SCOUTING CAMP OPENS SUNDAY

Scouts from the 14 counties in the Adobe Walls Council will converge at the beautiful Camp Ki-O-Wah located in the Ochiltree State Park on Wolf Creek 20 miles south of Perryton on Sunday, May 29 to go into camp through June 19.

Ochiltree State Park, due to its excellent facilities for camping has been selected the second consecutive time by the council to hold their annual camping expedition. Grassy slopes, surrounded by shimmering crags, virgin fresh water fanned by leafy shade trees and an excellent swimming "hole" are only a few of the virtues which prompted its choice. Perryton scouts are fortunate indeed in being able to attend the Councils camp so close to home. Twelve local scouts have signed for camp and others interested are asked to see A. P. Spicer at once.

GRAIN DEALERS MAKE ESTIMATE

PANHANDLE GRAINMEN STUDY WHEAT PROSPECTS AND GIVE PRODUCTION BY COUNTIES

At the 25th annual convention of Panhandle grainmen held in Amarillo May 23-24, estimates were made on the wheat crop in this region. The estimate was for a crop approximately 3,000,000 bushels larger than the crop estimated last year by the grain men.

County by county estimates of the dealers indicate that the best crop prospects are for Ochiltree County, where dealers said 4,020,000 bushels of wheat will be produced. Hansford County was second with an estimated yield of 2,400,000 bushels. Other counties were estimated as follows: Sherman, 250,000 bushels; See No. 3, Back Page

ALL GAMES IN "DUST BOWL" LEAGUE RAINED OUT LAST SUNDAY; CLUB HAS NEW NAME

The Perryton Greys, a new name adopted for the Perryton baseball club, will open their "Dust Bowl" league participation for this season, when they meet the Sunray team here on Flowers Field next Sunday afternoon.

ELLIS INSTALLS NEW EQUIPMENT

NEW SYSTEM WILL SUPPLY INVIGORATING, COOL SANITARY AIR IN THE ELLIS THEATRE

The Ellis Theatre completed installation this week of an entirely new system of air conditioning which will assure its patrons of the purest and most invigorating atmosphere.

The installation is being made by the National Theatre Supply Co. of Oklahoma City, distributors of the American Blower.

Most everyone associates cooling or air-conditioning with summertime only. But the Ellis' new system will operate summer and winter, to flood the theatre with a constant supply of fresh air, filtered, washed, and then circulated to every seat in the house.

The giant air washer and pump will spray thousands of gallons of pure water into the air stream every hour, removing all dirt, dust, and bacteria from the air, sending only the clean, cooling air into the auditorium.

The sound ventilating fan, located in a sound proof chamber, will force new air through the grille at the rate of 50,000 cubic feet per minute, which means a complete change of air each minute.

HIGHWAY ASS'N MEET JUNE 8-9

14TH ANNUAL MEET WILL BE HELD AT GARDEN CITY; LOCAL OFFICERS IN ASS'N TO ATTEND

The 14th annual meeting of the Great Plains Highway Association will be held this year at Garden City, Kansas, on June 8-9, according to J. V. Romigh, president of the Association. W. B. LaMaster, traveling secretary and R. T. Shindler, 1st vice president of the Association, both of Perryton, plan to attend the meeting.

In spite of the depression and partly on account of it and the increased federal appropriations for road building constant progress has been made by the organization from year to year until today out of the 2200 miles from Regina to Laredo, there is less than 300 miles of unsurfaced highway left to be completed. Through the good work of W. B. LaMaster and R. T. Shindler and other Texas members, practically all of U. S. No. 83 through Texas has been incorporated in the federal system, which should mean completion through King and Stonewall counties and from Junction south to Uvalde in the future.

It is possible that Oklahoma will probably get the road across the strip surfaced this year as the grade is now practically finished.

MAKING LOANS WIND EROSION MONEY READY

FSA MAKING LOANS FOR WIND EROSION WORK TAKING AS-SIGNMENTS AGAINST AAA PAYMENTS

Amarillo, Texas, May 24.—Loan applications are now being received from farmers in Region Twelve of the Farm Security Administration, which embraces all of New Mexico, West Texas, the Oklahoma Panhandle, Southeastern Colorado and Western Kansas, who need funds to immediately protect their lands against damage by wind erosion. Roy I. Kimmel, coordinator for the Department of Agriculture in the Southern Great Plains area, announced here this week.

Mr. Kimmel's announcement followed a conference here with L. H. Hauer, regional director of the FSA, and Fred Merrifield, field agent for the Southern Division of the AAA.

Applications for loans, which are being extended by the Farm Security Administration in cooperation with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, should be filed with the local A. C. P. Committees.

These loans, it was explained, are to be made where farmers assign a part of their tentative AAA payments as security.

Farmers may borrow any needed amount up to 60 per cent of their expected payment for participation in the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Administration program to adequately protect their lands against wind erosion hazards.

In effect this plan enables farmers to get funds in advance for the purchase of materials and supplies to work their eroding lands. It is especially designed to be of help to those farmers who cannot immediately obtain advances through other credit channels.

Funds obtained through this emergency lending program are to be used to put the approved tillage and seeding practices into effect in accordance with the 1938 Agricultural Conservation program requirements.

