Girl Claims Attack

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. Nov. 26. — A band of intoxicated night riders who terrorized this community in efforts to prevent the marriage of a mentally deficient youth of 20 and a girl of the St. James community, today was blamed by Sheriff Sam Johnson for the mutilation and burning alive of Connie Franklin, farm hand and prospective bridegroom.

Preliminary legal steps were taken today for the trial December 16 of five men under first degree murder indictments in which prosecuting Attorney Hugh Williamson will oppose his younger brother, Ben B. Williamson, former state senator, employed as chief defense counsel.

The accused men are: Bill Younger, father of five children, Newport; Herman Greenway and Hubert Hester, both in jail at Newport; Joe White in jail at Batesville; Alex Pulks, in jail here. Greenway, who also is married, and Hester, in addition to first degree murder indictments, face statutory charges in connection with an attack on Franklin's 16-year-old intended bride.

Sheriff Johnson quoted the girl as saying she and Franklin, who had been a patient at the state hospital for the insane, were on their way to be married when they were accosted by a band of men. Franklin was mutilated, she said, and after fainting from pain, was tossed upon a blazing log fire by the men, who, she said, expressed the belief he already was dead. She told the sheriff two of the

Pioneer Of Floyd Succumbs Tuesday

W. M. Colville Dies After Illness Of One Year At Home In Floydada; Lived
There Twenty Years

(Special To The Avalanche)
FLOYDADA, Nov. 26. (P)—W. M. Colville, 69, pioneer citizen of Floydada, died at the family home here Tuesday morning of an illness that had lasted throughout a year. Mr. Colville came to Floydada twenty years ago and has been prominent in church and civic affairs up until his illness. One of the first transfer companies in Floydada was operated by Mr. Colville and his son, and for the past several years he was a contractor.

Funeral services will be held at the Methodist church here Wednesday afternoon and interment made in the Floydada cemetery. Surviving the deceased are his wife, two sons and one daughter.

Put a Feather In Your Cap

"Put a feather in your cap for Lubbock." Whatever the Dame Fashion may decree in winter millinery for the world at large, Lubbockites will be "passe" unless they don the red feather in their hats during the four days between December 3 and 6.

Each and every subscriber of the Lubbock Community Chest will be given a tiny red feather to wear, showing they are donors to the fund required by the six participating agencies, amounting to $90,000.

The 300 workers, making up the personnel of the organization, will wear a ten-inch feather indicating they are officers and authorized to collect subscriptions. The day of the colored button and the lapel rose is gone and in their place the little red feather.

One Division Of Community Chest Begins Campaign

Big Gifts Committee Swings
Into Action Tuesday For Quiet Solicitation Until
Opening Of Main Drive

Following a meeting yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock the first working division of the Lubbock Community Chest, the big gifts committee, swung into action toward the goal of $90,000 for charity work in this city for the ensuing year.

The committee will work quietly until the opening day of the campaign proper, on December 3, when an official report will be made of the progress. It is expected that this unit will enlist approximately 50 per cent of the total goal.

Leadership Assumed
Captains of the men's territorial teams announced Lieutenants yesterday afternoon as follows:

Captain W. B. Price—Lieutenants W. H. Rodgers, O. W. Ribble, Bob Morley, W. P. Jennings and Al May.

Captain Charles Whitacre—Lieutenants J. A. Raley, Jr., Alfred M. Scott, Hugh G. Payne, W. C. Wood and Wade Hardy.

Captain K. L. Riggs—Lieutenants W. R. Fickler, H. Hemphill, E. L. Robertson, J. B. Morley and Frances Baker.

Captain W. A. Myrick, Jr.—Dr. Sam O. Dunn, L. D. Casey, Lee Quillen, Ben Conrady and B. R. Ferguson.

Captain Clarence S. Mast—Lieutenants Marvin T. Warlick, Cecil Stinnett, Nov. 26. (P)—Jim Hodges, local boiler works manager, indicted in the murder of District Attorney John A. Holmes, was released tonight on bonds totalling $9,000. In addition to the murder bond of $7,500 he was required to furnish $1,500 bond on a liquor indictment.

Sam Jones, former constable of Berger, was still in jail, unable to find bondsmen.

W. S. Christian, and Martin Keith, filling schedules totalling $94,000, were the bondsmen.

Nearly $1,000,000 in Tomb of Late "King Ben" Purnell, Cult Head Says

BENTON, HARBOR, Mich., Nov. 26. — Nearly $1,000,000 in cash is sealed in the "Diamond House," one of the chief buildings of the House of David, in which still lies the mummified body of "King Ben" Purnell, according to the late leader.

Mary has asked the court to dissolve the House of David and distribute its property among the members. Mary's petition is an answer to injunction proceedings brought by Judge H. T. Dewhurst, leader of opposition to Mary in the cult.

When "King Ben" died from his dwelling, eluding officers who were seeking him on statutory charges he took with him $1,000,000 in gold and bills of large denomination, Mary states, and placed them in the "Diamond House." In addition to the cash in the vault, there are jewels valued at several thousand dollars, according to Mary's petition.

(By Associated Press)
EASTLAND, Nov. 26. — Recommending that "because of the magnitude of the crime," all evidence be turned over to the next regular grand jury session, the special grand jury called to investigate the lynching of Marshall Ratcliff, condemned bank robber, was discharged late today without returning any indictments.

The jury had been in session four days and examined nearly 150 witnesses.

Circumstances Deplorable
"We deplore the circumstances of this tragedy," the report said in part, "and have heard all evidence available. On account of the magnitude of this offense, and due to the fact that this grand jury has but a short time to be in session, we recommend that all information be kept and turned over to the incoming grand jury."

The regular grand jury will be empaneled Monday, December 2.

Sheriff Defended
The jury's report also defended the sheriff. "It has come to our knowledge," the report continued, "that there has been some criticism of the Eastland county sheriff and members of his department because some of them were out of the city when the hanging took place. This is because they (the critics)

TO REPRESENT PLAINS

Six Men Of Section Will Attend Farm Session

The South Plains will be represented by six people from three counties, at the district meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, to be held at Harlingen next Friday and Saturday.

Lubbock county, with N. H. Payne, George C. Cooper and Mrs. Douglas Pounds; Hockley county, with W. P. Moore, of Cleveland and Terry county, with J. W. Remfro and E. P. Finley, are the three counties to be officially represented. These six people will leave Lubbock tonight, in order to arrive in the Rio Grande Valley city in time for the gathering.

This is the third district meeting of the federation, one having been held in Lubbock and a second in El Paso.

Thanksgiving to Be Observed Here

Thanksgiving will be observed by all Lubbock churches on Thursday when a one-hour union service will be held starting at 9:30 o'clock, in the First Presbyterian church.

Special music will be furnished for the occasion by the Presbyterian church choir. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. G. P. McCollum, pastor of the Asbury Methodist church.

Immediately following this service the congregation of St. Paul's on-the-Plains will observe the day with a special service at 9:30 o'clock.

Thanksgiving music will be sung, the church will be appropriately decorated and offerings of groceries, clothing and money are to be asked for the poor.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

Insanity Ends Girl's Antics

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. (P)—The hectic career of Rudell Heath, Texas girl, whose antics have caused police considerable annoyance, ended temporarily when a jury declared her insane. She was committed to Norwalk, Cal., insane asylum and her attorney waived time for execution of judgment.

Four alienists testified they believed she was mentally unbalanced and not responsible for her acts.

A charge of forgery, to which Miss Heath had pleaded guilty, was taken off the calendar. She also was implicated in several robberies.

(By Associated Press)
PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 26. (P)—William F. Purtle, 27, was in jail here today while authorities communicated with Texas cities to determine whether he was an escaped Texas convict, and former member of the notorious Ratcliff gang.

Police said they were doubtful that Purtle was the same man. Sheriff's deputies said they had been informed that Purtle may be Robert Hill, escaped convict from the Huntville, Tex., penitentiary and companion of Marshall Ratcliff.

Arrested Friday
Purtle was arrested Friday in connection with four house robberies, but his arrest was not announced, officers said, in order to allow them to communicate with Texas authorities.

When apprehended Purtle was carrying two loaded pistols. The suspect was sullen and uncommunicative when questioned. He defiantly submitted to taking of finger measurements. When questioned as to whether he served time at Leavenworth for armed theft, he suddenly turned and said, "How did you find out that?"

Purtle was arraigned in justice court on burglary charges. He waived preliminary hearing and was held to answer before the superior court on the charges.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Nov. 26. (P)—Three suspects are arrested here late today for investigation in connection with the wrecking and robbery of the Union Pacific Portland Limited east of Cheyenne last night.

The order of a wilder, earlier day, "get your man, dead or alive," was revived as sheriffs officers, railroad special agents and scores of private citizens searched for the bandit who if brought in will be liable to death by hanging or life imprisonment. Train robbing in Wyoming is a capital offense.

None Injured
Union Pacific officials said today they were fortunate in that none of the passengers on the derailed train was seriously injured, and that an approaching eastbound freight and the fast westbound San Francisco limited did not crash into the wrecked Portland limited.

The derailed cars blocked the double track right-of-way, and only prompt action in signalling the freight and the San Francisco limited prevented a collision.

Allge Disputation
Mrs. McCormick, who instigated the hearing alleged that her husband's guardians, Harold McCormick and Anita McCormick Blaine, were dissipating his $50,000,000 fortune and asked that his welfare be transferred to her protection.

Dr. Mack, who testified late yesterday for the defense, was confronted by Barker. His report in February, 1929, on McCormick's condition. The paper contained the patient's memory on recent and remote events was "very good."

Mack cited an instance when McCormick designed a new road through his estate here. The physician said he considered the effort as indicative of initiative.

Barker asked quickly: "Is it not a fact that the road plan included the removal of the mansion in order to locate the useless road?"

"Well," Dr. Mack replied, "he initiated the plan and I heard he was changeable as to where the road should run."

MISSIONARY COMING
Miss Eva Carpenter Will Speak In Lubbock

Miss Eva Carpenter, missionary to India for a period of 15 years, but who has recently returned to the United States, is expected to arrive in Lubbock today, according to an announcement last night.

Miss Carpenter will speak at three gatherings within the next two days. Tonight at 7:30 at the local Nazarene church she will tell of her experiences in India. On Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock she will continue this address. Thursday afternoon she will bring a special message to women only at 2 o'clock.

The missionary comes to this city from Plainview where she also delivered a series of lectures.

Contact Falls
The women fliers took to the air in their Sunbeam biplane at 8:25 a. m. yesterday and made two successful refueling contacts with the Carrier Pigeon at 2:45 a. m. to day they attempted to contact the Carrier Pigeon but were unable to do so because of the darkness. Ten minutes later they landed.

The girls were visibly disappointed because they had to land. They had been in the air unofficially 18 hours, 25 minutes. Even at that they established a record, for no women ever before have attempted a refueling flight.

Talkie Witness In Murder Case

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 26. (P)—For the first time in the history of jurisprudence in this country, it is believed, a talking motion picture was introduced in court here today at the trial of Harold Roller, who confessed before voice and picture recording apparatus that he had robbed 23 homes here.

Judges James J. Gordon Jr., before whom Roller is being tried overruled objections by defense counsel against showing the "talkie."

See no difference between allowing a photograph to be entered as evidence, after identification by competent testimony, and the projection of a series of photographs," the court said.

China Appeals To League Of Nations To Halt Invaders

Armed Chinese Forces In Western Manchuria Are

Of Invading Russians

(By Associated Press)
Her armed forces in Western Manchuria scattered before the invading Russians, China appealed today to the League of Nations and to signers of the Kellogg anti-war pact to halt and punish the invaders.

