All In Readiness As Space Takeoff Nears

Mayor Roosevelt

Elliott Roosevelt, 54, who Tuesday night won the election as mayor of Miami Beach, Fla., is pictured with his wife, Patricia, and two children, Gretchen, 13, and David, 7. Roosevelt defeated incumbent candidate Mayor Melvin J. Richard. Roosevelt said today his major goal will be to wipe out the city's image as a tourist resort whose permanent residents are all pensioners. He promised federal housing for young families. Long, Tough Workouts Behind Event

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — When James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II climb into their Gemini 4 spacecraft Thursday for 62 laps around the world, it will be the umpteenth time they have entered the ship.

All the other times have been leading to this climactic moment. If the cramped, tiny cabin seems familiar, it should. The two spacemen have spent more time in it than they have in their own homes over the past nine months.

JOLTING EXERCISE

The two men have undergone some harrowing experiences readying for their record-breaking, four-day space journey from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

They have been locked up tight in the spacecraft and tossed overboard in rough Gulf of Mexico waters, shaken up like a milkshake on vibrators, whirled at dizzying speeds on centrifuges, pulled into the air by a speedboat to float down into icy waters at the end of a parachute.

IN SIMULATOR

But most of their time was spent sitting in the Gemini mission simulator, a duplicate of the spacecraft that is bolted to the floor and doesn't go anywhere.

John Van Bockel, chief of the training section at the Manned Spacecraft Center, said McDivitt and White have had more training than planned because the flight was originally scheduled for early this year.

Training started last September. Almost everything that can happen on a space flight, including the emergencies, has been practiced — not once or twice, but hundreds of times.

ALL FAMILIAR

The two Air Force majors should be able to do every part of the mission blindfolded.

They have lifted parts of the mission out of the flight plan and rehearsed them to the point of automatic reflex.

White has gotten out and then back into the spacecraft 110 times in weightless flying, practicing for his stroll in space.

PUT TO TESTS

Engineers deliberately fouled up his oxygen feed in the lifeline during tests to see how he would react — not once, but 20 times.

White spent 60 hours in his space suit alone in the harsh void of a vacuum in pressure chambers. The gloves, helmet and zippers have been tested and retested by both White and McDivitt.

Backup crewmen Air Force Maj. Frank Borman and Navy Lt. Cmdr. James A. Lovell have taken the same training with the two primary crew members.

Tomorrow's Their Day

Pair Zealful On Eve Of Historic Feat

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The man who will float alone in the heavens Thursday, and his space buddy who will pilot him there, started the last day before flight today with good news and great expectations.

Command pilot James A. McDivitt said: "We've got a good spacecraft, and it looks like we're going to have a good mission. We're ready."

"We" are McDivitt and fellow Air Force Maj. Edward H. White II — the man who will step out of the Gemini 4 spacecraft and waltz in weightlessness on their second orbit of the earth.

BRUSH BOOSTER

There was the chance, too, that these two rookie American astronauts would get close enough to their booster rocket on their maneuvering early orbits to enable White to touch the booster during his weightless walk.

The space agency had said earlier that they might get as close as 20 feet to the booster. But mission director Christopher C. Kraft said that "there is nothing holy about 20 feet."

Would the mission last four days as intended? Kraft said that the decision would be made sometime after the first 24 hours of flight — when the astronauts had a chance to evaluate their fuel supply for their maneuvering jets, and experts looked at the decay of the orbit.

FLEXIBILITY TEST

It was a demonstration of the flexibility of the flight plan.

There was no hurry about the decision, Kraft indicated, partly because space-flight officials wanted the astronauts to recover from the space-walk maneuver.

The prospect for their nearly 98-hour, 62-orbit flight were put in glowing terms Tuesday by a mission review panel of experts.

"We couldn't look better," said Kraft.

These men are "in as high a state of readiness as any crew I have ever seen," said Dr. Charles A. Berry, chief flight physician who has watched over the health of Mercury and Gemini astronauts.

GOOD WEATHER

"In general, the launch-day weather presents the best situation I've ever seen," said Ernie Amman of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

There were some ocean swells in the Eastern Atlantic, but these were expected to moderate by launch day. Two typhoons were not expected to hazard recovery ships in the Pacific Ocean. Typhoon Babe, north of the Philippines and Typhoon Carla 300 miles southwest of Japan were being tracked. Weather satellites Tiros 8 and 9 were flashing back cloud-cover pictures of two-thirds of the globe.

The first American astronaut, Alan B. Shepard, now in charge of training said: "In my considered opinion, McDivitt and White are trained and ready for the Gemini 4 mission."

Communists Shoot Down Two Raiding Navy Planes

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist antiaircraft fire shot down two U.S. Navy planes during raids on North Viet Nam today. The five American crewmen were listed as missing and presumed dead.

A rescue plane sent to investigate reported there was no chance of survivors from either aircraft.

The two crashes raised the total of U.S. dead in combat in Viet Nam to 401 since December 1961.

OFF CARRIER

The two planes were both from the 7th Fleet carrier Midway. They were lost in an attack on a radar installation on the coast about 70 miles south of Hanoi.

An A4 Skyhawk with one pilot aboard plunged into the sea about a mile off the coast. No parachute was observed.

A few minutes later a second plane — a modified A1 Skyraider with four crewmen aboard — was hit and crashed about half a mile inland, a military spokesman said. It had been diverted to the area to search for the plane downed at sea.

There was no report of results of the raid on the radar installation.

HEAVIEST LOSS

It was the heaviest loss of American air crews since the raids on North Viet Nam began in February.

In other strikes against North Viet Nam today:

Five Skyraiders from the Midway reported knocking down a span of a bridge about 65 miles south of Vinh.

Four Skyhawks from the Midway reported destroying two boxcars, battering the approach to a concrete bridge and damaging a wooden bridge 55 miles south of Thanh Hoa.

Four Thunderchiefs destroyed a ferry landing and a barge and damaged three railroad cars at Vinh Kah.

TABLES TURNED

In the ground war, the Viet Cong inflicted heavy losses on government forces in a triple ambush after the guerrillas overran a district headquarters near Pleiku. But U.S. paratroopers in another action Tuesday night turned the tables on the Viet Cong and ambushed them, killing four.

Cattle Farmers Feel Higher Price Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those rising prices of beef which have been bringing frowns to consumers and smiles to farmers reflect in large measure livestockmen's own production control measures.

A year ago, cattlemen were in serious financial troubles that grew out of expanded production and imports of meat. But today, slaughter steers are bringing feeders around 20 per cent more than a year ago.

MORE ADVANCES

Further advances in prices are expected by government economists.

Insofar as beef cattle are concerned, much of the credit for the price increase has grown out of the practice of most feeders and producers to send their cattle to market at lighter weights. This tends to reduce the total poundage of beef available to consumers. With demand for beef continuing strong, a reduced supply quite naturally pushes prices upward.

TO SLAUGHTER

Cattle went to slaughter in April at an average weight of 1,007 pounds, live weight. This compared with 1,042 pounds a year earlier. The average weight of cattle slaughtered during the first four months of this year was 1,016 pounds, down 32 pounds from a year earlier.

This reduction in the average weight had the effect of making the supply of beef available for consumers during the January-April period this year about 800 million pounds less than it would have been had last year's higher average weight been maintained.

LIGHTER WEIGHTS

Farmers started the practice of sending cattle to slaughter at lighter weights during the last half of 1964. This change helped to bring on a price increase that has greatly brightened the livestock outlook. Another factor which contributed to the price advance was the ability of the government to get several major exporting nations to restrict shipments to this country for an indefinite period.

But cattle farmers are not the only one feeling the benefit of higher prices. Farmers are getting about 37 per cent more for hogs than a year ago. Producers put on brakes on production by producing 8 per cent fewer pigs during the last half of 1964. Surveys indicate production this spring season will be down 8 per cent from a year earlier.

Direct Distance Dialing Planned For Big Spring

Direct Distance Dialing, a system that allows telephone customers to dial their own long distance telephone calls, will come to Big Spring sometime next summer, according to Harry Sawyer, manager for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. The exact date of the changeover had not been set but the date will be announced as soon as possible, he added.

Sawyer said in connection with the new DDD service that it would be necessary to change some more Big Spring telephone numbers. In June of next year all telephone numbers beginning with AMherst 4 will be changed to AMherst 7. All of the number changes will be listed in the 1966 telephone directory which will be released shortly after the changeover is made.

"These number changes are in addition to the ones we are making this year," Sawyer said, "and I hope that customers will not confuse them. However, we did want to make this announcement now in order to alert customers who must order stationery and other printed matter."

Returning to the subject of direct distance dialing, the manager said that he thought Big Spring customers would find it fast, easy and enjoyable to use.

"It's very simple," he said. "Let's suppose that you want to call POrter 2-6361 in Lubbock using DDD. You first dial the digit one. This is to alert the DDD machine that you want to dial a long distance call. Then you dial the area code for Lubbock which is 806. Next dial P and O for POrter and the numbers 2-6361. In seconds, the distance telephone will be ringing."

Sawyer emphasized that all Big Spring customers will be able to dial their own long distance calls when DDD goes into service.

He said that in the past customers on four or eight - party lines could not dial their own calls because the machine which keeps track of the calls for billing purposes could not distinguish between several parties on one line.

"This will be handled by a new system," he said, "known as operator number identification." Sawyer said that in a call dialed from a one or two party line a machine will automatically record the calling telephone number, the called number and the city where the call is going. In addition it will time the call for billing purposes.

"But since it cannot do that on four or eight party phones, the operator will do it," he said. Multi-line customers will dial their long distance calls in the usual way and the machine will record all the information except for their own telephone number. Just before the called phone rings the operator will come on the line and ask the calling party for his number. When she receives it she will key punch the information into the machine and leave the line immediately. The machine will then store all the billing information automatically until it comes time to issue bills to customers."

Man Dies In Pickup Wreck

A one-vehicle accident, about five miles north of Big Spring, killed a man tentatively identified as M. D. Caulley of San Angelo, about 11:10 a.m. today.

Highway patrolmen found a receipt on the dead man with that name, and were checking in San Angelo this afternoon to attempt a positive identification.

The pickup driven by the man apparently went off the highway onto the righ. shoulder, then came back onto the southbound lane and went into the median area at the center of the highway, overturning several times.

A Big Spring Ambulance Service unit was called and officers arrived from Big Spring. Justice of the Peace Walter Grice pronounced the man dead at the scene.

The pickup was a total loss, officers reported.

Highway Patrolman Jack White said the man had apparently been in Lubbock this morning, but no determination had been made early this afternoon on his destination. He said the man was about 60 years of age. He was found about 15 feet from the pickup's wreckage.

Firm, Union In Agreement

NEW YORK (AP)—Reynolds Metals Co. and the AFL-CIO Aluminum workers International Union reached agreement today on a three-year labor contract. But the company said almost half its plants remained struck.

Announcement of the pact came after 48 hours of almost continuous negotiation with federal mediators.

The company said the settlement sends 4,300 strikers back to work at seven plants but that 1,700 remained on strike against a plant in Corpus Christi, Tex., and five plants in Louisville, Ky.

GOP Proposes Talks On Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans called today for a free world conference on Viet Nam but avoided advocating use of nuclear weapons in urging President Johnson to employ "whatever measures are necessary" to win there.

The GOP Policy Coordinating Committee said in a statement made available at a news conference that Johnson should call a conference of "such nations as will join us" in battling communism in Viet Nam.

NOT DISCUSSED

Questioned about the call for all-out use of power to curb the Viet Cong, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said the matter of nuclear weapon use was not discussed by the policy group.

The same kind of avoidance of specifics appeared in a policy committee's report on job opportunities, which did not mention Johnson's recommendation for repeal of a Taft-Hartley Act provision under which states can ban compulsory union membership.

IN CONGRESS

GOP National Chairman Ray Bliss said there had been no action on this issue. House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan supplemented this by saying that policy on such matters would be made in congress, rather than in the coordinating committee.

Election Sought For Dominican

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican junta proposed Tuesday night that elections supervised by the Organization of American States be held as soon as possible in this divided Caribbean nation.

The junta said all "democratic parties recognized by the Central Electoral Board" should be allowed to participate in the election. This presumably would include the Dominican Revolutionary party of exiled ex-President Juan Bosch in whose name the rebellion was launched April 25.

It was not clear, however, whether the junta would allow Bosch to return from exile immediately. He won the presidency over-whelmingly in a free election in 1962, but military leaders overthrew him the next year.

The junta president, Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, discussed the election proposal with U.S. Ambassador William Tapley Bennett Jr. and OAS Secretary-General Jose A. Mora before the announcement.

President Johnson told a news conference in Washington Tuesday that U.S. policy in the Dominican Republic aims at establishment of a broadly based government that represents the people and does not include extremists.

Following the President's announcement that 2,000 more U.S. Marines were being withdrawn from Santo Domingo, helicopters began flying them to U.S. naval vessels offshore. Their departure reduces the U.S. contingent to 2,100 Marines and 14,200 paratroopers serving with 1,500 Latin-American troops in the inter-American peace force.

Rebel forces captured three U.S. paratroopers Tuesday after they strayed into the rebel stronghold in downtown Santo Domingo. Caamano personally released them 3½ hours later to a commission of the United Nations and the OAS.

Caamano expressed hope his troops would receive as good treatment if they are captured.

The paratroopers were identified as 2nd Lt. Alvin R. Gelb of Scranton, Pa., and Pfcs. Antonio Hernandez of San Antonio, Tex., and Dennis Eppers of Kenosha, Wis.

Church Group In Compliance

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas Methodist Conference voted Tuesday to absorb Negro churches.

