Sterling And Neff Flayed By Long

OFFICIALS ARE CONDEMNED FOR ATTITUDE ON OIL AND GAS CONSERVATION; PLAYING OF "PETTY POLITICS" IS CHARGED

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 17.—Bitter condemnation of the attitude on oil and gas conservation taken by Governor Ross S. Sterling and Pat M. Neff, member of the railroad commission, was made today on the floor of the house by Representative Long of Wichita Falls. Sterling was charged with listening to representatives of the Humble Oil and Refining company, of which he formerly was president, instead of the people, while Neff was accused of playing "petty politics."

Long made the charges while speaking on point of personal privilege, despite several attempts to interrupt him by other members of the house.

Corrects Statements

"The actions of the Humble Oil and Refining company, Governor Sterling and Pat Neff are reflections on the legislature," Long declared. "I just want to correct a few statements that have been made through the newspapers. I don't think Sterling and Neff know what they are doing when they criticize the railroad commission."

Neff was charged with having made a political issue of the waste of gas in the Reagan county field and with having caused dissension in the railroad commission from the time of his election.

ARGUMENTS ON T.-P. LINE STARTED

CONFLICTING CLAIMS MADE BEFORE ICC AT WASHINGTON

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Texas railroads and civic organizations interested in the porposal of the Texas and Pacific Northern railroad to build 238 miles of new line from Big Spring to Vega, Lubbock and Amarillo today submitted to the interstate commerce commission conflicting arguments on several phases of the project.

The Rock Island railroad company, which operates in that region, asked the commission to refuse the Texas and Pacific Northern authority to construct that portion of the proposed extension which would traverse Oldham and Deaf Smith counties.

A joint association of the cities of Lubbock, Big Spring, Vega and other points to be reached by the line asked for a full approval of the entire project. The Texas and Pacific Northern on its own behalf made the same request.

"It is difficult to overstate the importance of the proposed railroad to the region," the joint brief of the Texas communities said. "It would make railroad facilities available to a greatly enlarged area, and would remedy important shortcomings of present rail service."

While the Rock Island representation asserted there was not sufficient traffic to support the intended new line, the Texas and Pacific Northern, in its own behalf declared that "unless the past history of railroad building in Texas is discarded, the new line will bring with it added developments."

"It is the future rather than the existing traffic," the Texas Pacific Northern said, "that justifies new railroad extensions in this section of Texas."

ALLRED TO PROBE UTILITY CHARGES

AUSTIN, Mar. 17. (AP)—Attorney General James V. Allred today promised Representative Duvall of Fort Worth that he would investigate the alleged existence of utility monopolies in Texas "at the very earliest opportunity."

Duvall has mentioned particularly the Lone Star Gas corporation, which he claimed owned 99 per cent of the stock of the Lone Star Gas company and certain local distributing companies.

"Since taking the oath of office on January 1 of this year, I have had many complaints to the same general effect as those recited," Allred stated. "You will appreciate, however, I am sure, the fact that during the session of the legislature we have been overwhelmed with the many duties imposed upon a new administration.

"Frankly, I have been waiting to see what the legislature would do with the resolutions pending before it calling for a thorough investigation of alleged utility monopolies and providing for the expense of same.

GIRL DIES TO OPEN PROBE

SECOND WITNESS IN NEW YORK VICE QUIZ IS VICTIM

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 17.—The death under mysterious circumstances of a second woman vice graft witness against police was being investigated today.

Miss Lucia Dickens, red-haired dancer who used the name of Georgia Gray, died Saturday night in Bellevue hospital after an illness of four days. Though the cause originally was diagnosed as pneumonia, Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner, ordered a chemical analysis of her organs to determine whether there were traces of poison.

Miss Vivian Gordon, Broadway butterfly, who accused Patrolman Andrew G. McLaughlin of framing her on a vice charge in 1928, was strangled to death Feb. 26 and her slayer still is at large.

Under the name of Violet Smith, Miss Dickens was taken to the hospital from a West 72nd street apartment, allegedly suffering from bruises and other ailments. She was identified by John A. Markey, an attache of the district attorney's office.

As Georgia Gray, she testified in the perjury trial of Patrolman Leigh Halperin, who was acquitted, and was under $1,000 bond to appear against his partner, Daniel Sullivan. The policemen were associates of Harry Gibson, stool pigeon, she said, and had paid him to play the "unknown man" act in entrapping women.

Cattlemen Meeting At Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI, March 17 (AP)—Scores of men who built the Southwest gathered here today for the 55th annual convention of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association.

BLAME LABOR TROUBLE FOR SHOOTING

HUNDRED MEN ATTACK ESCORTS TO PIPE LINE WORKERS

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, March 17.—About 100 men armed with shotguns and revolvers ambushed six guards of the Phillips Pipe Line company today as they drove along a hog haven road to escort laborers to the tanks of the company, and wounded four of the guards in a gun battle.

The attack was attributed to labor troubles as the tanks of the pipeline company are being erected by the Chicago Bridge & Iron company under an "open shop" policy.

Automobiles Appear

As the guards, all special deputy sheriffs, traveling in three automobiles about 100 yards apart, entered a ravine between two railroad embankments, about 25 automobiles appeared from a side road.

"The cars began to circle around us Indian fashion," said Jack Johnson, chief special deputy who was treated for gunshot wounds in the leg. "I stepped out and said, 'don't come any further boys, stay off this road', and then they opened fire. Some of them fired from their cars. Others got behind trees. As our two other cars arrived we all jumped behind them and fired back from behind them. About 400 shots were fired, the shooting lasting about 12 minutes, but those of us who were wounded were shot in the first volley.

"We couldn't tell whether we hit the other men or not. They drove off after an automobile truck appeared."

TO REIMBURSE WEST TEXANS

FAVORABLE REPORT IS GIVEN PLAN TO PAY FARMERS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, March 17. —A group of West Texans returned home today satisfied with the knowledge that the bill to reimburse farmers for pink boll worm extermination expenditures had been given a favorable report by the house appropriations committee.

The committee voted behind closed doors yesterday after a public hearing. The bill would appropriate $500,000 to repay farmers in the area around Big Spring, Midland and Lamesa.

J. S. Blackford of Martin county, who said he was a "dirt farmer," said it cost the farmers of his section $3 a bale to have the seed sterilized and the lint fumigated. He stated the pink boll worm restrictions had caused land prices to slump, mentioning he could not sell his land, plus extensive improvements, for what he gave a few years ago.

Blackford said the farmers considered the $500,000 as a just obligation owed them by the state. He explained the farmers of his section had a mass meeting Saturday night, passed around the hat and "chipped in" enough money to send him to Austin.

GREEN OF OLD IRELAND CONSPICUOUS TODAY—IT'S SAINT PATRICK'S DAY

The green of old Ireland is conspicuous today.

Today is St. Patrick's day and imitation shamrocks and ribbons of green this morning were placed on a scattering of lapels, dresses, and hats to commemorate Ireland's apostle and patron saint. A few shops began displaying the holiday goods Monday.

"You're the first Irishman I've seen today," one son of the Emerald Isle greeted another Monday.

"I'd forgotten — I must get something," he added, half apologetically.

March 17 was set aside as St. Patrick's day because it was believed to have been the date of the death of the monk in 493 at Saul, Downpatrick.

Born in Scotland of Roman parentage, St. Patrick traditionally was "the Irishman who drove the snakes out of Ireland." Whatever his ancestry, he exhibited Hibernian traits.

Might As Well Be Practical When It Comes To Alimony

CHICAGO, March 17 (AP)—A woman might as well be practical when it comes to alimony Mrs. Jennie Ciocarelli believes.

When the question of alimony came up in her divorce suit in which she won a decree from Gaspare Ciocarelli she asked for and got permission from Judge Daniel P. Trude to get $5 worth of meat without charge from her ex-husband every week.

BURGLAR AND REFLECTION SHOOT IT OUT—MIRROR IS SHATTERED

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Mar. 17.—The burglar had just taken $50 from the cash register. Then, gun in hand, he paused to reconnoitre.

It was dark inside the Frank Freiberg Music store here last night and the man of stealth strained his eyes to see.

Suddenly he trembled. Over in a corner he saw the figure of a man, gun in hand, watching him.

Subsequent events happened quickly. Simultaneously the burglar and the figure, facing each other, raised their weapons and fired three shots.

Then the burglar dove through a plate glass window in a frantic effort to escape.

Two policemen arrived just at that moment but the prowler ran too fast for them.

Today the burglar possibly read in the newspapers the reason why those three shots fired point blank hadn't wounded him. He had been shooting at his own reflection in a mirror.

GUARD JAIL AS VIOLENCE IS FEARED

ATTEMPT OF MOB TO CAPTURE NEGRO IS FRUSTRATED

(By The Associated Press)

MARSHALL, March 17. —The Harrison county jail still was under guard today after an attempt was made last night to deal summarily with John Burks, 18, negro attacker of Miss Mary Young, 21, who was accosted Saturday night on her way home from work.

Hamp Little, jailer, was given credit for preventing the prisoner from falling into the hands of a group that sought him late yesterday, when the negro was taken to the Young home for the victim to view him in an attempt to positively identify him.

An attempt was made to take the negro when the automobile bearing him, Little and Deputy Sheriff Ellis Johnson stopped in front of the house. Deputy Johnson covered the group with his pistol and Little drove the negro back to jail.

The negro was charged with assault to murder and attempted criminal assault. Miss Young was slashed on her throat and stabbed on her back. A knife was found near the place where she was attacked. The negro admitted ownership to a similar knife at one time.

SURVIVORS OF SHIP BLAST ON ISLAND

TWENTY-FIVE KNOWN DEAD; NEWS FROM GIRL OPERATOR

(By The Associated Press)

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., March 17—The captain and 117 men of the sealing steamer Viking which exploded and sank off Horse Island Sunday night with the loss of at least 25 lives have reached the island after 24 hours of suffering and misery on the ice floes.

The news came from Miss O. Bartlett, the 18-year-old wireless operator on the island, when communication was re-established early today. Capt. Abraham Kean, jr., told Miss Bartlett that Varick Frissell, young New Yorker who was aboard the Viking to make sound movies of the sealers, and his companions, A. E. Penord, cameraman, and Russell Harry Sargent, explorer, were missing.

Duty Sighted

A dory containing seven men, five of whom appeared to be badly hurt, could be seen at daylight four or five miles off the island shore, making labored efforts to reach the island.

"It is doubtful," wirelessed Miss Bartlett, "if they will succeed."

The Newfoundland government received the following message from the island today:

"Inhabitants of island are lodging rescued men. Many badly injured and sick. Around 25 announced dead. Was speaking captain 10 o'clock last night. In very weak condition. He stated engine staff, operator, navigator, cook, steward, movie men, bo'sun are missing. Mate on ice, leg broken. One hundred and eighteen landed safely. Absence of medical aid severely felt."

MURDER TRIAL WELL UNDER WAY HERE

PREMEDITATED ACT TO BE STATE'S CLAIM IN HEARING

With the state presenting testimony tending to show that the shooting of Horace L. Smith on January 11 was premeditated and the defense counsel building up a self defense plea on the statements of the first witness, the trial of Alvis Graves, charged with murder, was well under way before Judge Homer L. Pharr in 72nd district court at noon today.

Four witnesses were called to the stand in the morning session, the fourth one, Mrs. Willie Smith, widow of the slain man, awaiting cross examination as the court convened at one o'clock for the afternoon session.

