MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS 76252 DECEMBER 4, 1970

It's depressing and embarrassing to hear of incidents like this country's denial of help last week to a Lithuanian native who had escaped from a Soviet ship to an American ship. He said he was seeking asylum in this country, but we, knowing very well what fate can be expected for him, gave him back to his slave masters.

As the story came out in Monday's reports, an American Coast Guard vessel and a Soviet ship were side by side as the personnel had some sort of discussion. Suddenly the Lithuanian sailor leaped to the American ship and asked for political sanctuary.

Then came about eight hours of delay while the Coast Guard consulted with the State Department. Finally permission was granted to a number of Soviet sailors to come and get their man. The escapee resisted, was beaten into unconsciousness and carried back to his ship.

Here is another story to make Americans ashamed of their country. As all the world knows, the man condemned himself before the Soviets by his attempt to get away. That has been the fate of thousands who failed to escape. All of the Coast Guard and State Department personnel who kicked the subject around for the next several hours knew that the escapee's chance of survival was very slim if he was sent back. They must have known also that the torture awaiting the man if he survives is probably worse than death.

Under that condition the betrayal is shameful to a sickening degree. For the finest compliment the man could have given our country he was rewarded with a decision that was equivalent to a death sentence.

It is said that the State Department wants to avoid involvement in escapes. It does not wish to jeopardize our fragile relationship with the Kremlin. But how can it be so callous as to condemn a man who asked only to be alive and free? And, even overlooking that gruesome fact, what makes the State Department think that our prestige is enhanced by this cringing attitude?

Furthermore, where does it get the idea that U.S. should make any kind of concession to improve relations with Russia? We sustained the country in war and starvation. We overlooked the treachery and intrigue with which it responded to our help. In recent years we endured colossal insult, like the capture of the Pueblo and its crew on the open sea.

How does that case strike you as a contrast with this? Pueblo personnel were taken against their will and our country was humiliated as the entire crew was held for months by the communists. Apparently forgetting red behavior in that incident, our State Department meekly submitted to red demands for return of a man who left them of his own choice and at the risk of his life. Without doubt, the episode makes another shabby page in our history.

This helps us recall a campaign promise made by Candidate Nixon back in 1968. He promised that, if elected, he would clean up the State Department. Well, what's he waiting for? He has never had better incentive than right now. This is only the latest of a long list of boners and concessions which have embarrassed and exasperated our country in recent years.

We're thinking about the fiasco in Vietnam in which our military effort was nullified by State Department restraints.

We're thinking of sanctions against Rhodesia contrary to our own principles and tradition and our economic interest. We're thinking of recent efforts at pacifying Red China and increased coolness to Nationalist China, one of the few powers on our side in the global struggle.

There's a saying in politics that any administration is spinning its wheels when it tries to change the policies of a federal department. Regardless of the orders issued by new department heads, the men who do the detail work continue to do as they please. They are civil service employees, immune to dismissal, and able to run the show as they please regardless of top orders — or without bothering to ask for orders. The situation is absurd. It's possible consequence is frightening.

This column does not go along with those silly notions (Continued on page 8)

The Parvuli Dei religious award in Cub Scouting was received by Bernie Fette, Robert Hartman and Daniel Walterscheid in a special Thanksgiving Day service in Sacred Heart Church.

3 Webelos Receive Parvuli Dei Award

Three Webelos of Muenster's Cub Pack No. 664 received the Parvuli Dei award in a special service preceding the 9:30 Mass in Sacred Heart Church on Thanksgiving day. They are Bernie Fette, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Fette, Robert Hartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hartman and Daniel Walterscheid, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Walterscheid. All are fifth graders at Sacred Heart School.

