Road Deaths Exceed Predictions

By The Associated Press

Holiday traffic killed 223 Americans during the 48 hours of New Year's Eve and New Year's Day.

Delayed reports from states were expected to increase the death count which safety experts said was greater than anticipated.

The toll was less than the two-day Christmas period but higher than the seasonal average.

The New Year's toll compared with an average of 117 traffic deaths a day during the first 11 months of 1963. But it was much greater than the latest available seasonal average for a December Tuesday, 95, and a January Wednesday, 68—a combined toll of 163.

The National Safety Council had estimated in advance of the holiday that between 140 and 180 persons might be killed in traffic mishaps from 6 p.m. New Year's Eve to midnight Wednesday—a 30-hour period.

Council President Howard Pyle said Wednesday night that the final figures "definitely will go beyond this estimate." The Associated Press count showed that nearly 200 traffic fatalities were reported during the 30-hour period defined by the council.

There were 316 highway deaths during last week's 48-hour Christmas holiday while 382 persons died in traffic accidents during the 1962-63 New Year's weekend holiday of four days.

The holiday traffic death toll compared to a total of 170 fatalities reported in an Associated Press survey for a nonholiday period of 48 hours, from 12:01 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 10 to 12:01 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 12.

Seeks New Offensives

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson is said to favor an unrelenting peace offensive in 1964.

A White House source reported that Johnson is determined to seek new breakthroughs on peace and does not think the United States can or should wait until after the November presidential balloting before pressing ahead in this area.

The source made available to newsmen Wednesday a summary of what was described as Johnson's views on a broad range of topics. Some of the material was provided on condition it not be made public until today.

Among key attitudes attributed to Johnson were these:

The President plans to propose a comprehensive housing program and will discuss this today at his ranch home with Administrator Robert C. Weaver of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Johnson expects Congress to pass a civil rights bill this year, as well as an $11 billion tax cut. He also would like to see passage of a program to provide medical insurance for the elderly.

Government officials will be expected to work hard and avoid the cocktail party circuit.

Johnson is pleased with the results of his economy-in-government drive and believes the stage is set for further savings in the budget that will go to Congress in January 1965. He believes fiscal prudence is, in the informant's words, "no longer a rich man's issue."

The President has profound respect for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and also is greatly impressed by Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Earlier Wednesday Johnson told Soviet Premier Khrushchev in a message that the time for talking peace has passed and "1964 should be a year in which we take further steps toward that goal."

"In this spirit I shall strive for the further improvement of relations between our two countries," Johnson said in a reply to a New Year's message from Khrushchev and Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev.

The two Russian leaders had said in their personal message to Johnson that the old year saw "a significant improvement in the approach to the solutions of urgent international problems and in the development of Soviet-American relations."

They voiced hope that the new year "will be marked by further significant success."

Plan To Present New Health Bill

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Six Republican senators say they hope to crack the stalemate on health care for the aged legislation by introducing their own plan when Congress reconvenes next week.

They described it as the most comprehensive health care program ever prepared for Congress and said it would make use of both Social Security funds and general government revenues, and private insurance companies.

Health care legislation will likely set off one of the big battles in Congress this election year.

President Johnson is expected to press hard for passage of the bill—or a version of it—which the late President John F. Kennedy was unable to push through Congress.

The six Republicans said in a statement Wednesday that GOP votes will be needed to pass a health care bill this year and "we sincerely believe that the bill we are preparing will offer the effective basis for such an agreement."

"We feel," they added, "that the health care needs of our 18 million citizens over 65 have been too long neglected, and that the Congress must resolve this problem in 1964."

The six Republicans are Sens. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky, Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating of New York, Thomas H. Kuchel of California and Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

The senators' statement said their plan would provide hospitalization, nursing care and home care for all citizens 65 and over through Social Security financing or from general federal revenues if the person is not covered by Social Security.

It would also permit health insurance companies to team up and offer a nonprofit mass plan for low-cost insurance to cover doctor bills and other medical expenses. Antitrust laws now do not permit such private combinations.

Scholastic Census Is Underway

The annual scholastic census of the Snyder Independent School District was launched today.

T. E. McCollum, superintendent, said that school census enumerators would be calling on all families in the school district within the next few days. He urged cooperation of patrons in the district, since the scholastic census is important to the school district's fiscal structure.

"Since Snyder is not a state aid school (it is one of very few which receive nothing in the foundation program), it is important that all children of school age be listed in the census," said McCollum. The only state funds received by the Snyder District are those from the regular state per capita apportionment.

Efforts will be made to list every child of school age during the canvass.

Claims Death Of Policeman Accidental

AMARILLO (AP)— Paul Martinez Arredondo claimed today that the death of policeman Jerry Cawthon early New Year's Day was an accident.

His lawyer quoted him as saying, "There was the gun. We struggled. The gun went off."

The body of the policeman, 24, was found on the back porch of a residence after nurses working nearby notified officers.

Officers charged Arredondo, 23, with murder with malice and held him without bond.

Cawthon still clutched his service revolver when found.

Police rounded up 14 persons, all young, who were believed in the house when Cawthon died.

Investigators said the shooting stemmed from Cawthon's stopping a driver who ran a red light.

The car, driven by a 16-year-old, and another containing several other youths stopped in front of the house where Cawthon's body subsequently was found.

Police said Cawthoon and the 16-year-old went into the house after the youth failed to produce a driver's license. Youths in the second car followed the pair.

Investigators said Cawthon was attacked inside the house by several persons.

Two nurses at a nearby hospital, Mrs. Patricia Hulst and Mrs. Betty Craig, investigated after hearing the shot and found Cawthon's body.

Malaysia May Request British Aid

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The Malaysian government is reported considering an appeal to Britain, Australia and New Zealand for military personnel to help build up defenses on its Borneo border with Indonesia.

Informed sources said the proposed request was discussed Wednesday night in an emergency cabinet meeting. Mostly technical personnel are wanted, to improve such facilities as communication lines in the jungles of the Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah.

All three Commonwealth allies have pledged to defend Malaysia against Indonesian President Sukarno's campaign to smash the new federation. Britain already has sent several thousand troops to North Borneo.