Graves' attorneys entered a plea of not guilty as the case opened shortly after 9 o'clock before a crowded courtroom. Bailiffs were forced to turn people out of the room, no standing being allowed.

Harper First Witness

Dave Harper, resident of Hale county, was the first witness called in the trial. He stated that he was a guest at the dance at the home of E. D. Chadwick, 2107 8th street, and was a witness to the shooting. He described various incidents leading up to the shooting, stating that Graves appeared at the dance at about 11:15, entered the house, spoke a few words to Mrs. Smith and then walked out of the house, slamming the screen door on his (Harper's) arm as he left. Later Graves returned to the front door, Harper testified, and asked for a match. He a cigaret and stood in the door for several moments.

Harper, testifying very indefinitely, told of Smith's appearance in the door later and of a presumable argument between the two men who later were joined by Robert Averett who apparently took Smith's side in the affair. He said Smith and Averett were following Graves as he backed off of the porch when Graves reached for his gun and began shooting. On cross-examination, the defense endeavor-

GANDHI HISSED BY AUDIENCE

NATIONALIST LEADER HEARS JEERS AND HISSES MONDAY

(By The Associated Press)

BOMBAY, India, March 17. —Mahatma Gandhi, accustomed to adulation and worship and commanding the respect even of his British antagonists, last night heard jeers, hoots, hisses and catcalls from a labor audience which he was about to address.

Communists taunted him with failure to provide for release of labor agitators in his truce with Lord Irwin which led to abandonment of the civil disobedience campaign and charged him with betraying the workers.

"Down with Gandhi," they shouted. "Down with the national congress, down with British imperialism."

They tore down the nationalist flag on the platform where Gandhi sat, amazed and bewildered, and replaced it with a flaming red banner. Nationalists volunteers fought with the communists for a few minutes and replaced the red flag with the nationalist emblem.

Gandhi then pleaded he had done his best for the labor agitators and that what he had been able to do depended on the extent to which they had been aligned with the movement for independence.

Ring in the soft water!

Good news! Water need no longer be hard, even in this hard-water country. Scum need no longer form in the bathtub! Dirty rings need no longer be scrubbed from tubs, dishpans or washbasins!

Use Mel'o to soften hard water! It prevents the forming of the dirty ring. It makes water delightfully soft. It saves from ⅓ to ½ the amount of soap ordinarily used. It makes soap much more effective. With or without soap, water softened with Mel'o is a wonderful cleaner. Get it at your grocer's.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

WELFARE OF CHILDREN

"Dr. Myers: Will you please help me decide this question?

"My neighbor downstairs has taught her little girl, two and a half years old, to pick out the spades, clubs, etc., from a deck of cards, and is now planning to teach her the numbers on the cards. Also the A, B. C's.

"My husband thinks that I am neglecting our four-year-old because she can't do any of the above things, although she can dress herself, set the table and answer the telephone, among other things, without my ever having had to spend hours teaching her.

"We have had a few 'sessions' wherein we have tried to have her memorize 'Mary Had a Little Lamb' but the only result was a 'strain on the family tie' and, of course, a bad effect on the child.

"I believe that a child of preschool age should not be taught any of the subjects taught in school. What should a child be taught at home before going to school?

"Am I right or wrong in not teaching my little girl poems, to count, A, B, C's, etc.?"

Answer: You are right. I wish I could see your husband; I think I could persuade him not to be disturbed concerning what others do with their children, but to think alone of his own child's welfare.

We have three children, the youngest of whom is now eight. We never attempted to teach them anything of a formal sort, but to develop in them independence and lots of play, reading a great deal to them. They just naturally picked up a good many things from pleasure.

I can think of nothing more unjust to the little child than to burden him with formal lessons. The reason most parents do it is to compete with other parents in showing off their children. Of course, we are all just human beings.

Another mother writes of the creation of her child of four who had learned the song:

"Come, butter come, come butter, come,
Johnny's at the garden gate
Waiting for the butter cake,
Come, butter come."

After talking about Christmas and toys she wanted, this child sang to the melody of the foregoing song:

"Come, toys, come, come, toys, come,
Christmas time is coming,
Christmas time is coming,
Come, toys, come, come, toys, come."

I wish we might have many more samples of such creations by young children.

Longer Bob Takes A Bow; Ribbons And Old-Fashioned Curls Are Back

Chic coiffures for the very young tell a story of new hair-ribbons and how they are worn on longer hair, as it now is grown. (Left to right) For the little girl with very thick, straight hair, a center part, with small ribbon bows over each ear. For the wistful little girl with fine eyes, a good brow or a cute little cowlick, the hair can be pulled back, tied with a big bow atop the crown and all the hair hang down her back. For a child with irregular features, part on the less-good side and secure with a huge bow of decorative ribbon. For the little curly head or for parties for others, a ribbon under the hair and tied on top is cute and ingenue looking. The bandeau hair ribbon keeps the hair back and is an ornamental touch to any little face.

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, March 10—The littlest Miss Americas are growing quite as feminine, in their small ways, as their long-haired, long-skirted Mammas.

Chic coiffures for children, as sponsored by the smartest shops catering to wee girls under 12, show that bobs are grown long enough to reach the shoulder many a youngster now has curls made around Mamma's finger in the good old-fashioned manner, and hair ribbons bloom atop the smartest heads this spring.

The Dutch bob belongs to the last decade, pert bangs are backed by a hair ribbon and made to look demure, and no head looks quite 1931 that doesn't grow its hair at least below the face line, and the newest, smartest cuts are really long hair, cascading around the shoulders.

Ribbon Determines Hair-cut

Just how to wear the hair ribbon is, it would appear, the crux of this thing called style in hair-dressing the young. For of course the way you put the ribbon on, and the kind of ribbon the child wears, determines how the hair is cut. Moreover, there is a subtle distinction in hair ribbons for dress and hair ribbons for play days. Nothing is dressier than the all black velvet or shiny black satin in bandeau effect with a jaunty bow on top and bangs on the forehead. Plaids, polka dots, Roman stripes and gaily colored monotone ribbons are the usual every-day styles. For parties little Miss Milady may match up her slippers in a pastel satin taffeta ribbon, or wear a dainty Dresden flowered one. The ribbons proclaim to the world that from now on, from the head down, little Americans are to be ladies, dainty ladies, not Tomboys or hoydens! Not that a good hair ribbon ever kept a good tree climber out of the highest branches—but certainly what the young will wear this spring indicates that they are supposed to deport themselves like ladies.

Among the new ways to do young girls hair comes the coiffure that parts down the middle and catches each side with a small, tailored type of bow over each ear. This is fine for thick hair that is difficult to keep fixed. The bows can be tied tight enough to hold the hair in place.

Second comes the old-fashioned little girl's type of coiffure that pulls the hair back from the forehead, runs the front part through a ribbon bow atop the crown of the head and then lets it all fall onto the shoulder. This is excellent for straight hair and for a child that has lovely eyes and a pretty brow, for it accents the features to draw the hair straight back from the brow. It is especially pretty if there is a cowlick at one side of the front.

Chic Via Single Ribbon

For the little minx who wears her hair best parted on the side, and if a child's features are at all irregular the chances are that a side part is more becoming, there is the one-hair-ribbon coiffure. This holds the hair in place on the opposite side from the part. If the child has an unmanageable cowlick, this is a good place to part it.

When a child has curly hair, by all means it should be allowed to curl, with only a ribbon drawn up underneath the curls in the back, and tied on top of the head to hold the curls out of her little eyes. This is a good dress-up coiffure for many children. Try it on a plain child, with straight, rather unattractive hair, and it often softens the face to have the little bangs and certainly the bow atop the crown is flattering.

Last, but not least, is the quaint little halo bandeau hair-ribbon style of coiffure that parts the hair down the middle behind the bangs and brushes it carefully, then makes a bandeau of gay ribbon, tying it on one side. Often this is fastened under the hair in the back and no bow at all shows. This is a coiffure that gives a child the most innocent look in the world.

The variety of ribbons to be had this year and the infinite numbers of different coiffures to be worked out suggest that no little American child should be unattractive. It merely is a matter of experimenting until the perfect child's coiffure is found.

It is highly absorbent (5 times more by test than surgical cotton). It is guaranteed to give more protection, longer protection than any other sanitary pad.

Kotex is treated to deodorize. It is soft—not merely a surface softness but a delicate, lasting softness. It is adjustable, because of the layer construction of its absorbent filler, so that you can change its size to suit your changing needs. It may (and this is important) be worn on either side with equal efficiency.

HOOVER PLANS ADDRESSES

EXECUTIVE TO VISIT FOUR STATES IN EARLY SUMMER

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—President Hoover will journey to four states during the early summer to deliver addresses, and may take a vacation trip into the far west later.

Plans for the president's speaking engagements, announced at the White House, also called for four addresses at the capital.

On Memorial Program

The first speech outside Washington will be a Memorial day address May 30 at Valley Forge, Pa., where George Washington and his troops spent a winter of hardship during the Revolutionary war.

A trip into the midwest will be made in June. President Hoover will address the Indiana Republican Editorial association June 15 and on consecutive days will dedicate the memorial to Warren G. Harding at Marion, Ohio, and the Lincoln tomb at Springfield, Ill.

The chief executive also will review an encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Columbus, Ohio, June 16.

Speeches in Washington will be before the annual meeting of the American Red Cross, April 13, the Pan American Union, April 15, the International Chamber of Commerce May 4 and a convention celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Red Cross May 21.

May Go West

In addition, Mr. Hoover may go west late in the summer on a short vacation trip, stopping at several national parks for fishing and visiting his home at Palo Alto, California.

Two of the president's proposed addresses are considered of considerable importance in official circles. The speech before the Indiana Editorial association is regarded as of political significance. He is expected to review the work of his administration.

Business conditions both domestic and international, will be discussed before the chamber of commerce.

The first industrial exposition, in which all nations of the world participated, was held in London from May-1 to October 1, 1851.

"CIVIL WAR" TO FACE SPUDDERS

WICHITA FALLS, March 17. —(AP)—"Civil War" is to be an almost daily feature of the Spudders' training campaign, it was announced today by Manager Carl Williams after his youngsters had hustled through a five inning skirmish Sunday as the first intra-squad game of the year. The Spudders have only five exhibition games on their schedule, the latest having been booked for April 12 with the House of David team, and Williams believes actual competition the one best method of bringing out the good and the bad in his talent.

New arrivals in camp this morning included Outfielder Morris Badgro and infielders Joe Hassler and Art Scharein.

The oldest company in the world is said to be that which owns the Falum mine in Sweden. This mine has been working for 700 years without a break and has never changed hands.

MOTHER ADVISED TAKING CARDUI

Lady Who Had Been In Bad Health Took Cardui And Was Benefited.

Birmingham, Ala.—When in a run-down condition of health some time ago, Mrs. W. F. Siveley, 5412 Seventh Avenue, South, this city, took Cardui, with the resulting benefit which she describes below.

"About a year ago, my health was not good," writes Mrs. Siveley. "I felt weak and tired, and had pains in my back. I lost weight.

"I knew by these symptoms I needed something to build me up. My mother advised me to try Cardui, which I did. I found it was what I needed, for it built me up. The pain in my back stopped, and I felt better and stronger than I had in some time.

"I took about seven bottles of Cardui in all, and now I am feeling just fine, and have been since taking Cardui."

Thousands of other women have written to say that Cardui has proved of valuable assistance to them in building up their health.