Father Placidus Eckart presented the awards and spoke briefly explaining that Parvuli Dei means child of God and the award has a religious significance somewhat similar to the Ad Altare Dei award for Boy Scouts. He said it is a fine program and encouraged other pack members to strive for it. Other Webelos and Cubs of the pack attended the ceremony in uniform. Father Placidus added that the honor demands work. The three spent six to eight months meeting a dozen requirements, including a brief history of the parish, reading one of the gospels, arranging a home shrine, composing a prayer, passing an oral examination and preparing a log book.

The Cub Scout program in Muenster is under direction of Charles Bartush, cub master and Alvin Hartman, assistant. Mr. Bartush and Charles Pagel have charge of one Webelo group, Edgar Dyer the other.

SH Students Fight Pollution; Project Boosts Class Fund

Sacred Heart High students have become involved in helping fight pollution and at the same time boosting their class funds through their projects.

This year the four classes of SHH participate in a clean-up program. The seniors began last May in what they term saving trees by collecting waste paper. For each ton of this scrap they save 17 trees which would otherwise be cut down for pulp. In addition, they receive $15 a ton for their work when they sell the scrap paper.

Aluminum cans are in the drive headed by the junior class. For a ton of cans the class gains $200. That, in addition to keeping the streets and highways more sightly and free of clutter.

Sophomores find open Saturdays and pick up trash for anyone who asks. They receive a price for each load.

The freshman class also works to keep Main Street clean. Every Saturday, rain or shine, they start at 7 a.m. emptying four of the city's major trash barrels and cleaning litter off the street from a block north of Sacred Heart Church to Highway 82.

Plans are to expand the clean-up territory and to pick up trash and to empty barrels of local residents for a small weekly fee. For this service the freshmen will accept phone calls at the M. A. Becker residence, 759-2552, and the Julian Walterscheid residence, 759-4246. Calls during the week, rather than on Saturday morning, are asked, so the students can map their route.

KCs Remember 82 Deceased Members In Memorial Rite

Eighty two deceased members of the Muenster Knights of Columbus council were remembered at the annual memorial service Sunday afternoon in the K of C hall.

The ceremony consisted of special memorial ritual conducted by council officers along with a short sermon by Father Bede Mitchell, chaplain, stressing the Christian viewpoint of death and urging members to pray for the eternal happiness of their departed ones.

Three names were added to the memorial roll since the previous year's service. They are Al Walterscheid, J. G. Wolf and Albert (Buddy) Reiter.

Three Hornets on 12-A Dream Team

Three of Muenster High's Hornets were listed on the 12-A all-district team for the past season. Leon Klement was named a lineman on the defensive first string and received honorable mention on the offensive team. Gerry Cash was listed in the secondary of the defensive team and Henry Knabe received honorable mention on offense.

The district coaches selected one team each for offense and defense and also submitted the honorable mentions who did not make the first strings. Because of tie votes there were fourteen on the offensive string and twelve on defensive.

Nocona, third in the district, dominated the selections with seven. Pilot Point, which tied with Muenster for fourth place, was awarded six positions. The co-champs, Sanger and Lake Dallas each received five positions. Muenster received two, and Frisco received one. Four players, Tidwell of Sanger, Pels and Jones of Pilot Point and Womble of Nocona were listed on both offense and defense.

In addition Lake Dallas landed five on the two lists of honorable mention. Nocona had four, Muenster and Pilot Point two each and Sanger and Frisco one each.

Two Deputies on Duty in Muenster

Two officers are back on regular duty at Muenster in accordance with the arrangement worked out by the City of Muenster and the Cooke County Sheriff's Department. Salaries of the two deputies are shared equally by the city and the county.

George Davis remains on regular duty as a resident officer and James Wilkison of Gainesville is on special duty replacing Robert Kaylor who resigned recently. However, according to Sheriff Bill Pratt, Wilkison is to be replaced after several weeks by Robert Byrom, a rookie officer now working at Gainesville. Byrom, formerly of Montague, now lives in Muenster and will replace Wilkison after finishing his training period.

8 New Members Join KC Council

The Muenster K of C Council has eight new members since Wednesday night when it held an admission degree initiation during its regular monthly meeting. A team from the Irving council was here to conduct the ceremony.

