County Park, Jail Elections Called Aug. 18

The county commissioners' court this morning set Saturday Aug. 18 as the date for a dual bond election for the creation of a county park and the construction of a courthouse annex.

Petitions bearing a total of 728 signatures requesting the elections were presented by a delgation of citizens.

The park bond issue, which would authorize an expenditure of $950,000, bore 415 signatures. The courthouse annex issue, which would authorize an $850,000 expenditure, bore 313 signatures.

The delegation included James Rosser president of the Chamber of Commrce, Paul Keaton, Bob Dupree, Mel Andress, Harold Bennett, Wayne Boren and M. R. Estes.

No site has yet been chosen for the proposed park although several locations are being studied.

The county park, long advocated by tax representatives of the oil companies, which pay about 90 per cent of the county's taxes, probably would be about 200 acres in size, and eventually would have a swimming pool, recreation area for picnics and sports, golf course, and possibly a community center.

Plans for the park still are sketchy as the county cannot go to the expense of having the park designed unless the bond issue is approved Aug. 18.

Edgar Taylor, county judge, has repeatedly pointed out that the tax valuations in Scurry County make it the richest in Texas west of Fort Worth, and that bonded indebtedness now is less than four per cent of the valuations of more than $120 million.

Plans for remodeling the courthouse call for the construction of an annex to the south, containing a small courtroom, new jail, sheriff's office, and other offices.

North Scurry Wildcat, No. 1 Cox, Flows Oil

Imperial Production Co. and Mrs. Edith W. McKanna No. 1 Vernon B. Cox, Northwest Scurry County wildcat, is credited with having flowed new oil at the estimated rate of from 18 to 20 barrels per hour from open hole in the top of the Pennsylvanian lime reef at 7,13042 feet.

The flow is said to have come after that zone had been treated with 500 gallons of acid. Following the treatment, the operator pulled the swab several times and the well kicked off and flowed for a short time and died.

Swabbing was resumed Sunday night. The well kicked off again after a few pulls of the swab and flowed for several hours through a one-half inch choke.

It is hoped by interested observers that the swabbing now in progress will get the pay section cleaned out so that the project can and will flow steadily.

Five and one-half inch casing is cemented at 7,130 feet, datum of minus 4,668 feet. The plug on that pipe was drilled out late last week and acidizing followed.

The indicated discovery is about 18 miles north and slightly west of Snyder in section 699-97-H&TC. It is three miles west of the Cogdell multipay field.

DAWSON FAILURE

James H. Snowden and associates No. 1-10 Carrie S. Dean, wildcat in Central East Dawson, is to be plugged and abandoned on total depth of 8,460 feet in the Pennsylvanian reef.

That formation was topped at 8,360 feet on an elevation of 2,666 feet. No shows have been logged in drilling samples from the reef.

The No. 1-10 Dean is 1,983 feet from north and 670 feet from west lines of section 10-33-t5s-T&P and 21 miles east of Lamesa.

SCURRY TEST

Stanolind Oil & Gas Co. No. 1 L. J. Baggett, being drilled on the west side of the Kelley - Snyder pool, recovered 160 barrels of new oil and 200 barrels of load oil on the most recently completed swabbing test, and is continuing to swab. It has been plugged back to 7,055 feet from total depth of 7,075 feet and perforations treated with 100 gallons of acid.

DRILLS AHEAD

American Republics No. 1 Ernest L. Smith, Fisher County wildcat, is preparing to drill ahead 10 feet from 6,660 feet in Ellenburger dolomite for new tests.

On a previous test from 6,602-60 feet, recovery was 250 feet of very slightly oil and gas cut mud. Tool was open two hours. Pressure was 130 pounds, with 15-minute shutin pressure 1,700 pounds. A five - eighths - inch bottom and one-inch top choke were used in testing.

WILDCAT

Lion Oil Co. No. 1 C. O. Helms, Northeast Scurry wildcat in section 631-97-H&TC, is drilling below 3,250 feet.

IN KENT

Texaco No. 1 Swenson, wildcat northwest of the Salt Creek field in Kent County is drilling in lime below 4,995 feet.

Hearing Tonight On Paving Unit Changes

A public hearing on the reorganization of city paving units will be held at 7:30 tonight in the city hall, Mrs. Clara Jones, city secretary, said today.

Certain paving units are to be made smaller in order to facilitate the entire program which is now being slowed by failure of some property owners to sign paying agreements.

Water Storage Up, Trash Fire Caution Urged

The city water department was in good shape to face the week's heaviest day of consumption this morning, W. J. Ramsey, city superintendent, said.

Constant pumping of all wells over the week end built storage to the highest level it has been for more than a week, he said.

Ramsey reminded the city that everyone should continue to follow the watering plan announced yesterday so that we will not repeat last week's critical water shortage.

That plan is: No watering of lawns, flower beds, or shrubbery on Monday or Tuesday.

Persons living in North Snyder (everyone north of Twenty-fifth Street) may water their lawns, shrubs, and flowers on Wednesday.

Thursday is lawn, shrub, and flower watering day for persons who live in Southeast Snyder. That is the portion of town south of Twenty - fifth Street and east of the Big Spring highway.

Friday persons living in Southwest Snyder may water. That is the part of town south of Twenty-fifth Street and west of the Big Spring highway. There will be no watering anywhere Saturday and Sunday.

By following this plan we hope everyone can keep their trees and flowers alive and still not drain the city's water supply critically, Ramsey said.

The city is not able to ban the burning of trash, as is done in many cities when a water crisis develops. The reason is that the city trash and garbage collectors make their rounds only once a week.

Ivan Gatlin, superintendent of the fire department and city fire marshal, said it would be a greater fire hazard to have the trash piled up throughout the week than to burn it carefully.

He has asked that extreme caution be exercised in burning trash however, and that all trash fires be tended as long as they burn.

Nine Violent Deaths; Pecos Planes Collide

By The Associated Press

Two low flying crop dusting planes smashed together near Pecox Sunday, killing one pilot and injuring the other.

This was one of the nine violent deaths in Texas over the week-end.

Killed was Jim Cowan, 27, of Pecos, flying for Southwest Fertilizer and Chemical Company.

D. E. Miner, flying a spray plane for the White Rock Flying Service of Dallas, was critically injured.

Pecos City Patrolman W. C. Matlock said Cowan was dusting cotton on a farm about three miles west of Pecos. Miner was spraying an adjoining field.

Matlock said both pilots were completing their runs across their respective fields when they apparently saw each other for the first time. He said both planes pulled up sharply, but collided about 200 feet above the ground.

Three traffic deaths, one from drowning, one from gunfire, one electrocution, another airplane accident and another from unknown causes completed the toll of Texas week end violence.

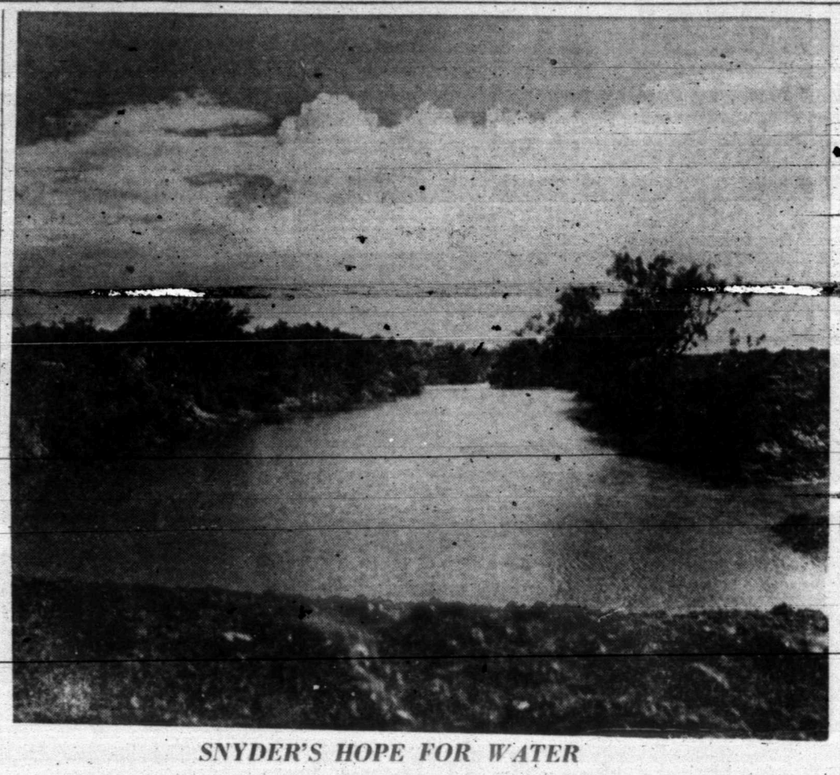

Road to Lake Is Discussed

The commissioners' court moved today to ask for engineers plans on a road to the site of the Colorado River dam now being built in Southwest Scurry County.

Ash, Wilson & Associates will be asked to draw plans for the proposed road.

Car Theft Reported

The Bob Dupree Nash Co. reported to city police this morning that a car had been stolen Saturday night from the motor company's lot. The car, a 1940 Ford tudor, had not been recovered early today.

SNYDER'S HOPE FOR WATER

It's small, but already there is a lake on the Colorado River at the site of what next year will be one of West Texas largest lakes. A mound of earth shows where the 14,000 foot dam is growing steadily. The water above is backed up by a temporary dam and furnishes water for the lake work being done by the J. W. Moorman & Sons Co.—(Staff photograph).

3.5 Million in Uniform May Not Be Enough, Truman Says

WASHINGTON July 23. (AP) — President Truman today told Congress it probably will be necessary to strengthen the armed forces beyond the present goal of 3.5 million men, regardless of peace prospects in Korea.

He called for "full speed ahead" on the military build-up, with no yielding to those who would discard the anti-inflation control system "or shoot it full of holes."

The message was Mr. Truman's midyear economic report. It went to Congress along with a 255-page economic review prepared by his Council of Economic Advisers.

Mr. Truman set his sights on a $30 billion increase in the annual military spending rate in the year ahead.

This, he said, will require up to 2 million more workers a five per cent boost in national output despite cuts in civilian goods, plus stiff taxes and controls to offset a widening "inflationary gap."

At this moment, he disclosed, "we are reviewing our immediate goals for military strength, and it is quite possible we shall have to raise them in several important respects."

The President called the 3.5 million-man strength of the armed forces, now almost reached, an "interim goal" which may be inadequate against the worldwide threat of Soviet "blackmail" and aggression.

"It now appears, as we review our strategic situation in the light of world events, that these goals may need to be raised, whether or not we have an armistice in Korea," he told the legislators.

"The strategic and military studies needed for such decisions have not been completed; if it is indeed necessary to raise our sights, I shall later submit to the Congress requests for the additional funds required."

Whether or not new air groups, Army divisions and Navy and Marine units are added, he said, "we must move full speed ahead toward our present goals."

