Bombers Leave Depots Afire

By GEORGE MCARTHUR

SAIGON (AP) — Carrier-based U.S. Navy bombers left two fuel oil dumps in flames just west of Haiphong on the heels of Washington's concession that U.S. planes may have hit a Soviet ship in raids near the North Vietnamese port Thursday.

Intense antiaircraft fire in North Vietnam brought down two Navy Skyhawk jets, making 592 U.S. planes lost over North Vietnam. Both pilots were missing.

The raids west of Haiphong Friday were in the same general area where, the Soviet Union charged, American fire again hit a Soviet merchant ship, this time the 2,357-ton Mikhail Frunze.

The Pentagon conceded the Mikhail Frunze might have taken American fire. The United States made the same concession after the Soviets charged that their freighter Turkistan was hit at Cam Pha June 2.

A U.S. spokesman said Friday's followup strikes were at fuel dumps some distance inland, However. The closest to Haiphong was a strike on the Loi Dong storage area five miles to the northwest. Another of Haiphong. Air Force Thunderchief pilots raked a position fuel dump seven miles southwest of the port city was also prepared for Soviet-built surface to air missiles. The area was left in flames pilots said.

Returning pilots said 500-pound bombs sent ribbons of flame through the fuel dumps and the column of smoke from burning oil could be seen for miles.

The raids were part of 115 strike missions Friday. Again the much-battered rail lines running from Hanoi to the Red Chinese frontier came in for heavy U.S. bombing.

Some 60 miles up the Red River rail line to the northwest of Haiphong, Air Force Thunderchief pilots raked a position fuel dump seven miles southwest of the port city was also prepared for Soviet-built surface to air missiles. The area was left in flames pilots said.

On the northeast rail line, pilots reported catching two 15-car trains. Bombs and strafing destroyed an estimated 20 cars.

Other strikes hit an assortment of trucks, barges, rail cuts, bridges and antiaircraft emplacements.

Although the ground war lacked big battles, scattered skirmishes and shellings dotted South Vietnam. Near the big Marine base at Phu Bai above Da Nang, a troop-carrying helicopter was shot down by guerrillas, killing five Marines and injuring seven.

In the Mekong Delta, the Navy reported, two speedy 30-foot river patrol boats chopped up a band of about 80 guerrillas trying to slip across the Bassac River near Can Thom.

The gierrillas raked the litle fiberglass boats with machine-gun fire and wounded two sailors. The boat crews returned the fire with .50 caliber machine guns and explosives from grenade launchers. Two other actions were reported from the delta.

A force of South Vietnamese infantry and Rangers reported today they surprised a guerrilla band in the paddylands 67 miles southwest of Saigon.

The South Vietnamese force killed 14 enemy and captured 17 more, along with a store of ammunition, weapons and documents.

In the same general area, Viet Cong forces mined a provincial road and blew up a three-wheel scooter bus. One passenger was killed and five were wounded.

In a delayed report, a military spokesman said Korean infantrymen fought a small but savage battle Thursday with Red guerrillas in a cave in coastal Phu Yen Province. The Koreans fought the Reds hand to hand, poured grenades into them and claimed to have killed 26 and to have captured 31 weapons without losing a man.

ARTIFACTS — This is a collection of artifacts that is on display at the John Portis home. Most of the artifacts come from Scurry County. They include anything from arrowheads to flint. The larger pieces are mostly spearheads and the smaller specimens are arrowheads.

July 4th Celebration Set

Snyder and Scurry County residents were all set by the end of the week for another big community celebration of Independence Day.

The big July 4th event will again be held in Towle Memorial Park. Several feature events are planned, and at the same time there will be plenty of opportunity for "just visiting," picnicking, etc.

It will be the 7th community celebration of Independence day in the park here. The annual event was initaited in 1961 by the Snyder Chamber of commerce, which still coordinates the celebration. Bob Watlington is general chairman of the event this year.

The activity in the park will begin with the traditional patriotic program. The guest speaker will be Don Wooten of Abilene, President of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway Co. Wooten's address will follow a memorial service to be conducted by the Rev. William N. Parkey, pastor of First Christian Church.

Activities in the park will continue throughout the day, coming to a climax in the evening with a big fireworks display. A parade through the park will follow the opening program and that will signal the opening of concession stands and the launching of other activities in the park.

Wooten, a native of Abilene, is well - known in business and civic circles in the Southwest. He is vice president of Reef Oil Corp. and of Tex-Hart, Inc. (a grain storage firm), is a director of the First National Bank in Abilene and a director of Abilene Savings Association.

He also serves as president to the Abilene Council of Churches, is a director and past chairman of the Taylor County Chapter of the American Red Cross, of Abilene Council on Alcoholism, director and immediate past president of the Texas Association for Mental Health, member of the board of the National Association for Mental Health, director of Texas United Funds, director of Texas Good Roads Association, and is active in several other civic endeavors.

At 10:30 a.m. several activities will begin, including an art show in the county barn, the Jaycees fishing rodeo for youngsters, a tennis tournament and a Pee Wee baseball game.

A flyover of jet aircraft from Reese AFB is set for 10 a.m.

At 11 a.m. helicopters from Fort Wolters at Mineral Wells will go through some maneuvers at Winston Field, the county airport just west of the park.

A swimming meet will begin at the Towle Park Pool at 2 p.m. This will be followed by the Miss Towle Park Pool beauty contest.

Little League Baseball games will begin at 6 p.m. and art show awards will be presented at 6:30 p.m.

The fireworks display is scheduled to begin at 9:45 p.m.

Throughout the day, "Operation Sparkle" pictures will be shown by the Twilight Garden Club, Rotary Club and Boy Scout Troup 36.

Veterans organizations will participate in the flag-raising ceremony to launch the memorial service and a 21-gun salute will be fired by the local National Guard Unit, Battery B, 1st. Battlaion, 131st Artillery.

6 Satellites Hurled To High Posts

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE Kennedy, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force today orbited a bundle of six satellites and steered them toward high outposts to strengthen America's military space communications capability.

A 12-story-tall Titan 3 rocket, most powerful in the Defense Department arsenal, blasted away from Cape Kennedy on schedule at 9:15 a.m. EDT and drilled its third stage and the attached satellites into an initial orbit about 100 miles above the earth.

The third stage, called a "switch engine," was to ignite and shift course three times during a complex six-hour flight plan.

The stage was to drop the payloads off one at a time into separate orbits 20,900 miles above the earth. They were to be released at slightly different speeds so they would spread out to form a necklace around the earth near the equator.

The Flight Control Center reported 15 minutes after the launching that the early phases of the mission had been perfect.

The bundle included a satellite that could lead to a tactical communications satellite system for use by combat soldiers and another designed to transmit color photographs of the earth.

Deaths Laid To Heavy Downpours

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Heavy rains—pumping new life into crop and rangelands but dealing death on slick roads and highways—cranked up anew across a wide band of North Texas today.

At least five deaths were attributed to the weather before daylight today. All came on roads made slick by heavy heavy rains.

Two tornadoes wre reported in the Panhandle Friday night. One funnel cloud was seen 14 miles southwest of Amarillo in an area lashed by hail and heavy thunderstorms. A pilot said he saw another tornado 12 miles north of Hereford.

No damage or injury was reported in either tornado.

Rains of nearly five inches were recorded in Texas Friday in buming lines of thundershowers that cropped up from the Rio Grande to the Red River Valley.

The activity shifted to the east today with new thunderstorm cells reported from Abilene to cells reported from Abilene to east of the Dallas-Fort Worth area. The showers, at times, extended past the Waco area of Central Texas to the south and forerunners of the thundershower lines boomed as far east as Paris.

Friday's heaviest recorded downpour was 4.85 at the Cope Ranch 40 miles west of San Angelo.

Forecasts called for showers in all sections through Sunday. Cooler readings were expected in the Panhandle Sunday. Friday's maximum temperatures ranged from 102 degrees at Cotulla to 74 at Midland.