The new members are Father Leonard Wangler, Dale Hellman, Dale Felderhoff, Robert T. Noyes, Andy Knabe, John Cunningham, Maurice Hacker and Michael Stoffels. They will receive the Formation and Knighthood degrees at the Oak Cliff Council on Sunday the 13th.

Balance of Wednesday's meeting was spent mostly on planning for the annual Christmas party for kiddies on December 20 and for the New Year's party.

The New Year's party will be different this time. Instead of an orchestra there will be special stereo tapes for the occasion plus snacks and dips. Members and their guests will be welcome, and the charge will be $2.50 per couple.

Post Office to Be Open Extra Hours For Yule Mailing

Postmaster Arthur Endres this week has good news for people sending Christmas mail. The Muenster post office will be open the next three Saturday mornings from 8:30 to noon to help relieve the holiday rush.

Endres also stated that the Post Office Department this year urges people to do their mailing earlier than before. Parcels going a long way should be mailed now. Greeting cards going out of town should be mailed by the tenth, and local greeting cards should be mailed by the fifteenth.

Youth Charged in Theft of Guns at W. Walterscheid's

The burglary of four guns from the home of Willie Walterscheid about a month ago was solved early this week when Gary Doyce Steward, 20, of Denison confessed to the burglary and several more in Cooke, Denton, Montague and Grayson Counties. He is in custody of officers in Grayson county.

According to Sheriff Bill Pratt, the suspect admitted stealing the guns and pawning them in Lawton, Oklahoma. Deputy Don King went to Lawton Wednesday and recovered Walterscheid's deer rifle, however two shot-guns and a .22 rifle had been disposed of. The officers will attempt to recover the other three guns by tracing sales.

Construction Starts On Electric Co-op Building

Construction of a new headquarters facility for Cooke County Electric Cooperative Association got under way Monday as earth moving equipment started preparing the site for foundation work.

Mike Sloan, manager of the co-op, announced this week that a contract for erecting the building had been awarded to Jack Owens, a Gainesville contractor, and it is due to be finished in one year.

The building, located about two miles east of Muenster on Highway 82, on the north side of road, will be a brick structure, fireproof throughout. It will have 17,000 square feet of floor space, which is about three times as large as the co-op's present building. It will contain the co-op's entire operation, including office, shop and warehouse, and the firm's present facility, on Highway 82 inside the city, will then become available for sale or lease.

Pavement Project Finished for City

Muenster's paving project for 1970 is headed down the home stretch. Jim Foster Construction Co. of Wichita Falls is expected to leave before the weekend after finishing about nineteen blocks of new and renewed city streets and a park driveway plus four jobs for individuals.

The park pavement covers the complete driveway, a distance of about 1700 feet and the other new pavement is a continuous strip of one block on Maple, one on Ninth, and Cedar from Ninth to FM 373. Resurfacing was applied to six blocks on Walnut, two on East Seventh, three on West Sixth and 2 on East Fourth. Other paving jobs were parking lots at the hospital and Rohmer's Restaurant and driveways for J. M. Weinzapfel and Dr. Kralick.

The type of pavement is new to Muenster. Identified as slurry, it is a mixture of Portland cement with asphalt and gravel, is applied and levelled like concrete and has to set for several hours before using. It is said to be better in surface quality and durability.

Cub Scouts Have Full Agenda at Monday Meeting

A full program of activity entertained Muenster Cub Scouts and their parents at their monthly meeting Monday night with presentation of awards, display of projects and a magician as guest entertainer.

Assistant Cubmaster Alvin Hartman presided and Den 4 opened with the flag ceremony.

After presentation of awards, Charles McNeely of Gainesville entertained with his magic tricks. The pack gave him a plaque in appreciation.

