RAILWAYS CLASH IN TEXAS HEARING

FRISCO AND DENVER MEN IN TANGLE

ROCK ISLAND JOINS IN ROW; PASSENGER SERVICE UP

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, July 30.—Bitter rivalry between two major railroad systems and a third cropped out here today at a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission on proposed railroad extensions in Northwest Texas and the Panhandle.

When J. D. Hutcheson, vice president of the St. Louis and San Francisco railway of Texas was on the stand, testifying as to the necessity of the sale of the Gulf, Texas and Western railway to the Frisco, J. H. Barwise, attorney for the Fort Worth and Denver City, attempted to examine the witness as to passenger train schedules over the new route. Barwise intimated the Fort Worth and Denver did not look with favor on any line which would decrease that road's passenger traffic from Quanah and Vernon to Fort Worth and Dallas.

The Frisco has proposed the purchase of the Gulf, Texas and Western from Seymour to Salesville and the construction of a new 44 mile road from Seymour to Vernon. Then the Chicago, Rock Island and Gulf Railway company would build a connecting line from the Vernon-Seymour route to Quanah. Quanah and Seymour are on the Fort Worth and Denver line from the Panhandle.

Hutcheson promised daily freight train service, jointly by the Frisco and Rock Island, between Quanah,

COTTON IN DISCUSSION

PROMINENT SPEAKERS ON SHORT COURSE PROGRAM TODAY

(By Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, July 30 — King Cotton came in for the major portion of attention by speakers at the general session of the Farmers' Short Course at the A. and M. College of Texas today.

The general theme developer was "The Agricultural Trend." The speakers included Col. Clarence Ousley of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, Longview; P. D. Coglin of the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association, Dallas; H. G. Safford, president of American Cotton Shippers association, Houston, and Prof. John A. Todd, principal of the City School of Commerce, Liverpool, England.

"The great fundamental factor in the problem of farm relief is the occasional surplus caused by exceptional weather and pest conditions," Col. Ousley said. "For example, we have a cotton acreage this year slightly in excess of the acreage last year. Weather and pest conditions between now and maturity may give us a yield of 14,000,000 bales or a yield of 20,000,000 bales of cotton. The maximum yield would give us a destructive surplus. The minimum yield would cause somewhat of a cotton famine."

Labor Day Jubilee Planned At Ranch

Preliminary plans were announced today by H. A. Johnston, manager of the recent Old Settlers Reunion held at the Bud Johnston ranch, for a gigantic Labor Day celebration to be held at the ranch.

Mr. Johnston stated that he had been approached by members of the Railroad Brotherhood at Slaton, members of the labor unions there and also members here to stage the celebration. A complete program of entertainment is being planned for the affair which will likely be a two-day event. Tentative plans call for an opening on Sunday and continued program through Monday, September 2.

A swimming pool with bathhouses and showers is now open to the public at the ranch, it was said.

WATSON FROWNS ON EXERCISE

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—"Big Jim" Watson, 260-pound senator from Indiana, approaching his 65th year, does not believe men near his age should seek the vigor of youth through physical exercise if they have led sedentary lives.

Famous in the eighties as a Depauw university athlete, he long since has ceased to seek physical exercise because he believes that after passing the half century mark men who have not led physically active lives will break down their mental or physical strength by excessive exercise.

"When my friends urge me to take up golf," he remarks, "I tell them I get plenty of exercise by acting as pall bearer to my cow pasture pool shooting friends who die of heart disease and over-exertion."

AGREEMENT ON NAVIES IS EXPECTATION

MacDONALD'S NOTE IS FILLED WITH HOPE FOR ACCORD

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, July 30.—The British government believes tangible progress has been made toward accord to curtail world navies.

An official communique issued last evening at the office of Premier Macdonald, said:

"A further conference was held at 10 Downing street today between the prime minister and the first lord of the admiralty on the one hand and General Dawes and Mr. Gibson on the other.

"It is understood substantial progress was made toward a naval agreement."

Lasted An Hour

The conference lasted more than an hour. The communique was the first to come from Downing street on the subject.

London Murder Mystery Arouses All Great Britain

MILL STRIKE IS WITHOUT SETTLEMENT

HALF-MILLION WORKERS STILL ON STRIKE IN ENGLAND

(By Associated Press)

MANCHESTER, Eng., July 30.—A half million Lancashire textile strikers entered the second day of their self-imposed idleness today as firm as ever in their determination not to accept the 12 1-2 per cent reduction in their wages which the cotton mill owners imposed last Saturday.

The mills were open, if the workers wanted to come to work, and in some few of the mills, where the wage reduction was not made immediately effective, a few thousand spinners and weavers followed their usual routine.

Bitterness Not Noticed

Contrary to the usual case in British trade disputes of such magnitude bitterness of feeling has not yet developed, and there was in many quarters a firm belief the dispute would be settled amicably before it reached a more serious as-

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, July 30. (AP)—Passengers for the Graf Zeppelin's next flight to America scurried toward Friedrichshafen from all parts of Europe by air, train, and motor today for the start for Lakehurst, N. J., at dawn Thursday.

Traveling further than any others were Mrs. Henry J. Pierce of New York and her husband, who were reached by telegraph at Samara, on the far away Volga river, U. S. S. R., where they were accompanying a tour of American business men through Soviet Russia.

Assistant District Attorney Unger said Keller confessed losing the money on horse races and stock market speculations.

FAILURE OF AMENDMENTS IS ADMITTED

TABULATION OF VOTES IS DISCONTINUED TODAY

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 30.—Definitely admitting defeat of the two proposed constitutional amendments voted on by the people in a special election on July 16, friends of the enlarged supreme court and increased salary for the governor surrendered all hope and discontinued tabulation on returns today.

Former Attorney eGneral W. A. Keeling, chairman of a committee of the State Bar association to campaign for the court amendment, had asked county clerks to send in unofficial returns. These showed the amendments so far behind that the totals were not even struck, General Keeling said.

"The surprising thing about the whole election was the small number of counties which carried the amendments," he said.

Franco Dismissed From Air Service

MADRID, July 30 (AP)—Major Ramon Franco, Spain's premier aviator and trans-Atlantic air hero, has been dismissed from the Spanish air service for offenses considered derogatory to Spain's air prestige.

The dismissal was not the result so much of undertaking a transoceanic flightly recently in defiance of purported government opposition as in undertaking that flight in an Italian built plane and in accepting French weather reports rather than those obtained by a Spanish observatory.

POLICE THROWN ABOUT HOME OF OFFICIAL AFTER DECISION

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, Juyy 30 — London police threw a guard today about the home of Coroner Doctor Jackson of Croydon after the coroner and hi swife received letters threatening them for his investigation of the death of Vera Sidney, one of three of a prominent Croydon family to die by poison. The case is stirring all England.

While some of the police conceded the letters might be the work of an insane individual they were determined to take no chances in what is regarded no was the most mysterious major crime in England in recent years.

Murder Verdict Given

While it was the verdict of the coroner's jury yesterday that Vera Sydney had been murdered wilfully by administration of poison, probably in her soup, inquests over the 40-year-old spinster's mother, Mrs. Violet Amelia Sidney, who died two months later, April 5, and Edmond Creighton Duff, son-in-law of Mrs. Sidney, must be carried to their finish.

The evidence has shown that Mrs. Sidney died of poison administered in a medicine which she alone of the family took. While Duff, who died a year preceding Vera Sidney, was given a potion in a glass of beer. He was the only member of the family who drank beer.

The murder mystery suddenly has come to the forefront of English public notice, the prominence of the family, its wealth, and the mystery and apparent lack of motive of a triple killer giving it unusual interest.

FOREST FIRE ACTION URGED

PRATT SAYS PRESENT SITUATION MOST CRITICAL

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 30—Characterizing the present forest fire situation as "the most crucial the nation has known in many years," George D. Pratt, president of the American Forestry association, today urged government, state and private agencies to dractic action to prevent what might become a national catastrophe.

Mr. Pratt said present means for prevention and protection are "hopelessly inadequate," and pointed to fires sweeping over thousands of acres in California and the Pacific Northwest with little relief in sight. He cited that in Modoc National Forest in California more than 50,000,000 board feet of lumber have been burned and more than 8,000 acres of forest land burned over. Other fires are raging in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

FIGHTERS ABLE TO BEAT BACK FLAMES

RHINELANDER, Wis., July 30 (AP) —Both relief and apprehension were expressed today when a strong west wind abated, after having driven forest fires over an area of more than 36 square miles, along a seven mile front in Forest and Oconta counties during the last two days.

With the wind down, the fire fighters for the first time were able to cope successfully with the conflagration, which during the night reached a point approximately six miles south of Wabeno, Wis.

AGREEMENT CLEARS UP SALES SETTLEMENT; DISCUSS CHARITY

Board of directors of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce voted this morning to recommend to the City Commission that the city proceed with the purchase of the Jones estate tract of land, four miles north of the city, consumation of which has been held in abeyance awaiting agreement between Milt Jones, owner, and Frank Jones, realtor.

The latter, who originally sought a commission of $2,000, claiming that the tract of land was placed in his hands for sale, agreed recently to compromise by accepting a commission of $1,000, while Milt Jones, owner, expresses that representations of the airport committee led him to believe that there would be no commission in the transaction.

Committee Opposes

The present airport committee, composed of George H. Benson, T. B. Duggan and Dr. E. F. George, claims that the tract of land was placed for consideration of the committee before it was put in the

PEACE OUTLOOK SLIMMER TODAY

LONDON, July 30. (AP)—Prospects for peaceful solution of the difficulties between China and Soviet Russia seemed slimmer today. All reports of negotiations seemed to have been proven false.

China was reported very anxious to negotiate a settlement of the question arising from seizure of the Chinese eastern railway and as confident of an agreement if Russia "would realize her mistake in propogandizing China."