Crowley Is Promoted To Captain

Chief of Police Stephen Clark has announced promotion of Sergeant A. E. Crowley to the rank of Captain of Police. The appointment became effective Saturday.

Capt. Crowley will be in charge of the Records and Communications, Sections and of Headquarters personnel.

In 1939 Capt. Crowley began his career in law enforcement. He was employed by the State of Texas for 15 years, as an agent for the Liquor Control Board and was also one of their criminal investigators. He came with the Snyder Police Department on Jan. 1, 1953, as a patrolman. Shortly thereafter he was appointed Sergeant of Police, and was Acting Chief of Police for the past month until Chief Clark assumed command.

It was also announced by Chief Clark that the Sergeant's vacancy created by this promotion will shortly be filled on the basis of written examination, efficiency, and oral interview.

De Gaulle Kosygin Meet

PARIS (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Charles de Gaulle met at the Elysee Palace today for a second round of private talks expected to center on the Middle East. The leaders both claim that Israel fired the first shot in the June 5-10 war.

The gray-haired premier, accompanied by Valerian Zorin, Soviet ambassador to Paris, smiled at photographers waiting on the palace steps when he arrived, and was led to De Gaulle's first- floor offices by a palace official.

Kosygin loked a little tired several hours earlier as he stepped off his Iluyshin turboprop plane at Orly Airport.

Industrial Meet Set For Monday

All Snyder area residents have been invited to a special meeting scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Snyder High School Auditorium by the Scurry County Industrial Development Corp.

During the session, local residents will be brought up to date on some recent activities of the industrial board, particularly one project which now has reached the stage that some information can be revealed for the first time.

Theme of the Monday night session will be "I'm In; We've Got A Winner." The "I'm In" slogan came into being here two years ago when local support was sought following an industrial inquiry. That project did not materialize and the potential support that was made available was not needed at that time.

There is a more substantial project in advanced stages of development now, according to Bill Wilson and Harry Reed, co-chairmen of the industrial board. This will be discussed in more detail at the Monday night meeting, which industrial board officers have emphasized will be of special interest to all residents of both Scurry and Borden Counties.

AMATEUR ARCHAEOLOGISTS

Scurry County Residents 12,000 Years Ago Studied

By TERRY WILLIAMSON

What was the life of man in Scurry County like 12,000 years ago?

Your guess would probably be as good as mine, but there is at least one group in Snyder that is interested in finding out the Scurry Chapter of South Plains Archaeological Society.

The Society is presently working on several sites in Scurry County, and in one they have found evidence that man was around these parts at least 12,000 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. John Portis and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bills are working on an archaeological site in the eastern part of the county which they believe is an old camping ground for several different tribes.

Portis has just completed a manuscript on the site, which will be submitted for publication in an archaeological bulletin.

"Of course, we are only amateurs at this, and anything we find we turn in for further study by the people who know about these things," Portis said.

At the site, they have taken out hundreds of arrow heads, bits of old pottery, scrapers and grind stones which show conclusively that the site has been used many times by the Indians as a camping ground.

Among other artifacts found at the site, is an ornament off a seventeenth century French trade gun. It was estimated that the ornament dates back to 1730. Also a Refugio point, an arrow head, which shows that Indian life in Scurry County dates back at least 12,000 years.

The Indian camp site is near a creek, and it is believed that many tribes through the years used it while migrating with the buffalo. There are many finds that indicate that different tribes used this place, and one is a series of petroglyphs inscribed in the creek sandstone that clearly show that different tribes used the camp.

It is a known fact that the Indians followed the buffalo across the country, but it seems evident that they liked to use the same camp site when they returned this way.

The camp site is very suitable for an Indian camp because it is on a high place

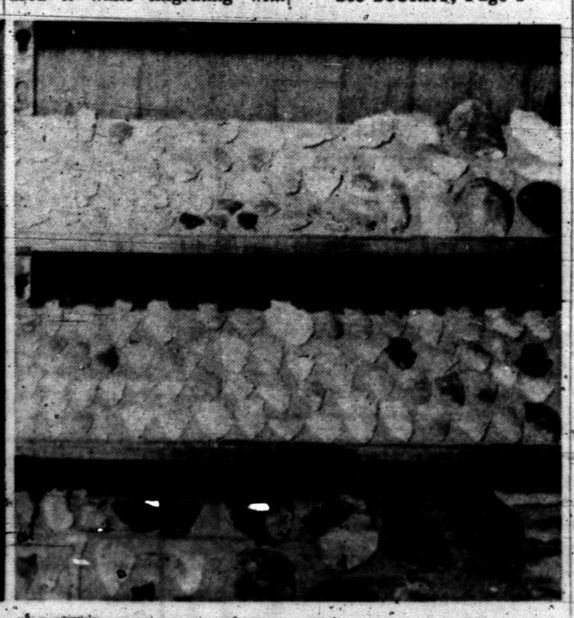
ROCK HOUNDS — Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bills look over a collection of artifacts they gathered in Scurry County including a seventeenth century ornament from a French trade gun. The couple has made archaeology a serious hobby for seven years.



VARIED ASSORTMENT — This collection is owned by Pat Bills, and contains a varied assortment of artifacts. The top row of specimens were taken from Scurry County. The other rows contain some Scurry County artifacts, but others come from other parts of Texas, New Mexico and Mexico.

DEAR ABBY: I am 26 years old and have never had a real boyfriend. (I've had lots of dates, but they never developed into anything. My mother started a sterling silver set for me when I was 14, and it's complete now. She also has two hope chests filled with towels and bedspreads. When I graduated from high school she made me a beautiful white wedding gown.

Whenever a boy comes over she shows him my hope chests and talks to him about religion and how I am going to raise my children. Then I never see him again.

My friends tell me I am pretty and have a nice personality and I have had the same job (bookkeeper in a wholesale business) for seven years, so what's wrong with me?

GETTING DESPERATE

DEAR GETTING: Your mother, it's hard to believe she is unaware that she's frightening all the men away. But just in case, tell her to confine her conversation with them to the weather. And if she can't, or won't, I see little hope of you ever using the contents of your hope chest until you leave your mother's bed and board.

near a fresh water source. This serves two purposes: 1) It provides a lookout for their enemies and game. 2) It is far enough away from the fresh water source, so that it doesn't scare off the game when it comes to drink.

Portis said the information gathered and recorded from this site will contribute to the overall picture of Indian history in this country. He also reported that Scurry County is lacking in many phases of this type of information, and the Society wants to preserve and write as much as they can on the history of the Scurry Indians.

The Society was founded four years ago, and has published several bulletins which have been submitted to the Scurry County Library, and they plan to do much more work in this field. At present, there are approximately 20 members in the local chapter.

The Scurry chapter's "mother society" is located in Lubbock, and nearly all of the counties in Texas have hard working organizations.

In another site north of Snyder, the group has uncovered a tusk of some prehistoric animal. The tusk is 72 inches long and 14 inches through the base. The tip had been broken off.

The group discovered the tusk too late, and were unable to save it. Portis said that the bone flaked badly when they tried to work with it because it had decayed from being exposed to the elements.

Portis said that he was not qualified to estimate how old the tusk was. He just simply stated, "That gets way over my head when you start talking about that far back."

Portis said that anything like the Indian camp takes a long time to compile the information. "We have been working on this site for about two years, and there is still a lot of work that can be done," Portis said.

When the information is turned over to the mother society, more investigation may take place, and more facts and history will be known. As for now, the past is buried, but may again live some day in exhibits and publications.

Aged Mariner Sets Sail On Atlantic

MONTAUK, N.Y. (AP) — Capt. William Willis is alone at sea again today, bound across 3,000 miles of water in a boat only slightly longer than a surf board and about twice as wide.

The bewhiskered 74-year-old mariner set sail on the Atlantic Ocean in midafternoon Friday as rain fell in a steady drizzle. His 13-foot boat, "Little One," carried supplies for 120 days.