All four dens had on display Christmas projects they had made for their parents. Each den worked at its separate meetings on desk centerpieces for their dads. These novel pieces featured pinecones from Twin Pine Farms of Cubmaster Charles Bartush and included a picture of the cub who made the gift. For their mothers, the boys covered and otherwise decorated cigar boxes. All were different and beautifully done.

Attendance prize went to Mrs. Charlie Pagel's Den 4 with 88 percent of members and parents present. Den 4 also served refreshments.

Edgar Dyer, retiring Webelos leader, presented awards as follows: Mike Richardson, scholar, citizen, geologist and traveler; Lenzy Dyer, scholar and citizen; Darrell Pagel, citizen, craftsman, outdoorsman; Danny Walterscheid, citizen, scholar, outdoorsman, craftsman; Robert Hartman, citizen, outdoorsman, geologist, scholar, craftsman.

Charlie Pagel, new Webelos leader, assisted Alvin Hartman in presenting cub awards as follows: Gary Henschel, gold and silver arrow; Kenneth Hartman, silver arrow; David Felderhoff, gold and silver arrow; Phil Wolf, gold and four silver arrows; Mark Felderhoff, gold and three silver arrows; Bert Miller, two silver arrows.

Danny Walterscheid, Robert Hartman and Bernie Fette were congratulated on earning the Parvuli Dei award.

Also on display were projects by Webelos for their Forestry badge.

Cubmaster Charles Bartush and Webelos leaders, Bartush and Pagel are working with this group.

It was announced that the next meeting will be on December 14. It will be a court or honor for Boys graduating from Webelos into Scouting and all who are in the scouting program and asked to attend.

The meeting closed with group singing of God Bless America.

Thirty nine second graders of Sacred Heart School received their first Communion in a solemn ceremony in Sacred Heart Church on Sunday, November 22. Pictured with them here are their instructor, Sister Lenore, their pastor, Father Placidus, and altar boys.

Proposal for Tax Slavery

A sweeping program to establish national health insurance on a compulsory basis has been introduced in Congress. The nation is set for the last long plunge into the depths of a welfare state. It is up to the citizens of the United States, as taxpayers and voters, not to succumb to the sugarcating on the bitter pill of statism that proponents of national health insurance hope the people will now swallow.

Advocates of the national health insurance proposal estimated, upon introduction of the measure, that it would cost Americans $40 billion a year. Only the most gullible will find it possible to accept the cost figures of those who sponsor the proposal. In the past, estimates have been woefully short. A tone of reality has entered the national health insurance debate with the sharp rejection of the plan by Mr. John G. Veneman, under secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare. On the question of costs, Mr. Veneman comments, "Actuarial estimates from the Social Security Administration indicate that the total expenditures under this bill in the year 1974, which would be the first full year of its operation, would come to $77 billion. . . . This is equal to about half the total present general revenues of the federal government and would be equivalent to a federal health tax of over $1,000 per year for every household."

Mr. Veneman further commented, "There are those who insist that the present system is sound and should be left alone. Others demand that we throw out the baby with the bath water and replace our pluralistic health enterprise with some monolithic scheme in which the federal government controls everything. . . . Mr. Veneman thinks both extremes are wrong. He believes, "the role of the federal government in part is properly to do what the private sector cannot do. . . ." This is the heart of the expanded health care plan that has been recommended by the American Medical Association and is known as Medicaid.

National health insurance can be far more than a mere health plan. It can be a device for altering the economic and political system of the United States and, as the cost of the current proposals indicate, could threaten virtually every American family with a form of tax bondage that amounts to slavery.

Hardest To Satisfy

According to the latest comparison chart of the United States and Soviet economies, the National Federation of Independent Business finds that in 1967, Russia lagged far behind the U. S. in a number of important categories. In 1967, the U. S. had one dwelling unit for each 3.75 people, and Russia had one unit for each 13.82 people. The U. S. had 285 million radio receivers compared with only 81 million in Russia and 78 million TV sets compared with 23 million in Russia.

