Gen. Twining Backs Foreign Aid Proposal

REMINDER OF WARTIME LONDON—Smoke still drifts upward from the ruins of business buildings in Ilford, a suburb of London, after a disastrous fire consumed the heart of the business district. O'Kelly Says Irish To Help Ease Tension

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Sean T. O'Kelly of Ireland told a joint session of Congress today Ireland will work to dissipate unnecessary suspicions among nations of the world.

The 76-year-old Irish President is the first to make an official U.S. visit.

"One of the dangers that confront mankind is an exacerbated antagonism between the so-called colonial and anti-colonial countries," he said in his prepared address.

"As well as being a European country, Ireland is also a country with a long and a well-known history of stubborn resistance to foreign rule.

"In that position, Ireland can hope to play in the United Nations and elsewhere a useful part, by helping to dissipate unnecessary suspicions, and seeking to create a better climate for international understanding."

O'Kelly, whom President Eisenhower greeted Tuesday as "the president of all of us," said his appearance before Congress is among the proudest experiences of his life."

He recalled that Charles Stewart Parnell, the Irish patriot, addressed Congress in 1880. He said Parnell took back to Ireland the knowledge that "America as a whole, represented in Congress, looked with sympathy on Ireland's struggle for freedom."

O'Kelly said Ireland still faces "the great and challenging problem of partition," with six Northern counties loyal to Britain.

His appearance before Congress carried forward a round of activities which started with his St. Patrick's Day arrival.

Cites Danger Of Reduction

By EDMOND LE BRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff told Congress today any cut in military foreign aid would kill hopes of modernizing and improving friendly forces receiving assistance.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining urged the House Foreign Affairs Committee to approve President Eisenhower's $3,930,000,000 foreign aid program, specifically its $1,600,000,000 military component.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy joined in support of the proposal, saying "it would be a critical mistake to curtail the program, because of isolated instances of waste and inefficiency, representing a small percentage of the total."

Twining said any limitations or reductions in the program would virtually eliminate all modernization and force improvement needed to accomplish the military assistance program force objectives.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays (D-Ohio) said in advance of the hearing that he felt the defense chiefs should be questioned about what kind of war the United States would fight if the Berlin crisis exploded.

Hays, a committee member, said he wanted to question the military officials "to clarify President Eisenhower's apparent statement that we would not use ground troops in Europe."

Hays said this statement at an Eisenhower news conference, coupled with earlier administration statements that the United States would not fire the first intercontinental ballistic missile "might be taken as a blank check."

"I don't think the President meant that," Hays said, "but it seems to me he may well be misunderstood by (Soviet Premier Nikita) Khrushchev. I think it would be very dangerous to leave things as confused as they are now."

Hays said in an interview that if the United States really does not mean to use ground troops in any possible European clash, the argument that military aid is needed to maintain a shield of such troops loses most of its value.

Rep. Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa), chairman of the House Committee, indicated meanwhile that this year's aid program may be cut even more sharply than the 650-million-dollar cut in Eisenhower's requests made last year.

He told a television audience that "we hope we will have slightly less amounts in the entire bill this year than we had last year (and) that we are going to get more for our dollar." He said some countries have been given more aid funds than they can absorb.

A special presidential advisory group headed by William H. Draper Jr. recommended Tuesday a 400-million-dollar increase in the $1,600,000,000 Eisenhower has proposed for military aid. The group called also for increasing to a billion dollars a year provisions for loans to help underdeveloped countries.

37th Street Project May Develop By Fall

There is a possibility the proposed widening of east Thirty-seventh Street can be included in State Highway Department construction planning next fall.

Jake Roberts of Abilene, district highway engineer, met with the county commissioners court this morning to discuss the Thirty-seventh Street project and the four-lane construction program on U. S. Highway 84 in Scurry County.

Roberts said it may be possible to include the Thirty-seventh Street widening in a program next fall if the Legislature makes an appropriation under Senate Bill 287 from the state general fund. The Legislature usually sets up $30 million each session for road construction, and that is allotted to the various highway districts.

There is only one other method which could possibly be available for state construction on such a road, that being under the program of federal aid to secondary roads. The plans for that program for 1959-60 have already been established, however, and Thirty-seventh Street could not be included in that program for some time.

Roberts said the Thirty-seventh Street project is still alive as far as the agreement between the county and state for the county's securing right-of-way is concerned, but funds which were made available for the widening in 1956 were taken off district's books many months ago and used elsewhere after the county failed to secure right-of-way previously. The job had originally been set up in Roberts' office in 1955, and original deeds were submitted to the commissioners court here in 1956.

The highway engineer suggested that the county go ahead and buy right-of-way for the widening under provisions of the original deeds, which called for 120-foot right-of-way, adding that the job will be seriously considered in his office when the district gets money from an appropriation, which he expects following the Legislature's session.

Roberts added that he thinks the Thirty-seventh Street widening is "one of the best jobs in the country" and that it will mean relief for oilfield traffic and other heavy highway loads, as well as crosstown traffic.

The state will probably make plans for a 24-foot pavement with eight-foot paved shoulders on the road, Roberts said.

Discussing U. S. 84, which is to be made a four-lane divided highway throughout Scurry County, Roberts said the office of Homer Ray, resident engineer here, and the district office have been working diligently to get all agencies to review preliminary plans. They have been reviewed by the office of the Texas Highway Department and are now in the office of the Bureau of Public roads.

Once the preliminary plans for the project get approval of the Bureau of Public Roads, Roberts will request a meeting with the commissioners court and city council here to go over the plans. He will then leave copies of the designs with the groups to show the interested public.

Ten days later a public hearing will be held. Following the public hearing the district office's appraisers will begin appraisal work along the road, making appraisals on each piece of property involved. The appraisals must be approved by the Austin office, he said.

The state will then guarantee payments of at least half the appraised value of the right-of-way, while the county will pay for the other half. Deeds will be furnished the county, which will be in a position to begin buying the right-of-way.

United Berlin Policy Urged By Macmillan

OTTAWA (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, on his way to talks with President Eisenhower, today urged the Western powers to frame a united policy on Germany based on "firm principles combined with a readiness to negotiate."