His destination was Plymouth, England, just as it was a year ago when he made his first try at the westward crossing in the opposite direction. That voyage was interrupted in midocean when he suffered a strangulated hernia.

That was from a lack of exercise," Willis explained. "This time I have along an exercise spring and I plan a fuller schedule of workouts."

The sailboat has no auxiliary power and no radio except a homemanned transmitter that sends an SOS.

Willis, who crossed the Pacific Ocean alone on a raft in 1954, scoffed at suggestion that he might need to call for help.

"I live a frugal, normal life and that's the way it will be out there," he said.

Among those on hand to see him off was his wife Trudi. As he prepared to take a line from the fishing boat that towed him from the harbor she cautioned him to be careful and asked whether he had his rubbers on board.

"Every time he gets one of those urges, I'm disappointed," she said. "It's hard to say why he does it."

Gen. Dunn To Retire

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Lt. Gen. Thomas W. Dunn, commander of the Fourth Army, ended a 37-year military career Friday where he began it — Ft. Sam Houston.

Gen. Dunn, whose first assignment after his West Point graduation was at Ft. Sam Houston, was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal in retirement ceremonies at the Army post Friday.

He assumed command of the Fourth Army on Feb. 1, 1966. He will be succeeded by Lt. Gen. Lawrence J. Lincoln.

Gen. Dunn served as an artillery commander in World War II and during the Korean conflict. He was awarded the Silver Star for bravery in Korean combat.

Two companies of honor guards passed in review for the general during the retirement ceremonies and then lined the post service road as Gen. and Mrs. Dunn left the Fourth Army headquarters for the final time.

WELCOMES PATROLMAN — Sheriff's deputy Preston Wilson (right) is one of several local law enforcement officers who welcomed Bob Clark to Snyder. Clark, a native of Sweetwater, recently graduated from the Department of Public Safety's school for Highway Patrolmen and was assigned to Snyder. He will work with Patrolmen Harold Kornegay and Wendell Rehm.

Art Of The Home May Be Your Own: Start A Hobby

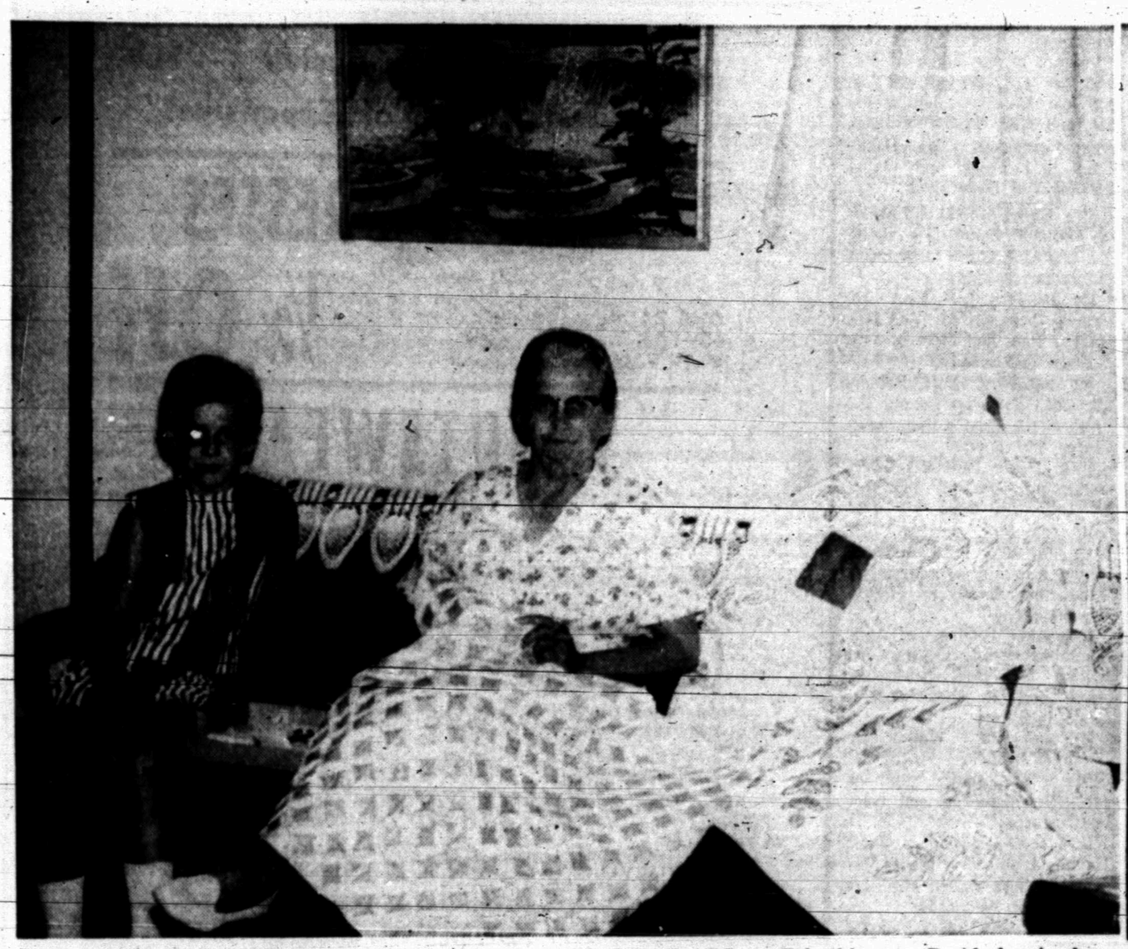
The sky is the limit when it comes to choosing a hobby! Although some people just prefer to read, they have the opportunity to collect some rare and valuable books along with gathering vast knowledge.

Or maybe you have the ability to do something with your hands. With just a little common sense, a slight imagination in color, a needle and thread, and one would be surprised at the beautiful creations that can be made. Maybe you prefer the out-of-doors, well, try your luck at gathering artifacts of some description, and we have also heard of people making a regular trip to dump grounds and picking up some pretty valuable articles and repairing them.

Green thumbs, or gardening, come in for a big share of the nation's hobbies this day and age, and provide the family home with an attractive aire of color and grace.

Some possessions that parents and grandparents own today, but are looked upon by youngsters as old junk, may be some of their prize possession in days to come. It is amazing some of the things the generations a few years back took for granted as household articles, are in such demand today, and are very rare to find.

Doctors will tell you that hobbies are good therapy for any person, as well as a creative art with satisfying results. No matter what hobby you choose, there is always a certain amount of book reading to do before you can get into the swing of it, which in turn is educational and broadens one's knowledge of his surroundings.



PAULA GRIMMETT watches as her grandmother, Mrs. Chester A. Dorman, Roby Highway, sews on one of the most exquisite bed spreads we have had the privilege to see. Mrs. Dorman, a very handy persons with a needle, wants to get her orchid and white spread finished for the County Fair this year. Beside her is also an embroidered quilt she made and quilted, and note the pretty picture in shades of blue, green and silver she made hanging on the wall above her head.

MRS. BILL BUTLER has a hobby of collecting family heirlooms. Pictured above with a few of her prized possessions are the ecru crocheted table cloth that her 81-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Dan Smith of Portales, N.M. made her the past year. The afagan on the chair was made by her mother, the pewter cruet set once belonged to her father's grandmother and the pewter family sugar bowl with spoons was her mother's mother. The clock, one of the first made by Sears and Roebuck came with the family from Tennessee many years ago. Note the old-time glass milk bottle, smokeglass canister, and the cut glass bottle was one of her first gifts.

MR. W. D. (Dub) Everett Jr. has quite an unusual hobby, raising African violets. He starts some from leaves and others from seed from his mother plants. He converted a room at the back of his garage into a neat little greenhouse for the colorful plants and takes the gorgeous large blooming ones into the house where they grace the backbar of the kitchen for the family to enjoy. Some of the more rare types he has raised have such unusual foliage that one wouldn't care if they are flowering or not.

