(Q) Why do some people pay personal property tax and some don't?

(A) State law allows each taxing entity to put a tax on personal property if they want to, explains Marivel Castillo, chief deputy of the Mitchell County Appraisal District, but not all taxing entities take advantage of this option.

In Mitchell County, personal property taxed includes cars out of Loraine, travel trailers, airplanes and business personal property, she said.

Lists of the owners of travel trailers are received from Austin and lists of the owners of airplanes are received from the government, according to Mrs. Castillo.

So, if you are having to pay a tax on your travel trailer and your neighbor is not, it's because your neighbor wasn't on the list from Austin.

Tax rate may stay the same

Good news for taxpayers in the Colorado Independent School District came after a budget workshop meeting Monday night, June 27, as CISD Superintendent

Charlie Useton announced, "Our intentions are to try to hold the tax rate at 75 cents," the same tax rate used last year.

Useton said the reason they would probably be able to keep the tax rate at its present level is because more oil wells have been drilled within the district, adding to the overall valuation. Although the CISD stands to lose about $20,000 because the state legislature changed the finance program for the next two years, Useton hopes the increased valuation will "take up the slack."

Useton also noted that some of the neighboring school districts were harder hit than in Colorado City; according to reports, Coahoma may lose as much as $121,000 and Robert Lee may lose as much as $96,000.

the meeting held last Monday night.

Miss Beasley is a freshman at Westbrook High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Beasley of Westbrook.

First runner-up was Holly Hicklin of Colorado City and second runner-up was Shelly Bird, also of Colorado City.

"I was very happy, and just glad that I got it," said Miss Beasley on her feelings after she learned that she had won.

For winning, the new

AJRA Queen received a diamond watch and a dozen red roses.

First runner-up Hicklin received a diamond necklace. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hicklin and a freshman at Colorado High School.

Some rain, but the county needs more

A thunderstorm moved through Mitchell County late Wednesday, promising some much-needed rain, but delivering only small amounts along with some hail.

Westbrook reported the most rain with .5 of an inch and some marble-sized hail. The Conway Community south of Westbrook received .4 of an inch.

In Loraine, pea-to marble-sized hail covered the ground while .15 of an inch of rain fell.

Colorado City's rainfall varied from just a trace in some areas to

Rodeo clowns face danger in arena

It takes a special person to get in front of and try to distract a mad, bucking animal that weighs a ton.

Not very many people would take a liking to that chore, but for Andy Broyles and Allen Nelson it happens every weekend for them.

Broyles and Nelson's field of work is called bull fighting or more popularly known as "rodeo clowns." They work all rodeos for Sammy Smith Rodeos Assoc., which is presently putting on the Mitchell County AJRA Rodeo.

Both of these young men agree that they are in this business because they like it and both are entering their second year as rodeo clowns.

Broyles is a 24-year-old Texan from Cherokee, while Nelson is 27-years-old and is from San Saba. Nelson says he became a rodeo clown two years ago after being a bull rider. "I spent so much time on the ground, I figured I might as well stay on it and become a bull fighter," he laughed. Broyles used to ride bulls and a little bare back.

The duo have been on the road constantly since April 9, and it will be that way until August until business slows down. During the winter months when there are not so many rodeos to work, they go to open match bull fights. This is where the bull fighter and the bull are in the arena. The fighter is judged on his style and ability to outmaneuver the bull.

A short while ago Broyles won an open bull fight match in Bastrop, which was a benefit for Nuclear Dump Site We don't need it...

Within the last two weeks, Mitchell County residents have become forcefully aware that the Texas Low-Level Radioactive Waste Disposal Authority is considering our area for a potential site for a waste dump for radioactive materials.

Why here? One of the criteria for a dump site is stable ground, preferably clay, and the Authority feels that such an area exists at Iatan Flats.

However, the researchers of the Authority, who have never personally checked out the area, have overlooked the fact that the clay area is riddled with sand and gravel deposits which would allow radioactive material through if the

the American Cancer Society. During their short stints as rodeo clowns, the two have been to some bull fighting clinics. "Most of these clinics are held in conjunction with bull riding clinics," explained Nelson. Nelson has attended two clinics so far. One was put on by Stan Ham in Glen Rose, and the other was put on by Wick Pete in Garden City, Kansas. Broyles attended a bull fighting school in Rosehill, Kansas. The instructors there were David Burnam and Rick Chapman. "At the clinic they teach us the techniques of bull fighting. We fight bulls, they video tape it, then we watch it and the instructors tell you what you are doing wrong," explained Broyles. The clinics are limited to 10 cowboys at a time.

