WEST TEXAS — Fair and mild Sunday and Monday.

ATTORNEY GENERAL—John Ben Shepperd delivered a forceful message before an attentive crowd Friday night for the Oil Progress Week Banquet. Shepperd prefaced his speech with, "It's a genuine pleasure to be here . . . to celebrate the wonderful progress we have made in every way—in agriculture, industry, and a thousand other fields—because of petroleum and the men who devote their genius and energy to its production and development." Dinner, Barbecue Wind Up Oil Week

Oil Progress Week came to a close with the barbecue held Saturday afternoon at Recreation Park, rounding up the activities of the week, attended by a good crowd.

Highlight of the week was the crowning of smiling Mary Kennedy as Oil Queen at the Oil Progress Banquet, followed by the speech of Attorney General John Ben Shepperd at the high school cafeteria Friday night.

The six anxious candidates for Queen stood in front of the colorful speaker's platform as the winner was announced by Floyd Watson. Mary was crowned with a ring of yellow flowers by Mrs. Harry F. Cook, president of the Desk and Derrick Club. Her majesty will be flown to Dallas for the State Fair and various personal appearances this week.

Curtis Brown, who presided as Master of Ceremonies, introduced the featured speaker as the former national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and as an East Texas Lawyer.

General Sheppard began by outlining the condition of Duval County and the political implications involved in the present set-up. He said, "We have filed suit, or soon will, to get back almost two million dollars misappropriated or stolen in Duval County, which represents only a small fraction of the amount that has actually been stolen from the people and covered up through the destruction of the records."

He continued by discussing the grand jury commission and panel that was thrown out by Judge Broadfoot. Shepperd cited incidents and facts illustrating the corruption of the Benavides school district.

"All 19 of these men (jury panel members) fought like tigers in the courtroom to keep Judge Broadfoot from throwing them out, and immediately afterward were seen — all at one time — filing into the office of George B. Parr," Shepperd said.

Illustrating his talk with many humorous incidents and anecdotes, the Attorney General said, "We've been celebrating Oil Progress Week for only eight years. That goes to show that in Texas we don't brag about anything until it gets really big."

Presenting many facts and figures about the petroleum industry in Texas, he pointed out that it is

30 Firms To Take Part In BIE Day

Thirty local firms will be host to about 200 public school teachers for the annual Business-Industry-Education Day to be observed here tomorrow.

Featured speaker for the noon luncheon at the High School Cafeteria will be Ed Gossett, general attorney for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

A general assembly at 9 a.m. in the Palm Room of the City Hall will start the activities of the day. George Newberry, chairman of the Industrial Committee, will be in charge of the program. Bob Irby, high school choral director, will lead group singing. Floyd Watson will extend official greetings to the teachers and speak briefly on the aims and purposes of B-I-E Day, after which general announcements will be made concerning activities of the day.

Teachers will join their host firms for the remainder of the program.

Scouters Retreat Set

Six hundred men, volunteer leaders of the Boy Scouts of America, will gather at Camp Ki-O-Wah for the great Scouter's Retreat which begins with a program today at 2:30 p.m.

Purpose of the retreat is to launch the '56 program of the Adobe Walls Council. More than 80 communities of the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles are expected to be represented.

Harold W. Lewman of Dallas, who is Regional Executive of Region 9, will be guest of honor. R. J. Rust, council president from Phillips, will be master of ceremonies for the program. Participating will be Don Cain, chairman of the long-range planning committee, and E. F. Glasgow of Phillips, finance chairman.

The barbecue donated by Mrs. Inez Carter will be prepared and served by the Pampa Shrine Club at 5:30 p.m.

Entertainment will be provided by the Indian Dance Club, a group of Explorer Scouts from Phillips.

Four Governor Hopefuls To Talk

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 15—UP—Four prospective candidates for governor in 1956 will speak at a Democrats Day gathering Oct. 29 in San Antonio.

They are James P. Hart, Austin attorney and former State Supreme Court associate justice; State Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton; Agriculture Commissioner John C. White and Austin attorney Ralph W. Yarborough, twice unsuccessful candidate for governor.

A spokesman said other prospective candidates being mentioned for the gubernatorial race were invited but were unable to attend.

Recovery Cheers Ike Staff

Nation's Fiscal Policy Discussed

By WARREN DUFFEE

DENVER, Oct. 15—UP — President Eisenhower, whose condition now is so improved that members of his staff are openly jubilant about it, held a bedside conference Saturday with Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey about national fiscal policies.

Humphrey's plane landed at 12:13 p. m. mst (1:13 p. m. cst) and he went immediately to Fitzsimons Army Hospital to see the President. Mr. Eisenhower entered the fourth week of his recovery Saturday, meanwhile, and his doctors announced it is no longer necessary to take daily electrocardiogram examinations of his heart.

Saturday's announcement was preceded Friday by an official report that his electrocardigorams had stabilized. Members of his staff were obviously joyful about the progress of his recovery for the first time.

"This is really good news," one member of his staff said.

Humphrey Latest Caller

Humphrey drove to the hospital with Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams, who flew here with him from Washington, and White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

Humphrey told newsmen he might have a statement for them after his visit with the President on the resignation of Internal Revenue Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews and a possible successor in the tax post.

Meanwhile, the President enjoyed his usual brief outing in the sun, on the west eighth floor terrace of the hospital, from 11 a. m. to 11:15 a. m. The President's stays outdoors have averaged about 30 minutes daily. There was no immediate explanation why it was so brief Saturday.

He Talks Budget

Before leaving Washington, the treasury secretary told newsmen he is "still very hopeful that we are going to have a balanced budget this fiscal year." But whether a tax cut will be possible, he said, will depend on the administration's success in getting the government in the black.

The session with Humphrey was the latest in a series of conferences with government officials that the President's doctors have authorized as part of their program to let him resume gradually some of his presidential duties. Mr. Eisenhower will confer Monday with Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Another encouraging sign in the President's progress is the return to Washington this week end of Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, Walter Reed Army Hospital heart specialist who has been attending Mr. Eisenhower since he entertained Fitzsimons.

Birthday Wasn't Tiring

Mattingly, however, will fly here again next week end with Dr. Paul Dudley White, Boston heart specialist.

In their 11 a. m. mst (12 noon cst) bulletin Saturday the doctors said there were no signs of

Queen Mother Visits Near Meg And Peter

By HAROLD M. WILLARD

WINDSOR, England, Oct. 15—UP—Queen Mother Elizabeth came to Windsor Saturday to be near the week-end trysting place of her daughter, Princess Margaret, and Peter Townsend.

The queen mother put up for the week end at Windsor Royal Lodge, only a few miles from the secluded country estate where Margaret and Townsend, snug from the speculating world, were together to test their love.

She sent her secretary to see the couple on a mystery mission at dusk.

The secretary sped with a police escort through the gates of Allanbay Park and up the fir-lined gravel drive to the 40-room house where Margaret spent the day with the handsome group captain

Britain Expects Marriage

There was no indication of what message the queen mother's emissary may have been carrying. But belief was firming that the 25-year old princess and the 40-year-old divorced war hero, will marry.

Court observers said they were convinced Queen Elizabeth never would have permitted the unprecedented spectacle of Margaret and Townsend week-ending together unless an engagement were in the Works.

It was generally speculated that Prime Minister Anthony Eden might break the news in the House of Commons when Parliament reconvenes Oct. 25.

Dogs and Walkie Talkies

The prime minister then would launch swift legislative procedure, approved in advance by all political parties, to permit the marriage.

Margaret and Townsend were staying at the country estate of the princess' cousin, Mrs. John Wills. It was there that the handsome group captain wooed the queen's sister two years ago before he was "exiled" to Brussels.

The house is in a park covered with dense woods. Police officers roamed the grounds with dogs and walkie-talkie radios to insure the privacy the princess so dramatically pleaded for Friday night.

Breakfast in Bed

Margaret had breakfast in bed Saturday after a champagne dinner party Friday night. Her little godchild and the daughter of her hosts, seven-year-old Marilyn Wills, told reporters the princess seemed "very happy."

While the princess breakfasted, Townsend, dressed in a turtle neck sweater and khaki jodhpurs played the role of gentleman jockey, and went out for a 45-minute canter on a horse named "Juliet."

Asked by newsmen whether he was in love with Margaret and planned to marry her, Townsend replied: "I cannot say anything about that."

Asked whether he planned to return to Belgium after his month's leave, he said:

"I cannot say anything about my

New Supersonic Planes Ordered

By CHARLES CORDDRY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—UP — The Air Force has quietly placed orders in recent days for more than $1 billion worth of planes including jet fighters able to fly almost twice the speed of sound.

Some of the orders followed the policy of stepping up production of supersonic jets because of Russia's impressive display of long-range bombers and other combat planes last spring. Some were for high-speed turboprop transports, urgently wanted for fast movement of ground troops and military cargo.

The Air Force has made no formal announcements of the big orders, but a compilation of data from manufacturers showed that the total value passed the billion-mark Friday when Lockreed Aircraft Corp. disclosed a new contract for F-104A "air superiority" fighters. When questioned, Air Force officials verified the total order figure.

The F-104A, designed for daytime air battles like those that were fought eight miles above the Yalu River in Korea, can fly an estimated 1,200 miles an hour, almost twice as fast as the F-86 Sabre of Korea fame, Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff has called it the "fastest, highest-flying fighter in the air anywhere."

Lockheed's new contract for the plane, first ordered into production last year, amounts to more than $100 million. The Air Force has given no indication when it will be ready for service.

McDonnell Aircraft Corp., meanwhile, has received an order for more than $330 million for three versions of its F-101 Voodoo fighter, which was earmarked along with the F-104 for a speedup after the Russian exhibitions.

A contract for about $390 million has gone to Convair division of General Dynamics Corp. for a large number of F-102B delta-wing (triangular wing) interceptors. The 800-mile an hour planes feature the "Marilyn Monroe" fuselage shape and will be powered by the big, new Pratt and Whitney J-75 jet engine. Like the Voodoos, they are all-weather planes, ready to fight invading bombers at night or in any weather conditions.

The remaining new plane contract, totalling "considerably in excess" of $100 million and the fourth order to be placed for these planes, went to Lockheed for C130A Hercules transports. The 54-ton planes are powered by four turboprop engines.

Baptists Set State Meet

HOUSTON, Oct. 15—UP — Some 11,000 Texas Baptists are expected to attend the 70th Baptist General Convention of Texas to be held here Oct. 25-27.

Main sessions of the general convention will be held in Sam Houston Coliseum. Two other conventions will run almost concurrently. The Women's Missionary Union will hold its 75th anniversary meeting Oct. 24-25 in the Music Hall and the Texas Baptist Brotherhood will have its 15th meeting at First Baptist church the same days.

Both the missionary union and the Texas brotherhood will meet jointly at the coliseum for the first session of the general convention.

Speakers for the general convention will include Dr. E. H. Westmoreland, vice president of the Southern Baptist Convention; Gov. Raymond Gary of Oklahoma and Dr. Dale Moody, Louisville, Ky.

Rivers Swollen By Big Rains; 12 Known Dead

By DAVID PICKMAN

BOSTON, Oct. 15 —UP— Rivers swollen by five to seven inches of rain ran wild Saturday, threatening New England with new disaster less than two months after the record floods of hurricane Diane.

At least 12 persons died in the storm.

The weather pattern closely resembled the diastrous days of Aug. 18 and 19 when hurricane Diane's rain caused billions of dollars of damage and claimed 91 lives.

"This storm is feeding on ocean water just like Diane," said weather forecaster Al Flahive. Diane dumped up to 21 inches of rain on the flood area. By noon Saturday, Elmira, N. Y., had more than seven inches. Parts of southern and central New England had more than five inches and the rain was expected to continue into Sunday.

Flahive explained that the storm sucked up ocean water and carried it inland on an easterly gale.

High Tides Rout Hundreds

Hundreds of residents were evacuated in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Connecticut when high tides pounded the shore and rains sent rivers over their banks. The storm brought gale-force winds and gusts as high as 75 miles an hour, full hurricane strength, on Cape Cod.

Lt. Gov. Charles Jewett, acting governor of Connecticut, set up emergency headquarters at the Hartford state armory where emergency operations were directed during the Aug. 19 floods.

He acted after Winsted, Conn., and Fitchburg, Mass., Greenville, N. H., and Naugatuck, Conn., declared local emergencies in the face of mounting flood threats.

Heads Toward Canada

Late Saturday, the storm was moving northwestward into Canada, leaving mounting peril behind as streams continued rising, ripping out bridges, overflowing highways and flooding lowlands.

At Greenville, N. H., a state of emergency was declared by civil defense authorities in fear the 40-foot high No. 1 dam on the Souhegan River might give way.

Six Killed In Mishap

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Oct. 15—UP—A doubledecker Greyhound bus rammed into a stalled trailer truck on a "killer" highway early Saturday, killing six persons and injuring 21 others.

The bus, en route from Chicago to Boston, rammed the steel-laden truck three miles east of here with such force that the lower deck was crushed by the rear of the trailer. The second deck was sheared off.

Wrecking crews, firemen and squads of ambulance workers labored two hours to free trapped passengers and remove the dead and injured.

Truck driver Harry Williams, 43, Oak Lawn, Ill., said he tried to flag down the bus after he pulled over on U.S. 20 to repair the air breaks on his truck.

"I waved a flare," Williams said, "It wouldn't stop so I jumped aside." He was injured by flying debris.

State police said the highway, which they labeled a "killer" because of the number of fatal accidents, was wet from early morning rain. The bus left no skid tracks indicating the driver didn't see the truck and made no effort to stop, police said.

The bus driver, Thomas R. Locke, 40, Effingham, Ill., was injured critically. Nine others remained hospitalized but 11 were released after treatment.

The dead, all of whom were sitting in the lower level of the bus, were identified as Sol Sender, 44, Chicago; Mrs. Charles G. Roth, 50, Lafayette's Hill Calif.; Anthony W. Bruno, Bloomington, Calif.; Sylvia Money, 36, York, Pa.; Fridel Gorenhoff, 53, Los Altos, Calif., and Helen Rusnak, Chicago.

Andrews Quits As Internal Revenue Chief

DENVER, Oct. 15 UP—President Eisenhower Saturday "regretfully" accepted the resignation of T. Coleman Andrews as commissioner of internal revenue effective Nov. 1.

The President's action was announced by Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey after a bedside visit with the recuperating chief executive at Fitzsimons Army hospital.

Humphrey told newsmen at the temporary White House at Lowry Air Force Base that Andrews was resigning because of "commitments and arrangements" that he has made in Richmond, Va., his home.

'Remarkable Job'

Humphrey said Andrews has "done a remarkable job" in reorganizing the internal revenue service and "done so with great distinction and effectiveness."

Humphrey said he and the president "very regretfully accept his resignation effective the first of the month."

Andrews said in a statement released in Washington he was leaving the tax post because he felt he had completed the job he undertook of reorganizing the Internal Revenue Service when he tok over as commissioner more than two years ago.

"At the time of my appointment, I stated that as soon as I had done all within my power and ability to restore the prestige of the Internal Revenue Service, I would return to private business," the statement said.

Says Resignation Accepted

The Washington announcement said Andrews' resignation had been accepted by President Eisenhower. But White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he knew nothing about it.

However, Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey flew here Saturday from Washington to confer with the President. When reporters asked Humphrey if he had a successor in mind for Andrews, the secretary replied:

"No, I haven't anything to say right now. But I'll see you as soon as I get back from (Fitzsimons

Moroccoan Council To Be Chosen

PARIS, Oct. 15 —UP— France will climax the crisis in Morocco Sunday by naming a four-man ruling throne council, authoritative sources said Saturday night.

Appointment of the council, delayed for two weeks, was expected to open the door for Premier Edgar Faure's home-rule plans for Morocco, and to boost the premier's chances of winning a formal confidence vote in the assembly on Tuesday.

The move came as spreading disorders in the North African protectorate produced a severe political crisis in Paris.

Violence erupted in Marrakesh and Casablanca Friday night and Saturday, and rebel tribesmen continued to skirmish along the Spanish Moroccan border.

The council will take over the functions of Sultan Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafa, who was ousted two weeks ago after much nationalist opposition and bickering in the French Parliament.

Si Bekkai, former pasha of Sefrou and key man on the new council, left for Rabat Saturday after conferring with Jacques Duhamel, Faure's executive assistant.

Besides Bekkai, the council will include El Mokri, the 108-year-old grand visir; El Sbihi, pasha of Sale, and the Caid Tahar Ouassou.