The cabinet meeting was called to discuss the clash Sunday in Sabah, formerly British North Borneo, in which eight Malaysian soldiers and a civilian were killed and 19 troops and five civilians were injured. The attack 30 miles inside Malaysian territory was blamed on Indonesian army regulars.

Indonesia, which claims the Malaysia federation is a device to prolong British colonial rule in Southeast Asia, has admitted to training anti-Malaysian rebels on Borneo. But it claims its troops are not involved in any active aggression.

Dixie Still In Deep Freeze

By The Associated Press

Unaccustomed to the bite of severe winter weather, parts of the Deep South remained in the grip of a storm Thursday that dumped as much as 16 inches of snow on some areas before moving up the Eastern Seaboard New Year's Day.

Moderating temperatures were expected to give some relief to the paralyzing ice and snow that swept northward from the Gulf of Mexico across Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia and into the Carolinas, Tennessee and Virginia.

There were 13 deaths directly attributed to the weather.

Schools were closed in many sections and some colleges postponed registration for the new term.

Driving conditions remained hazardous in areas where refreezing left patches of ice on highways.

In Georgia, Civil Defense headquarters received requests for aid from several north and middle Georgia towns as broken power lines left some communities without electricity and communications were disrupted.

About 300 persons were fed at an emergency kitchen set up in a school at Warner Robins in middle Georgia. High winds wrecked a fishing pier at Savannah Beach on the Georgia coast.

Huntsville, Ala., recorded one of the heaviest snowfalls in Dixie—16 inches. Eight inches at Birmingham, Ala., was the heaviest snowfall on records there dating back to 1895.

Snowmen appeared in the French Quarter of New Orleans, site of the Sugar Bowl football game, where more than three inches of snow ushered in the new year—again the most since 1895. A warming trend over Louisiana and Mississippi left deep slush that was expected to turn to ice during the night.

The 10-inch snowfall at Nashville, Tenn.—deepest since 1929—resulted in closing the city's airport until noon today. Lawrenceburg recorded 16 inches and Columbia ahad 15.

Texas Author Found Shot

AUSTIN (AP) — Jess Arnold, an author, 46, was found shot to death early today in a small cabin on the Garza Ranch just southwest of Austin.

Rancher Ben Garza found the body in the cabin, back of the main ranchhouse. A revolver was nearby.

Justice of Peace Jerry Dellana ruled the death was self inflicted.

Arnold was best known for his novel, "Reunion in Barcelona." He was a native of Wolfe City, but did much of his work in Austin.

He wrote the screenplay for "The Eagle and the Hawk," a western. Bob Hope had bought Arnold's humorous sketch, "The Man Who Cured the Common Cold."

Arnold worked as a foreign correspondent in Ethiopia and the Spanish Civil War, the basis for "Reunion in Barcelona."

Krush Sends Personal Note To Johnson

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khruschev sent a personal message to President Johnson today in the midst of increasing talk on both sides of the East-West conflict about an easing of cold war tensions during the new year.

Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin met with Secretary of State Dean Rusk for 15 minutes, then told newsmen:

"I delivered a personal message from the chairman (Khrushchev) to the President."

He declined to discuss the contents, other than to indicate that the nature of the message would be made known shortly.

A report from London said the Soviet government was delivering notes in several Western capitals dealing with the need for peaceful settlement of territorial disputes.

Addition To Pope's Party Is Announced

By BENNET M. BOLTON

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A Vatican Christian unity expert was added today to the official party that will accompany Pope Paul VI on his Holy Land pilgrimage.

The addition of the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Jan J. Willebrands, Dutch-born secretary of the Vatican's Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity, followed agreement by the Pope and Orthodox Patriarch Athenagoras I of Constantinople (Istanbul) to meet during the pilgrimage.

Vatican officials said there would be no formal announcement here about the meeting of the Pope with Patriarch Athenagoras—the first encounter between a Roman Catholic pontiff and an Orthodox patriarch in five centuries.

Athenagoras announced the meeting on Monday.

Contraband Grain Probe Continues

WASHINGTON (AP)— An investigation is continuing into reported illegal diversion of more than a half million metric tons of U.S. grains from their destination in Austria to ineligible European countries.

Under contracts written under foreign aid program provisions, Austria is the only country in western Europe fully eligible to receive barter shipments of feed grains under open end contracts, Rep. Jamie Whitten, D-Miss., said.

In a report submitted to Congress, Whitten, chairman of a House Agricultural Appropriations subcommittee looking into the grain transactions, said an investigation begun by the executive branch of government in January 1963 should extend well into 1964.

He said the probe should establish the destination of all diverted grains and possibly shed more light on who is responsible for it.

He said the investigation so far shows 568,428 metric tons of grain which did not reach Austria, 448,656 metric tons, or 79 per cent, have been accounted for by investigation in Germany.

Some 10,015 tons found its way into Communist East Germany, Whitten said in his report published in the Congressional Record.

Whitten said that no evidence has been developed to indicate that American barter contractors were in any way involved in the conspiracy to divert the feed grains.

"However," said Whitten, "there are strong suspicions to indicate that their commodity agent—U.S. Grain Exporters—may at least have had knowledge of the diversion, if not an actual party to the conspiracy."

He asserted that the diversion was made possible "by the lack of established controls" by the Department of Agriculture to discover any infractions of the barter contracts or to enforce their provisions.

He said the results of the investigation have been brought to the attention of the Department of Justice and are under consideration there as to possible civil or criminal action against American commodity agents.

NEW YORK (AP) — Profit during the November quarter fell behind the previous three months for the first time during 1963, American Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported today.

At the same time the quarterly report of the nation's largest business enterprise indicated net earnings of $1,522,424,000 for the 12 months ended Nov. 30. That is more than any company has ever made in one year.

Mass Crossing Expected As Allotted Time Ends

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BERLIN (AP)—A new rush of West Berliners crossing the wall is expected with only four more days remaining on the agreement allowing visits to East Berlin.

A total of 172,740 West Berliners greeted the new year with relatives behind the wall, pushing past 600,000 the number of visitors to the Red sector since the visits began Dec. 19.

