City Launches Giant Improvement Plan

Five To Six Million Bond Issue May Be Submitted; Marlin Smith Resigns

By C. W. RATLIFF
Avalanche Staff Writer

A FIVE-YEAR all-encompassing expansion program for the city of Lubbock involving construction of a water system to provide for the city's needs for the next 25 years, erection of an auditorium-coliseum, projection of a traffic dispersal system of highways, extension of sewer and sewage disposals, improvement of airport facilities, additions to parks and recreational units and the planning of more than 51 miles of street lighting was outlined before the City commission by City Manager Marlin R. Smith in a special meeting at City hall Tuesday night.

The over-all program will call for the voting of a general bond issue of between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000, it was roughly estimated in preliminary discussion by commissioners of the plan.

Date for calling the bond issue hinges on preparation of detailed estimates of casts on the various projects, but commissioners expressed a desire to have the expansion program ready for submission to voters before the first of the year.

To Enter Business

Discussion of the five-year plan, which Manager Smith has been drawing up for the past several months, was climaxed at its close by the submission of the resignation of Smith as city manager, a position he has served the past three years, to enter private business as a consulting engineer.

Mayor O. W. Ribble read Smith's letter of resignation, which requested that it take effect on Dec. 1, 1945.

"Not this coming December," Commissioner Hub Jones jokingly remarked and then it was revealed that Smith had talked the matter over with members of the commission for the past several weeks. Repeated efforts had been made by Mayor Ribble and commissioners to get the manager to change his plans and stay on in his present position, Mayor Ribble said.

Long Period of Service

"I hate to give up my association with the city after having been here as long as I have," Smith said, "but I believe that now is the time to step down and continue in the work for which I have been trained."

Smith, a 1924 engineering graduate of Texas A. & M., came to Lubbock in 1924 with an engineering firm and two years later became city engineer, a position he held until being elevated to the managership on Sept. 18, 1942.

Smith's recommendations to the commission on the five-year expansion plan included a score or more of development projects, the major ones which have al-

Five Power Meet Breaks In Big Huff

By JOHN A. PARRIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 2. (AP)—The five-power conference of foreign ministers, after three weeks of discussing European peace settlements, ended tonight in apparent failure.

The ministers of the United States, Russia, Great Britain, France and China concluded their first peace talks in a deadlock over procedure which authoritative circles said would have to be resolved by President Truman, Premier Stalin ad Prime Minister Attlee.

No Joint Communique

This was the first meeting of the major powers in which no joint communique was issued at the conclusion of discussions. There was merely a brief announcement that the council had "decided to terminate its present session."

In an authorized statment, U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes disclosed that the issue which deadlocked the conference was Russia's insistance on barring France and China from discussions of Balkan peace treaties.

"There is good reason to believe," he added, "that with continued patience and understanding on all sides agreement on essentials can be attained.

"We are determined upon that outcome."

Date Problematical

No date was set, however, for any future meeting and, conference circles said, it probably would not be until the heads of the governments find some solution of the procedure issue.

Until such an agreement is reached, the deputies, who have been instructed to remain in London, will be unable to deal with the major problems awaiting settlement.

The discussion began Sept. 11 with the assignment to force the framework of the Italian peace treaty and to write the basic clauses of similar treaties for the beaten Axis statelites, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria.

No agreement apparently was reached on any major issue.

The adjournment capped a week end of bitter personal debate during which Russian Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov at one point was sai dto have threatened, after a tiff with British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, to leave the conference and return to Moscow.

Diplomatic quarters considered a meeting of the Big Three unlikely in the immediate future.

The big issue which threew the conference into the deadlock was the Soviet demand for strict adherence to the Potsdam formula in discussions of Balkan peace treaties. This formula would restrict the discussions to Russia, Great Britain and the United States.

Brynes' statement stressed that the United States took the position it would be "reluctant to see such narrow participation in the pending work on the European treaty and the elimination therefrom of two permanent members (France and China) of the United nations security council."

More Texas Plants Close

(By The Associated Press)

THE 24th Texas refinery closed Tuesday night and a 25th closing was set for today as CIO oil workers expanded their strike front in a fight for 30 per cent wage increases. Meanwhile the lights came an again yesterday in south central Texas towns blacked out by the sudden midnight strike of power workers.

Stills at the Sinclair Refining company in Fort Worth were shut down last night, first plant in Fort Worth to be affected. The plant employs 110 workers.

Refinery Shutting Down

From Corpus Christi came word that the Humble Oil and Refining company refinery will begin shutting down at 8 a. m. today. W. N. Hydrick, president of Local 316, Oil Workers International union, announced last night that 90 per cent of employes voting favored a strike.

At Beaumont, representatives of local unions in district four of the OWIU rejected the proposal of Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach to arbitrate salary differences between striking oil workers and refineries, Emile Zoller, representative of Local 243 said.

The Lower Colorado River Authority announced yesterday that it had fully restored electric power to all its customers except those at Lampasas and vicinity and that it had discharged all workers who had struck and hired war veterans to replace them.

Tie In Private Lines

Electricity was obtained from privately-owned utilities, from the city of Austin's plant, and from its own Austin dam plant, which it had put back in operation.

Lora said 90 of its 150 workers had struck; union sources said 140 had walked out.

Governor Coke Stevenson said "any man who commits sabotage on the property on which he is employed should not be re-employed." Lora said some of its properties had been damaged. Patrols were guarding lines and plants.

Six CIO pickets thrown around the Troup pumping station of the Sinclair Oil company near Kilgore caused a partial shutdown of the East Texas pipeline to Houston, G. M. Johnson, superintendent of the Texas division of Sinclair, said at Fort Worth.

The entire pipeline "probably

Jap Food Riots Mark Demands For Ouster Of Nip 'Feudalists'

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Wednesday, Oct. 3—Disclosure of a rice riot in northern Japan and a flood of letters from Japanese critics, demanding governmental changes, added strength today to reports that the Japanese cabinet may fall or be drastically revamped.

Yomiuri-Hoichi said 100 villagers in Otakasawa-Migayi prefecture broke into a government-owned warehouse Sept. 26 and took 54 bales of rice after the watchman refused permission for them to borrow some. Prefectural police subsequently made arrests and recovered most of the rice.

Short Allotments

"The village has a good record of forwarding rice to the government," Yomiuri-Hoichi said, "but currently is suffering a shortage of rice because the quantity allotted by the government is insufficient for its needs."

The newspaper Asahi said Premier Higashi-Kuni, who solicited public expressions a month ago, has been deluged by thousands of letters, particularly by women complaining of difficulties in obtaining food.

Asahi also reported numerous letter writers demanded "overthrowing" government bureaucracy and "general withdrawal of present higherups in political and financial circles."

Nine Already Resigned

Nine members of the House of Representatives already have submitted resignations to Speaker Toshio Shimada. Others are expected to follow.

The newspaper Mainichi speculated that Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida might be a candidate for the premiership, replacing Higashi-Kuni, because "he is free from all suspicion of being a war criminal."

With a forthrightness impossible under the old regime, the press demanded the dismissal of "feudalistic officials" such as those who tried to stop publication of the emperor's visit to General MacArthur.

After Munitions Industry

With his investigators already trocking down the spoils of war which Japanese exploiters gathered in the Orient, MacArthur set out today after the munitions industry that armed Japan's warriors.

He told the imperial government to submit a cmoplete report on the production of arms, ordnance, ammunition and automotive equipment from 1941 to August of this year, when the empire crashed in defeat.

Well-informed Japanese reported Emperor Hirohito was waiting quietly for the Japanese Army to finish demobilization, possibly by Oct. 15, before cleaning house in the government.

As part of that disarming, MacArthur's headquarters announced the imperial general air force had been completely demobilized and all air matter now were directly under American control.

Premier May Resign

Some Japanese sources said Premier Higashi-Kuni himself might resign because of mounting criticism of government delay in meeting the dire problems of food, fuel and housing shortages.

Some quarters believed that Vice Premier Fumimaro Konoye, premier shortly before Japan went to war with America, might again take the premiership should Higashi-Kuni resign.

Faced with almost certain ouster were at least three cabinet members who had an active hand in the war. They were:

War Minister Gen. Sadamu Shimomura, who once commanded forces in North China; Navy Minister Adm. Mitsumasa Yonai, a hold-over from Kantaro Suzuki's war-time cabinet, and Commerce Minister Shikuhei Nakajima, head of one of Japan's largest aircraft factories.

The newspaper Yomiuri-Hochi,

Coal Output Cut In Half

(By The Associated Press)

AN embargo was clamped last night on most shipments of bituminous coal from four eastern mining districts, and Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach extended for 24 hours the deadline for answering his proposed settlement of the spreading refinery strikes.

The growing soft coal strike, which has cut production in half, prompted the Solid Fuels administration to prohibit producers in the four districts from shipping to retail dealers and various other consumers "to safeguard public health and welfare."

In postponing his decision, the Labor secretary gave the CIO oil workers and 11 companies until 3 p. m. (CST) today to reply to his back-to-work proposal.

Other Developments

Other important labor developments of the day were:

1. New disputes plus the coal and spreading oil strikes raised to 415,000 the number of workers off the job due to labor troubles.

2. Nearly a fourth of the nation's soft coal miners and 214 mines were not working as a result of a supervisory employes walkout.

3. The CIO oil workers' strike, embracing 40,000 persons, spread to its 13th and 14th states—California and New Jersey—as the government - labor - management conciliation conference continued in Washington.

4. The Lower Colorado River Authority restored electric service to nearly all its Texas customers, fired AFL strikers who had shutdown four hydroelectric plants Monday, and offered their jobs to war veterans, a number of whom were hired.

New York Crippled

5. New York, crippled last week by a building service employes' strike which ended Monday, was hit yesterday by work stoppages of teamsters and longshoremen and a slowdown by bus drivers.

Schwellenbach announced that he deferred the deadline in the oil dispute at the request of nine of 11 companies represented at the conference to consider the CIO oil workers' demand for 30 per cent higher wage rates.

Two companies and the union, he said, had expressed readiness to reply to the proposal yesterday. Schwellenbach's decision was an-

Java Yields Big Horde Of Sugar

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson disclosed tonight that 1,600,000 tons of sugar have been discovered in the ports of Java since the Japanese surrendered.

Obviously pleased over the discovery, Anderson told newsmen at a conference that this sugar should very greatly shorten the period of rationing in this country. Heretofore, it has been expected that consumer rationing might be necessary through 1946.

Hope Held For More

Discovery of this sugar was reported to Anderson today by E. C. Zimmerman, commissioner for the Netherlands East Indies. He held out hope, the secretary said, that substantial additional amounts may be found in the interior of Java as well as on Borneo and other East Indies islands.

The sugar will be added to a United Nations pool.

Anderson said it should start moving to this country within two weeks.

Supplies Lowest Of Year

It will become available at a period when domestic supplies are at the lowest level of the year. Supplies recently allocated civilians for the October-December period were 28 per cent below those of any other quarter of this year.

The secretary announced he had been informed also that 35,000 tons of crude rubber had been found in Java. This information, he said, has been turned over to American rubber authorities.

Sugar To Be Shared

Anderson said the sugar will be apportioned among claimants to a United Nations pool by the combined food board, representing the United States, Great Britain, and Canada. He said no allocation had yet been made and he could not say yet how much this country would get.

However, the United States portion might run between 700,000 and 800,000 tons if divided on the basis of past allocations.

Anderson again expressed hope that all food rationing except sugar may be ended by January 1. In the case of sugar, he said it might be possible to end the rationing a few months later, limiting governmental distribution controls to refineries and industrial users.

He said bakers, whose quotas have been cut sharply, probably will be the first to get the benefit of the Javanese supply.

Start In Chest Drive Is Lauded

TRUMAN OPENS DRIVE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—President Truman opened the 1945 national war fund campaign tonight with an appeal for generous contributions to help war fund agencies "finish the job they were set up to do."

"War service has not ended," said the President in a broadcast from the White House. "I don't need to tell that to anyone whose son is still serving with the occupation forces or with the service troops in this country. For them the war is still going on."

ers are expected to be able to turn in complete reports today, he said.

Success Indicated

Results yesterday, Knowles asserted, indicated that the city would reach its part of the county quota without too much difficulty. He said that solicitations in the city should be wound up by Thursday while that in the rural areas, at the two local army air fields and Texas Technological college should be completed by Saturday.

