New Rules Issued For Hunting In Northeast Texas

Based on recommendations of wildlife biologists, new regulations have been issued by the Texas Game and Fish Commission for Bowie, Fannin, Red River and Titus counties.

First antlerless deer season in the history of Northeast Texas is authorized for northeast Red River County and the Red River Arsenal area of Bowie. This hunting period will open November 28 and close December 2. It was approved as a means of reducing the over-population of deer in conformity with modern game management practices.

The harvest will be only in the critical areas and will be subject to written consent by the land owners.

The survey preliminary to the Commission's action was handled by Game Department biologists.

The Commission also eliminated the spring squirrel season in Red River County to protect the breeding population.

Here's the hunting program for the northeast Texas sector:

Deer—For Red River and Bowie Counties, November 28 through December 2; one buck deer except in areas authorized for taking of antlerless deer—Fannin County: November 16 through November 20 inclusive; one buck deer—Titus County: closed season.

Squirrel season—In Fannin, Red River and Bowie Counties, October 1 through December 31—Titus County: two seasons from May 1 through July 1; October 1 through December 31.

Wild turkey: Closed in all counties except Bowie where the season will be November 28 thru December 2, bag limit one gobbler.

Quail: December 1 through January 16; bag limit twelve.

Race For Congress First District At White Heat

A hot political race for congress, First District, composed of 11 counties, between Wright Patman, incumbent, and Kenneth W. Simmons, is really sizzling in this, the last week of the campaign.

The editor dug up copies of his Deport Times, Bogata News and Talco Times of the last week in July, 1954, to learn what happened in this race in Lamar, Red River and Titus counties' elections two years ago.

There were three men in the race—Patman, Simmons and Douglass E. Wright. Their votes in all 11 counties read:

Patman	31,504
Simmons	23,318
Wright	4,019

Simmons carried Lamar with 4912 votes; Patman got 3734 and Wright 414.

In Red River Patman carried the county with 2863 votes; Simmons got 2597 and Wright 347.

Patman carried Titus County with 2553 votes to Simmons' 1602 and Wright's 508.

Two years ago Patman did not campaign much, with congress in session, but he did use newspaper advertising. This year both Patman and Simmons have been campaigning in the smallest communities, and using the newspapers, radio and TV.

Missing Tooth A Must For African Beauty

Queenstown, Cape Province, South Africa.—Dentists here have been mystified by the number of African girls who have asked to have front teeth extracted. Even when told that the tooth is quite sound, they still complain bitterly of pain and insist that the tooth come out. It now has been discovered that the "love gap" left by the extraction is to attract boy friends.

This new form of "glamour" apparently leaves the "ungapped" girls feeling definitely dowdy.

Five years ago tuberculosis was taking 26,000 lives a year with alcoholism accounting for less than half that number.

W. A. Morrison of Milam County, presiding judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, was here Saturday in the interest of his candidacy for re-election to a second term. He was recently chosen best qualified by Texas lawyers by a vote of more than two to one.

Just one more time this editor wishes to commend to voters the name of Senator A. M. Aikin for the job of lieutenant governor.
He has what it takes to make a good presiding officer of the Senate, and one of the most responsible jobs in the naming of committees.

Once more we would remind our friends not to let those double negatives on the referendums fool them when they go to vote on Saturday. If you oppose mixing whites and blacks in schools, marriage of whites and black and illegal federal interference with state laws—vote FOR on all three propositions.

Candidates are making their final appeals to voters in this week's edition of this newspaper.
Their ads have crowded out some news, but the ads contain useful information to conscientious voters. Vote for the man you consider honest, capable and reliable and who represents your political philosophy.

Most Texas towns with lakes and dependent upon rainfall runoff to fill their reservoirs, have been hard hit the past two years.
Runoff from the average Texas surface declines sharply with the decline of the rainfall under normal. Water levels in such big bodies of water as Texoma on the Red and Falcon dam on the Rio Grande have low water levels.
Springs in south central Texas that have gushed in other years are now bone dry or have only a trickle. Truly, water is Texas' greatest problem. We should do something about that 85 or 90 per cent of rainfall that flows into the Gulf.

