of the question, "How much income does a young couple need to get married?"

Last year this same church discussed the same question, and concluded that $50 a week was the minimum. This year, taking cognizance of hard times, they shaved their estimates, and figured that matrimony could be attempted on as little as $40 a week. Some brave souls even put the figure a trifle lower.

Nobody who gets married on $40 a week is going to feel the boredom of extreme wealth; yet if every prospective bridegroom in America were to wait until he was earning that much money before he led the girl of his choice to the altar, the annual number of marriages would drop by rather more than 75 per cent.

This is a point worth bearing in mind. All too often, when we speak of the "average American," we are not thinking of the average man at all but of some exceptionally lucky individual whose income is at least double the average.

Mr. Stuart Chase, one of the country's wisest economists, has estimated that fully 90 per cent of American families get along on approximately $2,200 a year. If you care to figure it out, you will find that that comes to only a little more than the $40-a-week minimum fixed by our Chicagoans for newlyweds.

There are millions of men in America, grown men with families to support, to whom $40 a week would look almost like riches. Beyond any question, the number getting a lower wage than that is greater than the number getting a higher one.

All of this, perhaps, is not extremely important. Yet we have adopted the habit in late years of overestimating the financial resources of the average American, and it is time that we realized just how things stand. The figures on the distribution of such conveniences as automobiles, washing machines, radios, electric refrigerators and so on are highly encouraging, but it isn't good for us to assume—as we have assumed—that the specter of want has vanished forever from the average American home, even in times of high prosperity.

That assumption, in fact, is probably responsible for most of our indifference to the fate of workers in backward industries, our indifference to the steady growth of that delightful thing called technological unemployment, our indifference to the hopeless struggles of the thousands of unskilled laborers who are buried in the city slums.

A few hundred well-intentioned folk agree that a young couple making a start in life must have at least $40 a week—when that is close to the average income for 90 per cent of the nation's families! That indicates how sadly we need a better understanding of the exact situation in our country.

And the Dance Goes On

BUSINESS may remain in the doldrums, unemployment may stick at an appalling figure and the bread-lines may grow longer and longer; nevertheless, the nation is still sound. A female "social director" in New York announces that debut parties for the daughters of Park avenue millionaires will cost $40,000 apiece this winter, hard times or no.

All of this ought to be immensely encouraging, especially to those who fondly believe that prosperity will return overnight if the people who have money will only spend it freely. Forty thousand dollars is a good deal of money, even on Park avenue. Think of the starving florists, confectioners, jewelers, specialty shop proprietors and dressmakers who will benefit through this Park avenue generosity.

Nor is there any sense in being unduly critical about it. After all, a girl is only young once. It is distressing to imagine the disappointment that would assail the daughters of wealth if their coming out parties had to be curtailed; even more distressing to think of the emotions of fond mothers whose desires for ostentatious display might have to be thwarted. All is for the best, and the dance must go on.

However, it is just possible that there may be, here and there in this great land, men who will be slightly disturbed by this business. Human nature is sadly afflicted with envy, and the father of a family who has to stand in line for a bowl of soup on a cold winter evening might, just conceivably, feel somewhat bitter about it all.

For the fact that Park avenue will have its $40,000 parties this winter suggests that there may be, somewhere, a fundamental inequality in our noble American civilization. It is uplifting to reflect on the multitude of chances which America offers her poverty-stricken children; but the keen edge is taken off of that reflection by the spectacle of $40,000 parties that are thrown in a city where many thousands of people are only a few paces away from actual starvation.

Ask the officials of rescue missions, the clerks in employment bureaus and the directors of charitable enterprises how much real distress there is in the land today. Digest their answers carefully—and then re-read this item about the daughters of the rich and see how it tastes.

It is better, perhaps, not to think about it all. For if one does, one is apt—nay, certain—to come to the conclusion that there must be something wrong with an economic and social system which produces such glaring, stupid and unjust contrasts between wealth and extreme poverty.

Seeking a Six-Hour Day

THE demand of the railroad workers for a six-hour working day and an eight-hour pay schedule is certain to precipitate a tremendous amount of discussion—some of it, probably, rather acrimonious. Whether the railroad men get what they want or not, they will at least focus the nation's attention on the general question of shorter working hours, and that will be a good thing.

In theory one can make out an excellent case for the six-hour day. But it is probable that this particular situation will not be settled by theory but by cold facts. The railroads have made money in recent years only by dint of the most strict economies. It would take a rash prophet to state definitely, off-hand, that they can adopt the six-hour day without losing their profits.

The shorter working day is coming, eventually, beyond doubt. But whether the time is ripe now for its introduction, and whether the railroad industry is the proper place to begin it, are two other questions.

HEARTBREAK GIRL

By ROB EDEN

Gail Stuart, hiking to Hollywood, is picked up by Nick Walther, who arranges a screen test for her. She fails, but gets a job as secretary to Carla Cross, the star. Through a "white lie" Gail gets a "break" for Ross Hardy, her fiance, and he becomes Carla's leading man. He is hypnotized by the attentions of Carla, and goes riding with her in his car. They return at 1 a. m. greatly excited. Carla sends for Gail. Carla, driving, has run down a woman, injuring her badly. She gave the police Gail's name, since they failed to recognize the star in the dark. Tod Janson, Carla's press agent, joins the star and Ross in urging Gail to assume the blame, as the scandal will ruin Carla. They promise to protect the girl. Stunned by Hardy's attitude, she goes with Janson to face the officers.

"Don't worry, Gail. Tod will get you out."

CHAPTER XVII

Three officers were standing in the living room when Tod Janson and Gail entered it. Their faces were stern.

"Miss Stuart is not feeling well, officers," Tod announced glancing at Gail.

"Well, she's probably feeling much better than Mrs. Mendenhall—down at the county hospital," one of them returned savagely.

"Mrs. Mendenhall?" Tod lifted his eyebrows.

"That's the lady she struck, and nearly killed. The doctors don't know whether she'll live or not. I'm Kelly, the officer who followed the yellow car. Saw the girl driving like mad. Crazy little fool—"

Gail shivered as if she had been struck.

"Miss Cross feels very badly about this, Kelly," Tod said quietly. "Very badly. She's upstairs now, wondering what to do."

No License

"I ain't concerned with Carla Cross. I'm concerned with this young lady. Where's your driver's license?" He addressed Gail.

"I—I—haven't any."

"Haven't any! What were you doing then driving Hardy's car? Don't you know you can't drive a car in the state of California without a license?" He surveyed the girl scornfully. Then turned to Janson. "Who may you be?"

"I'm Tod Janson, Miss Cross' press agent. She called me thinking I could be of some help—"

"Well, it's going to take more than your help to get this girl out of this mess. Driving 60 miles an hour on a state highway, knocking down a woman, killing her for all I know. Mrs. Mendenhall may be dead now. She was having a blood transfusion when I called the hospital a while ago. Murder it is, not manslaughter. Too many of these wild young drivers around."

Gail was weeping softly. The woman dying. Carla sitting up there, worrying about herself, about her picture. Her future. The woman dying. A blood transfusion. She must be terribly injured.

"I haven't anything against the boy, this Ross Hardy, because he wasn't driving, and he admitted to me he had cautioned Miss Stuart. Won't take a word of warning, will you?" Kelly's face was close to hers, leering down into hers. The girl drew herself away.

"Oh, you can cry all you like, but you'd better keep your tears for the judge. They'll do you more good. Get on your coat."

"My coat?"

"Yes, we're going to take you to jail, where you ought to be."

Tod's voice showed worry as he interrupted. "The girl is all broken up, Kelly. And there's no sense in taking her to the station. You'll be able to find her here. I won't let her get away. I give you my word—"

Manslaughter!

"I had orders to book her for suspicion of manslaughter, and book her I'm going to do. Get your coat," he snarled again at Gail.

"You're going to take me to jail?" She couldn't believe it. Wouldn't.

"I'll call for you, Gail," Tod offered. "Miss Cross will arrange bail."

"Maybe there ain't going to be no bail, Mr. Janson. What would you think of that? You movie people think you run the town, but you don't. Any of you get into trouble—"

"Miss Stuart isn't in the movies, Kelly. She's Miss Cross' secretary."