Military Court To Decide Peron's Status As Officer

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 15 —UP— The revolutionary government appointed a military court Saturday to decide whether exiled ex-President Juan D. Peron, reported to have been setting up a teen-age harem for himself when he was overthrown last month, is guilty of "conduct unbecoming an officer."

Army Minister Leon J. Bengoa appointed a "tribunal of honor" of five retired major generals to decide whether Peron, who was Argentina's highest-ranking general as well as its president, should be kept on active duty, reduced to half pay, retired or dishonorably discharged.

Another military court may be convened later to try the deposed dictator on criminal charges arising from the alleged corruption of his regime.

The government has already ordered the retirement of Peron and 43 generals loyal to his government, including former Army Minister Franklin Lucero.

Meanwhile, authorities here opened a public display of nearly $8 million worth of jewels, paintings, automobiles and other valuables owned by Peron, who liked to call himself "Argentina's No. 1 Worker." An estimated 40,000 persons filed through the ex-president's palatial residence in suburban Palermo to view his fabulous treasure.

The ex-president's wardrobe alone, including his own suits and dresses that belonged to his late wife, Eva, is valued at $361,000.

Provisional President Eduardo Lonardi's government has produced evidence indicating that Peron kept Eva's dresses for the use of Nelly Rivas, his alleged 16-year-old mistress, and other high-school girls who were reported to have taken part in orgies in the Palermo house and elsewhere in Buenos Aires.

A six-man investigating committee, headed by provisional Vice President Isaac Rojas, was formally commissioned Saturday to look into the financial irregularities of the Peron regime.

The radical party, principal opponent of the Peron administration, anounced that it will give the investigators its files on some 190 "scandals and lesser irregularities" discovered while the ex-president was in office.

An investigation already in progress of the operations of Peron's Central bank produced proof Saturday that he was a party to a swindle that cost Argentine taxpayers $13 million.

Saturday's newspapers here gave their top headlines to reminders that Monday, which would have been a national holiday if Peron were still in office, will be just another working day. The papers warned that any Peronist demonstrations occurring that day will be "energetically supressed."

Shepperd continued by saying that the people of Pennsylvania drank bottled oil as a..."liquid of wonderful medicinal values" back when the life expectancy was only 38 years.

In his closing remarks, Shepperd stated that, "Our constitution declares that all power is inherent in the people. . .Ultimately, no matter what happens in Washington, the fate of our Constitutional government depends on how you, as a citizen, fulfill your obligations to government in your home town."

Urging everyone to participate in the polls and community organizations, he said, "Big, centralized government is just like Communism in the way it grows."

Hospital Bond Cash Received

A total of $353,375 for the Highland General Hospital bond issue was received Friday by Citizens Bank and Trust Co. into the Gray County Hospital fund, according to County Treasurer Ola Gregory.

Premium rate was $2,500 and the remainding $875 represents interest from Sept. 1 to Oct. 11 at a rate of 2¼ per cent. According to a letter received by the county treasurer, the sum was sent from the American National Bank of Austin, and the bonds were delivered to purchasers on Oct. 11.

Judge Bruce Parker, Ola Gregory, and county commissioners will make investment with a time deposit next Monday, with the money drawing interest until the time for construction of the hospital extension.

Judge Parker said that the McLean clinic fund of about $50,000 would be left intact, as bids will be received for construction on Nov. 1. A total of $150,000 will be invested for a 90-day period, and the remaining $150,000 will be invested for six months, according to Parker.

After his ride, Townsend and Margaret were reported to have walked about the estate on the edge of Great Windsor Park.

186 Traffic Violators Caused Accidents In '55

Statistics relating to the cause of traffic accidents within the city limits for the past nine months (Jan. 1-Sept. 30) were released by Chief of Police Jim Conner Saturday morning.

Conner said, "I would like to get another National Traffic Safety Contest Award this year, and I would like very much to have another non-fatal year." It has been over two years since a fatal traffic accident has occurred within the City.

According to accident reports prepared by Police officers, a total of 186 persons were charged with violations over this period, and 11 of these were DWI's. A total of 249 accidents were reported, as compared wtih 238 for the same period last year. Thirty-one injuries were incurred in accidents.

The largest number of vehicle collisions take place between 5-6 p.m. (a total of 28); between 4-5 p.m. occurs the second largest number (21); and a total of 18 mishaps take place between 6-7 p. m. The noon hour (from 11-12) reported 16 collisions.

The type of violations which contributed to the cause of the accident, according to opinions of Police officers, are as follows: failure to grant right of way, with 68 violations indicated; following too closely — 26; reckless and careless driving — 24; starting from a parked position unsafely — 21; exceeding safe speed — 12; exceeding the legal speed — 8; and improper turns — 19.

More men than women were the cause of traffic accidents over the period. The report reveals a total of 196 men, and 55 women were responsible for mishaps. However, in some cases, both a man and a woman driver were to blame.

More drivers over 46 years old cause accidents than any other age group, and most of these are over 50. A break-down is as follows: drivers under 19 — 40; age 19 to 25 — 45; from 25 to 35 — 54; from 35 to 46 — 36; and over 46 — 44.

Pampan's Mother Dies Saturday

Mrs. Fannie O. Hardin, former Pampan, died Saturday at 3 a.m. at Arlington. She was the mother of Mrs. Charles O. Duenkel, 309 W. Browning.

Born March 2, 1869 at Rancho, Mrs. Hardin moved to Canyon from Alanreed in 1915. She came to Pampa in 1925 and lived here until 1934. Since that time she has made her home with her children in Arlington. Mrs. Hardin was a member of the Methodist Church and a member of the Eastern Star.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Cash E. Phillips of San Leandro, Calif., Mrs. Lawrence Prock of Canyon, Mrs. Erssie Muse of Arlington, Mrs. Nell Mundy of Kress, and Mrs. Charles Duenkel of Pampa; three sons, Walter of San Antonio, Reese of Houston, and Elmer Hardin of West Columbia; one sister, Mrs. C. J. Gillespie of Sulphur, Okla.; one brother, J. L. Fowler of Hamilton; 15 grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements, by Duenkel-Carmichael will be announced later.

First Christian Revival Starts Monday Night

Rev. John W. Reaves, from Snyder, will conduct a two-wee' revival at the First Christian Church, beginning with services Monday at 7 p.m.

Rev. and Mrs. Reaves are natives of Kentucky. He has held pastorates in Stratford, Fort Worth and at Snyder. He also served a the church in Bristow, Okla. fo a few years. Mrs. Reaves will be in charge of the music.

Rev. Reaves served as a chaplain in the Air Force during World War II, where he served 18 months in the European Theater of Operations and received six battle stars.

He received his professional training for the ministry at Phillips University and Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn., and his training for the chaplaincy was received at Harvard University.

Mrs. Reaves is trained in various phases of church work with her major interest in the field of church music. She received her training at David Lipscomb College in Nashville.

Rev. Reaves' sermon topics for the first week will be: Oct. 17—"It Can Happen Again"; Oct. 18 — "God Can Use You"; Oct. 19 — "What the Disciples Believed About Miracles"; Oct. 20 — "Did the Thief On the Cross Go to Heaven?"; Oct. 21— "All Things are Yours, and Heaven Too."

Army) hospital. Then I might have something to say."

Confirms Reports

Andrews, in an interview with the managing editor of the Richmond, Va., News - Leader in the newspaper's offices there, earlier had confirmed reports that he was leaving the Internal Revenue Service. He said in Richmond he would become board chairman of an insurance firm, American Fidelity and Casualty Co.

The resignation is effective Oct. 31. He will take over the insurance company post Nov. 1.

Andrews' statement said he would have preferred to await announcement by the President of his resignation, but that the reports had become so widespread that "with some reluctance I must confirm these reports."

Shamrock Legion Plans Building

SHAMROCK — (Special) — H. W. Coffman, commander of the De-Shazo George Post of the American Legion, recently appointed a site committee as one of the first steps of a building program. The committee is composed of Bedford Harrison, Flake George, Harry Clay and W. A. Sims.

The plans committee named at the same time is made up of W. H. Walker, C. T. Palmer, J. W. Blake, James Brother, and F. E. Blakemore.

Commander Coffman stated that all members interested in any possible building program by the post should attend all meetings of the group and participate in the planning. The committees were instructed to investigate and recommend to the post their findings. Authority for action has not yet been given to any committee.

The next regular meeting will be on Thursday, October 20.

Lefors Plans Homecoming

The Lefors High School will hold its fifth annual homecoming on Saturday, Oct. 29th, when the Panhandle Panthers meet the Lefors Pirates on Shaw Field in Lefors.

Registration for all ex-students and their families, ex-teachers and their families, present employees of the Lefors schools and their families, past school board members and their families and friends and supporters of the Lefors school will begin at 12:00 and continue until game time at 2:30 p.m. The registration will be held in the entrance hall of the High School building. Coffee will be available in the homemaking department preceding and during registration. All guests will have time to tour the school plant, inspect the new vocational building which is in its first year of operation, and view numerous other improvements on the campus.

Following the football game, there will be an assembly program in the auditorium, at which time the business meeting will be held and the usual recognitions made. The speech and music departments will present entertainment for the group, of which the honored classes will be the graduates of 1930, 1935, 1940, 1945, 1950 and 1955.

The annual barbecue will begin at 6:00 p.m. in the new cafeteria. After the meal, everyone will be urged to remain to visit with friends and former schoolmates or attend the halloween carnival in the Junior High gymnasium.

This homecoming celebration promises to be one of the outstanding events that has been held for the ex-students and friends of the school.

Present officers of the organization are Carl Hall, president; Norma Lantz, vice president; and Alfred W. Shoffit, secretary-treasurer.

Youth Guilty In Shamrock Beating Case

WHEELER — (Special) — J. R. Logan, 18, Borger, was found guilty of aggravated assault on L. H. Tucker, Jr., 13, of Shamrock, Thursday. He was sentenced to one year in the county jail.

The case was an outgrowth of an incident on the night of Aug. 17, when Tucker was severely beaten, and left abandoned unconscious on a business street in Shamrock.

County Attorney Guy Hardin used seven witnesses to testify before a jury of four men and two women. Sheriff Bus Dorman and Noel Newberry, deputy, testified to previous behavior of the defendant.

Ronnie Glascock, David Back and Charles Miller, all of Borger, told of being with Logan the night Tucker was lured into a car in front of a theatre, taken behind a barn and severly beaten by Logan. The victim recounted a similar story on the stand.

Doc Howard Massie, defense attorney of Borger, used only the defendant and the Rev. A. W. West, pastor of the Church of the God of Prophecy in Borger, as a character witness. Logan testified that he had tried to pay the doctor bills incurred by the Tuckers, but other testimony revealed he had been unable to do so, and had made a token payment when notified the Tuckers were filing suit for reimbursement.

Logan is a married man, who had no criminal record in Hutchinson County, but had been in previous trouble for drinking and fisticuffs.

SIN CITY SINGER — Meg Myles is cast as a featured singer in a night club in "The Phenix City Story," a Samuel Bischoff-David Diamond production for Allied Artists now at the LaVista Theatre. The film tells of the corruption which drew headlines in Phenix City, Ala.

Citizenship Class Is Set

The Pampa Lions Club Citizenship class will meet again Sunday at 2 p.m. at Sam Houston School in the Principal's office.

John Evans, principal at Baker Elementary School, will speak on the subject, "How Our Nation was Started". This is the 3rd in a series of 21 lessons designed to prepare members for their oral examinations in Federal Court.

One of the class members, Mrs. Marie Lang, passed her examination in Federal Court at Amarillo last week. However, she plans to continue her studies with the alien group.

New class members are welcome at any time during the course. There is no charge. The course is sponsored by the Pampa Lions Club.

Phenix City Story Filmed On The Spot

Phenix City, once the vice center of Alabama, is the locale of "The Phenix City Story," Allied Artists' presentation, currently at the La-vista theatre.

Until it was raided and shut down completely by the state militia in June, 1954, Phenix City was known as "America's Sin City." It abounded with gambling dens, clip joints masquerading as saloons and other establishments of ill repute.

The "high society" of the town consisted of gamblers, muscle men, fancy ladies and other shady characters. Phenix City probably was the toughest, wildest community of this century in the United States until the militia took over.

Producers Samuel Bischoff and David Diamond moved their company into Phenix City for filming of the picture, and actually recreated the town as it existed in its uproarious heyday.

The gambling joints were reopened, the hoods and racketeers again "took over," and the order of the day was "live high and clip the sucker."

"The Phenix City Story" relates the efforts of the responsible citizens of the community, headed by Albert L. Patterson, former Attorney General-elect, to clean up their city. It faithfully documents the real-life killing of Patterson by racketeers soon after his election victory.

Richard Kiley, Kathryn Grant, John McIntire and Edward Andrews head the cast of the swiftly-paced action film, with Meg Myles, sensational singer, featured, which was directed by Phil Karlson. Harry Neumann was the director of photography and the original screenplay is credited to Crane Wilbur and Dan Mainwaring.

Shamrock Cub Pack To Meet

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The Shamrock Cub Pack will hold its first meeting of the school year Tuesday night, in Clark Auditorium at 7:30. Parents of boys between the ages of 8 and 10, who would like to become Boy Scouts are invited to bring the youngsters and attend.

Lyman Benson, chairman of the Cub Scout committee, suggested both parents attend if possible; and in all cases at least one parent should accompany the youngsters.

Indications are 40 or 50 new Cubs may sign as members at the meeting, Benson said. A recent canvass made in the Shamrock School indicated more than 40 boys were interested in joining the organization.

Plans for the meeting were made at a luncheon meeting of Chairman Benson and his committee early this week when Scout Executive Phil Pegues of Pampa discussed the Fall Training program. Attending the feeting were: Archie Dean Southard, Glenn Clifton, Huey Cook, Woodrow Bigbee, Cabot Brannon, Pegues and Scout Commissioner Albert Cooper.

Word Rites Set Sunday

MCLEAN — (Special) — Feneral services for Andrew B. Word, who died at 8 p.m. Thursday in Wichita Falls, are slated for 2:30 p.m. today in the Presbyterian Church in Chillicothe. Dr. D. Art Ray, pastor, will officiate, assisted by Rev. John W. Price, Methodist minister.

Burial will be in Chillocothe Cemetery, under the direction of Claborne Funeral Home of McLean.

Born Feb. 16, 1875 in Macon, Ga., he moved to McLean, with his wife, in 1914. He owned and operated a ranch on McClellan Creek since that time. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church and of the Alanreed Masonic Lodge. Mr. and Mrs. Word were married Jan. 31, 1912, in Wheeler.

Mr. Word is survived by his wife; four daughters, Mrs. W. E. Frier of Amarillo, Mrs. J. J. Reese of Navaho, Ariz., Mrs. George Orrick of McLean, and Mrs. J. M. Brown of Pampa; one son, Drew Word of McLean; one brother, Stacey Word of Chillicothe; two sisters, Mrs. Pauline Nucles of Chillocothe and Mrs. W. E. Clancy of Houston; and nine grandchildren.

CONVENTION REPORT

The Pampa Kiwanis Club Friday heard a report from delegates to the recent Kiwanis Club Convention in San Antonio, and, as a surprise gag, several club members dressed as women in a mock report of "what really happened." Above, Mack Hiatt, disguised as "Bubbles," goes through a routine which supposedly took place at a San Antonio night club. Others in the show were B. M. Behrman and Ben Ogden. The program was arranged by Ken Meaders. (News Photo)

MAKING A GO OF LIFE

By ROY L. SMITH

Read Psalm 5:4-12

Guilt is a spiritual infection. The significant fact about the agonized confession of the young woman in yesterday's lesson is that it was wrung out of her by her own knowledge of herself. The minister to whom she confided her suffering knew nothing of her way of life and had not been probing. She needed no accuser for she was scourged from within, and the tortures through which she was passing were pitiful beyond words to describe.

Such a spiritual state represents a serious illness off the soul. True, not every person who goes wrong suffers in the sense that this girl did, but all wrongdoers suffer serious losses of spiritual strength.

No pains that any person ever endures are more excruciating than those which come to the person who knows he is living evilly. Shakespeare devoted one of his greatest plays to this theme and the reason Macbeth goes on attracting crowds century after century is because every city in which it plays furnishes its audiences of Macbeths.

Once more it can be said that no one needs go to the theologians or the psychologists to inquire about this experience, for each of us has lived through it in one form of another. We know how it feels to be undone by the knowledge that we have done evil. We know how a defiance of our inner moral judgment undermines our sense of integrity and leaves us helpless.

