Along The Waterfront

Captain Warrach who took out the Max Hoffman party of Brenham brought back 93 trout, reds and sheepshead, fishing in Copano and Aransas Bays.

Captain Brown of the motor vessel "Whooping Crane" reports good catches fishing in Copano Bay.

Kleypas reports that goose hunting the past week has been excellent. All is in readiness for the opening of duck season Saturday. There is a heavy concentration of ducks and a capacity crowd is booked for opening day.

Thomas A. Parker Drowns While Wade Fishing

Thomes A. Parker, 77, of Brady, Texas, drowned Thursday morning while wade fishing at Red Fish Point, about three miles west of the new Lyndon B. Johnson Causeway.

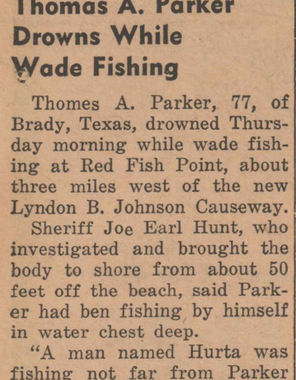

Sheriff Joe Earl Hunt, who investigated and brought the body to shore from about 50 feet off the beach, said Parker had ben fishing by himself in water chest deep.

"A man named Hurta was fishing not far from Parker when the accident happened," Hunt said. "After finding that Parker was apparently dead, Hurta rushed to a telephone and called us," Hunt said.

Justice of the Peace E. B. Crawford conducted the inquest and said death was caused by accidental drowning due to coronary occlusion.

Player of the Week

THOMAS LEWIS

Thomas Lewis, a senior player on the ACHS Pirate varsity team, was chosen player of the week for the second time this year because of his defensive performance against Ingleside.

Lewis, the 6 feet 10 inch, 320 pound giant, led the defensive attack all during the game. Because of fumbles, the Pirates were on defense most of the ball game. Lewis led several attacks and made key tackles on and behind the line of scrimmage.

Lewis has been a Lettermen Association and the FTA.

Lewis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Lewis of Rockport.

Tides Open Pass; Save Repair Sum

High tides and strong winds have opportunely opened a new cut and prolonged the life of Cedar Bayou as an effective fish pass and water exchange point between Texas bays and the gulf.

Nature's cooperative gesture came just after the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission had authorized $60,000 to straighten and deepen the famous fish pass that was in danger of closing.

The first providential boost came when high tides, resulting from Hurricane Inez, pushed water into the bays and held it there.

Next, the initial strong norther of the season, sent the waters racing through the passes to the Gulf. The strong sweeping action of the water cut through the sand bar forming at the mouth of Cedar Bayou.

This straightened and deepened the pass permitting a much better exchange of water between the gulf and bay.

Ernest Simmons, regional coastal fisheries supervisor, said:

"We have a good flow of water now that should take care of the pass for another six months, maybe longer."

"The money is still there when we need it," said Simmons, "But nature has at least postponed the expenditure."

Cedar Bayou, 20 miles northeast of Rockport, separates St. Joseph's and Matagorda Islands and opens into Mesquite Bay on one end and the Gulf on the other.

It has long been a popular place for fishermen who beach their boats in the shallows and operate from the pass banks without interference since watercraft are barred in the last 2800 feet of the bayou on the Gulf side to allow maximum fish movement.

Pirates Start Basket Ball

By Robert Oliver

Basketball is here! The Aransas County High School basketball team will begin its season this Friday night against Tivoli. The game will be played in the Pirates gym, immediately following the Junior Varsity game which will begin at 6:30 p.m.

According to head basketball coach, Dave Segler, the Pirates are "going to have a respected ball club." Coach Segler hesitated to make any further comment about this years team due to the fact that they have not had the real opportunity, as of yet, to show their abilities.

The Pirates lost two Senior starters, Jerry Hill and Rusty Kline, last season. These boys will be replaced by Jerry Brundrett and Charlie Roe. Two Juniors, Chris Edwards and Joe Valdez, will also be added to the Varsity squad. Other Varsity players consist of Bart Rozzell, Jody Rouquette, Richard McMakin, Johnny Kuehn, Thomas Lewis, David Nava, and James Crabb.

"For this reason, it's important for everyone who gets a card to return it filled out so that USDA can get a true sample of the state's livestock holdings."

Facts and figures secured in this survey are the basis for Texas and national pig crop report and inventories of livestock and poultry on farms as of the first of the year. Stockmen and many others use this information in making business decisions.

