Soviet Says Western Plan Made For Spies

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko charged today that Western disarmament proposals at Geneva were designed for spying and X-raying the entire territory of the Soviet Union.

He spoke before the Supreme Soviet which opened Monday with the disarmament statement in Geneva as one of the chief items on its agenda.

Premier Khrushchev went through the motions of submitting the resignations of himself and Soviet which opened Monday with the disarmament statement in Geneva as one of the chief items on its agenda.

Russians Launch Another Satellite

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union put another scientific satellite into orbit around the earth today as America's Ranger 4 sped through space toward the moon.

Cosmos III was the third Soviet satellite to be launched since March 16 after a long period of Soviet inactivity in space.

On the other hand, he declared, the Soviet Union has submitted a plan for complete disarmament by which "the entire war machine is to be smashed and abolished in three consecutive stages."

The Russians said their newest Sputnik, Cosmos III, carried scientific instruments to continue the Soviet program of outer space exploration and a multichannel radio-telemetric system to relay information back to earth.

Cosmos III was close to its planned course and orbiting the globe every 93.8 minutes. It said the orbit's inclination to the plane of the equator was 48 degrees 39 minutes, its farthest distance from the earth 445 miles and its closest 142 miles.

The announcement by the Soviet news agency, Tass, gave no indication that there was a man aboard. Presumably the satellite was unmanned.

Western delegations, he added, were throwing up obstacles to real disarmament and trying to get it to meet "to the roar of nuclear explosions."

The Soviet delegates have threatened to walk out of the conference if the United States goes ahead with its intention of starting a series of nuclear tests in the Pacific.

Mooncraft Is On Useless Journey

By CHARLES STAFFORD CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A mooncraft with an injured brain tumbled through space today toward an almost useless collision with the moon after scientists abandoned futile efforts to awaken it from its coma.

Two hours later a spokesman said, "Tracking information indicates that a malfunction occurred in the spacecraft telemetry (radio) system."

More nominees have been logged in the Snyder Daily News campaign to name the "friendliest, most courteous" employes in Snyder.

The deeply disappointed director of NASA's jet propulsion laboratory, William H. Pickering, said, "It's kind of fun, though, to hit the backside. It's not everyone who can do that."

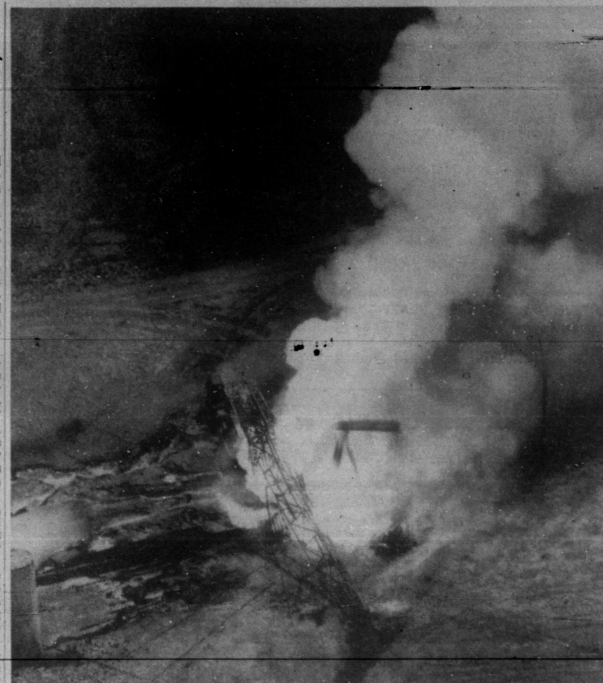

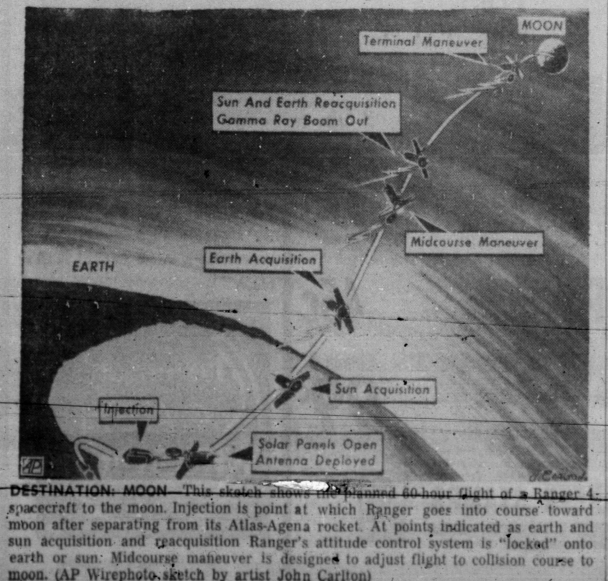

Ranger 4 was lifted aloft by a towering Atlas-Agena B booster at 3:50 p.m. Monday in what appeared to be a beautiful beginning. Its assigned job was to gather information, including closeup television pictures, on the composition of the moon.

At the conclusion of the balloting, the "friendliest, most courteous" woman employe and the "friendliest, most courteous" man employe each will be awarded a $50 savings bond.

A NASA spokesman said the Atlas had pushed the vehicle to an altitude of about 100 miles and separated, that the second-stage Agena had pushed the craft into parking orbit and cut off, that the Agena had fired a second time to

The fact that it hadn't locked onto the sun, he said, "certainly indicates that the trouble is pretty deep in the brain of the system."

WELL FIRE FROM AIR—Smoke billows from an oil well fire near the south city limits of Snyder after gas from the well ignited shortly after noon Monday. Equipment being used in working over the well was caught in the blaze. (Aerial photo by Chuck Wolfe)

NIGHT SCENE—The countryside was lighted up Monday night by the oil well fire just south of Snyder as gas continued to burn throughout the night. Gas pressure reportedly had declined this morning.

Living Costs Soar To Record Level

WASHINGTON (AP)—Living costs, as measured by the government, rose two-tenths of one percent in March to a record level.

The Labor Department reported today its consumers price index rose to 105.9 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This was 1.1 per cent above the level of March 1961.

The rise was attributed mainly to price advances for clothing, fresh fruits and vegetables, drugs, used cars and house furnishings.

The jury, composed of eight men and four women, deliberated less than half an hour before returning the not guilty verdict. Holman had been charged with stabbing Doyle Sharp on Jan. 13.

The living cost increase will mean pay raises for approximately 67,000 workers whose wages are adjusted periodically to the government index.

The interruption of electrical service halted operation at 25 oil wells for a time. The rainfall brought welcome relief for South Texas farmers and ranchers.

Firefighters To Tackle Well Blaze

An attempt to extinguish an oil well fire just south of Snyder was scheduled early this afternoon after the blaze had continued unabated for 24 hours.

Gas from the well, the D. M. Cogdell No. 1 Winston, ignited at about 1 p.m. Monday. The well, which was completed last year to open the Kelly-Snyder (East) Field, was in the process of being "worked over" when the gas ignited.

At noon today, it was announced that salt water would be pumped into the area to cool metal around the well, after which an attempt would be made to extinguish the flame.

Another special warning against lightning went out for the South Texas area along the Nueces River from Tilden to Three Rivers. Many other streams threatened to leave their banks and spread into low areas in the wake of downpours measuring up to 4.75 inches at Realitas near Alice and on the I-10 corridor.

Find Holman Not Guilty

Bobby Holman, on trial for assault with intent to murder, was acquitted yesterday in 132nd District Court.

The jury, composed of eight men and four women, deliberated less than half an hour before returning the not guilty verdict. Holman had been charged with stabbing Doyle Sharp on Jan. 13.

Plastic Balloon Fells Power Pole

SEYMOUR, Tex. (AP)—A plastic balloon 750 feet tall knocked down a power pole as it knocked down near here in Northwest Texas Monday.