Russia runs a very poor second to the U. S. when it comes to producing the luxuries and necessities of life, yet there is no talk of overthrowing the establishment in Russia. Apparently, there is more truth than fiction in the belief that a spoiled child is the hardest to satisfy. It appears the U. S. is the home of a lot of spoiled children — and adults.

"Don't Tread On Me"

From the beginning of the United States, and long after, the security of the nation and of the individual depended upon rifles and handguns that held predators, both human and animal, at bay. Every schoolchild knows, or should know, the part that the skill of American riflemen have played in our history from the battle of Bunker Hill to the jungles of Viet Nam.

The extent to which a nation may have to depend upon citizen possession of firearms can be seen in Israel. Mr. Jac Weller, honorary curator of the West Point Museum, and author of several books on military history, has written of the current travails of Israel, which he calls "A Nation Of Armed Citizens." He says, ". . . it's difficult in Israel today to distinguish between the military apparatus and the civilians-in-arms." In some areas of Israel, every individual must carry his personal weapon with him at all times. Almost every single man and many of the women in Israel can fire at least one weapon adequately. Mr. Weller witnessed a school picnic at which teachers carried sub-machine guns, and the boys had rifles close by as they munched their lunches.

It is difficult for a U. S. citizen to believe that any nation could be reduced to such extremities. But, as Mr. Weller concludes, although heavily outnumbered by hostile Arabs, ". . . the Israelis are likely to survive because a nation in arms is hard to destroy." Even in this nuclear age, the right of firearm ownership by responsible citizens — and that means the great body of Americans — gives meaning to those historic words, "Don't Tread On Me," imprinted on the famed rattlesnake flags of the American Continental Army of 1776.

Changes Urged In State Welfare

A raise in welfare benefits, removal of the constitutional ceiling on payments, reorganization of the Department of Public Welfare and a new approach to problems of needy families with dependent children were recommended by the blue-ribbon Senate Welfare Study Committee.

Committee said the state must aim at development of children rather than simply maintaining them on aid rolls to break the poverty cycle.

These additional recommendations were included in the 85-page report:

A constitutional amendment to permit garnishment of wages for court-ordered child support.

A vendor drug program to supply medicines to Medicaid outpatients.

Renaming the Welfare Department the Department of Human Resources and reorganizing it with a head named by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate.

Complete overhaul or streamlining of department administration with increased use of computer methods.

Committee Chairman William P. Hobby Jr. said that the Legislature next January will have to pass an emergency appropriation of more than $40 million just to carry the welfare program at present levels to the end of the biennium.

Unanswered Question

The latest score on the Social Security, inflation, taxation merry-go-round, as reported in U. S. News & World Report, shows the following: Effective January 1, Social Security "will be sweetened again" — probably by about seven and one half percent. It is said that minimum pensions may be raised to as high as $100 a month; all of which sounds fine. On the debit side of the ledger, however, the increase will mean something like this. The average employee earning $9,000 will pay $468 a year in Social Security tax in 1971, compared with $374 now. By 1980, his contribution will go up to $585. A person earning $12,000 a year as an employee will be taxed $624 next year in the name of Social Security, and $780 in 1980.

The question that remains unanswered is how far we can abandon the principle of self-reliance and still expect to retain the privilege of self-government and the liberties granted under it. Admittedly, this is an old and shopworn question. But, it remains, nonetheless, more pertinent today than ever before.

Free Way Is Best

Anybody who might ever be brain-washed into doubting superiority of the American way over the Communist way, ponder this, from Nation's Agriculture:

"Over five times as many farm workers cultivated 70% more land in Russia in 1967, compared to U. S., and got lower yields for 13 out of 16 major crops.

"More mechanization, a greater use of fertilizer, more up-to-date cultural practices and the incentives associated with private enterprise production were the big reasons for U. S. superiority."

The free way of life just naturally is better than vassalage to the state; more productive, too.