Cardui is a purely vegetable medicinal compound, and contains nothing harmful or injurious. B-417

Like Steel—the best Gasoline is Blended

IN the roaring inferno of the furnace, many elements blend into varying grades of steel. Iron, manganese, silicon, carbon, all join to produce a steel to suit a purpose.

In making gasoline, too, blending is necessary to produce a fuel to fit your motor. No one grade of unblended gasoline possesses a wide enough range of qualities to stand alone.

So CONOCO blends three types into a perfectly-proportioned whole ... Natural Gasoline, for quick starting ... Straight-run Gasoline, for surging power and long mileage qualities ... Cracked Gasoline, to contribute anti-knock properties.

True, any refiner could do this. Just as any amateur can blend the same elements found in secret formulæ for making steel. But in the oil industry, as in the steel business, there always are headliners ... a select few whose products are eminently better.

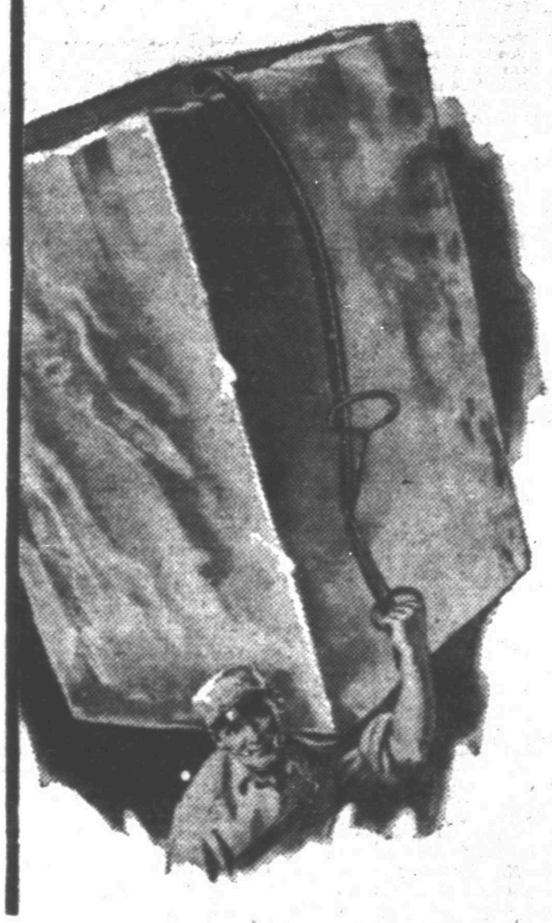

CONOCO is definitely a member of this group in the refining of gasoline ... because CONOCO has men who know how. And it's all in knowing how!

We pride ourselves on this balanced-blend triple-test gasoline. Won't you try it today? Just ask for CONOCO ... wherever you see the CONOCO Red Triangle.

Thought For Today

A blessing if ye obey the commandments of the Lord God, which I command you this day.—Deuteronomy 11:27.

I would rather obey than work miracles.—Luther.

Cruelty Of Youth

The helpless tragedies of youth are things we can all understand, since all of us have lived through them, in one form or another. What we often overlook is the cruelty which youth frequently exercises on its own members.

The suicide of little Benita Bischoff in New Jersey the other day emphasizes the existence of this cruelty.

Benita, who was 16, was the daughter of the Vivian Gordon who was murdered after she had prepared to give evidence in the New York, "ice ring" investigation.

Circumstances of the murder, and the facts regarding the woman's life which were brought out subsequent to it, were rather unsavory. The name Vivian Gordon was blazoned over newspaper front pages. Little Benita Bischoff was mentioned frequently. Naturally, the child found herself in an unenviable position.

Probably she would have been able to live through it if it had not been for the attitude of her schoolmates. They took pains not to let her forget that her mother had not been all she might have been. They taunted her, made cutting remarks where she could overhear them, did malicious little things to remind her of her tragedy. So, unable to endure it, she killed herself.

Youth, as it happens, can be cruel as grown-ups. It has its own sorrows and disappointments—and how black they can seem, in the early 'teens!—but it has not had time yet to digest them and through them to learn how to be considerate and tolerant. It inflicts torture thoughtlessly and effectively. It is hard for an adult even to imagine what little Benita Bischoff must have suffered.

Much of this is due to youth's immaturity. But that is not all of it. Youth reflects the adult world in which it lives. It takes its cue from the grown-ups with whom it is in daily contact. And probably it was this fact that cause most of Benita's torture.

The adult world does not go out of its way to jibe at an unfortunate girl. It does not need to. It callously makes her the central figure of a nine-days' scandal. It puts her up on a stage where no one can miss seeing her and turns on the spot light. It finds in the whole shoddy "vice ring" situation not so much a spur to righteous indignation as a pleasing new sensation.

So the grown-up world need not be surprised if youth turned on Vivian Gordon's daughter and put her in the pillory. It was the adults who set the stage and provided the incentive.

Submarine

For 20 years submarines in the United States navy have been identified by numbers and letters which were to most of us meaningless and unintelligible. Now the navy has decided to rechristen them with deep sea titles such as Bonita, Bass, Barracuda.

The wonder of it is that this happy idea had not been thought of years before. Submarines had no more personality than a telephone number or automobile license plate. And yet there was no valid reason why they could not have been as properly addressed as the battleships.

If a submarine instead of the Maine had been blown up in Santiago harbor, it is unlikely an expression like "Remember the V-6700" would long have survived in American history. Figures are so easy to forget.

Would it be appropriate, asks the office sage, to call a rasslin match a "joint" debate?

This globe of ours, say scientists, is over two billion years old. They could tell just by looking at the face of the earth.

Lots of men of few words often say a mouthful.

Personal nomination for one of the most obliging men in the world: E. Kancher, of the Santa Fe.

A TECH student told his roommate that he planned to ask one of the co-eds to marry him and the room-mate waited up to get the results. The disillusioned swain told his story in the following rhyme:

"She knew that I knew
That her father was dead.
She knew that I knew
What a life he had led.
She knew that I knew
What she meant when she said:
'Go ask father!'"

TODAY being St. Patricks Day. The Plainsman is in more or less of a good humor. The Irish, God bless 'em, are wonderful people—which in this instance is just another way of shouting 'hooray for our side!'

But to properly mark St. Patrick's Day, there should be something Irish in this column—so here it is:

In yesterday's column The Plainsman told of a Breckenridge man's having been tried and found guilty three times on a charge of murder. One trial was held in Breckenridge, one at Albany and the other at Baird and the paragraph was summed up by "his attorneys are probably looking for another legal loophole."

For your information, we have since learned that the defendent's lawyers are asking for a new trial—probably because the judge wore a green necktie in violation of Statute 1777. Hey, hey—what a swell situation.

THE PLAINSMAN is getting athletic. Stomach and all, he went out last night to practice volley ball and found out that for a fat, baldheaded fellow nearing forty volley ball is just about as much exercise as is advisable.

After years of strenuous sport in the far-off days of his youth, The Plainsman thought volley ball would be about as strenuous and as interesting as bean bag. But you folks that think you can still step around like you did at twenty are just kidding yourselves. You can't do it, that's all.

We Americans use good judgment in almost anything. In business we're a nation of go-getters. But we don't use good judgement when we spend our days humped over a desk, swilling rich food at mealtime and laying around the house at night on any available sofa.

We conserve our money, our resources—but we forget about the most valuable heritage any man or woman may have — a strong, healthy body.

We should have better sense but most of us don't exercise it.

THE trouble with this country is that we've forgotten how to play. We begrudge time necessary to exercise and as a result we grow old far ahead of our years.

More of us need to run, to jump to play golf, volley ball, baseball and what-have-you. We'd collect dividends in health in the long run.

Speaking of golf, Lubbock did a good job in getting the tournament of the West Texas Golf association in 1931. The links stars will be with us the last of May—principally because our neighbors hung with Lubbock and put the deal across.

E. T. Daniels, of Idalou, the grand old man of the WTGA, and Charlie Qualls, of Post, an ex-champion, are the fellows who did the heavy end of the job for Lubbock. Without them the tournament would have gone to Wichita Falls.

IT IS impossible to place enough stress on the fact that Lubbock's neighbors often times deserve a large slice of credit in helping this city secure conventions and meetings of all kinds. And, what makes it more interesting, they seem to get a 'kick out of it'.

Convention after convention has been secured for Lubbock through the unselfish aid of neighbors. We shouldn't forget it when their time rolls around.

The Plainsman has been given credit for playing a leading role in securing the Associated Press conference and the West Texas Press association convention. As a matter of fact, residents of nearby places—Max Bentley, of Abilene, Herb Hilburn of Plainview, Eddie Warren, of Post, Jimmie Smith, of Snyder, and T. E. Roderick, of Slaton—pulled both the deals out of the fire when it began to look like Lubbock wasn't going to get to first base.

If this is true in golf and in newspaper circles it is probably true in other lines. If we could get an accurate check, our friends are probably responsible for many of the numerous conventions which have we[illegible] meet in Lubbock. Those fr[illegible] should get the credit for what they're doing, every time we get a chance to give it to them.

Democrats' New Financing Plan Unique; Party To Seek To Obtain $6,000,000 By Modern Methods Of New Agency

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, March 16. — When Democrats fight among themselves, there's nothing especially new about that, but their national committee at its recent meeting adopted a financing plan which is unique in politics.

The party will undertake to raise $6,000,000 by the modern methods of fund-raising technique, on the recommendatio n of and under the supervision of a commercial fund-raising agency, such as is used in big drives for churches, hospitals, universities and similar institutions.

The plan, endorsed by Chairman John J. Raskob — who has been financing the party — and adopted unanimously by the committee, was prepared by the John Price Jones Corporation of New York.

It is estimated that the party first needs $625,000 to pay its deficit, then $375,000 for pre-convention expenses through national headquarters, $500,000 on hand for preliminary campaign needs and $4,500,000 more to take it through the 1932 presidential campaign.

Big Drive This Fall

Quiet solicitation of good-sized individual gifts to pay off the deficit will soon begin, but the big general campaign for funds is scheduled to begin in the fall—the time, according to John Price Jones, when people are "accustomed to make political gifts."

Personal solicitation will be made by people within the party and the plan estimates that with each worker covering 10 prospects the first $1,500,000 raised would need about 18,750 workers and the balance of $4,500,000 would require 56,250 workers. To raise the $6,000,000 it sets an estimate of 748 "preferred prospects" who might give $25,000 or more, of whom it estimates that 144 will actually contribute. And so on. The total number of "prospects" for solicitation is placed at 750,000; the number of givers among them at 150,000, with about 750 of the "givers" scheduled to kick in with $1000 or more.

Plan "Victory" Slogans

The plan suggests slogans such as "Prepare for Victory!" "For Victory in 1932—Prepare Now!" and "The 1932 Preparedness Fund" or "The 1932 Victory Fund." Likewise, the title "Supporting Member of the Democratic Party" with little buttons bearing that inscription, the date 1931-32 and a party emblem—bronze buttons for contributors of $100 and under, silver buttons from $100 to $1000 and gold buttons for more than $1000.

Headquarters of the big drive will be in New York City. The organization plan calls for preparation of lists of prospects, wide publicity, selection and training of leaders and workers and supervision of canvassing to see that all prospects are visited and solicited.