The interruption of electrical service halted operation at 25 oil wells for a time. The rainfall brought welcome relief for South Texas farmers and ranchers.

BAND PARENTS ASKED TO MEET

Melvin Montgomery has requested that all band parents meet with him at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the band hall.

New Ballot Is Due Soon

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Jose Maria Guido today decreed the annulment of all elections since December, 1961, and ordered federal control in all provinces throughout Argentina.

The navy has been pressing for a federal takeover in all of Argentina's 22 provinces, a move that would replace all elected officials with federal appointees and dissolve the provincial legislatures.

The decrees wiped out Peronist election victories in the March 19 elections in which they won 45 races for the Chamber of Deputies and the governorships of five provinces and with the aid of other groups won four other governorships.

Informants predicted Guido would sign a decree declaring null and void all elections held since Dec. 17. This would throw out all ballots cast last month for gubernatorial and legislative posts in the provinces and for half the membership in the federal Chamber of Deputies.

Guido's executive order came minutes after army generals took over control of three Argentine provinces from civilian officials.

Guido's action was an apparent prelude to his already announced plans to call a general election before July to choose his successor.

The army took over command in Entre Rios, Santa Fe and Corrientes provinces.

Guido took effect the following day with the military's blessing and at once began pressing Congress to pass a measure letting him serve out Frondizi's term.

There were no reports of resistance to the army takeover.

Friends and supporters of General Edwin Walker, candidate for governor of the state of Texas, will entertain the general at a coffee tomorrow morning at the Snyder Country Club.

Gen. Walker Plans Stop In Snyder

The coffee is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Walker will be en route from Lubbock to Big Spring. Coffee stops are also scheduled for the candidate at Post and Colorado City.

The public is invited to attend.

Some Areas Get Welcome Showers

Texas' spell of rainy weather continued Tuesday, causing flood warnings in a few areas but bringing welcome moisture in many others.

Scattered showers or occasional light rain fell early in the day east of an irregular line linking Palacios, Waco, Abilene and Childress.

Fog hung low at a number of places. It was cloudy and humid in most other sections except for occasional patches of clear sky in extreme Northwest Texas.

Drenching rains moving across North Central Texas Monday evening caused the Weather Bureau to post alerts against flash flooding. Water rising faster than it could drain blocked dozens of overpasses in the populous Dallas-Fort Worth area for a time.

Another special warning against lightning went out for the South Texas area along the Nueces River from Tilden to Three Rivers. Many other streams threatened to leave their banks and spread into low areas in the wake of downpours measuring up to 4.75 inches at Realitas near Alice and on the I-10 corridor.

Occasional showers were expected to continue into Tuesday night over East Texas and parts of Central Texas, while clear to partly cloudy skies were in prospect for West Texas by evening.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 39 degrees at Dalhart up to 67 at Beaumont and Galveston.

Rainfall totals for the 24 hours ending at 6 a.m. included Wichita Falls 1.78, Dallas 2.36, Austin and San Antonio 1.4, Corpus Christi 3.2, Victoria 1.65, Houston 1.40 and Galveston 2.7.

Miss Howell Guest Speaker For Art Guild

The Art Guild met recently at the Martha Ann Woman's Club with Mrs. Myron Roe, hostess, and Mrs. Bill Teaff as program leader.

Mrs. Roe served a salad plate to two guests, Mrs. Wilton Howell, Mary Katherine Howell and 10 members.

Mrs. Teaff presented Mary Katherine Howell, a niece of Wilton Howell, who brought an interesting program on Nigeria. She also presented a slide show in part:

"Nigeria is a country about twice the size of California and is located in the western part of Africa. This beautiful tropical land has only two seasons which last only six months at a time. It averages much over 100 degrees or lower than 70 degrees. It rains nearly every day in the rainy season and hardly at all during the dry season.

"Nigeria's independence from England about two years ago has brought her through many changes. Her people are turning from their small one roomed mud huts to nicer concrete houses with tin roofs.

"My parents have been missionaries there for 18 years now and we have learned many of their customs. The women of Nigeria do most of the hard work. One day while my mother was nursing the sick, a man came to her with a back practically broken. When she asked how it was done, he said that if he happened while helping his wife put a load on her head to carry to market. Say, if any of you ladies are looking for a husband you may try the fatterings of the East. All you have to do is eat and sleep until he thinks you are fat enough.

"The people of Nigeria are very eager to learn. While only 15 per cent out of 25,000,000 are literate and 10 per cent can speak English, with your wonderful pray-

Out-Of-State Groups Argue Race In Texas

By The Associated Press
One out-of-state influence another Monday night trying to take a hand in the Texas gubernatorial race.

Vice chairman Joseph Raub of the Anti-New Frontiersman (ANF) asserted the Kennedy administration was backing an "anti-New Frontiersman" against five other Democrats in the contest.

"Right now there are six candidates for governor," Raub said in a televised Washington interview (Washington Viewpoint). "Five are violently anti-New Frontiersman. One is pro-New Frontiersman. That's a man named Don Yarbrough."

"Now you would think, therefore, that the administration would be supporting Don Yarbrough. But, oh no. Because of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson having a protégé in the race — the former director of the Navy John Connally — the administration support today is going to the anti-New Frontiersman in Texas. Now this is a dreadful thing."

There was no immediate comment on Raub's remarks from any candidate in the race.

Yarbrough was in Houston along with three rivals — Gov.

Price Daniel, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson and Republican Jack C. Clegg.

for a 225-400 Houston Press Club grillroom dinner. About 700 people attended and it took nearly eight hours to introduce all the candidates present.

Raub said that if Yarbrough should be elected, he would be a spokesman for liberalism at all the gubernatorial meetings of the South — the only drive for liberalism in the South on Don Yarbrough as the governor of Texas."

At another point the ANF leader asserted.

"John Connally has campaigned and how could anyone be anything to do with the New Frontiersman. He's against federal aid to education. He's against medical care for the aged."

"He's said in so many words: 'I'm against the New Frontiersman. I'm for retaining power to the states. I'm for cutting taxes.'"

Marshall Formby, speaking at the Waco, asserted Monday he was "the only free candidate in this race" over state fiscal policies which would have meant more and better jobs for Texas.

"With all the natural wealth and advantages enjoyed by Texas," he said, "it is unbelievable that the per capita income for Texas is still less than $2,000 a year."

Stops on Connally's itinerary Tuesday included Brownsville, San Antonio, Harlingen, Mercedes, Weslaco, Donna and McAllen.

Wilson said Daniel claims credit for other men's achievements, asserting that "vice, gambling and corruption ran wide-open in Galveston and other counties during all the years that Price Daniel was attorney general."

Wilson headed back to Dallas for a couple of days of campaigning Tuesday.

Yarbrough offered a plan to make Texas "the manufacturing supplier of Latin America" in a taped television speech carried by the Houston dinner.

As the three main points in such a program, Yarbrough called for scholarships to every school district starting to teach third graders Spanish, to top high school graduates fluent in Spanish and interested in a foreign trade career, and to Texas college graduates wanting to do postgraduate work in Latin American universities.

Yarbrough was scheduled to appear in Fort Worth Tuesday night.

Edwin A. Walker, speaking at a dinner rally in Houston, said he was a Democratic candidate for governor because the party "is betrayed at the top."

"Today you are getting hand-picked officials sent down from Washington," Walker told an audience of about 500 persons. "I'm sure I've got no support from the national level, and that suits me fine."

Walker headed for the Panhandle Tuesday. He planned visits in Pampa, Borger, Amarillo, Canyon, Tulsa, Plainview and Lubbock.

Roy Whittenburg, who opposes Cox for the GOP's gubernatorial nomination, worked in the Dallas area Monday.