It had been known that the Pentagon chiefs were weighing an expansion of their forces. Today's message, however, was the first token of White House blessing for the proposal.

Congressional opposition could be foreseen. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) already has proposed a half-million man cut in the authorized strength, a slow-down in rearmament to space it over four years instead of three so as to reduce planned federal spending and taxing.

Mr. Truman struck out at "extremists", as he called them, who "at the first signs of a let-down of the conflict in Korea, have commenced to clamor for a reduction in our defense program."

It would be a "costly mistake" to heed such counsel, he said, because the need for military strength "did not begin with the Korean war. Nor will it end when and if the fighting in Korea ceases."

The President reported that the country's economy, in the best of health aside from inflationary troubles, can support the ambitious defense program "and yet remain strong and grow stronger."

The costs of national security, domestic and foreign, now are running above $35 billion a year, he said. The rate will be $50 billion by New Year's Day and nearly $65 billion a year hence.

Whereas six per cent of total production went into defense before Korea, 11 per cent now is going and 20 per cent will be so channeled in mid-1952. That compares with 50 per cent in 1944.

In the next 12 months, deliveries of military "hard goods" will triple their present billion-dollars-a-month rate, Mr. Tuman said. Aircraft output will be tripled and tank and vehicle deliveries will be quadrupled.

Because it would be a "military disaster" to lose vital materials produced by friendly countries, Mr. Truman urged full support for his $8.5 billion program of foreign military and economic aid. It will take, he said, only two per cent of total production and 15 per cent of total security outlays.

He repeated his request for a pay-as-you-go budget policy, calling for "an increase in taxes of at least $10 billion this year." Congress is considering about $7.2 billion.

Because of stepped-up employment and earnings, the personal income of Americans may rise $15 to $20 billion annually by next July 1 while the supply of civilian goods declines. The disparity, unless offset by taxes and savings, represents the inflationary gap, Mr. Truman said.

The President also repeated his long-standing requests for:

1. Authority to build defense plants which private industry cannot or will not undertake.

2. No impairment of the Federal Reserve System's authority to control consumer credit.

3. Power to regulate margins, or down payments, on trading in commodity futures, as a curb on speculation.

4. A "fair and practical" wage policy, with pay allowances to offset cost-of-living increases, as well as increases in earnings to compensate for greater worker productivity.

5. "Effective" rent control.

6. Approval of the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project.

County Budget In Tentative Form Is Shown

The state and county tax rate for next year should remain the same as this year, despite Scurry County's bond issues already passed and the possibility of two new ones, C. M. Smith, financial consultant for the county, said today at a meeting of the commissioners' court.

The only change will be in the tax structure, but not in the total overall rate charged.

Smith said his tenative budget was based on a conservaive estimate of this year's valuations in Scurry County at $110 million.

The commissioners court, acting as a board of equalization, has already set a $114 million valuation on oil, equipment, and utilities in the county, and valuations on other properties are expected to push the total to $120 or $125 million, Edgar Taylor, county judge, said.

According to Smith's tentative budget, the overall county and state tax would remain at $1.57 on the $100 valuation.

The state this year dropped its 30-cent road tax, reducing its tax on Scurry County from 72 to 42 cents. But the county, dfe to the $2,500,000 county road bond issue voted early this year, can raise its taxes to absorb the 30-cent drop in the state levy and pay off its road bonds.

By changing the 30-cent road tax from the state to the county, our tax rate would remain the same, Smith pointed out.

Admiral Sherman Is Returned To Washington for Last Rites

NAPLES, Italy, July 23. (AP) —Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, first airman to head America's Navy, starts his last flight home Tuesday —in death.

The 54-year-old U. S. Chief of Naval Operations died in his Naples hotel Sunday noon after suffering two heart attacks. He had just completed a tour of Europe's atlantic Pact defense area. He had also visited Generalissimo Francisco Franco and was believed to have reached a tentative agreement for American use of Spanish air and naval bases.

The Admiral's body will be taken Tuesday to Naples airport after simple services on the deck of the American warship, USS Mt. Olympus, anchored in the Bay of Naples. The body was taken to the ship Sunday.

Four U. S. destroyers, all veterans of the Korean fighting recently arrived to join the U. S. Mediterranean Fleet, will be alongside as the shipboard services are held.

As the ships — the "Fuske," the "William R. Rush," the "Hawkins" and the "Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr.," —moved into position today their crews stood at attention at the rails.

An Italian armed forces guard and an honor guard of American sailors will render final honors at the airport. A four-motored American plane carrying the body will take off for Washington at 10 a.m. (3 a.m. CST.)

It will be accompanied to the U. S. by Sherman's aide, Marine Maj. Sherman Smith of Salt Lake City, Utah, and by Marine Capt. Clifford Miller of Toledo, O., captain of the armed guard on the Mt. Olympus. The plane is expected to arrive in Washington Wednesday afternoon after a refueling stop in the Azores.

A message from President Truman said the "country's loss is great" and Secretary of State Dean Acheson hailed the naval member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff as "a statesman who saw beyond the military problems to the objectives of national policy."

Mrs. Sherman was at her husband's bedside when he died, left Sunday night for the United States by special plane.

Judge Taylor to Make Inquiries About Land For Park at New Lake

At the suggestion of Col. E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, the commissioners court today empowered Edgar Taylor, county judge to write Spence asking details on establishing a picnic area at the new lake as a small county park. This would be in addition to a larger county park proposed here.

Spence told the commissioners' court in a letter that many other requests had come to him for picnic sites at the lake.

Both Odessa and Big Spring, and the counties in which they lie, have asked for picnic sites on the south shore of the lake, Spence said.

He also warned that Scurry County should place its request as soon as possible because there is already a big demand for lease or purchase of the shore lines for recreational purposes.

UN Delegates Prepared To Resume Truce Talks With Reds Wednesday

By The Associated Press

U. N. ADVANCE HEADQUARTERS, Korea, July 23. (AP) — Allied negotiators gathered here again today, armed with final U.N. instructions for the resumption of Korean war cease-fire talks in Kaesong Wednesday.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief of the five-man United Nations team, flew back from Tokyo tonight after a series of conferences with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. He was accompanied by two other U.N. delegates, Maj. Gen. L. C. Craigie and Rear Adm. Arleigh Burke.

They talked with the supreme Allied commander Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

The decisions made in Tokyo probably will remain secret until the ninth meeting of negotiators in a Kaesong schoolhouse Wednesday.

The Korean war will be 13 months old Wednesday. Whether it will end soon or flare up anew in bloody fighting hinges on settlement of one vital question: shall the question of withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea be placed on the cease-fire agenda?

REDS INSISTENT

The Reds have insisted that the question be debated in full-scale armistice talks, to start when the list of topics for discussion has been adopted.

The United Nations have said it is a political matter to be decided after an armistice.

Wednesday's meeting may produce an unbreakable deadlock, or a compromise that will permit the talks to go on.

The eighth meeting between Allied and Red negotiators ended abruptly Saturday after the Communists requested a recess "to enable both sides to study the proposals thus far presented."

It may be the Reds wanted time to consult Peiping and Moscow.

In agreeing to the recess, Joy suggested the conference resume earlier if possible. There has been no indication, however, that it will.

NO STATEMENT

There has been no statement from either side as to what specific items have been agreed upon for the agenda. They probably include an exact time for the shooting to end, exchange of prisoners, creation of a buffer zone, and inspection of behind-the-lines territory by neutral observer teams.

Joy has indicated his belief that this is enough of an agenda to start full-scale armistice talks.

It is not known where whether the Reds journeyed to Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, or stayed in Kaesong.

No Need For Tax Hike, U. S. Chamber Says

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—The U. S. Chamber of Commerce told Congress today it need not hike taxes again because the budget for the current year "can be balanced without additional revenue."

And the Council of State Chambers of Commerce denounced the $7.2 billion tax increase passed by the House as "the worst of its kind in the history of the country."

Both groups positions were set forth in statements for the senate finance committee, holding hearings on the House measure and the administration's request for a larger, $10 billion tax boost.

Urging the committee to "discard the monstrosity and start afresh," the council said that if new taxes actually are necessary Congress should enact "a uniform retail sales or consumers' defense tax at a moderate rate" on all commodities except food and food products.

The council's views were set forth by Clarence D. Laylin of Columbus, Ohio, chairman of the taxation section of the council's federal finance committee.

The council is an organization of 33 state and regional chambers of commerce.

The U. S. Chamber's position was outlined by Ellsworth C. Alvord, chairman of the organization's committee on federal finance.

Alvord said that government revenue in the fiscal year which started July 1 should be at least $63 billion, rather than the $61 billion the Treasury has estimated. And he said it should be possible to trim "several billion dollars" off the anticipated spending of $68 billion.

"We believe that the prospect of a budget deficit for fiscal 1952 is not now such as to warrant assumption of the risks involved in imposing crushing taxes to raise even a few billion dollars of additional revenue, with the danger of upsetting the whole economy," Alvord said.

Possibility Of New Air Force, Navy Rivalry

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP) —The death of Admiral Forrest Sherman heightened today the possibility of a new era of Navy-Air Force friction.

Because of this, President Truman probably will weigh carefully his choice of an officer to become the next Chief of Naval Operations and member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. Mr. Truman said of Sherman's death in Naples Sunday that "the country's loss is great and so is mine."

Three years ago Mr. Truman went through one of the bitterest interservice wrangles in the history of the armed forces. It was quelled only after a Navy secretary had resigned and a Chief of Naval Operations, ousted from his post, had retired from active naval service.

Sherman, who earlier had collaborated on the first draft of what finally became the Armed Forces Unification Law, was brought to Washington in the fall of 1949 to officer. The public arguments over allocation of budget money and of missions subsided, but down below the top levels of command traces become the Navy's top uniformed of the old rivalry persisted.

With the Korean War and the return of the huge military budgets, coupled with the increased attention given to strategic plans and missions, evidence of renewed inter service jealousies has increased, both at the Pentagon and the Capitol. It has not yet reached the public phase that developed during th investigation into the policies back of the buying and strategic operation of the Air Force's B-36 long range bombers. But behind the scenes some of the old rhetorical questions are being asked again:

Why go ahead with expenditure of hundreds of millions on the heavy bomber program when some o the strategic bombing missions can be conducted by carrier-based bombers?

Who is the Navy going to fight since the Russians have virtually no carrier force, are far outnumbered in surface ships?

Sunday High of 101

The 101-degree high recorded in Snyder yesterday seemed almost bearable after the maximums registered here on preceding days. A low of 76 degrees was recorded before dawn today, with 80 degrees at 7:30 this morning.

Prince Tallal, above, the anti-British eldest son of murdered King Abdullah of Jordan, was reported to be furious because his younger brother, Prince Naif, has been named Regent and apparent successor to Jordan's throne. Tallal, 40, is in Switzerland under medical care for a nervous disorder.