The huge flow of West Berliners placed new pressure on Mayor Willy Brandt's West Berlin government to discuss an extension of the visiting arrangement with the Communist Esst German regime.

The agreement expires at midnight Sunday.

Brandt has said he will try to renew the agreement, which has given West Berliners their first chance to see relatives in East Berlin since the Communists built the wall in August 1961.

He also is under opposite pressure from Allied and West German officials and West Berlin newspapers who regard any negotiations with the East German regime as recognition and fear such talks can only strengthen the Communist concept of a divided Germany and a neutralized West Berlin.

Brandt describes the pass agreement as a purely technical, humanitarian arrangement without the implications of an international agreement between states.

A gay and happy throng returned from East Berlin early New Year's Day after welcoming 1964 with a frenzy of song and drink. East Berlin's Karl Marx Allee was aglow with fireworks.

As stragglers met the extended 5 a.m. deadline for returning on New Year's morn, new visitors lined up for visits during the day. Several thousand persons had passes for both days and were allowed to spend the night in East Berlin.

Castro Marks 5th Year With Show Of Red Arms

By DANIEL HARKER

HAVANA (AP)—Premier Fidel Castro rolls out his Soviet-built military hardware today at a huge parade marking the fifth anniversary of the overthrow of dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Thousands of Cubans are expected to watch the display of tanks, artillery and ground-to-air missiles.

Castro planned a major policy speech, probably pegged to his government's theme that 1964 is "the year of the economy," an all-out battle to increase production.

Visiting Communist delegates from Europe, Asia and Latin America were to join Castro on the parade reviewing stand. The Soviet delegation is led by Nikolai Podgorny, a secretary of the Soviet Communist party and a member of its Presidium.

In a new year's greeting to Castro, Soviet Premier Khru-

In a Havana-to-New York telephone interview with ABC he said he wanted to normalize Cuba's relations with the United States but "it belongs to the United States government to take the next step to help that normalization."

"But of course, it can never be over conditions of renouncing our political ideas," Castro said. "Never can we renounce our marxism."

Year Of Heartbreak And Heroism: 1963

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

It was a year like none other in the century.

A widowed First Lady gave the nation an example of supreme dignity and courage in her time of trial. A Russian blonde was orbited into space. A playgirl nearly toppled the British government.

Two mothers gave birth to quintuplets. Another mother, Mrs. Madalyn Murray of Baltimore, won a Supreme Court ruling that barred prayer and Bible reading in public schools.

Women — white as well as colored — demonstrated for civil rights and job opportunities for Negroes, in the March on Washington, in sit-ins and on picket lines. At a Birmingham church on a Sunday morning in September a dynamite blast killed four little Negro girls.

As 1963 drew to a close, no body could deny it had been a highly eventful year, but everyone fervently wished parts of it could be undone.

The tragic circumstances surrounding the assassination of President John F. Kennedy widowed 3 young women, left 7 children fatherless and plunged 180 million Americans into mourning.

A woman judge, Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas, gave the oath of office to the new President, Lyndon B. Johnson, and the United States had a new First Family in Lady Bird, Lucy Baines and Lynda Bird.

The nation's heart and admiration went out to courageous and composed Jacqueline Kennedy, who lost a husband only three months after the death of her 3-day-old son Patrick. With her two small children, John Jr. and Caroline, she moved out of the White House into a year of mourning.

Meanwhile, pitying Americans contributed to funds for Mrs. Lee Oswald, the accused assassin's widow who was left destitute with two baby girls, and Mrs. J. D. Tippit, mother of three, whose policeman husband was shot to death shortly after the President.

Looking at the year's more cheerful aspects, September was a great month for babies. On Sept. 8 Mrs. Ines Cuervo de Prieto in Maracaibo, Venezuela, gave birth to five boys. She held the limelight less than a week. On Sept. 14 Mrs. Andrew Fischer, who already had five children, became the mother of quintuplets in an Aberdeen, S. D., hospital.

British royalty, meantime, became ladies in waiting; Queen Elizabeth is expecting her fourth early in 1964 with Princess Margaret, Princess Alexandra and the Duchess of Kent anticipating heirs a respectful time later.

For a while it looked as if the British government might fall over the high-society sex and espionage scandal resulting from courtroom revelations by red-haired Christine Keeler and various girl friends who had frolicked with the peer group, including a cabinet member. But the ship of state finally righted.

In this country's politics women weren't overlooked. A boomlet for Sen. Margaret Chase Smith to campaign for the Republican presidential nomination got off the ground in late fall. And speculation was rampant about New York Gov Nelson Rockefeller's chances for the same job in view of his spring marriage to Mrs. Margaretta (Happy) Filter Murphy, mother of four, shortly after her divorce from Dr. James Slater Murphy.

A Russian textile mill worker, Valentina Tereshkova, 26, became the first lady astronaut in June, dishing the hopes of Jerrie Cobb and other American women pilots who had wanted this country to send up the first space woman.

But the woman professor who won a Nobel prize this year was an American, Mrs. Maria Goeppert Mayer of the University of California. She shared the physics prize for research into the structure of the atom and its nucleus.

The United States lost a socialite in 22-year-old Hope Cooke, but gained a maharani. Earlier this year she married Prince Palden Thondup Namgyal of Sikkim, an Indina protectorate, and in December they ascended the throne.

The costly interminable "Cleopatra" finally was released to movie houses and got lukewarm reviews. More torrid was the romance between its stars, Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton, whose marriage seemed in the offing.

Rich and good: Heat light cream and mix with very hot strong coffee and chocolate syrup. For each serving, use ¼ cup of the cream, ½ cup of the coffee and a couple of tablespoons of the chocolate syrup. If you like, top with a fluff of whipped cream, but this is really guilding the lily!

Senses Can Improve IQ

NASHVILLE (AP) — A psychologist at Peabody College here forsees the day when a good mother may turn the radio on full blast beside her baby's crib to improve the child's intelligence.

Dr. Carl Haywood is testing a theory that the earlier a person — or animal — has sensory experiences, the greater the chance of establishing interconnections between nerve cells and the brain, hence the development of greater learning ability.

Haywood's experiments have been with chickens and ducks. Newborn chicks and ducklings have a tendency to follow the first moving object they see, he says, usually their mother.