Raskob and Executive Chairman Jouett Shouse will be in supreme command, operating with a finance committee and a finance chairman who will be spokesman for the drive. The plan proposes a temporary committee to be organized immediately to raise initial gifts and a careful search for 12 men who would pledge to give or raise $50,000 each for underwriting the deficit. And there is a large further national program involving a committee on lists and quotas, committee on special large gifts, business men's committee, general canvass committee, publicity committee and headquarters operation, as well as state finance directors, leaders in counties, wards and precincts, state operating units and so on.

Cite Large Expenditures

More than 200 party leaders were interviewed during formulation of the plan and here are some excerpts from the corporation's report to the national committee:

". . . after the elections of 1924 and 1926, it became apparent that the public was not to be aroused in protest against large gifts." In 1926 the political parties spent nearly $20,000,000 through national and state organizations and $10,000,000 more is spent by states to set up primary and general election machinery in presidential years. That's less than one-fifth of one per cent of the four-year cost of the national government which is managed by the party elected and represents less than 50 cents per eligible voter. The number of eligible voters to whom the parties appeal increases by about 3,500,000 in the four years between elections.

"Contributions are made to political funds for a variety of reasons, among which the first is party regularity. A restricted few give out of devotion to party principles. The majority will give through interest in issues of candidates. A special group of the wealthy and ambitious respond from a desire for later recognition. Another special group will give to protect or promote some selfish interest. All classes of givers are moved by a desire to participate in a movement, particularly when it promises to be successful. And many are also moved by prejudice, emotional bias, and desire for change."

DIET IMPORTANT IN KIDNEY TROUBLE

It is often surprising how much can be accomplished for what seems a serious amount of kidney degeneration. I have in mind a patient who is the ideal patient for a doctor because she does just what she is told. She has a strong will and limits herself to the amount and kind of food she is told to eat, never breaking over. The consequence is that whereas ten years ago her blood showed large amounts of nitrogen waste products were being retained, she has lived in complete comfort and is today, so far as the blood chemistry is concerned, better off than she was at the beginning of treatment.

Dr. Clendening

When Richard Bright in 1829 published his observations on kidney disease and furnished us with the name Bright's disease, he considered that the disease was strictly confined to the kidneys. His greatest interest was in the examination of urine, and he demonstrated the abnormal element albumin in it by boiling urine in a pewter spoon over a candle. Since his day the conception of Bright's disease has enlarged. It now is considered a disease of all the arteries of the body, though perhaps especially the blood vessels of the kidney. The entire body—the blood pressure and the heart—are involved, and treatment must take all these parts into account, and not concentrate on the kidneys alone.

Proper rest, therefore, moderate and not tiring exercise, baths judiciously planned as to temperature and duration, as well as diet, are parts of the treatment. Diet, however, is the crux of the matter. In these cases the kidney is unable to throw off its regular quota of the nitrogen waste products and they accumulate in the blood. Being abnormal symptoms. The logical thing to do is to reduce these substances in the diet. The nitrogen waste products are urea, uric acid, creatin, creatinine and ammonia. They arise from the protein foods. Some of them, such as creatin, arise from the body's own muscle tissue. So it is the protein in the diet which must be reduced.

In balancing the nephritic diet, however, it should be remembered that the proteins must not be cut down too low. If they are, the body will break down its own protein. The energy value of the diet must, therefore, be kept high. Furthermore, whenever nitrogen retention is established the kidney is also likely to be deficient in the elimination of acid. So acidosis occurs and must be combatted with fruits and alkalis.

A type of moderately low protein diet suitable for nitrogen retention is as follows:

Protein, 25 Grams

Grapefruit or oranges, peaches, strawberries, cooked wheat, cereal or corn flakes, bread, butter, cream vegetables of 5 per cent group or 10 per cent group, sugar, rice, potatoes, canned peaches or pears.

In Barbary With Gilbert Swan

SWAN

En route to Gibraltar —More scattered notes from a wanderer's diary:

I have avoided, in so far as possible, following guide book trails or covering material that can be found in Baedeker. But in falling back on my own adventures and impressions I now begin to wonder if I have been completely fair about certain places and scenes.

I'm just a bit worried, for instance, about impressions I may have left about Biskra. After all, "the Garden of Allah" is but one small corner of this exotic town and while the Hichens influence upon the tourists and guides is amusing, at the same time all the Hichens novels ever written could not vitally affect what has happened over the centuries.

For Biskra remains fundamentally Biskra, where the great desert begins. And the pilgrims and traders from the vast sea of sand come pouring in with their cargoes of golden dates . . with its seven little oasis villages that they call "old Biskra" . . with its dusty whiteness reflecting the desert . . . with its endless caravans . . .

And there were those other pilgrims . . . the holy men and pious ones, traveling days on end to the shrines of Moulai Idriss and Moulai Ismael. . . .

There were the lovely miles of olive trees along the highways . . the carob trees and the Barbary figs . . . the glamorous color of desert tribes, camping out in the midst of nowhere in little cities of stretched leather. . . .

The peeps at Moorish homes, with their radiant tilings and mosaics hidden in dingy half-light, wherein whole families squatted upon the floors at their various tasks. . . .

The "perfect home" which the Chamber of Commerce of Fez describes—oh, yes, there's a booster organization even there—and which at night is a vivid dream of gardens and fountains and lanterns and art work of another day. . . .

And the chaos of bazaars in Fez . . . the great mosque there, where 20,000 worshippers can gather and where nearly 300 dazzling columns make a prismatic forest . . . with 14 vast doorways through which the unbeliever's eye can now peer. . . .

There was the haunting sense of timelessness in the faces of those devout ones who appeared fairly lifted from the Bible days into the present . . . the endless assortment of types and peoples. . . . The picturesque kleidoscope of colored turbans and burnooses as pilgrims gathered in long lines to kiss the walls they believe to be sacred.

Sitting comfortable over a glass of ale, looking across a lovely alley, to the crumbling ruins of Meknes, it's almost impossible to forget the tens of thousands of Christian slaves who put their lives into its building.

Here we sit idly, comfortably in lounging chairs, with every comfort at our very elbows—and just across the valley is this memorial to those who built it with their blood. . . . The notebook says that 2,500 Christian slaves would be chained at one time in the dungeons of the ruthless ruler, to be called upon when another fell dead from the labors.

There were the school children in darkened attics, chanting at the top of their voices as they learned the lines of the Koran.

And, to me, the most fascinating of all—Marrakech— the truest of Moorish cities; a veritable capital of all sensuousness and color—a center of movement and entertainment and color that has no duplicate or parellel.

Pilsudski, president of Poland, refuses to have a female domestic servant in his home. A self-maid man, apparently.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The man who ran the creamery looked up and said, "Well, goodness me! So you lads want a bit of cheese! Come on, we'll look around. I think perhaps I'll grant your wish and furnish you each with a dish." He led them to a great big room where cheese galore was found.

The next thing that the Tinies knew, the man said, "We have crackers, too. They're in a box upon the shelf. Take all that you can eat. I'll get some milk that you can drink and that will be enough, I thihk." "You bet it will," cried Scouty. "You are giving us a treat."

When they had finished they looked 'round and in a room nearby they found a man who churned fine butter. Little Coppy shouted. "Gee! Please let me churn it for a while." "Why, sure," the man said, with a smile. When Coppy finished with that batch, 'twas rich as it could be.

In 'bout an hour they left the place and promptly all joined in a race back to their truck. When once aboard, they chugged on down the road. The Travel Man announced that they were going to board a boat today. "We'll hurry to the docks," said he, "and watch a big ship load."

They reached the boat and then found out what loading ships was all about. Wee Clowny said, "Are we to leave our good old truck behind?" "Of course not," said the Travel Man. "They'll load it quickly as they can. The way they lift machines on board is quite a stunt, you'll find."

And then a group of men began to tie the truck with ropes that ran up to a hoist upon the ship. Then Clowny said, "I pray that we don't get a sudden scare when our truck's way up in the air. I'd hate to see the big ropes break when it is on its way."

The Tinymites reach Bombay in the next story).

ARTIST COURSE ON FRIDAY

BRAHMS QUARTET TO BE AT COLLEGE THIS WEEK

As the fourth number of the Texas Technological college artist course, the Brahms quaret will be presented at the Tech gymnasium Friday night at 8:15 o'clock. Only one other number remains on the 1930-31 bill. Dumsnail, the famous French pianist, will present the final number in the gym on April 16.

Composed of Lari Banks and Nadine Cox, sopranos, and Lydia Summers and Elinor Markey, contraltos, special numbers will be rendered by the four lady singers. Special folk music of Italy, France, Scotland, England and America will be presented.

Organized In 1916

It was in 1916 that the Brahms quartet was organized by four young women. The women organized a quartet and because Johannes Brahms, the composer, was especially noted for the songs he wrote for women's voices, the four called themselves the Brahms quartet. Carrying out the spirit of its historical purpose, the four singers wear costumes of 1860 while in concert. It was in 1861 that Brahms was active in writing his famous compositions for women.

For 14 years the quartet has existed and has now become a national institution in the musical world. Tickets may be obtained from Professor W. R. Waghorne, head of the Tech music department, for the final two performances.

Two Men Are Held On Liquor Charges

Charges of possession and transportation of liquor were filed against Frank Cornell and R. W. Crowder Monday in the court of Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter.

Cornell and Crowder were arrested by policemen Grady Harrist and Baxter Honey at about 7 p. m. Sunday in the 1300 block on Nineteenth street. The two suspects are in the city jail.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

SHAWNEE, Okla., Mar. 17. (AP)—Floyd Dobb, 19, has been charged with murder for the shooting of George Stahel, 40, at Earlsboro. Stahel's alleged abuse of his wife, who was Dobb's sister, led to the shooting, Dobb told officers.

Gray County Cattle Dying Of Disease

PAMPA, March 17. (AP) — Cattle in Gray county and vicinity are dying by the scores from what veterinarians describe as hemorrhagic septicemia, a disease identified by the loss of muscular and nerve control.

Cattlemen and dairy owners in this territory have been warned to vaccinate to prevent the spread of the disease. Both range and dairy cattle have been victims. The disease is said to be common in the southwest.

Full Hearing Asked In Oil Controversy

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—Cicero Murray, chairman of the oil states advisory committee, in a telegram to Secretary Wilbur, Monday appealed to Federal Oil Conservation board for a full hearing of the oil world's problems around March 30.

The potato figured on the bill of fare of the American Indian centuries before the rest of the world saw it.

This
Man's life was saved
by a Long Distance call
that went through fast

"Emergency!" a voice shouted. "Get Raymond Ditmars, quick . . . New York, Fordham 5560!"

Molly Malone, long distance operator, did not know the speaker was George Vierheller, Director of the St. Louis Zoo. She did not know that nine minutes earlier Marlin Perkins, curator of reptiles, had been bitten by a deadly Gaboon viper.

She did not know that Ditmars, curator of reptiles at the New York Zoo, is one of the few authorities on the treatment of American snake bites.

All she knew was that it was an emergency!

"I'll do my best," said Molly. "Hold the line."

In New York, three or four minutes later, Ditmars lifted his telephone receiver.

"Perkins has been bitten by a Gaboon viper," he heard Vierheller say. "We have injected serum. We want to know how far we can go—what kinds of serum to use, how much, and at what intervals."

Concisely, Ditmars gave directions—the sure, definite directions of the expert.

"It's serious," he concluded, "but you must pull him through."

Perkins did pull through*. . . Today he is back at work in his laboratory. Scars, marking the incisions in his left arm, are the only evidence of his ordeal.

