In Brief

Sessions sick

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI today postponed indefinitely the swearing-in of William S. Sessions as its new director after he became sick and fainted on a flight to Washington. But his wife said he appeared to be "just fine" after a night in the hospital.

Alice Sessions, asked as she she entered George Washington University Hospital about her husband's condition, told the AP:

"I think he's just fine this morning. He was very tired and had some air sickness last night" on a flight from Texas.

Neither the White House nor the FBI would discuss Sessions' illness, except to say that it was not considered life-threatening.

Attorney General Edwin Meese III, asked earlier at the hospital what was wrong with Sessions, said:

"We don't know yet, for sure. They're doing some tests to find out."

Bork update

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. David Pryor, D-Ark., and Terry Sanford, D-N.C., today became the first Southern Democrats to oppose the nomination of Supreme Court nominee Robert H. Bork.

Both Bork supporters and opponents had hoped to gain the backing of Sanford and Pryor, who have been on the undecided list until now.

The Pryor and Sanford announcements followed four other announcements by Senate Democrats this week of opposition to Bork. But those four senators had been assumed to be in the anti-Bork camp prior to their announcements.

Pryor, in a floor speech, said Bork does not have the judicial temperament to serve on the Supreme Court.

Memorial set

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — A memorial service will be held Friday at the Dyess Air Force Base parade grounds for three officers who died when their B1-B bomber crashed on the plains of southeastern Colorado.

Civilians will be allowed to the enter the base for the service without the customary pass, she said.

Quake rattles L. A.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A strong earthquake measuring 6.1 on the Richter scale struck Southern California this morning, collapsing a building, setting off fires, and cutting off power to parts of downtown Los Angeles.

The first jolt, centered nine miles south of Pasadena, was recorded at 7:42 a.m. local time and was followed by at least four strong aftershocks.

Extent of damage and injuries could not immediately be determined.

Lloyd Darrington, a spokesman for the California Emergency Services Office in Sacramento, said he had reports of "one collapsed building in the Pasadena area, and there are several fires in the area."

He did not know how large the building was or how extensive the blazes.

Jim Wells, a spokesman for the Los Angeles Fire Department, said "Most of our calls are from stuck elevators. We've had some reports of people suffering heart attacks."

An air traffic reporter for KNX radio, Judy Able, said, "All the traffic stopped in all the (freeway) lanes. Quite unusual."

It was the strongest quake in the Los Angeles area since a 6.4 quake in San Fernando in 1971.

The quake was also felt in Las Vegas, Nev., and in San Diego County.

Throughout the Los Angeles area, windows rattled and bits of plaster and concrete fell from some of the older buildings. People rushed into streets throughout the city after the first tremor struck.

NEW BIDS COMPLETE — Kathy Minemier, left, and Jill Holt shared a moment of quiet triumph Wednesday as Miller Robinson, second from left, and Roy Baze look on. The occasion marked the completion of Snyder's second proposal for a state prison unit. An addendum to TDC specifications prompted the second proposal, which had to be submitted by Thursday. In addition to the larger 2,250-bed maximum security unit, Scurry County now seeks to be considered for one or more of four 1,000-bed units the state plans to build. (SDN Staff Photo)

Hermleigh classes schedule reunions

Two organized class reunions are scheduled this weekend in conjunction with the 80th anniversary of the founding of the Hermleigh School.

A 50-year reunion is planned by the Class of 1937 and a 25-year reunion is slated by the Class of 1962.

Activities for the 50-year observance will begin at 11 a.m. Saturday at The Shack. Of the original 18 class members, which included the first football team at Hermleigh, 13 are expected to attend.

The Class of 1962 will meet Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Golden Corral restaurant for its reunion.

Sixteen students graduated in 1962 and almost all of these are expected. Also expected are many of their former teachers.

Friends and family of the class are also invited to attend.

Hermleigh School will mark the school's 80th year of operation with several events Saturday, beginning with a 10 a.m. registration at the school.

At 2 p.m., the homecoming game will be staged between Hermleigh and Ira. Halftime activities will include the coronation of the football sweetheart and hero. Prior to the kickoff of the game, members of the first football team (1936-37) will be introduced.

Also planned is a barbecue supper at 4:30 p.m.; a business meeting at 7 p.m.; and a dance at 8:30 p.m.

Patented device brings local firm worldwide market

By BOB CAMPBELL
SDN Staff Writer

You could say Y-Z Industries has never attracted much attention in its hometown, considering there is only one other company like it in the world.

It has been here since 1950, when Red Young and I.V. Zeck opened Y-Z Carburetor.

It evolved into Y-Z Engineering as Zeck's son, Ted, came into the business, and operated primarily as a machine shop until the family secured a patent for a device to gauge the chemical make-up of crude oil in pipelines.

The crude oil "sampler" led to devices that are similar in purpose but much more sophisticated in concept and construction to analyze and record or "sample" the content of natural gas liquids and then natural gas in pipelines.

Its latest invention, the natural gas sampler, runs off a solar-powered battery.

Because the devices are precision instruments that are often installed and must work dependably in some of the most remote areas of the world, Y-Z has been able to gain a competitive advantage by "trying to out-think the other guy, building a product that's better and lasts longer."