The conference, with churches in 54 counties, is the last Methodist group in the state to transfer Negro churches from the all-Negro central conference.

This is a step in complying with an amendment passed by the Methodist general conference in 1960, said Bishop Paul Martin.

The amendment calls for an end to segregation in the leadership and membership of the Methodist church by 1968.

Timetable On Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Here is a timetable for the Gimini 4 flight of astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White, based on an 8 a.m. Big Spring time launching:

3:30 a.m. — Crew awakened, breakfast, shave, shower.
6 a.m. — Final physical, don space suits.
7:30 a.m. — Crew enters spacecraft.
8 a.m. — Blastoff of Titan 2.
8:06 a.m. — Orbit achieved. McDivitt maneuvers Gemini 4 to within 400 feet of orbiting burned out second stage and flies in formation with it.
9:30 a.m. — End first orbit. White begins preparing for spacecraft exit. McDivitt begins approach to within 20 feet of second stage. Space suits pressurized, cabin depressurized.
10:55 a.m. — White opens hatch.
11:01 p.m. — White exits spacecraft on 25-foot tether, uses space gun to maneuver close to second stage, and takes pictures. Spacecraft is over southern United States.
11:13 p.m. — White re-enters space craft. Hatch closed, cabin pressurized, suits depressurized.
11:33 p.m. — McDivitt fires jet thrusters to separate Gemini 4 from spacecraft by 16 miles.
1:13 p.m. — McDivitt fires thrusters to begin overtaking second stage again.
2:40 p.m. — McDivitt closes to within 10 feet of stage, then separates by several miles.
After this maneuver, McDivitt and White return to main purpose of flight — to determine how well man withstands prolonged exposure to space envieronment. After 97 hours, 50 minutes aloft, they are to land in Atlantic Ocean 400 miles southwest of Bermuda at 9:50 a.m. Monday.

Texas Readies New Agencies

AUSTIN (AP)—The 59th Legislature reconstructed some vital state agencies and created some new ones.

Between now and September, Gov. John Connally will choose 58 Texans to take the new positions.

The most drastic shuffles were in the fields of education, water and mental health.

Connally worked hard to win early passage of a strong college coordinating board, to which he will appoint 18 persons. He hopes it will streamline and upgrade higher education. The board replaces the 15-man Texas Commission on Higher Education Sept. 1.

WATER PROGRESS

He also championed long range water development. Lack of action to let the state enter unprecedented fields of water diversion would cause the federal government to step in, Connally hinted. His water package passed in the closing days.

No new positions are created by the program, but appointments to the six-man Water Development Board take on extra significance.

School teachers all over Texas will watch to see whom Connally names to a 15-man public school study committee. For three years the group is to probe the school system and recommend improvements on salary scales, the ratio of state and local support, and the over-all educational picture.

PAY FIGHT

Connally bucked the powerful teachers' organization on their pay fight. In the resulting compromise, he insisted on a long range, in-depth study of education. A similar 25-man committee studied higher education in 1963-64 and suggested the strong college coordinating board.

Another major shift creates the Texas Department of Mental Health in place of the present Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools. A new nine-member board will replace one of the same size Aug. 31.

The Texas Health Department will take over supervision of the state tuberculosis hospitals. A five-man advisory board was created.

The legislature also authorized creation of an 18-man Fine Arts Commission.

Guidelines Get Economic Test

NEW YORK (AP) — If the honeymoon of the Johnson administration and business fades it might well be due to government's new tool for influencing economic behavior — guidelines.

They are being applied to prices, wages, investments and banking practices. They are undergoing their first big test right now.

Guidelines join the traditional government tools of taxes, subsidies, and supervising agencies. All are used to shape the economy more or less.

FOES SPEAK

Opposition to the new tool of guidelines is rising in some business and banking quarters as well as in some labor unions.

One example is in steel. Labor objects to government's saying it should ask so much and no more to avoid inflation. Management resents government saying how much it could raise wages without increasing prices. And any government censure of steel price increases brings angry replies from some steel executives.

Government guidelines as an influence on economic decisions differ from other tools in several ways. By definition they rest on voluntary compliance.

They are implemented to a large degree by exerting pressure of public opinion. And they usually carry at least an implied threat that if business doesn't follow the guidelines, government may step in and impose controls.

The moral that government hopes management and labor will grasp is that voluntary compliance to guidelines of what Washington thinks is best for the economy is preferable to controls or direct penalties.

Business takes all of the government's economic tools into account when making its decisions.

Guidelines are now in the testing stage. Those aimed at wages and prices seek price stability from two approaches: 1. Labor costs should rise only as much as output per man-hour rises; 2. Prices should rise only in industries where output per man-hour lags behind the national average and should fall in industries with greater than average productivity gains.

Compliance runs up against the natural desire of workers for higher pay and of management for tailoring prices to demand and competition as well as to production costs.

Reaction Of Texas Solons Mixed On Redistricting Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas members of Congress denounced, commended or reserved comment Tuesday on the congressional redistricting bill enacted by the Texas Legislature.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough asserted the word gerrymandering "is not strong enough to describe what has been done," adding:

"It is a new example of 'salami' tactics, of slicing a metropolitan area into as many pieces as possible, combined with a taffy pull, stretching a district with city suburbs at one end as far as possible toward an area having such different occupations, geography and trade as to have no similar interest with the remote dismembered county . . .

COURT WINDUP

"The new plan will undoubtedly be taken to the federal courts."

Rep. Ray Roberts of McKinney, successor to the late House Speaker Sam Rayburn who was placed in the same district with Rep. Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater, applauded. Beckworth declined comment.

"As of yesterday," said Roberts in a reference to when the legislators completed action on the bill, "I was running again for re-election.

"All I had requested was that they leave me a place to run and leave the 4th District intact. They did. It is still the 4th.

"They added four counties that I think are politically compatible with my moderate, middle of the road course."

COUNTIES LISTED

These counties are Gregg, Smith, Van Zandt and Upshur. They are in Beckworth's present Dist. 3, which is dissolved.

The other five counties in the district—Wood, Camp, Rusk, Panola and Shelby—were added to Dist. 1, served by the dean of the Texas delegation, Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana. Dist. 3 now embraces part of Dallas County.

Patman expressed satisfaction.

"They had a difficult job to do," he said. "There was no way to redistrict the state and satisfy everyone. So far as I'm concerned it's all right.

Guarded remarks came from veteran Reps. Clark Thompson of Galveston and Jack Brooks of Beaumont, who likewise were put in the same district. Neither said whether he will be a candidate next year.

"WAS SURPRISE"

"The action of the legislature was a surprise to me," Thompson said. "Until I've had a chance to analyze it, find out just what was done and why, I won't be in a position to comment.

"And as to the question whether I will run for re-election, the time for that kind of announcement is too far off. I wouldn't normally announce for some time yet."

Brooks issued this statement: "My job for the next year and a half is to continue to represent, to the very best of my ability, all of the people of the nine counties of the old 2nd Congressional District.

"As to redistricting, I'm sure the state legislature did the best they could on what is undoubtedly a most difficult task."

Brooks said losing several counties he now represents was "like the sudden, tragic and unexpected loss of a host of friends."

Thompson said that during the legislators' debate in Austin Saturday night a friend telephoned to ask if there was anything to rumors that he was about to be offered an ambassadorship.

REPORT DENIED

He replied that there was nothing to this report and he had not been offered or considered such an appointment, Thompson said.

Word circulated among Texans in Congress that although Thompson was generally an administration supporter, President Johnson would prefer to see Brooks succeed Thompson as the Texas member of the powerful tax-raising House Ways and Means Committee.

Rep. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls, whose new district will include part of North Dallas County, assured residents of that section that he would look after their interests.

"I have offered my services to Congressman Earle Cabell (present Dallas County representative) to help in gaining reconsideration for the funds to build the much needed Dallas federal center and on any other problems which need our attention," Purcell said.

Capt. G. A. Hancock, Philanthropist, Dead

SANTA MARIA, Calif. (AP)—Capt. George Allan Hancock, 89, a business tycoon and philanthropist, died Monday night. Hancock, born in San Francisco, was an aviator, musician and educator. He had interests in banks, real estate, railroads, merchant ships, oil and agriculture.

Fulbright To Lead Foreign Aid Bill Bloc

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright said today he has decided — reluctantly — to lead the fight for President Johnson's foreign aid bill in the Senate.

The chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee also said he will back Johnson's request that $89 million be added to the measure for the economic and social development of Southeast Asia.

The Arkansas Democrat's declaration was a boon to the administration. Last fall, Fulbright complained that the aid bill had become a "garbage can" for all sorts of things. He said he would not lead the fight for it unless military and economic assistance were separated.

MANAGE IT

Fulbright said Tuesday he decided to manage the measure after all when he was unable to persuade anyone on his committee to take charge of it.

Besides, he said the committee had made some improvements — setting a two-year deadline for foreign aid in its present form, for instance.

The bill, passed by the House May 25, authorizes $3,352,170,000 in foreign aid for each of the next two years. Actually the sum is a ceiling for which a subsequent appropriation bill will provide funds.

DEBATE NEAR

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the measure may be called up Friday for the start of what could be lengthy debate.

While Fulbright's declaration was good news for the administration, the day was not entirely rosy. Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa, senior Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee, said of Johnson's $89-million development plan:

"Under present circumstances and considering the huge amount of money we are already spending in that area, I think we should go slow in opening up any new program. This seems to me some kind of a new program."

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he will go ahead with his fight to trim at least $500 million from the bill.

GOP Skirts Fiery Union Shop Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican policymakers were reported today to have skirted the explosive issue of state laws banning union shops.

President Johnson wants such laws repealed.

The tipoff on the GOP move came Tuesday when former Sen. Barry Goldwater, who once advocated a national law banning union shops, said he would not insist that the Republican Coordinating Committee declare itself against repeal.

Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential nominee, said he realizes that political realities will keep some Republicans from declaring themselves advocates of such legislation.

MORE SECTIONS

So Goldwater said he was not pressing the point at the committee's closed session.

Three more sections of GOP policy were due today from National Chairman Ray C. Bliss and the party's congressional leaders, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen and Rep. Gerald R. Ford.

They will be preliminary declarations on job opportunities, foreign affairs and civil rights — approved Tuesday by the coordinating committee.

All three are the handiwork of party task forces set up to study the issues.

A job opportunities study group headed by Charles H. Percy of Illinois found itself divided as soon as it took up the union shop issue.

Johnson has called for repeal of section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, which authorizes state laws banning the union shop which require all employes to join unions. Nineteen states have such laws.

Goldwater contends they are morally and constitutionally right.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

In the foreign affairs field, Republicans generally have stood by Johnson's moves in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

"I think the President did what had to be done," Goldwater said.

GOP criticism was aimed at long-range foreign policy questions.

"I think you get the feeling that this is an administration that reacts to developments rather than initiates policies," said Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton.

"This administration," added former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, "has shown commendable ability in fighting fires but has been derelict in preventing them."

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a neighbor who works from 12 to 18 hours a day in her yard. She mows the lawn at 11 o'clock at night and disturbs the entire neighborhood. Her son is studying to be a concert pianist, and he is still going strong at the piano at one o'clock in the morning. This may seem unbelievable, but at 5 o'clock in the morning she is out in her yard watering the grass and singing, "La la la la!"

Except for the crazy hours they keep, they are a delightful family. To whom should I complain?

BLURRY-EYED

DEAR BLURRY: First complain to your neighbor (with a song in your heart) and let her know that but for your neighborly spirit, you would have sung to the local police. There are laws about disturbing the peace—be it a drunken brawl, Chopin or "La la la la!"

* * *

DEAR ABBY: You don't waste many words so I won't, either. Do you believe in luck?

BERNIE

DEAR BERNIE: Certainly. How else could one explain the success of his enemies?

* * *

DEAR ABBY: What does a boy do when he meets a girl his parents disapprove of because he picked her up in a movie show? My parents say she is trash, and they haven't even met her. When I first met Dianne (she is 15), I told my parents the truth about how I met her. They were very upset and told me not to have anything to do with her. I secretly dated Dianne for four months, and then I told my parents about it. They really became upset, and forced me to break up with Dianne for all time. This really hurt her. We liked each other a lot and she was a good kid. I think this is unfair and I want to know what you think.

BROKEN-HEARTED

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: You don't say how old you are, which is important. But assuming you are under 17, picking up a girl anywhere is a poor way to meet a "good kid." Your parents should have met Dianne before passing judgment on her. However, I can't blame them for insisting that you break up. You did see Dianne on the sneak for four months, which proved to your parents you couldn't be trusted.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have never written to a columnist before, but after reading the letter from the mother who was "proud" that her two little sons were born with cleft palates because it was a "manifestation of God's work," I cannot refrain from commenting.

Can it be that this mother does not know that cleft palates can be corrected by surgery? I do not feel that "God manifests His work" by deforming infants at birth. If He did, He wouldn't give the surgeon the knowledge and skill to correct such deformities.

Prelude To Space Flight

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC gave Americans a briefing Tuesday night on the awesome complexities of the forthcoming four-day space mission of Gemini 4 and its two astronauts.

We saw the capsule and the men and even a demonstration of the gleaming white space suit with its blue and white decor in which astronaut Edward H. White II will take his stroll in space but quickly learned that it was not color for beauty's sake but to prevent the wearer from making a mistake in attaching various wires and hoses to the right spots. The 24-foot golden leash which will attach him to the capsule is not an American status symbol but special material to protect the lifeline.

All the detail and all the arrangements were impressive but most impressive of all were the jaunty, jolly, almost casual attitudes of White and James McDivitt who soon will embark on the greatest adventure of their lives.

CBS and ABC will broadcast their briefings tonight.