Knowles declared that approximately $21,700 of the $50,505 to be collected in the current campaign will be expended in Lubbock county. The quota is the

Gen. Patton Ousted, Given 'Paper Army'

By JAMES F. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer

FRANKFORT ON THE MAIN, Germany, Oct. 2—General Eisenhower announced today he had ousted Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., as commander of the Third Army and administrator of Bavaria and had placed him in charge of a "paper army," the 15th.

The order, effective Oct. 7, followed complains that the pistol-packing, colorful Patton had kept Bavarian Nazis in office, and was made public just four days after the 59-year-old armored commander was called on the carpet to give a personal report to Eisenhower on his deNazification actions.

Reason Not Given

Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, who commanded the Fifth Army in Italy and later headed the Seventh Army, will succeed Patton as commander of the Third Army and administrator of the eastern military district.

The 15th Army at present consists only of headquarters and special troops engaged in research work on Allied relations during the war. It does not control any occupation area.

The official announcement gave no reason for the shift, but disclosed that Eisenhower had notified Patton of the transfer last Saturday, the day after Patton had been summoned to Frankfurt.

Patton Most Colorful

The announcement said:

"On Sept. 29, General Eisenhower notified Patton that he would be transferred on or about Oct. 7 to take command of the 15th Army and to head the theater general board, and that Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott would take command of the Third Army and the eastern military distrit. This

Telephone Tieup Set For Friday

Lubbock was slated Tuesday night to be without long distance telephone service for four hours Friday afternoon as members of the local of the Southwestern Telephone Workers union protest against a ruling by an examiner of the National Labor Relations board, The Morning Avalanche learned.

While officals of the Lubbock local last night had not yet received an alert which would preface a work stoppage, the Associated Press reported that J. J. Moran, vice president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers, had announced that members of the union would leave their jobs all over the country from 1 to 5 p. m. Friday. The STW is affiliated with the NFTW.

Not Against Company

The stoppage will not be an action directed against the Southwestern Bell Telephone company but instead a protest against the ruling recommending dissolution of the federation's Western Electric Employes associatoin at Kearney, N. J. It is a test case which affects Bell employes all over the nation, it was reported.

It was understood that should the association be eliminated control of NFTW workers would pass to the CIO.

Local dial service, which operates automatically, will not be affected. However, no operators will be present to answer requests for toll services nor will there be maintenance employes available during the four-hour period to make repairs. Leased wires which supply the Avalanche-Journal and radio station KFYO with state, national and world news will remain open and service will be uninterrupted.

Tax Slash Voted By House Group

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 — The House Ways and Means committee voted today to remove 12,000,000 low income persons from the income tax rolls in 1946 and to cut the total individual income tax burden almost half a billion dollars deeper than the administration recommended.

Fred A. Vinson, secretary of the treasury, had asked a $2,085,000,000 cut in the individual taxes. The committee voted an estimated $2,500,000,000. It has yet to act on his recommendations for corporation and other reductions. If it approves them without change, its total proposed cut would amount to $5,500,000,000.

Normal Tax Retained

Vinson had recommended that the 3 per cent "normal tax" on individual incomes be repealed outright.

The committee brushed this suggestion aside. It tentatively approved (subject to possible revision later) a substitute proposal by Rep. Carlson (R-an) which would:

1. Keep the normal tax, but with the more liberal exemptions now applied to surtaxes. The normal tax now is levied against net income over $500 without regard to the number of taxpayer's dependents. The surtax exemptions, which would be applied to the normal levy, allow the taxpayer tax free net income of $500 for himself and $500 for each dependent.

2. Reduce the surtaxes by four percentage points in each of the

Highway Program Gets Go-Ahead Signal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—An immediate start on a three-year $3,000,000,000 federal-state highway construction program got an okay from Congress today.

It came when the Senate without debate and in two minutes adopted a House-approved resolution saying there is no reason to hold up any longer a program approved last December as a post-war employment cushion.

The resolution does not require the President's signature.

The program is the first big postwar public works project to get a go ahead.

Worked out in detail 10 months ago, it provides for a federal outlay of $500,000,000 a year for the next three years to match, dollar-for-dollar, state expenditures on highways.

In addition, it provides for federal expenditures of $87,250,000 annually over the same period for construction of roads and trails in forests, parks and Indian lands.

Globester On Way In

By PAUL MILLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

GUAM, Wednesday, Oct. 3—The Globster developed engine trouble today on the homestretch and was forced to return to Guam after it had sped 315 miles along the road to Kwajalein.

This was but a temporary interruption of the first around-the-world flight of the Army Transport command, and passengers were quickly transferred to another plane for the resumed flight.

The four engined world traveler developed magneto trouble and the No. 2 engine cut out.

With 1,236 miles still to be flown to Kwajalein, Capt. Marion H. Click of Denver, Colo., made the decision to turn back to Guam.

(The Army Transport command at Honolulu said the globe-girding plane was scheduled to arrive there at 9 a. m. Wednesday, instead of 11 a. m., as first announced. The plane picks up a day by crossing the international dateline.)

The Globster, scheduled to be in Washington by Thursday, had left Guam at 3:15 a. m. (1:15 p. m. Tuesday, cst.) and return at 7:05 a. m.

The delay came after a full day in which the Globsters' eight round-the-world passengers:

1. Ate breakfast in Kunming, China, after flying at 14,500 feet across the Himalayas;

2. Had lunch at Manila and

DALLAS, Oct. 2. (AP)—John M. Scott, attorney for three Texas textile mills, told the regional War Labor board at a show-cause hearing here today that the companies would refuse to comply with its orders.

Scott represented the Hillsboro Cotton mills, Itasca Cotton Manufacturing company and Corsicana cotton mills which had been cited to show cause why orders of the board in labor disputes had not been put into effect.

"The board's orders never have had any legal effect," Scott stated. "I think there was strictly a public duty during th war to accept the board's orders and follow thme. However, the public duty expired with that condition (the war) expored.

"I do not think the public is morally obligated to accept the board's directives now."

The Hillsboro and Itasco mills were cited on complaints of the Textile Workers of America (CIO) and the Corsicana mill on complaint of the United Textile Workers of America (AFL).

Paul Schuler, international representative of the CIO union, replied to Scott's statement, saying: "There is no justification of that position in the light of the present day civilization or in moral decency."

Japs' Balloons Most Expensive, Biggest Flops Of War Weapons

By RUSSELL BRINES
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Oct. 2—Japan's paper balloon bombs, launched by the thousands at the western United States, were perhaps one of the war's most expensive and ineffective revenge weapons.

More than 9,000,000 yen—over $2,000,000 at pre-war exchange—was spent to manufacture the odd weapon. Two years were required to complete experiments.

9,000 Are Launched

And 9,000 of the big paper balloons were launched from three sites near Tokyo before the whole fantastic affair was abandoned because neither the Japanese nor the Americans paid any attention to it.

The balloon bomb was Japan's V-1 weapon in efforts to get revenge for the Doolittle raid on Tokyo in April, 1942.

The staff officers technical section, Japanese headquarters, explained today the surprise raid had so angered Tokyo militarists they determined to discover a weapon for retaliation.

Families Made Balloons

They finally concluded a big paper balloon, carrying a bomb to start forest fires and frighten civilians, would do the trick.

Japan had to use paper for the balloons because the country was so poor, technical officers said. So the five big paper sheets of each balloon were glued together in the homes of many families.

Scientists figured each balloon could carry bombs weighing 30 pounds. They would shoot up more than 10,000 yards and drift toward the United States on east eastward winds. Timers were set to explode them in from 40 to 50 hours.

Learned Of Only One

The Japanese listened eagerly to radio reports, hoping to hear of the bombs effectiveness. But American editors voluntarily kept the information to themselves and so discouraged the Japanese they abandoned the project.

The Japanese learned of only one bomb landing in the United States. It was one which came down in Wyoming and failed to explode.

(More than 200 of the bombs were reported found in the western United States, but property damage was negligible. Some children on a picnic in Oregon found one bomb which exploded and killed six.)

700,000 Jobs Vacant Although Two Million Persons Unemployed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (AP) — Although more than 2,000,000 persons are unemployed, some 700,000 jobs are going begging.

Government manpower officials today advanced some theories why this should be.

The job openings are listed by the United States Employment Service, which said the answer probably lies in a combination of these circumstances:

1. Many of those laid off possess specialized skills for which there is no current demand.

2. Some, accustomed to high wartime wages, are shopping around for a good-paying job in civilian production.

3. A large number of the jobs listed do not pay well.

4. Many war workers decided to take a vacation—for some their first in three or four years.

An Employment Service official who asked anonymity said he believes the matter of jobs not matching skills is one of the principal reasons why some are not being filled.

The great majority of persons laid off since the war ended had jobs in manufacturing industries, the official noted. On the other hand, most of the current openings are in agriculture, the service and trade industries and finance.

Mrs. Julius Y. Talmadge, DAR president general, said today that the controversy over allowing Hazel Scott, negro pianist, to give a concert in the Hall will be brought before the executive committee here between Oct. 8 and 11.

Mrs. Talmadge acknowledged that rules of the DAR barred negroes from appearing in the Hall.

'Rules governing the operation of Constitution Hall were established in 1932," she said. "Conforming to customs prevailing in the District of Columbia, these rules limit the appearance in Constitution Hall to white artists only. The matter of changing the established rules will be brought before the executive committee at its meeting in October."

Earlier President Truman was asked to "do something" about the ban on Miss Scott's appearance in the Hall. The concert originally was planned for Oct. 20.

Big Payment Is Made On U. S. Oil Property

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP) — Rafael De La Colina, charge d-affaires, presented Acting Secretary of State Dean Acheson today with a check for $4,085,327.45 in part payment for American oil properties expropriated in 1938 by Mexico.

The State department said $8,170,654.90 remained to be paid within the next two years to liquidate the original debt of $29,137,700.84.

China's Mr. In-Between Is Kept Squelched By Press Censorship

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2 (AP)—Mr. In-Between could be heard talking all the way from China today.

This Mr. In-Between isn't like the one in the song. It's a good idea to mess around with him. There are very many of him in China and he hasn't much to say about what happens to him and his country. He hasn't been heard from for a long time.

WHITE

He isn't a member of the Kuomintang (party) which has been running the country, and he isn't a Communist who wants to reform it radically.

This particular Mr. In-Between happens to be a Chinese educator named Dr. Lo Lung-Chi. He talked today to Clyde Farnsworth of the Associated Press. There are a lot of Chinese like him, who think the Kuomintang under Chiang Kai-Shek's leadership has been too preoccupied with preserving its own position and the Chinese Communists too anxious to turn the Kuomintang out and take its place.

Most Are In-Between

Most Chinese are in-betweens and we haven't heard from them because of the press censorship exercised by the Kuomintang government.

Dr. Lo told Farnsworth that American troops landing in Tientsin might indirectly complicate the solution of China's internal fight between the Kuomintang and the Communists. This is because the Marines are to be replaced by Kuomintang troops who then may start fighting the Communist troops which are all around Tientsin.

Dr. Lo does not say so, but he seems to be suggesting that taking over such isolated areas from the Japanese might well await some conclusive political settlement in Chungking of the whole Communist-Kuomintang disagreement.

Capt. Treadway Is Optimist Club Speaker

Capt. Gordan Treadway, intelligence officer of Lubbock Army Air field, spoke on the problems facing the nation now that the defeat of Japan has been accomplished, at a luncheon Tuesday of the Optimist club at the Lubbock hotel.

Following a business meeting presided over by L. D. Casey, club president, four new members were initiated by M. L. Shepherd and Cliff Elliott. Initiated into membership were H. A. Padgett, jr., Roy Forkner, J. T. Davis and Charlie Greer.

Announcement was made that the next meeting, which will be during Optimist Week, will present I. E. McWhirter of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram staff, and that wives of members are invited.

Guests were Marion Key, Perry Adams, James H. Kimmell, jr., H. P. Watkins, Sam Allred, James Mangum, James Thomas, Guy Wheatley, H. D. Bullock, Joe Merle Sherrod, Ralph Bumpass, Mike Haynes and J. C. Hughes.

Pvt. Dan Barnes To Start Home Soon

Mrs. Dora Breedlove of route 2, Lubbock, has been informed by the War department that her son, Pvt. Dan Barnes was liberated from a Jap prison camp, Sept. 14, and that he is being returned to the United States in the near future.