Y-Z's only competition in the world is a Houston engineering firm that has been in business for about 15 years.

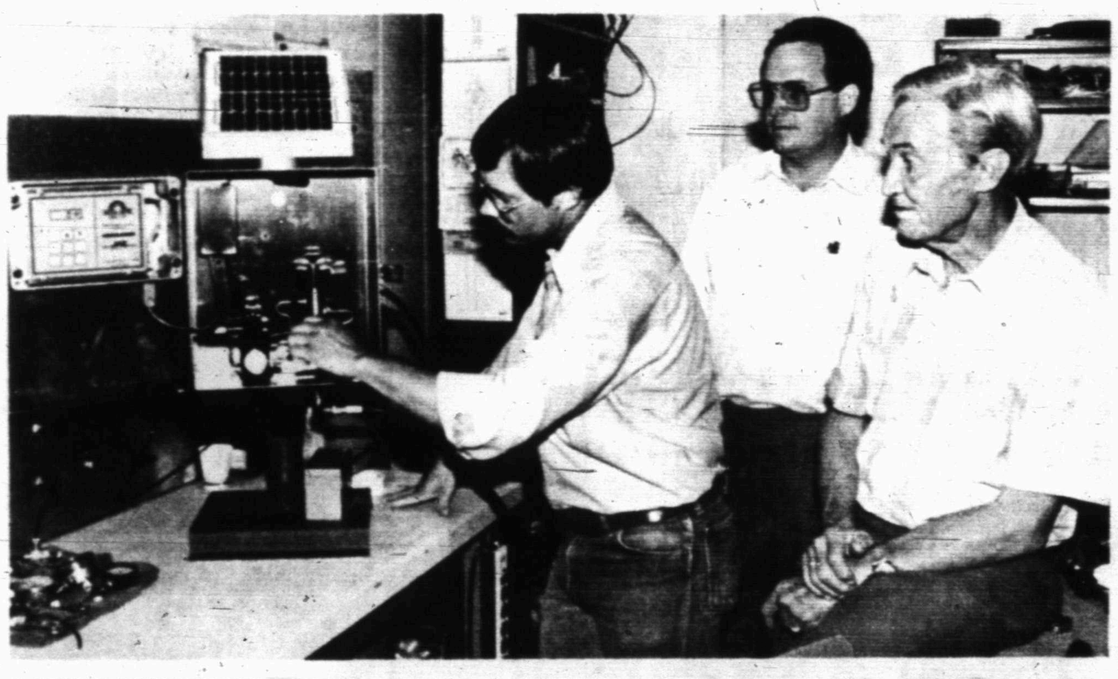

Today, Y-Z Industries sells its products primarily in the South and Southwest but also markets its samplers throughout the United States and in numerous foreign countries.

Its crude oil samplers sell for $3,000 to $5,000, depending on the design and specific purpose, its natural gas liquids samplers go for $4,000 to $7,000, and its natural gas samplers run from $1,500 to $3,000.

Paul Zeck, who does civic duty as city councilman, is the first graduate engineer of his family, taking over the business as president in 1980 after graduating from Texas A&M University in 1974 and working six years in five different states for National Valve and Manufacturing Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Zeck said how long his company's samplers last depends on what conditions they have to work in and, mainly, how well they're maintained.

Just Say 'NO'

Q. — After I determine my child is using drugs or alcohol, what's the best way to confront them?

A. — Plan the confrontation in advance. Decide where, who will be there, what you want to say and what you want to happen. Be specific and confront in a calm but firm way and always stick to the issues.

Amendment would renew 'freeport' law

Proposition 11 would reinstitute the "freeport" law, exempting goods in transit from ad valorem taxes — a law that was struck down by the Dallas Court of Appeals in 1985.

The law exempted goods passing through Texas that remain here for no longer than 175 days for the purpose of assembly, storage, manufacture, processing or fabrication.

It was struck down on grounds of unconstitutionality. The intent of the amendment is to again make such a law constitutional.

The amendment would reinstate the 175-day limit for the same purposes, exempting goods, wares, merchandise and ores except oil, gas and petroleum.

Cities, counties and school boards could tax all or a percentage of the appraised value of the exempted property for 1988 if they took action before Jan. 1 and for tax years starting on Jan. 1, 1989, if they took action before

Charles Cain won a batch of sweepstakes ribbons during last week's Scurry County Fair. Cain, a welder who has "retired" to farming on the Roby highway, is particularly proud of his pecans.

The Mohawk variety, with seven to eight pecans in a cluster, are his favorite. Cain has a bumper crop this fall. "I just hope the limbs don't break."

A guy from a nearby newspaper called a few days ago and reported they were having problems with those fancy computer typesetting machines.

He said they had hopes, however, since hearing about a new computer that will soon hit the market.

It's called a Reagan Computer. It has no memory at all and only half a colon.

Americans have always desired to build the proverbial "better mousetrap."

It seems that a mousetrap is a mousetrap, but The Mother Earth News says what is important is the bait, not the trap.

It is reported that a childhood favorite, Tootsie Rolls, makes perfect bait. Because of its consistency, the candy is better than cheese or peanut butter.