Jordan King Buried With Martial Honor

AMMAN, Jordan, July 23. (AP)—Bugles sounded a farewell salute across the barren, rocky hills of Jordan today as the body of murdered King Abdullah was lowered into its grave. Guns of the Arab Legion boomed out at one-minute intervals as the cortege moved the grave.

The wailing of thousands of subjects could be heard on the surrounding hills during the solemn funeral process from the assassinated King's royal palace to his burial place.

Black flags draped this dusty little capital in preparing for three months of mourning for the powerful British-supported Arab king. He was assassinated Friday as he went to pray at the tomb of his father in the Mosque of Omar in the Jordan-held old city of Jerusalem.

Commanders of Abdullah's Arab Legion had carried the flag-draped coffin from the palace to a gun carriage, and then from the carriage to the grave. At the side of the grave the coffin first was placed on a pedstal covered with Jordan's national colors. High Moslem priests chanted death prayers.

Abdullah's white horse, caparisoned in black and carrying Abdullah's silver sword and his riding boots, led the funeral procession immediately behind the coffin. The Legion guns continued their mourning salutes at one-minute intervals throughout the day.

An estimated 1,000 dignitaries from neighboring Arab countries and from other parts of the world marched in the funeral procession behind the royal casket. Only those with special permits were permitted to take part in th procession. Others were kept away by machine-gun and barbed-wire emplacements on the surrounding hills.

Marshal Petain, Hero Of Verdun, Is Dead

ILE D'YEU, France, July 23. (AP) —Marshal Henri Philippe Petain, the French hero of Verdun in World War I, died today on this bleak island where he had served more than five years of a life sentence for treason in World War II. He was 95 years old.

But he was not a prisoner when he died. The French government commuted his sentence last month, shortly after the parliamentary elections, because of the state of his health, and he was moved from his prison cell to a private mansion here off the southwest coast of France.

Possible Basis For Oil Talks Is Found

TEHRAN, Iran, July 23. (AP) — An Iranian cabinet member said today a formula has been found for reopening negotiations with the British on the oil nationalization dispute.

The first specific statement of progress in settling the critical British-Iranian deadlock came from Dr. Karim Sanjabi, minister of education, after a six-hour conference between Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh, the cabinet and the Iranian oil nationalization board.

Another member of the government indicated that some formal announcement of the extent and nature of the progress might be made after continued talks tonight with President Truman's global troubleshooter W. Averell Harriman.

Kazem Hassibi, a government representative on the oil board, said:

"The cabinet and the joint oil board agreed on a memorandum which will be handed to Harriman tonight.

"It forms the basis on which negotiations with the British might be resumed."

The memorandum apparently is based on the result of week-long talks between Harriman and Iranian leaders.

Sanjabi hinted that Iran is sticking to its position that any negotiations will be with representatves of the disputed Anglo-Iranian Oil Company and not with the British government.

An informed source said earlier that Harriman had suggested reopening the negotiations with a British government delegation.

If the British find the Iranian "formula" acceptable, Harriman's mission may have cracked the dead lock which brought the world's biggest refinery at Abadan on the Persian Gulf, to a virtual standstill and might have imperilled the peace of the world.

Although both sides were silent on details of the discussions taking place in the mirrored Saheb Gharanieh Palace, it is understood that the talks included the possibility of resuming temporarily the shipment of oil from Iran under some compromise arrangement when and if the negotiations are reopened.

The first negotiations between officials of the AIOC and the extremely nationalistic Iranian government broke down a month ago after neither side could agree on a basis for the talks.

WEATHER

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday with widely scattered thundershowers in Panhandle, South Plains and from Pecos valley westward. No important temperature changes.

EAST TEXAS: Clear to partly cloudy and continued warm tonight and Tuesday. Widely scattered daytime thundershowers in extreme east portion.

Cease-Fire, If Effected, Will Not Bring Boys Home At Once

KAESONG, Korea, July 21. (AP)—American soldiers in Korea sing a parody on the "Prisoner's Song" that goes like this:

"Now if I had ten thousand dollars,"

"I'd go to the general and say,

"'I'm leaving Korea tomorrow,'

"'Because no boats are leaving today.'"

That's exactly when the Chinese and North Korean Communists want them to leave—on the next boat.

It was Allied refusal to make immediate withdrawal on the agenda that caused the Reds today to obtain a recess until next Wednesday of the cease-fire negotiations.

There is the possibility that the Reds will come back and agree to take up an agenda omitting this point.

It is to be assumed that in talking to the Reds today, Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief U.N. negotiator, made some mention of the fact that withdrawal of U.N. troops would be taken up in the United Nations as soon as peace in Korea is assured.

Naturally, the U.N. will withdraw from Korea when the time is ripe to do so. That, according to U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, will not be until the South Korean army is strong enough to defend itself from the North Koreans.

That might be a year — or 18 months.

BOTH SEEK HALT

At any rate, peace in Korea will not mean that Johnny will be marching home right away.

Even after the withdrawal from Korea, the chances are that the U. S. Eighth Army will move to Japan and Okinawa. The latter is being developed as a U. S. base, and a treaty is in the works with Japan on stationing American troops in Japan after the occupation ends.

In any case, a halt in the fighting in Korea seems to be desired by both sides, with only the time and method of effecting it being in dispute.

The Reds have asked for an immediate cease-fire, but Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U.N. commander, does not want to call off his fighters until the Reds have agreed to his demands for inspection teams behind the lines.

Ridgway does not want to risk the chance of the Communists using a cease-fire to build up for a new attack.

Just what has been agreed upon as an agenda in the conference thus far is a secret kept by both sides.

All that is known is that the Reds, in addition to demanding that U.N. troops get out of Korea, want a 12:5 mile buffer zone centered on the 38th parallel, an exchange of prisoners, and an immediate cease-fire.

A spokesman has said two or more points "have been agreed upon after certain alterations were made." He added that the U.N. delegation had placed in writing its understanding of the meaning of the agreed points. A prisoner exchange may have been one of them; the 38th parallel could have been the other.

In the daily allied communiques since Thursday, there has been a tendency to play up "no results" and play down the angle that apparently only the troop-withdrawal matter stands in the way of an early cease-fire.

This could mean that the U.N. delegates are using the resultant stories to help convince the Reds they will remain firm on this question.

Secrecy, more noteworthy than in any recent international meetings, has marked the Kaesong conferences.

Delegates have kept behind the barbed-wired fence around their teahouse meeting place and have refused even to pass the time of day with anyone but their immediate staffs.

Yet, if it is true that only the troop-withdrawal item remains, a great deal must have been accomplished in the eight sessions.

The chances are there eventually will be a cease-fire in Korea —but don't expect your favorite GI home on the next boat.

THE STARS

By JACK QUIGG
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD July 23. (AP) — "And what are your hobbies Mr Gable?"

Clark Gable's answer and the replies of other stars to countless similar queries are bread and butter for some 500 men and women who comprise the working press of Hollywood.

The world's appetite for information about movies and the activities and opinions of movie stars being what it is — virtually insatiable — Hollywood has one of the biggest news corps anywhere.

The Motion Picture Association of America which keeps an up to date list of filmtown writers, says only Washington and New York City have more newsmen.

MOST ARE AMERICAN

The MPAA divides them into two groups—foreign press representatives (93) and American press representatives (413).

Let's look at the domestic correspondents first. This group includes 263 writers for newspapers and magazines. Most of the big publications and a good many of the small ones are represented here.

In addition there are 10 radio newsmen 33 from film trade journals and 46 photographers.

The MPAA believes only about two-thirds of the 263 writers make a living at it. The other third hold jobs outside the industry and write in their spare time.

The 93 members of the foreign press come from almost every country outside the Iron Curtain, from Helsinki to Beirut. There are a score from Spain, Latin America, and Portugal another score from and South Africa. Even tiny Switzerland has three.

JUST JET PROPED

What does it take to become a Hollywood correspondent?

To get on the MPAA's accredited list a writer must show that he writes—and gets printed—regularly. Usually a letter from his editor will do. In some cases the MPAA requests sample copy.

The MPAA admits that writers are treated in relation to the importance of their outlet. Thus our man from Podunk might have trouble getting a special interview with Clark Gable. The man from the New York Times probably wouldn't.

Martin Wildcat Gets Sulphur Water In Test

Tide Water Associated Oil Co., No. 1 E. B. Dickenson, Central-South Martin County wildcat, nine miles west of Stanton and 12 miles north and slightly east of Midland, made a large amount of salty, sulphur water and had no shows of petroleum in a drillstem test in a deep formation.

The section covered by the investigation was an unidentified dolomite. Some observers had thought when the formation was entered that it might be Ellenburger.

That idea has about been abandoned. Some geologists think it might be in Montoya.

The water came in a drillstem test at 11,880-970 feet. The tool was open 40 minutes. There was a strong blow of air throughout the test. Recovery was 1,260 feet of drilling mud and 10,580 feet of salty, sulphur water.

Operator is preparing to drill deeper.

Two Wildcats Staked In Runnels County

Lion Oil Co., and C. M. Ashby and others have each staked a wildcat in Reagan County for immediate drilling.

Lion No. 1 Mrs. Ruby J. Wright will be drilled 660 feet from north and west lines of section 1-G-SV. That will put it one and one-half miles southwest of Paul F. Barnhart No. 1 Wimberly, recently completed discovery of the Aldwell-Spraberry field.

Ashby and others will dig their No. 1 Frank Lindley 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 1-G-C&M.

That makes it a southwest offset to the location recently filed by Lloyd H. Smith, Inc., of Houston for his No. 1 Lindley.

Wildcat Failure

Richard King, Jr. of San Angelo No. 1 V. L. White, wildcat in Central - North Runnels County has been plugged at 4,616 feet in lime and shale.

The failure was 3,600 feet from north and 2,400 feet from west lines of W. M. Baggs survey No. 326. It was one mile east of Winters.

Verdict for Plaintiff In Compensation Suit

A jury in 132nd district court late Saturday returned a verdict in favor of Robert R. Green, Negro, against the Texas Indeminity Insurance Co. for a total of $8,824.

Green alleged that when he was an employe of the Halliburton Oil Well Cementing Co. he was injured in the eyes on Nov. 23, 1950, while unloading cement. He claimed total disability.

The insurance company claimed that Green was an employe of L. E. Moore and L. C. Mopping, who were under contract with the Halliburton Co. and that Green was not an employe of the cementing firm.

The Texas Indemnity carried the insurance for Halliburton.

The jury gave Green $24 for 401 weeks as compensation for his injuries.

The law firm of Huff-Spawn and Wagonseller of Lamesa represented Gren, and Davis Scarborough, Abilene attorney, and Tom Coates of Duncan, Okla. were counsel for Halliburton.

New Book May Be Helpful In Guiding Children's Interest

By The Associated Press

Does ten-year-old Mary kick and scream when the piano teacher walks in the door? Does teen-age Oswald prefer collecting snake eggs to studying his Latin and geometry?