Macmillan arrived by plane from London. Before leaving for Washington Thursday, he will fill in Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and other Canadian officials on his Berlin crisis talks in Moscow with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Macmillan plans to see ailing U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Walter Reed Army Hospital before he meets with Eisenhower.

Diefenbaker and other officials were on hand to greet Macmillan, who led off his remarks with a tribute to Canadian Foreign Secretary Sidney Smith, who died Tuesday.

Macmillan said it was generally accepted that East-West negotiations on Germany must take place this summer.

Speaking first in English and switching later to French, Macmillan said he went to Moscow to feel out the ground, and he believed he had attained success.

The British leader, accompanied by Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd, hopes to convince Eisenhower that a summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev can solve the explosive Berlin situation without shooting.

Officials in Washington expressed belief Eisenhower's speech Monday, conditionally endorsing a summit meeting, had greatly improved the atmosphere for the talks with Macmillan. The President agreed to a top level meeting in the summer if a foreign ministers' conference on Germany proposed for mid-May gives promise that the government heads can agree on anything.

Macmillan's visit to Eisenhower will climax the series of conferences he has carried on with Khrushchev, French President Charles de Gaulle and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. His aim is to work out a unified strategy and proposals with which to approach the Soviets at the foreign ministers meeting.

Macmillan was reported cheered by three points brought up in Eisenhower's broadcast:

1. American readiness to take part in a summit parley if such a meeting is justified. On the basis of his findings in Moscow, Paris and Bonn, Macmillan seems pretty sure developments will justify such a conference.

2. U.S. willingness to "listen to new ideas" and "to present others."

3. U.S. resolve to distinguish between negotiations and appeasement.

Macmillan had a busy itinerary for his one-day stay in Ottawa. After morning and afternoon talks with Diefenbaker and senior advisers, he was to dine tonight with Governor General Vincent Massey and stay overnight at Government House.

Chief Aide Picked For Taylor Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today nominated Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer to be the new chief of staff of the Army in succession to Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

Lemnitzer has been vice chief of staff since July 1957. The White House said Taylor had requested that he not be renamed to another term. His present term expires June 30.

The President reappointed the other top members of the Joint Chiefs as follows

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. His present two-year term expires August 15.

Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, chief of naval operations for a third term of two years ending in August 1961.

Gen. Thomas D. White, chief of staff of the Air Force for two years beyond next June 30.

The Marine Corps commandant is a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff whenever matters concerning the corps are under consideration. The present commandant, Gen. Randolph Pate, is serving a term which runs until next January.

Hawaii Statehood Bill Signed By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today signed the bill to make Hawaii the 50th state.

With the bill's signing, Hawaii could, by taking fast action, get officially into the Union by next July. This would be in time to send members to the present session of Congress. October is more likely, however. It took six months—March 12 in a 323-89 House vote—to add Alaska's 49th star to the flag.

Territorial Gov. William Quinn has 30 days after formal notification of the President's approval in which to issue a proclamation of elections.

A primary must be held no less than 60 nor more than 90 days after the proclamation. General election must come no later than 40 days after the primary.

Eisenhower's proclamation making Hawaii the 50th state will come after the election results are officially certified. There is no fixed time limit on the presidential action.

Final congressional action on the admission of Hawaii came March 12 in a 323-89 House vote. The Senate voted 76-15 a day earlier.

Eisenhower got the bill March 13 but used only four of the 10 days he had for signing or vetoing. Sunday's don't count.

In adition to electing a governor and lieutenant governor, state legislators, two U.S. senators and one House member in Congress, Hawaii must vote on three propositions.

Solons Rush To Blot 'Lazy' Tag

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas lawmakers shifted into a hurry-up schedule today in an effort to erase complaints that this is a lazy Legislature.

The House Revenue and Taxation Committee, which is drafting a tax bill, planned a clean up session today on two measures — the trading stamp taxes and natural gas contracts.

In an unusual Thursday session the committee will hold a public hearing on a bill to increase the oil production tax on Texas' 17 largest oil companies.

Next week the same committee four of the biggest tax bills proposed this session are set for hearing. Speaker Waggoner Carr has tabbed three of the measures "across-the-board" measures and worthy of consideration. Gov. Daniel opposes all four, saying they are disguised state income or sales taxes, which he opposes.

"We must take some action soon on some sort of tax bill or bills," said Rep. V. L. Ramsey, Beckville, chairman of the tax committee. He said other public hearings on tax bills would be announced later this week.

Rep. Frates Seeligson, San Antonio, author of a straight general sales tax measure said he had asked for a hearing at the earliest opportunity.

Survey Shows Easter Retail Buying Ahead Of Last Year

By WALTER BREEDE JR
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Rising prosperity, a booming stock market and a return to fashions that flatter the female form are putting new life into the nation's Easter retail trade.

So say many of the merchants, bankers and Chamber of Commerce officials interviewed by The Associated Press in a coast-to-coast survey.

"Business is shaping up beautifully," says an executive of a big department store on Chicago's busy State Street. "Easter sales are far ahead of last year."

People are spending with more confidence," said Richard H. Rich president of Rich's in Atlanta.

"Consumers are more confident and seem to be spending more," observes Joseph Liebman, senior vice president of L. Bamberger & Co., Newark N.J. "The stock market is healthy and that always seems to be a good indicator."

Laurence Mallinckrodt, president of the Scruggs, Vandervoort, Barney in St. Louis said: "Sales are very good compared to last year and we still have a few selling days to go."

While optimism is the keynote, you'll find dissenters here and there. A New York department store executive complains that "women don't get excited about fashions when there's a half foot of snow on the ground." Wide areas of the Northeast and upper Midwest were blanketed by a heavy snowfall late last week, and store sales took a nosedive.

Other localized deterrents to an unbounded shopping spree include: persistent pockets of unemployment in some industrial centers, scattered state and local tax increases, a printers' strike that closed daily newspapers in Columbus, Ohio, for two weeks and—in cities where winter has lingered on — the earlier Easter date.

