

Students Sing In Victory Festival Sunday

Believing that music can have its place in war, and that it can have much to do with the feelings of the people of this area right now, children from every school in the county will appear in the Victory Music Festival in Wellington Sunday afternoon, May 3. Adults will have a part in the festival, too, for immediately after the appearance of the boys and girls, the entire audience will engage in community singing, using the songs that people of Collingsworth have loved to sing through the years.

Several last-minute changes have been made in the program, Mrs. Carl Chaudoin, director, has stated.

The festival will be held only Sunday afternoon, instead of throughout the day, as was originally planned, and a part of the religious program planned will be combined with the afternoon singing.

The singing will begin at 2:00 p. m., War Time. It will be held at the Wellington High School auditorium.

Since schools will be unable to use buses to transport the children to the program, or to rehearsal, Mrs. Chaudoin has requested that patrons of the various schools use their cars to bring children to the rehearsal on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock War Time, at the high school auditorium, as well as to the program Sunday.

Although the number of children to take part is not known, there will be between 500 and 750, Mrs. Chaudoin estimated.

Songs of every type will be heard—from folk songs and negro hymns to classical selections and songs that have been loved for generations.

"We invite every person from the county to attend this Victory Music Festival," Mrs. Chaudoin said. "It will mean much to all of us to hear these school children, and we will feel better, and be better able to go about our own work if we too take part in the singing."

The program for the festival includes the following numbers:

Chas. Graves For Commissioner

Charles L. Graves of the China Grove community has authorized The Wellington Leader to make the following political announcement:

I am asking you, the voters of Precinct No. 2, to think of me, and consider that I am in the race for road commissioner. Most of you who live in Precinct No. 2 know me.

The conditions of the rubber shortage, tire rations, and the crisis that we are facing today may make it impossible for me to meet all of you in person before the election. However, I would like to meet you face to face.

I have lived 36 years of my life in Collingsworth County, including the years that I attended school, and the one and one-half years that I served my country in the great World War No. 1.

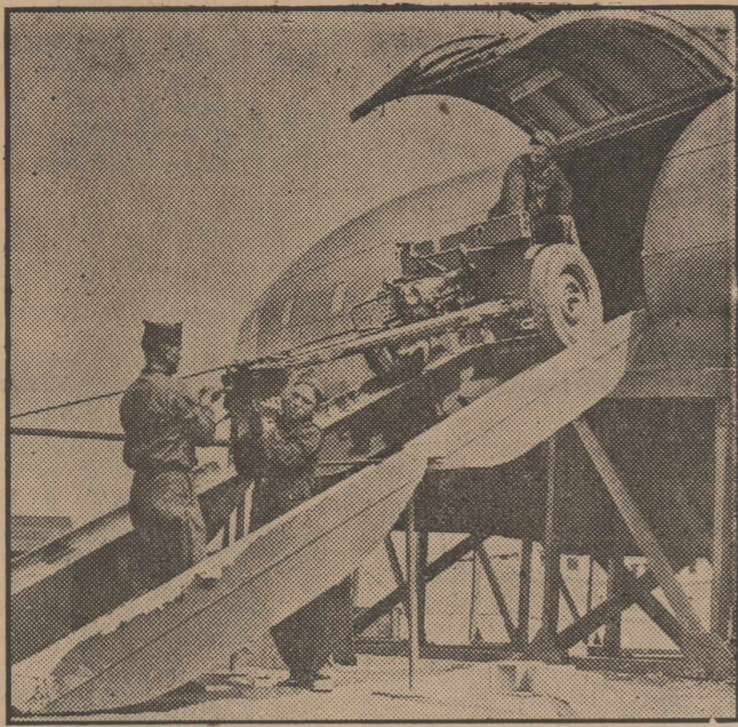

My interest is in this county. My motto is "Good Roads," and more roads, good schools and churches.

If I am elected your county com-

Put Your Old Papers In The New Paper Bin

A bin in which old papers donated to the Scouts may be placed has been constructed on the vacant lot just back of the M System Store, and all persons wishing to donate papers are being asked to place them there.

The papers were so carelessly placed in the wire pen located on the Court House lawn, that many of them blew over the lawn, and onto the sidewalks in front of local business houses, it was pointed out by County Judge C. C. Bishop.

TRAIN AIR-BORNE INFANTRY

An anti-tank gun crew, preparing for service as part of America's new air-borne infantry, pulls a gun out of the plane which provides training for them. Especially built fuselages, called "mockups," give trainees every experience except the free ride.

The grand jury was called into session Monday morning also, and at the time The Leader went to press Wednesday afternoon, their investigations were still in progress.

Of the cases tried, three were divorce cases, and one was a civil suit for the collection of a note.

The tax docket was due to open Wednesday afternoon, Mr. McBroome said.

Coker and Dr. C. B. Jones took the negative side.

954 In Fourth Registration For County

Nine hundred and fifty-four men between the ages of 45 and 64, inclusive, were registered in the fourth selective service registration in this county Monday, April 27, Ross Wilkerson, clerk of the draft board, announced Tuesday.

While this is approximately 300 less than were registered in the first group, from 21 to 35 years of age, it is larger than either of the other two registrations for this county.