The explanation is very simple. That lack of strength is the direct result of absence of God from within us. Any man who has felt thus weak has had the experience of emptiness. God is not with him. His spirit is infected.

This sense of guilt with which I am infected, O God, is one of thy gracious gifts, given to warn me of the tragedy that fills my life when thou art withdrawn from me. Accept my penitence for my wrongdoing, hear my cry, and return unto me for Jesus' sake. Amen.

Compare the sense of distress that comes from eating the wrong food with the spiritual restlessness that comes from thinking the wrong thoughts. Is there not an analogy here? Is not wrong thinking a form of spiritual indigestion?

Mexico Slaps Fee On All Texas Autos

MEXICO CITY —UP— The Mexican federal government has slapped a $96 fee on all Texas vehicles operating in Mexico in retaliation for the Texas crackdown on Mexican trucks.

Government sources said Mexico "used diplomatic channels" to make the U.S. reconsider the $100 license imposed on Mexican border trucks but efforts failed because the ruling was issued by Texas alone.

The new fee will be collected through a newly-created department called "federal border service," the official Gazette revealed Wednesday.

All Texas vehicles which operate freight services in city areas along the border will have to buy a special license similar to the one issued by Texas only two months ago.

The license will be valid for a year and will enable Texas vehicles to cross the border and operate on Mexican territory.

Issuance of the new licenses will be determined by FBS agents. "They will decide whether any exceptions are necessary in accord with reciprocity from Texas towns," the Gazette said.

FBS agents also will decide whether the new license will be imposed on Texas vehicles running passenger buses between the two countries.

Officials expressed hope that Texas eventually may withdraw its decision.

"When we think of the fine help given by Texas to Tampico we feel that this insignificant problem should and will be eliminated," they said.

Dismissal Of Trust Suit Asked

FORT WORTH —UP— Dismissal of an anti-trust indictment against Safeway Stores, Inc., was asked Thursday in a motion filed in federal district court at Fort Worth.

The motion contends that seven of the 20 federal grand jurors on the panel were not qualified to vote.

A second motion asked a court order opening up records kept by the grand jury in its deliberations. This move was to ascertain whether at least 12 qualified jurors concurred in voting the indictment as required under federal rules of criminal procedure.

Judge Joe E. Estes did not set a date for a hearing on the motion.

Insurance Taxed $500 Million

CHICAGO —UP— Life insurance companies over the nation reported Thursday they expect to pay a total of $500 million in federal and state taxes this year.

Pampa Chess Club Young But Fast-Growing Group

By RONALD WATERS
Pampa News Staff Writer

One of the youngest, fastest growing, and most zealous clubs in town is the Pampa Chess Club. Here friendly rivals bring out weapons of war, fight on a battlefield of 64 squares, capture Queens and steal "horses" until victory is won. Yet all takes place in a spirit of sportsmanship, and not one harsh word has been heard.

Opening its doors to everyone, the club welcomes young and old, beginner and master. It has no membership dues and operates entirely as a non-profit organization. Recently members voted to expand, by including players from Miami, Wheeler, McLean, Lefors, and other towns in this area. The group meets every Tuesday night at 7:30 in Lovett Memorial Library.

When the club organized Aug. 2 of this year in the basement of the City Hall, it was at least the third chess club to be formed in Pampa. The immediate objective in organizing was to bring the Panhandle Open Chess Tournament to Pampa next year. The long-range objectives were to provide a source of entertainment at no cost, open to everyone, to provide a meeting place, and to teach newcomers to develop powers of concentration and sportsmanship. In just a few short months, most of these objectives have been realized.

FROM 7 TO 79

Players attending the first meeting ranged in age from seven-year old Joe Welker to Dr. A. J. Welker, 79, who placed first in the Panhandle Division of the Panhandle Open Chess Tournament in Amarillo last year.

Originating plans for the club were Ronald Waters and Kenneth Anderson. They found backing from Jim Dean of the "Pampa News," and gained support from Tony Welker, who also played a part in forming two previous groups here.

When three players attended the Panhandle Open Chess Tournament in Lubbock last labor-day week end, things really began to happen. Dr. Welker, Bill Waggoner, and John Wills made a good showing at the tourney. Mr. and Mrs. John Wills gained the tournament site for Pampa, and persuaded the tournament director, George Koltanowski, to come here for a future exhibition match. The tourney was launched at Borger in '53, held at Amarillo in '54, and at Lubbock in '55, so Pampa was the logical choice for '56.

A FAMILY GAME

A family of chess players are Mr. and Mrs. Tony Welker and two sons, Richard and Joe. Tony is a soil scientist for the Gray County Soil Conservation Service, a master marksman with a rifle, and secretary of the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club. He recalls that chess has been a . . . "family game since we were kids." Although he considers himself only an average player, Tony has been playing "the game of Kings" for 30 years.

Dr. A. J. Welker was born in Germany, retired from his medical practice in North Dakota, and came to Pampa in '46. He is considered as the old "master" of the game by club members, who have a high respect for his skillful and remarkable playing ability. He held the North Dakota state title for about 15 years! His main hobby is correspondence chess, in which he participated for one tournament that took 6 years to complete. Chess is a game of patience. Dr. Welker has been playing for 67 years, or since he was 12-years-old.

Another chess-playing family is Mr. and Mrs. John Wills. While working as Assistant-Sergeant of Arms at the House of Representatives in Austin, John came out on top in informal tournament play. He has been playing chess for four years, and taught his wife the game several months ago. Originating a new gambit (called the Wills gamblit), John is continuing to work out the details to perfection, claiming that it has one fallacy. This gamblit is designed to build strong players. (A gamblit is an opening which features possible sacrifices of material.)

"I'm such a chess enthusiast that I'm willing to show anyone the basic principles and techniques of the game," John says, "I'd like to share it."

John was president of the student council at Pampa High School during his Senior year. Mrs. Wills is assistant-secretary of the club.

RELAXING GAME

Still another family that highly enjoy chess are Mr. and Mrs. W. G. (Bill) Waggoner. Bill is vice-president of the club, and one of the stronger players, although he has been playing for only one year. With efficient precision and hard logic, Bill plays a fascinating defense (usually the Sicilian or a similar defense) and avoids the standard lines of play.

"It's a relaxing game. . I do think it's fascinating," he states. "Its a very logical game, and I play it just for the fun I get out of it." "I think the chess club is going exceptionally well," Bill continues, "for the time it has been organized."

Attending every meeting has been City Commissioner William B. (A) Neel, who says, "I'm a checker player by profession." He owns a saw and grinding shop at 319 S. Cuyler, where people often drop in for a game of dominoes or chess. Neel started playing chess this year with a wonderful background in checkers; he came out 10th in the checkers match held at the Texas Centennial in Dallas in 1936. He favors the Ruy Lopez opening, originated by a Spaniard over a century ago.

"To me, it's a game that is strictly for relaxation," Neel says, "when you enter into it, you forget everything else." He adds, "I prize it highly as a game where you associate with people on a high plane, a plane where I recommend it to any child to stimulate his mental development."

Mustangs Roll Over Rice Owls, 20-0

By ELDON CORKILL

DALLAS, Oct. 15—UP—Quarterback John Roach scampered 82 yards on a punt return and passed for another touchdown Saturday night to lead his Southern Methodist Mustangs to a 20 to 0 Southwest Conference victory over Rice.

Playing before 46,000 fans in the Cotton Bowl, Southern Methodist displayed a potent running attack in the conference opener for both teams. It was the first time Rice had been held scoreless since UCLA blanked the Owls 20 to 0 in 1952.

Roach, senior from Dallas, grabbed a punt boomed 52 yards by King Hill early in the second period, raced up the middle angled to the left sideline, and with a key block by tackle Forrest Gregg crossed the goal line untouched. Guard Tommy Beal kicked the extra point.

Mustangs Roll Again

That score stood up for a 7 to 0 halftime lead. In the third quarter, after receiving a punt on their own 35, the Mustangs rolled 65 yards in 15 plays for their second score, the touchdown coming on a pass pass from Roach to Lon Slaughter, sophomore halfback from San Angelo, Tex., good for four yards. Halfback Ray Masters converted.

With less than a minute to go, the Mustangs scored a third time, climaxing a 54-yard drive that began with John Marshall's interception of Pinky Nisbet's pass. Ray Masters carried over from the two-yard line for the touchdown. Beal's conversion try was wide.

With SMU backs Marshall, Don McIlhenny, Hal O'Brien, Slaughter and Roach running behind a surging SMU line, the Mustangs rolled up great chunks of yardage, while Rice could never get a sustained attack rolling. Nisbet, Rice quarterback, kept SMU on its toes with accurate passing at times, but the ground attack was stopped by the Southern Methodist line.

SMU Off to Good Start

The victory got SMU off to a good start in the conference race after non-loop losses to Notre Dame and Georgia Tech and a win over Missouri. Rice, a one-touchdown favorite over the Mustangs, had defeated Alabama and Clemson and tied Louisiana State previous to Saturday night's game.

Memphis Trounces McLean Tigers, 19-0

MCLEAN —The Memphis Cyclones twisted over the McLean Tigers 19-0 to hand them their fifth straight loss Friday night.

Although it was Father's night the black and gold Tigers couldn't stop the Cyclone halfback, Dean Sustaire, who scored on a long pass from the McLean 40 yard line. David Davis plunged over for the point to give the black and gold Cyclones an early 7-0 lead.

Memphis came back again in the first period when Sustaire went over the second first - quarter counter from the one. The scoring halted until the third period.

After the McLean Tigers fumbled on their own 18 the Cyclones went 88 yards on the first play from scrimmage with Sustaire again doing the honors.

Syracuse Dumps Army 13 To 0

By OSCAR FRALEY

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 15—UP— Jim Ridlon made the first pass of his football career a winning one Saturday when he tossed a touchdown strike and then scored later himself to lead inspired Syracuse to one of the season's major upsets, a rain-drenched 13 to 0 conquest of Army.

Ridlon, a converted end from the little town of Nyack, N. Y., right in Army's backyard, flipped a 22-yard scoring pass to Don Althouse late in the third quarter. Then the unheralded Syracuse back wrapped it up as he lanced seven yards around end through a driving rain for the clinching touchdown.

Syracuse had many muddy heroes before 12,500 soaked but screaming fans as, a three-touchdown underdog, it rose up to hand Army its second straight defeat. Jimmy Brown, its sparkplug, contributed much of the ground gaining and a green fullback named Gus Zaso set up both scoring drives, one with a recovered fumble and the other with a pass interception.

But the big man was Ridlon, playing only his second game at halfback for Syracuse as he paid off on the first pass he ever threw to crack that Army goal line.

Three times in the first half, Army had stopped Syracuse threats as these two teams met for the first time in 29 years. Driving hard and keeping the Cadets from any sort of a scoring threat, Syracuse hammered down to Army's five, 26 and 31.

Again as the second half started Army halted another bid when Syracuse drove to the Cadet 30. But then, after Army took over, Cadet Pat Uebel, who had fumbled four times in last week's Army loss to Michigan, fumbled again and Zaso recovered on Army's 26.

It looked, momentarily, as if again Army was going to throw them back. But Ridlon pitched to Althouse and the big end grabbed it on the goal line and skidded across on his face. Brown added the point for a 7 to 0 Syracuse lead.

Then, as the fourth period got underway, it was Zaso as the opportunist again. Ignoring the ankle deep mud, he raced in front of an Army pass and carried it back from the Syracuse 42 to Army's 43. Led by Brown, Syracuse hammered down to the Army seven and then Ridlon swept the end for the touchdown that put it away.

Wyoming Nips Tulsa

By JACK BACON

LARAMIE, Wyo., Oct. 15—UP— Wyoming beat Tulsa on two extra points and a safety, 23-19 Saturday in an intersectional football game that saw 644 yards gained by running.

Neither defense was worth much, and neither team did much passing.

But two of Wyoming's three complete passes were good for touchdowns.

Nine thousand fans watched the power duel in suny, mild weather. It was Wyoming's fourth win against one loss, and Tulsa's third loss against one victory.

Tulsa Jumps To Lead

Tulsa jumped to a good lead in the first period with two ground marches. Dick Scholtz went around right end eight yards for the first Tulsa touchdown, and halfback Hughes got the second one a few minutes later with a six-yard buck through center.

Quarterback Joe Mastrogiovanni of Brooklyn, N.Y., rallied Wyoming in the second period when his 25-yard pass found halfback Butch Wilson in the Tulsa end zone. Six minutes later Mastrogiovanni snagged a 10-yard pass from halfback Jerry Jester on the Tulsa 45 and skipped the rest of the way through the badly dispersed Hurricane secondary.

Mastrogiovanni kicked both extra points from placement, to give Wyoming a 14-12 lead at half time.

54 Yards on Pitchout

In the third period, Wyoming halfback Jim Crawford carried a pitchout around right end for 54 yards and another touchdown. Mastrogiovanni again kicked the extra point, and the game was won.

On the first play of the fourth period, Tulsa fullback Earl Shuck fumbled a Wyoming punt in his own end zone and was slammed to earth by three tacklers for a safety.

Michigan State Rips Notre Dame, 21-7

By ED SAINSBURY

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 15—UP— Michigan State's Clarence Peaks, Gerry Planutis and Earl Morrall punched through the Notre Dame line for touchdowns Saturday to produce a 21 to 7 victory with the first points scored against the Irish this year.

The win, knocking the Irish out of the undefeated class this year broke a Notre Dame winning streak at 11 games.

The triumph came because Peaks, a lanky Negro Junior, and Planutis, a 174-pound senior fullback, drove steadily through the Irish line and Morrall, a sharp-passing quarterback, hit his receivers regularly.

Spartan Line Holds

Meanwhile, the Spartan line, displaying greater speed and expert blocking, gave the back good protection, both behind the line and downfield, while Notre Dame, barely successful with its ground game, couldn't come up with the long gainers.

Michigan State didn't try a pass in the second half, but Morrall connected with his receivers five times in eight attempts during the first 30 minutes for 101 yards with completions to Dave Kaiser for 30 yards, to Peaks for 21 and again to Kaiser for 23 yards, important gains on the scoring parade.

Peaks, who gained 36 yards in 10 carries, plunged three yards for the first Spartan tally, and Planutis, who picked up 91 in 20 tries, went one yard for the second marker. Morrall, taking advantage of a last period break, went over from the one for the final score. Planutis converted after each touchdown.

Hold Offensive Stars

The Spartans did a good job of containing Notre Dame's offense stars quarterback Paul Hornung and half Don Schaefer.

Schaefer picked up 78 yards on 14 plays, but he was guilty of a disastrous fumble, recovered by the Spartans' Embry Robinson on the Irish 16 in the final period, preceding the last touchdown.

Hornung, most successful with his passes in the last period, finished the day with 11 completions in 19 efforts for 125 yards. Hornung made one of the most spectacular plays of the day for the Notre Dame touchdown. He was pulled off balance by two tacklers while attempting a pass, but threw anyhow to Jim Morse for a 40-yard gain and the score.

Score by periods:

Michigan State	0	7	7	7	—21

Michigan State scoring— Touchdowns, Peaks (3, plunge), Planutis (1, run), Morral (1, plunge). Conversions, Planutis 3.

Notre Dame scoring—Touchdown Morse (40-yard pass from Hornung). Conversion—Schaefer.

Baylor Edges Washington In 13-7 Tilt

By ELDON BARRETT

SEATTLE, Oct. 15—UP—The clutch passing and pile-driving smashes of third-string quarterback Bobby Jones Saturday gave Baylor a 13-7 victory over previously undefeated Washington before 42,000 football fans.

Jones powered into the end zone from six inches out just four seconds before end of the first half to match a second-period Washington touchdown. And mid-way in the third period he passed to end Henry Gremminger in the end zone for the second tally.

The loss was 12th ranked Washington's first in five games this season and it kept intact Texas' domination of Pacific Northwest football teams. Never in history has a team from this region defeated one from Texas.

Washington Duplicates Feat

Washington also scored from six inches out when quarterback Steve Roake dived over the line to climax a 43-yard drive that started when end Cory Lewis recovered Baylor halfback Del Shofner's fumble. Dean Derby's kick was good.

It looked like Baylor would go scoreless in the first half but they caught fire and drove and passed 87 yards down the field in 17 plays under the generalship of Jones, who clawed his way straight into the line to score. Bobby Jack Oliver kicked the extra point.

The entire right side of Washington's line seemed to buckle under the onslaught of the Bears as Baylor took the second half kickoff and drove 68 yards in 16 plays for their game-winning tally.