Not all merchants regard the earlier Easter as a handicap. In some Southern and Western cities where the weather has been mild, it is considered an asset. That's the sentiment of merchants in Los Angeles where the mercury climbed into the high 80s while snow fell in New York. It's echoed by store officials in Miami, San Francisco, Dallas, Denver and Kansas City.

"Business is tremendous," exults Cyril Magnin, president of Joseph Magnin's, a San Francisco women's store.

As usual, mom, si. and the younger kids take the lion's share of pop's Easter shopping dollar. Charles E. Boyd, secretary-treasurer of the Detroit Retail Merchants Assn., says: "Mom and the kids get first call on the new clothes budget and if there's anything left maybe pop get a necktie."

Auto production is booming in Detroit, but there's still enough unemployment around to put a damper on Easter sales.

DALLAS (AP)—Search for a young gunman who robbed the Park Cities Bank & Trust Co. of $7,050 narrowed today to a stolen car found in Waxahachie and a second car reported missing there.

Ranger Capt. E. J. Banks called the car thefts the best lead yet in the case.

The cars were tied to the noon robbery yesterday in Highland Park. Witnesses in Waxahachie who said a young man who abandoned the car there fit the description of the robber.

Electrified Air Calms Allergies

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A medical researcher reported today the breathing of electrified air apparently is good for some people with allergic respiratory trouble.

It may be beneficial also to people generally. If extensive tests bear out these indications, air conditioning machinery of the future probably will electrify the atmosphere as well as control humidity and temperature in homes and offices.

Reports on the preliminary experiments were given in a paper before the American College of Allergists by Dr. S. D. Klotz, of Orlando, Fla.

Dr. Klotz said investigators had found that some unknown factor causes allergic people to react even when they are kept in rooms where temperature, humidity and pollen are controlled and atmospheric pressure is watched closely.

These patients reacted to an oncoming storm before the weather change could be detected by instruments. This suggested electrical changes in the atmosphere as a possible factor.

Variations in the electrical charge of the air at Orlando are recorded daily and efforts are being made to determine if they are releated to the behavior of people with allergic respiratory trouble, Dr. Klotz reported.

There are constant but slight variations in the electrical charge of the atmosphere, caused by cosmic radiation, solar activity, lightning flashes, ultra-violet light, falling water droplets, and wind-driven dust or snow.

These natural forces knock electrons off some molecules or add extra electrons to other air molecules. The process is called ionization.

Normally, said Dr. Klotz, the air contains about one ionized molecule for every 27 trillion molecules. Usually there are slightly more positive than negative ions.

Relatively simple and inexpensive instruments are available for producing either negatively or positively ionized air.

Dr. Klotz said two German researchers found that test subjects breathed more calmly on negatively ionized air.

Two Philadelphia investigators treated hay fever patients with negative ionized air and produced temporary relief to a mild degree in 63 per cent of the patients, Dr. Klotz said.

Merchants To Set Holidays

Discussion on whether merchants should close on two holidays which fall on Saturday was held yesterday by the merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce in a meeting.

The committee decided to submit a poll to merchants here on whether they desire to close on Memorial Day, May 30, and Independence Day, July 4, both of which fall on Saturday.

The committee set other recommended holidays for the year. They are Labor Day, Sept. 3; Thanksgiving, Nov. 26; Christmas Dec. 25; and New Years Day, Jan. 1.

The group decided to sponsor a course on basic selling techniques to be offered to merchants and employes in May by the University of Texas extension department.

Another basic course, "Tell It and Sell It," will be offered in the fall.

Several other items were discussed by the committee, headed by Myron Roe, but will be taken up at future meetings.

Gas Allowable Formula Of RRC Upheld

AUSTIN (AP)—A standard gas allowable formula ordered by the Railroad Commission has been upheld by a district court here.

It was the first time for a gas allowable order to come under fire in the courts.

Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts of 98th District Court ruled for the Commission, represented by the attorney general's office, and Bright & Schiff, a Dallas oil company.

A commission order fixing the allowable for the Normanna Field in Bee County came under attack for the first time in 1957. Four reservoirs in the field, Luling, Slick, First Massive and Second Massive, were involved in the case when the hearing began two weeks ago.

Bright & Schiff owned a 79 by 130 foot townlot in a proration unit owned principally by Atlantic Refining Co. and Tidewater Oil Co. Under the allowable formula, Atlantic and Tidewater claimed a well sunk by Bright & Schiff would drain off more than one million dollars of gas under the allowable formula based two-third on acreage and one-third on the number of wells.

The companies alleged Bright & Schiff would pay $160,000 for a well and only $15,000 in gas was in place below the townlot.

Man Wants To Be A Sardine Again

CHESHIRE Conn. (AP)—Roger Enidras wants to change his name again.

Enidras, a chef at a prep school here, was born Roger Sardine in Diette, France. He became a U.S. citizen in 1938. Since sardine is a word often taken lightly here, Roger turned it around and named himself Enidras.

Now he's planning a trip back to France. He asked a judge to allow him to reverse his name to Sardine, so the home folks will remember him.

Most folks here call him Roger Sardine anyway.

Mexico Plans Two Dams Near Border

OJINAGA, Chihuaha, Mexico, (AP) — Plans are going forward for two new dams in Mexico near the Texas border. One of them may be of great benefit to agriculture on the U. S. side of the Rio Grande.

One will be across the Canon Peguis, approximately 20 miles west of Ojinaga and Presidio, Tex.

The other will be on the Rio del Carmen near Villa Ahumada, a town 84 miles south of Cuidad Juarez, which is across from El Paso.

The combined appropriation is 33 million pesos, with 16 million allotted to the Peguis project.

The Peguis plan is for the dam only, and does not include the irrigation distribution system that will be spread out between Vado de Piedra on the Rio Grande north of Ojinaga, and El Mulato, down the Rio Grande about 18 miles from Ojinaga.

The dam will mpound 300 million cubic meters or 192,000 acre feet of water. Mexican irrigation engineers estimate it will supply water for 37,500 acres of land on the Ojinaga side of the Rio Grande. In U. S. Dollars the project will cost $1,280,000.

Peguis Canyon is on the Rio Conchos that drains most of the State of Chihuahua and furnished he only water that flows permanently between Ojinaga and Presidio.