BARNES

The official message said that Pvt. Barnes' condition is good. A wire from the boy, captured on Java while fighting with the 131st field artillery battalion, included with that of the War department, said, "Don't worry, I'm o.k. Home soon."

A letter Mrs. Breedlove received Saturday from her son written after his liberation while he was aboard ship assured her that he is on his way home. He wrote shortly before the ship was to dock and said, "I haven't time to write more, so give my love to all the kids and dad and anyone else you see that knows me. Love to all, Dan."

Pvt. Barnes' twin brother, Pvt. Don. Barnes, also with the "Lost Battalion" on Java, was reported killed in action in an airplane crash before the island surrendered to the Japanese.

Tenth AF Moves Away Into Nanking Area

SHANGHAI, Oct. 2. (AP)—Airmen of the U. S. Tenth Air Force, in a hurry to get home, flew the 30,000 men of the Chinese Sixth army from Chingiang to Nanking in 23 days, 20 days less than the time allotted for the job.

The Sixth army was flown in to effect the surrender of 70,000 Nipponese at Nanking.

Col. C. A. Miller, College Station, Texas, was commander of the Nanking airdrome.

REGIONAL WPB TO CLOSE

DALLAS, Oct. 2. (AP)—George L. Noble, jr., director of the Regional War Production board, said the agency would close Nov. 1, except for a small maintenance staff. At its peak, the board employed 450 persons. Noble will retain his duties until Dec. 1.

QUITS USING HARSH LAXATIVES

Famous Cereal helps ex-constipation sufferer

Are medicinal laxatives too harsh for your system? Then read this unsolicited letter:

"I am a retired Mail Carrier and since I quit pounding the sidewalks I haven't had the exercise and I found it necessary to take medicinal laxatives until I discovered ALL-BRAN. I really think that medicinal laxatives are a little harsh when a person gets along in years: I am 68." James J. Walker, 612 8th Street South, Minneapolis 4, Minn.

You, too, may never have to take another pill or purgative—if your trouble is constipation due to lack of bulk. Eat a dish of KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day, and drink plenty of water. If not satisfied, send the empty carton to Kellogg's of Battle Creek. You will receive double the money you paid for it. ALL-BRAN is not a purgative. It's a wholesome, naturally regulating cereal made from the vital outer layers of wheat. Provides gentle-acting bulk, helpful to normal laxation.

Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg's of Battle Creek and Omaha. Adv

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

JUDGING from conversations with several mothers, we believe that Central Standard time for Lubbock means most that the children won't have to be put to bed before dark and aroused before daylight to go to school.

WE DISAGREE

WHEN Repr. George H. Mahon returned to the United States recently from an overseas mission during which time he visited Army installations in the Pacific area and CBI theater he said that disposition of supplies abroad is keeping many soldiers from returning home. We could understand that all right but the congressman went on to say that the people at home cannot realize just how anxious the men of our armed forces are to get home. That statement puzzles us.

What does Mr. Mahon mean when he says the folks at home cannot realize how anxious the men are to return? In all the homes where arrivels, long overdue, are being "sweated out" don't they know it?

Don't Lubbock wives who have received those letters that say "I think I'll leave for home within the next ten days; don't write again" know how anxious the men are to come home?

Don't mothers who receive as answer to their "Son, what would you like in your Christmas package?" a wonderful reply of "Don't send a thing Mom, I'll be there hanging on the tree this year" know how anxious the men are to come home?

Don't postmen who share bits of news in letters from service men to their families realize how anxious the men are to get home when since the surrender that is about all they have written about?

Yes, Mr. Mahon we know how anxious the men are to come home and we are just as anxious for them to get here.

RETURNING GIs

SEVERAL months ago when it became apparent the war was nearing its end, the magazines and newspapers were filled with articles on how the civilian must prepare himself to treat the returning veteran. Reading them, one became appalled at suggestions as to how changed the men would be from what they were when we told them goodbye as they left for war. Why it was even hinted that they would start a crime wave!

The writer read as many of those articles as she could find, trying to acquire a proper "psychological approach" and wondering how it was going to work. We wanted to be sure we would say and do the right thing when the men returned.

It suddenly occurred to us the other day after we had been talking with several ex-servicemen that we had forgotten all about psychology and philosophy and the "new way" and our conversation had been just what it would have been with any other civilians. The special approach, apparently, had flown out of the window.

One former officer helped us by saying that those who have seen violence and men die are changed at the time because it isn't a natural thing to kill and to see your buddies die in rotting jungles or on sandy beaches or in the brooding hills. But, mark my word, where there will be one fellow who presents a maladjustment problem, there will be eleven who soon will sip back into the pursuits of peaceful life."

BEAUTY KNOWS

DO you know that meat, eaten moderately, is the most digestible and most nutritious part of our foods?

Do you know that a good comb has smooth, wide apart teeth with blunt tips?

Do you know that milk is the almost perfect food and is an invaluable article of diet for every individual of any age?

Do you know that it is harmful to teeth and gums to brush horizontally—that is, across the surface from side to side and that the motion should be vertical?

FASHION HINT

WITH dress design becoming simpler, millinery had gone wild. If we would offer advice to those who wear the new hats, it would be to choose a simple, basic costume beneath that extravagant headgear.

Auxiliary Committee To Plan Activities

Special child welfare repost was given by Mrs. Marvin McLarty, and new members were introduced by the American Legion auxiliary Monday night at Legion hall, Mrs. Riley Duff, president, presided in the regular opening ceremony.

An executive meeting was planned for this afternoon at Legion hall, 4 p. m., to schedule activities for the year and make yearbooks. It was announced that forty-five memberships have been paid for 1946. Any wife, mother or sister of a member of the American Legion or a veteran who died in service is eligible to join.

Mesdames Jim Cade, George Berry and Miss Mae Murfee attended the state convention of the auxiliary in Fort Worth recently. Mrs. Berry reported on the student loan fund, Miss Murfee officiated as state chapiain, and Mrs. Cade attended as 19th district president.

Shelley White Given Birthday Party

Shelley White was honored with a party on her fifth birthday Sunday, given by her mother, Mrs. James White of 1514 Twenty-Eighth. Games were played, and fruit jello and cake were served. Candy cups were favors.

Children attending were: Lindia Kay Hawkins, Clark Mires, Donna Helm, Joy Bennett, Allan Ingley, Bobby Fenley, David Kennedy, Sharon, Judy and Linda Jones.

Adults present included the honoree's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. White, Mrs. A. A. Kennedy and Mesdames Gaston Jones and Floy Dye.

Shelley was sent gifts from her father, who is in the South Pacific, Gary Yoggy of National City, Calif and Clifford White.

Vernon Connell Given Birthday Dinner

Vernon R. Connell, who served in the European theater and is now attending Tech, was honored with a dinner on his twenty-second birthday Sunday, given by his mother, Mrs. M. A. Connell, 1816 Ave. O.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. P. Bowman of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Young, and granddaughter, Charlene Washburn of Morton and Mrs. Allyne Nelson of Stockton, Calif.

Mrs. Young and Mrs. Nelson are sisters of the honoree.

Jews Ridicule Charges That Lot Now As Bad As That Under Nazis

By JOHN B. McDERMOTT
United Press Staff Writer

FELDAFING, Bavaria, Oct. 1. (Delayed)—Ragged Jews are living 12 to 40 to a room in this displaced persons camp, but they ridiculed charges that their lot was almost as bad as it had been in Nazi concentration camps.

The charges had been made by Earl G. Harrison, an official American investigator, in a formal report by President Truman. He described the camps as filthy, unsanitary, inefficient and behind wire.

Most Protected

We found neither barbed wire nor Gestapo-like guards at this camp.

The majority of Jews live in tile-roofed, bleak apartments well protected from the cold. Though crowded up to 40 in a room, all sleep on bunks.

They are living better than some of the inhabitants of New York's east side slums or many factory districts in the United States.

Hundreds of Jews are being nursed back to the health they lost in concentration camps. About 20 per cent of the 4,300 inmates have some form of tuberculosis, but a Jewish doctor said most were recovering.

Things Look Better

Red-bearded Rabbi Ezekial Ruttner told newsmen who flew here for a surprise inspection.

"Things have been better for the Jews since our liberation. Now it seems even more things are being done to make things better."

This camp perhaps was not the worst example of those condemned by Harrison, but neither was it the best. We picked it at random when Lt. Gen. Walter B. Smith, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's chief of staff offered to fly us to any detention camp we chose.

Patton's Attitude Explained

We arrived here within two hours of the time we made our choice—hardly time enough for the camp to be warned and tidied for inspection.

Eisenhower himself visited this and other Bavarian camps two weeks ago and immediately ordered the military governor of Bavaria, Gen. George S. Patton, to seize neighboring German dwellings to relieve congested conditions for the Jews.

Until Eisenhower's visit, it was apparent that Patton took little personal interest in Jewish welfare here. Col. James H. Polk of El Paso, Tex., the camp commander, admitted that the "heat" had been turned on only in the past two weeks.

Polk could not recall having received any specific directives from Patton's headquarters for marked improvement in camp conditions until after Eisenhower's visit.

"Since then," he said, "I have been getting orders fire dat me so fast that I have been unable to keep up with them."

He said Patton earlier today had visited the camp and seemed pleased with the results.

Pvt. Geo. T. Lawley Awaiting Passage

Pvt. Geo. T. Lawley, 23, son of Mrs. Rachel Lawley, 2622 Twenty-fourth, member of the "Lost Battalion," has been liberated and is now in Manila, P. I., awaiting passage home, a letter to his mother written Sept. 24 and received by her Tuesday afternoon revealed.

The letter, which contained a picture of her son, was the first word Mrs. Lawley had received from him since May 19, 1944, when he wrote from Thailand. Pvt. Lawley said he had been transferred from Thailand to Japan, where he spent the last seven months of the war.

He was flown from Okinawa to Manila, the letter said, and he expects to be coming home soon.

Pvt. Lawley was employed by the American Optical company here prior to going into service in 1940. 9 brother, Maj. Wm. B. Lawley, stationed at Cairo, Egypt, visited his mother last week and is now on his way to Egypt.

PROVOST MARSHAL DIES

HOUSTON, Oct. 2. (U.P.) — Maj. Neil Killough, provost marshal in the Houston area for the past year, was found dead in his room at the Rice hotel today, apparently the victim of a heart attack. He was 50 years old.

Services Set Today For Albert L. Jones

Funeral services for Albert Lester Jones, 53, former civil service worker at the Alamogordo Army Air field, will be conducted at 10 o'clock this morning in the chapel of Plains Funeral home. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery.

A verdict of death from gunshot wounds self inflicted was entered Tuesday morning by D. W. Robertson, justice of peace, who investigated the death of Jones Monday night.

Some authorities believe that the ruins near Guaqui, Bolivia, antedate the Pyramids of Egypt.

Newhouser, Borowy Named As World Series Starters

DETROIT, Oct. 2 (AP)—This Motor city was jammed to the rafters with baseball World Series fans today as the Detroit Tigers and Chicago Cubs went through their final limbering-up for tomorrow's opening tussle of the seven-game championship set.

Not a hotel room was to be found by late arrivals, and two lake steamers being used as floating hostels were packed. Briggs stadium, with its more than 55,000 seats, including some 14,000 bleachers, was certain to be a sell-out at game time, 2:30 p. m. C. S. T.

Pat On Pitchers

The rival managers, Steve O'Neill of the Tigers and Charlie Grimm of the Cubs, stood pat on their pitching choice for the opener. Hal Newhouser, Detroit's 25-game winner, was to face Hank Borowy, the $100,000 beauty who won 11 for the Cubs while losing only two in the final two months of the National League race. He won 10 for the Yankees before the Cubs got him.

With Newhouser, a slim southpaw, prepared to bear down on the Cubs' left-handed hitting array of Phil Cavarretta, Stan Hack and Bill Nicholson, the Tigers remained firm 5-to-7 favorites to win the opener, and 10-13 choice

KFYO CARRIES SERIES

Radio station KFYO, Lubbock, will carry the play-by-play account of the World Series, opening today in Detroit, station officials announced. The airways will be turned over to "King Baseball" at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon, and the game will start at 12:30 p. m. of the bookmaking gentry to capture the series. The first three games will be played here, after which the clubs will jump overnight to Chicago to finish the set.

