Christmas concert scheduled at CHS

"A Christmas for All Ages" will be the theme for the 1986 Christmas concert scheduled by the Vocal Music Department of the Colorado Independent School District.

The concert will be Thursday, Dec. 18 at 7 p.m. in the Colorado High School auditorium.

David Shelton, CHS choral director, said "A Christmas for All Ages" will be just that...a Christmas concert to entertain all age groups...performed by all age groups."

A group from both Kelley and Hutchinson elementary schools will perform and the middle school and high school choirs will be singing. Also performing will be the handbell choir from the First Baptist Church and a special chorus comprised of CISD faculty, administrators and staff members.

The directors for each of the groups are Christine Burtner, Hutchinson Elementary; June Flippo, Kelley Elementary; and Shelton, high school, middle school and First Baptist handbell choir.

"There will be an audience sing-a-long and special solo performances, also," said Shelton. "The concert as described sounds like a marathon event, but will last no more than 90 minutes."

"All the directors and performers would like to invite everyone to come and share the season on the 18th," said Shelton.

Accompaniment for the groups will be provided by Connie Penland and Mrs. Flippo. Carl Moore will be the master of ceremonies.

Plans are underway to provide the audience with refreshments after the concert, said Shelton.

Telephone company to sponsor coffee

Southwestern Bell Telephone is sponsoring the Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce quarterly coffee. Those in attendance will have the opportunity to register for a drawing.

"We will give away a unique sesquicentennial door prize," said Jim West, manager of community relations.

The coffee is scheduled at the Chamber of Commerce office from 10-11 a.m., Thursday, Nov. 20. Chamber members and interested citizens are urged to stop by for coffee and refreshments.

"We also ask the people who come to be prepared to give us their input concerning the crucial needs in our community as well as what they would like to see the chamber continue to include in its program of work", said chamber president Bob Reilly. "These written comments will be placed in the hands of our Plan of Action Committee as we prepare for 1987. Join us for a special time of fellowship."

Area gets early sampling of winter

Mitchell County got an early taste of winter Thursday when the temperature plunged to near 20 degrees and freezing rain and sleet fell Thursday night.

A travelers advisory was in effect Thursday night as light freezing rain fell and temperatures dropped into the high 20s.

The Texas Highway Department sanded major overpasses as well as the Hickory Street hill in Colorado City, but the slick roads apparently did not result in any major accidents. Police Chief Bobby Sparks said a few minor accidents were reported, however.

By Friday morning, the temperatures were rising and the sun was shining.

Jury returns 5 indictments

A Mitchell County grand jury Friday returned five indictments, three of which were sealed.

Among those indicted were Scottie Knowlton and Manuel Lujan Rodriguez, each for driving while intoxicated, third offense.

Johnson found guilty Jury deliberating punishment

SNYDER - A Snyder jury was deliberating the fate of Doris Lee Johnson, Jr., 19, of Colorado City Friday afternoon after having found him guilty Wednesday of capital murder in the March 23 shooting death of convenience store clerk Jack Huddleston.

Lawyers were still presenting final arguments in the punishment phase of the trial late Friday afternoon before the jury could retire to deliberate whether to sentence Johnson to death or to life in prison.

At the punishment hearing Thursday, the prosecution rested its case and the testimony of defense witnesses was heard Friday morning.

During testimony Thursday, Lt. Pat Taylor of the Colorado City Police Department said Johnson admitted shooting a man while robbing a Colorado City grocery store on April 8. Taylor said Johnson admitted shooting Don Burrus while robbing Burrus' Grocery.

Taylor read Johnson's statement to the jury in which Johnson admitted shooting Burrus and said an accomplice, George Miles, stabbed him. After stealing about $30 from the store's cash register, Johnson said in the state, he and Miles hid the knife and the gun.