Clad in their funny baggy pants and different color hair, both men agree that the main purpose of the rodeo clown is to protect the cowboys participating in the rodeo. In a way there are three jobs rolled into one, a bull fighter to turn bulls back, a clown and a barrel man that helps to entertain the crowd.

"We can do barrels, but we did not bring them with us, explained Nelson. "Mainly I would say that we are bull fighters. We don't do that much clowning," explained Nelson.

Both agree that "clowning" is a crowd pleaser, but according to them there is not that much demand for "clowning" at the AJRA rodeos.

What does it take to be a rodeo clown or bull fighter? "To be a good clown you have to have a survivor-type attitude," said Nelson. "You have to get in there and stay with it. I don't have as much skill as Andy, but I work on being a survivor."

Don't you feel you are taking a big risk in this business? "You get hurt sometimes, but sometimes it looks worse than it really is. The thing I hate worse is getting my foot stepped on. Last night a bull stepped on the same foot I hurt a couple of weeks ago. The bad thing about getting your foot stepped on is that it takes away your mobility," explained Nelson. Broyles, who has had his share of bumps and bruises says it takes quite a bit of physical ability to be a bull fighter ("and a hard head"). Three weeks ago in Andrews, Broyles was kicked right above the eye by a bull. The gash required six stitches. "I was ready for the next bull though," he added.

Perhaps the most need for the clowns comes when a rider's hand gets caught in the rope. It takes a lot of communication between the two so that the rider will get loose safely.

"Usually when a rider gets hung up, we wait three seconds before we take action," said Broyles. Nelson added that when this occurs, one clown will try to get the bull's head and line it up straight, that way it cuts down on the animal's bucking. The other clown will come around and try to get the rider loose.

Broyles says he plans to stay in the bull fighting business as long as he can do it. Nelson says at first he thought he would not last so long, but now he is not so sure. "It used to be people didn't want to do this type of thing. Now it is getting more and more popular," he explained.

Bull fighters or rodeo clowns are a special breed of people, so the next time you go to a rodeo and see the clowns, you will know that they are there for more than just to entertain the crowd. They are there to help save others lives.

containers it is stored in should develop a leak. They have also overlooked the fact that oil field activity is still strong in the area, which would add to underground instability.

Added to this is the fact that the material will be trucked, sometimes in canvas-covered trucks, through the county in 55-gallon drums (approved by the government, of course), steel containers and some in plastic barrels. This last piece of information comes from Ruben Alvarado, chief engineer of the Authority.

What about the economics of the situation? Alvarado estimates that only about 20 people will be employed at the dump site and almost all of them will need to be specially trained personnel of a type that likely will not be found in Mitchell County.

Is this enough to offset the strong possibility that new people, businesses and industry will be hesitant to locate so near an area where radioactive material is buried?

All of which bring up another "advantage" Mitchell County has for locating a dump site here: low population density.

The Authority prefers a site with a small population, not because the material is so dangerous, but because in high population areas "there is pressure to use the land for something else" as the population expands, said Alvarado.

In other words, "the powers that be" think Colorado City, Mitchell County is not ever going to expand, to grow.

It is up to the citizens of Mitchell County to try and convince the Authority to take our area out of consideration for a possible dump site. Let them know how you feel, write your state legislators, the Authority and anyone else you know who may have some influence.

Get involved! The life of your community depends on it.