There was no indication, however, Russia would recognize such a condition. Everything pointed to Russian disinclination to open discussions at all. Such scanty news as received here seemed rather to suggest Russia felt her position strong and was in no wise disposed to regard herself as other than the aggrieved party.

Meanwhile the frontier was reported quiet with the rival forces separated by a wide neutral zone.

Hoover Plans Work For Child Welfare

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP) — Looking to a national scale organization in behalf of the nation's "greatest asset," its children, President Hoover has set his planning committee of experts to the task of preparing the groundwork of fact and experience for a White House conference, probably a year or 18 months from now, on child health and protection.

Mr. Ford planned to leave early this evening for West Orange, N. J., to visit again with his friend, Thomas A. Edison.

SNOOK TRIAL DELAYED BY HIS ILLNESS

JURY IN CASE IS STILL UNCHOSEN; TEST CAUSES ILLNESS

COURTHOUSE, COLUMBUS, O., July 30.—The physical condition of Dr. James H. Snook again slowed up the already lagging process of selecting a jury in his trial for the murder of Theora Hix, the 24-year-old co-ed he has confessed he killed.

Dr. Snook was suffering more severely today than yesterday as the result of a spinal test made Saturday to assist in the determination of his sanity. Once he interrupted the examination of prospective jurors while he was taken to an ante-room for medicine to relieve a severe pain in his back and the court extended the regular mid-morning recess to 20 minutes in order to let him go to the sheriff's office where he relaxed from the strain of the courtroom. John F. Seidel, one of the former Ohio state professor's attorneys, said that the natural reaction from the spinal examination such as Dr. Snook underwent may be expected to continue about a week, adding that "there is no bluff about it."

Williams Asks For Protests On Bill

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—Persons of average means who wish to build homes were urged to protest immediately against the Hawley tariff bill in a statement Congressman Williams, democrat, Texas, sent to his constituency.

ORDERS MADE ON LANDING ARE IGNORED

JACKSON-O'BRINE SAY THEY WANT LONGER FLIGHT RECORD

(By Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, July 30.—The Monoplane "St. Louis Robin" passed its 414th hour in the air at 1:17 p. m. (C. S. T.), today. At that hour the pilots, Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brine, had made no response to an order to land sometime today, sent to them this morning by Major William B. Robertson, sponsor of the endurance flight.

NO RESPONSE MADE TO MAJOR'S ORDERS

ST. LOUIS, July 30 (AP).—Major William B. Robertson, president of the Curtiss-Robertson Airplane Manufacturing company, which is sponsoring the record-breaking endurance flight of Dale (Red) Jackson and Forest O'Brine in the monoplane "St. Louis Robin" this morning sent the fliers a message ordering the mto land some time today.

The fliers did drop a note answering another letter written to them by Major Robertson in which he had given them permission to land any time but had left the matter to their own judgment.

The message read:

"Motor still running good. See no reason to quit now. We are shooting at the 500-hour mark. Ship okay and so are we."

A short time before the order to land was taken aloft Jackson dropped a note to Phil Silverson, aerial photographer at the field, in which he said:

"I hope we can stay up a month."

NEW HIGHWAY IS DISCUSSED

LOCAL MEN IN MEETING AT MORTON TODAY FOR ROUTE

Proposals for the best possible route from Lubbock to Elida, N. M., are being discussed today at Morton, where members of the highway committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce have assembled with good roads boosters from practically every city along the planned route.

"The proposed highway will facilitate a nearer route to Portales and Elida, as well as open up a new avenue for Lubbock's market, in the opinion of proponents of the proposal," said R. J. Murray, chairman of the local highway committee. "It will be of vast importance to Lubbock and all cities along the route."

Other boosters of the highway have pointed out that the new route would shorten distance from Lubbock to Farwell by 45 miles.

J. H. Hankins, Elmo Wall, E. J. Parsons, Ray Grisham and Richard Douglas are other members of the highway committee who are aiding in the movement.

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP).—Prospects of rounding up a quorum of the senate in mid-August for resuming the extra session are beginning to appear remote.

LINDBERGH TAKING INTEREST IN OLD MAYAN RUINS; DISCOVERS 'LOST CITY'

(By Associated Press)

SANTA FE, N. M., July 30.—Civilization which flowered in Central and North America at a time when Charlemagne's military genius was consolidating a vast empire in Europe, are surrendering the secrets of their ruins to this age with Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh a prime mover in the research work.

The glory which was Maya—exemplified by archaeological discoveries of the aborogines' knowledge of architecture, astronomy, sundry arts and writing — is being emphasized through the medium o fthe airplane. It was disclosed here yesterday that Colonel Lindbergh, aided by his bride, is taking a keen interest in archaeology, and has contributed to the historical scroll the discovery of an ancient Mayan "lost city" in the Yucatan jungle.

The find was made while Colonel Lindbergh was making his Pan-American "good will" tours but the story of the Colonel's interest in air photography of such ruins is one which had to be patched together and eventually verified after a lapse of almost a year, in which he exhibited his usual disinclination to talk about himself and his activities.

His interest aroused by the Yucatan discovery, Colonel Lindbergh consulted Dr. J. C. Merriam, president of the Carnegie institution of Washington, and, on invitation, advised the institution regarding the methods of making aerial surveys in the tropics.

At Dr. Merriam's suggestion, he agreed to photograph in Arizona and New Mexico locali-

NATION SWELTERS UNDER PALL OF HOT WEATHER; DROUGHT CAUSES DAMAGES

NEW YORK, July 30—Except the Pacific coast, the entire country today lay under a pall of torrid temperatures.

The highest yesterday was 98 at Baltimore and Oklahoma City. Other high readings were: Dallas, 97; Washington, 96; Helena, Mont., 94; Detroit, 92; Portland, Me., 92; Milwaukee, Kansas City, St. Louis and Salt Lake City, 90.

In contrast were temperatures of 64 degrees at San Francisco, 70 at San Diego and 78 at Los Angeles.

Thundershowers, bringing temporary relief to wilting city dwellers but only aggravation to farmers watching their crops rapidly succumb to the drought, occurred at various points in the east.

Drough, which has caused truck farmers in the North Atlantic states to despar of their crops, brought danger of a heavy loss of fish life to Maine, where streams and brooks have been drying up alarmingly.

The prolonged drought that has placed the grain crops of northwest Canada in jeopardy showed no signs of abatement. The temperature reached 108 degrees at Edmonton, Alberta, and 100 degrees at Medicine Hat, Alberta. Manitoba and Saskatchewan also continued hot and dry.

One group of Americans, however, may be envious of our hot weather. A copyrighted dispatch to the New York Times, St. Louis Post-Dispatch and Associated Newspapers from Commander Byrd's camp as Little Antarctica, said that the mercury recently had reached 67 degrees below zero.

HARMONY IN DRESS IS ESSENTIAL

By MABEL DUKE
For NEA Service

Jascha Heifetz, the famous violinist-husband of Florence Vidor, is said to have remarked he is more proud of his wife's beauty and faultless taste than he is of his musical triumphs.

And that is just another way of admitting that a beautiful woman is a well groomed woman. Although Miss Vidor's skin, hair and features are lovely, taken separately, it is the harmony of her dress combined with the beauty of her face and figure which make her unusually charming.

"Grooming includes so many things," Miss Vidor said. "To say a woman is a well groomed means that her face, hair, eyes, hands and nails are well cared for, that her make-up complements her natural beauty, that she is dressed in good taste and that the lines and colors of her clothes further supplement her personality.

"Only by an exhaustive study of her best features may a woman become well groomed. And after the study is completed she must have the courage of her convictions to follow the styles which are best suited to her type instead of following blindly in the trend of fashion.

Select Costumes as a Unit

"We see so many girls wearing fashionable short skirts whose legs and knees are badly formed. They would be much more attractive with skirts enough longer not to be conspicuously long and yet make their legs more attractive.

"A woman should select her costume as a unit, with every item harmonizing. It is far better to have one well chosen costume than many separate hats and frocks.

"Colors for one's gown should be selected by the trial and error method, trying first one and then another color against the face until the correct one is chosen before purchasing. A good rule to follow is to match the eyes, particularly if they are a vivid blue, grey or greenish blue. Brown eyed girls generally wear shades of orange and yellow well, while the red haired girl may choose a cool green, orchid or black. There are many colors for every type and it's such fun shopping to find the thing which is exactly right."

Living and Loving

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

Here's an example of courage by the so-called weaker sex. A woman I know went to work to take care of herself when she was 14. At 15 she married. While still very young she was left to bring up her three sons alone, which took hard work and lots of grit. She did it, though, and all are grown up and two are married.

She still works and the youngest son lives with her. Just a short time ago he met with a terrible accident. It was thought at first that he couldn't live, but he must have inherited his mother's grit, because he simply refused to die and it looks now as if he would win.

No moans from her when he was at his worst. All she thought of was that she must help him live, and the two of them joked and laughed when neither knew whether he would live through the next few hours.

The remarkable part of such grit is that it is not unusual. Mothers and fathers, ordinary men and women, do these things every day. Makes us feel pretty small to go whining about our various woes, just the same, doesn't it, although when our moment of agony comes we will probably go through it with the same courage that this woman has shown.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am a girl seeking your advice. I love the stage. I have longed to go on it as far back as I can remember. People tell me I have the talent and belong there. My parents object. They say it is the place for different kinds of girls.

"I have always had high ideals, but I do not think the stage can interfere with them. I love the romance of the stage. It is my only ambition. Must I run away? I love my parents, but the lure of the footlights is great. Would I bring disgrace on my parents if I ran away? Or must I give up my ambition? Please help me. SUE."

You will not disgrace your family by going on the stage, although you might by running away, and would bring great hardship on yourself by such a course. If you made a great success of the work they would be proud of you, but it takes more than the kind of talent friends say belongs on the stage and a lifelong ambition to make a good actress.