To prove his point about earlier learning and that genetic tendencies can be altered, Haywood mounted a decoy duck on a track. The fake duck zooms around giving out recorded duck calls. Young ducks and chicks follow along obediently — a tendency Haywood says is strongest under normal circumstances from 9 to 12 hours after hatching.

Haywood also hatched a batch of chicks in a room containing flashing lights, music and other assorted noises. He found these chicks would follow the decoy best at six to nine hours after hatching — considerably earlier than the others — and that their "following tendency" lasted longer than in chicks reared in a quiet atmosphere.

He concludes the "learning" of the second batch of chicks also was better instilled.

A Little Self-Denial Is Plenty

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Perfection is not gained by a single vow.

Nor is it necessarily achieved by a thousand righteous self-promises.

That is the mistake many people make when the time comes for those annual New Year resolutions.

"I hereby resolve—" they say putting pen to paper. Then they scribble down a seemingly endless series of vows to do better, vows that would tax the performance of a saint in a long and dedicated lifetime.

Instead of trying to cut down the forest of his faults all at once, why not first start by merely clearing away a bit of the underbrush? Instead of vowing what you're going to do, why not vow to do without?

Anyway, that's the way we've decided to improve ourself during the coming year.

What are we going to give up? Oh, lots and lots of things. We're going to pare life down to the true clean bone.

As a starter, we're going to give up hula hoops, yo-yos, and dancing the Charleston.

We're going to go right on doing without cigarettes and go right on smoking cigars.

We're giving up caviar—hate the stuff anyway — and pink champagne.

As to those four - martini, three-hour lunches, we're jettisoning them for sure. A man who can't eat his fill during a two-hour lunch is probably wasting too much time talking and not paying enough attention to his plate.

We're going to give up kissing pretty girls in the office locker room. After all, by the time a fellow manages to chase and corner one, he's too tuckered out to enjoy the fun.

We're going to quit telling the boss how to run the firm. When you come right down to it, isn't he really entitled to make his own mistakes in his own inimitable way?

We're going to quit promising to take our wife out at least one evening a week. All this year we're going to promise to take her out at least two evenings a week. Maybe even three. When it comes to promising, why be a tightwad?

Those are a few of our goals for 1964. Already we feel much, much better.

A little self-denial is good for any man. But not too much. A fellow who becomes perfect all of a sudden becomes a stranger to himself, and who wants to live with a stranger?

The New Year Expected To Produce Spectaculars

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — This should be a year of spectaculars, certainly at home, maybe abroad.

At home — the presidential race, with all that means; abroad—the possibility of a summit conference and a grinding Russian-Chinese break.

President Johnson has to achieve in one year what the late President John F. Kennedy had three years to work at: public approval through public exposure; and public approval through public performance.

Johnson, in the time left before the campaign, can't match the amount of public exposure Kennedy got in speeches, trips, banquets, and appearances before news and television cameras practically every day.

But he's working at it, and working overtime, to create a favorable image of himself as a busy-busy president: at the White House, on trips, walks, tours of his ranch and picture posing.

There'll be lots more of this. Johnson is a man in a hurry. Since he is so obviously seeking to stay in the public eye, coming as he does from the relative obscurity of the vice presidency, a summit conference with Soviet Premier Khrushchev would snatch the world's attention like nothing else.

And, if it turned out half-well, it would snatch the world's approval. That's why such a meeting seems a strong possibility.

Meanwhile, talk without performance at home will be an empty achievement, and probably a self-defeating one. Johnson will have to try, and try harder than Kennedy ever did, to get some major legislation through Congress.

He's not as mild as Kennedy and for that reason is apt to get into some harrowing disputes with congressional leaders, an embroilment Kennedy always avoided.

Kennedy's technique, however was not very productive in getting Congress to do what he wanted. A different, harsher technique might be more effective.

Yet Johnson stands a chance of hurting himself if he gets too rough. He doesn't have Kennedy's ease or grace. A fight creates enemies and gives the impression of a man in trouble.

Kennedy made an effort to appear both calm and in full control, even when Congress frustrated and ignored him. But the Kennedy technique of no fights with Congress was simply a repetition of President Eisenhower's technique.

The result was 10 years of placidity in relations between the White House and Congress. There hasn't been a good brawl since the days of President Truman.

But all this is only half the picture of 1964.

The Republicans' presidential hopefuls will have a double chore, too: knocking one another out of the race while trying to scuttle Johnson.

Kennedy, after three years of building public confidence in his leadership, could have relaxed a bit under attack until the Republicans had picked their candidate and the race was under way.

Johnson can enjoy no such luxury. Besides, it's probably not in his nature to grin and bear it. He has a struggle every inch of the way to election day.

Since he's not a man who takes criticism lightly, what's ahead for him is enough to heat up any politician. He not only has to make a record for himself but then defend it and defend Kennedy's record as a Democratic leader, too.

The fact that Kennedy was so obviously well-liked might have taken some of the spirit, and much of the fight, out of his Republican opponents. But the brand-new Johnson is fresh meat for them.

This could well be the roughest and most unpleasant presidential race since Truman beat New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in 1948.

But Johnson has one enormous advantage over the Republicans: As president he can stay in focus every day.

Junior Editors Quiz on ARCHAEOLOGY

QUESTION: How was the Rosetta Stone discovered and how was its secret solved?

• • •

ANSWER: For thousands of years, scholars puzzled over the strange picture writing of the ancient Egyptians, called "hieroglyphic." There was no clue to what these symbols meant.

Then Napoleon invaded Egypt, and in 1799 one of his officers came across something remarkable partly buried in mud near a place called Rosetta. Across the top was an inscription in Egyptian hieroglyphic. Below this was another in Demotic, a popular ancient Egyptian language. Below this was still another inscription, in Greek. The officer guessed that these might mean the same, and if so, the stone might be a clue to finding the meaning of hieroglyphic. He had the stone removed and put in the hands of experts.

Jean Francois Champollion, a French scholar, devoted himself to the study of the stone. He translated the Greek part and found places where names were introduced. Then he found the same places in the hieroglyphic and so was able to learn the meaning of some of the pictures. He was an expert in modern Egyptian and found certain resemblances which gave him still more information. But it was not until 1822 that the meaning of all the ancient symbols was completely understood.