A Dallas radio station (KVIL) said Cox and Whittenburg had agreed to engage in a broadcast debate Wednesday evening. Four of the six Democrats running for governor appeared over the same station last week.

the great institutions of this land," Formby said. "Texas should be free to elect a candidate of their own choice without any coercion, intimidation or threat of reprisal."

Daniel told a group of supporters in Houston that no business would think of changing its top four executives in the same year, and added that Texas was going to elect a new lieutenant governor, attorney general and speaker of the House.

"New faces are sometimes important in government," Daniel said, "but today it is more important to the people of Texas that we have a familiar face — an experienced hand, in one of the state's top four elective offices."

Daniel scheduled visits Tuesday at Rosenberg, Wharton, El Campo, Bay City and Angleton.

Connally, in a night speech at Victoria before arriving through the Lower Rio Grande Valley Tuesday, asserted "constant confusion, uncertainty and hesitation" over state fiscal policies which would have meant more and better jobs for Texas.

"I don't feel my 40 years," said Irina Nikolaevna Dobrynia, applying for a job. "I think it is a good age for a woman. You can understand so much more than when you are younger. You think more deeply. Yes, it is much better."

She came to this conclusion Monday night during an interview at a reception she and her 42-year-old husband, Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynia, gave for a group of eight Russian professional women on a month's tour of this country.

Although they've been in their Washington post only five weeks, the Dobrynias have spent seven of the last 10 years in this country, first on his assignments in Washington and later when he was an undersecretary of the United Nations.

An everyday kind of English is something she has learned in her country.

"When I first came in 1952 I couldn't understand a word although I had studied it in Moscow," she said.

Her only child, Elena, 14, wants to teach English, she said with mingled amusement and pride. The girl is now in school in Moscow, living with Mrs. Dobrynia's widowed mother.

Both the ambassador and his wife hold engineering degrees. They met as students at the Moscow Aviation Institute.

"There were only a few girls," she recalled. "I was always interested in mathematics and technical things."

After graduating she worked in an aviation plant until Elena was born.

As for fashion she said, looking down at the chic black little nothing dress she was wearing. "I don't go to any particular designer. When I see something I like, I buy it. I think every woman likes good dresses."

Soviet's Wife Is Happy To Be 40

By JOY MEYER
Associated Press Women's Editor
WASHINGTON (AP)—The slender smiling wife of the new Soviet ambassador makes no bones about the fact that she's 40—and happy about it.

"I don't feel my 40 years," said Irina Nikolaevna Dobrynia, applying for a job. "I think it is a good age for a woman. You can understand so much more than when you are younger. You think more deeply. Yes, it is much better."

Two Girls Found Dead

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP)—The bodies of two 6-year-old girls were found Monday night in an unused refrigerator. Authorities said they were investigating the possibility of a double sex slaying.

Police Chief Winford E. Slaughter said medical examinations showed one of the youngsters had been raped, and the other had been struck in the jaw.

The victims were Stephanie Hanna and Paula Cram, the latter a foster child who had been living in the Hanna home about a month.

Richard Hanna, Stephanie's father, told police he prepared dinner for the girls because his wife was attending a meeting. Afterward, the youngsters were given permission to go outside to play.

When it started getting dark, Hanna went to look for them. Neighbors joined the search and after nearly five hours, the bodies were found in the refrigerator—stored in a garage three doors from the Hanna residence.

'Plasma-Eater' May Help To Control Sun Power Process

By JOHN BARBOUR
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Science now has a plasma eater—a device that looks like an open ventricle blind and consumes superhot gases.

The behavior of these gases can lead clues to scientists who probe ways of creating and controlling the power processes of the sun and the hydrogen bomb to produce cheap power on earth.

The plasma eater, constructed at the Oak Ridge National Laboratory, measures the amount and flow of superhot, electrified gases, or plasmas, as described today by Roger V. Neidigh and I. Alexeev of Oak Ridge National Laboratory in a paper presented to the American Physical Society's spring meeting.

Matter is either liquid as water, solid as ice, gaseous as steam, or finally superhot and electrified as plasmas.

Plasma has been called the fourth state of matter. Science is just beginning to understand some of the strange habits of matter in its plasma form.

For instance, the hydrogen gases of a star are in plasma form. In this superhot state, stripped of their electrons, the hydrogen atoms are reduced to positively-charged and negatively-charged particles.

In this form they can be guided or confined by magnetic fields, and if rammed together hard enough can be joined into new atoms of helium. This process is called fusion, and it is the process that produces the tremendous blast of the hydrogen bomb, and the continuing release of power of the sun and other stars.

The plasma eater is a laboratory device that can measure plasmas.

In plasma devices, the plasmas are contained by bottles or pipes of magnetron.

Following the lines of magnetic force, the charged particles in the plasma follow spiral lines through these magnetic containers.

But scientists have difficulty in knowing just how fast the plasma is flowing.

By measuring the electrical flow in the plasma, the scientists can tell how much plasma is being eaten by the device each second, and consequently how much plasma is flowing through the magnetic container.

Nehru Calls For Delay Of Testing

By The Associated Press
Indian Prime Minister Nehru today appealed to the United States and the Soviet Union at least to resume nuclear testing, not to resume nuclear testing, at least until the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva ends.

In a statement to Parliament, Nehru said if the United States resumes atmospheric tests, the Soviets will do the same and there will be no end.

Nehru warned that such tests at this stage would not only lessen chances of agreement at Geneva, but would also increase the possibility of actual war.

In London, thousands of hand-bomb marchers massed in front of the U.S. Embassy Monday night and held a 15-minute silent prayer.

The group gathered in prayer after a mass rally in Hyde Park climaxing their annual Easter peace march to London from Britain's nuclear weapons arsenal at Aldermaston, 50 miles southwest of the capital.

Canon John Collins of St. Paul's Cathedral, leader of the British campaign for nuclear disarmament, handed an embassy staff member a letter appealing to President Kennedy to abandon his test plan and give "a ray of hope to the world."

Collins then drove to the Soviet Embassy and handed in a letter addressed to Premier Khrushchev urging him to withdraw his threat to stage more tests if the Americans do.

In a third letter handed in at Admiralty House, Collins urged Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to try to dissuade Kennedy from resuming tests.

Authorities in Tokyo, fearing an other fallout scare, ordered daily radiation checks on fish brought back by Japanese boats from the U.S. test area about 2,000 miles southeast of Japan.

Unhurried Pace Set In Berlin Talks

By ENDRE MARTON
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynia are setting an unhurried pace in their talks on Berlin.

They aren't expected to begin probing at the heart of the dispute until after Rusk returns from a round-the-world trip about mid-May.

The two diplomats met Monday—one week after their first conference—and the only reported result of the 90-minute session was Soviet acceptance of Rusk's suggestion that the new round of exploratory talks on Berlin be conducted here.

U.S. officials would not speculate on the reasons of the Kremlin's apparent satisfaction with going slow on Berlin. One possible explanation is that Soviet Premier Khrushchev is pleased with reported U.S. proposals aimed at breaking the Berlin deadlock such as a declaration of non-aggression between the North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations and the Communist Warsaw Pact members.

Monday's meeting was primarily procedural, State Department officials said. Dobrynia, they reported, did not bring a message, nor did he receive any from Rusk. The atmosphere was described as relaxed.

But, authoritative sources stressed, no new ground was broken either. It is most unlikely, they said, that Dobrynia would call on Rusk again this week, and the secretary is scheduled to leave Sunday for conferences in England, Greece, Turkey and New Zealand. He is due back about May 12.

U.S. officials indicated that the timetable for the Berlin talks may be affected by two events this week. The U.S. nuclear tests tentatively scheduled to start in the Pacific and a major policy speech by Khrushchev before the Supreme Soviet.