Serial numbers will be assigned these men, but since this group will not be called for armed service, no order numbers will be assigned. Names and numbers of the men were not available this week.

Wellington registered by far the largest number, a total of 600. Registrations for the other points includes:

- Dozier—49.
- Rolla—32.
- Samnorwood—44.
- Lutie—57.
- Dodson—74.
- Quail—98.

One registrar, Howard Riggs, had the unusual experience of registering a man whom he registered during World War I, 24 years ago.

The man is Walter Allen Thompson, who lives on Haskell Street. The first registration was on September 12, 1918. At that time Mr. Riggs, who is now county tax assessor and collector, was working in the First National Bank.

Mr. Thompson still has his first registration certificate, and a comparison of the two shows that during the years, Mr. Riggs' handwriting has undergone considerable change.

"In behalf of the local board, we want to thank the men and women who helped to register this group. Your service without pay is deeply appreciated," Mr. Wilkerson said.

Those helping with the registration were T. C. Crabtree, Z. J. (Continued on Page Ten)

Navy Fund Needs $20 For Quota

Ernest Lewis, co-chairman of the Navy Relief Drive, announced Wednesday that the campaign in Collingsworth County lacked approximately $20 being over the top.

The March of Dimes Campaign conducted by Paul Cornwell of the Ritz Theatres added $55 to the total and a personal donation of $25 from M. P. Watkins put the drive in striking distance of the quota.

Those who have contributed since last week are: Lee Gragg, Marvin Watkins, Farmers Co-op Gin, Kiwanis Club, R. R. Martin, Bill McCaskill, Mrs. G. S. Holt, John Barjenbruch, J. B. Stevenson, Lake Moody, F. H. Kesler, Pink Sullivan, Mrs. R. L. Gillette, Lewis Lumber Co., G. W. McClure, Mrs. Hattie Clifton, G. W. Baxter, and Dr. Charles B. Jones.

All County Population To Register For Ration Books

NEW ROTARY OFFICERS

S. R. Pinkston, left, was named president, and Dr. Chas. B. Jones vice president of the Wellington Rotary Club for 1942-43 in a meeting of directors Tuesday. They will take office early in July.

Final instructions to residents of Collingsworth County regarding registration for sugar rationing were made Tuesday, following a meeting of the Rationing Board on the preceding night.

This will be one of the largest tasks of the type ever attempted in the county, since every one of the more than 10,000 men, women and children must be listed.

Registration for Sugar of Individual Consumers will be held at all Elementary and High Schools of the county May 4, 5, 6 and 7. Registration and application for War Ration Book One for all members of the family unit, including those temporarily absent (under 18 years of age or confined to an institution), shall be made by one adult member of the family unit. A consumer not a member of a family unit shall register and make application for himself; provided that the registration and application for a minor not a member of a family unit shall be made by his parent or guardian, or by a responsible adult, unless such minor is self-supporting.

War Ration Book One is to be used to purchase sugar, or any other commodity that might be rationed. All persons should register during the registration days if possible. No person will be allowed to register after the registration days for a period of two weeks. After this time any person may register at the Local Rationing Office and secure his War Ration Book One. Each person will be allowed to possess two pounds of sugar at the time he registers and may keep all stamps in War Ration Book One. For each two pounds of sugar in excess of this amount, one stamp will be removed from the Book. A consumer who arranges to eat 12 or more meals per week in an establishment must surrender his War Ration Book One to the owner or manager of the establishment.

The person registering a family unit will need the following information:

Wheat Farmers Decide 1942 Quotas Saturday

All wheat producers of the county were reminded by J. C. Emmert, chairman of the county ACA committee, that Saturday, May 2, has been set as the time when wheat producers will cast their ballots to determine whether marketing quotas on wheat will continue for the 1942 crop.

"It is highly important that each eligible voter go to the polls and cast his ballot either for or against quotas," Mr. Emmert said. "Sixty-six per cent of all votes cast must favor quotas before they are in effect for 1942. If wheat quotas fail to carry there will be no wheat loan for 1942 crop and no protection for your prices on wheat."

Eligible voters may vote at the most convenient one of the following places: Samnorwood School, Wellington Justice Court Room, and Dodson School.

"There will be men in charge of these elections who will be able to give you any information which you may desire in regard to the casting of your ballot," Mr. Emmert said.

D. M. Shanks For Precinct Office

D. M. Shanks, who lives south of Wellington, has authorized the Wellington Leader to announce his candidacy for the office of Commissioner of Precinct No. 1, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

Mr. Shanks states that he has lived in this county for 25 years, all of which time he has spent in farming.

"I feel that I know the problems of the farmers of the county, and the things they are up against. I know of their need for good roads at all times, but I believe that we need them now in this emergency more than we ever have," Mr. Shanks said.

"I also know that with condi-

Rain And Hail Continue Damage

This county entered into its second week of spotted hail damage, along with heavy rains in all parts of the area, with the immediate prospects of more moisture.

Hail, along with damage to wheat, rye, barley, fruit, and gardens, was reported from widely scattered communities. While complete loss was not reported from any of these places, as much as 50 per cent damage was believed to have resulted from hail which fell in several spots in the northeast part of the county.

Rainfall was general over the county, with a total of 2.55 inches reported in Wellington since last Wednesday.