Originally this plan was scheduled to be administered in only 40 counties in the five-state area where the farm lands were most seriously affected by wind erosion. However, because of continued need for proper cultivation and seeding practices in widely separated wind erosion localities, the program was revised to include all counties in Region Twelve where the need might exist.

Farmers desiring full details for making applications for loans are encouraged to contact their local A. C. P. Committees.

Beaver Bridge Open

Completion of 900 Foot Bridge Over Beaver River is Convenient to Motorists

County Commissioner Kay Thompson, of the First District, in co-operation with the Works Progress Administration, has just completed the work on a 900 foot bridge across the Beaver River, that is a source of great satisfaction to the people residing in the eastern part of this district, and is especially appreciated by the citizens of Tyrone, Adams, and the residents of the southeastern corner of Texas County. This bridge which is on the county road that connects the two towns named with Highway 35, will obviate the necessity of traveling around by Highway 33 in Beaver County, or going west to Hardesty, and then north.

The long bridge is of creosoted timber and tile construction, and Commissioner Thompson has been constant in pushing this construction.—Guyton Herald.

Lump Sum Payments

Lang Holt, Assistant Manager Of Amarillo Field Office Was In City, Tuesday, May 24

Lang Holt, Assistant Manager of the Amarillo Field Office of the Social Security Board, was a visitor here Tuesday, May 24, contacting claimants for lump sum benefits under the Old-Age Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act.

"We find that many people do not yet know that the Social Security Board is already making lump-sum payments to qualified individuals," Holt said. "Lump sums are being paid to workers who have attained age 65 since January 1, 1937, provided they have received wages from covered employment, and to the widows or close relatives of such workers who have died before reaching age 65."

"In such case, the amount of the lump sum is 3 1/2 per cent of the total wages received from covered employment beginning January 1, 1937, and up to the attainment of age 65 or death. Any individual eligible to file for a claim for a lump-sum payment should communicate with the Social Security Board, Oliver-Eagle Building, Amarillo, Texas."

It was pointed out that the worker in covered employment who becomes 65 years of age does NOT have to stop working in order to apply for a lump-sum payment. The payment, which represents final settlement of his social security account, will be made to the worker regardless of whether or not he continues to work.

Old-Age Insurance should not be confused with Old-Age assistance program. Persons interested in old-age assistance should contact the district representative of the Texas Old-Age Assistance Commission, Holt said.

Tourists to Texas

Conoco Tourists Bureau Estimates
Tourists Will Spend Millions This Year

Up in Denver a motor travel bureau that checks up on its customers says that 366,000 of those customers will visit Texas during 1938 and will spend about $37,000,000 while here. This is the Conoco Travel Bureau, maintained by the Continental Oil Company and directed by Joe H. Thompson, who bases his predictions on last year's records and on the tourist trend in the early months of this year.

Says Thompson, "The figures on Texas support the belief that this state is becoming more popular. According to present indications the number of visiting cars and motorists in 1938 will compare favorably with any earlier year."

"We estimate that motor tourists routed by our bureau will spend about $9,000,000 in retail stores, $8,000,000 in restaurants and other eating places, $7,500,000 for gasoline, oil and other transportation costs and a similar amount for hotel accommodations and lodgings. About $3,000,000 will go for amusements and $2,000,000 for souvenirs and incidentals."

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Herndon and children, Billy and Anna Lou, were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. F. C. Spencer and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hergert and Vernon Dale were Friday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Kelley Jr.

Mrs. Jessie LeMaster came in Thursday from Enid, Okla., for a short visit in the homes of her sons, E. W. and Jake LeMaster.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Autry left Friday for a ten day vacation which they will spend at Fort Worth and points near.

WTSTC EXCAVATING ANCIENT INDIAN RUIN NEAR AMARILLO

Canyon, May 24.—West Texas State College for two months has been excavating an ancient Indian ruin on Antelope creek northeast of Amarillo. This work has been made possible through the cooperation of the Works Progress Administration.

These ancient ruins show a definite relationship between the Pueblo culture of the southwest and the Plains culture of the east. Evidently they were inhabited prior to the coming of Coronado and, as indicated by the evidence at hand, about the year 1300 A. D.

The ruin now being excavated contains about forty rooms. These were constructed in such a way that the walls were about eighteen inches thick and were neatly plastered on the inside. The rooms were covered by means of cottonwood logs and a thatch consisting of brush and mud. There were no windows, and the doors did not exceed three feet in height. Generally there was a fire pit in each room. These rooms were, rather large as compared to those of other Indian ruins and generally about 20 feet square. The floors were paved with packed clay.

The people who inhabited these ancient villages in West Texas practiced agriculture, as indicated by numerous specimens in their refuse heaps. They were also great hunters. Numerous bones of buffalo, deer, bison, and antelope are continually being brought to light, indicating that in addition to their diet of corn, beans, squashes and tomatoes there was also an abundance of wild game.

They constructed the first apartment house in the Panhandle of Texas. Their homes were well made and durable.

The pioneer work along this line carried on by Floyd B. Stuber of Amarillo, has added much to our knowledge of these ancient Texans.