Rhodesians Hurl Bricks At Whites

NDOLA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—A crowd of Africans shouted antiwhite slogans and hurled bricks at white motorists near here Monday, injuring several drivers and a 14-year-old boy passenger.

The outbreak five miles west of Ndola followed a series of weekend clashes between members of rival African political parties in which six persons were killed.

Irate Mothers To Barricade Street

BOSTON (AP)—Irate mothers of a South Boston housing project planned to blockade a street today in protest of the killing of a 6-year-old girl by a rubbish truck.

The women, 200—strong—said they would parade back and forth across Mt. Vernon Street with baby carriages so trucks could not pass.

Laura Ann Ewing was killed by the city-owned truck Monday as she crossed the street on her way to a store.

"The police can haul us off to jail if they want to," said Joanne Ross, 33, "but the members of the legislature will have to serve as baby sitters."

Fifty city trucks and 100 private trucks use the street each day.

FROM RICHES TO RAGS—Henry C. Soto, who had hoped to net a million dollars a year from the sale of small palm trees, looks over some of his 8 to 10 million palms, wilted and ruined at San Pedro, California. The little trees began to wither and droop a few weeks after being sprayed with weed killer. Soto believes his five-year effort, which was about to start paying off, would have been the first attempt to sell palm trees on a large scale. The packaged trees were to have been sold in supermarkets and department stores. (AP Wirephoto)

Fallout From Soviet Shot Is Twice As Great As '58

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the world's leading authorities on fallout said today radioactive debris from the Soviet Union's atomic test series last fall is expected to be about twice as plentiful this spring and summer as the fallout was following the Soviet tests in the autumn of 1958.

Dr. Willard F. Libby, former member of the Atomic Energy Commission and still a member of AEC's Advisory Committee, told a reporter, "Even though Russia's 1961 series was a 'cleaner' series, relatively speaking, in comparison with the 1958 series, the fallout still will be twice as big as it was in 1958."

Libby's views were not in conflict with those of the AEC which has said radiation to humans from all nuclear tests since 1945—including the Soviet Union's 1961 bursts—will remain within acceptable health limits.

His figures, however, were the first given by anyone related to the AEC making a direct comparison between the fallout from the 1961 Soviet tests and that from the tests of autumn 1958.

Libby said the 1961 Soviet tests produced 25 megatons of fission yield out of a total explosive yield of about 120 megatons—figures which the AEC gave out last December. The fission component of a weapon is the only part involved in producing fallout. By these figures the fission yield was only about one-fifth the total yield.

Libby said the 1958 Soviet series was divided about 50-50 on fission and fusion yield. He has estimated that the fission yield from the 1958 series was between 12½ to 15 megatons. Thus, the total explosive yield was between 25 and 30 megatons.

When the Russians were holding their 1961 series, various scientists estimated that the fission (fallout producing) yield would be much higher than the AEC eventually estimated after analyzing the Soviet tests.

These scientists were making their estimates on the basis of a presumption that the fission-to-fusion yield would be about 50-50.

The AEC found after analyzing the data from the tests that the Russians had made gains in lowering the fission yield of some of their larger weapons, although they actually increased the total explosive yield.

Undraped Forms Still Major Part Of World's Fair Menu

By BOB THOMAS
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—What is there about world's fairs that seems to call for exposure of the female form?

It beats me. All I know is that the undraped babe is as much a part of a world's fair as science exhibits and cotton candy.

What do folks remember about the Chicago Fair of 1893? Little Egypt and her hootchy-kootchy. Who was the star of the 1933 Century of Progress? Sally Rand and her fans.

The Century 21 Exposition was not going to be caught napping. Operators on the glittering show street have come up with new and ingenious ways to present girls in the near-altogether. The customers are lining up for tickets and off in their native habitat. The off-stage area provides reason for the cuties to be seen changing costumes, taking showers and doing other things that might provide interest for backstage peepers.

Then there are the "Girls of the Galaxy" which reduces the sideshow attraction to the lowest denominator. These are a series of lame tableaux in which a couple of semi-nudes stand in total embarrassment while a more energetic dancer does a routine to an electric organ accompaniment.

The Japanese village offers a pearl-diving tank with authentic divers. As any student of pearls knows, the Japanese women collect their oysters in only the scouziest of trunks.

All these have met the approval of the special theater supervisory board, appointed by the mayor of Seattle to safeguard morals.

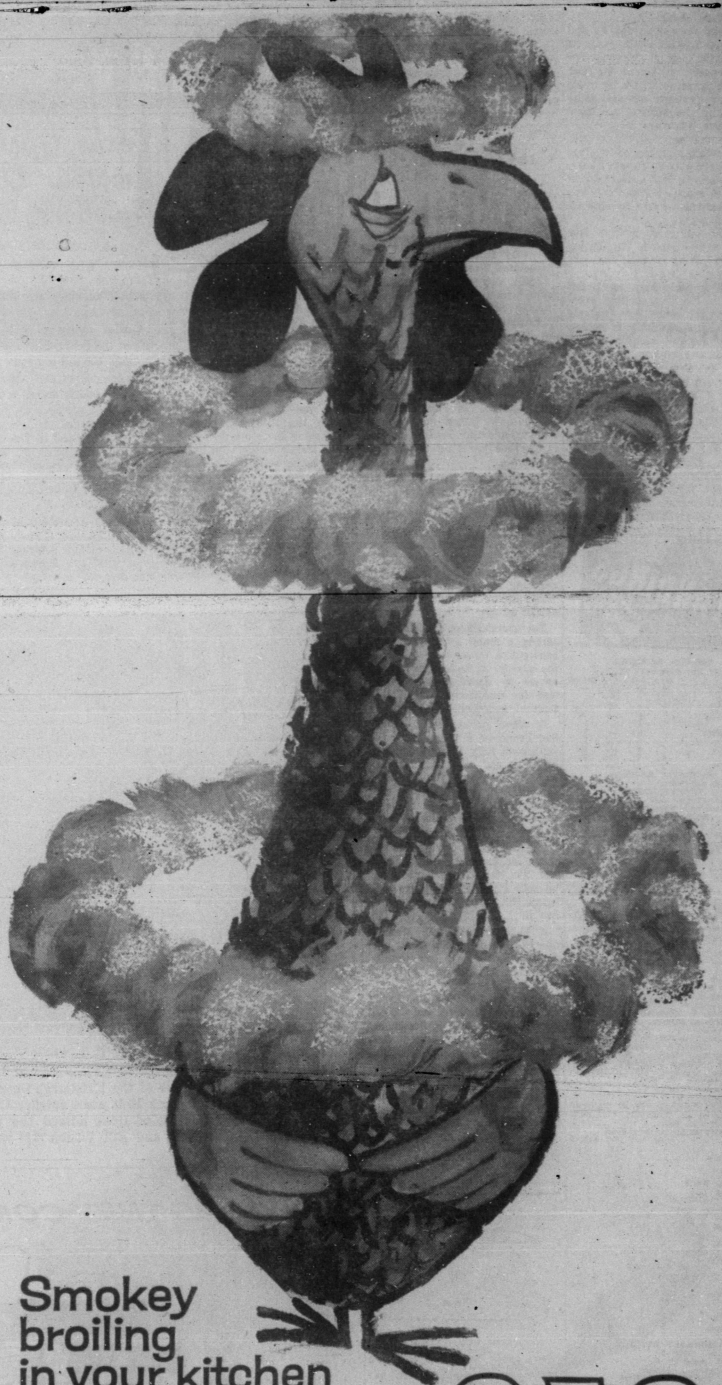

At least two attractions managed to escape the censorial scrutiny and still present spicy shows. One is the "Paris Spectacular," a French import composed of famous historical figures and under all of the covers. The feature attraction in front of the show is the much-publicized queen of the Nile.