The researchers have concluded that the candy is hard enough that a mouse can't nibble without springing the trap.

We just learned the real reason for the pro football strike. Howard Cosell was thinking of making a comeback.

Cancer linked to gene loss

NEW YORK (AP) — A form of lung cancer that afflicts up to 40,000 people a year may appear after lung cells lose natural protection from a gene, scientists reported today.

The gene may normally control growth and development of the cell, and its loss, perhaps caused by smoking, may start a cell on the road to "small-cell" lung cancer, one researcher said.

The report comes a month after a study found evidence for a similar gene in colon-rectum cancer, the nation's second most common serious malignancy, after lung cancer. Several other cancers also have been linked to so-called suppressor genes or anti-oncogenes.

If the new gene can be isolated, it might lead to new therapies for small-cell lung cancer, which strikes 30,000 to 40,000 people annually, said researcher John Minna.

The gene also may play a role in other types of lung cancer, and in cancers of the skin and kidney, said Minna, chief of the NCI-Navy Medical Oncology Branch of the National Cancer Institute, and professor of medicine at the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences in Bethesda, Md.

Small-cell lung cancer accounts for 20 percent to 25 percent of the nation's 150,000 annual lung cancer cases and about a quarter of its 136,000 annual lung cancer deaths, the cancer institute says.

The findings are published in the British journal Nature by Minna, Susan Naylor of the University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio, and their colleagues.

The study provides "much stronger evidence" for the gene's existence than previous research did, said Stephen Friend, visiting scientist at the Whitehead Institute for Biomedical Research in Cambridge, Mass.

When the gene is missing, cells may reproduce without normal regulation, setting them up for further genetic damage that finally produces cancer, Minna said in a telephone interview.

A normal cell gets two copies of genes by inheriting 23 pairs of chemical threads called chromosomes, on which genes reside.

Officials allege plot to export missiles

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A businessman claiming to represent high-ranking Chinese diplomats illegally tried to export TOW and Sidewinder missiles and blueprints for F-14 fighters to China, federal officials charge.

The disclosure came during a detention hearing Wednesday for Chang-Yao Chi, 65, who was arrested Sunday in a "sting" operation by U.S. Customs agents in Newark and charged with conspiracy to illegally export arms.

Chi, a Chinese businessman living in New York City, has links to "high-ranking members of the United Nations (Chinese) delegation and the People's Republic of China," says Assistant U.S. Attorney Mark S. Olinsky.

Chi indicated to a government informant that the buyers of the missiles would be "individuals associated with the Chinese mission to the United Nations," according to a complaint filed in federal court here.

According to the complaint, the negotiations were with a government undercover agent, and no missiles or plans changed hands.

Olinsky refused to name the diplomats or comment further on the investigation.

Officials at the Chinese mission to the United Nations had no comment.

U.S. Magistrate Stanley R. Chesler ordered Chi held without bail in New York City, saying he might flee because of his diplomatic and government contacts.

Chi's attorney, Alan Zegas, said Chi was an "unwilling participant in this sting" and "maintains that he has done nothing wrong."

The twin-seat F-14, which can fly at twice the speed of sound, is the Navy's primary fighter jet and has never been sold to China.

Fire Prevention Makes Sense in Every Season

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1987 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: Next week is Fire Prevention Week, and despite declines, the United States and Canada still have the highest fire death rates of all the developed countries of the free world.

The most recent figures (for 1986): In the United States, 5,850 civilians and 113 firefighters died in fires, and approximately 26,825 civilians and 100,900 firefighters were seriously injured. The total loss in property alone came to $6.7 billion. Each season has its own special fire hazards. Here are some tips for all seasons:

FALL: If you enjoy camping, select a tent made of flame-resistant fabric. Pack a reliable flashlight with plenty of extra batteries to light the inside of your tent — never use matches or candles. When building a campfire, place it downwind of your tent. And never try to hasten the burning by using gasoline or other flammable liquid starters.

If you use your fireplace, have your chimney professionally cleaned in the fall to make sure it's in good condition for the coming season.

WINTER: More fires occur during the winter than in any other season. The reasons: home heating and the holiday season.

If you use a portable heater, be sure it is placed away from combustibles — draperies, furniture, paper, etc. Remember, the surface heat of some portable heaters may reach 500 degrees, so keep a careful watch on your children and warn them to keep away from heaters. Hospitals are treating an increasing number of patients with burns resulting from contact with the outside surface of some portable heaters.

For a merry Christmas, choose a Christmas tree that does not have shedding needles, and keep it standing in water while it is in the house. If you choose an artificial tree, choose one that is flame-resistant.

After holiday parties, before retiring, check your ashtrays for smoldering cigarette butts, and carefully examine all upholstered chairs and sofas to make sure that no "live" cigarette butts have fallen between the cushions. Remember, most house fires occur between 8 p.m. and 8 a.m., when people are sleeping.

SPRING: Take spring cleaning seriously — clean out your attic, basement, garage and workshop. Throw out trash, especially combustibles such as rags, newspapers, magazines, boxes and scraps of wood. Never smoke while fueling gas-powered lawn mowers or chain saws. If you must store gasoline, store it in a ventilated area in a can designed especially for that purpose. And store oily rags and paint in a cool place in tightly sealed metal containers.