CBS, which invited viewers to send in their completed "national drivers test" forms filled out while watching its special program last week reported Tuesday its mail count was over 550,000 and letters were still pouring in.

New Pastor

WESTBROOK (SC)—The Rev. S. M. Bean, Cone, is new pastor at the Westbrook - Bailey Chapel Churches. He succeeds the Rev. C. T. Jackson who was appointed pastor at Mobeetie, Texas. Appointments were made at the 56th annual session of the Northwest Texas Conference held in Lubbock last week.

Sen. Schwartz 'Third In Line'

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. A. R. Schwartz, who calls himself a champion of unpopular causes, was third in line to the governorship of Texas today.

Schwartz, 38, a Galveston lawyer, was picked by fellow senators Monday as president pro tempore or assistant presiding officer until the next legislative session. He serves as president of the Senate in the absence of Lt. Gov. Preston Smith.

"I hope we never cease to disagree and I hope the time never comes when the minority view is not represented," he said in an acceptance speech.

Fiercely independent and outspoken, Schwartz stirred the ire of some colleagues during the recent debate on senatorial redistricting by comparing the upper chamber to "nothing but a jungle, where self preservation is the law primeval. . . If you're one of the little monkeys you better not fall out of the trees or you will get eaten by the lions."

When some senators complained that redistricting might take some of their friends from the Senate, Schwartz said: "I'm going to miss my enemies."

SINCE 1960

Schwartz was elected to the Senate in January of 1960. After receiving a law degree from the University of Texas in 1951, he was an assistant Galveston County Attorney. He was elected to the House in 1954 and served two terms.

His seniority entitled Schwartz to the honor of president pro tempore at the beginning of the 59th Legislature but he was passed over in favor of Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells, who was elected almost nine months after Schwartz.

Admirers 'Floor' Robert Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., was knocked down in the surge of an admiring crowd Monday minutes after a monument to his assassinated brother, President John F. Kennedy, was unveiled at Grand Army Plaza in Brooklyn.

Kennedy was knocked into a row of folding chairs. An unidentified woman was knocked down with Kennedy and he helped her to her feet. Neither was injured.

A Devotional For The Day

If I preach the gospel, that gives me no ground for boasting. For necessity is laid upon me. Woe to me if I do not preach the gospel! (I Corinthians 9:16, RSV)

PRAYER: Merciful Father, we thank Thee that Thou hast saved us. Increase in us love for those who are lost, and make us faithful shepherds to those who are going astray. In the name of Jesus, the Savior of the world. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Change In The Picture

Unless the courts intervene, Howard County will pass from the 19th District where it has been since that district was created more than 30 years ago. It is due to become a part of the 17th District immediately to the east.

Just how this came about is locked in the secrets of the conference committee, for one of the proposals advanced for redistricting included this possibility. Best information is that it got caught in the shuffle to balance out some other districts and to split the Odessa - Midland complex. Our representative died a month ago, and when it came to the final round, the brethren to the north took care of their own situation.

Since the governor exerted all possible pressure to get the legislature to pass the redistricting bill Saturday night, it is a forgone conclusion that he will sign the measure. Only if the courts were to be confronted with a challenge and hold the act does not meet constitutional requirements and it construes it is there a possibility that the redistricting action will be negated. In that case there would be a special session.

Rep. George Mahon, who has represented this district so capably since its beginning, has declared the action is a "real shocker." Rep. Omar Burleson, who is representative of the district into which Howard County will go, has expressed satisfaction with the change and welcomes Howard into the fold. While the cordial spirit of Rep. Burleson is appreciated, it would be less than honest to say that Howard County makes the change with anything less than the greatest of reluctance, and this would be true of a change to any district that separates the county from the representative it has come to know and depend upon for three decades.

What It Takes

Most of us have built-in alibis when it comes to falling short of our potential achievement.

Consider the case of Robert Harrison, who has been immobilized most of his high school career due to a mishap. Worse than that, there have been months when he was in serious condition and in considerable pain.

Although he could not attend school as his classmates did, Robert continued his studies under the homebound program. He came through with flying colors, and last week he was revealed as the salutatorian of his class. When you have enough spunk, you don't need alibis.

New Type Of March On Washington

WASHINGTON — Congress is supposed to represent all the people. But many of the members in both houses owe their election last November in large part to the votes and funds contributed by labor union members.

Will some new pressure groups now be formed to reflect dramatically the wishes of the many citizens who feel they are unrepresented today? For apparently one of the most effective ways to influence government nowadays is to carry on organized demonstrations, "sit-ins," boycotts and picketing.

IT IS BEING suggested, therefore, that a movement may be organized for a different kind of civil-rights crusade to remove various forms of discrimination whch have not hitherto been dramatized but which are causing plenty of resentment.

Indeed, a "march on Washington," for instance, may even be needed to attract widespread attention to the grievances of those workers who may lose their civil rights under proposed laws which would compel union membership as the price of a job. This type of event is widely covered by the press, television and radio. It constitutes a spectacular means of getting nationwide publicity for a cause. Also, it seems to be an effective way to win a majority in Congress.

"DEMONSTRATIONS" could develop also by reason of another grievance which is likely to grow in intensity. It concerns the power of the federal government to coerce the residents of an area by withholding certain projects that would bring federal funds to their respective states. This penalizes innocent people in the state as well as those who believe they are entitled to freedom of choice in dealing with whomever they please in business.

If the citizens do not conform, the federal government has a big stick which it can employ. Not only can federal contracts running into billions of dollars be cancelled, but military bases and other installations can be removed wherever racial difficulties arise.

THERE ARE many specific ways by which the power of the federal government now can be asserted. The potent weapons include the withholding of funds for highways, relief, urban renewal, low-rent public housing, public-health services, surplus-food and school-lunch programs, and many other activities involving grants and loans. Much of the power is discretionary and could mean arbitrary action.

THE ISSUES involved in the exercise of this authority have never been fully debated. Does the federal government, for example, have the power to punish persons who themselves are not guilty of discrimination? Can it use taxpayers' money as the means of forcing individuals to conform to rules which are not explicitly set forth in federal laws? May the federal government develop its own weapons of coercion, irrespective of whether they are equitable or whether they do damage to innocent men, women and children whose lives, directly or indirectly, may be affected? The Constitution, of course, forbids "cruel and unusual punishments."

ALL THIS perhaps adds up to the importance of another type of "civil rights" movement with new "demonstrations," particularly of a "non-violent" character. Its aim would be to persuade millions and millions of voters, who may not have thought these things through, that federal coercion means less, instead of more, freedom in America and that the way to cure discrimination is not by force but by the processes of reason and community effort, as well as laws that would provide citizens with redress against abuses in the application of "civil rights" regulations.

Billy Graham

Some time ago at a church meeting I used the expression, "Oh Lordie". I was told that I had taken the Lord's name in vain, and this hurt me deeply, because I have always been taught not to do this, and certainly do not wish to do so. Please tell me if I was wrong. . . N. R. W.

This expression seems to be very common, especially in the South. Though it is often uttered thoughtlessly and with no evil intent, it is a borderline expression of irreverence, and is little different than that other common expression, "My God."

The English language is such a strong language, that one need not resort to questionable expressions to express one's self. Usually, it is an innocent habit of speech, but the commandment is clear: "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain."

The fact that you say: "I have always been taught not to do this, and certainly would not wish to do so" shows that your intentions were not evil. But since we are judged by our speech, it is best to keep our conversations thoroughly Christian.

I have heard it said of very profane men: "He talks rough, but he doesn't mean anything by it." But if our intentions are good, let our speech be good also.

Scurvy Hits

LONDON (AP) — A doctor has made a report to the Ministry of Health in which he suggests that there are probably hundreds of thousands of cases of scurvy — mostly undiagnosed — in Britain.

The doctor was Geoffrey Taylor of Ilminster, Somerset, who said he found during nine weeks as consultant physician at St. Mary's Hospital, Kettering, that more than half the cases in the acute geriatric (diseases of old age) wards had signs of scurvy.

"The cause," he wrote, "is the obvious shortage of vitamin C in many diets and the overcooking of food. I found the mid-day meal already fully cooked nearly three hours before it was eaten."

Dr. Taylor also took into consideration, he said, observations at other hospitals.

Scurvy is a disease caused by a vitamin C deficiency and is characterized by anemia and debility.

Johnson Still Explaining Dominican Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson seems to have added both clarity and fog to his repeated explanations on the use of American troops in the Dominican Republic.

Johnson, sensitive to criticism, acknowledged at his news conference Tuesday his awareness of criticism for his handling of the Dominican problem. But he said he'd rather be criticized for his action than not to have acted.

This was one point of criticism: since this country is a member of the inter-American system — the Organization of American States — why didn't he tell the OAS he was going to use troops before he sent them in?

SEN. ROBERT F. Kennedy had said Johnson should have done it. Johnson seemed to answer the question Tuesday but not quite directly.

Going over ground he had covered before, he said: The United States had discussed the Dominican problem with Latin-American ambassadors and the OAS a number of times between April 24, when the revolt began, and the night of April 28, when he decided to use troops.

But nowhere did he indicate that in any of these consultations the Latin Americans were told Johnson might, or would, use troops if he thought the situation was becoming unbearable.

Johnson explained the OAS was notified immediately after he went on television to announce the use of troops but by then it was public knowledge.

IN JOHNSON'S words Tuesday this apparently was the reason: "We did not want to announce they (the troops) were on their way until they had landed for obvious security reasons."

Then the fog set in.

He said the threat of a Communist takeover in the Dominican Republic while not over is less than it was and added: the Reds had been active in the revolt and "in a good many places they were in charge of it."

But in his explanation to the nation May 2 he was a lot stronger than that. Then he explained the revolution had been "taken over" by the Communists and it was in their hands.

Not long after that statement, when questions began to be raised about the actual power of the Dominican Reds, U.S. officials said they were no longer in control.

Dream Daughter: Orphaned Viet Girl

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — An open letter home:

Dear Frances and Tracy,

Well, sweet ducks, I hope you are not spending the old man into bankruptcy while I'm away and too sentimental to cut off your credit. Spend less, live more.

You may be wondering what is going on over here. So do I. When I was here 48 hours, I thought I knew for sure what the truth was here. Now that I have been here toward 48 days, I'm not so sure what is untrue.

PERHAPS THAT is a growth toward education and is typical. In any case, I would like to find out and will continue to seek to learn what I can know.

What it seems to me that we are doing is pouring out billions of American dollars and the earnestness of, eventually, perhaps hundreds of thousands of well-trained American soldiers on the doubtful hinge of victory.

The hinge, I suspect, is whether we stay in the spending area long enough to create a middle class. Can our dollars and our soldiers and our dreams make permanence here?

And that hinge, of course, is whether the Vietnamese can among themselves create a stable government that is able to achieve and reflect their national glory — and not resent our help too much.

WELL, ENOUGH of politics, I suppose you may be more interested in personal things.

There is great dignity and sweetness among these people in the midst of the dire and perilous lives they live. They have time for kindness if you have, and sometimes if you haven't.

They respond immediately to a courtesy, a kindness, a smile and a help. Without being fatuous about it, I think if they can make a methodical government attentive to the people's goals then our billions spent here and our presence here will be worthwhile. Our support to their own goals of dignity won't have been wasted.

Of course, sometimes homesick men away from home fasten their dreams on the performance of an individual.

TO MANY of us at the press center here our "Miss Viet Nam" is a 13-year-old orphan we call "Little One."

She is tiny, black-haired, ready-smiling, works like a Trojan, cleaning and polishing and serving drinks. Everybody tries to teach her a new English word every day, and she blooms under our adulation like a flower responsive to a bright sun.

She makes us all feel better every day. She's our dream daughter away from home. We have plans to buy her a smart uniform, and long-term plans to raise a fund to educate her. That means our conscience to her own future will force us to lose her. We all hate to face up to that, but we shall.

Oh, I guess I started to write you about something else — but this is what I have written. I'll have to tell you later about how I've figured how to whip the enemy Viet Cong — in 12 easy years.

Your homesick husband and father, Harold.

Many Headaches Can Be Prevented

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: For the last 10 years I have had a severe headache every year, starting in December and lasting until around April. It occurs almost every morning during this period.

I have had many examinations, including those by a neurologist. All proved negative. One doctor suggested histamine headache, so I received the full treatment of injections. However, the headache returned.

Later I found I had an ulcer forming in the duodenum and was told that my headache and the ulcer were both products of nervous tension. The ulcer has been cured but I still have my headache — severe pain over one eye, with tearing and a running nose. I am 29. — M. L.

I have an idea in your case. Two ideas, in fact. But I want to get one or two thoughts across before I give them to you.

First of all, headache isn't a disease. It is a symptom. There are tension headaches, toxic headaches, migraines, histamine headaches, hangovers and a lot of other varieties, and it isn't always easy to pin down the cause in some severe cases.

Yet it is gratifying to know how many of the severe, recurring headaches can be prevented or eased or made less frequent by taking the time and trouble to study them until the type becomes apparent.

First, the tearing, the pain near one eye, and so on, strongly suggest a histamine headache. So does the occurrence in the morning. But there's significant sentence in your letter. You say you had "the full treatment of injections" but that the headaches returned.

There isn't any fixed "full treatment" that I know of. (It is a desensitization process). The treatment depends on how much is necessary for a given patient. Like desensitization for hay fever, some people need more than others; some need treatment repeated at intervals.

Your comment, "However, the headache returned," indicates that it stopped for a time. But if it stopped, the logical course would be to repeat the desensitization process, perhaps several times.

Dear Doctor: I had an operation on my knee for osteochondritis dissecans of the medical condyle, and two pieces of loose bodies were removed. Will you explain the cause? — R. S.