Braswell, Williams united Saturday

Mrs. Matt Williams

Ginger Carole Braswell and Matt Brian Williams were united in marriage at 2 p.m. on Saturday, July 2, at First Baptist Church in Robert Lee. Officiating the ceremony was Javan Vosburg, cousin of the bride of San Angelo. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Braswell of College Station. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Childress of Robert Lee and Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Braswell of Bronte. The groom's parents are Mr. Charles L. Williams of Tokio and Mrs. Mary Dale Williams of Plains. The double ring ceremony was performed before an arch covered in English ivy and flanked by white candelabra holding long white tapers. The candelabra were entwined with peach colored roses, white snap dragons, spider mums, English ivy and other greenery. Family pews were marked with peach and dark green ribbons intertwined with greenery. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line silhouette gown of ivory bridal organza designed with a sweetheart neckline and trimmed with a combination of schiffli lace, re-embroidered alençon over English netting and seed pearls on the bodice, cuff, and hemline. The cathedral train fell from a matching row of covered buttons and the fingertip length veil of imported ivory illusion was secured by a band of silk flowers and seed pearls. She carried a silk bouquet of ivory tea roses, baby's breath, and English ivy which was designed by Mrs. Helen Worsham of Plains. The maid of honor, Carol Carmichael of Sweetwater, wore a two-piece striped chiffon dress in teal green with a matching jacket and a satin teal ribbon at the waist. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Marta Bott of Houston and Mrs. Sharon McClain, also of Houston. They wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor. The bride's mother wore a royal blue chiffon dress with a sunburst pleated skirt, accented by a chiffon sash tied into a bow at the side of the dress while an ivory silk rose wrist corsage complemented her outfit.

and Steven Moats of Dallas. Ring bearer was Gentry Braswell, brother of the bride of College Station. Ushers were Van Braswell of Lubbock and Sterling Braswell of College Station, brothers of the bride. Mr. Daryl Copeland of Robert Lee, cousin of the bride, provided music as guests were seated. Mrs. Bonita Copeland of Robert Lee, aunt of the bride, accompanied Mrs. Betty Munion of College Station as she sang "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Copeland also played the wedding march and recessional. Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was decorated with a silver punch bowl, silver and crystal appointments and peach colored napkins.

The three tiered ivory cake was iced with peach colored roses and deep green leaves. Nuts and mints were also served. The groom's table displayed a silver coffee service, German chocolate cake, a summer fruit bowl and finger sandwiches. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Shayne Coalson of Bronte; Lisa Boswell of Houston; Tammy Quilley of Richardson, Shelley Filipp of Lubbock, sister of the groom; Myna Kay Copeland of Robert Lee, Nita Gaye Williams of Robert Lee, John Molpus of Clarksdale, Miss., all cousins of the bride; Joy Taylor of Houston; Gay Houston of Colorado City; Juanette Gentry of Lovington, NM and Donna Grimes of College Station. A rehearsal dinner was given by Mrs. Mary

Dale Williams on Friday July 1, at Zentner's Daughter in San Angelo. A bridesmaid's luncheon was given by Mrs. Nita Gaye Williams, cousin of the bride on Saturday morning July 2, at her home in Robert Lee. The bride is a 1977 graduate of Sweetwater High School, a 1981 graduate of the University of Texas at Austin and is employed as an accountant at M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston. The groom graduated from Plains High School in 1977 and Texas Tech University in 1981. He is a 1983 graduate of Texas A&M with a Master of Science in Geology and is employed by Tenneco Oil Co., as an exploration geologist. After a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will live in Bakersfield, CA.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective August 1, 1983, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission (PUC) at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

As a result of the settlement of a lawsuit brought by the U.S. Department of Justice against AT&T, Southwestern Bell, on January 1, 1984, (or as otherwise ordered by the United States District Court) will no longer be a part of the Bell System, but will be owned by public shareholders. Under the terms of the settlement, Southwestern Bell has identified 15 areas in the state within which it may provide service, and the federal court with jurisdiction of the settlement has tentatively approved these areas, called LATAs (Local Access and Transport Area). On or about January 1, 1984, Southwestern Bell can not provide service between these LATAs, and in addition, must transfer to AT&T customer premises equipment that it leases to customers.

Southwestern Bell has filed a proposed revised rate schedule with the PUC reflecting these changes. These rates would become effective August 1, 1983, if they are not suspended by the PUC; however, it is expected that they will be suspended and that the rates ultimately set by the PUC will become effective on or about January 1, 1984. If the rates were to become effective as filed, they would produce a 48.2% increase in Southwestern Bell's unadjusted test year revenues (or a 76.36% increase in Southwestern Bell's test year revenues adjusted to reflect the effect of Southwestern Bell's divestiture from AT&T). Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in rates for intraLATA interexchange toll services, any change in those rates could also affect customers of other telephone companies. Southwestern Bell is proposing changes in the structure of the present private line and foreign exchange services. Changes in these rates may affect customers of other telephone companies. Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of other telephone companies.

Area businesses can receive financial aid

Small business in a 19-county area of West Texas, including Mitchell County, will be eligible to receive financial help through the newly created Big Country Development Corporation, U.S. Senator John Tower (R-Texas) announced.