Peguis Canyon itself is a narrow gorge that cuts through a limestone mountain ridge 20 miles west of the junction of the Rio Conchos with the Rio Grande. Five sites have been surveyed during the past two years by the engineers of the Department of Hydraulic Resources.

When Sen. Teofilo Borunda ran for governor of Chihuahua more than two years ago, residents of Ojinaga presented a written document outlining the project and stating this was the most important economic project for the area.

Final CMA Concert Well Attended

Vive le Peiffer! With a dazzling display of technic and a sensative feel for the nuances of jazz, French pianist Bernard Peiffer (rhymes with lifer) and his trio proved to a large Civic Music crowd Monday night that jazz, as an art-form, is worthy of consideration along with "serious" music. Backed by a sparkling rhythm section comprising Gus Nemeth on Bass and Jerry Segal at the drums, Peiffer flew at a breakneck tempo through Sigmund Romberg's "Lover Come Back To Me" to open the program. The rest of the evening saw touches of everything from the atonal serious number "Black Moon", written by Peiffer, to George Shearing's "Lullaby of Birdland" sounding everybit like the 49th Prelude and Fugue from Bach's Well-Tempered Clavier.

Mr. Peiffer showed the results of years of arduous study and practice and undoubtably could be one of the big attractions in serious music had he chosen that as his primary medium. Fortunately for jazz, though, Peiffer feels that the art of improvisation, abandoned in the 18th Century and revived by jazz, allows the performer a freedom unobtainable elsewhere. Improvisation, the art of taking a simple melody and its harmony and elaborating on them while you play (sort of instantanious composition) is the backbone of jazz, and this "emotion of the moment" vitality has made jazz a recognized art-form in Carnegie Hall and music halls of similar stature for years. It's like a breath of fresh air to see it finally find its way to Snyder.

The Bernard Peiffer Trio presented an evening of jazz at its highest level, none of the banal trash so often labeled "jazz" on TV and radio, and for this we again say Vive le Peiffer.

Lefties Get Some Breaks

The "leftists" are gaining in numbers, but there is no occasion to fear their politics—that is, no more reason than to fear the politics of the average man.

Long maligned on many fronts, but courted by such people as baseball team managers, lefthanders are on the rise, according to the recent reports.

The U. S. Department of Education estimates that about 14.7 per cent of the school children today are lefthanded. This may not be a real increase, because there was a time when many natural-born lefthanders were "changed" in childhood.

In early days there were those who thought that lefthandness was a blight which required correction. Nowadays, few are forced to change, the general concensus being that a forced change wreaks havoc with the individual's personality.

Consequently, the lefthander gets a better break on every hand today. Schools sprinkle a few lefthander table-arm desks around the classrooms, and various other facilities are now designed with the lefthanded person in mind. Some places even have checkbooks for lefthanders, with the stubs on the right side.

There are plenty of activities in everyday life which continue to handicap the lefthanded person, of course, but most of them are able to overcome the obstacles.

Life's highway definitely is getting smoother for the lefties.

New Berlin Ideas Well-Kept Secret

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the best kept secrets of 1959—and one of the real keys to the Berlin crisis—is the answer to a question which from now on will be crucial in the news about the Soviet Union, Germany and the West.

Do the Western Allies, despite their public show of solidarity about not budging on Berlin, have anything to offer in the way of ideas that might avoid a military showdown with the Soviets?

It has just been disclosed that the United States has drawn up the outlines of a peace treaty with Germany. Apparently, it is still in very sketchy form.

President Eisenhower hinted Monday night in his nationwide broadcast that the Allies do have new ideas and expect some from the U.S.S.R. He said no more. By his silence he drew a curtain across whatever ideas he has in mind.

This was natural enough since before the United States unveils any plan it would need approval by France, Britain and West Germany. Lack of such approval would indicate the Allies had split wide open.

Some proposals to the Soviet Union—to avoid war over Berlin and seek instead a peaceful solution—will be at the heart of the discussions here this week between Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

From the beginning there have actually been three keys to the Berlin crisis:

1. How determined were the Soviets to back up their demand that the Allies get their troops out of Berlin? That question still is unanswered.

2. Would the Allies yield to this Soviet demand and withdraw? They already have said they would not.

3. If the U.S.S.R. insists the Allies get out but the Allies won't budge, then the only answer is a military showdown unless the two sides negotiate a settlement. But negotiate on what? What can either side propose that the other will accept?

Nobody in the West has yet been able to say positively why Premier Nikita Khrushchev precipitated the crisis in the first place with his demands against the Allies in Berlin.

So no one has been able to say positively how far he is willing to go to back up his demands. He himself has suggested negotiations—including a summit conference—to talk things out.

Eisenhower Monday night indicated a willingness to have a summit meeting next summer, but only if developments justify it.

At this moment—when neither the West nor the Soviet Union has yet produced ideas that would seem acceptable to the other—the situation remains frozen on the Soviet demand for the Allies to vacate Berlin and their public refusal to do so.

Unless they start talking, there will have to be a showdown of some kind. Such a showdown, if it comes, will probably be months away, for it is almost certain the two sides first will do some talking.

This is where the basic question comes in again: Talk on what?

Judy Garland To Star In Met Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Judy Garland will star at the Metropolitan Opera House starting May 11 when her musical variety show opens a week's engagement to benefit the Children's Asthma Research Institute at Denver.

A Metropolitan spokesman said he could recall no previous occasion when a singer of popular music starred in a performance at the Met.

March Is Erasing Recession Signs

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — March is writing the last of the recession of many official statistics — such as industrial output—and pointing toward new records.

It undoubtedly is setting new highs in others such as personal income totals.

And with each lengthening day comes more hope that soon there will be easing in the worst bugaboo, the total of the jobless. For outdoor jobs will be opening up now—if the still laid-off factory worker has the skill and the knowledge to find them.

The prospect is bright. Only an occasional sourpuss wonders if some of the activity isn't more like a fever chart than plain healthy growth.

That March is wiping out the recession's last mark in total industrial output can be assumed from these things:

1. In February the Federal Reserve Board's inxed was up to 144 per cent of the 1947-49 average, only one point under the pre-recession figure of August 1957, and two points below the record high set just two years before.