In addition to rain, hail was reported at Samnorwood Friday, with some damage to fruit and gardens.

School buses and a part of the mail carriers are still unable to make their complete routes, due to mud and damage done to small bridges and culverts by the rain.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE

R-110671
Sgt. Pilot Templeton, R. L.
Canadian Base Post Office
Bournemouth, England.

Dear Deck:

I'll never forget that afternoon quite sometime ago when I sat and watched the sun set on the last faint bit of American coastline. We were well out in the Atlantic, but we could still see a bit of the coast, and just at that time the sun was setting. I wouldn't help wondering how long it would be before I would someday sit and watch that same coastline come back into view. I guess an American always has a strange feeling when he leaves his own shores for the first time. Now I know what the "Doughboys" of 1917 felt like when they went over.

Our trip across was as comfortable and uninterrupted as a Sunday afternoon drive. We never saw anything of the Germans during the whole trip, except once I saw some corvettes dropping depth charges. They probably had seen or heard a "Jerry" submarine.

The Atlantic Ocean is one of the most beautiful things I have ever seen. It is as inspiring when it is stormy as when it is peaceful. Once the waves got up pretty high and they looked very pretty from where I was. The waves were probably 30 feet high. They seemed to move so slowly and majestically, as if they were proud of their tremendous size and might.

England was quite a surprise for me. It was a pleasant surprise. The country is beautiful, the bomb damage is not noticeable, the people are friendly, and last but not least, the food is plentiful and wholesome. Nobody goes hungry in England. Of course there is no fancy food at all—nothing but essential staple groceries.

The "Esperit de Corps" or morale of the people over here seems to be very good. Spring is here and now everybody hopes that at least England is going to really do something big.

Most of the picture shows showing over here are American made, and they are very popular.

There are quite a lot of various amusement centers on account of the heavy preponderance of uniformed men and women. All the picture shows are open and running full blast.

At least half of the girls over here are in uniform. There are dozens of services they can join besides the Women's Army or Navy or Air Force Reserve. Everybody over seventeen, including girls, either have a job or are conscripted to a job. They all seem to be very well satisfied for I have never heard any grumbling or dissention all the time I have been over here.

The things I would like to tell you about, such as balloon barges, coastal defense, tank factories, shipbuilding industry, and Royal Air Force pilots and planes, are the very things I am not allowed to mention in a letter. So you will have to understand why I am not telling anything very interesting.

I think I will be allowed to say that on one night when I was on the East Coast of England a certain place near me was raided by German planes. Bombs dropped all about but failed to hit anything and caused no casualties. I was never afraid at any time, but I must admit that those bombs made a heck of a lot more noise than I ever thought bombs could.

Pat and I were eating in a cafe one evening and got interested in a certain rattle that the windows were making. I thought it must have been caused by a bombing raid somewhere near, so I asked Pat. He said, "No, that is caused by the big guns on the Channel. We were at least a hundred miles away from the Channel at the time."

After Pat and I have been over here for about six months we will be sent back to Canada for a "nerve rest." No pilots are left on operations for longer than six months. I think the war will be over in six months, so it won't make much difference anyway.

Yours sincerely,
R. L. Templeton.

Dear Mr. Wells:

Here I am in the sunny state of California, and I am liking fine. I expect to finish the Aircraft Mechanics school here, under the supervision of the North American Aircraft factory staff. It seems to be a very fine school.

The 419th Squadron was broken up at Sheppard Field, Texas. Some came out here, and others went elsewhere.

This is rather exciting for a soldier out here. We are staying in the Grand Hotel, which is but about 20 feet from the ocean. The beach is crowded with people every day, and every one seems to be having fun.

How is Wellington getting along by now. I suppose Cicero Gully is still there, and in the barber business. Tell him I am in bad need of a haircut and shave.

I am thanking you again for sending The Wellington Leader.

Very truly yours,
Russell Clement.

April 21, 1942

Dear Leader:

Will write and let you know how everything is in California. I can't say much for the outside, but in camp everything is fine. We are about to finish our training here, but I don't know where we will go—to Texas, I hope. Will close, and thanks a lot for the paper.

Yours truly,

Dear Deck:

I am just a bit late in writing and thanking you for The Leader. I appreciate it very much. When the ol' Leader arrives, it is just like a short visit back home.

I also have a couple of buddies from Paducah who enjoy the paper nearly as much as I do, and they also know of Deck Wells.

The FORT WORTH and DENVER CITY Railway

THE Fort Worth and Denver City Railway has been serving Texas since 1882—sixty eventful years during which it has played an important part in the development of North Texas.

Indigenous to Texas, the Fort Worth and Denver City was organized and incorporated in 1873 by a group of pioneer residents of North Texas, including Major K. M. Van Zandt, an officer in the Confederate Army and subsequently Commander in Chief of the Confederate Veterans of the United States.

Operation of the railroad between Fort Worth and Wichita Falls began in 1882, Harrold was reached in 1885, and Quanah in 1886. In 1888 the Fort Worth and Denver City was joined with the Colorado and Southern Railway at Texline, establishing a new, direct transportation artery between Texas and Colorado. Trackage rights were obtained in 1925 extending the railroad's operation to Dallas.