Survey results will be distributed through Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Services release, newspapers, farm magazines, radio, and television.

Downtown Christmas Decorations to Be Put Up By Jaycees

The business district will be gaily decorated for Christmas by the Jaycees, secretary Bob Morrison announced today.

New colored strings of lights, "candy" canes and other colorful decorations will be put up by the organization. The members hope to have the job done by Thanksgiving Day.

A second project the Jaycees are working on is building a new ball park on property at the end of the turn-around near the salt water swimming pool. They have asked the Navigation District for permission to use the land for this purpose.

Morrison pointed out that the Jaycees hope to have a lighted field ready for softball and hard ball by next summer.

"There are at least 200 boys over 12 who would like to play hard ball," Morrison said, "and the Jaycees believe the new park would be an ideal place."

The Jaycees also believe there is a good possibility of men and women organizing soft ball leagues to play there.

Want to Adopt a Baby or Child?

Is there any childless couple in the Rockport area who would like to have a handsome, eight-year-old son or a beautiful six-year-old daughter?

Both are blond and blue-eyed and are in a state school. They want to be adopted; in fact they both cry every time they are passed by as some couple selects another child for adoption.

Many interesting facts about adoption were discussed this week by Mrs. Maria A. Laughlin, regional adoption worker for the Texas Department of Public Welfare. She was here to confer with a couple who recently adopted a baby.

"Most people want to adopt babies," she said, " and we are not always in a position to meet the demand for tiny babies.

"But we have many wonderful boys and girls between two and 14 who are adoptable and really are ideal, from an age standpoint, for parents in their 30's and 40's.

In selecting good homes for the children, Mrs. Laughlin explained, "we look for stability in the prospective parents, good health, enough income to provide for themselves and the youngster and, above all, the ability to love a child."

Mrs. Laughlin said she would be delighted to help any local couples find a baby or child for their home. She can be contacted at 1810 Howard St., Corpus Christi, telephone TU-3-1513.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Jackson of Sonora, Texas, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Royce Harrell and sons and Mr. and Mrs. John McLester.

Rockport P.T.A. Holds Meeting

The Rockport Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association met on Tuesday night, Nov. 15 in the elementary school auditorium. Mrs. Charles Smith, president, conducted the business meeting.

The executive committee recommended that PTA magazines be bought and placed in the offices of Drs. Goldman, Shaw, and Wood.

It was stated that the other local PTA units had a project to place the magazines in other doctor's offices in town.

Money making projects were discussed and the members decided to sell school record books as the major project.

Suggestions were taken as to how the money should be spent and it was decided that the PTA should buy a table cloth and electric fans, for as many class rooms as possible.

The starting of a record library was also discussed and some money is to be spent on this project.

Mrs. Smith stated that the Rockport Elementary School PTA had been invited to the Junior-Senior High School PTA for a joint meeting on Jan. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

The speaker for the Nov. 15 meeting was T. A. Roach, area director of the Southwestern Education Development Laboratory, who gave a talk on "The Individual Learner."

The second grade of Mrs. Ruby Rasco won the room count.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to those present by the hospitality chairman, Mrs. Ray Longino.

We Came . . . We Saw . . . We Stayed!

In fact we liked the Rockport area so much we built a brand new subdivision here for others like us. We selected a quiet wooded area west of town between Copano and Aransas bays—put in paved roads and city conveniences—added a large pool and tennis courts—and then programmed additional country club facilities for you to use when you're not on the bay fishing.

We named this exciting subdivision PENINSULA OAKS because of the many oak trees shading our homesites. We priced them low too, with prices starting at $750, and then made them easy to buy with only $25 down and $15 monthly. We believe that if you COME and SEE, you just might get like us and STAY too!

On the back of this safety pin was a plastic tag, white with a blue top, but there was nothing on the tag.

RUSSIANS STILL NEED FOOD

A good soldier fights best on a full stomach. Through the years no country has been really successful in conducting a war without foodstuffs. When Hitler's food supplies began to run low the tide of World War II turned.

Regardless of what the propagandists have to say, Russia simply isn't in any position to wage a real-honest-to-goodness war.

The Department of Agriculture now reports the Russian food crop situation is continuing to be bleak, Farm output, says USDA, in 1965 was 8 per cent below 1964. It is still above the disasterous 1963 year but far from what it needs to be. Per capita output in 1965 was about 4 per cent less than the 1957-59 average.

Drought conditions have been severe in the eastern spring wheat regions. Output of other crops is also down. Oilseed crops are off 10 per cent. Sugar beet production is down and so is the production of potatoes, fruits and vegetables.