Kick Goes Wide

A delaying-the-game penalty set the ball back on the eight-yard line for the conversion and Kenny Helm's kick went wide.

Washington fought like Tigers to stay in the ball game, showing the type of power they did at the very start of the game when they marched 90 yards only to fumble one foot from the goal line. But fullback Reuben Saage intercepted Roak's pass — the first interception of a Husky pass this season — and the threat ended a minute and a half before the final gun.

Baylor simply outpowered the Huskie. The Bears racked up 273 net yards to Washington's 154.

Score by periods:

Washington	0	7	0	0	— 7
Baylor	0	7	6	0	—13

Baylor scoring — Touchdowns, Jones (six-inch plunge); Gremminger (6-yard pass from Jones). Conversion, Bobby Jack Oliver.

Washington scoring — Touchdowns, Roake (six-inch plunge). Conversion, Derby.

Navy Whips Penn State 34 To 14

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa., Oct. 15 — UP — Quarterback George Welsh shattered all Navy passing records Saturday when he pitched the midshipmen to a come-from-behind 34-14 victory over Penn State to preserve the Academy's perfect record.

Welch completed 15 of 20 pass attempts for 285 yards and two scores and set up three other touchdowns with his passing. He clinched the Navy victory by sneaking across from the one-foot mark for another score.

Penn State's only consolation was crossing the Navy goal for the first scores yielded by the Midshipmen in four games this season.

Navy also was forced to come from behind for the first time when Penn State squeezed ahead 7-6 in the first period. The Lions went 45 yards for the tying marker and Sam Valentine's placement provided the leading margin. Billy Kane, of Munhall, Pa., plunged nine yards for Penn State's first score.

A sellout crowd of more than 33,000 saw Navy take the opening kickoff and march 61 yards for a score in the first five minutes. Welch provided a momentum for the drive by completing three passes for a total of 42 yards. Ed Oldham punched through left tackle for the last four yards, but his placement went wide

Score by periods:

Penn State	7	0	0	7	—14
Navy	6	14	7	7	—34

Auburn Gets Upset Win Over Tech

By BILL FERGUSON

ATLANTA, Oct. 15—UP—Quarterback Howell Tubbs flashed unsuspected passing skill to lead a fourth period touchdown march when Auburn's ground attack faltered Saturday and the Plainsmen beat Georgia Tech 14-12 for the first time in 15 lean years.

It was Tech's first defeat after eight wins, stretching back to last mid-season and also Auburn's 10th straight without defeat. Kentucky tied the Plainsmen last week.

Actually, fullback Joe Childress' two extra points provided the victory margin but Auburn had to drive from behind a 12-7 deficit to win. And when Childress and his halfback sidekick, Fob James Jr., could not get going Tubbs took over.

A capacity crowd of 40,000 fans watched Tubbs connect on four passes good for 72 yards as he drove the Tigers 80 yards for the winning score.

Becomes Strong Contender

The victory made Auburn a strong contender for its first Southeastern Conference crown.

Tubbs, a 190-pound junior from Birmingham and a questionable starter, personally scored on a one-foot sneak after his perfect 20-yard pitch to end Jimmy Phillips put Auburn on the Tech seven and Childress plunged to the one.

Auburn scored first in the battle of the unbeatens on a bruising 61-yard lead march, but Tech matched the touchdown with a 66-yard advance on its own. Auburn remained in front as quarterback Wade Mitchell missed his extra attempt, but halfback George Volkert put the Engineers ahead early in the third period when he dodged off tackle and raced 50 yards for a score.

Dramatic Passing

Tubbs' passing was as dramatic as it was unexpected. Tech has one of the most feared pass defenses in Dixie, but the daring Auburn quarterback completed seven of 10 passes good for 118 yards.

Score by periods:

Georgia Tech	0	6	6	0	—12
Auburn	7	0	0	7	—14

Georgia Tech scoring — Touchdowns, Mitchell (1, plunge), Volkert (50, run).

Auburn — Touchdowns, Shell (6, run), Tubbs (1, plunge). Conversions — Childress, 2.

UCLA Gets 21-13 Win Over Stanford

By HAL WOOD

STANFORD, Calif., Oct. 15—UP—Sam (First Down) Brown powered heavily-favored UCLA to three touchdowns in the first quarter and then the Bruins hung on grimly to defeat Stanford, 21 to 13, in a Pacific Coast Conference game Saturday.

After piling up a big first quarter lead, UCLA Coach Red Sanders started sending in subs and when he called the regulars back into action they couldn't click against the keyed up Indians.

UCLA was a 19-point favorite and it appeared at the end of the first period the Bruins could make it anything they wanted.

The first time they got the ball they marched 65 yards for a score. On that drive Brown carried the ball five times for 56 yards and then fullback Bob Davenport ploughed over from the three for the score. Brown then kicked the first of his three conversions.

The next time the Bruins got possession of the pigskin Brown dropped back and tossed an 18-yard pass to end John Smith who raced 41 yards for a score. Then Doug Bradley opened up a passing attack and UCLA marched another 55 yards for a score just before the quarter ended with Bradley passing to quarterback Bruce Ballard for the counter to make it 21 to 0.

Sanders then pulled Brown and several others of his first stringers out of the game and about the same time linebacker Steve Palmer was injured and left the tilt for keeps. The Bruins' cohesion never was the same again.

Wellington Edges Past White Deer

WHITE DEER — The Wellington Skyrockets came from behind in the last period to sneak past the White Deer Bucks 20-19 here Friday night.

The Skyrockets fired off to a good start after a scoreless first half when Pat Wilkins sneaked over from the one to count for the touchdown. He also kicked the extra point. The Bucks were not to be denied when quick thinking Jerry Gray plucked a Rocket fumble from the air and raced the length of the gridiron for the first Buck counter. The all important point after failed.

Duggie Jamison and Max Traver scored in the final stanza of the game for the Rockets while Alton Hill and Ernest Reusch counted for the Bucks. Ruesch gathered in an aerial from Jerry Mills and raced 70 yards for the Bucks.

'Cats Hand Pampa Worst Loss, 35-6

SAN ANGELO —(Special)— The favored San Angelo Bobcats took the injury hampered Harvesters for a 35-6 cleaning here Friday night before a cool crowd of 5,500 fans.

The powerful Bobcats came through with touchdowns in each of the four quarters, with singles in the first, second, and fourth and a pair in the third.

Fumbles hurt the Harvesters almost as much as the grinding power of the triple-threat, Marvin Lasater. The Harvesters lost four fumbles, three of which were deep in their own territory. The Bobcats took advantage of the Green and Gold errors and counted.

The first Orange and Blue touchdown came in first quarter when Charles Terrell recovered a Pampa fumble on the Harvester 20. The Cats crossed the goal line in seven plays with 175 pound halfback Marvin Lasater going over from the two. Norman Marshall kicked the point.

The Green an Golders took the kickoff and speedy Dickie Mauldin carried it out to his 24. After 16 plays and a 12 yard pass from Mauldin to Bobby Dehls the Harvesters struck it rich for the only time of the night.

Starting on Pampa's 47 the Cats galloped to another score. Again it was the doing of Marvin Lasater that set the counter up. He got loose for 15 yards through the forward wall of Pampa and drove to the one. From that point he scooted over and again Marshall converted to give Coach Bob Harrell's boys a 14-6 halftime lead.

The San Angelo backfield men, behind the hard-charging forward wall of orange and blue uniforms, ran freely to rack up two more counters while the defense held the Harvesters to a scoreless minimum ground and aerial gain.

Jack Thompson scored on a 17 yard jaunt for the first of two third period scores and Marshall's toe again made the point after good. Later in the same frame Lasater tossed a pass to Raymond Chvojak in the end zone for 12 yards and another six points. Marshall, after being set back to the 17 on a penalty booted the pigskin between the uprights for the fourth time of the night.

The final counter of the game came when quarterback Billy Hollis took the ball and went through the center on a 13 yard twisting, turning, running sneak. The extra point was kicked by reserve kicker, Buddy Stapp.

THE STATISTICS

The San Angelo Bobcats will face the twice defeated Borger Bulldogs in Borger next week in what should be an easy victory. San Angelo was defeated last week by the Odessa Bronchos in a heartbreaker.

The battered Pampa Harvesters will host the high flying Abilene Eagles at Harvester park in what should be an easy mark for the top team of the 1-AAAA district.

Rifle Match Is Planned

The Pampa Rifle Club has accepted a challenge from the West Texas State ROTC rifle team for a shoulder to shoulder match at the indoor rifle range in Pampa. The matched shooting will take place at the range today at 1 p.m.

The "crack shot" team from Canyon has won several matches already this year and challenged Pampa early last week. It will be the first senior match held in the city of Pampa since the organization of the local club.

The two teams will fire a total of 40 shots per man from four positions. They will fire 10 shots from the prone, kneeling, sitting and standing positions.

The number of shooters from WTS is undetermined but the probable shooters for Pampa are W. F. Huff, Tony Welker, Cleo Cathey, Jim Kirkham, John Warner, John Schoolfield and Kirk Dunham.

"The Pampa team is expected to loose to the tough team from Canyon," said Tony Welker Saturday, "since they are well known for their marksmanship." The public is invited to attend the matched shooting which is to be under the direction of W. F. Huff, executive officer of the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club.

Few Royal Canadian Mounted Police are still mounted. On the job, automobiles and airplanes serve as their steeds.

Eagles Keep Flying To Pace Dist. 1-4A

BY TOMMIE ELLIS

The favored San Angelo Bobcats, with their multiple formation and their multiple - threat halfback, Marvin Lasater, defeated the Pampa Harvesters Friday night in the Bobcat lair 35-6. The win gave the Bobcats their first 1-AAAA district win while the Green and Golders suffered their second defeat.

The Bobcats scored in each period of the game while Pampa managed a counter in the second when Bobby Dehls went over from the one for six points.

Pampa gained 107 yards rushing while the Bobcats gained 159. The Cats however outclassed the Harvesters in the air when they completed five of 13 trys for 78 yards while the Pampa eleven completed only two of three for 19 yards.

The Midland Bulldogs, behind the power of Wahoo McDaniel, were too much for the Amarillo Golden Sandies Friday night as the Midland eleven, coached by Tugboat Jones, rolled to an easy 26-6 victory.

The 185 pound power of fullback McDaniel was good enough to pick up five yards each time he took the ball, and that was often. Quarterback, Larry Cooper kept the Amarillo defense honest by completing six of 11 passes for 85 yards.

The Sandies jumped ahead early in the first period but lost the lead when the Bulldogs regained themselves and went over for two counters in the second period.

The Borger Bulldogs went ahead in the first quarter of the Borger-Lubbock tilt in Jones stadium Friday only to bog down as the Westerners won 34-13.

Bob Page and Jerry Argovitz led the Borger team with their aerials but a bad pass from center on a punt put the fire in the Westerners and they racked up three touchdowns in the second quarter to lead 21-7 at the half. They made their final first half counter only seconds before the whistle.

Borger threatened early in the third frame then they went to the Lubbock nine and fumbled. Lubbock then came back to score again in the third and Borger bounced back to make their final tally in the same period.

Lubbock scored again in the fourth period when Joel Austin intercepted a Borger pass on the 35 and returned it to the Bulldog 25. Borger's Bob Page intercepted a Westerner pass and almost got loose but too late to put the Bulldogs in the winning column.

The Abilene Eagles handed the Odessa Bronchos a humiliating 47-0 defeat at Odessa Friday night when the Eagles' free-scoring backs ran wild.

The game was a dissapointment to the thousands of Odessa fans that lined the sidelines but was a show of the Eagle power to the Abilene fans who made the trip to Odessa to see what was earlier classed as one of the major games of the night.

The Eagles, behind the guidance of Coach Chuck Moser, can now claim the undisputed top spot in the district as well as a top spot in the state. No team in the 1-AAAA district has shown the power to stop the Eagles from walking off with the championship.

PAMPAN AIDS AGGIES — Sophomore Ed Dudley gained 50 yards Saturday afternoon in Texas A&M's 19-16 victory over TCU.

Soph Backs Spark Aggies To 19-16 Win Over TCU

By ED FITE

FORT WORTH, Oct. 15 — UP— The scrapping sophomores of Texas A&M lashed out with rapier-like scoring thrusts by two of their mighty mites, Don Watson and Bill Dendy, Saturday to upset the nation's sixth-ranked team, Texas Christian, 19 to 16.

The two reserve halfbacks accounted for all three touchdowns as Coach Paul Bryant's light, but precise Aggies knocked TCU from the unbeaten ranks and stunned an overflow crowd of 37,000.

It was Texas A&M's fourth victory in a row since losing a 21-0 tilt to UCLA in its opener and it boomed the Aggies to the fore as a powerful challenger for the Southwest Conference title. It gave TCU a 1-1 conference standing, the Aggies 1-0.

The stubby Watson and Dendy were just two of the cogs in the almost unbelievable offense machine that ripped TCU's heralded defenses apart for 351 yards on the ground and 56 more through the air.

But, it was the 155-pound Watson that hauled in a 20-yard pass from Jimmy Grant to push Texas A&M ahead 6-3 in the second quarter and it was twisting 51-yard gallop in the third period that gave the Aggies their second touchdown.

Dendy, a stocky 163-pound sophomore slashed 21 yards for the clinching touchdown in the fourth quarter after TCU had rallied to go ahead 16-12.

Jimmy Swink, the nation's second leading ground gainer, was held to 85 yards by the fighting Aggie forward wall, but seven of those yards carried him to one of TCU's two touchdowns. End Bryan Engram scored the other on a seven - yard flip from quarterback Charles Curtis. Reserve fullback Henry Pollard had put TCU out in front in the first quarter with a nine-yard field goal.

Jack Pardee, the husky junior fullback-linebacker, was the bellwether of the two great Aggie forward walls that kept Swink and his mates in check in the clutch. And, he was also instrumental in all three of the Aggie scoring drives with his lunging plays into the line.

Watson got the 98 yards on seven carries for a 14-yard average, and Dendy got 74 in eight tries for a 9.2-yard average. Soph Ed Dudley accounted for 50, Lloyd Taylor, 48 and Pardee 38 as the Aggie backs ripped the nation's third best rushing defense asunder.

The enormous Aggie aground yardage was made through gaping holes inside the tackles — supposedly TCU's strongest line of defense—and the light backs then used sheer speed and determination to fight for the extra yardage.

It was a sparkling performance for the Texas A&M crew which won only one of 10 games a year ago and it spoke brilliantly for the recruiting job Bryant has done in his second year of rebuilding a decade of floundering football fortunes at the school.

Arkansas Defeats Longhorns, 27-20

By BILL HUGHES

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 15—UP—Fullback Henry Moore racked up an all-time yardage record at Arkansas when his slashing line bucks brought the Razorbacks a 27 to 20 victory over Texas Saturday.

The Porkers staved off a spirited Texas rally in the final period to chalk up their first Southwest Conference victory of the season before a sellout crowd of 36,000 fans.

Moore carried the ball 21 times for 115 yards to bring his three-year total at Arkansas to 1,500 yards. The previous record of 1,463 yards was set by Clyde Scott in the 1946-48 seasons.

Bottle UT's Aerial Game

Arkansas effectively bottled up the Texas aerial game, holding Joe Clements, the nation's leading passer, to four completions for 47 yards.

Arkansas struck early in the game, scoring twice in the first period. The Razorbacks held a 21 to 6 halftime advantage, and scored again in the third period before Delano Wommack went to work for the Longhorns.

Womanck spearheaded two fourth quarter scoring drives for the Steers. But Arkansas was knocking on the door again on the Texas' 12 when the game ended.

Arkansas went 47 yards in six plays to tally when the game was two minutes old. George Walker scored on a quarterback sneak and his conversion attempt was good.

Score Again in First

Ten plays and 80 yards, all of them on the ground, brought another Arkansas touchdown late in the first period. Don Christian dived over from the one - yard line, and again Walker converted.

Halfback Walter Fondren broke loose for 54 yards to spark the initial Texas score. Clements swept four yards for the touchdown, and Joe Youngblood's kick was wide.

Gerald Nesbitt, alternate fullback, intercepted a pass on the Texas 27 to set up the third Arkansas score. Ronald Underwod skirted left end 14 yards for the touchdown and Walker's kick was good.

Moore scampered 47 yards late in the third period to launch the final Razorback march. A handoff to Underwood was good for the score from the Texas five.