It is a disorder involving the ends of bones and cartilage. A disturbance of circulation causes the area to disintegrate. A locked or "trick" knee results. (Or other joints, such as hip or ankle, can be involved instead.) The condition is fairly common in younger people, and often is related to some injury to the joint.

The "loose bodies" that were removed were fragments of bone.

* * *

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet "The Way to Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope, and 20 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

* * *

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Around The Rim

How About A Penetrating Study?

Despite a lot of talk in conferences and other meetings, there seems to be no sure way to determine how to insure traffic safety at intersections. Or if there is, it is rarely employed. Or if there is, action is rarely taken until the accident rate becomes abnormally high.

REMEMBER WHEN traffic accidents at Birdwell Lane and FM 700 were almost commonplace, yet gossip had it that we would require a fatality or two before something was done. But eventually, a light was approved for the intersection. Although it took time, a signal was finally given the OK at Goliad and FM 700.

There must be many places now requiring some form of correction, but probably none so badly as at Fifteenth and Scurry. Tuesday, another serious mishap was chalked up for this blind corner.

NEIGHBORS near that corner say near-mishaps are almost an hourly occurrence, and the squeal of brakes signaling near - misses keep them awake nights. Yet, after due consideration on several occasions, nothing has been done.

Some years ago, the city decided Fifteenth Street should be a through street and it has workd out quite well, carrying more traffic than before. But increased traffic has met a similar increase in traffic on Scurry Street, the worst maintained urban street in West Texas.

SURELY THERE must be a system for erecting safety devices that do not depend on a large number of tragedies occurring first.

Some kind of city-wide study to determine where safety devices are needed—before they are needed—might be money well-spent. And the city has in its employ a trained, competent traffic engineer in Roy Rogan, who could do an excellent survey if given the time.

AS A MATTER of fact, the city has a series of basic criteria for determining when a signal light is needed at a particular intersecton. And some of these depend on a traffic count. Yet, the administration has no way of determining a traffic count, except by posting employes at a corner for a few hours on some specific day. A proposal to spend a few hundred dollars for a traffic counter some time ago was refused by the commissioners.

A GROWING CITY needs a comprehensive program of traffic safety, guided by trained engineers with ample equipment. And until we have it, our system of putting a signal light after someone is hurt badly or killed is about the best we can do. That's not much of a system, and certainly not befitting a modern, growing city.

Labor Peace Too Peaceful?

WASHINGTON — There was the thunder of class warfare in 1947 when the 80th Congress passed the Taft-Hartley Labor - Management Relations Act. The opening guns of today's battle to repeal Section 14-B of that act sound by comparison like the popping of blank cartridges. In truth, Senator Taft legislated so superbly that he brought nearly two decades of peace between American capital and labor.

WITH PEACE comes boredom. In the spring of 1959 Senator Jack Kennedy pushed another Labor bill through the Senate. I went to see him the day after its passage and found him disconsolate in the hour of victory.

Nobody cared, he grumbled. His bill was a compromise. It helped business — but he hadn't had a word of congratulations from businessmen. It helped the working man — but not a word of thanks had come from that direction, either. His bill, he said, accomplished a public good — but the public and the press had paid little heed. I wrote a column on the interview and the Senator wrote me a typically generous letter, dated May 26, 1959.

"DEAR HOLES: You may be pleased to know that after your column I did receive a small accretion of favorable correspondence regarding the Labor Bill. You seem to have been more successful in achieving this result from a few pithy paragraphs than I was able in many hours of debate and consultation. With best thanks and good wishes, I am, sincerely, Jack."

If, by 1959, nobody "cared" about another Labor bill, by 1965 it is going to take all the brass bands in the Great Society's propaganda inventory to stir up any excitement over this repealer of the right-to-work section. Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz, the administration's lead-off witness, drew a fair crowd in the Rayburn Building before the House Education-Labor Committee. But he was like a star performer who'd been handed a dull script and a flat role.

THE REPEALER is a setter-back of our clocks. It would take away the States' Rights to ban compulsory union membership. It would force persons with conscientious objections to join the unions as a condition of keeping their jobs. To that extent it would violate the personal liberty to be different. After Wirtz testified, a spokesman for the National Right-To-Work Committee held a scandalized press conference. He said it was "ironic" and "unbelievable" that such a staunch Civil Rights champion as Secretary Wirtz should be leading such a fight.

BOTH THE opposing statements drew yawns. But if the American public sleeps through the show, we may wake up to find ourselves in an era we thought to be dead. Nineteen states have somehow clung to the privilege of voluntary unionism. Workers in these states can join a union or not join, as they see fit. Industry has gravitated toward these Southern and Western States, where industry is most needed. The cause of Labor has not been injured, but the power of the Labor bosses has been clipped by 14-B. If the repealer becomes law, the Labor bosses will begin to regain the rule they had before Senator Taft stepped in. With the hindrance of 14-B removed, the warlords of the subdued class struggle will ride again. Their mischief-making can take us back to the industrial tension and conflict of the years that bracketed World War II.

THE DEMOCRATIC Convention of 1964 pledged the national candidates to try for the 14-B Repealer. No fault can be found with the President for keeping his word. But a good many congressional members feel another obligation. They will resist tearing down the House of Peace that Taft Built.

It Will Take Bodies In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON—Limited bombing of North Viet Nam has failed to change the course of the war, and its failure holds the promise of a grim future for a million American families.

Putting aside the torrent of rubbish that has been produced on the subject by the Pentagon, the State Department and by various journalistic Jezebels, here are the facts about what the people of the United States soon will have to face in prosecuting a war 10,000 miles from home:

VIET CONG guerrillas total about 145,000, according to the estimate universally accepted by experts.

Arrayed against them are 50,000 troops and 550,000 South Vietnamese, the latter figure including village militiamen and other paramilitary forces of highly questionable fighting zeal.

The rule of thumb for fighting and winning guerrilla war is that defending forces must hold a manpower ratio of at least 10 or 12 to 1 against the enemy. By this rule, our forces in South Viet Nam must total at least 1.4 million before a favorable decision can be expected—even if there is no substantial intervention from North Viet Nam or Communist China.

WHERE WILL the 1.4 million men come from?

As we have seen, presently under arms in South Viet Nam (by an estimate so generous as to be wildly unrealistic) are 600,000 soldiers. A great many of these are, to use the military euphemism, undependable. But even giving them all the best of it, our manpower deficit in Viet Nam today is not less than 800,000 men.

DEFENSE SECRETARY Robert McNamara, who not so long ago was announcing that the United States could start reducing its manpower commitment in Viet Nam, has lately made a great hurrah about drafting 160,000 fresh troops for the Army of South Viet Nam. Put aside, for the moment, the question of whether these peasant children will bring any fighting spirit with them when they reach the South Vietnamese boot camps.

Even put aside the question of where the 8,000 officers and noncoms will be found to head them (when South Vietnamese troops already under arms are disgracefully under - officered). Count the 160,000 (if that many can be caught and prevented from deserting) just as the 550,000 have been counted—as full-size, able-bodied fighting men.

THE SHORTAGE of manpower is now reduced to 640,000—and it is a shortage that will have to be made up by American troops.

This melancholy arithmetic explains why the bombing of North Viet Nam had no effect. The battle for South Viet Nam will not be won until somebody puts up something on the order of one million first-line fighting men. In view of the nonfeasance of the United States' allies in helping prosecute the war, it is plain that Americans are the ones who will have to fight—and die—in large numbers to maintain our precarious toehold on the mainland of Asia.

HANOI, PEKING and Moscow know these facts, perhaps better than Washington knows them. They plainly doubt that we will elect to make the sacrifice in young lives that is needed. That explains their restrained response to the bombing. Airplanes can neither take nor hold territory, and clearly the Communist world deems the United States unwilling to put up the counters that count—men.

Baptists Send Plea To Cuba

DALLAS (AP)—The Southern Baptist convention today issued an urgent plea for the release of 53 fellow believers under arrest in Cuba. The group includes two American clergymen.

Then the massive assembly bowed in lengthy prayer.

On its working day, the convention suspended its regular procedure and voted unanimously to relay the appeal to the Cuban government.

GIVEN SENTENCES

Moments after the action, word was received from the U.S. State Department and announced to the gathering that 32 of the Cuban Baptists had just been sentenced to 2 to 30 years' confinement.

"It's tragic, tragic news," commented Dr. Wayne Dehoney of Jackson, Tenn., the convention president.

Previously the two American missionaries, the Rev. Herbert Caudill of Clinchport, Va., and the Rev. David Fite of Waynesboro, Ga., had been sentenced to 10 and 6 years respectively.

They and the others were charged with counterrevolutionary activity, espionage, dealing in foreign currency exchange and "ideological diversionism."

OTHER RESOLUTIONS

A series of other resolutions also were introduced, but not acted on as yet, including proposals opposing a U.S. ambassador to the Vatican, limiting the convention's president to a one-year term, and for a study to eliminate so-called objectionable books from Baptist use.

Horse Clinic Is Scheduled

An all-purpose horse clinic, directed by William R. Linfoot, a veterinarian from Pleasanton, Calif., will be held at the Farmer's Auction Arena in Midland June 5-6. The clinic is being sponsored by the West Texas Appaloosa Horse Club and National Appaloosa Horse Club, Inc.

The clinic will be both lecture and demonstration with a question and answer period and will include all phases of horse raising and care. It is open to all horse owners and horse lovers free of charge. Sessions will begin at 9 a.m. and run through 5 p.m. each day, exclusive of the lunch break.

A discussion of breed characteristics, model Appaloosa conformations, judging conformation classes, and showing halter horses, will be held Saturday morning. A discussion of breaking and handling green horses, and a demonstration of methods of handling and gentling young, untouched horses.

Sunday morning a discussion of aging horses, bits and bitting, ranch management including working procedures, vaccinations and breeding problems, will be held. The afternoon session will include a lecture on schooling and training horses for racing and performance other than racing, lameness, and demonstration of hoof trimming procedures.

More Called For Jury Duty

Forty names were drawn and orders issued for talesmen to appear for jury duty in 118th District Court at 9 a.m. June 3, Judge Ralph Caton said Tuesday afternoon.

Out of 102 called for Monday afternoon, only 21 were qualified for jury duty.

"We ran into a deluge of exemptions, including persons over 65 years of age, and women with children under 16 years of age," he said. "Three were excused, and this left only 21, which is 11 under requirements. There was nothing to do but draw more names."

The cases set for trial Thursday are: Higinio Soto, charged with robbery by assault; David Keith Collett, charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense; and Antonio DeLeon, charged with theft.

Contract Let For FM Road

A contract for 709 miles of construction on FM Road 461 in Glasscock and Howard counties has been awarded to an Odessa firm, according to announcement from the Austin office of the State Highway Commission.

The new road will intersect the Garden City Highway (RM 33) at Lees, go west three miles, and then north four miles to connect with FM 818 in Howard County, H. L. Bailey, resident engineer at Sterling City, said. He will be in charge of the project while under construction.

Jones Brothers Dirt and Paving submitted the low bid of $81,491.61 on the project. Grading, structures, base and surfacing is expected to take 100 working days, J. A. Snell, district highway engineer at San Angelo, said.

Authorization has been approved for the construction of a culvert and approaches on FM 87 (Andrews Highway) in Howard County, two miles west of Big Spring, at an estimated cost of $40,000.

The culvert is apparently to replace the bridge which collapsed May 22 after the heavy rains, but Joe Smoot, resident engineer in Big Spring, could not be contacted for confirmation.

The project is included in the Texas Highway Department continuing maintenance, safety and highway betterment programs.

Vast Shipments Of Nuclear Warheads To Europe Told

PARIS (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara says the U.S. nuclear stockpile in Europe will be twice its 1961 size by this time next year.

"We are now shipping such substantial amounts (of nuclear warheads) that within 12 months the stockpile will be 100 per cent greater than in 1961," McNamara told newsmen after the meeting of defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization ended Tuesday.

He said in December, 1961, he told the NATO ministers there were thousands of nuclear warheads on European soil.

He branded as "absolutely untrue" reports that the United States is planning to withdraw its nuclear muscle from Western Europe.

STEADY BOOST

"There has been a steady increase in the stockpile over the last four years," McNamara said, adding that since January the number of nuclear weapons in Europe had increased by 10 per cent.

McNamara said the stockpile includes warheads for U.S. forces and those intended for use by Allied forces in case of war. All are in custody of U.S. troops as required by U.S. law.

The NATO meeting agreed to give further study to a U.S. proposal to share some nuclear controls with other NATO members through a committee of four or five defense ministers.

The committee presumably would include the United States, Britain, France, West Germany and one of the smaller NATO countries.

FALLS SHORT

The proposal falls short of French President Charles de Gaulle's demand for a U.S.-British-French directorate for NATO. French Defense Minister Pierre Messmer said France would study the U.S. proposal attentively.

The NATO ministers again endorsed a "forward strategy" for the alliance, which means active defense of all NATO territory and precludes any sacrifice of soil in central Europe. This question is of great concern to the West Germans who are in the potential front line.

McNamara said the United States "strongly supports (fulfilling) the forward strategy by whatever weapons are required for the defense of the soil of Western Europe."

Truck Needed For Program

The Summer Recreational program got a boost in attendance Wednesday, but it ran into a problem.

The pickup which was to have been used in transporting the trampoline and other equipment between playgrounds is no longer available. Consequently, a pickup is needed urgently during morning hours for the purpose. Anyone who could make the loan of a truck is urged to call Jim Gilbert at the YMCA. The summer program will pay the expenses.

So far, 163 have signed for the Summer Fun Program for elementary age children. Another 103 have been listed for the learn-to-swim program.