SUMMER: When cooking out, never use flammable liquids near live coals. An explosion or flash fire could result. When you've finished cooking, soak the coals with water and make absolutely sure they're out when you leave. Smoldering coals that appear to be "dead" can reignite as much as a day later. If you use a propane gas grill, always have the lighted match in position before turning on the gas.

"Play It Safe ... Plan Your Escape!" is this year's theme. Some tips for all seasons:

— Never smoke in bed.

— Never leave invalids or small children alone in the house, not even for "a few minutes."

— Never use flammable liquids for dry cleaning indoors.

— Have periodic fire drills in your home to be sure everyone knows what to do in case of fire.

— Keep easy-to-use fire extinguishers in your kitchen, cottage, back bedrooms and on your boat. Invest in smoke detectors, and be sure that they are kept dust-free and in working order.

— The telephone number of your fire department should be taped to every telephone in your house. If it isn't, should a fire occur, don't waste time trying to find it; get out, and call from a neighbor's house. And once you are out, stay out. No treasure is worth risking your life for.

It took less than three minutes to read this column. Was it worth it? I hope so.

Vision change causes concern

DEAR DR. GOTT — About 18 months ago the vision in my right eye became blurred and I noticed that the pupil was much larger than that of my left eye. Recently, my balance seems to be slightly off. Two ophthalmologists have attributed the problem to age, but I'm only 37. My paternal grandmother, and all my paternal aunts have eye problems. What can you suggest?

DEAR READER — Although unequal pupils can be a lifelong, harmless variation, I am concerned that you developed this abnormality at your age. In addition, your blurred vision suggests that the nerves to the dilated pupil may be malfunctioning.

I am not going to second-guess two qualified eye specialists, since they are the experts who have had the opportunity to examine you. Nonetheless, I would feel more comfortable knowing that the pupillary nerves are not being affected by a growth or infection. In addition, the use of certain medications, such as the scopolamine patch to prevent motion sickness, can be associated with unequal pupils.

I suggest that you seek a third opinion from ophthalmologists in the eye clinic of a teaching hospital. These specialists may order a CT scan (computed X-ray examination) of your eye and brain to make sure that none of the pupillary nerves are being compressed. If, after examining you, they give you a clean bill of health, you need do nothing more.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My sister, who lives in South America, has been diagnosed as having a rare disease called pemphigus vulgaris. What do you know of this condition?

DEAR READER — Pemphigus vulgaris is an unusual and serious skin condition, also known as Brazilian wildfire. The cause of the disease is unknown. It is characterized by large blisters on the skin, as well as circulating antibody proteins against skin itself. Therefore, pemphigus is considered to be an autoimmune disease, a reaction to one's own normal tissues.

The ailment is dangerous because it can involve large areas of skin that simply peel away, like burns, leaving the body unprotected and susceptible to secondary infection.

Pemphigus vulgaris carried a 95 percent fatality rate before cortisone treatment. Today, the disease can usually be controlled with drug therapy.

Illegal entry charges filed

STRANRAER, Scotland (AP) — Three Iranians who work for a group aiding casualties of the Iran-Iraq war were fined $1,600 each for illegally entering Britain, officials said.

Also fined Wednesday by Sheriff's Court in Stranraer, western Scotland, was an Iranian who had lost a leg in the conflict.

Ali Reza Javdan, 30, Mondooehen Bah Ani, 49, Mohammad Taghi Karobi, 19, and Zinnat Sarzinia, 29, all admitted entering Britain without permission. Defense lawyer Graham Bell said the men planned to leave Britain.

Bell told the court that three of the accused were in Britain to close the London section of the Iranian Martyr Foundation, which arranges for private medical care for war casualties.

Because of worsening diplomatic relations between Britain and Iran, the organization decided to shift the operation to Ireland, Bell said.

Expert card reading

Although three diamonds doubled would have gone down one, South was rightfully wary. Having overcalled on garbage, he wasn't risking the chance that North might be counting on him for a defensive trick, so he bid three hearts. Despite the warning that South didn't have much, North still carried on to game.

Declarer took the club ace, pitched a club on the diamond ace and played ace and a spade. East went in with the king, played king of clubs and then 10 of clubs. South ruffed with the heart 10 as West discarded the queen of spades. It was time for South to picture the distribution. East had started with six clubs. The spade queen discard by West surely meant that East originally held K-9-7-6 of spades. That would leave him with three red cards. If he held A-x of hearts and the single eight of diamonds, then West would have held a seven-card diamond suit headed by the K-Q and surely would have bid diamonds immediately over the one-heart overcall. All this enabled declarer to determine that East had the singleton heart ace. Leading a low spade would be a disaster since West would ruff in with the seven to force dummy's king. Then East would win the ace on the subsequent heart lead and give West a spade ruff. But there was a counter to this. South played a low heart out of his hand and played low from dummy. East took the ace but was helpless to set the contract.