"Well, it don't make any difference to me. She's going to jail. If it was Carla Cross herself I'd take her to jail. That's that."

"Do I have to go, Mr. Janson?" Gail asked the press agent. He nodded.

"Better get your coat. Change your dress, for we don't know what may happen—"

"You mean I might have to stay?"

"I don't know. I'll see if I can arrange bail."

Somehow Gail got up to her room, and changed her clothes. Kelley, the officer had followed Ross and Carla. Evidently he hadn't had a good look at Carla, hadn't recognized her. For he had thought that she, Gail, was the girl in the yellow car. Accusing her, threatening her . . .

She wanted to talk to Ross before she went. Wanted to see him, feel his arms around her, his lips telling her that he was proud of her. The door to Carla's room was closed as she passed. Voices hardly audible, came to her ears. Tod was in there. She could hear his rasping voice, although she could not make out what he was saying.

Opening the door, she looked in. Carla was still sitting in the chair. Ross had pulled a stool up beside it and was close to her. Janson was pacing the floor.

"—arresting—" she heard Tod say.

"Are they—are they arresting me?" she asked quickly.

Tod said yes. They were arresting her. That was why she was going to the station. Kelly had a warrant.

Carla came and put her arms around her shoulders. "Don't worry, Gail. Tod will get you out. He's going to give bail. I'll pay for it. Everything will be fine. Just don't worry, and don't tell anyone, will you? There are only the three, four of us who know. Tod and Ross, and you and I. You won't breathe a word will you? Think how horrible it would be for me if they'd come instead to take me to jail—" Carla quivered at the thought, and her shoulders became taut. "Think how awful that would be! Right when I'm on this picture, and there's a clause in my contract that I'm to stay out of trouble! And this is trouble, let me tell you. Brockett would be wild. So would Mr. Werber. No one will know anything about this, but the four of us. You aren't going to worry, are you?"

To Jail

"But the officer said he was going to take me to jail!" Gail had never even been inside a jail. She had passed the jail in Fairview on her way to town every day, always with averted eyes. The place was small, and now and then she had seen a prisoner—in Fairview they were mostly vagrants or drunks—peering out the Barred windows. Now she was going to jail! She hadn't offered to go. She hadn't had anything to do with it at all. Carla had thought of it, and Ross had agreed. Anything to save Carla . . .

A light tap on the door, and Mrs. Cross poked in her head.

"What's the matter, Carla? So much confusion, and it's 4 o'clock—"

"Nothing, mother. Go back to bed."

"There is something the matter—"

"Gail just got into a little trouble, that's all. Hit a woman when she was driving Ross' car—"

"But Gail's been here all evening—"

"Hush, mother. She hasn't, and you know it! Go back to bed!" Mrs. Cross withdrew, still dubious, and Tod took Gail's arm and led her from the room. No chance to talk to Ross alone. She twisted the ring on her finger, and fresh tears came into her eyes.

Silently she and Tod got into the police car which was drawn up to the front door. Why had she con-

When You Can't Sleep

There are many people who find it difficult to relax sufficiently to go to sleep and who are nevertheless sleep hungry. When we need sleep it seems that we should be able to go to sleep easily, but we know this is not always true. This difficulty in getting enough sleep is very common among all classes of people. Some are unable to go back to sleep once they awaken during the night. Others lie in bed for hours hoping for sleep, meanwhile counting sheep trying to make the mind blank, or some other time worn sleep inducing plan. Generally speaking, the thin, nervous, rundown types, who need sleep the most, are the ones who find it hardest to fall into a sound, refreshing sleep.

There are many causes of sleeplessness, but undoubtedly the most common of all is due to irritations produced from indigestion and the pressure of large quantities of gas in the stomach and intestines. I find that those patients who waken regularly about one or two in the morning are in every case troubled with gas pressure, due to the remains of the last meal which is fermenting inside them and causing gas. This flatulence is also often responsible for the nightmares which disturb sleep.

Other physical conditions which may produce an inability to sleep, or a disturbed sleep, are: Intense itching, coughing, choking, stoppage of the nose, adenoids, heart trouble, constipation, bladder weakness, diarrhea, worms, high blood pressure, ringing in the ears and toxic conditions. A loss of sleep is also noticed in nervous disorders, and yet it has been my experience that most of those who think they are troubled with insomnia, because of nervousness, are really being irritated physically by the pressure of impacted feces or gas in the colon, but which has not been sufficiently pronounced to make them conscious of pain. Many of these nervous patients are able to enjoy a refreshing night's sleep a day or two after a fruit fast accompanied with enemas to cleanse the intestines of accumulated waste material. Many people find that an enema taken just before retiring will empty out the colon and insure a deep sound sleep. Others are soothed into sleep by a warm sponge bath. A hot water bottle placed at the feet will sometimes serve the purpose of drawing the blood away from the brain.

I have never known a case of insomnia which could not easily be cured by a combination of treatment for removing the stomach and intestinal irritation, having the patient take more physical exercise, and the use of some simple mental suggestions on going to bed. Lie perfectly relaxed and repeat over and over slowly, "sleepy, sleepy, sleepy." Inhale and exhale slowly without effort while you are repeating this word mentally and you will find that the conscious mind can be readily lulled into a deep sleep. Even the most stubborn cases of sleeplessness will usually yield to the above measures which are to be preferred to the habit of using sleep producing drugs.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Symptoms of Thyroid Derangement)

Question—Mrs. F. writes: "I have a queer feeling in my throat, just above the two small bones in my chest. Seems as if something were pressing hard on my windpipe. Also have pains in my hands and arms whenever I put them in cold water."

Answer—You are doubtless suffering from some derangement of the thyroid gland which would produce the symptoms you write about. I will be glad to send you some special articles on the subject of the cause and cure of thyroid troubles if you will forward a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Celery

Question—G. J. asks: "Can a person eat too much celery? Is one bunch too much in a day?"

Answer—I do not believe anyone ever hurt himself eating too much celery. This is one food that seems to agree with everyone. I am sure a good sized bunch is not too much to use in a day.

Tonsils

Question—M. E. C. writes: "I enjoy reading your question and answer column, and would like to ask a question, myself. I had my tonsils taken out about four months ago, but when exposed to wind or in a real warm place I have coughing spells. Please advise me if you approve of having tonsils taken out if they are diseased. Also if the exposure to wind and heat after a certain length of time will cease making me cough. Is it an early sign of tuberculosis of the throat?"

Answer—The cause of any cough should be very thoroughly investigated. Yes, it is true that it may be an early sign of tuberculosis of the throat, but not necessarily so, as it may be simply a result from your operation. I do not advise promiscuous removal of tonsils. They are composed of lymphoid tissue and when diseased can be made healthy again through dieting and following the proper hygienic habits.

Signature Written In Blood Marks Bunker Hill Relic

Special to The Record News.

LAMESA, Texas, Oct. 26.—Rev. J. Thomas Barr, of this city, is the owner of a Bible, which was picked up on June 17, 1775, by an American soldier at the foot of Bunker Hill, as he and his comrades backed away from the summit of that historic spot. Pages of the book are marred by blood stains, and written in blood on the fly leaf is the name "James Rush Jupe."

Rev. Mr. Barr states the writing is blood, as it is identical with other stains in the Bible, which have been identified as blood. The writing seems to have been done with a sharpened stick, a thorn or a finger nail. Apparently the writer was wounded, and was attempting to give his name and the time of battle, according to Rev. Mr. Barr.

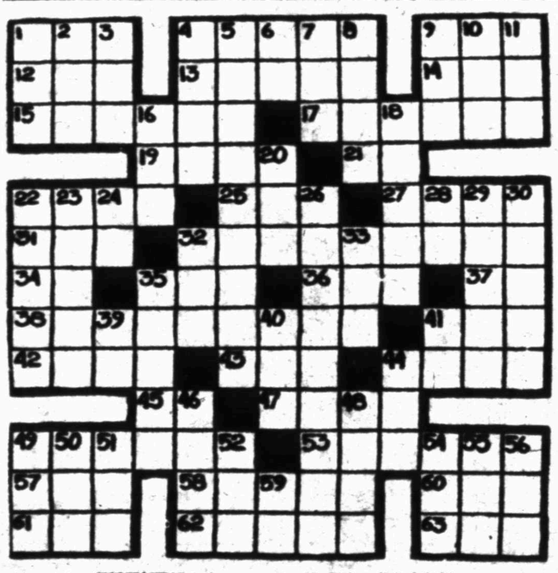

The Bible is bound in leather and is well preserved. Blood has rotted part of the binding of the back. Print is easily read, and is about 8 or 10 point, as that term is understood today.

