8 Children Blown to Pieces by Shell

BLAST CAUSES TERRIBLE AND SWIFT DEATH

Croquet Game Ends Tragically In New York

By Associated Press.

WATERTOWN, N. Y., July 12.—Eight children ranging in age from 11 to 16 years, were blown to pieces today by the explosion of a 75 millimeter shell on the back porch of a home in Dimmick street, occupied by Edward G. Workman and William L. Salisbury.

The dead—Morris Salisbury, 16; Vivian Jones, 12; Olin Brown, 11; Anson Workman, 13; Edna Workman, 14; Sarah Barden, 13, and Donald Morton, 12, of Pulaski, N. Y., who was visiting the Brown boy.

The shell, which was owned by Mr. Workman, was one which he kept as a souvenir and used on the rear porch to hold the door from closing. It was believed to be 'dead.'

The children were playing croquet in the back yard. The shell is believed to either have been set off by the hot sun or struck by one of the victims with a croquet mallet. Windows within two blocks radius of the explosion were shattered.

Practically all of the clothing was blown off the bodies of the children. Fragments of it lodged in trees and house tops in the vicinity. The bodies were horribly mutilated but identification was possible in every instance.

One of the first physicians on the scene was Dr. C. W. Jones, lifting a covering which had been placed over one of the forms, he recognized the body of his 13-year-old daughter Vivian, by means of an adhesive dressing he had placed on a cut on her leg barely an hour before. He did not know his daughter was in the group and was almost overcome with grief.

The bodies of the children were found apparently at places near where they had been standing in their croquet game. Near them lay fragments of the croquet mallets. Several of the balls used in the game were blown to bits and the wickets were torn from the ground.

The shell apparently let go without warning. Fragments of clothing were suspended from trees and house tops. Two automobile tires which had been kept on the back porch were blown to the roof of a building two hundred feet away.

Kentucky Operators Refuse Co-operation

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—Secretary of Commerce Hoover today informed the Missouri Retail Coal Merchant's association that Kentucky coal operators had refused to co-operate with him in keeping prices to a reasonable maximum, based on the Garfield price. The secretary's message was in reply to a complaint sent him by the association alleging profiteering of the Kentucky operators.

The association's message to Secretary Hoover complained that dealers were compelled to charge exhorbitant prices due to the fact that Kentucky operators were charging from $4.75 to $8 a ton at the mines and this put the dealers in the light of 'robbing' their customers.

10 Deputies Here To Guard Road

Ten deputies appointed by United States Marshal Baggett of Dallas, arrived here Wednesday morning and reported for duty to guard the local properties of the Wichita Falls & Northwestern, it was reported in official railroad circles yesterday.

The deputies come in answer to a request made by officials of the M., K. & T., which, still in the hands of the federal receiver, is regarded as all government property.

Although no violence has been threatened in Wichita Falls, the deputies, it was understood, have been placed on guard here merely as a matter of precaution.

Mails Move Along

Thus far in the strike of local railroad employes, the United States mails have not been interferred with, it was reported at the local postmaster's office Wednesday.

However, much mail has been delayed through the cancellation of the Katy trains as a result of the strike, it was stated yesterday.

No special strike orders have been received by the local postal officials, it is understood.

Something About Banks News For Candidates—Strike Action Now—Longest Purse to Win—

TEXAS has an organization known as the Texas Farm Bureau Cotton association. And the war finance corporation has agreed to advance nine million dollars to the association for the purpose of financing the orderly marketing of cotton.

This means the total advance by the corporation of $25,500,000 for handling wheat and cotton of Texas and Oklahoma and Arkansas. According to the experts, the federal reserve bank of Dallas in 1921 assisted to the extent of 30 million dollars in financing the orderly marketing of cotton. That is the federal reserve bank carried the country banks and the country banks carried the cotton growers.

THERE are candidates for the United States senate who should be told that the reserve bank of Boston and the reserve bank of Columbus were drawn on by the Dallas bank for the necessary funds to assist in financing the orderly marketing of cotton away down here in Texas. These gentlemen who are candidates for perhaps the highest office within the gift of the people of Texas have scant praise and much criticism for the federal reserve banks and their methods of doing business. No doubt they are all experienced and know more about banking than the statesmen of America who drafted the federal reserve act and the bankers of America who admit that it is the greatest financial system of the age.

FRANCIS P. GARVAN has been ordered to return to the alien property custodian of all dye patents formerly enemy owned and sold to the chemical foundation of New York while Garvan was alien property custodian.

These dye patents were the property of Germans doing business in the United States. They were seized by the government during war years. They were sold to the chemical foundation. After retiring from governmnetal service, Francis

HOUSTON ROADS UNDER GUARD

Federal Deputy In Control

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, Texas, July 12.—"Why do you ask me for authority, when the president, himself, ordered the mails to move?—put on as many as you need to keep them moving."

So commented Federal Judge Hutcheson here today when United States Deputy Marshal, R. A. Harvin requested authority to appoint more deputies to handle the strike situation here.

Government in Charge.

The federal government virtually took over the situation when Harvin announced he would station deputies along the lines to prevent any interference likely to obstruct the mails. He invited the city "to co-operate in the matter."

Everything was quiet here today. Hearing on the injunction plea sought by the Southern Pacific was postponed until Friday. Union officials announced they would not oppose the injunction unless it was sought because of alleged rioting on the part of the strikers. In that event, this would be contested vigorously, they asserted.

Gompers Flays Proclamation

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The executive proclamation warning against interference with movement of interstate transportation in connection with the railroad strike, and particularly against interference with the United States mails was declared tonight by Sam'l Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, to be "calculated to make a fetish of the transportation act and of the railroad labor board."

ORIENT WON'T BE ABANDONED OVER NIGHT

Freight to Be Put Thru On Other Roads

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Washington Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—After an all-dy conference here today, the question of whether or not the Orient railway would be saved from abandonment was undetermined.

The conference was attended by Interstate Commerce Commissioners McChord, Myer and Hunter, Railroad Commissioner C. E. Gilmore of Texas, Clye M. Reed, chairman of the Kansas public utilities commission, representatives of the Orient and of adjoining trunk lines.

On emerging from the conference, Commissioner Gilmore said that while no definite action had been taken, he believed good would result from it. Commissioner Gilmore said that the people along the route would have ampl notic if it was decided that abandonment could not be prevented.

"You may be sure that the road will not be abandoned over night, leaving the people along the route without provisions and with their crops on their hands," Commissioner Gilmore said.

The method for saving the road declared was to have the Rock Island, Texas & Pacific, Fort Worth & Denver, Santa Fe, Missouri Pacific and other trunk lines divert enough business to the Orient to meet its deficit. Traffic representatives of these connecting trunk lines will report back to the interstate commerce commission here on July 20 as to the possibility of meeting the situation in this manner.

The great damage to Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas which would be brought about by the abandonment of the Orient was stressed at today's meeting. Following an address by Senator Sheppard, the meeting went into executive session. Both Kansas and Texas had representatives here, but Oklahoma was unrepresented.

Former Congressman In Critical Condition

By Associated Press.

KERRVILLE, Texas, July 12.—Former Congressman Martin Dies of the second Texas district, following an operation for acute appendicitis here Saturday was reported late tonight in a critical condition. Relatives have been summoned to his bedside. Mr. Dies is at the Secor hospital, where its was said tonight that he might not survive until morning.

Stores Must Sell Supplies to Workers

By Associated Press.

TOPEKA, Kan., July 12.—Store keepers who refuse to sell supplies to workmen employed in railroad shops will find their places of business closed by state troops under order of Charles I. Martin, adjutant general, according to a report of the method of the general's procedure reaching Governor Allen today.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 12.—The German steamer Aladin was seized by a United States marshal here today following the arrest of the engineer, Albert Rettick, on a charge of violating the prohibition laws.

Russian Chasm Yawns Wider

By Associated Press.

THE HAGUE, July 12. — Two stormy sessions of the conference on Russian problems today disturbed the calm of the Carnegie peace palace and apparently ended all chance of an agreement between the Russians and the other powers. Another session will be held tomorrow which is generally expected by Russians and non-Russians to condemn the Hague conference to absolute failure.

The chasm between the Russians and the other powers apparently is far wider than at Genoa and the non-Russian group is not divided as it was at Genoa.

Business Men Put On Show Here on Return From Trip

Harrison Thanks All For Maintaining in Spite of Heat Old Enthusiasm Thruout Entire Journey

With dusters a little dusty and faces somewhat tanned but with enough pep left to kick up their heels like young colts and yell hurrah, Wichita Falls trade trippers alighted from their special train on the run when it pulled into the union station at 7 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and formed in line of parade.

Coming back as conquerors of public approval in a vast trade territory where business man greeted business man and acquaintances became friends the trippers, like conquerors of old, paraded up the main streets behind the band playing popular music and formed a circle in the street intersection at Eighth and Scott streets where for 15 minutes music, song and speech-making took place and where hundreds of people assembled to welcome home the trade evangels and give their cheers.

Harrison Addresses Crowd.

Bert Bean, R. E. Shepherd and Hubert Harrison who marched in the head of the band, formed the center of the circle and with Mr. Shepherd, as song leader, two numbers were rendered to the delight of the listeners.

Then Hubert Harrison made a speech in which he told of the splendid success of the trade trip, of what the trippers have accomplished and the splendid welcomes they had been given. In the name of the trade trip committee he thanked each individual for the splendid spirit shown and praised the spirit of Wichita Falls.

Mr. Harrison called the names of officials of the expedition and officially thanked each of them. Among those he mentioned were Bert Bean, general chairman; R. E. Shepherd, major of the march; Dan Daniels, captain in charge of the line of march; and the following lieutenants who had charge of the cars: Jim Barnard, Alf Miller, L. M. Cregor, Charles Nolen, and Horrace Robbins. He also complimented Eddie Perdue of the Record News for furnishing monkey-shines on the journey. The orators were held responsible for much of the success, Mr. Harrison mentioning all of them, including Finley Weldon, Raymond Myers, George Platt J. Wilkie Talbert, Jim Chatham, who had charge of the trains, L. V. Lawler, director of the band and all the band boys, were equally complimented on their spirit and service. E. S. Goodner, who had charge of the meals, was likewise mentioned complimentary by Mr. Harrison.

Rail Officials Thanked.

In addition to this the chamber of commerce executive gave credit to the railroad officials who took care of the special train and got it over the road on schedule in the face of the shopmen's strike. Among those he mentioned were R. W. Miller, superintendent of the W. F. & S., Trainmaster Brown of the same road and L. D. Price, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Rock Island, H. T. Smith, passenger agent, M. K. & T., F. W. Grace, superintendent of the M. K. & T.

COAL STRIKE CLEARING UP

Anthracite Owners Act Favorably

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Anthracite mine owners today submitted a response to the government's offer of arbitration in the coal situation that President Harding was said to have regarded as a complete acceptance.

Meanwhile the miners' union and to a degree the bituminous coal operators continued to pursue a policy which high officials declared was intended to evade or delay any immediate response. Officials said they saw a disposition to reject the government's settlement plan if public opinion would approve such a course.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, and other officials of that organization, called on Secretary Davis today. They were understood to be endeavoring to induce the president to make the arbitration proposals to apply to all the partially unionized territory as well as the mining area shut down by the bituminous strike. So far as the willingness of anthracite operators to settle was concerned, Mr. Lewis said: "Arbitration in the anthracite fields would be considered by the mine workers along with the bituminous arbitration proposals at the general policy committee meeting Saturday."

WICHITA MAN IS BEATEN UP

By Associated Press.

DENISON, Texas, July 12.—E. L. Cox of Wichita Falls, Texas, an electrician, was taken from a Katy train at Waco, Texas, escorted 12 miles from that place and beaten by a band of unknown men, according to a report received by M. K. and T. officials here late tonight. Cox was employed in the M. K. and T. shops here as a strikebreaker, it was stated, but was asked by union men to leave town a few days ago.

Efforts to learn more of the identity of E. L. Cox, mentioned in the foregoing Associated Press dispatch, were futile early Thursday morning. It is thought likely that he may have worked in local railroad circles at some time in the past but this could not be ascertained.

Woman Is Charged After House Burns

Bond of $1,000 was set in the justice's court Wednesday when Mrs. Carrie Skipper, charged with arson, waived preliminary hearing. The woman made the bond and was released.

Mrs. Skipper is charged with arson in connection with the burning of a house which was destroyed when three homes located on McGregor street were razed Saturday night.

C. and O. Clerks Sure to Strike

RICHMOND, Va., July 12. — A strike of union clerks employed throughout the system of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad from Newport News to Chicago is practically certain, said H. J. Osborne, general chairman of the clerks' brotherhood here tonight, after a reply from the road to the unions' demands.

PEKING DEFIED.

By Associated Press.

PEKING, July 12.—The governor of the province of Che Kiang has openly defied Peking and a movement is said to have gained headway in Che Kiang to invite the provinces of Fukien and Kawng Tung to establish an autonomous government with Dr. Sun Yat Sen at its head.

Oil City Physician, Whipped By Band, Refuses to Talk

By Associated Press.

OIL CITY, La., July 12.—Dr. Herriott, a local physician was taken from his automobile by three unmasked men unknown to him, escorted to the woods some distance from town, whipped with a wet rope and returned to the street Saturday night. He has refused to give investigating officials any information other than admitting the above facts.

QUIET RULES IN TROUBLED DENISON ZONE

Local Authorities Able to Quell Rioting

By Associated Press.

DENISON, Texas, July 12.—Reports that more strike-breakers will be brought into Denison to fill the ranks left vacant by the walkout of shopmen were current here tonight and though the situation had apparently quieted down following the clash which occurred early this morning, there was an unmistakable tenseness in the air. According to the reports the strike-breakers will be brought here in automobiles from nearby towns, presumably from Sherman.

Pickets have been urged by members of the executive committee of the local shop crafts to refrain from any violence and union officials here are making every effort to see that order is maintained. Sheriff Boyd Craig held a conference with the executive committee men this afternoon and later issued a statement to the effect that troops would not be necessary to prevent further disorder.

Reports Exaggerated.

Mayor Weaver tonight declared that reports of the clash had been exaggerated and tonight sent a message to Governor Neff asking that "no troops be sent to Denison, unless some necessity arises, as we believe such action would be an unwarranted reflection upon the character of our citizenship."

H. E. McGee, general manager of the M. K. & T. left today for Dallas to confer on the strike situation. It is understood that from Dallas he will go to Austin to request that troops be sent to Denison, though this report could not be confirmed.

The condition of J. W. Pike Sr., who was shot during the clash here this morning is not regarded as serious, it was announced at the hospital today. He was interviewed today by Sheriff Craig, who later expressed the belief that the shooting of Pike was accidental.

According to Sheriff Craig, the shooting occurred during an encounter between Pike and two unidentified men. The officer declared that, according to information he had received, the two men approached Pike and that when Pike, fearing trouble, prepared to defend himself one of the pair drew a revolver.

Pike, it is said, struck at him with a broom and it is believed that the weapon was discharged by the blow with the broom.

GERMANS SAY THEY'RE BROKE

Unable to Make Payments

By Associated Press.

PARIS, July 12.—Germany served notice on the allied powers throughout the reparations commission today that she could no longer meet cash obligations of any sort, whether growing out of the Versailles treaty or arranged by the schedule of payments drawn up by the reparations commission on March 21.

The depreciation of the mark is given as the reason for the impossibility of Germany to meet the payment of 32,000,000 gold marks on Saturday as well as all subsequent payments in 1922, 1923 and 1924.

The German note submitted to the reparations commission makes no mention of Germany's intention regarding cash payments after 1924, but asks that the negotiations for a foreign loan interrupted at Paris last month be resumed at the earliest possible date or a financial, economic and social catastrophe in Germany is likely to develop.

Senate Takes Up Tariff On Textiles; Long Fight Ahead

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 12. — Completing consideration of committee amendments to the agricultural schedule after two weeks' work, the senate launched today into what promised to be a several weeks' fight over tariff duties on textiles—cotton, wool, linen and silk. The cotton schedule was the first in order, but only one amendment was disposed of, this providing for a duty of seven cents a pound on Egyptian cotton designed to protect the growers of long staple cotton in Arizona and Southern California.

A flood of amendment to some sections of this schedule were offered by Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, on behalf of the finance committee majority, these representing the work of the committee in re-writing rates.

Morgan On Stand

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 12.—Lon D. Morgan spent five hours on the stand this afternoon in his defense to the charge of having embezzled money while chief clerk of the treasury department. He introduced an auditor's report showing treasury shortages occurring after his arrest. His trip to Mexica where he was arrested was made to reorganize Masonic lodges by authority of Texas grand lodge officials, he testified.