B&PW discusses exchange students

The International Rotary Youth Exchange Program was described at the Sept. 22 dinner meeting of the Snyder Business and Professional Women's Club.

Barbara McCormick, longtime worker in the program, stressed the values and excellence maintained by our community in screening some 50 applicants yearly. The aim is to send the most select, active young people to other countries to represent our nation and local area.

As a highlight of her work, McCormick mentioned an Austrian who changed her prejudice against capitalism and gained an understanding of democracy through the exchange effort.

She also explained the differences between the American Field Service and the Rotary Youth Program, stating that the IYEP combined support for the two with Jack Gorman the appointed director. Rotary permits Scurry County students to travel in the summer while IYEP selects a foreign exchange student for the school year.

Some 40 clubs participate in having the exchange students present slides and programs about their travels. McCormick expressed her appreciation for the community interest and support of the program.

Lee Weaver served as hostess for the meeting at Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Fay McCollum, vice-president, presided for dues payment and the MAWC directors report. Year books were given to members.

Dance festival set October 24

The 16th Annual Square and Round Dance Festival will be held Oct. 24 in the Scurry County Coliseum with Dick Parrish of Hobbs, N.M. as square dance caller. Dave and Nita Smith of Lubbock will call the round dances. Henry and Linda Holley are festival chairmen.

The Sparkle City Squares square dance club elected officers at a recent workshop. Serving for the next six months will be Dale and Peggy Remington, presidents; Buck and Faye Layne, vice-presidents; David and Camille Fisher, secretary/-treasurer.

Electronic 'ear' listens for signs of life in outer space

MELBOURNE, Fla. (AP) — The world's largest "ear" is listening for signs of life in outer space.

Operating 24 hours a day near Arecibo, Puerto Rico, the 25-acre large radio telescope reflector dish receives data from outer space at the rate of 600 book pages per second. The Harris system of super minicomputers, which help map galaxies, stars and pulsars and our own galaxy, is on the alert for, among other things, extraterrestrial life.

Observation of celestial radio sources is very difficult because they are so faint. The earth intercepts only a few watts of power from these sources. The Harris system, using specially designed supermicrochips, takes 5 to 10 millionths of a second to respond to any incoming data.

"The work we do here is very time-critical," said Phil Perillat, Arecibo's acting computer department head. "If a user has to sample a signal, say, once a microsecond, then the data from that signal must be acquired at that speed, too."

Tigers have big hill to climb

Coach Dennis Tomlin says his Tigers know they have a mountain to climb this Friday night, but Snyder will have its hiking boots on when it buses to Monahans to meet the highly-touted Loboes.

"We have a high mountain to climb. We're 34 point underdogs," said Tomlin, referring to the Harris Rating Service's assessment of the game. "Someone asked how do you get the kids ready when you are a 34-point underdog. Well, our kids don't feel like Monahans is 34 points better than they are. They know it's a real challenge and they are going to go out and play and play to win."

Kickoff is at 8 p.m. at Lobo Field in Monahans.

Coach Tomlin announced several lineup changes. David Martinez will take over at offensive guard for Kevin Dollins, Roy Gutierrez will get the starting nod at fullback for Isrrael Hinojos and Bart Morton will assume the rover spot for Pete Madrid. Gutierrez and Chad Hall will be the starting defensive ends in place of Benny Miller and Martinez. Other changes may be necessary as well, because of injuries to Miller and Robert Talamantez and an illness which has beset Thomas Wesley. All three missed the first three days of workouts this week.

Miller is recovering from a shoulder injury; Talamantez from a back injury.

"There's no question they are the best all-around football team we will have played so far," said Tomlin. "Their passing game is a little better than Fort Stockton's and they have two fine runners in their fullback and tailback. The stats speak for themselves about that."

Monahans' statistics are impressive to say the least. The Loboes average 393 yards and 41 points a game. Some 309 of those yards are on the ground, and over half of it is produced by all-district standout Charles Thompson.

Though not big at 5-6, 164, the speedy senior already has 495 yards in just three outings. He is averaging 12.7 yards per carry, and three touchdowns a ballgame.

Fullback Ronnie Ramsey has 209 yards in 41 carries and quarterback Carlton Jordan, a 6-0, 159 junior, has thrown for 235 yards. Flanker Ronnie Molina has a half-dozen receptions for 114 yards.

"Defensively they are the quickest team we've played. If you wanted to compare them to Fort Stockton, they're not as big, but quicker," noted the coach.

Monahans' defense is giving up just 168.3 yards and 4.3 points a game.

"It would be foolish to think it wasn't an uphill battle for us but we are going to go and play the best we can play," Tomlin assured. "It will take a good effort on everyone's part. We have to play team defense and pursue. Of course, the best defense is an offense that keeps the ball. We'd like to keep their offense off the field as much as we can."

Big names trickle into NFL lineups but union says it is not concerned

NEW YORK (AP) - The number of striking NFL players returning to their teams is still just a trickle. But names like Green, White and Webster make it a more significant trickle.

Fifteen more players crossed the union's picket line Wednesday, bringing to 40 the number who have returned in the first nine days of the strike. There are 1,585 players under union jurisdiction not including first-year players on injured reserve.