MR. R. E. (Pat) Patterson has a hobby that brings joy to the entire family and friends. Pat made this attractive barbecue section adjacent to the spacious patio of his home and it proves to be a busy place for the children and their guests. The shake shingle roof gives the place a rustic effect while all the accessories and pit are black against a brick background. A beautiful setting for an evening meal in the backyard.

Don't Let Bags Box You In

If sacks of all sizes are boxing you in here's the answer for you. There is a recently introduced paper bag holder that attaches to the back of your kitchen cabinet door and provides space for storing bags, both large and small. The chrome-plated metal kitchen "organizer" is just one of many new homemaking helpers including a lid holder, a utility shelf, a package shelf and a spice shelf.

Casserole Night At Your House

Make a hit with your family — 25 minutes before your favorite casserole is done, remove it from the oven. Arrange canned biscuits which have been dipped in melted butter and dried parsley flakes and arrange around the edge of the casserole. Bake remaining 25 minutes. They'll want you to serve it again.

Dinner With A French Accent

Serve fillet of sole amandine with spinach souffle and parsley buttered potatoes. For a bread accompaniment buy one can buttered layered loaves and place on cookie sheet. Brush with beaten egg white and sprinkle with sesame seeds. Bake at 375 for 15 to 18 minutes.

Don't Forget The Cereal Snacks!

Cereal snacks are just what the munching set needs at the outdoor grill while waiting for those steaks or burgers to cook. Not only do they make good appetite teasers, but cereals are also economical sources of food energy, protein, minerals, and the B vitamins. In this buttery curry and garlic seasoned recipe puffed oat cereal and bite-size shredded corn are tossed with small pretzel sticks and salted peanuts. The flavor is so intriguing, you may want to double the recipe. Cereal snacks remain crisp for days stored in airtight containers.

Curried Cereal Snacks

½ cup butter or margarine
4 cups puffed oat cereal
1 cup small pretzels
1 cup bite-size shredded corn
1 cup salted peanuts
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
½ teaspoon curry or chili powder, optional
¼ teaspoon garlic salt

Melt butter or margarine in large skillet. Add remaining ingredients; stir over low heat until cereal is hot and coated evenly with melted butter or margarine, about 5 minutes. Yield: 6 cups.

Make Your Own Pizza Party

Buy one can refrigerated pizza dough and sauce. Assign sections of dough to each guest. Arrange green pepper rings, onion rings, pineapple chunks, ham chunks, cooked shrimp, mushrooms and green ripe olives on a tray. Let your guests make their own 'favorites', top with Mozzarella and Parmesan cheese and bake as directed on label. Watch them delight at their own creations.

Students To Study Health

Don't be surprised if your child asks you to stop smoking. He's probably been studying its effects and made up his mind it is harmful.

His study is part of the new health education which will be taught in schools this fall. Developed by the School Health Education Study, a group of medical, health and education authorities, the new course in health is a comprehensive 12-year subject that includes more than 40 topics such as smoking, drugs and sex education. It is designed to present facts and guidelines so that youngsters make informed, responsible decisions about their own behaviour.

Foamy Ginger Fizz

Create your own summer thirst-quencher by combining 1 egg white, ¼ cup bottled lemon juice, ¼ cup simple syrup. Add 1 bottle (7 ounces) of chilled gingerale, and shake or beat until frothy. Serve immediately. Makes 2 servings.

Mrs. Hays Attends Fete In Aakansas

Mrs. S. D. Hays Sr. has recently returned from Fort Smith, Ark. where she was one of the honored guests at the investment ceremony in which her son-in-law, Judge Paul X. Williams Sr. of Booneville, Ark. took the oath of office as Federal Judge of Western Arkansas.

Judge Williams, a graduate from the University of Arkansas Law School, who served as Chancellor Judge for 18 years, took the oath of office in the Federal Courtroom in the Federal Building in Fort Smith. All seats in the courtroom were taken and visitors lined the walls and overflowed into the halls.

Honorable John E. Miller installing officer, called Mrs. Williams to stand beside her husband while he took the oath of office, saying, "it was entirely fitting she do so."

Mrs. Williams is the former Elizabeth Hays, daughter of Mrs. S. D. Hays Sr. of Snyder and is a graduate of Snyder High School.

The Williams' have four children and the eldest son, Paul X. Jr. is married to the former Clint Blackard who is also a native of Snyder.

The Sebastian County Bar Association was host to an elaborate reception at Hardscrabble Country Club honoring Judge and Mrs. Williams and distinguished guests immediately following the ceremony. After this Judge and Mrs. Williams drove to their home in Booneville, Ark. where they hosted a buffet dinner for family members and distinguished guests. More than 80 persons attended the dinner.

Mrs. Williams' brother, S. D. Hays Jr. and a niece, Cary Lynn Richardson were other guests from Snyder who attended the occasion.

Cook beet greens — choosing those that are very young and tender — in a small amount of salted water; drain and dress with butter and lemon juice.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD — Mr. and Mrs. Irvin E. Martin, 3100 Thirty-ninth Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Kay, to Randy Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Allen of O'Donnell. The couple have set their wedding date for August 26th at 8 p.m. in the Thirty-seventh Street Church of Christ, Snyder. (Photo by Wolfe Studio)

New Look For Tissues

Most of the products brought in the supermarket go straight from grocery bag to shelf or cabinet. The cereal box hides behind a door in the kitchen, the toothpaste in the medicine cabinet. But one product is bought in the store, then used and displayed at home in the same container — the familiar, indispensable box of facial tissues. To add decorator accents to this disposable paper product for the household, tissue boxes have a new look — a soft feminine rose design for the family-size, an elegant Florentine pattern for the regular-size, and a flowing, graceful Spencerian scroll for the dispenser-size.

Date-Sour Cream Dressing

Fresh fruit salads are great favorites in the summertime when so many fresh fruits are in season. But fruit salads require just the right kind of salad dressing. . . . often a problem because so many dressings are designed for vegetable salads.

The importers of dates offer us this delicious suggestion for a Date-Sour Cream Dressing. Blend ½ cup dairy sour cream, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 tablespoon sugar and ½ cup imported diced dates. Mix with a variety of fruits and serve in lettuce cups.

Having A Ladies Luncheon?

Serve them melon balls with honey fruit dressing and chef's salad made of sliced hard cooked eggs, mixed greens, strips of cooked ham, chicken and cheese, parsley and salad dressing. Accent your meal with an assorted dinner roll basket. Divide packages of refrigerated dinner rolls three ways. Sprinkle each group of rolls with a different topping — caraway, sesame or poppy seeds. Bake as directed on label.

BIGGEST THRILL — Snyder's Bill Atwood holds the bat he used to clout a home run in the bottom of the 14th inning. The blast gave the Phils a 2-1 triumph in the second game of a doubleheader. They also won the first game, 3-2. Bill caught both games and lost 14 pounds. The former major leaguer said the home run was his greatest thrill in sports.

Mantle On All-Stars

BOSTON (AP) — The American League All-Star team will look more familiar this year with the Mick back in uniform for the 38th classic with the National League July 11 at Anaheim.

Forced to pass up the All-Star Game because of injuries the last two years, Mickey Mantle has been picked to make another appearance with the league's top stars.

The New York Yankees' aging but still dangerous slugger topped a group of nine additional players named to the squad Friday to back up eight starters chosen in balloting by players, managers and coaches.

Joining Mantle on the squad were first baseman Don Mincher and shortstop Jim Fregosi of the California Angels; second baseman Dick McAuliffe of the Detroit Tigers; third baseman Max Alvis of the Cleveland Indians; catchers Paul Casanova of the Washington Senators and Andy Etchebarren of the Baltimore Orioles, and outfielders Tommie Agee of the Chicago White Sox and Tony Conigliaro of the Boston Red Sox.

The additions, announced by league president Joe Cronin, were selected by Hank Bauer.

Max Falls Strong In Odessa Match

Max Falls, of Snyder, and Randell Treadwell, an Eastland product, teamed up to take second place in the 14 year boys' doubles at the Odessa Open Tennis Tournament Thursday.