Another nude show is offered by a Hollywood import, "Les Femmes de Paris." These are highly talented but sensibly clad three-pieces—perhaps the only puppet show advertised for adults only.

Those are the bare facts about the Century 21 Exposition.

Tigers, Ponies To Battle Here Today

Righthander Leonard Matthews (1-3) will toe the rubber for Coach Sweetwater's Snyder Tigers today at 4 p.m. when they play host to the Sweetwater Mustangs in a District 3-AAA encounter atop the Town Park diamond.

Both of today's combatants began the district campaign on the left foot, losing to Colorado City and Laguna Vista.

Today's loser will be plucked into the cellar, and for all practical purposes out of the title chase.

Lamesa downed Snyder 4-3 and Sweetwater 14-13. Both games went extra innings. Colorado City inched past the Tigers 3-2 and dropped Sweetwater 8-6 for their two wins, the latter a perfect game hurled by the Wolves' southpaw ace, Steve Hillhouse.

Coach Don Witherspoon will counter with righthander chunker Larry Hardin as his mound choice. It will be his first appearance in a district game, as Mike Perry has been dealt both losses suffered by the Mustangs.

Snyder will carry with it into battle a 5-14 record. The Ponies are still looking for their first victory after six defeats.

Shortstop Steve Free sports the fattest of the Tiger batting averages at .317 going into today's fray. Catcher Bob Smith is leading the way for the team in district play, however, with a .571 percentage on the strength of four safeties in seven trips. Pitcher-infielder Freddy Miller is close behind him at .500 with a 3-for-6 reading.

Matthews will be appearing on the hill for the first time since March 31, when he took a brief one-third inning relief tour against Lubbock Monterey.

Moffett's starting lineup (with season averages) is as follows: Spencer Dyer, third base (.224);

Occupying starting positions for the Mustangs will be Perry behind the plate, Hardin pitching, D a n Keys at first, Clyde Wagner at second, Tommy Oliver at third, Ronald Dement at short, Pat Ivy in left, Lance Hall in center, and Ronnie Wright in right.

In other 3-AAA action of the afternoon, Lamesa travels to Colorado City where undisputed possession of first place will be up for grabs.

Casey's Prophecy Fulfilled-Finally

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Some day pretty soon we're gonna beat someone pretty bad," Casey Stengel said. A few hours later, the New York Mets did it.

The prophecy and its fulfillment occurred at Pittsburgh Monday night as Manager Stengel surveyed the results of the Mets first nine games in the National League—all losses—and offered his opinion before sending his cast of hand-me-downs out to meet the Pirates.

The result was a 9-1 victory for the Mets, their first in the National League and the honor of grabbing victory No. 1 for the Mets went to Jay Hook, a 25-year-old right-hander who equalled his entire victory output for Cincinnati last season by checking the Pirates on five hits while ending Pittsburgh's victory streak at 10.

The triumph kept the Mets from setting a major league mark for consecutive losses at the start of the season. It halted the Pirates efforts to establish an all-time high for consecutive wins at the start of a season.

In other games Monday night, San Francisco defeated Cincinnati 4-1 behind Billy Pierce's seven-hit pitching and the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped Milwaukee 5-2. Philadelphia and Houston were rained out. Chicago and St. Louis were idle. The American League had a day off.

Felix Mantilla opened the big game for the Mets with a single and the New Yorkers never let up until Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente hit into a force out to end it.

A 14-hit attack, with Mantilla and Elio Chacon splitting six hits, got the job done and chased Pirates' starter Tom Sturdevant (1-1) in the second inning. Sacrifice flies by Gus Bell and Frank Thomas sent Mantilla and Chacon across with a pair of first-inning runs and gave Hook all he needed.

Hook struck out two and walked only one, allowing the Pirates their lone run in the sixth on singles by Dick Schofield and Dick Groat and Bob Skinner's ground out.

Pierce, 35-year-old left-hander acquired in a trade with Chicago's White Sox, went the distance for his second triumph for the Giants.

Colt, Pony League Registration Set

All boys 13 through 16 years of age desiring to participate in this summer's Colt and Pony League baseball are reminded to register tonight in the high school gym.

Registration will begin at 7:30 and be continued until completed, advises coordinator Joe Williamson. All signees are asked to bring with them a copy of their birth certificates.

Prior to the signing session, all mothers and fathers of boys in the age group concerned are to have an important meeting at 6:30. It will be held in the high school gym, also, and all parents are invited and urged to be present.

The Colt League will be composed of boys aged 13 and 14. Glenn Byrum is president of that league and Broadway Browning vice-president. Heading up the Pony League (boys 15 and 16) is Tom McMillan, with Dan Coe and Jerry Adams as vice-presidents.

Kemp McMillan is serving as secretary-treasurer of both leagues.

Nichols Takes Top Money In Classic Golf

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Bobby Nichols took a flying leap from 22nd to 1st place in the $25,000 money rankings by winning the $20,000 Houston Golf Classic.

He owes it all to a beautiful, 240-yard shot from the rough he made Monday with a four wood.

"It was my best shot of the tournament," said the 26-year-old former Southwest Conference champion from Texas A&M.

It set him up with an eight-foot putt for an eagle on the 19th hole of a scheduled 18-hole playoff to win the Classic's $9,000 first prize.

Nichols defeated Dan Sikes, a 30-year-old unknown from Jacksonville, Fla., and Jack Nicklaus, the 1961 National Amateur champion. Sikes and Nichols tied at 71 on the 18-hole playoff with Nicklaus five strokes behind.

Then came the 19th-hole — the par 5, 330-yard No. 1 on Memorial Park municipal course that Nichols hadn't even been able to birdie in five rounds.

Nichols got into trouble with his tee shot, but it was long trouble. He drove about 318 yards and to the right of the fairway.

He asked his caddy for the No. 4 wood and belted the ball smack onto the green to put the pressure on Sikes.

Sikes, a law grad from the University of Florida, calmly made a birdie.

Nicklaus and Sikes, officially given a second-place tie, won $3,800 each, making it the biggest pay day of the year for all three.

Nichols, a pro since 1959, increased his winnings for the year to $17,474.67 in official money. He had not won a tournament until he finished first at St. Petersburg earlier this year. He picked up enough unofficial money Monday from endorsements to make his eagle worth $14,750.

Stirling Moss Injured In Racing Crash

By JOHN GALE

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—Stirling Moss, daredevil ace of British auto racing, lay unconscious and seriously injured in this world tennis capital today.

Moss, 32, has survived some 20 crashes during his racing career. He had his latest brush with death before a huge Easter holiday crowd watching a 100-mile international race for Grand Prix cars at the Goodwood Auto Circuit Monday.

Moss' V-8 Lotus spun off the track at more than 100 miles an hour and he was pinned in the wreckage for half an hour while rescuers with hacksaws and bolt cutters struggled to free him. In addition to head injuries, he has an injured leg and lacerations. Moss was taken at first to a hospital near the accident. Later, he was moved to the neurological department of a Wimbledon hospital specializing in head and brain injuries.

Moss has been Britain's most spectacular racing driver for many years, but the world championship had always eluded him. His career has been jinxed by mechanical breakdowns.

Monday's crash came after he set a new lap record of 105.37 m.p.h. Eyewitnesses thought it was caused by a throttle which jammed open.

The daring auto racer has never let his luck or his crashes, defer him from returning to the sport.

The Cleveland Indians had to start the 1962 baseball season without pitchers Jim (Mudcat) Grant and Wynn Hawkins. Both are in the Army.