Since the turn of the Century, the Fort Worth and Denver City has acquired or constructed many additional lines serving North Texas, including the Wichita Valley Lines to Abilene, Spur and Waurika; the South Plains line to Lubbock and Dimmitt, and the Denver Northern from Childress to Pampa, a total of about 600 miles of railroad.

While the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway is proud of the part it has played in the development of Texas and the West, it is more interested, during these hours of crisis, in providing adequate and dependable transportation for the Army and Navy, and the civilian producers upon whom the country's fighting forces depend for supplies and equipment.

One minute it's iron—then it's fine steel.... now how's this oil stepped up?

You know how everyday iron becomes heroic steel armor-plate... something is added!

AND MODERN man-made betterments added gave Conoco Nth motor oil its heroic mileage margin over five other worthy big brands in the impartial Death Valley Death-Test. The rival oils were run till they wrecked identical engines. Against every 100 miles made by its nearest rival in this certified test, Conoco Nth oil ran up 174 miles! And against every 100 miles averaged by all five others, Conoco Nth ran up 211 miles!

Change to this patented oil that will OIL-PLATE your engine the same as the OIL-PLATED winning engine. OIL-PLATING is lubricant bonded throughout your engine's insides. OIL-PLATING can stay up as high as the topmost piston rings, without all draining down, all the while you use Conoco Nth. This oil gives you both oil film and OIL-PLATING; keeps you just that much farther from serious wear that would soon keep you buying quarts.

OIL-PLATING comes from an added synthetic whose magnet-like action can bond lubricant to metals. And still another added modern synthetic in Conoco Nth acts against today's common complaint of gummed-up "lubrication" that puts a drag on mileage. Even in all the heat of Death Valley, Conoco Nth stayed so good that it far out-mileaged the other brands tested—from 74% up to 161%.

Blue Stamp Foods Listed

There will be no change in the Agricultural Marketing Administration's blue stamp foods list in May, according to Dan L. Boyd, area supervisor, AMA, distribution branch.

Participants of the food stamp program will be able to purchase the same blue stamp foods during May as they did in April. The complete list of blue stamp foods, as issued by the Agricultural Marketing Administration for the period May 1 through May 31 in all stamp program areas, is as follows: butter, shell eggs, fresh grapefruit, pears, apples, oranges, and fresh vegetables (including potatoes), corn meal, dried prunes, hominy (corn) grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, enriched wheat flour, self-rising flour, enriched self-rising flour, and whole wheat (graham) flour.

Mr. Boyd pointed out that through the food stamp program American farmers have a ready market for the foods they grow, thereby assuring them a fair return on their full food production. He said all the activities of the AMA are designed to give farmers a fair price for their products in order that they may be able to continue producing the food and fiber so necessary to win the war and write the peace. At the same time, he explained, these programs help build America's home defense by providing health building foods to needy American families.

Former Resident Recognizes Son In News Picture

SALT FORK
By VERNA LEE HARRIS

Through a picture run in their home newspaper, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Drake, formerly of this county, but now of Lubbock, learned that a son, Sgt. Henry Drake, Jr., had reached safety in Australia from Java, where he participated in the Battle of Java.

Mrs. Drake will be remembered here as Miss Bessie Langford, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Langford. The son, now in Australia, has visited in Wellington many times.

It was Mrs. Drake who recognized her son in the news picture, which was radioed from Australia to San Francisco.

Another son, Teddy, is in the same crack Texas artillery unit.

Twice during the time that their sons were in Java, Mrs. Drake talked to them by long-distance telephone, although she had been told that this couldn't be done.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Easterly, Mrs. A. R. Biffle, and Mrs. Fred Cummings and children were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Cummings, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenyth Cass spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Jones.

Mrs. C. W. Golligh is having medical care this week.

Charles Wright has had the measles.

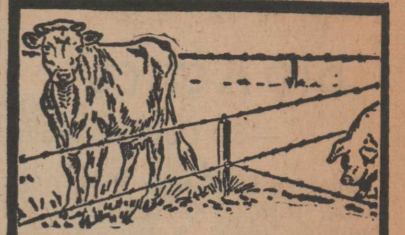

Mrs. Ernest Maxwell and sons of Dimmitt spent the week end with Mrs. S. L. Maxwell and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Golligh and family spent Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Golligh and family.

The rain and hail that came Sunday night did damage to the fruit crop.

Of the 345,120 persons over 64 years of age in Texas, 166,079—slightly more than 48 per cent—were receiving Old Age Assistance in February, 1942.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Tuesday I drove to Enid, Oklahoma, with J. G. Hammock of Childress and G. A. Ream of Wellington. I appeared before an under-secretary of the Department of Agriculture. They were most agreeable and most evasive. They admitted there was a shortage of oil—Secretary Wickard had said so and they had to admit it.

They would not admit that there could be a shortage of staple lint. There were a number of other pertinent points. I reported factually to Mr. D. A. Bandeen of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and he is of the opinion that the matter will have to be carried to President Roosevelt.

Because I am involved in this effort, there are a lot of things that are better left unsaid for the time being. But I would like to ask these questions: If there is a shortage of vegetable oil why not cut red tape and produce it now? If there is a shortage of sugar, why not turn the beet growers loose?

Anyhow, I want to get to writing about something at home. Go by and see the Iris of Mrs. J. M. Strong, Jr. She has some new varieties in the back of her patch, but the lovely effect is the contrast between the yellow and the blue flowers that are blooming in front of her yard.