The corporation has been certified by the Small Business Administration and will be authorized to lend up to $500,000 per qualifying business for fixed assets. To qualify, the borrower must provide 10 percent of the investment package and obtain financing for another 50 percent from a commercial lending institution. The remaining 40 percent would come from the Development Corporation, Tower explained. The Certified Development Corporation portion of the loan can be for up to 25 years, although the commercial loan must be for at least half the period of that loan.

Other counties covered by the Big Country Development Corporation include Brown, Callahan, Coleman, Comanche, Eastland, Fisher, Haskell, Jones, Kent, Knox, Nolan, Runnels, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stone, Taylor and Throckmorton.

"The availability of long-term financing from the Development Corporation should make it easier for businesses to get the required loan from a commercial institution," Tower explained.

EXERCISE 1

Be it so if you will, but alas! It was a dream of evil omen for young Goodman Brown. A stern, a sad, a dourly meditative, a distrustful, if not a desperate man did he become from the night of the fearful dream. On the Sabbath day, when the congregation was singing a holy psalm, he could not listen because an anthem of sin rushed loudly upon his ear and drowned all the blessed strain. When the minister spoke from the pulpit with power and fervid eloquence, and, with his hand on the open Bible of the sacred truths of our religion, and of saint-like lives and triumphant deaths, and of future bliss or misery unutterable, then did Goodman Brown turn pale, dreading lest the roof should thunder down upon the gray blasphemer and his hearers.
Nathaniel Hawthorne, "Young Goodman Brown"

Father: When we took this apartment, they were quick enough to have me sign the lease; they were quick enough to take my check for two months rent in advance.
Mother: And one month's deposit.
Father: ...and one month's deposit. They were quick enough to check my references, they were quick enough about all that. But now! But now, try to get the ice box repaired, try to get the leak in the john fixed! Just try it...they aren't so quick about that.

admission charge, but donation cans will be placed around the stadium so that people can donate money to help pay for this year's show, and hopefully have some to start next year's show.

Spokesman from the fire department also stated that golf carts will be provided for senior citizens to help them get from their parking places to the stadium.

A full slate of activities is planned for the annual Fourth of July Fly-In at Colorado City's Northwest Airport five miles northwest of the city.

Breakfast will be served in the main hangar from 7 a.m. until 10 a.m. The meal is free to fly-ins and $3 for drive-ins. The meal will consist of bacon, eggs, toast and coffee.

Shortly after 7 a.m., a Lockheed C130 Hercules will arrive from Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene. The aircraft will be open for inspection by the public with guided tours. On departure, the aircraft will demonstrate short field landing and take-off, as well as the ability to taxi backwards.

Other events planned are parachute jumps from high altitudes with trailing smoke and an hour long aerobics show, scheduled from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., with at least four aircraft presenting a thrilling display of aerobics and precision flying. Loyd Ledbetter will be the announcer.

Awards will be presented at 10 a.m. for the oldest airplane, the oldest pilot, the youngest pilot, the most unusual airplane and the pilot coming the longest distance.

Airplane rides will also be offered to the general public beginning at 8 a.m. For $6, passengers will be flown over Colorado City and both lakes.

T-shirt fans will again have the opportunity to buy souvenir T-shirts imprinted with "Colorado City July 4th Fly-In."

The Fly-In is sponsored by the Mitchell County Fly-In Association and due to donations received by the Association, there will be no admission charge and the small profits are used to promote general aviation and the Colorado City Airport.

Another factor which may help the school district keep the 1983-84 budget in line with last year's $5½ million budget is the fact that the $40-50,000 usually budgeted for roofing will not be needed this year since almost all of the buildings were re-roofed after the hailstorm that hit Mitchell County June 16, 1982.

One of the biggest items on the proposed budget was teachers' salaries and employee health insurance premiums.

Because of the salary increase voted by the board earlier this year, $250 for teachers with bachelor's degrees and $550 for teachers with master's degrees, $36,450 was added to the budget for salaries.

Though the state increase in teacher salaries amounted to an average increase of less than three percent, state and local proposed increases combined give raises ranging from 7.87 percent for a teacher with a master's degree and four years of experience to 3.16 percent for a teacher with a bachelor's degree and 14 year's experience.