—Some editors are not in sympathy with the federal farm program. For instance, the Deport Times has this to say: "Looks like the farmers are right back where they started in 1934 in the government's socialistic dictatorship. They will now be paid for plowing up crops they have planted. They did that under Henry Wallace, which also included the shooting of pregnant sows and the killing of cattle and burning them at a time when many families had not had a meal of red meat in months."
Well, Brother Holloway, the program is calculated to get votes.
After all, that is what the politicians are most interested in.— Whitewright Sun.

The editor was in Paris Saturday noon to attend a luncheon, honoring Senator Price Daniel, who was in Lamar County in the interest of his race for governor.
We announced in March that Price Daniel would get our vote in the governor's race. We have known him personally for a fifth of a century, and in our opinion he has done more for Texas than any man in public life today. He is clean-cut and a Christian gentleman with the ability and experience to make Texas an outstanding governor. He is the only man in the race for governor who has not engaged in personal abuses of his opponents.

It is a good and timely law and each home here and to contact each and every one of you. If I have missed you then I'm honestly disappointed, because it was my earnest desire and intention to see each of you personally. I some I failed to see.

To those of you I did see I want to again tell you I'll be so very happy to get your votes and influence.

To those I failed to see, I want to say that I wanted to see and indebted to you for any word

I am elected at first, I'll visit you to thank you personally. If I'm defeated, I'll still come to see you Let's all be real good and close friends, regardless. This is my hope and prayer. Thanks.

Sincerely,

Alcorn Up In Arms Over Foreign Countries' Need of More Fences

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur, is writing about fences this week, instead of mending his own.

Dear Editor: Occasionally I like to look over the international news, to get my mind off of farm problems, and while I don't understand much about foreign affairs, I notice there are a lot of experts in the same boat with me. In fact, probably the more foreign affairs you know about the less you understand.

At any rate, I read in a newspaper last night where the Prime Minister of India, a man named Nehru, was complaining because, he said, "The United States expects other countries to take sides and leaves no room for any country to sit on the fence."

This just goes to show how little that Prime Minister understands about the United States.

In this country, we believe in private initiative, and a man, doesn't make any difference whether he's a justice of the peace or a state office holder or a Congressman, who can't find room to sit on the fence, just ain't trying.

DISTANCE DEPENDS
Motorist: "How far is it to the nearest town?"
Native: "High on to five miles as the crow flies."

Motorist: "Well, how far is it if a crow has to walk and carry an empty gasoline can?"

I'll admit that at times the fence gets a little crowded, but I've always had faith in politicians and believe that when they can't find a fence to straddle, they'll build one.

Now you don't mean to tell me India and the other foreign countries are now going to expect the United States to build their own fences for them so they'll have something to sit on? Isn't that carrying foreign aid a little far?

I say it's one thing to lend them money, send them weapons and ammunition, ship surplus food to them, but if they can't manage to find enough fences to sit on, let them sit on the ground or, if they're afraid of catching cold, take sides and declare themselves.

In the United States, when a man can't find a fence to sit on, he just doesn't have any business running for office, and as far as I'm concerned foreign countries are going to have to build their own if that's where they want to sit.

I say not one dime of U. S. money to build fences for foreigners to sit on.

Yours faithfully, A. A.

PROOF POSITIVE
The defeated candidate for election as shop steward was contesting the election.

"I know it was crooked," he exclaimed. "I voted for myself three times and yet I didn't get a single vote."

I wish to express my thanks and sincere appreciation to friends and patrons who patronized my Beauty Shop during the years I operated at Bogata. I just want you to know that I do appreciate each and every one of you.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Confused "Sit"-uation

Been meaning all week to tell you about Curley Lawson's "baby-sitting" experience.