Sponsors of the project intend to reconstruct several rooms from one of these ruins in the local museum. This will be a habitat reconstruction in life size. The purpose is to depict a home life scene showing a typical family group representing the Indian life of the Texas Panhandle of about the year 1300 A. D.

Credit--

--a privilege and an asset

Credit is a privilege—a convenience—extended upon the merchant's or professional man's confidence that when the bills are rendered, they will be paid promptly, according to the terms or agreement.

Pay each bill promptly and you will establish a "Prompt Pay" record in the files of the PERRYTON CREDIT ASSOCIATION which, like money in the bank, will grow in value. For promptness in paying makes your credit good—and keeps it good!

Failure to pay your bills promptly works just the opposite way and long over-due bills usually end in the ASSOCIATION OFFICE for collection.

This involves expense and sometimes makes enemies. If then the account is not paid it becomes a PERMANENT part of our records against your CREDIT RATING.

HERE ARE THE FACTS

We Have Sold 155 New
John Deere ^{Two-Cylinder} Tractors

In Approximately 36 Months to 110
Farmers of this Territory

WHY

have the sales of new John Deere Tractors been THREE times greater than the sales of ALL other makes combined

Here Are Some of the Reasons—

The John Deere Tractor, because of its simplicity of design and ability to burn low cost fuel does more work for a longer period for less money.

John Deere Tractors are sold through actual field performance, not by unsubstantiated claims of what is being done in some other territory.

New in speed! A high speed of 5 to 8 miles per hour with a low of 2 1-3 and an intermediate of 3 1/4 ... that's the new John Deere. Greater speed means wider usefulness—faster work in rush seasons—greater adaptability—more opportunity to increase profits.

New in performance! Easier handling ... easier riding ... more positive air cleaners ... better lubrication ... improved piston design ... these are just a few of the new features that help to make the John Deere tractor so outstanding in performances, so capable of doing your heavy jobs.

New in economy! Longer life ... better accessibility ... and an even higher standard of workmanship and materials—additional reasons why the majority of farmers prefer John Deere tractors.

New in value! Always an outstanding value since it was placed on the market for the first time. The new John Deere tractor is a greater, more positive value than ever. Nothing has been overlooked, nothing has been neglected, nothing has been left undone to make it a great tractor.

WILL PROBABLY DEVELOP THE NORRIS WELL IN THE FUTURE

According to James R. Macon, manager of the drilling and development of the Norris test well in the west part of Ochiltree County, future development of the well depends upon a number of things. It will require 60 or 90 days to make arrangements to proceed with the development of the Norris well.

The Johnson Kennitz Drilling Company of Oklahoma City has signed its contract and is trucking rotary drilling equipment to the Norris location back to Macon, and Mr. Macon makes following statement:

They completed their contract on me and I with them—in the test of the Norris well to 6,000 feet to be exact. And I am endeavoring to finance drilling of the well deeper—to 7,500 feet if possible—I was ready to proceed at this time there is no certainty as to whether I can finance such an operation. Therefore, we could afford to hold the equipment idle an indefinite period of time.

The casing remains in the well, the surface equipment including fuel tanks, water well equipment, etc., belongs to me and will be intact until I have had time to do what can be done.

I have had no help from the Oil Companies—and while I receive encouragement from some of them at this time, it is uncertain whether they will participate in the operation. Economic and other conditions existing at this time make financing of such hazardous undertakings difficult elsewhere.

We have a showing of gas at approximately 5,000 feet which we believe can be developed into commercial production. But the market for gas in the Panhandle at this time presents a problem, particularly in the cost of developing the problem is so great as in the case of other areas.

The Norris well to 7,500 feet will cost approximately $30,000.

To install casing, cement and acidize and complete a gas well at the 5,000 foot horizon will cost $12,000.

McMILLEN NEWS

Earle Waide, Reporter

Our rainy weather continues. This community received from one-half to one and three-quarters of an inch of moisture Sunday. The rain was much heavier in the north portion than in the south, but was a good rain in every part. Some hail fell but not enough to damage the wheat. Wheat prospects are looking better every day.

Miss Elda Hardy spent the weekend at home. She has been staying in the Ben Plummer home during Mrs. Plummer's illness.

Due to the rain and muddy roads there was no Sunday School this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Blansit Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Davis enjoyed a fishing trip last Friday, and succeeded in catching a nice mess of fish.

Mrs. Andy Caldwell visited with Mrs. James Caldwell last week while Jim was staying in Perryton getting his tractor and combine in shape for harvest.

Mrs. Opal Swink, Mrs. Earl Waide and Mrs. S. P. Waide visited with Mrs. Gilman Flowers and the new daughter, Friday. This young lady has definitely decided to stay in the community, and will be glad to welcome all visitors. She has been so busy since her arrival that she has not decided what name she will take but what's the difference? Most girls change their names when they get about eighteen, anyway.

Miss Roberta Hawkins spent the week-end in the B. L. Barnes home. Sunday school will be at eleven o'clock next Sunday as it is the fifth Sunday in the month.

Frank Callahan came in from Mangum, Okla., last week to work for Earl Waide during the summer months.