Buddy Benson's kick was blocked. Charley Brewer went in for Clements to lead the Longhorns to two quick touchdowns in the final stanza. His passes to Fondren and Wormack's end sweeps sparked the Texas drives.

Brewer passed to Chester Simcik and this was good for one touchdown. Another Brewer heave to Ed Kelly brought the final Texas score. Youngblood's two conversions were good.

Clarendon Nips Canadian

CANADIAN — A last minute counter put Clarendon ahead of the Canadian Wildcats 26-20 to give the Broncs a hard fought victory. The touchdown by Jerry Behrens terminated an 84 yard drive after Clarendon recovered a Canadian fumble deep in Clarendon territory.

After a scoreless first quarter Canadian jumped to a 13-7 lead over the maroon and white charges of Coach Joe Spann, which they held at the half. The third quarter was the same story when the Canadian club scored to give them a 19-7 lead. The touchdown was made by Tommy Hobdy.

Robert Mills got loose for 28 yards and Jimmy Philley took a 70 yard jaunt to give the Clarendon eleven two touchdowns and a 20-20 ball game.

Tommy Hobdy and Johnny Grist got credit for the Canadian extra points while Eddie Baten and Robert Mills converted for Clarendon.

Claude Blanks Darrouzett, 26-0

CLAUDE — The Claude Mustangs won their fourth game of the season, 26-0, over the Darrouzett Longhorns Friday night before a happy homecoming crowd of Mustang fans. Jimmy Wood scored first for the Claude team on an end run which was good for 10 yards and paydirt.

The first quarter ended with the Claude eleven leading the game 6-0 after the extra point attempt was unsuccessful. The second quarter found one more touchdown marked up for the Mustangs when Ronald Byard went for 11 yards.

The third period was the most successful for the charges of Coach D. W. Harkins. The red and blue Mustangs found the goal line two more times when Byard got loose for another 7 yards and Jimmy Wood scooted for 21 more for the touchdown.

C C Golf Tourney Qualifying Rounds End Today At Four

The qualifying rounds of the second annual Country Club Golf Championship began Saturday and will continue throughout the afternoon today.

The tournament, under the direction of H. M. Luna and Hart Warren, will be the second such tournament held at the Pampa Country Club. The tournament is open to Country Club members only.

Defending champion L. E. Chisum, will be a top contender for the title again this year. R. M. Samples will also be out to cop the crown.

All golfers who wish to enter in the annual tournament must finish their qualifying rounds today, since the matched play will begin next week end, Oct. 22.

The prizes have not been selected to date but will be worth playing for, assured golf pro Hart Warren.

Oklahoma Rolls Over Kansas 44-6

By CARTER BRADLEY

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 15—UP—Oklahoma hesitated long enough for 42,000 spectators to get settled comfortably Saturday before gobbling up Kansas, 44-6, for its 23rd straight victory.

Practically every player on the Oklahoma bench joined in the touchdown feast which started shortly after Kansas had gained a six-point edge in the first four minutes. Fifty-one Oklahomans saw action.

The menu for the hungry Sooners included scoring bites by six different players.

The result was squarely in line with pre-season predictions that Oklahoma, now rated third in the nation, will chew up all Big Seven competition for the eighth straight season. This was Oklahoma's 48th consecutive conference game without defeat.

Start Out Unsteadily

Oklahoma's two first teams worked unsteadily during much of the first half, earning an 18-6 halftime advantage in spite of five fumbles which three times lost them the ball.

Halfback Tom McDonald scampered to two touchdowns, his first coming from the nine-yard line only three minutes after the Kansas scoring appetizer. Kansas fullback Dick Reich tallied from seven yards out to cap a Kansas drive from the first kickoff.

McDonald's second touchdown—and 11th of the season—resulted from a 46-yard streak the first time Oklahoma got the ball in the second half.

Other scorers for Oklahoma were halfbacks Carl Dodd, Clendon Thomas and Robert Derrick, quarterback Jim Harris, and fullback Dennis Morris. Third string quarterback Bill Sturm kicked one of Oklahoma's two extra points, and Harris kicked the other.

Final Comes on Passes

Passes accounted for Oklahoma's final score as Strum tossed 36 yards to Derrick.

Morris returned a pass interception 19 yards, and Dodd, Harris and Thomas plunged across.

Oklahoma gained 288 yards rushing to 137 for the ineffectual Kansas offensive formation. It was Kansas's third loss in five starts.

McDonald, carrying six times for 88 yards, gained the rushing honors with halfback Ralph Moody Copping the Kansas rushing distinction by four carries netting 45 yards.

Terps Whip N. Carolina

CHAPEL HILL, N.C., Oct. 15—UP—Versatile Eddie Vereb scored three touchdowns and passed for another Saturday to lead the scarlet scourge of Maryland to its 10th straight triumph, a 25 to 7 victory over Coach Jim Tatum's alma mater, North Carolina.

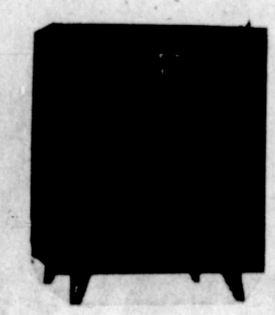

Vereb, a line-bolting halfback from Pittsburgh who co - captains Tatum's Terrors, had a hand in all Maryland touchdowns but it was from a one-man show for the 30,000 dismayed Carolina partisans.

Quarterback Frank Tamburello engineered scoring marches of 75 and 90 yards and completed a 51-yard pass play to end Russ Dennis to set up another Vereb touchdown.

The tough Maryland line, led by center Bob Pellegrini and tackle Mike Sandusky, effectively smothered the Tar Heel passing and running game. Carolina's only score, the first it has achieved against a Tatum-coached Maryland team, was a freak play.

CAT HUNTING BIRD DOG—State Game Warden Jack Woodford's pointer dog treed the bobcat shown here. The dog didn't "open" after treeing but did stay with the cat until Woodford moved in for the kill. The cat here is held by Woodford's son.

Panhandle Outdoor Life

By S. V. WHITEHORN

There are still quite a few doves in the Panhandle but the hunters have slacked off considerably. Unlike many autumns the birds have continued to stay around instead of going south with the first norther.

The season ended October 15. We will be able to say after all is over that the dove season of 1955 was one of the best in years.

Migration time is here. The eagles, hawks, ducks, sandhill cranes, etc. are on the wing and are moving thru the Panhandle at this time. We have had a few reports of eagles being killed already.

The Mexican or black eagle falls in the unprotected class while the other specie, the American or Bald eagle is a protected bird. Large numbers of hawks are seen on different occasions drifting south.

In a few more weeks the songbirds that have been around all summer will have moved on southward and the Texas Panhandle will be without these visitors until next spring. Even the buzzards are beginning to get the moving spirit and will soon be gone.

CAT HUNTING BIRD DOG

Last week a few miles north of Pampa, State Game Warden Jack Woodford's pointer dog treed a twenty pound bob-cat after chasing the animal some three hundred yards, thru the heavy cover over on Indian Creek. The dog didn't 'open' after treeing but did stay with animal until Mr. Woodford had time to arrive and make the kill. Note Photo.

There are more cats in the Panhandle now than we have had in years. On one Hutchinson county ranch last year there were about a dozen killed after being trapped.

ANTELOPE SEASON HERE

On Oct. 12, at sunrise the Antelope hunters were out after them up around Dalhart. From what reports we have, part of the ranchers will charge for the hunting privilege. Some of the ranchers will charge forty dollars we understand while others will charge twenty five. We also heard that some of the hunters will be able to hunt for free.

There will be over three hundred buck antelope killed during the month of October here in the Panhandle.

There has been quite a difference in opinion as to just how delicious antelope steaks are. Some hunters flatly state that the meat is superior to deer while others claim that the meat is not so good.

'Pud' Odis, cowboy, Sneed Ranch said that back in the early days they ate quite a few of the animals and that only the young were good. "The old ones are about like eating jack rabbit", so stated Mr. Odis.

I do know however, that antelope liver is the best yet. Cecil Fox, State Game Warden from Spur, managed to get a liver on the last season and a group of Wardens had one of the cafes over at Vega prepare the meal. It was delicious.

Were you ever like the boy the calf ran over — didn't have much to say. I will take a few interesting lines from the Texas Game and Fish, the monthly magazine published by the Dept. about our vanished and vanishing wildlife and the status of same.

The American Bald Eagle — Down to a few thousand nesting pair.

The Attawater Prairie Chicken — Only a few thousand remain.

The California Condor — Down to about sixty birds.

The Whooping Crane — Only twenty one remain.

The American Wolverine — is down to a pitiful few animals. While we still have a few of the above species left there are many species that have become extinct, such as the passenger pigeon, Heath hen, Ivory billed woodpecker, Eskimo curlew and others.

Gardenia Stakes Set

CAMDEN, N. J. —UP— Between 15 and 17 two-year-old fillies are expected to start in the Gardenia Stakes at Garden State Park next Saturday. If 17 go postward, the event will carry a gross purse of $39,300.

14 Unbeaten Teams Fall In High School Football

By UNITED PRESS

The thunder of toppling unbeaten schoolboy football teams rumbled across the length and breadth of Texas Saturday and mingled with the roars of acclaim for such standouts as the three defending division champions, Abilene, Phillips and Deer Park, and a host of others.

In all, 14 perfect record teams were knocked off, three others were tied and seven unbeaten-but-tied teams bit the dust Friday night and one other unbeaten team fell Thursday night.

The soaring Abilene Eagles turned in the stunner of the night as they humiliated what was supposed to have been a fine Odessa club, 47 to 0, but Waco's 39 to 20 defeat by Fort Worth Arlington Heights and Port Arthur's 14 to 13 upset by Galveston weren't far behind.

Phillips Keeps Rolling

Class AA champion Phillips continued to roll on unchecked with a 62 to 0 decision over Dalhart and Class A champ Deer Park beat Santa Fe, 44 to 6, as each chalked up their 21st straight victory.

Tyler's rampant Lions accounted for another perfect record team and stayed among the state's elite themselves as they beat Corpus Christi Ray, 27 to 14.

Ysleta had preceded Waco and Ray out of the perfect record ranks on Thursday night by bowing to El Paso High, 21 to 0, leaving only Abilene, Wichita Falls, Tyler, Corpus Christi Miller and Baytown unbeaten and untied and El Paso Austin unbeaten but tied in Class AAAA.

AA and AAA Lineups

Texas City was the only unbeaten-untied casualty in Class AAA, losing 12 to 6 to Beaumont French. Garland, Grand Prairie, Bryan and Alice remain with perfect records in that division, while Levelland, Texarkana and Beaumont South Park are unbeaten but tied.

In Class AA, Crane, Winters and Crockett fell from the unbeaten-untied list completely, while Dumas and Mercedes were tied for the first time. Carrollton and Falfurrias were knocked from the unbeaten-but tied list. The perfect record teams left are Phillips, Stamford, Abernathy, Spur, Kermit, Pecos, Ballinger, Graham, Terrell, Seagoville, Mount Vernon, Gladewater, Livingston, Killeen, Gonzales, Refugio, Port Acres and Weslaco. Unbeaten but tied are Perryton, Lampasas, Taylor, Lockhart, Port Lavaca, Nederland, Boling, Mercedes and Dumas.

Heavy Class A Casualties

The casualty list was extremely heavy in Class A where Merkel, Clifton, Duncanville, Fairfield, Missouri City, Pearsall, Three Rivers and Cushing were toppled from the perfect ranks and Los Fresnos was tied for the first time.

Hale Center, Wolfe City and Carrizo Springs suffered first defeats after having earlier ties.

This left Springlake, Ralls, Ozona, Albany, Chillicothe, Iowa Park, Lewisville, Quitman, Lindale, Deer Park, Vanderbilt, Bandera, George West and Rockport unbeaten and untied, Stinnett, Richardson, and Los Fresnos, unbeaten but tied.

Scotch Foursome Set At Pampa Country Club

A "Scotch Foursome" will get underway at the Pampa Country Club Golf Course today at 4 p.m. All golfers must have their partner and be ready to tee off at that time. The tournament is open to members of the Pampa Country Club. It is scheduled for nine holes.

At the conclusion of the matches the players will retire to the ball room of the Club and begin a hamburger dinner. After the dinner the golf pro, Hart Warfen will show golf movie entitled "Keep 'Em' in the Fairway." The movie is a joint production of the Professional Golfers Association and Life Magazine and has been acclaimed as the best golf movie ever produced.

It will give helpful hints pertaining to almost every situation in golf as well as hints on what the golfer is doing wrong when he slices, hooks, dubs and other misques.

The instruction is given by such golf personalities as Sam Snead, Ben Hogan and several of the other guests. Warren will answer questions and comment on the movie afterward. The movie will be open to all interested golfers and not only to members of the Country Club.

Golf balls will be given as prizes to winners of the "Scotch Foursome" by the Women's Golf Association. There will be no entry fee for the tournament.

Nashua Wins In Gold Cup Race

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—UP —Belair stud's Nashua, after shaking off a determined challenge by Thinking Cap won the 36th running of the $79,950 Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont Park Saturday by five lengths and took over second place on the list of the world's leading money winners.

Almost all the way down the backstretch Nashua and Thinking Cap raced as a team. Even their legs were in perfect rhythm until Nashua finally broke the race wide open with a half a mile to go.

BORIS KAMEROFF

Two Main Events Set Monday Night

The Pampa Shrine Club has scheduled two main events for their mat program Monday night, October 17, at the Top o' Texas Sportsman' Club beginning at 8.

The first main event, 2 out of 3 falls one hour time limit, is between Chris Belkas and Boris Kameroff.

These two need no introductions. They both have performed here before. Kameroff returned last week to defeat Martindale. Belkas has just returned from Canada where he had a very successful summer. Both boys are very rugged so this match should be something to watch.

CRIS BELKAS

The other main event is between the ever popular George Overhuls and Mike (Showboat) Gallagher. Gallagher believes in using any hold legal or illegal to win a match, which makes him a tough man to beat.

The wrestlers are now picking their own referees. Frankie Hill Murdock protested against the referee hired last week, claiming he could do better with one eye closed. He was chosen to referee the bouts Monday night by all the wrestlers except one.

ARE YOU THIS MAN?

Top Flight Texas Company has opening in Pampa for young married man 25-35. Right man will be trained, financed and assured of promotion. This is a genuine opportunity for the right man. The man we are looking for is now employed, but has reached top pay in present job or lacks opportunity for advancement. Write your qualifications to or contact:

Peg O' Pampa

AH, THESE BRISK NIGHTS . . . and these brisk days, sometimes, too . . . they sure put a lot of pep into Peg . . . It's funny how the change of weather affects people differently . . . some of Peg's friends are so peppy . . . and others just drag around . . . Peg's been cold all the time for two weeks, though, much to Mr. Peg's disgust . . . Sure wouldn't mind the warm days and cool nights all year around, though . . . wish we had more trees — Peg just loves to see the leaves change to the brilliant hues of yellow, red and bronze . . . oh, well . . . we have so much, that we can't expect to have everything.

THE PAMPA HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUBS have been having their annual achievement days . . . they are usually in the form of a coffee or a tea . . . members of all or some of the other clubs are invited . . . the women play games, talk and in general have a lot of fun . . . they also display all the things they have made during the year . . . hence the name — achievement day . . . and believe me, they do a lot . . . Peg sure does envy them . . . the Goodwill Club had a unique deal at their tea . . . they served the tea from a copper tea pot attached to a wrought iron stand. . . it was a reproduction of a Dutch teapot . . . these Dutch teapots have an interesting use . . . or an interesting custom attached to them . . . when the Dutch housewife has her house clean and is ready for company, she sets the teapot and the stand outside her front door . . . and the friends and neighbors start dropping in for tea . . . then, when it gets time for her husband to come home from work, the housewife brings in her teapot . . . and n omore tea guests come . . . real cute idea, Peg thinks . . . sure would do away with those unexpected guests that drop in at the most inconvenient times . . . bet our American husbands would appreciate it, too . . coming home to a free house from a bunch of women instead having to hide in the kitchen or bedroom until they leave . . . Peg wasn't able to find out if the guests already there leave when the Dutch housewife brings in the teapot . . . sure is a nice way to say "it's time to leave now."