"I am going back to selling bananas," he wrote in his resignation, "then I can be the boss."

5 KILLED IN TRAIN CRASH

Flier Hits Freight Head-On

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 12.—Five persons were killed and about fifty injured, most of thems eriously, when the Missouri. Pacific "Svenic Limited" flier, westbound from St. Louis to California, collided headon with a local freight train near here tonight.

The flier was running half an hour late on its schedule. It left St. Louis at 9 o'clock this morning after connecting with a Pennsylvania railroad fast train from New York and Philadelphia. Most of the passengers were from the east, a railroad oficial said tonight. The train makes few stops in Missouri and Kansas.

Misunderstood orders are believed by officials to be the cause of the wreck.

The injured included: Mrs. J. D. Newman, Shelbyville, Indiana, internal injuries; Mrs. C. C. Hartman, Minneapolis, Minn., left shoulder bruised and back wrenched; Mrs. F. H. Morton, St. Louis, internal injuries; J. S. Lassater, Ordway, Colorado, left side of head and left eye crushed; Buford R. Russell, Bard, Mo., arm broken, cut on head; James Moses, Kansas City, engineer on passenger train dangerously scalded, perhaps fatally, death expected and A. W. Armentrout, Centralia, Washington, bruised about body and legs; Miss Irene Levy, Little Rock, Ark., bruises; Mrs. George C. Stolman, St. Louis, extent of injuries not learned; W. O. Crum, Osawatomie, Kansas, right leg crushed; Mrs. George C. Stubin of St. Louis, Mo., internal injuries.

Eleven negroes, most of them from St. Louis riding in the smoking car, were badly bruised and cut.

British Don't Know America Says Geddes

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 12.—Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, told a large gathering at the Pilgrims banquet in his honor tonight that England did not wholly understand America. It was vital that more of the people of England should visit the United States to become acquainted with the remarkable characteristics of the people and the extraordinary industrial, engineering civic and educational progress of the country.

"Endless numbers of Britishers go to America to deliver lectures or beg money," he said. "It has been my pleasure to tell such persons humbly to keep their mouths shut and to give up begging and return home."

Shots Fired In Bloomington Yards

By Associated Press.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., July 12.—At 1 o'clock this morning the sentinels on duty at the southwest sector of the Chicago and Alton shops reported two shots evidently fired from a point but a short distance away. No one was struck.

RAIL CHIEFS REFUSE TRUCE FROM UNIONS

Strike Settlement Plans Being Drawn

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 12.—Railway executives tonight left open the door for a settlement of the strike through the United States railroad labor board, at the same time refusing flatly to meet the leaders of 400,000 striking shopmen to discuss peace proposals.

The executives reached an agreement with the heads of the "Big Four" brotherhoods not to require their numbers to do any of the work of striking shopmen. They then immediately began consideration of a peace program submitted by Ben W. Hooper, chairmen of the labor board after a conference with B. M. Jewely, head of the striking shopmen.

The railroad executies asserted, in the form of a letter addressed to Mr. Hooper, the strike was called in defiance of the board and that therefore any conference between the executives and the strikers would not be "permissible or tolerable" as it would place the strikers in the position of seeking to find means to subvert the decision of the board.

"A prompt recall of the strike order," the letter indicated, however, would permit the resolution of former methods of conference and permit the consideration of any matters which representatives of the employes might desire to submit."

The letter was signed by Samuel M. Felton, president of the Chicago & Great Western railroad; L. F. Loree, of the Delaware & Hudson; B. F. Bush of the Missouri Pacific, and Whiteford R. Cole of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis.

"It means flately No!" declared Mr. Felton, when asked reagarding the decision reached by the executives as he left the conference room at the Chicago club.

Meanwhile violent outbreaks between strike sympathizers, railway guards and federal marshals were reported in increasing number and annulment of trains continued in many sections of the country. One man was killed, several were seriously injured and a score were kidnaped and beaten in these outbreaks.

The most serious outbreak was at Denison, Texas, where 51 men were attached by a mob early today, including 48 being brough to Denison to be sworn in as federal marshals.

METAL TRADES MAKE NO MORE REPAIRS.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Members of all unions affiliated with the metal trades department of the American Federation of labor were instructed in orders sent out today from the headquarters here that no further repair work will be authorized on locomotives coming from railroads on which strikes are in progress to outside shops employing union labor.

Trouble Feared In Michigan Yards

By Associated Press.

SAGINAW, Mich., July 12.—A request was sent to Governor Groesbeck at Lansing late tonight for state troops to maintain order here when a threatening crowd, estimated to number 1,000 persons, gathered about the Pere Marquette yards.

One report which officials could not at first confirm was that strike sympathizers had broken into the Pere Marquette roundhouse, seized strike-breakers brought here by the road, and marched them toward the Saginaw river.

Houston Man Held On Murder Charge

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, July 12.—E. J. Hollan was held without bail late this afternoon following preliminary hearing chrged with shooting to death of C. T. Goodson, ex-service man and son of Ptrolman W. A. Goodson. Goodson was under indictment for the murder of George Buzzett when he was shot but there was no connection between the shootings.

Two Interfere With Trains; Pinched

By Associated Press.

SHREVEPORT, La., July 12.—D. M. Hixon, boilermaker, and Buster Walker, negro laborers, at the V. S. and P. roundhouse here before the railway shop crafts strike, were arrested Wednesday by C. W. Page, chief deputy United States marshal, on warrants charging violation of an act of congress of 1890 prohibiting interference with the operation of trains in interstate commerce.

STRIKE IS FELT AT VERNON

No Disorders But Minor Bother

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, July 12.—Thus far inconvenience in Vernon yards resulting from the nation-wide railroad strike has been only of a minor nature. The Fort Worth & Denver has experienced considerable difficulty in keeping a car inspector, machinist and coach cleaner. No disorders have been reported locally.

A freight was halted about 30 minutes in the Denver yards Tuesday morning, while a vacancy in the yards was being filled. Strike sympathizers are said to be visiting non-union men after working hours and pleading with them not to take the places left vacant by those who walked out.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

P. Garven became the president of the chemical foundation. Now what was wrong with the sale of the dye patents? Is Garvan an innocent purchaser?

ATTORNEY GENERAL HARRY M. DAUGHERTY has authorized the employment of thousands of deputy United States marshals if necessary to maintain law and order and to keep the trains running. There are many of the rails in the hands of receivers. This places them under government control. There are times when government control appears to be eminently satisfactory to the owners of the railways.

This is one of the times. Of course the rail chieftains maintain that the strike is illegal that the wage reductions were made by order of the railway labor board and that by going on strike their former employes defied an order of the government and became outlawed.

THIS is the railway side of it. Employes who refused to accept the wage reductions declared that they were denied a living wage and that the only alternative left them was to strike for a living wage. Now the battle is on and the largest purse will be the winner. Who controls the longest purse.

THIRTY school teachers visited Austin for the purpose of holding a conference with Governor Neff to talk over with him an educational program for the coming school year. Of course the governor assured the committee that when the legislature convenes in January he will ask the lawmakers to appropriate at once a sufficient sum of money to run the schools this coming year, the usual length term, such as had been maintained in the state for the last few years.

As a matter of fact this has been the governor's plan all along, but it will not appeal to Colonel Thomas N. Jones of Tyler who has been calling all along for a special session of the legislature at a cost of one hundred thousand dollars to the tax payers to appropriate six million dollars "to aid the rural schools."

COLONEL JONES is a gentleman who would gladly appropriate millions of the peoples' money if he had the power. He bleeds inwardly and outwardly most of the time for the poor children of Smith county and all the time for the poor children in all the other counties.

He knows that unless he has his way, the millions of children will grow up with undeveloped brains and untrained hands. A wonderful philanthropist is Colonel T. N. Jones of Smith county.

NOW his heart throbbings will cease when he is told that when the legislature convenes in January Governor Neff will ask the lawmakers to appropriate at once a sufficient sum of money to run the schools this coming school term the usual length term such as has maintained in the state for the last few years. This will prevent the closing of the doors of the Smith county school houses .This will prevent the dismissal of the Smith county school teachers. This will save the boys and girls of Smith county from the blight of illiteracy. On with the battle for rare educational facilities, for modern public highways, for the conservation of flood waters, for the prevention of valley lands from overflow and for the enforcement of law in Texas.

TITSWORTH GIVES BOND FOR $2,500 IN ASSAULT CHARGE

Following an alleged assault occurring at Electra Tuesday, J. M. Titsworth gave bond of $2,500 Wednesday on charges of assault with intent to murder. The charge was brought in Justice R. V. Guinn's court by Deputy Sheriff W. H. Lay.

Titsworth is alleged to have struck his former partner over the head with a hammer during a mele which is said to have resulted from differences over the possession of an air compressor. The man who is alleged to have been assaulted was reported yesterday as improving rapidly.

PROGRESS MADE IN RHODES-EVANS CASE

The plaintiff in the case of G. C. Rhodes vs J. B. Evans et al, on trial in the 89th district court before Judge P. A. Martin, will probably rest early today, it was intimated at the close of court Wednesday. The case will probably not be in the hands of the jury until sometime Friday.

Rhodes is suing Evans et al for $30,000 damages alleged to have been due his crops through certain alleged oil operations.

Sing Yourself to Health

Singing is recommended by a French savant for the improvement of the health. Especially nervous people are much benefited by this treatment. It is explained that it develops deep breathing and has an inexplicable soothing effect on disturbed nerves. The new treatment originated with M. He says it has had a beneficial effect on many other diseases

THOUSANDS ATTEND RADIO WEDDING

(By Central Press)

DALLAS, Texas, July 10.—Thousands of radio fans over Texas and nearby states "listened in" to the first three-way radio wedding in history, when John H. Stone, local radio operator and Miss Mabel Ines Brady, popular Dallas debutante, were united in marriage by radiophone.

The bride, the groom and the officiating minister each were at different broadcasting stations.

Radio fans, advised in advance of the impending wedding, tuned up to 360 meters and promptly at 8:30 o'clock heard the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march broadcast from WAFF. The Rev. Thomas A. Harper, congregational pastor, was introduced and after the bride and groom had announced from their respective stations that they were ready, he proceeded with the marriage ritual.

When the couple were asked individually to repeat the nuptial vows, WFAA shut off while the other stations, WR and WDAO cut in one after the other for the responses. To the thousands of fans who were listening in, there was no interruption or break between questions and answers, the technical details of the ceremony having been carefully arranged in advance.

After the benediction the bride and groom sealed the pact with a kiss which was broadcasted simultaneously from both stations.

The wedding was the final chapter of a radio romance which started by radiophone when Miss Brady, a radio fan, "fell in love" with the voice of the broadcast operator — John Stone.

GRAHAM WILL HAVE DEMOLAY

Wichitans to Help In Installation

A request that they come to Graham at some date in the immediate future for the purpose of aiding in the installing of a DeMolay chapter in that city was received Wednesday by officers of the Hope Chapter of DeMolay here. A meeting has been called for tonight at which time a vote will be taken as to what action will be followed regarding the request.

Officials of Hope chapter intimated that probably 25 members of DeMolay would go to Graham Saturday to aid in the new installation. They were confident that no trouble would be experienced in gaining the sanction of Masonic officers here.

The request from Graham was signed by Clarence Phoenix, a prominent Mason there.

Hearty Greeting at Breck.

One of the busiest and most delightful days of the trip was Wednesday, according to the business men who were on the special. The train pulled in at Breckenridge for breakfast and they found the Record News there in time for them to read the latest news of the night and day before. They were met by members of the chamber of commerce and city officials, They were given a hearty welcome, Secretary Ray B. Leach of the chamber of commerce and Mayor W. H. Fulwiler making addresses of welcome and the mayor turned over the keys of the city to the Wichitans.

Then the ladies of the Baptist church served a breakfast which the trippers said was one of the most delicious meals of the trip. The entire town, one of the most progressive in the southland, was thrown open to the visitors.

Editor Greets Visitors.

At Eliasville, P. E. Mahon, well known banker, delivered an address of welcome which was responded to by George Platt. The trippers mingled for some time with the business men of Eliasville and then entrained for South Bend and other points. At South Bend, J. W. Trainer, editor of the New Era made an address of welcome which was responded to on behalf of the Wichita trippers by Raymond Myers.

The noon-time stop at Graham was a big event. When the special pulled in Judge Stinson made a very hearty address of welcome and expressed the spirit of his fellow townsmen in welcoming the trippers.

To his address Judge H. F. Weldon responded. The ladies of the Christian church served a very elaborate dinner and for more than an hour the Wichita crowd mingled with the Graham citizens.

Olney Opens Up.

At Olney the town was thrown wide open to the visitors. The band played a big part here as elsewhere and the address of welcome by one of the prominent citizens was responded to by J. Wilkie Talbert who told the people of Olney how glad the Wichita people were to visit with them.

The last stop of the trip was at Archer City. Here a rousing welcome was given the trippers. As at other places, practically the entire town turned out to greet the Wichita bunch. Bill Foger, one of the best known and best-loved citizens of the prosperous little city delivered an address of sincere welcome and it was responded to just as sincerely by Judge H. F. Weldon. The trippers felt that they were almost home again and they felt at home and were given a home welcoming. When they left Archer City they entrained for Wichita Falls.

Burk Man Purchases $325,000 Worth of Federal Land Notes

Special to the Record News.

BURKBURNETT, July 12. — Among the many interesting financial transactions that mark the history of Burkburnett was the recent purchase of $325,000 worth of feedral land bank bonds by John G. Hardin, $285,000 of which were issued ... Chicago this week.

This instance represents but a small item in estimating Mr. Hardin's financial ratings, and when asked by the reporter as to the secret of his vast accumulations, Mr. Hardin said that he came to this country 43 years ago, borrowed money to buy a few hundred acres of land; and, by hard work, strict economy and wise investments, he had accumulated his present wealth. Mr. and Mrs. Hardin have no children of their own, but have reared and educated three orphan children, all of whom they established in life; and are leading citizens of the communities in which they live.

Now That's Rather Odd

CHICAGO.—A statewide referendum in Illinois on light wines and beer sentiment is virtually assured at the November election, according to Anton Cermak, Chicago alderman and chairman of the committee in charge of gathering signatures for the petition to put the question on the ballot. More than 500,000 signatures have been obtained, Alderman Cermak said. Only 300,000 are required.

TESTIMONY ENDS IN MORGAN CASE

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, July 12.—The state concluded its testimony this morning in the trial of Lon D. Morgan, former chief clerk in the state treasury, for alleged misapplication of state funds, and the defense began examination of its witnesses. The case is expected to be given to the jury today.

GALVESTON HEAD TO HAVE GULF CONTROL

By Associated Press.

GALVESTON, July 12.—Under regulations effective August 1, Captain James M. Phillips, coast guard superintendent here, will have jurisdiction over the entire gulf coast from Key West to the Rio Grande, the eighth and ninth district being consolidated to form the eighth district, it was learned here today.

FLOOD PREVENTION CAMPAIGN ENDORSED

By Associated Press.

WACO, Texas, July 12.—The Texas Commercial Executive association in session here adopted resolutions today endorsing the campaign instituted by the west Texas chamber of commerce on behalf of flood prevention, water conservation and irrigation, and pledged support. Also the work of the Texas Highway association in the effort to obtain a connected system of public highways, and insisted on the promotion of more cordial relations with Mexico.

TEACHERS ORGANIZE.

BURKBURNETT, July 12.—The teachers of the First Baptist church and other members organized a Sunday school teachers training class this week under the direction of the pastor, Rev. A. R. Robinson. They will meet several nights each week taking up the normal manual for teachers as a text book of their study.

MRS. EVANS WINS.

Judgment for the plaintiff was the verdict in Judge Ed Napier's court Wednesday afternoon when the case of Mrs. Ora M. Evans vs Wichita State Bank & Trust company et al was called for trial.

Mrs. Evans sued for possession of some notes which she allege the bank held.

Don't think that it's what a man has that makes him contented—it's what he doesn't want.

Funeral Service For Green At Burk

Special to the Record News.

BURKBURNETT, July 12.—John A. Green, an old and highly respected citizen of this city, passed away at an early hour Tuesday morning at his home on East Fourth street.

The funeral took place from the family residence Tuesday afternoon, the services being conducted by Rev. A. R. Robinson of the First Baptist church, interment following in the Burkburnett cemetery with members of the Burkburnett Masonic lodge acting as pall bearers.

The deceased was a member of the Masonic order and of the Baptist church. He is survived by a wife and several adult children.