Contradictory reports concerning China's civil war were circulated in Shanghai yesterday, those from Nationalist government sources asserting that Nationalist troops continued to defeat the Koominchun rebels in Honan and Hupeh provinces, the campaign virtually being ended. Independent reports, however, in effect stated that hostilities in these central provinces already had ceased, indicating that opposing leaders had reached an agreement.

Rebels Fled Off
From Hankow furthermore came Japanese dispatches with tales of huge sums paid to rebel leaders by nationalist officials, sudden withdrawals of rebel forces following, but in South China, however, the rebels of Kwangsi provinces continued active, and upon the border city of Wuchow, a Nationalist airplane squadron dropped bombs, killing many, terrorizing the people and causing heavy property damage.

Escaped Prisoner
Caught at Slaton

Ike Mucel, wanted at Ballinger, and under a two-year penitentiary sentence from Mason county, was arrested in Slaton Tuesday afternoon by Chief of Police Tom Ables and Santa Fe officer Smith.

Mucel was lodged in the Lubbock county jail in this city last night and is being held for officers at Ballinger. When arrested he was found in a rooming house at Slaton and was in possession of two and one-half pints of whiskey which were confiscated by the officers.

He was said to have been in Slaton for more than three weeks.

(By Associated Press)
MILFORD HAVEN, Wales, Nov. 26. — A lifeboat from this port today rescued 28 persons from a rapidly disintegrating steamship but reached the wreck too late to save eight others.

In one of the worst storms in many years the coastwise steamer, Molesey, dashed on the rocks late last night. Efforts were made from land and sea to rescue the persons on board but the gale and high seas frustrated all attempts.

Three Drown
During the night three of the crew, alarmed by the rapidly with which the ship was breaking up, tried to swim ashore but were drowned. Five others were washed overboard or died of exposure, including the wife of the chief mate.

Radio Operator E. R. King sacrificed his life to save those of others. He stuck to his post and was busy sending out messages asking help when a mountainous sea swept away the cabin containing the wireless room.

This morning the lifeboat was able to reach the vessel and took off the remaining 28 persons, including Capt. G. E. Huntley, two women and stowaways.

Brownfield Plans Achievement Day

Boys And Girls Of Terry County Are Expected To Attend Program Saturday

(Special To The Avalanche)
BROWNFIELD, Nov. 26. — Achievement day, or the final day for the 4-H club year, will be held in Brownfield on Saturday evening, December 7, at which a special program is being arranged for the gathering here of the several hundred Terry county club boys and girls, according to County Agent Roy B. Davis.

Medals will be given to the boys and girls who made the judging teams and diplomas and badges will be given to every boy and girl who turns in a record of their club work for the year.

Good Record
Terry county has had another great year in club work. There are 18 active 4-H clubs in the county, with a membership of nearly 300 boys and girls. Fourteen of these clubs had club exhibits at the Terry county fair and all the boys men led her into the woods and attacked her.

The grand jury was hampered in its investigation for months by threats of reprisals made by the night riders to those they thought might throw light on the crime.

Japanese Desires For Naval Confab At London Given

Three Chief Principles Of Program Are Published; Abolition Of Submarine Strength Advocated

TOKYO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Several Japanese newspapers today published details generally considered to represent the government's desires for the London naval conference in January.

Three chief principles of the Japanese program are said to be actual reduction instead of limitation of armaments, a 10-10-7 ratio for auxiliary ships and opposition to the abolition of, or drastic reduction in, submarine strength.

Parity sought.

Other points include a demand for parity in submarines with Great Britain and the United States on the basis of 30,000 tons, with a maximum unit of 2,000. Submarines under 600 tons would be exempted from limitation.

Japan would like to have 70 percent of the American strength in eight-inch gun cruisers, to limit capital ships to 25,000 tons displacement and 14 inch guns, to restrict aircraft carriers to 10,000 tons and to fix the age limit of capital ships at 25 years, of cruisers at 20 years, of destroyers at 15 years and of submarines at 13 years.

Upward Trend Is Revealed In Oil Production Total

Increase Throughout U. S. Follows Record-Breaking Drop Of Two Weeks Ago. Oil Journal Shows

TULSA, Nov. 26. (AP)—The gradual upward trend in the production of crude oil throughout the United States, following the record breaking drop of 201,733 barrels in daily average production two weeks ago, continued through the week ending November 23, with the addition of 11,856 barrels to daily production, according to the Oil and Gas Journal, this despite pro-rating activities in the Mid-Continent and California areas.

The estimated daily average production for the week was 3,827,352 barrels as compared to 2,615,457 barrels for the week ending November 16.

Increase Shown.

Despite proportion the Oklahoma City pool increased slightly as did the St. Louis-Pearson field. However, Oklahoma production fell approximately 3,000 barrels due to declines in the Seminole and northern miscellaneous fields.

The West Texas area declined slightly less than 4,000 barrels. The Arkansas, Texas Panhandle and Kansas areas showed slight gains. Kansas production was 110,330 barrels daily as of the week of November 23 compared to 108,410 barrels for the week ending November 16. The Gulf coast, Southwest Texas, eastern and Rocky Mountain areas declined.

California Total Boosted.

California, on the other hand, added 24,500 barrels to its light crude total. Santa Fe Springs recovering from early production to add 10,000 barrels and Elwood 7,500 barrels. Ventura, Seal Beach and miscellaneous fields of the state also added to their totals.

Seven Fires Rage In Oregon Forest

GRANTS PASS, Ore., Nov. 26. (AP)—Seven serious new fires raged in forests of southwestern Oregon today. The Gola Beach fire, reported to have been controlled, was said to have broken out anew.

Communication with most fire fronts was maintained by runners, flames having destroyed telegraph lines. Reports from most fronts were meager but indicated conditions were serious.

James Billingslea, district forest supervisor, was on a survey trip. Billingslea, receiving reports of losses indicated fire conditions may have reached a critical stage.

All available men were rushed to fire fronts.

HOUSTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—N. J. Fraser, Jr., 25, employee of the Otis Elevator company, suffered a broken right leg today when an elevator block in the Merchants building under construction fell on him. Fraser was aiding in the installation of the elevator.