While the heavy rain last Sunday made the roads all but impassable and prevented us from holding service, it was nevertheless of tremendous blessing for all of our members.

On Sunday evening the Pastor is to preach at Hooker, since the Rev. H. Hartenberger will be gone most of the week at a pastoral conference.

You are cordially invited to come and attend our Lutheran services.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 29.

The Golden Text is: "Take heed that no man deceive you" (Matthew 24:4).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil" (Ephesians 6:11).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Never fear the mental malpractitioner, the mental assassin, who, in attempting to rule mankind, tramples upon the divine Principle of meta-physics, for God is the only power" (page 419).

By
MARVIN JONES
Member of Congress from Texas

The new works relief bill is now pending before the Congress.

When it was under consideration in the House of Representatives a few days ago, I was fortunate in securing the passage of an amendment which will allow farmers to participate on works projects.

The language of this amendment is as follows: "Farmers in actual need of work but who are not on relief rolls shall have the same eligibility for employment on projects in rural areas as persons on such rolls."

There are many farmers whose property is heavily mortgaged and who have suffered several crop failures because of the drought. They are in need of actual work, but in the past they have not been able to qualify for employment on various projects under the regulations of the administrative officials. In many instances they have teams and equipment that can be used on the projects. There have also been instances of projects in rural areas which have been greatly needed but the population has not been large enough to draw sufficient workers who can qualify under the regulations.

I am very glad that the new provision has been accepted by the House and I hope it will be retained by the Senate.

I believe it is important to encourage those farmers who are trying to carry on. A small amount of work may enable them to do so. If they are permitted to sink, especially in the drought and flood areas, it will complicate the problem in the towns and cities. The agricultural program has been of great assistance. An opportunity to work on the various projects will also be of substantial aid.

Interest Rates

The Committee on Agriculture, with which I am connected, recently reported a measure to extend for two more years the existing interest rates on Federal Land Bank and Commissioner's loans. This measure has now been passed by the House of Representatives.

The interest rate on Federal Land Bank loans is to be continued at 3½ per cent, and the rate on Commissioner's loans at 4 per cent.

Last year when Congress passed legislation to continue these rates, the President vetoed the measure. It was then passed over his veto. I led the fight in the House for approval over the veto, as I felt that conditions justified a continuation of the emergency rates.

I hope the President will sign the new measure so these rates may be continued, as I believe that such action is very desirable.

As the result of a measure reported by the Committee on Agriculture and passed some time ago, the Farm Credit Administration now has the authority to refinance Commissioner's loans in worthy cases over a period of the same length of time as that allowed on Land Bank loans.

These are the lowest farm interest rates that have ever prevailed in this county and are lower than those which prevail in any other country. The Farm Credit Administration is the first institution of its kind that has furnished a method of credit suitable to the needs of agriculture and separate from the commercial credit structure of the country.

I am anxious that the work be continued at the lowest rates that can possibly be obtained.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Albright, Watseka, Ill., came in Monday night for a visit in the home of her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Dean Rorbaugh, till after harvest.

MAY IN THE FLOWER GARDEN

Finely powdered sulphur dusted thoroughly over the leaves of hollyhocks that show rusty spots will lessen this damage.

Mildew frequently attacks climbing and other roses, hardy phlox, and several other kinds of flowers. Dust these with fine sulphur.

Don't fail to make a new planting of gladiolus bulbs every 15 to 20 days between now and early July if a continuous supply of blooms is wanted right up to frost.

This month is chrysanthemum and dahlia planting time. Both should be planted where water may be applied during dry weather.

Zinnias should be planted three or four times during the season to secure a continuous supply of blooms up to frost. Effort and cost considered, zinnias will probably deliver more than most other cut flowers.

Do not cultivate around azaleas and rhododendrons, because they are very shallow-rooted. Any weeds and grass that appear should be pulled up. Water liberally. Remove seed pods as soon as they begin to form; they usually start right after blooming.

All the pruning running roses need is to thin them out by removing some of the old canes when they get too thick or heading back those that are getting out of bounds. Immediately after they finish blooming is the best time to do the job.

New bulbs of such flowers as tulip, hyacinth, narcissus, etc., are now being formed in the ground to furnish next season's blooms. Therefore, do not cut off the tops but leave them alone until they die down entirely then remove them.—L. A. Niven, in the Progressive Farmer.

Mrs. J. M. Grigsby and daughter, Mrs. J. C. May and grandson, George Milton, returned Tuesday evening from a five day visit with friends and relatives. They were guests Friday night with Mrs. Tom Carver, Canadian, daughter of Mrs. Grigsby, who accompanied them. At Chickasha, Okla., they were house guests of Mrs. Emma Stinson, sister of the late J. M. Grigsby, and she and her son, Dick, went with them to Montague, for a family gathering Sunday. Enroute they visited relatives at various places. Dr. May and daughter, Miss Helen met them in Canadian for the return home. Tuesday afternoon.

LETA RUTH EDSON

Showing a safe impartiality, Bandleader Art Jarrett chose three blondes and three brunettes from the sixteen Texas State College for Women beauties who paraded before him on the stage of the Pan-American Casino last fall.