NOTES FROM THE LIBRARY

By Bettie Luke

With the holidays here, every cook likes new recipes to surprise and please the family.

Muenster Public Library has a number of good cookbooks on the shelves.

"The White House Cookbook" by Rene Verdon features his own celebrated cuisine and covers everything that goes into making a glorious meal. Throughout the book the author presents the history of some famous dishes, also a chapter devoted to suggestions for good preparation.

Another book is the time-honored "Fannie Farmer Cookbook" and there's "The Pedernales Country Cookbook," a collection of 225 authentic recipes from the Pedernales Hill County, an area where cultures came together over a hundred years ago — German, Old South and Mexican — and produced a distinctive regional cuisine.

And there's "Bland but Grand" by Edith M. Peltz. This is for people on certain continuing diets.

Come and read with us.

Two Family Party Follows Baptism Of Vickie Schmitt

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Schmitt have named their infant daughter Vickie Lynn — Vickie after her grandfather Victor Hartman who is her godfather. Mrs. Al Schmitt is her granddaughter's godmother.

Baptism service was held in Sacred Heart Church on Thanksgiving evening at 7 o'clock with Father Placidus Eckart officiating.

Members of the Hartman and Schmitt families attended and made a two-family reunion afterward for supper in the home of the new baby's parents and her brother Stephen.

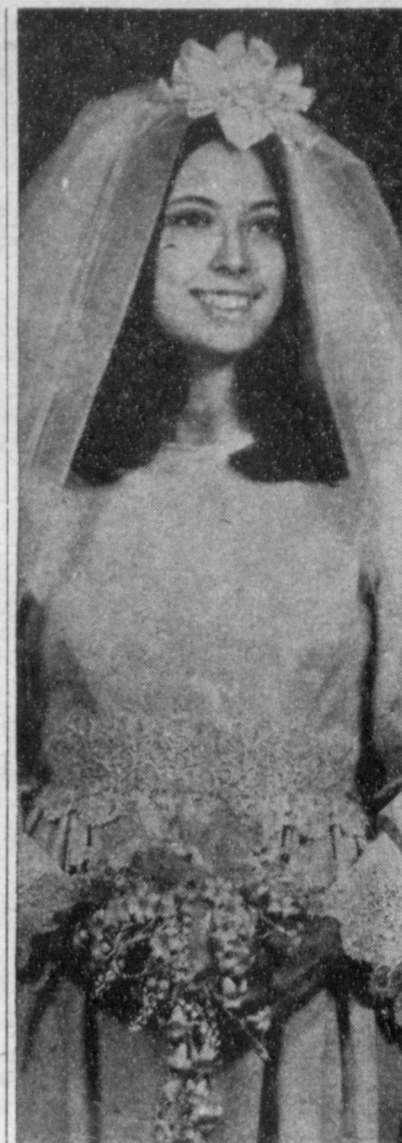

Joining the Muenster relationship were Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Gremminger and children Kay, Robert and Brenda of Garland and Miss Joyce Schmitt of Dallas.

The Gremminger family had joined her parents, the Victor Hartmans, at the community dinner at noon in the Parish Hall and had also visited his father Ted Gremminger.

Robert told the relatives about being voted captain of the year for the city's 12-year-old football league and being honored with presentation of a handsome trophy.

How about the zip code?

Susan Bengfort and Michael Cason Say Double Ring Vows

Miss Susan Bengfort and Michael Robert Cason were married in 5 p.m. ceremonies in St. Peter Church, Lindsay, Wednesday, November 25, with the pastor Father Damian Wewers officiating at the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bengfort of Lindsay and Mr. and Mrs. Sid Cason of Muenster. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Herr of Muenster.

Presented by her father, the bride wore an ivory crepe gown designed with the high rise Empire line and full length sleeves. Wide bands of lace trimmed the waistline, the bell sleeve edge and around the hemline of the floor-length skirt. She carried a white orchid surrounded with carnations and her paternal grandmother's, Mrs. Joe Bengfort's, rosary.