In other testimony Wednesday, Beverly Johnson, who is not related to the defendant, said Johnson threatened her twice with a gun in the spring of 1986

S.O. Lamb dies in jeep accident

S. O. Lamb, 58, of Colorado City, died Thursday in a one-jeep accident near Menard.

Lamb, a trucker and resident of Mitchell County most of his life, was dead on arrival at Shannon Hospital in San Angelo.

Funeral services were to be Sunday at 2 p.m. at Oak Street Baptist Church with Rev. John Taylor, pastor of Plainview Baptist Church, and Rev. Fred Smith, retired minister, officiating.

Masonic graveside services will be at the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker-Seale Funeral Home.

Mr. Lamb was born April 16, 1928 in Van Zandt County. He married Frances Howell Feb. 10, 1947 in Andrews. He was a member of the Baptist Church and the Masonic Lodge.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Judy Lewis Andrews; two sons, Ronnie Lamb of Colorado City and Bennie Lamb of Abilene; a sister, Sharon Burnett of Westbrook; five brothers, G. F. Lamb Jr. of Junction, D. R. Lamb of Westbrook, Jerry McCane of Colorado City, Gerald McCane of Odessa and Johnnie McCane of San Antonio; and nine grandchildren.

MEMBERS of the cast of "Husbandry", the latest production of the Colorado City Playhouse, are from left, Carrie Conley as Bev, Marsha Moore as Dee, Carl Moore as Harry and Kent Womack as Les. Three more performances are scheduled - Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. nightly.

'Husbandry' offers serious statement

By Ray Mayo
Editor

It may have been cold and icy outside, but the Thursday night performance of the Colorado City Playhouse production of "Husbandry" provided a warm setting for the opening night audience.

Written by Patrick Tovatt and directed by George Womack, "Husbandry" provides a somber look at the turmoil within a farm family faced with the decision of having to sell the farm unless the couple's son moves home from the city and becomes a partner in the five-generation family farm.

The cast consists of Marsha Moore, the farm wife who is struggling to cope with a falling farm economy and the falling health of her husband, Les, played by Kent Womack. Carl Moore plays Harry, the couple's son who left the farm after high school to make his life in the city. Bev, as Harry's wife, is played by Carrie Conley.

Action in the play takes place in an old farm house in Kentucky. It is early summer and

REVIEW

Harry and Bev have driven for eight hours for a long-awaited visit with his parents.

However, the parents have more on their mind than just a visit. They want a commitment from Harry to move home in order to save the farm.

Although the theme of the play is one of near-despair, especially on the part of Dee and Les, there are some light-hearted moments particularly in scene two of act one when Harry and his mother share a drink together. It is obvious that Dee has had little experience with alcohol and when she gulps down her crystal glass full of whiskey, Harry has to come to his mother's rescue with a glass of cold water.

"Husbandry" is a polished performance thanks to the veteran actors on stage and to the superb direction of George Womack.

It's refreshing to sit in the audience and to be able to hear every word spoken on the stage because of splendid diction and voice projection.

"Husbandry" is not a musical nor a comedy, both of which have proved to be Playhouse favorites in the past. It is a drama with a very real theme and one with which everyone, not just farmers, can identify.

In short, this is a production worth seeing.

"Husbandry" continues Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights with performances at 8 p.m. nightly. Tickets are $5 each and may be reserved by calling the box office at 728-3491 from 1-5 p.m. weekdays.

but "that's just the way we play". Ms. Johnson, a Colorado City resident, said Johnson threw a large rock at her after he had been smoking marijuana in a club in March, 1986.

She said Johnson went to Colorado City's Mount Zion Baptist Church three times a week.

Paula Williams, also of Colorado City, said Johnson threatened her with an ax in late March this year. She and Johnson got into a fight at Beverly Johnson's house, she said, after he used cocaine.

The punishment phase of the trial began Wednesday and the jury had to decide upon a sentence of life in prison or the death penalty.

Huddleston, a clerk at a Snyder Ailsup's store, was found dead in the store at 4:30 a.m. on March 23.