THE SOCIAL SEASON HERE AT THE COUNTRY CLUB is in full-swing . . . had a lot of fun at the bridge tournament Thursday . . . going to continue for two more Thursday nights . . . Hazel and Jim Nation, Myron and Betty Marx and Joe and Johnnie Donaldson are in charge of it . . . bridge sure is going full swing in Pampa . . . with the Duplicate Bridge Club going real well, too . . . they meet every Monday night . . . Mrs. E. A. Herriman of Denver . . . who is in Pampa for several months . . . helped get the thing going and is director of it . . . it's a lot of fun . . . they play for points . . . Dr. Ray Hampton is president . . . those there quite frequently are the Quentin Williamses, Henry Gindorfs, Jack Merchants, Greely Warners, Jim Nations . . . little Pearly Mitchell . . . the J. L. McMurtrays . . . and Edith Sims . . . what Peg likes about it is you don't have to be a hotshot player to make a good showing . . . back to the Country Club . . . they held a teenage dance Friday and a dance for the adults Saturday (sorry, this is written beforehand) . . . they are also making plans for a Halloween dance the 31st . . . with the Johnnie Reitz Orchestra providing the music . . . it won't be a costume party, though . . . just an informal dance.

POTPOURRI . . . Peg thinks the exodus of Pampans from and back to our fair city is a year around thing . . . the Edwin Halls and family and the Rennie Wallers made the trek to the State Fair in Dallas and the T.U.O.U. game last week end . . . Adrienne and Jack Foster travelled that way last week, too . . . hear Mrs. A. C. Long is in New York to visit relatives and see the sights . . . Jean and Kirk Duncan went to some church meeting out-of-town this week . . . glad to see Jean is well again, after a bout with a cold . . . . Eunice Pierson, Dorothy Neslage, Louise Miller and Johnnie Donaldson did some entertaining recently, Peg heard . . . had a luncheon and bridge party in the Country Club . . . Understand Zenas Deer is quite a cook . . . makes a wonderful stew for the men at Celanese during the lunch hour . . . he designates what each man to share in the repast is to bring . . . one brings potatoes . . . one onions, etc . . . didn't know you had this hidden talent, Zenas . . . the Overtons had a company recently . . . Dottei's sister, Mrs. George James of McKinney and her niece, Mrs. J. W. Barnes of Waco . . . . news from Jessye Stroup is that she is enjoying a nice vacation in Hot Springs, Ark . . . visited friends and relatives enroute . . . . heard the David Pobsts are moving from Pampa . . to Louisiana . . . . Heard Bunny Behrman and Harold Wright caught 88 fish at Possum Kingdom last week end . . . . wow!

THE ST. PAUL METHODIST CHURCH newsletter had a wise little piece of prose in it this week . . . Peg liked it, so here it is . . . "a smile costs nothing but creates much. It happens in a flash and the memory sometimes lasts forever. It cannot be bought, begged, borrowed or stolen — but it is something that is given away. So if, in your hurry and rush, you meet someone who is too weary to give you a smile, leave one of yours. For no one needs a smile quite so much as he who has none to give." (Unknown)

HERE AND THERE . . . If you see the members of the Rho Eta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi suddenly developing a new grace . . new way of walking, sitting and standing . . . it's due to the program they had the other night on charm . . . by Mrs. Terry Culley . . she gave a series of charm lessons during the summer and all the women in town were raving about it . . . guess Peg had better get-on-the-ball and take a few lessons . . . seems everyone else is getting ahead of her . . . a forewarning of Halloween is in the air . . . Peg can just feel it . . . and in addition to mothers busy sewing or concocting costumes for their children . . . many Pampans are planning what they're going to wear to the Elks costume party . . . next Saturday . . . those parties are always a lot of fun . . . and the costumes should make it a real gala affair . . . understand Dr. Weldon Adair is making a big hit around town with his talks on and pictures of Germany.

TO BE CONTINUED . . . next week . . . Peg's run down . . . so will leave you with this thought . . . Be noble minded: our own heart and not other men's opinion of us forms our true honor. (Friedrich Schiller).

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY — Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gatlin, a pioneer ranch couple, are shown during the open house honoring them on their golden wedding anniversary. More than 200 persons attended the event. The couple has lived in the Pampa area for nearly 50 years. (Photo by Smith's Studio)

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

A new fashion makes news for women. A new bug makes news for entomologists. For fathers and mothers of children, news is made by a new definition of love.

News for us was made this week by the publication of Dr. Erich Fromm's new book "The Sane Society." For in it, this internationally noted teacher of psychoanalysis, compressing his years of experience and research into the nature of love, re-defines it for us. He writes: "Love is union with somebody or something outside of oneself, under the condition of retaining the separateness and integrity of one's own self."

If we loved children with the "separateness" of this new definition, we could bring in the millennium.

Lack of it causes 98 per cent of our problems.

In its most destructive form, you can see lack of "separateness" at work any day in any children's court.

Before the judge stand a mother and child. They are one in numbed anger and shame. They're so one you couldn't insert a knife between them. So without distinction is the mother from the child that the child has virtually disappeared to her. She is the child. The bad thing the child has done is the bad thing she did.

So there's hate in her, not love — as must inevitably be the case when our dignity is embedded in another person. For of course, unless we're his Siamese twin, we cannot govern everything he may choose to do with the dignity we've handed over to him.

In milder form, lack of "separateness" accounts for the anger with which we just punished Jimmy for trampling a neighbor's grass seed. It turned the young footprints displayed by the wrathful neighbor into our footprints. It made Jimmy's carelessness in retrieving his ball our carelessness.

In our frustration with guilt for footprints and carelessness that were not ours, we slapped Jimmy. We sent him to bed without lunch. We felt a flash of hate for Jimmy.

Love without "separateness" is cruelly unjust. We do not throw balls carelessly. We do not trample grass seed. We are not Jimmy. We are ourselves and the actions he takes are as different from those we take as the years of different experience between us. Had we known this, we could have corrected Jimmy's kindly and more competently.

"If the need of fusion were realized in parental love," writes Dr. Fromm, "it would mean the destruction of the child as an independent being."

To attend a children's court is to see that it means the destruction of parents, too. We cannot love a child without detachment from him. Until we can obey love's command for "separateness," he is a secret threat and burden to us.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Celebrated At Open House By Charlie Gatlins

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie A. Gatlin, a pioneer ranch couple, were honored with an open house on their golden wedding anniversary Oct. 9, in their home, 12 miles south of Pampa. The event was given by Mrs. Clara P. Smith and Mrs. Thelma Hopkins, the couple's daughters.

Guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Gatlin, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Smith and Jim Hopkins. Miss Jean Hopkins, attired in a formal, presided at the guest register.

Mrs. Gatlin was presented a corsage of gold mums, and the ladies in the houseparty wore corsages of gold mums. The house was decorated with arrangements of gold mums, white, red and fuchsia dahlias, and fern.

Scripture was read and a prayer was led by Rev. Ronald Hubbard, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Pampa.

The serving table was covered with a white crocheted cloth over gold linen, made by Mrs. Gatlin.

The centerpiece was an arrangement of gold and bronze mums, dahlias and fern and was flanked by gold and white tapers in crystal candelabra.

Refreshments of punch, cake, nuts and golden mints were served. Mrs. George Howe presided at the crystal punch bowl, and Mrs. W. E. Melton served the cake. Assisting with the servings were Misses Gay Nan Vanderburg, Mary Joe Stone and Sherilan Sikes, all dressed in formals.

Family members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Covin of Chickasha, Okla.; Marshall Covin of Houston; Ross Gatlin of Gulfport, Miss.; Mrs. Dolly Gray of Arlington, Calif.; Mrs. Dwade Warrell of Ajo, Ariz.; Mrs. Fanny Courtney of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Velma Manns and children of Odessa.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hensley of Altus, Okla.; Mrs. Dorcus Ruth Foster and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Wilson, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Crews and family of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Patching of Claude; Mr. and Mrs. Dayton Shelton of Clarendon; Mrs. Oran McCauley of Spearman; Mrs. Dot Hindman of Shamrock; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Paris of Miami; and Mrs. Fidella Stubbs of Alanreed.

Others attended from Pampa, Lefors and McLean, totaling more than 200 persons.

Junior High PTA Slates Safety Panel

The Junior High Parent-Teacher Association will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in the school auditorium.

Joe Tooley will be program leader and has arranged a panel of six persons to discuss safety and teenage driving. The panel will be composed of two state, one city and one county peace officers, a local lawyer and a radio commentator.

The program will be followed by a question-and-answer period. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Jack Foster, president, has announced that entertainment will be provided for children, four through 10 years of age. The children will be taken from the auditorium to Room 2-B for a cartoon-type film. The entertainment and care of the children will be under the direction of two mothers of seventh grade students.

AAUW Slates Talk By J. E. Thompson

"What's New in Women's Rights" will be discussed by J. E. Thompson, attorney, at the American Association of University Women's meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the City Clubroom.

"If you wish your name to be in the 1955-56 yearbook, you must pay your dues at this meeting," Miss Sibyl Turner, president, announced.

Miss Turner also has announced a board meeting Monday at 4:15 p.m. at 722 W. Browning, Apt. 3.

Mrs. Loyal Davies is hostess chairman for the Tuesday meeting. Mrs. Neil Ralston will assist her.

Sharp Group Elects New Officer Slate

New officers were elected by members of the Sharp Group of the First Christian Church at a meeting in the home of Mrs. E. B. Jackson.

Those elected were Mrs. L. C. Wassell, leader; Mrs. O. H. Odom, co-leader; Mrs. Jack Tregellas, secretary; Mrs. Don Meador, treasurer; Mrs. E. K. Haner, program chairman; Mrs. L. H. Kirkendall, welfare chairman; Mrs. C. N. Gage, banquet chairman; Mrs. E. B. Jackson, telephone chairman; Mrs. E. L. Tucker, world call chairman; and Mrs. K. L. Green, reporter.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. J. L. Savage. Mrs. Don Bissell presented the devotional, taught the lesson and led the discussion on the health of the Indians.

During the business session, members were reminded to bring articles of clothing for the Christmas box to be sent to the Juliette Fowler Children's Home in Dallas. They were also reminded to visit the shut-ins.

Refreshments of coffee and cake were served during the social period. Sixteen members were present. Next meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. Nov. 14, in the home of Mrs. J. L. Savage, 703 N. Frost.

MISS SHIRLEY OLSEN
(Photo by Clarence's Studio)

RUTH MILLETT

You meet a large group of women and one woman stands out from the crowd. You are sure you will remember her even if you don't see her again for a long time. What makes this one woman a person while the other women are just names and faces that make only the slightest impression?

She may be beautiful. A really beautiful woman is easily remembered.

But chances are she isn't one of those exceptional women whose beauty is outstanding.

It is much more likely that she is so lacking in self - consciousness that she is free to beherself.

Because she isn't struggling to make an impression her face isn't frozen into a polite smile. Her eyes aren't unseeing, as she talks to others while thinking about herself.

Her talk isn't a series of polite little speeches so many women use to get them through all kinds of social occasions.

She is relaxed, at ease, and able to enjoy her surroundings, to really see and draw out the persons she meets, and she seems unusual simply because she is not afraid to be herself.

The reason you are going to be able to remember her is because she isn't wearing a polite mask or hiding her real self from you as she tries hard to make an impression.

You will remember her for the simple reason that she lets you see her as she is — a friendly, interested, alive person more interested in getting to know others than in impressing them.

Perryton SS Class Has Business Meet

PERRYTON — (Special) — The Susanna Wesley Sunday School class of the First Methodist Church met recently in the church.

Hostesses were Mmes. L. H. Littau, Kirt Williams and Jess Cudd. Mrs. J. S. Thrasher was in charge of the program. Mrs. Cudd led the business meeting, during which officers were elected.

Pie a la mode and iced tea were served to Mmes. L. H. Lance, Fred Huston, Kirt Williams, Golta Tandy, E. C. Dodson, C. F. Jones, J. S. Thrasher, J. W. Chase, J. S. Juliusson and Cecil Teeter.

Miss Shirley Olsen To Be Stewardess

Miss Shirley Olsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Olsen, 907 Twiford, has accepted a position as stewardess with Central Airlines with headquarters at Meacham Field, Fort Worth.

Miss Olsen was graduated from Pampa High School and attended Tarleton State College at Stephenville, majoring in business administration. She was a member of the Eternas sorority at Tarleton and resided in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Davis of Bluff Dale.

B&PW Hears Talk On Rehabilitation

L. R. Harris of the Texas Employment Commission spoke on the rehabilitation of the physically handicapped at the recent meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club in the City Club Room.

Harris showed a film and stated that 60,000 people were prepared for work and placed in jobs by June 30, 1955.

"Vocational rehabilitation is a public service, designed to develop, preserve, or restore the ability of disabled men and women to work for the public," he explained.

There are now 130,000 in the process of learning some trade in which they can be useful, Harris told the women. About three-fourths of these people are not employed; 12 per cent have never worked; 20 per cent are receiving public assistance.

It is good business, Harris explained, to hire the physically handicapped and make them feel and know they are as important to a business as any of the other employes.

Members present were Mmes. Grant Anderson, Viva Burgess, Gladys Jaynes, G. E. Tinnin, Emmett Gee, Irene Mulanax, Hazel Jay, D. C. Ash, Helen Knox, O. W. Appleby, Hattie Holt, Rufe B. Thompson, Willard C. Chapman, M. E. Powers, H. F. McDonald Jr., Euna Lee Moores, Lilie Mae Fowler, Howard Patton, Sam Williams, A. R. Killen, Mable Winters, Laura Belle Cornelius, W. A. Holy Souls Home, School Association Plans "Fun Night"

Harrell Bailey, representative of the Eli-Lilly Company of Indianapolis, Ind., spoke on the Salk vaccine at the recent meeting of Holy Souls Home and School Association in Parish Hall.

If the public were properly educated to the vaccine there would be no fear and bewilderment to the confused public, he stated. He pointed out that 19 years have been spent in research and $22 million in investigation. He added that smallpox, diptheria and typhoid vaccines aren't 100 per cent perfect, and yet, the public thinks nothing of receiving the vaccine.

Before the Salk vaccine, one child in every 2,500 came down with polio, Bailey pointed out. Since the vaccine, it has dropped to one child in every 8,000.

During the business session led by Mrs. Lloyd Simpson, president, it was announced fun night will be held at 6 p.m. Oct. 27, in Parish Hall. The kitchen committee will serve hot dogs and other refreshments.

Mrs. E. E. Davis, room mother chairman, stated her group has completed plans for booths for fun night, with each room to sponsor one. Mrs. George Cree and Mrs. Joe Gidden, first grade room mothers in charge of fish pond booth, requested each mother donate a "white elephant." A box will be placed in the school hall for this purpose.

It was announced the association purchased a new piano to be used for teaching music. The women were reminded that the school children are now taking orders for religious Christmas cards.

Dr. Joe Gates Speaks On Mental And Physical Health At Hopkins PTA Meet

Dr. Joe Gates of Pampa was guest speaker at the recent meeting of the Hopkins Parent-Teacher Association in the community hall. His topic was "The Family Builds Strong Bodies."

Dr. Gates told the group of the potential dangers to young children in the average home, stating that the three main ones are aspirin, lye and bleach. He explained that children are naturally curious and like to explore, which often leads to tragedy.

He stressed the need for healthful nourishing foods and for a family schedule of work, eat, play and rest because youngsters aren't as flexible as adults.

Eye difficulties can be avoided through proper lighting in the home and early eye examination, he told the group.

Mental growth is as important as physical growth, he explained, stating that mental growth depends upon the family. He pointed out that a child needs two things — to be loved and a sense of responsibility. He told of the danger of over-protection and of the need for consistency.

"It is up to the parents and teachers to supply the many physical and emotional needs of young, growing boys and girls, so they may become healthy and well-adjusted citizens," he concluded.

He spoke briefly on the success of the present polio program, which was followed by a question and answer period.

The devotional was given by J. B. Huntington, and T. J. Adkins explained facts about the birthday of the Texas PTA Congress.

During the business session, led by Mrs. Howard Brown, president, Mrs. Ray Stephenson was elected delegate to the state convention, to be held in Fort Worth Nov. 16-18.

The program was under the direction of the sixth and seventh grade students. Hostesses for the social period were mothers of fourth grade pupils.