They were beaten in the finals by Jon Brotherton and David Hale of Wichita Falls, 4-6, 12-10, 6-4.

Falls had reached the quarter-finals in the 14 year boys singles before losing to Treadwell 6-3, 6-3. Falls and John Phillips, of Snyder, also reached the semi-finals in the 16 year boys' doubles before loosing out to McCullough and Griffen of Midland.

Phillips entered the 16 year boys singles, but was eliminated in first round action.

In the girl's division, Vanee Reneau and Linda Miller, both Snyder products, participated in the 14 year girls doubles. They drew a bye in the first round and then were beaten in the semi-finals by Leslie Riggs and Becky Barnet of Odessa, 6-2, 3-6, 8-6.

Miss Miller was beaten in first round play of the 14 year girls' singles by Elizabeth Bradley of Houston, 6-2.

The tournament, which drew 217 players, is the first of the Highway 80 circuit. Falls and Phillips moved on to Midland Friday for the Midland Open.

Ortiz, Ramos In Rematch

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — World lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz and challenger Sugar Ramos square off tonight in a rematch of their fight last Oct. 22 that ended in a near riot when Ortiz retained the title on a technical knockout.

The outdoor bout at Hiram Bithorn Stadium, scheduled for 10 p.m. EDT, is expected to attract a record 20,000 fans with a gate of more than $180,000. However, it has rained most of the week and promoter Bob Leith said a postponement would set the fight back to Monday.

Most island boxing experts look for Ortiz to win before the 10th round of the 15-roupd match, but agree that Ramos, who dropped Ortiz in the second round of their previous battle, could end it with one solid punch.

"You can be sure the fight is not going to last too long," the 30-year-old Puerto Rican-born New York champion said.

SNYDER'S BILL ATWOOD

Former Phillie, Army Pilot Recalls Heyday

By BUCK SITTON

"It was exciting every day," siad William Franklin Atwood, better known as Bill Atwood, 3100 El Paso, the other day while recalling his days as an Army pilot with the Air Transport Command.

The time he referred to was World War II when he flew the "hump" of Himalyas Mountains in the China-India-Burma Theater of Operations. This job interrupted a professional baseball career in which Bill won fame as a catcher for the Philadelphia Phillies and the New York Giants.

"The weather and the Japs kept things from getting too dull," Bill said. "I remember one day when we had several planes to go down."

An Army Reserve pilot since 1967, Bill flew over 200 hours on the "hump" run before the Army transferred him to another base in India as a check-out pilot instructor.

"The man who replaced me went down on his first mission," declared Bill. "He bailed out and broke both legs and had to crawl out of the mountains. He finally got help and got back to the base in two weeks. He was lucky."

Previously, in 1942, Bill went into the service and became an instructor in the Dallas area following completion of training at Kelly Field. Later, he was a ferry pilot and flew airplanes to Europe and North Africa prior to his assignment of the ATC in India.

Bill maintains an active interest in flying. He has been the personal pilot for C. T. McLaughlin, Snyder oil man, for the past several years.

Sports first attracted Bill as a boy when he moved with his family from Georgia to Dallas where he played sandlot ball. Later, he competed in three sports at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene. He played semi-pro ball before breaking in professionally with Dallas in the Texas League in 1931.

At Dallas, he played against some of the most famous baseball personalities of all time.

"Joe Medwick, Dizzy Dean Gang played at Houston, the year before they won the pennant for the Cardinals," recalled Atwood.

With a husky build and a playing weight around 200, Bill won his baseball fame as a catcher. After a year at Dallas under the tutelage of Hap Morris, Bill played with Birmingham in the Southern League in 1932 and part of 1933 when he went to Baltimore then in the International League. In 1934, he stepped up to the big leagues at Philadelphia and promptly won the regular backstop job when manager Jimmy Wilson was impressed with his abilities.

During the first two months with the Phillies, Bill batted at over a .400 clip, then fell to over .300 when broken fingers hampered his batting style. The Sporting News selected Bill as the outstanding freshman catcher in the majors. Bill also played under Doc Prothro at Philadelphia. Doc's son, Bob, died when his airplane crashed in the Himalyas during World War II at the time Bill was over there.

"It was a real heart-break for me when Jimmy's boy was killed," recalled Atwood. "Young Bob was a familar sight at the old Phillies ball park in his short pants days and I know that all of the Phillies gang took his death as a personal loss."

Bill also had one of his greatest thrills while with the Phillies. He knocked a home run in the bottom of the 14th inning to break up the second game of a doubleheader with the Chicago Cubs, and give the Phils a 2-1 victory. He had caught the first game, which the Phils won, 3-2, and he lost 14 pounds that day.

Atwood rates Carl Hubbell as about the best pitcher he ever saw. He was a teammate of Carl's with the New York Giants in 1942 after he was traded from the Phillies and just prior to his entry into the Army Air Corp.

"Carl developed the screwball, and it was extremely difficult to hit," explained Bill.

The former big-leaguer from Snyder also rates Dizzy Dean, Paul Dean and Bill Lee as some of the better pitchers of all time.

For hitting, he lists Paul Waner, outfielder for the Pittsburgh Pirates, as the best.

"He could really hit those line drives," declared Bill.

Atwood also was impressed with the hitting ability of Stan Musial, who saw some of his earliest action in baseball with Houston as a pitcher.

Bill Terry was manager of the Giants while Bill was in the lineup. Following the end of the war, Atwood spent one year with Hollywood in the Pacific Coast League before going to the Cincinnati Reds. Bucky Walters was manager. Later, he managed teams at Sherman, Abbeville, La., and Ballinger. All of these teams were in the Cincinnati farm system. He returned to the Reds in 1949 as Retiring from baseball, Bill took a job with Dunnigan Tool Supply Co. in Odessa and was transfered to Snyder when the company opened an office here. Subsequently, Bill organized his own company — the Atwood Construction Co. on Ave. T.

He has maintained his interest in baseball over the years and has managed local teams in the Little League, Colt League and Teenage League. A son, Billy Tim, is a better than average baseball player. He is planning to attend the University of Texas at Arlington. A daughter, Janice, is a hostess for Braniff Airways.

Asked to compare the game of baseball today with the game as it was played in his heyday, Bill said:

"I guess players today are just as good as they ever were, but I think there were more good players then than now. There was more competition then, and I always had at least three men after my job. Today, one club may have one or two outstanding players. In the old days, one team often had several outstanding players.

"The kids played more sandlot ball then. They'd organize their own teams. That's where the major leagues got most of their good ball players — from the sandlots. Nowadays, many players are signed into the majors out of college or high school.

"Another thing, there aren't as many minor leagues today. There were 54 minor leagues when I was playing, now there are only 16."

Grady Hatton, who was a teammate of Bill's at Cincinnati in 1949, now is manager of the Houston Astros.

Asked if he had ever been to the Astrodome, Bill said, "No, but I've flown over it. I'd like to get down there some day and see Grady again."

With 20 years in professional baseball, Bill probably can recall many exciting moments to talk over with Grady.

Cookie Rojas In Pitching Debut As Phillies Lose

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The pitchers turned hitters and the hitters turned pitchers as the National League turned topsy turvy, and General Manager Joe Brown of Pittsburgh capped it all by giving his team a vote of confidence instead of his manager.

Chris Short, trying to show he can still win after missing 40 days with a torn knee ligament, started the shenanigans Friday night by proving he can hit, too. He backed his seven-hitter with a three-run double that completed Philadelphia's 10-3 victory over San Francisco in the first game of a doubleheader.

Juan Marichal carried on as usual in the nightcap, riding a 19-hit Giant attack that buried the Phillies 12-3. But Philadelphia still managed the unusual.

The last of six Phillie pitchers turned out to be Cookie Rojas, Philadelphia's valuable jack of all trades who now has played every position in the major leagues.

Claude Osteen followed this happening by lining a lead off home run in the ninth inning that won his own game as Los Angeles beat Houston 5-4.