Last Sunday my family went over to my wife's home place in Wheeler County. On the way over we did not notice anything on the road north from Wellington. Coming back we noticed that all the locust trees were in full bloom. They were beautiful, but the thing that interested me was that all those trees could turn white in one sunny day.

It was a fine day for me. I do not like to ride a smart cow horse up and down a road just to be riding. When I do, I can almost hear the horse cussing me out and comparing me to Fleet Pruden and Gene Martin who ride just to be riding. But last Sunday I had a chance to ride a horse for a useful purpose. It happened that a certain man and a black horse, neither one of whom in my opinion knows a thing about cows, had run a cow with a new born calf to the point of exhaustion.

My wife, who can really ride, was getting ready to bring the cow home. I told her that I would go down and see what I could do about getting the cow home. When we reached the cow, I informed the man and the black horse that we would walk the cow home. Her calf had been moved on a wagon and she wanted to turn back to the old pasture. The cow did not know that her calf was at another place. I turned the old white horse loose and he started to drive the cow back to the home place at a leisurely gait. I sat up and enjoyed the sunshine and watched the old horse work.

Two or three times the cow stuck her head out like she wanted to run, but the old white horse had anticipated her. Once she wanted to jump through a hole into the McDowell pasture,

CAN YOU ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS?

Here is a facsimile of the application for War Ration Book No. 1 which will be filled out by every person in Collingsworth County during the National Registration Period May 4, 5, 6, and 7. Registration of individuals and members of families will be by school teachers. All members of family units may be registered by any one member over 18 years of age. Individuals who are not members of a family unit must register in person. One of the applications must be filled out for each member of the family and each individual, and each will be issued a War Ration Book. Applicants for books are urged by the local Rationing Board to study carefully the application above and have the correct answers when they register. It is necessary to know to the pound just how much sugar is in the possession of the household. The amount of sugar will be divided by the number of people in the Family Units and the stamps will be torn out by the registrar for all sugar in excess of two pounds per person.

but the horse figured out the notion before she did. It was a pleasant ride on a warm spring afternoon atop an old horse who could not run but who did know his stuff.

The garden of Rev. J. P. Neal is coming along fine. I stop each morning to see how much the potatoes and the corn have grown since I saw them last. This is only one instance, but if you will multiply it by all the gardens that are being planted where no gardens grew before you will get an idea of the amount of food this nation can produce.

Before you register for your family for sugar find out a few things about them. The things you need to know are: full name, address, height, weight, color of eyes, hair, age and relationship to person who is registering for the family. Also check up and find out how much white and brown sugar is owned by all of them.

Ollie Raburn wants me to hunt up the latest regulations on price ceilings for him. I will be glad to do this, but there is something much more important that the local merchants should be considering. The tire shortage and changing times present a golden opportunity to small town merchants. It will be a golden opportunity only if they use it. The mail order firms and the big department stores are not going to give up without a struggle. If all the merchants sit back and wait for something to fall in their laps, the position of our town will be worse. It could be better. But it will be worse if all the town does like the dry goods merchants of Wellington have been doing in recent weeks and months. They have been shirking their plain duty to the trading interest of this community. It is true in other lines. Out at Quail Tom Crabtree seems to realize what I am talking about, and down at Dodson N. L. Wesson and Duard Scott seem to have a clear picture of the situation, but up here at Wellington Pink Sullivan and Fred Lederer don't seem to have the slightest inkling of what is happening. I mention my friends by name, but there are a lot of you who might look yourselves over.

On the front page of this paper you will find a story saying that the Navy Relief needs $20 to put the campaign over. Carl Chaudoin, Quail chairman, has just reported and I am glad to tell you that the Navy Relief campaign is over the top. The names of the Quail contributors will be in the paper next week.

Mrs. Benge To Review Book

Mrs. Lester Benge of Pampa will review John Steinbeck's latest book, "The Moon Is Down," Thursday evening, April 30, at 8:45 o'clock at the Methodist Church. This event is sponsored by the Loyalty Sunday School Class of the church.

Mrs. Benge, a former Wellington resident, is now a regular staff member of Radio Station KPND of Pampa. She is widely known throughout this area for her book reviews.

"The Moon Is Down," which appeared only a few weeks ago, rapidly became a best selling book, and has been judged by many literary critics as the best of John Steinbeck's works.

The story tells of the invasion of a little Norwegian town, and the reaction of both the townspeople and the conquerors.

More recently, the book was rewritten as a play, and is now showing on Broadway.

"We believe that the people of Wellington, especially those who are anxious to keep up with the current trend in American writings, will enjoy this review thoroughly. We extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend," members of the class said.

A small admission will be charged.

A number of people from Wellington took the U. S. Civil Service examinations in Childress Tuesday. Some of those taking the examinations were: Mrs. J. A. Maddox, Misses Margaret Hix, Elizabeth Gilentine, Mary Frances and Jessie Hays. Mrs. J. L. Hays and Virginia were in Childress, also.