For many years Mr. Green was connected with a prominent Burkburnett grain and feed store.

Minister Serves As Policeman

(By International News Service.)

FAIRMONT, W. Va., July 11.—Rev. M. J. Pritchard, a Methodist Episcopal minister, temporarily without a charge, has been appointed, at his own request, a member of the Fairmont police force. He is now serving successfully as a traffic officer. His first day's duty resulted in the arrest of seven traffic violators.

Taylor Enters Suit

Claiming that thieves stole $6,000 worth of jewelry from the Westland hotel, November 1, 1921, Roy Taylor has instituted suit in the 30th district court against the United States Fidelity & Guaranty company for $5,000, the face of an insurance policy.

The plaintiff admits that plain theft was not included in any clauses of the policy, but contends that the policy insured against highway robbery.

SUMMER SCHOOL ENDS THURSDAY

Satisfactory Work Is Reported

Work in the summer school session at the local high school ends today when final examinations are held for 185 pupils who started in on the eight week summer term immediately after the close of the winter session. Class work has been held six days a week for the past two months and courses were offered in all academic subjects with the exception of sciences. Five members of the regular school faculty were in charge of the work under the direction of H. A. Glass, principal of the junior high school who also served as principal of the summer school.

According to Mr. Glass the work this year was highly satisfactory. The enrollment of 185 was larger by far than that of any previous year, while the scholastic work accomplished was also thought to have been more complete.

Special Services At Evangelical

Scores of persons are receiving the spiritual blessings resulting from the revival services now going on at the Evangelical church, Yale and Twenty-second streets, according to reports of the meeting. In a detailed report of the meeting Rev. W. D. Cook, pastor of the church, said:

"Those who are not attending the revival services at the Evangelical church, are missing a great treat in the way of a spiritual blessing, as we are having some fine sermons and real ringing testimonies, all full of the spirit and causing one to desire to live only for the cause of Christ.

"On last Sunday evening we had five additios to our church and there are still those who intend to come in with us who were not there on last Sunday evening and will be given the opportunity to come in with us next Thursday evening.

"Our presiding elder is giving us some old time gospel sermons and it seems to be doing quite a great deal of good, you should come and get some of these feasts.

"Baptismal services were held Wednesday afternoon out at the John Laukhuf farm, about three miles south of town.

"The service will continue all this week and we will have something of a special service Friday and Saturday evenings and advise that you come out and see what it will be.

"We just want to thank each one of you for the spirit of harmony that seems to be manifested in the services and just ask that you will continue to come, praying that the Lord may bless more abundantly each service."

Negro Pays For What Partners Damage

"I wasn't raisin' no disturbance, your honor; I wasn't doin' nothin'."

"Then what were you doing down in that neighborhood?" Judge W. H. Caldwell asked of the defendant who had been arraigned before him on a charge of being drunk and disturbing the peace.

"I was just there to pay for what the other guy had done," came the reply, after some deliberation.

Then the defendant explained that he wasn't the guilty white man who had destroyed window panes which had once reposed in a negress' house, but that it was "his pardner."

"Your fine will be $25." the court averred, and thus the trial ended.

Sues For Commission

Going on trial for the second time, E. L. McElroy instituted suit in the 30th district court Wednesday against Lee Long Jr. et al. for commissions alleged to be due him over the sale of certain oil leases.

The case was tried once before in the 30th district court, resulting in a hung jury.

BURKBURNETT PERSONALS

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, July 12.—Miss Alice Ammons of the freight office service at the Burkburnett station, left Monday for Colorado Springs, where she will spend her vacation visiting her sister in that city.

E. E. Hardin of Oklahoma City is a guest in the home of his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hardin of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McCall and little son, C. H. McCall Jr., of Port Arthur, Texas, are guests in the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. F. Gill on East Main street.

Mrs. S. S. Denham is spending a few days in Wichita Falls during her vacation week, the guest of her former Burkburnett friend and neighbor, Mrs. Norris, now of that city.

Charles O. Walling was a business visitor in Wichita Falls Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Windham and son, Jim Bob, were in Wichita Falls Monday on a shopping expedition.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Freeze and daughter, Miss Nina, of the Y. W. C. A., returned from their summer vacation trip of three weeks in Arkansas, visiting their son, Allen Freeze and family in Fort Smith. They were accompanied home by Miss Ewing, Mrs. Freeze's sister, who will spend a short while in this city.

Mrs. W. C. Vann, who has been ill at her home on Avenue C, was moved this week to the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Lamb, in the northern part of the city, at the end of Avenue E.

Oscar Truss is here from Craig, Colo., visiting relatives and greeting former friends.

Mrs. Lawrence Hagemann is spending a while in Mangum, Okla., where she is the guest of her father, John Frazier and family of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Bentley of Wichita Falls were in the city a few hours Sunday afternoon in the interest of the young girls who form the personnel of the "Old Maid's Convention," to be put on here Friday night under the auspices of the Young People's organizations of the Methodist church of Burkburnett.

Mrs. Paul Parker of the Sides lease, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Call in Milburn, Okla., is expected to return home this week. She will be accompanied by her little 3-year-old nephew, James Charles Egger, whose mother, Mrs. Parker's sister, died some time ago. The little fellow will make his home permanently with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Parker, who have no children of their own.

Negro Women Take Strikers' Places; Blacks Also Working in the Shops

None of the striking railroad employes who walked off their jobs here July 1 at 10 o'clock, have returned to fill their vacant places, it was reported yesterday.

A review of the situation showed that several negresses have been employed to act as coach cleaners, and that these have been busy for several days, while a small force of negro men is also employed about the shops.

Non-union mechanics, boilermakers, etc., who drift into Wichita Falls from day to day are said to be kept on the move, although no violence has been commitoteed here, nor has any been threatened.

The non-unionists, however, it was learned from railroad officials, do not remain at their posts over two or three days at the longest, and it was said yesterday that local railroad shops are finding it difficult to get workmen to fill the vacancies caused by the strikers%.

In tohe face of the present situation, the Fort Worth & Denver company advertised yesterday for skilled laborers, urging mechanics of all kinds to take advantage of their offer. This was the second company to advertise in Wichita Falls for men, the Katy line having asked for men through this method several days ago.

Local road officials said yesterday that nowhere along their lines have the striking emploes showed any tendency to come back, and it was reported that at no place along the railroads have strikers returned to the places they left. On the contrary, they are said to be remaining stoaunch in their cause.

Hogs Break Into Court In This Case

Hogs often break into some other man's pasture, but they rarely ever break into court.

However, in this instance, they have broken into court, and this morning at 8 o'clock, a man will go on trial in the corporate court before Judge W. H. Caldwell on charges of permitting his hogs to run loose in the streets.

Charges to that effect were brought before the city commissioners durin gtheir last council meeting, at which time it was explained that hogs were running wild in Wichita Falls.

It's up to the court today to decide whether this is true.

Criminal Cases to Be Heard Monday

Hearing of criminal cases will probably begin Monday, it was learned from official circles yesterday, continuing until the indictments returned by the 30th district grand jury have all been heard, or until the expiration of the 30th district court term.

A program of seven weeks' work, it is understood, has been worked out by district authorities, while it is understood that some of the cases will probably be heard before Judge Martin, especially in the cases in which Judge H. R. Wilson is disqualified.

FARM EXPERT TO SPEAK IN THIS AREA

CANDIDATES AND BOOZE

SENATOR CARRAWAY of Arkansas is responsible for the statement that all christian Americans protest against the sale of liquors on shipping board vessels. Senator Carraway is a democrat. President Harding is a republican. President A. B. Lasker of the shipping board is a republican. Carraway is making campaign material for his party. He has the goods on Lasker. Uncle Sam is the biggest bootlegger in the world. There is a business reason for it.

All the tourists going abroad threatened to boycott American ships unless they were promised bar privileges beyond the three mile limit. Lasker saw the point. He put in bars. His ships were stocked. He was getting the business until a democrat saw an opportunity to score and did score and now the row is on. Dr. Atticus Webb of Texas, has been on the verge of moral prostration ever since and the anti-saloon leagurers the country over are panning President Harding, panning Lasker and imploring Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty to hand down a dry decision without delay.

They have caught the spirit away down here in Texas. Cullen F. Thomas is warning the people that there may come a second deluge of alcoholic beverages; Sterling P. Strong is tearing his hair and imploring the faithful to put none on guard but those who have been tried and found not wanting, intimating that a certain senatorial candidate was a very weak brother when the great cause was being batted about in years gone by.

James E. Ferguson is promising the people that if they elect him senator he will restore wines and beer and pay off the war debt of twenty-three billion dollars in less than ten years. Albert D. Lasker is a former Texan. He started something when he granted bar privileges on shipping board vessels to American tourists who wish to scour the seven seas of the world as well as the show places on the land of the world. Lasker in his early life was a publicity man and an advertising agent. He is getting it. His ships are getting it; Harding is getting it; a pro-congress is getting it and Daugherty will get his unless he issues a dry edict declaring that the three mile limit has no existence on this side of the broad Atlantic.

LOOK OUT FOR VOTERS BLOCS

PRESIDENT HARDING is the father of the ship subisdy bill. He was a champion of the subsidy plan before his elevation to the presidency from the senate.

It is a proposition that has ever been close to the heart of the chief executive and he has ever prided himself that it would make the merchant marine of the United States second to none on the seven seas of the world. Now republican senate leaders have decided to sidetraack the subsidy bill for the present. Two months ago they were told to put it over.

They counted noses. President Harding urged the passage of the bill. His spokesman in the senate saw defeat staring them in the face. They bowed to the inevitable. They sidetracked the bill and hope that they will have better luck next winter. Now what of the soldier bonus bill? This bill was pushed to the front to help along the cause of Porter J. McCumber in his fight for renomination.

North Dakota voters relegated him to the political cemetery. All his prestige as a statesman, all his eloquence as an orator speaking for the former service men, failed to win for him a renomination. He stood for Newberryism, his enemies said, and they bowled him out. A statesman has to watch his step these trying times.

There are farmers blocs, there are labor blocs, there are women blocs, there are reform bloc, there are blocs of voters who are for wines and beer, there are blocs of voters who would strengthen the Volstead act and there are blocs of voters just crazy to vote against the government whenever election day rolls around.

LOOK OVER THE LOBBIES

IF YOU think the summer is meant for a season of dullness, drop around to the hotels and look over the lobbies. There you'll see many men. They're here to do business. They're all spending quite a bit of money in Wichita Falls.

Business in the summer time is generally conceded to be [illegible]. However, it is not always the case. The "Local Lobbies" column conducted daily in the Record News is the best barometer of conditions. Look it over.

DR. CRANE EDITORIAL

ANTI-SOCIAL

The fundamental problem of society is to eradicate the anti-social tastes.

Because the great problem of human beings is not so much how to live and be happy as it is how to live with other people and be happy.

Even more important than the much-mentioned ambition to live one's own life is the matter of living it so as not to spoil other people's lives or to have them spoil ours.

Sir Henry Newbolt, in a speech on education the other day, said: "The real object of education is to teach everybody how to live as a member of human society, how to be a worthy and useful member of society, and how to enjoy the life of that society."

And the only way to teach that sort of thing so as to be any real good is so to train the children that they shall like the social virtues and be repelled by the unsocial vices.

For there is, after all, only one real task in any kind of an education, and that is, to change one's likes and dislikes.

No matter how much information one may be crammed with, and no matter how much skill of hand and quickness of mind he may develop, he cannot be said really to be an educated person or actually to have improved, unless the quality of his likes has been bettered.

Love, for instance, is social, while hate is anti-social. A group of people animated by love would get along together and be happy. If they were animated by hate they would fly to pieces. And that perhaps is nature's reason why love is good and hate is bad.

Almost all those qualities that we call vicious are injurious because they make it difficult or impossible for us to get along with our neighbors.

So anger is bad, and meanness and egotism and uncleanness and cheating, lying and murder. We punish these things very properly by law, not because they render a man unfit for heaven so much as because they render him unfit to live with.

There are other and more subtle anti-social vices. One of these that needs a deal of pointing out is the vice of taking the administration of justice in our own hands.

The very essence of civilization is that the individual give up his gun and carry no concealed weapons, for a city without courts and policemen would speedily degenerate into a hell of anarchy.

Order is the prime necessity for communal life. Order is the common soil in which alone prosperity, family life, protection and personal liberty can flourish.

And the same thing is true of nations. Until they delegate justice to some international body and put all force at that body's disposal, wars will continue. And war is nothing but international anarchy.

PETROLEUM TITANS ALWAYS WIN

AMERICAN petroleum kings should be happy and the Harding administration should find it an easy matter to pave the way for the recognition of the Obregon government. Why? Well, the supreme court of Mexico has decided that the new constitution or that section of it dealing with land concessions to foreigners, is not retroactive.

This decision of the court of last resort of the republic of Mexico has made the concessions valid and the oil fields held by citizens of other nations of incalculable value. These titans of the petroleum world always win. They won over Obregon. They wrung a decision from the supreme court of Mexico. They kept foreign oils on the free list, thus forcing the congressional leaders of the republican party to eat out of their hands. Now why not justice for Mexico?

Why not prompt recognition of the Obregon government? Why not a helping hand to our Mexican neighbor? Our government and our people donated two hundred and fifty million dollars to feed the starving of Europe. Our government and our people spent thirty billion dollars to save the socalled democracies of Europe. All that Mexico asks is recognition, a chance to live and prosper, an opportunity to work out its own salvation.

Rippling Rhymes

FOOLING AWAY TIME

That my taste needs some correctives I admit with streaming eyes, for with yarns of cheap detectives I waste hours that I should prize. I should read the volumes deathless writ by men of bulging domes, but I follow, pale anod breathless, the exploits of Sherlock Holmes. While my wiser neighbor traces Einstein's theory to its course, I with Cleek of Forty Faces, mix with sinners vile and coarse. I pass up the stately diction of philosophers and seers, and the tinhorn sleuths of fiction are my comrades through the years. And my aunts, with eyes accusing, tell me how I'm wasting time, but I find the sleuths amusing, and they're surely not a crime. I have found it doesn't matter what a fellow likes to do; some one's "bound to rise and splatter burning language over you. If I liked the works of Bacon my fierce aunts would rise and say, "By our reason you're forsaken, since you read that stuff all day!" So, ignoring the objectives of the good and wise and true, I communie with punk detectives who've just found a hopeful clew.

DOGHILL PARAGRAFS

By GEORGE BINGHAM

The Tickville Town Marshal last night dreamed that he captured a big bank robber, but that the fugitive got away. He says thereafter he is going to take his handcuffs to bed with him.

Sidney Hoots was over to Tickville the other day and heard one fellow tell another confidentially that he had heard it on good authority that the cashier of the bank had five pairs of sox.

Washington Hoots says he has lived a long time and knows nearly everything except women.

The Once Over

THE PRESIDENT AND THE MULE RIDE.

Warren Gamaliel Harding, president of the United States, rode into Marion, Ohio, on a mule when a lad. He rode out years later on an elephant.

Both animals will have to split the credit fifty-fifty.

Why the president kept the mule ride a secret all these years is hard to explain. It would have cinched his election to the presidency beyond the slightest doubt. Had he told the story during his campaign instead of at his home-coming a few days ago he would have won over the three men who cast their votes for Cox.

Perhaps nothing will win the support of the American public more than proof that a candidate once did a very humble thing. Of course, other than humble men can ride mules. But not if the mules know it.

The fact that Lincoln once split rails helped to make him president. Garfield split logs and was the "From Log Cabin to White House" candidate. Washington split cherry trees. Roosevelt split parties.

Today the boy who starts out in life with a determination to be president is under a great handicap. It is much harder to find mules and rails than it used to be. And the parties are pretty well split.

As he neared the sleepy little village of Marion he heard the church bells ringing. And you'll notice that in his speech he says nothing about hurrying the mule. The chances are he put on the brakes until positive the services had started.

Little Warren was swayed by many emotions on the trip. Whether the mule noticed any or not will never be known. Probably the mule had no idea he was carrying a future president of the United States.

It is doubtful if it even thought it was carrying presidential timber.

Otherwise it would have put in an appearance at Washington by this time with the other claimants to office who "knew him when."

But had the mule shown up at the white house with the rest of the office seekers after Warren's election the probabilities are the president wouldn't have recognized him; it is so darned hard to tell one mule from another!

Still, there are those who will insist the mule is alive today. Democrats and other critics of the president's actions will even aver that he still has it, and, very likely, as his chief cabinet adviser. Which is very unkind. Both to the president and to the mule.

However, one thing is certain; the president did much to boost his stock with the American public by his confession of the mule ride. The voters eat that sort of stuff. His re-election is certain unless the democrats find a candidate who can prove he rode two mules.