On ordinary calls, long distance is just as speedy, just as dependable. If you give the number of the telephone you are calling, in most cases you will be connected while you hold the line. It's like telephoning across the street.

And you can talk 100 miles for 60 cents.

*Dr. Ernest H. Staley, St. Louis authority on snake poisons, took charge after emergency treatment was given, suffered twelve cuts by fangs with Ditmars — pulled Perkins through. — Six Bulletin of Anti-Venin Institute of America, Vol. III, No. 2, July, 1929.

VETO CAPITAL PUNISHMENT

KANSAS GOVERNOR IS AGAINST DEATH IN ELECTRIC CHAIR

TOPEKA, Kas., March 17. (AP)—Restoration of capital punishment in Kansas for first degree murder and robbery with firearms was vetoed Saturday by Governor Harry Woodring.

The executive disapproved bills passed by the legislature with heavy majorities making the two offenses punishable by death in the electric chair as an alternative to prison sentences.

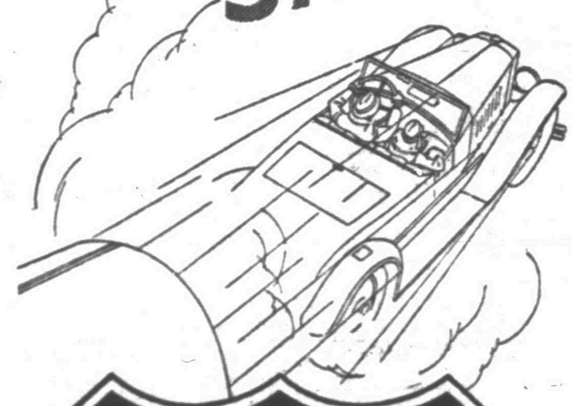

"We should not remove the state of Kansas from the roll of enlightened states which have abolished legalized murder," he said.

The action of the governor, former state commander of the American Legion and banker, killed the legislation as most of the lawmakers had returned to their homes after the recess early today of the biennial session.

Although approved by more than two-thirds of the members of the legislature, Woodring said he was convinced public sentiment was "overwhelmingly against the bills."

The state of Kansas has not imposed the death penalty since 1870, although the capital punishment, except for treason, was not abolished until 1907.

TECH INTRAMURAL SCHEDULE IS ANNOUNCED HERE

SPYING ON SPORTS

Again you gotta hand it to Lubbock, to Lubbock business men and to the Lubbock Country club officials and members. They all got together last Sunday and convinced the moguls of the West Texas Golfers association that Lubbock was the logical place to hold the annual championship tournament of the organization. They took the big boys out and let them play the course, filled them full of sweet meats et certa and with a toast to better golf and less bunkers obtained a majority vote and the good will of the visiting executives.

It's a big thing, this West Texas tournament, for all concerned and especially for Lubbock. Between three and four hundred out of town visitors will be here May 21 to 24. Hotel Lubbock will be the headquarters, thanks to dear old Shef Sheffield, but the town will be full of frantic fiends of the links. This department extends a personal greeting to the golfers who will be here and regards to the men who made it possible.

Now if Lubbock can produce a golfer who can win the tournament everything will be hunky dory, or words to that effect. Clint Bussey, playing under Lubbock Country colors in 1929, won the championship but went out in the prelims last year at Brownwood. By the way, where is Clint? It is rumored that he has not appeared on a local course for some time and the boys out at Country Club way are getting bothered. He should be getting into trim for the tournament. When he's good he's very, very good, and when he is bad we'll all be surprised.

There's been quite a bit of news about different A. A. U. contests lately, state and national. A. A. U. means Amateur Athletic Union, for your information, and not Ancient and Amalgamated Underwear.

Comes a letter from M. O. Bridges, secretary-treasurer of the Tahoka baseball club. It is the first to arrive following our invitation for letters pertaining to the South Plains baseball plans for the season. It runs thusly:

Dear Parris: I have just read your column in the Journal concerning the possibilities of a South Plains baseball league this year, and want to say that we (the Tahoka baseball club) are very anxious for this and are glad of the initiative that you are taking in arousing interest. We only hope that, using your column as a medium, a South Plains loop will be forthcoming. I would suggest that all towns being interested in this write you, and let's get together and have a meeting some night and fix everything up. We are of the opinion that a four club league would beat nothing at all, and we are anxious to organize."

Thanks, Mr. Bridges. Nothing at this particular time, would delight this column more than to see the South Plains go baseball. For some reason or other the section has never gone strong for the national pastime and it is more or less a mystery just why. True, the sand blows and Lynn county residents may recognize their former back yards and farms when they come to Lubbock county, but at that there are enough days in the week when weather permits baseball. It takes more than teams to make baseball, however, and only when the public becomes baseball minded can the great game flourish here. We'll be glad to get more letters on the subject.

Dutch Luenberger, manager of the Lubbock Hubbers last season and one of the really true athletic fans of the vicinity, was just in for the first time since his recent operation for appendicitis. By doctor's orders he will not be able to act in the capacity of manager of a local club this season but he offers his cooperation to any other Lubbock man or men who will take the responsibility. He knows the ropes, ins and outs, and whoever attempts to lead a local team will be wise in seeking his advice. Glad to see Dutch up and about.

There's a rumor around Tahoka that Lefty Squires is in Galveston trying out with the Texas League entry of that city. This should be of considerable interest to prospective South Plains league members, for Lefty was one of the best pitchers, if not the best, in the loop last year. He won more games, if our memory serves us right, than any other hurler last summer in this section.

Speedboat Events Will Start Today

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 17. (AP)—Speedboat enthusiasts, from Gar Wood, king of American drivers, to pilots of the smallest outboard craft, were ready today for the first day's program of the annual Biscayne Bay regatta offering 17 events.

Wood planned to drive his Miss America IX, latest of a long line of Miss Americas, in a trial run against an airplane piloted by Duke Schiller as one of the features of the afternoon's program. Wood hopes to establish a new speed record with the Miss America IX.

ROBINS CLUB LOOKS GOOD AT BAT

KILLER - INSTINCT IS DEVELOPED DURING EARLY TRAINING

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
(By The Associated Press)

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 17.—(AP)—Picture a portly, kindly-looking old gentleman with a twinkle in his eye, a chew of tobacco in his jaw, instilling ferocity into a band of baseball hijackers and you have an idea what your Uncle Wilbert Robinson is doing with his Brooklyn boys.

Uncle Robbie has developed the killer-instinct. Lively ball or no lively ball, arfi Robbie says you can't tell the difference, he has put together a beefy collection of sluggers calculated to strike fear into the opposition.

The outfield, composed of Lefty O'Doul, Babe Herman and Johnny Frederick, averaged .370 at bat last year and should do as well or better this year. Frederick and Herman are still on the upgrade as ball players. O'Doul, obtained from the Phillies during the winter with Presco Thompson, second baseman, has been larruping the stitches off the new ball in camp.

The regular infield, consisting of Captain Glenn Wright at short, Wally Gilbert on third, Thompson at second and Del Bissonette on first, also averages over .300 at the plate. Wright and Bissonette are two of the most reliable cleanup men in the league.

Tampa Al Lopez, catching sensation of 1930, hit for .308 and should go many notches higher. His 210 pound understudy, Ernest Lombardi, hit .370 with Oakland of the Pacific Coast league last season.

Ferocious Glee

With a sort of ferocious glee, Uncle Robbie watches these fellows go up to the plate and, as he says, "battle the boards."

The pitching defense may not be the best in the league but it is close to it. The high priced Dazzy Vance, William Watson Clark, Adolfo Luque, Ray (Babe) Phelps, who won 14 games in his first major league season; Hollis Thurston and Ray Moss compose the principal firting line. Old John Picus Quinn and his spitball promise to be helpful. Phil Gallivan, star youngster from Macon, is the best of the new comers. The Arkansas hogcaller, Clyde (Pea-Ridge) Day, drafted from Kansas City, may find a relief job

GOLF TOURNEY ENDS TODAY

QUALIFYING SCORES MUST BE TURNED IN TODAY

Lubbock golfers have until this evening to turn in qualifying scores in the Meadowbrook Golf club's trophy tournament. Winners of medal trophies will be announced in the morning and matched play may begin at any time thereafter.

Opening Sunday morning, the trophy tournament qualifiers have kept the course covered for the past three days and while the low scorers and their tallies are kept secret until the last has been turned in it is rumored that some decent golf is being played by a number of local club wielders. More than fifty golfers are expected to present their cards for comparison.

W. G. McMillan, owner and manager of the course, will award gold and silver golf balls to the ten low medal scorers, the low five to receive the gold balls, each numbered in the order of the scorers. Matched play in the tournament begins at the disposal of the players, and is arranged by the issuing of challenges. The qualifier who finished in Number 11 position, for instance, does not receive a trophy after the 18-hole qualifying round, but he may challenge Number 10 and sould he win will take the silver ball from the former winner. Thus he may challenge the player directly above him in the standing and in time may advance to Number 1 position.

To Emphasize Speed In Ft. Worth Cats

FORT WORTH, March 17 (AP)—Speed will be emphazied on the Fort Worth Cat team this season, Manager Phelan indicated today. The new Cat manager, who produced a fast, base-stealing, heads-up team while boss at Shreveport, has brought his ideas on these subject into the Panther camp and his drills so far indicate he will put them all into practice.

In Eddie Moore, Charley Engle, Chester Fowler, Jimmy Dalrymple, Johnny Wingfield, Virgil Gilliland and Paul Gribble, Phelan has some of the fastest men in the loop. From the way he has been sending these boys around the bases in early practice, he intends to have them running on all and any occasion.

AROUND THE TRAINING CAMP CIRCUIT

TOO MUCH FOR TERRY

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 17 (AP)—This business of holding out for a few weeks and then coming to terms with a rush just has been too much for "Memphis Bill" Terry, slugging first baseman of the New York Giants.

Bill arrived in camp only the other day just in time to catch himself a mild attack of tonsilitis.

GOMEZ LOOKS GOOD

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 17 (AP)—Vernon Gomez, the man with $1,200 worth of bridge work in his mouth, is one pitcher Joe McCarthy thinks will be a big help to the New York Yankees this year. Gomez lacked control last season and never did reach the state of effectiveness predicted for him. This season he has picked up weight and is putting the ball where he wants it.

SET FOR TRIP

CLEARWATER, Fla., Mar. 17 (AP)—Babe Hamburger is all set for a trip to Havana and thereby hangs a drama entitled "the ball players' generosity."

Babe is the clubhouse boy for the Brooklyn Robins and a few days ago he was told he could not be taken on the Robins' forthcoming trip to Cuba. Word got around the camp that the Babe was to be left behind and the players—although money is scarce in training camps—dug up enough to pay his fare.

LAUDS CLUBS

WINTER HAVEN, Fla., Mar. 17 (AP)—John A. Heydler, president of the National league, making a tour of the training camps, remarked the fine spirit displayed by the Phillies despite their reverses in practice tilts. The prexy thinks the strengthening of the Boston Braves' outfield—the added batting punch will make them a factor in the pennant race. He also had praise for the up-and-at-'em attitude of the Cincinnati infield. The Cardinals are 'starting in where they left off last fall," and in his opinion are real contenders. The Cubs, Pirates and Giants, which he hasn't seen, also are regarded as possibilities.