Duke: Just A Synomym For 'Great'

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

His name is Emmett Augustus Carlisle III. They call him Duke for short. But they've been calling him great since he engineered Texas' Cotton Bowl victory over Navy.

Duke Carlisle has been king in Dallas for almost 24 hours now, or since he dropped his "other quarterback" label on the 23-yard line, raced 19 yards on his first carry and continued to steer the national champion Longhorns to a 28-6 walloping of second-ranked Navy.

When he trotted off the field, in the third quarter with the game clinched, Carlisle had passed 58 and 63 yards to Phil Harris for touchdown, bolted nine yards for another and overshadowed the Middies celebrated quarterback—All - America and Heiseman Trophy winner Roger Staubach.

Asked after the game which lineman impressed him most, Staubach offered this key to the outcome of the game:

"Well, they all had me down at one time or another and I didn't notice their numbers."

Navy Coach Wayne Hardin wrapped it all up for the Longhorns a bit more eloquently.

"Texas did everything a national champion is supposed to do and deserves the No. 1 rating," he said.

Third-ranked Illinois, meanwhile, won the granddaddy of all the college football bowls, overcoming a 7-3 halftime deficit on short touchdown plunges by Jim Warren and Jim Grabowski for a 17-7 Rose Bowl victory in Pasadena over a crippled Washington team.

Ted Davis kicked field goals of 46, 48, 31 and 22 yards for all of Alabama's points in a 12-7 Sugar Bowl triumph over Mississippi at New Orleans and Nebraska rode Dennis Claridge's 68-yard touchdown jaunt and a pair of field goals by Dave Thiesen to a 13-7 Orange Bowl victory over Auburn at Miami.

But the day belonged to Texas from the time Carlisle completed his first pass until he sat down with a Cotton Bowl record for a total offense, gaining 213 yards passing and 54 rushing for a 267 total. Staubach also set a Cotton Bowl record with 21 completions in 31 attempts for 228 yards.

But Staubach's rushing yardage was minus 47, indicating the number of times he met Texas lineman in the Navy backfield.

Staubach scored the only Navy touchdown, a two-yard run in the fourth quarter.

The turning point for Illinois may have come in the first quarter when Washington, already hurt by the loss of injured fullback Junior Coffey, lost quarterback Bill Douglas with a dislocated left knee and reserve fullback Mike Kuklenski with a broken left leg.

Bill Siler took over for Douglas and engineered a second quarter touchdown drive, capped by Dave Kopay's seven-yard run. Illinois got three points back on Jim Plankerhorn's 32-yard field goal, then intercepted a Siler pass in the third quarter to set up the go-ahead touchdown.

George Donnelly picked off the pass and Mike Taliaferro eventually lobbed a pitch out to Warren, who dashed the final two yards. Grabowski, eating up time and yardage, rushed 11 times in the final drive before cracking over from the one. Grabowski was tapped as the game's outstanding player after gaining with 125 yards in 23 carries.

Alabama kept banging away at Mississippi, but never was able to get beyond the six-yard line. However, Davis, who hasn't run a play from scrimmage since he was injured as a high school quarterback, supplied the points. His 46-yarder and the 48-yarder that followed were the longest in major bowl history.

The Rebels, meanwhile, were unable to score until the fourth quarter when Perry Lee Dunn connected with Larry Smith on a five-yard touchdown pass. Mississippi threatened twice more—Dunn was stopped on the two in a fourth down situation and Billy Piper intercepted a pass in the waning seconds.

OVER THE MIDDLE—Tucker Frederickson (20) Auburn left halfback, climbs high over the middle of the line to gain 4 yards in the first period of the Orange Bowl game in Miami, Fla., with Nebraska. Nebraska tacklers moving in are (18) halfback Robert Hohn, and (54) center Ron Michka. (AP Wirephoto)

NCAA Meet Expected To Hit Squalls

NEW YORK (AP)—The official forecast is for calm, smooth sailing, but squalls are a definite possibility for the week-long annual convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, governing body for most of the nation's collegiate athletics.

The convention proper doesn't open until next Monday, but various coaching groups and associations begin their meetings Friday, including the baseball and track groups.

And it's from one such group—the Football Rules Committee—that one of the major issues could develop. That involves the controversial substitution rule used this season for the first time.

The committee has circulated a questionaire concerning the rule and is expected to make the results public, possibily along with recommendations for a change.

In all 22 groups and committees have meetings scheduled either before or during the convention of the association that now counts a membership of 612 colleges and universities.

Jose Tartabull led the Kansas City Athletics in stolen bases with 16 last season.

Longhorns Erase Doubts About National Ranking

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS (AP)—Several irrevocable facts came out of the Cotton Bowl football game Wednesday.

Texas established itself as national champions in the eyes of Navy. Coach Wayne Hardin said it as emphatically as he could but Adm. Charles Kirkpatrick, the Navy superintendent, put more punch into it with:

"They beat hell out of us, I would say."

The Texas players were way ahead of everybody. Out on the field Staley Faulkner, the big Longhorn tackle, was doing a little friendly needling.

After the second Texas touchdown, Faulkner asked the guys across the line from him: "Who do you think is No. 1?"

"You know," said Staley, "they didn't want to talk about it."

But the Navy players were good sports, played as well as they could and got the praise of their coach for their efforts.

"They gave all they had and they just met a better team, that's all," said Hardin, a tone of disappointment in his voice. "We are proud that we don't have to look up to anybody except this one team. We're better than anybody else.

"Texas did everything a champion is supposed to do. We thought we were better and we expected to win the national championship away from Texas. But we just weren't good enough."

Duke Carlisle, the Texas quarterback who picked the Navy defense to pieces and was selected as top back of the game, said Navy crowded its defense and Texas just went for the long pass—and it paid off with a 28-6 victory.

"But the guy who deserves all the credit is Phil Harris. He can catch any pass within reach."

Harris took long throws from Carlisle to give Texas its first two touchdowns.

On one of them, Harris faked the defender so badly he slid down. On the other, he took the ball out of the defender's hands. In both cases, the defender was Pat Donnelly, the Navy fullback.