In that event the next campaign may become a contest between mule riders. It's a sure fire campaign issue. The only chance a third party will have will be to launch a candidate on a platform that as a boy of seven he slept with a dog.

Ultimately, of course, the mule idea will cease to be popular. Then for the candidate with the slogan: "HE KEPT US OUT OF MULES!"

The Mucker

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

"Why not?" she asked. "If you're afraid you can leave my horse and ride along home."

Eddie colored to the roots of his sandy hair, and kept silent. The girl aproached the doorway of the mean hovel and peered within. At one end sat a bent old man, smoking. He looked up as Barbara's figure darkened the doorway.

"Jose!" said the girl.

The old man rose to his feet and came toward her.

"Eh? Senorita, eh?" he cackled.

"You are Jose?" she asked.

"Si, senorita," replied the old Indian. "What can poor, old Jose do to serve the beautiful senorita?"

"You can carry a message to one of Pesita's officers," replied the girl. "I have heard much about you since I came to Mexico. I know that there is not another man in this part of Chihuahua who may so easily reach Pesita as you." She raised her hand for silence as the Indian would have protested. Then she reached into the pocket of her riding breeches and withdrew a handful of silver which she permitted to trickle tinklingly from one palm to the other.

MORE MORE— ...c...

"I wish you to go to the camp of Pesita," she continued, "and carry word to the man who robbed the bank at Cuivaca—he is an American—that his friend, Senor Bridge has been captured by Villa and is being held for execution in Cuivaca. You must go at once—you must get word to Senor Bridge's friend so that help may reach Senor Bridge before dawn. Do you understand?"

The Indian nodded assent.

"Here," said the girl, "is a payment on account. When I know that you delivered the message in time you shall have as much more. Will you do it?"

"I will try," said the Indian, and stretched forth a claw-like hand for the money.

"Good!" exclaimed Barbara. "Now start at once," and she dropped the silver coins into the old man's palm.

It was dusk when Captain Billy Byrne was summoned to the tent of Pesita. There he found a wezened, old Indian squatting at the side of the outlaw.

"Jose," said Pesita, "has word for you."

Billy Byrne turned questioningly toward the Indian.

"I have been sent, Senor Captain," explained Jose, "by the beautiful senorita of El Orobo Rancho to tell you that your friend, Senor Bridge, has been captured by General Villa, and is held at Cuivac, where he will doubtless be shot—if help does not reach him before tomorrow morning."

Paita was looking questioningly at Byrne. Since the gringo had returned from Cuivaca with the loot of the bank and turned the last penny over to him the outlaw had looked upon his new captain as something just short of superhuman. To have robbed the bank thus easily while Villa's soldiers passed back and forth before the doorway seemed little short of an indication of miraculous powers, while to have turned the loot over intact to his chief, not asking for so much as a peso of it, was absolutely incredible.

To have robbed the bank thus easily while Villa's soldiers passed back and forth before the doorway seemed little short of an indication of miraculous powers, while to have turned the loot over intact to his chief, not asking for so much as a peso of it, was absolutely incredible.

Pesita could not understand this man; but he admired him greatly and feared him, too. Such a man was worth a hundred of the ordinary run of humanity that enlisted beneath Pesita's banners. Byrne had but to ask a favor to have it granted, and now, when he called upon Pesita to furnish him with a suitable force for the rescue of Bridge the brigand enthusiastically acceded to his demands.

"I will come," he exclaimed, "and all my men shall ride with me. We will take Cuivaca by storm. We may even capture Villa himself. We——"

"Wait a minute, bo," interrupted Billy Byrne. "Don't get excited. I'm lookin' to get my pal outen' Cuivaca. After that I don't care who you capture; but I'm goin' to get Bridgie out first. I kin do it with twenty-five men—if it ain't too late. Then, if you want to, you can shoot up the town. Lemme have the twenty-five, an' you hang around the edges with the rest of 'em 'till I'm done. Whaddaya say?"

Pesita was willing to agree to anything, and so it came that half an hour later Billy Byrne was leading a choice selection of some two dozen cutthroats down through the hills toward Cuivaca. While a couple of miles in the rear followed Pesita with the balance of his band.

Billy rode until the few remaining lights of Cuivaca shone but a short distance ahead and they could hear plainly the strains of a grating graphophone from beyond the open windows of a dance hall, and the voices of the sentries as they called the hour.

"Stay here," said Billy to a sergeant at his side, "until you hear a hoot owl cry three times from the direction of the barracks and guardhouse, then charge the opposite end of the town, firing off your carbines like hell an' yellin' yer heads off. Make all the racket you can, an' keep it up 'til you get 'em comin' in your direction, see? Then turn an' drop back slowly, eggin' 'em on, but holding 'em to it as long as you can. Do you get me, bo?"

From the mixture of Spanish and English and Granavenoish the sergeant gleaned enough of the intent of his commander to permit him to salute and admit that he understood what was required of him.

Having given his instructions Billy Byrne rode off to the west, circled Cuivaca and came close up upon the southern edge of the little village. Here he dismounted and left his horse hidden behind an outbuilding, while he crept cautiously forward to reconnoiter.

He knew that the force within the village had no reason to fear attack. Villa knew where the main bodies of his enemies lay, and that no force could approach Cuivaca without word of its coming reaching the garrison many hours in advance of the foe. That Pesita, or another of the several bandit chiefs in the neighborhood would dare descend upon a garrisoned town never for a moment entered the calculations of the rebel leader.

For these reasons Billy argued that Cuivaca would be poorly guarded. On the night he had spent there he had seen sentries before the bank, the guardhouse and the barracks in addition to one who paced to and fro in front of the house in which the commander of the garrison maintained his headquarters. Aside from these the town was unguarded.

Nor were conditions different tonight. Billy came within a hundred yards of the guardhouse before he discovered a sentinel. The fellow lolled upon his gun in front of the building—an adobe structure in the rear of the barracks. The other three sides of the guardhouse appeared to be unwatched.

Billy threw himself upon his stomach and crawled slowly forward, stopping often. The sentry seemed asleep. He did not move. Billy reached the shadow at the side of the structure and some fifty feet from the soldier without detection. Then he rose to his feet directly beneath a barred window.

Within Bridge paced back and forth the length of the little building. He could not sleep. Tomorrow he was to be shot. Bridge did not wish to die. That very morning General Villa in person had examined him. The general had been exceedingly wroth—the sting of the theft of his funds still irritated him; but he had given Bridge no inkling as to his fate. It had remained for a fellow-prisoner to do that. This man, a deserter, was to be shot, so he said, with Bridge, a fact which gave him an additional 24 hours of life, since, he asserted, General Villa wished to be elsewhere than in Cuivaca when an American was executed. Thus he could disclaim responsibility for the act.

The general was to depart in the morning. Shortly after, Bridge and the deserter would be led out and blindfolded before a stone wall—if there was such a thing, or a brick wall, or an adobe wall. It made little difference to the deserter, or to Bridge either. The wall was but a trivial factor. It might go far to add romance to whomever should read of the affair later; but in so far as Bridge and the deserter were concerned it meant nothing. A billboard, thought Bridge, bearing the slogan: "Eventually! Why not now?" would have been equally as efficacious and far more appropriate.

The room in which he was confined was stuffy with the odor of accumulated filth. Two small barred windows alone gave means of ventilation, nothing more momentonsetaonitaoi He and the deserter were the only prisoners. The latter slept as soundly as though the morrow held nothing more momentous in his destiny than any of the days that had preceded it. Bridge was moved to kick the fellow into consciousness of his impending fate. Instead he walked to the south window to fill his lungs with the free air beyond his prison pen, and gaze sorrowfully at the star-lit sky which he should never again behold.

In a low tone Bridge crooned a snatch of the poem that he and Billy liked best:

And you, my sweet Penelope, out there somewhere you wait for me,
With buds of roses in your hair and kisses on your mouth.

Bridge's mental vision was concentrated upon the veranda of a white-walled ranchhouse to the east. He shook his head angrily.

"It's just as well," he thought. "She's not for me."

Something moved upon the ground beyond the window. Bridge became suddenly intent upon the thing. He saw it rise and resolve itself into the figure of a man, and then, in a low whisper, came a familiar voice:

"There ain't no roses in my hair, but theres a barker in my shirt, an' another at me side. Here's one of 'em. They got kisses best a city block. How's the door o' this thing fastened?" The speaker was quite close to the window now, his face but a few inches from Bridge's.

"'Billy!' ejaculated the condemned man.

"Surest thing you know; but about the door?"

"Just a heavy bar on the outside," replied Bridge.

"Easy," commented Billy, relieved. "Get ready to beat it when I open the door. I got a pony south o' town that' have to carry double for a little way tonight."

"God bless you, Billy!" whispered Bridge, fervently.

"Lay low a few minutes," said Billy, and moved toward the rear of the guardhouse.

A few minutes later there broke upon the night air the dismal hoot of an owl. At intervals of a few seconds it was repeated twice. The sentry before the guardhouse shifted his position and looked about, then he settled back, transferring his weight to the other foot, and resumed his bovine meditations.

The man at the rear of the guardhouse moved silently along the side of the structure until he stood within a few feet of the unsuspecting sentinel, hidden from him by the corner of the building. A heavy revolver dangled from his right hand. He held it loosely by the barrel, and waited.

For five minutes the silence of the night was unbroken, then from the east came a single shot, followed immediately by a scattering fusillade and chorus of hoarse cries.

Billy Byrne smiled. The sentry resumed indications of quickness. From the barracks beyond the guardhouse came sharp commands and the sounds of men running. From the opposite side of the town the noise of battle welled up to ominous proportions.

Prominent Young Folk Married In Beautiful Wedding Wednesday

Of interest to hundreds of relatives and friends of both couples was the wedding Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the First Christian church, when Misses Blanche and Leoti Clark, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Clark, became the brides of Paul J. Pond, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pond, and Clifford Deaton, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A .Deaton.

The church was beautifully decorated in roses, palms and other greenery for the occasion, three arches covered with vines, flowes and tulle forming the setting for the bridal party of the two couples. The ceremony was read by the grandfather of the brides, the Rev Randolph Clark of Stephenville, Texas, carrying out a pretty sentiment of the venerable gentleman who boasts that he has married every child and grandchild he has with the exception of the father of these brides, he being unable to officiate on that occasion.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. R. E. Strange played an organ prelude which was followed by a duet "My Dear," by Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd. Jarrell Gose gave as a violin number Fritz Kreisler's arrangement of "The Rosary." Ralph K. Pond, brother of one of the grooms, sang the pre-nuptial solo, "Until." The bridal party entered to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march. Mr. Gose also played softly during the ceremony.

Misses Mary Sypert Clark acted as maid of honor to her sister, Mrs. Deaton, and Miss Grace Chandler of Stephenville, Texas, a cousin, was maid of honor to Mrs. Pond. Mrs. Permelia Wynne, sister of Mrs. Clark, was Mrs. Pond's matron of honor, while Mrs. C. H. Versch yle was matron for Mrs. Deaton. The maids of honor both wore colonial models of white crepe and satin with lace and silver trimmings and carried shower bousuets of steciosum lilies. The matrons of honor also wore white and carried arm bouquets of roses and sweet peas. The brides maids for both included. Misses Lurline Turner Fay Boyd, Suda Willis and Joe Betsy Miller, all wore gowns in the pastel shades of orchid, pink, blue and amethyst, taffeta and carried bridal bouquets. Little Misses Gladys Versch oyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Versch oyle, Helen Sylvia Lebenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Saul Lebenson; Elizabeth Turner, daughter of Mrs. W. F. Turner, and Frances White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. White of Iowa Park, all dressed in frocks of yellow and blue, were the flower girls, and strewed rose buds in the path of the brides. Little Miss Mignon Clark, small sister of the brides, costumed in a frock of net over satin in several pastel shades, was the ring bearer and carried the rings on white satin and lace pillows in each hand.

The brides were lovely in gowns of white satin and lace, the Payne Hanner models, made with panel fronts of net and lace, and trimmed in hand made flowers and pearls. Court trains hung from the shouders and their veils were the Princess Mary models caught at the brow with wreaths of orange blossoms built high in the back and hung the length of the trains. The gowns carried out the colonial note, fastened in the hoop skirt style as did those of the brides maids, which were fashioned by the same model. They carried shower bouquets of brides roses and ferns.

Mr. Pond had for his best man, his brother, Paul Pond, groomsmen were Paul Rutledge and Walter Bachman, L. L. Deaton acted as best man for his brother, Clifford Deaton, who had for his groomsmen, Paschal Anderson and Rawlins Clark.

The brides and grooms are among the most popular members of the younger set and also of the most prominent and oldest families in the city, and following the announcement of the approaching nuptials were honored with many beautiful social courtesies. "Many handsome presents also attest the love and esteem of their many friends.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mr. Pond and Mr. and Mrs. Deaton left in cars especially fitted for touring the country, for Colorado, where they will spend a while before returning to Wichita Falls to make their home.

Out of town guests present at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sypert of Oklahoma City, grandparents of the brides; Mrs. Permelia Wynne and daughter, also of Oklahoma City; Miss Grace Chandler of Stephenville, Texas; Sterling Holloway of Comanche, Okla; Jules Jaccard of Denison; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wynne of Fort Worth and Mrs. W. B. Manion and Aubrey Manion of Fort Worth.

Wednesday morning Mrs. Lee Clark and Miss Johnnie Morgan entertained the entire wedding party at a pretty breakfast at the home of Miss Morgan. The table was beautifully decorated on this occasion, miniature brides and grooms surrounded by miniature chickens, dogs and greenery suggestive of the wedding trip of the young people who left in cars through the open country, forming the attractive center piece. Place cards were hand painted church doors in the center of which were brides and grooms and under which were verses containing clever suggestions of the various places the brides and grooms will visit on their tour. The verses begun with the start at Wichita Falls and ended with a toast to the ultimate destination, Colorado Springs. A yellow and white color scheme was carried out. The women members of the bridal party were presented novelty bead and sterling ear drops by the brides-elect, while the grooms-elect presented their best men and groomsmen with sterling belt buckles engraved with their monograms. Covers were laid for 20.

Naturally curly hair is easy to dress. Consequently May McAvoy, the pretty and youthful Paramount picture star, finds little difficulty in effecting an attractive coiffure with her curly hair. One can do most anything with hair like May McAvoy's and one very becoming style is shown above. It is rather full and the hair falls easily down the sides.

FASHIONS

Gold Lace Fashions This Dressy Blouse.

The dressy type of blouse always has its adherents and its uses, regardless of the fact that during warm weather sports blouses are always in heavy demand. This season blouses of lace are leaders in the more elaborate models, white, black and colored laces all being popular for the purpose, and some really handsome blouses are made of metal lace. A sheer net foundation prevents such a blouse from seeming heavy for warm weather wear, and frequently a metal and silk brocade girdle or belt will serve as a finishing nd trimming touch for such a blouse.

The sketch illustrates a charming little blouse of gold lace, a narrow zig-zag insertion of gold braid joining the round yoke to the lower part, which, in reality, is merely a circular berths of the lace arranged so that it falls in a ripple effect over the arms, back and front, simulating short sleeves and half draping the arms to the elbow. The lace is draped over a gold colored net founation and a metal and silk ribbon girdle finishes it at the waist line. It is a slip-over, with an opening a few inches long at the neck in the back to make this possible.

This blouse might be worn with a shirt of satin or other soft silk for an afternoon tea or for dinner. Matched wth a skirt of the gold lace, a very charming little frock would be the result.

Blouses for fall have shown no radical style changes as yet, the tendency being to favor those that are about hip length and rather straight as to lin, or else waist-length models, such as the one shown in the sketch. Very long blouses of the costume type seem to have had their day, for the present at least.

Little Stories For Bedtime

WHAT SAMMY JAY SAW IN THE OLD PASTURE

Sammy Jay dearly loves excitement. Yes sir, if there is anything exciting going on anywhere in the Green Forest or the Old Orchard, or on the Green Meadows you are almost sure to find Sammy Jay there. Somehow he seems to know when things are going to happen, and so manages to be around. No doubt it is largely due to his sharpness for there are no two ways about it, Sammy Jay is sharp. His worst enemy will have to grant that. And being sharp he keeps so well posted he can foresee trouble ahead for them, and so be on hand when they get into it.