His Mrs. left him in charge, about seven p.m., with instructions not to let the children come downstairs. So Curley read his paper and whenever he heard footsteps on the staircase he ordered the culprit back to bed. Happened three or four times.

Little while later, Mrs. Miller from next door came over to inquire if Curley had seen her Sonny. "Here I am, Mom" came a voice from upstairs, "Put Mr.

Lawson won't let me go home." From where I sit, jumping to conclusions like Curley did, doesn't always make for an amusing story. I'm reminded of the people who—without due consideration—have concluded that I'm wrong to like an occasional glass of beer. Well, to my way of thinking, that's not only intolerant... but, what's more, "minding" the other fellow's business is not the American way.

EUGENE MANKINS

FOR

COUNTY COMMISSIONER

PRECINCT 3, TITUS COUNTY

Mankins served 10 years as a laborer under three different County Commissioners at salaries as low as $1.50 a day.

Capable - Experienced

Since he went into office Precinct 3, Titus County, has been given THIRTY MILES of Farm-to-Market Roads.

He now has over 150 Miles of County Roads of which every mile is Black Topped and are All-Weather Road.

When he went into office there were NO ALL-WEATHER Roads nor Farm-to-Market Roads. Even Old State 49 was impassable in spots.

He helped to open up two miles of road in Sulphur bottom, which has been a project of the people of Talco area for many years, and built a bridge over Sulphur at the Barnard crossing.

In County Finances last year, Titus County's Budget was $285,000. The Commissioners Court has spent only $248,000, leaving $37,000 surplus.

This is typical of the handling of Tax Payers' money during Eugene Mankins administration.

Bonded Debt of Titus County has been reduced while Eugene Mankins has been a Commissioner.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD, Texas Press Association

Austin.—Saturday is V-Day . . . "Voting Day" in Texas. It's the Democratic primary. It could be the biggest voting day in Texas history. Paid poll taxes and exemptions total a record-setting 2,410,188. Not all these people will mark ballots. Some are Republicans. They don't vote in a Democratic primary. And some Democrats will stay home.

Not since the Ferguson Er have more than 80 per cent of qualified voters turned out for a primary. General elections have run higher. Biggest vote ever cast in the state was 2,075,946 in the 1952 general election. This was an 87 per cent turnout. Highest primary vote so far was the August, 1954 total of 1,458,220.

Fifteen years ago the rural vote was all-important. Non-metropolitan votes still are in the majority and they are "dependable" votes. However, the five major cities have between them nearly a million eligible voters—917,209. In this big city market, labor claims a 450,000 to 500,000 "sphere of influence" vote. But admitted it couldn't deliver that many in a bloc to anyone.

SHEPPERD URGES ACTION—Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd has urged to House Investigating Committee to conduct full on-the-ground hearings to uncover election frauds in Duval and surrounding counties.

Shepperd's comment on the situation came as the result of a wire Rep. Wade Spilman, chairman of the committee, sent to C.

B. Dick of Laredo. Dick had requested an investigation of absentee voting practices in Webb, Zapata, Jim Hogg, Duval and Starr Counties.

In a wire to Spilman, Shepperd cited a group of bills introduced in the last legislature, at the request of his office, and the Texas Press Association. The measures, he pointed out, would eliminate such situations as now exist in the South Texas area.

All the bills, Shepperd said, failed to win legislative approval. "Since 1953, we have tried to interest legislative agencies in the cleanup of Duval, and your committee will discover, as we did, that the same thing that happened there can happen in any county where a political boss can control election officials and machinery and the judicial processes," Shepperd said.

The bills to which he referred would open meetings of public agencies, allow full inspection of public records, protect reporters' sources of information, require full publication of financial statements of counties and school districts, require an audit upon proper petition by taxpayers, provide punishment for false reporting of official finances or theft of public funds or records, and give venue in adjoining counties in case of theft of public funds.