The meat siuation is becoming rather acute. Hoof-and-mouth disease is sweeping cattle herds, according to reports.

Russia may continue to talk a big game in international affairs but until she licks the food situation at home, don't expect much more than a lot of talk. Unfortunately, there is a big crop of that.

BYE! BYE! MEASLES

There used to be a time when measles sooner or later landed on just about every kid in the neighborhood.

There were the "good" kind, or the "light type", when red spots appeared all over the child's body, there was some temperature, and weakness but little else, and the beautiful thing about them, if there was such a thing, the disease was good for two or three weeks away from school.

Then there was the more serious kind, the ones that made a youngster feel so sick, and it was necessary to stay in bed for days and days it seemed and the worst thing about the whole business was that no other kids could come around for fear of catching the measles, good or bad.

Now, though, we learn we are "pretty far along toward eradication" of the disease. So says the U. S. Communicable Disease Center.

About 12 million school children have been immunized against measles in the past three years when a vaccine was first offered generally.

But, according to officials, there are still about 12 million more kids who have not yet been vaccinated. Doctors have been urged to immunize children in private practice and to educate parents to see that their offsprings are protected against the red spots.

Science and the medical world continues to make successful war against certain disease and if we can prevent new ones from cropping up, lick cancer and some others, we'll really be along the road toward a healthy world.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN SECOND

There's a crisis in the Kremlin in Russia again. When the Ruskies took in Koenigsberg, Germany, they gained another first, even though it was by proxy. Sausage makers held the record for the longest sausage, 3,000 feet of it.

But the other day Scunthorpe, Eng., sausage makers beat the old record. They made one 3,124 feet long.

The Russians will probably announce via Pravda that it is a captalistic fraud.

GETTING READY for the big test soon to come, technicians at Cape Kennedy move a three-man Apollo space capsule to a checkout stand. The first manned Apollo flight is planned within the next few months.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

ANARCHY AT THE MARKET

For a glimpse of anarchy in an otherwise regimented society see American mothers in the supermarket and the adjacent parking lot. Out on the highway there are a million rules to obey. In the market area, private property, freedom riots.

The parking lot is marked with yellow lines and maybe some arrows. Tho these, the shoppers pay small attention. They drive in straight lines, obviously the shortest distance to objectives. If it's most convenient to drive on the left, that's the way to go. There's no police officer on the premises. Indeed, one cop in this situation would go out of his mind. It would take at least a dozen to maintain traffic order.

Inside the store, Mother pushes her wire cart around as though she were alone in the world. Indeed, she might as well be. Her mind is fixed on meat, potatoes, breadsticks, detergents and vegetables. And everywhere choices to be made. Haddock or mackerel? Cake or pie? Beans or beets? In her pre-occupation, she stops and goes as the spirit moves, and she turns to left or right without giving any signal.

This mental fog may be penetrated by blasts from an automobile horn. It will dawn on her that the small children in the station wagon are killing time with noise, and she will be swamped with feelings of helpfulessness and irritation. Here's where a little authority would come in handy, but Ma is separated from her young by the checkout passage, through which no one gets in a hurry. If there is an anarchy here, there is also equality. In the market, women put on no dog. They wear shorts and sneakers. In 1910 the sight of a woman so dressed would have stopped traffic. Now the legs of the lamb get more attention.

After standing patiently in line for 15 minutes or so, Mother finally pays $33.78, has six paper bags full of stuff loaded into the cart again, and pushes it out to the parking lot. Naturally, she follows no traffic pattern as she goes, but the angels and the motorists look our for her. Back at the station wagon, she breaks up the fight among the parked children and puts the groceries aboard. She then drives off, after making a 360-degree survey of the traffic situation. She leaves the wire cart in the middle of a marked parking space. Here is total absence of government, yet all goes well. Some think that anarchy, freedom from annoying laws, would be the ideal state, if people were only up to it. But if women at the market can handle it, perhaps there's hope for the rest of society.—Boston Globe.

BREAD—ENDLESS AND CRUSTLESS

It was bound to come—the automated bread producer. The ingredients go in at one, and a continuous loaf of bread, like giant spaghetti, comes out the other. The process is faster and easier than traditional bakery methods, says the man from New Hampshire who got a patent for it recently, and the "loaves" nipped off the endless roll leave less crust.