2. This month increased activity along many lines all but assures a further advance. Steel mills are setting new tonnage records week by week. Demand for copper exceeds the supply. Aluminum companies report an encouraging jump in demand in recent weeks. Rubber consumption by factories is in a sharp rise. Some railroads are reporting increased freight traffic.

3. Spurred by fears of summer strikes, company after company is laying in inventories. The only way the Federal Reserve industrial output index can go in March is up.

That the total of personal income will set a new record this month—despite the number of unemployed—seems just as sure.

The Commerce Department reports that in February the annual rate hit a peak of 364½ billion dollars. This topped the year ago figure by 17 billion dollars. At that time it was the low for the recession.

Increased industrial activity this month—and the slow but steady climb in wage scales—means that the total of wages and salaries will continue to rise.

Why then should some consider all this pleasant news as not entirely as glittering as it seems?

Part of the rise in incomes will be siphoned away by rising taxes at many local and state levels.

And while it is hoped that retail prices will stay fairly steady for a while yet, the slow but sure rise in the cost of services—medical, personal, public transportation and the like—is set to continue. That will whittle away some more of the income gain and leave many persons right where they were.

Also it can't be ignored that much of the industrial activity is more in fear than in hope. The fear is of major strikes this summer in the various metal industries. They could bring on shortages and later on higher material costs. That's why businessmen are building up stocks.

4 Children Die In Fire

SALAMANCA, N.Y. (AP)—Four children perished Tuesday night when flames ripped through their rural home as they slept.

Their mother, hands and face badly charred, saved three other children as she drove them in a pickup truck to a neighbor's house for help. The survivors were rushed to a hospital in nearby Olean.

The dead were identified as Barbara Hecker, 14, her brother William, 10, and two sisters, Holly 13, and Joan 3.

Mrs. William Hecker and a daughter, Christine, 9, were reported in critical condition. The other two, Jacqueline, 12, and Loretta, 6 months, were in fair condition.

Wonderful Things Take Some Time

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—People tell Nan Martin, hailed by some as Broadway's actress of the year, she's lucky.

In reply Nan likes to quote a line from the play she currently is starred in: "It isn't luck when God is good to you."

Nan Martin, a vibrantly slender woman with blue-hazel eyes and hair the color of time-mellowed ivory, is no sudden Cinderella.

"Nothing wonderful ever happens to you overnight," she said soberly. "There is a long process of hard work before you take the long stride, the big step.

"I've always wondered what makes people stay in the theater. It's a cruel business. It's a brutal business. You have to work very hard to get by in it, and you have to love it very much to stay in it."

After getting off to a good start, Nan did give up the theater for a while—but now she feels she's back to stay.

Nan first tried for a footlight career here at the age of 17, shortly after graduating from a Santa Monica, Calif., high school, where she was the only girl student president in the school's history.

Although she earlier had started studying drama with Max Reinhardt at 12, she first won attention here as a fashion model, and was featured on half a dozen magazine covers.

A role in "The Constant Wife" with Katharine Cornell launched her on her way, but then she married Robert Emmett Dolan, a young producer, and she quit to become "a full-time wife." They moved to the West Coast.

"It was a wonderful life," she said. "We had a house by the ocean. I painted, and learned to cook, and had a son. I was very domestic. I even made slippers in needlepoint for everyone I loved.

"Then one day I found I had to go back to the theater. It was burning inside me. So back I came."

Starting all over, Nan took any kind of theatrical job she could find.

She caught the eye of director Elia Kazan. The phone call from him led her to stardom, as it has many others.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

THE TIGER DIAMONDERS will be shooting for a "full house" Friday afternoon when they entertain the Monterey Plainsmen at Towle Park.

No, the Bengals don't expect the Towle Park stands to be jammed to capacity although it would be nice, but the Black and Golders now have two "pairs" in their first four games, two defeats by 7-6 and two by 8-0.

If one of these scores is duplicated in Friday's game, then we sincerely hope the Bengals will be on the right side of the ledger this time.

We've seen three of the four Tiger games to date and although all three have resulted in defeats, we still aren't discouraged over the Tiger prospects.

We believe in due time the Tiger defense will find itself and once it does, victories will start coming the Tigers' way.

The hitting needs to improve, too, and it will. Tigers won't need to knock the cover off the horsehide, however, if they can quit donating runs to the opposition.

We believe the young Tigers are lacking in confidence and a few games should take care of this.

Eagles Not As Strong As In Past

If yesterday's game is a true picture of the Abilene baseball prospects, then the Eagles aren't near as strong as some of the team's they've had in the past.

Make no bones about, this fellow Johnny Choate is a pretty fair country pitcher. But the rest of the Eagle lineup wasn't overly impressive yesterday.

The Eagles don't have the speed and power as they have had in the past.

Abilene coach Blacky Blackburn is in a position a lot of coaches would like to be in. Except for the one date they have with the Tigers here, all of the Eagles' predistrict games will be played at Abilene.

Yesterday was the 7th game for the Eagles and all have been played in the friendly confines of Teen Age Park in Abilene. The other six games have been against Fort Worth and Dallas schools.

Bud Off To Good Start As Collegian

Bud Morgan, whose picture you will note elsewhere on this page, has picked up where he left off last year in track annals.

Morgan breezed to an 18.8 in the 180-yard low hurdles in the state meet to win first place last year, his final race as a schoolboy.

Then Saturday at Fort Worth, Morgan made it two straight wins as a collegian in 220-yard low hurdle races. And the two fellows who Morgan and teammate Rex Wilson battled with throughout last year, Bob Swofford and Iran King of Abilene, ran 2-3 behind Bud in Saturday's low hurdle races.

Swofford and King are both freshmen at Texas Tech.

The Texas freshman track team, of which Wilson is a member, didn't compete in the Fort Worth meet.

In addition to winning the low hurdles at Fort Worth, Morgan placed third in the high hurdles won by Swofford.

Eagles Topple Tigers By 8-0

BY BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

ABILENE, Mar. 18 — It was the same ole story for the Tiger baseballers here Tuesday — no hitting, no fielding but good pitching — as the Abilene Eagles romped to an 8-0 decision over the winless Black and Golders at Teen Age Park.