ATTEND HIGHWAY MEET

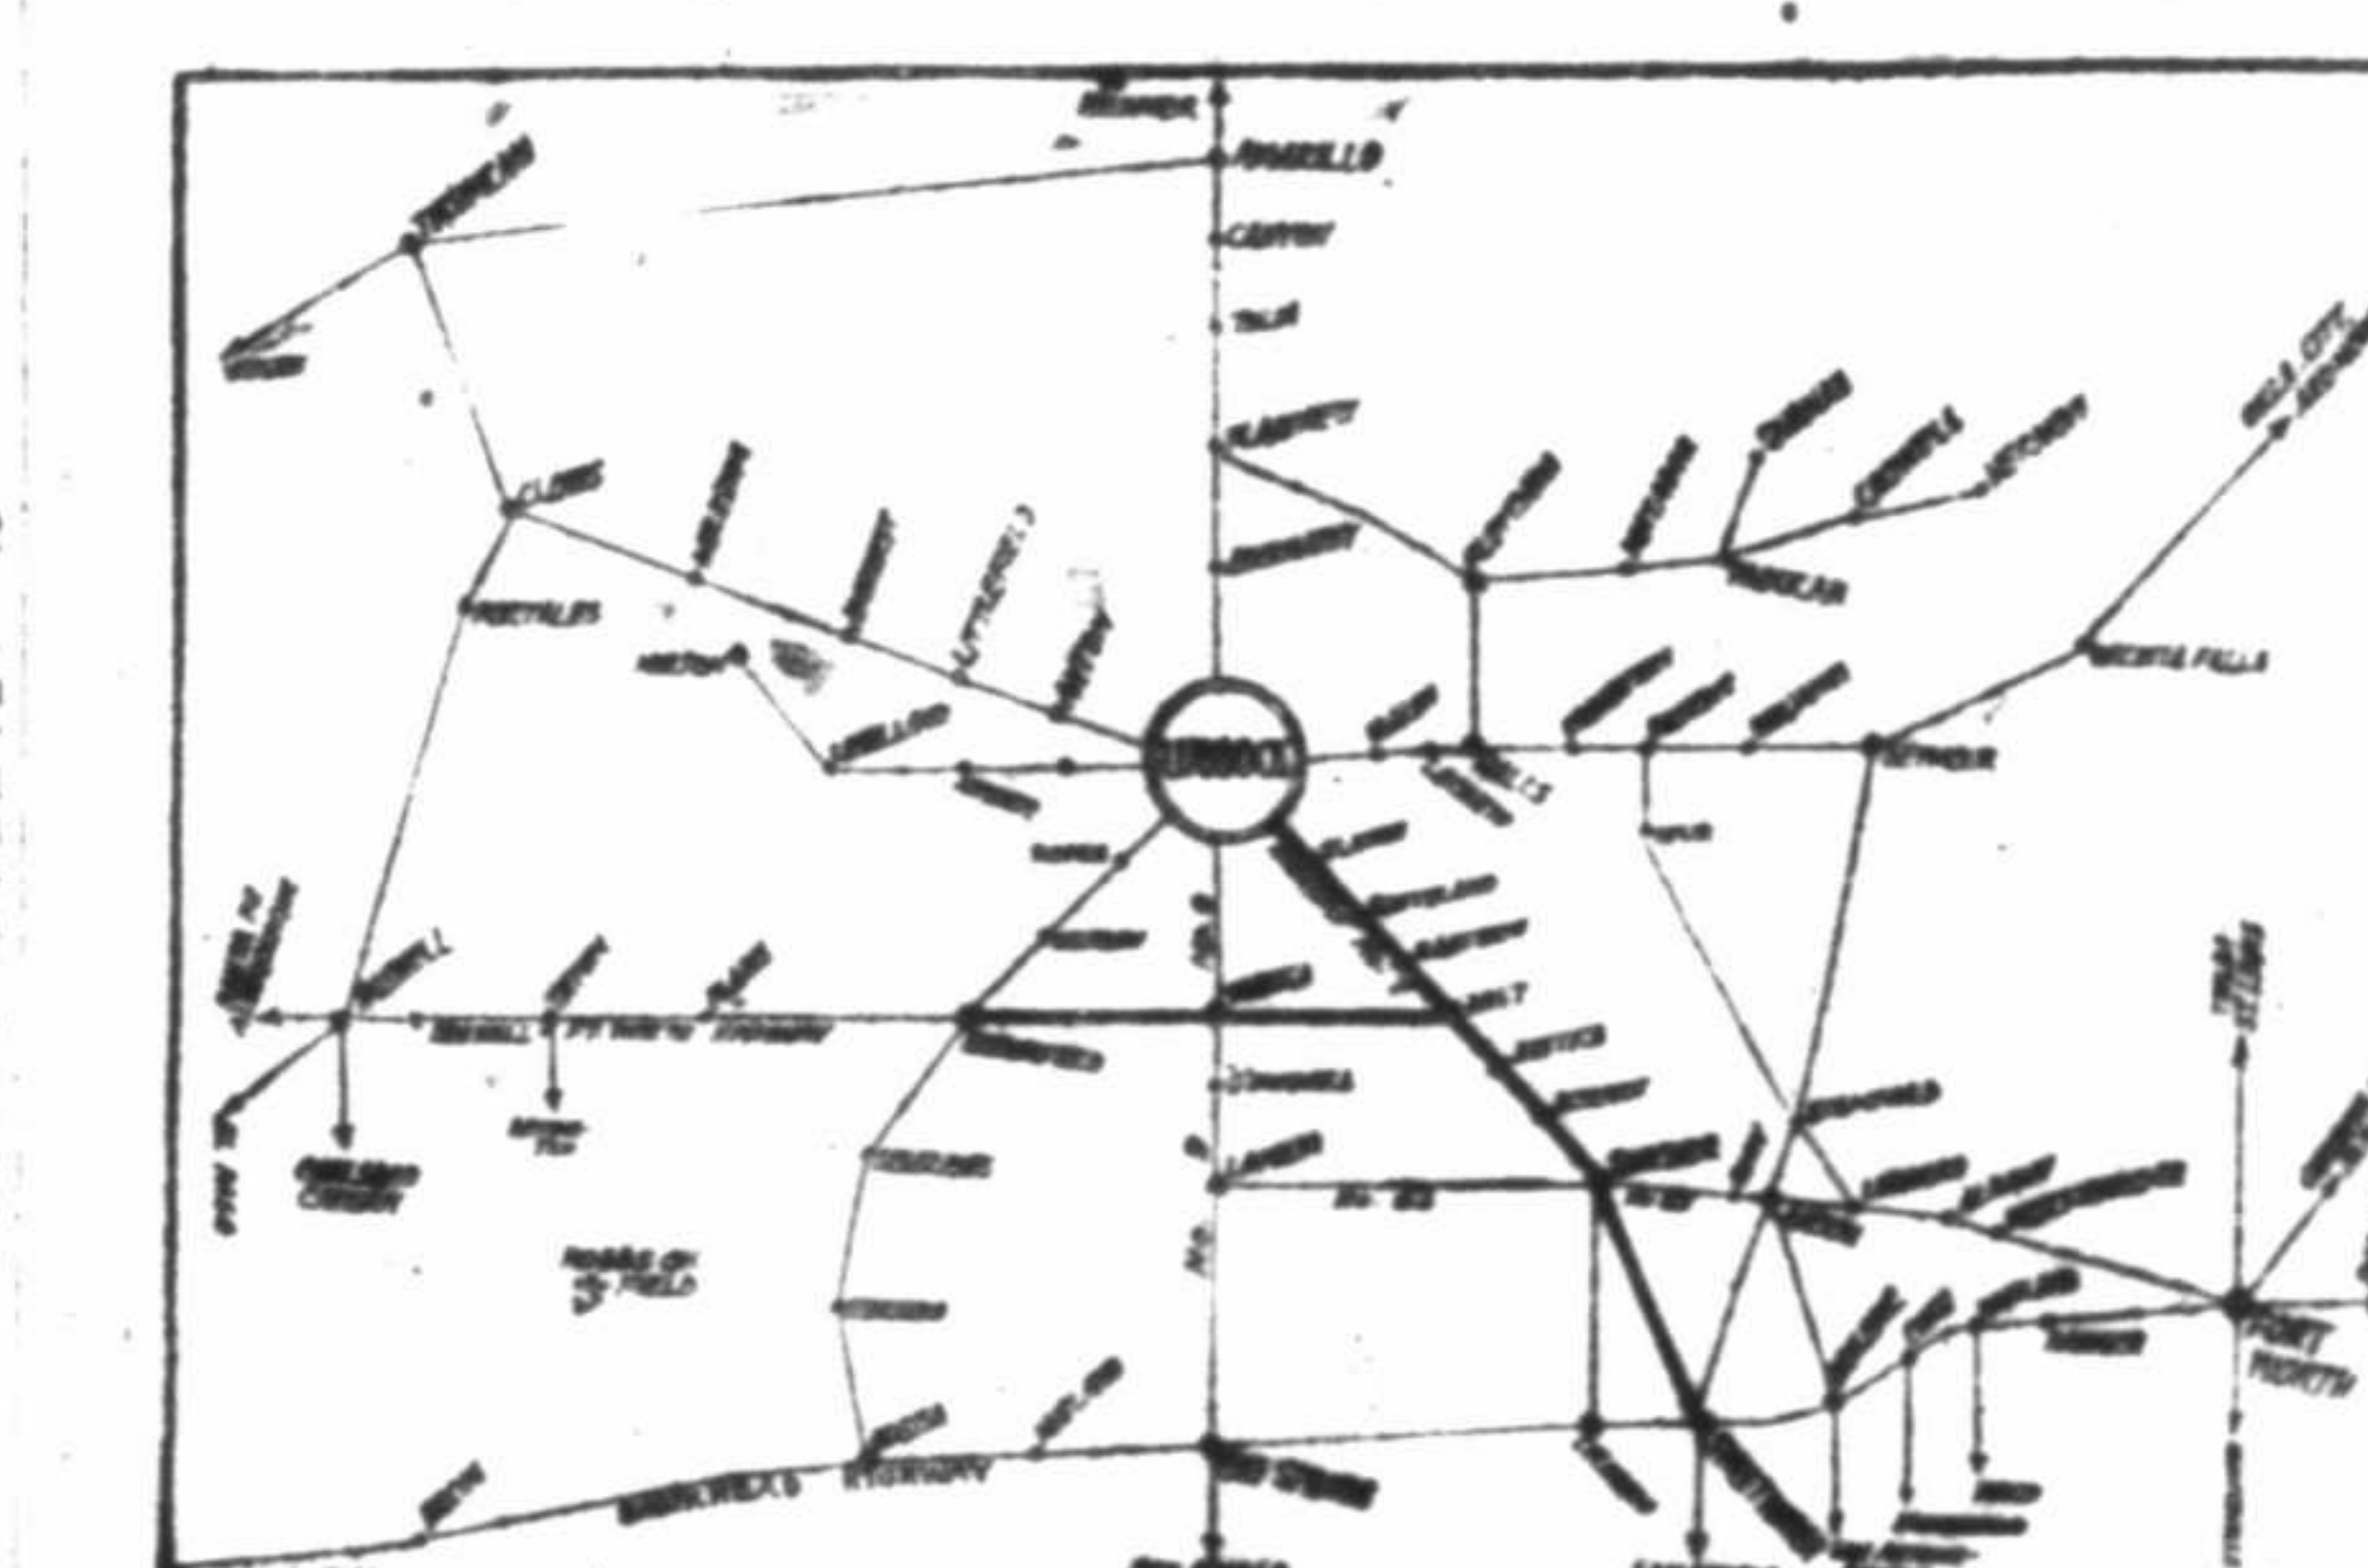

AUSTIN, Nov. 26. (AP)—Representatives of the East Texas, the South Texas and the West Texas chambers of commerce, the Federation of Women's clubs and the Texas Farm Bureau Federation were here today to attend a highway meeting.

MacDonald Greeted Upon Return

Political friends and foes hailed the return of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald to London after the history-making "mission of peace" which took him to America. The Premier is shown above, right, being greeted upon landing by Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson, second ranking member of the British Labor cabinet, while crowds waited outside the pier to accord the returning government head a tumultuous welcome.

Plains Oil, Gas Activities Given Boost In Cochran

Showing Of Slaughter Test Well Bolsters Activity; Robert Penn Oil Company Executes Contract

Unofficial reports in Lubbock indicate that oil and gas activities in the South Plains has been spirited during the past few months and that the nominal showing of the Continental Oil company's No. 1 Slaughter, rather than a means of depression, has been one to bolster in this activity.

A drilling contract has been executed by the Robert Penn Oil company for a test to be made of the Reed Block in the southern part of Cochran county. Contract depth is 5,000 feet. Location of this test is seven miles south of the Marland well, where oil and gas were encountered several weeks ago.

Leasing Set. The Western test three miles south of Marland is now being casing at 2,751 feet. The operators are also changing from rotary to standard tools and work will be resumed within the next few days. This contract also calls for a depth of 5,000 feet. Time has already been encountered by this test, about 1,000 feet above the depth where it was struck by the Marland test.

Another contract has been entered into with the Continental-Marland company will drill another test on the same tract where the Slaughter No. 1 test is located, but the exact location for the new project has not been designated.

The Louisiana Oil Refining corporation, test in section 7, block A-23, in the southwest corner of Gaines county, is down past the 500 foot mark. This test is being drilled with standard tool.

STUDENT ATTESTED

ASHLAND, Ky., Nov. 26. — An 18-year-old high school student was held in jail here today for the killing of a man at what county authorities described as a "chaper party" last night in Campbell county, near Lexington.

The student, Marvin Thompson, was arrested after Paul Bone, 32, of Huntington, W. Va., was shot to death. Officers blamed the tragedy on a quarrel after drinking.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

Las Leales, 7:30 o'clock.
Choral club, room 310, 7:30 o'clock.
Las Gauchos dance, Country club, 9 o'clock.

TICKETS ON SALE

Tickets to "Once There Was a Princess," a three-act comedy presented by members of Rock and Buskin and sponsored by the Women's Forum are now on sale. They may be secured from any member of the Forum or from the Dean of Women's office. A charge of 50 cents will be made. The play will be presented December 3 in the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock. Kate Prader, a senior in dramatics, has charge of the direction of the play.

DISCUSSION FRIDAY

All students are invited to attend the discussion group of campus matters to be held Friday night in the Chemistry auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. Sylvia Wilson, secretary to the dean of women, will be in charge of the discussion. Her subject will be "Facts and Fictions." This is a new movement on the campus, being sponsored by several of the clubs. Its purpose is to discuss problems of social etiquette which are of interest to both boys and girls.

COLLEGE REVEY

While Gail Quinlan sat outside in the sunshine, intent upon her discussion of Dick Green with Leroy Vaughn, Haskell Baird was making a trip to the dean's office. Just about the same time Louie White circled the patio south of the administration building at break neck speed in order to make a 2 o'clock dramatic rehearsal.

Inspired by the apron-like attire, where two couples played several games of tennis on the courts near the cafeteria. Perhaps it was the same atmosphere that inspired Thomas Taylor to review all of the freshmen who had made the grade since he entered school in 1925.

ANNUAL RECEIVES PICTURES

Over 1,000 individual pictures have been received by the La Ventura up to date for class sections according to Holmes Webb, editor of the annual. The date for the acceptance of class pictures was set at November 27 and Webb said that no other pictures would be accepted for that section after that date. Much copy has already been prepared and will be sent to the engravers with the class pictures by Christmas. Engraved plates from last year's annual are being received from the engravers daily.

A special feature of this year's annual will be a section devoted to the handsome men on the campus. Candidates' pictures are submitted to this department as they are to the girls' beauty sections. The men are to be judged by little Farina, a star of movie fame.

FORT WORTH CLUB ORGANIZES

Maglant Barlow was elected president of the Fort Worth club for this year at the first meeting of the club. Other officers chosen were Howard Hopkins, vice-president, Evelyn Carter, secretary and treasurer, Marvin Messersmith, reporter, W. F. Stangel, faculty sponsor.

A definite meeting date was selected to be the first and third Thursdays of each month. Committees were appointed by the president to select club colors and to write the constitution and by-laws. Membership in the club is extended to all of those students who have lived in or who are now residing within a radius of 30 miles of Fort Worth.

PLAN PRAYER MEETING

Sunrise Affair To Observe Thanksgiving Here

Rev. O. N. Bacon, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, announced Tuesday that sunrise prayer meeting services will be held Thursday morning at 7 o'clock in observance of Thanksgiving.

"Every citizen of Lubbock is invited to the services," Rev. Bacon said. "Each person will be given an opportunity to express his thanks for blessings received during the year."

Bull Fighting Ban Is Boomed

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 26. — A storm of shouts and booms sprinkled with laughter, greeted presentation in the chamber last night of Deputy Luis P. Sotela Regal's bill to purge Mexico of bull fighting, cock-fighting and boxing.

The cries were the Spanish equivalent of the American "throw him out," and "throw the bill in the waste basket." The reception was so noisy the secretary was forced to cease reading the bill, which was turned over to a committee.