But Wednesday's group, returning four days before the first games involving teams of replacement players, included the most important defectors since the early days of the strike.

Among them were quarterback Danny White of the Dallas Cowboys; center Mike Webster and running back Earnest Jackson of the Pittsburgh Steelers; wide receiver Roy Green and defensive end Curtis Greer of the St. Louis Cardinals and starting defensive linemen Bruce Clark and Tony Elliott of the New Orleans Saints.

Green, who has shown his All-Pro form of 1984 with 11 catches for an average of 20.8 yards in his first two games, said he was always lukewarm about the strike.

"I think that they're just pounding heads up there," he said. "Both sides have some things that are of merit, but in the meantime I think the players and the fans are the ones that are hurting.

"So why be a hypocrite?" he asked.

Greer, who like Green has been hobbled by an injury, said he returned because he didn't want to waste six months of rehabilitation from a knee injury. He is tied for the NFL lead after two games with three sacks.

"I worked very hard to get to this point where I am today," Greer said. "I want an opportunity to play football. That's been the only sole purpose of me being here right now."

The union claimed that the defections weren't disturbing.

Gene Upshaw, the executive director of the NFL Players Association, returned to Washington following an 8,000-mile tour to shore up support among the players claiming the ranks were still solid.

"I don't think three or four guys in the National Football League constitute the will of the players," Upshaw said in Pittsburgh, his last stop. "We have more guys out than they have in, and I think that will be the case when we finally reach an agreement.

"What those guys are doing, they have their own reasons. It would be best if they explain why they went in and why they decided now to go in. We look at it from the standpoint that any player that goes in is actually helping management bust the union."

But other defections loomed as the Management Council reporting deadline of Friday drew closer. That regulation requires any player to wants to play - and be paid - on Sunday to be in camp on the Friday before a game.

Among the potential defectors are Tony Dorsett and Ed Jones of the Cowboys, who were sent let-

Hermleigh hosts Ira in area homecoming

Ira's Bulldogs hope to give the Hermleigh Cardinals a taste of what they got when they tried to celebrate homecoming as District 4-1A East Zone wars heat up for a second straight weekend.

This Friday, Jayton opens zone play at Blackwell while Highland takes the evening off and Trent welcomes non-league opponent Weinert. Both games are set for 7:30 p.m.

Hermleigh will host the Ira Bulldogs at 2 p.m. Saturday for the big Cardinal homecoming.

Hermleigh goes into the game at 1-2-1 on the season while Ira is 1-3 after winning its season opener.

Committee checks television policy

WASHINGTON (AP) - As if the National Football League didn't have enough problems with a strike by its players, a Congressional committee will examine its television policy for possible antitrust violations.

Sen. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., has introduced legislation calling on the Justice Department to study and report to Congress within 120 days on the implications of new technology - specifically cable television and "pay-per-view" services - on the application of existing antitrust laws to the NFL's telecasting practices.

He also asked, in a sense of the Senate resolution introduced Tuesday, for a Justice Department review of the antitrust effects of the merger of the league's cable television partner, ESPN, with ABC.

The Senate Judiciary antitrust, monopolies and business rights subcommittee, of which Specter is a member and former chairman, will hold a hearing on the legislation next Tuesday with NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle as the primary witness.

American League roundup...

Jays lose but gain ground

by The Associated Press

The Toronto Blue Jays lost one, but still gained one in the American League East race.

Although losing 5-2 to the nemesis Milwaukee Brewers on Wednesday night, the Blue Jays still managed to trim their magic number for winning the AL East to three following Detroit's 7-3 loss to Baltimore.

"The Blue Jays played well this series but we got three outstanding pitching performances and some timely hitting," Milwaukee's Paul Molitor said after the Brewers completed a three-game sweep of the Blue Jays. "They're still in the driver's seat. They just have to go into Detroit and do what they've done all year: Win two of three and they'll be champions."

The Blue Jays remained 1½ games ahead of the Tigers, whom they meet in a season-closing three-game series in Detroit starting Friday night. The Tigers have a game tonight against the Orioles before taking on the Blue Jays.

In other AL action, it was Boston 7, New York 0; Chicago 5, California 2; Texas 2, Minnesota 1; Kansas City 7, Seattle 3, and Oakland 4, Cleveland 3.

Robin Yount broke a 2-2 tie with a run-scoring triple off Dave Stieb, 13-9, in the fifth inning. Dale Sveum then wrapped things up for the Brewers with a two-run homer in the sixth.

The blow made a winner of Juan Nieves, 14-8, who pitched a five-hitter, struck out nine and walked three.

Orioles 7, Tigers 3

Jose Mesa pitched a seven-hitter over 8 2-3 innings for his first major-league victory and Baltimore hit three home runs.

Mesa, 1-3, making his fifth big league start since being acquired from Toronto on Aug. 31 in the trade that sent Mike Flanagan to the Blue Jays, walked five and struck out four before needing last-out relief help from Tom Niedenfuer.

Terry Kennedy, Fred Lynn and Cal Ripken homered for the Orioles, who have won just three of their last 20 games, two against Detroit.

Dan Petry, 9-7, was a last-minute starter for Detroit in place of Walt Terrell, who was recovering from a stiff neck.