Also, Uselton said that the district's paying more of the health insurance premium than had been done in the past, especially in light of the fact that the premiums had increased so much, would be of more benefit to employees since there would be no income tax, etc. taken out.

Last year, the school district paid out $99,660 in employee premiums, as $55 per employee per month was paid and 151 of the 185 eligible employees were signed up for the program.

The insurance premium for an employee is currently $63.57 and is estimated to increase to $78 this year. The proposed budget includes plans to pay $70 of this figure for an increase of $27,180 which will total $126,840 for health insurance premiums.

Another large part of the district's budget is in capital outlay items and the proposed budget includes: $20,000 for replacement of worn out carpet at the middle school and high school as well as carpet for the new library at Hutchinson Elementary; $25,000 for dirt work at the Hutchinson playground and some fencing there; $25,000 for air conditioning the middle school kitchen; $10,000 for painting the administration building which has not been painted for five years and insurance has been collected to help pay for that; $100,000 to complete the work at the kitchen and cafeteria at Hutchinson; $25,000 for a press box at Wolf Stadium.

Funds to build a press box at the football field have been budgeted for several years and has always been cut, Uselton noted.

He also said that parking lots and parking areas at middle school and the north side of the stadium were discussed and that work continued on the three-year project of replacing the bleachers on the east (visitors) side of the stadium.

Uselton noted that instructional items were in a separate part of the budget and would be discussed at another workshop session.

UGSA regular season play came to a halt Tuesday with the Division I Panthers and Division II Cougars getting season ending wins.

The Panthers got the best of the Champions by a 17-11 count behind the pitching of Melanie Gilstrap. Christi Davila, Heather Wulfjen and Nat Gabba all aided the Panther win with good hits.

Cynthia Martinez took the loss for the Champions. Rosemary Davila came on in relief. Becky Mendoza hit a double for the Panthers.

cord, while the Champions close out the year with a 5-6-1 record.

In the Division II contest, the Cougars "bit" the Chargers by a 22-10 score.

Margie Beltran took the win for the Cougars, she had relief help from Priscilla Mays and Kim Wulfjen. Sylvia Alvarez took the loss for the Chargers.

The win enables the Cougars to have a .500 season with a 6-6 mark. The Chargers end the

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

As Chairman of the Mitchell County C.A.R.E. Task Force I feel that it is imperative that we state the reasons for which we oppose the placement of a Low-Level Radioactive Waste Site in our County.

The locations (not previously excluded) in Mitchell and Howard Counties although exhibiting game preferred soils (mostly of the Stamford-Vernon soil associations) also present some very unfavorable factors that need to be considered.

Isolation and Containment of the solidified waste could not be assured due to the following conditions:

(A) Fluid-Injection techniques used in the oil fields has created severe seepage problems in this area. The unchartable underground water movement from these seeps raises the probability of accidental contamination to unacceptable levels.

(B) Lateral fractures (at multiple levels) of geological formations are likely to exist (and go undetected) due to the intensive oil exploration and recovery techniques used. These could allow seepage water to reach the supposedly isolated radioactive materials.

(C) The area has recently experienced severe Earth tremors.

Maintenance and Operation of trenches and trench covers (or capping materials) would be severely impaired due to the following factors:

(D) Much of the rains that falls in this area falls as short but heavy downpours, this coupled with the high incidence of damaging winds and tornadoes in this area intensifies the problems of trench-cap erosion, open trench cave-ins, and accidental dispersal of unburied waste or contaminated equipment (by tornadoes or high winds).

(E) The Shrink-Swell potential of the Stamford-Vernon soil associations would make the maintenance of roads and trenches in an around the site a permanent and costly problem due to severe cracking of the surfaces. Highway records clearly show the high cost of road maintenance in this area.

The science of Radioactive Waste Disposal is a very young discipline and as yet no one has attempted or suggested burial of waste in an oil rich region, or in a region with such severe extremes in weather conditions as is the case with both Mitchell and Howard Counties. Other socio-economic reasons exist for our opposition, these are more general and subjective in nature therefore, they carry less weight than the previously mentioned reasons. Nonetheless they should not be lightly taken. The impact on property values in the County due to the Psychologically adverse effect that the word Radiation has on the majority of people could be great and long lasting.

It is our hope that the Low-Level Authority will carefully weigh the unfavorable conditions that our area presents for such a site and that such conditions will warrant the complete exclusion of Mitchell and Howard Counties from further consideration.