"The book with the blood of a patriot staining its inspiring pages commands the reverence of God," says Rev. Mr. Barr, "and the highest tribute to the loyal defender of the Stars and Stripes who carried it."

Female Air Travel Grows

Women of Europe are taking to air travel. In the last few months the proportion of women flying in air liners on the cross-channel and provincial services has risen from approximately 50 per cent to more than 75 per cent. Several times recently all the passengers in planes arriving at Croydon, England, have been women.

COYOTES TO OPEN HOME STAY OF THREE WEEKS SATURDAY

BOBCATS TO BE FIRST GUESTS

Lions and Tigers Stars Of Last Week's Games

After making the worst showing in the district on forays away from home, the Wichita Falls Coyotes this week will inaugurate a home stay to last until three invaders have come here and gone. It will be the first home appearance of the Pack since the first conference game they entered, that with the Lubbock Westerners at Athletic park. Since that muddy game the Coyotes strayed afar in quest of gridiron laurels, and fared ill. First at the hands of Electra, 6 to 0. Next at the hands of Quanah, 19 to 13. And lastly, at the hands of the Vernon Lions, last Saturday, 6 to 0.

Their chances of winning boosted by the fact that the game will be played on home soil, the Coyotes enter the role of hosts next Saturday when they take on the Childress Bobcats here. The following Saturday Plainview will be entertained here, and the next Saturday, Nov. 15, the Sherman High school team will journey here for a practice game. On Nov. 21 the Coyotes will go to Pampa, and the season will close the following Saturday, Nov. 27, with Amarillo playing here.

Lions, Tigers Star

Vernon and Electra provided the punch in the district No. 1 race last week, the Lions bowling over the Coyotes in the last few moments of play to register a victory in which is regarded as the classic game of the season for the Lions. To the Coyotes the annual Vernon battle is also a classic, ranking along with the Wichita Falls-Electra game in the amount of rivalry engendered each year. In producing the 6 to 0 victory the Vernon outfit thereby kept its promise of revenge for a 14 to 0 defeat suffered last year when the Lions played at Wichita Falls.

Vernon copped its victory in a sensational jump to the air in the last five minutes of play. The heroes: Williams and Lawrence. Number of passes: two. Yardage gained: 53. Details: Williams to Lawrence for 34 yards; Lawrence to Williams for 19 yards. Remarks: Williams dropped the ball at the goal line on the last pass, but fell on it and so gave Vernon the victory.

Sensational Tilt

No one could wish for a more sensational battle. Though the defeat marked the fourth straight for the Pack, there was some consolation that the last three defeats were by margins of one touchdown, which indicates that lack of fighting power among the Coyotes is not as flagrant as some believe.

Vernon roundly outplayed the Pack, figures show. The Lions registered 15 first downs, to six for the Coyotes, and pierced the 20-yard line five times while the Coyotes never accomplished the feat.

Electra toppled over the Childress Bobcats in the other thriller Saturday. The Tigers scored in the second period when Smith's pass to Eaton bounded into Welch's arms as the latter was only a few steps from the goal line. The Bobcats returned the favor by scoring in the third, but the Tigers kept plugging away and a march in the last quarter came to an end at the Childress goal post. Aubrey and Cloyd Smith starred in the backfield for the Tigers, while Davis and Groce led the attack of the Childress eleven.

In the other conference game Saturday, Pampa mopped up Hale county with the Plainview Bulldogs, 77 to 0. It was a sad, sad afternoon for the Bulldogs, but the Harvesters apparently were in great joy, even though they were without the services of five first string men who were scholastically ineligible, and scored an even dozen touchdowns until they got tired and waited for the final whistle.

Title Game Nears

Neither Lubbock nor Amarillo, district leaders engaged in conference warfare last week, apparently resting for the season's toughest assignment this week, when they fight it out among themselves. Amarillo in a practice game downed Central High of Fort Worth, 28 to 9. Quanah, last Friday, took a workout at the expense of the class B Megargel team, running up a score of 75 to 7.

The game next Saturday between the Sandies and the Westerners at Lubbock virtually will decide the championship and will be the biggest attraction of the season in this district. The Sandies, undefeated as yet, will go up against Coach Henry Frnka's tough bunch of Westerners who as yet have tasted defeat but once, and that at the hands of Pampa.

Other games this week will find Pampa at Vernon and Electra at Plainview. Quanah has no conference game scheduled.

The standings:

Last of 'Big Three' On Coast Tastes Defeat

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (AP)—Stunning in its one-sidedness, the great 41-12 victory of Southern California's Trojans over Stanford's Cardinals yesterday was the chief subject of discussion among football followers today.

The largest football crowd in the country, 88,000 persons, turned out in Stanford stadium to see the Trojans settle their annual score with the Cardinals in a manner which left nothing to the imagination.

The Stanford reversal put all of the "Big Three" of coast conference football in the defeated class, as California and Southern California had previously lost conference games.

Funeral Services For Ned C. Record To Be Held Today

Fellow Workers of Well-Known Sports Writer To Act as Pallbearers.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 26. (AP)—Fellow employes on the Star-Telegram and Record Telegram will be pallbearers tomorrow afternoon for Ned C. Record, 29, sports editor since 1925 of the Record-Telegram, who died yesterday of penumonia that followed an emergency operation for appendicitis Oct. 16. Funeral services will be held at 3:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Catholic church.

Stricken while at his desk, Mr. Record went to a hospital and was operated on a few hours later. Pneumonia suddenly set in Saturday and death followed unexepectedly.

A native of Paris, Texas, where he was born May 7, 1901, Mr. Record after graduation from high school in 1918, came to Fort Worth and since then had been connected with the Star-Telegram and Record-Telegram editorial departments. He had covered police, city hall and other "runs" before being promoted to sports editor.

Ned C. Record, sports editor of the Record-Telegram who died unexpectedly in Fort Worth Saturday was well-known to many Wichitans and held here in the highest esteem. Word of his death was received with a distinct shock.

Record was revered for his charming personality, and his ability in the newspaper field was everywhere recognized. His friends in Wichita Falls included many of the lay public, in addition to officials of the Wichita Falls Baseball club, and the Texas league, which maintains offices here.

He was in Wichita Falls often during the summer, accompanying the Fort Worth Baseball club on its excursions here. He was here last during the first two games of the Texas league championship series.

GIANTS AHEAD IN DIXIE RACE

Alabama Heads List of Six Unbeaten Teams

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 26. (AP)—Midway through their eight-game conference schedule and safely by two foremost opponents—Tennessee and Vanderbilt — Alabama's crimson giants tonight led a field of six unbeaten teams into Dixie's November gridiron stretch.

The red-shirted Behemonths of Wallace Wade sent Vanderbilt reeling to the sidelines yesterday 12-7 and won their fourth conference victory. The end of the October campaign found five other scattered teams—Kentucky, Georgia, Florida, Clemson and Tulane—past the early barriers. But at least two of these will fade out this week as Kentucky meets Alabama and Georgia faces Florida.

Tulane, 1929 champions, made their conference bow with a 28 to 0 defeat of Georgia Tech. Two sophomores, Don Zimmerman and Nollie Felts, led the Green offensive.

Coach Harry Gamage saved his regulars and tricks for Alabama, while Kentucky reserves ran up a 47-0 triumph over Virginia.

Furman and St. John's of Annapolis furnished the day's upsets by trouncing Florida and Washington and Lee, respectively. Furman repeated its 1922 one-point victory over Florida by coming from behind to win 14-13 with a passing barrage, while St. John's registered a 7-0 decision over the Generals.

A safety gave Tennessee its 0-7 margin over North Carolina. North Carolina State earned its first conference victory in two years by downing Chris Cagle's Mississippi Aggies 14-0.