The field is overcrowded, as four out of every five girls your age have the same idea. A stage career means a lot of hard work with much discouragement and probably poverty. Have you ever studied along the lines of voice control, correct enunciation, graceful posture and many other things that are necessary for even a small professional part in a play?

If not, it would be well to start. A college education is as great an asset to a stage career as to any other, so get all the education you can.

If you are sincere in your desire you will work steadily toward the goal, and gradually, by your earnestness, show our people that they are wrong to oppose you. It's a long, hard road, but talented people do make the grade and would not exchange their careers for any other, in spite of all the discouragements.

MICKEY B.: Let the man go, no matter how much you love him, if he won't wait until he can marry you. You may suffer now because you love him, but you'll suffer more if you give in.

"DEAR VIRGINIA LEE: I am 26 years old, was 22 when I was married. I and my husband get along fine except when his mother starts trouble for us. When any of her children begin to be a little mean to her she blames me for it, says I tell them things, and I cannot go to my neighbor or a visit that she does not say I talked about her. We live in a double apartment, one on one side and the other on the other. She has quarreled with me four times in the last four weeks, so we are going to move, as my husband says if she cannot quit blaming me for things I do not do we had better be away. Now am I doing right in stopping doing things for her and staying out? I do not want to cause anyone trouble. Since we have quarreled I have done things for her that she has asked me to, like cleaning and pressing her clothes. ALWAYS WORRIED."

I should think you were doing the wisest things possible in moving away so that she cannot quarrel with you. How miserable such a person must make themselves, always thinking people are talking about her and doing things to spite her. You must pity her. The only think you can do is to keep out of quarrels. It takes two to make 'em, you know. Keep on doing little things for her, and when she gets very trying try to think how unhappy she is and how much happier you are and try to forget the things she says and does. To the words and actions of such people the old motto applies, "What can't be cured must be endured."

WONDERING SEVENTEEN: As long as your parents approve of the young man and you are congenial, I see no reason why you shouldn't continue going together. His people would dislike any girl he went with, on general principles, I take it.

TOOTS: There isn't much you can do to bring the boy back, Toots, dear. Maybe, in time he will find out how deceitful this girl is and come back to you, if you still want him.

SHEEP URGED AS FARM'S BALANCE

COLLEGE STATION, July 30 (AP).—When all Texas farmers add a few sheep to their farming operations the state will have a better balanced system of agricultural operations, Ernest Gibbens of the animal husbandry department of A. & M. College of Texas, told the beef cattle and goat section at the farmers' short course here Monday.

Crop rotation was urged by E. A. Miller, agronomist of the extension service, A. & M. college of Texas, before the farm crops division. Rotation, he said, aids in control of insect pests and plant diseases, in keeping down weeds and in better distribution of farm labor.

Experiments by the Texas agricultural experiment sub-staton near Temple showed a big increase in acre yield, and the largest net profits in the rotation of cotton, corn and oats, Mr. Miller said.

MAN IS HELD FOR FORGERY COUNTS HERE

CHESTER BENDER SAID TO BE IN REEVES COUNTY JAIL

After being identified by three Lubbock citizens as one who forged checks in this city, a man giving his name as Chester Bender, is being held in the Reeves county jail at Pecos on charges of forgery and also is charged with several counts in Reeves county.

C. A. Gammill, jr., of the Lubbock National bank, Hubert Burgess, of the First National bank, and W. J. Duncan, returned Saturday from Pecos where they were called to identify the man. Officers are not positive that Bender is the man's correct name as he is known to have used several aliases.

He is wanted here in connection with the passing of checks drawn on the American First National bank at Oklahoma City and for forging the names of A. V. Weaver and W. J. Duncan to them. The Duncan check netted him $250 while that of Weaver brought him $750. One was cashed at the Lubbock National while the other was cashed at the First National bank.

He will be returned to this county following disposition of charges in Reeves county.

Man Wakes Up In Jail After Fistic Battles

The novelty of waking up in jail was granted to one Lubbock man this morning who in addition to the experience, possessed a sore jaw, a dark brown taste, and two arteries cut in his right hand as the result of a disturbance in a local cafe yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock when a desire to "show off" after drinking too freely got him into trouble.

According to witnesses the man, after confronting several people on the street, walked into the cafe and called out, "I'm all right, ain't I?" He was told that he was, and with this was said to have followed a flow of profanity that caused him to land on the floor through the force of a fist propelled by an offended bystander. He sustained the cut hand when his return blow, directed at his opponent, went wild and landed in a stack of glasses.

Police officers, arriving soon on the scene, succeeded in getting him behind the bars after a short struggle.

Federal Reserve District Improves

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 30 (AP)—A higher volume of business during the first half of 1929 than in the corresponding period of 1928 and crops surprisingly large in view of unfavorable weather conditions, featured the August 1 monthly review of the tenth district Federal Reserve bank. The bank's survey was made in Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico and Wyoming, the seven states of the district.

The bank found credit outstanding in June at the peak of recent years and bank debits, reflecting payments by check in 30 cities, 10.6 per cent large for the first 26 weeks of 1929 as compared with 1928.

IN THE REALM OF SPORT

WITH ALLAN CARNEY
Journal Sports Editor

Members of the Lubbock baseball aggregation that spent last week in Amarillo were vociferous in their praises for the News-Globe tournament officials. The local baseballers were shown every courtesy while in the Potter county metropolis. Their heavy schedule was unavoidable. Rules adopted before the tournament started were adhered to throughout the meet and the Hubbers just happened to hit a tough row of stumps.

Lubbock's challenge to the winner of the tournament before the locals decided to enter likely influenced those in charge of the schedule but the Hubbers still believe they would have stayed in with their full strength, including the regular pitching staff. But the News-Globe tourney is history now and the next step will be to gain revenge on the Lamesa Loboes, the boys who tumbled the Hubbers out of the meet and sent them home. Incidentally, it might prove interesting to figure where the Loboes would be if it had not ben for the super performance of their one-man hurling staff—Leonard Rose. This one gentleman won ever ygame the Loboes took and turned in a number of sparkling performances. Lubbock it will be remembered, got a total of two hits off his delivery in the Saturday game.

Gilbert Jackson, hustling outfielder who spent the majority of his baseball days with Lubbock teams, has come up with a rush in West Texas League batting circles during the past two weeks. When he first joined the Ballinger club the former Hubber was in the throes of a slump, but of late his hitting has been one of the main factors in Ballinger's rise to the top rung in the circuit. Eleven victories out of twelve starts is not a record to be sneezed at, and Ballinger has done that. Jackson is not only slugging the apple at a lively clip but is roaming that center field with his old-time speed.

Saturday at Big Spring, Jackson was hit on the hand by a pitched ball and started to take his base, but the umpire in charge waved him back to the plate. Gilbert promptly responded with a ringing single to right field that scored two runners and then the Cowboys blamed the arbiter.

Two of the Mueller boys from Littlefield have likewise helped pull Ballinger out of its losing ways. E. Mueller is playing shortstop and Al is covering one of the outfields. A third man from these parts stepped into the Ballinger lineup yesterday against Midland and hurled the league leaders to their seventh straight victory. This person was none other than old Lefty Hannah, who spent the early part of the season here with the Hubbers. Hannah went the route against the slugging Colts, and although hit rather freely, was tight in the pinches, striking out nine batsmen. It was Lefty's second start for Ballinger, having been removed from his first game to give way to a pinch hitter, but nevertheless, Ballinger was the winner.

Lil Stoner, who has spent the past several season with the Detroit Tigers of the American League, made his debut on the mound for the 1929 Fort Worth Panthers yesterday and came out with a hard-earned triumph over the Cats' ancient rivals, the Dallas Steers. Although battered hard by the Herd sluggers in the early frames, Stoner settled down and held the Steers at bay while his mates pounded three Dallas hurlers for the triumph. Stoner was the leading pitcher in the Texas League during the season of 1923, winning 27 games for the champion Cats. Although not quite good enough to make the grade as a major league regular, the little righthander undoubtedly has enough left to hurl winning baseball in the Texas circuit. When Frank Snyder returns to the lineup to do the receiving for the Panthers, the Fort Worth pitching will doubtless improve.

Burleigh Grimes' hopes of winning 30 games this year were blurred when he hurt his pitching hand.

Baseball is coming back in Cleveland.

Dazzy Vance finds the Cubs about the easiest club in the circuit to beat.

MOUND ACES BRING BUFFS UP TO POST

STEERS FACE BAYOU TEAM IN SERIES; STONER WINS

BY GAYLE TALBOT, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two more Houston mound aces, Reinhart and Lindsey, pitched unbeatable ball again yesterday and the junior Cards lunged upward to tie for first with Wichita Falls Spudders with a double victory over the San Antonio Indians, 2 to 1 and 4 to 3.

Manager Gene Bailey shot the works in winning four games in two days from the Newnamites, and the Buffs hit Dallas today for a three-game series with their hurling staff pretty well used up.

Southerners Abroad

All southern clubs were on hostile soil today. The Spudders, fresh from a three-out-of-four triumph over Shreveport, meet the Indians the next three afternoons and stand a good chance to beat off the pursuing Buffs, who should have their hands full at Dallas. Beaumont was at Shreveport, flushed with a closing victory over Waco, and the Cubs invaded Fort Worth for a trio.

Starting today, it will become known whether the three southern clubs that have been so troublesome since the second half began really have something on the ball. Of the three, Houston seemingly has the best chance to get somewhere.

Reinhart Continues

Reinhart's eight-hit win over the tribe in the first melee of yesterday's twin bill was his sixth in seven starts. Jim Lindsey gave up only six safeties in the nightcap to celebrate his fifteenth win.

Shreveport salvaged one game of its home stay against the Spuds by outslugging the visitors, 10 to 7, in the first fray of a double. Darkness halted the second after the two clubs had battled to a 3-3 tie in seven innings.