SAFE OR OUT?—Don Hoak of the Pittsburgh Pirates slides home in the eighth inning of the game against New York Mets while catcher Chris Cannizzaro waits for the ball. Umpire Chris Pelekoudas ruled Hoak missed the plate and Cannizzaro tagged him out. Roberto Clemente (21) and Bill Virdon (18) watch the play. Pittsburgh won 4-3. (AP Wirephoto)

Ordeal In Cave Ends Happily For Youths

By BILL RAWLINS
 THENTON, Ga. (AP)—A three-day ordeal without food and water ended happily for three collegiate explorers who carved a narrow perch between themselves and eternity inside a muddy cave.
 The three—two Eagle Explorer Scouts and a novice—were plucked safe, sweet and soggy from a mud bank in the Lookout Mountain cave late Monday. The all-out search began 26 hours earlier. Fraternity brothers found them in a spot experts had overlooked.
 "They're safe!" shrieked their parents when word that the lads were found reached the cave's mouth. More than 150 rescue workers who had toiled in the search bowed their heads in prayer as the famished boys gulped their first hot meal since Friday night.
 The three are James Mason, 21; Bill Bartee, 20, both of Atlanta, and Martin Huddleston, 19, of GOODWOOD, England (AP)—Tony Miller hurtled 5,000 feet to earth Monday with a parachute that only partly opened. He escaped with a dislocated shoulder.

 His rigging lines crossed after a delayed-opening drop in the national sky diving championships. He hit the ground making about 30 feet a second, twice the normal landing speed.
 "The ground was about twice as hard as usual too," said Miller, 24.

Ormond Beach, Fla. They had told friends they planned to explore the cave over the Easter weekend. They were reported missing when they did not return home as planned Saturday midnight.
 Mason and Bartee, who grew up together, are experienced cave explorers. Huddleston is a first-time underground "cave" explorer. "I guess I will be up here," he said with a grin.
 Mason and Huddleston are students at Emory University in Atlanta. Bartee attends Presbyterian College in Clinton, S.C.
 "We went into the cave about 9 p.m. Friday," said Mason. He said they secured a rope at the top of the mud bank to explore two deep holes about a mile inside the cave—which he and Bartee had inspected many times before.
 "We knew there was water down there, but we didn't know how much," he said. "I went down first and hit water about chest deep. The others came on down and found the water soon was over their heads."
 "We swam about 40 feet and it was getting cold and we started cramping pretty good and we swam on back. We decided it was about time to leave and we started to climb up this sheer cliff by holding onto the rope. But by that time it was pretty slimy. The more we tried to crawl up the rope, the harder it got."
 "Using a knife," he continued, "we crawled about 40 feet up the slope and carved out a four-foot trench. We took turns with two of us sitting in it and the third one lying across our laps to keep warm."
 "They had nothing to eat in their more than 60 hours on the ledge," Mason said.
 "We felt pretty confident that somebody would find us, he said, "because we had parked our car and left our coats outside the entrance."

WHY SWELTER IN COOKING HEAT?

COOK COOL with a FLAMELESS ELECTRIC RANGE

Electric cooking is cool cooking because it's flameless and keeps waste heat at a minimum. Electric range surface units transfer heat by direct contact with utensils. They send their heat into the utensils and the food, not into the kitchen air. And because an electric oven requires no oxygen, there's no constant flow of air through the oven, expelling heat into your kitchen. Start now to enjoy another of the benefits of modern electrical living. See your electric range dealer and enjoy cooler cooking... electrically!

Menus Bigger Than Ever, But Difficult To Fathom

BY INEZ ROBB

Does anyone else remember that wretched girl who, a generation ago, always ordered chicken salad? On the whole, she was more to be pitied than the girl whose best friend wouldn't tell her.

For years chicken salad, which I dearly love, was associated with social insecurity and unsophistication. The poor girl who kept ordering it—morning, noon and night—was not only seen on the wrong side of the tracks but apparently lived under them—in a culvert.

She must have hated the stuff, yet she kept ordering it. She wasn't in a rut; she was in a one-way delirium. And she probably sold more books on etiquette, to persons who were trying to get out of the same cul-de-sac, than any gimmick devised before or since.

I have been thinking a lot about the chicken-salad girl recently because her successor is with us today. But she, too, is in a rut. She's the chick at the next table who is ordering a sirloin medium rare, baked potato with sour cream and chives and mixed green salad, no red cabbage, with a choice of French, Roquefort, Thousand Island or oil and vinegar dressing.

The modern miss would like to order something else. But she only has an hour and a half for lunch or three hours for dinner, and she's never going to make it in a "Was a Teenage Eric Vagrant" if she tries to read the modern menu. She won't make it back to the office or even home for the night if she attempts to peruse it from cover to cover.

Oh, for the good, old days when a menu was a small, neat card that simply named the vittles available, and never mind the purple prose in praise of it. In the past decade, menus have rapidly grown longer than "Hawaii" or "Advice and Consent," and more involved in their descriptive passages than anything yet produced by William Faulkner.

And they've gotten so big, the year-d-square menu is standard. Who dares go into a restaurant today without adequate accident insurance against gouging out his companion's eye when he heists the menu?

I remember when the American public used to wonder who named Pullman cars or wrote the President's speeches. Now the great mystery is who ghosts the nation's menus. Who are the heady geniuses who can build a 500-word short story on something as elemental as one broiled lamb chop? I grew up in a simple age when we took a chop on faith, or the platter, and gave nary a thought to the fact that this fair viand is "by World Champion Mary's Little Lamb out of Baa, Baa Black Sheep."

We once accepted the fact that vegetables were garden fresh, not plucked from the dew-kissed soil, and rushed posthaste to the table, provided we didn't actually catch the chef opening a can.

But now—tell me who writes the nation's menus, and I will tell you of an Alfred, Lord Tennyson gone wrong. Or one who is speculating in bicarb stock.

Not even one of those New Frontier lightning, readers, who jet along at 30,000 words per minute, could get through a luncheon menu, eat and race back to his office in time for the late, late coffee break. In my mob I am regarded as a fairly fast reader. But the last time I attempted to read through a dinner menu, word spread through town that I was on a hunger strike.

By the time I read "fims" to that roman-fleuve, the chef had gone for the night and the head waiter was locking up the rubber plants.

Sometimes I wonder if milk from contented cows started this trend in literary menus. Or why the waiter doesn't put the hollandaise on the menu and serve it as the blue-plate special. It would be a fetching sight to see the invention of menu prose eating their own words, medium rare, with baked potatoes, mixed green salad, and no nonsense.

Return Of Grace Delayed For Year

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Grace Kelly's return to the screen will be delayed until next year, says producer Alfred Hitchcock.

Miss Kelly, who retired from films to marry Prince Rainier of Monaco, was to have appeared in Hitchcock's production of "Marlowe" in Hollywood starting Aug. 1.

Hitchcock, now filming "The Birds," said Monday there would not be enough time after completion of that picture to allow adequate preparation for the princess' return.

A representative of the princess said her schedule in Monaco ruled out the possibility of her coming to Hollywood next fall.

Writer Notes Pill-Crazed Populace

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—The Medicine cabinet has become the hope chest of civilization.

A man is no longer judged so much by the number of pills, poisons and lotions he stocks in his bathroom storehouse of health and beauty.

There was a time when a bath-tub was the greatest feature to take a bath. Today a bathroom is a combination clinic, drugstore and beauty parlor.

"I've desire to take medicine," said wise Sir William Osler, "is perhaps the greatest feature which distinguishes man from animals."

Medicine used to be merely the candy of the middle-aged and the elderly. Now it has become a compulsive passion with us, and we seem to be in the grip of a kind of pharmaceutical voodooism.

We no longer take medicine merely to cure what ails us. We can't wait that long anymore. We swallow all kinds of medicines now to forestall all kinds of ills, real or imaginary, that might even possibly afflict us. We coat our insides with medicine as if it were an interior protective blanket.