Then it was Steve Blass' turn for Pittsburth, backing up Brown's pre-game vote of confidence. His two-run single in the eighth inning gave him a five-hit 3-1 triumph over Atlanta.

But don't forget the Chicago Cubs, who continued their amazing reversal with a 7-5 victory over Cincinnati, their 11th victory in 12 games.

The New York Mets did not surprise anyone, however, losing to league-leading St. Louis 4-1.

In the American League, Detroit beat the Chicago White Sox 4-1, Boston topped Kansas City 5-3, California stopped the New York Yankees 6-2, Cleveland whipped Baltimore 6-5 in 14 innings in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader with the second game halted by a curfew, and Washington was rained out at Minnesota.

Short, a 20-game winner last season, had an easy time despite one bad pitch that rookie Dick Dietz hit for a three-run homer in the third inning. Short retired the next 12 hitters and 19 of the last 21 he faced.

"I wanted to prove I could come back after such a long layoff and still pitch my game. I pitched a pretty good game and the knee didn't bother me one bit," Short said after his first start since May 21 and the injury May 23.

Phillie Manager Gene Mauch gave Rojas a chance after the Giants broke a 3-3 tie with three runs in the sixth inning and added four more in the seventh and two in the eighth as Jim Hart and Ollie Brown each drove in four runs. Rojas responded by pitching a scoreless inning.

Marichal, who has lost six games, breezed to his 11th victory, tying him with Osteen for the league lead.

Osteen almost didn't make it as the Astros clobbered him for four runs in the first three innings. But his sacrifice fly and Wes Parker's three-run inside-the-park homer in the second inning gave him his chance in the ninth.

Blass' hit broke a 1-1 deadlock and Pittsburgh's five-game losing streak in a game delayed twice by rain for a total of one hour and 43 minutes.

His complete game, only the ninth in 71 games for Pirate pitchers, moved disappointing Pittsburgh into a tie for fifth place. It followed Brown's talk to his players in the locker room after sending out manager Harry Walker and the coaches.

Brown refused to call his 15-minute session a vote of confidence for Walker or a tongue-lashing for the players, who were early season favorites to win the pennant.

It was a "vote of confidence to the players," he said, adding that he doesn't believe in votes of confidence for a manager. But Brown told the players Walker would be their manager for a "long time."

"If this club doesn't win the National League pennant," Brown said, "it's not because they're mismanaged. It's because they didn't want to pay the price to win."

Meanwhile, the second-place Cubs, who haven't finished in the first division since 1946, stayed 1½ games behind St. Louis. They built a 6-0 lead on homers by Ron Santo and Billy Williams and Bill Hands pitched hitless ball for 6 1-3 innings before fading and Cal Koonce and Chuck Hartenstein rescued him.

Julian Javier drove in three runs with a single and a sacrifice fly behind Larry Jaster as the Cardinals broke a three-game losing streak. Jerry Grote homered for the Mets.

Seventeenth Green Is Horror

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MONTREAL (AP) — The 17th green is a horror. It's so bad, they're laughing about it, these premier pros of the world gathered for the $200,000 Canadian Open Golf Championship.

"What else can you do?" Arnold Palmer said, grinning and chuckling.

"I have never seen anything like it, in all the years I've been playing golf. I can't even say 'It's not too bad.' It's just damn ridiculous. Now go print that."

It was all said with a joke and a smile—the reaction most of the players had, except deadly serious Art Wall, the greying veteran who had a two-stroke lead going into today's third round.

"Well, it was playable Friday," Wall said after posting a 70 for 137. "It wasn't playable Thursday.

"But how can I complain? I'm leading. But really, it's pretty difficult."

Wall had three birdies, on putts of 40, 15 and 5 feet, and two bogeys, both times when he was in a trap.

Billy Casper, a two-time U.S. Open champion, and Dale Douglass, a 31-year-old stringbean, were tied for second with 139. Casper had a second round 70 and Douglass a spectacular 67, four under par for the 6,600 yard, par 71 Montreal municipal layout.

They were all talking about the 17th green, a 180 yard, par three. The green, if it can be called that, is almost completely devoid of grass. It's a baked clay surface, on which sand was spread.

The last two rounds are scheduled for National Television coverage in both Canada and the United States. CBS-TV and CBC-TV will televise the tournament 4-6 p.m., EDT.

Salvino In El Paso Tournament Lead

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Big Carmen Salvino of Chicago led the way into the second 12-game stretch of the $27,500 El Paso Open bowling tournament today.

Salvino rolled series of 1318 and 1301 in the two six-game blocks Friday night to shoot into a 69-pin lead over Jim Godman of Hayward, Calif. Salvino had 2619 and Godman 2550 while Mike McGrath of El Cerrito, Calif., was in third place with 2546.

Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., the leading money winner on the tour of the Professional Bowlers Association, was in 13th place with 2513. The leader actually is Dave Davis of Phoenix but he is out with a sore hand. Davis has won $31,420, Stefanich $28,975.

After today's and tonight's 12 games, the leading 16 will go into Sunday's finals.

Scores Soar At Wimbledon

By GEOFFREY MILLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — They'll talk about the 1967 Wimbledon tennis tournament for years—as the year when the serve-and-volley duels went on and on and on.

Some of the score sheets read more like basketball than tennis. Veteran fans can't remember a Wimbledon like it.

John Newcombe of Australia and U.S. Davis Cupper Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, performed in the latest long-playing epic Friday—an opening set lasting one hour, 50 minutes and taking in 32 games. Newcombe won it 17-15 and went on to win in three straight sets and reach the quarter-finals of the men's singles.

But Graebner got the credit for one curious feat. In the course of that one set he saved 16 set points—and the fans were trying to remember if that was a Wimbledon record.

Nobody could say. They don't keep records, of that kind, even at the All-England club.

Boston Climbing For Top, Detroit Gains On Leaders

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The thing about George Brunet and Gary Bell is that the baseball season started about two months too soon for each of them.

Both Brunet and Bell sadly waved godbye to June with victories Friday night and proved that two months do not a season make.

Brunet, who had a nine-game losing streak until June busted out all over, pitched California to a 6-2 victory over the New York Yankees and Bell, still savoring his new surroundings, won his fifth game for Boston, beating Kansas City 5-3.

Elsewhere Friday night, Detroit dropped Chicago 4-1 and Cleveland nipped Baltimore 6-5 in the 14-inning first game of a schaduled twi-night doubleheader. The second game was suspended after five innings with the Orioles leading 1-0. Tornado-like wind and rain wiped out Washington's game at Minnesota.

In the National League, Chicago dropped Cincinnati 7-5, St. Louis topped New York 4-1, Pittsburgh whipped Atlanta 3-1, Los Angeles shaded Houston 5-4 and Philadelphia split a doubleheader with San Francisco, winning 10-3 before losing 12-3.

Brunet beat Detroit with a threehitter in the season's opener and didn't win another game until June. He dropped nine straight during the streak. But once he ended the string, he won three more games during June and enters July with a respectable 5-11 record. That's respectable for a guy who was 1-9.

Don Mincher drove in three runs for the Angels, who ran up an early 5-0 lead against loser Mel Stottlemyre. Minnie Rojas halted a Yankee threat in the eighth and worked the last two innings.

Bell, like Brunet, suffered through two tough months in Cleveland, compiling a 1-5 record for the Indians before being traded to Boston June 4.

Populares Win Will Solidify US, Puerto Rican Relations

By R. GREGORY NOKES

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP)— The Popular Democratic party of Luis Munoz Marin appears headed for victory in the July 23 plebiscite on Puerto Rico's status.

For the "Populares," victory will mean endorsement of a 15-year old commonwealth relationship with the United States, and a further solidifying of these ties.

Other choices are statehood and independence. The vote will not be binding on the U.S. Congress, but will serve as a guide to the island's future.

Munoz Marin, the chief architect of commonwealth in 1952, wants Congress to make it permanent and end decades-old bickering over the island's status.