Borowy will have the important advantage of having pitched against the American League champions for a number of years while he was with the Yanks. He knows their batting weaknesses, and Grimm has never wavered in his belief that the youthful-looking righthander will get the Cubs off on the winning side. The Tigers, speaking privately, have expressed a lot of respect for Borowy's skill.

O'Neill Is Confident

While O'Neill predicted flatly that his Tigers, who had to fight right down to the final day to sew up their flag, would capture the series by four games to two, Grimm preferred to let the Cubs' bats speak for themselves. Neither would hesitate to say who might pitch the second game for him. O'Neill was on record that Stubby Overmire, another lefthander, would face the Cubs in the second bout if Newhouser should win the first. Otherwise he said it would be Virgil Trucks, a righthander. Claude Passeau was Grimm's second game nominee.

Series weather prospects were fairly promising. Although a chill wind blew today and a drizzle fell on the Tigers while they worked out before noon, Selfridge Field advised that the sun would be out tomorrow and that it likely would be no colder than 60 degrees at game time.

Grimm thought he would be able to start his crack second-baseman Don Johnson, in the opener. Johnson's neck, injured in a collision with Umpire Babe Pinelli in Cincinnati last Thursday, was just about mended. Otherwise the Cubs reported in top shape for the battle, and the Tigers were getting around fairly spryly, too, except that Greenberg still limped on an injured right ankle and promises not to cover a great deal of territory in left field.

City Is Crowded

To confuse the situation further, the oil workers strike had upset the city transportation systems. Buses and streetcars carried abnormal loads because thousands of private cars with empty gasoline tanks were out of service.

Cafe and bar men got set for a terrific demand, and it was sure that that chip of butter with each dinner order was going to be sliced thin if it wa sto go around.

Scalpers of World Series tickets were busy. The ball park was sold out of reserved seats long ago for the three games here—there had been 300,000 applications for tomorrow's game—and scalpers were reported asking as high as $50 to $60 for strips of three tickets. The straight price is $18.

Pairings Named For Semi-Finals

Pairings for the semi-final round in all flights of the city championship golf tournament at Lubbock Country club were announced Tuesday afternoon by Herb Schroeder, club pro, and matches must be played off by Saturday night.

Chick Trout, defending champion, moved into the semi-final round Tuesday afternoon, winning 4 and 3 over Roy Howard to complete the foursome in semi-final play. Trout will play Raymond Marshall in the semi-finals. O. A. Terry and Dr. W. A. Schaal will play the other semi-final match.

Finals On Sunday

Finals will be Sunday, with 36 holes in the KFYO (championship) flight. All other flights will be 18 holes.

In the championship consolation flight, the pairings will be J. D. Hinson and P. H. Polk in one match, while Cpl. T. N. Russell will play Dr. J. H. Stiles in the other match.

Pairings in the Hemphill-Wells flight will pair H. M. Chick and Sgt. R. L. Stuart in one match, Henry Eidson and Jimmy Yates in the second match.

In the consolation, M. K. Dean plays F. L. McRee and H. L. Allen plays Jimmy Samson.

Pairings in hte semi-finals of the Avalanche-Journal flight will send W. E. McAlister against Waldo Trotter and Dr. R. L. McAllister will play Robert H. Bean.

In the consolation round, E. H. Armstrong plays Fred Bucy, and Wilkie Tolbert plays J. B. McClendon.

Reddy Kilowatt Flight

Pairings in the Reddy Kilowatt flight will match Walter Granberry against Ralph Garnett, and Hiram Parks against C. P. Anderson.

In the consolation bracket, Sy Gooden plays O. A. Brock, and Cliff Dean plays Al Townsend.

The pairings in the Dunlap flight will match Creston Fish with Powell McWhirter and Tom Lemond and Jack Markham.

Consolation pairings will be C. D. Doggett against Sam Campbell and J. N. Brock against H. D. Delaney.

The pairings in the Country club flight will be Lewis Kerr against A. C. Jackson and C. J. Norton against C. O. Campbell.

Schroeder also urged that all members planning to attend the barbecue Monday night make their reservations at the club before 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

EASE UP WORKOUTS?

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP) — John (Ox) Da Grosa, fast-talking Holy Cross coach, knocked the props out from under one of football's fundamentals today when he insisted that strenuous contact work was not only unnecessary but undesirable in preparation for games.

Raiders Continue Hard Scrimmage

Busted knuckles, skinned noses, black eyes, loosened teeth and other minor ailments that go along with rough scrimmage sessions were becoming very much in vogue Tuesday afternoon at Tech stadium as Coach Dell Morgan, head ringmaster of the Texas Aggies continued to crack the whip as he drilled the Raiders for Saturday afternoon's battle with the Texas Longhorns at Austin.

Tuesday afternoon, the Red Raiders knocked heads until darkness settled over the stadium, and it became too dark to see the ball. It was a carbon copy of Monday's rugged scrimmage session, but found the more rugged boys begging for more of it.

"That's what we have needed all along," remarked one veteran lineman. "If we had been used to this before, it would have been a different story Saturday night. We were not ready, then, but we will be Saturday."

Need Rough Work

The team still showed lots of signs of needing more work, and it was ragged in spots. But there were a few bright spots in the picture, and they shone, even under the leaden skies that brought an early darkness, and an early stop to the head knocking.

Ed Robnett was showing lots of class in the backfield, and after a late start in workouts since joining the Red Raiders after his discharge from the Army, he appears to be getting into form. He was hitting the line hard, hitting it low, and showing worlds of drive. He will likely be heard from farther down the line.

Jackson Looks Good

Jiggs Jackson was getting lots of work at the quarterback slot, and was showing up well from this post. Jackson was firing bullet passes to all parts of the field, and doing a fine job of finding the mark.

Two boys who worked largely on the defense, but were showing up well were Otis Turner, co-captain and veteran center, and Frank Ottmers at end. Jack Hinson was looking good in the defensive secondary during much of the scrimmage session.

Morgan indicated that there would be another generous serving of head knocking on the menu for this afternoon, and still more, but maybe lighter scrimmage, for Thursday. The squad of 33 will leave for Austin Friday morning.

Ellsworth, Walmsley May Return To Texas

HOUSTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—George Walmsley and Ralph Ellsworth, former All-Southwest conference football players, may return to Rice and Texas respectively.

This became known after Walmsley and Ellsworth, who were enrolled at Annapolis Naval academy, were informed they could not receive commissions after graduating because of physical ailments.

Ellsworth already has tendered his resignation.

Walmsley and Ellsworth would both be eligible to play this season if they are scholastically eligible in the opinion of Dr. Hubert Bray of Rice, president of the Southwest Conference.

Westerners Polish Offense For Friday

Scrimmage again took up the afternoon for the Lubbock Westerners, as Coaches Dixie White and George Philbrick drove toward perfection in the attack for the battle here Friday night with the Lamesa Golden Tornado.

The offense took the spotlight Tuesday afternoon, and White said after the workout, that another scrimmage session was carded for today, with the accent on defense.

Lanham Is Out

John Lanham, first-string fullback, was counted out Tuesday afternoon, and will not be in the lineup against Lamesa Friday night. Lanham came out of the Big Spring game last week with a bruised shoulder, and has been on the sidelines this week.

George Brewer, the bounded halfback of the Westerners, and chief ground gainer, was running from the fullback slot Tuesday afternoon, and showing lots of drive.

Bill Carter was working a lot at center Tuesday, and likely will be on hand to spell Captain Charles Presley a little farther down the line.

The new combination will allow the three top scoring backs of the Westerners to all work together, with Brewer holding a slight edge over Don "Speck" Austin through the three games played to date.

Brewer Grabs Lead

Brewer snatched the lead last Friday from Austin, running his season's total to three touchdowns and an extra point for 19 points. Austin has scored in each of the three games, one time each, for 18 points. Noel Sikes has scored one touchdown and ran over one extra point for seven points. The remaining point was run over last week by John Paul Jones.

Lubbock will put on a real grid show Friday night, and will show off all the youngsters who back up the varsity Westerners during the program.

E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey announced that every football player in the school system will be at the game in uniform Friday night. This will include, besides the playing Westerners, two Cowhand teams, four Cowboy teams and eight touch football clubs of the grade schools. The figure will touch close to 300 boys.

Seventy species of maple occur throughout the world.

Harris Named Coach Of O'Donnell Squad

O'DONNELL, Oct. 2. (Special)—William Lee Harris trades his Army uniform for a sweatshirt and whistle here this week, and takes over as coach of the O'Donnell Eagles to fill another coaching post that had been open at the start of the year.

The Eagles, pushed around rather handily in the first two games, will eb at home this week, playing Seagraves here Friday night. Seagraves, winner in one conference game, and loser in another, will be favored.

Coach Harris indicated this week that he would make several shakeups in the lineup for Friday night, hoping to find a better working combination.

Cowboy Teams Plan Busy Day Thursday

Cowboy gridmen from Lubbock Junior High school have a busy day for Thursday afternoon, and all four teams will be in action on three fronts.

Headlining the schedule for Thursday will be the game scheduled for the junior high field, pairing Bob Parker's Reds with Russell Wimberley's Whites in a "family feud" showdown.

J. Mule Davis will take his Blues to Tahoka, while Roy Morris' Purples will invade Petersburg.

It will be a big day at Petersburg, with junior high eleven playing an afternoon game there, and Coach Curtis Barrett's Cowhand Blacks moving in for a night battle with Petersburg High school.

Sky Giants Set For LAAF Tilt

AMARILLO, Oct. 2 (Special) — Suddenly looming up as a threat to the football squads of the Southwest, the Amarillo Army Air Field Sky Giants are fast getting prepared for their season opener Saturday with Lubbock AAF, at Lubbock.

The Sky Giants have spent the past week working on their pass offense and defense. Herb Burton, Auburn star, and Sky Giant ace of last year, has been hurling the ball from the tailback position.

Backfield Is Strong

The Sky Giant backfield is the major factor in their hopes for a successful season. Starting against Lubbock will be the four powerful ball toters. Johnny Blatnik will start at fullback, and puts his 200 pounds to good use when crushing a line. Herb Burton will dig his cleats into the sod from the tail back berth. Burton was a star at Auburn before entering the service, and is the fastest man on the Giant Squad.

Capt. Dan Salkeld will start Bruno Pacini at half, and Bill Soper will do the quarterbacking. Pacini played plenty of ball for Niagara University, and Soper is one of Alonzo Staggs proteges. He carried the ball three years for College of Pacific.

Line Is Heavy

Lt. Francis Rish, Amarillo line coach, will have a line that outweighs Lubbock by 15 pounds. His forward wall possesses power, and plenty of reserve. On the ends will be R. Morse, and Bill Walterskirchen. Walterskirchen formally played for Montana State University. Bill Timmons, and Jasper D'Ambrosi will add their 220 and 207 pounds to the tackle spot.

Bill Sadlik, former Semi-pro player with the Wallington Cardinals at Wallington, N. J. will pass the ball from center. Heper and Kent complete the forward wall in the guard spots.

The Amarillo backfield averages 179 pounds, and the line averages 194 pounds. Coaches Salkeld and Rish make no statement as to the possible outcome of the Lubbock game.

More than 15,000,000 pounds of hydrogen peroxide were produced in the first half of 1945 in the United States.

Patton Springs And Dickens Tie, 20-20

PATTON SPRINGS, Oct. 2 (Special)—Patton Springs and Dickens High schools tangled on the football field in the first conference game of the Dickens loop of six-man football here this afternoon and when the final score was written the count stood at a deadlock 20 to 20.

The game was postponed from last Friday due to rain.

Dickens drew first blood in the opening quarter when Carlton Dodson pushed across a touchdown and Lloyd Holley kicked the extra point. A few minutes later Billy Sharp passed 30 yards to J. W. Whatley who ran 30 yards more for the second touchdown. Holley kicked the extra point, making it 14 points for Dickens.

Patton Springs reversed the affair in the second quarter, scoring 13 points with Billy Miller and W. J. McSpadden scoring touchdowns and Marion Young running over the extra point after the second score.

The third quarter was scoreless and in the fourth quarter Young scored again for the locals, running around end for the extra point to make the score 20 to 14 in favor of Patton Springs.

In the last few minutes of the game, Sharp passed to Billy Cumbie for 35 yards and the final Dickens touchdown but the try for extra point failed.