The Tigers got good pitching from Tim Roberts but his efforts went for naught as the Bengals committed six errors and managed only one base knock.

Five of the Abilene runs were unearned.

Johnny Choate, Eagle right-hander, gave up a Texas League single to Johnny Drake leading off in the first inning and then shut off the Tiger hit parade for the rest of the afternoon.

Choate gave way to Homer Ray in the seventh who issued a lead-off walk to Terry Lee but then got the next three Tigers to preserve the shutout.

Choate whiffed a dozen Tigers and walked only one. Just three Tigers reached base while Choate was on the hill. In addition to J. Drake's single in the first, catcher Ronnie Wylie walked in the third and Kenny Drake got aboard in the fourth when leftfielder Tim Roberts dropped his fly ball.

Roberts gave up seven hits, six of them singles, struckout five and walked six. But the senior lefthander deserved better fate in the run-department.

Seven of the eight Abilene runs came in the second inning and with some air-tight fielding the Bengals might have gotten out of the winning without a run scored. Charles Conselman led off the Eagle second with a single that second baseman Kenndy Drake lost in the sun.

Roberts, who had picked an Eagle runner off first in the first inning, had Conselman picked off, too, but first baseman Benny Greenfield had left the bag to cover for a possible bunt and Robert's throw went into right field, Conselman going to second on the play.

Conselman promptly scored on a single by Reggie Crosby and Crosby moved to second on the throw-in. Johnny Garner sent Crosby across with a single to right to make it 2-0, and he took second on an error on the throw-in. Kenneth Bentley grounded out but Choate kept the rally alive with a base on balls.

Tim Walter singled to score Garner to make it 3-0 and after Joe Ellis whiffed for the second out, Charles Harrison walked to load the bases.

Roberts should have gotten out of the inning without further damage here but first baseman Greenfield bobbled Dee Hopkins' routine grounder and then threw wild to Robert covering and three Eagle runners raced across home plate.

Hopkins went to second on the error and scored the 7th run of the inning on Conselman's second hit of the inning.

The 8th Eagle run was unearned, too, to make it five unearned tallies for the winners.

The Tigers' most serious scoring threats came in the first and seventh innings. J. Drake, after leading off with a hit in the first, stole second and third, the latter with one away but Choate got K. Drake and Terry Lee on called third strikes.

In the 7th, Lee walked to lead off, and moved around to third on a wild pitch and an outfield fly, but the next two Tigers were retired and Lee was left stranded at third.

The Tigers will meet Monterey here Friday at 4 p.m. in their next start.

Oriole Bonus Kid Ticketed For AA

MIAMI (AP) — Bonus Rookie Dave Nicholson of the Baltimore Orioles may get a chance to play Class AA ball this season.

Manager Paul Richards indicated yesterday Nicholson might be assigned to Amarillo of the Texas League.

The big outfielder, to whom the Orioles paid in excess of $100,000 last year, bounced around in 1958 from Class A Knoxvile, Tenn. to Class B Wilson, N.C., to Class D Dublin, Ga. He had a .222 batting average, hit 15 home runs and struck out 158 times.

He has hit .200 in exhibition games to date this season.

Dallas Baseball Interest Booming

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas, making its start in Class AA baseball, has already sold over $100,000 worth of tickets. This never happened before in the long minor league history of this city.

Stan McIlvaine, the club's general manager, wasn't surprised by the great response he got as Dallas entered the American Assn. with a flourish.

"We are just conducting baseball on a business basis, trying to offer a better brand of ball and a good show along with it," he said.

McIlvaine and owner J. W. Bateson have the attitude that baseball should stand on its own feet, that the time-honored idea of baseball men that their game should receive support mainly as a civic gesture isn't the correct approach.

Burnett Field, the home of the Dallas Rangers, is being made into an attractive plant and everything done for the comfort of the customers. The field seats about 10,000.

McIlvaine says the main reason for the excellent response is that Dallas has raised its baseball classification. He adds that Dallas must also do what's necessary to attract the fans by giving them good baseball and entertainment.

There will be date nights—when a fellow can bring his girl friend for the price of one ticket; family nights, when the whole gang (even if a man has 11 children) will be able to come in for a $1.75 ticket, and youth boosters nights, etc.

Billikens Bow In Double Overtime

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"It's unbelievable. It's unbelievable."

That's what Coach Joe Mullaney of Providence College kept shouting Tuesday night after his "Cinderella" team beat second-seeded St. Louis 75-72 in double overtime to reach the semifinals of the National Invitational Tournament.

New York University also advanced to Thursday's semifinals with an easy 63-48 victory over Oklahoma City. This second game of the basketball doubleheader at Madison Square Garden was strictly an anticlimax to the crowd of 14,269.

Providence, which upset Manhattan 68-66 last Saturday in the last six seconds of play, now is pitted against St. John's of New York while NYU goes against top-seeded Bradley.

St. John's beat Providence 73-33 early in the regular season, but this time, the happy Mullaney declared, "we're going to give them a better game.

"Before the game I was really worried about their big boys," Mullaney explained, "but the kids kept saying 'Don't worry, coach, we can take 'em.' And they sure did, didn't they?"

They didn't lose their poise when St. Louis took an early 18-9 lead. Neither did they get flustered in the last minute of regulation play when Len Wilkens, their southpaw star, fouled Pete McCaffrey. Pete made good on both charity tosses and St. Louis took a seemingly winning edge, 61-59. Wilkens himself flipped in the tying basket with 34 seconds left.

It was 65-65 in the first overtime when the Friars got a break. They lost the ball on a bad pass out of bounds with 47 seconds left. But Big Bob Ferry, who led St. Louis with 29 points, missed a shot with only three seconds to go.

Ferry did put St. Louis ahead 68-67 on a three-point play in the second overtime, but soph Johnny Egan then canned two free throws to put the Friars in front for good at 69-68. With 16 seconds remaining Ferry got his 12th basket to make it 73-72. Egan however, again dunked two free throws with 10 seconds left to sew it up. Wilkens scored 30 points and Egan 29 to pace the Friars.