The test will be in the eating. Efficiency for the baker and convenience for the customer we don't doubt. But the prospect makes one wistful about good homemade bread, whatever the size and shape, and even better, genuine French bread, which, though long, is not endless and makes a virtue of being crusty all over.—Minneapolis Star.

The old days were simpler. When Grandad's transportation needed an oil change he just drove up to the watering trough on the city square.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

There were two items of interest lost among all the big, black headlines that dominated the nation's newspapers recently.

In Washington, there was considerable to do over the price of hamburgers in the House of Representatives restaurant. Rep. George W. Andrews of Alabama expressed dismay when the price of a hamburger reached 70 cents. Rep. Andrews took the restaurant manager to task insisting he wants his 70-cent hamburger for 25 cents. "You could contribute to the morale of Capitol Hill by giving us a good hamburger at a reasonable price," he told the restaurant manager.

When revenues exceeded estimates in Gray, Maine, and cash surpluses piled up the town selectmen reduced the property taxes $1 per thousand. Although the two incidents are unrelated the conclusions are obvious. Capitol Hill could contribute to the morale of everyone by displaying a little old-fashioned prudence in the way it handles the money of the taxpayers.—Bangor (Me.) Daily News.

WHO SAID GOD IS DEAD?

Four Council Bluffs residents are in deep trouble in California for shoving counterfeit $20 bills. A Glendale filling station attendant wasn't too sure of the bill he had been given and jotted down the car license number.

The counterfeiters had done a mighty fine, workmanshiplike job. They made only one mistake. They omitted one little phrase from the bill . . . which was "In God We Trust."

Don't tell the Council Bluffs counterfeiters that "God is Dead."—Luverne (Minn.) Rock County Star-Herald.

A CAPPELLA SUPPER IS HUGE SUCCESS

The Mexican supper sponsored by the ACHS a cappella choir on Saturday on Saturday evening, Nov. 12, was a great success.

The choir takes this opportunity to thank every person who purchased a ticket, made a contribution, or helped in any way. A special "thanks" goes to the ladies who prepared and served the delicious food at the Junior High School Cafeteria.

The purpose of the supper was to raise money for the annual a cappella choir awards. The amount needed for these awards was obtained and surpassed.

and the possession limit eight.

The tight restrictions on both mallards and pintails have been eased particularly on the latter. Now the entire limits may be of the popular pintails, as well as of redheads given a relaxed status last fall.

Two mallards are allowed for a daily bag and four are permitted for the possession limit.

For the first day of the open season, a hunter will be allowed only one day's bag limit. One fully feathered wing must be retained on all harvested migratory game birds in the field or while in transit to the hunter's home or to a public storage place.

Shooting hours are from one half hour before sunrise to sunset. The season ends Jan. 7.

Department field observers report the earlier shooting period has helped goose hunters. They also note that there is a normal goose population, particularly along the coast where countless thousands concentrate in the rice fields during the winter.

The usual regulations prevail about hunting from a boat in open water, plugging guns to a three-shell limit and using no guns larger than a ten gauge.

Shrimp Landings In October Topped Same Month Year Ago

Aransas Pass is moving toward another peak year for shrimp production. If the present pace continues, 1966 landings at the local port may equal or surpass last year's near-record catch.

During October shrimp trawlers unloaded 1,324,919 pounds at Aransas Pass, according to a report by Bert Strock, statistician fir the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries. This compares to 1,133,190 pounds unloaded during October, 1965. Although the October landings were above those for the same month a year ago, they were well below September, 1966, landings of 1,879,551.

The October, 1966 landings included 1,015,111 pounds of browns and 309,808 pounds of whites. During the same month a year ago 906,277 pounds of browns and 226,913 pounds of whites were unloaded here.

Landings at Rockport were down in October, 1966, from October, 1965. They declined from 271,749 in 1965 to 229,006 in 1966.

Rockport landings in October, 1966, included 110,865 pounds of browns and 118,141 pounds of whites.

Meanwhile, landings at Aransas Pass continue steady. During the week ending Nov. 6, 159 trawlers unloaded 353,600 pounds of shrimp at processing plants.

The week's landings included 306,000 pounds of browns and 47,600 pounds of whites.

Overseas Mititary Christmas Mail

Postmaster Rowan announced that all first class mail, personal sound recordings (voice letters), and parcels weighing five pounds or less and measuring not more than 60 inches in length and girth combined, will be airlifted on a space available basis between the United States and all Military Post Offices overseas.