Parents are urged to sign up children for both programs this week. The learn-to-swim classes will be held next week at the City Park pool, and the only charge involved is $1 for pool fee.

The Summer Fun Program, which involves gymnastics, games, swimming, and a variety of other events, will begin June 14.

Center Receives Three More Gifts

Only three gifts to the new Howard County Rehabilitation Center were reported today, according to Bill Pollard, campaign chairman.

Gifts pledged still hover around the $1,000 mark after more than a week of a campaign drive to equip the center at Third and Lancaster, which will be completed in August. The plant was made possible by the Dora Roberts Foundation, but therapeutic equipment must be provided by the people, said V. Ward Jackson, president.

Today's gifts include an exercising tricycle with body and foot attachments costing $57.75 from the Jaycee-Ettes; a donation of $5 from Walter W. Stroup; and a therapeutic pillow costing $3 donated by the City Home Demonstration Club.

Gifts of any amount are welcome; however, center directions have asked that organizations, firms and individuals consider giving specific pieces of equipment. Much of the needed equipment is described in a brochure available at the center's office. Gift equipment will be permanently tagged with the names of donors.

Those interested in helping to equip the center may call AM 3-2880 for additional information.

Spacecraft Ground Unit For Landing Waits Test

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP)—The landing system for bringing spaceships back to land instead of water awaited its second test today at this Central Texas Army post.

Manned Spacecraft Center engineers have repaired the system, which was damaged in its first trial April 21 when a cable fouled a right turn motor.

BIGGER MOTORS

Lee Norman, project engineer, said bigger motors had been installed and should take care of the problem.

An unmanned dummy Gemini capsule was to be dropped from an airplane at an altitude of 11,000 feet this afternoon.

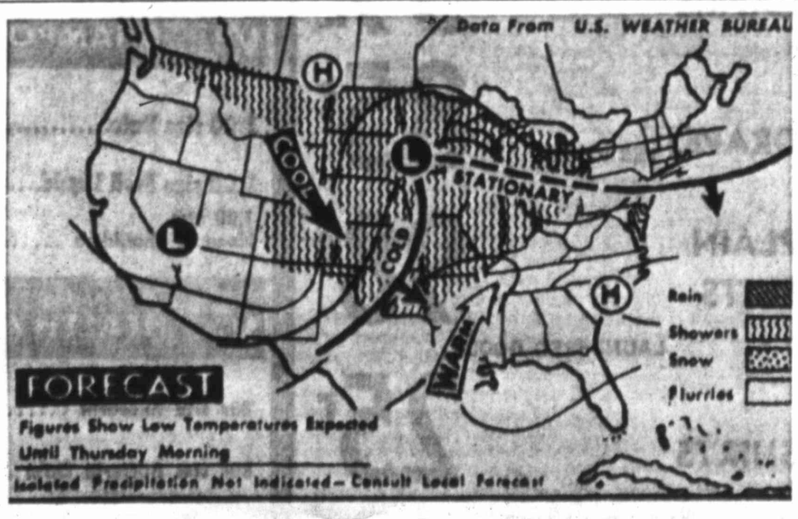

A 73-foot maneuverable parachute, controlled by radio signals from a console on the ground, and braking rockets that fire when the spacecraft is 10 feet above the ground, give the spaceship a "soft" landing.

USED BY SOVIET

The system is the same used by the Russians in their last two manned flights.

Motors controlled by radio signals reel up the parachute's shroud lines, spilling air on either side. The ground controller can pinpoint a landing.

All U.S. manned space missions have ended in water. The system, developed by the Manned Spacecraft Center, is the only U.S. device for landing spaceships on land.

Weather Forecast

Showers and thundershowers are expected to prevail Wednesday night in upper part of nation from the Pacific northwest to the lower Lakes area. Temperatures will be milder in the southern Gulf coast states. AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

OIL REPORT

Lario Files For Dual Completion

A dual completion has been filed in Howard County in the Lario Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 Moorhead, seven miles west of Vincent, and two Fusselman discoveries listed in Sterling County.

Lario perforated the casing in the Wolfcamp at 6,801-19 feet, and with no treatment reported, the well potentialed for a daily flow of 248 barrels of 41.4 gravity oil, with no water, through a 12-64-inch choke. The gas-oil ratio was 1,520-1, and tubing pressure metered 480 pounds.

The well was completed earlier from field pay in the Pennsylvanian reef, from an open hole section at 7,411-26 feet, for a flowing yield of 137 barrels of 41.4 gravity oil plus one per cent water per day. That production was through a ¾-inch choke with a gas-oil ratio of 1,840-1 under 190 pounds tubing pressure after a 1,000-gallon acid treatment.

The Wolfcamp production is being listed as a discovery. The dual daily potential is 385 barrels, and gravity is the same from both formations.

It is located 900 feet from the north and 467 feet from the west lines of section 25-25, H&TC survey, on the east edge of the producing reservoir.

W. A. Moncrief of Fort Worth has completed No. 1 R. T. Foster as a Fusselman discovery in Sterling County, 10 miles southwest of Sterling City.

On potential test it flowed 20.78 barrels of 56.4 gravity distillate through a 22-64-inch choke with a gas-liquid hydrocarbon ratio of 39,950-1 and tubing pressure of 100 pounds. The production is from perforations at 8,426-33 feet after injection of 2,000 gallons of acid.

It was staked 467 feet from the south and 2,622 feet from the west lines of section 17-13, SPRR survey and is the second workover on the hole in the last 13 months.

The hole was originally drilled to 8,711 feet in barren Ellenburger, by Pan American Petroleum Corp., and plugged at that point in 1952. It was reentered by Moncrief last year and cleaned out to 8,477 feet and 4½-inch casing set at that depth.

The operation was completed in May, 1964, as the opener of the WAM (Wolfcamp) pool from perforations at 5,064-68 feet for a daily yield of 224 barrels of 36.4 gravity oil through a 32-64-inch choke, with gas-oil ratio of 800-1.

That zone has apparently been depleted since the latest Railroad Commission schedule does not assign any allowable to the horizon.

Operator has applied for a discovery allowable and new pool designation of WAM (Fusselman). No. 1 Foster is 5½ miles north of Moncrief and Champlin Petroleum Co. No. 1 Fay Hildebrand, completed in March to open the WAM, South (Fusselman) pool.

The secnod producer in the same area, reported this morning is the Shell Oil Co. No 1 F. M. Hildebrand, one location southwest of the Moncrief and Champlin well.

After two attempts for completion failed, when water channeled into the hole, the operator squeezed off perforations, and squeezed cement behind the casing.

He reperforated and began swabbing at 8,669-82 feet after acidizing with 10,000 gallons.

The initial flow in 24 hours was 133 barrels of new oil and 23 barrels of acid water, through a one-inch choke. Tubing pressure was 60 pounds. He continues to clean the hole.

Location of the Fusselman producer is 660 feet from the north and east lines of section 4-7, H&TC survey, 13 miles south of Sterling City.

Mrs. Smith Seriously Hurt

Mrs. Myrtle Smith, 618 Colgate, was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation on Tuesday afternoon after a two-car collision at the intersection of Fifteenth and Scurry Streets.

She was reported in serious, but not critical, condition at the hospital this morning with nine fractured ribs.

Mrs. Smith was driving west on Fifteenth Street and the other vehicle, driven by Tyrone Wright, 3602 Dixon, was traveling north on Scurry, officers said.

Heavy damage was reported to the car driven by Mrs. Smith. A passenger in the car, Maureen Shoemaker, received some cuts on the arm.

Lake Catches 500 Acre Feet

Showers Monday produced .11 of a foot rise in the elevation of Lake J. B. Thomas. This approximates 500 acre feet of water, or more than 150,000,000 gallons. Elevation now is 2242.45 feet. Spillway elevation is 2258.00.

Scouters Meet

Earl McKeehan, executive for the Buffalo Trails Council, will be at the monthly Lone Star district meeting in the Cosden Club at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Raymond L. Tollett, district chairman, said today. McKeehan will report on the recent national council meeting in Miami, Fla. when "Break-through for Youth," the special emphasis for 1965, was introduced. Tollett urged all members of district committees, as well as institutional representatives to attend the meeting.

Zone Change Wins Board Approval

An extension of commercial zoning south on Gregg Street, for three lots at the southwest corner of the Gregg - Eleventh Street intersection, was okayed by the planning and zoning commission Tuesday. Three persons voiced opposition to a change.

The request was made by Sam Burns, who told the commission he planned to lease the three lots, about 150 feet by 100 feet, for a new and used car lot.

Previously the property was zoned as retail.

Burns said an office would be constructed in the center of the lots, with the area to be blacktopped. He said the lot would improve the appearance of the corner.

Mrs. Guion Keating and Mrs. Clara Pool, both of 211 W. 12th, told the commission they were not opposed to the used car lot but that if the property was zoned commercial other establishments, such as a skating rink or dance hall, could be placed there. Claude Griffin, of 1008 Gregg, told the commission he was opposed to further commercial zoning on the street.

In other action, the board turned down a request from Joe Starnes, subdivider, for deletion of sidewalks in the Colonial Hills subdivision, located north of Hearn Street in south Big Spring.

Starnes told the commission his request was due to location of the lots on rough terrain that created a drainage problem due to steep land areas. Jim Martin, Midland, appeared to voice support of the request. He said he had purchased some of the lots in the subdivision.

Commission members discussed the request, but commented that other developers had faced similar problems in other portions of the city. The subdivision ordinance requires sidewalks. Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said the area was of a type to be occupied by young families and that sidewalks would be used by children on tricycles or roller skates.

The commission approved a replat of two lots in the 2800 block of Clanton Street. The area was a tract, 216 feet front footage, and was replatted into three lots, 77.82 feet each. Lillard said the change met all city ordinance requirements.

Deputy governors named by Thompson are John H. Hancock, San Angelo; Roy Peyton, Midland; Harvey J. Robertson, Sweetwater; Armando Figueroa, San Angelo; Herman Howert, Buchanan Dam.

Retired Colonel To Guide New Pilot Program

Wilber Paris, head of Central American Airways, is in Big Spring setting up plans for operation of the pre-jet training program for new Webb Air Force Base pilots.

Paris said his instructors would receive ground training from Webb personnel, and then begin flying the light Cessnas with Webb officers at Howard County Airport where a hangar - office building is under construction. Some of the instructors will be here this week to start ground training and others will follow.

A retired Air Force colonel has been employed as manager of the Big Spring operations, Paris said, and he is to be in the city this afternoon or early Thursday.

The ground training sessions will be held at Webb as instructors arrive. Four of the airplanes will be here Thursday.

Central American Airways has a contract with the Air Force to pre-train pilots assigned to Webb, and the facilities, including aircraft, will be based at the Howard County Airport.

Radio Amateurs To Discuss FCC Rule Changes

The Big Spring Amateur Radio Club (W5AW) has invited all licensed amateur radio operators in Howard and surrounding counties to a special meeting June 14. A discussion is planned on the proposed FCC rule changes concerning "incentive licensing," which involves more stringent testing of amateurs.

The FCC has proposed to upgrade the license structure of the amateur radio service—including a new class of license, changes in operating frequency priveleges, and reissue of call signs. Details of the changes appear in the current issue of QST, an amateur radio magazine.

The club is seeking opinions and recommendations of all area amateurs, according to Kenneth Keller, president, and will submit a consensus of these in a letter to the FCC.

The meeting is set for 8 p.m. in the club house, located on the San Angelo highway, just south of the American Legion hall. Interested hams may contact Keeler at AM 3-2286.

LBJ Says Red Threat Persists In Dominican

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says the aim of U.S. policy in the Dominican Republic is the establishment of a broadly based government — one that represents the people and does not include extremists.

To accomplish this end, the President told a news conference Tuesday, the United States is looking to the Organization of American States while keeping in touch with Dominican leaders.

"We have no desire to insist on our particular brand of military solution or political solution," Johnson said. "We think it is an inter-American matter, and we want to cooperate fully with them (the OAS)."

U.S. POLICY

The Dominican revolt and U.S. policy toward it dominated Johnson's first nationally broadcast question-and-answer session with newsmen since April 27.

The President defended his policy, including his decision to intervene with more than 21,000 Army paratroopers, airmen and Marines. He said he is bringing another 2,000 leathernecks home and cautioned that a Communist threat remains.

He touched on other matters also, saying:

— He is asking Congress to authorize use of $89 million for a Southeast Asia economic and social development program.

VIET FLARE UP

— The recent flare-up of fighting in Viet Nam was anticipated, Washington is concerned and he will know more about it when Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor returns from Saigon in the next few days.

— He plans to address the U.N. General Assembly when it meets in San Francisco June 24-26 to commemorate the 20th anniversary of the organization's founding in the city.

Again and again, though, the reporters returned Johnson to the Dominican problem. One recalled that he had said earlier this month that Communists were seizing control of the revolution and asked if he feels "the Communist threat in the Dominican Republic is now over."

Said Johnson: "No, no. . .the Communists did not in our judgment originate this revolution, but they joined in it and they participated in it. They were active in it, and in a good many places they were in charge of it.

PRESENCE NOTED

"We think that following the action that this nation took . . .more moderate forces took leadership. The Communist elements have not been so active, although their presence is still noted hour by hour. . ."

Dr. Rogers Gets Degree

Dr. Glenn A. Rogers, son of Dr. and Mrs. Lee O. Rogers, 300 Washington Blvd., was among the 12 graduates receiving the Master of Science in Dentistry degree from Baylor University College of Dentistry in Dallas, May 24.

Commencement exercises were held at the Gaston Avenue Baptist Church at 3 p.m. Ben H. Wooten, prominent financier and Baptist layman of Dallas, gave the address.

Degrees were conferred by Dr. Abner V. McCall, president of Baylor University, Waco.