A new book written by a Duke University psychologist and a Chicago guidance counselor may help parents who are bedeviled by problems like these.

Written by Blanche B. Paulson, Chicago public school guidance supervisor, and Dr. G. Frederick Kuder of Duke, "Discovering Childrens Intrests" point out that parents must understand interests in order to guide their children intelligently.

WATCH INTERESTS

"Young people often choose a vocation without considering their interests," the authors write.

Susie wants to be an airline hostess because she believes it to be a glamorous job; Sam quits high-school to join the Navy because "that's what all the other fellows are doing."

"But in the long run," the psychologists write, "satisfaction with a job or career will depend on whether or not that work is enjoyable to the person."

Besides their importance in shaping careers, interests can play a big part in satisfying children's basic desires for security, adventure and creative self-expression, they say.

Here are some tips for parents who want to help their children satisfy these needs through interests:

1. Use your knowledge of your child's favorite school subjects; his choice of books and radio programs to suggest creative leisure pursuits.

SUGGEST BOOKS

2. Suggest books that will give your child more skill in his leisure time pursuit. It's often through a hobby that a child gains a feeling of competence and worth.

3. Help children with the same hobbies to form clubs to display and talk over their work. Such activities help children achieve social approval, one of their most important needs.

4. Encourage your child's efforts. Jimmy's first poem needs family apreciation, and Susie's cooking ventures should be respected. Children want their interests taken seriously by adults, especially those they love and respect.

5. Share your children's interests and activities. Plan an evening a week for the entire family to get together and work on hobbies.

DON'T PRESUME

Don't jump to conclusions about interests through over-eagerness to help your children, the psychologists warn. Children's intrests shift and change as they grow and have more experiences.

Parents and teachers should not feel guilty about having interests other than children," the authors emphasize. "Like adults, children prefer grown-ups who are vital, buoyant, interesting. By having 'outside' interests, you enrich the lives of your children. You make life more interesting for you — and therefore for them, too."

"Discovering Children's Interests" is published by Science Research Associates, Chicago, Ill.

Stock Market Prices Make Small Advances

NEW YORK, July 23. (AP) —There was very little activity today in the stock market but prices managed to crawl ahead slightly.

Gains were less than a dollar a share just about everywhere. Losses were scattered and small, many leaders were unchanged.

15 DEAD ON LATEST LIST

WASHINGTON July 23. (AP)—The Defense Department today identified 83 additional battle casualties in Korea. A new list (No. 3600) reported 15 killed 52 wounded, 10 missing in action and six injured in combat area accidents.

FAMILY HAS JAIL REUNION

LOS ANGELES July 23. (AP)—"Wait until my husband hears about this," said Mrs. Henry G. Nadeau, 46, to arresting officers. "He'll bail me out."

She was booked at city jail on suspicion of drunk driving Sunday after her car hit a parked car.

Less than an hour later other police came to city with Henry G. Nadeau, 59.

"I want to call my wife," he told officers. "She'll bail me out." He had been involved in a minor traffic accident.

Then police told him his hoped-for bailor needed some bail herself.

"Oh, no..." gasped the husband.

Suit Concerning Lots In Gross Subdivision To Be Argued Today

The law suit of Lois Wilsford and others against James A. Clark for title to certain lots in the northwest section of Snyder, was to get under way this afternoon before a jury in 132nd district court.

Selection of a jury from a panel was being made this morning.

This litigation revolves around ownership of certain lots in the Gross sub - division, in which the heirs are seeking title to the property.

Clark claims ownership through the statute of limitations.

The plaintiffs are represented by Carl M. Anderson of Sweetwater and Dick Webb, of Snyder, and Clark is defended by C. E. McGaw.

Couple Live Through Fall Of 340 Feet

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK Calif. July 23. (AP)—A young teacher and his wife survived a battering 340-foot fall down rocky Waterwheel Falls.

Eric Yeoman, 25, Alamenda, Calif., slid through unihjured. His wife, Norma, also 25, suffered spinal injuries and possible head and pelvis fractures.

Forest rangers said it was a miracle that either lived through the plunge down the ledge-ribbed waterfall high in the sierra.

The couple, both experienced mountaineers, were picknicking. Eric stopped to drink and fell in Saturday. His wife, trying to save him, also fell in.

They were swept down the churning slide, falling, twisting, bounding against the ledges. Finally they landed in a pool at the bottom.

Eric crawled out. Mrs. Yeoman grasped driftwood. Vacationers pulled her out.

A Dartmouth pre-medical student, Charles Davis of Lexington, Mass., gave first aid. Mrs. Yeoman was taken by litter on a six-hour climb to an ambulance and then on a three-hour ride to a hospital. Rangers said she smiled encouragement all the way.

Sixteen Charges Filed

A total of 16 persons fell afoul of the law from activities of the sheriff's department and highway patrol over the week end.

In the net were four motorists, charged with driving while intoxicated; one for carrying a blackjack, three drunk in a car, and the others on drunkenness charges.

All 16 are slated for court hearings today.

SPECIALIZING IN SERVICE

Jane Houston Crowned Queen Regent At Baptist Encampment

Jane Houston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Houston, 1010 Twenty - fifth Street, Tuesday was crowned queen regent, highest rank of the Girl's Auxiliary, at the GA Baptist encampment at Big Spring.

Two other Snyder girls, Rose Marie Roe and Marilyn Thomas, were also honored as queens with Imogene Criswell of Seminole as queen of the sceptre, and Kay Hubbard of Colorado City and Janelle Haynes of Ackerly, other queens. Princesses were Jo Ann Brooks of Ira and Barbara Smith, Dunn; ladies-in-waiting: Peggy Brown of Ira, Janice Ernest of Vincent, and Gerry Ann Carpenter of Lamesa; maidens: Shirley Thomas of Big Spring, Jean Mosley of Odessa, Patsy Johnson and Joy Glendining of Midland, and Joyce Chapman of Big Spring.

The coronation ceremony was directed by Charlene Jones, state representative, who also recognized all other girls in the district who had completed one or more forward steps toward the top office. The queen regent's coronation climaxed more than three and one-half years of preparation by her for the office.

Also in the ceremony were Jane's two flower girls, Marguerette and Anita Holt, both of Snyder.

Decorations featured a huge star bearing the GA emblem of green and gold and surrounded by large stars over the background. Girls of the steps maiden through princess were attired in pastel street length dresses with the organizational arm band bearing the symbols of their rank. The queens, queen of the sceptre, and queen regent entered formally attired and with their symbolic arm bands. They were presented with the crowns, septre, and cape of their ranks.

Requirements for the top office include being well versed in Bible memory work, Baptist history, organization and doctrine, knowledge of foreign missionaries and the countries they serve. She also must have read more than 15 books, written more than 3,000 words in themes, and have carried out extensive hand and charity work. The state comittee which judges her work requires a grade of 90 for passing. The service is held annually at the camp.

Deluge Falls In Mid-West

By The Associated Press

Drenching rains swamped a three-state midwestern area Sunday with rainfalls reported at more than five inches.

Flood-plagued Missouri had a rainfall topping five inches but weather bureau forecasters in Chicago said it was confined to the extreme northern section of the state and was not expected to have any immediate effect upon the flood area in central Missouri.

Northern and Central Illinois had a strong taste of the deluge with Quincy getting 4.42 inches rain in less than 12 hours.

A Saturday downpour of a reported 8.3 inches created a flash flood at Viroqua, Wis., where a farm family of six drowned when rampant waters destroyed their home.

The Illinois rains threatened a dam at Canton where a 25 by 30 foot section of the Lake Canton concrete spillway was ripped out by surging waters. Engineers said that if other sections give way nearby villages and farms might get flooded by an eight foot wall of water.

Scattered showers fell from Oklahoma, Kansas and Missouri in the West to Pennsylvania in the East with the heavy rains concentrated in the Missouri-Illinois-Michigan area.

Cool air covered the Great Lakes region today westward to the Northern Rockies. The weather was generally fair over most of the country.

Picku p and Delivery Service Offered by Trevey's Station

"Our work is our best advertisement," S. W. Trevey, owner of the S. W. Trevey Magnolia Service Station, said last week.

Specializing in services to car owners, the station has had to add two new employes since Trevey purchased it April 1.

Washing and greasing are our big specialties, he said, but added that other services which can't be obtained from every station also make it an advantageous place to trade.

One of the special services is the free pickup and delivery. They will come to your home or place of business anywhere in town, pick-up your car for any services, and return it to you.

"Many of our steady customers just call us to come get their cars when they need washing or greasing," Trevey said.

Other people who appreciate this service are unfortunate victims of flat tires or empty gas tanks. We make many calls of that type every day, he said.

One unique feature of the station is that everything is covered by insurance.

"From the time your car drives in our station until the time it leaves it is fully covered by insurance no matter what might happen to it," Trevey said.

"That insurance extends further than protection to the car, it covers the individaul, too," he said. "If you fall and break a leg in our drive, your leg will be sore, but it won't cost you any money," he added.

Careful work and quick and attentive service have caused a constant increase in the station's volume of trade since Trevey bought it.

Everything they do or sell is guaranteed to be the best obtainable.

Accessories, tires and tubes, and other items in the Magnolia line are in full stock at the station. "We have plenty of tires for anyone who needs them," Trevey said.

Although he has only been in the service station business three months, Trevey is an old resident of Scurry County who knows what he likes when he pulls in the drive of a service station and sees to it that his employes give cutomers the same kind of service.

Born in Southwest Scurry County, Trevey was a farmer and rancher before entering the service station business. He still has his land and takes an active part in its management.

Jack Wisener is manager of the station. Wisener keeps the station open from 6 in the morning to 8 o'clock at night and until 10 on Saturday nights.

Gifts Are New Specialty Of Phillips Bros.

Although primarily a hardware store, Phillips Brothers' Hardware Store has one of the biggest stocks of gift items available anywhere in West Texas.

The only item in short supply in the department is frying pans the Revere Ware line. Crystal, china, pottery; Sunbeam, General Electric, and Hamilton Beech mixers; Sunbeam Coffeematics; waffle irons, and almost the full line of Revere Ware make up part of the complete stock of gifts.

The store's line of Revere Ware is as complete as curtailed production of the utensils permits, M. G. Phillips said.

"We have almost every item in the line that is now being produced in any quantity," he added.

There is another line in the store which many sportsmen will be pleased to hear about: a newly arrived $4,000 shipment of ammunition for all sporting guns.

"We ordered the ammunition last Christmas, and have just now received it," Phillips said. "If we ordered it now, we couldn't get it at all," he added.

Although this is not the hunting season, it might be a good idea to drop in and get the ammunition you'll be needing next winter, he said.

If it's a bigger gift you are hunting, Phillips Brothers has that, too. Kelvinator and Admiral refrigerators and deepfreezes, Chambers, O'keef-Merritt, Maytag gas ranges, and Admiral Electric ranges will fill the bill for large gifts for the home and can be purchased with only a small down payment.