"I Demanded ADEQUATE WIRING"

says Mr. H. L. BRADLEY
306 AUSTIN ST., BORGER, TEXAS

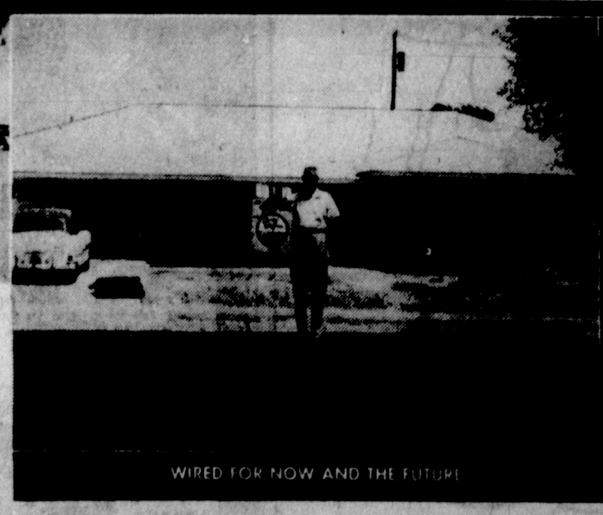

"Yes, I demanded Certified Adequate Wiring for my new home because I want it to stay modern, and be ready for the electric appliances of tomorrow."

The lifeline of your home in this age of electric living is the electric wiring. Adequate wiring is an investment that pays dividends every day — dividends in convenience, comfort and pleasant living — electric living.

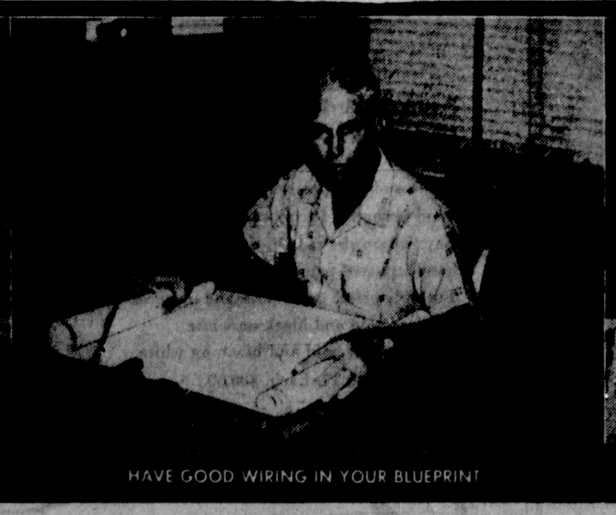

The biggest bargain in any house — be it modest or a mansion — is electric service. The average cost of a residential kilowatt-hour, for example, is down 14% from 1946. Can you think of anything else that costs less today than it did in 1946?

To make this big bargain even better, tell your qualified electrical contractor that you want your wiring brought-up-to-date now. And, if you're building a new home, remember wiring never costs less than it does when you're building.

ADEQUATE WIRING SERVES AND SAVES

"Believe me, 10 years from now, you'll be glad that you demanded that your house be certified as an adequately wired home. Just tell your building contractor, or electrical contractor, that you want certified wiring."

"Be sure that certified wiring specifications are included with the blue print of the original construction plans. And have the wiring specifications included in the original papers for your loan application."

"This is the symbol to look for and demand to electrically insure your home for the future, and to do away with extension cords, shrinking TV pictures and blowing fuses.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

CHARLES M. KINDER, Pastor
The Church of God of Prophecy

Bible Holiness and Some Reasons for Preaching It

I Peter 3:15—

But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you with meekness and fear,

The word teaches us to be holy and we are to be able to make all men see that the Bible teaches Holiness, God commands it.

I Peter 1:15,16: But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

Because it is written, Be ye holy; for I am holy saith the Lord.

God sware it, Luke 1:73-75, The oath which he sware to our father Abraham.

That he would grant unto us that we being delivered out of the hand of our enemies might serve him without fear,

In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.

Jesus died for it. Hebrews 13:12 — Wherefore Jesus also, that he might sanctify the people with his own blood, suffered without the gate.

It is God's will for us to be holy. I Thess. 4:3,7 — For this is the will of God, even your sanctification, that ye should abstain from fornication and all appearance of evil, For God hath not called us unto uncleanliness, but unto holiness.

And it will keep us blameless, I Thess. 5:23 — And the very God of peace sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

We can't see God without it. Hebrews 12:14 — Follow peace with all men, and holiness, without which no man shall see the Lord.

Holy people become God's house. Psalm 93:5 — Thy testimonies are very sure: holiness becometh thine house, O Lord, forever.

Jesus prayed that we might have it. John 17:17 — Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth.

Holiness is defined in two words, Hearty and Purity. A man must be sanctified in order to have a pure heart. None but the pure in heart shall see God. Without holiness no man shall see God. When a man is sanctified and his heart has been washed in the blood of Jesus, he is Pure within and will doubtless live clean outside too.

Liberte Salute

France, we salute you!

We doff our hats! We toss garlands of roses before your feet! We award you the mantle for statesmanship! The accolades are all yours.

You have walked out of the United Nations!

For a number of years we have rather despaired of you. Your politics were appalling. Your tendency toward socialism and communism was deplorable. It seemed to us that you were so interested in placating the common man, that you had forgotten that France could breed uncommon men as well. You seemed to thrive on the herd instinct. Everything was "democracy" with you. You had copied us since the days of our revolution. But you had always seemed to stress the non-essentials and miss the essentials. You aped us in our errors. You ignored our virtues.

Back in the days of Robespierre and Danton you abandoned the truly liberal position in your Chamber of Deputies, to take up a stance of phony liberalism. Since your king-topplers claimed to represent the PEOPLE, and since they conceived that all power belonged to the people, then they concluded with strange illogic that all power belonged to those who represent the people. A tyranny grew where seeds of freedom had first been sown. Your own answer was the man on horseback. His name was Napoleon. He ushered in two decades of violence and terror which bled Europe white.

And since that time the leadership of France has ranged all the way from mediocre to abysmal.

But, now, you have walked out of the U.N.! Of course you have reserved the right to come back in . . . a foolish precaution, when you will be so much better off outside, minding your own business.

Who was it actually planned this walkout? Was it Premier Edgar Faure? Was it Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay? Was it President Rene Coty? Or was it some obscure cabinet member whose name is unknown to us who now is struggling to the fore as a great leader? Whoever it was, he has set an example for the United States.

Undoubtedly American pressure will be exerted to get you back in the U.N. For the U.N. is the darling of American internationalists who want their fingers in every piece of political business in the world. But don't you pay any attention.

France was once a great power in the world. She is now fifth rate. She has sunk to her present level through trying to mind everyone's business but her own.

This walkout of the U.N. could be the turning point for you, France. You can regain your lost virtue, your independence, your stature, if you will throw off these international shackles and be yourself.

If you have the courage to stand erect again for yourself, you may inspire us with the same kind of bravery. In 1776 we inspired you to throw off a despotism. Perhaps in 1956 (if you stay out) you will inspire us to throw off an equally galling yoke. In any case, your move, whatever your motive, was a sound one. France, we salute you.

THE NATION'S PRESS

THE FRENCH TAKE A WALK

(Chicago Tribune)

The French walkout from the United Nations general assembly demonstrates that international organizations proclaiming noble motives come and go, but the character and ambition of nations remain what they always have been. Their lasting interest is territory—to have it, to hold it, and frequently to get more, if possible.

What piqued the French was the beginning of an attempt to pry them loose from some territory. They have Algeria, in North Africa, where their title is becoming shaky because of nationalistic stirrings, and they have tried to ward off any challenge to their tenure by saying that Algeria is a department of France and not a colonial holding. This gives them a technical objection to any effort of outsiders to meddle with the status of Algeria, for they refer to article 2 of the U. N. charter and say this is strictly their own domestic concern.

When the Arab and African nations called for debate on Algerian freedom, the motion was carried, 28 to 27, with Soviet Russia and its communist water carriers putting in a mocking vote for human liberty. The United States, conscious, as usual, of the need to placate its shaky allies in the North Atlantic Treaty organization, voted in support of a French gag on debate. So, it will be seen, the motives in this matter were strictly political, altho nations which have had some acquantiance with colonial rule may be credited with a degree of sincerity in behalf of the Algerians.

But, at the same time, the inconsistency of the action was transparent, for the assembly only a week before had turned thumbs down on a motion to hear the case for Cyprus, an island of preponderantly Greek population, which has been agitating to escape from British rule. And the utter silence on the status prevailing in eastern Europe, where a half dozen nations have been swallowed up by communism, provided any additional evidence required to show that if U. N. is an agency dedicated to human liberty, it does not act upon any general and all-embracing standard in support of self-determination.

Altho the French cried aloud with rage and ostentatiously took leave of the assembly, they were sufficiently prudent to leave behind a representative to sit on the U. N. security council, where they can exercise the veto power. One incensed Frenchman, not properly grateful for this country's support of colonialism, remarked that if U. N. could investigate Algeria, then it had an equal right to investigate justice in Mississippi. If our more enthusiastic internationalists had their way, they would not demur to such intervention in our domestic affairs, but the fact remains that Mississippi is an integral part of the American Union and Algeria is only an artificial appendage of France.

There is some talk that U. N. faces a major crisis, but experience would suggest that the principal product will be talk, which never gets anywhere. The old league of nations survived more complete walkouts by Germany, Italy, and Japan, but foundered shortly afterward when war was adopted by these nations and by Russia as a means of effecting a forcible arbitrament of territorial matters. So we may predict continuing existence for U. N.—until some really important squabble arises.

Herbert Spencer On Government Education

No. 7

Here's the last installment of Herbert Spencer's article on government schools as published in "Social Statics." It was originally published in 1842.

"Yet another objection remains. Just as we found, on close examination, by poor-laws a government cannot really cure distress, but can only shift it from one section of the community to another, so, astounding as the assertion looks, we shall find that a government cannot in fact educate at all, but can only educate some by uneducating others. If, before agitating the matter, men had taken the precaution to define education, they would probably have seen that the state can afford no true help in the matter. But having unfortunately neglected to do this, they have confined their attention solely to the education given at school, and have forgotten to inquire how their plans bear upon the education which commences when school-days end. It is not indeed that they do not know this discipline of daily duty to be valuable—more valuable, in fact, than the discipline of the teacher. You may often hear them remark as much. But with the eagerness usual amonst schemers, they are so absorbed in studying the action of their proposed mechansim as to overlook its reaction.

"Nor is it only thus that a state-education would encourage men to obey present impulses. An influence unfavorable to the increase of self-control would be exercised by it throughout the whole of parental life. That powerful restraint which the anxiety to give children schooling now imposes upon the improvident tendencies of the poor would be removed. Many a man who, as things are, can but just keep the mastery over some vicious or extravagant propensity, and whose most efficient curb is the thought that if he gives way it must be at the sacrifice of that book-learning which he is ambitious to give his family, would fall were this curb weakend—would not only cease to improve in power of self-control as he is now doing, but would probaly retrograde, and bequeath his offspring to a lower instead of a higher phase of civilization.

"Hence, as was said, a government can educate in one direction only by uneducating in another—can confer knowledge only at the expense of character. It retards the development of a quality universally needed — one in the absence of which poverty, and recklessness, and crime, must ever continue: and all that it may give a smattering of information.

"What a contrast is there between these futile contrivances of men and, the admirable, silent-working mechanisms of nature! Nature, with a perfect economy, turns all forces to account. She makes action and reaction alike useful. This strong affection for progeny becomes in her hands the agent of a double culture, serving at once to fashion parent and child into the desired form. And beautiful is it to see how the most powerful of instincts is made the means of holding men under a discipline to which perhaps, nothing else could make them submit. Yet this skillfully-devised arrangement statesmen propose to dislocate confidently opining that their own patent apparatus will answer a great deal better!

"11. Thus, in the present, as in other cases, we find the dictate of the abstract law enforced by secondary considerations. The alleged right to education at the hands of the state proves to be untenable; first, as logically committing its supporters to other claims too absurd for consideration; and again, as being incapable of definition. Moreover, could the claim be established, it would imply the duty of government despotically to enforce its system of discipline, and the duty of the subject to submit. That education ought not to be dealt in after the same manner as other things, because in its case 'the interest and judgment of the consumer are not suffient security for the goodness of the commodity,' is a plea with most suspicious antecedents; having been many tinies employed in other instances, and many times disproved. Neither is the implied assumption that the 'interest and judgment' of a government would constitute a sufficient security admissible. On the contrary, experience proves that the interests of a government, and of all the institutions it may set up, are directly opposed to education of the most important kind. Again, to say that legislative teaching is needful, because other teaching has failed, presupposes a pitiably narrow view of human progress; and further, involves the strange scepticism that though natural agencies have brought the enlightment of mankind to its present height, and are even now increasing it at an unparalleled rate, they will no longer answer. The belief that education is a preventive of crime, having no foundation either in theory or fact, cannot be held an excuse for interference. And, to crown all, it turns out that the institution so much longed for is a mere dead machine, which can only give out in one form the power it absorbs in another, minus the friction—a thing which cannot stir toward effecting this kind of education without abstracting the force now accomplishing that —a thing, therefore, which cannot educate at all."

Golfer — Boy, how many did I take to do that hole?

Demo Farm Bloc Shifting Attack To Dulles, Ike

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The Democratic farm bloc on Capitol Hill has temporarily shifted its attack from Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and the White House. In a preview off next year's campaign on this front, it accuses Dulles and President Eisenhower of favoring foreign producers of food and fibres, especially cotton and wheat, at the espense of the American farmer.

Russia's recent barter deals, involving weapons, steel mills, cotton and rice, as well as our Allies' willingness to do business with Moscow, have aroused resentfent against the Administration's alleged discrimination against domestic producers. They cannot understand why we should cut ourselves out of this international commerce.

The bloc's spokesmen point out that the largest portion of the Commodity Credit Corporation's $7 billion surplus consists of commodities not offered for sale in world markets at favorable and competitive prices, although the law authorizes such transactions.

In fact, Benson set up a foreign sales organization on the specific order off Congress at the last session. The measure was sponsored by Representative Jamie L. Whitten of Mississippi, chairman of the House Subcommittee on Agriculture Appropriations. His chief concern is cotton, which has fallen in price lately.

Whitten obtained a $1,000,000 fund to finance a foreign selling staff. As evidence of Congressional sentiment, his bill passed House and Senate in a few minutes, without any opposition or amendments. It was generally expected that Benson would dispose of at least $2 billion worth of surpluses, which would have obviated the need for an extra appropriation of $2 billion for CCC.

Both Benson and the Republican leadership in the House at first denounced the Whitten proposal as "politics," but the spreading farm revolt led them to welcome the overseas sales program.

Benson negotiated several tentative deals, making a special trip abroad, but protests from foreign nations, especially Canada, sent Dulles complaining to the White House. Ike sided with State lest American competition jeopardize the solidity of the Western Alliance.

According to Whitten and his Southern colleagues, other countries do not show this same restraint and consideration. Besides selling farm commodities at bargain prices, he charges that they manipulate their currencies for the benefit of buyers in world markets.

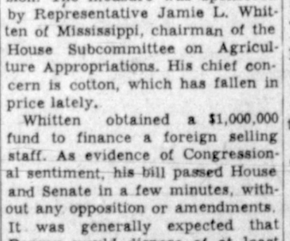

Whitten also points out that the U.S. has brought new foreign land into competitive production with its loans and grants, and furnished technical aid to grow commodities which make up our surpluses. His committee will investigate reports that the Treasury gives tax concessions to U.S. interests in overseas farm operations, especially in cotton.

He maintains that, when Benson reduces cotton acreage at home, these Americans then increase the amount of overseas land planted to cotton, thus depressing prices. This form of "giveaway" program will headline debate in the next Congress and in the 1956 election. Farmers are not the only group upset by this partiality to foreign interests. John L. Lewis has protested against the recent decision to cut down on the export of coal.

In the midst of the 1952 campaign, Harold E. Stassen, then head of ECA, promised to buy 10,000,000 tons of coal for export. He named the 11 states where the purchases would be made, all but one — Alabama — voted for Ike.

Purchase hev totaled only 1,100,000 tons, according to Lewis and Representative Daniel J. Flood of Pennsylvania. Now, the International Co-operation Administration announces that it will undertake no special coal export program this year. It will let Bditain, France, Belgium, Germany and Japan enjoy this market.

At the request of Flood, a Senate Interior Subcommittee will question Dulles and associates on his coal restrictions, while Whitten's group will demand that the Administration lift the blockade on everseas sales of cotton and other major crops in surplus.

Prosperity is here to stay—until after the election.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

In our complicated industrial civilization, an enormous number of people come in contact with substances in their occupations which may damage the skin. It is said that at least two-thirds of all occupational diseases are skin diseases and that perhaps one out of each hundred of all industrial workers are affected by occupational skin diseases of varying degrees of severity.