Miss Lucille Bengfort, Lindsay, was her sister's honor maid and the bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Terry Cason of Whitesboro, was bridesmaid. They wore apricot-colored floor-length gowns, designed on Empire lines and carried green orchid bouquets.

Steve Sikes, cousin of the bridegroom, served as best man and Michael Bengfort of Lindsay, the bride's brother, served as groomsmen. Ushering the guests were Arnold Zimmerman, Lindsay, cousin of the bride and James D. Rumley of Muenster. Acolytes were Randy and Bobby Stoffels of Lindsay, cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Frank Haverkamp Jr. furnished the organ music and accompanied the special numbers sung by Rudy Dieter and Nick Block.

The reception followed in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville where a buffet dinner was served. Mrs. Brenda Cannon of Muenster, the bridegroom's sister and Miss Charlotte Stoffels of Lindsay, a cousin, registered the guests.

For their wedding trip, the bride changed to a suit in tones of gray with matching accessories. The couple will be at home in Carrollton. He is a graduate of Muenster High School and attended Cooke County Junior College. The bride graduated from Lindsay High School.

Mary Medders and James R. Flusche Say Vows at Mass

Miss Mary Margaret Medders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Medders, 2022 Maplewood St., Gainesville, and James Robert Flusche, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Flusche, Lindsay, were married Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Robert E. H. Grant, pastor of St. Mary Church celebrated the Nuptial Mass and heard the double ring vows.

The altar space held banked jade and spiral candelabra. Three arrangements were on the main altar with blue gladioli, white mums and pompon mums. Arrangements of blue Dutch iris and white pompon mums were on Mary and Joseph's altars. After the vows, the bride placed white roses on the Blessed Virgin's altar. Bows and flowers also marked the pews.

Mrs. Beth Ann Mann was soloist and Miss Patsy Spaeth furnished the organ accompaniment.

Presented by her father, the bride wore a Victorian styled gown of bridal satin trimmed with heavy lace panels and tiny satin-covered buttons down the front panel. The lace and buttons trimmed the cuffs of the bishop sleeves and the high neckline. Her illusion veil was edged with the lace and fell to cathedral length. She carried a cascade of stephanotis and ivy on her prayer book.

As she entered on the arm of her father, she presented a white rose to her mother and as she left the altar space with her husband, she presented Mrs. Flusche with a white rose.

Her bridesmaids were Miss Sara Medders, her sister as maid of honor and Miss Mary Flusche, the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Eugene Riggs and Mrs. Ron Melugin, respectively a sister-in-law and sister of the bride. Their Victorian styled gowns were of sapphire blue velvet and they carried nosegays of blue carnations, white roses and stephanotis with stative and gypsophilia on French blue backgrounds.

Little Donna Smith was flower girl and carried a blue basket of white and blue flowers. Steven Riggs, the bride's nephew, was ringbearer.

William Flusche was his brother's best man and groomsmen were Eugene Riggs, Tommy Eberhart and Jimmy Eberhart. Ushering the guests were Ron Melugin and Albert Zimmerer.

The reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Gainesville where tables were arranged for the wedding party to be seated. These held arrangements of blue Dutch iris, pompon mums and stative.

The bride's table was decorated with large silver candelabra with white carnations, roses and stephanotis and smilax was draped on the table. Mrs. Betty Murphrey of Memphis, sister of the bride, presided at the punch service and Mrs. Albert Zimmerer served the cake.

The groom's table held brass candelabra with French blue candles and sapphire and blue carnations and stative. A sister-in-law of the bridegroom, Mrs. William Flusche presided there.

Miss Elaine Melugin registered the guests. After their wedding trip to Memphis, Tenn., the couple will reside in Gainesville.

The bride attended Sacred Heart schools in Muenster, St. Camilla's Academy in Corbin, Ky., and Cooke County Junior College.