Red Sox 7, Yankees 0

Roger Clemens pitched his major league-leading sixth shutout and won his 19th game to lead Boston.

Clemens, 19-9, struck out 13, giving him eight games this season of 10 or more strikeouts, and won for the 11th time in his last 13 decisions. Clemens allowed 10 hits and walked only one as he pitched his American League-leading 17th complete game in 35 starts.

Rangers 2, Twins 1

Bobby Witt pitched a four-hitter for his first major league complete game in 56 starts and Tom O'Malley broke a tie with a sacrifice fly in the seventh inning for Texas.

O'Malley drove in Pete Incaviglia, who had led off the inning with a double off Les Straker, 8-10, and advanced to third on Oddibe McDowell's bunt single.

Witt, 8-10, walked eight and struck out 11 in snapping a personal four-game losing streak. The 55-game streak without a complete game is a major league record.

White Sox 5, Angels 2

Greg Walker's run-scoring double capped a tie-breaking, two-run rally in the third inning and led Chicago to its sixth straight victory.

Richard Dotson, 11-12, broke a personal four-game losing streak with relief help from Bill Long, who pitched the last four innings for his first major league save.

Dotson made his first start since Sept. 9 at Minnesota when he developed a muscle strain in his right shoulder. He gave up six hits in his five-inning stint.

California starter Jerry Reuss, 4-5, lasted 2 1-3 innings while allowing four runs and six hits.

Strike unravels a bit; SHS standouts listed

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

Underclassmen made the biggest impact when Snyder played Pecos last week, at least if you consider the players who were honored following the ballgame.

Snyder's MVP on offense was junior center Tim Beauchamp, who was probably the unit's most consistent performer and graded out at 87 percent.

MVP on defense was sophomore end Robert Talamantez, a 5-9, 200-pounder who was credited with 11 tackles and graded 91 percent. Incidentally, it was Talamantez and not Robert Thamez who won the Big Hit award in the game against Fort Stockton two weeks ago. Thamez, a good player in his own right, plays for the Tiger junior varsity.

Big Hit artist this week was senior Pete Madrid, who stopped a potential Pecos touchdown with a key fourth down hit on Eagles quarterback Bobby Ray Smith.

The Big Play was Randy Morris' interception and 53-yard return against the Eagles. Morris is another sophomore.

Special Teams standout was Tracy Odom, who dealt the handoff to Vyron Clay which resulted in Snyder's 88-yard kickoff return for a touchdown. Odom, a junior, was also Snyder's punt return man. He made some good decisions on whether to receive or let the ball bounce.

It looks, from this corner at least, that the NFL strike may be already be going down for the count. An indication? Look at the Cowboys. Danny White has already walked through the picket lines and Tony Dorsett and Ed Jones seem on the verge.

Why? Because of annuities. Basically speaking, annuities are deferred payments based on length of service. If the length of service is cut, so are the annuities, and in some cases, it means taking hundreds of thousands of dollars out of a player's pocket.This is in addition, of course, to the $30,000 or so they'll miss per game.

If that doesn't serve to break the strike, then perhaps the very presence of the Danny and Randy Whites, the Dorsetts and the Joneses will. Obviously owners are firm in their plans to go ahead with the season by using strike breakers, free agents and the like. It stands to reason that the more regulars a team has the better it will be.

Could New York, for instance, be content as Super Bowl champions to sit on the sidelines knowing that the free agents who are wearing THEIR uniforms and using THEIR lockers might go into battle - with THEIR name - against a team that has a number of veterans in its lineup? Not likely. Not for long.

Other reasons Danny White has reported to the fold is an unconfirmed advance of $300,000 from the front office, plus the fact that his contract calls for him to start at least eight games. He'll pocket $725,000 if he starts eight games but only $500,000 if he starts seven or less.

Aw, come on Danny, what's a measley $225,000, anyway?

ters warning their annuities are in danger if they stay on strike. John Stallworth, Donnie Shell and Calvin Sweeney of the Steelers and Joe Montana and Dwight Clark of the 49ers were other possibilities.

Beyond the defections, there were no signs that any breakthrough in the impasse was at hand. The only talking was done at the National Labor Relations Board offices in Washington, where lawyers for both sides met separately with the NLRB.

Upshaw continued to maintain that the union will try to disrupt Sunday's games among replacement players although he said he wanted no violence.

Jones leads medalist race...

WTC winning golf tourney

FORT WORTH – Western Texas College shot a 454 over the first 27 holes here to take the overall lead in the Fort Worth Parks and Recreational College Invitational Golf Tournament.

Gusting winds of up to 30 miles per hour whipped the Pecan Valley course but Western overcame a slow start to finish well.

"We were five shots down after the first 18 holes but the guys played the last nine real well," said Coach Dave Foster. "We still have a lot of golf left but we ended on a good note last night and we got off to a good start this (Thursday) morning."

Highly-touted Paris Junior College was three strokes back at 457, followed by UT Arlington and Hardin-Simmons University at 459 and Grayson and Prairie View A&M at 462. Thirteen teams were entered in the competition.