Dickens plays Jayton at Dickens Friday in another conference contest.

WAR DATE WINS

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—War Date won the 75th Ladies handicap at Belmont park today, placing her owner, Mrs. Elizabeth (Arden) Graham, ahead of film magnate Louis B. Mayer as leading money winner of the season.

City Launches Giant Program

ready been mentioned.

The program, besides calling for these major points, included contemplated expansion of the fire, police and other departments of the city. Fire department expansions during the five years would provide for three new fire stations located strategically throughout the city, an additional aerial truck and other equipment.

Police department expansion plans call for enlargement of the police station, equipment and personnel additions.

A third floor on the present City hall building to provide for additional space for city offices is also included in the program.

Airport Expansion Planned

Airport development plans call for construction of an administration building two or more large hangars and approximately 50 T-hangars at the port.

Additional street lights are planned to include four and one-half miles of whiteway in the main business section, seven miles of additional lights in secondary business areas, nine miles on major traffic routes and six miles on secondary traffic routes in addition to more than 25 miles of lights in residential areas.

The program also provides for a complete new traffic light system for Lubbock and additional lights at many points throughout the city.

Water Softeners Planned

Construction of the water system which will provide for an estimated 25,000,000 gallons a day from a system of wells and storage to the northeast and northwest of Lubbock also calls for the installation of water softening plants for the city. Water softening alone would mean an estimated saving in soap costs of $13 a year per family, it was pointed out.

Expansion in the parks and recreation department would call for the construction of at least one additional swimming pool, the addition of seven wading pools in residence parks, tennis courts and other recreational facilities.

Extension of sewers, both sanitary and storm, would provide for requirements of the city for many years to come.

Highlights Four-Hour Session

Discussion of the five-year plan and Smith's resignation highlighted a four-hour meeting of the commission which also resulted in the passage of a resolution in support of grade A milk producers in their application to the Office of Price Administration to raise the ceiling price on grade A milk to $4.15 per 100 pounds and increase retail price of milk from 14½ cents to 16 cents per quart for grade A milk, the increase to be passed on to the milk producers.

Jason Gordon, county agent; G. G. Gilliland, K. M. Renner, Earl B. Collins and Charles Young represented the dairymen at the meeting.

The milk producers cited the increased labor and feed costs and drouth conditions an dthe fact that dairymen cannot produce milk at a profit under present OPA ceiling prices and that continuance of present conditions under the ceiling will result in further shortage of grade A milk.

Smith pledged his cooperation to the commission in the employment of a new manager and assistance to the new manager in his inauguration to duties of the post, specificially in the launching of the expansion program.

Smith's Work Praised

Commissioners were uanimous in their praise of Smith for his work with the city an deach expressed regret at his leaving.

Employment of a new manager was not discussed and will be taken up at a later date.

Smith will be associated with two former Lubbock men in establishment of his new business, Gordon W. Parkhill, now serving with the Army in Manila, and S. C. Cooper, formerly associated with a local architectural firm, who has been city engineer at Big Spring the past year and a half.

All Lubbock Men

Cooper, who is moving to Lubbock shortly, has a daughter attending Texas Tech. Parkhill, who also came to Lubbock in 1924, is a former member of the Tech engineering faculty, a former city employe and now with the Army Engineers. His family has been residing here while he has been in service.

"I herewith tender my resignation as city manager, effective Dec. 1, 1945, or at any date earlier than that which you may desire," Smith's letter said. "I am resigning in order that I may be associated with Gordon W. Parkhill and S. C. Cooper in the consulting engineering business.

"I want to express my sincere appreciation to each of you for the splendid cooperation you have given me while serving as your city manager," the letter continued. "My many years service with the city have been very pleasant ones and my work has been most enjoyable. I also want to express my appreciation to all of the city employes for the splendid cooperation and assistance they have given me at all times.

"I am deeply interested in the future growth and development of Lubbock and the efficient operation of the city administration and if at any time I can be of assistance in any way, I would appreciate it if you would call on me."

Mayor Ribble presided at the session and attending were: Commissioners Jones, Fred H. Childress, W. B. Price and City Attorney Vaughn Wilson.

Earl Hensley, company personnel manager, asserted "the union gave us no official notice of what they wanted or what they proposed to do about it if they did not get it."

Patton Is Ousted

transfer will be made as ordered Oct .7."

Patton could not be reached early tonight for comment.

Patton, known to his men as "Blood and Guts," has been one of the most controversial figures in the American Army. His commands in Sicily and France moved with great skill and speed unequaled by any American general and his fighting ability has been respected by friend and foe alike.

Had Defended Action

His slapping of a shell-shocked soldier in Sicily, and his knack of making blood and thunder statements that aroused indignation in England and America at various times made him Eisenhower's No. 1 problem child.

It was thought that Patton, who is independently wealthy, would retire at the end of the war, but he stayed on to command the Third Army which was assigned to occupation duties.

Patton's transfer followed his latest outburst Sept. 22 when, replying to charges he was keeping Nazis in office, he defended his action as necessary to avoid anarchy.

Some Nazis Said Necessary

He told a news conference that it might be necessary to keep some Nazis in office "to insure ourselves that women, children and old men will not perish from hunger or cold this winter."

He also compared "this Nazi thing" to the "Democratic and Republican fight back home."

"You always find the 'outs' back home making charges against the 'ins,'" Patton said.

He was criticized editorially for these and other views.

Eisenhower's headquarters also disclosed today that 120,000 Nazis had been removed from office in the American zone, an increase of 50,000 over the last totals announced in August. This does not include 80,000 Nazis who have been placed under arrest.

Maj. James W. Hill, chief of the deNazification branch and for six years FBI agent at San Antonio, Tex., estimated 1,250,000 cases still were awaiting investigation. He disclosed that many tips denouncing Nazis were coming from Germans in anonymous letters.

Rites Set At Ralls For Wreck Victim

RALLS, Oct. 2 (Special)—Funeral services for Mrs. Wheeler Ford, about 42, who moved here 20 years ago from Pilot Point, will be held at 4 p. m. Wednesday at the Ralls Baptist church with the pastor, Rev. J. H. McClain, officiating. Burial will be in Ralls cemetery.

Mrs. Ford died early Sunday morning in a Lamesa hospital of injuries suffered in a car accident between Lamesa and O'Donnell.

Survivors include the husband, two daughters, Mrs. George Truett Mayes and Mary Lou Ford, both of Ralls; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Beller of Pilot Point; two brothers, Lonnie of Denton, and Clarence of Pilot Point; and a sister, Mrs. H. H. Sherer of Vernon.

Pallbearers are Bill Jones, O. D. Stephens, W. W. Gleaton, Haskell Stephens, Oland Martin, Walter Williams, Earl Tinnin and Boe Diggs.

Marr Funeral home will be in charge.

Jap Food Riots

welcoming the new press freedom granted by MacArthur Sept. 29, said it should be used to tell the truth and to destroy the policy of government authorities who tried "to veil their activities from the public."

Mainichi called for repeal of all suppressive laws that kept the press from telling the people of the losses at Midway, at Saipan, Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

Asahi again belabored the government for holding political prisoners, lamented the death in prison Sept. 2 of the social philosopher Yyioshi Miki, and demanded reforms in the police system that made such things possible.

Poletarian Party

Mainichi also took up Miki's case, reported a "poletarian party" was forming to make "strong demands" for the release of political prisoners and declared the government "should resign immediately" if it could not wipe out militarism and encourage democratic tendencies.

While MacArthur gave the press lots of rope, he hauled up short the English language magazine Yoyo Keizai Shimpo. He confiscated its September edition for printing "objectionable material written ananymously which concerned Japanese reaction to American occupation."

Rio Conference May Be Junked

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP) — An apparent outgrowth of the Argentine problem, this government is discussing with Brazil either cancellation or postponement of the scheduled inter-American conference at Rio De Janeiro.

This was learned reliably tonight in the wake of Capitol Hill discussions in which acting Secretary of State Acheson and Spruille Braden, recently returned ambassador to Argentina, talked the situation over with leading legislators.

The Rio conference was called for Oct. 20 primarily to agree upon an inter-American defense treaty.

Would Face Decision

However, after Argentina clamped new restrictive measures into effect more than a week ago, it became apparent here that the Rio meeting, if it were held, would be confronted with a decision on the touchy subject of Buenos Airs' militarist regime.

Even before it was learned that Washington had opened formal conversations with the Brazilian government on the subject, several Latin American ambassadors had suggested informally a temporary postponement of the meeting.

Their views, expressed in interview, were that this would permit more time to prepare for the conference and allow its prospective to be broadened.

Other Reasons Cited

Apparent failure of the London foreign ministers conference and the recent reorganization of the State department were cited as among reasons that might lead to postponement, in addition to the Argentine situation.

Braden, recently nominated to be an assistant secretary of state in charge of Latin American affairs, returned from Buenos Aires only last week.

He has been in consultation with both Acheson and President Truman as well as senators and representatives.

The Senate foreign relations committee opens hearings tomorrow on Braden's appointment.

Some statement on the reported Washington-Rio conversations was expected tomorrow.

War Chest Drive

same as that last year.

General solicitations was launched with a "kickoff" rally at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in Hilton hotel at which more than 200 of the city's leading business and professional men were in attendance.

Speaking at the rally, George W. Dupree, local attorney, declared: "This meeting is one of the most important in the history of Lubbock . . In this postwar time, with our boys scattered throughout the world, all of them wanting to come home, there never was a time when these agencies, for which this fund provides, were more important than they are now."

Dupree Quotes Lincoln

Attorney Dupree quoted from the second inaugural speech of Abraham Lincoln on March 4, 1865, in which the martyred President pleaded with the nation to bind up its wounds, care for the wounded and "cherish a just and lasting peace"

Pointing out that one of the purposes of the War Chest fund was to provide for the entertainment and comfort of the veterans in foreign lands, the speaker declared that the spirit and mental attitude of the returning servicemen would be influenced by the treatment they now receive. This, he said, was the responsibility that the community must assume in seeing that Lubbock's $50,505 quota is attained.

L. A. Purtell, chairman of the general sales committee, presided as chairman at the rally and he and Knowles spoke briefly. Roy Furr, president of the Chamber and a member of the executive committee, urged every one present to do his bit to make the drive a success.

Knowles spoke on the mechanics of soliciting funds and urged all solicitors to adopt "a confident approach." All citizens are to be asked to contribute at least a sum equivalent to "one and one-half days work," Knowles explained.

Solicitation Begins

The solicitation of funds throughout the downtown section immediately followed the "kick-off" rally. The big gifts and the rural divisions began their collection of contributions Monday. DeWitt Landis is chairman of the big gifts division and County Superintendent of Schools Roy Boyd of the rural group. With Furr on the executive committee are Jack M. Randal, H. B. Bryan, and James J. Quicksall.

Serving under Purtell, who has the title "Colonel of Teams," are "Majors" Joe Arrington, G. V. Fulton, Bob Fuller, E. K. Hufstedler, jr., Ray Farmer, Lawrence Green and Glen Woody.

STOCKS SHOW NEW HIGH

NEW YORK, Oct. 2 (AP) — Selling of steels and motors in the final few minutes had hit new peaks for more than eight years.

Belated liquidation was blamed mainly on the curtailment of metal production by coal strikes and the halting of automotive output by labor disputes in this industry.

Inflation psychology, based mainly on possible wage-price spirals, again provided a bolstering influence, as did tax relief hopes. Transfers of 1,800,000 shares compared with 1,990,000 Monday.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was unchanged at 71.6, which still was a high mark since April 21, 1937.

Prominent gainers were Life Savers, ahead 4½ on a split-up proposal; Eastern Air Lines, up 3⅞; American Airlines, up 3½; Schenley, up 4⅜; Distillers Corp., up 2 and National Distillers, up 1⅝. Brighter profit expectations spurred the liquors and aviations.

Stumblers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Southern Pacific, N. Y. Central, American Telephone, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, Radio Corp., Eastman Kodak, International Nickel and American Water Works. The "penny" sprinters of the day before did little either way.

were taken on a tour of the broken and ruined city;

3. Welcomed aboard 22 homeward-bound Americans who were prisoners of the Japanese, including nine colonels;

4. Had dinner box luncheon fashion 10,000 feet over the Pacific en route from Manila to Guam;

5. Landed at Guam at 1 a. m. (9 a. m. Tuesday, est) seven hours and four minutes after leaving Manila on the 1,587-mile flight.