LETTERS FROM MEN IN SERVICE

Fort Bliss, Texas April 26, 1942

Mr. Deskins Wells Wellington, Texas Dear Deck:

I have thought for several months I would write you and thank you and anyone else who might have had a part in sending me The Wellington Leader for the past year. I assure you that my ability to express to you in words my appreciation for making it possible for me to read it, can not do justice to the pleasure and pastime I have had in reading the paper. I have looked forward to getting it at the end of every week and I always read it from cover to cover.

I have been stationed here for a year now. I am attached to the Station Hospital.

My time here has been well spent. The experience and training I have had during the past year will be a great help to me in the future.

I think I like my work here as well as I would in any other place in the army. Of course, none of it is like the life we would like to live, but we all have a job to do and I am sure it will be done.

I am enclosing subscription price of The Leader for another year, and thanking you again for your thoughtfulness in sending the paper in the past, I am,

Yours sincerely, Sgt. Curtis A. Dobbins, D. M. D. Station Hsp., Fort Bliss, Texas.

Much interest has been shown in the new class, and a large group of women is expected to enroll. No experience in any sort of nursing is necessary to become a member, since the course is designed to give instruction in those things which are necessary in caring for a patient in the home.

The windstorm has done its damage and now we are hearing the old questions about tornado insurance; asking what it is, what it can do and how much it costs. ## Editorial

The responsibility of every motorist to exercise extraordinary care in operating his car is greater today than ever before. Where the public was once concerned mainly with safety and the protection of the property of others, it now has an interest in how every motor vehicle on the road is operated. Automobiles and tires have become irreplaceable; their destruction has ceased to be a matter concerning the owner of the car alone.

For some years, many states have had laws designed to keep irresponsible drivers off the road. As the war continues and the effects of auto and tire rationing become more apparent, police magistrates are expected to show less leniency to defendants whose offenses involve abuse of their automobiles.

Most judges have authority to suspend for varying periods the drivers' licenses of persons convicted of serious traffic violations such as drunken or reckless driving, or repeated minor offenses. Suspension of a driver's license is not always an effective means of keeping a violator off the road. Frequently such persons resume driving before licenses are reinstated, since they have little to fear from the law unless they are caught in another traffic violation.

Suggestions have been advanced in recent weeks that gasoline ration cards be used as a weapon against reckless drivers, when and if such cards are issued. The judge who took away an offender's ration card should be reasonably certain that the man would not be able to operate the car until the card was returned to him. It at least is one of the few favorable aspects of rationing.—Wichita Falls Record-News.

When two identical automobiles are driven over the same 1,000-mile course, one at 25 miles an hour and the other at 65, the latter consumes 60 per cent more oil, and causes 700 per cent more wear on tires.

Sales of natural gas last year were 19 per cent over the 1940 total, the biggest increase on record.

Texas' first aerodynamics research laboratory is being set up at the University of Texas, as part of the school's newly established graduate program in aeronautical engineering.

In the neighborhood of St. Francis there is much activity for the new government plants. Railway spurs are being built and considerable excavation has already been done. No doubt workers from all parts of the Panhandle will find employment there. Mayor Jenkins left the impression that Panhandle workers were desired for these jobs rather than an influx of strangers.—Ed W. Coulson of the Higgins News.

Shall We Save Social Gains?
There seems to be quite an effort being put forth in Washington to preserve the so-called "social gains" that have been acquired in the last decade. No one disputes the advantages that accrue from these gains, but most of them were acquired in the more normal times of peace. However, the country is now at war and every individual and institution in the country must share equally in the sacrifices that must be made in order to win that war and to preserve a democracy that makes possible any social advantages at all.—Aug. H. Olson in the Coleman Democrat-Voice.

Strength From Disaster
It is a fortunate feature of American character, a trait shared by our British cousins, that disaster strengthens our morale and bolsters our courage. If the situation is bad on the battle lines, it is bright on the home front. People who have been saying that this was going to be a long hard war are now acting as if they actually believe it.—Cleburne Huston in The Stamford American.

Washington Week

By RALPH HERBERT

Ranchers and farmers, who go in for sheep because of the crops of wool obtained, face a prosperous outlook this year, largely, of course, due to the war and the need of clothing a vastly increased army and navy.

The number of sheep on farms and ranges at the beginning of this year was 3 per cent greater than last year. The outlook is that wool production will be a little larger than the record 1941 production of 455,000,000 pounds greasy shorn and pulled basis. The new clip has already been contracted for in the western states at prices which are about 5 cents a pound higher than last year and the highest in 14 years. At current prices, this means that the cash farm income for 1942 from the sale of wool will be about $157,000,000.

The United States produces less than half the amount of wool it consumes. Hence the big importations from South America, Australia and New Zealand in ordinary years.

But 1942 does not promise to be an ordinary year in any respect. In the first place, due to the great need of wool for the armed forces, the War Production Board has already announced cuts in the amount of woolsens and mohairs that may be used for clothing for civilians.

Production of wool in 12 southern hemisphere countries usually totals something like 2,350,000,000 pounds. They find a ready market not only in the United States, but also in Europe. The war has cut Europe off entirely from those markets except for such ships as run the gauntlet and arrive safely in British ports. But the chances are that the main portion of the new clips in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa will have to remain stored in those countries.

If shipping can be provided and if ships avoid axis raiders and submarines, South America will take care of the United States' needs.