Although he was put over the bumps, Lil Stoner made his first appearance in the Texas League in six years a triumphant one by pitching the Cats to a 7 to 6 victory over Dallas.

The Exporters pushed to within a half game of the third place Cubs by trimming them 5 to 1 behind Stely's fine twirling.

ANOTHER TEUTON SEEKS U. S. GOLD

By JACK SORDS
Sports Cartoonist Writer for Central Press

When news of the success of Max Schmeling in American rings reached Germany, the boys over there couldn't understand it. In Germany Max was rated only a fair fighter and to read of him cashing in on the plentiful American dollars and being touted as the next heavyweight champion of the world was a strange business to a lot of fight people over there.

As a result, there must have been a rush on the steamship ticket offices to book passage for America. At any rate, one of them has arrived in the person of Dr. Ludwig Haymann, an intellectual as well as a physical giant. Just how far the doctor will get in the pursuit of ring fortunes here remains to be seen, for his one outstanding claim to fame is a knockout victory over Franz Diener.

Haymann comes from Munich and is about 27. He is a graduate of the University of Munich with degrees of doctor of political economy and philosophy, but decided that there was more money in using fists than his brain.

He is said to have been knocked down only once in his career of some 50 fights, and that was not until he met Paulino Uzcudun in Spain last year. On that occasion Haymann slipped aud fell. The Basque, instead of retreating to a neutral corner, stood over his opponent and knocked him down when he tried to get up.

Haymann is supposed to be an all around athlete. He won the German championship in the discuss throw and is regarded as a fast man on the cinder paths.

LAMESA WINS FOURTH MONEY IN SERIES AT AMARILLO; CHAMPIONSHIP UP TODAY

(Special To The Journal)

AMARILLO, July 30.—The Lamesa Loboes faded out of the picture here yesterday morning in the semi-finals of the News-Globe tournament when the Pampa Grays, headed by Emmer Gober, handed the White aggregation a sound trouncing, 14 to 4. The defeat sent the Loboes home with fourth money.

Lamesa was clearing worn out from the strain of the tourney and the strong Pampa crew won handily.

The afternoon game found the Wellington team in the throes of a let-down and the Pampa nine again walked off with the long end of the score. The final count was 9 to 4.

Wellington came back with determination in the third contest of the day and gave the Tactless Texans of Amarillo a stiff battle before the cohorts of Sled Allen emerged with a 6 to 4 victory. The Wildcats took the lead and appeared headed for certain triumph, but the Tacks rallied in the late rounds and broke up the conflict.

It's the Amarillo Texans and the Pampa American Legion Grays in the championship game today. Beginning at 3:30, the two teams will be fighting for more than a thousand bucks first money.

MANDELL TO HAVE BATTLE AGAINST TONY

'PA' CANZONERI WILL SEE BOUT; SON IN GOOD SHAPE

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO, July 30.—"Pa" Canzoneri will lead a special cheering section when his son Tony tackles Sammy Mandell for the lightweight championship at the Chicago stadium Friday night.

The New York butcher and farmer landed in his son's camp yesterday and said Mayors Jimmy Walker of New York and Arthur O'Keefe of New Orleans and other notables would help him cheer Tony.

"I have never missed seeing my son fight an important engagement," the elder Canzoneri said. "He looks to be in perfect shape and if Mandell catches his right once or twice he will lose his title."

Never Looked Better

Not in the four years he has been fighting his way to hte top in lighter divisions has chesty Tony looked better. He trains long and hard every day and trainer Lew Fink may force him to all but curtail his activities three days before the 10-round battle.

The challenger is getting his diversion even though manager Sammy Goldman has barred the movies and golf on the grounds they will not help his eye sight. Each night he leads the garden of Allah jazz band for an hour and dances a few jigs.

Mandell put a lot of action into his workout yesterday. He boxed four rounds. Two rounds of rope skipping and two more of socking the big bag completed his day.

STRIBLING FOULS BABE HUNT LAST NIGHT

TULSA, Okla., July 30. (AP)—Towering Babe Hunt of Ponca City, Okla., today held a victory over W. L. (Young) Stribling.

The Georgia heavyweight fouled the "Big Gusher" in the sixth stanza of their ten-round bout at McNulty Park here last night.

The fight was anything but tame during the five rounds. Stribling was leading by a fair margin when the unfortunate ending came. More than 12,000 persons, the largest boxing crowd in the southwest's history, saw the fight.

MOSS BREAKS INTO WIN COLUMN IN MAJOR LEAGUE; CUBS STRETCH LEAD OVER PIRATES; ATHLETICS GO DOWN

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ray Moss, right handed pitcher for the Brooklyn Nationals, finally has completed a major league apprenticeship begun in the spring of 1926.

Moss' 10 to 2 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds yesterday marked the first complete victorious game he ever has pitched in the majors, and, incidentally, it was only the second game he ever started and finished.

Came from Memphis

Moss came up to Brooklyn from Memphis in 1926 to pitch one inning for the Dodgers that season. In 1927 he pitched part of one game and received credit for winning it. Last year he appeared in 22 games, one of them complete, and wound up with a record of no victories and three defeats. During the current campaign he has worked in many games, received credit for several victories, but never before succeeded in pitching a complete game.

Chief interest in the National League struggle centered in Chicago where the Cubs trounced the Phillies, 13 to 10, and increased their lead over Pittsburgh to three and a half games.

Pirates Lose Again

The crippled Pirates lost another game to the Boston Braves, 10 to 9. Rabbit Maranville showed no signs of age, cracking out five hits in as many times at bat.

The New York Giants crashed 17 hits off the delivery of various pitchers to swamp the St. Louis Cardinals, 11 to 2. Mel Ott his 29th homer.

Action in the American League was confined to Chicago's 8 to 6 triumph over Philadelphia, thereby reducing the White Elephant's lead over the New York Yankees to nine and one-half games.

Football Games On Program For Fair

Officials of the South Plains Fair which opens here September 30, announced last night that arrangements are being made to provide visitors with a football game on each of the six days of the annual event.

Although the schedule has not been completed, it is known that the strongest teams of this section will appear on the grid card during the Fair. Class A teams and some of the strongest "B" aggregations will appear on the schedule.

No extra charges will be made for football games this year, it has been announced. The gate admittance will allow the visitors to witness all games.

CAPTAIN BRENNAN PRAISES ORGATONE

Well Known Plainview Salvation Army Leader Makes Strong Statement

One of the most noteworth features in connection with the introductions of Orgatone throughout the south and west has been the large number of ministers of the Gospel who have unhestitatingly and voluntarily given this wonderful medicine their unqualified endorsement.

Captain Chas. Brennan, well known leader of the Salvation Army at Plainview, Texas and residing at 1403 Nassau street, is one of the latest to come forward and add his testimony to the thousands of others who have been restored to health by its use. Captain Brennan has been in charge of the Plainview Salvation Army for the past two months having been transferred there from Childress, Texas, and is not only held in the highest esteem by the hundreds of his church followers, but is exceedingly prominent as a man and citizen. In describing his troubles and failure to heretofore find relief, Captain Brennan said:

"I suffered from a general rundown condition and nervousness more or less for the past year, I could not sleep soundly and for the past several months I suffered from attacks of indigestion. The pains in my head would sometimes seem like they were going to put my eyes out they were so severe, and the relief I got from them was only temporary. I had to diet myself with great care, and I couldn't get any restful sleep at night. I had practically no appetite at all and what I did eat always caused that gasfo form and bothered me for hours at a time. I not only suffered a great deal of pain, but became so weak and run down that I would tire quickly in trying to do my work.

"After hearing of the good work of Orgatone was doing I decided to give it a trial and the results I have gotten have been most satisfactory. I sleep well at night now. Eat anything I like, and relish every meal. I'm not nervous any more, and feel full of life and vigor. My headaches are a thing of the past. Orgatone has proven to be the right thing forr me and I am glad to recommend it as the best medicine I have ever tried." Commenting on the above statement, Harvey Martin, the Orgatone representative said:

"I distinctly recall a number of other members of this high calling who have publicly expressed their indebtedness to this medicine and who felt it their duty to tell suffering humanity of the great benefits that they had derived from its use and not a day passes but what the Orgatone Drug store over the country receive dozens of statements from people in all walks of life who have been relieved after suffering for years."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific bile treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Lubbock exclusively by the Bowen's Drug Store who are direct laboratory agents. Adv.

Before the big show opened doors, the Tinymites heard husky roars outside another little tent. The side show was in sway. "Come one, come all," a fellow cried. "Ten cents and you can go inside. You all will be surprised to see what we've in store today.

"Right here! Right here! Don't leave this place. A smile will shortly cross your face if you will pay your small ten cents to walk inside this tent. All folks who've been here once before come back again to see some more. This is the place for you to stop if you are pleasure bent."

The bunch of Tinies were allowed to mingle right up with the crowd. Then, suddenly a man stepped out and grabbed wee Carpy's hand. "Hey, son," he said. "Come help me out. You'll soon know what it's all about. I'll let you sell some tickets. Hop right up into that stand."

And Carpy cried, "You bet I will. This job will give me quite a thrill. I'll sell a lot of tickets, too. Just watch me and you'll see. At selling things, I'm pretty good. Please, hand me all your tickets and then leave the rest to me."

He then hopped up into the stand and very proudly waved his hand. "Buy tickets here," he shouted. "Hurry up, you'll miss the show. The dancing boozlebum is great. Step up now, folks. Don't hesitate. You'll all come out and thank me for your good time, when you go."

The Boozlebum then came out front and did a funny little stunt. This made the people curious, and anxious, for a fact. It seemed that shortly they were glad to buy what tickets Carpy had. It wasn't any time at all until the tent was packed.

Thought For Today

All his transgressions that he hath committed ... shall not be mentioned ... him: in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live. —Ezekiel 19:22.

"I can forgive, but I can not forget," is only another way of saying "I will not forgive."