The chosen six are Misses Alice Bryan, Shanghai, China; Lucy Nelle, Dallas; Jeanne Hansen, Plainview; Joan Ladd, Sherman; Ruth Martin, Denton; and Leta Ruth Edson, Stanton.

Four nominees from each class were introduced at the Revue, from which Jarrett selected one of each classification and two at large. His decision has been kept secret all winter in order to enhance the traditional presentation of beauties at the Spring Senior Formal. Each of the girls has a full page picture in the Daedalian yearbook, which was released the day of the senior prom.

SANTE FE MOVING EMPTY CARS INTO GRAIN BELT FOR HARVEST

Preparing for what may be America's biggest wheat crop, the Santa Fe Railway is moving thousands of empty grain cars into the wheat belt to aid farmers with the 1938 harvest.

Locomotive power and train crews, some of them from as far as the Pacific Coast, will be moved into the wheat area during the next few weeks to handle the peak wheat movement. Careful survey of the needs in this respect has been made and the Santa Fe expects to have upwards of 10,000 cars available when the combines start.

Not only are there great numbers of cars in storage awaiting the harvest, but plans have been worked out for speedy handling after they have been loaded. Last year's figures show how well this job can be done. At the start of the 1937 harvest, the Santa Fe had 9,213 cars stored at local points. During the 30-day peak, 33,079 cars were loaded and the number of cars in storage had been built up to 10,541.

All this requires the closest cooperation between the country elevators, the railroads and the terminal elevators. The Santa Fe's peak wheat loading was in 1931 when 39,123 cars were loaded in 30 days.

In addition to the Santa Fe cars that will be used in wheat handling, foreign line cars are pressed into service as the demands for cars increase. Last year, 2,358 foreign cars were used—some of them being moved as much as 1,000 miles. All cars moving into storage for the wheat movement undergo rigid inspection to be sure they are suitable for transportation of edible goods, and a second check is made after they move into local storage.

Cars of modern 100,000 pound capacity has increased the Santa Fe's carrying capacity by 148,370,000 pounds with but small increase in the number of cars to be handled.

The average annual wheat production in Kansas is about 177,000,000 bushels; Oklahoma, 35,000,000 bushels and Texas, 41,000,000 bushels. As of December 1, 1937, these states had the largest wheat acreage on record, 28,729,000 acres or fifty per cent of the total planted in the United States. With conditions 75 to 85 per cent normal, one of the largest crops in history will be harvested in this territory.

Revolutionary changes resulted with the advent of combines and farm trucks wherein grain is loaded on railroad cars almost within the same hour that it is cut. Thus creating an emergency in mass grain transportation that is complex and difficult for the carriers to gauge and handle.

No railroad owns sufficient box cars with which to meet these demands. Santa Fe loadings during the peak last year ran between 1,650 and 1,900 cars daily. It was necessary to call on Eastern roads for additional cars and between July 13 and 22, 1937, 2,358 such cars were received at Chicago. Movement of 300 of these cars each day from Chicago to Dodge City, a distance of 790 miles, in 100 car lots required the use of 35 train and engine crews.

Movement of empty cars is more important to the farmer than the handling of loaded cars since failure to place empties for loading each day results in wheat being piled on the ground with consequent loss from rehandling, dirt and foreign material. However, wheat is handled with the same precision as to scheduled arrival at terminal markets as other traffic. Wheat loaded today on branch lines is delivered to terminal markets in time for inspection and sale tomorrow.

At terminals, cars of grain are held from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. during the market activity. After 6 p. m. the railroads rehandle the cars to conform with orders resulting from market transactions. To move re-consigned cars from terminals and to return empties to loading stations, trains of from 90 to 120 or more cars are handled. Only by having a considerable latitude in operating trains of various lengths are the carriers in position to accord the farmer and the grain trade the highly developed service they demand.

Notwithstanding the difficulties encountered, handling of last year's crop was the most satisfactory since the advent of the combine. With careful planning and advance preparation the Santa Fe hopes to do as well or better in the movement of this year's harvest.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

Early on a September morning in 1927 you might have seen a troop of youngsters, some with their mothers and some with other children, all going toward the school. Among those who on that first day tread the halls of learning are 21 of those who today are Seniors. Those who have been classmates for these eleven years are: Gene Brillhart, Jackie Enfield, Chester Cook, Margaret Farnsworth, Warren Cudd, Philip Daley, Ruth Huston, Knute Dowers, Billy Fulton, Ruth Jeffroy, Wilbur Funk, Wayne Gyger, Cleo Payne, Leland Horne, Ruth Sharpe, Ray McWilliams, Elaine Shockley, Cecil Tevis, Bob Whippo, Dorris Tucker, and Harvey Wilson.

In the second grade we failed to expand.

Four others joined us in the third grade: namely, June Phelps, Sidney Jines, Truman Garrison, and Dale McLain.

The following year four others were added to our ranks: Lloyd Drake, H. D. Hearn, Walden Dodson, and Edith Williams.

In the fifth year two of our studious boys—Carroll Mallett and Bill Philpaw—became members of the class.

Joy Nowlin and Carl Godfrey joined us in the seventh grade.