NO CHANGE SEEN

FORT MYERS, Fla., Mar. 17 (AP)—The new ball with the elevated stitching won't change the style of attack very much, in the opinion of Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics. There is no sliding pit at the champions' camp and Mack is not stressing baserunning because he thinks there will be no decided change in the attacking system this year. He looks for a lot of free swinging.

PITCHERS NAMED

BILOXI, Miss., Mar. 17 (AP)—The pitchers already have been selected for the Washington Senators' game tomorrow at Gulfport with the Baltimore Orioles—Carl Fischer, Lynn Griffith and Wally Tauscher. They did the mound work in the first game with the international leaguers satisfactorily enough.

EARNS NEW TITLE

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 17 (AP)—Willie Kamm, whose apparent lack of interest in the success of the Chicago White Sox last season did nothing to improve his standing with the club, has earned himself the title of "Hustling Willie" in the training camp.

Kamm had a poor season last year and was mentioned as trading material, but so far this year he has fielded with all his old skill, and has hit in style that has pleased Manager Donie Bush.

NOT EXCITED

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Mar. 17 (AP)—As far as Rogers Hornsby is concerned, a couple of lopsided victories over the Los Angeles Pacific Coast league is no cause for excitement among the Chicago Cubs. The new pilot is not particularly pleased with the work of William Wrigley's team because he considers the caliber of opposition extremely weak.

NO COOPERATION

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 17 (AP)—Dan Howley, the Reds' manager, is about convinced the big fellows in his league—the pennant contenders, have no desire to assist the lesser lights. Dapper Dan spent yesterday visiting the headquarters of one of the strongest clubs in the National circuit seeking a player or two but was turned down flat. He returned to his camp discouraged, but determined to keep a keen eye on the waiver lists.

LURE TOO STRONG

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 17 (AP)—The lure of baseball has proven too strong for Eddie Morgan. The young slugging first baseman of the Cleveland Indians signed his contract last night and shelved his ambition to manufacture boxes for the summer at least. No figures were made public, but it was announced some time ago he had been offered a substantial increase.

PAGE TYRUS COBB!

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 17 (AP)—Page Tyrus Raymond Cobb! Harvey Walker and brother Gerald singled. Harvey sprinted for third. Gerald made for second. Harvey stole home, and Gerald arrived safely at third on the play at the plate. There are old-timers in Detroit who remember when Cobb used to try that crazy stuff—and get away with it. The Walker boys are rookie outfielders with the Tigers.

STORTI CAUSES PROBLEM

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 17 (AP)—Infielder Lin Storti, up from Wichita Falls, has added one more problem to the already sizeable supply of Manager Bill Killefer of the St. Louis Browns.

Killefer had about decided on Oscar Melillo for second, Jim Levey for short and "Red" Kress for third, but Storti has been doing so well at all three places lately that Skipper Bill doesn't know what he'll do about it. Among other things, Killefer is considering shifting Kress back to short and sending Storti to third, leaving Levey for No. 1 position on the bench.

PLAYERS SPECULATE

BRADENTON, Fla., Mar. 17 (AP)—Despite a denial from the "Big Boss," members of the St. Louis Cardinals, especially the outfielders, wondered today whether a deal between the Cardinals and the Cincinnati Reds was in the making. Manager Dan Howley of the Reds visited camp yesterday, supposedly in search of an outfielder. President Sam Breadon of the Cards said no deal was pending, but that failed to keep the players from speculating a bit.

CLIMATE FEUDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 17 (AP)—One of those California-Florida climate feuds is threatening to embroil Manager Jewel Ens of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

California thumbed figurative suspenders upon hearing that Ens has built up Outfielder Lloyd Waner's weight by having him take sun baths. For that matter, Outfielder Adam Comorosky, Pitcher Charley Wood and others have been prescribed the same tonic.

But here's the rub—Ens says he got the idea at Palm Beach.

"LOT OF SNAKES"

PENSACOLA, Fla., Mar. 17 (AP)—Muddy Ruel, Red Sox catcher says "ball players are a lot of snakes in the grass." Muddy's philosophy comes of acting as arbitrator on the base lines. He's been convalescing with a split finger and he's not at all fond of his umpiring job. He adds that how Tom Connally can keep his sweet disposition is "one of the sweet mysteries of life" and Muddy doesn't want to solve it.

TOO MANY GAMES

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 17 (AP)—No more top-heavy schedules of spring exhibition games for the Braves. Manager Bill McKechnie says they help to reduce training expenses but these heavy schedules of exhibitions are a big handicap to a team's development.

"Playing such clubs as the Yanks, Athletics and Cards every day is too much of a handship for my regular pitchers," the Tribesman manager says, "and doesn't afford the rookies a real chance to show what they can do."

GOLIGHTLY IN CHARGE OF CONTESTS

FIFTY-FOUR GAMES TO BE PLAYED IN LATE MARCH AND APRIL

Texas Tech will embark upon the greatest intramural athletic season in its history March 25 with the opening of a basketball schedule that calls for fifty-four games during the latter part of March and through April. Partly to offset the lack of intercollegiate competitive sports at the local college this spring and partly to take care of hundreds of physical education students is the basketball session planned.

Golightly In Charge

W. L. "Crip" Golightly, head cage mentor, is in charge of all intramural basketball. Yesterday he announced a schedule for the season, which will be on the double round robin order, and coaches and managers of the various teams.

Four leagues, each with four teams, make up the campus basketball organization. The schools of liberal arts, engineering and agriculture compose three of the loops, each class in each school represented by a team. The fourth league will be known as the Independent league and is composed of teams from the college band, bookstore, Military corps and Y.M.C.A.

First round games will begin at 7 p. m. on March 25 when the Freshmen and Saphomores of the Liberal Arts league clash. First round contests will end on March 28, second round games to begin about April 1.

Varsity and freshman cagers have been named as coaches and managers of the sixteen teams.

FRENCH TEAM IS POTENT

TENNIS SINGLE SETS TO REACH THIRD ROUNDS TODAY

NEW YORK, Mar. 17. (AP)—The national indoor tennis singles championship was in the third round today with the three-fold French threat just as potent as it was when the tournament began last Saturday.

Jean Borotra, Christian Boussus and Pierre Landry, forming the French contigent, have played only twelve sets in eliminating half that many rivals. Each has played two matches and won them both in straight sets.

Their next tests, however, promise to demand a little more effort on the part of the invaders. Boussus meets William Aydelotte, of New York, who won the championship in 1928. Borotra, three-times winner of the title, engages Edward W. Burns, of New York, who yesterday put out the seeded player, Donald Cram of Nashville, Tenn., and Landry faces the veteran New Yorker, Herbert L. Bowman.

The chief American hopes, Frank Shields, Berkeley Bell and Cliff Sutter, also reach the third round although Sutter had to travel three sets to eliminate E. Ramey Donovan yesterday.

ROBBER ESCAPES

DALLAS, March 17 — (AP)—The daring of a robber who attempted to hold up H. B. Thevenet, manager of a loan office on the 13th floor of a downtown skyscraper here was put to rout Monday when J. W. Wilson, in the same office, picked up a revolver from his desk and fired at the intruder. The man fled.

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 17. (AP)—Bobby Jones, golfdom's king, will meet one of his greatest rivals of amateur days, George Von Elm, now a professional, in a charity exhibition match at Agua Caliente Golf club Sunday, March 29.

Jones will pair with Leo Diegel, former national professional golf champion, now pro at the Agua Caliente club, against Von Elm and Mortie Dutra, professional of the Virginia Country club, Long Beach.

How to Keep a Man at Home

"I see where the old custom of passin' around cigars after dinner is gettin' popular again, writes Miss Fawn Lippincut in the current issue of The Weekly Slip Horn.

"It's a great idea, girls, an' I recommend it. Fer one thing, it keeps the men at home, an' out o' trouble.

"But remember, while a good cigar makes a man more sociable an' human, a bad one gits his gout and sticks in his memory.

"Even though they only cost a nickel, rocky fords are the safest bet. Ever' buddy likes 'em, includin' millionaires an' vice-presidents.

"An' then you kin still afford to lose at bridge."

MOTION PICTURES NOW LESS COSTLY TO MAKE, SAYS HOLLYWOOD DIRECTOR

By HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., March 17 (AP)—As a whole, motion pictures are now less costly to make.

Despite this lower cost trend, feature films are manufactured on a basis of 100 per cent more value per dollar than they were a year ago.

Common Sense Result

"This result is attributable, largely, to common sense and to a full cultivation of the business instinct," Bertram Millhauser, associate producer of Radio pictures said.

"Although there is a distinct saving in time, which runs into big money in Hollywood, and in materials, this is not necessarily visible on the balance sheets. It means simply a finer and more entertaining picture is being manufactured at a cost compa. ble to the poorer figures of yesterday.

"The saving," Millhauser said, "is reflected in the construction of better sets, the obtaining of better actors and talent and in the longer preparation of story.

Being Improved

"Like the automobile, the motion picture is being improved and refined under practical methods of manufacture. The principal advance over a year ago is that common sense production methods have eliminated the necessity for retakes. This item, alone, usually accounted for 20 per cent of the total cost of a picture.

"Today there are very few retakes. One of the major causes for this is sound. It is impossible to judge the meaning of a scene based in dialogue. Better still, it is possible to make drastic editorial revisions and deletions."

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, March 17.—(AP)—Speculation for the rise became aggressive in early trading in today's stock market.

Trading was active and several shares rose 1 to 2 points. The advanced was rather labored, however, and the bulk of shares sold only fractionally higher.

Bulls appeared encouraged by the market's ability to maintain a better tone yesterday for Saturday's upturn had been regarded as primarily due to wek-end short covering.

The group of eastern utilities which has been in van for the past few days again recorded new high levels for the year, Public Service of N. J., United Gas improvement, Consolidated Gas, and United Corp. all rising moderately.

U. S. Steel and American Telephone each sold up more than a point, as did Baltimore & Ohio, Electric Auto Lite, Johns Manville, General Foods, Allied Chemical and Houston Oil, Byers and Case rose 2, and Auburn shot up 4.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, March 17.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today 4 to 7 points higher owing to a show of firmness in the Liverpool and Egyptian markets and on moderate buying by the trade and commission houses.

The demand proved of rather small proportions, however, and after advancing to 11.12 for May, a gain of 8 points, and to 11.66 for October, a gain of 6 points, the market reacted partially, May selling down to 11.06 and October to 11.62. Houses with New Orleans connections and the south were on the selling side and buyers were inclined to hesitate on a rally of about 40 points from the recent low level.

Liverpool cabled that the advance there had been due to continental and Bombay buying on the firmness in Alexandria and that Manchester was more cheerful with evidences of a broadening home and export demand in the cloth market. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 18 to 32 points higher and the Indian spot quotation at Liverpool showed an advance of 10 points.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 17 (AP)—Although Liverpool cables came in fully as good as due, cotton here today opened rather irregularly. First trades were two points down to two up. The market rallied slightly after the start on some trade buying, May advancing to 11.11 and October to 11.66, or three to four points above yesterday's close.

The market soon eased off however on lack of support and at the end of the first hour prices were three to five points down from the early highs.

The market gradually eased off during the morning, notwithstanding favorable foreign news and good business in the textile markets. The buyers of yesterday showed a disposition to liquidate, being disappointed at the failure of the market to respond to the foreign news.

Before the offerings were absorbed, May traded down to 10.85, July to 11.20 and October to 11.50, or 16 points down from the early highs and 12 to 13 points under yesterday's close.

At noon the market was quiet and steady but at the lows.