Many a man now alive can remember when the family medicine cabinet contained only some iodine and castor oil for the children, some aspirin for Dad and Mom, and some baking soda and laxative tablets for the old folks.

One wonders how they all managed to live so long and feel so well amid such bleak medical pauperhood. Not even a single wonder drug in the entire house! Today the two-bathroom home is a necessity not because the average family requires two bathrooms—but because it simply has to have two medicine cabinets in which to stack all the boxes and bottles containing new miracle lozenges and ointments for everything from athlete's foot to eczema.

As a matter of fact, practically every part of the modern home has become something of a disaster area. You'll find medicines from the kitchen refrigerator to the drawer in the bedside table.

Sometimes they even get absent-mindedly swept under the living-room rug.

But the real miracle of our times is this—why, with all this medicine taking, doesn't every man get more fun out of life than his grandfather did?

A fellow now who wakes up in the morning feeling good has an almost irresistible impulse to rush into the bathroom and swallow a tranquilizing pill. We are so used to chasing health that when we actually gain it we suspect something is wrong with us.

Junior Editors Quiz on THE NORTHERN LIGHTS

QUESTION: What causes the Northern Lights?

ANSWER: The Northern Lights, also known as the Aurora Borealis, are caused by electrically charged particles shot off from the sun. The magnetic power of the earth apparently attracts these particles. Some of the particles collide with gases in the atmosphere. The result is striking bands of yellowish-green, red and pale blue across the sky. They begin after a magnetic storm, as a glow far down and close to the horizon. Curved bands of brilliant light begin to appear above the glow, and beams shoot up, moving constantly. Eventually the lights cover as far as one can see. From the earliest days, the Northern Lights have been regarded with great awe, and superstitions have developed about them. Astounded Roman soldiers were certain that some northern province was burning when they first saw the lights. The same lights, are seen in the southern regions, around the Antarctic. That is called the Aurora Australis.

FOR YOU TO DO: The Aurora Borealis can be seen quite often in central Alaska. This is only one of the many attractions of our 49th State. As a new version of the Old West, settlers in Alaska can truly be pioneers. For example, a settler is allowed to homestead. Find out what the regulations are for homesteading in Alaska.

(See Alaska in Action, Kansas City, Mo. 64101 for information. Send your question on a postcard to Junior Editors, in care of this newspaper.)

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

TAXCO, Mexico—The silver business here began as an accident. Some Indians accidentally discovered silver while digging around the mountainside.

Then the Spaniards accidentally found out the Indians had them. They sent a silver mine back when they found out what he could pick for the King.

Mr. Coffey decided that the Indians had been practicing. So he shipped many boat loads back home to the King and deposited a pound or so in his own bank.

And that is the way it went for several centuries. Everybody got mollified about silver and took away enough to build a good size village of sterling.

Then in 1829, Mr. Bill Sprattling came here to write a book. Mr. Sprattling had been an associate professor of architecture at Tufts University for a number of years. Also a writer. And the way he became involved with silver was another accident.

He was riding around town one day with U.S. Ambassador Dwight Morrow.

"My goodness, Bill," the Ambassador said, "After all the silver they have hauled out of here in the past 400 years, you'd think somebody would commence to make objects locally, and sell them on the spot."

"A right sensible thought, Mr. Ambassador," Bill observed. "And a fairly safe one, what with the kings around these days to take off the Royal Fifth in withholding taxes."

This was the beginning of what is now established as the Sprattling Era. Bill opened Taxco's first silver shop in 1931 and became the Frank Lloyd Wright of the spoon and cup business. First thing he did was hammer off the traditional Mexican filigree work and make simple designs. His idea being to dignify through his designs the "humble" materials of Mexico. (Just pass me a large bag of the "humble" Humberto.)

For the next few years, Mr. Sprattling combined fine woods, jade, rock crystal and obsidian with silver in such a manner that he became a very famous gentleman. And Taxco became a very famous town.

But in the 1940's, Mr. Sprattling got himself involved with some out of town sharpshooters on a financial expansion deal. The sharps powdered out with all the trimmings and left him looking at an empty sack. So he retired to his ranch about 10 miles south of here and started again. A comeback from success.

He now operates everything on the ranch with a crew of 32 silver gentlemen and six carpenters. It is said that of the 300 silver shops now going in Taxco, about 90 per cent of their maestros were trained by Bill Sprattling.

From the Sprattling ranch came many of the woods used as handles for serving spoons and such. One, called Purple Heart (in relation to the World War II decoration), is such scarce timber that it is sold by the pound. Like silver.

Indians come from all over the region with stone and obsidian objects dating back to Heaven only knows when. Mr. Sprattling buys these gimmicks and comes up with an idea which is converted into a necklace or bracelet. Some of them go for a thousand or two U.S. but I am informed this is a small per centage of what feels would amount to in a New York or San Francisco shop.

Additionally, Senior Sprattling has his own firing machine, in to make special deliveries of merchandise when he isn't cracking it on the American continent.

On one occasion, Bill Sprattling had a load of purchases to sell in Mexico City, who was catching a plane to the States. As an added touch of hospitality, Bill piled in a box of home-grown strawberries and took off from the Iguala airport.

As he left off the ground, what stopped? Yes sir, the motor. Which left Mr. Sprattling in a very embarrassing spot. Located, to be exact, in a muddy ditch at the far end of the airport.

Rescuers extracted him from the wreckage and announced that he was such a gory mess, he'd have to be rushed to a hospital. Mr. Sprattling said foey and explained it was nothing but squashed strawberries.

After that, and a few unexpected landings on mountainsides, the citizens of Taxco concluded their Mr. Sprattling was indestructible. Just like the big industry he founded.

Pair Killed In Crash Of Light Plane

DENTON (AP)—A light plane carried a business man pilot and his young son to death as it fell into a rain-soaked field Monday.

James Richard Long, 38, of Wichita Falls and his son, James Jr., 9, died in the crash. Long was a grandson of the late James H. Allison, longtime vice president of the Wichita Falls Times and Record-News.

The ship cracked off 10 miles west of here in North Texas as the two were flying home from Dallas.

Mrs. Nevada Boyd, a cashier at the Denton State Bank, spotted the wreckage about 1 1/2 miles behind her farm home, as she arrived from work.

At first she suspected it was part of a barn ripped apart by wind accompanying heavy rain in the area. A check with neighbors showed the barn still stood, and Mrs. Boyd notified Sheriff Wylie Barnes.

The ship fell about 2 miles off busy State Highway 24 in a spot where it was not visible from the road. Barnes said there apparently were no witnesses.

Deep mud forced officers to take the bodies on horseback to an ambulance at Mrs. Boyd's home. They found Long thrown clear of the plane. His son, strapped to a seat, was pinned under a wing.

Long, a former Rice and Southern Methodist University student, represented the Parker-Ford Investment Co. in Wichita Falls. He was a nephew of James N. Allison, publisher of the Midland Reporter-Telegram.

Surviving are two other children, Susan, 11, and Shawn, 5 months; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Long, and a brother, Bob Long, all of Wichita Falls, and a sister, Mrs. B. C. Lee of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Haile Selassie's Younger Son Dies

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie's younger son, Prince Shale Selassie, 31, has died of a liver ailment complicated by pneumonia and gastrointestinal hemorrhages.

Except for one medical bulletin two weeks ago, there has been no official announcement of the prince's illness. When he failed to attend the funeral of his mother, Empress Menen, last February, it was learned he was ill.

The prince leaves his wife, Princess Mahitsent, and one child.

Thief Faces Two Charges

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Police accused Melvin Blount, 34, of twice being a chicken plucking Easter Monday egg.

Detective Anthony Melfi said Blount was spotted inside a chicken store with a large shopping bag in his hands shortly after midnight.