Also charged in the shooting death and awaiting trial is Amanda Lynn Miles, 19, also of Colorado City.

During trial testimony Tuesday, Snyder police detective Steve Warren presented confessions made by Johnson. The first statement was taken at the Mitchell County Sheriff's Department between 1-6 a.m. April 9 after Johnson's arrest in connection with the armed robbery of Burrus Grocery. The second statement was taken at the Snyder Police Department April 10 after the defendant had been transferred to the Scurry County Jail.

In those statements, Johnson told Warren of a trip from Colorado City to Snyder the night of March 23 with Amanda Lynn Miles and her sister Janet. Eventually, he said Janet Miles left them. While he and Amanda were sitting at the traffic light at 30th Street and College Avenue, he said she produced a .25 caliber automatic pistol and asked him if he wanted to rob Ailsup's. Johnson said he shot Huddleston once in the upper part of the back after telling him to lie down on the floor of a walk-in cooler.

According to the confession, he and Amanda Miles drove back to Colorado City where they parked in Ruddick Park, and divided the money from the store's cash register before going home.

Also testifying Tuesday was the defendant's brother-in-law, Donald Robinson of Colorado City and Edward Ramahur of Austin who said that Johnson had told them about the robbery.

Fort Concho celebration set

SAN ANGELO—Fort Concho National Historic Landmark will be filled with holiday delights and joyful celebration during the fifth annual "Christmas at Old Fort Concho" Dec. 5-7.

The award-winning festival is the second-largest Christmas-time heritage celebration in Texas and Fort Concho's biggest public event. It attracted 35,000 visitors last year.

Admission is $1 for adults. Children under 12 are admitted free.

Fort Concho was a frontier military post from 1867 until 1889. It is considered the best-preserved Indian Wars fort in the nation.

During the three-day festival the fort's 21 historic buildings are specially decorated to celebrate the diverse ethnic backgrounds of area residents. Flickering candles in 4,000 luminarias and Christmas lights on all the trees on grounds create an enchanting spectacle at night.

Inside the historic, cut-limestone buildings, more than 120 merchants and artisans from San Angelo and throughout the Southwest will offer specially selected items, some available only at this event.

In addition to visitors from across the nation, this year's festival will be attended by the Czechoslovakian ambassador to the United States. It will be the ambassador's only visit this year to a function held outside Washington, D.C. or New York City. He will tour the "Czechoslovakian house," sample Czech food, and watch costumed Czech-Americans recreate native dances.

Agency to contact farmers

AUSTIN—The Texas Agricultural Statistics Service (TASS) will begin contacting farmers and ranchers across the state in late November for acreage, yield and production totals for 1986 and for end-of-year livestock and poultry inventories.

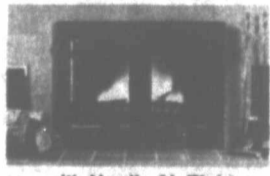

The confidential interviews, conducted by mail or in person by field enumerators, provide information used by producers to make their plans for the coming year. "Currently, agriculture is faced with many economic uncertainties, and accurate, reliable figures are some of the inputs which can help producers make sound production decisions," state statistician Dennis Findley.

To reduce survey costs, TASS is urging individuals to return the mailed questionnaires as soon as possible. The reported information will be combined for state as well as county estimates.

Annual county estimates are published for livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, field crops, small grains, fruits and pecans, vegetables, and cash receipts from the sale of farm products.

"A sound marketing plan requires good, reliable information and some advanced planning. Information from our reports provides producers with solid facts and figures they can incorporate into their marketing plans," Findley added.

Ten years ago this week my Dad left me. He was comatose at the end, so there were no last words. There probably wouldn't have been anyway. It just wasn't the way our relationship worked.

I'd been to see him in the hospital a week earlier after he'd battled his way through a near fatal night. We watched football, and occasionally each other.