There are considered to be a number of predisposing factors in acquiring an occupational skin disease. Any thinning or breaking of the outer layer of skin, for example, aids the entry of an outside irritant. Pigment of the skin plays a part: the Negro is less susceptible to skin irritants than the white man and among the latter those with thin, blond skins appear more susceptible to some irritants than brunettes.

Workers with thick, oily skin are better able to resist the irritating effects of some fat solvents, but those with hairy arms and legs and oily skin are more likely to develop pimple - like lesions from contact with greasy substances.

Ordinarily, perspiration serves as some protection against skin irritants by diluting them; on the other hand, excessive prespiration may encourage some forms of irritation from solid substances. Age enters into the picture: apparently most workers who develop industrial skin disorders are young and new at the job.

THE SKIN OF WOMEN is more sensitive to external irritants than that of men because it is drier. Occupational skin disorders are more frequent in warm weather — perhaps because less clothing is worn. The presence of a nonoccupational skin disorder, particularly one involving itching and scratching, will also make a person more susceptible to contact with external irritants.

Planned Economy Will Not Overturn The Natural Law

By Thurman Sensing

Those who believe in Government planning and Government controls in this country are constantly worried because situations are always arising outside the scope of their planning that upset their calculations. It has not soaked in on them yet that this is the historic nemesis of the planned economy. Planned economy has never yet overturned natural laws and never will.

Planned economy won't even work within a nation, much less within a world. As George Schwartz, the brilliant British economist said to me in London a few years ago, "A planned economy might work all right for us if they would let Great Britain do all the planning The trouble is that other nations in the world want to plan things once in a while; and that upsets all our planning."

Planned economy only gets people into trouble. We have certainly seen that happen in the case of our planned agriculture. More than 14,000 farmers got into trouble in this country last year for raising too much wheat. They must either pay a penalty or go to jail. They can't even feed the excess wheat to their chickens or grind it up for flour for their own tables. The only way they can escape the penalty, says the Department of Agriculture, is to give the wheat to the Department of Agriculture or store it and promise not to sell it or use it. And what good, we may ask, would that do the farmer?

Now we are worried about a shortage of school teachers and classrooms in this country, about a lack of tax money with which to provide them. We are arguing over whether the Federal or local governments should bear this added cost. Yet the baby crop is bigger than ever, not only due to more families but due to bigger families And all these new mouths to feed causes the young people to buy more and go into debt more — all of which is looked to by some as prosperity and by others as inflation and over-extended credit. All the same, the government planning crowd indicate they have the feeling that things are getting out of hand.

And so we may look any day now for the planners to propose the regulation of one more crop — the Baby crop! What else is left?

It is related that a few years ago under the socialist government of Britain, a Labor member of Parliament was making a speech in the House of Commons one day extolling the great virtues of socialized medicine. "We have now in Great Britain," he said, "more fine healthy babies than ever before in the history of the empire, and, I ask you, to what is that due?" Immediately a member on the Conservative side shouted back, "Private enterprise."

Well, if we know anything, we know that our nation was built through private enterprise. We know that history records no single instance of a nation that prospered under the Government controls of a planned economy. The sooner we get rid of the Government controls we have overhanging from the emergency of war, the better it will be for all the people. One woul dthink, with the history and tradition back of us, that we would have done so long ago. The fact that we haven't reflects on our intelligence as a free people in a free nation.

There must have been more backscratching the past session of Congress than any of us taxpayers realized. The story has recently been released that the Corps of Engineers and Reclamation Bureau will start or resume work on 109 big irrigation, harbor improvement and such works this fiscal year.

This is triple the number for last fiscal year and two and a half times as many as the Administration asked. The total eventual cost of these projects alone, excluding all the others under way or planned, is now figured at $1.3 billion.

But of course next year is election year and everybody must try to buy some of the taxpayers votes with the taxpayers' own money.

Before The Dishes Are Done

By BETTY KNOWLES HUNT

UNCERTAINTY EVERYWHERE

All of a sudden — the atmosphere of the nation and the world —is highly uncertain. It seems only yesterday that optimism was everywhere, after the Geneva Conference, — yet now — except for official pronouncements — it seems to have evaporated into thin air.

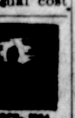

President Eisenhower's sudden and totally-unexpected heart attack after nearly six weeks of vacation, sent an acute shock wave reverberating around the world, while our own stock-market nosedived with the jitters. The smug and supremely-confident Republican Party secretly shuddered as what looked like an easy victory now loomed into a great doubt. Even the Democrats, with their brightened prospects, realized that this could easily be jeopardized by a wide-open, knock-down brawl among a suddenly-eager bevy of competing candidates. Politically, everything was highly uncertain, and dozens of speculations were being rumored about. There was even uncertainty as to what could or should happen if the President's sickness continues any length of time, for the Constitution does not spell out clear rules for such an emergency.

Down in Argentina, the once-powerful Peron was toppled from his throne by a military revolt. There too, there is nothing but uncertainty, for — although few Americans would regret Peron's departure, the new provisional government was starting off in a shaky, timid and unpredictable manner. The first big test came when Gainza Paz, former owner and editor of the nation's most respected and respectable paper, La Prensa, announced happily that he could now leave American exile and go home. Peron had confiscated this great paper, and handed it over to his "shirtless" Peronista labor organization. And now — the new government, fearing what these still powerful Peronistas might do, capitulated for their support, and announced that it would not return La Prensa to its rightful owner. If "freedom of the press" is still to be denied, — it is highly doubtful whether any other real freedoms will be respected either. Argentina is also confronted with impending bankruptcy, which can only be averted by drastic and courageous economic reforms. But these are certain to be unpopular, and might lead to another public revolt, since Argentinians are notoriously emotional and fickle in their moods and loyalties, — so the new government hesitates timidly again.

In France, uncertainty merely piles upon uncertainty as usual—only more so. The North African revolt of her colonies grows angrier, and when the United Nations voted to consider Algeria's claim to independence, France pulled her delegates out of the U. N., and threatened to walk out permanently. (The Soviets had walked out only a few hours before, when the Nationalist Chinese delegate spoke) The French incident, found the west — including the U. S. — lining up with French Colonialism again, — despite the steady avalanche of warnings we have received from Asia, Africa and the Middle East, that this repudiation of our traditional championship of every people's right to self-determination and freedom, —is jeopardizing their former trust and admiration of us. If they all turn against us, we have only ourselves to blame for this cowardly role we are playing in the matter of Western Colonialism.

Post-Geneva developments in Europe are also a mass of ominous uncertainty. West Germany, by granting the Soviet demand for diplomatic recognition, has opened her doors to Communist influence and subversion. Talk of big Russian - German trade deals are growing, as West Germans succumb to this lure of economic prosperity. France, Britain and the other NATO powers are blithely and eagerly cutting back their defense plans, and repudiating their past promises. Everybody cites the "Geneva Spirit" as an excuse to relax, and everybody talks glibly of "dealing directly" with the now —reasonable and affable Soviets. This is a made-to-order atmosphere for the Communists to cagily play off one country against another, while they consolidate their own power for eventual control of Europe.

So — even though uncertainty is everywhere, we still pretend officially that everything is wonderful and peace is growing ever-nearer. The same Geneva record keeps playing, and the official order is still to cover up and tone down any unpleasant incidents which might tend to upset public confidence.

...with JAMES C. INGEBRETSEN
President, Spiritual Mobilization

The American Friends Service Committee of Philadelphia, according to news reports, is setting up a grant-and-loan fund in its Chicago office to aid Illinois State employees ousted for refusing to sign a non-Communist oath. The money comes from a $150,000 grant from the Fund for the Republic made last May for "a two-year program of support in legal cases to strengthen the right to freedom of conscience."

Now, nearly all of us are for upholding "the right to freedom of conscience." But most of us are also for the right of an employer to be his own judge of who belongs on his payroll—and this includes a State government as well as any other employer.

And I do not see how "the right of freedom of conscience" is infringed if a State declines to employ persons who refuse to deny that they are Communists.

One cannot help but wonder whether either the American Friends Service Committee or the Fund for the Republic are serving the general welfare of our American Republic through such expenditures as these.

Legion Elects J. A. Wagner National Chief

By CHARLES TAYLOR

MIAMI —UP— J. Addington Wagner, an attorney of Battle Creek, Mich., and Purple Heart winner in World War II, was elected national commander of the American Legion Thursday.

Wagner, who has traveled an estimated 86,000 miles in the last two years in behalf of the Legion and his candidacy, was named with only 35 votes against him.

Jacob Kessler of Worchested, Mass., nominated Dwight D. McCarty of Fitchburg, Mass., and then asked to withdraw the nomination when present National Commander Seaborn P. Collins suggested to make it unanimous for Wagner.

Other Actions

The Legion convention at Thursday's session also:

1. Beat down a determined attempt to put the 3 million Legion members behind a move for $100-a-month pensions for all veterans when they become 60 years off age.

2. Overwhelmingly defeated, after hot debate, a move from the floor calling on the United States to withdraw from the United Nations.

3. Killed a resolution asking congress to give statehood to Hawaii and postponed for a year a similar resolution about Alaska.

4. Sent to President Eisenhower a "happy birthday" and "quick recoverly" message.

Hands - Off Toward India

5. Adopted a hands-off policy toward India and South Korea, recommending that this country withdraw from the Korean Armistice Commission so South Korea may "deal in its own way" with the threat of renewed Communist Chinese aggression.

The Legion's foreign relations committee urged the government bring back every American citizen in Communist China's hands.

Early Conference Scheduled On Problem Of Oil Imports

By HARRY WILSON SHARPE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—UP— Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming has scheduled an early conference with Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. on the problem of curbing foreign oil imports.

Hoover, who engineered the international consortium that restored Iran's rich fields to production, is due back from the Far East Monday. Flemming, under strong pressure from domestic oil and coal producers to restrict import competition, will lean heavily on Hoover's advice.

As the State Department's chief trouble-shooter on world oil problems, Hoover is expected to weigh the risk of import curbs against possible damage to U. S. foreign relations in Europe, the Middle East and Latin America.

President Will Go Along

President Eisenhower is against restrictions but is expected to go along if Flemming decides they are necessary.

Officials denied that Iranian oil is flooding this country and Canada. They said that in July Iranian imports averaged only 32,000 barrels a day compared with total imports of almost one million barrels a day from all foreign areas.

They said these figures may hint at the answer Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will send to Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas. Johnson asked him in a letter last month whether Iranian imports would jeopardize domestic producers.

"It is of vital importance to the domestic industry," Johnson wrote, that the consortium to handle the return of Iranian oil to world markets not result in further increase to already havy imports."

Won't Discuss Reply

The State Department refused to say anything about the kind of reply Dulles will send.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America charged recently that Middle East producers and importers have refused to "move over" to make room for Iranian production. It said that while Iranian output averaged 265,000 barrels a day for the first six months of 1955, there had been simultaneous increases in most other middle eastern countries.

When Flemming asked the importers for their recommendations, he sent along an implied threat. He told them they could avoid government intervention if they invoked voluntary curbs. His decision now seems to depend partly on what advice Hoover gives him.

Cities Service Safety Record

The completion of 400,000 hours worked without a lost time injury by the employees of the Cities Service Oil Co., Pampa Gasoline Plant, was the occasion for a celebration dinner held at Poole Drive Inn Wednesday, Oct. 12.

This safety achievement required nearly six years of work by the 35 employees of the Pampa Plant without a lost time injury. Mr. C. E. Powell is superintendent of the Pampa Plant. Those attending the dinner included employees of the local plant and officials of the Bartlesville, Okla. headquarters of the company, Mr. J. W. Wilson, Supt. of operations, Natural Gasoline Division and Mr. E. R. Estus, Directors of Safety, were present from Bartlesville.

Grand Prairie Woman Killed

DALLAS —UP— Mrs. J. B. Lewis, 47, of Grand Prairie was killed late Thursday in a pickup truck-car crash on U.S. Highway 80 northwest of Dallas.

Taylor Says Army Lagging

BOSTON —UP— Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, Army chief of staff, cautioned Thursday that the Army is lagging behind in the development of adequate mobility for atomic warfare.

"The Army," Taylor said, "does not yet have the degree of mobility on the sea or in the air which it considers essential to enable it to bring its firepower to possible areas of decision in sufficient quantities at the rate required."

Taylor, in a speech before the 10th annual convention of the National Defense Transportation Association, specifically referred to the lack of air transportation for global movements of Army troops. By an interservice agreement, strategic air transport for the Army is supplied by the Air Force, and the subject is a source of an underlying controversy between the two services.

THE "KINK" GETS A KISS—Mrs. W. G. H. Latham, Pittsburgh, Pa., housewife who hunts in the Peruvian jungles as a hobby, gives a good-night kiss to "Honey Bunch," a kinkajou. The pet likes to be dressed in doll's clothing, responds to affection and quickly adjusts to civilized living.

Wheat Quota Regulations Explained

Wheat growers who plant within 75 per cent of the wheat allotment established for the farm will receive credit for full allotment acreage in calculating future farm wheat allotments, according to the Gray County Farm Newsletter for this month.

There is no legislative authority for the Department of Agriculture to issue regulations on the release and reapportionment of '56 wheat allotments. The law that allowed 1955 wheat allotments to be released applied only to 1955, therefore 1956 wheat allotment acreage may not be released.

Undesirable wheat varieties applicable to Texas for harvest in 1956 are: Red Chief, New Chief, Kanking, Chiefkan, Early Blackhull, Yogo, Red Jacket and Blue Jacket. A discount of 20 cents per bushel in the 1956 price support will be applied to each of these varieties of wheat.

Loan rates applicable for 1955 are as follows: Gray County:

Wheat	$2.08	per bushel
Barley	$ .90	per bushel
Oats	$ 67	per bushel
Grain sorgum	$1.60	per bushel
Rye	$1.10	per bushel
Corn	$1.22	per bushel

Warehouse charges will be deducted from each commodity stored in an elevator computed from the date of storage until maturity of the loan.

The Gray County ASC Office, will mail cotton marketing cards for every producer who planted within the cotton allotment established for the farm, upon receipt of a written request.

December Draft Quota Is 18,000

WASHINGTON —UP— The Defense Department announced Thursday that 18,000 men will be drafted in December.

The Army will take 8,000, which is 2,000 fewer than its November call, and the Navy will take 10,000.

The Pentagon said all 18,000 men will be inducted between Dec. 1 and Dec. 10 and, because of the Christmas holiday season, no more men will be drafted after that until Jan. 3.

The December call will bring to 1,986,430 the total number of men drafted into the armed forces since the Korean war started. Of those, 81,430 were for the Marines early in the war, and 20,000 for the Navy. All the rest were called by the Army.

FAITHFUL LUTHERAN—Rounding out 64 years of perfect Sunday school attendance, Amelia Grim, left, was honored at Promotion Day services in the Grace Lutheran Church of Franklin, Pa. Labrida Hanby, assistant Sunday school superintendent, is affixing the special pin awarded to her. Miss Grim's attendance has been broken only once, for a trip to her mother's native Germany in 1907. Since then she has a record of 2496 Sundays in Sunday school. EXCLUSIVE NEA PHOTO.

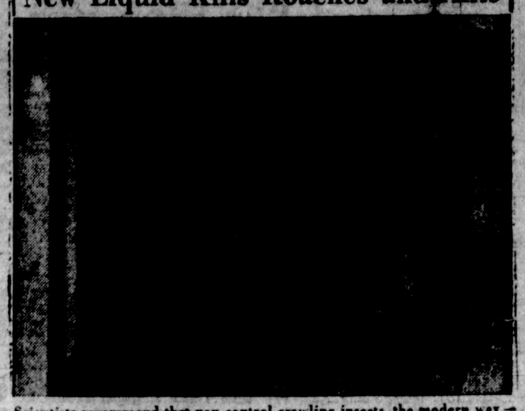

Reuther Visit Cancelled

FORT WORTH —UP— A change in plans was announced late Thursday and Walter Reuther, national CIO president, will not visit Fort Worth Friday as previously announced. No specific reason had been given for his proposed visit.

Call Second Election

DALLAS —UP— Dallas county commissioners have called a second election Nov. 19 on a car-fee proposal to raise right-of-way money for a $115 million highway improvement program. The proposal was recently rejected by 270 votes.

New Liquid Kills Roaches and Ants

Scientists recommend that you control crawling insects, the modern way — with Johnston's NO-ROACH. Brushed just where you want it, the colorless, odorless coating kills these pests, and stays effective for months. Not a messy spray, there's no need to move dishes, pots, and pans while applying. NO-ROACH is so effective, and so easy to use! 8 oz. 89¢; pt. $1.69; qt. $2.98.