Oklahoma City made only one threat in the second game. NYU took an 11-2 lead, but the Chiefs pulled up to 28-26 just before the end of the half. The Violets quickly opened an 11-point lead in the second half and were never headed.

Tigerettes In 4th Loop Win

The Tiger volleyballers breezed to their fourth straight District 3-AAA win last night with a smashing 40-11 triumph over Lamesa at Tiger Gym.

The win gave the Tigerettes a 4-0 district record and 11-10 for the season.

Next on tap for the Tigerettes will be Abilene at Abilene next Friday.

In preliminary games last night, Lamesa won the Freshman-Sophomore game, 33-26, and the "B" game, 27-24.

San Angelo 5 Wins Opener In JC Tourney

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Weber College of Ogden, Utah, one of the favorites, gets its first test today in the National Junior College basketball tournament.

Weber faces Lindsey-Wilson of Columbia, Ky.

The other favorite, Paris, Tex. College, won its first game last night over North Greenville of Tigerville, S.C., 73-68. Paris is matched against Henry Ford of Dearborn, Mich., in the second round tonight.

Henry Ford breezed past Eagle Grove, Iowa, 79-70, running up a 19-point lead in the second half.

Bethany Lutheran of Mankato, Minn. scored 53 points in the last half to beat Alfred (N.Y.) State Tech 85-65. Chipola, of Mariana, Fla., edged Independence, Kan., 60-59; San Angelo (Tex) squeaked past Marion (Ala.) Institute 77-76, and Cameron (Okla.) defeated La-Salle - Peru - Oglesby of Illinois 76-70.

The 16-team, 26-game tourney will end Saturday night.

PEST CONTROL STARTS—Two men of the city-county health unit are pictured above spraying a garbage can in southwest Snyder. All garbage cans in the city will be sprayed in an attempt to keep flies, mosquitoes and others pests down this spring and summer. At left is Ben Laster, and at right is Buford Thornton.

Garbage Cans Are Sprayed To Prepare For Housefly Season

The city, county, and Snyder-Scurry County Health Unit have begun a cooperative program in the spraying of all garbage cans in the city as the fly season opens here.

With the beginning of the program, Roy Dunlap, city manager, and Louie Vaughan, sanitarian at the health unit, asked for the cooperation of residents.

The spray program, aimed principally at flies, will also kill adult mosquitoes which might be in and around garbage cans.

The program, however, will not be effective unless residents here help, the officials said, by making sure they have tight-fitting lids for their garbage cans.

This should be done right away, Dunlap said, to make the program effective. The spraying will be complete throughout the city within a few days. If, following the spraying, residents make sure their garbage cans are adequately covered, they can eliminate a main breeding and congregating place for flies and a breeding place for mosquitoes. Only by keeping the cans covered can they make sure that place has been eliminated, however.

Dunlap estimated there are 6,000 to 7,000 garbage cans in Snyder, and a large number of them either do not have lids or have lids which do not fit properly. They make excellent breeding places for flies if left open in any way.

This is the first time the spraying service has been offered here, Dunlap said, adding that attempts will be made to repeat it as often as possible.

Vaughan, one city employe, and one county employe are conducting the spray program with a city jeep and with chemicals furnished by the county.

The city manager urged those who do not have lids for their garbage cans or lids which fit improperly to secure lids through merchants here, also urging those who do not have proper garbage cans to secure them.

U. S. Planning Three-In One Satellites

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is planning something new in satellites—a three-in-one job. It will be part of the Vanguard series and will include a balloon to study friction in space.

Dr. John P. Hagen announced plans for it Tuesday and said it will be launched soon from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

In effect, Hagen said, the new Vanguard will provide three separate satellites:

1. The empty case of the launching vehicle's third-stage rocket, a metal tube weighing about 52 pounds.

2. A 13-inch plastic sphere with an arm extending about two feet. There will be a magnetometer at the end of the arm to measure the earth's magnetic fields. This satellite will weigh about 22 pounds.

3. A 30-inch expandable balloon weighing 1½ to 2 pounds.

Before launching, the balloon will be folded into a small tray at the base of the plastic sphere. When the nose of the launching vehicle separates from the final stage rocket, a gas cartridge will inflate the balloon—if all goes as planned.

Montgomery Named Judge

Melvin Montgomery, instrumental music director for the Snyder schools, will be a concert judge Friday and Saturday for Interscholastic League band contests at Austin and San Antonio.

The large region is having its contest in the two cities because of the number of bands and orchestras involved. The Austin portion of the contests will be held Friday and will involve 39 bands, while a similar number will compete in San Antonio Saturday.

Judging concert playing with Montgomery are R. E. Davidson, high school band director at Plainview, and Jim Jacobson, director of the Texas Christian University band. They will judge concert playing in Class 2-A, 3-A, and 4-A. There will be three other judges for sight reading.

Montgomery last week helped judge Interscholastic League solo and ensemble contests for Region 3 at Temple.

The Snyder bands will not attend concert and sight reading contests until the latter part of April. They will be held in San Angelo. They will go April 4 to Abilene to compete in solo and ensemble contests.

10 Children Accused In Sex Orgies

NEW YORK (AP)—Five girls and five boys, all between 10 and 15, were taken into custody by police Tuesday night and accused of taking part in sex orgies in the apartment of an alleged procurer.

Detectives Edward Brady and Edward Hanford said their investigation indicated that as many as 30 children participated in the sex parties over a period of more than a year.

They said the apartment was that of George Diblin, 41, married and the father of two, who was arrested recently and accused of heading a ring of $100-a-night call girls.

Diblin, who used the name George Stevens when he was arrested, jumped $500 bail last month, police said, and a warrant has been issued for his arrest.

His wife, Carol, was questioned when the children were rounded up.

Police said information on the sex orgies came from Jo Anna Martin, a blonde who was picked up when Diblin was arrested, after she was found nude in a man's apartment. Police claimed Diblin sent her there after a phone call.

She pleaded guilty to loitering for the purposes of prostitution and promised she would cooperate with police. She received a suspended sentence.