Your Town And Mine

—By CHARLES L. ALLEN

"What didja bring me, daddy? What didja bring me? Didja get that pen and pencil I wanted?" If you didn't get that pen and pencil set that your 8-year-old son or daughter wanted, daddy, woe unto you. Your return will precipitate a flood of tears from the child, perhaps a reprimand from mother, and throw a general chill over the family fireside for several days. The easy way out, obviously, is to come back with whatever was ordered.

Charlie Allen

We may well pause to wonder whether daddy does his family a kindness or a disservice when he buys each of them a gift every time his business leads him out of town. A child soon learns that he has only to beg long enough and hard enough to get exactly what he wants, regardless of his need for it. The begging is especially efficacious when his father is making an out-of-town trip because his parents have taught him that daddy must always bring home presents when he journeys afar.

How did this habit become so entrenched in our modern-day children? Did they think of it all by themselves, or did their parents actually teach them to expect a present for every trip? There is good evidence that daddy himself started the practice, maybe because he had been given a gentle hint by mother, but possibly because he felt that those who stayed at home deserved some kind of reward. A gift, if we may believe our Christian teachings, should be given because the donor wishes to do something nice for someone. It definitely should not be given because the donor expects to receive something in return. If it does not come voluntarily, and without the least stimulation or exercise of pressure by the recipient, it is not a gift. In the latter case, it is nothing but exacted tribute. The master cannot receive gifts from his slaves; whatever they bring him will be the indirect result of his control over them.

If this Christian theory of gifts be true, and we think it is, then much of our giving—all of it when we feel under compulsion to do so—is un-Christian and undesirable. When the children's first words to you upon returning from a business trip are: "What didja bring me, daddy?" you may be certain that you have taught them a habit that will operate to their eternal misfortune. Children do not forget the habits they learned in childhood. We carry over into adult life many of the habits, the fears, prejudices, and preferences of childhood.

One of my friends is comfortably well fixed; he owns a goodly amount of property, several businesses, and could well afford to buy each of his children an expensive gift whenever he pleased. He and I were together on a business trip recently and while we waited for the train which was to take us back home I suggested that we search a nearby store for something for the families. "I do not plan to take them anything this time," said he, "for it does a child a great kindness to learn to expect a present. My son and daughter have plenty of everything—too much of many things. They could easily be spoiled. My wife and I, however, make it a definite plan not to bring them gifts from every trip and we have taught the children that their father's business has no relation to their own desires. We have one inviolable rule: the child that begs for something gets nothing. When we go on a pleasure trip and bring them presents, they are in every sense of the word real gifts."

Typhoid Vaccination Urged By State Health Officer

AUSTIN.—If you have not been vaccinated against typhoid fever within the last two or three years, Dr. George W. Cox, State Health Officer, advises you to go to your doctor or the nearest health officer and have him give you the three "shots" that will protect you against the disease.

"The three shots that will protect against typhoid are given at intervals of one week apart," Dr. Cox stated. "As it takes some time for the protective treatment to be established throughout the system, it is wise not to delay in having it done. My advice is, have it done now so that immunization may be complete before summer arrives."

This advice was addressed particularly to Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and other youngsters who are looking forward to spring and summer hikes and trips. It is, however, meant also for others, young or old, whose business or pleasure during the summer will take them to places where there may be doubt as to the purity or safety of the water supply, or as to the care with which food is handled.

... after 10 years of something for nothing!

JIMMIE, too young to know about the newfangled theories of the past 10 years wherein you get something for nothing, is simply amazed at getting even double for his money. A double-decker brings a "Gee-Whiz!" and bulging eyes.

And Jimmie is right. The war is disproving all the socialistic theories of the last decade. The country is paying in blood for the sweat and toil it failed to expend in honest work during a period when political boondoggling and perpetual e-motion substituted for labor to make our nation strong and virile.

Today we are straining every ounce of energy in the wartime effort while proving the old theories wrong... working night and day to get something for anything! Today we know that PRODUCTION, not reduction, makes a people strong, a nation free.

We will win, of course. No other country can compare with America's potential war production. No other has the men, the machines—or the electric power.

America's electric companies, under trained and experienced business men, are supplying power for the vast wartime industries where it's needed when it's needed... a supply that is greater than the combined total of all the enemy nations.

While most everything else has gone up, electric rates remain the lowest in history.

In fact, like Jimmie, you are getting a double-decker... double for your money. The average price of electric service today is about half of what it was just 15 years ago.

It's true, maybe, that your bill hasn't been cut in half.

The answer is, of course, that you use more and better lights, more new and useful appliances.