"Harris made my passing look good," said the modest Carlisle who took all the acclaim with little expression.

Roger Staubach, the Navy All-American quarterback, was praised for his efforts even in defeat but he didn't think too much of them.

He produced one of the best quotes of the game when, asked which Texas lineman stood out, replied: "Well, they all had me down at one time or another and I didn't catch their numbers."

SPORTS

SPORTSCUTTLE

Although the Snyder High Basketball Team did nothing for its won-lost record in the Caprock Tourflament at Lubbock last week, a little ray of sunshine finally broke through. Coach Ned Underwood figures the Tigers turned in their best performance of the season so far in their opening game with Midland High. It was a good team effort, and three of the Tigers scored in double figures. Midland had only one player to score 10 or more points, and that was Randy Kerth who towers just under 6-8 in height.

Underwood said the game with Midland was the first in which he had noted a real coordinated effort. "I believe we are learning, and if we can get a good start after the holidays, maybe we will be ready for district play," the Tiger coach said.

The Bengals have a couple of warm-up encounters before conference play begins. They go to Hamlin Tuesday night and then Stamford comes here on Friday, Jan. 10. The Tigers open their district slate Jan. 13 at Lake View. Based on records to date, it appears that Lake View and Lamesa should be in the district driver's seat, at least at the outset.

Television permits a lot of fans to witness big football games, both college and professional, but there are some irritating incidents that make a fellow wish he could be in the stands sometimes. Like a long seige of camera shots from the end zone (how much demand is there for end zone seats when others are available?), and commercials stacked back to back to the point where several plays are missed.

• • •

The Texas Sports Writers Association is going to keep trying to get the Southwest Conference "Gag Rule" rescinded. Apparently there was not much that could be said in criticism of officiating in the Cotton Bowl game, although at one time it appeared on TV that Texas got a questionable pass interference penalty — an official who wasn't even shown on the screen came running in from left field to make the call, while one who appeared to be right on top of the play called it an incomplete pass.

• • •

Some speculation while hopping from bowl-to-bowl on television: It is difficult to imagine Navy finishing higher than fourth in the Southwest Conference. They finished 0-7 in the conference. And if Washington had a pair of defensive ends like those who perform for Darrell Royal, what would have happened to Illinois?

Remember Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice, the star North Carolina back of the mid-forties? The magazine, "Petroleum Today," published by the American Petroleum Institute, has an article about him in its latest issue. Choo Choo is in the oil business now in his hometown, Asheville, N. C. The article reveals that Justice, who entered North Carolina in 1946 soon after he got out of the Navy, accepted his football scholarship at NCU, not for himself, but for his wife, Sarah. Justice went to school on the GI Bill. It is believed that Sarah Justice is the only woman ever to attend college on a football scholarship.

Rangers Have Jinx On Black Hawks

By The Associated Press

No one could blame the Chicago Black Hawks, the National Hockey League leaders, if they would start to think the lowly New York Rangers have their number.

The fifth-place Rangers beat the Black Hawks 5-2 Wednesday night for their second consecutive victory over Chicago. New York built a 4-0 lead before Chicago dented goalie Jacques Plante's cage.

The loss, coupled with Montreal's 3-3 tie with Boston, cut Chicago's lead to four points.

Rookie Johnny Ferguson's goal with seven minutes left in the game gave Montreal the tie.

Senior Bowl Squads Set Two Workouts

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Two workouts were planned for both the North and South teams today in preparation for Saturday's Senior Bowl football clash.

Both Coach George Wilson of the North and South tutor Tom Landry said their squads would be bolstered by the arrival of players who participated in New Year's Day bowl games.

The Yankees elected Boston College quarterback Jack Concannon and Holy Cross center Jon Morris as their co-captains.

The election Wednesday followed a 10-minute head-knocking pass protection drill.

Appleton Only Pro Plum Who Hasn't Signed Pact

By The Associated Press

Texas tackle Scott Appleton, skillfully dodging the buck-passers, is on his way to the Hula Bowl in Honolulu, where he likely will find palm trees waving in the breeze and dollar bills waving in his face.

Appleton, an All-America was named the outstanding lineman in the Cotton Bowl after the Longhorns' 28-6 victory over Navy Wednesday, sidestepped the professional football talent scouts after the game. Asked which way he was leaning, Appleton said:

"I haven't decided a thing."

Appleton is the No. 1 catch still remaining in the checkbook war between the National and American football leagues. He is the only first round draft choice in either league not committed.

The Pittsburgh Steelers traded flanker Buddy Dial to Dallas for the NFL rights to Appleton. The Houston Oilers hold the AFL rights.

Appleton became the last remaining No. 1 pick up for grabs when the NFL signed the much-pursued Nebraska linemen, All-America guard Bob Brown and tackle Lloyd Voss, after the Cornhuskers' 13-7 Orange Bowl victory over Auburn.

Brown signed with the Philadelphia Eagles and Voss with the Green Bay Packers, giving the NFL signed contracts from 12 of their 14 first-round draft picks. Brown also was the No. 1 pick of Denver in the AFL, and Voss was second round selection of the AFL's New York Jets.

The NFL has lost only one of its first-round selections to the AFL—Southern California quarterback Pete Beathard, who passed up Detroit to sign with the Kansas City Chiefs. The AFL has signed only two of its eight first - round selections—Beathard and Ohio State fullback Matt Snell, by the Jets.

In addition, Oakland's AFL entry claims it has signed No. 1 pick Tony Lorick, Arizona State halfback. Baltimore in the NFL says it also has a signed contract from Lorick.

Utah Coach Can Change His Tune

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's about time for Utah basketball Coach Jack Gardner to start changing his tune.

The likeable coach of the Running Redskins had good reason for such preseason comments as these:

"We know we have a long way to go."

"I can't be optimisiic about this year compared with many others."

"We have to be considered in the role of underdogs."

Sure. It's very understandable. He had only one regular returning from last season's team, was loaded with sophomores and appeared to be hurting for size.

So now the Utes have an 11-1 record, finished their pre-conference season with a 76-68 upset of fourth-ranked Cincinnati Wednesday night and are gunning for national recognition.