Auburn's crippled Tigers slipped over an early touchdown on Georgia but the Bulldog regulars rushed in and ran up six touchdowns to continue their march 39-7. A final period offensive gave V. P. I. a 20-19 decision over Davidson.

Mississippi, kicked all over the Dixie gridiron map, held Chicago to a scoreless tie in one of the two interesectional battles, while Centre lost to Northwestern 45-7.

Western Leaders Gain in Strength

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. (AP)—Michigan, Northwestern and Minnesota, each gaining strength with every victory, are rumbling along toward the Western conference gridiron championship.

If Northwestern and Minnesota should play a tie next Saturday, Michigan may almost be considered the champion, provided, of course the Wolverines can defeat Minnesota, an accomplishment which has become almost a habit with Michigan teams.

Michigan's resourceful eleven removed the third obstacle in its path to the title by defeating Illinois, 15-7, Saturday.

Purdue's valiant football players scored an upset in conquering Wisconsin, 7-6. The game brought the first defeat of the year to the Badgers and made a big dent in their hopes for a Big Ten title.

Except for a slight scare which quickly brought regulars to the rescue, Northwestern had no trouble in walloping Centre college, 45-7.

Chicago's showing against Mississippi Saturday, in playing a 0-0 tie, was their most interesting of the season, but the final punch was lacking.

Ray Johnson, Duluth, Minn., amateur golfer, upset local hole-in-one records by achieving the distinction on a par four, 255-yard hole of a local course.

With a grid squad of less than 30, Southwestern Louisiana Institute will meet Spring Hill Nov. 8, Southern Nov. 11 and Miami, Fla., Nov. 18

EVERY TEAM TO GO INTO ACTION

Chillicothe Downs Panthers; Cubs Whip Wildcats

Chillicothe and Olney littered Northwest Texas gridirons with touchdowns, and the remains of their foes, last Friday, knocking aside all opposition to their joint holding of first place in class B district No. 3, but far from bringing peace and contentment they only cleared the field of battle for a more stirring conquest, this week's fight among themselves for the district title.

Chillicothe will be on the receiving line, with the Cubs the invaders. Both have defeated everything in sight since the season opened, both have been scored on only once, both are great scrappers, and the title of champions will be at stake when they clash next Friday in the feature game of the season in class B.

Every Team to Play

Nor will this be the only scrap of interest. Every member of the conference will be in action next Friday in a series of games that will not be duplicated this year in point of intense interest. Olney, in downing Archer City 51 to 0, and Chillicothe, in smothering the Seymour Panthers, 32 to 6, cleared the way for their great battle this week. Archer City will meet Megargel, which lost a non-conference game last week to their class A friends, the Quanah Indians. Seymour will tackle the refreshed Henriettans, and Fairview, which also was idle last week, will play the Burkburnett Bulldogs, who took on and whipped the Iowa Park Hawks last week in a practice game, 6 to 0.

Every one of these games will be featured by hard fighting of the teams, the leaders fighting for the title, the others fighting for runner-up positions, or for vengeance.

Wildcats Fight Hard

Olney's victory over the hard-fighting Archer City Wildcats was no surprise, but neither was the courage of the Wildcats in defeat. The Archer county lads battled against superb odds in a most superb fashion, and the team should have no worries over the loss. Every Archer City fan was pleased at the team's grit, and this includes the coach, Bill Cooper, who said after the game:

"My boys never put up a more splendid fight. The only reason they didn't make a better showing was the weight and expertness of that Olney team. The Cubs have a mighty powerful machine. You had better warn every team yet to meet them that they are in for it."

The Seymour Panthers lost their second successive conference game in bowing to Chillicothe, Megargel having nosed out the Cats the week before, 13 to 12. The score of the game, 32 to 6, reflects the strength of the terrible Eagles, and likewise shows that the Panthers went down in defeat just as the Wildcats did, fighting to the last ditch. They accomplished a real feat in polluting the Eagles' record of an uncrossed goal line. In making the first score of the season against the co-leaders they did something no other team in the district has been able to do.

Eagles Never Stop

The big end of the score indicates that the Eagles never stop once they have a lead, but continue to pile up the counters as long as the quarterback can yell signals, and this forbodes a gory battle when they clash with the Olney Cubs, who seem to have similar notions about the way football should be played.

Archer City will invade Megargel next Friday. This game will be overshadowed only by the great clash of the Cubs and the Eagles, for the Wildcats and the Bluebirds will go into their dispute with second place honors in the district race at stake. Neither team has been defeated, except by the two big luminaries on top of the standing column, if you except the defeat sustained by Megargel on first downs at the hands of Henrietta. Since they lost that technical decision, the Bluebirds have made a remarkable comeback, defeating Burkburnett, 7 to 0, and nosing out the Seymour Panthers. Archer City's defeat Friday was its sole set-back, the team boasting top-heavy victories over Fairview and Henrietta. These things considered, to pick a favorite in this week's carnage would be foolish. The teams are almost evenly matched. Next Friday's game probably will resolve into a test of fighting ability and grit, and it is well known that both the Bluebirds and the Wildcats have enough of those two qualities to declare weekly dividends of 8 per cent.

Seymour vs. Henrietta

Seymour will go to Henrietta for the third battle of the week. Both of these teams are pretty well down under. Seymour, starting out as a first division contender, has won only one game, that with Fairview. Their loss to Chillicothe last week was nothing to moan over, but the defeat they sustained the week previous at the hands of Megargel put a crimp a foot deep in their conference prestige. Henrietta, of course, will not go into the battle with past laurels dangling from its banner either, the team having lost three conference starts, and having only one victory—their technical decision over Megargel—to their credit. However, the Henriettans are likely to give the Panthers a battle for their money, as the Cats are apparently on the down grade. Henrietta also will have the advantage of a week of rest when the game opens next Friday.

Fairview Meets Bulldogs

The remaining contest will find Fairview resuming conference warfare after an idle week. The team will journey to Burkburnett and interview the Bulldogs. The latter registered a hard-earned victory over the Iowa Park Hawks in a practice affair last week. The Hawks, you remember, withdrew from the conference on account of lack of strength. Nevertheless they made a good showing against Burkburnett last Friday. If Fairview, with its week of rest, can put up the same fight, the Thrift lads will have a chance to register their first conference victory of the season.

The standings:

Teams—	G.	W.	L.	T.	Pct.	Pts.	Agst.
Chillicothe	5	5	0	0	1.000	177	6
Olney	3	3	0	0	1.000	154	6

Cubs And Eagles Clear Field For Class B Title Scrap Friday

OWLS REJOICE OVER UPSET OF FAVORED LONGHORNS

Phelan's Ideas 'Go Over' at Washington

SEATTLE, Oct. 26. (AP)—Football interest flames high at the University of Washington.

It is due to the presence of Jimmy Phelan, former Purdue university coach, his new assistants from the Middle West, and new football customs.

Phelan predicts nothing. He says merely that he has a fighting team. In the first two games of the campaign, the new model Huskies defeated Idaho and Montana by the same scores—27-0.

Husky followers hope the new start will lead to some important victories this year. The team failed to win a conference or an intersectional game last season.

In addition to the five new coaches teaching a new system of play, the Washington stadium field has been sodded for the first time in its history.

The old Husky uniforms have been discarded for brilliant purple and gold satin moleskins.

Such changes are an old story to many schools, but they aren't to Washington. The result is a new and much greater interest in football around Seattle.

Phelan's assistants are Chester "Cotton" Wilcox and Ralph "Pest" Welch, from the Boilermaker school; Dan Lamont from Loyola university, Chicago, and Edmund A. Collins from Notre Dame.

The Huskies have a good line, though the absence of Paul Jessup, 6 foot 6 inch pivot man, is felt. He was graduated this summer.

The backfield is moulded around Merle Hufford all-Pacific coast halfback of last year, and Bill Marsh, former fullback.

Jimmy Phelan, former Purdue coach, has lifted football from the doldrums at the University of Washington with a bag of mid-west tricks. Merle Hufford, halfback, and Bill Marsh, quarter, furnish a lot of driving power for Phelan's team.

RICE BREAKS OLD TRADITION

Steers Lose First in Six Years to Houstonians

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 26.—When bigger and better football upsets are devised the Southwest conference probably will be responsible. There seems to be no end to the section's cleverness along that line.