I'd look at him and see a body torn apart by the spread of disease. A 56-year-old man who looked maybe 79.

When he looked toward me, I'd turn my head to the game on television. After a while I'd catch him staring at me and he'd turn his own head toward the game.

He'd been a clean-living, clean talking Methodist preacher most of his life. He didn't smoke. He didn't drink. Yet his lungs were filled with cancer - as was the rest of his body.

Like all sons of such victims, I wondered, where is the justice? I remember praying the night I returned to the hospital. Ever since I was three he had taught me this was the answer to life's problems. I just hadn't paid much attention.

Thinking back, I probably didn't do it right. I started out shaming God for senselessly killing off one of his best lieutenants. Then I begged Him to get it over with - which He did.

God and I didn't speak for a while after that. When you're raised in the kind of environment I was, though, agnosticism is difficult. Atheism is impossible. In a game of mental gymnastics it always came down to what was more illogical - believing in a super-natural supreme being who lets good people get cancer, or not believing in one and assuming a lot of ridiculous coincidences?

I saw a car at a stoplight last week and it had a bumper sticker that read, "God, Guns and Guts - the American Way."

"Who does he think God is - Rambo?" I wondered. "Does he think God is a terrorist with machine-gun bullets strapped across his chest? An American who hates His other human creations?"

I wanted to stop his car and diagnose his sickness, but I knew he'd have to shoot me. Guts, you know.

My Dad, the preacher, would have handled the situation differently. Given a chance to talk to the guy, he would have gently removed the chip from the man's shoulder over a period of time. That's one of the things I liked about him. He kept his ego out of his religion.

He'd be 69 now and if he were here I have an idea of what he'd be doing. On Sunday morning he'd be driving to some country church to preach and visit with elderly members. He'd take the long way back home, drive 45 miles-per hour, and stop off for pie and ice cream along the way.

He'd spend his mornings working on the book he never finished, or maybe a sequel, and he'd harrass me to help him edit it. Come to think of it I'd probably be harrassing him to get out and sell my column to editors and publishers. He always was the best salesman I knew.

If he were around today, I'd introduce him to a special friend of mine. I'm pretty sure he'd fall in love with her, the same as I did. I don't want this to sound like I'm complaining too much over my Dad's premature death. I did have him around for 32 years. Some kids don't have their's around for 32 days.

When I was growing up he was at every game, often just to watch me sit on the bench. He'd volunteer his car for school trips, and he'd say those public relations type prayers over the P. A. system while I was lined up on the kicking team waiting to go downfield and kill somebody.

After the high school football games, I'd go to a dance and wouldn't get home until the wee-morning hours. As soon as he heard the door open, though, I knew he'd come walking into the living room in his underwear - just so we could replay the game.

It's strange, I guess, but the picture I see most when I think of him, is one of a jolly round man walking through the park toward a picnic table with a watermelon over his shoulder. We had lots of picnics.

I can't help but wish I could have back one more evening with my old man I'd catch him up on life in the eighties. We'd talk politics and sports. And I'd listen proudly while he bragged shamelessly on his grandkids.

I might even get around to mumbling a thank you while we watched the football game.

Nichols speaks to Self Culture Club

The Heritage House was the scene of the November 7 meeting of the Self Culture Club.

Mrs. Archie Nichols of Baird, president of the Mesquite District Clubs, spoke on the diverse interests of the General Federation. She said that the clubs furnished funds for the training of dogs for the handicapped, endangered species, community improvement, learn a foreign language, status of women, latch-key children, sexual assault awareness, adult abuse, and raised reflectors for highway markers.

Mrs. Nichols said the Mesquite District is dressing three figurines of First Ladies of Texas to be displayed in the rotunda of the state capitol. The Self Culture Club contributed to that fund.

Mrs. Morris Snyder, Moran, spoke on a design of a new pin for the clubs. The design will be in contest.