Munoz shares the view of Rafael Hernandez Colon, the island's secretary of justice, that "Commonwealth was a breakthrough in solving a dilemma for the United States and Puerto Rico: the dilemma of establishing a permanent relationship which would not have the colonial characteristics of the territorial form of government, but which would not be subjected to the rigid constitutional and economic framework of statehood."

Any further discussion on the point in Munoz view, accomplishes nothing. Commonwealth is a permanent form of government lying between statehood and independence, he says, and is best suited for an overpopulated island that lacks natural resources.

Known as Estado Libre Asociado—Free Associated State—the commonwealth status gives the island virtual free control over its internal government. The United States controls foreign trade, defense and foreign affairs.

The island collects and spends its own taxes. Puerto Ricans as U.S. citizens are subject to draft laws, but do not vote for president. They have a nonvoting representative in Congress.

The full resources of the Popular Democratic party have been thrown into the fight for commonwealth in the plebiscite, but Munoz and his bonds with the common man will get the votes.

Munoz, 69, was governor 16 years.

Don Luis tells the people it would be economic suicide to desert commonwealth now. The goals of full education, full employment, a home for each family, and an end to extreme poverty are within reach, he says, if the island continues its present course.

He warns that under statehood, the island would lose control over the $300 million in taxes it now collects and spends. It could no longer offer the same tax incentives that have attracted business under the island's Operation Bootstrap program.

Advocates of statehood are led by Ponce industrialist Luis A. Ferre. A fraction advocating independence is led by Dr. Hector Alvarez Silva.

The Statehood Republican party boycotts the plebiscite on the grounds it is merely a popularity contest for commonwealth. Most members have followed Ferre to his United Statehooders movement.

The major independence groups also are boycotting the plebiscite. They consider it an "imperialist move to appease international opinion concerning Puerto Rico's colonial status," as one of them puts it.

They also argue it is illegal because it falsely recognizes Congress as the final authority on the island's status.

In reality, Puerto Rico has never been independent, not since Ponce De Leon became its first Spanish governor in 1509. The United States took the island in 1898 during the Spanish-American War.

Ferre's argument for statehood is that Puerto Rico cannot prosper forever as a commonwealth, and eventually must choose between statehood and independence. His plan includes a transition period of 10 or more years for statehood.

No matter who wins the plebiscite, large problems will continue to confront Puerto Rico.

Niney-seven per cent of children aged 7-13 are in school, compared to 68 per cent in 1950. But the public schools are sharply inferior to those in the U.S. mainland. Per capita income stood at $900 in 1965, twice the average for most of Latin America, but still half that of Mississippi.

Although progress has been made in public housing, it is estimated that 90,000 people live in slums in the San Juan area alone, and that at the present rate new housing will take 50 years to make any appreciable reduction in the slums.

The number of employed rose from 589,000 in 1948 to 680,000 in 1965, but the population increased from 2.2 million to 2.6 million. The over-all rate of unemployment has remained roughly the same, about 12-14 per cent.

Munoz believes the commonwealth government is well on the way to solving all these problems. Statehooders feel statehood and more federal aid are the answer, while the independentistas argue that the island is suffering because U.S. owners pocket the profits from their island businesses.

If commonwealth can roll up a sizable victory July 23, there is reason to believe that Congress will move further toward making this a permanent relationship. Munoz wants that, and the people seem determined to give it to him.

Observatory Gets Signal From Jupiter

MARFA, Tex. (AP) — A two mile long radio observatory whose first task is to study signals from Jupiter went into operation Saturday on ranch land 15 miles southeast of here.

The observatory is run by the University of Texas' Astronomy Department.

Dr. James Douglas, associate professor and observatory director, ruled out any possibility that the intermittent radio signals from Jupiter indicate intelligent beings are tying to communicate with the earth.

"This possibility seems highly unlikely," he said.

Douglas said variations in the signals seem to be due to cloud of electrons kicked out from the sun which pass between earth and Jupiter and act as a focusing device for the radio waves.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration recently granted Douglas $108,000 for continuing studies of radiation from Jupiter within the short wave band. He will attempt to determine the exact origin of the signals.

The observatory is on land acquired in a long-term lease from the C. T. Mitchell estate.

"The unique thing about this lease is that it makes available to use the largest radio observatory site in the world," Douglas said.

Junior Editors Quiz on SNAKES

QUESTION: How do snakes manage to move along?

ANSWER: Snakes have very long backbones, composed of about 300 small bones or vertebrae (compared with the 33 or 34 of a man). These act like links in a chain, making the snake's body very flexible. He moves his body by throwing out a series of sideways loops. As his body slides past the loops, it pushes back against the rough surface of the ground (arrows in picture). This backward push helps to shove the snake's body forward. Study the drawing of walking children. Notice that each is pushing back with one foot, while the other reaches ahead—the same basic principle by which the snake moves.

Snakes move in still another way. Each vertebra of a snake's skelton has a pair of movable ribs attached to it. Each rib pair operates one of a set of overlapping scales under the snake's body. These ribs can reach forward in waves, grip with the scales and pull back. This method may be used on smooth ground or combined with the first system, so that a snake can get about anywhere that he can get some kind of grip.

Government Eyes Antibiotics Effects

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is weighing scientific facts and opinions to determine whether antibiotics added to animal feed harm consumers of meats, poultry and milk.

The study is being made by the Food and Drug Administration on the basis of 40 technical papers and other data submitted recently about additives in livestock and poultry feed.

For more than 20 years, antibiotic have been added to many feeds to protect the life of livestock and to promote growth in meat animals and poultry.

The use of these drugs has evoked much controversy among health authorities, the drug industry, veterinary leaders, and farm groups.

"The animal industry has been accused of being responsible for antibiotic resistance in man. It has been claimed that animal bacteria become resistant to antibiotics as a result of low-level feeding in poultry and other animals. Furthermore, it has been claimed that this resistance factor is passed from bacteria in animals to bacteria in humans.

"Cessation of the use of antibiotics in animals, particularly in poultry, could have far reaching impact growth and disease control. Poultry is especially suited for studies to determine whether such claims are true. This accusation must be disaproved or, if confirmed, action taken to correct the problem."

These drugs are permitted to be used in feed under FDA regulations. But this agency wants to re-examine their use to make sure that there are no undue hazards to human consumers of the livestock products.

The drug and livestock industries say there is no doubt that use of these additives has increased the efficiency of livestock raising, with consequent benefits to consumers as well as producers.

They say, for example, it required six to seven pounds of feed to produce a dozen eggs 20 years ago. Today they report less than four pounds. Twenty years ago, 12 to 14 pounds of feed and 12 to 14 weeks were needed to produce a 3.8-pound broiler, they report. Today only nine pounds and nine weeks are said to be needed.

Likewise, 20 years ago it took six pounds of feed to produce one pound of turkey meat compared with less than four pounds today. Twenty years ago eight months usually were required to produce a pig weighing 200 pounds compared with five now. Similar increases in production efficiency are claimed for beef cattle and milk.

The government's study of this problem will include a largescale program to check on residues of antibiotics, if any, in samples of red meats and poultry.

This program will be a cooperative venture between the FDA and the Agriculture Department. The sampling, which will be done by the department at packing plants, will include approximately 3,900 of red meat and 1,300 of poultry a year for possibly several years.

Oklahoma Lass Is Miss Wool

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — An 18-year-old sociology major from Oklahoma State University reigns as Miss Wool of America for 1967-68.

Alanna Crimmins of Bartlesville, who professed to be "just very much surprised to be in the finals," won the title Friday night in an hour-long ceremony televised from this West Texas ranching and oil town.

Miss Crimmins represented Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri in the pageant. As "Miss Wool" she will receive a 1967 Cougar automobile, a $2,000 scholarship and a woolen wardrobe of some 40 fashions. She will tour the country as the number one beauty and fashion representative of wool products.

"I was just very much surprised to be in the finals and when I was I tried very much not to think about it," Miss Crimmins told a interviewer. "When they called my name I was absolutely ecstatic and numb."