...inating Guides

...ity officials of Fredericksburg, Va., have hit upon a system of handling sightseers that for its good taste and common sense, deserves to be copied widely.

Fredericksburg, scene of Washington's boyhood and filled with interesting historic landmarks, draws many tourists every year. But Fredericksburg does not propose to be overrun with sight-seeing busses, leather-lunged guides and the other paraphernalia of the ordinary tourists' haven.

So the city has printed little maps, with the places of interest all marked, numbered and described. And whenever a tourist comes to town he is given one of these and told to go and show himself around.

This scheme is better for the tourist—for who would not prefer to see the sights that way than to listen to the sing-song speech of a bored guide? And it is better for the town, too. Would that some other of our historic towns ... it!

The Lee's Record

Two fast motor yachts will leave New Orleans sometime this month in a race to St. Louis, in which they will try to break the record set in 1870 by the famous old river steamer Robert E. Lee—90 hours and 31 minutes for the 1250-mile course.

We wish these sporting yachtsmen all kinds of luck, of course—but somehow we can't help harboring a sneaking hope that the Lee's record stands unbroken.

A motor yacht is a thing of beauty and a joy forever, to be sure. But the Lee's record is part of the great tradition of the river. It belongs to the packet boats. It has stood for nearly 60 years, and lovers of the river would not mind if it stood for 60 years longer.

Dangers In Speed

Major George A. Parker, state registrar of motor vehicles for Massachusetts, points out the the average speed of automobiles on Massachusetts highways has increased ten miles an hour in the last two years, and believes this is an imporant factor in the steady increase in traffic accidents.

"Probably the vast majority of motorists have not the slightest idea of the potential striking force of their cars, and they go blissfully on their way until they bring up against a bridge-head, a tree or a telegraph pole," he says.

Major Parker remarks that most drivers who come to grief while traveling fast try to alibi themselves. They will blame a bump in the pavement, a slippery road or a too-sharp curve—never realizing that their own speed was the primary factor in the accident.

Fast driving is all right, provided that you remember that high speed calls for increased care and forethought. Mishaps that are unimportant at 20 miles an hour become extremely dangerous when the speed rises to 40.

Real Job

Due to the way the war on liquor smugglers has been getting into the papers lately, most of us probably have come to look on the coast guard solely as an organization designed to prevent violation of our customs laws. The rescue of 240 passengers from the liner Prince George, off Boston, serves to remind us that the coast guard's primary function is to save lives at sea.

The cutter Mohave, which brought the liner's passengers to safety, has a rather distinguished record along that line. Last winter it brought to port two freight steamers, crippled by gales, that would have been lost without its help.

Jobs like that are the coast guard's regular routine. It is an extremely useful organization, with a gallant record. Let's not let its more spectacular activities against rum row make us forget that.

THE PANLINMAS Says

That Girl on Broadway says the Western woman who has applied for her fifth divorce would do better if she requested a permanent injunction against marrying.

A gentleman named Ham is to succeed another gentleman, named Hogg, as the leader of Lubbock's united church revival. Donations should be requested from Swift and Armour to cover attending publicity.

The Plainsman has been more than casually interested in a recent article by Dr. W. R. White, pastor of the First Baptist church, explaining why he is opposed to cardplaying. Doctor White's article, which appears in a recent issue of his church's periodical, is good reading regardless of which side of the fence the reader happens to be.

In his article, Doctor White, who happens to be both Doctor of Theology and Doctor of Divinity, gives ten separate and distinct reasons for his belief that card playing is detrimental to civilization and it must be said that he is certainly more broad-minded concerning the subject than most of the opponents of the Hoyle pastimes. His topic is food for thought whether the individual or disagrees with the writer. The game of bridge, which is undeniably the most popular of all games here and the nation throughout, draws considerable of the Doctor's attention.

Personally, The Plainsman never plays cards unless it is forced upon him. Frankly, he would rather play marbles than bridge because bridge demands a certain amount of thought and in his few leisure hours The Plainsman prefers not to think about anything. On the other hand, this writer sees no more harm in playing cards in leisure hours than in playing checkers, "42" or just sitting around talking. In other words it's all in the point of view and this would be an uninteresting old world if we all saw everything in an identical light.

It is not the purpose of this dissertation to agree or disagree with Doctor White and his opinions on card playing. It is to call attention of people who might wish to read something interesting and timely—something which will make them think—and which won't hurt anybody a bit. The Plainsman feels that he is the one person in Lubbock who is absolutely neutral on cards. He plays when he has to, dodges them when he can—and doesn't care how much one group plays or how much the opposing side opposes playing.

Although usually decidedly 'fur or 'gainst any theory on anything and generally preferring argument to meals, The Plainsman can see two sides to Mr. White's article. As one may drink too much beer, eat too many beefsteaks and buy too many clothes, so can one play too much cards. If The Plainsman didn't do so many things that are worse than playing bridge he would say without fear of contradiction that there are a good many women right here in Lubbock who could play less bridge to their own benefits. On the other hand, unless a portion of the time thus spent were put to more practical tasks, those same bridge players could be doing a lot worse things—at least as The Plainsman sees it.

The spirit of competition in cards, in feats of strength and agility, in business—in fact in everything—is deeply imbedded in the human race and as long as humanity remains as it is today various and sundry ways and means of bringing competition to the surface will be resorted to and will be popular. And, it might be pointed out here that even when a Sunday school is divided into 'the Reds' and 'the Blues' to see which side can get the most new members and a chicken dinner on the losers, it is not so much different from bridge with 'two-bits on the corner.' At least the competitive spirit is basically the same.

The Plainsman is glad to see Doctor White coming out in print on the things he believes. This writer is of the opinion that if all the pastors would do the same thing in the same broad-minded way we'd all have more to think about whether the ideas expressed changed our own or not. Pastors of leading churches in any community can and should be spark plugs in the motor of every day life and demeanor and The Plainsman, for one, will approve rather than resent such actions whether he has the same opinions in the same light as the pastors or not.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, July 30.—Mere ambassadors may be enough to satisfy such elderly millionaires as Charles G. Dawes and Dwight Morrow, but the really ambitious federal job seeker will go hunting for a post as an American high commissioner.

An ambassador parks himself in a foreign capital and usually becomes little more than a glorified messenger boy. But when an American high commissioner goes anywhere he goes there to run the whole show. He has the rank of an ambassador and he ranks as the senior officer at all times.

There is no more powerful American outside this country than an American high commissioner. He is perhaps the nearest modern approach we have to the old Roman pro-consul.

These Jobs Are Scarce

Unfortunately, there are very few of these jobs to be had. There never were very many and the only high commissioner now in force is that of Major General John A. Russell of the marines, who has been our high commissioner to Haiti since 1922. The chances are that General Russell will hold his job indefinitely, but there has been some agitation for his replacement by a civilian, so it may be a good tip to job seekers to suggest that they sound out President Hoover.

One recalls only two other high commissioners within the past two decades. Sumner Welles was made high commissioner to the Dominican Republic several years ago and served two years, commuting between Santo Domingo and Washington until he had straightened out the country to the state department's satisfaction.

The other was Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol who, as high commissioner to Turkey, was one of the most important figures in the Near East during the post-war period. Bristol co-ordinated our policies and looked after American interests in that section of the world and proved himself a diplomat of parts. He was on the commission which investigated the Greek occupation of Smyrna and was a delegate to the Lausanne conference. Lately he has commanded the Asiatic fleet.

Runs the Whole Country

Russell is an excellent example of the power that can be lodged with a high commissioner. He deals directly with the president—sometimes called "our puppet president"—of Haiti an dthe state department. For eight years, under our treaty with Haiti, he has had sway over that country's customs, finances, police systems, public works, agriculture and public health.

All American treaty officials, directing these various branches of government, come under the general. Although an officer of the marines he is not compelled to wear a uniform and doesn't. He has been on the job for eight years and was first appointed on the recommendation of a senatorial committee which went to the island about 1920.

What appeared to be a demonstration of Russell's power was given last year when Senator King of Utah, who had criticized American occupation of Haiti, was barred from visiting the country by President Borno. While it could not be shown that Russell had inspirted the ban, few failed to concede that a word from him to Borno would promptly have averted this affront to an American senator.

With the benign though tacit approval of Russell, free press and free speech in Haiti have been pretty generally suppressed and Borno has jammed through laws extending his titular dictatorship and effecting his domination of the Haitian courts, which he did not take over under the treaty. American Marines long ago dissolved the Haitian congress, so Russell hasn't a representative legislative body to contend with as has our governor general in the Philippines.

Sympathetic, but Firm

State department officials say that Russell is very sympathetic with the Haitians, has maintained peace and order, built roads, established agricultural schools, diversified crops, instituted sanitation and health measures, maintained up-to-date service on the debt and provided more money for government expenditures. The marines had to kill 2,000 or 3,000 Haitians for their own good about ten years ago, but such killings have not since been found necessary.

There have been numerous complaints to the effect that American rule has inflicted misery on the mass of Haitians—complaints invariably denied, but enough to indicate that General Russell hasn't introduced a millenium. Nevertheless, he has fully demonstrated what a puissant person is an American high commissioner. Under a treaty extension, the Haitian job is good until 1936.

Circulation of Tech Library Increasing

Showing a substantial increase over the previous year, the inside and outside circulation of the Texas Tech library for 1928-29 was 50,301, according to Miss Elizabeth West, librarian.

This increase is partly due to an increased enrollment, partly due to longer library hours, and perhaps partly due to more intensive use of the library on the part of individual students, it was said.

The library had a circulation of 7,940 during the month of June, the greatest for any single month in the history of the school.

SUGGESTS NEW LAW

MEXICO CITY, July 30 (AP) — Passage of a law making establishment of a nursery in every factory employing women, obligatory was suggested by Mrs. Carmen G. De Portes Gil, wife of the president, in a letter to the senate.