STERLING, NEFF

Terrell, chairman of the commission, and Lon A. Smith, the other commissioner, Long declared they were given an opinion by Robert Lee Bobbitt, former attorney general, which held the railroad commission and no authority to prevent wastage of gas in the production of oil.

"Despite this fact, Governor Sterling and Neff both claim the conservation laws are adequate," Long stated.

"Each time Neff gets into the newspapers, he mentions the wastage in the Reagan county field. Laredo wastes 80,000,000 more feet a day than Reagan county and Pampa and Amarillo districts waste three times as much," Long stated.

The governor's bill to establish an oil and gas conservation commission was introduced in the house a few minutes before Long took the floor. It was introduced by Representatives McDougald of Beaumont, Metcalfe of San Angelo and Johnson of Carrizo Springs. The bill would take oil and gas regulation from the railroad commission.

Representative Bond of Terrell asked if he did not think things could be threshed out when the bill came up for consideration and that it was wasting time to discuss the governor and Neff now.

Long replied he did not think so and "besides you have wasted enough time, yourself."

A point of order was raised by McDougald that Long was not speaking on personal privilege since no attack had been made on him.

Long said that was merely a difference of opinion and that "McDougald couldn't shut him up and will just have to eat it."

Long stated Sterling had not invited the railroad commission to attend the recent oil conferences at Fort Worth and Texarkana while Sterling attended the Fort Worth conference with Hines Baker, attorney for the Humble, at his side, and sent R. R. Penn, chairman of the Central proration committee, to Texarkana with Baker as his aide.

"I'm tired of seeing them stab each other in the back through the papers," Long said. "The railroad commission has been enjoined in the Travis county district court from preventing gas wastage in the Panhandle but still are criticised by Sterling and Neff, who hasn't signed a proration order for the past two months. East Texas and its field should be considered and if the railroad commission listened to Sterling and Neff the field would be shut in without any more time."

Subject Announced For Sermon Tonight

"The Three-fold Gospel" will be the subject of a sermon by Rev. A. P. Price, California evangelist, tonight at the Church of God, Third street and Avenue T.

Rev. Mr. Price has been a minister for 20 years and has traveled throughout the United States conducting services.

SCOUT SCHOOL TO BE HELD

LEADERSHIP TRAINING CLASS WILL OPEN TUESDAY NIGHT

A scout leadership training school will be opened under auspices of the South Plains Area Boy Scout council at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the basement of the First Methodist Episcopal church.

Fourteen men and older boys had been enrolled in the course to this morning and a total registration of 30 or more for the school was expected, according to D. T. Jennings, area executive of Lubbock.

To Organize Patrols

Students in the course, which is an elementary one, will be organized as patrols at the first meeting, and patrol leaders will be chosen. The class then will be organized as a troop.

K. N. Clapp, scout commissioner, will be scoutmaster and Executive Jennings will serve as senior patrol leader. A troop scribe also will be selected.

Commissioner Clapp at Tuesday night's class will treat methods of instructing new scouts in tenderfoot requirements and patrols will receive instruction and practise in some of the requirements, the method followed being an effort to make a game rather than work of the qualifying tests.

"The Scout Objectives and Program" will be presented by George W. Dupree, chairman of the court of honor of the Lubbock scout district.

A meeting will be held weekly at the same hour and place as those of the first session for five weeks. An outdoor night-meeting probably will cap the training course.

GRAVES TRIAL

ed to bring out by questioning that Graves was being rushed by the two men when the shooting took place. Harper was on the stand approximately 30 minutes in which time he underwent a close cross-examination regarding the location of the three men at various times prior to the shooting.

Doctor On Stand

Dr. J. H. Stiles of the Lubbock sanitarium was the next witness called. He testified as to the bullet wounds found in Smith's body after he was brought to the sanitarium stating that the man was wounded in five different places. The physician testified that he found no weapon of any sort in Smith's clothing as he was undressed in the operating room and that the victim, in his opinion, was fatally wounded and could live only a few hours.

Mrs. Clara Bowen, 1610 22nd St., a neighbor of the Smiths at the time of the shooting, was the next witness called. In her testimony, it was brought out that the defendant was a frequent visitor at the home of the Smiths, especially when the husband was away at work. Mrs. Bowen said she saw Graves at the home on the evening that the killing took place and that he was there "mighty near every day during the last month and nearly lived there in the daytime."

Objection Entered

The defense objected to the entrance of this woman's testimony but after the state presented a statement to the effect that it was being made in an effort to present premeditation on the shooting of Smith on the part of the defendant, the objection was overruled by the court.

Mrs. Bowen stated she was asked to call Mrs. Smith to the telephone 'about once every day or so' by the defendant and that she had heard conversation between Mrs. Smith and Graves to the effect that "he didn't want her dancing with other men." Tom Simpson and "Preacher" were mentioned as two of these men. Mrs. Bowen testified she had heard the two 'fussing' about this and 'about going places.' She stated Smith and Graves were together about six weeks before the shooting and that Graves was at the Smith home, ate dinner and was there in the evening on the day before the shooting.

Repeats Conversation

She testified she had had conversation with the defendant in which she cautioned him about coming to see Mrs. Smith and that he replied that "he just couldn't quit going down there, that he guessed it would cause trouble but that he just couldn't quit going there." Mrs. Bowen was on the stand about forty minutes.

Neighbor On Stand

Mrs. W. F. McDaniel, 1606 22nd street, another neighbor of the Smith family, was the third witness called. She stated that she had been a neighbor of the Smith family for about a year and that she had seen Graves visit at the home "right after she moved there." She testified she saw Graves visit the home on the Saturday before the shooting.

Questioned concerning the apparent feeling between the two men, Mrs. McDaniel declared Graves had jokingly remarked once while she, (Mrs. McDaniel) was in the Smith home with him and Mrs. Smith that "guess I'd better leave or Horace 'll be coming home and wanting to borrow my gun and kill me."

On cross examination, Mrs. McDaniel testified Graves visited the home several times when Smith was present, when the children were present, when only Mrs. Smith was there and when she "didn't know who was there."

Widow Is Called

Mrs. Smith was the fourth witness to testify. She stated she and Mr. Smith had been married nearly 17 years and that she was the mother of three children, the oldest being 16 years and the youngest eight. She said she had known the defendant for about three years and had been intimately acquainted with him for the most of that time. She recalled that when the two first met that Graves asked her "Where have you been all my life?" She stated they met frequently after that but that it was several months before he began making visits in her home.

Through questioning by the state she brought out testimony that she and Graves had had improper relations and that it had continued for "about a year." She said her husband was in Odessa at work at the time of the first incident of this nature and that he didn't know of the relations between her and the defendant at any time.

Feared Trouble

She cited one occasion when there was apparent trouble between the defendant and her husband and that she "sent word to Alvis to stay out of Horace's way, so there wouldn't be any trouble."

She stated that Graves didn't come to the house for quite a while after that but the two men soon got friendly and he started visiting her again. She declared Graves and her husband were on friendly terms at the time of the shooting, that they had been hunting together the Sunday before the affair.

Questioned further by the state, Mrs. Smith declared that she had seen Graves "several times a day" the week of the shooting and that he seemed to be mad and "was fussing at me every time I saw him." He complained mostly, she said, about a sister-in-law of hers staying with them and declared at one time that "he'd cook my goose and I'd suffer."

His disagreeableness continued, Mrs. Smith said, and she asked him to stay away because "he kept us tore up so." Graves threatened to kill her at various times, she declared, and said "he would if it wasn't for his babies." She said he cursed her and "called me bad names."

Mentioned Gun

Graves mentioned his gun several times of late, she said, and she had asked him not to carry it, but he replied that he might need it. She testifed he either carried a Winchester rifle or a shotgun in his car or had an automatic pistol on his person. On several occasions the defendent questioned her regarding Smith's owning a pistol.

Mrs. Smith recalled Graves' visits to the house on the afternoon before the shooting, that he had brought her and her husband home from town and spent several moments with them. Smith informed Graves that they were going to a dance that night and asked if he would come by and take them in his car. She said he came by about 8 o'clock and sat around the table where they were eating the evening meal. "He asked the men present, Bob Meyer and Les, if 'they had their guns on', and then stood around the table, ate a boiled egg and felt of one of the men to see if he had a gun on."

When they got in the car to go to the dance, Mrs. Smith said, she and her little girl got in the back seat and Smith sat in front with Graves. He had a rifle in the seat with him, she testified, and Smith asked him why he always carried a gun like that, that he could never use it as quick as another gun. Graves replied, she said, that he "might have a short gun too."

Tells Of Plans

She declared Graves said he would call for them after the dance but that Smith told him to go on home to his wife and babies, and they (he and Mrs. Smith) would go home with some one else.

Graves appeared at the dance again at about 11:30, Mrs. Smith said. He came in the house and spoke against her dancing with Tom Simpson and other men. Later on at the dance, when she was dancing with Simpson, directly in front of Graves in the door, the defendant "pointed his finger at me, gritted his teeth and shook his fist at me. He was mad," she said, and told her that if she danced with the others again, he would never speak to her again.

Tried To Halt Trouble

She later danced 'Home, Sweet Home' with Simpson and then saw Smith standing in front of the door with Graves on the outside. She heard Robert Averett say, "Aw, come on Smith, let's don't have any trouble," and that she ran to Smith's side and grabbed his right hand "thinking there was going to be a fight and I didn't want any trouble." The two men moved on off toward the porch and she heard the shots, she related.

A few more minor remarks closed the testimony for the morning.

crowd increased during the following hour.

Spring dresses, coats and suits for women; fabrics of new prints appropriate to the season, men's apparel for spring, and accessories and trinkets were shown.

The window-fashion show probably will become an annual event. The Morning Avalanche and Daily Journal were the sole mediums of announcing the downtown style event which resulted in an assembly of spectators—some curious and some style-conscious—who crowded streets as well as sidewalks.

JAIL CONTRACT TO SHELL

LUBBOCK FIRM WILL BUILD STRUCTURE; BID $49,448

H. H. Shell & Son, Lubbock general contractors, Monday afternoon were awarded a contract for the building of the new county jail. The County Commissioners court let the contract.

Shell's bid was $49,448. Also this firm allowed the county $12,050 for the materials of the old jail. Shell's nearest competitor, D. N. Leaverton offered a bid of $49,620 for the general contract.

Local Firms Successful

Total cost of the jail will be $113,-992.

All equipment contractors chosen by the court represented Lubbock firms, except those making bids on elevators and prison steel.

Successful equipment contractors and their bids were: plumbing and heating, Roche Newton and company, $16,602; electrical, DeWitt Electric company, $2,444; jail steel, Southern Prison company (San Antonio), $50,331; kitchen equipment, Sherrod Brothers, $2,630; and elevators, Otis Elevator company (Dallas office), $4,587.

North Of Federal Site

The building, which will replace the old jail already razed, will be erected on the northeast quarter of the county courthouse lot. It will be immediately north of the old jail site, which is to be occupied by a federal building.

Plans for new jail structure, drawn by S. B. Haynes, Lubbock architect, provide for a three-story fireproof building of about 85 x 53 feet in size. It will be capable of housing 100 prisoners.

Other general contractors placing bids before the County commission's court and there estimates were: D. N. Leaverton, $49,620; J. B. Maxey, $53,731.46; W. O. McMillan, $51,-260; and W. S. Moss, $50,998.

Total Cost $113,992

The total cost of the jail will amount to $113,992. With approximately $32,000 in the jail fund it will be necessary for the commissioner's court to issue warrants for the rest of the cost.