At our entrance into the eighth grade 10 more seniors of today joined us. They are: Ted Slavin, Irene Wilson, Nelda Rose Wright, Ferd Koehn, Bryant Flowers, Winnifred McCarroll, Wilma Leicht, Barbaelee Chase, Lillian Williams, and Werner Lehmann.

The next year we entered Senior High with five new members—Bentson Bowen, Robby Jo Edge, William Flowers, Shelley Hill and Athel Pearson.

In our Junior year we were fortunate enough to secure many new members. They helped us make a success of our undertakings for that year—a play and the annual banquet. These persons are: Junior Dunnahoo, Juanita Cox, Leola Jennrich, John Hardy, Ava Rose Johnson, Ethel Lewis, Leon Morris, Jean Lynch, Maxine McGarraugh, Harry Reimer, Marie Newingham, Evelyn Taylor, Thomas Swink, Velma Taylor, Wallace Weibe, and Pauline Hummer.

In this, our Senior year, we have added only 4 members to our numbers. They are Clyde Skinner, Emily Buller, Orene Burkhardt and Jackie Callahan.

Thus is completed our class of 68.

among whom you no doubt recognize many illustrious students. We have given our dear old teachers headaches and worries, especially during these last three years, and I suppose they will breathe a sigh of relief even though they do kinda hate to see us leave. Many of us will go to college next year and a few of us may return to Perryton High again—unless those low grades were all a mistake.

A cast of thousands headed by a supporting cast of nine stars in their own rights insure a presentation as tremendous as the story itself.

The story of "Robin Hood" is rather too well known to require synopsis. The popularity of the theme in this day and age is manifest. There is no hint or trace of social, political or economic preaching. Sympathy is on the side with the poor as in the legends from which Norman Riley Raine and Seton I. Miller took the plot. But the hero is seen attacking only the specific injustice, avarice and persecution practiced by those of noble birth, of which he is himself.

In the supporting cast are such notables as Ian Hunter, Claudia Rains, Basil Rathbone, Patric Knowles, Alan Hale, Eugene Palette and Melville Cooper.

The picture opens briskly and the pace never lags. It is packed with exciting incidents, thrilling combat, entrapments, escape, flight, pursuit and honest adventure and no revenge. It is magnificently staged with special work done in the color schemes which are said to outdo anything done previous in this field.

The picture is released by Warner-First National with colorful costumes by Milo Anderson. Directing honors go to Michael Curtiz who has beaten anything he has directed previously. It is the wonder show of the century.

Cast of Thousands

Robert Stevenson's "Kidnapped" To Show at Ellis on Thursday and Friday, June 2-3

"Kidnapped," the story which Robert Louis Stevenson is said to have considered his best, comes to Perryton spectacularly produced by Darryl F. Zanuck, with a cast of 5,000, and pretty much of the pick of the 20th Century-Fox's "hit-making experts".

Unlike several other Stevenson stories, "Kidnapped" never before has appeared in either silent or sound films—something of a record. In its debut Thursday and Friday, June 2-3, however, the stars, director and supporting cast appear to have been assembled with a lavish hand for the patrons of the Ellis Theatre.

Every person conversant with so much as high school English has thrilled to the adventure in "Kidnapped", so the picture is destined to meet a host of familiar friends.

It will be these "friends" who will remember that the story had little or no "feminine interest"—being chiefly the tale of the escapades of Alan Breck and David Balfour (portrayed on the screen by Warner Baxter and Freddie Bartholomew).

Purists may try, therefore, to quarrel with Hollywood's introduction into the story of a Jean MacDonald, Highland lass who becomes enamored of Alan Breck. The role is portrayed by an astonishingly vivacious and beautiful screen discovery, Arleen Whelan.

It is interesting to note, then, that the motion picture people have no less a precedent than Stevenson himself, for allegedly "tampering" with the facts. He admits he tampered with the historical facts in writing the book.

"It is more honest to confess at once how little I am touched by the desire for accuracy. This "Kidnapped" is no furniture for a scholar's library, but a book . . ."

If Hollywood has taken liberties, it has only to paraphrase the author of the book from which it made its film:

"This is no furniture for a scholar's library, but a triumphant piece of motion picture entertainment, lavishly done."

The stellar cast of "Kidnapped" includes C. Aubrey Smith, Reginald Owen, John Carradine, Nigel Bruce, Miles Mander, Ralph Forbes and H. B. Warner.

Alfred Werker directed the film, with Kenneth Macgowan associate producer, Sanya Levin, Eleanor Harris, Ernest Pascal and Edwin Blum wrote the screen play.

at the Shattuck hospital, Friday, and is getting along nicely.

Maxine Rorabaugh visited the Balco school Thursday.

Miss Mary Morris, Eleanor Partridge, LaJanta Pattison, Mildred and Ira Reisswig, Criss Holden and Doyle Rorabaugh of this community left Sunday with members of the Balco juniors and seniors for a trip to Norman, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, McAlester and other points of interest.

Mrs. T. W. Gray, Mrs. Charlie Lyle, Mrs. Lewis Rorabaugh and Mrs. H. E. Pattison visited with Mrs. L. V. Gross, Friday evening while the young folks of the community were chaffing Mr. and Mrs. Cody Harris.