The week's medal with six palms for the outstanding jolt to the forecasters goes to the doughty Rice Owls, who rose in their sophomoric might Saturday to turn back the University of Texas Longhorns, 6-0. Each palm represents a point in the first conference triumph scored by the feathered flock since 1927; its first over Texas since 1924. There was joy on the Rice campus today.

Steers Were Favorites

Natural favorites as a result of their smashing win over the University of Oklahoma the previous week, the Longhorns received the surprise of their collective lives when the scrapping Owls staved off their power attack for three periods and then broke up the game with a lucky touchdown in the final quarter. The young Rice eleven displayed marked improvement over last week, when it lost to Arkansas by a point.

A muffed punt by Craig that was recovered by Hassell on Texas' one-yard line gave the Owls their chance. On second attempt, Dick Jamerson, sophomore halfback, dived across. The fact that the Longhorns had chalked up 14 first downs to Rice's four made no difference after that.

While the Owls were delivering a blow to Texas' hopes for a championship, the Southern Methodist Mustangs brought their conference stock back up to par by crushing a weighty, but not alert, Indiana university eleven, 27-0. Gov. Dan Moody and some 25,000 assorted fans of less note but equal enthusiasm saw the Ponies completely outclass their intersectional rivals here.

As in the tilt at Houston, the sophomores completely stole the show. Charlie Hearon, a twisting, side-stepping little 145-pounder from Greenville, broke the Hoosiers' hearts when he took the initial kick-off and chased it 90-yards for a touchdown. He passed to Koontz for another. Several sensational romps were turned in by Kenneth Travis, a first-year find for Amarillo.

Aggies Whipped Again

Any hopes the Texas Aggies had of doing a comeback were squelched when they lost their second conference decision to the Arkansas Razorbacks, 13-0, at Little Rock. The Farmers have lost four in a row since they defeated Southwestern university in their opener. The Porkers have done a fine about-face since folding up before Texas Christian, 40-0, downing Rice and the Aggies on successive Saturdays. A strong running attack, featuring "Cowboy" Kyle, put the Aggies on the skids Saturday.

Baylor, all pepped up after its tie with Southern Methodist, had considerable wind taken out of its sails by the Centenary college Gentlemen over at Shreveport. After permitting the Bears to score two points on a safety in the third period, the Gents came back in the final to score on a lateral pass to Murff and win, 7-2. The Baptists made a valiant effort to score in the closing minutes, reaching Centenary's one-yard mark, but the Gent line stiffened and held there.

Frogs Beat Matadors

Using makeshift line-ups, Coach Francis Schmidt directed his Texas Christian Frogs to a 26-0 win over Texas Tech at Fort Worth. The Matadors offered more opposition than had been anticipated, and it was only by straight, hard football that the champions pushed across their four touchdowns. An 18-yard sprint by Green was the longest made by a Frog back. Leland was in long enough to score his seventh touchdown of the year.

The outstanding tussle for the current week will be the annual "grudge" affair between Methodist and Texas at Memorial stadium in Austin. Prospects are it will be worth traveling that far to see.

Five other conference members have much less on their minds, all playing non-championship tilts, as follows: Texas Christian vs. Abilene Christian, at Fort Worth; Texas Aggies vs. Centenary at College Station; Arkansas vs. Louisiana State at Shreveport; Baylor vs. Oklahoma Baptists at Shawnee, Okla., and Rice vs. Sewanee at Houston.

Conference standing:

	Won	Lost	Tied	Pct.
Texas Christian	2	0	0	1.000
Arkansas	2	1	0	.666
Rice	1	1	0	.500
Baylor	0	0	1	.500
Southern Methodist	0	0	1	.500
Texas	0	1	0	.000
Texas Aggies	0	2	0	.000

Aggies And Bruins Resume Relations

OKLA.—KANSAS KEEP UP PACE

Missouri's Victory Feature Of Big Six

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 26. (UP)—Definitely breaking off relations with the Big Six conference, University of Kansas athletic officials tonight announced James Bausch, star halfback declared ineligible to compete in conference football games because of alleged professionalism, would be permitted to play.

Faculty representatives of the other five Big Six institutions voted Saturday to sever relations with Kansas after this year if Bausch is allowed to play on Kansas' eleven. Bausch, a Midwest candidate for all-American football honors, was declared a professional inasmuch as he receives $75 a month from a Topeka, Kan., life insurance company as advance salary on premiums he will sell after he graduates.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 26. (AP)—The Big Six football leaders, Kansas and Oklahoma, kept pace through another week-end in which the biggest development, from a conference standpoint, was Missouri's first season victory.

The Tigers, thrice held scoreless and beaten, eked out a 14 to 13 win from Drake, the Missouri Valley conference champion, in the Missourians' fourth and last non-conference fray of the season.

Kansas turned back Iowa State 20-6, but except for intervals in the first and last periods, did not exhibit real power. The Jayhawkers eased up after a touchdown early in the game and not until Iowa State scored early in the fourth quarter did Kansas brace and twice more cross the goal line.

Oklahoma made a slash at the Kansas Aggies, scored a first period touchdown and added a point, and then protected that lead through the rest of the game.

After Montana State scored a first period touchdown against the Nebraska reserves, the regulars were inserted long enough to start a parade of touchdowns which found the Big Six champions ahead at the final whistle, 53-17. It was the largest score made by a conference team this season.

Eddie Kenna, Chattanooga Southern association catcher taken by Washington, played every position in the last game of the Dixie season.

George Thomas Jr., 14, Kenosha, Wis., succeeded his brother, Bobby 18, as junior bicycle champion when Bobby won the senior title.

Nations' Favored Big Teams Run Up Huge Scores Against Opponents

By HUGH S. FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—Upsets were exceedingly rare in the important football games throughout the nation yesterday unless some surprisingly big scores by favored teams can be placed in this classification. Notre Dame, again rambling toward a claim for a national championship, gave a great example of this kind of upset when they gave the powerful Pittsburgh eleven a sound trouncing 35-19.

In lesser clashes, Carnegie trounced Western Reserve 40-8, Boston college defeated Dayton 15-6, Allegheny swamped Little Adrian 31-0 and Rochester beat Kenyon 13-6.

Two other mid-western teams were victorious in intersectional games. Nebraska went into the Rocky Mountain conference to defeat Montana State 53-7 and Northwestern beat Centre, 45-7. Chicago and Missiasippi battled to a scoreless tie while Indiana received a severe setback when it went into the southwest to suffer 27-0 setback at the hands of Southern Methodist. Centenary made it even against the Southwest conference by defeating Baylor 7-2.

Albie Booth Injured

In the East, Yale and Army tied at 7-7 as Albie Booth was lost to the Yale cause by an injury. Dartmouth fought over a rain-soaked field to defeat Harvard, 7-2. Undefeated Fordham capitalized a break to beat New York university 7-0 while Navy showed unexpected strength in trouncing Princeton 31-0.

Purdue caused the great disturbance in the Big Ten by gaining a 7-6 triumph over Wisconsin, a favored title contender. Michigan easily kept its place in the race by defeating Illinois 15-7.

The South saw one big upset as little Furman defeated Florida 14-13. Alabama was triumphant over over Vanderbilt 12-7, in the struggle of the undefeated leaders. Georgia whipped Auburn 39-7 and Kentucky trounced Virginia 47-0. Tulane won its first conference game from Georgia Tech 28-0. Tennessee had a close call against North Carolina, winning 9-7.

Kansas Sets Pace

In the Big Six conference, Kansas continued to show the way even without "Jarring Jim" Bausch, winning an easy 20-6 decision over Iowa State. Oklahoma defeated Kansas Aggies, 7-0. Missouri went out of the conference to win its first game of the year, beating Drake 14-13.

Utah rolled up another big score to show the way in the Rocky Mountain conference, defeating Denver 59-0. Colorado beat Colorado Aggies 7-0, Colorado Teachers downed Colorado Mines by the same score; Utah Aggies defeated Wyoming 13-8, and Brigham Young trounced Western State 25-0.