Guests toured the house. A tea followed the programs. Mrs. Archie Nichols, Mrs. Morris Snyder, Moran and Mrs. Rod Tiller, Coahoma, were guests. Members present were Eddie Barclay, Fannie Beeman, Lil Brown, Elizabeth Elliott, Ida Keith, Dona Reed, Jewell Tiller, Pearl Watson and Linnie Williams. Heritage House hostesses were Marion Bassham and Bobbie Steakley.

County Oil News

Mitchell County's Turner-Gregory Field gained two new producers when Hrubetz Operating completed the Nos. 11 and 12 F. E. York five miles northwest of Westbrook.

The wells indicated ability to pump oil at the combined rate of 59 barrels per day, plus a combined 309 barrels of water. Total drilling depths were 2,953 and 3,000 feet, respectively. Production will be from perforations in the Clear Fork Formation, ranging from 2,543 to 2,878 feet into the wellbore.

The wells are in a 160-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

ranging from 2,572 to 2,697 feet into the wellbore.

Three 3,500-ft. developmental wells are planned by Chevron USA of Midland at drillsites in Mitchell County's Westbrook Field. The wells are designated as the Nos. 3906, 6106 and 7021 North Westbrook Unit. The No. 3906 well will be located five miles north of Westbrook, while the other two wells will be drilled five miles northwest of Westbrook. All three wells will be in a 7,979-acre lease in the T&P Survey.

Mrs. W. M. Keck Jr., of Lafayette, La., has revealed plans to drill two 1,850-ft. developmental wells in the Sharon Ridge Field, Mitchell County. The operator has 120 acres leased, with drillsites in the Kirkland & Fields Survey.

The wells will be known as the Nos. 8 and 12 Edmondson. Drillsites are four miles south of Ira.

The No. 6 Schattel, a 3,500-ft. developmental well, is scheduled to be drilled in Mitchell County's East Iatan-Howard Field. Tom Rasmussen of Midland is the operator. The well will be spudded in a 160-acre lease six miles southwest of Westbrook in the T&P Survey.

New way of life could contribute to loneliness

By Debbie Christian
 County Extension Agent

Everyone goes through periods of loneliness. But today, many people are lonely too much of the time.

Loneliness is a search for or a craving for companionship. Married people, as well as people living alone, can have a difficult time feeling connected to others. Women tend to admit to feelings of loneliness more readily than do men.

Our culture may be contributing to loneliness as people are encouraged in their individual pursuit of material goods and not encouraged to value people. At the same time, many technological advances, such as television, computers, and VCR's promote withdrawal from others. They may not cause isolation, but they have made it more possible to live that way.

Social scientists have found that older men living alone are more at risk of dying from loneliness than any other group. Age is not the only risk, but their social habits are the problem, since these older men never learned to be independent of women for social support.

All adults need an anchor for stability and support-whether it is from a family, a job, a religion, place of residence, friends, or a close community. People who cope best with loneliness have caring friendships, physical and emotional intimacy and a feeling of membership in something bigger than themselves.

HAS THIS EVER HAPPENED TO YOU?

Even a minor fender-bender can cause whiplash, spinal misalignment, pinched nerves, and muscle spasms, which, if undetected and uncorrected, can make your body susceptible to arthritis, joint degeneration, disc degeneration or other serious problems.

Auto Accident?

Most Insurance Plans Cover Chiropractic.

Following any auto accident, no matter how minor, it is important - and makes good common sense - to get a chiropractic checkup.

We offer free consultation and spinal function test. If x-rays and treatment are indicated, automobile, liability, no-fault, and/or group health insurance usually cover the costs in full.