In the last 12 months $400,000,000 was spent in London for bread, and $42,500,000 for milk.

Going Places With Swan

Gilbert Swan

HOLLYWOOD, July 30—Every film lot of any consequence has its "studio bungalow." Not infrequently, there are several.

This, if you please, is the mark of the star. In the theater, for many years, a tinseled star decorated the doorway of the bright and particular personage whose name was to be found in bright lights over the marquee.

Out here in the Holly-woods with the more important planets build themselves bungalows for dressing rooms—and for those particular rest periods between periods. Those which have become sufficiently famous bungalows are pointed out by the bright young men from the studios who show you around. Ronald Colman and Marion Davies, I believe, have the particular show spots of the film lots at the present writing. But, I am told, there is a certain rivalry!

The high spot of high spots, however, is the cottage of Cecil De Mille, who is a showman down to his kitchenette. On the MGM lot, the Cecil De Mille cottage is something which even a traveling scribe from Manhattan may not enter without some slight temerity and effort. De Mille, whose bath tubs and bedrooms once added to the gaiety of nations, is guarded by what appear, at first glance, to be frail feminines. But just try to crash his door! Not even the bloody Amazons could have held quite so much frigidaire in their tones.

One is told guardedly that Mr. De Mille is more than merely a busy man; he is a producer in his own right—an official of the Motion Picture Something-or-Other, a director and a this-and-that. After such hocus-pocus as might be necessary to crash the gate of J. P. Morgan's; after such misrepresentations of my standing in society as the friendly guide could conjure up, I have been allowed to gaze upon M. De Mille's secret set of collected pistols; I have seen his sword of the Samurai; his cabinet of carved doo-dads, including the largest bit of carved jade in the world, or whatever it is; his rugs, curtains, drapes—yes, and even his slightly bald head.

And, seemingly, hundreds of performers are more than passingly interested in necromacy, superstition and prognostication in general. All about the lots one sees signs of the seers. There are palmists and crystal gazers and trance mediums and such. I am told that these do a truly amazing business among the players. It's not infrequently a short life and a merry one, where contracts are concerned, and even the mightiest are known to consult other stars.

A few, I am further informed, pay annual fees to certain astrological gazes—as one would pay a lawyer—to keep them informed on any planetary changes which may take place. They demand to be told of the bad days and the good days so that they may be fore-warned, and hence fore-armed.

The streets of Hollywood are full of odd and quite typical landmarks. Thus, in front of the most garish of the vast theaters, players have inscribed names and greetings in the cement before it had a chance to dry. There are good luck notices and hello notices and a dozen signatures crudely set down in the vast courtyard which must be entered to reach the doorway.

Upon a sunny day, one is likely to encounter the sun-tanned, lithe-strided disciple of some outdoor cult or other, who dresses as nearly like Peter the Hermit as the authorities will allow. His suit is of some gunny sack material and his sandals, if factory made, are a fair imitation of those worn in another era.

GILBERT SWAN.

CORRESPONDENT SUGGESTS QUICK, PAINLESS METHOD TO TREAT INGROWN TOENAILS

Ingrowing Toenails

A short time ago I gave a young girl, Margery, advice on the treatment of ingrowing toenails. I said that if they continued to recur, even with the correct footwear, she might have to have an operation.

I have had several letters since, with some practical suggestions about the treatment of ingrowing toenails. I'll give you two of them:

"Dear Doctor: Don't ever recommend gory surgery for ingrown toenails while there is this cheap, quick and painless way! Here is the cure. After the wound has been cleansed, pack a small wad of dry, absorbent cotton under the nail at the offending side, as far to the side as possible. Use an orange stick as rammer. Don't pack in too much, never enough to make it hurt. Repeat this every 24 hours, trying to insert a slightly larger wad each time, but not painfully so. In a week's time that toe is pretty well, the cotton having pushed the flesh away from the nail. Keep up treatment until edge of nail protrudes from the skin and cannot creep in again. Never cut nails so closely at sides as to give them a chance to dig in. Sometimes the process has to be repeated several times a year, but at the first sign of the misbehavior of the toe, a little cotton will do the work."

"J."

Here's the second:

"For ingrown toenails, take a thin piece of broken tumbler (a pen knife is better—L. H. P.) and scrape center of nail from bottom out to edge until it feels thin; cut the nail edge with a V in the center and round the corners of it. Do this every week, and never neglect it. Your shoes should be long and wide enough.

X."

As I've had several requests, I'll repeat the method of treating these ingrown toenails, which I took from one of my books on surgery. (It mentioned the nail scraping as a possible help to prevent recurrence. Evidently X. finds this practical.)

Soak the foot in hot, soapy water, separate the nail folds as far as possible, and dust with boracic acid powder or apply ichthyol ointment. Better insert a little strip of absorbent cotton or line. If pus has formed it's a good idea to wash out the groove with peroxide of hydrogen before putting in the medication and cotton. Strap the toe with one-half inch adhesive strap in the following manner:

Fasten one end of the strap on the overlapping fold in such a manner that you can pull the adhesive around under the toe, and so pull the overlapping fold away from the nail. Carry it way around and over the nail so that it will overlap where you started, and so hold the medication and cotton.

Cutting the toenails straight across, instead of round, is believed to help prevent the formation of ingrowing toenails. But it won't if shoes too narrow or short are worn. (If you do cut the nails straight across, round off the sharp corners with a nail file.)

Mrs. D.—The mouth swab to cause distates for tobacco is silver nitrate, 1-2 of 1 per cent solution. It is a liquid, not a solid! What your groceryman got for you is evidently a stick of lunar caustic, which is almost solid silver nitrate. Lucky you had sense enough not to use it. It would have burned you severely. (Salt water is an antidote to silver nitrate.)

We have an article on the Tobacco Habit and Cure which you may have.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot diagnose, nor give personal advice. Your questions, if of general interest, will be answered in the column, in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, and two cents in coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining, 10 cents in coin, with fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed. Address Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.

Tomorrow: Faintness.

CRITICISM OF AIR MAIL SERVICE DECLARE DUNFAIR

BY W. IRVING GLOVER, Second Assistant Postmaster General

(Warren Irving Glover was born at Brooklyn, Oct. 2, 1879. He was educated in the public schools and began as a boy in the employ of a commission merchant in New York City, continuing as a distributor in the woolen trade until 1906. In that year he organized the Afton Holding corporation, a real estate concern. He served as a member of the New Jersey assembly from 1916 to 1921 and as speaker in 1920. During the next four years he was third assistant postmaster general and has been second assistant since 1925. His home is in Englewood, N. J.)

Criticisms of delays in the air mail service based upon a test in which leters were mailed to Washington, one by air and one by rail from 46 of the 48 state capitals are unfair, in my opinion.

According to the tabulation of the test, the air letters beat the rail letters in 23 instances out of 46; arrived at the same time as the rail letters in 14 instances, and air mail proved slower in the remaining nine instances. The usefulness of the airplane, for the present at least, is confined to the transportation of light loads, such as mail and passengers, over long distances. It cannoto hope to compete with the railroad on short hops. The time gained in the air over ground transportation is lost between flying fields and business centers and will continue to be a handicap to the airship until some means is found for landings in uptown areas.

Of course, the failure to have found such a means up to this time might be construed as a point for constructive criticism, yet I cannot agree that it is one.

The air mail service does not function 100 per cent perfect, nor does the postoffice department attempt to claim such a performance for it. Neither is any other transportation system immune from delays and performance failure. The air mail may be and frequently is delayed by fog and sometimes by storm.

The railroad is also affected by weather conditions. Severe snow storms have been known to delay many trains, and rail transportation is sometimes crippled for weeks when tracks are washed out by floods.

I cannot help but recall that during the great Mississippi flood of 1927 the airplane was virtually the only means of communication, and in some instances of transportation of food and medical supplies to the flood sufferers in a great many inundated towns.

Name Is Suggested For Sousa's March

DENTON, July 30 (Special)—Daughters of Texas, Dedicated to C. I. A." will be the official title of the march composed by John Philip Sousa for the College of Industrial Arts if the piece is named in accordance with the suggestion of the student body.

Sousa promised to write the march when his band appeared in concert at the college last October. It has recently been completed and the author asked that the students suggest titles.

Summer Months Hard on Stomach Sufferers

Quick, Natural Relief from Simple Herbal Compound

How much suffering a weak stomach can cause! Painful gas, bloating, sleeplessness, loss of weight—vigor. Bad enough at any time but when exhausting summer heat is added, strength is drained from the sturdiest body.

But here is one of many thousands who found a way to relief:

Mrs. A. M. Owens, of 1716 Taylor St. Rt. 5, Box 34, Little Rock, Ark., says "I was so weak I couldn't walk across the floor. I had spent a fortune trying to get well and would be in my grave if it weren't for Tanlac. Now I eat and sleep fine and have gained 22 lbs."

It's never too late to try Tanlac. So go to your druggist now and get a bottle. No mineral drugs—only Nature's own medicinal herbs, but its efficacy is so apparent that often only one bottle is needed to bring desired relief. Money back if it doesn't help.

STOCKS DRIFT HIGHER TODAY

MONDAY'S REACTION BRINGS VOLUME OF SALES ORDERS

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP).—Stock prices drifted irregularly lower at the opening of today's market. Yesterday's reaction, the sharpest since the May break, brought a fairly larger volume of selling orders into the market overnight by traders who were out of touch with the market yesterday. Commercial Investment Trust dropped 2 1-2 points, New York Central 2 and American Telephone 1. Allied Chemical advanced 2 1-2 points and Bethlehem Steel 1.

A sudden reversal in speculative sentiment occurred shortly after the opening when a brisk demand developed for the public utilities and a few specialties. The selling quickly dried up, and a sharp recovery was under way before the end of the first half hour.