The College of Dentistry, a part of Baylor University since 1918, is operated under the auspices of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Dr. Rogers was a member of the Baylor Odontological Honor Society, Delta Sigma Delta dental fraternity and Omicron Kappa Upsilon, national dental scholastic society.

Dr. Rogers received the bachelor's degree from the University of Texas and the D.D.S. degree from Baylor University of Dentistry. He will be associated with his father in the practice of orthodontics and will office in Midland.

Rogers Tells Of Work Among Poor In Mexico

Rotarians viewed a film showing some of the work being done in border missions in Mexico, at Tuesday's meeting. Sig Rogers, owner of a local sign shop, told members he had made the film over a period of nine months. He was introduced by John R. Taylor, program chairman.

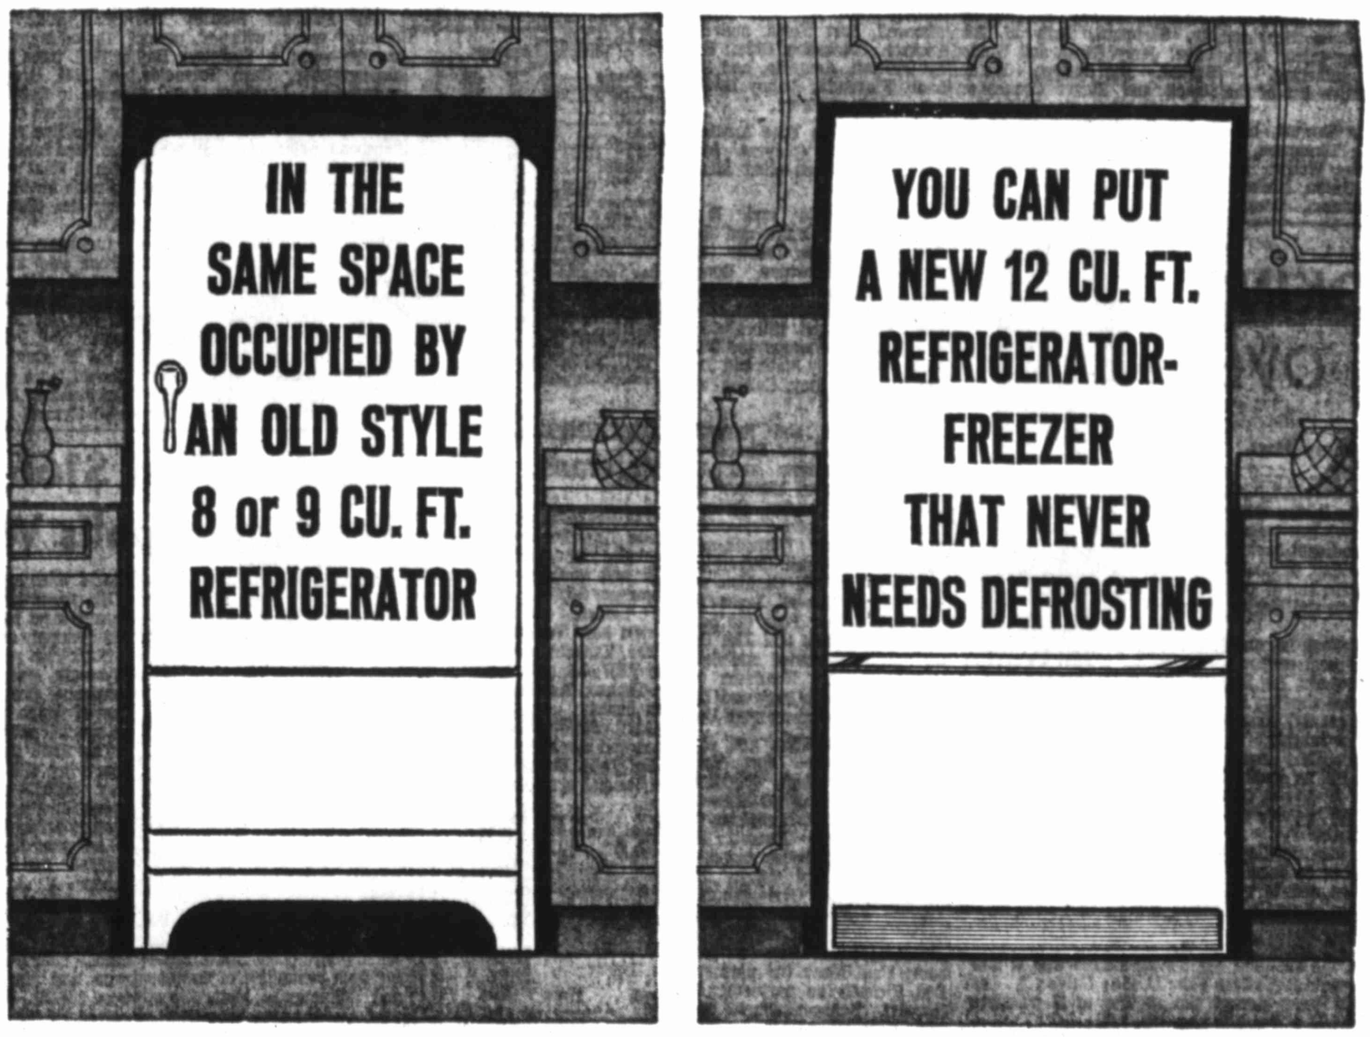

Rogers said the film had been viewed 25 times by clubs, organizations, and church congregations, in the past few months in Big Spring.

He said he had been doing mission work among the poorer families across the Mexican border from Eagle Pass and Del Rio for several years on a non-denominational basis.

"Educational facilities, and means of earning a living in some of the areas, are practically nil," he said. "Many of the mothers have lost their babies at an average age of five months simply because of improper and insufficient food. Clothing was something they had little of, and shoes were often unknown."

Rogers said he had carried food, clothing and other supplies donated by people of Big Spring, business houses, and by residents of other cities along the route. The missions established at Eagle Pass and at Del Rio have been the means of giving many of the people new hope, and of encouraging young men and women to find employment in other areas, instead of degrading themselves in illegal and immoral activities.

"With the assistance of pastors and other missionaries in the local areas, we have been able to conduct religious services fairly regularly at Hoe Mission in Eagle Pass and Faith Mission at Del Rio," he said. "Money can't buy the work we have been able to do and the hope we have been able to give these people, but it can buy materials needed to give them life and a small measure of comfort. We have to depend upon donations of money, food and clothing to keep the work going, and have been gratified at the response to our pleas."

McCULLOCH

A former Big Spring athletic personality, coach Larry McCulloch of Odessa, has been nominated as the new Region V director of the National Junior College Athletic Association, now that Dr. Bob Carter has been hired as the chairman of the Department of Physical Education and Health at Angelo State College.

Even if McCulloch is named, the Region V basketball tournament cannot be moved out of Amarillo for two years. Big Spring put in a bid for the tournament starting in 1966 but it was nixed in a vote carried on among athletic directors of member schools.

Some opposition has cropped up to McCulloch for the job. He, no doubt, would be a good man for the job. If Odessa College is voted four-year status, as appears likely, the region's executive committee would have it all to do over again.

Incidentally, they say Carter has been wanting to get out of coaching ever since he earned his doctor's degree (in Physical Education). He wanted to go into administration at Amarillo but had no chance. He will gravitate toward that field at San Angelo.

B. B. Lees, the one-time Big Spring athlete who is now head football coach at Eastern New Mexico University, has strengthened his lineup through the addition of 11 transfers and expects to field a fine ball club this fall.

ENMU hired a coaching aide named Bill Giles from out of Nebraska and Giles helped B. B. recruit quite a bit of talent there.

Prior to World War II, ENMU recruited a lot in this immediate area but Buddy Ray Cosby, now in the U.S. Secret Service, is the only Big Spring athlete who has played up there in recent years.

Benny Roller, the 30-year old Oklahoma ex-jockey, whose career as a rider was terminated when he suffered serious injuries at Sunland Park the past season, is now custodian of the jockeys' room at Ruidoso Downs.

Racing usually takes care of its own in some capacity. Roller has about six mouths to feed.

Roland Adams, an entry in last year's Big Spring Golf Open who has been working on plumbing jobs in this area within the past several months, tied for fifth in the sectional qualifying round for the 1965 U.S. Open at Odessa last week. He had a 152 over 36 holes.

At one time, the Lubbock linkster, who won championships in seven West Texas amateur tournaments in one year a few seasons back, planned to go on the pro tour but the plans never did jell.

When the Los Angeles Dodgers attracted 2,538,602 customers to their home games in 1963, it was estimated they brought $40 million into the area, not counting money spent at the park.

Dubby Malaise, who first began to throw a basketball around when he lived here as a tot (his dad, John, built him a junior sized backboard in his yard), says Texas Tech could still have a better basketball team than it had last year even though the school recently lost Norman Reuther and Joe Ussery.

Any improvement would be contingent upon the eligibility of big Bob Glover, however, adds Malaise.

Eighth Round Explosion Is Repetitious

HOUSTON (AP) — Along about the eight inning in games between the Milwaukee Braves and the Houston Astros in the Astrodome — watch out!

Milwaukee scored its winning run in the eight in Sunday's 6-5 victory.

Houston erupted for a six-run eighth inning Monday for a 7-2 victory over the Braves.

And Tuesday night with the Astros leading, 1-0, on Walt Bond's fourth-inning home run, Hank Aaron stepped to the plate with two out in the eighth and looked like he knew what was supposed to happen in that inning.

Reliever Hal Woodeshick worked the count to three balls and two strikes. Aaron slammed the next pitch into the seats in left center.

Mack Jones stepped up. Ball one. The next pitch ballooned up to the plate like it wanted Jones to autograph it — with his bat. The ball landed in the right center field stands.

"I threw a nothin' fastball to Aaron and a hanging slider to Jones," Woodeshick moaned later.

"We owed Woody a loss," said Milwaukee Manager Bobby Bragan. "He has been rough on us."

"Woody has done quite a job the last couple of years," said Braves' pitcher Billy O'Dell, who picked up his fourth win against two defeats. "But I wasn't sorry to see either his streak or (Bob) Aspromonte's come to an end."

Yankees Defeat Veterans, 5-3

The Yankees, benefitting from Steve Tidwell's two-run double, exploded for four runs in the fifth and went on to defeat the Veterans, 5-3, in a National Little League makeup contest played here Tuesday afternoon.

The Yankees were outhit by the VFW, 6-5, but winning pitcher Tommy Fletcher spaced the Vet blows.

Gary Stallings and Tidwell each had two hits for the Yanks while Tony Burkhart clouted a double and a single for the losers.

Buccaneers Roll On Behind Bob Veale

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

If Bob Veale can strike out 16 batters when he's tired, how many can he strike out when he's fresh?

The giant Pittsburgh pitcher may get a chance to answer that question before too long, and the reply could be a major league strikeout record.

Veale fanned 16 Phillies Tuesday night as the Pirates defeated Philadelphia 4-0 for their 12th straight victory. Rain delayed the game twice for a total of two hours and five minutes.

Asked how the rain affected him, Veale said:

"It hindered me. It made me a little tired."

He was so tired he came within two of equaling the major league record of 18 strikeouts, set by Bob Feller in 1938 and tied by Sandy Koufax in 1959 and 1962.

Veale's 16 were the most in the majors this season, broke his own team record of 15 and increased his season total to 77, tying him with Don Drysdale for second place in the National League.

The 6-foot-6 left-hander, whose 250 strikeouts led the majors last season, also recorded his third shutout, matching Bob Gibson's major league-leading total, and gained his third straight complete game, all in the Pirates' winning streak.

Veale, now 5-2, has allowed only two runs in those three victories and has sliced his earned run average from 3.74 to 2.70.

He fanned power hitters Dick Stuart and Rich Allen three times each and received a standing ovation when he fanned Tony Gonzalez in the ninth inning for his 16th strikeout.

In other NL games, Milwaukee edged Houston 2-1, St. Louis nipped San Francisco 2-1 and New York whipped Chicago 10-5. In the only American League contest, Los Angeles beat Boston 4-1.

The Pirates, in extending the longest winning streak in the majors this season, knocked out starter Art Mahaffey in the first inning, scoring two runs on singles by Bob Bailey and Bill Virdon, Willie Stargell's sacrifice fly and a single by Jerry Lynch. Only one Phillie reached third.

HOMERS COUNT

Consecutive home runs by Milwaukee's Hank Aaron and Mack Jones against Hal Woodeshick in the eighth inning wiped out a 1-0 lead Houston took on Walt Bond's fourth-inning homer. The rally also nullified the brilliant relief hurling of Claude Raymond, who held the Braves to three singles in 5 1-3 innings.

The Cardinals stopped their five-game losing streak and San Francisco's five-game winning string behind the five-hit pitching of Ray Sadecki. St. Louis' 20-game winner of 1964 earned his second victory against four defeats.

EX-NFL COACH

Curly Lambeau Is Dead At 67

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Earl L. (Curly) Lambeau, founder of the Green Bay Packers and only coach ever to win three consecutive National Football League titles, died Tuesday, apparently of a heart attack. He was 67.

Lambeau turned Green Bay, then a town of only 37,000, into the crown capital of the NFL by guiding the Packers to the championship in 1929, 1930 and 1931. He won three more titles before ending a 31-year Packer career in 1949.

Lambeau collapsed late Tuesday while mowing a lawn at the home of a friend at Sturgeon Bay, 40 miles northeast of Green Bay. He was dead when a fire rescue squad arrived.

A pioneer in the NFL, Lambeau was credited with turning the forward pass into a potent pro weapon while coach and quarterback of the Packers in the 1920s.