Student of the Week

Jamie Moore enjoys variety of activities

Colorado High School senior Jamie Moore, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Moore, has a variety of interests - from photography, to golf to rodeoing. Moore is president of this year's senior class, a member of the National Honor Society, a member of the golf team and is photographer for the yearbook, "The Lone Wolf". Moore grew up in Odessa, moving to Colorado City when he was a freshman, but the transition was made easier by having grandparents here. His parents are both 1964 graduates of CHS. Although he lived in Odessa, he went to school in Crane so the size of CHS was not a problem. "CHS has given me a better education than I thought I would ever have," he says. He's undecided about what college to attend, but he admits he's leaning toward Texas Tech University. Wherever he goes, he'll be an undecided major the first year, he says, explaining that the first year will give him time to decide what field he wants to enter.

A rodeo enthusiast for the past nine years, after picking up a love for the sport from his older brother, Moore says he wouldn't mind landing a rodeo scholarship somewhere.

Although he hasn't participated too much in rodeos for the past two summers, he says the summer before his sophomore year he entered about 30 rodeos competing in calf roping and team roping.

"Rodeoing is a good experience," he said. "You get to meet a lot of people."

This is his first year to participate in golf, and he describes the sport as "relaxing and fun".

As president of the senior class, he says he hopes the class can raise enough money this year to leave behind something like other classes such as a special plaque or other remembrance.

WISD students in "Who's Who"

Westbrook High School students Dale Browne, Hollis Browne, Larna Moore and Stephanie Pierce have qualified for inclusion in this year's edition of "Who's Who Among American High School Students". The honor entitles the seniors to compete for grants and scholarships sponsored by the organization and numerous colleges and universities.

CLAIM THE BEST

Rev. Roy Bryd - Pastor First Presbyterian Church

"The competition is tough!" he declared.

"How're you going to beat it?" he asked.

"How? With this challenge ..if you can find a better price, I'll beat it," he answered.

"I'm always looking for a better price, aren't you? And, like you, I'm always looking for a better way. What's more, if I can find anything better, I'll take it.

But try as I might, I've never found better words to live by than these: "The eternal God is your dwelling place, and underneath are the everlasting arms."

Time tested. Proved best time and again. These words will always be best. For anyone. Amen.

MAKE YOUR '86 CROP COUNT FOR ALL IT'S WORTH...

There's more to a successful crop than the THREE P's (Plow It, Plant It and Pick It). You've spent valuable hours and sweat making some critical decisions. When to Plow It. When to Plant It. Which Cotton to Plant. And When and How to fight back at those varmints that want to steal your crop. A crop is a BIG INVESTMENT, but it's really not worth much until you've been paid for it.

Hoopsters begin tomorrow

Monday and Tuesday mark the beginning of new seasons for local basketball teams and new faces around here in Colorado City and at Loraine and Westbrook.

Colorado City hoop squads host Midland Greenwood at "The Pit" tomorrow in season opening contests that begin with junior varsity games at 4:30 p.m.

Greenwood was originally scheduled to arrive Tuesday but the date was moved up a day because of six weeks tests. The varsity boys take to the court at 8 p.m.

The Wolves missed the playoffs last year after two consecutive playoff appearances that included a district championship and a runnerup finish. The Wolves lost to graduation last year's top scorer and only All-district selection but return almost the entire team.

Very young players got playing time last year and this year's fortunes will depend heavily on those same young players making an even bigger contribution.

Marty Cleckler, Terry Jackson and Larry Mayes are the only seniors. The closest thing the Wolves have to an overpowering, dominating type of player is Ken Woods.

Woods, the lone junior on the squad, is probably Colorado City's most experienced ball player—having seen action on the varsity since being a freshman on the 1985 runnerup team.

With so few upperclassmen the Wolves will rely even more on a good group of talented sophomores. Paul Ausbie, Mark Russell and Dennis Smith got playing time last year as freshmen and should be battling for starting positions along with Pat Ridge and Darvin Jackson.

Dane Hoover is a freshman that might be called upon.

There's not a towering player in the group for the Wolf boys. The Lady Wolves share the same problem but one thing is for certain in that neither club will have to put up with the

Crane Golden Cranes this year. Crane was the force in old district 7AAA but has since moved west for another league.