The newspaper El Universal interviewed various members of the Senate to obtain their reaction. Senator Isaac Diaz De Leon said Deputy Sotela should be buried "standing up" for his foolishness. Senator Esther Esrada said bull fighting had made the Latin race courageous.

Camels have made smoking a national pleasure!

With years of steady growth behind them, Camels continue to grow. They are smoked today by more millions than ever before.

The increasing popularity of smoking in the United States exactly parallels the growth of Camel Cigarettes. Camel has given smokers a cigarette of genuine quality... a marvelous blend of choicest tobaccos... mild, fragrant, satisfying. This is the quality that smokers depend upon, and they can rest assured it will never be sacrificed. Taste in smoking, as the real pleasure of smoking is experienced, leads directly to Camel quality.

Harry Culver To Be Honored Here

President Of The National Real Estate Association Will Be Honor Guest At Banquet December 6

Harry H. Culver, of Culver City, Cal., president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, will be honored in this city at a banquet upon his visit here December 6. He will arrive in Lubbock while on a national itinerary.

"The banquet's attendance will not be limited to real estate men," said Glenn Hess, secretary of the Lubbock real estate board, who Tuesday placed on sale 200 tickets for the affair. "It will be open to any business man who wishes to attend. The occasion is being sponsored by the local board."

To Discuss Problems. "Some vitally interesting problems pertaining to civic development will be discussed by Mr. Culver, the originator of the city which bears his name. He also will speak informally on the subjects of airports, since he is an aviation enthusiast."

Mr. Culver will arrive in this city from Abilene by plane.

CONTINUE DISCUSSIONS. WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. — Farm leaders who yesterday conferred with President Hoover as a part of his program for industrial sta-bilitation today continued discussion of farm problems with government officials in a conference with members of the Federal Farm Board.

Eighty Members Of Methodist Class Attend Supper

Losers In Contest Entertain For Winners; Mesdames Richardson And Scarborough In Charge Of Program

Mrs. Horn Gives Principal Address; Informal Social Period Is Enjoyed Before Meal Time

Culminating a contest which has been in progress for the past six weeks, was a lovely supper given Tuesday evening in the basement of the First Methodist church at which the losing side of the Builders' Sunday school class taught by Mrs. P. W. Horn, entertained the winning side. Eighty guests attended the function.

The group met in the reception room, which was made attractive with a variety of plants and other decorations, and took part in a number of informal games and contests characteristic of the Thanksgiving season, directed by Mrs. H. W. Richardson. Soft music was played during this period.

Guests then were invited into the banquet room, gaily decorated with streamers of black and gold, where a plate lunch was served, and turkey in art were given as favors.

After an address by Mrs. Horn, the following program was given: solo, Mrs. E. W. Ansel; piano number, Mrs. Mamie Neal; violin selection, Miss Lydia Bell Tullory, accompanied by Mrs. H. W. Whyte at the piano; reading, Miss Mary Ansel; piano solo, Mrs. Mamie Neal.

Mrs. Rufus Scarborough and Mrs. H. W. Richardson were in charge of the program. They were assisted by Mesdames Mamie Neal and H. W. Halsell.

Those on the foods committee were Mesdames H. R. Harman, chairman; Horace Hawkins, A. T. Stewart, Rufus Rush, C. E. Moreman, John Beard, John Hall and H. H.

The decoration committee included Mesdames K. L. Riggs, chairman; Sears, M. K. Foster and H. D. Chipley.

How to Achieve Beauty

BY MISS HELENA RUBINSTEIN

I have spent my time discussing the manner in which women in different walks of life budget for beauty. I do not want to leave this subject without telling you a little about the mature woman whose income permits the most luxurious kinds of beauty treatments. There are a number of such women everywhere. Such women spend four or five hundred dollars on perfumes which are especially prepared for them by leading perfumers. There is a special kind of permanent which such a woman prefers. It does not last as long as the ordinary one, but it looks more natural, and so she permits herself four a year, totaling $140. Her 53 manures throughout the year cost $90 without the tips, and she uses very

Fashion Writer for Central Press.

The turban that fits the head closely has become one of the leading styles for fall and winter. There are many things to be said in favor of the turban. Of course it succumbs to the off-the-face effect so important in millinery at present. But it is more important as a head covering that does not have to be removed at lectures, the matinee or theater performance. In the evening, Malles to match the hair is seen in some of the newer versions of the evening cap or turban, fashioned of lustrous bands of velvet with a ruffled effect of maline at the back of the neck, bringing hat and dress into close relationship.

The tured turban has unquestionably become leader for daytime wear. We see it on smartly dressed women everywhere—at exclusive restaurants, adopted by the college girl, the suburbanite and the business woman. It does not necessarily have to match the dress costume, but it should harmonize, and its predominating color should be repeated in the footwear. Browns, tans, indefinite greens and blues seem to be the preferred colors. In keeping with the color of the kid shoe, which is the thing for town wear with the tured ensemble.

Evening Turban.

For evening wear the turban is developing along new lines. Some of the more exclusive dressmaking houses are producing turban caps of velvet to match the frock that is worn to the theatre. The advantage of this is that the woman is properly attired for the pre-theater restaurant dinner, and may then attend the theater without removing her hat. These turbans fit the head as snugly as the hair itself, and are devoid of outstanding trim, except for the bein or ruffled effect at the back or a long drape at the side.

The turban at the upper left of the sketch is of nubbed tweed in a Mado model, with a snug band of eras-grain ribbon outlining the off-the-face effect, and brought to the back in a flat tailored box. Opposite is shown an Arnes model with the off-the-face drape outlined with a narrow contrasting banding. At the lower left is one of the new velvet turbans for evening wear, with the ruffled effect at the back, while at the lower right is a metal and velvet effect, with a long drape of the velvet at the side.

At the left center is shown a type of kid shoe that is being worn with the tured ensemble for daytime. At the right center is shown a type of sandal that is popular for evening. As it is now fashionable to cover the hands for evening as well as for daytime, the long evening glove is coming back to its own. The gloves and shoes may either match the color of the gown or contrast with it. Black and white are smart with bright contrasting colors as, for instance, the red or green kid shoe, with the black or white frock. A type of the very long evening gown, with the accepted fashionable length for the evening gown, is shown at the center of the sketch.

Kleinschmidt Route To Polar Region

his big airplane and took off for the North Pole early Friday morning. And here's a surprise, Mrs. Kleinschmidt went with him!

It was almost at the last moment before the start that she appeared dressed in flying clothes.

"Frank," she said to the captain, "I am going with you."

"Why, my dear," the intrepid explorer objected, "that is out of the question. You are not prepared for the journey and you have no idea how tiresome and difficult the trip will be. I never heard of such a thing."

"That's all right," his wife said, smiling. "I am prepared for the trip and I intend to make it. You see when you first completed arrangements with the Avalanche-Journal for this expedition, I began getting my heavy clothing together. As you can see I have the proper clothes for flying and when we get into the far North I will have plenty of warm things for that, too. Why, Frank, I've just got to go. You don't think I would miss seeing Santa do you? And besides, who will cook your meals and darn your socks if I don't go? Remember the success of your last expedition was greatly due to me. You said you would not have been able to take motion pictures of the home life of Eskimos and photograph the Eskimo women if I had not been along."

So the captain had to give his consent.

The big airplanes which had been carefully groomed for the long flight were rolled out onto the field and loaded with gasoline and oil. The bags of mail containing letters which children in this community have written to Santa Claus for delivery by Captain Kleinschmidt, were stowed away in the body of the plane. Then the motor was started and warmed up. The name with "Red Garland's Bellanca monoplane."

"This is an ideal day for the start," the captain said as he went over the controls, gave the wireless equipment a final inspection and pronounced everything in order. We will make the very best time possible to the Northern tip of Hudson Bay. From there we will fly as far into the Arctic wastes as we can with safety.

Everything provided. If we find it impossible to reach Santa's home in the airplane we will proceed by dog teams and reindeer, which will be provided by my Eskimo friends. Everything has been provided for so that there can be no great delay in getting to our destination.

"Red" Garland expressed disappointment at the fact that his start from Lubbock was made so suddenly by word that it was impossible to get word to all the boys and girls of this community so that they could see his plane take off. However, there probably were a good many who saw the ship as it winged its way over the city shortly after 9 o'clock.

To Write Back Stories. The wireless equipment which the captain is carrying will be used to send back daily stories to the Avalanche-Journal. In these stories the famous explorer will tell about what he and Mrs. Kleinschmidt see on their unusual journey, how they are received and what they think of Santa Claus and his home. They will be interesting stories, for Captain Kleinschmidt is an interesting man.

Another thing that will be of interest to the boys and girls who read the local papers will be the pictures. The captain has promised to take a lot of photographs in the far North and these, too, will be sent back by wireless to show the boys and girls of this community just how things look where Santa lives. And the captain wasn't just positive before he left that he would be able to get pictures of Santa himself. He declared that he would do his best, however.

Letters Welcomed. While the expedition is underway don't forget that you should get your letters written to Santa Claus. Send them to the office and they will be wireless to Captain Kleinschmidt for delivery to Santa.

And watch for the stories from the captain. The first one of the wireless accounts is scheduled to appear in the Sunday paper. No doubt some interesting things are happening to the explorer and his wife as they are winging their way northward.

Banish Constipation With Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Constipation is a widespread evil. Many have it but do not realize it. In spite of pills and laxatives it does its deadly work—sending poisons through the body—undermining health and happiness.

The first signs of constipation are headaches, tired feeling, spots before the eyes, sallow complexion. Don't neglect these symptoms. Start eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It brings sure relief and prevents constipation.

Thousands have regained their health with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Doctors recommend it. Because it is 100% bran it brings 100% results. Bran-bran products are only "part" effective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to eat two tablespoons daily—chronic cases, with every meal. You'll like its crispness and flavor.

Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking. Recipes are on the package for muffins and breads. Sold by all grocers. Served by hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Mystery Deaths Remain Unsolved

Liquor Bottles Only Clues In Slaying Of Detective Superintendent And Store Saleslady At Worcester

WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 26. (AP)—Bottles which had contained liquor were clues today in attempts to solve the mysterious deaths of James J. Casey, superintendent of police detectives here, and Mrs. Dora Bingham, department store saleslady, whose bodies were found at Casey's camp yesterday.

Superintendent Casey's unclothed body and the partly clad form of Mrs. Bingham were found on the floor of a bedroom of the camp by two of Casey's lieutenants. They had been ordered to investigate his failure to return home on Sunday. Friendly For Years Casey, who was 56, his wife and

Mrs. Bingham, 40, had been friendly for several years. Mrs. Casey first learned of the tragedy by a radio report.

Physicians said they could not determine positively what had caused death. A chemical analysis of vital organs was ordered. Police believed the liquor consumed would not have caused death even if it had been of the "poisoned" variety occasionally sold by bootleggers. They advanced the theory poison might have been deliberately placed in the liquor. Mrs. Bingham was said to have been living apart from her husband.

SOLUTION SOUGHT

PARIS, Nov. 26. (AP)—Premier Tardieu met today with his ministerial colleagues including Foreign Minister Briand and Naval Minister Leygues in an attempt to find some solution for the question of Italy's demand for absolute parity with France at the forthcoming London naval conference. A possibility is a non-aggression pact between France and Italy for the Mediterranean as a solution for the problem.

CONVICT CAUGHT

Escaped Prisoner Will Be Returned To Pen

FOR WORTH, Nov. 26. (AP)—H. G. Davis, 33, escaped convict captured near here, will be returned to the penitentiary soon.