Also, under Public Law 89-725—the Dulski Military Mail Act — which was signed by President Johnson on Nov. 2, 1966, second class publications such as newspapers and magazines published weekly or more often, and featuring current news of interest to the Military, will be airlifted from San Francisco to the armed forces serving in Viet Nam.

Rowan explained that parcels weighing five pounds or less and not exceeding 60 inches in length and girth combined, paid at surface rates, will be moved by surface transportation within the United States from the points of mailing to the port of embarkation.

To speed up separation and delivery of these smaller parcels falling within this category, Postmaster General O'Brien directed that all parcels be clearly marked upon acceptance at the post office with the letters SAM (surface airlift mail). This will eliminate the task of reweighing and measuring the parcels at the San Francisco Concentration Center prior to dispatch to Viet Nam or other overseas military post offices.

Mailers are reminded that Christmas parcels weighing five pounds and under, though they are given airlift priority from San Francisco to Viet Nam on a space available basis, should be mailed no later than Dec. 1. Airmail should be sent no later than Dec. 10.

The deadline for packages weighing over five pounds was Nov. 10 for surface means going overseas.

Prevent Fires Every Day

Even though Fire Prevention Week is officially over, Fire Marshall Elva Mullinax reminds local residents that "we should continue our efforts in Fire Prevention each day."

"With cold weather coming on we should have all furnaces and heating appliances checked to be sure they are in good working order so they will not cause a death from carbon monoxide or a fire," Mullinax said.

He said that a few simple precautions will prevent carbon monoxide poisoning which is created by the combination of improper burning of fuel and insufficient ventilation.

"Inspection and control of these two factors," Mullinax said, is necessary. Check for exhaust fans that interfere with flues, thus causing a back draft. Make certain that all fuel burning equipment is vented to outside air."

By Robret Oliver

The Aransas County High School Fighting Pirates ended their 1966 football season last Friday night by defeating the Ingleside Mustangs 12-6.

The first quarter of play came to a quick end with neither team having scored. However, the Pirates had fumbled three times and lost the ball on all three accounts.

The second quarter saw plenty of action as Pirate fullback Charles Simmons dashed 20 yards for a Pirate touchdown. The Pirates moved to a 6-0 lead.

The Mustangs came back strong and after several plays, quarterback Rubalacaba tossed a 12-yard pass to halfback Mullinix for a Mustang score. The extra point was blocked and the score now evened up at 6-6.

In hopes of having a half time lead the Pirates sent Frank St. Clair to attempt a 30-yard field goal. The kick had distance but was off to the left. The clock ran out and the half ended in a 6-6 tie.

The third quarter saw no scoring for either team but once again found the Pirates defense living up to its reputation.

The Mustangs, on the Pirates' one-yard line, had a first down and goal to go situation. The strong Pirate defense held its ground and the Mustangs were unable to score.

The Pirates regained possession of the ball with the third quarter remaining 6-6.

The fourth quarter found the Pirates marching 99 yards for pay dirt. The extra point was blocked and the Pirates now had a 12-6 lead. Halfback Charles Simmons went into the end zone from 5 yards out to climax this Pirate drive.

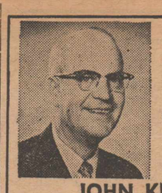

With 1:30 left to play, the Pirates found the Mustangs threatening to score. Mustang quarterback Rubalcaba faded back and passed. The pass was deflected by Thomas Lewis and intercepted by David Nava. with possession of the ball, the Pirates chose to run out the clock and they left the field with a 12-6 victory.

The Pirates led the first downs with 22 over the Mustangs' 9. The Mustangs were penalized 30 yards while the Pirates only received 15 yards in penalties. The Pirates fumbled five times and lost the ball on every account. The Mustangs lost one fumble and received one fumble.

The outstanding defensive men for the Pirates were Roy (Moose) Johnson, Thomas Lewis, Mark Johnson, and Charles Roe. The outstanding offensive men for the Pirates were Charles Simmons, and Chris Edwards. The Pirates finished their 1966 football season with a 7-2-1 record.

They are to be congratulated for a job well done.

MOTOR NEWS is a fine magazine which for 50 years has been the official publication of the automobile Club of Michigan. The magazine has a circulation of 472,700—motorists who rely heavily on the publication for suggestions regarding auto trips, interesting places to visit and ideal retirement areas.

In the November issue, an article about the Coastal Bend area was published, written by Bob Boelio, "Motor News" staff writer. Here is an excerpt from that article:

"Two sleek cruisers took us (Boelio and other travel writers) to Rockport, nine miles up the coast. Rockport has a population of 3,000 and most seem to live in homes with seascape views.