Dropping down at Kunming after a rolling, pitching flight that drove the Globster to oxygen mask altitudes over the hump, the round-the-worlders had breakfast at 4:30 a. m. (local time).

The jump to Manila was begun in darkness and the Globster was well toward the China coast before dawn broke. The travelers saw little more of China than the wind-lashed little air transport command messhall in the 6,000-foot high city of Kunming.

After what was seen of Manila from the air, it was a sober group that disembarked at Nichols Field to be greeted by Brig. Gen. E. H. Alexander of Waseka, Ill., commander of the Southwest Pacific wing of the ATC.

From the air Manila exhibited tragic scars—the areas blasted bare by demolition and artillery. The picture is one of utter desolation and is depressing beyond measure.

Heroes of the Death March from Bataan were among the 22 former prisoners of war who were given Globster seats in Manila. Some have not been home since 1940.

One was Sgt. Alred A. Hawe of Clovis, N. M. His right sleeve was empty. He lost his arm in a Superfort raid on the Mjoie steel works just two weeks before Japan quit.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP) — Wheat was in demand at today's session of grain futures trading and all deliveries advanced above yesterday's close. Buying said to be of an investment nature carried the deferred deliveries up more than a cent at times. The December delivery sagged during the morning under profit taking, but mill buying developed on the dips.

At the close wheat was ⅝ to 2⅞ higher than yesterday's close, December $1.74⅜-¾. Corn was ⅛ to ¾ lower, December $1.13⅝. Oats were unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 86⅛-⅜. Rye was unchanged to 1⅜ higher, December $1.54-1.54⅛, barley was 1⅜ to 1¾ higher, December $1.14⅞.

Refinery Shutdown

will be shut down later," he said. Picketing began early yesterday by Oil Workers International union (CIO) workers. It was the first such action in the East Texas field, scene of a strike ballot this week.

Galena Park Stilled

At Houston, the Texas company refinery at Galena Park was stilled. Approximately 350 workers are involved. Shutting down of the Texas Pipeline company "probably will be ordered," Jess J. Hickman, secretary of the union local, announced. A meeting was held yesterday to map a method for an orderly shutdown. The pipeline firm employs 140.

Fort Worth entered the strike picture with an announcement by spokesmen for the Fort Worth International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union saying they had voted to picket the mayor. They said that the mayor, Roscoe Carnrike, who is also president of the Binyon-O'Keefe Fireproof Storage company, had declined to recognize them as a bargaining agency.

Fort Worth Walkout

Fort Worth's first oil refinery shutdown in the nationwide "52-40" controversy also was expected. Employes of the Sinclair Refinery company were to walk out, according to Union President J. A. Guhl.

Guhl said gasoline would be made available to essential users "if it is possible to arrange."

Negotiations continued at the Fort Worth Magnolia plant.

A strike vote is in progress at the Ingleside, Tex., refinery near Corpus Christi.

At Austin, the railroad commission said a sufficient supply of crude oil to all operating refineries will be made available.

Amarillo Man's Body Found In California

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., 2 (AP)—Sheriff E. L. Shay said today a body found yesterday 12 miles east of Ludlow, Calif., on Highway 66 had been identified from clothing as that of Willaim Bryant Cole, 47, of Amarillo, Tex., whose wife's body was found a month ago in a shallow grae near ingman, Ariz.

Sheriff Shay said Cole's skull was badly fractured and that apparently he was slain.

He expressed the belief that both the Coles were killed near Ludlow and that the slayer fled eastward in their car with Mrs. Cole's body.

The Coles left Amarillo Sept. 1, the sheriff said, with Mrs. Cole's brother, Ted Patterson, 29, en route to their former home in Los Angeles. He said they had $7,000 in cash.

The same day Mrs. Cole's body was found near Kingman, he added, their automobile was seen being driven eastward through Kingman by a lone man. Later the car was found abandoned east of that city.

Sheriff Shay said a man was being sought.

Embargo On Coal

nounced shortly after C. S. Tellsworth, spokesman for the Socony-Vacuum Oil company, walked out of the conference, two and one-half hours after the first settlement deadline.

The coal shipment embargo did not directly affect deliveries by retailers to domestic consumers, but dealers will be unable to obtain new shipments from mines in the four districts.

Excepted from the ban on deliveries were hospitals, water, gas and electric utility plants, railroads and city transit systems, vessels, mine power plants, the Great Lakes docks, river and tide wate rdocks.

The strike cut heavily into steel mill fuel supplies. The U. S. Steel corporation reported only three of its 16 western Pennsylvania mines, most of them producing metallurgical fuel, were operating. A spokesman said steel-making operations might be affected.

Supervisory employes demand recognition of their union, a branch of the unaffiliated United Mine Workers, as collective bargaining agent. Operators, in opposing the demand, contend ground foremen and similar personnel are part of the management.

Confident Of Agreement

As the oil strike extended to California and New Jersey, a high Labor department official said in Washington he was "confident" the disputants in the industry-wide controversy would accept a government arbitration proposal. In CIO quarters a conflicting view was taken.

Under Secretary Schwellenbach's proposal all refinery stoppages would end with a temporary 15 per cent pay increase and agreement by both labor and management to accept an arbitrator's final settlement.

Since Sept. 16 the oil workers have been striking for a 30 per cent wage rate increase. Yesterday the Union Oil company plant at Wilmington, Calif., and the Oleum refinery near San Francisco were hit by the strike. At the same time five New Jersey refineries closed down as 650 workers went out.

Longshoremen Out

In New York between 7,500 and 10,000 AFL longshoremen remained away from work, saying they were "locked out."

Bus service on Fifth avenue was disrupted after 800 CIO transport workers union members voted to discontinue overtime work.

Wholesale food merchants informed Mayor F. H. LaGuardia a strike of 85 AFL teamsters threatened to paralyze the industry.

News Briefs

Norman E. Shaw, charged in county court with driving a motor vehicle while his license was suspended, pleaded guilty Tuesday and was fined $150 and court costs, and his license revoked an additional year. Since his license had been suspended six months as of Aug. 28, the suspension will be approximately 17 months. He was still in jail Tuesday night.

The sheriff's office and Texas Rangers Tuesday night jailed a 33-year-old former West Coast shipyard worker who was unable to show identification papers and who was found in possession of a sleek, 1940 Cadillac phaeton automobile. The man, who said he lives at Watsonville, Calif., said he was robbed of his identification paper and 90 a few days ago in Las Vegas, Nevada. Officers found him sleeping in the car on the side of the Levelland highway near Lubbock. His story was being checked with Nevada and California officials.

Laurel Pierce, 1915 Avenue H, yesterday reported to the sheriff's department theft of a radio, a quantity of lady's clothing and $33 cash.

A wreck involving a city bus and two cars at Nineteenth and Ave. R Tuesday afternoon resulted in minor damage to each vehicle, all of which were traveling west on Nineteenth. Following a sudden stop in traffic ahead, the bus driven by Curtis Wellborn, 26, of Lubbock, struck a coupe driven by Arlie E. Cupp, 23, of 2301 Twenty-first, and knocked the coupe into a coach driven by Edwin D. Libby, 30, of 2607 Twenty-seventh, report of investigating officers showed.

FREIGHT TRAFFIC SPEEDED

LAREDO, Oct. 2. (AP)—Freight traffic between the United States and Mexico will be speeded up 24 hours daily effective today. Freight for Mexico will be delivered to the National Railways of Mexico at Laredo at 4 a. m. each day. Freight from Mexico will be delivered to the Texas-Mexican at Laredo at 7 a. m. daily.

graduated brackets. Thus the surtax rate on the first $2,000 of net income would be 16 per cent instead of 20 per cent; on the next $2,000, 18 per cent instead of 22, and on up the list.

If this plan ultimately becomes law the 12,000,000 removed from income levies after this year would be married persons (no children) making $1,000 or less net income; married persons with one child, $1,500 or less; with two children $2,000 or less; and so increasing $500 for each additional dependent.

Outright repeal of the normal tax, as recommended by Vinson, would have removed the same persons from further tax burdens. There were about 50,000,000 individual income taxpayers when the war ended.

The committee did not reach a vote on the administration's other two tax cutting proposals which would repeal on January 1, 1946 the 95 per cent excess profits tax, relieving corporations of a $2,555,000,000 burden, and severely cut next July 1 the excises on such things as fur coats, jewelry, liquor and cosmetics.

The committee action on the individual taxes was taken behind closed doors, and members were pledged to secrecy on their action until the new tax bill is completely written. Newspapermen were forced to depend on "leaks" for their information.

Revolt In Argentina

The People May Act—And Soon!

BOILING inwardly with dissension, Argentina may erupt in revolution any day now.

Although he had promised the people of Argentina a "free election," in which to choose the form of government they prefer, President Edelmiro Farrell has declared a state of siege and suspended all constitutional guarantees of freedom of speech, press and assembly.

This iron-fisted procedure has brought far-reaching repercussions not only from the United States, but from 20 other American republics. Urgent consultations are being held by the nations of the Western Hemisphere and outside influences may soon make themselves felt in Argentina, where President Farrell and his strong-armed vice-president, Col. Juan Peron, are using armed force to maintain themselves in power.

Ambassador Spruille Braden, who arrived by plane from trouble-seething Argentina last week to take up his new duties as assistant secretary of state for Latin American affairs, charged again that the Argentine military government had failed to live up to its United Nations obligations.

He stated that the United States will not modify its policy toward Argentina until the latter complies with all international commitments, including the restoration of constitutional democracy.

From here, it looks as if the people of Argentina may change the picture suddenly and soon.

Labor's Crucial Period

AFTER the Army and Navy served notice that they could not continue to operate unless strike-curtailed oil production is resumed, Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, who is also petroleum administrator, declared: "The very security of our armed forces and our military position is threatened."

No one can well question the truth of Ickes' statement, but the danger to which he points is not new. Throughout the desperate struggle, from which we have just emerged victoriously, there was danger that "our armed forces an dour military position" might be endangered by strikes. While America owes a great debt to the loval working men and women of this nation, who toiled long hours at hard tasks to bring about the overwhelming production that assured victory, there were labor leaders who did not aid the war effort all they could—and that is putting it mildly.

The unions came through the was with few restrictions on them. While the so-called Anti-Strike act was enacted, it did not prevent, or even hamper, strikes. Anyhow, the act automatically expires six months after the official end of the war. And the Little Steel formula will hardly exist even on paper much longer.

Labor is now entering the postwar period with much legislation in effect favoring unionization. In many industries, collective bargaining is now mandatory, the out-and-out company union and the so-called "yellow-dog" contracts are illegal, court injunctions against strikes are sharply limited. And the Democratic party knows that it owes much of its success during the last twelve years to Labor support.

Yet organized Labor is still on trial. How Labor behaves now in this critical reconversion period may determine how it will be treated by the law-makers, who are still mindful of the votes of the millions of voters, in and out of unions, who don't like present conditions. In the last analysis, this is "a government of the people, by the people and for the people," and not an Organized Labor government.

Hunting The Jap Treasure

WHAT did Japan do with all of the stolen jade, ivory and gold that her troops looted from China and the Philippines?

So far only small quantities of the stolen riches have been discovered, and no great finds such as the Nazi treasure trove, hidden in a salt mine, have been found. However, treasure hunters believe they are hot on the trail.

American investigators are prying into the sources of Emperor Hirohito's vast fortune and the fate of large quantities of gold taken from Manila and overrun Chinese cities. They expect to find some clues in the records of twenty-one major Japanese financial institutions, which bank $1,300,000,000.

But did Hirohito and his brother-looters entrust all of their pillage and accumulation of piracy to the banks of Japan? Isn't it possible that they hid great quantities of gold in secret, underground vaults? So this treasure hunt, one of the world's best, is going to be interesting.

The reason there is so much to deplore in government is that government is everybody's business, and everybody's business is nobody's business.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

THE MOUND OF EARS

Under the rule of Hideyoshi in 1592 the Japanese invaded Korea. The war lasted for years. The Japanese reported they had killed 30,000 Koreans. The Japanese ruler demanded proof, so 30,000 pairs of ears were cut off the slain Koreans and sent to Kyoto for counting and identification. After they were duly checked, the ears were buried near the Toyokuni Temple and a twenty foot monument erected over them.