Now, Sammy had overheard Buster Bear talking to himself and planning to go berrying in the Old Pasture. He knew just as well as Buster did that that was no place for a bear to be who wanted to keep out of sight. So he made up his mind right away that just as likely as not something citing would happen in the Old Pasture if Buster really did do there. He was up early as Buster that morning and on the watch. He saw Buster steal out of the Green Forest with the coming of the first Cheerful Little Sunbeams to the Green Meadows. Taking care not to be seen and not to make a sound, Sammy followed Buster. When he had seen Buster fairly at work greedily filling his stomach with berries Sammy flew around to various parts of the Old Pasture to get himself some breakfast, and at the same time to see who else might be there. Of course he wasn't long in discovering Farmer Brown's Boy. Ordinarily Sammy would have screamed "Thief! Thief!" at the top of his lungs, and so warned all within hearing. But this time he kept his tongue still and just chuckled to himself. It was better than he had dared hope it would be. Here was Buster Bear and Farmer Brown's Boy both in the Old Pasture after berries. Sammy felt sure that they must meet and then—well, Sammy had seen them meet once before in the Green Forest, and nothing would please him more than to see them meet again.

So Sammy hung around where he could see all that went on. He saw Farmer Brown's Boy hide his pail of berries under a bush and go to the spring to eat his lunch. He saw Buster Bear find the pail of berries and tip it over. He watched Buster greedily scoop the berries into his mouth, the berries Farmer Brown's Boy had worked so hard to pick.

"Now if Farmer Brown's Boy will only come back before Buster finishes those berries!" his eyes fairly popping out with excitement. He flew over to the spring to see what Farmer Brown's Boy was doing, and he got there just in time to see Farmer Brown's Boy starting back to look after his pail of berries, for he had heard Buster Bear and thought it was one of the young cattle living in the Old Pasture. And Sammy saw something more. He saw Old Man Coyote steal the two thick sandwiches Farmer Brown's Boy meant to eat for his lunch, but had left beside the spring while he went back to look after his berries.

Things were getting more exciting than Sammy had even dreamed of, and he had all he could do to keep from screaming right out. But he didn't, for that would have spoiled everything. He just shut his bill as tight as ever he could and hurried back where he could see Buster Bear. He got there just in time to see greedy Buster with his head in the big tin pail gobbling up the last of the berries. At that very minute Farmer Brown's Boy stepped on a dead stick and it snapped. Buster Bear heard it and threw up his head so suddenly that the pail came with it, and somehow the handle of the pail slipped back over Buster's head and caught behind his ears. Then things happened so fast that for once in his life Sammy had his fill of excitement. Yes, sir, Sammy had his fill for once.

WORKS FOR CHILD MUST KEEP WELL

Mothers in a Like Situation Should Read This Letter from Mrs. Enrico

Chicago, Illinois.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a serious trouble. I had tried doctors and all said the same—an operation. At first I only felt the pain on my left side, but later I seemed to feel it on both sides. I am a power sewing-machine operator and have a little girl to support. I work in a tailor shop and that line of work has been very slack this year and I am home part of the time. I do not like to take any chances, so I consulted my friends, and one lady said, 'Take Lydia Pinkham's medicine,' so I did. I have felt better right along and am in good enough health to go to work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash to all."—Mrs. MARY ENRICO, 459 N. Carpenter St., Chicago.

Often the mother is obliged to support her children and good health is necessary. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the medicine you can depend upon. It is a medicine for women's ailments and the relief it brought Mrs. Enrico it may bring to you.

Dallas Outcounts Spudders in Deciding Game of Series

LOCALS KNOT COUNT AFTER UPHILL FIGHT BUT GIANTS PUSH ACROSS DECIDING RUN

Bowman, Lovelace and Spencer Hit for Circuit; Miller Presented with Watch; Tail End of Batting Order Get Runs; Spuds Rest Today for Cat Series Tomorrow.

By "SPIKE" COOPER

Wednesday was a terrible day on pitchers and when the final runner had been retired in the deciding game of the series, Jim Galloway's charges led by the count of 9-8.

The Spudders fought an uphill battle from the start and finally knotted the count in the seventh frame, thanks to a salvo and solid smashes by the tail end of the batting list.

Steve Mokan started on the mound for the Spudders but semed to have little on the Dallas hitters and retired in the third inning, favoring Abe Bowman. Faithful Abe stuck through the remainder of the game until the eighth, when after two men had singled. Perdue took up the load and finished the route.

The Spudders were not the only club in the lot to use a trio of heavers, for Lefty Russell, Seiffert and Snipe Conley all tasted the music of local swatters. However, the taste which Snipe took was a very small one, for he heaved the apple through and by four of the hitsmiths in the two and one-third rounds he occupied the runners post.

Spuds Hit Hard.

Many solid smacks echoed throughout the park during the bombardment but the Spudders seemed more inclined to tear down the fence than did the Dallas tribe. Of the 11 hits registered by the Spudders, six went for extra bases. A homer and a double by Bowman, two doubles by Bischoff, White's triple and Miller's double all figured in the dismissal of Giant pitchers.

Three times did hurlers lambast the apple over and out of the park. Spencer started the long-distance hitting by planting one of Mokan's shoots over near the trap house of the gun club. Bowman gave one of Seiffert's hooks a long ride over the left wall, but it remained for Tommie Lovelace, rookie left fielder of the visitors, to produce the champ blow. His drive over left rolled to the far side of the Texas company backstop which is on the lot adjacent Athletic park.

Miller Gets Watch.

Prior to the game, a rumor that Jake Miller was to leave the club, was heard. Then after Weiss relieved the oldtimer of Spudderville, he was called to the plate where B. Frank Johnson, prominent Spudder fan, presented Jake a beautiful watch, and appreciation from Spudder fans who regret his departure, yet rejoice in the fact that he goes to higher company. Miller left last night for Pittsburgh where he goes in exchange for Hollingsworth, former Spudder ace. It was a blow to the fans, the announcement coming as a complete surprise. The youngster has worked hard for the opportunity, and thousands of eyes will watch his progress in the big show.

Bischoff had a big hand in the Spudder's attempt to head the leading Giants. He drove in three of the runs and counted another for himself, just half the total markers registered.

Bowman also fought to win a game for himself. His homer in the sixth with White aboard netted two markers, and a terrific double against the left field fence in the seventh sent Bischoff scampering home from second.

Buddy Tanner drove singles to all corners of the lot, hitting safely into each of the three fields as his contribution for the day. He also opened the game with one of the greatest plays seen in the park in many months. Stow drove sharply down third base line, and by a backward lunge, Buddy knocked the drive down, then turning around he picked up the ball and threw the runner out at first when Beck pulled another of his customary spectacular stops of a throw that is not perfectly true.

Weiss endeared himself to the fans in the seventh when he rushed in behind second on Lingle's short fly and pulled a great snoestring catch as he fell forward. It was neatly done and he got a nice hand for the play.

Mat Donohue turned in a perfect day at bat, getting three singles and a double in four times at bat.

Dallas Takes Lead.

In the first inning after Stow had been retired by Tanner's play Spencer sent a homer over the right wall for a marker. Massey promptly doubled to left center. Segrist drew a pass and Galloway advanced both runners when he grounded out to Beck. Donohue walked, filling the bases. Lovelace swung hard on one, but topped the ball. Tanner was playing deep and as the ball rolled toward third, Massey counted. It appeared that the ball might roll outside, and Tanner let it go after he saw there was no chance to get either runner, but it went for a hit. Lingle flew out to Miller.

The Giants increased their lead in the third with another counter. Segrist singled to left and went to second when Donohue singled to the same field after Galloway had lined out to Summa. Lovelace singled to left and Segrist scored. On an attempted squeeze play, Bowman pitched high to Lingle and he popped to the pitcher. Donohue was doubled off third.

In the fourth the Spudders got their first two runs. Summa grounded out to Galloway, but Miller drew a walk. Beck sent two drives down the foul line, but they were both outside. He finally lined out to Donohue. White drove one against the green boards in center for three bases and Miller counted. Bischoff followed with a crashing drive against the left field fence for two sacks, scoring White.

The Giants increased their lead again in the fifth. Adams threw out Massey, but Bowman passed Segrist when Sweeney refused to give him a corner at all. Galloway hopped one over Bowman's head for a hit and Segrist went to second. Donohue singled to left and when Bescher let the ball roll between his legs to the fence, two runners scored and the hitter went to third. Lovelace squeezed him across but was cut Beck to White at first.

One More in Fifth.

One run in the fifth but the Spudders on a half way mark with the Giants. Bescher drew a walk and went to third on a hit and run play when Tanner singled to center. Adams lined out to right, but Summa scored Bescher when he forced Tanner at second. Weiss went in to hit for Miller who retired to catch a train to Pittsburgh. Weiss was safe when Galloway booted his fast grounder at first. Then with runners on first and second, Beck swung viciously at one with the count three-one, but dribbed out, pitcher to first.

The Spudders drew up just one run behind in the sixth. White walked as first man up. Bischoff took a third strike, but Bowman promptly lambasted a curve over the left field fence and the stands went wild. Two were the crop for that round.

A homer by Lovelace in the seventh with Donohue on first by virtue of a single to center, added a couple more to the Dallas total.

Count Knotted.

The Spudders knotted up a ball game in their section of the seventh. Summa was out Massey to Galloway. Weiss drew a pass and went to second on White's single after Beck had popped out to Stow. Bischoff drove his second double against the left field fence and Weiss and White scored. Bowman doubled to left and Bischoff registered the evening run.

Stow got his first hit of the series in the eighth and moved to second when Spencer sacrificed. Massey singled to center and Stow went to third. Segrist squeezed the runner across with the deciding run.

Fast Play in Ninth.

The ninth saw one of the fastest plays of the game. Donohue doubled to left and on a sacrifice by Lovelave, Bischoff rushed into the diamond and with a perfect throw to Tanner caught the runner at third.

Loyal fans begged long and loudly for a run in the ninth, but it was not forthcoming. Weiss took a third strike for a starter. Beck singled to left and there was a ray of hope, but White popped out to Massey and Bischoff again fanned.

The Spudders rest today for a series with the champion Panthers which begins Friday. The management announced yesterday that a double bill will be the program Saturday afternoon, with the first contest called at 3 o'clock.

WILLS STARTED OUT TO BE JOCKEY

Harry Wills wanted to be a jockey but fate intervened and spilled the beans around the piazza. He outgrew the horses and as he continued to take on weight and height it became apparent that any future riding he might do would have to be on elephants, so he let the idea of becoming a nag pilot slide down the cellar door, took up fighting, and today, with his 210 pounds in weight and 6 feet 2 in height, he's considerable battler.

There has been little question in the minds of fight fans as to Wills being about the most logical candidate to dispute Mr. Dempsey's right to the title headwear.

The eraser has been applied to the color line which the champion drew some time ago, and you can put up a few of those bottles you have hidden away in your cellar that this negro battler will prove no set-up for Jack when they meet.

Is the colored boy willing? He's tickled to death to get a crack at Dempsey.

Jack also is willing, so he says, but watch out, he may be kidding us again. The champion has developed a strong kidding streak, but Wills fortunately has a sense of humor and his fistic ability may cause the champ to drop the monocle out of his eye and get down to brass tacks.

The two heavyweights are pretty evenly matched. Wills, a strong hitter, and fast, ought to make things interesting for Dempsey.

Harry has worked on the docks between fights and any sailor will tell you that a stevedore is a dangerous bird to start an argument with.

He whipped big Fred Fulton and has a string of thirty-eight straight knockouts to his credit on the Pacific coast.

Wills lives in New York and gets a lot of free training for ring work by fighting the mobs in the subway.

MILLER GETS CHANCE IN BIG SHOW

Outfielder Goes to Pirates In Trade For Holly

"Jake Miller goes to Pittsburgh in exchange for Hollingsworth," said Prexy R. O. Harvey of the Spudder club yesterday afternoon prior to the opening of the final game of the Dallas series.

The announcement precipitated a world of speculation amongst the fans, for Jakie has long been a favorite of the club, and recognized as one of the premier ball-hawks of the league.

A hustling player, dependable hitter and fielder of exceptional class, Miller has endeared himself to Spudder fans during his past months in a Spudder uniform.

The youngster has worked hard for a chance to show his wares in the big show, and it has come. Earlier perhaps that even Jakie expected, the chance to don spangles of a major club at 24 is somewhat of an accomplishment itself.

Hollingsworth was a Spudder ace last year and was taken over by the Pirates at the end of the season. He has been used as a relief hurler in numerous games this season, but through the enterprise of Prexy Harvey, the Pirate management finally agreed to see him return.

But the Spudders paid and paid well. Miller is one of the most valuable members of the team, despite the injury which pulled him from the game at a critical moment as the first half of the season neared a close.

When fans learned of the deal, a movement soon netted a sum which supplied a Howard watch and fittingly engraved, a remembrance of admiring fans, for faithful service and goodfellowship.

Hollingsworth will join the club immediately, or as Prexy Harvey expressed it, "just as soon as the Pirates can get him here."

BABY'S FIRST WORD

It is commonly believed that a baby, when growing up and learning to talk, speaks the word "ma" and "da" through constantly hearing these uttered by others. This idea, however, is upset by certain students of languages, who advance a totally different theory.

In most languages, "ma" is generally the first syllable spoken by a child. It is the root of the word "mother." As a baby opens its mouth and then exhales breath it is quite possible that it makes this exclamation unconsciously.

Some people believe that there is no such thing as a "natural" tongue to the world; for, they say, if all babies over one year old were caused to become deaf and dumb, they would be obliged to go through the identical slow process of inventing and evolving a tongue as man was compelled to do in days gone by.

Only a man of push can propel a wheelbarrow.

SHOOTERS OUT TODAY FOR MEET

Registered Program Begins Promptly At 3:30 P. M.

The regular monthly registered shoot of the Wichita Falls Gun club will be held this afternoon instead of Friday as scheduled on account of a rest day by the Spudders.

The morning shoots have not been as successful as they might have, and in order to stage the meet in the afternoon without interring with the ball game, the date has been moved up.

The registered program will be shot off under the "jackrabbit" system, whereby all shooters will share in the winning. This will be the first time the system has been seen here, and much interest is being manifested in the prospect. Heretofore, the excellent shooters of class A have shared all the honrs, but the new methods afford all a chance to share.

The interest shown last week has caused much favorable comment from the members of the club, and a large crowd is expected today.

The gallery is increasing rapidly, and many cars line the field while the shoots are in progress. There is a fascination to the machine-like smashing of the clay disks and enthusiasm runs high at times when competition begins to stiffen.

Today's program will begin at 3:30 o'clock promptly. Two events of single and one of doubles will be shot.

HORNSBY STRETCHES HOME RUN LEAD

By Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals further increased his home run lead for both major leagues by smashing out his 23rd circuit swat against Philadelphia in the first game here today. Lee Meadows was pitching.

RECORD NEWS ENTRANTS COME IN

Tennis Tourney Still Growing In Favor

Entrants for the Record News tennis tourney have been secured and all than ever as the list of players grows longer. Entries piled up Tuesday and Wednesday, and it is expected that the list will number of 75 contestants before the time for drawing for opponents in the first game. This tournament are more enthusiastic arrangements made for the contests to be staged in rapid succession. No games will conflict and the schedule has been arranged so that players may enter both the doubles and singles events. As much as is possible the games will be played in the afternoon at such hours that those who work during the day may enter.

FISH NETS FOR HURRICANES.

The government is making a special effort to get reliable data about hurricanes, their path, force and time of duration. Part of the work will consist of placing a number of nets stretching across the gulf of Mexico. The action of the storm on these nets will be observed and it is expected will give valuable information. Masters of oil tankers and other vessels traversing the gulf are being instructed in the making of observations and reporting the information to Washington.

DEMPSEY-WILLS BOUT STILL UNCERTAIN

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The date and the place of the coming bout between Jack Dempsey, world's champion heavyweight and Harry Wills, negro challenger, was still uncertain today. Dempsey and Wills yesterday signed what is known as a blanket contract and under this form of agreement the heavyweights are required to box within sixty days after the acceptance of a satisfactory bid extended by a reliable promoter.

The time and place for the bout will be announced at or shortly after the acceptance of such bid by the principals or their managers.

In yesterday's conference Jack Kearns, representing Dempsey, and Patrick Mullins, manager of Wills, the latter held out at first for the proposals he mad at Saturday's meeting but Kearns was obdurate and Mullins finally capitulated. Mullins desired that bids be limited to those received within 30 days and that the bout be fought within three months after the acceptance of the best offer.

Jewels From the River Bed

Ceylon's great sport is the hunting of jewels, which are often to be found in the beds of rivers. Sometimes these streams are dried up for a time and then the rewards are great for the hunter. Government permission must be granted before one may go gem-hunting, and having obtained this permission, the hunter is allowed to keep all he finds. To the inexperienced eye, the precious pebble, as it rests on the ground, looks like an ordinary pebble, but the expert can detect the valuable ones at once.