Davis and three companions, two of them women, were captured yesterday after a call had been received from Grand Prairie that a filling station operator had been "short changed" $10. He at first gave the name of Thomas, but later admitted his name was Davis. He escaped from the Imperial State Farm on October 5, 1928. He had served fourteen months of a two year term for passing forged instruments in Liberty county. Davis also served a 2 year sentence in Kansas for violation of the state banking laws. His term was completed in 1922.

Thousands of Dollars Added to Bank Accounts of Plains Farmers During

With the closing of the Thanksgiving market on turkeys more than a week ago, thousands of dollars have been added to the bank accounts of South Plains farmers and they now are looking to the opening of the Christmas market on December 7.

Approximately 36,000 birds were shipped from this territory for the first holiday season to eastern markets according to figures revealed by local poultry houses. Twenty carloads of Thanksgiving birds were shipped from Lubbock. The majority of locally marketed birds will be purchased from retail dealers and estimates of Lubbock's consumption for Thursday range from 4,000 to 5,000.

Market price for turkeys averaged about 20 cents for live birds, though a few dealers have gone a cent or two higher.

Dealers declare that quality of the Thanksgiving birds is the best in years. Cold weather, which is essential to fattening turkeys, arrived in time to give them a good start, and the dressing season was delayed by many shippers to allow time for conditioning.

Ford Resigns As Member Of Board

Dearborn Citizens Object To Non-Attendance Of City's Wealthiest Man; Pays Bulk Of Taxes

DEARBORN, Mich., Nov. 26. (AP)—Henry Ford, Dearborn's wealthiest citizen, resigned last night from the local board of education, because some citizens resented his non-attendance at board meetings.

Mr. Ford had been a trustee of the school district for 15 years and was regarded by many school educators as an honorary member of the board. He had not attended meetings for several years, but sent his personal representative, who acted in an advisory capacity, not being allowed to vote.

The Ford estate is largely in this school district, and Henry Ford and the Ford Motor company pay the bulk of school taxes.

Recently members of the board learned some citizens objected to having a trustee on the board who did not attend its sessions. They approached Ernest G. Liebold, Ford's secretary, to learn whether Mr. Ford would resign.

Last night a resolution was adopted calling upon the board to declare Ford's post vacant. William Gregory, an official of the Ford Motor company, then presented a written resignation which was accepted with only one negative vote.

Hubby Not to Pay Wife's Bills

LONDON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Sir James Heath will not have to pay at least one clothes bill of his wife, Lady Heath, noted British fur woman now in the United States.

In an action against the husband and wife by a London dressmaker to recover 230 pounds (about $1,200) for clothing, the court today gave judgment against Lady Heath with costs. Sir James, however, won his case paying the bill, receiving judgment with costs.

In giving judgment Justice Talbot said he was clearly of the opinion that Sir James had not given his wife authority to pledge his credit, and he had made ample provision for her. Sir James recently advertised in London papers that he would not be responsible for further debts contracted by Lady Heath.

BEAUMONT, Nov. 26. (AP)—Dr. J. W. Garth, 62, widely known southeast Texas philanthropist and donor of a building to new-born in connection with the new Y. M. C. A. here, died today after a long illness. He came here from Iowa two years ago.

High School Grid Race Enters Final Stages This Week

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

Quite a number of the most important football arguments of the year won't be settled until after Thanksgiving. Dinner has been digested. Here are a few of the main engagements for Nov. 28 on the gridiron.

Penn-Cornell at Philadelphia. Colgate-Brown at Providence. Pittsburgh-Penn State at Pittsburgh. Tennessee-Kentucky at Lexington. Nebraska-Iowa State at Lincoln. Missouri-Oklahoma at Columbia. St. Mary's-Oregon at San Francisco.

Of this collection, Pittsburgh, Tennessee and St. Mary's are three of the unbeaten brigades, with three of the best records of any outfit in the country. Pitt and Tennessee have waded through all opposition while St. Mary's hasn't been scored on, including a scoreless tie with the University of California early in the campaign.

If these frays aren't enough for the week, Saturday will furnish Notre Dame's final clash of the season with Army at New York, and Texas Christian's battle with Southern Methodist at Fort Worth, with the Southwestern Conference title at stake.

The Army-Notre Dame affair comes close to being the outstanding classic now on the Eastern program, so far as action and rivalry are concerned. Mutual respect and admiration between the Hoosier and the Cadet has lifted this affair far above the ordinary, where the onlookers are limited in number only by the capacity of the Yankee Stadium. West Point is primed for a big rally this year and it will take the best combination of the Irish and the Dutch in the Notre Dame lineup to break through the soldiers.

Cornell invades Franklin Field for its historic duel against Pennsylvania with the best chance of beating the Quakers. In several years, Backfield hocus-pocus and brilliant passing have upset the Corneliens in their last few trips to Philadelphia. Superior Cornell lines have watched the pigskin fly over their heads until they became dizzy. This year, Gil Dobie has not only bolstered the pass defense of the Ithacans but has given them offensive aerial weapons that have produced results. In addition, the new fumble rule will prevent anything like the 98-yard dash to a touchdown by Opeken of Penn last Thanksgiving Day after Cornell had gone 70 yards down the field only to fumble at the doorstep. It would be an ironic touch for Cornell to turn the tables on its old rival through the air, but it is altogether possible, especially since Pennsylvania's Paul Sull no longer is around to harass the Red forces.

It was a rare thrill for the throng of 123,000 that saw Russ Saunders of Southern California return a kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown after Notre Dame had just tallied in the game at Soldier Field, yet this sequence of plays was duplicated on the same afternoon at Austin, Texas. Cy Leland, the sprinter-halfback of the Texas Christian Horned Frogs, tucked a kickoff under his arm and dashed 80 yards to a touchdown just after Texas had marched 55 yards for a score.

In both cases, probably overconfidence on the part of the team that had just scored. Notre Dame and Texas, figured in the subsequent, long run and touch-down. Saunders and Leland caught their opponents off guard, going down the field congratulating themselves that everything was all right. All of which indicates that the ancient adage can be applied to football as well as baseball—"take nothing for granted."

Canyon Plans To Send Special To Matador-Buffalo Post Season Game Here After Regular Season Closes

Plainview Fans To Be Welcomed

Committee Seeks More Cars To Transport Visitors While In City; Westerners Working Hard

When the delegation of football fans from Plainview arrives in this city shortly after noon on Thanksgiving day, the Bulldog supporters will be greeted by a cordial welcome. It became known yesterday when a committee was named to sponsor the festivities.

H. W. Richardson, chairman of the committee selected from the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs, last night issued a call for 125 cars to accommodate the visitors from the Hale county capital while they are in the city.

The Bulldog rosters will be met at the train by this huge delegation of local fans and will be escorted to and from the game in cars furnished by Westerners. Tickets will be furnished for each car, bearing the inscription, "Ride With Me, Bulldog."

Those who plan to furnish cars for the convenience of the visitors have been asked to be at the Lubbock hotel by 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. From this point the Bulldog fans will be carried to Tech Field.

Tuesday's practice at Merrill Park found the Westerners bearing down hard in their preparation for the invasion of the Plainview aggression. Defensive tactics against Plainview played occupied much of the "front."

Coach Henry Frnk plans to throw his most effective combination against the Bulldogs at the outset with instructions to open up with everything.

Clash On Tech Gridiron Dec. 6 Brings Together Old Rivals Of Plains; Locals Hold Edge

CANYON, Nov. 26. (AP)—The Buffalo of West Texas have never failed to have the Texas Tech Matadors on their schedule since Tech was first started, but this year the contract expired and a new one was thought to be unnecessary as Tech wanted more time to play in the Texas conference. But after all, we will have them. The many fans of the Buffaloes were getting uneasy about breaking our record, but they will not have to do so.

Marvin T. Warlick and E. Y. Freeland of Tech went into conference, with Tech as the aggressor, and the Buffaloes as the defender. The articles of agreement for the contest, Canyon fans were jubilant when the announcement came, as the Buff-Matador game has become the classic of the Panhandle in college circles. The game will be played in Lubbock, December 6.

Play In Lubbock
It has been the custom of Tech and Canyon to meet on Thanksgiving, but the Buff officials thought it best to have a conference game at that time. And it was thought best to have a game at that time, as the Buffs close their home schedule Thursday.

Already plans are being made in Canyon for a special train in which Buff supporters will move to the Hub City for the game. Tickets will go on sale shortly, with Canyon taking an entire section of the huge Tech grandstand.

Matadors Have Edge
History shows that out of four games played Tech has won three, the largest margin being by two touchdowns last year when Canyon had one of its off years. In the other three years Tech won by one point and five points respectively while the Buffs took their sole victory by a margin of three points in 1927 in Lubbock. But these are only the histories for the last few years.

Expect Fair Day For Turkey Game

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 26. (AP)—Prospects for a clear, bright day and ideal football weather for the annual gridiron classic between the Texas Aggies and the Texas Longhorns here Thanksgiving Day were much in evidence today as a bright sun shone for the first time in several days.

Despite the rain of the past few days, the game will not be played on a muddy field, James Sullivan, business manager for the Aggies said. A rain-proof field cover has kept the gridiron dry and will be left spread until Thursday, he explained.

PORKERS OFF FOR GAME
PAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 26. A brisk signal workout was held just before their departure by motor bus.

Tech Crew Ready For Final Game Of 1929 Season

Bull Fighters Off Today At Noon For Scene Of Big Thanksgiving Day Tilt; Special Train Follows

With a full season's labors behind them, the gridiron stalwarts of Texas Tech leave today on the last leg of their 1929 football campaign, bound for Abilene where Thursday afternoon they will line up against the Simmons University Cowboys in the feature Turkey Day attraction in West Texas.

Tired out from a strenuous grid season and battered from the repeated assaults of the enemy, the Crimson-clad forces of Higginbotham and Payne have rallied all possible strength this week in their efforts to bring back a victory in at least one major game this year.

Leave At Noon
Dummy scrimmage against Simmons plays Tuesday afternoon wound up training for the Thanksgiving Day combat with the Cowhands, and today at noon the Bull Fighters will embark on their trip to Abilene. The squad will stop over at Sweetwater this afternoon for a brief workout before the jaunt to the Cowboys' stronghold is resumed.

A crowd estimated at 10,000 is expected to witness the annual struggle between the Matadors and Cowboys Thursday. At least 500 Matador boosters will ride a special train from here Thursday morning. The trippers will make the return trip that night.

Anything Can Happen
With both teams fighting to regain prestige lost in previous defeats, the little Thursday promises to be a spectacular affair in which anything may be expected. Coaches Higginbotham and Payne have definitely settled on the plan of attack the Matadors will use against the Cowhands, while reports from Abilene indicate the foxy Frank Bridges will have a hard time of it in the contest.

Steers Look for Battle Thursday
AUSTIN, Nov. 26. (AP)—Although one day of usual school work was first on the program, practically everybody on the University of Texas campus tonight was looking forward to the traditional football encounter between the Longhorns and the Aggies at College Station Thursday.

It will be just a game as far as the conference standing is concerned, but to the Steers it means the difference between a successful and a mediocre season.

There is more than a bare possibility that 10 of the 11 men who face Matty Bell's robots will be sinking their teeth into the Aggies for the last time. Seven regulars are seniors and Coach Clyde Littlefield may yield to sentiment and start Frank Cheatham at end Billy Hargrove at tackle and Charlie Hawn at guard in the places of Vining, Emerson and Bumgarner. If he should do that, Dexter Shelby will be the only junior in the lineup.

A pep rally was held last night by "Shorty" Tennant, head yell leader, said that it was a "prayer meeting" compared to the one which will be put on tomorrow night.