Sincerely,
Rita N. Latimer
Chairman
Mitchell County
C.A.R.E. Task Force

Correction

In the Mitchell County Day Care Center article in the previous issue of the RECORD, it was stated that the cost for middle or upper class families who have children in the center was $7.47 per day or $28.10 per week. It should have stated that the cost was $7.47 per day or $37.35 per week. The RECORD regrets the error.

Plants and flowers can be nutritional

Did you know that you can eat many of your favorite flowers?

Pink carnations, chrysanthemums, dandelions, geraniums, pansies and roses are just a few that will tantalize your palate, says Dr. Bill Welch, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. They can be used in butters, soups, sauces and salads as well as in beverages, sandwiches, casseroles and desserts. Either the buds, petals or leaves of these flowers may be eaten.

Beights graduates with honors

Tracy Beights, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Beights of Loraine, has graduated with high honors from the medical branch of South Plains College in Lubbock. A surgical technician, she was named to the President's honor roll because she maintained a 4.0 grade point average.

She is currently serving her internship at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

On Saturday, June 25, Mr. and Mrs. Beights hosted a hamburger supper for their daughter and other relatives, Roy Beights of Los Angeles, David Beights of Delaine, Florida and Mrs. Berta Beights of White Hall, Montana.

Also attending were Ralston and Pearl Bruce, Ronald and Nelda Bruce and sons, Greg and Leslie, and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lefevre, all of Loraine.

Mr. and Mrs. Beights' grandsons, Justin and Zachery Rogers of Plano, are visiting with them this week.

Welch says. Wash them thoroughly, bathe in salt water and then dip in ice water to perk them up. Petals may be refrigerated for a short time in plastic bags.

The delicious possibilities are endless, says the horticulturist. Try lining the bottom of a cake pan with marigolds. Or blend softened cream cheese with chopped petals for a spread on crackers and nut breads. You can even freeze whole small flowers in ice rings or cubes for party beverages.

Not all flowers are edible, but be adventurous and try the ones that are, suggests Welch. Color your landscape and your cooking with beautiful and tasty flowers.

Cooks Corner

Variety is part of Jones cooking

Virginia Jones

As the wife of the vicar of two Episcopal churches, as well as mother of two, Virginia Jones gets plenty of opportunities to cook a variety of dishes.

She explains, "Being members of two churches, we usually have at least one dinner or lunch in each church each month. I used to cook for the women over here once a month. I don't know if I'm going to do that next year and we're not meeting this summer, but I used to prepare for about 12 people once a month."

Mrs. Jones continued, "I enjoy doing that because I have a lot of recipes—casseroles and things—that maybe my children wouldn't eat very readily and I fix things like that, things I wouldn't ordinarily fix at home. I enjoy it."

Learning how to cook was not exactly an easy process for her. She remembers, "My mother was a homemaking teacher but she didn't have any patience with me—probably because I was a bratty kid. I would cook some but Mother hovered so that it didn't make it much fun."

"When I got married, Monte knew how to cook and his family told him, 'Leave her alone!' He did, but pretty soon I got frustrated and asked for help."

Mrs. Jones adds, "Really, I just learned to cook by getting good recipes. It's all in the directions."

Her favorite kind of cooking is baking, especially breads and her Whole Wheat Bread recipe is very much in demand, which is why she is including it in the group of recipes she is sharing with RECORD readers.

Mrs. Jones also notes, "All the men in Monte's family cook and John (the Jones' 14-year-old son) is coming along cooking. However, the men in the family are not big on making bread; in fact, I don't know any of them that have made bread, but John is a great bread maker. He's made French bread and he made some napkin ring rolls for a party."

She adds with a laugh, "So he's getting the best of both sides."

The Jones' other child is Julie, age 10.

WHOLE WHEAT BREAD

1 1/4 c. lukewarm water

1 T or 1 cake yeast

6 T honey

3 T oil

1/4 t. salt

4 c. whole wheat flour

Dissolve yeast in water. Add honey, oil and salt. Gradually stir in flour. Turn out on a floured surface. Knead until smooth (about 5 or 10 minutes). Let rise in a greased bowl until double. (Always cover with a cloth as it rises). Punch down and shape into 2 small loaves. Put into greased small loaf pans; let rise again. Bake for 35 minutes at 350 degrees.