DUST STORM AT SEA.

The captain of the American vessel Santa Rosalia recently sent one of the departments at Washington, D. C., samples of a yellowish dust, which he gathered from the decks of his vessel while traversing the seas in the vicinity of China and Japan. He encountered three of these storms and gave the department the full particulars. It was discovered that this dust came from the Siberian border. The captain said that the air was so clouded that navigation was dangerous for a time.

ELECTRA GAINS 2,000 BARRELS

Stephens Up 3,000; Young 1,000

With a 3,000-barrel gain in Stephens county alone, a gain of approximately 2,000 barrels at Electra, and a gain of almost 1,000 barrels in the Young county producing area, the north and central Texas production for the past week reached a new high figure for the year, entirely recovering from the losses of the past two weeks, and showing a total production of approximately 144,000 barrels. This is a 6,000-barrel gain over last week.

Electra went almost to 20,000 barrels daily during the week, with the completion of several nice wells, and a more consistent operation of older producers. This is the first big gain that the pool has registered in one week's time since the opening up of operations in the new deep sand.

Stephens county's gain is divided between new production, and cleaning out activities in older wells. Young's gain comes from the Bunger pool.

The production daily averages by pools follows:

Burkburnett	31,000
Electra	19,600
Kemp, Munger Allen and Iowa Park shallow	2,470
Archer County-Texhoma	2,290
Petrolia	340
Young county	10,500
Stephens county	44,200
Ranger-Eastland	15,000
Comanche-Pioneer	1,800
Strawn	1,750

Vernon Operators May Go Back There

Special to the Record News.

VERNON, Texas, July 12.—Operators in charge of the affairs of the Triangle Oil company on location in the Vernon field, are emphatic in their denial that their move to the south Electra field is for any other purpose than to spend several months prospecting until more funds can be obtained with which to finish the local hole.

No indebtedness exists against their rig, they state, and claims on the part of outside parties against the equipment have failed to materialize.

Cashing has been left in the hole here, and work can be resumed with little difficulty. As yet the rig has not been moved to Electra, and this section is considered only problematical.

AMARILLO WELL'S OIL FLOW ON INCREASE

AMARILLO, July 12.—The oil flow which blew in following the shooting of the Holmes, McIlroy & McGee or Smith-Capers well, has increased in volume. The well came in following the explosion, a producer estimated at from 200 to 500 barrels, and the increased flow is now conservatively estimated from 300 to 700 barrels.

The tremendous gas pressure, which blew the oil in on almost a solid spray, when the shot was set off, has in a large measure diminished and the oil flow is becoming more dense, the later reports declare.

DEEP TEST ON 6,000 ACRES AT MEXIA

MEXIA, July 12.—Sanders and Wheelock's deep test on Bressie farm of the Simms Oil company tract, containing 6,000 acres between Angus and Navarro, is to be drilled in within the next few days. This test has shown heavy gas pressure from the time the bit reached below 2900 feet and continues to hold up original flow. The outcome of this test will largely affect future drilling in that section of the country between Richland and Navarro in line with geological reports defining the structure and fault line running diagonally across Navarro county.

WICHITA OPERATORS ACTIVE AT MEXIA

Captain Irwin, local operator, has joined a group of North Texas operators and with Fred M. Allison, has taken over the Miller and Kimbrough test south of Eureka in the Mexia field.

The well is reported to be making a rapid advance, being near the 2,000 foot depth without encountering any trouble. The area in which the drilling is in operation has been considered from the beginning a promising field for deep oil development in Mexia oil circles. The nearest test made in this location is nearly five miles away.

OIL—

SKELLEY ENLARGING

Special to the Record News

NEW YORK, July 12.—W. G. Skelly, president of the Skelly Oil company, announced yesterday that the corporation would start construction work soon on two additional casing-head gasoline plants, which will operate on the absorption principle. One will be built in the South Bristol field, Creek county and the other in Hewitt field, Carter county. The additional facilities will increase the daily plant capacity for raw casing-head gasoline output to 40,000 gallons daily. The company now has four plants in operation.

On July 1 the corporation and its subsidiaries had 1,656 undeveloped leases covering 118,462 acres in Arkansas, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas. The corporation has 609 wells on its developed leases.

TO DRILL IN CITY LIMITS

EASTLAND, Texas, July 12.—The first permit ever issued for the drilling of an oil well in the city limits of this city has been granted to J. H. Jones on a tract two blocks south of the West ward school. It was granted by the oil and gas department of the railroad commission, but the action can become non-effective by the city commission refusing to grant a similar permit it was asserted.

LIGHTNING LIGHTS WHARF FIRE

Fighting the fire at Elevator B and the ruins along the Baltimore waterfront after lightning had started a $5,000,000 blaze.

Fire, starting at the B. & O. docks at Locust Point, Baltimore, when lightning struck during a storm, caused a $5,000,000 loss along the waterfront. Grain elevators, piers, warehouses and other buildings of the shiping interests were destroyed. The fire spread so rapidly that the engines and fireboats were unable to halt the progress of the flames until practically the whole waterfront was a mass of smouldering ruins.

New Sand Drilled in at Electra On Depth So Far Never Touched

A new oil sand for the territory immediately east of Electra has been drilled in section 10 by Strawn brothers, Fisher et al on the J. A. Fisher, the new strike arousing considerable interest.

The sand was drilled around 1690 feet, an entirely new depth for this part of the field, and though there has been some trouble with the hole, the well is estimated good for 40 to 50 barrels. Oil was standing several hundred feet in the hole on Wednesday. It is not believed, however, that a fair test of the new sand can be secured in this first hole.

These same operators have a thousand foot producer on this same lease, in section 10 and the Gulf in section 11, on the Douglas, has production at 800 and 1,000 feet. The new well is deeper than the Mangolia's Fowlkes discovery well, an dis about the same depth as some the 1600 foot producers in the original South Electra pool, about four miles south.

Freeman-Hamilton Well in Archer Watched With Interest

Bringing in of the Freeman-Hamilton Well No. 1 in Archer county, about 10 miles from Wichita Falls, and two miles south of the south line of Wichita county, is creating a widespread interest among oily men.

Leases are changing hands in the territory, according too well informed oil men and within a short time it is expected that more rigs will be going up and an active drilling campaign will be on.

Frank Kell said Tuesday that he thinks the new pool located by the Freeman-Hamilton well is going to be one of considerable importance in oildom.

It was reported Tuesday that, according to conservative oil men who have visited the Freeman-Hamilton well, it will make 200 barrels or better on settled production. It will be put under the pump Wednesday, it is said.

A report was current in oil circles Tuesday that Freeman and Hamilton had been offered $150,000 for their holdings in the Archer county field.

Merrily We Move Along, Move Along, Move Along, Yes, Merrily We Move Along to Find the Missing Link

(By International News Service)

LONDON, July 12.—This should interest Mr. William Jennings Bryan.

British anthropologists are investigating the theory that modern men are not men descended from apes, but have walked this old mundane sphere in their present physical form for some 100,000 years.

The anthropologists are of the opinion that this research will lead to the conclusion that if a neolithic man were to don the "topper," "spats" and other garments of the present-day Piccadilly "swanker" that he would cause no sensation because those two men are physically the same.

H. J. Fleure and T. C. James, of the University college of Wales and two of the British scientists who are working on the theories expounded by Mr. Bryan in contravention to Mr. Darwin, that after all modern man is only the neolithic man grown old.

BOSTON MAYOR OFFERS PRIZES

(By International News Service.)

BOSTON, Mass., July 12.—Mayor Curley has offered a cash prize of $500 for the best technical plan for street cleaninfg and the collection of garbage and ashes in the city. In announcing the cash prize Mayor Curley has in mind the technical problem that it involves in place the old question of whether the work can be done better by contract labor or by the city department forces.

The competition is limited to the students of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The essays are directed to the budget commissioner, Charles J. Fox.

POTATO GRADES ARE REVISED BY UNCLE SAM

WASHINGTON, July 12.—In response to a widespread demand, the department of agriculture has put into effect revised United States grades for white potatoes.

The revised grades provide for the elimination from United States No. 1 of the misshapen potatoes and potatoes affected by hollow heart, and th addition of a grade known as No. 1 small.

These modifications, it was stated, have been approved by a large majority of 400 of the principal facters in the potato industry, to whom they were submitted for consideration before being put into effect.

700 Magnolia Co. Employes Dined At Big Barbecue

Special to the Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, July 12.—Last Saturday was a red letter day with the Magnolia company's employes and their families in and around Burkburnett. By special order from the company all business stopped for the day, and a big barbecue-picnic was held on the old R. E. Moore farm at the Prescott water station of the Magnolia company, six miles east of Burkburnett on the Red river.

H. B. Lamb, the superintendent, was general director of the occasion where 700 people were in attendance by invitation of the company.

A splendid address was made by Mr. Hodges of Wichita Falls, lease buyer of the company, on the theme of social relationship and uplift among the workers of the corporation. A general "get acquainted session" was announced, which featured the object of the celebration.

Splendid and bountiful feasts were spread both by individual parties and by the managers of the entertaining company.

Old-time games and dances were enjoyed to the merry tunes of fiddle and banjo in the hands of expert musicians.

YOU CAN'T KEEP A GOOD MAN IN

(By International News Service)

MELROSE, Mass, July 12.—Michael D. Murphy of this city, was in the local "jug" on a charge of intoxication. A turkey making his rounds gave Mike a big drink of water, pushed through a small opening in the lower part of his cell door. Ten minutes later Murphy was gone, although the door remained securel locked.

The next day Mike returned to Chief of Police Kerr and said: "Guess you want me in court. Home looked good to me through the bars, but I'm here, anyway." He was fined $10.

Murphy had done a Houdini through the opening in the door, the opening being 13 1-4 by 5 1-4 inches. Michael is 5 feet 10 inches in height and weight 155 pounds.

HE MIGHT BE BETTER OFF IN JAIL AT THAT

(By International News Service)

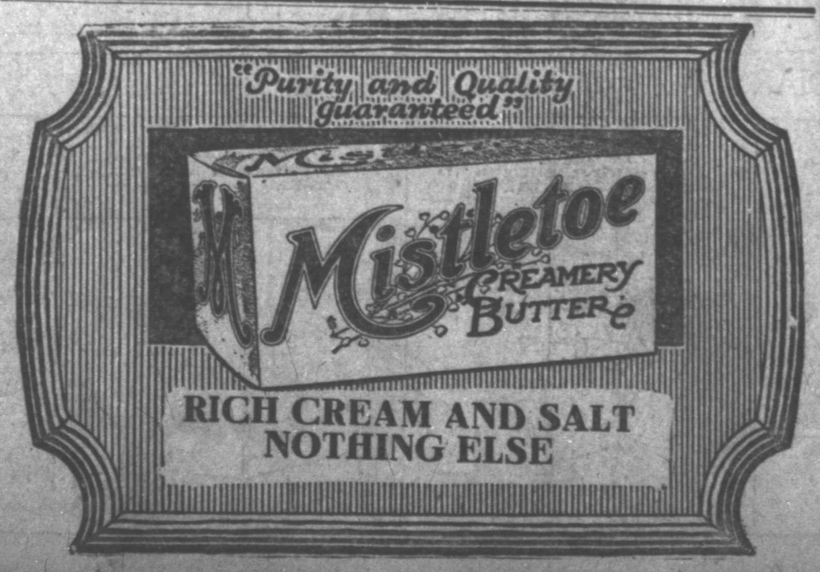

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 13.—James B. Walker is doing penance in the workhouse today, ruefully reviewing in his mind the numerous injunctions against wearing false plumage.

Walker was taken into camp following complaints that he was borrowing money under the guise of a lodge member. He pleaded guilty in court and was sentenced to thirty days in jail for unlawfully wearing the emblem of a secret society.

Walker told Judge Miller he was going to get married as soon as he was discharged.

"Isn't the girl taking a chance?" asked His Honor.

"I don't think so," Walker replied. "I'm through with this stuff."

MEXIA WELL STRIKES GAS

Speight Well Finds New Sand

Special to the Record News.

MEXIA, July 12.—It is stated on reliable authority that the Red Seal well, sout hof Mexia, struck a gas pocket and had a blowout. Mud was pumped in the hole and it is hoped that the gas will be kept under control until casing can be set and cemented an the well rille in.

It is also state that the Speight well has foun another san, although whether oil or gas has not yet been etermine. As soon as the core has been analyzed it will be announced whether a test will be made at the present depth or the drill pushed a bit farther downward. There is a very optimistic feeling held in the city now concerning the structure to the south, and either of the above mentioned tests or the Mexia Giant, located between the two and drilling in with standard tools, may prove up a vast new oil domain any day.

Announcement has been made by the Ligon company, of Fort Worth, successors to the Ligon-Johnson Co., that the Pitts well, east of Mexia and on the same structure as the Red Seal and Speight tests, would be standardized at once and carried to a depth of at least 4,000 feet unless paying production is found at a lesser depth. This well was cased at about 3,400 feet, and the casing was never drawn, although the test was thought to have been abandoned otherwise.

A number of employes of the J. K. Hughes Developing company,, will leave tomorrow for Greenville, where materials and rig have been shipped for the Hughes wildcat test near that city. The test will be made with a rotary rig, and once started, will be pushed with extreme rapidity. The Hughes test is located on a block of 10,500 acres in Hunt, Delta and Hopkins counties, and on structure that is regarded highly by leading geologists. If the test makes a producer it will be a rich plum for the Hughes interests, as the large acreage holdings would furnish room for a long drilling campaign, and greatly enrich the Hughes stockholders.

AGED NEGRO WORKS AS INTERPRETER

(By International News Service.)

IGNACIO, Colo., July 13.—John Taylor, a negro, is thought to be the oldest man on the Ute Indian reservation, near here. His exact age cannot be learned, but data indicate that he is about 106 years of age. Taylor came to Southwestern Colorado with the Indians when they settled in this region more than half a century ago and was an "old man" then. He was a slave and came west after the emancipation. He married a squaw and has a large family.

LOCUSTS TO INFEST LARGE FARM AREAS

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The 17-year-locusts will be uninvited guests this year in Illinois and Southern Wisconsin, according to predictions by agriculture department experts.

The characteristics whirring noise of the insect also will be heard in Indiana ,on the border of Lake Michigan, and in the southern tier of counties in the state of Michigan, it was said, while a big brood will appear in Eastern Iowa.

AIN'T IT NICE TO BE A MAYOR

(By International News Service)

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., July 13.—Salute the mayor!

Members of the local police force are practicing their best salutes as a result of a mandate issued by Chief Doherty, ordering his force to salute the mayor—or get into trouble.

"The mayor is head of the police force. What he says goes. Hereafter he'll be saluted or somebody will suffer!" says Chief Doherty.

CHILDHOOD SWEETIES ELOPE

James Beach and his wife, Myra Green Beach.

The little hamlet of Hanover, N. J., is all "het up" over the elopement of James Beach, 80, and Aunt Myra Green, 75, now on their honeymoon. Beach and his bride were sweethearts 60 years ago. Then he went to seek his fortune. Aunty Green waited. Hence the elopement.

When in doubt, mind your own business.

This Man Wouldn't Stay Down

He was putting in long hours at unskilled work. His small pay scarcely lasted from week to week.

He saw other men promoted. Then he learned the reason. They had special training. He made up his mind to get that kind of training.

He sent to Scranton a coupon like the one below. That was his first step upward.

The reward was not long coming—an increase in salary. Then he was made Foreman. Now he is Superintendent.

It just shows what a man with ambition can do!

What about you? You don't have to stay down. You can climb to the position you want in the work you like best.

The way to do it is easy—without obligating yourself in any way, mark and mail this coupon.

DIVORCE FAR FROM BEING A LUXURY

(By International News Service.)

NEW YORK, July 12.—Is divorce a luxury or a necessity?

Attorney Gainsburg, whose clien, W. E. D. Stokes, has just paid litigation costs aggregating $126,000 maintains that it most emphatically is not a luxury.

The issue arose when facts and figures were revealed by an expert accountant in the hearing of Mrs. Stokes' action for $75,000 annual alimony.

The accountant admitted that Mr. Stokes' legal expenses had not been deducted from his income when federal income tax figures were completed, on the ground that the expenditure was classified under the head of a "luxury."

"Law is never a luxury and you know it," declared counsel for Mr. Stokes to the accountant.