The Colorado High School girls team will be starting only one senior—Holly Tarter.

"We're young but we've come a long way since this time last year," said girls coach Will Gollihar.

Other seniors that will be on hand for Monday's 6 p.m. season opener here against the Greenwood Rangerettes are Robin Edwards, Kellie Beights, Sally Mendoza and Audy Rivera.

Juniors are Lisa Lamb, Christy Mitchell, Jennifer Monroe and Misty Strain. Sophomores listed on the varsity are Denise Lowrance and Jodi Mitchell.

Though just recently having completed volleyball, the girls have been practicing basketball skills for an hour a day and scrimmaged Roscoe last Saturday.

"The JV and freshmen looked good," said Gollihar. "The varsity started slow but played pretty good."

Gollihar said top teams in the district will be Coahoma, Wylie

Answer to last week's question: Search the New Testament and there will be no authority to call a man reverend. In the King James Version of the Bible, the word is used only in Psalm 111:9 where it is applied to God. This is Proper because the word means "worthy of worship."

QUESTION: Where does the New Testament authorize the use of religious titles?

News from....

Kristi Lee Manor

Residents of Kristi Lee Manor enjoyed a Halloween party Oct. 31 with some of the employees dressed in Halloween costume.

The residents picked the best costumes which were Terri Owens, director of nursing, first; Mary Lou Costabile, activity director, second; and Betty Dawson, cook, third.

Residents having October birthdays were Mattie Carpenter who was 101. Others having birthdays were Archie Brooks, Irma Pritchett, Idell Riggsfield and Wiley James.

"It Could Never Happen to Me" was the name of the film presented to the residents by Trooper Frank E. Costabile and Sheriff Wendell Braynt. The film was about seat belt safety. Even though our residents don't drive, every time they go out, we encourage them to use seat belts because it is the law. The film explained to them that an accident could happen within a few blocks from home and how badly they could be hurt if they don't buckle up.

The residents enjoyed the children from the First Baptist Church who presented a Halloween play and brought them some cookies with Halloween faces that they had made.

We also want to thank the Lone Wolf 4-H for their Halloween tree that they made and fixed up with candy for our residents. We also want to thank Foy and Mary Forehand for coming out to Kristi Lee to pick the first place winners in our Halloween door decorating contest. The winners were Terri Owens and Mary Lou Costabile who were treated to pizza at Pizza Hut by the boss, Clark Moody.

Our new residents are Eva Beauchamp from Colorado City, Nato Garza from Colorado City and Joe Mac Bartley from Wichita Falls.

Davis receives honor

John Barton Davis

Basketball

and Merkel and two of those have had only basketball to work on. The Wolves will be trying to improve on a 6-19 record last season.

Probably the biggest news for Lorraine and Westbrook teams is the formation of a new district. The Bulldogs and Wildcats will no longer have to contend with usual playoff representatives Roscoe and Highland. Those two schools are in district 22 along with Blackwell and Trent.

Lorraine and Westbrook will be in district 17 with Hermleigh and Ira.

The Lorraine girls are coming off a 1985 playoff appearance. The Bulldogs finished with an 8-3 district record that included a one game playoff with co-runnerup Highland. Roscoe won the championship last year.

Lorraine ended the season 16-0 after a first round playoff loss to Motley County. Heading the list of returnees is Beverly Griffin, who averaged 13.4 points a game last year.

Senior Griffin will be joined by three other returning players in juniors Cheryl Alvarez, Terry Munoz and Jolinda Trout.

Other seniors for the Bulldogs are Sherri Webb and Michelle Williams. Mary Jane Leija, Leticia Garcia and Bonnie Herrington are sophomores and freshmen are Angelic Garcia and Amy Vasquez.

The Lorraine boys figure to be in the race for the playoffs with the return of experience and quickness. A lack of height is listed as a weakness.