"Wide, home-front canals connect the residences. Key Allegro Island Estates, midway between Rockport and Fulton Beach, is a 260-acre residential resort island that offers living-by-the-water at its finest. The variety of fishing nearby is almost unlimited—or you can cast from your own backyard.

"Many fine resort-type motels are in the Rockport area. The Sea Gun Sports Inn, nine miles north of Rockport on the north end of Copano Bay, has its own excursion boat, the Whooping Crane, operating on regular schedules for cruising parties and sight-seeing.

"Another fine place is the 45-unit Sandollar Motel, three miles north on Fulton Beach. Its facilities include private fishing pier and marina.

Rockport also is the home of the Marine Laboratory and Aquarium, operated by the Texas Parks and Wildlife for research in commercial game fishing. Live and mounted specimens of Gulf Coast aquatic life are featured."

This excellent publicity for the Rockport area was the result of cooperation on the part of a lot of people and a number of organizations.

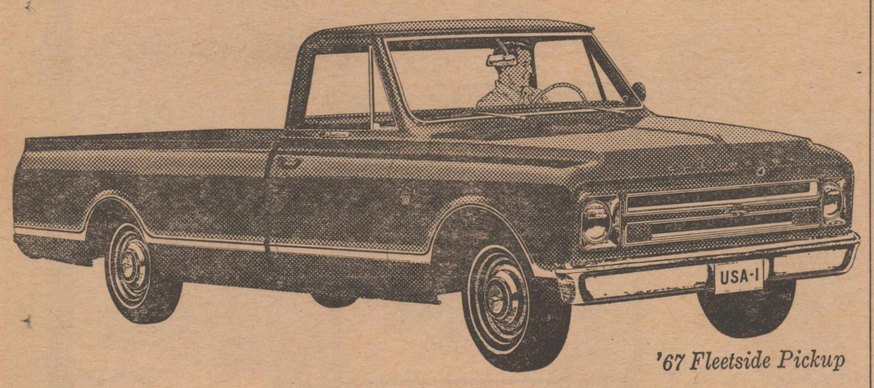

Among them were the Rockport Chamber of Commerce, the Corpus Christi Area Convention & Tourist Bureau, progress-minded residents of the Rockport area and other Coastal Bend cities and, above all, topflight travel writers and editors for magazines and newspapers throughout the nation.

These writers wanted to come down here and see for themselves what kind of a place we have to interest vacationers, retired people and others who might decide to move here before retirement to go in business or seek a job.

PRESBYTERIAN CIRCLE I MET NOVEMBER 10

Circle No. 1 of the Presbyterian Church met on Nov. 10 at the home of Mrs. Rufus Casterline. After the routine reports were made Mrs. Ted Little, chairman, gave an outline of various projects to be considered for adoption by the circle. Of immediate concern was the Christmas project for which a contribution was made by the circle toward the buying of gifts for the residents of Bay View Nursing Home.

In the series of studies, "Jesus and Persons," the lesson, given by Mrs. R. Little, concerned Rachel. This was a study on some of the techniques used by Jesus in ministering to individuals.

The circle meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Campbell returned home after attending the funeral of G. C. Campbell's brother, at Levelland, Texas.

Mr. Bell liked to make things better...

After Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, he did not rest on his laurels. He helped form the National Geographic Society, developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax discs and pioneered a method of locating icebergs by detecting echoes from them. He made suggestions and contributions that helped give us air conditioning and the iron lung. For 46 years after inventing the telephone, he lived a vigorous and creative life.

Southwestern Bell likes to make things better, too . . .
Six short years ago, we did not offer the Princess® telephone, Home Interphone, Wide Area Telephone Service, Centrex service, Data-Phone data communications service or Panel Phone. There was no electronic artificial larynx, no automatic dialer and no Speakerphone. Today, these new items help us provide the best telephone service in the world. But we want to make it better. That's our legacy from Mr. Bell.

FIELD DRESS INSTRUCTIONS ARE DETAILED

Austin—Explicit details on how to field dress a deer have been provided by a veteran Texas game warden, Grover Simpson, stationed in Austin.

He stresses importance of proper field dressing and later care of the carcass to preserve the best meat qualities.

Here's Simpson's instructions:

After you have shot your deer, approach it from the rear carefully, making sure it is dead. Tag the deer immediately, before your hands get bloody. Start field dressing the deer at once with a good, strongbladed knife. There is no need to cut the throat to bleed the deer because in the process of field dressing, it will bleed out better and faster.