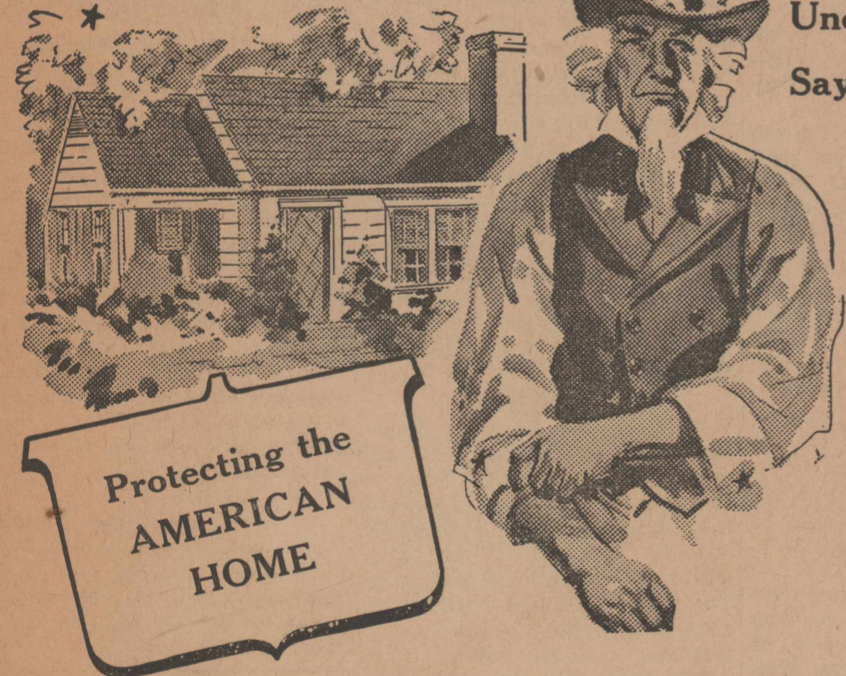

But right now for two nickels a day a majority of West Texas homes operate lights, radio, cleaner, toaster, washer and refrigerator.

No, you don't get "something for nothing." But the electric nickel buys just about the world's biggest double-decker!

Frills And Frupperies Out

To save materials, War Production Czar Donald M. Nelson has ruled out fancy frills in milady's fashions. Before the restriction order, model at left wore a dress with 91-inch sweep, 43-inch length, wool-lined pockets and 3-inch hem, in addition to the double fabric cuff and 3 1/2-inch belt. The same dress, re-designed, right, is slightly shorter, has a sweep of 20 inches less, pockets are lined with rayon and the hem is 2 inches. Sleeves have no cuffs and belt is half the width. Almost two yards of material were saved.

Clarendon Pastor Is Visitor Here Monday Morning

The Rev. Frank H. Hutchins of Clarendon, rector of the Episcopal Churches at Clarendon, Childress, Quanah, and Shamrock, was in Wellington Monday morning contacting members of his church. Although there are no organized churches in Memphis and Wellington, both these towns are included in Rev. Hutchins' field. Regular services are held each second and fourth Sunday in Childress.

Our boys at the front need a steady flow of supplies. You can assure this by systematic purchase of U. S. Defense Bonds and Stamps.

The skinnyscout birds seemed real strong. But when they tried to fly along, The lasso man cried, "Have no fear. We are all friendly fellows here.

"We like to travel here and there Like you do, way up in the air." And then the bunch heard Duncy cry, "For goodness sakes, sir, we can't fly."

The lasso man just smiled and said, "Well, son, I often use my head. When once the birds are safe and sound, I'll let you hold them on the ground."

The Totties all soon held the birds. And Scouty said a few kind words. The lasso man then fixed a swing So they could ride upon the thing.

From one bird to the other he Then tied a rope quite cleverly. "Grab hold," he shouted. "Bye and bye, The birds will flap their wings and fly."

The Totties grabbed and held on tight. The lasso man said, "Ah. That's right." And then the two birds soared away.

The Totties' swing began to sway.

NEXT WEEK: The skinnyscouts play a trick on the Totties.

3 Coaches Have Hand In Rocket Training

The Skyrockets won't let their fans down in 1942, predicts J. L. Beard, superintendent of the Wellington High School, as he looks over the roster of 28 boys now undergoing their regular spring football training period.

These boys, some of them for as many as two years lettermen on the Rocket team, while others are out for the first time this spring, are slightly more than half through their training.

This work started under Coach Scott McCall, only to be interrupted when he was called to active duty in the Navy. Mr. Beard then took up the work. This week Al Duncan, newly elected coach, took over and will complete the spring training with the Rockets.

"We have some mighty good material out there training now," Mr. Beard said, "and from the way the boys are taking to their work, and from the improvement some of them are showing, it looks as though we'll have a fine team when the season opens next fall."

Boys who are out for football, along with their weight, the positions in which they are trying out, and their experience, follow:

- James Williams, end, 150, letterman 2 years.
- Wendell Brewer, end, 148, letterman 2 years.

3-Ring Circus Here Friday

The Dailey Bros. Three-Ring Circus, due in Wellington Friday, May 1, is comprised of four distinct units. The dog and pony section will delight children and dog fanciers; the wild west will thrill the rodeo fans; the display of beautiful and remarkably trained horses and ponies in the horse show part will charm admirers of horse flesh; the high class, standard three-ring circus program will appeal to all classes and conditions of men. All of the above presented in three rings and on the hippodrome track will make a circus performance of two hours not soon to be forgotten by those fortunate enough to attend either the afternoon or night shows.

Dailey Bros. Circus, not boasting so much of its magnitude, does insist its performances are unexcelled, that it is offering much that is new and that they are making good their slogan, "never before, so much, so good, for so little."

The aerial ballet by beautiful young girls, the display of educated horses and wild domestic animals, the circus concert band with its tuneful music, the company of red clowns make a circus well worth any one's time and money. Performances will be given at 2 and 8 p. m. There will be no parade.