PONDS BUMPED FOR TITLE IN FINAL

Sanderford Hurls University to Big Win

Hammering the offerings of Anderson, and aided by five errors, the University club grabbed the deciding game of the Twilight league when they defeated the Pond Laundry 7 to 0.

Sanderford was in excellent form and hurled a brand of ball that was unhittable, much less unbeatable. He allowed but three hits in the seven-inning contest.

The game closes a very successful season for both teams, and each had fought for the leadership. A large crowd, including practically every player of the league, saw the game.

Two double plays by the University boys aided in the win, but the hurling of Sanderford was the determining factor. He fanned nine of the Pond hitters and allowed but one pass.

Anderson hurled a good game and had eight strikeouts to his credit, but was hit opportunely and for runs. Score:

NO PROGRESS ON SLAYING

Jolley Crime Still Termed Mystery

Although no new light has been thrown upon the murder mystery in which Ed Phelan, 20, lost his life at the hands of an unknown assailant last Sunday afternoon, and despite the fact that no charges have as yet been filed, local authorities intimated yesterday that they are still hopeful of some lead which will unravel the shades of darkness that cloak the affair.

Phelan's riddled body was found in a ponely field near Jolly Sunday afternoon, after tourists had picked up a Mrs. Fuller, who was found on the roadside not far from Phelan's body, with her own body badly bruised. She later narrated that an unmasked man had held up and robbed her and Phelan, murdering the man and attacking her.

The six persons placed in the county prison shortly after the discovery are still being held for investigations, it was learned yesterday.

Oklahoma Sand and Mexican Sun Hold Sway for Day in Wichita

Wichitans sweltered in the heat yesterday. And old Sol gave vent to all his pent-up feelings.

Added to the misery of affairs, a somewhat dis'ved atmosphere lent a breeze to Wichita Falls, and every thing from pies in the cafes to the floors of the courthouse was covered in a veil of dust.

Hundreds of pedestrians, walking down the main thoroughfares throughout the day, were seen to disrobe all the unnecessary wearing apparel, from coats to collars and ties, and straw hats were very much in evidence. The old family umbershoots had their turns, also, and many were seen here during the day.

In the restaurants, hungry Wichitans and visitors chewed up several mouthfuls of grit in trying to "make a meal," and while the strangers in the city mused: "Where is this dust coming from and what makes it so hot?" the local residents averred under their breaths: "Why, this is just the usual panhandle weather."

And so it was.

Rain Threatens

Wednesday morning in Wichita Falls was considerably cooler than during the past two mornings. A dark cloud from the north came up and threatened rain but only a dust storm resulted. However, in Elk City a substantial rain is reported to have fallen. During the afternoon the mercury climbed considerably and is reported to have reached 97 degrees in the shade.

25 CONVERSIONS

A total of 25 conversions have been reported from the revival held by the Walnut Street Baptist church in the brick yard vicinity by Rev. W. L. Nelson, pastor of the church. The services closed Tuesday night after 22 additions had been received in the membership of the church. There were 12 persons who came into the church through baptism and at one meeting there were 14 conversions. The revival spirit prevailed throughout the meeting.

DOROTHY SAULS DIES

Dorothy Frances Sauls, 4 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Sauls died at the home of her parents, 1308 Third street Wednesday morning at 5:00 a. m. Funeral services will be conducted from the residence this morning at 9:30 o'clock by the Rev. N. F. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Burial will be at Riverside cemetery.

BIGGER FACTORY PLANNED HERE

Inventor Of Cotton Cleaner In City

The Cassell Cotton Cleaner company with present headquarters in Winsboro may come to Wichita Falls and establish a factory here on a much larger scale than the one now in operation, it was said at the chamber of commerce late Wednesday.

John L. Cassell, inventor of the machine and president of the company, is in the city demonstrating the work of his machine and is said to have interested several local parties in establishing a factory here. Wichita Falls is sought as a manufacturing point because of the fact that it is a splendid distribution point, it is said, and there remains but little doubt that the factory will be established here.

Legion Election To Be Held July 19

Postponement of the annual election of officers for the Pat Carrigan post, American legion to Wednesday, July 19, when it is planned to hold a "ladies night" at the Kemp hotel, was decided upon at the meeting held last night. The election had been planned for this week's meeting.

Preparations are under way for the open meeting next week, and a detailed program will be announced later.

Hospital for Neurasthenic Wives

Dr. Genill Perrin, a noted French physician, is giving a great deal of his time to the endeavor to work up sentiment in that country for a movement to establish free hospitals ror the treatment of neurasthenia and other nervous ailments, especially those of women. It is stated that at the present time there are many homes which are in a constantly disturbed condition owing to the fact that the woman is suffering from some nervous trouble which could be cured very readily. He claims that rich persons can get this treatment at present while it is beyond the reach of the poor.

Your Character in Diaphrgm.

Dr. Maingot of Paris, is the originator of a new science by which the character of an individual may be read by a study of the movement of the diaphragm. It applies to a new-born babe just as it does to a centenarian and is said to reveal the innermost characteristics of the subject. It is called "phrenosocpy." He uses a radioscope for the purpose by which he is enabled to observe the conduct of the diaphragm in the act of breathing. The reason is that one breathes according to one's character and no one can alter his method of breathing, except as he alters his character. With its first breath the infant shows the traits which will mark him for life and with his last breath the man shows what kind of a person he was in life.

Wichita Cattle Tuberculosis Free

That Wichita county is practically free of any tuberculosis among cattle is the opinion contained in the report received Wednesday by Dr. A. A. Douglass from Austin concerning the prevalence of tuberculosis among cattle in this state.

The report shows that of 40 herds of cattle tested in this county, in which there were169 head of cattle, that there were no reactors and no appearance of the germ.

The report showed further that there are only 16 reactors in the state out of a total of 5,030 examinations conducted in 334 herds of cattle.

JITNEURS AID TO TRAVELERS

They Fill Gap With Trains Off

Jitneurs have come to the aid of travelers delayed here through long lay-overs necessitated because of the shop craft strike, it became known Wednesday.

Carloads of travelers who arrive here almost daily between the hours of 7 a. m., and 12 m., hoping to make connections direct for Altus, Okla., over the Northwestern lines, are being made up almost each day at the union station, and carried to their destinations, it was learned yesterday.

Some misapprehension, it is believed, has caused travelers to journey to Wichita Falls over other routes believing that they will make direct connections on into points in Oklahoma between here and Altus. But because several trains have been taken off duty as a result of the strike, these travelers are forced to wait until the next day, in many instances, before they can renew their journeys.

Several jitneurs have agreed to carry those who do not wish to have such long delays, and are now making long hauls into Altus and even into Elk City, Okla.

RAILROAD NOTES

C. M. Cobb, traveling freight agent of the C. & G. W. railroad, with headquarters in Dallas, visited local railway circles on company business Wednesday.

The United States Railroad Labor Board, under authority of Federal law, after full hearing to all parties at interest, has fixed present wages for Mechanical Crafts. Certain employes having declined to accept their decision, the Board has directed the railway to re-organize its forces and has ordered that men who enter our service

"Are within their rights in accepting such employment; that they are not strike breakers seeking to impose the arbitrary will of an employer on employes; that they have the moral right to engage in such service of the American public to avoid interruption of indispensable railway transportation, and that they are entitled to the protection of every department and branch of the Government, State and National."

Standard wages and overtime conditions will be paid; hours to be those necessary for maintenance of the service.

Board and lodging, under ample protection, will be furnished

Young, active men desiring to go into railroad service will be given an opportunity for training in steady, desirable employment.

LIES

And the Fearful Price of Feminine Falsehood

THIS is the story of the tragic toll of a clergyman driven to suicide; a neighbor shot down as a burglar by the husband of a woman who committed perjury to cover her own theft; a mother repudiated and haled before a lunacy commission by her own daughter.

It is what is known in newspaper circles as a "feature story." It is very ardently illustrated and quite attractively displayed in one of the full pages of the BIG RECORD NEWS SUNDAY MAGAZINE SECTION.

News—You Get It All

THE GROWING RECORD NEWS is primarily a newspaper. It is building along the lines that the people of Wichita Falls, of Quanah, Chillicothe, Vernon, Electra, Burkburnett, Henrietta, Bowie, Stamford, Frederick and scores of others towns in its serving, want the news of these towns primarily. The Record News is serving these towns, as well as serving Wichita Falls.

Other factors in the building of The Record News is the publication of leading magazine features, the best that the market offers. Highest prices are paid for carefully picked comics, for magazine and photographic features. This policy is persistent and dominating in The Record News office. Read The Record News a few days and you'll get the habit. It's easy to catch—because The Record News is about the easiest newspaper in the world to read. It's built for you who live in and around Wichita Falls.

The Most Complete Sunday Newspaper

THAT'S what The Record News is growing into. The first to print Sunday and daily oil pages—the only Wichita Falls paper printing all major league box scores—the paper that carries the most society pictures and the most society news, that is The Record News. The Record News is daily and Sunday printing more local news than any other paper in the state of Texas. All of this is supplanted with one of the most ably edited editorial pages, a complete financial and market page, abundance of gossip and news from the trade territory towns.

Get It All—In The Record News

SPEAK early to insure your copy of the Record News at the newsstand next Sunday. Or better still, drop in and let that good-natured Eddie Perdue, circulation manager, sign you up for a trial run.

NATIONS TRADE GROWS BETTER

Market Reflects Improvement

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Fundamental conditions favored the further advance of prices and quick end pace of today's financial markets. Developments in the labor situation were reassuring and the higher range of international currencies denoted less tension abroad.

Industrial conditions in New England were reported to be almost normal, especially in the textile and leather trades, steel figures disclosed a larger output of finished materials, metal prices hardened and automobile production was maintained during the spring months.

Call money relaxed to the lowest rate so far this morning, local reserves being augmented by receipts from interior banks. Renewals of 30 to 90 day loans at 4 1-4 per cent were freely made where good collateral was offered.

Studebaker and General Asphalt again featured the day's operations at the year's top prices and American ice came within easy distance of its maximum for that period. Other leaders of the rise, which reflected little public participation, included most of the foreign oils, high grade equipments and coppers, leads and zincs. There was intermittent buying of chemicals, textiles, leathers and utilities, the latter again embracing Mackay companies, Western Union and the prominent gas issues.

Rails came to the fore at mid-day "three Cs" common and preferred and many of the western and southwestern divisions scoring extreme advances of one to 3 1-2 points. Coalers lagged however, presumably as a result of information that movements of soft coal from Kentucky and West Virginia had fallen almost 50 per cent in the last few days.

Employers Comply Better With Laws

Special to the Record News.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 12.—The feature of today's session of the national convention of the federation of business and professional women's clubs was the report of Miss E. M. Hoagland, chairman of the national research committee. This report dealt with women in the home, commerce and professional life. She reported that all dead timber in the wood—the problem of the national federation—had been cut out.

Along this line was a revision of the constitution. In the matter of education she reported that employers were complying generally with laws and bettering conditions of working women.

BUSINESS NEWS

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—Gold ore that will assay as high as $20,000 a ton has been struck in the 2,500 foot level of the Portland mine at Victor, Colo., according to Joseph W. Ady Jr., managing director of the Portland Gold Mining company. The ore has been found in two streaks of rich four foot vein, one and four inches in width respectively, according to Ady.

NEW YORK BONDS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The firmer tone and broader scope of today's bond market, resulted in part from better foreign advices and the upward trend of stocks. Liberties again ranged higher, but made no new records.

Improvement in foreign exchange extended to European war flotations, both French and Belgian government 7½s and 8s making further recovery from Monday's sharp declines.

Several of the French municipals, as well as Danish 8s, Copenhagen 5½s, Czecho-Slovakian 8s, Brazil 8s and Argentine 5s, were fractionally higher, Netherland 6s sustaining a slight setback.

Buying by substantial interests was noted in the domestic rails, notably Atchison 4s, Chesapeake & Ohio convertible 5s, Pennsylvania 5s, Kansas City Southern 3s, Seaboard adjustment 5s, Missouri, Kansas & Texas first 4s and Illinois Central refunding 4½s.

Miner Indictments Quashed By Judge

By Associated Press.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 12.—Indictments against members and officers of the United Mine Workers containing counts of murder, arson and conspiracy, in connection with industrial trouble in Mingo county were quashed by Judge R. D. Bailey of the Mingo county circuit court, according to word received here tonight from Williamson. The action was taken at the request of the prosecuting attorney who claimed insufficient evidence.

40 YEARS IN PEN FOR HOUSTON SLAYER

By Associated Press.

HOUSTON, July 12.—Nick Kritson, charged with the murder of Mrs. K. Michael, his former wife, was given 40 years in the penitentiary by a jury in criminal district court. The jury reported at 9 a. m. today.

Counsel for Kritzon sought to show that he was temporarily deranged at the time of the shooting when he also fired several bullets into his own body.

It would not be supposed that the natives of Brazil would be greatly concerned by the prohibition laws of this country, but they are immensely pleased. This is explained that it means that we will drink more coffee, and our coffee all comes from Brazil.

Rheumatism at 60

How glorious you will feel, mother, when your rheumatism is all gone. Let S. S. S. do it. It will build you up, too!

S. S. S. Thoroughly Rids the Body of Rheumatism Impurities.

Somebody's mother is suffering tonight! The scourge of rheumatism has wrecked her body; limping and suffering, bent forward, she sees but the common ground, but her aged heart still belongs to the stars! Does anybody care? S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-purifiers known, and it helps build more blood cells. Its medicinal ingredients are purely vegetable. It never disarranges the stomach. It is, in fact, a splendid tonic, a blood maker, a blood enricher. It banishes rheumatism from joints, muscles and the entire body. It builds firm flesh. It is what somebody's mother needs tonight! Mother, if you can not go out to get a bottle of S. S. S. yourself, surely somebody in your family will. Somebody, get a bottle of S. S. S. now! Let somebody's mother begin to feel joyful again tonight. Maybe, maybe it's your mother! S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size is the more economical.

COTTON CLIMBS $2 PER BALE

European Situation Helps Things

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 12.—A favorable view of European conditions and a bullish interpretation of the weekly crop review of the weather bureau, led to advances of about $2 bale in the cotton market today. October contracts sold up to 22.37 or 43 points net higher and closed at 22.31 with the general market closing very steady at net advances of 33 to 42 points.

The market opened steady at a decline of 8 points on July.

The market was firmer during the afternoon on covering. The highest prices of the day were reached in the late trading with December selling at 22.22 and January at 21.94 and with the general list showing net advances of 37 to 44 points. The close was within a fe wpoints of the best. Judging from comment on the floor, some of the local traders took the weekly report of the weather bureau as indicating the beginning of deterioration in crop prospects and there was also bullish comment cn reports of hot winds and need of rain in west Texas. Port receipts today were 8,805 bales. U. S. port stocks 614,005. Exports today, 6,180 making 5,873,123 so far this season.

GRAINS MAKE SLOW DECLINES

Wheat Alone Show Advance

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 12.—Indications of possible quick settlement of the railroad strike led to lower prices in the wheat market today. The close was unsettled at 5-8 to 1 1-4c net decline with September 1.13½ and December 1.15½ to 1.15 5-8. Corn lost 3-8 to 3-4. Oats 5-8@3-4 to 7-8c and provisions 5 to 12 cents.

Responsiveness to a better outlook for an ending of railroad labor troubles was shown by the wheat market as soon as trading began but soaking rains that meant perhaps a week's delay to harvest became temporarily the ruling influence and caused values to range moderately higher throughout most of the first half of the board of trade session.

Almost complete ignoring of bullish factors, became apparent in the wheat market after announcement of a definite programme looking toward solution of railroad strike difficulties.

Provisions went upward in prices with hogs but later gave way under an increase of orders to sell.

WHAT A TRIAL REVEALS

Sweet Dreams, the Great Mosquito Remedy, is Built Up to a Standard.

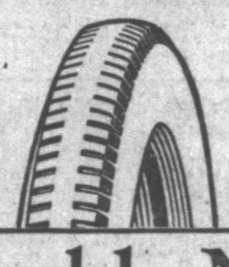

Because a certain mosquito remedy failed to work or because it stained bed linen or because it had an offensive odor has led some people to believe that such is true of all mosquito remedies.

To such people, we appeal—for in the manufacture of Sweet Dreams, every detail has been carefully studied.

Being double-strength, Sweet Dreams keeps mosquitoes off with unfailing certainty—it never stains and it is entirely free from all objectionable odors.

These facts a trial will reveal.

Your dealer has Sweet Dreams. (Adv.)

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Remarkable New Cord Tire at a Popular Price

Here is a big, sturdy, long-wearing new tire built to satisfy the buyer on every point of mileage, quality and price.