The swift, spirited Utes barged out to a 39-31 halftime lead, increased the margin to 12 points after intermission then fought off a Cincinnati rally that closed to within two points, 66-64, with less than two minutes to go.

Only a handful of games were scheduled Wednesday as the colleges took a deep breath from the rigors of the holiday tourneys before jumping into conference play.

In the only other major games Georgia edged Alabama 49-47, Louisville romped over Marquette 85-67, Rhode Island upset Memphis State 68-66 and Toledo routed Kent State 75-57.

Avowed Anti-Communist Seeks GOP Senate Seat

DALLAS (AP)— Robert Morris, advocate of a stiffer policy toward Communist nations, announced Thursday he will seek the Republican nomination for U.S. senator in the May primary.

Morris is the third Republican to announce for the Senate. George Bush of Houston and Dr. Milton Davis of Dallas announced their candidacies earlier.

Morris called 1964 a year of critical importance.

He said:

"The quality and the vitality of our nation's political efforts at this time will determine whether we are to survive as a nation under God and under freedom."

Morris said he would stage an affirmative campaign based on issues.

Speaking of what he called the main issues, he said:

"Forces at home and abroad are systematically depriving us of our religious heritage, which, until now, has been a great preservation to our way of life.

"Our schools are denied the right to recite simple non-denominational prayers or even the fourth stanza of "America" because it acknowledges 'God as the author of liberty.' This trend must be reversed and our religious foundation reaffirmed.

"Our Constitution and Bill of Rights must be preserved. So, too must our whole system of common law heritage. Our nation must be defended from Communist aggression abroad and undermining from within."

Morris said he will open his state headquarters Friday in Austin.

Bush is the son of former Connecticut Sen. Prescott Bush. Davis is a surgeon. They will be making their first political races.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough is expected to seek re-election. Among those expected to oppose him in the Democratic primary are John Van Cronkhite, Dallas; Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., Houston; and Gordon McLendon, Dallas.

Morris became particularly well known in Texas as president of the Defenders of American Liberties, a civil liberties group. He gave up that post this fall but remained active in the organization.

Morris, 48, has taken a strong anti-communist stand and has supported greater national defense efforts.

He has been particularly critical of U.S. foreign policies, which he contends are shrinking the influence and prestige of the United States.

Morris is a native of Jersey City, N.J., and came to Dallas to head the new University of Dallas in 1960. He was defeated earlier that year by Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., when Case was backed by the Eisenhower administration.

Research Needed In Agriculture

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — More agricultural research rather than less is seen as a necessity by the Agriculture Department's research service at a time when farm surpluses—the outgrowth of research—plague farmers and the government.

An editorial in the service's research magazine said this need is based on (1) prospects that there will be 18 to 20 million more Americans by 1968 and (2) pressure for further reductions in cost of producing food as a means of raising farm income.

The service said the five-year outlook projects net income of farm operators in 1968 at a level 9 per cent below 1962.

"This is one of several dilemmas facing producers and their supporting agricultural research agencies—both public and private," the agency said.

Further research, it said, could show farmers how to produce various crops and livestock products at low enough cost to assure fair returns to producers and reasonable prices to consumers.

"We urgently need better methods of conserving soils and using available water supplies . . . milk with more non-fat solids . . . eggs that retain their initial high quality . . . fruits and vegetables that are more suitable for freezing and canning . . . and field crops with qualities especially useful to industry.

"We need more economical and effective methods of controlling diseases, insects, weeds, and weather . . . and better fertilizer practices and machines and other production tools. And, we must integrate these improvements into economical farm operations that stay flexible enough to allow adjustments in response to changes in market demands," the service added.

The agency said the future will bring rising demands for meat, milk, eggs, fruits and vegetables. But these are the foods that are costly to produce and process. Research can help show farmers how to make further reductions in these costs.

Barry's Decision Expected On Friday

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona will announce Friday his decision on entering the race for the Republican presidential nomination. Many political observers are convinced he will enter the contest.

Goldwater's announcement will come at an 11 a.m. news conference. Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is the only announced candidate.

Newsmen from throughout the country have gathered for the conference at Goldwater's Phoenix home, where the senator has been nursing a foot from which a bone spur was removed.

Ask Full Value For Investments

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Like the federal government, businessmen are ready to spend more this year but are resolved to get full value for each dollar spent. And they say the times favor their economy drive.

Or, to put it in balance-sheet language, industrial experts expect more business this year and therefore are ready to

Yet business as the new year starts shows little inclination to beat rising prices by running up stocks on hand. Corporate finance officers contend that new business techniques make this unnecessary.

Of 1,000 purchasing executives queried, in every important area of U.S. industry, 67 per cent told Purchasing Magazine their own company would spend more this year than last

Rockefeller To Resume Campaigning

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York resumes his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination Friday, ending a moratorium he imposed after the assassination of President Kennedy Nov. 22.

Rockefeller flies to New Hampshire, where he has entered the state's first-in-the-nation presidential primary March 10. He speaks Friday night to a Young Republicans' meeting at Portsmouth, and will visit Concord, the capital, Saturday.

Three other trips to New Hampshire are on Rockefeller's schedule this month.

On Jan. 27, he'll fly to California for appearances in Marin County and Los Angeles. California's presidential primary is in June.

Rockefeller is the only announced candidate for the nomination. However, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona says he'll announce Friday whether he will seek it.

Rockefeller and his wife received about 1,450 visitors at the annual open house at the executive mansion.

Rockefeller said he had no intention of making a nationwide television and radio appearance to discuss his divorce and remarriage.

Replying to a reporter's question, he denied a Washington Post story that he would make such an appearance later this month. The newspaper quoted Rockefeller supporters as saying the governor felt he had "nothing to lose and everything to gain" by taking the matter directly to the people.

Makarios Tries To End Turkey's Role In Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, has begun a campaign to end Turkey's special role in Cyprus, granted by the island's 1960 independence treaties.

Charging Turkey with "aggressive actions" in the communal strife between Greek and Turkish Cypriots, Makarios announced Wednesday night he would seek to dissolve agreements under which Britain, Greece and Turkey guarantee Cyprus' sovereignty.