Stanford Loses

The slackening of the upset season failed to affect the Pacific Coast conference when Southern California threw the standing still more into a turmoil by scoring a smashing 41-12 victory over Stanford. Washington scored another triumph for the northern section over the South by handing California another setback, 13-0. Oregon defeated Idaho 20-6 and Washington State, the leading title contender through its two major victories, routed Montana, 61-0.

COOPER WINS GOLF TOURNEY

Los Angeles Pro Beats Field At Salt Lake

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 26. (AP)—Harry Cooper, Los Angeles professional, won the $5,000 Salt Lake City open golf tournament here today with a 72-hole score of 283. He toured the last two 18-hole rounds today in par 72's.

Olin Dutra, Del Monte, Calif., won second place with a score of 285. He smashed par figures on both rounds today, going around the first 18 in 68, and the second in 71.

George Von Elm, Detroit professional, and Craig Wood, professional, Bloomfield, N. J., tied for third place with 290 each. Von Elm, making his debut as a "business man golfer," finished the last 18 holes in 68, low for the afternoon round. Wood made the last round in 71.

Cooper, who has led the field since the start of the tournament, wins the $1,500 first prize and Dutra receives $1,000 second money.

The rest of the first 10 finished as follows:

Al Espinosa, Chicago, fifth, 292.
Abe Espinosa, Chicago, sixth, 295.
Ray Mangrum, Dallas, Texas, seventh, 297.
Harold McSpadden, Kansas City, eighth, 298.
Jimmie Thompson, Colorado Springs, ninth, 299.
Harold Long, Denver, tenth, 300.

Utah Again Headed For Rocky Mountain Title

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 26. (AP)—There was every reason today to believe Utah university has another sure-fire championship football team, with the rest of the field in the race for the Rocky Mountain conference title just so many contenders, and ordinary ones at that.

Those who saw Ike Armstrong's Utes bowl over Denver Saturday at Salt Lake, 59-0, were convinced the Indians have a machine even stronger than the one which went through the 1929 season undefeated and united to annex its second straight championship.

The University of Colorado, heralded as the best bet of the eastern division teams to halt Utah's march, had to exert all the pressure at its command to score a 7-0 win over the Colorado Aggies.

There were four undefeated teams in the race today. Utah Aggies stayed in the running by beating out Wyoming, at Logan, 13-8.

Brigham Young's Cougars had little difficulty beating the tailend Western State eleven at Gunnison 15-0, and Colorado Teachers had the edge over Colorado Mines at Golden, 7-0.

Austin Defrate, Montana State's sensational quarterback, galloped 90 yards to a touchdown against Nebraska at the very outset of the game but the Cornhuskers soon got started and swamped the Bobcats 53-7.

LAPSE OF FOUR YEARS TO END

Heads of Institutions Sign Agreement

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Oct. 26. (AP)—Resumption of athletic relations between Texas A. & M. college and Baylor university, severed in the fall of 1926, was authorized in a joint statement signed by President T. O. Walton of A. & M. and President S. P. Brooks of Baylor and announced here today.

Athletic teams from the two institutions have not met since their football game at Waco four years ago, which was followed by a student clash.

There was no indication today when the first game between the schools would be scheduled, but negotiations between their athletic councils are expected to get under way at once. It was considered probable Baylor and A. & M. football teams might meet next fall.

The presidents' statement follow:

"Having in mind the interests of intercollegiate athletics in Texas, and desirous of promoting the same, we, the undersigned presidents of the A. & M. college of Texas and Baylor university, cordially invite the athletic business managers of our institutions to arrange future games between the schools, starting at as early a date as is feasible in the light of present schedule arrangements.

"In making this suggestion and in giving our consent, we are acting upon the often repeated advice of the alumni and friends of both institutions. We do confidently rely upon our students, alumni and friends to carry out the lofty ideals held by all for the promotion of good fellowship and the physical training of the young manhood of our state."

Jamerson Next To Leland in Scoring

DALLAS, Oct. 27. (AP)—When Dick Jamerson, Rice sophomore flash, plunged across for the touchdown that gave the Owls their first victory over Texas in six years yesterday, he likewise hoisted himself into second place among individual point-getters of the Southwest conference, with 34.

Cy Leland socred once on Texas Tech to retain his leadership. It was the Frog flier's seventh touchdown.

DEMOS SEEK STEPHENS VOTE

Party Leaders Plan Last Minute Rally

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Oct. 26.—Democrat leaders here have organized to make a last minute effort to get out the party vote in Stephens county. Leaders will make a canvass of all precincts to see that arrangements are made to get out the vote and two state nominees will speak in the county during the final week of the campaign.

Robert Burns, first county attorney here and now nominee for lieutenant-governor, will speak at Comanche at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

T. P. Gore, blind former United States senator and Democratic nominee for senator, will speak here next Saturday afternoon.

Party leaders will attempt to get out a heavy Democrat vote in this county for the benefit of the state ticket. The county has a normal voting strength of around 7,000 Democrats to less than 2,000 Republicans but little interest has been shown in the campaign and a light vote is feared.

The Republicans have only one nominee on the county ticket and that for sheriff. Deputy Sheriff R. G. Logan, Comanche, is the Republican nominee against E. R. Young, Duncan, former sheriff.

Several citizens have offered to help build the hangar without charging for their services. Powell says the sheet iron structure, 40 by 52 feet, will be completed in about a month.

Engineers Survey Frederick Highway

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 26.—The six state highway engineers are still busy surveying the proposed highway from Frederick to Davidson, passing through this city on Fifteenth street from north to south. This route crosses the Katy near the road camp and continues on south about four miles when it turns west and crosses the Frisco by an underpass.

This is the second point that the Frisco is crossed from Snyder, the first being about half way between Snyder and Manitou. Three routes have been surveyed through Manitou. The first is on the section line at the east end of the business section of that town. The second follows the Frisco railroad by the depot. The third is a block east of the depot. All pass through Manitou east of the depot and cross the main street of that town.

The highway which is finally selected is expected to be eventually paved.

VERNON RAIL MEET CALLED

Frisco Officials to Confer On Extension

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 26.—Officials of the St. Louis and San Francisco Railway company are expected in Vernon early this week to complete negotiations with Vernon Chamber of Commerce officials on plans for the opening of work on the Vernon-Seymour extension of the railway.

The officials are expected to arrive Monday or Tuesday, according to announcement made by Grady Shipp, secretary of the Vernon Chamber of Commerce. Vernon officials are expecting to complete the drive for the $25,000 guarantee for the purchase of a portion of the right-of-way for the extension by the time the Frisco representatives visit the city.

The Frisco officials are expected to complete plans here for a continuation of their work in securing the right-of-way to Seymour and definite announcement as to the beginning of construction is expected to be made. Original plans called for construction to start Nov. 1, but since that announcement the drive for the guarantee for Vernon's part in purchasing the right-of-way has been conducted.

No definite information was available here as to who the officials to visit Vernon would be other than the fact that they are high in authority in Frisco administration. Recent correspondence has been through L. C. Fritch, vice president of the Frisco.

Heartbreak Girl

By Rob Eden

sented to this? There was no need. What would happen if the woman, Mrs. Mendenhall, should die? If she, Gail Stuart, were sent to prison for something that she hadn't done?

Gail thought of the few times in her life that she had driven a car. Very few. And in Fairview at that. Miss Mayhew didn't own a car, but several of the boys Gail had gone out with had had small cars. Now and then they insisted she drive. One of them taught her how, but she couldn't ever remember going more than 20 miles an hour. She was afraid of the roads, not sure of herself behind a wheel.

Blood!

Even in Kansas she had not applied for a driver's license.

The police car passed Ross' yellow Sun. Something on the bumper. Something dark. Blood!

A pale dawn was showing in the sky when they reached the police station in Hollywood. Captain Rand heard Kelly's story, while Gail trembled at his side.

"You say you have no driver's license," he questioned the girl.

"No."

"From Kansas, you say? Did you have one there?"

"No—" They would trace it if she had said she had.

"Why were you driving, then?"

Gail was silent. She had no answer to that question.

"I'm arranging bail, Captain Rand," Tod broke in.

"There won't be any bail, Mr. Janson. We'll see how Mrs. Mendenhall gets along."

"No bail?"