Maytag Advances

Maytag advanced 2 points to a new high at 26 5-8, one block of 15,000 shares changing hands at 26. Allied Chemical quickly extended its gain to 6 points, and Newport Co., Gillette Safety Razor and National Cash Register to 3 points or more. American Can, General Electric, Atchison, Radio, public Service of New Jersey and R. H. Macy recorded early gains of 2 points or more.

Wall street apparently construed the fact that yesterday's sales ran below 3,000,000 shares as evidence that no important liquidation had taken place. This gave fresh encouragement to pools which had been proceeding slowly on the theory that powerful financial interests might suddenly decide to start liquidating their holdings and bringing about a sharp reaction.

American Scouts Arrive In England

DALLAS, July 30 (AP).—Notice of the arrival of 370 American Boy Scouts, en route to the world-wide "Jamboree" Scouts are holding at Birkenhead, England, at Liverpool on July 26, has been received here by A. Y. Chancellor, district agent for the Canadian Pacific railroad. The delegation included a number of boys from Texas.

COTTON GOES UPWARD TODAY

ADVANCE OF 17 TO 26 POINTS ARE MADE ON GOTHAM MART

NEW YORK, July 30 (AP).—The cotton market opened firm today at an advance of 17 to 26 points on bullish private crop advices, and relatively firm Liverpool cables. There was also nervousness over the continued absence of rain in some western belt sections while traders felt that it was too wet some parts of the east.

At 19.00 for October and 19.81 for January, the market met considerable realizing but it was absorbed on moderate reactions, and prices soon firmed up again, with the market showing net gains of about 30 to 35 points by the end of the first half hour.

One private report this morning said that the crop had deteriorated severely at the end of last week due to increased boll weevil depredations and also to heavy boll worm damage in Texas.

Liverpool reported covering with local and continental buying in that market.

Values continued to rise during the morning until October traded at 18.96 and December 19.15, or 34 to 38 points above yesterday's close. At these levels recent buyers took profits and as a result mid-session prices showed recessions of 11 to 12 points from the top.

A private authority issued a report during the morning making the condition of the crop 72 per cent of normal, indicating a crop of 15,810,000 bales.

OPENER IS FIRMER IN NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, July 30 (AP).—The cotton market opened firmer today in response to higher Liverpool cables, and on some covering by shorts. Initial trades showed gains of 12 to 15 points and the market continued to advance on continued covering in an oversold market.

The advance was further stimulated by predictions of rapid deterioration of the crop during August by a private authority. At the end of the first hour October sold at 18.91, December 19.10 and January 19.12, or 29 to 32 points above yesterday's close.

The early advance extended to 19.12 for October and 19.49 for March or about 30 to 38 points net higher on the general list. At these prices, there seemed to be some southern selling as well as realizing, however, while the buying tapered off and the market later in the morning was quiet showing reactions of some 10 or 15 points from the best. At midday the market was 20 to 24 points net higher.

A private report was published placing the condition of the crop at 72 and the indicated yield at 15,810,000 bales.

Bachelors, whether male or female, have been further discouraged by Italy, which will give married persons preference in selecting state employes.

GRAIN PRICES GO DOWNWARD TODAY

CHICAGO, July 30 (AP).—Wheat and corn values took an irregular downward slide today, influenced largely by the big movement of domestic winter wheat to terminal markets. Rains in Nebraska tended specially to ease corn, and there were heavy selling profits for wheat holders.

Opening at 7-8c off to 7-8c up, wheat later showed a decided general setback, corn started unchanged to 5-7c up, and afterward underwent an all-around sag. Oats followed corn. Provisions declined.

OIL NEWS NOTES

TULSA, Okla., July 30 (AP).—Halting a continuous upward climb which during the five weeks ending July 20 had resulted in an increase of approximately 170,000 barrels, the estimated daily average production of light and heavy crude oil in all fields of the United States during the week ending July 27 declined 13,529 barrels, according to the current report of the Oil and Gas Journal here.

The decreaze for the week resulted in a total estmiated daily average production of 2,898,014 barrels as compared to 2,911,543 barrels for the week ending July 20.

California Field Drops

Registering virtually the first decline over a period of several months, the Santa Fe Springs, Cal., deep drilling area dropped 25,000 barrels, contributing the chief source of the general decline. California reported a total decline of 22,750 barrels in light oil and 3,000 in heavy oil.

All Oklahoma fields registered increases totalling 9,185 barrels with the Oklahoma City pool leading with a climb of more than 3,000 barrels. West Texas fields dropped approximately 1,500 barrels. The total midcontinent area, however, totaled an increase of 14,502 barrels. The Texas Panhandle area continued to climb, reporting an increase of more than 4,000 barrels during the week.

Heavy oil losses contributed 8,461 barrels of the total 13,529 decrease with the Gulf Coast area providing the major amount, approximately 5,365 barrels. California heavy oil dropped 3,000 barrels. The total heavy oil production for the past week was 436,984 barrels as compared to 445,435 for the week ending July 20.

Two Weeks With Pain

By SNOWSHOE AL

WELL, folks, undoubtedly there is thousands of bimbos who ain't had their vacation yet an' are trying to locate some interesting spot where they can separate themselves from two weeks time an' several months salary. As one of this country's foremost authorities on summer hangouts—in fact, I have wired home for money from every well-known place in America—I desire to offer a few suggestions:

NIAGARA FALLS

Contrary to popular belief, the Large Splash is not one of Mama Nature's dumb pranks. Nay, dear reader, that's exactly what this elongated shower-bath is anything else except! Niagara Falls was formed suddenly in the year 1499 by a European explorer whose monicker was Sir Graham MacIntosh.

Mr. MacIntosh was rowing up the Niagara River one morning, hoping to find a tribe of Redskins who would sell him four carloads of buffalo robes for 10 cents when, curses, his dime slipped out from between his teeth an' disappeared in the shallow water. After wading around for three months without finding it, he lost his temper an' kicked the poor stream all out of shape, which is the reason it has been galloping perpendicular at that spot ever since.

THIS sudden descent of bath-fluid produces a roar which will fill any young widow with sad memories, because it will remind her of the racket her dear, departed Battle Companion used to make whenever dinner was an hour late.

From the American side of the Loud Spill, one sees a very beautiful sight—Canada! Canada, as you know, is the land where you can drink water from choice instead of compulsion.

Several tourists arrive every year to stare at the Wet Precipice, so a few rooming houses have been built to accommodate them. These dumps are very reasonable, in fact, most of them serve a dandy 75-cent luncheon — for $6.50, an' almost any of them will let you have a room an' bath in exchange for your auto. They'll accept your promise-sorry note for the difference.

Several gents have eased their carcasses over the falls an' have lived to complain about it; two in barrels, one in a large rubber ball an' six in a drunken stupor.

CHICAGO

Chicago is a hamlet situated near the south end of Lake Michigan, an' is better known as the Windy City. Most of the breeze, however, is caused by stray machine gun bullets. At one time there was a fort here to protect the Whites from the Indians. Twelve forts are now being built here to protect the women an' children from the dry agents.

MOST people are under the impression that Chicago is a rather noisy burg, but they are wrong! The town is so quiet that, on summer evenings when your window is open, you can hear ordinary remarks like "Stick 'em up," or "Help!" or "Who shot this gink?" two blocks away!

Visitors to Chicago should not allow their children to go barefoot on the sidewalks, as the little ones are apt to get their hoofs cut by empty cartridge shells.

If you contemplate visiting this village, do not be so optimistic as to purchase a round-trip ticket. Also, be sure your wardrobe includes sheet-iron underwear an' a steel helmet. Oh, you'll love Chicago!

THE GRAND CANYON

The Grand Canyon is my idea of a real hole! This excavation is one mile deep, longer than Sunday afternoon in Philadelphia an' wider than a snake charmer's hips.

I have heard several scientific explanations of the manner in which it was formed, but I think my own theory is as good as anybody else's. I claim the Canyon is merely the result of a rich ex-bartender's efforts to wallop a golf ball out of a sand-trap.

IF you crave a real thrill, ride down the side of the Canyon on a burro, which is an animal too large to be a rabbit an' too dumb to be a mule. (I state this for the benefit of anyone who thinks a burro is a chest of drawers which constitutes part of a bedroom suite.)

The paths are only about two feet wide, an' you'll experience your big moment when Mr. Burro reaches over the side of the cliff after a blade of grass, thereby allowing you to gaze down at one mile of nothing! All the dirty tricks you ever played on your mother-in-law will flash across your mind immediately in panoramic form, an' you'll suddenly wish you had gone to church oftener.

PINE TREE RESORT

Pine Tree Resort is up in the north woods, an' their descriptive literature fairly reeks with phooey phrases such as "Scenes to inspire the artist," "Fisherman's Paradise," "Cool, dark pools where lurks the muskellunge," "Virgin forests" an' other apple gravy of a like nature.

This joint is so deep amid the wilderness that you have to hire a guide if you walk farther than 20 feet away from the front porch. Indian guides, of course, are available for anybody who desires to make the front pages of the tabloids.

The resort consists of two large barns. The horses an' cows live in the newest one, an' the guests an' mosquitoes share the other. After you have been here for a couple days you'll realize that nothing lurks in the "cool, dark pools" except some broken bottles, a flock of empty tin cans an' several submerged stumps.

But the mosquitoes! Sweet essence of profanity! How them long-nosed eagles do love to harpoon strangers! When one of those cannibals sinks his tusks into your neck you'll think somebody threw an ax! They're so big they can raise a lump on your face by kicking you! On account of their size, they are commonly referred to as Carnivorous Pigeons. A full-grown specimen weighs two pounds ordinarily, or six pounds after he has punctured your hide an' inhaled deeply. These Flying Ostriches have been known to chew holes through a brick wall in order to gain admittance to a victim's bedroom.