T. C. U. May Play Post-Season Game

Intersection Battle Suggested If Toads Cop Southwest Championship; Tulane Favored

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26. (AP)—Provided they win from S. M. U. Saturday, the gridiron Horned Frogs of Texas Christian university may engage in a post-season game with some undefeated team from another section. Nothing official has been done towards arranging such a contest but some indirectly connected with the university's athletic department have considered the possibilities and put out feelers in several directions.

There is little or no chance to get the Tournament of Roses date on the West Coast, but arrangements may be made to play either Tulane or Tennessee for the Dixie championship. Both of those Southern conference teams are still undefeated and untied to date.

There are only three other major victorious teams, Notre Dame, Purdue, a member of the Big Ten—a group that seldom allows its members to play after Thanksgiving week and Pittsburgh which is expected to go to California for the New Year's game.

Tulane is the most logical opponent, but is doubtful if the Greenies would care to prolong the season.

HARLINGEN WINNER
HARLINGEN, Nov. 26. (AP)—Defeating the Kinrossville High school football eleven 19 to 2 this afternoon, Harlingen captured the district Class B championship.

Powerful Utes Reign In Rockies Once More

Destroying the opposition by terrific attack, the University of Utah's rugged eleven has swept to its second consecutive Rocky Mountain conference title and its third in five years under Coach Ike Armstrong. Stars of the team include Earl (Powerhouse) Pomeroy, All-American fullback possibility; Farmer (Baldy) Simkins, tackle; Marvin Jonas, center; and Captain Bob Davis, quarter.

Ponies Confident Of Taking Title Matter Previously Settled, Rogers Declares Spur Authorities Endorse Protest

Morrison And Men Believe Aerial Attack Too Much For Any Team To Stop—Squad In Top Shape

DALLAS, Nov. 26. (AP)—The fact that a majority of state critics favor Texas Christian University to crash through to its tenth straight victory and the Southwest conference title gratified Coach Ray Morrison of Southern Methodist University today.

The Pony mascot, pausing from his task of putting his Red and Blue machine into top shape for the championship battle with T. C. U. Saturday, pointed out that Southern Methodist had been picked to lose all its important battles this year, and had won. He figured it a good omen that the Frogs rated the favorite's brash this week.

There was an air of complete confidence in the Pony camp today. Morrison's men realize that their passing game at the height of its development they did not believe any team could break it up. The public was excluded from the workouts yesterday and today, but newspapermen were permitted to watch the Ponies polish up their plays in scrimmage against the freshmen and reserve. There was not even a serious limp in camp. Bruce Kattman, regular halfback, was nursing a heavy cold and did not take part in practice, but will be ready by Saturday. His kicking and running were high spots in the Baylor and Rice games.

GAMES PAID WELL

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Big Ten football games during the 1929 season drew 1,900,000 spectators, who paid a total of $4,760,000, official attendance figures revealed today. The figures led all other schools in the conference with a total of 464,000 fans.

President of Texas League Will Be Laid To Rest In Corsicana This Afternoon; Died In Dallas

CORSICANA, Nov. 26. (AP)—The body of J. Dock Roberts, president of the Texas League, who died at his home in Dallas yesterday, will arrive in Corsicana, his native city, shortly before noon tomorrow.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

The services will be conducted by Dr. Poe, pastor of the city Temple Presbyterian church of Dallas, assisted by the Rev. Martin Baker, pastor of the Third Avenue Presbyterian church here.

LAMESA, Nov. 26.—A protest in the form of a telegram was received here Tuesday by V. Z. Rogers, chairman of the executive committee of District Two Class B, from Superintendent L. T. Green of Slaton concerning the eligibility of Lamesa to compete for the district championship.

The telegram which follows serves only as a notice that the formal, written protest would be forthcoming. "Slaton protests the eligibility of Lamesa to compete for district football honors because of failing to play representative schedule. Formal protest being mailed to members of committee today. Request committee to meet immediately to consider."

Refuses Meeting
Superintendent Rogers, acting in the capacity of the chairman of the executive committee, has announced that it will be impossible to call the members of the committee together before Dec. 2. The district executive board pointed out that the question under consideration, namely—the case of representative schedules was considered by the district body on two previous dates, Oct. 3 and Oct. 16, and that the protest has been filed too late for consideration, according to the rules of the Inter-scholastic league.

"Since the matter of representative schedules has come before the committee on two previous occasions, I can see no grounds upon which the protest can be based," Mr. Rogers said. "The state football rule book plainly says that a protest other than one concerning the eligibility of players, must be filed within 24 hours after a game is played. Slaton's protest comes 10 days after Mr. Green was furnished information on Lamesa's schedule."

Played Four
After the Hall game Saturday Lamesa will have played the same number of conference games that Slaton has played. These include Tahoka, Slaton, Ralls and Paducah. The Paducah game was forfeited to Lamesa and no one can question the outcome of the contest had it been played. Slaton's conference game to date are: Lamesa, Paducah, Spur and Post.

"Therefore, I can see no reason for calling the committee members together to consider the Slaton protest. I talked to three members over long distance telephone Tuesday and none are able to be present for such a meeting."

Report Says Patty Will Hold Meeting

Messages late last night from Post and Slaton brought information stating that a temporary chairman, W. E. Patty, of Floydada had been named to hold the executive chair in a meeting today in Lubbock.

Despite earlier declarations of V. Z. Rogers, district executive chairman, that no hearing would be granted on Slaton's protest, it was later announced that the newly-appointed chairman had called members of the executive committee to meet at the Texas Tech administration building at 11 o'clock this morning.

Slaton's protest will be considered at this meeting, the report said. The Floydada school head was named temporary chairman due to the fact that Supt. Rogers is directly interested in the championship race.

Superintendent Cluck Declares Lamesa Has Not Played Representative Football Schedule

(Special To The Avalanche)
SPUR, Nov. 26. (AP)—Superintendent R. N. Cluck of the Spur public schools has endorsed wholeheartedly the protest issued Monday by L. T. Green, Slaton school executive concerning the eligibility of Lamesa to compete for the district football championship.

Neither do I feel that Lamesa has played a representative schedule, the Spur official stated. "We offered Lamesa authorities $50 to come here for a game or we would go there for nothing. Instead Lamesa played Snyder, a team out of the district."

Superintendent Cluck stated further that Spur did not sign the protest papers, giving Post the Armistice Day game won by the Bulldogs. Reports last week had it that local authorities had signed the papers, but such was not the case.

"It is simply a matter of getting things tangled up at Post," Mr. Cluck pointed out.

Ducats for Frog, Pony Game Scarce

FORT WORTH, Nov. 26. (AP)—Football tickets are more in demand than turkeys in this city just now. Late today but five reserved seats to the T. C. U.-S. M. U. game remained unsold and they probably were gone before these lines were read. Some 1,400 unreserved bleacher seats will be placed on sale Wednesday morning and they, like the reserved seats, will be snapped up by fans anxious to see T. C. U. and S. M. U. battle for the Southwest conference football championship here Saturday. The largest crowd to see any athletic event of any sort in Fort Worth—around 25,000—is expected.

Irish May Have Post-Season Game

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 26. (AP)—The Rev. Michael Molcaire, vice president of the University of Notre Dame, said today that the athletic faculty will determine next week whether the football team will play a post season game this year.

He indicated that a post season game, particularly at the Tournament of Roses New Year's Day at Pasadena, Calif., might be accepted if Notre Dame was invited.

Eight District Winners Will Be Ready To Go Into Finals Sunday If Favorites Come Through Games

Letter Tells Of Views On Protest

Ralls Committeeman Believes Ralls And Lamesa Deserve To Be In Class B Grid Final

Setting forth at length the views of Ralls fans concerning the recent protest of Slaton of the eligibility of Lamesa to compete for the district championship, A. C. (Dick) Hyatt, editor of the Ralls Banner, contends that the Jackrabbits have played one of the hardest schedules in District Two, Class B, and that the winner of the Ralls-Lamesa game Saturday is undoubtedly the champion of the district.

Following is the letter written by Mr. Hyatt to the newspaper:

"Feeling that your excellent newspaper stand for fair play, I am writing you, at the solicitation of many Ralls people, attempting to set forth some facts that will relieve the minds of many of your readers of some misrepresentations contained in an article appearing in the Morning Avalanche, headed: 'Slaton Claims District Title, and was allegedly given your paper by reporters after an interview with Mr. L. T. Green, superintendent of Slaton schools.'

"While those who really know all the facts about the 'who-did-it' in the district 2, class B championship race will find many misleading statements in Mr. Green's numerous assertions, it is the desire of the writer and all Ralls folks to only call attention to a few of those which more vitally concern our own team, the Ralls Jackrabbits."

"First, Mr. Green alleged that Ralls had only played three conference games prior to meeting Lockney. Facts are, Ralls had played five conference games prior to this, as follows: Brownfield, Levelland, Littlefield, Floydada, Crosbyton. The two games we have played with Lockney makes seven which is a heavier schedule than any other team of the district has played."

"Second, Ralls and Slaton had a game scheduled for October 12th which Slaton authorities (themselves) called off in order to play the Lubbock Westerners on that date. Ralls' schedule was full for the remainder of the season and Coach Lovorn did not think it fair to cancel regularly scheduled games with other teams in order to set a new date for Slaton. In fact, there is no record of Slaton even asked for another date."

"Third, Coach Lovorn tried to get an early season game with Spur and Spur's coach refused to play until the latter part of the season and a game was scheduled between these two aggregations for Thanksgiving. The district committee ordered that this game be cancelled in case Ralls won the right to meet Lamesa by defeating Lockney. Had Ralls lost to Lockney the game with Spur would have been played."

"All the above facts developed at the meeting of the district athletic committee, the Slaton and Spur school authorities agreeing that they were true. It further developed there that the Post school authorities thought it best not to play Ralls due to former misunderstandings between the two cities and it was their initiative and not Coach Lovorn's that the two teams will not meet this season unless a game was required to settle the championship at the last of the season."

"It is a matter of public knowledge that the Lamesa Tornados recently defeated Slaton by a score of 32 to 13. If being the champion team of a district is brought about by a superior team of a school proclaiming such we admit that Slaton is champion of district 2 for we are quite sure that there's not a superintendent in the district other than Mr. Green who would think his team better than another team who had defeated their home grounds."

"Now then, Ralls and Lamesa will meet this week end. If Lamesa defeats Ralls we see no reason why they are not full-fledged champions neither as actual football playing is concerned. And if Ralls defeats Lamesa we are almost certain to feel like our Jackrabbits are the best in this district."

Signed: A. C. (Dick) Hyatt, Chairman Citizens Athletic Committee, Ralls, Texas.

Waco Can Cinch District 4 Title By Defeating Temple Today; District 3 In Muddle

DALLAS, Nov. 26. (AP)—The loose ends of the state high school football race will be picked up during the next four days and by Sunday, providing favorites come through eight district winners will stand ready to go into the final stages of the marathon.

Waco and Temple will fire the opening gun when they clash tomorrow at Temple in an important district 4 battle. Waco, with four straight victories, can clinch the championship of its section by defeating the Wildcats. As Temple has lost both to Cleburne and Corsicana, the Tigers enter the game favorites.

Titles At Stake
Titles in four other districts will be decided on Thanksgiving Day. In the event that any of the races end in ties, they will be played off December 3, in order not to hold up the district competition.

Marshall and Tyler meet Thursday at Tyler for district 6 honors. Marshall now leads with four wins and Tyler has won three and lost one, and thus has a chance to tie up the race by defeating Marshall.

John Reagan of Houston is expected to see up the district 7 title by defeating Sam Houston high on Thursday. Reagan has won five straight Port Arthur, with five victories and a tie still has a chance providing it defeats Jeff Davis of Houston Thursday.