"Paris was fifth in the nation I think last year and they've got four players back, including two first-team all-Americans," noted Foster. "So they are a veteran team where as we're pretty young. Right now we're holding our on with them and that's great."

Western's Lance Jones was winning the medalist race with a 108. At 110 was former WTC player Mark Bailey, now playing for Hardin-Simmons. Western's Mark Gonzales and Paris' Matt Eltz were tied for third with 112s.

Gonzales and J.D. McLelland, who shot a 118, are playing as individuals and not as members of the WTC team. WTC team members and their scores for the first 27 holes were Jones with the 108, Clint Adams at 114, Jeff Beal at 116, Darrell Cofer at 117 and Mark Burgen at 118.

Medalist: 1. Lance Jones, WTC, 108; 2. Mark Bailey, HSU, 110 (ex WTC); 3. Mark Gonzales, WTC, 112; 4. Matt Eltz, Paris, 112.

Study: fewer abortions performed in Texas

DALLAS (AP) — A Texas Department of Health study shows that more than 84,000 abortions were performed in Texas in 1986, much fewer than previously thought.

Texas doctors performed 84,737 abortions last year, with three of every four involving single women and one in five involving teen-agers, according to the first-ever study.

A survey by the Alan Guttmacher Institute of New York estimated that 100,820 abortions were performed in Texas in 1985.

The health department survey was compiled with information submitted by clinics, hospitals and doctors that perform abortions in Texas. All were required to report their abortions under a law the Legislature passed in 1985.

A huge majority — 86 percent — of the 1986 operations were performed in the first trimester of pregnancy. Another 13 percent were done in the second trimester. A fraction of a percent — 23 abortions — were performed in the third trimester.

A state law that went into effect Sept. 1 prohibits all abortions in the third trimester except where the life of the mother is in danger or when a fetus has a severe abnormality.

Pam Fridrich, executive director of the Texas Abortion Rights League, said the small number of third-trimester abortions shows the new law was unnecessary.

"The anti-abortion forces said there were rampant third trimester abortions in Texas. Obviously, that is not true," Fridrich said.

But Bill Price, director of the Texas Coalition for Life, estimates that "at least a couple hundred" abortions are on the borderline between the second and third trimester because thousands of abortions were performed in the 21st to 24th weeks of pregnancy.

"What the statistics show is that abortion is used by promiscuous, single women," Price said.

The AIDS crisis may have reduced the number of unwanted pregnancies over the past few years, one expert told the Dallas Morning News.

Iraq attacks tanker off Iran Thursday

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP) — Iraq said its warplanes attacked a tanker off Iran today, and two Iranian speedboats carried out a daylight attack on a Pakistani-flag tanker in the Persian Gulf.

Iranian speedboats were meanwhile reported to have raked two Japan-bound tankers with machine-gun fire in the mouth of the Strait of Hormuz, the entrance to the gulf.

Minor damage was reported in all three cases, with no casualties.

One of the Iranian attacks was on a tanker partially filled with Iranian crude oil, according to gulf-based shipping executives.

The executives said they could not confirm a report that a third Japanese tanker, the 484,276-ton Nissei Maru, was hit around the same time that the two others — the 237,365-ton Nichiharu Maru and the 236,425-ton Western City — were raided at dusk Wednesday.

The reports came as U.S. warships guided two U.S. Military Sealift Command ships carrying supplies north through the Persian Gulf toward Bahrain, the Pentagon said.

"Some trash in three years, and some last 20 years," he said, adding that Y-Z has not been hurt by the hard economic times during the past few years because "one thing about our business is that the pipeline companies have to have our product in good and bad times."

I.V., his grandfather, is semi-retired in Walden, Ark., continuing to do various jobs in his private machine shop that are sent to him from Snyder. Ted Zeck, Paul's father, still works about seven hours per day at the Lubbock Highway firm. And Mark, Paul's younger brother, is sales manager.

Zeck said production superintendent Gary Roberts is also a key employee.

Y-Z has 17 employees, including four machinists, four assembly technicians, two welder-painters and half a dozen employees for office work, shipping and receiving, purchasing and outside sales.

Amendment list review continues

April 1, 1988.

Supporters say the amendment would reinstate a tax exemption that is a proved incentive for economic development.

Opponents say the time limit for tax entities to retain the tax is too short and that additional costs would be forced on the entities for investigations to distinguish between freeport and non-freeport property.

2 fire runs noted

Firemen put out a grass fire east of the city and were called to check out a smoking washing machine Wednesday afternoon.

The 4:26 p.m. grass fire in the ditch at U.S. 84 and Ennis Creek Rd. presented no problem, a department spokesman.

Fire fighters were called at 6 p.m. to check a washing machine that appeared to be about to catch on fire at a residence at 1500 26th St.

Runaways noted to local police

Three runaway teenagers and a 7-year-old girl were taken into custody Wednesday night at 25th St. and Beaumont Ave.

Officers said the three, two 15-year-old girls and a 16-year-old boy, were found about two hours after their parents had reported them missing.

They were released to their parents early Thursday.

Also Wednesday, a 34-year-old man was arrested for public intoxication at 6:49 p.m. at a south Snyder nightclub.