CHARTER MEMBER

He was one of 17 charter members of the National Professional Football Hall of Fame.

Lambeau compiled a 236-111-23 record at Green Bay with only three losing seasons in more than three decades. But two of them came back to back in 1948 and 1949 and he resigned early the following year in a factional feud with a younger Packer front office.

Lambeau moved to the Chicago Cardinals as coach for two years and bowed out of the NFL at the end of 1954 after three seasons as coach of the Washington Redskins.

The Packers' founder was cutting grass with a power mower when a Sturgeon Bay photographer, Herb Reynolds, approached. Lambeau told Reynolds he needed the exercise. Suddenly, Reynolds said, Lambeau paled and collapsed.

Friends and former players showered the football trailblazer with tributes Tuesday night.

"I doubt if the league would exist today without the likes of Lambeau," said George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears.

"His vision and foresight made the Packers and the National Football League what they are today," said Buckets Goldenberg, Green Bay restaurant owner who played guard for Lambeau from 1933 to 1945.

CURLY LAMBEAU

SMALL PAYOFF

The Packers were the children of a 1919 street corner conversation between Lambeau and a friend. They were born as a semi-pro team financed by a packing house. Lambeau recruited high school friends. At the end of the first season, each player received $16.75.

Green Bay joined the American Professional Football Association in 1921. The next year, the association became the National Football League with Green Bay as a charter member.

Lambeau was quarterback for the Packers for the first decade and threw 45 passes in one game in an era when football was a ground sport.

He led giant-killing Green Bay to NFL titles again in 1936, 1939 and 1944. Green Bay, although grown to 62,000, remains by far the smallest entry in the NFL.

After five seasons at Chicago and Washington, Lambeau quit with a final victory — a 30-27 triumph for his College All-Stars over the Cleveland Browns in 1955.

Lambeau was a native of Green Bay and played college football at Notre Dame.

Funeral services were set tentatively for Saturday at Green Bay.

He is survived by one son, Donald E.; a brother, Oliver B., and a sister, Mrs. Frances Beatrice Evrard, all of Green Bay.

Clark Is Paid $166,621 For Indianapolis Win

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Scot Jimmy Clark and Italian-born Mario Andretti shared the spotlight Tuesday night at a victory dinner which carved a record pie of $628,399 from the Indianapolis 500-mile race.

Clark, the 29-year-old winner from Duns, Scotland, collected $166,621, also a record, for the Lotus-Ford team. The first prize cash actually goes to the owner of the winning car, Colin Chapman of London, who makes a distribution to the driver. This usually varies from 45 to 60 per cent.

Andretti, of Nazareth, Pa., was voted Rookie-of-the-Year for his third-place finish. Balloting by a committee of newsmen and Indianapolis Motor Speedway officials gave Andretti 23 of the 24 votes cast.

He received $500, a trophy from a meat packing firm and a year's supply of meat.

Clark also received the race's Plymouth pace car, a $1,000 wardrobe, six trophies, an engraved watch and assorted other specia' prizes.

The 1965 purse topped last year's by $118,224. The Speedway contributed $500,493, lap prizes another $30,000 and accessory prizes $97,906.

Last year the Speedway gave $397,150 for the prizes, and winner A. J. Foyt, Houston, Tex., picked up $153,650 for his car's owner.

Parnelli Jones, Torrance Calif., runner-up in Monday's race and the 1963 champion, won $64,661, and Andretti received $42,051.

MEET RUSSIANS JULY 31

Big Loser In Feud Could Be The U.S. Track Team

NEW YORK (AP) — The war between the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the Amateur Athletic Union over control of amateur athletics in the United States is going full blast again today. The big loser could be the track team the United States will send against the Russians at Kiev July 31.

The end to an uneasy truce between the organizations came Tuesday when Everett D. Barnes, president of the NCAA, warned its members to boycott the National AAU Championships at San Diego on June 26-27.

Barnes declared in a special memorandum from Hamilton, N.Y., where he is director of athletics at Colgate University, that participation of college-eligible athletes in the AAU Championships would place the student's institution in violation of the NCAA by-laws and subject to enforcement procedures.

Barnes emphasized that there would be a violation "whether or not the student represents his institution, a club or competes unattached."

This placed in jeopardy the prospect of a strong U.S. team being selected for the dual meet with the Soviet Union. The first two finishers in each event at the beau championships traditionally have been named as the U.S. team.

Barnes added, however, that the directive against participation in the AAU Championships 'should not mean that NCAA athletes need by eliminated from the team competing against Russia. They should be permitted to qualify through other established championships meets."

This was an apparent reference to the forthcoming NCAA Championships and meets conducted by the U.S. Track and Field Federation, affiliated with the NCAA.

Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU was not available for comment on Barnes' statement.

SAN ANGELO — John Kennedy, star sprinter for the San Angelo Bobcats, has accepted a four-year track scholarship at Texas Western College in El Paso.

Kennedy is presently enrolled in summer school there, to make sure he is eligible for track.

West's failure to alter his strategy proved fatal to the defense in today's hand.

West doubled South's four heart bid today in the expectation of obtaining a spade ruff, inasmuch as he had control of the trump suit and East was the opening bidder. Altho the dummy's distribution prevented West from putting his partner in, the club void should have alerted him to the desirability of reducing North's ruffing power.

West opened the six of diamonds and the ace was played from dummy. Declarer promptly concluded that West was void in spades, for surely he would have led the suit in which his partner opened the bidding if he had a singleton. In an effort to avert a spade ruff, South decided to play a round of trumps first and he led the six of hearts from dummy and put up the queen from his hand.

West was in with the ace of hearts. A trump continuation would have been a telling return at this point since it leaves the declarer with too many losing clubs to handle, however, West exited with the king of diamonds in the vague hope that he might subsequently score his small heart by ruffing a spade.

South trumped the diamond and proceeded to cross-ruff the next four tricks by ruffing the three and ten of clubs in dummy and two diamonds in his hand. The king of hearts was played to pull the remaining trump, and South got out with the king of clubs.

East was down to the lone ace of clubs and the high spades, for the red cards had all been stripped from his hand. After he cashed the two black aces—which completed the defensive book—he was obliged to surrender the fulfilling trick to North's king of spades.

Rookie Spaceman Given Top Evaluation By Dad

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A man qualified to know rates Maj. Edward H. White II, copilot for the next Gemini two-man space flight, "a good pilot, a lot better one than I was."

The man is Maj. Gen. Edward H. White, who retired from the Air Force eight years ago—a man who was rated to fly everything from bombers to balloons. He delivers his evaluation of his son's ability with deep pride.

RICHES

In his father, Maj. White has a dedicated cheerleader. And in his soft-spoken mother, an "enthusiastic spectator." To their son they have imparted riches:

His the traditions of "the corps," or "duty, honor, country;" hers the appreciation of family, the value of prayer.

Gen. and Mrs. White, who live on a quiet, palm-shadowed street near Tampa Bay, look forward to their son's four-day flight with Maj. James A. McDivitt because they know it's what he wishes to do.

"His definite goal," says his father, "is to make the first flight to the moon, and this flight will be a step in that direction."

WEST POINTERS

The general was graduated from West Point in 1924, 28 years ahead of his son, Ed.

Gen. White was the first controller of the Air Force when it became a separate branch in 1947.

Edward II was born in Ft. Sam Houston Hospital in San Antonio, and his father says he was quite a bargain — cost only $19.75. He took his first plane ride in an old two-seated T6 trainer at the age of 10 with his father at the controls. An Air Force career came naturally.

Texas Water Bills Signed

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally signed today legislation dealing with the future development of Texas' water resources.

Two bills became law with Connally's signature. The other is a proposed constitutional amendment on which Texas voters will decide in the November 1966 election.

"This is a historic occasion. This is some of the most far-reaching legislation this state has ever passed," Connally said.

The proposed amendment doubles the water development fund to $400 million and allows it to be used for water treatment and for pipelines and diversion canals. It now is limited to loans for local reservoir projects and to purchase by the state of storage space in major reservoirs.

Right Course His Aim, LBJ Tells Youths

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson told what he called the concerned, committed younger generation Tuesday he believes in debate on the nation's policies in time of danger, but said he must proceed on the course he believes is right, regardless of criticism.

The President hit this central theme in a commencement address to the graduating class at the National Cathedral School for Girls. His daughter, Luci, 17, was one of the graduates at the private school.

Johnson told young Americans to use their talents to help in the struggle of the world's poor to create a better life. He said this is a moral commitment.

GREAT STRENGTH

But mainly the President talked of something to which he said he has given much thought.

He said that he knows the large majority of Americans support the effort everywhere to stop aggression but he also knows discussion is one of the great strengths of American democracy.

The appearance at the commencement was a repeat performance for Johnson. He addressed the earlier class in which his elder daughter Lynda, now 21, was graduated.

Again, as he has on several occasions recently, Johnson was reflecting his awareness of arguments and demonstrations on and off campuses, mainly over the nation's course in foreign affairs.

But he made it abundantly evident that he intends to hold unswervingly to his policies.

Johnson referred to Henry Clay's remark that he would rather be right than president and added a bit plaintively:

TRY FOR BOTH

"Well, I must try to be both. I must try as best I can, and with whatever help God chooses to give me, to seek the right course, not only for myself but for a nation.

"And as president I must act — often swiftly and decisively —accordingly to that judgment.

"So we will proceed with the course we are on — glad of the overwhelming support of the American people — always open to criticism and the flow of ideas but proceeding as we believe we must however the transient winds of opinion blow.

"This, I believe, is what the American people expect of their president.

"That is what they shall receive from me."

PROUD FATHER

The proud father and commencement orator told the graduates they were all young and beautiful at a wonderful moment.

"And it is nice of you," the President said, "to let a much older and rather solemn man talk to you about his problems. I hope you know how it lifts my heart to see you, and to know a little of what I do may possibly enrich your lives."

Luci's class, 59 strong, had met the President previously. He made his home—the White House — available for the senior prom in April.

Matter Up To State Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court said Tuesday a lower federal tribunal in Chicago should not have interfered in a legislative reapportionment proceeding in Illinois, and that the Illinois Supreme Court should proceed to supervise proceedings in the case.

The highest tribunal acted after a deadlock developed over whether a three-judge court in Chicago or the Illinois Supreme Court would take jurisdiction if the reapportionment problem was not solved.

It was in this situation that the three-judge federal court issued orders that were challenged by William J. Scott, state treasurer, and others.

The Supreme Court in an unsigned opinion said, "We believe that the District Court (the three-judge federal tribunal) should have stayed its hand."

Today's opinion added:

"We therefore vacate the order of the District Court dated May 7, 1965. The case is remanded with directions that the District Court enter an order fixing a reasonable time within which the appropriate agencies within the State of Illinois including its Supreme Court may validly redistrict the Illinois State Senate; providing that the same be accomplished within ample time to permit such plan to be utilized in the 1966 election of the members of the state Senate, in accordance with the provisions of the Illinois election laws."

No Fatalities In Seven States

CHICAGO (AP) — While traffic deaths across the nation set a record for a three-day observance of Memorial Day, seven states reported no such fatalities. They are Alaska, Delaware, Maine, Hawaii, New Hampshire, Nevada and Rhode Island.

Spray new Caparol after cotton is 6 inches high to control weeds.

Control most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton with new Caparol* herbicide. Simply apply as a directed spray to the base of your cotton when it is six inches or higher.

You'll get good knockdown of weeds and grasses that are less than two inches high . . . plus some killing action through the roots of later-germinating weeds.

The cost of this treatment, when Caparol is applied in a 10 inch band, can be as little as 85 cents per acre. Compare this with the $2-3 per acre it would cost you for hoe hands.

Later on in the season, you can go in and make a layby application of new Caparol to control weeds until the cotton is high enough to shade them out.

With new Caparol, you'll have no reason to worry about soil residue carryover to harm crops planted in the spring of 1966.

Ask your supplier for new Caparol.

U.S. First Lady In Virgin Islands

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson paid tribute today to "the proud history" of the Virgin Islands but said she was aware things were not as untroubled elsewhere in the Caribbean.

"In our hearts is the prayer that their voyage to peace will be a short one," the First Lady said in an apparent reference to the Dominican crisis as she arrived by commercial plane for a five-day stay mixing official duties and a vacation.

In prepared remarks at an arrival ceremony, Mrs. Johnson said she felt the whispers of the islands' 400-year history as she stood in Emancipation Gardens near Ft. Christian, built around 1671.

SLAVES FREED

She noted that slaves were freed on this spot in 1848 and called attention to "the impressive way equality was translated into reality here."

"We have only to look at last year's cash register," she pointed out, "for in one year alone, the Virgin Islands brought $70 million worth of goods from the States."

She said she brought greetings from the President and was delighted to come "to share one of the big moments of history of the Virgin Islands — the first graduation ceremony of your new college."

WILL SPEAK

She will be the commencement speaker Thursday at the College of the Virgin Islands, founded two years ago.

Mrs. Johnson is the first wife of a president to come here since Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt visited a World War II military base in 1944.

Gov. and Mrs. Ralph Paiewonsky headed the list of officials for the welcoming ceremony, at which a steel band serenaded the First Lady with calypso tunes.

After the ceremonies, Mrs. Johnson was to go by boat to Caneel Bay on nearby St. John's Island, where she was to spend the night and make her vacation headquarters at a cottage on the Rockefeller-owned plantation resort.

Jurors Are Hard To Find

Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court, was still wondering this morning if he would have enough talesmen on hand Thursday morning to get the desired 32 for selecting a jury to open court. Sheriff Aubrey Standard has had deputies contacting an additional 40 persons to report.

"The jury wheel system is getting worse all the time because we have so many out-of-town taxpayers giving local addresses, and so many on the list who have moved, plus the women with children under 16 years of age, and persons over 65," he said this morning.