Vets Protest Oatis Sentence

HARRISBURG Pa., July 23. (AP)—The Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars has asked the State Department to take "strong positive steps demanding the immediate unconditional release of William N. Oatis," Associated Press chief of bureau in Czechoslovakia.

James J. Davis, state commander, also urged expulsion from the United States of the Tass correspondent of Moscow's Pravda as part of a "get tough" policy.

Davis, a Philadelphia attorney and son of a former U. S. Senator Sunday wrote Secretary of State Dean Acheson that Oatis' "false imprisonment" by the Communist Czech government "because of his objective reporting outraged war veterans."

Oatis was sentenced July 4 to serve 10 years in prison on espionage charges.

The commander of the 200,000-member state VFW department said representations so far made concerning Oatis "have been wholly inadequate."

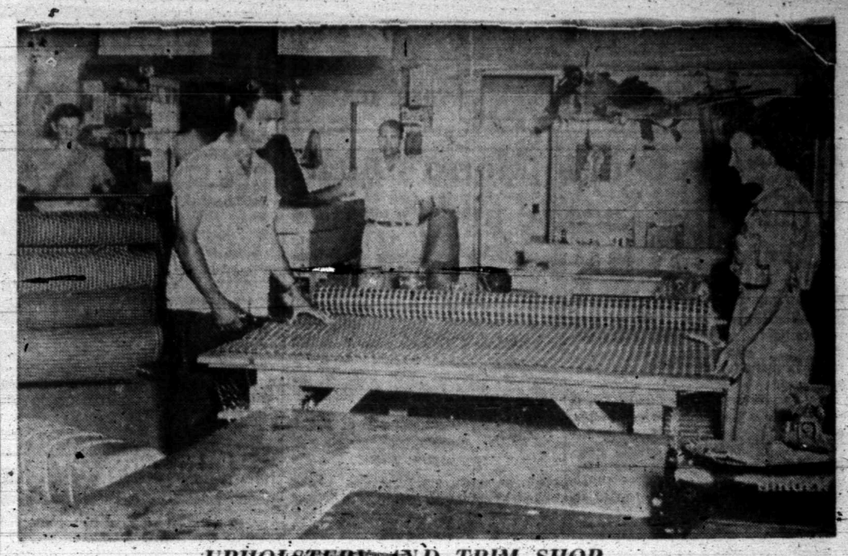

"We firmly believe," the letter read, "it is time for our government, through your department, to make it unmistakably clear to the Communist and Communist-dominated countries, that false arrest of an American national will no longer be tolerated without punitive action."

Copies of the letter were sent to President Truman, United Nations Delegate Warren R. Austin and the Pennsylvania delegation in Congress.

Texas Steel Man Dies

HOUSTON, July 23. (AP)—T. J. Mosher, 71, chairman of the board of the Mosher Steel Co., of Dallas and Houston, died here Sunday night of a heart attack.

He was stricken in his hotel room a few hours after he arrived on a business trip.

UPHOLSTERY AND TRIM SHOP

The interior of Howard's Upholstery and Trim Shop located three miles north of the square on the Clairemont road is shown above. The firm does complete automobile and furniture upholstery, giving one-day service on custom made seat covers for cars.—(Staff photograph).

Car and Furniture Upholstery Is Specialty of Howard Shop

Do the seats in your car need recovering, or is there a spring sticking through the upholstery on your divan?

If so, Howard's Upholstery and Trim Shop north of Snyder on the Clairemont road is the perfect answer to your problems.

"We can build a better suite of furniture from your old furniture than can be bought new in any store," R. T. Howard, owner of the shop, said. "That's because the lumber in the old frames is seasoped better than the lumber in frames of new furniture," he added.

Doing custom upholstery jobs on both furniture and cars permits the firm to offer a wide selection of fabrics, Howard added.

"We are one of the few shops which do complete car upholstery or furniture upholstery jobs all in plastics," he said. Most shops combine fabrics made from fibers with plastics to do the jobs.

The firm has more than $5,000 invested in automobile seat cover materials alone. From the size of the stock you can get an idea of the variety which is available there.

Quick service, as well as quality service is offered by the firm. A complete car upholstery and seat cover job can be turned out in less than a day by Howard's shop. In fact, the shop can completely upholster three cars in one day, when necessary, Howard said.

"If there is a special type of furniture you need to fit into an irregularly shaped living space, or a scarce color of cover needed to compliment your color scheme in the home we can fill the need," he said.

Special frames of the finest materials can be ordered through the firm for construction of custom furniture.

Louis Draper, the firm's furniture upholstery and repair man, has had 26 years experience in some of the leading furniture factories and custom upholstery shops.

"Before you trade off an old suite or piece of furniture, call us for a free estimate on how it can be completely rebuilt at money saving prices to you," Howard said.

Movies' Joe Palooka Wins Milwaukee Tourney

MILWAUKEE, July 23. (AP) — Joe Kirkwood, Jr., 30-year-old movie actor and golf pro, turned in a record-tying 64 on the North Hills Country Club course Sunday to win the blue ribbon open golf tournament and $2,750.

Kirkwood, Hollywood's Joe Palooka, fired six birdies and an eagle in a seven under par finish to give him a 72-hole total of 271—13 under the 35-36—71 layout.

Sam Snead came in second best with 273, earning $1,900 of the $20,000 pot which made the Blue Ribbon Open the third richest meet of the season. Snead had a 32-34—66 finish.

Jim Ferrier of San Francisco, the leader going into the final round, fell behind on the out nine and finished with 68 and a 274 total to tie for third with Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago.

Portugal Elects New President Backed By 25-Year Dictator

LISBON Portugal July 23, (AP)—A 57-year-old airman, Gen. Francisco Craveiro Lopes, is Portugal's new president. Backed by "strong man" Premier Antonio de Oliviera Salazar, Craveiro Lopes was elected without opposition Sunday.

Observers were chiefly interested in the size of the voter turnout as an indication of the popularity of Salazar's regime. Early official estimates said 70 per cent of Lisbon's listed voters had cast ballots while Portugal's overseas possession reported 90 per cent of those registered had voted.

About 1.4 million voters were registered.

The new president succeeds the late Marshal Antonio Oscar de Fragoso Carmona, who died April 18. Salazar who with President Carmona had ruled Portugal for 25 years, refused to seek the presidency for "reasons of conscience."

Congress Cool to Morse's Idea Of Listing Income and Sources

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—Senator Morse has an idea which is getting nowhere fast. This Oregon Republican has offered Congress the same idea yearly since 1947. It's been chilled to death, regularly.

He suggests Congress pass a law compeling all its members to list as a public record all their income — in addition to their Congressional pay — and where they got it.

Although a nose gets punched occasionally in Congress, the members otherwise are pretty considerate of one another's feelings and even have rules against name-calling.

Congress digs into other people's money background. But you never hear a member ask one of his fellows if, by any chance, he's plugging something or opposing it because he has a financial interest in the outcome.

CAESAR'S WIFE

Morse calls his proposal, which is in the form of a bill, his "Caesar's wife" bill, meaning that Members of Congress, like Caesar's wife", should be beyond reproach.

Not every member, of course, is always beyond reproach. There have been some senatorian recent examples: J. Parnel Thomas, New Jersey Republican, and Andrew J. May, Kentucky Democrat.

Both were found guilty by federal juries and served jail terms. Thomas, who was head of the House Un-American Activities Committee, got six to 18 months. He did not contest charges of padding his office payroll and accepting salary kickbacks from his staff. May, one-time head of the old House Military Affairs Committee, got eight months to two years after conviction for taking bribes.

They served their time. Another House member, Walter E. Brehm, Ohio Republican, was convicted of accepting $1,000 in campaign gifts from a clerk in his office. He was fined $5,600 but is appealing the verdict.

Briefly, this is what Morse suggests:

All Members of Congress (their basic salary is $12,500 a year); and all U. S. judges and government empoyes with salaries of $9,000 a year or more, must fill out every year a statement on:

ALL INCOME

All their income during the preceding year, including fees, salaries, royalties, income from trusts and estates, dividends, or income derived from a law firm or partnership, and the names of the clients; and all dealings in securities or commodities.

Pennant Race in American Is Between Cleveland and Boston

By The Associated Press

New York, Cleveland and Boston today were locked in a virtual first place tie in the American League's gripping pennant race with Chicago's weary White Sox "resting" in fourth place, two and a half games behind the leaders.

Percentagewise, the defending champions lead the league. Sunday's sweep of two games from St. Louis — 9-0 and 7-3 — boosted them into first place by two percentage points over the deadlocked Indians and Red Sox.

The rampaging Indians made it 22 victories in 29 games and eight out of nine by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics twice, 6-4, and 3-1. The Red Sox stubbornly kept pace with a 10-9 triumph over the Detroit Tigers in 10 innings.

The triple tie (in games behind) should be untangled Tuesday when the Yankees open a 17-game home stand against the Indians. The Red Sox also return home Tuesday for a 19-game stand starting with a night affair against the White Sox.

WHITE SOX SKID

The skidding White Sox suffered two stunning defeats by Washington Sunday — 7-6 and 11-5 — as the Senators concluded a sweep of the four-game series. It marked the longest losing skein of the season for Chicago — four straight.

The Brooklyn Dodgers continued to make a runaway race of it in the National League. Trouncing the St. Louis Cardinals, 9-2, for their ninth straight over the Redbirds, the Dodgers increased their margin to 8½ games over second-place New York.

Cincinnati held the Giants to a split of their doubleheader, dropping a 9-8 decision after winning the opener, 7-3. The Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-7, in 14 innings and led 1-0 after seven innings of the second game of a doubleheader. The nightcap was halted by Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law.

Pittsburgh split with Boston, winning the second game, 5-2, after the Braves had taken the opener, 5-3.

PAIGE ROUTED

Allie Reynolds surrendered only four hits and registered his 11th victory and sixth shutout for the Yankees in the St. Louis opener. Held hitless for five innings by old Satchel Paige, the Yanks teed off on the fabulous Negro righthander for three runs in the sixth and added five more in the seventh to route Paige.

Sam Mele's ninth-inning double snapped a 6-6 tie and won the opener for Washington. The Nats staged a seven-run second inning against Ken Holcombe and Harry Dorish to win the nightcap.

Phil Cavarretta made a successful managerial debut with the Cubs as they eked out their 11-inning victory in Philadelphia.

Beaumont Wins To End Dallas Victory Skein

By The Associated Press

Houston stopped skidding Sunday night and Dallas stopped winning.

Pace - setting Houston thumped Tulsa, 6-4, to snap a four-game losing streak and stretch its lead to seven full games as Dallas, four - game winning streak was snapped by Beaumont, 4-3.

In other games, Shreveport beat Fort Worth, 3-1, and San Antonio slaughtered Oklahoma City, 16-1.

The same teams play again tonight at San Antonio, Houston, Shreveport and Beaumont.