Conference Urges Traffic Safety

Legislative measures to get more problem drivers, especially drunks, off Texas highways were urged at the second annual Governor's Traffic Safety Conference.

Col. Wilson Speir, Department of Public Safety director, said the 12-month minimum suspension law for drunk driving now opens the door to an excessive number of probated sentences. He suggested a 60- to 90-day mandatory suspension without probation.

DPS head also proposed statutory fixing of .10 per cent blood alcohol level as the presumptive test of intoxication, broadened support for driver education, prescribed safety equipment for motorcycles and updating of the uniform traffic code.

Where You Stand On Income Tax

April 15 is the deadline for filing your income tax return. If you owe additional taxes, waiting until April 15 might be good business. However, on January 1 about 2/3 of the taxpayers have a refund coming to them from Internal Revenue.

The taxpayer can't file until January 1 and Internal Revenue can't send out his refund until they get his tax return, Form 1040. The taxpayer must also wait until he receives his Form W-2 from his employer.

It is usually good business for all taxpayers to gather their records and figure their income tax as soon as possible after January 1. Even if you owe money and don't have the money to pay, you need to know. If you know on January 2 that you will owe a lot of money on April 15 you can come a lot nearer raising the extra taxes owed than the fellow who waits until 11:59 pm on April 15 to figure his tax.

It is always good business to find out where you stand as soon as possible.

American consumers spent 16.5% of their disposable income for food in 1969, compared with 20% in 1959.

Anthony Felderhoff Wins Optimist Boy Of the Month Title

The Breakfast Optimist Club of Gainesville named Anthony Felderhoff as Boy of the Month for November. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Felderhoff of Rt. 4, Gainesville, and is a senior at Lindsay High School.

His accomplishments in school and extra-curricular activity are many and include his being president of the student council this year, editor of the school yearbook and outstanding quarterback for the Lindsay Knights football team, leading it to second place in the district.

During his freshman year he was class treasurer, helped on a committee to organize the student council, was a member of the winning freshman track team and lettered in football, basketball and baseball.

As a sophomore he was elected student council vice president and was named by the Lindsay High School faculty as Outstanding Teenager of America. He lettered in football, basketball and baseball and was a member of the track team. He was chosen as football captain and district football coaches selected him as an all-district linebacker.

In his junior year he was elected student council president and was chosen as class favorite. He was assistant editor of the yearbook. He competed in District University Interscholastic League and won second place in science which sent him to regional competition. He again lettered in football and basketball, served as captain of both groups and was selected to the all-district and all-area football teams.

With all these activities he managed to maintain a 92.5 percent grade average through the first three years of high school taking five solid subjects each year. He also is a member of the Catholic Youth Club.

Anthony plans to major in mechanical engineering following his graduation.

His father and Superintendent Glenn Hellman attended the breakfast at which he was honored.

Artist Evangelist To be at Baptist Church Here Dec. 5

Muenster Baptist Church will have as a guest Saturday, Dec. 5, Larry Lorenz, artist evangelist who literally "draws" men to Christ with his chalk talks.

The service will begin at 7 p.m. and the local congregation invites everyone to attend.

With a deft blending of artistic ability, unusual lighting, and dramatic sound effects, the young evangelist presents the Gospel in a manner to capture the attention and imagination of twentieth century audiences.

He has traveled extensively in city-wide and church crusades throughout the U.S. and Cuba and the British Isles. He and his wife Ruth hope to go to the foreign mission field after his graduation from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Berend and children of Windthorst spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hess.

of immunity. It thinks that the President and the Department Head, who are held accountable for the doings of the department, have not only a right but a duty to prescribe the policy for all personnel — and to fire anyone who gets out of line.

The policy about job security in civil service needs closer scrutiny. It needs to be considered in relationship with the requirement of good behavior. Can a man be credited for good behavior, does he deserve to keep his job, if he defies orders and policies of his superiors? Especially when his operations are detrimental to the country's best interests. We think the President has every right to lower the boom. We hope he will.