The following procedure has been used for many years by hunters in field dressing a deer:

Prop the deer on its back using two large rocks or logs under the shoulders and two under the hips.

If your deer is a buck, remove the sex organs with a sharp knife.

Starting between the hind legs, cut all the way down to the pelvic bone. Then turn your knife blade up, and using your other hand to hold the skin and meat away from the entrails, cut up through the breastbone (brisket), and on up the neck as far as possible. Be sure you use a strong large-handled knife to cut through the breastbone, because a small knife will hit the rib cage and turn sideways in your hand.

Cut the windpipe in two as far up the neck as possible. Lay your knife down. Grasp the windpipe with both hands and pull hard, downward. The insides will come out all the way down to the midsection.

Now remove the stones from under the deer and roll the carcass on the side. Cut the thin layer of meat that is holding the entrails to the ribs, all the way down to the backbone. Then turn the deer over and do the same on the other side.

Lay your knife down again, and using both hands, get a firm grip on the entrails and pull down, hard. All the entrails will come out of the deer.

Lift the deer up by the hind legs and lay a large rock under the rump. This will spread the back legs open. Place your knife against the middle of the pelvis to locate the seam where the bones grow together, and press down, hard. You may need to hit your knife with a rock to cut through the bone. Then you can finish cleaning out the deer.

If a tree is handy and you have a rope, hang the deer up by the head or antlers for about 20 minutes. This will allow the loose blood to drain out of the body cavity. If no tree is handy, turn the deer upside down in a clean place and let it drain.

You can begin skinning while the deer is draining. (If specimen is to be mounted, hang deer by hind legs for skinning.) The skin comes off most easily while the deer is still warm, so it should be skinned within two hours. To remove the skin, cut down the inside of each leg to the middle of the deer. Now cut the skin all the way around the neck, as close to the head as possible grasp the skin with both hands at the back of the head and pull down hard. Usually, the skin will come off down to the front legs. Use your knife to work the skin off the legs and where the skin sticks to the meat. Then pull down on the skin and it will come free.

Take your deer back to camp. Hang it in a tree by the hind legs for four to five hours. This will allow all the tiny blood vessels to drain back and out toward the heart. Wrap the deer in a sheet or cheese cloth.

Let your deer hang by the hind legs until it cools off. Then cut it up as you wish.

Pirates Get Ready For Basket Ball

By Robert Oliver

The Pirates, who had an outstanding basket ball season last year, will have a rough season this year. Every team they play will be out to ruin their good record. This is all the more reason why the Pirates will have to play responsible ball throughout the season.

Coach Dave Segler said that Bart Rozzell, who has a knee injury, will play as soon as he has recovered from leg he has recovered. With proper care and exercise, this shouldn't be too long.

VISITING FAMILY

Zeke has been assigned to the Flagship Mt. McKinley and will report back to San Diego on Nov. 18. He will study diesel engineering.

ENGINEERS of the Hughes Aircraft Co. in Los Angeles give the Comsat Corporation's newest satellite a final check prior to shipment to Cape Kennedy for launching. The satellite is one of four that will be launched in the near future. Bigger and more powerful than their predecessor, Early Bird, the satellites are designed to provide space communications across the Atlantic and Pacific, linking two-thirds of the world.

Are you looking for a place where you can get away from it all?

How would you like a wilderness spot with good fishing, outdoor camping facilities and ample opportunities to observe wild game and still be within easy reach of civilization?

There's just such a place and its nestled deep in the heavily timbered wilds of East Texas.

It's called the Wildlife Kingdom and Fishing Resort. It's a 1,500 acre layout located about 10 miles out of the small East Texas town of Newton. Newton is a lumber town, on State Highway 87 about 60 miles north of Beaumont. State Highway 87 runs north-south and is about 15 or 20 miles west of the Sabine River which separates Texas from Louisiana.

Wildlife Kingdom is the pampered child of Newton Lumber Company. It's owner is Claude H. Williams.

Actually it's the realization of a childhood dream. As a youngster, Williams enjoyed many hours fishing East Texas pothole lakes. He vowed that someday he would own land and have his own lake.

When he did acquire that lake, he and his friends had so much enjoyment that the idea of acquiring more land and lakes for public enjoyment and fishing was born.

Today Williams' Wildlife Kingdom and Fishing Resort includes eight lakes ranging in size from two to 40 acres. All have been stocked with black bass, catfish, crappie and bluegills.