The treaties with all three governments are interlocked and all three must be abrogated to get rid of the agreement with Turkey. But Makarios and other members of his government have made plain the Turkish government is the object of their ire.

The action came amid fresh bloodshed on the 12th day since strife between the island's Greek majority and Turkish minority turned violent. Three monks were killed and another three wounded in a raid Wednesday on a Greek Orthodox monastery 25 miles southwest of Nicosia. Survivors said five or six Turkish Cypriots made the raid.

Britain, now acting as peacemaker and policeman for its former colony, feared new reprisals by Turkish Cypriots if Makarios upsets the delicately arranged treaties without consultation with all sides.

In Turkey's capital, Ankara, a Foreign Ministry spokesman said his government stood by the treaties and promised "we will take every measure for their literal application."

Asks Meet Of NATO In Crisis

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — A new caretaker government met today on the Cyprus crisis and authoritative sources said it had asked for an extraordinary meeting of the Atlantic Alliance's Permanent Council in Paris.

Shortly after the Greek Cypriot-Turkish Cypriot rivalry on Cyprus exploded into violence last month, the Greek government asked for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization meeting. Later it withdrew the request when it appeared the conflict was being resolved.

Now the crisis appears to be heating up again.

Sources said the NATO committee was expected to take up the Cyprus issue in Paris this afternoon.

7-Year-Old Gets First New Shoes

DALLAS (AP) — Seven-year-old Brenda Reed wore her first pair of new shoes Thursday.

She got them Wednesday at the 19th annual West Dallas New Year's Day shoe party for underprivileged youngsters.

Like many of the 2,000 others who were fitted for free footwear, Brenda usually wears hand-me-downs.

Brother Bill Herrod, pastor of the Palacios Street Mission, sponsors the party for children certified to be needy by their school teachers.

Shoes came from manufacturers as far away as Chicago and San Francisco, and from the Variety Club of Dallas Foundation.

Johnson To Nominate Argentina Ambassador

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson plans to nominate Edwin M. Martin, a veteran Foreign Service officer, as ambassador to Argentina.

Martin, 55, a native of Dayton, Ohio, will succeed Robert McClintock, who, in turn, "is expected to be appointed to another important post in the near future," a White House announcement said Wednesday.

Martin had been assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs during the Kennedy administration. After Johnson became president he named Thomas C. Mann, then ambassador to Mexico, to succeed Martin.

Martin entered government service in 1935. He joined the State Department at the end of World War II.

Inauguration Set For Houston Mayor

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston scheduled the inauguration of a new mayor Thursday morning.

Judge Madison S. Rayburn of the county court-at-law was to administer the oath of office to Mayor-elect Louie Welch, City Comptroller Roy Oakes and eight councilmen.

After an address by Welch, the new officials scheduled an 11 a. m. meeting in city hall.

Duck Hunters Get Game Unexpectedly

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP)—Two Crossett, Ark., hunters met their quarry sooner than expected Wednesday when their light plane collided with a flock of ducks high over the Arkansas River near Stuttgart.

Jack Stell was piloting the plane when ducks crashed through its windshield into the passenger compartment, broke landing lights, crushed the propeller spinner, damaged the landing edges of the wings and tail and broke open an oil line.

Stell, a veteran pilot, skidded the plane on an ice covered cotton field after the engine stuck from lack of oil. Its nose wheel sheared off and the craft nosed over, but Stell and his party walked away from the plane.

The passengers were covered with blood and feathers. Examination showed one hunter had only a broken fingernail and another two minor scratches.

They didn't estimate their "kill."

Scholars To

Pope Paul VI To Retrace Christ's Path

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP)—An individual, and the path he walked, laid the foundation of Christianity.

Pope Paul VI, on his unprecedented journey to the Holy Land this weekend, plans to retrace the topography of that path—the ground traversed by Jesus Christ.

Jesus, a young Jewish teacher slain at 33, had a swift, strange career—punctuated by extraordinary and wondrous events.

Yet the events occurred in ordinary human settings, in the towns, along the trails and lakeshores at the eastern end of the Mediterranean.

The spots which Pope Paul will visit formed the earthly stage on which 2,000 years of history have unfolded.

Saturday evening, on his first day here, the Pope is expected to spend an hour in the Garden of Gethsemane. There Jesus held his last lonely vigil before his arrest and death.

Jesus, on His way there after the Last Supper with his apostles or during it, delivered his final discourse, foretelling his death, warning of persecutions, urging love and promising that his spiritual presence would remain.

An objective of the Pope's trip here is to pray, as did his Lord, for Christian unity.

A rough, bare white rock, which today protrudes inside a dim-lit church, is said to be the place where Jesus prayed and steeled himself for his ordeal ahead—and where Pope Paul, too, will pray.

The Pope also will walk the sad, winding route that Jesus followed from the Roman seat of judgment to the traditional site of the Hill of the Skull (Golgotha) where he was crucified and entombed.

The route now is called the "Via Dolorosa" — the Way of Sorrows.

It begins at the Lithostrotos, the ancient paved square where the Roman governor, Pilate, held court when Jesus was brought there, charged with blasphemy and claiming a divine mantle of kingship.

Along the old city's narrow, cobblestone streets, tables and monuments mark the incidents of the melancholy march. These are called "stations of the Cross." Pope Paul will follow the same course.

The Church of the Holy Sepulcher is a somber, labyrinthine sanctuary of candlelit chambers, stone stairways, balconies, alcoves, columns and altars, almost always astir with moving figures, chanting voices and clouds of incense.

Here Saturday afternoon, Pope Paul is scheduled to celebrate a Mass—the ancient rite commemorating Christ's self-sacrifice for man, and also his victory over death.

Inside the church, about 14 feet below the Crucifixion platform, is a traditional place of burial.

On his second day here, Sunday, the Pope will cross the border into Galilee to visit Nazareth, the country town where Jesus grew up, the slope beside the lake where Jesus deliverd the sermon on the Mount and also Mount Tabor, where Jesus was transfigured before the eyes of three apostles.

Returning to Jerusalem, he visits Bethlehem next day, on Monday.

Rockefeller is seeking the Republican presidential nomination.