Some 21 persons not reporting Monday as called are being contacted to appear and show cause for failure to report, he said.

"It looks like we will not get enough eligible talesmen, out of the 40 names drawn this time, to pick a jury for the cases set for trial," the judge said.

Higinio Soto, charged with robbery by assault, was scheduled to be tried Monday, and the case was postponed until Thursday because of the scarcity of prospective jurors. Two other cases set for trial were: Antonio DeLeon, charged with theft, and David Keith Collett, driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Mrs. Lloyd To Head Cancer Society Unit

Mrs. Larson Lloyd was elected president of the Howard County Association of the American Cancer Society in the annual meeting Tuesday night at the Cosden Club.

Mrs. K. H. McGibbon was named vice president; Mrs. Coy Nalley, secretary; and John Currie, treasurer.

A Cancer Society representative, R. C. Taylor, presented certificates of recognition to Mrs. Lloyd and Mrs. Archie Butler, outgoing president, for their work with the society. Mrs. Butler presented certificates to Mrs. William Thompson, service chairman; Mrs. McGibbon, campaign chairman; and Mrs. Lloyd, crusade chairman.

R. L. Tollett, special gifts chairman; Mrs. Jack Haralson, house-to-house chairman; Mrs. W. A. Wilson, communities chairman; Mrs. Rube McNew, independent business chairman; and Mrs. Mike Moore, representing Epsilon Sigma Alpha chapter of Alpha Chi, received certificates from Mrs. Lloyd. Mrs. William Read, Mrs. Ivanell Marr and Mrs. H. H. Stephens received certificates for work with the recent crusade.

Board members for the association were named, including Mrs. Butler, Dr. R. B. G. Cowper, Dr. Arch Carson, Mrs. McGibbon, Dr. Amanda Keelyn, Dr. Floyd Mayes, Mrs. Coy Nalley, Mrs. M. M. Edwards, Mrs. Lloyd, Dr. Louise Worthy, John Currie, Mrs. Lee Rogers, Dr. M. A. Porter, Col. M. E. Frantz, Mrs. William Thompson, Roy Stockstill, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Dr. R. N. Koenig, Johnny Justice, R. M. Dean, Dr. Jon Davis and Mrs. Lonnie Coker.

Ashley Writ Hearing On

WHARTON, Tex. (AP) —A jury selected Tuesday was to be impaneled today in the second sanity hearing for Leslie Douglas Ashley, under indictment for the 1961 slaying of Houston real estate man Fred Tones.

But the jury will be removed from the courtroom until arguments are completed on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus. The arguments began Tuesday. The defense contends that Ashley should be returned to the state mental hospital at San Antonio from which he escaped last October.

The court overruled a defense contention that Ashley was illegally returned to Texas from Atlanta, Ga., where he was arrested April 23.

Ashley, 28, a former female impersonator, and his former girl friend, Carolyn Ann Lima, 22, were within four hours of execution in the electric chair in 1963 when they were granted reprieves.

Their convictions for Tones' murder later were reversed and Miss Lima received a five-year sentence at her second trial.

Ashley was adjudged insane and committed to the San Antonio hospital.

If he is found to be sane at the present hearing, he presumably would be tried again for Tones' death. If he again is ruled insane, he would be recommitted to the hospital.

M. W. Winn Dies Today

Services have been set for 2 p.m. Thursday in River-Welch Funeral Chapel, with the Rev. Dan Oglesby officiating. Burial will follow in City Cemetery.

Mr. Winn was born June 9, 1899, in Robert Lee. He had lived in Howard County since early childhood.

Survivors include the widow; three step-sons, Randal Sherrod, Garden City, Homer Sherrod, Bell Flower, Calif., Leslie Sherrod, Sand Springs; two step-daughters, Mrs. Owen Johnston, Sand Springs, Mrs. Jeff Derrick, Lehigh, Okla.; one brother, A. F. Winn, Big Spring; four sisters, Mrs. A. L. Shanks, Pampa, Mrs. Lon English, Bell Flower, Calif., Mrs. Lester Sourtharg, Torrance, Calif., Mrs. Lois Button, Inglewood, Calif.

Coahoma Has 53 Absentees

A total of 53 voters cast absentee ballots in the Coahoma school bond election, Supt. W. A. Wilson of Coahoma reported today.

"It was about what we expected, as we had expected a nice turnout," he said. Tuesday was the last day for absentee balloting in the election, which is scheduled for Saturday.

If the $395,000 bond issue passes, several items are scheduled for immediate action, including conversion of the old auditorium into five elementary classrooms.

The bond issue involves 12 other elementary classrooms as needed, a junior high-elementary gymnasium, a track, stadium improvements, furnishings, kitchen and cafeteria facilities enlargement.

Cuba Sentences Group Of Baptists

HAVANA (AP)—Thirty Cuban Baptist ministers and laymen were sentenced by a Havana court Tuesday to prison terms ranging from 2 to 30 years on charges of spying for the United States and trading in black market currency.

Oswald's Widow, Groom Start Married Life After Hectic Day

FATE, Tex. (AP) — Marina Oswald, widow of President John F. Kennedy's assassin, and an electronics technician she met a month ago began married life today in a white brick house on a quiet street in a Dallas suburb.

Mrs. Oswald, 23, a pretty, Russian-born blonde, and Kenneth J. Porter, 27, a divorced father of two, were married in this small north Texas farming community Tuesday.

The couple was introduced a month ago at the home where Porter was staying, just two doors from Mrs. Oswald's residence in Richardson.

HECTIC DAY

The marriage ceremony, performed in the office of a justice of the peace, followed a hectic day in which the couple went to Durant, Okla., for a blood test and to Sherman, Tex., for a marriage license. They avoided a three-day Texas waiting period by getting the blood tests in Oklahoma.

The wedding party, which included a best man and a woman attendant, eluded newsmen leaving Durant.

Mrs. Bill Clark, a neighbor, said the couple met shortly after Porter, a friend of her son Joe, moved into a room at the Clark house.

Mrs. Oswald apparently liked Porter from the beginning, Joe Clark related, and confided recently that she loved him. He said Porter "was crazy about" Mrs. Oswald's two young daughters but "had kept pretty quiet about their plans."

The newlyweds arrived at their home in Richardson hours after the ceremony. They allowed pictures but answered few questions from newsmen.

FEELS "WONDERFUL"

The bride, wearing a white dress with bows on the skirt, said she felt "wonderful—I just want to be alone with my husband."

After only a few minutes at the house the couple left for an undisclosed destination.

A Dallas reporter and photographer, tipped about the wedding plans, started following the couple at 6 a.m. Tuesday as they began a 90-mile drive to Durant. Newsmen lost the trail, however, as the party doubled back to Sherman for the marriage license.

Mary Chumbley, a deputy clerk at the courthouse, said they "seemed anxious to get away, to escape publicity." She didn't ask Mrs. Oswald the usual question about previous marriages because "I already knew that."

They declined an offer to call a Sherman preacher. Porter is a member of the Church of Christ and his bride a member of the Greek Orthodox Church.

At Rockwall, just northeast of Dallas, Sheriff W. J. Price said the best man — identified only by the name of Woolridge — knocked at his back door to ask where they could find a justice of the peace.

Since that official was out of town, Price escorted them to Justice of the Peace Carl Leonard Jr. in the neighboring village of Fate, where Leonard also runs a garage.

IN KHAKIS

"I didn't know it was Marina Oswald until the sheriff introduced her," said Leonard, who was plowing. "I was still dressed in my back yard khakis.

"I'd have performed the ceremony in the house but I'd left my book at the office and they were in a hurry. Said they were trying to stay out of sight of reporters. I just read the regular double-ring civil ceremony."

Friends said the couple drove to a reception in Dallas after the ceremony. It was nearly 9 p.m. before they returned home and scurried past newsmen.

Clark, who works with Porter at Texas Instruments, Inc., described the groom as a "hard-working, quiet, reserved type."

Wanda Avora Porter divorced Porter in January, 1964, charging harsh and cruel treatment. Their children are a daughter, Wanda, 7, and a son, Connie, 4. Mrs. Porter is a data analyst for Collins Radio Co.

The new Mrs. Porter has changed noticeably since she attended the funeral of her first husband, slain just two days after he shot President Kennedy on Nov. 22, 1963.

She became active socially in recent months and was seen with escorts at Dallas night clubs. She studied English for eight weeks at the University of Michigan and then spent time in Arizona working on her life story for book publication.

She bought a small brick house in Richardson soon after Oswald was slain. Less than two months ago she moved into the three-bedroom white brick home she now occupies.

Porter was raised at Lamesa, in west Texas, and came to Dallas after serving in the Navy.

Marries Again

Baptist Calls For 'Fresh Vision For A Lost World'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The once-booming growth rate of Southern Baptists has lost some of its steam, they noted today. And they're upset about it.

As their 108th annual convention went into its first working day, the Rev. Dr. James L. Sullivan of Nashville, head of the denomination's Sunday School Board, observed:

"The change — the slowdown — in the percentage of growth rate has brought great concern to us all."

For more than a decade Southern Baptists have paced the field among the nation's larger Protestant bodies in membership gains, climbing to first place in size with 10.6 million on the rolls.

TEMPO SAGS

The tempo of the upsurge has sagged.

This "has upset many who did not understand its causes," Dr. Sullivan told the huge gathering, including 11,000 registered "messengers" from local churches, a record for a first day.

He said that increased size itself, and the spread of the denomination throughout the nation from its past Southern borders, along with organizational readjustments, has dampened the growth rate.

DEMANDS CHANGES

Moreover, in an increasingly technological environment, he said, "it is more difficult to get people to think in spiritual terms."

The new condtions call for changes in church life, he said.

Firing up of the denomination's characteristic evangelical zeal was urged by the convention president, the Rev. Dr. Wayne Dehoney of Jackson, Tenn.

At the opening ceremonies Tuesday night, he called for a "fresh vision of a lost world" and "the greatest evangelistic and missionary thrust this world has ever seen."

Teachers Given Raise

LAMESA (SC) — After two called meetings, the board of trustees of the Lamesa Independent School District, voted recently to increase teachers' salaries in accordance with the rate schedule as outlined under the new teacher pay raise passed by the state legislature.

The raises will be based on years of classroom experience and the type of degree held by each individual. This will give teachers in the Lamesa school system salary increases ranging from $90 to $1,089 per year. The board also voted to continue payment of the present $300 above the state schedule.

In other action, Bud Thompson was hired as English teacher for the coming year in the high school, and Bob Wilton was appointed to audit the school books for the fiscal year of 1964-65.

Mrs. Cochran To Attend Training Class In Austin

Mrs. Ennis Cochran, new coordinator of volunteer services at Big Spring State Hospital, will leave next Monday for Austin for a two-week training period with the state volunteer services office.

Mrs. Cochran will work with Mrs. Helen Colburn, director of volunteer programs for the Board for Texas State Hospitals and Special Schools. She will audit programs at Austin state hospitals and those at Rusk and Houston.

Named Monday to succeed Mrs. Hila Weathers in the Big Spring State Hospital position, Mrs. Cochran has been assistant coordinator since early last month. She has directed establishment of a volunteer escort service to assist patients, a program designed to relieve nursing personnel.

"I am fascinated with the work and looking forward to an opportunity to work with the community and the hospital," Mrs. Cochran said.

Mrs. Weathers plans to leave June 13 for Van Nuys, Calif. She suffered a heart attack earlier this year and resigned on request of her doctor.

Steelworker Chief Sworn

PITTSBURGH (AP) — I. W. Abel took the oath of office today as president of the million-member United Steelworkers of America in ceremonies marking the biggest leadership shuffle in the union's 23-year history.

Abel, who defeated President David J. McDonald in a Feb. 9 election, takes office along with a new secretary-treasurer, a new vice president and 29 district directors, 11 newly elected.

Walter Burke of Milwaukee will be the union's secretary-treasurer. Joseph Molony of Buffalo, N.Y. the vice president.

'A' Student Is Research Aide

DALLAS (AP) — James Clark Huff of Lubbock, who has made only A's in his school work since he was in the seventh grade, started work as a summer research assistant today at the Texas Southwestern Medical School here. He plans to enter the school as a student this fall.

Huff, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Solon Huff, received a BA degree in chemistry from Texas Tech last weekend. He is the first graduate of Tech to maintain a perfect 4.0 grade during his full undergraduate course, which he completed in three years.

Reapportion Row Persists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen invited President Johnson today to stay out of the controversy over the reapportionment of state legislatures.

Johnson told a White House news conference Tuesday he is generally sympathetic with reapportionment on the basis of the Supreme Court's decision that both houses of state legislatures must be set up on a population basis.

Noting that a president doesn't act on a proposed constitutional amendment, Johnson said he didn't want to get into a detailed discussion of pending proposals.

NO PREDICTION

"When the Congress does get down to debating the question and considering it, I will, o course, spend some time on it and become thoroughly conversant with it," Johnson said. "But I wouldn't want to predict at this time just what measure would emerge in a form of an amendment or what action Congress or the people might take on it."

Dirksen took note of the fact that Johnson stopped short of saying that he would take a position on the question.

"It's a matter of submitting the issue to the people," Dirksen said. "The President doesn't sign any resolution that is passed and I don't think he ought to take a position on it."

SENATE PANEL

Dirksen has sponsored a proposed constitutional amendment, now pending in the Senate Judiciary Committee, which would authorize the states to submit to their voters the issue of whether they want one house of their legislature to be elected on other than a population basis.

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., said in a separate interview that Johnson's statement that he is "generally sympathetic" with apportionment on a one-man, one-vote basis is very encouraging.