MORE DROUTH AID SOUGHT—A committee of 175 Texas agricultural leaders, called together by Ag. Com. John C. White, is working for two-way expansion of federal drouth assistance.

Goals include a six-point credit program and direct subsidies of $10 a ton for buying hay and other roughage. County Judge W. S. Pickett of Karnes County heads an 11-member group designated to push the program.

RIGHT OF WAY BUYING URGED—Getting the "right of way" is the only major obstacle likely to delay the federal highway building program in Texas.

Enough road building equipment now is on hand to double the present work capacity within two years, said members of the Texas Highway Branch of Associated General Contractors. Cities and counties which can do so were urged to buy up roadway immediately.

Other needs foreseen by the industry include the use of prestressed concrete, to get around the steel shortage; and higher state salaries for beginning engineers, in order to compete with federal employers.

SHORT SNORTS—Dr. J. W. Edgar, Texas Commissioner of Education, has been chosen to receive the 1956 A. Harris & Co. Texas Award, presented annually to the Texan who has contributed significantly to the advancement of American life. Presentation will be made Aug. 4 in Dallas . . . Thirty-nine new industries were established in Texas during the first quarter of '56, announced the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. In addition, 71 companies expanded . . . Texas savings and loan companies have made fewer loans, and for less money, in 1956. Total loans dropped 10 per cent in number, and 13 per cent in value, from 1955, according to the Federal Home Loan Bank of Little Rock . . . Texas Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools has voted to ask the next legislature for a $14 million increase in its 1957-59 budget. Total amount sought is $40,808,816.

BEN ALSOBROOK CELEBRATES HIS NINETIETH BIRTHDAY

By IVA L. HOOKER

Mrs. Hontas McDonald, Mrs. Leonard Bond, Mrs. Iva Hooker and Misses Mary Lassiter, Edna Howison and Neva Dell Bond surprised Ben Alsobrook on his 90th birthday Tuesday when they converged on the Barney Alsobrook home with a birthday cake and ice cream.

"Happy Birthday" was sung and a social hour and the refreshments were enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Barney Alsobrook and daughter, Miss Mary Ann, in addition to the hostesses and honoree.

Mr. Alsobrook was born in Manchester July 17, 1866. His father and mother were both born in Tennessee, but came to Texas in their youth. His father worked for sometime as overseer of negro slaves on the Wright plantation on Red River before the Civil War.

Mr. Ben was born in a log cabin, but says his father later built the finest home in the vicinity. He was one of a family of 14 boys and 3 girls, his father having married three times.

Mr. Alsobrook and his wife, the former Cora Covington, were married in 1877 after a four-year courtship, during which time he was trying to save $500. There was no installment buying in those days, according to Mr. Alsobrook, and you had to have your own money to get started—you couldn't "use it while paying for it," you had to pay for it before you could use it.

Mr. Alsobrook and his wife were the parents of nine boys and two girls, eight living to maturity. He lived in Manchester all his life until about ten years ago when he moved to this vicinity with his sons family. Mrs. Alsobrook passed away in 1946.

Mr. Alsobrook has seen the snows of many winters, and many changes in everything—he has seen the mode of travel go from ox carts to jet planes, from oil wicks to electric lights, carrying water from a spring to running water in the home, boggy, muddy roads to hard surfaced super-highways, log cabin schools to large brick or stone consolidated schools with all kinds of modern equipment.

He was brought up in the days of reconstruction after the Civil War, but says they experienced no trouble with the freed slaves. People in those days suffered hardships and had little of the world's goods, but on the whole were happy and contented with what they had.

Mr. Alsobrook says he loves to live in this day and age, and enjoys television, radio and all other conveniences, that he has had a rich, full life, and is grateful to God that He has permitted him to stay in this beautiful

HAGANSPORT

Mary King who has been very ill in the Talco Hospital is somewhat improved, but has not been returned home as yet. Many of her friends and relatives called on her at the hospital Friday of last week.