It is designed especially for the man who wants the essential advantages of cord tire performance at the lowest possible price.

It is designed to offer the buyer a quality product at a price even lower than he has formerly paid for a "long discount" tire. It has a different tread from the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread Cord—a new tread with a deep, clean-cut, cog-like pattern—and its selling price ranges from 20 to 25% less.

This new tire is the Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord it is liberally oversize in all straight-side sizes, the 4½-inch tire, for example, actually measuring nearly 5 inches.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, its foundation is genuine high-grade long-staple cotton.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it embodies the efficient group-ply construction, a Goodyear patent.

Like the All-Weather Tread Cord, it is the product of an experienced company which has a world-wide reputation to safeguard.

Look at the prices of the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, listed below.

Compare these prices with net prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires of unknown reputation and value.

Why take a chance on such tires?—you know it doesn't pay.

You can get the new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord, as well as the famous All-Weather Tread Cord, from any of the Goodyear Service Station Dealers listed here.

Compare these prices with NET prices you are asked to pay for "long discount" tires

30 x 3½ Clincher	$13.50	31 x 4	Straight Side $23.50	34 x 4	Straight	$27.35	34 x 4½ Straight Side $32.95
30 x 3½ Straight Side	$15.85	32 x 4	Straight Side $25.45	32 x 4½	Straight Side	$31.45	33 x 5 Straight Side $39.10
32 x 3½ Straight Side	$19.75	33 x 4	Straight Side $26.80	33 x 4½	Straight Side	$32.15	35 x 5 Straight Side $41.05

These prices include manufacturer's excise tax

Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks

PUBLIC OPINION BEGETS SUCCESS

Three Big Industries Believe

WASHINGTON, D. C. July 12.—Is favorable public opinion necessary to the success of a great industry? How valuable an asset is public opinion?

Three of the mightiest combinations in the United States have answered these questions and answered them emphatically.

First came the baseball magnates. When the great national pastime, in which they had invested millions, was struggling in the throes of scandal arising from the Chicago-Cincinnati world's series, they forgot petty differences and made Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis the supreme arbiter of the game.

Landis has since done much to eradicate the suspicion which clouded the game in the minds of the fans.

Then the movie producers followed suit. They picked Will H. Hays, postmaster general of these United States, to occupy a similar position in the movie world with the hope that he could raise the industry from the depths into which it had been plunged by unscrupulous producers and indiscreet stars.

BRITISH COLONISTS TO GET FINANCIAL HELP

(By International News Service.)

OTTAWA, Ont., July 12. — The Empire Settlement bill recently passed by the British house of commons makes available 15,000,000 pounds sterling annually for 15 years for the purpose of financing British colonists who desire to settle in overseas dominions of the Empire. The bill, it is believed, will prove a great impetus to immigration to Canada from the British Isles.

The bill provides that one-half of the sum made available shall be devoted to paying the passage of settlers to the dominions they select as their future home and the other half is to be used to make loans to them after they have gone upon the land. The maximum loan to each settler is reckoned at $1,500 by the government.

SHORT SKIRTS DON'T WORRY BELFAST FOLK

(By International News Service.)

BELFAST, Me., July 12.—Girls' short skirts fail to alarm this city.

During his address to the graduating class of the Belfast high school, Mayor Clement W. Westcott referred to the short skirts worn by the women and girls, and said he thought the matter of regulation should be left to the school principal, as was recently done in a Massachusetts city.

When Charles S. Bickford of the school board, spoke he referred laughingly to the matter and declared that although he had been on the school board for twenty-five years, if they were going to measure girls' skirts he thought it was time for him to resign.

FAMED ATHLETE TO ENTER MINISTRY

(By International News Service.)

LEWISTON, Me., July 12.—Ray Baker, a runner of nationwide fame, holder of the state and New England two mile record and a graduate of Bates college, will become pastor of the Congressional church at Oxford, Me.

During his work in the pulpit he will not, however, give up the running game. He will run an exhibition two miles at the celebration in Belfast, Me., and he will also keep in condition for the big track meet in Los Angeles, Calif., in 1923 where he will meet the crack runners of America and Europe.

DAIRY PRICES RETAIN HIGH MARKS

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON—Prices of dairy and poultry products suffered the least in the rapid deflation of prices of farm products which began in 1920 and continued through 1921 according to the department of agriculture.

While prices of crops and livestock declined in 1921 to about one-half what they were in 1919, prices of dair and poultry products declined onl about one-quarter, it was stated.

Wool prices declined the most, the 1921 price being only about one-third of the 1919 price.

OH MERCY; FRENCH GIRLS PLAY HAZENA

(By International News Service.)

PARIS, July 12.—Hapena is the latest national sport for French women. Hazena is in reality football played with the hands. And this means with the hands only. No feet are allowed.

A team of charming Czech girls have just been in Paris teaching the popular game to their French sisters and have proved it to be a most interesting as well as healthful sport.

It resembles the American game of hand-ball, but the pig-skin is much larger and is therefore tossed, rather than thrown, from player to player as it passes from goal to goal.

There are certain fixed rules. Players must remain within certain courts marked out by white lines, a little as in tennis. The ball must not be held longer than three seconds, a good way to make quick thinking. And by no means must the feet play a part. If the ball merely touches the knee or the leg of the player she is called by the referee.

KENTUCKY BLUEGRASS IS FOREIGN PRODUCT

(By International News Service.)

WASHINGTON — Contrary to popular belief, Kentucky bluegrass is not a native of the United States but was brought over from the old world by early colonists, according to the department of agriculture.

The most important hay grass cultivated in the United States is said to be timothy. It grows throughout the northern half of the United States and as far south as the cotton belt.

SANDERS GETS CAR

M. J. Sanders has recovered his automobile, according to reports made at police headquarters yesterday.

The car, a five-passenger Oldsmobile, which was stolen Monday night, was discovered early Tuesday afternoon in the Scotland addition. The vehicle had been stolen from the Sanders residence at 1206 Denver street.

KING UNVEILS MONUMENT

King George, at the extreme right, as he unveiled monument.

King George recently unveiled the memorial monument to the late King Edward, his father, at Shadwell Park, London. This spot had been dedicated to the memory of the late king. The monument was presented by the London county council.

Auto Head

William I. Ohmer.

William I. Ohmer, as chairman of the board of directors, will direct the new Associated Motor Industries corporation, an $80,000,000 consolidation with plants in seven states. The concern will put out automobiles, trucks and parts.

M'CLURKAN TO BUILD STORE

Structure Will Be Put Up On Ninth

Plans and specifications for a modern and complete department store building are being prepared in the office of C. J. ate, architect, for the W. B. McClurkan company, it was learned Wednesday.

The plans are taken to indicate an intention on the part of this company to build at an early date on their lot at the corner of Ninth and Scott, one of the most valuable and desirable locations in the heart of what is expected to rapidly become the new retail shopping district.

This lot, fronting 100 feet on Scott and running back to the alley between Scott and Lamar on Ninth was purchased three years ago by the McClurkan company for a consideration of $100,000. Other important local retailers also own undeveloped business property in this neighborhood.

Estimates on the cost of the proposed building are not yet available. Definite statement on the plans of the company would not be obtained Wednesday, although Marvin Smith, the general manager of the store, admitted that the plans were being prepared for them.

"Who wouldn't buy from Wichita Falls when more than 100 of its business men charter a special all-steel train and spend half a week calling on them?"

Breckenridge said this yesterday.

One of the principal business men of the town expressed the sentiment of the merchants visited along the three-day route of the expedition in the manner depicted above.

"Wichita Falls must be a real town; always heard a little about it—but never really thought it amounted to all of this."

Such was the comment of another merchant called upon by the trade trippers.

Hubert Harrison, general manager of the chamber of commerce said last night that the trip was a complete success. He paid high tribute to every man in the party, declaring that "they stuck wonderfully through the heat and dust and dirt o fthe long ride."

This is a picture of the trade trippers. Among those smiling at the camera man as they posed for the Record News are Maskat Daniels, Bert Bean, Frank Queisser, R. E. Shepherd, Charles Nolen, Hubert Harrison and, aw, pick 'em out yourself. The band boys grouped around Director Lawler are bending in front of the business men.

They're Dolling Up Old Station Just as If There Was No Strike

You wouldn't know a strike was on if you visited the local union railroad station.

The old station is dolling up, and there's an air of activity about the place that makes it appear busy.

Painting on the interior of the building, which has been in progress for several days, is nearing completion, an observation showed yesterday, and the ceiling and all woodwork about the interior have a new dress to wear.

It was learned yesterday that the exterior will also be gone over, the woodwork receiving a coat of paint that will make the station look like new.

It is understood that Superintendent Grace of the Katy road plans the installation of sanitary cold-coil drinking fountains in the walls of the building, this being on the bill of better equipment for the station.

IN SOCIETY AT ELECTRA

ELECTRA, July 12.—Miss Dolly Mae Thompson left Monday for New Mexico and Colorado. Later in the summer she will return here for a visit with Mrs. C. A. Hodges and Mrs. J. W. Kennedy before going to her home in Waxahachie.

Mrs. A. T. Brice and little son, Thomas Allen of Clarksville, Texas are visiting Mrs Brice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bonie Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hodges returned Friday from their wedding trip spent in Oklahoma City and Medicine Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson returned Sunday fromb Archer City.

Miss Graham spent the week end in Wichita Falls visiting her sister, Mrs. Bewar.

J. C. Kennedy, C. S. Kennedy, Jess Kennedy and Talmage Newton, who motored from Waxahachie, returned to their home Sunday.

Mrs. Tom Hoxie and sons, Mitchell and Billy Bob enjoyed Monday in Wichita Falls visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stuart and little son, Billy returned Monday from Oklahoma City, where they have been for the past two weeks visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. Tom McCauley left Monday for Tuscon, Arizona, after spending the past month here visiting his brother, Anthony McCauley.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Troxel spent Sunday in Archer City.

SPECIAL DEPUTYS AT WACO SWORN IN

WACO, Texas, July 12.—Ten special deputy United States marshals appointed by D. A. Walker, United States marshal for the western district of Texas, were sworn in here this morning for general purposes, but to meet any emergency growing out of the railroad strike.

Slayer Arrested.

By Associated Press.

RICHMOND, Va., July 12.—Will H. Bell, Bedford, Va., said to be a Norfolk and Western detective guard, charged with killing Russell Wiggins, a yard office clerk and wounding another man at Carew, Va., last night, was brought to the Henrico county jail here today. Bell claims the shooting was accidental.

NEGRO FARMERS MAKE BIG YIELD OF CORN

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Average yields of 35 bushels of corn per acre were obtained by more than 14,000 negro farmers in North Carolina, Texas and Virginia, who raised 90,000 acres of corn last year, the department of agriculture has announced. The average for all farms in these states ranged from 17 to 25 bushels an acre.

The excellent record made by the negro farmers is attributed in part to the advice they received from county agents employed co-operatively by the department of agriculture and the state agricultural colleges.

Seventy per cent of the negro farmers in Virginia are said to be following methods of growing corn taught by extension workers.

In many families, it seems to us, the bringing up of children consists in supplying rations and clothes and trusting God for the rest.

It won't help much to cancel Europe's debts unless we can cancel Europe's grudges along with it. And that is another thing money can't do.

Fifteen Minutes of Radio a Day

By EDWARD N. DAVIS

(Formerly Technical Electrical Expert for United States Government)

FOREWORD

An important feature in connection with those daily articles on radio is the preparation they afford for taking the United States government examination, which must be passed successfully before an applicant is granted a license to operate a radio set for the transmission of electric waves.

Departmental experts of the U. S. government at the recent radio conference in Washington estimated that in one year the number of people possessing wireless telephone sets had increased from 50,000 to 600,000. For receiving appartus no license is required.

It is easily conceivable that thousands of converts to the interesting phases of radio communication will desire further knowledge of its underlying principles in order to transmit as well as receive the electric waves.

These articles provide the student with a clear knowledge of the fundamentals of radio and are a valuable aid in preparation of the governmental examination, taken for the purpose of obtaining an operator's license.

LESSON No. 18.

Electrostatic Capacity.

The phenomenon of electrostatic capacity is a very important property of radio circuits and is a measure of the ability of the circuit to store up or hold energy in electrostatic form. In the condenser the energy, or charge, is stored in the dielectric, which may be air, glass, or mica in high voltage condensers and oiled paper or thin sheets or rubber in low voltage condensers.

The ability of the various dielectrics to store up electrostatic lines of force may be compared by using air, at ordinary pressure, as a standard. Flint glass will store up approximately 7 to 10 times as large a quantity of electricity as air. Mica from 4 to 8 times, common glass 3 to 4 times, pure India rubber from 2 to 3 times and Manila paper about one and one-half times. It is important that the dielectric have a strength sufficient to prevent rupture from the impressed voltage. By strength of a dielectric is meant its ability to resist rupture or current leakage.

The capacity of a condenser depends upon the area of the conducting surfaces, upon the material of the dielectric and upon the distance between the plates. The capacity is directly proportional to the area of the plates and also directly proportional to the ability of the dielectric to store up the edectrostatic lines of force. The capacity is inversely proportional to the distance between the plates.

The unit of capacity is the Farad but this unit is so large that the microfarad has been adopted as the practical unit. The microfarad is one-millionth part of a farad.

In order to explain the relation of capacity to other units of the electric circuit, it is necessary to define the Coulomb. When the rate of current flows in a circuit is one ampere per second, the quantity of flow is one coulcomb. The coulomb, therefore, is a quantity of electricity.

A condenser has a capacity of one farad when the addition of one coulomb of electricity raises the potential across the condenser one volt. This relation may be stated in the form of an equation.

C (farad) .. Q (Coulombs)
E (Volts)

Where C—Capacity in farads.
Where Q—Quantity in coulombs.
Where E—Pressure in volts.

The copper plated glass jars, in general use, as a battery of con condensers in marine installations, have a capacity of approximately 0.002 microfarad each. When condensers, each having the same capacity, are connected in parallel, the total capacity is the sum of the individual capacities. When connected in xseries, however, the total capacity is equal to the capacity of one condenser divided by the number of condensers in series. This relation applies only when each condenser has an equal value of capacity.

MASKAT NEVER FORGETS!

The following letter from Maskat temple has been received by the managing editor of the Record News:

"Speaking for the entire nobility of Maskat temple, may I as their potentate take this means of expressing our most sincere thanks for the wonderful co-operation given our temple by your paper during our Shrine circus.

"We fully appreciate the fact that without the assistance of our local papers our show could not have gone over and we want you and through you the management of your paper and the other members of your staff to know that your work with us has not been overlooked and is most sincerely appreciated.

"I have received numerous compliments from visiting nobles on the splendid manner in which our publicity before and during the circus was handled, and have frequently been asked the question: 'How in h—— do you get this front page stuff?'

"My reply has always been that we have a bunch of boys running our local papers that go right in and pitch with any bunch that is trying to boost this community or any worthwhile organization in it.'

"Again thanking you and wishing for you and your paper the success which its spirit in this community justifies, I beg to remain,

"Sincerely your friend,
"W. D. CLINE."

Mixer Makes Hay

With the sun shining forth its strongest rays, the No. 2 Potts-Prentice mixer made "hay while the sun shone" yesterday.

The mixer got its work under way with the coming of dawn Wednesday on its new location two miles east of Burkburnett. A strip of a mile and three quarters remain there to be concreted, it was asserted yesterday, and it is thought this strip will be finished in due time.

The mixer was moved from a location south of Burkburnett last Saturday.

SIGNALMAN BLAMED FOR IT

Wrecked coaches of the Atlantic City express which proved death traps for a score of passengers when a slit switch sent them into the ditch between Camden, N. J., and Atlantic City.

An express train loaded with women and children on their way to Atlantic City for an outing, ploughed through the night. A switchman in the tower gave the "all clear" signal. On rushed the train—to destruction. For the signalman had erred and then realizing his error had swooned, making it impossible to stop the train. Twenty were killed and seventy-five injured when the train crashed over an embankment between Camden, N. J., and Atlantic City.

CROWD OF FOURTEEN LIVES IN 4 ROOMS

(By International News Service)

MOUNT VERNON, N Y., July 12.—"We're healthy — healthiest people in town. The kids like it. We like it. People don't know it, but we're happy. We don't 'live like pigs.' We live like kings."

An interpreter translated it this way when a reporter interviewed Mr. and Mrs. Machael Corrigi and Mr. and Mrs. Albanesi, who, with their 12 children, live in a four-room shack here. The board of health condemned the place as "dangerous," and ordered the Corrigs and the Albanesis to move within 10 days or face prosecution.