Heading the returnees are seniors Eddie and Freddie Benitez, Hector Castor and junior Roger Henderson, who averaged 12, 8, 4 and 4 points a game last year. Lorraine's tallest player-6'2" senior Joe Vasquez will be out for a while after getting hurt in the last football game. He averaged 10 points a game last season.

Other top prospects are juniors Quentin Merket and Charlie Alvarez and freshmen Rudy Sanchez, Shawn Finley, Luis Leija and Josell Williams.

Lorraine teams begin the season Tuesday at McCauley. The Westbrook Wildcats begin play Tuesday by hosting Sterling City.

Boys coach Jim Hill again has a large group out for basketball at Westbrook.

"We have three to four starters coming back but we don't have any seniors or height," said Hill.

David Blauvelt is the only senior listed. Top returnees are junior Frankie Fuentes, Clayton Cannon and Ruben Cantu, who will be out for a while with an injury.

Rounding out the team are juniors Jessie Gossett, Ramiro Fuentes and Neal Ginkinger. Sophomore Marty Browne and freshman Scooter Hines are also listed on the varsity.

Westbrook girls coach John Griffin said the Wildcats will depend on defense.

"We've worked on it a lot," said Griffin.

"We had a good group last year but things went downhill from the word go real bad. We don't have any real experience coming back. Stephany Pierce is a pretty good ballplayer."

"I like their attitude this year. They're willing to work hard and try awfully hard. We're going to try to do the best we can."

Pierce is the only senior on the team and is listed as a starter along with juniors Veronica Lopez and Katie Walls and sophomores Lisa Putman and Rachael Simon.

Other sophomores are Rhonda Carter, Angie Griffin, Mikkie Sullivan and Elizabeth Wright. Freshmen are Kerri Baker, Nancy Martinez, Custodia Rincones, Evelyn Smith and Jeran Ware.

"I'm depending on Sullivan and Wright to come along," said Griffin. "Rincones and Smith could help us out."

Livestock could be poisoned by bad forage

By Mike Mauldin
County Extension Agent

The recent frost which hit Mitchell County could lead to prussic acid poisoning in livestock grazing certain pasture grasses and forage.

Although many plants contain the toxic material that causes poisoning, those causing the highest mortality in livestock when grazing after they have been frozen and wilted are Johnson and Sudan grasses and sorghum or hybrids of these.

The most dangerous time as far as the grazing of these plants is concerned is following frost when the plant material begins to wilt, emphasizes Mauldin. Livestock should not be allowed access to the wilted material until it has dried completely. This usually takes three and or four days of good sunlight. New plant growth usually becomes nontoxic and can be grazed within 10 days to two weeks following a rain.

As far as prussic acid poisoning is concerned, the poison acts rapidly and can kill animals within minutes. In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10-15 minutes after eating toxic material and can die in two to three minutes. Symptoms may include a brief period of stimulation followed by depression and paralysis. Signs of colic may be present. Stupor (loss of sensibility), difficult breathing and frequent convulsions may result. Death is caused by suffocation since oxygen remains in the blood and is not exchanged to the tissues. This also claudes the blood to appear bright red.

To prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock, follow these steps:

1. Allow plant material affected by frost to dry thoroughly before grazing. This may require a week or more good sunlight.
2. Feed animals hay or a supplement before turning them in on plants that may contain prussic acid. Animals that are not hungry will not be affected as seriously by toxic material since their intake will be limited.

3. Remove all animals from the pasture if one in the herd shows any signs of poisoning.

4. Call a veterinarian immediately if an animal appears to be poisoned. An antidote to treat affected animals is highly efficient if given early. This product is available from veterinarians.

5. As far as suspect plant material checked by the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratories at College Station or Amarillo. Local veterinarians will be happy to submit samples to you.

The overall key to prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock is to be aware of plant materials that may cause poisoning and then to keep cattle from grazing such plants until a safe period has passed.