Octavio Rubert won his 13th game of the season as Houston used a big four-run fourth inning to get back on the winning track. Russ Burns homered for Tulsa.

A three-run homer by Fenton Mole in the fourth inning was the feature as Beaumont exploded for all its runs and the narrow decision over Dallas.

San Antonio banged out 19 hits and Roy Sievers got five of them. Jim Dyck hit two home runs in a wild nine-run eighth inning.

Round-Robin Begins Tonight

A one - game - elimination round-robin tournament to determine the city softball champion will begin with two games in Memorial Park tonight, Eddie Hight, league president, said.

Each team, regardless of its past record, will have a chance to become city champion. Some of the teams which have made weak showings in the past have added new pitchers to bolster their hopes for the final play-off.

Tonight's games are: DeMolays vs. Sunray at 7:30 and Pasotex vs. West Texas State Bank at 9 o'clock.

A consolation bracket will also be played between teams which lose their one game in the winning bracket.

Trophies will be given the victos in both the winning bracket and the consolation bracket, Hight said.

Heat and Rain Postpone Three Longhorn Tilts

By The Associated Press

The Longhorn League ran into trouble with the weatherman Sunday and almost didn't get into action at all. Three games were postponed while one was played as scheduled.

A variety of weather interferred with the schedule. Midland at Vernon was postponed because it was "too hot" to play. Officials looked at the 104 - degree thermometer reading and threw in the sponge. Threatening weather caused the cancellation of Odessa at Roswell and rain washed out San Angelo at Artesia.

Only Big Spring and Sweetwater got into the act with the second place Brones taking a 7-5 victory from the cellerite Swatters.

A big fourth inning, in which five runs crossed the plate, brought Big Spring the victory. Two doubles, a walk and an error brought in two runs and set the stage for a three run-home run by Manny Junco that wrapped it up.

Warren Slitter had a two-run homer in the first inning for Sweetwater and the Swatters led 2-1 until the big Brone inning.

Gold Sox 17 To Lamesa's 5

By The Associated Press

The Amarillo Gold Sox are just about the hottest thing in the West Texas-New Mexico League. The nearest thing to them Sunday was Borger pitcher Socky Red, and he was chased from the ball game.

The Gold Sox continued their heavy hitting to blast the Lamesa Lobos, 17-5, for their third straight victory. Red got into an argument with Umpire Charlie Crain in the fourth inning and was given the heave-ho.

Borger was doing alright until Red blew his top, trailing by just one run. But in the sixth inning the Abilene Blue Sox jumped on reliefer Jim Cain for five runs and finished with a 10-5 victory.

Veteran Mel Kramer turned in the pitching gem of the day as he stopped the Pampa Oilers with one hit, a double by Frank Calo, to hurl the Clovis Pioneers to an 8-0 victory.

The Albuquerque Dukes scored two runs in the last of the eighth inning to nip Lubbock, 5-3, in the only night game in the league. Don Cantrell limited Lubbock to six hits and had a shutout until the top of the eighth when the Hubbers rallied for three runs to tie the score.

Aces, Charros Split Games

By The Associated Press

The Corpus Christi Aces may be big dogs in the Gulf Coast League but someone forgot to tell the Brownsville Charros about it.

The Charros battled the aces for nine innings before losing the first game of a double-header, 1-0, Sunday night then they came back to bury the leaders in the second game, 16-1.

Laredo continued to blaze a path through the ranks of the Class B League with a pair of victories over Port Arthur. The Apaches took the first game, 6-2, then came from behind to take the second, 3-2.

Galveston broke a three-game losing streak with a 5-2 victory over Harlingen in the other night game. Texas City blasted Lake Charles, 10-3, in the only daylight game in the circuit.

Neal Collier Hogs Honors In Last Night of Scurry Rodeo

BY JAY FISH

After the fifteenth annual Scurry County Rodeo drew to a close Saturday night, rodeo officials stated that it was attended by the largest crowds in rodeo history.

In the final night, Billy Holley won the conveted calf roping event with a time of 10.7 seconds. Lester Forrest was very close behind with his 10.8 seconds time. Dee Burrus took third place money with a 13.4 seconds time.

STEER RIDERS

Senior steer riders are evidently got into the act with the second place Brones taking a 7-5 victory from the cellerite Swatters.

A big fourth inning, in which five runs crossed the plate, brought Big Spring the victory. Two doubles, a walk and an error brought in two runs and set the stage for a three run-home run by Manny Junco that wrapped it up.

Warren Slitter had a two-run homer in the first inning for Sweetwater and the Swatters led 2-1 until the big Brone inning.

Neal Collier, veteran Wichita Falls performer, won the night's riding with Weldon Perry, Snyder, taking second and Harold Thomas, Jayton, claiming third. Cap Wilson, Colorado City had the best two day average in this event.

Neal Collier also won first in the saddle bronc division and Cap Wilson won second. John Farris, Iowa Park, Tex., another veteran of Snyder rodeos, garnered third place day money and the best average in riding this contest.

There were only three riding events in which seniors could enter and Neal Collier won every one of them Saturday night. In addition to senior steer riding, saddle bronc riding, he also took day money in bareback bronc event. John Farris won his second first in the two-day averages in this event.

Guy Harrell took the $200 prize money in the cutting horse contest riding atop his trusty steed Silver Light. Bob Beal was second and Johnny Dublin third.

JUNIOR STEER

Bob Jordan, Fluvanna, won the junior steer riding and Sydney Johnson, Snyder, took second. Ralph Price and Joe Helms, Snyder youngsters, tied for third.

R. D. Parks, Snyder, recorded the best time in the senior ribbon roping with a 15.2 seconds time. Lowery Rice, Big Spring and Beri Belew, Fluvanna, tied for second with identical times of 15.4 seconds. T. J. Clement, Peacock, stayed within 16 seconds to win third with a 15.9 seconds time.

Don Drum, Fluvanna, hustled his way to victory in the junior ribbon roping with a 15.3 seconds time. Following Drum was Billy Bylant, Fluvanna, with 20 seconds flat, and Sydney Johnson, Snyder, with 20.8 seconds.

The sponsors barrel race was really a horse race. Sadie Smith, Gail, won the event and the two-day averages with a time of 9.4 seconds, and 14.17 seconds respectively. Snooks Ogden won second in the two day averages and tied for second in the day's contest with times of 15.05 seconds and 9.8 seconds. Rose Mary Rice, Big Spring also had a 9.8 seconds time.

A total attendance of around 18,000 was recorded for the four night show, rodeo officials stated.

SIDELINE JUDGE FOR COLLEGES

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 23. (AP) — There'll be a fifth whistle tooter officiating at football games in the 10 major athletic conferences this fall.

Commissioners of the conferences agreed here Sunday to experiment with the fifth official "at least in some games" in the coming season. The Western (Big Ten) conference already has decided to try a fifth official this fall.

Pro football for many years has used a fifth official, known as the sideline judge, in addition to the standard quartet of head linesman, referee field judge, and umpire.

Victor O. Schmidt, spokesman for the annual meeting of the National Association of Collegiate Commissioners (NACC), said the fifth official in college football probably will be known as sideline or back judge.

Range Fire at Llano Believed Under Control

LLANO, July 23. (AP) — A range fire which burned an estimated 8,000 acres in three days was believed under control Sunday.

Mrs. Mamie Flaughter, who lives a mile from the area near here, said the fire fighting force had been cut from 200 to 100 as the flames were brought under control.

Court Battles Don't Bother Owls' Playing

By The Associated Press

Will the Gainesville Owels be forced to play the rest of their "home" games in Gainesville or can owner Dick Burnett transfer them elsewhere? That is the big question in the big state league right now, but it didn't bother the Owls Sunday.

They went about their knitting as though all was serene, blasting the Tyler East Texans, 11-6, for a split of the controversial series played in Longview.

The trouble all arose when Burnett transferred two games to Longview because of lack of attendance at Gainesville. Gainesville fans got an injunction to prevent the games being played in Longview but it was revoked at the last minute. A hearing has been set for Friday in Gainesville on another injunction to prevent it happening again.

Temple played host to Sherman-Denison in their battle for second place and took the decision, 7-6, to split the two-game series. The Eagles pushed across four runs in the fifth for the victory.

Eddie Bowles scattered ten hits for the Eagles. Sherman-Denison used three hurlers with Manny Rodriquez the loser.

Jodie Phipps continued to hold his jinx over the Austin Pioneers, pitching the Texarkana Bears to a 3-0 shutout. Phipps allowed eight hits but was tough with men on base.

Phipps allowed two hits in only one inning and was never in trouble as the Bears swept the series. It was the fourth loss in a row for Austin.

Waco and Wichita Falls tangled in a pitchers' duel with the Pirates taking a 2-1 decision. The victory widened their fifth place margin to a game and a half in the battle with the Spudders.

Jim McGee hurled six-hit ball for Waco to best Carmen Ferullo, Wichita Falls ace, and his relief man, Lou Vavro. The two gave up only five hits but an unearned run in the second and a home run by Earl Smith in the fourth was the difference. Ferulo was the loser.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Casey Bishop, 1204 Twenty-sixth Street, Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Grant, of Andrews, Tex. Mrs. Bishop and her daughter, Mrs. Harold Hester of Cuthbert, left yesterday for Albuquerque to return Mrs. Jake Ringer to her home. Mrs. Ringer has been visiting in the Casey home for the past mohth.

Widely Differing Senate-House Controls Bills to Conference

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP) — Friends and foes of the Truman Economic Controls program got set today for another fight, in the Senate-House Conference Comittee which will piece together the legislation to be submitted to the president.

Five senators and seven members of the House were named today to make up the committee, only hours after the House passed a bill extending wage, price and rent controls for a year. The bill makes many changes in the old law and withholds new powers Mr. Truman had asked.

The committee: Senators Maybank (D-SC), Fulbright (D-Ark), Robertson (D-Va), Capehart (R-Ind) and Bricken (R-O) and Reps. Spence (D-Ky), Brown (D-Ga), Patman (D-Texas), Rams (D-Ala), Wolcott (R-Mich), Gamble (R-NY) and Talle (R-Iowa).

Patman told a reporter the committee will start to work Wednesday and the House conferees are "determined to press for a conclusion by the end of the week."

Maybank and Spence are chairmen of the Senate and House Banking Committees and in that capacity guided the controls legislation to passage.

Capehart predicted that out of the conference will come a compromise bill "entirely adequate to deal with inflation." He said any administration arguments to the contrary would be "just a lot of bunk." Actually, he said, the administration "should be jubilant."

The Indiana Republican may have been anticipating complaints from President Truman. The White House mid-year economic report goes to Congress Monday, and Mr. Truman may take some cracks at his opposition in an accompanying message.

JOHNSTON IRKED

Rep. Spence told a reporter that he thinks "we can get out a workable law" at the conference. He said the House bill he suported "was a mighty sick patient, stabbed severely by amendments which we were able to remove with roll call votes."

Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) who fought Spence down the line commented "it is evident that the administration didn't want a strong price control bill. It defeated the amendment that would have frozen prices at the July 7 lavel on the argument that it would prevent a rise in prices."

"Disappointed but relieved" was the attitude expressed in the administration's economic stabilization offices, after the House version got through early today. Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston called his top aides together to appraise the situation. They appeared relieved that the House rejected what Johnston called "a few of the worst inflationary p o r k barrel amendments."

Still, Johnston said, "The consumers didn't get the breaks they deserved."

Here are the principal differences in the Senate and House versions, which must be adjusted:

Prices: The Senate voted to prohibit price rollbacks below the Jan. 25-Feb. 24 level or to a point below the price prevailing at the time the ceiling was fixed. The idea was to bar two proposed future beef rollbacks, but not to disturb the 10 per cent live cattle rollback already in effect. However, in a somewhat contradictory amendment, the Senate voted limited authority to roll back prices of some non-farm goods. The House voted to let the 10 per cent beef roll back continue, and to permit future meat and other farm price rollbacks only if the new ceiling is not less than parity or 90 per cent of the May 19, 1951, level.

Wages: Both voted to continue the present controls, under which the administration has set a ceiling of 10 per cent over levels of January, 1950. The ceiling has been punctured in a number of cases.

BAN SLAUGHTER QUOTAS

Beef Slaughtering Quotas: The Senate and House both voted to ban them, although Mr. Truman had asked for their continuance and stabilization officials had argued they were essential to meat price controls.

Credit: Both voted to continue curbs on installment payments, but to liberalize them. The Senate voted to permit 18 months time for paying balances on automobile purchases. The House bill would permit 21 months, and cut the down payment requirement on used cars to one-fourth of the total. Present requirements are for one third down and payment of the balance in 15 months, on all cars. The House also voted to ease the credit restrictions on household appliances, furniture, radios and television sets.

Real Estate: The Senate and House voted to continue controls, but to cut the down payment required on cheaper homes. The Senate voted to let veterans buy a house esting less than $12,000, for a down payment of as little as six per cent. The House set it at 10 per cent on non-veterans' purchases on houses under $10,000. Mr. Truman had asked that the controls be continued and be applied to old houses as well as new.

Rent Controls: The Senate and House voted to prohibit federal rent controls on commercial buildings and to permit dwelling rent increases of 20 per cent above the level of June 30, 1947. Rent control will not apply in areas which have tossed them out.

Defense Plants: Both rejected a presidential request for power to build and operate new plants.

NIX LICENSE REQUEST

Licensing: Both rejected Mr. Truman's bid for power to license business, as a part of the controls enforcement effort.

Life of the law: Mr. Truman asked a two-year extension. The Senate voted for eight months and the House for one year.

What was not in the bill when it finally passed the House was almost as important as what was in. Stabilization officials were particularly pleased that the House knocked out an amendment requiring that price ceilings allow a "reasonable profit". They argued that no business had a right to a "guaranteed profit" on every line it handled, but Rep. Wolcott contended that profits were essential to production.

One administration official said today that with this amendment out, 'we can at least stabilize prices, even though at a higher level.'

Administration relief also was apparent in the defeat of an amendment which would have frozen wage and price ceilings for four months. Its backers had taunted the Truman followers with the statement that while demanding tight controls they opposed this plan for really rigid action. Stabilizer Johnston had predicted "a rash of strikes" if the amendment stayed in.

House Panel Passes Budget Of Nearly $6 Billion for Defense

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee Saturday approved a $5,767,000,000 military construction program aimed at shoring up defenses at home and abroad against any Soviet aggression.

The Air Force gets the biggest share—around $3,480,000,000 — including about $1 billion to build a chain of overseas secret bases girdling Russia.

Approximately $1,368,000,000 is earmarked for the Army and $786,267,000 for the Navy and Marines, mostly for work on camps and other installations in this country. Secret projects are included also in their programs.

BIG TEXAS SHARE

More than $390 million of the money would be spent in Texas, mostly for Air Force training facilities at 17 bases. Amounts recommended ranged from $706,000 for Houston's Ellington Air Force base to $63,753,000 for Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio.

Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) told reporters he plans to call up the legislation for House action within a few weeks.

In submitting the program to Congress a month ago, Secretary of Defense Marshall said the work is "urgently needed" and called for fast action.

He also warned it will be necessary to ask approval later of still more projects. As it stands now, the construction program is the biggest since World War II.

WORK AUTHORIZED

Today's committee action simply authorizes the work. The actual money will have to be provided later.

The Defense Department originally sought approval for a $6,561,262,000 program at home and abroad. But it asked that only $4,530,000,000 be appropriated now to pay for construction planned before next July.

In line with that, the committee generally approved only projects that can be completed in that time.

SERVICE BREAKDOWN

Here's a break-down on the amounts authorized:

Army: Inside continental United States $530,450,000; outside continental United States $175,341,130; classified or secret facilities $302,234,000—total $1,368,025,130.

Navy and Marines: Inside continental United States $597,750,000; outside continental United States $74,971,[illegible]; classified facilities $113,531,[illegible] — total $785,267,600.

Air Forces: Inside continental United States $1,923,933,000; outside continental United States $415,420,000; classified facilities $1,071638,000—total $3,480,661,000.

In addition there is work running into millions, which will be shared by all the services.

Hearing on High Rents For Servicemen Friday

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—High military officials will be called Friday to tell a Senate Armed Services Subcommittee what they are doing to see that servicemen have decent housing at reasonable prices.

The subcommittee, headed by Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) issued a report last week charging that some servicemen's families near military posts have been gouged for high rentals on squalid quarters.

Johnson announced over the weekend the group will follow up the report at a hearing Friday. He said "top officials of the Defense Department will be called to explain their plans to meet the situation."

Metal in His Hand Was Once Imbedded in Heart

BURBANK Calif. July 23. (AP)—In a few days Tafton Sperling, 42, will return home to Bakersfield carrying the piece of metal that most everyone thought would kill him.

He was working at a metal cutting machine in a Bakersfield salvage yard when the chunk of metal flew off and imbedded itself in his heart.

He lay near death in a Bakersfield hospital for six weeks and then was brought to St. Joseph Hospital here. A skilled thoracic surgeon operated, probing in rhythm to Spierling's heartbeats. The metal was removed and Sunday the patient sat up holding the metal in his hand.

Right Man Has Not Appeared

VICKSBURG Mich. July 23. (AP)—Vicksburg's pert divorcee Mrs. Jean Gregory is still looking for her dream man.

The attractive 27-year-old mother of three children offered through a newspaper to accept a marriage proposal from a man who makes around $100 a week and will support her children and mother.

But as yet, she said Sunday, she hasn't found the right husband from more than 200 applicants. Thirty have come to see her, she said and more have made appointments to see her later.

Most of the applicants, the long-haired brunette said, "just aren't making enough money." The one she chooses, she says, will have to pay for an operation for her mother, Mrs. Almanda Farrow, 61, who suffers from cancer.

The most interesting offer, she said came from a Chicago businessman and his wife. They came to see her personally and offered help with no matrimonial strings attached.

She declined their offer, she said, and will go along with her marriage plans "if the right man comes along."

Fabens Man Champion At El Paso Skeet Meet

EL PASO, July 23. (AP) — D. W. Conway of Fabens wrapped up the open championship of the third annual Del Norte Skeet shoot, breaking 489 targets out of 500.

Henry Adler of Dallas finished second Sunday with 488x500 and Bill Fields, Sr. Fabens, was third with 487.

Mrs. Ann Hecker, Tucson, took the women's all events title with 486.

Adler won the 20-gauge championship, beating George Glass, Jr., of Odessa in a 75 target shoot-off.

Other results:

Class E — Don Maxwell, Odessa, 177.

More Old Homes Being Sold Than New Ones

WASHINGTON July 23. (AP)—Sales of old homes gained on new homes during the first five months after mortgage terms on new ones were tightened last Oct. 12 according to the Federal Reserve Board.

A board report Sunday said old house sales outnumbered new by 15 to 10 after the cash down payment requirement was boosted on new homes under control regulations.

In the 18 months before Korea the board said used homes had a sales edge of only 13 to 10.

Inner Sanctum Editor Reads 250 'Who Done Its' Annually

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK — It is fortunate that Lee Wright likes mystery stories. To earn a pretty penny, Miss Wright must read some 250 of them each year — in manuscript — and just about all the published output, which is considerable.

Lee Wright, who is brunette, fun and who admires writers, is the editor of Inner Sanctum Mysteries, a branch of a major publishing house.

She is pretty catholic in her tastes, as indeed she would have to be as the person who picks and choses among the manuscripts which pour onto her desk. The only type of mystery she personally dislikes is the one where the heroine is forever hearing a funny noise in an abandoned house, dark cellar or deserted stables and immediately goes there. Miss Wright refers to these distastefully as "girl-in-the-attic" mysteries, but that doesn't mean she won't put her okay on a good one if it rolls along.

GRIM VOCATION

Reading an endless succession of mystery stories can be a grim vocation, but there are some wonderful compensations. There was the day, for instance that aliterary agent threw 25,000 words of an unpublished writer on her desk. It was by an unknown named Craig Rice and the finished novel was called "Eight Faces Three."

Then there was the day that two chapters of an unfinished work landed on her desk. It was the opening of 'The G-String Murders," by one Gypsy Rose Lee, hitherto known for an activity somewhat afield from letters.

Miss Wright got into the editing business by a fairly direct route. Her father was a New York restaurateur, but her mother thought it would be a good idea to have a book business. They started the Wright Library.

LENDING LIBRARY

By running a lending library, Miss Wright decided that knowing people was more important than knowing books. She got so good at knowing people that she could almost invariable pick a book for a customer that he would enjoy.

Very few people have ever gotten rich writing mystery stories. Miss Wright figures about 90 percent of the editions go into rental libraries and only 10 per cent of them bought for private use. The average mystery story runs to about 4,500 copies, but of course if one of the mystery book clubs picks it up, it runs higher.

It is sad but true that most mystery writers make a total of around $1,250 for their book; and do other work, like writing radio scripts or for the pulps magazines to supplement incomes.

Tyler Meet Sees 13 Swimming Titles Set

TYLER, July 23. (AP) — Thirteen new records were set over the week-end in the annual state TAAF swimming tournament.

Texas A&M Coach Art Adamson's swimmers won the overall title with 143 points. Tyler scored 116 and won the women's and girls divisions. College Station also took the men and boy's division titles.

Jane Kenip of San Antonio set her sixth state record with a time of 39.9 seconds in the 50-meter backstroke.

Austin won the 300 meter medley in a record time of 3:40.8 and Wynnant Wilson of Dallas set new marks of 1:08.5 in the men's 100 meter free style and in the 400 meter free style at 5:16.7 Sunday night.