PREPARATIONS FOR MURDER

XV

The practical, direct mind which had made Leana Sormi distinguished as a scientist, was brought into use now in her personal affairs.

She had tried one or two roundabout ways of accomplishing her end. She had tried to make Robert Hale aware of her as a woman, with all implications of companionship and "love" as she knew it Next, more desperately, she had tried to corner their priceless supply of X-999 for herself, and with the power it entailed, force Robert, and the world in general ,to her feet. But in each case a contemptible, little violet-eyed stenographer had wrecked her plans! It was enough to infuriate anyone.

Wherefore, Leana calmly plotted to attain her goal in the way that would bring most satisfaction. She didn't formally recognize it as a revenge motive; her plan to do away with Carolyn Tyler was colder, more practical than that.

"Revenge" would have sounded melodramatic to Leana. But the Tyler person was in the way, and just as she would have taken pains to eliminate any obstacle in a pursuit of science, Leana would stop at nothing to eliminate Carolyn as an obstacle in her personal pursuit.

Most potent weapon at hand was the X-999 itself. Leana put down as point No. 1. Only three people had actual access to the X-999, there deep in Tonto Mountain. They were Robert Hale, Carolyn, and Leana.

Now, out-and-out murder is both messy and dangerous. But if th objectionable Tyler girl were the victim of an accident—

From the store of materials already brought here, and from her unlimited privilege of ordering things, Leana constructed a relatively simple device while working six nights in the privacy of her home. In effect, it was merely a compact radio receiving set, but tuned into high sensitivity and strength. Moreover, it was so arranged that a small built-in electric generator could be set in motion by it, from considerable distance away. Initial impulse could be radioed from a small transmitter which she built to serve this one particular need. The transmitter was easily portable.

Entrance to the old mine shaft, deep in which the X-999 was now safely stored, was guarded in shifts by three men.

Leana Sormi had free access, hence was not interrupted when she came quietly along one morning carrying a wrapped parcel.

She remained in the shaft for more than an hour. If the guards noticed that she came out without her package, they had no occasion to think that fact important.

Actually, Leana had concealed her improvised radio receiver and generator under small stones a few feet from the box and the leaden insulators where the X-999 rested.

Then she buried insulated wires that ran from the generator directly to the main box, up to the heavy laden cases. With extreme care, then, she lifted the lid of one loaden case, inserted an ordinary percussion cap such as workmen use constantly to explode dynamite, and left it there connected to her two wires.

"Now," she told herself with calm satisfaction, "I have but to get the stupid girl in here, And that won't be hard!"

She had decided to complete all the preparations this morning, because she was absent from normal laboratory duties anyway. She would now take the sending apparatus, the transmitter tuned carefully with the receiver in the mine shaft, and hide it outside as planned.

As a matter of fact, she had already taken it, piecemeal lest it arouse curiosity, to a point out of sight of the village. This had been done on little after-dinner hikes apparently for her recreation. As unobstrusively as possible she departed again, went to her cache and took the transmitter farther around the slope of Mummy Ridge, the somewhat lesser formation that faced Tonto Peak She walked almost two miles. This winding around the rock hills was tiresome, but essential.

She had no idea just how much damage might be done by the ultimate explosion—there was no way of knowing, of course. Deep inside Tonto as the stuff was, the set-off probably could do little more than cause a rumbling, like the gallons of nitro-glycerine often exploded down in oil wells and such. But, to be doubly safe, Leana went nearly a mile from Tonto even in direct line. And concealed her transmitter there on the rocky slope of Mummy Ridge.

Then she came back to the village and calmly went to her work.

During the afternoon, Robert Hale noticed that Miss Sormi seemed preoccupied.

"You look tired, Leana," he said, kindly. "I think you are working too hard."

She turned to him, studied his face carefully a moment, then found a stiff little smile.

"See here," he went on somewhat eagerly, "you mustn't slave so hard and stay alone so much. I— Why I am to blame for that!" It was as if he had just realized it, and was contrite. "Look, Leana, Carolyn and I were going for a horseback ride at 4 o'clock. She is such gay company. Ride with us, will you? Please do!"

Her smile froze, and her eyes narrowed agai...

However innocent his invitation was, he couldn't have said a more unfortunate thing'. "Carolyn and I" indeed!

Dr. Annie W. Blanton Is Claimed By Death

AUSTIN, Oct. 2 (U.P.)—Dr. Annie Webb Blanton, 75, first woman to be elected Texas Superintendent of Public instruction, died here today at the home of her niece, Mrs. R. B. Thrasher.

Dr. Blanton last week resigned as a member of the University of Texas faculty where she had served for 22 years. She was a professor of educational administration.

Dr. Blanton was elected state superintendent in 1919, serving two terms. She also was the first women to head the State Teachers association, and for three terms was vice president of the National Education association.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Bombay Observes 76th Birthday Of Gandhi

BOMBAY, Oct. 2 (AP)—This city celebrated the 76th birthday of Mohandas K. Gandhi today.

Many business and educational establishments suspended activities in honor of the Indian nationalist leader, and followers sent him a purse of 76,000 rupees (about $47,000)—1,000 for each year of his life.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

A few days ago Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt told a meeting in New York that a civil service job wouldn't interest her very much if she had to start a business career.

"I think that day in and day out a job in the Government service is rather confining," she said.

For a moment I felt rather peeved at Mrs. Roosevelt. I didn't think it was nice of her to talk that way about the government in whose employ her husband had done rather well.

But then I read a press release release from the Census bureau in Washington, and I saw how right Mrs. Roosevelt was.

BRANDEIS

Apparently the Census bureau had read that a "Mother of Triplets Association" had been formed in Chicago. So the bureau used its staff to discover that the chance of a mother having triplets is only one in 8,816.

However that wasn't enough for the Census bureau. It went further. By totaling the records of twenty-nine years and checking 56,392,612 deliveries, it found that only one in 599,921 mothers would give birth to quadruplets, which, in the bureau's word, would make a "mothers of quadruplets Association" an extremely exclusive organization.

I think you can see now why I am beginning to agree with Mrs. Roosevelt when she advises girls not to go into civil service as a career. Imagine having to check more than 56 million records over a period of 29 years to unearth one of the most useless facts I have ever learned!

No, government definitely is not a career for ambitious, enterprising, intelligent Americans. And it is a shame that Government service doesn't offer more opportunities and greater possibilities to those who are anxious to serve it.

It is absolutely inevitable that government will reach more and more into every individual's life. Almost daily additional functions are forced on government by the very people who talk most about individual enterprise and our free institutions.

THE government is asked to do this and that—temporarily at first and then permanently. And who are the government? During the war there were lots of volunteers from all walks of life and men and women of the finest abilities and talents. But now the war is over and we are back to where we were:

Underpaid employes with very little inducement to get ahead, to put in a full day's work, to do a real job. Cheap sinecures, in payment of political debts are clock-watchers, officious bullies, disgruntled out-of-towners who hate Washington, with only one goal—retirement when the age limit is reached.

There are many fine men and women in government service. They come in with intelligence, enthusiasm and the best of intentions. But all around them there are laziness and loafing. Soon they get discouraged and either sink into the Washington rut or get out.

Government service is important. It can be made as interesting as private business and the professions. It has room for intelligence and ambition and enterprise. The war has proved that. But you'll never attract the right kind of people to Washington by simply offering them soft swivel chairs.

That's catering to the wrong end.

Mercy For "Bad Boys"

Army Brigs Will Release Many

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

ONLY A SMALL percentage of the 35,000 American soldiers lodged in the "brig" for 10 years, 20 years or life for violation of military regulations during World War II will be required to serve their full terms. Within a few months after the end of the war has been officially proclaimed by Presidential or Congressional decree, most of the offenders will be given executive clemency.

Adjutant General Myron S. Cramer, a mild and fatherly man, is now scraping his records of convictions to determine who should be kept in duress for the period originally fixed by court-martial boards. So far he has laid down two general rules:

TUCKER

Men convicted of crimes of violence that indicate an antisocial instinct or complex will pay the full penalty, as they would in civilian life.

But youngsters sent up for strictly military offenses — absence without leave, sleeping on post, insubordination and talking back to officers — will get off easily. In time of war it is necessary to slap heavy sentences on the bad boys of the barracks in order to preserve discipline in an outfit. Otherwise, there just wouldn't be an Army worthy of the name.

But the authorities also recognize that most of the offenders were inducted in their teens and before they had been forced to know the necessity of disclipine in any walk of life. Not until they got into battle did they ealize that instinctive response to orders and regulations might same them and their buddies from defeat or death. It is this class of offender which General Cramer, to the joy of their parents, relatives and friends, will spring from military imprisonment.

PUZZLE: Republican members of key committees on Capitol Hill are remarkably inept or they are exercising amazing restraint to keep Anglo-American relations on an even keel. On the basis of frank admissions by administration witnesses, they have had many opportunities to make political capital. But so far they have missed or declined the chance.

Few weeks ago, a top-level official in the outgoing Foreign Economic administration headed by Leo Crowley told one of the most fantastic Lend-Lease tales the legislators have ever heard. He explained how, under Lend-Lease funds, the United States built a factory, equipped it with machinery, manufactured an important article and delivered it in Amarican ships at English docks.

Then—and even the Crowley representative seemed stunned by his own testimony — London sent Washington a bill for the patent rights to the gadget which our Allies needed so badly, and which we had furnished. The sum was not outrageously high — about $50,000 — but the invoice itself reflected the British attitude on American financial assistance.

Several Republican leaders of the House attended the closed-door session where they story was told. They have heard similar tidbits at executive meetings of the Military and Naval Affairs committees. So far they have not sought to trade on these off-the-record revelations.

Lately, however, GOP national committee strategists have learned of these secret transactions, and they will probably use them in the 1946 and 1948 campaigns.

BOMB: The United States and Britain will not release the secret of the Atom bomb to other nations, particularly Russia, until peace treaties as embadied in the so-called Atlantic Charter and the Potsdam Agreement and negotiated and carried out in good faith by the signatories to those documents.

Anglo-American possession of this weapon, together with our unmatched financial, industrial and material resources, constitutes our trading power vis-a-vis the great land power of Russia.

Despite official denials, it is true that Commerce Secretary Henry Wallace has urged taking the Kremlin into our confidence on the question of the atom. He has a childlike trust in the Soivet, as his public speeches and his writings reveal. He thinks — and many agree with him — that it would advance the cause of international cooperation and good will if the U. S. and England made the Soviet an atomic copartner.

CAUTION: Other cabinet members, however, urge caution. While they do not condemn or criticize Russia's behavior since V-E and V-J days, they suggest that it might be advisable to fix our own policy with regard to the military use of cosmic energy, before we begin to pass it around.

Others make the point that it will be time to discuss the international aspects of the problem after the Council of Foreign Ministers or some other body has settled the affairs of the postwar world.

President Truman has not announced his solution, but his views are fairly well known. He does not think that the bomb should be entrusted solely to the Army, the Navy or the Air Forces. He prefers to see the discovery as a potential blessing rather than as a curse to civilization.

He will probably recommend that a group of distinguished Americans — scientists, naval and military men, jurists, diplomats and industrialists — make a study of the question. The difficulty in selecting the right men to sit on this life-or-death jury accounts for his delay in publicizing his plans.

DISTINCTION: William Benton maintains that he enjoys a unique distinction among important members of President Truman's official household. This publicity-minded Assistant Secretary of State thinks he is the only man in the administration who never laid eyes on Franklin Roosevelt. He doesn't attach significance to that fact, but some of FDR's hangers-on do. Every day they become more wrought up at the speed with which the Missourian is getting rid of their late hero's aides.

TEST: The key State of Ohio may become the first major battleground for testing the political appeal of a military hero to civilian and veteran voters. Although many officers and soldiers of World War II will enter politics next year, the Buckeye Commonwealth may head the parade.

President Truman's appointment of Ohio Sen. Harold Hitz Burton to the Supreme court necessitates a senatorial election there in November of 1946. Frank J. Lausche, the present governor, will also have to face the voters again at the same time.

Former Gov. John Bricker, who was Thomas E. Dewey's running mate last year, will probably seek the Senate seat. For the gubernatorial race Ohio Republicans are talking of Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, commander of the Thirty-seventh Division, which originally consisted of National Guardsmen from the state. General Beighter made a fine record, and was rewarded with the appointment as American commander on Luzon.