"Adventures of Robin Hood"

Errol Flynn and Olivia De Havilland co-star in the greatest entertainment feature of the year, "The Adventures of Robin Hood," showing at the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday, May 29-30. Filmed entirely in technicolor, words can't describe the glow and scope of the picture. A cast of thousands headed by a competent supporting cast is only one important phase of this colossal film.

Jane Withers Coming

"Rascals" With Rochelle Hudson
And Borah Minevitch and His Gang is Great Comedy Hit

There's no telling where Jane Withers will pop up next.

America's effervescent Number One mischief maker will be in Perryton, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 31-June 1 with a gypsy caravan and pitch camp at the Ellis Theatre in an approximately named 20th Century-Fox production, "Rascals."

This dimpled imp has been a jockey in a recent picture, an orphan in another—but not until "Rascals" has she pulled all of her juvenile jack rabbits out of the hat at once.

Aided by Borah Minevitch and his refugees from a musical madhouse, the harmonica gang, Jane cavorts through the picture with the skill of a seasoned troupier and leaves her movie fans hysterical with mirth while Robert Wilcox and Rochelle Hudson untangle the skeins of a love that is hampered by a jealous tzigane and a title-seeking mother.

Rochelle, fleeing marriage to a titled fortune-hunter, stumbles into the camp where Wilcox, a college youth, is seeing the world from the romantic atmosphere of Romany songs and dances.

Matchmaker Jane goes to work in this situation and any one with so much as a nodding acquaintance with her technique can judge the result. A riotous climax is the rascal band barging into a society wedding to break up the ceremony . . . so that everything can end happily, if not hysterically.

Robert Ellis and Helen Logan wrote the original screen play. H. Bruce Humberstone directed with John Stone associate producer.

Visitors in the W. E. Foglesong home Tuesday were his father, John T. Foglesong and his sisters, Mrs. John Burks and Mrs. Grace Isham, all of Hooker, Okla., and Miss Dicie Foglesong of Los Angeles, Calif., and his nieces, Clara Bell Burks and Alice Mae Isham, Booker.

The headers are trouble-free and carefully shielded. The threshing and cleaning machinery get more of the grain from the straw and put more of it into the grain tank. There are 10-foot, 12-foot, 16-foot and 20-foot cut machines and if you want big capacity just give any one of them a trial! There are so many reasons why an Oliver Combine is "O. CULTIVATE TO HOLD MOISTURE

FARMING ON CONTOUR PLACES NEAR THE TOP OF THE LIST IN MOISTURE RETAINING FACILITIES HERE

There is no way of controlling torrential downpours which are common in the Southern Great Plains, but after the raindrops fall there are numerous methods of holding the water on the land to prevent erosion, says Mr. Williams, Asst. Range examiner, of the Soil Conservation Service demonstration area near Perryton, where many farmers are using soil and moisture conservation practices this year.

Contour farming stands near the top of the list of methods for holding raindrops where they fall. Mr. Williams points out. Unless the soil is very sandy, most fields in the wind erosion area are subject to runoff and contour farming should be supplemented with terraces.

Farmers who have been cultivating their fields around the slopes instead of up and down the hills are finding that each plow furrow serves as a miniature terrace. Raindrops that fall in these furrows are held there to soak in the soil and to become available for use in growing crops. In the semi-arid plains area, conservation of every drop is essential for growing crops which will furnish a protective covering which will resist wind erosion, Mr. Williams says.

On pasture land as well as cultivated fields there are several things that can be done to check erosion by conserving the rainfall. Contour furrows and ridges catch and hold the water where it can seep into the soil to aid grass growth. Spreader systems and diversion structures also aid in getting an even distribution of water on range lands, Mr. Williams says.

Grass covered soil is soil that does not erode, and Soil Conservation Service technicians point out, soil that does not erode usually is soil that has a good grass cover.

PURCHASE HOGS IN "AG" CLASS

PERRYTON "H" STUDENTS BUY REGISTERED HOGS IN AGRICULTURAL PROJECT DURING SUMMER

Eight members of the Vocational Agriculture class of the Perryton high school have purchased a registered hog as part of their school project in agriculture this summer.

On Saturday, May 21, C. H. Williams, vocational instructor for the Perryton Schools, and John Huston, a student, made a trip to Clarendon and White Deer for these hogs. The hogs purchased at Clarendon were from the Ballew Hog Farms. Three Duroc Jersey hogs and eight Hampshire pigs were included in the shipment.

Receiving Duroc Jerseys were: John Huston, a gilt; Pete Williams, a sow pig; August Rahenkamp, a sow pig.

Two Hundred pound gilts went to the following: Hale Chase, Byron Tevis and Joe Buckhaults.

Ted Slavin and David Burger each received a sow pig.

The Vocational agriculture Department of the Perryton school purchased a Hampshire boar and two sow pigs.

Each boy was required to finance the buying of his own hog or pig.

NO. 1-Continued From Front Page

The Perryton Lions club is sponsoring a movement toward building up the scout organization from the more than adequate material in the community. A considerable sum has already been raised by a committee of A. P. Spicer, chairman, Irvin R. Buchanan and Van Stewart, toward raising the necessary budget until a permanent local set-up can be established for the program.