Patrolman Walter Papagua said he grabbed the intruder, the man dropped the shopping bag, which contained a couple of cut up fryers, and fled.

Two hours later, patrolmen De Hurd White, William Doughten and Donald Smith went into the store. Blount was there again, Melfi said. The policemen arrested him and charged him with burglary, larceny, receiving stolen goods and resisting arrest.

Prisoners In Break As Hundreds Watch

MULL, England (AP)—Eight prisoners scaled a 20-foot wall at Hull jail Monday night and made a break for freedom as hundreds of Easter holiday motorists watched.

Nearly 200 cars pulled up on the road in the east coast as the men dropped one by one from the wall. They all were rounded up, within an hour after a chase by prison guards through a cemetery and a lumber yard. Then the homegoing holiday traffic got moving again.

Liz, Burton Back On Set

ROME (AP)—Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton are back on the set for the movie "Cleopatra" after an Easter weekend kissing and holding hands at seaside Porto Santo Stefano.

They did not return together, however, from the secluded vacation resort 40 miles north of Rome. After dinner together Monday night, a chauffeur drove Miss Taylor back to Rome, and the car back and Burton returned today.

Burton denied reports published abroad that he had sent his secretary to London to see his wife, Sybil, about a divorce.

"Absolutely untrue," Burton told a newsmen.

The Aina people of Japan expect a husband to destroy his house when his wife dies so it will be conveyed to heaven for her use.

Europeans In Oran To Bury Riches

By ANDREW BOROWIEC
 ORAN, Algeria (AP)—Europeans in Algeria's once-thriving second city have decided to bury their riches under the debris of disaster rather than surrender them to the Moslem majority in an independent Algeria.

No one has given any reason for the decision, but it is reported that Oran's 200,000 Europeans are asking European men and women straggling under the palm trees why they are willing to court disaster rather than seek peace.

They answer with cold hateful stares: "Disaster and Arab rule came to us."

Each day seems to bring doom closer.

Most of the Europeans admit that Algeria's independence is inevitable and that Moslem rule will come sooner or later.

But they continue to support the desperate, bloody resistance of the Secret Army Organization. The terrorist organization's new commander, ex-Gen. Paul Gardy, has vowed to fight until the end.

Oran is a city outside French law and order. It is a city bracing for final combat against the authority of France.

In the so-called European Oran, there are four islands still held by French troops and riot police: the old and new city hall, the once thriving Hotel Martinez, and the cable and telegraph office.

Elsewhere the law is the secret army with its slogans, posters and terrorist attacks.

French army patrols seldom penetrate the heart of Oran. The Oran civil airport does not function. The secret army has banned all departures. Planes from France land at the military base. A military bus takes suitcases to the gate of the base, guarded by half a dozen armored cars. From there, each passenger is on his own.

Some are met by friends or families. Others hitch a ride to the city through Moslem areas surrounded by barbed wire and guarded by steel-helmeted French troops. Once in the heart of Oran, there is no sign of troops or guns.

Police in white caps stroll, their pistols empty. Their arms were taken away either by the authorities or secret army commandos.

"Here we are at home," the Europeans say. But behind their grins are hidden worries. Eighty per cent of business has come to a halt. The city's biggest hotel has 22 customers for its 115 rooms.

"We are going down," the Europeans admit grimly, "but the Arabs are worse off."

Only a fraction of the 40,000 Moslem working force is employed. No Moslem dares to enter the European quarters, where all persons with Arab features are immediately shot down.

Few Europeans believe the city ever will recover.

"We will go down, but the Arabs will starve," the Europeans say.

Daily Crude Flow Rises

TULSA (AP)—Oil production increased in Oklahoma and several other states during the past week to boost the nation's production 17,200 barrels per day to an average 7,388,875 daily, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma production increased 11,000 barrels daily to 583,700.

Production was unchanged in Arkansas at 77,000; Louisiana 1,326,500; New Mexico 311,000 and Texas 2,556,770.

A DAILY VIEW From me to you

Rev. R. Charles Spivey

"Set your minds on things that are above, not on things that are on earth. For you have died, and your life is hid with Christ in God."

Colossians 3:2-3 (read verses 2:20-3:11)

In this short passage of scripture, Paul is trying to point out that many well-meaning Christians will try to make faith a matter of following certain rules and regulations. "Don't do this; don't do that," they will say, "and then you'll really have Christianity." But Paul knows that the true spirit of Christ comes from an attitude toward life and eternity that is based upon one's experience of the living Christ. Some people have regulations that Christians don't do this or that, and suppose that if they follow that example, Christian faith follows. But this is simply not true! If one does not first have Christ in the heart so that "you have died, and your life is hid with Christ in God," then no amount of outward rules and regulations will make you Christian. No amount of tampering with the frosting will change the flavor of the cake!

Special Train Arranged To Move Negroes

By ERNEST FISCHER
NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—An official of the pro-segregation Citizens Council says, unnamed donors have agreed to underwrite the cost of a special train to move Negroes northward.

The claim from George Singelmann, came after an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said Negroes to ignore the segregationist offer of free one-way tickets out of the South.

Singelmann, a director of the Citizens Council of Greater New Orleans, said in an interview Monday night that donors whom he declined to name have underwritten a special train to cost $50,000. The train would handle 1,000 passengers.

Clarence Laws, regional secretary of the NAACP, said it would be a "tragic mistake for Negroes to assume that they can go to New York or any other northern city on a one-way ticket furnished by segregationists and obtain the same success which apparently has come to the Louis Boyd family of New Orleans."

The Boyd family—parents and eight children—were given bus transportation and incidental expenses to New York last week. They were put up in a hotel suite and showered with attention, groceries and cash.

Boyd, a dock worker who had been unemployed in New Orleans for six months, took a $100-a-week job Monday as a handyman and freight handler at Jersey City, N.J.

Laws said "some people who are destitute might seize upon" the Citizens Council scheme, which he described as a "cruel hoax."

Singelmann said he felt sure that the Louisiana Legislature would appropriate $100,000 at the May session to make additional runs, by the train possible.

Two husbands of Negroes were to leave for Washington Wednesday, but Singelmann said he was occupied in Baton Rouge on the train project, and did not have time to make final arrangements for the trip. He said two buses would head for Washington and one for New York later in the week.

Singelmann said many applications have been filed, and the only problem now is to arrange transportation on convenient dates.

No questions are asked, Singelmann said, as long as the applicant is a Negro and is dissatisfied with his lot in this area. Most applications, he said, are for New York City.

Weather In Nation Is Mostly Mild

By The Associated Press
It was a little chilly in sections of the Northeast but fairly pleasant spring weather was the rule in most other sections of the nation today.

The only wet spots were along coastal areas of the Pacific Coast and in a few spots in the South.

Cold air from southeast Canada dropped temperatures to below freezing in higher elevations from western Pennsylvania to Maine. Temperatures in New York State and New England were some 20 to 30 degrees lower than the summer-like readings of Sunday.

Rain dampened most areas from southeast Oklahoma and eastern Texas into the lower Mississippi Valley. Thunderstorms hit the Houston, Tex., area during the night, with showers reported eastward.

Skins were generally clear and temperatures mild in other parts of the country.

Jaycee Club Behind Bars Gets Charter

MOUNDSVILLE, W.Va. (AP)—A step to simulate a civic consciousness behind the walls of West Virginia Penitentiary will be taken here Sunday.

A national officer of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will present a Jaycee charter to 37 inmates at a dinner in the prison library. This is believed to be the first Jaycee chapter ever organized in a prison.

The inmates held an organizational meeting last week and elected James Thomas Cantrell, serving a life term for murder, as their president.

"We thought it would be very good for the inmate population," said Warden Otto C. Boles.