First runnerup was Diana Kay Waldorf, Miss Wool of Iowa. Miss Waldorf, a senior at Iowa State University, 21, hails from Vinton.

Second runnerup was Karol Dea Kramer, 18, Miss Wool of Montana, who makes her home in Missoula.

Finalists included Mary Katherine Bliss, 20, of Cooksville, Ill., representing Illinois and Indiana; Janet Smith, 20, Miss Wool of Wisconsin, a native of Madison; and Patricia Vincent, 23, of San Antonio, Tex.

Miss Crimmins, a brown-haired, blue-eyed statuesque beauty, stands 5-feet-9 and has vital statisics of 36-23-36. She succeeds Barbara Petsel of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, as Miss Wool of America.

"I'm looking forward most to all the traveling, because I think traveling is the very best education there is. I'll be in San Angelo two more days and home for a litle more than two weeks," Miss Crimmins said Friday night.

About 6,000 persons were on hand for the color-televised ceremonies here.

Texas Building Contracts Climb

DALLAS (AP) — Contractor reports that contract awards in the state during June totaled $143,992,268, a record for one month.

The new high was about a million more than the record set in June 1962.

The largest project during June was a contract of about $22.5 million for an anhydrous ammonia plant terminal and stage facility at Borger.

Queen's Treasure Presents Problem

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II's worldly possessions are about to cause a housing problem.

What sort of possessions? Diamond necklaces, old masters, golden daggers with jade handles, pearls by the pint.

With every year of her reign, and it began in 1952, these costly objects increase, largely because of the ancient custom of regal gift-swapping.

When King Faisal of Saudia Arabia visited Britain recently he brought a diamond necklace and a palm tree fashioned in gold. The queen gave him a gold chain and a large silver bowl. It is said the queen owns more diamond necklaces than any woman in the world.

The queen owns one palace in London, Buckingham; two castles at Windsor and Balmoral, and a big country house, Sandringham, in Norfolk. Among them they have several hundred rooms but royal gift-swapping has been going on for centuries.

Queen Elizabeth is reported to own over 500 cartoons by Leonardo da Vinci. One was valued recently at $2.8 million.

Most of the more perishable things are kept in temperature-controlled vaults beneath Buckingham Palace. In charge of the queen's possessions is Brigadier Geoffrey Hardy-Roberts, master of the queen's household.

He has distributed hundreds of the gifts around the various rooms, with taste. It is easy to make a room look like a museum if it becomes too cluttered with objects, however costly and beautiful. So far, the palace rooms resemble palace rooms.

The queen and her husband Prince Philip, travel abroad a great deal. Each time they return loaded with gifts.

In 1961 the Maharajah of Jaipur gave Her Majesty a dagger with a jade handle studded with diamonds, rubies and sapphires. She also received from him a pair of elephants carved out of emeralds. They stand a little more than three inches high.

When visiting Sierra Leone in Africa, the queen was presented with an uncut diamond the size of a pigeon's egg. Also a live boa constrictor.

Nikita Khrushchev gave her a coat of Russian sable. She wears that, and jewels and mink coats, but many other things must be stored.

In 1965 the president of West Germany gave her a grandfather clock. Nassau presented her with a paperweight made from gold doubloons retrieved from a sunken pirate ship.

What about those live gifts, such as the boa constrictor and a pair of elephants from India? They cause no problem. They go to zoos.

Montreal's Rotary Club sent the queen 500 rose plants. They went into the gardens. Brazil presented her with 60 rare orchids. They went into the royal greenhouse.

Brazil also gave her a bracelet valued at $168,000. She popped that on her wrist.

A priceless collection of crowns, orbs, sceptres and so on, is now kept closely guarded in the Jewel House at Wakefield Tower. From July 6 they will be displayed to the public in a bomboproof, burglarproof vault beneath the parade ground at the Tower of London.

'Sparkle' Efforts Shine

Snyder reisdents are hearing a lot about "Operation Sparkle" these days and many of them are personally involved in local efforts that in effect put Snyder in competition with many other West Texas cities and towns.

What is "Sparkle?"

It is a major project of the Tourist Development Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

What is its purpose?

Using WTTC language, "to make our communities literally SPARKLE by 1968 when Texas will have the greatest inflow of visitors in its history."

The big turnout of visitors on Texas' highways is expected next year during the six-months run of HemisFair, the Texas - Type world's fair, in San Antonio.

"Operation Sparkle" was mapped by the WTTC Tourist Commitee as a two-year project and it is scheduled to be completed next Dec. 31. Participating cities will be judged on the basis of scrapbooks depicting their respective campaigns.

2 Mishaps Are Logged

A minor motor vehicle accident occurred at 5:25 p.m. Friday at Avenue N and Twenty-sixth Street.

Involved were the 1960 Model Chevrolet of Carliss Buck O'Neal Jr., 805 Twenty-fourth Street, and the 1960 Model Buick of Sandra Taylor Tucker, 314 Thirty-fifth Street.

Damage to the Buick was estimated at $150, and damage to the other vehicle was placed at $75.

The mishap was investigated by Patrolman Jim McKenzie.

Another accident occurred at 9:49 p.m. Friday when the 1967 Model Chevrolet of Tommy L. Kimmel, 3790 Avenue V, was in collision with a street sign on the southwest corner of the intersection of Twenty - eighth Street and the East Highway.

The sign was destroyed, and damage to the car was set at $20. The incident was investigated by Sgt. H. E. Woolsey.

in four divisions: cities over 50,000 in population, cities 15,000 to 50,000, cities 5,000 to 15,000, and cities under 5,000.

Metal plaques suitable for inside or outside display will be presented to the first place winner in each division. Citations of merit will be presented to four runners-up in each division.

Many local clubs and organizations are participating actively in "Operation Sparkle" in Snyder.

Organizations who have already worked actively in the "Sparkle" campaign here include the Alpha Study Club, AAUW, ABWA, Beta Sigma Phi, B&PW, Fire Department, Jaycees, P-TA City Council, Jaycee-ettes, Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary, Snyder Real Estate Board, Snyder Rebekah Lodge, Scurry County Historical Survey Committee, Snyder Garden Club, Twilight Garden Club, and Boy Scout Troop 36.

Some of the definite assignments accepted include creek improvement, litter containers, railroad crossings, business street numbering, store fronts, old building removal, paint-up and service signs, billboards, downtown beautification, school clean-up day, street lighting and improvement, historical markers, tree planting, flower planting.

The Twilight Garden Club, Rotary Club and Boy Scout Troop 36 will operate a booth in the park showing pictures of the project as it has developed here in recent months.

Parcel Limit Is Increased On Weight

Mailers may send 25 pound parcels between first class post offices which are 150 miles or more, as of July 1, Postmaster H. D. Moreland reminded patrons. The present weight limit is 20 pounds, he said.

This is the first of five increases scheduled to take effect annually until 1971, when a 40-pound, 84-inch maximum size will be authorized between all first class post offices. Size limitations are now 72 inches in combined girth and length.

The next increase, on July 1, 1968, will raise the weight limit to 30 pounds. On July 1, 1969, the weight limit will be increased from 30 to 40 pounds; on July 1, 1970, the size will be increased to 78 inches; and on July 1, 1971, the size is scheduled to be increased to 84 inches.

Postmaster Moreland also reminded mailers that parcels weighing up to 40 pounds can be mailed between first class post offices less than 150 miles apart. Packages addressed to and from 2nd, 3rd, and 4th class post offices, Alaska and Hawaii are not affected by the increase in size and weight provisions of the Public Law 89-573, which became effective Jan. 15, he said. Parcel post mailings to and from these offices remain at 70 pounds and 100 inches.

Mollusks Boast Iron-Clad Teeth

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Scientists have found that the chiton—a mollusk which clings to seashore rocks—has ironclad teeth.

Dr. Heinz Lowenstam, professor of paleoecology at the California Institute of Technology, said he had discovered mollusks produce four different minerals, including two iron compounds, which go to the teeth and make it easier for the creatures to scrape algae from rocks.