Denton In Lead
The Denton Broncos can nail down the district 8 flag with a victory over the weak Corsicana eleven Thursday at Denton. The Broncos have won four in a row Sulphur Springs, with five wins and a tie, appears destined to finish second. District 3, in which eleven Dallas districts already have been awarded. Games this week might straighten things out, but it is doubtful. Oak Cliff of Dallas and Central of Fort Worth are tied for the leadership, each with five victories. One defeat and one tie Central is scheduled to play North Side of Fort Worth on Thursday, while Oak Cliff will meet Forest at Dallas on Saturday. It will be necessary for one of them to win and the other lose to clear the title. If both lose, Forest would win the crown.

Sandies Favored
Amarillo has one more obstacle in its path in district 1, playing Wichita Falls Thursday at Amarillo. A victory would give the Sandies a record of six straight. If Wichita should pull an upset, and win, however, and Lubbock downed Plainview at Lubbock, there would be a tie for the crown. Amarillo is expected to win by a good margin. Titles in the two remaining districts already have been awarded. Breckenridge clinched district 2 laurels with its eighth straight victory last week. The Brownsville Eagles likewise have smothered each of their rivals in district 8.

"All the above facts developed at the meeting of the district athletic committee, the Slaton and Spur school authorities agreeing that they were true. It further developed there that the Post school authorities thought it best not to play Ralls due to former misunderstandings between the two cities and it was their initiative and not Coach Lovorn's that the two teams will not meet this season unless a game was required to settle the championship at the last of the season."

"It is a matter of public knowledge that the Lamesa Tornados recently defeated Slaton by a score of 32 to 13. If being the champion team of a district is brought about by a superior team of a school proclaiming such we admit that Slaton is champion of district 2 for we are quite sure that there's not a superintendent in the district other than Mr. Green who would think his team better than another team who had defeated their home grounds."

"Now then, Ralls and Lamesa will meet this week end. If Lamesa defeats Ralls we see no reason why they are not full-fledged champions neither as actual football playing is concerned. And if Ralls defeats Lamesa we are almost certain to feel like our Jackrabbits are the best in this district."

New York Commission Prepares Surprise Gift For Fans

Fight Champions Will Be Allowed To Appear In State Without Fear Of Losing Status In Their Class

Title Holders Can Fight Without Having To Defend Crowns On Each Appearance In New York

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—The spirit of Christmas was in the air today as the New York State Boxing Commission prepared a surprise gift package for the boxing business. Still a bit hesitant the solons of sock and glove within a week or two of the announcement would be made that in the future fight champions would be permitted to box in New York state occasionally without having to defend their titles every time they step within a ring. In the past this rule has prevented champions of lower divisions stepping out of their classes to battle contenders a step above them in belt. Because of this decree Jack Delaney and Tommy Loughran were forced to give up the light heavyweight championship before the commission would sanction their entries into the heavyweight ranks. In recent months with the steady increase of fine fight arenas in other major cities of the country, the battle of promoters for attractive cards has become more brisk. In every important division titleholders have appeared outside of New York in over-weight matches. Loss of the opportunity to bid for the lucrative drawing cards is believed to have caused local promoters to loose floods of persuasive argument upon the boxing commissioners. The commission is firm, however, in its determination to force champions to defend their titles against worthy challengers at least twice a year.

Sooners, Tigers Will Break Tie

Oklahoma And Missouri Meet Thursday To Settle Grid Supremacy; Both Have Won 9 Games

(Special To The Avalanche)
NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 26.—When Coach Ad Lindsey's University of Oklahoma Sooners line up against the Missouri Tigers in their annual Turkey day classic at Columbia Thursday, the squads will be fighting to break a tie record which exists between the teams. Since the first battle in 1902 the Sooners and Tigers have clashed on the gridiron 19 times, each eleven coping nine games, with the one in 1918 ending in a 9 to 9 tie. Back in 1902 when the annual contests began, the Tigers rushed the Oklahoma Sooners by a 26 to 0 score, and repeated the act by exactly the same score in 1903. Nine years passed before the two schools met again in a football game. The Red and White machine defeated the Missouri team in 1911 by a 14 to 6 score. Final scores in Oklahoma-Missouri games:

1902—Oklahoma 0, Missouri 26
1903—Oklahoma 0, Missouri 26
1911—Oklahoma 14, Missouri 6
1912—Oklahoma 0, Missouri 12

Great Athletes' Sons are Usually Ping Pong Stars But These Four Youths are Carrying on in Dad's Footsteps

HARE YALE

HESTON MICHIGAN

STAGG CHICAGO

BUNKER ARMY

BY WM. M. BRAUCHER
NEA Service Sports Writer

The sons of the old man don't always run true to form. Quiet often father is a great athlete and little Chester turns out to be wild about ping pong.

But now and then the name of some hero of the good old days flashes across gridiron or diamond in the person of "Junior." This year there have been outstanding examples.

Truxton Hare, the old Penn guard, ranks among the greatest linemen of all time. He was wintertime at Penn with George Weidert, who thought out that "guards back formation." Truxton Hare Jr. has followed in his father's footsteps in one respect—he is also a guard, but he has chosen Yale instead of Pennsylvania.

Young Stagg Prentiss. Alonzo Stagg was one of the greatest ends in history, having a place on Walter Camp's first all-American team when he played at Yale. Now Stagg, in his 35th year as a football coach, is developing his son, Paul, as a quarterback. If you judge by the game young Stagg played against Princeton, there is every chance that his father's dream will be realized. He indicated that he knew, at least, what it was all about. He is rangy, with lots of strength and a hard tackler.

At Michigan is young Willie Heston, carrying on in his famous dad's old backfield job. The younger Heston showed flashes of his father's fire in the Michigan-Ohio game, but he hasn't been used much since. He is a sophomore, however, and learns rapidly, according to Michigan coaches.

Bunker For the Army. At West Point is Paul Bunker. Like Heston, young Bunker has a tough spot to fill, for the elder Bunker, Paul Sr., was an all-American tackle in 1901 and an all-American back in 1902. Young Paul is a playing center, and is regarded as holding forth great promise.

Down at Princeton is Langdon Lea, son of the Langdon Lea who was tackle and captain of one of the old Tiger teams. At Harvard is Vic Harding, whose father also was an end, Bernie Trafford, at Harvard, is a son of the Trafford who kicked five field goals against Cornell in 1890.

Switch The Game. Sometimes the younger generation bobs up in different sports from those their fathers followed. Ty Cobb's son took to the tennis courts. Beale Wright, son of the famous old ball player, George, turned out to be a tennis champion. Foster Sanford was a great center at Yale, but his son became a varsity pitcher for Penn, thus balancing the Yale-Penn score on Truxton Hare.

At Stevens at Yale was one of the finest outfielders who ever played for Yale. His son, Harry, is a guard on the scrub team at New a motorboat belonging to the Italian air service after them to bring them back to Italy and the jurisdiction of Italian courts. Rumors of their impending divorce were frequent.

Annul Marriage Of Aviation Head

ROME, Nov. 26. (AP)—The marriage of General Piero Ruggero Piccio, former head of the Italian air service to Lorisio Bistichieri of New Orleans, which occurred in New York in 1920, was annulled by the Rome court of appeals today.

The court held the marriage agreement was not spontaneous and an element of constraint entered into it at the time. General Piccio is air attaché at the Italian embassy at Paris at present.

General Piccio married Miss Bistichieri when she was but 18 years old, a student at the Spence school, New York, and he was 35. Their matrimonial life was most unharmonious.

According to published accounts, once when she left Italy with their child he sent five hydroplanes and

FIVE FACE QUIZ

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Five persons, suspected of having had a part in the escape of S. C. Shipp from the Texas county jail yesterday, will be taken before the grand jury according to Sheriff Alfonso Newton, who returned Shipp to the jail last night after he had been captured in Floresville.

Sheriff Bud Carnes of Wilson county, who made the capture, refused the $100 reward which Newton had offered out of his own pocket. Shipp was under indictments charging assault with firearms, arson and four counts for passing forged checks.

Rajah Back Home After Operation

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby star second baseman and hitter of the Cubs, came to Chicago on crutches today for an examination of his sore heel. The "Rajah" had a growth removed from his heel at St. Louis last week and the Cub physician pronounced the operation a satisfactory one. "Sure, we'll win the pennant next year," Hornsby said, "and we'll give our American League world series opponents a better fight too."

Minister Held on Statutory Charge

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 26. (AP)—Dr. Bradford Leavitt, widely known Unitarian clergyman and once chaplain to the United States senate, was in psychopathic ward of a hospital today for observation after pleading guilty to a statutory charge.

During the administration of President Taft, Dr. Leavitt was pastor of a church in Washington which was attended by the president. Eight years ago he gave up a pastorate in San Francisco to accept a call to a Pasadena church.

Six months ago Dr. Leavitt confessed to members of his congregation he needed a rest and intended to go to Europe in an attempt to regain his health.

ARMY REORGANIZING

TOKYO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Manshurian war dispatches today from Harbin to the Rengo News agency, said Kharlar City in Western Manchuria remained "no man's land," while the Chinese troops, recovering somewhat from the panic that caused their flight Sunday before the invading Soviet army, began reorganizing behind the shelter of the Khingan mountains. The whereabouts of the main Russian force, although not known definitely, was believed to be between Delianer and Kharlar on the Chinese Eastern railway.

Former Pro Agents Face Indictments

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Taking action a federal grand jury here failed to take a federal grand jury in Wichita Falls has indicted L. D. Head of Tom Green county, a former sheriff of Stephens county and a former prohibition agent, and J. T. Bullock, also of this county, on a prohibition law violation. It was disclosed today after A. W. Billingsley, deputy United States marshal, had served warrants on the two men. They posted bonds of $1,000 each for their appearance for trial in the San Angelo district federal court next April.

Portugal Damaged By Severe Floods

LISBON, Portugal, Nov. 26. (AP)—Widespread devastation has been caused in northern Portugal by floods. Misery and unemployment has been spread to an alarming extent.

One farmer lost his life when he jumped into a flooded river to save a child. His body was swept away. Rapid evacuation of the flooded districts saved thousands of lives.

Valleys In Wales Swept by Floods

CARDIFF, Wales, Nov. 26 (AP)—For the third time within a fortnight, the Rhondda valley and other low lying valleys in South Wales were flooded Monday owing to many hours of rain accompanied by a gale and swelling streams. Cottages of the poor which had been cleared partly of mud left by former inundations were swamped again, but in many abandoned dwellings the floodwater merely flowed over earlier deposits under which clothes and chattels of the stricken villagers lay buried. People in worst affected areas were dependant for food and shelter.

Missouri Lady Took Cardui and Soon Felt Much Stronger and Better.

Springfield, Mo.—"A few years ago, I was in an auto wreck and suffered a nervous shock that caused me to get very weak and run-down," writes Mrs. Henry Johnson, 1201 State Street, this city. "I was down in bed, getting weaker all the time. Nothing seemed to be doing me any good, or giving me any strength. I couldn't raise up in bed."

Mrs. Johnson says that on the advice of a friend, she decided to try Cardui.

"After I began taking Cardui, I began to get stronger, so of course I kept it up. In a short while I was out of bed, feeling much stronger and better and not so miserable and nervous. Since that time, I have always been glad to say a good word for Cardui."

This well-known medicine is an extract of valuable medicinal herbs, and contains nothing harmful or injurious. It has been in use so long, its merit has been proved by the experience of thousands of women.