Their crappie and bluegill fishing is consistently good. Several of the lakes have produced catches of bass going to nine pounds and catfish to 18 pounds. All the lakes can be fished either from the shoreline or from boats.

There's a small fee charged for fishing and for overnight camping. But this fee includes use of a boat on any or all of the lakes.

A limit of three horsepower is put on outboard motors. Actually no motors are needed since the aluminum johnboats are light and easy to paddle.

For those who don't want to camp out or rough it, Williams has four cabins, a house and a house trailer for rent by day week or month. All are completely air conditioned.

For the fellow who likes to fly fish, these lakes are unexcelled, Nestled in valleys and surrounded by tall and heavy timber stands, the lakes are protected from the winds that can make fly fishing difficult.

In addition to camping and fishing, Wildlife Kingdom offers the city dweller a chance to see wild game in its native habitat.

Some 80 deer and 36 Barbardo sheep roam the 800 acre portion of the kingdom that is enclosed with a deer-proof fence. Smaller game like squirrel, rabbit, and armadillo abound. The area also is rich in birdlife with quail and dove most abundant.

During the open season a limited amount of deer and squirrel hunting is permitted in some portions of the Wildlife Kingdom.

Bulk of the land in the 1,500 acres is heavily wooded with nearly 10 miles of car trails winding throughout. These trails allow for interesting hiking jaunts for those who like to study the flora and fauna of East Texas.

All these lakes, formed by daming small valleys, are spring-fed. Water in all of the lages is clear and some of the larger lakes have holes as deep as 30 feet.

It's a tempting setting for any freshwater angler, hunter, or just plain ole' vacationer.

The freshman had gone to sleep in English class, and the professor threw a book at him. "What hit me?" he shouted. "That," said the professor, "was a flying Chaucer."

FISH TAGS VITAL FOR RESEARCH

Now is the time for all good salt water sports to come to the aid of their scientific collaborators.

Specifically, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department marine biologists want you to look for tagged fish in your catch.

Hundreds of game fish are being tagged and released in coastal waters. During Many and June alone, more than 1,900 fish were processed for release in the Galveston Bay system.

Tagged fish are recognizable by the yellow marker (a wormlike, match-sized piece of plastic tubing) protruding from the wall of the fish's stomach. This marks the location of a green, numbered plastic disc carried in the fish's body cavity.

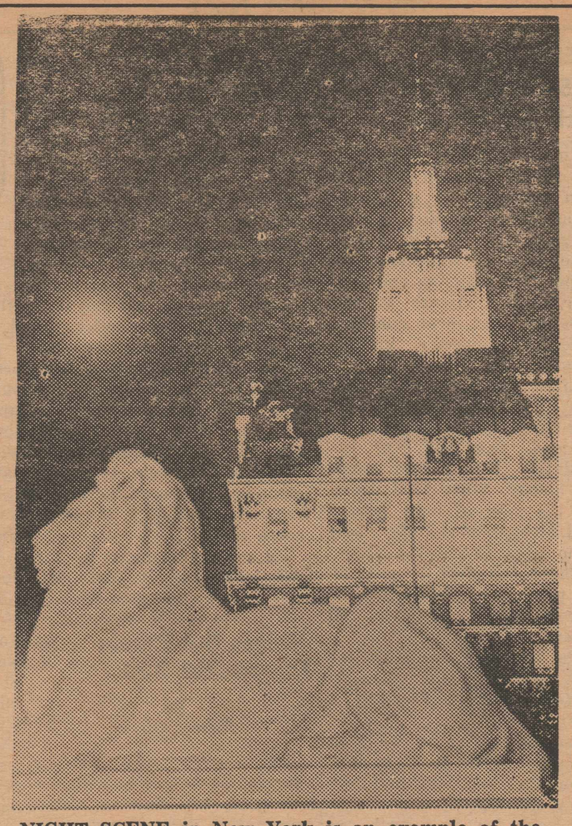

Anyone catching a tagged fish should furnish to any Parks and Wildlife Department office the following information: The tag number, the date and location of the catch, the total length (tip of nose to tip of tail), species, and the fisherman's name and address.

For their effort the fishermen will receive, initially, a letter stating where and when the fish was tagged, plus free fishing lures furnished by cooperating Texas lure manufacturing firms.

Long range benefits of collective fishermen's efforts will provide biologists with important information on fish movement, growth rate, and effects of fishing pressure.

This, the Department assures, can lead to better knowledge of the fish's life history that can lead to better management practices and ultimately to better fishing.