He was Mr. Bricker's highway director before the war, and he is a close personal friend of the former governor. It is believed that he would make a strong candidate, especially if his former soldiers back him. General Beightler is scheduled for discharge about the first of the year and will have plenty of time to rebuild his political fences. The Thirty-seventh Division has already been ordered home, and, although it is no longer an all-Ohio outfit, the returned man may wield considerable political influence.

Ohio may also furnish a preview of the 1948 outcome. Should it go Republican in a big way, it may indicate an anti-Democratic trend for the Presidential year. Which may explain why President Truman is showering publicity and his personal blessing on Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche.

Writing from the Southwest Pacific, a Marine says he has seen many mosquitoes larger than crows. We believe he's exaggerating. We've been around quite a bit and we've never seen a mosquito larger than a wren.

The reason a pessimist is so unpopular is because in so many instances his predictions come true and he goes around saying, "I told you so."

"Influence Racket" Flourishes In Capital

Pressure Tactics Are Decried

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The political pressure and influence racket seems to flourish here continually.

Federal agencies and commissions charged with deciding among various claimants for franchises and oprating licenses of one sort or another are subjected to it and harassed by it in trying to carry out their functions.

STOKES

There is keen rivalry among industries. Some resort to the use of political influence. Aviation, which is growing rapidly, offers an example. Three times in the last two years the Civil Aeronautics board, which has charge of licensing air lines, has issued warnings through Chairman L. Welch Pogue that there must be a stop to "highly reprehensible practices which are designed to obtain favorable decision from the board based upon personal, political and other pressures."

Here Is An Example

Despite these warnings, a flagrant attempt to bring political pressure to bear is going on now in an effort by Pennsylvania Central Airlines to reverse a decision by the Civil Aeronautics board a month ago awarding the Great Lakes-Florida route to Eastern Air Lines.

Strings are being pulled in many directions. Campaign managers of some senators from states along the route have been hired by PCA in their campaign to bring pressure upon the board. The influence of senators is also being sought through friends.

THOMAS G. CORCORAN, former government official, still an ace in the influence business business around Washington, has been enlisted, though he is not a lawyer of record in the case. The oral argument before the board on behalf of PCA was made by Charles H. Murchison, of Jacksonville, Fla., a close friend of Mr. Corcoran and a political associate of Sen. Claude Pepper (D., Fla.Y. Mr. Murchison is one of the key figures in the Senator's Florida political machine and one of the managers of the senator's last campaign. Senator Pepper, himself, now abroad, repeatedly has been sending back messages on behalf of PCA, seeking to have the case re-opened.

Council for PCA also includes the law firm of Louis Johnson of West Virginia, former Assistant Secretary of War, who has many contacts in Washington. He personally does not appear in cases before the board.

Other important political influence also has been brought to bear, it is reported.

Vote Was 3 to 2

After long consideration the Aeronautics board awarded the route to Eastern Air Lines in late August. The board upheld its examiner's recommendation. There were a number of aspirants, including PCA.

The vote of the board was 3 to 2. Voting for Eastern were: Chairman Pogue, Edward Warner, vice chairman, and Harllee Branch. Against were former Sen. Josh Lee of Oklahoma and Oswald Ryan.

Mr. Warner resigned a few days ago, leaving a vacancy. Since that time pressure has been increased for a re-hearing in the case. PCA applied for re-hearing soon after the decision. President Truman is being urged to appoint a technical man to succeed Mr. Warner, who is a technical expert of high standing.

POLITICAL pressure such as is being sought in this case was deplored officially last May in a letter Chairman Pogue wrote to Stuart G. Tipton, actiong president of the Air Transport Association of America. In that letter he referred to two previous letters, one Sept. 18, 1943, and another in July of last year in which he had asked that political activity be stopped.

In his last letter he said it had not been stopped, and added, among other things:

"The implications of these activities are so serious and so sinister that it seems to the board that the airline industry should be so concerned that it will use every possible means of promptly bringing them to an end."

Polite Tavern Robber Sets Up His Victims

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 2 (U.P.)—James B. Hartnett, 37, a bartender, didn't forget his manners after he heisted a tavern early today.

After forcing Steve Civella, bartender, to remove cash from the pockets of eight customers, Hartnett waved them back to the bar.

"All have a drink on me," he called, then waited while the drinks were being drawn.

Detectives nabbed Hartnett a few blocks away.

The robbery had netted $71.

Gene Howe Guest For Luncheon In Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 2 (AP)—Gene Howe, publisher of the Amarillo Globe-News, was honor guest at the Kiwanis International annual newspaper week luncheon here today. Dallas newspapermen later held a reception for the Panhandle publisher.

Publisher Howe discussed the role of the newspaper in the nation's system of free enterprise.

Referring to public school education, Howe said: "Our school teachers are disgracefully underpaid. This is a serious problem which must be corrected."

More than 200,000,000 pounds of rubber grade carbon black, an important ingredient in tires, were produced in the first half of 1945.

Awards To Be Given Red Cross Workers

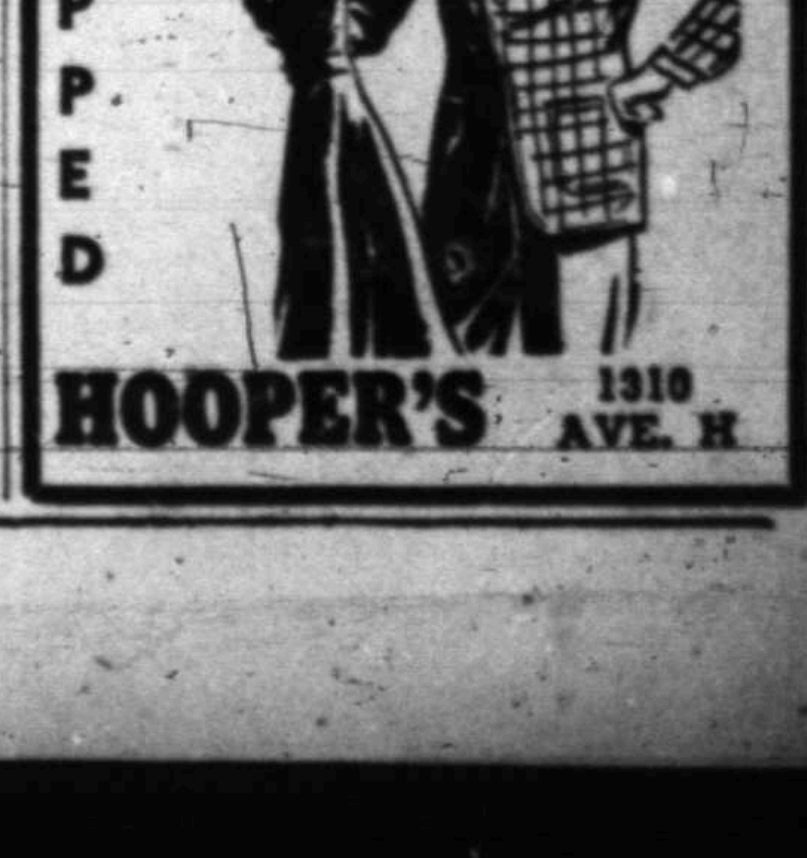

Volunteer workers for the Red Cross during war times will be presented with certificates of recognition, Mrs. Marguerite Stiles, secretary of the Lubbock chapter, announced Tuesday.

"Those who have rendered such volunteer service during the war are asked to inform Mrs. R. D. Erwin, volunteer special service chairman, as to the number of hours they contributed," Mrs. Stiles explained. "They may write her or contact her by telephone."

Mrs. Stiles said that Mrs. Erwin would be unable to compile a list of volunteers and their hours of volunteer service unless those giving volunteer service reported to her. The Red Cross telephone number is 8534.

Palestine Poses Major Problem; United Nations Action Is Urged

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

The troublesome Palestine question appears now to be headed toward an international solution — one more knotty problem for the United Nations to untangle.

Great Britain is showing a strong tendency to demand joint action, rather than continue alone with what she considers a thankless task.

Is Continuous Sore Spot

Palestine has been a sore spot in the Near East for more than 30 years, with recurrent rioting between Jews and Arabs since 1940.

Britain's latest action in sending airborne troop reinforcements into Palestine indicates she fears an explosion which will rock the Arab world.

As a United Press dispatch from London put it:

"Britain has been caught in a most uncomfortable position, between fire on the one hand of acting against the Arabs who constitute a large measure of the world over which Britain has influence, and of turning down President Truman and strong world Zionist elements."

British Take Over Problem

A resume of the background illustrates the complicated nature of the problem.

Great Britain began administering Palestine in 1923 under mandate of the League of Nations. She was committed by the Balfour declaration of 1917 to promote the establishment of a Jewish homeland in Palestine, with due regard to the rights of the Arab population.

Nothing but trouble resulted as the Arabs increasingly resisted the spread of Jewish colonization. In 1939, the British government issued the now hotly-disputed white paper severely restricting further Jewish immigration. A quota was set for the admission of only 75,000 Jews as permanent settlers.

Jewish Sympathy Grows

At the end of the war the matter came to a head with the advent of a British labor government which the Zionists considered unequivocally pledged to the principle of a Jewish homeland. World-wide sympathy was aroused by the plight of the homeless Jews of Europe.

Within recent weeks, the British government offered to admit 1,500 Jewish immgirants monthly into Palestin Te.he offer was rejected by Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist organization and of the Jewish agency, which was set up to represent the Jewish people under the British mandate in Palestine.

Then President Truman urged that Britain permit the entry of 100,000 Jews into Palestine. The Arab league charged Mr. Truman with a breach of faith in not consulting the Arabs before acting. At the same time, powerful Zionist opinion favoring the Truman proposal and demanding unrestricted Jewish immigration developed in the United States. It culminated last Sunday in a mass meeting of more than 45,000 persons in and around Madison Square Garden in New York, addressed by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, and other notables.

The Arab position is briefly as follows:

Palestine should remain Arab; Jews should not be permitted to buy more land in Palestine; the British mandate should be replaced by self-government and eventual independence. The Arabs vigorously oppose turning the matter over to the United Nations to set up a new "trusteeship."

The British claim that admitting another 100,000 Jews to Palestine would be an invitation to bloodshed. The British viewpoint was expressed this way in yesterday's London Evening News:

"The difficulties in which we already find ourselves over Palestine are becoming intolerable. We have recently invited the United States to join with us in administering the country; the invitation was refused.

"It is not reasonable that we should be left to handle Palestine alone any longer. There is nothing in it for us except trouble and strife.

"The best thing we can do is to invite the United Nations to take on the job of administering Palestine. Let it be a joint job in the future."

Rhodes Scholarships Now Being Resumed

Preparations for sending selected scholars to Oxford university by means of Rhodes scholarships, in October, 1947, are now being made by Rhodes trustees, the American secretary informed Dr. H. L. Kent, Texas Tech administrative assistant.

The regular plan, which provides for appointing 32 scholars annually from various districts in the United States, will be resumed this year. Scholarships were suspended during the war.

In addition to ordinary appointments, Rhodes trustees have created 32 other awards, called war-service scholarships, Dr. Kent said. Men are eligible for these special scholarships if at any time since Oct. 1, 1940, they were between the ages of 19 and 25 years and had completed at least one year of service. This means service in the armed forces or war-contributing work for which draft boards granted deferments.

Selected students will receive a two-year appointment for undergraduate work and be paid 400 pounds yearly. They will be chosen on the basis of scholastic standing, future promise, extra-curricular activity record and athletic interest.

Students are eligible for Rhodes scholarships upon completion of their junior year, or when they receive a bachelor's degree. While at Oxford they will study toward a bachelor's degree.

Application fo rordinary scholarships must be made through the college the applicant is,, or has been attending. Final selection of chosen students will be made by a district committee selected by Rhodes trustees.

Other information concerning Rhodes scholarships may be obtained by contacting Dr. Kent in the president's office at Tech.

Electric Welder Is Accepted By College

A 300-amp direct current electric welder valued at $550 with accessories, to be given Texas Tech's department of mechanical engineering by the Lincoln Electric Co. of Cleveland, has been accepted on behalf of the college by Dr. M. M. Whyburn, president.

This latest type welding machine is expected to arrive on the campus in the near future, an official of the mechanical engineering department said. Tech will pay transportation costs.

Mechanical, industrial and textile engineering students will use the machine in a regular required welding course. This makes a total of six arc welders owned by the college.