"The building is costing us a little more than expected," Judge E. L. Pitts said Saturday. "But the commissioner's court could not see how any part of the jail could be cheapened without ruining the whole structure. It will be a well-built prison, and one that will last.

"We could have chosen no better time in which to make this expenditure. Both materials and labor can be secured at a bargain," Judge Pitts stated.

ST. PATRICK

Sold into slavery in Ireland when 16 years old, Patrick escaped after six years' servitude and went to Gaul where he became a monk.

Returning to Ireland as a missionary, he converted the druids to Christianity, according to tradition.

St. Patrick also is the patron saint of schools and colleges of engineering throughout America.

OBSERVANCE OF DAY IS VARIED

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, March 17. (AP)—Residents of the Saorstat and kindred souls in the northern counties today celebrated Saint Patrick's day with nation-wide religious ceremonies, civic programs, sporting contests, and feasts and dancing which may last until tomorrow morning.

An eleventh hour legislative omission prevented drowning the shamrock in good Irish whisky, but for those who did not live too far away there was a prospect of a trip over into Ulster where restrictions closing public houses on Saint Patrick's day do not hold.

A resolution which would have repealed the restrictions, now nearly a decade old, was on the calendar of the dail and should have been passed on late yesterday afternoon, in time for today's celebrations, but for some reason it was left off the listing of the day's events and cannot come up until Wednesday.

PRINCE GIVES TRADE TALK

BRITISH HEIR HEARD IN EXHIBITION AT BUENOS AIRES

BUENOS AIRES, March 17. (AP)—The Prince of Wales delivered a sales talk Saturday for the British empire in an inaugural address which dedicated here the largest trade exhibition the empire ever sponsored outside its borders.

In a speech radiocast to England, the United States and British dominions, he called attention to the vast display of British goods assembled in Alermo park as proof of a spirit of revival in British industry.

Quotes Spanish

He reached the climax of his address with reference to the two Spanish words which make up Argentina's name for foreign trade "intercambio commercial." Translated literally into English, he pointed out, the words mean "commercial interchange."

The world's depression, the Prince said, probably is mainly due to its failure to recognize trade as an interchange of products. Britain and Argentina alike are vitally concerned with foreign trade.

He concluded with the hope that the sale of more British goods in Argentina would enable Britain to consume more Argentine meat and grain, and said, "I dedicate this exposition to the Argentine people and confidently entrust its success to their care."

The prince began his address by reading a message which had come to him today from King George. The king declared he was greatly gratified that his son was present in person to open a British trade exposition which had been made possible by the cooperation of the Argentine people.

Representatives from each of the women's clubs of the city will be called upon to help by serving on the hostess committees and by helping with the serving.

BUSINESS BETTER STATES SALESMAN AT MARKET WEEK

Business conditions are "a little better" this year than last, believes J. W. Freundlich, of Roos-Freedman-Shayn Co., of Dallas.

Mr. Freundlich, who is here for Market week, said that he made his first trip to the Plains country April 9, 1904, and last year he arrived at Amarillo, April 9. The weather was similar to that which he had found on the first trip, the veteran salesman said.

"Values are a whole lot better than last season," he went on. "People are getting more for their money than ever."

With good crops ahead, as indicated by the present season, Mr. Freundlich is of the opinion that by fall the entire Plains country will be in splendid condition in a financial way. He says from all reports he had had over the territory, farmers have better prospects than for years.

Exchanges Stories

One of the things the veteran traveling man likes to do is to exchange stories on early day business conditions. Before the railroad came south from Canyon, Mr. Freunlich drove in a hack all over the Plains, starting from Canyon and going south towards the T-P.

"Then we got automobiles and we used to make it into Lockney and on to Crosbyton in a day," he said. "There used to be a famous inn over in Crosbyton, Clark Smith, who had the Lubbock Inn, ran it.

"About the first thing they said to you after you got in at night was, what will you have, venison, duck or beef? That was before the days of the game laws. We could get any kind of meat we wanted, almost."

Mr. Freundlich recalled some of the early day inland towns including Petersburg, "a town they called Emma," Lockney and other towns.

PRISON PROBE COMPLETED

THREE - DAY TOUR OF SYSTEM MADE BY COMMITTEE

HUNTSVILLE, March 17.—(AP)—The legislative penitentiary committee headed by Chairman Henry Turner brought its investigation to a close here Saturday, after a three day tour of the prison system.

The committee reached Huntsville last Friday. Committee members and prison officials were guests of the Huntsville Chamber of Commerce at a banquet. They spent the entire day at the penitentiary and the surrounding prison farms.

Committee Pleased

Chairman Turner, upon completion of the tour, said "the committee is of the impression that the prison question is settled as long as it is kept under the present management. Modesty forbids General Manager Lee Simmons from saying that the prison will ever be more than a self-supporting institution, but it is obvious to the committee that in a very short time the Texas state prison system, will be a paying proposition.

"It is evident that the prison could produce three times the present output of shoes, vegetables and printing work.

Simmons Praised

"If we can persuade the board of control to give us a market for these products, there will be no more prison financial problem. We think Colonel Simmons is making a wise move in converting the Ferguson state farm into a livestock farm, because, upon completion of the packing plant being built on the Central Texas state farm, we will be able to dispose of all Colonel Simmons' livestock.

"As all in all," Turner concluded, "conditions far exceeded our expectations. Colonel Simmons' officials are well chosen. He seems to have perfect control over them."

Turner left the impression that it was the opinion of the committee that there was only one office connected with the system that should be held by a woman, that of matron of the women's state farm.

Members of the committee who made the tour were: Chairman Turner, Madisonville; Lee Satterwhite, Odessa, vice-chairman; F. P. Adams, Jasper; J. W. Adamson, Denison; Alex Brice, Sulphur Springs; Gordon M. Burns, Huntsville; E. Farmer, Fort Worth; J. B. Ford, McGregor; Victor B. Gilbert, Cisco; E. V. Gukes, Austin; H. N. Graves, Georgetown; Paul Grogan, Liberty; Sam Heflin, Cameron; R. H. Holland, Houston; H. P. Jackson, El Paso; Hugh Jones, Center; Jack Keller, Dallas; Virgil Lilley, Conroe; R. E. Sparkman, Italy; H. B. Stewart, Teague, and E. T. Wyatt, Stephenville.

No Damage Caused In Monday Blaze

A fire in a vacant building at 1216 Texas avenue late Monday night was attributed to spontaneous combustion.

No damage was done. Neighbors smelling smoke turned in the alarm, though no flames were sighted. It was not until considerable search had been made by the fire department that several greasy rags were found smoldering in a corner.

These rags had evidently become ignited by spontaneous combustion, firemen said.

LAST OF STRANGE WENDEL FAMILY IN NEW YORK IS DEAD; SHUNNED SOCIETY

NEW YORK, Mar. 17. (AP)—The Wendel family is dead.

The last of the line, the sixth of the Wendel sisters,—Miss Ella—died in her sleep. She was 80.

She died in a gloomy old red brick mansion on Fifth Avenue at 39th street, where the sisters shunned society, remained impervious to the hurly-burly of business and skyscrapers that grew up around them, kept their front door barred and front shutters closed.

Attended Night Club

They did venture out. Miss Ella embarked on the first and last flare of her life a few weeks ago. She went to Texas Guinan's night club and remained until closing time. Later she sent Miss Guinan a $4,500 pocketbook.

The Wendel girls were the daughters of John Gottlieb Wendel, contemporary of John Jacob Astor in the fur business. On a maxim of "buy property, but never sell," he started a fortune now estimated at $200,000,000. His son, John Gottlieb, jr., and the daughters clung to the maxim until the property holdings covered a great part of valuable Manhattan.

Frowned On Marriage

Josephine, Augusta and Mary died many years ago. The son, who became head of the family on the death of the elder Wendel frowned on marriage for his sisters because "no man was good enough for them." He also insisted they should dress in the fashions of their youth.

Georgianna went to Europe in her youth and came back with several languages and a desire to live as she thought a woman of wealth should. A few years she was declared mentally incompetent and sent to a sanitarium. She died there two years ago.

The brother died in 1915. Rebecca was the only sister to marry. After the death of her husband, Professor Luther A. Swope, in 1924, she returned to the Wendel mansion.

Disposition of the great Wendel fortune will not be known until Miss Ella's will is filed for probate. The residue of Mrs. Swope's share of the estate was to go to fourteen charities upon the death of the last sister.

IMPROVED AIR LINES SEEN

UNITED STATES TO BE AHEAD OF EUROPE UNDER NEW PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 17. (AP)—An air mail-passenger service, increased by 10,750 miles daily and placing the United States far ahead of all European countries combined, has been announced by the post office department for inauguration April 1.

With the new schedules will come, for the first time in the history of aviation, a through air mail-passenger service, with tri-motor planes, between Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

A short cut to South America, with a direct Richmond, Va., to Jacksonville, Fla., round trip via Raleigh, N. C., Florence, S. C. and Savanah, Ga., with stops at those points, also will be provided.

Detroit and Chicago will be linked by four more round trips daily, and Detroit and Cleveland by six more. Chicago and Cleveland will have one more chance each day to go calling on each other, and Chicago and Kansas City will have two more.

The long flight from Chicago to San Francisco, already made twice daily, will go on a three a day schedule.

Assistant Postmaster General Glover, in charge of air mails, explained this greatly augmented service would not add to the total air mail expenditure by the government since it will result from the rate reduction agreement reached between the department and air mail operators. The reduced rates are effective April 1.

SUPERINTENDENTS TO TRADE PLACES

PLAINVIEW, March 17 (Special)—Lee Clark, superintendent of the Plainview school system for the past three years and Charles E. Davis, head of the Quanah system for six years, have traded places.

Following announcement that Mr. Davis was elected head of the local schools when Mr. Clark did not seek re-election, it became known that the latter had been named by Quanah as successor to Mr. Davis.

Before coming here Mr. Clark was superintendent at Wichita Falls for eight years. He organized the municipal junior college there as he had done at Gainesville where he served following his Wichita Falls post.

The new superintendent was superintendent for three years at Nevada. From 1916 to 1918 he was director of teacher training at the East Texas State Teachers college, and 1918 to 1921 superintendent at Whitesboro. He then went to Quanah and is vice president of the Northwest Teachers association.

SIMPLE WAYS OF SAVING GAS

1. Correct temperatures should be maintained by the aid of thermometers or thermostats, as keeping a house too hot is wasteful of gas and injurious to health.

A thermostat is a device for the automatic regulation of temperature. Thermostats on gas appliances regulate temperature by controlling the flow of gas to the burners. The correct temperature for living rooms varies somewhat with individuals and conditions, but it is generally considered to be about 66° to 68° F.

2. Many famlies can save gas without inconvenience by using fewer rooms during cold weather than at other times.

3. A cooking utensil should be ready to be placed over the burner before it is lighted, and the gas should be turned off when the cooking is completed.

4. When water has come to a boil, the fire should be turned down or the vessel moved to a smaller burner; and just enough heat should be supplied to keep the water boiling. Water cannot be made any hotter than boiling; consequently violent boiling does not hasten cooking—it causes needless evaporation of water and thereby wastes gas.

5. Cooking utensils should be covered wherever practicable.

6. No more water should be heated than is needed.

7. The careless, wasteful use of hot water should be avoided; and leaky hot water faucets should be repaired immediately.