Dinner was served at noon.

Rev. Robert Favre Jr., pastor of the Mt. Vernon Methodist Circuit, will start his revival at Hagansport on Sunday.

PRETTY AS EVER

Two men who hadn't seen each other for several years were having a reunion. One asked: "Is your wife as pretty as ever?" "Yes, indeed!" enthused the other. Then he added thoughtfully, "But it takes her half an hour longer."

As we departed for our homes Mr. Alsobrook said, "If I'm still living next year, I want you to come back."

We left grateful for the opportunity of being associated with this "grand old man," and wished him many returns of the day

CAN'T BE FUSSY WHEN YOU'RE 90

Chicago.—Policemen checking reports that Harry Cooper, 30, made lewd telephone calls to Chicago women, found a 90-year-old woman on the list.

In municipal court, where Cooper was placed on a year's supervision Thursday, Policeman William O'Malley said:

"She said she was surprised to get a call from a man but she wasn't mad about it."

ANOTHER FAVORITE GAG

Farmer Jones sat down to write a letter to a city pet shop. He began: "Dear Sirs—Please send me two mongoses." That didn't look right, so he started again: "Dear Sirs—Please send me a pair of mongesees." That didn't look right either, so in desperation he wrote a third note: "Dear Sirs—Please send me one mongoo." Hiram Jones. P. S.—Well, as long as you're sending me one, you might as well send me two."

My friends, read this before you vote for Congressman on July 28th. Be sure you have your eyes open, and your mind working. You don't want to vote in the dark. Read the truth in Avinger, the home town of the man from Iowa, Kenneth Simmons.

Kenneth Simmons was Mayor of Avinger, and rural carrier there. His campaign manager, Bud Felker, also was rural carrier in Avinger, and Marshall Felker is ex-postmaster of that city. Now my friends, Marshall Felker, and Bud Felker were raised in Avinger. Kenneth Simmons is from Iowa. Now all of these three grown men, in 1954, in Kenneth Simmons' race for Congress against Mr. Patman, were able to muster, all together, only 126 votes for Kenneth Simmons in Avinger. Mr. Patman, who didn't get to campaign during that year because of having to be in Washington to look after our interests, polled 88 votes in Avinger. And these three were very active, using the same poor-boy tactics as in the present campaign, with the helicopter lighting in every cow pasture.

Now my friends, in Cass County in 1954, these same three men mustered together 1,882 votes. Mr. Patman got 3,083 votes in Cass County. Marion County, where Mr. Simmons had a Veterans School at one time, gave Mr. Simmons 479 votes; Mr. Patman received 1,283 votes. Now, let's go to Bowie County, home of Mr. Patman. Mr. Patman received 8,120 votes in Bowie County; Mr. Simmons received 3,910 votes.

Now, my friends, if you will notice, in those places where the voters know Mr. Simmons best, he didn't run too well. I challenge the voters of this district to go and check up on Kenneth Simmons before you vote for him. My friends, surely you have noticed by now that he has never told you about his business affairs. Ask him about the Veterans School at Leesville, Louisiana, and ask him about the Veterans School at Jefferson, and ask him about the Little River Mining Company of Avinger. And my friends, he doesn't deny the insurance racket he was engaged in; he just tells you he didn't get all of the $274,000.00. But this doesn't help the poor boys who paid $240.00 plus interest for insurance that was worth only $6.30 if bought with a reputable insurance company. And aren't the records of the votes he received enough to show you good people of the western part of the First Congressional District what Kenneth Simmons' home town of Avinger thinks of him and his campaign managers, and to show you what their home county of Cass thinks of him?

Now, my friends, let's all go home, and thank God that we still have time to correct any wrong that we might have had in our minds. Let's vote for a man we have no doubts about; one who at all times is willing and ready to serve us faithfully as he has in the past. And on July 28th, 1956, let's give to Congressman Wright Patman the greatest vote of confidence he has ever received.