"No—we're holding Miss Stuart without bail. She needs a lesson and a good one. Shouldn't wonder but what the judge would give her five or 10 years if Mrs. Mendenhall should die. Hitting a woman 50 years old! Driving like a fool. These kids have got to know some time what they can do and what they can't. Did you search Hardy's car for liquor, Kelly?"

"Yes, and didn't find anything," he grumbled.

"Mrs. Balcom will take you, Miss Stuart," he indicated the matron who was standing at his side. "We're moving you down to the jail in Los Angeles."

"I have to stay—then?" Gail was white faced. Her body was weak with fright.

"Of course."

"It isn't fair!" She whispered fiercely to Tod. "I won't do it!"

"Hush, Rand'll hear you. Don't worry, it'll only be for one night. I'll get you out in the morning."

All right. It wasn't all right. It was all wrong. Gail was very bitter as she followed Kelly and Mrs. Balcom to a waiting car. She might not get out tomorrow. . .

QUANAH SEED SUPPLY CUT

182 Farmers Benefit By Association Plan

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Oct. 26.—Advice from Alexander Legge, chairman of the federal farm board, to John Manley, head of the Wheat Growers' association, that only 60,000 bushels of seed wheat should be placed under the distribution plan used here resulted in orders to discontinue accepting applications in Hardeman county.

N. E. Hackney, vice president of the association, and G. M. Cassity, in charge of the local office, closed the local distributing office, and when figures were checked found that 13,500 bushels had been applied for and allotted to 182 farmers of this trade territory, represented by Quanah, Goodlett and adjacent territory.

Mr. Hackney and Mr. Cassity left for adjoining counties where more seed wheat will be distributed under the same plan used here until the 60,000 bushels are allotted.

Approximately 20,000 acres of wheat will be planted in this county as result of this seed distribution plan.

Hardeman county was the first county in Texas to accept the plan proposed by the Wheat Growers association, which provides that farmers may give their notes for amount of seed wheat desired, due Aug. 1, 1931, the business men of Quanah providing 20 per cent of the amount as a guaranty fund. This fund, amounting to about $3,500 was quickly raised here and distribution made from chamber of commerce offices.

Many other Texas counties have since adopted the same plan, and the limited amount of wheat available under the plan caused curtailment of quota for Hardeman county.

Missouri corn cobs that are manufactured into pipes have an annual retail value of over $30,000,000.

STATE: "She Couldn't Say No" with Winnie Lightner, Chester Morris, Tully Marshall and Johnnie Arthur. Comedy, "Confounded Interest," with Charlie Ruggles. Silly Symphony, "Merry Dwarfs"; Sportlight novelty and sound news.

STRAND: Amos 'n' Andy in "Check and Double Check." Monkey comedy, "The Little Covered Wagon." Terrytoon cartoon. Sound news.

MAJESTIC: "Scotland Yard" with Edmund Lowe and Joan Bennett. Short subjects and news.

GEM: Rod la Rocque in "Beau Bandit." Lloyd Hamilton comedy.

Wichita Falls' annual Halloween midnight matinee will be celebrated this year at the Strand theater on Friday night, Oct. 31, with Maurice Chevalier as chief entertainer in "Playboy of Paris"—one of Paramount's newest releases.

Whether or not Le Chevalier is to be classified as an owl or a jack-o-lantern remains to be seen. If in no other way, he may wedge his way into the Halloween category by being on a "bat," easy enough for him.

On the same day, "Laughter" opens at the Strand for a week's run, featuring Nancy Carroll and Frederic March, who are so different that it is difficult to imagine their playing together.

A more appropriate-sounding title for Halloween is "Midnight Mystery," which plays at the State Thursday, Friday and Saturday, following Winnie Lightner's "She Couldn't Say No."

"Midnight Mystery" features Betty Compson, Raymond Hatton, June Clyde and Hugh Trevor. Even the short subjects at the State show considerable improvement during the past few weeks.

There is, for instance, a short Charlie Ruggles feature on the bill now showing at the State. Nuff sed. In addition, there is a "Silly Symphony." Too much said. Everybody will go.

MARRS WARNS AGAINST CRIME

County Judge Addresses Kay Bible Class

"We need not be surprised if this winter brings us a great increase in crime in our city and state because of so many being out of employment," Judge John P. Marrs said Sunday morning before members of the Kay Bible class of the First Methodist church, "and because the large eastern cities are finally awake to their peril and are putting on real clean-up campaigns."

Cooperation of all citizens with officers of the law will be necessary in the coming few months, the speaker declared, in order to avoid an epidemic of lawlessness.

Speaking upon the need for better government, the speaker continued:

Better Government

"In a democracy, where the people rule, it is absolutely necessary that they not only study their government, but they must work at it. They must give it some time, and careful attention, if they would make it a success. The new law requiring the teaching of the constitution in our public schools is an important step in the right direction, and let us hope that it is just the beginning of 'selling' our government to our people.

"If we spent one-fifth as much in teaching good government and good citizenship through the press and over the radio as is spent in advertising certain brands of cigarets and cosmetics, it would be surprising what might be accomplished."

Citing the fact that the Sunday school lesson was on the subject of temperance, the speaker declared that its general aim should be to arouse a determination to have strength of character and moral courage enough to meet present-day issues as worthily as Biblical heroes met those of their day.

Consolidation of capital, prohibition, immigration, the tariff and taxation were mentioned by Judge Marrs along with crime as constituting major problems before the people of this country today.

"Despite the fact that we are on every scale the richest people in the world, we have three or four million families out of work and on the verge of starvation," said the speaker. "Is it any wonder, in view of that fact, and our crime record, that George Bernard Shaw recently said before a group of our college students that Americans are drifting rapidly back to savagery? He must have witnessed a bathing revue, or a modern college football game!"

Judge Marrs quoted the late Chief Justice Taft as saying that "administration of criminal law in the United States is a disgrace to civilization, and that the trial of a criminal seems like a game of chance in favor of the accused, who, if he escapes, seems to have the sympathy of a sporting public."

Bryan's Ideal

The ideal toward which we should strive, the speaker urged, is vividly suggested by the following words spoken by William Jennings Bryan:

"Behold a Republic in which civil and religious liberty stimulates all to earnest endeavor and in which the law restrains every hand uplifted for a neighbor's injury; a republic in which no one cares to wear a crown. Behold a republic standing erect while empires all around are bowed beneath the weight of their own armaments—a republic whose flag is loved while other flags are only feared. Behold a republic increasing in population, in wealth, in strength, and in influence, solving the problems of civilization and hastening the coming of a universal brotherhood—a republic which shakes thrones and dissolves aristocracies by its silent example and gives light and inspiration to those who sit in darkness. Behold a republic gradually but surely becoming the supreme moral factor in the world's progress and the accepted arbiter of the world's disputes—a republic whose history, like the path of the just, is 'as the shining light that shineth more and more unto the perfect day.'"

'Probation After Death' Subject of Sermon

The lesson-sermon subject was "Probation After Death" in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday.

"It shall be said in that day, Lo, this is our God; we have waited for him, and he will save us: this is the Lord; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation" was the golden text, from Isaiah 25:9.

The Scriptural passages included the following from I Corinthians 15: 19,20: "If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable. But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept."

The correlative citations read from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following from page 291: "Universal salvation rests on progression and probation, and is unattainable without them. Heaven is not a locality, but a divine state of mind in which all the manifestations of mind are harmonious and immortal, because sin is not there and man is found having no righteousness of his own, but in possession of 'the mind of the Lord,' as the Scripture says."

Temperance in All Things Urged By Martin in Talk to Class

Intemperance May Be Found in Thoughts and Words, Says Speaker in Address

"The well-rounded Christian citizen is temperate in all things that enter into the scheme of human existence," said Judge P. A. Martin Sunday morning before members of the Men's Bible class of the Floral Heights Methodist church in a discussion of temperance.

Admonishing his hearers to accord to each element in life its proper value according to Christian standards, Judge Martin said:

"In our effort to build up church rolls and increase our membership, I fear that we often fail to place deserved emphasis upon the necessity of new birth; leading well-meaning people into a losing battle because they lack the armor that faith supplies to those who really are led of the spirit."