The junior high girl choir's numbers will be "Come, Holy Spirit," "Ave Verum Corpus," and "Poor Man Lazrus." The junior high mixed choir will sing "Thou Knowest Lord, the Secrets of Our Hearts," "The Voice of Prise," and "Mary's Little Boy Chile."

The junior high will also enter in ensemble contests a boys quartet, mixed ensemble, girls ensemble, and girls four-part ensemble.

Last Sit-In Strikers Out

BLOOMFIELD, N. J. (AP) — Serving notice that "we are not obliged to treat trespassers as hotel guests," General Electric officials Tuesday fired the last two sit-in strikers at the GE plant here.

Union officials said the company dispatched a man who cut the rope being used to hoist food to the men on the third floor of the plant.

The two were fired after the union decided to replace the rope with a crane, which was supplied by Peter Weber, business manager of Local 825 of the Operating Engineers Union.

Al Hartnett, secretary-treasurer of the International Union of Electrical Workers called General Electric's policy dictatorial.

GE maintained the men were fired for "gross insubordination."

Junior Editors Quiz on AGRICULTURE

QUESTION: Where do peanuts grow?

* * *

ANSWER: Peanuts are not really nuts. They are more closely related to peas and beans. And they have a peculiar way of growing. The peanut plant is a vine. As the growing season begins, yellow flowers bloom on the vine near the ground. After the plants are fertilized, the flowers fall off but their stalks remain. These stalks grow longer, turn sharply downward and dig into the soil. Once in the soil, a bud at the end of each stalk enlarges to form the peanut pod. Although the peanut begins life above ground, it actually grows below the ground.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: You know how good peanuts are to eat. But do you know what else they are used for? You will find the uses in the encyclopedia under "peanut." Using this list, make a list of things in your home in which peanuts might have been used.

Know Your Exemptions When You File Income Tax Return

Editor's note — For many taxpayers, exemptions represent the heftiest savings they can make in filing their federal returns. This article, third of a series on the income tax, tells you about the various exemptions you may claim.

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Every exemption you can justly claim—in filing your 1958 income tax return — means $600 knocked off your income before the remainder can be taxed.

You may also save money by knowing the different rules covering not only husbands and wives but certain widows and widowers and persons who can qualify as "head of household."

Start with husbands and wives:

Each person filing a return gets a $600 exemption for himself if he is under 65, 1,200 if he's over 65, and another $600 if he's blind. He gets the same exemptions for his wife if she fits certain rules.

You can claim her exemptions, in addition to your own, if she had no income and you alone file a return or if she files jointly with you, whether or not she had income.

Your wife must file a return — either separately or jointly with you — if she was under 65 and had $600 income, or $1,200 if she was over 65.

If she files separately, she claims her own exemption on her return and you can't claim any exemption for her on your return.

Hereafter, to avoid repetition about age, we'll talk about people under 65. No one, of course, who had under $600 income has to file a return at all. The same goes for a wife with less than $600 income.

But there's a special rule on wives. If your wife had income, no matter how small, but doesn't file jointly with you, you can't claim the $600 exemption for her. save by filing jointly because of the split method of figuring tax on a joint return.

If you got married any time in 1958—even as late as Dec. 31—you can claim the exemption for your wife, provided she meets the requirements listed above.

If your wife died anytime in 1958 and had no income—and if you din't remarry during the year — you can still claim an exemption for her on your return.

If she died during 1958 and did have income—and if you didn't remarry during the year—you can file a joint return, reporting her income and yours and claiming exemptions for her and yourself.

If you were divorced or legally separated from your wife at the end of the year you may not claim her as an exemption even though you provided more than half her support in 1958.

Certain widows and widowers:

If your wife (or husband) died in 1956 or 1957 you get a tax break—by being allowed to figure your tax in schedule two, page 15 of the form 1040 instruction sheet, which is the same method used by couples filing jointly—provided you fit these rules:

Your wife must have died in 1956 or 1957; you must have been entitled to file a joint return with her for the year in which she died; you have not remarried; you furnish over half the maintenance of your home which, except for temporary absences, is the principal abode of your child or stepchild for whom you claim an exemption.

If you meet these requirements, figure your tax by including only your income, exemptions, or deductions—no exemption for your deceased spouse. Use tax schedule two on page 15 of the form 1040 instruction sheet or the tax table on page 16 to find your tax rate.

Head of household:

If you qualify as "head of household" you get a lower tax rate than if you filed as a single person. You use schedule 3, page 15, of the instruction sheet, or the tax table, page 16.

You must have been unmarried (or legally separated) as of Dec. 31, 1958; and you must have provided more than half the cost of maintaining a household for the entire year for at least one other person who is related to you. The test varies with the relationship to the other person.

If that person was your mother (or father) she must qualify as your dependent. And you must have maintained a home for her, either in your house or somewhere else. Note: Paying for a parent in a home for the aged is not maintaining a household for her.

If the relative for whom you maintained a household is your unmarried child, grandchild, or stepchild, that child must have lived under the same roof with you, although your child doesn't have to qualify as your dependent.

All other relatives must live with you and qualify as dependents.

Daily Crude Flow Drops

Cancer Unit To Prepare For Crusade

A meeting has been scheduled for 5 p.m. Friday by the Scurry County unit of the American Cancer Society to make plans for the annual Cancer Crusade here.

Mrs. Eula Williams, county chairman, said a district Cancer Society representative will meet with the group, which will hold its meeting at the Snyder-Scurry County Health Unit.

April will be crusade month here, although exact dates for local work in the crusade have not yet been set.

Miss Ruby Butts is general crusade chairman, and she is now in the process of selecting various division chairmen for the crusade, in which workers will contact residents to give them cancer literature and to solicit donations. No goal has yet been set for the local crusade.

The local unit is now in the process of naming a number of new county board members.

Two committees of the local unit function year-round. One is the service committee, headed by Mrs. Norman Spencer, which furnishes services to local cancer patients. A large portion of the service committee's work is preparing and furnishing bandages for cancer patients. Bandage chairman is Mrs. Homer Ray.

The other year-round committee is that on education, which furnishes literature and films on cancer. Buford Browning is chairman of that committee.