Activities in the camp work this year will include compass work, Indian lore and nature lore; hikes, bird study, swimming and other advancements difficult to get without first hand experience. A dam has been recently built raising the level of the swimming pool three feet. Buried City located in the Park will furnish excellent material for the Indian lore seekers.

Camp fee will be $6.00 per week. This to take care of food, tenting, camp equipment, leadership and other necessary cost.

Scout Executive Fred Roberts of Pampa was in Perryton the first of the week completing plans for a gala opening and inspecting the water supply and other sanitation problems.

NO. 2-Continued From Front Page

Honorary awards going to seniors were as follows: highest ranking boy and valedictorian, average 92.68, Benton Bowen; highest ranking girl and salutatorian, 92.45, Leola Jennrich; 2nd high boy, 92.35, Harry Palmer; 2nd high girl, 91.8, June Phelps. The Roy Beever Trophy presented by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beever to the outstanding athlete went to Ray McWilliams. Bobby Whippo received the Gold Metal for the outstanding senior band member, based on service, dependability, musical ability and loyalty. The Jack Allen Award presented by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen was received by Leland Horne for making the most speech progress during 1937-38. William Powers was awarded the citizenship cup offered by the American Legion and Auxiliary.

These awards are given each year and become the permanent property of the individuals.

In commenting on the estimate made by the grainmen on the prospects of Ochiltree County, local farmers and business men generally discount that estimate about 40 per cent. This would mean that according to local estimates, the Ochiltree County yield will be in the neighborhood of 2,412,000 bushels.

We "Get the News"

Texas Associated Press Head Says American Reporters "Get the News" in Europe

Fort Worth, May 24—Censorship of news is an "inside" rather than an "outside" problem, as far as European countries are concerned, in the opinion of Frank H. King, Texas manager of the Associated Press.

"There isn't a country in the world where censorship is effective enough to keep vital information away from American newspapers," King said in speaking on the program of Journalism Day, sponsored by the department of journalism at Texas Christian University here.

"That isn't the purpose of censorship, in the first place. The purpose is to keep people within the country itself from knowing what goes on. In this respect censorship is successful."

"The American newspaper reporter in Europe has a thousand tricks to get around the censor. Somehow, some way the American reporter will get his story through. The result is that America knows more about what is going on in Europe and the Far East than any other country in the world—so much, in fact, that Americans sometimes make the mistake of overlooking equally vital domestic news."

King has served 15 years with the A. P. in Europe, most of the time connected with the London bureau. He returned to the United States last fall and was assigned to Texas.

He gave it as his opinion that there would be no general war in Europe for several years, "because Great Britain is not ready for war yet."

A reporter back from England is invariably asked two questions. King says: "Will there be war or peace in Europe?" and "Will there be war or peace between the Duke and Duchess of Windsor?"

"I think the Duke and Duchess have a better permanent chance of maintaining the status quo of their relationship, which means peace, than any of the nations of Europe have," he said.

New Radio Plant for Pitcairn Isle

Pitcairn Island, recently publicized in numerous magazine articles, was settled in 1790 by Fletcher Christian, Edward Young and a small band of mutineers from the good ship H. M. S. Bounty. Secluding themselves, to avoid punishment for mutiny against the British Crown, the little band remained undiscovered for 18 years.

Finally, through the chance visit of an American sealing vessel, the mutineers were discovered. However, in the year following the seclusion of the earlier settlers and their descendants has been broken only at rare intervals.

Until recently, Andrew Young, a direct descendant of Edward Young, operated a crude crystal set donated years ago by the Marconi Wireless Co. With no other technical knowledge than that gleaned from a radio handbook, he has for years maintained contact with the outside world by means of his crude and antique radio set. In the past, when the storage batteries used with his radio set have become discharged, it has been necessary to send them 3800 miles to New Zealand for recharging.

In 1937, the radio operator of a visiting ship discovered Andrew Young and his inadequate radio. This same radio operator later interested American manufacturers, under the sponsorship of the Coto-Coll Co., in donating a modern radio plant to Andrew Young.

In this undertaking, the Willard Company has cooperated by furnishing two radio batteries (type Radio 300). With these big Willards, Andrew Young will now always be able to keep Pitcairn Island in touch with the rest of the world.

When you need Radio Batteries of any size, we have these same Willard Batteries which we know will serve you satisfactorily. We are now in our new location on West Fifth Ave., just off Main street, where we will be glad to have you come and look over our new home.

and forget that "half sick" feeling!

How do you feel these days? Are you blue, discouraged and "run down"? That dragged-out feeling may be due to a deficiency of iron in your blood. Indoor living, worry and overwork conspire to bring on this condition. Lack of iron in the blood can make a man or woman imagine almost anything is wrong, when really the trouble can be quickly remedied.

If you are "below par" try McKeen's Pursang. It contains organic iron and copper compounds which increase hemoglobin—the substance that makes red blood red. Pursang helps to restore the balance between white and red corpuscles. And at the same time it stimulates appetite and improves digestion.

See how much better you feel after taking the first bottle of Pursang. Take a week or more and you will hardly believe you're the same person—you'll feel so fit and well!