Try Cardui in your case. B-772

Cotton Declines; Bears Control Market

Stocks Weakness Cause Of Selling In Cotton Market

Price Drops Nearly Dollar A Bale Due To Selling Movement; Demand Limited In Noon Rally

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 26. (AP)—Cotton closed nearly $1 a bale lower today due to selling attributed to the weakness in stocks. There was a good rally around noon but demand was limited and the loss of the day was reached in final trading when January traded off from 17.46 1/2 to 17.31 and closed at that figure for a net loss of 15 points. The general market closed steady at net declines of 17 to 19 points. Although Liverpool cables were relatively steady the local market opened easy at net losses of 3 to 6 points. Prices continued to decline during the first half of the morning until December sold at 17.29, January 17.39 and March 17.50, or 9 to 12 points under yesterday's close. Circulation of additional December notices seemed responsible for the decline.

Market Recovers. Later in the morning the market recovered when it was reported that the notices were promptly stopped. Shorts covered on the unfavorable weather and there was more or less active trading. Prices rallied to 17.31 for the first half of the morning, but then declined to 17.29, January 17.39 and March 17.50, or 9 to 12 points under yesterday's close. Circulation of additional December notices seemed responsible for the decline.

Cotton Lower Under Liquidation

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—Cotton was lower today under near-month liquidation and local and Wall Street selling. After selling off to 17.45 January traded to 17.31 or 4 points net higher and broke to 17.35 in the late trading and closed at that figure. The general market closed lower, with a net decline of 11 to 18 points. The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 3 points, with the active monthly trading in the first few minutes. December traded to 17.29 and March to 17.50, but the offerings were absorbed and the market worked back to an shade above yesterday's closing quotations during the middle of the day. December contracts rose up to 17.35 and May to 17.60, making a net gain of 10 points. The market from the low level of the morning, but the demand tapered off at the advance and the market weakened again during the afternoon.

Wheat Prices Are Lowered With Big Delivery Shadows

December Contracts Fall On Grain Market Tuesday As Trans-Atlantic Demand Cuts Volume

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Shadows of possible big deliveries of wheat on December contracts fell upon wheat futures today and lowered prices. Trans-Atlantic demand for North American wheat lacked volume. Southern crop damage reports from Argentina brought about brisk prices at times which failed to last. Chicago closing quotations were nervous at the same as yesterday, with 1-4c up. Oats were unchanged to 3-8c down, and provision showing 7 to 17 cents advance. Notwithstanding that Europe will require four-fifths of North America's present wheat surplus, sellers of Chicago wheat future deliveries appeared to be in a majority. Intervening rumors in which prices lifted the market here for quite a while to well above yesterday's closing figures. Argentine advances furnished the chief incentive dispatches being at hand indicating severe losses from black rust in Cordoba and Santa Fe provinces. There were also advices that from

Open Season Ends On Stock Market Bears On Tuesday

Operators Resume Activity Sending Prices Of Many Leading Shares Substantially Lower

NEW YORK, Nov. 26. (AP)—The stock exchange ended its open season on bears today, and these operators resumed activity sending prices substantially lower. Leading shares generally closed 2 to 12 points lower. Trading continued to be, however, only 2,534,110 shares changing hands, as compared to 3,100,000 yesterday. Action of the board of governors of the exchange in discontinuing the requirement of daily reports from members as to short positions, while encouraging the resumption of short selling, was interpreted as evincing evidence of the confidence of the officials of the exchange in the renewed stability of the market. Nearly a dozen corporations announced favorable dividend actions. Credit remained clean and abundant. Call loans again fell officially to 4-1/2 per cent, but were available at lower rates in the outside market. Time money was quoted at 4-1/2 to 4-3/4 per cent, the lowest in nearly two years. Commercial paper was easier at 3-1/4 to 3-1/2 per cent prime names.

Odd Fellows And Rebekahs Of City Meet In Program

E. M. Worthy, Deputy Grand Master, J. O. O. F., Presides During Informal Gathering Here

Turkey and "all the fixings" came as a fitting climax for an informal social gathering and program for Odd Fellows, Rebekahs and their families Tuesday evening in the Labor Temple. One hundred twenty-five attended. E. M. Worthy, district deputy grand master, presided for the program and the Rev. J. T. Clinton was the principal speaker. He explained that one of only three motives could prompt any action: altruism, egotism or the will of God and urged that egotism be reduced to a minimum. Of special interest was the presentation of an Odd Fellow's ring to Leon Clinton, little son of the Rev. Clinton, as a "future Odd Fellow." The ring was presented by A. Judd, a member of the lodge. A ten minute speech by Henry Clark, followed the Rev. Clinton's address. Other numbers on the program were: Miss Rose Ann Carpenter Douglas Hardy Jr., and Frank Goddard, readings; Miss Mary Alexander vocal solo, "The Brown Bird," accompanied at the piano by Miss Gwendolyn Thompson; Miss Mildred Clinton readings, "Between Two Loves" and "A Coquette Conquered"; A. C. Davis, humorous reading, "Down in Moonshine Holler"; Mattie Kate Bond, Kate Lee Allen and O'Dell Ford, readings.

Schools Turn To Moral Education Of Youth To Instill Better Character

Honesty and Fairness Stressed in Newest National Program

BY BERT MILLER,
NEA Service Writer.

Alarmed by the increase in juvenile delinquency and crime, school authorities throughout the United States are adopting comprehensive programs of moral education in an effort to promote stability and character in the lives of the nation's 25,000,000 boys and girls.

Instructors are placing greater emphasis on character training—on inculcating in the minds of young people such worthy ideals, habits and attitudes as will exert a wholesome moral influence upon society. Mere intellectual achievement is no longer the only goal.

Hundreds of communities are co-operating with special committees of the National Education Association to initiate programs that will subconsciously develop in boys and girls such essential elements of moral character as:

1. Self-restraint in the control of tongues and temper, appetites, passions, and greed for wealth and power.
2. Habitual practice of acts of honesty, good will, tolerance, justice, fair play, truthfulness and love and honor.
3. Ability to see vividly the possible consequences of both good and evil conduct.
4. Loyalty in thought, word and deed to the highest ethical standards of family, church, state and school.

Among the pioneers in the character education field is C. N. Jensen, superintendent of public instruction in Utah, who established the first state-wide program of moral training for boys and girls in 1925.

After four years of experimentation, Utah schools this fall adopted a revised and enlarged character training program. It is now being used as a model by scores of other schools in the United States.

The Utah plan is used in elementary, junior and senior high schools.

Training Begins in Kindergarten
Youngsters in kindergarten are taught proper habits of health, clothing, sleep, cleanliness and fairness in play and conversation.

Mathematics, languages, economics, grammar and composition are presented in such a manner as to inculcate in the minds of older students the vital elements of high character.

For instance an economics student learns appreciation of the fact that wealth is a necessary means to human well-being, but that it is only a means—not an end—and should never be confused with the more ultimate goals of human life.

Students are taught to love good literature and to admire the ideals, sentiments and heroic struggles it portrays because boys and girls naturally tend to imitate that which they admire, although they may not realize it.

"During recent years thoughtful people have seen the need for improved moral conduct and the need for some workable plan by which young people may become more fully imbued with the great value of an upright life," explains Superintendent Jensen.

"In 1924, I appointed a committee to formulate an outline which might serve as a guide in a state-wide program of character education for all the schools. The following year the plan was sent to all boards of education in the state with suggestions for its use. Its use was not mandatory. Each year an increasing number of schools have made this training a part of their daily program."

Encouraging Progress Reported
"Teachers, supervisors and superintendents alike report encouraging progress. They do not hesitate to say that there is a noticeable improvement in the conduct attitudes and ideals of the children. It is our conviction that the state character education program is a means for positive and successful training in character."

Frank discussion of life's problems—honesty, fair play, good manners, moral relationship, "petting," dancing, smoking—by boys and girls leaders in classrooms and special conferences is another phase of character building program adopted in some schools.

C. N. Jensen, Utah superintendent of public instruction, who has pioneered plans to make moral education, as well as intellectual training, the goal of the nation's schools. He foresees it as the best weapon against juvenile delinquency.

Various schools in Iowa send student delegates to a state conference each year to discuss frankly the perplexing problems affecting their lives.

Addresses by prominent lawyers, judges, doctors, religious and civic workers, professors and others interested in youth's problems are included in some moral education programs.

Cleveland's public schools are experimenting with a "conference plan" of teaching. Under this system individual desks are discarded and the pupils sit at a long table and discuss their problems in much the same manner as directors of a business firm.

Instead of being taught to fear the disciplinary measures of stern teachers, children today are treated as individuals of intelligence. Every effort is being made to put them through the same experience they will encounter in life when formal school training is ended and their character is being moulded, while they are at a plastic age.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 26. (AP)—The cabinet of Premier Jasper resigned this evening. It was unable to agree on the linguistic problem of Ghent university over which the liberals and Roman Catholic elements had differed.

How Weak Nervous Women Grow Stronger

Feel Better, Look Younger and Have Steadier Nerves

If you only knew—you rundown, anemic women—who are dragging yourself around on your "nerves"—what a wonderful increase in strength and health Tanlac will give you, you wouldn't hesitate a moment about going to your druggist and getting a big bottle of this splendid medicine.

Mrs. A. M. Owens, of 1716 Taylor St., Rt. 5, Box 11, Little Rock, Ark., says: "I was so weak I couldn't walk across the floor. I had spent a fortune trying to get well and would be in my grave if it weren't for Tanlac. Now I eat and sleep, I am and have gained 22 lbs."

Tanlac is as free from harmful drugs as the water you drink—only Nature's own medicinal tonic herbs. Druggists know this and for the past 10 years have recommended it to men and women who need a quick "pick up" that will put them on their feet and give them a new interest in life.

So confident are the makers of Tanlac that if you are not helped by it, you get your money back on request.

Thanksgiving Is Observed Here By Lions, Kiwanians

Sam J. McFarland, Vaughn Wilson Main Speakers On Joint Session Of Clubs At Hotel Lubbock

With the program in charge of the Lions, Lubbock Kiwanians and Lions met yesterday noon in joint Thanksgiving session at Hotel Lubbock. Sam J. McFarland and Vaughn Wilson were the feature speakers.

The first Thanksgiving observance was described vividly by McFarland, who expressed his individual thankfulness for our pioneer forefathers "We of today," he said, "are thankful for these staunch and faithful forebears, who braved blizzards and savages that we might enjoy the civilization we have today. They sowed the seed and we reap the harvest."

Wilson, in his message, declared that the same object of Americans today is to establish a home. He referred to the reason the Pilgrims left England, because of political, religious and economic oppression. "We have that same economic oppression today, to some extent," he said, "but it has been made easier for us, thanks to the monthly payment plan."

Music during the luncheon was furnished by Green Brothers string quintet.

Several announcements were made regarding the Community Chest campaign and the Lubbock-Cleburne football game and also the Thanksgiving Lubbock-Plainview game.

SEARCH FOR BODIES

Two Thought Drowned On Fishing Trip

GALVESTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Parties continued to drag Offutt's bayou today for the bodies of C. W. Oldham and Charles Hanky, thought to have drowned while fishing or hunting Sunday. A hat identified as that worn by Oldham was found and the overturned boat was located. Hundreds of people took part in search yesterday. Both men were employed by the Morris and Castle shows which played the cotton carnival here last week.

'TAME' ELEPHANT WILD

Big Game Hunter Injured By Baby Elephant

CHICAGO, Nov. 26. (AP)—Hunting wild animals in the denseness of Central Africa brought nothing more serious than narrow escapes to George Getz, Jr., son of the coal company millionaire, but an encounter last night with a tame baby elephant placed him in a hospital.

Mr. Getz was examining the young pachyderm and contemplating purchasing it for his father's zoo. The animal lunged suddenly and pinned the big game hunter against a wall breaking his left arm in two places. "I don't know what I did to make the little fellow angry," he said.