The speaker's address in part follows:

Only One Law

"The Apostle Paul, in this letter to the Galatians, draws the line of demarkation between those who follow the leading of the Spirit and those who are led by the lusts of the flesh; in other words he draws the real distinction between the church and the world. Like Jesus himself, Paul says there is but one law and that is the law of love. 'Love thy neighbor as thyself' the second great commandment of the New Testament and if a man does that then he is free, so far as the law is concerned.

"In the development of the three-fold nature of man—body, mind and spirit, it is the great attribute of the spirit to obtain through the grace of God alone, the mastery over and control of the mind and the body, so that one may be said, as Paul puts it, to be 'led of the spirit.' And when so led the great apostle says a man has been 'called unto liberty.'

"The temptations of men are as diverse as they are numerous. We all have our weaknesses and there is a constant warfare going on in the hearts of men overcoming these weaknesses or being overcome by them and it is at this point that religion affords its great help. 'My grace shall be sufficient for thee' was the answer the apostle himself received when he prayed that his own 'thorn in the flesh' be removed.

"Our golden text is 'Every man who striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things' and while this is a temperance lesson, with special emphasis upon the immoderate use of intoxicants we must remember that the Scripture says 'all things.' Many a man is a total abstainer from the use of liquor and yet tremendously intemperate in thought and words of condemnation of his fellow man who disagrees with him; others are intemperate in their love of money or of leisure or of their use of time and talent. The well-rounded Christian is temperate in all of the things that enter into the scheme of human existence.

Fruits of Spirit

"In order that his Galatian readers might not misunderstand him, the apostle catalogues the manifestations of the lusts of the flesh and the fruits of the spirit. He says they are 'manifest' and they are so indeed. All men can see them. The one is ugly; the other beautiful. The one leads to trouble here and hereafter; the other leads to the beautiful life and the useful life here and to unspeakable joys hereafter.

"We have all known men and women whose lives were characterized by these fruits of the spirit, 'love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, goodness, faith, meekness, temperance,' and we would all like to lead such a life, a life that will produce such fruit. In order to do it we have only to make use of the grace that is furnished and follow the leadership prescribed.

"As I understand it, the entry into the kingdom involves something more than a mental recognition of the right and a membership in some church. A man may profess a historical belief in a Savior, join a church, pay the preacher and do all of the outward things the Christian does and yet never experience that change of heart; that new birth which enables him to use those spiritual helps, so necessary to the Christian life. To such an one religion is a disappointment and his life is unfruitful. In our efforts to build up our church rolls and increase our membership I fear that we often fail to place emphasis we should place upon the necessity of the new birth; to be born of the Spirit and lead well-meaning people into a losing battle, without the armor that faith supplies to those who are really led of the Spirit."

THEATER TO OPEN SEASON

Amateur Group to Present Play Tonight

Willard Mack's stirring mystery-melodrama, "Kick In," will usher in the Wichita Falls Little Theater's 1930-31 season of plays at the organization's playhuse, Avenue H and Polk street, at 8 o'clock Monday night following one month's intensive rehearsing which was concluded with a late-hour session Sunday night.

Inaugurating its second year of activity in the workshop equipped for its use one year ago, the Little Theater will launch out upon the ensuing year's work much better prepared for a season of well-staged productions than during the past 12 months, despite the admitted success of the past season. Available talent for casting of a wide variety of plays is much more extensive than that on hand in the fall of 1929, and the experience of the past season was distributed among more than 70 individuals. A number of well constructed and highly adaptable stage sets were completed during the 1929-30 season, and are available, together with much accumulated stage property, for the ensuing period of work.

"Kick In" has an undeniable claim to popularity in that it furnished John Barrymore a vehicle for several months' of complete success in the role which will be taken here Monday night by Jerry Moffett. Dealing with the world of crime now commonly classified in the United States under the one term, "gangland," it redeems the apparent morbidity of its subject by developing vividly traits of human nature which are constant regardless of environment.

Among those making their bow to Little Theater-goers here in Monday night's performance will be Mrs. Victor B. Lowrey, Mrs. C. A. Spragins Jr., Miss Tillie Mae Schaefer, Miss Frances Ann Saunders, and A. T. Rowan. Already familiar to local audiences because of commendable performances in the past are Paul Barnett, W. D. Bent of Burkburnett, Lloyd Wyatt and Mr. Moffett.

While a large number of scrip books have been sold, representing membership cards and admission tickets for their holders. Individual tickets and the scrip books will be on sale Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday in the City National bank, it was announced.

HERE'S THE FIFTH PUZZLE IN THE TIMES-RECORD NEWS "SCRAMBLED LETTER CONTEST"

The Times-Record News is conducting one of the most absorbing contests ever designed for the entertainment of its readers. To stimulate interest in it, and to make it a profitable as well as an enjoyable pastime for the next few weeks, a grand total of 39 prizes aggregating $100 will be awarded for the winning solutions.

Every other day there will be printed a letter of the alphabet in scrambled form, similar to the "C" above. These scrambled sections, when cut apart and properly assembled, will form the accompanying letter indicated. Each letter will be printed once in The Times and Record News.

This new game is extremely fascinating. It requires a high degree of skill to arrange these apparently simple sections in such forms as to make a perfect capital letter. "Scrambled Letters" has swept the country like a storm. Big business executives have taken it up as a genuine test of their ingenuity. Parties are formed in hundreds of communities to work out the puzzle in interested groups.

Each letter will appear in both papers. Full details about entering the contest are published herewith. Remember, 39 prizes make it well worth your time in matching your wits against this brand new intelligence test.

PRIZES ARE AS FOLLOWS

First prize	$25.00
Second prize	15.00
Third prize	10.00
Fourth prize	5.00

Read These Rules

The Times-Record News Nu-Way alphabet puzzles include the 26 letters of the alphabet. The publication of the various letters of the alphabet will cover a period of several weeks. These letters appearing in the paper are cut into pieces of varying shapes, the object being to place these parts together so they will form the respective letters as illustrated in outline accompanying the pieces.

An outline and its entire parts will be published in the Times and Record News every other day, a different letter of the alphabet being presented. The publication of all letters of the alphabet will cover a period of several weeks.

Anyone who is a resident of Wichita Falls or this section may participate in this profitable fun, except employes of the Times and Record News or their families. You pay nothing to enter. Each letter, as it appears in the Times and Record News may be traced or copied free of charge from the files at the office of this newspaper.

The Times and Record News will pay $100 in cash prizes to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved complete set of puzzles in accordance with the rules. This does not necessarily mean that you have to solve all the puzzles to win. The prizes will be paid to the persons whose entries rank the highest. Neatness, accuracy and simplicity are the prime requisites. Accurate cutting and correct assembling of the pieces to form each respective letter. Entries that are elaborate will receive no more consideration than the simplest ones. Young and old thus have an equal chance to win.

Take the page of the Times or Record News wherein the puzzles are published. Cut the pieces carefully along the outside of the black border and paste these pieces neatly so that you completely cover the letter appearing opposite, and repeat this operation every week with the new letters in the Nu-Way alphabet puzzles published in the Times and Record News until you complete the full alphabet.

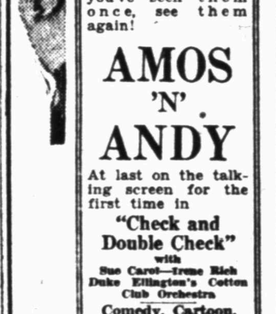

Puzzle solutions are to be submitted only in complete sets five days after all letters of the alphabet have been published in the Times and Record News. Do not send in each puzzle separately. When you have the complete set of 26 puzzles, or parts thereof, mail first class, postage prepaid, or bring them to the Times and Record News alphabet puzzle department. All entries must be in by midnight five days after the last puzzle has been published in the Times and Record News. The winners will be announced as soon thereafter as possible. Be sure that mailed entries have name and address of sender and sufficient postage is used.

In addition to your entry, you must send an advertisement of one of the advertisers shown on any of the letters clipped from the Times or Record News during this contest period, and a letter not exceeding 50 words in length telling why you can profitably deal with this concern.

The Times and Record News will appoint judges, and their decision will be final. In the event of a tie for any of the prizes offered, the full amount of the prize tied for will be awarded each tying contestant.