Need For Watering Ordinance

We hope that the city council, when it meets tonight, will start to work on an ordinance enabling the city to enforce water conservation measures when they are needed.

Laws providing fines for those who cannot abide by the rules against watering lawns have been found necessary elsewhere and we see no evidence that they are not needed here.

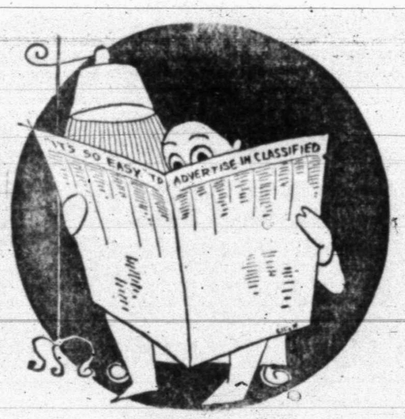

There are now and have been throughout the water shortage persons who believe they are entitled to all the water they can pay for and who use it very much as they do in times of ample supply.

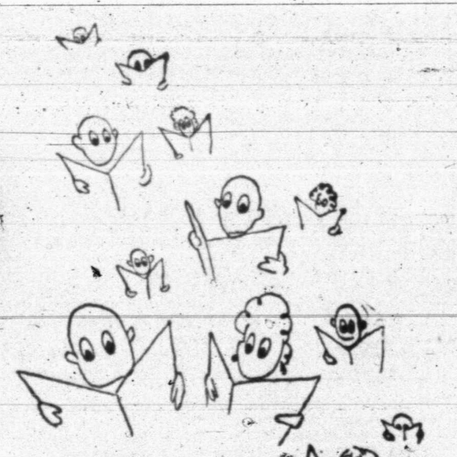

When a city gets in a really critical water situation, as we were last Wednesday morning, it should be able, for the protection of the health and safety of its citizens, to ban certain water uses and to make the ban stick.

It is the duty of our elected representatives to make sure that, in times of short supply, our water is reserved for health and fire protection. We need an ordinance on the books which can be invoked quickly in an emergency and which will enable the city to control how our water supply is used.

We hope the council will initiate action on such an ordinance tonight.

J. S. Is Wooing a Coy Franco Into Western Defense Bloc

BY DOROTHY THOMPSON

Again a reported United States plan for a military pact with Franco Spain, under which Spain would grant the U. S. Naval and air bases in return for credits and military aid, has called forth hostile reactions from London and Paris, whose governments consistently oppose Spain's admission as a partner in the Atlantic treaty organization, largely on ideological grounds. French leaders have declared the participation of Franco's government to be incompatible with the preamble of the Atlantic treaty, which states that member nations are determined to safeguard countries "founded on the principle of democracy, individual liberty, and the rule of law."

If every country in order to win cooperative support in resisting conquest must pass this test, no comprehensive system of collective security is possible. There is no more democracy and considerably less individual liberty and rule of law in Yugoslavia than in Spain. Western Hemispheric defense could not be orgnized, either on such a basis. Military alliances are not clubs to which members are admitted in a social register, or their rating in a Bradstreet's. They exist to defend permanent national interests, not governmental forms.

Conquerors not only suppress resistant governments; they subject nations, as such. Every Spanish patriot, therefore, including Franco's political enemies, prefers his rule to that of Russian agents knowing that as long as Spain is independent, the nation, as such, lives. This view has been strongly advanced by none other than the exiled loyalist leader, Juan Negrin.

However, in the debate over Spain, little attention has been paid to General Franco's own view. It is taken for granted that, if invited, Franco would jump at the chance to join the Atlantic alliance.

We see no basis for such an assumption. The Falangist government is not popular, though Franco is more esteemed than his entourage. Economic conditions are, as in Yugoslavia, appalling, and for the same reason: state planning, which has pushed industrialization at the expense of agriculture and an organic economy.

In the cities skyscrapers, factories, and factory settlements are proliferating, largely with state money, but simultaneously Spain, like Yugoslavia has become unable to feed her own people. Imported food, in 1950, more than doubled in tonnage that of 1935. Agricultural output has declined spending has created severe inflation, and centralized bureaucratic controls and allocations produce perpetual breakdowns and a scramble for government favor via bribery and corruption.

No amount of foreign credits will pull either Yugoslavia or Spain out of the economic doldrums created by the mania for centralized economic planning and autarchy, common to both socialism and fascism.

But, though Spaniards suffer, Franco's foreign policy expressed in his success in keeping Spain out of World War II is popular. Spain is an overwhelmingly isolationist nation. She desperately needs American credits, but the notion that she will pay for them with political or military concessions incompatible with tradition or the national character is not supported by Franco's record. Spain is no more willing now than before to bind herself in general pacts involving firm foreign commitments. She believes she can defend her own pryrnees frontier, and, should an eastern enemy get that far, knows she could count an American aid for reasons of American interest.

In short, Franco's behavior in external affairs has domestic support because it is thoroughly Spanish—and he needs that support. Although Italian and German military intervention greatly contributed to his victory in the Civil War, he did not respond reciprocally in World War II, but made gestures of friendship accompanied by impossible demands on Hitler and Mussolini.

On May 24, in an interview with the London daily mail, he offered Spanish friendship in return for arms, credits—and Gibraltar

It is, therefore, I think, silly to woo Spain at the expense of relations between the existing members of the Atlantic alliance because it will be a frustrated courtship anyhow. Spain, like Kipling's cat, will continue to "walk by himself....waving his wild tail and walking by his wild lone."

"Business Mathematics for Colleges" By L. A. Rice, A.M.—A.C. Boyd, and F. B. Mayne, Ph. D. Southwestern Publishing Co —Dallas.

THIS SELF TEACHER

"Is by the longest odds, one of the most fascinating, original, and best organized books of instruction this column has had the pleasure to review. It was conceived and published primarily for use in our business colleges. But it is more than that: It is a most desirable possession for those people who are unable to attend formal schools for various reasons.

Practically every phase of business requires some knowledge and use of the fundamentals of arithmetic—that is, addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. Obviously, the accountant or the auditor will make more use of these principles than will the office boy, but almost every office worker in business makes some use of them and has need for accurate results.

This book does everything its supposed to do and a lot more; for in addition to providing an explanation of each fundamental principle of arithmetic used in modern business in a simple way, it also goes a long way in helping to rid many people of the fear of mathematocs — which is nothing more or nothing less than the fear of being criticized from the fear of making a mist a ek r t

BOOK

This matmatical whiz - book begins with a grass - roots introduction of itself with the bland assertion that the basis of our modern arithmetic, the Arabic method of notation, employs the ten familiar figures: 1234567890.....et cetera. It then gets down to business and lets it be known, in no uncertain terms, that this book is supposed to be worked at—not looked at. After instructions for doing the work, comes, for example: The mechanics of decimals, mechanics of fractions,credit and interest, computing interest on unpaid balances, personal loans, installment plans, and insurance.

Women readers will probably be interested to know that this book is printed on machine finished (slick) paper, is brown leatherette bound, 240 tight loose leaf 9 x 11 pages, completely illustrated; and has plenty of problem drills under each assignment. Its tops.

TALK OF THE TOWN

BY FRANCES BROOKS

Just signed my check for $3 for a year's subscription to The Children's Digest, this new kid's monthly looking much like Reader's Digest, though printed on "eye-ease" paper of a pale green tint; containing lots of reading for kiddies settling down to the nap hour. Their humorous comic "The Mixed Up Calf" this month moved me to take it....their "funnies" are of a high standard; if you're not ALL adult and stern - minded, you'll catch yourself enjoying a well done story or two!

Incidentally, the poor mixed-up calf had one awful time finding out why she said moo. As she said to her mother, "It doesn't seem to mean a thing." Finally the mixed-up calf discovered why she doesn't say meow or baa, and for solution of that mystery you'll need to read the magazine.

MRS. W. H. LAND, 3701 Dalton Drive, on the eve of her departure from Snyder, gave a bridge party. It restored her spirits and was a wonderful way to say goodbye to friends. ..."You know nobody ever really needs an excuse to give a party," she confided, packing...She received her guests in a green silk shantung frock.

A big "transfer - shakeup" which affects the Humble Oil Camp, has everybody there talking .....the DELMA BAUCUMS will go to Wink Aug. 1, where Mr. Baucum has been transferred with a promotion—as district superintendent ...the DOUG SOLSBERYS and their child leave for Denver City, Tex....A new branch at Stanton caused the fruit-basket-turn-over. The JOHN WATSONS from Odessa are expected here to fill in the Baucum's place with the camp, while the W. J. YOUNGS from Denver City will live in the tidy white monogrammed house Humble built for each of its men...A huge buffet, swim, and dance is planned Friday night at the Country Club, farewell to the Baucum and Solsbery families.

MR. and MRS. OSCAR GOWER, Snyder residents for several months, stopped by their old home, Trailertopia, Lamesa highway, to say hello...they were en route for the Dutch East Indies. Mr. Gower, a tool pusher, being sent there ....they were uncomfortable from shots required and were heading for New York and the final processing for the open seas.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cooper, 3007 Avenue S, went to Colorado City Saturday, and they had as guests Sunday relatives, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Mogford, of Carrizo Springs, Tex.

Mr. and Mrs. Prentis Bass and two children, 3789 Highland Drive, spent the week end visiting relatives in Big Spring.

Dear Jane:

This is it — in just 5 days here at the Baker I have lost 6 pounds taking these marvelous BATHS — and George is like he used to be, happy and relaxed.

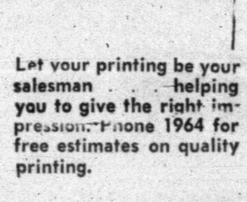

You know I have been worried about him, but no more, a few days at the BAKER frequently will keep him Tip-Top.

Write the Baker today that you and Joe are coming. Rates are reasonable, service good and you will both feel wonderful.

Yours
Sue

Robber Takes Money As Film Guns Blaze

PITTSBURGH, July 23 (AP)—Guns blazed on the screen of the Kenmawr drive-in theater near Pittsburgh Sunday night as the patrons watched "Winchester 73."

But they were unaware that gunplay was figuring in another little drama at the same time. A raincoat-clad man walked up to cashier Dolores Baronti brandished a revolver and fled with $600 in cash.

The public is invited to attend the classes, which will be held weekly. Admission will be 75 cents.

Northeast Texas Area Designated Critical To Nation's Defenses

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—A Northeast Texas area centering around Lone Star and Daingerfield was designated today as a critical defense area.

Chairman Ralph Kaul of the Critical Defense Areas Commission told Rep. Patman (D-Tex) the designation will mean a relaxation of credit restriction for construction of homes for workers living within commuting distance of the iron and steel works at Lone Star.

Patman told a reporter it also would mean granting of priorities for essential building needs in a large area of Northeast Texas.

He said persons living as far away from Lone Star as Longview and Marshall could qualify and submit applications to the housing and home finance agency for credit relief and priorities on materials.