PINE TREE RESORT'S home-cooked meals will linger forever in your memory! Diner usually consists of cremated cow, burnt potatoes, scorched parsnips, feeble coffee, robust oleomargarine an' canned peaches. To make matters worse, if possible, the Kitchen Clown who bathes the Shanghai Crockery is evidently far-sighted, because her idea of a clean plate is something which is slightly whiter than a phonograph record. In fact, any amateur sleuth could gaze at one of them for a minute an' then recite the entire menu for the past week.

The only "scene to inspire an artist" around this dump is the owner of the establishment. One glance at his mug will convince you that he is God's gift to the cartoonists. He must have been born during a lull in the conversation.

Yes, you really should consider Pine Tree Resort.

PARIS, FRANCE

"Mademoiselle from gay Paree, parley voooooo—"

If you have never been to Paris you won't like it—the place is full of foreigners. They are a dizzy collection, an' no less! They think a snail is a delicacy instead of an insect. The only reason the French don't broil elephants is because they can't get one into an oven.

After you have spent an evening in a French cabaret you'll wonder why they don't pay their war debt. When they ad up your bill for the fireworks it looks like an auto license plate.

BEING the fashion center of the world, no American girl would think of leaving Paris without buying a "perfectly stunning creation" which will knock her loose from $125 or thereabouts. When she gets home again she'll discover that Lizzie Murphy is wearing the same thing, purchased at Smith's Department Store for 18 bucks.

Go to Paris if you wish, but take my word for it, Jesse James could have grabbed some hot ideas in that village!

NEW YORK CITY

New York City, as you know, is a suburb of Ellis Island an' is located on the Atlantic coast. The mayor of this hamlet is believed to be a wandering nomad named Jimmie Walker, in fact there is an office in the City Hall which contains his photograph an' his forwarding address.

One thing which has made this city famous is Wall Street, where millionaires become bums an' bums become bummer. The river is located at one end of the street an' many gents regard this as a great convenience.

The town maintains two police boats at this spot to prevent stock speculators from going in bathing while wearing an anvil or a kitchen stove around their necks as a locket.

Chinatown is a very interesting section of the burg. The inhabitants, of whom there are 30,000, did not understand what anybody else was talking about (these Chinese understand only English) so they banded together an' formed this funny-smelling suburb. Yup, whenever a stranger wishes to hear the English language spoken he has to go to Chinatown.

Some of the freaks who live on Fifth Avenue will hand you a loud laugh! They live in a $2000-per-month wigwam, they drive a 10,000-buck car an' they wear a ton of jewelry. But when dinner time comes around they gallop over to the nearest delicatessen an' buy a nickel's worth of cheese. There must be something rancid in Copenhagen! I've heard of bimbos living beyond their means, but these punks have already spent their life insurance!

YOU'LL find a different class of people living on Riverside Drive. These ginks really own their huts an' are heavily loaded with wampum. They're so high-class that they won't talk to anybody except a head waiter. On the other hand, a head waiter considers himself too high-class to talk to them, so therefore they have to talk to themselves. An' anybody who talks to himself is a nut, so you better not hang around Riverside Drive.

Don't forget to visit Trinity Churchyard, because Alexander Hamilton is buried there. It's easy to find his tombstone—there's usually eight messenger boys sitting on it eating their lunch. An enormous grave—almost 200 feet long—is now being dug there, an' everybody is wondering whether it's for a dinosaur or the Statue of Liberty.

Yes, you'd like New York.

Perhaps no other civilization of the new world, with the exception of the Aztec Indians in Mexico, has spurred historians to greater romantic fantasies than the Mayans.

MEXICAN AUTHORITY ENDED IN 1836

Bexar County Sheriff Informs Mexican Official Of Officers' Authority Now; Matter Is All Settled

(By Associated Press)

SAN ANTONIO July 30.—The authority of officers of the Mexican government to question the acts of Texas officials ended in 1836, Alphonso Newton, jr., Bexar county sheriff, wrote Monday in a letter addressed to Enrique Santibanez, Mexican consul general here, in reply to two protests received by the sheriff from the diplomatic officer relative to Newton's offer to arrest General Plutarco Calles during his brief visit here July 22.

At the time Newton, acting on information contained in news dispatches to the effect that Calles was wanted at Laredo, Webb county, in connection with the alleged killing of two officers of the Mexican army, wired the Laredo sheriff an offer to arrest the former president of Mexico if the Webb county officer desired.

July 24 Santibanez addressed a letter to Newton expressing his surprise at the Bexar county sheriff's actions and adding his belief that it was not within the jurisdiction of a sheriff to offer such services but to wait until they were asked by another sheriff. Santibanez also, in his letter of that date, added: "This zealousness might disclose more than a true and sincere desire to fulfill the duties of a public official; a desire to carry out revenge or an act of political character." Santibanez added he did not believe Sheriff Newton to be a person capable of such an act.

The letter received Monday by the sheriff reminded him that he had not answered the previous letter, which was quoted, and added that, while surprised at Newton's original action in the Calles matter, Sanibanez was still more surpised to learn from Sheriff Joe Condron of Webb county, that Newton had made no offer to him, either in writing or verbally, to arrest Calles.

ST. LOUIS FLIERS SEND NOTE DOWN SAYING THEY WILL LAND "SOME TIME" excitement here this morning when they dropped a note from the endurance plane "St. Louis Robin" saying they were going to come down "some time." The note evidently was meant to "kid" the ground crew and was dropped about 6:30 a. m.

Major C. Ray Wassell glanced at the note and yelled "the fliers are coming down." O'Brine and Jackson noted the excitement and signaled for him to read on. At the end appeared "sometime." The plane had been up 407 hours at 6:17 a. m. (C. S. T.) just before the note was dropped.

Earnings Soar

Past the 400-hour mark in time, the pilots also were past the $18,000 mark in earnings.

Official instructions advising them they might come down when they wished were drafted in a letter by Major William B. Robertson, head of the airplane company sponsoring the flight, last night for conveyance to the fliers this morning. It told of the requests made of him to order the world's champions down after the 400-hour mark was passed at 11:17 o'clock (C. S. T.) last night. But Major Robertson asserted it would be "an injustice to tell you to come down before you are ready."

The motor is good for 500 hours, Major Robertson's letter said, in the opinion of Arthur Nutt, its designer. Nutt, who was a member of the party drafting the letter, said: "Its failure will be nothing more than the gradual loss of power."

The fliers, in yesterday's note had said cylinders numbers 4 and 6 showed signs of weakening and gaskets were leaking. They noticed no difference in the propeller revolutions, but more oil was needed.

In a note dropped late yesterday ordering the night's gasoline supply, O'Brine told of a "crap game" at 6,500 feet, and revealed the optimism of the pilots was undimmed.

They received a note from Captain Eddie V. Rickenbakker, who was here yesterday, in which he lauded their flight as one which will aid the air service of the near future by doing away with the fear of a motor stopping in the air and by proving the use of refueling for long cross-country flights.

HAUGLAND DIES FROM CRASH INJURIES

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 30 (AP).—Two deaths have ended a sixth attempt here to set a new refueling endurance airplane flight.

Owen Haugland, Buffalo, Minn., co-pilot of the monoplane, "The Minnesota," died late yesterday at a hospital, the second victim of the plane's fall early yesterday morning. He did not regain consciousness. The other pilot, Capt. P. L. Crichton of Minneapolis, died instantly when the plane fell at Wold Chamberlain airport here.

MILL STRIKE

pect, or the stoppage in wages among the none to well off workers began to be felt greatly.

Of the 500,000 strikers all but 150,000 are union members and provided for by an unemployment wage or dole having an American equivalent of from $1.92 a week for young girls to $4.80 a week for men in the cardrooms; of from $1.64 to $6.00 for spinning operatives with 72 cents extra for every child in the family under 16; and of from $3.60 to $7.20 for weavers, according to the grades of their work.

There are 150,000 workers not union members and who conceivably will be compelled to seek relief from public authorities before many days.

While the unionists will be far from destitute they wil lbe far short of normal income, which, although a complicated system of piece work prevails, has been estimated at 47 shillings ($11.08) weekly for men and 30 shillings ($7.20) for women.

The reduction which the employers proposed to make effective would have reduced the average to about ($9.84) for men and 27 shillings (6.48) for women.

It was held generally the present labor government would be much more likely to find a way of settling the dispute than would have a government of another political complexion, and both operators and operatives looked to Miss Margaret Bondfield, Minister of Labor.

RAIL HEARING

Vernon and Dallas over the new line with one day delivery to points on that route from Dallas and Fort Worth. The freight trains, he said, would leave Quanah and Vernon about 4 p. m., meeting at Beaver creek, reaching Fort Worth at 6 a. m. and Dallas at 8 a. m. the next morning. Trains the other way would leave Dallas about 4 p. m., reaching Quanah and Vernon at 8 a. m. Under Gulf, Texas and Western operation between Salesville, Jacksboro and Seymour, only three freight trains have been operated each way weekly.

Short of Equipment

Hutcheson declared car shortage would not handicap the new line since the Frisco had been short of equipment only during June, heavy grain shipping month in the Panhandle. Residents on the Gulf, Texas and Western had contended service over that line was unsatisfactory since equipment was not always available. The Gulf, Texas and Western, with no equipment of its own, has been getting cars from lines which were to finish the haul.

The Frisco official also denied his road had any intention of abandoning the Gulf, Texas and Western between Jacksboro and Salesville, where it connects with the Texas and Pacific.

Not Familiar

On cross examination Hutcheson said he was not familiar with arrangements for passenger service on the new route.

The other major witness of the morning was B. H. Stannidge, Frisco traffic manager, who said freight rates would be considerably decreased to G., T. and W. shippers. Commodities on which rates would be decreased are cotton seed, cotton seed oil, grains, cattle, oil, sand, gravel, crushed stone, building stone and lumber, Stannidge declared. He said he believed competitive traffic from Quanah and Vernon to Fort Worth and Dallas markets would be beneficial.
